CHAPTER 1329

An act to amend Sections 1250, 1599.60 and 1599.64 of, and to add Sections 1418.1 and 1599.652 to, the Health and Safety Code, and to amend Sections 11006.9, 14002, 14005.16, 14006.2, 14006.3, 14006.4, 14015, 14019.4, 14022.1, 14022.4, 14052, 14087.61, 14107.2, 14108, 14110.4, 14110.6, 14110.9, 14115.2, 14124.7, 14132, 14132c, 14132f, 14132h, 14132s, 14132y, 14133.4, 14136.3, 14170, and 14195.6 of, and to add Section 14005.19 to, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to health services, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) Pilot projects have been conducted over the last several years which have successfully demonstrated the need for, and effectiveness of, respite care services to alleviate the stress experienced by caregivers providing 24-hour care in the home to a frail older adult or functionally impaired adult.

(b) Statutory and regulatory barriers against the admission of persons to nursing facilities for a short stay for the provision of out-of-home respite care services in long-term health care facilities continue to exist.

SEC. 2. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature to modify the admission, transfer, and discharge requirements of licensed skilled nursing and intermediate care facilities in order to allow families and other responsible parties easier access to nursing homes for purposes of seeking respite from their caregiving obligations without jeopardizing the health and safety of persons receiving the respite care services.

(b) It is not the intent of the Legislature to permit the provision of respite care services in licensed skilled nursing and intermediate care facilities to be an allowable cost under the Medi-Cal program, unless it is already being provided through a Medicaid waiver program pursuant to Section 1396n of Title 42 of the United States Code, or is already allowed as a covered service by the Medi-Cal program.

(c) It is not the intent of the Legislature to relieve licensed skilled nursing and intermediate care facilities who provide respite care services under Chapter 2.4 (commencing with Section 1417) of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code of their responsibilities for meeting all other requirements under state and federal law unless so specified.

SEC. 3. Section 1250 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1250. As used in this chapter, "health facility" means any facility, place, or building which is organized, maintained, and operated for the diagnosis, care, prevention, and treatment of human illness, physical or mental, including convalescence and rehabilitation and including care during and after pregnancy, or for any one or more of these purposes, for one or more persons, to which the persons are admitted for a 24-hour stay or longer, and includes the following types:

(a) "General acute care hospital" means a health facility having a duly constituted governing body with overall administrative and professional responsibility and an organized medical staff which provides 24-hour inpatient care, including the following basic services: medical, nursing, surgical, anesthesia, laboratory, radiology, pharmacy, and dietary services. A general acute care hospital may include more than one physical plant maintained and operated on separate premises as provided in Section 1250.8. A general acute care hospital which exclusively provides acute medical rehabilitation center services, including at least physical therapy, occupational therapy, and speech therapy, may provide for the required surgical and anesthesia services through a contract with another acute care hospital. In addition, a general acute care hospital which, on July 1, 1983, provided required surgical and anesthesia services through a contract or agreement with another acute care hospital may continue to provide these surgical and anesthesia services through a contract or agreement with an acute care hospital.

(b) "Acute psychiatric hospital" means a health facility having a duly constituted governing body with overall administrative and professional responsibility and an organized medical staff which provides 24-hour inpatient care for mentally disordered, incompetent, or other patients referred to in Division 5 (commencing with Section 5000) or Division 6 (commencing with Section 6000) of the Welfare and Institutions Code, including the following basic services. medical, nursing, rehabilitative, pharmacy, and dietary services.

(c) "Skilled nursing facility" means a health facility which provides skilled nursing care and supportive care to patients whose primary need is for availability of skilled nursing care on an extended basis.

(d) "Intermediate care facility" means a health facility which provides inpatient care to ambulatory or nonambulatory patients who have recurring need for skilled nursing supervision and need supportive care, but who do not require availability of continuous skilled nursing care.

(e) "Intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled habilitative" means a facility with a capacity of four to 15 beds which provides 24-hour personal care, habilitation, developmental, and supportive health services to 15 or fewer developmentally disabled persons who have intermittent recurring needs for nursing services, but have been certified by a physician and surgeon as not requiring availability of continuous skilled nursing care.

(f) "Special hospital" means a health facility having a duly constituted governing body with overall administrative and professional responsibility and an organized medical or dental staff which provides inpatient or outpatient care in dentistry or maternity.

(g) "Intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled" means a facility which provides 24-hour personal care, habilitation, developmental, and supportive health services to developmentally disabled clients whose primary need is for developmental services and who have a recurring but intermittent need for skilled nursing services.

(h) "Intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled—nursing" means a facility with a capacity of four to 15 beds which provides 24-hour personal care, developmental services, and nursing supervision for developmentally disabled persons who have intermittent recurring needs for skilled nursing care but have been certified by a physician and surgeon as not requiring continuous skilled nursing care. The facility shall serve medically fragile persons who have developmental disabilities or demonstrate significant developmental delay that may lead to a developmental disability if not treated.

(i) (1) "Congregate living health facility" means a residential home with a capacity, except as provided in paragraph (4), of no more than six beds, which provides inpatient care, including the following basic services: medical supervision, 24-hour skilled nursing and supportive care, pharmacy, dietary, social recreational, and at least one type of service specified in paragraph (2). The primary need of congregate living health facility residents shall be for availability of skilled nursing care on a recurring, intermittent, extended, or continuous basis. This care is generally less intense than that provided in general acute care hospitals but more intense than that provided in skilled nursing facilities.

(2) Congregate living health facilities shall provide one of the following services:

(A) Services for persons who are mentally alert, physically disabled persons, who may be ventilator dependent.

(B) Services for persons who have a diagnosis of terminal illness. Terminal illness means the individual has a life expectancy of six months or less as stated in writing by his or her attending physician and surgeon.

(C) Services for persons who are catastrophically and severely disabled. A catastrophically and severely disabled person means a person whose origin of disability was acquired through trauma or nondegenerative neurologic illness, for whom it has been determined that active rehabilitation would be beneficial and to whom these services are being provided. Services offered by a congregate living health facility to a catastrophically disabled person shall include, but not be limited to, speech, physical, and occupational therapy.

(3) A congregate living health facility license shall specify which of the types of persons described in paragraph (2) to whom a facility is licensed to provide services.

(4) (A) A facility operated by a city and county for the purposes of delivering services under this section may have a capacity of 59 beds.

(B) A congregate living health facility not operated by a city and county servicing persons who are terminally ill, which is located in a county with a population of 500,000 or more persons may have not more than 25 beds for the purpose of serving terminally ill persons.

(C) A congregate living health facility not operated by a city and county serving persons who are catastrophically and severely disabled, as defined in subparagraph (C) of paragraph (2) which is located in a county of 500,000 or more persons may have not more than 12 beds for the purpose of serving catastrophically and severely disabled persons.

(5) A congregate living health facility shall have a noninstitutional, homelike environment.

(j) (1) "Correctional treatment center" means a health facility operated by the Department of Corrections, the Department of the Youth Authority, or a county, city, or city and county law enforcement agency which, as determined by the state department, provides outpatient health services, in addition to inpatient health services, to that portion of the inmate population who do not require a general acute care level of basic services. This definition shall not apply to those areas of a city, county, or city and county law enforcement facility which houses inmates or wards that may be receiving outpatient services and are housed separately for reasons of security and protection. The health services provided by a correctional treatment center shall include, but are not limited to, all of the following basic services: physician and surgeon, psychiatrist, psychologist, nursing, pharmacy, dental, and dietary. A correctional treatment center may provide the following services: laboratory, radiology, perinatal, and any other services approved by the state department.

(2) Outpatient surgical care with anesthesia may be provided, if the correctional treatment center meets the same requirements as a surgical clinic licensed pursuant to Section 1204, with the exception of the requirement that patients remain less than 24 hours.

(3) Correctional treatment centers shall maintain written service agreements with general acute care hospitals to provide for those inmate physical health needs that cannot be met by the correctional treatment center.

(4) Physician and surgeon services shall be readily available in a correctional treatment center on a 24-hour basis.

(5) It is not the intent of the Legislature to have a correctional treatment center supplant the facilities at the California Medical Facility, the California Men's Colony, and the California Institution for Men which were in the process of licensure in 1987.

(6) This subdivision shall remain operative only until January 1, 1993.

(k) "Nursing facility" means a facility that is licensed as either of the following:

(1) Skilled nursing facility.

(2) Intermediate care facility.

SEC. 3.5. Section 1250 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1250. As used in this chapter, "health facility" means any facility, place, or building which is organized, maintained, and operated for the diagnosis, care, prevention, and treatment of human illness, physical or mental, including convalescence and rehabilitation and including care during and after pregnancy, or for any one or more of these purposes, for one or more persons, to which the persons are admitted for a 24-hour stay or longer, and includes the following types:

(a) "General acute care hospital" means a health facility having a duly constituted governing body with overall administrative and professional responsibility and an organized medical staff which provides 24-hour inpatient care, including the following basic services: medical, nursing, surgical, anesthesia, laboratory, radiology, pharmacy, and dietary services. A general acute care hospital may include more than one physical plant maintained and operated on separate premises as provided in Section 1250.8. A general acute care hospital which exclusively provides acute medical rehabilitation center services, including at least physical therapy, occupational therapy, and speech therapy, may provide for the required surgical and anesthesia services through a contract with another acute care hospital. In addition, a general acute care hospital which, on July 1, 1983, provided required surgical and anesthesia services through a contract or agreement with another acute care hospital may continue to provide these surgical and anesthesia services through a contract or agreement with an acute care hospital.

(b) "Acute psychiatric hospital" means a health facility having a duly constituted governing body with overall administrative and professional responsibility and an organized medical staff which provides 24-hour inpatient care for mentally disordered, incompetent, or other patients referred to in Division 5 (commencing with Section 5000) or Division 6 (commencing with Section 6000) of the Welfare and Institutions Code, including the following basic services: medical, nursing, rehabilitative, pharmacy, and dietary services.

(c) "Skilled nursing facility" means a health facility which provides skilled nursing care and supportive care to patients whose primary need is for availability of skilled nursing care on an extended basis.

(d) "Intermediate care facility" means a health facility which provides inpatient care to ambulatory or nonambulatory patients who have recurring need for skilled nursing supervision and need supportive care, but who do not require availability of continuous skilled nursing care

(e) "Intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled habilitative" means a facility with a capacity of four to 15 beds which provides 24-hour personal care, habilitation, developmental, and supportive health services to 15 or fewer developmentally disabled persons who have intermittent recurring needs for nursing services, but have been certified by a physician and surgeon as not requiring availability of continuous skilled nursing care.

(f) "Special hospital" means a health facility having a duly constituted governing body with overall administrative and professional responsibility and an organized medical or dental staff which provides inpatient or outpatient care in dentistry or maternity.

(g) "Intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled" means a facility which provides 24-hour personal care, habilitation, developmental, and supportive health services to developmentally disabled clients whose primary need is for developmental services and who have a recurring but intermittent need for skilled nursing services.

(h) "Intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled—nursing" means a facility with a capacity of four to 15 beds which provides 24-hour personal care, developmental services, and nursing supervision for developmentally disabled persons who have intermittent recurring needs for skilled nursing care but have been certified by a physician and surgeon as not requiring continuous skilled nursing care. The facility shall serve medically fragile persons who have developmental disabilities or demonstrate significant developmental delay that may lead to a developmental disability if not treated.

(i) (1) "Congregate living health facility" means a residential home with a capacity, except as provided in paragraph (4), of no more than six beds, which provides inpatient care, including the following basic services: medical supervision, 24-hour skilled nursing and supportive care, pharmacy, dietary, social recreational, and at least one type of service specified in paragraph (2) The primary need of congregate living health facility residents shall be for availability of skilled nursing care on a recurring, intermittent, extended, or continuous basis. This care is generally less intense than that provided in general acute care hospitals but more intense than that provided in skilled nursing facilities.

(2) Congregate living health facilities shall provide one of the following services:

(A) Services for persons who are mentally alert, physically disabled persons, who may be ventilator dependent.

(B) Services for persons who have a diagnosis of terminal illness, a diagnosis of a life-threatening illness, or both Terminal illness means the individual has a life expectancy of six months or less as stated in writing by his or her attending physician and surgeon. A "life-threatening illness" means the individual has an illness that can lead to a possibility of a termination of life within five years or less as stated in writing by his or her attending physician and surgeon.

(C) Services for persons who are catastrophically and severely disabled. A catastrophically and severely disabled person means a person whose origin of disability was acquired through trauma or nondegenerative neurologic illness, for whom it has been determined that active rehabilitation would be beneficial and to whom these services are being provided. Services offered by a congregate living health facility to a catastrophically disabled person shall include, but not be limited to, speech, physical, and occupational therapy.

(3) A congregate living health facility license shall specify which of the types of persons described in paragraph (2) to whom a facility is licensed to provide services.

(4) (A) A facility operated by a city and county for the purposes of delivering services under this section may have a capacity of 59 beds.

(B) A congregate living health facility not operated by a city and county servicing persons who are terminally ill, persons who have been diagnosed with a life-threatening illness, or both, which is located in a county with a population of 500,000 or more persons may have not more than 25 beds for the purpose of serving terminally ill persons.

(C) A congregate living health facility not operated by a city and county serving persons who are catastrophically and severely disabled, as defined in subparagraph (C) of paragraph (2) which is located in a county of 500,000 or more persons may have not more than 12 beds for the purpose of serving catastrophically and severely disabled persons.

(5) A congregate living health facility shall have a noninstitutional, homelike environment.

(j) (1) "Correctional treatment center" means a health facility operated by the Department of Corrections, the Department of the Youth Authority, or a county, city, or city and county law enforcement agency which, as determined by the state department, provides outpatient health services, in addition to inpatient health services, to that portion of the inmate population who do not require a general acute care level of basic services. This definition shall not apply to those areas of a city, county, or city and county law enforcement facility which houses inmates or wards that may be receiving outpatient services and are housed separately for reasons of security and protection. The health services provided by a correctional treatment center shall include, but are not limited to, all of the following basic services: physician and surgeon, psychiatrist, psychologist, nursing, pharmacy, dental, and dietary. A correctional treatment center may provide the following services: laboratory, radiology, perinatal, and any other services approved by the state department.

(2) Outpatient surgical care with anesthesia may be provided, if the correctional treatment center meets the same requirements as a surgical clinic licensed pursuant to Section 1204, with the exception of the requirement that patients remain less than 24 hours.

(3) Correctional treatment centers shall maintain written service agreements with general acute care hospitals to provide for those inmate physical health needs that cannot be met by the correctional treatment center.

(4) Physician and surgeon services shall be readily available in a correctional treatment center on a 24-hour basis.

(5) It is not the intent of the Legislature to have a correctional treatment center supplant the facilities at the California Medical Facility, the California Men's Colony, and the California Institution for Men which were in the process of licensure in 1987.

(6) This subdivision shall remain operative only until January 1, 1993.

(k) "Nursing facility" means a facility that is licensed as either of the following:

(1) Skilled nursing facility.

(2) Intermediate care facility.

SEC. 4. Section 1418.1 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1418.1. (a) Any person receiving respite care services shall be permitted to bring medications to the skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility if the contents have been examined and positively identified upon the patient's admission to the facility by the patient's personal physician and surgeon or a pharmacist retained by the facility.

(b) A skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility providing respite care services shall not be required to afford a person receiving respite care services a bedhold when the person is transferred to a general acute care hospital, as defined in Section 1250.

(c) A skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility providing respite care services shall permit the personal physician and surgeon of a person receiving respite care services to issue advance orders for care and treatment for a period not to exceed 90 days from the date of admission of the person, based on the person's medical history, diagnosis, and physical assessment conducted upon admission. The skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility may readmit the person for respite care services on the basis of the advance orders for care and treatment, unless the personal physician and surgeon of the person indicates that there has been a significant change in the person's medical condition. These advance orders shall only be used by the skilled nursing or intermediate care facility during periods in which the person is receiving respite care services.

(d) A skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility providing respite care services may implement an abbreviated resident assessment and care planning procedure for persons admitted for respite care services consistent with the facility's obligation to protect the health and safety of residents and the general public. The abbreviated resident assessment and care planning procedure shall address the necessary care services required by the person admitted for respite care during the length of the respite care stay. The abbreviated resident assessment and care planning procedure documents do not have to be updated with every readmission of the same person to the facility for respite care services, unless the personal physician and surgeon of the person indicates that there has been a significant change in the person's medical condition.

(e) As used in this section, "respite care services" means service provided to frail elderly or functionally impaired persons in a licensed skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility, as defined in Section 1250, on a temporary or periodic basis to relieve persons who are providing their care at home.

(f) As used in this section, "temporary or periodic" means a period of time not to exceed 15 consecutive days or a total of 45 days in any one year.

(g) No more than 10 percent of a skilled nursing or intermediate care facility's total licensed bed capacity may be used during any one calendar year for the provision of respite care services as defined in this section. A facility may exceed this limit with the prior written approval of the State Department of Health Services.

SEC. 4.5. Section 1599.60 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1599.60. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Abbreviated contract of admission" means a contract which meets the provisions of this chapter, except as otherwise provided, for a resident who is receiving respite care services, as defined in Section 1418.1. The following provisions of this chapter shall not apply to an abbreviated contract of admission: subdivision (b) of Section 1599.65, subdivision (b) of Section 1599.67, Section 1599.69, subdivision (b) of Section 1599.76, and Section 1599.79.

(b) "Contract of admission" includes all documents which a resident or his or her representative must sign at the time of, or as a condition of, admission to a long-term health care facility, as defined in Section 1326.

(c) "Department" means the State Department of Health Services or its designee.

SEC. 5. Section 1599.64 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1599.64. (a) All abbreviated contracts of admission and contracts of admission shall be printed in black type of not less than 10-point type size, on plain white paper. The print shall appear on one side of the paper only.

(b) The contract shall be written in clear, coherent, and unambiguous language, using words with common and everyday meanings. It shall be appropriately divided, and each section captioned.

(c) An abbreviated contract of admission shall include a statement indicating that respite care services, as defined in Section 1418.1, provided by the skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility is not a Medi-Cal covered service and can only be provided by the facility on a private-pay or third-party payor basis, unless the person is participating in a Medicaid waiver program pursuant to Section 1396n of Title 42 of the United States Code, or other respite care service already covered by the Medi-Cal program.

(d) An abbreviated contract of admission shall specify the discharge date agreed to upon admission by the skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility and the person being admitted or his or her representative. This discharge date shall be binding as a ground for discharge in addition to any other ground for discharge pursuant to federal or state law and regulations.

(e) An abbreviated contract of admission shall include a statement informing the person being admitted for respite care services that the contract is designed specifically for the provision of respite care services and cannot be used for any other type of admission to the facility.

SEC. 6. Section 1599.652 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1599.652. A person who seeks to be admitted to the same skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility to receive respite care services for which there already exists a prior executed abbreviated contract of admission which was signed by that person, or his or her legal representative or responsible party, in accordance with this chapter shall not be required to execute a new abbreviated contract of admission if the person, or his or her legal representative or responsible party, either prior to or upon admission, signs a written statement prepared by the facility which lists the modifications to the abbreviated contract of admission.

The written statement shall indicate the date upon which the person's signature was obtained. The written statement shall be kept on file by the facility with the person's previously signed abbreviated contract of admission.

This section shall not apply to any person who has been declared legally incompetent subsequent to the time he or she signed the abbreviated contract of admission. This section shall not apply to any person when the physician and surgeon of that person has determined that the person is unable to understand and sign the written statement because of his or her medical condition.

SEC. 7. Section 11006.9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

11006.9. It is a cause for revocation of a permit or license by the department or the State Department of Health Services for any person, association, or corporation that maintains, conducts, or, as manager or officer or in any other administrative capacity, assists in maintaining or conducting any nursing facility, any category of intermediate care facility for the developmentally disabled, or nonmedical board and care facility to obtain, as an additional cost of care, aid allocated to a recipient for his or her personal or incidental needs or to obtain and fail to deliver such aid allocation to the recipient. The department or the State Department of Health Services shall initiate license or permit revocation proceedings.

SEC. 7.3. Section 14002 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14002. For the purposes of this article, the following definitions shall apply, commencing January 1, 1990:

(a) "Community spouse" means the spouse of an institutionalized spouse.

(b) "Institutionalized spouse" means any individual to whom all of the following apply:

(1) The individual is in a medical institution or nursing facility and is likely to meet that requirement for at least 30 consecutive days.

(2) The individual is married to a spouse who is not in a medical institution or nursing facility.

(3) Except for purposes of Sections 14005.7, 14005.12, 14005.16, and 14005.17, an individual who is admitted to a medical institution or nursing facility on or after September 30, 1989, and who applies for Medi-Cal benefits on or after January 1, 1990, or a Medi-Cal recipient who is admitted to a medical institution or nursing facility on or after January 1, 1990.

(c) "Medical institution" means the same as defined in Section 435.1009 of Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

(d) "Nursing facility" has the same meaning as contained in Section 1250 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 7.5. Section 14005.16 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, as amended by Chapter 1430 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

14005.16. (a) In determining the eligibility of a married individual pursuant to Section 14005.4 or 14005.7, who resides in a nursing facility, and who is in a Medi-Cal family budget unit separate from that of his or her spouse, the community property interest of the noninstitutionalized spouse in the income of the married individual shall not be considered income available to that individual.

(b) For purposes of this section, there shall be a presumption, rebuttable by either spouse, that each spouse has a community property interest in one-half of the total monthly income of both spouses.

(c) (1) This section shall not become operative unless Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 1396 et seq.) is amended to authorize the consideration of state community property laws in determining eligibility or the federal government authorizes the state to apply community property laws in that determination.

(2) The department shall report to the appropriate committees of the Legislature upon the occurrence of the amendment of federal law or the receipt of federal approval, as specified in paragraph (1).

SEC. 7.7. Section 14005.19 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14005.19. The receipt of respite care, as defined in Section 1418.1 of the Health and Safety Code, shall not affect the eligibility of any individual with respect to benefits under this chapter, except as subject to the limitations of subdivision (b) of Section 14124.7.

SEC. 8. Section 14006.2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14006.2. (a) In determining the eligibility of a married individual, pursuant to Section 14005.4 or 14005.7, who, in accordance with Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 1396 et seq.) and regulations adopted pursuant thereto, is considered to be living separately from his or her spouse, the individual shall be considered to have made a transfer of resources for full and adequate consideration under Section 14006 or 14015 by reason of either of the following:

(1) Having entered into a written agreement with his or her spouse dividing their nonexempt community property into equal shares of separate property. Property so agreed to be separate property shall be considered by the department to be the separate property of the spouse who, pursuant to the agreement, is the owner of the property. Only in cases in which separate property owned by one spouse is actually made available to the other spouse, may the department count the separate property in the eligibility determination of the nonowner spouse.

(2) Having transferred to his or her spouse all of his or her interest in a home, whether the transfer was made before or after the individual became a resident in a nursing facility in accordance with and to the extent permitted by Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act and regulations promulgated pursuant thereto.

(b) The department shall furnish to all Medi-Cal applicants a clear and simple statement in writing advising them that (1) in the case of an individual who is an inpatient in a nursing facility, if the individual or the individual's conservator transferred to the individual's spouse all of the interest in a home, the individual shall not be considered ineligible for Medi-Cal by reason of the transfer: and that (2) if the individual and the individual's spouse execute a written interspousal agreement which divides and transmutes nonexempt community property into equal shares of separate property, the separate property of the individual's spouse shall not be considered available to the individual and need not be spent by the spouse for the individual's care in a nursing facility or other medical institution. The statement provided for in this subdivision shall also be furnished to each individual admitted to a nursing facility, along with, but separately from, the statement required under Section 72527 of Title 22 of the California Code of Regulations.

(c) In order to qualify for Medi-Cal benefits pursuant to Section 14005.4 or 14005.7, a married individual who resides in a nursing facility, and who is in a Medi-Cal budget unit separate from that of his or her spouse, shall be required to expend his or her other resources for his or her own benefit, so that the amount which remains does not exceed the limit established pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 14006. In the event that the married individual expends his or her resources for expenses associated with or for improvements to property, those expenditures shall be considered to be for his or her own benefit only to the extent that the expenditures are proportionate to the ownership interest the individual has in the property. For purposes of this section, the term "his or her other resources" shall be limited to the following:

(1) All of his or her separate property that would not have been exempt under applicable Medi-Cal laws and regulations at the time when he or she entered a nursing facility, or at the date of execution of the agreement referred to in this section, whichever is earlier. For purposes of this paragraph, the mere change of residence from one facility to another shall not be deemed to be a new entry.

(2) One-half of all the community property, or the proceeds from the sale or exchange of that property, that would not have been exempt at the time described in paragraph (1).

(d) For purposes of subdivision (c), in the absence of an agreement such as that referred to in subdivision (a), there shall be a presumption, rebuttable by either spouse, that all property owned by either spouse was community property.

(e) The statement furnished pursuant to subdivision (b) shall advise all persons entering a long-term care facility, and all Medi-Cal applicants that only their half of the community property shall be taken into account in determining their eligibility for Medi-Cal, whether or not they execute the written interspousal agreement referred to in the statement.

(f) This section shall not apply to an institutionalized spouse.

(g) This section shall apply to the full extent to an institutionalized spouse if Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 1396 et seq.) is amended to authorize the consideration of state community property law in determining eligibility under this chapter, or the federal government authorizes the state to apply community property laws in making that determination.

(h) (1) Subdivision (f) shall become inoperative if the federal government amends Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 1396 et seq.) to allow state community property laws to be considered for Medi-Cal eligibility purposes, or the federal government authorizes the state to apply community property laws in making that determination.

(2) The department shall report to the appropriate committees of the Legislature upon the occurrence of the amendment of federal law or receipt of federal authorization as specified in paragraph (1).

SEC. 9. Section 14006.3 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14006.3. The department, at the time of application or the assessment pursuant to Section 14006.6, and any nursing facility shall, prior to admitting any person, provide a clear and simple statement, in writing, in a form and language specified by the department, to that person and that person's spouse and responsible relative which explains how Medi-Cal eligibility requirements affect their separate and community property.

SEC. 10. Section 14006.4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14006.4. (a) The statement required by Sections 14006.2 and 14006.3 shall be in the following form:

"NOTICE REGARDING SEPARATE AND COMMUNITY PROPERTY AND ELIGIBILITY FOR MEDI-CAL

If you or your spouse is in or is entering Long-Term Care, read this important message!

You both do not have to use all your resources, such as savings, before Medi-Cal might help pay for all or some of the long-term care costs.

You should be aware of the following to take advantage of this provision of the law:

If you and your spouse have a written property agreement (Interspousal Agreement) dividing your community property into equal shares, only the spouse in long-term care has to spend his or her resources down to the Medi-Cal property limit before Medi-Cal might help pay for nursing home costs. The at-home spouse's share of the resources does not have to be used.

Even if you do not have a written agreement, the county welfare department will automatically divide your community property for Medi-Cal purposes at the time the long-term care spouse applies for Medi-Cal. This automatic division is computed as of the date the spouse entered long-term care

A spouse in long-term care may transfer all his or her interest in the home to the at-home spouse without affecting Medi-Cal eligibility

The Medi-Cal program assumes that all of a married couple's income is community income, so it can be divided into equal shares when one spouse is in long-term care. However, if the spouse at home receives more than half of the couple's community property income in his or her own name, the spouse at home may keep the larger share.

This is only a brief description of the Medi-Cal eligibility rules, for more detailed information, you should call your county welfare department. You will probably want to consult with the local branch of the state long-term care ombudsman, an attorney, or a legal services program for seniors in your area.

I have read the above notice and have received a copy.

Dated: _____ Signature: _____ "

(b) The statement required by subdivision (a) shall be printed in at least 10-point type, shall be clearly separate from any other document or writing, and shall be signed by the person to be admitted and that person's spouse, and any responsible relative.

(c) Any nursing facility that willfully fails to comply with this section shall be subject to a class "B" citation, as defined by Section 1424 of the Health and Safety Code.

(d) The department may revise this statement as necessary to maintain its consistency with state and federal law.

(e) (1) This section shall apply to institutionalized spouses only if Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 1396 et seq.) is amended to authorize the consideration of state community property law in determining eligibility under this chapter, or the federal government authorizes the state to apply community property laws in making that determination.

(2) The department shall report to the appropriate committees of the Legislature upon the occurrence of the amendment of federal law or the receipt of federal authorization to apply community property law as specified in paragraph (1).

SEC. 11. Section 14015 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14015. (a) The providing of health care under this chapter shall not impose any limitation or restriction upon the person's right to sell, exchange or change the form of property holdings nor shall the care provided constitute any encumbrance on the holdings. However, the disposal of resources for less than fair market value shall, to the extent and under the circumstances set forth in Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 1396 et seq.) result in a period of ineligibility for aid.

(b) Any item of durable medical equipment which is purchased for a recipient pursuant to this chapter exclusively with Medi-Cal program funds shall be returned to the department when the department determines that the item is no longer medically necessary for the recipient. Items of durable medical equipment shall include, but are not limited to, wheelchairs and special hospital beds.

SEC. 12. Section 14019.4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14019.4. (a) Any provider of health care services who obtains a label or copy from the Medi-Cal card or other proof of eligibility pursuant to this chapter shall not seek reimbursement nor attempt to obtain payment for the cost of those covered health care services from the eligible applicant or recipient, or any person other than the department, a third-party payor who provides a contractual or legal entitlement to health care services.

(b) Whenever a service or set of services rendered to a Medi-Cal beneficiary results in the submission of a claim in excess of five hundred dollars ($500), and the beneficiary has given the provider proof of eligibility to receive the service or services, the provider shall issue the beneficiary a receipt to document that appropriate proof of eligibility has been provided. The form and content of those receipts shall be determined by the provider but shall be sufficient to comply with the intent of this subdivision. Nursing facilities and all categories of intermediate care facilities for the developmentally disabled are exempt from the requirements of this subdivision.

SEC. 13. Section 14022.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14022.1 Any nursing facility or any category of intermediate care facility for the developmentally disabled participating in the Medi-Cal program shall supply to the department full and complete information as to the identity (a) of each person having, directly or indirectly, an ownership interest of 10 percent or more in the facility, or, who is owner, in whole or part, of any mortgage, deed of trust, note, or other obligation secured, in whole or part, by the facility, or any of the property or assets of the facility, (b) in case a facility is organized as a corporation, of each officer and director of the corporation, and (c) in case a facility is organized as a partnership, of each partner; and shall promptly report any changes which would affect the current accuracy of the information so required to be supplied.

SEC. 14. Section 14022.4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14022.4. (a) Any nursing facility or any category of intermediate care facility for the developmentally disabled currently certified to participate in the Medi-Cal program may not voluntarily withdraw from the program unless all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The facility shall file with the department a notice of intent to withdraw from the Medi-Cal program.

(2) Except for patients to be transferred or discharged only for medical reasons, or for patients' welfare or that of other patients, or for nonpayment for his or her stay, the facility shall not subsequently evict any Medi-Cal recipient or private pay patient residing in the facility at the time the notice of intent to withdraw from the Medi-Cal program is filed.

(3) Patients admitted to the facility on or after the date of the notice of intent to withdraw from the Medi-Cal program shall be advised orally and in writing of both the following:

(A) That the facility intends to withdraw from the Medi-Cal program.

(B) That notwithstanding Section 14124.7, the facility is not required to keep a new resident who converts from private pay to Medi-Cal.

(b) Subdivision (a) shall not apply to facilities that have filed, prior to May 1, 1987, a notice of intent to withdraw from the Medi-Cal program.

(c) The department shall notify the appropriate substate ombudsmen monthly as to which facilities have filed a notice of intent to withdraw from the Medi-Cal program. This information shall also be made available to the public and noted in facility files available in each district office.

(d) The facility may formally withdraw from the Medi-Cal program when all patients residing in the facility at the time the facility filed the notice of intent to withdraw from the Medi-Cal program no longer reside in the facility.

(e) If a facility that has withdrawn as a Medi-Cal provider pursuant to this section subsequently reapplies to the department to become a Medi-Cal provider, the department shall require as a condition of becoming a Medi-Cal provider that the facility enter into a five-year Medi-Cal provider contract with the department.

(f) (1) This section shall be inoperative in the event federal law or federal or state appellate judicial decisions prohibit implementation or invalidate any part of this section.

(2) In the event of any occurrence which renders this section inoperative pursuant to paragraph (1), the department shall within 30 days, report that information to the Legislature.

(g) (1) This section does not apply to any facility which ceases operations entirely.

(2) For purposes of this subdivision, "ceases operations entirely" means not being in operation for a period of not less than 12 months.

SEC. 15. Section 14052 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14052. "State-only Medi-Cal person" means a person who resides in a nursing facility or any category of intermediate care facility for the developmentally disabled, and who meets all of the following requirements:

(a) Could not meet the definition of a categorically needy person under Section 14050.1, a medically needy person under subdivision (a) of Section 14051 or a medically needy family person under subdivision (b) of Section 14051.

(b) Is over 21 years of age.

(c) Meets the eligibility requirements of Section 14005.4.

SEC. 16. Section 14087.61 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14087.61. (a) The counties contracting pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 14087.5 may arrange for the delivery of Medi-Cal services to Medi-Cal beneficiaries, except that the counties may exclude all of the following:

(1) Long-term care services rendered by nursing facilities or all categories of intermediate care facilities for the developmentally disabled.

(2) Dental services.

(3) Services in any federal or state hospital.

(4) Home- or community-based care waivered services.

(b) Exclusion of these services shall be subject to the approval of the department and the California Medical Assistance Commission.

SEC. 17. Section 14107.2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14107.2. (a) Any person who solicits or receives any remuneration, including, but not restricted to, any kickback, bribe, or rebate, directly or indirectly, overtly or covertly, in cash or in valuable consideration of any kind either:

(1) In return for the referral, or promised referral, of any individual to a person for the furnishing or arranging for the furnishing of any service or merchandise for which payment may be made in whole or in part under this chapter or Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200); or

(2) In return for the purchasing, leasing, ordering, or arranging for or recommending the purchasing, leasing, or ordering of any goods, facility, service or merchandise for which payment may be made, in whole or in part, under this chapter or Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200) of this part,

is punishable upon a first conviction by imprisonment in the county jail for not longer than one year or state prison, or by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by both the imprisonment and fine. A second or subsequent conviction shall be punishable by imprisonment in the state prison.

(b) Any person who offers or pays any remuneration, including, but not restricted to, any kickback, bribe, or rebate, directly or indirectly, overtly or covertly, in cash or in valuable consideration of any kind either:

(1) To refer any individual to a person for the furnishing or arranging for furnishing of any service or merchandise for which payment may be made, in whole or in part, under this chapter or Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200); or

(2) To purchase, lease, order, or arrange for or recommend the purchasing, leasing or ordering of any goods, facility, service or merchandise for which payment may be made in whole or in part under this chapter or Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200), is punishable upon a first conviction by imprisonment in the county jail for not longer than one year or state prison, or by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by both the imprisonment and fine. A second or subsequent conviction shall be punishable by imprisonment in the state prison.

(c) Subdivisions (a) and (b) shall not apply to either of the following:

(1) Any amount paid by an employer to an employee, who has a bona fide employment relationship with that employer, for employment with provision of covered items or services.

(2) A discount or other reduction in price obtained by a provider of services or other entity under this chapter or Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200), if the reduction in price is properly disclosed and reflected in the costs claimed or charges made by the provider or entity under this chapter or Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200). This paragraph shall not apply to consultant pharmaceutical services rendered to nursing facilities nor to all categories of intermediate care facilities for the developmentally disabled.

(d) For purposes of this section "kickback" means a rebate or anything of value or advantage, present or prospective, or any promise or undertaking to give any such rebate or thing of value or advantage, with a corrupt intent to unlawfully influence the person to whom it is given in actions undertaken by that person in his or her public, professional, or official capacity.

(e) The enforcement remedies provided under this section are not exclusive and shall not preclude the use of any other criminal or civil remedy.

SEC. 18. Section 14108 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14108. Any developmentally disabled recipient under this chapter receiving care in a nursing facility or any category of intermediate care facility for the developmentally disabled is entitled as a part of the therapeutic and rehabilitative program, to be temporarily absent from the facilities. The State Department of Health Services shall, with consultation from the State Department of Developmental Services, adopt regulations establishing the periods of time and conditions under which temporary absences shall be permitted. The regulations shall require that absences be in accordance with an individual program plan and provide for absences due to hospitalization for an acute condition. The limits on temporary leaves of absence established by the Department of Health Services by regulation shall not be less than 30 days per year.

During these temporary absences the State Department of Health Services shall reimburse the facility for the cost of maintaining the vacant accommodations at a rate determined by the department which shall be less than the regular rate.

SEC. 19. Section 14110.4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14110.4. (a) All laundry services for all apparel, linen, garments, towels, and hospital gowns shall be provided by a nursing facility or any category of intermediate care facility for the developmentally disabled at no cost to a recipient under this chapter. These laundry services shall be considered as part of the basic care provided by the facility under the daily rate provided for pursuant to this chapter. The director shall, if necessary, adjust the daily rate to provide for the costs of these services. A facility may, however, charge the patient a fee to provide special drycleaning or treatment for a garment needing this care, when the garment is owned by the patient and when the regular laundry service is not appropriate.

(b) A facility shall provide a periodic hair trim as part of its care for all patients who are recipients under this chapter. This service shall be included as part of the daily rate provided for pursuant to this chapter. The director shall, if necessary, adjust the daily rate to provide for the costs of these services. A facility may, however, charge a fee for beauty shop services for patients who request special treatments or styling of their hair.

(c) The director shall seek all federal funds available for implementation of this section.

SEC. 20. Section 14110.6 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14110.6. (a) The director shall adopt regulations, establishing payment rates for nursing facilities, intermediate care facilities/developmentally disabled, and intermediate care facilities/developmentally disabled-habilitative as defined in Section

1250 of the Health and Safety Code, which are sufficient to provide an increase of one dollar and ninety-six cents ($1.96) per patient day for patients receiving skilled nursing services, one dollar and fifty-eight cents ($1.58) per patient day, for patients receiving intermediate care services, two dollars and twenty-nine cents ($2.29) per patient day for intermediate care facilities/developmentally disabled patients, to be used for wage increases and benefits to all employees, except a licensed nursing home administrator or an administrator-in-training and two dollars and thirty-five cents ($2.35) per patient day for intermediate care facilities/developmentally disabled-habilitative patients in facilities with 4 to 6 beds, and one dollar and ninety-eight cents ($1.98) per patient day for intermediate care facilities/developmentally disabled-habilitative patients in facilities with 7 to 15 beds, to be used for wage increases and benefits to all direct care staff. However, if either (1) the entry level wages of the lowest paid nonadministrative employee of a nursing facility, intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled, or intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled-habilitative, exceeds six dollars ($6) per hour as of August 1, 1984; or (2) upon the election of a county board of supervisors, for any nursing facility, intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled, or intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled-habilitative, which is operated by a county, the funds received pursuant to regulations adopted pursuant to this section shall be used solely for labor costs directly related to providing patient care services in order to meet patients' needs including the uses of funds provided for under subdivision (d) of Section 14110.7. Any increase in wages and benefits required by this section shall be in addition to any future mandatory increases required by federal or state law. The rate shall provide funding for the portion of additional costs necessary to implement the wage and benefit increase required by this section attributable to Medi-Cal patients. The portion of those additional costs shall be the same as the ratio of Medi-Cal patients to the total number of patients in the facility. These regulations shall be adopted, effective March 15, 1985, for skilled nursing facilities, intermediate care facilities, and intermediate care facilities/developmentally disabled, and by October 1, 1985, for intermediate care facilities/developmentally disabled-habilitative. Commencing October 1, 1990, these requirements shall become operative for nursing facilities.

(b) Each nursing facility or intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled, or, for the period prior to October 1, 1990, each skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility, shall certify all of the following:

(1) All employees, except a licensed nursing home administrator or an administrator-in-training of a licensed nursing home, shall receive at least the prevailing federal or state minimum wage rate plus the average hourly wage increase established pursuant to Chapter 19 of the Statutes of 1978, and this section.

(2) All employees of the facility, except a licensed administrator or administrator-in-training, shall be paid not less than the sum of the employee's actual rate of pay as of the effective date of the Medi-Cal rate increase provided for under Section 14110.7 plus the amount of the adjustment specified pursuant to this section, or not less than the applicable agreed to rate plus the amount of the adjustment, whichever is greater.

(3) Any wage increase required pursuant to Section 1268.5 of the Health and Safety Code, is in addition to any minimum wages provided in this section.

(4) For purposes of determining the amount of Medi-Cal funds to be distributed for employee wages and benefits, the total Medi-Cal patient days recorded by the facility in the month of December 1983 shall be multiplied by the amount per patient day specified in subdivision (a) plus the amount provided by Chapter 19 of the Statutes of 1978. The new wage levels shall be determined by dividing the Medi-Cal funds received by the nonovertime hours worked by covered employees in December 1983, plus any adjustments due to additional employees as specified in Section 14110.7 and adjustments to reflect employee benefit allowances

(c) Each intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled-habilitative shall certify all of the following:

(1) All direct care staff, as defined in the department's regulations developed pursuant to Section 1267 7 of the Health and Safety Code, shall receive at least the prevailing federal or state minimum wage plus the average hourly wage increase pursuant to this section.

(2) For purposes of determining the amount of Medi-Cal funds to be distributed for intermediate care facilities/developmentally disabled-habilitative for employee wages and benefits, the total Medi-Cal patient days in the month of December 1984, shall be multiplied by the amount per patient day specified in subdivision (a). The new wage level shall be determined by dividing the Medi-Cal funds received by the nonovertime hours by covered direct care employees in December 1984, and adjustments to reflect employee benefit allowances

(d) The director shall order the inspection of relevant payroll and personnel records of facilities which are reimbursed for Medi-Cal patients under the rate of reimbursement established pursuant to subdivision (a) to ensure that the wage and benefit increases provided for have been implemented.

(e) Any facility which is paid under the rate provided for in subdivision (a) which the director finds has not made the wage and benefit increases provided for shall be liable for the amount of funds paid to the facility based upon the wage and benefit requirements provided for by this section but not distributed to employees for wages and benefits, plus a penalty equal to 10 percent of the funds not so distributed.

SEC. 21. Section 14110.9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14110.9. No nursing facility or any category of intermediate care facility for the developmentally disabled may require a security deposit from a Medi-Cal beneficiary who applies for admission to the facility.

SEC. 22. Section 14115.2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14115.2. (a) The department shall not require nursing facilities or any category of intermediate care facility for the developmentally disabled, as defined in Section 1250 of the Health and Safety Code to originate monthly bills for beneficiaries if the following conditions are met.

(1) A claim on which inpatient per diem days have been billed by the provider is received by the fiscal intermediary by the fifth working day of the month following the month being billed; and

(2) The claim received by the fiscal intermediary does not show a patient status code that indicates discharge or death on the last day billed for the recipient for that month.

(b) When the conditions listed above are met, the fiscal intermediary shall, by the 20th of the month, mail to the provider a preimprinted claim to cover the current month's services to those beneficiaries.

(c) The provider shall be required to check the preimprinted claim for accuracy, to make corrections, and to certify that the beneficiaries who are listed on the claim received the services listed

(d) The preimprinted claim shall be returned in the manner required by Section 14115, provided, the preimprinted claim shall be deemed a late submission no earlier than six months following the end of the month of service being billed.

(e) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the rights and duties of providers and the department with respect to the billing procedures hereby established shall be governed by the provisions of this chapter.

SEC. 23 Section 14124.7 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14124.7. (a) No long-term health care facility participating as a provider under the Medi-Cal program shall transfer, or seek to evict, out of the facility any resident as a result of the resident changing his or her manner of purchasing the services from private payment or Medicare to Medi-Cal.

(b) This section does not apply to any resident of a skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility, receiving respite care services, as defined in Section 1418.1 of the Health and Safety Code, unless it is already being provided through a Medicaid waiver program pursuant to Section 1396n of Title 42 of the United States Code, or is already allowed as a covered service by the Medi-Cal program.

SEC. 24. Section 14132 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14132. The following is the schedule of benefits under this chapter.

(a) Outpatient services are covered as follows:

Physician, hospital or clinic outpatient, surgical center, respiratory care, optometric, chiropractic, psychology, podiatric, occupational therapy, physical therapy, speech therapy, audiology, acupuncture to the extent federal matching funds are provided for acupuncture, and services of persons rendering treatment by prayer or healing by spiritual means in the practice of any church or religious denomination insofar as these can be encompassed by federal participation under an approved plan, subject to utilization controls.

(b) Inpatient hospital services, including, but not limited to, physician and podiatric services, physical therapy and occupational therapy, are covered subject to utilization controls.

(c) Nursing facility services, subacute care services, and services provided by any category of intermediate care facility for the developmentally disabled, including podiatry, physician, nurse practitioner services, and prescribed drugs, as described in subdivision (d), are covered subject to utilization controls. Respiratory care, physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, and audiology services for patients in nursing facilities and any category of intermediate care facility for the developmentally disabled are covered subject to utilization controls.

(d) Purchase of prescribed drugs is covered subject to the Medi-Cal List of Contract Drugs and utilization controls.

(e) Outpatient dialysis services and home hemodialysis services, including physician services, medical supplies, drugs and equipment required for dialysis, are covered, subject to utilization controls.

(f) Anesthesiologist services when provided as part of an outpatient medical procedure, nurse anesthetists services when rendered in an inpatient or outpatient setting under conditions set forth by the director, outpatient laboratory services, and X-ray services are covered, subject to utilization controls. Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to require prior authorization for anesthesiologist services provided as part of an outpatient medical procedure or for portable X-ray services in a nursing facility or any category of intermediate care facility for the developmentally disabled.

(g) Blood and blood derivatives are covered.

(h) Emergency and essential diagnostic and restorative dental services, except for orthodontic, fixed bridgework, and partial dentures that are not necessary for balance of a complete artificial denture, are covered, subject to utilization controls. The utilization controls shall allow emergency and essential diagnostic and restorative dental services and prostheses that are necessary to prevent a significant disability or to replace previously furnished prostheses which are lost or destroyed due to circumstances beyond the beneficiary's control. The department's utilization controls shall not require X-rays as a condition of reimbursement for fillings for children under 18 years of age. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the director may by regulation provide for certain fixed artificial dentures necessary for obtaining employment or for medical conditions which preclude the use of removable dental prostheses, and for orthodontic services in cleft palate deformities administered by the department's California Children Services Program.

(i) Medical transportation is covered, subject to utilization controls.

(j) Home health care services are covered, subject to utilization controls.

(k) Prosthetic and orthotic devices and eyeglasses are covered, subject to utilization controls. Utilization controls shall allow replacement of prosthetic and orthotic devices and eyeglasses necessary because of loss or destruction due to circumstances beyond the beneficiary's control. Frame styles for eyeglasses replaced pursuant to this subdivision shall not change more than once every two years, unless the department so directs.

Orthopedic and conventional shoes are covered when provided by a prosthetic and orthotic supplier on the prescription of a physician and when at least one of the shoes will be attached to a prosthesis or brace, subject to utilization controls. Modification of stock conventional or orthopedic shoes when medically indicated, is covered subject to utilization controls. When there is a clearly established medical need that cannot be satisfied by the modification of stock conventional or orthopedic shoes, custom-made orthopedic shoes are covered, subject to utilization controls.

(l) Hearing aids are covered, subject to utilization controls. Utilization controls shall allow replacement of hearing aids necessary because of loss or destruction due to circumstances beyond the beneficiary's control.

(m) Durable medical equipment and medical supplies are covered, subject to utilization controls. The utilization controls shall allow the replacement of durable medical equipment and medical supplies when necessary because of loss or destruction due to circumstances beyond the beneficiary's control

(n) Family planning services are covered, subject to utilization controls.

(o) Inpatient intensive rehabilitation hospital services, including respiratory rehabilitation services, in a general acute care hospital are covered, subject to utilization controls, when either of the following criteria are met:

(1) A patient with a permanent disability or severe impairment requires an inpatient intensive rehabilitation hospital program as described in Section 14064 to develop function beyond the limited amount that would occur in the normal course of recovery.

(2) A patient with a chronic or progressive disease requires an inpatient intensive rehabilitation hospital program as described in Section 14064 to maintain the patient's present functional level as long as possible.

(p) Adult day health care is covered in accordance with Chapter 8.7 (commencing with Section 14520).

(q) Application of fluoride, or other appropriate fluoride treatment as defined by the department, other prophylaxis treatment for children 17 years of age and under, are covered.

(r) Paramedic services performed by a city, county, or special district, or pursuant to a contract with a city, county, or special district, and pursuant to a program established under Article 3 (commencing with Section 1480) of Chapter 2.5 of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code by a paramedic certified pursuant to that article, and consisting of defibrillation and those services specified in subdivision (3) of Section 1482 of the article.

This subdivision shall be in effect only to the extent federal financial participation is available as set forth in Section 14106.6.

(s) In-home medical care services are covered when medically appropriate and subject to utilization controls, for beneficiaries who would otherwise require care for an extended period of time in an acute care hospital at a cost higher than in-home medical care services. The director shall have the authority under this section to contract with organizations qualified to provide in-home medical care services to those persons. These services may be provided to patients placed in shared or congregate living arrangements, if a home setting is not medically appropriate or available to the beneficiary. As used in this section, "in-home medical care service" includes utility bills directly attributable to continuous, 24-hour operation of life-sustaining medical equipment, to the extent that federal financial participation is available.

As used in this subdivision, in-home medical care services, include, but are not limited to:

(1) Level of care and cost of care evaluations.

(2) Expenses, directly attributable to home care activities, for materials.

(3) Physician fees for home visits.

(4) Expenses directly attributable to home care activities for shelter and modification to shelter.

(5) Expenses directly attributable to additional costs of special diets, including tube feeding.

(6) Medically related personal services

(7) Home nursing education.

(8) Emergency maintenance repair.

(9) Home health agency personnel benefits which permit coverage of care during periods when regular personnel are on vacation or using sick leave.

(10) All services needed to maintain antiseptic conditions at stoma or shunt sites on the body.

(11) Emergency and nonemergency medical transportation.

(12) Medical supplies.

(13) Medical equipment, including, but not limited to, scales, gurneys, and equipment racks suitable for paralyzed patients.

(14) Utility use directly attributable to the requirements of home care activities which are in addition to normal utility use

(15) Special drugs and medications.

(16) Home health agency supervision of visiting staff which is medically necessary, but not included in the home health agency rate.

(17) Therapy services.

(18) Household appliances and household utensil costs directly attributable to home care activities.

(19) Modification of medical equipment for home use.

(20) Training and orientation for use of life support systems, including, but not limited to support of respiratory functions.

(21) Respiratory care practitioner services as defined in Sections 3702 and 3703 of the Business and Professions Code, subject to prescription by a physician and surgeon.

Beneficiaries receiving in-home medical care services are entitled to the full range of services within the Medi-Cal scope of benefits as defined by this section, subject to medical necessity and applicable utilization control. Services provided pursuant to this subdivision, which are not otherwise included in the Medi-Cal schedule of benefits, shall be available only to the extent that federal financial participation for these services is available in accordance with a home- and community-based services waiver.

(t) Home- and community-based services approved by the United States Department of Health and Human Services may be covered to the extent that federal financial participation is available for those services under waivers granted in accordance with Section 1396n of Title 42 of the United States Code. The director may seek waivers for any or all home- and community-based services approvable under Section 1396n of Title 42 of the United States Code. Coverage for those services shall be limited by the terms, conditions, and duration of the federal waivers.

The department shall submit a report, as provided in Section 28 of the 1982 Budget Act, 30 days prior to providing these services as Medi-Cal benefits. The report shall be submitted to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee and the fiscal committees and shall address the cost-effectiveness of services provided pursuant to this subdivision.

(u) Comprehensive perinatal services, as provided through an agreement with a health care provider designated in Section 14134.5 and meeting the standards developed by the department pursuant to Section 14134.5, subject to utilization controls.

The department shall seek any federal waivers necessary to implement the provisions of this subdivision. The provisions for which appropriate federal waivers cannot be obtained shall not be implemented. Provisions for which waivers are obtained or for which waivers are not required shall be implemented notwithstanding any inability to obtain federal waivers for the other provisions. No provision of this subdivision shall be implemented unless matching funds from Subchapter XIX (commencing with Section 1396) of Chapter 7 of Title 42 of the United States Code are available.

(v) Early and periodic screening, diagnosis, and treatment for any individual under 21 years of age is covered, consistent with the requirements of Subchapter XIX (commencing with Section 1396) of Chapter 7 of Title 42 of the United States Code.

(w) Hospice service which is Medicare-certified hospice service is covered, subject to utilization controls. Coverage shall be available only to the extent that no additional net program costs are incurred.

(x) When a claim for treatment provided to a beneficiary includes both services which are authorized and reimbursable under this chapter, and services which are not reimbursable under this chapter, that portion of the claim for the treatment and services authorized and reimbursable under this chapter shall be payable.

(y) Home- and community-based services approved by the United States Department of Health and Human Services for beneficiaries with a diagnosis of AIDS or ARC, who require intermediate care or a higher level of care.

Services provided pursuant to a waiver obtained from the Secretary of the United States Department of Health and Human Services pursuant to this subdivision, and which are not otherwise included in the Medi-Cal schedule of benefits, shall be available only to the extent that federal financial participation for these services is available in accordance with the waiver, and subject to the terms, conditions, and duration of the waiver. These services shall be provided to individual beneficiaries in accordance with the client's needs as identified in the plan of care, and subject to medical necessity and applicable utilization control.

The director may under this section contract with organizations qualified to provide, directly or by subcontract, services provided for in this subdivision to eligible beneficiaries. Contracts or agreements entered into pursuant to this division shall not be subject to the Public Contract Code.

(z) Respiratory care when provided in organized health care systems as defined in Section 3701 of the Business and Professions Code, and as an in-home medical service as outlined in subdivision (s)

SEC. 25. Section 14132c of the Welfare and Institutions Code, as added by Assembly Bill 4104 of the 1989–90 Regular Session, is amended to read:

14132c. Nursing facility services, subacute care services, services provided by any category of intermediate care facility for the developmentally disabled, including podiatry, physician, nurse practitioner services, and prescribed drugs, as described in Section 14132d, are covered under this chapter subject to utilization controls. Respiratory care, physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, and audiology services for patients in nursing facilities and any category of intermediate care facility for the developmentally disabled are covered under this chapter, subject to utilization controls.

SEC 26. Section 14132f of the Welfare and Institutions Code, as added by Assembly Bill 4104 of the 1989–90 Regular Session, is amended to read:

14132f. Anesthesiologist services when provided as part of an outpatient medical procedure, nurse anesthetists services when rendered in an inpatient or outpatient setting under conditions set forth by the director, outpatient laboratory services, and X-ray services are covered under this chapter, subject to utilization controls. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require prior authorization for anesthesiologist services provided as part of an outpatient medical procedure or for portable X-ray services in a nursing facility or any category of intermediate care facility for the developmentally disabled.

SEC. 27. Section 14132h of the Welfare and Institutions Code, as added by Assembly Bill 4104 of the 1989–90 Regular Session, is amended to read:

14132h. Emergency and essential diagnostic and restorative dental services, except for orthodontic, fixed bridgework, and partial dentures that are not necessary for balance of a complete artificial denture, are covered under this chapter, subject to utilization controls. The utilization controls shall allow emergency and essential diagnostic and restorative dental services and prostheses that are necessary to prevent a significant disability or to replace previously furnished prostheses which are lost or destroyed due to circumstances beyond the beneficiary's control. The department's utilization controls shall not require X-rays as a condition of reimbursement for fillings for children under 18 years of age. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the director may by regulation provide for certain fixed artificial dentures necessary for obtaining employment or for medical conditions which preclude the use of removable dental prostheses, and for orthodontic services in cleft palate deformities administered by the department's California Children Services Program.

SEC. 28. Section 14132s of the Welfare and Institutions Code, as added by Assembly Bill 4104 of the 1989–90 Regular Session, is amended to read:

14132s. (a) In-home medical care services are covered under this chapter when medically appropriate and subject to utilization controls, for beneficiaries who would otherwise require care for an extended period of time in an acute care hospital at a cost higher than in-home medical care services. The director shall have the authority under this section to contract with organizations qualified to provide in-home medical care services to those persons. These services may be provided to patients placed in shared or congregate living arrangements, if a home setting is not medically appropriate or available to the beneficiary.

(b) As used in this section, "in-home medical care service" includes utility bills directly attributable to continuous, 24-hour operation of life-sustaining medical equipment, to the extent that federal financial participation is available.

(c) As used in this section, in-home medical care services, include, but are not limited to, all of the following:

(1) Level of care and cost of care evaluations.

(2) Expenses, directly attributable to home care activities, for materials.

(3) Physician fees for home visits.

(4) Expenses directly attributable to home care activities for shelter and modification to shelter.

(5) Expenses directly attributable to additional costs of special diets, including tube feeding.

(6) Medically related personal services.

(7) Home nursing education

(8) Emergency maintenance repair.

(9) Home health agency personnel benefits which permit coverage of care during periods when regular personnel are on vacation or using sick leave.

(10) All services needed to maintain antiseptic conditions at stoma or shunt sites on the body.

(11) Emergency and nonemergency medical transportation

(12) Medical supplies.

(13) Medical equipment, including, but not limited to, scales, gurneys, and equipment racks suitable for paralyzed patients.

(14) Utility use directly attributable to the requirements of home care activities which are in addition to normal utility use.

(15) Special drugs and medications

(16) Home health agency supervision of visiting staff which is medically necessary, but not included in the home health agency rate.

(17) Therapy services

(18) Household appliances and household utensil costs directly attributable to home care activities

(19) Modification of medical equipment for home use.

(20) Training and orientation for use of life support systems, including, but not limited, to support of respiratory functions.

(21) Respiratory care practitioner services as defined in Sections 3702 and 3703 of the Business and Professions Code, subject to prescription by a physician and surgeon.

(d) Beneficiaries receiving in-home medical care services are entitled to the full range of services within the Medi-Cal scope of benefits as defined by this article, subject to medical necessity and applicable utilization control.

(e) Services provided pursuant to this section, which are not otherwise included in the Medi-Cal schedule of benefits, shall be available only to the extent that federal financial participation for these services is available in accordance with a home- and community-based services waiver

SEC. 29. Section 14132y of the Welfare and Institutions Code, as added by Assembly Bill 4104 of the 1989-90 Regular Session, is amended to read:

14132y. (a) Home- and community-based services approved by the United States Department of Health and Human Services for beneficiaries with a diagnosis of AIDS or ARC, who require intermediate care or a higher level of care are covered under this chapter.

(b) Services provided pursuant to a waiver obtained from the Secretary of the United States Department of Health and Human Services pursuant to this section, and which are not otherwise included in the Medi-Cal schedule of benefits, shall be available only to the extent that federal financial participation for these services is available in accordance with the waiver, and subject to the terms, conditions, and duration of the waiver. These services shall be provided to individual beneficiaries in accordance with the client's needs as identified in the plan of care, and subject to medical necessity and applicable utilization control.

(c) The director may, under this section, contract with organizations qualified to provide, directly or by subcontract, services provided for in this section to eligible beneficiaries. Contracts or agreements entered into pursuant to this division shall not be subject to the Public Contract Code.

SEC. 30. Section 14133.4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14133.4. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, utilization controls adopted by the State Department of Health Services shall not include prior authorization for portable X-ray services provided in nursing facilities and all categories of intermediate care facilities for the developmentally disabled, as defined in Section 1250 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 31. Section 14136.3 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read 14136.3. No prior authorization shall be necessary for the provision of nonemergency medical transportation services to Medi-Cal beneficiaries when the beneficiary is being transported from an acute care hospital following a stay as an inpatient to a nursing facility or any category of intermediate care facility for the developmentally disabled licensed pursuant to Section 1250 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 32. Section 14170 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14170. Amounts paid for services provided to Medi-Cal beneficiaries shall be audited by the department in the manner and form prescribed by the department. The department shall maintain adequate controls to ensure responsibility and accountability for the expenditure of federal and state funds. Cost reports and other data submitted by providers to a state agency for the purpose of determining reasonable costs for services or establishing rates of payment shall be considered true and correct unless audited or reviewed by the department within 18 months after July 1, 1969, the close of the period covered by the report, or after the date of submission of the original or amended report by the provider, whichever is later. Moreover the cost reports and other data for cost reporting periods beginning on January 1, 1972, and thereafter shall be considered true and correct unless audited or reviewed within three years after the close of the period covered by the report, or after the date of submission of the original or amended report by the provider, whichever is later.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the correction of cost reports or rates of payment when inaccuracies are determined to be the result of intent to defraud, or when a delay in the completion of an audit is the result of willful acts by the provider or inability to reach agreement on the terms of final settlement.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, nursing facilities and all categories of intermediate care facilities for the developmentally disabled which have received and are receiving funds for salary increases pursuant to Sections 14110.6 and 14110.7 shall maintain payroll and personnel records for examination by auditors from the department and the Labor Commissioner beginning March 1985 until the records have been audited, or until December 31, 1992, whichever occurs first.

SEC. 33. Section 14195.6 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14195.6. The department shall develop a request for a proposal, and may award a contract to an expert contractor to implement the standards and practices established by the Medi-Cal Therapeutic Drug Utilization Review System through use of a therapeutically oriented drug utilization review system by July 1, 1989. The contract shall include a requirement to analyze the therapeutic outcomes of the Medi-Cal Drug Program using the California MMIS for the period of July 1, 1987, through the date the standards established by this article are implemented. Thereafter, the contractor shall submit quarterly reports to the department and the Legislature analyzing therapeutic outcomes in a manner that will allow comparisons with the experience analyzed for the period of July 1, 1987, until implementation of the standards established by this article. The analysis shall include reports on at least the following items:

(a) Compatibility of medication to diagnosis.

(b) Overprescribing of drugs.

(c) Prescription of contraindicated or incompatible drugs.

(d) Number of days of drug-induced hospitalization and institutionalization in nursing facilities or all categories of intermediate care for the developmentally disabled occurring because of the factors specified in subdivisions (a) to (c), inclusive.

(e) Number of days of drug-induced hospitalization and institutionalization in nursing facilities or any category of intermediate care facility for the developmentally disabled avoided due to changes in drug regimes which result from compliance by prescribers and beneficiaries with the standards established pursuant to this article.

The department is authorized to require the contractor to phase in implementation of the prescriber notification, as established by protocols for informing prescribers of inappropriate prescribing.

SEC. 34. Sections 25 to 29, inclusive, of this act, shall become operative only if Assembly Bill 4104 of the 1989–90 Regular Session is enacted, in which case Section 24 of this act shall remain operative only until January 1, 1991, and as of that date is repealed, and Sections 25 to 29, inclusive, of this act, shall become operative.

SEC. 34.5. Section 3.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 1250 of the Health and Safety Code proposed by both this bill and AB 3413. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1991, (2) each bill amends Section 1250 of the Health and Safety Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 3413, in which case Section 1250 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by AB 3413, shall remain operative only until the operative date of this bill, at which time Section 3.5 of this bill shall become operative, and Section 3 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 35. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 36. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

The Medi-Cal program is a primary payor of long-term care in California for over 60 percent of all reimbursement to nursing homes, and in order to continue Medi-Cal reimbursement to California nursing homes and to ensure the continued health and safety of California's elderly and infirm, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1330

An act to amend Sections 11165.12 and 11170 of the Penal Code, relating to crimes.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11165.12 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

11165.12. As used in this article, the following definitions shall control:

(a) "Unfounded report" means a report which is determined by a child protective agency investigator to be false, to be inherently improbable, to involve an accidental injury, or not to constitute child abuse, as defined in Section 11165.6.

(b) "Substantiated report" means a report which is determined by a child protective agency investigator, based upon some credible evidence, to constitute child abuse or neglect, as defined in Section 11165.6.

(c) "Unsubstantiated report" means a report which is determined by a child protective agency investigator not to be unfounded, but in which the findings are inconclusive and there is insufficient evidence to determine whether child abuse or neglect, as defined in Section 11165.6, has occurred.

SEC. 2. Section 11170 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

11170. (a) The Department of Justice shall maintain an index of all reports of child abuse submitted pursuant to Section 11169. The index shall be continually updated by the department and shall not contain any reports that are determined to be unfounded. The department may adopt rules governing recordkeeping and reporting pursuant to this article.

(b) (1) The Department of Justice shall immediately notify a child protective agency which submits a report pursuant to Section 11169, or a district attorney who requests notification, of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) which is relevant to the known or suspected instance of child abuse reported by the agency. A child protective agency shall make that information available to the reporting medical practitioner, child custodian, guardian ad litem appointed under Section 326, or counsel appointed under Section 317 or 318 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or the appropriate licensing agency, if he or she is treating or investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse.

(2) When a report is made pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 11166, the investigating agency shall, upon completion of the investigation or after there has been a final disposition in the matter, inform the person required to report of the results of the investigation and of any action the agency is taking with regard to the child or family.

(3) The department shall make available to the State Department of Social Services or to any county licensing agency which has contracted with the state for the performance of licensing duties any information received subsequent to January 1, 1981, pursuant to this section concerning any person who is an applicant for licensure or any adult who resides or is employed in the home of an applicant for licensure or who is an applicant for employment in a position having supervisorial or disciplinary power over a child or children, or who will provide 24-hour care for a child or children in a residential home or facility, pursuant to Section 1522.1 or 1596.877 of the Health and Safety Code, or Section 226 of the Civil Code. If the department has information which has been received subsequent to January 1, 1981, concerning such a person, it shall also make available to the State Department of Social Services or the county licensing agency any other information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a).

(4) Persons or agencies, as specified in subdivision (b), if investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse, or the State Department of Social Services or any county licensing agency pursuant to paragraph (3), to whom disclosure of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) is authorized, are responsible for obtaining the original investigative report from the reporting agency, and for drawing independent conclusions regarding the quality of the evidence disclosed, and its sufficiency for making decisions regarding investigation, prosecution, or licensing.

SEC. 2.5. Section 11170 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

11170. (a) The Department of Justice shall maintain an index of all reports of child abuse submitted pursuant to Section 11169. The index shall be continually updated by the department and shall not contain any reports that are determined to be unfounded or which have been destroyed under Section 11169. The department may adopt rules governing recordkeeping and reporting pursuant to this article.

No other public agency, except law enforcement agencies and state and local agencies responsible for licensing child care facilities, shall maintain an index of child abuse reports

(b) (1) The Department of Justice shall immediately notify a child protective agency which submits a report pursuant to Section 11169, or a district attorney who requests notification, of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) which is relevant to the known or suspected instance of child abuse reported by the agency. A child protective agency shall make that information available to the reporting medical practitioner, child custodian, guardian ad litem appointed under Section 326, or counsel appointed under Section 317 or 318, of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or the appropriate licensing agency, if he or she is treating or investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse.

(2) When a report is made pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section

11166, the investigating agency shall, upon completion of the investigation or after there has been a final disposition in the matter, inform the person required to report of the results of the investigation and of any action the agency is taking with regard to the child or family.

(3) The department shall make available to the State Department of Social Services or to any county licensing agency which has contracted with the state for the performance of licensing duties any information received subsequent to January 1, 1981, pursuant to this section concerning any person who is an applicant for licensure or any adult who resides or is employed in the home of an applicant for licensure or who is an applicant for employment in a position having supervisorial or disciplinary power over a child or children, or who will provide 24-hour care for a child or children in a residential home or facility, pursuant to Section 1522.1 or 1596.877 of the Health and Safety Code, or Section 226 of the Civil Code. If the department has information which has been received subsequent to January 1, 1981, concerning such a person, it shall also make available to the State Department of Social Services or the county licensing agency any other information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a).

(4) Persons or agencies, as specified in subdivision (b), if investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse, or the State Department of Social Services or any county licensing agency pursuant to paragraph (3), to whom disclosure of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) is authorized, are responsible for obtaining the original investigative report from the reporting agency, and for drawing independent conclusions regarding the quality of the evidence disclosed, and its sufficiency for making decisions regarding investigation, prosecution, or licensing.

(c) A school district shall not retain, collect, or otherwise possess any child abuse reports naming a child care custodian as perpetrator which have been determined to be unfounded as defined in Section 11165.12. Any of these unfounded reports in the possession or custody of any school district on January 1, 1991, shall be destroyed on or before January 15, 1991, or within 15 days after it has been determined to be unfounded and no copies may be made or retained by the school district. A school district shall be liable to any aggrieved child care custodian for damages and reasonable attorney's fees for violations of this subdivision.

A child protective agency shall advise the school district whenever a report of child abuse involving a child care custodian is deemed to be founded.

No report of suspected child abuse which names a child care custodian as perpetrator shall be retained by any public or private school district, nor may it be retained in any individual school files. However, if any reported incidents of child abuse form the basis for disciplinary action, the school or school district may maintain its customary record of the incidents in accordance with a memorandum of understanding adopted pursuant to Chapter 10.7

(commencing with Section 3540) of Division 4 of Title 1 of the Government Code, but under no circumstances shall the record include any report of suspected child abuse pursuant to the Child Abuse Reporting Act.

SEC. 2.6. Section 11170 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

11170. (a) The Department of Justice shall maintain an index of all reports of child abuse submitted pursuant to Section 11169. The index shall be continually updated by the department and shall not contain any reports that are determined to be unfounded. The department may adopt rules governing recordkeeping and reporting pursuant to this article.

(b) (1) The Department of Justice shall immediately notify a child protective agency which submits a report pursuant to Section 11169, or a district attorney who requests notification, of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) which is relevant to the known or suspected instance of child abuse reported by the agency. A child protective agency shall make that information available to the reporting medical practitioner, child custodian, guardian ad litem appointed under Section 326, or counsel appointed under Section 317 or 318, of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or the appropriate licensing agency, if he or she is treating or investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse.

(2) When a report is made pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 11166, the investigating agency shall, upon completion of the investigation or after there has been a final disposition in the matter, inform the person required to report of the results of the investigation and of any action the agency is taking with regard to the child or family.

(3) The department shall make available to the State Department of Social Services or to any county licensing agency which has contracted with the state for the performance of licensing duties any information received subsequent to January 1, 1981, pursuant to this section concerning any person who is an applicant for licensure or any adult who resides or is employed in the home of an applicant for licensure or who is an applicant for employment in a position having supervisorial or disciplinary power over a child or children, or who will provide 24-hour care for a child or children in a residential home or facility, pursuant to Section 1522.1 or 1596.877 of the Health and Safety Code, or Section 222.70, 224.30, 226.52, or 227.10 of the Civil Code. If the department has information which has been received subsequent to January 1, 1981, concerning such a person, it shall also make available to the State Department of Social Services or the county licensing agency any other information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a).

(4) Persons or agencies, as specified in subdivision (b), if investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse, or the State Department of Social Services or any county licensing agency pursuant to paragraph (3), to whom disclosure of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) is authorized, are responsible for obtaining the original investigative report from the reporting agency, and for drawing independent conclusions regarding the quality of the evidence disclosed, and its sufficiency for making decisions regarding investigation, prosecution, or licensing.

SEC. 2.7. Section 11170 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

11170. (a) The Department of Justice shall maintain an index of all reports of child abuse submitted pursuant to Section 11169. The index shall be continually updated by the department and shall not contain any reports that are determined to be unfounded or which have been destroyed under Section 11169. The department may adopt rules governing recordkeeping and reporting pursuant to this article

No other public agency, except law enforcement agencies and state and local agencies responsible for licensing child care facilities, shall maintain an index of child abuse reports.

(b) (1) The Department of Justice shall immediately notify a child protective agency which submits a report pursuant to Section 11169, or a district attorney who requests notification, of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) which is relevant to the known or suspected instance of child abuse reported by the agency. A child protective agency shall make that information available to the reporting medical practitioner, child custodian, guardian ad litem appointed under Section 326, or counsel appointed under Section 317 or 318, of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or the appropriate licensing agency, if he or she is treating or investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse.

(2) When a report is made pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 11166, the investigating agency shall, upon completion of the investigation or after there has been a final disposition in the matter, inform the person required to report of the results of the investigation and of any action the agency is taking with regard to the child or family.

(3) The department shall make available to the State Department of Social Services or to any county licensing agency which has contracted with the state for the performance of licensing duties any information received subsequent to January 1, 1981, pursuant to this section concerning any person who is an applicant for licensure or any adult who resides or is employed in the home of an applicant for licensure or who is an applicant for employment in a position having supervisorial or disciplinary power over a child or children, or who will provide 24-hour care for a child or children in a residential home or facility, pursuant to Section 1522.1 or 1596.877 of the Health and Safety Code, or Section 222.70, 224.30, 226.52, or 227.10 of the Civil Code. If the department has information which has been received subsequent to January 1, 1981, concerning such a person, it shall also make available to the State Department of Social Services or the county licensing agency any other information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a).

(4) Persons or agencies, as specified in subdivision (b), if investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse, or the State Department of Social Services or any county licensing agency pursuant to paragraph (3), to whom disclosure of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) is authorized, are responsible for obtaining the original investigative report from the reporting agency, and for drawing independent conclusions regarding the quality of the evidence disclosed, and its sufficiency for making decisions regarding investigation, prosecution, or licensing.

(c) A school district shall not retain, collect, or otherwise possess any child abuse reports naming a child care custodian as perpetrator which have been determined to be unfounded as defined in Section 11165.12. Any of these unfounded reports in the possession or custody of any school district on January 1, 1991, shall be destroyed on or before January 15, 1991, or within 15 days after it has been determined to be unfounded and no copies may be made or retained by the school district. A school district shall be liable to any aggrieved child care custodian for damages and reasonable attorney's fees for violations of this subdivision.

A child protective agency shall advise the school district whenever a report of child abuse involving a child care custodian is deemed to be founded.

No report of suspected child abuse which names a child care custodian as perpetrator shall be retained by any public or private school district, nor may it be retained in any individual school files. However, if any reported incidents of child abuse form the basis for disciplinary action, the school or school district may maintain its customary record of the incidents in accordance with a memorandum of understanding adopted pursuant to Chapter 10.7 (commencing with Section 3540) of Division 4 of Title 1 of the Government Code, but under no circumstances shall the record include any report of suspected child abuse pursuant to the Child Abuse Reporting Act.

SEC. 3. (a) Section 2.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 11170 of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill and AB 2716. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective January 1, 1991, (2) each bill amends Section 11170 of the Penal Code, and (3) AB 3532 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section, and (4) this bill is enacted after AB 2716, in which case Sections 2, 2.6, and 2.7 of this bill shall not become operative.

(b) Section 2.6 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 11170 of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill and AB 3532. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1991, (2) each bill amends Section 11170 of the Penal Code, (3) AB 2716 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section, and (4) this bill is enacted after AB 3532, in which case Section 11170 of the Penal Code, as amended by Section 2 of this bill shall become operative January 1, 1991, and shall remain operative only until July 1, 1991, at which time Section 2.6 of this bill shall become operative, and Sections 2.5 and 2.7 of this bill shall not become operative.

(c) Section 2.7 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 11170 of the Penal Code proposed by this bill, AB 2716, and AB 3532. It shall only become operative if (1) all three bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1991, (2) all three bills amend Section 11170 of the Penal Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 2716 and AB 3532, in which case Section 11170 of the Penal Code, as amended by Section 2.5 of this bill shall become operative January 1, 1991, and shall remain operative only until July 1, 1991, at which time Section 2.7 of this bill shall become operative, and Sections 2 and 2.6 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 4. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act relating to child care, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Child care resource and referral agencies offer valuable services to working families in their communities, including: assistance to parents in their child care search; documenting child care supply and demand; providing assistance to new and existing child care providers; and, educating the community about child care needs and available services.

Basic funding allocations for the majority of California's 65 resource and referral agencies have not been augmented since their initial funding. Over the past five years, the volume of requests for resource and referral services has increased 33 percent due to the increase in working mothers, rising birthrates, and a 20 percent growth in the child care provider market. These conditions have placed new demands on existing resource and referral services.

Telephone busy studies document the increasing difficulty for parents to get through to resource and referral counselors on heavily impacted telephone lines. Accordingly, state support for this statewide program should be increased.

SEC. 2. (a) The sum of nine hundred thousand dollars ($900,000) is hereby appropriated from the the contingency reserve established pursuant to Section 12.31 of the Budget Act of 1990, notwithstanding the limitations contained therein, to the State Department of Education for allocation to the child care resource and referral agencies to provide for the cost of augmented services.

(b) Funding priority shall be given to resource and referral agencies which demonstrate the need for augmented funding based on one or more of the following criteria, including, but not limited to, any of the following:

(1) Women's labor force participation rates.

(2) Child population.

(3) Size of licensed child care market.

(4) Current capacity to meet the demand.

CHAPTER 1332

An act to add Section 11605 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to drug and alcohol use.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11605 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

11605. (a) Commencing with the 1991–92 fiscal year, the Attorney General, in consultation with the Governor's Policy Council on Alcohol and Drug Abuse, shall conduct a biennial survey of drug and alcohol use among pupils enrolled in grades 7, 9, and 11. The survey shall assess all of the following:

(1) The frequency and type of substance abuse.

(2) The age of first use and intoxication.

(3) Pertinent attitudes and experiences of pupils.

(4) The experience of pupils with school-based drug and alcohol prevention programs.

(5) As an optional component, the survey may examine the risk factors associated with school dropouts.

(b) The biennial survey shall be based on a statewide sample of pupils enrolled in grades 7, 9, and 11 and shall be consistent with the surveys conducted by the office of the Attorney General in the 1985–86, 1987–88, and 1989–90 fiscal years.

(c) The Attorney General shall release the findings of the survey on or before May of each even-numbered year and shall prepare and distribute a report on the survey to the Legislature, the Governor, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, law enforcement agencies, school districts, and interested members of the general public.

(d) In conducting the survey, the Attorney General shall ensure that the confidentiality of participating school districts and pupils shall be maintained. Pupil questionnaires and answer sheets shall be exempt from the public disclosure requirements prescribed by Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 6250) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code.

(e) Persons reporting data pursuant to the requirements of this article shall not be liable for damages in any action based upon the use or misuse of pupil surveys that are mailed or otherwise transmitted to the Attorney General, or his or her designee.

(f) The requirements prescribed by this article shall continue to be funded with the existing resources of the Attorney General.

CHAPTER 1333

An act to amend Section 199.715 of, and to add Chapter 3.01 (commencing with Section 1568.01) to Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to health.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 199.715 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

199.715. The state department may approve up to 35 pilot projects to provide housing and food for homeless persons who have AIDS or ARC. The state department may provide funding to a selected number these pilot projects. All approved pilot projects shall enter into a contract with the state department, which shall define the conditions for participation as pilot projects. Notwithstanding Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1250) and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1500) of Division 2, an approved pilot project shall not be required to be licensed if it is organized and operated for the purpose of providing room and board to homeless persons with AIDS or ARC and it is not organized and operated to directly provide medical or nursing care.

The pilot projects shall maintain a written agreement for referral and acceptance of residents with at least one registered nurse case manager, general acute care hospital, and licensed home health agency. The contract requirements for the pilot projects shall include the criteria and protocols which the state department determines are appropriate to assure that the health, safety, and welfare of residents are protected. The state department may additionally provide for or enter into a contract for evaluation and assessment related to the approved pilot projects.

This chapter shall not preempt the application of any local zoning requirements in effect on January 1, 1990, to a residential AIDS shelter pilot project for homeless persons with AIDS or ARC.

The implementation of these pilot projects shall not be subject to the requirements of Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

This section shall become inoperative on July 1, 1993, and as of January 1, 1994, is repealed, unless a later enacted statute which becomes effective on or before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends the date on which it becomes inoperative and is repealed.

SEC. 1.5. Chapter 3.01 (commencing with Section 1568.01) is added to Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

CHAPTER 3.01. RESIDENTIAL CARE FACILITIES FOR PERSONS WITH CHRONIC LIFE-THREATENING ILLNESS

1568.01. For purposes of this chapter, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "Activities of daily living" means housework, meals, laundry, taking medication, money management, appropriate transportation, correspondence, telephoning, dressing, feeding, toileting, bathing, grooming, mobility, and related tasks.

(b) "Care and supervision" means the facility assumes responsibility for, or provides or promises to provide in the future, ongoing assistance with activities of daily living without which a resident's physical health, mental health, safety, or welfare would be endangered.

(c) "Chronic, life-threatening illness" means either or both of the following:

(1) An illness where the likelihood of death is high unless the course of the disease is interrupted.

(2) An illness with a potentially fatal outcome, where the end point of clinical intervention is survival.

(d) "Department" means the State Department of Social Services.

(e) "Director" means the Director of Social Services.

(f) "Family dwelling" includes, but is not limited to, single-family dwellings, units in multifamily dwellings, including units in duplexes and units in apartment dwellings, mobilehomes, including mobilehomes located in mobilehome parks, units in cooperatives, units in condominiums, units in townhouses, and units in planned unit developments.

(g) "Fund" means the Residential Care Facilities for Persons with Chronic Life-Threatening Illness Fund created by subdivision (c) of Section 1568.05.

(h) "Placement agency" means any state agency, county agency, or private agency which receives public funds, in part, to identify housing options for persons with chronic, life-threatening illness and refers these persons to housing.

(i) "Residential care facility" means a residential care facility for persons with chronic, life-threatening illness who are 18 years of age or older.

(j) "Six or fewer persons" does not include the licensee or members of the licensee's family or persons employed as facility staff.

1568.02. (a) The department shall license residential care facilities for persons with chronic, life-threatening illness under a separate category.

(b) The licensee of every facility required to be licensed pursuant to this chapter shall provide the following basic services for each resident:

(1) Room and board. No more than two residents shall share a bedroom, except that the director, in his or her discretion, may waive this limitation.

(2) Access to adequate common areas, including recreation areas and shared kitchen space with adequate refrigerator space for the storage of medications.

(3) Consultation with a nutritionist, including consultation on cultural dietary needs.

(4) Personal care services, as needed, including, but not limited to, activities of daily living. A facility may have a written agreement with another agency to provide personal care services, except that the facility shall be responsible for meeting the personal care needs of each resident.

(5) Access to case management for social services. A facility may have a written agreement with another agency to provide case management.

(6) Development, implementation, and monitoring of an individual services plan. All health services components of the plan shall be developed and monitored in coordination with the home health agency and shall reflect the elements of the resident's plan of treatment developed by the home health agency.

(7) Intake and discharge procedures, including referral to outplacement resources.

(8) Access to psychosocial support services.

(9) Access to community-based and county services system.

(10) Access to a social and emotional support network of the resident's own choosing, within the context of reasonable visitation rules established by the facility.

(11) Access to intermittent home health care services in accordance with paragraph (1) of subdivision (c).

(12) Access to substance abuse services in accordance with paragraph (3) of subdivision (c).

(13) Adequate securable storage space for personal items.

(c) The licensee of every facility required to be licensed pursuant to this chapter shall demonstrate, at the time of application, all of the following:

(1) Written agreement with a licensed home health agency.

(2) Written agreement with a psychosocial services agency, unless the services are provided by the facility's professional staff.

(3) Written agreement with a substance abuse agency, unless the services are provided by the facility's professional staff.

(4) Ability to provide linguistic services for residents who do not speak English.

(5) Ability to provide culturally appropriate services.

(6) Ability to reasonably accommodate residents with physical disabilities, including, but not limited to, residents with motor impairments, physical access to areas of the facility utilized by residents, and access to interpreters for hearing-impaired residents.

(7) Written nondiscrimination policy which shall be posted in a conspicuous place in the facility.

(8) Written policy on drug and alcohol use, including, but not limited to, a prohibition on the use of illegal substances.

(d) Any facility licensed pursuant to this chapter which intends to serve a specific population, such as women, minority and ethnic populations, or homosexual men or women, shall demonstrate, at the time of application, the ability and resources to provide services that are appropriate to the targeted population.

(e) No facility licensed pursuant to this chapter shall house more than 25 residents, except that the director, by regulation developed by the department, may authorize a facility to house up to 50 residents.

1568.021. (a) If the applicant for a license or renewal of a license for a residential care facility handles or will handle any money of a resident of the facility, the applicant or licensee shall file or have on file with the department a bond issued by a surety company admitted to do business in this state in a sum to be fixed by the department based upon the magnitude of the operations of the applicant or licensee, but which sum shall not be less than one thousand dollars ($1,000), running to the State of California and conditioned upon his or her faithful and honest handling of the money of residents of the facility.

(b) The failure of any licensee under this chapter to maintain on file with the department a bond in the amount prescribed by the department or the embezzlement by a licensee of trust funds of a resident of the facility shall constitute cause of the revocation of the license.

(c) This section shall not apply if the licensee handles moneys of residents of the facility in amounts less than fifty dollars ($50) per person and less than five hundred dollars ($500) for all persons in any month.

(d) The director may grant a partial or total variance from the requirements of this section if the director finds that compliance with them is so onerous that a residential care facility will cease to operate, and if the director also finds that money of the residents received or cared for in the facility has been, or will be, deposited in a bank in this state, in a trust company authorized to transact a trust business in this state, or in a savings and loan association in this state, upon condition that the money may not be withdrawn except on authorization of the person or a representative who is legally authorized to make financial decisions on behalf of the person.

1568.03. (a) No person, firm, partnership, association, or corporation within the state and no state or local public agency shall operate, establish, manage, conduct, or maintain a residential care facility in this state without first obtaining and maintaining a valid license therefor, as provided in this chapter.

(b) A facility may accept or retain residents requiring varying levels of care. However, a facility shall not accept or retain residents who require a higher level of care than the facility is authorized to provide. Persons who require 24-hour skilled nursing intervention shall not be appropriate for a residential care facility.

(c) This chapter shall not apply to the following:

(1) Any health facility, as defined in Section 1250.

(2) Any clinic, as defined in Section 1200.

(3) Any arrangement for the receiving and care of persons with chronic, life-threatening illness by a relative, guardian or conservator, significant other, or close friend; or any arrangement for the receiving and care of persons with chronic, life-threatening illness from only one family as respite for the relative, guardian or conservator, significant other, or close friend, if the arrangement is not for financial profit and occurs only occasionally and irregularly, as defined by regulations of the department.

(d) The director may waive the requirement for licensure under this chapter for any house, institution, hotel, foster home, shared housing project, or other similiar facility that is limited to providing housing, meals, transportation, housekeeping, or recreational and social activities, or that has residents independently accessing supportive services as long as no resident thereof requires any element of care and supervision or protective supervision.

1568.04. Any person desiring issuance or renewal of a license for a residential care facility under this chapter shall file with the department, pursuant to regulations adopted by the department, an application. The application shall be provided on a form furnished by the department, which shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following:

(a) Evidence satisfactory to the department of all of the following:

(1) The ability of the applicant to comply with this chapter and of rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter by the department. Where there is an application for renewal of a license, evidence satisfactory to the department that the licensee has substantially complied, during the term of the previous license, with this chapter and with the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(2) The applicant has sufficient financial resources to maintain the standards of service required by regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(3) Following the department's adoption of regulations specifying the levels of care to be provided under this chapter, the applicant's ability to meet regulatory requirements for the level of care the facility intends to provide.

(4) Compliance or ability to comply with Section 1568.02.

(b) Disclosure of the applicant's prior or present service as an administrator, general partner, corporate officer or director of, or as a person who has held or holds a beneficial ownership of 10 percent or more in, any residential care facility or in any clinic or facility licensed pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 1200), Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1250), or Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1500).

(c) Disclosure of any revocation or other disciplinary action taken, or in the process of being taken, against a license held or previously held by the entities specified in subdivision (b).

(d) Any other information as may be required by the department for the proper administration and enforcement of this chapter.

(e) A signed statement that the person desiring issuance or renewal of a license has read this chapter and the regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter and understands the statute and regulations applicable to a residential care facility.

1568.05. (a) An annual fee adjusted by facility and capacity shall be charged by the department for the issuance or renewal of a license to operate a residential care facility or for processing any application therefor The fee shall be assessed as follows:

Capacity	Annual Fee
1– 6	$200 plus $8 per bed
7–15	$250 plus $8 per bed
16–25	$300 plus $8 per bed
26–50	$350 plus $8 per bed

(b) No local governmental entity shall impose any business license, fee, or tax for the privilege of operating a facility licensed under this chapter which serves six or fewer persons.

(c) All fees collected pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be deposited in the Residential Care Facilities for Persons with Chronic, Life-Threatening Illness Fund, which is hereby created in the State Treasury. Moneys in the fund, upon an appropriation made in the annual Budget Act, shall be available to the department for the purposes specified in subdivision (d).

(d) The fund may be used for the purpose of financing a portion of the license and renewal application processing costs. In addition, the fund may be utilized by the department to finance postlicensure inspections pursuant to Section 1568.07, to allow increased monitoring of facilities with a history of noncompliance with this chapter and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter, and other administrative activities in support of the licensing program administered pursuant to this chapter. The revenues collected in the fund shall be used in addition to any other moneys appropriated for the purposes specified in this subdivision.

(e) Fees established pursuant to this section shall not be effective unless licensing fees are established for all adult residential facilities licensed by the department.

(f) A residential care facility may use a bona fide business check to pay the license fee required under this section.

(g) Failure to pay required license fees, including the finding of insufficient funds to cover bona fide business checks submitted for this purpose, may constitute grounds for denial of a license or refusal to renew a license.

1568.06. (a) Upon initial application for licensure, residential care facilities shall be provided a printed copy of all applicable regulations for the operation of these facilities by the department, without charge. The department shall provide all licensees with copies of proposed changes in regulations applicable to residential care facilities prior to public hearings on those proposed changes, and copies of all adopted changes in regulations applicable for residential care facilities for persons with HIV immediately upon their adoption.

(b) As a requirement for licensure, an applicant shall attend a two-day orientation given by the department which outlines the applicable rules and regulations and the scope and responsibility for operation of a residential care facility for persons with HIV. The orientation shall include information on relevant community services.

1568.061. (a) Each new license issued pursuant to this chapter shall expire 12 months from the date of its issuance.

(b) A renewal license may be issued for a period not to exceed two years, provided the licensee has been found not to be in violation of this chapter or any rules or regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter during the preceding license period.

(c) Application for renewal of a license shall be filed with the department pursuant to departmental rules and regulations

(d) A license shall be forfeited by operation of law prior to its expiration date when one of the following occurs:

(1) The licensee sells or otherwise transfers the facility or the real property on which the facility is located, except when change of ownership applies to transferring of stock when the facility is owned by a corporation and when the transfer of stock does not constitute a majority change in ownership.

(2) The licensee surrenders the license to the department.

(3) The licensee moves a facility from one location to another. The department shall develop regulations to ensure that a licensee is not charged a full licensing fee and is not required to complete the entire application process when applying for a license for the new location.

(4) The licensee is convicted of an offense specified in Section 220, 243.4, or 264 1, or paragraph (1) of Section 273a, Section 273d, 288, or 289 of the Penal Code, or is convicted of another crime specified in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 of the Penal Code.

(5) The licensee dies. When a licensee dies, the continued operation shall be subject to the requirements of Section 1568.064.

1568.062. (a) Upon the filing of the application for issuance or renewal of a license and substantial compliance with this chapter and the rules and regulations of the department adopted pursuant to this chapter, the director shall issue to the applicant the license to operate a residential care facility. If the director finds that the applicant is not in compliance with this chapter or the regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter, the director shall deny the applicant a license or license renewal.

(b) The director may issue provisional licenses to operate residential care facilities for any facility which the director determines is in substantial compliance with this chapter and the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter, provided that no life safety risks are involved, as determined by the director. In determining whether any life safety risks are involved, the director shall require completion of all applicable fire clearances and criminal record clearances as otherwise required by the department's rules and regulations. A provisional license issued pursuant to this subdivision shall expire six months from the date of issuance, or at an earlier time as the director may determine, and may not be renewed. However, the director may extend the term of a provisional license for an additional six months at the time of application, if it is determined that more than six months will be required to achieve full compliance with licensing standards due to circumstances beyond the control of the applicant, and if all other requirements for a license have been met.

1568.063. Immediately upon the denial of any application for a license, the department shall notify the applicant in writing. Within 15 days after the department mails the notice of denial, the applicant may present his or her written petition for a hearing to the department Upon receipt by the department of the petition in proper form, the petition shall be set for hearing. The proceedings shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and the department has all the powers granted therein.

1568.064. (a) When a licensee dies, an adult relative who has control of the property may continue operation of the facility if the following conditions are met:

(1) The department receives notification of the death during the next normal workday and is informed of the relative's intent to continue operating the facility as a residential care facility for persons with chronic, life-threatening illnesses.

(2) The relative files application, within five days of the date of death, shows evidence satisfactory to the department that he or she has the ability to operate the facility, submits his or her fingerprint card, and provides evidence of the licensee's death.

(b) The department shall make a decision within 60 days after the application is submitted on whether to issue a provisional license pursuant to Section 1568.062. A provisional license shall be granted only if the department is satisfied that the conditions specified in subdivision (a) have been met and that the health and safety of the residents of the facility will not be jeopardized.

(c) If the relative complies with subdivision (a), he or she shall not be considered to be operating an unlicensed facility while the department decides whether to grant the provisional license.

1568.07. (a) (1) Within 90 days of initial licensure, the department shall inspect the facility to evaluate compliance with rules and regulations and to assess the facility's continuing ability to meet regulatory requirements.

(2) The department may take appropriate remedial action as provided for in this chapter.

(b) (1) Every licensed residential care facility shall be periodically inspected and evaluated for quality of care by a representative or representatives designated by the director. Evaluations shall be conducted at least annually and as often as necessary to ensure the quality of care being provided.

(2) During each licensing inspection the department shall determine if the facility meets regulatory standards, including, but not limited to, providing residents with the appropriate level of care based on the facility's license, providing adequate staffing and services, updated resident records and assessments, and compliance with basic health and safety standards.

(3) If the department determines that a resident requires a higher level of care than the facility is authorized to provide, the department may initiate a professional level of care assessment by an assessor approved by the department. An assessment shall be conducted in consultation with the resident, the resident's physician and surgeon, and the resident's case manager, and shall reflect the desires of the resident, the resident's physician and surgeon, and the resident's case manager. The assessment also shall recognize that certain illnesses are episodic in nature and that the resident's need for a higher level of care may be temporary.

(4) The department shall notify the residential care facility in writing of all deficiencies in its compliance with this chapter and the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter, and shall set a reasonable length of time for compliance by the facility.

(5) Reports on the results of each inspection, evaluation, or consultation shall be kept on file in the department, and all inspection reports, consultation reports, lists of deficiencies, and plans of correction shall be open to public inspection in the county in which the facility is located.

(c) Any duly authorized officer, employee, or agent of the department may, upon presentation of proper identification, enter and inspect a licensed residential care facility or a residential care facility which has applied to be licensed, at any time, with or without advance notice, to secure compliance with, or to prevent a violation of, this chapter.

1568.071. (a) Any person may request an inspection of any residential care facility in accordance with this chapter by transmitting to the department notice of an alleged violation of applicable requirements prescribed by statutes or regulations of this state.

(b) The substance of the complaint shall be provided to the licensee no earlier than at the time of the inspection. Unless the complainant specifically requests otherwise, neither the substance of the complaint provided the licensee nor any copy of the complaint or any record published, released, or otherwise made available to the licensee shall disclose the name of any person mentioned in the complaint except the name of any duly authorized officer, employee, or agent of the department conducting the investigation or inspection pursuant to this chapter.

(c) Upon receipt of a complaint, other than a complaint alleging denial of a statutory right of access to a residential care facility, the department shall make a preliminary review and, unless the department determines that the complaint is willfully intended to harass a licensee or is without any reasonable basis, it shall make an onsite inspection within 10 days after receiving the complaint except where the visit would adversely affect the licensing investigation or the investigation of other agencies, including, but not limited to, law enforcement agencies. In either event, the complainant shall be promptly informed of the department's proposed course of action.

(d) Upon receipt of a complaint alleging denial of a statutory right of access to a residential facility, the department shall review the complaint. The complainant shall be notified promptly of the department's proposed course of action.

1568.072. (a) The department shall adopt, amend, and repeal, in accordance with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, any reasonable rules, regulations, and standards as may be necessary or proper to carry out the purposes and intent of this chapter and to enable the department to exercise the powers and perform the duties conferred upon it by this chapter, not inconsistent with state law.

(b) Regulations for a license shall prescribe standards of safety and sanitation, for the physical plant, as well as for the basic care and supervision, personal care, and services to be provided by a facility.

(c) Regulations shall specify the application and licensing process, the range of services, alternative methods for providing those services, the appraisal and assessment process, facility staffing and training requirements, and the process for administering the supplemental rate required by Section 1568.03.

(d) Regulations shall allow for the development of new and innovative community programs.

1568.073. (a) (1) The department may order the licensee to remove a resident who has a health condition which cannot be cared for within the limits of the license or requires inpatient care in a health facility as determined by the department pursuant to Section 1568.07.

(2) When the department determines that the resident's mental or physical condition requires immediate transfer from the facility in order to protect the health and safety of the resident, the department may order the licensee to remove the resident after the department consults with a physician or other medical professional about the transfer and ways in which transfer trauma can be minimized.

(b) (1) When the department determines that a resident has a health condition which cannot be cared for within the limits of the license or requires inpatient care in a health facility, the department shall give notice to the resident, his or her legal representative when appropriate, his or her physician when applicable, his or her case manager when applicable, and the licensee. The notice shall specify a deadline for submitting a written plan for relocation and inform the resident of his or her right for a review and determination. The resident, or his or her legal representative, shall have three working days to inform the licensee of the request for review. The licensee shall forward the request to the department within two working days of receipt. Failure or refusal by the licensee to submit the request to the department may subject the licensee to the civil penalties as specified in Section 1568.0822. The department shall not refuse to consider the request if the licensee fails or refuses to submit the request to the department.

(2) The review and determination shall be completed within 30 days from the date that the resident was initially informed of the need to relocate. If the determination is made that the resident must relocate, the notice shall include a plan for transfer including ways to minimize transfer trauma for the resident.

(3) The department may require the licensee to prepare and submit to the department a written plan for relocation, to comply with the terms and conditions of the approved plan, and to provide other information as necessary for the enforcement of this section.

(c) The provisions allowing for a resident's right to a review prior to transfer as provided in subdivision (b) neither negates the department's authority and responsibility to require an immediate transfer according to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) when the department finds and provides evidence that the resident must be relocated in order to protect the health and safety of the resident, nor implies any right to a fair hearing pursuant to Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 10950) of Part 2 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(d) The department shall specify by regulation the process for making relocation decisions and for appealing and reviewing those decisions pursuant to this section.

1568.08. Each facility required to be licensed under this chapter shall keep a current record of all of the following:

(a) Residents in the facility, including each resident's name and ambulatory status.

(b) The name and telephone number of each resident's physician and surgeon.

(c) The name, address, and telephone number of any person or agency responsible for the care of a resident.

(d) Updated resident file records, including, but not limited to, the current physician and surgeon report, residential appraisal, level of services required and documentation of any health related services provided to residents.

The facility shall respect the privacy and confidentiality of this information.

1568.081. (a) A placement agency shall place individuals only in licensed residential care facilities or facilities which are exempt from licensure under subdivision (c) of Section 1568.03.

(b) No employee of a placement agency shall place, refer, or recommend placement of a person in a facility operating without a license, unless the facility is exempt from licensure under subdivision (c) of Section 1568.03. Violation of this subdivision is a misdemeanor.

(c) Any employee of a placement agency who knows, or reasonably suspects that a facility, which is not exempt from licensure under this chapter, is operating without a license shall report the name and address of the facility to the department. Failure to report as required by this subdivision is a misdemeanor.

(d) The department shall investigate any report filed under subdivision (c). If the department has probable cause to believe that the facility which is the subject of the report is operating without a license, the department shall investigate the facility within 10 days after receipt of the report.

(e) A placement agency shall notify the department of any known or suspected incidents which would jeopardize the health or safety of residents in a residential care facility. Reportable incidents include, but are not limited to, all of the following:

(1) Incidents of physical abuse.

(2) Any violation of personal rights.

(3) Any situation in which a facility is unclean, unsafe, unsanitary, or in poor condition.

(4) Any situation in which a facility has insufficient personnel or incompetent personnel on duty.

(5) Any situation in which residents experience mental or verbal abuse.

(6) Any situation in which a facility is suspected of accepting or retaining residents who require a higher level of care than the facility is authorized to provide.

1568.082. (a) The department may suspend or revoke any license issued under this chapter upon any of the following grounds and in the manner provided in this chapter:

(1) Violation by the licensee of this chapter or of the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(2) Aiding, abetting, or permitting the violation of this chapter or of the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(3) Conduct which is inimical to the health, welfare, or safety of either an individual in or receiving services from the facility or the people of the State of California.

(4) The provision of services beyond the level the facility is authorized to provide, or accepting or retaining residents who require services of a higher level than the facility is authorized to provide.

(b) The director may temporarily suspend any license, prior to any hearing when, in the opinion of the director, the action is necessary to protect residents of the facility from physical or mental abuse, abandonment, or any other substantial threat to health or safety. The director shall notify the licensee of the temporary suspension and the effective date of the temporary suspension, and at the same time shall serve the provider with an accusation. Upon receipt of a notice of defense to the accusation by the licensee, the director shall, within 15 days, set the matter for hearing, and the hearing shall be held as soon as possible, but not later than 30 days after receipt of the notice. The temporary suspension shall remain in effect until the time the hearing is completed and the director has made a final determination on the merits. However, the temporary suspension shall be deemed vacated if the director fails to make a final determination on the merits within 30 days after the original hearing has been completed.

1568.0821. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, any person who violates Section 1568.03 shall be assessed by the department an immediate civil penalty in the amount of one hundred dollars ($100) per resident for each day of the violation.

(b) The civil penalty authorized in subdivision (a) shall be two hundred dollars ($200) per resident for each day of the violation if an unlicensed facility is operated and the operator refuses to seek licensure or the operator seeks licensure and the licensure application is denied and the operator continues to operate the unlicensed facility.

(c) An operator may appeal the assessment to the director. The department shall adopt regulations setting forth the appeal procedure.

1568.0822. (a) In addition to suspension or revocation of a license issued under this chapter, the department may levy a civil penalty in addition to the penalties of suspension or revocation. The department shall adopt regulations setting forth the appeal procedures for deficiencies.

(b) The amount of the civil penalty shall not be less than twenty-five dollars ($25) or more than fifty dollars ($50) per day for each violation of this chapter, except where the nature or seriousness of the violation or the frequency of the violation warrants a higher penalty or an immediate civil penalty assessment, or both, as determined by the department. In no event shall a civil penalty assessment exceed one hundred fifty dollars ($150) per day.

(c) Notwithstanding Section 1568.07, any residential care facility that is cited for repeating the same violation of this chapter within 12 months of the first violation is subject to an immediate civil penalty of one hundred fifty dollars ($150) and fifty dollars ($50) for each day the violation continues until the deficiency is corrected.

(d) Any residential care facility that is assessed a civil penalty pursuant to subdivision (c) which repeats the same violation of this chapter within 12 months of the violation subject to subdivision (c) shall be assessed an immediate civil penalty of one thousand dollars ($1,000) and one hundred dollars ($100) for each day the violation continues until the deficiency is corrected, provided that the violation is a serious violation.

(e) The department shall adopt regulations implementing this section.

1568.083. (a) The department, State Fire Marshal, or local fire officials shall not make a de facto determination of a resident's ambulatory or nonambulatory status based on a resident's placement in the facility. Interpretation of regulations related to fire safety in residential care facilities shall be made to provide flexibility to allow residents to remain in the least restrictive environment.

(b) This chapter shall not preempt the application of any local zoning requirements to residential care facility, except as provided for in Section 1568.0831.

1568.0831. (a) (1) Whether or not unrelated persons are living together, a residential care facility which serves six or fewer persons shall be considered a residential use of property for the purposes of this chapter. In addition, the residents and operators of the facility shall be considered a family for the purposes of any law or zoning ordinance which relates to the residential use of property pursuant to this chapter.

(2) For the purpose of all local ordinances, a residential care facility which serves six or fewer persons shall not be included within the definition of a boarding house, rooming house, institution, guest home, rest home, sanitarium, mental hygiene home, or other similar term which implies that the residential care facility is a business run for profit or differs in any other way from a family dwelling.

(3) This section shall not be construed to prohibit any city, county, or other local public entity from placing restrictions on building heights, setback, lot dimensions, or placement of signs of a residential care facility which serves six or fewer persons as long as the restrictions are identical to those applied to other family dwellings of the same type in the same zone.

(4) This section shall not be construed to prohibit the application to a residential care facility of any local ordinance which deals with health and safety, building standards, environmental impact standards, or any other matter within the jurisdiciton of a local public entity if the ordinance does not distinguish residential care facilities which serve six or fewer persons from other family dwellings of the same type in the same zone and if the ordinance does not distinguish residents of residential care facilities from persons who reside in other family dwellings of the same type in the same zone.

(5) No conditional use permit, zoning variance, or other zoning clearance shall be required of a residential care facility which serves six or fewer persons which is not required of a family dwelling of the same type in the same zone.

(6) Use of a family dwelling for purposes of a residential care facility serving six or fewer persons shall not constitute a change of occupancy for purposes of Part 1.5 (commencing with Section 17910) of Division 13 or local building codes. However, nothing in this section is intended to supersede Section 13143 or 13143.6, to the extent these sections are applicable to residential care facilities serving six or fewer persons.

(b) No fire inspection clearance or other permit, license, clearance, or similar authorization shall be denied to a residential care facility because of a failure to comply with local ordinances from which the facilities are exempt under subdivision (a), provided that the applicant otherwise qualifies for the fire clearance, license, permit, or similar authorization.

(c) For the purposes of any contract, deed, or covenant for the transfer of real property executed on or after January 1, 1979, a residential care facility which serves six or fewer persons shall be considered a residential use of property and a use of property by a single family, notwithstanding any disclaimers to the contrary.

1568.09. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this section to require the fingerprints of those individuals whose contact with residents of residential care facilities for persons with chronic, life-threatening illness may pose a risk to the residents' health and safety.

(a) Before issuing a license to any person or persons to operate or manage a residential care facility, the department shall secure from an appropriate law enforcement agency a criminal record to determine whether the applicant or any other person specified in subdivision (b) has ever been convicted of a crime other than a minor traffic violation. If it is found that the applicant or any other person specified in subdivision (b) has been convicted of a crime, other than a minor traffic violation, the application shall be denied, unless the director grants an exemption pursuant to subdivision (e).

(b) In addition to the applicant, the provisions of this section shall be applicable to criminal convictions of the following persons:

(1) Adults responsible for administration or direct supervision of staff of the facility.

(2) Any person, other than a resident, residing in the facility.

(3) Any person who provides resident assistance in dressing, grooming, bathing, or personal hygiene.

(4) Any staff person or employee who has frequent and routine contact with the residents. In determining who has frequent contact, any volunteer who is in the facility shall be exempt unless the volunteer is used to replace or supplement staff in providing direct care and supervision of residents. A volunteer who provides direct care and supervision shall be exempt if the volunteer is a resident's spouse, significant other, friend or family member and provides direct care and supervision to that resident only at the request of the resident. In determining who has routine contact, staff and employees under direct onsite supervision and who are not providing direct care and supervision or who have only occasional or intermittent contact with residents shall be exempt.

(5) If the applicant is a firm, partnership, association, or corporation, the chief executive officer or other person serving in that capacity.

(6) Additional officers of the governing body of the applicant, or other persons with a financial interest in the applicant, as determined necessary by the department by regulation. The criteria used in the development of these regulations shall be based on the person's capability to exercise substantial influence over the operation of the facility.

(c) Subsequent to initial licensure, any person specified in subdivision (b) and not exempted from fingerprinting shall, as a condition to employment, residence, or presence in a residential care facility, be fingerprinted and sign a declaration under penalty of perjury regarding any prior criminal convictions. The licensee shall submit these fingerprints to the licensing agency not later than 20 days following employment, residence, or initial presence in the residential care facility. Except for persons specified in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b), the licensee shall endeavor to ascertain the previous employment history of persons required to be fingerprinted under this subdivision. If it is determined by the State Department of Social Services, on the basis of the fingerprints submitted to the Department of Justice, that the person has been convicted of a sex offense against a minor, or has been convicted for an offense specified in Section 243.4, 273a, 273d, or subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 368 of the Penal Code, or has been convicted of a felony, the department shall notify the licensee to act immediately to terminate the person's employment, remove the person from the residential care facility, or bar the person from entering the residential care facility. The department may subsequently grant an exemption pursuant to subdivision (e). If the conviction was for another crime, except a minor traffic violation, the licensee shall, upon notification by the department, act immediately to either (1) terminate the persons' employment, remove the person from the residential care facility, or bar the person from entering the residential care facility; or (2) seek an exemption pursuant to subdivision (e). The department shall determine if the person shall be allowed to remain in the facility until a decision on the exemption is rendered.

(d) For purposes of this section or any other provision of this chapter, a conviction means a plea or verdict of guilty or a conviction following a plea of nolo contendere. Any action which the department is permitted to take following the establishment of a conviction may be taken when the time for appeal has elapsed, or the judgment of conviction has been affirmed on appeal or when an order granting probation is made suspending the imposition of the sentence, notwithstanding a subsequent order pursuant to Sections 1203.4 and 1203.4a of the Penal Code permitting that person to withdraw his or her plea of guilty and to enter a plea of not guilty, setting aside the verdict of guilty, or dismissing the accusation, information, or indictment. For purposes of this chapter, the record of a conviction, or a copy thereof certified by the clerk of the court or by a judge of the court in which the conviction occurred, shall be conclusive evidence of the conviction.

(e) After review of the record, the director may grant an exemption from disqualification for a license pursuant to subdivision (a), or for employment, residence, or presence in a residential care facility as specified in subdivision (c) if the director has substantial and convincing evidence to support a reasonable belief that the applicant and the person convicted of the crime, if other than the applicant, are of such good character as to justify issuance of the license or special permit or granting an exemption for purposes of subdivision (c). However, no exemption shall be granted pursuant to this subdivision if the conviction was for an offense specified in Section 220, 243.4, 264.1, or paragraph (1) of Section 273a or Section 273d, or Section 288 or 289, or subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 368 of the Penal Code, or was a conviction of another crime against an individual specified in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 of the Penal Code.

(f) For purposes of compliance with this section, the department may permit an individual to transfer a current criminal records clearance, as defined in subdivision (a), from one facility to another, as long as the criminal record clearance has been processed through a state licensing district office, and is being transferred to another state licensing district office.

SEC. 2. Any regulations required to be adopted by the department pursuant to this act shall be adopted as emergency regulations on or before March 31, 1991, in accordance with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, except that for the purpose of adopting emergency regulations, any regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter are hereby deemed to be necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety or general welfare, and no additional findings to that effect shall be required.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1334

An act to amend Section 17980.7 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to substandard buildings.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17980.7 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

17980.7. If the owner fails to comply with the terms of the order or notice pursuant to Section 17980.6, the following provisions shall apply:

(a) The enforcement agency may seek and the court shall order imposition of the penalties provided for under Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 17995).

(b) The enforcement agency may seek and the court may order the owner to not claim any deduction with respect to state taxes for interest, taxes, expenses, depreciation, or amortization paid or incurred with respect to the cited structure, in the taxable year of the initial order or notice, in lieu of the enforcement agency processing a violation in accordance with Sections 17274 and 24436.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

If the owner fails to comply with the terms of the order or notice to correct the condition that caused the violation pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 17980.5, the court may order the owner to not claim these tax benefits for the following year.

(c) The enforcement agency, tenant, or tenant association or organization may seek and the court may order, the appointment of a receiver for the substandard building pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision. In its petition to the court, the enforcement agency, tenant, or tenant association or organization shall include proof that notice of the petition was served not less than three days prior to filing the petition, pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 415.10) of Chapter 4 of Title 5 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, to all persons with a recorded interest in the real property upon which the substandard building exists.

(1) In appointing a receiver, the court shall consider whether the owner has been afforded a reasonable opportunity to correct the conditions cited in the notice of violation.

(2) The court shall not appoint any person as a receiver unless the person has demonstrated to the court his or her capacity and expertise to develop and supervise a viable financial and construction plan for the satisfactory rehabilitation of the building.

(3) If a receiver is appointed, the owner and his or her agent of the substandard building shall be enjoined from collecting rents from the tenants, interfering with the receiver in the operation of the substandard building, and encumbering or transferring the substandard building or real property upon which the building is situated.

(4) Any receiver appointed pursuant to this section shall have all of the following powers and duties in the order of priority listed in this paragraph, unless the court otherwise permits:

(A) To take full and complete control of the substandard property.

(B) To manage the substandard building and pay expenses of the operation of the substandard building and real property upon which the building is located, including taxes, insurance, utilities, general maintenance, and debt secured by an interest in the real property.

(C) To secure a cost estimate and construction plan from a licensed contractor for the repairs necessary to correct the conditions cited in the notice of violation.

(D) To enter into contracts and employ a licensed contractor as necessary to correct the conditions cited in the notice of violation.

(E) To collect all rents and income from the substandard building.

(F) To use all rents and income from the substandard building to pay for the cost of rehabilitation and repairs determined by the court as necessary to correct the conditions cited in the notice of violation.

(G) To borrow funds to pay for repairs necessary to correct the conditions cited in the notice of violation and to borrow funds to pay for any relocation benefits authorized by paragraph (6) and secure that debt, with court approval, with a lien on the real property upon which the substandard building is located. The lien shall be recorded in the county recorder's office in the county within which the building is located.

(H) To exercise the powers granted receivers under Section 568 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(5) The receiver shall be entitled to the same fees, commissions, and necessary expenses as receivers in actions to foreclose mortgages.

(6) If the conditions of the premises or the repair or rehabilitation thereof significantly affect the safe and sanitary use of the substandard building by any tenant, to the extent that the tenant cannot safely reside in his or her unit, then the receiver shall provide relocation benefits in accordance with subparagraph (A) of paragraph (3) of subdivision (d)

(7) The relocation compensation provided for in this section shall not preempt any local ordinance that provides for greater relocation assistance.

(8) In addition to any reporting required by the court, the receiver shall prepare monthly reports to the state or local enforcement agency which shall contain information on at least the following items:

(A) The total amount of rent payments received.

(B) Nature and amount of contracts negotiated relative to the operation or repair of the property.

(C) Payments made toward the repair of the premises.

(D) Progress of necessary repairs.

(E) Other payments made relative to the operation of the building.

(F) Amount of tenant relocation benefits paid.

(9) The receiver shall be discharged when the conditions cited in the notice of violation have been remedied in accordance with the court order or judgment and a complete accounting of all costs and repairs has been delivered to the court. Upon removal of the condition, the owner, the mortgagee, or any lienor of record may apply for the discharge of all moneys not used by the receiver for removal of the condition and all other costs authorized by this section.

(10) The prevailing party in an action pursuant to this section shall be entitled to reasonable attorney's fees and court costs as may be fixed by the court.

(11) The county recorder may charge and collect fees for the recording of all notices and other documents required by this section pursuant to Article 5 (commencing with Section 27360) of Chapter 6 of Division 2 of Title 3 of the Government Code.

(12) Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit those rights available to tenants and owners under any other provision of the law.

(13) Nothing in this section shall be construed to deprive an owner of a substandard building of all procedural due process rights guaranteed by the California Constitution and the United States Constitution, including, but not limited to, receipt of notice of the violation claimed and an adequate and reasonable period of time to comply with any orders which are issued by the enforcement agency or the court.

(d) If the court finds that a building is in a condition which substantially endangers the health and safety of residents pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 17980.6, upon the entry of any order or judgment the court shall do all of the following:

(1) Order the owner to pay all reasonable and actual costs of the enforcement agency including, but not limited to, inspection costs, investigation costs, enforcement costs, attorney fees or costs, and all costs of prosecution.

(2) Order that the local enforcement agency shall provide the tenant with notice of the court order or judgment.

(3) (A) Order that if the owner undertakes repairs or rehabilitation as a result of being cited for a notice under this chapter, and if the conditions of the premises or the repair or rehabilitation thereof significantly affect the safe and sanitary use of the premises by any lawful tenant, such that the tenant cannot safely reside in the premises, then the owner shall provide or pay relocation benefits to each lawful tenant. These benefits shall consist of actual reasonable moving and storage costs and relocation compensation. The actual moving and storage costs shall consist of all of the following:

(i) Transportation of the tenant's personal property to the new location. The new location shall be in close proximity to the substandard premises, except where relocation to a new location beyond a close proximity is determined by the court to be justified.

(ii) Packing, crating, unpacking, and uncrating the tenant's personal property.

(iii) Insurance of the tenant's property while in transit.

(iv) The reasonable replacement value of property lost, stolen, or damaged (not through the fault or negligence of the displaced person, his or her agent or employee) in the process of moving, where insurance covering such loss, theft, or damage is not reasonably available.

(v) The cost of disconnecting, dismantling, removing, reassembling, reconnecting, and reinstalling machinery, equipment, or other personal property of the tenant, including connection charges imposed by utility companies for starting utility service.

The relocation compensation shall be an amount equal to the differential between the contract rent and the fair market rental value determined by the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development for a unit of comparable size within the area for the period that the unit is being repaired, not to exceed 120 days.

If the court finds that a tenant has been substantially responsible for causing or substantially contributing to the substandard conditions, then the relocation benefits of this section shall not be paid to this tenant. Each other tenant on the premises who has been ordered to relocate due to the substandard conditions and who is not substantially responsible for causing or contributing to the conditions shall be paid these benefits and moving costs at the time that he or she actually relocates.

(B) Determine the date when the tenant is to relocate, and order the tenant to notify the enforcement agency and the owner of the address of the premises to which he has relocated within five days after the relocation.

(C) Order that the owner shall offer the first right to occupancy of the premises to each tenant who received benefits pursuant to subparagraph (A), before letting the unit for rent to a third party. The owner's offer on the first right to occupancy to the tenant shall be in writing, and sent by first-class certified mail to the address given by the tenant at the time of relocation. If the owner has not been provided the tenant's address by the tenant as prescribed by this section, the owner shall not be required to provide notice under this section or offer the tenant the right to return to occupancy.

The tenant shall notify the owner in writing that he or she will occupy the unit. The notice shall be sent by first-class certified mail no later than 10 days after the notice has been mailed by the owner.

(4) Order that failure to comply with any abatement order under this chapter shall be punishable by civil contempt, penalties under Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 17995), and any other penalties and fines as are available.

(e) The initiation of a proceeding or entry of a judgment pursuant to this section or Section 17980.6 shall be deemed to be a "proceeding" or "judgment" as provided by paragraph (4) or (5) of subdivision (a) of Section 1942.5 of the Civil Code.

(f) The term "owner," for the purposes of this section, shall include the owner, including any public entity that owns residential real property, at the time of the initial notice or order and any successor in interest who had actual or constructive knowledge of the notice, order, or prosecution.

(g) These remedies shall be in addition to those provided by any other law

(h) Nothing in this section or in Section 17980.6 shall impair the rights of an owner exercising his or her rights established pursuant to Chapter 12.75 (commencing with Section 7060) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution for those costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

Moreover, no reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the local agency or school district has the authority to levy service charges, fees, or assessments sufficient to pay for the program or level of service mandated by this act.

Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1335

An act to amend Section 10177 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to real estate.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10177 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

10177. The commissioner may suspend or revoke the license of any real estate licensee, or may deny the issuance of a license to an applicant, who has done, or may suspend or revoke the license of, or deny the issuance of a license to, a corporate applicant if an officer, director, or person owning or controlling 10 percent or more of the corporation's stock has done, any of the following:

(a) Procured, or attempted to procure, a real estate license or license renewal, for himself or herself or any salesperson, by fraud, misrepresentation or deceit, or by making any material misstatement of fact in an application for a real estate license, license renewal or reinstatement.

(b) Entered a plea of guilty or nolo contendere to, or been found guilty of, or been convicted of, a felony or a crime involving moral turpitude, and the time for appeal has elapsed or the judgment of conviction has been affirmed on appeal, irrespective of an order granting probation following that conviction, suspending the imposition of sentence, or of a subsequent order under Section 1203.4 of the Penal Code allowing that licensee to withdraw his or her plea of guilty and to enter a plea of not guilty, or dismissing the accusation or information.

(c) Knowingly authorized, directed, connived at, or aided in, the publication, advertisement, distribution, or circulation of any material false statement or representation concerning his or her business, or any business opportunity or any land or subdivision (as defined in Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 11000) of Part 2) offered for sale.

(d) Willfully disregarded or violated the Real Estate Law (Part 1 (commencing with Section 10000)) or Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 11000) of Part 2 or the rules and regulations of the commissioner for the administration and enforcement of the Real Estate Law and Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 11000) of Part 2.

(e) Willfully used the term "realtor" or any trade name or insignia of membership in any real estate organization of which the licensee is not a member.

(f) Acted or conducted himself or herself in a manner which would have warranted the denial of his or her application for a real estate license, or has either had a license denied or a license issued by another agency of this state, another state, or the federal government, revoked or suspended for acts which if done by a real estate licensee would be grounds for the suspension or revocation of a California real estate license, if the action of denial, revocation, or suspension by the other agency or entity was taken only after giving the licensee or applicant fair notice of the charges, an opportunity for a hearing, and other due process protections comparable to the Administrative Procedure Act (Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340), Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 11370), and Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code), and only upon an express finding of a violation of law by the agency or entity.

(g) Demonstrated negligence or incompetence in performing any act for which he or she is required to hold a license.

(h) As a broker licensee, failed to exercise reasonable supervision over the activities of his or her salespersons, or, as the officer designated by a corporate broker licensee, failed to exercise reasonable supervision and control of the activities of the corporation for which a real estate license is required.

(i) Has used his or her employment by a governmental agency in a capacity giving access to records, other than public records, in such manner as to violate the confidential nature of the records.

(j) Engaged in any other conduct, whether of the same or a different character than specified in this section, which constitutes fraud or dishonest dealing.

(k) Violated any of the terms, conditions, restrictions, and limitations contained in any order granting a restricted license.

(l) Solicited or induced the sale, lease, or the listing for sale or lease, of residential property on the ground, wholly or in part, of loss of value, increase in crime, or decline of the quality of the schools, due to the present or prospective entry into the neighborhood of a person or persons of another race, color, religion, ancestry, or national origin.

(m) Violated the Franchise Investment Law (Division 5 (commencing with Section 31000) of Title 4 of the Corporations Code) or regulations of the Commissioner of Corporations pertaining thereto.

(n) Violated the Corporations Code or the regulations of the Commissioner of Corporations relating to securities as specified in Section 25206 of the Corporations Code.

(o) Failed to disclose to the buyer of real property in a transaction in which the licensee is an agent for the buyer, the nature and extent of a licensee's direct or indirect ownership interest in that real property. The direct or indirect ownership in the property by a person related to the licensee by blood or marriage, by an entity in which the licensee has an ownership interest, or by any other person with whom the licensee occupies a special relationship shall be disclosed to the buyer.

The commissioner may not deny or suspend the license of a corporate real estate broker if the offending officer, director, or stockholder has been completely disassociated from any affiliation or ownership in the corporation.

SEC. 2. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this act to set forth a specific ground for disciplinary action against a real estate licensee, which ground is one of many possible acts of fraudulent or dishonest activities for which a licensee may be disciplined under subdivision (i) of Section 10176 of the Business and Professions Code, and that nothing in this act shall either broaden or limit the authority of the Commissioner of Real Estate to take disciplinary action under Section 10176 of the Business and Professions Code.

An act to amend Section 1102.6 of the Civil Code, and to add Chapter 12.5 (commencing with Section 19890) to Part 3 of Division 13 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to automatic garage door openers.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) The garage door is the largest and heaviest piece of moving equipment in most homes, and in order to avoid injury, it should be designed, manufactured, equipped, and maintained with due care. For this reason, garage door springs are currently regulated under California law.

(b) There are over 20 million automatic garage door openers in the nation today, a large portion of them in California.

(c) New residential automatic garage door openers should possess an automatic reversing safety device in compliance with current voluntary standards.

(d) There is no current California state regulation of these devices. Voluntary standards were established in 1973; however, prior to that date, there were no applicable industry safety standards requiring automatic reversing safety devices. Although automatic garage door openers have a life expectancy of approximately eight years, it is possible for individual openers to last as long as 40 years.

(e) Therefore, many automatic garage door openers currently installed do not have automatic safety reversing devices, and for many of the doors that do have these devices, the door and operator systems may not be properly adjusted and maintained. This condition is worsened by the fact that many persons are not aware of this problem and may have a false sense of security because they possess a door which purports to have an automatic safety device, yet the door and operator system may not have been tested or properly maintained and, therefore, may not be able to protect small children living in, or visiting, the home from serious injury or death.

(f) Since 1982, nationally, at least 44 children under 14 years of age have died in accidents involving automatic garage door openers. In November of 1989, a five-year-old girl died in Sacramento in an accident involving a garage door.

(g) It is, therefore, necessary that mandatory safety standards be established with respect to residential garage door opener systems.

SEC. 2. Section 1102.6 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1102.6. The disclosures required by this article pertaining to the property proposed to be transferred are set forth in, and shall be made on a copy of, the following disclosure form:

REAL ESTATE TRANSFER DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

THIS DISCLOSURE STATEMENT CONCERNS THE REAL PROPERTY SITUATED IN THE CITY OF_____, COUNTY OF_____, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DESCRIBED AS_____. SEC. 3. Chapter 12.5 (commencing with Section 19890) is added to Part 3 of Division 13 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

CHAPTER 12.5. AUTOMATIC GARAGE DOOR OPENERS

19890. (a) On or after January 1, 1991, no person, corporation, or entity shall manufacture, purchase, sell or offer for sale at retail or wholesale, or install in this state, a residential automatic garage door opener for single-family or multifamily dwellings that does not have an automatic reverse safety device which complies with the applicable standards set forth in the Underwriters Laboratories Inc., Standard for Safety-ANSI/UL 325, Third Edition, as revised May 4, 1988.

(b) In addition to the requirements of subdivision (a), on or after January 1, 1993, no person, corporation, or entity shall manufacture, purchase, sell or offer for sale at retail or wholesale, or install in this state, any residential automatic garage door opener unless, in order to operate, it requires the inclusion of a tactile garage door edge sensor, an optical sensor, or a similar device that when activated is designed to cause a closing door to open and prevent an open door from closing. This device shall be designed to operate in a manner so that the interruption or misalignment of the device or an opening or short in the wires between the device and the power head would cause a closing door to open and prevent an open door from closing.

(c) (1) On or after January 1, 1991, any manufacturer selling or offering for sale residential automatic garage door openers in this state shall clearly identify on the container, and on the opener, the month, or week, and year the opener was manufactured, and its conformance with Underwriters Laboratories Inc., Standard for Safety-ANSI/UL 325, as specified in subdivision (a).

(2) On or after January 1, 1993, conformance with the requirements of subdivision (b) shall also clearly be identified on the container and on the opener.

(3) On or after January 1, 1991, no distributor, wholesaler, or retailer shall sell or offer for sale residential automatic garage door openers in this state which are not identified as required by this subdivision.

(d) On and after January 1, 1991, any manufacturer, distributor, wholesaler, or retailer, selling or offering for sale residential automatic garage door openers in this state shall include with each automatic garage door opener a set of installation, operation, maintenance, and testing instructions. On or after January 1, 1991, any person installing, servicing, or repairing a residential automatic garage door opener shall comply with those instructions.

(e) On and after January 1, 1993, any person hired to service or repair any residential automatic garage door opener shall, upon completion of the service or repair, if any, determine whether it reverses upon contact with a rigid two-inch high obstacle placed on the surface beneath the garage door. If the residential automatic garage door opener does not pass the test, the person shall complete and conspicuously affix to the automatic garage door opener, a red certificate as follows:

WARNING!

This garage door opener, when tested on this date, did not reverse upon contact with a two-inch high rigid obstacle placed on the surface beneath the garage door, and may not be in compliance with the safety standards relating to automatic reversing devices as set forth in Chapter 12.5 (commencing with Section 19890) of Part 3 of Division 13 of the Health and Safety Code.

19891. (a) In addition to any other remedies permitted by law, any violations of subdivision (a), (b), or (c) of Section 19890 shall be subject to a civil penalty of one thousand dollars ($1,000) per opener installed, manufactured, sold, or offered for sale which is not in compliance with Section 19890.

(b) In addition to any other remedies permitted by law, any violations of subdivision (d) of Section 19890 shall be subject to a civil penalty of five hundred dollars ($500) per opener installed and operational, which is not in compliance with Section 19890.

(c) In addition to any other remedies permitted by law, a seller who violates the notice requirements of Section 1102.6 of the Civil Code, relating to automatic garage door openers, shall be subject to a civil penalty of five hundred dollars ($500).

(d) Court proceedings may be initiated by the building department of the local agency with jurisdiction over enforcement of building standards, by affected consumers, or by the district attorney. Civil penalties assessed shall be payable to the local agency initiating the proceedings to enforce this chapter to offset the costs to the agency related to court proceedings. If an affected consumer initiates the proceeding, the civil penalties shall be payable to the consumer.

SEC. 4. Section 2 of this act shall be operative on July 1, 1991.

CHAPTER 1337

An act to add Sections 23056 and 23320.5 to the Business and Professions Code, and to add Section 2426 to the Vehicle Code, relating to drivers.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 23056 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

23056. The department shall send a copy of the information sheet prepared by the Department of the California Highway Patrol pursuant to Section 2426 of the Vehicle Code with the annual renewal notice to all on-sale licensees.

SEC. 2. Section 23320.5 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

23320.5. (a) In addition to the annual fees provided for in Section 23320, the department shall collect a surcharge of five dollars ($5).

(b) All money collected from the surcharge shall be deposited in the Motor Vehicle Account in the State Transportation Fund, and shall be used for the Department of the California Highway Patrol's Designated Driver Program, when appropriated to the Department of the California Highway Patrol for that purpose.

SEC. 3. Section 2426 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

2426. The department shall prepare a one-page information sheet describing its Designated Driver Program. The sheet shall include information concerning the person or entity an alcoholic beverage licensee may contact for assistance in establishing a Designated Driver Program.

CHAPTER 1338

An act relating to highways.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) The Department of Transportation shall conduct a study of worker safety as it applies to highway construction, engineering, surveying, and maintenance workers of the department or under contract with the department. The study shall examine the safety conditions applicable to both day and night workers on highway projects and the feasibility of revising the department's current practice of closing only the highway lane adjacent to the worksite to instead closing the entire highway to vehicular travel in the vicinity of the worksite. The study shall specify what changes in the department's regulations and procedures are required in order to achieve reasonable worker safety under highway conditions and, in this regard, the department may consult with other state agencies including, but not limited to, the Division of Occupational Safety and Health of the Department of Industrial Relations.

(b) The department shall prepare and transmit to the Legislature, on or before July 1, 1991, a report of its study specifying its findings and recommendations for increasing worker safety and a schedule for the implementation of those recommendations.

An act to repeal Sections 14730 and 14731 of the Government Code, and to add Item 1760-301-768 to Section 2.00 of Chapter 467 of the Statutes of 1990, relating to state property, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14730 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 14731 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Item 1760-301-768 is added to Section 2.00 of Chapter 467 of the Statutes of 1990, to read:

1760-301-768—For capital outlay, Department of General Services payable from the Earthquake Safety and Public Buildings Rehabilitation Bond Act of 1990 22,225,000

Schedule:

(1) 50.40.019-San Francisco State Office Building (350 McAllister Street)—renovation, expansion and seismic upgrade (base isolation technology)—preliminary plans and working drawings 6,500,000

(2) 50.40.020-San Francisco State Office Building (525 Golden Gate Avenue)—seismic retrofit, fire, life safety improvements, and renovation—preliminary plans, working drawings, and construction 14,800,000

(3) 50.40.035-Facilities study..... 925,000

Provisions:

1. The funds appropriated in category (3) will provide for an assessment of state facilities needs, environmental assessments, and site evaluation and preprogramming requirements in the San Francisco-Oakland Bay area necessitated by the Loma Prieta earthquake.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order that state functions may continue uninterrupted and the safety of occupants of state buildings may be assured, it is necessary that this bill take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1340

An act to amend Section 62000.45 of, and to add Section 62008 to, the Education Code, relating to schools.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 62000.45 of the Education Code is amended to read:

62000.45. The Instructional Materials Program shall sunset on June 30, 1996.

SEC. 2. Section 62008 is added to the Education Code, to read:

62008. The State Department of Education and the Legislative Analyst shall review and report upon the Instructional Materials Program authorized pursuant to Part 33 (commencing with Section 60000). The State Department of Education shall submit its report to the appropriate policy and fiscal committees of the Legislature on or before June 30, 1995. The Legislative Analyst shall submit his or her report to the appropriate policy and fiscal committees of the Legislature within 90 days after receiving the State Department of Education report. In conducting the review required by this section, the State Department of Education and the Legislative Analyst shall consider the issues listed in subdivisions (a) and (c) of Section 62006 and shall make recommendations on any appropriate revisions of the law or regulations governing the program.

CHAPTER 1341

An act to amend Item 4440-011-001 of Chapter 467 of the Statutes of 1990, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares all of the following:

(a) The Budget Act of 1990, as enacted, contains an unallocated sixty-one million dollar ($61,000,000) reduction to essential mental health services, in Item 4440-101-001.

(b) The reduction in services entailed by this funding reduction would be focused entirely on community mental health services, contrary to the policy and practice of supporting the least institutional care consistent with individual client needs.

(c) Since the State Department of Mental Health is allocating the local program reduction on a formula which includes state hospital costs as part of each county's resource base, it is therefore appropriate to permit counties to allocate local program reductions to both state hospital and community programs.

SEC. 2. (a) Each county may, with the approval of the State Department of Mental Health, determine how its total resource base for the 1990–91 fiscal year shall be distributed between items 4440-011-001 and 4440-101-001 of the Budget Act of 1990, to serve its mentally ill population. This determination may include the redirection of resources from its state hospital bed allocation to its local program allocation. The amount of this redirection shall be computed based on a plan submitted by the county that indicates the number, type, and effective date of state hospital beds to be reduced.

(b) The cost of state hospital beds shall be an amount determined by the department, based upon such factors as the feasibility of closing or consolidating units, wards, or programs based on the county proposals submitted under subdivision (a). Statewide overhead, county match, revenues, and projected deficiency appropriations for the 1990–91 fiscal year, shall also be considered in the development of these amounts. The department shall develop these cost amounts after consultation with the California Conference of Local Mental Health Directors.

(c) Small counties with a population less than 125,000 shall not be negatively impacted with regard to state hospital access, and shall be granted the local option of inclusion or exclusion from this provision.

(d) In order to ensure an orderly process which allows for necessary adjustments in the number of beds in the state hospital system, each county choosing to adjust its current state hospital allocation shall submit a plan for purchase in, or purchase out, of beds. Counties shall enter into a contract with the department for state hospital use. Specific contracting methodologies and time frames shall be developed by the department and reviewed by the California Conference of Local Mental Health Directors.

(e) The department shall develop a range of cost amounts for state hospital beds, pursuant to subdivisions (a), (b), and (c), within 30 days after the effective date of this act, after consultation with the California Conference of Local Mental Health Directors. Final costs shall be determined by the department after it reviews all the plans submitted by counties.

(f) The department shall make information on the outcome of these provisions available to the Legislature upon request.

SEC. 3. Item 4440-011-001 of Chapter 467 of the Statutes of 1990 is amended to read:

4440-011-001—For support of the State Hospitals, Department of Mental Health 366,297,000
Schedule:
(a) 20.10—Lanterman-Petris-Short Act 226,850,000
(b) 20.20—Penal Code and Judicially Committed 139,447,000
(c) 20.30—Other State Hospital Services 45,889,000
(d) Reimbursements ..... –45,889,000
Provisions:
1. The amounts appropriated above are for support of the hospitals for the mentally ill for judicially committed patients, patients committed pursuant to the Penal Code or patients committed pursuant to the Lanterman-Petris-Short Act.
2. Upon order of the Director of Finance, the State Controller shall transfer such funds as are necessary between this item and Items 4440-101-001, 4300-003-001, 5240-001-001, and 5460-001-001.
3. Upon order of the Director of Finance, the Controller shall transfer between this item and Item 4440-016-001 those funds that are necessary for direct community services, as well as administrative and ancillary services related to the provision of direct services.
4. Upon order of the Director of Finance, the Controller shall transfer between this item and Item 4440-141-001 those funds which are necessary to support patients who may be transferred to a state hospital as the result of the decertification of the special treatment program in a skilled nursing facility funded by Item 4440-141-001.
5. Of the amount appropriated in Schedule 20.10, $105,000 is provided for payment of energy service contracts as required in connection with issuance of Public Works Board Energy Efficiency Revenue Bonds (State Pool Program), Series 1986 A.
6. Of the amount appropriated in Schedule (b), and following approval by the State Department of Mental Health, up to $571,000 is available to reimburse counties for the cost of treatment and legal services to patients in the four Department of Mental Health State Hospitals, pursuant to Section 4117 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, provided, that expenditures made under this item shall be charged to either the fiscal year in which the claim is received or the fiscal year in which the Controller issues the warrant. Provided further, that claims filed by local jurisdictions for legal services may be scheduled by the Controller for payment.

7. Of the amount appropriated in category (a), up to $1,487,000 is available to provide state hospital resources, including the cost of 38 additional staff persons, to San Diego County as a result of the order of the court in County of San Diego, et al. v. D. Michael O'Connor, et al. This amount shall remain available until the time that the court's order is extinguished.
8. Upon order of the Director of Finance, the Controller shall transfer between this item and Item 4440-101-001 those funds necessary to permit implementation of county contracts notwithstanding Provision 3 of this item. In no event shall this provision increase the total combined allocation for Item 4440-101-001 and this item.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to provide counties with maximum flexibility in the adjustment of the allocation of funds for mental health purposes at the earliest possible time, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1342

An act to amend Sections 1035.2 and 1037.1 of the Evidence Code, and to amend Sections 13835.2 and 13835.10 of, and to add and repeal Section 632.2 of, the Penal Code, relating to crimes.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1035.2 of the Evidence Code is amended to read:

1035.2. As used in this article, "sexual assault victim counselor" means any of the following:

(a) A person who is engaged in any office, hospital, institution, or center commonly known as a rape crisis center, whose primary purpose is the rendering of advice or assistance to victims of sexual assault and who has received a certificate evidencing completion of a training program in the counseling of sexual assault victims issued by a counseling center that meets the criteria for the award of a grant established pursuant to Section 13837 of the Penal Code and who meets one of the following requirements:

(1) Is a psychotherapist as defined in Section 1010; has a master's degree in counseling or a related field; or has one year of counseling experience, at least six months of which is in rape crisis counseling.

(2) Has 40 hours of training as described below and is supervised by an individual who qualifies as a counselor under paragraph (1). The training, supervised by a person qualified under paragraph (1), shall include, but not be limited to, the following areas: law, medicine, societal attitudes, crisis intervention and counseling techniques, role playing, referral services, and sexuality.

(b) A person who is employed by any organization providing the programs specified in Section 13835.2 of the Penal Code, whether financially compensated or not, for the purpose of counseling and assisting sexual assault victims, and who meets one of the following requirements:

(1) Is a psychotherapist as defined in Section 1010; has a master's degree in counseling or a related field; or has one year of counseling experience, at least six months of which is in rape assault counseling.

(2) Has the minimum training for sexual assault counseling required by guidelines established by the employing agency pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 13835.10 of the Penal Code, and is supervised by an individual who qualifies as a counselor under paragraph (1). The training, supervised by a person qualified under paragraph (1), shall include, but not be limited to, the following areas: law, victimology, counseling techniques, client and system advocacy, and referral services.

SEC. 2. Section 1037.1 of the Evidence Code is amended to read:

1037.1. As used in this article "domestic violence counselor" means any of the following:

(a) A person who is employed by any organization providing the programs specified in Section 18294 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, whether financially compensated or not, for the purpose of rendering advice or assistance to victims of domestic violence, who has received specialized training in the counseling of domestic violence victims, and who meets one of the following requirements:

(1) Has a master's degree in counseling or a related field; or has one year of counseling experience, at least six months of which is in the counseling of domestic violence victims.

(2) Has at least 40 hours of training as specified in this paragraph and is supervised by an individual who qualifies as a counselor under paragraph (1); or is a psychotherapist, as defined in Section 1010. The training, supervised by a person qualified under paragraph (1), shall include, but need not be limited to, the following areas: history of domestic violence, civil and criminal law as it relates to domestic violence, societal attitudes towards domestic violence, peer counseling techniques, housing, public assistance and other financial resources available to meet the financial needs of domestic violence victims, and referral services available to domestic violence victims.

(b) A person who is employed by any organization providing the programs specified in Section 13835.2 of the Penal Code, whether financially compensated or not, for the purpose of counseling and assisting victims of domestic violence, and who meets one of the following requirements:

(1) Is a psychotherapist as defined in Section 1010; has a master's degree in counseling or a related field; or has one year of counseling experience, at least six months of which is in counseling victims of domestic violence.

(2) Has the minimum training for counseling victims of domestic violence required by guidelines established by the employing agency pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 13835.10 of the Penal Code, and is supervised by an individual who qualifies as a counselor under paragraph (1). The training, supervised by a person qualified under paragraph (1), shall include, but not be limited to, the following areas: law, victimology, counseling techniques, client and system advocacy, and referral services.

SEC. 3. Section 632.2 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

632.2. (a) Any person who, without the consent of the victim, willfully obtains or, except as provided in Section 1035.4 or Section 1037.2 of the Evidence Code, knowingly discloses any privileged information obtained from a confidential communication specified in Section 1035.4 or 1037.2 of the Evidence Code, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), sexual assault victim counselors, as defined in Section 1035.2 of the Evidence Code, domestic violence counselors, as defined in Section 1037.1 of the Evidence Code, and victim-witness counselors employed by organizations providing programs specified in Section 13835.2, may confer among themselves, as necessary, in order to receive and disclose information, including records, relevant to their assigned cases.

(c) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 4. Section 13835.2 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

13835.2. (a) Funds appropriated from the Victim-Witness Assistance Fund shall be made available through the Office of Criminal Justice Planning to any public or private nonprofit agency for the assistance of victims and witnesses which meets all of the following requirements:

(1) It provides comprehensive services to victims and witnesses of all types of crime. It is the intent of the Legislature to make funds available only to programs which do not restrict services to victims and witnesses of a particular type of crime, and which do not restrict services to victims of crime where there is a suspect in the case.

(2) It is recognized by the board of supervisors as the major provider of comprehensive services to victims and witnesses in the county.

(3) It is selected by the board of supervisors as the agency to receive funds pursuant to this article.

(4) It assists victims of crime in the preparation, verification, and presentation of their claims to the State Board of Control for indemnification pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 13959) of Part 4 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(5) It cooperates with the State Board of Control in verifying the data required by Article 1 (commencing with Section 13959) of Part 4 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(b) The Office of Criminal Justice Planning shall consider the following factors, together with any other circumstances it deems appropriate, in awarding funds to public or private nonprofit agencies designated as victim and witness assistance centers:

(1) The capability of the agency to provide comprehensive services as defined in this article.

(2) The stated goals and objectives of the center.

(3) The number of people to be served and the needs of the community.

(4) Evidence of community support.

(5) The organizational structure of the agency which will operate the center.

(6) The capability of the agency to provide confidentiality of records.

(c) The Office of Criminal Justice Planning shall conduct an evaluation of the activities and performance of the centers established pursuant to Chapter 1256 of the Statutes of 1977 to determine their ability to comply with the intent of this article, and shall report the findings thereon to the Legislature by January 1, 1985.

SEC. 5. Section 13835.10 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

13835.10. (a) The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(1) That the provision of quality services for victims of crime is of high priority.

(2) That existing victim service programs do not have sufficient financial resources to consistently recruit and employ fully trained personnel.

(3) That there is no consistency in the training provided to the various agencies serving victims.

(4) That comprehensive training for victim service agencies is geographically limited or unavailable.

(5) That there is currently no statewide comprehensive training system in place for the state to insure that all service providers receive adequate training to provide quality services to victims of crime.

(6) It is the intention of the Legislature to establish a statewide training program within the Office of Criminal Justice Planning to provide comprehensive standardized training to victim service providers.

(b) The Office of Criminal Justice Planning shall establish a statewide victim-assistance training program, the purpose of which is to develop minimum training and selection standards, certify training courses, and provide funding to enable local victim service providers to acquire the required training.

(c) (1) For the purpose of raising the level of competence of local victim service providers, the office shall adopt guidelines establishing minimum standards of training for employees of victim-witness and sexual assault programs funded by the office to provide services to victims of crime. The office shall establish an advisory committee composed of recognized statewide victim service organizations, representatives of local victim service programs, and others selected at the discretion of the executive director to consult on the research and development of the training, selection, and equivalency standards.

(2) Any local unit of government, community-based organization, or any other public or private nonprofit entity funded by the office as a victim-witness or sexual assault program to provide services to victims of crime shall adhere to the training and selection standards established by the office. The standards for sexual assault victim service programs developed by the advisory committee established pursuant to Section 13836 shall be the standards for purposes of this section. With the exception of the sexual assault standards, the office shall conduct or contract with an appropriate firm or entity for research on validated standards pursuant to this section in consultation with the advisory committee established pursuant to paragraph (1). The office may defer the adoption of the selection standards until the necessary research is completed. Until the standards are adopted, affected victim service programs may receive state funding from the office upon certification of their willingness to adhere to the training standards adopted by the office.

(3) Minimum training and selection standards may include, but shall not be limited to, basic entry, continuation, supervisory, management, specialized curricula, and confidentiality.

(4) Training and selection standards shall apply to all victim service and management personnel of the victim-witness and sexual assault agencies funded by the office to provide services to victims of crime. Exemptions from this requirement may be made by the office. An agency which, despite good faith efforts, is unable to meet the standards established pursuant to this section, may apply to the office for an exemption. For the purpose of exemptions, the office may establish procedures that allow for partial adherence. The office may develop equivalency standards which recognize professional experience, education, training, or a combination of the above, for personnel hired before July 1, 1987.

(5) Nothing in this section shall prohibit an agency, funded by the office to provide services to victims of crime, from establishing training and selection standards which exceed the minimum standards established by the office pursuant to this section.

(d) For purposes of implementing this section, the office has all of the following powers:

(1) To approve or certify, or both, training courses selected by the office.

(2) To make those inquiries which may be necessary to determine whether every local unit of government, community-based organization, or any other public or private entity receiving state aid from the office as a victim-witness or sexual assault program for the provision of services to victims of crime, is adhering to the standards for training and selection established pursuant to this section.

(3) To adopt those guidelines which are necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

(4) To develop or present, or both, training courses for victim service providers, or to contract with coalitions, councils, or other designated entities, to develop or present, or both, those training courses.

(5) To perform other activities and studies necessary to carry out the intent of this section.

(e) In order for the Legislature to determine the need to continue or modify the standards and training programs for local victim service providers, the office shall report to the Legislature on October 1, 1990, and biannually thereafter, regarding the progress and effectiveness of the training program.

(f) (1) The office may utilize any funds that may become available from the Victim-Witness Assistance Fund to fund the cost of training staff of victim service agencies which are funded by the office from the fund. The office may utilize federal or other state funds that may become available to fund the cost of training staff of victim service agencies which are not eligible for funding from the Victim-Witness Assistance Fund.

(2) Peace officer personnel whose jurisdictions are eligible for training subvention pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 13500) of Title 4 of this part and correctional or probation personnel whose jurisdictions are eligible for state aid pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 6035) of Chapter 5 of Title 7 of Part 3 are not eligible to receive training reimbursements under this section unless the person receiving the training is assigned to provide victim services in accordance with a grant award agreement with the office and is attending training to meet the established standards.

SEC. 6. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1343

An act to add Chapter 8.5 (commencing with Section 1745) to Division 2 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to health care.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 8.5 (commencing with Section 1745) is added to Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

CHAPTER 8.5. CALIFORNIA HOSPICE LICENSURE ACT OF 1990

Article 1. General

1745. (a) The purposes of this chapter are to provide for the licensure of hospices by the state department in order to ensure the health and safety of patients, who by definition, are experiencing the last phases of life due to the existence of a terminal disease, and to permit qualified persons, political subdivisions of the state, and governmental agencies to comply with requirements of federal law regarding the provision of hospice care.

(b) In enacting this chapter, it is the intent of the Legislature to allow all qualified persons, political subdivisions of the state, and governmental agencies to provide hospice services to the people of California It is also the intent of the Legislature to distinguish between the functions of a volunteer hospice and a hospice requiring licensure. It is further the intent of the Legislature to require the state department to establish standards of quality care for licensed hospices.

(c) It is the intent of the Legislature that regulations adopted by the state department pursuant to this chapter not be so burdensome or costly, or both, in terms of implementation, that hospices located in rural areas are forced to stop providing care. Therefore, the state department shall exercise discretion and program flexibility in regard to licensing hospices which are located in rural areas of the state.

1746. As used in this chapter, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "Bereavement services" means those services available to the surviving family members for a period of at least one year after the death of the patient. These services shall include an assessment of the needs of the bereaved family, and the development of a care plan that meets these needs, both prior to, and following the death of the patient.

(b) "Hospice" means a specialized form of multidisciplinary health care which is designed to provide palliative care, alleviate the physical, emotional, social, and spiritual discomforts of an individual who is experiencing the last phases of life due to the existence of a terminal disease, to provide supportive care to the primary care giver and the family of the hospice patient, and which meets all of the following criteria:

(1) Considers the patient and the patient's family, in addition to the patient, as the unit of care.

(2) Utilizes a multidisciplinary team to assess the physical, medical, psychological, social, and spiritual needs of the patient and the patient's family.

(3) Requires the multidisciplinary team to develop an overall plan of care and to provide coordinated care which emphasizes supportive services, such as home care, pain control, and limited inpatient services. Limited inpatient services are intended to ensure both continuity of care and appropriateness of services for those patients who cannot be managed at home because of acute complications or the temporary absence of a capable primary care giver.

(4) Provides for the palliative medical treatment of pain and other symptoms associated with a terminal disease, but does not provide for efforts to cure the disease.

(5) Provides for bereavement services following death to assist the family to cope with social and emotional needs associated with the death of the patient.

(6) Actively utilizes volunteers in the delivery of hospice services.

(7) To the extent appropriate, based on the medical needs of the patient, provides services in the patient's home or primary place of residence.

(c) "Inpatient care arrangements" means arranging for those short inpatient stays which may become necessary to manage acute symptoms or due to the temporary absence, or need for respite, of a capable primary care giver. The hospice shall arrange for these stays, ensuring both continuity of care and the appropriateness of services.

(d) "Medical direction" means those services provided by a licensed physician and surgeon who is charged with the responsibility of acting as a consultant to the multidisciplinary team, a consultant to the patient's attending physician and surgeon, as requested, with regard to pain and symptom management, and liaison with physicians and surgeons in the community.

(e) "A multidisciplinary team" means the hospice care team which includes, but is not limited to, the patient and patient's family, a physician and surgeon, a registered nurse, a social worker, a volunteer, and a spiritual care giver. The team shall be coordinated by a registered nurse and shall be under medical direction. The team shall meet regularly to develop and maintain an appropriate plan of care.

(f) "Plan of care" means a written plan developed by the multidisciplinary team which addresses the needs of a patient and family admitted to the hospice program. The hospice shall retain overall responsibility for the development and maintenance of the plan of care and quality of services delivered.

(g) "Skilled nursing services" means those services provided under a plan of care developed by the multidisciplinary team and the patient's physician and surgeon to a patient and his or her family that pertain to the palliative, supportive services required by patients with a terminal illness. Skilled nursing services include, but are not limited to, patient assessment, evaluation and case management of the medical nursing needs of the patient, the performance of prescribed medical treatment for pain and symptom control, the provision of emotional support to both the patient and his or her family, and the instruction of care givers in providing personal care to the patient. Skilled nursing services shall provide for the continuity of services for the patient and his or her family within the home. Skilled nursing services shall be available on a 24-hour on-call basis.

(h) "Social service/counseling services" means those counseling and spiritual care services which assist the patient and his or her family to minimize stresses and problems that arise from social, economic, psychological, or spiritual needs by utilizing appropriate community resources, and maximize positive aspects and opportunities for growth.

(i) "Terminal disease" or "terminal illness" means a medical condition resulting in a prognosis of life of one year or less.

(j) "Volunteer services" means those services provided by trained hospice volunteers who have agreed to provide service under the direction of a hospice staff member who has been designated by the hospice to provide direction to hospice volunteers. Hospice volunteers may be used to provide support and companionship to the patient and his or her family during the remaining days of the patient's life and to the surviving family following the patient's death.

Article 2. Licensure

1747. (a) No person, political subdivision of the state, or other governmental agency, which is not operating a hospice as of January 1, 1991, shall establish or operate a hospice without first obtaining a license under this chapter.

(b) Any person, political subdivision of the state, or other governmental agency, which is operating a hospice as of January 1, 1991, may continue to operate the hospice only under the following conditions:

(1) The person, political subdivision of the state, or other governmental agency shall apply to the state department for a license under this chapter within 60 days after forms for the application of licensure under this chapter are available from the state department.

(2) The person, political subdivision of the state, or other governmental agency shall cease calling or referring to itself as a hospice upon the final decision of the director upholding the state department's denial of an application for licensure under this chapter.

(c) Nothing in this chapter shall preclude the ongoing use of the title "volunteer hospice" by those organizations which satisfy all of the following:

(1) They do not provide skilled nursing services.

(2) They do not charge for services, and they do not receive third party payment for services rendered.

(3) They satisfy the disclosure requirements specified in subdivision (c) of Section 1748.

(d) A small and rural hospice is exempt from the licensing provisions of this chapter and the disclosure requirements of subdivision (c) of Section 1748. A small and rural hospice may provide skilled nursing services and may use the title "volunteer hospice." For purposes of this chapter, a "small and rural hospice" means a hospice which provides services to less than 50 patients per year, does not charge for services, does not receive third-party payment for services rendered, and which is not located in a standard metropolitan statistical area.

1748. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (b) or (d) of Section 1747, no person, political subdivision of the state, or other governmental agency shall establish, conduct, maintain, or represent itself as a hospice unless a license has been issued under this chapter.

(b) Any person, political subdivision of the state, or other governmental agency desiring a license to establish a hospice shall file with the state department a verified application on a form prescribed and furnished by the state department which contains any information as may be required by the state department for the proper administration and enforcement of this chapter.

(c) Any hospice which is not required to obtain a license under this chapter shall disclose in all advertisements and information provided to the public all of the following information:

(1) It is not required to be licensed and is not regulated by the state department.

(2) Any complaint against the hospice should be directed to the local district attorney and the state department.

(3) Any complaint against personnel licensed by a board or committee within the Department of Consumer Affairs and employed by the hospice should be directed to the respective board or committee. Any complaint against a certified home health aide or certified nurse assistant shall be directed to the state department.

The address and phone number of any state agency, board, or committee which is responsible for addressing complaints shall be provided by the hospice, upon request, to any patient of the hospice.

1749. (a) To qualify for a license under this chapter, an applicant shall satisfy all of the following:

(1) Be of good moral character. If the applicant is a franchise, franchisee, firm, association, organization, partnership, business trust, corporation, company, political subdivision of the state, or governmental agency, the person in charge of the hospice for which the application for a license is made shall be of good moral character.

(2) Demonstrate the ability of the applicant to comply with this chapter and any rules and regulations promulgated under this chapter by the state department.

(3) File a completed application with the state department which was prescribed and furnished pursuant to Section 1748.

(b) In order for a person, political subdivision of the state, or other governmental agency to be licensed as a hospice it shall satisfy the definition of a hospice contained in Section 1746, and also provide, or make provision for, the following basic services:

(1) Skilled nursing services.

(2) Social services/counseling services.

(3) Medical direction.

(4) Bereavement services.

(5) Volunteer services.

(6) Inpatient care arrangements.

1749.5. The Legislature recognizes that hospices can apply for certification for their hospice programs from the federal Medicare program. If the department has determined during any combined licensing and certification survey that a hospice is in substantial compliance with a requirement, the department shall not be redundant by also reviewing the similar licensing or certification requirements.

1750. (a) Each application for a license under this chapter shall be accompanied by a fee in an amount established by the state department that is sufficient to cover the cost of processing the application.

(b) In addition to the fee specified in subdivision (a) above, the state department shall establish and adjust annually a biennial license fee for hospices that is sufficient to cover the costs of administering this chapter.

1751. (a) Upon an applicant's filing an application for licensure under this chapter and compliance with this chapter and the rules and regulations adopted by the state department under this chapter, the state department shall issue to the applicant a license to operate as a hospice. Any fees required pursuant to Section 1750 shall be paid before a license is issued. Licensure also may be denied by the state department as specified in Section 1755.

(b) Each license issued under this chapter shall expire 24 months from the date of its issuance.

(c) A biennial application for the renewal of a license, accompanied by any fee required pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1750, shall be filed with the state department no less than 30 days prior to the expiration date of the license. The failure to file an application for renewal within the time required by this subdivision shall result in the expiration of the license.

Article 3. Enforcement

1752. (a) A licensed hospice, at the state department's option, may periodically be inspected by a duly authorized representative of the state department. Reports of each inspection shall be prepared by the representative who conducted the inspection, upon forms prepared and furnished by the state department, and filed with the state department. The inspection shall be for the purpose of ensuring that this chapter and the rules and regulations adopted under this chapter are being followed.

(b) Any officer, employee, or agent of the state department, who has been assigned the responsibility of enforcing this chapter, may enter and inspect any building or premises where hospice care is being provided, as well as any form, record, or file of a licensee at any reasonable time to assure compliance with, or to prevent the violation of, any provision of this chapter.

1753. The state department shall adopt, amend, or repeal, in accordance with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, reasonable rules and regulations as may be necessary or proper to carry out the purposes and intent of this chapter and to enable the state department to exercise the powers and perform the duties conferred upon it by this chapter. The state department shall adopt any regulation needed to commence the licensing of hospices pursuant to this chapter on or before June 30, 1992. The department shall consult with hospices, small and rural hospices, and volunteer hospice providers in developing regulations pursuant to this chapter.

1754. (a) Any licensee may, with the approval of the state department, surrender his or her license for suspension or cancellation by the state department.

(b) Any license suspended or canceled pursuant to this section may be reinstated by the state department upon receipt of an application showing compliance with this chapter.

1755. (a) The state department may deny any application for licensure, or suspend or revoke any license issued, under this chapter upon any of the following grounds:

(1) Violation by the applicant or licensee of this chapter or any rules and regulations promulgated by the state department under this chapter.

(2) Any felony conviction of the applicant or licensee for the violation of any law of this state.

(3) Any conviction of the applicant or licensee for aiding, abetting, or permitting the commission of any act that is a felony in this state.

(4) The applicant's or licensee's misrepresentation of a material fact in the application for a license under this chapter.

(b) Proceedings for the denial, suspension, or revocation of licenses under this chapter shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. In the case of a conflict between this chapter and Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) shall control.

1756. (a) The suspension, expiration, or forfeiture by operation of law of a license issued by the state department under this chapter, the suspension or cancellation of a license by order of the state department or by order of a court of law, or the surrender of a license without the written consent of the state department shall not deprive the state department of its authority to institute or continue any disciplinary proceeding against the licensee pursuant to this chapter.

(b) Any license revoked pursuant to this chapter may be reinstated pursuant to Section 11522 of the Government Code.

1757. Any person who violates any provision of this chapter or any rule or regulation promulgated under this chapter is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500), by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not to exceed 180 days, or by both the fine and imprisonment.

