[Approved by Governor February 11, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State February 13, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares all of the following:

(a) In 1988 the Legislature enacted Senate Concurrent Resolution 93, which recognized the significant relationship between diet and cancer as a threat to public health, and declared a goal for yearly consumption of fruits and vegetables of 500 pounds, or the equivalent of five servings per person per day.

(b) Working with national grant funds, the State Department of Health Services has successfully conducted the “5 A Day — For Better Health” campaign, which has attracted participation by produce organizations and supermarkets throughout the state.

(c) The grant which supports the “5 A Day — For Better Health” campaign will expire in 1991, and there exists no other health promotion campaign focusing on fruits and vegetables in California.

(d) The need for further promotion of increased dietary consumption of fruits and vegetables is indicated by federal government reports that consumption of fruits and vegetables averages less than three servings daily, with one in 10 adults eating no fruits and vegetables at all on any given day.

(e) State law currently requires nutrition guidelines developed by the State Department of Education to consider recommendations for children contained in the California Daily Food Guide published by the State Department of Health Services, including a recommendation for consumption of at least five servings of fruits and vegetables per day.

(f) Budgetary restrictions in the state General Fund makes full funding of a continued “5 A Day — For Better Health” program in California impossible, but funding sources which combine public and private resources and allow leveraged use of state funds can permit continuation of the campaign to improve the diets of all Californians.

SEC. 2. Article 20 (commencing with Section 429.994) is added to Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:
Article 20. "5 A Day — For Better Health" Program

429.994. (a) The state department shall establish and implement, to the extent funds are available pursuant to subdivision (d) which are other than state general funds, a "5 A Day — For Better Health" program for the purpose of promoting public awareness of the need to increase the consumption of fruits and vegetables as part of a low-fat, high-fiber diet in order to improve health and prevent major chronic diseases, including diet-related cancers.

(b) The state department may promote the "5 A Day — For Better Health" program to the public through channels, including, but not limited to, print and electronic media, retail, grocers, schools, and other government programs. For purposes of this article, "public" includes, but is not limited to, the general adult population, adults with lower educational attainment, schoolage children and youth, and high-risk groups determined by the state department.

(c) The state department may, at its sole discretion, contract with qualified organizations for general or specialized services to implement this article, including personnel, marketing, public relations, research, evaluation, and administration.

(d) The state department is encouraged to investigate all available funding sources, public and private, for the purposes of this article, including application for public and private grants.

429.996. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, nothing shall operate to prohibit contributions to the program created pursuant to this article by organizations and commissions subject to Division 22 (commencing with Section 64001) of the Food and Agricultural Code.

SEC. 3. Section 4080 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

(b) (1) For counties or county contract providers that choose to apply, the local mental health director shall first present to the local mental health advisory board for its review an explanation of the need for the facility and a description of the services to be provided. The local mental health director shall then submit to the governing body the explanation and description in the form of an amendment to the county Bronzan-McCorquodale plan. The governing body, upon its approval of the amendment, may submit the amendment and application to the State Department of Mental Health.

(2) Other organizations that will be applying for licensure and do not intend to use any Bronzan-McCorquodale funds pursuant to Section 5707 shall submit to the local mental health director and the governing body in the county in which the facility is to be located a written and dated proposal of the services to be provided. The local mental health director and governing body shall have 30 days during which to provide any advice and recommendations regarding licensure, as they deem appropriate. At any time after the 30-day period, the organizations may then submit their applications, along with the mental health director's and governing body's advice and recommendations, if any, to the State Department of Mental Health.

(c) The State Fire Marshal and other appropriate state agencies, to the extent required by law, shall cooperate fully with the State Department of Mental Health to assure that the State Department of Mental Health approves or disapproves the licensure applications not later than 90 days after the application submission by a county, county contract provider, or other organization.

(d) Every psychiatric health facility and program for which a license has been issued shall be periodically inspected by a multidisciplinary team appointed or designated by the State Department of Mental Health. The inspection shall be conducted no less than once every two years and as often as necessary to assure the quality of care provided. During the inspections the review team shall offer such advice and assistance to the psychiatric health facility as it deems appropriate.

(e) (1) The program aspects of a psychiatric health facility which shall be reviewed and may be approved by the State Department of Mental Health shall include, but not be limited to:

(2) (A) (i) During the 1992–93 fiscal year, in lieu of making the reimbursement required by paragraph (1), a county may elect to authorize the Controller to reimburse the State Hospital Account of the Mental Health Facilities Fund a pro rata share each month computed by multiplying the ratio of the reimbursement amount owed by the county as specified in Schedule B to the total amount of money projected to be allocated to the county pursuant to Schedule A by the funds available for deposit in the mental health account of the county’s health and welfare trust fund.

(B) During the 1991–92 fiscal year and thereafter, the amount to be reimbursed each month shall be computed by multiplying the ratio of the county’s contract for state hospital services to the amount of money projected to be allocated to the county pursuant to Schedule A by the funds available for deposit in the mental health account of the county’s health and welfare trust fund.

(C) All reimbursements, deposits, and transfers made to the Mental Health Facilities Fund pursuant to a county election shall be deemed to be deposits to the local health and welfare trust fund.

(3) (A) Counties shall notify the Controller, in writing, by October 15, 1991, upon making the election pursuant to paragraph (2). The election shall be binding for the fiscal year. The pro rata share of allocations made prior to the election by the county shall be withheld from allocations in subsequent months until paid.

(B) For the 1992–93 fiscal year and fiscal years thereafter, counties shall notify the Controller, in writing, by July 1 of the fiscal year for which the election is made, upon making the election pursuant to paragraph (2).

(4) Regardless of the reimbursement option elected by a county, no county shall be required to reimburse the Mental Health Facilities Fund by an amount greater than the amount identified in Schedule
B as modified to reflect adjustments pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 4330.

(c) (1) For the 1991-92 fiscal year, the Controller shall distribute monthly beginning in October from the Mental Health Subaccount of the Sales Tax Account of the Local Revenue Fund to the mental health account of each local health and welfare trust fund one-ninth of the amount allocated to the county in accordance with the institutions for mental disease allocation schedule established by the State Department of Mental Health.

(2) Each county shall forward to the Controller, monthly, an amount equal to one-ninth of the amount identified in the schedule established by the State Department of Mental Health. The reimbursements shall be due by the 24th day of the month to which they apply, and the first payment shall be due October 24, 1991. These amounts shall be deposited in the Institutions for Mental Disease Account in the Mental Health Facilities Fund.

(3) (A) (i) During the 1991–92 fiscal year, in lieu of making the reimbursement required by paragraph (1), a county may elect to authorize the Controller to reimburse the Institutions for Mental Disease Account of the Mental Health Facilities Fund a pro rata share each month computed by multiplying the ratio of the reimbursement amount owed by the county as specified in Schedule B to the total amount of money projected to be allocated to the county pursuant to Schedule A by the funds available for deposit in the mental health account of the county’s health and welfare trust fund.

(ii) The reimbursement shall be made monthly on the same day the Controller allocates funds to the local health and welfare trust funds.

(B) During the 1992-93 fiscal year and thereafter, the amount to be reimbursed each month shall be computed by multiplying the ratio of the county’s contract for mental health services to the amount of money projected to be allocated to the county pursuant to Schedule A by the funds available for deposit in the mental health account of the county’s health and welfare trust fund.

(C) All reimbursements, deposits, and transfers made to the Mental Health Facilities Fund pursuant to a county election shall be deemed to be deposits to the local health and welfare trust fund.

(4) (A) Counties shall notify the Controller, in writing, by October 15, 1991, upon making the election pursuant to paragraph (3). The election shall be binding for the fiscal year. The pro rata share of allocations made prior to the election by the county shall be withheld from allocations in subsequent months until paid.

(B) For the 1992–93 fiscal year and fiscal years thereafter, counties shall notify the Controller, in writing, by July 1 of the fiscal year for which the election is made, upon making the election pursuant to paragraph (2).

(5) Regardless of the reimbursement option elected by a county, no county shall be required to reimburse the Institutions for Mental Disease Account in the Mental Health Facilities Fund an amount greater than the amount identified in the schedule developed by the State Department of Mental Health pursuant to paragraph (1).

(d) The Controller shall withhold the allocation of funds pursuant to subdivision (a) in any month a county does not meet the requirements of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) or paragraph (2) of subdivision (c), in the amount of the obligation and transfer the funds withheld to the State Department of Mental Health for deposit in the State Hospital Account or the Institutions for Mental Disease Account in the Mental Health Facilities Fund, as appropriate.

SEC. 6. Section 17601.10 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

(a) The State Department of Mental Health may request a loan from the General Fund in an amount that shall not exceed one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000) for the purposes of meeting cash-flow needs in its state hospital operations due to delays in the receipt of reimbursements from counties.

(b) The Controller shall liquidate any loan, in accordance with Section 16314 of the Government Code, from the next available deposits into the State Hospital Account in the Mental Health Facilities Fund.

(c) If a loan remains outstanding at the end of any fiscal year, the Controller shall liquidate the balance from the next available deposits into the Mental Health Subaccount in the Sales Tax Account in the Local Revenue Fund.

CHAPTER 5

An act to amend Sections 1203.016 and 4532 of the Penal Code, and to amend Section 207.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to criminal law, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor February 19, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State February 19, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1203.016 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1203.016. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the board of supervisors of any county may authorize the correctional administrator, as defined in subdivision (h), to offer a program under which minimum security inmates and low-risk offenders committed to a county jail or other county correctional facility or inmates participating in a work furlough program may voluntarily participate in a home detention program during their sentence in lieu of confinement in the county jail or other county correctional facility.
(b) The board of supervisors may prescribe reasonable rules and regulations under which a home detention program may operate. As a condition of participation in the home detention program, the inmate shall give his or her consent in writing to participate in the home detention program and shall in writing agree to comply with the rules and regulations of the program, including, but not limited to, the following rules:

1. The participant shall remain within the interior premises of his or her residence during the hours designated by the correctional administrator.

2. The participant shall admit any person or agent designated by the correctional administrator into his or her residence at any time for purposes of verifying the participant's compliance with the conditions of his or her detention.

3. The participant shall agree to the use of electronic monitoring or supervising devices for the purpose of helping to verify his or her compliance with the rules and regulations of the home detention program. The devices shall not be used to eavesdrop or record any conversation, except a conversation between the participant and the person supervising the participant which is to be used solely for the purposes of voice identification.

4. The participant shall agree that the correctional administrator in charge of the county correctional facility from which the participant was released may, without further order of the court, immediately retake the person into custody to serve the balance of his or her sentence if the electronic monitoring or supervising devices are unable for any reason to properly perform their function at the designated place of home detention or if the person fails to remain within the place of home detention as stipulated in the agreement or for any other reason no longer meets the established criteria for release under this section. A copy of the agreement shall be delivered to the participant and a copy retained by the correctional administrator.

(c) Whenever the peace officer supervising a participant has reasonable cause to believe that the participant is not complying with the rules or conditions of the program, or that the electronic monitoring devices are unable to function properly in the designated place of confinement, the peace officer may, under general or specific authorization of the correctional administrator, and without a warrant of arrest, retake the person into custody to complete the remainder of the original sentence.

(d) Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the correctional administrator to allow a person to participate in this program if it appears from the record that the person has not satisfactorily complied with reasonable rules and regulations while in custody. A person shall be eligible for participation in a home detention program only if the correctional administrator concludes that the person meets the criteria for release established under this section.
(e) The correctional administrator may permit home detention program participants to seek and retain employment in the community, attend psychological counseling sessions or educational or vocational training classes, or seek medical and dental assistance. Willful failure of the program participant to return to the place of home detention not later than the expiration of any period of time during which he or she is authorized to be away from the place of home detention pursuant to this section and unauthorized departures from the place of home detention are punishable as provided in Section 4532.

(f) At the time of sentencing or at any time that the court deems it necessary, the court may restrict or deny the defendant's participation in a home detention program.

(g) The board of supervisors may prescribe a program administrative fee, not to exceed the pro rata cost of the electronic monitoring or supervising device and the cost of administration of the program, to be paid by each home detention participant according to his or her ability to pay. Inability to pay shall not preclude participation in the program.

(h) As used in this section, the following words have the following meanings:

1. "Correctional administrator" means the sheriff, probation officer, or other official in charge of a county correctional facility or work furlough program.

2. "Minimum security inmate" means an inmate who, by established local classification criteria, would be eligible for placement in a Type IV local detention facility, as described in Title 15 of the California Code of Regulations, or for placement into the community for work or school activities, or who is determined to be a minimum security risk under a classification plan developed pursuant to Section 1050 of Title 15 of the California Code of Regulations.

3. "Low-risk offender" means a probationer, as defined by the National Institute of Corrections model probation system.

(i) The Board of Corrections shall monitor home detention programs operated pursuant to this section and shall report to the Legislature on or before January 1, 1992, regarding their effectiveness. The report shall include an evaluation of the costs of the programs, the impact upon jail overcrowding, and the effect upon the safety of the public.

SEC. 2. Section 4532 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4532. (a) Every prisoner arrested and booked for, charged with, or convicted of a misdemeanor, and every person committed under the terms of Section 5654, 5656, or 5677 of the Welfare and Institutions Code as an inebriate, who is confined in any county or city jail, prison, industrial farm, or industrial road camp or who is engaged on any county road or other county work or who is in the lawful custody of any officer or person, or who is employed or continuing in his or her regular educational program or authorized to secure employment or education away from the place of confinement, pursuant to the Cobey Work Furlough Law (Section 1208), or who is authorized for temporary release for family emergencies or for purposes preparatory to his or her return to the community pursuant to Section 4018.6, or who is a participant in a home detention program pursuant to Section 1203.016, and who thereafter escapes or attempts to escape from the county or city jail, prison, industrial farm, or industrial road camp or from the custody of the officer or person in charge of him or her while engaged in or going to or returning from the county work or from the custody of any officer or person in whose lawful custody he or she is, is guilty of a felony and, if the escape or attempt to escape was not by force or violence, is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for a determinate term of one year and one day, or in a county jail not exceeding one year. However, if the escape or attempt to escape is by force or violence, the person is guilty of a felony and is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for two, four, or six years to be served consecutively, or in a county jail not exceeding one year. When the second term of imprisonment is to be served in a county jail, it shall commence from the time the prisoner otherwise would have been discharged from jail.

The willful failure of a prisoner, whether convicted of a felony or a misdemeanor, employed or continuing in his or her regular educational program, authorized to secure employment or education pursuant to the Cobey Work Furlough Law (Section 1208), authorized for temporary release for family emergencies or for purposes preparatory to his or her return to the community pursuant to Section 4018.6, or permitted to participate in a home detention program pursuant to Section 1203.016 to return to the place of confinement not later than the expiration of a period during which, pursuant to that law, he or she is authorized to be away from that place of confinement, is an escape from the place of confinement punishable as provided in this subdivision.

A conviction of violation of this subdivision, not by force or violence, shall not be charged as a prior felony conviction in any subsequent prosecution for a public offense.

(b) Every prisoner arrested and booked, charged with, or convicted of a felony, and every person committed by order of the juvenile court, who is confined in any county or city jail, prison, industrial farm, or industrial road camp or who is engaged on any county road or other county work or who is in the lawful custody of any officer or person, or who is confined pursuant to Section 4011.9, who escapes or attempts to escape from a county or city jail, prison, industrial farm, or industrial road camp or from the custody of the officer or person in charge of him or her while engaged in or going to or returning from the county work or from the custody of any officer or person in whose lawful custody he or she is, or from confinement pursuant to Section 4011.9, is guilty of a felony and, if the escape or attempt to escape was not by force or violence, is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years to be served consecutively, or in a county jail not exceeding one year. If the escape or attempt to escape is by force or violence, the person is guilty of a felony and is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for a full term of two, four, or six years to be consecutive to any other term of imprisonment, commencing from the time the person would otherwise have been released from imprisonment and the term shall not be subject to reduction pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 1170.1, or in a county jail for a consecutive term not to exceed one year, that term to commence from the time the prisoner would otherwise have been discharged from jail.

(c) Except in unusual cases where the interests of justice would best be served if the person is granted probation, probation shall not be granted to any person who is convicted of a felony offense under this section in that he or she escaped or attempted to escape from a secure main jail facility, from a court building, or while being transported between the court building and the jail facility. In any case in which a person is convicted of this offense designated as a misdemeanor, he or she shall be confined in a county jail for not less than 90 days nor more than one year except in unusual cases where the interests of justice would best be served by the granting of probation. For the purposes of this subdivision, “main jail facility” means the facility used for the detention of persons pending arraignment, after arraignment, during trial, and upon sentence or commitment. The facility shall not include an industrial farm, industrial road camp, work furlough facility, or any other nonsecure facility used primarily for sentenced prisoners. As used in this subdivision, “secure” means that the facility contains an outer perimeter characterized by the use of physically restricting construction, hardware, and procedures designed to eliminate ingress and egress from the facility except through a closely supervised gate or doorway.

If the court grants probation under this subdivision, it shall specify the reason or reasons for that order on the court record.

Any sentence imposed under this subdivision shall be served consecutive to any other sentence in effect or pending.

SEC. 3. Section 207.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

207.1. (a) No court, judge, referee, peace officer, or employee of a detention facility shall knowingly detain any minor in a jail or lockup, except as provided in subdivision (b) or (d).

(b) Any minor who is alleged to have committed an offense described in subdivision (b) of Section 707, whose case is transferred to a court of criminal jurisdiction pursuant to Section 707.1 after a finding is made that he or she is not a fit and proper subject to be dealt with under the juvenile court law, may be detained in a jail or other secure facility for the confinement of adults, if all of the following conditions are met:
(1) The juvenile court judge makes a finding at the conclusion of the fitness hearing that the minor's further detention in the juvenile hall would endanger the safety of the public or would be detrimental to the other minors in the juvenile hall.

(2) Contact between the minor and adults in the facility is restricted in accordance with Section 208.

(3) The minor is adequately supervised.

(4) The adult facility has been approved by the Department of the Youth Authority as an appropriate place for the detention of minors so transferred.

(c) A minor who is found not to be a fit and proper subject to be dealt with under the juvenile court law, upon the conclusion of the fitness hearing, shall be entitled to be released on bail or on his or her own recognizance upon the same circumstances, terms, and conditions as an adult who is alleged to have committed the same offense.

(d) A minor 14 years of age or older who is taken into temporary custody by a peace officer on the basis of being a person described by Section 602, and who, in the reasonable belief of the peace officer, presents a serious security risk of harm to self or others, may be securely detained in a law enforcement facility that contains a lockup for adults, if all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The minor is held in temporary custody for the purpose of investigating the case, facilitating release of the minor to a parent or guardian, or arranging transfer of the minor to an appropriate juvenile facility.

(2) The minor is detained in the law enforcement facility for a period that does not exceed six hours except as provided in subdivision (g).

(3) The minor is informed at the time he or she is securely detained of the purpose of the secure detention, of the length of time the secure detention is expected to last, and of the maximum six-hour period the secure detention is authorized to last. In the event an extension is granted pursuant to subdivision (g), the minor shall be informed of the length of time the extension is expected to last.

(4) Contact between the minor and adults confined in the facility is restricted in accordance with Section 208.

(5) The minor is adequately supervised.

(6) A log or other written record is maintained by the law enforcement agency showing the offense which is the basis for the secure detention of the minor in the facility, the reasons and circumstances forming the basis for the decision to place the minor in secure detention, and the length of time the minor was securely detained.

Any other minor who is taken into temporary custody by a peace officer on the basis that the minor is a person described by Section 602, may be taken to a law enforcement facility that contains a lockup for adults and may be held in temporary custody in the facility for the purposes of investigating the case, facilitating the release of the minor to a parent or guardian, or arranging for the transfer of the minor to an appropriate juvenile facility. However, while in the law enforcement facility, the minor may not be securely detained and shall be supervised in a manner so as to ensure that there will be no contact with adults in custody in the facility. If the minor is held in temporary, nonsecure custody within the facility, the peace officer shall exercise one of the dispositional options authorized by Sections 626 and 626.5 without unnecessary delay and, in every case, within six hours.

As used in this subdivision, "law enforcement facility" includes a police station or a sheriff's station, but does not include a jail, as defined in subdivision (i).

(e) The Department of the Youth Authority shall assist law enforcement agencies, probation departments, and courts with the implementation of this section by doing all of the following:

(1) The Department of the Youth Authority shall advise each law enforcement agency, probation department, and court affected by this section as to its existence and effect.

(2) The Department of the Youth Authority shall inquire of the official in charge of each jail or lockup that reported the confinement of a minor in calendar year 1984 or 1985 as to whether the jail or lockup may be used for the future confinement of any minor pursuant to subdivision (b), and if the Department of the Youth Authority is informed that the jail or lockup may be so used, it shall inspect the jail or lockup and determine whether it is an appropriate place for the secure detention of minors in conformity with the requirements of law.

(3) The Department of the Youth Authority shall make available and, upon request, shall provide technical assistance to each governmental agency that reported the confinement of a minor in a jail or lockup in calendar year 1984 or 1985. The purpose of this technical assistance is to develop alternatives to the use of jails or lockups for the confinement of minors. These alternatives may include secure or nonsecure facilities located apart from an existing jail or lockup; improved transportation or access to juvenile halls or other juvenile facilities; and other programmatic alternatives recommended by the Department of the Youth Authority. The technical assistance shall take such form as the Department of the Youth Authority deems appropriate for effective compliance with this section.

(f) The Department of the Youth Authority may exempt a county that does not have a juvenile hall, or may exempt an offshore law enforcement facility, from compliance with this section for a reasonable period of time, until December 1, 1992, for the purpose of allowing the county or the facility to develop alternatives to the use of jails and lockups for the confinement of minors, if all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The county or the facility submits a written request to the Department of the Youth Authority for an extension of time to comply with this section.

(2) The Department of the Youth Authority agrees to make available, and the county or the facility agrees to accept, technical assistance to develop alternatives to the use of jails and lockups for the confinement of minors during the period of the extension.

(3) The county or the facility requesting the extension submits to the Department of the Youth Authority a written plan for full compliance with this section by September 1, 1987.

(g) (1) Under the limited conditions of inclement weather, acts of God, or natural disasters that result in the temporary unavailability of transportation, an extension of the six-hour maximum period of detention set forth in paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) may be granted to a county by the Department of the Youth Authority. The extensions may only be granted by the Department of the Youth Authority on an individual, case-by-case basis. If the extension is granted, the detention of minors under those conditions shall not exceed the duration of the special conditions, plus a period reasonably necessary to accomplish transportation of the minor to a suitable juvenile facility, not to exceed six hours after the restoration of available transportation.

A county that receives an extension under this paragraph shall comply with the requirements set forth in subdivision (d). The county also shall provide a written report to the Department of the Youth Authority that specifies when the inclement weather, act of God, or natural disaster ceased to exist, when transportation availability was restored, and when the minor was delivered to a suitable juvenile facility. In the event that the minor was detained in excess of 24 hours, the Department of the Youth Authority shall verify the information contained in the report.

(2) Under the limited condition of temporary unavailability of transportation, an extension of the six-hour maximum period of detention set forth in paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) may be granted by the Department of the Youth Authority to an offshore law enforcement facility. The extension may be granted only by the Department of the Youth Authority on an individual, case-by-case basis. If the extension is granted, the detention of minors under those conditions shall extend only until the next available mode of transportation can be arranged.

An offshore law enforcement facility that receives an extension under this paragraph shall comply with the requirements set forth in subdivision (d). The facility also shall provide a written report to the Department of the Youth Authority that specifies when the next mode of transportation became available, and when the minor was delivered to a suitable juvenile facility. In the event that the minor was detained in excess of 24 hours, the Department of the Youth Authority shall verify the information contained in the report.

(3) At least annually, the Department of the Youth Authority shall review and report on extensions sought and granted under this subdivision. If, upon that review, the Department of the Youth Authority determines that a county has sought one or more extensions resulting in the excessive confinement of minors in adult facilities, or that a county is engaged in a pattern and practice of seeking extensions, it shall require the county to submit a detailed explanation of the reasons for the extensions sought and an assessment of the need for a conveniently located and suitable juvenile facility. Upon receiving this information, the Department of the Youth Authority shall make available, and the county shall accept, technical assistance for the purpose of developing suitable alternatives to the confinement of minors in adult lockups. Based upon the information provided by the county, the Department of the Youth Authority also may place limits on, or refuse to grant, future extensions requested by the county under this subdivision.

(h) Any county that did not have a juvenile hall on January 1, 1987, may establish a special purpose juvenile hall, as defined by the Department of the Youth Authority, for the detention of minors for a period not to exceed 96 hours. Any county that had a juvenile hall on January 1, 1987, also may establish, in addition to the juvenile hall, a special purpose juvenile hall. The Department of the Youth Authority shall prescribe minimum standards for any such facility.

(i) (1) As used in this chapter, "jail" means any building that contains a locked facility administered by a law enforcement or governmental agency, the purpose of which is to detain adults who have been charged with violations of criminal law and are pending trial, or to hold convicted adult criminal offenders sentenced for less than one year.

(2) As used in this chapter, "lockup" means any locked room or secure enclosure under the control of a sheriff or other peace officer which is primarily for the temporary confinement of adults upon arrest.

(3) As used in this section, "offshore law enforcement facility" means a sheriff's station containing a lockup for adults that is located on an island located at least 22 miles from the California coastline.

(j) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prevent a peace officer or employee of an adult detention facility or jail from escorting a minor into the detention facility or jail for the purpose of administering an evaluation, test, or chemical test pursuant to Section 23157 of the Vehicle Code, if all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The minor is taken into custody by a peace officer on the basis of being a person described by Section 602 and there is no equipment for the administration of the evaluation, test, or chemical test located at a juvenile facility within a reasonable distance of the point where the minor was taken into custody.

(2) The minor is not locked in a cell or room within the adult detention facility or jail, is under the continuous, personal supervision of a peace officer or employee of the detention facility or jail, and is not permitted to come in contact or remain in contact with in-custody adults.
(3) The evaluation, test, or chemical test administered pursuant to Section 23157 of the Vehicle Code is performed as expeditiously as possible, so that the minor is not delayed unnecessarily within the adult detention facility or jail. Upon completion of the evaluation, test, or chemical test, the minor shall be removed from the detention facility or jail as soon as reasonably possible. No minor shall be held in custody in an adult detention facility or jail under the authority of this paragraph in excess of two hours.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to permit the Department of the Youth Authority to authorize a county or offshore law enforcement facility to detain minors in a jail or other secure facility for the confinement of adults for a reasonable period of time, as specified, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 6

An act to amend Sections 12071, 12071.1, and 12803 of the Penal Code, relating to firearms, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor February 19, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State February 19, 1992.]

12071.1. (a) No person shall produce, promote, sponsor, operate, or otherwise organize a gun show or event, as specified in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 12071, unless that person possesses a valid certificate of eligibility from the Department of Justice. A certificate of eligibility shall be issued by the department to an applicant unless the department's records indicate that the applicant is a person prohibited from possessing firearms.

(b) The Department of Justice shall adopt regulations to administer the certificate of eligibility program under this section and shall recover the full costs of administering the program by fees assessed applicants who apply for certificates.

(c) A knowing violation of this section shall be a misdemeanor and make the person ineligible for a certificate of eligibility for one year from the date of the violation or conviction, whichever is later.

(d) No later than 24 hours prior to the commencement of a gun show or event, the producer or promoter thereof shall, upon request, make available within 72 hours, or a later specified time, to the local law enforcement agency a complete and accurate list of all persons, entities, and organizations that have leased or rented, or are known to the producer to intend to lease or rent, any table, display space, or area at the gun show or event for the purpose of selling, leasing, or transferring firearms.

12803. (a) Beginning on January 1, 1993, and prior to July 1, 1993, the Department of Justice shall do all of the following:

(1) Develop the course content and instructional materials for a basic firearms safety course. The course shall consist of not less than two, nor more than four, hours of instruction, including, but not limited to, instruction in the following areas as they pertain to pistols, revolvers, and other firearms capable of being concealed upon the person:

(b) The department shall solicit input from any reputable association or organization which has, as one of its objectives, the promotion of firearms safety in the development of the basic firearms safety course.

(c) The department shall periodically update the curriculum of the basic firearms safety course, instructional materials, the basic firearms safety manual, the objective test, and guidelines for certifying basic firearms safety instructors, as needed.

(e) The department shall ensure that the course shall be available to persons at convenient times and locations in a person's county of residency by June 1, 1993.

(f) The Department of Justice shall be immune from any liability arising from implementing this section.

SEC. 4. This act shall become operative on March 1, 1992.

SEC. 5. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 6. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

An act to amend Section 1263.320 of, and to add Sections 1235.155 and 1263.321 to, the Code of Civil Procedure, to amend Section 823 of, and to add Section 824 to, the Evidence Code, and to add Section 7267.9 to the Government Code, relating to public property acquisitions.

[Approved by Governor February 19, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State February 19, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1235.155 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

1235.155. "Nonprofit, special use property" means property which is operated for a special nonprofit, tax-exempt use such as a school, church, cemetery, hospital, or similar property. "Nonprofit, special use property" does not include property owned by a public entity.

SEC. 2. Section 1263.320 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1263.320. (a) The fair market value of the property taken is the highest price on the date of valuation that would be agreed to by a seller, being willing to sell but under no particular or urgent necessity for so doing, nor obliged to sell, and a buyer, being ready, willing, and able to buy but under no particular necessity for so doing, each dealing with the other with full knowledge of all the uses and purposes for which the property is reasonably adaptable and available.

(b) The fair market value of property taken for which there is no relevant, comparable market is its value on the date of valuation as determined by any method of valuation that is just and equitable.

SEC. 3. Section 1263.321 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

1263.321. A just and equitable method of determining the value of nonprofit, special use property for which there is no relevant, comparable market is as set forth in Section 824 of the Evidence Code, but subject to the exceptions set forth in subdivision (c) of Section 824 of the Evidence Code.

SEC. 4. Section 823 of the Evidence Code is amended to read:

823. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, the value of property for which there is no relevant, comparable market may be determined by any method of valuation that is just and equitable.
SEC. 5. Section 824 is added to the Evidence Code, to read:

824. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, a just and equitable method of determining the value of nonprofit, special use property, as defined by Section 1235.155 of the Code of Civil Procedure, for which there is no relevant, comparable market, is the cost of purchasing land and the reasonable cost of making it suitable for the conduct of the same nonprofit, special use, together with the cost of constructing similar improvements. The method for determining compensation for improvements shall be as set forth in subdivision (b).

(c) This section does not apply to actions or proceedings commenced by a public entity or public utility to acquire real property or any interest in real property for the use of water, sewer, electricity, telephone, natural gas, or flood control facilities or rights-of-way where those acquisitions neither require removal or destruction of existing improvements, nor render the property unfit for the owner’s present or proposed use.

SEC. 6. Section 7267.9 is added to the Government Code, to read:

7267.9. (a) Prior to the initiation of negotiations for acquisition by a public entity or public utility of nonprofit, special use property, as defined by Section 1235.155 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the acquiring public entity or public utility shall make every reasonable effort to seek alternative property which is other than nonprofit, special use property. However, this requirement shall not apply to properties acquired by public entities for transportation purposes, including, but not limited to, the construction, expansion, or improvement of streets, highways, or railways.

(b) This section does not apply to actions or proceedings commenced by a public entity or public utility to acquire real property or any interest in real property for the use of water, sewer, electricity, telephone, natural gas, or flood control facilities or rights-of-way where those acquisitions neither require removal or destruction of existing improvements, nor render the property unfit for the owner’s present or proposed use.

SEC. 7. The changes made by this act shall apply to eminent domain actions or proceedings commenced on or after January 1, 1993.

SEC. 8. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, that invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.
SEC. 9. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

(2) Except as provided in subdivision (c), to enforce payment of delinquent unsecured personal property taxes in an amount not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000), if the legality of the tax is not contested by the defendant.

(3) To issue the writ of possession authorized by Sections 1861.5 and 1861.10 of the Civil Code if the amount of the demand does not exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000).

(b) In any action seeking relief authorized by subdivision (a), the court may grant equitable relief in the form of rescission, restitution, reformation, and specific performance, in lieu of, or in addition to, money damages, and shall retain jurisdiction until full payment and performance of any judgment or order.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), the small claims court shall have jurisdiction over a defendant guarantor who is required to respond based upon the default, actions, or omissions of another, only if the demand does not exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500).
(d) In any case in which the lack of jurisdiction is due solely to an excess in the amount of the demand, the excess may be waived, but any waiver shall not become operative until judgment.

SEC. 2. Section 116.610 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

116.610. CHAPTER 9

An act to amend Section 19849.3 of the Government Code, relating to state agencies.

[Approved by Governor February 28, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State February 28, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19849.3 of the Government Code is amended to read:

19849.3. When a state employee dies while traveling on official state business the state shall, under rules and regulations adopted by the department, pay the approved traveling expenses necessary to return the body to his or her official headquarters or the place of burial. This subdivision shall not be construed to authorize the payment of the traveling expenses, either going or returning, of one accompanying the body.
CHAPTER 10

An act to amend Section 733 of, and to add and repeal Sections 731.6, 731.7, 731.8, and 731.9 to, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to law enforcement, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor February 28, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State February 28, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 731.6 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

731.6. (a) The Legislature hereby finds and declares the following:

There is a desire to develop and implement innovative and cost-effective options that will alleviate crowding within the institutions operated by the Department of the Youth Authority, that will increase the department's substance abuse treatment capability, that will improve ward performance after release to parole, and that will prevent the further incursion of youthful offenders into the criminal justice system.

(b) The Legislature, therefore, intends to establish a pilot program within the Department of the Youth Authority to test and evaluate innovative and cost-effective sentencing options; to instill discipline, responsibility, and self-esteem among the youth admitted to the program; and to facilitate the successful return of these youth to law-abiding and productive participation in their home communities.

(c) There shall be within the Department of the Youth Authority an intensive correctional program for minors adjudged wards of the juvenile court on he grounds that they are persons described by Section 602. The program shall be known as the Leadership, Esteem, Ability, and Discipline (LEAD) program and shall be intended to promote leadership, esteem, ability, and discipline among wards who participate. The program shall be implemented as a treatment continuum consisting of a short-term and highly structured institutional component followed by an intensive parole experience component. The institutional component shall not exceed four months from the time the ward enters into the LEAD program until the time the ward is released to parole, except as provided in subdivision (g). The institutional component shall be based on a military training model and shall include such discipline, educational, and vocational training, substance abuse prevention, esteem-building, and other activities as may be deemed appropriate and effective by the department. The last month of the institutional component shall include a special emphasis on preparole and transitional needs of wards, emphasizing public service, personal accountability, employability, and good citizenship. The intensive parole experience shall consist of six months of enriched parole services designed to facilitate the successful return of the ward to society. As used in this section, "enriched parole services" means that parole agents assigned to the LEAD program shall have caseloads of not more than 15 parolees per agent. The intensive parole component of the LEAD program shall consist of services and strategies deemed appropriate and effective by the department, including, but not limited to, substance abuse prevention support services, individual and group counseling, family support services, drug testing, electronic monitoring, job training and job placement services, and the development of linkages to community-based agencies and services that can assist the ward in making a successful readjustment. The intensive parole phase of the LEAD program shall include a relapse-management strategy designed to focus intensive services upon wards who are at risk of failing on parole, and this relapse-management may include specialized, short-term residential, and noninstitutional placement for parolees who need a temporary and structured environment in order to succeed on parole. Upon the successful completion of six months of intensive parole, LEAD participants may be transferred to the regular parole caseload of the Department of the Youth Authority for six months and shall be subject to general provisions of parole in order to receive continued supervision and parole services at less intensive levels.

(d) The LEAD program shall be implemented as a 60-bed pilot program at a northern California facility to be designated by the Department of the Youth Authority, and shall begin enrolling wards on or before September 30, 1992. The second phase shall consist of a 60-bed program at a southern California facility to be designated by the Department of the Youth Authority and shall begin enrolling wards during the 1993 calendar year, unless one of the following events occur:

(1) The LEAD program is ended by the Department of the Youth Authority on the basis of an operational failure, such as a chronic insufficiency of wards meeting the eligibility requirements of subdivision (a) of Section 731.7.

(2) There is an insufficient number of wards meeting the eligibility requirements of subdivision (a) of Section 731.7 to sustain at least a 40-bed program in southern California.

(3) Insufficient funds are available to implement the southern California expansion of the LEAD program.

If the Department of the Youth Authority determines, based on one or more of these events, that it cannot add an additional LEAD program to serve southern California wards, it shall make a written report to the Legislature of its decision not to proceed with the second phase of the LEAD program and of its reasons for making the decision not to proceed.

The Department of the Youth Authority may, at any time and in its discretion, increase LEAD program capacity at either the northern or southern California facility if resources are available to support the increase.

(e) Wards who participate in the LEAD program shall, to the extent practical, be separated while institutionalized from wards who are not enrolled in the LEAD program.

(f) The Department of the Youth Authority shall, in its design, staffing, and implementation of the institutional component of the LEAD program, take steps to ensure that the disciplinary and esteem-building activities do not involve the corporal punishment of wards or the application of training methods which are personally degrading, humiliating, or inhumane.

(g) In exceptional cases, a ward may be retained in the institutional component of the LEAD program for up to 30 additional days if additional time is, in the opinion of the department, needed to allow the ward to complete the program successfully after illness or some other unforeseen circumstance which may delay the ward’s normal progress and timely release to parole. If a ward’s release to parole is delayed beyond the normal four-month institutional stay, the department shall maintain documentation in the ward’s file regarding the need for and the length of any additional time spent in the institutional component of the program.

(h) This section shall be repealed on June 30, 1997, unless that date is extended or deleted by a later enacted statute.

SEC. 2. Section 731.7 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

731.7. (a) A ward shall be eligible for participation in the LEAD program of the Department of the Youth Authority established by Section 731.6 if the ward meets all of the following criteria:

1. The ward has been committed to the department by the juvenile court after a finding of wardship under Section 602 and has not previously been placed in the LEAD program.

2. The ward is committed to the Department of the Youth Authority on the basis of an offense or parole violation which does not, in the opinion of the department, involve serious violence or serious bodily injury.

3. The ward is at least 16 years of age.

4. The ward has been involved with substance abuse or is identified by the department as an addictive personality or as a person at risk of future substance abuse.

5. The ward has been examined by the department and has received medical clearance for participation in a program involving strenuous physical activity.

6. The ward consents to participation in the program after being fully informed of the purpose, nature, and activities of the program, including a clear explanation of the prospective benefit of reduced institutional stay and of the consequences of failing the program.

(b) A prerequisite to the enrollment and participation of any ward in the LEAD program shall be the approval of the Youthful Offender Parole Board, with full consideration of the recommendation of the Department of the Youth Authority. The board shall cooperate with the department by acting in a timely manner, not to exceed 15 days, on departmental recommendations for enrollment in the LEAD program and by making a good faith effort to keep all available pilot program slots filled with qualified wards.

(c) The judge of the juvenile court may, when ordering commitment of a juvenile to the Department of the Youth Authority, recommend that the juvenile be assigned to the LEAD program. The recommendation shall be stated in the court’s dispositional order and shall be communicated to the department in such manner as the department shall deem appropriate. This recommendation shall be taken into consideration by the department and by the Youthful Offender Parole Board when selecting wards for participation in the LEAD program. The department shall keep track of the judicial recommendations for program participation and their final disposition by the department and by the Youthful Offender Parole Board. Upon the request of a juvenile court judge who has recommended that a ward be entered into the program, the department shall inform the requesting judge of the ward’s status with regard to entry or denial of entry into the program and removal from or completion of the program.

(d) This section shall be repealed on June 30, 1997, unless that date is extended or deleted by a later enacted statute.

SEC. 3. Section 731.8 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

731.8. (a) The Department of the Youth Authority shall adopt a written policy setting forth the rules and requirements for wards in the institutional and parole components of the LEAD program and shall make this written policy available to program participants. It shall be the policy of the department to encourage a ward’s continued participation and successful completion of the LEAD program by all appropriate means. A ward may be dismissed from the LEAD program only upon a material violation of rules and requirements made known to the ward upon enrollment in the program. Violations shall be documented by the department. The department shall use its existing disciplinary decisionmaking system whereby the ward has the opportunity to contest any allegation of misconduct which is the basis for the proposed dismissal of the ward from the program.

(b) A ward who resigns or is dismissed from the LEAD program shall be given credit by the Youthful Offender Parole Board for institutional time served while in the program and shall not have time added to his or her parole consideration date by the Youthful Offender Parole Board solely on the basis that the ward stated and failed to complete the LEAD program.

(c) This section shall be repealed on June 30, 1997, unless that date is extended or deleted by a later enacted statute.

SEC. 4. Section 731.9 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

731.9. The Department of the Youth Authority shall provide for the evaluation of the LEAD program in order to document the implementation and operations of the program and to measure the program's impact on subsequent behavior and recidivism of wards and on the institutional and parole populations of the department.

(a) There shall be an implementation and process evaluation which shall describe the program qualitatively and shall fully document the startup, operations, size, volume, location, program description, staffing cost, and other relevant characteristics of the pilot programs in both the northern and southern California phases. Additionally, the implementation and process evaluation shall monitor and report on the selection of wards for the program, including judicial recommendations for admission, profiles and characteristics of wards eligible for the program and of wards selected for inclusion in the program by the department, recommendations made to the Youthful Offender Parole Board, acceptances and rejections by the board, and reasons for rejection by the board. Additionally, this evaluation shall include information on wards who resign or are dismissed from the program in all phases, including their total length of institutional stay, their reasons for dismissal and the steps taken, if any, to replace wards who leave the program before completion. An implementation and process study shall be conducted over the first 12 months of program operation at each facility site where the program is established and shall be completed and presented to the Legislature by the end of 16 months from the effective date of this section.

(b) There shall be an impact evaluation to determine the effect of the program on the subsequent behavior of wards including measures of recidivism. The impact evaluation shall apply strict experimental and control study protocols to compare the followup behavior and recidivism of wards completing the program to the behavior and recidivism of eligible wards who are not in the program. Measures of recidivism shall include revocations and removals from parole as well as new law violations by frequency and severity. Particular attention in the evaluation shall be given to determining the recidivism characteristics at 12-, 18-, and 24-month followup periods after successful completion of the LEAD program, with comparison to the performance of a pool of wards who are eligible for the program but were not assigned to it. The impact evaluation shall report specially on the effect which the program may have on the size of present and future Department of the Youth Authority populations, including measures of length of stay for program participants, dropouts, and nonparticipants; bed savings or increases attributable to the operation of the program; and the cost-effectiveness of the program or lack thereof. Interim impact evaluation reports shall be completed and submitted to the Legislature on or before December 31, 1994, and December 31, 1995, with a final impact evaluation report due on or before December 31,

(c) This section shall be repealed on June 30, 1997, unless that date is extended or deleted by a later enacted statute.

SEC. 5. Section 733 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

733. No ward of the juvenile court who is under the age of 11 years, and no ward of the juvenile court who is suffering from any contagious, infectious, or other disease which would probably endanger the lives or health of the other inmates of any state school shall be committed to the Department of the Youth Authority.

SEC. 6. The sum of four million two hundred forty thousand dollars ($4,240,000) is hereby appropriated for the purposes of this act, as follows:

(a) The sum of one million dollars ($1,000,000) is appropriated from the Federal Trust Fund to the Office of Criminal Justice Planning in augmentation of subdivision (f) of Item 8100-101-890 of Section 2.00 of the Budget Act of 1991 for the following purposes:

1. For the Department of Justice’s Bureau of Narcotic Enforcement’s Clandestine Laboratory Enforcement Program for the purposes of providing training, safety equipment, and air operations support to special agents engaged in the investigation and seizure of illicit drug labs, five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000).

2. For a community-based drug prevention, intervention, and suppression project selected by the Office of Criminal Justice Planning, which includes community-based policing in high-intensity, drug-related crime areas, five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000).

(b) The sum of five hundred fifty thousand dollars ($550,000) is appropriated from the Federal Trust Fund to the Office of Criminal Justice Planning in augmentation of Item 8100-001-890 of Section 2.00 of the Budget Act of 1991 for the purposes of purchasing, installing, and operating a local area network computer system within the Office of Criminal Justice Planning.

(c) The sum of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) is appropriated from the Federal Trust Fund to the Office of Criminal Justice Planning for allocation to the Department of the Youth Authority for the purposes of expanding the Leadership, Esteem, Ability, Discipline (LEAD) program pilot project to prevent the further incursion of youthful offenders into the criminal justice system by increasing parole readiness and parole success utilizing a treatment continuum.

(d) The sum of one million dollars ($1,000,000) is appropriated from the General Fund to the Youthful Offender Parole Board in augmentation of Item 5450-001-001 of Section 2.00 of the Budget Act of 1991. It is the intent of the Legislature by this appropriation to enable the board to continue its statutory functions.

(e) The sum of one million one hundred ninety thousand dollars ($1,190,000) is appropriated from the General Fund to the Board of Prison Terms in augmentation of Item 5440-001-001 of Section 2.00 of the Budget Act of 1991. It is the intent of the Legislature by this appropriation to enable the board to continue its statutory functions following the failure to enact urgency legislation permitting the board to hold revocation hearings with one hearing officer and adoption of the budget deleting that amount from the board's appropriation for the 1991-92 fiscal year based upon the passage of such urgency legislation.

SEC. 7. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

(a) The curtailment of the Board of Prison Terms revocation hearings and the operations of the Youthful Offender Parole Board would directly and immediately adversely affect public safety. In order to avoid that consequence, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

(b) In order to ensure the enrollment of wards into the new Department of the Youth Authority LEAD program by the target date of September 30, 1992, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

(c) In order to prevent further inappropriate commitment of wards of the juvenile court to the Department of the Youth Authority who are under the age of 11 years as soon as possible, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

(d) In order to provide necessary funding for drug enforcement and crime prevention programs of the Office of Criminal Justice Planning, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

In order that the election procedures proposed by this act be in effect in time for the county central committee elections held at the June 2, 1992, direct primary election, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 12

An act to amend Section 17705.5 of, to add Section 17705.9 to, and to add Chapter 21.2 (commencing with Section 17640) to Part 10 of, the Education Code, and to repeal and add Section 65997 of the Government Code, relating to funding school construction through the issuance and sale of bonds of the State of California and by providing for the handling and disposition of those funds, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor March 11, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State March 11, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 21.2 (commencing with Section 17640) is added to Part 10 of the Education Code, to read:

CHAPTER 21.2. SCHOOL FACILITIES BOND ACT OF 1992

17640. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the School Facilities Bond Act of 1992.

17640.10. As used in this chapter, the following terms have the following meanings:

(a) "Committee" means the State School Building Finance Committee created pursuant to Section 15909.

(b) "Fund" means the State School Building Lease-Purchase Fund.

17640.15. The proceeds of bonds issued and sold pursuant to this chapter shall be deposited in the fund.

17640.20. All moneys deposited in the fund shall be available to provide aid to school districts of the state in accordance with the Leroy F. Greene State School Building Lease-Purchase Law of 1976 (Chapter 22 (commencing with Section 17700)), and of all acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, to provide aid to school districts of the state in accordance with Section 17640.30, to provide funds to repay any money advanced or loaned to the State School Building Lease-Purchase Fund under any act of the Legislature, together with interest provided for in that act, and to reimburse the General Obligation Bond Expense Revolving Fund pursuant to Section 16724.5 of the Government Code.

(a) Project funding for applicant districts under Chapter 22 (commencing with Section 17700) that are eligible for that funding, but that lack funding priority due to the size of pupil enrollment in the district.

(b) The identification, assessment, or abatement of hazardous asbestos in school facilities, pursuant to either Chapter 22 (commencing with Section 17700) or Section 39619.6.

(c) The acquisition of portable classrooms for use in accordance with Chapter 25 (commencing with Section 17785).

(d) The reconstruction or modernization of facilities pursuant to Chapter 22 (commencing with Section 17700). Notwithstanding Section 17721.3, the State Allocation Board may allocate funding pursuant to this subdivision for the reconstruction or modernization of an existing structure in an amount that exceeds 25 percent of the replacement cost of that structure in order to finance structural improvements needed to avert future earthquake damage.

17640.40. Bonds in the total amount of one billion nine hundred million dollars ($1,900,000,000), exclusive of refunding bonds, or so much thereof as is necessary, may be issued and sold to provide a fund to be used for carrying out the purposes expressed in this chapter and to be used to reimburse the General Obligation Bond Expense Revolving Fund pursuant to Section 16724.5 of the Government Code. The bonds, when sold, shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation of the State of California, and the full faith and credit of the State of California is hereby pledged for the punctual payment of both principal of, and interest on, the bonds as the principal and interest become due and payable.

17640.44. The State School Building Finance Committee, created by Section 15909 and composed of the Governor, Controller, Treasurer, Director of Finance, and the Director of Education, or their designated representatives, all of whom shall serve thereon without compensation, and a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum, is continued in existence for the purpose of this chapter. The Treasurer shall be designated to chair the committee. Two Members of the Senate appointed by the Senate Committee on Rules, and two Members of the Assembly appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly, shall meet and advise with the committee to the extent that the advisory participation is not incompatible with their respective positions as Members of the Legislature. For the purposes of this chapter, the Members of the Legislature shall constitute an interim investigating committee on the subject of this chapter and as that committee shall have the powers and duties imposed upon those committees by the Joint Rules of the Senate and the Assembly. The Director of Finance shall provide the assistance to the committee as it may require. The Attorney General of the state shall be the legal adviser of the committee.

17640.50. Upon request of the board from time to time, supported by a statement of the apportionments made and to be made for the purposes described in Section 17640.20, the committee shall determine whether or not it is necessary or desirable to issue bonds authorized pursuant to this chapter in order to fund the apportionments and, if so, the amount of bonds to be issued and sold. Successive issues of bonds may be authorized and sold to fund those apportionments progressively, and it is not necessary that all of the bonds authorized to be issued be sold at any one time.

17640.55. There shall be collected each year and in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected, in addition to the ordinary revenues of the state, a sum in an amount required to pay the principal of, and interest on, the bonds each year, and it is the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collection of the revenue to do and perform each and every act which is necessary to collect that additional sum.

17640.60. Notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code, there is hereby appropriated from the General Fund in the State Treasury, for the purposes of this chapter, an amount that will equal the total of the following:

(a) The sum annually necessary to pay the principal of, and interest on, bonds issued and sold pursuant to this chapter, as the principal and interest become due and payable.

(b) The sum which is necessary to carry out the provisions of Section 17640.70, appropriated without regard to fiscal years.

17640.63. The board may request the Pooled Money Investment Board to make a loan from the Pooled Money Investment Account, in accordance with Section 16312 of the Government Code, for the purposes of carrying out this chapter. The amount of the request shall not exceed the amount of the unsold bonds that the committee has, by resolution, authorized to be sold for the purpose of carrying out this chapter. The board shall execute those documents required by the Pooled Money Investment Board to obtain and repay the loan. Any amounts loaned shall be deposited in the fund to be allocated by the board in accordance with this chapter.

17640.65. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, or of the State General Obligation Bond Law (Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 16720) of Part 3 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code), if the Treasurer sells bonds that include a bond counsel opinion to the effect that the interest on the bonds is excluded from gross income for federal tax purposes subject to designated conditions, the Treasurer may maintain separate accounts for the bond proceeds invested and for the investment earnings on those proceeds, and may use or direct the use of those proceeds or earnings to pay any rebate, penalty, or other payment required under federal law or take any other action with respect to the investment and use of those bond proceeds that is required or desirable under federal law in order to maintain the tax-exempt status of those bonds and to obtain any other advantage under federal law on behalf of the funds of this state.

17640.85. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that, inasmuch as the proceeds from the sale of bonds authorized by this chapter are not "proceeds of taxes" as that term is used in Article XIII B of the California Constitution, the disbursement of these proceeds is not subject to the limitations imposed by that article.

SEC. 1.5. Chapter 21.2 (commencing with Section 17640) is added to Part 10 of the Education Code, to read:

CHAPTER 21.2. SCHOOL FACILITIES BOND ACT OF 1992

17640. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the School Facilities Bond Act of 1992.

17640.10. As used in this chapter, the following terms have the following meanings:
(a) "Committee" means the State School Building Finance Committee created pursuant to Section 15909.
(b) "Fund" means the State School Building Lease-Purchase Fund.

17640.15. The proceeds of bonds issued and sold pursuant to this chapter shall be deposited in the fund.

17640.20. All moneys deposited in the fund shall be available to provide aid to school districts of the state in accordance with the Leroy F. Greene State School Building Lease-Purchase Law of 1976 (Chapter 22 (commencing with Section 17700)), and of all acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, to provide aid to school districts of the state in accordance with Section 17640.30, to provide funds to repay any money advanced or loaned to the State School Building Lease-Purchase Fund under any act of the Legislature, together with interest provided for in that act, and to reimburse the General Obligation Bond Expense Revolving Fund pursuant to Section 16724.5 of the Government Code.

(a) Project funding for applicant districts under Chapter 22
(commencing with Section 17700) that are eligible for that funding, but that lack funding priority due to the size of pupil enrollment in the district.

(b) The identification, assessment, or abatement of hazardous asbestos in school facilities, pursuant to either Chapter 22 (commencing with Section 17700) or Section 39619.6.

(c) The acquisition of portable classrooms for use in accordance with Chapter 25 (commencing with Section 17785).

(d) The reconstruction or modernization of facilities pursuant to Chapter 22 (commencing with Section 17700). Notwithstanding Section 17721.3, the State Allocation Board may allocate funding pursuant to this subdivision for the reconstruction or modernization of an existing structure in an amount that exceeds 25 percent of the replacement cost of that structure in order to finance structural improvements needed to avert future earthquake damage.

17640.40. Bonds in the total amount of one billion nine hundred million dollars ($1,900,000,000), exclusive of refunding bonds, or so much thereof as is necessary, may be issued and sold to provide a fund to be used for carrying out the purposes expressed in this chapter and to be used to reimburse the General Obligation Bond Expense Revolving Fund pursuant to Section 16724.5 of the Government Code. The bonds, when sold, shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation of the State of California, and the full faith and credit of the State of California is hereby pledged for the punctual payment of both principal of, and interest on, the bonds as the principal and interest become due and payable.

17640.44. The State School Building Finance Committee, created by Section 15909 and composed of the Governor, Controller, Treasurer, Director of Finance, and the Director of Education, or their designated representatives, all of whom shall serve thereon without compensation, and a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum, is continued in existence for the purpose of this chapter. The Treasurer shall be designated to chair the committee. Two Members of the Senate appointed by the Senate Committee on Rules, and two Members of the Assembly appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly, shall meet and advise with the committee to the extent that the advisory participation is not incompatible with their respective positions as Members of the Legislature. For the purposes of this chapter, the Members of the Legislature shall constitute an interim investigating committee on the subject of this chapter and as that committee shall have the powers and duties imposed upon those committees by the Joint Rules of the Senate and the Assembly. The Director of Finance shall provide the assistance to the committee as it may require. The Attorney General of the state shall be the legal adviser of the committee.

17640.45. (a) The bonds authorized by this chapter shall be prepared, executed, issued, sold, paid, and redeemed as provided in the State General Obligation Bond Law (Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 16720) of Part 3 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code), and all of the provisions of that law apply to the bonds and to this chapter and are hereby incorporated in this chapter as though set forth in full in this chapter.

17640.50. Upon request of the board from time to time, supported by a statement of the apportionments made and to be made for the purposes described in Section 17640.20, the committee shall determine whether or not it is necessary or desirable to issue bonds authorized pursuant to this chapter in order to fund the apportionments and, if so, the amount of bonds to be issued and sold. Successive issues of bonds may be authorized and sold to fund those apportionments progressively, and it is not necessary that all of the bonds authorized to be issued be sold at any one time.

17640.55. There shall be collected each year and in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected, in addition to the ordinary revenues of the state, a sum in an amount required to pay the principal of, and interest on, the bonds each year, and it is the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collection of the revenue to do and perform each and every act which is necessary to collect that additional sum.

17640.60. Notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code, there is hereby appropriated from the General Fund in the State Treasury, for the purposes of this chapter, an amount that will equal the total of the following:

(a) The sum annually necessary to pay the principal of, and interest on, bonds issued and sold pursuant to this chapter, as the principal and interest become due and payable.

(b) The sum which is necessary to carry out the provisions of Section 17640.70, appropriated without regard to fiscal years.

17640.63. The board may request the Pooled Money Investment Board to make a loan from the Pooled Money Investment Account, in accordance with Section 16312 of the Government Code, for the purposes of carrying out this chapter. The amount of the request shall not exceed the amount of the unsold bonds that the committee has, by resolution, authorized to be sold for the purpose of carrying out this chapter. The board shall execute those documents required by the Pooled Money Investment Board to obtain and repay the loan. Any amounts loaned shall be deposited in the fund to be allocated by the board in accordance with this chapter.
17640.65. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, or of the State General Obligation Bond Law (Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 16720) of Part 3 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code), if the Treasurer sells bonds that include a bond counsel opinion to the effect that the interest on the bonds is excluded from gross income for federal tax purposes subject to designated conditions, the Treasurer may maintain separate accounts for the bond proceeds invested and for the investment earnings on those proceeds, and may use or direct the use of those proceeds or earnings to pay any rebate, penalty, or other payment required under federal law or take any other action with respect to the investment and use of those bond proceeds that is required or desirable under federal law in order to maintain the tax-exempt status of those bonds and to obtain any other advantage under federal law on behalf of the funds of this state.

17640.70. For the purposes of carrying out this chapter, the Director of Finance may authorize the withdrawal from the General Fund of an amount or amounts not to exceed the amount of the unsold bonds which have been authorized by the committee to be sold for the purpose of carrying out this chapter. Any amounts withdrawn shall be deposited in the fund. Any money made available under this section shall be returned to the General Fund, plus an amount equal to the interest the money would have earned in the Pooled Money Investment Account, from proceeds received from the sale of bonds for the purpose of carrying out this chapter.

17640.75. All money deposited in the fund that is derived from premium and accrued interest on bonds sold shall be reserved in the fund and shall be available for transfer to the General Fund as a credit to expenditures for bond interest.

17640.80. The bonds may be refunded in accordance with Article
6 (commencing with Section 16780) of Chapter 4 of Part 3 of Division
4 of Title 2 of the Government Code, which is a part of the State General Obligation Bond Law. Approval by the electors of the state for the issuance of the bonds described in this chapter shall include approval of the issuance of any bonds issued to refund any bonds originally issued under this chapter or any previously issued refunding bonds.

17640.85. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that, inasmuch as the proceeds from the sale of bonds authorized by this chapter are not "proceeds of taxes" as that term is used in Article XIII B of the California Constitution, the disbursement of these proceeds is not subject to the limitations imposed by that article.

SEC. 1.7. Section 17705.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

17705.5. (a) The total building cost portion of any state funding for any project approved under this chapter for the construction of one or more school facilities shall be reduced by the amount of the local matching share requirement computed under subdivision (b).

(b) Each school district to which funds are allocated pursuant to this chapter for the construction or reconstruction of one or more school facilities shall provide, as its share of the cost of the project, an amount equal to the product of the applicable maximum fee authorized under Section 53080 of the Government Code, or Chapter 4.7 (commencing with Section 65970) of Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code, or both, times the number of square feet of new residential, commercial, and industrial construction, as appropriate, for which building permits are issued within the boundaries of the school district from the date on which the board approves the district's application for project funding under this chapter to the date upon which the notice of completion for the project is issued. Notwithstanding any other provision of this subdivision, as to any construction for which the payment of a fee, charge, or dedication is required under a contract as described in paragraph (1) of subdivision (c) of Section 65995 of the Government Code, the matching share required under this subdivision shall be deemed to be the maximum payment that may be required under that contract as a condition of the approval of that construction. The amount calculated in this subdivision is reduced by the sum of the following:

(1) Any amounts expended by the district during the described period of time for the acquisition of interim classroom facilities pursuant to Chapter 4.7 (commencing with Section 65970) of Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code from the proceeds of the fee levied by the district during that period. This amount is limited to the acquisition of interim classroom facilities necessary to temporarily house that number of pupils calculated, under state pupil loading standards, by subtracting the average daily attendance of the district based on a three-year enrollment projection from the average daily attendance of the district based on a five-year enrollment projection. Notwithstanding that limit, the board may authorize the acquisition of additional interim classroom facilities for the purposes of this paragraph to the extent it determines that acquisition to be necessary to alleviate severe classroom overcrowding. Enrollment projections for this purpose shall be made in accordance with this chapter.

(2) Any amounts expended by the district during the described period of time for the local matching share of any project funded under this chapter from the proceeds of the fee levied by the district during that period.

(3) An amount reflecting the extent to which the district is precluded from collecting those fees by reason of the levy and collection of developer fees by another school district having common territorial jurisdiction.

(4) An amount reflecting the reasonable administrative expenses incurred by the school district in calculating and collecting the fees or other requirements levied by the school district during that period. If the school district has entered into an agreement pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 53080 of the Government Code whereby the fees or other requirements imposed are collected in whole or in part by a city or county, the amount of administrative expenses calculated under this paragraph shall include any amount paid by the school district to the city or county as reimbursement for that service. In no event shall the total amount of the administrative expenses calculated under this paragraph exceed 3 percent of the fees collected during that period.

(5) The fees, charges, dedications, or any other requirements imposed pursuant to Section 53080 of the Government Code that are waived in an agreement between a school district and a property owner, if the school district receives land in lieu of the fees and other requirements. The land shall be used for the future construction of a school on the property and the credit allowed shall not exceed the lesser of the amount of fees offset by the district or the fair market value of the property as determined by two appraisals. The value of the property shall be determined by the board on the date that the school district defers the collection of fees based on the transfer of property for the project or projects for which the match is required. The property shall have received all approvals required by law for use as a school site by the State Department of Education before or concurrent with the acquisition of the property. The school district shall demonstrate a need for and eligibility for construction on the land received in lieu of fees and other requirements within five years of acquiring the land. If the land received in lieu of fees is not approved by the State Allocation Board for a school project within 10 years from the date the school district acquires the property, the school district shall repay the full amount of the match offset and 50 percent of the amount of appreciation of the property which occurred during the 10-year period since the date of acquisition.

(c) Where part or all of the local matching share is funded from the proceeds of a special tax or other charge, rather than from the imposition of a school facilities fee or other requirement, the applicant district shall not be required to pay that amount of the local matching share until those proceeds become available to the district.

(d) For purposes of establishing an estimate of the state project costs pursuant to subdivision (a), the board may estimate the local matching share by using the product of the annual average of the amount that would have resulted from the application of the maximum fee to the square footage of all new construction within the district over the three calendar years preceding the district’s project application times the number of years over which the board estimates the fee will be collected by the district pursuant to the project to be funded.

(e) Only those project applications for which, prior to January 1, 1987, the board had made the apportionment for site acquisition and working drawings or the final apportionment for construction of the project shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter in effect prior to that date.

(f) The board may provide a loan to any applicant district in an amount equal to all or a part of the district's obligation under subdivision (b), subject to the requirement that the district pay each month to the board, as reimbursement, an amount equal to the proceeds that would be received by the district from the imposition of the fee described under subdivision (b) until the total amount of the loan has been repaid, together with interest computed pursuant to Section 16065.

(g) The board may make the loan specified in subdivision (f) from any funds available from any source, including, but not limited to, those amounts made available pursuant to Section 16065.

(h) All loan and interest amounts paid to the state pursuant to this section shall be available for the use of the board in the funding of projects as otherwise provided under this chapter, including, but not limited to, additional loans.

(i) The board is authorized to accept from applicant school districts, as a method of compliance with all or part of the local matching share requirement calculated under this section, land that will be part of the project for which the matching share is to be paid, in which event title to the land shall be conveyed to the state. The board shall determine the value of the land to be used for this purpose, and shall adopt rules and regulations as necessary to otherwise implement this subdivision.

SEC. 1.8. Section 17705.9 is added to the Education Code, to read:
17705.9. (a) Section 17705.5 shall remain in effect only until such date as any state general obligation bond measure submitted to the voters of this state for their ratification, which measure includes within its purposes the funding of school facilities construction, fails to receive that ratification, and as of that date is repealed.

(b) This section shall become operative December 31, 1992.

SEC. 2. Section 65997 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 65997 is added to the Government Code, to read:

SEC. 4. Section 1 of this act shall become operative upon the adoption by the people, at the June 2, 1992, direct primary election, of the School Facilities Bond Act of 1992, as set forth in Section 1 of this act, in which case Section 1.5 of this act shall not become operative. Section 1.5 of this act shall become operative upon the adoption by the people, at the November 3, 1992, general election, of the School Facilities Bond Act of 1992, as set forth in Section 1.5 of this act, which shall be submitted to the people at the November 3, 1992, general election only if the School Facilities Bond Act of 1992, as set forth in Section 1 of this act, is not approved by the voters at the June 2, 1992, direct primary election.

SEC. 5. (a) Notwithstanding Sections 3525, 3528, 3529, 3560, and 3578 of the Elections Code or any other provisions of law, Section 1 of this act shall be submitted to the voters at the June 2, 1992, primary election.

(b) The Secretary of State shall ensure the placement of Section 1 of this act on the June 2, 1992, direct primary election ballot, in substantial compliance with any statutory time requirements applicable to the submission of statewide measures to the voters at a statewide election.

(c) The Secretary of State shall include, in the ballot pamphlet mailed pursuant to Section 3578 of the Elections Code, the information specified in Section 3570 of that code regarding the bond act contained in Section 1 of this act.

(d) If the voters at the June 2, 1992, direct primary election do not approve the School Facilities Bond Act of 1992, as set forth in Section 1 of this act, then the School Facilities Bond Act of 1992, as set forth in Section 1.5 of this act, shall be submitted to the people at the November 3, 1992, general election in accordance with provisions of the Government Code and the Elections Code governing the submission of statewide measures to the voters.

SEC. 6. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all ballots of the election shall have printed thereon and in a square thereof, the words: "School Facilities Bond Act of 1992", and in the same square under those words, the following in 8-point type: "This act provides for a bond issue of one billion nine hundred million dollars ($1,900,000,000) to provide capital outlay for construction or improvement of public schools." Opposite the square, there shall be left spaces in which the voters may place a cross in the manner required by law to indicate whether they vote for or against the act.

Where the voting of the election is done by means of voting machines used pursuant to law in the manner that carries out the intent of this section, the use of the voting machines and the expression of the voters' choice by means thereof are in compliance with the provisions of this section.

In order that the School Facilities Bond Act of 1992 may be submitted to the voters for approval in 1992 in order to provide financing at the earliest possible time for urgently needed school facilities, and to make related changes on a timely basis, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

An act to add Chapter 14.6 (commencing with Section 67358) and Chapter 14.7 (commencing with Section 67359.6) to Part 40 of the Education Code, relating to funding higher education facilities through the issuance and sale of bonds of the State of California, and by providing for the handling and disposition of those funds, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor March 11, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State March 11, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 14.6 (commencing with Section 67358) is added to Part 40 of the Education Code, to read:

CHAPTER 14.6. HIGHER EDUCATION FACILITIES BOND ACT OF JUNE 1992

67358. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the Higher Education Facilities Bond Act of June 1992.

67358.1. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) California's economic and social prosperity relies on a higher education system that keeps pace with California's growth. In the coming decades, the state's economic prosperity will depend on increasing the productivity of the work force and on the ability to compete successfully in the world marketplace.

(b) The system of public higher education in this state includes the University of California containing nine campuses, the California State University containing 20 campuses, the California Community Colleges consisting of 71 districts containing 107 campuses, the Hastings College of the Law, the California Maritime Academy, and their respective off-campus centers. Each of these institutions plays a vital role in maintaining California's dominance in higher education in the United States.

(c) Over the last several years, studies have been completed by the University of California, the California State University, and the California Community Colleges to assess their long-term and short-term capital needs. Those studies demonstrate that the long-term and short-term needs total, in the aggregate, several billion dollars.

(d) The purpose of the Higher Education Facilities Bond Act of June 1992 is to assist in meeting the capital outlay financing needs of California's public higher education system.

67358.2. As used in this chapter, the following terms have the following meanings:

(a) "Committee" means the Higher Education Facilities Finance Committee created pursuant to Section 67353.

(b) "Fund" means the 1992 Higher Education Capital Outlay Bond Fund created pursuant to Section 67358.3.

Article 2. Higher Education Facilities Bond Act Program

67358.3. The proceeds of bonds issued and sold pursuant to this chapter shall be deposited in the 1992 Higher Education Capital Outlay Bond Fund, which is hereby created.

67358.4. The committee shall be and is hereby authorized to create a debt or debts, liability or liabilities, of the State of California pursuant to this chapter for the purpose of funding aid to the University of California, the California State University, the California Community Colleges, the Hastings College of the Law, and the California Maritime Academy for the construction, including the construction of buildings and the acquisition of related fixtures; the equipping of new, renovated, or reconstructed facilities; funding for the payment of preconstruction costs, including, but not limited to, preliminary plans and working drawings; renovation and reconstruction of facilities; and the construction or improvement of off-campus facilities of the California State University approved by the Trustees of the California State University on or before July 1, 1990, including the acquisition of sites upon which these facilities are to be constructed.

The addition of the Hastings College of the Law to this section is not intended to mark a change from the funding authorizations made by Section 67354, as contained in the Higher Education Facilities Bond Act of 1988, or Section 67334, as contained in the Higher Education Facilities Bond Act of 1988, but is intended to state more clearly what was intended by the Legislature in those sections as well.

67358.5. (a) Bonds in the total amount of nine hundred million dollars ($900,000,000), not including the amount of any refunding bonds issued in accordance with Section 67359.3, or so much thereof as is necessary, may be issued and sold to provide a fund to be used for carrying out the purposes expressed in this chapter and to reimburse the General Obligation Bond Expense Revolving Fund pursuant to Section 16724.5 of the Government Code. The bonds shall, when sold, be and constitute a valid and binding obligation of the State of California, and the full faith and credit of the State of California is hereby pledged for the punctual payment of both principal of, and interest on, the bonds as the principal and interest become due and payable.

(b) Pursuant to this section, the Treasurer shall sell the bonds authorized by the committee at any different times necessary to service expenditures required by the apportionments.

67358.6. The bonds authorized by this chapter shall be prepared, executed, issued, sold, paid, and redeemed as provided in the State General Obligation Bond Law (Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 16720) of Part 3 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code), and all of the provisions of that law shall apply to the bonds and to this chapter and are hereby incorporated in this chapter as though set forth in full in this chapter. For purposes of the State General Obligation Bond Law, each state agency administering an appropriation of the bond fund is designated as the “board” for projects funded by those appropriations.

67358.7. The committee shall authorize the issuance of bonds under this chapter only to the extent necessary to fund the apportionments that are expressly authorized by the Legislature in the annual Budget Act. Pursuant to that legislative direction, the committee shall determine whether or not it is necessary or desirable to issue bonds authorized pursuant to this chapter in order to carry out the actions specified in Section 67358.4 and, if so, the amount of bonds to be issued and sold. Successive issues of bonds may be authorized and sold to carry out those actions progressively, and it is not necessary that all of the bonds authorized to be issued be sold at any one time.

67358.8. There shall be collected each year and in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected, in addition to the ordinary revenues of the state, a sum in an amount required to pay the principal of, and interest on, the bonds each year, and it is the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collection of the revenue to do and perform each and every act that is necessary to collect that additional sum.

67358.9. Notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code, there is hereby appropriated from the General Fund in the State Treasury, for the purposes of this chapter, an amount that will equal the total of the following:

(a) The sum annually necessary to pay the principal of, and interest on, bonds issued and sold pursuant to this chapter, as the principal and interest become due and payable.

(b) The sum necessary to carry out the provisions of Section 67359, appropriated without regard to fiscal years.

67359. (a) For the purposes of carrying out this chapter, the Director of Finance may, by executive order, authorize the withdrawal from the General Fund of an amount or amounts not to exceed the amount of the unsold bonds that have been authorized by the committee to be sold for the purpose of carrying out this chapter. Any amounts withdrawn shall be deposited in the fund. Any money made available under this section shall be returned to the General Fund, together with interest at the rate paid on moneys in the Pooled Money Investment Account, from money received from the sale of bonds for the purpose of carrying out this chapter.
(b) No funds shall be expended pursuant to this chapter for the acquisition and development of new campuses that would increase the number of campuses designated in Section 67358.1.

(c) Any request forwarded to the Legislature and the Department of Finance for funds from this bond issue for expenditure for the purposes described in Section 67358.4 by the University of California, the California State University, or the California Community Colleges shall be accompanied by the five-year capital outlay plan of the particular university or college and shall include a schedule that prioritizes the seismic retrofitting needed to significantly reduce, by the 2000-01 fiscal year, in the judgment of the particular university or college, seismic hazards in buildings identified as high priority by the university or college.

67359.3. Any bonds issued and sold pursuant to this chapter may be refunded by the issuance and sale or exchange of refunding bonds in accordance with Article 6 (commencing with Section 16780) of Chapter 4 of Part 3 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. The approval by the electors of this state of the issuance and sale of bonds under this chapter includes approval of the issuance and sale or exchange of any bonds issued to refund either those bonds or any previously issued refunding bonds.

67359.4. Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter or the State General Obligation Bond Law set forth in Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 16720) of Part 3 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code, if the Treasurer sells bonds pursuant to this chapter that include a bond counsel opinion to the effect that the interest on the bonds is excluded from gross income for federal tax purposes under designated conditions, the Treasurer may maintain separate accounts for the investment of bond proceeds and the investment earnings on these proceeds, and the Treasurer shall be authorized to use or direct the use of these proceeds or earnings to pay any rebate, penalty, or other payment required under federal law or to take any other action with respect to the investment and use of bond proceeds required or desirable under federal law so as to maintain the tax-exempt status of those bonds and to obtain any other advantage under federal law on behalf of the funds of this state.

67359.5. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that, inasmuch as the proceeds from the sale of bonds authorized by this chapter are not "proceeds of taxes" as that term is used in Article XIII B of the California Constitution, the disbursement of these proceeds is not subject to the limitations imposed by that article.

SEC. 2. Chapter 14.7 (commencing with Section 67359.6) is added to Part 40 of the Education Code, to read:

67359.7. The State Public Works Board may construct the following higher education instructional and research facilities to be financed from the Public Buildings Construction Fund, from proceeds from the sale of bonds, negotiable notes, or negotiable bond anticipation notes for the construction of those facilities pursuant to Chapter 3.8 (commencing with Section 15820.50) of Part 10b of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code:

(d) Notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code, funds derived from the interim and permanent financing or refinancing of the projects authorized in Section 67359.7 are hereby continuously appropriated for those purposes.
SEC. 2.5. Section 1 of this act shall take effect upon the adoption by the voters of the Higher Education Facilities Bond Act of June 1992, set forth in Section 1 of this act.
SEC. 3. (a) Notwithstanding Sections 3525, 3528, 3529, 3560, and Authorized projects for the 138 public campuses shall include, but are not necessarily limited to, earthquake and other health safety improvements, modernization of laboratories to keep up with scientific advances, and construction of classrooms and libraries.” Opposite the square, there shall be left spaces in which the voters may place a cross in the manner required by law to indicate whether they vote for or against the act.

Where the voting in the election is done by means of voting machines used pursuant to law in the manner that carries out the intent of this section, the use of the voting machines and the expression of the voters’ choice by means thereof are in compliance with this section.

This bill would provide the people of California with an opportunity to provide funding in 1992 for critically needed higher education facilities. In order that the Higher Education Facilities Bond Act of 1992 contained in Section 1 of this act, which provides for this funding, be included on the June 2, 1992, primary election ballot and in order to commence construction of the facilities described in the Higher Education Facilities Revenue Bond Act contained in Section 2 of this act as soon as possible, it is necessary that the act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 14

An act to add Sections 54 and 531.05 to the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor March 17, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State March 18, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 54 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

54. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no modification of assessment procedures shall be made with respect to real property on the basis of the invalidity of any portion of Section 2 of Article XIII A of the California Constitution as determined by the United States Supreme Court in the case of Nordlinger v. Hahn.
(b) This section shall only be operative if the United States Supreme Court, in its decision in the case of Nordlinger v. Hahn, determines that any portion of Section 2 of Article XIII A of the California Constitution is invalid, and shall, in that event, absent a shorter period specified by the Legislature by statute, be operative for only two years from the date of that decision.

SEC. 2. Section 531.05 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

531.05. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no escape assessment of real property shall be made solely on the basis of the invalidity of any portion of Section 2 of Article XIII A of the California Constitution as determined by the United States Supreme Court in the case of Nordlinger v. Hahn. Any escape assessments levied with respect to any period prior to the effective date of the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the case of Nordlinger v. Hahn shall be consistent with Section 2 of Article XIII A of the California Constitution as that provision was in effect on January 1, 1992.

SEC. 3. (a) The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

(1) California real property owners have, since the adoption of Article XIII A of the California Constitution, reasonably relied upon the definition of “full cash value” in Section 2 of that article. That definition of “full cash value,” upheld by the California Supreme Court in 1978 in the case of Amador Valley Joint Union School Dist. v. State Board of Equalization, 22 Cal. 3d 308, has assured that real property owners shall not be subject to sudden or large increases in property tax assessments based solely on fluctuations in the real estate market.

(2) If, in deciding the case of Nordlinger v. Hahn, the United States Supreme Court determines on a retrospective basis that the definition of “full cash value” in Section 2 of Article XIII A of the California Constitution is invalid, many real properties could be subject to massive property tax escape assessments for prior fiscal years. Those escape assessments would not only upset the reasonable and long held expectations of real property owners, but would have far-reaching and crippling effects on the ability of businesses and homeowners to meet property tax obligations. Fairness and sound policy are therefore served by precluding those assessments, and thus preserving the viability of real property ownership for millions of Californians.

(b) Therefore, it is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this act to accomplish all of the following:

(1) Protect real property owners from the unfair and burdensome escape assessments that could result from the retrospective application of a holding of the United States Supreme Court in the case of Nordlinger v. Hahn, determining that the definition of “full cash value” in Section 2 of Article XIII A of the California Constitution is invalid.

(2) Provide real property owners, given the potentially immense economic dislocations that would result from the invalidity of Section 2 of Article XIII A of the California Constitution, a reasonable transition period and reasonable measure of stability in the real estate market.

(3) Provide, given the complexity of property taxation, a brief and reasonable transition period, not to exceed two years, within which a new valuation standard would be implemented.

In order to prevent severe economic dislocations that could arise from a decision in the case of Nordlinger v. Hahn, to be rendered by the United States Supreme Court in mid-1992, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 15

An act to amend Sections 12162.5 and 12162.6 of, and to add Sections 12162.7 and 12162.8 to, the Insurance Code, relating to insurance.

SEC. 2. Section 12162.6 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

12162.6. (a) A motor club holding a certificate of authority to act as a motor club granted prior to January 1, 1992, may continue to retain the certificate until July 1, 1996, without complying with the increased minimum net worth requirement of Section 12162.5.

(b) A motor club shall be deemed to be insolvent and subject to Section 12164 proceedings whenever its net worth is less than two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) and it fails to comply with one of these two conditions:

an audit report prepared by the certified public accountant and filed with the commissioner no later than June 30 of the year following the year covered by the audit.

(2) A demonstration to the satisfaction of the commissioner, on a quarterly basis, of an amount of liquid assets sufficient to satisfy its current liabilities to members.

SEC. 3. Section 12162.7 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

12162.7. For purposes of this article, "liquid assets" means cash, cash equivalents, and marketable securities readily convertible into cash. Liquid assets also include bonds, stocks, certificates of deposit, negotiable short-term instruments, service members' dues receivable not over 90 days, receivables due from affiliates not over 90 days, acquisition costs deferred not over 90 days, federal income tax recoverables, and interest and dividends due and accrued.

Similarly, if a motor club qualifying under paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 12162.6 fails to demonstrate to the commissioner an amount of liquid assets sufficient to satisfy its current liabilities to members, it shall be considered materially deficient under Section 717 and subject to Section 12164.

If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. California Constitution.

No permit shall be issued to a community-based nonprofit corporation unless that corporation has been issued an acknowledgment by the city or county within which the special event is proposed to be conducted.

Neither the department, in issuing permits for the use of highways, nor the city or county, in issuing acknowledgments, shall be responsible for the conduct or operation of the permitted activity and shall require the permit applicant to agree to indemnify and hold harmless the state and the city or county against any and all claims arising out of any activity for which the permit is issued.

(c) Work on qualified historical buildings or structures shall be done in accordance with the State Historical Building Code (Part 2.7 (commencing with Section 18950) of Division 13 of the Health and Safety Code).

SEC. 10. Section 4010.75 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

4010.75. For public water systems with less than 200 service connections, except as provided in Section 4010.9, the local health officer shall be responsible for the enforcement of this chapter. For the purposes of this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, and whenever enforcement activities involve public water systems with fewer than 200 service connections, the local health officer shall act for the department, except that variances and exemptions may only be granted or revoked by the local health officer following the procedures as provided in Sections 4027.5 and 4031 subject to the approval of the department.

Annual permit fees may be prescribed by the local governing body in accord with Section 510 to pay the reasonable expenses of the local health officer in carrying out this chapter and regulations adopted thereunder.

This section does not apply to state small water systems regulated by Section 4010.8.

This section shall become inoperative on July 1, 1993, and, as of January 1, 1994, is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which becomes effective on or before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends the dates on which it becomes inoperative and is repealed.

SEC. 11. Section 4020 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

4020. (a) There is hereby established in the General Fund the Small Water Systems Account. Each public water system serving fewer than 200 service connections shall pay an annual operating fee to the department in accordance with the regulations specified in subdivision (b), which shall be deposited in the Small Water Systems Account. Funds in the Small Water Systems Account shall be sufficient to cover the reasonable and necessary costs of the department to carry out the activities for public water systems with fewer than 200 service connections mandated by this chapter which are directly related to the issuance of permits, conduct of inspections and surveillance activities, taking of enforcement actions, and the costs of administering any contracts with local health officers.

(b) The department shall adopt regulations establishing a schedule of annual operating fees which shall be paid to the department by all community and noncommunity water systems of fewer than 200 service connections. The regulations shall specify the amount of the fee and the method of payment. In establishing the amount of the fee, the department shall, as directed in subdivision (c), charge each water system an amount that reflects the actual costs of the department in conducting the activities specified in subdivision (a) relative to that system.

(c) For the purposes of determining the fees provided for in subdivision (b), the department shall maintain a record of its actual costs for pursuing the activities specified in subdivision (a) relative to each system required to pay fees. To the extent feasible, the fee charged each system should be the same as or less than actual costs. In determining actual costs, the department may consider personnel requirements, materials, travel expenses, office overhead, and other pertinent direct and indirect expenses.

(d) Notwithstanding Section 6103 of the Government Code, each public water system operating under the permit issued pursuant to this chapter shall pay an annual operating fee to the department pursuant to this section. A public water system shall be permitted to collect a fee from its customers to recover the fee paid pursuant to this section.