1758. The director may bring an action to enjoin the violation or threatened violation of Section 1748 in the superior court in and for the county in which the violation occurred or is about to occur. Any proceeding under this section shall conform to the requirements of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 525) of Title 7 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, except that the director shall not be required to allege facts necessary to show or tending to show the lack of an adequate remedy at law or to allege facts necessary to show or tending to show irreparable damage or loss.

1759. The district attorney of every county shall, upon application by the state department or its authorized representative, institute and conduct the prosecution within his or her county of any action for violation of this chapter.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution for those costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

However, notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains other costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution

CHAPTER 1344

An act to amend Sections 13827, 13827.1, 13827.3, 13827.4, 13827.6, and 13827.7 of, and to repeal Section 13827.5 of, the Penal Code, and to amend Section 2 of Chapter 637 of the Statutes of 1985, relating to juvenile sex offenders, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

I am deleting the $500,000 appropriation contained in Section 9 of Senate Bill No. 1895

This bill would extend the operation of the Juvenile Sex Offender Treatment Pilot Program in the Office of Criminal Justice Planning (OCJP) to July 1, 1992, and would appropriate $500,000 from the General Fund to OCJP for operation of the program in 1990–91

The demands placed on budget resources require all of us to set priorities With legislation I will be signing and the budget enacted in July 1990, more than $54 billion in state funds will be appropriated this fiscal year. This amount is more than adequate to provide the necessary essential services provided for by State Government It is not necessary to put additional pressure on taxpayer funds for programs that fall beyond the priorities currently provided

It is more appropriate to consider funding the provisions of this bill during the budget process for Fiscal Year 1991–92. Only at that time can the relative merits of this program be reviewed in comparison to all other funding projects. The budget process weighs all demands on the state's revenues and directs resources to programs, either new or existing, that have the most merit

With this deletion, I approve Senate Bill No. 1895.

GEORGE DEUKMEJIAN, Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13827 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

13827. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the Juvenile Sex Offender Treatment Act.

SEC. 2. Section 13827.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

13827.1. From any funds appropriated therefor, the Office of Criminal Justice Planning shall establish a program to provide financial and technical assistance to county designated treatment programs for juvenile sex offenders declared to be wards of the juvenile court pursuant to Section 602 of the Welfare and Institutions

Code, but who are not committed to the Department of the Youth Authority. The eligible counties shall be selected from among those counties submitting applications to the office requesting to be selected to participate in the program, based on a determination that the counties would be capable of establishing such a program. Capability may be demonstrated by current county efforts to provide treatment programs to juvenile sex offenders.

The programs shall terminate on July 1, 1992.

SEC. 3. Section 13827.3 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

13827.3. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in a county in which a program is established, on and after the date of the establishment of that program, any person who is adjudged to be a ward of the juvenile court pursuant to Section 602 of the Welfare and Institutions Code on the basis of the violation of Section 261, 264.1, 266, 285, 286, 288, 288a, or 289, and who is not committed to the Department of the Youth Authority, shall be ordered to participate in the treatment services provided by the program.

SEC. 4. Section 13827.4 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

13827.4. The county agency providing mental health services in a county participating in the program shall assign a counselor to any person described in Section 13827.3. Any counselor so assigned shall be qualified to treat juvenile sex offenders, as determined by the county in conjunction with the Office of Criminal Justice Planning.

SEC. 5. Section 13827.5 of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 13827.6 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

13827.6. On or before January 1, 1991, the Office of Criminal Justice Planning shall submit a written report to the Legislature containing all of the following information.

(a) The number of juveniles that participated in the program.

(b) The costs of the programs.

(c) The nature of the treatment provided to participants in the programs.

(d) The results of the treatment provided to participants in the programs, including data concerning recidivism by participants and any other nonsexually-related criminal offenses committed by participants.

(e) The results of combining intrafamily and pedophile treatment.

SEC. 7. Section 13827.7 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

13827.7. Counties selected to participate in the program shall utilize any funds available from public and private sources for the purposes of the program and existing treatment services prior to utilizing state funds allocated for the purposes of the program.

SEC. 8. Section 2 of Chapter 637 of the Statutes of 1985 is amended to read:

Sec. 2. This act shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered before January 1, 1993, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 9. The sum of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Office of Criminal Justice Planning for expenditure during the 1990–91 fiscal year for the purposes of this act. No more than 10 percent of that amount may be expended for administrative purposes.

SEC. 10. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order that programs established pursuant to the Juvenile Sex Offender Treatment Act of 1985 that are to become inoperative on July 1, 1990, may continue in operation without interruption, it is necessary that this bill take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1345

An act to amend Section 312 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to health, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

I am deleting the $1,000,000 appropriation contained in Section 3 of Senate Bill No 2038

This bill would appropriate $1 million from the Unallocated Account of the Cigarette and Tobacco Products Surtax Fund (Proposition 99) for the purpose of providing tobacco use screening and education and smoking cessation counseling and referrals to participants in the California Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children

Expenditures of Proposition 99 funds have already been determined through two previous bills, Assembly Bill 75 and Assembly Bill 1154, which contain a June 30, 1991 sunset clause Sufficient funds may not be available to fund the appropriation contained in this bill It would be more appropriate to consider funding the provisions of this bill during the budget process for Fiscal Year 1991–92 Only at that time can the relative merits of this program be reviewed in comparison to all other Proposition 99 funding projects The budget process weighs all demands on the state's revenues and directs resources to programs, either new or existing, that have the most merit

GEORGE DEUKMEJIAN, Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(1) The California Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC), contained in Article 3.3 (commencing with Section 310) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code, is one of the most effective preventive measures against infant mortality and life disabilities caused by low birth weight.

(2) By providing comprehensive and early prenatal care, of which WIC is an integral part, currently high hospitalization costs to the state are lessened considerably.

(3) The WIC program not only provides at-risk clients with nutritious food and referrals to health care, but also with individual and group health and nutrition counseling and education, including screening and information on smoking cessation, in order to prevent negative health consequences, including, but not limited to, low-birth weight, intrauterine growth retardation, serious pregnancy complications, and increased cancer risk, which result from smoking

(4) Due to limited federal funding, and despite recently contracted for infant formula rebate revenues, the California WIC program is only able to serve 37 percent of the eligible population, leaving approximately 700,000 women, infants, and children unserved. California ranks 10th from the bottom of all states in terms of the percentage of eligible persons served by WIC.

(5) As of December 1989, 19 other states had appropriated funds, ranging from eighty-five thousand dollars ($85,000) to twenty million one hundred thousand dollars ($20,100,000), to supplement their federal WIC allocations, for provision of food, or for nutrition services and program administration, or as contingency funds, which enables state agencies to maximize the federal allocation.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature to do all of the following:

(1) Ensure that the State Department of Health Services spends the full amount of the tobacco tax revenues available, especially for existing programs which serve large numbers of high-risk pregnant women, and clearly provide opportunities for direct client screening education and counseling regarding smoking cessation.

(2) Ensure that more needy pregnant women, infants, and children have prompt access to perinatal and child health care services, including WIC.

(3) Encourage the State Department of Health Services to continue spending the full federal allocation for WIC food and nutrition services and program administration.

SEC. 2. Section 312 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

312. The department, under any program established pursuant to this article, shall do all of the following:

(a) Establish guidelines to determine resource allocation giving consideration to an area's nutritional need.

(b) Designate the counties within which a program will be conducted, with the approval of those counties.

(c) Establish the minimum nutritional requirements for recipients.

(d) Designate specific supplemental foods to meet the minimum nutritional requirements for recipients.

(e) Develop and maintain a system for the delivery of supplemental foods to recipients through the distribution of supplemental foods designated in subdivision (d) and nutrition coupons when other methods of delivery are impractical.

(f) (1) Develop and coordinate a smoking cessation component of program operations, with consideration of local agency plans, needs, and available tobacco education resources.

(2) In consultation with the directors of local agencies and with other individuals with expertise in the field of smoking cessation, identify and promulgate a strategy for smoking cessation in the state plan of operation and administration of the WIC program, including, but not limited to all of the following:

(A) Designating an agency staff member to coordinate smoking cessation efforts.

(B) Providing training on smoking cessation and tobacco education to designated staff members of local agencies who are responsible for counseling participants in the program.

(3) Develop and implement procedures to ensure that tobacco use screening and education, including, but not limited to, smoking cessation counseling and referrals where appropriate, are offered to all participants.

(g) (1) Establish guidelines and criteria to be used by participating local agencies, when determining recipient eligibility, which require, in addition to a recipient being a low-income pregnant woman, or a low-income postpartum and lactating woman, or a low-income infant or child under five years of age, that the recipient be at nutritional risk.

(2) A health professional on the staff of the local agency shall determine if a person is at nutritional risk through a medical or nutritional assessment. This determination may be based on referral data submitted by a health professional not on the staff of the local agency. The person's height or length and weight shall be measured, and hematological test for anemia, such as a hemoglobin or hematocrit test shall be performed. However, the tests shall not be required for infants under six months of age. In addition, the blood test shall not be required for children who were determined to be within the normal range at their last program certification. However, the blood test shall be performed on the children at least once a year. A breastfeeding woman may be certified if the child she is breastfeeding is determined to be at nutritional risk and the woman meets the income eligibility criteria.

(h) Operate the program as an adjunct to existing health services.

(i) Seek federal funds to carry out the provisions of this article.

SEC. 3. The sum of one million dollars ($1,000,000) is hereby appropriated from the Unallocated Account of the Cigarette and Tobacco Products Surtax Fund to the State Department of Health Services, without regard to fiscal year, for the purpose of providing tobacco use screening and education, and smoking cessation counseling and referrals to participants in the California Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC), pursuant to Article 3.3 (commencing with Section 310) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to express the intent of the Legislature that the full amount of tobacco tax revenues be spent in a timely and meaningful fashion, and that every possible strategy be pursued at the earliest possible time in order to prevent any further termination of participants from the California Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants, and Children, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1346

An act to add and repeal Article 12 (commencing with Section 32420) of Chapter 3 of Part 19 of the Education Code, relating to education, and making an appropriation therefor.

I am deleting the $145,000 appropriation contained in Section 3 of Senate Bill No 2147

This bill would authorize any school that maintains any of grades 9 to 12, inclusive, to apply to the Superintendent of Public Schools (SPI) to establish a pilot project in community service in its schools The SPI would be required to select 10 schools This bill would also appropriate $145,000 for these pilots

The demands placed on budget resources require all of us to set priorities. With legislation I will be signing and the budget enacted in July 1990, more than $54 billion in state funds will be appropriated this fiscal year This amount is more than adequate to provide the necessary essential services provided for by State Government It is not necessary to put additional pressure on taxpayer funds for programs that fall beyond the priorities currently provided.

It is more appropriate to consider funding the provisions of this bill during the budget process for Fiscal Year 1991–92 Only at that time can the relative merits of this program be reviewed in comparison to all other funding projects The budget process weighs all demands on the state's revenues and directs resources to programs, either new or existing, that have the most merit

GEORGE DEUKMEJIAN, Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 12 (commencing with Section 32420) is added to Chapter 3 of Part 19 of the Education Code, to read:

Article 12. Community Service Pilot Projects

32420. Any school district that maintains any of grades 9 to 12, inclusive, may apply to the Superintendent of Public Instruction to establish a pilot project in community service in its schools.

32421. (a) From applicant districts, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall select 10 schools to establish pilot projects in community service. The 10 schools shall reflect the geographic and ethnic diversity of the state.

(b) In reviewing applications for community service pilot projects, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall give priority to proposals that include one or more of the following:

(1) Procedures for the supervision of pupils participating in the project.

(2) Provisions for adequate orientation and training to prepare pupils to assume an active role in the community service activity that he or she undertakes.

(3) Strategies for linking community service projects with the overall program of the school.

(4) Effective strategies to inform the public about community service activities and to recognize and commend outstanding pupil participation.

(5) Integration of the project into the overall school program in a way that results in little or no additional cost to the district.

32422. Each selected school shall establish a pilot project that meets all of the following objectives:

(a) Involves all the pupils at the school.

(b) Requires pupils to find and describe their own community service activities.

(c) Requires minimum hours of service for each pupil, to be not less than 30 hours in two years.

(d) Is administered with the minimum supervision necessary to ensure the pupils' health and safety.

(e) Provides guidelines for the selection of community service activities by the pupils.

(f) Provides guidelines to approve the placement of participating pupils and to award course credit to participating pupils.

32423. The community service activities shall not include partisan or nonpartisan political activities or activities related to elections at any level of government.

32424. Each pilot project shall:

(a) Authorize pupils to receive course credit for the community service activities in which they participate.

(b) Be required, in addition to those requirements specified under Section 51225.3, for graduation by a pupil from a high school which maintains a project pursuant to this article.

(c) Provide alternative methods to complete the community service requirement, including appropriate accommodations for pupils with special needs.

32425. This article shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall submit a report to the Legislature no later than October 1, 1994, evaluating the success of the pilot project. The contents of the report shall include, but not be limited to, the number of pupils participating in the project, the average number of hours of community service performed per pupil, the types of community service projects in which the pupils participated, the number of course credits earned through community service and the subjects in which they were granted, the number of pupils graduating with course credits earned through the project, and the costs to school districts of administering the pilot projects.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall deem the pilot project a success for purposes of determining whether to continue or expand the program if, in 5 out of 10 participating schools, (a) all pupils graduating in the third year of the pilot program have earned credits related to completion of the community service requirement, and (b) the school shows no decline in graduation rates that can be linked to the community service requirement.

SEC. 3. The sum of one hundred forty-five thousand dollars ($145,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Superintendent of Public Instruction for allocation to districts whose school or schools establish a pilot project pursuant to Article 12 (commencing with Section 32420) of Chapter 3 of Part 19 of the Education Code, and for administration and evaluation of those projects.

CHAPTER 1347

An act to amend Sections 17052.6 and 23617.5 of, and to add and repeal Section 17052.20 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17052.6 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17052.6. (a) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and before January 1, 1993, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039) an amount determined in accordance with Section 21 of the Internal Revenue Code, except that the amount of the credit shall be a percentage, as provided in subdivision (b), of the allowable federal credit regardless of whether there is a federal tax liability.

(b) For the purposes of subdivision (a), the percentage of the allowable federal credit shall be determined as follows:

If the adjusted gross income is:	The percentage of credit is:
$40,000 or less	30%
Over $40,000 but not over $70,000	25%
Over $70,000 but not over $100,000	20%
Over $100,000	15%

(c) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 17052.20 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17052.20. (a) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and before January 1, 1994, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039) an amount equal to one thousand dollars ($1,000) for a qualified parent.

(b) No credit shall be allowed under this section unless the qualified parent meets both of the following requirements:

(1) The qualified parent must:

(A) Qualify as a head of household under Section 2(b) and (c) of the Internal Revenue Code; or

(B) Qualify as a surviving spouse under Section 2(a) of the Internal Revenue Code; or

(C) Be considered married for tax purposes at the end of the taxable year, and file a joint return with his or her spouse for the taxable year.

(2) The qualified parent attaches a copy of the birth certificate of the child who meets the requirements of paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) to the return for each taxable year in which the credit allowed by subdivision (a) or the excess carryover allowed by subdivision (g) is claimed.

(c) The credit amount allowed in subdivision (a) shall be reduced by two hundred dollars ($200) for each one thousand dollars ($1,000), or fraction thereof, by which the qualified parent's adjusted gross income for the taxable year exceeds the following amounts:

(1) Forty thousand dollars ($40,000), if the qualified parent is a married person filing a joint return with his or her spouse, or if the qualifed parent is a surviving spouse as defined by Section 2(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) Twenty-eight thousand five hundred dollars ($28,500), if the qualified parent is a head of household as defined under Section 2(b) of the Internal Revenue Code

(d) For purposes of this section, "qualified parent" means an individual who meets all of the following requirements, as determined on a month by month basis:

(1) The qualified parent maintains as his or her home, or if married, the qualified parent and his or her spouse maintain as their home, a household which includes at least one member who is a child, who has not reached the age of 13 months and who is a dependent (within the meaning of Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code) of the qualified parent.

(2) The qualified parent has no earned income.

(3) The qualified parent is a resident of this state.

(4) The qualified parent or the qualified parent's spouse does not have expenses for which the credit under Section 17052.6 is claimed.

(e) A qualified parent may claim one twelfth of the credit amount provided in subdivision (a) for each whole month that all of the eligibility requirements set forth in subdivision (d) are met.

(f) A qualified parent may claim one-twelfth of the credit for the month in which the child is born, if for each remaining day of the month after the child's birth date all of the eligibility requirements set forth in subdivision (d) are met.

(g) In the case where the credit allowed by this section exceeds the tax, the excess may be carried over to reduce the tax in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted. However, if the qualified parent elects to claim the credit allowed under Section 17052.6 in the following year, or any succeeding year, then no further excess carryover of the credit allowed under this section may be claimed.

(h) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1992, the Franchise Tax Board shall recompute the adjusted gross income amounts prescribed in subdivision (c). The computation shall be made as follows:

(1) The California Department of Industrial Relations shall transmit annually to the Franchise Tax Board the percentage change in the California Consumer Price Index as modified for rental equivalent homeownership for all items from June of the prior calendar year to June of the current calendar year, no later than August 1 of the current calendar year.

(2) The Franchise Tax Board shall compute an inflation adjustment factor by adding 100 percent to the percentage change figure which is furnished to them pursuant to paragraph (1), and dividing the result by 100.

(3) The Franchise Tax Board shall multiply the adjusted gross income amounts for the immediately preceding taxable year by the inflation adjustment factor determined in paragraph (2), and round off the resulting products to the nearest dollar.

(i) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute which is enacted before December 1, 1994, deletes or extends that date

SEC. 3. Section 23617.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23617.5. (a) For income years beginning on or after January 1, 1988, and before January 1, 1992, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "tax" (as defined by Section 23036) an amount equal to the amount determined in subdivision (b).

(b) (1) The amount of the credit allowed by this section shall be

50 percent of the cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer on or after September 23, 1988, for contributions to a qualified care plan made on behalf of any dependent of the taxpayer's California employee who is under the age of 15.

(2) The amount of the credit allowed by this section in any income year shall not exceed six hundred dollars ($600) for contributions to a full-time qualified care plan or a part-time qualified care plan made on behalf of the employee's dependent.

(c) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Qualified care plan" includes, but is not limited to, onsite service, center-based service, in-home care or home-provider care, and a dependent care center as defined by Section 21(b)(2)(D) of the Internal Revenue Code which is a specialized center with respect to short-term illnesses of an employee's dependents, provided the facility is located in this state and is operated under the authority of a license when required by state law.

(2) "Specialized center" means a facility which provides care to mildly ill children and which may do all of the following:

(A) Be staffed by pediatric nurses and day care workers.

(B) Admit children suffering from common childhood ailments (including colds, flu, and chickenpox).

(C) Make special arrangements for well children with minor problems associated with diabetes, asthma, breaks or sprains, and recuperation from surgery.

(D) Separate children according to their illness and symptoms in order to protect them from cross infection.

(3) "Full-time qualified care plan" means an average of eight or more hours of dependent care per day for at least 42 weeks per year in a qualified care plan.

(4) "Part-time qualified care plan" means an average of two to eight hours of dependent care per day for at least 42 weeks per year in a qualified care plan.

(5) "Contributions" include employer reimbursements to employees for the employee's qualified care plan expenses, or direct payments to child care programs or providers, or both.

(6) The term "employee" includes, for any year, an individual who is an employee within the meaning of Section 401(c)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to self-employed individuals).

(d) In the case where an employer makes contributions to a qualified care plan and also collects fees from parents to support a child care facility owned and operated by the employer, no credit shall be allowed under this section for contributions in the amount, if any, by which the sum of the contributions and fees exceed the total cost of providing care. The Franchise Tax Board may require information about fees collected from parents of children served in the facility from taxpayers claiming credits under this section.

(e) In the case where the child care received is of less than 42-week duration, the employer shall claim a prorated portion of the allowable credit. The employer shall prorate the credit using the ratio of the number of weeks of care received divided by 42 weeks.

(f) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the "tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted.

(g) The credit shall not be available to an employer if the care provided on behalf of an employee is provided by an individual who:

(1) Qualifies as a dependent of that employee or that employee's spouse under paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) of Section 17054.

(2) Is (within the meaning of Section 17056) a son, stepson, daughter, or stepdaughter of that employee under the age of 19 at the close of that taxable year.

(h) The contributions to a qualified care plan shall not discriminate in favor of employees who are officers, owners, or highly compensated, or their dependents.

(i) No deduction shall be allowed as otherwise provided in this part for that portion of expenses paid or incurred for the income year which is equal to the amount of the credit allowed under this section.

(j) In the case where the credit is taken by an employer for contributions to a qualified care plan which is used at a facility owned by the employer, the basis of that facility shall be reduced by the amount of the credit. The basis adjustment shall be made for the income year for which the credit is allowed.

(k) If two or more taxpayers share in the costs eligible for the credit provided by this section, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive a tax credit with respect to its respective share of the costs paid or incurred.

(l) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward as provided in subdivision (f) until the credit has been exhausted.

SEC. 4. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1348

An act to amend Sections 17034, 17043, 17053.1, 17054.5, 17073.5, 17145, 17252.5, 17265, 17552, 17854, 18515.3, 18544, 18689, 18698, 18861, 18862, 18863, 19254, 19283, 19285, 19285.5, 19419, 23058, 23151, 23153, 23801, 24634, 25901c, 26423, 26453, 26453.2, and 26453.5 of, to amend and renumber Sections 19411.1, 19415, 19416, 19417, and 19418 of, add Sections 17047, 24693, and 24990.7 to, to add Article 8 (commencing with Section 26350) to Chapter 23 of Part 11 of, and to repeal Section 17570 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17034 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17034. Unless otherwise specifically provided therein, the provisions of any act:

(a) Which affect the imposition or computation of taxes, additions to tax other than Section 18682, penalties, or the allowance of credits against the tax, shall be applied to taxable years beginning on or after January 1 of the year in which the act becomes law.

(b) Which change the provisions of Section 18682 (relating to underpayment of estimated tax) shall be applied to taxable years beginning on or after January 1 of the year immediately after the year in which the act becomes law.

(c) Which otherwise affect the provisions of this part shall be applied on and after the date the act becomes law.

SEC. 2. Section 17043 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17043. (a) In filing returns as provided in Article 1 (commencing with Section 18401) of Chapter 17, an individual is required to use the same filing status as that used on his or her federal income tax return for the same taxable year, except as provided in subdivisions (b), (c), and (d).

(b) In the case of a husband and wife who file a joint federal income tax return, if one spouse was a resident of this state for all of the taxable year and the other spouse was a nonresident for all or any portion of the taxable year, a joint nonresident income tax return is required to be filed.

(c) In the case of a husband and wife who file a joint federal income tax return, this section shall not apply to either of the following:

(1) A married couple, when either spouse was an active member of the armed forces or any auxiliary branch thereof during the taxable year.

(2) A married couple, when either spouse was a nonresident of this state for the entire taxable year and had no income from a California source during the taxable year.

(d) In the case of a married couple described in subdivision (c), that couple may either file separate returns or a single joint return on the forms and in the manner as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe.

SEC. 3. Section 17047 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17047. (a) (1) Section 1398 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to rules relating to individuals' Title 11 cases, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(2) Section 1398(c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified to refer to the tax determined under subdivision (a) of Section 17041, in lieu of Section 1(d) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) Section 1398(h)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to carryback and carryover of excess administrative costs, etc., to estate taxable years, is modified to deny a carryback to any preceding taxable year and to permit a carryover to each of the seven succeeding taxable years.

(b) Section 1399 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to no separate taxable entities for partnerships, corporations, etc., shall apply.

SEC. 4. Section 17053.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 452 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

17053.1. (a) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1989, and before January 1, 1996, there shall be allowed as a credit against the amount of "net tax" (as defined in Section 17039) an amount equal to the amount determined in subdivision (b).

(b) An employee in a non-employer-sponsored vanpool program shall be allowed a credit in an amount equal to 40 percent of all vanpool subscription costs, for which receipts are available. In the case of a husband and wife, each shall be allowed a credit equal to 40 percent of their individual vanpool subscription costs. The credit allowed by this subdivision shall not exceed four hundred eighty dollars ($480), applied separately to a husband and wife.

(c) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Employer" means any individual for whom or entity for which services are performed by employees.

(2) "Employee" means an individual who performs service for an employer for at least 10 hours per week for remuneration, and who vanpools to and from work at least three days a week or 15 days per month for at least six months of the year.

(3) "Non-employer-sponsored vanpool program" means a program under which vehicles and related equipment and services are made available for use by employers and employees for purposes of commuting to and from work and which is administered and operated by an individual or organization, including a governmental agency, for the commuting purposes of other employers and employees who are not employees of that individual or organization.

(4) "Vanpool" means a vehicle with a seating arrangement designed to carry 7 to 15 adults, including the driver, and in which an average of seven or more persons commute on a daily basis to and from work.

(5) "Vanpool subscription costs" includes, but is not limited to, vehicle lease payments, repairs, maintenance, fuel, and insurance.

(6) An employee, within the meaning of paragraph (2), whose employer is not subject to tax under this part or under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101) or Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 23501) of Part 11 shall be deemed to be an employee in a non-employer-sponsored vanpool program.

(d) In the case where the credit allowed by this section exceeds the "net tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "net tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit has been used.

(e) In the case of a husband and wife who file separate returns where both qualify for the credit, each shall claim his or her allowable credit, or, if only one is qualified, the credit may be taken by either or equally divided between them.

(f) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1996, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 17054.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17054.5. (a) (1) There shall be allowed as a credit against the "net tax" (as defined in Section 17039) of a qualified individual an amount equal to 30 percent of the net tax.

(2) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1987, and before January 1, 1988, a qualified individual means a qualified joint custody head of household as defined in subdivision (c).

(3) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1988, a qualified individual means either of the following:

(A) A "qualified joint custody head of household" as defined in subdivision (c).

(B) A "qualified taxpayer" as defined in subdivision (e).

(4) The amount of the credit under this section shall not exceed two hundred dollars ($200) for any taxable year.

(b) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1988, the Franchise Tax Board shall recompute the maximum credit prescribed in subdivision (a). That computation shall be made as follows:

(1) The California Department of Industrial Relations shall transmit annually to the Franchise Tax Board the percentage change in the California Consumer Price Index as modified for rental equivalent homeownership for all items from June of the prior calendar year to June of the current calendar year, no later than August 1 of the current calendar year.

(2) The Franchise Tax Board shall add 100 percent to the percentage change figure which is furnished to them pursuant to paragraph (1) and divide the result by 100.

(3) The Franchise Tax Board shall multiply the immediately preceding taxable year credit by the inflation adjustment factor determined in paragraph (2), and round off the resulting product to the nearest one dollar ($1).

(c) "Qualified joint custody head of household" means an individual who meets all of the following:

(1) Is not married at the close of the taxable year, or files a separate return and does not have his or her spouse as a member of his or her household during the entire taxable year.

(2) Maintains as his or her home a household which constitutes for the taxable year the principal place of abode for a qualifying child, as defined in subdivision (d), for no less than 146 days of the taxable year but no more than 219 days of the taxable year, under a decree of dissolution or separate maintenance, or under a written agreement between the parents prior to the issuance of a decree of dissolution or separate maintenance where the proceedings have been initiated.

(3) Furnishes over one-half the cost of maintaining the household during the taxable year.

(4) Does not qualify as a head of household under Section 17042 or as a surviving spouse under Section 17046.

(d) For purposes of this section, a "qualifying child" means a son, stepson, daughter, or stepdaughter of the taxpayer or a descendant of a son or daughter of the taxpayer, but if that son, stepson, daughter, stepdaughter, or descendant is married at the close of the taxpayer's taxable year, only if the taxpayer is entitled to a credit for the taxable year for that person under Section 17054.

(e) "Qualified taxpayer" means an individual who meets all of the following:

(1) Is married and files a separate return.

(2) During the last six months of the taxable year the taxpayer's spouse was not a member of the taxpayer's household.

(3) Maintains a household, whether or not the taxpayer's home, which constitutes the principal place of abode of a dependent mother or father of the taxpayer for the taxable year.

(4) Furnishes over one-half of the cost of maintaining the household during the taxable year.

(5) Does not qualify as a head of household under Section 17042 or as a surviving spouse under Section 17046.

SEC. 6. Section 17073.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17073.5. (a) A taxpayer may elect to take a standard deduction as follows:

(1) In the case of a taxpayer, other than a head of a household or a surviving spouse (as defined in Section 17046) or a married couple filing a joint return, the standard deduction shall be one thousand eight hundred eighty dollars ($1,880).

(2) In the case of a head of household or a surviving spouse (as defined in Section 17046) or a married couple filing a joint return, the standard deduction shall be three thousand seven hundred sixty dollars ($3,760).

(b) The standard deduction provided for in subdivision (a) shall be in lieu of all deductions other than those which are to be subtracted from gross income in computing adjusted gross income under Section 17072.

(c) (1) The provisions of this section shall be applied in lieu of the provisions of Sections 63(c), 63(f), and 63(h) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to standard deductions.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (1), Section 63(c)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to limitations on the standard deduction of certain dependents, and Section 63(c)(6) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to certain individuals not eligible for the standard deduction, shall apply. For purposes of this paragraph, the amount specified in Section 63(c)(5)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be adjusted for inflation in accordance with the provisions of Section 63(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(d) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1988, the Franchise Tax Board shall recompute the standard deduction amounts prescribed in subdivision (a). That computation shall be made as follows:

(1) The California Department of Industrial Relations shall transmit annually to the Franchise Tax Board the percentage change in the California Consumer Price Index for all items from June of the prior calendar year to June of the current calendar year, no later than August 1 of the current calendar year.

(2) The Franchise Tax Board shall compute an inflation adjustment factor by adding 100 percent to that portion of the percentage change figure which is furnished pursuant to paragraph (1) and dividing the result by 100.

(3) The Franchise Tax Board shall multiply the standard deduction amounts in the preceding taxable year by the inflation adjustment factor determined in paragraph (2), and round off the resulting products to the nearest one dollar ($1).

SEC. 7. Section 17145 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 119 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

17145. (a) A management company, or series thereof, is qualified to pay exempt-interest dividends to its shareholders if, at the close of each quarter of its taxable year, at least 50 percent of the value of its total assets consists of obligations which, when held by an individual, the interest therefrom is exempt from taxation by this state under the Constitution or laws of this state or of the United States.

(b) For purposes of this section—

(1) "Exempt-interest dividend" means any dividend or part thereof paid by a management company or series thereof in an amount not exceeding the interest received by it during its taxable year on obligations which, when held by an individual, the interest therefrom is exempt from taxation by this state under the Constitution or laws of this state or the United States, and designated by it as an exempt-interest dividend in a written notice mailed to its shareholders not later than 60 days after the close of its taxable year. If the aggregate amount so designated with respect to a taxable year of the company (including exempt-interest dividends paid after the close of the taxable year as described in Section 855 of the Internal Revenue Code) is greater than the excess of ——

(i) The amount of interest received by it during its taxable year on obligations, interest on which, if held by an individual, is exempt from taxation by this state under the Constitution or laws of this state, and on obligations of the United States which pay interest excludable from income under the Constitution or laws of the United States, over

(ii) The amounts that, if it were treated as an individual, would be disallowed as deductions under Section 17280 of this part or Section 171(a)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, the portion of that distribution which shall constitute an exempt-interest dividend shall be only that proportion of the amount so designated as the amount of that excess for that taxable year bears to the amount so designated.

(2) "Management company" means a corporation or business trust or other organization which meets the requirements of Section 24412.

(3) "Series" means a segregated portfolio of assets, the beneficial interest in which is owned by the holders of a class or series of stock of the management company that is exclusive of all other classes or series with respect to that portfolio of assets.

(4) "Value" means, with respect to securities (other than those of majority-owned subsidiaries) for which market quotations are readily available, the market value of those securities, and with respect to other securities and assets, fair market value as determined in good faith by the board of directors or trustees, except that in the case of securities of majority-owned subsidiaries which are investment companies, as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, that fair value shall not exceed market value or asset value, whichever is higher.

(c) An exempt-interest dividend shall be treated by recipients thereof as an item of interest excludable from income.

SEC. 8. Section 17252.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17252.5. (a) A taxpayer may elect to treat the cost of any Section 17252.5 property as an expense which is not chargeable to capital account. Any cost so treated shall be allowed as a deduction for the taxable year in which Section 17252.5 property is placed in service.

(b) In the case of a husband or wife filing separate returns for a taxable year in which a spouse is entitled to the deduction under subdivision (a), the applicable amount shall be equal to 50 percent of the amount otherwise determined under subdivision (a).

(c) (1) An election under this section for any taxable year shall—

(A) Specify the items of Section 17252.5 property to which the election applies and the portion of the cost of each of those items which is to be taken into account under subdivision (a), and

(B) Be made on the taxpayer's return of the tax imposed by this part for the taxable year.

(2) Any election made under this section, and any specification contained in that election, may not be revoked except with the consent of the Franchise Tax Board.

(d) (1) For purposes of this section, "Section 17252.5 property" means any recovery property which is Section 38 property under the terms of the Internal Revenue Code and which is acquired by purchase for exclusive use in a trade or business conducted within an enterprise zone designated pursuant to Section 7073 of the Government Code.

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), "purchase" means any acquisition of property, but only if—

(A) The property is not acquired from a person whose relationship to the person acquiring it would result in the disallowance of losses under Section 267 or 707(b) of the Internal Revenue Code (but, in applying subsections (b) and (c) of Section 267 of the Internal Revenue Code for purposes of this section, Section 267(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be treated as providing that the family of an individual shall include only his or her spouse, ancestors, and lineal descendants),

(B) The basis of the property in the hands of the person acquiring it is not determined—

(i) In whole or in part by reference to the adjusted basis of such property in the hands of the person from whom acquired, or

(ii) Under Section 1014 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to basis of property acquired from a decedent.

(3) For purposes of this section, the cost of property does not include so much of the basis of the property as is determined by reference to the basis of other property held at any time by the person acquiring the property.

(4) This section shall not apply to estates and trusts.

(5) This section shall not apply to any Section 17252.5 property purchased by any person described in Section 46(e)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code unless the credit under Section 38 of the Internal Revenue Code is allowable with respect to that person for that property (determined without regard to this section).

(6) In the case of a partnership, the dollar limitation contained in subdivision (f) shall apply with respect to the partnership and with respect to each partner.

(e) For purposes of this section, "taxpayer" means a taxpayer who conducts a trade or business within an enterprise zone designated pursuant to Section 7073 of the Government Code.

(f) The deduction allowable under subdivision (a) for any taxable year shall not exceed the following applicable amount for the taxable year of the designation of an enterprise zone and taxable years thereafter:

	The applicable amount is:
Taxable year of designation	$ 5,000
1st taxable year thereafter	5,000
2nd taxable year thereafter	7,500
3rd taxable year thereafter	7,500
Each taxable year thereafter	10,000

(g) This section shall apply only to property which is used exclusively in a trade or business conducted within an enterprise zone.

(h) Any amounts deducted under subdivision (a) with respect to property which ceases to be used in the trade or business within an enterprise zone at any time before the close of the second taxable year after the property was placed in service shall be included in income for that year.

(i) Any taxpayer who elects to be subject to this section shall not be entitled to claim for the same property the deduction under Section 179 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to an election to expense certain depreciable business assets.

SEC. 9. Section 17265 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17265. (a) A taxpayer may elect to treat 40 percent of the cost of any Section 17265 property as an expense which is not chargeable to capital account. Any cost so treated shall be allowed as a deduction for the taxable year in which the Section 17265 property is placed in service.

(b) In the case of a husband and wife filing separate returns for a taxable year, the applicable amount under subdivision (a) shall be equal to 50 percent of the percentage specified in subdivision (a).

(c) (1) An election under this section for any taxable year shall—

(A) Specify the items of Section 17265 property to which the election applies and the percentage of the cost of each of those items which is to be taken into account under subdivision (a).

(B) Be made on the taxpayer's return of the tax imposed by this part for the taxable year.

This election shall be made in the time, form, and manner which the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe.

(2) Any election made under this section, and any specification contained in that election, may not be revoked except with the consent of the Franchise Tax Board.

(d) (1) For purposes of this section, "Section 17265 property" means property acquired by the taxpayer which is used exclusively within a program area (as defined in Section 7082 of the Government Code) and consists of machinery and machinery parts used for fabricating, processing, assembling, and manufacturing and machinery and machinery parts used for the production of renewable energy resources or air or water pollution control mechanisms.

"Section 17265 property" also means property used as an integral part of a qualified business within a program area (as defined in Section 7082 of the Government Code).

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), "purchase" means any acquisition of property, but only if—

(A) The property is not acquired from a person whose relationship to the person acquiring it would result in the disallowance of losses under Section 267 or Section 707(b) of the Internal Revenue Code (but, in applying Sections 267(b) and 267(c) for purposes of this section, Section 267(c)(4) shall be treated as providing that the family of an individual shall include only the individual's spouse, ancestors, and lineal descendants),

(B) The basis of the property in the hands of the person acquiring it is not determined in whole or in part by reference to the adjusted basis of that property in the hands of the person from whom it is acquired.

(3) For purposes of this section, the cost of property does not include so much of the basis of the property as is determined by reference to the basis of other property held at any time by the person acquiring the property.

(4) This section shall not apply to estates and trusts.

(5) This section shall not apply to any Section 17265 property purchased by any person described in Section 46(e)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code unless the credit under Section 38 of the Internal Revenue Code is allowable with respect to that person for that property (determined without regard to this section).

(6) In the case of a partnership, the percentage limitation specified in subdivision (a) shall apply with respect to the partnership and with respect to each partner.

(e) For purposes of this section, "taxpayer" means a taxpayer who conducts a qualified business within a program area (as defined in Section 7082 of the Government Code).

(f) Any taxpayer who elects to be subject to this section shall not be entitled to claim for the same property, the deduction under Section 179 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to an election to expense certain depreciable business assets, and shall reduce the basis of the property by the amount of the deduction claimed under this section. However, the taxpayer may claim depreciation by any method permitted by Section 17250, commencing with the taxable year following the taxable year in which the Section 17265 property is placed in service.

(g) The aggregate cost which may be taken into account under subdivision (a) for any taxable year shall not exceed the following applicable amount for the taxable year of the designation of a program area and taxable years thereafter:

	The applicable amount is:
Taxable year of designation	$100,000
1st taxable year thereafter	100,000
2nd taxable year thereafter	75,000
3rd taxable year thereafter	75,000
Each taxable year thereafter	50,000

(h) Any amounts deducted under subdivision (a) with respect to property which ceases to be qualified property at any time before the close of the second taxable year after the property is placed in service shall be included in income for that year.

SEC. 10. Section 17552 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17552. (a) Notwithstanding Section 17565, a return for a period of less than 12 months shall also be made when the Franchise Tax Board terminates the taxpayer's taxable year under Section 18642 (relating to tax in jeopardy).

(b) The provisions of Section 443(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to adjustment in deduction for personal exemption, shall be applied to the credit allowed under Section 17054 in lieu of the deduction allowed by Section 151 of the Internal Revenue Code.

SEC. 11. Section 17570 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 12. Section 17854 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17854. In the case of a nonresident partner, guaranteed payments, as defined by Section 707(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, shall be gross income from sources within this state in the same manner as if those payments were a distributive share of that partnership.

SEC. 13. Section 18515.3 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18515.3. (a) This article shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute which is enacted before January 1, 1992, deletes that date, in which event subdivision (b) shall apply.

(b) If the repeal date specified in subdivision (a) has been deleted and if, thereafter, in any calendar year the Franchise Tax Board estimates by September 1 that contributions described in this article made on returns filed in that calendar year will be less than two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000), then this article is repealed with respect to taxable years beginning on and after January 1 of that calendar year. If necessary, for years after the repeal date in subdivision (a) is deleted, the Franchise Tax Board shall estimate the annual contribution amount by September 1 of each year using the actual amounts known to be contributed and an estimate of the remaining year's contributions.

(c) Notwithstanding the repeal of this article, any contribution amounts designated pursuant to this article prior to its repeal shall continue to be transferred and disbursed in accordance with this article as in effect immediately prior to that repeal.

SEC. 14. Section 18544 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18544. All money transferred to the California Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Research Fund, upon appropriation by the Legislature, shall be allocated as follows:

(a) To the Franchise Tax Board and the Controller for reimbursement of all costs incurred by the Franchise Tax Board and the Controller in connection with their duties under this article.

(b) To the appropriate state department as established by the Secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency in consultation with the Department of Aging, and any others which the secretary deems appropriate. These funds shall be expended for the purpose of conducting research relating to the care, treatment, and the cure of Alzheimer's disease through contracts or grants developed and awarded as determined by the Secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency, in consultation with the Department of Aging and any others which the secretary deems appropriate.

SEC. 15. Section 18689 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 452 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

18689. Except as provided in Section 18692, interest shall be imposed under Section 18686 with respect to any assessable penalty, additional amount, or addition to tax imposed under this article, as follows:

(a) In the case of a penalty, additional amount, or addition to tax which, when assessed, is due and payable on notice and demand, other than a penalty imposed under Section 18681 (relating to failure to file a return on or before the due date), Section 18684.2 (relating to underpayment of tax), or Section 18685 (relating to imposition of the accuracy-related penalty), interest shall be imposed from the date of the notice and demand to the date of payment.

(b) In the case of a penalty, additional amount, or addition to tax which is initially assessed as a deficiency, other than a penalty or addition to tax imposed under Section 18681 (relating to failure to file a return on or before the due date), Section 18684.2 (relating to underpayment of tax), or Section 18685 (relating to imposition of the accuracy-related penalty), interest shall be imposed from the date of the notice of proposed assessment to the date of payment.

(c) In the case of a penalty or addition to tax imposed by Section 18681 (relating to failure to file a return on or before the due date), Section 18684.2 (relating to underpayment of tax), or Section 18685 (relating to imposition of the accuracy-related penalty), for the period which—

(1) Begins on the date on which the return of the tax with respect to which that penalty is imposed is required to be filed (including any extensions), and

(2) Ends on the date of payment of that penalty or addition to tax.

(e) The amendments to subdivisions (b) and and (c) (former subdivisions (c) and (d)) made by Chapter 1352 of the Statutes of 1989 shall apply only to returns, the due date for which, determined without regard to extensions, is after December 31, 1988.

SEC. 16. Section 18698 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18698. (a) No addition to the tax shall be made under Section 18682 or 18684.2 for failure to make timely payment of tax with respect to a period during which a case is pending under Title 11 of the United States Code—

(1) If such tax was incurred by the estate and the failure occurred pursuant to an order of the court finding probable insufficiency of funds of the estate to pay administrative expenses, or

(2) If—

(A) Such tax was incurred by the debtor before the earlier of the order for relief or (in the involuntary case) the appointment of a trustee, and

(B) (i) The petition was filed before the due date prescribed by law (including extensions) for filing a return of such tax, or

(ii) The date for making the addition to the tax occurs on or after the day on which the petition was filed.

(b) Subdivision (a) shall not apply to any liability for an addition to the tax which arises from the failure to pay or deposit a tax withheld or collected from others and required to be paid to the State of California.

SEC. 17. Section 18861 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18861. If any amount due under this part or any amount that may be collected by the Franchise Tax Board as though it were a tax is not paid, the Franchise Tax Board may file in the Office of the County Clerk of Sacramento County, or any other county, a certificate specifying the amount due, the name and last known address of the taxpayer liable for the amount due, and the fact that the Franchise Tax Board has complied with all provisions of the law in the computation and levy of the amount due, and a request that judgment be entered against the taxpayer in the amount set forth in the certificate.

SEC. 18. Section 18862 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18862. The county clerk immediately upon the filing of the certificate shall enter a judgment for the people of the State of California against the taxpayer in the amount set forth in the certificate. The county clerk may file the judgment in a loose-leaf book entitled "Personal Income Tax Judgments."

SEC. 19. Section 18863 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18863. An abstract or a copy of the judgment may be recorded with the county recorder of any county. From the time of the recording, the amount set forth constitutes a lien upon all real property of the taxpayer in the county, owned by the taxpayer or afterward and before the lien expires acquired by the taxpayer. The lien has the force, effect, and priority of a judgment lien and continues for 10 years from the date of the recording unless sooner released or otherwise discharged.

SEC. 20. Section 19254 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

19254. (a) The Franchise Tax Board, for the purpose of administering its duties under this part, including ascertaining the correctness of any return; making a return where none has been made; determining or collecting the liability of any person in respect of any liability imposed by this part (or the liability at law or in equity of any transferee in respect of such liability); shall have the power to require by demand, that an entity of any kind including, but not limited to, employers, persons, or financial institutions provide information or make available for examination or copying at a specified time and place, or both, any book, papers, or other data which may be relevant to that purpose. Any demand to a financial institution shall comply with the California Right to Financial Privacy Act set forth in Chapter 20 (commencing with Section 7460) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code. Information which may be required upon demand includes, but is not limited to, any of the following:

(1) Addresses and telephone numbers of persons designated by the Franchise Tax Board.

(2) Information contained on Federal Form W-2 (Wage and Tax Statement), Federal Form W-4 (Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate), or State Form DE-4 (Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate).

(b) The Franchise Tax Board may require the attendance of the taxpayer or of any other person having knowledge in the premises and may take testimony and require material proof for its information and administer oaths to carry out the provisions of this part.

(c) The Franchise Tax Board may issue subpoenas or subpoenas duces tecum, which subpoenas must be signed by any member of the Franchise Tax Board and may be served on any person for any purpose.

(d) Obedience to subpoenas or subpoenas duces tecum issued in accordance with this section may be enforced by application to the superior court as set forth in Article 2 (commencing with Section 11180) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

SEC. 21. Section 19283 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

19283. A return or return information may be disclosed in a judicial or administrative proceeding pertaining to tax administration, if—

(a) The taxpayer is a party to the proceeding, or the proceeding arose out of, or in connection with, determining the taxpayer's civil or criminal liability, or the collection of the taxpayer's civil liability with respect to any tax imposed under this part; or

(b) The treatment of an item reflected on the return is directly related to the resolution of an issue in the proceeding; or

(c) The return or return information directly relates to a transactional relationship between a person who is a party to the proceeding and the taxpayer which directly affects the resolution of an issue in the proceeding.

SEC. 22. Section 19285 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

19285. In a matter involving tax administration under this part, a return or return information shall be open to inspection by the Attorney General or other legal representatives of the state, if—

(a) The taxpayer is or may be a party to the proceeding, or the proceeding arose out of, or in connection with, determining the taxpayer's civil or criminal liability, or the collection of the taxpayer's civil liability with respect to any tax imposed under this part; or

(b) The treatment of an item reflected on the return is related to the resolution of an issue in the proceeding or investigation; or

(c) The return or return information relates or may relate to a transactional relationship between a person who is a party to the proceeding and the taxpayer, which affects or may affect, the resolution of an issue in the proceeding or investigation.

In addition, the Attorney General may inspect any report or return required under this part when required in the enforcement of any public or charitable trust or in compelling adherence to any charitable purposes for which any nonprofit corporation is formed.

SEC. 23. Section 19285.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

19285.5. For purposes of this article.

(a) The term "return" means any tax or information return, or claim for refund required by, or provided for or permitted under, the provisions of this part or Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001) which is filed with the Franchise Tax Board by, on behalf of, or with respect to any person, corporation, bank, partnership, estate, or trust, and any amendment or supplement thereto, including supporting schedules, attachments, or lists which are supplemental to, or part of, the return so filed.

(b) The term "return information" means a taxpayer's identity, the nature, source, or amount of his, her, or its income, payments, receipts, deductions, exemptions, credits, assets, liabilities, net worth, tax liability, tax withheld, deficiencies, overassessments, or tax payments, whether the taxpayer's return was, is being, or will be examined or subject to other investigation or processing, or any other data, received by, recorded by, prepared by, furnished to, or collected by the Franchise Tax Board with respect to a return or with respect to the determination of the existence, or possible existence, of liability, or the amount thereof, of any person under this part or Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001) for any tax, addition to tax, penalty, interest, fine, fee, forfeiture, or other imposition, or offense.

(c) The term "taxpayer return information" means return information as defined in subdivision (b) which is filed with, or furnished to, the Franchise Tax Board by or on behalf of the taxpayer to whom the return information relates.

(d) The term "tax administration" means the administration, management, conduct, direction, and supervision of the execution and application of this part, Part 10.7 (commencing with Section 21001), and Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001).

SEC. 24. Section 19411.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended and renumbered to read:

18699.1. (a) In addition to any criminal penalty provided by law if:

(1) Any individual makes a statement under Section 13040, 13041, or 13042 of the Unemployment Insurance Code which results in a decrease in the amounts deducted and withheld under Division 6 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Unemployment Insurance Code; and

(2) As of the time the statement was made, there was no reasonable basis for the statement, the individual shall pay a penalty of five hundred dollars ($500) for the statement. Any penalty so imposed shall be paid upon notice and demand from the Franchise Tax Board and shall be collected as a tax.

(b) The Franchise Tax Board may waive (in whole or in part) the penalty imposed under subdivision (a) if the taxes imposed under this part with respect to the individual for the taxable year are equal to or less than the sum of both of the following:

(1) The credits against those taxes allowed by Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 17041) and Section 18551.1.

(2) The payments of estimated tax which are considered payments on account of those taxes.

(c) This section supersedes Section 13101 of the Unemployment Insurance Code and shall apply to acts and failures to act after December 31, 1981.

SEC. 25. Section 19415 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended and renumbered to read:

18699.2 A penalty shall be imposed for promoting abusive tax shelters. The penalty shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Section 6700 of the Internal Revenue Code.

SEC. 26. Section 19416 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended and renumbered to read:

18699.3. A penalty shall be imposed for aiding and abetting understatement of tax liability. The penalty shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Section 6701 of the Internal Revenue Code.

SEC. 27. Section 19417 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended and renumbered to read:

18699.4. A penalty shall be imposed for filing a frivolous return. The penalty shall be determined in accordance with Section 6702 of the Internal Revenue Code, except that it shall be applied to returns required to be filed under this part.

SEC. 28. Section 19418 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended and renumbered to read:

18699.5. (a) In any proceeding involving the issue of whether or not any person is liable for a penalty under Section 18699.2, 18699.3, or 18699.4, the burden of proof with respect to that issue shall be on the Franchise Tax Board.

(b) Sections 18590 through 18597, inclusive, (relating to deficiency procedures) shall not apply with respect to the assessment or collection of the penalties provided by Sections 18699.2, 18699.3,

(c) (1) If, within 30 days after the day on which notice and demand of any penalty under Section 18699.2, 18699.3, or 18699.4 is made against any person, that person pays an amount which is not less than 15 percent of the amount of that penalty and files a claim for refund of the amount so paid, no levy or proceeding in court for the collection of the remainder of that penalty shall be made, begun, or prosecuted until the final resolution of a proceeding begun as provided in paragraph (2). Notwithstanding Section 19081, the beginning of that proceeding or levy during the time that prohibition is in force may be enjoined by a proceeding in the superior court.

(2) If, within 30 days after the day on which the claim for refund of any partial payment of any penalty under Section 18699.2, 18699.3, or 18699.4 is denied (or, if earlier, within 30 days after the expiration of six months after the day on which a claim for refund was filed), the person fails to begin a proceeding in the superior court for the determination of his or her liability for that penalty, paragraph (1) shall cease to apply with respect to that penalty, effective on the day following the close of the applicable 30-day period referred to in this paragraph.

(3) The running of the period of limitations provided in Section 18831 on the collection by levy or by a proceeding in court in respect of any penalty described in paragraph (1) shall be suspended for the period during which the Franchise Tax Board is prohibited from collecting by levy or a proceeding in court.

SEC. 29. Section 19419 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

19419. (a) A civil action in the name of the State of California to enjoin any person from further engaging in conduct subject to penalty under Section 18699.2 (relating to the penalty for promoting abusive tax shelters, etc.) or Section 18699.3 (relating to penalty for aiding and abetting understatement of tax liability) may be commenced at the request of the Franchise Tax Board. Any action under this section shall be brought in accordance with the provisions of Section 19407. The court may exercise its jurisdiction over that action separate and apart from any other action brought by the State of California against that person.

(b) In any action under subdivision (a), the court may enjoin the person from engaging in the conduct or in any other activity subject to penalty under Section 18699.2 or 18699.3, if the court finds both of the following:

(1) That the person has engaged in any conduct subject to penalty under Section 18699.2 (relating to penalty for promoting abusive tax shelters, etc.) or Section 18699.3 (relating to penalty for aiding and abetting understatement of tax liability).

(2) That injunctive relief is appropriate to prevent recurrence of that conduct.

SEC. 30. Section 23058 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23058. Unless otherwise specifically provided therein, the provisions of any act:

(a) Which affect the imposition or computation of taxes, additions to tax other than Sections 25951 to 25954.5, inclusive, penalties, or the allowance of credits against the tax, shall be applied to income years beginning on or after January 1 of the year in which the act becomes law.

(b) Which change the provisions of Sections 25561 to 25563, inclusive, (relating to payment of estimated tax) or Sections 25951 to 25954.5, inclusive, (relating to underpayment of estimated tax) shall be applied to income years beginning on or after January 1 of the year immediately following the year in which the act becomes law.

(c) Which otherwise affect the provisions of this part shall be applied on and after the date the act becomes law.

SEC. 31. Section 23151 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23151. (a) With the exception of financial corporations, every corporation doing business within the limits of this state and not expressly exempted from taxation by the provisions of the Constitution of this state or by this part, shall annually pay to the state, for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchises within this state, a tax according to or measured by its net income, to be computed at the rate of 7.6 percent upon the basis of its net income for the next preceding income year, or if greater, the minimum tax specified in Section 23153.

(b) For calendar or fiscal years ending after June 30, 1973, the rate of tax shall be 9 percent instead of 7.6 percent as provided by subdivision (a).

(c) For calendar or fiscal years ending in 1980 to 1986, inclusive, the rate of tax shall be 9.6 percent.

(d) For calendar or fiscal years ending in 1987 and thereafter, the tax rate shall be 9 3 percent.

SEC. 32. Section 23153 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23153. (a) Every bank and corporation described in subdivision (b) shall be subject to the minimum tax specified in subdivision (d) from the earlier of the date of incorporation, qualification, or commencing to do business within this state, until the effective date of dissolution or withdrawal as provided in Section 23331 or, if later, the date the corporation ceases to do business within the limits of this state.

(b) Unless expressly exempted by the provisions of this part or the Constitution of this state, subdivision (a) shall apply to each of the following:

(1) Every bank or corporation which is incorporated under the laws of this state.

(2) Every bank or corporation which is qualified to transact intrastate business in this state pursuant to Chapter 21 (commencing with Section 2100) of Division 1 of Title 1 of the Corporations Code.

(3) Every bank or corporation which is doing business within the limits of this state.

(c) Credit unions shall not be subject to the minimum tax specified in this section.

(d) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), banks and corporations subject to the minimum tax shall pay annually to the state a minimum tax of eight hundred dollars ($800).

(2) The minimum tax shall be twenty-five dollars ($25) for each of the following:

(A) A corporation formed under the laws of this state whose principal business when formed was gold mining, which is inactive and has not done business within the limits of the state since 1950.

(B) A corporation formed under the laws of this state whose principal business when formed was quicksilver mining, which is inactive and has not done business within the limits of the state since 1971, or has been inactive for a period of 24 consecutive months or more.

(3) For purposes of paragraph (2), a corporation shall not be considered to have done business if it engages in other than mining.

SEC. 33. Section 23801 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23801. (a) (1) A corporation may not elect to be treated as an "S corporation" unless it has in effect for federal purposes a valid election under Section 1362(a) of the Internal Revenue Code for the same year.

(2) For income years beginning in 1987—

(A) A corporation which has in effect a valid federal election, for the income year beginning in 1987, shall be deemed to have elected to be treated as an "S corporation" for purposes of this part, unless that corporation elects on its return to continue to be treated as a "C corporation" for purposes of this part.

(B) A corporation to which subparagraph (A) applies, but which is not required to file a return under this part, may elect to be treated as a "C corporation" for purposes of this part in such form and in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe.

(C) A corporation which is deemed to have elected to be treated as an "S corporation" under subparagraph (A) shall, for purposes of applying the provisions of Section 1374 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to tax imposed on certain built-in gains, and Section 1375 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to tax imposed on passive investment income, be deemed to have made the election to be treated as an "S corporation" on the same date as the date of its federal election under Section 1362(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) For income years beginning in 1988 or 1989—

(A) A corporation which had in effect a valid federal election for the preceding year, but was a "C corporation" for purposes of this part for that preceding year, may elect to be treated as an "S corporation" for purposes of this part by making an election in accordance with the provisions of Section 1362 of the Internal Revenue Code in such form and in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe.

(B) A corporation which did not have in effect a valid federal election for the preceding year and which makes a federal election for the income year under Section 1362(a) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be deemed to have made an election to be treated as an "S corporation" for purposes of this part on the same date as the date of its federal election, unless that corporation elects on its return to continue to be treated as a "C corporation" for purposes of this part.

(C) A corporation to which subparagraph (B) applies, but which is not required to file a return under this part, may elect to be treated as a "C corporation" for purposes of this part in such form and in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe.

(D) A corporation which elects to be treated as an "S corporation" under subparagraph A for an income year beginning in 1988 shall, for purposes of applying the provisions of Section 1374 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to tax imposed on certain built-in gains, and Section 1375 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to tax imposed on passive investment income, be deemed to have made the election to be treated as an "S corporation" on the same date as the date of its federal election under Section 1362(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(4) For income years beginning on or after January 1, 1990—

(A) An election under Section 1362(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, which is first effective for an income year beginning on or after January 1, 1990, shall be an election to which subdivision (g) of Section 23051.5 applies and shall be deemed to have been made for purposes of this part on the same date as the date of the federal election, unless the corporation files a California election under clause (ii) to be treated as a "C corporation" for purposes of this part.

(i) The federal "S" election shall be reported for purposes of this part in the form and manner as prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board no later than the last date allowed for filing the federal election under Section 1362(a) of the Internal Revenue Code for that income year.

(ii) The California election to be a "C corporation" may only be made by a corporation incorporated in California or qualified to do business in California and shall be made in the form and manner prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board no later than the last date allowed for filing the federal "S" election under Section 1362(a) of the Internal Revenue Code for that income year.

(B) A corporation, which has in effect a valid election under Section 1362(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, but which is a "C corporation" for purposes of this part may elect to be treated as an "S corporation" by making an election in the form and manner as prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board at the time required for making an "S" election under Section 1362(a) of the Internal Revenue Code for that income year, unless prohibited from doing so by Section 1362(g) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to election after termination.

(C) In the event a corporation which is not doing business in California becomes subject to this part by qualifying to do business in California, the corporation is deemed to have made an election to be treated as an "S corporation" for the income year during which the corporation qualifies to do business in California, unless the corporation files a California election in accordance with clause (ii) to be treated as a "C corporation" for that income year.

(i) The federal "S" election shall be reported for purposes of this part within two and one-half months after qualifying to do business in California in the form and manner as prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(ii) The California election to be a "C corporation" shall be made in the form and manner as prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board no later than the following:

(I) For an income year beginning in 1990, two and one-half months after qualifying to do business in California.

(II) For an income year beginning on or after January 1, 1991, the last date allowed for filing a federal "S" election under Section 1362(a) of the Internal Revenue Code for that income year.

(D) (i) A corporation that is not qualified to do business in California, but which is treated as an "S corporation" for federal purposes, shall be treated as an "S corporation" for purposes of this part, and its shareholders shall be treated as shareholders of an "S corporation."

(ii) If a corporation described in clause (i) elected to be treated as a "C corporation" under this section prior to its amendment by the act adding this paragraph during the 1989–90 Regular Session, that election shall be revoked for income years beginning on or after January 1, 1990. The corporation shall be treated as an "S corporation" for purposes of this part, and its shareholders shall be treated as shareholders of an "S corporation."

(E) For purposes of this section, "qualified to do business in California" or "qualifying to do business in California" means incorporating or obtaining a certificate of qualification pursuant to the Corporations Code.

(F) For purposes of this section:

(i) A timely election to be treated as a "C corporation" shall be treated as a revocation and Section 1363(g), relating to election after termination, shall apply.

(ii) An untimely election to be treated as a "C corporation" shall be null and void and shall not be applied to either the current or any subsequent income year.

(b) If a corporation subject to tax under this part elects to be treated as an "S corporation" and has one or more shareholders who are nonresidents of this state or is a trust with a nonresident fiduciary, each of the following shall be required:

(1) Each nonresident shareholder or fiduciary shall file with the return a statement of consent by that shareholder or fiduciary to be subject to the jurisdiction of the State of California to tax the shareholder's pro rata share of the income attributable to California sources.

(2) An "S corporation" shall include in its return for each income year a list of shareholders in the form and in the manner prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(3) Failure to meet the requirements of this subdivision shall be grounds for retroactive revocation of the election pursuant to this chapter.

(c) Except as provided in subdivision (d), a corporation which makes a valid election to be treated as an "S corporation" for purposes of this part shall not be included in a combined report pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 25101) of Chapter 17.

(d) (1) In cases where the Franchise Tax Board determines that the reported income or loss of a group of commonly owned or controlled corporations (within the meaning of Section 25105), which includes one or more corporations electing to be treated as an "S corporation" under Chapter 4 5 (commencing with Section 23800), does not clearly reflect income (or loss) of a member of such group or represents an evasion of tax by one or more members of such group, and the Franchise Tax Board determines that the comparable uncontrolled price method prescribed by regulations pursuant to Section 482 of the Internal Revenue Code cannot practically be applied, the Franchise Tax Board may, in lieu of other methods prescribed by regulations pursuant to Section 482 of the Internal Revenue Code, apply methods of unitary combination, pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 25101) of Chapter 17, to properly reflect the income or loss of the members of the group.

(2) The application of the provisions of this subdivision shall not affect the election of any corporation to be treated as an "S corporation."

(e) The tax for a "C corporation" for a short year shall be determined in accordance with Chapter 13 (commencing with Section 24631), in lieu of Section 1362(e) (5) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(f) (1) A termination of a federal election pursuant to Section 1362(d) of the Internal Revenue Code, that is not an inadvertent termination pursuant to Section 1362(f) of the Internal Revenue Code, shall simultaneously terminate the "S corporation" election for purposes of Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001) and this part.

(2) A federal termination by revocation shall be effective for purposes of this part and shall be reported to the Franchise Tax Board in the form and manner prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board no later than the last date allowed for filing federal termination for that year under Section 1362(d) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) A corporation which is qualified to do business in California and has in effect a valid "S" election under Section 1362(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, may revoke its "S" election for purposes of this part without revoking its federal election. The revocation for purposes of this part shall be made by providing a written notification to the Franchise Tax Board in the form and manner prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board which includes the California corporation number and meets the requirements of Section 1362(d)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(g) For income years beginning on or after January 1, 1990, if a corporation, which has in effect a valid "S" election under Section 1362(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, fails to make a "C corporation" election under clause (ii) of subparagraphs (A) and (C) of paragraph (4) of subdivision (a) or to terminate by revocation under paragraph (3) of subdivision (f), the corporation shall be treated as an "S corporation" pursuant to subparagraph (A) of paragraph (4)

SEC 34. Section 24634 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24634. (a) Notwithstanding Section 24632, a return for a period of less than 12 months (referred to in this article as "short period") shall be made under any of the following circumstances:

(1) When the taxpayer, with the approval of the Franchise Tax Board, changes its annual accounting period. In such a case, the return shall be made for the short period beginning on the day after the close of the former income year and ending at the close of the day before the day designated as the first day of the new income year.

(2) When the taxpayer is in existence during only part of what would otherwise be its income year.

(3) When the Franchise Tax Board terminates the taxpayer's income year under Section 25761 (relating to tax in jeopardy).

(b) This section shall apply whether or not a federal return is required to be filed for a period of less than 12 months.

SEC. 35. Section 24693 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

24693. (a) The provisions of Section 468B of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to special rules for designated settlement funds, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) The provisions of Section 468B(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, which impose a tax upon the designated settlement fund shall be modified for purposes of this part to provide that a tax shall be imposed upon the gross income of the fund at a rate equal to the rate in effect for the taxable year under Section 23501. The income tax imposed upon the gross income of the fund by this section is in lieu of any other tax imposed by this part or Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001) upon or measured by that income

SEC. 36. Section 24990.7 is added to the Revenue and Taxation

Code, to read:

24990.7. The provisions of Section 1248 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to gain from certain sales or exchanges of stock in certain foreign corporations, shall not apply to income years beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

SEC. 37. Section 25901c of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 452 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

25901c. Except as provided in Section 25903, interest shall be imposed under Section 25901 with respect to any assessable penalty, additional amount, or addition to the tax imposed under this article, as follows:

(a) In the case of a penalty, additional amount, or addition to tax which, when assessed, is due and payable on notice and demand, other than a penalty imposed under Section 25931 (relating to failure to file a return on or before the due date), Section 25934.2 (relating to underpayment of tax), or Section 25935 (relating to imposition of the accuracy-related penalty), interest shall be imposed from the date of the notice and demand to the date of payment.

(b) In the case of a penalty, additional amount, or addition to tax which is initially assessed as a deficiency, other than a penalty or addition to tax imposed under Section 25931 (relating to failure to file a return on or before the due date), Section 25934.2 (relating to underpayment of tax), or Section 25935 (relating to imposition of the accuracy-related penalty), interest shall be imposed from the date of the notice of proposed assessment to the date of payment.

(c) In the case of a penalty or addition to tax imposed by Section 25931 (relating to failure to file a return on or before the due date), Section 25934.2 (relating to underpayment of tax), or Section 25935 (relating to imposition of the accuracy-related penalty) for the period which—

(1) Begins on the date on which the return of the tax with respect to which that penalty is imposed is required to be filed (including any extensions), and

(2) Ends on the date of payment of that penalty or addition to tax.

(d) The amendments to subdivision (c) (former subdivision (d)) made by Chapter 1352 of the Statutes of 1989, shall apply only to returns the due date for which, determined without regard to extensions, is after December 31, 1988.

SEC. 38. Article 8 (commencing with Section 26350) is added to Chapter 23 of Part 11 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

Article 8. Judgment for Taxes

26350. If any amounts due under this part or any amount that may be collected by the Franchise Tax Board as though it were a tax are not paid, both of the following shall apply:

(a) The Franchise Tax Board may file in the Office of the County Clerk of Sacramento County, or any other county, a certificate specifying the amount due, the name and last known address of the taxpayer liable for the amount due, and the fact that the Franchise Tax Board has complied with all provisions of this part in the computation and levy of the amount due, and a request that judgment be entered against the taxpayer in the amount set forth in the certificate.

(b) The provisions of Article 3 (commencing with Section 18861) of Chapter 19 of Part 10 shall apply, except that, in the case of Section 18862, the county clerk may file the judgment in a loose-leaf book entitled "Bank and Corporation Tax Judgments."

SEC. 39. Section 26423 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

26423. (a) The Franchise Tax Board, for the purpose of administering its duties under this part, including ascertaining the correctness of any return; making a return where none has been made, determining or collecting the liability of any person in respect of any liability imposed by this part (or the liability at law or in equity of any transferee in respect of such liability); shall have the power to require by demand, that an entity of any kind including, but not limited to, employers, persons, or financial institutions provide information or make available for examination or copying at a specified time and place, or both, any books, papers or other data which may be relevant to that purpose. Any demand to a financial institution shall comply with the California Right to Financial Privacy Act set forth in Chapter 20 (commencing with Section 7460) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code.

(b) The Franchise Tax Board may require the attendance of the taxpayer or of any other person having knowledge in the premises and may take testimony and require material proof for its information and administer oaths to carry out the provisions of this part.

(c) The Franchise Tax Board may issue subpoenas or subpoenas duces tecum, which subpoenas must be signed by any member of the Franchise Tax Board and may be served on any person for any purpose.

(d) Obedience to subpoenas or subpoenas duces tecum issued in accordance with this section may be enforced by application to the superior court as set forth in Article 2 (commencing with Section 11180) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

SEC. 40. Section 26453 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

26453. A return or return information may be disclosed in a judicial or administrative proceeding pertaining to tax administration, if—

(a) The taxpayer is a party to the proceeding, or the proceeding arose out of, or in connection with, determining the taxpayer's civil or criminal liability, or the collection of the taxpayer's civil liability with respect to any tax imposed under this part; or

(b) The treatment of an item reflected on the return is directly related to the resolution of an issue in the proceeding; or

(c) The return or return information directly relates to a transactional relationship between a person who is a party to the proceeding and the taxpayer which directly affects the resolution of an issue in the proceeding.

SEC. 41. Section 26453.2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

26453.2. In a matter involving tax administration under this part, a return or return information shall be open to inspection by the Attorney General or other legal representatives of the state, if—

(a) The taxpayer is or may be a party to the proceeding, or the proceeding arose out of, or in connection with, determining the taxpayer's civil or criminal liability, or the collection of the taxpayer's civil liability with respect to any tax imposed under this part; or

(b) The treatment of an item reflected on the return is or may be related to the resolution of an issue in the proceeding or investigation; or

(c) The return or return information relates or may relate to a transactional relationship between a person who is or may be a party to the proceeding and the taxpayer, which affects or may affect, the resolution of an issue in the proceeding or investigation.

In addition, the Attorney General may inspect any report or return required under this part when required in the enforcement of any public or charitable trust or in compelling adherence to any charitable purposes for which any nonprofit corporation is formed.

SEC. 42. Section 26453.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

26453.5. For purposes of this article:

(a) The term "return" means any tax or information return, or claim for refund required by, or provided for or permitted under, the provisions of this part or Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001) which is filed with the Franchise Tax Board by, on behalf of, or with respect to any person, corporation, bank, partnership, estate or trust, and any amendment or supplement thereto, including supporting schedules, attachments, or lists which are supplemental to, or part of, the return so filed.

(b) The term "return information" means a taxpayer's identity, the nature, source, or amount of his, her, or its income, payments, receipts, deductions, exemptions, credits, assets, liabilities, net worth, tax liability, tax withheld, deficiencies, overassessments, or tax payments, whether the taxpayer's return was, is being, or will be examined or subject to other investigation or processing, or any other data, received by, recorded by, prepared by, furnished to, or collected by the Franchise Tax Board with respect to a return or with respect to the determination of the existence, or possible existence, of liability, or the amount thereof, of any person under this part or Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001) for any tax, addition to tax, penalty, interest, fine, fee, forfeiture, or other imposition or offense.

(c) The term "taxpayer return information" means return information as defined in subdivision (b) which is filed with, or furnished to, the Franchise Tax Board by or on behalf of the taxpayer to whom the return information relates.

(d) The term "tax administration" means the administration, management, conduct, direction, and supervision of the execution and application of this part, Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001), and Part 10.7 (commencing with Section 21001).

SEC. 43. Sections 17, 18, 19, and 38 of this act shall be operative for any account referred for out-of-state collection via an agreement entered into pursuant to Section 18837 or 26254 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

SEC. 44. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

This act makes various changes to the Personal Income Tax Law and the Bank and Corporation Tax Law, including, among other things, (1) technical changes to provisions of Chapter 452 of the Statutes of 1990 which was enacted to provide necessary funding to alleviate the current budget problems, and (2) amendments that are necessary to achieve the legislative intent of Chapter 1490 of the Statutes of 1984 which is to allow private out-of-state collection agencies to receive compensation for their services by collecting it from the out-of-state taxpayers rather than as a General Fund expenditure. To ensure that these provisions be given effect at the earliest possible time, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1349

An act to amend Sections 50199.9, 50199.14, 50199.17, and 50199.20 of the Health and Safety Code, and to amend Sections 17039, 17052.5, 17052.6, 17053.20, 17057.5, 17058, 17062, 17551, 18001, 18002, 18006, 18035.5, 18470, 18515.2, 18802.2, 23036, 23455, 23459, 23601.5, 23605, 23610.4, 23610.5, 23617.5, 24356.2, 24357.7, 24358, 24422, 24424, 24466, 24564, 24637, 24870, 24872, 24953.5, 24966, and 25401c of, to add Section 24990.7 to, and to repeal Sections 24413.2, 24413.3, and 24422.1 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, and making an appropriation therefor, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 50199.9 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Chapter 166 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

50199.9. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Committee" means the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee. On and after July 1, 1990, the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee is renamed the California Tax Credit Allocation Committee and thereafter, all references to "committee" shall mean the California Tax Credit Allocation Committee.

(b) "Housing credit" means the tax credit for low-income rental housing provided under Section 42 of the federal Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. Sec. 42).

(c) "Housing credit applicant" means any owner or prospective owner of a qualifying low-income building or project who applies for either of the following:

(1) An allocation of a portion of the current state housing credit ceiling.

(2) A reservation of a portion of the anticipated state housing credit ceiling of a subsequent year.

(d) "Housing credit ceiling" means the amount specified in Section 42(h)(3)(C) of the federal Internal Revenue Code. (26 U.S.C. Sec. 42(h)(3)(C)).

(e) "Local agency" means a city, county, or city and county.

(f) "Qualified low-income building" or "project" has the meaning specified in Section 42(c)(2) of the federal Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. Sec. 42(c)(2)).

SEC. 1.1. Section 50199.14 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Chapter 166 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

50199.14. (a) The committee shall allocate the housing credit on a regular basis consisting of not less than three periods in each calendar year during which applications may be filed and considered. The committee shall establish application filing deadlines, the maximum percentage of federal and state low-income housing tax credit ceiling which may be allocated by the committee in that period, and the approximate date on which allocations shall be made. If the enactment of federal or state law, or the adoption of rules or regulations, or other similar events prevent the use of three allocation periods, the committee may reduce the number of periods and adjust the filing deadlines, maximum percentage of credit allocated, and the allocation dates.

(b) The committee shall adopt a qualified allocation plan, as provided in paragraph (1) of subsection (m) of Section 42 of Title 26 of the United States Code. In adopting this plan, the committee shall comply with the provisions of subparagraphs (B) and (C) of paragraph (1) of subsection (m) of Section 42 of Title 26 of the United States Code.

(c) In order to promote the provision of affordable low-income housing within and throughout the state, the committee shall allocate housing credits in accordance with the qualified allocation plan and regulations which shall include the following provisions:

(1) All housing sponsors, as defined by paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) of Section 17058 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, shall demonstrate at the time the application is filed with the committee, that the project meets the following threshold requirements:

(A) The housing sponsor shall demonstrate there is a need for low-income housing in the community or region for which it is proposed.

(B) The project's proposed financing, including tax credit proceeds, shall be sufficient to complete the project and shall be adequate to operate the project for the extended use period.

(C) The project shall have enforceable financing commitments, either construction or permanent financing, for at least 50 percent of the total estimated financing of the project.

(D) The housing sponsor shall have and maintain control of the site for the project.

(E) The housing sponsor shall demonstrate that the project complies with all applicable local land use and zoning ordinances.

(F) The housing sponsor shall demonstrate that the project development team has the experience and the financial capacity to ensure project completion and operation for the extended use period.

(G) The housing sponsor shall demonstrate the amount of tax credit that is necessary for the financial feasibility of the project and its viability as a qualified low-income housing project throughout the extended use period, taking into account operating expenses, supportable debt service, reserves, funds set aside for rental subsidies, and required equity, for the low-income units, and a development fee that does not exceed a specified percentage of the qualified basis of the project prior to inclusion of the development fee in the qualified basis, as determined by the committee.

(2) The committee shall give a preference to those projects satisfying all of the threshold requirements of paragraph (1) if:

(A) The project serves the lowest income tenants at rents affordable to those tenants; or

(B) The project is obligated to serve qualified tenants for the longest period.

(3) In addition to the provisions of paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (c), the committee shall use the following criteria in allocating housing credits:

(A) Projects serving large families in which the greatest percentage of total square feet of all residential units is comprised of low-income units with three or more bedrooms.

(B) Projects providing single room occupancy units serving very low income tenants

(C) Existing projects that are "at risk of conversion," as defined by paragraph (4) of subdivision (c) of Section 17058 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(D) Projects for which a public agency provides direct or indirect long-term financial support for at least 15 percent of the total project development costs or projects for which the owner's equity constitutes at least 30 percent of the total project development costs.

(E) Projects that provide tenant amenities not generally available to residents of low-income housing projects.

(F) Projects located within a "difficult to develop area" or a "qualified census tract" as defined in Section 42(d) (5) (C) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(d) For purposes of allocating credits pursuant to this section, the committee shall not give preference to any project by virtue of the date of submission of its application.

(e) The committee shall allocate credits to a project under this section prior to allocating credit to that project under Sections 17058 and 23610.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(f) The committee shall allocate credits to a project only if the housing sponsor enters into a regulatory agreement that provides for an "extended use period" as defined in subparagraph (D) of paragraph (6) of subsection (h) of Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code which shall terminate on the date specified in the regulatory agreement or the date the project is acquired in foreclosure, including any instrument in lieu of foreclosure, whichever occurs first and subclause (II) of subparagraph (E) of clause (i) of paragraph (6) of subsection (l) of Section 42 shall not apply. The extended use period shall be subject to the following limitations:

(1) If, after the first 18 years of the extended use period, a qualified low-income housing project is not economically feasible, the housing sponsor shall be entitled to remove one or more low-income units from the set-aside and rent requirements of subsection (g) of Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code as is necessary for the project to become economically feasible, provided that, once a project is again economically feasible, the housing sponsor designates the next available units as low-income units subject to the set-aside and rent requirements, up to the number of low-income units necessary to arrive at the original applicable fraction, while keeping the project economically feasible.

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), "economically feasible" means that project revenue equals or exceeds project operating expenses, excluding any return on investment.

(3) For purposes of paragraph (2), "operating expenses" means the reasonable expenses necessary to operate and maintain the project in habitable condition, debt service, taxes and reasonable reserves. For purposes of this paragraph, debt service shall not include that portion of payments of principal and interest attributable to any excess refinanced principal over the outstanding principal of the loan that was refinanced, except to the extent the excess was used for rehabilitation of the project.

SEC. 1.3. Section 50199.17 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Chapter 166 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

50199.17. (a) The committee may adopt, amend, or repeal rules and regulations for the allocation of housing credits pursuant to this chapter and Sections 17058 and 23610.5 of the Revenue and Taxation

Code without complying with the procedural requirements of Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, except as described in subdivision (b).

(b) The committee shall provide a notice of proposed action as described in Section 11346.5 of the Government Code. The notice of proposed action shall be provided to the public at least 21 days before the close of the public comment period, and the committee shall schedule at least one public hearing as described in Section 11346.8 of the Government Code before the close of the public comment period. The committee shall maintain a rulemaking file as described in Section 11347.3 of the Government Code. The final version of the regulations shall be accompanied by a final statement of reasons as described in subdivision (b) of Section 11346.7 of the Government Code.

(c) These rules and regulations shall be effective immediately upon adoption by the committee.

(d) The committee may also adopt, amend, or repeal emergency rules and regulations pursuant to this chapter and pursuant to Sections 17057.5, 17058, 23610.4, and 23610.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code. The adoption, amendment, or repeal of these regulations shall be conclusively presumed to be necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, safety, or general welfare within the meaning or purposes of Section 11346.1 of the Government Code.

SEC. 1.4. Section 50199.20 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Chapter 166 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

50199.20. (a) Not less than 20 percent of the federal ceiling on low-income housing tax credits shall be set aside for allocation to rural areas as defined in Section 50199.21. Any amount of credit set aside for rural areas remaining on or after October 31 of any calendar year shall be available for allocation to any eligible project. No amount of credit set aside for rural areas shall be considered available for any eligible project if there are eligible rural applications pending on October 31.

(b) Up to 2 percent of the low-income housing tax credit available under this chapter and Sections 17058 and 23610.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code may be set aside for small developments as determined by the committee. Any amount of credit set aside for small developments remaining on or after October 31 of any calendar year shall be available for allocation to any eligible project. No amount of credit set aside for small developments shall be considered available for any eligible projects if there are eligible small development applications pending on October 31.

SEC. 1.7. Section 17039 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17039. (a) Notwithstanding any provision in this part to the contrary, for the purposes of computing tax credits, the term "net tax" means the tax imposed under either Section 17041 or 17048 plus the tax imposed under Section 17504 (relating to lump-sum distributions) less the credits allowed by Section 17054 (relating to personal exemption credits) and any amount imposed under paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) and paragraph (1) of subdivision (e) of Section 17560. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, the "net tax" shall not be less than the tax imposed under Section 17504 (relating to the separate tax on lump-sum distributions), if any. Credits shall be allowed against "net tax" in the following order:

(1) Credits which do not contain carryover or refundable provisions, except those described in paragraphs (4), (5), and (6) and in Section 17053.14 (relating to credit for political contributions).

(2) Credits which contain carryover provisions but do not contain refundable provisions.

(3) Credits which contain both carryover and refundable provisions.

(4) The minimum tax credit allowed by Section 17063 (relating to the alternative minimum tax).

(5) Credits for taxes paid to other states allowed by Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 18001).

(6) The low-income tax credit allowed by Section 17069.

(7) Credits which contain refundable provisions but do not contain carryover provisions.

For the purposes of paragraphs (2), (3), and (7), the order within each paragraph shall be determined by the Franchise Tax Board.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 17053.5 (relating to the renter's credit), 17061 (relating to refunds pursuant to the Unemployment Insurance Code), and 18551.1 (relating to tax withholding), the credits provided in those sections shall be allowed in the order provided in paragraph (7) of subdivision (a).

(c) (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, no tax credit shall reduce the tax imposed under Section 17041 or 17048 plus the tax imposed under Section 17504 (relating to the separate tax on lump-sum distributions) below the tentative minimum tax (before reduction for the alternative credit for taxes paid to another state), as defined by Section 17062, except the following credits, but only after allowance of the credit allowed by Section 17063—

(A) The credit allowed by former Section 17052.4 (relating to solar energy).

(B) The credit allowed by former Section 17052.5 (relating to solar energy).

(C) The credit allowed by Section 17052.5 (relating to solar energy).

(D) The credit allowed by Section 17052.12 (relating to research expenses).

(E) The credit allowed by Section 17053.5 (relating to the renter's credit).

(F) The credit allowed by Section 17057 (relating to clinical testing expenses).

(G) The credit allowed by Section 17058 (relating to low-income housing).

(H) The credit allowed by Section 17061 (relating to refunds pursuant to the Unemployment Insurance Code).

(I) Credits for taxes paid to other states allowed by Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 18001).

(J) The credit allowed by Section 18551.1 (relating to tax withholding).

(2) Any credit which is partially or totally denied under paragraph (1) shall be allowed to be carried over and applied to the net tax in succeeding taxable years, if the provisions relating to that credit include a provision to allow a carryover when that credit exceeds the net tax.

(d) Unless otherwise provided, any remaining carryover of a credit allowed by a section which has been repealed or made inoperative shall continue to be allowed to be carried over and applied against the "net tax" until the credit has been exhausted.

(e) This section shall be applied in the computation of taxes for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1987

SEC. 2. Section 17052.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17052.5. (a) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1990, and before January 1, 1994, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039), an amount equal to 10 percent of the cost of a solar energy system installed on premises, used for commercial purposes, which are located in California and which are owned by the taxpayer during the taxable year. For purposes of taxpayers who lease a solar energy system pursuant to subdivision (j), the tax credit shall apply only to the principal recovery portion of lease payments, as defined in subdivision (l), for the term of the lease not to exceed 10 years, which are made during the taxable year, and to the amounts which are expended on the purchased portion of the solar energy system, including installation charges, during the taxable year.

(b) (1) The solar energy tax credit shall be claimed on the state income tax return for the taxable year in which the solar energy system was installed.

(2) The solar energy tax credit may not be claimed for any solar energy system with a generating capacity in excess of 30 megawatts for any taxable year, or portion thereof, for which the Internal Revenue Code does not allow at least a 10-percent tax credit for solar energy systems with a generating capacity in excess of 30 megawatts which is equivalent in scope to the credit available under the Internal Revenue Code for the 1989 calendar year.

(c) A taxpayer who claimed the solar energy tax credit in the state income tax return for the taxable year in which the solar energy system was installed may claim the credit in subsequent years for additions to the system or additional systems by the amount prescribed in subdivision (a).

(d) For purposes of computing the credit provided by this section, the cost of any solar energy system eligible for the credit shall be reduced by any grant provided by a public entity for that system.

(e) The basis of any system for which a credit is allowed shall be reduced by the amount of the credit and the amount of any grant provided by a utility or public agency for the solar energy system. The basis adjustment shall be made for the taxable year for which the credit is allowed.

(f) With the exception of a husband and wife, if there is more than one owner of a premises on which a solar energy system is installed, each owner shall be eligible to receive the solar energy tax credit in proportion to his or her ownership interests in the premises. In the case of a husband or wife who files a separate return, the credit may be taken by either or equally divided between them.

(g) In the case of a partnership, the solar energy tax credit may be divided between the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement.

(h) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the "net tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "net tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted.

(i) No tax credit may be claimed under this section for any expenditures which have been otherwise claimed as a tax credit for the current or any prior taxable year as energy conservation measures under this part.

(j) Taxpayers who lease a solar energy system installed on premises in California shall receive a tax credit as provided in subdivision (a), if the lessee can confirm, if necessary, by a written document signed by the lessor that (1) the lessor irrevocably elects not to claim a state tax credit for the solar energy system, and (2) if the system is installed in a locality served by a municipal solar utility, that the lessor holds a valid permit from the municipal solar utility. Leasing requirements may be established by the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission as part of the solar energy system eligibility criteria.

(k) The State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission shall, after one or more public hearings, establish guidelines and criteria for solar energy systems which shall be eligible for the credit provided by this section. These guidelines and criteria shall include, but are not limited to, minimum requirements for safety, cost-effectiveness in terms of dollars per kilowatt, market readiness, reliability, and durability of solar energy systems. Any solar energy system with a generating capacity in excess of 10 megawatts may qualify for the credit only if the owner of the solar energy system first obtains a finding from the commission that the system is eligible for the credit under the guidelines and criteria established pursuant to this subdivision. Any solar energy system certified by the commission pursuant to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 25500) of Division 15 of the Public Resources Code shall be deemed eligible for the credit. The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe those regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

(1) "Installed" means placed in a functionally operative state.

(2) "Cost" includes equipment, installation charges, and compensation paid to the owner of burdened property in connection with the acquisition of a solar easement, as defined in Section 801.5 of the Civil Code, and the fees for the recording of the easement. In the case of a system which is leased, "cost" means the principal recovery portion of lease payments, which is the cost incurred by the taxpayer in acquiring the solar energy system, excluding interest charges and maintenance expenses.

"Cost" does not include interest charges and costs associated with the acquisition of an easement other than a solar easement.

"Cost" includes all components to carry out the intended use of the system if they are an integral part of the system.

(3) "Owner" includes duly recorded holders of legal title, lessees with at least three years remaining on their lease or easement granting use of the premises, a person purchasing premises under a contract of sale, or who holds shares or membership in a cooperative housing corporation, which holding is a requisite to the exclusive right of occupancy to the premises, a person who is a member of a nonprofit corporation or association which is a lessee with at least three years remaining on its lease.

(4) "Premises" means the principal stationary location in California where the system is installed for direct use or for purposes of sale of energy, and includes land, easements, and buildings or portions thereof.

(5) "Commercial purposes" means the installation of solar energy systems on premises other than single-family dwellings.

(6) "Single-family dwelling" means single-family residences, mobilehomes, and the individual units of condominiums.

"Single-family dwelling" does not include cooperatives, apartment buildings, or other similar multiple dwellings, including buildings and any other common areas of a condominium maintained by a homeowners' association.

(7) (A) "Solar energy system" means the use of solar devices designed or intended for the individual function of production of electricity in excess of 30 watts per device.

"Solar energy system" includes, but is not limited to, solar thermal electric systems and photovoltaic systems.

For purposes of this section, "solar energy system" does not include solar devices for the individual function of wind energy for the production of electricity or mechanical work.

(B) Eligible solar energy systems shall have a useful life of not less than five years.

(8) "Solar device" means the equipment associated with the collection, conversion, transfer, distribution, storage, or control of solar energy. In the case of a solar device associated with two or more solar energy systems, the credit allowed for the solar device may be taken for any one of the systems, or divided equally between them.

(9) "Municipal solar utility" means a city, county, or municipal utility district, or agency thereof, which sells or leases solar or other energy generating equipment or energy saving devices for residential, commercial, agricultural, or industrial uses or which issues permits to companies engaged in the leasing of this equipment.

(m) Except for purposes of subdivision (h) of Section 17052.4, the provisions of this section shall not apply to any solar energy system which continues to qualify for the tax credit authorized by former Section 17052.5 (as amended by Chapter 1200 of the Statutes of 1986) by meeting the eligibility requirements of subdivision (l) of that section.

(n) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as provided in subdivision (h), until the credit has been exhausted.

SEC. 3. Section 17052.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17052.5. (a) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1990, and before January 1, 1994, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039), an amount equal to 10 percent of the cost of a solar energy system installed on premises, used for commercial purposes, which are located in California and which are owned by the taxpayer during the taxable year. For purposes of taxpayers who lease a solar energy system pursuant to subdivision (j), the tax credit shall apply only to the principal recovery portion of lease payments, as defined in subdivision (l), for the term of the lease not to exceed 10 years, which are made during the taxable year, and to the amounts which are expended on the purchased portion of the solar energy system, including installation charges, during the taxable year.

(b) The solar energy tax credit shall be claimed on the state income tax return for the taxable year in which the solar energy system was installed.

(c) A taxpayer who claimed the solar energy tax credit in the state income tax return for the taxable year in which the solar energy system was installed may claim the credit in subsequent years for additions to the system or additional systems by the amount prescribed in subdivision (a).

(d) For purposes of computing the credit provided by this section, the cost of any solar energy system eligible for the credit shall be reduced by any grant provided by a public entity for that system.

(e) The basis of any system for which a credit is allowed shall be reduced by the amount of the credit and the amount of any grant provided by a utility or public agency for the solar energy system. The basis adjustment shall be made for the taxable year for which the credit is allowed.

(f) With the exception of a husband and wife, if there is more than one owner of a premises on which a solar energy system is installed, each owner shall be eligible to receive the solar energy tax credit in proportion to his or her ownership interests in the premises. In the case of a husband or wife who files a separate return, the credit may be taken by either or equally divided between them.

(g) In the case of a partnership, the solar energy tax credit may be divided between the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement.

(h) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the "net tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "net tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted.

(i) No tax credit may be claimed under this section for any expenditures which have been otherwise claimed as a tax credit for the current or any prior taxable year as energy conservation measures under this part.

(j) Taxpayers who lease a solar energy system installed on premises in California shall receive a tax credit as provided in subdivision (a), if the lessee can confirm, if necessary, by a written document signed by the lessor that (1) the lessor irrevocably elects not to claim a state tax credit for the solar energy system, and (2) if the system is installed in a locality served by a municipal solar utility, that the lessor holds a valid permit from the municipal solar utility. Leasing requirements may be established by the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission as part of the solar energy system eligibility criteria.

(k) The State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission shall, after one or more public hearings, establish guidelines and criteria for solar energy systems which shall be eligible for the credit provided by this section. These guidelines and criteria shall include, but are not limited to, minimum requirements for safety, cost-effectiveness in terms of dollars per kilowatt, market readiness, reliability, and durability of solar energy systems.

(1) The commission may grant an exemption from any of the guidelines and criteria if the commission finds that the project, when evaluated in its entirety and based on particular circumstances, meets the intent of Chapter 1291 of the Statutes of 1989.

(2) Any solar energy system with a generating capacity in excess of 10 megawatts may qualify for the credit only if the owner of the solar energy system first obtains a finding from the commission that the system is eligible for the credit under the guidelines and criteria established pursuant to this subdivision. Any solar energy system certified by the commission pursuant to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 25500) of Division 15 of the Public Resources Code shall be deemed eligible for the credit.

(3) As specified in the guidelines and criteria established by the commission, any solar energy system with a generating capacity in excess of one megawatt and less than or equal to 10 megawatts may qualify for the credit only if the owner of the solar energy system first obtains a finding from the commission that the system is eligible for the credit under the guidelines and criteria established pursuant to this subdivision.

(4) The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe those regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

(l) For purposes of this section, the following definitions shall apply:

(1) "Installed" means placed in a functionally operative state.

(2) "Cost" includes equipment, installation charges, and compensation paid to the owner of burdened property in connection with the acquisition of a solar easement, as defined in Section 801.5 of the Civil Code, and the fees for the recording of the easement. In the case of a system which is leased, "cost" means the principal recovery portion of lease payments, which is the cost incurred by the taxpayer in acquiring the solar energy system, excluding interest charges and maintenance expenses.

"Cost" does not include interest charges and costs associated with the acquisition of an easement other than a solar easement.

"Cost" includes all components to carry out the intended use of the system if they are an integral part of the system

(3) "Owner" includes duly recorded holders of legal title, lessees with at least three years remaining on their lease or easement granting use of the premises, a person purchasing premises under a contract of sale, or who holds shares or membership in a cooperative housing corporation, which holding is a requisite to the exclusive right of occupancy to the premises, a person who is a member of a nonprofit corporation or association which is a lessee with at least three years remaining on its lease.

(4) "Premises" means the principal stationary location in California where the solar energy system is installed for direct use or for purposes of sale of energy, and includes land, easements, and buildings or portions thereof.

(5) "Commercial purposes" means the installation of solar energy systems on premises other than single-family dwellings.

(6) "Single-family dwelling" means single-family residences, mobilehomes, and the individual units of condominiums.

"Single-family dwelling" does not include cooperatives, apartment buildings, or other similar multiple dwellings, including buildings and any other common areas of a condominium maintained by a homeowners' association.

(7) (A) "Solar energy system" means the use of solar devices designed or intended for the individual function of production of electricity in excess of 30 watts per device.

"Solar energy system" includes, but is not limited to, solar thermal electric systems and photovoltaic systems.

For purposes of this section, "solar energy system" does not include solar devices for the individual function of wind energy for the production of electricity or mechanical work.

(B) Eligible solar energy systems shall have a useful life of not less than five years.

(8) "Solar device" means the equipment associated with the collection, conversion, transfer, distribution, storage, or control of solar energy. In the case of a solar device associated with two or more solar energy systems, the credit allowed for the solar device may be taken for any one of the systems, or divided equally between them.

(9) "Municipal solar utility" means a city, county, or municipal utility district, or agency thereof, which sells or leases solar or other energy generating equipment or energy saving devices for residential, commercial, agricultural, or industrial uses or which issues permits to companies engaged in the leasing of this equipment.

(m) Except for purposes of subdivision (h) of Section 17052.4, the provisions of this section shall not apply to any solar energy system which continues to qualify for the tax credit authorized by former Section 17052.5 (as amended by Chapter 1200 of the Statutes of 1986) by meeting the eligibility requirements of subdivision (l) of that section.

(n) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as provided in subdivision (h), until the credit has been exhausted.

SEC. 4. Section 17052.6 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17052.6. (a) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1990, and before January 1, 1993, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039) an amount determined in accordance with Section 21 of the Internal Revenue Code, except that the amount of the credit shall be 30 percent of the allowable federal credit regardless of whether there is a federal tax liability.

(b) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 17052.6 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17052.6. (a) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and before January 1, 1993, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "net tax" (as defined in Section 17039) an amount determined in accordance with Section 21 of the Internal Revenue Code, except that the amount of the credit shall be a percentage, as provided in subdivision (b), of the allowable federal credit regardless of whether there is a federal tax liability.

(b) For the purposes of subdivision (a), the percentage of the allowable federal credit shall be determined as follows:

If the adjusted gross income is:	The percentage of credit is:
$40,000 or less	30%
Over $40,000 but not over $70,000	25%
Over $70,000 but not over $100,000	20%
Over $100,000	15%

(c) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1993, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 6. Section 17053.20 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17053.20. (a) There shall be allowed as a credit against the amount of "net tax" (as defined in Section 17039) an amount equal to the amount determined in subdivision (b) for payments by an eligible employer to provide health coverage for eligible individuals and their dependents.

(b) The amount of the credit allowed by subdivision (a) shall be twenty-five dollars ($25) per month per covered individuals or 25 percent per month of the total amount paid or incurred for such health coverage by the employer during the taxable year, whichever is more, plus twenty-five dollars ($25) per month or 25 percent of the total amount paid or incurred per month per covered individual's dependent or dependents, whichever is more.

(c) To qualify for the credit provided in subdivision (b), an eligible employer must pay or incur at least 75 percent of the monthly premium for health coverage for eligible individuals who elect to have that coverage, or at least 75 percent per month towards health coverage for an eligible individual's dependent or dependents and for which the individual does not pay more than 25 percent, or both. At least annually, the employer shall make participation available to all eligible individuals and to all newly hired individuals within 60 days of the date of employment. Nothing in this section shall require an eligible employer to pay for dependent health coverage in order to qualify for the eligible individual health coverage credit provided herein. Nothing in this section shall prohibit employers from making additional health benefits available to an eligible individual at the employer's or eligible individual's expense.

(d) The credit allowed by this section shall be in lieu of any deduction to which the taxpayer otherwise may be entitled for expenses on which a credit under this section is claimed.

(e) If the credit allowed under this section exceeds the "net tax" for the taxable year, that portion of the credit which exceeds the "net tax" may be carried over to the "net tax" in succeeding taxable years until the credit is used. The credit shall be applied first to the earliest taxable years possible.

(f) Any amount of expenses paid by an employer under this section shall not be included as income to the eligible individual for purposes of the Personal Income Tax Law. If those expenses have been included in arriving at federal adjusted gross income of the eligible individual, the amount included shall be subtracted in arriving at state adjusted gross income. As used in Section 17071 with respect to the eligible individual, "compensation for services" does not include expenses paid under this section.

(g) With the exception of a husband and wife, if two or more taxpayers share in the expenses eligible for the credit provided by this section, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive the tax credit in proportion to his or her respective share of the expenses paid or incurred. In the case of a partnership, the tax credit may be divided between the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement in accordance with Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 17851), which includes Section 704 of the Internal Revenue Code concerning substantial economic effect, relating to partner's distributive share. In the case of a husband or wife who files a separate return, the credit may be taken by either or equally divided between them.

(h) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Eligible employer" means a taxpayer which employs on the average during the taxable year no more than 25 employees including owner-operators and which makes the minimum contribution required by this section on behalf of an eligible individual. An "eligible employer" is not a taxpayer who liquidates the assets of or dissolves the organization of a business, for tax purposes only, in anticipation of becoming eligible for the credit allowed under this section and then subsequently reorganizes the business.

(2) "Eligible individual" means an individual who, on a form prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board and retained by the qualified employer, certifies that he or she is a resident of California (within the meaning of Section 17014), and who:

(A) Performs services for an eligible employer for an average of at least 35 hours per week for remuneration, or

(B) Performs services for an eligible employer for less than 35 hours per week for remuneration, if the eligible employer provides health coverage for that individual and meets all other requirements for the credit under this section, or

(C) As an owner-operator or a managing partner, provides at least an average of 35 hours per week in personal services to the business for which health coverage is contracted.

(3) "Health coverage" means health coverage that, at a minimum, includes basic health care services for illness or injury provided by a private insurance company holding a valid outstanding certificate of authority from the Insurance Commissioner, a nonprofit hospital service plan qualifying under Chapter 11A (commencing with Section 11491) of Part 2 of Division 2 of the Insurance Code, or a health care service plan as defined under subdivision (f) of Section 1345 of the Health and Safety Code, which is lawfully engaged in providing, arranging, paying for, or reimbursing the cost of personal health services under insurance policies or contracts, medical and hospital service agreements, membership contracts, in consideration of premiums or other periodic charges payable to it. "Health coverage" may include provisions for cost sharing if the total cost sharing does not exceed 200 percent of the annual premium, and no copayment exceeds 50 percent of the cost of a covered service.

(4) "Basic health care services" means the services defined in subdivision (b) of Section 1345 of the Health and Safety Code, or those benefits and provisions as may be required of employers in this state by the enactment of Assembly Bill 350 of the 1989–90 Regular Session, or all of the following benefits:

(A) Inpatient and outpatient hospital services, including inpatient care for a period of at least 120 days of confinement in each calendar year and ancillary services.

(B) Inpatient and outpatient physician services.

(C) Diagnostic and screening tests.

(5) "Dependent" means any person who qualifies as a dependent of the eligible individual for purposes of a health care service plan certified to qualify for the credit allowed under this section

(6) "Supplemental benefits" means:

(A) Prenatal and well-baby care which meets guidelines established by the American Academy of Pediatrics.

(B) Mental health benefits consisting of at least:

(i) Inpatient hospital care for a mental disorder for not less than 45 days per year.

(ii) Outpatient psychotherapy and counseling for a mental disorder for not less than 20 visits per year.

(i) An eligible employer shall be entitled to an additional five dollar ($5) tax credit per month per covered employee for each of the two supplemental benefits.

(j) The Department of Corporations shall forward to the Franchise Tax Board at least annually, or more frequently upon request, a list of all health care services plans licensed under Section 1353 of the Health and Safety Code which are required to provide the basic health care services defined in subdivision (b) of Section 1345 of the Health and Safety Code. The Department of Insurance shall forward to the Franchise Tax Board at least annually, or more frequently upon request, a list of all insurers authorized to transact disability insurance in this state and nonprofit hospital service plan corporations holding the certificate of authority required by Section 11504 of the Insurance Code.

(k) To be eligible for the credit under this section, each disability insurance policy, health care service plan contract, or nonprofit hospital service plan contract shall be certified as providing the basic health care services described in paragraph (4) of subdivision (h), and, if applicable, either or both of the supplemental benefits of paragraph (6) of subdivision (h), by legal opinion of the plan's counsel, a copy of which shall be provided to each eligible employer to be retained for submission to the Franchise Tax Board upon request.

(l) Subdivisions (a) to (k), inclusive, shall become operative on the date that the Tucker Health Insurance Act of 1989 becomes operative.

SEC. 6.1. Section 17057.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 166 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

17057.5. It is the intent of the Legislature that the amount of the state low-income housing tax credit allocated to a project pursuant to Section 17058 shall not exceed an amount in addition to the federal tax credit that is necessary for the financial feasibility of the project and its viability throughout the extended use period.

SEC. 6.3. Section 17058 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 166 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

17058. (a) (1) There shall be allowed as a credit against the amount of net tax (as defined in Section 17039) a state low-income housing credit in an amount equal to the amount determined in subdivision (c), computed in accordance with the provisions of Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code, except as otherwise provided in this section.

(2) "Taxpayer" for purposes of this section means the sole owner in the case of an individual, the partners in the case of a partnership, and the shareholders in the case of an S corporation.

(3) "Housing sponsor" for purposes of this section means the sole owner in the case of an individual, the partnership in the case of a partnership, and the S corporation in the case of an S corporation.

(b) (1) The amount of the credit allocated to any housing sponsor shall be authorized by the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee, or any successor thereof, based on a project's need for the credit for economic feasibility in accordance with the requirements of this section.

(A) The low-income housing project shall be located in California and shall meet either of the following requirements:

(i) The project's housing sponsor shall have been allocated by the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee a credit for federal income tax purposes under Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(ii) It shall qualify for a credit under Section 42(h)(4)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(B) The Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee shall not require fees for the credit under this section in addition to those fees required for applications for the tax credit pursuant to Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code. The committee may require a fee if the application for the credit under this section is submitted in a calendar year after the year the application is submitted for the federal tax credit.

(2) (A) The Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation

Committee shall certify to the housing sponsor the amount of tax credit under this section allocated to the housing sponsor for each credit period.

(B) In the case of a partnership or an S corporation, the housing sponsor shall provide a copy of the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee certification to the taxpayer.

(C) The taxpayer shall attach a copy of the certification to any return upon which a tax credit is claimed under this section.

(D) In the case of a failure to attach a copy of the certification for the year to the return in which a tax credit is claimed under this section, no credit under this section shall be allowed for that year until a copy of that certification is provided.

(E) All elections made by the taxpayer pursuant to Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code shall apply to this section.

(F) No credit shall be allocated under this section to buildings located in a difficult development area or a qualified census tract as defined in Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code for which the eligible basis of a new building or the rehabilitation expenditure of an existing building is 130 percent of that amount pursuant to subparagraph (C) of paragraph (5) of subsection (d) of Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(c) Section 42(b) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be modified as follows:

(1) In the case of any qualified low-income building placed in service by the housing sponsor during 1987, the term "applicable percentage" means 9 percent for each of the first three years and 3 percent for the fourth year for new buildings (whether or not the building is federally subsidized) and for existing buildings.

(2) In the case of any qualified low-income building that receives an allocation after 1989 and is a new building not federally subsidized, the term "applicable percentage" means the following:

(A) For each of the first three years, the percentage prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury for new buildings which are not federally subsidized for the taxable year, determined in accordance with the requirements of Section 42(b)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, in lieu of the percentage prescribed in Section 42(b)(1)(A).

(B) For the fourth year, the difference between 30 percent and the sum of the applicable percentages for the first three years.

(3) In the case of any qualified low-income building that receives an allocation after 1989 and that is a new building which is federally subsidized or that is an existing building that is "at risk of conversion," the term "applicable percentage" means the following:

(A) For each of the first three years, the percentage prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury for new buildings which are federally subsidized for the taxable year.

(B) For the fourth year, the difference between 13 percent and the sum of the applicable percentages for the first three years.

(4) For purposes of this section, the term "at risk of conversion," with respect to an existing building means a building which satisfies all of the following criteria:

(A) The building is presently owned by a housing sponsor other than a qualified nonprofit organization.

(B) The building is a federally assisted building for which the low-income use restrictions will terminate or the mortgage on the building is eligible for prepayment under Subtitle 13 of the Emergency Low Income Housing Preservation Act of 1987 or under Section 502(c) of the Housing Act of 1949, anytime in the three calendar years after the year of application to the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee.

(C) The person acquiring the building enters into a regulatory agreement that requires the building to be operated in accordance with the requirements of this section for a period equal to the greater of 55 years or the life of the building.

(D) The building satisfies the requirements of Section 42(e) of the Internal Revenue Code regarding rehabilitation expenditures, except that the provisions of Section 42(e)(3)(A)(ii)(I) shall not apply.

(d) The term "qualified low-income housing project" as defined in Section 42(c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified by adding the following requirements:

(1) The taxpayer shall be entitled to receive a cash distribution from the operations of the project, after funding required reserves, which, at the election of the taxpayer, is equal to:

(A) An amount not to exceed 8 percent of the lesser of:

(i) The owner equity which shall include the amount of the capital contributions actually paid to the housing sponsor and shall not include any amounts until they are paid on an investor note; or

(ii) Twenty percent of the adjusted basis of the building as of the close of the first taxable year of the credit period; or

(B) The amount of the cash flow from those units in the building that are not low-income units. For purposes of computing cash flow under this subparagraph, operating costs shall be allocated to the low-income units using the "floor space fraction," as defined in Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(C) Any amount allowed to be distributed under subparagraph (A) that is not available for distribution during the first five years of the compliance period may be accumulated and distributed any time during the first 15 years of the compliance period but not thereafter.

(2) The limitation on return shall apply in the aggregate to the partners if the housing sponsor is a partnership and in the aggregate to the shareholders if the housing sponsor is an S corporation.

(3) The housing sponsor shall apply any cash available for distribution in excess of the amount eligible to be distributed under paragraph (1) to reduce the rent on rent-restricted units or to increase the number of rent-restricted units subject to the tests of Section 42(g)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(e) The provisions of Section 42(f) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be modified as follows:

(1) The term "credit period" as defined in Section 42(f)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified by substituting "four taxable years" for "10 taxable years."

(2) The special rule for the first taxable year of the credit period under Section 42(f)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code shall not apply to the tax credit under this section.

(3) Section 42(f)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified to read:

If, as of the close of any taxable year in the compliance period, after the first year of the credit period, the qualified basis of any building exceeds the qualified basis of that building as of the close of the first year of the credit period, the housing sponsor, to the extent of its tax credit allocation, shall be eligible for a credit on the excess in an amount equal to the applicable percentage determined pursuant to subdivision (c) for the four-year period beginning with the taxable year in which the increase in qualified basis occurs.

(f) The provisions of Section 42(h) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be modified as follows:

(1) Section 42(h)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code shall not be applicable and instead the following provisions shall be applicable:

The total amount for the four-year period of the housing credit dollars allocated in a calendar year to any building shall reduce the aggregate housing credit dollar amount of the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee for the calendar year in which the allocation is made.

(2) Paragraphs (3), (4), (6), (7), and (8) of Section 42(h) of the Internal Revenue Code shall not be applicable to this section.

(g) Notwithstanding subdivision (m), the aggregate housing credit dollar amount which may be allocated annually by the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee pursuant to this section and Section 23610.5 shall be an amount equal to the sum of the following:

(1) Thirty-five million dollars ($35,000,000).

(2) The unused housing credit ceiling, if any, for the preceding calendar years; and

(3) The amount of housing credit ceiling returned in the calendar year For purposes of this paragraph, the amount of housing credit dollar amount returned in the calendar year equals the housing credit dollar amount previously allocated to any project that does not become a qualified low-income housing project within the period required by this section or to any project with respect to which an allocation is canceled by mutual consent of the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee and the allocation recipient.

(h) (1) The term "compliance period" as defined in Section 42(i)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified to mean, with respect to any building, the period of 30 consecutive taxable years beginning with the first taxable year of the credit period with respect thereto, subject to the limitation in paragraph (2).

(2) If, after the first 18 years of the compliance period, a qualified low-income housing project is not economically feasible, the housing sponsor shall be entitled to remove one or more low-income units from the set-aside and rent requirements of Section 42(g) of the Internal Revenue Code as is necessary for the project to become economically feasible, provided that once a project is again economically feasible, the housing sponsor designates the net available units as low-income units subject to the set-aside and rent requirements, up to the number of low-income units necessary to arrive at the original applicable fraction, while keeping the project economically feasible.

(3) For purposes of paragraph (2), "economically feasible" means that project revenue equals or exceeds project operating expenses excluding any return on investment.

(4) For purposes of paragraph (3), "operating expenses" means the reasonable expenses necessary to operate and maintain the project in habitable condition, debt service, taxes, and reasonable reserves. For purposes of this paragraph, debt service shall not include that portion of payments of principal and interest attributable to any excess refinanced principal over the outstanding principal of the loan that was refinanced, except to the extent the excess was used for the rehabilitation of the project.

(i) Section 42(j) of the Internal Revenue Code shall not be applicable and the following requirements of this section shall be set forth in a regulatory agreement between the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee and the housing sponsor, which agreement shall be subordinated, when required, to any lien or encumbrance of any banks or other institutional lenders to the project. The regulatory agreement entered into pursuant to subdivision (f) of Section 50199.14 of the Health and Safety Code shall apply, providing the agreement includes all of the following provisions:

(1) A term not less than the compliance period.

(2) A requirement that the agreement be filed in the official records of the county in which the qualified low-income housing project is located.

(3) A provision stating which state and local agencies can enforce the regulatory agreement in the event the housing sponsor fails to satisfy any of the requirements of this section.

(4) A provision that the regulatory agreement shall be deemed a contract enforceable by tenants as third-party beneficiaries thereto and which allows individuals, whether prospective, present, or former occupants of the building, who meet the income limitation applicable to the building, the right to enforce the regulatory agreement in any state court.

(5) A provision incorporating the requirements of Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code as modified by this section.

(6) A requirement that the housing sponsor provide the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee or its designee and the local agency that can enforce the regulatory agreement with advance notice if the housing sponsor intends to reduce the number of low-income units to make a project economically feasible.

(7) A requirement that the housing sponsor notify the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee or its designee and the local agency that can enforce the regulatory agreement if there is a determination by the Internal Revenue Service that the project is not in compliance with Section 42(g) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(8) A requirement that the housing sponsor, as security for the performance of the housing sponsor's obligations under the regulatory agreement, assign the housing sponsor's interest in rents which it receives from the project, provided that until there is a default under the regulatory agreement, the housing sponsor is entitled to collect and retain the rents.

(9) The remedies available in the event of a default under the regulatory agreement that is not cured within a reasonable cure period, include, but are not limited to, allowing any of the parties designated to enforce the regulatory agreement to collect all rents with respect to the project; taking possession of the project and operating the project in accordance with the regulatory agreement until the enforcer determines the housing sponsor is in a position to operate the project in accordance with the regulatory agreement; applying to any court for specific performance; securing the appointment of a receiver to operate the project; or any other relief as may be appropriate.

(j) (1) The committee shall allocate the housing credit on a regular basis consisting of not less than three periods in each calendar year during which applications may be filed and considered. The committee shall establish application filing deadlines, the maximum percentage of federal and state low-income housing tax credit ceiling which may be allocated by the committee in that period, and the approximate date on which allocations shall be made. If the enactment of federal or state law, the adoption of rules or regulations or other similar events prevent the use of three allocation periods, the committee may reduce the number of periods and adjust the filing deadlines, maximum percentage of credit allocated, and the allocation dates.

(2) The committee shall adopt a qualified allocation plan, as provided in paragraph (1) of subsection (m) of Section 42 of Title 26 of the United States Code. In adopting this plan, the committee shall comply with the provisions of subparagraphs (B) and (C) of paragraph (1) of subsection (m) of Section 42 of Title 26 of the United States Code

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (m) of Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code, the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee shall allocate housing credits in accordance with the qualified allocation plan and regulations, which shall include the following provisions:

(A) All housing sponsors, as defined by paragraph (3) of subdivision (a), shall demonstrate at the time the application is filed with the committee that the project meets the following threshold requirements:

(i) The housing sponsor shall demonstrate there is a need for low-income housing in the community or region for which it is proposed.

(ii) The project's proposed financing, including tax credit proceeds, shall be sufficient to complete the project and shall be adequate to operate the project for the extended use period.

(iii) The project shall have enforceable financing commitments, either construction or permanent financing, for at least 50 percent of the total estimated financing of the project.

(iv) The housing sponsor shall have and maintain control of the site for the project.

(v) The housing sponsor shall demonstrate that the project complies with all applicable local land use and zoning ordinances.

(vi) The housing sponsor shall demonstrate that the project development team has the experience and the financial capacity to ensure project completion and operation for the extended use period.

(vii) The housing sponsor shall demonstrate the amount of tax credit that is necessary for the financial feasibility of the project and its viability as a qualified low-income housing project throughout the extended use period, taking into account operating expenses, a supportable debt service, reserves, funds set aside for rental subsidies, and required equity, for the low-income units, and a development fee that does not exceed a specified percentage of the qualified basis of the project prior to inclusion of the development fee in the qualified basis, as determined by the committee.

(B) The committee shall give a preference to those projects satisfying all of the threshold requirements of subparagraph (A) if:

(i) The project serves the lowest income tenants at rents affordable to those tenants; or

(ii) The project is obligated to serve qualified tenants for the longest period.

(C) In addition to the provisions of subparagraphs (A) and (B), the committee shall use the following criteria in allocating housing credits:

(i) Projects serving large families in which the greatest percentage of total square feet of all residential units is comprised of low-income units with three or more bedrooms.

(ii) Projects providing single room occupancy units serving very low income tenants.

(iii) Existing projects that are "at risk of conversion," as defined by paragraph (4) of subdivision (c).

(iv) Projects for which a public agency provides direct or indirect long-term financial support for at least 15 percent of the total project development costs or projects for which the owner's equity constitutes at least 30 percent of the total project development costs.

(v) Projects that provide tenant amenities not generally available to residents of low-income housing projects.

(vi) Projects located within a "difficult to develop area" or a "qualified census tract" as defined in Section 42(d) (5) (C) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(4) For purposes of allocating credits pursuant to this section, the committee shall not give preference to any project by virtue of the date of submission of its application.

(5) Not less than 20 percent of the low-income housing tax credits available annually under this section and Section 23610.5 shall be set aside for allocation to rural areas as defined in Section 50199.21 of the Health and Safety Code. Any amount of credit set aside for rural areas remaining on or after October 31 of any calendar year shall be available for allocation to any eligible project. No amount of credit set aside for rural areas shall be considered available for any eligible project so long as there are eligible rural applications pending on October 31.

(k) Section 42(l) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be modified as follows:

The term "secretary" shall be replaced by the term "Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee."

(l) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the net tax, the excess credit may be carried over to reduce the net tax in the following year, and succeeding taxable years, if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted.

(m) The aggregate amount of tax credits granted pursuant to this section and Section 23610.5 shall not exceed thirty-five million dollars ($35,000,000) per year. The Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee shall not authorize any credit if the total amount of credits authorized in any year under the Personal Income Tax Law and the Bank and Corporation Tax Law exceeds thirty-five million dollars ($35,000,000).

The aggregate amount of credit granted pursuant to this section and Section 23610.5 in 1989 may exceed thirty-five million dollars ($35,000,000) by an amount equal to the unallocated credit from 1987 and 1988.

(n) A project that received an allocation of a 1989 federal housing credit dollar amount shall be eligible to receive an allocation of 1990 a state housing credit dollar amount, subject to all of the following conditions:

(1) The project was not placed in service prior to 1990.

(2) To the extent the amendments made to this section by the Statutes of 1990 conflict with any provisions existing in this section prior to those amendments, the prior provisions of law shall prevail.

(3) Notwithstanding paragraph (2), a project applying for an allocation under this subdivision shall be subject to the requirements of paragraph (3) of subdivision (j).

(o) The credit period with respect to an allocation of credit in 1989 by the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee of which any amount is attributable to unallocated credit from 1987 or 1988 shall not begin until after December 31, 1989.

(p) (1) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1990, and as of that date is repealed. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as provided in subdivision (l), until the credit has been exhausted.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (1), this section shall remain in effect on and after December 1, 1990, for as long as Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code pertaining to low-income housing credits remains in effect.

SEC. 6.5. Section 17062 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 452 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

17062. (a) In addition to the other taxes imposed by this part, there is hereby imposed for each taxable year, a tax equal to the excess, if any, of—

(1) The tentative minimum tax for the taxable year, over

(2) The regular tax for the taxable year.

(b) For purposes of this chapter, each of the following shall apply:

(1) The tentative minimum tax shall be computed in accordance with Sections 55 to 59, inclusive, of the Internal Revenue Code, except as otherwise provided in this part.

(2) The regular tax shall be the amount of tax imposed by Section 17041 or 17048, before reduction for any credits against the tax, less any amount imposed under paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) and paragraph (1) of subdivision (e) of Section 17560.

(3) (A) The provisions of Section 55(b)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be modified to provide that the tentative minimum tax for the taxable year shall be equal to 7 percent of so much of the alternative minimum taxable income for the taxable year as exceeds the exemption amount, before reduction for any credits against the tax.

(B) In the case of a nonresident or part-year resident, the tentative minimum tax shall be computed as if the nonresident or part-year resident were a resident for the entire year multiplied by the ratio of California adjusted gross income (as modified for purposes of this chapter) to total adjusted gross income from all sources (as modified for purposes of this chapter). For purposes of computing the tax under subparagraph (A) and gross income from all sources, the net operating loss deduction provided in Section 56(d) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be computed as if the taxpayer were a resident for all prior years.

(C) For purposes of this section, the term "California adjusted gross income" includes each of the following:

(i) For any period during which the taxpayer was a resident of this state (as defined by Section 17014), all items of adjusted gross income (as modified for purposes of this chapter), regardless of source.

(ii) For any period during which the taxpayer was not a resident of this state, only those items of adjusted gross income (as modified for purposes of this chapter) which were derived from sources within this state, determined in accordance with Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 17951).

(4) (A) If there was a deferral of preference tax under former Section 17064.8 for any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1987, and the amount of the deferred tax has not been paid for any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1987, the amount of the net operating loss carryovers which may be carried to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1986, for purposes of this chapter, shall be reduced by the amount of the tax preferences attributable to the deferred tax which has not been paid.

(B) In the case of a net operating loss allowed to be carried forward under subdivision (d) of Section 17276, subparagraph (A) shall apply to the extent that such a loss would have resulted in a deferred tax under prior law.

(5) The provisions of Section 57(a)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to tax-exempt interest shall not be applicable.

(6) The provisions of Section 59(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the alternative minimum tax foreign tax credit, shall not be applicable.

(7) Section 56(b)(1)(E) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to standard deduction and deduction for personal exemptions not allowed, is modified, for purposes of this part, to deny the standard deduction allowed by Section 17073.5.

SEC. 7. Section 17551 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17551. (a) Accounting periods and methods of accounting shall be determined in accordance with Subchapter E of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

(b) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1987, Section 444 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to election of taxable years other than required taxable years, shall be applicable, except that Section 444(c)(1), relating to effect of election, shall not apply.

SEC. 8. Section 18001 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18001. (a) Subject to the following conditions, residents shall be allowed a credit against the "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039) for net income taxes imposed by and paid to another state (not including any preference, alternative, or minimum tax comparable to the tax imposed by Section 17062) on income taxable under this part:

(1) The credit shall be allowed only for taxes paid to the other state (not including any preference, alternative, or minimum tax comparable to the tax imposed by Section 17062) on income derived from sources within that state which is taxable under its laws irrespective of the residence or domicile of the recipient.

This paragraph shall not apply to residents to whom subdivision (b) of Section 17014 applies.

(2) The credit shall not be allowed if the other state allows residents of this state a credit against the taxes imposed by that state (not including any preference, alternative, or minimum tax comparable to the tax imposed by Section 17062) for "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039) paid or payable under this part.

(3) The credit shall not exceed such proportion of the "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039) payable under this part as the income subject to tax in the other state (not including any preference, alternative, or minimum tax comparable to the tax imposed by Section 17062) and also taxable under this part bears to the taxpayer's entire income upon which the "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039) is imposed by this part.

(4) No credit shall be allowed under this section for any tax imposed by Section 17062.

(b) For purposes of this section, the amount of "net income taxes" paid to another state shall include the taxpayer's pro rata share of any taxes on, or according to, or measured by, income or profits paid or accrued, which were paid by an S corporation, as provided by Section 18006.

SEC. 9. Section 18002 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18002. (a) Subject to the following conditions, nonresidents shall be allowed a credit against the "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039) for net income taxes imposed by and paid to the state of residence (not including any preference, alternative, or minimum tax comparable to the tax imposed by Section 17062) on income taxable under this part:

(1) The credit shall be allowed only if the state of residence either does not tax income of residents of this state derived from sources within that state or allows residents of this state a credit against the taxes imposed by that state on such income for "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039) paid or payable thereon under this part.

(2) The credit shall not be allowed for taxes paid to a state which allows its residents a credit against the taxes imposed by that state for "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039) paid or payable under this part irrespective of whether its residents are allowed a credit against the taxes imposed by this part for income taxes paid to that state.

(3) Credit shall be allowed only for such proportion of the taxes paid to the state of residence (not including any preference, alternative, or minimum tax comparable to the tax imposed by Section 17062) as the income taxable under this part and also subject to tax in the state of residence bears to the entire income upon which the taxes paid to the state of residence are imposed.

(4) The credit shall not exceed such proportion of the "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039) payable under this part as the income subject to tax in the state of residence and also taxable under this part bears to the entire income taxable under this part

(5) No credit shall be allowed under this section for any tax imposed by Section 17062.

(b) For purposes of this section, the amount of "net income taxes" paid to another state shall include the taxpayer's pro rata share of any taxes on, or according to, or measured by, income or profits paid or accrued, which were paid by an S corporation, as provided by Section 18006.

SEC. 10. Section 18006 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18006. For purposes of determining a credit under Section 18001 (relating to residents) or Section 18002 (relating to nonresidents), both of the following apply:

(a) A member of a partnership shall be allowed to treat his, her, or its pro rata share of net income taxes paid to another state by the partnership as if those taxes had been paid directly by the partner.

(b) (1) A shareholder of a corporation electing to be treated as an S corporation under Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 23800) of Part 11 shall be allowed to treat his or her pro rata share of net income taxes paid to another state by the S corporation as if those taxes had been paid by the shareholder.

(2) This subdivision shall apply only when the state imposing the tax does not allow corporations to elect to be treated as an S corporation.

SEC. 11. Section 18035.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18035.5. (a) If a qualified housing project is sold or disposed of by the taxpayer in an approved disposition, then, at the election of the taxpayer, gain from that approved disposition shall not be recognized to the extent specified in subdivision (c). An election made under this section shall be made at the time and in the manner specified by the Franchise Tax Board in forms and instructions

(b) For purposes of this section.

(1) "Qualified housing project" means a project providing rental or cooperative housing for lower income families subject to any of the following with respect to which the owner is, under those sections or regulations issued thereunder limited as to the rate of return on his or her investment in the project, and limited as to rentals or occupancy charges for units in the project:

(A) A mortgage insured by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development under either Section 202, 213, 221(d)(3), 231, 236, or 608 of the National Housing Act.

(B) A mortgage securing a direct loan from the Farmers Home Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture under either Section 514 or 515 of the Housing Act of 1949.

(C) A Housing Assistance Payments contract under Section 8 of the United States Housing Act of 1937, where that contract provides a project-based subsidy under the New Construction, Moderate Rehabilitation, Substantial Rehabilitation, or Loan Management programs.

(2) "Approved disposition" means a sale or other disposition of a qualified housing project to a qualified entity as defined in this subdivision and subject to specific use restrictions, as defined in this subdivision.

(3) "Qualified entities" include any of the following:

(A) A nonprofit corporation that has obtained tax-exempt status under either Section 501(c)(3) or 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(B) A public agency or unit of state or local government.

(C) A limited equity cooperative formed pursuant to Section 33007.5 of the Health and Safety Code.

(D) A limited partnership, of which a general partner is one of the above qualified entities, or an affiliate thereof, where a majority of the board of directors of the affiliate is appointed or removable by the qualified entity or where the qualified entity owns a majority of the voting shares of the affiliate, so long as the partnership agreement limits the annual rate of return to investors to 8 percent of their capital contributions.

(4) A qualified entity acquiring a qualified housing project shall agree for the useful life of the project to all of the following conditions and restrictions:

(A) To assume the obligations imposed by any loan agreement, mortgage, subsidy contract, or regulatory agreement on the project.

(B) To restrict occupancy in accordance with the threshold requirements of Section 42(g) of the Internal Revenue Code where less than all of the units in the projects are occupied by tenants whose incomes make the project eligible for the tax credit under Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(C) To accept all available rent subsidies on behalf of tenants in the project.

(D) Not to evict tenants without a showing of good cause.

(E) Not to arbitrarily discriminate against applicants for admission on the basis of family income or any other basis prohibited by law.

(F) To establish rents for the project not exceeding those required by the terms of any subsidy program utilized at the project or the rent restrictions required by Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code, whichever is less.

(G) To be subject to continued regulation by federal or state housing agencies or the Department of Housing and Community Development to ensure compliance with these regulatory requirements.

(H) To restrict occupancy in accordance with this paragraph by a deed restriction running with the land and enforceable by the Department of Housing and Community Development. Any regulatory agreement establishing these occupancy restrictions shall be deemed a contract and shall be enforceable by affected tenants as third-party beneficiaries thereto

(c) (1) Where all units in the project are used in accordance with the standards specified in paragraph (4) of subdivision (b), and all of the units are occupied by tenants whose incomes make the project eligible for the tax credit under Section 42 of the Internal Revenue

Code, then 50 percent of the gain, which would otherwise be recognized, shall not be recognizable to any extent.

(2) So long as the threshold requirements of Section 42(g) of the Internal Revenue Code are met, where less than all of the units in the project are occupied by tenants whose incomes make the project eligible for the tax credit under Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code, then the gain shall not be recognized in accordance with the formulas for allocating the low-income housing tax credit, as provided in Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(d) Upon the receipt of information that a qualified entity is failing to use the project in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (4) of subdivision (b), then the Department of Housing and Community Development shall conduct an investigation of the allegations. If the department determines that the qualified entity is utilizing good faith efforts to use the units in the project to the maximum extent possible in accordance with the restrictions specified in paragraph (4) of subdivision (b), and it is not economically feasible to utilize all units in that fashion, then the department shall not seek to remedy the alleged violation. If the department determines that there exists an unjustified violation of the restrictions specified in paragraph (4) of subdivision (b), then the department shall pursue whatever remedies are specified by law for that violation, including the imposition of a receivership to operate the project in accordance with the requirements of this section and recovery of a penalty from the qualified entity in the amount of tax that would have been imposed upon the capital gain that was not recognized and penalties and interest for delinquent taxes as otherwise provided by law.

(e) No project on which 50 percent of the capital gains has been nonrecognized pursuant to subdivision (c) shall be sold or otherwise disposed of without the prior written approval of the Department of Housing and Community Development. In giving that approval, the department shall ensure that the project shall continue to be subject to the requirements of paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) or that any net proceeds of the sale are utilized for charitable low-income housing purposes. In determining what constitutes the net proceeds of the sale, where the seller is a qualified limited partnership entity under subparagraph (D) of paragraph (3) of subdivision (b), the Department of Housing and Community Development shall consider the terms of the partnership agreement.

(f) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1990, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1990, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 12. Section 18470 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18470. (a) If an individual serving in the Armed Forces of the United States, or serving in support of such armed forces, is continuously outside the Americas for longer than 90 days, that period of time and the next 90 days thereafter shall be disregarded in determining under this part the amount of any credit or refund (including interest) or in respect of any liability for taxes, interests or penalties of that individual whether any of the following acts were performed within the time prescribed:

(1) Filing any return of income tax (except income tax withheld at source);

(2) Payment of any income tax (except income tax withheld at source);

(3) Filing an appeal with the State Board of Equalization;

(4) Allowance of a credit or refund of any tax;

(5) Filing a claim for credit or refund of any tax;

(6) Bringing a suit upon any such claim for credit or refund;

(7) Assessment of any tax;

(8) Giving or making any notice or demand, for the payment of any tax, or with respect to any liability in respect of any tax;

(9) Collection, by the Franchise Tax Board or the collector, by distraint or otherwise, of the amount of any liability in respect of any tax;

(10) Bringing suit by the State of California, or any officer on its behalf, in respect of any liability in respect of any tax; and

(11) Any other act required or permitted under this part.

(b) This section shall apply to the spouse of any individual entitled to the benefits of subdivision (a).

SEC. 13. Section 18515.2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 102 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

18515.2. Notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code, all money transferred to the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Account in the General Fund pursuant to Section 18515.1 is hereby continuously appropriated, without regard to fiscal years, for allocation as follows:

(a) To the Franchise Tax Board and the Controller for reimbursement of all costs incurred by the Franchise Tax Board and the Controller in connection with their duties under this article.

(b) To the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Commission established pursuant to Section 1300 of the Military and Veterans Code for use in the construction of a suitable memorial to Vietnam veterans at the State Capitol, including the amount of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) for purposes of the recordation of additional names upon, and the repair of, the memorial. Any modifications or alterations of, or additions to, the Vietnam Veterans Memorial shall be performed in accordance with criteria established by the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Commission.

(c) If moneys in the account exceed the amount required to construct, improve, maintain, or repair a Vietnam Veterans Memorial, the balance shall be allocated by the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Commission to be used for the construction, improvement, or repair of other veterans' memorials as designated by that commission.

(d) Any moneys allocated to the Veterans Memorial Commission pursuant to subdivision (c) may be deposited by that commission in a trust account in a private financial institution.

(e) Those moneys identified in subdivision (b) for the purpose of funding the recordation of additional names upon, and the repair of, the Vietnam Veterans Memorial may be deposited in a separate special account to be disbursed as required by the Director of Veterans Affairs.

SEC. 14. Section 18515.2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 102 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

18515.2. Notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code, all money transferred to the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Account in the General Fund pursuant to Section 18515.1 is hereby continuously appropriated, without regard to fiscal years, for allocation as follows:

(a) To the Franchise Tax Board and the Controller for reimbursement of all costs incurred by the Franchise Tax Board and the Controller in connection with their duties under this article.

(b) (1) To the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Commission established pursuant to Section 1300 of the Military and Veterans Code for use in the construction, maintenance, and operation of a suitable memorial to Vietnam veterans at the State Capitol, including the amount of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) for purposes of the recordation of additional names upon, and the repair of, the memorial. Any modifications or alterations of, or additions to, the Vietnam Veterans Memorial shall be performed in accordance with criteria established by the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Commission.

(2) For purposes of this subdivision, "operation" includes, but is not limited to, developing and publishing informational brochures for the memorial, producing an informational film about the memorial, and conducting tours of the memorial.

(c) If moneys in the account exceed the amount required to construct, improve, maintain, or repair a Vietnam Veterans Memorial, the balance shall be allocated by the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Commission to be used for the construction, improvement, or repair of other veterans' memorials as designated by that commission.

(d) Any moneys allocated to the Veterans Memorial Commission pursuant to subdivision (c) may be deposited by that commission in a trust account in a private financial institution.

(e) Those moneys identified in subdivision (b) for the purpose of funding the recordation of additional names upon, and the repair of, the Vietnam Veterans Memorial may be deposited in a separate special account to be disbursed as required by the Director of Veterans Affairs.

SEC. 15. Section 18802.2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18802.2. Every individual, partnership, corporation, joint stock company or association, insurance company, business trust, or so-called Massachusetts trust, shall be required to file a return for certain payments of remuneration for services and furnish written statements to the person whose name is required to be set forth on the return in accordance with the provisions of Section 6041A of the Internal Revenue Code, except that no return or statement shall be required if a statement with respect to the services is required to be furnished under Division 6 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Unemployment Insurance Code (relating to withholding tax on wages) or Section 18802.5, and no return or statement shall be required with respect to direct sales pursuant to Section 6041A(b) of the Internal Revenue Code.

SEC. 16. Section 23036 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23036. (a) (1) The term "tax" includes any of the following:

(A) The tax imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101).

(B) The tax imposed under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 23501).

(C) The tax on unrelated business taxable income, imposed under Section 23731.

(D) The tax on S corporations imposed under Section 23802.

(2) The term "tax" does not include any amount imposed under paragraph (1) of subdivision (e) of Section 24667 or paragraph (2) of subdivision (f) of Section 24667.

(b) For purposes of Chapter 20 (commencing with Section 25661), Chapter 21 (commencing with Section 25901), Chapter 23 (commencing with Section 26131), and Chapter 24 (commencing with Section 26422), and for purposes of Sections 25401, 25551, and 25555, "tax" shall also include all of the following:

(1) The tax on limited partnerships, imposed under Section 23081.

(2) The alternative minimum tax imposed under Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 23400).

(3) The tax on built-in gains of S corporations, imposed under Section 23809.

(4) The tax on excess passive investment income of S corporations, imposed under Section 23811.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, credits shall be allowed against the "tax" in the following order:

(1) Credits which do not contain carryover provisions.

(2) Credits which, when the credit exceeds the "tax," allow the excess to be carried over to offset the "tax" in succeeding taxable years. The order of credits within this paragraph shall be determined by the Franchise Tax Board.

(3) The minimum tax credit allowed by Section 23453.

(4) Credits for taxes withheld under Section 26131.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, each of the following shall be applicable:

(1) No credit shall reduce the "tax" below the tentative minimum tax (as defined by paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 23455), except the following credits, but only after allowance of the credit

allowed by Section 23453—

(A) The credit allowed by former Section 23601 (relating to solar energy).

(B) The credit allowed by former Section 23601.4 (relating to solar energy).

(C) The credit allowed by Section 23601.5 (relating to solar energy).

(D) The credit allowed by Section 23609 (relating to research expenditures).

(E) The credit allowed by Section 23609.5 (relating to clinical testing expenses).

(F) The credit allowed by Section 23610.5 (relating to low-income housing).

(G) Credits for taxes withheld under Section 26131.

(2) No credit against the tax shall reduce the minimum franchise tax imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101).

(e) Any credit which is partially or totally denied under subdivision (d) shall be allowed to be carried over to reduce the "tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, if the provisions relating to that credit include a provision to allow a carryover of the unused portion of that credit.

(f) Unless otherwise provided, any remaining carryover from a credit which has been repealed or made inoperative shall continue to be allowed to be carried over and applied against the "tax" until the credit has been exhausted.

SEC. 16.5. Section 23455 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23455. For purposes of this part, Section 55 of the Internal Revenue Code is modified as follows:

(a) Section 55(b)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to tentative minimum tax, is modified by requiring the tentative minimum tax for the taxable year to be imposed as follows:

(1) With respect to corporations subject to tax under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101), other than financial corporations, according to or measured by net income, for the privilege of doing business within this state, at a rate of 7 percent upon the basis of so much of the alternative minimum taxable income for the taxable year as exceeds the exemption amount.

(2) With respect to corporations subject to tax under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 23501), on net income from sources within this state, at a rate of 7 percent upon the basis of so much of the alternative minimum taxable income for the taxable year as exceeds the exemption amount.

(3) With respect to corporations subject to tax under Article 2 of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 23731), on the unrelated business income from sources within this state, at a rate of 7 percent upon the basis of so much of the alternative taxable income for the taxable year as exceeds the exemption amount.

(4) With respect to banks subject to tax under Section 23181, according to or measured by net income, for the privilege of doing business within this state, in an amount equal to the sum of the following:

(A) At a rate of 7 percent upon the basis of so much of the alternative minimum taxable income as exceeds the exemption amount, and

(B) At the rate determined under Section 23186, less the rate prescribed by Section 23151, upon the basis of net income for the taxable year.

(5) With respect to financial corporations subject to tax under Section 23183, according to or measured by net income, for the privilege of doing business within this state, in an amount equal to the sum of the following:

(A) At a rate of 7 percent upon the basis of so much of the alternative minimum taxable income as exceeds the exemption amount, and

(B) At the rate determined under Section 23186, less the rate prescribed by Section 23151, upon the basis of net income for the taxable year. The offset prescribed by Section 23184 shall be applied to the tentative minimum tax in the same manner and to the same extent as that offset is applied to the tax imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101).

(b) Section 55(b)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the definition of alternative taxable income, is modified as follows:

(1) For corporations whose net income is determined under Chapter 17 (commencing with Section 25101), alternative minimum taxable income shall be allocated and apportioned in the same manner as net income is allocated and apportioned for purposes of the regular tax.

(2) With respect to taxpayers subject to Article 4 (commencing with Section 23221) of Chapter 2, Articles 4 (commencing with Section 23221) to 9 (commencing with Section 23361), inclusive, shall apply to the tax imposed by this section except that Section 23221 shall not apply.

(3) For purposes of computing the alternative minimum tax for taxable years in which a taxpayer commenced doing business, dissolves, withdraws, or ceases doing business, Sections 23151, 23151.1, 23151.2, 23181, 23183, 23183.1, 23183.2, 23201 to 23204, inclusive, 23222 to 23224.5, inclusive, 23282, 23332.5, 23504, and 25401 shall be applied with due regard for the rate and alternative minimum taxable income prescribed by this chapter

(c) Section 55(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the definition of regular tax, is modified to read:

(1) For purposes of this chapter, the term "regular tax" means the amount of tax imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101) or Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 23501) or Article 2 (commencing with Section 23731) of Chapter 4, but does not include any amount imposed under paragraph (1) of subdivision (e) of Section 24667 or paragraph (2) of subdivision (f) of Section 24667.

(2) The tax specified in paragraph (1) shall be the amount determined prior to reduction by any credits against the tax.

SEC. 17. Section 23459 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23459. For purposes of this part, the provisions of Section 59 of the Internal Revenue Code are modified as follows:

(a) Section 59(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the alternative minimum tax foreign tax credit, shall not be applicable.

(b) Section 59(b)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to income eligible for the credit under Section 936 of the Internal Revenue Code, shall not be applicable.

(c) Subparagraphs (A), (B), and (C) of Section 59(e)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to qualified expenditures, are modified to refer to:

(1) Section 24364, in lieu of the deduction under Section 173 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) Section 24365, in lieu of the deduction under Section 174(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) Section 24423, in lieu of the deduction under Section 263(c) of the Internal Revenue Code.

SEC. 18. Section 23601.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23601.5. (a) For income years beginning on or after January 1, 1990, and before January 1, 1994, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "tax" (as defined by Section 23036), an amount equal to 10 percent of the cost of a solar energy system installed on premises, used for commercial purposes, which are located in California and which are owned by the taxpayer during the income year. For purposes of taxpayers who lease a solar energy system pursuant to subdivision (i), the tax credit shall apply only to the principal recovery portion of lease payments, as defined in subdivision (k), for the term of the lease not to exceed 10 years, which are made during the income year, and to the amounts expended on the purchased portion of the solar energy system, including installation charges, during the income year.

(b) (1) The solar energy tax credit shall be claimed on the state income tax return for the income year in which the solar energy system was installed.

(2) The solar energy tax credit may not be claimed for any solar energy system with a generating capacity in excess of 30 megawatts for any income year, or portion thereof, for which the Internal Revenue Code does not allow at least a 10-percent tax credit for solar energy systems with a generating capacity in excess of 30 megawatts which is equivalent in scope to the credit available under the Internal Revenue Code for the 1989 calendar year.

(c) A taxpayer who claimed the solar energy tax credit on the state income tax return for the income year in which the solar energy system was installed may claim the credit in subsequent years for additions to the system or additional systems by the amount prescribed in subdivision (a).

(d) For purposes of computing the credit provided by this section, the cost of any solar energy system eligible for the credit provided by this section shall be reduced by any grant provided by a public entity for that system.

(e) The basis of any system for which a credit is allowed shall be reduced by the amount of the credit and the amount of any grant provided by a utility or public agency for the solar energy system. The basis adjustment shall be made for the income year for which the credit is allowed.

(f) If there is more than one owner of a premises on which a solar energy system is installed, each owner shall be eligible to receive the solar energy tax credit in proportion to its ownership interests in the premises. In the case of a partnership, the solar energy tax credit may be divided between the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement.

(g) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the "tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit is exhausted.

(h) No tax credit may be claimed under this section for any expenditures which have been otherwise claimed as a tax credit for the current or any prior income year as energy conservation measures under this part.

(i) Taxpayers who lease a solar energy system installed on premises in California shall receive a tax credit as provided in subdivision (a), if the lessee can confirm, if necessary, by a written document signed by the lessor that (1) the lessor irrevocably elects not to claim a state tax credit for the solar energy system, and (2) if the system is installed in a locality served by a municipal solar utility, that the lessor holds a valid permit from the municipal solar utility. Leasing requirements may be established by the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission as part of the solar energy system eligibility criteria.

(j) The State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission shall, after one or more public hearings, establish guidelines and criteria for solar energy systems which shall be eligible for the credit provided by this section. These guidelines and criteria shall include, but are not limited to, minimum requirements for safety, cost-effectiveness, in terms of dollars per kilowatt, market readiness, reliability, and durability of solar energy systems.

Any solar energy system with a generating capacity in excess of 10 megawatts may qualify for the credit only if the owner of the solar energy system first obtains a finding from the commission that the system is eligible for the credit under the guidelines and criteria established pursuant to this subdivision Any solar energy system certified by the commission pursuant to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 25500) of Division 15 of the Public Resources Code shall be deemed eligible for the credit.

The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe those regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

(k) For purposes of this section, the following definitions shall apply:

(1) "Installed" means placed in a functionally operative state.

(2) "Cost" includes equipment, installation charges, and compensation paid to the owner of burdened property in connection with the acquisition of a solar easement, as defined in Section 801.5 of the Civil Code, and the fees for the recording of the easement. In the case of a system which is leased, "cost" means the principal recovery portion of lease payments, which is the cost incurred by the taxpayer in acquiring the solar energy system, excluding interest charges and maintenance expenses.

"Cost" does not include interest charges and costs associated with the acquisition of an easement other than a solar easement.

"Cost" includes all components to carry out the intended use of the system if they are an integral part of the system.

(3) "Owner" includes duly recorded holders of legal title, lessees with at least three years remaining on their lease or easement granting use of the premises, a person purchasing premises under a contract of sale, or who holds shares or membership in a cooperative housing corporation, which holding is a requisite to the exclusive right of occupancy to the premises, a person who is a member of a nonprofit corporation or association which is a duly recorded holder of legal title, or a person who is a member of a nonprofit corporation or association which is a lessee with at least three years remaining on its lease.

(4) "Premises" means the principal stationary location in California where the system is installed for direct use or for purposes of sale of energy, and includes land, easements, and buildings or portions thereof.

(5) "Commercial purposes" means the installation of solar energy systems on premises other than single-family dwellings.

(6) "Single-family dwelling" means single-family residences, mobilehomes, and the individual units of condominiums.

"Single-family dwelling" does not include cooperatives, apartment buildings, or other similar multiple dwellings, including buildings and any other common areas of a condominium maintained by a homeowners' association.

(7) (A) "Solar energy system" means the use of solar devices designed or intended for the individual function of production of electricity in excess of 30 watts per device.

"Solar energy system" includes, but is not limited to, solar thermal electric systems and photovoltaic systems.

For purposes of this section, "solar energy system" does not include solar devices for the individual function of wind energy for the production of electricity or mechanical work.

(B) Eligible solar energy systems shall have a useful life of not less than five years

(8) "Solar device" means the equipment associated with the collection, conversion, transfer, distribution, storage, or control of solar energy. In the case of a solar device associated with two or more solar energy systems, the credit allowed for the solar device may be taken for any one of the systems, or divided equally between them.

(9) "Municipal solar utility" means a city, county, or municipal utility district, or agency thereof, which sells or leases solar or other energy generating equipment or energy saving devices for residential, commercial, agricultural, or industrial uses or which issues permits to companies engaged in the leasing of this equipment.

(l) Except for purposes of subdivision (g) of Section 23601.4, the provisions of this section shall not apply to any solar energy system which continues to qualify for the tax credit authorized by former Section 23601 (as amended by Chapter 1200 of the Statutes of 1986) by meeting the eligibility requirements of subdivision (j) of that section.

(m) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as provided in subdivision (g), until the credit has been exhausted.

SEC. 18.5. Section 23601.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23601.5. (a) For income years beginning on or after January 1, 1990, and before January 1, 1994, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "tax" (as defined by Section 23036), an amount equal to 10 percent of the cost of a solar energy system installed on premises, used for commercial purposes, which are located in California and which are owned by the taxpayer during the income year. For purposes of taxpayers who lease a solar energy system pursuant to subdivision (i), the tax credit shall apply only to the principal recovery portion of lease payments, as defined in subdivision (k), for the term of the lease not to exceed 10 years, which are made during the income year, and to the amounts expended on the purchased portion of the solar energy system, including installation charges, during the income year.

(b) The solar energy tax credit shall be claimed on the state income tax return for the income year in which the solar energy system was installed.

(c) A taxpayer who claimed the solar energy tax credit on the state income tax return for the income year in which the solar energy system was installed may claim the credit in subsequent years for additions to the system or additional systems by the amount prescribed in subdivision (a).

(d) For purposes of computing the credit provided by this section, the cost of any solar energy system eligible for the credit provided by this section shall be reduced by any grant provided by a public entity for that system.

(e) The basis of any system for which a credit is allowed shall be reduced by the amount of the credit and the amount of any grant provided by a utility or public agency for the solar energy system. The basis adjustment shall be made for the income year for which the credit is allowed.

(f) If there is more than one owner of a premises on which a solar energy system is installed, each owner shall be eligible to receive the solar energy tax credit in proportion to its ownership interests in the premises. In the case of a partnership, the solar energy tax credit may be divided between the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement.

(g) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the "tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit is exhausted.

(h) No tax credit may be claimed under this section for any expenditures which have been otherwise claimed as a tax credit for the current or any prior income year as energy conservation measures under this part.

(i) Taxpayers who lease a solar energy system installed on premises in California shall receive a tax credit as provided in subdivision (a), if the lessee can confirm, if necessary, by a written document signed by the lessor that (1) the lessor irrevocably elects not to claim a state tax credit for the solar energy system, and (2) if the system is installed in a locality served by a municipal solar utility, that the lessor holds a valid permit from the municipal solar utility. Leasing requirements may be established by the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission as part of the solar energy system eligibility criteria.

(j) The State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission shall, after one or more public hearings, establish guidelines and criteria for solar energy systems which shall be eligible for the credit provided by this section. These guidelines and criteria shall include, but are not limited to, minimum requirements for safety, cost-effectiveness, in terms of dollars per kilowatt, market readiness, reliability, and durability of solar energy systems.

(1) The commission may grant an exemption from any of the guidelines and criteria if the commission finds that the project, when evaluated in its entirety and based on particular circumstances, meets the intent of Chapter 1291 of the Statutes of 1989.

(2) Any solar energy system with a generating capacity in excess of 10 megawatts may qualify for the credit only if the owner of the solar energy system first obtains a finding from the commission that the system is eligible for the credit under the guidelines and criteria established pursuant to this subdivision. Any solar energy system certified by the commission pursuant to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 25500) of Division 15 of the Public Resources Code shall be deemed eligible for the credit.

(3) As specified in the guidelines and criteria established by the commission, any solar energy system with a generating capacity in excess of one megawatt and less than or equal to 10 megawatts may qualify for the credit only if the owner of the solar energy system first obtains a finding from the commission that the system is eligible for the credit under the guidelines and criteria established pursuant to this subdivision.

(4) The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe those regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

(k) For purposes of this section, the following definitions shall apply:

(1) "Installed" means placed in a functionally operative state.

(2) "Cost" includes equipment, installation charges, and compensation paid to the owner of burdened property in connection with the acquisition of a solar easement, as defined in Section 801.5 of the Civil Code, and the fees for the recording of the easement. In the case of a system which is leased, "cost" means the principal recovery portion of lease payments, which is the cost incurred by the taxpayer in acquiring the solar energy system, excluding interest charges and maintenance expenses.

"Cost" does not include interest charges and costs associated with the acquisition of an easement other than a solar easement.

"Cost" includes all components to carry out the intended use of the system if they are an integral part of the system.

(3) "Owner" includes duly recorded holders of legal title, lessees with at least three years remaining on their lease or easement granting use of the premises, a person purchasing premises under a contract of sale, or who holds shares or membership in a cooperative housing corporation, which holding is a requisite to the exclusive right of occupancy to the premises, a person who is a member of a nonprofit corporation or association which is a duly recorded holder of legal title, or a person who is a member of a nonprofit corporation or association which is a lessee with at least three years remaining on its lease.

(4) "Premises" means the principal stationary location in California where the solar energy system is installed for direct use or for purposes of sale of energy, and includes land, easements, and buildings or portions thereof.

(5) "Commercial purposes" means the installation of solar energy systems on premises other than single-family dwellings.

(6) "Single-family dwelling" means single-family residences, mobilehomes, and the individual units of condominiums.

"Single-family dwelling" does not include cooperatives, apartment buildings, or other similar multiple dwellings, including buildings and any other common areas of a condominium maintained by a homeowners' association.

(7) (A) "Solar energy system" means the use of solar devices designed or intended for the individual function of production of electricity in excess of 30 watts per device.

"Solar energy system" includes, but is not limited to, solar thermal electric systems and photovoltaic systems.

For purposes of this section, "solar energy system" does not include solar devices for the individual function of wind energy for the production of electricity or mechanical work.

(B) Eligible solar energy systems shall have a useful life of not less than five years.

(8) "Solar device" means the equipment associated with the collection, conversion, transfer, distribution, storage, or control of solar energy. In the case of a solar device associated with two or more solar energy systems, the credit allowed for the solar device may be taken for any one of the systems, or divided equally between them.

(9) "Municipal solar utility" means a city, county, or municipal utility district, or agency thereof, which sells or leases solar or other energy generating equipment or energy saving devices for residential, commercial, agricultural, or industrial uses or which issues permits to companies engaged in the leasing of this equipment.

(l) Except for purposes of subdivision (g) of Section 23601.4, the provisions of this section shall not apply to any solar energy system which continues to qualify for the tax credit authorized by former Section 23601 (as amended by Chapter 1200 of the Statutes of 1986) by meeting the eligibility requirements of subdivision (j) of that section.

(m) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as provided in subdivision (g), until the credit has been exhausted.

SEC. 19. Section 23605 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23605. (a) For income years beginning on or after January 1, 1989, and before January 1, 1996, there shall be allowed as a credit against the amount of "tax" (as defined in Section 23036) an amount equal to the amount determined in subdivisions (b), (c), and (g).

(b) The amount of the credit allowed by this subdivision shall be as follows:

(1) In the case of an employer with 200 or more employees, the credit shall be 20 percent of the cost paid or incurred by an employer for the purchase of company shuttle buses, company commuter buses or vans, or company motor-pool vehicles which are provided as part of an employer-sponsored ridesharing incentive program for employees conducted principally in this state.

(2) In the case of an employer with less than 200 employees, the credit shall be 30 percent of the cost specified in paragraph (1).

(3) The credit provided in this subdivision shall be claimed in the state return for the income year in which the ridesharing vehicles are purchased and placed in service.

(4) The basis of any ridesharing vehicle purchased for which a credit is allowed shall be reduced by the amount of the credit. The basis adjustment shall be made for the income year for which the credit is allowed.

(5) If a ridesharing vehicle purchased for which a credit is provided in this subdivision is disposed of, or is no longer used as part of an employer-sponsored ridesharing incentive program, within three years of its acquisition, that portion of the credit provided in this subdivision which represents the pro rata share of that remaining three-year period shall be added to the employer's tax liability in the income year of that disposition or nonuse. The basis of the vehicle shall be increased by an amount equal to that amount added to the employer's tax liability.

(c) The amount of the credit allowed by this subdivision shall be as follows:

(1) In the case of an employer with 200 or more employees, the credit shall be 15 percent of the cost paid or incurred by an employer for leasing or contracting company shuttle buses, company commuter buses or vans, or company motor-pool vehicles which are provided as part of an employer-sponsored ridesharing incentive program. This credit shall be based on the total payments to the lessor or vehicle provider during the life of the lease or contract. The lessor or vehicle provider of vehicles specified in this subdivision is not eligible for this credit.

(2) In the case of an employer with less than 200 employees, the credit shall be 30 percent of the cost specified in paragraph (1)

(3) The credit provided in this subdivision shall be claimed in the state income tax return for the income year in which the ridesharing vehicles are leased or contracted for and placed in service. However, with respect to ridesharing vehicles first leased or contracted for prior to the 1989 income year, the credit provided in this subdivision shall be claimed in the state income tax return for the 1989 income year based on the total payments to the lessor or vehicle provider during the 1989 income year and the total payments to be made during the remaining life of the lease or contract.

(4) If a ridesharing vehicle leased or contracted for which a credit is provided in this subdivision is disposed of, or is no longer used as part of an employer-sponsored ridesharing incentive program, prior to the expiration date of the lease or contract, that portion of the credit provided in this subdivision which represents the pro rata share of the remaining life of that lease or contract shall be added to the employer's tax liability in the income year of that disposition or nonuse.

(d) The credits allowed by subdivisions (b) and (c) shall not apply to the cost of purchasing, leasing, or contracting company shuttle buses, company commuter buses or vans, or company motor-pool vehicles which would otherwise be required as part of the employer's business activities in the absence of an employer-sponsored ridesharing incentive program.

(e) If two or more taxpayers share in the expenses eligible for the credit provided by this section, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive the tax credit in proportion to its respective share of the expenses paid or incurred. In the case of a partnership, the tax credit may be divided between the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement in accordance with Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 17851), which includes Section 704 of the Internal Revenue Code concerning substantial economic effect, relating to a partner's distributive share.

(f) The employer shall do all of the following with respect to the credits allowed in subdivisions (b) and (c):

(1) Keep a contemporaneous log of the vehicle's use such that it can be determined that it meets the requirements specified in subdivision (i). The log information shall include, but not be limited to, dates and times the vehicle was driven, the mileage for each trip, and the purpose of the trip.

(2) Retain vehicle documents verifying the vehicle's weight requirements, if applicable, and fuel efficiency standards as specifed in subdivision (i). These documents shall include, but not be limited to, the vehicle's owners manual and the vehicle's registration.

(3) Provide upon the request of the Franchise Tax Board the information specified in paragraphs (1) and (2)

(g) A credit shall be allowed by this subdivision for the cost paid or incurred by employers for providing subsidized public transit passes to employees as follows:

(1) Forty percent of the cost if the employers provide no free or subsidized parking.

(2) Twenty percent of the cost if the employers provide subsidized parking.

(3) Ten percent of the cost if the employers provide free parking

(h) In the case where the credit allowed by this section exceeds the "tax" the excess may be carried over to reduce the "tax" in the following years and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted.

(i) For purposes of this section.

(1) "Employer" means a taxpayer for whom services are performed by employees, except government agencies.

(2) "Employee" means an individual who performs service for an employer for more than 10 hours per week for remuneration.

(3) "Employer-sponsored ridesharing incentive program" means a program undertaken by an employer either alone or in cooperation with other employers to encourage or provide, or both, fiscal or other incentives to employees to make the home-to-work commute trip by any mode other than the single-occupant motor vehicle.

(4) "Company shuttle bus" means a highway vehicle which meets all of the following criteria:

(A) Has a seating capacity of at least seven adults, including the driver.

(B) At least 80 percent of the mileage of which reasonably can be expected to be for any of the following purposes:

(i) Transporting employees on a scheduled-route basis.

(ii) Interfacing with public transportation facilities.

(iii) Transporting employees on a demand-response basis.

(C) Is acquired by the taxpayer on or after the date of the enactment of this section, except as provided in paragraph (3) of subdivision (c).

(D) With respect to which the taxpayer makes an election under this paragraph on its return for the income year in which the vehicle is placed in service.

(E) Is made available to all employees on a nondiscriminatory basis in the normal course of the taxpayer's business.

(5) "Company commuter bus or van" means a highway vehicle which meets all of the following criteria:

(A) Has a seating capacity of at least seven adults, including the driver.

(B) At least 50 percent of the mileage of which can be reasonably expected to be used for the purpose of transporting employees to and from work.

(C) Is acquired by the taxpayer on or after the date of enactment of this section, except as provided in paragraph (3) of subdivision (c).

(D) With respect to which the taxpayer makes an election under this paragraph on its return for the income year in which the vehicle is placed in service.

(E) Is made available to all employees on a nondiscriminatory basis in the normal course of the taxpayer's business.

(6) "Company motor-pool vehicle" means a highway vehicle which meets all of the following criteria:

(A) Is an automobile with a gross vehicle weight of 6,000 pounds or less.

(B) Meets or exceeds certain fuel efficiency standards pursuant to the provisions of Title II of Public Law 95-618.

(C) Is made available to all employees on a nondiscriminatory basis during the course of the taxpayer's business, and at least 50 percent of its mileage during the taxable year can reasonably be expected to be used for the purpose of providing transportation to employees.

(D) Is acquired by the taxpayer on or after the date of the enactment of this section, except as provided in paragraph (3) of subdivision (c).

(E) With respect to which the taxpayer makes an election under this paragraph on its return for the income year in which the vehicle is placed in service.

(7) "Subsidized parking" means any parking provided to employees at the worksite of the employee receiving the transit pass that is not charged at its fair market value, represented by the prevailing price charged for similar parking within a half-mile radius of the worksite, as certified by the employer.

(j) The credit provided in this section shall be in lieu of any deduction under this part to which the taxpayer otherwise may be entitled for costs to which the credit applies.

(k) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1996, and as of that date is repealed. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as provided in subdivision (h), until the credit has been exhausted.

SEC. 19.3. Section 23610.4 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 166 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

23610.4. It is the intent of the Legislature that the amount of the state low-income housing tax credit allocated to a project pursuant to Section 23610.5 shall not exceed an amount in addition to the federal tax credit that is necessary for the financial feasibility of the project and its viability throughout the extended use period.

SEC. 19.5. Section 23610.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 166 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

23610.5. (a) (1) There shall be allowed as a credit against the "tax" (as defined by Section 23036) a state low-income housing tax credit in an amount equal to the amount determined in subdivision (c), computed in accordance with Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, except as otherwise provided in this section.

(2) "Taxpayer," for purposes of this section, means the sole owner in the case of a C corporation, the partners in the case of a partnership, and the shareholders in the case of an S corporation.

(3) "Housing sponsor," for purposes of this section, means the sole owner in the case of a C corporation, the partnership in the case of a partnership, and the S corporation in the case of an S corporation.

(b) (1) The amount of the credit allocated to any housing sponsor shall be authorized by the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee, or any successor thereof, based on a project's need for the credit for economic feasibility in accordance with the requirements of this section.

(A) The low-income housing project shall be located in California and shall meet either of the following requirements:

(i) The project's housing sponsor shall have been allocated by the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee a credit for federal income tax purposes under Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(ii) It shall qualify for a credit under Section 42(h)(4)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(B) The Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee shall not require fees for the credit under this section in addition to those fees required for applications for the tax credit pursuant to Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code. The committee may require a fee if the application for the credit under this section is submitted in a calendar year after the year the application is submitted for the federal tax credit.

(2) (A) The Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee shall certify to the housing sponsor the amount of tax credit under this section allocated to the housing sponsor for each credit period.

(B) In the case of a partnership or an S corporation, the housing sponsor shall provide a copy of the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee certification to the taxpayer.

(C) The taxpayer shall attach a copy of the certification to any return upon which a tax credit is claimed under this section.

(D) In the case of a failure to attach a copy of the certification for the year to the return in which a tax credit is claimed under this section, no credit under this section shall be allowed for that year until a copy of that certification is provided.

(E) All elections made by the taxpayer pursuant to Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code shall apply to this section.

(F) No credit shall be allocated under this section to buildings located in a difficult development area or a qualified census tract as defined in Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code for which the eligible basis of a new building or the rehabilitation expenditure of an existing building is 130 percent of that amount pursuant to subparagraph (C) of paragraph (5) of subsection (d) of Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(c) Section 42(b) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be modified as follows:

(1) In the case of any qualified low-income building placed in service by the housing sponsor during 1987, the term "applicable percentage" means 9 percent for each of the first three years and 3 percent for the fourth year for new buildings (whether or not the building is federally subsidized) and for existing buildings.

(2) In the case of any qualified low-income building that receives an allocation after 1989 and is a new building not federally subsidized, the term "applicable percentage" means the following:

(A) For each of the first three years, the percentage prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury for new buildings which are not federally subsidized for the taxable year, determined in accordance with the requirements of Section 42(b)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, in lieu of the percentage prescribed in Section 42(b)(1)(A).

(B) For the fourth year, the difference between 30 percent and the sum of the applicable percentages for the first three years.

(3) In the case of any qualified low-income building that receives an allocation after 1989 and that is a new building which is federally subsidized or that is an existing building that is "at risk of conversion," the term "applicable percentage" means the following:

(A) For each of the first three years, the percentage prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury for new buildings which are federally subsidized for the taxable year.

(B) For the fourth year, the difference between 13 percent and the sum of the applicable percentages for the first three years.

(4) For purposes of this section, the term "at risk of conversion," with respect to an existing building means a building which satisfies all of the following criteria:

(A) The building is presently owned by a housing sponsor other than a qualified nonprofit organization.

(B) The building is a federally assisted building for which the low-income use restrictions will terminate or the mortgage on the building is eligible for prepayment under Subtitle 13 of the Emergency Low Income Housing Assistance Act of 1987 or under Section 502(c) of the Housing Act of 1949, anytime in the three calendar years after the year of application to the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee.

(C) The person acquiring the building enters into a regulatory agreement that requires the building to be operated in accordance with the requirements of this section for a period equal to the greater of 55 years or the life of the building.

(D) The building satisfies the requirements of Section 42(e) of the Internal Revenue Code regarding rehabilitation expenditures, except that the provisions of Section 42(e)(3)(A)(ii)(I) shall not apply.

(d) The term "qualified low-income housing project" as defined in Section 42(c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified by adding the following requirements:

(1) The taxpayer shall be entitled to receive a cash distribution from the operations of the project, after funding required reserves, which, at the election of the taxpayer, is equal to:

(A) An amount not to exceed 8 percent of the lesser of:

(i) The owner equity which shall include the amount of the capital contributions actually paid to the housing sponsor and shall not include any amounts until they are paid on an investor note; or

(ii) Twenty percent of the adjusted basis of the building as of the close of the first taxable year of the credit period; or

(B) The amount of the cash-flow from those units in the building that are not low-income units. For purposes of computing cash-flow under this subparagraph, operating costs shall be allocated to the low-income units using the "floor space fraction," as defined in Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(C) Any amount allowed to be distributed under subparagraph (A) that is not available for distribution during the first five years of the compliance period may accumulate and be distributed any time during the first 15 years of the compliance period but not thereafter.

(2) The limitation on return shall apply in the aggregate to the partners if the housing sponsor is a partnership and in the aggregate to the shareholders if the housing sponsor is an S corporation.

(3) The housing sponsor shall apply any cash available for distribution in excess of the amount eligible to be distributed under paragraph (1) to reduce the rent on rent-restricted units or to increase the number of rent-restricted units subject to the tests of Section 42(g)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(e) The provisions of Section 42(f) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be modified as follows:

(1) The term "credit period" as defined in Section 42(f)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified by substituting "four income years" for "10 taxable years."

(2) The special rule for the first taxable year of the credit period under Section 42(f)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code shall not apply to the tax credit under this section.

(3) Section 42(f)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified to read:

If, as of the close of any income year in the compliance period, after the first year of the credit period, the qualified basis of any building exceeds the qualified basis of that building as of the close of the first year of the credit period, the housing sponsor, to the extent of its tax credit allocation, shall be eligible for a credit on the excess in an amount equal to the applicable percentage determined pursuant to subdivision (c) for the four-year period beginning with the later of the income years in which the increase in qualified basis occurs.

(f) The provisions of Section 42(h) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be modified as follows:

(1) Section 42(h)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code shall not be applicable and instead the following provisions shall be applicable:

The total amount for the four-year credit period of the housing credit dollars allocated in a calendar year to any building shall reduce the aggregate housing credit dollar amount of the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee for the calendar year in which the allocation is made.

(2) Paragraphs (3), (4), (6), (7), and (8) of Section 42(h) of the Internal Revenue Code shall not be applicable.

(g) Notwithstanding subdivision (m), the aggregate housing credit dollar amount which may be allocated annually by the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee pursuant to this section and Section 17058 shall be an amount equal to the sum of the following:

(1) Thirty-five million dollars ($35,000,000).

(2) The unused housing credit ceiling, if any, for the preceding calendar years; and

(3) The amount of housing credit ceiling returned in the calendar year. For purposes of this paragraph, the amount of housing credit dollar amount returned in the calendar year equals the housing credit dollar amount previously allocated to any project that does not become a qualified low-income housing project within the period required by this section or to any project with respect to which an allocation is canceled by mutual consent of the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee and the allocation recipient.

(h) (1) The term "compliance period" as defined in Section 42(i)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified to mean, with respect to any building, the period of 30-consecutive income years beginning with the first income year of the credit period with respect thereto, subject to the limitation in paragraph (2).

(2) If, after the first 18 years of the compliance period, a qualified low-income housing project is not economically feasible, the housing sponsor shall be entitled to remove one or more low-income units from the set-aside and rent requirements of Section 42(g) of the Internal Revenue Code as is necessary for the project to become economically feasible, provided that once a project is again economically feasible, the housing sponsor designates the next available units as low-income units subject to the set-aside and rent requirements, up to the number of low-income units necessary to arrive at the original applicable fraction, while keeping the project economically feasible.

(3) For purposes of paragraph (2), "economically feasible" means that project revenue equals or exceeds project operating expenses excluding any return on investment.

(4) For purposes of paragraph (3), "operating expenses" means the reasonable expenses necessary to operate and maintain the project in habitable condition, debt service, taxes, and reasonable reserves. For purposes of this paragraph, debt service shall not include that portion of payments of principal and interest attributable to any excess refinanced principal over the outstanding principal of the loan that was refinanced, except to the extent the excess was used for the rehabilitation of the project.

(i) Section 42(j) of the Internal Revenue Code shall not be applicable and the following shall be substituted in its place:

(1) The requirements of this section shall be set forth in a regulatory agreement between the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee and the housing sponsor, which agreement shall be subordinated, when required, to any lien or encumbrance of any banks or other institutional lenders to the project. The regulatory agreement entered into pursuant to subdivision (f) of Section 50199.14 of the Health and Safety Code, shall apply, providing the agreement includes all of the following provisions:

(A) A term not less than the compliance period.

(B) A requirement that the agreement be filed in the official records of the county in which the qualified low-income housing project is located.

(C) A provision stating which state and local agencies can enforce the regulatory agreement in the event the housing sponsor fails to satisfy any of the requirements of this section.

(D) A provision that the regulatory agreement shall be deemed a contract enforceable by tenants as third-party beneficiaries thereto and which allows individuals, whether prospective, present, or former occupants of the building, who meet the income limitation applicable to the building, the right to enforce the regulatory agreement in any state court.

(E) A provision incorporating the requirements of Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code as modified by this section.

(F) A requirement that the housing sponsor provide the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee or its designee and the local agency that can enforce the regulatory agreement with advance notice if the housing sponsor intends to reduce the number of low-income units to make a project economically feasible.

(G) A requirement that the housing sponsor notify the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee or its designee and the local agency that can enforce the regulatory agreement if there is a determination by the Internal Revenue Service that the project is not in compliance with Section 42(g) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(H) A requirement that the housing sponsor, as security for the performance of the housing sponsor's obligations under the regulatory agreement, assign the housing sponsor's interest in rents which it receives from the project, provided that until there is a default under the regulatory agreement, the housing sponsor is entitled to collect and retain the rents.

(I) The remedies available in the event of a default under the regulatory agreement that is not cured within a reasonable cure period, include, but are not limited to, allowing any of the parties designated to enforce the regulatory agreement to collect all rents with respect to the project; taking possession of the project and operating the project in accordance with the regulatory agreement until the enforcer determines the housing sponsor is in a position to operate the project in accordance with the regulatory agreement; applying to any court for specific performance; securing the appointment of a receiver to operate the project; or any other relief as may be appropriate.

(j) (1) The committee shall allocate the housing credit on a regular basis consisting of not less than three periods in each calendar year during which applications may be filed and considered. The committee shall establish application filing deadlines, the maximum percentage of federal and state low-income housing tax credit ceiling which may be allocated by the committee in that period, and the approximate date on which allocations shall be made. If the enactment of federal or state law, the adoption of rules or regulations, or other similar events prevent the use of three allocation periods, the committee may reduce the number of periods and adjust the filing deadlines, maximum percentage of credit allocated, and the allocation dates.

(2) The committee shall adopt a qualified allocation plan, as provided in paragraph (1) of subsection (m) of Section 42 of Title 26 of the United States Code. In adopting this plan, the committee shall comply with the provisions of subparagraphs (B) and (C) of paragraph (1) of subsection (m) of Section 42 of Title 26 of the United States Code.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (m) of Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code, the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee shall allocate housing credits in accordance with the qualified allocation plan and regulations, which shall include the following provisions:

(A) All housing sponsors, as defined by paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) of Section 17058, shall demonstrate at the time the application is filed with the committee that the project meets the following threshold requirements:

(i) The housing sponsor shall demonstrate there is a need for low-income housing in the community or region for which it is proposed.

(ii) The project's proposed financing, including tax credit proceeds, shall be sufficient to complete the project and shall be adequate to operate the project for the extended use period.

(iii) The project shall have enforceable financing commitments, either construction or permanent financing, for at least 50 percent of the total estimated financing of the project.

(iv) The housing sponsor shall have and maintain control of the site for the project.

(v) The housing sponsor shall demonstrate that the project complies with all applicable local land use and zoning ordinances.

(vi) The housing sponsor shall demonstrate that the project development team has the experience and the financial capacity to ensure project completion and operation for the extended use period.

(vii) The housing sponsor shall demonstrate the amount of tax credit that is necessary for the financial feasibility of the project and its viability as a qualified low-income housing project throughout the extended use period, taking into account operating expenses, a supportable debt service, reserves, funds set aside for rental subsidies, and required equity, for the low-income units, and a development fee that does not exceed a specified percentage of the qualified basis of the project prior to inclusion of the development fee in the qualified basis, as determined by the committee.

(B) The committee shall give a preference to those projects satisfying all of the threshold requirements of subparagraph (A) if:

(i) The project serves the lowest income tenants at rents affordable to those tenants; or

(ii) The project is obligated to serve qualified tenants for the longest period.

(C) In addition to the provisions of subparagraphs (A) and (B), the committee shall use the following criteria in allocating housing credits:

(i) Projects serving large families in which the greatest percentage of total square feet of all residential units is comprised of low-income units with three or more bedrooms.

(ii) Projects providing single room occupancy units serving very low income tenants.

(iii) Existing projects that are "at risk of conversion," as defined by paragraph (4) of subdivision (c).

(iv) Projects for which a public agency provides direct or indirect long-term financial support for at least 15 percent of the total project development costs or projects for which the owner's equity constitutes at least 30 percent of the total project development costs.

(v) Projects that provide tenant amenities not generally available to residents of low-income housing projects.

(vi) Projects located within a "difficult to develop area" or a "qualified census tract" as defined in Section 42(d) (5) (C) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(4) For purposes of allocating credits pursuant to this section, the committee shall not give preference to any project by virtue of the date of submission of its application except to break a tie when two or more of the projects have an equal rating.

(5) Not less than 20 percent of the low-income housing tax credits available annually under this section and Section 17058 shall be set aside for allocation to rural areas as defined in Section 50199.21 of the Health and Safety Code. Any amount of credit set aside for rural areas remaining on or after October 31 of any calendar year shall be available for allocation to any eligible project. No amount of credit set aside for rural areas shall be considered available for any eligible project so long as there are eligible rural applications pending on October 31.

(k) Section 42(l) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be modified as follows:

The term "secretary" shall be replaced by the term "Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee."

(l) In the case where the state credit allowed under this section exceeds the "tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted.

(m) The aggregate amount of tax credits granted pursuant to this section and Section 17058 shall not exceed thirty-five million dollars ($35,000,000) per year. The Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee shall not authorize any credit if the total amount of credits authorized in any year under the Personal Income Tax Law and the Bank and Corporation Tax Law exceeds thirty-five million dollars ($35,000,000).

The aggregate amount of credit granted pursuant to this section and Section 17058 in 1989 may exceed thirty-five million dollars ($35,000,000) by an amount equal to the unallocated credit from 1987 and 1988.

(n) A project that received an allocation of a 1989 federal housing credit dollar amount shall be eligible to receive an allocation of a 1990 state housing credit dollar amount, subject to all of the following conditions:

(1) The project was not placed in service prior to 1990.

(2) To the extent the amendments made to this section by the Statutes of 1990 conflict with any provisions existing in this section prior to those amendments, the prior provisions of law shall prevail.

(3) Notwithstanding paragraph (2), a project applying for an allocation under this subdivision shall be subject to the requirements of paragraph (3) of subdivision (j).

(o) The credit period with respect to an allocation of credit in 1989 by the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee of which any amount is attributable to unallocated credit from 1987 or 1988 shall not begin until after December 31, 1989.

(p) (1) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1990, and as of that date is repealed. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as provided in subdivision (l), until the credit has been exhausted.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (1), this section shall remain in effect on or after December 1, 1990, for as long as Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code, pertaining to low-income housing credits, remains in effect.

SEC. 20. Section 23617.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23617.5. (a) For income years beginning on or after January 1, 1988, and before January 1, 1992, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "tax" (as defined by Section 23036) an amount equal to the amount determined in subdivision (b).

(b) (1) The amount of the credit allowed by this section shall be 50 percent of the cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer on or after September 23, 1988, for contributions to a qualified care plan made on behalf of any dependent of the taxpayer's California employee who is under the age of 15.

(2) The amount of the credit allowed by this section in any income year shall not exceed six hundred dollars ($600) for contributions to a full-time qualified care plan or a part-time qualified care plan made on behalf of the employee's dependent.

(c) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Qualified care plan" includes, but is not limited to, onsite service, center-based service, in-home care or home-provider care, and a dependent care center as defined by Section 21(b)(2)(D) of the Internal Revenue Code which is a specialized center with respect to short-term illnesses of an employee's dependents, provided the facility is located in this state and is operated under the authority of a license when required by state law.

(2) "Specialized center" means a facility which provides care to mildly ill children and which may do all of the following:

(A) Be staffed by pediatric nurses and day care workers.

(B) Admit children suffering from common childhood ailments (including colds, flu, and chickenpox).

(C) Make special arrangements for well children with minor problems associated with diabetes, asthma, breaks or sprains, and recuperation from surgery.

(D) Separate children according to their illness and symptoms in order to protect them from cross infection.

(3) "Full-time qualified care plan" means an average of eight or more hours of dependent care per day for at least 42 weeks per year in a qualified care plan.

(4) "Part-time qualified care plan" means an average of two to eight hours of dependent care per day for at least 42 weeks per year in a qualified care plan.

(5) "Contributions" include employer reimbursements to employees for the employee's qualified care plan expenses, or direct payments to child care programs or providers, or both.

(6) The term "employee" includes, for any year, an individual who is an employee within the meaning of Section 401(c)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to self-employed individuals).

(d) In the case where an employer makes contributions to a qualified care plan and also collects fees from parents to support a child care facility owned and operated by the employer, no credit shall be allowed under this section for contributions in the amount, if any, by which the sum of the contributions and fees exceed the total cost of providing care. The Franchise Tax Board may require information about fees collected from parents of children served in the facility from taxpayers claiming credits under this section.

(e) In the case where the child care received is of less than 42-week duration, the employer shall claim a prorated portion of the allowable credit. The employer shall prorate the credit using the ratio of the number of weeks of care received divided by 42 weeks.

(f) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the "tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted.

(g) The credit shall not be available to an employer if the care provided on behalf of an employee is provided by an individual who:

(1) Qualifies as a dependent of that employee or that employee's spouse under paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) of Section 17054.

(2) Is (within the meaning of Section 17056) a son, stepson, daughter, or stepdaughter of that employee under the age of 19 at the close of that taxable year.

(h) The contributions to a qualified care plan shall not discriminate in favor of employees who are officers, owners, or highly compensated, or their dependents.

(i) No deduction shall be allowed as otherwise provided in this part for that portion of expenses paid or incurred for the income year which is equal to the amount of the credit allowed under this section.

(j) In the case where the credit is taken by an employer for contributions to a qualified care plan which is used at a facility owned by the employer, the basis of that facility shall be reduced by the amount of the credit. The basis adjustment shall be made for the income year for which the credit is allowed.

(k) If two or more taxpayers share in the costs eligible for the credit provided by this section, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive a tax credit with respect to its respective share of the costs paid or incurred.

(l) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as provided in subdivision (f), until the credit has been exhausted.

SEC. 21. Section 24356.2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24356.2. (a) A taxpayer may elect to treat the cost of any Section 24356.2 property as an expense which is not chargeable to capital account. Any cost so treated shall be allowed as a deduction for the income year in which the Section 24356.2 property is placed in service.

(b) (1) An election under this section for any income year shall—

(A) Specify the items of Section 24356.2 property to which the election applies and the portion of the cost of each of those items which is to be taken into account under subdivision (a), and

(B) Be made on the taxpayer's return of the tax imposed by this part for the income year.

(2) Any election made under this section, and any specification contained in that election, may not be revoked except with the consent of the Franchise Tax Board.

(c) (1) For purposes of this section, "Section 24356.2 property" means any recovery property which is Section 38 property under the terms of the Internal Revenue Code and which is acquired by purchase for exclusive use in a trade or business conducted within an enterprise zone designated pursuant to Section 7073 of the Government Code.

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), "purchase" means any acquisition of property, but only if—

(A) The property is not acquired from a person whose relationship to the person acquiring it would result in the disallowance of losses under Section 267 or 707(b) of the Internal Revenue Code (but, in applying Sections 267(b) and 267(c) of the Internal Revenue Code for purposes of this section, Section 267(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be treated as providing that the family of an individual shall include only his or her spouse, ancestors, and lineal descendants),

(B) The property is not acquired by one component member of an affiliated group from another component member of the same affiliated group, and

(C) The basis of the property in the hands of the person acquiring it is not determined in whole or in part by reference to the adjusted basis of such property in the hands of the person from whom acquired.

(3) For purposes of this section, the cost of property does not include so much of the basis of that property as is determined by reference to the basis of other property held at any time by the person acquiring that property.

(4) This section shall not apply to any Section 24356.2 property purchased by any person described in Section 46(e)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code unless the credit under Section 38 of the Internal Revenue Code is allowable with respect to that person for that property (determined without regard to this section).

(5) For purposes of subdivision (b)—

(A) All component members of an affiliated group shall be treated as one taxpayer, and

(B) The taxpayer shall apportion the dollar limitation contained in subdivision (f) among the component members of the affiliated group in whatever manner the board shall by regulations prescribe.

(6) For purposes of paragraphs (2) and (5), "affiliated group" has the meaning assigned to it by Section 1504 of the Internal Revenue

Code, except that, for these purposes, the phrase "more than 50 percent" shall be substituted for the phrase "at least 80 percent" each place it appears in Section 1504(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(7) For purposes of this section, sound recordings shall be treated as recovery property only if so elected under Section 48(s) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(d) For purposes of this section, "taxpayer" means a taxpayer who conducts a trade or business within an enterprise zone designated pursuant to Section 7073 of the Government Code.

(e) Any taxpayer who elects to be subject to this section shall not be entitled to claim additional depreciation pursuant to Section 24356 with respect to any property which constitutes Section 24356.2 property.

(f) The deduction allowable under subdivision (a) for any income year shall not exceed the following applicable amount for the income year of the designation of an enterprise zone and income years thereafter:

	The applicable amount is:
Income year of designation	$ 5,000
1st income year thereafter	5,000
2nd income year thereafter	7,500
3rd income year thereafter	7,500
Each income year thereafter	10,000

(g) This section shall apply only to property which is used exclusively in a trade or business conducted within an enterprise zone.

(h) Any amounts deducted under subdivision (a) with respect to property which ceases to be used in the trade or business within an enterprise zone at any time before the close of the second income year after the property is placed in service shall be included in income for that year.

SEC. 22. Section 24357.7 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24357.7. (a) For purposes of paragraph (3) of subdivision (b) of Section 24357.2, the term "qualified conservation contribution" means a contribution—

(1) Of a qualified real property interest,

(2) To a qualified organization,

(3) Exclusively for conservation purposes.

(A) For purposes of this subdivision, the term "qualified real property interest" means any of the following interests in real property:

(i) The entire interest of the donor other than a qualified mineral interest.

(ii) A remainder interest.

(iii) A restriction (granted in perpetuity) on the use which may be made of the real property.

(b) For purposes of subdivision (a), the term "qualified organization" means an organization which:

(1) Is described in subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 24359, or

(2) Is described in Section 23701(d), and—

(A) Meets the requirements of Section 509(a)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, or

(B) Meets the requirements of Section 509(a)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and is controlled by an organization described in paragraph (1) or in subparagraph (A).

(c) For purposes of this section, the term "conservation purpose" means any of the following:

(1) The preservation of land areas for outdoor recreation by, or the education of, the general public.

(2) The protection of a relatively natural habitat of fish, wildlife, or plants, or similar ecosystem.

(3) The preservation of open space (including farm land and forest land) where such preservation is for any of the following:

(A) For the scenic enjoyment of the general public.

(B) Pursuant to a clearly delineated federal, state, or local governmental conservation policy, and will yield a significant public benefit.

(C) The preservation of an historically important land area or a certified historic structure.

(d) The term "certified structure" means any building, structure, or land area which:

(1) Is listed in the National Register, or

(2) Is located in a registered historic district (as defined in Section 48(g)(3)(B)) of the Internal Revenue Code and is certified by the Secretary of the Interior to the secretary as being of historic significance to the district.

A building, structure, or land area satisfies the preceding sentence if it satisfies such sentence either at the time of the transfer or on the due date (including extensions) for filing the transferor's return under this chapter for the income year in which the transfer is made.

(e) For purposes of this section:

(1) A contribution shall not be treated as exclusively for conservation purposes unless the conservation purpose is protected in perpetuity.

(2) (A) Except as provided in subparagraph (B), in the case of a contribution of any interest where there is a retention of a qualified mineral interest, this subdivision shall not be treated as met if at any time there may be extraction or removal of minerals by any surface mining method.

(B) With respect to any contribution of property in which the ownership of the surface estate and mineral interests were separated before June 13, 1976, and remain so separated, paragraph (1) shall be treated as met if the probability of surface mining occurring on that property is so remote as to be negligible.

(f) For purposes of this section, the term "qualified mineral interest" means—

(1) Subsurface oil, gas, or other minerals; and

(2) The right to access to those minerals.

SEC. 23. Section 24358 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24358. In the case of a bank or corporation, the total deductions under Section 24357 for any income year shall not exceed 5 percent of the taxpayer's net income computed without regard to any of the following:

(a) Subdivision (e) of Section 23802, relating to a deduction for built-in gains and passive investment income.

(b) Sections 24357 to 24359, inclusive, relating to the deduction for contributions.

(c) Article 2 (commencing with Section 24401) of Chapter 7 (except Sections 24407 to 24409, inclusive, relating to organizational expenses).

SEC. 24. Section 24413.2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 25. Section 24413.3 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 25.5. Section 24422 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24422. No deduction shall be allowed for—

(a) Any amount paid out for new buildings or for permanent improvements or betterments made to increase the value of any property or estate. This subdivision shall not apply to:

(1) Expenditures for the development of mines or deposits deductible under Section 616 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) Soil and water conservation expenditures deductible under Section 24369.

(3) Expenditures for farmers for fertilizer, etc., deductible under Section 24377.

(4) Research and experimental expenditures deductible under Sections 24365 to 24368, inclusive.

(5) Expenditures for which a deduction is allowed under Section 24356.2.

(6) Expenditures for which a deduction is allowed under Section 24356.3.

(b) Any amount expended in restoring property or in making good the exhaustion thereof for which an allowance is or has been made.

SEC. 26. Section 24422.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 27. Section 24424 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24424. (a) No deduction shall be allowed for—

(1) Premiums paid on any life insurance policy covering the life of any officer or employee, or of any person financially interested in any trade or business carried on by the taxpayer, when the taxpayer is directly or indirectly a beneficiary under such policy.

(2) Any amount paid or accrued on indebtedness incurred to purchase or carry a single premium life insurance, endowment, or annuity contract. This paragraph shall apply in respect of annuity contracts only as to contracts purchased after December 31, 1954.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (c), any amount paid or accrued on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry a life insurance, endowment, or annuity contract (other than a single premium contract or a contract treated as a single premium contract) pursuant to a plan of purchase which contemplates the systematic direct or indirect borrowing of part or all of the increases in the cash value of such contract (either from the insurer or otherwise). This paragraph shall apply only in respect of contracts purchased after August 6, 1963.

(4) Any interest paid or accrued on any indebtedness with respect to one or more insurance policies owned by the taxpayer covering the life of any individual who—

(A) Is an officer or employee of, or

(B) Is financially interested in, any trade or business carried on by the taxpayer to the extent that the aggregate amount of that indebtedness with respect to policies covering that individual exceeds fifty thousand dollars ($50,000).

This paragraph shall apply with respect to contracts purchased after June 20, 1986.

(b) For purposes of paragraph (2) of subdivision (a), a contract shall be treated as a single premium contract—

(1) If substantially all the premiums on the contract are paid within a period of four years from the date on which the contract is purchased; or

(2) If an amount is deposited after December 31, 1954, with the insurer for payment of a substantial number of future premiums on the contract.

(c) Paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) shall not apply to any amount paid or accrued by a person during an income year on indebtedness incurred or continued as part of a plan referred to in paragraph (3) of subdivision (a).

(1) If no part of four of the annual premiums due during the seven-year period (beginning with the date the first premium on the contract to which such plan relates was paid) is paid under such plan by means of indebtedness.

(2) If the total of the amounts paid or accrued by such person during such income year for which (without regard to this paragraph) no deduction would be allowable by reason of paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) does not exceed one hundred dollars ($100).

(3) If such amount was paid or accrued on indebtedness incurred because of an unforeseen substantial loss of income or unforeseen substantial increase in its financial obligations, or

(4) If such indebtedness was incurred in connection with its trade or business.

For purposes of applying paragraph (1), if there is a substantial increase in the premiums on a contract, a new seven-year period described in such paragraph with respect to such contract shall commence on the date the first such increased premium is paid.

SEC. 28. Section 24466 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24466. (a) For purposes of this chapter, the term "Section 24464 stock" means stock which meets the requirements of paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of this subdivision.

(1) Stock (other than common stock issued with respect to common stock) which was distributed to the shareholder selling or otherwise disposing of such stock if, by reason of subdivision (a) of Section 24463, any part of such distribution was not includable in the gross income of the shareholder.

(2) Stock which is not common stock and—

(A) Which was received, by the shareholder selling or otherwise disposing of such stock, in pursuance of a plan of reorganization (within the meaning of Section 24562), or in a distribution or exchange to which Section 24533 (or so much of Sections 24535 to 24539, inclusive, as relates to Section 24533) applied; and

(B) With respect to the receipt of which gain or loss to the shareholder was to any extent not recognized by reason of Chapter 10, but only to the extent that either the effect of the transaction was substantially the same as the receipt of a stock dividend, or the stock was received in exchange for Section 24464 stock.

For purposes of this article, a receipt of stock to which the foregoing provisions of this paragraph apply shall be treated as a distribution of stock

(3) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (2), stock the basis of which (in the hands of the shareholder selling or otherwise disposing of such stock) is determined by reference to the basis (in the hands of such shareholder or any other person) of Section 24464 stock.

(b) For purposes of this article, the term "Section 24464 stock" does not include any stock no part of the distribution of which would have been a dividend at the time of the distribution if money had been distributed in lieu of the stock.

(c) The term "Section 24464 stock" also includes any stock which is not common stock acquired in an exchange to which Section 24521 applied if receipt of money (in lieu of stock) would have been treated as a dividend to any extent. Rules similar to the rules of paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 24457 shall apply—

(1) For purposes of the preceding sentence, and

(2) For purposes of determining the application of this section to any subsequent disposition of stock which is Section 24464 stock by reason of an exchange described in the preceding sentence.

(d) For purposes of subparagraph (B) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) and subdivision (c), Section 24497 shall apply. For purposes of applying the preceding sentence to subdivision (c), Section 304(c)(3)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code shall apply.

SEC. 29. Section 24564 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24564. (a) For purposes of Chapter 8, and this article, the term "control" means the ownership of stock possessing at least 80 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote and at least 80 percent of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of the corporation.

(b) (1) In the case of any transaction with respect to which the requirements of subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 24531 are met, for purposes of determining whether that transaction is described in paragraph (4) of subdivision (a) of Section 24562, the term "control" has the meaning given to that term by Section 304(c) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) This subdivision shall apply to transactions pursuant to plans adopted after July 18, 1984.

SEC. 30. Section 24637 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24637. For income years beginning on or after January 1, 1987, Section 444 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to election of taxable year other than required taxable year, shall be applicable, except that Section 444(c)(1), relating to effect of election, shall not apply.

SEC. 32. Section 24870 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24870. The taxation of a real estate mortgage investment conduit (REMIC) and the holders of regular or residual interests in that entity shall be determined in accordance with Part IV of Subchapter M of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 33. Section 24872 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24872. A real estate mortgage investment conduit (REMIC) shall be subject to the minimum tax imposed under Section 23153.

SEC. 34. Section 24953.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24953.5. (a) If a qualified housing project is sold or disposed of by the taxpayer in an approved disposition, then, at the election of the taxpayer, gain from that approved disposition shall not be recognized to the extent specified in subdivision (c). An election made under this section shall be made at the time and in the manner specified by the Franchise Tax Board in forms and instructions.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Qualified housing project" means a project providing rental or cooperative housing for lower income families subject to any of the following with respect to which the owner is, under those sections or regulations issued thereunder limited as to the rate of return on its investment in the project, and limited as to rentals or occupancy charges for units in the project:

(A) A mortgage insured by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development under either Section 202, 213, 221(d)(3), 231, 236, or 608 of the National Housing Act.

(B) A mortgage securing a direct loan from the Farmers Home Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture under either Section 514 or 515 of the Housing Act of 1949.

(C) A Housing Assistance Payments contract under Section 8 of the United States Housing Act of 1937, where that contract provides a project-based subsidy under the New Construction, Moderate Rehabilitation, Substantial Rehabilitation, or Loan Management programs.

(2) "Approved disposition" means a sale or other disposition of a qualified housing project to a qualified entity as defined in this subdivision and subject to specific use restrictions, as defined in this subdivision.

(3) "Qualified entities" include any of the following:

(A) A nonprofit corporation that has obtained tax-exempt status under either Section 501(c)(3) or 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(B) A public agency or unit of state or local government.

(C) A limited-equity cooperative formed pursuant to Section 33007.5 of the Health and Safety Code.

(D) A limited partnership, of which a general partner is one of the above qualified entities, or an affiliate thereof, where a majority of the board of directors of the affiliate is appointed or removable by the qualified entity or where the qualified entity owns a majority of the voting shares of the affiliate, so long as the partnership agreement limits the annual rate of return to investors to 8 percent of their capital contributions.

(4) A qualified entity acquiring a qualified housing project shall agree, for the useful life of the project, to all of the following conditions and restrictions:

(A) To assume the obligations imposed by any loan agreement, mortgage, subsidy contract, or regulatory agreement on the project.

(B) To restrict occupancy in accordance with the threshold requirements of Section 42(g) of the Internal Revenue Code where less than all of the units in the projects are occupied by tenants whose income make the project eligible for the tax credit under Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(C) To accept all available rent subsidies on behalf of tenants in the project.

(D) Not to evict tenants without a showing of good cause.

(E) Not to arbitrarily discriminate against applicants for admission on the basis of family income or any other basis prohibited by law.

(F) To establish rents for the project not exceeding those required by the terms of any subsidy program utilized at the project or the rent restrictions required by Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code, whichever is less.

(G) To be subject to continued regulation by federal or state housing agencies or the Department of Housing and Community Development to ensure compliance with these regulatory requirements.

(H) To restrict occupancy in accordance with this paragraph by a deed restriction running with the land and enforceable by the Department of Housing and Community Development. Any regulatory agreement establishing these occupancy restrictions shall be deemed a contract and shall be enforceable by affected tenants as third-party beneficiaries thereto.

(c) (1) Where all units in the project are used in accordance with the standards specified in paragraph (4) of subdivision (b), and all of the units are occupied by tenants whose incomes make the project eligible for the tax credit under Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code, then 50 percent of the gain, which would otherwise be recognized, shall not be recognizable to any extent.

(2) So long as the threshold requirements of Section 42(g) of the Internal Revenue Code are met, where less than all of the units in the project are occupied by tenants whose incomes make the project eligible for the tax credit under Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code, then the gain shall not be recognized in accordance with the formulas for allocating the low-income housing tax credit, as provided in Section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(d) Upon the receipt of information that a qualified entity is failing to use the project in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (4) of subdivision (b), then the Department of Housing and Community Development shall conduct an investigation of the allegations. If the department determines that the qualified entity is utilizing good faith efforts to use the units in the project to the maximum extent possible in accordance with the restrictions specified in paragraph (4) of subdivision (b), and it is not economically feasible to utilize all units in that fashion, then the department shall not seek to remedy the alleged violation. If the department determines that there exists an unjustified violation of the restrictions specified in paragraph (4) of subdivision (b), then the department shall pursue whatever remedies are specified by law for that violation, including the imposition of a receivership to operate the project in accordance with the requirements of this section and recovery of a penalty from the qualified entity in the amount of tax that would have been imposed upon the capital gain that was not recognized and penalties and interest for delinquent taxes as otherwise provided by law.

(e) No project on which 50 percent of the capital gain has been nonrecognized pursuant to subdivision (c) shall be sold or otherwise disposed of without the prior written approval of the Department of Housing and Community Development. In giving that approval, the department shall ensure that the project shall continue to be subject to the requirements of paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) or that any net proceeds of the sale are utilized for charitable low-income housing purposes. In determining what constitutes the net proceeds of the sale, where the seller is a qualified limited partnership entity under subparagraph (D) of paragraph (3) of subdivision (b), the Department of Housing and Community Development shall consider the terms of the partnership agreement.

SEC. 34.3. Section 24966 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24966. (a) The basis in stock purchased shall be reduced by the nontaxed portion of any extraordinary dividend received as provided in Section 1059 of the Internal Revenue Code, except as otherwise provided in this section.

(b) The reduction described in Section 1059(b)(2)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be the amount determined under Section 24402.

(c) Reference to Section 301 of the Internal Revenue Code shall be reference to Sections 24451 to 24454, inclusive.

(d) Reference to Section 301(b)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be reference to subdivision (b) of Section 24452.

(e) Reference to Section 301(c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be reference to subdivision (b) of Section 24453.

SEC. 34.4. Section 24990.7 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

24990.7. The provision of Section 1248 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to gain from certain sales for exchanges of stock in certain foreign corporations, shall not apply to transactions occuring after August 20, 1990, in income years beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

SEC. 34.5. Section 25401c of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

25401c. A return shall be required to be filed and statements furnished to the person whose name is required to be set forth on the return for certain payments of remuneration for services in accordance with Section 6041A of the Internal Revenue Code, except that no return or statement shall be required if a statement with respect to the services is required to be furnished under Division 6 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Unemployment Insurance Code (relating to withholding tax on wages), and no return or statement shall be required with respect to direct sales pursuant to Section 6041A(b) of the Internal Revenue Code.

SEC. 35. Sections 3 and 18.5 of this bill incorporate amendments to Sections 17052.5 and 23601.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code proposed by both this bill and SB 86. They shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1991, (2) each bill amends Sections 17052.5 and 23601.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 86, in which case Sections 2 and 18 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 36. Section 5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 17052.6 of the Revenue and Taxation Code proposed by both this bill and SB 2208. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1991, (2) each bill amends Section 17052.6 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 2208, in which case Section 4 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 37. Section 14 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 18515.2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code proposed by both this bill and AB 3628. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1991, (2) each bill amends Section 18515.2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 3628, in which case Section 14 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 38. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1350

An act to amend Sections 33334.2, 33334.3, and 33334.12 of, to amend Section 33080.4, as amended by Section 7 of Chapter 1140 of the Statutes of 1989, to add Section 33334.16 to, and to repeal Section 33080.4, as amended by Section 8 of Chapter 1140 of the Statutes of 1989 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to redevelopment, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 33080.4 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Section 7 of Chapter 1140 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

33080.4. (a) For the purposes of compliance with subdivision (c) of Section 33080.1, the description of the agency's activities shall contain the following information regardless of whether each activity is funded exclusively by the state or federal government, for each project area and for the agency overall:

(1) Pursuant to Section 33413, the total number of nonelderly and elderly households, including separate subtotals of the numbers of very low income households, other lower income households, and persons and families of moderate income, that were displaced or moved from their dwelling units as part of a redevelopment project of the agency during the previous fiscal year.

(2) Pursuant to Section 33413.5, the total number of nonelderly and elderly households, including separate subtotals of the numbers of very low income households, other lower income households, and persons and families of moderate income, that the agency estimates will be displaced or will move from their dwellings as part of a redevelopment project of the agency during the present fiscal year and the date of adoption of a replacement housing plan for each project area subject to Section 33413.5.

(3) The total number of dwelling units housing very low income households, other lower income households, and persons and families of moderate income, respectively, which have been destroyed or removed from the low- or moderate-income housing market during the previous fiscal year as part of a redevelopment project of the agency, specifying the number of those units which are not subject to Section 33413.

(4) The total numbers of agency-assisted dwelling units which were constructed, rehabilitated, acquired, or subsidized during the previous fiscal year for occupancy at an affordable housing cost by elderly persons and families, but only if the units are restricted by agreement or ordinance for occupancy by the elderly, and by very low income households, other lower income households, and persons and families of moderate income, respectively, specifying those units which are not currently so occupied, those units which have replaced units destroyed or removed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 33413, and the length of time any agency-assisted units are required to remain available at affordable costs.

(5) The total numbers of new or rehabilitated units subject to paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 33413, including separate subtotals of the number originally affordable to and currently occupied by, elderly persons and families, but only if the units are restricted by agreement or ordinance for occupancy by the elderly, and by very low income households, other lower income households, and persons and families of moderate income, respectively, and the length of time these units are required to remain available at affordable costs.

(6) The status and use of the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund created pursuant to Section 33334.3, including information on the use of this fund for very low income households, other lower income households, and persons and families of moderate income, respectively. If the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund is used to subsidize the cost of onsite or offsite improvements, then the description of the agency's activities shall include the number of housing units affordable to persons and families of low or moderate income which have been directly benefited by the onsite or offsite improvements.

(7) A compilation of the annual reports obtained by the agency under Section 33418 including identification of the number of units occupied by persons and families of moderate income, other lower income households, and very low income households, respectively, and identification of projects in violation of law or any agreements in relation to affordable units.

(8) The total amount of funds expended for planning and general administrative costs as defined in subdivisions (d) and (e) of Section 33334.3.

(9) Any other information which the agency believes useful to explain its housing programs, including, but not limited to, housing for persons and families of other than low and moderate income.

(b) As used in this section:

(1) "Elderly," has the same meaning as specified in Section 50067.

(2) "Persons and families of moderate income," has the same meaning as specified in subdivision (b) of Section 50093.

(3) "Other lower income households," has the same meaning as "lower income households" as specified in Section 50079.5, exclusive of very low income households.

(4) "Persons and families of low or moderate income," has the same meaning as specified in Section 50093.

(5) "Very low income households," has the same meaning as specified in Section 50105.

(c) Costs associated with preparing the report required by this section may be paid with moneys from the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund.

SEC. 2. Section 33080.4 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Section 8 of Chapter 1140 of the Statutes of 1989, is repealed.

SEC. 3 Section 33334 2 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

33334.2. (a) Not less than 20 percent of all taxes which are allocated to the agency pursuant to Section 33670 shall be used by the agency for the purposes of increasing, improving, and preserving the community's supply of low- and moderate-income housing available at affordable housing cost, as defined by Section 50052.5, to persons and families of low or moderate income, as defined in Section 50093, and very low income households, as defined in Section 50105, unless one of the following findings is made annually by resolution:

(1) That no need exists in the community to improve or increase the supply of low- and moderate-income housing in a manner which would benefit the project area and that this finding is consistent with the housing element of the community's general plan required by Article 10.6 (commencing with Section 65580) of Chapter 3 of Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code.

(2) That some stated percentage less than 20 percent of the taxes which are allocated to the agency pursuant to Section 33670 is sufficient to meet the housing needs of the community and that this finding is consistent with the housing element of the community's general plan required by Article 10.6 (commencing with Section 65580) of Chapter 3 of Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code.

(3) That the community is making a substantial effort to meet its existing and projected housing needs, including its share of the regional housing needs, with respect to persons and families of low and moderate income, particularly very low income households, as identified in the housing element of the community's general plan required by Article 10.6 (commencing with Section 65580) of Chapter 3 of Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code, and that this effort, consisting of direct financial contributions of local funds used to increase and improve the supply of housing affordable to persons and families of low or moderate income and very low income households, is equivalent in impact to the funds otherwise required to be set aside pursuant to this section. In addition to any other local funds, these direct financial contributions may include federal or state grants paid directly to a community and which the community has the discretion of using for the purposes for which moneys in the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund may be used. The legislative body shall consider the need which can be reasonably foreseen because of displacement of persons and families of low or moderate income or very low income households from within, or adjacent to, the project area, because of increased employment opportunities, or because of any other direct or indirect result of implementation of the redevelopment plan. No finding under this subdivision may be made until the community has provided or ensured the availability of replacement dwelling units as defined in Section 33411.2 and until it has complied with the provisions of Article 9 (commencing with Section 33410).

In making the determination that other financial contributions are equivalent in impact pursuant to this subdivision, the agency shall include only those financial contributions which are directly related to programs or activities authorized under subdivision (e) of this section.

(b) Within 10 days following the making of a finding under subdivision (a), the agency shall send the Department of Housing and Community Development a copy of the finding, including the factual information supporting the finding.

(c) In any litigation to challenge or attack a finding made under paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of subdivision (a), the burden shall be upon the agency to establish that the finding is supported by substantial evidence in light of the entire record before the agency.

(d) Nothing in this section shall be construed as relieving any other public entity or entity with the power of eminent domain of any legal obligations for replacement or relocation housing arising out of its activities.

(e) In carrying out the purpose of this section, the agency may exercise any or all of its powers, including the following:

(1) Acquire real property or building sites subject to the provisions of Section 33334.16.

(2) Improve real property or building sites with onsite or offsite improvements, but only if the improvements directly and specifically improve or increase the community's supply of low- or moderate-income housing.

(3) Donate real property to private or public persons or entities.

(4) Finance insurance premiums pursuant to Section 33136.

(5) Construct buildings or structures.

(6) Acquire buildings or structures.

(7) Rehabilitate buildings or structures.

(8) Provide subsidies to, or for the benefit of, very low income households, as defined by Section 50105, lower income households, as defined by Section 50079.5, or persons and families of low or moderate income, as defined by Section 50093, to the extent those households cannot obtain housing at affordable costs on the open market. Housing units available on the open market are those units developed without direct government subsidies.

(9) Develop plans, pay principal and interest on bonds, loans, advances, or other indebtedness, or pay financing or carrying charges.

(10) Maintain the community's supply of mobilehomes.

(11) Preserve the availability to lower income households of affordable housing units in housing developments which are assisted or subsidized by public entities and which are threatened with imminent conversion to market rates.

(f) The agency may use these funds to meet, in whole or in part, the replacement housing provisions in Section 33413. However, nothing in this section shall be construed as limiting in any way the requirements of that section.

(g) The agency may use these funds inside or outside the project area. The agency may only use these funds outside the project area upon a resolution of the agency and the legislative body that such use will be of benefit to the project. The determination by the agency and the legislative body shall be final and conclusive as to the issue of benefit to the project area. The Legislature finds and declares that the provision of replacement housing pursuant to Section 33413 is always of benefit to a project. Unless the legislative body finds before the redevelopment plan is adopted, that the provision of low- and moderate-income housing outside the project area will be of benefit to the project, the project area shall include property suitable for low- and moderate-income housing.

(h) The Legislature finds and declares that expenditures or obligations incurred by the agency pursuant to this section shall constitute an indebtedness of the project.

(i) The requirements of this section shall only apply to taxes allocated to a redevelopment agency for which a final redevelopment plan is adopted on or after January 1, 1977, or for any area which is added to a project by an amendment to a redevelopment plan, which amendment is adopted on or after the effective date of this section. An agency may, by resolution, elect to make all or part of the requirements of this section applicable to any redevelopment project for which a redevelopment plan was adopted prior to January 1, 1977, subject to any indebtedness incurred prior to the election.

SEC. 4. Section 33334.3 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

33334.3. (a) The funds which are required by Section 33334.2 or 33334.6 to be used for the purposes of increasing and improving the community's supply of low- and moderate-income housing shall be held in a separate Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund until used.

(b) Any interest earned by the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund and any repayments or other income to the agency for loans, advances, or grants, of any kind from the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund, shall accrue to and be deposited in, the fund and may only be used in the manner prescribed for the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund.

(c) The moneys in the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund shall be used to increase, improve, and preserve the supply of low- and moderate-income housing within the territorial jurisdiction of the agency.

(d) It is the intent of the Legislature that the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund be used to the maximum extent possible to defray the costs of production, improvement, and preservation of low- and moderate-income housing and that the amount of money spent for planning and general administrative activities associated with the development, improvement, and preservation of that housing not be disproportionate to the amount actually spent for the costs of production, improvement, or preservation of that housing. The agency shall determine annually that the planning and administrative expenses are necessary for the production, improvement, or preservation of low- and moderate-income housing.

(e) (1) Planning and general administrative costs which may be paid with moneys from the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund are those expenses incurred by the agency which are directly related to the programs and activities authorized under subdivision (e) of Section 33334.2 and are limited to the following:

(A) Costs incurred for salaries, wages, and related costs of the agency's staff or for services provided through interagency agreements, and agreements with contractors, including usual indirect costs related thereto.

(B) Costs incurred by a nonprofit corporation which are not directly attributable to a specific project.

(2) Legal, architectural, and engineering costs and other salaries, wages, and costs directly related to the planning and execution of a specific project which are authorized under subdivision (e) of Section 33334.2 and which are incurred by a nonprofit housing sponsor are not planning and administrative costs for the purposes of this section, but are instead project costs.

(f) The requirements of this subdivision apply to all new or substantially rehabilitated housing units developed or otherwise assisted, with moneys from the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund, pursuant to an agreement approved by an agency on or after January 1, 1988. Except to the extent a longer period of time may be required by other provisions of law, the agency shall require that housing units subject to this subdivision shall remain available at affordable housing costs to persons and families of low or moderate income and very low income households for the longest feasible time, but for not less than the following periods of time, except as provided in Section 33334.13:

(1) Fifteen years for rental units. However, the agency may replace rental units with equally affordable and comparable rental units in another location within the community if (A) the replacement units are available for occupancy prior to the displacement of any persons and families of low or moderate income residing in the units to be replaced and (B) the comparable replacement units are not developed with moneys from the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund.

(2) Ten years for owner-occupied units. However, the agency may permit sales of owner-occupied units prior to the expiration of the 10-year period for a price in excess of that otherwise permitted under this subdivision pursuant to an adopted program which protects the agency's investment of moneys from the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund, including, but not limited to, an equity sharing program which establishes a schedule of equity sharing that permits retention by the seller of a portion of those excess proceeds based on the length of occupancy. The remainder of the excess proceeds of the sale shall be allocated to the agency and deposited in the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund.

The agency shall require the recording in the office of the county recorder of covenants or restrictions implementing this subdivision for each parcel or unit of real property subject to this subdivision. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the covenants or restrictions shall run with the land and shall be enforceable, against the original owner and successors in interest, by the agency or the community.

(g) "Housing," as used in this section, includes residential hotels, as defined in subdivision (k) of Section 37912. The definitions of "lower income households" and "very low income households" in Sections 50079.5 and 50105 shall apply to this section. "Longest feasible time," as used in this section, includes, but is not limited to, unlimited duration.

(h) "Increasing, improving, and preserving the community's supply of low- and moderate-income housing," as used in this section and in Section 33334.2, includes the preservation of rental housing units assisted by federal, state, or local government on the condition that units remain affordable to low- and moderate-income households, including very low income households, for a specified period of time, beyond the date the subsidies and use restrictions could be terminated and the assisted housing units converted to market rate rentals. In preserving these units the agency shall require the units remain affordable to persons and families of low- and moderate-income and very low income households for the longest feasible time. However, the agency may replace rental units with equally affordable and comparable rental units in another location within the community if (1) the replacement units in another location are available for occupancy prior to the displacement of any persons and families of low or moderate income residing in the units to be replaced and (2) the comparable replacement units are not developed with moneys from the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund.

SEC. 5. Section 33334.12 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

33334.12. (a) Upon failure of the agency to expend or encumber excess surplus in the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund within five years from the date the moneys become excess surplus, within the meaning defined in Section 33334.10, the agency shall disburse that excess surplus to the county housing authority or other housing authority operating within the agency's jurisdiction or another public agency exercising housing development powers within the territorial jurisdiction of the agency in accordance with subdivision (b). The housing authority or other public agency to which the money is transferred shall utilize the moneys for the purposes and subject to the same restrictions as applicable to the redevelopment agency under this part, and for that purpose may exercise all of the powers of a housing authority under Part 2 (commencing with Section 34200) to the extent not inconsistent with these limitations.

Notwithstanding Section 34209 or any other provision of law, for the purpose of accepting a transfer of, and using, moneys pursuant to this section, the housing authority of a county or other public agency may exercise its powers within the territorial jurisdiction of a city redevelopment agency in the county.

(b) The amount of excess surplus which shall be transferred to the housing authority or other public agency because of failure of the agency to expend or encumber excess surplus within five years shall be the amount of the excess surplus that is not so expended or encumbered. The housing authority or other public agency to which the moneys are transferred shall expend or encumber them for authorized purposes not later than three years from the date they were transferred from the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit any authority a redevelopment agency may have under other provisions of this part to contract with a housing authority for increasing or improving the community's supply of low- and moderate-income housing.

(d) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Excess surplus" means any unexpended and unencumbered amount in an agency's Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund that exceeds the greater of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) or the aggregate amount deposited into the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund pursuant to Sections 33334.2 and 33334.6 during the agency's preceding five fiscal years.

(2) Moneys shall be deemed encumbered if committed pursuant to a legally enforceable contract or agreement for expenditure for purposes specified in Section 33334.2 or 33334.3.

(3) For purposes of determining whether an excess surplus exists, it is the intent of the Legislature to give credit to agencies which convey land for less than fair market value, on which low- and moderate-income housing is built or is to be built if at least one-half of the units developed on the land are available at affordable housing cost to lower income households for at least the time specified in subdivision (e) of Section 33334.3, and otherwise comply with all of the provisions of this division applicable to expenditures of moneys from a low- and moderate-income housing fund established pursuant to Section 33334.3. Therefore, for the sole purpose of determining the amount, if any, of an excess surplus, an agency may make the following calculation: if an agency sells, leases, or grants land acquired with moneys from the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund, established pursuant to Section 33334.3, for an amount which is below fair market value, and if at least one-half of the units constructed or rehabilitated on the land are affordable to lower income households, as defined in Section 50079.5, the difference between the fair market value of the land and the amount the agency receives may be subtracted from the amount of moneys in an agency's Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund.

Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to restrict the authority of an agency provided in any other provision of this part to expend funds from the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund.

SEC. 6. Section 33334.16 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

33334.16. For each interest in real property acquired using moneys from the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund, the agency shall, within five years from the date it first acquires the property interest for the development of housing affordable to persons and families of low and moderate income, initiate activities consistent with the development of the property for that purpose. These activities may include, but are not limited to, zoning changes or agreements entered into for the development and disposition of the property. If these activities have not been initiated within this period, the legislative body may, by resolution, extend the period during which the agency may retain the property for one additional period not to exceed five years. The resolution of extension shall affirm the intention of the legislative body that the property be used for the development of housing affordable to persons and families of low and moderate income. In the event that physical development of the property for this purpose has not begun by the end of the extended period, or if the agency does not comply with this requirement, the property shall be sold and the moneys from the sale, less reimbursement to the agency for the cost of the sale, shall be deposited in the agency's Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund.

SEC. 7. For purposes of subdivision (e) of Section 16112.7 of the Government Code, the redevelopment agencies of the Cities of Chula Vista, Compton, and South Gate shall be deemed to meet the criteria for the exemption and, therefore, the reductions required pursuant to subdivisions (a), (b), (c), and (d) of Section 16112.7 shall not apply.

SEC. 8.Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 9. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the California Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to address serious problems regarding the operations and funding of redevelopment agencies, it is necessary that this act take immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1351

An act to amend Sections 1570.2 and 1570.7 of the Health and Safety Code, and to amend Sections 14521, 14529, 14550, 14552, and 14571 of, to add Sections 14552.1 and 14552.2 to, and to add Article 4.5 (commencing with Section 14580) to Chapter 8.7 of Part 3 of Division 9 of, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to adult day health care, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1570.2 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1570.2. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that there exists a pattern of overutilization of long-term institutional care for the elderly and that there is an urgent need to establish and to continue a community-based system of quality adult day health care which will enable older persons with medical or psychiatric impairments to maintain maximum independence. While recognizing that there continues to be a substantial need for facilities providing custodial care, overreliance on such care has proven to be a costly panacea in both financial and human terms, often traumatic, and destructive of continuing family relationships and the capacity for independent living.

It is, therefore, the intent of the Legislature in enacting this chapter and related provisions to provide for the development of policies and programs which will accomplish the following:

(a) Assure that elderly persons are not institutionalized inappropriately or prematurely.

(b) Provide a viable alternative to institutionalization for those older impaired persons who are capable of living at home with the aid of appropriate health care or rehabilitative and social services.

(c) Establish adult day health centers in the community for such purpose, which will be easily accessible to all participants, including the economically disadvantaged older person, and which will provide outpatient health, rehabilitative, and social services necessary to permit the participants to maintain personal independence and lead meaningful lives.

(d) Include the services of adult day health centers as a benefit under the Medi-Cal Act, which shall be an initial and integral part in the development of an overall plan for a coordinated, comprehensive continuum of optional long-term care services based upon appropriate need.

(e) Establish a rural alternative adult day health care program which is designed to meet the special needs and requirements of rural areas to enable the implementation of subdivisions (a) through (d), inclusive, for all Californians in need of those services.

SEC. 2. Section 1570.7 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1570.7. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Adult day health care" means an organized day program of therapeutic, social, and health activities and services provided pursuant to this chapter to elderly persons with functional impairments, either physical or mental, for the purpose of restoring or maintaining optimal capacity for self-care. Provided on a short-term basis, adult day health care serves as a transition from a health facility or home health program to personal independence. Provided on a long-term basis, it serves as an option to institutionalization in long-term care facilities, when 24-hour skilled nursing care is not medically necessary or viewed as desirable by the recipient or his or her family.

(b) "Adult day health center" means a facility which provides adult day health care.

(c) "Elderly" or "older person" means a person 55 years of age or older, but also includes other persons who are chronically ill or impaired and who would benefit from adult day health care.

(d) "Individualized plan of care" means a plan designed to provide recipients of adult health care with appropriate treatment in accordance with the assessed needs of each individual.

(e) "License" means a basic permit to operate an adult day health center. With respect to a health facility licensed pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1250), "license" means a special permit, as defined by Section 1251.5, empowering the health facility to provide adult day health care services as a separate program in a distinct part of the facility.

(f) "Maintenance program" means procedures and exercises that are provided to a participant in order to generally maintain existing function. These procedures and exercises are planned by a licensed or certified therapist and are provided by a person who has been trained by a licensed or certified therapist and who is directly supervised by a nurse or licensed or certified therapist.

(g) "Planning council" or "council" means an adult day health care planning council established pursuant to Section 1572.5.

(h) "Restorative therapy" means physical, occupational, and speech therapy, and psychiatric and psychological services, that are planned and provided by a licensed or certified therapist. The therapy and services can also be provided by an assistant or aide under the appropriate supervision of a licensed therapist, as determined by the licensed therapist. The therapy and services are provided to restore function, when there is no expectation that the condition will improve significantly in a reasonable period of time, as determined by the multidisciplinary assessment team.

(i) "State review committee" or "committee" means the Adult Day Health Care Review Committee established pursuant to Section 1572.

SEC. 3. Section 14521 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14521. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this chapter to establish adult day health care as a Medi-Cal benefit and allow persons eligible to receive the benefits under Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 14000) of this part, and who have medical or psychiatric impairments, to receive adult day health care services. It is the intent of the Legislature in authorizing such a Medi-Cal benefit to establish and continue a community-based system of quality day health services which will (1) ensure that older persons not be institutionalized prematurely and inappropriately, (2) provide appropriate health and social services designed to maintain older persons in their own homes, (3) establish adult day health centers in locations easily accessible to the economically disadvantaged older person, and (4) encourage the establishment of rural alternative adult day health care centers which are designed to make adult day health care accessible to impaired Californians living in rural areas.

SEC. 4. Section 14529 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14529. (a) The multidisciplinary health team conducting an assessment shall consist of at least the individual's personal physician or a staff physician, or both, a registered nurse, and a social worker.

(b) For the initial assessment, the multidisciplinary health team shall also include a physical therapist and an occupational therapist. In addition, when the need is identified by a physician or nurse, qualified consultants with skills in recreational therapy, speech language pathology, or dietary assessment shall serve as team members.

(c) The multidisciplinary team described in subdivision (b) shall conduct an initial assessment. At the time of reassessment, if an individual plan of care has been developed by the physical therapist or the occupational therapist, they shall reassess the participant to determine any ongoing or different needs for physical therapy or occupational therapy services. If it is determined that no further physical therapy or occupational therapy is needed, the physical therapist and the occupational therapist shall not be required to sign the treatment plan. For further reassessments, the nurse or physician shall determine if the physical therapist or occupational therapist is needed.

(d) The assessment team shall:

(1) Determine the medical, psychosocial, and functional status of each participant.

(2) Develop an individualized plan of care, including goals, objectives, and services designed to meet the needs of the person, which shall be signed by each member of the multidisciplinary team, except that the signature of only one physician member of the team shall be required.

(3) At least biannually reassess the participant's individualized plan of care and make any necessary adjustments to the plan.

(4) If the initial assessment shows that restorative therapy is needed, acute rehabilitative treatment shall be provided by the appropriate licensed or certified personnel.

(5) If the initial assessment shows that restorative therapy is not needed, the multidisciplinary team shall develop an individual maintenance program as part of the plan of care.

SEC. 5. Section 14550 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14550. Adult day health centers shall offer, and shall provide directly on the premises, at least the following services:

(a) Rehabilitation services, including the following:

(1) Occupational therapy as an adjunct to treatment designed to restore impaired function of patients with physical or mental limitations.

(2) Physical therapy appropriate to meet the needs of the patient.

(3) Speech therapy for participants with speech or language disorders.

(b) Medical services supervised by either the participant's personal physician or a staff physician, or both, which emphasize prevention treatment, rehabilitation, and continuity of care and also provide for maintenance of adequate medical records. To the extent otherwise permitted by law, medical services may be provided by nurse practitioners, as defined in Section 2835 of the Business and Professions Code, operating within the existing scope of practice, or under standardized procedures pursuant to Section 2725 of the Business and Professions Code, or by registered nurses practicing under standardized procedures pursuant to Section 2725 of the Business and Professions Code.

(c) Nursing services, including the following:

(1) Nursing services rendered by a professional nursing staff, who periodically evaluate the particular nursing needs of each participant and provide the care and treatment that is indicated.

(2) Self-care services oriented toward activities of daily living and personal hygiene, such as toileting, bathing, and grooming.

(d) Nutrition services, including the following:

(1) The program shall provide a minimum of one meal per day which is of suitable quality and quantity as to supply at least one-third of the daily nutritional requirement. Additionally, special diets and supplemental feedings shall be available if indicated.

(2) Dietary counseling and nutrition education for the participant and his or her family shall be a required adjunct of such service. Dietary counseling and nutrition education may be provided by a professional registered nurse, unless the participant is receiving a special diet prescribed by a physician, or a nurse determines that the services of a registered dietician are necessary.

(e) Psychiatric or psychological services which include consultation and individual assessment by a psychiatrist, clinical psychologist, or a psychiatric social worker, when indicated, and group or individual treatment for persons with diagnosed mental, emotional, or behavioral problems.

(f) Social work services to participants and their families to help with personal, family, and adjustment problems that interfere with the effectiveness of treatment.

(g) Planned recreational and social activities suited to the needs of the participants and designed to encourage physical exercise, to prevent deterioration, and to stimulate social interaction.

(h) Transportation service for participants, when needed, to and from their homes utilizing specially equipped vehicles to accommodate participants with severe physical disabilities that limit their mobility.

(i) Written procedures for dealing with emergency situations. Such written procedures shall include the name and telephone number of a physician on call, written arrangements with a nearby hospital for inpatient and emergency room service, and provision for ambulance transportation.

SEC. 6. Section 14552 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14552. In order to obtain certification as a provider of adult day health care under this chapter and Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 14000), the following standards shall be met:

(a) The provider shall have met all other requirements of licensure as an adult day health center pursuant to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 1570) of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code.

(b) The provider shall comply with requirements of this chapter regarding program and scope of services.

(c) The provider shall have appropriate licensed personnel.

(d) The provider shall employ allied health and social personnel for furnishing of services consistent with good medical practice.

(e) A provider serving a substantial number of participants of a particular racial group, or whose primary language is other than English, shall employ staff of that particular racial or linguistic group at all times.

(f) A provider shall have organizational and administrative capacity to provide services under provisions of this chapter.

(g) The Department of Aging may allow the substitution of work experience for academic requirements for the position of administrator, program director, or activity coordinator.

SEC. 7. Section 14552.1 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14552.1. A provider may share space with another licensed health facility, community care facility, senior center, or other appropriate structure, upon the approval of the Department of Aging, based upon a determination of all of the following:

(a) The use of the shared space does not jeopardize the welfare of the participant or other clients.

(b) The shared use does not exceed occupancy capacity established for fire safety.

(c) The space used by the adult day health center is not essential to meet the other program's licensing requirements.

(d) Each entity schedules services and activities at separate times. This subdivision does not apply to space used for meals or for space used by another licensed adult day services program.

For purposes of this section, "shared space" means the mutual use of exits and entrances, offices, hallways, bathrooms, treatment rooms, and dining rooms by an adult day health center and another program.

SEC. 8. Section 14552.2 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14552.2. Notwithstanding subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 1570.7 of the Health and Safety Code or any other provision of law, if an adult day health center licensee also provides adult day care, adult day social care, or Alzheimer's day care resource center services, the adult day health care license shall be the only license required to provide these additional services. Costs shall be allocated among the programs in accordance with generally accepted accounting practices.

SEC. 9. Section 14571 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14571. The State Department of Health Services, in consultation with the Association of Adult Day Services, shall develop a rate methodology. The methodology shall take into consideration all allowable costs associated with providing adult day health care services. Once a methodology has been approved by the department, it shall be the basis of future annual rate reviews.

Payment shall be for services provided during the preceding month in accordance with an approved individualized plan of care. Billing shall be submitted directly to the department. Additionally, the department shall establish a reasonable rate of reimbursement for the initial assessment.

Nothing in this section shall preclude the department from entering into specific prospective budgeting and reimbursement agreements with providers.

SEC. 10. Article 4.5 (commencing with Section 14580) is added to Chapter 8.7 of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

Article 4.5. Rural Alternative Adult Day Health Care Centers

14580. (a) A rural alternative adult day health care center shall operate its programs a minimum of three days weekly unless the program can justify, to the satisfaction of the department, fewer days of operation due to space, staff, financial, or participant reasons.

(b) Programs desiring to become a parent center and develop a satellite program may be located in a service area which does not meet the population requirements of the rural service areas and need not be in the same county as a satellite. The satellite shall be located in an area that meets the population requirements of a rural service area and shall be located within a reasonable distance of the parent center to allow sharing of administration, services, and supervision. Parent and satellite centers shall be located in the same licensing district office.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the administrator or program director of a parent center may, with the approval of the department, serve as the administrator or program director for up to three additional satellite sites.

(d) For the purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Parent" means a licensed and certified adult day health center which establishes one or more satellites. A satellite may be in the county of the parent or rural service areas. The parent center provides administration, supervision, and, with the approval of the department, may share services and staff with one or more satellite centers. The parent's license and certification covers adult day health care services at one or more satellites.

(2) "Rural alternative adult day health care center" means an adult day health center located in a rural service area.

(3) "Rural service area" means any identified service area in an approved adult day health care county plan with 200 or less estimated adult day health care eligible population and with two or more of the following characteristics:

(A) Is more than one-half hour direct driving time from an urban area of 50,000 population or more.

(B) Has no other adult day health center within one-half hour direct driving time.

(C) Has geographic or climatic barriers, including, but not limited to, snow, fog, ice, mountains, inadequate highways, or weather, which makes transportation to another adult day health center impractical.

(D) Is located in a county with an overall population density of less than 100 persons per square mile.

(E) Can demonstrate in the application for licensure that a shortage of qualified professionals exists in the county or service area.

(4) "Satellite" means an adult day health care center established in a rural service area by an existing licensed and certified adult day health center for the purposes of extending rural adult day health care services to another location. A satellite shall be located close enough to the adult day health center so that administration, supervision and services may be shared in a manner that does not compromise care and makes it unnecessary for the satellite to be separately licensed. Each satellite shall meet fire and life safety regulations and laws. Prior approval from the department is required before operating or opening a satellite.

SEC. 11. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

This act allows for critically needed program flexibility in order to relieve some of the tremendous burden assumed by families in caring for persons with functional limitations, and to allow for the establishment of additional adult day health centers. Therefore, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1352

An act to amend Section 10856 of, and to repeal Section 10855 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, and to amend Sections 4452, 9269, 9407, 9553, 9554, 9706, 9710, 9862, and 38246 of, to add Sections 4000.5 and 38121 to, to add and repeal Sections 4604.5 and 9862.2 of, to repeal and add Sections 4604 and 38122 of, and to repeal Sections 9708 and 42234 of, the Vehicle Code, relating to registration of vehicles and vessels, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10855 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 10856 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

10856. Upon receipt of the application for renewal of registration, the department shall collect the required fee for the current registration year. No penalty shall be imposed if the department receives the application within 20 days after the date the vehicle is first operated, moved, or left standing upon any highway during its current registration year and the applicant has timely filed, pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 4604 of the Vehicle Code, a certification that the vehicle will not be operated, moved, or left standing upon any highway during the current registration year without first making an application for registration of the vehicle, including full payment of fees.

SEC. 2.5. Section 4000.5 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

4000.5. (a) The department shall, within 90 days of the effective date of this section, implement, on a demonstration basis within the County of Los Angeles, a toll-free telephone number available to the public for use in reporting unregistered vehicles, vehicles without evidence of current registration, and other vehicle registration violations so that appropriate enforcement action can be undertaken by the department in an expeditious manner. The department shall take appropriate action to publicize the toll-free telephone number.

(b) The department shall, on or before July 1, 1991, report to the Legislature on its experience involving the effectiveness and public acceptance and use of the toll-free telephone number required under subdivision (a), including the department's recommendations with respect to its continuation, expansion, or discontinuance.

SEC. 3. Section 4452 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

4452. The department may issue a certificate of ownership to the legal owner of a vehicle without requiring registration, and may issue a facsimile copy of the certificate to the owner if there is no legal owner, subject to both of the following conditions:

(a) The application is submitted in proper form.

(b) A certification has been filed with the department, pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 4604, that the vehicle has not been driven, moved, or left standing upon any highway so as to require payment of fees and that the owner will not thereafter permit that operation or movement of the vehicle or leave the vehicle standing on any highway without surrendering, or arranging to surrender, the certificate of ownership to the department and without first making an application for the regular registration of the vehicle and full payment of all fees required to be paid under this code and Part 5

(commencing with Section 10701) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

SEC. 4. Section 4604 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 4604 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

4604. (a) Prior to the expiration of the registration of a vehicle, if that registration is not to be renewed prior to its expiration, the owner of the vehicle shall file, under penalty of perjury, a certification that the vehicle will not be operated, moved, or left standing upon any highway during the subsequent registration year without first making an application for registration of the vehicle, including full payment of all fees. The certification of nonoperation is valid only for the registration year for the vehicle, but may be renewed annually prior to its expiration.

(b) Each certification of nonoperation filed pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be accompanied by a filing fee of five dollars ($5).

(c) An application for renewal of registration, whether or not accompanied by an application for transfer of title to, or any interest in, the vehicle, shall be submitted to the department with payment of the required fees for the current registration year and without penalty for delinquent payment of fees imposed under this code or under Part 5 (commencing with Section 10701) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code if the department receives the application within 20 days after the date the vehicle is first operated, moved, or left standing upon any highway during the current registration year and the certification of nonoperation required pursuant to subdivision (a) was timely filed with the department.

(d) A certification of nonoperation is not required to be filed pursuant to subdivision (a) for either of the following:

(1) A vehicle on which the registration expires while being held as inventory by a dealer or lessor-retailer.

(2) A vehicle registered pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 8050) of Chapter 4 of Division 3.

SEC. 6. Section 4604.5 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

4604.5. (a) Owners of vehicles for which the registration has expired on or before July 1, 1990, may submit a certificate of nonoperation in lieu of fees or penalties under this code or Part 5 (commencing with Section 10701) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code for any period during which the vehicle was not operated, moved, or left standing upon any highway prior to the first annual registration renewal date of the vehicle after July 1, 1990.

(b) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1995, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1995, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 7. Section 9269 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

9269. A licensed automobile dismantler who acquires, for the purpose of dismantling, a vehicle of a type subject to registration under this code, and who complies with Section 11520, is not required to pay fees or penalties that would otherwise be required if that vehicle were to be currently registered.

SEC. 8. Section 9407 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

9407. Upon application for registration made after the first month of any registration year, or, if the vehicle is registered on a partial year basis, after the first month following expiration of the last issued registration certificates, the fee required under Section 9400 shall be reduced proportionately for each month which has elapsed since the expiration of the last issued registration certificate if a certification of nonoperation was filed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 4604 prior to the expiration of the registration.

SEC. 9. Section 9553 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

9553. (a) A penalty shall be added upon any application for renewal of registration or any application for renewal of special license plates made after midnight of the expiration date thereof, except as provided in Section 4604 and in subdivision (b).

(b) When renewal fee penalties have not accrued with respect to a vehicle and the vehicle is transferred, the transferee has 20 days from the date of the transfer to pay the registration fees which become due without payment of any penalties that would otherwise be required under subdivision (a) or to file a certification pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 4604 if the vehicle will not be operated, moved, or left standing upon any highway during the subsequent registration year without first making application for registration of the vehicle, including full payment of all fees.

(c) If the fee specified in Sections 9255 and 9257 is not paid within 20 days after it becomes delinquent, a penalty shall be added thereto.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in this section, if any fee is not paid within 20 days after it becomes delinquent, a penalty shall be added thereto.

SEC. 10. Section 9554 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

9554. (a) The penalty shall be computed as provided in Sections 9406 and 9559 and shall be collected with the fee, except that the penalty for deliquency with respect to any transfer is ten dollars ($10) and applies only to the last transfer.

(b) A penalty shall be added on any application for original or renewal of registration made later than midnight of the date of expiration or on or after the date penalties become due. The penalty shall be computed after the registration and weight fees have been combined with the license fee specified in Section 10751 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as follows:

(1) For a delinquency period of one year or less, the penalty is 40 percent of the fee

(2) For a delinquency period of more than one year to and including two years, the penalty is 80 percent of the fee.

(3) For a delinquency period of more than two years, the penalty is 160 percent of the fee.

SEC. 11. Section 9706 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

9706. (a) Application for partial year registration in conjunction with an application for original California registration shall be made by the owner within 20 days of the date the vehicle first becomes subject to California registration. Any application for partial year registration submitted after that 20-day period shall be denied registration for a partial year, and the vehicle shall be subject to payment of the fees for the entire registration year. In addition to the fee for the registration year, a penalty, as specified in Section 9554, shall be added to the fee for registration.

(b) Any application to renew registration for a part of the remainder of the registration year or for the entire remainder of the registration year shall be made prior to midnight of the expiration date of the last issued registration certificate. Application shall be made upon presentation of the last issued registration card or of a potential registration issued by the department for use at the time of renewal and by payment of the required partial year fees, or, if renewal is for the remainder of the registration year, by payment of the annual fee required by Section 9400, as reduced pursuant to Section 9407. Any application submitted after the expiration date of the last issued registration certificate for which a certification of nonoperation has not been filed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 9604, shall be refused partial year registration and shall be subject to payment of the full fees for the registration year or remainder thereof. In addition to the fee for the registration year or remainder thereof, a penalty as specified in Section 9554 shall be added to the fee for renewal of registration.

(c) In order to obtain partial year registration or renewal of partial year registration for a period of less than three months, the application shall be made prior to the date the vehicle is first operated, moved, or left standing on the highways. Partial year registration, or renewal of partial year registration, may be obtained for a minimum of three months if application is made within 20 days of the date the vehicle is first operated, moved, or left standing on the highways.

(d) Notwithstanding subdivision (c), the owner of any vehicle being moved or operated for the purpose of providing support to firefighting operations while the vehicle or owner is under contract to the United States Forestry Service, the United States Department of the Interior, the Bureau of Land Management, the Department of Forestry and Fire Protection, or the Office of Emergency Services may obtain partial year registration if application is made within 20 days of the date the vehicle is first operated, moved, or left standing on the highway and the owner has obtained a letter of authorization from the department prior to the date that the vehicle is first operated, moved, or left standing on the highway.

SEC. 12. Section 9708 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 13. Section 9710 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

9710. When an application for renewal of registration of a vehicle has been made as required by Section 9706, the vehicle may be operated on the highways until the new certificate or insignia of current registration has been received from the department if there is displayed on the vehicle, in addition to the license plates or validating devices issued to the vehicle for the previous year, the certificate or insignia issued to the vehicle for the previous partial year.

SEC. 14. Section 9862 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

9862. (a) If the initial application for a number is not received by the department on or before the date set by the department, a penalty of one-half of the fee shall be assessed. If a certificate of number is not renewed on or before midnight of the expiration date, a penalty of one-half of the fee shall be assessed.

(b) If any person has received as the transferee of a vessel a properly endorsed certificate of ownership and certificate of number describing that vessel and the transfer fee has not been paid as required by this code within 30 days, a penalty of one-half of the transfer fee specified in Section 9855 shall be assessed.

SEC. 15. Section 9862.2 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

9862.2. (a) Owners of vessels for which the certificate of number has expired on or before December 31, 1990, may submit a certificate of nonoperation in lieu of fees or penalties, or both, as required by this code, for any period during which the vessel was not used on the waters of the state prior to January 1, 1991.

(b) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1995, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute which is enacted before January 1, 1995, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 16. Section 38121 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

38121. (a) Prior to the expiration of the identification of an off-highway motor vehicle, if that identification is not to be renewed prior to its expiration, the owner of the vehicle shall file, under penalty of perjury, a certification that the vehicle will not be operated, used, or transported on public property or private property in a manner so as to subject the vehicle to identification during the subsequent identification period without first making an application for identification of the vehicle, including full payment of all fees. The certification of nonoperation is valid until midnight on the 30th day of June in the second calendar year following the year of certification, but may be renewed biennially prior to its expiration.

(b) Each certification of nonoperation filed pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be accompanied by a filing fee of five dollars ($5).

(c) An application for renewal of identification, whether or not accompanied by an application for transfer of title to, or any interest in, the vehicle, shall be submitted to the department with payment of the required fees for the current identification period and without penalty for delinquent payment of fees imposed under this code if the department receives the application within 10 days after the date the vehicle is first operated, used, or transported on public property or private property in a manner so as to subject the vehicle to identification and certification of nonoperation required pursuant to subdivision (a).

(d) A certification of nonoperation is not required to be filed pursuant to subdivision (a) for a vehicle on which the identification expires while being held as inventory by a dealer or lessor-retailer.

SEC. 17. Section 38122 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 18. Section 38122 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

38122. (a) Owners of vehicles for which the identification has expired prior to June 30, 1990, may submit a certificate of nonoperation in lieu of fees or penalties, or both, as required by this code, for any period during which the vehicle was not operated, used, or transported on public property or private property prior to the first identification renewal date of the vehicle on or after June 30, 1990.

(b) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1995, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1995, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 19. Section 38246 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

38246. (a) A penalty shall be added upon any application for renewal of identification made on or after the day following the expiration date, except as provided in Section 4605, 38122, or 38247.

(b) If the fee specified in subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 38255 is not paid within 10 days after the fee becomes delinquent, a penalty shall be assessed.

(c) If renewal fee penalties have not accrued and the ownership of the vehicle is transferred, the transferee has 20 days from the date of transfer to pay the identification fees which become due without payment of any penalties that would otherwise be required under subdivision (a) or to file a certificate of nonoperation pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 38122 if the vehicle will not be operated, used, or transported on public property or private property in a manner so as to subject the vehicle to identification during the subsequent identification period without first making application for identification of the vehicle, including full payment of all fees.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in this section, if any fee is not paid within 20 days after the fee becomes delinquent, a penalty shall be assessed.

SEC. 20. Section 42234 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 21. Sections 1 to 15, inclusive, and Section 20 of this act shall become operative on July 1, 1990.

SEC. 22. Sections 16 to 19, inclusive, of this act shall become operative on June 30, 1990.

SEC. 23. The sum of eight million two hundred sixty-five thousand dollars ($8,265,000) is hereby appropriated from the Motor Vehicle Account in the State Transportation Fund to the Department of Motor Vehicles for costs incurred by the department in carrying out the provisions of this act relating to the registration of motor vehicles operated on the highways and the enforcement of laws relating to that registration.

SEC. 24. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 25. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order that the revenues from registration fees which would be generated by this act may be made available at the earliest possible time, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1353

An act to amend Section 4007 of the Penal Code, relating to prisoners.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4007 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4007. When there is no jail in the county, or when the jail becomes unfit or unsafe for the confinement of prisoners, the judge of the superior court may, by a written order filed with the county clerk, designate the jail of a contiguous county for the confinement of any prisoner of his or her county, and may at any time modify or vacate the order.

When there are reasonable grounds to believe that a prisoner may be forcibly removed from a county jail, the sheriff may remove the prisoner to any California state prison for safekeeping and it is the duty of the warden of the prison to accept and detain the prisoner in his or her custody until his or her removal is ordered by the superior court of the county from which he or she was delivered. Immediately upon receiving the prisoner the warden shall advise the Director of Corrections of that fact in writing.

When a county prisoner requires medical treatment necessitating hospitalization which cannot be provided at the county jail or county hospital because of lack of adequate detention facilities, and when the prisoner also presents a serious custodial problem because of his or her past or present behavior, the judge of the superior court may, on the request of the county sheriff and with the consent of the Director of Corrections, designate by written order the nearest state prison or correctional facility which would be able to provide the necessary medical treatment and secure confinement of the prisoner. The written order of the judge shall be filed with the county clerk. The court shall immediately calendar the matter for a hearing to determine whether the order shall continue or be rescinded. The hearing shall be held within 48 hours of the initial order or the next judicial day, whichever occurs later. The prisoner shall not be transferred to the state prison or correctional facility prior to the hearing, except upon a determination by the physician responsible for the prisoner's health care that a medical emergency exists which requires the transfer of the prisoner to the state prison or correctional facility prior to the hearing. The prisoner shall be entitled to be present at the hearing and to be represented by counsel. The prisoner may waive his or her right to this hearing in writing at any time. If the prisoner waives his or her right to the hearing, the county sheriff shall notify the prisoner's attorney of the transfer within 48 hours, or the next business day, whichever is later. The court may modify or vacate the order at any time.

The rate of compensation for the prisoner's medical treatment and confinement within a California state prison or correctional facility shall be established by the Department of Corrections, and shall be charged against the county making the request.

When there are reasonable grounds to believe that there is a prisoner in a county jail who is likely to be a threat to other persons in the facility or who is likely to cause substantial damage to the facility, the judge of the superior court may, on the request of the county sheriff and with the consent of the Director of Corrections, designate by written order the nearest state prison or correctional facility which would be able to secure confinement of the prisoner, subject to space available. The written order of the judge must be filed with the county clerk. The court shall immediately calendar the matter for a hearing to determine whether the order shall continue or be rescinded. The hearing shall be held within 48 hours of the initial order or the next judicial day, whichever occurs later. The prisoner shall be entitled to be present at the hearing and to be represented by counsel. The court may modify or vacate that order at any time. The rate of compensation for the prisoner's confinement within a California state prison or correctional facility shall be established by the Department of Corrections and shall be charged against the county making the request.

SEC. 2. The Legislature declares that this act mandates a new program or higher level of service on local government. As required by Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for costs mandated by the state pursuant to this act shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code and, if the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

CHAPTER 1354

An act to amend Sections 42005 and 42007 of, to add Section 42005.1 to, and to add and repeal Section 42005.2 of, the Vehicle Code, relating to traffic violator schools.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 42005.1 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

42005.1. The court may order any person designated to attend a traffic violator school to instead participate in a study of traffic violator schools licensed pursuant to Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 11200) of Division 5. The person's participation in that study constitutes attending a court-supervised program of traffic safety instruction for purposes of Section 42007.

SEC. 2. Section 42005.2 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

42005.2. (a) The department shall contract with a motor club, as defined in Section 12142 of the Insurance Code, which has its headquarters in the southern California area, for the conduct of a study, as described in this section, which shall be conducted at the sole expense of the contracting motor club, if the motor club agrees to each expense prior to the incurring of any obligation. The department shall do whatever is necessary to assure that the study is conducted in an impartial, unbiased manner. The purpose of the study is to identify ways to enhance the traffic safety effectiveness of traffic violator schools through their educational impact.

(b) The study shall include the examination of not less than 10,000 individuals who have been designated to attend participating traffic violator schools in the greater Los Angeles area. A statistically significant sample of those individuals, randomly selected, shall be excused from the instructional portion of classroom attendance but shall comply with all other aspects of traffic violator school attendance. The study shall examine the driving record of participants for not less than one year following school completion. The department may release driving record information for purposes of the study. Any information gained regarding individual schools or individual students shall be confidential. Any information gained regarding characteristics of traffic violator school methodology and its relation to driver safety shall be made public upon the completion of the study.

(c) (1) The Traffic Violator School Study Committee is hereby created. The committee is composed of 13 members appointed by the director, as follows:

(A) Two representatives of the department.

(B) Four representatives of traffic schools.

(C) Two representatives of the motor club with which the department contracts pursuant to subdivision (b).

(D) One representative of a nonprofit organization devoted to traffic safety.

(E) One representative of the Judicial Council.

(F) One representative of an association of police officers in the County of Los Angeles.

(G) One representative of the California Association of Highway Patrolmen.

(H) One representative with expertise in the area of traffic safety research from a public or private university.

(2) Members of the committee shall serve without compensation and shall not be reimbursed for any expenses by the state. The department shall supply the committee with the necessary facilities and support.

(3) The committee shall review and recommend to the department the methodology for the conduct of the study and facilitate the operations of the contracting motor club pursuant to this section. The department shall adopt the methodology for the conduct of the study not later than July 1, 1991. The contracting motor club shall follow the methodology adopted by the department, and shall regularly report to the committee and the department on the progress of the study.

(d) The department shall transmit a copy of the study to the Legislature on or before January 1, 1994.

(e) Any person who willfully fails to comply with any requirement imposed pursuant to this section is guilty of a violation of subdivision (e) of Section 42005.

(f) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 3. Section 42005 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

42005. (a) The court may order any person convicted of a traffic violation to attend a traffic violator school licensed pursuant to Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 11200) of Division 5.

(b) In lieu of adjudicating a traffic offense, and with the consent of the defendant, or after conviction of a traffic offense, the court may order any person issued a notice to appear for a traffic violation to attend a traffic violator school licensed pursuant to Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 11200) of Division 5.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (d), any person so ordered may choose the traffic violator school the person will attend. The court shall make available to each person subject to such an order the current list of traffic violator schools published by the department pursuant to Section 11205.

(d) In those counties where, prior to January 1, 1985, one or more individual courts, or the county acting on behalf of one or more individual courts, contracted for the provision of traffic safety instructional services to traffic violators referred by the court pursuant to a pretrial diversion program, the courts may restrict referrals under this section to those schools for traffic violators or licensed driving schools which are under contract with the court or with the county to provide traffic safety instructional services for persons referred pursuant to subdivision (a).

A county described in Section 28023 of the Government Code may continue to provide the program authorized by this section in accordance with the provisions of current and future contracts as may be amended and approved by the individual courts within that county and the county shall be exempt from state regulations relative to maximum classroom attendance.

(e) Any person who willfully fails to comply with a court order to attend traffic violator school is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 4. Section 42007 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

42007. (a) The clerk of the court shall collect a uniform fee not to exceed twenty-four dollars ($24) from every person who is ordered or permitted to attend a traffic violator school pursuant to Section 42005 or who attends any other court-supervised program of traffic safety instruction. The fee shall be in an amount ordered by a majority of the judges, or by the sole judge, of a superior, municipal, or justice court. The amount of the fee shall be sufficient to recover the administrative costs of this section, and the cost incurred by the court in carrying out Section 42005 or in supervising any other similar program, and shall include the following amounts:

(1) In any county in which a fund is established pursuant to Section 76001, 76002, 76004, or 76006 of the Government Code, the sum of one dollar ($1) for each fund so established.

(2) The sum of eight dollars and ninety cents ($8.90) for the issuing local governmental entity as specified in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b).

The fee shall not include the cost, or any part thereof, of traffic safety instruction offered by the school or other program.

(b) Revenues derived from the fee collected under this section shall be allocated as follows:

(1) The amount collected under paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) shall be deposited with the county treasurer and placed in the fund established pursuant to Section 76001, 76002, 76004, or 76006 of the Government Code.

(2) The amount collected under paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) shall be deposited by the clerk in accordance with Section 68084 of the Government Code. The clerk shall report to the county auditor which agency issued the notice to appear for which the fee was collected, and the county shall transfer to the issuing local governmental entity monthly for deposit in the general fund of the entity eight dollars and ninety cents ($8.90) for each notice to appear it issued.

(3) The remaining amount collected under subdivision (a) shall be deposited by the clerk in accordance with Section 68084 of the Government Code. The county board of supervisors may use these funds for any county purpose.

(c) As used in this section, "court-supervised program" includes, but is not limited to, any program of traffic safety instruction the successful completion of which is accepted by the court in lieu of adjudicating a violation of this code.

SEC. 5. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Sections 40059, 40160, 40191, 40194, 40403, 40406, 40507, 40900, 40950, 41032, 41033, 41332, 41333, 41420, 41760, 41781, 41782, 41783, 41794, 41820, 41850, 43020, 43021, 43203, 43204, 43210, 43219, 43308, 44001, 44004, 44103, 44150, 44152, 44800, 45003, 45005, 45201, 45300, 45303, 45401, 46101, 46200, 46308, 46806, 48000, 48001, and 48008 of, to amend and renumber Section 44007 of, to add Sections 47901 and 47902 to, to repeal Sections 40160 and 40194 of, to amend the heading of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 40400) of Part 1 of, to amend the heading of Chapter 13 (commencing with Section 47000) of Part 7 of, and to amend and renumber the heading of Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 45000) of Part 5 of, Division 30 of, the Public Resources Code, and to amend Section 36 of Chapter 1095 of the Statutes of 1989, relating to solid waste, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 40059 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

40059. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, each county, city, district, or other local governmental agency may determine all of the following:

(1) Aspects of solid waste handling which are of local concern, including, but not limited to, frequency of collection, means of collection and transportation, level of services, charges and fees, and nature, location, and extent of providing solid waste handling services.

(2) Whether the services are to be provided by means of nonexclusive franchise, contract, license, permit, or otherwise, either with or without competitive bidding, or if, in the opinion of its governing body, the public health, safety, and well-being so require, by partially exclusive or wholly exclusive franchise, contract, license, permit, or otherwise, either with or without competitive bidding. The authority to provide solid waste handling services may be granted under terms and conditions prescribed by the governing body of the local governmental agency by resolution or ordinance.

(b) Nothing in this division modifies or abrogates in any manner either of the following:

(1) Any franchise previously granted or extended by any county or other local governmental agency.

(2) Any contract, license, or any permit to collect solid waste previously granted or extended by a city, county, or a city and county.

SEC. 2. Section 40160 of the Public Resources Code, as added by Chapter 1095 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

40160. "Operator" means the person to whom the approval to operate a disposal site, transfer or processing station, or collection system is granted.

SEC. 3. Section 40160 of the Public Resources Code, as added by Chapter 1096 of the Statutes of 1989, is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 40191 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

40191. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), "solid waste" means all putrescible and nonputrescible solid, semisolid, and liquid wastes, including garbage, trash, refuse, paper, rubbish, ashes, industrial wastes, demolition and construction wastes, abandoned vehicles and parts thereof, discarded home and industrial appliances, dewatered, treated, or chemically fixed sewage sludge which is not hazardous waste, manure, vegetable or animal solid and semisolid wastes, and other discarded solid and semisolid wastes.

(b) "Solid waste" does not include hazardous waste or low-level radioactive waste regulated under Chapter 7.6 (commencing with Section 25800) of the Health and Safety Code, except low-level radioactive waste which is disposed of at a solid waste facility.

SEC. 5. Section 40194 of the Public Resources Code, as added by Chapter 1095 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

40194. "Solid waste facility" includes a solid waste transfer or processing station, a composting facility, a transformation facility, and a disposal facility.

SEC. 6. Section 40194 of the Public Resources Code, as added by the Chapter 1096 of the Statutes of 1989, is repealed.

SEC. 7. The heading of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 40400) of Part 1 of Division 30 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

CHAPTER 3. INTEGRATED WASTE MANAGEMENT BOARD

SEC. 8. Section 40403 of the Public Resources Code, as amended by Chapter 145 of the Statutes of the 1990, is amended to read:

40403. (a) Except as provided under subdivision (b), no board member may derive any income directly or indirectly, except income from a vested retirement plan, from a person or from an entity subject to regulation by the board or from any organization which actively participates in matters before the board.

(b) No board member appointed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 40401 may derive any earned income directly or indirectly from a person or from an entity subject to regulation by the board or from any organization which actively participates in matters before the board. For purposes of this subdivision, "earned income" means wages, salaries, professional fees, directors fees, and other amounts received as compensation for personal services actually rendered, but does not include any amount received as a pension or annuity, dividends, interest, or any other return on a security including proceeds from the sale of a security.

SEC. 9. Section 40406 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

40406. (a) Except as provided for the initial board in subdivision (b), each member of the board shall be appointed for a term of four years. A vacancy shall be filled by the appointing power for the unexpired portion of the term in which it occurs.

(b) The terms of the initial members of the board are as follows:

(1) The term of the initial member appointed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 40401 ends on January 1, 1992.

(2) The term of the initial member appointed pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 40401 ends on January 1, 1993.

(3) The term of one of the initial members appointed pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 40401 ends on January 1, 1996.

(4) The term of one of the initial members appointed pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 40401 ends on January 1, 1997.

(5) The term of the initial member appointed pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 40401 ends on January 1, 1995.

(6) The term of the initial members appointed pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 40401 ends on January 1, 1994.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (b) of Section 40404, the initial members appointed by the Governor pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 40401 are not subject to confirmation by the Senate.

(d) The Governor shall appoint the initial members appointed pursuant to subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 40401 and transmit the appointment on or before July 1, 1990. The Senate shall confirm or refuse to confirm the appointments made pursuant to subdivision (a) or (b), or both, on or before a date which is 90 days after receipt of the notice of appointment.

(e) If the Senate refuses or fails to confirm the appointments pursuant to subdivision (d), the Governor, on or before a date which is within 20 days after that refusal or failure, shall appoint another person and transmit the appointment and transmit the appointment and the Senate shall confirm or refuse to confirm that appointment on or before a date which is 90 days after receipt of the notice of appointment.

(f) If the Senate takes no action to confirm or refuse to confirm an appointment pursuant to subdivision (d) or (e) on or before January 1, 1991, that appointment is deemed confirmed.

SEC. 10. Section 40507 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

40507. The board shall file a biennial report with the Legislature commencing on or before March 31, 1991, and each March 31 of each odd-numbered year thereafter. The report shall summarize progress achieved by the board in implementing programs established pursuant to this division and shall include all of the following:

(a) Procedures for the timely review of county and city source reduction and recycling elements, countywide siting elements, and countywide integrated waste management plans.

(b) Recommendations concerning state actions needed to maintain an efficient and environmentally safe solid waste management infrastructure.

(c) Recommendations for state actions that are needed to improve the implementation of integrated waste management plans at the state and local levels.

(d) The identification of the geographical location of major existing and potential markets for recyclable materials diverted from solid waste landfills and transformation facilities.

(e) Specific market development strategies and a schedule of proposed market development activities to properly sequence market expansion to prevent an oversupply of recovered material.

(f) Recommendations for public education and information activities needed to promote the reduction and recycling of solid waste.

SEC. 11. Section 40900 of the Public Resources Code, as amended by Chapter 145 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

40900. (a) The Legislature finds that integrated waste management plans prepared and adopted by local agencies shall conform, to the maximum extent possible to the policies and goals established under Article 1 (commencing with Section 40000) and Article 2 (commencing with Section 40050) of Chapter 1 of Part 1.

(b) The Legislature finds that decisions involving the establishment or expansion of solid waste facilities should be guided by an effective planning process, including meaningful public and private solid waste industry participation.

(c) The Legislature declares that it is the policy of the state and the intent of the Legislature that each state, regional, and local agency concerned with the solid waste facility planning and siting process involve the public through public hearings and informative meetings and that, at those hearings and other public forums, the public be granted the opportunity to respond to clearly defined alternative objectives, policies, and actions.

(d) The Legislature further declares that it is the policy of the state and the intent of the Legislature to foster and encourage private solid waste enterprises. In furtherance of that policy, it is the intent of the Legislature that each state, regional, and local agency concerned with the solid waste facility planning and siting process involve the private solid waste industry.

SEC. 12. Section 40950 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

40950. (a) On or before March 1, 1990, and every five years thereafter, each county, which is not a city and county, shall convene a task force to assist in coordinating the development of city source reduction and recycling elements prepared pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 41000), the county source reduction and recycling element prepared pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 41300), and to assist in the preparation of the countywide siting element prepared pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 41700).

(b) The membership of the task force shall be determined by the county and by a majority of the cities within the county which contain a majority of the population of the incorporated area of the county, except in those counties which have only two cities, in which case the membership of the task force is subject to approval of the city which contains the majority of the population of the incorporated area of the county. The task force may include representatives of the solid waste industry, environmental organizations, general public, special districts, and affected governmental agencies.

(c) To ensure a coordinated and cost-effective regional recycling system, the task force shall do all of the following:

(1) Identify solid waste management issues of countywide or regional concern.

(2) Determine the need for solid waste collection and transfer systems, processing facilities, and marketing strategies that can serve more than one local jurisdiction within the region.

(3) Facilitate the development of multijurisdictional arrangements for the marketing of recyclable materials.

(4) To the extent possible, facilitate resolution of conflicts and inconsistencies between or among city source reduction and recycling elements.

(d) The task force shall develop goals, policies, and procedures which are consistent with guidelines and regulations adopted by the board, to guide the development of the siting element of the countywide integrated waste management plan.

SEC. 13. Section 41032 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41032. For the first revision, and any subsequent revision, of a source reduction and recycling element of a countywide integrated waste management plan which is required to be submitted to the board pursuant to Section 41770, the city waste characterization component shall identify the constituent materials which compose solid waste generated within the area affected by the city source reduction and recycling element. The information shall be statistically representative of the solid waste generated within the jurisdiction of the city and shall reflect seasonal variations. The constituent materials shall be identified by volume, percentage in weight, or its volumetric equivalent, material type, and source of generation, which includes residential, commercial, industrial, governmental, or other sources.

SEC. 14. Section 41033 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41033. Any waste characterization component prepared by a city pursuant to Section 40132, and any other information submitted by a city to the board on the quantities of solid waste generated, diverted, and disposed of, shall include data which is as accurate as possible, on the quantities of solid waste generated, diverted, and disposed of, to enable the board, to the maximum extent possible, to accurately measure the diversion requirements established under paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 41780.

SEC. 15. Section 41332 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41332. For the first revision, and any subsequent revision, of a source reduction and recycling element of a countywide integrated waste management plan which is required to be submitted to the board pursuant to Section 41770, the county waste characterization component shall identify the constituent materials which compose solid waste generated within the area affected by the county source reduction and recycling element. The information shall be statistically representative of the solid waste generated within the jurisdiction of the county and shall reflect seasonal variations. The constituent materials shall be identified by volume, percentage in weight, or its volumetric equivalent, material type, and source of generation, which includes residential, commercial, industrial, governmental, or other sources.

SEC. 16. Section 41333 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41333. Any waste characterization component prepared by a county pursuant to Section 41332, and any other information submitted by a county to the board on the quantities of solid waste generated, diverted, and disposed of, shall include data which is as accurate as possible, on the quantities of solid waste generated, diverted, and disposed of, to enable the board, to the maximum extent possible, to accurately measure the diversion requirements established under paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 41780.

SEC. 17. Section 41420 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41420. The county education and public information component shall describe to the board how the county will educate and inform its citizens about the source reduction, recycling, and composting programs.

SEC. 18. Section 41760 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41760. The countywide integrated waste management plan and any amendments thereto, excepting a source reduction and recycling element prepared by a city, county, or city and county shall be approved by the county and by a majority of the cities within the county which contain a majority of the population of the incorporated areas of the county, except in those counties which have only two cities, in which case the plan is subject to the approval of the city which contains a majority of the population of the incorporated areas of the county. Each city shall act upon the plan and any proposed amendment within 90 days after receipt of the amendment. If a city fails to act upon the plan or the proposed amendment within 90 days after receiving the plan or the amendment, the city shall be deemed to have approved the plan or the amendment as submitted.

SEC. 19. Section 41781 of the Public Resources Code, as amended by Section 44 of Chapter 145 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

41781. (a) For the purpose of determining the base amount of solid waste from which source reduction, recycling, and composting levels shall be calculated, "solid waste" includes only the following:

(1) Materials in the waste stream generated within a local agency's jurisdiction, the types and quantities of which were disposed of at a permitted disposal facility as of January 1, 1990. Nothing in this section requires local agencies to perform waste characterization in addition to the waste characterization requirements established under Sections 41030, 41031, 41331, and 41332.

(2) The amount of solid waste diverted from a landfill or transformation facility through source reduction, recycling, or composting.

(b) For the purposes of this section, "solid waste" does not include any of the following:

(1) Agricultural wastes, except agricultural wastes which were disposed of at a permitted disposal facility as of January 1, 1990, which are diverted, and which are recycled, composed, or reused.

(2) Inert solids, including inert solids used for structural fill, except inert solids which were disposed of at a permitted disposal facility as of January 1, 1990, which are diverted, and which are recycled or reused for paving materials or other construction-related materials.

(3) Scrap metals, except scrap metals which were disposed of at a permitted disposal facility as of January 1, 1990, which are diverted, and which are recycled or reused.

(4) Discarded, white-coated major appliances, except those discarded, white-coated major appliances which were disposed of at a permitted disposal facility as of January 1, 1990, which are diverted, and which are recycled, or refurbished and reused.

(5) Sludge.

(6) Another waste product which would not normally be disposed of at a landfill or transformation facility.

(c) For the purposes of this chapter, the amount of solid waste from which the required reductions are measured shall be the amount of solid waste existing on January 1, 1990, with future adjustments for increases or decreases in the quantity of waste caused only by changes in population and changes in the number or size of governmental, industrial, or commercial operations in the jurisdiction.

(d) For the purpose of determining recycling levels required pursuant to this article, counties and cities shall include all existing residential, commercial, and industrial source reduction, recycling, and composting activities that divert solid waste from solid waste landfills and transformation facilities.

(e) On or before March 1, 1991, the board, in consultation and with the cooperation of the state water board and the State Department of Health Services, shall prepare and submit to the Legislature and the Governor a report on whether or not to include sludge in the waste diversion requirements established under Section 41780. The report shall include, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(1) A description and evaluation of the various options for disposal and reuse of sludge, including, but not limited to, composting, cocomposting, land application, incineration, ocean disposal, and landfill disposal.

(2) An evaluation of the environmental impacts of the various disposal and reuse options, including, but not limited to, impacts on surface, marine, and ground water quality and impacts on air quality.

(3) An evaluation of the public health impacts of the various disposal and reuse options, including impacts from ingestion of, and skin contact with, sludge.

(4) An evaluation of the adequacy of existing federal and state statutes and regulatory programs designed to regulate sludge disposal and reuse, including, but not limited to, adequacy of current funding levels for regulatory programs.

(5) Recommendations on the best available methods to dispose or reuse sludge to ensure the maximum protection of public health and the environment.

(f) This section shall remain in effect until October 1, 1991, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 20. Section 41781 of the Public Resources Code, as added by Section 45 of Chapter 145 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

41781. (a) For the purpose of determining the base rate of solid waste from which source reduction, recycling, and composting levels shall be calculated, "solid waste" includes only the following:

(1) Materials in the waste stream generated within a local agency's jurisdiction, the types and quantities of which were disposed of at a permitted disposal facility as of January 1, 1990. Nothing in this section requires local agencies to perform waste characterization in addition to the waste characterization requirements established under Sections 41030, 41031, 41331, and 41332.

(2) The amount of solid waste diverted from a landfill or transformation facility through source reduction, recycling, or composting.

(b) For the purposes of this section, "solid waste" does not include any of the following:

(1) Agricultural wastes, except agricultural wastes which were disposed of at a permitted disposal facility as of January 1, 1990, which are diverted, and which are recycled, composted, or reused.

(2) Inert solids, including inert solids used for structural fill, except inert solids which were disposed of at a permitted disposal facility as of January 1, 1990, which are diverted, and which are recycled or reused for paving materials or other construction-related materials.

(3) Scrap metals, except scrap metals which were disposed of at a permitted disposal facility as of January 1, 1990, which are diverted, and which are recycled or reused.

(4) Discarded, white-coated major appliances, except those discarded, white-coated major appliances which were disposed of at a permitted disposal facility as of January 1, 1990, which are diverted, and which are recycled, or refurbished and reused.

(5) Another waste product which would not normally be disposed of at a landfill or transformation facility.

(c) For the purposes of this chapter, the amount of solid waste from which the required reductions are measured shall be the amount of solid waste existing on January 1, 1990, with future adjustments for increases or decreases in the quantity of waste caused only by changes in population or changes in the number or size of governmental, industrial, or commercial operations in the jurisdiction.

(d) For the purpose of determining recycling levels required pursuant to this article, counties and cities shall include all existing residential, commercial, and industrial source reduction, recycling, and composting activities that divert solid waste from solid waste landfills and transformation facilities.

(e) This section shall become operative on October 1, 1991.

SEC. 21. Section 41782 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41782. The board may provide a reduction in the requirements specified in Section 41780 if the city or county demonstrates, and the board concurs, based upon substantial evidence in the record, that achievement of the requirements of Section 41780 is not feasible due to both of the following:

(1) The small geographic size or low population density of a city or county.

(2) The small quantity of solid waste generated within the city or county.

The board shall establish alternative, but less comprehensive, planning requirements for those counties or cities which will ensure compliance with this division.

SEC. 22. Section 41783 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41783. For any city or county source reduction and recycling element submitted to the board after January 1, 1995, the 50 percent source reduction and recycling requirement established under Section 41780 may include not more than 10 percent through transformation, as defined in Section 40201, only if all of the following conditions are met:

(a) The transformation project has complied with Sections 21151.1 and 41150 of this code and Section 42315 of the Health and Safety Code.

(b) The transformation project uses front-end methods or programs to remove all recyclable materials from the waste stream prior to transformation to the maximum extent feasible.

(c) The ash or other residue generated from the transformation project is routinely tested at least once a month, and, notwithstanding Section 25143.5 of the Health and Safety Code, if hazardous wastes are present, the ash or residue is sent to a class 1 hazardous waste disposal facility.

(d) The board holds a public hearing in the city or county within which a transformation project is proposed, and, after the public hearing, the board makes both of the following findings, based upon substantial evidence on the record:

(1) The city or county is, and will continue to be, effectively implementing all feasible source reduction, recycling, and composting measures.

(2) The transformation project will not adversely affect public health and the environment.

SEC. 23. Section 41794 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41794. Any city may submit its city source reduction and recycling element to the board for review before the dates in the schedule in Section 41791.

SEC. 24. Section 41820 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41820. The board may grant a one-year time extension from the requirements of Section 41780 to any city or county if the following conditions are met:

(a) The board adopts written findings, based upon substantial evidence in the record, that adverse market conditions beyond the control of city or county prevent the city or county from meeting the requirements of Section 41780.

(b) The city or county submits a plan of correction which demonstrates how the city or county will meet the requirements of Section 41780 before the time extension expires, which includes the source reduction, recycling, or composting steps the city or county will implement, and which states how these programs will be funded.

(c) The city or county demonstrates that it is achieving the maximum feasible amount of source reduction, recycling, and composting of solid waste within its jurisdiction.

SEC. 25. Section 41850 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41850. (a) If, after holding the public hearing and issuing an order of compliance pursuant to Section 41825, the board finds that the county or city and county has failed to implement its source reduction and recycling element, the board may impose administrative civil penalties of up to ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per day until the city or county implements the element.

(b) In determining the amount of any penalties imposed under this section, the board shall consider only those relevant circumstances which have prevented a city or county from meeting the requirements of this division, including the requirements established under paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 41780, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

(1) Natural disasters.

(2) Budgetary conditions within a city or county which could not be remedied by the imposition or adjustment of solid waste fees.

(3) Work stoppages which directly prevent a city or county from implementing its source reduction and recycling element.

(c) In addition, the board shall consider all of the following:

(1) The extent to which a city or county has made good faith efforts to implement its source reduction and recycling element.

(2) The extent to which a city or county has implemented additional source reduction, recycling, and composting activities to comply with the requirements of paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 41780.

(3) The extent to which a city or county is meeting the requirements established under paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 41780.

SEC. 25.5. Section 41850 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41850. (a) If, after holding the public hearing and issuing an order of compliance pursuant to Section 41825, the board finds that the county or city and county has failed to implement its source reduction and recycling or household hazardous waste elements, the board may impose administrative civil penalties of up to ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per day until the city or county implements the element.

(b) In determining the amount of any penalties imposed under this section, the board shall consider only those relevant circumstances which have prevented a city or county from meeting the requirements of this division, including the requirements established under paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 41780, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

(1) Natural disasters.

(2) Budgetary conditions within a city or county which could not be remedied by the imposition or adjustment of solid waste fees.

(3) Work stoppages which directly prevent a city or county from implementing its source reduction and recycling element.

(c) In addition, the board shall consider all of the following:

(1) The extent to which a city or county has made good faith efforts to implement its source reduction and recycling element.

(2) The extent to which a city or county has implemented additional source reduction, recycling, and composting activities to comply with the requirements of paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 41780.

(3) The extent to which a city or county is meeting the requirements established under paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 41780.

SEC. 26. Section 43020 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

43020. The board shall adopt and revise regulations which set forth minimum standards for solid waste handling, transfer, composting, transformation, and disposal for the protection of air, water, and land from pollution, in accordance with this division, and Section 4520 and Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 25100) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code. The board shall consider any recommendations of the State Air Resources Board for the prevention of air pollution and any recommendations of the state water board for the prevention of water pollution.

SEC. 27. Section 43021 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

43021. Regulations shall include standards for the design, operation, maintenance, and ultimate reuse of solid waste facilities, but shall not include aspects of solid waste handling or disposal which are solely of local concern.

SEC. 28. Section 43203 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

43203. The designation of the enforcement agency shall be made by any one of the following procedures:

(a) The board of supervisors of the county may designate the enforcement agency to carry out this chapter in the county. The designation is subject to the approval by a majority of the cities within the county which contain a majority of the population of the incorporated areas of the county except in those counties which have only two cities in which case the designation is subject to approval by the city which contains the majority of the population of the incorporated area of the county.

(b) The county and the cities within the county may enter into a joint exercise of powers agreement pursuant to Section 6500 of the Government Code for the purpose of establishing an enforcement agency to carry out this chapter in the jurisdiction of the joint powers agency.

(c) A city council may designate an enforcement agency to carry out this chapter in the city.

(d) The board of supervisors of the county may designate an enforcement agency to carry out this chapter in the unincorporated areas of that county.

SEC. 29. Section 43204 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

43204. No enforcement agency may exercise the powers and duties of an enforcement agency until the designation is approved by the board. After August 1, 1992, the board shall not approve a designation unless it finds that the designated enforcement agency is capable of fulfilling its responsibilities under the enforcement program and meets the certification requirements adopted by the board pursuant to Section 43200.

SEC. 30. Section 43210 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

43210. For those facilities which accept only hazardous wastes, or which accept only low-level radioactive wastes, or facilities which only accept both, and to which the provisions of Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 25100) or Chapter 7.6 (commencing with Section 25800) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code apply, the board and the enforcement agency have no enforcement or regulatory authority. All enforcement activities for the facilities relative to the control of hazardous wastes or low-level radioactive wastes shall be performed by the State Department of Health Services pursuant to Article 8 (commencing with Section 25180) of Chapter 6.5 or Chapter 7.6 (commencing with Section 25800) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 31. Section 43219 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

43219. (a) The board may, at its discretion, conduct inspections and investigations of solid waste facilities in order to ensure compliance with this division.

(b) The board, in conjunction with an inspection conducted by the enforcement agency, shall conduct each year at least one inspection of each solid waste facility in the state. A written inspection report shall be prepared and submitted within 30 days of the inspection to the enforcement agency.

(c) If the board identifies significant violations of state minimum requirements that were not identified and resolved through previous inspections by the enforcement agency, the board shall conduct a performance review of the enforcement agency within 120 days, prepare a written performance report within 60 days of the review, and require the submission of a plan of correction by the enforcement agency within 90 days of the report.

(d) The board shall withdraw an enforcement agency's designation pursuant to Section 43215 if it determines the enforcement agency has failed to submit an adequate plan of correction or has failed to implement the plan.

SEC. 32. Section 43308 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

43308. For those facilities which accept only hazardous wastes and to which Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 25100) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code applies, or which accept only low-level radioactive wastes and to which Chapter 7.6 (commencing with Section 25800) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code applies, or for those facilities which accept both, the board shall have no enforcement or regulatory authority. Except as otherwise provided in Section 40052, all enforcement activities for those facilities relative to the control of hazardous wastes or low-level radioactive wastes shall be performed by the State Department of Health Services pursuant to Article 8 (commencing with Section 25180) of Chapter 6.5 or pursuant to Chapter 7.6 (commencing with Section 25800) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 33. Section 43308 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

43308. For those facilities which accept only hazardous wastes and to which Chapter 6.1 (commencing with Section 25015) and Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 25100) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code applies, or which accept only low-level radioactive wastes and to which Chapter 7.6 (commencing with Section 25800) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code applies, or for those facilities which accept both, the board shall have no enforcement or regulatory authority. Except as otherwise provided in Section 40052, all enforcement activities for those facilities relative to the control of hazardous wastes or low-level radioactive wastes shall be performed by the State Department of Health Services pursuant to Article 8 (commencing with Section 25180) of Chapter 6.5 or pursuant to Chapter 7.6 (commencing with Section 25800) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 34. Section 44001 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

44001. Any person who proposes to become an operator of a solid waste facility shall file with the enforcement agency having jurisdiction over the facility, or the board if there is no designated and certified enforcement agency, an application for a solid waste facilities permit at least 120 days in advance of the date on which it is desired to commence operation.

SEC. 35. Section 44004 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

44004. (a) No operator of a solid waste facility shall make a significant change in the design or operation of any solid waste facility except in conformance with the terms and conditions in an approved solid waste facilities permit.

(b) If the operator wishes to modify the design or operation of a solid waste facility, the operator shall file an application for revision of the existing solid waste facilities permit with the enforcement agency. The application shall be filed at least 120 days in advance of the date when the proposed modification is to take place.

(c) Under circumstances which present an immediate danger to public health, as determined by the enforcement agency, the 120-day filing period may be waived.

SEC. 36. Section 44007, immediately following Section 45006, of the Public Resources Code is amended and renumbered to read:

45007. (a) If the solid waste is cleaned up, the effects thereof abated, or other necessary remedial action is taken by any governmental agency pursuant to Section 45001 or 45004, any person to whom an order pursuant to Section 45000 was issued is liable to that governmental agency to the extent of the reasonable costs actually incurred in cleaning up the operation, abating the effects thereof, or taking other remedial action.

(b) The amount of those costs is recoverable in a civil action by, and shall be paid to, that governmental agency together with the costs of suit incurred. From any available money, the governmental agency shall reimburse the board to the extent of the board's contribution.

SEC. 37. Section 44103 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

44103. (a) For those facilities which accept only hazardous wastes, or which accept only low-level radioactive wastes, or which accept both, a solid waste facilities permit issued by the enforcement agency is not required. A single hazardous waste facilities permit or low-level radioactive waste facilities permit issued by the State Department of Health Services pursuant to Article 9 (commencing with Section 25200) of Chapter 6.5 or Chapter 7.6 (commencing with Section 25800) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code shall be the only waste facilities permit or permits necessary for the use and operation of hazardous waste or low-level radioactive waste disposal facilities.

(b) For those facilities which accept both hazardous wastes and other solid wastes, two permits shall be required, as follows:

(1) The hazardous waste facilities permit issued by the State Department of Health Services pursuant to Article 9 (commencing with Section 25200) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code.

(2) The solid waste facilities permit issued by the enforcement agency pursuant to this chapter.

(c) Nothing in this section limits or supersedes any other permit or licensing requirements imposed by other provisions of law.

SEC. 38. Section 44150 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

44150. (a) The enforcement agency shall not issue or revise a solid waste facilities permit for any project which proposes to use transformation, as defined in Section 40201, unless the project complies with all of the following conditions:

(1) The proposed project meets all of the requirements specified in Section 44017.

(2) The proposed project is consistent with state solid waste management policy as set forth in Section 40051.

(3) The proposed project has a defined source of waste, including waste available from existing solid waste transfer and processing stations.

(4) The proposed project is guaranteed, by contract or other commitments, more than sufficient quantities of waste to maintain the project's economic feasibility for the life of the bonded indebtedness of the project. This guarantee shall not include any materials which will be recycled pursuant to paragraph (5).

(5) The proposed project, and any contracts or commitments the project has entered into for the provision of waste, uses front-end recycling methods or programs to remove all recyclable materials from the waste stream prior to transformation to the maximum extent feasible.

(6) If the proposed project is a thermal powerplant, the thermal powerplant has been specifically included in an adopted and approved revision of the plan prepared pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 41700) of Part 2.

(7) The ash or other residue generated from the transformation project is routinely tested at least once a month, and, notwithstanding Section 25143.5 of the Health and Safety Code, if hazardous wastes are present, the ash or residue is sent to a Class 1 hazardous waste disposal facility.

(b) Facilities for the recovery of methane gas are not subject to this section.

SEC. 39. Section 44152 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

44152. No enforcement agency shall issue or revise a permit for a solid waste facility which exclusively uses transformation until the board has concluded in writing that the proposed permit is consistent with the state's minimum standards for solid waste facilities.

SEC. 40. Section 44800 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

44800. All hearings required to be conducted under this chapter or Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 45000) of Part 5 shall be conducted by a hearing panel of three persons appointed by the chairperson of the local governing body of the enforcement agency under either of the following alternatives:

(a) The local governing body may appoint itself as the hearing panel.

(b) The local governing body may appoint an independent hearing panel.

SEC. 41. The heading of Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 45000) of Part 5 of Division 30 of the Public Resources Code is amended and renumbered to read:

CHAPTER 1. ADMINISTRATIVE ENFORCEMENT

SEC. 42. Section 45003 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

45003. After receiving a request pursuant to Section 45002, the board may hold a hearing pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 44800) of Chapter 4 of Part 4 on the matter and thereafter deny, grant, or grant in part the request.

SEC. 43. Section 45005 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

45005. (a) Any work performed pursuant to Section 45001 or 45004 is in default of, or in addition to, remedial work by the operator or other persons, and the work may be performed regardless of whether injunctive relief is being sought by any party.

(b) The board may perform the work itself, or have the work performed by, or in cooperation with, any other governmental agency or private contractor, and may use rented tools or equipment, either with or without operators furnished.

SEC. 44. Section 45201 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

45201. Any attorney authorized to act on behalf of the board shall petition the superior court to impose, assess, and recover the civil penalties authorized by Section 45200. Funds collected shall be paid to the Solid Waste Management Fund.

SEC. 45. Section 45300 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

45300. (a) Whenever the enforcement agency finds that any person is operating a solid waste facility or proposes to operate a solid waste facility which causes or threatens to cause a condition of hazard, pollution, or nuisance constituting an emergency requiring immediate action to protect the public health, welfare, or safety, the enforcement agency may issue a cease and desist or cleanup order under this article. If the enforcement agency fails to issue an order the board, after notification of the enforcement agency, may do so.

(b) The enforcement agency may, whenever it determines that the operation of a disposal site is causing or threatening to cause a condition of hazard, pollution, or nuisance including a hazard, pollution, or nuisance, due to the migration of methane gas or any solid waste, require the owner or operator of the disposal site to take corrective action as necessary to abate a nuisance or protect human health and the environment.

SEC. 46. Section 45303 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

45303. If any board or agency specified in Section 45301 receives a complaint concerning a solid waste disposal site and the board or agency determines that it is not authorized to take action concerning the complaint, the board or agency shall refer the complaint within 10 days of receipt to another state agency which it determines is authorized to take action.

SEC. 47. Section 45401 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

45401. (a) Upon the request of the enforcement agency, or upon its own initiative, the board may, after notification of the enforcement agency, require the owner or operator of a solid waste landfill to do either or both of the following:

(1) Take corrective action as necessary to abate a nuisance or protect human health and the environment.

(2) Prepare and implement a closure plan and postclosure maintenance plan.

(b) The board may expend funds available to it from the Solid Waste Disposal Site Cleanup and Maintenance Account in the Solid Waste Management Fund in preparing and issuing an order under this subdivision.

SEC. 48. Section 46101 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

46101. The committee is composed of seven members, as follows:

(a) The State Director of Health Services, or a designee of the director.

(b) The Chairperson of the State Water Resources Control Board, or a designee of the chairperson.

(c) The Chairperson of the State Air Resources Board, or a designee of the chairperson.

(d) The chairperson of the board, or a designee of the chairperson.

(e) A member appointed by the Senate Committee on Rules.

(f) A member appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly.

(g) A member, who shall be a county health officer, appointed by the Governor.

SEC. 49. Section 46200 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

46200. The board shall administer this part and may exercise all powers reasonably necessary to carry out the powers and responsibilities expressly granted or imposed upon the board pursuant to this part.

SEC. 50. Section 46308 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

46308. Applicants for loan guarantees shall submit a nonrefundable application fee in an amount determined by the board and payable to the board, for deposit in the account, to defray the board's expenses in reviewing the application, including a check on the applicant's credit rating.

SEC. 51. Section 46806 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

46806. All money in the account is available, upon appropriation by the Legislature, only for purposes of this part and for the purposes of Article 4 (commencing with Section 45400) of Chapter 1 of Part 5.

SEC. 52. The heading of Chapter 13 (commencing with Section 47000) of Part 7 of Division 30 of the Public Resources Code, as amended by Chapter 35 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

CHAPTER 1. HOUSEHOLD HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCE INFORMATION AND COLLECTION

SEC. 53. Section 47901 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

47901. All revenues received by the board shall be deposited in the specified account in the fund. Any revenue received by the board for which no account is specified shall be deposited in the Integrated Waste Management Account created by Section 48001 in the fund.

SEC. 54. Section 47902 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

47902. Notwithstanding Section 16475 of the Government Code, all interest earned and other increment derived from the investment of revenues in an account in the Solid Waste Management Fund shall be deposited in that account.

SEC. 55. Section 48000 of the Public Resources Code, as amended by Chapter 145 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

48000. (a) Each operator of a solid waste landfill required to have a solid waste facility permit shall, in addition to the fee imposed pursuant to Section 46801, pay a fee quarterly to the State Board of Equalization based on all solid waste disposed of at each disposal site on or after January 1, 1990.

(b) The fee shall be based on the amount, by weight or volumetric equivalent, as determined by the board, of solid waste disposed of at each disposal site, and is due within 25 days of the end of the calendar quarter. The first payment shall be received by the State Board of Equalization on or before April 25, 1990.

(c) For purposes of collection of the fees established pursuant to subdivision (a) during the 1990 calendar year, the state board shall bill operators which utilize parcel taxes, dwelling fees, or land use fees to fund solid waste services at the close of the third calendar quarter. The payment for the first three quarters of the 1990 calendar year shall be made within 25 days of the third calendar quarter. Thereafter, these operators shall remit payment to the state board pursuant to subdivision (b).

(d) The fee shall be set initially at fifty cents ($.50) per ton for waste disposed of during the period of January 1, 1990, through June 30, 1990. The fee for waste disposed of during the period of July 1, 1990, through June 30, 1991, shall be set by the board at an amount sufficient to generate revenues equivalent to the approved budget for the 1990–91 fiscal year, including a prudent reserve, but shall not exceed seventy-five cents ($.75) per ton. The fee for waste disposed of on July 1, 1991, and thereafter, shall be set annually by the board at an amount sufficient to generate revenues equivalent to the approved budget for that fiscal year, including a prudent reserve, but shall not exceed one dollar ($1) per ton.

SEC. 56. Section 48001 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

48001. The revenue from the fees paid pursuant to Section 48000 shall, after payment of refunds and administrative costs of collection, be deposited in the Integrated Waste Management Account, which is hereby created within the Solid Waste Management Fund.

SEC. 57. Section 48008 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

48008. (a) Any operator of a solid waste landfill that pays a fee pursuant to this chapter may impose on its users an administrative fee of not more than 5 percent of the fees paid to the State Board of Equalization during the previous quarter pursuant to Section 48000.

(b) Administrative fees imposed pursuant to subdivision (a) shall reflect, to the extent feasible, the actual costs of collecting and accounting for fees paid to the State Board of Equalization.

SEC. 58. Section 36 of Chapter 1095 of the Statutes of 1989 is amended to read:

Sec. 36. The California Integrated Waste Management Board may use not more than six hundred thousand dollars ($600,000) in the 1989–90 fiscal year and not more than one million two hundred thousand dollars ($1,200,000) in the 1990–91 fiscal year from the Solid Waste Disposal Site Cleanup and Maintenance Account in the General Fund, if those respective amounts are appropriated in the Budget Act for those fiscal years from the Solid Waste Disposal Site Cleanup and Maintenance Account in the General Fund, for initial startup costs incurred pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 40400) and Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 40500) of Part 1 of Division 30 of the Public Resources Code. Any funds made available from the Solid Waste Disposal Site Cleanup and Maintenance Account for the purposes specified in this section shall be a loan, which shall be repaid to the account, with interest calculated at the rate the funds would have earned in the Pooled Money Investment Account as fee revenue becomes available.

SEC. 59. Section 25.5 of this bill shall become operative only if AB 2707 of the 1989–90 Regular Session adds Chapter 3.5 to Part 2 of Division 30 of the Public Resources Code and both this bill and AB 2707 are enacted, in which case Section 25 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 60. Section 33 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 43308 of the Public Resources Code proposed by both this bill and AB 1641. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1991, but this bill becomes operative first, (2) each bill amends Section 43308 of the Public Resources Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 1641, in which case Section 43308 of the Public Resources Code, as amended by Section 32 of this bill, shall remain operative only until the operative date of AB 1641, at which time Section 33 of this bill shall become operative.

SEC. 61. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the local agency or school district has the authority to levy service charges, fees, or assessments sufficient to pay for the program or level of service mandated by this act. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 62. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to ensure the safe management of solid waste, thereby protecting public health and safety and the environment, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1356

An act to add Article 14.7 (commencing with Section 1067) to Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 1 of the Insurance Code, relating to insurance.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 14.7 (commencing with Section 1067) is added to Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 1 of the Insurance Code, to read:

Article 14.7. California Life Insurance Guaranty Association

1067. This article shall be known and may be cited as the California Life Insurance Guaranty Association Act.

1067.01. The purpose of this article is as follows:

(a) To protect, subject to certain limitations, the persons specified in Section 1067.02 against failure in the performance of contractual obligations, under life insurance policies and annuity contracts specified in Section 1067.02, because of the impairment or insolvency of the member insurer that issued the policies or contracts.

(b) To provide this protection, an association of insurers is created to pay benefits and to continue coverages as limited herein, and members of the association are subject to assessment to provide funds to carry out the purposes of the article.

1067.02. (a) This article shall provide coverage for the policies and contracts specified in subdivision (b) to the following:

(1) Persons who, regardless of where they reside, except for nonresident certificate holders under group policies or contracts, are the beneficiaries, assignees, or payees of the persons covered under paragraph (2).

(2) To persons who are owners of or certificate holders under those policies or contracts, and who either:

(A) Are residents of this state.

(B) Are not residents, but only under all of the following conditions:

(i) The insurers that issued the policies or contracts are domiciled in this state.

(ii) The insurers never held a license or certificate of authority in the states in which the persons reside.

(iii) The states in which the persons reside have associations similar to the association created by this article.

(iv) The persons are not eligible for coverage by those associations.

(b) (1) This article shall provide coverage to the persons specified in subdivision (a) for direct, nongroup life, annuity, and supplemental policies or contracts and for certificates under direct group policies and contracts, except as limited by this article. Annuity contracts and certificates under group annuity contracts include, but are not limited to, structured settlement agreements, allocated annuity contracts, and any immediate or deferred annuity contracts.

(2) This article shall not provide coverage for any of the following:

(A) Any portion of a policy or contract not guaranteed by the insurer, or under which the risk is borne by the policyholder or contractholder.

(B) Any policy or contract of reinsurance, unless assumption certificates have been issued.

(C) Any portion of a policy or contract to the extent that the rate of interest on which it is based exceeds either or both of the following:

(i) The extent to which the rate of interest, averaged over the period of four years prior to the date on which the association becomes obligated with respect to the policy or contract, exceeds a rate of interest determined by subtracting six percentage points from Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average averaged for that same four-year period or for such lesser period if the policy or contract was issued less than four years before the association became obligated.

(ii) The extent to which the rate of interest, on and after the date on which the association becomes obligated with respect to the policy or contract, exceeds the rate of interest determined by subtracting six percentage points from Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average as most recently available, not to go below a minimum of three percentage points.

(D) Guaranteed investment contracts, guaranteed interest contracts, funding agreements, deposit administration contracts and all other unallocated annuity contracts.

(E) Any plan or program of an employer, association, or similar entity to provide life or annuity benefits to its employees or members to the extent that the plan or program is self-funded or uninsured, including, but not limited to, benefits payable by an employer, association, or similar entity under any of the following:

(i) A multiple employer welfare arrangement as defined in Section 514 of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended.

(ii) A minimum premium group insurance plan.

(iii) A stop-loss group insurance plan.

(iv) An administrative services only contract.

(F) Any portion of a policy or contract to the extent that it provides dividends or experience rating credits, or provides that any fees or allowances be paid to any person, including the policyholder or contractholder, in connection with the service to or administration of the policy or contract.

(G) Any policy or contract issued in this state by a member insurer at a time when it was not licensed or did not have a certificate of authority to issue the policy or contract in this state.

(H) Any annuity issued by a charitable organization that is duly qualified as such under applicable provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.

(c) The benefits for which the association may become liable shall in no event exceed the lesser of the following:

(1) Eighty percent of the contractual obligations, as modified pursuant to subparagraph (C) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (b), the 80 percent of the contractual obligations measured on the basis of any one life, each individual participant, or any one owner in accordance with the provisions of subparagraphs (A), (B), and (C) of paragraph (2), for which the insurer is liable or would have been liable if it were not an impaired or insolvent insurer.

(2) (A) With respect to any one life, regardless of the number of policies or contracts:

(i) Two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) in life insurance death benefits, but not more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) in net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values for life insurance.

(ii) One hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) in the present value of annuity benefits, including net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values.

(B) However, in no event shall the association be liable to expend more than two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) in the aggregate with respect to any one individual under subparagraph (A).

(C) With respect to any one owner of those policies or contracts, whether the policyowner is an individual, firm, corporation, or other legal entity, five million dollars ($5,000,000) in benefits, irrespective of the number of the policies and contracts held by the owner.

1067.03. This article shall be liberally construed to effect the purpose under Section 1067.01 which shall constitute an aid and guide to interpretation.

1067.04. As used in this article:

(a) "Account" means either of the two accounts created under Section 1067.05.

(b) "Association" means the California Life Insurance Guaranty Association created under Section 1067.05.

(c) "Commissioner" means the Insurance Commissioner.

(d) "Contractual obligation" means any obligation under a policy or contract or certificate under a group policy or contract, or portion thereof for which coverage is provided under Section 1067.02.

(e) "Covered policy" means any policy or contract within the scope of this article under Section 1067.02.

(f) "Impaired insurer" means a member insurer which, after the effective date of this article, is not an insolvent insurer, and (1) is deemed by the commissioner to be potentially unable to fulfill its contractual obligations or (2) is placed under an order of rehabilitation or conservation by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(g) "Insolvent insurer" means a member insurer which, after the effective date of this article, is placed under an order of liquidation by a court of competent jurisdiction with a finding of insolvency.

(h) "Member insurer" means any insurer licensed or which holds a certificate of authority to transact in this state any kind of insurance for which coverage is provided under Section 1067.02 and includes any insurer whose license or certificate of authority in this state may have been suspended, revoked, not renewed, or voluntarily withdrawn, but does not include any of the following:

(1) A fraternal benefit society.

(2) A mandatory state pooling plan.

(3) A mutual assessment company or any entity that operates on an assessment basis.

(4) An insurance exchange.

(5) A grants and annuities society holding a certificate of authority under Section 11520.

(6) Any entity similar to any of the above.

(i) "Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average" means the Monthly Average Corporates as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc., or any successor thereto.

(j) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or voluntary organization.

(k) "Premiums" means amounts received on covered policies or contracts less premiums, considerations and deposits returned thereon, and less dividends and experience credits thereon. "Premiums" does not include any amounts received for any policies or contracts or for the portions of any policies or contracts for which coverage is not provided under subdivision (b) of Section 1067.02 except that assessable premium shall not be reduced on account of paragraph (2) of subdivision (c) of Section 1067.02 relating to limitations with respect to any one individual, any one participant, and any one contractholder; provided that "premiums" shall not include any premiums in excess of five million dollars ($5,000,000) with respect to policies and contracts issued to any one owner, whether the policy owner is an individual, firm, corporation, or other legal entity, irrespective of the number of policies and contracts held by the owner.

(l) "Resident" means any person who resides in this state at the time a member insurer is determined to be an impaired or insolvent insurer and to whom a contractual obligation is owed. A person may be a resident of only one state, which in the case of a person other than a natural person shall be its principal place of business.

(m) "Supplemental contract" means any agreement entered into for the distribution of policy or contract proceeds.

(n) "Unallocated annuity contract" means any annuity contract or group annuity certificate which is not issued to and owned by an individual, except to the extent of any annuity benefits guaranteed to an individual by an insurer under that contract or certificate.

1067.05. (a) There is created a nonprofit legal entity to be known as the California Life Insurance Guaranty Association. All member insurers shall be and remain members of the association as a condition of their authority to transact insurance in this state. The association shall perform its functions under the plan of operation established and approved under Section 1067.09 and shall exercise its powers through a board of directors established under Section 1067.06. For purposes of administration and assessment the association shall maintain the following two accounts:

(1) The life insurance account.

(2) The annuity account.

(b) The association shall come under the immediate supervision of the commissioner and shall be subject to the applicable provisions of the insurance laws of this state. Meetings or records of the association may be opened to the public upon majority vote of the board of directors of the association.

1067.06. (a) The board of directors of the association shall consist of nine member insurers serving terms as established in the plan of operation. The members of the board shall be selected by member insurers subject to the approval of the commissioner. Vacancies on the board shall be filled for the remaining period of the term by a majority vote of the remaining board members, subject to the approval of the commissioner. To select the initial board of directors, and initially organize the association, the commissioner shall give notice to all member insurers of the time and place of the organizational meeting. In determining voting rights at the organizational meeting each member insurer shall be entitled to one vote in person or by proxy. If the board of directors is not selected within 60 days after notice of the organizational meeting, the commissioner may appoint the initial members.

(b) In approving selections or in appointing members to the board, the commissioner shall consider, among other things, whether all member insurers are fairly represented.

(c) Members of the board may be reimbursed from the assets of the association for expenses incurred by them as members of the board of directors, but members of the board shall not otherwise be compensated by the association for their services.

1067.07. (a) If a member insurer is an impaired domestic insurer, the association may, in its discretion, and subject to any conditions imposed by the association that do not impair the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer, that are approved by the commissioner, and that are, except in cases of court-ordered conservation or rehabilitation, also approved by the impaired insurer, do any of the following:

(1) Guarantee, assume, or reinsure, or cause to be guaranteed, assumed, or reinsured, any or all of the policies or contracts of the impaired insurer.

(2) Provide moneys, pledges, notes, guarantees, or other means proper to effectuate paragraph (1) and assure payment of the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer pending action under paragraph (1).

(3) Loan money to the impaired insurer.

(b) (1) If a member insurer is an impaired insurer, whether domestic, foreign, or alien, and the insurer is not paying claims timely, then subject to the preconditions specified in paragraph (2), the association shall, in its discretion, either:

(A) Take any of the actions specified in subdivision (a), subject to the conditions therein.

(B) Provide substitute benefits in lieu of the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer solely for periodic annuity benefit payments, death benefits, supplemental benefits, and cash withdrawals for policy or contract owners who petition therefor under claims of emergency or hardship in accordance with standards proposed by the association and approved by the commissioner.

(2) The association shall be subject to the requirements of paragraph (1) only if subparagraphs (A) and (B) apply:

(A) The laws of its state of domicile provide that until all payments of or on account of the impaired insurer's contractual obligations by all guaranty associations, along with all expenses thereof and interest on all of those payments and expenses, shall have been repaid to the guaranty associations or a plan of repayment by the impaired insurer shall have been approved by the guaranty associations, all of the following apply:

(i) The delinquency proceeding shall not be dismissed.

(ii) Neither the impaired insurer nor its assets shall be returned to the control of its shareholders or private management.

(iii) It shall not be permitted to solicit or accept new business or have any suspended or revoked license restored.

(B) Either clause (i) or (ii) applies:

(i) The impaired insurer is a domestic insurer, and it has been placed under an order of rehabilitation by a court of competent jurisdiction in this state.

(ii) The impaired insurer is a foreign or alien insurer, and all of the following apply:

(I) It has been prohibited from soliciting or accepting new business in this state.

(II) Its certificate of authority has been suspended or revoked in this state.

(III) A petition for rehabilitation or liquidation has been filed in a court of competent jurisdiction in its state of domicile by the commissioner of the state.

(c) If a member insurer is an insolvent insurer, the association shall, in its discretion, either do those things described in paragraph (1) or in paragraph (2):

(1) (A) Guaranty, assume, or reinsure, or cause to be guaranteed, assumed or reinsured, the policies or contracts of the insolvent insurer.

(B) Assure payment of the contractual obligations of the insolvent insurer.

(C) Provide those moneys, pledges, guarantees, or other means as are reasonably necessary to discharge the duties.

(2) With respect only to life insurance policies, provide benefits and coverages in accordance with subdivision (d).

(d) When proceeding under subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b), or paragraph (2) of subdivision (c), the association shall, with respect to only life insurance policies:

(1) Assure payment of benefits for premiums identical to the premiums and benefits, except for terms of conversion and renewability, that would have been payable under the policies of the insolvent insurer, for claims incurred:

(A) With respect to group policies, not later than the earlier of the next renewal date under the policies or contracts or 45 days, but in no event less than 30 days, after the date on which the association becomes obligated with respect to the policies.

(B) With respect to individual policies, not later than the earlier of the next renewal date, if any, under the policies or one year, but in no event less than 30 days, from the date on which the association becomes obligated with respect to such policies.

(2) Make diligent efforts to provide all known insureds or group policyholders, with respect to group policies, 30 days notice of the termination of the benefits provided.

(3) With respect to individual policies, make available to each known insured, or owner if other than the insured, and with respect to an individual formerly insured under a group policy who is not eligible for replacement group coverage, make available substitute coverage on an individual basis in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (4), if the insureds had a right under law of the terminated policy to convert coverage to individual coverage or to continue an individual policy in force until a specified age or for a specified time, during which the insurer had no right unilaterally to make changes in any provision of the policy or had a right only to make changes in premium by class.

(4) (A) In providing the substitute coverage required under paragraph (3), the association may offer either to reissue the terminated coverage or to issue an alternative policy.

(B) Alternative or reissued policies shall be offered without requiring evidence of insurability, and shall not provide for any waiting period or exclusion that would not have applied under the terminated policy.

(C) The association may reinsure any alternative or reissued policy.

(5) (A) Alternative policies adopted by the association shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner. The association may adopt alternative policies of various types for future issuance without regard to any particular impairment or insolvency.

(B) Alternative polices shall contain at least the minimum statutory provisions required in this state and provide benefits that shall not be unreasonable in relation to the premium charged. The association shall set the premium in accordance with a table of rates which it shall adopt. The premium shall reflect the amount of insurance to be provided and the age and class of risk of each insured, but shall not reflect any changes in the health of the insured after the original policy was last underwritten.

(C) Any alternative policy issued by the association shall provide coverage of a type similar to that of the policy issued by the impaired or insolvent insurer, as determined by the association.

(6) If the association elects to reissue terminated coverage at a premium rate different from that charged under the terminated policy, the premium shall be set by the association in accordance with the amount of insurance provided and the age and class of risk, subject to approval of the commissioner or by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(7) The association's obligations with respect to coverage under any policy of the impaired or insolvent insurer or under any reissued or alternative policy shall cease on the date that coverage or policy is replaced by another similar policy by the policyholder, the insured, or the association.

(e) Nonpayment of premiums within 31 days after the date required under the terms of any guaranteed, assumed, alternative, or reissued policy or contract or substitute coverage shall terminate the association's obligations under the policy or coverage under this article with respect to that policy or coverage, except with respect to any claims incurred or any net cash surrender value which may be due in accordance with the provisions of this article.

(f) Premiums due for coverage after entry of an order of liquidation of an insolvent insurer shall belong to and be payable at the direction of the association, and the association shall be liable for unearned premiums due to policy or contract owners arising after the entry of that order.

(g) The protection provided by this article shall not apply where any guaranty protection is provided to residents of this state by the laws of the domiciliary state or jurisdiction of the impaired or insolvent insurer other than this state.

(h) In carrying out its duties under subdivisions (b) and (c), the association may, subject to approval by the court, do any of the following:

(1) Impose permanent policy or contract liens in connection with any guarantee, assumption, or reinsurance agreement, if the association finds that the amounts which can be assessed under this article are less than the amounts needed to assure full and prompt performance of the association's duties under this article, or that the economic or financial conditions as they affect member insurers are sufficiently adverse to render the imposition of the permanent policy or contract liens, to be in the public interest.

(2) Impose temporary moratoriums or liens on payments of cash values and policy loans, or any other right to withdraw funds held in conjunction with policies or contracts, in addition to any contractual provisions for deferral of cash or policy loan value.

(i) If the association fails to act within a reasonable period of time as provided in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b), and subdivisions (c) and (d), the commissioner shall have the powers and duties of the association under this article with respect to impaired or insolvent insurers.

(j) The association may render assistance and advice to the commissioner, upon his or her request, concerning rehabilitation, payment of claims, continuance of coverage, or the performance of other contractual obligations of any impaired or insolvent insurer.

(k) The association shall have standing to appear before any court in this state with jurisdiction over an impaired or insolvent insurer concerning which the association is or may become obligated under this article. That standing shall extend to all matters germane to the powers and duties of the association, including, but not limited to, proposals for reinsuring, modifying, or guaranteeing the policies or contracts of the impaired or insolvent insurer and the determination of the policies or contracts and contractual obligations. The association shall also have the right to appear or intervene before a court in another state with jurisdiction over an impaired or insolvent insurer for which the association is or may become obligated or with jurisdiction over a third party against whom the association may have rights through subrogation of the insurer's policyholders.

(l) (1) Any person receiving benefits under this article shall be deemed to have assigned the rights under, and any causes of action relating to, the covered policy or contract to the association to the extent of the benefits received because of this article, whether the benefits are payments of or on account of contractual obligations, continuation of coverage or provision of substitute or alternative coverages. The association may require an assignment to it of those rights and cause of action by any payee, policy or contract owner, beneficiary, insured, or annuitant as a condition precedent to the receipt of any right or benefits conferred by this article upon that person.

(2) The subrogation rights of the association under this subdivision shall have the same priority against the assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer as that possessed by the person entitled to receive benefits under this article.

(3) In addition to paragraphs (1) and (2), the association shall have all common law rights of subrogation and any other equitable or legal remedy which would have been available to the impaired or insolvent insurer or holder of a policy or contract with respect to such policy or contracts.

(m) The association may do any of the following:

(1) Enter into contracts necessary or proper to carry out the provisions and purposes of this article.

(2) Sue or be sued, including taking any legal actions necessary or proper to recover any unpaid assessments under Section 1067.08 and to settle claims or potential claims against it.

(3) Borrow money to effect the purposes of this article. Any notes or other evidence of indebtedness of the association not in default shall be legal investments for domestic insurers and may be carried as admitted assets.

(4) Employ or retain an executive director and other persons necessary to handle the financial transactions of the association, and to perform other functions necessary or proper under this article provided that the executive director shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner.

(5) Take legal action necessary to avoid payment of improper claims.

(6) Exercise, for the purposes of this article and to the extent approved by the commissioner, the powers of a domestic life insurer, but in no case may the association issue insurance policies or annuity contracts other than those issued to perform its obligations under this article.

(n) The association may join an organization of one or more other state associations of similar purposes, to further the purposes and administer the powers and duties of the association.

1067.08. (a) For the purpose of providing the funds necessary to carry out the powers and duties of the association, the board of directors shall assess the member insurers, separately for each account, at such time and for such amounts as the board finds necessary. Assessments shall be due not less than 30 days after prior written notice to the member insurers and shall accrue interest at 10 percent per annum on and after the due date.

(b) There shall be two assessments, as follows:

(1) Class A assessments shall be made for the purpose of meeting administrative and legal costs and other expenses and examinations conducted under the authority of subdivision (e) of Section 1067.11.

Class A assessments may be made whether or not related to a particular impaired or insolvent insurer.

(2) Class B assessments shall be made to the extent necessary to carry out the powers and duties of the association under Section 1067.07 with regard to an impaired or an insolvent insurer.

(c) (1) The amount of any class A assessment shall be determined by the board and may be made on a pro rata or non-pro rata basis. If pro rata, the board may provide that it be credited against future class B assessments. A non-pro rata assessment shall not exceed two hundred fifty dollars ($250) per member insurer in any one calendar year. The amount of any class B assessment shall be allocated for assessment purposes among the accounts pursuant to an allocation formula which may be based on the premiums or reserves of the impaired or insolvent insurer or any other standard deemed by the board in its sole discretion as being fair and reasonable under the circumstances.

(2) Class B assessments against member insurers for each account shall be in the proportion that the premiums received on business in this state by each assessed member insurer or policies or contracts covered by each account for the three most recent calendar years for which information is available preceding the year in which the insurer became impaired or insolvent, as the case may be, bears to such premiums received on business in this state for those calendar years by all assessed member insurers.

(3) Assessments for funds to meet the requirements of the association with respect to an impaired or insolvent insurer shall not be made until necessary to implement the purposes of this article. Classification of assessments under subdivision (b) and computation of assessments under this subdivision shall be made with a reasonable degree of accuracy, recognizing that exact determinations may not always be possible.

(d) The association may abate or defer, in whole or in part, the assessment of a member insurer if, in the opinion of the board, payment of the assessment would endanger the ability of the member insurer to fulfill its contractual obligations. In the event an assessment against a member insurer is abated, or deferred in whole or in part, the amount by which that assessment is abated or deferred may be assessed against the other member insurers in a manner consistent with the basis for assessments set forth in this section.

(e) (1) The total of all assessments upon a member insurer for either account shall not in any one calendar year exceed one percent of the insurer's average premiums received in this state on the policies and contracts covered by the account during the three calendar years preceding the year in which the insurer became an impaired or insolvent insurer. If the maximum assessment, together with the other assets of the association in any account, does not provide in any one year in either account an amount sufficient to carry out the responsibilities of the association, the necessary additional funds shall be assessed as soon thereafter as permitted by this article.

(2) The board may provide in the plan of operation a method of allocating funds among claims, whether relating to one or more impaired or insolvent insurers, when the maximum assessment will be insufficient to cover anticipated claims.

(f) The board may, by an equitable method as established in the plan of operation, refund to member insurers, in proportion to the contribution of each insurer to that account, the amount by which the assets of the account exceed the amount the board finds is necessary to carry out during the coming year the obligations of the association with regard to that account, including assets accruing from assignment, subrogation, net realized gains and income from investments. A reasonable amount may be retained in any account to provide funds for the continuing expenses of the association and for future losses.

(g) It shall be proper for any member insurer, in determining its premium rates and policyowner dividends as to any kind of insurance within the scope of this article, to consider the amount reasonably necessary to meet its assessment obligations under this article.

(h) The association shall issue to each insurer paying an assessment under this article, other than class A assessment, a certificate of contribution, in a form prescribed by the commissioner, for the amount of the assessment so paid. All outstanding certificates shall be of equal dignity and priority without reference to amounts or date of issue. A certificate of contribution may be shown by the insurer in its financial statement as an asset in the form and for the amount, if any, and period of time as the commissioner may approve.

1067.09. (a) (1) The association shall submit to the commissioner a plan of operation and any amendments thereto necessary or suitable to assure the fair, reasonable, and equitable administration of the association. The plan of operation and any amendments thereto shall become effective upon the commissioner's written approval or unless he or she has not disapproved it within 30 days.

(2) If the association fails to submit a suitable plan of operation within 120 days following the effective date of this article or if at any time thereafter the association fails to submit suitable amendments to the plan, the commissioner shall, after notice and hearing, adopt and promulgate those reasonable rules necessary or advisable to effectuate the provisions of this article. The rules shall continue in force until modified by the commissioner or superseded by a plan submitted by the association and approved by the commissioner.

(b) All member insurers shall comply with the plan of operation.

(c) The plan of operation shall, in addition to requirements enumerated elsewhere in this article, do all of the following:

(1) Establish procedures for handling the assets of the association.

(2) Establish the amount and method of reimbursing members of the board of directors under Section 1067.06.

(3) Establish regular places and times for meetings including telephone conference calls of the board of directors.

(4) Establish procedures for records to be kept of all financial transactions of the association, its agents, and the board of directors.

(5) Establish the procedures whereby selections for the board of directors will be made and submitted to the commissioner.

(6) Establish any additional procedures for assessments under Section 1067.08.

(7) Contain additional provisions necessary or proper for the execution of the powers and duties of the association.

(d) The plan of operation may provide that any or all powers and duties of the association, except those under paragraph (3) of subdivision (m) of Section 1067.07 and Section 1067.08, are delegated to a corporation, association, or other organization which performs or will perform functions similar to those of this association, or its equivalent, in two or more states. That corporation, association, or organization shall be reimbursed for any payments made on behalf of the association and shall be paid for its performance of any function of the association. A delegation under this subdivision shall take effect only with the approval of both the board of directors and the commissioner, and may be made only to a corporation, association, or organization which extends protection not substantially less favorable and effective than that provided by this article.

1067.10. In addition to the duties and powers enumerated elsewhere in this article:

(a) The commissioner shall:

(1) Upon request of the board of directors, provide the association with a statement of the premiums in this and any other appropriate states for each member insurer.

(2) When an impairment is declared and the amount of the impairment is determined, serve a demand upon the impaired insurer to make good the impairment within a reasonable time; notice to the impaired insurer shall constitute notice to its shareholders, if any; the failure of the insurer to promptly comply with such demand shall not excuse the association from the performance of its powers and duties under this article.

(3) In any liquidation or rehabilitation proceeding involving a domestic insurer, be appointed as the liquidator or rehabilitator.

(b) The commissioner may suspend or revoke, after notice and hearing, the certificate of authority to transact insurance in this state of any member insurer which fails to pay an assessment when due or fails to comply with the operation of operation. As an alternative the commissioner may levy a forfeiture on any member insurer which fails to pay an assessment when due. The forfeiture shall not exceed 5 percent of the unpaid assessment per month, but no forfeiture shall be less than one hundred dollars ($100) per month.

(c) Any action of the board of directors or the association may be appealed to the commissioner by any member insurer if the appeal is taken within 60 days of the final action being appealed. If a member company is appealing an assessment, the amount assessed shall be paid to the association and available to meet association obligations during the pendency of an appeal. If the appeal on the assessment is upheld, the amount paid in error or excess shall be returned to the member company. Any final action or order of the commissioner shall be subject to judicial review in a court of competent jurisdiction.

(d) The liquidator, rehabilitator, or conservator of any impaired insurer may notify all interested persons of the effect of this article.

1067.11. To aid in the detection and prevention of insurer insolvencies or impairments:

(a) It shall be the duty of the commissioner to do the following:

(1) To notify the commissioners of all the other states, territories of the United States, and the District of Columbia when he or she takes any of the following actions against a member insurer:

(A) Revocation of license.

(B) Suspension of license.

(C) Makes any formal order that the company restrict its premium writing, obtain additional contributions to surplus, withdraw from the state, reinsure all or any part of its business, or increase capital, surplus, or any other account for the security of policyholders or creditors.

The notice shall be mailed to all commissioners within 30 days following the action taken or the date on which the action occurs.

(2) To report to the board of directors when he or she has taken any of the actions set forth in paragraph (1) or has received a report from any other commissioner indicating that any such action has been taken in another state. The report to the board of directors shall contain all significant details of the action taken or the report received from another commissioner.

(3) To report to the board of directors when he or she has reasonable cause to believe from any examination, whether completed or in process, of any member company that the company may be an impaired or insolvent insurer.

(4) To furnish to the board of directors the NAIC Insurance Regulatory Information System (IRIS) ratios and listings of companies not included in the ratios developed by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, and the board may use the information contained therein in carrying out its duties and responsibilities under this section. The report and the information contained therein shall be kept confidential by the board of directors until that time as it is made public by the commissioner or other lawful authority.

(b) The commissioner may seek the advice and recommendations of the board of directors concerning any matter affecting his or her duties and responsibilities regarding the financial condition of member insurers and companies seeking admission to transact insurance business in this state.

(c) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make reports and recommendations to the commissioner upon any matter germane to the solvency, liquidation, rehabilitation, or conservation of any member insurer or germane to the solvency of any company seeking to do an insurance business in this state.

(d) It shall be the duty of the board of directors to notify the commissioner of any information indicating any member insurer may be an impaired or insolvent insurer.

(e) The board of directors shall, upon majority vote, request that the commissioner order an examination of any member insurer which the board in good faith believes may be an impaired or insolvent insurer. Within 30 days of the receipt of the request, the commissioner shall begin the examination. The examination may be conducted as a National Association of Insurance Commissioners examination or may be conducted by persons that the commissioner designates. The cost of the examination shall be paid by the association and the examination report shall be treated as are other examination reports. In no event shall the examination report be released to the board of directors prior to its release to the public, but this shall not preclude the commissioner from complying with subdivision (a).

The commissioner shall notify the board of directors when the examination is completed. The request for an examination shall be kept on file by the commissioner but it shall not be open to public inspection prior to the release of the examination report to the public.

(f) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make recommendations to the commissioner for the detection and prevention of insurer insolvencies.

(g) The board of directors shall, at the conclusion of any insurer insolvency in which the association was obligated to pay covered claims, prepare a report to the commissioner containing the information that it may have in its possession bearing on the history and causes of the insolvency. The board shall cooperate with the boards of directors of guaranty associations in other states in preparing a report on the history and causes of insolvency of a particular insurer, and may adopt by reference any report prepared by the other associations.

1067.12. (a) Nothing in this article shall be construed to reduce the liability for unpaid assessments of the insureds of an impaired or insolvent insurer operating under a plan with assessment liability.

(b) Records shall be kept of all negotiations and meetings in which the association or its representatives are involved to discuss the activities of the association in carrying out its powers and duties under Section 1067.07. Records of the negotiations or meetings shall be made public only upon the termination of a liquidation, rehabilitation, or conservation proceeding involving the impaired or insolvent insurer, upon the termination of the impairment or insolvency of the insurer, or upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction. Nothing in this subdivision shall limit the duty of the association to render a report of its activities under Section 1067.13.

(c) For the purpose of carrying out its obligations under this article, the association shall be deemed to be a creditor of the impaired or insolvent insurer to the extent of assets attributable to covered policies reduced by any amounts to which the association is entitled as subrogee pursuant to Section 1067.07. Assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer attributable to covered policies shall be used to continue all covered policies and pay all contractual obligations of the impaired or insolvent insurer as required by this article. Assets attributable to covered policies, as used in this subdivision, are that proportion of the assets which the reserves that should have been established for such policies bear to the reserves that should have been established for all policies of insurance written by the impaired or insolvent insurer.

(d) (1) Prior to the termination of any liquidation, rehabilitation, or conservation proceeding, the court may take into consideration the contributions of the respective parties, including the association, the shareholders, and policyowners of the insolvent insurer, and any other party with a bona fide interest, in making an equitable distribution of the ownership rights of the insolvent insurer. In the determination, consideration shall be given to the welfare of the policyholders of the continuing or successor insurer.

(2) No distribution to stockholders, if any, of an impaired or insolvent insurer shall be made until and unless the total amount of valid claims of the association with interest thereon for funds expended in carrying out its powers and duties under Section 1067.07 with respect to the insurer have been fully recovered by the association.

(e) (1) If an order for liquidation or rehabilitation of an insurer domiciled in this state has been entered, the receiver appointed under the order shall have a right to recover on behalf of the insurer, from any affiliate that controlled it, the amount of distributions, other than stock dividends paid by the insurer on its capital stock, made at any time during the five years preceding the petition for liquidation or rehabilitation subject to the limitations of paragraphs (2) to (4), inclusive.

(2) No such distribution shall be recoverable if the insurer shows that when paid the distribution was lawful and reasonable, and that the insurer did not know and could not reasonably have known that the distribution might adversely affect the ability of the insurer to fulfill its contractual obligations.

(3) Any person who was an affiliate that controlled the insured at the time the distributions were paid shall be liable up to the amount of distributions he or she received. Any person who was an affiliate that controlled the insurer at the time the distributions were declared, shall be liable up to the amount of distributions he or she would have received if they had been paid immediately. If two or more persons are liable with respect to the same distributions, they shall be jointly and severally liable.

(4) The maximum amount recoverable under this subdivision shall be the amount needed in excess of all other available assets of the insolvent insurer to pay the contractual obligations of the insolvent insurer.

(5) If any person liable under paragraph (3) is insolvent, all its affiliates that controlled it at the time the distribution was paid, shall be jointly and severally liable for any resulting deficiency in the amount recovered from the insolvent affiliate.

1067.13. The association shall be subject to examination and regulation by the commissioner. The board of directors shall submit to the commissioner, the Governor, and the Legislature each year, not later than 120 days after the association's fiscal year, a financial report in a form approved by the commissioner and a report of its activities during the preceding fiscal year.

1067.15. There shall be no liability on the part of and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against any member insurer or its agents or employees, the association or its agents or employees, members of the board of directors, or the commissioner or his or her representatives, for any action or omission by them in the performance of their powers and duties under this article. The immunity shall extend to the participation in any organization of one or more other state associations of similar purposes and to that organization and its agents or employees.

1067.16. All proceedings in which the insolvent insurer is a party in any court in this state shall be stayed 60 days from the date an order of liquidation, rehabilitation, or conservation is final, to permit proper legal action by the association on any matters germane to its powers or duties. As to judgment under any decision, order, verdict, or finding based on default the association may apply to have the judgment set aside by the same court that made the judgment and shall be permitted to defend against the suit on the merits.

1067.17. (a) No person, including an insurer, agent, or affiliate of an insurer shall make, publish, disseminate, circulate, or place before the public, or cause directly or indirectly, to be made, published, disseminated, circulated, or placed before the public, in any newspaper, magazine, or other publication, or in the form of a notice, circular, pamphlet, letter, or poster, or over any radio station or television station, or in any other way, any advertisement, announcement, or statement, written or oral, which uses the existence of the California Life Insurance Guaranty Association of this state for the purpose of sales, solicitation, or inducement to purchase any form of insurance covered by the California Life Insurance Guaranty Association Act. Provided, however, that this section shall not apply to the California Life Insurance Guaranty Association or any other entity which does not sell or solicit insurance.