(e) Fees collected by the department pursuant to this section shall not exceed a total of eight million two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($8,250,000) per year.

(f) This section shall become operative on July 1, 1993, and shall remain in effect until January 1, 1997, and as of that date is repealed, unless a statute is enacted which is chaptered before January 1, 1997, which deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 12. Section 10100.2 is added to the Streets and Highways Code, to read:

10100.2. Whenever the public interest or convenience requires, the legislative body may use the powers of this division to pay for work or to make loans deemed necessary to bring buildings, including privately owned buildings, into compliance with seismic safety standards or regulations. The legislative body shall declare that public loans or funds to owners of private buildings for seismic strengthening of unreinforced buildings or other buildings pursuant to this section constitute a public purpose resulting in a public benefit.

(a) Only work certified as necessary to comply with seismic safety standards or regulations by local building officials may be financed. No project involving the dismantling of an existing building and its replacement by a new building or the construction of a new or substantially new building may be financed pursuant to this section. Work on qualified historical buildings or structures shall be done in accordance with the State Historical Building Code (Part 2.7 (commencing with Section 18950) of Division 13 of the Health and Safety Code).

(b) Any financing for seismic strengthening of a residential structure containing units rented by households specified in Section 50079.5 of the Health and Safety Code before strengthening shall be subject to a regulatory agreement that will ensure that the number of those units in the structure will not be reduced and will remain available at affordable rents pursuant to Section 50053 of the Health and Safety Code as long as any portion of a loan issued pursuant to this section remains unpaid.
(c) No lot, parcel, or building shall be included in the district without the owner’s consent.
(d) The Legislature hereby declares that public funds or loans to owners of private buildings pursuant to this section for seismic strengthening of unreinforced buildings or other buildings constitute a public purpose resulting in a public benefit. Public funds or loans made pursuant to this section shall not be construed to be gifts of public funds in violation of Section 6 of Article XVI of the California Constitution.

SEC. 13. Section 42 of Chapter 303 of the Statutes of 1951 is amended to read:
Sec. 42. The district may acquire, construct, reconstruct, alter, enlarge, lay, repair, renew, replace, maintain, and operate such sewers, drains, septic tanks, and sewage collection, outfall, treatment works, and other sanitary disposal systems, and storm water, storm water collection, outfall, and disposal systems, and water reclamation and distribution systems, within or without the district, as in the judgment of the board shall be necessary and proper.

SEC. 14. Section 56 of Chapter 303 of the Statutes of 1951, is amended to read:
Sec. 56. The district may sell any effluent resulting from the operation of any sewage treatment plant constructed by or for the district. Sections 6520.7 and 6520.9 of the Health and Safety Code are applicable to the district.

SEC. 15. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the Legislature finds and declares that there are savings as well as costs in this act which, in the aggregate, do not result in additional net costs. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 16. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

respect to recovering from disasters, strengthening of buildings, and maintaining of water and sewer systems at the earliest possible time, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.
CHAPTER 19

An act to amend Section 13263.5 of the Water Code, relating to water.

[Approved by Governor March 26, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State March 26, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13263.5 of the Water Code is amended to read:
13263.5. (a) When the regional board issues waste discharge requirements pursuant to Section 13263, or revises waste discharge requirements pursuant to subdivision (g) of Section 25159.17 of the Health and Safety Code, for any injection well into which hazardous waste is discharged, the waste discharge requirements shall be based upon the information contained in the hydrogeological assessment report prepared pursuant to Section 25159.18 of the Health and Safety Code and shall include conditions in the waste discharge requirements to ensure that the waters of the state are not polluted or threatened with pollution.

(b) If the state board applies to the federal Environmental Protection Agency to administer the Underground Injection Control Program pursuant to Part 145 (commencing with Section 145.1) of Subchapter D of Chapter 1 of Title 40 of the Code of Federal Regulations, that application shall not include a request to administer the Underground Injection Control Program for any oil, gas, or geothermal injection wells supervised or regulated by the Division of Oil and Gas pursuant to Section 3106 or 3714 of the Public Resources Code.

CHAPTER 20

An act to repeal and add Section 30796.7 of the Streets and Highways Code, relating to transportation, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor March 26, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State March 26, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:
1. The construction of the San Diego-Coronado Bridge was financed with revenue bonds which have been paid for with toll revenues.
(2) There are no outstanding state bonds, and the maintenance of the bridge is paid for with revenues from the State Highway Account in the State Transportation Fund.

(3) Locally elected officials in San Diego County are strongly supportive of the continuation of tolls as a pricing scheme and as a source of revenue for improving transportation service in the corridor.

(4) Tolls should help support transportation services that either increase the capacity of the bridge and its approaches or reduce the demand for travel in the transportation corridor that includes the bridge or alternative forms of transportation, within the transportation corridor that includes the bridge, that reduce congestion and air pollution, including, but not limited to, ferry service and public transit, or both.

(5) Other than for the purposes expressed in paragraph (4), there is no need for a state-imposed toll on the bridge, and any toll charge after June 30, 1995, should be imposed by an association of locally elected officials for the purposes expressed in paragraph (4).

(b) In order to transfer the authority to levy tolls on the San Diego-Coronado Bridge to the San Diego Association of Governments, the Legislature has enacted Section 30796.7 of the Streets and Highways Code, as added by Section 3 of this act.

SEC. 2. Section 30796.7 of the Streets and Highways Code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 30796.7 is added to the Streets and Highways Code, to read:

30796.7. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the San Diego Association of Governments may impose a toll on vehicles crossing the San Diego-Coronado Bridge not to exceed one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) per vehicle. The toll shall be established by the association after conducting at least one public hearing.

(b) The authority of the commission relative to tolls on the bridge is hereby transferred to the San Diego Association of Governments. All tolls established by the commission shall remain in effect until June 30, 1995, and as of that date are abolished.

(c) (1) The revenues from any tolls imposed on the bridge shall be used first for expenses related to the collection of tolls and operation of the bridge, including, but not limited to, reimbursement for any operating and maintenance costs and, second, for improvements to the bridge and its approaches. Tolls shall be established at an amount which will generate revenue sufficient to meet the requirements set forth in this paragraph, as determined by the department.

(2) The revenues from any tolls imposed on the bridge may also be used for costs incurred by the San Diego Association of Governments in administering this section and for either or both of the following:

(A) Transportation services that either increase the capacity of the bridge and its approaches or reduce the demand for travel in the transportation corridor that includes the bridge.

(B) Alternative forms of transportation, within the transportation corridor that includes the bridge, that reduce congestion and air pollution, including, but not limited to, ferry service and public transit.

(d) Not later than June 30, 1995, and not later than June 30 of every even-numbered year thereafter, the San Diego Association of Governments shall adopt an expenditure plan specifying the projects and programs that are to be funded with toll revenues, and shall submit copies of each plan to the Senate Committee on Transportation and the Assembly Committee on Transportation.

(e) If the San Diego Association of Governments imposes tolls pursuant to subdivision (a), it shall reimburse the department for costs incurred by the department in operating the bridge, collecting tolls, and performing other related services. The association and the department shall enter into an agreement which provides for the full reimbursement of the department for all operating and maintenance costs.

In order, as quickly as possible, to permit the use of San Diego-Coronado Bridge tolls for purposes of transportation services that either increase the capacity of the bridge and its approaches or reduce the demand for travel in the corridor that includes the bridge or for alternative forms of transportation within that corridor which will reduce congestion and air pollution, including, but not limited to, ferry service and public transit, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 21

An act to amend Sections 400, 401, 402, and 403 of the Insurance Code, and to amend Item 2290-001-217 of Section 2.00 of the Budget Act of 1991, relating to insurance, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor March 31, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State March 31, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 400 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

400. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this article, commencing May 1, 1992, no policy or endorsement insuring a private passenger automobile as defined in paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 660 shall be issued or amended by an insurer in this state to provide collision or comprehensive coverage, or both, to a person not formerly an insured of the insurer or to an insured not formerly insured by the insurer for those coverages unless the insurer or its designated authorized representative has inspected the automobile.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this article, automobile collision or comprehensive coverage, or both, shall not be effective on an additional or replacement private passenger automobile until the insurer or its designated authorized representative has inspected the automobile.

(c) The inspection required by subdivision (a) shall be recorded on an inspection report adopted by the commissioner, however, an application for insurance which incorporates the provisions promulgated by the commissioner shall be deemed in compliance with this requirement. Two color photographs, taken as directed on the inspection report at angles which show the front, back, and sides of the vehicle, shall be attached thereto. In addition, a color photograph shall be attached showing a closeup of the Safety Certification Label otherwise known as "49 CFR Part 567 Certification Label" containing the vehicle identification number (VIN), located on the driver's side door jamb. The photograph shall be of sufficient clarity that the vehicle identification number on the label is legible. Where the Safety Certification Label is missing or where the photograph does not produce a legible reproduction of the VIN, the inspector shall include the required photograph and indicate the circumstances in the appropriate place on the inspection form. The inspector may take additional photographs showing any damaged areas, which shall also be attached to the report. A copy of the report, without photographs, shall be provided to the insured by the insurer.

(d) For purposes of this section, "color photograph" means any legally accepted technology which produces a retrievable visual image including, but not limited to, a photograph, video tape, digital or visual imagery, or other technology approved by the commissioner. Nothing in this article shall preclude an insurer from electronically storing photographs mandated by this section.

SEC. 2. Section 401 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

401. An insurer may waive or dispense with the mandatory inspection required by this article under any of the following circumstances:

1. The insured vehicle is a temporary substitute vehicle.
2. The insured vehicle is leased for less than six months, provided the insurer receives the lease or rental agreement containing a description of the vehicle, including its condition.
3. The vehicle is over seven model years old.
4. The vehicle is a new and unused automobile purchased or leased from a dealer licensed under the Vehicle Code, and the insurer is provided with either a copy of the bill of sale or purchase order or conditional sales contract, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 2981 of the Civil Code, that contains a full description of the automobile, including all options and accessories, or a copy of the federally mandated window sticker or the dealer invoice showing the itemized manufacturer-installed options and equipment in addition to the total retail price of the vehicle on which will be added together with a due bill or other descriptive evidence of any dealer-installed options purchased by the customer at the time of sale. The collision or comprehensive coverage, or both, on the vehicle shall not be suspended during the term of the policy due to the insured’s failure to provide the required document or documents, but payment of a claim shall be conditioned upon receipt by the insurer of the documents, and no collision or comprehensive loss occurring after the effective date of coverage shall be payable until the documents are provided to the insurer.

(5) The vehicle is an additional or a replacement vehicle, and the named insured has been continuously insured for three or more policy years for automobile insurance with the same insurer or an affiliate of that insurer.

(6) Where the insured’s coverage is being transferred to a new insurer within an existing agency or production facility; or to a new agent or broker within the existing insurer or insurer group; and the new insurer or agent or broker is provided with a copy of the inspection report completed on behalf of the previous insurer, or its designated representative provided the insured vehicle was inspected by the previous insurer within the last 12 months. If the new insurer does not receive a copy of the inspection report within 60 days of the effective date of coverage, the new insurer shall cause an inspection to be performed within 30 days of notice to the insured.

(7) The insured vehicle is insured under a commercially rated policy that insures five or more vehicles.

(8) Whenever, with respect to the use of a nonowned vehicle by an insured where the insurer or its agent is notified of the use, the insurer or its agent determines it is reasonable to do so because the likelihood of a fraudulent physical damage claim is remote, including, but not limited to, when it is determined that the nonowned vehicle is insured under a policy providing automobile collision or comprehensive insurance and the vehicle has otherwise been inspected in accordance with this article.

(9) A buyer, borrower, or lessee of the vehicle is obligated under the terms of a conditional sale contract, loan agreement, note, or lease to maintain insurance on the vehicle and fails to procure or maintain the required coverage and the creditor or lessor procures the insurance in accordance with the conditional sale contract, loan agreement, note, or lease.

SEC. 3. Section 402 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

402. (a) Upon the insured's request for coverage for private passenger automobile collision or comprehensive insurance, or both, on an additional or replacement vehicle, the insurer may provide coverage immediately, and the inspection required by this article may be deferred for seven days following the effective date of coverage if an inspection at the time of a request for coverage would create a serious inconvenience for the applicant.

(b) An insurer may defer the inspection required by this article under the following circumstances.

(1) On additional vehicles for up to seven days following the effective date of coverage.

(2) On replacement vehicles, an insurer may provide the same type or level of collision or comprehensive coverage, or both, that covered the replaced vehicle without a request for coverage by the insured. That automatic coverage prior to the insured’s request for coverage may be for a period of up to seven days after the day on which the automobile is acquired.

(c) The seven-day period set forth in subdivisions (a) and (b) may be extended to a period not to exceed 30 days by agreement of the insurer and the insured.

(d) If an inspection is not conducted prior to the expiration of the seven-day period set forth in this section, or other period agreed to by the insurer and insured, not to exceed 30 days, collision or comprehensive coverage, or both, on the vehicle shall be suspended on the day following the seventh day or other agreed upon day, and that suspension shall continue until the inspection is conducted. However, where there is a lienholder interest of a federal or state regulated financial institution, collision or comprehensive coverage, or both, on the vehicle shall not be suspended, but payment of a claim shall be restricted to the lienholder interest of a federal or state regulated financial institution until the inspection is conducted. The insurer, however, shall inspect the vehicle and reinstate the lapsed coverage for automobile physical damage if the insured thereafter requests an inspection.

(e) Whenever automobile collision or comprehensive coverage, or both, is suspended or restricted pursuant to subdivision (d) for the failure to have an inspection report, the insurer shall immediately notify the insured that the collision or comprehensive coverage, or both, is restricted or suspended until the vehicle is inspected.

(f) The commissioner shall adopt by regulation a notice of mandatory preinsurance inspection requirement letter, which shall be provided the applicant by the insurer or its agent. If the insurer or its agent fails to give notice to the insured of the mandatory requirement of physical inspection or otherwise fails to comply with this article, the collision or comprehensive coverage, or both, shall not be suspended or restricted pursuant to subdivision (d).

(g) An insurer may provide a grace period, not to exceed seven days, to obtain the required inspection where the automobile is purchased from an automobile dealer licensed under the Vehicle Code or where the applicant was not previously insured by the insurer.

SEC. 4. Section 403 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:
403. (a) Inspections required or permitted by this article shall be made by a designated authorized representative or inspection service of the insurer at times and places reasonably convenient to the insured, except that the insurer is not required to send an agent to the insured's home or place of business.

(b) An insurer shall utilize authorized representatives or inspection services who shall do all of the following:

1. Be responsible for the accuracy, completeness, and signature of the inspector for each inspection report in writing.

2. Utilize sequentially numbered inspection reports, by location, and maintain a control system on those reports. Alternatively, an insurer may utilize an internal system of distinctive identification which permits, by location, maintenance of a control system designed to prevent backdating or other fraudulent activity concerning the reports.

3. For one year after the date of the inspection, retain and supply to the insurer, upon request, a copy of any inspection report.

(c) The insurer shall bear the cost of the inspection, however, where the inspection is performed by an agent or broker, the insurer shall not be required to reimburse the agent or broker for the labor costs of those inspections. The cost of the inspection may be included as an administrative expense for ratemaking purposes.

(d) The inspection report shall be used by the insurer to document previous damage, prior condition, optional equipment and accessories, and mileage of the vehicle. Optional equipment and accessories listed shall include, but are not limited to, alarm systems, radar detectors, custom tires and wheels, and sound and communication systems, such as radios, stereos, tape decks, compact disks, and CB radios. Nothing in this section shall be interpreted to require the inspection to be used for the purpose of certifying the current registration of an automobile or the safety or function of the automobile or any of its optional equipment.

(e) The inspection report information and photographs as necessary shall be used by the insurer in the settlement of all collision or comprehensive claims, or both, in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000), except that when the inspection reveals no prior damage to the vehicle, the requirement to use the inspection report information and photographs in the settlement of the claim is satisfied if the insurer indicates the lack of prior damage in the records of the policy and those records are used in the settlement of the claim. The inspection report information and photographs as necessary shall be used and made part of the claim file in the settlement of all unrecovered theft claims or total loss claims. The inspection report shall be part of the claim file regardless of whether or not the loss payment is reduced based on the information contained in the report. The commissioner shall periodically increase the amount of damages for which it is necessary to utilize the inspection report to settle a collision or comprehensive claim to account for inflation.
(f) The commissioner shall adopt regulations as may be necessary, including the promulgation of necessary forms to implement this section. In adopting forms to implement this section, the commissioner shall provide insurers with the option of using preapproved forms or incorporating standardized provisions into the application for coverage.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3506 is added to the Unemployment Insurance Code, to read:

3506. Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, the Governor may, if permitted by federal law, suspend the payment of extended duration benefits under this part, to the extent necessary to ensure that otherwise eligible individuals are not denied, in whole or in part, the receipt of emergency unemployment compensation benefits authorized by the federal Emergency Unemployment Compensation Act of 1991 (P.L. 102-164) or any extension of that act, including, but not limited to, Public Law 102-244, and that the state receives maximum reimbursement from the federal government for the payment of those emergency benefits.

SEC. 2. Section 4003 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

(b) There is an "on" indicator for purposes of federal-state extended benefits for a week in which the rate of insured unemployment for that week and the immediately preceding 12 weeks equals or exceeds either of the following:
(1) One hundred twenty percent of the average of the rates for the corresponding 13-week period ending in each of the preceding two calendar years, and equals or exceeds 5 percent.

(2) Six percent.

(c) There is an "off" indicator for a week in which the rate of insured unemployment for that week and the immediately preceding 12 weeks is less than 6 percent and also less than either of the following:

This section shall be effective with respect to compensation for weeks of unemployment after September 25, 1982. The provisions of this section in effect prior to that date shall continue to apply to weeks after March 30, 1977, but prior to September 25, 1982.

(e) The indicators specified in subdivisions (b) and (c) shall be operative only if mandated or permitted by federal law. (f) An individual subject to disqualification under subdivision (a) of Section 1256.5 has satisfied subdivision (a) of Section 1260.

(2) The application to the Superintendent of Public Instruction for funding under the Healthy Start Support Services for Children Act of 1991 delineates how the program will coordinate and interface with, and is not duplicative of, this part.

(b) Up to 20 percent of the schoolsites which receive operational grants from the Healthy Start Support Services for Children program and which apply for grants under this part may receive these grants. The State Department of Mental Health and the State Department of Education shall jointly review the effectiveness of providing both grants to a single schoolsite and make this information available no later than January 1, 1993.

SEC. 3. Section 4390 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:
4390. The Legislature finds that an evaluation of program effectiveness is both desirable and necessary and accordingly requires the following:
(a) No later than September 1, 1992, and each year thereafter through the term of the grant award, each local education agency that receives a matching grant under this part shall submit a report to the director that shall include the following:
   (1) An evaluation of the effectiveness of the local educational agency in achieving stated goals.

The program shall be deemed successful if at least 75 percent of the children who complete the program show an improvement in at least one of the four following areas:
      (A) Learning behaviors.
      (B) Attendance.
      (C) School adjustment.
      (D) School-related competencies. Improvement shall be compared with comparable children in that school district that do not complete or participate in the program.
   (6) An accounting of local budget savings, if any, resulting from the implementation of the school-based early mental health intervention and prevention services program.
   (7) A revised plan of how the proposed school-based early mental health intervention and prevention services program will be continued after the state matching grant has expired, including a list of cooperative entities that will assist in providing the necessary funds and services. Beginning in 1993, this shall, to the extent information is provided by the local mental health department, include a description of the availability of federal financial participation under Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396 and following) through a cooperative agreement or contract with the local mental health department. The county office of education may submit the report on the availability of federal financial participation on behalf of the participating local education agencies with the county. In any county in which there is an interagency children's services coordination council established pursuant to Section 18986.10, a report submitted pursuant to this paragraph shall be submitted to the council for its review and approval.

(b) No later than January 1, 1994, the director shall, through grants, contracts, or cooperative agreements with independent organizations, provide for an evaluation of the effectiveness of matching grants awarded under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 4380) of this part. This evaluation shall allow for the comparison of the impact of different models of school-based mental health early intervention and prevention services programs on the local educational agency and on the children participating in the program. That comparison shall be done with comparable schools or school districts that operate without the school-based mental health early intervention and prevention services program.

(c) No later than April 1, 1994, the director shall submit a report to the Governor, the Legislature, and the Secretary of Child Development and Education summarizing the reports submitted under subdivision (a) of this section and reporting the results of the evaluation described in subdivision (b) of this section.

SEC. 4. Section 5902 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

5902. (a) In the 1991–92 fiscal year, funding sufficient to cover the cost of the basic level of care in institutions for mental disease at the rate established by the State Department of Health Services shall be made available to the department for skilled nursing facilities, plus the rate established for special treatment programs. The department may authorize a county to administer institutions for mental disease services if the county with the consent of the affected providers makes a request to administer services and an allocation is made to the county for these services. The department shall continue to contract with these providers for the services necessary for the operation of the institutions for mental disease.

(b) In the 1992–93 fiscal year, the department shall consider county-specific requests to continue to provide administrative services relative to institutions for mental disease facilities when no viable alternatives are found to exist.

(c) (1) By October 1, 1991, the department, in consultation with the California Conference of Local Mental Health Directors and the California Association of Health Facilities, shall develop and publish a county-specific allocation of institutions for mental disease funds which will take effect on July 1, 1992.

(2) By November 1, 1991, counties shall notify the providers of any intended change in service levels to be effective on July 1, 1992.

(3) By April 1, 1992, counties and providers shall have entered into contracts for basic institutions for mental disease services at the rate described in subdivision (e) for the 1992–93 fiscal year at the level expressed on or before November 1, 1991, except that a county shall be permitted additional time, until June 1, 1992, to complete the processing of the contract, when any of the following conditions are met:

(A) The county and the affected provider have agreed on all substantive institutions for mental disease contract issues by April 1, 1992.

(B) Negotiations are in process with the county on April 1, 1992, and the affected provider has agreed in writing to the extension.

(C) The service level committed to on November 1, 1991, exceeds the affected provider’s bed capacity.

(D) The county can document that the affected provider has refused to enter into negotiations by April 1, 1992, or has substantially delayed negotiations.

(4) If a county and a provider are unable to reach agreement on substantive contract issues by June 1, 1992, the department may, upon request of either the affected county or the provider, mediate the disputed issues.

(5) Where contracts for service at the level committed to on November 1, 1991, have not been completed by April 1, 1992, and additional time is not permitted pursuant to the exceptions specified in paragraph (3) the funds allocated to those counties shall revert for reallocation in a manner that shall promote equity of funding among counties. With respect to counties with exceptions permitted pursuant to paragraph (3), funds shall not revert unless contracts are not completed by June 1, 1992. In no event shall funds revert under this section if there is no harm to the provider as a result of the county contract not being completed. During the 1992–93 fiscal year, funds reverted under this paragraph shall be used to purchase institution for mental disease/skilled nursing/special treatment program services in existing facilities.

(6) Nothing in this section shall apply to negotiations regarding supplemental payments beyond the rate specified in subdivision (e).

(d) On or before April 1, 1992, counties may complete contracts with facilities for the direct purchase of services in the 1992–93 fiscal year. Those counties for which facility contracts have not been completed by that date shall be deemed to continue to accept financial responsibility for those patients during the subsequent fiscal year at the rate specified in subdivision (a).

(e) As long as contracts with institutions for mental disease providers requires the facilities to maintain skilled nursing facility licensure and certification, reimbursement for basic services shall be at the rate established by the State Department of Health Services for skilled nursing facilities, plus the rate established for special treatment programs.

(f) In the 1993–94 fiscal year and thereafter, the department shall consider requests to continue administrative services related to institutions for mental disease facilities from counties with a population of 150,000 or less based on the most recent available estimates of population data as determined by the Population Research Unit of the Department of Finance.

SEC. 5. Section 3 of Chapter 757 of the Statutes of 1991 is repealed.

SEC. 6. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to prevent displacement of seriously mentally ill adults from existing long-term care facilities, and to make other essential changes in mental health programs at the earliest possible time, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 24

An act relating to school district reorganization, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor April 1, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State April 1, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

(a) As of December 1, 1991, an action to reorganize school districts had been initiated, but not completed, that would dissolve the South Bay Union High School District, with the additional result that the Hermosa Beach City Elementary School District, the Manhattan Beach City Elementary School District, and the Redondo Beach City Elementary School District each would become a unified school district.

(b) Pursuant to the school district reorganization described in subdivision (a), high schools that previously were located within the South Bay Union High School District would be governed and operated by the proposed Manhattan Beach City Unified School District and the proposed Redondo Beach City Unified School District. However, no high schools would be governed or operated by the proposed Hermosa Beach City Unified School District.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the action to reorganize school districts described in Section 1 is not effective as to the Hermosa Beach City Elementary School District, which shall remain an elementary school district without regard to that action and may continue to operate as an elementary school district on the basis set forth in Section 3. If this act becomes effective subsequent to the operative date of that action, the Hermosa Beach City Unified School District, as established by that action, shall be deunified, and become the Hermosa Beach City Elementary School District, upon the effective date of this act.

SEC. 3. (a) Prior to June 1 of each academic year that begins subsequent to the operative date of the action to reorganize school districts described in Section 1, each pupil in any of grades 9 to 12, inclusive, who resides within the boundaries of the Hermosa Beach City Elementary School District may elect to attend high school in either the Manhattan Beach City Unified School District or the Redondo Beach City Unified School District. The governing board of the Manhattan Beach City Unified School District and the governing board of the Redondo Beach City Unified School District each shall establish a reasonable procedure to be employed by those pupils to make that annual election with regard to each of those districts.

(b) Each pupil who attends either the Manhattan Beach City Unified School District or the Redondo Beach City Unified School District pursuant to this section shall be deemed to be a pupil enrolled in that district for all purposes, including, but not limited to, his or her admission to particular high schools of the district and selection of classes, and the apportionment of state funding.

SEC. 4. Sections 2 and 3 of this act shall not become operative until the operative date of the school district reorganization described in Section 1.

SEC. 5. Due to the unique circumstances specified in Section 1 of this act concerning the South Bay Union High School District, the Hermosa Beach City Elementary School District, the Manhattan Beach City Elementary School District, and the Redondo Beach City Elementary School District, the Legislature finds and declares that a general statute cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution.

SEC. 6. The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

(a) The Sacramento County Committee on School District Organization has initiated an action to create one or more unified school districts from the elementary school districts that operate as feeder districts to the Grant Joint Union High School District.

(b) The Elverta Joint Elementary School District, which is one of the feeder districts included in that reorganization action, currently educates pupils in kindergarten and grades 1 to 8, inclusive.

(c) At the present time, the population within the Elverta Joint Elementary School District is not of sufficient size to support a comprehensive high school program. However, population and development data provided by the appropriate planning agencies of Sacramento County and Placer County indicate that it is likely that, within the next 5 to 15 years, the population within the district will be of sufficient size to support a quality high school program.

(d) It is the opinion of the Sacramento County Committee on School District Organization, the governing board of the Elverta Joint Elementary School District, and parents and other residents of the Elverta community that the interests of the pupils and the community are served best by maintaining the separate identity of that elementary school district without regard to the reorganization action described in subdivision (a).

(e) It is the intent of the Legislature that the Elverta Joint Elementary School District actively pursue the creation of, or consolidation with, a unified school system at the time that it is educationally and financially appropriate to do so.

SEC. 7. (a) Notwithstanding the reorganization action described in subdivision (a) of Section 6 and any other provision of law, all of the following shall apply under the conditions set forth in subdivision (b):

(1) The Elvera Joint Elementary School District shall continue to operate as an elementary school district, notwithstanding the reorganization action described in subdivision (a) of Section 6.

(2) Prior to March 1 of each fiscal year, the governing board of the Elvera Joint Elementary School District shall enter into agreements with one or more adjoining school districts for the succeeding fiscal year for the education of pupils in grades 9 to 12, inclusive, who, except with regard to grade level, would be within the jurisdiction of the Elvera Joint Elementary School District for that succeeding fiscal year pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 48200) of Chapter 2 of Part 27 of the Education Code.

(3) Each pupil who attends school in any school district pursuant to an agreement as described in paragraph (2) shall be deemed to be a pupil enrolled in that district for all purposes.

(b) Subdivision (a) shall operate only if all of the following three conditions occur:

(1) The action to reorganize the Grant Joint Union High School District, as described in subdivision (a) of Section 6, is approved by the State Board of Education and by the voters in accordance with Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 35700) of Part 21 of the Education Code.

(2) The action to reorganize the Grant Joint Union High School District, as approved pursuant to paragraph (1), includes either of the following:

(A) The consolidation of the Elvera Joint Elementary School District and one or more other school districts into a unified school district.

(B) A request by the Sacramento County Committee on School District Organization to the State Board of Education to waive the requirements of current law that prohibit the Elvera Joint Elementary School District from continuing to operate as an elementary school district without regard to the reorganization action.

(3) Prior to the operative date of the action to reorganize the Grant Joint Union High School District, as approved pursuant to paragraph (1), the governing board of the Elvera Joint Elementary School District and the Sacramento County Committee on School District Organization each adopt a resolution in support of the operation of the Elvera Joint Elementary School District in the manner described in subdivision (a).

(c) This section shall not be construed to prohibit the Elvera Joint Elementary School District or the Sacramento County Committee on School District Organization, subsequent to the reorganization action described in subdivision (a) of Section 6, from undertaking the unification or other reorganization of the Elvera Joint Elementary School District in accordance with applicable provisions. of the Education Code.

SEC. 8. Due to the unique circumstances specified in Section 6 of this act concerning the Grant Joint Union High School District and the Elverta Joint Elementary School District, the Legislature finds and declares that a general statute cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution.

SEC. 9. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 10. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to revise the effect of a pending action to reorganize school districts prior to the date of an election to be held regarding that action, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

The commission shall consider all projects within a selected demonstration site submitted to it as a part of a regional transportation program by December 1, 1993, or as an applicant for inclusion in the 1991 or subsequent Transit Capital Improvement Program. Any project selected by the commission which is located in a demonstration site shall be considered for inclusion in the 1991 or subsequent annual Transit Capital Improvement Program or in the 1992 or subsequent State Transportation Improvement Program. Each demonstration site shall be located in a city or county that has adopted land use policies and programs encouraging the development of high-density residential development near mass transit guideway stations. These policies and programs may be included in the locality’s general plan, zoning ordinance, including a density bonus ordinance adopted pursuant to Section 65915, development agreement adopted pursuant to Article 2.5 (commencing with Section 65864) of Chapter 3 of Division 1 of Title 7, redevelopment plan or amendment to the plan adopted pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 33330) of Chapter 4 of Part 1 of Division 24 of the Health and Safety Code, and congestion management plan adopted pursuant to Chapter 2.6 (commencing with Section 65099) of Division 1 of Title 7.

(b) The department shall prepare a preliminary report regarding the disposition of projects proposed for inclusion in either the 1991 or subsequent annual Transit Capital Improvement Program or the 1992 or subsequent State Transportation Improvement Program, and a final report regarding the impact of the demonstration program on the level of use of mass transit by residents living within one-half mile of the mass transit guideway station. The department shall submit each report to the commission for review and comment. The commission shall submit the preliminary report, with its comments, to the Legislature no later than January 1, 1994, and the final report, with its comments, to the Legislature no later than January 1, 1996.

In order that significant new employment opportunities may be created in California as soon as possible by authorizing the immediate commencement of rail transportation improvements approved by the voters, it is necessary for this act to take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 26

An act to amend Sections 1639 and 1749.3 of, and to add Section 1707.51 to, the Insurance Code, relating to insurance, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor April 1, 1992 Filed with Secretary of State April 1, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

1639. The following types of licenses under this chapter may be issued to nonresidents:

(a) A fire and casualty broker-agent if the nonresident is duly licensed to transact more than one class of insurance, other than life insurance, disability insurance or life and disability insurance, under the laws of the state or province of Canada wherein he or she resides, provided the state or province does not prohibit a resident of this state from acting as an insurance agent or broker.

(b) A life agent if the nonresident is licensed in the state of his or her residence to transact life insurance and disability insurance.

The class or classes of insurance which a person is licensed to transact in the state or province of his or her residence shall be determined according to the definitions of classes of insurance in Sections 101 to 120, inclusive, of this code. A certificate under official seal and original signature from the insurance regulatory authority of the nonresident’s home state or province may be accepted as evidence of the applicant’s license status and the capacity or capacities in which he or she is licensed.

(c) Nothing in this section shall require a nonresident fire and casualty or life licensee, who has completed a continuing education course in his or her resident jurisdiction, to comply with California’s continuing education requirements. However, if the resident jurisdiction has no continuing education requirements, the licensee shall comply with California’s continuing education requirements to be eligible for a nonresident license.

SEC. 2. Section 1707.51 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:
1707.51. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, qualified applicants who applied in proper form and requested an examination date for a fire and casualty or life insurance license prior to December 1, 1991, shall be provided the opportunity to qualify for licensure under statutory licensure provisions in effect on December 31, 1991.

(b) The department may require the applicant to execute a sworn statement subject to a penalty of perjury and denial of license declaring that they meet the qualifications set forth in subdivision (a). The department shall provide public notice as to the availability of these tests and as to the procedure and requirements necessary to qualify for the test. The tests shall be administered within 90 days of enactment of this section.

SEC. 3. Section 1749.3 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:
1749.3. An individual licensed as either a life agent or a fire and casualty broker-agent, but not as both, shall complete those courses, programs of instruction, or seminars approved by the commissioner for the type of license held. The minimum number of hours required is as follows:

(a) During each of the first four 12-month periods following the date of original issue, a minimum of 25 hours.

(b) Any licensee who has held a license prior to the effective date of this section, or who has complied with subdivision (a), shall satisfactorily complete 30 hours of instruction prior to renewal of the license. These hours of instruction may be completed at any time prior to renewal of the license.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), those licensees whose licenses expire in 1993 shall be required to satisfactorily complete 15 hours of continuing education prior to the 1993 license renewal.

(d) An individual whose license expires in 1992 shall not be required to show compliance with the requirements of subdivisions (a) and (b) until the next license renewal date.

(e) An individual licensed as both a fire and casualty broker-agent and as a life agent shall satisfy the requirements of this section by demonstrating completion of the courses, programs of instruction, or seminars approved by the commissioner for either license.

(f) Nothing in this section shall preclude an individual from taking courses, programs of instruction, or seminars approved by the commissioner and accumulating credits for completion thereof prior to the application of this section to the individual’s license.

(g) A licensee who is employed by a licensed automobile dealer to offer only collision coverage, involuntary unemployment insurance, or credit life and disability insurance products shall not be required to meet the requirements of this section until the license renewal date next following December 31, 1993.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to provide equity to all individuals who met the Department of Insurance deadline and to provide opportunity for employment to individuals who will otherwise be precluded from access to the workplace for many months, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 27

An act relating to transportation, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor April 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State April 8, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. This act shall be known as the California-Nevada Super Speed Ground Transportation Act.

SEC. 2. (a) It is found and declared that enactment of the California-Nevada Super Speed Ground Transportation Act is a declaration of legislative intent that the States of California and Nevada continue to jointly consider, and if justified, pursue the development of a super speed ground transportation system connecting southern California with southern Nevada.

(b) The system will serve the following public purposes:

(1) Provide economic benefits to both southern California and southern Nevada.

(2) Reduce reliance on gasoline and diesel fueled engines and encourage the use of alternative energy sources.

(3) Reduce congestion on Interstate 15 between southern California and Las Vegas.

(4) Provide a working example for a state-of-the-art transportation system that could play an essential role in the development of future commuter service in the Los Angeles basin and the Las Vegas valley.
(5) Provide quick and convenient transportation service for residents and visitors visiting in southern California and southern Nevada.

SEC. 3. As used in this act, the following terms have the following meanings:

(a) "Commission" means the California-Nevada Super Speed Ground Transportation Commission.

(b) "Southern California" means the Counties of Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, and San Bernardino.

(c) "Super speed ground transportation system" means a system that is capable of speeds of at least 180 miles-per-hour and primarily carries passengers and operates on a grade separated, dedicated guideway.

SEC. 4. (a) There is hereby created the California-Nevada Super Speed Ground Transportation Commission.

(b) The governing body of the commission shall be constituted as follows:

(1) A California delegation, consisting of the members serving on the commission on December 31, 1991, pursuant to Chapter 149 of the Statutes of 1988, unless the appointing authority of a member so serving elects to appoint another person in place of that member.

(2) A Nevada delegation, consisting of eight members appointed as required by Nevada law.

(3) The commission shall elect one of its members to be the chairperson.

SEC. 5. (a) The commission may prepare a plan for the construction and operation of a super speed ground transportation system at no expense to the State of California principally following the route of Interstate Highway 15 between the City of Las Vegas, Nevada, and a point in southern California. The commission shall not include in the final plan any site for the western terminus unless the board of supervisors of the county of the proposed site after public hearings approves that site selection.

(b) The final plan shall be submitted to, and ratified by, the California Legislature, by statute, and the Nevada Legislature or Nevada Legislative Commission, as required by Nevada law, before the commission or a franchisee of the commission begins construction and obtains certificates and permits necessary for construction or use of public right-of-way.

(c) Subject to subdivisions (a) and (b), the commission may do any of the following:

(1) Conduct engineering and other studies related to the selection and acquisition of right-of-way and the selection of a franchisee, including, but not limited to, environmental impact studies, socioeconomic impact studies, and financial feasibility studies. All local, state, and federal environmental requirements shall be met by the commission.

(2) Evaluate alternative super speed rail technologies, systems, and operators, and select a franchisee to build and operate the super speed rail system between southern California and Las Vegas.

(3) Establish criteria for the award of a franchise.

(4) Accept grants, gifts, fees, and allocations from Nevada or its political subdivisions, the federal government, foreign governments, and any other private sources. There shall be no public cost to the State of California or any of its political subdivisions.

(5) Issue debt, but this debt shall not constitute an obligation of the States of California or Nevada, or any of their political subdivisions.

(6) Hire an executive officer, other staff, and any consultants deemed appropriate.

(7) Select a proposed franchisee, a proposed route, and proposed terminal sites.

(d) The commission shall incorporate under the nonprofit corporation laws of California. It shall have all the powers and duties of a nonprofit corporation under California law.

(e) All meetings of the commission shall be open to the public to the extent required by the law of the State of California or the State of Nevada, whichever imposes the greater requirement applicable to local governments at the time meetings are held.

(f) All members of the commission who are California-elected officials shall be subject to the provisions of the Political Reform Act (Title 9 (commencing with Section 81000) of the Government Code).

SEC. 6. This act shall become inoperative on July 1, 1993, and as of January 1, 1994, is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which becomes effective on or before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends the dates on which the act becomes inoperative and are repealed.

SEC. 7. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order that plans and projects essential to meet the transportation needs of California may be undertaken at the earliest possible time, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

(b) The method of displaying the registration number on the vessel shall be determined by the department after consultation with the Department of Boating and Waterways, taking into consideration the responsibilities and duties of the Department of Boating and Waterways as prescribed in the Harbors and Navigation Code.

(c) The registration number is not transferable, and it is a permanent fixture upon the vessel for which it is originally issued.

SEC. 2. Section 7881 of the Fish and Game Code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 7881 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

7881. (a) Every person who owns or operates a vessel in public waters in connection with fishing operations for profit in this state, or who brings fish into this state, or who, for profit, permits persons to fish therefrom, shall submit an application for commercial boat registration on forms provided by the department and shall be issued a registration number. The application shall contain information as required by the department for that vessel.

(b) Upon payment of a fee of one hundred sixty-five dollars ($165) and filing of the required application by the owner or operator of the vessel, the department shall issue a commercial boat registration which is valid for the period April 1 to March 31 of the following year, or, if issued after the beginning of that term, for the remainder thereof. The registration shall be carried aboard the vessel at all times and posted in a conspicuous place.

(c) This section does not apply to any boat which is rented without an operator, unless the boat is powered with an inboard motor, in which case a commercial boat registration is required.

(d) If a registered vessel is lost, destroyed, or sold, the owner of the vessel shall immediately report the loss, destruction, or sale to the department.

SEC. 4. Section 7882 of the Fish and Game Code is repealed.
SEC. 5. Section 7883 of the Fish and Game Code is repealed.
SEC. 6. Section 7884 of the Fish and Game Code is repealed.
SEC. 7. Section 7885 of the Fish and Game Code is repealed.
SEC. 8. Section 7886 of the Fish and Game Code is repealed.
SEC. 9. Section 7887 of the Fish and Game Code is repealed.
SEC. 10. Section 7888 of the Fish and Game Code is repealed.
SEC. 11. Section 7890 of the Fish and Game Code is repealed.
CHAPTER 29

An act to amend and renumber Section 6461 of, and to add Section 6461 to, the Food and Agricultural Code, relating to pest control.

[Approved by Governor April 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State April 8, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6461 of the Food and Agricultural Code is amended and renumbered to read:

6461.5. Except as otherwise provided in this article, if any shipment of plants or any other things in violation of this chapter or any quarantine which has been established, is brought into this state and it is found to be infested or infected, or there is reasonable cause to believe that it may be infested or infected, with any pest, the shipment shall be immediately destroyed by, or under the supervision of, the officer who inspects it, at the expense of the owner or bailee of the shipment.

SEC. 2. Section 6461 is added to the Food and Agricultural Code, to read:

6461. It is unlawful to ship or transport any plant or any other thing into this state which is infested with any pest which has been listed, by the director, as detrimental to agriculture in this state.

The director shall either establish and amend the list of pests by order, after notice and opportunity for written or oral comments, or through the adoption or amendment of quarantine regulations.

In addition to the civil, criminal, and administrative remedies specified in this division, the director may, after notice and opportunity to respond, impose inspection, treatment, certification, holding, or other requirements for any shipper or transporter that has shipped or transported three or more pest-infested shipments into this state within any 12-month period.

With regard to any commercial shipment violating any of those requirements imposed pursuant to this section, the director or commissioner may also charge the shipper or transporter the cost of inspecting and controlling the pest.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.
CHAPTER 30

An act to repeal Title 7 (commencing with Section 1380.1) of Part 4 of Division 2 of the Civil Code, and to add Part 14 (commencing with Section 600) to Division 2 of the Probate Code, relating to powers of appointment.

[Approved by Governor April 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State April 8, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Title 7 (commencing with Section 1380.1) of Part 4 of Division 2 of the Civil Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Part 14 (commencing with Section 600) is added to Division 2 of the Probate Code, to read:

PART 14. POWERS OF APPOINTMENT

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

600. Except to the extent that the common law rules governing powers of appointment are modified by statute, the common law as to powers of appointment is the law of this state.

601. If the law existing at the time of the creation of a power of appointment and the law existing at the time of the release or exercise of the power of appointment or at the time of the assertion of a right given by this part differ, the law existing at the time of the release, exercise, or assertion of a right controls. Nothing in this section makes invalid a power of appointment created before July 1, 1970, that was valid under the law in existence at the time it was created.

CHAPTER 2. DEFINITIONS; CLASSIFICATION OF POWERS OF APPOINTMENT

610. As used in this part:
(a) "Appointee" means the person in whose favor a power of appointment is exercised.
(b) "Appointive property" means the property or interest in property that is the subject of the power of appointment.
(c) "Creating instrument" means the deed, will, trust, or other writing or document that creates or reserves the power of appointment.
(d) "Donee" means the person to whom a power of appointment is given or in whose favor a power of appointment is reserved.
(e) "Donor" means the person who creates or reserves a power of appointment.
(f) "Permissible appointee" means a person in whose favor a power of appointment can be exercised.

611. (a) A power of appointment is "general" only to the extent that it is exercisable in favor of the donee, the donee's estate, the donee's creditors, or creditors of the donee's estate, whether or not it is exercisable in favor of others.

(b) A power to consume, invade, or appropriate property for the benefit of a person in discharge of the donee's obligation of support that is limited by an ascertainable standard relating to the person's health, education, support, or maintenance is not a general power of appointment.

(c) A power exercisable by the donee only in conjunction with a person having a substantial interest in the appontive property that is adverse to the exercise of the power in favor of the donee, the donee's estate, the donee's creditors, or creditors of the donee's estate is not a general power of appointment.

(d) A power of appointment that is not "general" is "special."

(e) A power of appointment may be general as to some appontive property, or an interest in or a specific portion of appontive property, and be special as to other appontive property.

612. (a) A power of appointment is "testamentary" if it is exercisable only by a will.

(b) A power of appointment is "presently exercisable" at the time in question to the extent that an irrevocable appointment can be made.

(c) A power of appointment is "not presently exercisable" if it is "postponed." A power of appointment is "postponed" in either of the following circumstances:

(1) The creating instrument provides that the power of appointment may be exercised only after a specified act or event occurs or a specified condition is met, and the act or event has not occurred or the condition has not been met.

(2) The creating instrument provides that an exercise of the power of appointment is revocable until a specified act or event occurs or a specified condition is met, and the act or event has not occurred or the condition has not been met.

613. A power of appointment is "imperative" where the creating instrument manifests an intent that the permissible appointees be benefited even if the donee fails to exercise the power. An imperative power can exist even though the donee has the privilege of selecting some and excluding others of the designated permissible appointees. All other powers of appointment are "discretionary." The donee of a discretionary power is privileged to exercise, or not to exercise, the power as the donee chooses.

Chapter 3. Creation of Powers of Appointment

620. A power of appointment can be created only by a donor having the capacity to transfer the interest in property to which the power relates.
CHAPTER 4. EXERCISE OF POWERS OF APPOINTMENT

Article 1. Donee's Capacity

625. (a) A power of appointment can be exercised only by a donee having the capacity to transfer the interest in property to which the power relates.

(b) Unless the creating instrument otherwise provides, a donee who is a minor may not exercise a power of appointment during minority.

Article 2. Scope of Donee’s Authority

630. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this part, if the creating instrument specifies requirements as to the manner, time, and conditions of the exercise of a power of appointment, the power can be exercised only by complying with those requirements.

(b) Unless expressly prohibited by the creating instrument, a power stated to be exercisable by an inter vivos instrument is also exercisable by a written will.

631. (a) Where an appointment does not satisfy the formal requirements specified in the creating instrument as provided in subdivision (a) of Section 630, the court may excuse compliance with the formal requirements and determine that exercise of the appointment was effective if both of the following requirements are satisfied:

(1) The appointment approximates the manner of appointment prescribed by the donor.

(2) The failure to satisfy the formal requirements does not defeat the accomplishment of a significant purpose of the donor.

(b) This section does not permit a court to excuse compliance with a specific reference requirement under Section 632.

632. If the creating instrument expressly directs that a power of appointment be exercised by an instrument that makes a specific reference to the power or to the instrument that created the power, the power can be exercised only by an instrument containing the required reference.

633. (a) If the creating instrument requires the consent of the donor or other person to exercise a power of appointment, the power can only be exercised when the required consent is contained in the instrument of exercise or in a separate written instrument, signed in each case by the person whose consent is required.

(b) Unless expressly prohibited by the creating instrument:

(1) If a person whose consent is required dies, the power may be exercised by the donee without the consent of that person.

(2) If a person whose consent is required becomes legally incapable of consenting, the person's guardian or conservator may consent to an exercise of the power.

(3) A consent may be given before or after the exercise of the power by the donee.

634. A power of appointment created in favor of two or more donees can only be exercised when all of the donees unite in its exercise. If one or more of the donees dies, becomes legally incapable of exercising the power, or releases the power, the power may be exercised by the others, unless expressly prohibited by the creating instrument.

635. Nothing in this chapter affects the power of a court of competent jurisdiction to remedy a defective exercise of an imperative power of appointment.

Article 3. Donee's Required Intent

640. (a) The exercise of a power of appointment requires a manifestation of the donee's intent to exercise the power.

(b) A manifestation of the donee's intent to exercise a power of appointment exists in any of the following circumstances:

(1) The donee declares, in substance, that the donee exercises specific powers or all the powers the donee has.

(2) The donee purports to transfer an interest in the appointive property that the donee would have no power to transfer except by virtue of the power.

(3) The donee makes a disposition that, when considered with reference to the property owned and the circumstances existing at the time of the disposition, manifests the donee's understanding that the donee was disposing of the appointive property.

(c) The circumstances described in subdivision (b) are illustrative, not exclusive.

641. (a) A general residuary clause in a will, or a will making general disposition of all the testator's property, does not exercise a power of appointment held by the testator unless specific reference is made to the power or there is some other indication of intent to exercise the power.

(b) This section applies in a case where the donee dies on or after July 1, 1982.

642. If a power of appointment existing at the donee's death, but created after the execution of the donee's will, is exercised by the will, the appointment is effective except in either of the following cases:

(a) The creating instrument manifests an intent that the power may not be exercised by a will previously executed.

(b) The will manifests an intent not to exercise a power subsequently acquired.

Article 4. Types of Appointments

650. (a) The donee of a general power of appointment may make an appointment:

(1) Of all of the appointive property at one time, or several partial appointments at different times, where the power is exercisable inter vivos.

(2) Of present or future interests or both.
(3) Subject to conditions or charges.
(4) Subject to otherwise lawful restraints on the alienation of the appointed interest.
(5) In trust.
(6) Creating a new power of appointment.
(b) The listing in subdivision (a) is illustrative, not exclusive.

651. Subject to the limitations imposed by the creating instrument, the donee of a special power may make any of the types of appointment permissible for the donee of a general power under Section 650.

652. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), the donee of a special power of appointment may appoint the whole or any part of the appointive property to any one or more of the permissible appointees and exclude others.
(b) If the donor specifies either a minimum or maximum share or amount to be appointed to one or more of the permissible appointees, the exercise of the power must conform to the specification.

Article 5. Contracts to Appoint; Releases

660. (a) The donee of a power of appointment that is presently exercisable, whether general or special, can contract to make an appointment to the same extent that the donee could make an effective appointment.
(b) The donee of a power of appointment cannot contract to make an appointment while the power of appointment is not presently exercisable. If a promise to make an appointment under such a power is not performed, the promisee cannot obtain either specific performance or damages, but the promisee is not prevented from obtaining restitution of the value given by the promisee for the promise.
(c) Unless the creating instrument expressly provides that the donee may not contract to make an appointment while the power of appointment is not presently exercisable, subdivision (b) does not apply to the case where the donor and the donee are the same person. In this case, the donee can contract to make an appointment to the same extent that the donee could make an effective appointment if the power of appointment were presently exercisable.

661. (a) Unless the creating instrument otherwise provides, a general or special power of appointment that is a discretionary power, whether testamentary or otherwise, may be released, either with or without consideration, by a written instrument signed by the donee and delivered as provided in subdivision (c).
(b) A releasable power may be released with respect to the whole or any part of the appointive property and may also be released in such manner as to reduce or limit the permissible appointees. No partial release of a power shall be deemed to make imperative the remaining power that was not imperative before the release unless the instrument of release expressly so provides. No release of a power that is not presently exercisable is permissible where the donor designated persons or a class to take in default of the donee's exercise of the power unless the release serves to benefit all persons designated as provided by the donor.

(c) A release shall be delivered as follows:

(1) If the creating instrument specifies a person to whom a release is to be delivered, the release shall be delivered to that person, but delivery need not be made as provided in this paragraph if the person cannot with due diligence be found.

(2) In a case where the property to which the power relates is held by a trustee, the release shall be delivered to the trustee.

(3) In a case not covered by paragraph (1) or (2), the release may be delivered to any of the following:

(A) A person, other than the donee, who could be adversely affected by the exercise of the power.

(B) The county recorder of the county in which the donee resides or in which the deed, will, or other instrument creating the power is filed.

(d) A release of a power of appointment that affects real property or obligations secured by real property shall be acknowledged and proved, and may be certified and recorded, in like manner and with like effect as grants of real property, and all statutory provisions relating to the recordation or nonrecordation of conveyances of real property and to the effect thereof apply to a release with like effect, without regard to the date when the release was delivered, if at all, pursuant to subdivision (c). Failure to deliver, pursuant to subdivision (c), a release that is recorded pursuant to this subdivision does not affect the validity of any transaction with respect to the real property or obligation secured thereby, and the general laws of this state on recording and its effect govern the transaction.

(e) This section does not impair the validity of a release made before July 1, 1970.

662. (a) A release on behalf of a minor donee shall be made by the guardian of the estate of the minor pursuant to an order of court obtained under this section.

(b) The guardian or other interested person may file a petition with the court in which the guardianship of the estate proceeding is pending for an order of the court authorizing or requiring the guardian to release the ward's powers as a donee or a power of appointment in whole or in part.

(c) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given for the period and in the manner provided in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1460) of Part 1 of Division 4 to all of the following (other than the petitioner or persons joining in the petition):
(1) The persons required to be given notice under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1460) of Part 1 of Division 4.
(2) The donor of the power, if alive.
(3) The trustee, if the property to which the power relates is held by a trustee.
(4) Other persons as ordered by the court.
(d) After hearing, the court in its discretion may make an order authorizing or requiring the guardian to release on behalf of the ward a general or special power of appointment as permitted under Section 661, if the court determines, taking into consideration all the relevant circumstances, that the ward as a prudent person would make the release of the power of appointment if the ward had the capacity to do so.
(e) Nothing in this section imposes any duty on the guardian to file a petition under this section, and the guardian is not liable for failure to file a petition under this section.

CHAPTER 5. EFFECT OF FAILURE TO MAKE EFFECTIVE APPOINTMENT

670. An exercise of a power of appointment is not void solely because it is more extensive than authorized by the power, but is valid to the extent that the exercise was permissible under the terms of the power.

671. (a) Unless the creating instrument or the donee, in writing, manifests a contrary intent, where the donee dies without having exercised an imperative power of appointment either in whole or in part, the persons designated as permissible appointees take equally of the property not already appointed. Where the creating instrument establishes a minimum distribution requirement that is not satisfied by an equal division of the property not already appointed, the appointees who have received a partial appointment are required to return a pro rata portion of the property they would otherwise be entitled to receive in an amount sufficient to meet the minimum distribution requirement.
(b) Where an imperative power of appointment has been exercised defectively, either in whole or in part, its proper execution may be adjudged in favor of the person intended to be benefited by the defective exercise.
(c) Where an imperative power of appointment has been created so that it confers on a person a right to have the power exercised in the person's favor, the proper exercise of the power can be compelled in favor of the person, or the person's assigns, creditors, guardian, or conservator.

672. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), if the donee of a discretionary power of appointment fails to appoint the property, releases the entire power, or makes an ineffective appointment, in whole or in part, the appointive property not effectively appointed passes to the person named by the donor as taker in default or, if there is none, reverts to the donor.

(b) If the donee of a general power of appointment makes an ineffective appointment, an implied alternative appointment to the donee’s estate may be found if the donee has manifested an intent that the appointive property be disposed of as property of the donee rather than as in default of appointment.

673. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), if an appointment by will or by instrument effective only at the death of the donee is ineffective because of the death of an appointee before the appointment becomes effective and the appointee leaves issue surviving the donee, the surviving issue of the appointee take the appointed property in the same manner as the appointee would have taken had the appointee survived the donee, except that the property passes only to persons who are permissible appointees, including appointees permitted under Section 674. If the surviving issue are all of the same degree of kinship to the deceased appointee, they take equally, but if of unequal degree, then those of more remote degree take in the manner provided in Section 240.

(b) This section does not apply if either the donor or donee manifests an intent that some other disposition of the appointive property shall be made.

674. (a) Unless the creating instrument expressly provides otherwise, if a permissible appointee dies before the exercise of a special power of appointment, the donee has the power to appoint to the issue of the deceased permissible appointee, whether or not the issue was included within the description of the permissible appointees, if the deceased permissible appointee was alive at the time of the execution of the creating instrument or was born thereafter.

(b) This section applies whether the special power of appointment is exercisable by inter vivos instrument, by will, or otherwise.

(c) This section applies to a case where the power of appointment is exercised on or after July 1, 1982, but does not affect the validity of any exercise of a power of appointment made before July 1, 1982.

CHAPTER 6. RIGHTS OF CREDITORS

680. The donor of a power of appointment cannot nullify or alter the rights given creditors of the donee by Sections 682, 683, and 684 by any language in the instrument creating the power.

681. Property covered by a special power of appointment is not subject to the claims of creditors of the donee or of the donee’s estate or to the expenses of the administration of the donee’s estate.

682. (a) To the extent that the property owned by the donee is inadequate to satisfy the claims of the donee’s creditors, property subject to a general power of appointment that is presently exercisable is subject to the claims to the same extent that it would be subject to the claims if the property were owned by the donee.
(b) Upon the death of the donee, to the extent that the donee's estate is inadequate to satisfy the claims of creditors of the estate and the expenses of administration of the estate, property subject to a general testamentary power of appointment or to a general power of appointment that was presently exercisable at the time of the donee's death is subject to the claims and expenses to the same extent that it would be subject to the claims and expenses if the property had been owned by the donee.

(c) This section applies whether or not the power of appointment has been exercised.

683. Property subject to an unexercised general power of appointment created by the donor in the donor's favor, whether or not presently exercisable, is subject to the claims of the donor's creditors or the donor's estate and to the expenses of the administration of the donor's estate.

684. For the purposes of Sections 682 and 683, a person to whom the donee owes an obligation of support shall be considered a creditor of the donee to the extent that a legal obligation exists for the donee to provide the support.

CHAPTER 7. RULE AGAINST PERPETUITIES

690. The statutory rule against perpetuities provided by Part 2 (commencing with Section 21200) of Division 11 applies to powers of appointment governed by this part.

CHAPTER 8. REVOCABILITY OF CREATION, EXERCISE, OR RELEASE OF POWER OF APPOINTMENT

695. (a) Unless the power to revoke is in the creating instrument or exists pursuant to Section 15400, the creation of a power of appointment is irrevocable.

(b) Unless made expressly irrevocable by the creating instrument or the instrument of exercise, an exercise of a power of appointment is revocable if the power to revoke exists pursuant to Section 15400 or so long as the interest in the appointive property, whether present or future, has not been transferred or become distributable pursuant to the appointment.

(c) Unless the power to revoke is reserved in the instrument releasing the power, a release of a power of appointment is irrevocable.

(b) Prior to the delegation of any authority to engage in making investments, reallocations, or reinvestments of endowment funds on its behalf, the board shall seek and review the written opinion of the general counsel regarding the propriety of the proposed action under the endowment investment and management policies of the regents then in effect.

(c) "Endowment fund" means a fund derived from a gift, bequest, or grant, the terms of which stipulate that the fund principal remain inviolate and that only the income may be expended.

It is the intent of the Legislature that the Regents of the University of California provide for a review of the annual audits conducted pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 92205 and annually report any violations revealed by these audits to the Board of Directors of the Hastings College of the Law, to the appropriate fiscal and policy committees of the Legislature, and to the Legislative Analyst.
CHAPTER 32

An act to amend Sections 779.4, 779.21, 779.30, and 10203.5 of, to amend and repeal Section 779.35 of, and to add Section 779.36 to, the Insurance Code, relating to credit insurance.

[Approved by Governor April 8, 1992 Filed with Secretary of State April 8, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 779.4 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

779.4. (a) The amount of credit life insurance and credit disability insurance shall not exceed, but, except as provided in subdivision (b), may be less than, the following:

(1) Credit Life Insurance. The initial amount of credit life insurance shall at no time exceed the unpaid amount financed plus earned interest. Where an indebtedness is repayable in substantially equal installments, the amount of insurance shall at no time exceed the greater of the scheduled or the actual unpaid amount financed plus earned interest. In the case of revolving loan or revolving charge accounts the insurance shall not at any time exceed the unpaid amount financed plus earned interest.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the above paragraph, the amount of insurance on agricultural or horticultural loan commitments may be equal to the amount of the loan commitment.

(2) Credit Disability Insurance. The total amount of periodic indemnity payable by credit disability insurance in the event of disability, as defined in the policy, shall not exceed the aggregate of the periodic scheduled unpaid installments of indebtedness, and the amount of each periodic indemnity shall not exceed the original indebtedness divided by the number of periodic installments.

(b) The amount of credit life and credit disability insurance may be less than the amounts specified in subdivision (a) except as provided by subdivision (a) of Section 18291, subdivision (e) of Section 22458.1, or subdivision (e) of Section 24458.1 of the Financial Code, or by any other provision of law specifically prohibiting credit life or credit disability insurance in some lesser amount.

SEC. 2. Section 779.21 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

779.21. The commissioner may adopt, pursuant to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, reasonable rules and regulations necessary to carry out this article.

SEC. 3. Section 779.30 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

779.30. (a) An individual policy or group certificate may exclude from credit disability insurance coverage only those preexisting illnesses, diseases or physical conditions for which the debtor actually received medical advice, consultation, or treatment both within six months before and six months after the effective date of the debtor’s coverage and which result in disability commencing within two years of such effective date. This provision shall not preclude the exclusion of other preexisting diseases or physical conditions by name or specific description.

(b) An individual policy or group certificate may exclude from credit life insurance coverage only those preexisting illnesses, diseases, or physical conditions for which the debtor actually received medical advice, consultation, or treatment both within six months before and six months after the effective date of the debtor’s coverage and that result in death within six months after the effective date.

(c) Preexisting condition provisions on revolving accounts for credit disability insurance shall be subject to the limitations of subdivision (a), and for credit life insurance shall be subject to the limitations of subdivision (b). Any preexisting condition provision may be applied separately to each charge or advance, in which case the time periods in the applicable subdivision shall be measured from the date of each separate charge or advance.

All periodic billing statements shall contain the following notice: “Warning: Your credit insurance may not pay part of your debt if you are disabled or die from an injury or illness for which you have seen a doctor or chiropractor within the last six months.”

SEC. 4. Section 779.35 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

779.35. (a) (1) The premium rates applicable with respect to the sale of credit life and credit disability insurance are those rates in effect March 5, 1985, as follows:

(A) Premium rates applicable with respect to the sale of credit life insurance are those rates and presumptive loss levels contained in Section 2248.9 of Title 10 of the California Code of Regulations, except that the presumptive loss ratio level for class C credit unions shall not be 70 percent but shall be the same as that specified for all classes except C and F.

(B) Premium rates applicable with respect to the sale of credit disability insurance are those rates and presumptive loss ratio levels referred to in Section 2248.9 of Title 10 of the California Code of Regulations, except that the presumptive loss ratio level for class C credit unions shall not be 70 percent but shall be the same as that specified for all classes except C and F. The disability rates are the credit disability insurance rate tables A through E incorporated in Section 2248.9 by express reference.

(2) The foregoing rates shall not be subject to adjustment based upon creditor size criteria in effect on March 5, 1985, and contained in subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 2248.9, and related tables, of Title 10 of the California Code of Regulations. Furthermore the rates shall not be subject to those upward or downward rate deviation provisions in effect on March 5, 1985, and contained in Section 2248.10, and related tables, of Title 10 of the California Code of Regulations. The commissioner may, however, adjust any rate specified in paragraph (1) if it is demonstrated to his or her satisfaction that the rate provides an inadequate margin for reasonable expenses, profits, or reserves.

(b) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 5. Section 779.36 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

779.36. (a) The commissioner shall adopt regulations to become effective no later than January 1, 1994, specifying prima facie rates based upon presumptive loss ratios, not to exceed 60 percent, for each class of credit disability and credit life insurance subject to this article. The prima facie rates shall be based upon loss experience filed with the commissioner, aggregated by class.

If any rate established under the commissioner's ratemaking authority produces actual loss ratios that are lower than the presumptive loss ratio, prospective rates may be adjusted, but no retroactive refunds shall be required. In order to provide insurers an opportunity to earn a fair and reasonable rate of return, the commissioner in the ratemaking process shall consider the following factors: acquisition costs, including commissions and other forms of compensation, expenses, profits, loss ratios, reserves, and other reasonable actuarial considerations.

(b) The commissioner shall provide for rate deviations. Upward and downward deviations shall be considered by the commissioner upon initiation by the department, or at the insurer's request at the time of review of annual experience reports filed by insurers, or as provided by regulations to be adopted pursuant to Section 779.21. Requested deviation rates shall be deemed approved if not disapproved within 120 days after submission to the department for approval. Creditor and agent compensation shall be based upon the prima facie rate, and shall not be affected by a deviated rate, but an insurer may pay less compensation.

(c) The commissioner shall adopt regulations to become effective no later than January 1, 1994, specifying prima facie rates based upon presumptive loss ratios, not to exceed 60 percent, for each class of joint life and disability insurance. Those rates shall be expressed as a multiple of the prima facie rate for single life and disability insurance, and shall be based upon loss experience filed with the commissioner, aggregated by class.

If any rate established under the commissioner's ratemaking authority produces actual loss ratios that are lower than the presumptive loss ratio, prospective rates may be adjusted, but no retroactive refunds shall be required. In order to provide insurers an opportunity to earn a fair and reasonable rate of return, the commissioner in the ratemaking process shall consider the following factors: acquisition costs, including commissions and other forms of compensation, expenses, profits, loss ratios, reserves, and other reasonable actuarial considerations.

(d) Loss ratios shall consist of the ratio of incurred losses to earned premiums in a specified reporting period.

SEC. 6. Section 10203.5 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

10203.5. (a) Life insurance conforming to all the following conditions is another form of group life insurance:

1. Covering one of the following groups:
   (A) All members are or become borrowers from one financial institution, including subsidiary or affiliated persons, under an agreement to repay the sum borrowed.
   (B) All members are or become purchasers of merchandise or other property (exclusive of securities, investment certificates and bank deposits) under an agreement to pay the balance of the purchase price.

2. The group numbers not less than 100 new entrants yearly or, in the case of a credit union, not less than 50 borrowers yearly.

3. The amount insured on any one borrower or purchaser does not exceed:
   (A) The amount of the loan commitment in the case of an agricultural or horticultural loan commitment (as defined in Section 10203.55) repayable in one sum or in irregular installments within a period not in excess of 18 months from the initial date of the loan commitment.
   (B) In all other cases the balance of the indebtedness to the financial institution or vendor.

4. The repayment or payment of purchase price is to be made, under the agreement of loan or purchase; in substantially equal installments over a period not exceeding 40 years; or in installments that may vary according to the terms of a signed agreement; or in payments or installments in accordance with the usual terms of the creditor in the case of an open-ended agreement to extend credit, a revolving loan or revolving charge account; or in one sum or irregular installments within a period not in excess of 18 months from the initial date of the commitment on an agricultural or horticultural loan.

5. The policy is issued upon application of and made payable to the financial institution, vendor, or a creditor to whom such vendor may transfer title to the indebtedness, as beneficiary, and the premiums are paid by or through the financial institution, vendor, or such creditor.

(b) A policy of insurance conforming to the provisions of this section is not subject to the provisions of Section 10209 or 10213.
An act to amend and repeal Section 25179.7 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to hazardous waste, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor April 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State April 8, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25179.7 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25179.7. (a) The department may extend the implementation date after which the land disposal of a hazardous waste is prohibited, pursuant to Section 25179.6, for a specific hazardous waste which meets the following requirements:

(1) The hazardous waste has not been restricted or prohibited by the Environmental Protection Agency pursuant to Section 3004 of the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976, as amended (42 U.S.C. Sec. 6924), or the hazardous waste has been granted a variance by the Environmental Protection Agency pursuant to paragraph (2) of subsection (h) of Section 6924 of Title 42 of the United States Code.

(2) Recycling and treatment capacity to process substantially all of the specific hazardous waste to meet the treatment standards adopted pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 25179.6 will not be provided at the site of generation or at a commercial offsite hazardous waste facility in the state.

(b) The department shall establish a date pursuant to subdivision (a) based upon the earliest date on which the department projects that adequate recycling and treatment capacity will be available, but not later than two years following the date the prohibition on land disposal of the waste would otherwise be implemented.

(c) In addition to the extension specified in subdivision (a), the implementation date of a treatment standard adopted by the department pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 25179.6 is extended to January 1, 1993, and the hazardous waste subject to that treatment standard is exempt from the land disposal prohibitions specified in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 25179.6 from the effective date of the act amending this section until January 1, 1993, if the hazardous waste subject to that treatment standard meets both of the following requirements, as determined by the department:

(1) The hazardous waste meets one of the following:

(A) The hazardous waste has not been restricted or prohibited by the Environmental Protection Agency pursuant to Section 3004 of the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976, as amended (42 U.S.C. Sec. 6924) and the implementation date of the treatment standard adopted by the department for that hazardous waste was extended by the department to May 8, 1992, pursuant to subdivision (a).

(B) The hazardous waste has been granted a variance by the Environmental Protection Agency pursuant to paragraph (2) of subsection (h) of Section 6924 of Title 42 of the United States Code.

(2) Sufficient capacity to treat substantially all of that type of hazardous waste in the state, in accordance with the treatment standards adopted by the department pursuant to Section 25179.6, is not available, on or before May 8, 1992, at the site of generation or at a commercial on-site hazardous waste facility in the state.

(d) On or before September 1, 1992, the department shall identify both of the following:

(1) The types of hazardous waste subject to the exemption provided by subdivision (c).

(2) The in-state treatment capacity which is needed to be provided by January 1, 1993, to treat the hazardous waste granted the exemption.

(e) During the period when a hazardous waste is exempted pursuant to subdivision (c), each generator of that hazardous waste shall submit a summary report to the department describing the generator’s efforts to prevent or reduce the generation of that hazardous waste. The report shall include a schedule for implementing technically feasible and economically practicable source reduction measures for that exempted hazardous waste.

(f) The identification of types of hazardous waste pursuant to subdivision (d) is not subject to the requirements of Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(g) This section shall remain in effect until January 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute which is enacted on or before January 1, 1993, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to implement the treatment standards for hazardous waste only when sufficient treatment capacity in the state is available to meet those standards, thereby protecting public health and safety and the environment, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 34

An act to add Sections 14088.85 and 14133.85 to the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to Medi-Cal, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

(b) Primary care providers contracted with pursuant to this section may provide services exclusively to Medi-Cal eligible persons infected with HIV.

(c) Capitation payment rates for primary care providers under this section shall be calculated based on the equivalent fee-for-service costs of providing care to HIV infected patients rather than on the equivalent fee-for-service cost of providing care to all Medi-Cal patients.

SEC. 2. Section 14133.85 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14133.85. (a) (1) Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision, prior authorization shall not be required for hospice services.

(2) Paragraph (1) shall not apply to any admission which violates federal law.

(b) Prior authorization shall be required for inpatient hospice services.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to ensure the application of this act for the entire 1991–92 fiscal year, and to provide necessary health care benefits to eligible individuals at the earliest possible time, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.
An act to add Section 1596.866 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to child day care.

[Approved by Governor April 20, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State April 20, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1596.866 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1596.866. (a) In addition to any other required training, at least one director or teacher at each child day care facility, other than a family day care home, and each licensed family day care home provider shall have at least 15 hours of training on preventative health practices. The training shall include a minimum of four hours of pediatric cardiopulmonary resuscitation, a minimum of eight hours of pediatric first aid, a minimum of three hours in preventative health practices and any additional training required to renew a pediatric cardiopulmonary resuscitation card or a pediatric basic life support card, and a pediatric first aid card required by subdivision (f). Training in preventative health practices shall include one or more of the following:

(1) Control of infectious diseases, including immunizations.
(2) Training in childhood injury prevention.
(3) Sanitary food handling.
(4) Nutrition.
(5) Emergency preparedness and evacuation.

(b) The child day care facility director shall ensure that at least one staff member currently trained in pediatric first aid and cardiopulmonary resuscitation shall be available at all times when children are present at the facility. Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to require, in the event of an emergency, additional staff members, who are available when children are present at the facility, to be currently trained in first aid and cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

(c) All personnel described in subdivision (a) shall complete health training on or before January 1, 1995, and completion of the health training shall be a condition of licensure or relicensure. For licenses issued or subject to renewal after January 1, 1995, the director shall issue a provisional license for applicants and licensees who are not in compliance with this section once the director determines a provisional license may be issued pursuant to Section 1596.84. Notwithstanding Section 1596.84, this provisional license shall expire 90 days after the date of issuance and cannot be extended. A license or renewal shall be denied if the requirements of this section are not met by the expiration of the provisional license.

(d) Completion of the training required pursuant to subdivision
(a) shall be demonstrated, upon request of the licensing agency, by the following:

(1) A current pediatric cardiopulmonary resuscitation card issued by the American Red Cross or pediatric basic life support card issued by the American Heart Association.

(3) A certificate of completion of a course or courses in preventative health practices as defined in subdivision (a) or certified copies of transcripts that identify the number of hours and the specific course or courses taken for training in preventative health practices as defined in subdivision (a).

(e) Any training required in order to obtain a card or certificate required pursuant to subdivision (d) shall be given by a certified or credentialed instructor employed by an agency, department, or organization offering this training, including, but not limited to, the American Red Cross, the American Heart Association, a fire department, a health department, or an accredited postsecondary institution. This training shall not be provided by a home study course. This training may be provided through on-the-job training, workshops, or classes.

(f) All personnel described in subdivision (a) shall maintain a current, unexpired pediatric cardiopulmonary resuscitation card or pediatric basic life support card, and a pediatric first aid card.

(g) The department shall, on or before July 1, 1992, adopt regulations to implement this section. Where appropriate and necessary, the department may incorporate materials and guidelines from the California Child Care Health Project Advisory Committee.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.
An act to add Section 4800.11 to the Civil Code, relating to family law.

[Approved by Governor April 20, 1992 Filed with Secretary of State April 20, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4800.11 is added to the Civil Code, to read: 4800.11. (a) The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

1. The State of California has a strong policy of ensuring the division of community and quasi-community property in the dissolution of a marriage as set forth in Section 4800, and of providing for fair and sufficient child and spousal support awards. These policy goals can only be implemented with full disclosure of community, quasi-community, and separate assets, liabilities, income and expenses, as provided for in Section 4800.10, and decisions freely and knowingly made.

2. It occasionally happens that the division of property or the award of support, whether made as a result of agreement or trial, are inequitable when made due to the nondisclosure or other misconduct of one of the parties.

3. The public policy of assuring finality of judgments must be balanced against the public interest in ensuring proper division of marital property, in ensuring sufficient support awards, and in deterring misconduct.

4. The law governing the circumstances under which a judgment can be set aside, after the time for relief under Section 473 of the Code of Civil Procedure has passed, has been the subject of considerable confusion which has led to increased litigation and unpredictable and inconsistent decisions at the trial and appellate levels.

(b) In actions under the Family Law Act, the court may, upon such terms as may be just, relieve a spouse from a judgment, or any part or parts thereof, adjudicating support or division of property, after the six-month time limit of Section 473 of the Code of Civil Procedure has run, based upon the grounds, and within the time limits, set forth in this section.

(c) In all proceedings under this section, before granting relief, the court shall find that the facts alleged as the grounds for relief materially affected the original outcome and that the moving party would materially benefit from the granting of the relief.

(d) The grounds and time limits for a motion to set aside a judgment, or any part or parts thereof, shall be governed by this section and shall be one of the following:

1. Actual fraud where the defrauded party was kept in ignorance or in some other manner, other than his or her own lack of care or attention, was fraudulently prevented from fully participating in the proceeding. Motions based upon fraud shall be brought within one year of the date on which the complaining party either did discover, or should have discovered, the fraud.

(2) Perjury in the declarations of disclosures required under Section 4800.10. Motions based upon perjury shall be brought within one year of the date on which the complaining party either did discover, or should have discovered, the perjury.

(3) Duress. Motions based upon duress shall be brought within two years from the date of entry of judgment.

(4) Mental incapacity. Motions based upon mental incapacity shall be brought within two years from the date of entry of judgment.

(5) As to stipulated or uncontested judgments or that part of a judgment stipulated to by the parties, mistake, either mutual or unilateral, whether mistake of law or mistake of fact. Motions based upon mistake shall be brought within one year of the date of entry of judgment.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, or any other law, a judgment may not be set aside simply because the court finds that it was inequitable when made, nor simply because subsequent circumstances caused the division of assets or liabilities to become inequitable, or the support to become inadequate.

(f) The negligence of an attorney shall not be imputed to a client to bar an order setting aside a judgment, unless the court finds that the client knew or should have known, of the attorney's negligence and unreasonably failed to protect himself or herself.

(g) When ruling on a motion to set aside a judgment, the court shall set aside only those provisions materially affected by the circumstances leading to the court's decision to grant relief. However, the court shall have the discretion to set aside the entire judgment, if necessary, for equitable considerations.

(h) As to assets or liabilities for which a judgment or part of a judgment is set aside, the date of valuation shall be subject to equitable considerations. The court shall equally divide the asset or liability, unless the court finds upon good cause shown that the interests of justice require an unequal division.

(i) As to motions filed under this section, if a timely request is made, the court shall render a statement of decision where the court has resolved controverted factual evidence.

(j) Nothing in this section prohibits a party from seeking relief under Section 4353.

(k) Nothing in this section changes existing law with respect to contract remedies where the contract has not been merged or incorporated into a judgment.

(l) Nothing in this section is intended to restrict a family law court from acting as a court of equity.

(m) Nothing in this section is intended to limit existing law with respect to the modification or enforcement of support orders.

(n) This section shall be applicable to judgments entered on or after January 1, 1993.

SEC. 2. This act shall become operative only if Assembly Bill 1437 of the 1991–92 Regular Session is enacted and adds Section 4800.10 to the Civil Code, in which case it shall become operative at the same time as that bill.

CHAPTER 37

An act to add Section 4800.10 to the Civil Code, relating to family law.

[Approved by Governor April 20, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State April 20, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4800.10 is added to the Civil Code, to read: 4800.10. (a) The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

It is the policy of the State of California (1) to marshal, preserve, and protect community and quasi-community assets and liabilities that exist at the date of separation so as to avoid dissipation of the community estate prior to distribution, (2) to ensure fair and sufficient child and spousal support awards, and (3) to achieve a division of community and quasi-community assets and liabilities upon the dissolution of marriage as provided for under California law.

Sound public policy further favors the reduction of the adversarial nature of marital dissolution and the attendant costs by fostering full disclosure and cooperative discovery.

In order to promote this public policy, a full and accurate disclosure of all assets and liabilities in which one or both parties have or may have an interest must be made in the early stages of the dissolution of marriage action, regardless of the characterization as community or separate, together with a disclosure of all income and expenses of the parties. Moreover, each party has a continuing duty to update and augment that disclosure so that at the time the parties enter into an agreement for the resolution of any of these issues, or at the time of trial on these issues, each party will have as full and complete knowledge of the relevant underlying facts as is reasonably possible under the circumstances of the case.

(b) From the date of separation to the date of the distribution of the community asset or liability in question, each party shall be subject to the standards set forth in Section 5103, as to the following activities:

(1) The accurate and complete disclosure of all assets and liabilities in which the party has or may have an interest or obligation and all current earnings, accumulations, and expenses.

(2) The accurate and complete written disclosure of any investment opportunity that presents itself after the date of separation, but which results directly from any activity, involvement, or investment of either spouse from the date of marriage to the date of separation, inclusive. The written disclosure shall be made in sufficient time for the other spouse to make an informed decision as to whether he or she desires to participate in the investment opportunity.

In the event of nondisclosure of such an investment opportunity, the division of any gain resulting from that investment opportunity shall be governed by the standard set forth in Section 4353.

(3) The operation or management of a business or an interest in a business in which the community may have an interest.

(c) In order to provide full and accurate disclosure of all assets and liabilities in which one or both parties may have an interest, each party to the dissolution action shall serve upon the other a preliminary declaration of disclosure and a final declaration of disclosure.

(1) (A) Except by court order upon good cause or by stipulation of the parties, within 60 days of service of the petition for dissolution of marriage, each party shall serve upon the other a preliminary declaration of disclosure, executed under penalty of perjury upon a form prescribed by the Judicial Council. The commission of perjury on the preliminary declaration of disclosure may be grounds for setting aside the judgment, or any part or parts thereof, pursuant to Section 4800.11, in addition to any and all other remedies, civil or criminal, that otherwise are available under existing law for the commission of perjury. The preliminary declaration of disclosure shall not be filed with the court, except upon court order. The parties may agree in writing to accelerate or delay the time in which to exchange the preliminary declaration of disclosure.

(B) The preliminary declaration of disclosure shall set forth with sufficient particularity which a person of reasonable and ordinary intelligence can ascertain, the identity of all assets in which the declarant has or may have an interest and all liabilities for which the declarant is or may be liable, regardless of the characterization of the asset or liability as community, quasi-community, or separate. The declarant shall set forth his or her percentage of ownership in each asset and percentage of obligation for each liability where property is not solely owned by one or both of the parties to the dissolution action and may set forth his or her characterization of each asset or liability. Along with the preliminary declaration of disclosure, each party shall provide the other with a completed income and expense declaration unless an income and expense declaration has already been provided and is current and valid. A party shall be permitted to amend his or her preliminary declaration of disclosure without leave of the court.

(2) Prior to the time the parties enter into an agreement for the resolution of property or support issues other than pendente lite support, or, in the event the case goes to trial, no later than 30 days before the first trial date is assigned, each party shall file and serve upon the other a final declaration of disclosure and a current income and expense declaration, executed under penalty of perjury upon a form prescribed by the Judicial Council. The commission of perjury on the final declaration of disclosure may be grounds for setting aside the judgment, or any part or parts thereof, pursuant to Section 4800.11, in addition to any and all other remedies, civil or criminal, that otherwise are available under existing law for the commission of perjury. Unless it has already been filed pursuant to the foregoing, the final declaration of disclosure shall be filed with the court at the time of the filing of the judgment. All of the following information shall be included in the final declaration of disclosure:

(A) All material facts and information regarding the characterization of all assets and liabilities.

(B) All material facts and information regarding the valuation of all assets which are contended to be community or in which it is contended the community has an interest.

(C) All material facts and information regarding the amounts of all obligations which are contended to be community obligations or in which it is contended the community has liability.

(D) All material facts and information regarding the earnings, accumulations, and expenses of each party which have been set forth in the income and expense declaration. An updated income and expense declaration shall be served and filed at this time unless a current income and expense declaration is on file.

(d) No agreement shall be enforceable, and no judgment shall be entered, with respect to the parties' property rights without each party having executed and filed with the court a copy of the final declaration of disclosure, unless the court finds that denial of entry of judgment would unfairly prejudice a party who has complied with the disclosure requirements of this section and who has requested entry of judgment, or the court otherwise finds that the interests of justice would not be served if judgment were not entered.

(e) In the event that one party fails to exchange and serve upon the other party either a preliminary or a final declaration of disclosure pursuant to this section, or fails to provide the information in the respective declaration of disclosure with sufficient particularity, and if the other party has served the respective declaration of disclosure on the noncomplying party, the complying party shall, within a reasonable time, request preparation of the appropriate declaration of disclosure or further particularity. In the event the noncomplying party fails to comply, the complying party may do either or both of the following:

(1) File a motion to compel a further response.

(2) File a motion for an order preventing the noncomplying party from presenting evidence on issues that should have been covered in the declaration of disclosure.

(f) In the event of a party's failure to comply with any provision of this section the court shall, in addition to any other remedy provided by law, order the noncomplying party to pay to the complying party any and all reasonable attorney’s fees, expert fees, and any other costs incurred as a result of the failure to comply with any provision of this section.