(b) Within 180 days of the effective date of this article, the association shall prepare a summary document describing the general purposes and current limitations of the article and complying with subdivision (c). This document shall be submitted to the commissioner for approval. Sixty days after receiving approval, no insurer may deliver a policy or contract described in paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 1067.02 to a policyholder or contractholder unless the document is delivered to the policy or contract holder prior to or at the time of delivery of the policy or contract except if subdivision (d) applies. The document should also be available upon request by a policyholder. The distribution, delivery, or contents or interpretation of this document shall not mean that either the policy or the contract or the holder thereof would be covered in the event of the impairment or insolvency of a member insurer. The description document shall be revised by the association as amendments to the article may require. Failure to receive this document does not give the policyholder, contractholder, certificate holder, or insured any greater rights than those stated in this article.

(c) The document prepared under subdivision (b) shall contain a clear and conspicuous disclaimer on its face. The commissioner shall promulgate a rule establishing the form and content of the disclaimer. The disclaimer shall do all of the following:

(1) State the name and address of the life insurance guaranty association and insurance department.

(2) Prominently warn the policyholder or contractholder that the California Life Insurance Guaranty Association may not cover the policy or, if coverage is available, it will be subject to substantial limitations and exclusions and conditioned on continued residence in the state.

(3) State that the insurer and its agents are prohibited by law from using the existence of the California Life Insurance Guaranty Association for the purpose of sales, solicitation, or inducement to purchase any form of insurance.

(4) Emphasize that the policyholder or contractholder should not rely on coverage under the California Life Insurance Guaranty Association when selecting an insurer.

(5) Provide other information as directed by the commissioner.

(d) No insurer or agent may deliver a policy or contract described in paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 1067.02, and excluded under subparagraph (A) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 1067.02 from coverage under this article unless the insurer or agent, prior to or at the time of delivery, gives the policyholder or contractholder a separate written notice which clearly and conspicuously discloses that the policy or contract is not covered by the California Life Insurance Guaranty Association. The commissioner shall by rule specify the form and content of the notice.

1067.18. This article shall not apply to any insurer that is insolvent or impaired, or unable to fulfill its contractual obligations on the effective date of this article.

CHAPTER 1357

An act to amend Sections 798.56 and 798.79 of, and to add Section 798.56a to, the Civil Code, relating to mobilehomes.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 798.56 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

798.56. A tenancy shall be terminated by the management only for one or more of the following reasons:

(a) Failure of the homeowner or resident to comply with a local ordinance or state law or regulation relating to mobilehomes within a reasonable time after the homeowner receives a notice of noncompliance from the appropriate governmental agency.

(b) Conduct by the homeowner or resident, upon the park premises, which constitutes a substantial annoyance to other homeowners or residents.

(c) Failure of the homeowner or resident to comply with a reasonable rule or regulation of the park which is part of the rental agreement or any amendment thereto.

No act or omission of the homeowner or resident shall constitute a failure to comply with a reasonable rule or regulation unless and until the management has given the homeowner written notice of the alleged rule or regulation violation and the homeowner or resident has failed to adhere to the rule or regulation within seven days. However, if a homeowner has been given a written notice of an alleged violation of the same rule or regulation on three or more occasions within a 12-month period after the homeowner or resident has violated that rule or regulation, no written notice shall be required for a subsequent violation of the same rule or regulation.

Nothing in this subdivision shall relieve the management from its obligation to demonstrate that a rule or regulation has in fact been violated.

(d) (1) Nonpayment of rent, utility charges, or reasonable incidental service charges; provided that the amount due has been unpaid for a period of at least five days from its due date, and provided, that the homeowner shall be given a three-day written notice subsequent to that five-day period to pay the amount due or to vacate the tenancy. The three-day written notice shall be given to the homeowner in the manner prescribed by Section 1162 of the Code of Civil Procedure. A copy of this notice shall be sent to the persons or entities specified in subdivision (b) of Section 798.55 within 10 days after notice is delivered to the homeowner. If the homeowner cures the default, the notice need not be sent. The notice may be given at the same time as the 60 days' notice required for termination of the tenancy.

(2) Payment by the homeowner prior to the expiration of the three-day notice period shall cure a default under this subdivision.

In the event the homeowner does not pay prior to the expiration of the three-day notice period, the homeowner shall remain liable for all payments due up until the time the tenancy is vacated.

(3) Payment by the legal owner, as defined in Section 18005.8 of the Health and Safety Code, any junior lienholder, as defined in Section 18005.3 of the Health and Safety Code, or the registered owner, as defined in Section 18009.5 of the Health and Safety Code, if other than the homeowner, on behalf of the homeowner prior to the expiration of 30 calendar days following the mailing of the notice to the legal owner, each junior lienholder, and the registered owner provided in subdivision (b) of Section 798.55, shall cure a default under this subdivision with respect to that payment.

(4) Cure of a default of rent, utility charges, or reasonable incidental service charges by the legal owner, any junior lienholder, or the registered owner, if other than the homeowner, as provided by this subdivision, may not be exercised more than twice during a 12-month period.

(5) If a homeowner has been given a three-day notice to pay the amount due or to vacate the tenancy on three or more occasions within the preceding 12-month period, no written three-day notice shall be required in the case of a subsequent nonpayment of rent, utility charges, or reasonable incidental service charges.

In that event the management shall give written notice to the homeowner in the manner prescribed by Section 1162 of the Code of Civil Procedure to remove the mobilehome from the park within a period of not less than 60 days, which period shall be specified in the notice. A copy of this notice shall be sent to the legal owner, each junior lienholder, and the registered owner of the mobilehome, if other than the homeowner, as specified in paragraph (b) of Section 798.55, by certified or registered mail return receipt requested within 10 days after notice is sent to the homeowner.

(e) Condemnation of the park.

(f) Change of use of the park or any portion thereof, provided:

(1) The management gives the homeowners at least 15 days' written notice that the management will be appearing before a local governmental board, commission, or body to request permits for a change of use of the mobilehome park.

(2) After all required permits requesting a change of use have been approved by the local governmental board, commission, or body, the management shall give the homeowners six months' or more written notice of termination of tenancy.

If the change of use requires no local governmental permits, then notice shall be given 12 months or more prior to the management's determination that a change of use will occur. The management in the notice shall disclose and describe in detail the nature of the change of use.

(3) The management gives each proposed homeowner written notice thereof prior to the inception of his or her tenancy that the management is requesting a change of use before local governmental bodies or that a change of use request has been granted.

(4) The notice requirements for termination of tenancy set forth in Sections 798.56 and 798.57 shall be followed if the proposed change actually occurs.

(5) A notice of a proposed change of use given prior to January 1, 1980, which conforms to the requirements in effect at that time shall be valid. The requirements for a notice of a proposed change of use imposed by this subdivision shall be governed by the law in effect at the time the notice was given.

(h) The report required pursuant to subdivisions (b) and (i) of Section 65863.7 of the Government Code shall be given to the homeowners or residents at the same time that notice is required pursuant to subdivision (f) of this section.

SEC. 1.5. Section 798.56 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

798.56. A tenancy shall be terminated by the management only for one or more of the following reasons:

(a) Failure of the homeowner or resident to comply with a local ordinance or state law or regulation relating to mobilehomes within a reasonable time after the homeowner receives a notice of noncompliance from the appropriate governmental agency.

(b) Conduct by the homeowner or resident, upon the park premises, which constitutes a substantial annoyance to other homeowners or residents.

(c) Conviction of the homeowner or resident for prostitution or a felony controlled substance offense if the act resulting in the conviction was committed anywhere on the premises of the mobilehome park, including, but not limited to, within the homeowner's mobilehome.

However the tenancy may not be terminated for the reason specified in this subdivision if the person convicted of the offense has permanently vacated, and does not subsequently reoccupy, the mobilehome.

(d) Failure of the homeowner or resident to comply with a reasonable rule or regulation of the park which is part of the rental agreement or any amendment thereto.

No act or omission of the homeowner or resident shall constitute a failure to comply with a reasonable rule or regulation unless and until the management has given the homeowner written notice of the alleged rule or regulation violation and the homeowner or resident has failed to adhere to the rule or regulation within seven days. However, if a homeowner has been given a written notice of an alleged violation of the same rule or regulation on three or more occasions within a 12-month period after the homeowner or resident has violated that rule or regulation, no written notice shall be required for a subsequent violation of the same rule or regulation.

Nothing in this subdivision shall relieve the management from its obligation to demonstrate that a rule or regulation has in fact been violated.

(e) (1) Nonpayment of rent, utility charges, or reasonable incidental service charges; provided that the amount due has been unpaid for a period of at least five days from its due date, and provided, that the homeowner shall be given a three-day written notice subsequent to that five-day period to pay the amount due or to vacate the tenancy. For purposes of this subdivision, the five-day period does not include the date the payment is due. The three-day written notice shall be given to the homeowner in the manner prescribed by Section 1162 of the Code of Civil Procedure. A copy of this notice shall be sent to the persons or entities specified in subdivision (b) of Section 798.55 within 10 days after notice is delivered to the homeowner. If the homeowner cures the default, the notice need not be sent. The notice may be given at the same time as the 60 days' notice required for termination of the tenancy.

(2) Payment by the homeowner prior to the expiration of the three-day notice period shall cure a default under this subdivision. In the event the homeowner does not pay prior to the expiration of the three-day notice period, the homeowner shall remain liable for all payments due up until the time the tenancy is vacated.

(3) Payment by the legal owner, as defined in Section 18005.8 of the Health and Safety Code, any junior lienholder, as defined in Section 18005.3 of the Health and Safety Code, or the registered owner, as defined in Section 18009.5 of the Health and Safety Code, if other than the homeowner, on behalf of the homeowner prior to the expiration of 30 calendar days following the mailing of the notice to the legal owner, each junior lienholder, and the registered owner provided in subdivision (b) of Section 798.55, shall cure a default under this subdivision with respect to that payment.

(4) Cure of a default of rent, utility charges, or reasonable incidental service charges by the legal owner, any junior lienholder, or the registered owner, if other than the homeowner, as provided by this subdivision, may not be exercised more than twice during a 12-month period.

(5) If a homeowner has been given a three-day notice to pay the amount due or to vacate the tenancy on three or more occasions within the preceding 12-month period, no written three-day notice shall be required in the case of a subsequent nonpayment of rent, utility charges, or reasonable incidental service charges.

In that event the management shall give written notice to the homeowner in the manner prescribed by Section 1162 of the Code of Civil Procedure to remove the mobilehome from the park within a period of not less than 60 days, which period shall be specified in the notice. A copy of this notice shall be sent to the legal owner, each junior lienholder, and the registered owner of the mobilehome, if other than the homeowner, as specified in paragraph (b) of Section 798.55, by certified or registered mail return receipt requested within 10 days after notice is sent to the homeowner.

(f) Condemnation of the park.

(g) Change of use of the park or any portion thereof, provided:

(1) The management gives the homeowners at least 15 days' written notice that the management will be appearing before a local governmental board, commission, or body to request permits for a change of use of the mobilehome park.

(2) After all required permits requesting a change of use have been approved by the local governmental board, commission, or body, the management shall give the homeowners six months' or more written notice of termination of tenancy.

If the change of use requires no local governmental permits, then notice shall be given 12 months or more prior to the management's determination that a change of use will occur. The management in the notice shall disclose and describe in detail the nature of the change of use.

(3) The management gives each proposed homeowner written notice thereof prior to the inception of his or her tenancy that the management is requesting a change of use before local governmental bodies or that a change of use request has been granted.

(4) The notice requirements for termination of tenancy set forth in Sections 798.56 and 798.57 shall be followed if the proposed change actually occurs.

(5) A notice of a proposed change of use given prior to January 1, 1980, which conforms to the requirements in effect at that time shall be valid. The requirements for a notice of a proposed change of use imposed by this subdivision shall be governed by the law in effect at the time the notice was given.

(h) The report required pursuant to subdivisions (b) and (i) of Section 65863.7 of the Government Code shall be given to the homeowners or residents at the same time that notice is required pursuant to subdivision (g) of this section.

SEC. 2. Section 798.56a is added to the Civil Code, to read:

798.56a. (a) Within 60 days following receipt, or no later than 65 days after the mailing, of the notice of termination of tenancy for nonpayment of rent or other charges, the legal owner and each junior lienholder shall notify the management in writing of at least one of the following:

(1) Its offer to sell the obligation secured by the mobilehome to the management for the amount specified in its written offer. In that event, the management shall have 15 days following receipt of the offer to accept or reject the offer in writing. If the offer is rejected, the person or entity shall have 10 days in which to exercise one of the other options contained in this section and shall notify management in writing of its choice.

(2) Its intention to foreclose on its security interest in the mobilehome.

(3) Its request that the management pursue the termination of tenancy against the homeowner and its offer to reimburse management for the reasonable attorney's fees and court costs incurred by the management in that action.

(b) In the event that the legal owner or junior lienholder exercises any option described in paragraph (2) or (3) of subdivision (a), and has the right to sell the mobilehome within the park to a third party in accordance with this article, that person or entity shall have the right to keep the mobilehome on the site within the mobilehome park until it is resold as long as the person or entity performs all of the following acts:

(1) (A) Satisfies, within the time period specified in subdivision (a), all of the homeowner's responsibilities and liabilities owing to the management for the 90 days preceding the mailing of the notice of termination of tenancy and then continue to satisfy them as they accrue from the date of the mailing of that notice until the date the mobilehome is resold.

(B) Performance under this paragraph does not cure the default of the homeowner.

(C) For purposes of this paragraph, the "homeowner's responsibilities and liabilities" means all rents, utilities, reasonable maintenance charges of the mobilehome and its premises, and reasonable maintenance of the mobilehome and its premises pursuant to existing park rules and regulations.

(2) Within the time period specified in subdivision (a), commences all repairs and necessary corrective actions so that the mobilehome complies with park rules and regulations in existence at the time the notice of termination of tenancy was given as well as the health and safety standards specified in Sections 18550, 18552, and 18605 of the Health and Safety Code, and completes these repairs and corrective actions within 90 calendar days of that notice, or before the date the mobilehome is resold, whichever is earlier.

(3) Complies with the requirements of Article 7 (commencing with Section 798.70) as it relates to the transfer of the mobilehome to a third party.

(c) In the event the legal owner or junior lienholder does not respond to the notice provided by management by notifying management in writing of its election pursuant to subdivision (a), or does not satisfy the requirements of subdivision (b), that person or entity shall have no rights to sell the mobilehome within the park to a third party.

(d) In the event the homeowner files for bankruptcy, the periods set forth in this section are tolled until the mobilehome is released from bankruptcy.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, including, but not limited to, Section 18099.5 of the Health and Safety Code, in the event neither the legal owner nor a junior lienholder, if any, notifies the management of its decision pursuant to subdivision (a) within the period allowed, or performs as agreed within 30 days, the management may either remove the mobilehome from the premises and place it in storage or store it on its site. In this case, notwithstanding any other provision of law, the management shall have a warehouseman's lien in accordance with Section 7209 of the Commercial Code against the mobilehome for the costs of dismantling and moving, if appropriate, as well as storage, which shall be superior to all other liens, except the lien provided for in Section 18116.1 of the Health and Safety Code, and may enforce the lien pursuant to Section 7210 of the Commercial Code.

(f) All written notices required by this section shall be sent to the other party by certified or registered mail with return receipt requested.

SEC. 3. Section 798.79 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

798.79. (a) Any legal owner or junior lienholder who forecloses on his or her security interest in a mobilehome located in a mobilehome park shall have the right to sell the mobilehome within the park to a third party in accordance with this article, but only if all of the homeowner's responsibilities and liabilities to the management regarding rent, utilities, and reasonable maintenance of a mobilehome and its premises are satisfied by the foreclosing creditor as they accrue through the date the mobilehome is resold.

(b) In the event the legal owner or junior lienholder has received from the management a copy of the notice of termination of tenancy for nonpayment of rent or other charges, the right to sell the mobilehome within the park to a third party shall also be governed by Section 798.56a.

SEC. 4. Section 1.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 798.56 of the Civil Code proposed by both this bill and AB 1209. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1991, (2) each bill amends Section 798.56 of the Civil Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 1209, in which case Section 1 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 1358

An act to amend Section 12804 of, to amend, repeal, and add Section 12804.9 of, to add Section 324 to, to add and repeal Section 12804.13 of, and to add, repeal, and add Section 12804.12 of, the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 324 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

324. A "fifth-wheel travel trailer" is a vehicle designed for recreational purposes to carry persons or property on its own structure and so constructed as to be drawn by a motor vehicle by means of a kingpin connecting device.

SEC. 2. Section 12804 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

12804. (a) (1) The examination shall include all of the following:

(A) A test of the applicant's knowledge and understanding of the provisions of this code governing the operation of vehicles upon the highways.

(B) A test of the applicant's ability to read and understand simple English used in highway traffic and directional signs.

(C) A test of the applicant's understanding of traffic signs and signals, including the bikeway signs, markers, and traffic control devices established by the Department of Transportation.

(D) An actual demonstration of the applicant's ability to exercise ordinary and reasonable control in operating a motor vehicle by driving it under the supervision of an examining officer. The applicant shall submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles he or she desires a license to drive, except that the department may waive the driving test part of the examination of any applicant who holds a valid license issued by another state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. The examining officer may request to see evidence of financial responsibility for the vehicle prior to supervising the demonstration of the applicant's ability to operate the vehicle.

(E) A test of the hearing and eyesight of the applicant, and of other matters that may be necessary to determine the applicant's mental and physical fitness to operate a motor vehicle upon the highways, and whether any ground exists for refusal of a license under this code.

(2) The examination for a class 1 or class 2 license under subdivision (b) shall also include a report of a medical examination of the applicant given not more than two years prior to the date of the application by a physician licensed to practice medicine by a licensed physician's assistant or nurse practitioner under the supervision of a physician and surgeon licensed to practice medicine. The report shall be on a form approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration. In establishing the requirements, consideration may be given to the standards presently required of motor carrier drivers by the Federal Highway Administration.

(3) Any physical defect of the applicant, which, in the opinion of the department, is compensated for to ensure safe driving ability, shall not prevent the issuance of a license to the applicant.

(b) In accordance with the following classifications, any applicant for a driver's license shall be required to submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles the applicant desires a license to drive:

(1) Class 1. Any combination of vehicles, including the operation of all vehicles under class 2 and class 3.

(2) Class 2. Any bus, any single vehicle with three or more axles, any bus or single vehicle with three or more axles towing another vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds gross, and all vehicles covered under class 3.

(3) Class 3. Any of the following:

(A) Any truck tractor or truck tractor and semitrailer combination, as specified in subdivision (h) of Section 36101, when operated in accordance with subdivision (h) of Section 36101.

(B) Any housecar.

(C) Any three-axle vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds gross, any two-axle vehicle, any housecar or three-axle vehicle towing another vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds gross, including when a tow dolly is used between the towing vehicle and a towed motor vehicle.

(D) Any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing a trailer or semitrailer not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross, designed and used exclusively for hauling livestock, or towing a trailer not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross used to transport agricultural products from a farm to a processing or handling point, or towing a trailer transporting a boat not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross, when the hauling of livestock or agricultural products or the towing of boats is not for compensation.

(E) Any schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, youth bus, or farm labor vehicle specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (d).

(F) (i) Any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing either a trailer coach not exceeding 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight rating or a fifth-wheel travel trailer not exceeding 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight rating, when the towing of the trailer is not for compensation.

(ii) Any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing a fifth-wheel travel trailer exceeding 10,000 pounds, but not exceeding 15,000 pounds, gross vehicle weight rating, when the towing of the trailer is not for compensation, and if the person has passed a specialized written examination provided by the department relating to the knowledge of this code and other safety aspects governing the towing of recreational vehicles upon the highway. The authority to operate combinations of vehicles under this subparagraph shall be granted by endorsement on a class 3 license upon completion of that written examination.

Class 3 does not include any bus which is not described in subparagraph (E), nor any two-wheel motorcycle or any two-wheel motor-driven cycle.

(4) Class 4. Any two-wheel motorcycle, any two-wheel motor-driven cycle, or any motorized bicycle. Authority to operate vehicles included in a class 4 license may be granted by endorsement on a class 1, 2, or 3 license upon completion of appropriate examination.

(c) Class 1 and class 2 driver's licenses shall be valid for operating class 1 or class 2 vehicles only when a medical certificate approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration, which has been issued within two years of the date of the operation of that vehicle, is within the licensee's immediate possession, otherwise the license shall be valid only for operating class 3 vehicles and class 4 vehicles if so endorsed.

(d) (1) A class 3 license shall be valid for operating any schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, youth bus, or farm labor vehicle when a special driver's certificate to permit the operation of those vehicles is also in the immediate possession of the licensee. A class 3 license shall also be valid for operating any of those vehicles, with no passengers aboard, while receiving behind-the-wheel driver training from a person having in his or her immediate possession a special driver's certificate to permit the operation of the vehicle.

(2) A special driver certificate for the operation of a schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, youth bus, farm labor vehicle, or vehicle requiring operator certification pursuant to Section 12804.1 shall not be valid unless the driver has in his or her immediate possession, a medical certificate issued within the past two years.

(e) The department may accept a certificate of driving experience that is issued by an employer of the applicant, in lieu of a driving test, on class 1 or 2 applications, if the applicant has first qualified for a class 3 license and has met the other examination requirements for the license for which he or she is applying. The certificate may be submitted as evidence of the applicant's experience or training in the operation of the types of equipment covered by the license for which he or she is applying.

(f) The department may accept a certificate of competence in lieu of a driving test on class 4 applications, when the certificate is issued by a law enforcement agency for its officers who operate class 4 vehicles in their duties, if the applicant has met the other examination requirements for the license for which he or she is applying.

(g) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), any person holding a valid California driver's license of any class may operate a motorized bicycle without taking any special examination for the operation of a motorized bicycle, and without having a class 4 endorsement on that license.

(h) Drivers of vanpool vehicles, may operate with class 3 licenses, but shall possess evidence of a medical examination required for a class 2 license when operating vanpool vehicles In order to be eligible to drive the vanpool vehicle, the driver shall keep in the vanpool vehicle a statement, signed under penalty of perjury, that he or she has not been convicted of reckless driving, drunk driving, or a hit and run offense in the last five years.

(i) The amendments made to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) by Chapter 1270 of the Statutes of 1989, shall become operative only after federal regulations are adopted which permit physician's assistants and nurse practitioners to complete the physicals described in that paragraph.

(j) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute which is enacted on or before January 1, 1993, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 3. Section 12804.9 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

12804.9. (a) (1) The examination shall include all of the following:

(A) A test of the applicant's knowledge and understanding of the provisions of this code governing the operation of vehicles upon the highways.

(B) A test of the applicant's ability to read and understand simple English used in highway traffic and directional signs.

(C) A test of the applicant's understanding of traffic signs and signals, including the bikeway signs, markers, and traffic control devices established by the Department of Transportation.

(D) An actual demonstration of the applicant's ability to exercise ordinary and reasonable control in operating a motor vehicle by driving it under the supervision of an examining officer. The applicant shall submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles he or she desires a license to drive, except that the department may waive the driving test part of the examination of any applicant who holds a valid license issued by another state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. The examining officer may request to see evidence of financial responsibility for the vehicle prior to supervising the demonstration of the applicant's ability to operate the vehicle. The examining officer may refuse to examine an applicant who is unable to provide proof of financial responsibility for the vehicle, unless proof of financial responsibility is not required by this code.

(E) A test of the hearing and eyesight of the applicant, and of other matters that may be necessary to determine the applicant's mental and physical fitness to operate a motor vehicle upon the highways, and whether any ground exists for refusal of a license under this code.

(2) The examination for a class A or class B license under subdivision (b) shall also include a report of a medical examination of the applicant given not more than two years prior to the date of the application by a physician licensed to practice medicine or by a licensed physician's assistant or nurse practitioner under the supervision of a physician and surgeon licensed to practice medicine. The report shall be on a form approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration. In establishing the requirements, consideration may be given to the standards presently required of motor carrier drivers by the Federal Highway Administration.

(3) Any physical defect of the applicant, which, in the opinion of the department, is compensated for to ensure safe driving ability, shall not prevent the issuance of a license to the applicant.

(b) Beginning on January 1, 1989, in accordance with the following classifications, any applicant for a driver's license shall be required to submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles the applicant desires a license to drive:

(1) Class A. Any combination of vehicles, including the operation of all vehicles under class B and class C.

(2) Class B. Any bus, any single vehicle with three or more axles or a gross vehicle weight rating of 26,001 or more pounds, any bus or single vehicle with three or more axles or a gross vehicle weight rating of 26,001 or more pounds towing another vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds gross, and all vehicles covered under class C.

(3) Class C. Any of the following:

(A) Any truck tractor weighing less than 26,001 pounds gross vehicle weight or truck tractor towing a semitrailer weighing less than 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight, as specified in subdivision (h) of Section 36101, when operated in accordance with subdivision (h) of Section 36101.

(B) Any housecar.

(C) Any three-axle vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds gross, any two-axle vehicle weighing less than 26,001 pounds gross vehicle weight, any housecar or three-axle vehicle towing another vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds gross, including when a tow dolly is used between the towing vehicle and a towed motor vehicle.

(D) Any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing a trailer or semitrailer not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross, designed and used exclusively for hauling livestock, or towing a trailer not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross used to transport agricultural products from a farm to a processing or handling point, or towing a trailer transporting a boat not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross, when the hauling of livestock or agricultural products or the towing of boats is not for compensation.

(E) Any schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, youth bus, or farm labor vehicle specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (d).

(F) (i) Any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing either a trailer coach not exceeding 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight rating or a fifth-wheel travel trailer not exceeding 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight rating, when the towing of the trailer is not for compensation.

(ii) Any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing a fifth-wheel travel trailer exceeding 10,000 pounds, but not exceeding 15,000 pounds, gross vehicle weight rating, when the towing of the trailer is not for compensation, and if the person has passed a specialized written examination provided by the department relating to the knowledge of this code and other safety aspects governing the towing of recreational vehicles upon the highway. The authority to operate combinations of vehicles under this subparagraph shall be granted by endorsement on a class 3 license upon completion of that written examination.

Class C does not include any bus which is not described in subparagraph (E), nor any two-wheel motorcycle or any two-wheel motor-driven cycle.

(4) Class M. Any two-wheel motorcycle, any two-wheel motor-driven cycle, or any motorized bicycle. Authority to operate vehicles included in a class M license may be granted by endorsement on a class A, B, or C license upon completion of appropriate examination.

(c) No driver's license or special driver certificate shall be valid for operating any commercial motor vehicle, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, any other motor vehicle defined in paragraph (1) or (2) of subdivision (b), or any other vehicle requiring a driver to hold any special driver certificate, except a special construction equipment certificate or any commercial driver license endorsement under Section 15275, unless a medical certificate approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration, which has been issued within two years of the date of the operation of that vehicle, is within the licensee's immediate possession, and a copy of the medical examination report from which the certificate was issued is on file with the department. Otherwise the license shall be valid only for operating class C vehicles which are not commercial vehicles, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, and for operating class M vehicles, if so endorsed, which are not commercial vehicles, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210.

(d) A license or driver certificate issued prior to the enactment of Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 15200) shall be valid to operate the class or type of vehicles specified under the law in existence prior to that enactment until the license or certificate expires or is otherwise suspended, revoked, or canceled.

(e) The department may accept a certificate of driving experience that is issued by an employer of the applicant, in lieu of a driving test, on class A or B applications, if the applicant has first qualified for a class C license and has met the other examination requirements for the license for which he or she is applying. The certificate may be submitted as evidence of the applicant's experience or training in the operation of the types of equipment covered by the license for which he or she is applying.

(f) The department may accept a certificate of competence in lieu of a driving test on class M applications, when the certificate is issued by a law enforcement agency for its officers who operate class M vehicles in their duties, if the applicant has met the other examination requirements for the license for which he or she is applying.

(g) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), any person holding a valid California driver's license of any class may operate a motorized bicycle without taking any special examination for the operation of a motorized bicycle, and without having a class M endorsement on that license.

(h) Drivers of vanpool vehicles, may operate with class C licenses, but shall possess evidence of a medical examination required for a class B license when operating vanpool vehicles. In order to be eligible to drive the vanpool vehicle, the driver shall keep in the vanpool vehicle a statement, signed under penalty of perjury, that he or she has not been convicted of reckless driving, drunk driving, or a hit and run offense in the last five years.

(i) During the implementation of this section, from January 1, 1989, through December 31, 1992, provisions of this code pertaining to persons holding class 1, 2, 3, or 4 licenses pursuant to Section 12804, shall apply to persons holding class A, B, C, or M licenses pursuant to this section, to the extent that class A, B, C, or M vehicles under this section fall within the definition of class 1, 2, 3, or 4 vehicles under Section 12804.

(j) The amendments made to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) by Chapter 1270 of the Statutes of 1989 shall become operative only after federal regulations are adopted which permit physician's assistants and nurse practitioners to complete the physicals described in that paragraph.

(k) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and on that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 4. Section 12804.9 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

12804.9. (a) (1) The examination shall include all of the following:

(A) A test of the applicant's knowledge and understanding of the provisions of this code governing the operation of vehicles upon the highways.

(B) A test of the applicant's ability to read and understand simple English used in highway traffic and directional signs.

(C) A test of the applicant's understanding of traffic signs and signals, including the bikeway signs, markers, and traffic control devices established by the Department of Transportation.

(D) An actual demonstration of the applicant's ability to exercise ordinary and reasonable control in operating a motor vehicle by driving it under the supervision of an examining officer. The applicant shall submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles he or she desires a license to drive, except that the department may waive the driving test part of the examination of any applicant who holds a valid license issued by another state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. The examining officer may request to see evidence of financial responsibility for the vehicle prior to supervising the demonstration of the applicant's ability to operate the vehicle. The examining officer may refuse to examine an applicant who is unable to provide proof of financial responsibility for the vehicle, unless proof of financial responsibility is not required by this code.

(E) A test of the hearing and eyesight of the applicant, and of other matters that may be necessary to determine the applicant's mental and physical fitness to operate a motor vehicle upon the highways, and whether any ground exists for refusal of a license under this code.

(2) The examination for a class A or class B license under subdivision (b) shall also include a report of a medical examination of the applicant given not more than two years prior to the date of the application by a physician licensed to practice medicine or by a licensed physician's assistant or nurse practitioner under the supervision of a physician and surgeon licensed to practice medicine. The report shall be on a form approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration. In establishing the requirements, consideration may be given to the standards presently required of motor carrier drivers by the Federal Highway Administration.

(3) Any physical defect of the applicant, which, in the opinion of the department, is compensated for to ensure safe driving ability, shall not prevent the issuance of a license to the applicant.

(b) Beginning on January 1, 1989, in accordance with the following classifications, any applicant for a driver's license shall be required to submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles the applicant desires a license to drive:

(1) Class A. Any combination of vehicles, including the operation of all vehicles under class B and class C.

(2) Class B. Any bus, any single vehicle with three or more axles or a gross vehicle weight rating of 26,001 or more pounds, any bus or single vehicle with three or more axles or a gross vehicle weight rating of 26,001 or more pounds towing another vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds gross, and all vehicles covered under class C.

(3) Class C. Any of the following:

(A) Any truck tractor weighing less than 26,001 pounds gross vehicle weight or truck tractor towing a semitrailer weighing less than 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight, as specified in subdivision (h) of Section 36101, when operated in accordance with subdivision (h) of Section 36101.

(B) Any housecar.

(C) Any three-axle vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds gross, any two-axle vehicle weighing less than 26,001 pounds gross vehicle weight, any housecar or three-axle vehicle towing another vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds gross, including when a tow dolly is used between the towing vehicle and a towed motor vehicle.

(D) Any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing a trailer or semitrailer not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross, designed and used exclusively for hauling livestock, or towing a trailer not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross used to transport agricultural products from a farm to a processing or handling point, or towing a trailer transporting a boat not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross, when the hauling of livestock or agricultural products or the towing of boats is not for compensation.

(E) Any schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, youth bus, or farm labor vehicle specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (d).

(F) Any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing either a trailer coach not exceeding 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight rating or a fifth-wheel travel trailer not exceeding 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight rating, when the towing of the trailer is not for compensation.

Class C does not include any bus which is not described in subparagraph (E), nor any two-wheel motorcycle or any two-wheel motor-driven cycle.

(4) Class M. Any two-wheel motorcycle, any two-wheel motor-driven cycle, or any motorized bicycle. Authority to operate vehicles included in a class M license may be granted by endorsement on a class A, B, or C license upon completion of appropriate examination.

(c) No driver's license or special driver certificate shall be valid for operating any commercial motor vehicle, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, any other motor vehicle defined in paragraph (1) or (2) of subdivision (b), or any other vehicle requiring a driver to hold any special driver certificate, except a special construction equipment certificate or any commercial driver license endorsement under Section 15275, unless a medical certificate approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration, which has been issued within two years of the date of the operation of that vehicle, is within the licensee's immediate possession, and a copy of the medical examination report from which the certificate was issued is on file with the department. Otherwise the license shall be valid only for operating class C vehicles which are not commercial vehicles, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, and for operating class M vehicles, if so endorsed, which are not commercial vehicles, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210.

(d) A license or driver certificate issued prior to the enactment of Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 15200) shall be valid to operate the class or type of vehicles specified under the law in existence prior to that enactment until the license or certificate expires or is otherwise suspended, revoked, or canceled.

(e) The department may accept a certificate of driving experience that is issued by an employer of the applicant, in lieu of a driving test, on class A or B applications, if the applicant has first qualified for a class C license and has met the other examination requirements for the license for which he or she is applying. The certificate may be submitted as evidence of the applicant's experience or training in the operation of the types of equipment covered by the license for which he or she is applying.

(f) The department may accept a certificate of competence in lieu of a driving test on class M applications, when the certificate is issued by a law enforcement agency for its officers who operate class M vehicles in their duties, if the applicant has met the other examination requirements for the license for which he or she is applying.

(g) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), any person holding a valid California driver's license of any class may operate a motorized bicycle without taking any special examination for the operation of a motorized bicycle, and without having a class M endorsement on that license.

(h) Drivers of vanpool vehicles, may operate with class C licenses, but shall possess evidence of a medical examination required for a class B license when operating vanpool vehicles. In order to be eligible to drive the vanpool vehicle, the driver shall keep in the vanpool vehicle a statement, signed under penalty of perjury, that he or she has not been convicted of reckless driving, drunk driving, or a hit and run offense in the last five years.

(i) The amendments made to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) by Chapter 1270 of the Statutes of 1989 shall become operative only after federal regulations are adopted which permit physician's assistants and nurse practitioners to complete the physicals described in that paragraph.

(j) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1994.

SEC. 5. Section 12804.12 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

12804.12. (a) The department may issue a restricted class A driver's license for the operation of any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing a trailer coach exceeding 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight rating, or a fifth-wheel travel trailer exceeding 15,000 pounds gross vehicle weight rating, when the towing of the trailer is not for compensation.

(b) In lieu of a report of a medical examination required by Sections 12804 and 12804.9, an applicant for a restricted license issued pursuant to subdivision (a) shall, upon application and every two years thereafter, submit medical information on a form approved by the department.

(c) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and on that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 6. Section 12804.12 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

12804.12. (a) The department may issue a restricted class A driver's license for the operation of any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing a trailer coach exceeding 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight rating, or a fifth-wheel travel trailer exceeding 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight rating, when the towing of the trailer is not for compensation.

(b) In lieu of a report of a medical examination required by Sections 12804 and 12804.9, an applicant for a restricted license issued pursuant to subdivision (a) shall, upon application and every two years thereafter, submit medical information on a form approved by the department.

(c) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1994.

SEC. 7. Section 12804.13 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

12804.13. (a) The Department of the California Highway Patrol, with the cooperation of the department, shall conduct a study of the effect on highway safety of the revisions in the permissible weights of trailer coaches and fifth-wheel travel trailers which may be towed by vehicles under class C drivers' licenses enacted by Assembly Bill 4261 of the 1989–90 Regular Session.

(b) In conducting the study, the Department of the California Highway Patrol shall compile data on trailer weights, licensure, accidents, injuries, and fatalities for all travel trailers and shall compare the accident rate, on a per vehicle-mile basis, for vehicles towing fifth-wheel travel trailers of between 10,000 and 15,000 pounds gross vehicle weight rating with the accident rate for all vehicles. The study shall also include an examination of the operating characteristics of fifth-wheel travel trailers of between 10,000 and 15,000 pounds gross vehicle weight rating.

(c) The Department of the California Highway Patrol shall, on or before January 1, 1993, prepare and transmit to the Chairpersons of the Assembly and Senate Committees on Transportation its findings, conclusions, and recommendations, including the effects on highway safety of the amendments enacted by Assembly Bill 4261 of the 1989–90 Regular Session, as specified in subdivision (a).

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and on that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends that date.

CHAPTER 1359

An act to amend Sections 405, 2936, 12500, and 12804.9 of, and to add Section 14602.5 to, the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 405 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

405. A "motor-driven cycle" is any motorcycle with a motor which produces less than 15 gross brake horsepower, and every bicycle with motor attached. A motor-driven cycle does not include a motorized bicycle, as defined in Section 406.

SEC. 2. Section 2936 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

2936. (a) The commissioner shall report to the Legislature by January 15 of each year on all of the following:

(1) The condition of the fund.

(2) Identification of any contracts or grants made during the year.

(3) The amount of the grants or contracts.

(4) The services to be provided pursuant to the grants or contracts.

(5) The group or agency contracted with to provide the services.

(b) The commissioner shall conduct a study of the effectiveness of the program as a whole, and the contributions of each component activity, including the effectiveness of instruction, as measured by comparative accident rates of persons completing classes in contrast to persons not having completed classes, together with recommendations as to future courses of action to enhance motorcycle safety. A preliminary report on the study shall be submitted on or before July 1, 1991. Notwithstanding subdivision (a), a final report on the study shall be submitted as part of the regular annual report due to the Legislature pursuant to subdivision (a) which shall be submitted by January 15, 1992.

SEC. 3. Section 12500 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

12500. (a) No person shall drive a motor vehicle upon a highway, unless the person then holds a driver's license issued under this code, except those persons who are expressly exempted under this code.

(b) No person shall drive any motorcycle, motor-driven cycle, or motorized bicycle upon a highway, unless the person then holds a driver's license or endorsement issued under this code for that class, except those persons who are expressly exempted under this code, or those persons specifically authorized to operate motorized bicycles with class 3 or class C licenses as specified in subdivision (g) of Section 12804.9.

(c) No person shall drive a motor vehicle or combination of vehicles that is not of a type for which the person is licensed.

(d) No person shall drive a motor vehicle in or upon any offstreet parking facility, unless the person then holds a driver's license of the appropriate class or certification to operate the vehicle. As used in this subdivision, "offstreet parking facility" means any offstreet facility held open for use by the public for parking vehicles and includes any publicly owned facilities for offstreet parking, and privately owned facilities for offstreet parking where no fee is charged for the privilege to park and which are held open for the common public use of retail customers.

SEC. 4. Section 12804.9 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

12804.9. (a) (1) The examination shall include all of the following:

(A) A test of the applicant's knowledge and understanding of the provisions of this code governing the operation of vehicles upon the highways.

(B) A test of the applicant's ability to read and understand simple English used in highway traffic and directional signs.

(C) A test of the applicant's understanding of traffic signs and signals, including the bikeway signs, markers, and traffic control devices established by the Department of Transportation.

(D) An actual demonstration of the applicant's ability to exercise ordinary and reasonable control in operating a motor vehicle by driving it under the supervision of an examining officer. The applicant shall submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles he or she desires a license to drive, except that the department may waive the driving test part of the examination of any applicant who holds a valid license issued by another state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. The examining officer may request to see evidence of financial responsibility for the vehicle prior to supervising the demonstration of the applicant's ability to operate the vehicle. The examining officer may refuse to examine an applicant who is unable to provide proof of financial responsibility for the vehicle, unless proof of financial responsibility is not required by this code.

(E) A test of the hearing and eyesight of the applicant, and of other matters that may be necessary to determine the applicant's mental and physical fitness to operate a motor vehicle upon the highways, and whether any ground exists for refusal of a license under this code.

(2) The examination for a class A or class B license under subdivision (b) shall also include a report of a medical examination of the applicant given not more than two years prior to the date of the application by a physician licensed to practice medicine or by a licensed physician's assistant or nurse practitioner under the supervision of a physician and surgeon licensed to practice medicine. The report shall be on a form approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration. In establishing the requirements, consideration may be given to the standards presently required of motor carrier drivers by the Federal Highway Administration.

(3) Any physical defect of the applicant, which, in the opinion of the department, is compensated for to ensure safe driving ability, shall not prevent the issuance of a license to the applicant.

(b) Beginning on January 1, 1989, in accordance with the following classifications, any applicant for a driver's license shall be required to submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles the applicant desires a license to drive:

(1) Class A. Any combination of vehicles, including the operation of all vehicles under class B and class C.

(2) Class B. Any bus, any single vehicle with three or more axles or a gross vehicle weight rating of 26,001 or more pounds, any bus or single vehicle with three or more axles or a gross vehicle weight rating of 26,001 or more pounds towing another vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds gross, and all vehicles covered under class C.

(3) Class C. Any of the following:

(A) Any truck tractor weighing less than 26,001 pounds gross vehicle weight or truck tractor towing a semitrailer weighing less than 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight, as specified in subdivision (h) of Section 36101, when operated in accordance with subdivision (h) of Section 36101.

(B) Any two-axle or three-axle housecar.

(C) Any three-axle vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds gross, any two-axle vehicle weighing less than 26,001 pounds gross vehicle weight, any three-axle housecar or vehicle towing another vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds gross, including when a tow dolly is used between the towing vehicle and a towed motor vehicle.

(D) Any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing a trailer coach not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross, or towing a trailer or semitrailer not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross, designed and used exclusively for hauling livestock, or towing a trailer not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross used to transport agricultural products from a farm to a processing or handling point, or towing a trailer transporting a boat not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross, when the hauling of livestock or agricultural products or the towing of boats is not for compensation.

(E) Class C does not include any bus, nor any two-wheel motorcycle, any two-wheel motor-driven cycle, or any two-wheel motorized bicycle.

(4) Class M1. Any two-wheel motorcycle. Authority to operate vehicles included in a class M1 license may be granted by endorsement on a class A, B, or C license upon completion of an appropriate examination.

(5) Class M2. Any two-wheel motor-driven cycle, including, but not limited to, motorized bicycles or mopeds, or any bicycles with an attached motor. Authority to operate vehicles included in class M2 may be granted by endorsement on a class A, B, or C license upon completion of an appropriate examination. Persons holding a class M1 license or endorsement may operate vehicles included in class M2 without further examination.

(c) No driver's license or special driver certificate shall be valid for operating any commercial motor vehicle, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, any other motor vehicle defined in paragraph (1) or (2) of subdivision (b), or any other vehicle requiring a driver to hold any special driver certificate or any driver license endorsement under Section 15275, unless a medical certificate approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration, which has been issued within two years of the date of the operation of that vehicle, is within the licensee's immediate possession, and a copy of the medical examination report from which the certificate was issued is on file with the department. Otherwise the license shall be valid only for operating class C vehicles which are not commercial vehicles, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, and for operating class M1 and M2 vehicles, if so endorsed, which are not commercial vehicles, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210.

(d) A license or driver certificate issued prior to the enactment of Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 15200) shall be valid to operate the class or type of vehicles specified under the law in existence prior to that enactment until the license or certificate expires or is otherwise suspended, revoked, or canceled.

(e) The department may accept a certificate of driving experience that is issued by an employer of the applicant, in lieu of a driving test, on class A or B applications, if the applicant has first qualified for a class C license and has met the other examination requirements for the license for which he or she is applying. The certificate may be submitted as evidence of the applicant's experience or training in the operation of the types of equipment covered by the license for which he or she is applying.

(f) The department may accept a certificate of competence in lieu of a driving test on class M1 and M2 applications, when the certificate is issued by a law enforcement agency for its officers who operate class M1 and M2 vehicles in their duties, if the applicant has met the other examination requirements for the license for which he or she is applying.

(g) (1) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), from January 1, 1990, through December 31, 1993, any person holding a valid California driver's license of any class may operate a motorized bicycle without taking any special examination for the operation of a motorized bicycle, and without having a class M1 and M2 endorsement on that license.

(2) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), any person holding a valid California driver's license of any class may operate a short-term rental motorized bicycle without taking any special examination for the operation of a motorized bicycle, and without having a class M2 endorsement on that license. As used in this paragraph, "short-term" means 48 hours or less.

(h) No person under the age of 21 years shall be issued a class M1 or M2 license or endorsement unless he or she provides evidence satisfactory to the department of completion of a motorcycle safety training program that is operated pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 2930) of Chapter 5 of Division 2.

(i) Drivers of vanpool vehicles, may operate with class C licenses, but shall possess evidence of a medical examination required for a class B license when operating vanpool vehicles. In order to be eligible to drive the vanpool vehicle, the driver shall keep in the vanpool vehicle a statement, signed under penalty of perjury, that he or she has not been convicted of reckless driving, drunk driving, or a hit and run offense in the last five years.

(j) During the implementation of this section, from January 1, 1989, through December 31, 1992, provisions of this code pertaining to persons holding class 1, 2, 3, or 4 licenses pursuant to Section 12804, shall apply to persons holding class A, B, C, or M1 or M2 licenses pursuant to this section, to the extent that class A, B, C, M1, or M2 vehicles under this section fall within the definition of class 1, 2, 3, or 4 vehicles under Section 12804.

(k) A class M license issued between January 1, 1989, and December 31, 1992, shall permit the holder to operate any motorcycle, motor-driven cycle, or motorized bicycle until the expiration of the license.

(l) The amendments made to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) by Chapter 1270 of the Statutes of 1989 shall become operative only after federal regulations are adopted which permit physician's assistants and nurse practitioners to complete the physicals described in that paragraph.

SEC. 5. Section 14602.5 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

14602.5. (a) Whenever a person is convicted for driving any class M1 or M2 motor vehicle, while his or her driving privilege has been suspended or revoked, of which vehicle he or she is the owner, or of which the owner permitted the operation, knowing the person's driving privilege was suspended or revoked, the court may, at the time sentence is imposed on the person, order the motor vehicle impounded in any manner as the court may determine, for a period not to exceed six months for a first conviction, and not to exceed 12 months for a second or subsequent conviction. For the purposes of this section, a "second or subsequent conviction" includes a conviction for any offense described in this section. The cost of keeping the vehicle shall be a lien on the vehicle, pursuant to Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 3067) of Title 14 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), any motor vehicle impounded pursuant to this section which is subject to a chattel mortgage, conditional sale contract, or lease contract shall, upon the filing of an affidavit by the legal owner that the chattel mortgage, conditional sale contract, or lease contract is in default, be released by the court to the legal owner, and shall be delivered to him or her upon payment of the accrued cost of keeping the motor vehicle.

SEC. 6. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1360

An act to repeal Section 25168 of the Health and Safety Code, and to amend Sections 1668, 1804, 1808.1, 2512, 12501, 12502, 12517, 12519, 12523, 12523.5, 12804, 12804.2, 12806.5, 12810.5, 15210, 15242, 15250, 15250.5, 15275, 15278, and 36101 of, to add Sections 464, 2427, 12517.1, 12517.2, 12517.3, 12517.4, 12527, 13370, 13371, 13372, 13373, 13374, 13375, and 14100.1 to, to amend, repeal, and add Section 12804.9 of, to amend and repeal Section 12519.5 of, to repeal and add Sections 12521, 12524, 12525, and 13369 of, and to repeal Sections 3100, 3101, 3102, 3103, 3104, 12517.5, 12520, 12520.5, 12520.7, 12526, 12804.1, and 12804.3 of, the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25168 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 1.5. Section 464 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

464. A "passenger transportation vehicle" is any vehicle, including a trailer bus, designed, used, or maintained for carrying more than 10 persons including the driver, which requires the person to have in his or her immediate possession a valid driver's license for the appropriate class of vehicle to be driven endorsed for passenger transportation.

SEC. 1.5. Section 1668 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

1668. (a) The department may provide fingerprint service to the general public. When that service is provided, the department shall charge a fee of not less than five dollars ($5) for each person fingerprinted.

(b) Whenever the department submits the fingerprints of an applicant for a license or certificate to the Department of Justice, and is required to pay a fee pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 11105 of the Penal Code, the department, without the necessity of adopting regulations, shall charge the applicant a fee sufficient to reimburse the department for that fee.

SEC. 1.7. Section 1804 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Section 16 of Chapter 1114 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

1804. (a) The abstract shall be made upon a form furnished or approved by the department and shall contain all necessary information to identify the defendant, the date and nature of the offense, the license plate number of the vehicle involved in the offense, the date of hearing, and the judgment. The abstract shall also indicate whether the vehicle involved in the offense is a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, and whether the vehicle was of a type requiring the driver to have a certificate issued pursuant to Section 2512, 12517, 12519, 12523, or 12523.5 or any endorsement issued pursuant to paragraph (2) or (4) of subdivision (a) of Section 15278.

(b) As to any abstract for which the original arrest and final conviction was for a violation of Section 23101 or 23102, as those sections read before January 1, 1982, or Section 23152 or 23153, the abstract shall contain a statement indicating the percentage of alcohol, by weight, in the person's blood whenever that percentage was determined by a chemical test. The information regarding the chemical test shall be compiled if it is available to the clerk of the court. All information required to be compiled pursuant to this subdivision shall be kept confidential in the records of the department pursuant to Section 1808.5. The department may use the information for research and statistical purposes and for determining the eligibility of any person to operate a motor vehicle on the highways of this state. The information shall not be released to any other public or private agency, except for research and statistical summary purposes and, for those purposes, the name and address of the person and any other identifying information shall not be disclosed.

(c) The Legislature finds and declares that blood-alcohol percentages have valuable research potential in providing statistical summary information on impaired drivers but that a specific blood-alcohol percentage is only an item of evidence for purposes of criminal and licensing sanctions imposed by law. The Legislature recognizes that the accuracy of the determination of a specific blood-alcohol percentage is not the critical determination in a conviction for driving under the influence of an alcoholic beverage if the blood-alcohol percentage exceeds the statutory amount.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 1804 of the Vehicle Code, as added by Section 17 of Chapter 1114 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

1804 (a) The abstract shall be made upon a form furnished or approved by the department and shall contain all necessary information to identify the defendant, including, but not limited to, the person's driver's license number, name, and date of birth, the date and nature of the offense, the vessel number, if any, of the vessel involved in the offense, the license plate number of the vehicle involved in the offense, the date of hearing, and the judgment. The abstract shall also indicate whether the vehicle involved in the offense is a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, and whether the vehicle was of a type requiring the driver to have a certificate issued pursuant to Section 2512, 12517, 12519, 12523, or 12523.5 or any endorsement issued pursuant to paragraph (2) or (4) of subdivision (a) of Section 15278, or whether the vessel involved in the offense was a recreational vessel, as defined in subdivision (y) of Section 651 of the Harbors and Navigation Code.

(b) As to any abstract for which the original arrest and final conviction was for a violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), (e), or (f) of Section 655 of the Harbors and Navigation Code or Section 23152 or 23153 of this code, the abstract shall contain a statement indicating the percentage of alcohol, by weight, in the person's blood whenever that percentage was determined by a chemical test. The information regarding the chemical test shall be compiled if it is available to the clerk of the court. All information required to be compiled pursuant to this subdivision shall be kept confidential in the records of the department pursuant to Section 1808.5. The department may use the information for research and statistical purposes and for determining the eligibility of any person to operate a motor vehicle on the highways of this state. The information shall not be released to any other public or private agency, except for research and statistical summary purposes and, for those purposes, the name and address of the person and any other identifying information shall not be disclosed.

(c) The Legislature finds and declares that blood-alcohol percentages have valuable research potential in providing statistical summary information on impaired drivers but that a specific blood-alcohol percentage is only an item of evidence for purposes of criminal and licensing sanctions imposed by law. The Legislature recognizes that the accuracy of the determination of a specific blood-alcohol percentage is not the critical determination in a conviction for driving under the influence of an alcoholic beverage if the blood-alcohol percentage exceeds the statutory amount.

(d) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992.

SEC. 3. Section 1808.1 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Chapter 104 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

1808.1. (a) The prospective employer of a driver who drives a vehicle requiring a class 1, class 2, class A, or class B driver's license, class C license with an endorsement issued pursuant to paragraph (4) of subdivision (a) of Section 15278 or a certificate issued pursuant to Section 2512, 12517, 12519, 12523, or 12523.5, shall obtain a report showing the driver's current public record as recorded by the department.

(b) The employer of a driver who drives a vehicle requiring a class 1, class 2, class A, or class B driver's license, class C license with an endorsement issued pursuant to paragraph (4) of subdivision (a) of Section 15278, or a certificate issued pursuant to Section 2512, 12517, 12519, 12523, or 12523.5, shall make a request to the department to participate in a pull notice system, which is a process for the purpose of providing the employer with a report showing the driver's current public record as recorded by the department, and any subsequent convictions, failures to appear, accidents, driver's license suspensions, driver's license revocations, or any other actions taken against the driving privilege or certificate, added to the driver's record while the employer's notification request remains valid and uncanceled.

(c) The employer of a driver of a vehicle requiring a class 1, class 2, or class 3 driver's license requiring a certificate issued pursuant to Section 2512, 12517, 12519, 12523, or 12523.5 or class A, class B, or class C driver's license with a hazardous material endorsement, shall, additionally, obtain a periodic report from the department at least every six months, except that an employer who employs more than 500 drivers shall obtain a report no less than annually. The employer shall verify that each employee's driver's license has not been suspended or revoked, the employee's traffic violation point count, and whether the employee has been convicted of a violation of Section 23152 or 23153. The report shall be signed and dated by the employer and maintained at the employer's principal place of business. The reports shall be presented upon demand to any authorized representative of the Department of the California Highway Patrol during regular business hours.

(d) Upon the termination of a driver's employment, the employer may notify the department to cancel any reports required by this section.

(e) For the purposes of the pull notice system and periodic report process required by subdivisions (b) and (c), owners, other than owner-operators as defined in Section 3557 of the Public Utilities Code, and employers who drive vehicles described in subdivisions (b) and (c), shall be enrolled as if they were employees. Family members and volunteer drivers who drive vehicles described in subdivisions (b) and (c) shall also be enrolled as if they were employees.

(f) An employer who, after receiving any driving record pursuant to this section, employs or continues to employ as a driver any person against whom a disqualifying action has been taken regarding his or her driving privilege or required driver's certificate, is guilty of a public offense, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(g) As part of its inspection of bus maintenance facilities and terminals required at least once every 13 months pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 34501, the Department of the California Highway Patrol shall determine whether each transit operator, as defined in Section 99210 of the Public Utilities Code, is then in compliance with this section and Section 12804.6, and shall certify each operator found to be in compliance. No funds shall be allocated under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 99200) of Part 11 of Division 10 of the Public Utilities Code to a transit operator which the Department of the California Highway Patrol has not certified under this section.

(h) A request to participate in the pull notice system established by this section shall be accompanied by a fee determined by the department to be sufficient to defray the entire actual cost to the department for the notification service. For the receipt of subsequent reports, the employer shall also be charged a fee established by the department pursuant to Section 1811. Any employer who qualifies under Section 1812 shall be exempt from any fee required under this section. Failure to pay the fee shall result in automatic cancellation of the employer's participation in the notification services.

(i) The department, as soon as feasible, may establish an automatic procedure to provide the periodic reports in subdivision (c) to employers on a regular basis without the need for individual requests.

(j) This section shall not be construed to change the definition of "employer," "employee," or "independent contractor" for any other purpose.

(k) The employer of a driver who is employed as a casual driver is not required to enter that driver's name in the pull notice system, as otherwise required by subdivision (a). However, the employer of a casual driver shall be in possession of a report of the driver's current public record as recorded by the department, prior to allowing a casual driver to drive a vehicle requiring a class 1, class 2, class A, class B or class C driver's license with a hazardous materials endorsement, or a certificate issued pursuant to Section 2512, 12517, 12519, 12523, or 12523.5. A report is current if it was issued less than six months prior to the date the employer employs the driver. As used in this subdivision, a driver is employed as a casual driver when the employer has employed the driver less than 30 days during the preceding six months. For purposes of this subdivision, "casual driver" does not include any driver who operates a vehicle that requires a passenger transportation endorsement.

SEC. 4. Section 2427 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

2427. Whenever the department submits the fingerprints of an applicant for a license or certificate to the Department of Justice, and is required to pay a fee pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 11105 of the Penal Code, the department, without the necessity of adopting regulations, shall charge the applicant a fee sufficient to reimburse the department for that fee.

SEC. 4.5. Section 2512 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Chapter 104 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

2512. (a) The commissioner, after consultation with, and pursuant to the recommendations of, the Emergency Medical Service Authority and the department, shall adopt and enforce reasonable regulations as the commissioner determines are necessary for the public health and safety regarding the operation, equipment, and certification of drivers of all ambulances used for emergency services. The regulations shall not conflict with standards established by the Emergency Medical Service Authority pursuant to Section 1797.170 of the Health and Safety Code. The commissioner shall exempt, upon request of the county board of supervisors that an exemption is necessary for public health and safety, noncommercial ambulances operated within the county from the regulations adopted under this section as are specified in the board of supervisors' request. The Emergency Medical Service Authority shall be notified by the county boards of supervisors of any exemptions.

(b) The department, in cooperation with the Department of the California Highway Patrol and the Emergency Medical Service Authority, may adopt and administer regulations relating to the issuance, suspension, or revocation of ambulance driver's certificates. The department shall charge a fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) for the issuance of an original certificate and twelve dollars ($12) for the renewal of that certificate, and, in the administration thereof, to exercise the powers granted to the commissioner by this section.

(c) This section shall not preclude the adoption of more restrictive regulations by local authorities, except that inspection of ambulances pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 2510 shall not be duplicated by local authorities. It is the intent of the Legislature that regulations adopted by the commissioner pursuant to this section shall be the minimum necessary to protect public health and safety, and shall not be so restrictive as to preclude compliance by ambulances operated in sparsely populated areas. This subdivision does not relieve the owner or driver of any ambulance from compliance with Section 21055.

(d) The Department of the California Highway Patrol after consultation with the department and the Emergency Medical Service Authority shall prepare, and make available for purchase, an ambulance driver's handbook.

SEC. 5. Section 3100 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 3101 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 7. Section 3102 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 8. Section 3103 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 9. Section 3104 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 10. Section 12501 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

12501. The following persons are not required to obtain a driver's license:

(a) An officer or employee of the United States, while operating a motor vehicle owned or controlled by the United States on the business of the United States, except when the motor vehicle being operated is a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in Section 15210.

(b) Any person while driving or operating implements of husbandry incidentally operated or moved over a highway, except as provided in Section 36300 or 36305.

(c) Any person driving or operating an off-highway motor vehicle subject to identification, as defined in Section 38012, while driving or operating such motor vehicle as provided in Section 38025. Nothing in this subdivision authorizes operation of a motor vehicle by a person without a valid driver's license upon any offstreet parking facility, as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 12500.

SEC. 10.5. Section 12502 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

12502. (a) The following persons may operate a motor vehicle in this state without obtaining a driver's license under this code:

(1) A nonresident over the age of 18 years having in his or her immediate possession a valid driver's license issued by a foreign jurisdiction of which he or she is a resident, except as provided in Section 12505.

(2) A nonresident having in his or her immediate possession a valid driver's license, issued by the Diplomatic Motor Vehicle Office of the Office of Foreign Missions of the United States Department of State, for the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles that the person is operating.

(b) Any person entitled to the exemption contained in subdivision (a), while operating, within this state, a commercial vehicle, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, shall have in his or her possession a current medical certificate of a type described in subdivision (c) of Section 12804, which has been issued within two years of the date of operation of that vehicle.

(c) The department shall report to the Legislature by January 15 of each year, regarding the frequency of violations and reportable accidents by holders of the licenses described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a). In preparing the report, the department shall use information, as available, from its own files, and from the Department of the California Highway Patrol, local law enforcement agencies, and the Diplomatic Motor Vehicle Office of the Office of Foreign Missions of the United States Department of State.

SEC. 11. Section 12517 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Chapter 104 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

12517. (a) No person shall operate a schoolbus unless that person has in his or her immediate possession a valid driver's license for the appropriate class of vehicle to be driven endorsed for passenger transportation. When transporting one or more pupils at or below the 12th-grade level to or from a public or private school or to or from public or private school activities, the person shall also have in his or her immediate possession a certificate issued by the department to permit the operation of schoolbuses.

(b) No person shall operate a school pupil activity bus unless that person has in his or her immediate possession a valid driver's license for the appropriate class of vehicle to be driven endorsed for passenger transportation. When transporting one or more pupils at or below the 12th-grade level to or from public or private school activities, the person shall also have in his or her immediate possession a certificate issued by the department to permit the operation of school pupil activity buses.

(c) The applicant for a certificate to operate a schoolbus or school pupil activity bus shall meet the eligibility and training requirements specified for schoolbus and school pupil activity busdrivers in this code, the Education Code and regulations adopted by the Department of the California Highway Patrol, and shall pay a fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) with the application for issuance of an original certificate, and a fee of twelve dollars ($12) for the renewal of that certificate.

(d) A person holding a valid certificate to permit the operation of a schoolbus or school pupil activity bus, issued prior to January 1, 1991, shall not be required to reapply for a certificate to satisfy any additional requirements imposed by the act adding this subdivision until the certificate he or she holds expires or is canceled or revoked.

SEC. 12. Section 12517.1 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

12517.1. (a) A "schoolbus accident" means any of the following:

(1) A motor vehicle accident resulting in property damage in excess of five hundred dollars ($500) or personal injury, on public or private property, and involving a schoolbus, youth bus, school pupil activity bus, or general public paratransit vehicle transporting a pupil.

(2) A collision between a vehicle and a pupil or a schoolbus driver while the pupil or driver is crossing the highway when the schoolbus flashing red signal lamps are required to be operated pursuant to Section 22112.

(3) Injury of a pupil inside a vehicle described in paragraph (1) as a result of acceleration, deceleration, or other movement of the vehicle.

(b) The Department of the California Highway Patrol shall investigate all schoolbus accidents, except that accidents involving only property damage and occurring entirely on private property shall be investigated only if they involve a violation of this code.

SEC. 13. Section 12517.2 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

12517.2. (a) Applicants for an original or renewal certificate to drive a schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, youth bus, general public paratransit vehicle, or farm labor vehicle shall submit a report of a medical examination of the applicant given not more than two years prior to the date of the application by a physician licensed to practice medicine. The report shall be on a form approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration.

(b) Schoolbus drivers, within the same month of reaching the age of 65 and each 12th month thereafter, shall undergo a physical examination, pursuant to Section 12804 or 12804.9, and submit a report of medical examination on a form as specified in subdivision (a).

SEC. 14. Section 12517.3 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

12517.3. (a) Applicants for an original certificate to drive a schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, youth bus, or general public paratransit vehicle, shall be fingerprinted by the Department of the California Highway Patrol on a form provided or approved by the department for submission to the Department of Justice.

(b) Applicants for an original certificate to drive an ambulance shall submit a completed fingerprint card to the department.

SEC. 15. Section 12517.4 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

12517.4. This section governs the issuance of a certificate to drive a schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, youth bus, general public paratransit vehicle, or farm labor vehicle.

(a) The driver certificate shall be issued only to applicants meeting all applicable provisions of this code and passing the examinations prescribed by the department and the Department of the California Highway Patrol. The examinations shall be conducted by the Department of the California Highway Patrol, pursuant to Sections 12517, 12519, 12522, 12523, and 12523.5.

(b) A temporary driver certificate shall be issued by the Department of the California Highway Patrol after an applicant has cleared a criminal history background check by the Department of Justice and, if applicable, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and has passed the examinations and meets all other applicable provisions of this code.

(c) A permanent driver's certificate shall be issued by the department after an applicant has passed all tests and met all applicable provisions of this code. Certificates are valid for a maximum of four years and shall expire on the same date as the applicant's driver's license.

(d) No holder of a certificate shall violate any restriction placed on the certificate. Depending upon the type of vehicle used in the driving test and the abilities and physicial condition of the applicant, the Department of the California Highway Patrol and the department may place restrictions on a certificate to assure the safe operation of a motor vehicle and safe transportation of passengers. These restrictions may include, but are not limited to, all of the following:

(1) Automatic transmission only.

(2) Hydraulic brakes only.

(3) Type 2 bus only.

(4) Conventional or type 2 bus only.

(5) Two-axle motor truck or passenger vehicle only.

(e) No holder of a certificate shall drive any motor vehicle equipped with a two-speed rear axle unless the certificate is endorsed: "May drive vehicle with two-speed rear axle."

SEC. 16. Section 12517.5 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 17. Section 12519 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

12519. (a) No person shall operate a farm labor vehicle unless the person has in his or her possession a driver's license for the appropriate class of vehicle to be driven, endorsed for passenger transportation, and, when transporting one or more farmworker passengers, a certificate issued by the department to permit the operation of farm labor vehicles.

(b) The applicants shall present evidence that they have successfully completed the driver training course developed by the Department of Education pursuant to Section 40081 of the Education Code, and approved by the Department of Motor Vehicles and the Department of the California Highway Patrol before a permanent certificate will be issued.

(c) The certificate shall be issued only to applicants qualified by examinations prescribed by the Department of Motor Vehicles and the Department of the California Highway Patrol and upon payment of a fee of twelve dollars ($12) to the Department of the California Highway Patrol.The examinations shall be conducted by the Department of the California Highway Patrol.

(d) A person holding a valid certificate to permit the operation of a farm labor vehicle, issued prior to January 1, 1991, shall not be required to reapply for a certificate to satisfy any additional requirements imposed by the act adding this subdivision until the certificate he or she holds expires or is canceled or revoked.

SEC. 18. Section 12519.5 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

12519.5. (a) No person holding a class 1 or class 2 driver's license shall operate a tour bus unless that person has in his or her immediate possession a valid driver's license of the appropriate class and a certificate to operate a tour bus issued by the department pursuant to subdivision (b).

(b) The driver's certificate shall be issued only to applicants qualified by examinations prescribed and conducted by the department upon payment of a forty-one dollar ($41) fee.

(c) Any application for an original tour bus certificate or renewal of the certificate and any tour bus certificate issued pursuant to subdivision (b) shall be subject to Section 13369.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1993, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 19. Section 12520 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 20. Section 12520.5 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 21. Section 12520.7. of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 22. Section 12521 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 22.5. Section 12521 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

12521. An operator of a tour bus shall, at all times when operating the tour bus, do all the following:

(a) Use a safety belt.

(b) Report any accidents involving the tour bus to the Department of the California Highway Patrol.

SEC. 23. Section 12523 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Chapter 104 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

12523. (a) No person shall operate a youth bus without having in possession a valid driver's license of the appropriate class, endorsed for passenger transportation and a certificate issued by the department to permit the operation of a youth bus.

(b) Applicants for a certificate to drive a youth bus shall present evidence that they have successfully completed a driver training course administered by or at the direction of their employer consisting of a minimum of 10 hours of classroom instruction covering applicable laws and regulations and defensive driving practices and a minimum of 10 hours of behind-the-wheel training in a vehicle to be used as a youth bus. Applicants seeking to renew a certificate to drive a youth bus shall present evidence that they have received two hours of refresher training during each 12 months of driver certificate validity.

(c) The driver certificate shall be issued only to applicants qualified by examinations prescribed by the Department of Motor Vehicles and the Department of the California Highway Patrol, and upon payment of a fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) for an original certificate and twelve dollars ($12) for the renewal of that certificate to the Department of the California Highway Patrol. The examinations shall be conducted by the Department of the California Highway Patrol. The Department of Motor Vehicles may deny, suspend, or revoke a certificate valid for driving a youth bus for the causes specified in this code or in regulations adopted pursuant to this code.

(d) An operator of a youth bus shall, at all times when operating a youth bus, do all of the following:

(1) Use seat belts.

(2) Refrain from smoking.

(3) Report any accidents reportable under Section 16000 to the Department of the California Highway Patrol.

(e) A person holding a valid certificate to permit the operation of a youth bus, issued prior to January 1, 1991, shall not be required to reapply for a certificate to satisfy any additional requirements imposed by the act adding this subdivision until the certificate he or she holds expires or is canceled or revoked.

SEC. 24. Section 12523.5 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Chapter 104 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

12523.5. (a) No person shall operate a general public paratransit vehicle unless he or she has in his or her possession a valid driver's license of the appropriate class endorsed for passenger transportation when operating a vehicle designed, used, or maintained for carrying more than 10 persons including the driver and either (1) a certificate issued by the department to permit the operation of a general public paratransit vehicle, or (2) a certificate issued by the department to drive a schoolbus or school pupil activity bus pursuant to Section 12517.

(b) Applicants for a certificate to drive a general public paratransit vehicle shall pay a fee to the Department of the California Highway Patrol of twenty-five dollars ($25) for an original certificate and twelve dollars ($12) for a renewal certificate. Applicants for an original certificate shall present evidence that they have successfully completed a driver training course consisting of a minimum of 40 hours of instruction within the previous two years. The instruction shall have covered applicable laws and regulations and defensive driving practices, a minimum of eight hours of certified defensive driving, and a minimum of 20 hours of behind-the-wheel training in a vehicle to be used as a general public paratransit vehicle. Applicants seeking to renew a certificate valid for driving a general public paratransit vehicle shall present evidence that they have received two hours of refresher training during each 12 months of driver certificate validity.

(c) The driver certificate shall be issued only to applicants qualified by examinations prescribed by the Department of Motor Vehicles and the Department of the California Highway Patrol. The examinations shall be conducted by the Department of the California Highway Patrol. The Department of Motor Vehicles may deny, suspend, or revoke a certificate valid for driving a general public paratransit vehicle for the causes specified in this code or the Education Code or in regulations adopted pursuant to this code or the Education Code.

(d) An operator of a general public paratransit vehicle shall do all of the following:

(1) Use seatbelts.

(2) Refrain from smoking.

(3) Report any accident reportable under Section 16000 to the Department of the California Highway Patrol.

(e) A person holding a valid certificate to permit the operation of a general public paratransit vehicle, issued prior to January 1, 1991, shall not be required to reapply for a certificate to satisfy any additional requirements imposed by the act adding this subdivision until the certificate he or she holds expires or is canceled or revoked.

SEC. 25. Section 12524 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 25.1. Section 12524 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

12524. (a) No class 1, class 2, or class 3 driver's license holder shall operate a vehicle hauling fissile class III shipments or large quantity radioactive materials, as defined in Section 173.389 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations, unless the driver possesses a valid license of the appropriate class and a radioactive materials driver's certificate, issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles, which permits the driver to operate those vehicles.

(b) Applicants for the certificates shall present evidence to the Department of Motor Vehicles that they have successfully completed the radioactive materials hauler driving training course developed by the Department of Motor Vehicles and the Department of the California Highway Patrol before a certificate may be issued. Either the employer of the driver or a driving school licensed pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 11100) of Division 5 may administer the training course.

(c) The certificate shall be issued only to applicants qualified by examinations prescribed by the Department of Motor Vehicles and the Department of the California Highway Patrol. These examinations shall be conducted by the Department of Motor Vehicles, and an examination fee of twelve dollars ($12) shall be paid by the applicant to the Department of Motor Vehicles.

(d) Any application for an original radioactive materials driver's certificate or renewal of the certificate and any radioactive materials driver's certificate issued pursuant to this section shall be subject to the provisions of Section 13369.

(e) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1993, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 26. Section 12525 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 27. Section 12525 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

12525. Mechanics or other maintenance personnel may operate vehicles requiring certificates issued pursuant to Section 2512, 12517, 12519, 12523, or 12523.5 without obtaining those certificates if that operation is within the course of their employment and they do not transport pupils or members of the public.

SEC. 27.5. Section 12526 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 28. Section 12527 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

12527. In addition to satisfying all requirements specified in this code and regulations adopted pursuant to this code, an applicant for an ambulance driver certificate shall satisfy all of the following requirements:

(a) Except as otherwise provided, every ambulance driver responding to an emergency call or transporting patients shall be at least 18 years of age, hold a driver's license valid in California, possess a valid ambulance driver certificate, and be trained and competent in ambulance operation and the use of safety and emergency care equipment required by the California Code of Regulations governing ambulances.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (f), no person shall operate an ambulance unless the person has in his or her immediate possession a driver's license for the appropriate class of vehicle to be driven, and a certificate issued by the department to permit the operation of an ambulance.

(c) An ambulance driver certificate may be issued by the department only upon the successful completion of an examination conducted by the department and subject to all of the following conditions:

(1) An applicant for an original or renewal driver certificate shall submit a report of medical examination on a form approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration. The report shall be dated within the two years preceding the application date.

(2) An applicant for an original driver certificate shall submit an acceptable fingerprint card.

(3) The certificate to drive an ambulance shall be valid for a period not exceeding four years and six months and shall expire on the same date as the driver's license. The ambulance driver certificate shall be valid only when accompanied by a medical examination certificate which was issued within the preceding two years and approved by the department, Federal Highway Administration, or Federal Aviation Administration.

(4) The ambulance driver certificate is renewable under conditions prescribed by the department. Applicants renewing an ambulance driver certificate shall possess certificates or licenses evidencing compliance with the emergency medical training and educational standards for ambulance attendants established by the Emergency Medical Service Authority.

(d) Every ambulance driver shall have been trained to assist the ambulance attendant in the care and handling of the ill and injured. The driver of a California-based ambulance shall, within one year of initial issuance of the driver's ambulance driver certificate, possess a certificate or license evidencing compliance with the emergency medical training and educational standards established for ambulance attendants by the Emergency Medical Service Authority. In those emergencies requiring both the regularly assigned driver and attendant to be utilized in providing patient care, the specialized emergency medical training requirement shall not apply to persons temporarily detailed to drive the ambulance.

(e) A person holding a valid certificate to permit the operation of an ambulance, issued prior to January 1, 1991, shall not be required to reapply for a certificate to satisfy the requirements of this section until the certificate he or she holds expires or is canceled or revoked.

(f) An ambulance certificate is not required for persons operating ambulances in the line of duty as salaried, regular, full-time police officers, deputy sheriffs, or members of a fire department of a public agency. This exemption does not include volunteers and part-time employees or members of a department whose duties are primarily clerical or administrative.

SEC. 29. Section 12804 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

12804. (a) (1) The examination shall include all of the following:

(A) A test of the applicant's knowledge and understanding of the provisions of this code governing the operation of vehicles upon the highways.

(B) A test of the applicant's ability to read and understand simple English used in highway traffic and directional signs.

(C) A test of the applicant's understanding of traffic signs and signals, including the bikeway signs, markers, and traffic control devices established by the Department of Transportation.

(D) An actual demonstration of the applicant's ability to exercise ordinary and reasonable control in operating a motor vehicle by driving it under the supervision of an examining officer. The applicant shall submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles he or she desires a license to drive, except that the department may waive the driving test part of the examination of any applicant who holds a valid license issued by another state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. The examining officer may request to see evidence of financial responsibility for the vehicle prior to supervising the demonstration of the applicant's ability to operate the vehicle.

(E) A test of the hearing and eyesight of the applicant, and of other matters that may be necessary to determine the applicant's mental and physical fitness to operate a motor vehicle upon the highways, and whether any ground exists for refusal of a license under this code.

(2) The examination for a class 1 or class 2 license under subdivision (b) shall also include a report of a medical examination of the applicant given not more than two years prior to the date of the application by a physician licensed to practice medicine by a licensed physician's assistant or nurse practitioner under the supervision of a physician and surgeon licensed to practice medicine. The report shall be on a form approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration. In establishing the requirements, consideration may be given to the standards presently required of motor carrier drivers by the Federal Highway Administration.

(3) Any physical defect of the applicant, which, in the opinion of the department, is compensated for to ensure safe driving ability, shall not prevent the issuance of a license to the applicant.

(b) In accordance with the following classifications, any applicant for a driver's license shall be required to submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles the applicant desires a license to drive:

(1) Class 1. Any combination of vehicles, including the operation of all vehicles under class 2 and class 3.

(2) Class 2. Any bus, any single vehicle with three or more axles, any bus or single vehicle with three or more axles towing another vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds gross, and all vehicles covered under class 3.

(3) Class 3. Any of the following:

(A) Any truck tractor or truck tractor and semitrailer combination, as specified in subdivision (h) of Section 36101, when operated in accordance with subdivision (h) of Section 36101.

(B) Any housecar.

(C) Any three-axle vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds gross, any two-axle vehicle, any housecar or three-axle vehicle towing another vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds gross, including when a tow dolly is used between the towing vehicle and a towed motor vehicle.

(D) Any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing a trailer or semitrailer not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross, designed and used exclusively for hauling livestock, or towing a trailer not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross used to transport agricultural products from a farm to a processing or handling point, or towing a trailer transporting a boat not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross, when the hauling of livestock or agricultural products or the towing of boats is not for compensation.

(E) Any schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, youth bus, or farm labor vehicle specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (d).

(F) (i) Any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing either a trailer coach or a fifth-wheel travel trailer not exceeding 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight rating, when the towing of the trailer is not for compensation.

(ii) Any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing a fifth-wheel travel trailer exceeding 10,000 pounds, but not exceeding 15,000 pounds, gross vehicle weight rating, when the towing of the trailer is not for compensation, and if the person has passed a specialized written examination provided by the department relating to the knowledge of this code and other safety aspects governing the towing of recreational vehicles upon the highway. The authority to operate combinations of vehicles under this subparagraph shall be granted by endorsement on a class 3 license upon completion of that written examination.

Class 3 does not include any bus which is not described in subparagraph (E), nor any two-wheel motorcycle or any two-wheel motor-driven cycle.

(4) Class 4. Any two-wheel motorcycle, any two-wheel motor-driven cycle, or any motorized bicycle. Authority to operate vehicles included in a class 4 license may be granted by endorsement on a class 1, 2, or 3 license upon completion of appropriate examination.

(c) Class 1 and class 2 driver's licenses shall be valid for operating class 1 or class 2 vehicles only when a medical certificate approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration, which has been issued within two years of the date of the operation of that vehicle, is within the licensee's immediate possession, otherwise the license shall be valid only for operating class 3 vehicles and class 4 vehicles if so endorsed.

(d) (1) A class 3 license shall be valid for operating any schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, youth bus, or farm labor vehicle when a special driver's certificate to permit the operation of those vehicles is also in the immediate possession of the licensee. A class 3 license shall also be valid for operating any of those vehicles, with no passengers aboard, while receiving behind-the-wheel driver training from a person having in his or her immediate possession a special driver's certificate to permit the operation of the vehicle.

(2) A special driver certificate for the operation of a schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, youth bus, or farm labor vehicle shall not be valid unless the driver has in his or her immediate possession, a medical certificate issued within the past two years.

(e) The department may accept a certificate of driving experience that is issued by an employer of the applicant, in lieu of a driving test, on class 1 or 2 applications, if the applicant has first qualified for a class 3 license and has met the other examination requirements for the license for which he or she is applying. The certificate may be submitted as evidence of the applicant's experience or training in the operation of the types of equipment covered by the license for which he or she is applying.

(f) The department may accept a certificate of competence in lieu of a driving test on class 4 applications, when the certificate is issued by a law enforcement agency for its officers who operate class 4 vehicles in their duties, if the applicant has met the other examination requirements for the license for which he or she is applying.

(g) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), any person holding a valid California driver's license of any class may operate a motorized bicycle without taking any special examination for the operation of a motorized bicycle, and without having a class 4 endorsement on that license.

(h) Drivers of vanpool vehicles, may operate with class 3 licenses, but shall possess evidence of a medical examination required for a class 2 license when operating vanpool vehicles. In order to be eligible to drive the vanpool vehicle, the driver shall keep in the vanpool vehicle a statement, signed under penalty of perjury, that he or she has not been convicted of reckless driving, drunk driving, or a hit and run offense in the last five years.

(i) The amendments made to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) by Chapter 1270 of the Statutes of 1989, shall become operative only after federal regulations are adopted permitting physician's assistants and nurse practitioners to complete the physicals described in that paragraph.

(j) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute which is enacted on or before January 1, 1993, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 30. Section 12804.1 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 30.5. Section 12804.2 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Chapter 115 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

12804.2. (a) Notwithstanding Section 15275, a person with at least a class 3 or class C driver's license is exempt from the endorsement requirements of Section 15275 if all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The person is employed in an agricultural operation and is driving a vehicle, other than a vehicle used in common or contract motor carriage, controlled by a farmer and transporting agricultural products or farm machinery or supplies to or from a farm.

(2) (A) The person has completed an agricultural hazardous materials transportation program offered or approved by the Department of the California Highway Patrol. The Department of the California Highway Patrol shall make the program available at no cost, and the program shall contain information specifically applicable to the safe transportation of agricultural chemicals and shall not be less than two hours in length. If the commissioner determines that the program cannot be offered in a particular area of the state because of personnel constraints, a person in that area may instead comply with this requirement by receiving agricultural hazardous materials training, in a program and manner approved by the Department of the California Highway Patrol, from an organization or a person in a supervisory position that has been certified by the Department of the California Highway Patrol.

(B) Upon successful completion of the program specified in subparagraph (A), a verification of training, valid for four years, shall be issued by the instructor and shall be carried by the person when operating an implement of husbandry or a motor vehicle required to display placards or markings pursuant to Section 27903 or which is hauling hazardous waste, as defined in Sections 25115 and 25117 of the Health and Safety Code. Within 10 days of issuance by the instructor, a copy of the verification shall be forwarded by the person completing the training to the department for inclusion on the permanent driving record of the person, together with a fee of twelve dollars ($12).

(C) The department, in consultation with the Department of the California Highway Patrol, shall develop a suitable form for verification of training.

(3) The person has, within the vehicle, informational material approved by the Department of the California Highway Patrol, in both English and Spanish, outlining basic safety procedures to be followed in the event of an accident. The Department of the California Highway Patrol shall provide the information required by this subdivision and make it available at no cost to the person.

(4) The person is operating a vehicle which is an implement of husbandry or a motor vehicle requiring a class 3 or class C driver's license and the distance which the vehicle is being operated between the final point of distribution and the ultimate point of application or from part of a farm to another part thereof, or from one farm to another, is not more than 50 miles.

(5) In lieu of a report of a medical examination required by Sections 12804 and 12804.9, an applicant for a certificate pursuant to paragraph (3) shall, upon application and every two years thereafter, submit medical information on a form approved by the department. A person who obtains a verification of training pursuant to this section, but does not meet the medical requirements for a hazardous materials endorsement established by the department under Sections 12804 and 12804.9, is not qualified to transport hazardous materials.

(6) For purposes of the penalties and sanctions prescribed by Article 7 (commencing with Section 15300) of Chapter 7, the operation of a vehicle pursuant to this subdivision is deemed to be the operation of a commercial motor vehicle.

(b) Implementation dates for this section may be established by the Department of Motor Vehicles by regulation in order to accomplish an orderly certification program.

SEC. 31. Section 12804.3 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 31.5. Section 12804.9 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

12804.9. (a) (1) The examination shall include all of the following:

(A) A test of the applicant's knowledge and understanding of the provisions of this code governing the operation of vehicles upon the highways.

(B) A test of the applicant's ability to read and understand simple English used in highway traffic and directional signs.

(C) A test of the applicant's understanding of traffic signs and signals, including the bikeway signs, markers, and traffic control devices established by the Department of Transportation.

(D) An actual demonstration of the applicant's ability to exercise ordinary and reasonable control in operating a motor vehicle by driving it under the supervision of an examining officer. The applicant shall submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles he or she desires a license to drive, except that the department may waive the driving test part of the examination of any applicant who holds a valid license issued by another state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. The examining officer may request to see evidence of financial responsibility for the vehicle prior to supervising the demonstration of the applicant's ability to operate the vehicle. The examining officer may refuse to examine an applicant who is unable to provide proof of financial responsibility for the vehicle, unless proof of financial responsibility is not required by this code.

(E) A test of the hearing and eyesight of the applicant, and of other matters that may be necessary to determine the applicant's mental and physical fitness to operate a motor vehicle upon the highways, and whether any ground exists for refusal of a license under this code.

(2) The examination for a class A or class B license under subdivision (b) shall also include a report of a medical examination of the applicant given not more than two years prior to the date of the application by a physician licensed to practice medicine or by a licensed physician's assistant or nurse practitioner under the supervision of a physician and surgeon licensed to practice medicine. The report shall be on a form approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration. In establishing the requirements, consideration may be given to the standards presently required of motor carrier drivers by the Federal Highway Administration.

(3) Any physical defect of the applicant, which, in the opinion of the department, is compensated for to ensure safe driving ability, shall not prevent the issuance of a license to the applicant.

(b) Beginning on January 1, 1989, in accordance with the following classifications, any applicant for a driver's license shall be required to submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles the applicant desires a license to drive:

(1) Class A includes the following:

(A) Any combination of vehicles, provided that any vehicle being towed has a gross vehicle weight rating of more than 10,000 pounds.

(B) Any vehicle towing more than one vehicle.

(C) Any trailer bus.

(D) The operation of all vehicles under class B and class C.

(2) Class B includes the following:

(A) Any single vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating of more than 26,000 pounds.

(B) Any single vehicle with three or more axles, except any three-axle vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds.

(C) Any bus except a trailer bus.

(D) Any farm labor vehicle.

(E) Any single vehicle with three or more axles or a gross vehicle weight rating of more than 26,000 pounds towing another vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating of 10,000 pounds or less.

(F) The operation of all vehicles covered under class C.

(3) Class C includes the following:

(A) Any two-axle vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating of 26,000 pounds or less, including when the vehicle is towing a trailer or semitrailer with a gross vehicle weight rating of 10,000 pounds or less.

(B) Notwithstanding subparagraph (A), any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing a trailer coach not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross.

(C) Any housecar.

(D) Any three-axle vehicle weighing 6,000 pounds or less gross.

(E) Any housecar or vehicle towing another vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating of 10,000 pounds or less, including when a tow dolly is used. No vehicle shall tow another vehicle in violation of Section 21715.

(F) (i) Any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing either a trailer coach or a fifth-wheel travel trailer not exceeding 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight rating, when the towing of the trailer is not for compensation.

(ii) Any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing a fifth-wheel travel trailer exceeding 10,000 pounds, but not exceeding 15,000 pounds, gross vehicle weight rating, when the towing of the trailer is not for compensation, and if the person has passed a specialized written examination provided by the department relating to the knowledge of this code and other safety aspects governing the towing of recreational vehicles upon the highway. The authority to operate combinations of vehicles under this subparagraph shall be granted by endorsement on a class 3 license upon completion of that written examination.

(G) Class C does not include any two-wheel motorcycle or any two-wheel motor-driven cycle.

(4) Class M1. Any two-wheel motorcycle. Authority to operate vehicles included in a class M1 license may be granted by endorsement on a class A, B, or C license upon completion of an appropriate examination.

(5) Class M2. Any two-wheel motor-driven cycle, including, but not limited to, a motorized bicycle or moped, or any bicycle with an attached motor. Authority to operate vehicles included in Class M2 may be granted by endorsement on a class A, B, or C license upon completion of an appropriate examination. Persons holding a class M1 license or endorsement may operate vehicles included in class M2 without further examination.

(c) No driver's license or driver certificate shall be valid for operating any commercial motor vehicle, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, any other motor vehicle defined in paragraph (1) or (2) of subdivision (b), or any other vehicle requiring a driver to hold any driver certificate or any driver's license endorsement under Section 15275, unless a medical certificate approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration, which has been issued within two years of the date of the operation of that vehicle, is within the licensee's immediate possession, and a copy of the medical examination report from which the certificate was issued is on file with the department. Otherwise the license shall be valid only for operating class C vehicles which are not commercial vehicles, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, and for operating class M1 or M2 vehicles, if so endorsed, which are not commercial vehicles, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210.

(d) A license or driver certificate issued prior to the enactment of Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 15200) shall be valid to operate the class or type of vehicles specified under the law in existence prior to that enactment until the license or certificate expires or is otherwise suspended, revoked, or canceled.

(e) The department may accept a certificate of driving skill that is issued by an employer, authorized by the department to issue a certificate under Section 15250, of the applicant, in lieu of a driving test, on class A or B applications, if the applicant has first qualified for a class C license and has met the other examination requirements for the license for which he or she is applying. The certificate may be submitted as evidence of the applicant's skill in the operation of the types of equipment covered by the license for which he or she is applying.

(f) The department may accept a certificate of competence in lieu of a driving test on class M1 or M2 applications, when the certificate is issued by a law enforcement agency for its officers who operate class M1 or M2 vehicles in their duties, if the applicant has met the other examination requirements for the license for which he or she is applying.

(g) (1) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), until December 31, 1993, any person holding a valid California driver's license of any class may operate a motorized bicycle without taking any special examination for the operation of a motorized bicycle, and without having a class M1 or M2 endorsement on that license.

(2) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), any person holding a valid California driver's license of any class may operate a short-term rental motorized bicycle without taking any special examination for the operation of a motorized bicycle, and without having a class M2 endorsement on that license. As used in this paragraph, "short-term" means 48 hours or less.

(h) No person under the age of 21 years shall be issued a class M1 or M2 license or endorsement unless he or she provides evidence satisfactory to the department of completion of a motorcycle safety training program that is operated pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 2930) of Chapter 5 of Division 2.

(i) Drivers of vanpool vehicles, may operate with class C licenses, but shall possess evidence of a medical examination required for a class B license when operating vanpool vehicles. In order to be eligible to drive the vanpool vehicle, the driver shall keep in the vanpool vehicle a statement, signed under penalty of perjury, that he or she has not been convicted of reckless driving, drunk driving, or a hit and run offense in the last five years.

(j) During the implementation of this section, from January 1, 1989, through December 31, 1992, provisions of this code pertaining to persons holding class 1, 2, 3, or 4 licenses pursuant to Section 12804, shall apply to persons holding class A, B, C, M1, or M2 licenses pursuant to this section, to the extent that class A, B, C, M1, or M2 vehicles under this section fall within the definition of class 1, 2, 3, or 4 vehicles under Section 12804.

(k) A class M license issued between January 1, 1989, and December 31, 1992, shall permit the holder to operate any motorcycle, motor-driven cycle, or motorized bicycle until the expiration of the license.

(l) The amendments made to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) by Chapter 1270 of the Statutes of 1989 shall become operative only after federal regulations are adopted which permit physician's assistants and nurse practitioners to complete the physicals described in that paragraph.

(m) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and on that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 31.7. Section 12804.9 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

12804.9. (a) (1) The examination shall include all of the following:

(A) A test of the applicant's knowledge and understanding of the provisions of this code governing the operation of vehicles upon the highways.

(B) A test of the applicant's ability to read and understand simple English used in highway traffic and directional signs.

(C) A test of the applicant's understanding of traffic signs and signals, including the bikeway signs, markers, and traffic control devices established by the Department of Transportation.

(D) An actual demonstration of the applicant's ability to exercise ordinary and reasonable control in operating a motor vehicle by driving it under the supervision of an examining officer. The applicant shall submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles he or she desires a license to drive, except that the department may waive the driving test part of the examination of any applicant who holds a valid license issued by another state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. The examining officer may request to see evidence of financial responsibility for the vehicle prior to supervising the demonstration of the applicant's ability to operate the vehicle. The examining officer may refuse to examine an applicant who is unable to provide proof of financial responsibility for the vehicle, unless proof of financial responsibility is not required by this code.

(E) A test of the hearing and eyesight of the applicant, and of other matters that may be necessary to determine the applicant's mental and physical fitness to operate a motor vehicle upon the highways, and whether any ground exists for refusal of a license under this code.

(2) The examination for a class A or class B license under subdivision (b) shall also include a report of a medical examination of the applicant given not more than two years prior to the date of the application by a physician licensed to practice medicine or, when federal regulations are adopted which so permit, by a licensed physician's assistant or nurse practitioner under the supervision of a physician and surgeon licensed to practice medicine. The report shall be on a form approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration. In establishing the requirements, consideration may be given to the standards presently required of motor carrier drivers by the Federal Highway Administration.

(3) Any physical defect of the applicant, which, in the opinion of the department, is compensated for to ensure safe driving ability, shall not prevent the issuance of a license to the applicant.

(b) Beginning on January 1, 1989, in accordance with the following classifications, any applicant for a driver's license shall be required to submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles the applicant desires a license to drive:

(1) Class A includes the following:

(A) Any combination of vehicles, provided that any vehicle being towed has a gross vehicle weight rating of more than 10,000 pounds.

(B) Any vehicle towing more than one vehicle.

(C) Any trailer bus.

(D) The operation of all vehicles under class B and class C.

(2) Class B includes the following:

(A) Any single vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating of more than 26,000 pounds.

(B) Any single vehicle with three or more axles, except any three-axle vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds.

(C) Any bus except a trailer bus.

(D) Any farm labor vehicle.

(E) Any single vehicle with three or more axles or a gross vehicle weight rating of more than 26,000 pounds towing another vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating of 10,000 pounds or less.

(F) The operation of all vehicles covered under class C.

(3) Class C includes the following:

(A) Any two-axle vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating of 26,000 pounds or less, including when the vehicle is towing a trailer or semitrailer with a gross vehicle weight rating of 10,000 pounds or less.

(B) Notwithstanding subparagraph (A), any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing a trailer coach not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross.

(C) Any housecar.

(D) Any three-axle vehicle weighing 6,000 pounds or less gross.

(E) Any housecar or vehicle towing another vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating of 10,000 pounds or less, including when a tow dolly is used. No vehicle shall tow another vehicle in violation of Section 21715.

(F) Any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing either a trailer coach or a fifth-wheel travel trailer not exceeding 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight rating, when the towing of the trailer is not for compensation.

(G) Class C does not include any two-wheel motorcycle or any two-wheel motor-driven cycle.

(4) Class M1. Any two-wheel motorcycle. Authority to operate vehicles included in a class M1 license may be granted by endorsement on a class A, B, or C license upon completion of an appropriate examination.

(5) Class M2. Any two-wheel motor-driven cycle, including, but not limited to, a motorized bicycle or moped, or any bicycle with an attached motor. Authority to operate vehicles included in class M2 may be granted by endorsement on a class A, B, or C license upon completion of an appropriate examination. Persons holding a class M1 license or endorsement may operate vehicles included in class M2 without further examination.

(c) No driver's license or driver certificate shall be valid for operating any commercial motor vehicle, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, any other motor vehicle defined in paragraph (1) or (2) of subdivision (b), or any other vehicle requiring a driver to hold any driver certificate or any driver's license endorsement under Section 15275, unless a medical certificate approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration, which has been issued within two years of the date of the operation of that vehicle, is within the licensee's immediate possession, and a copy of the medical examination report from which the certificate was issued is on file with the department. Otherwise the license shall be valid only for operating class C vehicles which are not commercial vehicles, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, and for operating class M1 or M2 vehicles, if so endorsed, which are not commercial vehicles, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210.

(d) A license or driver certificate issued prior to the enactment of Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 15200) shall be valid to operate the class or type of vehicles specified under the law in existence prior to that enactment until the license or certificate expires or is otherwise suspended, revoked, or canceled.

(e) The department may accept a certificate of driving skill that is issued by an employer, authorized by the department to issue a certificate under Section 15250, of the applicant, in lieu of a driving test, on class A or B applications, if the applicant has first qualified for a class C license and has met the other examination requirements for the license for which he or she is applying. The certificate may be submitted as evidence of the applicant's skill in the operation of the types of equipment covered by the license for which he or she is applying.

(f) The department may accept a certificate of competence in lieu of a driving test on class M1 or M2 applications, when the certificate is issued by a law enforcement agency for its officers who operate class M1 or M2 vehicles in their duties, if the applicant has met the other examination requirements for the license for which he or she is applying.

(g) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), any person holding a valid California driver's license of any class may operate a short-term rental motorized bicycle without taking any special examination for the operation of a motorized bicycle, and without having a class M2 endorsement on that license. As used in this paragraph, "short-term" means 48 hours or less.

(h) No person under the age of 21 years shall be issued a class M1 or M2 license or endorsement unless he or she provides evidence satisfactory to the department of completion of a motorcycle safety training program that is operated pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 2930) of Chapter 5 of Division 2.

(i) Drivers of vanpool vehicles, may operate with class C licenses, but shall possess evidence of a medical examination required for a class B license when operating vanpool vehicles. In order to be eligible to drive the vanpool vehicle, the driver shall keep in the vanpool vehicle a statement, signed under penalty of perjury, that he or she has not been convicted of reckless driving, drunk driving, or a hit and run offense in the last five years.

(j) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1994.

SEC. 32. Section 12806.5 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

12806.5. The department may adopt regulations specifying, in addition to any cause provided by statute, the circumstances which are grounds for the suspension or revocation of a schoolbus, school pupil activity, youth busdriver, farm labor vehicle, or general public paratransit vehicle certificate.

SEC. 33. Section 12810.5 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

12810.5. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (b), any person whose driving record shows a violation point count of four or more points in 12 months, six or more points in 24 months, or eight or more points in 36 months shall be prima facie presumed to be a negligent operator of a motor vehicle. In applying this subdivision to a driver, if the person requests and appears at a hearing conducted by the department, the department shall give due consideration to the amount of use or mileage traveled in the operation of a motor vehicle.

(b) (1) Any class 1, class 2, class A, or class B licensed driver, except persons holding certificates pursuant to Section 2512, 12517, 12519, 12523, or 12523.5, or an endorsement issued pursuant to paragraph (2) or (4) of subdivision (a) of Section 15278, who is presumed to be a negligent operator pursuant to subdivision (a), and who requests and appears at a hearing and is found to have a driving record violation point count of six or more points in 12 months, eight or more points in 24 months, or 10 or more points in 36 months is presumed to be a prima facie negligent operator. However, the higher point count shall not apply if the department reasonably determines that four or more points in 12 months, six or more points in 24 months, or eight or more points in 36 months are attributable to the driver's operation of a vehicle requiring only a class 3 or class C license, and not requiring a certificate or endorsement, or a class 4 or class M license.

(2) For purposes of this subdivision, each point assigned pursuant to Section 12810 shall be valued at one and one-half times the value otherwise required by that section for each violation reasonably determined by the department to be attributable to the driver's operation of a vehicle requiring a class 1 or class 2 or class A or class B license, or requiring any certificate or endorsement described in this section.

(c) The department may require a negligent operator whose driving privilege is suspended or revoked pursuant to this section to submit proof of financial responsibility as defined in Section 16430. The proof of financial responsibility shall be filed on or before the date of reinstatement following the suspension or revocation. The proof of financial responsibility shall be maintained with the department for three years following that date of reinstatement.

SEC. 34. Section 13369 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 35. Section 13369 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

13369. This section applies to the following endorsements and certificates: passenger transport vehicle, hazardous materials, schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, youth bus, general public paratransit vehicle, and farm labor vehicle.

(a) The department shall refuse to issue or renew, or shall revoke for any of the following causes, the certificate or endorsement of any person who:

(1) Within the preceding three years, has committed any violation which results in a conviction assigned a violation point count of two or more, as defined in Section 12810 and 12810.5. The department shall not refuse to issue or renew, nor shall it revoke the certificate or endorsement of a person who possesses a certificate issued pursuant to Section 12804.6 and who operates only a transit bus, if the violation leading to the conviction occurred in the person's private vehicle and not in a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in Section 15210.

(2) Within the preceding three years, has had his or her driving privilege suspended, revoked, or on probation for any reason involving unsafe operation of a motor vehicle. The department shall not refuse to issue or renew, nor shall it revoke, the certificate or endorsement of a person who possesses a certificate issued pursuant to Section 12804.6 and who operates only a transit bus, if the person's driving privilege has, within the preceding three years, been placed on probation only for any reason involving unsafe operation of a motor vehicle.

(b) The department may refuse to issue or renew, or may suspend or revoke the certificate or endorsement of any person who:

(1) Within the preceding 12 months, has been involved as a driver in three accidents in which the driver caused or contributed to the causes of the accidents.

(2) Within the preceding 24 months, as a driver, caused or contributed to the cause of an accident resulting in a fatality or serious injury or serious property damage in excess of five hundred dollars ($500).

(3) Has violated any provision of this code, or any rule or regulation pertaining to the safe operation of a vehicle for which the certificate or endorsement was issued.

(4) Has violated any restriction of the certificate, endorsement, or commercial driver's license.

(5) Has knowingly made a false statement or concealed a material fact on an application for a certificate or endorsement.

(6) Has been determined by the department to be a negligent or incompetent operator.

(7) Has demonstrated irrational behavior to the extent that a reasonable and prudent person would have reasonable cause to believe that the applicant's ability to perform the duties of a driver may be impaired.

(8) Excessively or habitually uses, or is addicted to, alcoholic beverages, narcotics, or dangerous drugs.

(9) Does not meet the minimum medical standards established or approved by the department.

(c) The department may cancel the certificate or endorsement of any driver who:

(1) Does not have a valid license of the appropriate class.

(2) Has requested cancellation of the certificate or endorsement.

(3) Has failed to meet any of the requirements for issuance or retention of the certificate or endorsement, including, but not limited to, payment of the proper fee, submission of an acceptable medical report and fingerprint cards, and failure to meet prescribed training requirements.

(4) Has had his or her driving privilege suspended or revoked for a cause involving other than the safe operation of a motor vehicle.

(d) With regard to a violation, accident, or departmental action which occurred prior to January 1, 1991, subdivision (a) and paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of subdivision (b) do not apply to a driver holding a valid passenger transport or hazardous materials endorsement, or a valid class 1 or class 2 license who is applying to convert that license to a class A or class B license with a passenger transport or hazardous materials endorsement, if the driver submits proof that he or she is currently employed operating vehicles requiring the endorsement, or a valid class 3 license who is applying for a class C license with a hazardous materials endorsement if the driver submits proof that he or she is currently employed operating vehicles requiring the endorsement.

(e) Subdivision (d) does not apply to drivers applying for a schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, youth bus, general public paratransit vehicle, or farm labor vehicle certificate.

(f) (1) Reapplication following denial or revocation under subdivision (a) or (b) may be made after a period of not less than one year from the effective date of denial or revocation, except in cases where a longer period of suspension or revocation is required by law.

(2) Reapplication following cancellation under subdivision (d) may be made any time without prejudice.

SEC. 36. Section 13370 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

13370. (a) The department shall deny or revoke a schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, general public paratransit vehicle, or youth bus driver certificate if any of the following causes apply to the applicant or certificate holder:

(1) Has been convicted of any sex offense as defined in Section 44010 of the Education Code.

(2) Has been convicted, within the two years preceding the application date, of any offense specified in Section 11361.5 of the Health and Safety Code.

(3) Has failed to meet prescribed testing or training requirements for certificate issuance.

(b) The department may deny, suspend, or revoke a schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, general public paratransit vehicle, or youth bus driver certificate if any of the following causes apply to the applicant or certificate holder:

(1) Has been convicted of any crime specified in Section 44424 of the Education Code within the seven years preceding the application date. This paragraph does not apply if denial is mandatory.

(2) Has committed any act involving moral turpitude.

(3) Has been convicted of any offense, not specified in this section and other than a sex offense, that is punishable as a felony, within the seven years preceding the application date.

(4) Has been dismissed as a driver for a cause relating to pupil transportation safety.

(5) Has been convicted, within the seven years preceding the application date, of any offense relating to the use, sale, possession, or transportation of narcotics, habit-forming drugs, or dangerous drugs, except as provided in paragraph (3) of subdivision (a).

(c) (1) Reapplication following denial or revocation under subdivision (a) or (b) may be made after a period of not less than one year from the effective date of denial or revocation.

(2) An applicant or holder of a certificate may reapply for a certificate whenever a felony or misdemeanor conviction is reversed or dismissed. A termination of probation and dismissal of charges pursuant to Section 1203.4 of the Penal Code or a dismissal of charges pursuant to Section 1203.4a of the Penal Code is not a dismissal for purposes of this section.

SEC. 37. Section 13371 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

13371. This section applies to schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, youth bus, and general public paratransit vehicle certificates.

(a) Any driver or applicant who has received a notice of denial, suspension, or revocation, may, within 15 days of the mailing date, submit to the department a written request for a hearing. Failure to demand a hearing within 15 days is a waiver of the right to a hearing.

(1) Upon receipt by the department of the hearing request, the department may stay the action until a hearing is conducted and the final decision has been rendered by the Certificate Action Review Board pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (c). The department shall not stay an action when there is reasonable cause to believe the stay would pose a significant risk to the safety of pupils being transported in a schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, youth bus, or persons being transported in a general public paratransit vehicle.

(2) An applicant or driver is not entitled to a hearing whenever the action by the department is made mandatory by this article or any other applicable law or regulation except where the cause for denial is based on failure to meet medical standards or excessive and habitual use of or addiction to alcoholic beverages, narcotics, or dangerous drugs.

(b) The department shall appoint a hearing officer to conduct the hearing in accordance with Sections 14107, 14109, and 14111. After the hearing, the hearing officer shall prepare and submit findings and recommendations to the department.

(c) (1) The Certificate Action Review Board consists of the following three members: a chairperson appointed by the director of the department, a member appointed by the Commissioner of the California Highway Patrol, and a member appointed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

(2) After a hearing, the board shall review the findings and recommendations of the referee and make a decision concerning disposition of the action taken by the department, which decision shall be final.

SEC. 38. Section 13372 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

13372. (a) The department shall deny an ambulance driver certificate if any of the following apply to the applicant:

(1) Is required to register as a sex offender under Section 290 of the Penal Code for any offense involving force, violence, threat, or intimidation.

(2) Habitually or excessively uses or is addicted to narcotics or dangerous drugs.

(3) Is on parole or probation for any felony, theft, or any crime involving force, violence, threat, or intimidation.

(b) The department may deny an ambulance driver certificate if any of the following apply to the applicant:

(1) Has been convicted during the preceding seven years of any offense punishable as a felony or has been convicted during that period of any theft.

(2) Has committed any act involving moral turpitude, including fraud or intentional dishonesty for personal gain, within the preceding seven years.

(3) Habitually and excessively uses intoxicating beverages.

(4) Has been convicted within the preceding seven years of any offense relating to the use, sale, possession, or transportation of narcotics or addictive or dangerous drugs, or of any misdemeanor involving force, violence, threat, or intimidation.

(5) Is on probation to the department for a cause involving the unsafe operation of a motor vehicle.

(6) Within the three years immediately preceding the application has had his or her driver's license suspended or revoked by the department for a cause involving the unsafe operation of a motor vehicle, or, within the same period, has been convicted of any of the following:

(A) Failing to stop and render aid in an accident involving injury or death.

(B) Driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor, any drug, or under the combined influence of intoxicating liquor and any drug.

(C) Reckless driving, or reckless driving involving bodily injury.

(7) Has knowingly falsified or failed to disclose a material fact in his and her application. Applicants refused certification under this provision shall not be issued an ambulance driver certificate within 12 months of that refusal.

(8) Has been involved as a driver in any motor vehicle accident causing death or bodily injury or in three or more motor vehicle accidents during the preceding one-year period.

(9) Does not meet minimum medical standards specified in this code or in regulations adopted pursuant to this code.

(10) Has demonstrated irrational behavior or incurred a physical disability to the extent that a reasonable and prudent person would have reasonable cause to believe that the ability to perform the duties normally expected of an ambulance driver may be impaired.

(11) Has violated any provision of this code or any rule or regulation adopted by the Commissioner of the California Highway Patrol relating to the operation of emergency ambulances during the preceding one-year period.

(12) Has committed any act that warrants dismissal, as provided in Section 13373.

(c) The department may revoke or suspend the ambulance driver certificate of any person who gives any cause, before or after issuance of the certificate, for either mandatory or discretionary refusal of certification.

SEC. 39. Section 13373 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

13373. The receipt of satisfactory evidence of any violation of Article 1 (commencing with Section 1100) of Subchapter 5 of Chapter 2 of Title 13 of the California Code of Regulations, the Vehicle Code, or any other applicable law that would provide grounds for denial, suspension, or revocation of an ambulance driver's certificate or evidence of an act committed involving intentional dishonesty for personal gain or conduct contrary to justice, honesty, modesty, or good morals, may be sufficient cause for the dismissal of any ambulance driver or attendant. Dismissal of a driver or attendant under this section shall be reported by the employer to the Department of Motor Vehicles at Sacramento within 10 days.

SEC. 40. Section 13374 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

13374. (a) Whenever the department refuses to issue or renew, or suspends or revokes, an ambulance driver certificate for any cause, the person involved may, within 10 days after receiving notification of the action, submit a written request for a hearing. Upon receipt of the request, the department shall appoint a referee who shall conduct an informal hearing in accordance with Section 14104. Failure to request a hearing within 10 days after receiving a notice given under this section is a waiver of the right to a hearing. A request for a hearing shall not operate to stay the action for which notice is given.

(b) Upon conclusion of an informal hearing, the referee shall prepare and submit findings and recommendations through the department to a committee of three members one each appointed by the Director of the Emergency Medical Service Authority, the director, and the Commissioner of the California Highway Patrol with the appointee of the Commissioner of the California Highway Patrol serving as chairperson. After a review of the findings and recommendations, the committee shall render a final decision on the action taken, and the department shall notify the person involved of the decision.

SEC. 41. Section 13375 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

13375. For the purposes of this article, any plea or verdict of guilty, plea of nolo contendere, or court finding of guilt in a trial without a jury, or forfeiture of bail, is deemed a conviction, notwithstanding subsequent action under Section 1203.4 or 1203.4a of the Penal Code allowing withdrawal of the plea of guilty and entering a plea of not guilty, setting aside the verdict of guilty, or dismissing the accusation or information.

SEC. 42. Section 14100.1 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

14100.1. Hearings granted on refusal, suspension, or revocation of a passenger transportation vehicle or hazardous materials endorsement, or farm labor vehicle certificate shall be conducted according to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 13800) of Division 6.

SEC. 43. Section 15210 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

15210. Notwithstanding any other provision of this code, as used in this chapter:

(a) "Commercial driver's license" means a driver's license issued by a state or other jurisdiction, in accordance with the standards contained in Part 383 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations, which authorizes the licenseholder to operate a class or type of commercial motor vehicle.

(b) (1) "Commercial motor vehicle" means any vehicle or combination of vehicles which requires a class A or class B license, or a class C license with an endorsement issued pursuant to paragraph (4) of subdivision (a) of Section 15278.

(2) "Commercial motor vehicle" does not include any of the following:

(A) A recreational vehicle, as defined in Section 799.24 of the Civil Code.

(B) Military equipment operated by noncivilian personnel, which is owned or operated by the United States Department of Defense, including the National Guard, as provided in Parts 383 and 391 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

(C) An implement of husbandry operated by a person who is not required to obtain a driver's license under this code.

(D) Vehicles operated by persons exempted pursuant to Section 25163 of the Health and Safety Code or a vehicle operated in an emergency situation at the direction of a peace officer pursuant to Section 2800.

(c) "Controlled substance" has the same meaning as defined by the federal Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. Sec. 802).

(d) "Disqualification" means a prohibition against driving a commercial motor vehicle.

(e) "Employer" means any person, including the United States, a state, or political subdivision of a state, who owns or leases a commercial motor vehicle or assigns drivers to operate such a vehicle. A person who employs himself or herself as a commercial vehicle driver is considered to be both an employer and a driver for purposes of this chapter.

(f) "Felony" means an offense under state or federal law that is punishable by death or imprisonment for a term exceeding one year.

(g) "Gross combination weight rating" means the value specified by the manufacturer as the maximum loaded weight of a combination or articulated vehicle. In the absence of a value specified by the manufacturer, gross vehicle weight rating will be determined by adding the gross vehicle weight rating of the power unit and the total weight of the towed units and any load thereon.

(h) "Gross vehicle weight rating" means the value specified by the manufacturer as the maximum loaded weight of a single vehicle, as defined in Section 390.

(i) "Serious traffic violation" includes either of the following:

(1) Excessive speeding, as defined pursuant to the federal Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act (P.L. 99-570).

(2) Reckless driving, as defined pursuant to the federal Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act (P.L. 99-570).

(3) A violation of any state or local law involving the safe operation of a motor vehicle, arising in connection with a fatal traffic accident.

(4) Any other similar violation of a state or local law involving the safe operation of a motor vehicle, as defined pursuant to the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act (Title XII of P.L. 99-570).

In the absence of a federal definition, existing definitions under this code shall apply.

(j) "State" means a state of the United States or the District of Columbia.

(k) "Tank vehicle" means any commercial motor vehicle that is designed to transport any liquid or gaseous material within a tank that is permanently or temporarily attached to the vehicle or the chassis, including, but not limited to, cargo tanks and portable tanks, as defined in Part 171 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations. This definition does not include portable tanks having a rated capacity under 1,000 gallons.

SEC. 44. Section 15242 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

15242. A person who is self-employed as a commercial motor vehicle driver shall comply with both the requirements of this chapter pertaining to employers and those pertaining to employees.

SEC. 45. Section 15250 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

15250. (a) No person shall operate a commercial motor vehicle unless that person has in his or her immediate possession a valid commercial driver's license of the appropriate class.

(b) No person may be issued a commercial driver's license until he or she has passed a written and driving test for the operation of a commercial motor vehicle which complies with the minimum federal standards established by the federal Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986 (P.L. 99-570) and Part 383 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and has satisfied all other requirements of that act as well as any other requirements imposed by this code.

(c) The tests shall be prescribed and conducted by or under the direction of the department. The department may allow an employer to administer the driving test part of the examination required under this section and Section 15275 if the following conditions are met:

(1) The tests given by the third party are the same as those which would otherwise be given by the department.

(2) The third party has an agreement with the department with at least the following provisions:

(A) Authorization for the Federal Highway Administration, or its representative. and the department, or its representative, to conduct random examinations, inspections, and audits without prior notice.

(B) Permission for the department, or its representative, to conduct onsite inspections at least annually.

(C) A requirement that all third-party examiners meet the same qualification and training standards as the department's examiners, to the extent necessary to conduct the driving skill tests in compliance with the requirements of Part 383 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

(D) The department may cancel, suspend, or revoke the agreement with a third-party tester if the third-party tester fails to comply with the standards for the commercial driver's license testing program, or with any other term of the third-party agreement, upon 15 days prior written notice of the action to cancel, suspend, or revoke the agreement by the department to the third party. Any action to appeal or review any order of the department canceling, suspending, or revoking a third-party testing agreement shall be brought in a court of competent jurisdiction under Section 1085 of the Code of Civil Procedure, or as otherwise permitted by the laws of this state. The action shall be commenced within 90 days from the effective date of the order.

(E) Any third-party tester whose agreement has been canceled pursuant to subparagraph (D) may immediately apply for a third-party testing agreement.

(F) A suspension of a third-party testing agreement pursuant to subparagraph (D) shall be for a term of less than 12 months as determined by the department. After the period of suspension, the agreement shall be reinstated upon request of the third-party tester.

(G) A revocation of a third-party testing agreement pursuant to subparagraph (D) shall be for a term of not less than one year. A third-party tester may apply for a new third-party testing agreement after the period of revocation and upon submission of proof of correction of the circumstances causing the revocation.

(H) Authorization for the department to charge the employer a fee, as determined by the department, which is sufficient to defray the actual costs incurred by the department for administering and evaluating the employer testing program, and for carrying out any other activities deemed necessary by the department to assure sufficient training for the drivers participating in the program.

(3) The tests given by the third party shall not be accepted in lieu of tests prescribed and conducted by the department for applicants for a passenger vehicle endorsement specified in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 15278, if the applicant operates or will operate a tour bus.

(d) Commercial driver license applicants who take and pass driving tests administered by a third party shall provide the department with certificates of driving skill satisfactory to the department that the applicant has successfully passed the driving tests administered by the third party.

(e) Implementation dates for the issuance of a commercial driver's license pursuant to this chapter may be established by the department as it determines is necessary to accomplish an orderly commercial driver license program.

SEC. 46. Section 15250.5 of the Vehicle Code, as added by Chapter 62 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

15250.5. (a) No person shall operate firefighting equipment unless that person has in his or her immediate possession a valid driver's license for the appropriate class of vehicle operated, or a license issued pursuant to subdivision (b).

(b) The department may issue a restricted driver's license for the appropriate class of vehicle to a firefighter for the operation of firefighting equipment. The restricted license shall be valid only for operating (1) firefighting equipment within this state, or in another state during a response under a mutual aid pact, or (2) any vehicle for which a class 3 driver's license is required.

(c) The restricted firefighter's license may be issued only to an applicant qualified by examination prescribed and conducted by the department.

The pretrip inspection and driving test required to receive the license shall be the same as required to obtain a license under Section 15250.

The written examination shall be developed by the department with the cooperation of the State Fire Marshal. The department shall include a sufficient number of questions from the examinations required to obtain a license under Section 15250 to ensure that passing the special examination under this section assures a level of safety comparable to examinations given under Section 15250.

(d) In lieu of a report of medical examination required by Sections 12804 and 12804.9, an applicant for a restricted license issued pursuant to subdivision (b) shall, upon application and every two years thereafter, submit medical information on a form approved by the department.

(e) Upon application for issuance of an original driver's license pursuant to subdivision (b), there shall be paid to the department a fee of twenty-five dollars ($25).

(f) A "firefighter" is any person employed as such by a federal or state agency or by a regularly organized fire department of a city, county, city and county, or district, or registered as a volunteer member of a regularly organized fire department having official recognition of the city, county, city and county, or district in which the department is located.

(g) "Firefighting equipment" means a motor vehicle used to travel to and to suppress fires, or to transport equipment used to suppress fires, and which is owned by, or under the exclusive control of, a federal or state agency, a regularly organized fire department of a city, county, city and county, or district, or a volunteer fire department having official recognition of the city, county, city and county, or district in which the department is located.

(h) For purposes of the penalties and sanctions prescribed by Article 7 (commencing with Section 15300), the operation of firefighting equipment under a license issued pursuant to subdivision (b) is deemed to be the operation of a commercial motor vehicle.

SEC. 46.5. Section 15275 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

15275. (a) No person may operate a commercial motor vehicle described in this chapter unless that person has in his or her possession a valid commercial driver's license for the appropriate class, and an endorsement issued by the department to permit the operation of the vehicle.

(b) An endorsement to drive vehicles specified in this article shall be issued only to applicants qualified by examinations prescribed by the department and that meet the minimum standards established in Part 383 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

(c) The department may deny, suspend, revoke, or cancel an endorsement to drive vehicles specified in this article when the applicant does not meet the qualifications for the issuance or retention of the endorsement.

(d) During the implementation of this article, from January 1, 1989, through December 31, 1992, persons holding a class 1, class 2, or class 3 license issued pursuant to Section 12804 may continue to operate those vehicles appropriate to the class of license they hold without obtaining an endorsement issued under this article until the expiration date of their class 1, class 2, or class 3 license.

SEC. 47. Section 15278 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

15278. (a) A driver is required to obtain an endorsement issued by the department to operate any commercial motor vehicle which is any of the following:

(1) A double trailer.

(2) A passenger transportation vehicle which includes, but is not limited to, a bus, farm labor vehicle, or general public paratransit vehicle when designed, used, or maintained to carry more than 10 persons including the driver.

(3) A tank vehicle.

(4) A vehicle carrying hazardous materials which is required to display placards or markings pursuant to Section 27903 or which is hauling hazardous waste, as defined in Sections 25115 and 25117 of the Health and Safety Code unless the driver is exempt from the endorsement requirement as provided in subdivision (b). This paragraph does not apply to any person operating an implement of husbandry who is not required to obtain a driver's license under this code.

(b) This section does not apply to any person exempted pursuant to Section 25163 of the Health and Safety Code or to any person operating a vehicle in an emergency situation at the direction of a peace officer pursuant to Section 2800.

SEC. 48. Section 36101 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

36101. The following farm vehicles are exempt from registration, if they have and display an identification plate as specified in Section 5014, and the vehicles shall not be deemed to be implements of husbandry and they shall be subject to all equipment and device requirements as if registered:

(a) A motor vehicle of a size so as to require a permit under Section 35780 owned and operated by a farmer, designed and used exclusively for carrying or returning empty from carrying feed and seed products of farming, and used on a highway between one part of a farm to another part thereof or from one farm to another farm.

(b) A vehicle equipped with a water tank owned by a farmer and used exclusively to service his or her own implements of husbandry.

(c) A water tank truck, which is owned by a farmer, not operated for compensation, and used extensively in the conduct of agricultural operations, when used exclusively (1) for sprinkling water on dirt roads providing access to agricultural fields or (2) transportation of water for irrigation of crops or trees.

(d) A cotton module mover, as defined in Section 36012.

(e) A trailer which is equipped with a plenum chamber for the drying of agricultural commodities.

(f) Except as provided in subdivision (j) of Section 36005, a trap wagon, as defined in Section 36016, which is equipped with a fuel tank or tanks. The fuel tank or tanks shall not exceed 3,000 gallons total capacity.

(g) A forklift truck, operated by a farmer not for compensation. For purposes of this section, a hay-squeeze shall be deemed a forklift.

(h) A truck tractor or truck tractor and semitrailer combination specified in this subdivision which is owned by a farmer and operated on the highways only incidental to a farming operation and not for compensation. This subdivision applies only to truck tractors with a manufacturer's gross vehicle weight rating over 10,000 pounds that are equipped with all-wheel drive and off-highway traction tires on all wheels, and only to semitrailers used in combination with such a truck tractor and exclusively in the production or harvesting of melons. The vehicles specified in this subdivision shall not be operated in excess of 25 miles per hour on the highways.

The Commissioner of the California Highway Patrol may, by regulation, prohibit the vehicles specified in this subdivision from operating on specific routes. These vehicles shall not be operated laden on the highway for more than two miles from the point of origin and shall not be operated for more than 30 miles unladen on the highway from the point of origin. These vehicles shall not be operated for more than 15 miles unladen on the highway from the point of origin, unless accompanied by an escort vehicle to the front, and an escort vehicle to the rear.

SEC. 49. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1361

An act to add Section 41805.6 to the Health and Safety Code, to add Section 43610 to the Public Resources Code, and to add Section 13273.5 to the Water Code, relating to solid waste.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 41805.6 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

41805.6. Notwithstanding Section 41805.5, a small city which operates a Class III solid waste disposal site is not required to submit a screening questionnaire or a solid waste air quality assessment test report pursuant to Section 41805.5 if the city has a population of less than 20,000 persons, the solid waste disposal site receives less than 20,000 tons of waste per year, the water table of the highest aquifer under the disposal site is 250 or more feet below the base of the disposal site and the water in the highest aquifer is not potable, and the site receives less than an average of 12 inches of rainfall per year.

This section applies only if the disposal site is operational and has been granted all required permits as of January 1, 1991, and if the site is located in Kings County.

SEC. 2. Section 43610 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

43610. Notwithstanding Article 3 (commencing with Section 43500) or this article, a small city which operates a Class III solid waste disposal site is not required to submit a postclosure maintenance plan or provide a fund for postclosure maintenance pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 43500) of this article, if the city has a population of less than 20,000 persons, the solid waste disposal site receives less than 20,000 tons of waste per year, the water table of the highest aquifer under the disposal site is 250 of more feet below the base of the disposal site and the water in the highest aquifer is not potable, the site receives less than an average of 12 inches of rainfall per year, and the disposal site is closed in compliance with all state closure testing requirements at the time of closure.

This section applies only if the disposal site is operational and has been granted all required permits as of January 1, 1991, and if the site is located in Kings County.

SEC. 3. Section 13273.5 is added to the Water Code, to read:

13273.5. Notwithstanding Section 13273, a small city which operates a Class III solid waste disposal site is not required to submit a solid waste water quality assessment test report pursuant to Section 13273 if the city has a population of less than 20,000 persons, the solid waste disposal site receives less than 20,000 tons of waste per year, the water table of the highest aquifer under the disposal site is 250 or more feet below the base of the disposal site and the water in the highest aquifer is not potable, and the site receives less than an average of 12 inches of rainfall per year.

This section applies only if the disposal site is operational and has been granted all required permits as of January 1, 1991, if the site is located in Kings County, and if the city has completed an initial solid waste water quality assessment test and a solid waste air quality assessment test which establish that no significant air or water contamination has occurred, and, in that event, the city shall be exempted from conducting further assessment tests for seven years, or any longer time specified by the regional board, after the date of the initial assessment tests.

CHAPTER 1362

An act to amend Sections 6261 and 6262 of, and to add Section 6263 to, the Revenue and Taxation Code, to amend Section 11713.1 of, and to add Section 11705.5 to, the Vehicle Code, and to amend Section 2 of Chapter 453 of the Statutes of 1990, relating to vehicles, and making an appropriation therefor, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6261 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 453 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

6261. The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

(a) Motor vehicles certified to meet California air quality standards (California-certified vehicles) are generally significantly more costly than otherwise equivalent vehicles sold elsewhere.

(b) Motor vehicles generally are a major cause of poor air quality. However, California-certified vehicles have a less deleterious impact on air quality than other vehicles because California-certified vehicles are designed and manufactured to meet California's motor vehicle emission standards which are the most stringent emission standards in the nation and are, therefore, less polluting. Poor air quality imposes substantial costs on health services and environmental and other General Fund programs.

(c) Drivers of California-certified vehicles, in addition to higher vehicle acquisition costs, pay an added penalty because California-certified vehicles generally achieve lower fuel economy, resulting in a higher motor vehicle fuel tax burden.

(d) In order to ensure equity between owners of California-certified vehicles and other vehicles, provide funding for environmental programs, and to promote good health and safety standards for the residents of this state, it is appropriate to enact a motor vehicle smog impact fee on non-California certified vehicles.

SEC. 2. Section 6262 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 453 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

6262. (a) In addition to any other fees and taxes required to be paid by the Vehicle Code and this code at the time of the registration of a motor vehicle, as defined in Section 415 of the Vehicle Code, a person making application to register a 1975 or subsequent model year gasoline-powered motor vehicle or a 1980 or subsequent model year diesel-powered motor vehicle which is subject to the requirements of Section 4000.2 of the Vehicle Code shall pay to the Department of Motor Vehicles a motor vehicle smog impact fee of three hundred dollars ($300) for any such motor vehicle which, prior to the date of application, was last registered outside this state, unless the motor vehicle has been certified pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 43100) of Part 5 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code. This subdivision does not authorize the registration of motor vehicles which are prohibited from being brought into this state pursuant to Article 1.5 (commencing with Section 43150) of Chapter 2 of Part 5 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code.

(b) The determination that a vehicle is subject to the fee imposed pursuant to this section shall be made by the Department of Motor Vehicles, or its designee.

(1) For purposes of this chapter, if a motor vehicle does not have affixed a vehicle emission control label from which the Department of Motor Vehicles may determine whether the vehicle is California-certified, the vehicle shall be presumed not to be California-certified unless confirmed to be by the manufacturer.

(2) Any manufacturer of light-duty motor vehicles doing business in California shall provide information, within 30 days of the receipt of a request from the Department of Motor Vehicles, stating whether a vehicle, identified in the request by the vehicle identification number (VIN) assigned by the manufacturer in accordance with federal law, has been certified for sale in California pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 43100) of Part 5 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code.

(3) For purposes of this section, "vehicle emission control label" means the permanent label vehicle manufacturers are required to affix to motor vehicles certified by the State Air Resources Board for sale in California in accordance with Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 43100) of Part 5 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code and pursuant to Sections 1965 and 1965.5 of Title 13 of the California Code of Regulations.

(c) After deduction of all costs incurred by the department in carrying out this section which have been approved by the Department of Finance, the revenues received pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the General Fund.

(d) This section does not apply to a commercial vehicle, as defined in Section 260 of the Vehicle Code, with an unladen weight in excess of 6,000 pounds.

(e) This section does not apply to any vehicle owned by a person who, pursuant to military orders or following discharge from or release from active duty in the armed forces of the United States, enters California for the purpose of establishing or reestablishing residence or accepting gainful employment, if the vehicle was acquired by the owner in a foreign jurisdiction where those military orders required the owner's presence.

(f) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the fee imposed pursuant to subdivision (a) is imposed pursuant to the Sales and Use Tax Law.

SEC. 3. Section 6263 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

6263. No person, other than the manufacturer who has received authorization to sell the motor vehicle in California or a person authorized by the manufacturer, shall install a vehicle emission control label on any motor vehicle. No person shall remove, alter, deface, obscure, or destroy a vehicle emission control label or any label required to be affixed to any motor vehicle certified pursuant to the National Emissions Standards Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 7521 et seq., and Subpart A (commencing with Sec. 86.078-3) of Part 86 of Title 40 of the Code of Federal Regulations) for the purpose of avoiding payment of the fee required by Section 6262. Any person who violates any provision of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and is subject to a fine of not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or both that fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 4. Section 11705.5 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11705.5. (a) The department, after notice and hearing, may suspend or revoke the license issued to a manufacturer upon determining that the manufacturer has violated paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 6262 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(b) The hearing provided for in subdivision (a) shall be conducted pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

SEC. 5. Section 11713.1 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

11713.1. It is unlawful and a violation of this code for the holder of any dealer's license issued under this article to do any of the following:

(a) To advertise any specific vehicle for sale without identifying the vehicle by either its vehicle identification number or license number.

(b) To advertise the total price of a vehicle without including all costs to the purchaser at time of sale, except sales tax, vehicle registration fees, certificate of compliance or noncompliance fees not exceeding twenty-five dollars ($25) pursuant to any statute, finance charges, and any dealer documentary preparation charge. The dealer documentary preparation charge shall not exceed thirty-five dollars ($35).

(c) To exclude from the newspaper display advertisement of a vehicle for sale that there will be added to the advertised total price at the time of sale, charges for sales tax, vehicle registration fees, the fee charged by the state for the issuance of any certificate of compliance or noncompliance pursuant to any statute, finance charges, and any dealer documentary preparation charge.

For purposes of this subdivision, "newspaper display advertisement" means any advertisement in a newspaper which is two or more newspaper columns in width or one newspaper column in width and more than seven inches in length.

(d) To represent the dealer documentary preparation charge or certificate of compliance or noncompliance fee, as a governmental fee.

(e) To fail to sell a vehicle to any person at the advertised total price, exclusive of sales tax, including, but not limited to, any applicable motor vehicle smog impact fee, vehicle registration fees, the fee charged by the state for the issuance of any certificate of compliance or noncompliance pursuant to any statute, finance charges, mobilehome escrow fees, the amount of any city, county, or city and county imposed fee or tax for a mobilehome, and any dealer documentary preparation charge, which charges shall not exceed thirty-five dollars ($35) for the documentary preparation charge and twenty-five dollars ($25) for the certificate of compliance or noncompliance pursuant to any statute, while the vehicle remains unsold, unless the advertisement states the advertised total price is good only for a specified time and the time has elapsed.

(f) To advertise for sale as new any new vehicle of a line-make for which the dealer does not hold a franchise.

This subdivision does not apply to any transaction involving a mobilehome as defined in Section 396 of this code, a recreational vehicle as defined in Section 18010.5 of the Health and Safety Code, a commercial coach as defined in Section 18012 of the Health and Safety Code, an off-highway motor vehicle subject to identification as defined in Section 38012, or a commercial vehicle as defined in Section 260.

(g) To sell a park trailer, as defined in subdivision (f) of Section 799.24 of the Civil Code, without disclosing in writing to the purchaser that a park trailer is required to be moved by a transporter or a licensed manufacturer or dealer under a permit issued by the Department of Transportation or a local authority with respect to highways under their respective jurisdictions.

(h) To advertise free merchandise, gifts, or services provided by a dealer contingent on the purchase of a vehicle. The term "free" includes merchandise or services offered for sale at a price less than the seller's cost of the merchandise or services.

(i) To advertise vehicles and related goods or services with intent not to supply reasonably expectable demand, unless the advertisement discloses a limitation of quantity.

(j) To use the term "rebate" or similar words such as "cash back" in advertising the sale of a vehicle unless the rebate is expressed in a specific dollar amount and is in fact a rebate offered by the vehicle manufacturer or distributor directly to the retail purchaser of the vehicle or to the assignee of the retail purchaser.

(k) To require a person to pay a higher price for a vehicle and related goods or services for receiving advertised credit terms than the cash price the same person would have to pay to purchase the same vehicle and related goods or services. For the purpose of this subdivision, "cash price" has the meaning as defined in subdivision (e) of Section 2981 of the Civil Code.

(l) To advertise a guaranteed trade-in allowance unless the guarantee is provided by the manufacturer or distributor.

(m) To misrepresent the authority of a salesperson, representative, or agent to negotiate the final terms of a transaction.

(n) To advertise a vehicle at a specified amount above, below, or at the manufacturer's or distributor's invoice price to the dealer, unless the advertisement clearly and conspicuously states that the invoice amount may exceed the actual dealer cost because of allowances provided to the dealer by the manufacturer or distributor.

(o) To violate any law prohibiting bait and switch advertising, including, but not limited to, the guides against bait advertising set forth in Part 238 (commencing with Section 238) of Title 16 of the Code of Federal Regulations, as those regulations read on January 1, 1988.

(p) To make any untrue or misleading statement indicating that a vehicle is equipped with all the factory installed optional equipment the manufacturer offers, including, but not limited to, a false statement that a vehicle is "fully factory equipped."

(q) To affix on any new vehicle a supplemental price sticker containing a price that represents the dealer's asking price which exceeds the manufacturer's suggested retail price unless all of the following occur:

(1) The supplemental sticker clearly and conspicuously discloses in the largest print appearing on the sticker, other than the print size used for the dealer's name, that the supplemental sticker price is the dealer's asking price, or words of similar import, and that it is not the manufacturer's suggested retail price.

(2) The supplemental sticker clearly and conspicuously discloses the manufacturer's suggested retail price.

(3) The supplemental sticker lists each item which is not included in the manufacturer's suggested retail price, and discloses the additonal price of each item. If the supplemental sticker price is greater than the sum of the manufactuer's suggested retail price and the price of the items added by the dealer, then the supplemental sticker price shall set forth that difference and describe it as "added mark-up."

(r) To advertise any underselling claim, such as "we have the lowest prices" or "we will beat any dealer's price," unless the dealer has conducted a recent survey showing that the dealer sells its vehicles at lower prices than any other dealer in its trade area and maintains records to adequately substantiate the claims. The substantiating records shall be made available to the department upon request.

(s) To advertise any incentive offered by the manufacturer or distributor if the dealer is required to contribute to the cost of the incentive as a condition of participating in the incentive program, unless the dealer discloses in a clear and conspicuous manner that dealer participation may affect consumer cost.

For purposes of this subdivision "incentive" means anything of value offered to induce people to purchase a vehicle, including, but not limited to, discounts, savings claims, rebates, below-market finance rates, and free merchandise or services.

SEC. 6. Section 2 of Chapter 453 of the Statutes of 1990 is amended to read:

Sec. 2. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the California Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. However, this act shall become operative on October 1, 1990.

SEC. 7. The sum of three hundred eight thousand dollars ($308,000) is hereby appropriated from the Motor Vehicle Account in the State Transportation Fund to the Department of Motor Vehicles for costs incurred by the department in carrying out Sections 6261, 6262, and 6263 of the Revenue and Taxation Code and Section 11705.5 of the Vehicle Code.

SEC. 8. Sections 1, 2, 3, and 4, and 5 of this act shall become operative on October 15, 1990.

SEC. 9. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 10. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1363

An act to amend Sections 56.30, 232, 235, 274, 7013, and 7017 of, to add Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 220.10) and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 230.10) to, to repeal Sections 224.47, and 224.50 of, and to repeal Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 221) of, Title 2 of Part 3 of Division 1 of, the Civil Code, to amend Section 124 of the Code of Civil Procedure, to amend Sections 10125.5, 10433.2, and 10433.3 of the Health and Safety Code, to amend Sections 280 and 11170 of the Penal Code, to amend Sections 366.26, 16101, 16106, 16120, and 16507.6 of, and to repeal Chapter 2.3 (commencing with Section 16140) of Part 4 of Division 9 of, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to adoption.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 56.30 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

56.30. The disclosure and use of the following medical information shall not be subject to the limitations of this part:

(a) (Mental health and developmental disabilities) Information and records obtained in the course of providing services under Division 4 (commencing with Section 4001), Division 4.1 (commencing with Section 4400), Division 4.5 (commencing with Section 4500), Division 5 (commencing with Section 5000), Division 6 (commencing with Section 6000), or Division 7 (commencing with Section 7100) of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(b) (Public social services) Information and records which are subject to Sections 10850, 14124.1, and 14124.2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(c) (State health services, communicable diseases, developmental disabilities) Information and records maintained pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 200) of Part 1 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code and pursuant to Division 4 (commencing with Section 3000) of the Health and Safety Code.

(d) (Licensing and statistics) Information and records maintained pursuant to Division 2 (commencing with Section 1200) and Division 9 (commencing with Section 10000) of the Health and Safety Code; pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1200) of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code; and pursuant to Section 222.26, 224.70, or 226.35 of the Civil Code.

(e) (Medical survey, workers' safety) Information and records acquired and maintained or disclosed pursuant to Sections 1380 and 1382 of the Health and Safety Code and pursuant to Division 5 (commencing with Section 6300) of the Labor Code.

(f) (Industrial accidents) Information and records acquired, maintained, or disclosed pursuant to Division 1 (commencing with Section 50), Division 4 (commencing with Section 3201), Division 4.5 (commencing with Section 6100), and Division 4.7 (commencing with Section 6200) of the Labor Code.

(g) (Law enforcement) Information and records maintained by a health facility which are sought by a law enforcement agency under Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 1543) of Title 12 of Part 2 of the Penal Code.

(h) (Investigations of employment accident or illness) Information and records sought as part of an investigation of an on-the-job accident or illness pursuant to Division 5 (commencing with Section 6300) of the Labor Code or pursuant to Section 2950 of the Health and Safety Code.

(i) (Alcohol or drug abuse) Information and records subject to the federal alcohol and drug abuse regulations (Part 2 (commencing with Section 2.1) of subchapter A of Chapter 1 of Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations) or to Section 11977 of the Health and Safety Code dealing with narcotic and drug abuse.

(j) (Patient discharge data) Nothing in this part shall be construed to limit, expand, or otherwise affect the authority of the California Health Facilities Commission to collect patient discharge information from health facilities pursuant to Section 441.18 of the Health and Safety Code.

(k) Medical information and records disclosed to, and their use by, the Insurance Commissioner, the Division of Industrial Accidents, the Workers' Compensation Appeals Board, or the Department of Insurance.

SEC. 2. Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 221) of Title 2 of Part 3 of Division 1 of the Civil Code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 220.10) is added to Title 2 of Part 3 of Division 1 of the Civil Code, to read:

CHAPTER 2. ADOPTION OF UNMARRIED MINORS

Article 1. General Provisions

220.10. The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

(a) This act is not intended to make any substantive or procedural changes in the existing law.

(b) This act reorganizes the adoption statutes and repeals obsolete references.

(c) The purpose of this act is to improve readability, provide logical sequencing, and create separate articles for agency, independent, intercountry, and step-parent adoptions and a separate chapter for adult adoptions, and to clarify definitions.

(d) This act makes the adoption law more easily understood and usable by the State Department of Social Services, adoption agencies, the courts, persons working in adoptions, and the public in general.

(e) The Legislature does not intend to lose legislative history or judicial precedent applicable to statutory provisions replaced by this act.

220.20. As used in this chapter, the following terms have the following meanings:

(a) "Adoptive parent" means a person who has petitioned the court for, and obtained, an order or final decree for the adoption of a particular child or children.

(b) "Agency adoption" means the adoption of a child, other than an intercountry adoption, in which the department or an agency licensed by the department is a party to, or joins in, the petition for adoption.

(c) "Applicant" means a person who has submitted a written application to adopt a child from the department or licensed adoption agency and who is being considered by the department or agency for the adoptive placement of a child.

(d) "Birth parent" means the biological parent or, in the case of a child previously adopted, the adoptive parent.

(e) "Child" and "children" mean minor child and minor children, respectively.

(f) "Delegated county adoption agency" means a licensed county adoption agency that has agreed to provide those services described in Article 3 (commencing with Section 224.10).

(g) "Department" means the State Department of Social Services.

(h) "Full-service adoption agency" means any licensed entity engaged in the business of providing adoption services, which does all of the following:

(1) Assumes care, custody, and control of a child through relinquishment of the child to the agency or involuntary termination of parental rights to the child.

(2) Assesses the birth parents, prospective adoptive parents, or child.

(3) Places children for adoption.

(4) Supervises adoptive placements.

Private full-service adoption agencies shall be organized and operated on a nonprofit basis. Full-service adoption agencies may provide services to birth parents or prospective adoptive parents pursuant to Section 224.50 until January 1, 1994.

(i) "Independent adoption" means the adoption of a child in which neither the department nor an agency licensed by the department is a party to, or joins in, the petition for adoption.

(j) "Intercountry adoption" means the adoption of a foreign-born child for whom federal law makes a special immigration visa available. Intercountry adoption includes completion of the adoption in the child's native country or completion of the adoption in California.

(k) "Licensed adoption agency" means an agency licensed by the department to provide adoption services, including a licensed county adoption agency and a licensed private adoption agency.

(l) "Noncustodial adoption agency" means any licensed entity engaged in the business of providing adoption services, which does all of the following:

(1) Assesses the prospective adoptive parents.

(2) Cooperatively matches children freed for adoption, who are under the care, custody, and control of a licensed adoption agency, for adoption, with assessed and approved prospective adoptive applicants.

(3) Cooperatively supervises adoptive placements with a full-service adoption agency, but does not disrupt a placement or remove a child from a placement.

Private noncustodial adoption agencies shall be organized and operated on a nonprofit basis. Noncustodial adoption agencies may provide services to birth parents or prospective adoptive parents pursuant to Section 224.50 until January 1, 1994.

(m) "Personal knowledge" includes, but is not limited to, substantially correct knowledge of all of the following regarding the prospective adoptive parents: their full legal name, age, religion, race or ethnicity, employment, whether other children or adults reside in their home, any health conditions curtailing their normal daily activities or reducing their normal life expectancy, and their general area of residence or, upon request, their address.

(n) "Petitioner" means a prospective adoptive parent who has filed an adoption petition with the superior court pursuant to the provisions of this chapter in the county within which he or she resides.

(o) "Place for adoption" means, in the case of an independent adoption, the selection of a prospective adoptive parent or parents for a child by the birth parent or parents.

(p) "Prospective adoptive parent" means a person who has filed or intends to file a petition to adopt a child who has been or who is to be placed in his or her physical care.

(q) "Special needs child" means a child whose adoption without financial assistance would be unlikely because of adverse parental background, ethnic background, race, color, language, membership in a sibling group which should remain intact, mental, physical, medical, or emotional handicaps or age of three years or more.

(r) "Stepparent adoption" means the adoption of child by a stepparent when one birth parent retains his or her custody and control of the child.

221.10. Any unmarried minor child may be adopted by any adult person, in the cases and subject to the rules prescribed in this chapter.

221.12. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (b), the person adopting a child shall be at least 10 years older than the person adopted.

(b) If the court is satisfied that the adoption of a child by a stepparent, or by a sister, brother, aunt, uncle, or cousin-german and, if that person is married, by that person and his or her spouse, is in the best interest of the parties and is in the public interest, it may approve such an adoption without regard to the ages of the child and the prospective adoptive parent or parents.

221.13. The consent of a child, if over the age of 12 years, is necessary to his or her adoption.

221.14. A married man, not lawfully separated from his wife, cannot adopt a child without the consent of his wife, nor can a married woman, not thus separated from her husband, without his consent, provided the husband or wife, not consenting, is capable of giving that consent.

221.20. A child having a presumed father under subdivision (a) of Section 7004 cannot be adopted without the consent of his or her parents if living. However, if one birth parent has been awarded custody by judicial decree, or has custody by agreement of the birth parents, and the other birth parent for a period of one year willfully fails to communicate with and to pay for the care, support, and education of the child when able to do so, then the birth parent having custody alone may consent to the adoption, but only after the birth parent not having custody has been served with a copy of a citation in the manner provided by law for the service of a summons in a civil action that requires him or her to appear at the time and place set for the appearance in court under Section 221.62, 221.63, 221.65, 222.78, 224.95, 226.55, or 227.60. Failure of a birth parent to pay for the care, support, and education of the child for the period of one year or failure of a birth parent to communicate with the child for the period of one year is prima facie evidence that the failure was willful and without lawful excuse. A child with no presumed father under subdivision (a) of Section 7004 cannot be adopted without the consent of his or her mother if living. Notwithstanding other provisions of this section, the consent of a birth father or mother is not necessary in the following cases:

(a) When the birth father or mother has been judicially deprived of the custody and control of the child (1) by order of the court declaring the child to be free from the custody and control of either birth parent or both parents pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 232) of Title 2 of Part 3 of Division 1, or Section 366.25 or 366.26 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or (2) by similar order of the court of another jurisdiction, pursuant to any law of that jurisdiction authorizing the order; or when the birth father or mother has, in a judicial proceeding in another jurisdiction, voluntarily surrendered his or her right to the custody and control of the child pursuant to any law of that jurisdiction providing for the surrender.

(b) When the birth father or mother of any child has deserted the child without provision for identification of the child.

(c) When the birth father or mother of any child has relinquished the child for adoption as provided in Section 222.10; or where the birth father or mother has relinquished the child for adoption to a licensed or authorized child-placing agency in another jurisdiction pursuant to the law of that jurisdiction.

221.30. All forms adopted by the department authorizing the release of an infant from a health facility to the custody of persons other than the person entitled to custody of the child pursuant to Section 197 and authorizing these other persons to obtain medical care for the infant shall contain a statement in boldface type delineating the various types of adoptions available, and the birth parents' rights with regard thereto, including, but not limited to, rights with regard to revocation of consent to adoption.

221.40. (a) Any person who, or organization that, without holding a valid and unrevoked license to place children for adoption issued by the department, advertises in any periodical or newspaper, by radio, or other public medium, that he, she, or it will place children for adoption, or accept, supply, provide or obtain children for adoption, or that causes any advertisement to be published in or by any public medium soliciting, requesting, or asking for any child or children for adoption is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(b) Any person other than a birth parent who, or any organization, association, or corporation that, without holding a valid and unrevoked license to place children for adoption issued by the department, places any child for adoption is guilty of a misdemeanor.

221.50. The petitioners in any proceeding seeking the adoption of a child shall file with the court a full accounting report of all disbursements of anything of value made or agreed to be made by them or on their behalf in connection with the birth of the child, the placement of the child with the petitioners, any medical or hospital care received by the birth mother of the child or by the child in connection with the birth of the child, any other expenses of either birth parent of the child, or the adoption. The accounting report shall be made under penalty of perjury and shall be submitted to the court on or before the date set by the court for the hearing on the adoption petition, unless an extension of time is granted by the courts.

The accounting report shall be itemized in detail and shall show the services relating to the adoption or to the placement of the child for adoption which were received by the petitioners, by either birth parent of the child, by the child, or by any other person for whom payment was made by or on behalf of the petitioners. The report shall also include the dates of each payment, the names and addresses of each attorney, doctor, hospital, licensed adoption agency, or other person or organization who received any funds of the petitioners in connection with the adoption or the placement of the child with them, or participated in any way in the handling of those funds, either directly or indirectly.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to an adoption by a stepparent when one birth or adoptive parent retains his or her custody and control of the child.

221.60. All superior court hearings in adoption proceedings shall be held in private, and the court shall exclude all persons except the officers of the court, the parties, their witnesses, counsel, and representatives of the agencies present to perform their official duties under the laws governing adoptions.

221.62. The person or persons desiring to adopt a child, and the child proposed to be adopted, shall appear before the court.

221.63. (a) The court shall examine all persons appearing before it pursuant to this chapter. The examination of each such person shall be conducted separately but within the physical presence of each such other person or persons unless the court, in its discretion, shall order otherwise.

(b) The party or parties adopting shall execute or acknowledge an agreement in writing that the child shall be treated in all respects as the lawful child of the party or parties.

(c) If satisfied that the interest of that child will be promoted by the adoption, the court may thereupon make and enter an order of adoption of the child by the prospective adoptive parent or parents, and the child and the adoptive parents shall thereupon and thereafter sustain toward each other the legal relationship of parent and child and have all the rights and be subject to all the duties of that relation.

221.65. (a) If the prospective adoptive parent is commissioned or enlisted in the military service, or auxiliary thereof, of the United States, or of any of its allies, or in the American Red Cross, so that it is impossible or impracticable, because of the prospective adoptive parent's absence from the State of California, or otherwise, for him or her to make an appearance in person, and the circumstances are established by satisfactory evidence, the appearance may be made for the prospective adoptive parent by his or her counsel, commissioned and empowered in writing so to do. The power of attorney may be incorporated in the petition for adoption.

(b) When the prospective adoptive parent is permitted to appear by counsel, the agreement may be executed and acknowledged by the counsel for the absent party, or may be executed by the absent party before a notary public, or any other person authorized to take acknowledgements including the persons authorized by Sections 1183 and 1183.5.

(c) When the prospective adoptive parent is permitted to appear by counsel, or otherwise, the court may, in its discretion, cause an examination of the prospective adoptive parent, other interested party, or witness to be made upon deposition, as it deems necessary. The deposition shall be taken upon commission, as prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, and the expense thereof shall be borne by the petitioner.

(d) The petition, relinquishment or consent, agreement, order, report to the court from any investigating agency, and any power of attorney and deposition shall be filed in the office of the county clerk.

(e) The provisions of this section permitting a prospective adoptive parent, who is commissioned or enlisted in the military service, or auxiliary thereof, of the United States, or of any of its allies, or in the American Red Cross, to make an appearance through his or her counsel, commissioned and empowered in writing to do so, are equally applicable to the spouse of a prospective adoptive parent who resides with the prospective adoptive parent outside of this state.

(f) When, pursuant to this section, neither prospective adoptive parent need appear before the court, the child proposed to be adopted need not appear. If the law otherwise requires that the child execute any document during the course of the hearing, the child may do so by and through counsel.

(g) When none of the parties appears, no order of adoption shall be made by the court until after a report has been filed with the court pursuant to Section 222.75, 224.42, 226.57, or 227.20.

221.70. Upon the request of the adoptive parents or the child, a county clerk may issue a certificate of adoption which states the date and place of adoption, the birthday of the child, the name of the adoptive parents, and the name which the child has taken. Unless the child has been adopted by a stepparent, the certificate shall not state the name of the birth parents of the child.

221.72. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an action may be brought in the superior court of the county in which the petitioner resides for the purpose of obtaining for a child adopted by the petitioner a new birth certificate which specifies thereon that a deceased spouse of the petitioner who was in the home at the time of the initial placement of the child is a parent of that child.

(b) In any action for adoption the petitioner may request that the new birth certificate specify thereon that a deceased spouse of the petitioner who was in the home at the time of the initial placement of the child is a parent of that child.

(c) The inclusion of the name of a deceased person in a birth certificate issued pursuant to a court order under this section shall not affect any matter of testate or intestate succession, and shall not be competent evidence on the issue of the relationship between the adopted child and the deceased person in any action or proceeding.

221.74. A child, when adopted, may take the family name of the person adopting. After adoption, the two shall sustain towards each other the legal relation of parent and child, and have all the rights and be subject to all the duties of that relationship.

221.76. The birth parents of an adopted child are, from the time of the adoption, relieved of all parental duties towards, and all responsibility for, the child so adopted, and have no right over the child.

221.80. The department shall adopt such rules and regulations as it determines are reasonably necessary to assure that a birth parent or parents of Indian ancestry, seeking to relinquish a child for adoption, provide sufficient information to the department or to the licensed adoption agency so that a certificate of degree of Indian blood can be obtained from the Bureau of Indian Affairs. The department shall immediately request a certificate of degree of Indian blood from the Bureau of Indian Affairs upon obtaining the information. A copy of all documents pertaining to the degree of Indian blood and tribal enrollment, including a copy of the certificate of degree of Indian blood, shall become a permanent record in the adoption files and shall be housed in a central location and made available to authorized personnel from the Bureau of Indian Affairs when required to determine the adopted person's eligibility to receive services or benefits because of the adopted person's status as an Indian. This information shall be made available to the adopted person upon reaching the age of majority.

Article 2. Agency Adoptions

222.10. The birth father or mother may relinquish a child to the department or a licensed adoption agency for adoption by a written statement signed before two subscribing witnesses and acknowledged before an authorized official of the department or the licensed adoption agency. The relinquishment, when reciting that the person making it is entitled to the sole custody of the child, shall, when duly acknowledged before the officer, be prima facie evidence of the right of the person making it to the sole custody of the child and the person's sole right to relinquish.

A birth parent who is a minor shall have the right to relinquish his or her child for adoption to a licensed adoption agency, and the relinquishment shall not be subject to revocation by reason of the birth parent's minority.

If a birth father or mother of a child resides outside the State of California and the child is being cared for and is placed for adoption by a licensed adoption agency, the birth father or mother may relinquish the child to the agency by a written statement signed by the birth father or mother before a notary on a form prescribed by the agency, and previously signed by an authorized official of the agency, which signifies the willingness of the agency to accept the relinquishment.

The relinquishment authorized by this section shall be of no effect until a certified copy is filed with the department. Upon filing with the department, the relinquishment is final and may be rescinded only by the mutual consent of the adoption agency and the birth parent or parents relinquishing the child.

The filing of the relinquishment with the department shall terminate all parental rights and responsibilities with regard to the child.

222.13. On or before the time a relinquishment is signed, the birth parent signing the relinquishment shall be advised verbally and in writing by the department or the licensed adoption agency, that he or she may, at any time in the future, request from the department or agency, all known information about the status of the child's adoption, except for personal, identifying information about the adoptive family. The birth parent shall be advised that this information includes, but is not limited to, all of the following: (1) whether the child has been placed for adoption, (2) the approximate date that an adoption was completed, and (3) if the adoption was not completed or was vacated, for any reason, whether adoptive placement of the child is again being considered.

222.15. (a) The department shall adopt a statement to be presented to the birth parents at the time the relinquishment is signed and to prospective adoptive parents at the time of the home study which shall, in a clear and concise manner, in words calculated to assure the confidence of the birth parent in the integrity of the adoption process, communicate to the birth parent of a child who is the subject of an adoption petition all of the following facts:

(1) It is in the best interest of the child that the birth parent keep the department or the licensed adoption agency to whom the child was relinquished for adoption informed of any health problems that the parent develops that could affect the child.

(2) It is extremely important that the birth parent keep his or her address current with the department or the licensed adoption agency to whom the child was relinquished for adoption in order to permit a response to any inquiries to the department or licensed adoption agency concerning medical or social history.

(3) Section 229.40 of the Civil Code authorizes a person who has been adopted and who attains the age of 21 to request the department or the licensed adoption agency that joined in the petition for his or her adoption to disclose the name and address of his or her birth parent. Consequently, it is of the utmost importance that the birth parent indicate whether or not he or she wishes his or her name and address to be so disclosed by checking the appropriate box provided on the form.

(4) The birth parent may change his or her decision as to whether or not he or she wishes his or her name and address disclosed, at any time, by sending a notarized letter to that effect, by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the department or to the licensed adoption agency that joined in the petition for adoption.

(5) The relinquishment will be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the adoption takes place. The file is not open to inspection by any persons other than the parties to the adoption proceedings, their attorneys, and the department, except upon order of the judge of the superior court.

(b) The department shall adopt a form to be signed by the birth parents at the time the relinquishment is signed which shall provide as follows:

"Section 229.40 of the Civil Code authorizes a person who has been adopted and who attains the age of 21 to petition the State Department of Social Services or the licensed adoption agency that joined in the petition for his or her adoption to obtain the name and address of his or her birth parent. Indicate by checking one of the boxes below whether or not you wish your name and address to be so disclosed:

☐ YES
☐ NO
☐ UNCERTAIN AT THIS TIME; WILL NOTIFY AGENCY AT LATER DATE"

222.18. Whenever the parental rights of a birth parent are terminated pursuant to Section 232 or 7017 of this code, or Section 366.25 or 366.26 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the licensed adoption agency responsible for the adoptive placement of the child or the department shall send a written notice to the birth parent, if his or her address is known, which shall contain the following statement:

"You are encouraged to keep this agency informed of your current address in order to permit a response to any inquiry concerning medical or social history made by or on behalf of the child who was the subject of the court action terminating parental rights."

222.20. The department or licensed adoption agency to which a child has been freed for adoption by either relinquishment or termination of parental rights shall be responsible for the care of the child, and shall be entitled to the exclusive custody and control of the child until an order of adoption has been granted. Any placement for temporary care, or for adoption, made by the department or a licensed adoption agency may be terminated at its discretion at any time prior to the granting of an order of adoption. In the event of termination of any placement for temporary care or for adoption, the child shall be returned promptly to the physical custody of the agency.

No petition may be filed to adopt a child relinquished to the department or a licensed adoption agency or a child declared free from the custody and control of either birth parent or both parents and referred to the department or a licensed adoption agency for adoptive placement, except by the prospective adoptive parents with whom the child has been placed for adoption by the department or licensed adoption agency. After the petition for adoption has been filed, the department or licensed adoption agency may remove the child from the prospective adoptive parents only with the approval of the court, upon motion by the department or a licensed adoption agency after notice to the prospective adoptive parents, supported by an affidavit or affidavits stating the grounds on which removal is sought. If the department or a licensed adoption agency refuses to consent to the adoption of a child by the person or persons with whom the department or licensed adoption agency placed the child for adoption, the superior court may nevertheless order the adoption if it finds that the refusal to consent is not in the best interest of the child.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, if the child has been in foster care for a period of more than four months, the child has substantial emotional ties to the foster parent or parents, the child's removal from the foster parent or parents would be seriously detrimental to the child's well-being, and the foster parent or parents make a written request to be considered to adopt the child, the foster parent or parents shall be considered with respect to that child along with all other prospective adoptive families. The department or agency shall take into consideration any relevant factors that it deems necessary in determining the adoptive placement which is in the best interests of the child.

The decision of the department or licensed adoption agency for the adoptive placement of the child shall be presumed to be in the best interests of the child. This presumption may be rebutted in an action, filed by the foster parent or parents, by a preponderance of the evidence that foster care has been provided by the requesting foster parent or parents for more than four months, that the child has substantial emotional ties to the foster parent or parents, and that the adoptive placement of the child with someone other than the foster parent or parents would be seriously detrimental to the child's well-being.

This subdivision does not apply to a child who has been adjudged to be a dependent of the juvenile court pursuant to Section 300 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

222.22. When, in the case of a child in the custody of a public agency or licensed adoption agency, it has been established that the persons whose consent to the adoption of that child is required by law are deceased, an action may be brought by the department or a licensed adoption agency requesting the court to make an order establishing that the requesting agency has the right to custody and control of the child and the authority to place the child for adoption. The agency bringing the action shall provide notice thereof in such form as shall be prescribed by the court to all known relatives of the child up to and including the third degree of lineal and collateral consanguinity.

This section shall not apply when a guardian of the person of the child has been appointed pursuant to nomination by a will.

222.26. (a) No agency shall place a child for adoption unless a written medical report on the child's medical background, and if available, so far as ascertainable, the medical background of the child's biological parents, has been submitted to the prospective adoptive parents and the prospective adoptive parents have acknowledged in writing the receipt of that report.

The report on the child's background shall contain all known diagnostic information, including current medical reports on the child, psychological evaluations, and scholastic information, as well as all known information regarding the child's developmental history and family life.

(b) The department shall adopt regulations specifying the form and content of the report required by this section. In addition to any other material that may be required by the department, the form shall include inquiries designed to elicit information on any illness, disease, or defect of a genetic or hereditary nature. All licensed adoption agencies shall cooperate with and assist the department in devising a plan that will effectuate the effective and discreet transmission to adoptees or prospective adoptive parents of pertinent medical information reported to the department or the licensed agency, upon the request of the person reporting the medical information.

222.30. (a) The department shall establish a statewide photo-listing service which shall serve all licensed adoption agencies in the state as a means of recruiting adoptive families for children who have been legally freed, and whose case plan goal is adoption. The photo-listing service shall maintain a book that, except as provided in this section, contains a photograph and description of each child who has been legally freed, and whose case plan goal is adoption. Registration of children with the photo-listing service and notification by the licensed adoption agency of changes in a child's photo-listing status shall be reflected in the book within 30 working days of receipt of the registration or notification.

(b) The department shall adopt regulations governing the operations of the photo-listing service and shall establish procedures for monitoring compliance with this section.

(c) The photo-listing service shall be provided to all licensed adoption agencies; adoption support groups; and state, regional, or national photo-listings or exchanges requesting copies of the photo-listing service.

(d) All legally freed children for whom adoption is the case plan shall be photo-listed, unless deferred as specified in subdivision (e) or (f). Licensed adoption agencies shall send a recent photograph and description of each legally freed child to the photo-listing service within 15 working days of the time a child is legally freed for adoption. When adoption has become the plan for a particular child, the agency may photo list that child prior to the child's becoming legally freed for adoption.

(e) A child shall be deferred from the photo-listing service when that child's foster parents or other identified individuals who have applied to adopt the child are meeting the adoption agency's requests for required documentation and are cooperating in the completion of a homestudy being conducted by the agency.

(f) A child who is 12 years old, or older, may be deferred from the photo-listing service if the child does not consent to being adopted.

(g) The department shall establish procedures for semiannual review of the photo-listing status of all legally freed children whose case plan goal is adoption, including those who are registered with the photo-listing service and those whose registration has been deferred.

(h) Within 15 working days following a one-year period in which a child is listed in the book, the agency shall submit a revised description and photograph of that child.

(i) Licensed adoption agencies shall notify the photo-listing service, by telephone, of any adoptive placements or of significant changes in the child's photo-listing status within two working days of that change.

222.35. The department may adopt regulations which establish priorities for the placement of children for adoption which reflect consideration of the racial background, ethnic heritage, religion, and cultural heritage of the child and geographic proximity. These priorities shall not be the basis for undue delay in the placement of children, or for the disruption of stable long-term foster care placements. These priorities shall also not be construed as categorically prohibiting placement across lines of race, ethnicity, religion, cultural heritage, and geographic proximity.

This section shall not become operative if AB 548 of the 1989–90 Regular Session of the Legislature is enacted and adds Title 6 (commencing with Section 276) to Part 3 of Division 1 of the Civil Code.

222.40. The department or a licensed adoption agency shall require all persons filing an application to adopt a child to be fingerprinted and shall secure from an appropriate law enforcement agency any criminal record of that person to determine whether the person has ever been convicted of a crime other than a minor traffic violation. Those agencies may also secure the full criminal record, if any, of those persons. The record, if any, shall be taken into consideration when evaluating a prospective adoptive parent, and an assessment of the effects of his or her criminal history on the ability of the prospective adoptive parent to provide adequate and proper care and guidance to the child shall be included in the report to the court. Any fee charged by a law enforcement agency for fingerprinting or for checking or obtaining the criminal record of the applicant shall be paid by the applicant. The department or the licensed adoption agency may defer, waive, or reduce the fee when its payment would cause economic hardship to prospective adoptive parents detrimental to the welfare of the adopted child, when the child has been in the foster care of the prospective adoptive parents for at least one year, or if necessary for the placement of a special-needs child.

222.50. (a) In no event, nor for any period of time, shall a child who has been relinquished for adoption be removed from the county in which the child was placed by any person who has not petitioned to adopt the child without first obtaining the written consent of the department or the licensed adoption agency responsible for the child.

(b) During the pendency of an adoption proceeding, the child proposed to be adopted shall not be concealed within the county in which the adoption is pending. The child shall not be removed from that county, unless the petitioners or other interested persons first obtain permission for the removal from the court after giving advance written notice of intent to obtain the court's permission to the department or to the licensed adoption agency responsible for the child. Upon proof of the giving of the notice, permission may be granted by the court if, within a period of 15 days from and after the date of the giving of the notice, no objections have been filed with the court by the department or the licensed adoption agency responsible for the child. If objections are filed within that period by the department or the licensed adoption agency, upon the request of the petitioners the court shall immediately set the matter for hearing and give to the objector, the petitioners, and the party or parties requesting permission for the removal reasonable notice of the hearing by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address of each as shown in the records of the adoption proceeding. Upon a finding that the objections are without good cause, the court may grant the requested permission for removal of the child, subject to such limitations as appear to be in the best interests of the child.

This section does not apply in any of the following situations:

(1) When the child is absent for a period of not more than 30 days from the county in which the adoption proceeding is pending, provided that a notice of recommendation of denial of petition has not been personally served on the petitioners or the court has not issued an order prohibiting the removal of the child from the county pending consideration of any of the following:

(A) The suitability of the petitioners.

(B) The care provided the child.

(C) The availability of the legally required agency consents to the adoption.

(2) When the child has been returned to and remains in the custody and control of his or her birth parent or parents.

(3) When written consent for the removal of the child is obtained from the department or the licensed adoption agency responsible for the child.

(c) A violation of this section constitutes a violation of Section 280 of the Penal Code.

(d) Neither this section nor Section 280 of the Penal Code shall be construed to render lawful any act which is unlawful under any other applicable provision of law.

222.70. (a) Any person desiring to adopt a child may for that purpose petition the superior court of the county in which the petitioner resides, and the clerk of the court shall immediately notify the department at Sacramento in writing of the pendency of the action and of any subsequent action taken.

(b) The caption of the petition for adoption of a child shall contain the name or names of the petitioners but shall not contain the name of the child. The petition shall contain the sex and date of birth of the child. The name that the child had prior to adoption shall appear in the joinder signed by the adoption agency.

(c) If the child is the subject of a guardianship petition, the petition shall so state and shall include the caption and docket number or have attached a copy of the letters of the guardianship or temporary guardianship. The court shall be notified by petitioners of any petition for guardianship or temporary guardianship filed subsequent to the adoption petition. The guardianship proceeding shall be consolidated with the adoption proceeding.

(d) The order of adoption shall contain the adopted name of the child but shall not contain the name that the child had prior to adoption.

222.72. Whenever a petition is filed for the adoption of a child who has been placed for adoption by a licensed county adoption agency or the department, the county adoption agency or the department may, at the time of filing a favorable report in the superior court, require the persons petitioning to become adoptive parents to pay to the county agency, as agent of the state, or to the department, a fee of five hundred dollars ($500). The county adoption agency or the department may defer, waive, or reduce the fee when its payment would cause economic hardship to the prospective adoptive parents detrimental to the welfare of the adopted child, when the child has been in the foster care of the prospective adoptive parents for at least one year, or if necessary for the placement of a special needs child.

222.75. It shall be the duty of the department or the licensed adoption agency, whichever is a party to or joins in the petition, to submit a full report of the facts of the case to the court. The department may also submit a report in those cases in which a licensed adoption agency is a party or joins in the petition for adoption.

222.77. Whenever any report or findings are submitted to the court by the department or by a licensed adoption agency, a copy of that report or findings, whether favorable or unfavorable, shall be given to the attorney for the petitioner in the proceedings, if the petitioner has an attorney of record, or to the petitioner.

222.78. The person or persons desiring to adopt a child, and the child proposed to be adopted, shall appear before the court pursuant to Sections 221.62, 221.63, and 221.65.

222.80. Whenever, in any adoption proceeding, the petitioners move to withdraw the petition for the adoption or to dismiss the proceeding, the clerk of the court in which the proceeding is pending shall immediately notify the department at Sacramento of the action.

222.90. If the findings of the department or the licensed adoption agency are that the home of the petitioners is not suitable for the child or that the required agency consents are not available and it recommends that the petition be denied, or if the petitioners desire to withdraw the petition, and it recommends that the petition be denied, the county clerk upon receipt of the report of the department or the licensed adoption agency shall immediately refer it to the superior court for review.

Upon receipt of the reports, the court shall set a date for a hearing of the petition and shall give reasonable notice of the hearing to the department or licensed adoption agency, the petitioners, and, if necessary, the birth parents by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address of each as shown in the proceeding.

The department or the licensed adoption agency shall appear to represent the child.

Article 3. Independent Adoptions

224.10. (a) The Legislature hereby finds and declares that lawyering may be deficient when conflict of interest deprives the client of undivided loyalty and effort. The Legislature further finds and declares that the relation between attorney and client is a fiduciary relation of the very highest character, and binds the attorney to the most conscientious fidelity.

The Legislature finds that Rule 2-111(A)(2) of the State Bar Rules of Professional Conduct provides that an attorney shall not withdraw from employment until he or she has taken reasonable steps to avoid foreseeable prejudice to the rights of the client, including giving due notice to the client, allowing time for employment of other counsel, delivering to the client all papers and property to which the client is entitled, and complying with applicable laws and rules.

The Legislature declares that in an independent adoption proceeding, whether or not written consent is obtained, multiple representation by an attorney should be avoided whenever a birth parent displays the slightest reason for the attorney to believe any controversy might arise. The Legislature finds and declares that it is the duty of the attorney when a conflict of interest occurs to withdraw promptly from any case, advise the parties to retain independent counsel, refrain from taking positions in opposition to any of these former clients, and thereafter maintain an impartial, fair, and open attitude toward the new attorneys.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, it is unethical for an attorney to undertake the representation of both the prospective adoptive parents and the birth parents of a child in any negotiations or proceedings in connection with an adoption unless a written consent is obtained from both parties. The written consent shall include all of the following:

(1) A notice to the birth parents, in the form specified in this section, of their right to have an independent attorney advise and represent them in the adoption proceedings and that the prospective adoptive parents may be required to pay the reasonable attorney's fees up to a maximum of five hundred dollars ($500) (unless a higher fee is agreed to by the parties) for that representation.

(2) A notice to the birth parents that they may waive their right to an independent attorney and may be represented by the attorney representing the prospective adoptive parents.

(3) A waiver by the birth parents of representation by an independent attorney.

(4) An agreement that the attorney representing the prospective adoptive parents shall represent the birth parents.

(c) Upon the petition or motion of any party, or upon motion of the court, the court may appoint an attorney to represent the birth parent or parents of a child in negotiations or proceedings in connection with the child's adoption.

(d) The birth parent or parents of the child may have counsel, other than the counsel representing the interests of the prospective adoptive parents, to advise them fully of the adoption procedures and of their legal rights. The birth parent or parents also may retain counsel to represent them in negotiations or proceedings in connection with the child's adoption. The court may award attorneys' fees and costs for just cause and based upon the ability of the parties to pay those fees and costs.

(e) In the initial communication between the attorney retained by or representing the prospective adoptive parents and the birth parents, or as soon thereafter as reasonable, but prior to any written consent for dual representation, the attorney shall advise the birth parents of their rights regarding independent counsel and that it is possible to waive independent counsel.

(f) Any written consent to dual representation shall be filed with the court prior to the filing of the birth parent's consent to adoption.

224.20. The selection of prospective adoptive parent or parents shall be personally made by the birth parent or parents of the child and may not be delegated to an agent. The act of selection by the birth parent or parents shall be based upon his, her, or their personal knowledge of the prospective adoptive parent or parents.

224.30. (a) Any person desiring to adopt a child may for that purpose petition the superior court of the county in which the petitioner resides, and the clerk of the court shall immediately notify the department at Sacramento in writing of the pendency of the action and of any subsequent action taken. The petition shall contain an allegation that the petitioners will file promptly with the department or the delegated county adoption agency information required by the department in the investigation of the proposed adoption. The omission of the allegation from a petition so filed shall not, however, affect the jurisdiction of the court to proceed, nor shall it have affected the jurisdiction of any court to have proceeded prior to January 1, 1991, upon the petition omitting the allegation, in any manner provided in this article or otherwise, nor shall the omission have affected or affect the validity of any decree of adoption or other order made by any court before or on or after January 1, 1991, with respect to a petition omitting the allegation.

(b) The caption of the petition for adoption of a child shall contain the name or names of the petitioners but shall not contain the name of the child. The petition shall contain the sex and date of birth of the child. The name that the child had prior to adoption shall appear in the petition.

(c) If the child is the subject of a guardianship petition, the petition shall so state and shall include the caption and docket number or have attached a copy of the letters of the guardianship or temporary guardianship. The court shall be notified by the petitioners of any petition for guardianship or temporary guardianship filed subsequent to the adoption petition. The guardianship proceeding shall be consolidated with the adoption proceeding.

(d) The order of adoption shall contain the adopted name of the child but shall not contain the name that the child had prior to adoption.

224.33. (a) During the pendency of an adoption proceeding, the child proposed to be adopted shall not be concealed within the county in which the adoption is pending; and shall not be removed from that county, unless the petitioners or other interested persons first obtain permission for the removal from the court after giving advance written notice of intent to obtain the court's permission to the department or to the delegated county adoption agency responsible for the investigation of the proposed adoption. Upon proof of the giving of the notice, permission may be granted by the court if, within a period of 15 days from and after the date of the giving of the notice, no objections have been filed with the court by the department or the delegated county adoption agency. If objections are filed within that period by the department or the delegated county adoption agency, upon the request of the petitioners the court shall immediately set the matter for hearing and give to the objector, the petitioners, and the party or parties requesting permission for the removal reasonable notice of the hearing by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address of each as shown in the records of the adoption proceeding. Upon a finding that the objections are without good cause, the court may grant the requested permission for removal of the child, subject to such limitations as appear to be in the best interests of the child.

This section does not apply in any of the following situations:

(1) When the child is absent for a period of not more than 30 days from the county in which the adoption proceeding is pending, provided that a notice of recommendation of denial of petition has not been personally served on the petitioners or the court has not issued an order prohibiting the removal of the child from the county pending consideration of any of the following:

(A) The suitability of the petitioners.

(B) The care provided the child.

(C) The availability of the legally required consents to the adoption.

(2) When the child has been returned to and remains in the custody and control of his or her birth parent or parents.

(b) A violation of this section constitutes a violation of Section 280 of the Penal Code.

(c) Neither this section nor Section 280 of the Penal Code shall be construed to render lawful any act which is unlawful under any other applicable provision of law.

224.36. (a) Whenever the petitioners move to withdraw the petition for the adoption or to dismiss the proceeding, the clerk of the court in which the proceeding is pending shall immediately notify the department at Sacramento of that action. The department or the delegated county adoption agency shall file a full report with the court recommending a suitable plan for the child in every case in which the petitioners move to withdraw the petition for the adoption or where the department or the delegated county adoption agency recommends that the petition for adoption be denied and shall appear before the court for the purpose of representing the child.

(b) Notwithstanding withdrawal of dismissal by the petitioners, the court may retain jurisdiction over the child for the purpose of making any order or orders for his or her custody as the court may deem to be in the best interests of the child.

(c) Whenever the birth parent has refused to give the required consent or the reason or cause for the withdrawal of the petition, or dismissal of the proceeding is the withdrawal of the consent of the birth parent or parents, the court shall order at the hearing the child restored to the care and custody of the birth parent or parents.

224.37. At the hearing, if the court sustains the recommendation of the department or delegated county adoption agency that the child be removed from the home of the petitioners, because the department or delegated county adoption agency has recommended denial or the petitioners move to withdraw the petition or the court dismisses the petition and does not return the child to his or her parents, the court shall commit the child to the care of the department or the delegated county adoption agency, whichever made the recommendation, for the department or delegated county adoption agency to arrange adoptive placement or to make a suitable plan. In those counties not served by a delegated county adoption agency, the county welfare department shall act as the agent of the department and shall provide care for the child in accordance with rules and regulations established by the department.

224.40. It shall be the duty of the department or of the delegated county adoption agency to accept the consent of the birth parents to the adoption of the child by the petitioners and to ascertain whether the child is a proper subject for adoption and whether the proposed home is suitable for the child, prior to filing its report with the court.

224.42. It shall be the duty of the department or the delegated county adoption agency to investigate the proposed independent adoption and to submit to the court a full report of the facts disclosed by its inquiry with a recommendation regarding the granting of the petition within 180 days after the filing of the petition. In those cases in which the investigation establishes that there is a serious question concerning the suitability of the petitioners or the care provided the child or the availability of the consent to adoption, the report shall be filed immediately. The court may allow such additional time for the filing of the reports as in its discretion it may see fit, after at least five days' notice to the petitioner or petitioners and opportunity for the petitioner or petitioners to be heard with respect to the request for additional time.

224.44. The department or a delegated county adoption agency shall interview the petitioners and all persons from whom consent is required and whose addresses are known as soon as possible and, in the case of residents of California, within 45 working days, excluding legal holidays, after the filing of the adoption petition. In order to facilitate these interviews, at the same time the petition is filed, the petitioners shall file with the district office of the department or with the delegated county adoption agency responsible for the investigation of the adoption, a copy of the petition together with the names, addresses, and phone numbers of all parties to be interviewed, if known.

224.47. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, whenever a petition is filed in an independent adoption for the adoption of a child, the petitioner or petitioners shall pay a fee of five hundred dollars ($500) to the department or delegated county adoption agency prior to the filing of a favorable report in the superior court by the department or delegated county adoption agency. The department or delegated county adoption agency may defer, waive, or reduce the fee when in its judgment the payment would cause economic hardship to the prospective adoptive parents and would be detrimental to the welfare of the adopted child.

(b) Revenues produced by fees collected pursuant to subdivision (a) by the department shall be used, when appropriated by the Legislature, to fund only the state program for independent adoptions. Revenues produced by fees collected pursuant to subdivision (a) by the delegated county adoption agency shall be used by the county to fund the county program for independent adoptions. Revenues produced by fees collected by the department or counties pursuant to subdivision (a) shall not be used to supplant current funding for the adoptions program.

(c) The department shall determine the impact of the fee required under this section on the independent adoption of children, including staffing, the time required to complete investigations and court reports, and the number of fee waivers or reduction requests made and granted or denied. The department shall report its findings to the Legislature on or before January 1, 1992.

(d) This section applies only to independent adoption petitions filed on or after September 1, 1989.

(e) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1993, deletes or extends that date.

224.49. The department or delegated county adoption agency shall require all persons filing a petition to adopt a child, to be fingerprinted and shall secure from an appropriate law enforcement agency any criminal record of that person to determine whether the person has ever been convicted of a crime other than a minor traffic violation. The department or delegated county adoption agency may also secure the full criminal record, if any, of those persons. The record, if any, shall be taken into consideration when evaluating a prospective adoptive parent, and an assessment of the effects of his or her criminal history on the ability of the prospective adoptive parent to provide adequate and proper care and guidance to the child shall be included in the report to the court. Any fee charged by a law enforcement agency for fingerprinting or for checking or obtaining the criminal record of the petitioner shall be paid by the petitioner. The department or delegated county adoption agency may defer, waive, or reduce the fee when its payment would cause economic hardship to the prospective adoptive parents detrimental to the welfare of the adopted child, when the child has been in the foster care of the prospective adoptive parents for at least one year, or if necessary for the placement of a special-needs child.

224.50. (a) Notwithstanding the time limits of Section 224.44, if the person to be interviewed has been advised as provided in subdivision (b) and if there is no serious question about the suitability of the prospective adoptive family as provided in subdivision (c), the department or a delegated county adoption agency shall interview at the department or agency office any person willing to be interviewed from whom consent is required, within 10 working days of receiving a copy of the filed adoption petition and documentation that all of the following conditions have been met:

(1) The person from whom consent is required has been advised pursuant to subdivision (b).

(2) There is no serious question about the suitability of the prospective adoptive family as provided in subdivision (c).

(3) The department or the agency has received the name, address, and phone number of the person to be interviewed and the complete report of the assessment of the prospective adoptive family.

The department or the licensed county adoption agency may take the consent of the person to the adoption at this interview or subsequently.

(b) The advice required by subdivision (a) shall be given by a representative of the department or a full-service adoption agency or noncustodial adoption agency, as defined in Section 220.10, as specified in this subdivision prior to placement of the child for adoption. The advice shall include a balanced presentation of the alternatives to adoption, the right to obtain additional counseling, the right to retain separate legal counsel, the meaning of the consent to adoption, the right to future information about the status of the adoption, the needs of the child and the prospective adoptive parents for complete information on the background of the child, the content of the assessment of the prospective adoptive family, and other information determined necessary by the department. The person giving the advice shall also collect information on the background of the child from the person being advised.

Each person advised pursuant to this subdivision shall be offered at least three separate counseling sessions, to be held on different days, except that this requirement does not apply to birth fathers from whom consent for the adoption is not required. Each counseling session shall be no less than 50 minutes' duration. The counseling may be provided by a representative of the department or a licensed adoption agency or by persons licensed to provide psychotherapy or counseling selected by the person. The counseling costs shall be paid by the prospective adoptive parents at the request of the birth parents. If counseling is requested prior to the placement of the child for adoption, it shall be initiated prior to the placement.

Confirmation that a person has been advised and has received counseling, if desired, as required by this subdivision, shall be documented by the department or by an agency as described in Section 220.10 on a form prescribed by the department.

If the person from whom consent is required decides to relinquish the child for adoption, rather than to consent to adoption of the child by the petitioners, the agency advising the birth parent or parents shall not accept the relinquishment of the child, except when there are no other licensed adoption agencies in the county acceptable to the birth parent or parents, in which case the advising agency still shall not accept a relinquishment sooner than five days after completion of the giving of that advice.

(c) The determination that there is no serious question about the suitability of the prospective adoptive family, as required by subdivision (a), shall be based on an assessment conducted by the department or by a licensed adoption agency. The assessment shall be completed or updated within 12 months before the placement of the child for adoption. The assessment shall include consideration of those factors required by the department in a study to determine whether the prospective adoptive family and its home are suitable for a child, except those factors regarding the adjustment of the child in the home. In addition to describing fully information collected in the assessment and the conclusions of the assessment, the report of the assessment shall specify the characteristics of a child which the family would adopt, including, but not limited to, age, sex, ethnicity, race, and special needs. The prospective adoptive parents and any person being advised pursuant to subdivision (b) shall be provided with a written summary of the report of the assessment.

If the assessment results in a determination that there is a serious question as to the suitability of the prospective adoptive family, or if the assessment is discontinued prior to completion because of such a question, the department or the adoption agency shall provide a report of the complete or incomplete assessment to the department. The department shall retain this report for 10 years for use in any assessment of the suitability of the family to adopt a child.

(d) Any relationship between an attorney and a licensed private adoption agency involved in providing advice, counseling, or assessment to any party in an adoption pursuant to subdivision (b), shall be disclosed in writing to any person from whom consent is required and to the prospective adoptive parents.

(e) No licensed private adoption agency is required to provide the advice and assessment services specified in subdivisions (b) and (c). However, if such an agency elects to provide these services, it shall provide both services. There is no requirement that prospective adoptive parents and birth parents use the same adoption agency for these services. If the agency has a policy that allows it to provide services only to members of specific groups, this policy shall be disclosed to families prior to the beginning of the assessment process.

(f) The department or the licensed county adoption agency shall perform the advice and assessment services specified in subdivisions (b) and (c) at no cost only in those cases where all of the following apply:

(1) The prospective adoptive parents are seeking the assessment because of the intended placement of a specific child of an identified birth parent.

(2) The advice and assessment services can be conducted prior to the placement of the child.

(3) The department or the licensed county adoption agency can provide the services without delaying any mandated service.

(4) The fees specified in subdivision (a) of Section 224.47 would be waived because they would cause economic hardship to the prospective adoptive parents and would be detrimental to the welfare of the adopted child as determined by the department.

(g) The department shall study the effect of the processes described in subdivisions (a) and (f), inclusive, on the child and the parties to the adoption. The study shall provide and evaluate comparative data using information regarding the factors specified in this subdivision, which shall cover a period prior to, and concurrent with, the implementation of this section for adoptions conducted under this section or pursuant to other statutory provisions. These factors include the number and percentage of birth parents actually receiving counseling, the number of petitions in which a birth parent seeks the withdrawal of consent to adoption, the number of occasions in which the birth parent's consent is not taken at the initial interview under provisions of this section and the reasons, the number of adoptions commenced and completed under this section and pursuant to other statutory provisions, the number of requests for return of a child by a birth parent after placement but before consent, the amount of time spent by the state in completing the home study, and the number of negative home studies presented to the court.

The Independent Adoption Preplacement Program authorized by this section shall be deemed to be successful if there is a 10 percent reduction in the number of withdrawals of consent to adoption in cases commenced under this section, and if at least 25 percent of all nonagency adoptions are commenced pursuant to this section at the time the evaluation is completed.

The department shall report its findings to the Legislature on or before January 1, 1993.

(h) The department may adopt emergency regulations in accordance with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code to implement this section.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends that date.

224.61. On or before the time a consent to adoption is signed, the birth parent signing the consent shall be advised verbally and in writing by the department or the delegated county adoption agency, that he or she may, at any time in the future, request from the department or the delegated county adoption agency, all known information about the status of the child's adoption, except for personal, identifying information about the adoptive family. The birth parent shall be advised that this information includes, but is not limited to, all of the following: (a) whether the child has been placed for adoption, (b) the approximate date that an adoption was completed, and (c) if the adoption was not completed or was vacated, for any reason, whether adoptive placement of the child is again being considered.

224.62. (a) The consent of the birth parent or parents to the adoption by the petitioners must be signed in the presence of an agent of the department or of a delegated county adoption agency on a form prescribed by the department and filed with the clerk of the superior court, in the county of the petitioner's residence.

(b) The consent described in subdivision (a), when reciting that the person giving it is entitled to the sole custody of the child, and when duly acknowledged before that agent, shall be prima facie evidence of the right of the person making it to the sole custody of the child and that person's sole right to consent.

(c) If the birth parent of a child to be adopted is outside the State of California at the time of signing consent, his or her consent may be signed before a notary or other person authorized to perform notarial acts, and in that case the consent of the department or of a delegated county adoption agency will also be necessary.

(d) A birth parent who is a minor shall have the right to sign a consent for the adoption of his or her child and that consent shall not be subject to revocation by reason of that minority.

224.64. (a) Once given, consent of the birth parents to the adoption of the child by the person or persons to whose adoption of the child the consent was given, may not be withdrawn except with court approval. Request for that approval may be made by motion, or a birth parent seeking to withdraw his or her consent may file with the clerk of the superior court where the petition is pending, a petition for approval of withdrawal thereof, without the necessity of payment of any fee for the filing of the petition. The petition or motion shall be in writing, and shall set forth the reasons for withdrawal of consent, but otherwise may be in any form.

(b) The clerk of the court shall set the matter for hearing, and shall give notice thereof to the department, to the persons to whose adoption of the child the consent was given, and to the birth parent or parents by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address of each as shown in the proceeding, at least 10 days before the time set for hearing.

(c) The department or the delegated county adoption agency shall, prior to the hearing of the motion or petition for withdrawal, file a full report with the court and shall appear at the hearing to represent the interests of the child.

(d) At the hearing, the parties may appear in person or with counsel. The hearing shall be held in chambers, but the court reporter shall report the proceedings and his or her fee therefor shall be paid from the county treasury on order of the court. If the court finds that withdrawal of the consent to adoption is reasonable in view of all the circumstances, and that withdrawal of the consent will be for the best interests of the child, the court shall approve the withdrawal of the consent; otherwise the court shall withhold its approval. Consideration of the best interests of the child shall include, but not be limited to, an assessment of the child's age, the extent of bonding with the prospective adoptive parent or parents, the extent of bonding or the potential to bond with the birth parent or parents, and the ability of the birth parent or parents to provide adequate and proper care and guidance to the child. If the court approves the withdrawal of consent, the adoption proceedings shall be dismissed.

(e) Any order of the court granting or withholding approval of a withdrawal of a consent to an adoption may be appealed in the same manner as an order of the juvenile court declaring any person to be a ward of the juvenile court.

224.66. In all cases of independent adoption in which the consent of the birth parent or parents is not necessary, the department or the delegated county adoption agency shall, prior to the hearing of the petition, file its consent to the adoption with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the petition is filed. That consent shall not be given unless the child's welfare will be promoted by the adoption.

224.70. (a) A written medical report on the child's medical background, and if available, so far as ascertainable, the medical background of the child's biological parents, shall be made by the department or delegated county adoption agency as part of the study required by Section 224.40. The report on the child's background shall contain all known diagnostic information, including current medical reports on the child, psychological evaluations, and scholastic information, as well as all known information regarding the child's developmental history and family life. The report shall be submitted to the prospective adoptive parents who shall acknowledge its receipt in writing.

(b) The department shall adopt regulations specifying the form and content of the report required by this section. In addition to any other material that may be required by the department, the form shall include inquiries designed to elicit information on any illness, disease, or defect of a genetic or hereditary nature. All licensed adoption agencies shall cooperate with and assist the department in devising a plan that will effectuate the effective and discreet transmission to adoptees or prospective adoptive parents of pertinent medical information reported to the department or the delegated county adoption agency, upon the request of the person reporting the medical information.

224.73. (a) The department shall adopt a statement to be presented to the birth parents at the time the consent to adoption is signed and to prospective adoptive parents at the time of the home study which shall, in a clear and concise manner, in words calculated to assure the confidence of the birth parents in the integrity of the adoption process, communicate to the birth parent of a child who is the subject of an adoption petition all of the following facts:

(1) It is in the best interest of the child that the birth parents keep the department informed of any health problems that the parent develops that could affect the child.

(2) It is extremely important that the birth parent keep his or her address current with the department in order to permit a response to any inquiries to the department or licensed adoption agency concerning medical or social history.

(3) Section 229.40 of the Civil Code authorizes a person who has been adopted and who attains the age of 21 to petition the department to obtain the name and address of his or her birth parents. Consequently, it is of the utmost importance that the birth parent indicate whether or not he or she wishes his or her name and address to be so disclosed by checking the appropriate box provided on the form.

(4) The birth parent may change his or her decision as to whether or not he or she wishes his or her name and address disclosed, at any time, by sending a notarized letter to that effect, by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the department.

(5) The consent will be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the adoption takes place. The file is not open to inspection by any persons other than the parties to the adoption proceedings, their attorneys, and the department, except upon order of the judge of the superior court.

(b) The department shall adopt a form to be signed by the birth parents at the time the consent to adoption is signed which shall provide as follows:

"Section 229 40 of the Civil Code authorizes a person who has been adopted and who attains the age of 21 to petition the State Department of Social Services or the licensed adoption agency that joined in the petition for his or her adoption to obtain the name and address of his or her birth parents. Indicate by checking one of the boxes below whether or not you wish your name and address to be so disclosed:

☐ YES
☐ NO
☐ UNCERTAIN AT THIS TIME; WILL NOTIFY AGENCY AT LATER DATE"

224.76. Whenever the parental rights of a birth parent are terminated pursuant to Section 232 or 7017, the department or the delegated county adoption agency shall send a written notice to the birth parent, if his or her address is known, which shall contain the following statement:

"You are encouraged to keep this agency informed of your current address in order to permit a response to any inquiry concerning medical or social history made by or on behalf of the child who was the subject of the court action terminating parental rights."

224.80. If for a period of 180 days from the date of filing the petition, or upon the expiration of any extension of the period granted by the court, the department or the delegated county adoption agency fails or refuses to accept the consent of the birth parent or parents to the adoption, or if the department or delegated county adoption agency fails or refuses to file or to give its consent to an adoption in those cases where its consent is required by this article, either the birth parent or parents or the petitioner may appeal from the failure or refusal to the superior court of the county in which the petition is filed, in which event the clerk shall immediately notify the department or delegated county adoption agency of the appeal and the department or delegated county adoption agency shall, within 10 days, file a report of its findings and the reasons for its failure or refusal to consent to the adoption or to accept the consent of the birth parent or parents. After the filing of the findings, the court may, if it deems that the welfare of the child will be promoted by that adoption, allow the signing of the consent by the birth parent or parents in open court, or if the appeal be from the refusal of the department or delegated county adoption agency to consent thereto, grant the petition without the consent.

224.91. Whenever any report or findings are submitted to the court by the department or by a delegated county adoption agency, a copy of that report or findings, whether favorable or unfavorable, shall be given to the attorney for the petitioner in the proceedings, if the petitioner has an attorney of record, or to the petitioner.

224.93. If the findings of the department or the delegated county adoption agency are that the home of the petitioners is not suitable for the child or that the required consents are not available and it recommends that the petition be denied, or if the petitioners desire to withdraw the petition, and it recommends that the petition be denied, the county clerk upon receipt of the report of the department or the delegated county adoption agency shall immediately refer it to the superior court for review.

Upon receipt of the report, the court shall set a date for a hearing of the petition and shall give reasonable notice of the hearing to the agency, the petitioners, and the birth parents by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address of each as shown in the proceeding.

The department or the delegated county agency shall appear to represent the child.

224.95. The person or persons desiring to adopt a child, and the child proposed to be adopted, shall appear before the court pursuant to Sections 221.62. 221.63, and 221.65.

Article 4. Intercountry Adoptions

226.10. Intercountry adoption services described in this article shall be exclusively provided by private adoption agencies licensed by the department specifically to provide these services.

226.11. The department shall adopt regulations to administer the intercountry adoption program.

226.20. For those intercountry adoptions that will be finalized in the state, the licensed adoption agency shall provide all of the following services:

(a) Assessment of the suitability of the applicant's home.

(b) Placement of the foreign-born child in an approved home.

(c) Postplacement supervision.

(d) Submission to the court of a report on the intercountry adoptive placement with a recommendation regarding the granting of the petition.

(e) Services to applicants seeking to adopt related children living in foreign countries. The Legislature recognizes that these children have an impelling need for adoptive placement with their relatives.

226.21. (a) For those intercountry adoptions finalized in the state, the licensed adoption agency shall assume all responsibilities for the child including care, custody, and control as if the child had been relinquished for adoption in California from the time the child leaves his or her native country.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), if the child's native country requires and has given full guardianship to the prospective adoptive parents, the prospective adoptive parents shall assume all responsibilities for the child including care, custody, control, and financial support.

(c) If the prospective adoptive parents or licensed adoption agency fails to meet its responsibility for the care, custody, control, and financial responsibility of the child and the child becomes a dependent of the court pursuant to Section 300 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the state shall assume responsibility for the cost of care for the child. When the child becomes a dependent of the court and if, for any reason, is ineligible for AFDC under Section 14005.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and loses Medi-Cal eligibility, the child shall be deemed eligible for Medi-Cal under Section 14005.4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and the State Director of Health Services shall be given authority to provide payment for the medical services to the child which are necessary to meet the child's needs.

226.23. For those adoptions that will be finalized in a foreign country, the licensed adoption agency shall provide both of the following services:

(a) Assessment of the suitability of the applicant's home.

(b) Certification to the Immigration and Naturalization Service that California's adoptive requirements have been met.

226.25. Licensed adoption agencies shall work only with domestic and foreign adoption agencies with whom they have written agreements that specify the responsibilities of each. The agreements shall not violate any statute or regulation of the United States or of the State of California.

226.27. Nothing in this article shall be construed to prohibit the licensed adoption agency from entering into an agreement with the prospective adoptive parents to share or transfer financial responsibility for the child.

226.28. The costs incurred by licensed adoption agencies pursuant to programs established by this article shall be funded by fees charged by those agencies for services required by this article. The agency's fee schedule shall be approved by the department initially, and whenever it is altered.

226.30. A licensed adoption agency shall require all persons filing an application to adopt a child to be fingerprinted and shall secure from an appropriate law enforcement agency any criminal record of that person to determine whether the person has ever been convicted of a crime other than a minor traffic violation. The agency may also secure the full criminal record, if any, of those persons. The record, if any, shall be taken into consideration when evaluating a prospective adoptive parent, and an assessment of the effects of his or her criminal history on the ability of the prospective adoptive parent to provide adequate and proper care and guidance to the child shall be included in the report to the court. Any fee charged by a law enforcement agency for fingerprinting or for checking or obtaining the criminal record of the applicant shall be paid by the applicant. The adoption agency may defer, waive, or reduce the fee when its payment would cause economic hardship to the adoptive parents detrimental to the welfare of the adopted child.

226.35. (a) No agency shall place a child for adoption unless a written medical report on the child's medical background, and if available, so far as ascertainable, the medical background of the child's biological parents, has been submitted to the prospective adoptive parents and the prospective adoptive parents have acknowledged in writing the receipt of such report.

The report on the child's background shall contain all known diagnostic information, including current medical reports on the child, psychological evaluations, and scholastic information, as well as all known information regarding the child's developmental history and family life.

(b) The department shall adopt regulations specifying the form and content of the report required by this section. In addition to any other material that may be required by the department, the form shall include inquiries designed to elicit information on any illness, disease, or defect of a genetic or hereditary nature. All licensed adoption agencies shall cooperate with and assist the department in devising a plan that will effectuate the effective and discreet transmission to adoptees or prospective adoptive parents of pertinent medical information reported to the department or the licensed adoption agency, upon the request of the person reporting the medical information.

226.40. (a) In no event, nor for any period of time, shall a child who has been placed for adoption by a licensed adoption agency be removed from the county in which the child was placed by any person who has not petitioned to adopt the child without first obtaining the written consent of the licensed adoption agency responsible for the child.

(b) During the pendency of an adoption proceeding, the child proposed to be adopted shall not be concealed within the county in which the adoption is pending; and shall not be removed from that county, unless the petitioners or other interested persons first obtain permission for the removal from the court after giving advance written notice of intent to obtain the court's permission to the licensed adoption agency responsible for the child. Upon proof of the giving of the notice, permission may be granted by the court if, within a period of 15 days from and after the date of the giving of the notice, no objections have been filed with the court by the licensed adoption agency responsible for the child. If objections are filed within that period by the licensed adoption agency, upon the request of the petitioners the court shall immediately set the matter for hearing and give to the objector, the petitioners, and the party or parties requesting permission for the removal reasonable notice of the hearing by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address of each as shown in the records of the adoption proceeding. Upon a finding that the objections are without good cause, the court may grant the requested permission for removal of the child, subject to such limitations as appear to be in the best interests of the child.

(c) This section does not apply in any of the following situations:

(1) When the child is absent for a period of not more than 30 days from the county in which the adoption proceeding is pending, provided that a notice of recommendation of denial of petition has not been personally served on the petitioners or the court has not issued an order prohibiting the removal of the child from the county pending consideration of any of the following:

(A) The suitability of the petitioners.

(B) The care provided the child.

(C) The availability of the legally required agency consents to the adoption.

(2) When the child has been returned to and remains in the custody and control of his or her birth parent or parents.

(3) When written consent for the removal of the child is obtained from the licensed adoption agency responsible for the child.

(d) A violation of this section constitutes a violation of Section 280 of the Penal Code.

(e) Neither this section nor Section 280 of the Penal Code shall be construed to render lawful any act which is unlawful under any other applicable provision of law.

226.50. As a condition of placement, the prospective adoptive parents shall file a petition to adopt the child under Section 226.52 within 30 days of placement.

226.52. (a) Any person desiring to adopt a child may for that purpose petition the superior court of the county in which the petitioner resides and the clerk of the court shall immediately notify the department at Sacramento in writing of the pendency of the action and of any subsequent action taken.

(b) The caption of the petition for adoption of a child shall contain the name or names of the petitioners but shall not contain the name of the child. The petition shall contain the sex and date of birth of the child. The name that the child had prior to adoption shall appear in the joinder signed by the licensed adoption agency.

(c) If the child is the subject of a guardianship petition, the petition shall so state and shall include the caption and docket number or have attached a copy of the letters of the guardianship or temporary guardianship. The court shall be notified by petitioners of any petition for guardianship or temporary guardianship filed subsequent to the adoption petition. The guardianship proceeding shall be consolidated with the adoption proceeding.

(d) The order of adoption shall contain the adopted name of the child but shall not contain the name that the child had prior to adoption.

226.55. The person or persons desiring to adopt a child, and the child proposed to be adopted, shall appear before the court pursuant to Sections 221.62, 221.63, and 221.65.

226.57. When the licensed adoption agency is a party to or joins in the petition for adoption, it shall submit a full report of the facts of the case to the court. The department may also submit a report.

226.59. Whenever any report or findings are submitted to the court by a licensed adoption agency, a copy of the report or findings, whether favorable or unfavorable, shall be given to the attorney for the petitioner in the proceedings, if the petitioner has an attorney of record, or to the petitioner.

226.60. Whenever, in any adoption proceeding, the petitioners move to withdraw the petition for the adoption or to dismiss the proceeding, the clerk of the court in which the proceeding is pending shall immediately notify the department at Sacramento of that action. The licensed adoption agency shall file a full report with the court recommending a suitable plan for the child in every such case where the petitioners desire to withdraw the petition for the adoption or where the licensed adoption agency recommends that the petition for adoption be denied and shall appear before the court for the purpose of representing the child. Notwithstanding the withdrawal or dismissal by the petitioners, the court may retain jurisdiction over the child for the purpose of making any order or orders for its custody as the court may deem to be in the best interests of the child.

226.64. If the findings of the licensed adoption agency are that the home of the petitioners is not suitable for the child or that the required agency consents are not available and it recommends that the petition be denied, or if the petitioners desire to withdraw the petition, and it recommends that the petition be denied, the county clerk upon receipt of the report of the licensed adoption agency shall immediately refer it to the superior court for review.

Upon receipt of the reports, the court shall set a date for a hearing of the petition and shall give reasonable notice of the hearing to the agency and the petitioners by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address of each as shown in the proceeding.

The licensed adoption agency shall appear to represent the child.

226.66. At the hearing, if the court sustains the recommendation that the child be removed from the home of petitioners because the licensed adoption agency has recommended denial or the petitioners desire to withdraw the petition or the court dismisses the petition and does not return him or her to his or her parents, the court shall commit the child to the care of the licensed adoption agency for that agency to arrange adoptive placement or to make a suitable plan.

Article 5. Stepparent Adoptions

227.10. (a) Any stepparent desiring to adopt a child of his or her spouse may for that purpose petition the superior court of the county in which the petitioner resides.

(b) The caption of the petition for adoption of a child shall contain the name or names of the petitioners but shall not contain the name of the child. The petition shall contain the sex and date of birth of the child. The name that the child had prior to adoption shall appear in the petition.

(c) If the child is the subject of a guardianship petition, the petition shall so state and shall include the caption and docket number or have attached a copy of the letters of the guardianship or temporary guardianship. The court shall be notified by petitioners of any petition for guardianship or temporary guardianship filed subsequent to the adoption petition. The guardianship proceeding shall be consolidated with the adoption proceeding.

(d) The order of adoption shall contain the adopted name of the child but shall not contain the name that the child had prior to adoption.

227.20. The probation officer or, at option of the board of supervisors, the county welfare department in the county in which the action for adoption is pending shall make an investigation of each case of adoption by a stepparent. No order of adoption shall be made by the court until after the probation officer has filed his or her or the welfare department has filed its report and recommendation and it has been considered by the court.

No home study shall be required of the petitioner's home in such a case unless ordered by the court. The agency conducting the investigation or any interested person may request the court to order a home study or the court may order such a study on its own motion.

As used in this section, "home study" means a physical investigation of the premises where the child is residing.

227.30. A stepparent adopting a child of his or her spouse shall be liable for all reasonable costs incurred in connection with the investigation required by Section 227.20, up to a maximum of one hundred dollars ($100). The probation officer or county welfare department may defer, waive, or reduce the fee for costs when such a payment would cause economic hardship to the prospective adoptive parent which would be detrimental to the welfare of the adoptive child.

227.40. In a stepparent adoption, the consent of either or both parents must be signed in the presence of a county clerk, probation officer, or county welfare department staff member of any county of this state and the county clerk, probation officer, or county welfare department staff member before whom the consent is signed shall immediately file the consent with the clerk of the superior court of the county where the petition is filed and the clerk shall immediately notify the probation officer or, at the option of the board of supervisors, the county welfare department of the same county.

If the birth parent of a child to be adopted is outside the State of California at the time of signing consent, his or her consent may be signed before a notary, or other person authorized to perform notarial acts.

The consent, when reciting that the person giving it is entitled to sole custody of the child, shall, when duly acknowledged before the county clerk, probation officer, or county welfare department staff member be prima facie evidence of the right of the person making it to the sole custody of the child and that person's sole right to consent.

A birth parent who is a minor shall have the right to sign a consent for the adoption of his or her child and the consent shall not be subject to revocation by reason of the minority.

227.44. In a stepparent adoption, the form prescribed by the department for the consent of the birth parent shall contain substantially the following notice: "Notice to the parent who gives the child for adoption: If you and your child lived together at any time as parent and child, the adoption of your child by a stepparent does not affect the child's right to inherit your property or the property of other blood relatives."

227.46. (a) Once given, consent of the birth parent to the adoption of the child by the stepparent may not be withdrawn except with court approval. Request for that approval may be made by motion, or a birth parent seeking to withdraw his or her consent may file with the clerk of the superior court where the petition is pending, a petition for approval of withdrawal of consent, without the necessity of payment of any fee for the filing of the petition. The petition or motion shall be in writing, and shall set forth the reasons for withdrawal of consent, but otherwise may be in any form.

(b) The clerk of the court shall set the matter for hearing, and shall give notice thereof to the probation officer or county welfare department, to the persons to whose adoption of the child the consent was given, and to the birth parent or parents by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address of each as shown in the proceeding, at least 10 days before the time set for hearing.

(c) The probation officer or county welfare department shall, prior to the hearing of the motion or petition for withdrawal, file a full report with the court and shall appear at the hearing to represent the interests of the child.

(d) At the hearing, the parties may appear in person or with counsel. The hearing shall be held in chambers, but the court reporter shall report the proceedings and his or her fee therefor shall be paid from the county treasury on order of the court. If the court finds that withdrawal of the consent to adoption is reasonable in view of all the circumstances, and that withdrawal of the consent will be for the best interests of the child, the court shall approve the withdrawal of the consent; otherwise the court shall withhold its approval. Consideration of the best interests of the child shall include, but not be limited to, an assessment of the child's age, the extent of bonding with the prospective adoptive parent, the extent of bonding or the potential to bond with the birth parent, and the ability of the birth parent to provide adequate and proper care and guidance to the child. If the court approves the withdrawal of consent, the adoption proceedings shall be dismissed.

(e) Any order of the court granting or withholding approval of a withdrawal of a consent to an adoption may be appealed from in the same manner as an order of the juvenile court declaring any person to be a ward of the juvenile court.

227.50. Whenever the petitioner moves to withdraw the petition for the adoption or to dismiss the proceeding, the clerk of the court in which the proceeding is pending shall immediately notify the probation officer or county welfare department of that action.

In any adoption proceeding in which the birth parent has refused to give the required consent, the petition shall be dismissed.

227.60. The person or persons desiring to adopt a child, and the child proposed to be adopted, shall appear before the court pursuant to Sections 221.62, 221.63, and 221.65.

Article 6. Vacation of Adoption

228.10. If any child heretofore or hereafter adopted pursuant to the law of this state shows evidence of a developmental disability or mental illness as a result of conditions prior to the adoption to such an extent that the child cannot be relinquished to an adoption agency on the grounds that the child is considered unadoptable, and of which conditions the adoptive parents or parent had no knowledge or notice prior to the entry of the decree or order of adoption, a petition setting forth those facts may be filed by the adoptive parents or parent with the court which granted the petition for adoption. If those facts are proved to the satisfaction of the court, it may make an order setting aside the decree or order of adoption.

The petition shall be filed within five years after the entering of the decree or order of adoption.

In every action brought under this section, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court of the county wherein the action is brought to immediately notify the department at Sacramento of that action. Within 60 days after the notice the department shall file a full report with the court and shall appear before the court for the purpose of representing the adopted child.

228.13. Whenever the decree or order of adoption of any child shall have been set aside as provided in Section 228.10, the court making the order shall direct the district attorney or the county counsel or the county welfare department, to take appropriate proceedings under the Welfare and Institutions Code. The court may also make any order relative to the care, custody, or confinement of the child pending the proceedings as it sees fit.

The county in which the proceedings for adoption were had shall be and remain liable for the support of the child until he or she is able to support himself or herself.

228.15. Any action or proceeding of any kind whatsoever to vacate, set aside, or otherwise nullify a decree or order of adoption on the ground of any defect or irregularity of procedure in the adoption proceeding must be commenced within three years after entry of the decree or order. Any action or proceeding of any kind whatsoever to vacate, set aside, or otherwise nullify a decree or order of adoption on any ground other than a defect or irregularity of procedure must be commenced within five years after entry of the decree or order.

Article 7. Disclosure of Information

229.10. The petition, relinquishment or consent, agreement, order, report to the court from any investigating agency, and any power of attorney and deposition filed in the office of the county clerk pursuant to this chapter shall not be open to inspection by any other than the parties to the action and their attorneys and the department, except upon the written authority of the judge of the superior court. A judge of the superior court shall not authorize anyone to inspect the petition, relinquishment or consent, agreement, order, report to the court from any investigating agency, or power of attorney or deposition or any portion of any such documents except in exceptional circumstances and for good cause approaching the necessitous. The petitioner may be required to pay the expenses for preparing the copies of the documents to be inspected.

Upon written request of any party to the action and upon the order of any judge of the superior court, the county clerk shall not provide any documents referred to in this section for inspection or copying to any other person, unless the name of the birth parents of the child or any information tending to identify the birth parents of the child is deleted from the documents or copies thereof.

Upon the request of the adoptive parents or the child, a county clerk may issue a certificate of adoption which states the date and place of adoption, the birth date of the child, the name of the adoptive parents, and the name which the child has taken. Unless the child has been adopted by a stepparent, the certificate shall not state the name of the birth parents of the child.

229.20. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the department and any licensed adoption agency may furnish information relating to any adoption petition to the juvenile court, to any county welfare department, to any public welfare agency, or to any private welfare agency licensed by the department whenever it is believed the welfare of a child will be promoted thereby.

229.30. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the department or the licensed adoption agency which made the report required by Section 222.26, 224.70, or 226.35 shall, upon the request of a person who has been adopted pursuant to this chapter and who has attained the age of 18 or who presents a certified copy of his or her marriage certificate, or upon the request of the adoptive parent of a person under the age of 18 who has been adopted pursuant to this chapter, provide that person with a copy of the medical report required by Section 222.26, 224.70, or 226.35 in the manner that the department shall prescribe by regulation. A person who is denied access to a medical report pursuant to the regulations adopted pursuant to this section may petition the superior court for review of the reasonableness of the department's or licensed adoption agency's decision. The names and addresses of any persons contained in the report shall be removed therefrom unless the person requesting the report has previously received the information pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 229.40.

229.40. (a) The department or a licensed adoption agency shall, (1) upon request of a person who has been adopted pursuant to this chapter and who has attained the age of 21, disclose the identity of the birth parent or parents of the person and the most current address of the birth parent or parents as shown in the records of the department or licensed adoption agency, if the birth parent or parents have indicated consent to the disclosure in writing; and (2) upon request of the birth parent of a person who has been adopted pursuant to this chapter and who has attained the age of 21, disclose the adopted name of the adoptee and his or her most current address as shown in the records of the department or licensed adoption agency if the adult adoptee has indicated in writing, pursuant to the registration program developed by the department, that he or she wishes his or her name and address to be disclosed. The department or licensed adoption agency also shall disclose the identity of a birth parent and his or her most current address as shown in the records of the department or licensed adoption agency upon the request of the adoptive parent of a person under the age of 21 who has been adopted pursuant to this chapter, upon the finding by the department or licensed adoption agency that a medical necessity or other extraordinary circumstances justify the disclosure.

The form of the request required by this section shall be prescribed by the department, shall provide for an affidavit to be executed by the requester that to the best of his or her knowledge he or she is an adoptee; that he or she is the birth parent of an adoptee; or that he or she is the adoptive parent of an adoptee. The department may adopt regulations requiring any additional means of identification from a requester as it deems necessary. The request shall advise an adoptee that if he or she so consents, his or her adoptive parents will be notified of the filing of the request prior to the release of the name and address of his or her birth parent.

This subdivision shall not be applicable if a birth parent or an adoptee has indicated that he or she does not wish his or her name or address to be disclosed.

The department shall either respond to a request for information pursuant to this section or forward the request to a licensed adoption agency pursuant to subdivision (b) within 20 working days of its receipt of the request.

The provisions of this subdivision shall apply only to those adoptions in which the relinquishment for or consent to adoption was signed on or after January 1, 1984.

(b) The department may forward requests for information pursuant to this section to any licensed adoption agency that was a party to the adoption.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the department shall announce the availability of the present method of arranging contact among an adult adoptee, his or her birth parent, and any living adoptive parent authorized by Section 229.50 utilizing a means of communication appropriate to effectively inform the public.

(d) The department or licensed adoption agency may charge a reasonable fee, in an amount established by the department by regulation to cover the costs of processing requests for information generated pursuant to subdivision (a). The revenue resulting from the fees so charged shall be utilized by the department or licensed adoption agency to increase existing staff as needed to process these requests. Fees received by the department shall be deposited in the Adoption Information Fund. This revenue shall be in addition to any other funds appropriated in support of the state adoption program.

The department or licensed adoption agency shall waive the fees authorized by this section for any person who is receiving public assistance pursuant to Part 3 (commencing with Section 11000) of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

229.50. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, if an adult adoptee, his or her birth parent, and any living adoptive parent have each filed a written waiver of his or her rights with respect to the confidentiality of adoption records with the department at Sacramento or any licensed adoption agency, the department or the licensed agency may arrange for contact among those persons. Neither the department nor a licensed adoption agency shall solicit, directly or indirectly, the execution of such a waiver.

The waiver authorized by this section shall be in the form that shall be prescribed by the department.

229.60. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, if an adoptee who has attained the age of 21 has filed his or her current address, a written request for contact with any biological sibling whose existence is known to him or her, and a written waiver of his or her rights with respect to the disclosure of his or her name and address to the sibling, with the department or the adoption agency that joined in the petition for his or her adoption, and any such biological sibling of that person who has attained the age of 21 also has filed his or her current address, made such a request for contact, and filed a written waiver, if applicable, the department or the agency shall release to each of them the other's name and address. Upon inquiry, and upon proof that a person is the sibling of an adoptee who has filed a waiver pursuant to this section, the department or agency may advise him or her that such a waiver has been filed by the adoptee. The department or an agency may charge a reasonable fee, not to exceed fifty dollars ($50), for providing the service required by this section.

(b) An adoptee may revoke a waiver executed pursuant to this section by giving written notice to that effect to the department or agency.

(c) The department shall adopt a form for the request authorized by this section, which shall provide for an affidavit to be executed by persons seeking to employ the procedure authorized by this section that to the best of his or her knowledge he or she is an adoptee or a sibling of an adoptee; the form also shall contain a notice of an adoptee's rights pursuant to subdivision (b) and a statement that information will be disclosed only if there is a currently valid waiver on file with the department or agency. The department may adopt regulations requiring any additional means of identification from a person making a request pursuant to this section as it deems necessary, and for the obtaining of the consent of the natural parents of the adoptee and the sibling in order to make the disclosure authorized by this section in any case in which the sibling remained in the custody and control of the natural parents until he or she attained the age of 18 years.

(d) The department shall not solicit the execution of a waiver authorized by this section; however, the department shall announce the availability of the procedure authorized by this section, utilizing a means of communication appropriate to effectively inform the public.

229.70. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the department and any licensed adoption agency shall release any letters, photographs, or other items of personal property in their possession to any adoptee, birth parent, or adoptive parent, upon written request. The material may be requested by any of the following parties:

(1) The adoptee, provided that he or she has attained the age of 18 years.

(2) The adoptive parent or parents, on behalf of an adoptee under the age of 18 years, as long as instructions to the contrary have not been made by the depositor.

(3) The birth parent or parents.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all identifying names and addresses shall be deleted from the letters, photographs, or items of personal property before delivery to the requester.

(b) Any letters, photographs, or other items of personal property deposited on or after January 1, 1985, shall be accompanied by a release form or similar document signed by the person depositing the material, specifying to whom the material may be released. At its discretion, the department or licensed adoption agency shall have the right to refuse for deposit items of personal property that, because of value or bulk, would pose storage problems.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), only the following photographs deposited before January 1, 1985, shall be released:

(1) Photographs of the adoptee which have been requested by the adoptee.

(2) Photographs which have been deposited by the adoptee, the adoptive parent or parents, or the birth parent or parents, and for which there is a letter or other document on file indicating that person's consent to the release of the photographs.

(d) The department and licensed adoption agencies may charge a fee to cover the actual costs of any services required by this section in excess of normal postadoptive services provided by the department or agency. The department shall develop a fee schedule that shall be implemented by the department and licensed adoption agencies in assessing charges to the person who deposits the material or the person to whom the material is released. The fee may be waived by the department or licensed adoption agencies in cases in which it is established that a financial hardship exists.

(e) As used in this section, "photograph" means a photograph of the person depositing the photograph or the person making the request for the release.

SEC. 4. Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 230.10) is added to Title 2 of Part 3 of Division 1 of the Civil Code, to read:

CHAPTER 3. ADOPTION OF ADULTS AND MARRIED MINORS

Article 1. General Provisions

230.10. Any adult person or married minor child may be adopted by any other adult person in the cases and subject to the rules prescribed in this chapter.

230.12. No person shall adopt more than one unrelated adult person within one year of his or her adoption of an unrelated adult unless the person to be adopted is the sibling by birth of a person previously adopted pursuant to this section, or unless the person to be adopted is disabled or physically handicapped. No person shall adopt an unrelated adult person within one year of any adoption of an unrelated adult by his or her spouse, unless the person to be adopted is the sibling by birth of a person previously adopted pursuant to this section.

230.14. A person adopted pursuant to this chapter may take the family name of the person adopting. After adoption, the two shall sustain towards each other the legal relation of parent and child, and have all the rights and be subject to all the duties of that relation.

230.16. The parents of a person adopted pursuant to this chapter are, from the time of the adoption, relieved of all parental duties towards, and all responsibility for, the person so adopted, and have no right over that person.

Article 2. Procedures

230.20. (a) Any adult person may adopt any other adult person younger than himself or herself, except the spouse of the adopting person, by an agreement of adoption approved by a decree of adoption of the superior court of the county in which either the person adopting or the person adopted resides, as provided in this section. The agreement of adoption shall be in writing and shall be executed by the person adopting the person to be adopted, and shall set forth that the parties agree to assume toward each other the legal relation of parent and child, and to have all of the rights and be subject to all of the duties and responsibilities of that relation.

A married person not lawfully separated from his or her spouse cannot adopt an adult person without the consent of the spouse of the adopting person, if the spouse, not consenting, is capable of giving the consent. A married person not lawfully separated from his or her spouse cannot be adopted without the consent of the spouse of the person to be adopted if the spouse, not consenting, is capable of giving that consent. Neither the consent of the birth parent or parents of the person to be adopted, nor of the department, nor of any other person shall be required.

(b) The adopting person and the person to be adopted may file in the superior court of the county in which either resides a petition praying for approval of the agreement of adoption by the issuance of an order of adoption. The court shall fix a time and place for hearing on the petition, and both the person adopting and the person to be adopted shall appear at the hearing in person, unless an appearance is impossible, in which event an appearance may be made for either or both of the persons by counsel, empowered in writing to make the appearance. The court may require notice of the time and place of the hearing to be served on any other interested persons, and any interested person may appear and object to the proposed adoption. No investigation or report to the court by any public officer or agency is required, but the court may require the county probation officer or the department to investigate the circumstances of the proposed adoption and report thereon, with recommendations, to the court prior to the hearing.

(c) At the hearing the court shall examine the parties, or the counsel of any party not present in person. If the court is satisfied that the adoption will be for the best interests of the parties and in the public interest, and that there is no reason why the petition should not be granted, the court shall approve the agreement of adoption, and make an order of adoption declaring that the person adopted is the child of the person adopting him or her; otherwise, the court shall withhold approval of the agreement and deny the petition.

A married minor child may be adopted pursuant to this section if he or she has the written consent of his or her spouse to the adoption.

In determining whether or not the adoption of any person pursuant to this subdivision is in the public interest or the best interests of the persons seeking the adoption, the court may consider evidence, oral or written, whether or not it is in conformity with the Evidence Code.

(d) A hearing with regard to the adoption of a person or the termination of a parent and child relationship established pursuant to this section may, in the discretion of the court, be open and public.

(e) The person seeking to adopt shall mail or personally serve notice of the hearing and a copy of the petition to the director of the regional center for the developmentally disabled, established pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 4620) of Division 4.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and to any living birth parents or adult children of the proposed adoptee, at least 30 days before the day of the hearing on a petition for adoption in any case in which both of the following conditions exist:

(1) The proposed adoptee is an adult with developmental disabilities.

(2) The person seeking to adopt is a provider of board and care, treatment, habilitation, or other services to persons with developmental disabilities or is a spouse or employee of a provider.

(f) (1) The petition for adoption shall state the length and nature of the relationship between the person seeking to adopt and the proposed adoptee; the degree of kinship, if any; the reason the adoption is sought, together with a statement as to why the adoption would be in the best interests of the person seeking to adopt, the proposed adoptee, and the public; the names and addresses of any living birth parents or adult children of the proposed adoptee; and whether the person seeking to adopt or his or her spouse has previously adopted any other adult person and, if so, the names of any such person, together with the date and place of the adoption.

(2) If the person seeking to adopt is a provider of board and care, treatment, habilitation, or other services to persons with developmental disabilities, or is a spouse or employee of a provider, and seeks to adopt an unrelated adult with developmental disabilities, the regional center for the developmentally disabled notified pursuant to subdivision (e) shall file a written report with the court regarding the suitability of the proposed adoption in meeting the needs of the proposed adoptee, and regarding any known previous adoption by the petitioner.

(g) Any person who has been adopted under this section may, upon written notice to the adoptive parent, file a petition to terminate the relationship of parent and child. The petition shall indicate the name and address of the petitioner, the name and address of the adoptive parent, the date and place of the adoption, and the circumstances upon which the petition is based. If the adoptive parent consents in writing to the termination, an order terminating the relationship of parent and child may be issued by the court without further notice.

If the adoptive parent does not consent to the termination, a verified, written response shall be filed within 30 days of the date of mailing of the notice, and the matter shall be set for hearing. The court may require an investigation by the county probation officer or the department.

SEC. 5. Section 232 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

232. (a) An action may be brought for the purpose of having any child under the age of 18 years declared free from the custody and control of either or both of his or her parents when the child comes within any of the following descriptions:

(1) The child has been left without provision for the child's identification by his or her parent or parents or by others or has been left by both of his or her parents or his or her sole parent in the care and custody of another for a period of six months or by one parent in the care and custody of the other parent for a period of one year without any provision for the child's support, or without communication from the parent or parents, with the intent on the part of the parent or parents to abandon the child. The failure to provide identification, failure to provide support, or failure to communicate shall be presumptive evidence of the intent to abandon. If the parent or parents have made only token efforts to support or communicate with the child, the court may declare the child abandoned by the parent or parents. In those cases in which the child has been left without provision for the child's identification and the whereabouts of the parents are unknown, a petition may be filed after the 120th day following the discovery of the child and citation by publication may be commenced. The petition may not be heard until after the 180th day following the discovery of the child.

(2) Who has been neglected or cruelly treated by either or both parents, if the child has been a dependent child of the juvenile court under any subdivision of Section 300 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and the parent or parents have been deprived of the child's custody for one year prior to the filing of a petition pursuant to this section. Physical custody by the parent or parents for insubstantial periods of time shall not serve to interrupt the running of the one-year period.

(3) Whose parent or parents suffer a disability because of the habitual use of alcohol, or any of the controlled substances specified in Schedules I to V, inclusive, of Division 10 (commencing with Section 11000) of the Health and Safety Code, except when these controlled substances are used as part of a medically prescribed plan, or are morally depraved, if the child has been a dependent child of the juvenile court, and the parent or parents have been deprived of the child's custody continuously for one year immediately prior to the filing of a petition pursuant to this section. As used in this subdivision, "disability" means any physical or mental incapacity which renders the parent or parents unable to adequately care for and control the child. Physical custody by the parent or parents for insubstantial periods of time shall not interrupt the running of the one-year period.

(4) Whose parent or parents are convicted of a felony, if the facts of the crime of which the parent or parents were convicted are of a nature so as to prove the unfitness of the parent or parents to have the future custody and control of the child.

(5) Whose parent or parents have been declared by a court of competent jurisdiction, wherever situated, to be developmentally disabled or mentally ill, if, in the state or country in which the parent or parents reside or are hospitalized, the Director of Mental Health or the Director of Developmental Services, or their equivalent, if any, and the superintendent of the hospital of which, if any, the parent or parents are inmates or patients, certify that the parent or parents so declared to be developmentally disabled or mentally ill will not be capable of supporting or controlling the child in a proper manner.

(6) Whose parent or parents are mentally disabled and are likely to remain so in the foreseeable future. As used in this subdivision, "mentally disabled" means that a parent or parents suffer any mental incapacity or disorder which renders the parent or parents unable to adequately care for and control the child. The evidence of any two experts, each of whom shall be either a physician and surgeon, certified either by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology or under Section 6750 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or a licensed psychologist who has a doctoral degree in psychology and at least five years of postgraduate experience in the diagnosis and treatment of emotional and mental disorders, shall be required to support a finding under this subdivision. If, however, the parent or parents reside in another state or in a foreign country, the evidence required by this subdivision may be supplied by the affidavits of two experts, each of whom shall be either a physician and surgeon who is a resident of that state or foreign country, and who has been certified by a medical organization or society of that state or foreign country to practice psychiatric or neurological medicine, or by a licensed psychologist who has a doctoral degree in psychology and at least five years of postgraduate experience in the diagnosis and treatment of emotional and mental disorders and who is licensed in that state or authorized to practice in that country. If the rights of any parent are sought to be terminated pursuant to this subdivision, and the parent has no attorney, the court shall appoint an attorney for the parent pursuant to Section 237.5, whether or not a request for the appointment is made by the parent.

(7) Who has been in out-of-home placement under the supervision of the juvenile court, the county welfare department, or other public or private licensed child-placing agency for a one-year period, if the court finds that return of the child to the child's parent or parents would be detrimental to the child and that the parent or parents have failed during that period, and are likely to fail in the future, to maintain an adequate parental relationship with the child, which includes providing both a home and care and control for the child.

If the minor has been adjudged a dependent child of the juvenile court and placed in out-of-home placement pursuant to Section 361 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the one-year period shall be calculated from the date of the dispositional hearing at which the child was placed in out-of-home placement pursuant to that section. If the minor is in placement under the supervision of a county welfare department or other public or private licensed child-placing agency, pursuant to a voluntary placement, as described in Section 16507.4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the one-year period shall be calculated from the date the minor entered out-of-home placement.

The court shall make a determination that reasonable services have been provided or offered to the parents which were designed to aid the parents to overcome the problems which led to the deprivation or continued loss of custody and that despite the availability of these services, return of the child to the parents would be detrimental to the child. The probation officer or social worker currently assigned to the case of the child shall appear at the termination proceedings.

If the minor has been adjudged to be a dependent child of the court pursuant to Section 300 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the court shall review and consider the contents of the juvenile court file in determining if the services offered were reasonable under the circumstances.

Trial placement of the child in the physical custody of the parent or visitation of the child with the parent during the one-year period, when the trial placement or visitation does not result in permanent placement of the child with the parent, shall not serve to interrupt the running of the one-year period.

(8) A minor who has been found to be a dependent child of the juvenile court and the juvenile court has determined, pursuant to paragraph (3), (4), or (5) of subdivision (b) of Section 361.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, that reunification services shall not be provided to the minor's parent or guardian.

(b) At all termination proceedings, the court shall consider the wishes of the child and shall act in the best interests of the child.

The testimony of the minor may be taken in chambers and outside the presence of the minor's parent or parents if the minor's parent or parents are represented by counsel, the counsel is present, and any of the following circumstances exist:

(1) The court determines that testimony in chambers is necessary to ensure truthful testimony.

(2) The minor is likely to be intimidated by a formal courtroom setting.

(3) The minor is afraid to testify in front of his or her parent or parents.

After testimony in chambers, the parent or parents of the minor may elect to have the court reporter read back the testimony or have the testimony summarized by counsel for the parent or parents.

The testimony of a minor also may be taken in chambers and outside the presence of the guardian or guardians of a minor under the circumstances specified in this subdivision.

(c) A finding pursuant to this section shall be supported by clear and convincing evidence.

(d) Sections 4600 and 5158 shall not apply to proceedings pursuant to this section.

(e) This section does not apply to minors adjudged dependent children of the juvenile court pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 360 of the Welfare and Institutions Code on and after January 1, 1989, during the period in which the minor is a dependent child of the court. For those minors, Section 366.26 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and Sections 221.20, 222.10, and 7017 of this code provide the exclusive means for the termination of parental rights.

SEC. 5.5. Section 232 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

232. (a) An action may be brought for the purpose of having any child under the age of 18 years declared free from the custody and control of either or both of his or her parents when the child comes within any of the following descriptions:

(1) The child has been left without provision for the child's identification by his or her parent or parents or by others or has been left by both of his or her parents or his or her sole parent in the care and custody of another for a period of six months or by one parent in the care and custody of the other parent for a period of one year without any provision for the child's support, or without communication from the parent or parents, with the intent on the part of the parent or parents to abandon the child. The failure to provide identification, failure to provide support, or failure to communicate shall be presumptive evidence of the intent to abandon. If the parent or parents have made only token efforts to support or communicate with the child, the court may declare the child abandoned by the parent or parents. In those cases in which the child has been left without provision for the child's identification and the whereabouts of the parents are unknown, a petition may be filed after the 120th day following the discovery of the child and citation by publication may be commenced. The petition may not be heard until after the 180th day following the discovery of the child.

(2) Who has been neglected or cruelly treated by either or both parents, if the child has been a dependent child of the juvenile court under any subdivision of Section 300 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and the parent or parents have been deprived of the child's custody for one year prior to the filing of a petition pursuant to this section. Physical custody by the parent or parents for insubstantial periods of time shall not serve to interrupt the running of the one-year period.

(3) Whose parent or parents suffer a disability because of the habitual use of alcohol, or any of the controlled substances specified in Schedules I to V, inclusive, of Division 10 (commencing with Section 11000) of the Health and Safety Code, except when these controlled substances are used as part of a medically prescribed plan, or are morally depraved, if the child has been a dependent child of the juvenile court, and the parent or parents have been deprived of the child's custody continuously for one year immediately prior to the filing of a petition pursuant to this section. As used in this subdivision, "disability" means any physical or mental incapacity which renders the parent or parents unable to adequately care for and control the child. Physical custody by the parent or parents for insubstantial periods of time shall not interrupt the running of the one-year period.

(4) Whose parent or parents are convicted of a felony, if the facts of the crime of which the parent or parents were convicted are of a nature so as to prove the unfitness of the parent or parents to have the future custody and control of the child.

(5) Whose parent or parents have been declared by a court of competent jurisdiction, wherever situated, to be developmentally disabled or mentally ill, if, in the state or country in which the parent or parents reside or are hospitalized, the Director of Mental Health or the Director of Developmental Services, or their equivalent, if any, and the superintendent of the hospital of which, if any, the parent or parents are inmates or patients, certify that the parent or parents so declared to be developmentally disabled or mentally ill will not be capable of supporting or controlling the child in a proper manner.

(6) Whose parent or parents are mentally disabled and are likely to remain so in the foreseeable future. As used in this subdivision, "mentally disabled" means that a parent or parents suffer any mental incapacity or disorder which renders the parent or parents unable to adequately care for and control the child. The evidence of any two experts, who shall be selected by the court, one of whom shall be a physician and surgeon, certified either by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology or under Section 6750 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or a licensed psychologist who has a doctoral degree in psychology and at least five years of postgraduate experience in the diagnosis and treatment of emotional and mental disorders, and the other of whom shall be either a physician and surgeon, certified either by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology or under Section 6750 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, a licensed psychologist who has a doctoral degree in psychology and at least five years of postgraduate experience in the diagnosis and treatment of emotional and mental disorders, a licensed marriage, family, and child counselor who has at least five years of postgraduate experience in the diagnosis and treatment of emotional and mental disorders, or a licensed clinical social worker who has at least five years of postgraduate experience in the diagnosis and treatment of emotional and mental disorders, shall be required to support a finding under this subdivision. If, however, the parent or parents reside in another state or in a foreign country, the evidence required by this subdivision may be supplied by the affidavits of two experts, each of whom shall be either a physician and surgeon who is a resident of that state or foreign country, and who has been certified by a medical organization or society of that state or foreign country to practice psychiatric or neurological medicine, or by a licensed psychologist who has a doctoral degree in psychology and at least five years of postgraduate experience in the diagnosis and treatment of emotional and mental disorders and who is licensed in that state or authorized to practice in that country. If the rights of any parent are sought to be terminated pursuant to this subdivision, and the parent has no attorney, the court shall appoint an attorney for the parent pursuant to Section 237.5, whether or not a request for the appointment is made by the parent.

(7) Who has been in out-of-home placement under the supervision of the juvenile court, the county welfare department, or other public or private licensed child-placing agency for a one-year period, if the court finds that return of the child to the child's parent or parents would be detrimental to the child and that the parent or parents have failed during that period, and are likely to fail in the future, to maintain an adequate parental relationship with the child, which includes providing both a home and care and control for the child.

If the minor has been adjudged a dependent child of the juvenile court and placed in out-of-home placement pursuant to Section 361 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the one-year period shall be calculated from the date of the dispositional hearing at which the child was placed in out-of-home placement pursuant to that section. If the minor is in placement under the supervision of a county welfare department or other public or private licensed child-placing agency, pursuant to a voluntary placement, as described in Section 16507.4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the one-year period shall be calculated from the date the minor entered out-of-home placement.

The court shall make a determination that reasonable services have been provided or offered to the parents which were designed to aid the parents to overcome the problems which led to the deprivation or continued loss of custody and that despite the availability of these services, return of the child to the parents would be detrimental to the child. The probation officer or social worker currently assigned to the case of the child shall appear at the termination proceedings.

If the minor has been adjudged to be a dependent child of the court pursuant to Section 300 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the court shall review and consider the contents of the juvenile court file in determining if the services offered were reasonable under the circumstances.

Trial placement of the child in the physical custody of the parent or visitation of the child with the parent during the one-year period, when the trial placement or visitation does not result in permanent placement of the child with the parent, shall not serve to interrupt the running of the one-year period.

(8) A minor who has been found to be a dependent child of the juvenile court and the juvenile court has determined, pursuant to paragraph (3), (4), or (5) of subdivision (b) of Section 361.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, that reunification services shall not be provided to the minor's parent or guardian.

(b) At all termination proceedings, the court shall consider the wishes of the child and shall act in the best interests of the child.

The testimony of the minor may be taken in chambers and outside the presence of the minor's parent or parents if the minor's parent or parents are represented by counsel, the counsel is present, and any of the following circumstances exist:

(1) The court determines that testimony in chambers is necessary to ensure truthful testimony.

(2) The minor is likely to be intimidated by a formal courtroom setting.

(3) The minor is afraid to testify in front of his or her parent or parents.

After testimony in chambers, the parent or parents of the minor may elect to have the court reporter read back the testimony or have the testimony summarized by counsel for the parent or parents.

The testimony of a minor also may be taken in chambers and outside the presence of the guardian or guardians of a minor under the circumstances specified in this subdivision.

(c) A finding pursuant to this section shall be supported by clear and convincing evidence.

(d) Sections 4600 and 5158 shall not apply to proceedings pursuant to this section.

(e) This section does not apply to minors adjudged dependent children of the juvenile court pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 360 of the Welfare and Institutions Code on and after January 1, 1989, during the period in which the minor is a dependent child of the court. For those minors, Section 366.26 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and Sections 224, 224m, 221.20, 222.10, and 7017 of this code provide the exclusive means for the termination of parental rights.

SEC. 6. Section 235 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

235. (a) The father or mother of the minor person, if his or her place of residence is known to the petitioner, or, if the place of residence of his or her father or mother is not known to the petitioner, then the grandparents and adult brothers, sisters, uncles, aunts, and first cousins of the minor person, if there are any and if their residences and relationships to that person are known to the petitioner, shall be notified of the proceedings by service of a citation advising the person or persons that they may appear at the time and place stated in the citation. The notice shall also advise the person or persons of the rights and procedures set forth in Section 237.5. The citation shall be served in the manner provided by law for the service of a summons in a civil action, other than by publication. If the petition is filed for the purpose of freeing the child for placement for adoption, the citation shall so state. In all cases where one parent has relinquished his or her child for the purpose of adoption, or has signed a consent for adoption as provided in Section 222.10, 224.62, or 227.40, no notice as herein provided need be given to the parent who has signed that relinquishment or consent. Service of such citations shall be made at least 10 days before the time stated therein for such appearance.

(b) If the father or mother of the minor person or any person alleged to be or claiming to be the father or mother cannot, with reasonable diligence, be served as provided for in subdivision (a), or if his or her place of residence is not known to the petitioner, the petitioner or his agent or attorney shall make and file an affidavit, and shall state therein the name of the father or mother or alleged father or mother and his or her place of residence, if known to the petitioner, and the name of the father or mother or alleged father or mother whose place of residence is unknown to the petitioner. Thereupon the court shall make an order that the service be made by the publication of a citation requiring the father or mother or alleged father or mother to appear at the time and place stated therein, and that the citation be published in a newspaper to be named and designated as most likely to give notice to the father or mother or alleged father or mother to be served once a week for four successive weeks. In case of publication where the residence of a parent or alleged parent is known, the court shall also direct a copy of the citation to be forthwith served upon that parent or alleged parent by mail by deposit in the post office properly addressed and with the postage thereon fully prepaid, directed to that parent or alleged parent at his or her place of residence. When publication is ordered, service of a copy of the citation in the manner provided for in subdivision (a) is equivalent to publication and deposit in the post office. Service is complete at the expiration of the time prescribed by the order for publication or when service is made as provided for in subdivision (a), whichever event shall first occur.

If one or both of the parents of the minor person be unknown or if the name of either or both of his or her parents be uncertain, then that fact shall be set forth in the affidavit and the court shall order the citation to be directed to either the father or the mother, or both, of the minor person, naming and otherwise describing the minor person, and to all persons claiming to be the father or mother of the minor person.

SEC. 7. Section 274 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

274. Approval of an interstate placement of a child for adoption shall not be granted by the compact administrator if the placement is in violation of either Section 224.20 of this code or Section 273 of the Penal Code.

SEC. 8. Section 7013 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

7013. The court has continuing jurisdiction to modify a judgment or order made under this part. A judgment or order relating to an adoption may only be modified in the same manner and under the same conditions as a decree of adoption may be modified under Section 228.10 or 228.15.

SEC. 9. Section 7017 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

7017. (a) (1) If a mother relinquishes for or consents to or proposes to relinquish for or consent to the adoption of a child who has (A) a presumed father under subdivision (a) of Section 7004 or (B) a father as to whom the child is a legitimate child under prior law of this state or under the law of another jurisdiction, the father shall be given notice of the adoption proceeding and have the rights provided under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 220.10) of Title 2 of Part 3 of Division 1 of the Civil Code, unless the father's relationship to the child has been previously terminated or determined by a court not to exist or the father has voluntarily relinquished or consented to the adoption of the child.

(2) If a father relinquishes or consents to or proposes to relinquish a child for adoption, the mother shall be given notice of the adoption proceeding and have the rights provided under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 220.10) of Title 2 of Part 3 of Division 1 of the Civil Code, unless the mother's relationship to the child has been previously terminated by a court or the mother has voluntarily relinquished or consented to the adoption of the child.

(b) If a mother relinquishes for, consents to, or proposes to relinquish for or consent to the adoption of a child who does not have (1) a presumed father under subdivision (a) of Section 7004 or (2) a father as to whom the child is a legitimate child under prior law of this state or under the law of another jurisdiction, or if a child otherwise becomes the subject of an adoption proceeding and the alleged father, if any, has not, in writing, denied paternity, waived his right to notice, voluntarily relinquished or consented to the adoption, the agency or person to whom the child has been or is to be relinquished, or the mother or the person having custody of the child, shall file a petition in the superior court to terminate the parental rights of the father, unless the father's relationship to the child has been previously terminated or determined not to exist by a court, or unless the father has been served as prescribed in subdivision (f) with a written notice alleging that he is or could be the natural father of the child to be adopted or placed for adoption and has failed to bring an action for the purpose of declaring the existence of the father and child relationship pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 7006 within 30 days of service of the notice or the birth of the child, whichever is later.

(c) In an effort to identify the natural father, the court shall cause inquiry to be made of the mother and any other appropriate person by the State Department of Social Services, a licensed county adoption agency, or the licensed adoption agency to which the child is to be relinquished, or in the case of a stepparent adoption, at the option of the board of supervisors, a licensed county adoption agency, the county department designated by the board of supervisors to administer the public social services program, or the county probation department. The inquiry shall include the following: whether the mother was married at the time of conception of the child or at any time thereafter; whether the mother was cohabiting with a man at the time of conception or birth of the child; whether the mother has received support payments or promises of support with respect to the child or in connection with her pregnancy; or whether any man has formally or informally acknowledged or declared his possible paternity of the child. The department or the licensed adoption agency shall report the findings to the court.

(d) (1) If, after the inquiry, the natural father is identified to the satisfaction of the court, or if more than one man is identified as a possible father, each shall be given notice of the proceeding in accordance with subdivision (f), unless he has been served with a written notice alleging that he is or could be the natural father of the child to be adopted, or placed or relinquished for adoption and has failed to bring an action pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 7006 to declare the existence of the father and child relationship within 30 days of serving the notice or the birth of the child, whichever is later. If any of them fails to appear or, if appearing, fails to claim parental rights, his parental rights with reference to the child shall be terminated.

(2) If the natural father or a man representing himself to be the natural father claims parental rights, the court shall determine if he is the father. The court shall then determine if it is in the best interest of the child that the father retain his parental rights, or that an adoption of the child be allowed to proceed. The court, in making that determination, may consider all relevant evidence, including the efforts made by the father to obtain custody, the age and prior placement of the child, and the effects of a change of placement on the child. If the court finds that it is in the best interest of the child that the father should be allowed to retain his parental rights, it shall order that his consent is necessary for an adoption. If the court finds that the man claiming parental rights is not the father, or that if he is the father it is in the child's best interest that an adoption be allowed to proceed, it shall order that that person's consent is not required for an adoption; such a finding terminates all parental rights and responsibilities with respect to the child. Section 4600 does not apply to this proceeding. Nothing in this section changes the rights of a presumed father.

(e) If, after the inquiry, the court is unable to identify the natural father or any possible natural father and no person has appeared claiming to be the natural father and claiming custodial rights, the court shall enter an order terminating the unknown natural father's parental rights with reference to the child.

(f) Notice of the proceeding shall be given to every person identified as the natural father or a possible natural father in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure for the service of process in a civil action in this state, provided that publication or posting of the notice of the proceeding shall not be required. Proof of giving the notice shall be filed with the court before the petition is heard. However, if a person identified as the natural father or possible natural father cannot be located or his whereabouts are unknown or cannot be ascertained, the court may issue an order dispensing with notice to that person.

(g) Any order requiring or dispensing with a father's consent for the adoption of a child may be appealed from in the same manner as an order of the juvenile court declaring a person to be a ward of the juvenile court.

SEC. 10. Section 124 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

124. Except as provided in Sections 221.60 and 4306 of the Civil Code or any other provision of law, the sittings of every court shall be public.

SEC. 11. Section 10125.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

10125.5. (a) The second section of the certificate of live birth as specified in subdivision (b) of Section 10125 shall be confidential. Access to such portion of any certificate of live birth shall be limited to the following:

(1) State Department of Health Services staff.

(2) Local registrar's staff and local health department staff when approved by the local registrar or local health officer, respectively.

(3) Persons with a valid scientific interest as determined by the State Registrar, who are engaged in demographic, epidemiological or other similar studies related to health, and who agree to maintain confidentiality as prescribed by this division and by regulation of the State Registrar.

(4) The mother or father identified in the certificate.

(5) The person named on the certificate.

(6) Any person who has petitioned to adopt the person named on the certificate, subject to the provisions of Section 10439 of the Health and Safety Code and Sections 229.10 and 229.40 of the Civil Code.

(b) The State Department of Health Services shall maintain an accurate record of all persons who are given access to the confidential portion of the certificate. That record shall include: the name of the person authorizing access; name, title, and organizational affiliation of persons given access; dates of access; and specific purpose for which information is to be used. The record of access shall be open to public inspection during normal operating hours of the State Department of Health Services.

(c) All research proposed to be conducted using the confidential medical and social information on the birth certificate shall first be reviewed by the appropriate committee constituted for the protection of human subjects which is approved by the federal Department of Health, Education, and Welfare and has a general assurance pursuant to Part 46 of Title 45 of the Code of Federal Regulations. No information shall be released until the request for information has been reviewed by the Vital Statistics Advisory Committee and that committee has recommended to the State Registrar that the information shall be released.

SEC. 11.5. Section 10125.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

10125.5. (a) The second section of the certificate of live birth as specified in subdivision (b) of Section 10125 shall be confidential. Access to such portion of any certificate of live birth shall be limited to the following:

(1) State Department of Health Services staff.

(2) Local registrar's staff and local health department staff when approved by the local registrar or local health officer, respectively.

(3) Persons with a valid scientific interest as determined by the State Registrar, who are engaged in demographic, epidemiological or other similar studies related to health, and who agree to maintain confidentiality as prescribed by this division and by regulation of the State Registrar.

(4) The parent who signed the certificate or, if no parent signed the certificate, the mother.

(5) The person named on the certificate.

(6) Any person who has petitioned to adopt the person named on the certificate, subject to the provisions of Section 10439 of the Health and Safety Code and Sections 229.10 and 229.40 of the Civil Code.

(b) The State Department of Health Services shall maintain an accurate record of all persons who are given access to the confidential portion of the certificate. The record shall include: the name of the person authorizing access; name, title, and organizational affiliation of persons given access; dates of access; and specific purpose for which information is to be used. The record of access shall be open to public inspection during normal operating hours of the State Department of Health Services.

(c) All research proposed to be conducted using the confidential medical and social information on the birth certificate shall first be reviewed by the appropriate committee constituted for the protection of human subjects which is approved by the federal Department of Health and Human Services and has a general assurance pursuant to Part 46 of Title 45 of the Code of Federal Regulations. No information shall be released until the request for information has been reviewed by the Vital Statistics Advisory Committee and such committee has recommended to the State Registrar that the information shall be released.

SEC. 12. Section 10433.2 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

10433.2. If both adopting parents were in the home at the time of the initial placement of the child for adoption the newly amended birth record may include the names of both adopting parents despite the death of one of the adopting parents, upon receipt of an order from the court granting the adoption which directs under the authority of Section 221.72 of the Civil Code that the names of both adopting parents shall be included on the newly amended birth record.

SEC. 13. Section 10433.3 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

10433.3. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an adopting parent who has adopted a child for whom an amended record has already been prepared under authority of this article may have another amended record prepared for such child, upon application, furnishing a copy of the court order made in an action brought pursuant to Section 221.72 of the Civil Code, and payment of the required fee.

SEC. 14. Section 280 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

280. Every person who willfully causes or permits the removal or concealment of any child in violation of Section 222.50, 224.33, or 226.40 of the Civil Code is punishable as follows:

(a) By imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year if the child is concealed within the county in which the adoption proceeding is pending or in which the child has been placed for adoption, or is removed from that county to a place within this state; or

(b) By imprisonment in the state prison, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year if the child is removed from that county to a place outside of this state.

SEC. 15. Section 11170 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

11170. (a) The Department of Justice shall maintain an index of all reports of child abuse submitted pursuant to Section 11169. The index shall be continually updated by the department and shall not contain any reports that are determined to be unfounded. The department may adopt rules governing recordkeeping and reporting pursuant to this article.

(b) (1) The Department of Justice shall immediately notify a child protective agency which submits a report pursuant to Section 11169, or a district attorney who requests notification, of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) which is relevant to the known or suspected instance of child abuse reported by the agency. A child protective agency shall make that information available to the reporting medical practitioner, child custodian, guardian ad litem appointed under Section 326, or counsel appointed under Section 317 or 318 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or the appropriate licensing agency, if he or she is treating or investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse.

(2) When a report is made pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 11166, the investigating agency shall, upon completion of the investigation or after there has been a final disposition in the matter, inform the person required to report of the results of the investigation and of any action the agency is taking with regard to the child or family.

(3) The department shall make available to the State Department of Social Services or to any county licensing agency which has contracted with the state for the performance of licensing duties any information received subsequent to January 1, 1981, pursuant to this section concerning any person who is an applicant for licensure or any adult who resides or is employed in the home of an applicant for licensure or who is an applicant for employment in a position having supervisorial or disciplinary power over a child or children, or who will provide 24-hour care for a child or children in a residential home or facility, pursuant to Section 1522.1 or 1596.877 of the Health and Safety Code, or Section 222.70, 224.30, 226.52, or 227.10 of the Civil Code. If the department has information which has been received subsequent to January 1, 1981, concerning such a person, it shall also make available to the State Department of Social Services or the county licensing agency any other information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a).

(4) The department shall notify parents or legal guardians requesting a background examination of a professional child care provider pursuant to Chapter 3.65 (commencing with Section 1597.80) of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, of the fact that a substantiated report exists which indicates that the professional child care provider was a suspect of child abuse subsequent to January 1, 1981, or prior to January 1, 1981, if there was also a report subsequent to that date.

(5) The department shall notify parents or legal guardians requesting a background examination of a professional child care provider pursuant to Chapter 3.65 (commencing with Section 1597.80) of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, of the fact that no substantiated report exists which indicates that the professional child care provider was a suspect of child abuse subsequent to January 1, 1981.

SEC. 15.5. Section 11170 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

11170. (a) The Department of Justice shall maintain an index of all reports of child abuse submitted pursuant to Section 11169. The index shall be continually updated by the department and shall not contain any reports that are determined to be unfounded or which have been destroyed under Section 11169. The department may adopt rules governing recordkeeping and reporting pursuant to this article.

No other public agency, except law enforcement agencies and state and local agencies responsible for licensing child care facilities, shall maintain an index of child abuse reports.

(b) (1) The Department of Justice shall immediately notify a child protective agency which submits a report pursuant to Section 11169, or a district attorney who requests notification, of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) which is relevant to the known or suspected instance of child abuse reported by the agency. A child protective agency shall make that information available to the reporting medical practitioner, child custodian, guardian ad litem appointed under Section 326, or counsel appointed under Section 317 or 318, of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or the appropriate licensing agency, if he or she is treating or investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse.

(2) When a report is made pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 11166, the investigating agency shall, upon completion of the investigation or after there has been a final disposition in the matter, inform the person required to report of the results of the investigation and of any action the agency is taking with regard to the child or family.

(3) The department shall make available to the State Department of Social Services or to any county licensing agency which has contracted with the state for the performance of licensing duties any information received subsequent to January 1, 1981, pursuant to this section concerning any person who is an applicant for licensure or any adult who resides or is employed in the home of an applicant for licensure or who is an applicant for employment in a position having supervisorial or disciplinary power over a child or children, or who will provide 24-hour care for a child or children in a residential home or facility, pursuant to Section 1522.1 or 1596.877 of the Health and Safety Code, or Section 222.70, 224.30, 226.52, or 227.10 of the Civil Code. If the department has information which has been received subsequent to January 1, 1981, concerning such a person, it shall also make available to the State Department of Social Services or the county licensing agency any other information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a).

(4) The department shall notify parents or legal guardians requesting a background examination of a professional child care provider pursuant to Chapter 3.65 (commencing with Section 1597.80) of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, of the fact that a substantiated report exists which indicates that the professional child care provider was a suspect of child abuse subsequent to January 1, 1981, or prior to January 1, 1981, if there was also a report subsequent to that date.

(5) The department shall notify parents or legal guardians requesting a background examination of a professional child care provider pursuant to Chapter 3.65 (commencing with Section 1597.80) of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, of the fact that no substantiated report exists which indicates that the professional child care provider was a suspect of child abuse subsequent to January 1, 1981.

(c) A school district shall not retain, collect, or otherwise possess any child abuse reports naming a child care custodian as perpetrator which have been determined to be unfounded as defined in Section 11165.12. Any of these unfounded reports in the possession or custody of any school district on January 1, 1991, shall be destroyed on or before January 15, 1991, or within 15 days after it has been determined to be unfounded and no copies may be made or retained by the school district. A school district shall be liable to any aggrieved child care custodian for damages and reasonable attorney's fees for violations of this subdivision.

A child protective agency shall advise the school district whenever a report of child abuse involving a child care custodian is deemed to be founded.

No report of suspected child abuse which names a child care custodian as perpetrator shall be retained by any public or private school district, nor may it be retained in any individual school files. However, if any reported incidents of child abuse form the basis for disciplinary action, the school or school district may maintain its customary record of the incidents in accordance with a memorandum of understanding adopted pursuant to Chapter 10.7 (commencing with Section 3540) of Division 4 of Title 1 of the Government Code, but under no circumstances shall the record include any report of suspected child abuse pursuant to the Child Abuse Reporting Act.

SEC. 15.7. Section 11170 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

11170. (a) The Department of Justice shall maintain an index of all reports of child abuse submitted pursuant to Section 11169. The index shall be continually updated by the department and shall not contain any reports that are determined to be unfounded. The department may adopt rules governing recordkeeping and reporting pursuant to this article.

(b) (1) The Department of Justice shall immediately notify a child protective agency which submits a report pursuant to Section 11169, or a district attorney who requests notification, of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) which is relevant to the known or suspected instance of child abuse reported by the agency. A child protective agency shall make that information available to the reporting medical practitioner, child custodian, guardian ad litem appointed under Section 326, or counsel appointed under Section 317 or 318 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or the appropriate licensing agency, if he or she is treating or investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse.

(2) When a report is made pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 11166, the investigating agency shall, upon completion of the investigation or after there has been a final disposition in the matter, inform the person required to report of the results of the investigation and of any action the agency is taking with regard to the child or family.

(3) The department shall make available to the State Department of Social Services or to any county licensing agency which has contracted with the state for the performance of licensing duties any information received subsequent to January 1, 1981, pursuant to this section concerning any person who is an applicant for licensure or any adult who resides or is employed in the home of an applicant for licensure or who is an applicant for employment in a position having supervisorial or disciplinary power over a child or children, or who will provide 24-hour care for a child or children in a residential home or facility, pursuant to Section 1522.1 or 1596.877 of the Health and Safety Code, or Section 222.70, 224.30, 226.52, or 227.10 of the Civil Code. If the department has information which has been received subsequent to January 1, 1981, concerning such a person, it shall also make available to the State Department of Social Services or the county licensing agency any other information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a).

(4) Persons or agencies, as specified in subdivision (b), if investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse, or the State Department of Social Services or any county licensing agency pursuant to paragraph (3), to whom disclosure of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) is authorized, are responsible for obtaining the original investigative report from the reporting agency, and for drawing independent conclusions regarding the quality of the evidence disclosed, and its sufficiency for making decisions regarding investigation, prosecution, or licensing.

SEC. 15.9. Section 11170 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

11170. (a) The Department of Justice shall maintain an index of all reports of child abuse submitted pursuant to Section 11169. The index shall be continually updated by the department and shall not contain any reports that are determined to be unfounded or which have been destroyed under Section 11169. The department may adopt rules governing recordkeeping and reporting pursuant to this article.

No other public agency, except law enforcement agencies and state and local agencies responsible for licensing child care facilities, shall maintain an index of child abuse reports.

(b) (1) The Department of Justice shall immediately notify a child protective agency which submits a report pursuant to Section 11169, or a district attorney who requests notification, of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) which is relevant to the known or suspected instance of child abuse reported by the agency. A child protective agency shall make that information available to the reporting medical practitioner, child custodian, guardian ad litem appointed under Section 326, or counsel appointed under Section 317 or 318, of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or the appropriate licensing agency, if he or she is treating or investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse.

(2) When a report is made pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 11166, the investigating agency shall, upon completion of the investigation or after there has been a final disposition in the matter, inform the person required to report of the results of the investigation and of any action the agency is taking with regard to the child or family.

(3) The department shall make available to the State Department of Social Services or to any county licensing agency which has contracted with the state for the performance of licensing duties any information received subsequent to January 1, 1981, pursuant to this section concerning any person who is an applicant for licensure or any adult who resides or is employed in the home of an applicant for licensure or who is an applicant for employment in a position having supervisorial or disciplinary power over a child or children, or who will provide 24-hour care for a child or children in a residential home or facility, pursuant to Section 1522.1 or 1596.877 of the Health and Safety Code, or Section 222.70, 224.30, 226.52, or 227.10 of the Civil Code. If the department has information which has been received subsequent to January 1, 1981, concerning such a person, it shall also make available to the State Department of Social Services or the county licensing agency any other information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a).

(4) Persons or agencies, as specified in subdivision (b), if investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse, or the State Department of Social Services or any county licensing agency pursuant to paragraph (3), to whom disclosure of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) is authorized, are responsible for obtaining the original investigative report from the reporting agency, and for drawing independent conclusions regarding the quality of the evidence disclosed, and its sufficiency for making decisions regarding investigation, prosecution, or licensing.

(c) A school district shall not retain, collect, or otherwise possess any child abuse reports naming a child care custodian as perpetrator which have been determined to be unfounded as defined in Section 11165.12. Any of these unfounded reports in the possession or custody of any school district on January 1, 1991, shall be destroyed on or before January 15, 1991, or within 15 days after it has been determined to be unfounded and no copies may be made or retained by the school district. A school district shall be liable to any aggrieved child care custodian for damages and reasonable attorney's fees for violations of this subdivision.

A child protective agency shall advise the school district whenever a report of child abuse involving a child care custodian is deemed to be founded.

No report of suspected child abuse which names a child are custodian as perpetrator shall be retained by any public or private school district, nor may it be retained in any individual school files. However, if any reported incidents of child abuse form the basis for disciplinary action, the school or school district may maintain its customary record of the incidents in accordance with a memorandum of understanding adopted pursuant to Chapter 10.7 (commencing with Section 3540) of Division 4 of Title 1 of the Government Code, but under no circumstances shall the record include any report of suspected child abuse pursuant to the Child Abuse Reporting Act.

SEC. 15.10. Section 11170 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

11170. (a) The Department of Justice shall maintain an index of all reports of child abuse submitted pursuant to Section 11169. The index shall be continually updated by the department and shall not contain any reports that are determined to be unfounded or which have been destroyed under Section 11169. The department may adopt rules governing recordkeeping and reporting pursuant to this article.

No other public agency, except law enforcement agencies and state and local agencies responsible for licensing child care facilities, shall maintain an index of child abuse reports.

(b) (1) The Department of Justice shall immediately notify a child protective agency which submits a report pursuant to Section 11169, or a district attorney who requests notification, of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) which is relevant to the known or suspected instance of child abuse reported by the agency. A child protective agency shall make that information available to the reporting medical practitioner, child custodian, guardian ad litem appointed under Section 326, or counsel appointed under Section 317 or 318 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or the appropriate licensing agency, if he or she is treating or investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse.

(2) When a report is made pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 11166, the investigating agency shall, upon completion of the investigation or after there has been a final disposition in the matter, inform the person required to report of the results of the investigation and of any action the agency is taking with regard to the child or family.

(3) The department shall make available to the State Department of Social Services or to any county licensing agency which has contracted with the state for the performance of licensing duties any information received subsequent to January 1, 1981, pursuant to this section concerning any person who is an applicant for licensure or any adult who resides or is employed in the home of an applicant for licensure or who is an applicant for employment in a position having supervisorial or disciplinary power over a child or children, or who will provide 24-hour care for a child or children in a residential home or facility, pursuant to Section 1522.1 or 1596.877 of the Health and Safety Code, or Section 226 of the Civil Code. If the department has information which has been received subsequent to January 1, 1981, concerning such a person, it shall also make available to the State Department of Social Services or the county licensing agency any other information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a).

(4) Persons or agencies, as specified in subdivision (b), if investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse, or the State Department of Social Services or any county licensing agency pursuant to paragraph (3), to whom disclosure of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) is authorized, are responsible for obtaining the original investigative report from the reporting agency, and for drawing independent conclusions regarding the quality of the evidence disclosed, and its sufficiency for making decisions regarding investigation, prosecution, or licensing.

(c) A school district shall not retain, collect, or otherwise possess any child abuse reports naming a child care custodian as perpetrator which have been determined to be unfounded as defined in Section 11165.12. Any of these unfounded reports in the possession or custody of any school district on January 1, 1991, shall be destroyed on or before January 15, 1991, or within 15 days after it has been determined to be unfounded and no copies may be made or retained by the school district. A school district shall be liable to any aggrieved child care custodian for damages and reasonable attorney's fees for violations of this subdivision.

A child protective agency shall advise the school district whenever a report of child abuse involving a child care custodian is deemed to be founded.

No report of suspected child abuse which names a child care custodian as perpetrator shall be retained by any public or private school district, nor may it be retained in any individual school files. However, if any reported incidents of child abuse form the basis for disciplinary action, the school or school district may maintain its customary record of the incidents in accordance with a memorandum of understanding adopted pursuant to Chapter 10.7 (commencing with Section 3540) of Division 4 of Title 1 of the Government Code, but under no circumstances shall the record include any report of suspected child abuse pursuant to the Child Abuse Reporting Act.

SEC. 16. Section 366.26 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

366.26. (a) This section applies to minors who are adjudged dependent children of the juvenile court pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 360 on or after January 1, 1989. The procedures specified herein are the exclusive procedures for conducting these hearings; Section 4600 of the Civil Code is not applicable to these proceedings. For minors who are adjudged dependent children of the juvenile court pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 360, this section and Sections 221.20, 222.10, and 7017 of the Civil Code specify the exclusive procedures, after January 1, 1990, for permanently terminating parental rights with regard to, or establishing legal guardianship of, the minor while the minor is a dependent child of the juvenile court.

(b) At the hearing, which shall be held in juvenile court for all minors who are dependents of the juvenile court, the court, in order to provide stable, permanent homes for these minors, shall review the report as specified in Section 361.5, 366.21, or 366.22, shall indicate that the court has read and considered it, shall receive other evidence that the parties present, and then shall do one of the following:

(1) Permanently sever the parent or parents' rights and order that the child be placed for adoption.

(2) Without permanently terminating parental rights, identify adoption as the permanent placement goal and order that efforts be made to locate an appropriate adoptive family for the minor for a period not to exceed 60 days.

(3) Without permanently terminating parental rights, appoint a legal guardian for the minor and issue letters of guardianship.

(4) Order that the minor be placed in long-term foster care, subject to the regular review of the juvenile court.

In choosing among the above alternatives the court shall proceed pursuant to subdivision (c).

(c) At the hearing the court shall proceed pursuant to one of the following procedures:

(1) It shall terminate parental rights if it determines by clear and convincing evidence that it is likely that the minor will be adopted. The findings pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 361.5 that reunification services shall not be offered, or the findings pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 366.21 that the whereabouts of a parent have been unknown for six months or that the parent has failed to visit or contact the child for six months or that the parent has been convicted of a felony indicating parental unfitness, or pursuant to Section 366.21 or Section 366.22 that a minor cannot or should not be returned to his or her parent or guardian, are a sufficient basis for termination of parental rights unless the court finds that termination would be detrimental to the minor due to one of the following circumstances:

(A) The parents or guardians have maintained regular visitation and contact with the minor and the minor would benefit from continuing the relationship.

(B) A minor 10 years of age or older objects to termination of parental rights.

(C) The child is placed in a residential treatment facility, adoption is unlikely or undesirable, and continuation of parental rights will not prevent finding the child a permanent family placement if the parents cannot resume custody when residential care is no longer needed.

(D) The minor is living with a relative or foster parent who is unable or unwilling to adopt the minor because of exceptional circumstances, which do not include an unwillingness to accept legal responsibility for the minor, but who is willing and capable of providing the minor with a stable and permanent environment and the removal of the minor from the physical custody of his or her relative or foster parent would be detrimental to the emotional well-being of the minor.

(2) If the court finds that termination of parental rights would not be detrimental to the minor pursuant to paragraph (1) and that the minor has a probability for adoption but is difficult to place for adoption and there is no identified or available prospective adoptive parent, the court may identify adoption as the permanent placement goal and without terminating parental rights, order that efforts be made to locate an appropriate adoptive family for the minor for a period not to exceed 60 days. During this 60-day period, the public agency responsible for seeking adoptive parents, for each child shall, to the extent possible, contact other private and public adoption agencies regarding the availability of the child for adoption. At the expiration of this period, another hearing shall be held and the court shall proceed pursuant to paragraph (1), (3), or (4) of subdivision (b). For purposes of this section, a minor may only be found to be difficult to place for adoption if there is no identified or available prospective adoptive parent for the minor because of the minor's membership in a sibling group, or the presence of a diagnosed medical, physical, or mental handicap, or the minor is the age of seven years or more.

(3) If the court finds that adoption of the minor or termination of parental rights is not in the interests of the minor, or that one of the conditions in subparagraph (A), (B), (C), or (D) of paragraph (1) applies, the court shall either order that the present caretakers or other appropriate persons shall become legal guardians of the minor or order that the minor remain in long-term foster care. Legal guardianship shall be considered before long-term foster care, if it is in the best interests of the child and if a suitable guardian can be found. When the minor is living with a relative or a foster parent who is willing and capable of providing a stable and permanent environment, but not willing to become a legal guardian, the minor shall not be removed from the home if the court finds the removal would be seriously detrimental to the emotional well-being of the minor because the minor has substantial psychological ties to the relative caretaker or foster parents. The court shall also make an order for visitation with the parents or guardians unless the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the visitation would be detrimental to the physical or emotional well-being of the minor.

(4) If the court finds that the child should not be placed for adoption, that legal guardianship shall not be established, and that there are no suitable foster parents except exclusive-use homes available to provide the minor with a stable and permanent environment, the court may order the care, custody, and control of the minor transferred from the county welfare department or probation department to a licensed foster family agency. The court shall consider the written recommendation of the county welfare director or chief probation officer regarding the suitability of such a transfer. The transfer shall be subject to further court orders.

The licensed foster family agency shall place the minor in a suitable licensed or exclusive-use home which has been certified by the agency as meeting licensing standards. The licensed foster family agency shall be responsible for supporting the minor and for providing appropriate services to the minor, including those services ordered by the court. Responsibility for the support of the minor shall not, in and of itself, create liability on the part of the foster family agency to third persons injured by the minor. Those minors whose care, custody, and control are transferred to a foster family agency shall not be eligible for foster care maintenance payments or child welfare services, except for emergency response services pursuant to Section 16504.

(d) The proceeding for the appointment of a guardian for a minor who is a dependent of the juvenile court shall be in the juvenile court. If the court finds pursuant to this section that legal guardianship is the appropriate permanency plan, it shall appoint the legal guardian and issue letters of guardianship. The assessment prepared pursuant to subdivision (g) of Section 361.5, subdivision (i) of Section 366.21, and subdivision (b) of Section 366.22 shall be read and considered by the court prior to the appointment, and this shall be reflected in the minutes of the court. The person preparing the assessment may be called and examined by any party to the proceeding.

(e) At the beginning of any proceeding pursuant to this section, if the minor or the parents are not being represented by previously retained or appointed counsel, the court shall proceed as follows:

(1) The court shall consider whether the interests of the minor require the appointment of counsel. If the court finds that the interests of the minor do require such protection, the court shall appoint counsel to represent the minor. If the court finds that the interests of the minor require the representation of counsel, counsel shall be appointed whether or not the minor is able to afford counsel.

The minor shall not be present in court unless the minor so requests or the court so orders.

(2) If a parent appears without counsel and is unable to afford counsel, the court shall appoint counsel for the parent, unless this representation is knowingly and intelligently waived. The same counsel shall not be appointed to represent both the minor and his or her parent. The public defender or private counsel may be appointed as counsel for the parent.

(3) Private counsel appointed under this section shall receive a reasonable sum for compensation and expenses, the amount of which shall be determined by the court. The amount shall be paid by the real parties in interest, other than the minor, in such proportions as the court deems just. However, if the court finds that any of the real parties in interest are unable to afford counsel, the amount shall be paid out of the general fund of the county.

(f) The court may continue the proceeding for not to exceed 30 days as necessary to appoint counsel, and to enable counsel to become acquainted with the case.

(g) At all termination proceedings, the court shall consider the wishes of the child and shall act in the best interests of the child.

The testimony of the minor may be taken in chambers and outside the presence of the minor's parent or parents if the minor's parent or parents are represented by counsel, the counsel is present, and any of the following circumstances exist:

(1) The court determines that testimony in chambers is necessary to ensure truthful testimony.

(2) The minor is likely to be intimidated by a formal courtroom setting.

(3) The minor is afraid to testify in front of his or her parent or parents.

After testimony in chambers, the parent or parents of the minor may elect to have the court reporter read back the testimony or have the testimony summarized by counsel for the parent or parents.

The testimony of a minor also may be taken in chambers and outside the presence of the guardian or guardians of a minor under the circumstances specified in this subdivision.

(h) Any order of the court permanently terminating parental rights under this section shall be conclusive and binding upon the minor person, upon the parent or parents and upon all other persons who have been served with citation by publication or otherwise as provided in this chapter. After making such an order, the court shall have no power to set aside, change, or modify it, but nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the right to appeal the order.

(i) If the court, by order or judgment declared the minor free from the custody and control of both parents, or one parent if the other no longer has custody and control, the court shall at the same time order the minor referred to a licensed county adoption agency for adoptive placement by the agency. However, no petition for adoption may be heard until the appellate rights of the natural parents have been exhausted. The licensed county adoption agency shall be responsible for the care and supervision of the minor and shall be entitled to the exclusive care and control of the minor at all times until a petition for adoption is granted.

(j) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the application of any person who, as a relative caretaker or foster parent, has cared for a dependent child for whom the court has approved a permanent plan for adoption, or who has been freed for adoption, shall be given preference with respect to that child over all other applications for adoptive placement if the agency making the placement determines that the child has substantial emotional ties to the relative caretaker or foster parent and removal from the relative caretaker or foster parent would be seriously detrimental to the child's well-being.

As used in this subdivision, "preference" means that the application shall be processed and, if satisfactory, the family study shall be completed before the processing of the application of any other person for the adoptive placement of the child.

(k) An order by the court directing that a hearing pursuant to this section be held is not an appealable order, but may be the subject of review by extraordinary writ.

SEC. 16.5. Section 366.26 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

366.26. (a) This section applies to minors who are adjudged dependent children of the juvenile court pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 360 on or after January 1, 1989. The procedures specified herein are the exclusive procedures for conducting these hearings; Section 4600 of the Civil Code is not applicable to these proceedings. For minors who are adjudged dependent children of the juvenile court pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 360 on or after January 1, 1989, this section and Sections 221.20, 222.10, and 7017 of the Civil Code specify the exclusive procedures for permanently terminating parental rights with regard to, or establishing legal guardianship of, the minor while the minor is a dependent child of the juvenile court.

(b) At the hearing, which shall be held in juvenile court for all minors who are dependents of the juvenile court, the court, in order to provide stable, permanent homes for these minors, shall review the report as specified in Section 361.5, 366.21, or 366.22, shall indicate that the court has read and considered it, shall receive other evidence that the parties present, and then shall do one of the following:

(1) Permanently sever the parent or parents' rights and order that the child be placed for adoption.

(2) Without permanently terminating parental rights, identify adoption as the permanent placement goal and order that efforts be made to locate an appropriate adoptive family for the minor for a period not to exceed 60 days.

(3) Without permanently terminating parental rights, appoint a legal guardian for the minor and issue letters of guardianship.

(4) Order that the minor be placed in long-term foster care, subject to the regular review of the juvenile court.

In choosing among the above alternatives the court shall proceed pursuant to subdivision (c).

(c) At the hearing the court shall proceed pursuant to one of the following procedures:

(1) It shall terminate parental rights only if it determines by clear and convincing evidence that it is likely that the minor will be adopted. If the court so determines, the findings pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 361.5 that reunification services shall not be offered, or the findings pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 366.21 that the whereabouts of a parent have been unknown for six months or that the parent has failed to visit or contact the child for six months or that the parent has been convicted of a felony indicating parental unfitness, or pursuant to Section 366.21 or Section 366.22 that a minor cannot or should not be returned to his or her parent or guardian, shall then constitute a sufficient basis for termination of parental rights unless the court finds that termination would be detrimental to the minor due to one of the following circumstances:

(A) The parents or guardians have maintained regular visitation and contact with the minor and the minor would benefit from continuing the relationship.

(B) A minor 10 years of age or older objects to termination of parental rights.

(C) The child is placed in a residential treatment facility, adoption is unlikely or undesirable, and continuation of parental rights will not prevent finding the child a permanent family placement if the parents cannot resume custody when residential care is no longer needed.

(D) The minor is living with a relative or foster parent who is unable or unwilling to adopt the minor because of exceptional circumstances, which do not include an unwillingness to accept legal responsibility for the minor, but who is willing and capable of providing the minor with a stable and permanent environment and the removal of the minor from the physical custody of his or her relative or foster parent would be detrimental to the emotional well-being of the minor.

(2) If the court finds that termination of parental rights would not be detrimental to the minor pursuant to paragraph (1) and that the minor has a probability for adoption but is difficult to place for adoption and there is no identified or available prospective adoptive parent, the court may identify adoption as the permanent placement goal and without terminating parental rights, order that efforts be made to locate an appropriate adoptive family for the minor for a period not to exceed 60 days. During this 60-day period, the public agency responsible for seeking adoptive parents, for each child shall, to the extent possible, contact other private and public adoption agencies regarding the availability of the child for adoption. At the expiration of this period, another hearing shall be held and the court shall proceed pursuant to paragraph (1), (3), or (4) of subdivision (b). For purposes of this section, a minor may only be found to be difficult to place for adoption if there is no identified or available prospective adoptive parent for the minor because of the minor's membership in a sibling group, or the presence of a diagnosed medical, physical, or mental handicap, or the minor is the age of seven years or more.

(3) If the court finds that adoption of the minor or termination of parental rights is not in the interests of the minor, or that one of the conditions in subparagraph (A), (B), (C), or (D) of paragraph (1) applies, the court shall either order that the present caretakers or other appropriate persons shall become legal guardians of the minor or order that the minor remain in long-term foster care. Legal guardianship shall be considered before long-term foster care, if it is in the best interests of the child and if a suitable guardian can be found. When the minor is living with a relative or a foster parent who is willing and capable of providing a stable and permanent environment, but not willing to become a legal guardian, the minor shall not be removed from the home if the court finds the removal would be seriously detrimental to the emotional well-being of the minor because the minor has substantial psychological ties to the relative caretaker or foster parents. The court shall also make an order for visitation with the parents or guardians unless the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the visitation would be detrimental to the physical or emotional well-being of the minor.

(4) If the court finds that the child should not be placed for adoption, that legal guardianship shall not be established, and that there are no suitable foster parents except exclusive-use homes available to provide the minor with a stable and permanent environment, the court may order the care, custody, and control of the minor transferred from the county welfare department or probation department to a licensed foster family agency. The court shall consider the written recommendation of the county welfare director or chief probation officer regarding the suitability of such a transfer. The transfer shall be subject to further court orders.

The licensed foster family agency shall place the minor in a suitable licensed or exclusive-use home which has been certified by the agency as meeting licensing standards. The licensed foster family agency shall be responsible for supporting the minor and for providing appropriate services to the minor, including those services ordered by the court. Responsibility for the support of the minor shall not, in and of itself, create liability on the part of the foster family agency to third persons injured by the minor. Those minors whose care, custody, and control are transferred to a foster family agency shall not be eligible for foster care maintenance payments or child welfare services, except for emergency response services pursuant to Section 16504.

(d) The proceeding for the appointment of a guardian for a minor who is a dependent of the juvenile court shall be in the juvenile court. If the court finds pursuant to this section that legal guardianship is the appropriate permanency plan, it shall appoint the legal guardian and issue letters of guardianship. The assessment prepared pursuant to subdivision (g) of Section 361.5, subdivision (i) of Section 366.21, and subdivision (b) of Section 366.22 shall be read and considered by the court prior to the appointment, and this shall be reflected in the minutes of the court. The person preparing the assessment may be called and examined by any party to the proceeding.

(e) At the beginning of any proceeding pursuant to this section, if the minor or the parents are not being represented by previously retained or appointed counsel, the court shall proceed as follows:

(1) The court shall consider whether the interests of the minor require the appointment of counsel. If the court finds that the interests of the minor do require such protection, the court shall appoint counsel to represent the minor. If the court finds that the interests of the minor require the representation of counsel, counsel shall be appointed whether or not the minor is able to afford counsel. The minor shall not be present in court unless the minor so requests or the court so orders.

(2) If a parent appears without counsel and is unable to afford counsel, the court shall appoint counsel for the parent, unless this representation is knowingly and intelligently waived. The same counsel shall not be appointed to represent both the minor and his or her parent. The public defender or private counsel may be appointed as counsel for the parent.

(3) Private counsel appointed under this section shall receive a reasonable sum for compensation and expenses, the amount of which shall be determined by the court. The amount shall be paid by the real parties in interest, other than the minor, in such proportions as the court deems just. However, if the court finds that any of the real parties in interest are unable to afford counsel, the amount shall be paid out of the general fund of the county.

(f) The court may continue the proceeding for not to exceed 30 days as necessary to appoint counsel, and to enable counsel to become acquainted with the case.

(g) At all termination proceedings, the court shall consider the wishes of the child and shall act in the best interests of the child.

The testimony of the minor may be taken in chambers and outside the presence of the minor's parent or parents if the minor's parent or parents are represented by counsel, the counsel is present, and any of the following circumstances exist:

(1) The court determines that testimony in chambers is necessary to ensure truthful testimony.

(2) The minor is likely to be intimidated by a formal courtroom setting.

(3) The minor is afraid to testify in front of his or her parent or parents.

After testimony in chambers, the parent or parents of the minor may elect to have the court reporter read back the testimony or have the testimony summarized by counsel for the parent or parents.

The testimony of a minor also may be taken in chambers and outside the presence of the guardian or guardians of a minor under the circumstances specified in this subdivision.

(h) Any order of the court permanently terminating parental rights under this section shall be conclusive and binding upon the minor person, upon the parent or parents and upon all other persons who have been served with citation by publication or otherwise as provided in this chapter. After making such an order, the court shall have no power to set aside, change, or modify it, but nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the right to appeal the order.

(i) If the court, by order or judgment declared the minor free from the custody and control of both parents, or one parent if the other no longer has custody and control, the court shall at the same time order the minor referred to a licensed county adoption agency for adoptive placement by the agency. However, no petition for adoption may be heard until the appellate rights of the natural parents have been exhausted. The licensed county adoption agency shall be responsible for the care and supervision of the minor and shall be entitled to the exclusive care and control of the minor at all times until a petition for adoption is granted.

(j) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the application of any person who, as a relative caretaker or foster parent, has cared for a dependent child for whom the court has approved a permanent plan for adoption, or who has been freed for adoption, shall be given preference with respect to that child over all other applications for adoptive placement if the agency making the placement determines that the child has substantial emotional ties to the relative caretaker or foster parent and removal from the relative caretaker or foster parent would be seriously detrimental to the child's well-being.

As used in this subdivision, "preference" means that the application shall be processed and, if satisfactory, the family study shall be completed before the processing of the application of any other person for the adoptive placement of the child.

(k) An order by the court directing that a hearing pursuant to this section be held is not an appealable order, but may be the subject of review by extraordinary writ.

SEC. 17. Section 16101 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

16101. The cost of administering the adoption programs undertaken by a county under license issued pursuant to Section 16100 of this code shall be borne by the state in the amount found necessary by the department for proper and efficient administration. The state shall reimburse the county for all such necessary administrative costs, after deducting therefrom the amount of fees collected by the county agency pursuant to Section 222.72 of the Civil Code.

SEC. 18. Section 16106 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

16106. The state shall reimburse each county for the cost of care of any child placed under the custody of a county department pursuant to Section 224.37 or 226.66 of the Civil Code. County claims for reimbursement of expenses incurred pursuant to Section 224.37 or 226.66 of the Civil Code shall be filed with the department at the time and in the manner specified by the department, and the claims shall be subject to audit by the department. Whenever a claim covering a prior fiscal year is found to have been in error, adjustment may be made on a current claim without the necessity of applying adjustment to the appropriation for the prior fiscal year.

SEC. 19. Section 16120 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

16120. Adoption Assistance Program benefits shall be provided only on behalf of special needs children for whom all of the following conditions are met:

(a) The department or licensed adoption agency and the prospective adoptive parent have signed an adoption assistance agreement which stipulates the need for and the amount of Adoption Assistance Program benefits. The adoption assistance agreement shall, at a minimum, specify the duration of assistance, the responsibility of the adopting family for reporting changes in circumstances, and the periodic recertification required for reevaluating the continuing needs of the family.

(b) The child is under 18 years of age, or under 21 years of age and has a mental or physical handicap which warrants the continuation of assistance.

(c) The adoptive family is responsible for the child pursuant to the terms of an adoptive placement agreement or a final decree of adoption and have signed an adoption assistance agreement.

(d) The adoptive family is legally responsible for the support of the child and the child is receiving support from the adoptive parent.

(e) The child has been either relinquished for adoption to a California agency or freed for adoption through termination of parental rights by a California court, or committed to the department pursuant to Section 224.37 or 226.66 of the Civil Code.

SEC. 20. Chapter 2.3 (commencing with Section 16140) of Part 4 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is repealed.

SEC. 21. Section 16507.6 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

16507.6. If a minor has been voluntarily placed with the county welfare department subsequent to January 1, 1982, for out-of-home placement by his or her parents or guardians pursuant to this chapter and the minor has remained out of their physical custody for six consecutive months, the department shall do one of the following:

(a) Return the minor to the physical custody of his or her parents or guardians.

(b) Refer the minor to a licensed adoption agency for consideration of adoptive planning and receipt of a permanent relinquishment of care and custody rights from the parents pursuant to Section 222.10 of the Civil Code.

(c) Apply for a petition pursuant to Section 332 and file the petition with the juvenile court to have the minor declared a dependent child of the court under Section 300.

(d) For those children placed voluntarily prior to January 1, 1981, the six-month consecutive time period for provision of child welfare services shall commence October 1, 1982.

SEC. 22. Except with respect to this section and Sections 23, 24, 25, and 26, and except as otherwise provided in Section 25, this act shall become operative on July 1, 1991.

SEC. 23. Section 5.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 232 of the Civil Code proposed by both this bill and SB 1583. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1991, (2) each bill amends Section 232 of the Civil Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 1583, in which case Section 232 of the Civil Code, as amended by SB 1583, shall remain operative only until July 1, 1991, at which time Section 5.5 of this bill shall become operative, and Section 5 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 24. Section 11.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 10125.5 of the Health and Safety Code proposed by both this bill and AB 3974. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1991, (2) each bill amends Section 10125.5 of the Health and Safety Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 3974, in which case Section 10125.5 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by AB 3974, shall remain operative only until July 1, 1991, at which time Section 11.5 of this bill shall become operative, and Section 11 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 25. (a) Section 15.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 11170 of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill and AB 2716. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective January 1, 1991, (2) each bill amends Section 11170 of the Penal Code, (3) this bill is enacted after AB 2716, (4) SB 2788 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section, and (5) this bill is enacted after AB 2716, in which case Section 11170 of the Penal Code, as amended by AB 2716, shall remain operative until July 1, 1991, at which time Section 15.5 of this bill shall become operative, and Sections 15, 15.7, 15.9, and 15.10 of this bill shall not become operative.

(b) Section 15.7 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 11170 of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill and SB 2788. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective January 1, 1991, (2) each bill amends Section 11170 of the Penal Code, (3) this bill is enacted after SB 2788, (4) AB 2716 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section, and (5) this bill is enacted after SB 2788, in which case Section 11170 of the Penal Code, as amended by SB 2788, shall remain operative until July 1, 1991, at which time Section 15.7 of this bill shall become operative, and Sections 15, 15.5, 15.9, and 15.10 of this bill shall not become operative.

(c) Section 15.9 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 11170 of the Penal Code proposed by this bill, AB 2716, and SB 2788. Section 15.10 of this bill incorporates the amendments to Section 11170 of the Penal Code proposed by both AB 2716 and SB 2788. Section 15.9 of this bill shall only become operative if (1) all three bills are enacted and become effective January 1, 1991, (2) all three bills amend Section 11170 of the Penal Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 2716 and SB 2788, in which case Section 15.10 of this bill shall become operative January 1, 1991, and shall remain operative until July 1, 1991, at which time Section 15.9 of this bill shall become operative, and Sections 15, 15.5, and 15.7 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 26. Section 16.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 366.26 of the Welfare and Institutions Code proposed by both this bill and SB 2232. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1991, (2) each bill amends Section 366.26 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 2232, in which case Section 366.26 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, as amended by SB 2232, shall remain operative only until July 1, 1991, at which time Section 16.5 of this bill shall become operative, and Section 16 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 1364

An act to amend Section 10086.5 of the Insurance Code, relating to earthquake insurance.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10086.5 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

10086.5. (a) The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the continued regulation of the business practices of insurers and their products is in the interest of the citizens of the state and that the control and limitation of unlawful nonrenewal, rejection, or cancellation of residential property insurance after an offer of earthquake coverage is accepted is an essential component of that regulation which is necessary to effectuate an adequate and complete system and regulation of insurer and producer business practices. The Legislature finds that this chapter continues to provide critical protection to insureds in this state from the numerous consequences that would occur in the absence of that regulation.

(b) An insurer shall not refuse to renew, reject, or cancel a policy of residential property insurance after an offer of earthquake coverage is accepted solely because the insured has accepted that offer of earthquake coverage, except in cases in which the policy is terminated by the named insured.

(c) Underwriting standards applicable to residential property insurance shall not be applied in a discriminatory fashion against a person who accepts or elects to continue earthquake coverage.

CHAPTER 1365

An act to amend Section 25205.7 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to hazardous waste.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25205.7 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25205.7. (a) The board shall assess a fee for any application for a new hazardous waste facilities permit, a permit for a hazardous waste facility which would manage extremely hazardous waste, a variance, or a permit modification issued by the department pursuant to this chapter or the regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter. The board shall also assess a fee for any hazardous waste facility which intends to operate pursuant to a permit by regulation governed by this chapter or the regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter, which shall be due and payable upon the facility's notification to the department of its intent to operate in this manner. Except as provided in subdivision (i), the board shall not assess a fee pursuant to this section for an application for a hazardous waste facilities permit for a hazardous waste facility which has been previously operating pursuant to a grant of interim status pursuant to Section 25200.5. The fee shall be nonrefundable, even if the application is withdrawn or the permit, variance, or certification is denied. The department shall provide the board with any information which is necessary to assess fees pursuant to this section. The fee shall be collected in accordance with Part 22 (commencing with Section 43001) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and deposited into the Hazardous Waste Control Account. A hazardous waste facility which is assessed a fee pursuant to more than one of subdivisions (c) to (i), inclusive, shall pay only the higher fee.

(b) The amounts stated in this section shall be base rates for the 1989–90 fiscal year. Thereafter the fees shall be adjusted annually to reflect increases or decreases in the cost of living, as measured by the Consumer Price Index for the United States, as reported by the Department of Labor or a successor agency of the United States government. The fee shall be assessed upon application or notification to the department.

(c) A person submitting a hazardous waste facilities permit application for a land disposal facility shall pay eighty-three thousand dollars ($83,000) for a small facility, one hundred seventy-seven thousand dollars ($177,000) for a medium facility, and three hundred four thousand dollars ($304,000) for a large facility.

(d) A person submitting a hazardous waste facilities permit application for any incinerator for which the permit was required on or before July 1, 1989, shall pay fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) for a small facility, one hundred six thousand dollars ($106,000) for a medium facility, and one hundred eighty-two thousand dollars ($182,000) for a large facility. A person submitting a hazardous waste facilities permit application for any other incinerator shall pay a fee in accordance with subdivision (e). If the application was submitted before July 1, 1989, the fees specified in this subdivision shall not apply, and the fees specified in subdivision (e) shall instead apply.

(e) A person submitting a hazardous waste facilities permit application for a storage facility, a treatment facility, or a storage and treatment facility shall pay seventeen thousand dollars ($17,000) for a small facility, thirty-one thousand dollars ($31,000) for a medium facility, and sixty thousand dollars ($60,000) for a large facility.

(f) A person submitting a hazardous waste facilities permit application for a transportable treatment unit shall pay thirteen thousand dollars ($13,000) for a small unit, thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) for a medium unit, and sixty thousand dollars ($60,000) for a large unit.

(g) A person submitting a request for a variance shall pay three thousand dollars ($3,000) for a variance from any hazardous waste storage requirements imposed by this chapter, three hundred dollars ($300) for a variance issued pursuant to Section 25179.8, three hundred dollars ($300) for a variance to allow the use of a test method or analytical method which is an alternative to the methods prescribed by regulation for use in classifying a waste, eight hundred dollars ($800) for a variance from the requirements for hazardous waste haulers imposed by this chapter, and eight thousand dollars ($8,000) for all other variances. If the variance application requests a variance from more than one specific statute or regulation, a separate fee may be assessed for each statute or regulation from which the variance is requested.

(h) A person required to notify the department of the person's intent to operate a facility pursuant to a permit by regulation shall pay one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each initial notification and not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each notification thereafter, as specified in the regulations adopted by the department.

(i) A person applying for approval of an application to manage extremely hazardous waste shall pay two hundred dollars ($200), in addition to any other fee imposed by this section.

(j) (1) A person requesting a permit modification shall pay a fee equal to 70 percent of the fee for a new hazardous waste facilities permit for that facility, or 50 percent of the fee for a new permit for a land disposal facility or an incinerator, if the department's regulations require public notice and public comment before that modification may go into effect.

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (3), a person requesting any other permit modification not subject to paragraph (1) shall pay a fee of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500).

(3) A facility which applies for a new hazardous waste facilities permit, and which has been previously operating pursuant to a grant of interim status, or a facility which applies to renew a hazardous waste facilities permit, shall pay the fee specified in paragraph (1) if the applicant requests any modification for which, if the facility was permitted, the department's regulations would require public notice and public comment before the modification could go into effect.

(k) For purposes of this section, and notwithstanding Section 25205.1, any facility or unit is "small" if it manages 0.5 tons (1,000 pounds) or less of hazardous waste during any one month of the state's current fiscal year, "medium" if it manages more than 0.5 tons (1,000 pounds), but less than 1,000 tons, of hazardous waste during any one month of the state's current fiscal year, and "large" if it manages 1,000 or more tons of hazardous waste during any one month of the state's current fiscal year.

(l) The fees assessed pursuant to this section do not apply to any permit or variance to operate a research, development, and demonstration facility, if the duration of the permit or variance is not longer than one year, unless the permit or variance is renewed pursuant to the regulations adopted by the department. For purposes of this section, a "research, development, and demonstration facility" is a facility which proposes to utilize an innovative and experimental hazardous waste treatment technology or process for which regulations prescribing permit standards have not been adopted.

(m) The fees assessed pursuant to this section do not apply to any variance issued to a local government agency to transport wastes for purposes of operating a household hazardous waste facility.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1366

An act to amend Sections 7028.1 and 7058.7 of the Business and Professions Code, to amend Sections 15399.18 and 15399.20 of the Government Code, to amend Sections 25299.10, 25299.32, 25299.36, 25299.37, 25299.50, 25299.51, 25299.52, 25299.53, 25299.54, 25299.55, and 25299.57 of, to amend and renumber Sections 25299.58, 25299.59, 25299.60, 25299.62, 25299.63, 25299.64, 25299.65, 25299.66, 25299.67, and 25299.68 of, to add Sections 25299.58 and 25299.61 to, and to repeal and add Sections 25299.40, 25299.41, and 25299.42 of, the Health and Safety Code, and to amend Sections 50107, 50108, 50113, 50114, 50119, 50123, 50124, 50129, 50131, 50132, 50134, 50136, 50139, 50140, 50157, and 50160 of, to add Sections 50108.1, 50108.2, 50112.1, 50112.2, 50112.3, 50113.1, 50113.2, 50120.1, 50120.2, 50120.3, 50142.1, and 50148.1 to, to repeal and add Sections 50109, 50110, 50111, and 50112 of, to amend the heading of Article 2 (commencing with Section 50113) of Chapter 3 of Part 26 of, to add an article heading immediately preceding Section 50108.1 of, and to add an article heading immediately preceding Section 50120.1 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to petroleum, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7028.1 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7028.1. Any contractor who performs or engages in asbestos-related work, as defined in Section 6501.8 of the Labor Code, without certification pursuant to Section 7058.5 of this code, or who performs or engages in a removal or remedial action, as defined in subdivision (d) of Section 7058.7, or, on or after January 1, 1992, bids for the installation or removal of, or installs or removes, an underground storage tank, without certification pursuant to Section 7058.7, is subject to one of the following penalties:

(a) Conviction of a first offense is an infraction punishable by a fine of not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or more than three thousand dollars ($3,000), and by possible revocation or suspension of any contractor's license.

(b) Conviction of a subsequent offense is a misdemeanor requiring revocation or suspension of any contractor's license, and a fine of not less than three thousand dollars ($3,000) or more than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or both the fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 2. Section 7058.7 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7058.7. (a) No contractor shall engage in a removal or remedial action, as defined in subdivision (d), unless the applicant for the license has passed an approved hazardous substance removal certification examination.

(b) (1) The Contractors' State License Board, the Division of Occupational Safety and Health of the Department of Industrial Relations, and the State Department of Health Services shall jointly select an advisory committee, which shall be composed of two representatives of hazardous substance removal workers in California, two general engineering contractors in California, and two representatives of insurance companies in California who shall be selected by the Insurance Commissioner.

(2) The Contractors' State License Board shall develop a written test for the certification of contractors engaged in hazardous substance removal or remedial action, in consultation with the Division of Occupational Safety and Health, the State Water Resources Control Board, the State Department of Health Services, and the advisory committee.

(c) The Contractors' State License Board may require additional updated approved hazardous substance removal certification examinations of licensees currently certified based on new public or occupational health and safety information. The Contractors' State License Board, in consultation with the State Department of Health Services, shall approve initial and updated hazardous substance removal certification examinations and determine whether to require an updated certification examination of all current certificate holders.

(d) For purposes of this section "removal or remedial action" has the same meaning as found in Chapter 6.8 (commencing with Section 25300) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code, if the action requires the contractor to dig into the surface of the earth and remove the dug material and the action is at a site listed pursuant to Section 25356 of the Health and Safety Code or any other site listed as a hazardous waste site by the State Department of Health Services or a site listed on the National Priorities List compiled pursuant to the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980, (42 U.S.C. Sec. 9601 et seq.). "Removal or remedial action" does not include asbestos-related work, as defined in Section 6501.8 of the Labor Code, or work related to a hazardous substance spill on a highway.

(e) (1) On and after January 1, 1992, a contractor shall not bid for the installation or removal of, or install or remove, an underground storage tank, unless the contractor has passed the hazardous substance removal certification examination developed pursuant to this section.

(2) For purposes of this subdivision, "underground storage tank" has the same meaning as defined in subdivision (x) of Section 25281 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 3. Section 15399.18 of the Government Code is amended to read:

15399.18. (a) There is hereby created, in the California Economic Development Grant and Loan Fund, the Petroleum Financing Collection Account. The Petroleum Financing Collection Account is created solely for the purpose of receiving charges, fees, and income, including, but not limited to, the charges and costs collected pursuant to subdivision (c).

(b) To defray the costs of the department in administrating the loan program created pursuant to this chapter, the department may do all of the following:

(1) Impose reasonable charges on all applications and impose the loan fee specified in subdivision (e) of Section 15399.14.

(2) Recover collection costs from the borrower or other party.

(3) Earn income on any asset recovered pursuant to a loan default.

(c) The department shall deposit the charges and costs collected pursuant to subdivision (b), including the loan fees charged pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 15399.14, in the Petroleum Financing Collection Account. Notwithstanding Section 13340, all money deposited in the Petroleum Financing Collection Account shall be continuously appropriated to the department for those costs necessary to protect the state's position as a lender-creditor. These costs shall be broadly construed to include, but not be limited to, foreclosure expenses, auction fees, title searches, appraisals, real estate brokerage fees, attorney fees, mortgage payments, insurance payments, utility costs, repair costs, removal and storage costs for repossessed equipment and inventory, and additional expenditures to purchase a senior lien in foreclosure or bankruptcy proceedings.

SEC. 4. Section 15399.20 of the Government Code is amended to read:

15399.20. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), the department may, upon appropriation by the Legislature, expend an amount not more than one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) in any fiscal year for administrative expenses in carrying out this chapter from the subaccount in the Petroleum Underground Storage Tank Financing Account specified in subdivision (d) of Section 15399.17.

(b) The sum of sixty-five thousand dollars ($65,000) is hereby appropriated from the Petroleum Underground Storage Tank Financing Account to the department for the administrative expenses of carrying out this chapter from the effective date of the act adding this chapter until July 1, 1990.

(c) The department may transfer an amount of not more than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) from the Petroleum Underground Storage Tank Financing Account to the Petroleum Financing Collection Account.

SEC. 5. Section 25299.10 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25299.10. The Legislature hereby finds and declares all of the following:

(a) It is estimated that approximately 90 percent of the underground storage tanks in the state contain petroleum and the remaining 10 percent of the tanks contain various chemical constituents.

(b) Although the exact extent of the problem is unknown, it is thought that a significant number of the underground storage tanks containing petroleum in the state may be leaking.

(c) In recent years, owners or operators of underground storage tanks have been unable to obtain affordable environmental impairment liability insurance coverage to pay for corrective action or the obtainable coverage has been outside their financial means.

(d) There are long-term threats to public health and water quality if a comprehensive, uniform, and efficient corrective action program is not established.

(e) It is in the best interest of the health and safety of the people of the state to establish a fund to pay for corrective action where coverage is not available.

(f) A uniform, comprehensive, and efficient program establishing financial responsibility and corrective action requirements for leaking underground storage tanks containing petroleum will enable private commercial insurers to expand the availability and affordability of insurance coverage.

(g) An efficient program of establishing corrective action requirements and funds or insurance coverage should encourage corrective action to be taken in the first instance by the owner or operator of the leaking underground storage tank containing petroleum.

(h) Subchapter IX (commencing with Section 6991) of Chapter 82 of Title 42 of the United States Code provides for regulation of underground storage tanks and allows underground storage tanks to be regulated pursuant to a state program, in lieu of a federal program, in states which are authorized to implement these provisions.

(i) It is in the interest of the people of the state, in order to avoid direct regulation by the federal government of persons already subject to regulation under state law pursuant to Chapter 6.7 (commencing with Section 25280), to authorize the state to implement the provisions of Subchapter IX (commencing with Section 6991) of Chapter 82 of Title 42 of the United States Code, including any acts amending or supplementing Subchapter IX and any federal regulations and guidelines adopted pursuant to Subchapter IX.

(j) It is in the public interest for the state to provide financial assistance to small businesses and farms which have limited financial resources, to ensure timely compliance with the law governing underground storage tanks, and to ensure the adequate protection of groundwater.

SEC. 6. Section 25299.32 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25299.32. (a) The level of financial responsibility required to be obtained pursuant to Section 25299.31 shall be at least ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for each occurrence, and at least ten thousand dollars ($10,000) annual aggregate coverage for taking corrective action.

(b) The level of financial responsibility required to be obtained pursuant to Section 25299.31 for each occurrence for bodily injury and property damage shall be in the amount specified by the board in the regulations adopted pursuant to Section 25299.77.

(c) The level of financial responsibility required to be obtained pursuant to Section 25299.31 shall be in the amount specified by the board for annual aggregate coverage for both corrective action and bodily injury and property damage.

(d) The board may periodically increase the minimum level of financial responsibility specified in subdivision (a) upon its determination that private insurance is available and affordable.

SEC. 7. Section 25299.36 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25299.36. A regional board or a local agency may undertake or contract for corrective action pursuant to Section 25299.53 or if a situation exists which requires prompt action by the regional board or local agency to protect human health or the environment. If there is a situation which requires prompt action by the regional board to protect human health or the environment, the regional board may enter into oral contracts for this work, notwithstanding any other provision of law, and the contracts, whether written or oral, may include provisions for equipment rental and, in addition, the furnishing of labor and materials necessary to accomplish the work. These contracts for corrective action by the regional board are exempt from approval by the Department of General Services pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 10100) of Part 2 of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code if the situation requires prompt action to protect human health or the environment.

SEC. 8. Section 25299.37 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25299.37. (a) Each owner, operator, or other responsible party shall take corrective action in response to an unauthorized release in compliance with this section and regulations adopted pursuant to Section 25299.77.

(b) Any corrective action conducted pursuant to this section shall ensure protection of human health, safety, and the environment. The corrective action shall be consistent with any applicable waste discharge requirements or other order issued pursuant to Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Water Code, all applicable state policies for water quality control adopted pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 13140) of Chapter 3 of Division 7 of the Water Code, and all applicable water quality control plans adopted pursuant to Section 13170 of the Water Code and Article 3 (commencing with Section 13240) of Chapter 4 of Division 7 of the Water Code.

(c) The local agency may issue an order to the owner, operator, or other responsible party requiring compliance with this section, including a time schedule or completion of specific actions. The board or a regional board may require compliance with this section as part of a cleanup and abatement order issued pursuant to Section 13304 of the Water Code. The owner, operator, or other responsible party shall conduct corrective action in accordance with any order issued by a local agency or cleanup and abatement order issued pursuant to this section.

(d) A person to whom an order is issued pursuant to subdivision (c), shall have the same rights of administrative and judicial appeal and review as are provided by law for cleanup and abatement orders issued pursuant to Section 13304 of the Water Code.

(e) Until the board adopts regulations pursuant to Section 25299.77, the owner, operator, or other responsible party shall take corrective action in accordance with Chapter 6.7 (commencing with Section 25280) and the federal act.

(f) If a person to whom an order is issued pursuant to subdivision (c) does not comply with the order, the regional board or the local agency may undertake or contract for corrective action and recover costs pursuant to Section 25299.70.

SEC. 9. Section 25299.40 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 10. Section 25299.40 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

25299.40. The Legislature hereby declares that the storage fees imposed by this article do not constitute a tax and are not collected for purposes of increasing state revenues pursuant to Section 3 of Article XIII A of the California Constitution.

SEC. 11. Section 25299.41 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 12. Section 25299.41 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

25299.41. For purposes of implementing this chapter, every owner of an underground storage tank who is required to obtain a permit to own or operate a tank pursuant to Section 25284 shall pay a storage fee of six mills ($0.006) for each gallon of petroleum placed in an underground storage tank which he or she owns. The fee imposed pursuant to this section shall be paid to the State Board of Equalization pursuant to Part 26 (commencing with Section 50101) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

SEC. 13. Section 25299.42 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 14. Section 25299.42 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

25299.42. (a) The State Board of Equalization may adopt regulations to carry out Section 25299.41, including, but not limited to, provisions governing collections, reporting, refunds, and appeals.

(b) The State Board of Equalization shall collect the fee imposed by this article commencing on the first day of the first calendar quarter which begins more than 90 days after the effective date of the act adding this article.

(c) The State Board of Equalization shall deposit all fees collected pursuant to this article in the fund.

SEC. 15. Section 25299.50 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25299.50. (a) The Underground Storage Tank Cleanup Fund is hereby created in the General Fund and may be expended by the board for the purposes of this chapter. From time to time, the board may modify existing accounts or create accounts in the fund or other funds administered by the board, which the board determines are appropriate or necessary for proper administration of this chapter.

(b) All of the following amounts shall be deposited in the fund:

(1) Money appropriated by the Legislature for deposit in the fund.

(2) The fees, interest, and penalties collected pursuant to Article 5 (commencing with Section 25299.40).

(3) Notwithstanding Section 16475 of the Government Code, any interest earned upon the money deposited in the fund.

(4) Any money recovered by the fund pursuant to Section 25299.70.

(5) Any civil penalties collected by the board or regional board pursuant to Section 25299.76.

(6) Any money deposited in the fund pursuant to Section 7 of the act adding this chapter.

SEC. 16. Section 25299.51 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25299.51. The board may expend the money in the fund for all the following purposes:

(a) In addition to the purposes specified in subdivision (c) and (d), for expenditure by the board for the costs of implementing this chapter.

(b) To pay for the administrative costs of the State Board of Equalization in collecting the fee imposed by Article 5 (commencing with Section 25299.40).

(c) To pay for the reasonable and necessary costs of the regional board or local agency for corrective action pursuant to Section 25299.36, up to one million dollars ($1,000,000) per occurrence. The Legislature may appropriate the money in the fund for expenditure by the board, without regard to fiscal year, for prompt action in response to any unauthorized release.

(d) To pay for the costs of an agreement for the abatement of, and oversight of the abatement of, an unauthorized release of hazardous substances from underground storage tanks, by a local agency, as authorized by Section 25297.1 or by any other provision of law, except that, for the purpose of expenditure of these funds, only underground storage tanks, as defined in Section 25299.24, shall be the subject of the agreement.

(d) To pay for the costs of cleanup and oversight of unauthorized releases at abandoned tank sites. The board shall not expend more than 25 percent of the total amount of money collected and deposited in the fund annually for the purposes of this subdivision and subdivision (h).

(f) To pay claims pursuant to Section 25299.57.

(g) To pay, upon order of the Controller, for refunds pursuant to Part 26 (commencing with Section 50101) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(h) To pay for the reasonable and necessary costs of the regional board or the local agency for corrective action pursuant to subdivision (f) of Section 25299.3.

(i) To pay claims pursuant to Section 25299.58.

SEC. 17. Section 25299.52 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25299.52. (a) The board shall adopt a priority ranking list at least twice annually for awarding claims pursuant to Section 25299.57 or 25299.58. Any owner or operator eligible for payment of a claim pursuant to Section 25299.54 shall file an application with the board within a reasonable period, to be determined by the board, prior to adoption of the priority ranking list.

(b) In awarding claims pursuant to Section 25299.57 or 25299.58, the board shall pay claims in accordance with the following priorities:

(1) Owners of tanks which are located on residential property.

(2) Owners and operators of tanks who meet the requirements of subdivision (a) of Section 15399.12 of the Government Code.

(3) Owners or operators of tanks, if the owner or operator owns and operates a business which employs fewer than 500 full-time and part-time employees, is independently owned and operated, is not dominant in its field of operations, and all business operations are located in California.

(4) All other tank owners and operators.

(c) The fund may sue and be sued in its own name.

SEC. 18. Section 25299.53 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25299.53. (a) A regional board or a local agency taking, or contracting for, corrective action pursuant to subdivision (f) of Section 25299.37 shall, before commencing the corrective action, take both of the following actions:

(1) The regional board or local agency shall notify the board of the planned corrective action. If an owner or operator is taking the corrective action in accordance with Section 25299.37, the regional board or local agency shall not initiate a corrective action pursuant to this chapter.

(2) If an owner or operator is not taking or has not taken the action specified in paragraph (1), the regional board or local agency shall submit the estimated cost of the corrective action to the board, which shall approve or disapprove the reasonableness of the cost estimate. The regional board or local agency shall obtain approval of the corrective action and the cost estimate before taking, or contracting for, any corrective action.

(b) If the board approves the request of the regional board or local agency made pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a), the board shall, after making the determination specified in subdivision (c), pay for the costs of corrective action performed by a regional board, local agency, or qualified contractor.

(c) The board shall not make any payment pursuant to subdivision (b) unless the board determines that the owner or operator of the underground tank has failed or refused to comply with a final order for corrective action issued pursuant to Section 25299.37 with respect to the unauthorized release of petroleum from the underground storage tank.

(d) Upon making any payment to a regional board or local agency pursuant to subdivision (b), the board shall recover the amount of payment pursuant to Section 25299.70.

SEC. 19. Section 25299.54 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25299.54. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (b), (c), and (d), an owner or operator, required to perform corrective action pursuant to Section 25299.37, or an owner or operator who, as of January 1, 1988, is required to perform corrective action, who has initiated this action in accordance with Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Water Code, who is undertaking corrective action in compliance with waste discharge requirements or other orders issued pursuant to Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Water Code, or Chapter 6.7 (commencing with Section 25280), may apply to the board for satisfaction of a claim filed pursuant to this article.

(b) A person who has failed to comply with Article 3 (commencing with Section 25299.30) is ineligible to file a claim pursuant to this section.

(c) Any owner or operator of an underground storage tank containing petroleum is ineligible to file a claim pursuant to this section if the person meets both of the following conditions:

(1) The person knew, before January 1, 1988, of the unauthorized release of petroleum which is the subject of the claim.

(2) The person did not initiate, on or before June 30, 1988, any corrective action in accordance with Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Water Code concerning the release, or the person did not, on or before June 30, 1988, initiate corrective action in accordance with Chapter 6.7 (commencing with Section 25280) or the person did not initiate action on or before June 30, 1988, to come into compliance with waste discharge requirements or other orders issued pursuant to Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Water Code concerning the release.

(d) An owner or operator who violates Article 4 (commencing with Section 25299.36) is liable for any corrective action costs which result from the owner's or operator's violation of Article 4 (commencing with Section 25299.36) and is ineligible to file a claim pursuant to this section.

(e) Whenever the board has authorized the prepayment of a claim pursuant to Section 25299.57, and the amount of money available in the fund is insufficient to pay the claim, the owner or operator shall remain obligated to undertake the corrective action in accordance with Section 25299.37.

SEC. 20. Section 25299.55 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25299.55. The board shall prescribe appropriate forms and procedures for claims filed pursuant to Section 25299.54 which shall include, at a minimum, all of the following:

(a) A provision requiring the claimant to make a sworn verification of the claim to the best of the claimant's knowledge.

(b) A full description, supported by appropriate evidence from government agencies, of the unauthorized release of petroleum into the environment from an underground storage tank claimed to be the subject of the third-party judgment specified in Section 25299.58 or the corrective action performed pursuant to Section 25299.36.

(c) Certification by the claimant of all costs which have been, or will be, incurred in undertaking corrective action after January 1, 1988.

SEC. 21. Section 25299.57 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25299.57. (a) If the board makes the determination specified in subdivision (d), the board may only pay for the costs of corrective actions which exceed the level of financial responsibility required to be obtained pursuant to Section 25299.32 but not more than nine hundred ninety thousand dollars ($990,000) for each occurrence. In the case of an owner or operator who, as of January 1, 1988, was required to perform corrective action, who has initiated this action in accordance with Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Water Code or Chapter 6.7 (commencing with Section 25280) who is undertaking corrective action in compliance with waste discharge requirements or other orders issued pursuant to Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Water Code or Chapter 6.7 (commencing with Section 25280), and who has not completed the action on the effective date of the act adding this chapter, may apply to the board for satisfaction of a claim filed pursuant to this article.

(b) For claims eligible for reimbursement pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 25299.55, the claimant shall submit the actual cost of corrective action to the board, which shall either approve or disapprove the costs incurred as reasonable and necessary.

(c) For claims eligible for prepayment pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 25299.55, the claimant shall submit the estimated cost of the corrective action to the board, which shall approve or disapprove the reasonableness of the cost estimate.

(d) A claim specified in subdivision (a) may be paid if the board makes all of the following findings:

(1) There has been an unauthorized release of petroleum into the environment from an underground storage tank.

(2) The claimant is required to undertake or contract for corrective action pursuant to Section 25299.37, or, as of January 1, 1988, the claimant has initiated corrective action in accordance with Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Water Code.

(3) The claimant has complied with Section 25299.31 and the permit requirements of Chapter 6.7 (commencing with Section 25280).

(4) The board has approved either the costs incurred for the corrective action pursuant to subdivision (b) or the estimated costs for corrective action pursuant to subdivision (c).

(e) The board shall provide the claimant, whose cost estimate has been approved, a letter of credit authorizing payment of the costs from the fund.

(f) The claimant may submit a claim for partial payment to cover the costs of corrective action performed in stages, as approved by the board.

(g) Any claimant who submits a claim for payment to the board shall submit multiple bids for prospective costs as prescribed in regulations adopted by the board pursuant to Section 25299.77.

SEC. 22. Section 25299.58 of the Health and Safety Code is amended and renumbered to read:

25299.59. (a) Except as specified in subdivision (b), the procedures in Section 11513 of the Government Code apply to the proceedings conducted by the board pursuant to this article.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), Sections 801, 802, 803, 804, and 805 of the Evidence Code apply to the proceedings conducted by the board pursuant to this article.

(c) This article does not require any person to pursue a claim against the board pursuant to this article before seeking any other remedy.

(d) If the board has paid out of the fund for any costs of corrective action, the board shall not pay any other claim out of the fund for the same costs.

(e) Notwithstanding Sections 25299.57 and 25299.58, the board shall not reimburse or authorize prepayment of any claim in an aggregate amount exceeding nine hundred ninety thousand ($990,000) for a claim arising from the same event or occurrence.

(f) The board may conduct an audit of any corrective action claim honored pursuant to this chapter. The claimant shall reimburse the state for any costs disallowed in the audit. A claimant shall preserve, and make available, upon request of the board or the board's designee, all records pertaining to the corrective action claim for a period of three years after the final payment is made to the claimant.

SEC. 23. Section 25299.58 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

25299.58. (a) If the board makes the determination specified in subdivision (b), the board may only reimburse those costs which are related to the compensation of third parties for bodily injury and property damages and which exceed the level of financial responsibility required to be obtained pursuant to Section 25299.32 but not more than nine hundred ninety thousand dollars ($990,000) for each occurrence.

(b) A claim may be paid if the board makes all of the following findings:

(1) There has been an unauthorized release of petroleum into the environment from an underground storage tank.

(2) The claimant has been ordered to pay a settlement or final judgment for third-party bodily injury or property damage arising from operating an underground storage tank.

(3) The claimant has complied with Section 25299.31 and the permit requirements of Chapter 6.7 (commencing with Section 25280).

(4) The claimant is required to undertake or contract for corrective action pursuant to Section 25299.37, or, as of January 1, 1988, the claimant has initiated corrective action in accordance with Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Water Code or Chapter 6.7 (commencing with Section 25280).

SEC. 24. Section 25299.59 of the Health and Safety Code is amended and renumbered to read:

25299.60. (a) The board shall not pay any claims against or presented to the fund pursuant to this article if the claim exceeds the total money in the fund at any one time. The board shall pay these claims only when additional money is collected, appropriated, or otherwise added to the fund. If the total claims outstanding at any time exceed the current balance of the fund, the board shall pay these claims in full to the extent authorized pursuant to this article.

(b) Any claim filed against the fund pursuant to this article may be paid only out of the fund. This chapter does not authorize the payment by the state of any additional amount with respect to any claim out of any source other than the fund.

(c) Notwithstanding this article, the board shall not pay out any claims pursuant to this article to a claimant if the total amount paid to the claimant is greater than 5 percent of the total amount annually appropriated by the Legislature from the fund for purposes of paying claims pursuant to this article. For purposes of determining the total amount paid to a claimant for purposes of this section, the board shall include any payments made to any person or entity which has a relationship with the claimant specified in subsection (b) of Section 267 of Title 26 of the United States Code.

SEC. 25. Section 25299.60 of the Health and Safety Code is amended and renumbered to read:

25299.70. (a) Any costs incurred and payable from the fund pursuant to subdivisions (c), (e), and (h) of Section 25299.51 shall be recovered by the Attorney General, upon request of the board, from the owner or operator of the underground storage tank which released the petroleum and which is the subject of these costs.

(b) The liability of an owner or operator shall be the full and total costs specified in subdivision (a) if the owner or operator has not complied with the requirements of Article 3 (commencing with Section 25299.30) or Article 4 (commencing with Section 25299.36).

(c) The amount of costs determined pursuant to this section shall be recoverable in a civil action. This section does not deprive a party of any defense the party may have.

(d) Moneys recovered by the Attorney General pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the fund.

SEC. 26. Section 25299.61 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

25299.61. The board shall not pay any claims against or presented to the fund pursuant to this article if the claims are in connection with an unauthorized release of petroleum into the environment from an underground storage tank resulting from the gross negligence or the intentional or reckless acts of the claimant.

SEC. 27. Section 25299.62 of the Health and Safety Code is amended and renumbered to read:

25299.72. Upon motion and sufficient showing by any party, the court shall join to the action any person who may be liable for costs or expenditures of the type recoverable pursuant to this article.

SEC. 28. Section 25299.63 of the Health and Safety Code is amended and renumbered to read:

25299.73. The standard of liability for any costs of corrective action recoverable pursuant to this chapter is strict liability.

SEC. 29. Section 25299.64 of the Health and Safety Code is amended and renumbered to read:

25299.74. (a) No indemnification, hold harmless, conveyance, or similar agreement shall be effective to preclude any liability for costs recoverable under this article. This section does not bar any agreement to insure, hold harmless, or indemnify a party to the agreement for any costs under this chapter.

(b) The entry of judgment against any party to the action does not bar any future action by the fund against any person who is later discovered to be potentially liable for costs paid from the fund.

(c) Payment of any claim by the fund pursuant to this chapter shall be subject to the state acquiring by subrogation the rights of the claimant to recover those costs of corrective action for which it has compensated the claimant from the person responsible or liable for the unauthorized release.

SEC. 30. Section 25299.65 of the Health and Safety Code is amended and renumbered to read:

25299.75. (a) Except as provided in Sections 25299.70, 25299.72, and 25299.73, this chapter does not affect or modify the obligations or liability of any person under any other provision of state or federal law, including common law, for damages, injury, or loss resulting from an unauthorized release of petroleum or for corrective action or the costs of corrective action.

(b) This chapter shall not be construed as authorizing recovery for costs of corrective action resulting from any release authorized or permitted pursuant to state or federal law.

SEC. 31. Section 25299.66 of the Health and Safety Code is amended and renumbered to read:

25299.76. (a) Any person who violates any requirement of Article 3 (commencing with Section 25299.30) or Article 4 (commencing with Section 25299.36) is liable for a civil penalty of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for each underground storage tank for each day of violation.

(b) The state or a local agency may bring an action in superior court to impose the civil penalty specified in subdivision (a).

(c) The board or a regional board may impose the civil penalty specified in subdivision (a) pursuant to Article 2.5 (commencing with Section 13323) of Chapter 5 of Division 7 of the Water Code.

(d) In determining the amount of any liability imposed under this section, the superior court, the board, or the regional board shall take into account the nature, circumstances, extent, and gravity of the violation, and, with respect to the violator, the ability to pay, any prior history of violations, the degree of culpability, the economic benefits or savings, if any, resulting from the violations, and other matters as justice may require.

(e) Remedies under this section are in addition to, and do not supersede or limit, any other civil or criminal remedies, except that no civil penalties shall be recovered under this section for violations for which a civil penalty is recovered pursuant to Section 13268 or 13350 of the Water Code.

SEC. 32. Section 25299.67 of the Health and Safety Code is amended and renumbered to read:

25299.77. The board shall adopt regulations to implement this chapter. In adopting these regulations, the board shall ensure that the regulations are consistent with this chapter, Chapter 6.7 (commencing with Section 25280), and the requirements for state programs implementing the federal act. When adopting regulations to implement this chapter, including the adoption of regulations establishing requirements for demonstrating financial responsibility pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 25299.30), and establishing corrective action requirements pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 25299.36), the board may adopt the regulations as emergency regulations in accordance with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and for the purposes of that chapter, including Section 11349.6 of the Government Code, the adoption of these regulations is an emergency and shall be considered by the Office of Administrative Law as necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety and general welfare. Notwithstanding Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, any emergency regulation adopted by the board pursuant to this section shall be filed with, but not repealed by, the Office of Administrative Law, and shall remain in effect until revised by the board.