(g) At any time during the proceedings, the court has the authority, upon application of a party and upon good cause, to order the liquidation of community or quasi-community assets so as to avoid unreasonable market or investment risks, given the relative nature, scope, and extent of the community estate. However, in no event shall the court grant the application unless, as provided in this section, the appropriate declaration of disclosure has been served by the moving party.

(h) Unless the context otherwise requires, the following definitions apply to this section:

1. "Asset" includes, but is not limited to, any real or personal property of any nature, whether tangible or intangible.
2. "Liability" includes, but is not limited to, any debt or obligation, whether currently existing or contingent.
3. "Earnings and accumulations" includes, but is not limited to, wages, salary, net rents, issues, profits, and business perquisites.
4. "Expenses" includes, but is not limited to, all personal living expenses, but shall not include business related expenses.

(i) This section shall be applicable to any proceeding commenced on or after January 1, 1993.

SEC. 2. This act shall become operative only if Assembly Bill 1396 of the 1991–92 Regular Session is enacted and adds Section 4800.11 to the Civil Code, in which case it shall become operative at the same time as that bill.

CHAPTER 41

An act to amend Section 14581.5 of the Public Resources Code, relating to beverage containers.

[Approved by Governor April 20, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State April 20, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14581.5 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

14581.5. (a) The department shall expend the funds in the Glass Processing Fee Account to pay the processing fee for redeemed glass beverage containers to each processor, as specified in subdivision (c) of Section 14575. The processor shall pay the recycling center that portion of the processing fee representing the actual cost and financial return incurred by the recycling center, as specified in subdivision (c) of Section 14573.5.

(b) On or before January 1, 1991, or the earliest practicable date thereafter, the department shall establish a market development program for users and sellers of cullet. The department shall establish the market development program in accordance with the following criteria:

(1) Within 45 days after receiving a request for payment, the department shall pay a market development payment to a container manufacturer who purchases cullet from certified processors and who uses cullet in the manufacture of beverage containers, if the container manufacturer provides proof to the department of the amount of the cullet purchased, in tons, the identity of the certified processor from whom the cullet was purchased, the percentage use of cullet in the manufacture of beverage containers, and any other documentation that the department may require. The container manufacturer shall also provide an affidavit from the processor attesting to the number of tons sold to the container manufacturer and the date of delivery of the cullet.

(2) Within 45 days after receiving a request for payment, the department shall pay a market development payment to a processor who provides satisfactory proof to the department that the processor sold the cullet to a willing purchaser, other than a container manufacturer, who will reuse the cullet. For purposes of this paragraph, "satisfactory proof" means a shipping report showing the amount of cullet sold in tons, and an affidavit which is from the processor that states that the cullet will be reused, which describes the anticipated end use, and which contains any other documentation that the department may require.

(3) The department shall not pay a market development payment for any cullet which is, or is likely to be, disposed of by landfill. The department may pay a market development payment only for cullet derived from material previously sold to consumers in this state.

(4) Any person who claims a market development payment for cullet which is ineligible for a payment is in violation of this division.

(c) In determining the amount of the market development payment, the department shall consider all of the following:

(1) The anticipated amount of excess funds available in the Glass Processing Fee Account in the coming quarter.

(2) Current scrap values.

(3) The amount of the processing fee then in effect.

(4) Recycling and redemption rates for glass.

(d) The department shall determine the amount of the market development payment on or before January 1 and July 1 of each year, based on the tonnage of cullet sold or purchased. The determination made on or before January 1 shall be paid from January 1 to June 30, inclusive, and the determination made on or before July 1 shall be paid from July 1 to December 31, inclusive. If there are insufficient funds in the Glass Processing Fee Account to make anticipated payments, the department may, in its sole discretion, terminate the market development program or reduce the payment amount until adequate funds are restored to the Glass Processing Fee Account. To avoid potential stockpiling of glass cullet, the department may determine not to publish or otherwise announce the amount of the market development payment in advance.

(e) (1) The establishment of the market development program, including the determination of the market development payment, and the analysis made pursuant to subdivision (c), is exempt from the requirements concerning the adoption of regulations in Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(2) If the department determines that it is necessary to adopt, amend, or repeal regulations to implement this section and Section 14575, the regulations shall be adopted as emergency regulations and are exempt from subdivision (c) of Section 14536. The Office of Administrative Law shall consider these regulations to be necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and the general welfare for purposes of Section 11349.6 of the Government Code. Notwithstanding subdivision (e) of Section 11346.1 of the Government Code, the emergency regulations adopted or amended pursuant to this section and Section 14575 shall be repealed 180 days after the regulations' effective date, unless the department complies with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(f) If insufficient money is available in the Glass Processing Fee Account to initially fund the market development program at a level determined by the department to be necessary to accomplish the purposes of this section, the department may expend up to fifteen million dollars ($15,000,000) from the Redemption Account from January 1, 1991, to December 31, 1991, inclusive, for purposes of initially funding the market development program. The department shall repay the amount expended from the Redemption Account on or before June 30, 1994, with interest at the Pooled Money Investment Fund rate from the funds in the Glass Processing Fee Account.

(g) The department shall develop procedures for reducing processing fee payments for beverage manufacturers based on projected tonnage of cullet utilized, and reducing the subsequent market development payments paid by container manufacturers providing containers to beverage manufacturers.
An act to amend Sections 11755, 11780, 11862, 11987, and 11998.2 of, and to repeal Section 11983.4 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to alcohol and drug use.

9. The statewide alcohol and drug treatment program distribution and the fiscal impact of alcohol and drug problems upon the state.

Providers of publicly funded services or services licensed by the department to clients-participants shall report data in a manner, format, and under a schedule prescribed by the department.

(p) Issue a report annually, which portrays the drugs abused, populations affected, user characteristics, crime-related costs, socioeconomic costs, and other related information deemed necessary in providing a problem profile of alcohol and drug abuse in the state.

SEC. 2. Section 11780 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11780. (a) There is a State Advisory Board on Alcohol-Related Problems to the department which shall consist of 15 members, of which five members shall be appointed by the Governor, five members by the Senate Rules Committee, and five members by the Speaker of the Assembly.

(b) The members shall be appointed for terms that commence on January 1, 1976. Of the members first appointed by the Governor, the Senate Rules Committee, and the Speaker, two out of each five appointments, as selected by the appointing power, shall hold office for three years, two out of each five, as selected by the appointing power, shall hold office for two years, and one out of each five, as selected by the appointing power, shall hold office for one year. After these initial terms, each member shall be appointed for a term of three years. It is the intent of the Legislature that the appointing powers make appointments that include representatives from various economic, social, and occupational groups, and allow for geographic distribution throughout the state. No member of the board may be an employee or member of the board of directors of an organization which is a direct recipient of any state funds pursuant to a contract with a department, which shall include compensation for contracted services or membership on an advisory body or board of directors of such recipient organization. No spouse of any person described in the preceding sentence may be a member of the board.

(d) The board shall meet at least once every three months and may meet as often as required, as a full board or in committees, to implement this section. It is the intent of the Legislature that each member of the board learn about the elements of the alcohol program and the nature of alcohol problems in his or her county of residence in order to assist him or her in understanding the major policies to be examined by the board.
(j) The board shall submit an annual report to the department and Legislature in January of each year which describes its accomplishments and includes its recommendations regarding the department’s role in alleviating alcohol problems.

(k) The board shall review the annual state reports pursuant to subdivision (f) of Section 11998.2, and shall submit its comments and recommendations regarding the reports to the Director of Alcohol and Drug Programs.

Representatives from public and private drug prevention or treatment programs shall not comprise more than 33⅓ percent of the total membership. These members shall comply with existing conflict of interest laws when participating in the tasks and functions of the board.

(d) The board shall constitute the drug abuse prevention advisory council as described in federal Public Laws 92-255 and 94-237, as amended. In the interest of continuity relating to the functions of the board pursuant to subdivision (j), those members of the former Upon request of the chair of the board, the department shall respond in writing to the board regarding each of its recommendations.

(2) Periodically review drug abuse services in California.

(3) Recommend to the director rules, regulations, and standards for the administration of this division.

(4) Review the federal drug abuse plans and budgets, and all amendments thereto, review the annual state reports pursuant to subdivision (f) of Section 11998.2 and advise the director on the development of the reports and the system of priorities contained in the reports.

(5) Submit an annual report to the department and the Legislature in November of each year which describes its accomplishments and includes its recommendations regarding the department's role in alleviating drug problems.

(i) The department shall provide administrative, technical, and other personnel as may be necessary for the board's performance of its powers and duties.

(j) The department shall provide appropriate training to the board members relating to their charge so as to assure their understanding of the state drug program. It is the intent of the Legislature that each member of the board learn about the elements of the drug program and the nature of drug problems in his or her county of residence, to assist him or her in understanding the major policies to be examined by the board.

(k) This section shall remain in effect until December 31, 1994, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute which is chartered on or before September 30, 1994, deletes or extends that date.
SEC. 4. Section 11983.4 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.
SEC. 5. Section 11987 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11987. The state department shall, in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as other state agencies, develop and submit annually to the Department of Finance a program budget.

SEC. 6. Section 11998.2 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11998.2. (a) "Department," as used in this division, means the State Department of Alcohol and Drug Programs.

(b) The board of supervisors of each county is encouraged to prepare and adopt a county drug and alcohol abuse master plan, pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (f) of Section 11998.1, that addresses as many of the long-range goals set forth in Section 11998.1 as possible. It is the intent of the Legislature that every county master plan include quantitative outcome objectives that, at a minimum, measure progress in the areas of prevention, education, enforcement, and treatment. It is the intent of the Legislature that these objectives include measurements of:

(1) The reduction of arrests for driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol, or both.
(2) The reduction of alcohol and drug-related arrests.
(3) Increased public education on the dangers of substance abuse and the available prevention techniques including specific measurements of children, parents, and teachers who have received this education.
(4) The reduction of alcohol- and drug-related deaths and injuries.
(5) The increased number of persons successfully completing drug and alcohol abuse services.

If a county master plan is adopted, the board of supervisors or its designee shall, in conjunction with the county advisory boards as established pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (f) of Section 11998.1, annually assess the progress of the county in reaching its long-range goals.

(c) Every county or public or private agency within a county that applies for state or local assistance funds for drug and alcohol abuse efforts in their program, may address, to the extent possible, any long-range goals set forth in a county drug and alcohol abuse master plan established pursuant to subdivision (b), and funding priority may be given to those entities which address these goals within their respective programs.

(d) The Governor shall designate one state agency to act as the lead agency on all drug and alcohol abuse matters.

(e) Every state agency that contracts or grants money to local jurisdictions or programs for drug and alcohol abuse services shall require the submission and shall review the contents of an approved county drug and alcohol abuse master plan, to the extent a plan has been adopted pursuant to subdivision (b).

(f) On March 1, 1993, and annually thereafter, every state agency that offers drug and alcohol abuse services or financial assistance shall report to the Legislature on its efforts to achieve the master plan goals provided in Section 11998.1. Individual agencies may report separately or in combination with other state agencies.

(g) The department shall send copies of this division to all state-funded social service programs that provide drug and alcohol abuse services.

(h) The department shall maintain copies of every county drug and alcohol abuse master plan for review by other state agencies and the Legislature.

(i) The Governor shall designate one statewide resource center to coordinate efforts of other resource centers statewide and to coordinate with local government and assist in their preparation of drug and alcohol abuse master plans.

(j) The Senate Office of Research shall prepare, on or before June 30, 1989, a summary of drug and alcohol abuse laws for use by the Legislature, the department, and all other related state agencies in oversight of drug and alcohol abuse programs, and in evaluating the need for statutory changes. To the degree possible this summary shall be available to the public.

(k) Commencing June 30, 1989, the department shall maintain an annually updated listing of all drug and alcohol abuse programs provided or funded by the state. Every other state agency shall regularly provide the department with current information on programs they fund or provide.

(l) The Governor's Policy Council on Drug and Alcohol Abuse shall review and consider all of the goals contained in Section 11998.1.

(m) After January 1, 1992, the Auditor General shall audit the department to determine the state's progress and to the degree possible, the counties' progress toward meeting the master plan objectives set forth by this division. On or before January 1, 1993, the Auditor General shall report the findings resulting from these audits to the Legislature.

CHAPTER 43

An act to amend, repeal, and add Section 68115 of the Government Code, relating to crime, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 5, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State May 5, 1992]
The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 68115 of the Government Code is amended to read:

68115. When war, insurrection, pestilence, or other public calamity, or the danger thereof, or the destruction of or danger to the building appointed for holding the court, renders it necessary, or when a large influx of criminal cases resulting from a large number of arrests within a short period of time threatens the orderly operation of a court within a specified county or judicial district, the presiding judge, or if there is none, the sole judge of the superior, municipal or justice court, may request and the Chair of the Judicial Council may, notwithstanding any other provision of law, by order authorize the court to do one or more of the following:

(a) Hold sessions anywhere within the county.

(b) Transfer civil cases pending in the court to another court in the county which has jurisdiction of the subject matter.

(c) Transfer civil cases pending trial in the court to a court having jurisdiction of the subject matter in an adjacent county. No such transfer shall be made pursuant to this subdivision except with the consent of all parties to the case or upon a showing by a party that extreme or undue hardship would result unless the case is transferred for trial. Any civil case so transferred shall be integrated into the existing caseload of the court to which it is transferred pursuant to rules to be provided by the Judicial Council.

(d) Suspend subdivisions (d), (e), and (f) of Section 199 of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to competency to act as a juror when such suspension is necessary to obtain a sufficient number of jurors.

(e) After exhausting its own jury panel, draw jurors who reside within the judicial district from the jury panel of the superior court in the county, and thereafter, after exhausting that source, draw jurors from the remainder of the jury panel of the superior court in the county or from jury panels of any other municipal or justice court in the county.

(f) Extend the time period provided in Section 825 of the Penal Code within which a defendant charged with a felony offense must be taken before a magistrate from two days to not more than seven days.

(g) Extend the time period provided in Section 859b of the Penal Code for the holding of a preliminary examination from 10 days to not more than 15 days.

(h) Extend the time period provided in Section 1382 of the Penal Code within which the trial must be held by not more than 30 days, but the trial of a defendant in custody whose time is so extended shall be given precedence over all other cases.

SEC. 2. Section 68115 is added to the Government Code, to read:

68115. When war, insurrection, pestilence, or other public calamity, or the danger thereof, or the destruction of or danger to the building appointed for holding the court, renders it necessary, or when a large influx of criminal cases resulting from a large number of arrests within a short period of time threatens the orderly operation of a court within a specified county or judicial district, the presiding judge, or if there is none, the sole judge of the superior, mutual or justice court, may request and the Chair of the Judicial Council may, notwithstanding any other provision of law, by order authorize the court to do one or more of the following:

(a) Hold sessions anywhere within the county.

(b) Transfer civil cases pending in the court to another court in the county which has jurisdiction of the subject matter.

(c) Transfer civil cases pending trial in the court to a court having jurisdiction of the subject matter in an adjacent county. No such transfer shall be made pursuant to this subdivision except with the consent of all parties to the case or upon a showing by a party that extreme or undue hardship would result unless the case is transferred for trial. Any civil case so transferred shall be integrated into the existing caseload of the court to which it is transferred pursuant to rules to be provided by the Judicial Council.

(d) Suspend subdivisions (d), (e), and (f) of Section 199 of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to competency to act as a juror when such suspension is necessary to obtain a sufficient number of jurors.

(e) After exhausting its own jury panel, draw jurors who reside within the judicial district from the jury panel of the superior court in the county, and thereafter, after exhausting that source, draw jurors from the remainder of the jury panel of the superior court in the county or from jury panels of any other municipal or justice court in the county.

(f) Extend the time period provided in Section 859b of the Penal Code for the holding of a preliminary examination from 10 days to not more than 15 days.

(g) Extend the time period provided in Section 1382 of the Penal Code within which the trial must be held by not more than 30 days, but the trial of a defendant in custody whose time is so extended shall be given precedence over all other cases.

SEC. 3. Section 1 of this bill shall become operative on the effective date of this bill and shall remain in effect until June 1, 1992, at which time Section 1 is repealed and Section 2 of this bill shall become operative.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

The recent civil unrest and consequent state of emergency that was declared for the City and County of Los Angeles from and after April 30, 1992, resulted in the arrest of over 10,000 persons within a 72-hour period. The consequent danger from the unrest to buildings appointed for holding court sessions and the threat to the orderly operation of the courts in Los Angeles County hindered the processing of those arrested. Thus, in order to allow the courts to process the large number of persons arrested, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 44

An act to add and repeal Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1930) of Division 2.5 of the Streets and Highways Code, and to amend, repeal, and add Section 21716 of the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor May 5, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State May 6, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1930) is added to Division 2.5 of the Streets and Highways Code, to read:

CHAPTER 5. GOLF CART TRANSPORTATION PILOT PROGRAM

1930. It is the intent of the Legislature, in enacting this chapter, to authorize the establishment of a five-year pilot golf cart transportation system program for the City of Palm Desert. It is the further intent of the Legislature that this transportation system be designed and developed to best serve the functional commuting needs of the employee, student, businessperson, shopper, and sportsperson, to have the physical safety of the golf cart driver’s person and property as a major planning component, and to have the capacity to accommodate golf cart drivers of every legal age and range of skills.

1931. The following definitions apply to this chapter:
(a) “City” means the City of Palm Desert.
(b) “Golf cart” means an electric motor vehicle having not less than three wheels in contact with the ground and an unladen weight less than 1,300 pounds which is designed to be and is operated at not more than 15 miles per hour and is designed to carry golf equipment and not more than two persons, including the driver.
(c) “Golf cart lanes” means all publicly-owned facilities that provide for golf cart travel. These lanes are categorized as follows:
(1) Class I golf cart lanes, which provide a right-of-way completely separated from any highway designated for the exclusive use of golf carts, with cross traffic by other motorists minimized.
(2) Class II golf cart lanes, which provide a restricted right-of-way on a highway designated for the exclusive or semiexclusive use of golf carts with through travel by motor vehicles or pedestrians prohibited, but with vehicle parking and cross traffic by pedestrians and other motorists permitted.

(3) Class III golf cart lanes, which is a highway designated by signs or permanent markings which is shared with pedestrians and other motorists.

1932. (a) The city may, by ordinance or resolution, adopt a golf cart lane plan. No plan may be adopted which has not received a prior review and the comments of the appropriate transportation planning agency designated under subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 29532 of the Government Code.

(b) The plan shall include, but is not limited to, all of the following elements:

(1) Route selection, which shall include a finding that the route will accommodate golf carts without an adverse impact upon traffic safety, and will consider, among other things, the commuting needs of employees, businesspersons, shoppers, students, and golfers.

(2) Land use and population density and settlement patterns.

(3) Transportation interfacing, which shall include, but not be limited to, coordination with other modes of transportation so that a golf cart driver may employ multiple modes of transportation in reaching his or her destination.

(4) Citizen and community involvement in planning.

(5) Flexibility and coordination with long-range transportation planning.

(6) Local government involvement in planning.

(7) Provision for rest facilities, including, but not limited to, restrooms, drinking water, public telephones, and electrical energy for recharging golf cart batteries.

(8) Provision for parking facilities, including, but not limited to, golf cart parking in or near civic and public buildings, transit terminals, business districts, shopping centers, schools, parks and playgrounds, and other destination locations.

(c) No plan adopted pursuant to this section shall include the establishment of golf cart lanes along, or which cross, State Highway Route 111, except for crossings at intersections that are either controlled by traffic signals or are grade separated.

1933. If the city adopts a golf cart lane plan, it shall do both of the following:

(a) Establish minimum general design criteria for the development, planning, and construction of class I, class II, or class III golf cart lanes, including, but not limited to, the design speed of the facility, the space requirements of the golf cart, minimum widths and clearances, grade, radius of curvature, lane surface, lighting, drainage, and general safety. In addition, the city may establish mandatory minimum safety design criteria for the construction of golf cart lanes.

(b) In cooperation with the Department of Transportation, establish uniform specifications and symbols for signs, markers, and traffic control devices to control golf cart traffic; to warn of dangerous conditions, obstacles, or hazards; to designate the right-of-way as between golf carts and other vehicles; to state the nature and destination of the golf cart lane; to exclude unauthorized vehicles; and to warn pedestrians and motorists of the presence of golf cart traffic.

1934. The city may do the following:
(a) Acquire, by gift, purchase, or condemnation, real property, including easements or rights-of-way, to establish golf cart lanes.
(b) Establish golf cart lanes as authorized by this chapter.

1935. The city shall adopt all of the following as part of the golf cart lane plan:
(a) Minimum design criteria for electric golf carts, including, but not limited to, headlights, turn signals, safety belts, locking devices, mirrors, horns, windshields, brakes, brake lights, and other general safety devices.
(b) A permit process for golf carts that requires permitted golf carts to meet the minimum design criteria adopted pursuant to subdivision (a). The permit process shall include, but not be limited to, golf cart inspection prior to the issuance or renewal of a permit, permit posting, permit renewal, operator education, and other related matters.
(c) Minimum safety criteria for golf cart operators, including, but not limited to, requirements relating to financial responsibility, maintenance of golf carts in a safe condition, and the restriction of the operation of golf carts to certain hours.
(d) Restrictions that golf carts may only be operated on those highways identified in the plan, and that only those golf carts that have been retrofitted with the safety equipment specified in the plan may be operated on the approved highways. Any person operating a golf cart in violation of this subdivision is guilty of an infraction.

1936. On January 1, 1994, and on January 1, 1996, the city shall transmit a report to the Legislature concerning any accidents involving, or related to the operation of, golf carts participating in the pilot program, any violations of city ordinances involving golf carts, and a summary of any new actions taken by the city in the previous year concerning the pilot program.

1937. This chapter shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.
SEC. 2. Section 21716 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:
21716. Except as provided in Section 21115.1 and in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1930) of Division 2.5 of the Streets and Highways Code, no person shall operate a golf cart on any highway except in a speed zone of 25 miles per hour or less.
This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.
SEC. 3. Section 21716 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:
21716. Except as provided in Section 21115.1, no person shall operate a golf cart on any highway except in a speed zone of 25 miles... per hour or less.
This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

CHAPTER 45

An act to repeal Section 31460.1 of the Government Code, relating to public employees, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State May 11, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 31460.1 of the Government Code is repealed.
SEC. 2. Nothing in this act is intended to, or shall be construed to, affect the validity of any action taken by a county pursuant to Section 31460.1 of the Government Code, prior to the effective date of this act.
SEC. 3. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that:
(1) The County Employees Retirement Law has, since its original enactment in 1937 by Chapter 677 of the Statutes of 1937, conferred upon the county retirement boards the duty and power to determine which of the items of compensation paid to county employees who are members of the county retirement associations or systems would constitute "compensation earnable," which, in turn, generally determines the amounts of the retirement allowances of retiring members (see Guelfi v. Marin County Employees' Retirement Assn., 145 Cal. App. 3d 297 at pages 303, 305, and 307 fn.).
(2) It was in this setting that Chapter 142 of the Statutes of 1990 (Assembly Bill 3146 of the 1989-90 Regular Session) was enacted. That chapter added to the County Employees Retirement Law of 1937, Section 31460.1 of the Government Code. That section would apply to a county only if and when the board of supervisors elects to make the section applicable to the county. Section 31460.1 excludes from the term "compensation" employer payments made to, or on behalf of, their employees who have elected to participate in a flexible benefits program, where those payments reflect amounts which exceed their employees' salaries.
(3) Section 31460.1 has been erroneously construed as implicitly requiring counties maintaining retirement systems under the 1937 act to include in "compensation" those flexible benefits payments until the board of supervisors elect pursuant to that section to exclude those flexible benefits payments from "compensation."
(4) That interpretation was not intended by the Legislature when it enacted that section. Had that been the intent of the Legislature when it enacted Assembly Bill 3146, it would have been a substantial departure from the long-standing practice of the Legislature of not intruding into the county decisionmaking process regarding compensation determinations with respect to those county retirement systems (see Sections 31460 and following, Government Code).

(5) Moreover, had that been the intent of the Legislature when it enacted that section, any resulting increased costs to affected counties would have constituted state-reimbursable, state-mandated local program costs and Assembly Bill 3146 would have included in its text the determination of the Legislature of how the state should respond to the resulting state-mandated local program costs. Assembly Bill 3146, however, did not, in its text, contain any such legislative determination.

(6) It was the intent of Assembly Bill 3146 merely to accord to each county board of supervisors, at its option, the power either to preclude its county retirement board from including those flexible benefits payments in “compensation,” if the county retirement board had not previously taken such action, or to supersede any previous decision of their county retirement board to include those flexible benefits payments in “compensation.”

(7) In order that the source of misconstruction of legislative intent regarding the enactment of Section 31460.1 of the Government Code may be eliminated at the earliest possible time, and that any county actions taken on the basis of that misconstruction may be reversed or terminated at the earliest possible time, the Legislature finds that it is necessary to repeal Section 31460.1 of the Government Code.

(8) Any reversal or termination, on or after the effective date of this act, of county actions taken on the basis of misconstruction of the intent and meaning of Section 31460.1 of the Government Code would merely restrict county employees to those gains reasonably to be expected from their county retirement contracts and withhold unforeseen and windfall advantages which bear no relation to the fundamental theory and objective of the county retirement systems maintained pursuant to the County Employees Retirement Law of 1937 and would, therefore, not constitute an unconstitutional impairment of the county retirement contract (see Allen v. Board of Administration, 34 Cal. 3d 114, at pages 119-120, 122, and 124).

In order that the source of misconstruction of legislative intent regarding the enactment of Section 31460.1 of the Government Code may be eliminated at the earliest possible time through the repeal of that section, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.
CHAPTER 46

An act to amend the heading of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 4720) of Title 5 of Part 5 of Division 4 of, to repeal and add Sections 4720, 4721, and 4722 of, and to repeal Sections 246, 4720.1, 4720.2, 4723, 4724, 4725, 4727, 4728, 4728.5, 4729, and 4730 of, the Civil Code, relating to child support, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State May 11, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 246 of the Civil Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. The heading of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 4720) of Title 5 of Part 5 of Division 4 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

CHAPTER 2. STATEWIDE UNIFORM GUIDELINE

SEC. 3. Section 4720 of the Civil Code, as added by Section 10 of Chapter 1493 of the Statutes of 1990, is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 4720 of the Civil Code, as added by Section 11 of Chapter 1493 of the Statutes of 1990, is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 4720 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

4720. (a) (1) It is the intention of the Legislature to ensure that the State of California remains in compliance with federal regulations for child support guidelines. The Legislature therefore adopts the statewide uniform guideline set forth in Section 4721, to take effect on July 1, 1992.

(2) It is the intention of the Legislature that the courts shall adhere to the statewide uniform guideline adopted pursuant to Section 4721 and shall depart from this guideline only in the exceptional circumstances set forth in Section 4721.

(3) In implementing this guideline, the courts shall further adhere to the following principles:

(A) A parent's first and principal obligation is to support his or her minor children according to the parent's circumstances and station in life.

(B) Both parents are mutually responsible for the support of their children.

(C) This guideline takes into account each parent's actual income and level of responsibility for the children.

(D) Each parent should pay for the support of the children according to his or her ability.

(E) This guideline seeks to place the interests of children as the state's top priority.

(F) Children should share in the standard of living of both parents. Child support may therefore appropriately improve the standard of living of the custodial household to improve the lives of the children.

(G) Child support orders in cases in which both parents have high levels of custody of the children should reflect the increased costs of raising the children in two homes and should minimize significant disparities in the children's living standards in the two homes.

(H) The financial needs of the children should be met through private financial resources as much as possible.

(I) It is presumed that a parent having primary physical custody of the children contributes a significant portion of available resources for the support of the children.

(J) This guideline seeks to encourage fair and efficient settlements of conflicts between parents and seeks to minimize the need for litigation.

(K) This guideline is intended to be presumptively correct in all cases, and only under extraordinary circumstances should child support orders fall below the child support mandated by the guideline formula.

(L) Child support orders must ensure that children actually receive fair, timely, and sufficient support reflecting the state's high standard of living and high costs of raising children compared to other states.

(b) The Judicial Council shall periodically review the guideline established in Section 4721 to recommend to the Legislature appropriate revisions. The review shall include economic data on the cost of raising children and analysis of case data, gathered through sampling or other methods, on the actual application of the guideline after the guideline's operative date. The review shall also include analysis of guidelines and studies from other states, and other research and studies available to or undertaken by the Judicial Council. Any recommendations for revisions to the guideline established in Section 4721 shall be made to ensure that the guideline results in appropriate child support orders to limit deviations from the guideline, or otherwise to help ensure that the guideline is in compliance with federal law. The Judicial Council may also review and report on other matters, including, but not limited to, the treatment of the income of a subsequent spouse or nonmarital partner; the treatment of children from prior or subsequent relationships; the application of the guideline in a case where a payor parent has extraordinarily low or extraordinarily high income, or where each parent has primary physical custody of one or more of the children of the marriage; the benefits and limitations of a uniform statewide spousal support guideline and the interrelationship of that guideline with the state child support guideline; whether the use of gross or net income in the guideline is preferable; whether the guideline affects child custody litigation or the efficiency of the judicial process; and whether the various assumptions used in computer software used by some courts to calculate child support comport with state law and should be made available to parties and counsel. The initial review by the Judicial Council shall be submitted to the Legislature and to the State Department of Social Services on or before December 31, 1993, and subsequent reviews shall occur at least every four years thereafter unless federal law requires a different interval.

(c) In developing its recommendations, the Judicial Council shall consult with a broad cross-section of groups involved in child support issues, including, but not limited to, the following: custodial and noncustodial parents; representatives of established women's rights and fathers' rights groups; representatives of established organizations that advocate for the economic well-being of children; members of the judiciary, district attorney's offices, the Attorney General's office, and the State Department of Social Services; certified family law specialists; academicians specializing in family law; persons representing low-income parents; and persons representing recipients of assistance under the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program seeking child support services.

(d) In developing its recommendations, the Judicial Council shall seek public comment and shall be guided by the legislative intent that children share in the standard of living of both of their parents.

SEC. 6. Section 4720.1 of the Civil Code is repealed.

SEC. 7. Section 4720.2 of the Civil Code is repealed.

SEC. 8. Section 4721 of the Civil Code, as added by Section 14 of Chapter 1493 of the Statutes of 1990, is repealed.

SEC. 9. Section 4721 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

4721. (a) The statewide uniform guideline for determining child support orders is as follows:

\[ CS = K [HN - (H\%)(TN)] \]

(b) (1) The components of the formula are as follows:

(A) \( CS \) = child support amount.

(B) \( K \) = amount of income to be allocated for child support as set forth in paragraph (3).

(C) \( HN \) = high earner's net monthly disposable income.

(D) \( H\% \) = percentage of time that high earner has or will have physical custody of the children compared to the other parent.

(E) \( TN \) = total net monthly disposable income of both parties.

(2) To compute net disposable income, see subdivision (g).

(3) \( K \) (amount of income allocated for child support) equals one plus \( H\% \) (if \( H\% \) is less than or equal to 50 percent) or two minus \( H\% \) (if \( H\% \) is greater than 50 percent) times the following fraction:
Total Net Disposable Income Per Month

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>K</th>
<th></th>
</tr> </thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>$0–800</td>
<td>.20 + TN/16,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>$801–7,000</td>
<td>.25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>$7,001–10,000</td>
<td>.20 + 350/TN</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>$10,000–20,000</td>
<td>.16 + 400/TN</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Over $20,000</td>
<td>.12 + 800/TN</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

For example, if H% equals 20% and the total monthly net disposable income of the parents is $1,000, $K = (1 + .20) x .25, or .30. If H% equals 80% and the total monthly net disposable income of the parents is $1,000, $K = (2 - .80) x .25, or .30.

(4) For more than one child, multiply CS by:

(5) If the amount calculated under the formula results in a positive number, the higher earner shall pay that amount to the lower earner. If the amount calculated under the formula results in a negative number, the lower earner shall pay the absolute value of that amount to the higher earner.

(6) If the children who are the subject of the child support order are receiving assistance under the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program, H% shall be set at zero in the formula.

(7) In any default proceeding where proof is by affidavit pursuant to Section 4511, or in any proceeding for child support in which a party fails to appear after being duly noticed, H% shall be set at zero in the formula for the noncustodial parent where there is no evidence presented demonstrating the percentage of time that the noncustodial parent has physical custody of the children.

(8) Unless the court orders otherwise, the order for child support shall allocate the support amount so that the amount of support for the youngest child is the amount of support for one child, and the amount for the next youngest child is the difference between that amount and the amount for two children, with similar allocations for additional children.

(c) The court shall state in writing or on the record the following information used in determining the guideline amount under this chapter:

(1) The net monthly disposable income of each parent.
(2) The actual federal income tax filing status of each parent (for example, single, married, married filing separately, or head of household and number of exemptions).

(3) Deductions from gross income for each parent.

(4) The percentage of time pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) that each parent has primary physical custody of the children compared to the other parent.

(5) The amount of support that would be received under the formula.

(6) If any rebuttal factors are found under subdivision (e), the reasons supporting the deductions, the documentation of the underlying facts and circumstances, the dollar amount of the rebuttal factor, and the duration that the rebuttal factor shall be in effect.

(7) A finding that the revised amount is in the best interests of the children.

(8) Any special circumstances found under paragraph (6) of subdivision (e).

(9) Any other findings required by federal law.

(d) There shall be a rebuttable presumption affecting the burden of proof that the amount of child support established by the formula set forth in subdivision (a) is the correct amount of child support to be ordered.

(e) The presumption of subdivision (d) may be rebutted by admissible evidence showing that application of the formula would be unjust or inappropriate in the particular case, consistent with the principles set forth in Section 4720, because one or more of the following factors is found to be applicable by a preponderance of the evidence, and the court finds in writing or on the record pursuant to subdivision (c) that the revised amount is in the best interests of the children:

(1) The parties have stipulated to a different amount of child support under subdivision (m).

(2) The sale of the family residence is deferred pursuant to Section 4700.10 and the rental value of the family residence in which the children reside exceeds the mortgage payments, homeowner’s insurance, and property taxes. The amount of any adjustment pursuant to this paragraph shall not be greater than the excess amount.

(3) A parent’s subsequent spouse or nonmarital partner has income that helps meet that parent’s basic living expenses, thus increasing the parent’s disposable income available to spend on the children.

(4) The parent being ordered to pay child support has an extraordinarily high income and the amount determined under the formula would exceed the needs of the children.

(5) A party is not contributing to the needs of the children at a level commensurate with that party’s custodial time.

(6) Application of the formula would be unjust or inappropriate due to extraordinary circumstances in the particular case. These extraordinary circumstances include, but are not limited to, the following: cases in which the parents have different custody arrangements for different children; cases in which both parents have substantially equal custody of the children and one parent has a much lower or higher percentage of income used for housing than the other parent; and cases in which the children have special medical or other needs that could require child support that would be greater than the formula amount.

(f) (1) The annual gross income of each parent means income from whatever source derived, except as specified in paragraph (3) and includes, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(A) Income such as commissions, salaries, royalties, wages, bonuses, rents, dividends, pensions, interest, trust income, annuities, workers' compensation benefits, unemployment insurance benefits, disability insurance benefits, social security benefits, and spousal support actually received from a person not a party to this order.

(B) Income from the proprietorship of a business, such as gross receipts from the business reduced by expenditures required for the operation of the business.

(C) In the discretion of the court, employee benefits or self-employment benefits, taking into consideration the benefit to the employee, any corresponding reduction in living expenses, and other relevant facts.

(2) The court may, in its discretion, consider the earning capacity of a parent in lieu of that parent's income, consistent with the best interests of the children.

(3) Annual gross income shall not include any income derived from child support payments actually received, and income derived from any public assistance program, eligibility for which is based on a determination of need. Child support received by a party for children from another relationship shall not be included as part of that party's gross or net income.

(g) The annual net disposable income of each parent shall be computed by deducting from his or her annual gross income the actual amounts attributable to the following items or other items permitted under this chapter:

(1) The state and federal income tax liability resulting from the parties' taxable income. Federal and state income tax deductions shall bear an accurate relationship to the tax status of the parties (that is, single, married, married filing separately, or head of household) and number of dependents. State and federal income taxes shall be those actually payable (not necessarily current withholding) after considering appropriate filing status, all available exclusions, deductions, and credits. Unless the parties stipulate otherwise, the tax effects of spousal support shall not be considered in determining the net disposable income of the parties for determining child support but shall be considered in determining spousal support consistent with Section 4801.

(2) Deductions attributed to the employee's contribution or the self-employed worker's contribution pursuant to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA), or an amount not to exceed that allowed under FICA for persons not subject to FICA, provided that the deducted amount is used to secure retirement or disability benefits for the parent.

(3) Deductions for mandatory union dues and retirement benefits, provided that they are required as a condition of employment.

(4) Deductions for health insurance or health plan premiums for the parent and for any children the parent has an obligation to support and deductions for state disability insurance premiums.

(5) Any child or spousal support actually being paid by the parent pursuant to a court order, or for the benefit of any person who is not a subject of the order to be established by the court. In the absence of a court order, any child support actually being paid, not to exceed the amount established by this guideline, for natural or adopted children of the parent not residing in that parent's home, who are not the subject of the order to be established by the court, and of whom the parent has a duty of support. No deduction shall be allowed under this subdivision unless the parent proves payment of the support.

(6) Job-related expenses, if allowed by the court after consideration of whether the expenses are necessary, the benefit to the employee, and any other relevant facts.

(7) A deduction for hardship, as defined by Section 4722 and applicable published appellate court decisions. The amount of the hardship shall not be deducted from the amount of child support but shall be deducted from the income of the party to whom it applies. In applying any hardship under subdivision (b) of Section 4722, the court shall use the formula provided for in that section and shall not use any local formula, in order to provide equity between competing child support orders.

(h) The annual net disposable income shall be divided by 12 to reflect the monthly net disposable income. If the monthly net disposable income figure does not accurately reflect the actual or prospective earnings of the parties at the time the determination of support is made, the court may adjust the amount appropriately.

(i) The amounts in subdivision (j), if ordered to be paid, are considered additional support for the children. If there needs to be an apportionment of expenses pursuant to subdivision (j), the basic child support obligation shall first be computed using the formula set forth in subdivision (a), as adjusted for any appropriate rebuttal factors in subdivision (e). Any additional child support required for expenses pursuant to subdivision (j) shall thereafter be ordered to be paid by the parents in proportion to their adjusted net disposable incomes. In cases where spousal support is required to be paid by one parent to the other, for purposes of allocating additional expenses pursuant to subdivision (j), the gross income of the parent paying spousal support shall be decreased by the amount of the spousal support paid and the gross income of the parent receiving the spousal support shall be increased by the amount of the spousal support received for so long as the spousal support order is in effect and is paid. For purposes of computing the adjusted net disposable income of the parent paying child support for allocating any additional expenses pursuant to subdivision (j), the net disposable income of the parent paying child support shall be reduced by the amount of any basic child support ordered to be paid under subdivision (a). However, the net disposable income of the parent receiving child support shall not be increased by any amount of child support received.

(j) (1) The court shall order as additional child support:
   (A) Child care costs related to employment or to reasonably necessary education or training for employment skills.
   (B) The reasonable uninsured health care costs for the children. There is a rebuttable presumption that the costs actually paid for the uninsured health care needs of the children are reasonable.

(2) The court may order as additional child support:
   (A) Costs related to the educational or other special needs of the children.
   (B) Travel expenses for visitation.

(k) Unless there is an assignment of rights pursuant to Section 11477 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, any payment ordered pursuant to subdivision (j) may be ordered paid directly to a provider of services.

(l) The court may adjust the child support order as appropriate to accommodate seasonal or fluctuating income of either parent.

(m) Unless prohibited by applicable federal law, the parties may stipulate to a child support amount subject to approval of the court. However, the court shall not approve a stipulated agreement unless the parties declare all of the following:

(1) They are fully informed of their rights concerning child support.
(2) The order is being agreed to without coercion or duress.
(3) The agreement is in the best interests of the children involved.
(4) The needs of the children will be adequately met by the stipulated amount.

(n) A stipulated agreement of child support is not valid unless either of the following occurs:

(1) The parties declare the right to support has not been assigned to the county pursuant to Section 11477 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and no public assistance application is pending.

(2) The district attorney has joined in the stipulation by signing it. The district attorney shall not stipulate to a child support order below the guideline amount if the children are receiving assistance under the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program, if an application for public assistance is pending, or if the parent receiving support has not consented to the order.

(o) If the parties to a stipulated agreement stipulate to a child support order below the amount established by this section, no change of circumstances need be demonstrated to obtain a modification of the child support order to the applicable guideline level or above.

(p) Orders and stipulations otherwise in compliance with this guideline may designate as "family support" an unallocated total sum for support of the spouse and any children without specifically labeling all or any portion as "child support" so long as the amount is adjusted to reflect the effect of additional deductibility. The amount of the order shall be adjusted to maximize the tax benefits for both parents.

(q) It is the intent of the Legislature that the uniform guideline provided by this chapter shall be reviewed by the Legislature at least every four years and shall be revised by the Legislature as appropriate to ensure that its application results in the determination of appropriate child support amounts. The review shall include consideration of changes required by applicable federal laws and regulations or recommended from time to time by the Judicial Council pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 4720.

(r) The Judicial Council may develop model worksheets to assist parties in determining the approximate amount of child support due under the formula set forth in subdivision (a) and the approximate percentage of time each parent has custody of the children, and a form to assist the courts in making the findings and orders required by this chapter.