SEC. 33. Section 25299.68 of the Health and Safety Code is amended and renumbered to read:

25299.78. (a) To carry out the purposes of this chapter, any authorized representative of the local agency, regional board, or board shall have the authority specified in Section 25185, with respect to any place where underground storage tanks are located, and in Section 25185.5, with respect to any real property which is within 2,000 feet of any place where underground storage tanks are located.

(b) An owner or operator shall furnish, under penalty of perjury, any information on financial responsibility, unauthorized releases, or corrective action as the local agency, regional board, or board may require.

SEC. 34. Section 50107 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

50107. "Fee payer" means any person liable for the payment of a fee imposed by Section 25299.41 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 35. Section 50108 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

50108. The fee imposed pursuant to Section 25299.41 of the Health and Safety Code shall be administered and collected by the board in accordance with this part.

SEC. 36. An article heading is added immediately preceding Section 50108.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

Article 2. Registration and Security

SEC. 37. Section 50108.1 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

50108.1. Every person who is required to have a permit to own or operate an underground storage tank pursuant to Section 25284 of the Health and Safety Code containing petroleum shall register with the board on forms provided by the board.

SEC. 38. Section 50108.2 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

50108.2. (a) The board, whenever it determines it to be necessary to ensure compliance with this part, may require any person subject to this part to place with it any security that the board determines to be reasonable, taking into account the circumstances of that person. The board may sell the security at a public auction if it becomes necessary to do so in order to recover any fee or any amount required to be collected, including any interest or penalty due.

(b) Notice of the sale authorized in subdivision (a) shall be served upon the person who placed the security personally or by mail. If service is made by mail, the notice shall be addressed to the person at his or her address as it appears in the records of the board. Service shall be made at least 30 days prior to the sale in the case of personal service, and at least 40 days prior to the sale in the case of service by mail. Security in the form of a bearer bond issued by the United States or the State of California which has a prevailing market price may, however, be sold by the board at a private sale at a price not lower than the prevailing market price. Upon any sale, any surplus above the amounts due shall be returned to the person who placed the security.

SEC. 39. Section 50109 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed:

SEC. 40. Section 50109 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

50109. The fee collected under Section 50108 is due and payable to the board quarterly on or before the 25th day of the month following the end of each calendar quarter. Each fee payer, on or before the 25th day of the month following the quarterly period for which the fee is due, shall prepare a fee return for the preceding quarterly period, in the form as prescribed by the board, showing the total number of gallons of petroleum placed into underground storage tanks which he or she owns during the period, the amount of the fee for the period covered by the return, and any other information that the board determines to be necessary. The fee payer shall deliver the return, together with a remittance of the amount of the fee due, to the office of the board on or before the 25th day of the month following the quarterly period for which the fee is due.

SEC. 41. Section 50110 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 42. Section 50110 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

50110. The board, if it determines it to be necessary in order to facilitate the administration of this part, may require returns and payments specified under Section 50109 to be made for periods other than quarterly.

SEC. 43. Section 50111 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 44. Section 50111 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

50111. (a) The board for a good cause may extend, for up to one month, the time period within which a person is required to submit a report or pay a sum of money under this part. The extension may be granted at any time if a request is filed with the board within, or prior to the commencement of, the period for which the extension may be granted.

(b) Any person to whom an extension is granted shall pay, in addition to the fee, interest at the modified adjusted rate per month, or fraction thereof, established pursuant to Section 6591.5, from the date on which the fee would have been due without the extension until the date of payment.

SEC. 45. Section 50112 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 46. Section 50112 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

50112. If the fee is not paid to the board within the time prescribed for the payment of the fee, a penalty of 10 percent of the amount of the fee shall be added to the amount due.

SEC. 47. Section 50112.1 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

50112.1. All fees not paid on the date when due and payable shall bear interest at the modified adjusted rate per month, or fraction thereof, established pursuant to Section 6591.5, from that date until the date of payment.

SEC. 48. Section 50112.2 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

50112.2. (a) If the board finds that a person's failure to make a timely report or payment is due to reasonable cause and circumstances beyond the person's control, and occurred notwithstanding the exercise of ordinary care and the absence of willful neglect, the person may be relieved of the penalty provided by Section 50112.

(b) Any person seeking to be relieved of the penalty provided by Section 50112 shall file with the board a statement, under penalty of perjury, setting forth the facts upon which he or she bases his or her claim for relief.

SEC. 49. Section 50112.3 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

50112.3. (a) If the board finds that a person's failure to make a timely report or payment was due to a disaster, and occurred notwithstanding the exercise of ordinary care and the absence of willful neglect, the person may be relieved of the interest provided by Sections 50111 and 50112.1.

(b) Any person seeking to be relieved of the interest provided by Sections 50111 and 50112.1 shall file with the board a statement under penalty of perjury setting forth the facts upon which he or she bases his or her claim for relief.

SEC. 50. The heading of Article 2 (commencing with Section 50113) of Chapter 3 of Part 26 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

Article 2. Deficiency Determinations

SEC. 51. Section 50113 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

50113. (a) If the board is dissatisfied with the report filed or the amount of fee paid to the board under this part by any fee payer, or if no report has been filed or no payment or payments of the fees have been made to the state by a fee payer, the board may compute and determine the amount to be paid, based upon any information available to it. One or more additional determinations may be made of the amount of fee due for one, or for more than one, period. The amount of fee so determined shall bear interest at the modified rate per month, or fraction thereof, established pursuant to Section 6591.5, from the date the amount of the fee, or any portion thereof, became due and payable until the date of payment. In making a determination, the board may offset overpayments for a period or periods against underpayments for another period or periods and against the interest and penalties on the underpayments.

(b) If any part of the deficiency for which a determination of an additional amount due is made is found to have been occasioned by negligence or intentional disregard of this part or regulations adopted by the board pursuant to this part, a penalty of 10 percent of the amount of that determination shall be added, plus interest as provided in subdivision (a).

(c) If any part of the deficiency for which a determination of an additional amount due is made is found to be occasioned by fraud or an intent to evade this part or regulations adopted pursuant to this part, a penalty of 25 percent of the amount of the determination shall be added, plus interest as provided in subdivision (a).

(d) The board shall give to the fee payer written notice of its determination. The notice shall be placed in a sealed envelope, with postage paid, addressed to the fee payer at the fee payer's address as it appears in the records of the board. The giving of the notice shall be deemed complete at the time of the deposit in a United States Post Office, or a mailbox, subpost office, substation, mail chute, or other facility regularly maintained or provided by the United States Postal Service, without extension of time for any reason. In lieu of mailing, the board may serve notice personally by delivering to the person to be served, and service shall be deemed complete at the time of delivery. The board may make personal service to a corporation by delivering a notice to any person designated in the Code of Civil Procedure to be served for the corporation with a summons and complaint in a civil action.

SEC. 52. Section 50113.1 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

50113.1. Except in the case of fraud, intent to evade this part, or rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this part, or failure to make a report, every notice of a determination of an additional amount due shall be given within three years after the date when the amount was required to have been paid. In the case of failure to make a report, the notice of determination shall be mailed within eight years after the date the amount of the fee was due.

SEC. 53. Section 50113.2 is added to the Revenue and Taxation

Code, to read:

50113.2. If, before the expiration of the time prescribed in Section 50113.1 for the mailing of a notice of deficiency determination, the fee payer has consented in writing to the mailing of the notice after that time, the notice may be mailed at any time prior to the expiration of the period agreed upon. The period agreed upon may be extended by subsequent agreements in writing made before the expiration of the period previously agreed upon.

SEC. 54. Section 50114 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

50114. Any person from whom an amount is determined to be due under Article 2 (commencing with Section 50113), or any person directly interested, may petition for a redetermination thereof within 30 days after service of a notice of determination on that person. If a petition for redetermination is not filed within the 30-day period, the amount determined to be due becomes final at the expiration of that time period.

SEC. 55. Section 50119 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

50119. All amounts determined to be due by the board under Article 2 (commencing with Section 50113) are due and payable at the time they become final, and, if not paid when due and payable, a penalty of 10 percent of the amount determined to be due shall be added to the amount due and payable.

SEC. 56. An article heading is added immediately preceding Section 50120.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

Article 4. Jeopardy Determinations

SEC. 57. Section 50120.1 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

50120.1. If the board determines that the collection of any amount of fee will be jeopardized by delay, it shall thereupon make a determination of the amount of fee due, noting that fact upon the determination, and the amount of the fee shall be immediately due and payable. If the amount of the fee, interest, and penalty specified in the jeopardy determination is not paid, or a petition for redetermination is not filed, within 10 days after the service upon the feepayer of a notice of the determination, the determination becomes final, and the delinquency penalty provided in Section 50112 and the interest provided in 50112.1 shall attach to the amount of fee specified in the jeopardy determination.

SEC. 58. Section 50120.2 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

50120.2. The fee payer against whom a jeopardy determination is made may file a petition for the redetermination thereof, pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 50114), with the board within 10 days after the service upon the fee payer of notice of the determination, and he or she shall, within the 10-day period, deposit with the board that security which the board determines to be necessary to ensure compliance with this part. The security may be sold by the board at a public sale if it becomes necessary in order to recover any amount due under this part. Notice of the sale may be served upon the person who deposited the security personally or by mail in the same manner as prescribed for service of notice by subdivision (d) of Section 50113. After that sale, the surplus, if any, above the amount due under this part shall be returned to the person who deposited the security.

SEC. 59. Section 50120.3 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

50120.3. (a) In accordance with rules and regulations which the board may adopt, the person against whom a jeopardy determination is made may apply for an administrative hearing for one or more of the following purposes:

(1) To establish that the determination is excessive.

(2) To establish that the sale of property that may be seized after issuance of the jeopardy determination, or any part thereof, shall be delayed pending the administrative hearing because the sale would result in irreparable injury to the person.

(3) To request the release of all or part of the property to the person.

(4) To request a stay of collection activities.

(b) The application shall be filed within 30 days after service of the notice of jeopardy determination and shall be in writing and state the specific factual and legal grounds upon which it is founded. The person shall not be required to post any security in order to file the application and to obtain the hearing. However, if the person does not deposit, within the 10-day period prescribed in Section 50120.2, that security which the board determines to be necessary to ensure compliance with this part, the filing of the application shall not operate as a stay of collection activities, except for sale of property seized after issuance of the jeopardy determination. Upon a showing of good cause for failure to file a timely application for an administrative hearing, the board may allow a filing of the application and grant the person an administrative hearing. The filing of an application pursuant to this section does not affect Section 50120.1, relating to the finality date of the determination, and the attachment of the delinquency penalty and interest.

SEC. 60. Section 50123 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

50123. If any person fails to pay any amount imposed pursuant to this part at the time that it becomes due and payable, the amount, including interest and penalties, together with any costs in addition to the amount, are a perfected and enforceable state tax lien which is subject to Chapter 14 (commencing with Section 7150) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code.

SEC. 61. Section 50124 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

50124. (a) If the board detemines that the amount of any fees, interest, and penalties are sufficiently secured by a lien on other property or that the release or subordination of the lien imposed under this article will not jeopardize the collection of the amount of the fee and penalties, the board may at any time release all, or any portion of, the property subject to the lien from the lien or may subordinate the lien to other liens and encumbrances.

(b) If the board finds the liability represented by the lien imposed under this article is legally unenforceable, the board may release the lien.

(c) A certificate by the board that any property has been released from a lien or that the lien has been subordinated to other liens and encumbrances is conclusive evidence that the property has been released or that the lien has been subordinated, as provided in the certificate.

SEC. 62. Section 50129 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

50129. (a) Notice of the sale, and the time and place of the sale, shall be given to the delinquent fee payer and to all persons who have an interest of record in the property at least 20 days before the date set for the sale. The notice shall be personally served or enclosed in an envelope addressed to the fee payer or other person at his or her last known residence or place of business in this state as it appears upon the records of the board, if any, and depositing it in the United States registered mail, postage prepaid. The notice shall be published pursuant to Section 6063 of the Government Code in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the property or a part thereof is located. Notice shall also be posted in both of the following manners:

(1) One public place in the city in which the interest in property is to be sold if it is to be sold in a city or, if not to be sold in a city, one public place in the county in which the interest to the property is to be sold.

(2) One conspicuous place on the property.

(b) The notice shall contain a description of the property to be sold, a statement of the amount of the fees, interest, penalties, and costs, the name of the fee payer, and the further statement that unless the fees, interest, penalties, and costs are paid on or before the time fixed in the notice of the sale, the property, or so much of the property as may be necessary, will be sold in accordance with law and the notice.

SEC. 63. Section 50131 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

50131. If, after a sale conducted pursuant to this article, the money received exceeds the amount of all fees, interest, penalties, and costs due the state from the fee payer, the board shall return the excess to the fee payer and obtain the fee payer's receipt. If any persons having an interest in or lien upon the property files with the board prior to the sale notice of the person's interest, the board shall withhold any excess pending a determination of the rights of the respective parties to the party by a court of competent jurisdiction. If the receipt of the fee payer is not available, the board shall deposit the excess moneys with the Treasurer, as trustee for the owner, subject to the order of the fee payer, and the fee payer's heirs, successors, or assigns.

SEC. 64. Section 50132 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

50132. If any fee payer is delinquent in the payment of any obligation imposed by this part, or if any determination has been made against a fee payer which remains unpaid, the board may, not later than three years after the payment becomes delinquent, or the last recording or filing of a notice of state tax lien under Section 7171 of the Government Code, give notice thereof, personally or by first-class mail, to all persons, including any officer or department of the state or any political subdivision or agency of the state, having in their possession or under their control any credits or other personal property belonging to the fee payer, or owing any debts to the fee payer. In the case of any state officer, department, or agency, the notice shall be given to the officer, department, or agency prior to the time it presents the claim of the delinquent fee payer to the Controller.

SEC. 65. Section 50134 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

50134. All persons notified pursuant to Section 50132 shall immediately, after receipt of the notice, advise the board of all credits, other personal property, or debts in their possession, under their control, or owing by them. If the notice seeks to prevent the transfer or other disposition of a deposit in a bank or other credits or personal property in the possession or under the control of a bank, the notice, to be effective, shall state the amount, interest, and penalty due from the person and shall be delivered or mailed to the branch or office of the bank at which the deposit is carried or at which the credits or personal property are held. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, with respect to a deposit in a bank or other credits or personal property in the possession or under the control of a bank, the notice shall only be effective with respect to an amount not in excess of the amount, interest, and penalty due from the person.

SEC. 66. Section 50136 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

50136. (a) The board may, by notice of levy, served personally or by first-class mail, require all persons having in their possession, or under their control, any credits or other personal property belonging to a fee payer or other person liable for any amount under this part to withhold from these credits or other personal property the amount of any fee, interest, or penalties due from the fee payer or other person, or the amount of any liability incurred under this part, and to transmit the amount withheld to the board at the time it may designate.

(b) In the case of a financial institution, to be effective, the notice shall state the amount due from the fee payer and shall be delivered or mailed to the branch office of the financial institution where the credits or other property are held, unless another branch or office is designated by the financial institution to receive the notice.

SEC. 67. Section 50139 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

50139. (a) If the board determines that any amount of fee, interest, or penalty has been paid more than once or has been erroneously or illegally collected or computed, the board shall set forth that fact in the records of the board and shall certify to the State Board of Control the amount collected in excess of what was legally due and the person from whom it was collected or by whom it was paid. If approved by the State Board of Control, the excess amount collected or paid shall be credited on any amounts then due from the person from whom the excess amount was collected or by whom it was paid under this part, and the balance shall be refunded to the person, or the person's successors, administrators, or executors.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), in the case of a determination by the board that an amount of not more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) was not required to be paid under this part, the board, without obtaining the approval of the State Board of Control, may credit the amount on any amounts then due and payable under this part from the person by whom the amount was paid and may refund the balance to the person or the person's successors, administrators, or executors.

SEC. 68. Section 50140 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

50140. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), the board shall not approve a refund three years after the due date of the payment for the period for which the overpayment was made, or, with respect to determinations made under Article 2 (commencing with Section 50113) of Chapter 3, within six months after the determinations have become final, whichever period expires later, unless a claim therefor is filed with the board within that period. The board shall not approve a credit after the expiration of that period, unless a claim for credit is filed with the board within that period.

(b) A refund may be approved by the board for any period for which a waiver is given under Section 50113.2 if a claim is filed with the board before the expiration of the period agreed upon.

(c) Every claim for refund or credit shall be in writing and shall state the specific grounds upon which the claim is founded.

SEC. 69. Section 50142.1 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

50142.1. Interest shall be computed, allowed, and paid upon any overpayment of any amount of fee at the modified adjusted rate per month established pursuant to Section 6591.5, from the due date of the return for the period for which the overpayment was made, but no refund or credit shall be made of any interest imposed upon the claimant with respect to the amount being refunded or credited.

The interest shall be paid as follows:

(a) In the case of a refund, to the 25th day of the calendar month following the date upon which the claimant is notified by the board that a claim may be filed or the date upon which the claim is certified to the State Board of Control, whichever date is earlier.

(b) In the case of a credit, to the same date as that to which interest is computed on the fee or amount against which the credit is applied.

SEC. 70. Section 50148.1 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

50148.1. In any judgment, interest shall be allowed at the modified adjusted rate per annum established pursuant to Section 6591.5, upon the amount found to have been illegally collected from the date of payment of the amount to the date of allowance of credit on account of the judgment, or to a date preceding the date of the refund warrant by not more than 30 days, the date to be determined by the board.

SEC. 71. Section 50157 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

50157. All fees, interest, and penalties imposed, and all amounts of fees, required to be paid to the state pursuant to Section 50108 shall be paid to the board in the form of remittances payable to the State Board of Equalization of the State of California. The board shall transmit the payments to the Treasurer to be deposited in the Underground Storage Tank Cleanup Fund in the General Fund.

SEC. 72. Section 50160 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

50160. A fee payer's successors, receivers, trustees, executors, administrators, assignees, or guarantors, if directly interested, may be given information regarding the determination of any unpaid fee or the amount of fees, interest, or penalties required to be collected or assessed.

SEC. 73. The sum of four million dollars ($4,000,000) is hereby transferred from the Underground Storage Tank Cleanup Fund in the General Fund to the Petroleum Underground Storage Tank Financing Account in the General Fund, and appropriated therefrom, to the Department of Commerce for the purposes specified in Chapter 8.5 (commencing with Section 15399.10) of Part 6.7 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. It is the intent of the Legislature that this amount of funds be annually appropriated in the Budget Act from the Underground Storage Tank Cleanup Fund to the Department of Commerce for the purposes specified in Chapter 8.5 (commencing with Section 15399.10) of Part 6.7 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

The transfer of funds from the Underground Storage Tank Cleanup Fund to the Petroleum Underground Storage Tank Financing Account made by this section shall become operative only when the Underground Storage Tank Cleanup Fund has achieved a balance of four million dollars ($4,000,000).

SEC. 74. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 75. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to assure the expeditious cleanup of leaking underground storage tanks located in the state containing petroleum, thereby protecting public health and safety and the environment, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1367

An act to add and repeal Section 1214.3 of the Penal Code, relating to criminal procedure.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1214.3 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

1214.3. (a) Any county, by resolution of its board of supervisors, may establish a "Misdemeanor and Traffic Violation Pilot Project" within any judicial district within the county pursuant to this section.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, whenever a person is issued a citation for any violation of this code or of the Vehicle Code not declared to be a felony, or for any violation of an ordinance of a city, county, or a city and county relating to a traffic offense, the person shall be advised verbally and in writing of the nature of the violation and of the procedures relative to additional civil assessments described in this section. Written notice given to the defendant shall serve as prima facie acknowledgment of proof of service and shall include the defendant's name, notice to appear (citation) number, defendant's signature and date of signature, issuer's name, agency, employee identification number and date of issuance, and any other information deemed appropriate by the public agency. This information also shall be mailed to the person in a notice sent to the address given by the person on the citation. The notice shall contain the amount of the bail or fine for the offense and a form upon which the defendant may disclose his or her financial inability to pay the fine or bail, requesting a payment schedule to be arranged. The defendant's disclosure shall be signed by the defendant under penalty of perjury. The notice also shall contain a notice that if the defendant elects to appear in court to contest the charges, he or she may appear at a date and time specified by the court in the notice and shall sign a promise to appear on that specified date and time.

(c) The defendant shall do one of the following within 30 days of receipt of the mailed notice:

(1) Pay the fine or post bail.

(2) Return the completed financial statement to the court.

(3) Return the promise to appear for trial.

(d) The notice shall include a return envelope from the court and a statement that failure to proceed pursuant to subdivision (c) will result in the issuance of a judgment in the amount of five hundred dollars ($500), in addition to liability for the amount of the fine.

(e) Where appropriate, all written advisements or notices given or sent pursuant to this section shall be in both English and Spanish.

(f) If the defendant does not respond within 30 days of receipt of the notice, the court shall send the defendant a notice of intent to issue judgment which shall advise the defendant that if he or she does not appear within 10 days, the five hundred dollars ($500) will become collectible as civil damages.

(g) If the defendant does not respond within 10 days of the issuance of the intent to issue judgment, the court shall issue a writ of execution and the five hundred dollars ($500) shall be collectible as civil damages.

(h) If a writ of execution is issued for collection of a civil assessment, the same writ also shall include an attachment for the amount of the fine or forfeiture for the underlying offense.

(i) The costs of levying, storing, or safekeeping all personal and real property seized by a levying officer in effectuating any process issued pursuant to this section shall be the responsibility of the owner of the property.

(j) After the writ of execution has been issued, the defendant may appear and, upon a showing of good cause, the civil fine shall be set aside, but subject to an administrative fee equal to 14 percent of the fine or forfeiture imposed, not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500). Thereafter, the defendant may address the underlying offense de novo. The clerk of the court shall transfer the amounts collected under this subdivision to the county treasurer for deposit in the county treasury. All moneys so deposited shall be transferred as follows: 50 percent of the money to the agency levying or collecting the judgment to be used exclusively for that agency, and 50 percent of that money to a fund in the county treasury and used exclusively to develop, maintain, and operate an automated county warrant system. The assessment imposed shall be subject to the due process requirements governing defense and collection of civil money judgments generally.

(k) Except in cases in which it is determined that the defendant has insufficient attachable assets, in which case the court may issue a bench warrant, no bench warrant or warrant of arrest shall be issued with respect to the failure to appear at the proceeding for which the judgment is imposed.

(l) For counties opting to participate in the pilot project, notwithstanding Section 1463, out of the moneys deposited with the county treasurer pursuant to Section 1463, there shall be transferred once a month an amount equal to the specified percentage of civil assessments collected during the preceding month upon a judgment made pursuant to Section 1214.1, in accordance with the following schedule:

(1) Twenty percent to be transferred to the law enforcement agency that issued the underlying citation, for use of that agency.

(2) Twenty-five percent to be transferred to the agency levying or collecting the judgment, for use of that agency.

(3) Five percent to be transferred to a county fund and used exclusively to develop, maintain, and operate an automated warrant system.

(4) Twenty-five percent to be deposited in the general fund of the county.

(5) Twenty-five percent to be transferred to the judicial district issuing the writ of execution.

(m) If the judgment is for a fine, with or without imprisonment, the judgment may be enforced in the manner provided for the enforcement of money judgments generally.

(n) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1993, deletes or extends that date.

CHAPTER 1368

An act to amend Section 16112.7 of the Government Code, and to amend Section 33676 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to redevelopment, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 16112.7 of the Government Code is amended to read:

16112.7. Notwithstanding Sections 16111 and 16112, redevelopment agencies shall receive state subventions for the 1990–91 fiscal year in accordance with the following procedures:

(a) The Department of Finance shall calculate an amount equal to 25 percent of the total amount all redevelopment agencies would otherwise be entitled to receive in the 1990–91 fiscal year pursuant to paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 16111.

(b) On or before December 31, 1990, for the 1990–91 fiscal year, the Controller shall allocate the amount calculated pursuant to subdivision (a) to each redevelopment agency in accordance with the percentage entitlement of the total amount that would otherwise be allocated to that agency pursuant to paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 16111.

(c) The Department of Finance shall calculate an amount equal to 50 percent of the total amount all redevelopment agencies would otherwise be entitled to receive in the 1990–91 fiscal year pursuant to paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 16111.

(d) On July 1, 1991, the Controller shall allocate the amount calculated pursuant to subdivision (c) to each redevelopment agency in accordance with the percentage entitlement of the total amount that would otherwise be allocated to that agency pursuant to paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 16111.

(e) Subdivisions (a) to (d), inclusive, shall not apply to any redevelopment agency which has stated in bond instruments and supporting documents that the amounts received pursuant to Section 16111 are pledged as security for payment of the principal and interest of those bonds and that the bond reserve account is insufficient to cover the bond payments. Any redevelopment agency within this subdivision shall, for the 1990–91 fiscal year, instead receive two payments allocated by the Controller, with each payment equal to 50 percent of the amount that would otherwise be allocated to that agency pursuant to paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 16111. The first payment pursuant to this subdivision shall be made on or before December 31, 1990, and the second payment shall be made on July 1, 1991. No redevelopment agency shall, on or after the effective date of this section, pledge as security for payment of the principal and interest of bonds, the amounts received pursuant to Section 16111.

(f) Notwithstanding the prohibition contained in subdivision (e), relating to the pledge of amounts received pursuant to Section 16111 as security for the payment of bonds, a redevelopment agency within a city with a population of less than 20,000 which receives amounts pursuant to Section 16111 in the 1990–91 fiscal year in excess of one million five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000) but less than two million five hundred thousand dollars ($2,500,000), may pledge amounts received pursuant to Section 16111, which amounts shall not be less than the amounts received in the 1984–85 fiscal year, as security for the payment of the principal and interest on bonds issued prior to January 1, 1992.

SEC. 2. Section 33676 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

33676. (a) Prior to the adoption by the legislative body of a redevelopment plan providing for tax-increment financing pursuant to Section 33670, and unless an agreement is entered into or payments are otherwise distributed by the agency in accordance with Section 33401, any affected taxing agency may elect, and every school and community college district shall elect, to be allocated, in addition to the portion of taxes allocated to the affected taxing agency pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 33670, all or any portion of the tax revenues allocated to the agency pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 33670 attributable to one or more of the following:

(1) Increases in the rate of tax imposed for the benefit of the taxing agency which levy occurs after the tax year in which the ordinance adopting the redevelopment plan becomes effective.

(2) Increases in the assessed value of the taxable property in the redevelopment project area, as the assessed value is established by the assessment roll last equalized prior to the effective date of the ordinance adopting the redevelopment plan pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 33670, which are, or otherwise would be, calculated annually pursuant to subdivision (f) of Section 110.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(3) If an agency pursuant to Section 33354.5 amends a redevelopment plan which does not utilize tax increment financing to add tax increment financing, and pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 33670 uses the assessment roll last equalized prior to the effective date of the ordinance originally adopting the redevelopment plan, an affected taxing agency may elect to be allocated all or any portion of the tax revenues allocated to the agency pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 33670 which the affected taxing agency would receive if the agency were to use the assessment roll last equalized prior to the effective date of the ordinance amending the redevelopment plan to add tax increment financing.

(b) The governing body of any affected taxing agency electing to receive allocation of taxes pursuant to this section in addition to taxes allocated to it pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 33670 shall adopt a resolution to that effect and transmit the same, prior to the adoption of the redevelopment plan, to (1) the legislative body, (2) the agency, and (3) the official or officials performing the functions of levying and collecting taxes for the affected taxing agency. Upon receipt by the official or officials of the resolution, allocation of taxes pursuant to this section to the affected taxing agency which has elected to receive the allocation pursuant to this section by the adoption of the resolution shall be made at the time or times allocations are made pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 33670.

(c) An affected taxing agency, at any time after the adoption of the resolution, may elect not to receive all or any portion of the additional allocation of taxes pursuant to this section by rescinding the resolution or by amending the same, as the case may be, and giving notice thereof to the legislative body, the agency, and the official or officials performing the functions of levying and collecting taxes for the affected taxing agency. After receipt of a notice by the official or officials that an affected taxing agency has elected not to receive all or a portion of the additional allocation of taxes by recission or amendment of the resolution, any allocation of taxes to the affected taxing agency required to be made pursuant to this section shall not thereafter be made but shall be allocated to the agency and the affected taxing agency shall thereafter be allocated only the portion of taxes provided for in subdivision (a) of Section 33670. After receipt of a notice by the official or officials that an affected taxing agency has elected to receive additional tax revenues attributable to only a portion of the increases in the rate of tax, only that portion of the tax revenues shall thereafter be allocated to the affected taxing agency in addition to the portion of taxes allocated pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 33670, and the remaining portion thereof shall be allocated to the agency.

(d) As used in this section, "affected taxing agency" means and includes every public agency for the benefit of which a tax is levied upon property in the project area, whether levied by the public agency or on its behalf by another public agency.

(e) This section shall apply only to redevelopment projects for which a final redevelopment plan is adopted pursuant to Article 5 (commencing with Section 33360) of Chapter 4 on or after January 1, 1977.

SEC. 3. For purposes of subdivision (e) of Section 16112.7 of the Government Code, the redevelopment agencies of the Cities of Chula Vista, Compton, and South Gate shall be deemed to meet the criteria for the exemption and, therefore, the reductions required pursuant to subdivisions (a), (b), (c), and (d) of Section 16112.7 shall not apply.

SEC. 4. The Redevelopment Agency of the City of Los Angeles shall not exercise the power of eminent domain over residential property within any area added, after the effective date of this act, to the existing Watts Redevelopment Project Area. This prohibition includes, but is not limited to, any amendment to the Watts Redevelopment Project Area plan, administrative or ministerial action relating to, or taking place within, any expanded or proposed to be expanded Watts Redevelopment Project Area.

Where the authority of eminent domain is to be used in areas zoned for nonresidential use, each residential property shall be identified separately in the plan prior to its adoption by a two-thirds vote of the city council. Owners and residents of residential property shall be notified in writing at least 30 days before the redevelopment plan is submitted to the city council for approval, of the possible loss of their residence or property through the future exercise of eminent domain authority and an explanation of how to register any objection to the plan to the city council.

Existing businesses that may be displaced due to redevelopment shall receive first priority in receiving (a) technical assistance to qualify for eligibility, if applicable, in an enterprise zone, as defined by subdivision (b) of Section 7072 of the Government Code, and in an employment and economic incentive program as provided in Chapter 12.9 (commencing with Section 7080) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code, (b) loans and other forms of financial assistance available through the Los Angeles Community Redevelopment Agency, and (c) relocation in the same location or a different location in the project area.

Existing tenants, and all future tenants, shall be entitled to all benefits under existing relocation law. For the purpose of establishing tenant eligibility all tenants shall be eligible who have established residency at the time the city council adopts the final resolution approving the eminent domain action and eviction of tenants on the specific residential property.

SEC. 5. Due to the high cost of housing within the County of Los Angeles, lower income homeowners whose property may be taken by eminent domain may not receive sufficient compensation to purchase replacement housing. Therefore, the Legislature finds and declares that a general statute cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution. Special legislation is, therefore, necessary, applicable to only Los Angeles County.

SEC. 6. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to address serious problems regarding the operations and funding of redevelopment agencies, it is necessary that this act take immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1369

An act to add Sections 746, 747, and 747.5 to the Public Utilities Code, relating to public utilities.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares the following:

(a) The maintenance and expansion of existing utility conservation programs, and the adoption of new conservation programs, could contribute significantly to the successful implementation of a long-term, least-cost energy plan for the citizens of California.

(b) To promote additional energy conservation measures, the Public Utilities Commission should provide an opportunity for conservation to compete on a fair and reasonable basis with generating resources to fulfill future utility resource needs.

(c) To promote additional utility financed conservation programs, the Public Utilities Commission should establish a pilot program to provide incentives for utilities to invest in conservation programs.

SEC. 2. Section 746 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

746. (a) On or before June 30, 1991, the commission, in consultation with the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission, shall, to the extent feasible, adopt and implement a pilot program of incentives to encourage utilities to maintain and expand their energy efficiency programs and load management programs that promote energy efficiency.

(b) The commission's incentives program shall require utilities to achieve reasonable minimum performance requirements as a condition for receiving incentive benefits, and shall hold utilities accountable for not achieving reasonable minimum performance requirements through loss of incentive benefits and the imposition of penalties.

(c) The commission shall, to the extent feasible, require that incentives are based on the participation levels and energy savings from utility energy efficiency programs and load management programs that promote energy efficiency.

(d) The commission shall, as soon as practicable, report to the Legislature on the results of its pilot program of incentives. The report shall indicate whether incentives are preferable to a regulatory scheme which mandates utility energy efficiency programs and load management programs that promote energy efficiency.

SEC. 3. Section 747 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

747. (a) In addition to the incentives program required by Section 746, the commission shall require one or more electric utilities to implement pilot projects to accomplish the following:

(1) On or before June 30, 1991, begin to test separately from any generation resource bidding system the ability of demand side bidding to deliver benefits to utility customers.

(2) At the earliest practicable time, test the feasibility of an integrated bidding system that includes both generation resources and demand side programs.

(b) The commission shall establish a pilot program for gas utilities which tests a program of competitive bidding auctions for demand side services which deliver benefits to utility customers. However, a pilot program shall not apply to customer classes for which the gas utility is at risk for loss of sales or revenues due to the lack of a sales adjustment mechanism.

(c) On or before January 1, 1993, the commission, in consultation with the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission, shall report the results of the pilot projects required by subdivisions (a) and (b) to the Legislature. The report shall assess the feasibility and implications of implementing the tested bidding systems and shall include recommendations on whether or not the state should adopt either, or both, of the following:

(1) An integrated bidding system that allows demand side services to compete with generation resources to fulfill future electric utility resource needs, or a program of separate bidding auctions for demand side services which deliver benefits to electric utility customers.

(2) A program of separate bidding auctions for demand side services which deliver benefits to natural gas utility customers.

SEC. 4. Section 747.5 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

747.5. The commission shall review its policies concerning pricing of utility service and shall assess whether the pricing policies promote the pursuit of energy efficiency by customers, and shall report its assessment to the Legislature as soon as practicable.

CHAPTER 1370

An act to add Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 16000) to Part 4 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to minors.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 16000) is added to Part 4 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

CHAPTER 1. FOSTER CARE PLACEMENT

16000. It is the intent of the Legislature to preserve and strengthen a minor's family ties whenever possible, removing the minor from the custody of his or her parents only when necessary for his or her welfare or for the safety and protection of the public. When the minor is removed from his or her own family, it is the purpose of this chapter to secure as nearly as possible for the minor the custody, care, and discipline equivalent to that which should have been given to the minor by his or her parents. Family reunification services shall be provided for expeditious reunification of the minor with his or her family, as required by law. If reunification is not possible or likely, a permanent alternative shall be developed.

16010. (a) When a minor is placed in foster care, to the extent available and accessible, the case plan for each minor shall include the health and education records of the minor. The records shall include, but not be limited to, the names and addresses of the minor's health and education providers, the minor's grade level performance, the minor's school record, assurances that the minor's placement in foster care takes into account proximity to the school in which the minor is enrolled at the time of placement, a record of the minor's immunizations, the minor's known medical problems, the minor's medications, and any other relevant health and educational information concerning the minor determined to be appropriate by the director.

(b) A minor's health and education record shall be reviewed and updated, and supplied to the foster parent or foster care provider with whom the minor is placed, at the time of each placement of the minor in foster care.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1371

An act relating to parks and recreation, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of one million two hundred sixty-two thousand dollars ($1,262,000) is hereby appropriated from the State Parks and Recreation Fund, from proceeds derived from the transfer of approximately 16.7 acres of land, commonly known as the Las Cruces site in Gaviota State Park, which is authorized by Section 35 of Chapter 1256 of the Statutes of 1989, to the Department of Parks and Recreation for the cooperative acquisition of real property adjoining or in the vicinity of the La Purisima Mission State Historical Park.

CHAPTER 1372

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) The Legislature hereby finds and declares that numerous provisions of the Education Code, including those provisions listed in subdivision (b), authorizing community colleges to conduct various activities are unnecessary in light of Section 14 of Article IX of the California Constitution. Section 14 of Article IX of the California Constitution authorizes community college districts to initiate and carry out any activity which is not in conflict with, or inconsistent with, or preempted by any law, and which is not in conflict with the purposes for which community college districts are established.

(b) The Legislature finds and declares that the purpose of this act is to repeal or make inapplicable to the community colleges numerous Education Code provisions which are no longer necessary in light of the authority of Section 14 of Article IX of the Constitution. In repealing or making inapplicable these provisions, the Legislature finds and declares that under the general authority of Section 14 of Article IX, community college districts shall continue to have the authority provided in the provisions that are repealed. The Legislature specifically declares this finding with regard to, but not limited to, the following Education Code sections which are repealed or amended by this act:

Sections 8080, 8081, 8084, 8085, 8091, 8322, 8329, 8760, 8761, 8762, 8763, 8764, 10504, 12400, 12401, 12402, 12404, 12405, 18110, 18111, 18120, 18131, 18134, 32371, 32372, 72241.5, 72244, 72320, 72321, 72412, 72419, 72419.5, 72420, 72421, 72422, 76400, 76470, 78001, 78010, 78011, 78050, 78051, 78208, 78230, 78240, 78270, 78280, 78281, 78286, 78302, 78303, 78409, 78440, 79022, 79028, 79032, 79121, 81009, 81839, 81931, 81953, 81954, 81957, 82305, 82305.5, 82500, 82501, 82535, 82541, 84035, 84050, 85201, 85260.5, 85266, 85267, 85410, 85420, and 85430, the second sentence of Section 32033, the second and third sentences of Section 76403, the first sentence of Section 78442, and the second and third sentences of Section 84041.

SEC. 3. Section 40 of the Education Code is amended to read:

40. (a) It is the policy of the state that elementary and secondary school classes and courses, including nonacademic and elective classes and courses be conducted, without regard to the sex of the student enrolled in such classes and courses.

(b) No school district shall prohibit any student from enrolling in any class or course on the basis of the sex of the student, except a class subject to Section 51550.

(c) No school district shall require students of one sex to enroll in a particular class or course, unless the same class or course is also required of students of the opposite sex.

(d) No school counselor, teacher, instructor, administrator, or aide shall, on the basis of the sex of a student, offer vocational or school program guidance to students of one sex which is different from that offered to students of the opposite sex or, in counseling students, differentiate career, vocational or higher education opportunities on the basis of the sex of the student counseled. Any school personnel acting in a career counseling or course selection capacity to any pupil shall affirmatively explore with the pupil the possibility of careers, or courses leading to careers, that are nontraditional for that pupil's sex. The parents or legal guardian of the pupil shall be notified in a general manner at least once in the manner prescribed by Section 48980, in advance of career counseling and course selection commencing with course selection for the seventh grade so that they may participate in the counseling sessions and decisions.

(e) Participation in a particular physical education activity or sport, if required of students of one sex, shall be available to students of each sex.

SEC. 4. Section 41 of the Education Code is amended to read:

41. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that female students are not accorded opportunities for participation in school-sponsored athletic programs equal to those accorded male students. It is the intent of the Legislature that opportunities for participation in athletics be provided equally to male and female students.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, no public funds shall be used in connection with any athletic program conducted under the auspices of a school district governing board or any student organization within the district, which does not provide equal opportunity to both sexes for participation and for use of facilities. Facilities and participation include, but are not limited to, equipment and supplies, scheduling of games and practice time, compensation for coaches, travel arrangements, per diem, locker rooms, and medical services.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed to require a school district to require competition between male and female students in school-sponsored athletic programs.

SEC. 5. Section 52 of the Education Code is amended to read:

52. The secondary schools of the state are designated as high schools, technical schools, and adult schools.

SEC. 6. Section 91 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 7. Section 92 of the Education Code is amended to read:

92. "County" or "counties" as used in Sections 2300, 12300 to 12307, inclusive, 41000 to 41964, inclusive, 42100 to 42128, inclusive, 46000 to 46392, inclusive, 84000 to 84850.5, inclusive, and 85000 to 85430, inclusive, whichever are in effect, includes a city and county.

SEC. 9. Section 262.3 of the Education Code is amended to read:

262.3. (a) A party to a written complaint of prohibited discrimination may appeal the action taken by the governing board of a school district, the governing board of a community college district, the president of a campus of the California State University, or the chancellor of a campus of the University of California, pursuant to this article, to the State Department of Education, the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, the Chancellor of the California State University, or the President of the University of California, as applicable.

(b) Persons who have filed a complaint, pursuant to this chapter, with an educational institution shall be advised by the educational institution that civil law remedies, including, but not limited to, injunctions, restraining orders, or other orders may also be available to complainants. The educational institution shall make this information available by publication in appropriate informational materials.

SEC. 10. Section 265 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 11. Section 1043 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1043. Upon the adoption of a resolution by the board of supervisors of the county consenting to the transfer of the functions specified in this section, the functions specified in this section shall be transferred from the county board of supervisors to the county board of education. The functions, including, but not limited to, the receipt of petition and reports and other papers, are those specified in Sections 35001, 35002, 35676, 35698, 35699, 35703, 35704, 35705, 35722, 35723, 35724, 74100, 74104, 74131, 74132, 74134, 74151, 74153, 74156, 74250, 74251, and 74295.

Upon the adoption of the resolution, any reference, with respect to that county, in those sections to the board of supervisors shall be deemed to be a reference to the county board of education of that county and any reference to the clerk of the county board of supervisors shall be deemed to be a reference to the secretary of the county board of education of that county.

SEC. 12. Section 1240 of the Education Code, as amended by Chapter 1462 of the Statutes of 1988, is amended to read:

1240. The superintendent of schools of each county shall:

(a) Superintend the schools of his or her county.

(b) Visit and examine each school in his or her county at reasonable intervals to observe their operation and to learn of their problems. He or she may annually present a report of the state of the schools in his or her county, and of his or her office, including, but not limited to, his or her observations while visiting the schools, to the board of education and the board of supervisors of his or her county.

(c) Distribute all laws, reports, circulars, instructions, and blanks that he or she may receive for the use of the school officers.

(d) Keep in his or her office the reports of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

(e) Keep a record of his or her official acts, and of all the proceedings of the county board of education, including a record of the standing, in each study, of all applicants for certificates who have been examined, which shall be open to the inspection of any applicant or his or her authorized agent.

(f) Enforce the course of study.

(g) Enforce the use of state textbooks and of high school textbooks regularly adopted by the proper authority.

(h) Preserve carefully all reports of school officers and teachers.

(i) Deliver to his or her successor, at the close of his or her official term, all records, books, documents, and papers belonging to the office, taking a receipt for them, which shall be filed with the State Department of Education.

(j) Submit two reports during the fiscal year to the county board of education. The first report shall cover the financial and budgetary status of the county office of education for the period ending no earlier than October 31 nor later than December 31. The second report shall cover the period ending March 31. Both reports shall be reviewed by the county board of education and approved by the county superintendent no later than 45 days after the close of the period being reported. As part of each report, the superintendent shall certify in writing whether or not the county office of education is able to meet its financial obligations for the remainder of the fiscal year. The certifications shall be classified as positive, qualified, or negative, as prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, for the purposes of determining subsequent state agency actions pursuant to Section 1240.1. Copies of each certification in which the superintendent is unable to certify unqualifiedly that these financial obligations will be met and the report containing that certification shall be sent to the Controller and the Superintendent of Public Instruction at the time it is submitted to the county board of education.

All reports and certifications required under this subdivision shall be in a format or on forms prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and shall be based on standards and criteria for fiscal stability developed pursuant to Section 33127.

This subdivision does not preclude the submission of additional budgetary or financial reports by the superintendent to the county board of education or to the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

(k) When so requested, act as agent for the purchase of supplies for the city and high school districts of his or her county.

(l) For purposes of Section 44421.5, report to the Commission on Teacher Credentialing the identity of any certificated person who knowingly and willingly reports false fiscal expenditure data relative to the conduct of any educational program. This requirement applies only if, in the course of his or her normal duties, the county superintendent of schools discovers information that gives him or her reasonable cause to believe that false fiscal expenditure data relative to the conduct of any educational program has been reported.

SEC. 13. Section 1245 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1245. Each county superintendent of schools shall submit the reports as may from time to time be required by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. It shall be the duty of each school district to furnish to the county superintendent of schools any records, reports, documents, maps or other data pertaining to reports required by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

SEC. 14. Section 1246 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1246. Whenever the destruction of records of a county superintendent of schools is not otherwise authorized or provided for by law, the county superintendent of schools may destroy the records of his or her office in accordance with regulations of the Superintendent of Public Instruction which he or she is herewith authorized to adopt.

SEC. 15. Section 1250 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1250. The county superintendent of schools, with the approval of the county board of education, may enter into an agreement with the governing board of any school district or community college district in the territory under his or her jurisdiction, to provide for the use by the district of audiovisual equipment and apparatus. The county superintendent of schools is authorized to acquire by purchase, lease, or any other means the equipment and apparatus necessary to provide the service, and to establish facilities for maintaining and servicing that equipment, and for its distribution to school districts and community college districts. The title to all equipment and apparatus acquired by the county superintendent of schools under this section shall be vested in the office of the county superintendent of schools.

The agreement shall, among other matters, provide for the amount of the payment to be made by the districts to the county superintendent of schools, and the time the payments shall be made. The payments made by all districts that have entered into an agreement with the county superintendent of schools under this section shall not exceed the costs of rendering the service. The costs may include any expense necessary to carry out this section.

The governing board of a school district or a community college district may withdraw from an agreement by giving notice six months prior to the beginning of the next fiscal year, and the agreement shall terminate on the last day of the then current fiscal year. The terms of an agreement may be changed by mutual consent at any time.

The county superintendent of schools shall transfer the amounts agreed upon, at the time or times agreed upon, from the general fund of the district to the special equipment and apparatus fund of the county superintendent of schools, which fund is hereby authorized. All funds received for the purposes of this section shall be deposited in said fund, and all expenditures made for the purposes of this section shall be made from the fund.

SEC. 16. Section 1252 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1252. The county superintendent of schools of any county may, with the approval of the State Compensation Insurance Fund, insure the liability for compensation of any school districts and community college districts in the territory under his or her jurisdiction, the governing boards of which consent thereto, with the State

Compensation Insurance Fund under one policy or contract of insurance and pay the premium for the insurance from the county school service fund. Immediately following the payment of the final premium the county superintendent of schools shall transfer from the funds of each insured district to the county school service fund an amount which bears the same ratio to the premium as the payroll of each district bears to the total payroll of all the insured districts.

Any dividends earned on the premiums paid under this section shall be credited to the individual districts in proportion to the amount of the premium charged to each district.

The expenses of the county superintendent of schools incurred under this section shall be charged to and paid from the county school service fund, which fund shall be reimbursed for those expenses from the general funds of the school districts and community college districts on whose behalf the expenditures are incurred.

SEC. 17. Section 1253 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1253. (a) Whenever any school district or community college district is situated partly within two or more counties, jurisdiction over it is, unless otherwise provided in this code, in the county superintendent of schools of the county in which the schoolhouse of the district is located, or, if there be a schoolhouse of the district in each of two or more counties, jurisdiction over the district is in the county superintendent of schools of the county in which the greatest area of the district lies.

(b) Jurisdiction once established pursuant to subdivision (a) over a school district or community college district situated in two or more counties, shall not be changed, regardless of changes in the schoolhouse maintained by the district in the several counties or changes in the areas of the several counties included within the district, except by a majority of the votes cast by the electors within the district on the proposition for change of such jurisdiction submitted at election.

(c) "Jurisdiction," with respect to community college districts for the purposes of this section, means the responsibility or authority to provide services to community college districts.

SEC. 18. Section 1255 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 19. Section 1260 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1260. The county superintendent of schools, with the approval of the county board of education, may:

(a) Conduct studies through research and investigation as are determined by the county board to be required in connection with the future management, conditions, needs, and financial support of the schools within the county; or join with one or more school district or community college district governing boards in the conduct of the studies.

(b) Install and maintain exhibits of educational programs and activities of the school districts and community college districts within the county at any county fair or at any agricultural district fair.

(c) Inform and make known to the citizens of the county, the educational programs and activities of the school districts or community college districts in the territory within his or her jurisdiction.

(d) Subscribe for membership in any society, association, or organization which has for its purpose the promotion and advancement of public or private education, subject to the same restrictions as are imposed by Section 35173 on governing boards of school districts respecting those subscriptions.

(e) Provide in-service programs and coordinative services for any school or community college district governing board or governing board association in the territory under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent of schools.

SEC. 20. Section 1262 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1262. Each county superintendent of schools is authorized upon request to provide consultative or coordinative services for school districts and community college districts in the territory under his or her jurisdiction which have established educational programs that are designed to meet the requirements of federal law for the receipt of federal funds for the support of the programs, and that are supported in whole or in part by federal funds. The services may be financed by the federal funds as may be provided.

SEC. 21. Section 1271 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1271. The county superintendent of schools may, with the approval of the county board of education, hold one trustees' meeting in each year as follows:

(a) One school trustee of each school district of the county shall attend the meeting and participate in its proceedings but more than one trustee of any district may attend if the board of trustees of that district so directs.

(b) School trustees of each school district shall select the trustee or trustees who shall attend the meeting.

(c) Each trustee selected to attend the meeting shall be allowed his or her actual traveling expenses for not to exceed one day incurred in going to and returning from the meeting. The expenses shall be verified by the county superintendent of schools.

(d) The county superintendent shall notify each trustee of the county at least 10 days prior to calling of the trustees' meeting of the time and place of the meeting.

(e) Each session of the trustees' meeting may be called at any hour on the day specified and may continue for that time as those meeting see fit.

(f) The county superintendent shall draw his or her requisition on the county auditor who shall draw his or her warrant on the county school service fund to pay the expenses of holding the trustees' meeting.

SEC. 22. Section 1294 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1294. Each person employed by a county superintendent of schools in a position requiring certification qualifications, except employees included in the civil service system or in any merit system, or any person who holds an office by virtue of an election conducted under the Elections Code or the Education Code, and whose salary is paid from the county school service fund, has the same right with respect to leaves of absence, sick leave, and bereavement leave as a person employed by a school district or a community college district in a position requiring certification qualifications.

Sections 22724, 44845, 44922, 44949, 44955, 44962 to 44976, inclusive, 44977, 44978, 44979, 44983, 44984, 44985, 44987, 87413, 87414, 87740, 87743, 87763 to 87779, inclusive, 87780, 87781, 87782, 87786, 87787, and 87788 apply to persons so employed by a county superintendent of schools and so paid from the county school service fund. Whenever, in those provisions, a duty or power is imposed upon or granted to the governing board of a school district or community college district or an employee thereof, the power or duty shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be granted to or imposed on the county superintendent of schools or his or her employee, respectively. When "district" is used in those provisions, it shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to mean "county superintendent of schools." Compensation paid to employees during those leaves shall be paid from the county school service fund.

The granting of leaves of absence to employees pursuant to Section 44966 or 87767 shall be by the county superintendent of schools, upon approval by the county board of education.

SEC. 23. Section 1297 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1297. For the purpose of insurance under the workers' compensation laws of this state, any person employed by a county superintendent of schools to supervise instruction or to give instruction in the school districts or community college districts located in the territory under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent of schools shall be deemed an employee of the county. The cost of insuring any person employed to supervise instruction shall be paid by the county superintendent of schools from the county school service fund. The cost of insuring any person employed by the county superintendent of schools to give instruction shall be paid by the county superintendent of schools from the county school service fund.

SEC. 24. Section 1298 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1298. By agreement between the county board of education and county board of supervisors, in counties in which the provisions of Article 4 (commencing with Section 1310) have become operative and in which functions and duties have been transferred from the county board of supervisors to the county board of education in accordance with Sections 1043 and 1080, the county superintendent of schools may be authorized to employ an administrative adviser as part of the classified service. His or her compensation shall be as fixed by the county board of education, and shall be paid from that part of the single budget prepared by the county board of education for which a county tax is levied pursuant to Section 1623. His or her duties shall be the administrative duties established by the county board of education, and to counsel with and act as a coordinator between, the district attorney or county counsel, the county board of education, the county committee on school district organization, the personnel commission, the county superintendent of schools, school districts, and community college districts which request his or her services. The district attorney or county counsel shall continue to have and to discharge all of the authority and duties imposed upon him or her by law in the schools and education fields; however, the administrative adviser may be deputized by the district attorney or county counsel, in his or her discretion, if the adviser is admitted to practice law in this state.

SEC. 25. Section 1330 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1330. (a) The Superintendent of Public Instruction or the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, as appropriate, shall represent, and exercise rights of appeal to the Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board under this part on behalf of school employers held under Section 1336 of the Unemployment Insurance Code.

(b) The Superintendent of Public Instruction or Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges is hereby authorized to obtain pertinent personnel records and data from any school employer and to act as an agent individually or collectively for school employers in matters pertaining to unemployment insurance.

(c) Each county superintendent of schools shall have the responsibility of establishing, coordinating, and maintaining, either directly or by contract, an unemployment insurance management system for each school employer participating in the School Employees Fund under Article 6 (commencing with Section 821) of Chapter 3 of Part 1 of Division 1 of the Unemployment Insurance Code. A management system shall include general administration, claims management, appointment of hearing representatives, representation of school employers at hearings, and other duties related to the unemployment insurance program in their jurisdiction. These duties and responsibilities may be delegated to any school district, community college district, another county superintendent of schools, or any combination of these entities, including programs under joint powers agreements for the purpose of consolidation for economy and employment of specialists, including the services of a regional data center operated by a county superintendent of schools or the data-processing services of a school district or a community college district. School employers not participating in the School Employees Fund shall be responsible for the development and maintenance of their own unemployment insurance management system required by this subdivision.

(d) Each school employer shall perform pursuant to the type of financing elected, and shall, as required, respond to the Superintendent of Public Instruction or Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges and the county superintendent of schools or designated agency as soon as possible, in no case later than 48 hours, to inquiries made on behalf of the county superintendent or the Superintendent of Public Instruction or Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges in reference to any aspect of eligibility, notice of claim or appeal under the unemployment insurance program. Each county superintendent or agent thereof who is responsible for administering the unemployment insurance program shall be responsible for timely responses to any inquiry by the administrator, Superintendent of Public Instruction, State Treasurer, Controller, or other officer or person responsible for disbursements from the School Employees Fund in the State Treasury as established by Section 822 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, or the Unemployment Fund in the State Treasury. Any school employer which fails to pay the contributions, interest, charges or levies within the time required shall be liable for interest on moneys due at the rate of 1 percent per month or fraction thereof from and after the date of delinquency until paid. If the school employer fails, without good cause, to pay any sums required within the time required, a penalty of 10 percent of the amount noticed, billed or required shall be made by the administrator. The administrator may for good cause waive all or a portion of interest and penalty.

(e) The administrator of the School Employees Fund shall, from available interest earnings, pursuant to investments authorized by Section 822 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, transfer each year an amount equal to two dollars ($2) per covered employee for all districts participating in the School Employees Fund under Article 6 (commencing with Section 821) of Chapter 3 of Part 1 of Division 1 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, to the Superintendent of Public Instruction or the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, as appropriate. The Superintendent of Public Instruction or the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, as appropriate, shall apportion the two dollars ($2) per covered employee amount, less actual state administrative costs not to exceed five cents ($0.05) per covered employee, to the county superintendent of schools to cover costs of administering the unemployment insurance management system specified in subdivision (c).

(f) For the fiscal year 1978–79, and each fiscal year thereafter, the administrator of the School Employees Fund shall transfer the funds by December 31 of each year based on the reports received from the Superintendent of Public Instruction or Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges by November 30 of each year. The reports shall be compiled from the number of covered employees as reported by the county superintendent of schools or community colleges, as appropriate, to the Superintendent of Public Instruction or the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges by November 1 of each year, based on the covered employees employed in the preceding calendar month. The funds shall be apportioned by the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges prior to January 31 of each year to the county superintendent of schools, less the actual administrative costs of the Superintendent of Public Instruction or the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, which shall not exceed an aggregate amount of five cents ($0.05) per covered employee. Funds for the cost of administering the unemployment insurance management system shall be apportioned to each county superintendent of schools according to the number of covered employees in each district reported by him or her, and shall be used only for the purpose of covering actual administrative costs incurred pursuant to Section 1330.

SEC. 26. Section 1340 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1340. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the following procedure may be utilized for payroll-related payments as limited in this section. The county superintendent of schools may designate one or more national or state banks or a savings and loan association having its principal office in this state, if its deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, to act as disbursing agents for the county superintendent of schools and for school districts and community colleges in the territory under his or her jurisdiction. The county superintendent of schools may draw orders and requisitions upon the funds of the respective public employers, in favor of the designated institutions, for tax-sheltered annuities, custodial accounts, individual retirement accounts, credit union deductions, insurance plan payments, deferred compensation, withholding taxes, professional dues, and other payroll-related deductions or employer contributions. The county auditor shall follow the procedure with respect to examining and allowing the orders and requisitions set forth in Sections 42639 and 85239. The county superintendent of schools, upon receiving allowed warrants from the county auditor, shall deposit the warrants in the designated institutions. As soon as feasible following deposit, the county superintendent of schools shall furnish the designated institutions with information required to enable disbursement of payments to insurance companies, credit unions, and other recipients, including identification of the employees for whom the payments are to be made, the amount of payment on behalf of each designated employee, and the company to which the payment on behalf of each designated employee is to be made. It shall be the duty of each designated institution to disburse the payments to the recipients entitled thereto by check, bank draft, or other appropriate method, within a reasonable time after receipt of each payment, with necessary information for disbursements, which time period shall not exceed 5 working days. Designated institutions receiving deposits and making disbursements, and the county superintendent of schools, shall be deemed to be agents of the respective public employers, for payment of annuities on behalf of their respective employees, and for other payments as specified, and the moneys received by the banks shall be deemed to be deposits of the county superintendents of schools. Security for the deposits shall be furnished as required by the laws of this state. The county superintendent of schools may directly prepare the information and necessary checks, bank drafts, or other appropriate instruments, on the account or accounts within the designated institutions, providing that payment to recipients entitled thereto with required information is made within the time frame specified.

SEC. 27. Section 1400 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1400. Except as provided in Sections 4040 to 4045, inclusive, all actions required by this code to be taken by the board of supervisors of the county in which a school district is located, shall, in the case of any joint school district, be taken by the concurrent action of the boards of supervisors of each county in which any part of the joint district is located.

SEC. 28. Section 1500 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1500. All expenses shall be paid out of the County School Service Fund necessary for the county board of education and the county superintendent of schools to perform the duties and render the services required by and comply with Sections 1042, 1250, 1252, 1270, 1297, 1299, 1330, 1601, 1602, 1702, 41020, 41360, 42621, 42622, 45035, 45056, 56720, 60601, 60602, 60605, 84040, 85221, 85222, 87809, and Part 1 (commencing with Section 100) of Division 1 of the Unemployment Insurance Code.

This section shall not be construed to prohibit support from the county general fund from being provided for duties and services performed pursuant to the sections and part enumerated above.

SEC. 29. Section 1510 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1510. Except as provided in Section 1500, all expenses necessary for the county board of education, the county committee on school district organization, and the county superintendent of schools to comply with the following provisions are payable from the county general fund: 1090, 1091, 1092, 1093, 1094, 1095, 1096, 1200, 1201, 1202, 1203, 1240, 1243, 1244, 1245, 1290, 1298, 2600, 5425, 5426, 10020, 16061, 16166, 22800.5, 23000, 23002, 23003, 23004, 23005, 23006, 23008, 35102, 40000, 42124, 42636, 42638, 42643, 42662, 42670, 42671, 42672, 42673, 42674, 42675, 42676, 42677, 42678, 42690, 42691, 42692, 42693, 42694, 42800, 44323, 44422, 44427, 44428, 44429, 44430, 44433, 44434, 44435, 44436, 44437, 44816, 44843, 44857, 45034, 45056, 45057, 48263, 49406, 52550, 52551, 85236, 85238, 85243, 85272, 85280, 85281, 85282, 85283, 85284, 85285, 85286, 85287, 85288, 85300, 85301, 85302, 85303, 85304, 85400, and 87808.

This section shall not be construed to prohibit support from the county general fund from being provided for duties and services performed pursuant to sections enumerated above for those counties operating under the provisions of Section 1080.

SEC. 30. Section 1602 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1602. The county school service fund shall be utilized by the county superintendent of schools to pay the charges against the fund as are provided in this code; and to provide, with the approval of the county board of education, all of the following:

(a) Additional apportionments to any school district or community college district in the territory under his or her jurisdiction for current expenses that (1) has levied the maximum district tax and in which the annual average current cost per pupil does not exceed the annual average current cost per pupil for all districts of the same type within the county or under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent of schools, or (2) needs additional apportionments for current expenses because of temporary emergency conditions.

(b) Additional apportionments to any school district or community college district in the territory under his or her jurisdiction for the transportation of pupils to and from school to meet temporary emergency conditions.

SEC. 31. Section 1606 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1606. The money credited to the county school service fund of a county pursuant to Section 16417 of the Government Code may be apportioned by the county superintendent of schools, with the approval of the county board of education, to school districts within which there is land which has been acquired by the United States.

SEC. 32. Section 1700 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1700. The Legislature hereby declares that it is in the interest of the state and of the people for the office of the county superintendent of schools, through the county school service fund, to provide coordination of the educational program among school districts and community college districts in the territory under his or her jurisdiction and to provide professional and financial assistance to school districts and community college districts which otherwise, because of size or location, would not be able to furnish a satisfactory program of education for their children. That assistance is a matter of general concern inasmuch as the education of the children of the state is an obligation and function of the state.

In adopting this chapter, the Legislature considers that the coordination of the educational program constitutes the greatest continuing need to be met through the county school service fund. To meet this need the necessity is recognized to provide professional services to coordinate courses of study, guidance services, health services, school library services, special education, and attendance activities.

As an additional need, the Legislature recognizes the necessity to provide professional services in districts too small to supply services for themselves economically and effectively, such as, (a) to prepare courses of study; (b) to supervise instructional practices; (c) to provide direct guidance services, health services, and attendance services normally provided in an educational program; (d) to provide for the purchase, distribution, and use of supplementary instructional materials and equipment; and (e) to provide educational opportunity to normal and special pupils who would otherwise be denied it. It is recognized further that providing for professional service is a transitory function of the county school service fund to be assumed by school districts and community college districts when, through growth or reorganization, they will be able to perform the services for themselves.

It is the further intent of the Legislature that:

(a) Services involving the coordination of the educational program which have among others the purposes of (1) enforcing minimum standards, (2) improving the educational program, and (3) promoting order and reasonable uniformity in the educational program shall be provided, except as may be specifically authorized, at the district level, reserving to the district the opportunity and responsibility for internal improvement, and that those services will be provided in a manner that recognition will be given to the responsibilities placed upon school districts and community college districts, by the Legislature to determine and administer their own educational program.

(b) Services to school districts and community college districts, which do not constitute coordination among districts shall be provided in a manner that impetus will be given to strengthening school districts and community college districts, and to improving district organization to the end that more effective programs of education may be offered, and that the provision of services through the county school service fund shall not act to deter or delay any school districts and community college districts, from furnishing the services for themselves.

(c) Services to school districts and community college districts, shall be cooperatively provided by two or more county superintendents of schools without regard for county boundaries whenever a particular service may be so provided with economy and effectiveness.

(d) The direct operation of an educational program by the county superintendent of schools shall, except as specifically authorized by the Legislature, be limited to those emergency cases where children would otherwise be denied an opportunity for education.

SEC. 33. Section 1721 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1721. The county superintendent of schools may, with the approval of the county board of education, enter into an agreement with the governing board of any school district and community college districts in the territory under his or her jurisdiction, other than specified in Section 1720, to provide for the preparation of courses of study by the county superintendent of schools for use in the districts. The agreement shall provide for the payment of the cost of services rendered.

SEC. 34. Section 1831 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1831. The services described in Section 1830, except clerical, accounting, and stenographic services, shall be performed by persons who hold a valid credential issued by the State Board of Education or Commission on Teacher Credentialing of one or more of the types specified in Section 1704 or who meets the minimum qualifications for hire as a community college faculty member as established by the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges or who is otherwise eligible for service as a faculty member of a community college district.

Any person who is employed in the office of a county superintendent of schools on the effective date of this section and is performing any of the services described in this article may continue to perform those services without possessing the credential otherwise required as long as he or she remains continuously employed in his or her position.

SEC. 35. Section 1946 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1946. The county board of education may enter into agreements with the governing boards of any of the school districts or community college districts in the territory under the jurisdiction of the office of the county superintendent of schools for the conduct, under the direction of that office, of centralized in-service training programs for both certificated and classified employees of the school districts and community college districts and of that office.

Centralized in-service training program operations of the office of the county superintendent of schools shall be financed through the county school service fund, and shall be included in the budget prepared pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 14050) of Chapter 1 of Part 9.

SEC. 39. Section 4002 of the Education Code is amended to read:

4002. Except as provided in Section 4001, if there are fewer than six school districts or community college districts in the territory under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent of schools of the county, he or she shall determine the number of, and appoint, the members of the county committee.

SEC. 40. Section 4003 of the Education Code is amended to read:

4003. In every county with six or more school districts or community college districts in the territory under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent of schools of the county, the county committee on school district organization shall have 11 members.

SEC. 42. Section 7000 of the Education Code is amended to read:

7000. (a) Notwithstanding Article 1 (commencing with Section 53200) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5 of the Government Code, a county superintendent of schools, a school district, or a community college district, which provides health and welfare benefits or dental care benefits for the benefit of its certificated employees, shall permit enrollment in, respectively, the health and welfare benefit plan or dental care benefit plan currently provided for its current certificated employees by any former certificated employee thereof who retired therefrom under any public retirement system and his or her spouse and by any surviving spouse of a former certificated employee thereof who either retired therefrom under any public retirement system or was, at the time of death, both employed thereby in a position requiring contributions to the State Teachers' Retirement System and a member of the State Teachers' Retirement System.

This subdivision does not apply to either the new spouse upon the remarriage of a surviving spouse of a former certificated employee or the children of a certificated or former certificated employee.

(b) A county superintendent of schools or district may develop an experience claims rating for the persons specified in subdivision (a) and may, if appropriate, require those persons to pay different rates as a class. Any plan pursuant to this article shall provide separate single and two-party rates for at least the following classes: for those under 65, for those over 65 who have Medicare A and B, and for those over 65 who do not have Medicare A.

(c) The county superintendent of schools, school district, or community college district shall annually select a one-month period during which persons described by subdivision (a) may elect to enroll in, respectively, the health and welfare benefit plan or the dental care benefit plan or change their enrollment from one to another health and welfare plan or dental care benefit plan, respectively.

(d) A certificated school employee who retired on or before August 24, 1986, the effective date of Chapter 561 of the Statutes of 1986, or the surviving spouse of a certificated employee retired as of August 25, 1986, shall be permitted to enroll in any district health and dental care plan during the 1986, 1987, and 1988 enrollment periods.

(e) A certificated school employee who retires after August 24, 1986, the effective date of Chapter 561 of the Statutes of 1986, or the surviving spouse of a certificated employee retired as of August 25, 1986, shall be allowed to enroll in the coverage provided by this article within 30 days of losing active employee coverage, but if the retiree does not enroll in a district health or dental care plan during this initial enrollment period, the retiree may be denied further opportunity to do so.

The enrollment period for retirees under this subdivision shall correspond to that provided to active employees, unless a district chooses to offer an additional enrollment period.

(f) This article shall permit enrollment into any district health and dental care plan only once. A retiree or spouse or surviving spouse of a certificated employee who has been previously covered under this article and who has voluntarily terminated that coverage, thereafter may be excluded from obtaining coverage under this article. This subdivision does not apply to a person who is changing plans within a district during an open enrollment period.

(g) Retirees or surviving spouses of certificated employees may be enrolled in a medical care plan pursuant to this section during periods other than those specified therein if they lose their coverage. With documentation of prior coverage, they may be allowed to enroll in a medical care plan, if they do so within 31 days of losing their other coverage.

(h) Any person described by subdivision (a) who elects, pursuant to this article, to be covered by, respectively, a health and welfare benefit plan or dental care benefit plan, may be required to pay all premiums, dues, and other charges, including any increases in the rate of premiums or dues for these persons, and all costs incurred by the district or county superintendent of schools in administering this article.

SEC. 43. Section 7001 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 44. Section 7002 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 47. Section 8006 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8006. (a) There is, in the State Department of Education a vocational education staff responsible for the design, implementation, and maintenance of a basic integrated statewide information system for vocational education and technical training. The Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges shall collect and maintain information related to vocational education and technical training within the California Community Colleges for inclusion within the integrated statewide information system.

(b) The data gathering and analysis capabilities of the system described in subdivision (a) shall include, but not be limited to, maintaining comprehensive inventory of all programs of all vocational education and technical training programs which are maintained by the public schools.

SEC. 48. Section 8008 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8008. The system provided for in Section 8006, within the State Department of Education, shall be designed, implemented, and maintained in accordance with Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 10600) of Part 7.

SEC. 49. Article 2 (commencing with Section 8020) of Chapter 1 of Part 6 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 50. Section 8070 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8070. The governing board of each school district participating in a vocational education program shall appoint a vocational education advisory committee to develop recommendations on the program and to provide liaison between the district and potential employers.

The committee shall consist of one or more representatives of the general public knowledgeable about the disadvantaged, students, teachers, business, industry, school administration, and the field office of the Department of Employment Development.

SEC. 51. Section 8080 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8080. For purposes of this chapter, the determination of definite need shall be established by the appropriate body as follows:

(a) The determination of need for a regional occupational center shall be established by the governing body of the agency maintaining the center.

(b) The determination of need for a high school shall be established by the governing body of the district maintaining the high school.

(c) The determination of need for a state university shall be established by the Trustees of the California State University.

SEC. 52. Section 8081 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8081. No programs, courses, classes, or instruction in cosmetology, as defined by Section 7321 of the Business and Professions Code, shall be initiated or expanded by any regional occupational center, high school, or campus of the California State University unless and until a determination has been made, by the appropriate body pursuant to Section 8080, that a definite need exists for the initiation or expansion of instruction and that existing private institutions offering the same or similar instruction are not adequately meeting that need.

SEC. 53. Section 8084 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8084. The appropriate body, as referred to in Section 8080, shall report its findings at a public meeting within 90 days from the date of being notified by a regional occupational center, high school, or campus of the California State University of its intent to initiate or expand its teaching of cosmetology.

SEC. 54. Section 8085 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 56. Section 8092 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8092. Any school district or districts; any county superintendent or superintendents; or the governing body of any agency maintaining a regional occupational center or program may contract with a private postsecondary school authorized or approved pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 94300) of Part 59 and which has been in operation not less than two full calendar years prior to the effective date of the contract, to provide vocational skill training authorized by this code. Any school district, community college district, or county superintendent of schools may contract with an activity center, work activity center, or sheltered workshop to provide vocational skill training authorized by this code in any adult education program for substantially handicapped persons operated pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 41976.

All contracts between a public entity and a private postsecondary school entered into pursuant to this section, or an activity center, work activity center, or sheltered workshop shall do all of the following:

(1) Be approved by the State Department of Education pursuant to rules and regulations adopted by the State Board of Education.

(2) Provide that the amount contracted for per student shall not exceed the total direct and indirect costs to provide the same training in the public schools or the tuition the private postsecondary school charges its private students, whichever is lower.

(3) Provide that the public school receiving training in a private postsecondary school, or an activity center, work activity center, or sheltered workshop pursuant to that contract may not be charged additional tuition for any training included in the contract. The attendance of those students pursuant to a contract authorized by this section shall be credited to the public entity for the purposes of apportionments from the State School Fund.

(4) Provide that all programs, courses, and classes of instruction shall meet the standards set forth in the California State Plan for Vocational Education, or is a course of study for adult schools approved by the State Department of Education under Section 51056.

The students who attend a private postsecondary school or an activity center, work activity center, or sheltered workshop pursuant to a contract under this section shall be enrollees of the public entity and the vocational instruction provided pursuant to that contract shall be under the exclusive control and management of the governing body of the contracting public entity.

The State Department of Finance and the State Department of Education may audit the accounts of both the public entity and the private party involved in these contracts to the extent necessary to assure the integrity of the public funds involved.

SEC. 58. Section 8207 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8207. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may, pursuant to Section 204 of the Intergovernmental Cooperation Act of 1968, request waivers of single state agency requirements as necessary to utilize available federal funds for the purposes of this chapter. Until a waiver is granted by the federal government, the single state agency authorized by federal law to provide any child care service provided for in this chapter shall have only the functions, duties, and responsibilities conferred by this chapter upon the State Department of Education and the Superintendent of Public Instruction with respect to the child development services as are required by federal law and regulation. In that event, the single state agency shall provide child care and development services under a purchase of service agreement with the Superintendent of Public Instruction from funds appropriated for the services. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall provide the necessary documents required by the federal government pursuant to this section to support the state's claim for federal reimbursement and shall certify that the school district, or other organization providing the care, has available the accounting records and other supporting documents to justify the claim for reimbursement and that the records are available for audit by the Controller and by any authorized federal agency.

SEC. 59. Section 8225 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8225. (a) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, higher educational institutions may establish and maintain child development programs on or near their respective campuses. Those higher educational institutions under contract with the State Department of Education for child care and development services pursuant to this chapter shall be subject to the rules and regulations adopted by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

(b) Children of students of each campus operating a child development program shall have first priority for service in that program, in accordance with the priorities established in subdivision

(b) of Section 8263.

(c) The higher educational institutions may institutionalize child development programs on their respective campuses for the purpose of incorporating child development programs into the missions and functions of the respective campuses.

(d) The Superintendent of Public Instruction, in cooperation with higher educational institutions, shall establish rules and regulations governing programs operated pursuant to this section.

(e) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to permit the governing board of a community college district to expend state funds appropriated to the district for support of the community college for the direct operating costs of a campus child development center.

(f) It is the intention of the Legislature that a consortium composed of higher educational institutions be established by the institutions to improve communication and cooperation and to advise and assist the Superintendent of Public Instruction in the development of rules and regulations and policies and procedures affecting child care and development programs. The Superintendent of Public Instruction in cooperation with the consortium shall be responsible for ongoing communication with and dissemination of information to all campus child care and development agencies under contract with the State Department of Education.

SEC. 60. Section 8285.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8285.5. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, at the times the Superintendent of Public Instruction proposes to expand child care and development services, he or she shall submit a written request to the local private industry council, established pursuant to Division 8 (commencing with Section 15000) of the Unemployment Insurance Code, for each service delivery area in which the proposed expansion is to occur.

(b) The written request shall describe the amount of additional funding to be allocated within the service delivery area and any other pertinent information the superintendent may deem useful and necessary.

(c) The Superintendent of Public Instruction and, where appropriate, the governing board of the local community college district shall request information from each local private industry council, describing the unmet child care needs of persons eligible to participate in the council's job preparation and training services plan. The description may include the geographic distribution within the service delivery area of eligible participants, the number and ages of children needing care, the geographic distribution of job preparation and training sites, and the extent to which child care needs are currently being met. The superintendent shall review the findings and recommendations of each local council when implementing the actual expansion of child care services within the service delivery area.

(d) Nothing in this section shall be construed to preclude the Superintendent of Public Instruction from contacting a local private industry council prior to the development of any expansion proposal in order to obtain the council's advice and recommendations relating to child care and development services needs occurring within the service delivery area.

(e) For the purposes of this section, the term "expansion of child care and development services" means an increase during a calendar year in a service delivery area's aggregate average daily enrollment of children receiving subsidized child care services due to new funds available for these services.

SEC. 61. Section 8320 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8320. The governing board of any school district or a county superintendent of schools with the approval of the county board of education is authorized to establish and maintain child development programs upon the approval of, and subject to the regulations of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

SEC. 62. Section 8322 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8322. The governing board of any school district or the county superintendent of schools may do the following:

(a) Accommodate in a child development facility maintained by it children residing in another district, upon terms and under conditions agreed upon by the governing boards of both districts.

(b) Permit the use of, and furnish maintenance for, buildings, grounds, and equipment, and the use of existing administrative personnel for the purposes of this chapter.

(c) Adopt reasonable rules and regulations governing the child development services or facilities maintained by it that are not in conflict with law or the standards and regulations established for child development services by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

SEC. 63. Section 8323 is added to the Education Code, to read:

8323. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a child under two years of age whose parent is a student, or whose parents are students, may attend child development centers consistent with the priorities established pursuant to law.

(b) Children of students attending school at a particular campus shall have first priority for attendance at a child development center at that campus.

(c) Student families, as defined in Section 8250.1, whose gross monthly income falls within the fee schedule established pursuant to Section 8249, shall pay fees according to the fee schedule.

(d) Highest priority shall be given to student families with the greatest income deficit, and lowest priority to student families with the greatest income.

(e) For the purposes of assigning eligibility priority, applicant student families shall be grouped according to the amount of their income in one-hundred-dollar ($100) monthly increments. All student families within a particular income range shall be treated as if their incomes were the same, and priority for eligibility within each particular income range shall be assigned on the following basis:

(1) Single-parent student families.

(2) Two-parent families, where both parents are students or where one parent is a student and the other is working.

(f) Student families who are recipients of public assistance shall be subject to the same assignment of priority as other student families whose incomes fall in the same income range.

SEC. 65. Section 8328 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8328. The governing board of any school district or the county superintendent of schools shall establish in the county treasury a fund to be known as the "child development fund" into which shall be paid all funds received by the district or the county for, or from the operation of, child development services under this chapter. The costs incurred in the maintenance and operation of child development services shall be paid from the fund, with accounting to reflect specific funding sources.

Funds of a district derived from the receipt of district taxes or derived from moneys apportioned to the district for the support of schools thereof, in addition to state moneys appropriated for the support of child development services, fees, and federal funds, may be expended for, or in connection with child development services.

SEC. 66. Section 8329 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8329. The governing board of any school district maintaining a child development program may include in its budget the amount necessary to initiate, operate, and maintain a child development program pursuant to this chapter and the board of supervisors shall levy a school district tax necessary to raise that amount. The tax shall be in addition to any other school district tax authorized by law to be levied.

SEC. 67. Section 8329.5 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 68. Section 8362 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8362. The same fee as that prescribed for a credential provided in Section 44235 shall be charged for either the issuance or renewal of each child development permit authorizing service in the supervision and instruction of children in child development programs or authorizing service as a supervisor in a program.

SEC. 71. Section 8394 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8394. In school districts maintaining more than one high school, the governing board, after soliciting the opinions of student parents and other interested persons, shall determine the location of the infant care and development center.

Infant care and development centers shall be located within high school buildings or within that proximity to high school buildings as would ensure convenient access by student parents and other students.

SEC. 72. Section 8510 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8510. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions set forth in this section govern the construction of this chapter.

(a) "Adult basic education" is education in communication and computational skills to and including the 12th grade level, including English as a second language and citizenship.

(b) "Classes for adults" are classes without a college grade level designation organized primarily for persons 18 years of age or older.

(c) "Course approval" is the process of approval by either the State Department of Education or the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges.

(d) "Mutual agreement" means an agreement between two or more governing boards of districts.

SEC. 73. Section 8511 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 74. Section 8513 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 75. Section 8514 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 76. Section 8515 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 77. Section 8516 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 78. Section 8534 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8534. Programs for adults involving postsecondary programs that meet the standards prescribed by the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges for credit and noncredit courses are the responsibility of community college districts.

SEC. 79. Section 8760 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8760. (a) The governing board of any school district may do the following:

(1) Conduct programs and classes in outdoor science education and conservation education within or without the boundaries of the district and for that purpose employ instructors, supervisors, and other personnel and provide necessary equipment and supplies.

(2) Acquire and maintain real or personal property needed for outdoor science education and conservation education programs and classes either within or without the boundaries of the district either by purchase, rental, lease, gift, or other means in the same manner as if the property were within the boundaries of the school district.

(3) Contract with the United States, the State of California, any city, county, city and county or school district therein, or any combination thereof, for the joint operation and maintenance of these programs and classes in outdoor science education and conservation education or for assistance in their operation and maintenance.

(4) Transport or arrange transportation of pupils, instructors, supervisors, or other personnel to or from places where these programs and classes are being conducted, whether within or without the district; provided, the transportation is within the state.

(b) The governing board of any school district may contract with an outside provider for the services of naturalists. The services provided by the naturalists shall be under the exclusive control and management of the governing board of the school district and shall comply with all guidelines established by the Superintendent of Public Instruction relating to outdoor educational programs. Any naturalist under contract with the governing board of a school district pursuant to this section and all services provided by a naturalist shall be under the supervision of a certificated employee of the school district. Any naturalist assigned to serve school districts under an outside contract shall be subject to Sections 45125 and 49406. No person who has been convicted of any sex offense defined in Section 44010, or any controlled substance offense defined in Section 44011, shall be permitted to render service as a naturalist.

SEC. 80. Section 8761 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8761. Notwithstanding any other provision of this code, whenever an outdoor science program involves studies in marine science, the governing board of any school district or a county superintendent of schools may transport, or arrange transportation of, pupils, instructors, supervisors, or other personnel aboard U.S. Coast Guard approved vessels in the waters of the Pacific Ocean for distances not to exceed five miles westerly of any offshore island which is a part of the State of California.

SEC. 81. Section 8762 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8762. The governing board of any school district may:

(a) Conduct courses in forestry, and for that purpose employ instructors and supervisors of classes, and acquire necessary equipment.

(b) Acquire forest lands outside the boundary of the district by lease for a period not exceeding five years, or purchase or sell forest lands in the same manner as lands within the boundary of the district are purchased or sold.

(c) Afforest and reforest, and plant trees, shrubs, and vines on the lands; or upon any public lands which may be placed at its disposal, and enter into contracts and agreements with the government of the United States, the state, or any political subdivision thereof for that purpose.

(d) Transport pupils, instructors, or supervisors of classes to or from classes or places where the work is being done, whether within or without the district, in the same manner and subject to the same limitations as in transporting pupils to and from school.

SEC. 82. Section 8763 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8763. The county superintendent of schools may, with the approval of the county board of education, enter into agreements with the governing board of one or more school districts or private schools to provide programs and classes in outdoor science education and conservation education for pupils in the district or private school. Except as otherwise provided in this article, the agreement shall provide for the payment by the district or the private school of the actual cost of providing the programs or classes. The county superintendent of schools shall transfer from the funds of the district or the private school shall pay, as the case may be, to the county school service fund the amounts set forth in the agreement.

SEC. 83. Section 8764 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8764. The school district or districts entering into agreements pursuant to this article with the county superintendent of schools may agree to make capital outlay expenditures, as well as pay for the other costs of the program. Title to all property acquired by the capital outlay expenditures shall be vested in the office of the county superintendent of schools, and the participating school districts shall have no interest in the property, nor in the proceeds of any sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of the property, unless the parties otherwise provide in the agreement which authorizes the acquisition of the property.

SEC. 84. Section 8765 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8765. Except as otherwise provided, all of the powers and duties authorized for governing boards of school districts by Section 8760 are powers and duties of the county superintendent of schools whenever, pursuant to this article, he or she provides programs and classes in outdoor science education and conservation education.

SEC. 85. Section 8771 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8771. The county superintendent of schools may, with the approval of the county board of education, sell, lease, exchange, or otherwise dispose of real or personal property, title to which is vested in his or her office, pursuant to the same procedures as are established by law for the sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of real or personal property by a school district or community college district. Unless otherwise provided in the agreement which authorized the purchase of the real or personal property, the proceeds of any sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of real or personal property shall be vested in the office of the county superintendent of schools.

SEC. 86. Section 10407 of the Education Code is amended to read:

10407. The governing board of a school district or community college district may request waiver of any section or sections of this code relating to the educational programs or administrative functions described in Section 10400 if the waiver is necessary to establish and operate a program under this chapter. The need for a waiver shall be explained and justified to the Superintendent of Public Instruction or the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, as the case may be, and the State Board of Education, or the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, as the case may be, may grant, in whole, or in part, any waiver request.

SEC. 87. Section 10504 of the Education Code is amended to read:

10504. An eligible regional educational data-processing center is one that meets the following requirements:

(a) It possesses equipment, personnel and funds sufficient, as determined by regulations of the State Board of Education, to convert and correlate basic source material into data-processing form by use of a basic data system.

(b) It is a regional education data-processing center as defined in Section 10501.

(c) It meets the minimum standards established by the State Board of Education.

SEC. 88. Article 2 (commencing with Section 10550) of Chapter 6 of Part 7 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 89. Section 10900 of the Education Code is amended to read:

10900. The purposes of this chapter are:

(a) To promote and preserve the health and general welfare of the people of the state and to cultivate the development of good citizenship by provision for adequate programs of community recreation.

(b) To authorize public corporations or districts having powers to provide recreation, cities, counties, cities and counties, and school districts to organize, promote, and conduct programs of community recreation as will contribute to the attainment of general educational and recreational objectives for children and adults of the state.

SEC. 90. Section 10901 of the Education Code is amended to read:

10901. The following terms, wherever used or referred to in this chapter have the following meanings, respectively, unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context:

(a) "Public authority" means any city of any class, city and county, county of any class, public corporation or district having powers to provide recreation, or school district in the state.

(b) "Governing body" means, in the case of a city, the city council, municipal council, or common council; in the case of a county or city and county, the board of supervisors; in the case of a public corporation or district, the governing board of the public corporation or district; and in the case of a school district, the governing board of the school district.

(c) "Recreation" means any activity, voluntarily engaged in, which contributes to the physical, mental, or moral development of the individual or group participating therein, and includes any activity in the fields of music, drama, art, handicraft, science, literature, nature study, nature contacting, aquatic sports, and athletics, or any of them, and any informal play incorporating any such activity.

(d) "Community recreation" and "public recreation" mean the recreation as may be engaged in under direct control of a public authority, or any camping or outdoor recreation activity which is (1) sponsored by a nonprofit organization, (2) for the benefit of disadvantaged or handicapped schoolage children, and (3) in a county with a population less than or equal to 45,000 according to the most recent federal census.

(e) "Nonprofit organization" means those nonprofit organizations which, as determined by the governing board of the school district, are unable to pay for the private transportation of disadvantaged or handicapped schoolage children to recreation activities.

(f) "Recreation center" means a place, structure, area, or other facility under the jurisdiction of a governing body of a public authority used for community recreation whether or not it may be used primarily for other purposes, playgrounds, playing fields or courts, beaches, lakes, rivers, swimming pools, gymnasiums, auditoriums, libraries, parks adjacent to school sites, recreational community gardens, rooms for arts and crafts, camps, and meeting places.

Playgrounds, outdoor playing fields or courts, swimming pools, and camps, with necessary equipment and appurtenances for their operation, under the jurisdiction of a governing board of a public authority used for community recreation shall be considered recreation centers within the meaning of this chapter whether or not they may be used primarily for other purposes.

SEC. 91. Section 10907 of the Education Code is amended to read:

10907. The governing body of any public authority other than a school district may designate any already existing board, officer, or employee of the public authority to exercise the powers granted by this chapter to carry out the purposes of this chapter, or may provide for the appointment of a board of recreation commissioners to exercise these powers. A school district may appoint one or more members of the board of trustees, officers or employees, to represent the district on a board of recreation commissioners.

SEC. 92. Section 10910 of the Education Code is amended to read:

10910. The governing body of any school district may use the buildings, grounds, and equipment of the district, or any of them, to carry out the purposes of this chapter, or may grant the use of any building, grounds, or equipment of the district to any other public authority for the purposes, whenever the use of the buildings, grounds, or equipment for community recreational purposes will not interfere with use of the buildings, grounds, and equipment for any other purpose of the public school system. Nothing in this section is intended to repeal any provision of, or to restrict or otherwise affect the use of school buildings under Sections 40040 to 40058, inclusive.

SEC. 93. Section 10912 of the Education Code is amended to read:

10912. The governing body of a school district may require persons, other than students, or organizations desiring to use the recreational facilities on school grounds or belonging to a school or the facilities provided by the district at a community recreation center maintained solely by the district to pay fees for the use as the governing body may prescribe.

SEC. 94. Section 10913 of the Education Code is amended to read:

10913. The governing body of a school district may require persons or organizations desiring to use schoolbuses belonging to a school to pay fees for the use as the governing body may prescribe.

SEC. 95. Section 10914 of the Education Code is amended to read:

10914. All necessary expenses incurred by the governing body of any school district in carrying out the purposes of this chapter are a charge against the funds of the district from whatever source the funds have been received. All the expenditures shall be made in the same manner as funds are expended for other school purposes.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to change in any way existing laws regarding the use of school grounds or school buildings by governing boards of school districts, except as specifically provided in this chapter.

SEC. 96. Section 11001 of the Education Code is amended to read:

11001. The Chancellor of the California State University shall establish an advisory committee to assist in selecting proposals to be funded and developing criteria for project evaluation. The committee shall be composed of the following members:

(a) Two certificated secondary school teachers, including at least one junior high or intermediate school teacher, appointed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

(b) Two certificated secondary school employees with responsibility for curriculum administration, appointed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

(c) One director of a regional consortium participating in the California Student Opportunity Access Program established pursuant to Chapter 113 of the Statutes of 1978, appointed by the Student Aid Commission.

(d) Two representatives of the California Community Colleges, to be appointed by the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, at least one of whom shall be a faculty member.

(e) Two representatives of the California State University, to be appointed by the Chancellor of the California State University, at least one of whom shall be a faculty member.

(f) Two representatives of the University of California, appointed by the President of the University of California, at least one of whom shall be a faculty member.

(g) One representative, appointed by the Director of the California Postsecondary Education Commission.

Faculty appointments to the advisory committee shall be made by the appropriate appointing authority through consultation with the faculty senate.

SEC. 97. Section 12020 of the Education Code is amended to read:

12020. The State Board of Education is designated as the state educational agency to carry out the purposes and provisions of Public Law 815 and Public Law 874 of the 81st Congress, and is vested with all necessary power and authority to perform all acts necessary to receive the benefits and to allocate the funds provided by the acts of Congress.

SEC. 98. Section 12210 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 99. Section 12220 of the Education Code is amended to read:

12220. Whenever by the provisions of any act of Congress the act is to be administered in the state by the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, or any one or more of the officers, or agencies, the officers and agencies designated in the act of the Congress are authorized to administer the act in the state. The officers and agencies are vested with all necessary power and authority to cooperate with the government of the United States, or any agency or agencies thereof in the administration of the act of Congress and rules and regulations lawfully adopted thereunder.

SEC. 100. Section 12302 of the Education Code is amended to read:

12302. The funds received by the state under Sections 12020, 12220, and 12300 to 12307, inclusive, shall be expended by the officers or agency administering the program to carry out the provisions of the act of the Congress and rules and regulations lawfully adopted thereunder. These funds are exempt from Section 925.6 of the Government Code and shall be paid out by the Treasurer on warrants drawn by the Controller on claims submitted by the Superintendent of Public Instruction or the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges.

SEC. 101. Section 12400 of the Education Code is amended to read:

12400. The Board of Governors of the State Nautical School on behalf of the State Nautical School, the governing board of a school district on behalf of any school maintained by the district, and any county superintendent of schools is vested with all necessary power and authority to perform all acts necessary to receive the benefits and to expend the funds provided by any act of Congress heretofore or hereafter enacted, and with all necessary power and authority to cooperate with, or enter into agreements with, the government of the United States, or any agency or agencies thereof, and with the State Board of Education and with other school districts and private or public nonprofit organizations for the purpose of receiving the benefits and expending the funds provided by the acts of Congress, in accordance with the acts, or any rules or regulations adopted thereunder, or any state plan or rules or regulations of the State Board of Education adopted in accordance with the acts of Congress. Participation may also include the expenditure by the governing board of the State Nautical School, by the governing board of any school district, or the county superintendent of schools of whatever funds may be required by the federal government as a condition to participation.

Participation in the act of Congress known as the "Emergency Employment Act of 1971" (P.L. 92-54) may be undertaken notwithstanding Section 44858.

SEC. 102. Section 12401 of the Education Code is amended to read:

12401. To the extent permitted by, and pursuant to, federal law, agreements may be entered into by the governing board of a school district without prior approval of the State Board of Education.

SEC. 103. Section 12402 of the Education Code is amended to read:

12402. The governing board of a school district, on behalf of any school maintained by the district, and any county superintendent of schools, is vested with all necessary power and authority to perform all acts necessary, provided the acts are consistent with other provisions contained in this code, to implement nutrition programs for the elderly, so long as there is available funding for the programs. Nutrition programs for the elderly shall include, but shall not be limited to, programs authorized pursuant to the McCarthy-Kennick Nutrition Program for the Elderly Act of 1972 as provided by Chapter 5.5 (commencing with Section 18325) of Part 6 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

SEC. 104. Section 12404 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 105. Section 12405 of the Education Code is amended to read:

12405. The governing board of any school district is authorized to accept the provisions of any act of Congress under which federal funds are available for purposes of this chapter, and may participate in any program provided thereunder in order to accept and expend the federal funds pursuant to the act of Congress and this chapter. Participation may include the expenditure by the district of whatever funds may be required by the federal government as a condition to participation.

SEC. 106. Section 14000 of the Education Code is amended to read:

14000. It is the intent of the Legislature that the administration of the laws governing the financial support of the public school system in this state be conducted within the purview of the following principles and policies:

The system of public school support should be designed to strengthen and encourage local responsibility for control of public education. Local school districts should be so organized that they can facilitate the provision of full educational opportunities for all who attend the public schools. Local control is best accomplished by the development of strong, vigorous, and properly organized local school administrative units. It is the state's responsibility to create or facilitate the creation of local districts of sufficient size to properly discharge local responsibilities and to spend the tax dollar effectively.

The system of public school support should assure that state, local, and other funds are adequate for the support of a realistic funding level. It is unrealistic and unfair to the less wealthy districts to provide for only a part of the financing necessary for an adequate educational program.

The system of public school support should permit and encourage local school districts to provide and support improved district organization and educational programs. The system of public school support should prohibit the introduction of undesirable organization and educational practices, and should discourage any of those practices now in effect. Improvement of programs in particular districts is in the interests of the state as a whole as well as of the people in individual districts, since the excellence of the programs in some districts will tend to bring about program improvement in other districts.

The system of public school support should make provision for the apportionment of state funds to local districts on a strictly objective basis that can be computed as well by the local districts as by the state. The principle of local responsibility requires that the granting of discretionary powers to state officials over the distribution of state aid and the granting to these officials of the power to impose undue restriction on the use of funds and the conduct of educational programs at the local level be avoided.

The system of public school support should effect a partnership between the state, the county, and school districts, with each participating equitably in accordance with its relative ability. The respective abilities should be combined to provide a financial plan between the state and the local agencies for public school support. Toward this support program, each county and district, through a uniform method, should contribute in accordance with its true financial ability.

The system of public school support should provide for essential educational opportunities for all who attend the public schools. Provision should be made in the financial plan for adequate financing of all educational services.

The broader based taxing power of the state should be utilized to raise the level of financial support in the properly organized but financially weak districts of the state, thus contributing greatly to the equalization of educational opportunity for the students residing therein. It should also be used to provide a minimum amount of guaranteed support to all districts, for that state assistance serves to develop among all districts a sense of responsibility to the entire system of public education in the state.

SEC. 107. Section 14020 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 108. Section 14021 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 116. Section 15000 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 117. Section 15100 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15100. Except as otherwise provided by law, the governing board of any school district or community college district may, when in its judgment it is advisable, and shall, upon a petition of the majority of the qualified electors residing in the school district or community college district, order the county superintendent of schools to call an election and submit to the electors of the district the question whether the bonds of the district shall be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for the following purposes:

(a) The purchasing of school lots.

(b) The building or purchasing of school buildings.

(c) The making of alterations or additions to the school building or buildings other than as may be necessary for current maintenance, operation, or repairs.

(d) The repairing, restoring, or rebuilding of any school building damaged, injured, or destroyed by fire or other public calamity.

(e) The supplying of school buildings and grounds with furniture, equipment or necessary apparatus of a permanent nature.

(f) The permanent improvement of the school grounds.

(g) The refunding of any outstanding valid indebtedness of the district, evidenced by bonds, or of state school building aid loans.

(h) The carrying out of the projects or purposes authorized in Section 39613 or 81613.

(i) The purchase of schoolbuses the useful life of which is at least 20 years.

(j) The demolition or razing of any school building with the intent to replace it with another school building, whether in the same location or in any other location.

Any one or more of the purposes enumerated, except that of refunding any outstanding valid indebtedness of the district evidenced by bonds, may, by order of the governing board entered in its minutes, be united and voted upon as one single proposition.

SEC. 118. Section 15106 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15106. Any unified school district or community college district may issue bonds not to exceed 2.5 percent of the taxable property of the district as shown by the last equalized assessment of the county or counties in which the district is located.

In computing the outstanding bonded indebtedness of any unified school district or community college district for all purposes of this section, any outstanding bonds shall be deemed to have been issued for elementary school purposes, high school purposes and community college purposes, respectively, in the respective amounts that the proceeds of the sale of those outstanding bonds, excluding any premium and accrued interest received on that sale, were or have been allocated by the governing board of the unified school district or community college district to each of those purposes respectively.

(a) For the purposes of the State School Building Aid Law of 1952 with respect to applications for apportionments and apportionments filed or made prior to September 15, 1961, and to the repayment thereof, Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 15700) of this part, inclusive, only, any unified school district shall be considered to have a bonding capacity in the amount permitted by law for an elementary school district and a bonding capacity in the amount permitted by law for a high school district.

(b) For purposes of this section, the taxable property of a district for any fiscal year shall be calculated to include, but not be limited to, the assessed value of all unitary and operating nonunitary property of the district, which shall be derived by dividing the gross assessed value of the unitary and operating nonunitary property within the district for the 1987–88 fiscal year by the gross assessed value of all unitary and operating nonunitary property within the county in which the district is located for the 1987–88 fiscal year, and multiplying the result by the gross assessed value of all unitary and operating nonunitary property of the county on the last equalized assessment roll. In the event of the unification of two or more school districts or community college districts subsequent to the 1987–88 fiscal year, the assessed value of all unitary and operating nonunitary property of the unified district or community college district shall be deemed to be the total of the assessed value of the taxable property of each of the unifying districts as that assessed value would be determined under Section 15102.

SEC. 119. Section 15140 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15140. Bonds of a school district or community college district shall be offered for sale by the board of supervisors of the county, the county superintendent of which has jurisdiction over the district, or the community college district governing board, where appropriate, as soon as possible following receipt of a resolution duly adopted by the governing board of the school district or community college district. The resolution shall prescribe the total amount of bonds to be sold. The resolution may also prescribe the maximum acceptable interest rate, not to exceed 8 percent, and the time or times when the whole or any part of the principal of the bonds shall be payable, which shall not be more than 25 years from the date of the bonds.

SEC. 120. Section 15141 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15141. When authorized by the governing board of a school district or a community college district, bonds of a school district or a community college district may be offered for sale as a group by the board of supervisors of the county, the county superintendent of schools, or the governing board of a community college district, which has jurisdiction over the district, at a time determined by the board of supervisors following receipt of a resolution duly adopted by the governing board of the school district or community college district. The resolution shall prescribe the total amount of bonds to be sold. The resolution may also prescribe the maximum acceptable interest rate, not to exceed 8 percent, and the time or times when the whole or any part of the principal of the bonds shall be payable, which shall not be more than 25 years from the date of the bonds. Bidders shall be required to bid a lump sum bid on all bonds as a group. If bids satisfactory to the governing board of each school district included in the group are received, the bonds offered for sale shall be awarded to the bidder whose bid will result in the lowest net interest cost for the group or for the bonds of any district included within the group. Bonds shall be issued and sold in the name of each school district or a community college district in the same manner as provided in this chapter.

SEC. 121. Section 15142 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15142. The bonds shall be issued in the denomination or denominations as the board of supervisors or governing board of the community college district may prescribe.

SEC. 122. Section 15147 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15147. Before selling the bonds, or any part of them, the board of supervisors or community college district, as appropriate, shall advertise for bids at least two weeks in some daily or weekly newspaper of general circulation published in the county whose county superintendent of schools or governing board of the community college district has jurisdiction over the district, or if there is no newspaper published in the county, in a newspaper published in some other county in the state having a general circulation in the county.

SEC. 123. Section 15252 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15252. The board of supervisors of the county, the superintendent of schools which has jurisdiction over any school district, shall annually at the time of making the levy of taxes for county purposes estimate the amount of money required to meet the payment of the principal and interest on bonds of the district authorized by the electors of the district and not sold, and which the governing board of the district informs the board in their belief will be sold before the next tax levy, and the board of supervisors shall levy a tax sufficient to pay the principal and interest so estimated.

SEC. 124. Section 15254 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15254. This article shall apply only to bonds of a school district or community college district which were approved by the electors prior to July 1, 1978, and to bonded indebtedness for the acquisition or improvement of real property approved by two-thirds of the voters on or after June 4, 1986.

SEC. 125. Section 15502 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15502. As used in this chapter:

(a) "State project" means any construction project undertaken by the state, or the state and federal government jointly, which will cause a sudden influx of people into the area affected and where sufficient housing, schools, and other community facilities are not available. For the purposes of this subdivision, the Governor is hereby empowered to proclaim any major construction project undertaken by the state as a "state project" and define the area affected or likely to be affected thereby when:

(1) He or she finds that the construction project will cause a sudden influx of people into the area; and

(2) He or she is requested to do so by the county board of supervisors.

The proclamation shall be in writing and shall take effect immediately. As soon thereafter as possible it shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

(b) "Board" means the State Allocation Board, created by Section 7 of the Construction and Employment Act as amended.

(c) "Director" means the Director of Education for kindergarten and grades 1 to 12, inclusive.

(d) "Project" means the purposes for which a school district has applied for an apportionment.

(e) "Construction project" means the purposes for which a school district has applied for an apportionment at a given location.

(f) "Grade level maintained by a district" means (1) the kindergarten, if any, and grades 1 to 6, or grades 1 to 8, inclusive, maintained by an elementary school district or a unified school district; or (2) grades 7 to 12, grades 9 to 12, inclusive, or grades 7 to 10, inclusive, maintained by a high school district or unified school district, but not more than one grade level shall be claimed by any district under any one of the subdivisions of this paragraph.

(g) "Apportionment" means an apportionment made under this chapter unless the context otherwise requires.

(h) "Project children" means children of parents who have come to the district subsequent to the start of the state project and who are employed by the State of California or the federal government in connection with a state project and children of parents employed by any contractor or subcontractor of a state project.

(i) "Indirect project children" means children of parents who have come to the district subsequent to the start of the state project and who are not employed by a contractor or subcontractor of a state project but who are children in the area in addition to those which would be expected as a result of normal development and growth of the area as determined pursuant to regulations of the director which he or she is hereby authorized to adopt.

(j) "Parent" includes a legal guardian or other person standing in loco parentis.

(k) "Department" means the State Department of Education.

SEC. 126. Section 15520 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15520. Apportionment from the State School Construction Fund to school districts shall be made in the manner and subject to the conditions herein provided and in accordance with policies adopted by the board, for the following purposes: (a) the purchase and improvement of schoolsites which have been approved by the department; (b) the purchase of desks, tables, chairs, and equipment, as approved by the department; and (c) the planning and construction, reconstruction, alteration of, and addition to, school buildings for facilities as are approved by the department as essential, all of which purposes are hereby declared to be, and are, public works.

Where a district is required by a contract entered into between itself and a contractor, to obtain at its own expense insurance covering risks incurred during any construction, reconstruction or alteration for which an apportionment has been made, the cost thereof may be paid either directly, or by way of reimbursement, to said district out of said apportionment, or out of any apportionment made specifically covering the insurance; provided, that in other respects said apportionments are eligible for payment under this chapter.

SEC. 127. Section 15527 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15527. No apportionment to a school district under this chapter shall become final, nor shall any agreement authorized by Section 15528 be entered into, unless at an election called by the governing board of the district, two-thirds of the qualified electors of the district voting thereat have authorized the governing board to accept, expend, and repay an apportionment as provided in this chapter or, with respect to an agreement authorized by Section 15528, to obligate the district in an amount equal to or in excess of the maximum amount which the district could be obligated by the agreement, or by any act of its governing board, or for which it is responsible, contemplated, or permitted under the agreement. The election shall be called, held, and conducted in the same manner as are elections to authorize the issuance of district bonds, except that the ballot shall contain substantially the following words:

"Shall the governing board of the district be authorized (1) to accept and expend an apportionment from the State of California under and subject to the provisions of the State Project Area School Construction Law, a portion of which amount is subject to repayment as provided by said law, or (2) to enter into an agreement or agreements with the state pursuant to Section 15528 of the Education Code, which will at the time of such agreement or agreements (or at the time of any subsequent act of the governing board, or for which it is responsible, contemplated or permitted thereby) commit the district to a total expenditure in connection with all such agreements of not more than _____ dollars, or both. Yes _____ No _____."

SEC. 128. Section 15528 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15528. In addition to the powers granted the board under this chapter, the board shall have authority (1) to make apportionments to districts for the purchase of sites only, or for the construction or purchase of temporary or portable buildings, and for the cost of site preparation, including any necessary utility costs, in connection with their utilization and (2) to establish standards in conjunction with the State Department of Education pertaining to the sites and buildings as a condition for making the apportionment. In addition the board may also expend moneys from the State School Construction Fund directly for the construction, acquisition, storage, maintenance, and repair of the buildings, including administrative costs related thereto. In the latter event the board may lease, sell, or transfer under a lease-purchase agreement the buildings to school districts eligible for aid under this chapter, under the terms as it deems fit. Agreements pertaining thereto may provide for the payment by the state of site preparation costs, including any necessary utility costs, sufficient to permit their utilization.

Any buildings leased for placement on the school property or under a purchase or a lease-purchase agreement shall be deemed the construction or alteration of a school building as those terms are defined in Sections 39140 to 39155, inclusive.

The consideration provided by any agreement between the state and districts pursuant to this section shall as nearly as possible reflect an amount which would return to the state a fair pro rata proportion of its capital investment and expenditures connected therewith in the light of the benefits conferred by the agreement. The consideration shall be paid by the districts promptly when due, and Section 15573 shall not be deemed applicable to reduce the consideration, provided that the amounts so repaid shall be redeposited in the State School Construction Fund.

Whenever the board deems it economically desirable to do so the board may dispose of any facilities acquired or constructed directly by it under this section to any public or private parties under the terms and in the manner as the board deems fit, save insofar as the disposal is inconsistent with any agreement under this section between the board and an affected district. The board is authorized to do any and all things necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section, and any eligible school district is authorized to enter into an agreement with the board to carry out the purposes hereof.

No agreement shall however be entered into under this section unless the department has with respect thereto, or as a condition of making the agreement, approved (1) the property to be transferred, including any incidental construction pertaining thereto, (2) whether the agreement shall be by lease or sale, and (3) the term of the transfer, if less than a sale, including any contingent or indefinite term. "Sale" as used in this paragraph includes a lease-purchase transaction. The jurisdiction of the department shall not otherwise extend to the terms of the agreement.

SEC. 129. Section 15541 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15541. In the computation of the apportionments to applicant school districts, the board may utilize the facilities and services of any department or agency of the state and may delegate the performance of any duties or functions, except those specifically delegated by this chapter to the director or department, to any officer or employee thereof as the board deems necessary and proper.

SEC. 130. Section 15551 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15551. The election by a school district upon the acceptance, expenditure, and repayment of an apportionment prescribed by Section 15527 may be called and held either before or after the making of an apportionment.

SEC. 131. Section 15570 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15570. Each school district to which an apportionment is made under this chapter shall repay the principal amount of the apportionment in the manner prescribed by this article.

SEC. 132. Section 15574 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15574. The Controller shall, during the fiscal year in which he or she determines the annual repayment as provided in Section 15572, and for each subsequent fiscal year not exceeding 30, deduct the total amount of the annual repayment of each district in equal amounts from each of the February, March, April, and May installments of the apportionments made to the district from the State School Fund under Sections 46304, 46305, and 92 or 41050, Sections 41330 to 41343, inclusive, and Sections 41600 to 41972, inclusive, and, on order of the Controller, the amount so deducted shall be transferred to the General Fund of the state.

SEC. 133. Section 15701 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15701. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Board" means the State Allocation Board, created by Section 7 of the Construction and Employment Act as amended.

(b) "Director" means the Director of Education for kindergarten and grades 1 to 12, inclusive.

(c) "Project" means the purposes for which a school district has applied for an apportionment under this chapter.

(d) "Grade level maintained by a district" means (1) the kindergarten, if any, and grades 1 to 6, or grades 1 to 8, inclusive, maintained by an elementary school district or a unified school district; or (2) grades 7 to 12, grades 9 to 12, inclusive, or grades 7 to 10, inclusive, maintained by a high school district or unified school district.

(e) "Apportionment" means an apportionment made under this chapter unless the context otherwise requires.

SEC. 134. Section 15718 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15718. The sum of two million dollars ($2,000,000) was by Chapter 13 of the Statutes of 1952 (First Extraordinary Session) made available from the Public School Building Loan Fund for apportionment by the board pursuant to this chapter, except as otherwise provided by this section and to be transferred by the Controller as needed into a separate account in the State School Building Fund which was created in the State Treasury.

Apportionments made under this section shall be available as grants to those school districts to which apportionments have been made under this chapter, prior to April 1, 1952, and only for the amounts thereof as are in excess of the apportionments the voters of the districts voted to accept and repay under Sections 15721, 15722, and 15723.

If and when the electors of districts receiving apportionments under this section, vote to accept and repay additional amounts under Sections 15721, 15722, and 15723, the board may make apportionments under other sections of this chapter in substitution in whole or in part of the grants made under this section.

In the event the electors of the district fail to vote to accept and repay the additional amounts or if apportionments covering the amounts are not made under other sections of this chapter, beginning in September, 1953, and annually for nine years thereafter, apportionments made to the districts from the State School Fund under Sections 46304, 46305, and 92 or 41050, Sections 41330 to 41343, inclusive, and Sections 41600 to 41972, inclusive, or any successor thereof, shall be reduced by an amount equivalent to one-tenth of the amount apportioned under this section. This section shall not be applied so as to reduce any average daily attendance apportionment below the constitutional minimum. During the year beginning September, 1953, and each year thereafter in which the Controller determines that the apportionment of any district is to be reduced as herein provided, he or she shall deduct the total amount of the annual repayment of each district in equal amounts from each installment of the apportionments made to the district; and the amount so deducted shall, on order of the Controller, be transferred from the State School Building Fund to the General Fund at the time and for the purpose provided in Section 15903.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, taxes in the districts shall be increased sufficiently to offset the amounts by which the average daily attendance apportionments are reduced under this section. The tax increases shall be made in the manner prescribed under Section 15742 of this chapter.

Any amounts made available by this section which are not apportioned by June 30, 1953, and any recovery by substitution of apportionments made in accordance with this section shall be transferred to the Public School Building Loan Fund.

SEC. 135. Section 15735 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15735. The Controller shall, during the next fiscal year following that in which he or she determines the annual repayment as herein provided, deduct the total amount of the annual repayment of each district in equal amounts from each of the February, March, April, and May installments of the apportionments made to the district from the State School Fund under Sections 46304, 46305, and 92 or 41050, Sections 41330 to 41343, inclusive, and Sections 41600 to 41972, inclusive, and, on order of the Controller, the amount so deducted shall be transferred to the Public School Building Loan Fund. All money transferred to the Public School Building Loan Fund under this section shall be available only for transfer to the General Fund under Section 15903.

SEC. 136. Section 15745 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15745. A public school building fund is hereby created in the county treasury in each county for each school district in the county. The county treasurer of each county shall pay into the public school building fund of each district, exactly as apportioned by the board, all moneys received by him or her under this chapter with respect to that district.

SEC. 137. Section 15752 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15752. Whenever the Controller determines that any money apportioned to a school district has been expended by the school district for purposes not authorized by this chapter, or exceeds the final cost of the project which is authorized by this chapter to be paid therefrom, the Controller shall furnish written notice to the board, the governing board of the school district, the county superintendent of schools, the county auditor, and the county treasurer of the county whose county superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over the school district, directing the school district and the county treasurer to pay into the State Treasury the amount of the unauthorized expenditures, or the amount of the excess apportionment, as the case may be. Upon receipt of the notice, the governing board shall order the county treasurer to pay to the Treasurer, out of any moneys in the county treasury available to the school district for that purpose, the amount set forth in the notice. That amount shall, upon order of the Controller, be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the Public School Building Loan Fund.

It shall be the duty of the governing body and county treasurer to make the payments to the Treasurer as provided in this section, and it shall be the duty of the Controller to enforce the collection on behalf of the state.

If, upon petition of the district, the Controller determines that the amount is in excess of the amount that may be paid out of taxes levied at the maximum rate increased by any increase in the rate authorized by the electors of the district pursuant to Section 42202, without impairing essential district services, he or she may provide for the payment of the entire amount or any unpaid balance thereof in not exceeding three consecutive annual payments, commencing with the next school year. Each payment shall be an equal portion of the principal amount, plus accrued interest, and shall be paid not later than January 31st of each school year in which a payment is due. If the district fails to make the payment as specified, the Controller shall deduct the amount thereof from the February payment made to the district under Section 14041.

Deferred payments under this section shall bear interest at the same annual rate of interest as the apportionment from which the unauthorized expenditures or the amounts of excess apportionment were made.

SEC. 138. Section 15794 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15794. The Controller shall compute, in accordance with Sections 15791, 15792, and 15793, the amount of the annual repayment due the state on account of the apportionment or apportionments to each state-aided district and shall deduct from the respective apportionments made from the State School Fund under Sections 46304, 46305, and 92 or 41050, Sections 41330 to 41343, inclusive, and Sections 41600 to 41972, inclusive, to the state-aided district and an acquiring district the portion thereof for which each is liable under this article.

SEC. 139. Section 16042 of the Education Code is amended to read:

16042. In addition to any powers granted the board under this chapter, the board shall have authority to make apportionments to school districts for the purchase of sites and construction or purchase of temporary and portable buildings thereon, or for the construction alone, and for the cost of site preparation, including necessary utility costs, in connection with their utilization. The board may establish standards in conjunction with the State Department of Education pertaining to said sites and facilities as a condition of making the apportionments.

In addition, the board may expend moneys from the State School Building Aid Fund directly for the construction, acquisition, storage, maintenance and repair of the buildings, and administrative costs relating thereto. In the event the board may lease, sell or transfer under a lease-purchase agreement the buildings to eligible school districts or to county superintendents of schools. Any agreements with school districts may provide for the payment by the state of site preparation costs, including necessary utility costs, sufficient to permit the utilization of the facilities. Any building leased for placement on the school property or under a purchase or a lease-purchase agreement shall be deemed the construction or alteration of a school building as those terms are defined in Sections 39140 to 39155, inclusive. The consideration payable by either school districts or county superintendents for the facilities shall, as nearly as practicable, reflect an amount which would render to the state a fair return, as determined by the board, on its investment in said facilities and expenditures connected with their utilization, in the light of the benefits conferred by the agreement pertaining thereto.

The county superintendent of schools may contract with eligible school districts respecting and transfer to them by lease, lease-purchase or sale, facilities acquired by him or her from the board, provided that the agreements are not inconsistent with the rights of the state under any agreement between the superintendent and the board respecting the property. Repayments to the state as due shall be made by the county superintendent from the funds received from the affected school districts, and, if necessary to make the same when due, from the county school service fund, upon which he or she is authorized to draw requisitions for this purpose. The fund shall be reimbursed for the withdrawals from any payments made by the affected districts to the county superintendent not required when made for the discharge of any obligations of the county superintendent hereunder to the state.

No transfer of any property acquired directly by the board to any school district by lease or otherwise shall be made either by the board or county superintendents without the approval of the State Department of Education solely as to (1) the property to be transferred, including incidental construction, if any, connected therewith, (2) whether the same shall be by lease or sale, and (3) if less than a sale, the term of the lease, including any contingent or indefinite term.

The board, affected school districts, and county superintendents of schools are authorized to do any and all things necessary to carry out the purposes of this section. Payments required of any affected school districts under any agreement entered into pursuant to this section shall be made promptly when due. Whenever the board deems it economically desirable in the state's interest to do so, it may dispose of any facilities directly acquired by it to any public or private parties in the manner and under the terms as it deems best, providing that the disposition is not inconsistent with any agreements previously entered into under this section.

The term "eligible school districts" as used in this section, shall be deemed to refer to those districts which at the time an agreement contemplated hereunder is entered into would upon proper application have been eligible to receive an apportionment under this chapter, provided that solely for the purpose of determining the eligibility the board, or the county superintendent of schools in agreements with districts hereunder, may waive construction area restrictions pertaining to apportionments under this chapter.

SEC. 140. Section 16045 of the Education Code is amended to read:

16045. (a) The board by the adoption of rules shall provide for the manner of determining the area of adequate school construction existing in an applicant school district at the time of application. The rules shall define and provide for the method of determining building areas that are to be included in whole or in part, or to be excluded from the area of existing adequate school construction.

The board may make exceptions to this section or to the rules adopted pursuant to this section when it determines that the exceptions will be for the benefit of children affected.

For the purposes of this section, "service area" may be defined as any of the following:

(b) (1) Buildings which when constructed were intended to be used for a purpose to which the provisions of Sections 39140 to 39155, inclusive, would not apply, whether or not those sections were in effect at the time when the building was constructed.

(2) Buildings which when constructed were intended to be used for a purpose to which Sections 39140 to 39155, inclusive, would apply, whether or not those sections were in effect when the building was constructed, but which building has been converted or is intended to be converted, as shown by the application, to use for purposes to which the sections would not apply. Service area may include, but is not limited to, construction used as bus garages, maintenance shops, centrally located district storage and warehouses, custodial houses, utility shelters, administration offices, transformer vaults, and service yards.

(c) In the event that a school district has expended funds for the purpose of constructing buildings used for housing certificated employees of the district and their families, the area of the buildings and the funds expended therefor shall be accounted for in the following manner:

(1) The area of the buildings constructed or acquired with the proceeds of a tax levied under Sections 14200 to 14240, 42200 to 42247, and 45020, inclusive, shall be excluded from the building area of the district.

(2) The area of the buildings constructed or acquired with the proceeds from the sale of school district bonds prior to July 1, 1961, shall be excluded from the building area of the district, however, the bond funds shall not be considered as "eligible bonded debt service" as defined in subdivision (d) of Section 16070 and Section 16084.

(d) The board shall exclude from the building area of a district:

(1) The area of any building which is or will be used exclusively for a parent cooperative nursery education facility, and for no other purpose, and which building at the time of acquisition thereof by the district was incidental to the purchase of a schoolsite and unsuitable for classroom purposes or which was acquired by the district without expenditure of school district funds.

(2) The area of any building which is or will be used exclusively for a preschool educational program facility pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 54400) of Part 29, or Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 16150) of Part 4 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or any combination thereof; provided, that the building was constructed, leased, or purchased with local general funds, or federal or state funds allocated specifically for a preschool educational program.

(e) The area of adequate school construction existing in a district at the time of application shall be initially computed as all of the construction area of a district except all of the following:

(1) The areas as may be eligible for replacement under standards established by the board.

(2) The areas in an existing structurally inadequate building for which an application has been filed for structural rehabilitation or in a building previously structurally rehabilitated under either Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 15700) or Sections 16000 to 16207, inclusive, that exceeds the maximum building area allowed by Section 16044 for a number of pupils, equivalent to those that could be housed in the building after rehabilitation.

The board shall prescribe by rule the method of computing the number of pupils which could be so housed for the purposes of this subdivision.

(f) If the area of adequate school construction, when added to the minimum facilities needed by the district, results in a total construction area in excess of the amount prescribed in Section 16044, then the board may make the following adjustments to the initial computation or the revisions thereof as the board, in its discretion, deems desirable:

(1) Service areas constructed prior to July 19, 1947, shall be excluded, except as provided in paragraph (3).

(2) Service areas constructed subsequent to July 19, 1947, shall be recomputed by multiplying the total number of square feet of said service area by the percentage determined from dividing the actual construction cost per square foot as determined by the Director of General Services by the estimated average cost per square foot of the new school facilities for which the district has made application.

(3) If any inadequate nonservice area constructed prior to July 19, 1947, is, or will be, converted to a service area, the area shall be recomputed by multiplying said area by the percentage determined by dividing the depreciated value of said area by the replacement cost as the value and cost are determined by the Director of General Services.

(4) If, after the revised computation of service areas is made as prescribed under paragraphs (1), (2), and (3), the existing and requested building area of the district is in excess of the schedule set forth in Section 16044, the existing building area of nonservice facilities may be determined on the basis of the number of pupils housed by the facilities at an allowance per pupil which is not more than 25 percent in excess of the amount per pupil prescribed in Section 16044.

The board shall prescribe by rule the method for computing the number of adequately housed pupils for purposes of this subdivision.

SEC. 141. Section 16080 of the Education Code is amended to read:

16080. The Controller shall, during the next fiscal year following that in which he or she determines the annual repayment as herein provided, deduct the total amount of the annual repayment of each district in equal amounts from each of the February, March, April, and May installments of the apportionments made to the district from the State School Fund under Sections 46304, 46305, and 41050 and 92, Sections 41330 to 41343, inclusive, and Sections 41600 to 41972, inclusive, and, on order of the Controller, the amount so deducted shall be transferred to the State School Building Aid Fund. All money transferred to the State School Building Aid Fund under this section shall be available only for transfer to the General Fund of Section 16403.

SEC. 142. Section 16100 of the Education Code is amended to read:

16100. Whenever the Controller determines that any money apportioned to a school district has been expended by the school district for purposes not authorized by this chapter, or exceeds the final cost of the project which is authorized by Section 16024 to be paid therefrom, the Controller shall furnish written notice to the board, the governing board of the school district, the county superintendent of schools, the county auditor, and the county treasurer of the county whose county superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over the school district, directing the school district and the county treasurer to pay into the State Treasury the amount of the unauthorized expenditures, or the amount of the excess apportionment, as the case may be. Upon receipt of the notice, the governing board shall order the county treasurer to pay to the Treasurer, out of any moneys in the county treasury available to the school district for that purpose, the amount set forth in the notice. The amount shall, upon order of the Controller, be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the State School Building Aid Fund, to be reapportioned by the board.

It shall be the duty of the governing body and the county treasurer to make the payments to the State Treasurer as provided in this section, and it shall be the duty of the Controller to enforce the collection on behalf of the state.

If, upon petition of the district, the Controller determines that the amount to be included in the county settlement is in excess of the amount that may be paid out of taxes levied at the maximum rate authorized by law (increased by any increase in the rate authorized by the electors of the district pursuant to Section 42202), without impairing essential district services, he or she may provide for the payment of the entire amount or any unpaid balance thereof in not exceeding three consecutive annual payments, commencing with the next school year. Each payment shall be an equal portion of the principal amount, plus accrued interest, and shall be paid not later than January 31st of each school year in which a payment is due. If the district fails to make the payment as specified, the Controller shall deduct the amount thereof from the February payment made to the district under Section 14041.

Deferred payments under this section shall bear interest at the same annual rate of interest as the apportionment from which the unauthorized expenditures or the amounts of excess apportionment were made.

SEC. 143. Section 16105 of the Education Code is amended to read:

16105. Whenever a school district receives or has received an apportionment for or toward the purchase or improvement of realty or personalty (hereafter referred to as "property") and within five years from the date of the written authorization from a duly authorized representative of the board for the expenditure therefor from state funds or from contributable district funds, sells, leases, exchanges or otherwise disposes of the property or any portion thereof without the consent of the board, the board may demand the return of the state apportionment or the portion thereof it deems proper, plus accrued interest at the prescribed rate, less any repayment made prior to the demand by the district on account of said apportionment. A district may not at any time while an apportionment remains unpaid or noncanceled, dispose of any property acquired therefrom without the consent of the board, excepting transfers provided for by Article 15 (commencing with Section 39540) of Chapter 3 of Part 23 and existing improvements on an acquired site. The consent may be subject to the conditions as may be imposed, which may include the application of the consideration received in reduction of any apportionments previously made to the district. Any property into which the consideration from the disposition is converted shall be and remain the property of the state as if an apportionment had originally been authorized therefor.

Whenever, in the judgment of the board, a district fails to use property for the purpose or purposes for which an apportionment has been made, within not less than one nor more than five years from the aforesaid authorization, as the board shall determine, the board may demand back the return of the apportionment, or portion thereof, with interest, as specified in the preceding paragraph. The board's interpretation of the "use" in any instance, and whether or not the district has complied therewith, shall be conclusive upon the district affected after a hearing and finding of the board. In addition to the foregoing, the board may at any time subsequent to the expiration of the last mentioned period, while an apportionment remains unpaid or uncanceled, determine that a site or portion thereof, purchased in whole or in part with said apportionment is not being used for the purpose or purposes for which the apportionment was made, which determination shall be conclusive upon the district after a hearing and finding of the board. Pursuant to that determination, the board may direct the sale or other disposition of the site or portion thereof by the state or by the district and apply the proceeds, after deducting expenses it determines necessary to facilitate the disposition, in reduction of said apportionment, plus accrued interest. Any excess shall be applied in reduction of any other unpaid or noncanceled apportionments, plus interest, as the board shall direct, any remaining proceeds thereafter being payable to the district. For the purposes of the determination of disposition, the district shall, whenever directed by the board, convey record title to the site or portion thereof to the state and/or do any other acts deemed necessary by the board to facilitate the disposition or implement the terms thereof. Any disposition authorized to be made hereunder by the district shall be made in accordance with the procedure prescribed by this code for the disposition of unneeded school property, otherwise as directed by the board, provided that the consideration to be received shall be subject to the approval of the board or its delegate for that purpose.

Written notice of any demand prescribed by this section, setting forth the amount due the state pursuant thereto, shall be furnished by the board to the governing board of the school district, the county superintendent of schools, the county auditor, the county treasurer of the county whose county has jurisdiction over the school district, and the Controller. Upon receipt of the notice and demand, the governing board of the school district shall order the county treasurer to pay to the State Treasurer, out of any moneys in the county treasury available to the school district for that purpose, the amount set forth in the notice. The amount shall, upon order of the Controller, be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the State School Building Aid Fund, to be reapportioned by the board.

Whenever a school district receives or has received an apportionment under this chapter for the purchase of a site which contains existing improvements, the board may require the district to dispose of the existing improvements as a condition of receiving an apportionment in the manner as the board deems proper, and contribute the net proceeds therefrom or the value of any consideration received therefor, in reduction of any apportionment. In the event that the district is not so required to dispose of the existing improvements but after receiving the apportionment subsequently disposes thereof, the net proceeds therefrom or the value of the consideration received therefor, shall be contributed by the district in reduction of any remaining indebtedness to the state under this chapter or Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 15700).

Where a district has been unable to use any building site acquired by an apportionment under this chapter because of the delay of the board in acting upon its application for an apportionment for the planning and construction of school buildings on the site, the board may withhold demand for repayment of the apportionment for the building site for a period of not less than one or more than three years after approval of the apportionment for planning and construction.

It shall be the duty of the governing body and county treasurer to make the payments to the Treasurer as provided in this section, and it shall be the duty of the Controller to enforce the collection on behalf of the state.

Whenever the consent of the board is required in this section, it may be given by written authorization of its authorized representative for that purpose. The provisions of this section, including the term "apportionment" or "apportionments," shall be deemed to be applicable to apportionments heretofore or hereafter made under this chapter or Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 15700).

SEC. 144. Section 16165 of the Education Code is amended to read:

16165. The Controller shall compute, in accordance with Sections 16161, 16163 and 16164, the amount of the annual repayment due the state on account of the apportionment or apportionments to each state-aided district and shall deduct from the respective apportionments made from the State School Fund under Sections 46304, 46305, and 92 or 41050, Sections 41330 to 41343, inclusive, and Sections 41600 to 41972, inclusive, to the state-aided district and an acquiring district the portion thereof for which each is liable under this article (Sections 16150 to 16166, inclusive).

SEC. 145. Section 16195 of the Education Code is amended to read:

16195. Allocations under this article may be made in the amount as may be necessary, and in the manner as to distribute the available funds equitably among school districts, giving consideration to the needs of each district and the number of children within each district who are blind, partially seeing, aphasic, deaf, hard of hearing, mentally retarded, or orthopedic or who are health impaired, multihandicapped, speech handicapped, educationally handicapped, or enrolled in development centers for the handicapped.

In computing the number of those children, there shall be included all of the following:

(a) The number of them residing in the district.

(b) The number of handicapped minors who are actually living within the district five or more days a week, although their legal residence may be outside the district and who are educated pursuant to Section 56708.

(c) The number of them who reside outside of the district, except those described in subdivision (b), and who are to be educated by the district, excluding mentally retarded minors within Section 56501 who reside within a district having an average daily attendance of 900 or more and which does not meet the requirements of Section 16058 concerning outstanding bonded indebtedness.

Allocations for housing and equipment for minors having speech defects or disorders shall be allowed in new schools constructed after July 1, 1968, and in existing schools constructed between July 1, 1933, and July 1, 1968. The housing and equipment shall be designed and provided to permit their utilization for remedial and other special services including speech therapy, speech reading (lipreading), and auditory training for the speech and hearing handicapped, screening and testing for speech and hearing defects, or both, psychological testing of exceptional children, subject matter tutoring of exceptional children, and other specialized activities required by these children. In addition to the maximum building area allowances provided in Sections 16047, 16052, 16053, and 16054, not more than an additional 200 square feet of building area shall be allowed for each new school so planned and constructed.

Each existing school, constructed between July 1, 1933, and July 1, 1968, shall be allowed not more than an additional 200 square feet of building area only for construction thereon of a new speech facility. At the option of the applicant district, the board may allocate funds to convert existing facilities or to provide a combination of new construction and conversion of existing facilities to provide housing for minors having speech defects or disorders, provided the cost of the conversion or combination of new construction and conversion does not exceed the computed cost for 200 square feet of new classroom construction based upon cost standards adopted by the board. At the further option of the applicant district, and in lieu of new building construction or conversion, the board may allocate funds for the acquisition of mobile speech therapy facilities, provided the cost of the mobile facilities does not exceed the combined computed cost for 200 square feet of new classroom construction, based upon cost standards adopted by the board, at all schools which will be served by the mobile facility.

SEC. 146. Section 16197 of the Education Code is amended to read:

16197. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this article to the contrary, apportionments for the purchase of mobile classrooms for the education of physically handicapped pupils enrolled in integrated programs, as set forth in Section 56702, and for the education and therapy of speech-handicapped pupils may, subject to the approval of the State Department of Education, be made to any school district not otherwise eligible to receive apportionments under Article 1 (commencing with Section 16000) and Article 2 (commencing with Section 16150) for that purpose.

The State Department of Education may approve applications in those situations where mobile classrooms will be used by a county superintendent of schools required to educate physically handicapped minors pursuant to Sections 1850 and 56701. Mobile classrooms shall be used pursuant to an agreement authorized by Section 41308.

Except as otherwise provided in this section, not more than 50 percent of the amount of any apportionment made pursuant to this section shall be repaid. Repayments shall be made in the following manner: Fifty percent of the amount of the apportionment shall be repaid in full with interest by the district, in annual amounts and at an interest rate over the period as the State Allocation Board may determine, not to exceed 20 years from the date the apportionment became final. In any school year in which 50 percent or more of the pupils in average daily attendance, as determined by the county superintendent of schools, and served by the facilities are not pupils from districts other than the applicant district, the repayment for the succeeding fiscal year shall be an amount which would have been payable if the district had been required to repay 100 percent of the apportionment over that period.

The county board of supervisors of the county whose superintendent of schools uses mobile classrooms during any fiscal year shall at the time or times within the fiscal year as may be agreed upon between the county and the school district, but in any case not later than the end of the fiscal year, pay to the school district having the obligation to repay the apportionment made under this section for the purchase of mobile classrooms, an amount equal to 100 percent of the amount the district is required to repay in the fiscal year with respect to the apportionment described above.

The county board of supervisors shall raise the amount required through a general tax levy on the property within the participating districts, or through a tuition charge not to exceed one hundred sixty dollars ($160) a year per pupil by the county superintendent of schools to the school districts of residence of pupils attending the facility including the district having the obligation to repay, or through a combination of these.

The county superintendent of schools shall notify the county board of supervisors of his or her intention to approve a school district's application for an allocation under this article before he or she approves the application.

The State Department of Education shall prepare specifications or regulations for the construction of mobile classrooms to provide for a useful life of no less than 20 years.

The use of mobile classrooms shall meet specifications described by the State Department of Education as they relate to the needs of the physically handicapped pupils being served, as set forth in Section 56701.

SEC. 147. Section 16200 of the Education Code is amended to read:

16200. Notwithstanding any provisions of this article to the contrary, the board may make apportionments to school districts not otherwise eligible to receive apportionments under Article 1 (commencing with Section 16000) and Article 2 (commencing with Section 16150) for the construction of special education facilities and the purchase of essential furniture and equipment for the purpose of either or both (1) educating those physically handicapped, mentally retarded, and educationally handicapped pupils who regularly reside in an established, licensed children's institution or family home and are being educated pursuant to Section 42902, and (2) educating handicapped pupils in development centers for handicapped pupils pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 56800) of Chapter 6 of Part 30.

Only 50 percent of any amounts allocated and disbursed to a district under this section shall be repaid by the district. Each disbursement shall be repaid in 20 equal annual installments, including interest as determined by the board, and shall be computed and withheld by the Controller. The first computation of repayment of any disbursement shall be made in the fiscal year following the disbursement and shall during the next fiscal year be deducted in equal amounts from the February, March, April, and May installments of the apportionment made to the district from the State School Fund under Sections 41330 to 41343, inclusive, and Sections 41600 to 41972, inclusive.

SEC. 148. Section 16214 of the Education Code is amended to read:

16214. For each school district which receives a grant or allocation pursuant to this article, commencing with the fiscal year next succeeding the fiscal year in which the grant or allocation was received, and for each fiscal year thereafter, the Controller shall compute an amount equal to one cent ($0.01) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of the assessed valuation of property within the district. The Controller shall, during the next fiscal year following that in which he or she makes the computation pursuant to the preceding sentence of this section, deduct the amount so computed in equal amounts from each of the February, March, April, and May installments of the apportionments made to the district from the State School Fund under Sections 41330 to 41343, inclusive, and Sections 41600 to 41972, inclusive; and, on order of the Controller, the amount so deducted shall be transferred to the State School Building Aid Fund. All money transferred to the State School Building Aid Fund under this section shall be available only for transfer to the General Fund under Section 17204.

The Controller shall make the computations and deductions required by this section for 30 fiscal years or until the time as the total of the amounts so deducted equal 50 percent of the amount of the grant or allocation which was made to the school district, whichever first occurs.

Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, for each fiscal year for which a computation is made pursuant to the section, the maximum rate of school district tax for the school district for which the computation is made shall be increased by one cent ($0.01) per each one hundred dollars ($100) of the assessed value of property within the district and shall be in addition to any amount of tax otherwise authorized to be levied, and amounts raised through the levy of the tax may be used to offset any reduction in equalization aid resulting from the deductions made pursuant to this section.

The increase in the maximum school district tax provided by this section shall be deemed to be for bonded debt service or current capital construction. If the 1-cent rate of school district tax levied by the district causes the tax levied by the district for bonded debt service and for current capital construction in the same year to exceed the 40-cent tax amount, as that term is defined by Section 16070 or 16071, whichever is applicable, for each grade level maintained by the district, the Controller shall not make the deduction otherwise required by this section for the fiscal year.

SEC. 148.5. Section 17302 of the Education Code is amended to read:

17302. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Board" means the State Allocation Board, created by Section 7 of the Construction and Employment Act as amended.

(b) "Director" means the Director of Education.

(c) "Project" means the purpose or purposes for which a school district has applied for an apportionment or apportionments.

(d) "Apportionment" means an apportionment made under this chapter unless the context otherwise requires.

(e) "Urban district" means any school district, the boundaries of which are substantially identical to or which encompass the boundaries of a city having a population in 1960 of not less than 50,000 persons.

SEC. 148.7. Section 17313 of the Education Code is amended to read:

17313. Each school district which desires an apportionment shall submit through its governing board to the board an application therefor in the form and number of copies as the board shall prescribe. Each copy of the application shall be accompanied by a statement of the estimated cost of the project certified by an architect or structural engineer, and by layout plans showing the entire construction project for which the district desires an apportionment.

Estimates of costs for new construction or equipment appearing in an application shall not exceed typical current costs of comparable new construction or equipment by school districts in the same area not receiving an apportionment under this chapter, as determined by the Director of General Services, or if there has been no new construction by school districts in the area, the estimates of costs shall not exceed the reasonable current cost of similar construction or equipment in the area as determined by the Director of General Services.

A school district may at any time file an application or amend or supplement an application. Upon receipt of any application, the Director of General Services shall as promptly as possible prepare a report and recommendation with respect to the application after having received recommendations from the director in respect to any matter which is subject to the jurisdiction or approval of the director or State Department of Education. The board shall, subject to the provisions of this chapter, approve, in whole or in part, or reject each application referred to it by the Director of General Services. If the board approves of the application, either in whole or in part, it shall, by a resolution adopted by it, apportion to the district from the Urban School Construction Aid Fund the amount applied for, or a portion thereof as the board may determine appropriate; provided, that it may order that the apportionment or any part thereof shall be paid in progressive installments at times and under conditions as it may then prescribe.

SEC. 149. Section 17900 of the Education Code is amended to read:

17900. The Legislature finds and declares that it is in the interest of the state and of the people thereof for the state to aid school districts in finding cost-effective methods of conserving energy in school buildings maintained by the districts. The Legislature also finds that while many districts may desire to participate in energy conservation programs designed to reduce the steadily rising costs of meeting the energy needs of school buildings, that the costs involved in improving existing school facilities to become more energy efficient are often prohibitive.

It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this part to encourage school districts to retrofit school buildings so as to conserve energy and reduce the costs of supplying energy.

SEC. 150. Section 17901 of the Education Code is amended to read:

17901. (a) School districts may borrow funds from federal or state regulated financial institutions for the purposes of design and construction costs associated with retrofitting school buildings to become more energy efficient. School districts shall only be authorized to borrow an amount which does not exceed that which can be repaid from energy cost avoidance savings accumulated from the improvement of school facilities.

(b) Any savings and loan association may make loans or advances of credit pursuant to subdivision (a) in an amount not in excess of 5 percent of its total assets. This investment may be in addition to any other investment savings and loan associations are permitted to undertake under Section 6705.7 of the Financial Code.

SEC. 151. Section 17902 of the Education Code is amended to read:

17902. To the extent that these services are available, school districts shall arrange for the preaudit and postaudit of school buildings by investor-owned or municipal utility companies or by independent energy audit companies or organizations which are recognized by federal or state regulated financial institutions. The preaudit shall identify the type and amount of work necessary to retrofit the buildings and shall include an estimate of projected energy savings. The postaudit shall be conducted upon completion of the retrofitting of the school buildings to ensure that the project satisfies the recommendations of the preaudit.

SEC. 152. Section 17903 of the Education Code is amended to read:

17903. School districts taking action under this article shall contract with qualified businesses capable of retrofitting school buildings. To the extent that lists of qualified businesses are made available to school districts by investor-owned or municipal utility companies or federal or state regulated financial institutions, school districts may utilize the services of these businesses.

SEC. 153. Section 18100 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18100. The governing board of each school district shall provide school library services for the pupils and teachers of the district by establishing and maintaining school libraries or by contractual arrangements with another public agency.

SEC. 154. Section 18101 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18101. The State Board of Education shall adopt standards, rules and regulations for school library services.

SEC. 155. Section 18102 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18102. Libraries may be established and maintained under the control of the governing board of any school district.

SEC. 156. Section 18103 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18103. The libraries shall be open to the use of the teachers and the pupils of the school district during the schoolday. In addition, the libraries may be open at other hours, including evenings and Saturdays, as the governing board may determine. Libraries open to serve students during evening and Saturday hours shall be under the supervision of certificated personnel. Certificated personnel employed to perform full-time services in an elementary, junior high, or high school during the regular schoolday, may supervise, but shall not without their consent be required to supervise, a school library on evenings or Saturdays. If a person agrees to supervise the school library during Saturday or evening hours, he or she shall be compensated in the amounts determined by the governing board of the district as indicated on the salary schedule.

SEC. 157. Section 18110 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18110. County boards of education may adopt lists of books and other library materials for districts not employing a superintendent of schools or a librarian for full time. The lists may be distributed to all school districts in a county for use in the selection of books and other library materials.

SEC. 158. Section 18111 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18111. The governing board of any school district may exclude from schools and school libraries all books, publications, or papers of a sectarian, partisan, or denominational character.

SEC. 159. Section 18120 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18120. The governing board of a school district maintaining its own library or libraries may appoint a librarian or librarians to staff the libraries provided they qualify as librarians pursuant to Section 44868.

SEC. 160. Section 18121 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18121. The governing board of a school district is accountable for the proper care and preservation of the school libraries of the district, and may make all necessary rules and regulations not provided for by the State Board of Education, or the Superintendent of Public Instruction and not inconsistent therewith.

SEC. 161. Section 18122 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18122. The governing board of a school district shall, on or before August 31st, in each year, report to the State Department of Education on the condition of school libraries, for the year ending June 30th preceding. The report shall, in addition to other matters deemed expedient by the governing board or the librarians, contain the statistical and other information as is deemed desirable by the State Department of Education. For this purpose the State Department of Education may send to the several districts under its supervision, instructions or question blanks so as to obtain the material for a comparative study of library conditions in the state.

SEC. 163. Section 18131 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18131. Notwithstanding any other section of this article to the contrary, school districts may purchase textbooks, reference books, periodicals, and other publications approved by any board authorized to adopt these materials in addition to those furnished by the county library.

SEC. 164. Section 18132 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18132. All funds transferred to a county library pursuant to this article shall be used by the county library only for: (a) the acquisition of books and other materials as are adopted by the body authorized to adopt courses of study for the school districts which have entered into an agreement for the provision of school library services by the county library, and (b) the care and distribution of the books and other materials to schools which are eligible to receive school library services from the county library.

SEC. 165. Section 18134 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18134. In any city conducting a public library owned and managed by the city, the governing board of any school district may enter into an arrangement with the governing body of the public library of the city similar to the arrangement authorized by this article between the governing boards of any school district and the county library.

SEC. 166. Section 18137 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18137. Whenever the governing board of a school district enters into an agreement with a county or city library for school library services the district shall provide for the care and custody of and assume responsibility for the books and other property delivered to it subject to the rules and regulations of the county or city library and the terms of the agreement.

SEC. 167. Section 18138 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18138. With the consent of the county superintendent of schools the governing board of the school district may agree with the proper authorities of the county or city to terminate the affiliation of the district with the county or city library. Either the governing board of the school district or the governing body of the county library may initiate termination proceedings. The proceedings shall be terminated prior to the first day of February of the school year in which begun and may provide for either of the following:

(a) The complete withdrawal of affiliation effective on the first day of July next succeeding.

(b) A gradual withdrawal over a period of not to exceed three years beginning on the first day of July next succeeding the termination of proceedings.

The governing board of the school district shall enter into a written agreement with the proper authorities of the city or county providing for the terms of the gradual withdrawal, including the period to be covered, not to exceed three years, the amount of payment for each year, and the amount of service to be rendered.

Unless otherwise provided in the withdrawal agreement, the books purchased by a district during the period of the withdrawal become the property of the district.

All books purchased by a district shall be approved by the body authorized to adopt courses of study for the school districts of the county.

SEC. 168. Section 18139 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18139. With the consent of the county board of education, in those counties in which the county superintendent of schools performs library services for the school library of any district, the governing board of the school district may agree with the proper authorities of the county to terminate the affiliation of the district with the county superintendent of schools with respect to library services. The proceedings shall be terminated prior to the first day of February of the school year in which begun and may provide for either of the following:

(a) The complete withdrawal of affiliation effective on the first day of July next succeeding.

(b) A gradual withdrawal over a period of not to exceed five years beginning on the first day of July next succeeding the termination of proceedings.

The county board of education shall adopt rules and regulations governing a gradual withdrawal, including the period to be covered, not to exceed five years, the amount of payment for each year, and the amount of service to be rendered. The terms of the gradual withdrawal shall comply with the rules and regulations.

SEC. 169. Section 18170 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18170. The governing board of any school district shall expend the library fund, together with the money that is added thereto by donation, in the purchase of school apparatus and books for a school library, including books for supplementary work.

SEC. 170. Section 18171 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18171. No warrant shall be drawn by the superintendent of schools upon the order of any governing board of any school district against the library fund of any district unless the order is accompanied by an itemized bill, showing the books and apparatus, and the price of each in payment of which the order is drawn, and unless the books and apparatus, except in the case of library books and apparatus purchased by a district employing a district superintendent of schools or a school librarian for full time, have been adopted by the county, city, or city and county board of education.

SEC. 171. Section 18172 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18172. All orders of the governing board of any school district for books or apparatus shall in every case be submitted to the superintendent of schools of the county, city, or city and county, respectively, for his or her approval, before the books or apparatus shall be purchased.

SEC. 172. Section 19901 of the Education Code is amended to read:

19901. Before making the deposit, the board of supervisors shall obtain from the board of trustees or authorities in charge of the free public library, or the State Librarian, as the case may be, an agreement that it will properly preserve and care for the newspaper files, and make them accessible to the public.

SEC. 174. Section 22200 of the Education Code is amended to read:

22200. The system is managed by the Teachers' Retirement Board. The members of the board are as follows:

(a) The Superintendent of Public Instruction.

(b) The Controller.

(c) The Treasurer.

(d) The Director of Finance.

(e) One member who, at the time of appointment, is a member of the governing board of a school district or a community college district.

(f) Three members of the State Teachers' Retirement System, as follows:

(1) Two members who, at time of appointment, are classroom teachers in grades kindergarten through 12.

(2) One member, who at time of appointment, is a community college instructor with expertise in the areas of business or economics or both business and economics and who shall be appointed by the Governor for a term of four years from a list submitted by the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges.

(g) A retirant of the system.

(h) One officer of a life insurance company appointed by the Governor for a term of four years, subject to confirmation by the Senate.

(i) One officer of a bank or a savings and loan institution who has had at least five years of broad professional investment experience handling various asset classes such as stocks, bonds, and mortgage investments and who shall be appointed by the Governor for a term of four years, subject to confirmation by the Senate.

(j) One member representing the public, appointed by the Governor for a term of four years, subject to confirmation by the Senate.

The members of the board provided by subdivisions (e) and (g) and paragraph (1) of subdivision (f) shall be appointed by the Governor for four-year terms from a list submitted by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The members of the board shall annually elect a chairperson and vice chairperson.

SEC. 176. Section 22504 of the Education Code is amended to read:

22504. Any person who is a member who subsequently is employed by the same or a different school district or community college district or by a county superintendent, to perform duties which require membership in a different public retirement system in this state, shall continue to be a member, unless he or she elects, in writing and files in the office of this system, within 90 days after the entry, not to continue as a member in his or her new position. This section shall also apply to changes in employment effected on or after January 1, 1976, if an election is made on or before April 1, 1977.

SEC. 178. Section 24806 of the Education Code is amended to read:

24806. (a) A district retirement salary plan established under Sections 24800 to 24812, inclusive, in any school district or districts, in which the average daily attendance of all districts combined is in excess of 200,000, governed by the same governing board, may be discontinued by the governing board of the district or districts, with the consent of the majority of the active members of the system expressing their desires with respect to the discontinuance of the plan evidenced in the manner as the governing board may prescribe; but no discontinuance of any retirement plan shall be effective for any purpose unless provision is made for retirement allowances for active and retired employees of the district as provided in subdivisions (b), (c), (d), and (e).

(b) (1) Active and retired employees of the district or districts who otherwise would be members of the plan, other than teachers and persons employed in a status requisite for membership in the State Teachers' Retirement System or who were so employed prior to retirement, shall be made members and beneficiaries, respectively, of the Public Employees' Retirement System according to Part 3 (commencing with Section 20000) of Division 5 of Title 2 of the Government Code, including transfer to the system of the accumulated contributions of the employees, together with any other assets of the plan as may be determined.

(2) With respect to persons who are members of the plan at its discontinuance, it shall be provided in the contract making the employees members of the Public Employees' Retirement System, that their respective rates of contribution thereunder shall be based on the age at the nearest birthday on July 1, 1944, or at the respective later effective dates of their membership in the plan, all instead of the age at the nearest birthday at the effective date of membership in the employees' system.

(3) Each employee of the district or districts who is included in the contract, but who during all or part of his or her employment in a status requisite for membership in the plan was not a member thereof, because of his or her election under an available option, or who failed to redeposit upon reentry into membership contributions previously withdrawn, shall have the right to elect by written document filed with the Board of Administration, Public Employees' Retirement System, at any time within 90 days after the date upon which the notice of the right to make the election is mailed by the system to the member's latest address on file in the office of the system, and prior to the date of retirement, to contribute to the system, subject to minimum payments fixed by the board of administration, and in one or more sums, or in not to exceed 60 monthly payments, an amount which, when added to his or her accumulated contributions, including interest, transferred as required in paragraph (1), will make a total amount equal to the accumulated contributions, including interest, which would have been credited to him or her in the plan, if he or she had never elected not to be a member thereof, or if he or she had redeposited the withdrawn contributions upon reentry, as the case may be. The employee shall pay to the Public Employees' Retirement System interest on the unpaid balance of the amount payable to the system, beginning with the date of discontinuance of the plan at the rate of interest currently used from time to time under the system. If the employee elects to make, and makes the contributions, and pays the interest, but not otherwise, he or she shall receive credit under the employees' system, as state service, for all the service rendered while he or she was not a member of the plan, because of his or her optional exclusion, or for all service upon which the withdrawn contributions were based, and for the purpose of paragraph (2) shall be considered as a member of the plan at its discontinuance and from November 1, 1937, or later beginning date of the service. Regardless of whether the contributions are made, the employee shall receive credit for service with which he or she was credited or would have been credited if he or she had been a member, as prior service under the plan. The contributions under this paragraph shall be added to and administered in the same manner as the contributions transferred under paragraph (1).

(4) Service rendered by active employees, who are made members of the Public Employees' Retirement System, prior to the assumption by the district or districts of the function under which the service was rendered, such as, but not limited to, cafeterias and student body activities, shall be credited under the employees' system; provided, the service qualified for credit under the discontinued plan.

(5) The contract making the active employees members of the Public Employees' Retirement System, shall include the employees with respect to service rendered in a status in which they are not eligible for membership in the State Teachers' Retirement System, as provided in Section 20491 of the Government Code, and also with respect to service rendered in a status in which they are eligible for membership, but which is no longer credited under the retirement system, and the service shall be credited in the same manner applicable to service otherwise qualifying for credit.

(6) Retirement allowances being paid under the discontinued plan to retired employees of the district or districts, who are made beneficiaries of the Public Employees' Retirement System, shall be changed by action of the governing board of the districts, effective at the discontinuance of the plan, to retirement allowances calculated on the basis of service used in the calculation of the respective allowances under the plan, and average annual salary earnable during the highest three consecutive years of creditable service, calculated according to the methods used at the date of discontinuance, under the plan in determining salary earnable, but excluding any salary based on overtime as provided in Section 20025.2 of the Government Code, but otherwise according to the formulae under the employees' system which apply to active employees who are made members thereof. The changed allowances shall be paid to beneficiaries for time commencing on the date they are made beneficiaries of the employees' system. No allowance shall be reduced by the change.

(7) If two or more districts under the control and management of a single governing board are participants in the plan, one contract between the board of administration and the governing board may include all the districts. The governing board may apportion the total contributions required under the contract, among the districts on the basis of total salaries upon which the contributions are computed, and on the basis of other pertinent information.

(8) Paragraph (1) of this subdivision notwithstanding, the contract making active employees members of the Public Employees' Retirement System, shall include teachers and persons employed in a status requisite for membership in the State Teachers' Retirement System, with respect to service rendered in a status in which they would have been eligible for membership in the Public Employees' Retirement System, if the district or districts by which they were employed had been participating in that system under Part 3 (commencing with Section 20000) of Division 5 of Title 2 of the Government Code. Contributions deducted from salary earned by the employees in that service, together with credited interest, and standing to the credit of the employees at the effective date of discontinuance of the plan, shall be subject to paragraph (1), in the same manner as they would have been so subject if the employees had been employed at the date of the discontinuance, in a status which was not requisite for membership in the State Teachers' Retirement System. The employees shall be members of the Public Employees' Retirement System with the same effect, but only with respect to that service, as if they had been employed in a status which would have qualified them for membership under other paragraphs of this section. The employees shall continue in membership and shall be entitled to benefits in the same manner as if they individually were credited with at least five hundred dollars ($500) in accumulated contributions. In the computation of the members' benefits under the Public Employees' Retirement System, their compensation earnable while they are members of the State Teachers' Retirement System shall be taken into consideration.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provisions of Sections 35161, 35162, Article 1 (commencing with Section 7000) of Chapter 1, Article 1 (commencing with Section 7100) of Chapter 2, of Part 5, Article 2 (commencing with Section 10010) of Chapter 1, Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10300) of Part 7, Article 1 (commencing with Section 12500) of Chapter 5 of Part 8, this part, Article 5 (commencing with Section 32340) of Chapter 3 of Part 19, and Part 25 (commencing with Section 44000), contributions to the discontinued district retirement plan made by teachers and other persons employed by the district or districts in a status requisite for membership in the State Teachers' Retirement System standing to their individual credit at the date of discontinuance of the district retirement plan shall be deposited forthwith in the Retirement Annuity Fund with credited interest, to be applied on the amount due from the teachers, but not to exceed the amount so due. Likewise an amount equal to the actuarial equivalent of the annuity portion of the retirement allowance to which the respective retired teachers and other persons employed by the district or districts, prior to retirement, in a status requisite for membership in the State Teachers' Retirement System were entitled under the plan, based on the interest rate and mortality tables used in its determination, shall be deposited in the Retirement Annuity Fund, to be applied on the amount due from the respective retired teachers, but not to exceed the amount so due. Any excess of the contributions with credited interest or the actuarial equivalents, as the case may be, over the respective amounts due under those sections, shall be paid forthwith to the respective active and retired teachers and other persons. Further amounts, if any, due under those sections after the deposits, shall be paid to the Retirement Annuity Fund by the respective active and retired teachers and other persons. If any of the teachers or other persons who is not retired, is not entitled to credit under the State Teachers' Retirement System for all or part of his or her service credited under the plan, or if any of the retired teachers or other persons is not entitled to a retirement allowance from the system, either before or after the discontinuance, the provisions of this subdivision about contributions and credited interest or about the actuarial equivalent of annuity portions of retirement allowances, as the case may be, shall not apply to him or her with respect to service which is not credited under the state system, until and unless he or she becomes entitled to credit for that service or to an allowance from the state system, based on service which was credited to him or her under the discontinued plan. The balance of the assets held in the various funds of the discontinued district retirement plan after the transfers, deposits, and payments required by this section, or after establishment of reserves from which the transfers, deposits, and payments shall be made, shall be delivered to the district or districts in which the plan is discontinued.

(d) The district or districts in which the district retirement plan is discontinued shall pay monthly to teachers and other persons employed by the district or districts, prior to retirement, in a status requisite for membership in the State Teachers' Retirement System who were retired prior to the date of the discontinuance an amount equal to the amount by which the retirement allowance to which any of the retired teachers or other persons was entitled under the plan exceeds the increase in the teacher's or other person's retirement allowance under the State Teachers' Retirement System resulting from the discontinuance. If the amount payable to any teacher or other person, under the sentence next preceding, is less than two dollars ($2), the district or districts may pay, in lieu of that amount, one amount which shall be actuarially equivalent to the monthly amount thereafter payable, according to the interest rate and mortality table used in the determination of the teacher's or other person's retirement allowance under the district retirement plan. The payment of the actuarially equivalent amount shall discharge fully the district's liability to the teacher or other person under this subdivision. The arrangement under which the amounts are paid by the district shall not be considered to be a local retirement system for the purposes of Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 22000) to Chapter 15 (commencing with Section 23400), inclusive, nor shall the amount be taken into account in the calculation of retirement allowances under the State Teachers' Retirement System. If any of the teachers or other persons is not entitled to a retirement allowance from the State Teachers' Retirement System, either before or after discontinuance, the district or districts shall pay monthly to him or her, an amount equal to his or her retirement allowance under the plan prior to the discontinuance. If any teacher or other person has left the service of the district or districts, and is in a status under the plan, which if continued would qualify him or her for a retirement allowance without his or her return to that service, but is in a status otherwise which would not qualify him or her for retirement under the state system, the district or districts shall pay monthly to the teacher or other person, beginning at the date upon which he or she would have qualified for service retirement under the plan, an amount equal to the retirement allowance for which he or she would have qualified if the plan had not been discontinued. If any teacher or other person has credit under the plan for service which does not qualify for credit under either the State Teachers' Retirement System or Public Employees' Retirement System, the district or districts shall pay monthly to the teacher or other person, beginning on the date upon which he or she would have qualified for service retirement under the plan, an amount equal to the retirement allowance for which he or she would have qualified on the basis of that service if the plan had not been discontinued. If the individual at a later date becomes entitled to a retirement allowance from the state system, based on service which was credited to him or her under the discontinued plan, the monthly payments shall cease, and he or she shall become subject forthwith to subdivision (c), and the first four sentences of this subdivision, in the same manner as he or she would have been subject, if he or she had been entitled to a retirement allowance at the date of discontinuance, but calculation of actuarial equivalents and amounts payable shall be made as of the later date.

(e) If any person who was retired prior to the discontinuance from a position requisite for membership in the State Teachers' Retirement System, under a district retirement salary plan which is discontinued pursuant to this section, elected either under the plan or under the system, but not under both, to have the retirement allowance modified according to an option under which he or she would receive a smaller allowance and provide a benefit for his or her beneficiary, the person shall have the right, to be exercised not later than 60 days after the discontinuance of the plan, to change his or her election under the State Teachers' Retirement System with respect to the options. Any computations of actuarial equivalent under a changed election shall be made as of the date of discontinuance of the plan, and no adjustment shall be included in the computation on account of retirement allowance payments made prior to that date.

SEC. 179. Section 24923 of the Education Code is amended to read:

24923. In lieu of the authorizations or requirements provided for in Sections 24920 and 24922, the plan may provide only that the retirement salary shall be based on service rendered prior to the effective date of the plan or prior to July 1, 1944, and shall be an amount which, when added to the retirement allowance the respective member is entitled to receive under the State Teachers' Retirement System, shall equal a sum of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) per month and Sections 24920 and 24922 shall not be applicable thereto. The costs of the benefits under such a plan may be met by the contributions of the districts alone, Sections 35161, 35162, Article 1 (commencing with Section 7000) of Chapter 1, Article 1 (commencing with Section 7100) of Chapter 2 of Part 5, Article 2 (commencing with Section 10010) of Chapter 1, Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10300) of Part 7, Article 1 (commencing with Section 12500) of Chapter 5 of Part 8, this part, Article 5 (commencing with Section 32340) of Chapter 3 of Part 19, and Part 25 (commencing with Section 44000) to the contrary notwithstanding, and only teachers who have credit for service rendered prior to said date shall be subject to the plan.