(s) The establishment of this guideline constitutes a change of circumstances for the purpose of any modification of child support order entered prior to this guideline’s operative date.

SEC. 10. Section 4722 of the Civil Code, as added by Section 16 of Chapter 1493 of the Statutes of 1990, is repealed.

SEC. 11. Section 4722 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

4722. If a parent is experiencing extreme financial hardship due to justifiable expenses resulting from the circumstances enumerated in this section, upon the request of a party, the court may allow such income deductions under Section 4721 as may be necessary to accommodate those circumstances.

(a) Circumstances evidencing hardship include the extraordinary health expenses for which the parent is financially responsible, and uninsured catastrophic losses.

(b) Circumstances evidencing hardship also include the minimum basic living expenses of either parent’s natural or adopted children for whom the parent has the obligation to support from other marriages or relationships who reside with the parent. The court, upon its own motion or upon the request of a party, may allow such income deductions as necessary to accommodate these expenses after making the deductions allowable under subdivision (a). The maximum hardship deduction for each child who resides with the parent may be equal, but shall not exceed, the support awarded each child subject to the order. For purposes of calculating this deduction, the amount of support per child established by this guideline shall be the total amount ordered divided by the number of children and not the amount established under paragraph (8) of subdivision (b) of Section 4721. The maximum hardship deduction shall be calculated as follows:

\[ D = \frac{F \cdot N}{S + (F \cdot H)} \]

Where:
N = Parent's net disposable income prior to the deduction for hardship.
F = Factor .18 for one child, .27 for two children, .36 for three children, plus .04 more for each additional child over three children.
H = Number of children for whom a hardship deduction is being given.
S = Number of children for whom support is being ordered.
D = Maximum deduction per child.

The Judicial Council may develop tables in accordance with the above formula to reflect the maximum hardship deduction taking into consideration the parent's net disposable income before the hardship deduction, the number of children for whom the deduction is being given, and the number of children for whom the support award is being made.

(c) If deductions for hardship expenses are allowed, the court shall state in writing or on the record the reasons supporting the deductions, document the underlying facts and circumstances and the amount of deductions allowed. Whenever possible, the court shall specify the duration that any deduction shall be in effect.

(d) Upon considering whether to allow a deduction under this section, and in determining the amount of any such deduction, the court shall be guided by the goals set forth in the expression of legislative intent set forth in Section 4720.

CHAPTER 47

An act to add Sections 13627.1, 13627.2, and 13627.3 to the Water Code, relating to water.

[Approved by Governor May 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State May 11, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13627.1 is added to the Water Code, to read:

13627.1. (a) Any person who operates a wastewater treatment plant who does not hold a valid, unexpired certificate of the appropriate grade issued pursuant to this chapter is guilty of a misdemeanor and may be liable civilly in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) for each day of violation.

(b) Any person or entity that owns or operates a wastewater treatment plant that employs, or allows the employment of, any person as a wastewater treatment plant operator who does not hold a valid and unexpired certificate of the appropriate grade issued pursuant to this chapter is guilty of a misdemeanor and may be liable civilly in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) for each day of violation.

SEC. 2. Section 13627.2 is added to the Water Code, to read:

13627.2. (a) Any person or entity that contracts with the owner of a wastewater treatment plant to operate that plant shall register with the state board, and shall, within a year after the registration or the renewal of the registration, and annually thereafter, prepare and submit to the state board a report with all of the following information:

(1) The name and address of the person or entity.
(2) The name and address of the wastewater treatment plants which the person or entity operates, or has operated during the preceding year, and the name of the applicable regional board which oversees each wastewater treatment plant.
(3) The name and grade of each wastewater treatment plant operator employed at each plant.
(4) Other information which the state board requires.
(b) The state board shall, by regulation, prescribe the procedures, and requirements for, registration pursuant to subdivision (a).

(c) The state board may refuse to grant, and may suspend or revoke, any registration issued by the state board pursuant to this section for good cause, including, but not limited to, any of the following reasons:

1. The submission of false or misleading information on an application for registration.

2. Employment of a person to operate a wastewater treatment plant who does not hold a valid, unexpired certificate of the appropriate grade.

3. Willfully or negligently causing or allowing a violation of waste discharge requirements or permits issued pursuant to the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. Sec. 1251 et seq.)

4. Failure to meet the registration requirements prescribed by the state board pursuant to subdivision (b).

5. Failure to use reasonable care in the management or operation of the wastewater treatment plant.

(d) The state board shall conduct all proceedings relating to the refusal to grant, or the suspension or revocation of, registration pursuant to subdivision (c) in accordance with the rules adopted pursuant to Section 185.

(e) The state board shall establish a fee schedule to pay for its costs to implement this section.

(f) Any person or entity that fails to comply with subdivision (a) is guilty of a misdemeanor and may be civilly liable in an amount not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each day of the violation.

SEC. 3. Section 13627.3 is added to the Water Code, to read:

13627.3. The civil liability described in Section 13627.1 or 13627.2 may be administratively imposed in accordance with Article 2.5 (commencing with Section 13323) of Chapter 5, except that the executive director shall issue the complaint with review by the state board.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.
An act to amend Sections 8150.8 and 8754 of, to add and repeal Section 8305.8 of, and to repeal Section 8753 of, the Fish and Game Code, relating to fish, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State May 11, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8150.8 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

8150.8. Any sardine quota established by the department under Section 8150.7 shall be allocated in the following manner into two quotas, one for southern California and one for northern California, with the boundary division at San Simeon Point in San Luis Obispo County. (a) One-third of the quota shall be reserved for fishermen landing their catches north of San Simeon Point.

(b) Two-thirds of the quota shall be reserved for fishermen landing their catches south of San Simeon Point.

SEC. 2. Section 8305.8 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

8305.8. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in the mainland coastal waters from Palos Verdes Point in Los Angeles County to Dana Point in Orange County, it is unlawful to take abalone for commercial purposes.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1997, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1997, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 3. Section 8753 of the Fish and Game Code is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 8754 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

8754. In Districts 16, 17, 18, and 19, purse and round haul nets may be used, except that purse seines or ring nets may not be used in that portion of District 19 lying within three miles offshore from the line of the high-water mark along the coast of Orange County from sunrise Saturday to sunset Sunday from May 1 to September 10, inclusive.

Purse seine or ring nets may not be used from May 1 to September 10, inclusive, in the following portions of District 19:

(a) Within a two-mile radius of Dana Point.

(b) Within a two-mile radius of San Mateo Point.

(c) Within two miles offshore from the line of the high-water mark along that portion of the coast of Orange County lying between the northernmost bank of the mouth of the Santa Ana River and a point on that coast six miles south therefrom.
SEC. 5. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

In order for the changes to the sardine and squid fisheries in this act to be effective during the 1992 fishing season, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 49

An act to amend Section 11383 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to controlled substances.

[Approved by Governor May 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State May 11, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11383 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11383. (a) Any person who, with the intent to manufacture methamphetamine, possesses both methamphetamine and phenyl-2-propanone (phenylacetone) at the same time or who, with the intent to manufacture N-ethylamphetamine, possesses both ethylamine and phenyl-2-propanone (phenylacetone) at the same time, is guilty of a felony and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for two, four, or six years.

(b) Any person who, with the intent to manufacture phencycladine (PCP) or any of its analogs specified in paragraph (22) of subdivision (d) of Section 11054 or paragraph (3) of subdivision (e) of Section 11055, possesses at the same time any of the following combinations, or a combination product thereof, is guilty of a felony and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for two, four, or six years:

(1) Piperidine and cyclohexanone.
(2) Pyrrolidine and cyclohexanone.
(3) Morpholine and cyclohexanone.
(c) Any person who, with the intent to manufacture methamphetamine or any of its analogs specified in subdivision (d) of Section 11055, possesses ephedrine or pseudoephedrine, or any salts, isomers, or salts of isomers of ephedrine or pseudoephedrine, or who possesses a substance containing ephedrine or pseudoephedrine, or any salts, isomers, or salts of isomers of ephedrine or pseudoephedrine, or who possesses at the same time any of the following, or a combination product thereof, is guilty of a felony and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for two, four, or six years:

(1) Ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, norpseudoephedrine, N-methylephedrine, N-ethyllephedrine, N-methylpseudoephedrine, N-ethylpseudoephedrine, or phenylpropanolamine, plus hydriodic acid.

(2) Ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, norpseudoephedrine, N-methylephedrine, N-ethyllephedrine, N-methylpseudoephedrine, N-ethylpseudoephedrine, or phenylpropanolamine, thionyl chloride and hydrogen gas.

(3) Ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, norpseudoephedrine, N-methylephedrine, N-ethyllephedrine, N-methylpseudoephedrine, N-ethylpseudoephedrine, or phenylpropanolamine, plus phosphorus pentachloride and hydrogen gas.

(4) Ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, norpseudoephedrine, N-methylephedrine, N-ethyllephedrine, N-methylpseudoephedrine, N-ethylpseudoephedrine, chloroephedrine and chloropseudoephedrine, or phenylpropanolamine, plus any “reducing” agent.

(d) For purposes of this section, “reducing” means a chemical reaction in which hydrogen combines with another substance or in which oxygen is removed from a substance.

(e) For purposes of this section, possession of the optical, positional, or geometric isomer of any of the compounds listed in this section shall be deemed to be possession of the derivative substance.

(f) For purposes of this section, possession of immediate precursors sufficient for the manufacture of methylamine, ethylamine, phenyl-2-propanone, piperidine, cyclohexanone, pyrrolidine, morpholine, ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, norpseudoephedrine, N-methylephedrine, N-ethyllephedrine, phenylpropanolamine, hydriodic acid, thionyl chloride, or phosphorus pentachloride shall be deemed to be possession of such a derivative substance. Additionally, possession of any compound or mixture containing piperidine, cyclohexanone, pyrrolidine, or morpholine ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, norpseudoephedrine, N-methylephedrine, N-ethyllephedrine, phenylpropanolamine, hydriodic acid, thionyl chloride, or phosphorus pentachloride shall be deemed to be possession of the substance.

(g) Subdivisions (a), (b), (c), (e), and (f) do not apply to drug manufacturers licensed by this state or person authorized by regulation of the Board of Pharmacy to possess those substances or combinations of substances.
SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 50

An act to add Section 6143.5 to the Business and Professions Code, to amend Section 4700.11 of the Civil Code, to amend Section 903 of, and to repeal, add, and repeal Section 11350.6 of, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to family law, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State May 11, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6143.5 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6143.5. Any member, active or inactive, failing to pay any child support after it becomes due shall be subject to Section 11350.6 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

SEC. 2. Section 4700.11 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4700.11. (a) Any person with a court order for child support, the payments on which are more than 30 days in arrears, may file and then serve a notice of delinquency, as described in this section. Except as provided in subdivision (d), any amount of child support specified in a notice of delinquency that remains unpaid for more than 30 days after the notice of delinquency has been filed and served shall incur a penalty of 6 percent of the delinquent payment for each month that it remains unpaid, up to a maximum of 72 percent of the unpaid balance due.

(b) The notice of delinquency shall be signed under penalty of perjury by the support obligee; shall state the amount that the child support obligor is in arrears; shall set forth the installments of support due, the amounts, if any, that have been paid, and the balance due; and shall state that any unpaid installment of child support shall incur a penalty of 6 percent of the unpaid support per month until paid, to a maximum of 72 percent of the original amount of the unpaid support, unless the support arrearage is paid within 30 days of the date of service of the notice of delinquency.

(c) The notice of delinquency may be served personally or by certified mail or in any manner provided for service of summons.

(d) No penalties may be imposed pursuant to this section if, in the discretion of the court, each of the following conditions are met:
(1) Within a timely fashion after service of the notice of delinquency the support obligor files and serves a motion to determine arrearages and to show cause why the penalties provided in this section should not be imposed.
(2) At the hearing on the motion filed by the support obligor, the court finds that the support obligor has proved any of the following:
(A) The child support payments were not 30 days in arrears as of the date of service of the notice of delinquency and are not in arrears as of the date of the hearing.
(B) The support obligor suffered serious illness, disability, or unemployment which substantially impaired the ability of the support obligor to comply fully with the support order and the support obligor has made every possible effort to comply with the support order.
(C) The support obligor is a public employee and for reasons relating to fiscal difficulties of the employing entity the obligor has not received a paycheck for 30 or more days.
(D) It would not be in the interests of justice to impose a penalty.
(e) If the child support owed, or any arrearages, interest, or penalty remains unpaid more than 30 days after serving the notice of delinquency, the support obligee may file a motion to obtain a judgment on the amount owed, which shall be enforceable in any manner provided by law for the enforcement of judgments.
(f) At any hearing to set or modify the amount payable for the support of a minor child, the court shall not consider any penalties imposed under this section in determining the amount of current support to be paid.
(g) In the absence of a protective order prohibiting the support obligor from knowing the whereabouts of the child or children for whom support is payable, or otherwise excusing the requirements of this subdivision, the notice of delinquency shall include a current address and telephone number of all of the children for whom support is due, and if different from that of the support obligee, the address at which court papers may be served upon the support obligee.
(h) A subsequent notice of delinquency may be served and filed at any time. Child support arrearages and ongoing installments listed on subsequent notices shall state that they have been listed on a previous notice. Any penalty due under this section shall not be greater than 6 percent per month of the original amount of support arrearages or support installment, nor may the penalties on any arrearage amount or support installment exceed 72 percent of the original amount due, regardless of whether or not the installments have been listed on more than one notice.
(i) Penalties due pursuant to this section may be enforced by the issuance of a writ of execution in the same manner as a writ of execution may be issued for unpaid installments of child support, as described in Section 4383, except that payment of penalties under this section may not take priority over payment of arrearages or current support.

(j) The Judicial Council shall adopt forms or notices for the use of the procedures provided by this section.

(k) This section shall apply only to installments of child support that are due on or after January 1, 1992.

(l) The district attorney or any other agency providing support enforcement services pursuant to Title IV-D of the federal Social Security Act shall enforce child support obligations utilizing the penalties provided for by this section to the extent permitted by federal law upon implementation of the Statewide Automated Child Support System (SACSS) prescribed in Section 10815 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and certification of the SACSS by the United States Department of Health and Human Services.

(m) "Support" for the purposes of this section means support as defined in subdivision (h) of Section 4390.

(n) Penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be paid to the custodian of the child or children who are the subject of the child support judgment, order, or decree, whether or not the child or children are the recipients of public assistance.

SEC. 3. Section 903 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

903. (a) A parent of a minor, the estate of a parent, and the estate of the minor, shall be liable for the reasonable costs of support of the minor while the minor is placed, or detained in, or committed to, any institution or other place pursuant to Section 625 or pursuant to an order of the juvenile court. However, a county shall not levy charges for the costs of support of a minor detained pursuant to Section 625 unless, at the detention hearing, the juvenile court determines that detention of the minor should be continued, the petition for the offense for which the minor is detained is subsequently sustained, or the minor agrees to a program of supervision pursuant to Section 654. The liability of these persons and estates shall be a joint and several liability.

(b) It shall be the responsibility of a county to demonstrate to any person against whom it seeks to enforce the liability established by this section, that the charges it seeks to impose are limited to the reasonable costs of support of the minor and that these charges exclude any costs of incarceration, treatment, or supervision for the protection of society and the minor and the rehabilitation of the minor. Nothing in this section shall preclude the district attorney from seeking reimbursement of those costs pursuant to Section 11350 or Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 4720) of Title 5 of Part 5 of the Civil Code.

(c) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this subdivision to protect the fiscal integrity of the county, to protect persons against whom the county seeks to impose liability from excessive charges, to ensure reasonable uniformity throughout the state in the level of liability being imposed, and to ensure that liability is imposed only on persons with the ability to pay. In evaluating a family's financial ability to pay under this section, the county shall take into consideration the family income, the necessary obligations of the family, and the number of persons dependent upon this income. Except as provided in paragraphs (1), (2), and (3), "costs of support" as used in this section means only actual costs incurred by the county for food and food preparation, clothing, personal supplies, and medical expenses, not to exceed a combined maximum cost of fifteen dollars ($15) per day, except that:

(1) The maximum cost of fifteen dollars ($15) per day shall be adjusted every third year beginning January 1, 1988, to reflect the percentage change in the calendar year annual average of the California Consumer Price Index, All Urban Consumers, published by the Department of Industrial Relations, for the three-year period.

(2) No cost for medical expenses shall be imposed by the county until the county has first exhausted any eligibility the minor may have under private insurance coverage, standard or medically indigent Medi-Cal coverage, and the Robert W. Crown California Children's Services Act (Article 2 (commencing with Section 248) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code).

(3) In calculating the cost of medical expenses, the county shall not charge in excess of 100 percent of the AFDC fee for service average Medi-Cal payment for that county for that fiscal year as calculated by the State Department of Health Services; however, if a minor has extraordinary medical or dental costs that are not met under any of the coverages listed in paragraph (2), the county may impose these additional costs.

SEC. 4. Section 11350.6 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 11350.6 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

11350.6. (a) As used in this section:

(1) "Board" means any entity specified in Section 101 of the Business and Professions Code, the entities referred to in Sections 1000 and 3600 of the Business and Professions Code, the State Bar, the Department of Real Estate, and any other state agency that issues a license, certificate, or registration authorizing a person to engage in a business or profession.

(2) "Licensee" means any person holding a license, certificate, permit, registration, or other authorization issued by a board, to engage in a business, occupation, or profession, or a commercial driver's license as defined in Section 15210 of the Vehicle Code.

(3) "License" includes membership in the State Bar, and a certificate, permit, registration, or any other authorization issued by a board that allows a person to engage in a business, occupation, or profession, or to operate a commercial motor vehicle.

(4) "Applicant" means any person applying for issuance or renewal of a license.

(5) "Compliance with a judgment or order for support" means that, as set forth in a judgment or order for child or family support, the obligor is no more than 30 calendar days in arrears in making payments in full for current support, in making periodic payments on a support arrearage, or in making periodic payments on a reimbursement for public assistance, or has obtained a judicial finding that equitable estoppel as provided in statute or case law precludes enforcement of the order.

(6) "Certified list" means a list provided by the district attorney to the State Department of Social Services in which the district attorney verifies, under penalty of perjury, that the names contained therein are support obligors found to be out of compliance with a judgment or order for support in a case being enforced under Title IV-D of the Social Security Act.

(b) The district attorney shall maintain a list of those persons included in a case being enforced under Title IV-D of the Social Security Act for whom a child support order or judgment has been rendered by, or registered in, a court of this state, and who are not in compliance with that order or judgment. The district attorney shall submit a certified list with the names, social security numbers, and last known addresses of these persons and the name, address, and telephone number of the district attorney who certified the list to the State Department of Social Services. The district attorney shall verify, under penalty of perjury, that the persons listed are subject to an order or judgment for the payment of support and that these persons are not in compliance with the order or judgment. The district attorney shall submit to the State Department of Social Services an updated certified list on a monthly basis.

(c) The State Department of Social Services shall consolidate the certified lists received from the district attorneys and, within 30 calendar days of receipt, shall provide a copy of the consolidated list to each board which is responsible for the regulation of licenses, as specified in this section.

(d) On or before November 1, 1992, or as soon thereafter as economically feasible, as determined by the State Department of Social Services, all boards subject to this section shall implement procedures to accept and process the list provided by the State Department of Social Services, in accordance with this section.

(e) Promptly after receiving the certified consolidated list from the State Department of Social Services, and prior to the issuance or renewal of a license, each board shall determine whether the applicant is on the most recent certified consolidated list provided by the State Department of Social Services. If the applicant is on the list, the board shall immediately serve notice as specified in subdivision (f) on the applicant of the board’s intent to withhold issuance or renewal of the license. The notice shall be made personally or by mail to the applicant's last known mailing address on file with the board.

(1) The board shall issue a temporary license valid for a period of 150 days to any applicant whose name is on the certified list if the applicant is otherwise eligible for a license.

(2) The temporary license shall not be extended. Only one temporary license shall be issued during a regular license term and it shall coincide with the first 150 days of that license term. As this paragraph applies to commercial driver licenses, "license term" shall be deemed to be 12 months from the date the application fee is received by the Department of Motor Vehicles. A license for the full or remainder of the license term shall be issued or renewed only upon compliance with this section.

(3) In the event that a license or application is denied pursuant to this section, any funds paid by the applicant or licensee shall not be refunded by the board.

(f) Notices shall be developed by each board in accordance with guidelines provided by the State Department of Social Services and subject to approval by the State Department of Social Services. The notice shall include the address and telephone number of the district attorney who submitted the name on the certified list, and shall emphasize the necessity of obtaining a release from that district attorney's office as a condition for the issuance or renewal of a license. The notice shall inform the applicant that the board shall issue a temporary license, as provided in paragraph (1) of subdivision (e) for 150 calendar days if the applicant is otherwise eligible and that upon expiration of that time period the license will be denied unless the board has received a release from the district attorney who submitted the name on the certified list. The notice shall also inform the applicant that if a license or application is denied pursuant to this section, any funds paid by the applicant or licensee shall not be refunded by the board. The State Department of Social Services shall also develop a form that the applicant shall use to request a review by the district attorney. A copy of this form shall be included with every notice sent pursuant to this subdivision.

(g) Each district attorney shall establish review procedures by November 1, 1992, consistent with this section to allow an applicant to have the underlying arrearage and any relevant defenses investigated, to provide an applicant information on the process of obtaining a modification of a support order, or to provide an applicant assistance in the establishment of a payment schedule on arrearages if the circumstances so warrant.

(h) If the applicant wishes to challenge the submission of his or her name on the certified list, the applicant shall make a timely written request for review on the form specified in subdivision (f) to the district attorney who certified the applicant's name. The district attorney shall inform the applicant in writing of his or her findings upon completion of the review. The district attorney shall immediately send a release to the appropriate board and the applicant, if any of the following conditions are met:

(1) The applicant is found to be in compliance or negotiates an agreement with the district attorney for a payment schedule on arrearages or reimbursement.

(2) The applicant has submitted a request for review, but the district attorney will be unable to complete the review and send notice of his or her findings to the applicant in sufficient time for the applicant to file a timely petition for judicial review within the 150-day period during which the applicant’s temporary license is valid. This paragraph applies only if the delay in completing the review process is not the result of the applicant’s failure to act in a reasonable, timely, and diligent manner upon receiving notice from the board that his or her name is on the list.

(3) The applicant has filed and served a request for judicial review pursuant to this section, but a resolution of that review will not be made within the 150-day period of the temporary license. This paragraph applies only if the delay in completing the judicial review process is not the result of the applicant’s failure to act in a reasonable, timely, and diligent manner upon receiving the district attorney’s notice of his or her findings.

(4) The applicant has obtained a judicial finding of compliance as defined in this section.

(i) An applicant is required to act with diligence in responding to notices from the board and the district attorney with the recognition that the temporary license will lapse after 150 days and that the district attorney and, where appropriate, the court must have time to act within that period. An applicant’s delay in acting, without good cause, which directly results in the inability of the district attorney to complete a review of the applicant’s request or the court to hear the request for judicial review within the 150-day period shall not constitute the diligence required under this section which would justify the issuance of a release.

(j) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the district attorney shall not issue a release if the applicant is not in compliance with the judgment or order for support. The district attorney shall notify the applicant in writing that the applicant may, by filing an order to show cause or notice of motion, request any or all of the following:

(1) Judicial review of the district attorney’s decision not to issue a release.

(2) A judicial determination of compliance.

(3) A modification of the support judgment or order.

The notice shall also contain the name and address of the court in which the applicant shall file the order to show cause or notice of motion and inform the applicant that his or her name shall remain on the certified list if the applicant does not timely request judicial review. The applicant shall comply with all statutes and rules of court regarding orders to show cause and notices of motion.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to limit an applicant from filing an order to show cause or notice of motion to modify a support judgment or order or to fix a payment schedule on arrearages accruing under a support judgment or order or to obtain a court finding of compliance with a judgment or order for support.

(k) The request for judicial review of the district attorney's decision shall state the grounds for which review is requested and judicial review shall be limited to those stated grounds. The court shall hold an evidentiary hearing within 20 calendar days of the filing of the request for review. Judicial review of the district attorney's decision shall be limited to a determination of each of the following issues:

(1) Whether there is a support judgment, order, or payment schedule on arrearages or reimbursement.
(2) Whether the petitioner is the obligor covered by the support judgment or order.
(3) Whether the support obligor is or is not in compliance with judgment or order of support.

The request for judicial review shall be served by the applicant upon the district attorney who submitted the applicant's name on the certified list within seven calendar days of the filing of the petition.

If the judicial review results in a finding by the court that the obligor is in compliance with the judgment or order for support, the district attorney shall immediately send a release in accordance with subdivision (h) to the appropriate board and the applicant.

(l) The State Department of Social Services shall prescribe release forms for use by district attorneys. When the obligor is in compliance, the district attorney shall mail to the applicant and the appropriate board a release stating that the applicant is in compliance. The receipt of a release shall serve to notify the applicant and the board that, for the purposes of this section, the applicant is in compliance with the judgment or order for support, unless a district attorney, pursuant to subdivision (b), certifies subsequent to the issuance of a release that the applicant is once again not in compliance with a judgment or order for support.

(m) The State Department of Social Services may enter into interagency agreements with the state agencies that have responsibility for the administration of boards necessary to implement this section, to the extent that it is cost-effective to implement this section. These agreements shall provide for the receipt by the other state agencies and boards of federal funds to cover that portion of costs allowable in federal law and regulation and incurred by the state agencies and boards in implementing this section. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, revenue generated by a board or state agency shall be used to fund the nonfederal share of costs incurred pursuant to this section. These agreements shall provide that boards shall reimburse the State Department of Social Services for the nonfederal share of costs incurred by the department in implementing this section. The boards shall reimburse the State Department of Social Services for the nonfederal share of costs incurred pursuant to this section from moneys collected from applicants for licenses.

(n) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the boards and departments subject to this section may levy a surcharge on any fee or fees collected pursuant to law, with the approval of the appropriate department director, to cover the costs of implementing and administering this section. Such a surcharge may be adopted without the necessity of adopting or amending regulations pursuant to the Administrative Procedures Act (Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code).

(o) The process described in subdivision (h) shall constitute the sole administrative remedy for contesting the issuance to the applicant of a temporary license or the denial of a license under this section. The procedures specified in the Administrative Procedure Act (Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code) shall not apply to the denial or failure to issue or renew a license pursuant to this section.

(p) In furtherance of the public policy of increasing child support enforcement and collections, on or before November 1, 1995, the State Department of Social Services shall make a report to the Legislature and the Governor based on data collected by the boards and the district attorneys in a format prescribed by the State Department of Social Services. The report shall contain all of the following:

1. The number of delinquent obligors certified by district attorneys under this section.

2. The number of support obligors who also were applicants or licensees subject to this section.

3. The number of new licenses and renewals that were delayed and temporary licenses issued subject to this section and the number of new licenses and renewals granted following board receipt of releases as provided by subdivision (h) by May 1, 1995.

4. The costs incurred in the implementation and enforcement of this section.

(q) Any board receiving an inquiry as to the licensed status of an applicant who has had a license denied under this section or has been granted a temporary license under this section shall respond only that the license was denied or the temporary license was issued pursuant to this section. Information collected pursuant to this section shall be subject to the Information Practices Act (Section 1798.76 of the Civil Code).

(r) Any rules and regulations issued pursuant to this section may be adopted as emergency regulations in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code). The adoption of these regulations shall be deemed an emergency and necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, or general welfare. The regulations shall become effective immediately upon filing with the Secretary of State.

(s) The State Department of Social Services and boards, as appropriate, shall adopt regulations necessary to implement this section.

(t) The Judicial Council shall develop the forms necessary to implement this section, except as provided in subdivisions (f) and (o).

(u) The release or other use of information received by a board pursuant to this section, except as authorized by this section, is punishable as a misdemeanor.

(v) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1997, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1997, deletes or extends that date.

(w) If any provision of this section or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, that invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this section which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this section are severable.

SEC. 6. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution for those costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

However, notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains other costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

SEC. 7. This act is an emergency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to make necessary changes in the law regarding the licensing of persons who fail to comply with support orders, which requires the licensing boards affected to implement its provisions on or before November 1, 1992, and in order to make needed, related changes for the enforcement of support orders as soon as possible, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.
An act to amend Section 5110.740 of the Civil Code, and to amend Section 141 of, to add Sections 5002 and 5003 to, to add Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 5010) to Part 1 of Division 5 of, and to add a chapter heading immediately preceding Section 5000 of, the Probate Code, relating to community property.

[Approved by Governor May 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State May 11, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5110.740 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

5110.740. (a) A statement in a will of the character of property is not admissible as evidence of a transmutation of the property in any proceeding commenced before the death of the person who made the will.

(b) A waiver of a right to a joint and survivor annuity or survivor's benefits under the federal Retirement Equity Act of 1984 (Public Law 98-397) is not a transmutation of the community property rights of the person executing the waiver.

(c) A written joinder or written consent to a nonprobate transfer of community property on death that satisfies Section 5110.730 is a transmutation and is governed by the law applicable to transmutations and not by Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 5010) of Part 1 of Division 5 of the Probate Code.

SEC. 2. Section 141 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

141. (a) The right of a surviving spouse to any of the following may be waived in whole or in part by a waiver under this chapter:

(1) Property that would pass from the decedent by intestate succession.

(2) Property that would pass from the decedent by testamentary disposition in a will executed before the waiver.

(3) A probate homestead.

(4) The right to have exempt property set aside.

(5) Family allowance.

(6) The right to have an estate set aside under Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 6600) of Part 3 of Division 6.

(7) The right to elect to take community or quasi-community property against the decedent's will.

(8) The right to take the statutory share of an omitted spouse.

(9) The right to be appointed as the personal representative of the decedent's estate.

(10) An interest in property that is the subject of a nonprobate transfer on death under Part 1 (commencing with Section 5000) of Division 5.

(b) Nothing in this chapter affects or limits the waiver or manner of waiver of rights other than those referred to in subdivision (a), including, but not limited to, the right to property that would pass from the decedent to the surviving spouse by nonprobate transfer upon the death of the decedent, such as the survivorship interest under a joint tenancy, a Totten trust account, or a pay-on-death account.
SEC. 3. A chapter heading is added immediately preceding Section 5000 as Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 5000) of Part 1 of Division 5 of the Probate Code, to read:

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 4. Section 5002 is added to the Probate Code, to read:
5002. Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, a holder of property under an instrument of a type described in Section 5000 is not required to receive, hold, or transfer the property in compliance with a provision for a nonprobate transfer on death executed by a person who has an interest in the property if either (1) the person is not authorized by the terms of the instrument to execute a provision for transfer of the property, or (2) the provision for transfer of the property does not otherwise satisfy the terms of the instrument.
SEC. 5. Section 5003 is added to the Probate Code, to read:
5003. (a) A holder of property under an instrument of a type dericted in Section 5000 may transfer the property in compliance with a provision for a nonprobate transfer on death that satisfies the terms of the instrument, whether or not the transfer is consistent with the beneficial ownership of the property as between the person who executed the provision for transfer of the property and other persons having an interest in the property or their successors.
(b) Except as provided in this subdivision, no notice or other information shown to have been available to the holder of the property affects the right of the holder to the protection provided by subdivision (a). The protection provided by subdivision (a) does not extend to a transfer made after either of the following events:
(1) The holder of the property has been served with a contrary court order.
(2) The holder of the property has been served with a written notice of a person claiming an adverse interest in the property.
However, this paragraph does not apply to a pension plan to the extent the transfer is a periodic payment pursuant to the plan.
(c) The protection provided by this section does not affect the rights of the person who executed the provision for transfer of the property and other persons having an interest in the property or their successors in disputes among themselves concerning the beneficial ownership of the property.
(d) The protection provided by this section is not exclusive of any protection provided the holder of the property by any other provision of law.
SEC. 6. Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 5010) is added to Part 1 of Division 5 of the Probate Code, to read:

CHAPTER 2. NONPROBATE TRANSFERS OF COMMUNITY PROPERTY

5010. As used in this chapter, "written consent" to a provision for a nonprobate transfer of community property on death includes a written joinder in such a provision.

5011. Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, the rights of the parties in a nonprobate transfer of community property on death are subject to all of the following:

(a) The terms of the instrument under which the nonprobate transfer is made.

(b) A contrary state statute specifically applicable to the instrument under which the nonprobate transfer is made.

(c) A written expression of intent of a party in the provision for transfer of the property or in a written consent to the provision.

5014. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), this chapter applies to a provision for a nonprobate transfer of community property on the death of a married person, regardless of whether the provision for transfer of the property was executed by the person, or written consent to the provision for transfer of the property was given by the person’s spouse, before, on, or after January 1, 1993.

(b) Subdivision (c) of Section 5030 does not apply, and the applicable law in effect on the date of death does apply, to revocation of a written consent given by a spouse who died before January 1, 1993.

5015. Nothing in this chapter limits the application of principles of fraud, undue influence, duress, mistake, or other invalidating cause to a written consent to a provision for a nonprobate transfer of community property on death.
Article 2. Consent to Nonprobate Transfer

5020. A provision for a nonprobate transfer of community property on death executed by a married person without the written consent of the person's spouse (1) is not effective as to the nonconsenting spouse's interest in the property and (2) does not affect the nonconsenting spouse's disposition on death of the nonconsenting spouse's interest in the community property by will, intestate succession, or nonprobate transfer.

5021. (a) In a proceeding to set aside a nonprobate transfer of community property on death made pursuant to a provision for transfer of the property executed by a married person without the written consent of the person's spouse, the court shall set aside the transfer as to the nonconsenting spouse's interest in the property, subject to terms and conditions or other remedies that appear equitable under the circumstances of the case, taking into account the rights of all interested persons.

(b) Nothing in subdivision (a) affects any additional remedy the nonconsenting spouse may have against the person's estate for a nonprobate transfer of community property on death without the spouse's written consent.

5022. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), a spouse's written consent to a provision for a nonprobate transfer of community property on death is not a transmutation of the consenting spouse's interest in the property.

(b) This chapter does not apply to a spouse's written consent to a provision for a nonprobate transfer of community property on death that satisfies Section 5110.730 of the Civil Code. Such a consent is a transmutation and is governed by the law applicable to transmutations.

5023. (a) As used in this section "modification" means revocation of a provision for a nonprobate transfer on death in whole or part, designation of a different beneficiary, or election of a different benefit or payment option.

(b) If a married person executes a provision for a nonprobate transfer of community property on death with the written consent of the person's spouse and thereafter executes a modification of the provision for transfer of the property without written consent of the spouse, the modification is effective as to the person's interest in the community property and has the following effect on the spouse's interest in the community property:

(1) If the person executes the modification during the spouse's lifetime, the modification revokes the spouse's previous written consent to the provision for transfer of the property.

(2) If the person executes the modification after the spouse's death, the modification does not affect the spouse's previous written consent to the provision for transfer of the property, and the spouse's interest in the community property is subject to the nonprobate transfer on death as consented to by the spouse.
(3) If a written expression of intent of a party in the provision for transfer of the property or in the written consent to the provision for transfer of the property authorizes the person to execute a modification after the spouse's death, the spouse's interest in the community property is deemed transferred to the married person on the spouse's death, and the modification is effective as to both the person's and the spouse's interests in the community property.

Article 3. Revocation of Consent

5030. (a) A spouse's written consent to a provision for a nonprobate transfer of community property on death is revocable during the marriage.

(b) On termination of the marriage by dissolution or on legal separation, the written consent is revocable and the community property is subject to division under Section 4800 of the Civil Code or other disposition on order within the jurisdiction of the court.

(c) On the death of either spouse, the written consent is irrevocable.

5031. (a) If a married person executes a provision for a nonprobate transfer of community property on death with the written consent of the person's spouse, the consenting spouse may revoke the consent by a writing, including a will, that identifies the provision for transfer of the property being revoked, and that is served on the married person before the married person's death.

(b) Revocation of a spouse's written consent to a provision for a nonprobate transfer of community property on death does not affect the authority of the holder of the property to transfer the property in compliance with the provision for transfer of the property to the extent provided in Section 5003.

5032. On revocation of a spouse's written consent to a nonprobate transfer of community property on death, the property passes in the same manner as if the consent had not been given.

(b) For any carryover of a net operating loss for which a deduction is denied by subdivision (a), the carryover period under Section 172 of the Internal Revenue Code shall be extended as follows:

SEC. 4. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.
An act relating to emergencies, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 12, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State May 12, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The municipal courts of the County of Los Angeles shall take judicial notice that a state of emergency existed in the County of Los Angeles beginning April 30, 1992, which interfered with the operation of the judicial system and the delivery of public services. The municipal courts of the County of Los Angeles shall not count the dates of April 30, 1992 to May 4, 1992, inclusive, for purposes of determining any time period to respond to an unlawful detainer complaint filed in those courts. Any default judgment entered in an unlawful detainer proceeding in Los Angeles County municipal courts during that time period as a result of a defendant’s nonappearance shall be set aside on the court’s own motion. These courts shall also liberally construe the provisions of Section 473 of the Code of Civil Procedure to vacate any default judgment entered in an unlawful detainer action where the state of emergency interfered with the tenant’s ability to make a timely response to the proceeding.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to prevent a denial of due process of law for defendants in unlawful detainer actions prejudiced by the recent state of emergency in Los Angeles County, it is necessary that this act go into effect immediately.

SEC. 17. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 18. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to qualify for that loan, the district shall comply with Article 2.5 (commencing with Section 41325) of Chapter 3 of Part 24 of the Education Code and the conditions stipulated in this act.

(b) With the exception of funds that may be needed by the district to meet its cash obligations, as described in subdivision (c), no funds shall be disbursed from the proceeds of the loan until the conditions set forth in Section 41327 have been met.

Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

In order to ensure the continued solvency of the Victim-Witness Assistance Fund through the end of the current fiscal year, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1094.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1094.5. (a) Where the writ is issued for the purpose of inquiring into the validity of any final administrative order or decision made as the result of a proceeding in which by law a hearing is required to be given, evidence is required to be taken, and discretion in the determination of facts is vested in the inferior tribunal, corporation, board, or officer, the case shall be heard by the court sitting without a jury. All or part of the record of the proceedings before the inferior tribunal, corporation, board, or officer may be filed with the petition, may be filed with respondent’s points and authorities, or may be ordered to be filed by the court. Except when otherwise prescribed by statute, the cost of preparing the record shall be borne by the petitioner. Where the petitioner has proceeded pursuant to Section 68511.3 of the Government Code and the Rules of Court implementing that section and where the transcript is necessary to a proper review of the administrative proceedings, the cost of preparing the transcript shall be borne by the respondent. Where the party seeking the writ has proceeded pursuant to Section 1088.5, the administrative record shall be filed as expeditiously as possible, and may be filed with the petition, or by the respondent after payment of the costs by the petitioner, where required, or as otherwise directed by the court. If the expense of preparing all or any part of the record has been borne by the prevailing party, the expense shall be taxable as costs.

(b) The inquiry in such a case shall extend to the questions whether the respondent has proceeded without, or in excess of jurisdiction; whether there was a fair trial; and whether there was any prejudicial abuse of discretion. Abuse of discretion is established if the respondent has not proceeded in the manner required by law, the order or decision is not supported by the findings, or the findings are not supported by the evidence.

(c) Where it is claimed that the findings are not supported by the evidence, in cases in which the court is authorized by law to exercise its independent judgment on the evidence, abuse of discretion is established if the court determines that the findings are not supported by the weight of the evidence. In all other cases, abuse of discretion is established if the court determines that the findings are not supported by substantial evidence in the light of the whole record.

(d) Notwithstanding subdivision (c), in cases arising from private hospital boards or boards of directors of districts organized pursuant to The Local Hospital District Law, Division 23 (commencing with Section 32000) of the Health and Safety Code or governing bodies of municipal hospitals formed pursuant to Article 7 (commencing with Section 37600) or Article 8 (commencing with Section 37650) of Chapter 5 of Division 3 of Title 4 of the Government Code, abuse of discretion is established if the court determines that the findings are not supported by substantial evidence in the light of the whole record. However, in all cases in which the petition alleges discriminatory actions prohibited by Section 1316 of the Health and Safety Code, and the plaintiff makes a preliminary showing of substantial evidence in support of that allegation, the court shall exercise its independent judgment on the evidence and abuse of discretion shall be established if the court determines that the findings are not supported by the weight of the evidence.

(e) Where the court finds that there is relevant evidence which, in the exercise of reasonable diligence, could not have been produced or which was improperly excluded at the hearing before respondent, it may enter judgment as provided in subdivision (f) remanding the case to be reconsidered in the light of that evidence; or, in cases in which the court is authorized by law to exercise its independent judgment on the evidence, the court may admit the evidence at the hearing on the writ without remanding the case.

(f) The court shall enter judgment either commanding respondent to set aside the order or decision, or denying the writ. Where the judgment commands that the order or decision be set aside, it may order the reconsideration of the case in the light of the court’s opinion and judgment and may order respondent to take such further action as is specially enjoined upon it by law, but the judgment shall not limit or control in any way the discretion legally vested in the respondent.