SEC. 180. Section 24924 of the Education Code is amended to read:

24924. (a) A plan established under this chapter which is intended to provide supplemental benefits only on account of service rendered before July 1, 1944, may be discontinued by the governing board of the district, subject to the following conditions:

(1) Notwithstanding Sections 35161, 35162, Article 1 (commencing with Section 7000) of Chapter 1, Article 1 (commencing with Section 7100) of Chapter 2 of Part 5, Article 2 (commencing with Section 10010) of Chapter 1, Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10300) of Part 7, Article 1 (commencing with Section 12500) of Chapter 5 of Part 8, this part, Article 5 (commencing with Section 32340) of Chapter 3 of Part 19, and Part 25 (commencing with Section 44000), any teacher who is not retired on July 1, 1956, shall be entitled to the contributions made by him or her to the discontinued plan with interest credited in accordance with the rules and regulations of the local retirement plan to and including June 30, 1957. Likewise, a teacher who retired prior to July 1, 1956, shall be entitled to a refund equal to the actuarial equivalent, at his or her attained age, of the annuity which would have been provided by the total contributions required of the member under the system, based on interest and mortality tables currently in use, less the amount of any contributions remaining unpaid on the date of discontinuance. The amount to which any teacher is entitled under this section shall be paid to him or her within 90 days of his or her request in writing on a form provided by and filed with the local retirement system. All requests shall be filed prior to July 1, 1959.

(2) The district in which the plan is discontinued shall pay monthly to teachers, who were retired prior to the date of the discontinuance, an amount equal to the amount by which the retirement allowance to which any said retired teacher was entitled under said plan exceeds the increase in said teacher's retirement allowance under the State Teachers' Retirement System after said discontinuance. In lieu of the monthly payment, the district may elect to pay in a single sum the amount which shall be the actuarial equivalent to the monthly amount thereafter payable, according to the interest rate and mortality table currently in use under said plan. Payment of the amount shall discharge fully the district's liability to the teacher under this subdivision. The arrangement under which the amounts are paid by said district shall not be considered to be a local retirement system for the purposes of Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 22000) to Chapter 27 (commencing with Section 24600), inclusive, nor shall said amount be taken into account in the calculation of the retirement allowances under the State Teachers' Retirement System.

(b) Any person who was retired prior to July 1, 1956, from a position requisite for membership in the State Teachers' Retirement System, under a district supplemental retirement salary plan which has been discontinued pursuant to this section, and elected either under said plan or under said system, but not under both, to have a portion of his or her retirement allowance modified according to an option under which he or she would receive a smaller allowance and provide for a benefit for his or her beneficiary, said person shall have the right, to be exercised not later than 60 days after July 5, 1956, to change his or her election under the State Teachers' Retirement System with respect to said options. Any computations of actuarial equivalents under a changed election shall be made as of the said effective date, and no adjustment shall be included in the computation on account of retirement allowance payments made prior to that date.

(c) When any local retirement plan is discontinued under this section, all funds remaining in the district retirement fund of the local system shall be transferred to the general fund of the school district in which the plan is discontinued. Thereafter any payments to meet continuing obligations of the district arising from the establishment or discontinuance of the plan shall be paid from the general fund of the district.

SEC. 180.5. Section 32033 of the Education Code, as amended by Section 1 of Chapter 1118 of the Statutes of 1987, is amended to read:

32033. The eye protective devices may be sold to the pupils and teachers at a price that shall not exceed the actual cost of the eye protective devices to the school or governing board.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1992, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 181. Section 32200 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 182. Section 32300 of the Education Code is amended to read:

32300. All printing or binding required by the Superintendent of Public Instruction or the State Board of Education, or by any educational institution, except the California Community Colleges and the University of California, supported entirely out of state funds, and all school registers and blank forms prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction for the use of officers charged with the administration of the laws relating to the public schools, including blank teachers' certificates, and diplomas of graduation from elementary schools in districts not governed by city boards of education, shall be performed by the Department of General Services in the form and manner and at the prices of other state printing, and be paid for in like manner.

SEC. 183. Section 32371 of the Education Code is amended to read:

32371. The following definitions govern the interpretation of this article:

(a) "Educational agency" means any school district, county office of education, or campus of the California State University and Colleges.

(b) "Paper recycling program" means, (1) the provision of specially marked containers which are intended to receive either all grades or only some grades of postconsumer wastepaper but which are not intended to receive other forms of postconsumer waste, (2) publicity directed at all persons who frequent buildings with the containers encouraging those persons to deposit wastepaper in the containers, and (3) the collection of all paper deposited in the containers for the purpose of recycling.

(c) "Postconsumer waste" means a finished material which would normally be disposed of as solid waste, having completed its life cycle as a consumer item.

(d) "Recycled paper" means all paper and woodpulp products with not less than 50 percent of its total weight consisting of secondary and postconsumer waste and with not less than 10 percent of its total weight consisting of postconsumer waste.

(e) "Secondary waste" means fragments of products or finished products of a manufacturing process which has converted a virgin resource into a commodity of real economic value, and includes postconsumer waste, but does not include mill broke, wood slabs, chips, sawdust, or other wood residue from a manufacturing process.

SEC. 184. Section 32372 of the Education Code is amended to read:

32372. (a) Each school district may, and is encouraged to, establish and maintain a paper recycling program in all classrooms, administrative offices, and other areas owned or leased by the school district where a significant quantity of wastepaper is generated or may be collected.

(b) Each campus of the California State University and Colleges may, and is encouraged to, establish and maintain a paper recycling program in administration offices and other areas owned or leased by the campus, including areas frequented by students, where a significant quantity of wastepaper is generated or may be collected.

(c) In establishing paper recycling programs, school districts, and campuses of the California State University and Colleges shall attempt to cooperate with existing paper recycling programs.

(d) Nothing in this article shall limit or supersede any other requirement of law imposing a paper recycling program on school districts or the California State University and Colleges.

SEC. 185. Section 33031 of the Education Code is amended to read:

33031. The board shall adopt rules and regulations not inconsistent with the laws of this state (a) for its own government, (b) for the government of its appointees and employees, (c) for the government of the day and evening elementary schools, the day and evening secondary schools, and the technical and vocational schools of the state, and (d) for the government of other schools, excepting the University of California, the California State University, and the California Community Colleges, as may receive in whole or in part financial support from the state.

The rules and regulations adopted shall be published for distribution as soon as practicable after adoption.

SEC. 186. Section 33113 of the Education Code is amended to read:

33113. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall prescribe regulations under which contracts, agreements, or arrangements may be made with agencies of the federal government for funds, services, commodities, or equipment to be made available to schools under the jurisdiction of the State Board of Education and the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

SEC. 187. Section 33117 of the Education Code is amended to read:

33117. The Director of Education may enter into agreements with agencies of the federal government, county superintendents of schools, county boards of education, any school district, and state college foundations or other auxiliary organizations, including those established pursuant to Section 90000 for the performance of any services for those agencies by any school under the jurisdiction of the State Department of Education. All money received under any agreement, except recovery of contributions to the Public Employees' Retirement Fund, is hereby appropriated for the support of the school in addition to other funds as may be appropriated therefor by the Legislature.

SEC. 188. Section 33117.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

33117.5. (a) Adult education programs and regional occupational programs operated by school districts and county offices of education that have contracted with the Superintendent of Public Instruction pursuant to subdivision (b) shall provide services to welfare recipients referred by county welfare departments in accordance with paragraph (6) of subdivision (b) of Section 11320.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. These services shall include an evaluation of the individual's educational and training needs for purposes of paragraph (6) of subdivision (b) of Section 11320.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and the preparation of a related education and training plan reflecting these needs. The plan shall specify the educational and training services to be provided and the length of time services are to be provided, and shall assure access to those services.

(b) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall identify school districts or county offices of education which can best accommodate welfare recipients for whom vocational education, adult education, and English as a second language is specified in contracts required by Sections 11320.4 and 11320.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. The superintendent shall enter into contracts with each consenting district or county office where necessary, so that the contracting district or county office shall provide open entry-open exit skills training and education for welfare recipients who need this training to enable counties to meet their goals for plans developed pursuant to Article 3.2 (commencing with Section 11320) of Chapter 2 of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(c) Allocations to the Superintendent of Public Instruction of funds available under Section 202(b)(1) of the federal Job Training Partnership Act shall be used for purposes of this section to the extent the superintendent determines necessary.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allocate these funds directly to those providers of educational and training services delivered in accordance with this section. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allocate to community college districts and the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges the funds as are determined necessary pursuant to Section 71050. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may allocate these funds to service delivery areas which have agreements with private schools and organizations to provide educational and training services under Article 3.2 (commencing with Section 11320) of Chapter 2 of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. These funds shall be allocated in accordance with the coordination criteria of the coordination and special services plan as provided in Section 10524 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, and according to the priority order of eligible persons for these funds as provided in Sections 15010 and 15011 of the Unemployment Insurance Code.

(4) A composite group of representative community college student organizations, as determined by the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges.

(c) Participating student organizations designated in subdivision (b) shall inform students within their respective segment of pending student vacancies on the commission.

(d) Any person appointed pursuant to subdivision (a) may be reappointed if the person is renominated pursuant to subdivision (b), but in no event shall the person be reappointed for more than two consecutive terms if the student is enrolled in the same postsecondary education segment as the one in which he or she was enrolled when first appointed.

(e) The person appointed as a student member of the Student Aid Commission pursuant to this section shall be subject to confirmation by the Senate as required in subdivision (d) of Section 69511.

SEC. 245. Section 69537 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69537. An individual selected for a Cal Grant A award who enrolls in a California community college may elect to have the award held in trust for him or her for a period not to exceed two academic years, except that the commission may extend the period in which his or her award may be held in trust for up to three academic years if, in the commission's judgment, the student's rate of academic progress has been as rapid as could be expected in light of the personal and financial conditions that the student has encountered. The commission shall, in that case, hold the award in trust, to be granted to the award winner upon receipt of his or her request therefor within that period, provided that at the time of making the request he or she meets all of the requirements of this chapter. Upon receipt of the request the commission shall assess or reassess the financial needs of the award winner. The commission may prescribe the forms and procedures to be utilized for the purposes of this section. The commission may award to another eligible individual any award being so held in trust, subject to this section and any other conditions and restrictions that may be imposed by the commission, to the end that all authorized awards are being continually utilized. Following the first year for which any Cal Grant award is made, the awards shall be included in the number of the continuing awards available for any year and not the authorized new awards for the year.

SEC. 246. Section 69640 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69640. It is the intent of the Legislature that the California

Community Colleges recognize the need and accept the responsibility for extending the opportunities for community college education to all who may profit therefrom regardless of economic, social, and educational status. It is the intent and purpose of the Legislature in establishing the Community College Extended Opportunity Programs and Services (EOPS) to encourage local community colleges to establish and implement programs directed to identifying those students affected by language, social, and economic handicaps, to increase the number of eligible EOPS students served, and to assist those students to achieve their educational objectives and goals, including, but not limited to, obtaining job skills, occupational certificates, or associate degrees, and transferring to four-year institutions.

The rules and regulations of the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges shall be consistent with this article. These rules and regulations, and EOPS, shall be consistent with all of the following goals:

(a) To increase the number and percentage of students enrolled in community colleges who are affected by language, social, and economic disadvantages, consistent with state and local matriculation policies.

(b) To increase the number and percentage of Extended Opportunity Programs and Services (EOPS) students who successfully complete their chosen educational objectives.

(c) To increase the number and percentage of EOPS students who are successfully placed into career employment.

(d) To increase the number and percentage of EOPS students who transfer to four-year institutions following completion of the related educational programs at community colleges.

(e) To strive to assist community colleges to meet student and employee affirmative action objectives.

(f) To improve the delivery of programs and sevices to the disadvantaged.

The Legislature further intends that EOPS shall not be viewed as the only means of providing services to nontraditional and disadvantaged students or of meeting student and employee affirmative action objectives.

The Legislature finds that the establishment and development of extended opportunity programs and services are essential to the conservation and development of the cultural, social, economic, intellectual, and vocational resources of the state.

SEC. 247. Section 69641 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69641. The Extended Opportunity Programs and Services (EOPS) provided by a community college district shall supplement the regular educational programs of the community college district to encourage the enrollment of students handicapped by language, social, and economic disadvantages, and to facilitate the successful completion of their educational goals and objectives. EOPS shall be provided by certificated directors and instructors, as well as by counselors and other support staff approved by the governing board of the community college district. Participation in an extended opportunity program or service shall not preclude participation in any other program offered by the community college district.

SEC. 248. Section 69641.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69641.5. The Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges shall consider adopting regulations which include all of the following objectives:

(a) That the Extended Opportunity Programs and Services provided by a community college shall include, but not be limited to, staff qualified to counsel all EOPS students regarding their individual educational objectives and the specific academic or vocational training program necessary to achieve those objectives, and that each EOPS student receives that counseling upon his or her initial enrollment in the community college, and at least every six months thereafter.

(b) That in assisting all EOPS students to identify their educational objectives, the Extended Opportunity Programs and Services provided by a community college identifies those students who want to transfer to a four-year institution, and those who have the potential to transfer successfully, and that the EOPS director at each community college disseminates the names and addresses of these potential transfer students to admissions staff at public universities throughout the state at least once a year.

(c) That the EOPS director at each community college shall work with other community college staff to encourage all interested EOPS students to enroll in existing community college classes designed to develop skills necessary for successful study at a university, including, but not limited to, time management, research and study skills, classroom note-taking skills, and writing skills, and that these classes be developed if they are not already established.

SEC. 249. Section 69642 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69642. Definitions:

(a) "Extended opportunity program" means a special program or method of instruction designed to facilitate the language, educational, or social development of a student and increase his or her potential for success in the college.

(b) "Extended opportunity services" means a program of assistance designed to aid students with socioeconomic handicaps to permit them to enroll in and participate in the educational activities of the college, and to progress toward completing their educational goals and objectives, including, but not limited to, graduation from college.

SEC. 250. Section 69643 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69643. (a) There is in the state government the Advisory Committee on Extended Opportunity Programs and Services. It shall be comprised of nine members appointed by the board, two members appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly and two members appointed to the Senate Committee on Rules. The nine members appointed by the board shall serve for four-year terms, except the first term of each shall be determined by lot at the first meeting of the board. Three shall serve for four years, three shall serve for three years, and three shall serve for two years. The two members appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly and the two members appointed by the Senate Committee on Rules shall serve at the pleasure of the respective appointing powers.

(b) The chairperson and vice chairperson of the committee shall be designated by the board from among the members appointed by the board.

(c) The members of the committee shall serve without compensation, but shall be reimbursed for necessary traveling and other expenses incurred in performing their duties and responsibilities.

(d) The committee shall serve as an advisory body to the board, shall formulate and present policy recommendations as it determines will effect statewide establishment and conduct of community college programs of extended opportunities and services, shall review annually and report to the board the progress made under this article with the California Community Colleges toward the extension of educational opportunities for all students who may profit from instruction, and make other recommendations to implement this article. The Chancellor of the California Community Colleges shall be executive secretary of the committee, shall report to the board on the actions of the committee, and, at the recommendation of the committee and its direction, shall make recommendations to the board pursuant to this article.

(e) All meetings of the committee shall be open and public, and all persons shall be permitted to attend any meeting of the committee.

SEC. 251. Section 69644 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 252. Section 69645 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 253. Section 69646 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 254. Section 69647 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 255. Section 69648 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69648. By January 1, 1986, the board shall adopt rules and regulations necessary to implement this article, including rules and regulations which do all of the following:

(a) Prescribe the procedure by which a district shall identify a student eligible for extended opportunity programs or services on the basis of the student's language, social, or economic disadvantages.

(b) Establish minimum standards for the establishment and conduct of extended opportunity programs and services. The standards may include, but shall not be limited to, guidelines for all of the following:

(1) The provision of staffing and program management.

(2) The establishment of a documentation and data collection system.

(3) The establishment of an EOPS advisory committee.

(4) The provision of recruitment and outreach services.

(5) The provision of cognitive and noncognitive assessment, advising, and orientation services.

(6) The provision of college registration.

(7) The provision of basic skills instruction, seminars, and tutorial assistance.

(8) The provision of counseling and retention services.

(9) The provision of transfer services.

(10) The provision of direct aid.

(11) The establishment of objectives to achieve the goals specified in Section 69640, and objectives to be applied in implementing extended opportunity programs and services.

(c) Subject to approval of the chancellor, establish procedures for the review and evaluation of the districts' extended opportunity programs and services.

(d) Require the submission of the reports by districts that will permit the evaluation of the program and services offered.

SEC. 256. Section 69648.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69648.5. The board of governors may use up to 1 percent of the funds appropriated for the EOPS program by the annual Budget Act to monitor program activities and to conduct the evaluation of EOPS offered by districts.

SEC. 257. Section 69648.7 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 258. Section 69649 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69649. (a) The governing board of a community college district may, with the approval of the board, establish an extended opportunity program.

Except as provided in subdivision (b), in order to be eligible to receive state funding, the program shall meet the minimum standards established pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 69648.

(b) The board of governors may waive any or all of the minimum standards established pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 69648 if the board of governors determines that unusual circumstances which merit a waiver exist.

SEC. 260. Section 69653 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69653. Applications shall be subject to the approval of the board. Upon approval by the board, it shall certify an apportionment or apportionments to the Controller. The Controller shall draw warrants on the State Treasury in the amounts certified in favor of the governing board of the community college district which has jurisdiction over the applicant district in accordance with a schedule of payments established by the board and approved by the Department of Finance.

SEC. 261. Section 69655 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69655. (a) Pursuant to Section 69648, the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges shall determine the elements of a statewide data base for the Community College Extended Opportunity Programs and Services, which shall be used for periodic evaluation of the programs and services. The data base shall include all information necessary to demonstrate the statewide progress towards achieving the program goals identified in Section 69640, and program objectives adopted pursuant to Section 69648 including, but not limited to, all of the following:

(1) The annual number of extended opportunity programs and services (EOPS) students and non-EOPS students who complete degree or certificate programs, transfer programs, or other programs, as determined by state and local matriculation policies.

(2) The annual number of EOPS and non-EOPS students who transfer to institutions which award the baccalaureate degree. In implementing this paragraph, the board of governors shall work in cooperation with the California Postsecondary Education Commission, the President of the University of California, the Chancellor of the California State University, and the Association of Independent Colleges and Universities to establish methods for obtaining the necessary data.

(3) The annual number of EOPS and non-EOPS students completing occupational programs who find career employment.

In implementing this paragraph, the board of governors shall integrate the data collection with existing data collection requirements pertaining to vocational education.

(b) Beginning in January 1987 the board of governors shall annually report to the Legislature regarding the number of students served by the Community College Extended Opportunity Programs and Services and the number of EOPS students who achieve their educational objectives.

SEC. 262. Section 69657 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 263. Section 71004 of the Education Code is amended to read:

71004. Members of the board shall receive their actual and necessary traveling expenses while on official business. Each member shall also receive one hundred dollars ($100) for each day he or she is attending to official business. The headquarters of the board and the chief executive officer shall be in Sacramento.

SEC. 264. Section 71005 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 265. Section 71020 of the Education Code is amended to read:

71020. The board of governors shall develop and submit to the Governor, every three years, commencing July 1, 1989, a diversity paper concerning its own membership, providing the board's assessment of its role in statewide representation of minorities, women, and the disabled.

SEC. 266. Section 71025 is added to the Education Code, to read:

71025. (a) The name "California Community Colleges" is the property of the state. No person shall, without permission of the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, use this name, or any abbreviation of it, or any name of which these words are a part in any of the following ways:

(1) To designate any business, social, political, religious, or other organization, including but not limited to, any corporation, firm, partnership, association, group, activity or enterprise.

(2) To imply, indicate or otherwise suggest that any organization, or any product or service of that organization, is connected or affiliated with, or is endorsed, favored or supported by, or is opposed by one or more California Community Colleges, the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, or the office of the Chancellor of the California Community Colleges.

(3) To display, advertise, or announce these names publicly at or in connection with any meeting, assembly, or demonstration, or any propaganda, advertising or promotional activity of any kind which has for its purpose or any part of its purpose the support, endorsement, advancement, opposition or defeat of any strike, lockout, or boycott or of any political, religious, sociological, or economic movement, activity or program.

The provisions of this section shall not preclude the use of the name "California Community Colleges" by any person or organization otherwise subject to this section using the name immediately prior to March 4, 1972.

(b) Nothing in this section shall interfere with or restrict the right of any person to make a true and accurate statement in the course of stating his or her experience or qualifications for any academic, governmental, business, or professional credit or enrollment, or in connection with any academic, governmental, professional or other employment whatsoever.

(c) Every person violating provisions of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 267. Section 71027.5 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 267.5. Section 71028 is added to the Education Code, to read:

71028. (a) The board of governors shall adopt regulations to ensure that the California Community Colleges, as a system, establish and apply the statewide participation goals for contracting with minority business enterprises and women business enterprises specified in Section 10115 of the Public Contract Code. The statewide participation goal for the California Community Colleges shall be based upon the total dollar amount of contracts awarded, with not less than 15 percent being awarded to minority business enterprises, and not less than 5 percent being awarded to women business enterprises. The regulations adopted by the board of governors shall be adapted from and consistent with the provisions of Article 1.5 (commencing with Section 10115) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of the Public Contract Code.

(b) On January 1 of each year, the board of governors shall report to the Legislature and the Governor on the level of participation by minority and women business enterprises in contracts awarded by the California Community Colleges as a system and by individual community college districts.

SEC. 274. Section 71042 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 275. Section 71046 of the Education Code is amended to read:

71046. The Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges may accept on behalf of, and in the name of, the state gifts, donations, bequests, and devises that may be made to the board of governors, or to any school or other institution under the jurisdiction of the board of governors whenever the gift, donation, bequest, or devise and the terms and conditions thereof, will aid the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges in carrying out its primary functions, as specified in Sections 70900 to 70902, inclusive. Gifts, donations, bequests, and devises may be made subject to the conditions or restrictions as the board of governors may deem advisable.

SEC. 276. Section 71047 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 277. Section 71048 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 279. Section 71050 of the Education Code is amended to read:

71050. The Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges shall survey local community college districts to determine the level and type of services needed and available for welfare recipients pursuant to Article 3.2 (commencing with Section 11320) of Chapter 2 of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. The Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges shall develop a plan and standards for the level of participation by community college districts required to meet the goal of providing open entry/open exit education, skills training, assessment, and counseling to these recipients. The plan shall provide for local in-service training and technical assistance to community college districts in development of contracts and programs in cooperation with county welfare agencies, service delivery areas under the Job Training Partnership Act, and others necessary to carry out the intent of that article. The plan shall also provide for the identification of necessary funding levels and sources of funding, including employer-based training and funds available under Section 202(b)(1) of the Job Training Partnership Act, to meet the goals of Article 3.2 (commencing with Section 11320) of Chapter 2 of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and the development and implementation of monitoring and reporting tools for the continued participation of community college districts in the provision of services under contracts required by that article.

SEC. 280. Article 3 (commencing with Section 71060) of Chapter 1 of Part 44 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 281. Section 71090 of the Education Code is amended to read:

71090. (a) The board shall appoint a chief executive officer, to be known as the Chancellor of the California Community Colleges, and fix his or her compensation.

(b) The chancellor shall execute the duties and responsibilities as may be delegated to him or her by the board. Whenever in this code a power is vested in the board, the board, by a majority vote, may adopt a rule delegating that power to the chancellor or any officer, employee, or committee as the board may designate. The rule shall prescribe the limits of the delegation.

SEC. 282. Section 71092 of the Education Code is amended to read:

71092. The board of governors shall employ and fix the compensation, in accordance with law, of assistants, clerical, and other employees as he or she may deem necessary for the effective conduct of the work of the board and the chancellor's office.

SEC. 283. Section 71093 of the Education Code is amended to read:

71093. The board of governors may purchase annuity contracts for its permanent employees and shall reduce the salary of an employee for whom a contract is purchased by the amount of the cost thereof provided that all of the following conditions are met:

(a) The annuity contract is under an annuity plan which meets the requirements of Section 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and Section 17512 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(b) The employee makes application to the board of governors for the purchase and reduction of salary.

(c) All provisions of the Insurance Code and the Government Code applicable to the purchase of the annuities are satisfied.

SEC. 284. Section 71095 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 285. Section 71096 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 286. Section 71097 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 287. Section 72000 of the Education Code is amended to read:

72000. (a) The district and its governing board may sue and be sued, and shall act in accordance with Section 70902.

(b) The district name shall be adopted and changed as follows:

(1) The first governing board of any new community college district shall, at the first meeting of the board or as soon as practicable thereafter, name the district. The district shall be designated as the "_____ Community College District."

(2) The governing board of a community college district may, by resolution, change the name of the district or of any of the community colleges maintained by the district. However, the name shall continue to contain the words "Community College District" or "Community College," as appropriate.

(3) Whenever a petition is presented to the governing board of a community college district, signed by at least 15 qualified electors of any community college district, asking that the name of the district, be changed, the governing board shall, at its next regular meeting, designate a day upon which it will conduct a hearing and act upon the petition, which hearing shall not be less than 10 days nor more than 40 days after that regular meeting. The clerk of the governing board shall give notice to all interested parties by sending a notice of the time for the hearing of the petition. Notices shall be mailed at least 10 days before the day set for the hearing. At the hearing the board shall by resolution either grant or deny the petition, and if the petition is granted, the clerk shall notify the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges of the change of the name of the district or of any community college maintained by the district.

(4) The name "_____ Community College District" and the names of community colleges maintained by the district are the property of the district. No person shall, without permission of the board, use these names, or any abbreviation of them, or any name of which these words are a part in any of the following ways:

(A) To designate any business, social, political, religious, or other organization, including, but not limited to, any corporation, firm, partnership, association, group, activity or enterprise.

(B) To imply, indicate or otherwise suggest that any organization, or any product or service of the organization is connected or affiliated with, or is endorsed, favored or supported by, or is opposed by one or more California community colleges, the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, or the office of the Chancellor of the California Community Colleges.

(C) To display, advertise, or announce these names publicly at or in connection with any meeting, assembly, or demonstration, or any propaganda, advertising or promotional activity of any kind which has for its purpose or any part of its purpose the support, endorsement, advancement, opposition or defeat of any strike, lockout, or boycott or of any political, religious, sociological, or economic movement, activity or program.

(D) The provisions of this section shall not preclude the use of the name "_____ Community College" or "_____ Community College District" by any person or organization otherwise subject to this section using the name immediately prior to the effective date of this section, so long as the name is not used in additional, different ways.

(E) Nothing in this section shall interfere with or restrict the right of any person to make a true and accurate statement in the course of stating his or her experience or qualifications for any academic, governmental, business, or professional credit or enrollment, or in connection with any academic, governmental, professional or other employment whatsoever.

(5) Any reference to junior colleges or junior college districts in any law shall be deemed to refer to community colleges and community college districts, respectively.

(c) Meetings of the governing board shall be held as follows:

(1) Within 20 days after the appointment of the community college board provided for by Section 72023, the board of governors shall call an initial organizational meeting of the board by giving at least 10 days' notice by registered mail to each member, for the purposes of organizing the community college board.

At the initial organizational meeting the community college board shall organize by electing a president from its members and a secretary, and may transact any other business relating to the affairs of the community college district.

(2) (A) The governing board of each community college district shall hold an annual organizational meeting. In a year in which a regular election for governing board members is conducted, the meeting shall be held on a day within a 15-day period that commences with the date upon which a governing board member elected at that election takes office. Organizational meetings in years in which no regular election for governing board members is conducted shall be held during the same 15-day period on the calendar. Unless otherwise provided by rule of the governing board, the day and time of the annual meeting shall be selected by the board at its regular meeting held immediately prior to the first day of such 15-day period, and the board shall notify the county superintendent of schools of the day and time selected. The secretary of the board shall, within 15 days prior to the date of the annual meeting, notify in writing all members and members-elect of the date and time selected for the meeting.

(B) If the board fails to select a day and time for the meeting, the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the district shall, prior to the first day of such 15-day period and after the regular meeting of the board held immediately prior to the first day of the 15-day period, designate the day and time of the annual meeting. The day designated shall be within the 15-day period. He or she shall notify in writing all members and members-elect of the date and time.

(C) At the annual meeting, the governing board of the community college district shall organize by electing a president, from its members, and a secretary.

(3) As an alternative to the procedures set forth in paragraph (2), in a community college district the boundaries of which are coterminous with the boundaries of a city and county, the governing board members of which district are elected in accordance with a city and county charter, the annual organizational meeting of the governing board may be held between January 8 and January 31, inclusive, as provided in rules and regulations adopted by the board. At the annual organizational meeting the community college district governing board shall organize by electing a president and vice president from its members.

(4) Subject to this section, the governing board of any community college district shall hold regular monthly meetings and shall by rule and regulation fix the time and place for its regular meetings. The action shall be given proper notice to all members of the board of the regular meetings.

(d) The governing board shall conduct its meetings as follows:

(1) A notice identifying the location, date, and time of the meeting shall be posted in each community college maintained by the district at least 10 days prior to the meeting and shall remain so posted to and including the time of the meeting.

(2) The community college board shall meet in a public building which is owned or leased by the community college district, or if in the judgment of the governing board, the interests of the district may be better served by holding its meetings elsewhere, it may meet at such other place in the community college district, high school districts, unified districts, or any combination thereof served by such community college district as it may by resolution determine.

(3) Except as otherwise provided by law, the governing board shall act by majority vote of all of the membership constituting the governing board.

(4) Every official action taken by the governing board of every community college district shall be affirmed by a formal vote of the members of the board, and the governing board of every community college district shall keep minutes of its meetings, and shall maintain a journal of its proceedings in which shall be recorded every official act taken.

(5) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, if a community college district governing board consists of seven members and not more than two vacancies occur on the governing board, the vacant position or positions shall not be counted for purposes of determining how many members of the board constitute a majority. Whenever any of the provisions of this code require unanimous action of all or a specific number of the members elected or appointed to the governing board, the vacant position or positions shall be excluded from determination of the total membership constituting the governing board.

SEC. 287.5. Section 72001 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 288. Section 72002 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 288.5. Section 72013 is added to the Education Code, to read:

72013. With respect to access to community college district services, classes, and programs, and with respect to all references within this division, "handicap" and "disability" shall have the same meaning.

SEC. 289. Section 72014 is added to the Education Code, to read:

72014. No funds under the control of a community college district shall ever be used for membership or for any participation involving a financial payment or contribution, on behalf of the district or any individual employed by or associated therewith, in any private organization whose membership practices are discriminatory on the basis of race, creed, color, sex, religion, or national origin. This section does not apply to any public funds which have been paid to an individual officer or employee of the district as salary, or to any funds which are used directly or indirectly for the benefit of student organizations.

SEC. 289.5. Section 72015 is added to the Education Code, to read:

72015. (a) It is the policy of the state that community college classes and courses, including nonacademic and elective classes and courses, shall be conducted without regard to the sex of the student enrolled in these classes and courses.

(b) No community college district shall prohibit any student from enrolling in any class or course on the basis of the sex of the student.

(c) No community college district shall require students of one sex to enroll in a particular class or course, unless the same class or course is also required of students of the opposite sex.

(d) No school counselor, teacher, instructor, administrator, or aide shall, on the basis of the sex of a student, offer vocational or school program guidance to students of one sex which is different from that offered to students of the opposite sex or, in counseling students, differentiate career, vocational or higher education opportunities on the basis of the sex of the student counseled. Any school personnel acting in a career counseling or course selection capacity to any pupil shall affirmatively explore with the pupil the possibility of careers, or courses leading to careers, that are nontraditional for that pupil's sex.

(e) Participation in a particular physical education activity or sport, if required of students of one sex, shall be available to students of each sex.

(f) The Legislature finds and declares that female students are not accorded opportunities for participation in community college athletic programs equal to those accorded male students. It is the intent of the Legislature that opportunities for participation in community college athletics be provided equally to male and female students and on an equitable basis to all students.

(g) Insofar as practicable, in apportioning public funds, community college district governing boards shall apportion amounts available for athletics to ensure that equitable amounts will be allocated for all students, except that allowances may be made for differences in the costs of various athletic programs. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, no public funds shall be used in connection with any athletic program conducted under the auspices of the governing board of a community college district, or any student organization within the district, which does not provide equal opportunity to both sexes for participation and for use of facilities. Facilities and opportunities for participation shall include, but are not limited to, equipment and supplies, scheduling of games and practice time, compensation for coaches, travel arrangements, per diem, locker rooms, and medical services.

(h) It is the further intent of the Legislature that females be given the same opportunity to participate in athletics and compete with other females in individual and team sports as is available to males who compete with other males in individual and team sports. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require a community college to require competition between male and female students in school-sponsored athletic programs.

SEC. 290. Section 72020 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 291. Section 72021 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 292. Section 72023.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

72023.5. (a) The governing board of each community college district shall order the inclusion within the membership of the governing board, in addition to the number of members otherwise prescribed, one or more nonvoting students who are residents of the district. These students shall have the right to attend each and all meetings of the governing board, except that student members shall not have the right, or be afforded the opportunity, to attend executive sessions of the governing board.

The students selected to serve on the governing board, in addition to being residents of the district, shall be enrolled in a community college of the district and shall be chosen, and shall be recalled, by the students enrolled in the community colleges of the district in accordance with procedures prescribed by the governing board. A student member shall be required throughout the term of his or her appointment to be enrolled in a community college of the district for at least five semester units, or its equivalent, and shall meet and maintain the minimum standards of scholarship for community college students prescribed by the community college district. The term of the student members shall be one year commencing on June 1 of each year.

The nonvoting student members appointed pursuant to this section shall be entitled to the mileage allowance prescribed by Section 72123 to the same extent as regular members, but are not entitled to the compensation prescribed by Section 72425.

A nonvoting student member shall be seated with the members of the governing board and shall be recognized as a full member of the board at the meetings, including receiving all materials presented to the board members and participating in the questioning of witnesses and the discussion of issues.

The nonvoting student member shall not be included in determining the vote required to carry any measure before the board.

The nonvoting student member shall not be liable for any acts of the governing board.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (a), the student member or members selected to serve on the governing board of a community college district pursuant to subdivision (a) may do any of the following:

(1) Make and second motions at the discretion of the governing board.

(2) Attend closed sessions, other than closed sessions on personnel matters or collective bargaining matters, at the discretion of the governing board.

(3) Receive compensation, at the discretion of the governing board, up to the amount prescribed by Section 72425.

(4) Serve a term commencing on July 1, 1981, and ending on May 15, 1982, and serve a term of one year commencing on May 15, 1982, and May 15 of each year thereafter, at the discretion of the governing board.

(c) It is the intent of the Legislature that any decision or action, including any contract entered into pursuant thereto, upon the motion or second of a motion of a student member, shall be fully legal and enforceable against the district or any party thereto.

(d) The governing board of each community college district which affords the student member or members of the board any of the privileges enumerated in subdivision (b) shall, by May 15 of each year, adopt rules and regulations implementing this section. These rules and regulations shall be effective until May 15 of the following year.

SEC. 295. Section 72025 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 296. Section 72027 of the Education Code is amended to read:

72027. (a) Upon the formation of a community college district the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction shall call and set the date of an election for the purpose of electing the governing board of the district. The call shall be issued not later than 30 days after the formation of the district. The election shall be called, held, and conducted as are elections for members of governing boards of elementary school districts.

(b) The first members of the governing board shall take office on the third Monday following their election. The term of office of subsequent members of the board shall begin on the last Friday in November following their election.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction may call and set the date for an election for the purpose of electing the governing board of the district on the same date that the election is held for the formation of the community college district. The call for both elections shall be issued at the same time. The election shall be called, held, and conducted the same as elections for members of the governing boards of elementary school districts.

(d) The majority of the members of the first elected board of any newly formed community college district, the members of which majority received the highest number of votes, shall serve until the last Friday in November of the second succeeding odd-numbered year. The terms of the other members shall expire on the last Friday in November of the first succeeding odd-numbered year. Those members shall continue in office until their successors are elected and qualified.

SEC. 299. Section 72030 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 299.3. Section 72031 of the Education Code is amended to read:

72031. The provisions of this section shall apply only to the Los Angeles Community College District.

(a) Whenever in this code a section refers to a district, or to two or more districts, governed by a single governing board, or by governing boards of identical personnel, or to a district or districts in which the average daily attendance is in excess of 400,000, or makes a similar reference, all provisions of the section shall apply with equal force to both the city school district and community college district.

(b) Members of the governing board of the Los Angeles Community College District shall be elected at large in the manner established by Chapter 62 of the Statutes of 1968.

SEC. 300. Section 72032 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 301. Section 72033 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 304. Section 72102 of the Education Code is amended to read:

72102. When a member of the governing board of a community college district which is being reorganized and which will cease to exist takes office as a member of the initial or interim governing board of a newly formed community college district, he or she shall cease to be a member of the governing board of the district being reorganized.

The governing board of a community college district which is being reorganized shall then appoint another person who is eligible to serve on the governing board of the district being reorganized to the vacant position for the duration of the existence of the district being reorganized, but in no case for longer than 12 months.

SEC. 305. Section 72120 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 307. Section 72122 of the Education Code is amended to read:

72122. The governing board of a community college district shall, unless a request by the student has been made pursuant to this section, hold closed sessions if the board is considering the suspension of, or disciplinary action or any other action in connection with any student of the community college district, if a public hearing upon the question would lead to the giving out of information concerning students which would be in violation of state or federal law regarding the privacy of student records.

Before calling a closed session of the governing board of the district to consider these matters, the governing board of the district shall, in writing, by registered or certified mail or by personal service, if the student is a minor, notify the student and his or her parent or guardian, or the student if the student is an adult, of the intent of the governing board of the district to call and hold the closed session. Unless the student, or his or her parent, or guardian shall, in writing, within 48 hours after receipt of the written notice of intention, request that the hearing of the governing board be held as a public meeting, then the hearing to consider those matters shall be conducted by the governing board in closed session. If the written request is served upon the clerk or secretary of the governing board, the meeting shall be public except that any discussion at the meeting that might be in conflict with the right to privacy of any student other than the student requesting the public meeting or on behalf of whom the meeting is requested, shall be in closed session. Whether the matter is considered at a closed session or at a public meeting, the final action of the governing board of the community college district shall be taken at a public meeting and the result of that action shall be a public record of the community college district.

The governing board of a community college district may hold closed sessions to consider the conferring of honorary degrees or to consider gifts from a donor who wants to remain anonymous.

SEC. 318. Section 72237 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 318.5. Section 72241 of the Education Code is amended to read:

72241. In no event shall the approval of any state agency be a prerequisite to acceptance by the governing board of any community college district of a gift, donation, bequest, or devise. No real or personal property, including money, accepted by a governing board pursuant to this section shall be considered in determining the eligibility of the district for an apportionment from the State School Fund nor in determining the amount thereof.

SEC. 319. Section 72241.5 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 320. Section 72243 is added to the Education Code, to read:

72243. Except as provided in Section 3074.7 of the Labor Code, no charges or fees shall be required to be paid by a resident or nonresident apprentice, or by his or her parent or guardian, for admission or attendance in any course of activity which is offered pursuant to Section 3074 of the Labor Code in accordance with the instructional hours requirements specified in subdivision (d) of Section 3078 of the Labor Code.

SEC. 321. Section 72244 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 322. Section 72247 of the Education Code is amended to read:

72247. (a) The governing board of a community college district may require of students in attendance and employees of the district, the payment of a fee, in an amount not to exceed forty dollars ($40) per semester and twenty dollars ($20) per intersession to be fixed by the board, for parking services.

To encourage ridesharing and carpooling, for a student who certifies, in accordance with procedures fixed by the board, that he or she regularly has two or more passengers commuting to the community college with him or her in the vehicle parked at the community college, the fee shall not exceed thirty dollars ($30) per semester and ten dollars ($10) per intersession.

The fee shall only be required of students and employees using parking services. Students who receive financial assistance pursuant to any of the programs described in subdivision (g) of Section 72252 shall be exempt from parking fees in excess of twenty dollars ($20) per semester.

(b) The governing board of a community college district may also require the payment of a fee, to be fixed by the governing board, for the use of parking services by persons other than students and employees.

(c) All parking fees collected shall be deposited in the designated fund of the district in accordance with the California Community Colleges Budget and Accounting Manual and shall be expended only for parking services or for purposes of reducing the costs to students and employees of the college of using public transportation to and from the college.

Fees collected for use of parking services provided for by investment of student body funds under the authority of Section 76064 shall be deposited in a designated fund in accordance with the California Community Colleges Budget and Accounting Manual for repayment to the student organization.

"Parking services," as used in this section, means the purchase, construction, and operation and maintenance of parking facilities for vehicles and motor vehicles as defined by Sections 415 and 670 of the Vehicle Code, and the reduction of costs to students and employees of using public transportation to and from the college.

In no event may the fee required pursuant to this section exceed the actual cost of providing parking services.

(d) The governing board of a community college district may require of students in attendance and employees at a campus of the district the payment of a fee for purposes of reducing fares for services provided by common carriers or municipally owned transit systems to these students and employees, as provided in subdivision (e).

(e) Fees authorized by subdivision (d) for transportation services may be required only of students and employees using the services, or, in the alternative, of either of the following groups of people:

(1) Upon the favorable vote of a majority of the students and a majority of the employees of a campus of the district, voting at an election on the question of whether or not the governing board should require all students and employees at the campus to be assessed fees for transportation services for a two-year period, the fees may be required of all students and all employees of a campus of the community college district; or

(2) Upon the favorable vote of a majority of the students at a campus of the district voting at an election on the question of whether or not the governing board should require all students to be assessed fees for transportation services for a two-year period, the fees may be required of all students at the campus of the community college district. However, the employees shall not be entitled to use the services.

(f) In the event that fees are required to be assessed to all students and employees or all students as provided in paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (e) for a two-year period, those fees may be continued for additional two-year periods by the governing board maintaining the campus, upon the favorable vote of a majority of the students and a majority of the employees or, in the case of paragraph (2) of subdivision (e), upon the favorable vote of a majority of the students of the campus, voting in an election on the question of whether or not the required fees should be continued.

(g) If, pursuant to this section, a fee is required of students for transportation services, any fee required of a part-time student shall be a pro rata lesser amount than the fee charged to full-time students, depending on the number of units for which the part-time student is enrolled. In addition, a governing board maintaining transportation services shall adopt rules and regulations governing the exemption of low-income students from required fees, and may adopt rules and regulations that provide for the exemption of others.

(h) The total fees to be fixed by the governing board of a community college district pursuant to this section shall not exceed the amount prescribed in this section.

(i) No community college district shall increase its parking fees above forty dollars ($40) per year to an amount within an authorized level pursuant to this section until the board of trustees of the community college district has made sufficient findings that a fee increase is necessary. The findings shall be based, at a minimum, on all of the following:

(1) A community college's ability to adequately finance its parking program.

(2) A demonstration that the community college has exhaustively explored all other options for financing the parking program, including entering into arrangements with local governments.

(3) A demonstration that the community college actively promotes modes of public transportation.

SEC. 323. Section 72247.1 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 324. Section 72248 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 325. Section 72249 is added to the Education Code, to read:

72249. The board of governors shall adopt regulations regarding the authority of community college districts to require students to provide various types of instructional materials. These regulations shall reflect the intent of the Legislature that community college districts are not required to provide all materials, textbooks, equipment, and clothing necessary for each course and program. These regulations shall specify the conditions under which districts may require students to provide those materials which are of continuing value to the student outside of the classroom setting, including, but not limited to, textbooks, tools, equipment, clothing, and those materials which are necessary for the student's vocational training and employment. The regulations shall establish a process for monitoring district compliance with these regulations.

SEC. 326. Section 72253.3 is added to the Education Code, to read:

72253.3. If a student body association has been established at a community college, the governing body of the association may order that an election be held for the purpose of establishing a student representation fee of one dollar ($1) per semester. The election shall be held in compliance with regulations of the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges and shall be open to all regularly enrolled students of the community college. The affirmative vote of two-thirds of the students voting in the election shall be sufficient to establish the fee. However, the election shall not be sufficient to establish the fee unless the number of students who vote in the election equals or exceeds the average of the number of students who voted in the previous three student body association elections.

The student representation fee authorized by this section shall be collected by the officials of the community college, together with all other fees, at the time of registration or before registration and shall be deposited in a separate fiduciary fund established per the California Community Colleges Budget and Accounting Manual for student representation fees. The money collected pursuant to this section shall be expended to provide for the support of governmental affairs representatives who may be stating their positions and viewpoints before city, county, and district governments, and before offices and agencies of the state government. The chief fiscal officer of the community college shall have custody of the money collected pursuant to this section and the money shall be disbursed for the purposes described above upon the order of the governing body of the student body association. The district may retain a portion of the fees collected and deposited pursuant to this section that is equal to the actual cost of administering these fees up to, but not more than, 7 percent.

The student representation fee authorized by this section may be terminated by a majority vote of the students voting in an election held for that purpose. The election shall be called and held in compliance with regulations of the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges and shall be open to all regularly enrolled students of the community college.

A student may, for religious, political, financial, or moral reasons, refuse to pay the student representation fee established under this section. The refusal shall be submitted in writing to the college officials at the time the student pays other fees collected by the college officials. The refusal shall be submitted on the same form that is used for collection of fees as provided by the college, which, as determined by the college, shall be as nearly as practical in the same form as a model form prescribed by regulations of the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges.

SEC. 327. Section 72253.5 is added to the Education Code, to read:

72253.5. (a) An adult enrolled in a noncredit course shall not be required by the governing board of the district maintaining the class to pay nonresident tuition or any fee or charge of any kind for a class in English and citizenship for foreigners, a class in an elementary subject, a class designated by the governing board as a class for which high school credit is granted when the class is taken by a person who does not hold a high school diploma, or any class offered by a community college district pursuant to Section 8531, 8532, 8533, or 8534.

(b) The average daily attendance of adults in classes described in subdivision (a) shall be computed as prescribed by Section 84520 or 84524.5.

SEC. 328. Section 72253.7 is added to the Education Code, to read:

72253.7. A student enrolled in a class offered by a community college district which is not eligible for state apportionments may be required by the governing board of the district maintaining the class to pay a fee for the class. The total revenues derived from the fee shall not exceed the estimated cost of all of these classes maintained.

SEC. 345. Section 72423 of the Education Code is amended to read:

72423. The governing board of each community college district shall provide for the payment of the travel expenses of any representatives of the board when performing services directed by the board.

SEC. 346. Section 72500 of the Education Code is amended to read:

72500. The governing board of any community college district is liable in the name of the district for all debts and contracts, including the salary due any instructor not made in excess of the moneys accruing to the district and usable for the purposes of the debts and contracts during the college year for which the debts and contracts are made. The district shall not be liable for debts and contracts made in violation of this section.

For the purposes of this section, moneys transferred to the funds of a newly organized district pursuant to Section 85223 are deemed district moneys accruing to the district and usable for the purposes of contracts made for the college year preceding the date the district became effective for all purposes.

SEC. 347. Section 72506 of the Education Code is amended to read:

72506. (a) Action taken by any governing board of a community college district to procure insurance shall be governed by the authority of Section 70902 and, where applicable, by Sections 989 to 991.2, inclusive, of the Government Code. However, the governing board of any community college district shall ensure against all of the following:

(1) The liability, other than a liability which may be insured against under Division 4 (commencing with Section 3200) of the Labor Code, of the district for damages for death, injury to person, or damage or loss of property.

(2) The personal liability of the members of the board and of the officers and employees of the district for damages for death, injury to a person, or damage or loss of property caused by the negligent act or omission of the member, officer or employee when acting within the scope of his or her office or employment.

(b) The insurance may be written by any insurance company authorized to transact the business of insurance in the state, or by a nonadmitted insurer to the extent, and subject to the conditions, prescribed by Section 1763 of the Insurance Code.

(c) Notwithstanding paragraph (2) of subdivision (a), the governing board of any community college district may provide for persons authorized by the governing board to perform volunteer services for the district, insurance coverage which is the same as, or comparable to, that provided for employees of the district including coverage under Division 4 (commencing with Section 3200) of the Labor Code.

(d) The governing board of a community college district may provide protection from its own funds for the purpose of covering the liability of the district, its officers, agents, and employees, in lieu of carrying insurance in insurance companies, as provided in this section. The governing board may also provide protection against such liability partly by means of its own funds and partly by means of insurance written by insurance companies, as provided in this section.

SEC. 348. Section 72530 of the Education Code is amended to read:

72530. (a) The offering of any valuable thing to any member of the governing board of any community college district, with the intent to influence his or her action in regard to the granting of any instructor's certificate, the appointment of any instructor, superintendent, or other officer or employee, the adoption of any textbook, or the making of any contract to which the board of which he or she is a member is a party, or the acceptance by any member of the governing board of any valuable thing, with corrupt intent, is a misdemeanor.

(b) Any contract or appointment obtained from the governing board of any community college district by corrupt means is void.

SEC. 349. Section 72531 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 350. Section 72532 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 351. Article 1 (commencing with Section 72600) of Chapter 6 of Part 45 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 354. Article 4 (commencing with Section 72640) of Chapter 6 of Part 45 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 355. Article 5 (commencing with Section 72650) of Chapter 6 of Part 45 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 361. Section 74000 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74000. The Legislature hereby declares as its policy that all of the territory of the state shall be included within a community college district, except that territory located within a county where the county residents accounted for fewer than 350 units of average daily attendance in the state's community colleges during the preceding fiscal year. The territory located within such a county may be included within a community college district pursuant to the procedures prescribed by Article 2 (commencing with Section 74130) of Chapter 2.

SEC. 362. Section 74001 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74001. On and after January 1, 1983, the provisions of Article 1 (commencing with Section 4000) of Chapter 1 of Part 3 and Articles 2 and 3 (commencing with Section 35720) of Chapter 4 of Part 21 shall apply to actions to reorganize community college districts, as may be applicable, except that whenever any reference is made to the State Board of Education in those provisions the reference shall be deemed, for the purpose of community college district reorganization, to be the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges.

SEC. 363. Section 74010 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 364. Section 74011 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 371. Section 74104 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74104. Upon receipt of the petition, the county superintendent of schools shall transmit a copy of the petition to the board of governors. The county superintendent of schools, within 30 days after the petition for reorganization is filed, shall examine the petition and, if he or she finds it to be sufficient and signed as required by law, shall transmit the petition simultaneously to the county committee, the governing board of each affected district, and the board of governors.

Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, if the transfer involves a minor change in district boundaries, defined as a transfer of territory involving less than 5 percent of the adult population of the district from which the transfer is being made, the petition may be transmitted directly to the county board of supervisors by the county superintendent of schools, without submission to the county committee on school district organization. The procedure specified in this paragraph may not be utilized more than once every five years.

SEC. 372. Section 74105 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74105. Within 90 days after receipt of the petition, the county committee shall hold one or more public hearings on the petition at a regular or special meeting in each of the districts affected by the petition. Notice of the public hearing shall be given at least 10 days in advance of the date of the hearing to the chief petitioners, to the governing board of all districts affected by the proposed transfer, the board of governors and to all other persons requesting notice of the hearing.

SEC. 373. Section 74106 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74106. (a) The county committee may add to the petition any appropriate provisions which were not included in the petition as filed, and may amend any provision which was so included.

(b) At least 10 days before the public hearing on the petition, the county committee shall make available to the public, the governing boards affected by the petition, and the board of governors, a description of the petition and a report which includes a description or analysis of all the following:

(1) The rights of the employees in the affected districts to continued employment.

(2) The financial impact of the proposed change on each affected district.

(3) Whether the districts involved will be governed, in part, by provisions of a city charter and, if so, in what way.

(4) A description of the territory affected.

(5) A description of how the property, obligations, and bonded indebtedness of existing districts will be divided.

(6) Whether the reorganization will significantly affect racial or ethnic composition of districts.

(7) Determination of impact of proposed change upon boards of trustees.

(8) A draft statement of the terms of the agreement regarding all conditions of the transfer, when applicable, for consideration by governing boards of affected districts.

(9) Whether the change is compatible with the district master plan of the county.

SEC. 374. Section 74107 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74107. Within 90 days after affording the public an opportunity to comment on the petition, the report, and the recommendations included in the report, the county committee shall forward a copy of the petition and the report documents to each district governing board and the board of governors for review. No transfer shall be made unless a majority of the members of the governing board of the district to which the territory is to be transferred sign a statement agreeing to all conditions of the transfer at a public meeting conducted for that purpose. Upon completion of the public meeting, the receiving governing board shall return the petition and statement of agreement, together with a notice of action, to the county committee.

SEC. 376. Section 74109 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74109. Whenever a county committee approves a petition, within 10 days it shall transmit a copy of the approved petition, together with any related information or recommendations, to the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges for review.

SEC. 377. Section 74110 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74110. Whenever the county committee rejects a petition, it shall notify the chief petitioners and the board of governors of its action and provide in writing the basis for rejection.

The county committee need not accept a new petition on the same territory filed within 12 months of its decision.

SEC. 379. Section 74132 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74132. (a) A petition initiated under subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 74131 shall be filed with the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the nondistrict territory.

(b) A petition initiated under subdivision (c) of Section 74131 shall be filed with the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the territory in which the community college district is located.

SEC. 381. Section 74134 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74134. Upon receipt of the petition the county superintendent of schools shall transmit a copy of the petition to the board of governors. Within 30 days after the petition for reorganization is filed, the county superintendent shall examine the petition and, if he or she finds it to be sufficient and signed as required by law, shall transmit the petition simultaneously to each of the following:

(a) The governing board and district superintendent of each district affected by the proposed annexation.

(b) The county superintendent and county committee of each county which has jurisdiction over any district affected by the proposed annexation.

(c) The board of governors.

When applicable, Article 4 (commencing with Section 74180) shall also control.

SEC. 382. Section 74135 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74135. (a) The county committee may add to the petition any appropriate provisions which were not included in the petition as filed and may amend any provision which was so included.

(b) At least 10 days before the public hearing on the petition, the county committee shall make available to the public, to the governing boards affected by the petition, and to the board of governors a description of the petition and a report which includes a description or analysis of the impact of the proposed change upon the following:

(1) Funding of each affected unified or high school and community college district, including determination of level and sources of local property or special taxes to be levied for general purposes of the recipient community college district.

The property tax contribution to the district shall not be less than the proportion that the tax levied in the 1977–78 fiscal year in the territory affected pursuant to former Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 2100) of Part 2 bore to the total property tax levied in that territory in the 1977–78 fiscal year.

Alternative sources of local tax contribution to the recipient district, as may be permitted by law, shall be included in the committee's report.

(2) Existing property, obligations, and bonded indebtedness.

(3) Racial or ethnic composition of the recipient district.

(4) Governing board of recipient district.

(5) County district master plan.

(6) Any matter considered significant by the county committee.

SEC. 383. Section 74136 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74136. Within 90 days after affording the public an opportunity to comment on the petition, the report, and the recommendations included in the report, the county committee shall forward a copy of the petition and the report to each affected governing board and the board of governors for review.

SEC. 386. Section 74139 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74139. Whenever a county committee approves a petition, within 10 days it shall transmit a copy of the approved petition, together with any related information or recommendations, to the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges for review.

SEC. 387. Section 74140 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74140. Whenever a county committee rejects a petition, it shall notify the chief petitioners and the board of governors of its action and provide in writing the basis for rejection.

The county committee need not accept a new petition on the same territory filed within 12 months of its decision.

SEC. 390. Section 74153 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74153. Within 30 days after the petition to form a new district is filed, the county superintendent of schools shall examine the petition, and, if the board of governors finds it to be sufficient and signed as required by law, shall transmit the petition simultaneously to each of the following:

(a) The governing board of each component school district and community college district affected by the proposed formation.

(b) The county superintendent and county committee of each county which has jurisdiction over each component school district and community college district affected.

(c) The board of governors.

SEC. 391. Section 74154 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74154. (a) The county committee may add to the petition any appropriate provisions which were not included in the petition as filed and may amend any provision which was so included.

(b) At least 10 days before the public hearing on the petition, the county committee shall make available to the public, to the governing boards of districts affected by the petition, and to the board of governors a description of the petition and a report which includes a description or analysis of the impact of the proposed change on the following:

(1) Funding of each affected unified or high school and community college district, including a determination of the level and sources of local property or special taxes to be levied for general purposes of the proposed new community college district.

In those instances where the new district is formed exclusively within nondistrict territory, the property tax contribution to the new district shall not be less than the proportion that the tax levied in the 1977–78 fiscal year in the territory affected pursuant to former Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 2100) of Part 2 bore to the total property tax levied in that territory in 1977–78.

Alternative sources of local tax contribution to the recipient district, as may be permitted by law, shall be included in the committee's report.

(2) Property, obligations, and bonded indebtedness of the new district.

(3) Racial or ethnic composition of the recipient district.

(4) Governing board of the new district.

(5) County district master plan.

(6) Any matter considered significant by the county committee.

SEC. 392. Section 74155 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74155. Within 90 days after affording the public an opportunity to comment on the petition, the report, and the recommendations included in the report, a county committee shall forward a copy of the petition and the report to each affected governing board and the board of governors for review.

SEC. 395. Section 74158 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74158. Whenever a county committee approves a petition, within 10 days it shall transmit a copy of the approved petition, together with any related information or recommendations, to the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges for review.

SEC. 396. Section 74159 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74159. Whenever a county committee rejects a petition, it shall notify the chief petitioners and the board of governors of its action and provide in writing the basis for rejection.

The county committee need not accept a new petition on the same territory filed within 12 months of its decision.

SEC. 399. Section 74202 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74202. Upon receipt of an approved petition, the board of governors may make whatever inquiries or studies are necessary to validate information and recommendations submitted by the county committee prior to making a recommendation to the board of governors. When it is necessary for the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges to evaluate a reorganization proposal, each county superintendent of schools and every other county officer in the counties affected and the superintendents of the districts affected and the county committee shall provide the information required to complete the review.

SEC. 405. Section 74270 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74270. (a) The reorganization of any district or districts shall not affect the classification of certificated employees already employed by any district affected. Those employees shall have the same status with respect to their classification by the district, including time served as probationary employees of the district, after the reorganization as they had prior to it. If the reorganization results in the college or other place in which any such employee is employed being maintained by another district, the employee, if a permanent employee of the district which formerly maintained the college or other place of employment, shall be employed as a permanent employee of the district which thereafter maintains the college or other place of employment, unless the employee elects prior to February 1 of the year in which the action will become effective for all purposes to continue in the employ of the first district.

If the employee is a probationary employee of the district which formerly maintained the college or other place of employment, he or she shall be employed by the district which thereafter maintains the college or other place of employment, unless the probationary employee is terminated by the district pursuant to Section 87740 or 87741, and, if not so terminated, his or her status with respect to classification by that district shall be the same as it would have been had the college or other place of employment been continued to be maintained by the district which formerly maintained it. As used in this paragraph, "the college or other place in which any such employee is employed" and all references thereto, includes, but is not limited to, the services or program which, as a result of any reorganization of a district, will be provided by another district, regardless of whether any particular building or buildings in which that service or program was conducted is physically located in the new district and regardless of whether any new district resulting from the reorganization elects to provide for the education of its students by contracting with another school district until the time as the district constructs its own facilities.

(b) The reorganization of any district, or districts, shall not affect the rights of persons employed in positions not requiring certification qualifications to retain the salary, leaves and other benefits which they would have received if the reorganization had not occurred, and in the manner provided in this section:

(1) All employees of every district which is included in any other district shall become employees of the new district.

(2) When a portion of the territory of any district becomes part of another district, employees regularly assigned to perform their duties in the territory affected shall become employees of the acquiring district. Employees whose assignments pertained to the affected territory, but whose employment situs was not in the territory, may elect to remain with the original district or become employees of the acquiring district.

(3) When the territory of any district is divided between, or among, two or more districts and the original district ceases to exist, employees of the original district regularly assigned to perform their duties in any specific territory of the district shall become employees of the district acquiring the territory. Employees not assigned to specific territory within the original district shall become employees of any acquiring district at the election of the employees.

(4) Employees regularly assigned by the original district to any college in the district shall be employees of the district in which the college is located. Except as provided in this section, nothing in this section shall deprive the governing board of the acquiring district from making reasonable reassignments of duties.

SEC. 406. Section 74271 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 407. Section 74282 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 408. Section 74283 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 409. Section 74290 of the Education Code is amended to read:

74290. (a) This article shall apply only to the reallocation of bonded indebtedness incurred prior to July 1, 1978.

(b) When a district is reorganized, the liability for taxation for the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the district or the territory affected thereby is as provided in this article. The authorities whose duty it is to levy taxes for the payment of principal and interest on the outstanding bonds shall levy the taxes upon the districts affected in such proportions as are provided in, or are determined under, the authority of this article.

(c) No territory shall be taken from any district having any outstanding bonded indebtedness and made a part of another district where the action, if taken, would so reduce the last equalized assessed valuation of a district from which the territory was taken that the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the district would exceed 5 percent of the assessed valuation remaining in the district for the level maintained, on the date the reorganization is effective.

(d) When any district is in any manner merged with one or more districts so as to form a single district by any procedure, the district so formed is liable for all of the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the districts united or merged.

(e) When territory is taken from one district and transferred to another district and the area transferred contains no college property or buildings, the territory shall drop any liability for outstanding bonded indebtedness in the district of which it was formerly a part and shall automatically assume its proportionate share of the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the district of which it becomes a part.

(f) When territory is taken from one district and transferred to another district by any procedure and the area transferred contains college buildings or property, the district to which the territory is annexed shall take possession of the building and the equipment on the day when the annexation becomes effective for all purposes. The territory transferred shall cease to be liable for the bonded indebtedness of the district of which it was formerly a part and shall automatically assume its proportionate share of the outstanding bonded indebtedness of any district of which it becomes a part.

(g) The acquiring district shall pay the original district the greatest of the amounts determined under paragraph (1) or (2).

(1) The proportionate share of the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the original district, which proportionate share shall be in the ratio which the total assessed valuation of the transferring territory bears to the total assessed valuation of the original district in the year immediately preceding the date on which the annexation is effective for all purposes. This ratio shall be used each year until the bonded indebtedness for which the acquiring district is liable has been repaid.

(2) That portion of the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the original district which was incurred for the acquisition or improvement of school lots or buildings, or fixtures located therein, and situated in the territory transferred.

(h) The county board of supervisors shall compute for the reorganized districts an annual tax rate for bond interest and redemption which will include the bond interest and redemption on the outstanding bonded indebtedness specified in paragraph (1) or (2) of subdivision (g). The tax rate shall be levied in excess of any other ad valorem property tax authorized or required by law and shall not be included in the computation of the limitation specified in subdivision (a) or Section 1 of Article XIII A of the California Constitution.

SEC. 414. Section 74295 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 415. Section 76000 of the Education Code is amended to read:

76000. The governing board of a community college district shall admit to the community college any California resident, and may admit any nonresident, possessing a high school diploma or the equivalent thereof.

The governing board may admit to the community college any apprentice, as defined in Section 3077 of the Labor Code, who, in the judgment of the governing board, is capable of profiting from the instruction offered.

The governing board may by rule determine whether there shall be admitted to the community college any other person who is over 18 years of age and who, in the judgment of the board, is capable of profiting from the instruction offered. If the governing board determines to admit other persons, any such person shall be admitted as a provisional student and thereafter shall be required to comply with the rules and regulations prescribed by the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges pertaining to the scholastic achievement and other standards to be met by provisional or probationary students, as a condition to being readmitted in any succeeding semester. This paragraph shall not apply to persons in attendance in special classes and programs established for adults pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 78400) of Part 48, or to any persons attending on a part-time basis only.

SEC. 416. Section 76001 of the Education Code is amended to read:

76001. (a) The governing board of a community college district may admit to any community college under its jurisdiction as a special part-time student any student who is eligible to attend community college pursuant to Section 48800.

The attendance of a student at community college as a special part-time student pursuant to this section is authorized attendance, for which the community college shall be credited or reimbursed pursuant to Section 48802. Credit for courses completed shall be at the level determined to be appropriate by the school district and community college district governing boards.

For purposes of this section, a special part-time student may enroll in up to, and including, 12 units per semester, or the equivalent thereof, at the community college.

(b) The governing board of a community college district may admit to any community college under its jurisdiction as a special full-time student any student who is eligible to attend community college pursuant to Section 48800.5, and who, in the opinion of the college president, could benefit from the course or class.

The attendance of a student at a community college as a special full-time student pursuant to this section is authorized attendance, for which the community college shall be credited pursuant to Section 48800.5.

(c) The governing board of a community college district may admit to the summer session of any community college under its jurisdiction as a special student any student, with parental consent:

(1) Whose admission to summer session is recommended by the principal of the school which the student attends.

(2) Who has demonstrated adequate preparation in the discipline to be studied.

(3) Who has availed himself or herself of all opportunities to enroll in an equivalent course at his or her school of attendance.

(d) A principal may recommend a student as a special student pursuant to rules and regulations that may be adopted by the governing board of the school district. The principal of a school shall not recommend a number of students who have completed a particular grade in excess of 5 percent of the total number of students in the school who have completed that grade immediately prior to the time of recommendation.

(e) The attendance of a special summer session student at a community college pursuant to this section shall be credited to the district maintaining the community college for the purposes of allowances and apportionments from the State School Fund. The student shall receive credit for community college courses that he or she completes, in a manner determined to be appropriate by the governing boards of the school district and the community college district.

(f) Subdivisions (a) and (b) and Sections 48800 to 48802, inclusive, do not apply to the special students authorized to be admitted to a community college summer session pursuant to this section.

SEC. 447.5. Section 76403 of the Education Code is amended to read:

76403. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the governing board of any community college district shall cooperate with the local health officer in measures necessary for the prevention and control of communicable diseases in students.

(b) A registered nurse, acting under the direction of a supervising physician and surgeon, may perform immunization techniques within the course of a school immunization program provided that the administration of an immunizing agent is upon the standing orders of a supervising physician and surgeon and in accordance with written regulations which the State Department of Health Services may adopt pursuant to Section 303.5 of the Health and Safety Code.

(c) While nothing in this section shall be construed to require the physical presence of the supervising physician and surgeon, the supervising physician and surgeon under whose direction the registered nurse is acting shall require the nurse to:

(1) Satisfactorily demonstrate competence in the administration of immunizing agents, including knowledge of all indications and contraindications for the administration of these agents, and in the recognition and treatment of any emergency reactions to agents which constitute a danger to the health or life of the person receiving the immunizations; and

(2) Possess medications and equipment required, in the medical judgment of the supervising physician and surgeon, to treat any emergency conditions and reactions caused by the immunizing agents and which constitute a danger to the health or life of the person receiving the immunization, and to demonstrate the ability to administer the medications and to utilize the equipment as necessary.

SEC. 448. Section 76405 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 449. Section 76407 of the Education Code is amended to read:

76407. (a) Notwithstanding any provision of any law, no community college district, officer of any community college district, college president or superintendent, physician, or hospital treating any minor enrolled in any school in any district shall be held liable for the reasonable treatment of a minor without the consent of a parent or guardian of the child when the minor is ill or injured during regular schools hours, requires reasonable medical treatment, and the parent or guardian cannot be reached, unless the parent or guardian has previously filed with the district a written objection to any medical treatment other than first aid.

(b) Notwithstanding any provision of any law, no physician and surgeon who in good faith and without compensation renders voluntary emergency medical assistance to a participant in a community college athletic event or contest at the site thereof, or during transportation to a health care facility, for an injury suffered in the course of the event or contest, shall be liable for any civil damages as a result of any acts or omissions by the physician and surgeon in rendering the emergency medical care. The immunity granted by this paragraph shall not apply in the event of an act or omission constituting gross negligence.

SEC. 455.9. Section 78012 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 456. Section 78031 of the Education Code is amended to read:

78031. (a) Subject to Article 1 (commencing with Section 76000) of Chapter 1 of Part 47, a district resident, as defined for purposes of Part 41 (commencing with Section 68000), shall be admitted to a community college in another district without regard to district boundaries, unless the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges finds that compelling, extenuating circumstances exist under which the application of this policy would be substantially detrimental to the opportunity of students to obtain a quality education.

(b) No district shall restrict the admission of its residents into a community college of another district, nor shall it restrict the admission of residents of another district into its community college or colleges, except as authorized under Section 78032.

SEC. 456.1. Section 78032 of the Education Code is amended to read:

78032. (a) Notwithstanding Section 78031, the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges may, pursuant to a finding that one or more of the following concerns in any community college district requires the restriction of interdistrict attendance, impose one or more restrictions upon interdistrict attendance with regard to that district as it may deem necessary:

(1) Protection of the financial health of the district, and of educational program integrity, including, but not limited to, maintenance of the appropriate quality and scope of student educational opportunity.

(2) The need to avoid overcrowding, in light of the available space in the district.

(3) The priority that resident students not be displaced by students who do not reside in the district.

(4) The avoidance of any serious disruption in the ethnic balance of the student population of any affected district.

(b) No restriction adopted under subdivision (a) shall apply for a period of longer than two years, absent additional action of the board of governors to continue that restriction.

(c) (1) No community college district shall recruit any student who is a resident of any other community college district, except where an agreement exists between those districts authorizing each district to recruit within the boundaries of the other district.

(2) If, pursuant to an agreement as described in paragraph (1), a community college district recruits within the boundaries of another community college district, it shall recruit from all high schools within that other district, and may not favor any high schools over other high schools within that other district unless it is intended to improve the racial balance of the recruiting community college district.

(3) "Recruiting," for purposes of this section, means either or both of the following actions by a community college district, where the apparent purpose is to encourage student attendance in that district:

(A) The mailing by a community college district, to any address not within its boundaries, of class schedules or other written information, except to current or former students of the district or at the addressee's request.

(B) The personal visit by a representative of the community college district to any high school, except in response to an invitation from the school district of which the high school is a part.

"Recruiting" does not include, for this purpose, any information provided by a community college district through radio, television, or any newspaper or other publication that is not published or otherwise issued by the district, and for which distribution is not limited to residents of the district.

(d) The board of governors shall authorize the Chancellor of the California Community Colleges to retain in any fiscal year an amount of up to 5 percent of the appropriation calculated under Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 84700) of Part 50 as a penalty applicable to any community college district that violates this article, including, but not limited to, any restriction imposed by the board of governors under this section. Any funds retained pursuant to this subdivision shall revert to the General Fund.

(e) The board of governors shall annually report to the Legislature and the Governor regarding any restrictions imposed pursuant to subdivision (a), statistical information relating to interdistrict attendance, and any retention of funds pursuant to subdivision (c).

SEC. 456.2. Section 78034 is added to the Education Code, to read:

78034. (a) In addition to classification as a resident pursuant to Section 68040, each community college student shall be classified as either a district resident or a nondistrict resident.

(b) For purposes of classification as a district resident or nondistrict resident, the following definitions shall be applicable:

(1) "District" means a community college district maintaining one or more community colleges.

(2) "District resident" means a resident who has residence within a district in the state.

(3) "Nondistrict resident" means a resident who does not have residence within a district in the state, or means a student who: (A) within a 39-month period immediately preceding the residence determination date, was graduated from a high school which is situated in territory not within a district, and (B) whose parent or parents reside in this territory.

SEC. 457. Article 2.5 (commencing with Section 78040) of Chapter 1 of Part 48 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 458. Article 3 (commencing with Section 78050) of Chapter 1 of Part 48 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 459. Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 78100) is added to Part 48 of the Education Code, to read:

CHAPTER 1.5. LIBRARY SERVICES

78100. The governing board of each community college district shall provide school library services for the students and faculty of the district by establishing and maintaining community college libraries or by contractual arrangements with another public agency.

78101. The board of governors shall adopt standards, rules, and regulations for community college library services.

78103. The libraries shall be open for the use of the faculty and the students of the community college district during the schoolday. In addition, the libraries may be open at other hours, including evenings and Saturdays, as the governing board may determine. Libraries open to serve students during evening and Saturday hours shall be under the supervision of certificated personnel or those employed pursuant to minimum standards adopted by the board of governors.

SEC. 459.5. Article 1 (commencing with Section 78200.5) of Chapter 2 of Part 48 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 460. Section 78211.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

78211.5. (a) The Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges shall initially provide for full implementation of the matriculation services specified in Section 78212 in as many community colleges as the funds appropriated for this purpose allow.

(b) Because of the need to develop and evaluate data on a standard statewide basis concerning the implementation and effectiveness of the matriculation services described in this article, any college or district receiving funding under this article shall agree to carry out its provisions as specified, but shall be bound to that agreement only for the period during which funding is received pursuant to this article. The obligations of the college or district under the agreement shall include, but not be limited to, the expenditure of funds received pursuant to this article for only those matriculation services approved by the board of governors and the contribution toward the purposes of this article of matching funds as the board of governors may require pursuant to Section 78216.

SEC. 461. Section 78213 of the Education Code is amended to read:

78213. (a) No district or college may use any assessment instrument for the purposes of this article without the authorization of the board of governors. The board of governors may adopt a list of authorized assessment instruments pursuant to the policies and procedures developed pursuant to this section and the intent of this article. The board of governors may waive this requirement as to any assessment instrument pending evaluation.

(b) The board of governors shall review all assessment instruments to ensure that they meet all of the following requirements:

(1) Assessment instruments shall be sensitive to cultural and language differences between students.

(2) Assessment instruments shall be used as an advisory tool to assist students in the selection of an educational program.

(3) Assessment instruments shall not be used to exclude students from admission to community colleges.

(c) The board of governors shall establish an advisory committee to review and make recommendations concerning all assessment instruments used by districts and colleges pursuant to this article.

SEC. 462. Section 78216 of the Education Code is amended to read:

78216. (a) The Legislature recognizes that community college districts are currently funding various components of student matriculation through existing counseling, assessment, and other student services, but that adequate student matriculation cannot be realized without supplemental funding support.

(b) The board of governors shall develop a formula for funding student matriculation services at community colleges. The formula shall include the requirement that the districts or colleges contribute matching funds in an amount to be established by the board of governors in each case, and shall reflect, but not be limited to, all of the following considerations:

(1) The number of students to receive matriculation services at each college.

(2) The levels of support for matriculation services provided at each college prior to July 1, 1985, and the need for funding assistance in the implementation of the program set forth in this article.

(3) The relative needs for matriculation services, based on special student populations such as low-income students, students with language differences, students with physical and learning disabilities, and students in need of remedial instruction.

(4) The requirement that funds for matriculation services be expended only for services approved by the board of governors.

(5) The requirement that any district or college receiving funding pursuant to this section agree to implement this article during the period in which it receives that funding.

(6) The need for computer hardware and software to provide approved matriculation services, and for institutional research personnel for ongoing evaluation.

(c) The board of governors shall require participating colleges to develop a plan for student matriculation that reflects all of the following:

(1) A method for providing the services specified in Section 78212.

(2) The college budget for the matriculation services pursuant to Sections 78212 and 78214.

(3) The development and training of staff and faculty to implement the matriculation services.

(4) In multicampus districts, the coordination of the college matriculation plan with other college plans.

(5) Computerized information services and institutional research and evaluation necessary for implementation of this article.

(d) The board of governors may allocate up to 5 percent of the total funds appropriated for student matriculation for state administrative operations to carry out the intent of this article, subject to the review of the annual budget process.

SEC. 463. Section 78217 of the Education Code is amended to read:

78217. (a) By no later than January 30, 1987, and prior to the allocation of any funding for purposes of this article to local districts, the board of governors shall provide the Department of Finance, Legislative Analyst, California Postsecondary Education Commission, and the education policy committees and the fiscal committees of the Legislature with a comprehensive management plan for implementation of matriculation programs pursuant to this article.

(b) On or before March 15, 1989, the board of governors shall submit a report to the Legislature evaluating the effectiveness of those community college matriculation programs receiving funding under this article for the 1986–87 academic year. The report shall cover operation of the programs during the 1986–87 and 1987–88 fiscal years, and shall include the board of governors' recommendations regarding the improvement of student matriculation, the continued operation of student matriculation services, and the funding of those services. The board of governors shall include in the report information on the success rate of students who enroll in courses contrary to the recommendations and advice of college advisement staff.

(c) On or before March 15 of each year thereafter, the board of governors shall provide a progress report to the Legislature on the implementation of this article. The board of governors may require participating districts or colleges to provide data for the completion of these reports.

(d) No later than January 1, 1986, the board of governors shall appoint an advisory committee to assist in the development of the evaluation required by this section; however, the Legislature recognizes that to promote the effective implementation of this program, the board of governors may wish to appoint the advisory committee prior to that date.

(e) On or before April 1, 1988, the board of governors shall submit a report to the Legislature evaluating the comparative utility of matriculation services to students with differing educational objectives.

(b) No community college official shall accept any emolument, money, or other valuable thing, or any inducement to directly or indirectly introduce, recommend, vote for, or otherwise influence the adoption or purchase of any instructional material.

(c) Any publisher or manufacturer of instructional materials or his or her representative, or any community college official who violates any of the provisions of this article is guilty of a misdemeanor. Any community college official who violates this article shall, in addition to any other penalty, be removed from his or her official position.

(d) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prevent any publisher, manufacturer, or agent from supplying for purposes of examination necessary sample copies of instructional materials to any community college official.

(e) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prevent a community college official from receiving sample copies of instructional materials.

(f) Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to prohibit or restrict a community college official from receiving royalties or other compensation from the publisher or manufacturer of instructional materials written, designed, or prepared by the community college official, and adopted or purchased by any governing board, other than compensation paid as a commission to the community college official for negotiating sales to governing boards. No district shall have or claim the right to receive a royalty or other compensation due to any community college official employed by the district unless the instructional material was written or prepared during the normal schoolday during which the community college official is required by the district to be on duty.

SEC. 513.5. Section 79020 of the Education Code is amended to read:

79020. Except as otherwise provided the community colleges shall continue in session or close on specified holidays as follows:

(a) The community colleges shall close on January 1st, the third Monday in January, commencing in the 1989–90 fiscal year, known as "Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Day," February 12th known as "Lincoln Day," the third Monday in February known as "Washington Day," the last Monday in May known as "Memorial Day," July 4th, the first Monday in September known as "Labor Day," November 11th known as "Veterans Day," that Thursday in November proclaimed by the President as "Thanksgiving Day," and December 25th.

(b) Any contractual provision between any community college district and its employees in effect on the effective date of the act that adds this subdivision shall prevail over any conflict regarding Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Day until the termination date of the contract or upon termination by mutual agreement of the parties, whichever occurs first.

(c) The Governor in appointing any other day for a public fast, thanksgiving, or holiday may provide whether the community colleges shall close on the day. If the Governor does not provide whether the community colleges shall close, they shall continue in session on all special or limited holidays appointed by the Governor, but shall close on all other days appointed by the Governor for a public fast, thanksgiving, or holiday.

(d) The community colleges shall close on every day appointed by the President as a public fast, thanksgiving, or holiday, unless it is a special or limited holiday.

(e) The community colleges shall continue in session on all legal holidays other than those designated by or pursuant to this section, and shall hold proper exercises commemorating the day.

(f) When any of the holidays on which the schools would be closed fall on Sunday, the community colleges shall close on the Monday following, except that (1) if Lincoln Day falls on a Sunday, the community colleges may observe this holiday on the preceding or following Friday, the following Monday, or the following Tuesday, and maintain classes on the date specified in subdivision (a) where applicable, or (2) if Lincoln Day falls on a Monday, the community colleges may observe this holiday on the preceding or following Friday, that Monday, or the following Tuesday, and maintain classes on the date specified in subdivision (a) where applicable.

(g) When any of the holidays on which the schools would be closed, except Lincoln Day, fall on Saturday, the community colleges shall close on the preceding Friday, and that Friday shall be declared a state holiday.

(h) If any holiday on which the community colleges are required to close pursuant to subdivision (a) occurs under federal law on a date different than the date specified in subdivision (a), the governing board of any community college district may close the community colleges of the district on the date recognized by federal law and maintain classes on the date specified in subdivision (a).

(i) When Veterans Day would fall on Tuesday, the governing board of a community college district may close the colleges on the preceding Monday, and maintain classes on the date specified in subdivision (a). When Veterans Day would fall on Wednesday, the governing board of a community college district may close the colleges on either the preceding Monday or the following Friday, and maintain classes on the date specified in subdivision (a). When Veterans Day would fall on Thursday, the governing board of a community college district may close the colleges on the following Friday, and maintain classes on the date specified in subdivision (a).

(j) When Lincoln Day would fall on Tuesday, the governing board of a community college district may close the colleges on the preceding Monday, the preceding Friday, or the following Friday, and maintain classes on the date specified in subdivision (a) where appropriate. When Lincoln Day would fall on Wednesday, the governing board of a community college district may close the colleges on the preceding Monday, the preceding Friday, or the following Friday, and maintain classes on the date specified in subdivision (a). When Lincoln Day would fall on Thursday, the governing board of a community college district may close the colleges on the preceding Friday or the following Friday, and maintain classes on the date specified in subdivision (a). When Lincoln Day falls on Saturday, the governing board of a community college district may close the colleges on the preceding Friday or the following Friday, and maintain classes on the date specified in subdivision (a) where appropriate.

(k) Nothing in this section is to be interpreted as authorizing a community college district governing board to maintain community colleges in its district for a lesser number of days during the college year than the minimum established by law.

SEC. 513.7. Section 79021 of the Education Code is amended to read:

79021. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, whenever the Governor appoints any other day as a holiday and does not provide for the closing of the community colleges, but the community colleges do close, the closing shall be deemed a closing for a holiday declared by the governing board.

SEC. 537. Section 81009 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 538. Section 81033 of the Education Code is amended to read:

81033. (a) The governing board of a community college district, prior to acquiring any site on which it proposes to construct any school building as defined in Section 81131 shall have the site, or sites, under consideration investigated by competent personnel to ensure that the final site selection is determined by an evaluation of all factors affecting the public interest and is not limited to selection on the basis of raw land cost only. If the prospective college site is located within the boundaries of any special studies zone or within an area designated as geologically hazardous in the safety element of the local general plan as provided in subdivision (g) of Section 65302 of the Government Code, the investigation shall include any geological and soil engineering studies by competent personnel needed to provide an assessment of the nature of the site and potential for earthquake or other geological hazard damage.

The geological and soil engineering studies of the site shall be of a nature as will preclude siting of a college in any location where the geological and site characteristics are such that the construction effort required to make the school building safe for occupancy is economically unfeasible. No studies are required to be made if the site or sites under consideration have been the subject of adequate prior studies. The evaluation shall also include location of the site with respect to population, transportation, water supply, waste disposal facilities, utilities, traffic hazards, surface drainage conditions, and other factors affecting the operating costs, as well as the initial costs, of the total project.

For the purposes of this article, a special studies zone is an area which is identified as a special studies zone on any map, or maps, compiled by the State Geologist pursuant to Chapter 7.5 (commencing with Section 2621) of Division 2 of the Public Resources Code. A copy of the report of each investigation conducted pursuant to this section shall be submitted to the board of governors.

(b) Geological and soil engineering studies as described in subdivision (a) shall be made, within the boundaries of any special studies zone, for the construction of any building as defined in Section 81131 or, if the estimated cost exceeds twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), for the reconstruction or alteration of or addition to any such building for work which alters structural elements. The Department of General Services may require similar geological and soil engineering studies for the construction or alteration of any building on a site located outside of the boundaries of any special studies zone. These studies need not be made if the site under consideration has been the subject of adequate prior studies.

No building shall be constructed, reconstructed, or relocated on the trace of a geological fault along which surface rupture can reasonably be expected to occur within the life of the school building.

A copy of the report of each investigation conducted pursuant to this section shall be submitted to the Department of General Services pursuant to Article 7 (commencing with Section 81130) and to the Chancellor's office of the California Community Colleges. The cost of geological and soil engineering studies and investigations conducted pursuant to this section may be treated as a capital expenditure.

(c) To promote the safety of students, comprehensive community planning, and greater educational usefulness of community college sites, the governing board of each community college district, if the proposed site is within two miles, measured by air line, of that point on an airport boundary which is nearest the site and excluding them if the property is not so located, before acquiring title to property for a new community college site or for an addition to a present site, shall give the board of governors notice in writing of the proposed acquisition and shall submit any information required by the board of governors.

Immediately after receiving notice of the proposed acquisition of property which is within two miles, measured by air line, of that point on an airport boundary which is nearest the site, the board of governors shall notify the Division of Aeronautics of the Department of Transportation, in writing, of the proposed acquisition. The Division of Aeronautics shall make an investigation and report to the board of governors within 25 days after receipt of the notice. If the Division of Aeronautics is no longer in operation, the board of governors shall, in lieu of notifying the Division of Aeronautics, notify the Federal Aviation Administration or any other appropriate agency, in writing, of the proposed acquisition for the purpose of obtaining from the authority or other agency any information or assistance it may desire to give.

The board of governors shall investigate the proposed site and within 30 days after receipt of the notice shall submit to the governing board a written report and its recommendations concerning acquisition of the site. The governing board shall not acquire title to the property until the report of the board of governors has been received. If the report does not favor the acquisition of the property for a community college site or an addition to a present community college site, the governing board shall not acquire title to the property until 30 days after the department's report is received and until the board of governors' report has been read at a public hearing duly called after 10 days' notice published once in a newspaper of general circulation within the community college district, or if there is no such newspaper, then in a newspaper of general circulation within the county in which the property is located.

(d) If, with respect to a proposed site located within two miles of an operative airport runway, the report of the board of governors submitted to a community college district governing board under subdivision (c) does not favor the acquisition of the site on the sole or partial basis of the unfavorable recommendation of the Division of Aeronautics of the Department of Transportation, no state agency or officer shall grant, apportion, or allow to that community college district for expenditure in connection with that site, any state funds otherwise made available under any state law whatever for community college site acquisition or college building construction, or for expansion of existing sites and buildings, and no funds of the community college district or of the county in which the district lies shall be expended for such purposes. However, the provisions of this section shall not be applicable to sites acquired prior to January 1, 1966, nor to any additions or extensions to those sites.

If the recommendation of the Division of Aeronautics is unfavorable, the recommendation shall not be overruled without the express approval of the board of governors and the State Allocation Board.

(e) No action undertaken by the board of governors or by any other state agency or by any political subdivision pursuant to this chapter, or in compliance with this chapter, shall be construed to affect any rights arising under the provisions of Section 19 of Article I of the California Constitution.

SEC. 544. Section 81130 of the Education Code is amended to read:

81130. The Department of General Services under the police power of the state shall supervise the design and construction of any school building or, if the estimated cost exceeds twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), the reconstruction or alteration of or addition to any school building, to ensure that plans and specifications comply with the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this article and building standards published in Title 24 of the California Code of Regulations, and to ensure that the work of construction has been performed in accordance with the approved plans and specifications, for the protection of life and property. Nothing in this section shall be construed to allow a community college district to perform work with its own forces in excess of the limitations set forth in Article 41 (commencing with Section 20650) of Part 3 of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code.

Whenever repairs due to fire damage must be made to any school building previously approved by the Department of General Services, the approved plans and specifications used in the original work under then existing rules, regulations, and building standards may be used without modification, providing all other provisions of this article are carried out.

SEC. 545. Section 81130.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

81130.5. (a) The provisions of this article do not apply to an offsite building during the time the building is used wholly or in part for community college purposes if the building is neither owned by a community college district nor leased by a community college district under a lease containing an option to purchase that building. For the purposes of this section, an "offsite building" is a building which is situated on land which is neither owned by a community college district nor leased by a community college district under a lease containing an option to purchase the land.

(b) "School building" as used in this article means and includes any building used, or designed to be used, for community college purposes and constructed, reconstructed, altered, or added to, by the state or by any city or city and county, or by any political subdivision, or by any district of any kind within the state, or by any regional occupational center or program created by or authorized to act by an agreement under joint exercise of power, or by the United States government, or any agency thereof.

(c) Where the primary use of either a building or complex within which the building is situated, operated by an official or board of a city, city and county, or county, is for purposes other than educational, such as, but not limited to, correctional, forestry, or hospital purposes, the building shall not be considered to be a "school building" within the meaning of Section 81131, notwithstanding any educational use thereof incidental to the primary purpose.

(d) For the purposes of this article and Article 8 (commencing with Section 81160), "school building" does not include any of the following:

(1) Any building of a community college district which is used solely for classes or programs in outdoor science, conservation, and forestry and which does not occupy, in whole or in part, the same parcel of land upon which there is situated any school maintained by the district.

(2) Agricultural facilities that were not built for classroom purposes and which are used primarily for plant and animal production or the storage of materials, equipment, and supplies involved in that production.

(3) Animal kennels and facilities used to house animals as part of an animal health instruction program.

(e) "Construction or alteration" as used in this article includes any construction, reconstruction, or alteration of, or addition to, any school building.

SEC. 549. Section 81132 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 550. Section 81133 of the Education Code is amended to read:

81133. (a) The Department of General Services shall pass upon and approve or reject all plans for the construction or, if the estimated cost exceeds twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), the alteration of any school building. To enable it to do so, the governing board of each community college district and any other school authority before adopting any plans for the school building shall submit the plans to the Department of General Services for approval, and shall pay the fees prescribed in this article.

Where the estimated cost of an alteration exceeds ten thousand dollars ($10,000) but does not exceed twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), a structural engineer shall examine the proposed project to determine if it is a nonstructural alteration or a structural alteration. If he or she determines that the project is a nonstructural alteration, he or she shall prepare a statement so indicating. If he or she determines that the project is structural, he or she shall prepare plans and specifications for the project and shall observe the work of construction. A copy of the engineer's report stating that the work does not affect structural elements, or a copy of the plans and specifications for structural work, as the case may be, shall be filed with the Department of General Services.

(b) Before letting any contract for any construction or alteration of any school building, the written approval of the plans, as to safety of design and construction, by the Department of General Services, shall first be had and obtained.

(c) In each case the application for approval of the plans shall be accompanied by the plans and full, complete, and accurate specifications, and structural design computations, and estimates of cost, which shall comply in every respect with any and all requirements prescribed by the Department of General Services.

(d) The application shall be accompanied by a filing fee in amounts as determined by the Department of General Services based on the estimated cost according to the following schedule:

(1) For the first one million dollars ($1,000,000), a fee of not more than 0.7 percent of the estimated cost.

(2) For all costs in excess of one million dollars ($1,000,000), a fee of not more than 0.6 percent of the estimated cost.

The minimum fee in any case shall be two hundred fifty dollars ($250). If the actual cost exceeds the estimated cost by more than 5 percent, a further fee shall be paid to the Department of General Services, based on the above schedule and computed on the amount by which the actual cost exceeds the amount of the estimated cost.

(e) All fees shall be paid into the State Treasury and credited to the Division of Architecture Public Building Fund, which fund is continued in existence and is retitled the Architecture Public Building Fund, and are continuously appropriated, without regard to fiscal years, for the use of the Department of General Services, subject to approval of the Department of Finance, in carrying out the provisions of this article.

Adjustments in the amounts of the fees, as determined by the Department of General Services and approved by the Department of Finance, shall be made within the limits set in subdivision (d) in order to maintain a reasonable working balance in the fund.

(f) No contract for the construction or alteration of any school building, made or executed by the governing board of any community college district or other public board, body, or officer otherwise vested with authority to make or execute this contract, is valid, and no public money shall be paid for any work done under this contract or for any labor or materials furnished in constructing or altering the building, unless the plans, specifications, and estimates comply in every particular with the provisions of this article and the requirements prescribed by the Department of General Services and unless the approval thereof in writing has first been had and obtained from the Department of General Services.

SEC. 555. Section 81140 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 556. Section 81160 of the Education Code is amended to read:

81160. (a) The provisions of this article do not apply to an offsite building during the time the building is used wholly or in part for community college purposes if the building is neither owned by a community college district nor leased by a community college district under a lease containing an option to purchase the building. For the purposes of this section, an "offsite building" is a building which is situated on land which is neither owned by a community college district nor leased by a community college district under a lease containing an option to purchase the land.

(b) "School building" as used in this article excludes any building which is used for community college district administrative buildings located on a site separate from the community college campuses of the district, and into which students are not required to enter.

(c) "School building" as used in this article shall be limited to any physical structure capable of being occupied by pupils, but shall exclude, (1) any bleacher or grandstand with less than six rows of seats, (2) any building which is used exclusively for warehouse, storage, garage, or districtwide administrative office purposes, into which pupils are not required to enter, and off-campus buildings utilized by adult schools or community colleges for voluntary adult education courses or registered apprentice courses, (3) any swimming pool, or (4) any yard or lighting poles or flagpoles or playground equipment which does not exceed 35 feet in height.

If any building so excluded was not constructed in accordance with Article 7 (commencing with Section 81130) of this chapter and was not repaired, reconstructed, or replaced in accordance with this article, there shall be posted in a conspicuous place on the building a public notice stating that the building does not meet the structural standards imposed by law for earthquake safety.

SEC. 558. Section 81165 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 559. Section 81176 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 560. Section 81177 of the Education Code is amended to read:

81177. (a) No member of the governing board of a community college district shall be held personally liable for injury to persons or damage to property resulting from the fact that a school building was not constructed under the requirements of Article 7 (commencing with Section 81130), if the governing board complies with this article. The limit on liability shall commence when the governing board initiates action to comply with Section 81162.

A licensed structural engineer or licensed architect employed by a governing board to examine any school building under this article shall not be held personally liable for injury to persons or damage to property as a result of the structural inadequacy and failure of a building, provided he or she has exercised normal professional diligence in carrying out his or her functions under Article 7 (commencing with Section 81130) and this article.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (a), nothing in this article shall be construed as relieving any member of the governing board of a community college district of any liability for injury to persons or damage to property imposed by law.

SEC. 561. Section 81179 of the Education Code is amended to read:

81179. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article or Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 81800), whenever a community college district does not have funds available to repair, reconstruct, or replace the school buildings referred to in this article or Section 16320, the community college district shall apply for the funds as may be necessary to accomplish the repair, reconstruction, or replacement pursuant to Chapter 4. The community college district shall also accept the funds as are disbursed to the district pursuant to Chapter 4, whether or not the funds constitute the maximum amount applied for, and shall repay the funds in accordance with Chapter 4.

SEC. 571. Section 81820 of the Education Code is amended to read:

81820. The governing board of each community college district shall prepare and submit to the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges a plan for capital construction for community college purposes of the district. The plan shall reflect capital construction for community college purposes of the district for the five-year period commencing with the next proposed year of funding. The five-year plan shall be subject to continuing review by the governing board and annually shall be extended one year, and there shall be submitted to the board of governors, on or before the first day of February in each succeeding year, a report outlining the required modifications or changes, if any, in the five-year plan.

SEC. 572. Section 81821.5 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 573. Section 81822 of the Education Code is amended to read:

81822. The board of governors shall review and evaluate the plan for capital construction submitted by the governing board of each community college district in terms of the elements of the capital construction program specified in Section 81821, and shall, on the basis of the review and evaluation, make the revision and changes therein as are appropriate, and notify the district. A similar review and evaluation of continuing five-year plans for capital construction submitted by the governing board of each community college district shall be made. The board of governors shall, promptly after review, notify the governing board of each community college district of the content of the district's revised plan for capital construction.

SEC. 575. Section 81831 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 576. Section 81833 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 577. Section 81836 of the Education Code is amended to read:

81836. The Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges shall:

(a) Advise the governing board of each community college district on the acquisition of new college sites, and after a review of available plots, give the governing board of the district in writing a list of the approved locations in the order of their merit, considering especially the matters of educational merit, reduction of traffic hazards, and conformity to the organized regional plans as presented in the master plan of the planning commission having jurisdiction, and charge the governing board of the community college district a reasonable fee as determined by the board of governors for each 10 acres or fraction thereof of schoolsite reviewed.

(b) Establish standards for community college facilities.

(c) Review plans and specifications for all construction in those community college districts that have submitted plans and specifications therefor to the board of governors for approval.

(d) For services rendered for the review of plans and specifications of a proposed project, the board of governors shall charge a reasonable fee as established by it.

(e) Approve plans and specifications submitted by governing boards of community college districts, and return without approval and with recommendation for changes, any plans not conforming to established standards.

SEC. 578. Section 81837 of the Education Code is amended to read:

81837. The governing board of each community college district, before letting any contract or contracts totaling one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000), or more, in the erection of any new community college facility, or for any addition to, or alteration of, an existing community college facility, shall submit plans therefor to the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, and obtain the written approval of the plans by the board of governors. No contract for construction made by any governing board of a community college district contrary to this section is valid, nor shall any public money be paid for erecting, adding to, or altering any facility in contravention of this section.

SEC. 579. Section 81838 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 581. Section 81900 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 582. Section 81901 of the Education Code is amended to read:

81901. (a) The governing board of any community college district may issue revenue bonds pursuant to this chapter.

(b) The board, for the purpose of this chapter, has power and is hereby authorized, in addition to and amplification of all other powers conferred upon the board by the Constitution of the State of California or by any statute of the State of California:

(1) To acquire subject to the state law, by grant, purchase, gift, devise, or lease, or by the exercise of the right of eminent domain, and to hold and use any real or personal property necessary or convenient or useful for the carrying on of any of its powers pursuant to this chapter.

(2) To construct, operate, and control any project.

(3) To fix rates, rents, or other charges for the use of any project acquired, constructed, equipped, furnished, operated, or maintained by the board, or for services rendered in connection therewith, and to alter, change, or modify the same at its pleasure, subject to any contractual obligation which may be entered into by the board with respect to the fixing of these rates, rents, or charges.

(4) To enter into covenants to increase rates or charges from time to time as may be necessary pursuant to any contract or agreement with the holders of any bonds of the board.

(5) At any time and from time to time, to issue revenue bonds in order to raise funds for the purpose of establishing any project, of acquiring lands for any project, of acquiring, constructing, improving, equipping, or furnishing any project, of refinancing any project, or for any combination of these purposes, which bonds may be secured as provided in this chapter.

(6) To exercise, subject to state law, the right of eminent domain for the condemnation of private property or any right or interest therein.

(7) To adopt the rules and regulations as may be necessary to enable the board to exercise the powers and to perform the duties conferred or imposed upon the board by this chapter.

(8) Nothing contained in this section or elsewhere in this chapter shall be construed directly or by implication to be in derogation of, or in limitation of, the powers conferred upon or existing in the board by virtue of provisions of the Constitution or statutes of this state.

(c) The board shall determine the time, form, and manner of the issuance of revenue bonds.

SEC. 583. Section 81903 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 584. Section 81906 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 585. Section 81908 of the Education Code is amended to read:

81908. (a) An indenture pursuant to which bonds are issued may include any and all covenants and agreements on the part of the board as the board deems necessary or advisable for the better security of the bonds issued thereunder. An indenture may include a clause, relating to the bonds issued thereunder, requiring the board to do any or all of the following:

(1) To pay or cause to be paid punctually the principal of all the bonds and the interest thereon on the date or dates, or at the place or places, and in the manner mentioned in the bonds and in the coupons appertaining thereto in accordance with the indenture.

(2) To operate the project continuously, to the extent practicable under conditions as they may from time to time exist, in an efficient and economical manner.

(3) To make all necessary repairs, renewals, and replacements to any project, and to keep the project at all times in good repair, working order, and condition.

(4) To preserve and protect the security of the bonds and the rights of the holders thereof and to warrant and defend these rights.

(5) To pay and discharge or cause to be paid and discharged all lawful claims for labor, materials, and supplies or other charges which, if unpaid, might become a lien or charge upon the revenues, or any part thereof, of any project acquired, constructed, or completed from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds, or upon any physical properties, or which might impair the security of the bonds.

(6) To fix, prescribe, and collect rates, rentals, or other charges in connection with the services and facilities furnished from the project acquired, constructed, or purchased from part or all of the proceeds of the bonds, sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds as they become due and payable, together with additional sums as may be required for any fund created by this chapter, for the further security of these bonds, or as a depreciation charge or other charge in connection with the project.

(7) To hold or cause to be held in trust the revenues or any part of the revenues pledged to the payment of the bonds and the interest thereon, or to any reserve or other fund created by this chapter for the further protection of the bonds, and to apply the revenues or any part of revenues or cause them to be applied only as provided in the indenture.

(b) An indenture may also include clauses which do any or all of the following:

(1) Limit, restrict, or prohibit any right, power, or privilege of the board to mortgage or otherwise encumber, sell, lease, or dispose of any improvements constructed from the proceeds of the bonds, or to enter into any lease or agreement which impairs or impedes the operation of a project, or any part thereof, necessary to secure adequate revenues or which otherwise impairs or impedes the rights of the holders of the bonds with respect to these revenues.

(2) Define the power of the board in applying the proceedings of the sale of any issue of bonds for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, or completing any project or any part thereof.

(3) Limit the power of the board to issue additional bonds for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, or completing any project or any part thereof.

(4) Require, specify, or limit the kind, amount, and character of insurance to be maintained by the board on any project, or any part thereof, and the use and disposition of the proceeds of any insurance thereafter collected.

(5) Provide the events of default and the terms and conditions upon which any or all of the bonds of the board then or thereafter issued may become or be declared due and payable prior to maturity, and the terms and conditions upon which this declaration and its consequences may be waived.

(6) Designate the rights, limitations, powers, and duties arising upon breach by the board of any of the covenants, conditions, or obligations contained in any indenture.

(7) Prescribe a procedure by which the terms and conditions of the indenture may be subsequently amended or modified with the consent of the board and the vote or written assent of the holders of a specified principal amount or specified proportion of the bonds issued and outstanding. The clause may provide for meetings of bondholders and for the manner in which the consent of the bondholders may be given. The clause shall specifically state the effect of an amendment or modification upon the rights of the holders of all of the bonds and interest coupons appertaining thereto, whether attached thereto or detached therefrom.

With respect to any clause providing for the modification or amendment of an indenture, the board may agree that bonds held by the county treasurer, the United States or any instrumentality thereof, or the State of California or any political subdivision thereof (including every municipal corporation, district, public corporation, board, or agency of any kind or class) shall not be counted as outstanding bonds, or be entitled to vote or assent, but shall, nevertheless, be subject to modification or amendment.

(8) Provide for other acts and matters as may be necessary, convenient, or desirable in order to better secure the bonds or to make the bonds more marketable.

(c) The board may provide in an indenture for the carrying of liability or property or any other insurance in any amount or character it shall determine, and for the payment of the premiums thereon.

(d) The board may include in an indenture the limitations as to competitive projects, both as to location and comparative rentals, as may be deemed necessary or desirable for the security of revenue bonds issued pursuant to this chapter.

(e) The board may include in an indenture a covenant that no project acquired, constructed, or completed from the proceeds of revenue bonds issued under the provisions of this chapter shall be used without charge therefor or any facilities thereof be furnished free of charge to any person.

82537. (a) There is a civic center at each and every community college within the state where the citizens, Camp Fire Girls, Boy Scout troops, farmers' organizations, school-community advisory councils, senior citizens' organizations, clubs, and associations formed for recreational, educational, political, economic, artistic, or moral activities of the public school districts may engage in supervised recreational activities, and where they may meet and discuss, from time to time, as they may desire, any subjects and questions which in their judgment appertain to the educational, political, economic, artistic, and moral interests of the citizens of the communities in which they reside. Governing boards of the community college districts may authorize the use, by citizens and organizations of any other properties under their control, for supervised recreational activities.

(b) The governing board of any community college district may grant the use of college facilities or grounds for public, literary, scientific, recreational, educational, or public agency meetings, or for the discussion of matters of general or public interest upon terms and conditions which the board deems proper, and subject to the limitations, requirements, and restrictions set forth in this article.

(c) No use shall be granted in a manner that constitutes a monopoly for the benefit of any person or organization.

(d) The use of any community college facility and grounds for any meeting is subject to reasonable rules and regulations as the governing board of the district prescribes, and shall not interfere with the use and occupancy of the community college facilities and grounds, as is required for the purposes of the community colleges of the state.

(e) The management, direction, and control of the civic center is vested in the governing board of the community college district.

(f) The governing board of the community college district shall make all needful rules and regulations for conducting the civic meetings and for such recreational activities as are provided for in this chapter and which aid, assist, and lend encouragement to the activities.

SEC. 630. Section 82542 of the Education Code is amended to read:

82542. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), the governing board of any community college district shall grant without charge the use of any college facilities or grounds under its control, pursuant to the requirements of this article, when an alternative location is not available, to nonprofit organizations and clubs and associations organized for general character building or welfare purposes, such as:

(1) Student clubs and organizations.

(2) Fundraising entertainments or meetings where admission fees charged or contributions solicited are expended for the welfare of the students of the district.

(3) Parent-teachers' associations.

(4) School-community advisory councils.

(5) Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scout troops, and Boy Scout troops.

(6) Senior citizens' organizations.

(7) Other public agencies.

(8) Organizations, clubs, or associations organized for cultural activities and general character building or welfare purposes (such as folk and square dancing).

(9) Groups organized for the purpose specified in subdivision (g).

(b) The governing board may charge those organizations and activities listed in subdivision (a) an amount not to exceed the following:

(1) The cost of opening and closing the facilities, if no college employees would otherwise be available to perform that function as a part of their normal duties.

(2) The cost of a college employee's presence during the organization's use of the facilities, if the governing board determines that the supervision is needed, and if that employee would not otherwise be present as part of his or her normal duties.

(3) The cost of janitorial services, if the services are necessary, and would not have otherwise been performed as part of the janitor's normal duties.

(4) The cost of utilities directly attributable to the organization's use of the facilities.

(c) The governing board may charge an amount not to exceed its direct costs or not to exceed fair rental value of college facilities and grounds under its control, and pursuant to the requirements of this article, for activities other than those specified in subdivision (a). Each governing board which decides to levy these charges shall first adopt a policy specifying which activities shall be charged an amount not to exceed direct costs and which activities shall be charged an amount not to exceed fair rental value.

(1) As used in this section, "direct costs" to the district for the use of college facilities or grounds means those costs of supplies, utilities, janitorial services, services of any other district employees, and salaries paid community college district employees necessitated by the organization's use of the college facilities and grounds of the district.

(2) As used in this section, "fair rental value" means the direct costs to the district, plus the amortized costs of the college facilities or grounds used for the duration of the activity authorized.

(d) The governing board of any college district which authorizes the use of college facilities or grounds for the purpose specified in subdivision (e) shall charge the church or religious denomination an amount at least equal to the fair rental value of the facilities or grounds.

(e) The governing board of any community college district may grant the use of college facilities or grounds to any church or religious organization for the conduct of religious services for temporary periods where the church or organization has no suitable meeting place for the conduct of these services upon the terms and conditions as the board deems proper, and subject to the limitations, requirements, and restrictions set forth in this article. The governing board shall charge the church or religious organization using the property for the conduct of religious services a fee as specified in subdivision (d).

(f) In the case of entertainments or meetings where admission fees are charged or contributions are solicited and the net receipts of the admission fees or contributions are not expended for the welfare of the students of the district or for charitable purposes, a charge shall be made for the use of the college facilities, property, and grounds, which charge shall not be less than the fair rental value for the use of the college facilities, property and grounds, as determined by the governing board of the district.

The governing board may, however, permit the use, without charge, by organizations, clubs, or associations organized for senior citizens and for cultural activities and general character-building or welfare purposes, when membership dues or contributions solely for the support of the organization, club, or association, or the advancement of its cultural, character-building or welfare work, are accepted.

(g) The governing board of a community college district may grant the use of college facilities, grounds, and equipment to public agencies, including the American Red Cross, for mass care and welfare shelters during disasters or other emergencies affecting the public health and welfare, and may cooperate with these agencies in furnishing and maintaining services deemed by the governing board to be necessary to meet the needs of the community.

SEC. 631. Section 82543 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 631.5. Section 84001 is added to the Education Code, to read:

84001. It is the intent of the Legislature that the administration of the laws governing the financial support of the public school system in this state be conducted within the purview of the following principles and policies:

The system of public school support should be designed to strengthen and encourage local responsibility for control of public education. Community college districts should be so organized that they can facilitate the provision of full educational opportunities for all who attend the public schools. Local control is best accomplished by the development of strong, vigorous, and properly organized local school administrative units. It is the state's responsibility to create or facilitate the creation of local districts of sufficient size to properly discharge local responsibilities and to spend the tax dollar effectively.

The system of public school support should assure that state, local, and other funds are adequate for the support of a realistic funding level. It is unrealistic and unfair to the less wealthy districts to provide for only a part of the financing necessary for an adequate educational program.

The system of public school support should permit and encourage community college districts to provide and support improved district organization and educational programs. The system of public school support should prohibit the introduction of undesirable organization and educational practices, and should discourage any such practices now in effect. Improvement of programs in particular districts is in the interests of the state as a whole as well as of the people in individual districts, since the excellence of the programs in some districts will tend to bring about program improvement in other districts.

The system of public school support should make provision for the apportionment of state funds to local districts on a strictly objective basis that can be computed as well by the local districts as by the state. The principle of local responsibility requires that the granting of discretionary powers to state officials over the distribution of state aid and the granting to these officials of the power to impose undue restriction on the use of funds and the conduct of educational programs at the local level be avoided.

The system of public school support should effect a partnership between the state, the county, and community college districts, with each participating equitably in accordance with its relative ability. The respective abilities should be combined to provide a financial plan between the state and the local agencies for public school support. Toward this support program, each county and district, through a uniform method, should contribute in accordance with its true financial ability.

The system of public school support should provide for essential educational opportunities for all who attend the public schools. Provision should be made in the financial plan for adequate financing of all educational services.

The broader based taxing power of the state should be utilized to raise the level of financial support in the properly organized but financially weak districts of the state, thus contributing greatly to the equalization of educational opportunity for the students residing therein. It should also be used to provide a minimum amount of guaranteed support to all districts, for this state assistance serves to develop among all districts a sense of responsibility to the entire system of public education in the state.

SEC. 633. Section 84005 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 634. Section 84030 of the Education Code is amended to read:

84030. The accounting system including the uniform fund structure used to record the financial affairs of any community college district shall be in accordance with the definitions, instructions, and procedures published in the California Community Colleges Budget and Accounting Manual as approved by the board of governors and furnished by the board of governors. No accounting manual so approved shall expressly or by implication affect the content of any educational program or objective, except as otherwise specifically provided for by this code. The Legislature hereby finds that the content shall be best determined by those involved in the administration of educational programs, including community college district governing boards, local administrators, instructors, and students.

SEC. 638. Section 84040 is added to the Education Code, to read:

84040. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature to encourage sound fiscal management practices among community college districts for the most efficient and effective use of public funds for the education of community college students by strengthening fiscal accountability at the district and state levels.

(b) The governing board of each community college district shall provide for an annual audit of all funds, books and accounts of the district in accordance with regulations of the board of governors. The audit shall be made by certified public accountants licensed by the State Board of Accountancy. In the event the governing board of a community college district fails to provide for an audit, the board of governors shall provide for such audit, and if the board of governors fails or is unable to make satisfactory arrangements for such an audit, the Department of Finance shall make arrangements for the audit. The cost of any audit described above shall be paid from district funds.

(c) The board of governors shall adopt criteria and standards for periodic assessment of the fiscal condition of community college districts, and these regulations regarding the review and improvement of district fiscal conditions as necessary to encourage sound fiscal management practices. In so doing:

(1) The governing board of a community college district, as required by regulations of the board of governors, shall periodically report information to the board of governors regarding the fiscal condition of the district.

(2) The board of governors, by regulation, shall develop standards for district maintenance of sound fiscal conditions. The regulations shall authorize a board comprehensive management review of any community college district which, after assessing itself or being assessed in accordance with board criteria and standards, is shown to be experiencing fiscal difficulty. On the basis of the findings of the management review, the board of governors may recommend appropriate changes in a district's management practices.

(3) The board of governors, by regulation, shall develop appropriate procedures and actions for districts which fail to achieve fiscal stability or which fail to comply with the board of governors' recommendations. The procedures and remedies may include the appointment of a special trustee to manage the district. The board of governors shall be authorized to reduce or withhold apportionment to districts to pay for the cost of the special trustee, management review or other extraordinary costs resulting from the district's fiscal difficulties and to ensure the stabilization of the district's financial condition.

(4) The board of governors shall report to the chairs of the educational policy and fiscal committees of both houses of the Legislature, the Director of Finance, and the Governor any corrective action taken by the district and any action taken against the district pursuant to paragraph (3).

SEC. 665. Section 84362 of the Education Code is amended to read:

84362. (a) As used in this section, "salaries of classroom instructors" means:

(1) The salary paid to each instructor employed by the district whose duties require that the full time for which the instructor is employed be devoted to the instruction of students of the district.

(2) The portion of the salary of each instructor whose duties require that a part, but not all, of the full time for which the instructor is employed be devoted to the instruction of students of the district, which is equal to the portion of the full time actually devoted by the instructor to teaching students of the district.

(3) The salary paid to each instructional aide employed by the district, any portion of whose duties are required to be performed under the supervision of an instructor. However, the cost of all health and welfare benefits provided to the instructors by the community college district shall be included within the meaning of "salaries of classroom instructors."

(b) (1) As used in this section an "instructor" means an employee of the district employed in a position requiring certification qualifications and whose duties require him or her to teach students of the district for at least one full instructional period each schoolday for which the employee is employed. An instructional period is the number of minutes equal to the number of minutes of the regular academic period in the community college in which the instructor is employed.

(2) As used in this section, "administrator" means any employee in a position having significant responsibilities for formulating district policies or administering district programs; and "supervisor" means any employee having authority, on behalf of the district, to hire, transfer, suspend, lay off, recall, promote, discharge, assign, reward, discipline other employees, adjust their grievances, or effectively recommend that action, if the exercise of the authority is not of a merely routine or clerical nature.

(c) "Current expense of education" means the gross total expended (not reduced by estimated income or estimated federal and state apportionments) for the purposes classified in the final budget of a district (except one which, during the preceding fiscal year, had less than 101 units of average daily attendance) for certificated salaries other than certificated salaries for student transportation, food services, and community services; classified salaries other than classified salaries for student transportation, food services, and community services; employee benefits other than employee benefits for student transportation personnel, food services personnel, and community services personnel; books, supplies, and equipment replacement other than for student transportation and food services; and community services, contracted services, and other operating expenses other than for student transportation, food services, and community services. "Current expense of education," for purposes of this section, shall not include those expenditures classified as sites, buildings, books, and media and new equipment (object of expenditure 6000 of the Accounting Manual for California Community Colleges), the amount expended from categorical aid received from the federal or state government which funds were granted for expenditures in a program not incurring any instructor salary expenditures or requiring disbursement of the funds without regard to the requirements of this section, or expenditures for facility acquisition and construction; and shall not include the amount expended pursuant to any lease agreement for plant and equipment or the amount expended from funds received from the federal government pursuant to the "Economic Opportunity Act of 1964" or any extension of that act of Congress or the amount expended by a community college from state or federal funds received by the community college for grants to community college students or for the employment of community college students.

(d) There shall be expended during each fiscal year for payment of salaries of classroom instructors by a community college district, 50 percent of the district's current expense of education.

(e) If the board of governors determines that a district has not expended the applicable percentage of current expense of education for the payment of salaries of classroom instructors during the preceding fiscal year, the board shall, in apportionments made to the district from the State School Fund after April 15 of the current fiscal year, designate an amount of the apportionment or apportionments equal to the apparent deficiency in district expenditures. Any amount so designated by the board of governors shall be deposited in the county treasury to the credit of the community college district, but shall be unavailable for expenditure by the district pending the determination to be made by the board of governors on any application for exemption which may be submitted to the board of governors. In the event it appears to the governing board of a community college district that the application of the preceding paragraphs of this section during a fiscal year results in serious hardship to the district, or in the payment of salaries of classroom instructors in excess of the salaries of classroom instructors paid by other districts of comparable type and functioning under comparable conditions, the governing board may apply to the board of governors in writing not later than September 15th of the immediately succeeding fiscal year for exemption from the requirements of this section.

(f) Immediately upon applying for the exemption described in subdivision (e), the governing board shall provide the exclusive representative of the district's certificated employees or, if none exists, the district or college academic senate, and all certificated employee organizations eligible for payroll dues deduction, with a copy of the application. The exclusive representative, or the district or college academic senate, and all certificated employee organizations eligible for payroll dues deduction, within 30 days of its receipt of the application, may transmit to the board of governors a written statement opposing the application, setting forth reasons for its opposition.

(g) Upon receipt of the application described in subdivision (f), duly approved, and of the statement of opposition, if any, the board of governors shall grant the district exemption for any amount that is less than one thousand dollars ($1,000). If the amount is one thousand dollars ($1,000) or more, the board of governors may grant the district exemption from the requirement for the fiscal year for which the application is made if a majority of all the members of the board of governors finds, in writing, that the district will in fact suffer serious hardship or will have to pay salaries of classroom instructors in excess of those paid by other districts of comparable type and functioning under comparable conditions unless the district is granted an exemption. If the exemption is granted, the designated moneys shall be immediately available for expenditure by the community college district governing board. If no application for exemption is made or exemption is denied, the board of governors shall order the designated amount or amount not exempted to be added to the amounts to be expended for salaries of classroom instructors during the next fiscal year.

(h) The board of governors shall enforce the requirements prescribed by this section, and may adopt necessary rules and regulations to that end. It may require the submission during the school year, by community college district governing boards and county superintendents of schools, of the reports and information as may be necessary to carry out this section.

(i) The board of governors shall, no later than the 10th calendar day of each year of the Legislature, submit to the Legislature a written report on the operation, effect, and the extent of compliance with this section by community college districts in the state during the two most recently ended fiscal years. The report shall describe the activities of the board of governors, the chancellor's office, undertaken to ensure compliance with this section, and may contain recommendations for legislation pertaining to that subject.

84381. (a) There is hereby created in the State Treasury the Community College Fund for Instructional Improvement. The fund shall consist of a revolving loan program and a direct grant program to support alternative educational programs and services within or on behalf of the California Community Colleges, including:

(1) Nontraditional forms, content, and methods of instruction, including, but not limited to, the following:

(A) Instructional programs which involve internships and experiential learning opportunities.

(B) Individualized instructional programs which require student development of learning objectives through learning contracts.

(C) Instructional programs which focus on the development of interpersonal skills.

(D) Instructional programs involving independent study.

(2) Programs for improving teaching abilities of faculty members.

(3) Programs addressing special learning needs of educationally disadvantaged students.

(4) Educational services for new clientele, including older, working adults.

(5) Efforts to improve traditional instructional programs.

(6) Programs for the improvement of the intellectual development of faculty and staff, including, but not limited to, the following:

(A) Intersegmental summer programs including research projects and seminars.

(B) College programs bringing visiting scholars to local districts.

(C) Interdisciplinary programs involving local noncollege institutions in the arts and sciences.

(D) Intersegmental research and public information projects on topics of special concern to rural and urban California regarding the environment, social history, and culture.

(E) Summer "bridge" programs for the transition period into college life.

(b) The board of governors shall adopt rules and regulations governing the administration of the direct grant program and revolving loan program.

(c) A district's request for and uses of a loan shall be made in accordance with rules and regulations adopted by the board of governors.

SEC. 670. Section 84382 of the Education Code is amended to read:

84382. The direct grant program shall support college efforts for instructional innovations and shall include financial participation by applicant colleges. The board of governors shall award grants to colleges on the basis of review of project proposals submitted by faculty members, students, and administrators. Priorities for funding proposals shall be established by the board of governors. Community college districts receiving awards under this article shall submit reports as required by the board of governors.

SEC. 671. Section 84383 of the Education Code is amended to read:

84383. A portion of the fund shall support evaluation of projects by the board of governors or by an independent evaluator. Not more than 5 percent of the fund may be used for administrative purposes by the board of governors in any fiscal year.

SEC. 672. Section 84384 of the Education Code is amended to read:

84384. The board of governors shall annually review the need for state funds to carry out the purposes of the fund for instructional improvement and shall include an estimate of this need in its budget for each year.

CHAPTER 4. ATTENDANCE

84500. Attendance shall be recorded and kept according to rules and regulations prescribed by the board of governors, subject to this chapter.

SEC. 681. Section 84660 of the Education Code is amended to read:

84660. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that it is in the interests of the people of the State of California to ensure that the facilities of the California Community Colleges are repaired and maintained on a timely basis in order to provide for the safe utilization of these facilities as well as providing for the prevention of further structural damage resulting in more costly repairs. The Legislature recognizes that in many community college districts high operating costs and limited district revenues have combined to restrict the ability of community college districts to provide for the periodic maintenance and timely repair of community college facilities.

It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this chapter that funds be allocated pursuant to the requirements of this chapter to provide for the deferred maintenance and special repair of community college facilities. However, the Legislature recognizes that there may not be sufficient revenues in future years to provide an annual appropriation for the program provided by this chapter. Therefore, nothing in this chapter shall be construed to create an annual state obligation to fund this program.

(b) The Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges shall adopt rules and regulations for the allocation of funds authorized by this chapter for the deferred maintenance and special repair of community college facilities. The adopted rules and regulations shall establish criteria for the ranking of requests for funding by community college districts for funds allocated pursuant to this chapter. The adopted rules and regulations shall require districts to prepare and submit to the board of governors a five-year maintenance plan which includes plans for preventative as well as deferred maintenance in order to be eligible for state funding of deferred maintenance. The adopted rules and regulations shall require recipient districts to provide an amount of district funds equal to the amount of state funds to be allocated for facility deferred maintenance and special repair as a condition for the receipt of state funding, subject to a complete or partial waiver of this requirement by the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges based upon a review of the financial condition of the district.

For the purpose of this chapter, "deferred maintenance and special repair" means unusual, nonrecurring work to restore a facility to a safe and continually useable condition for which it was intended.

(c) No community college district shall receive funds pursuant to this chapter unless the district expends at least ½ percent of its current operating budget for ongoing maintenance.

(d) The board of governors may, pursuant to subdivision (b), increase the percentage specified in subdivision (c).

(e) It is the intent of the Legislature that funds received by districts pursuant to this chapter supplement, not supplant, district deferred maintenance funds.

SEC. 698. Section 85210 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 699. Section 85230 of the Education Code is amended to read:

85230. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this code, money shall be paid from the funds of any community college district for the payment of the expenses of the district, only as provided in this article.

(b) The Legislature reaffirms the status of the California Community Colleges as a segment of public higher education and the role of the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges in providing general supervision over community college districts. The Legislature also reaffirms its grant of substantial fiscal autonomy to community college districts. It is the intent of the Legislature to provide for certain relationships between county offices and community college districts while confirming that governance authority over the community college districts rests with district governing boards and the board of governors.

SEC. 700. Section 85266.5 is added to the Education Code, to read:

85266.5. (a) With the approval of the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, the governing board of a community college district may cause to be drawn all warrants on the county treasurer against all the funds, except debt service, of the district in the county treasury in the payment of the expenses of the district. The warrants shall be issued by a person designated as the district auditor or district disbursing officer for the district on the county treasurer in favor of the persons entitled thereto in payment of all claims chargeable against the districts which have been legally examined, allowed, and ordered paid by the governing board. The district auditor shall issue warrants on the county treasurer for all debts and demands against the district when the amounts are fixed by law. The form of the warrant shall be as prescribed by the governing board and approved by the county auditor or county treasurer.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 85231, the cost of printing the warrants shall be borne by the district.

(c) No county officer shall be responsible for producing reports, statements, and other data relating to or based on these payments of the expenses of the districts. Those districts issuing warrants as provided by this section shall provide the county superintendent of schools, in the form prescribed by him or her, with the data necessary to make retirement reports and other reports required of him or her by law. All warrants, vouchers, and supporting documents shall be kept by the districts that draw their own warrants.

(d) Notwithstanding Section 27005 of the Government Code, or any other section requiring orders for warrants or warrants to be signed by the county superintendent of schools or the county auditor, or both, the county treasurer shall pay the warrant, if money is available.

(e) Notwithstanding Section 84000, except for assessing and tax collecting, the county auditor and the county treasurer may charge those districts that draw their own warrants, and those districts shall pay, for the cost of all fiscal services.

(f) The person authorized by the governing board of the district to issue warrants pursuant to this section shall execute an official bond in an amount fixed by the governing board conditioned upon the faithful performance of his or her duties under this section. A county superintendent of schools or a county auditor shall not be liable under the terms of his or her bond or otherwise for any warrant issued pursuant to this section. It is not intended that this provision shall be applied so as to impair the obligation of any contract in the bond of the officer in effect on the effective date of this section.

(g) A listing of the warrants issued under this section by each district shall be forwarded to the county auditor, upon his or her request, and to the county superintendent of schools on the same day warrants are issued. The listing, which may be magnetic tape, punch cards, or in other form, shall report, among other things, the warrant number, date of the warrant, amount of the warrant, the name of the payee, and the fund on which drawn.

(h) The form and content of the warrant listing shall be as prescribed by the governing board and approved by the county auditor.

(i) Each district which issues warrants pursuant to this section shall furnish monthly to the county superintendent of schools and the county auditor of the county of jurisdiction, upon his or her request, a statement showing the current fiscal year to date, for each required expenditure classification, the amount budgeted, actual expenditures, encumbrances and unencumbered balances.

(j) In order to obtain the approval of the board of governors, a community college district shall file a written application with the county superintendent of schools. Upon receipt of an application from the district, the county superintendent of schools shall cause a survey to be made of the district's accounting controls by an independent certified public accountant or public accountant in accordance with standards prescribed by the board of governors. The certified public accountant or public accountant shall report his or her findings and recommendations to the county superintendent, county auditor, and to the applicant district.

(k) The county superintendent shall forward the district's application, together with his or her other recommendations and the recommendations of the county auditor and a report of the survey, to the board of governors for approval or disapproval of the application. The board of governors shall approve the application only if it finds that the accounting controls of the district are adequate. If the board of governors determines that these controls are inadequate, it shall disapprove the application.

(l) The county superintendent of schools shall be reimbursed for all costs incident to the accounting controls survey made pursuant to the district's application, from the district's funds.

(m) When approved by the board of governors, the issuance of warrants pursuant to this section shall be effective at the beginning of the fiscal year if the approval had been made prior to the preceding first day in January. In the event that the issuance of warrant has been disapproved, the board of governors shall state the specific steps which must be taken by the district in order to receive approval. If at any time the county superintendent of schools determines that the accounting controls of the district have become inadequate, he or she may recommend to the board of governors that the approval be revoked, to be effective on the first day of the next following fiscal year.

87448. (a) No physician, psychiatrist, oculist, dentist, dental hygienist, optometrist, otologist, podiatrist, audiologist, or nurse not employed in that capacity by the State Department of Public Health, shall be, nor shall any other person be, employed or permitted to supervise the health and physical development of students unless he or she holds a services credential with a specialization in health or a valid credential issued prior to November 27, 1970.

(b) Any psychologist employed pursuant to this section shall hold a school psychologist credential, a general pupil personnel services credential authorizing service as a school psychologist, a standard designated services credential with a specialization in pupil personnel services authorizing service as a psychologist, or a services credential issued by the board of governors or the Commission for Teacher Preparation and Licensing.

(c) The services credential with a specialization in health authorizing service as a school nurse shall not authorize teaching services unless the individual holds a baccalaureate degree, or its equivalent, and has completed a fifth year of preparation.

(d) No physician employed by a district to perform medical services pursuant to Section 87440 shall be required to hold a credential issued by the board of governors or the commission, provided he or she meets the requirements of Section 87440.

SEC. 705. Section 88020.5 is added to the Education Code, to read:

88020.5. The governing board of a community college district shall employ persons for food service positions as a part of the classified service.

SEC. 706. Section 16417 of the Government Code is amended to read:

16417. The auditor of any county receiving a payment of money pursuant to this article shall immediately apportion the money by placing 50 percent to the credit of the road fund. The remaining 50 percent shall be divided between school and community college districts where the lands are located, with the division based on attendance. The portion attributable to school districts shall be placed to the credit of the county school service fund of the county. The portion attributable to community college districts shall be paid directly to the district.

SEC. 707. Section 20660 is added to the Public Contract Code, to read:

20660. Perishable food stuffs and seasonal commodities needed in the operation of cafeterias and food services may be purchased by a community college district in accordance with rules and regulations for the purchase adopted by the governing board of that district, notwithstanding any provisions of this code in conflict with the rules and regulations.

SEC. 708. (a) Prior to January 1, 1991, the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges shall initially adopt and put into effect regulations which incorporate the text of the following Education Code provisions that have been repealed or amended by this act. The text of these sections, as they relate to community colleges, may be changed when initially adopted as regulations in accordance with the character of the California Community Colleges as a postsecondary education system, as specified in Section 70900 of the Education Code, and the responsibilities assigned to the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, as specified in the Education Code, including Sections 66700 and 70901. The changes shall not alter the requirements, rights, responsibilities, conditions or prescriptions contained in these statutes. Permitted initial changes include grammatical or technical changes, renumbering or reordering sections, removal of outdated terms or references to inapplicable or repealed statutory authorities, and the correction of gender references of the following sections of the Education Code:

Sections 8070, 8092, 17900, 17901, 17902, 17903, 18120, 18122, 71005, 71034, 72208, 72237, 72601, 72602, 72640, 72641, 72650, 74282, 74283, 76160, 76408, 78002, 78004, 78005, 78006, 78007, 78012, 78200.5, 78202, 78203, 78206, 78222, 78243, 78244, 78245, 78246, 78247, 78248, 78272, 78430, 78431, 78441, 78460, 78920, 79000, 79001, 81000, 81005, 81006, 81008, 81802, 81803, 81806, 81809, 81810, 81821.5, 81830, 81831, 81833, 81838, 82364, 84040.3, 84040.7, 84043, 84044, 84045, 84046, 84051, 84052, 84057, 84324, 84325, 84330, 84331, 84332, 84360, 84370, 84371, 84372, 84387, 84500, 84500.1, 84500.5, 84500.6, 84502, 84520, 84521, 84521.5, 84522, 84524.5, 84526, 84527, 84530, 84570, 84571, 84572, 84801, 84810, 84891, 84892, 84893, 84894, 84895, 85000, 85003, 85020, 85021, 85022, 85023, 85024, 85200, and 85210, and the second paragraph of Section 68090 of, the second sentence of Section 78205 of, the first sentence of Section 84041 of, and subdivision (b) of Section 84890. After initial adoption of the Board of Governors regulations specified by this section, all subsequent changes to those regulations shall be made in accordance with Section 70901.5 of the Education Code.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature that there be no lapse in the requirements, rights, responsibilities, conditions, or prescriptions contained in the statutes. Should the board of governors fail to adopt and put into effect regulations in accordance with subdivision (a), the listed statutes shall remain operative until the effective date of the corresponding board of governors regulations.

(c) After the text of Sections 78460, 84500, 84500.1, 84500.5, 84500.6, 84502, 84520, 84521, 84521.5, 84524.5, 84526, 84527, 84530, 84570, 84571, 84801, and 84895 of the Education Code have been initially adopted as regulations, any changes to these regulations, other than purely technical changes approved by the Department of Finance, shall not become effective until the implementation of Section 84750 of the Education Code in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (e) of Section 70 of Chapter 973 of the Statutes of 1988.

(d) The Legislature hereby finds and declares that all statutes which it has directed the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges to adopt as regulations meet the standards of necessity, authority, clarity, consistency, reference, and nonduplication as provided in Section 70901.5 of the Education Code.

SEC. 709. Sections 13, 14, 18, 21, 27, 31, 50, 119, 120, 260, and 433 of this act shall become effective January 1, 1992.

SEC. 710. If the provisions of this bill amending Section 22200 of the Education Code and the provisions of AB 2642 amending Section 22200 of the Education Code are both chaptered on or before January 1, 1991, the provisions of AB 2642 amending Section 22200 shall prevail over the provisions of this bill amending that section.

SEC. 711. If the provisions of this bill amending Section 69511.5 of the Education Code and the provisions of AB 3397 amending Section 69511.5 of the Education Code are both chaptered on or before January 1, 1991, the provisions of AB 3397 amending Section 69511.5 of the Education Code shall prevail over the provisions of this bill amending that section.

SEC. 712. If the provisions of this bill amending Section 78213 of the Education Code and the provisions of AB 3707 amending Section 78213 of the Education Code are both chaptered on or before January 1, 1991, the provisions of AB 3707 amending Section 78213 of the Education Code shall prevail over the provisions of this bill amending that section.

SEC. 713. The Legislature recognizes that the review of the necessity of amending or repealing appropriate sections of the Education Code, as embodied in this act, reflects the best efforts of the board of governors to implement Section 57 of Chapter 973 of the Statutes of 1988 within the time constraints afforded. The Legislature also recognizes that additional review will permit greater input of interested parties, securing of appropriate expertise in those technical areas which were not addressed in this act, and further refinement of the governance structure identified in Chapter 973.

Accordingly, the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges shall continue its review of the Education Code related to the administration and operation of the California Community Colleges and shall recommend to the Legislature the amendment or repeal of those provisions affected by Chapter 973 of the Statutes of 1988 which have not been accomplished in this act.

SEC. 714. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1373

An act to add Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 9990) to Division 3.6 of the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 9990) is added to Division 3.6 of the Vehicle Code, to read:

CHAPTER 4. DISCLOSURE OF DAMAGE

9990. For purposes of this chapter, damage sustained by a motor vehicle is material under any of the following circumstances:

(a) The damage required repairs having a value, including parts and labor calculated at the repairer's cost, exceeding 3 percent of the manufacturer's suggested retail price of the vehicle or five hundred dollars ($500), whichever is greater. The replacement of damaged or stolen components, excluding the cost of repainting or refinishing those components, if replaced by the installation of new original manufacturer's equipment, parts, or accessories that are bolted or otherwise attached as a unit to the vehicle, including, but not limited to, the hood, bumpers, fenders, mechanical parts, instrument panels, moldings, glass, tires, wheels, and electronic instruments, shall be excluded from the damage calculation, except that any damage having a cumulative repair or replacement value which exceeds 10 percent of the manufacturer's suggested retail price of the vehicle shall be deemed material.

(b) The damage was to the frame or drive train of the motor vehicle.

(c) The damage occurred in connection with a theft of the entire vehicle.

(d) The damage was to the suspension of the vehicle requiring repairs other than wheel balancing or alignment.

9991. Every dealer shall disclose in writing to the purchaser of a new or previously unregistered motor vehicle, prior to entering into a contract for the vehicle or, if unknown at that time, prior to delivery of the vehicle, any material damage known by the dealer to have been sustained by the vehicle and subsequently repaired.

9992. Every dealer shall disclose in writing to the purchaser of a new or previously unregistered motor vehicle, prior to entering into a contract for the vehicle or, if unknown at that time, prior to delivery of the vehicle, any damage, including, but not limited to, material damage, known by the dealer to have been sustained by the vehicle and not repaired.

9993. Nothing in this chapter permits any dealer to respond to the inquiry of a purchaser in any untrue or misleading manner.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1374

An act to amend Section 798.87 of, and to add Section 798.42 to, the Civil Code, relating to mobilehomes.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 798.42 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

798.42. (a) The management shall not charge or impose upon a homeowner any fee or increase in rent which reflects the cost to the management of any fine, forfeiture, penalty, or fee assessed by a court of law against the management for a violation of this chapter, including any attorney's fees and costs incurred by the management in connection therewith.

(b) A court shall consider the remoteness in time of the assessment against the management of any fine, forfeiture, penalty, or fee in determining whether the homeowner has met the burden of proof that the fee or increase in rent is in violation of this section.

SEC. 2. Section 798.87 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

798.87. (a) The substantial failure of the management to provide and maintain physical improvements in the common facilities in good working order and condition shall be deemed a public nuisance. Notwithstanding Section 3491, such a nuisance may only be remedied by a civil action or abatement.

(b) The substantial violation of a mobilehome park rule shall be deemed a public nuisance. Notwithstanding Section 3491, such a nuisance may only be remedied by a civil action or abatement.

(c) A civil action pursuant to this section may be brought by a park resident, the park management, or in the name of the people of California by the district attorney or the city attorney of the jurisdiction in which the park is located.

CHAPTER 1375

An act to amend Sections 510, 12921.3, and 12921.4 of, and to add Section 12921.1 to, the Insurance Code, relating to insurance.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. In enacting this act, the Legislature finds and declares that the Department of Insurance should continue its consumer services efforts while focusing increased energies on bringing enforcement actions against those insurers who are found through the complaint handling process to be in violation of insurance laws and regulations, thereby discouraging future illegal practices by insurers. To help assure this result, the department should:

(a) Where necessary, develop sufficient procedures to investigate complaints and to pursue appropriate disciplinary action against an industry that the voters have asserted needs broader regulation and stricter scrutiny.

(b) Provide the public with easy access to the department.

(c) Provide the public information on individual insurers regarding complaints, disciplinary actions, and license status.

SEC. 2. Section 510 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

510. Whenever a policy of insurance specified in Section 660 or 675, a policy of life insurance as defined in Section 101, a policy of disability insurance as defined in Section 106, or a certificate of coverage as defined in Section 10270.6, is first issued to or delivered to a new insured or a new policyholder in this state, the insurer shall include a written disclosure containing the name, address, and toll-free telephone number of the unit within the Department of Insurance which deals with consumer affairs. The telephone number shall be the same as that provided to consumers under Section 12921.1. The disclosure shall be printed in large, boldface type.

The disclosure shall contain a statement that the Department of Insurance should be contacted only after the contacts between the complainant and the insurer or its agent or other representative have failed to produce a satisfactory solution to the problem.

SEC. 3. Section 12921.1 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

12921.1. The commissioner shall establish a program on or before July 1, 1991, to investigate complaints and respond to inquiries received pursuant to Section 12921.3, to comply with Section 12921.4, and, when warranted, to bring enforcement actions against insurers. The program shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(a) A toll-free number published in telephone books throughout the state, dedicated to the handling of complaints and inquiries.

(b) Public service announcements to inform consumers of the toll-free telephone number and how to register a complaint or make an inquiry to the department.

(c) A simple, standardized complaint form designed to assure that complaints will be properly registered and tracked.

(d) Retention of records on complaints for at least three years after the complaint has been closed.

(e) Guidelines to disseminate complaint and enforcement information on individual insurers to the public, which shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(1) License status.

(2) Number and type of complaints closed within the last full calendar year, with analogous statistics from the prior two years for comparison. The proportion of those complaints determined by the department to require that corrective action be taken against the insurer, or leading to insurer compromise, or other remedy for the complainant, as compared to those which are found to be without merit. This information shall be disseminated in a fashion which will facilitate identification of meritless complaints and discourage their consideration by consumers and others interested in the records of insurers.

(3) Number and type of violations found.

(4) Number and type of enforcement actions taken.

(5) Ratio of complaints received to total policies in force, or premium dollars paid in a given line, or both.

(6) Any other information the department deems is appropriate public information regarding the complaint record of the insurer that will assist the public in selecting an insurer. However, nothing in this section shall be construed to permit disclosure of information or documents in the possession of the department to the extent that the information and those documents are protected from disclosure under any other provision of law.

(f) Procedures and average processing times for each step of complaint mediation, investigation, and enforcement. These procedures shall be consistent with those in Article 6.5 (commencing with Section 790) of Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 1 for complaints within the purview of that article, consistent with those in Article 7 (commencing with Section 1858) of Chapter 9 of Part 2 of Division 1 for complaints within the purview of that article, and consistent with any other provisions of law requiring certain procedures to be followed by the department in investigating or prosecuting complaints against insurers.

(g) A list of criteria to determine which violations should be pursued through enforcement action, and enforcement guidelines that set forth appropriate penalties for violations based on the nature, severity, and frequency of the violations.

(h) Referral of complaints not within the department's jurisdiction to appropriate public and private agencies.

(i) Complaint handling goals that can be tested against surveys carried out pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 12921.4.

(j) Inclusion in its annual report to the Governor, required by Section 12922, detailed information regarding the program required by this section, which shall include, but not be limited to: a description of the operation of the complaint handling process, listing civil, criminal, and administrative actions taken pursuant to complaints received; the percentage of the department's personnel years devoted to the handling and resolution of complaints; and suggestions for legislation to improve the complaint handling apparatus and to increase the amount of enforcement action undertaken by the department pursuant to complaints if further enforcement is deemed necessary to insure proper compliance by insurers with the law.

SEC. 4. Section 12921.3 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

12921.3. The commissioner, in person or through employees of the department, shall receive complaints and inquiries, investigate complaints, prosecute insurers when appropriate and according to guidelines determined pursuant to subdivision (g) of Section 12921.1, and respond to complaints and inquiries by members of the public concerning the handling of insurance claims, including but not limited to, violations of Article 10 (commencing with Section 1861) of Chapter 9 of Part 2 of Division 1, by insurers, or alleged misconduct by insurers or production agencies.

The commissioner, as he or she deems appropriate, and pursuant to Section 12921.1, shall provide for the education of, and dissemination of information to, members of the general public or licensees of the department concerning insurance matters.

SEC. 5. Section 12921.4 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

12921.4. (a) The commissioner shall, upon receipt of a written complaint with respect to the handling of an insurance claim or other obligation under the policy by an insurer or production agency, or alleged misconduct by an insurer or production agency, notify the complainant of the receipt of the complaint within 10 working days of receipt. Thereafter, the commissioner shall notify the complainant of the final action taken on his or her complaint.

The department shall include, with each notification of final action, or, at a minimum, with a number of randomly selected notifications of final action sufficient to assure the validity of results, a complaint handling evaluation form. This form shall clearly and concisely seek an evaluation of the department's performance in handling the complainant's grievance. The areas of evaluation shall include, but not be limited to: whether the complaint was handled in a fair and reasonable manner, evaluated thoroughly and without bias; the time required for resolution of the complaint; whether the complaint was referred and, if so, whether it was referred within a satisfactory time; whether the staff involved in handling the complaint demonstrated an adequate knowledge of the issues involved in the complaint; whether the complainant was satisfied with the result of the department's intervention; and whether the complainant would recommend the department's complaint handling services to others.

The commissioner shall, if deemed appropriate, notify insurers or production agencies against whom the complaint is made of the nature of the complaint, may request appropriate relief for the complainant and may meet and confer with the complainant and the insurer in order to mediate the complaint. This section shall not be construed to give the commissioner power to adjudicate claims.

(b) The commissioner shall ascertain patterns of complaints by insurer, geographic area, insurance line, type of violation, and any other valid basis the commissioner may deem appropriate for further investigation, and periodically evaluate the complaint patterns to determine what additional audit, investigative, or enforcement actions which may be taken by the commissioner and report on all actions taken with respect to those patterns of complaints in his or her annual report to the Governor pursuant to Section 12922, and to the public. For the purposes of this subdivision, complaints mean those written complaints received by the commissioner under subdivision (a) and written complaints received by the commissioner from any other sources alleging misconduct or unlawful acts by insurers or production agencies.

SEC. 6. It is the intent of the Legislature that for purposes of this act, the word "prosecute" shall not be deemed to expand the Insurance Commissioner's existing authority to bring enforcement actions against insurers.

CHAPTER 1376

An act to add Sections 304.1, 304.2, 304.3, 304.6, 304.7, and 304.8 to, and to repeal Sections 305, 306, and 307 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to maternal and child health.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 304.1 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

304.1. A licensed physician and surgeon or other person engaged in the prenatal care of a pregnant woman or attending the woman at the time of delivery shall obtain or cause to be obtained a blood specimen of the woman. Prior to obtaining the blood specimen, the woman shall be notified of the fact that the blood specimen is going to be obtained. If the blood specimen is not obtained prior to delivery, it shall be obtained at the time of delivery.

SEC. 2. Section 304.2 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

304.2. (a) A blood specimen obtained pursuant to Section 304.1 shall be submitted to a clinical laboratory licensed by the state department or to an approved public health laboratory for a determination of rhesus (Rh) blood type and the results shall be reported to both of the following:

(1) The physician and surgeon or other person engaged in the prenatal care of the woman or attending the woman at the time of delivery.

(2) The woman tested.

(b) In addition, a blood specimen obtained pursuant to Section 304.1 shall be submitted to a clinical laboratory licensed by the state department or to an approved public health laboratory for a test to determine the presence of hepatitis B surface antigen. In the event that other tests to determine hepatitis B infection become available, the state department may approve additional tests.

SEC. 3. Section 304.3 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

304.3. (a) Subdivision (a) of Section 304.2 shall not be applicable if the licensed physician and surgeon or other person engaged in the prenatal care of a pregnant woman or attending the woman at the time of delivery has knowledge of the woman's blood type and accepts responsibility for the accuracy of the information.

(b) Subdivision (b) of Section 304.2 shall not be applicable if the licensed physician and surgeon or other person engaged in the prenatal care of a pregnant woman or attending the woman at the time of delivery has knowledge that the woman has previously been determined to be chronically infected with hepatitis (B) and accepts responsibility for the accuracy of the information.

SEC. 4. Section 304.6 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

304.6. The state department may adopt rules and regulations as it determines are reasonably necessary for the implementation of this article.

SEC. 5. Section 304.7 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

304.7. (a) Clinical laboratories licensed by the state department, approved public health laboratories, local health departments, physicians and surgeons, or other persons engaged in the prenatal care of a pregnant woman or in the care of an infant shall maintain and make available to the state department information necessary to evaluate, for public health purposes, the effectiveness of testing and followup treatment for the prevention of perinatally transmitted hepatitis B infection.

(b) The state department shall make available, to the extent state funds are appropriated therefor in the annual Budget Act or federal funds are available for that purpose, money to each county requesting funds for testing and followup treatment for the prevention of perinatally transmitted hepatitis B infection or for any functions performed pursuant to subdivision (a). The money shall be allocated by the state department on the basis of the incidence of perinatally transmitted hepatitis B infection and the need for necessary followup treatment and evaluation in the requesting county.

SEC. 6. Section 304.8 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

304.8. (a) The blood specimen and test results pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 304.2 shall be confidential and shall not be disclosed, except as otherwise provided by law.

(b) No person shall be compelled in any state, county, city, or other local civil, criminal, administrative, legislative, or other proceeding to provide test results determined pursuant to Section 304.1 and Section 304.2.

SEC. 7. Section 305 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 8. Section 306 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 9. Section 307 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

CHAPTER 1377

An act to amend Sections 50811 and 50813 of, to add Section 50818 to, and to amend and renumber the heading of Chapter 11.5 (commencing with Section 50810) of Part 2 of Division 31 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to housing, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The heading of Chapter 11.5 (commencing with Section 50810) of Part 2 of Division 31 of the Health and Safety Code is amended and renumbered to read:

CHAPTER 11.6. TRANSITIONAL HOUSING RENTAL DEPOSIT GUARANTEE DEMONSTRATION PROGRAM

SEC. 2. Section 50811 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

50811. The Director of Housing and Community Development shall establish the Transitional Housing Rental Deposit Guarantee Demonstration Program within the program established under Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 50800). Under the demonstration program, the department shall provide grants and technical assistance only to local nonprofit agencies or local governments operating emergency housing shelters or providing services relating to emergency housing needs of homeless individuals or families, to enable them to provide contractual guarantees for the payment of residential rental security deposits pursuant to this chapter. In order to be eligible for a grant under this chapter, the recipient shall match 15 percent of the dollar amount of the grant from private donations.

SEC. 3. Section 50813 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

50813. Prospective tenants who are eligible to participate in a deposit guarantee contract shall be limited to homeless persons who are residing in an emergency housing shelter operated by a nonprofit organization or local governmental agency and who have a source of income sufficient to pay a monthly rental payment, but do not have the funds necessary for the payment of a security deposit. First priority for funds shall be families with minor children. Homeless persons and families who are temporarily residing in a park, car, or structure not designed for human habitation, or who are temporarily residing with another household in overcrowded conditions, or who are otherwise without shelter are also eligible.

Prior to entering into a contract with a prospective tenant under Section 50814, the local agency shall make a determination of the eligibility of the household to participate in the program and a determination that an appropriate rental unit is available for occupation. A determination of eligibility shall include a verification of income and a determination that the head of the household is actually homeless.

SEC. 4. Section 50818 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

50818. The Transitional Housing Rental Deposit Guarantee Demonstration Program established in this chapter (commencing with Section 50810) shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1993, and, as of that date, is repealed unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered on or before July 1, 1993, deletes or extends that date.

CHAPTER 1378

An act to add Section 16501.6 to the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to public social services.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 16501.6 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

16501.6. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature for the State Department of Social Services to enhance the Child Welfare Services Case Management System to include information concerning the level of care required, educational accomplishments, and health history of children placed in foster care. If appropriate, this enhancement could be made after the system is operational statewide as required in Section 16501.5.

(b) The department shall conduct a study to examine the most efficient methods of collecting and maintaining all of the following data for each child in foster care:

(1) The names and addresses of the child's health and educational providers.

(2) The child's grade level performance.

(3) The child's school record.

(4) Assurances that the child's placement in foster care takes into account proximity to the school in which the child is enrolled at the time of placement.

(5) A record of the child's immunizations.

(6) The child's known medical problems.

(7) The child's medications.

(8) Any other relevant level of care, health and education information concerning the child as determined appropriate by the department.

(b) In conducting its study, the department shall, as required, examine county health passport systems for possible replication on a statewide basis and consult with other state departments, county associations, and provider groups.

(d) By February 15, 1992, the department shall submit a report to the appropriate policy and fiscal committees of the Legislature on the results of its study. The department shall include the following in its report:

(1) Recommendations for coordinating data collection among local child health and disability prevention programs, other health care providers, county welfare departments, schools, and other agencies providing services for foster children.

(2) Recommendations for the interfacing with any alternative system recommended pursuant to paragraph (1) with the mental health assessment required by Section 5407, and with other requirements of law.

(e) The report required by subdivision (d) shall address the feasibility, timeframe, and estimated costs of doing either of the following:

(1) Incorporating the data specified in subdivision (b) in the Child Welfare Services Case Management System.

(2) Implementing an alternative system which is more appropriate for the collection and maintenance of the data specified in subdivision (b).

CHAPTER 1379

An act to amend Section 1174 of, and to add Sections 1174.5 and 1205 to, the Labor Code, relating to labor.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1174 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

1174. Every person employing labor in this state shall:

(a) Furnish to the commission, at its request, reports or information which the commission requires to carry out this chapter. The reports and information shall be verified if required by the commission or any member thereof.

(b) Allow any member of the commission or the employees of the Division of Labor Standards Enforcement free access to the place of business or employment of the person to secure any information or make any investigation which they are authorized by this chapter to ascertain or make. The commission may inspect or make excerpts, relating to the employment of employees, from the books, reports, contracts, payrolls, documents, or papers of the person.

(c) Keep a record showing the names and addresses of all employees employed and the ages of all minors.

(d) Keep at a central location in the state or at the plants or establishments at which employees are employed, payroll records showing the hours worked daily by, and the wages paid to, employees employed at the respective plants or establishments, and which shall be kept in accordance with rules established for this purpose by the commission, but in any case shall be kept on file for not less than two years.

SEC. 2. Section 1174.5 is added to the Labor Code, to read:

1174.5. (a) Any person employing labor who willfully fails to maintain the records required by subdivision (c) of Section 1174 or accurate and complete records required by subdivision (d) of Section 1174 , or to allow any member of the commission or employees of the division to inspect records pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1174, shall be subject to a civil penalty of five hundred dollars ($500).

SEC. 3. Section 1205 is added to the Labor Code, to read:

1205. Nothing in this part shall be deemed to restrict the exercise of local police powers in a more stringent manner.

CHAPTER 1380

An act to add Article 9.5 (commencing with Section 11773) to Chapter 7 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, relating to electronic data processing.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares:

(a) State government is becoming increasingly dependent upon computer technology in the performance of public business and the storage of vital information.

(b) The operation of state government could be seriously impaired by disasters, natural or manmade, impacting state government computer operations.

(c) State government must assume that disasters will at some point strike all or part of its computer operations.

(d) Proper planning for disaster recovery with respect to government operations could help to ensure the maintenance and prompt resumption of vital public services.

(e) There is a need in state government for a more substantial and formalized process of disaster recovery planning in regards to government operations which are dependent upon automation.

SEC. 2. Article 9.5 (commencing with Section 11773) is added to Chapter 7 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, to read:

Article 9.5. Disaster Recovery Planning

11773. Each state agency shall develop by July 1, 1991, a Disaster Recovery Plan with respect to information technology. Each agency shall establish a Disaster Recovery Planning Team to develop the Disaster Recovery Plan and to administer the plan's implementation. In developing the plan, the Disaster Recovery Planning Team shall do all of the following:

(a) Consider the organizational, managerial, and technical environments in which the Disaster Recovery Plan must be implemented.

(b) Assess the types and likely parameters of disasters most likely to occur and the resultant impacts on the agency's ability to perform its mission.

(c) List protective measures to be implemented in anticipation of a disaster, natural or manmade. Protective measures listed shall be:

(1) Those protective measures determined to be most cost effective; and

(2) Identified through the risk management process for information technology referred to in the State Administrative Manual.

11774. Each state agency shall file a copy of its Disaster Recovery Plan with the Office of Information Technology by January 31 of each year. The Office of Information Technology shall assist, review, and coordinate disaster planning with respect to information technology for all state agencies. If a state agency employs the services of a state data center, the agency must also provide the data center with a copy of its Disaster Recovery Plan.

11775. For purposes of this article, "disaster recovery planning" includes, but is not limited to, the documentation, plans, policies, and procedures that are required to restore normal operation to a state agency impacted by manmade or natural disaster.

CHAPTER 1381

An act to amend Section 14132.76 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to public social services.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) Current low levels of reimbursement under the Medi-Cal program inhibit access to durable and home medical equipment by Medi-Cal beneficiaries.

(b) The provision of durable and home health equipment to patients in their homes and nonacute facilities is an extremely cost-effective alternative to hospitalization, resulting in savings to the Medi-Cal program.

(c) Advances in medicine and in equipment design and changes in hospital reimbursement have allowed a greater number of patients to recuperate or convalesce in the home setting. The current level of Medi-Cal reimbursement for durable medical equipment is not reflective of these changes.

SEC. 2. Section 14132.76 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14132.76. (a) (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the department shall establish a pilot demonstration program under which no treatment authorization requests shall be required for the provision of prosthetic devices, including replacement or repair of these devices, which do not exceed five hundred dollars ($500), and of orthotic devices which do not exceed two hundred fifty dollars ($250).

(2) The purpose of the pilot demonstration program shall be the determination of cost savings to the Medi-Cal program.

(b) (1) The department shall review the effectiveness of the pilot demonstration program implemented pursuant to subdivision (a) and report its conclusions to the appropriate committees of the Legislature by December 31, 1992.

(2) The review and report required by paragraph (1) shall also address the potential effectiveness of eliminating the use of treatment authorizations in the containment of Medi-Cal costs.

(c) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1993, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 3. The State Department of Health Services shall promulgate regulations to require prior authorization for the repair costs of durable medical equipment covered under the Medi-Cal program only when the cost to the department exceeds an amount determined by the department, but no less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250).

CHAPTER 1382

An act to amend Section 3059 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to optometry.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3059 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

3059. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature that the public health and safety would be served by requiring all holders of licenses to practice optometry granted under this chapter to continue their education after receiving their licenses. The board shall adopt regulations which require, as a condition to the renewal thereof, that all holders of licenses submit proof satisfactory to the board that they have informed themselves of the developments in the practice of optometry occurring since the original issuance of their licenses by pursuing one or more courses of study satisfactory to the board or by other means deemed equivalent by the board.

(b) The board may, in accordance with the intent of this section, make exceptions from continuing education requirements for reasons of health, military service, or other good cause.

(c) If for good cause compliance cannot be met for the current year, the board may grant exemption of compliance for that year, provided that a plan of future compliance that includes current requirements as well as makeup of previous requirements is approved by the board.

(d) The board may require that proof of compliance with this section be submitted on an annual or biennial basis as determined by the board.

CHAPTER 1383

An act to add Sections 20570.1 and 31202 to the Government Code, relating to public retirement.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 20570.1 is added to the Government Code, to read:

20570.1. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, the board may enter into an agreement in accordance with Section 20570 with the governing body of a contracting agency, and the governing body of a city maintaining its own retirement system for termination of the contracting agency's participation in this system with respect to local firefighters and inclusion of those local firefighters in that city retirement system if the firefighting function of the contracting agency and the local firefighters have been transferred to that city. The contract shall continue with respect to all employees of the contracting agency other than local firefighters.

SEC. 2. Section 31202 is added to the Government Code, to read:

31202. Any firefighter who has become an employee of the first public agency because of the assumption by that public agency of the firefighting function of the second public agency who, at any time after becoming an employee of the first public agency, pays into the retirement fund of that first public agency the same amount which he or she would have contributed had he or she been employed by the first public agency at the same salary, and for the same time or periods of time for which and during which he or she was employed by the second public agency whose firefighting function is assumed by the first public agency shall have all of the retirement rights which he or she would have had, if any, had he or she been an employee of the first public agency at that salary and for the time or periods of time, unless the first public agency has provided by ordinance pursuant to Section 45310.5 for a modification of his or her rights and benefits because of membership in a reciprocal retirement system.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1384

An act to amend Sections 6425 and 6432 of the Labor Code, relating to occupational safety.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6425 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

6425. Every employer, and every employee having direction, management, control, or custody of any employment, place of employment, or other employee, who willfully violates any occupational safety or health standard, order, or special order, or Section 25910 of the Health and Safety Code, and that violation caused death to any employee, or caused permanent or prolonged impairment of the body of any employee, shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both; except that if the conviction is for a violation committed after a first conviction of that person, punishment shall be by a fine not to exceed twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both. Nothing in this section shall prohibit a prosecution under Section 192 of the Penal Code.

SEC. 2. Section 6432 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

6432. (a) As used in this part, a "serious violation" shall be deemed to exist in a place of employment if there is a substantial probability that death or serious physical harm could result from a serious exposure exceeding an established permissible exposure limit or a condition which exists, or from one or more practices, means, methods, operations, or processes which have been adopted or are in use, in the place of employment unless the employer did not, and could not with the exercise of reasonable diligence, know of the presence of the violation.

(b) As used in this section, "substantial probability" refers not to the probability that an accident or exposure will occur as a result of the violation, but rather to the probability that death or serious physical harm will result assuming an accident or exposure occurs as a result of the violation.

CHAPTER 1385

An act to amend Sections 1325, 1327, and 1329 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to health services, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1325 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1325. The Legislature finds and declares that the transfer trauma which accompanies the abrupt and involuntary transfer of patients from one nursing home to another should be avoided when reasonable alternatives exist.

It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this article to provide an alternative by establishing a system whereby the State Department of Health Services may apply for a court order appointing a receiver to temporarily operate a long-term health care facility. The receivership is not intended to punish a licensee or to replace attempts to secure cooperative action to protect the patients' health and security. The receivership is intended to protect the patients in the absence of other reasonably available alternatives.

The receiver may be appointed when a long-term health care facility is found to be in such condition that continued operation by the licensee, or his or her representative, presents a substantial probability or imminent danger of serious physical harm or death to the patients.

The receiver shall assume the operation of such a facility in order to either bring it into compliance with law and return it to the original licensee in accordance with standards set forth in this article, or facilitate a transfer of ownership to a new licensee. The receiver shall assure the orderly transfer of patients should the facility ultimately close.

SEC. 2. Section 1327 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1327. (a) Whenever circumstances exist indicating that continued management of a long-term health care facility by the current licensee would present a substantial probability or imminent danger of serious physical harm or death to the patients, or there exists in the facility a condition in substantial violation of this chapter or the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter, or the facility exhibits a pattern or practice of habitual violation of this chapter or the rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto, or the facility is closing or intends to terminate operation as a licensed long-term health care facility and adequate arrangements for relocation of residents have not been made at least 30 days prior to the closing or termination, the director may petition the superior court for the county in which the long-term health care facility is located for an order appointing a receiver to temporarily operate the long-term health care facility in accordance with this article.

The petition shall allege the facts upon which the action is based and shall be supported by an affidavit of the director. A copy of the petition and affidavits, together with an order to appear and show cause why temporary authority to operate the long-term health care facility should not be vested in a receiver pursuant to this article, shall be delivered to the licensee, administrator, or a responsible person at the facility to the attention of the licensee and administrator. The order shall specify a hearing date, which shall be not less than five, nor more than 10, days following delivery of the petition and order upon the licensee, except that the court may shorten or lengthen the time upon a showing of just cause.

(b) If the director files a petition pursuant to subdivision (a) for appointment of a receiver to operate a long-term health care facility, in accordance with Section 564 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the director may also petition the court, in accordance with Section 527 of the Code of Civil Procedure, for an order appointing a temporary receiver. A temporary receiver appointed by the court pursuant to this subdivision shall serve until the court has made a final determination on the petition for appointment of a receiver filed pursuant to subdivision (a). A receiver appointed pursuant to this subdivision shall have the same powers and duties as a receiver would have if appointed pursuant to subdivision (a).

At the time of the hearing, the state department shall advise the licensee of the name of the proposed receiver. The receiver shall be a licensed nursing home administrator or other responsible person or entity, as determined by the court, from a list of qualified receivers established by the state department, with input from providers of long-term care and consumer representatives. The department shall consult with the Board of Examiners of Nursing Home Administrators, in order to screen potential receivers who are licensed by the board, and to determine if they are administrators in good standing. Persons appearing on the list shall have experience in the delivery of health care services, and, if feasible, shall have experience with the operation of a long-term health care facility. The receivers shall have sufficient background and experience in management and finances to ensure compliance with orders issued by the court. The owner, licensee, or administrator shall not be appointed as the receiver unless authorized by the court.

If at the conclusion of the hearing, which may include oral testimony and cross-examination at the option of any party, the court determines that adequate grounds exist for the appointment of a receiver and that there is no other reasonably available remedy to protect the patients, the court may issue an order appointing a receiver to temporarily operate the long-term health care facility and enjoining the licensee from interfering with the receiver in the conduct of his or her duties. The court shall in any such proceedings make written findings of fact and conclusions of law, and shall require an appropriate bond to be filed by the receiver and paid for by the licensee. The bond shall be in an amount necessary to protect the licensee in the event of any failure on the part of the receiver to act in a reasonable manner. The bond requirement may be waived by the licensee.

The court may permit the licensee to participate in the continued operation of the facility during the pendency of any receivership ordered pursuant to this section and shall issue an order detailing the nature and scope of participation.

Failure of the licensee to appear at the hearing on the petition shall constitute an admission of all factual allegations contained in the petition for purposes of these proceedings only.

The licensee shall receive notice and a copy of the application each time the receiver applies to the court or the state department for instructions regarding his or her duties under the provisions of this article, when an accounting pursuant to Section 1330 is submitted, and when a report pursuant to Section 1332 or other report is submitted. The licensee shall have an opportunity to present objections or otherwise participate in any such proceeding.

(c) (1) The director may petition the superior court pursuant to this section for the county in which any health facility, as defined in subdivision (e), (g), or (h) of Section 1250, providing long-term care for persons with developmental disabilities is located, for an order appointing a temporary receiver to operate the facility for a maximum of 120 days in accordance with this article.

(2) The state department may provide onsite technical assistance to the receiver appointed pursuant to this subdivision, if requested by the receiver, to continue operation of the facility. The technical assistance may include, but need not be limited to, technical assistance regarding any of the following:

(A) Staff training and personnel management.

(B) Rate adjustment applications and appeals.

(C) Administrative practices and procedures.

(D) Fiscal management.

(E) Licensing regulations and review procedures.

(3) The state department shall notify the State Department of Developmental Services and the appropriate regional center, or centers, of the receivership action.

(4) When the director has determined that the facility specified in paragraph (1) presents a risk of abruptly closing, but the director determines that the situation does not require the filing of a petition with the court for an order appointing a receiver, the director may provide onsite technical assistance as specified in paragraph (2) to the operator of the facility if the operator requests the assistance.

SEC. 3. Section 1329 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1329. (a) When a receiver is appointed, the licensee may, at the discretion of the court, be divested of possession and control of the facility in favor of the receiver. The receiver appointed pursuant to this article:

(1) May exercise those powers and shall perform those duties ordered by the court, in addition to other duties provided by statute.

(2) Shall operate the facility in a manner which assures safety and adequate health care for the residents.

(3) Shall have the same rights to possession of the building in which the facility is located, and of all goods and fixtures in the building at the time the petition for receivership is filed, as the licensee and administrator would have had if the receiver had not been appointed.

(4) May use the funds, building, fixtures, furnishings, and any accompanying consumable goods in the provision of care and services to residents and to any other persons receiving services from the facility at the time the petition for receivership was filed.

(5) Shall take title to all revenue coming to the facility in the name of the receiver who shall use it for the following purposes in descending order of priority:

(A) To pay wages to staff. The receiver shall have full power to hire, direct, manage, and discharge employees of the facility, subject to any contractual rights they may have. The receiver shall pay employees at the same rate of compensation, including benefits, that the employees would have received from the licensee.

(B) To preserve patient funds. The receiver shall be entitled to, and shall take, possession of all property or assets of residents which are in the possession of the licensee or operator of the facility. The receiver shall preserve all property, assets, and records of residents of which the receiver takes possession.

(C) To contract for outside services as may be needed for the operation of the long-term health care facility. Any contract for outside services in excess of three thousand dollars ($3,000) shall be approved by the court.

(D) To pay commercial creditors of the long-term health care facility. Except as provided in Section 1329.5, the receiver shall honor all leases, mortgages, and secured transactions affecting the building in which the facility is located and all goods and fixtures in the building of which the receiver has taken possession, but only to the extent of payments which, in the case of a rental agreement, are for the use of the property during the period of receivership, or which, in the case of a purchase agreement, come due during the period of receivership.

(E) To receive a salary, as approved by the court.

(F) To do all things necessary and proper to maintain and operate the facility in accordance with sound fiscal policies. The receiver shall take action as is reasonably necessary to protect or conserve the assets or property of which the receiver takes possession and may use such assets or property only in the performance of the powers and duties set out in this section and by order of the court.

(G) To ask the court for direction in the treatment of debts incurred prior to the appointment, where the licensee's debts appear extraordinary, of questionable validity, or unrelated to the normal and expected maintenance and operation of the facility, or where payment of the debts will interfere with the purposes of receivership.

(b) A person who is served with notice of an order of the court appointing a receiver and of the receiver's name and address shall be liable to pay the receiver, rather than the licensee, for any goods or services provided by the long-term health care facility after the date of the order. The receiver shall give a receipt for each payment and shall keep a copy of each receipt on file. The receiver shall deposit amounts received in a special account and shall use this account for all disbursements. Payment to the receiver pursuant to this subdivision shall discharge the obligation to the extent of the payment and shall not thereafter be the basis of a claim by the licensee or any other person. A resident may not be discharged nor may any contract or rights be forfeited or impaired, nor may any forfeiture be effected or liability increased, by reason of an omission to pay the licensee, operator, or other person a sum paid to the receiver pursuant to this subdivision.

(c) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to suspend, during the temporary management by the receiver, any obligation of the licensee for payment of local, state, or federal taxes. No licensee may be held liable for acts or omissions of the receiver during the term of the temporary management.

(d) Upon petition of the receiver, the court may order immediate payment to the receiver for past services which have been rendered and billed, and the court may also order a sum not to exceed one month's advance payment to the receiver of any sums that will become payable under the Medi-Cal program.

SEC. 4. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that abrupt closure of facilities may in many cases result from the facilities' loss of certification for Medi-Cal participation pursuant to Section 14110 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. In order to determine the extent that decertification and other factors contribute to the problem of abrupt facility closures, it is necessary to have current data relating to the relationship between these factors and facility closures.

(b) The State Department of Health Services shall submit a report to the Legislature on or before March 1, 1993, which contains all of the following information for each of the preceding three years for all intermediate care facilities licensed to provide long-term care for persons with developmental disabilities:

(1) The number of facilities, by licensure category, notified of decertification proceedings.

(2) The number of facilities, by licensure category, actually decertified.

(3) The number of facilities, by licensure category, which closed voluntarily or were transferred to new management by the prior operator, and a statement of the reasons therefor.

(4) The number of facilities placed under receivership, a statement of actions taken by the department in each instance, and a statement of the current status of the facilities.

(5) The number of facilities requesting technical assistance, actions taken by the department in each instance, and current status of each facility.

(6) The number of residents of voluntarily closed or decertified facilities, and the number of residents of facilities placed under receivership.

(7) A statement of the disposition of the residents under each action listed in paragraph (6).

(8) For each facility operated under a receivership as described in Article 8 (commencing with Section 1325) of Chapter 2 of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, a statement of the actual cost to the state, as compared to the rate of payment to the prior facility operator, for operation of the facility by a receiver and the source or sources of the total cost of operation.

(9) Recommendations to the Legislature regarding legislative, regulatory, or budgetary changes necessary to avoid unwarranted abrupt closure of existing facilities.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

The precipitous release of a large number of persons with developmental disabilities due to the closure of a long-term health care facility may result in harm to the clients of the facility, therefore, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1386

An act to amend Section 7125 of, and to add Sections 7019.5, 7109.2, 7125.1, 7125.2, and 7145.5 to, the Business and Professions Code, relating to contractors, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7019.5 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

7019.5. The board shall contract for a feasibility study relating to the development of a system for joint enforcement actions with respect to contractors by the board, the Department of Industrial Relations, the Employment Development Department, and the Franchise Tax Board. The study should include, but not be limited to, the means of accomplishing the following:

(a) Establishment of a common identification number which may be utilized by all those agencies.

(b) Assessment of the current state of technology in the affected departments.

(c) Assessment of the ability, and any impediments, of the affected departments to share information.

(d) Comparison of the standards of proof in the issuance of citations and other administrative enforcement actions.

(e) Ways to consolidate enforcement actions and procedures among the departments.

SEC. 2. Section 7109.2 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

7109.2. The failure of any person licensed pursuant to this chapter or any unlicensed individual acting in the capacity of a contractor who is not otherwise exempted from the provisions of this chapter, to maintain workers' compensation insurance, shall result in the automatic suspension of the person's license by operation of law, or with respect to an unlicensed individual acting in the capacity of a contractor who is not otherwise exempted from the provisions of this chapter, citation by the registrar under Section 7099, and an opportunity for a hearing as specified in Section 7099.5, within 90 days of citation. The registrar shall notify by certified mail any licensee who fails to maintain workers' compensation that his or her license shall be automatically suspended 30 days from the date of the notice. Reinstatement shall be made at any time following the suspension by showing proof of a certificate of workers' compensation insurance as specified in Section 7071.20.

SEC. 3. Section 7125 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7125. Every person licensed as a contractor shall report in writing the name and address of the insurer carrying workers' compensation insurance on his or her employees to the registrar within 90 days after any policy of insurance is issued to him or her and he or she shall send a copy of this report to the insurer.

The insurer, including the State Compensation Insurance Fund, shall thereafter report to the registrar any cancellation or lapse of the policy within 10 days after such cancellation or lapse. A renewal of a policy or a new policy in lieu of one that has expired is not considered a cancellation or lapse.

SEC. 4. Section 7125.1 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

7125.1. The board shall, on and after January 1, 1992, require, as a condition precedent to the issuance, reinstatement, reactivation, renewal, or continued maintenance of a license, that the applicant or licensee. file, or have on file a Certificate of Workers' Compensation Insurance. The certificate shall be issued by one or more insurers duly licensed to write compensation insurance in this state or by securing from the Director of Industrial Relations, a certificate of consent to self-insure in accordance with Section 3700 of the Labor Code.

This section shall not apply to an applicant or licensee who has no employees, provided that he or she files a statement wi .h the board signed under the penalty of perjury, to the effect that he or she does not employ any person in any manner so as to become subject to the workers' compensation laws of California.

No such certificate shall be required of a holder of an inactive license during the period that the license is inactive.

The board shall include on the license application for issuance, reinstatement, reactivation, or renewal, a statement informing the licensee or applicant of this requirement.

SEC. 5. Section 7125.2 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

7125.2. (a) The registrar shall accept a certificate required by Section 7125.1 as of the effective date shown on the certificate, if the certificate is received by the registrar within 90 days after that date, and shall reinstate the license to which the certificate pertains, if otherwise eligible, retroactive to the effective date of the certificate.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), the registrar shall accept the certificate as of the effective date shown on the certificate, even if the certificate is n t received by the registrar within 90 days after that date, upon a showing by the licensee, on a form acceptable to the registrar, that the failure to have a certificate on file was due to circumstances beyond the control of the licensee. The registrar shall reinstate the license to which the certificate pertains, if otherwise eligible, retroactive to the effective date of the certificate.

SEC. 6. Section 7145.5 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

7145.5. (a) The registrar may refuse to issue, reinstate, reactivate, or renew a license or may suspend a license for the failure of a licensee to resolve all outstanding final liabilities, which include taxes, additions to tax, penalties, interest and any fees that may be assessed by the board, the Department of Industrial Relations, the Employment Development Department, or the Franchise Tax Board. The refusal or suspension provided by this section shall be applicable only if the registrar has mailed a notice preliminary to the refusal or suspension which indicates that the license will be refused or suspended by a date certain. This preliminary notice shall be mailed to the licensee at least 60 days before the date certain.

(b) In the case of outstanding final liabilities assessed by the Franchise Tax Board, this section shall be operative within 60 days after the Contractor's State Licensing Board has provided the Franchise Tax Board with the information required under Section 30, relating to licensing information which includes the federal employee identification number or social security number.

(c) All versions of the application for contractor's licenses shall include, as part of the application, an authorization by the applicant, in the form and manner mutually agreeable to the Franchise Tax

Board and the board, for the Franchise Tax Board to disclose the tax information that is required for the registrar to administer this section. The Franchise Tax Board may from time to time audit these authorizations.

SEC. 7. The sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) is hereby appropriated from the Contractors' License Fund to the Contractors' State License Board for purposes of the study mandated by this act.

CHAPTER 1387

An act to add Sections 10113.1 and 10113.2 to the Insurance Code, to add Section 17131.5 to the Revenue and Taxation Code, and to add Sections 11021 and 11022 to the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to insurance, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10113.1 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

10113.1. (a) As used in this section, a "living benefits contract" means an agreement entered into between a person owning a life insurance policy upon the life of a person with a catastrophic or life-threatening illness or condition and another person by which the policy owner receives compensation or anything of value less than the death benefits of the insurance policy in return for an assignment, transfer, sale, devise, or bequest of the death benefits or ownership of the insurance policy, but does not include an assignment of a life insurance policy to a licensed lending institution or credit union as collateral for a loan.

(b) A living benefits contract shall not include a provision for payment of cash surrender values, loans or other benefits made by an insurer in accordance with the policy provisions.

(c) Any person entering into a living benefits contract with any person with a catastrophic or life-threatening illness or condition shall first obtain the following:

(1) A written statement from a licensed medical practitioner attending the person that the person is of sound mind and under no constraint or undue influence.

(2) A duly witnessed signed document in which the person consents to the living benefits contract, acknowledges the catastrophic or life-threatening illness, represents that he or she has a full and complete understanding of the living benefits contract, that he or she has a full and complete understanding of the benefits of the life insurance policy, a release of his or her medical records, and acknowledges that he or she has entered into the contract freely and voluntarily.

(d) No person domiciled, residing or conducting business in California may do any of the following unless he or she has complied with subdvision (c):

(1) Enter into a living benefits contract with any person, domiciled or residing in California.

(2) Execute a living benefits contract in whole or in part in this state.

(e) A violation of this section is a misdemeanor.

SEC. 2. Section 10113.2 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

10113.2. (a) This section applies to any person entering into or soliciting living benefits contracts pursuant to Section 10113.1.

(b) (1) No person may enter into or solicit living benefits contracts pursuant to Section 10113.1 unless that person has been licensed by the commissioner under this section. The person shall file an application for a license in the form prescribed by the commissioner, and the application shall be accompanied by a fee of one thousand dollars ($1,000). The applicant shall provide any information the commissioner may require. The commissioner may issue a license, or deny the application if, in his or her discretion, it is determined that it is contrary to the interests of the public to issue a license to the applicant. The reasons for a denial shall be set forth in writing.

(2) Whenever it appears to the commissioner that it is contrary to the interests of the public for a person licensed pursuant to this section to continue to transact living benefits contracts business, he or she shall issue a notice to the licensee stating the reasons therefor. If, after a hearing, the commissioner concludes that it is contrary to the interests of the public for the licensee to continue to transact living benefits contracts business, he or she may revoke the person's license, or issue an order suspending the license for a period as determined by the commissioner. Any hearing conducted pursuant to this paragraph shall be in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, except that the hearing may be conducted by administrative law judges chosen pursuant to Section 11502 or appointed by the commissioner, and the commissioner shall have the powers granted therein.

(3) Each licensee shall owe and pay in advance to the commissioner an annual renewal fee of one hundred seventy-seven dollars ($177). This fee shall be for annual periods commencing on July 1 of each year and ending on June 30 of each year, and shall be due on each March 1 and shall be delinquent on and after each April 1.

(4) Any licensee which intends to discontinue transacting living benefits contracts in this state shall so notify the commissioner, and shall surrender its license.

(c) A living benefits licensee shall file with the department a copy of all living benefits contract forms used in this state. No licensee may use any contract in this state unless it has been approved by the commissioner. Any contract form filed with the commissioner shall be deemed approved if it has not been disapproved within 60 days of filing. The commissioner shall disapprove a contract form if, in his or her discretion, the contract, or provisions contained therein, are contrary to the interests of the public, or otherwise misleading or unfair to the consumer. The commissioner may rescind an approval for any reason or on any basis which would have justified initial disapproval. In the case of disapproval or rescission of approval, the licensee may, within 15 days of notice of the disapproval or rescission, request a hearing before the commissioner or his or her designee, and the hearing shall be held within 30 days of the request.

(d) Living benefits licensees shall be required to disclose or advise any applicant for a living benefits contract, at the time of solicitation for the contract, of all of the following:

(1) Possible alternatives to living benefits contracts for persons with catastrophic or life threatening illness, including, but not limited to, accelerated benefits options that may be offered by the life insurer.

(2) Tax consequences that may result from entering into a living benefits contract.

(3) Consequences for interruption of public assistance as provided by information provided by the State Department of Health Services and the State Department of Social Services under Section 11022 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(e) All medical information solicited or obtained by any person soliciting or entering into a living benefits contract shall be subject to Article 6.6 (commencing with Section 791) of Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 1, concerning confidentiality of medical information.

(f) The commissioner may adopt rules and regulations reasonably necessary to govern living benefits contracts and transactions. This authority includes, but is not limited to, regulation of discount rates used to determine the amount paid in exchange for assignment, transfer, sale, devise, or bequest of a death benefit under a life insurance policy.

(g) The commissioner may, whenever he or she deems it reasonably necessary to protect the interests of the public, examine the business and affairs of any licensee or applicant for a license. The commissioner shall have the authority to order any licensee or applicant to produce any records, books, files, or other information as is reasonably necessary to ascertain whether or not the licensee or applicant is acting or has acted in violation of the law or otherwise contrary to the interests of the public. The expenses incurred in conducting any examination shall be paid by the licensee or applicant.

(h) The commissioner may investigate the conduct of any licensee, its officers, employees, agents, or any other person involved in the business of the licensee, whenever the commissioner has reason to believe that the licensee may have acted, or may be acting, in violation of the law, or otherwise contrary to the interests of the public. The commissioner may initiate an investigation on his or her own, or upon a complaint filed by any other person.

(i) The commissioner may issue orders to licensees whenever he or she determines that it is reasonably necessary to ensure or obtain compliance with this section, or Section 10113.1. This authority includes, but is not limited to, orders directing a licensee to cease and desist in any practice which is in violation of this section, or Section 10113.1, or otherwise contrary to the interests of the public. Any licensee to which an order pursuant to this subdivision is issued may, within 15 days of receipt of that order, request a hearing at which the licensee may challenge the order.

(j) The commissioner may, after notice and a hearing at which it is determined that a licensee has violated this section or Section 10113.1 or any order issued pursuant to this section order the licensee to pay a monetary penalty of up to ten thousand dollars ($10,000), which may be recovered in a civil action. Any hearing conducted pursuant to this subdivision shall be in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, except that the hearing may be conducted by administrative law judges chosen pursuant to Section 11502 or appointed by the commissioner, and the commissioner shall have the powers granted therein.

(k) Each licensee shall file with the commissioner on or before March 1 of each year an annual statement in the form prescribed by the commissioner. The information which the commissioner may require in the annual statement shall include, but not be limited to, the data required to satisfy the commissioner's report to the Legislature due on or before December 1, 1994.

(l) No person who is not a resident of California may receive or maintain a license unless a written designation of an agent for service or process is filed and maintained with the commissioner. The provisions of Article 3 (commencing with Section 1600) of Chapter 4 of Part 2 shall apply to living benefits licensees as if they were foreign insurers, their license a certificate of authority, and the living benefits contracts a policy, and the commissioner may modify the agreement set forth in Section 1604 accordingly.

(m) No person licensed pursuant to this section shall engage in any false or misleading advertising, solicitation, or practice. The provisions of Article 6 (commencing with Section 780) and Article 6.5 (commencing with Section 790) of Chapter 1 of Part 2 shall apply to living benefits licensees as if they were insurers, their license a certificate of authority or producer's license, and the living benefits contracts a policy, and the commissioner shall liberally construe these provisions so as to protect the interests of the public.

(n) Any person who enters into a living benefits contract with a living benefits licensee shall have the absolute right to rescind the contract within 15 days of execution of the contract, and any waiver or contract language contrary to this subdivision shall be void.

(o) A violation of this section is a misdemeanor.

SEC. 3. Section 17131.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17131.5. For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1991, gross income does not include any amounts received by a person owning a life insurance policy (whether in a single sum or otherwise) under any policy of life or endowment insurance or contract supplemental thereto, if the amounts are paid pursuant to Section 10113.1 or 10113.2 of the Insurance Code.

SEC. 4. Section 11021 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

11021. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no individual who is an applicant or recipient of aid or assistance under a state plan approved under Title IV, X, XIV, XVI, or XIX, of the federal Social Security Act, assistance funded by payments under Title V or XX of the federal Social Security Act, or of benefits under the Supplemental Security Income program established by Title XVI of the federal Social Security Act shall:

(a) Be required as a condition of eligibility for or of continuing to receive that aid, assistance, or benefit, to make an election to receive funds according to Section 10113.1 of the Insurance Code, or to receive funds under an accelerated death benefit under a policy of life insurance.

(b) By reason of failure to make such an election, be denied or suffer a reduction in the amount of aid, assistance, or benefits, unless that individual would thereby exceed federal liability limits under Title IV, X, XIV, XVI, or XIX of the federal Social Security Act, assistance funded by payments under Title V of XX of the federal Social Security Act, or of benefits under the Supplemental Security Income program established by Title XVI of the federal Social Security Act.

For purposes of this section, "accelerated death benefit" means any payment made by the life insurer under the terms of a life insurance policy while the insured individual is alive as a result of a recalculation of the insured individual's life expectancy by the life insurer.

SEC. 5. Section 11022 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

11022. The State Department of Health Services and the State Department of Social Services shall prepare information on the effect of funds received according to Sections 10113.1 and 10113.2 of the Insurance Code as to eligibility to receive or to continue to receive aid, assistance, or benefits from all federal, state, or other relevant assistance programs. All information shall be prepared for distribution to benefit counselors and living benefits corporations to be distributed at the time of solicitation by living benefit corporations.

SEC. 6. The amount of forty-seven thousand dollars ($47,000) is appropriated to the Department of Insurance from the Insurance Fund for the purposes of developing the forms and regulations which are authorized or required by this bill, and for the initial implementation of the requirements of this bill.

SEC. 7. The Insurance Commissioner shall report to the Legislature, on or before December 1, 1994, on the number of persons doing living benefits business in California; the number of living benefits contracts in California; the fairness of the discount rate in the living benefits contracts; and recommendations for legislative action for consumer protection.

SEC. 8. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code or Section 17034 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1388

An act to amend Section 35780 of the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 35780 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

35780. (a) The Department of Transportation or local authorities, with respect to highways under their respective jurisdictions, may, at their discretion upon application and if good cause appears, issue a special permit authorizing the applicant:

(1) To operate or move a vehicle or combination of vehicles or special mobile equipment of a size or weight of vehicle or load exceeding the maximum specified in this code. Permits for oversize buses may be issued pursuant to this paragraph only for the operation of a bus not more than 45 feet in length, on a per-trip basis, for operation on those highways specified in Section 35401.5, as designated by the Department of Transportation or local authorities, with respect to highways under their respective jurisdictions.

(2) To use corrugations on the periphery of the movable tracks on a traction engine or tractor, the propulsive power of which is not exerted through wheels resting upon the roadway but by means of a flexible band or chain.

(3) Under emergency conditions, to operate or move a type of vehicle otherwise prohibited hereunder, upon any highway under the jurisdiction of the party granting the permit and for the maintenance of which the party is responsible.

(4) To operate or move a vehicle or combination of vehicles transporting loads composed of logs only for the purpose of crossing a highway from one private property to another without complying with any or all of the equipment requirements of Division 12 (commencing with Section 24000) and Division 13 (commencing with Section 29000). These crossings shall be as near to a right angle to the roadway as is practical and shall not include any travel parallel to the roadway. The Department of Transportation shall determine standards and conditions upon which permits shall be issued and any permit not in compliance with those standards and conditions shall be invalid, except that a permit may contain more restrictive conditions if the issuing authority deems it appropriate.

(b) Under conditions prescribed by the Department of Transportation or the local authority, the Department of Transportation or local authority may accept applications made by, and issue permits directly to, an applicant or permit service by any of the following processes:

(1) In writing.

(2) By an authorized facsimile process.

(3) Through an authorized computer and modem connection.

CHAPTER 1389

An act to add Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 14200) to Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, relating to telecommuting.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 14200) is added to Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, to read:

CHAPTER 3. STATE EMPLOYEE TELECOMMUTING PROGRAM

14200. As used in this chapter, "telecommuting" means the partial or total substitution of computers or telecommunication technologies, or both, for the commute to work by employees residing in California.

14201. Every state agency, including every board and commission, may incorporate the telecommuting work option as an element of its transportation management programs, which are designed to reduce the number of commute trips by state employees.

Agencies that participated in the experimental studies described in Section 15276 may continue and expand those telecommuting programs in accordance with the policy, procedures, and guidelines developed by the Department of General Services in conjunction with those participating agencies. Those agencies not having participated in the initial experimental studies described in Section 15276 may comply with the policy, procedures, and guidelines developed by the Department of General Services in conjunction with a multiagency group that participated in those studies.

14202. The Department of General Services shall establish a unit for the purpose of overseeing telecommuting programs established pursuant to this chapter. This unit shall do all of the following:

(a) Coordinate and facilitate the interagency exchange of information regarding the state's telecommuting program, and establish and lead a multiagency telecommuting advisory group for these purposes.

(b) Develop and update policy, procedures, and guidelines to assist agencies in the planning and implementation of telecommuting programs.

(c) Assist state agencies in requesting the siting of satellite work stations and develop procedures to track the needs of agencies and identify potential office locations.

14203. Each state agency shall evaluate its telecommuting program. The Department of General Services shall establish criteria for evaluating the state's telecommuting program and recommend modifications, if necessary.

CHAPTER 1390

An act to add Sections 22401.6 and 22651.5 to the Education Code, relating to the State Teachers' Retirement System.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 22401.6 is added to the Education Code, to read:

22401.6. An application for an unmodified retirement allowance payable by the system shall contain the signature of the spouse of the member, unless the member declares, in writing, under penalty of perjury, that either: (a) the member does not know, and has taken all reasonable steps to determine, the whereabouts of the spouse; (b) the spouse is incapable of executing the acknowledgement because of an incapacitating mental or physical condition; (c) or the member and spouse have executed a marriage settlement agreement pursuant to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 5133) of Title 8 of Part 5 of Division 4 of the Civil Code which makes the community property law inapplicable to the marriage.

For the purposes of this act, a spouse who refuses to sign the application for the unmodified allowance may be considered a "nonmember spouse" as defined in Section 22651, and may petition the court to divide the retirement benefit as provided in Sections 22651.5 to 22666, inclusive.

The sole purpose of this section is to provide for spousal protection in the selection of specified benefits made by a member.

SEC. 2. Section 22651.5 is added to the Education Code, to read:

22651.5. For purposes of this chapter and Section 23702, "nonmember spouse" means the spouse or former spouse who is being or has been awarded a community property interest in the service credit and accumulated retirement contributions of the member or the benefits of a retirant. A nonmember spouse who is awarded a separate account of service credit and accumulated retirement contributions is not a member of the system. A nonmember spouse who receives a retirement allowance or is awarded an interest in a retirement allowance of a retirant is not a retirant of the system.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1391

An act to add Title 1.6F (commencing with Section 1789.30) to Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code, relating to check cashers.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Title 1.6F (commencing with Section 1789.30) is added to Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code, to read:

TITLE 1.6F. CHECK CASHERS

1789.30. Every check casher, as applicable to the services provided, shall post a complete, detailed, and unambiguous schedule of all fees for the (a) cashing of checks, drafts, money orders, or other commercial paper serving the same purpose, (b) for the sale or issuance of money orders, and (c) for the initial issuance of any identification card. Each check casher shall also post a list of valid identification which is acceptable in lieu of identification provided by the check casher. The information required by this section shall be clear, legible, and in letters not less than one-half inch in height. The information shall be posted in a conspicuous location in the unobstructed view of the public within the check casher's premises.

1789.31. As used in this title, a "check casher" means a person or entity that for compensation, in whole or in part, engages in the business of cashing checks, warrants, drafts, money orders, or other commercial paper serving the same purpose. "Check casher" does not include a state or federally chartered bank or savings association. "Check casher" does not include a retail seller as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 1749.1 that cashes checks or issues money orders for a minimum flat fee not exceeding two dollars ($2) as a service to its customers that is incidental to its main purpose or business.

1789.32. Failure to post information as required by this title, or the imposition of fees or identification requirements contrary to the information posted, shall constitute an unfair business practice within the meaning of Section 17200 of the Business and Professions Code.

CHAPTER 1392

An act to amend Section 2034 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and to amend Section 68092.5 of the Government Code, relating to expert witnesses.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2034 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

2034. (a) After the setting of the initial trial date for the action, any party may obtain discovery by demanding that all parties simultaneously exchange information concerning each other's expert trial witnesses to the following extent:

(1) Any party may demand a mutual and simultaneous exchange by all parties of a list containing the name and address of any natural person, including one who is a party, whose oral or deposition testimony in the form of an expert opinion any party expects to offer in evidence at the trial.

(2) If any expert designated by a party under paragraph (1) is a party or an employee of a party, or has been retained by a party for the purpose of forming and expressing an opinion in anticipation of the litigation or in preparation for the trial of the action, the designation of that witness shall include or be accompanied by an expert witness declaration under paragraph (2) of subdivision (f).

(3) Any party may also include a demand for the mutual and simultaneous production for inspection and copying of all discoverable reports and writings, if any, made by any expert described in paragraph (2) in the course of preparing that expert's opinion.

This section does not apply to exchanges of lists of experts and valuation data in eminent domain proceedings under Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 1258.010) of Title 7 of Part 3.

(b) Any party may make a demand for an exchange of information concerning expert trial witnesses without leave of court. A party shall make this demand no later than the 10th day after the initial trial date has been set, or 70 days before that trial date, whichever is closer to the trial date.

(c) A demand for an exchange of information concerning expert trial witnesses shall be in writing and shall identify, below the title of the case, the party making the demand. The demand shall state that it is being made under this section.

The demand shall specify the date for the exchange of lists of expert trial witnesses, expert witness declarations, and any demanded production of writings. The specified date of exchange shall be 50 days before the initial trial date, or 20 days after service of the demand, whichever is closer to the trial date, unless the court, on motion and a showing of good cause, orders an earlier or later date of exchange.

(d) The party demanding an exchange of information concerning expert trial witnesses shall serve the demand on all parties who have appeared in the action.

(e) A party who has been served with a demand to exchange information concerning expert trial witnesses may promptly move for a protective order. This motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion.

The court, for good cause shown, may make any order that justice requires to protect any party from unwarranted annoyance, embarrassment, oppression, or undue burden and expense. The protective order may include, but is not limited to, one or more of the following directions:

(1) That the demand be quashed because it was not timely served.

(2) That the date of exchange be earlier or later than that specified in the demand.

(3) That the exchange be made only on specified terms and conditions.

(4) That the production and exchange of any reports and writings of experts be made at a different place or at a different time than that specified in the demand.

(5) That some or all of the parties be divided into sides on the basis of their identity of interest in the issues in the action, and that the designation of any experts as described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) be made by any side so created.

(6) That a party or a side reduce the list of employed or retained experts designated by that party or side under paragraph (2) of subdivision (a).

If the motion for a protective order is denied in whole or in part, the court may order that the parties against whom the motion is brought, provide or permit the discovery against which the protection was sought on those terms and conditions that are just.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion for a protective order, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(f) All parties who have appeared in the action shall exchange information concerning expert witnesses in writing on or before the date of exchange specified in the demand. The exchange of information may occur at a meeting of the attorneys for the parties involved or by a mailing on or before the date of exchange.

(1) The exchange of expert witness information shall include either of the following:

(A) A list setting forth the name and address of any person whose expert opinion that party expects to offer in evidence at the trial.

(B) A statement that the party does not presently intend to offer the testimony of any expert witness.

(2) If any witness on the list is an expert as described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a), the exchange shall also include or be accompanied by an expert witness declaration signed only by the attorney for the party designating the expert, or by that party if that party has no attorney. This declaration shall be under penalty of perjury and shall contain:

(A) A brief narrative statement of the qualifications of each expert.

(B) A brief narrative statement of the general substance of the testimony that the expert is expected to give.

(C) A representation that the expert has agreed to testify at the trial.

(D) A representation that the expert will be sufficiently familiar with the pending action to submit to a meaningful oral deposition concerning the specific testimony, including any opinion and its basis, that the expert is expected to give at trial.

(E) A statement of the expert's hourly and daily fee for providing deposition testimony.

(g) If a demand for an exchange of information concerning expert trial witnesses includes a demand for production of reports and writings as described in paragraph (3) of subdivision (a), all parties shall produce and exchange, at the place and on the date specified in the demand, all discoverable reports and writings, if any, made by any designated expert described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a).

(h) Within 20 days after the exchange described in subdivision (f), any party who engaged in the exchange may submit a supplemental expert witness list containing the name and address of any experts who will express an opinion on a subject to be covered by an expert designated by an adverse party to the exchange, if the party supplementing an expert witness list has not previously retained an expert to testify on that subject. This supplemental list shall be accompanied by an expert witness declaration under paragraph (2) of subdivision (f) concerning those additional experts, and by all discoverable reports and writings, if any, made by those additional experts. The party shall also make those experts available immediately for a deposition under subdivision (i), which deposition may be taken even though the time limit for discovery under Section 2024 has expired.

(i) On receipt of an expert witness list from a party, any other party may take the deposition of any person on the list. The procedures for taking oral and written depositions set forth in Sections 2025, 2026, 2027, and 2028 apply to a deposition of a listed trial expert witness except as follows:

(1) The deposition of any expert described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) shall be taken at a place that is within 75 miles of the courthouse where the action is pending. However, on motion for a protective order by the party designating an expert witness, and on a showing of exceptional hardship, the court may order that the deposition be taken at a more distant place from the courthouse.

(2) A party desiring to depose any expert witness, other than a party or employee of a party, who is either (A) an expert described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a), (B) a treating physician and surgeon or other treating health care practitioner who is to be asked to express an opinion during the deposition, or (C) an architect, professional engineer, or licensed land surveyor, who was involved with the original project design or survey for which he or she is asked to express an opinion within his or her expertise and relevant to the action or proceeding, shall pay the reasonable and customary hourly or daily fee for the actual time consumed in the examination of that expert by any party attending the deposition. In a worker's compensation case arising under Division 4 (commencing with Section 3201) or Division 4.5 (commencing with Section 6100) of the Labor Code, a party desiring to depose any expert on another party's expert witness list shall pay this fee.

The party taking the deposition shall either accompany the service of the deposition notice with a tender of the expert's fee based on the anticipated length of the deposition or tender that fee at the commencement of the deposition. The expert's fee shall be delivered to the attorney for the party designating the expert. If the deposition of the expert takes longer than anticipated, the party giving notice of the deposition shall pay the balance of the expert's fee within five days of receipt of an itemized statement from the expert. The party designating the expert is responsible for any fee charged by the expert for preparing for the deposition and for traveling to the place of the deposition, as well as for any travel expenses of the expert.

(3) The service of a proper deposition notice accompanied by the tender of the expert witness fee described in paragraph (2) is effective to require the party employing or retaining the expert to produce the expert for the deposition. If the party noticing the deposition fails to tender the expert's fee under paragraph (2), the expert shall not be deposed at that time unless the parties stipulate otherwise.

(4) If a party desiring to take the deposition of an expert witness under this subdivision deems that the hourly or daily fee of that expert for providing deposition testimony is unreasonable, that party may move for an order setting the compensation of that expert. This motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion. Notice of this motion shall also be given to the expert.

The court shall set the fee of the expert for providing deposition testimony if it determines that the fee demanded by that expert is unreasonable.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion to set the expert witness fee, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(j) Except as provided in subdivisions (k), (l), and (m), on objection of any party who has made a complete and timely compliance with subdivision (f), the trial court shall exclude from evidence the expert opinion of any witness that is offered by any party who has unreasonably failed to do any of the following:

(1) List that witness as an expert under subdivision (f).

(2) Submit an expert witness declaration.

(3) Produce reports and writings of expert witnesses under subdivision (g).

(4) Make that expert available for a deposition under subdivision (i).

(k) On motion of any party who has engaged in a timely exchange of expert witness information, the court may grant leave to (1) augment that party's expert witness list and declaration by adding the name and address of any expert witness whom that party has subsequently retained, or (2) amend that party's expert witness declaration with respect to the general substance of the testimony that an expert previously designated is expected to give. This motion shall be made a sufficient time in advance of the time limit for the completion of discovery under Section 2024 to permit the deposition of any expert to whom the motion relates to be taken within that time limit. However, under exceptional circumstances, the court may permit the motion to be made at a later time. This motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion. The demand, and all expert witness lists and declarations exchanged in response to it, shall be lodged with the court when their contents become relevant to an issue in any pending matter in the action. The court shall grant leave to augment or amend an expert witness list or declaration only after taking into account the extent to which the opposing party has relied on the list of expert witnesses, and after determining that any party opposing the motion will not be prejudiced in maintaining that party's action or defense on the merits, and that the moving party either (1) would not in the exercise of reasonable diligence have determined to call that expert witness or have decided to offer the different or additional testimony of that expert witness, or (2) failed to determine to call that expert witness, or to offer the different or additional testimony of that expert witness as a result of mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect, provided that the moving party (1) has sought leave to augment or amend promptly after deciding to call the expert witness or to offer the different or additional testimony, and (2) has promptly thereafter served a copy of the proposed expert witness information concerning the expert or the testimony described in subdivision (f) on all other parties who have appeared in the action. Leave shall be conditioned on the moving party making the expert available immediately for a deposition under subdivision (i), and on such other terms as may be just, including, but not limited to, leave to any party opposing the motion to designate additional expert witnesses or to elicit additional opinions from those previously designated, a continuance of the trial for a reasonable period of time, and the awarding of costs and litigation expenses to any party opposing the motion.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion to augment or amend expert witness information, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances made the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(l) On motion of any party who has failed to submit expert witness information on the date specified in a demand for that exchange, the court may grant leave to submit that information on a later date. This motion shall be made a sufficient time in advance of the time limit for the completion of discovery under Section 2024 to permit the deposition of any expert to whom the motion relates to be taken within that time limit. However, under exceptional circumstances, the court may permit the motion to be made at a later time. This motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion.

The court shall grant leave to submit tardy expert witness information only after taking into account the extent to which the opposing party has relied on the absence of a list of expert witnesses, and determining that any party opposing the motion will not be prejudiced in maintaining that party's action or defense on the merits, and that the moving party (1) failed to submit that information as the result of mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect, (2) sought that leave promptly after learning of the mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect, and (3) has promptly thereafter served a copy of the proposed expert witness information described in subdivision (f) on all other parties who have appeared in the action. This order shall be conditioned on the moving party making that expert available immediately for a deposition under subdivision (i), and on such other terms as may be just, including, but not limited to, leave to any party opposing the motion to designate additional expert witnesses or to elicit additional opinions from those previously designated, a continuance of the trial for a reasonable period of time, and the awarding of costs and litigation expenses to any party opposing the motion.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion to submit tardy expert witness information, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(m) A party may call as a witness at trial an expert not previously designated by that party if: (1) that expert has been designated by another party and has thereafter been deposed under subdivision (i), or (2) that expert is called as a witness to impeach the testimony of an expert witness offered by any other party at the trial. This impeachment may include testimony to the falsity or nonexistence of any fact used as the foundation for any opinion by any other party's expert witness, but may not include testimony that contradicts the opinion.

(n) The demand for an exchange of information concerning expert trial witnesses, and any expert witness lists and declarations exchanged shall not be filed with the court. The party demanding the exchange shall retain both the original of the demand, with the original proof of service affixed, and the original of all expert witness lists and declarations exchanged in response to the demand until six months after final disposition of the action. At that time, all originals may be destroyed unless the court, on motion of any party and for good cause shown, orders that the originals be preserved for a longer period.

SEC. 2. Section 2034 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

2034. (a) After the setting of the initial trial date for the action, any party may obtain discovery by demanding that all parties simultaneously exchange information concerning each other's expert trial witnesses to the following extent:

(1) Any party may demand a mutual and simultaneous exchange by all parties of a list containing the name and address of any natural person, including one who is a party, whose oral or deposition testimony in the form of an expert opinion any party expects to offer in evidence at the trial.

(2) If any expert designated by a party under paragraph (1) is a party or an employee of a party, or has been retained by a party for the purpose of forming and expressing an opinion in anticipation of the litigation or in preparation for the trial of the action, the designation of that witness shall include or be accompanied by an expert witness declaration under paragraph (2) of subdivision (f).

(3) Any party may also include a demand for the mutual and simultaneous production for inspection and copying of all discoverable reports and writings, if any, made by any expert described in paragraph (2) in the course of preparing that expert's opinion.

This section does not apply to exchanges of lists of experts and valuation data in eminent domain proceedings under Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 1258.010) of Title 7 of Part 3.

(b) Any party may make a demand for an exchange of information concerning expert trial witnesses without leave of court. A party shall make this demand no later than the 10th day after the initial trial date has been set, or 70 days before that trial date, whichever is closer to the trial date.

(c) A demand for an exchange of information concerning expert trial witnesses shall be in writing and shall identify, below the title of the case, the party making the demand. The demand shall state that it is being made under this section.

The demand shall specify the date for the exchange of lists of expert trial witnesses, expert witness declarations, and any demanded production of writings. The specified date of exchange shall be 50 days before the initial trial date, or 20 days after service of the demand, whichever is closer to the trial date, unless the court, on motion and a showing of good cause, orders an earlier or later date of exchange.

(d) The party demanding an exchange of information concerning expert trial witnesses shall serve the demand on all parties who have appeared in the action.

(e) A party who has been served with a demand to exchange information concerning expert trial witnesses may promptly move for a protective order. This motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion.

The court, for good cause shown, may make any order that justice requires to protect any party from unwarranted annoyance, embarrassment, oppression, or undue burden and expense. The protective order may include, but is not limited to, one or more of the following directions:

(1) That the demand be quashed because it was not timely served.

(2) That the date of exchange be earlier or later than that specified in the demand.

(3) That the exchange be made only on specified terms and conditions.

(4) That the production and exchange of any reports and writings of experts be made at a different place or at a different time than that specified in the demand.

(5) That some or all of the parties be divided into sides on the basis of their identity of interest in the issues in the action, and that the designation of any experts as described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) be made by any side so created.

(6) That a party or a side reduce the list of employed or retained experts designated by that party or side under paragraph (2) of subdivision (a).

If the motion for a protective order is denied in whole or in part, the court may order that the parties against whom the motion is brought, provide or permit the discovery against which the protection was sought on those terms and conditions that are just.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion for a protective order, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(f) All parties who have appeared in the action shall exchange information concerning expert witnesses in writing on or before the date of exchange specified in the demand. The exchange of information may occur at a meeting of the attorneys for the parties involved or by a mailing on or before the date of exchange.

(1) The exchange of expert witness information shall include either of the following:

(A) A list setting forth the name and address of any person whose expert opinion that party expects to offer in evidence at the trial.

(B) A statement that the party does not presently intend to offer the testimony of any expert witness.

(2) If any witness on the list is an expert as described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a), the exchange shall also include or be accompanied by an expert witness declaration signed only by the attorney for the party designating the expert, or by that party if that party has no attorney. This declaration shall be under penalty of perjury and shall contain:

(A) A brief narrative statement of the qualifications of each expert.

(B) A brief narrative statement of the general substance of the testimony that the expert is expected to give.

(C) A representation that the expert has agreed to testify at the trial.

(D) A representation that the expert will be sufficiently familiar with the pending action to submit to a meaningful oral deposition concerning the specific testimony, including any opinion and its basis, that the expert is expected to give at trial.

(E) A statement of the expert's hourly and daily fee for providing deposition testimony.

(g) If a demand for an exchange of information concerning expert trial witnesses includes a demand for production of reports and writings as described in paragraph (3) of subdivision (a), all parties shall produce and exchange, at the place and on the date specified in the demand, all discoverable reports and writings, if any, made by any designated expert described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a).

(h) Within 20 days after the exchange described in subdivision (f), any party who engaged in the exchange may submit a supplemental expert witness list containing the name and address of any experts who will express an opinion on a subject to be covered by an expert designated by an adverse party to the exchange, if the party supplementing an expert witness list has not previously retained an expert to testify on that subject. This supplemental list shall be accompanied by an expert witness declaration under paragraph (2) of subdivision (f) concerning those additional experts, and by all discoverable reports and writings, if any, made by those additional experts. The party shall also make those experts available immediately for a deposition under subdivision (i), which deposition may be taken even though the time limit for discovery under Section 2024 has expired.

(i) On receipt of an expert witness list from a party, any other party may take the deposition of any person on the list. The procedures for taking oral and written depositions set forth in Sections 2025, 2026, 2027, and 2028 apply to a deposition of a listed trial expert witness except as follows:

(1) The deposition of any expert described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) shall be taken at a place that is within 75 miles of the courthouse where the action is pending. However, on motion for a protective order by the party designating an expert witness, and on a showing of exceptional hardship, the court may order that the deposition be taken at a more distant place from the courthouse.

(2) A party desiring to depose any expert witness, other than a party or employee of a party, who is either (A) an expert described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) except one who is a party or an employee of a party, (B) a treating physician and surgeon or other treating health care practitioner who is to be asked to express an opinion during the deposition, or (C) an architect, professional engineer, or licensed land surveyor, who was involved with the original project design or survey for which he or she is asked to express an opinion within his or her expertise and relevant to the action or proceeding, shall pay the expert's reasonable and customary hourly or daily fee for the actual time consumed in the examination of that expert by any party attending the deposition. However, the hourly or daily fee shall not exceed the fee charged the party who retained the expert except where the expert donated his or her services to a charitable or other nonprofit organization. In a worker's compensation case arising under Division 4 (commencing with Section 3201) or Division 4.5 (commencing with Section 6100) of the Labor Code, a party desiring to depose any expert on another party's expert witness list shall pay this fee.

The party taking the deposition shall either accompany the service of the deposition notice with a tender of the expert's fee based on the anticipated length of the deposition or tender that fee at the commencement of the deposition. The expert's fee shall be delivered to the attorney for the party designating the expert. If the deposition of the expert takes longer than anticipated, the party giving notice of the deposition shall pay the balance of the expert's fee within five days of receipt of an itemized statement from the expert. The party designating the expert is responsible for any fee charged by the expert for preparing for the deposition and for traveling to the place of the deposition, as well as for any travel expenses of the expert.

(3) The service of a proper deposition notice accompanied by the tender of the expert witness fee described in paragraph (2) is effective to require the party employing or retaining the expert to produce the expert for the deposition. If the party noticing the deposition fails to tender the expert's fee under paragraph (2), the expert shall not be deposed at that time unless the parties stipulate otherwise.

(4) If a party desiring to take the deposition of an expert witness under this subdivision deems that the hourly or daily fee of that expert for providing deposition testimony is unreasonable, that party may move for an order setting the compensation of that expert. This motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion. Notice of this motion shall also be given to the expert.

The court shall set the fee of the expert for providing deposition testimony if it determines that the fee demanded by that expert is unreasonable.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion to set the expert witness fee, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(j) Except as provided in subdivisions (k), (l), and (m), on objection of any party who has made a complete and timely compliance with subdivision (f), the trial court shall exclude from evidence the expert opinion of any witness that is offered by any party who has unreasonably failed to do any of the following:

(1) List that witness as an expert under subdivision (f).

(2) Submit an expert witness declaration.

(3) Produce reports and writings of expert witnesses under subdivision (g).

(4) Make that expert available for a deposition under subdivision (i).

(k) On motion of any party who has engaged in a timely exchange of expert witness information, the court may grant leave to (1) augment that party's expert witness list and declaration by adding the name and address of any expert witness whom that party has subsequently retained, or (2) amend that party's expert witness declaration with respect to the general substance of the testimony that an expert previously designated is expected to give. This motion shall be made a sufficient time in advance of the time limit for the completion of discovery under Section 2024 to permit the deposition of any expert to whom the motion relates to be taken within that time limit. However, under exceptional circumstances, the court may permit the motion to be made at a later time. This motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion. The demand, and all expert witness lists and declarations exchanged in response to it, shall be lodged with the court when their contents become relevant to an issue in any pending matter in the action. The court shall grant leave to augment or amend an expert witness list or declaration only after taking into account the extent to which the opposing party has relied on the list of expert witnesses, and after determining that any party opposing the motion will not be prejudiced in maintaining that party's action or defense on the merits, and that the moving party either (1) would not in the exercise of reasonable diligence have determined to call that expert witness or have decided to offer the different or additional testimony of that expert witness, or (2) failed to determine to call that expert witness, or to offer the different or additional testimony of that expert witness as a result of mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect, provided that the moving party (1) has sought leave to augment or amend promptly after deciding to call the expert witness or to offer the different or additional testimony, and (2) has promptly thereafter served a copy of the proposed expert witness information concerning the expert or the testimony described in subdivision (f) on all other parties who have appeared in the action. Leave shal be conditioned on the moving party making the expert available immediately for a deposition under subdivision (i), and on such other terms as may be just, including, but not limited to, leave to any party opposing the motion to designate additional expert witnesses or to elicit additional opinions from those previously designated, a continuance of the trial for a reasonable period of time, and the awarding of costs and litigation expenses to any party opposing the motion.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion to augment or amend expert witness information, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances made the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(l) On motion of any party who has failed to submit expert witness information on the date specified in a demand for that exchange, the court may grant leave to submit that information on a later date. This motion shall be made a sufficient time in advance of the time limit for the completion of discovery under Section 2024 to permit the deposition of any expert to whom the motion relates to be taken within that time limit. However, under exceptional circumstances, the court may permit the motion to be made at a later time. This motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion.

The court shall grant leave to submit tardy expert witness information only after taking into account the extent to which the opposing party has relied on the absence of a list of expert witnesses, and determining that any party opposing the motion will not be prejudiced in maintaining that party's action or defense on the merits, and that the moving party (1) failed to submit that information as the result of mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect, (2) sought that leave promptly after learning of the mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect, and (3) has promptly thereafter served a copy of the proposed expert witness information described in subdivision (f) on all other parties who have appeared in the action. This order shall be conditioned on the moving party making that expert available immediately for a deposition under subdivision (i), and on such other terms as may be just, including, but not limited to, leave to any party opposing the motion to designate additional expert witnesses or to elicit additional opinions from those previously designated, a continuance of the trial for a reasonable period of time, and the awarding of costs and litigation expenses to any party opposing the motion.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion to submit tardy expert witness information, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(m) A party may call as a witness at trial an expert not previously designated by that party if: (1) that expert has been designated by another party and has thereafter been deposed under subdivision (i), or (2) that expert is called as a witness to impeach the testimony of an expert witness offered by any other party at the trial. This impeachment may include testimony to the falsity or nonexistence of any fact used as the foundation for any opinion by any other party's expert witness, but may not include testimony that contradicts the opinion.

(n) The demand for an exchange of information concerning expert trial witnesses, and any expert witness lists and declarations exchanged shall not be filed with the court. The party demanding the exchange shall retain both the original of the demand, with the original proof of service affixed, and the original of all expert witness lists and declarations exchanged in response to the demand until six months after final disposition of the action. At that time, all originals may be destroyed unless the court, on motion of any party and for good cause shown, orders that the originals be preserved for a longer period.

SEC. 3. Section 68092.5 of the Government Code is amended to read:

68092.5. (a) A party requiring testimony before any court, tribunal, or arbiter in any civil action or proceeding from any expert witness, other than a party or employee of a party, who is either, (1) an expert described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 2034 of the Code of Civil Procedure, (2) a treating physician and surgeon or other treating health care practitioner who is to be asked to express an opinion during the action or proceeding, or (3) an architect, professional engineer, or licensed land surveyor who was involved with the original project design or survey for which he or she is asked to express an opinion within his or her expertise and relevant to the action or proceeding, shall pay the reasonable and customary hourly or daily fee for the actual time consumed in the examination of that witness by any party attending the action or proceeding.

The party requiring the attendance shall either accompany the service of the subpoena or notice with a tender of the expert's fee based on the anticipated length of time the expert is required to remain at such place pursuant to the notice or subpoena or tender that fee at the required time of appearance. The expert's fee shall be delivered to the attorney for the party designating the expert. If the appearance of the expert takes longer than anticipated, the party serving the subpoena or notice shall pay the balance of the expert's fee within five days of receipt of an itemized statement from the expert. The party designating the expert is responsible for any fee charged by the expert for preparing for the testimony and for traveling to the place of the civil action or proceeding, as well as for any travel expenses of the expert, unless otherwise determined by the court.

(b) The service of a proper subpoena or notice accompanied by the tender of the expert witness fee described in subdivision (a) is effective to require the party employing or retaining the expert to produce the expert for testimony. If the party serving the notice or subpoena fails to tender the expert's fee under subdivision (a), the expert shall not be required to appear at that time unless the parties stipulate otherwise.

(c) If a party requiring the appearance by subpoena or notice of another party s expert witness under this subdivision deems that the hourly or daily fee of that expert for providing testimony is unreasonable, that party may move for an order setting the compensation of that expert. This motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion. Notice of this motion shall also be given to the expert.

The court shall set the fee of the expert for providing testimony if it determines that the fee demanded by that expert is unreasonable.

(d) In the event the proceeding at which the expert witness has been notified his or her attendance is required is continued or canceled in advance of the time for which it is scheduled, such witness shall be notified of the continuance or cancellation by the party requiring his or her attendance by the quickest and most reliable means of giving notice under the circumstances. In the event such party fails to give notice as required by this subdivision, then the expert witness shall be entitled to receive the compensation specified in subdivision (a) of this section, notwithstanding his or her failure to give any testimony.

(e) An express contract entered into between a person and the party requesting or requiring the person to testify, relating to compensation, shall be enforceable and shall prevail over the provisions of this section.

(f) The deposition of an expert witness is governed by Section 2034 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

SEC. 4. Section 68092.5 of the Government Code is amended to read:

68092.5. (a) A party requiring testimony before any court, tribunal, or arbiter in any civil action or proceeding from any expert witness, other than a party or employee of a party, who is either, (1) an expert described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 2034 of the Code of Civil Procedure, (2) a treating physician and surgeon or other treating health care practitioner who is to be asked to express an opinion during the action or proceeding, or (3) an architect, professional engineer, or licensed land surveyor who was involved with the original project design or survey for which he or she is asked to express an opinion within his or her expertise and relevant to the action or proceeding, shall pay the reasonable and customary hourly or daily fee for the actual time consumed in the examination of that witness by any party attending the action or proceeding. The hourly or daily fee shall not exceed the fee charged the party who retained the expert except where the expert donated his or her services to a charitable or other nonprofit organization.

The party requiring the attendance shall either accompany the service of the subpoena or notice with a tender of the expert's fee based on the anticipated length of time the expert is required to remain at such place pursuant to the notice or subpoena or tender that fee at the required time of appearance. The expert's fee shall be delivered to the attorney for the party designating the expert. If the appearance of the expert takes longer than anticipated, the party serving the subpoena or notice shall pay the balance of the expert's fee within five days of receipt of an itemized statement from the expert. The party designating the expert is responsible for any fee charged by the expert for preparing for the testimony and for traveling to the place of the civil action or proceeding, as well as for any travel expenses of the expert, unless otherwise determined by the court.

(b) The service of a proper subpoena or notice accompanied by the tender of the expert witness fee described in subdivision (a) is effective to require the party employing or retaining the expert to produce the expert for testimony. If the party serving the notice or subpoena fails to tender the expert's fee under subdivision (a), the expert shall not be required to appear at that time unless the parties stipulate otherwise.

(c) If a party requiring the appearance by subpoena or notice of another party's expert witness under this subdivision deems that the hourly or daily fee of that expert for providing testimony is unreasonable, that party may move for an order setting the compensation of that expert. This motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion. Notice of this motion shall also be given to the expert.

The court shall set the fee of the expert for providing testimony if it determines that the fee demanded by that expert is unreasonable.

(d) In the event the proceeding at which the expert witness has been notified his or her attendance is required is continued or canceled in advance of the time for which it is scheduled, such witness shall be notified of the continuance or cancellation by the party requiring his or her attendance by the quickest and most reliable means of giving notice under the circumstances. In the event such party fails to give notice as required by this subdivision, then the expert witness shall be entitled to receive the compensation specified in subdivision (a) of this section, notwithstanding his or her failure to give any testimony.

(e) An express contract entered into between a person and the party requesting or requiring the person to testify, relating to compensation, shall be enforceable and shall prevail over the provisions of this section.

(f) The deposition of an expert witness is governed by Section 2034 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

SEC. 5. Section 2 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 2034 of the Code of Civil Procedure proposed by both this bill and Senate Bill 247. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1991, (2) each bill amends Section 2034 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and (3) this bill is enacted after Senate Bill 247, in which case Section 1 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 6. Section 4 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 68092.5 of the Government Code proposed by both this bill and Senate Bill 247. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1991, (2) each bill amends Section 68092.5 of the Government Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after Senate Bill 247, in which case Section 3 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 1393

An act to amend Sections 4970, 9701, 9705, 9756, and 9757 of, to add Sections 5062 and 5528 to, and to repeal Section 9757.5 of, the Business and Professions Code, relating to business and professions, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4970 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

4970. The amount of fees prescribed for certified acupuncturists shall be those set forth in this section unless a lower fee is fixed by the committee in accordance with Section 4972:

(a) The application fee shall be seventy-five dollars ($75).

(b) The examination and reexamination fees shall be two hundred dollars ($200).

(c) The initial certification fee shall be three hundred twenty-five dollars ($325), except that if the certificate will expire less than one year after its issuance, then the initial certification fee shall be an amount equal to 50 percent of the initial certification fee.

(d) The renewal fee shall be three hundred twenty-five dollars ($325) and in the event a lower fee is fixed by the committee, shall be an amount sufficient to support the functions of the board and committee in the administration of this chapter. The renewal fee shall be assessed on an annual basis until January 1, 1996, and on and after that date the committee shall assess the renewal fee biennially.

(e) The delinquency fee is twenty-five dollars ($25).

(f) The application fee for the approval of a school or college under Section 4939 shall be three thousand dollars ($3,000).

(g) The duplicate wall certificate fee is an amount equal to the cost to the committee for the issuance of the duplicate certificate.

(h) The duplicate renewal receipt fee is ten dollars ($10).

(i) The endorsement fee is ten dollars ($10).

(j) The fee for a duplicate certificate for an additional office location as required under Section 4961 shall be fifteen dollars ($15).

SEC. 1.3. Section 5062 is added to the Business and Professions

Code, to read:

5062. A licensee shall issue a report which conforms to professional standards upon completion of a compilation, review or audit of financial statements.

SEC. 1.5. Section 5528 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

5528. (a) The board may select and contract with necessary architect consultants who are licensed architects to assist it in its enforcement program on an intermittent basis.

(b) For the purposes of Division 3.6 (commencing with Section 810) of Title 1 of the Government Code, any consultant under contract with the board shall be considered a public employee.

SEC. 2. Section 9701 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

9701. Application for license as a cemetery salesperson shall be made in writing on the form prescribed by the board and filed at the principal office of the board. The application shall be signed by the applicant, and shall be accompanied by the cemetery salesperson's license fee.

SEC. 3. Section 9705 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

9705. Upon receipt of the application and fee specified in Section 9701, the board shall issue, without examination, to any person who otherwise qualifies, a temporary salesperson's license, good for a period of three months from the date of issuance, irrespective of the fact that the fiscal year may terminate within such three months. An applicant shall not be entitled to more than one temporary license without examination.

SEC. 4. Section 9756 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

9756. The cemetery salesman's license fee shall be fixed by the board at not more than thirty dollars ($30).

SEC. 5. Section 9757 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

9757. A cemetery salesperson's license fee is payable on each filing of an application for a cemetery salesperson's license.

If the applicant fails the required written examination, he may be permitted to take another examination upon the filing of an application for reexamination and the payment of a reexamination fee which shall be fixed by the board at not more than fifteen dollars ($15).

SEC. 6. Section 9757.5 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

CHAPTER 1394

An act to add and repeal Chapter 5.5 (commencing with Section 16550) of Part 4 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to children.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that eligible families of children with developmental disabilities currently receive respite care services under Section 4418.6 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. However, these services are not readily available to families of children with other disabilities or who for any reason do not qualify under those provisions.

(b) It is therefore the intent of the Legislature to establish a pilot project in the County of Los Angeles to provide respite care services to eligible families of special needs children who would not otherwise qualify for existing services.

SEC. 2. Chapter 5.5 (commencing with Section 16550) is added to Part 4 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

CHAPTER 5.5. LOS ANGELES COUNTY SPECIAL CARE RESPITE PILOT PROJECT

16550. (a) The Child Development Division within the State Department of Education shall establish a two-year pilot project, to be known as the Special Care Respite Pilot Project, in the County of Los Angeles, for the purpose of providing respite care services to at least 100 families of special needs children.

(b) The pilot project shall utilize and, when appropriate, expand upon existing resources within the county, such as resource and referral systems, directories of families and providers, and parent cooperative organizations.

(c) Respite care services shall be made available through this project to families with one or more special needs children. Each family may receive respite care services for all children in the family for a maximum of 16 hours per child per month.

16550.05. For the purposes of this chapter, "special needs children" includes, but is not limited to, any child, 12 years old or younger, who is not a regional center client pursuant to Section 4418.5 and who is any of the following:

(a) A child with an orthopedic handicap, such as an amputation, a chronic disease of the bone, or other condition that restricts mobility or independence.

(b) A child at risk of a visual impairment due to glaucoma, retinopathy of prematurity, cataracts, albinism, or other disorder.

(c) A child who is partially sighted and has less than 20/70 vision in the better eye, with correction.

(d) A child who is legally blind who has less than 20/200 vision in the better eye, with correction, or who has a field of vision of 20 degrees or less in the better eye.

(e) A deaf child or a hearing impaired child with a significant hearing loss that makes special adaptations necessary.

(f) A child with a chronic medical condition, such as muscular dystrophy, leukemia, or cystic fibrosis.

(g) A child who has been diagnosed with a learning disability. This may include, but is not limited to, a child with a perceptual handicap, specific dyslexia, or sensory impairment.

(h) A child who has been diagnosed as emotionally disturbed. This may include, but is not limited to, a child with a severe conduct disorder or a personality disorder.

(i) An infant diagnosed at birth as drug or alcohol affected, or both, with a physical or emotional disorder.

(j) A child that is not currently receiving respite care services through any other state-funded program or agency.

16550.10. The division shall evaluate the pilot project and shall, through the normal budget hearing process, report to the Legislature on the success of the project with respect to all of the following factors:

(a) Meeting the goal of serving 100 families with a special needs child.

(b) Reducing the incidence of out-of-home placement of children with special needs.

(c) Providing outreach and identifying unmet needs.

(d) Determining to what extent special needs children are integrated into programs for children without disabilities.

16550.15. If the combined income of the parents of a child which receives services under this chapter exceeds 150 percent of the federal proverty level, the parents of the child shall pay a share of the cost of providing those services, according to a sliding scale determined by the Child Development Division of the State Department of Education.

16550.20. This chapter shall become inoperative on July 1, 1993, and, as of January 1, 1994, is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which becomes effective on or before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends the dates on which it becomes inoperative and is repealed.

SEC. 3. The Legislature finds and declares that a general statute cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution due to the unique circumstances concerning respite care programs in the County of Los Angeles.

SEC. 4. It is the intent of the Legislature to fund the provisions of this act through the Budget Act.

CHAPTER 1395

An act to amend Section 60608 of the Education Code, relating to health-related physical fitness testing.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 60608 of the Education Code is amended to read:

60608. Commencing with the 1990–91 school year, during either the month of March, April, or May, the governing board of each school district maintaining any of grades five, seven, or nine shall administer to each pupil in those grades health-related physical fitness test components designated by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Any pupil with exceptional needs or any other pupil who is unable to complete any of the test components, as directed, may be given an alternative for those components as his or her condition will permit.

Each school district shall submit to its governing board and the State Department of Education the results of its health-related physical fitness testing by June 4 of each year.

The State Department of Education shall compile the results of the annual testing and submit a report by January 1 of each year to the appropriate policy committee of each house of the Legislature for purposes of comparing the performance of California pupils to national norms. The department shall submit the report to the governing board of each school district by November 15 of each year.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1997, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1997, deletes or extends that date. If that date is not deleted or extended, then, on or after January 1, 1997, pursuant to Section 9611 of the Government Code, Section 60608 of the Education Code, as added by Section 2 of Chapter 1010 of the Statutes of 1976, shall have the same force and effect as if this temporary provision had not been enacted.

SEC. 2. It is the intent of the Legislature that funding of this program, as established in Section 60608 of the Education Code, shall be continued at the same level of seven hundred thousand dollars ($700,000) each year through the regular budgetary process. Funds appropriated for this purpose shall be allocated by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to local education agencies. It is further the intent of the Legislature that these funds be applied toward the minimum funding requirements for school districts imposed by Section 8 of Article XVI of the California Constitution.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code for costs mandated by the state pursuant to this act. It is recognized, however, that a local agency or school district may pursue any remedies to obtain reimbursement available to it under Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) and any other provisions of law. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1396

An act to amend Sections 13700 and 13703 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to children.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13700 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

13700. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) There are homeless minors living on the streets of major urban centers in this state without adequate food, shelter, health care or financial support.

(b) Many of these homeless youth in these urban centers come from out-of-city or out-of-county locations.

(c) The homeless child, in many instances, has a history of physical or sexual abuse at home, and of having been rejected or forced out of the parental home.

(d) While living on the streets, these youth fall prey to drug abuse, prostitution, and other illegal activities.

(e) Local public agencies are unable to provide these youth with an adequate level or range of remedial services.

(f) These homeless minors are urgently in need of specialized services to locate them, to assist them with their immediate survival needs, and to address their long-term need to reunite with their parents or find a suitable home.

(g) Two homeless youth emergency service pilot programs, one in the City of Los Angeles, and one in the City and County of San Francisco, have demonstrated the need for ongoing programs to meet the needs of homeless minors and the effectiveness of these programs in meeting these needs.

The purpose of this chapter is therefore to maintain one homeless youth emergency project in the County of Los Angeles and one in the City and County of San Francisco, where the problem is most acute, and to the extent funds are appropriated in the Budget Act of 1991, to establish additional homeless youth emergency service pilot projects pursuant to the provisions of this chapter. It is the further purpose of this chapter to examine the condition of homeless youth in major urban areas of this state with populations of 500,000 or more, as well as other urban, suburban, and rural areas, and develop a profile of homeless youth in terms of background and available services, in order to locate these youth, to provide for their emergency survival needs, and to assist them in reunification with their parents or in finding a suitable home.

SEC. 2. Section 13703 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

13703. (a) One homeless youth emergency service project shall be established in the County of Los Angeles and one shall be established in the City and County of San Francisco. One homeless youth emergency service project shall also be established in the County of San Diego and one shall be established in the County of Santa Clara. Each project may have one central location or may have more than one location in the service area in order to serve effectively the area population of homeless youth. Each project shall be operated by an agency in accordance with the grant award agreement with the office.

(b) The office shall prepare and disseminate a request for proposals for grantees under this chapter by February 15, 1986. The office shall enter into grant award agreements, and the operation of pilot projects shall begin, not later than June 1, 1986. With respect to projects to be established in the County of San Diego and the County of Santa Clara, the office shall prepare and disseminate a request for proposals for grantees under this chapter by March 31, 1992. The office shall enter into grant award agreements and the operation of these projects shall begin not later than July 1, 1992.

(c) An agency eligible to apply for funds under this chapter and to operate a homeless youth emergency service project shall be a private, nonprofit agency with a demonstrated record of success in the delivery of services to homeless youth. The agency selected for each project shall demonstrate the ability to provide each of the services described in Section 13701, either directly or under subcontract with a competent provider. Preference shall be given to agencies that demonstrate a history of coordination with other public and private agencies in the service region that provide services to homeless youth. Preference shall also be given to agencies that will involve a network of youth-serving agencies in the delivery of services to homeless youth under this chapter.

CHAPTER 1397

An act to amend Section 120050.2 of, and to add Section 120109 to, the Public Utilities Code, relating to transit.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 120050.2 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

120050.2. The board consists of 15 members, except as specified in subdivision (d), selected as follows:

(a) One member of the County of San Diego Board of Supervisors, appointed by the board of supervisors.

(b) Four members of the City Council of the City of San Diego, one of whom may be the mayor, appointed by the city council.

(c) One member of each city council appointed individually by the City Councils of the Cities of Chula Vista, Coronado, El Cajon, Imperial Beach, La Mesa, Lemon Grove, National City, Poway, and Santee.

(d) One person, a resident of San Diego County, elected by a two-thirds vote of the board, a quorum being present, who shall serve as chairperson of the board. The chairperson shall serve for a term of four years, except that he or she is subject to removal at any time by a two-thirds vote of the board, a quorum being present. If the person elected chairperson is also a member of the board, the membership of the board is reduced to 14 and the appointing power may not fill the vacancy created by the election of that member as chairperson as long as that member remains chairperson and, if removed as chairperson, that person shall resume the position on the board he or she vacated upon election as chairperson. Section 120102.5 does not apply to any vote taken under this subdivision.

SEC. 2. Section 120109 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

120109. (a) The clerk of the board shall cause a proposed ordinance or proposed amendment to an ordinance, and any ordinance adopted by the board, to be published at least once, in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in the board's area of jurisdiction.

(b) The publication of an ordinance, as required by subdivision (a), may be satisfied by either of the following actions:

(1) The board may publish a summary of a proposed ordinance or proposed amendment to an ordinance. The summary shall be prepared by a person designated by the board. The summary shall be published and a certified copy of the full text of the proposed ordinance or proposed amendment shall be posted in the office of the clerk of the board at least five days prior to the board meeting at which the proposed ordinance or amendment is to be adopted. Within 15 days after adoption of the ordinance or amendment, the board shall publish a summary of the ordinance or amendment with the names of those board members voting for and against the ordinance or amendment and the clerk shall post in the office of the clerk a certified copy of the full text of the adopted ordinance or amendment along with the names of those board members voting for and against the ordinance or amendment.

(2) If the person designated by the board determines that it is not feasible to prepare a fair and adequate summary of the proposed ordinance or amendment, and if the board so orders, a display advertisement of at least one-quarter of a page in a newspaper of general circulation in the board's area of jurisdiction shall be published at least five days prior to the board meeting at which the proposed ordinance or amendment is to be adopted. Within 15 days after adoption of the ordinance or amendment, a display advertisement of at least one-quarter of a page shall be published. The advertisement shall indicate the general nature of, and provide information regarding, the adopted ordinance or amendment, including information sufficient to enable the public to obtain copies of the complete text of the ordinance or amendment, and the names of those board members voting for and against the ordinance or amendment.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because this act is in accordance with the request of a local agency or school district which desired legislative authority to carry out the program specified in this act. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1398

An act to amend Section 113 of, and to add Article 5 (commencing with Section 26260) to Chapter 2 of Division 21 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to health.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 113 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

113. (a) The fees or charges for the issuance or renewal of any permit, license, registration, or document pursuant to Sections 403, 436.53, 527, 1017, 1616, 1676, 1677, 2202, 2805, 4083, 11887, 23013, 25628, 25049, 25059, 25064, 25079.3, 25094, 25694, 25696, 25697, 25812.8, 25816, 25817, 26262, 26506.2, 26593.2, 26593.4, 26688, 27010, 27011, 28126, 28410, 28411, and 28702 shall be adjusted annually by the percentage change printed in the Budget Act for those items appropriating funds to the state department. After the first annual adjustment of fees or charges pursuant to this section, the fees or charges subject to subsequent adjustment shall be the fees or charges for the prior calendar year. The percentage change shall be determined by the Department of Finance, and shall include at least the total percentage change in salaries and operating expenses of the state department. However, the total increase in amounts collected under this section shall not exceed the total increased cost of the program or service provided.

(b) The state department shall publish annually a list of the actual numerical fee charges for each permit, license, certification, or registration governed by this section. This adjustment of fees and publication of the fee list shall not be subject to the requirements of Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

SEC. 2. Article 5 (commencing with Section 26260) is added to Chapter 2 of Division 21 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

Article 5. Export Documents

26260. Any person who ships to another state or country a food, drug, or device manufactured or produced in this state may request the department to issue an export document to reference the shipment of the food, drug, or device or a person who manufactures or produces the food, drug, or device. The requesting person shall submit to the department all of the following:

(a) Each request for referencing the shipment of a food, drug, or device shall include all of the following information:

(1) Copies of any labels, labeling, and advertising affixed to or accompanying the food, drug, or device.

(2) If not clearly evident from the materials submitted pursuant to paragraph (1) both of the following:

(A) The name and place of business of the manufacturer or producer of the food, drug, or device.

(B) The identity of the food, drug, or device.

(3) The quantity of the food, drug, or device being shipped.

(4) The name of the state or country to which the food, drug, or device is being shipped.

(5) The date and means of shipment of the food, drug, or device.

(6) Additional statements the requesting person wishes to have incorporated into the export document.

(7) The name and telephone number of a person to whom the department may refer questions or requests for additional information about the request.

(b) Each request for referencing a person who manufactures or produces foods, drugs, or devices shall include all of the following information:

(1) The name and place of business of the person and whether the products manufactured or produced are foods, drugs, or devices.

(2) The name of the state or country to which the export document will be sent.

(3) Additional statements the requesting person wishes to have incorporated into the export document.

(4) The name and telephone number of a person to whom the department may refer questions or requests for additional information about the request.

26261. Each export document issued by the department shall do all of the following:

(a) The reference of the shipment of a food, drug, or device in the export document shall do all of the following:

(1) Identify the name and place of business of the manufacturer or producer of the food, drug, or device.

(2) Identify the food, drug, or device being shipped and its quantity.

(3) Identify the state or country to which the food, drug, or device is being shipped.

(4) Identify the date and means of shipment of the food, drug, or device.

(5) Describe the department's authority over the food, drug, or device to be shipped and its manufacturer or producer, including, but not limited to, the expiration date of any applicable license, registration, certificate, or permit issued by the department.

(6) State that the department does not object to the sale of the food, drug, or devise in this state or the shipment of the food, drug, or devise to any other state or country.

(b) The reference of a person who manufactures or produces foods, drugs, or devices shall do all of the following:

(1) Identify the state or country to which the export document will be sent.

(2) Describe the department's authority over the person, including, but not limited to, the expiration date of any applicable license, registration, certificate, or permit issued by the department.

(3) State that the person is regularly engaged in the business of selling foods, drugs, or devices in this state.

(c) Each export document issued by the department may, in the department's sole discretion, include additional statements requested by the person who requested the export document.

(d) Each export document issued by the department shall be signed by the Chief of the Food and Drug Branch of the department, or his or her designee. The Chief or his or her designee may issue an export document prepared by the department or by the requesting person.

26262. (a) Each person requesting the department to issue an export document shall pay a nonreturnable fee of six dollars ($6) for each separate request.

(b) Each of the following shall constitute a separate request:

(1) Reference to a specified shipment of a specified food, drug, or device to a specified state or country.

(2) Reference to a specified person who manufactures or produces foods, drugs, or devices, as specified, for shipment to a specified state or country.

(c) The fee amount shall be adjusted annually pursuant to Section 113.

(d) In no case shall the fees exceed the reasonable costs of the department in administering this article.

26263. (a) The department shall respond to each request to issue an export document within five working days of receipt by the department of the request.

(b) The department may refuse to issue an export document if it finds, or has probable cause to believe, any of the following:

(1) The food, drug, or device, or requesting person violated any provision of this division or any regulation adopted pursuant to this division.

(2) Any information required by this article to be submitted is incomplete or false.

(3) The fees required by this article have not been paid.

(4) The food, drug, or device is not manufactured or produced in this state.

(5) The food is a raw agricultural commodity or dairy product regulated by the Department of Food and Agriculture or a poultry or meat product regulated by the United States Department of Agriculture.

(c) If the department refuses to issue an export document, the department shall inform the requesting person in writing of the reasons for the refusal. The requesting person may request reconsideration by forwarding a written request to the Chief of the Division of Environmental Health of the department. The request for reconsideration must be postmarked or received by the department no later than 30 days after the date of the department's refusal and shall include a complete statement of all arguments and evidence which support the request for reconsideration. The Chief of the Division of Environmental Health shall notify the requestor of his or her decision within 30 days. The decision of the Chief of the Division of Environmental Health shall be final.

(d) It is the intent of the Legislature that the department issue an export document as soon as possible.

26264. It is unlawful for any person to knowingly supply the department with false material facts in a request for an export document or to falsely represent that the department has issued an export document.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1399

An act to add Sections 20017.986 and 22013.955 to the Government Code, and to amend Section 830.36 of the Penal Code, relating to the Public Employees' Retirement System, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 26, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 20017.986 is added to the Government Code, to read:

20017.986. "State peace officer/firefighter member" also includes bailiffs and security coordinators of the judicial branch who have been designated as peace officers in subdivision (b) of Section 830.36 of the Penal Code.

A member who is reclassified from state miscellaneous to state peace officer/firefighter pursuant to this section, may make an irrevocable election in writing to remain subject to the miscellaneous service retirement benefit and the normal rate of contribution by filing a notice of the election with the board within 90 days of notification by the board. A member who so elects shall be subject to the reduced benefit factors specified in Section 21251.13 only for service included in the federal system.

SEC. 2. Section 22013.955 is added to the Government Code, to read:

22013.955. "Policeman" as used in this part also includes persons employed in the classifications set forth in Section 20017.986, provided the designation is not contrary to any definition, ruling, or regulation relating to the term "policeman" issued by the federal agency for the purposes of Section 218(d) (5) (A) of the Social Security Act.

SEC. 3. Section 830.36 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

830.36. The following persons are peace officers whose authority extends to any place in the state for the purpose of performing their primary duty or when making an arrest pursuant to Section 836 as to any public offense with respect to which there is immediate danger to person or property, or of the escape of the perpetrator of that offense, or pursuant to Section 8597 or 8598 of the Government Code. Those peace officers may carry firearms only if authorized and under terms and conditions specified by their employing agency.

(a) The Sergeant-at-Arms of each house of the Legislature, if the primary duty of the peace officer is the enforcement of the law in or about properties owned, operated, or administered by the employing agency or when performing necessary duties with respect to patrons, employees, and properties of the employing agency.

(b) Bailiffs of the Supreme Court and of the courts of appeal, and coordinators of security for the judicial branch, if the primary duty of the peace officer is the enforcement of the law in or about properties owned, operated, or administered by the employing agency or when performing necessary duties with respect to patrons, employees, and properties of the employing agency.

(c) Court service officer in a county of the second class and third class, if the primary duty of the peace officer is the enforcement of the law in or about properties owned, operated, or administered by the employing agency or when performing necessary duties with respect to patrons, employees, and properties of the employing agency.

CHAPTER 1400

An act to add Chapter 16 (commencing with Section 11500) to Part 7 of the Education Code, relating to education.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 16 (commencing with Section 11500) is added to Part 7 of the Education Code, to read:

CHAPTER 16. PROGRAMS TO ENCOURAGE PARENTAL INVOLVEMENT

11500. The Legislature hereby finds and declares all of the following:

(a) Despite a substantial increase in school funding over the last five years, a significant percentage of the school-aged population, particularly in large urban areas, is learning well below the statewide average and is making only marginal progress at best.

(b) Parental involvement and support in the education of children is an integral part of improving academic achievement. Educational research has established that properly constructed parent involvement programs can play an important and effective role in the participation of parents in their children's schools and in raising pupil achievement levels.

(c) The federal government has recognized the critical role of parents in the educational process and now mandates parental involvement programs as a condition of eligibility for funds under the Augustus F. Hawkins-Robert T. Stafford Elementary and Secondary School Improvement Amendments of 1988 (P.L. 100-297).

(d) The State Board of Education has also adopted a policy urging the creation of parent involvement programs in all schools.

(e) California's School Improvement Program has historically maintained parent involvement as one of its component parts.

(f) Research and experience have demonstrated that these programs succeed only when certain components are made part of the program.

11501. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this chapter to ensure that parent involvement programs are properly designed and implemented and to provide a focus and structure for these programs based on prior experience and research while maintaining sufficient local flexibility to design a program that best meets the needs of the local community.

11502. It is the purpose and goal of this chapter to do all of the following:

(a) To engage parents positively in their children's education by helping parents to develop skills to use at home that support their children's academic efforts at school and their children's development as responsible future members of our society.

(b) To inform parents that they can directly affect the success of their children's learning, by providing parents with techniques and strategies that they may utilize to improve their children's academic success and to assist their children in learning at home.

(c) To build consistent and effective communication between the home and the school so that parents may know when and how to assist their children in support of classroom learning activities.

(d) To train teachers and administrators to communicate effectively with parents.

(e) To integrate parent involvement programs, including compliance with this chapter, into the school's master plan for academic accountability.

11503. The governing board of each school district shall establish a parent involvement program for each school in the district that receives funds under Chapter 1 of the federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, as amended by the Augustus F. Hawkins-Robert T. Stafford Elementary and Secondary School Improvement Amendments of 1988 (P.L. 100-290). That program shall contain at least the following elements:

(a) Procedures to ensure that parents are consulted and participate in the planning, design, implementation, and evaluation of the program.

(b) Regular and periodic programs throughout the school year that provide for training, instruction, and information on all of the following:

(1) Parental ability to directly affect the success of their children's learning through the support they give their children at home and at school.

(2) Home activities, strategies, and materials that can be used to assist and enhance the learning of children both at home and at school.

(3) Parenting skills that assist parents in understanding the development needs of their children and in understanding how to provide positive discipline for, and build healthy relationships with, their children.

(4) Parental ability to develop consistent and effective communications between the school and the parents concerning the progress of the children in school and concerning school programs.

(c) An annual statement identifying specific objectives of the program.

(d) An annual review and assessment of the program's progress in meeting those objectives. Parents shall be made aware of the existence of this review and assessment through regular school communications mechanisms and shall be given a copy upon the parent's request.

11504. The governing board of each school district shall adopt a policy on parent involvement, consistent with the purposes and goals set forth in Section 11502, for each school not governed by Section 11503.

11505. To the extent permitted by federal law, a school district may contract with nonprofit organizations and agencies experienced in administering parent involvement programs to design or implement, or design and implement, a school's parent involvement program.

11506. Schools that receive federal funds under Chapter 1 of the federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, as amended by the Augustus F. Hawkins-Robert T. Stafford Elementary and Secondary School Improvement Amendments of 1988 (P. L. 100-297), and receive funds for school improvement plans pursuant to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 52000) of Part 28 or economic impact aid pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 54020) of Chapter 1 of Part 29, may receive funds for school improvement plans pursuant to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 52000) of Part 28 or economic impact aid pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 54020) of Chapter 1 of Part 29 only if they comply with this chapter.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1401

An act to add Article 1.7 (commencing with Section 230) to Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to insurance.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 1.7 (commencing with Section 230) is added to Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

Article 1.7. Catastrophic Health Insurance

230. The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

(a) A catastrophic illness or injury may financially devastate an individual or the family of that individual because of extraordinary medical expenses. It is vitally necessary to the public health and welfare of the State of California that:

(1) Its residents not be burdened with those financial costs. Most health insurance policies contain a monetary limitation on the amount of money that can be expended on a particular illness or individual, leaving any balance to be paid by the patient. The state has enacted this act to promote the availability of additional insurance to help pay extensive medical costs.

(2) The state government not be financially burdened by residents who may become indigent due to these catastrophic health costs.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this article to institute a program to inform state residents of the need for catastrophic health insurance, and to make this insurance available to residents through an independent insurer at no cost or liability to the state.

231. As used in this article:

(a) "Catastrophic health insurance" means a supplementary insurance contract that indemnifies a California resident for medical expenses, including at least the costs of the basic health care services that result from an illness, injury, or disease, and that are greater than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000).

(b) "Resident" means any individual who lives in California for at least 90 consecutive days.

(c) "Insurer" as used in this article includes a disability insurer which covers hospital, medical, or surgical expenses, and a nonprofit hospital service plan.

(d) "Basic health care services" includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(1) Inpatient hospital treatment, including room and board, general nursing services, diagnostic tests, supplies, and other medically necessary services.

(2) Outpatient services for surgery, presurgical diagnostic tests, emergency care, and chemotherapy.

(3) Surgery and anesthesia.

(4) Hospital and office visits and consultations.

(5) X-rays and laboratory tests; allergy tests, injections, and sera.

(6) Maternity care for the subscriber or enrolled spouse.

(7) Psychotherapy.

(8) Chemotherapy and radiation therapy.

(9) Physical, speech, occupational and respiratory therapies.

(10) Prescription drugs.

(11) Prostheses and durable medical equipment, such as artificial limbs, hospital beds, and wheelchairs.

(12) Cardiac rehabilitation program.

(13) Local ambulance service.

(14) Alcohol and drug abuse rehabilitation.

(15) Rehabilitative care.

(16) Outpatient skilled nursing care (up to two hours per day for up to 50 days per calendar year).

(17) Home health care and hospice services provided by an approved home health agency or hospice agency.

232. The director shall, in consultation with, and approval of the Department of Insurance, do all of the following:

(a) Contract with an insurer or insurers to provide any resident catastrophic health insurance.

(b) Inform residents of the availability of catastrophic health insurance.

(c) Provide oversight for all contract obligations of the insurer.

(d) Approve all advertising and marketing materials used by an insurer in connection with catastrophic health insurance provided under this article in order to ensure accuracy and fairness. The advertising standards used shall be those set out in Section 1360 of the Health and Safety Code.

(e) Determine the cost of the oversight function and make provisions to cover all administrative costs.

233. (a) A contract provided for by this article shall not be required to cover a preexisting medical condition of the resident during the first 10 months the resident is covered by catastrophic health insurance provided under this article. Charges for a preexisting condition shall not apply toward the deductible during the first 10 months of coverage. Charges for other conditions during that initial period shall apply toward the deductible.

(b) The contract shall also prohibit the insurer from discriminating against prospective insureds in their underwriting practices on the basis of demographic factors, such as age, or preexisting medical conditions.

234. The state is not liable in any way for any claims arising out of an arrangement for insurance established under this article. The insurer shall bear the cost of all claims, and shall indemnify the state against all claims and the cost of defending against all claims in connection with an arrangement for catastrophic health insurance established under this article.

235. The director shall enter into contracts pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 232 only with insurers that meet all of the following criteria, as determined by the director:

(a) The insurer shall be actuarially sound.

(b) The insurer shall be fully self-supported by its policy premiums or charges and investments.

(c) The insurer shall use advertising which is accurate.

236. (a) The term of any contract entered into pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 232 shall be determined by the director, but shall not exceed three years.

(b) The contract shall contain a provision authorizing the director to terminate the contract upon giving 60 days' written notice to the insurer of any of the following causes for termination:

(1) The department has determined that management practices of the insurer or the current financial condition of the insurer interferes with the efficient and timely payment of catastrophic health insurance benefits.

(2) Continuing failure of the insurer to timely pay the benefits of its policies of catastrophic health insurance or provide catastrophic health insurance services in accordance with the contract.

(3) Other continuing unsatisfactory performance by the insurer under the contract, based upon complaints received from insureds or other sources, if the insurer has failed to take reasonable, effective, and prompt actions to resolve the complaints.

(c) The contract shall contain a provision authorizing the director to terminate the contract without cause upon any annual anniversary date of the contract by giving at least 60 days' notice to the insurer.

(d) The director may give up to 120 days' notice to terminate if it is determined to be in the best interest of plan participants.

(e) The director shall annually certify that participating providers meet the conditions of the program. In carrying out this requirement, the State Director of Health Services shall consult with the Department of Insurance to obtain any audits performed by those agencies which may be used in evaluating the performance of each provider.

237. Premiums or charges paid for catastrophic health insurance provided pursuant to this article shall include an increment to defray the reasonable administrative costs of the department in administering this article, including the costs of the advisory committee created pursuant to Section 238, which shall be transmitted by insurers to the department as provided in the contract.

238. For the purpose of assisting the department in the development of contracts and providing for the effective monitoring of insurer performance under this article, there is hereby created an advisory committee which shall remain in existence only until January 1, 1993. It shall be comprised of two representatives of the health insurance industry, two physicians and surgeons with familiarity as to catastrophic health care needs, and two public members. Two members of the advisory committee shall be appointed by the Governor, two members shall be appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly, and two members shall be appointed by the Senate Committee on Rules.

The members of the advisory committee shall be entitled to reimbursement for necessary travel and other expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed.

CHAPTER 1402

An act to add Section 1365.5 to the Health and Safety Code, and to amend Section 10140 of, and to add Section 11512.193 to, the Insurance Code, relating to health coverage.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1365.5 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1365.5. (a) No health care service plan or specialized health care service plan shall refuse to enter into any contract or shall cancel or decline to renew or reinstate any contract because of the race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, marital status, sexual orientation, or age of any contracting party, prospective contracting party, or person reasonably expected to benefit from that contract as a subscriber, enrollee, member, or otherwise.

(b) The terms of any contract shall not be modified, and the benefits or coverage of any contract shall not be subject to any limitations, exceptions, exclusions, reductions, copayments, coinsurance, deductibles, reservations, or premium, price, or charge differentials, or other modifications because of the race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, marital status, sexual orientation, or age of any contracting party, potential contracting party, or person reasonably expected to benefit from that contract as a subscriber, enrollee, member, or otherwise; except that premium, price, or charge differentials because of the sex or age of any individual when based on objective, valid, and up-to-date statistical and actuarial data are not prohibited. Nothing in this section shall be construed to permit a health care service plan to charge different premium rates to individual enrollees within the same group solely on the basis of the enrollee's sex.

(c) It shall be deemed a violation of subdivision (a) for any health care service plan to utilize marital status, living arrangements, occupation, gender, beneficiary designation, zip codes or other territorial classification, or any combination thereof for the purpose of establishing sexual orientation. Nothing in this section shall be construed to alter in any manner the existing law prohibiting health care service plans from conducting tests for the presence of human immunodeficiency virus or evidence thereof.

(d) This section shall not be construed to limit the authority of the commissioner to adopt or enforce regulations prohibiting discrimination because of sex, marital status, or sexual orientation.

SEC. 2. Section 10140 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

10140. (a) No admitted insurer, licensed to issue life or disability insurance, shall fail or refuse to accept an application for that insurance, to issue that insurance to an applicant therefor, or issue or cancel that insurance, under conditions less favorable to the insured than in other comparable cases, except for reasons applicable alike to persons of every race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, or sexual orientation. Race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, or sexual orientation shall not, of itself, constitute a condition or risk for which a higher rate, premium, or charge may be required of the insured for that insurance.

(b) It shall be deemed a violation of subdivision (a) for any insurer to consider sexual orientation in its underwriting criteria or to utilize marital status, living arrangements, occupation, gender, beneficiary designation, zip codes or other territorial classification within this state, or any combination thereof for the purpose of establishing sexual orientation or determining whether to require a test for the presence of the human immunodeficiency virus or antibodies to that virus, where that testing is otherwise permitted by law. Nothing in this section shall be construed to alter, expand, or limit in any manner the existing law respecting the authority of insurers to conduct tests for the presence of human immunodeficiency virus or evidence thereof.

(c) Any insurer that knowingly violates this section shall for each violation be assessed a civil penalty in an amount not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) and not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) plus court costs, as determined by the court.

(d) This section shall not be construed to limit the authority of the commissioner to adopt regulations prohibiting discrimination because of sex, marital status, or sexual orientation or to enforce these regulations, whether adopted before or on or after January 1, 1991.

SEC. 3. Section 11512.193 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

11512.193. (a) No nonprofit hospital service plan issuing, providing, or administering an individual or group nonprofit hospital service plan contract shall refuse to cover, or refuse to continue to cover, or limit the amount, extent, or kind of coverage available to an individual, or charge a different rate for the same coverage because of race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, or sexual orientation.

(b) It shall be deemed a violation of subdivision (a) for any plan to consider sexual orientation in its underwriting criteria or to utilize marital status, living arrangements, occupation, gender, beneficiary designation, zip codes or other territorial classification within this state, or any combination thereof, for the purpose of establishing sexual orientation or determining whether or not to require a test for the presence of the human immunodeficiency virus or antibodies to that virus, where that testing is otherwise permitted by law. Nothing in this section shall be construed to alter, expand, or limit in any manner the existing law respecting the authority of insurers to conduct tests for the presence of human immunodeficiency virus or evidence thereof.

(c) Any plan that knowingly violates this section shall, for each violation, be assessed a civil penalty in an amount not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) and not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) plus court costs, as determined by the court.

(d) This section does not limit the authority of the commissioner to adopt regulations prohibiting discrimination because of sex, marital status, or sexual orientation, or to enforce those regulations, whether adopted before, on, or after January 1, 1991.

CHAPTER 1403

An act to add Section 9882.14 to the Business and Professions Code, to amend Section 11837.1 of the Health and Safety Code, to add Section 1203.1bb to the Penal Code, and to amend Section 13352 of, to add Sections 13202.7 and 40000.65 to, and to add Article 4 (commencing with Section 23235) to Chapter 12 of Division 11 of, the Vehicle Code, relating to driving offenses, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares the following:

(a) There is a need to reduce the incidence of drivers on the highways and roads of this state who, because of their consumption of alcohol, pose a danger to the health and safety of other drivers.

(b) One method to deal with the problem of drinking drivers is to discourage the use of motor vehicles by persons who have consumed alcoholic beverages.

(c) The installation of an ignition interlock device may provide a means of deterring use of motor vehicles by persons who have consumed alcoholic beverages.

(d) Ignition interlock devices are designed to supplement other conditions of probation and punishment which prevent convicted drunk drivers from starting a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

(e) It is economically and technically feasible to have an ignition interlock device installed on a vehicle in such a manner that the vehicle will not start if the operator's blood-alcohol content is measurable by the operator blowing into the device.

SEC. 2. Section 9882.14 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

9882.14. (a) The bureau shall cooperate with the Office of Traffic Safety and adopt standards for the installation of and designate stations for the installation of ignition interlock devices.

(b) The manufacturers of ignition interlock devices shall comply with standards established by the bureau for the installation of those ignition interlock devices.

(c) The bureau may charge manufacturers of certified interlock ignition devices a fee to recover the cost of monitoring installation standards.

SEC. 3. Section 11837.1 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11837.1. (a) In utilizing any program defined in subdivision (e) of Section 11837, the court may require periodic reports concerning the performance of each person referred to and participating in a program. The program shall provide the court, the Department of Motor Vehicles, and the person referred to and participating in a program, with an immediate report of any failure of the person to comply with the program's rules and policies.

(b) (1) If, at any time after entry into or while participating in a program, a participant who is referred to an 18-month program described in Section 23166 or 23186 of the Vehicle Code or a 30-month program described in Section 23171, 23176, or 23191 of the Vehicle Code, fails to comply with the rules and policies of the program, and that fact is reported, the Department of Motor Vehicles shall revoke or suspend the privilege of that person to operate a motor vehicle for the period prescribed by law in accordance with Section 13352.5 of the Vehicle Code, except as otherwise provided in this section. The Department of Motor Vehicles shall notify the person and the court of its intended action and shall inform the person of the opportunity to be reinstated in the program and to avoid suspension of the driving privilege.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (1), the Department of Motor Vehicles shall not suspend the driving privilege pursuant to paragraph (1) if the court, upon the petition of the person, determines that the person should be reinstated in the 18-month or 30-month program. The determination by the court shall be made within 45 days of the notice from the department of the intended action or such additional time, not to exceed an additional 45 days, for the determination as is required, ordered, and transmitted to the Department of Motor Vehicles by the court, which additional time is not caused by any action or failure to act by the person. Upon timely presentation by the person to the Department of Motor Vehicles of evidence satisfactory to the Department of Motor Vehicles that the court of jurisdiction has consented to the person's reinstatement in the program and that the person is currently participating in the program, the Department of Motor Vehicles shall continue in effect the restriction of the driving privilege prescribed by Section 13352.5 of the Vehicle Code unless the person has previously been reinstated in the program on two or more prior occasions, in which case the department shall suspend or revoke the driving privilege for the time prescribed in paragraph (3) or (4) of subdivision (a) of Section 13352 of the Vehicle Code. If the court fails to grant the person's petition for reinstatement in the program, the court shall suspend the person's driving privilege until the time the person's driving privilege is suspended or revoked by the Department of Motor Vehicles pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 13352.5 of the Vehicle Code.

(c) If, at any time after referral to or while participating in a program, a participant who is referred to an alcohol or drug education and counseling program pursuant to Section 23161 or 23181 of the Vehicle Code, to an 18-month program pursuant to Section 23166 or 23186 of the Vehicle Code, or to a 30-month program pursuant to Section 23171, 23176, or 23191 of the Vehicle Code, refuses, for any reason, to consent to a chemical test that he or she is required to submit to pursuant to Section 23157 of the Vehicle Code, his or her participation in the program shall be terminated and, the Department of Motor Vehicles shall immediately suspend or revoke his or her privilege to operate a motor vehicle for the period prescribed in Section 13352 of the Vehicle Code, according to the offense for which he or she was convicted immediately prior to referral to the program. The period of suspension or revocation shall be in addition to the period of suspension imposed by the Department of Motor Vehicles pursuant to Section 13353 of the Vehicle Code.

(d) If the department withdraws the license of a program, the department shall immediately notify the Department of Motor Vehicles of those persons who do not commence participation in a licensed program within 21 days from the date of the withdrawal of the license of the program in which the persons were previously participating. The Department of Motor Vehicles shall suspend or revoke, for the period prescribed by law, the privilege to operate a motor vehicle of each of those persons referred to an 18-month program pursuant to Section 23166 or 23186 of the Vehicle Code or to a 30-month program pursuant to Section 23171, 23176, or 23191 of the Vehicle Code.

SEC. 4. Section 1203.1bb is added to the Penal Code, to read:

1203.1bb. (a) The reasonable cost of probation determined under subdivision (a) of Section 1203.1b shall include the cost of purchasing and installing an ignition interlock device pursuant to Section 23235 of the Vehicle Code. Any defendant subject to this section shall pay the manufacturer of the ignition interlock device directly for the cost of its purchase and installation, in accordance with the payment schedule ordered by the court. If practicable, the court shall order payment to be made to the manufacturer of the ignition interlock device within a six-month period.

This subdivision does not require any county to pay the costs of purchasing and installing any ignition interlock devices ordered pursuant to Section 23235 of the Vehicle Code. The Office of Traffic Safety shall consult with the presiding judge or his or her designee in each county to determine an appropriate means, if any, to provide for installation of ignition interlock devices in cases in which the defendant has no ability to pay.

SEC. 5. Section 13202.7 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

13202.7. The restrictions specified in Section 13202.5 for the violations specified in that section may include, but are not limited to, the installation and maintenance of a certified ignition interlock device pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 23235) of Chapter 12 of Division 11. Any restriction is subject to the provisions of Section 13202.5 relating to restrictions.

SEC. 5.5. Section 13352 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

13352. (a) The department shall immediately suspend or revoke, or record the court-administered suspension or revocation of, the privilege of any person to operate a motor vehicle upon receipt of a duly certified abstract of the record of any court showing that the person has been convicted of a violation of Section 23152 or 23153 or subdivision (a) of Section 23109, or upon receipt of a report of a judge of the juvenile court, a juvenile traffic hearing officer, or a referee of a juvenile court showing that the person has been found to have committed a violation of Section 23152 or 23153 or subdivision (a) of Section 23109. For purposes of this section, suspension or revocation shall be as follows:

(1) Upon a conviction or finding of a violation of Section 23152 punishable under Section 23160, the privilege shall be suspended for a period of six months if the court orders the department to suspend the privilege, or if the court does not grant probation, or if the offense occurred in a vehicle requiring a driver with a class 1 or class 2 driver's license or with a certificate specified in Section 12804.1. However, where (A) the driving privilege is required to be suspended by this paragraph due to the violation having occurred in vehicles requiring a class 1 or class 2 driver's license, and (B) the court grants probation and imposes the condition specified in subdivision (b) of Section 23161, the department shall issue the person a class 3 driver's license restricted in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as specified in subdivision (e) of Section 13352.5. If the person gives proof of ability to respond in damages as defined in Section 16430, the department shall issue the restricted license upon receipt of an abstract of record from the court pursuant to Section 1803 certifying that the court has granted probation to the person on conditions which include the condition specified in subdivision (b) of Section 23161.

(2) Upon a conviction or finding of a violation of Section 23153 punishable under Section 23180, the privilege shall be suspended for a period of one year. The privilege shall not be reinstated until the person gives proof of ability to respond in damages as defined in Section 16430.

(3) Except as provided in Section 13352.5, upon a conviction or finding of a violation of Section 23152 punishable under Section 23165, the privilege shall be suspended for 18 months. The privilege shall not be reinstated until the person gives proof of ability to respond in damages as defined in Section 16430.

(4) Except as provided in Section 13352.5, upon a conviction or finding of a violation of Section 23153 punishable under Section 23185, the privilege shall be revoked for a period of three years. The privilege shall not be reinstated until evidence satisfactory to the department establishes that no grounds exist which would authorize the refusal to issue a license and until the person gives proof of ability to respond in damages as defined in Section 16430.

(5) Upon a conviction or finding of a violation of Section 23152 punishable under Section 23170, the privilege shall be revoked for a period of three years. The privilege shall not be reinstated until the person files proof of ability to respond in damages as defined in Section 16430 and gives proof satisfactory to the department of successful completion, subsequent to the most recent underlying conviction, of an 18-month program or a 30-month program approved pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 11837) of Part 2 of Division 10.5 of the Health and Safety Code. The court shall advise the person at the time of sentencing that completion of an 18-month program or a 30-month program is required in order to become eligible for a California driver's license. The court shall also advise the person that after the completion of 24 months of the revocation period, the person may apply to the court for an order granting a restricted driver's license, subject to the following conditions:

(A) The person has satisfactorily completed, subject to the current underlying conviction, either of the following:

(i) A licensed 18-month program pursuant to Section 11837 of the Health and Safety Code.

(ii) The initial 18 months of a licensed 30-month program pursuant to Section 11837 of the Health and Safety Code.

(B) The person agrees, as a condition of the restriction, to continue satisfactory participation in the 30-month program, if applicable, and to have installed and maintained, as described in Section 23235, an ignition interlock device.

(C) The person provides proof of responsibility to respond in damages as defined in Section 16430.

(D) The person has not applied for and received such an order in conjunction with the current underlying conviction or a prior conviction for violation of Section 23103, 23152, or 23153, if the prior conviction was within the previous seven years.

(E) Any individual convicted of a violation of Section 23152 punishable under Section 23170 may also, at any time after sentencing, petition the court for referral to an 18-month program or a 30-month program approved pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 11837) of Part 2 of Division 10.5 of the Health and Safety Code. Unless good cause is shown, the court shall order the referral.

(6) Upon a conviction or finding of a violation of Section 23153 punishable under Section 23190, the privilege shall be revoked for a period of five years. The privilege shall not be reinstated until evidence satisfactory to the department establishes that no grounds exist which would authorize the refusal to issue a license and until the person gives proof of ability to respond in damages as defined in Section 16430 and gives proof satisfactory to the department of successful completion, subsequent to the most recent underlying conviction, of a 30-month program approved pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 11837) of Part 2 of Division 10.5 of the Health and Safety Code. The court shall advise the person at the time of sentencing that completion of a 30-month program is required in order to become eligible for a California driver's license. The court shall also advise the person that after the completion of 24 months of the revocation period, the person may apply to the court for an order granting a restricted driver's license, subject to the following conditions:

(A) (i) The person has satisfactorily completed, subject to the current underlying conviction, the initial 18 months of a licensed 30-month program pursuant to Section 11837 of the Health and Safety Code.

(ii) The person agrees, as a condition of the restriction, to continue satisfactory participation in the 30-month program if applicable, and to have installed and maintained, as described in Section 23235, an ignition interlock device.

(iii) The person provides proof of responsibility to respond in damages as defined in Section 16430.

(iv) The person has not applied for and received such an order in conjunction with the current underlying conviction or a prior conviction for a violation of Section 23103, 23152, or 23153, if the prior conviction was within the previous seven years.

(B) Any individual convicted of a violation of Section 23153 punishable under Section 23190 may also, at any time after sentencing, petition the court for referral to a 30-month program approved pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 11837) of Part 2 of Division 10.5 of the Health and Safety Code. Unless good cause is shown, the court shall order the referral.

(7) Upon a conviction or finding of a violation of Section 23152 punishable under Section 23175, the privilege shall be revoked for a period of four years. The privilege shall not be reinstated until evidence satisfactory to the department establishes that no grounds exist which would authorize the refusal to issue a license and until the person gives proof of ability to respond in damages as defined in Section 16430 and gives proof satisfactory to the department of successful completion, subsequent to the most recent underlying conviction, of an 18-month program or a 30-month program approved pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 11837) of Part 2 of Division 10.5 of the Health and Safety Code. The court shall advise the person at the time of sentencing that completion of an 18-month program or a 30-month program is required in order to become eligible for a California driver's license. The court shall also advise the person that after the completion of 24 months of the revocation period, the person may apply to the court for an order granting a restricted driver's license, subject to the following conditions:

(A) The person has satisfactorily completed, subject to the current underlying conviction, the initial 18 months of a licensed 30-month program pursuant to Section 11837 of the Health and Safety Code.

(B) The person agrees, as a condition of the restriction, to continue satisfactory participation in the 30-month program, if applicable, and to have installed and maintained, as described in Section 23235, an ignition interlock device.

(C) The person provides proof of responsibility to respond in damages as defined in Section 16430.

(D) The person has not applied for and received such an order in conjunction with the current underlying conviction or a prior conviction for violation of Section 23103, 23152, or 23153, if the prior conviction was within the previous seven years.

(E) Any individual convicted of a violation of Section 23152 punishable under Section 23175 may also, at any time after sentencing, petition the court for referral to an 18-month program or a 30-month program approved pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 11837) of Part 2 of Division 10.5 of the Health and Safety Code. Unless good cause is shown, the court shall order the referral.

(8) Upon a conviction or finding of a violation of subdivision (a) of Section 23109 punishable under subdivision (e) of that section, the privilege shall be suspended for a period of 90 days to six months, if and as ordered by the court.

(9) Upon a conviction or finding of a violation of subdivision (a) of Section 23109 punishable under subdivision (f) of that section, the privilege shall be suspended for a period of six months, if the court orders the department to suspend the privilege. The privilege shall not be reinstated until the person gives proof of ability to respond in damages as defined in Section 16430.

(b) For the purpose of paragraphs (2) to (9), inclusive, of subdivision (a), the finding of the juvenile court judge, the juvenile traffic hearing officer, or the referee of a juvenile court of a commission of a violation of Section 23152 or 23153 or subdivision (a) of Section 23109, as specified in subdivision (a) of this section, is a conviction.

(c) Each judge of a juvenile court, juvenile traffic hearing officer, or referee of a juvenile court shall immediately report the findings specified in subdivision (a) to the department.

(d) A conviction of an offense in any state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or the Dominion of Canada which, if committed in this state, would be a violation of Section 23152, is a conviction of Section 23152 for purposes of this section, and such a conviction of an offense which, if committed in this state, would be a violation of Section 23153, is a conviction of Section 23153 for purposes of this section. The department shall suspend or revoke the privilege to operate a motor vehicle pursuant to this section upon receiving notice of such a conviction.

(e) Whenever the driving privilege is restricted, suspended, or revoked pursuant to this section, the department shall not issue a restricted driver's license or reinstate the driving privilege unless the person gives proof of ability to respond in damages as defined in Section 16430 and maintains that proof for three years. If, at any time during that three-year period, a person who is required to maintain that proof fails to maintain that proof, the department shall suspend that person's driving privilege until the proof of ability to respond in damages is again given to the department.

SEC. 6. Article 4 (commencing with Section 23235) is added to Chapter 12 of Division 11 of the Vehicle Code, to read:

Article 4. Ignition Interlock Device

23235. In addition to any other provisions of law, the court may require that any person who is convicted of a violation of Section 23152 or 23153, and who is granted probation, shall not operate a motor vehicle during the period of probation unless that vehicle is equipped with a functioning, certified ignition interlock device as provided in this article, and shall order that this requirement be noted on the driver's license of that person.

23236. (a) Notwithstanding any other requirements for the court to impose a minimum fine contained in Article 2 (commencing with Section 23152) and in order to implement this article, a court may impose as a condition of probation for any person whose driving privilege is restricted pursuant to Section 23235 that the person pay a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), unless the person is convicted of a violation of Section 23153, punishable under Section 23185 or 23190, in which case the court may impose as a condition of probation that the person pay a fine of not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000), which fine is in lieu of the fine prescribed in Article 2 (commencing with Section 23152). The court may consider in determining the amount of the fine to be imposed the cost to the person of installing the ignition interlock device, and may reduce the fine that would otherwise be imposed by an amount not to exceed the cost of the device.

(b) This section does not affect any other terms or conditions of probation required by Article 2 (commencing with Section 23152) other than those provisions prescribing minimum fines to be imposed as terms and conditions of probation.

23237. (a) No person shall knowingly rent, lease, or lend a motor vehicle to a person known to have had his or her driving privilege restricted under a condition of probation as provided in Section 23235, unless the vehicle is equipped with a functioning, certified ignition interlock device. Any person, whose driving privilege is restricted under a condition of probation as provided in Section 23235, shall notify any other person who rents, leases, or loans a motor vehicle to him or her of the driving restriction imposed under that section.

(b) Any person convicted of a violation of subdivision (a) shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by both that fine and imprisonment.

23238. (a) Subject to subdivision (d), the court shall order the installation of an ignition interlock device on any vehicle which the person subject to Section 23235 owns or operates.

(b) If the court imposes the use of an ignition interlock device as a condition of probation on a person whose driving privilege is not suspended or revoked, the court shall require the person to provide proof of compliance with subdivision (a) or (e) to the court or the probation officer within 30 days on a form prescribed pursuant to subdivision (i) of Section 23241 and shall require the person to surrender his or her driver's license to the court until that proof is submitted and verified by the court or probation officer. If the person fails to provide proof of installation within that period, absent a finding by the court of good cause for that failure which is entered in the court record, the court shall revoke or terminate the person's probation as provided by Section 23207.

(c) If the court imposes the use of an ignition interlock device as a term of probation on a person whose driving privilege is suspended or revoked for a period of less than three years, the Department of Motor Vehicles shall require proof of compliance with subdivision (a) or (e) before reinstatement of the person's driving privilege.

(d) If the person subject to Section 23235 claims inability to pay for the installation ordered pursuant to subdivision (a), the court shall determine the person's ability to pay, pursuant to Sections 1203.1b and 1203.1bb of the Penal Code. The person shall provide proof of installation as provided in subdivision (b) or (c).

(e) The person whose driving privilege is restricted pursuant to Section 23235 shall report to the court or the probation officer at least once annually, and more frequently as the court may order, on the operation of each interlocking ignition device in the person's vehicle or vehicles.

(f) The court shall immediately suspend the privilege to operate a motor vehicle of, and issue a bench warrant for, any person who fails to comply with any notice from the court or probation officer to comply with subdivision (a) or (e) or who three or more times fails to comply with any requirement for the maintenance or calibration of the ignition interlock device.

23239. The court may require the use of an approved ignition interlock device for the period of probation if the person is permitted to operate a motor vehicle, whether the privilege to operate a motor vehicle is restricted or not, as determined by the court.

23240. The court shall include on the abstract of conviction or violation submitted to the Department of Motor Vehicles under Section 1803 or 1816, the requirement for, and the period of, the use of a certified ignition interlock device under this article. The records of the Department of Motor Vehicles shall contain a record reflecting mandatory use of the device.

23241. (a) As used in this section, "office" means the Office of Traffic Safety.

(b) The office shall certify or cause to be certified ignition interlock devices required by this article and publish a list of approved devices.

(c) The office shall adopt guidelines for the proper use of the ignition interlock devices in full compliance with this article.

(d) The office shall utilize information from an independent agency to certify ignition interlock devices on or off the premises of the manufacturer in accordance with the guidelines. The cost of certification shall be borne by the manufacturers of interlock ignition devices. In certifying the devices, those which do not impede the safe operation of the vehicle, and which have the fewest opportunities to be bypassed so as to render the provisions of this article ineffective, shall be certified.

(e) No model of ignition interlock device shall be certified unless it meets the accuracy requirements specified by the guidelines of the office.

(f) Before certifying any device, the office shall consult with the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration regarding the use of ignition interlock devices.

(g) The office shall develop and disseminate information concerning the devices and their potential value as a countermeasure to driving under the influence of alcohol. This information shall be included in training seminars for municipal court judges throughout the state.

(h) The office shall establish standard forms and procedures for documenting decisions and compliance and communicating results to relevant agencies. These forms shall include all of the following:

(1) An "Order to Install," to be issued to the probationer at the time of sentencing. This shall include the conditions of the sentence and be accompanied by information concerning approved installation locations in the jurisdiction. Copies shall be provided for the court, the probationer, the Department of Motor Vehicles, and the probation department, or other monitoring agency.

(2) A "Verification of Installation" form to be returned to the court by the probationer within a specified time period. Copies shall be provided for the court, the probationer, the manufacturer, and the probation department or other monitoring agency.

(3) Verification of calibration, and compliance, forms and procedures to ensure continued use of the interlock during the probation period and to ensure compliance with maintenance requirements. The maintenance period shall be standardized at 60 days to maximize monitoring checks for equipment tampering.

23242. In addition to any other provisions of law, upon a violation of a condition of probation imposed pursuant to Section 23235, the court shall order the probation revoked and notify the Department of Motor Vehicles, which shall revoke the person's driving privilege for one year from the date of probation revocation. If that person subsequently violates that condition of probation during the same period of required use of an approved ignition interlock device, upon notification by the court, the Department of Motor Vehicles shall revoke the person's driving privilege for five years from the date of probation revocation.

23243. (a) Notwithstanding Sections 23235 and 23238, if a person is required to operate a motor vehicle in the course and scope of his or her employment and if the vehicle is owned by the employer, the person may operate that vehicle without installation of an approved ignition interlock device if the employer has been notified by the person that the person's driving privilege has been restricted under this article and if the person has proof of that notification in his or her possession or the notice, or a facsimile copy thereof, is with the vehicle.

(b) A motor vehicle owned by a business entity which business entity is all or partly owned or controlled by a person otherwise subject to this article, is not a motor vehicle owned by the employer subject to the exemption in subdivision (a).

23244. (a) It is unlawful for any person whose driving privilege is restricted pursuant to Section 23235 to request or solicit any other person to blow into an ignition interlock device or to start a motor vehicle equipped with the device for the purpose of providing the person so restricted with an operable motor vehicle.

(b) It is unlawful to blow into an ignition interlock device or to start a motor vehicle equipped with the device for the purpose of providing an operable motor vehicle to a person whose driving privilege is restricted pursuant to Section 23235.

(c) It is unlawful to tamper with, or circumvent the operation of, an ignition interlock device.

23245. Except as provided in this article, this article does not alter the authority of judges under existing law to establish reasonable conditions of probation.

SEC. 7. Section 40000.15 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Chapter 33 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

40000.15. A violation of any of the following provisions shall constitute a misdemeanor, and not an infraction:

Sections 23103 and 23104, relating to reckless driving.

Section 23109, relating to speed contests or exhibitions.

Section 23110, subdivision (a), relating to throwing at vehicles.

Section 23152, relating to driving under the influence.

Subdivision (b) of Section 23222, relating to possession of marijuana.

Sections 23237 and 23244, relating to ignition interlock devices.

Section 23253, relating to officers on vehicular crossings.

Section 23332, relating to trespassing.

Section 27150.1, relating to sale of exhaust systems.

Section 27362, relating to child passenger seat restraints.

Section 28050, relating to true mileage driven.

Section 28050.5, relating to nonfunctional odometers.

Section 28051, relating to resetting odometer.

Section 28051.5, relating to device to reset odometer.

SEC. 8. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstances is held invalid, that invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

SEC. 9. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 10. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to restore, at the earliest possible time, the ignition interlock device program, which has a valuable deterrent effect and will help protect motorists and others from drinking drivers, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1404

An act relating to developer fees.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) Any person who meets all of the following conditions shall be entitled to a refund in accordance with subdivision (b):

(1) The person paid a fee, charge, dedication, or other requirement that was imposed by a school district against residential construction, other than new construction, in accordance with Section 53080 of the Government Code as that section read between March 14, 1988, and September 30, 1989, inclusive.

(2) The actual cost of labor, materials, and professional services incurred by the person in completing the residential construction against which the fee, charge, dedication, or other requirement was imposed was twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) or less.

(3) No later than April 1, 1991, the person submits, to the school district that received the payment described in paragraph (1), a written request for a refund of that payment, together with documentation that enables the governing board of the school district to ascertain the amount of that payment and the amount of the cost described in paragraph (2).

(b) No later than June 1, 1991, each school district governing board that receives from any person a refund request that satisfies the conditions contained in paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of subdivision (a) shall return to that person the payment made to the school district by that person.

(c) This section shall apply only to single-family homes when the fee was paid by the owner-builder.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1405

An act making an appropriation for the payment of claims against the State of California, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

I am reducing the appropriation contained in Section 1 of Assembly Bill No 2571 from $1,465,878.14 to $1,462,245 14.

Specifically, I am reducing Item 5240-001-001 (a) by $3,663 for the claim for Paul D Palmer While there may be some merit of equity to the issues addressed in this case, these issues could, nonetheless, be applied to a large number of employees in similar circumstances throughout the state government; thus, compensation of this type would more appropriately be handled through collective bargaining As a result, I am vetoing this claim because of the precedent payment of the claim would establish and the potential impact it could have on the state's limited resources

With this reduction, I approve Assembly Bill No 2571.

GEORGE DEUKMEJIAN, Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

In order to settle claims against the state and end hardship to claimants as quickly as possible, it is necessary for this act to take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1406

An act to repeal Sections 66780.5 and 66796.32 of the Government Code, to amend Sections 41003, 41303, 41750, 41793, 41823, 41825, and 41903 of, to add Section 41802 to, to add Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 41500) to, to repeal Article 10 (commencing with Section 41280) of Chapter 2 of, and Article 10 (commencing with Section 41480) of, Chapter 3 of, Part 2 of Division 30 of, the Public Resources Code, relating to solid waste.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 66780.5 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 66796.32 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 41003 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41003. Each city source reduction and recycling element shall include, but is not limited to, all of the following components for solid waste generated in the jurisdiction of the plan:

(a) A waste characterization component.

(b) A source reduction component.

(c) A recycling component.

(d) A composting component.

(e) A solid waste facility capacity component.

(f) An education and public information component.

(g) A funding component.

(h) A special waste component.

SEC. 4. Article 10 (commencing with Section 41280) of Chapter 2 of Part 2 of Division 30 of the Public Resources Code is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 41303 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41303. Each county source reduction and recycling element shall include, but is not limited to, all of the following components for solid waste generated in the jurisdiction of the plan:

(a) A waste characterization component.

(b) A source reduction component.

(c) A recycling component.

(d) A composting component.

(e) A solid waste facility capacity component.

(f) An education and public information component.

(g) A funding component.

(h) A special waste component.

SEC. 6. Article 10 (commencing with Section 41480) of Chapter 3 of Part 2 of Division 30 of the Public Resources Code is repealed.

SEC. 7. Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 41500) is added to Part 2 of Division 30 of the Public Resources Code, to read:

CHAPTER 3.5. HOUSEHOLD HAZARDOUS WASTE ELEMENTS

Article 1. City Household Hazardous Waste Elements

41500. On or before July 1, 1991, each city shall prepare, adopt, and submit to the county in which the city is located a household hazardous waste element which identifies a program for the safe collection, recycling, treatment, and disposal of hazardous wastes, as defined in Section 25117 of the Health and Safety Code, which are generated by households in the city and which should be separated from the solid waste stream.

In preparing a city household hazardous waste element pursuant to this section, a city may use components of a city hazardous waste plan prepared pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 25135.7 of the Health and Safety Code if the city hazardous waste plan meets the requirements of this article and Section 41802.

Article 2. County Household Hazardous Waste Elements

41510. On or before July 1, 1991, each county shall prepare a household hazardous waste element which identifies a program for the safe collection, recycling, treatment, and disposal of hazardous wastes, as defined in Section 25117 of the Health and Safety Code, which are generated by households in the unincorporated area of the county and which should be separated from the solid waste stream. In preparing a county household hazardous waste element pursuant to this section, a county may use components of a county hazardous waste management plan prepared pursuant to Section 25135.1 of the Health and Safety Code, if that plan meets the requirements of this article and of Section 41802.

SEC. 8. Section 41750 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41750. Each county and city and county shall prepare and submit to the board in accordance with the schedule set forth in Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 41780), a countywide integrated waste management plan, which includes all of the following:

(a) All city source reduction and recycling elements prepared pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 41000) and submitted to the county.

(b) The county's source reduction and recycling element for the unincorporated area of the county prepared pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 41300).

(c) All city household hazardous waste elements which were prepared pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 41500) of Chapter 3.5 and submitted to the county.

(d) The county household hazardous waste element for the unincorporated area of the county prepared pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 41510) of Chapter 3.5.

(e) The countywide siting element prepared pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 41700).

SEC. 9. Section 41793 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41793. Each county or city shall hold at least one public hearing before approving its source reduction and recycling element, household hazardous waste element, and the countywide integrated waste management plan.

SEC. 10. Section 41802 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

41802. (a) Within 120 days of receiving a city or county household hazardous waste element, the board shall approve or disapprove the element.

(b) The board shall not disapprove a household hazardous waste element if the local agency preparing the element demonstrates to the board that, in implementing the household hazardous waste element, the local agency will comply with all of the following requirements:

(1) The local agency will use feasible methods to properly reduce, collect, recycle, treat, and dispose of household hazardous waste generated within its jurisdiction.

(2) The local agency will devote reasonable expenditures to the safe reduction, collection, recycling, treatment, and disposal of household hazardous waste, relative to the other expenditures required by this division.

(3) The local agency will make all reasonable efforts to inform the public of, and to encourage public participation in, the household hazardous waste program.

(4) That, regardless of the number of household hazardous waste collection events held each year by a local agency, or the actual number of households served, the collection program is available for use by all households within the jurisdiction of the local agency, and provides a safe alternative for all residents within the jurisdiction of the local agency to properly and safely dispose of household hazardous waste.

(c) In determining whether a local agency meets the conditions for approval of a household hazardous waste element contained in subdivision (b), the board shall consider the geographic size and population of the city or county, and quantity of household hazardous waste generated within the jurisdiction of the city or county.

The board may provide an exemption from the requirements of subdivision (b) if a city or a county demonstrates, and the board concurs, that compliance with these requirements is not feasible due to the small geographic size of the city or county and the small quantity of waste generated within the city or county. The board may establish alternative, but less comprehensive, requirements for those counties or cities to ensure compliance with this division.

SEC. 11. Section 41823 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41823. A city or county may enter into a memorandum of understanding with another city, county, regional planning agency, agency formed under a joint exercise of powers agreement, or district established to manage solid waste for the purpose of preparing and implementing source reduction and recycling elements, household hazardous waste elements, or a countywide integrated waste management plan.

SEC. 12. Section 41825 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41825. Not less frequently than every two years, the board shall review each city or county source reduction and recycling element and household hazardous waste element. If, after a public hearing, which, to the extent possible, is held in the local agency's jurisdiction, the board finds that the city or county has failed to implement its source reduction and recycling element or its household hazardous waste element, the board shall issue an order of compliance with a specific schedule for achieving compliance.

SEC. 13. Section 41903 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

41903. A city or county may assess special fees of a reasonable amount on the importation of waste from outside of the county to publicly owned or privately owned facilities. No city or county shall export solid waste to any other jurisdiction unless the exporting city or county has, within one year following the date specified in Section 41791 or a later date established or permitted by the board, an approved city or county household hazardous waste element and a source reduction and recycling element which have both been implemented, or have submitted a countywide integrated waste management plan, and is in compliance with it, provided, however, that, until one year following the date specified in Section 41791 or a later date established by the board, nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting the export of solid waste. The board may waive the requirements of this section if the board determines that all additional reasonable source reduction and recycling programs are being implemented in the city or county or if the board determines that the system to export waste supports or enhances the city or county source recovery and recycling element.

SEC. 14. Sections 1 to 12, inclusive, of this act shall become operative only if AB 3992 is enacted.

SEC. 15. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the local agency or school district has the authority to levy service charges, fees, or assessments sufficient to pay for the program or level of service mandated by this act.

Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1407

An act to amend Sections 16072 and 16077 of, and to add Section 16078 to, the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 16072 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

16072. (a) The suspension of the driving privilege of a person as provided in Section 16070 shall not be terminated until one year has elapsed from the date of actual commencement of the suspension and until the person files proof of financial responsibility as provided in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 16430), except that the suspension shall be reinstated if the person fails to maintain proof of financial responsibility for three years. However, in lieu of suspending a person's driving privilege pursuant to this section, the department may, upon application, if the person files and thereafter maintains proof of financial responsibility as provided in this section and pays a penalty fee to the department of two hundred fifty dollars ($250), restrict the person's driving privilege to any of the following situations:

(1) Necessary travel to and from that person's place of employment.

(2) Driving that is required in the person's course of employment, when driving a motor vehicle is necessary in order to perform the duties of the person's primary employment.

(3) Necessary travel to transport a minor dependent in that person's immediate family to and from an institute of primary or secondary instruction, if the chief administrative officer or principal of the educational institution certifies in writing to the department that the minor dependent is enrolled in the educational institution and no form of public transportation or schoolbus is available between the applicant's place of residence and the educational institution.

The restriction shall remain in effect for the period of suspension required by this section, so long as proof of financial responsibility is maintained.

(b) If a suspension has been imposed under Section 16070 and one year has elapsed from the date the suspension actually commenced, that suspension shall be terminated if the driving privilege is suspended under Section 16370 or 16381 as the result of a judgment arising out of the accident for which proof of financial responsibility was required to be established. The department may reimpose the suspension of the driving privilege of a person under Section 16070 if the suspension under Section 16370 or 16381 is later set aside for a reason other than that the person has satisfied the judgment in full or to the extent provided in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 16250) and has given proof of ability to respond in damages as provided in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 16430).

(c) Notwithstanding Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 42200) of Division 18, all revenues derived from the penalty fees provided in subdivision (a) shall, after deduction by the department of the costs incurred by the department in administering this section, be deposited in the Financial Responsibility Penalty Account in the General Fund. The balance in this fund on each July 1, which is not subject to appropriation as provided in Section 12980 of the Insurance Code, shall revert to the General Fund.

SEC. 2. Section 16077 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

16077. (a) The department, upon application and payment of a fifty dollar ($50) fee and a penalty fee of two hundred dollars ($200), may issue a restricted license to an applicant with serious health problems, or to an applicant with an immediate family member with serious health problems, when the applicant's privilege to drive is otherwise suspended under this chapter. The restricted license may be issued to enable the applicant to drive a motor vehicle for the purpose of receiving medical treatments of a prolonged and repetitive nature for the applicant or the member of the applicant's immediate family with serious health problems, if the applicant files and maintains proof of financial responsibility on file with the department pursuant to Section 16021 and there is no other suitable means of transportation available.

(b) The application shall set forth the nature of the health problem, the nature of the treatments, the duration and location of the treatments, and the schedule for visits. The applicant shall submit documentation signed by the treating physician and surgeon as necessary to assist the department in its decision to grant or deny the restricted license. Upon reviewing the application, the department may determine that an investigation as to the person's fitness to operate a motor vehicle is warranted. If the department makes this determination, the department may conduct an investigation in a manner provided for in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 13800) of Division 6.

(c) In reviewing the application, the department shall give due consideration to the circumstances set forth in the application and shall be guided by principles of fairness and humanity.

(d) Notwithstanding Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 42200) of Division 18, all revenues derived from the penalty fees provided in subdivision (a) shall, after deduction by the department of the costs incurred by the department in administering this section, be deposited in the Financial Responsibility Penalty Account in the General Fund.

SEC. 3. Section 16077 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

16077. (a) The department, upon application and payment of a fifty dollar ($50) fee and a penalty fee of two hundred dollars ($200), may issue a restricted license to an applicant with serious health problems, or to an applicant with an immediate family member with serious health problems, when the applicant's privilege to drive is otherwise suspended under this chapter. The restricted license may be issued to enable the applicant to drive a motor vehicle for the purpose of receiving medical or mental health treatments of a prolonged and repetitive nature for the applicant or the member of the applicant's immediate family with serious health problems, if the applicant files and maintains proof of financial responsibility on file with the department pursuant to Section 16021 and there is no other suitable means of transportation available.

(b) The application shall set forth the nature of the health problem, the nature of the treatments, the duration and location of the treatments, and the schedule for visits. The applicant shall submit documentation signed by the treating physician and surgeon or licensed psychotherapist, as defined in subdivisions (a), (b), (c), and

(e) of Section 1010 of the Evidence Code, as necessary to assist the department in its decision to grant or deny the restricted license. Upon reviewing the application, the department may determine that an investigation as to the person's fitness to operate a motor vehicle is warranted. If the department makes this determination, the department may conduct an investigation in a manner provided for in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 13800) of Division 6.

(c) In reviewing the application, the department shall give due consideration to the circumstances set forth in the application and shall be guided by principles of fairness and humanity.

(d) Notwithstanding Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 42200) of Division 18, all revenues derived from the penalty fees provided in subdivision (a) shall, after deduction by the department of the costs incurred by the department in administering this section, be deposited in the Financial Responsibility Penalty Account in the General Fund.

SEC. 4. Section 16078 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

16078. Any person who has paid the penalty fee prescribed in subdivision (a) of Section 16072, whether or not the person has received the license restriction authorized by that section, may also apply for and receive a restricted license under Section 16077 without paying the fees prescribed in Section 16077. Any person who has paid the fees prescribed in subdivision (a) of Section 16077, whether or not the person has received the restricted license authorized by that section, may also apply for and receive the license restriction prescribed in Section 16072.

SEC. 5. Section 3 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 16077 of the Vehicle Code proposed by both this bill and AB 3470. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1991, (2) each bill amends Section 16077 of the Vehicle Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 3470, in which case Section 2 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 6. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1408

An act to amend Sections 19410.8 and 19546 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to horseracing.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19410.8 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19410.8. "Show jumping race" means a horserace, over obstacles made of artificial or natural material, which is shorter than a steeplechase course, and is run by horses for time with faults converted to time. Requirements and rules for a show jumping race shall conform to the requirements and rules of the American Horse Shows Association.

SEC. 2. Section 19546 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19546. (a) In order to encourage and develop the racing of all horses in California, regardless of breed, whenever the California State Fair and Exposition, a county fair, or a district agricultural association fair conducts a program of parimutuel wagering, it may provide a program of mixed breed racing that includes thoroughbred racing, harness racing, quarter horse racing, Arabian racing, paint racing, Appaloosa racing, steeplechase races, barrel races, and show jumping races.

(b) All recognized breeds of horses may compete in barrel races, show jumping races, and steeplechase races. Parimutuel wagering may be conducted on barrel races, show jumping races, and steeplechase races.

CHAPTER 1409

An act to add and repeal Section 769.5 of the Insurance Code, relating to insurance.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 769.5 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

769.5. (a) Notwithstanding Section 769, except subdivision (b) and paragraph (1) and (2) of subdivision (e) of Section 769, after the termination of a written agency contract between an automobile insurer and a duly licensed insurance agency, the insurer shall continue the agency's authority, exclusively in accordance with this section, to act on behalf of the insurer to service an automobile insurance policy, as described in subdivision (a) of Section 660, for a period not to exceed two years after the termination of the agency, if the policy cannot be canceled or nonrenewed pursuant to law. An agency continuing to service a renewed automobile insurance policy pursuant to this section shall receive a commission at a level equal to the prevailing commission rate paid by the insurer to other agencies writing private passenger auto insurance, by that insurer in this state. The agency shall provide the services as specified by the insurer with regard to renewed policyholders on the date of the contract termination during the period which the agency receives compensation pursuant to this section.

(b) This section shall not apply to an agent who is an employee of an insurer, or to an agent who, by contractual agreement either represents only one insurer or a group of affiliated insurers or who is required by contract to submit risks to a specified insurer or group of affiliated insurers prior to submitting them to others.

(c) Nothing in this section shall limit the right of a withdrawing insurer not to renew a policy of automobile insurance as described in subdivision (a) of Section 660.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1996, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted on or before January 1, 1996, deletes or extends that date.

CHAPTER 1410

An act to amend Section 16077 of the Vehicle Code, relating to drivers' licenses.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 16077 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

16077. (a) The department, upon application and payment of a fifty dollar ($50) fee and a penalty fee of two hundred dollars ($200), may issue a restricted license to an applicant with serious health problems when his or her privilege to drive is otherwise suspended under this chapter, to enable the applicant to drive a motor vehicle for the purpose of receiving medical or mental health treatments of a prolonged and repetitive nature, if the person files and maintains proof of financial responsibility on file with the department pursuant to Section 16021.

The application shall set forth the nature of the health problem, the nature of the treatments, the duration and location of the treatments, and the schedule for visits. The applicant shall submit documentation signed by the applicant's treating physician and surgeon or licensed psychotherapist, as defined in subdivisions (a), (b), (c), and (e) of Section 1010 of the Evidence Code, as necessary to assist the department in its decision to grant or deny the restricted license. Upon reviewing the application, the department may determine that an investigation as to the person's fitness to operate a motor vehicle is warranted. If the department makes this determination, the department may conduct an investigation in a manner provided for in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 13800) of Division 6.

In reviewing the application, the department shall give due consideration to the circumstances set forth in the application and shall be guided by principles of fairness and humanity.

(b) Notwithstanding Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 42200) of Division 18, all revenues derived from the penalty fees provided in subdivision (a) shall be deposited in the Financial Responsibility Penalty Account in the General Fund.

SEC. 2. Section 16077 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

16077. (a) The department, upon application and payment of a fifty dollar ($50) fee and a penalty fee of two hundred dollars ($200), may issue a restricted license to an applicant with serious health problems, or to an applicant with an immediate family member with serious health problems, when the applicant's privilege to drive is otherwise suspended under this chapter. The restricted license may be issued to enable the applicant to drive a motor vehicle for the purpose of receiving medical or mental health treatments of a prolonged and repetitive nature for the applicant or the member of the applicant's immediate family with serious health problems, if the applicant files and maintains proof of financial responsibility on file with the department pursuant to Section 16021 and there is no other suitable means of transportation available.

(b) The application shall set forth the nature of the health problem, the nature of the treatments, the duration and location of the treatments, and the schedule for visits. The applicant shall submit documentation signed by the treating physician and surgeon or licensed psychotherapist, as defined in subdivisions (a), (b), (c), and (e) of Section 1010 of the Evidence Code, as necessary to assist the department in its decision to grant or deny the restricted license. Upon reviewing the application, the department may determine that an investigation as to the person's fitness to operate a motor vehicle is warranted. If the department makes this determination, the department may conduct an investigation in a manner provided for in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 13800) of Division 6.

(c) In reviewing the application, the department shall give due consideration to the circumstances set forth in the application and shall be guided by principles of fairness and humanity.

(d) Notwithstanding Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 42200) of Division 18, all revenues derived from the penalty fees provided in subdivision (a) shall, after deduction by the department of the costs incurred by the department in administering this section, be deposited in the Financial Responsibility Penalty Account in the General Fund.

SEC. 3. Section 2 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 16077 of the Vehicle Code proposed by both this bill and AB 2817. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1991, (2) each bill amends Section 16077 of the Vehicle Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 2817, in which case Section 1 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 1411

An act to add Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 7287) to Part 1.7 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to local taxation.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 7287) is added to Part 1.7 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

CHAPTER 3. GRAFFITI PREVENTION TAX

7287. (a) The legislative body of any city or county, or city and county, may levy a tax by an ordinance approved by two-thirds of the electors voting on the measure, in addition to any other tax authorized by this division, on the privilege of selling at retail within its jurisdiction aerosol paint containers, containers of any other marking substance, felt tip markers which have a flat or angled writing surface of one-half inch or greater, or any other marking instruments, at the rate of no more than ten cents ($0.10) per aerosol paint container or container of other marking substance, and no more than five cents ($0.05) per felt tip marker or other marking instrument.

(b) For purposes of this chapter, "aerosol paint container" means any aerosol container, regardless of the material from which it is made, which is adapted or made for the purpose of spraying paint capable of defacing property.

(c) For purposes of this chapter, "felt tip marker" means any broad-tipped indelible marker or similar implement containing an ink that is not water-soluble.

(d) For purposes of this chapter, "marking substance" and "marking instrument" means any substance or instrument, other than aerosol paint containers and felt tip markers, which could be used to draw, spray, paint, or mark, including, but not limited to, shoe polish applicators.

7287.2. Any ordinance levying a tax pursuant to this chapter shall provide for the following:

(a) That the city or county, or city and county, shall contract prior to the effective date of the ordinance with the State Board of Equalization to perform all functions incident to the administration or operation of the ordinance for as long as the city or county, or city and county, has an operative ordinance enacted pursuant to this chapter.

(b) That the ordinance is repealed no later than five years after its effective date.

7287.4. Every retailer engaged in business in a city or county, or city and county, which has an operative ordinance enacted pursuant to this chapter shall, at the time of making the sales of aerosol paint containers or felt tip markers, collect the tax from the consumer and give to the consumer a receipt therefor in the manner and form prescribed by the State Board of Equalization.

7287.6. All revenues collected pursuant to a tax authorized by this chapter shall be remitted to the State Board of Equalization and allocated by the board as follows:

(a) First, for reimbursement to the board, pursuant to the contract between the board and the city or county, or city and county, of the reasonable costs of administering and enforcing the ordinance on behalf of the local entity.

(b) Second, for transmission not later than March 15 of each calendar year to each city or county, or city and county, which has an operative ordinance enacted pursuant to this chapter, in an amount corresponding to the amount of revenues derived within that jurisdiction from a tax levied by that ordinance.

Moneys transmitted to a city or county, or city and county, pursuant to this section shall only be expended by that local entity for purposes of the removal and prevention of graffiti, or for educational programs for at-risk youth to combat graffiti vandalism in all its forms.

7287.8. The State Board of Equalization shall administer and enforce the provisions of this chapter, and may prescribe, adopt, and enforce, rules and regulations for those purposes pursuant to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. The board may prescribe the extent to which any rule or regulation shall be applied without retroactive effect.

7287.9. Except as provided in Section 7287.10, to the extent feasible or practicable, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 6451), Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 6701), Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 6901), and Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 7051) of Part 1, shall govern determinations, collection of tax, overpayments and refunds, and administration under this chapter.

7287.10. (a) The return and payment of the tax imposed by this chapter is due and payable to the board annually on or before February 15 following the end of the calendar year during which the tax was collected.

(b) For purposes of computing interest due on any amount of tax not paid when due, interest shall be computed to the 15th day of each succeeding month.

(c) Except in the case of fraud, intent to evade this chapter or accompanying rules and regulations, or failure to make a return, every notice of a deficiency determination shall be mailed within three years after the 15th day of the second month following the one-year period for which the amount is proposed to be determined or within three years after the return is filed, whichever period expires later. In the case of failure to make a return, every notice of determination shall be mailed within eight years after the 15th day of the second month following the one-year period for which the amount is proposed to be determined.

(d) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), no refund shall be approved by the board after three years from the 15th day of the second month following the one-year period for which the overpayment was made, or with respect to determinations made under Article 2 (commencing with Section 6481), Article 3 (commencing with Section 6511), and Article 4 (commencing with Section 6536) of Chapter 5 of Part 1, after six months from the date the determinations become final, or after six months from the date of overpayment, whichever period expires later, unless a claim therefor is filed with the board within that period. No credit shall be approved by the board after the expiration of that period unless a claim for credit is filed with the board within that period, or unless the credit relates to a period for which a waiver has been granted pursuant to Section 6488.

(2) A refund may be approved by the board for any period for which a waiver has been granted under Section 6488 if a claim for refund is filed with the board before the expiration of the waiver period.

(e) In all other instances where the due date specified in subdivision (a) conflicts with a due date specified in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 6451), Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 6701), Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 6901), and Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 7051) of Part 1, the due date specified in subdivision (a) shall be substituted for any due date specified in those chapters, and periods running from or to, or otherwise based on, the otherwise applicable due date shall be adjusted accordingly.

CHAPTER 1412

An act to add Chapter 1.10 (commencing with Section 15365.30) to Part 6.7 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, relating to the California State World Trade Commission, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

I am deleting the $25,000 General Fund appropriation contained in Section 2 of Assembly Bill No 3850.

This appropriation would fund the establishment of a computerized data base to assist California Exporters in doing business with developing nations and developed nations. I am not convinced that this project is of sufficient priority to warrant funding at this time, given the critical condition of the General Fund

The demands placed on budget resources require all of us to set priorities With legislation I will be signing and the Budget enacted in July 1990, more than $54 billion in state funds will be appropriated this fiscal year This amount is more than adequate to provide the necessary essential services provided for by State Government It is not necessary to put additional pressure on taxpayer funds for programs that fall beyond the priorities currently provided.

It is more appropriate to consider funding the provisions of this bill during the budget process for Fiscal Year 1991–92 Only at that time can the relative merits of this program be reviewed in comparison to all other funding projects The budget process weighs all demands on the state's revenues and directs resources to programs, either new or existing, that have the most merit.

With this deletion, I approve Assembly Bill No. 3850.

GEORGE DEUKMEJIAN, Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 1.10 (commencing with Section 15365.30) is added to Part 6.7 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, to read:

CHAPTER 1.10. TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE TO DEVELOPING NATIONS

15365.30. The Legislature finds and declares the following:

(a) International relations between the United States and developing nations face an historic challenge as world peace unfolds.

(b) Successful conversion of the political and economic structure of developing nations to democracy requires timely support from their western trading partners, including California.

(c) A significant opportunity exists for California to strengthen world political and economic prosperity by transferring the state's various technologies and providing technical assistance to these countries.

(d) It is the Legislature's intent to establish a computerized data base within the California State World Trade Commission to assist developing nations, consistent with federal law, in their conversion to democracy and in promoting their economic development.

15365.31. The data base established by the commission shall provide information critical to California exporters seeking to do business with developing and developed nations.

15365.32. The commission shall implement the data base system in conjunction with, and modeled after, the California Agriculture Technology Institute at California State University, Fresno.

15365.33. In developing the data base, the commission shall do all of the following:

(a) Ascertain which nations and businesses could utilize technical assistance from the state and the type of assistance required.

(b) Develop a list of state expertise by subject matter which could be available to provide this assistance.

(c) Ensure that all California industries and technologies are included in the data base.

(d) Ensure that all information in the data base is made available by computer modem.

SEC. 2. The sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the California State World Trade Commission to establish the data base as required by Chapter 1.10 (commencing with Section 15365.30) of Part 6.7 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

CHAPTER 1413

An act to add Section 17508.5 to, and to add Article 7 (commencing with Section 17580) to Chapter 1 of Part 3 of Division 7 of, the Business and Professions Code, relating to environmental advertising.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17508.5 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

17508.5. It is unlawful for any person to represent that any consumer good which it manufactures or distributes is "ozone friendly," or any like term which connotes that stratospheric ozone is not being depleted, "biodegradable," "photodegradable," "recyclable," or "recycled" unless that consumer good meets the definitions contained in this section, or meets definitions established in trade rules adopted by the Federal Trade Commission. For the purposes of this section, the following words have the following meanings:

(a) "Ozone friendly," or any like term which connotes that stratospheric ozone is not being depleted, means that any chemical or material released into the environment as a result of the use or production of a product, will not migrate to the stratosphere and cause unnatural and accelerated deterioration of ozone.

(b) "Biodegradable" means that a material has the proven capability to decompose in the most common environment where the material is disposed within one year through natural biological processes into nontoxic carbonaceous soil, water, or carbon dioxide.

(c) "Photodegradable" means that a material has the proven capability to decompose in the most common environment where the material is disposed within one year through physical processes, such as exposure to heat and light, into nontoxic carbonaceous soil, water, or carbon dioxide.

(d) "Recyclable" means that an article can be conveniently recycled, as defined in Section 40180 of the Public Resources Code, in every county in California with a population over 300,000 persons. For the purposes of this subdivision, "conveniently recycled" shall not mean that a consumer good may be recycled in a convenience zone as defined in Section 14909.4 of the Public Resources Code.

(e) "Recycled" means that an article's contents contain at least 10 percent, by weight, postconsumer material, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 12200 of the Public Contract Code.

(f) "Consumer good" means any article which is used or bought for use primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(g) For the purposes of this section, a wholesaler or retailer who does not initiate a representation by advertising or by placing the representation on a package shall not be deemed to have made the representation.

SEC. 2. Article 7 (commencing with Section 17580) is added to Chapter 1 of Part 3 of Division 7 of the Business and Professions Code, to read:

Article 7. Environmental Representations

17580. (a) Any person who represents in advertising or on the label or container of a consumer good that the consumer good which it manufactures or distributes is not harmful to, or is beneficial to, the natural environment, through the use of such terms as "environmental choice," "ecologically friendly," "earth friendly," "environmentally friendly," "ecologically sound," "environmentally sound," "environmentally safe," "ecologically safe," "environmentally lite," "green product," or any other like term, shall maintain in written form in its records the following information and documentation supporting the validity of the representation:

(1) The reasons why the person believes the representation to be true.

(2) Any significant adverse environmental impacts directly associated with the production, distribution, use, and disposal of the consumer good.

(3) Any measures which are taken by the person to reduce the environmental impacts directly associated with the production, distribution, and disposal of the consumer good.

(4) Violations of any federal, state, or local permits directly associated with the production or distribution of the consumer good.

(5) Whether or not, if applicable, the consumer good meets the definitions of "recycled," "recyclable," "biodegradable," "photodegradable," or "ozone friendly," as defined in Section 17508.5.

(b) Information and documentation maintained pursuant to this section shall be furnished to any member of the public upon request.

(c) For the purposes of this section, a wholesaler or retailer who does not initiate a representation by advertising or by placing the representation on a package shall not be deemed to have made the representation.

(d) It is the intent of the Legislature that the information and documentation supporting the validity of the representation maintained under this section shall be fully disclosed to the public, within the limits of all applicable laws.

17581. Any violation of this article is a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed six months, or by a fine not to exceed two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500), or by both.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1414

An act to amend Section 20207.7 of, to amend and renumber Section 20104 of, and to add and repeal Article 1.5 (commencing with Section 20104) of Chapter 1 of Part 3 of Division 2 of, the Public Contract Code, relating to public construction.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1990 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 20104 of the Public Contract Code is amended and renumbered to read:

20103.5. In all contracts subject to this part where federal funds are involved, no bid submitted shall be invalidated by the failure of the bidder to be licensed in accordance with the laws of this state. However, at the time the contract is awarded, the contractor shall be properly licensed in accordance with the laws of this state. The first payment for work or material under any contract shall not be made unless and until the Registrar of Contractors verifies to the agency that the records of the Contractors' State License Board indicate that the contractor was properly licensed at the time the contract was awarded. Any bidder or contractor not so licensed shall be subject to all legal penalties imposed by law, including, but not limited to, any appropriate disciplinary action by the Contractors' State License Board. The agency shall include a statement to that effect in the standard form of prequalification questionnaire and financial statement. Failure of the bidder to obtain proper and adequate licensing for an award of a contract shall constitute a failure to execute the contract and shall result in the forfeiture of the security of the bidder.

SEC. 2. Article 1.5 (commencing with Section 20104) is added to Chapter 1 of Part 3 of the Public Contract Code, to read:

Article 1.5. Resolution of Construction Claims

20104. (a) (1) This article applies to all public works claims of three hundred seventy-five thousand dollars ($375,000) or less which arise between a contractor and a local agency.

(2) This article shall not apply to any claims resulting from a contract between a contractor and a public agency when the public agency has elected to resolve any disputes pursuant to Article 7.1 (commencing with Section 10240) of Chapter 1 of Part 2.

(b) (1) "Public work" has the same meaning as in Sections 3100 and 3106 of the Civil Code, except that "public work" does not include any work or improvement contracted for by the state or the Regents of the University of California.

(2) "Claim" means a separate demand by the contractor for (A) a time extension, (B) payment of money or damages arising from work done by or on behalf of the contractor pursuant to the contract for a public work and payment of which is not otherwise expressly provided for or the claimant is not otherwise entitled to, or (C) an amount the payment of which is disputed by the local agency.

(c) The provisions of this article or a summary thereof shall be set forth in the plans or specifications for any work which may give rise to a claim under this article.

(d) This article applies only to contracts entered into on or after January 1, 1991.

20104.2. For any claim subject to this article, the following requirements apply:

(a) The claim shall be in writing and include the documents necessary to substantiate the claim. Claims must be filed on or before the date of final payment. Nothing in this subdivision is intended to extend the time limit or supersede notice requirements otherwise provided by contract for the filing of claims.

(b) (1) For claims of less than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), the local agency shall respond in writing to any written claim within 45 days of receipt of the claim, or may request, in writing, within 30 days of receipt of the claim, any additional documentation supporting the claim or relating to defenses or claims the local agency may have against the claimant.

(2) If additional information is thereafter required, it shall be requested and provided pursuant to this subdivision, upon mutual agreement of the local agency and the claimant.

(3) The local agency's written response to the claim, as further documented, shall be submitted to the claimant within 15 days after receipt of the further documentation or within a period of time no greater than that taken by the claimant in producing the additional information, whichever is greater.

(c) (1) For claims of over fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) and less than or equal to three hundred seventy-five thousand dollars ($375,000), the local agency shall respond in writing to all written claims within 60 days of receipt of the claim, or may request, in writing, within 30 days of receipt of the claim, any additional documentation supporting the claim or relating to defenses or claims the local agency may have against the claimant.

(2) If additional information is thereafter required, it shall be requested and provided pursuant to this subdivision, upon mutual agreement of the local agency and the claimant.

(3) The local agency's written response to the claim, as further documented, shall be submitted to the claimant within 30 days after receipt of the further documentation, or within a period of time no greater than that taken by the claimant in producing the additional information or requested documentation, whichever is greater.

(d) If the claimant disputes the local agency's written response, or the local agency fails to respond within the time prescribed, the claimant may so notify the local agency, in writing, either within 15 days of receipt of the local agency's response or within 15 days of the local agency's failure to respond within the time prescribed, respectively, and demand an informal conference to meet and confer for settlement of the issues in dispute. Upon a demand, the local agency shall schedule a meet and confer conference within 30 days for settlement of the dispute.

(e) If following the meet and confer conference the claim or any portion remains in dispute, the claimant may file a claim pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 900) and Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 910) of Part 3 of Division 3.6 of Title 1 of the Government Code. For purposes of those provisions, the running of the period of time within which a claim must be filed shall be tolled from the time the claimant submits his or her written claim pursuant to subdivision (a) until the time the claim is denied, including any period of time utilized by the meet and confer conference.

20104.4. The following procedures are established for all civil actions filed to resolve claims subject to this article:

(a) Within 60 days, but no earlier than 30 days, following the filing or responsive pleadings, the court shall submit the matter to nonbinding mediation unless waived by mutual stipulation of both parties. The mediation process shall provide for the selection within 15 days by both parties of a disinterested third person as mediator, shall be commenced within 30 days of the submittal, and shall be concluded within 15 days from the commencement of the mediation unless a time requirement is extended upon a good cause showing to the court.

(b) (1) If the matter remains in dispute, the case shall be submitted to judicial arbitration pursuant to Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 1141.10) of Title 3 of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure, notwithstanding Section 1141.11 of that code. The Civil Discovery Act of 1986 (Article 3 (commencing with Section 2016) of Chapter 3 of Title 3 of Part 4 of the Code of Civil Procedure) shall apply to any proceeding brought under this subdivision consistent with the rules pertaining to judicial arbitration.

(2) In addition to Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 1141.10) of Title 3 of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure, (A) arbitrators shall, when possible, be experienced in construction law, and (B) any party appealing an arbitration award who does not obtain a more favorable judgment shall, in addition to payment of costs and fees under that chapter, also pay the attorney's fees on appeal of the other party.

20104.6. (a) No local agency shall fail to pay money as to any portion of a claim which is undisputed except as otherwise provided in the contract.

(b) In any suit filed under Section 20104.4, the local agency shall pay interest at the legal rate on any arbitration award or judgment. The interest shall begin to accrue on the date the suit is filed in a court of law.

20104.8. (a) This article shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends that date.

(b) As stated in subdivision (c) of Section 20104, any contract entered into between January 1, 1991, and January 1, 1994, which is subject to this article shall incorporate this article. To that end, these contracts shall be subject to this article even if this article is repealed pursuant to subdivision (a).

SEC. 3. Section 20207.7 of the Public Contract Code is amended to read:

20207.7. Unless the amount involved in the purchase at any one time of any articles for which no contract has been entered into exceeds ten thousand dollars ($10,000), the board may purchase the articles without the necessity of advertising or letting contracts. Where the cost of any articles for which no contract has been entered into exceeds ten thousand dollars ($10,000), the board shall advertise for sealed bids for furnishing the district the articles. In the matter of advertising, opening and accepting bids, and the letting of contracts, the board shall proceed in all respects in the manner and form provided in the case of contracts for annual supplies.

SEC. 4. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1415

An act to amend Sections 1981 and 1982 of, and to add Sections 1981.2 and 2558.2 to, the Education Code, relating to education.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1981 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1981. The county board of education may enroll in community schools any of the following:

(a) Pupils who have been expelled from a school while attending either continuing classes, opportunity classes, or alternative classes.

(b) Pupils who have been referred to county community schools by a school district as a result of the recommendation by a school attendance review board.

(c) Pupils who are probation-referred pursuant to Sections 300, 601, 602, and 654 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or who are on probation or parole and who are not in attendance in any school.

(d) Homeless children.

SEC. 2. Section 1981.2 is added to the Education Code, to read:

1981.2. For purposes of this chapter, the term "homeless children" means either of the following:

(a) A schoolaged child who lacks a fixed, regular, and adequate nighttime residence.

(b) A schoolaged child who has a primary nighttime residence that is any of the following:

(1) A supervised publicly or privately operated shelter designed to provide temporary living accommodations.

(2) An institution that provides a temporary residence for individuals intended to be institutionalized.

(3) A temporary, makeshift arrangement in the accommodations of other persons.

(4) A public or private place not designed for, or ordinarily used as, a regular sleeping accommodation for human beings.

SEC. 3. Section 1982 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1982. (a) County community schools shall be administered by the county superintendent of schools.

For purposes of making apportionments from the State School Fund and the levying of local taxes, any attendance generated by students in county community schools pursuant to subdivisions (a), (b), and (d) of Section 1981 shall be credited to the district of residence. School districts shall pay to the county for the purposes of the community schools the entire revenue limit for each average daily attendance credited pursuant to this section. No funds generated by such average daily attendance shall be retained by the district of residence. The county superintendent of schools may use funds derived from existing tax revenues to provide additional funding per student enrolled in county community schools but not to exceed the difference between the amount derived per student from the district and the amount available per student enrolled in juvenile court schools.

(b) For the purposes of making apportionments from the State School Fund, pupils enrolled in county community schools pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 1981 shall be deemed to be enrolled in a county juvenile hall or camp.

(c) For the purposes of this section, the county superintendent of schools providing educational services to homeless children shall be deemed to be the district of residence of those children.

SEC. 4. Section 2558.2 is added to the Education Code, to read:

2558.2. (a) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall use the revenue limit per unit of average daily attendance of the largest unified school district in the county to determine the revenue limits per unit of average daily attendance for county superintendents who provide education for homeless children pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 1982.

(b) The county superintendent shall certify to the Superintendent of Public Instruction that no school district in the county is also claiming average daily attendance for those pupils.

(c) State apportionments to county superintendents for the provision of education services to homeless children shall be restricted to expenditure on education services to homeless children and county administrative expenses related thereto.

CHAPTER 1416

An act to amend Section 14030.5 of the Government Code, relating to government contracts.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1990. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1990.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14030.5 of the Government Code is amended to read:

14030.5. (a) As used in this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Socially and economically disadvantaged business concern" means a business that meets both of the following criteria:

(A) A business that is at least 51 percent owned by one or more socially and economically disadvantaged persons or one or more socially or economically disadvantaged persons or, in the case of any business whose stock is publicly held, at least 51 percent of the stock is owned by one or more of those persons.

(B) A business whose management and daily business operations are controlled by one or more socially and economically disadvantaged persons or one or more socially or economically disadvantaged persons.

(2) "Socially and economically disadvantaged persons" and "socially or economically disadvantaged persons" include women, Black Americans, Hispanic Americans, Native Americans (including American Indians, Eskimos, Aleuts, and Native Hawaiians), Asian-Pacific Americans (including persons whose origins are from Japan, China, the Philippines, Vietnam, Korea, Samoa, Guam, the United States Trust Territories of the Pacific, Northern Marianas, Laos, Cambodia, and Taiwan), and other minorities or any other group of natural persons determined by the director to be so disadvantaged.

(b) The department shall certify socially and economically disadvantaged business concerns, as defined by subdivision (a). All state agencies shall, and any local agency may, accept the certification of a socially and economically disadvantaged business concern by the department as valid status of that business when awarding contracts to socially and economically disadvantaged business concerns. No state agency shall require the business to comply with any other certification process for certifying socially and economically disadvantaged business concerns.

(c) The department shall certify minority business enterprises and women business enterprises, as defined in subdivisions (e), (f), and (g) of Section 10115.1 of the Public Contract Code for transportation-related projects. All state agencies shall accept the certification of a minority or women business enterprise by the department as valid status of that business when awarding contracts. No state agency shall require the business to comply with any other certification process for certifying minority and women business enterprises. The department shall not be required to accept the certification of a minority business enterprise or women business enterprise by any other state agency.