(g) Except as provided in subdivision (h), the court in which proceedings under this section are instituted may stay the operation of the administrative order or decision pending the judgment of the court, or until the filing of a notice of appeal from the judgment or until the expiration of the time for filing the notice, whichever occurs first. However, no such stay shall be imposed or continued if the court is satisfied that it is against the public interest; provided that the application for the stay shall be accompanied by proof of service of a copy of the application on the respondent. Service shall be made in the manner provided by Title 5 (commencing with Section 405) of Part 2 or Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1010) of Title 14 of Part 2. If an appeal is taken from a denial of the writ, the order or decision of the agency shall not be stayed except upon the order of the court to which the appeal is taken. However, in cases where a stay is in effect at the time of filing the notice of appeal, the stay shall be continued by operation of law for a period of 20 days from the filing of the notice. If an appeal is taken from the granting of the writ, the order or decision of the agency is stayed pending the determination of the appeal unless the court to which the appeal is taken shall otherwise order. Where any final administrative order or decision is the subject of proceedings under this section, if the petition shall have been filed while the penalty imposed is in full force and effect, the determination shall not be considered to have become moot in cases where the penalty imposed by the administrative agency has been completed or complied with during the pendency of the proceedings.

(h) (1) The court in which proceedings under this section are instituted may stay the operation of the administrative order or decision of any licensed hospital or any state agency made after a hearing required by statute to be conducted under the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, as set forth in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, conducted by the agency itself or an administrative law judge on the staff of the Office of Administrative Hearings pending the judgment of the court, or until the filing of a notice of appeal from the judgment or until the expiration of the time for filing the notice, whichever occurs first. However, the stay shall not be imposed or continued unless the court is satisfied that the public interest will not suffer and that the licensed hospital or agency is unlikely to prevail ultimately on the merits; and provided further that the application for the stay shall be accompanied by proof of service of a copy of the application on the respondent. Service shall be made in the manner provided by Title 5 (commencing with Section 405) of Part 2 or Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1010) of Title 14 of Part 2.

(2) The standard set forth in this subdivision for obtaining a stay shall apply to any administrative order or decision of an agency which issues licenses pursuant to Division 2 (commencing with Section 500) of the Business and Professions Code or pursuant to the Osteopathic Initiative Act or the Chiropractic Initiative Act. With respect to orders or decisions of other state agencies, the standard in this subdivision shall apply only when the agency has adopted the proposed decision of the administrative law judge in its entirety or has adopted the proposed decision but reduced the proposed penalty pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 11517 of the Government Code; otherwise the standard in subdivision (g) shall apply.

(3) If an appeal is taken from a denial of the writ, the order or decision of the hospital or agency shall not be stayed except upon the order of the court to which the appeal is taken. However, in cases where a stay is in effect at the time of filing the notice of appeal, the stay shall be continued by operation of law for a period of 20 days from the filing of the notice. If an appeal is taken from the granting of the writ, the order or decision of the hospital or agency is stayed pending the determination of the appeal unless the court to which the appeal is taken shall otherwise order. Where any final administrative order or decision is the subject of proceedings under this section, if the petition shall have been filed while the penalty imposed is in full force and effect, the determination shall not be considered to have become moot in cases where the penalty imposed by the administrative agency has been completed or complied with during the pendency of the proceedings.

(i) Any administrative record received for filing by the clerk of the court may be disposed of as provided in Sections 1952, 1952.2, and 1952.3.

SEC. 2. Section 6254 of the Government Code is amended to read:

diagrams, statements of the parties involved in the incident, the statements of all witnesses, other than confidential informants, to the victims of an incident, or an authorized representative thereof, an insurance carrier against which a claim has been or might be made, and any person suffering bodily injury or property damage or loss, as the result of the incident caused by arson, burglary, fire, explosion, larceny, robbery, vandalism, vehicle theft, or a crime as defined by subdivision (c) of Section 13960, unless the disclosure would endanger the safety of a witness or other person involved in the investigation, or unless disclosure would endanger the successful completion of the investigation or a related investigation. However, nothing in this division shall require the disclosure of that portion of those investigative files which reflect the analysis or conclusions of the investigating officer.

Other provisions of this subdivision notwithstanding, state and local law enforcement agencies shall make public the following information, except to the extent that disclosure of a particular item of information would endanger the safety of a person involved in an investigation or would endanger the successful completion of the investigation or a related investigation:

This instruction shall emphasize that sexual abstinence and abstinence from intravenous drug use are the most effective means for AIDS prevention, but shall also include statistics based upon the latest medical information citing the failure and success rates of condoms and other contraceptives in preventing sexually transmitted HIV infection and information on other methods that may reduce the risk of HIV transmission from intravenous drug use. CHAPTER 74

An act to add Sections 5506.4, 5538.4, and 5539.4 to the Public Resources Code, relating to parks and recreation, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State June 3, 1992.]

SECTION 1. Section 5506.4 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

5506.4. (a) Proceedings for the formation of a district with boundaries coterminous with those of Napa County may be initiated by resolution of the Board of Supervisors of Napa County adopted after a hearing noticed in accordance with Section 5511, in lieu of a petition.

(2) Specify that the proposed district shall be governed by a board of five directors who shall be elected in accordance with this article and that no member of the board of supervisors shall be a director.

SEC. 4. The Legislature finds and declares that a special act is necessary and that a general statute cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution for the following reasons:

There are unique problems involved in meeting the open-space needs of the people of Napa County, taking into consideration such factors as the county's topography, wildlife, and natural resources, and the expanding population into open-space lands and other lands of high scenic value. Therefore, the enactment of Sections 5506.4 and 5538.9 of the Public Resources Code as a special law is necessary.

To meet the extraordinary need to preserve open-space in Napa County, it is urgent that special authority be given for the formation of an open-space district with boundaries coterminous with those of the county. In order to expedite that formation, it is necessary to be able to place a measure to form the district on the November 1992 ballot. Thus, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

The retirement allowance otherwise payable under this section to a member whose allowance prior to reinstatement was paid pursuant to his or her election under Section 31810 shall be reduced as provided in Section 31810. However, for a member reinstated pursuant to Section 31680.4 prior to attaining age 62, the reduction required by Section 31810 shall be the amount which is the actuarial value of the increase in the allowance from date of retirement to date of reinstatement.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the retirement allowance payable to any member subject to this section for any credited service for which a retirement allowance was paid prior to reinstatement shall not be less than the retirement allowance which would have been payable on the date of the subsequent retirement had the member not been reinstated, adjusted, however, by any reduction under this section because of an election under Section 31810.

(c) Notwithstanding Article 10 (commencing with Section 31720), upon retirement for disability subsequent to reinstatement, a member shall receive a disability retirement allowance as follows:

(1) A service-connected disability allowance shall be equal to one-half of his or her final compensation or an allowance computed as prescribed by subdivision (b), whichever is greater.

(2) A nonservice-connected disability allowance shall be computed using the method prescribed by subdivision (b).

CHAPTER 76

An act to add and repeal Article 6.5 (commencing with Section 42801) of Chapter 2 of Division 17 of the Food and Agricultural Code, relating to agriculture, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State June 3, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 6.5 (commencing with Section 42801) is added to Chapter 2 of Division 17 of the Food and Agricultural Code, to read:

Article 6.5. Standardization Program

42801. Notwithstanding any other provision of this division, the director shall create an industry-funded standardization program for the purposes of implementing and enforcing this division.

42802. The director shall adopt regulations he or she determines are reasonably necessary to carry out this article, including, but not limited to, establishing assessment rates and procedures for payment of assessments. The director shall consult with the committee created pursuant to Section 42809 prior to the adoption, amendment, or repeal of any regulations under this article.

42803. (a) Commencing upon the effective date of the chapter that enacted this article at the 1991–92 Regular Session of the Legislature, and for 90 days thereafter, producers of commodities subject to this article may file a petition with the director requesting that the commodity be exempted from this article.

(b) Upon a finding by the director that the petition represents not less than 51 percent of the producers of the commodity who produce not less than 51 percent of the total quantity of the commodity marketed in the preceding marketing season, the director shall do all of the following:

1. Declare the commodity exempt from this article.
2. Immediately repeal all regulations pertaining to the commodity adopted by the director pursuant to this division.
3. Make a determination concerning a refund of any assessments collected pursuant to this article.

(c) Commodity exemptions granted pursuant to this section shall be effective immediately on the date of the finding specified in subdivision (b).

42804. (a) On and after the 90th day following the effective date of the chapter that enacted this article at the 1991–92 Regular Session of the Legislature, the director shall exempt any commodity subject to this article and repeal all regulations pertaining to the commodity adopted by the director pursuant to this division if:

1. A written petition requesting exemption is filed with the director during the period commencing July 1 and ending December 31 of any year.
2. The director finds that the petition represents not less than 51 percent of the producers directly affected who have produced not less than 51 percent of the total quantity of the commodity marketed in the preceding marketing season.
3. The petition, prior to being submitted to the director, was circulated among the producers directly affected for a period not exceeding 90 days and was on a form approved by the director.

4. Exemptions granted under this section shall be effective on July 1 following the year in which the petition is filed with the director.

(b) Exemptions granted under this section shall be effective on July 1 following the year in which the petition is filed with the director.

(c) Any costs incurred by the department in processing any petition for exemption filed pursuant to this section shall be borne by the producers representing the commodity for which the petition is filed.

(d) This section also applies to producers of any commodity who request the director to rescind a previously granted exemption.
(e) All producers directly affected by this section shall provide the following information to the director upon filing of the written petition requesting exemption:

(1) The correct name and address of each producer or handler.
(2) The quantity of each commodity produced by the producer during the previous marketing season.

(f) The director may also require handlers of commodities subject to this article to report quantities received from each producer in the previous season.

(g) Any determination of compliance with this section may be based upon information provided by producers or handlers of commodities subject to this article. Failure or refusal to provide that information within the specified time does not invalidate the director's findings.

42805. A commodity producer or handler subject to Article 1 (commencing with Section 44971) of Chapter 9, or any other similar provision in this division that provides for collection of assessments and reimbursement to the director for inspection and certification activities related to the commodity may seek an exemption for that commodity pursuant to Section 42803 or 42804 and remain subject to all regulations pertaining to the commodity in effect at the time the petition for exemption is filed with the director, and thereafter until the regulations are amended or repealed.

Any producers of commodities who elect to request an exemption pursuant to this section shall pay any charges mutually agreed upon by the producer and the department for administrative services relating to the regulation of the commodity, including, but not limited to, the adoption, amendment, or repeal of regulations.

42806. (a) The director shall adopt regulations establishing assessment rates set by the committee established pursuant to Section 42809. The committee shall set the rates on or before March 1. The rates shall become effective the following July 1.

(b) The establishment, alteration, rescission, or elimination of assessment rates or the repeal of regulations of exempt commodities pursuant to this section shall not be subject to the requirements of Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. An order to repeal the regulations of exempt commodities pursuant to this section shall be transmitted within 30 days by the director to the Office of Administrative Law. The Office of Administrative Law shall file the order promptly with the Secretary of State without further review pursuant to Article 6 (commencing with Section 11349) of Chapter 3.5 of Division 1 of Title 2 of the Government Code. The order shall do all of the following:

(1) Indicate that the regulations are being repealed pursuant to this article.
(2) State that the order is being transmitted for filing.
(3) Request that the Office of Administrative Law publish a notice of the filing of the order and print an appropriate reference in Title 3 of the California Code of Regulations.

(c) All assessments collected pursuant to this article shall be deposited in the Department of Food and Agriculture Fund and shall be used only for implementing and enforcing this division.

(d) Those commodities that are otherwise subject to a mandatory inspection fee shall pay a lower rate of assessment than those commodities that are not otherwise subject to a mandatory inspection fee.

(e) Assessment rates for commodities that are not otherwise subject to a mandatory inspection fee shall not exceed six mills ($0.006) per container.

(f) Assessment rates for commodities that are otherwise subject to a mandatory inspection fee shall not exceed three mills ($0.003) per container.

42807. Notwithstanding Section 42806, on and after the effective date of the chapter that enacted this section at the 1991–92 Regular Session of the Legislature, and thereafter until altered, rescinded, or eliminated, the assessment rate for those commodities that are not otherwise subject to a mandatory inspection fee shall be three mills ($0.003) per container and the assessment rate for those commodities that are otherwise subject to a mandatory inspection fee shall be one mill ($0.001) per container.

42808. (a) Every person acting as a handler of commodities subject to this division shall do all of the following:

(1) Register with the director and submit reports and assessments required pursuant to this article and the regulations adopted thereunder.

(2) Keep a complete and accurate record of commodities shipped by him or her. The records shall be in simple form and contain information as prescribed by the director.

(3) Maintain records for a period of two years that shall be offered and submitted for inspection and audit at any reasonable time upon written demand of the director.

(b) Every person acting as a handler of commodities subject to this division, shall be personally liable for the payment of assessments. Any handler who fails to file the required reports or pay any assessment or inspection fee by the last day of the month immediately following the month in which the commodities were shipped shall pay to the director a penalty of 10 percent of the assessment or fee determined to be due, and in addition, 1½ percent interest per month on the unpaid balance.

(c) Handlers shall maintain and file the records required pursuant to this article even if no assessments are due for a reporting period.

(d) Any person that violates this article or the regulations adopted thereunder may be prosecuted criminally pursuant to Article 12 (commencing with Section 42971), and, in addition, shall be subject to the civil penalties and remedies set forth in Article 13 (commencing with Section 43001).

(e) For the purposes of this article, "handler" means any person engaged in marketing commodities subject to this article that the person has purchased or acquired from a producer and who first prepares the commodities for market on behalf of the producer, whether as owner, agent, broker, processor, or otherwise. A producer engaged in marketing commodities subject to this article directly to a person who purchases the commodity solely for retail sale is deemed to be the handler and is subject to this section.

42809. (a) The director shall, within 45 days of the effective date of the chapter that enacted this article at the 1991-92 Regular Session of the Legislature, appoint a committee pursuant to subdivision (b) to provide recommendations and advice on all matters pertaining to the implementation and enforcement of this division.

(b) The committee shall be composed of 13 voting members who have a financial interest, either personal or through their employment, in a commodity represented. The director shall appoint the members of the committee from a list of nominees provided by the commodity groups subject to this article. Four members shall be appointed from the fresh fruit commodity group consisting of oranges, other citrus fruits, strawberries, and table grapes, and two members shall be appointed to represent other fresh fruit commodities. Four members shall be appointed from the fresh vegetable commodity group consisting of broccoli, tomatoes, and lettuce and two members shall be appointed to represent other vegetable commodity groups. One member shall be appointed from other commodities subject to this article. A county agricultural commissioner may be appointed by the director as a nonvoting member.

(c) The committee shall meet at the request of the director, the committee chairperson, or upon the request of four committee members.

(d) Any committee member who represents a commodity that has been exempted from the application of this article shall be replaced with a member chosen to maintain the balance between the commodity groups.

(e) The committee shall appoint its own officers, including a chairperson, one or more vice chairpersons, and any other officers it deems necessary.

42810. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (c), the term of office of any member of the committee shall be two years.

(b) With respect to the initial voting members of the committee, six members shall serve for one year and six members shall serve for two years, with the determinations of the term of each voting member to be made by lot. No member of the committee shall serve more than four full consecutive two-year terms. The term of the initial nonvoting member shall be two years.

(c) Any vacancy which occurs during an unexpired term shall be filled for the unexpired term following the same procedures for initially nominating and appointing committee members.

42811. The members of the committee shall serve without compensation, but shall be reimbursed for reasonable expenses incurred in the performance of their duties as determined by the committee and approved by the director.

42812. The director shall adopt regulations establishing assessment rates set by the committee as required by Section 42806. In addition, the director shall seek the advice of the committee on all matters pertaining to the implementation and enforcement of this division, including, but not limited to, the annual budget, fees necessary to provide adequate inspection services, inspection procedures, work load standards, performance measures, training and supervision of inspectors, enforcement actions, and subvention of funds to counties necessary to provide uniformity in inspections throughout the state.

42813. Except as otherwise provided in Section 42807 with respect to assessments, in adopting, amending, or repealing regulations pursuant to this article, the director shall accept the recommendations of the committee if the director determines that the recommendations are practicable and in the interests of the industry and the public. The director shall, within 30 days, provide the committee with a written statement of reasons if the director does not accept a recommendation of the committee.

42814. This article shall remain in effect until January 1, 1996, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which becomes effective on or before January 1, 1996, deletes or extends the dates on which it becomes inoperative and is repealed.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to maintain the Standardization-Fruit and Vegetable Quality Control Program throughout the 1992 growing and marketing season for agricultural products, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1183.5 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

Any officer on active duty or performing inactive-duty training in the armed forces having the general powers of a notary public pursuant to Section 936 or 1044a of Title 10 of the United States Code (Public Law 90-632 and 101-510) and any successor statutes may perform all notarial acts for any person serving in the armed forces of the United States, wherever he or she may be, or for any spouse of a person serving in the armed forces, wherever he or she may be, or for any person eligible for legal assistance under laws and regulations of the United States, wherever he or she may be, for any person serving with, employed by, or accompanying such armed forces outside the United States and outside the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, Guam and the Virgin Islands, and any person subject to the Uniform Code of Military Justice outside of the United States.

Any instrument acknowledged by any such officer or any oath or affirmation made before such officer shall not be rendered invalid by the failure to state therein the place of execution or acknowledgment. No seal or authentication of the officer's certificate of acknowledgment or of any jurat signed by him or her shall be required but the officer taking the acknowledgment shall endorse thereon or attach thereto a certificate substantially in a form authorized by the laws of this state or in the following form:

CHAPTER 78

An act to amend Sections 859a and 1466 of the Penal Code, relating to criminal procedure, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1992 Filed with Secretary of State June 3, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 859a of the Penal Code is amended to read: 859a. (a) If the public offense charged is a felony not punishable with death, the magistrate shall immediately upon the appearance of counsel for the defendant read the complaint to the defendant and ask him or her whether he or she pleads guilty or not guilty to the offense charged therein and to a previous conviction or convictions of crime if charged. While the charge remains pending before the magistrate and when the defendant’s counsel is present, the defendant may plead guilty to the offense charged, or, with the consent of the magistrate and the district attorney or other counsel for the people, plead nolo contendere to the offense charged or plead guilty or nolo contendere to any other offense the commission of which is necessarily included in that with which he or she is charged, or to an attempt to commit the offense charged and to the previous conviction or convictions of crime if charged upon a plea of guilty or nolo contendere. The magistrate may then fix a reasonable bail as provided by this code, and upon failure to deposit the bail or surety, shall immediately commit the defendant to the sheriff. Upon accepting the plea of guilty or nolo contendere the magistrate shall certify the case, including a copy of all proceedings therein and any testimony that in his or her discretion he or she may require to be taken, to the court in which judgment is to be pronounced at the time specified under subdivision (b), and thereupon the proceedings shall be had as if the defendant had pleaded guilty in that court. This subdivision shall not be construed to authorize the receiving of a plea of guilty or nolo contendere from any defendant not represented by counsel. If the defendant subsequently files a written motion to withdraw the plea under Section 1018, the motion shall be heard and determined by the court before which the plea was entered.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 1191 or 1203, the magistrate shall, upon the receipt of a plea of guilty or nolo contendere and upon the performance of the other duties of the magistrate under this section, immediately appoint a time for pronouncing judgment in the superior court, municipal court, or justice court and refer the case to the probation officer if eligible for probation, as prescribed in Section 1191.

SEC. 2. Section 1466 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1466. (a) An appeal may be taken from a judgment or order of an inferior court, in an infraction or misdemeanor case, to the superior court of the county in which the inferior court is located, in the following cases:

(1) By the people:

(A) From an order recusing the district attorney pursuant to Section 1424.

(B) From an order or judgment dismissing or otherwise terminating the action before the defendant has been placed in jeopardy or where the defendant has waived jeopardy.

(D) From an order granting a new trial.

(E) From an order arresting judgment.

(F) From any order made after judgment affecting the substantial rights of the people.

(2) By the defendant:

(A) From a final judgment of conviction. A sentence, an order granting probation, a conviction in a case in which before final judgment the defendant is committed for insanity or is given an indeterminate commitment as a mentally disordered sex offender, or the conviction of a defendant committed for controlled substance addiction shall be deemed to be a final judgment within the meaning of this section. Upon appeal from a final judgment or an order granting probation the court may review any order denying a motion for a new trial.

(B) From any order made after judgment affecting his or her substantial rights.

(b) An appeal from the judgment or appealable order of an inferior court in a felony case is to the court of appeal for the district in which the court is located.

In order to avoid inconsistent appellate practices, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately as an urgency statute.

CHAPTER 79

An act to amend Section 5091 of the Education Code, relating to school districts and community college districts.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State June 3, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5091 of the Education Code is amended to read:

5091. (a) Whenever a vacancy occurs, or whenever a resignation has been filed with the county superintendent of schools containing a deferred effective date, the school district or community college district governing board shall, within 60 days of the vacancy or the filing of the deferred resignation, either order an election or make a provisional appointment to fill the vacancy. A governing board member may not defer the effective date of his or her resignation for more than 60 days after he or she files the resignation with the county superintendent of schools.

In the event that a governing board fails to make a provisional appointment or order an election within the prescribed 60-day period as required by this section, the county superintendent of schools shall call an election to fill the vacancy.

(b) When an election is ordered, it shall be held on the next regular election date provided pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 2500) of Division 4 of the Elections Code not less than 130 days after the occurrence of the vacancy or after the written resignation is filed with the county superintendent of schools.

(c) (1) If a provisional appointment is made within the 60-day period, the registered voters of the district may, within 30 days from the date of the appointment, petition for the conduct of a special election to fill the vacancy. A petition shall be deemed to bear a sufficient number of signatures if signed by at least the number of registered voters of the district equal to 1½ percent of the number of registered voters of the district at the time of the last regular election for governing board members, or 25 registered voters, whichever is greater. However, in districts with registered voters of less than 2,000 persons, a petition shall be deemed to bear a sufficient number of signatures if signed by at least 5 percent of the number of registered voters of the district at the time of the last regular election for governing board members.

(2) The petition shall be submitted to the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction who shall have 30 days to verify the signatures. If the petition is determined to be legally sufficient by the county superintendent of schools, the provisional appointment is terminated, and the county superintendent of schools shall call a special election to be conducted no later than the 120th day after the determination. However, if a regular election date, as defined in Section 2500 of the Elections Code, occurs between the 120th day and the 150th day following the determination, the county superintendent of schools may call the special election to be conducted on the regular election date.

(d) A provisional appointment made pursuant to subdivision (a) confers all powers and duties of a governing board member upon the appointee immediately following his or her appointment.

(e) A person appointed to fill a vacancy shall hold office only until the next regularly scheduled election for district governing board members, whereupon an election shall be held to fill the vacancy for the remainder of the unexpired term. A person elected at an election to fill the vacancy shall hold office for the remainder of the term in which the vacancy occurs or will occur.

(f) (1) Whenever a petition calling for a special election is circulated, the petition shall meet all of the following requirements:

(A) The petition shall contain the clerk’s estimate of the cost of conducting the special election.

(B) The name and residence address of at least one, but not more than five, of the proponents of the petition shall appear on the petition, each of which proponents shall be a registered voter of the school district or community college district, as applicable.

(C) None of the text or other language of the petition shall appear in less than six-point type.

(D) The petition shall be prepared and circulated in conformity with the requirements of Sections 41 and 44 of the Elections Code.

(2) If any of the requirements of this subdivision are not met as to any petition calling for a special election, the county superintendent of schools shall not verify the signatures, nor shall any further action be taken with respect to the petition.

(3) No person shall permit the list of names on petitions prescribed by this section to be used for any purpose other than qualification of the petition for the purpose of holding an election pursuant to this section.
(4) The petition filed with the county superintendent of schools shall be subject to the restrictions in Section 6253.5 of the Government Code.

(g) Elections held pursuant to subdivisions (b) and (c) shall be conducted in as nearly the same manner as practicable as other governing board member elections.

CHAPTER 80

An act to add Section 21101.4 to the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State June 3, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 21101.4 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

21101.4. (a) A local authority may, by ordinance or resolution, adopt rules and regulations for temporarily closing to through traffic a highway under its jurisdiction when all of the following conditions are, after a public hearing, found to exist:

(1) The local authority finds and determines that there is serious and continual criminal activity in the portion of the highway recommended for temporary closure. This finding and determination shall be based upon the recommendation of the police department or, in the case of a highway in an unincorporated area, on the joint recommendation of the sheriff's department and the Department of the California Highway Patrol.

(2) The highway has not been designated as a through highway or arterial street.

(3) Vehicular or pedestrian traffic on the highway contributes to the criminal activity.

(4) The closure will not substantially adversely affect the operation of emergency vehicles, the performance of municipal or public utility services, or the delivery of freight by commercial vehicles in the area of the highway proposed to be temporarily closed.

(b) A highway may be temporarily closed pursuant to subdivision (a) for not more than 18 months, except that period may, pursuant to subdivision (a), be extended for one additional period of not more than 18 months.
An act to amend Section 1317.3 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to hospitals.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State June 3, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares that there is a need to ensure that hospitals are able to assess the treatment needs of a patient and make appropriate decisions to arrange for the care of the patient without fear of liability due to discrimination, including, but not limited to, when the patient is more appropriately served by transferring the patient to a hospital that has agreed to accept the patient for evaluation for possible civil commitment under the appropriate laws of the state. In no way is a transfer of such a patient intended to allow for or encourage the dumping of patients who are for whatever reasons undesirable patients. The intent of this section is rather to acknowledge the need for appropriate referral to specialized treatment services when all parties are in agreement that this is the appropriate course of action in the best interests of the patient involved.

SEC. 2. Section 1317.3 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1317.3. (a) As a condition of licensure, each hospital shall adopt, in consultation with the medical staff, policies and transfer protocols consistent with this article and regulations adopted hereunder.

(b) As a condition of licensure, each hospital shall adopt a policy prohibiting discrimination in the provision of emergency services and care based on race, ethnicity, religion, national origin, citizenship, age, sex, preexisting medical condition, physical or mental handicap, insurance status, economic status, or ability to pay for medical services, except to the extent that a circumstance such as age, sex, preexisting medical condition, or physical or mental handicap is medically significant to the provision of appropriate medical care to the patient. Transfer by a hospital of a patient who requires evaluation for involuntary psychiatric treatment, as determined by the receiving hospital or other receiving health facility, based upon the decision of a professional person duly authorized by law to make such a decision, shall not constitute discrimination for the purposes of this section, if the transferring hospital has not been designated as an evaluation facility by a county pursuant to Section 5150 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and if the transfer is in compliance with Section 1317.2.

(c) As a condition of licensure, each hospital shall require that physicians and surgeons who serve on an “on-call” basis to the hospital’s emergency room cannot refuse to respond to a call on the basis of the patient’s race, ethnicity, religion, national origin, citizenship, age, sex, preexisting medical condition, physical or mental handicap, insurance status, economic status, or ability to pay for medical services, except to the extent that a circumstance such as age, sex, preexisting medical condition, or physical or mental handicap is medically significant to the provision of appropriate medical care to the patient. If a contract between a physician and surgeon and hospital for the provision of emergency room coverage presently prevents the hospital from imposing those conditions, the conditions shall be included in the contract as soon as is legally permissible. Nothing in this section shall be construed as requiring that any physician serve on an “on-call” basis.

(d) As a condition of licensure, all hospitals shall inform all persons presented to an emergency room or their representatives if any are present and the person is unable to understand verbal or written communication, both orally and in writing, of the reasons for the transfer or refusal to provide emergency services and care and of the person’s right to emergency services and care prior to transfer or discharge without regard to ability to pay. Nothing in this subdivision requires notification of the reasons for the transfer in advance of the transfer where a person is unaccompanied and the hospital has made a reasonable effort to locate a representative, and because of the person’s physical or mental condition, notification is not possible. All hospitals shall prominently post a sign in their emergency rooms informing the public of their rights. Both the posted sign and written communication concerning the transfer or refusal to provide emergency services and care shall give the address of the department as the government agency to contact in the event the person wishes to complain about the hospital’s conduct.

(e) If a hospital does not timely adopt the policies and protocols required in this article, the hospital, in addition to denial or revocation of any of its licenses, shall be subject to a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) each day after expiration of 60 days’ written notice from the state department that the hospital’s policies or protocols required by this article are inadequate unless the delay is excused by the state department upon a showing of good and sufficient cause by the hospital. The notice shall include a detailed statement of the state department’s reasons for its determination and suggested changes to the hospital’s protocols which would be acceptable to the state department.

(f) Each hospital’s policies and protocols required in or under this article shall be submitted for approval to the state department by December 31, 1988.
CHAPTER 82

An act to amend Section 3075 of, and to repeal Section 3075.3 of, the Penal Code, relating to parole.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1992 Filed with Secretary of State June 3, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3075 of the Penal Code is amended to read: 3075. (a) There is in each county a board of parole commissioners, consisting of each of the following:
   (1) The sheriff or, in a county with a department of corrections, the director of that department.
   (2) The probation officer.
   (3) A member, not a public official, to be selected from the public by the presiding judge, if any, or, if none, by the senior judge in point of service, of the superior court.
   (b) The public member of the county board of parole commissioners or his or her alternate shall be entitled to his or her actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of his or her duties. In addition, the public member or his or her alternate shall be entitled to per diem at any rate that may be provided by the board of supervisors. The public member or his or her alternate shall hold office for a term of one year and in no event for a period exceeding three consecutive years. The term shall commence on the date of appointment.

SEC. 2. Section 3075.3 of the Penal Code is repealed.

CHAPTER 83

An act to amend Sections 58906 and 84810.5 of, and to add Chapter 8.3 (commencing with Section 52240) to Part 28 of, the Education Code, relating to education, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 4, 1992 Filed with Secretary of State June 4, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 8.3 (commencing with Section 52240) is added to Part 28 of the Education Code, to read:
52240. (a) The Legislature hereby finds and declares all of the following:

(1) Advanced placement courses, for which school credit is awarded, provide rigorous academic coursework opportunities for high school pupils and help to improve the overall curriculum at schools where they are provided.

(2) The successful completion of advanced placement courses and subsequent advanced placement examinations, which are conducted by the College Entrance Examination Board and for which college credit is awarded, provide a cost-effective means for high school pupils to obtain college-level coursework experience.

(3) To the extent that economically disadvantaged pupils are provided financial assistance to take advanced placement examinations, they will be provided with successful college-level experience and be encouraged to pursue postsecondary education opportunities.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature, therefore, that certain state funding that currently is provided to school districts be made available to provide financial assistance to economically disadvantaged pupils in the payment of advanced placement examination fees.

52241. For purposes of this chapter, the following terms have the following meanings:

(a) "Advanced placement examinations" means the advanced placement examinations conducted by the College Entrance Examination Board, on the basis of which participating institutions of postsecondary education award postsecondary academic credit.

(b) "Economically disadvantaged pupils" has the meaning set forth in the definition contained in Section 54030.

52242. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a school district receiving funds pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 54000) of Part 29 may expend any portion of those funds to pay for all or part of the costs of one or more advanced placement examinations that are charged to economically disadvantaged pupils.

52243. No later than June 30, 1995, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall submit a report to the Legislature describing the effectiveness of funding expended pursuant to Section 52242 in increasing the number of economically disadvantaged pupils enrolled in advanced placement courses who take and pass, with a score of 3 or better, the advanced placement examination administered by the College Entrance Examination Board. The report shall include information on all of the following:

(a) The total number of pupils participating in advanced placement examinations, separately identifying the number of economically disadvantaged pupils, and any increases in those numbers as a result of the funding expended pursuant to Section 52242.
(b) Any increase in performance and pass rates on advanced placement examinations on the part of economically disadvantaged pupils.
(c) The number of pupils receiving financial assistance pursuant to Section 52242 for advanced placement examination fees.
(d) The number of economically disadvantaged pupils in advanced placement programs who enroll in higher education institutions, separated by institutional segment.
(e) The number of economically disadvantaged pupils who have passed an advanced placement examination with a score of 3 or better in any subject and have taken an advanced placement course in that subject.

SEC. 2. Section 58906 of the Education Code is amended to read:
58906. Demonstration grants shall be awarded in accordance with the following requirements and considerations:
(a) Three categories shall be developed and utilized in which each category represents one of three types of schools, as determined by the achievement performance of pupils as reported by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, including predominantly high-performing pupils, predominantly moderately performing pupils, and predominantly low-performing pupils.

The highest quality proposals from each category shall be funded in the following order:
(1) Three proposals from the category representing predominantly low-performing pupils.
(2) Two proposals from the category representing predominantly moderately performing pupils.
(3) One proposal from the category representing predominantly high-performing pupils.

This sequence shall be repeated until the State Board of Education determines either that the quality of proposals remaining to be funded does not warrant funding, or that available funding has been fully utilized, or both.

If it is necessary to choose between proposals within the same category that are determined to be of equivalent quality, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall recommend to the State Board of Education the funding of proposals in a manner that, to the maximum extent possible, contributes to an overall funding distribution that is representative of the diversity, on a statewide basis, of the racial and ethnic composition of the pupil population, the geographic location of schools, district size, and school configuration.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature that demonstration grants be awarded based on the quality and extensiveness of communitywide support for the submitted proposal and to proposals that design new or adapt current restructuring elements specifically to meet the needs of a diverse pupil population and that represent a significant departure in process, organization, or content from the ordinary school or classroom organization, assignment of school staff responsibilities, curriculum development, and instructional methods.

The Legislature believes that communitywide support and schoolsite leadership can best be determined by a state-level selection process that includes an oral presentation given by the applicant to the advisory committee.

(c) Consideration may be given to each school district that can demonstrate that the district has already achieved success in implementing any of the restructuring elements described.

(d) Consideration also shall be given to each school district that proposes additional or alternative restructuring options of high quality which are consistent with the goals of this chapter.

(e) Any school that receives demonstration program funding pursuant to this chapter shall use the funds solely to further the purposes of the demonstration program.

SEC. 3. Section 84810.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

84810.5. (a) The Chancellor of the California Community Colleges shall compute each district’s base inmate education allowance based on the prior year’s level of funding, adjusted for such factors as the change in the adult population or other information that the chancellor may receive from the district. No allowances to increase their average daily attendance in those classes over the prior year’s base shall be provided unless all districts are fully funded, in accordance with regulations of the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, or the Legislature appropriates funds specifically for Section 84810 and this section. The base inmate education allowance computed under this subdivision for each district also shall include the average daily attendance, not to exceed 12 units of average daily attendance, for an inmate education program operated by the district during the 1990–91 fiscal year through an agreement under the federal Job Training Partnership Act.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no funds for inmate education programs provided pursuant to Section 84810 shall be considered as part of the base revenues for community college districts in computing apportionments as prescribed in regulations of the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to free school districts from as many rules and regulations as possible with regard to the use of demonstration grants for the Demonstration of Restructuring in Public Education, which are scheduled to be implemented by July 1, 1992, and to authorize certain use of economic impact aid funding and revise the calculation of community college district apportionments prior to the commencement of the 1992–93 fiscal year, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.
An act to add Section 14110.05 to the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to public social services.

[Approved by Governor June 4, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State June 4, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) Implementation of the Medi-Cal eligibility process varies from county to county, resulting in unequal treatment of Medi-Cal applicants.

(b) Nursing facility residents are among the specialized categories of Medi-Cal applicants who face particular barriers to eligibility because they may have great difficulty or be unable to assist in completing Medi-Cal eligibility paperwork requirements when their own resources are too diminished to pay for care.

(c) Nursing facilities have no role in assuring completion of the Medi-Cal application process. Thus, they may be left with neither a source of private payment nor government reimbursement and with no resource other than to write off care expenses as business losses. This strains resources that would otherwise be spent on resident care.

(d) The lack of timely Medi-Cal eligibility determinations is a significant deterrent to provider participation in the program.

SEC. 2. It is the intent of the Legislature to do all of the following:

(a) Ensure that nursing facility residents receive assistance in identifying and securing the information necessary to complete the Medi-Cal eligibility application and determination process.

(b) Ensure the timely processing of Medi-Cal applications for nursing facility residents in accordance with state and federal laws and regulations.

(c) Encourage nursing facility participation in the Medi-Cal program.

(d) Identify barriers to timely Medi-Cal eligibility determinations for nursing facility residents and develop recommendations for improvements in the system.

SEC. 3. Section 14110.05 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14110.05. (a) The department shall ensure that nursing facility applicants have access to assistance in identifying and securing the information necessary to complete the Medi-Cal application and to make the eligibility determination.

(b) The department shall ensure that Medi-Cal applications for nursing facility residents are processed in a timely manner in accordance with state and federal laws and regulations.

SEC. 4. (a) The State Department of Health Services, in consultation with representatives of long-term health care facilities, shall evaluate proposals submitted by representatives of the long-term care industry that would increase the timeliness, efficiency, and effectiveness of the Medi-Cal eligibility determination process statewide for nursing facility residents, including, but not limited to, better use of automation and other new technologies.

(b) The State Department of Health Services shall make all evaluations and any proposals developed available, upon request, to the Legislature.

CHAPTER 85

An act to amend Section 655.5 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to clinical laboratory tests.

[Approved by Governor June 4, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State June 4, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares that health care costs in California are increasing at a rate which makes it difficult for many California citizens and employers to continue to afford health care coverage. It is the intent of the Legislature, in adopting this act, to address one aspect of the health cost escalation spiral in a way that will reduce the cost of health care to California residents. The Legislature intends to eliminate the ability of a health provider to increase the price of a clinical laboratory test when the health provider performs no actual service. The Legislature does not intend to prohibit a reasonable drawing and processing fee for laboratory specimens prepared in the office of a physician and surgeon.

SEC. 2. Section 655.5 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

655.5. It is unlawful for any person licensed under this division or under any initiative act referred to in this division or for any clinical laboratory to charge, bill, or otherwise solicit payment from any patient, client or customer for any clinical laboratory service not actually rendered by such person or clinical laboratory or under his or her or its direct supervision unless the patient, client, or customer is apprised at the first time of such charge, billing, or solicitation and any subsequent charge, billing, or solicitation of the name, address, and charges of the clinical laboratory performing the service. The first such written charge, bill, or other solicitation of payment and any subsequent charge, bill, or other solicitation of payment shall separately set forth the name, address, and charges of the clinical laboratory concerned and shall clearly show whether or not such charge is included in the total of the account, bill, or charge.
It is also unlawful for any person licensed under this division or under any initiative act referred to in this division to charge additional charges for any clinical laboratory service that is not actually rendered by the licensee to the patient and itemized in the charge, bill, or other solicitation of payment. This section shall not be construed to prohibit any itemized charge for any service actually rendered to the patient by the licensee.

This section shall not apply to any person or clinical laboratory who or which contracts directly with a health care service plan licensed pursuant to Section 1349 of the Health and Safety Code, if such services are to be provided to members of the plan on a prepaid basis and without additional charge or liability on account thereof.

A violation of this section is a public offense and is punishable upon a first conviction by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or by imprisonment in the state prison, or by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by both such imprisonment and fine. A second or subsequent conviction is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Sections 1, 2, 3, 4, and 8 of, and to add Section 13.5 to, Chapter 1143 of the Statutes of 1991, relating to the Mission Bay Development Area, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State June 9, 1992.]

(f) "Mission Bay Specific Plan" means that certain specific plan enacted by the planning commission of the city in satisfaction of the requirements of Article 8 (commencing with Section 65450) of Chapter 3 of Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code and the requirements of the charter of the city by Resolution No. 12040, dated September 27, 1990, and by Resolution No. 13017, dated February 14, 1991.

(g) "Public trust" means the public trust for commerce, navigation, and fisheries.

SEC. 2. Section 2 of Chapter 1143 of the Statutes of 1991 is amended to read:

Sec. 2. The Legislature hereby finds and declares as follows:

(a) Certain of the lands within the Mission Bay Development Area are tide or submerged lands which have been filled and reclaimed.

(b) The filled and reclaimed tide and submerged lands within the Mission Bay Development Area are useful for and in connection with, the highly beneficial plan of improvement for harbor development represented by the Mission Bay Specific Plan and related plans for developing consolidated modern port facilities outside the Mission Bay Development Area.

(c) Certain of the tide and submerged lands within the Mission Bay Development Area have been authorized to be, and have been, laid off and sold to private parties pursuant to various acts, including Chapter 41 of the Statutes of 1851, Chapter 160 of the Statutes of 1853, Chapter 543 of the Statutes of 1867–68; Chapter 490 of the Statutes of 1871–72; Chapter 265 of the Statutes of 1903, Chapter 434 of the Statutes of 1947, and Chapter 1252 of the Statutes of 1953.

(d) Certain of the streets originally laid out within the Mission Bay Development Area are filled and not used, suitable, or necessary for navigation purposes and certain portions of those streets are not necessary for street purposes.

(e) Section 3 of Article X of the California Constitution allows the sale to any city, city and county, municipal corporation, private person, partnership, or corporation of tidelands reserved to the state solely for street purposes, which tidelands the Legislature finds and declares are not used and not necessary for navigation purposes, subject to such conditions as the Legislature may establish.

(f) There is a dispute between the city and the state with respect to the extent to which certain street areas within the Mission Bay Development Area may be subject to the public trust or other encumbrances that may have arisen because the lands were once sovereign lands of the state. The state contends that a total of approximately 40 disputed acres within the Mission Bay Development Area was (1) reserved to the state for street purposes, and (2) is held by the city subject to the public trust. The city contends that it holds those disputed street areas in fee simple free of the public trust or any other such encumbrances. It is in the public interest that this dispute be resolved in a manner that furthers public trust purposes.

(g) The existing fragmented pattern of public and private ownership within the Mission Bay Development Area, especially the industrial area street system and parcelization imposed on the area largely as the result of subdivisions and sales in the latter half of the 19th century, limit both the potential development of the area and the expansion of desirable public uses in the area consistent with the public trust and the Burton Act trust, such as open space and parks along the waterfront and elsewhere within the Mission Bay Development Area, public access to the shoreline, and consolidated, modern facilities for the city. Therefore, the city has developed and adopted the Mission Bay Specific Plan, and the city has negotiated a development agreement pursuant to Article 2.5 (commencing with Section 65864) of Chapter 4 of Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code with the current private owner of most of the real property within the Mission Bay Development Area to enable the redevelopment of the Mission Bay Development Area; to respond to and rectify the existing limitations on public trust uses which prevent implementation of the Mission Bay Specific Plan; and to facilitate development of consolidated, modern port facilities outside the Mission Bay Development Area. The Mission Bay Specific Plan and the development agreement approved by the city for the development of the Mission Bay Development Area contemplate that certain lands in dispute with the state and certain other lands subject to the public trust or the Burton Act trust shall be conveyed.
free of those trusts to the current private owner of most of the real property within the Mission Bay Development Area, and the public trust and the Burton Act trust over certain other lands shall be terminated, in exchange for (1) the conveyance to the city subject to the public trust and the Burton Act trust of certain lands owned by that private owner, or the conveyance to the city of an easement over those lands which will permanently subject the lands to the public trust and the Burton Act trust, (2) the conveyance to the city of an easement over certain other lands in private ownership which will permanently encumber those lands with the public trust, and (3) the agreement by the city that certain of the street areas in dispute with the state and other areas shall be permanently subjected to the public trust by easement or otherwise. In preparing the Mission Bay Specific Plan, the city has considered present and future public trust and Burton Act trust needs and the purposes for which the city holds or may hold property subject to those trusts within the Mission Bay Development Area. The Mission Bay Specific Plan and that development agreement demonstrate that (1) those lands within the Mission Bay Development Area to be devoted to nonpublic trust purposes or purposes other than those stated in the Burton Act are no longer needed or required for public trust purposes or those purposes provided for in the Burton Act, and (2) the lands to be conveyed to the city, or which will be encumbered by a public trust easement, or which the city will agree to permanently subject to the trust, will be devoted to trust uses as provided for in the Mission Bay Specific Plan and other related plans for maritime development and will, therefore, be highly useful for public trust purposes and Burton Act trust purposes. Specifically, through acquisition of privately owned lands in the pier 70 through 80 area of the city, the city will be able to develop between four and nine container berths in the pier 70 through 80 area. Combining facilities in the pier 70 through 80 area through acquisition of those privately owned lands will also allow the city to take advantage of the existing container-oriented and intermodal infrastructure at piers 80 and 94–96, including the intermodal container transfer facility. In the Mission Bay Development Area, on the other hand, the consolidation of ownerships and the provision by the city of certain additional real property to be developed for public recreational use pursuant to license, together with the toxic remediation of all real property to be subjected to the public trust or the Burton Act trust or to be developed for recreational use will permit the development, pursuant to the Mission Bay Specific Plan, of improved open space, public access, waterfront parks, and other public facilities consistent with the public trust and the Burton Act trust. This development would otherwise not be feasible because of existing ownership patterns and lack of city funds. The consolidation of ownerships referred to in this section will also be facilitated by the resolution of the dispute with the state over the extent to which the street areas within the Mission Bay Development Area are subject to the public trust. It is intended that the resolution of that dispute and the consolidation of public and private ownerships will be accomplished by and through the exchanges of lands previously referred to. These exchanges shall be for the purpose of effectuating the public trust uses provided for in the Mission Bay Specific Plan and related plans for developing consolidated modern port facilities. The proposed exchanges will not interfere with, and will, in fact, be consistent with and further the purposes of the public trust and the Burton Act trust provided that:

(1) The value of the lands or interests in lands to be conveyed to the city and subjected to the public trust or the Burton Act trust, the value of the public trust easement to be conveyed to the city over certain other lands, and the value of the public trust interest created by the agreement of the city that certain of the street areas in dispute with the state and other areas shall be subjected to the public trust by easement or otherwise are equal to, or greater than, the value of the lands to be conveyed by the city and the value of the public trust or Burton Act trust interest to be terminated pursuant to those exchanges.

(2) The lands or interests in lands to be exchanged by the city and over which the public trust or the Burton Act trust or both will be terminated have been filled and reclaimed, those parcels consisting entirely of dry land lying above the present ordinary high water mark, and are not necessary for the highly beneficial program for development of the harbor and waterfront of the city represented by the Mission Bay Specific Plan and related plans for developing consolidated modern port facilities.

(3) The lands to be exchanged by the city and over which the public trust or the Burton Act trust or both will be terminated are nonwaterfront, having been cut off from direct access to the waters of San Francisco Bay by past filling of intervening property or by a major roadway (China Basin Street), which has provided, and will continue to provide, lateral public access to the water along the entirety of the Mission Bay Development Area.

(4) The lands to be exchanged by the city and over which the Burton Act trust or the public trust or both will be terminated constitute a relatively small portion of the tide and submerged lands granted to the city.

(5) The lands to be exchanged by the city and over which the public trust or the Burton Act trust or both will be terminated are no longer needed or required for the promotion of the public trust or the Burton Act trust.

(h) Substantial portions of the approximately 40 acres of granted tidelands in dispute within the Mission Bay Development Area to be conveyed into private ownership were reserved to the state for street purposes and are not used or necessary for navigation purposes, and therefore under Section 3 of Article X of the California Constitution can and should be conveyed into private ownership for uses consistent with and in furtherance of the Mission Bay Specific Plan.

(i) It is therefore the intent of the Legislature, on and subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this act, (1) to authorize, ratify, and confirm any agreement by the city to enter into an exchange or exchanges of granted tidelands and to terminate the public trust or the Burton Act trust or both over granted tidelands consistent with the findings and declarations stated in this act, and (2) to authorize

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares as follows:
(a) Assessments of state-assessed property by the State Board of Equalization have on many occasions been subject to legal challenge.
(b) Valuation issues raised by those lawsuits have placed in question significant amounts of property tax revenues that have already been collected and expended for the provision of essential public services, and thus jeopardized the ability of cities, counties, school entities, and special districts to adequately fund essential public services in the future.
(c) Given the number and potential fiscal impact of lawsuits contesting State Board of Equalization assessments of property, it is appropriate and necessary that the Legislature clarify state policy with respect to the settlement of those lawsuits.

SEC. 2. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, and in addition to its general authority with respect to the settlement of lawsuits, the State Board of Equalization is expressly authorized to enter into, in its discretion, the settlement of a lawsuit that provides for the manner in which the affected state assessee’s property will be valued in future assessment years, where all of the following are satisfied:
(1) The lawsuit involves refunds with respect to one or more prior assessment years.
(2) A judgment in favor of the taxpayer in the lawsuit would have a significant, negative impact on the fiscal status of cities, counties, school entities, and special districts.
(3) The State Board of Equalization determines that the settlement is reasonably balanced against any assessment reductions in future assessment years that would result from the settlement and the risks and expense of continued litigation.
(4) The required number of affected counties, as specified in the settlement, agree to the settlement.
(5) The State Board of Equalization has obtained the Attorney General’s approval of the settlement.
(b) For purposes of this act, “settlement of a lawsuit or lawsuits” includes, but is not limited to, a settlement agreement with all parties to, and all taxpayers included within the scope of, a validation proceeding filed pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 860) of Title 10 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, that includes as a party or within its scope all parties to the settlement agreement, and in which the validity and enforceability of the settlement agreement is confirmed. Any settlement agreement executed pursuant to this act shall be deemed a contract within the meaning of Section 53511 of the Government Code.

SEC. 3. Section 2 of this act does not constitute a change in, but is declaratory of, existing law, including, but not limited to, Section 19 of Article XIII of the California Constitution.

SEC. 4. For any validation action filed pursuant to this act during calendar year 1992, the time limitation for filing contained in Section 860 of the Code of Civil Procedure is extended from 60 days to 90 days.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to clarify the authority of the State Board of Equalization to settle pending lawsuits that, if resolved in favor of the plaintiffs therein, could result in severe property tax revenue losses to cities, counties, school entities, and special districts, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 94

An act to amend Sections 8664.5, 8664.8, 8680, 8681, 8681.5, 8681.7, and 8692.5 of, to add Section 12003.5 to, and to add Article 12 (commencing with Section 8150) to Chapter 1 of, and Article 1.4 (commencing with Section 8610.1) to Chapter 3 of, Part 3 of Division 6 of, to repeal Sections 8664.65 and 8664.67 of, to amend and repeal Section 8683 of, and to repeal and add Section 8682 of, the Fish and Game Code, relating to marine resources, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State June 18, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 12 (commencing with Section 8150) is added to Chapter 1 of Part 3 of Division 6 of the Fish and Game Code, to read:
Article 12. Impacted Fisheries

8150. The Legislature finds and declares that impacted fishermen are experienced in the use of gill and trammel nets and are capable of safely operating in the herring gill net fishery. Notwithstanding any other section in this code, the experience points requirement for eligibility to obtain a herring gill net permit contained in Section 8552.8 shall be waived for impacted fishermen from January 1, 1992, to January 1, 1996.

No herring gill net permit obtained by an impacted fisherman pursuant to this section may be transferred by that person during the first five years that permit is held by that person, except that, in the event of the death of a permittee, the permit may be transferred pursuant to Section 8104.

Impacted fishermen seeking to obtain herring gill net permits pursuant to this section shall be given preference in obtaining any low-interest loans that may be offered by the state to commercial fishermen, in order to purchase herring gill net permits.

8151. "Impacted fisherman" for purposes of Section 8150 means any person who, from January 1, 1986, to December 31, 1990, inclusive, landed a minimum of 1,000 pounds of fish, other than shark or rockfish, in each of at least three calendar years during that period with set gill and trammel nets and landed the fish at ports within areas subject to gill and trammel net closures pursuant to Section 8664.5. Landings shall be verified by the fisherman's submittal of landing receipts as provided in Section 8043.

SEC. 1.5. Article 1.4 (commencing with Section 8610.1) is added to Chapter 3 of Part 3 of Division 6 of the Fish and Game Code, to read:

Article 1.4. Marine Resources Protection Act of 1990

8610.1. The Marine Resources Protection Act of 1990 (Art. X B, Cal. Const.) was adopted as an initiative constitutional amendment at the November 6, 1990, general election. This article codifies and implements that initiative constitutional amendment.

8610.2. (a) "District" for the purposes of this article and of Article X B of the California Constitution means a fish and game district as defined in this code on January 1, 1990.

(b) Except as specifically provided in this article, all references to sections, articles, chapters, parts, and divisions of this code are to those statutes in effect on January 1, 1990.

(c) "Ocean waters" means the waters of the Pacific Ocean regulated by the state.

(d) "Zone" means the Marine Resources Protection Zone established pursuant to this article. The zone consists of the following:

Miguel, Santa Rosa, Santa Cruz, Anacapa, San Nicolas, Santa Barbara, Santa Catalina, and San Clemente.

(2) The area within three nautical miles offshore of the mainland coast, and the area within three nautical miles off any manmade breakwater, between a line extending due west from Point Arguello and a line extending due west from the Mexican border.

(3) In waters less than 35 fathoms between a line running 180 degrees true from Point Fermin and a line running 270 degrees true from the south jetty of Newport Harbor.

8610.3. (a) From January 1, 1991, to December 31, 1993, inclusive, gill nets or trammel nets may only be used in the zone pursuant to a nontransferable permit issued by the department pursuant to Section 8610.5.

(b) On and after January 1, 1994, gill nets and trammel nets shall not be used in the zone.

8610.4. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, gill nets and trammel nets may not be used to take any species of rockfish.

(b) In ocean waters north of Point Arguello on and after November 7, 1990, the use of gill nets and trammel nets shall be regulated by Article 4 (commencing with Section 8660), Article 5 (commencing with Section 8680) and Article 6 (commencing with Section 8720) of Chapter 3 of Part 3 of Division 6, or any regulation or order issued pursuant to these articles, in effect on January 1, 1990, except that as to Sections 8680, 8681, 8681.7, and 8682, and subdivisions (a) to (f), inclusive, of Section 8681.5, or any regulation or order issued pursuant to these sections, the provisions in effect on January 1, 1989, shall control where not in conflict with other provisions of this article, and shall be applicable to all ocean waters. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, the Legislature shall not be precluded from imposing more restrictions on the use or possession of gill nets or trammel nets. The director shall not authorize the use of gill nets or trammel nets in any area where the use is not permitted even if the director makes specified findings.

8610.5. The department shall issue a permit to use a gill net or trammel net in the zone for the period specified in subdivision (a) of Section 8610.3 to any applicant who meets both of the following requirements:

(a) Has a commercial fishing license issued pursuant to Sections 7850 to 7852.3, inclusive.

(b) Has a permit issued pursuant to Section 8681 and is presently the owner or operator of a vessel equipped with a gill net or trammel net.

8610.6. The department shall charge the following fees for permits issued pursuant to Section 8610.5 pursuant to the following schedule:
Calendar Year | Fee
---|---
1991 | $250
1993 | 1,000

8610.7. (a) Commencing on July 1, 1993, there shall be paid to any person who submitted the form required by Section 7 of Article X B of the California Constitution within the 90-day period specified in subdivision (a) of that section, holds a permit issued pursuant to Section 5 of Article X B, who operates in the zone established pursuant to that article, who surrenders that permit to the department between July 1, 1993, and January 1, 1994, inclusive, and who agrees to permanently discontinue fishing with gill and trammel nets within the zone, a one-time compensation consisting of the average annual ex vessel value of the fish other than any species of rockfish landed by a fisherman, which were taken pursuant to a valid general gill net or trammel net permit issued pursuant to Sections 8681 and 8682 within the zone during the years 1983 to 1987, inclusive. The department shall determine the amount of compensation to be paid by reviewing logs and landing receipts submitted to the department.

(b) Any person who did not submit the form required by Section 7 of Article X B of the California Constitution within the 90-day period specified in subdivision (a) of that section, or whose claim to compensation cannot be verified, shall not be compensated.

(c) Any person who is denied compensation by the department, as a result of the department's failure to verify landings, may appeal that decision to the commission.

(d) The State Board of Control shall, prior to the disbursement of any funds, verify the eligibility of each person seeking compensation and the amount of the compensation to be provided in order to ensure compliance with this section.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any legal action or proceeding to challenge the validity of subdivision (b) of Section 3, or of Section 7, of Article X B of the California Constitution shall be commenced on or before April 1, 1993. In all actions brought to challenge the validity of subdivision (b) of Section 3, or of Section 7, of Article X B of the California Constitution, including the hearing of any such action on appeal from the decision of a lower court, all courts where those actions are filed or pending shall give preference to those actions over all other civil actions filed or pending in that court, with respect to setting the action for trial or hearing, and in trying or hearing the matter, to the end that all such actions shall be heard and determined as expeditiously as possible.

(f) If subdivision (b) of Section 3, or Section 7, of Article X B of the California Constitution is held invalid, any compensation paid to a person pursuant to this section shall be repaid to the state. No person shall be issued any permit or license pursuant to this article until repayment has been made.

8610.8. (a) There is hereby created the Marine Resources Protection Account in the Fish and Game Preservation Fund. On and after January 1, 1991, the department shall collect any and all fees required by this article. All fees received by the department pursuant to this article shall be deposited in the account and shall be expended or encumbered to compensate persons who surrender permits pursuant to Section 8610.7 or to provide for administration of this article. All funds received by the department during any fiscal year pursuant to this article which are not expended during that fiscal year to compensate persons as set forth in Section 8610.7 or to provide for administration of this article shall be carried over into the following fiscal year and shall be used only for those purposes. All interest accrued from the department's retention of fees received pursuant to this article shall be credited to the account. The accrued interest may only be expended for the purposes authorized by this article. The account shall continue in existence, and the requirement to pay fees under this article shall remain in effect, until the compensation provided in Section 8610.7 has been fully funded or until January 1, 1995, whichever occurs first.

(b) An amount, not to exceed 15 percent of the total annual revenues deposited in the account excluding any interest accrued or any funds carried over from a prior fiscal year may be expended for the administration of this article and Article X B of the California Constitution.

(c) In addition to a valid California sportfishing license issued pursuant to Section 7149, 7149.1, or 7149.2 and any applicable sport license stamp issued pursuant to this code, a person taking fish from ocean waters south of a line extending due west from Point Arguello for sport purposes shall have permanently affixed to that person's sportfishing license a marine resources protection stamp which may be obtained from the department upon payment of a fee of three dollars ($3). This subdivision does not apply to any one-day fishing license.

(d) In addition to a valid California commercial passenger fishing boat license required by Section 7920, the owner of any boat or vessel who, for profit, permits any person to fish from the boat or vessel in ocean waters south of a line extending due west from Point Arguello, shall obtain and permanently affix to the license a commercial marine resources protection stamp which may be obtained from the department upon payment of a fee of three dollars ($3).

(e) The department may accept contributions or donations from any person who wishes to donate money to be used for the compensation of commercial gill net and trammel net fishermen who surrender permits under this article.

(f) This section shall become inoperative on January 1, 1995.

8610.9. Any funds remaining in the Marine Resources Protection Account in the Fish and Game Preservation Fund on or after January 1, 1995, shall, with the approval of the commission, be used to provide grants to colleges, universities, and other bona fide scientific research groups to fund marine resource related scientific research within the ecological reserves established by Section 8610.14. An amount, not to exceed 15 percent of the total funds remaining in that account on or after January 1, 1995, may be expended for the administration of this section.

8610.10. On or before December 31 of each year, the director shall prepare and submit a report to the Legislature regarding the implementation of this article, including an accounting of all funds. The director shall include in the report an account of the costs incurred by the department for the administration of this article and Article X B of the California Constitution.

8610.12. To increase the state's scientific and biological information on the ocean fisheries of this state, the department shall establish a program whereby it can monitor and evaluate the daily landings of fish by commercial fishermen who are permitted under this article to take these fish. The cost of implementing this monitoring program shall be borne by the commercial fishing industry.

8610.13. (a) The penalty for a first violation of Sections 8610.3 and 8610.4 is a fine of not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) and not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) and a mandatory suspension of any license, permit, or stamp to take, receive, transport, purchase, sell, barter, or process fish for commercial purposes for six months. The penalty for a second or subsequent violation of Sections 8610.3 and 8610.4 is a fine of not less than two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) and not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000) and a mandatory suspension of any license, permit, or stamp to take, receive, transport, purchase, sell, barter, or process fish for commercial purposes for one year.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, a violation of Section 8610.8 shall be deemed a violation of Section 7145, and the penalty for such violation shall be consistent with Section 12002.2.

(c) If a person convicted of a violation of Section 8610.3, 8610.4, or 8610.8 is granted probation, the court shall impose as a term or condition of probation, in addition to any other term or condition of probation, that the person pay at least the minimum fine prescribed in this section.

8610.14. Prior to January 1, 1994, the commission shall establish four new ecological reserves in ocean waters along the mainland coast. Each ecological reserve shall have a surface area of at least two square miles. The commission shall restrict the use of these ecological reserves to scientific research relating to the management and enhancement of marine resources.

8610.15. This article does not preempt or supersede any other closures to protect any other wildlife, including sea otters, whales, and shorebirds.

8610.16. If any provision of this article or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, that invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this article which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this article are severable.

SEC. 2. Section 8664.5 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

8664.5. (a) Notwithstanding Sections 8693 and 8724, gill nets and trammel nets shall not be used in those portions of District 17 between a line extending 220° magnetic from the mouth of Waddell Creek in Santa Cruz County and a line extending 252° magnetic from Yankee Point, Carmel Highlands, in Monterey County in waters 30 fathoms or less in depth at mean lower low water.

(b) Notwithstanding Sections 8693 and 8724, gill nets and trammel nets shall not be used in that portion of District 18 north of a line extending due west from Point Sal in Santa Barbara County in waters 30 fathoms or less in depth at mean lower low water.

(c) Notwithstanding Sections 8693 and 8724, any person using gill nets or trammel nets in those portions of Districts 17 and 18 from a line extending 220° magnetic from the mouth of Waddell Creek in Santa Cruz County to a line extending due west from Point Sal in Santa Barbara County in waters between 30 fathoms and 40 fathoms in depth at mean lower low water shall comply with all of the following requirements in order to ensure adequate monitoring of fishing effort to protect marine mammals:

(1) Prior to the use, the person shall notify the department that gill nets or trammel nets will be set in the area.

(2) The person shall give adequate notification, as determined by the department, to the department at its office in Monterey or Morro Bay at least 24 hours prior to each fishing trip to ensure full compliance and cooperation with the monitoring program. The department may require that an authorized monitor be on board the vessel. The department shall determine whether on board, at sea, or shoreside monitoring is appropriate. If the authorized monitor is not on board the fishing vessel, the fishing vessel operator and the authorized monitor shall make every effort to remain in radio contact if the radio equipment is made available to the monitor.

(3) To ensure the effectiveness of the monitoring program, gill nets and trammel nets may be set or pulled only between one-half hour after sunrise and one-half hour before sunset.

(4) A permit may be revoked and canceled pursuant to Section 8681 for failure to comply with the department's notification and monitoring requirements.

(d) If the director determines that the use of gill or trammel nets is having an adverse impact on any population of any species of seabird, marine mammal, or fish, the director shall issue an order prohibiting or restricting the use, method of use, size, or materials used in the construction of either or both types of those nets in all or any part of District 10 or 17, or in all or any part of District 18 north of a line extending due west from Point Conception in Santa Barbara County for a specified period. The order shall take effect no later than 48 hours after its issuance. The director shall hold a properly noticed public hearing in a place convenient to the affected area within one week of the effective date of the order to describe the action taken and shall take testimony as to the effect of the order and determine whether any modification of the order is necessary.

(e) For purposes of this section, "adverse impact" means either of the following:

(1) The danger of irreparable injury to, or mortality in, any population of any species of seabird, marine mammal, or fish which is occurring at a rate that threatens the viability of the population as a direct result of the use of gill nets or trammel nets.

(2) The impairment of the recovery of a species listed as an endangered species or threatened species pursuant to the federal Endangered Species Act (16 U.S.C. Sec. 1531 et seq.) or the California Endangered Species Act (Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 2050) of Division 3) or a species of seabird, marine mammal, or fish designated as fully protected under this code, as a direct result of the use of gill nets or trammel nets.

(f) This section does not apply to any gill net with meshes 3 1/2 inches or less in length in any portion of District 18 between Yankee Point in Monterey County and Point Sal in Santa Barbara County.

(g) The Legislature finds and declares that this section, as amended by Chapter 884 of the Statutes of 1990, and as amended by the act that amended this section during the 1992 portion of the 1991–92 Regular Session, is more restrictive on the use and possession of gill nets and trammel nets than the version of this section in effect on January 1, 1990, and therefore complies with Section 8610.4, and Section 4 of Article X B of the California Constitution.

SEC. 3. Section 8664.8 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

8664.8. (a) Notwithstanding Sections 8685, 8687, 8696, and 8724, and except as provided in subdivisions (c) and (d), set or drift gill or trammel nets shall not be used in ocean waters between a line extending 245° magnetic from the most westerly point of the west point of the Point Reyes headlands in Marin County and the westerly extension of the California-Oregon boundary.

(b) (1) Notwithstanding Sections 8664.5, 8687, 8696, and 8724, set or drift gill or trammel nets shall not be used in waters which are 40 fathoms or less in depth at mean lower low water between a line extending 245° magnetic from the most westerly point of the west point of the Point Reyes headlands in Marin County and a line extending 225° magnetic from Pillar Point at Half Moon Bay in San Mateo County.

(2) Notwithstanding Sections 8664.5, 8687, 8696, and 8724, set or drift gill or trammel nets shall not be used in ocean waters which are 60 fathoms or less in depth at mean lower low water between a line extending 225° magnetic from Pillar Point at Half Moon Bay in San Mateo County to a line extending 220° magnetic from the mouth of Waddell Creek in Santa Cruz County.

(c) Subdivisions (a) and (b) do not apply to the use of drift gill nets operated under a permit issued by the department in that part of Arcata Bay in Humboldt County lying northeast of the Samoa Bridge during the period from April 1 to September 30, inclusive. The department may issue not more than six permits pursuant to this subdivision. Each permit shall specify the amount and type of gear which may be used under the permit.

(d) Subdivisions (a) and (b) do not apply to the use of set gill nets used pursuant to Article 15 (commencing with Section 8550) of Chapter 2 of Part 3 of Division 6 or regulations adopted under that article or to the use of drift gill nets with a mesh size of 14 inches or more.

(e) (1) Notwithstanding subdivision (b) and Sections 8687, 8696, and 8724, gill or trammel nets shall not be used within three nautical miles of the Farallon Islands in San Francisco County, and within three nautical miles of Noonday Rock buoy located approximately 3½ miles 276° magnetic from North Farallon Island.

(2) If the director determines that the use of set or drift gill or trammel nets is having an adverse impact on any population of any species of sea bird, marine mammal, or fish, the director shall issue an order prohibiting the use of those nets between three nautical miles and five nautical miles of the Farallon Islands and Noonday Rock buoy or any portion of that area. The order shall take effect not later than 48 hours after its issuance. The director shall hold a properly noticed public hearing in a place convenient to the affected area within one week of the effective date of the order to describe the action taken and shall take testimony as to the effect of the order and determine whether any modification of the order is necessary. Gill and trammel nets used to take fish in District 10 shall be marked at each end with a buoy displaying above its waterline in Arabic numerals at least two inches high, the fisherman’s identification number issued by the department under Section 7852. Nets shall be marked at both ends and at least every 250 fathoms between the ends with flags of the same color and at least 144 square inches in size, acceptable to the department.

(f) The Legislature finds and declares that this section, as amended by Chapter 1633 of the Statutes of 1990, is more restrictive on the use and possession of gill nets and trammel nets than the version of this section in effect on January 1, 1990, and therefore complies with Section 8610.4, and Section 4 of Article X B of the California Constitution.

SEC. 4. Section 8664.65 of the Fish and Game Code is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 8664.67 of the Fish and Game Code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 8680 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:
8680. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that it is in the best interest of the people of the state, the commercial fishing industry, and California's marine resources that fishermen who use gill nets or trammel nets be experienced in the use of those nets.

(b) In accordance with Section 4 of Article X.B of the California Constitution, this section contains the provisions in effect on January 1, 1990.

SEC. 7. Section 8681 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

8681. (a) Gill nets or trammel nets shall not be used for commercial purposes except under a revocable, nontransferable permit issued by the department. Each permittee shall keep an accurate record of his or her fishing operations in a logbook furnished by the department. A permit may be revoked and canceled by the commission when so recommended by the department upon a conviction for a violation of this article, or regulation authorized by this article, by the permittee, his or her agents, servants, or employees, or those acting under his or her direction and control. A permit may be revoked and canceled for a period not to exceed one year from the date of revocation.

(b) In accordance with Section 4 of Article X.B of the California Constitution, this section contains the provisions in effect on January 1, 1989.

SEC. 8. Section 8681.5 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

8681.5. (a) The department shall issue no new gill net or trammel net permits under Section 8681, except to those persons who applied prior to January 1, 1986, to take the examination for a gill and trammel net permit issued pursuant to Section 8681 and who pass the examination. However, the department may renew an existing, valid permit issued under Section 8681, under regulations adopted pursuant to Section 8682 and upon payment of the fee prescribed under Section 8683.

(c) The fee collected by the department for the transfer of a gill and trammel net permit issued pursuant to Section 8682 shall not exceed the cost of the permit fee as prescribed under Section 8683.

(d) For purposes of subdivision (b), the death of the holder of the permit is a disability which authorizes transfer of the permit by that person's estate to a qualified fisherman pursuant to Section 8682. For purposes of a transfer under this subdivision, the estate shall renew the permit, as specified in Section 8681, if the permittee did not renew the permit before his or her death. The application for transfer by that person’s estate shall be received by the department, including the name, address, and telephone number of the qualified fisherman to whom the permit will be transferred, within one year of the date of death of the permitholder. If no transfer is initiated within one year of the date of death of the permitholder, the permit shall revert to the department for disposition pursuant to Section 8681.

(e) Any active participant who becomes disabled in such a manner that he or she can no longer earn a livelihood from commercial fishing may transfer his or her permit as provided under this section.

(f) The Legislature finds and declares that this section, as amended by this act at the 1991-92 Regular Session of the Legislature, is more restrictive on the use and possession of gill nets and trammel nets than the version of this section in effect on January 1, 1989, and therefore complies with Section 8610.4, and Section 4 of Article X.B of the California Constitution.

SEC. 9. Section 8681.7 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

8681.7. (a) Notwithstanding Section 8681.5, any person who possessed a valid permit issued pursuant to Section 8681 and who was denied renewal of that permit, may appeal to the commission where evidence can be presented that illness or the loss of a vessel resulted in the person not meeting the qualifications for renewal or reissuance of that permit.

(b) The appeal shall be filed with the commission within 60 days of a denial of the renewal of a permit.

(c) If the commission determines that a permit is to be issued to a prior permittee under this section, a permit shall be made available to that person upon payment of required fees.

(d) In accordance with Section 4 of Article X.B of the California Constitution, this section contains the provisions in effect on January 1, 1989.

SEC. 10. Section 8682 of the Fish and Game Code is repealed.

SEC. 11. Section 8682 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

8682. (a) The commission shall establish regulations for the issuance of gill net and trammel net permits as necessary to establish an orderly gill net and trammel net fishery. In promulgating regulations, the commission shall consider recommendations of the gill net and trammel net advisory committee created pursuant to subdivision (b). The regulations shall include, but are not limited to, a requirement that persons being granted a permit have had previous experience as a crewmember of a vessel using gill nets or trammel nets or have successfully passed a proficiency test administered by the department, under such regulations as the commission shall prescribe.

(b) The director shall establish an advisory committee, consisting of fishermen experienced in the use of gill nets and trammel nets, to advise the department in developing regulations to be proposed to the commission governing the use of gill nets and trammel nets.

(c) In accordance with Section 4 of Article X B of the California Constitution, this section contains the provisions in effect on January 1, 1989.

8692.5. (a) Not more than 1,250 fathoms (7,500 feet) of gill net or trammel net shall be fished in combination each day from any vessel for lingcod in ocean waters.

(b) The Legislature finds and declares that this section, as amended by this act at the 1991-92 Regular Session of the Legislature, is more restrictive on the use and possession of gill nets and trammel nets than the provisions in effect on January 1, 1990, and therefore complies with Section 8610.4, and Section 4 of Article X B of the California Constitution.

SEC. 15. Section 12003.5 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

12003.5. (c) If a person convicted of a violation of Section 8610.3, 8610.4, or 8610.8 is granted probation, the court shall impose as a term or condition of probation, in addition to any other term or condition of probation, a requirement that the person pay at least the minimum fine prescribed in this section.

Department of Fish and Game to be available for encumbrance without regard to fiscal year to provide the compensation provided for in Section 8610.7 of the Fish and Game Code.

SEC. 17. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

In order to extend the commencement date for requiring persons, who engage in or propose to engage in federally related real estate appraisal activity to be licensed or certified, to June 30, 1992, or until such time as the Secretary of Business, Transportation and Housing determines that a specified number of persons is licensed or certified, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

In the event that this section is made applicable in any county, by the appointment of an alternate eighth member, the alternate safety member shall not sit and act for the eighth member.

SEC. 2. Section 31520.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

In order to remove, at the earliest possible time, a condition upon the receipt of compensation by certain optional alternate members of the county retirement board of Santa Barbara County and so facilitate the orderly and equitable administration of that county retirement system, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 97

An act to amend Section 3482.5 of, and to add Section 3482.6 to, the Civil Code, relating to nuisance.

[Approved by Governor June 23, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State June 24, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3482.5 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

3482.5. (a) (1) No agricultural activity, operation, or facility, or appurtenances thereof, conducted or maintained for commercial purposes, and in a manner consistent with proper and accepted customs and standards, as established and followed by similar agricultural operations in the same locality, shall be or become a nuisance, private or public, due to any changed condition in or about the locality, after it has been in operation for more than three years if it was not a nuisance at the time it began.

(2) No activity of a district agricultural association that is operated in compliance with Division 3 (commencing with Section 3001) of the Food and Agricultural Code, shall be or become a private or public nuisance due to any changed condition in or about the locality, after it has been in operation for more than three years if it was not a nuisance at the time it began. This paragraph shall not apply to any activities of the 52nd District Agricultural Association that are conducted on the grounds of the California Exposition and State Fair, nor to any public nuisance action brought by a city, county, or city and county alleging that the activities, operations, or conditions of a district agricultural association have substantially changed after more than three years from the time that the activities, operations, or conditions began.

(c) Paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) shall not invalidate any provision contained in the Health and Safety Code, Fish and Game Code, Food and Agricultural Code, or Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Water Code, if the agricultural activity, operation, or facility, or appurtenances thereof constitute a nuisance, public or private, as specifically defined or described in any of those provisions.

(d) This section shall prevail over any contrary provision of any ordinance or regulation of any city, county, city and county, or other political subdivision of the state. However, nothing in this section shall preclude a city, county, city and county, or other political subdivision of this state, acting within its constitutional or statutory authority and not in conflict with other provisions of state law, from adopting an ordinance that allows notification to a prospective homeowner that the dwelling is in close proximity to an agricultural activity, operation, facility, or appurtenances thereof and is subject to the provisions of this section consistent with Section 1102.6a.

(e) For purposes of this section, the term “agricultural activity, operation, or facility, or appurtenances thereof” shall include, but not be limited to, the cultivation and tillage of the soil, dairying, the production, cultivation, growing, and harvesting of any agricultural commodity including timber, viticulture, apiculture, or horticulture, the raising of livestock, fur bearing animals, fish, or poultry, and any practices performed by a farmer or on a farm as incident to or in conjunction with those farming operations, including preparation for market, delivery to storage or to market, or delivery to carriers for transportation to market.

commercial purposes, and in a manner consistent with proper and accepted customs and standards, shall be or become a nuisance, private or public, due to any changed condition in or about the locality, after the same has been in continuous operation for more than three years if it was not a nuisance at the time it begins.

(b) If an agricultural processing activity, operation, facility, or appurtenances thereof substantially increases its activities or operations after January 1, 1993, then a public or private nuisance action may be brought with respect to those increases in activities or operations which have a significant effect on the environment. For increases in activities or operations that have been in effect more than three years, there shall be a rebuttable presumption affecting the burden of producing evidence that the increase was not substantial.

(c) This section shall not supersede any other provision of law, except other provisions of this part, if the agricultural processing activity, operation, facility, or appurtenances thereof, constitute a nuisance, public or private, as specifically defined or described in the provision.

(d) This section shall prevail over any contrary provision of any ordinance or regulation of any city, county, city and county, or other political subdivision of the state, except regulations adopted pursuant to Section 41700 of the Health and Safety Code as applied to agricultural processing activities, operations, facilities, or appurtenances thereof which are surrounded by housing or commercial development on the effective date on this section. However, nothing in this section shall preclude a city, county, city and county, or other political subdivision of this state, acting within its constitutional or statutory authority and not in conflict with other provisions of state law, from adopting an ordinance that allows notification to a prospective homeowner that the dwelling is in close proximity to an agricultural processing activity, operation, facility, or appurtenances thereof and is subject to of provisions of this section consistent with Section 1102.6a.

the condition or effect alleged to be a nuisance.
(f) This section shall not apply to any litigation pending or cause of action accruing prior to January 1, 1993.

CHAPTER 98

An act to amend Section 987.65 of, and to repeal and add Section 1006.16 of, the Military and Veterans Code, relating to veterans, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 26, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State June 26, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 987.65 of the Military and Veterans Code is amended to read:
987.65. (a) The purchase price of a home to the department, or the sum to be expended by the department pursuant to a contract for the construction of a dwelling house and other improvements, or the purchase price of a mobilehome sited on a lot owned by the purchaser and installed on a foundation system pursuant to Section 18551 of the Health and Safety Code, shall be determined by the department once each calendar year. The maximum home loan shall be based on the median purchase price of existing homes in California, as determined by the department pursuant to subdivision (b), on the previous June 30, and, in no event, shall exceed one hundred seventy thousand dollars ($170,000), or 90 percent of the county median purchase price, whichever is higher. In determining the maximum home loan, the department shall take into consideration the solvency of the Veterans’ Farm and Home Building Fund of 1943 and the availability of loan funds. Any change in the maximum home loan shall take effect only after approval of the Veterans’ Finance Committee of 1943 by a majority vote of those members present.
(b) For purposes of subdivision (a), the department shall determine the state and county median purchase prices of existing homes using information obtained from any of the following:
(1) California Association of Realtors.
(2) Federal Internal Revenue Service.
(3) Any recognized public or private index acceptable to the department and the Veterans Finance Committee of 1943.
(c) The purchase price of a mobilehome which is to be sited in a mobilehome park, as defined in Section 18214 of the Health and Safety Code, shall not exceed seventy thousand dollars ($70,000), or 90 percent of the median purchase price of those mobilehomes in California on the previous June 30, whichever amount is greater.
(d) A veteran purchasing the home may advance, subject to Section 987.64, the difference between the total price or cost of the home and the sum of the purchase price of the home to the department and any amount the department is required, under Section 987.69, to add to the purchase price of the home in fixing the selling price to the veteran. Any amount of the purchase price to the department may be provided by funds from participation contracts or revenue bonds.

(e) The purchase price of a farm to the department shall not exceed two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) or 160 percent of the purchase price of homes as determined in subdivision (a). A veteran purchasing the farm may advance the difference between the total price of the farm, or the cost of the dwelling and improvements to be constructed on a farm under a contract, and the sum of the purchase price to the department or contract price to the department and any amount which the department is required, under Section 987.69, to add to the purchase or contract price to the department in fixing the selling price of the farm to the veteran.

(f) The assistance provided by the department to a veteran pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 987.85 shall not exceed seventy thousand dollars ($70,000).

(g) During any calendar year, at least one-third of the proceeds available for contracts of purchase shall be set aside for use by veteran purchasers who are either first-time home buyers or who are purchasers of homes at or below the statewide median purchase price. If the department determines that purchasers in these categories are not applying in sufficient numbers to use the available proceeds, the department may make the remainder of the funds available to all qualified veteran contract purchasers.

SEC. 2. Section 1006.16 of the Military and Veterans Code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 1006.16 is added to the Military and Veterans Code, to read:

1006.16. The department shall require that all applicants under this article qualify under the applicable federal laws and regulations governing the permitted uses of tax-exempt bond funds.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to revise the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act of 1974 to provide veterans with the opportunity to acquire farms and homes, including homes in urban areas where the median purchase price of a home is relatively high, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.
An act to add Sections 26669 and 72115 to the Government Code, relating to counties.

[Approved by Governor June 26, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State June 26, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 26669 is added to the Government Code, to read:

26669. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Board of Supervisors of San Bernardino County shall consolidate court-related services provided by the sheriff and the marshal within that county. An election shall be conducted among all of the judges of the superior and municipal courts of that county to determine the agency, either the sheriff or the marshal, under which court-related services shall be consolidated. The outcome shall be determined by a simple majority of votes cast, provided that the total number of votes cast exceeds 50 percent of the number of superior and municipal court judges in the county by at least one vote. The results of that election shall be reported within two working days following the election period, by the presiding judges of the superior and municipal courts to the board of supervisors and to the other judges of the superior and municipal courts of that county. The board of supervisors shall immediately commence and, within a reasonable time not to exceed 90 days, implement the determination made by the judges.

SEC. 2. Section 72115 is added to the Government Code, to read:

72115. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Board of Supervisors of San Bernardino County shall consolidate court-related services provided by the sheriff and the marshal within that county. An election shall be conducted among all of the judges of the superior and municipal courts of that county to determine the agency, either the sheriff or the marshal, under which court-related services shall be consolidated. The outcome shall be determined by a simple majority of votes cast, provided that the total number of votes cast exceeds 50 percent of the number of superior and municipal court judges in the county by at least one vote. The results of that election shall be reported within two working days following the election period by the presiding judges of the superior and municipal courts to the board of supervisors and to the other judges of the superior and municipal courts of that county. The board of supervisors shall immediately commence and, within a reasonable time not to exceed 90 days, implement the determination made by the judges.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the marshal and all personnel of the marshal's office or personnel of the sheriff's office affected by a consolidation of court-related services under this section or Section 26669 shall become employees of that consolidated office at their existing or equivalent classifications, salaries, and benefits, and except as may be necessary for the operation of the agency under which court-related services are consolidated, shall not be involuntarily transferred during a period of six years following the consolidation out of that consolidated court-related services office.

(c) Permanent employees of the marshal’s office or sheriff’s office on the effective date of a consolidation under this section or Section 26669 shall be deemed qualified, and no other qualifications shall be required for employment or retention. Probationary employees of the sheriff’s office or the marshal’s office on the effective date of a consolidation under this section or Section 26669 shall retain their probationary status and rights, and shall not be deemed to have transferred so as to require serving a new probationary period. Transferring personnel may be required to take a promotional examination to promote to a higher classification but shall not be required to retest for his or her existing classification as a prerequisite to testing for a higher classification. A transferring deputy marshal requesting a transfer to another division in the sheriff’s office shall not be required to take a written test as a prerequisite to making a lateral transfer.

(d) All county service or service by employees of the sheriff’s office or the marshal’s office on the effective date of a consolidation under this section or Section 26669 shall be counted toward seniority in that court-related services office, and all time spent in the same, equivalent, or higher classification shall be counted toward classification seniority.

(e) No employee of the sheriff’s office or the marshal’s office on the effective date of a consolidation under this section or Section 26669 shall lose peace officer status, or be demoted or otherwise adversely affected by a consolidation of court services.

SEC. 3. Due to unique facts and circumstances applicable to San Bernardino County, the Legislature finds and declares that a general statute cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution. Special legislation is, therefore, necessarily applicable to only San Bernardino County.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the Legislature finds and declares that there are savings as well as costs in this act which, in the aggregate, do not result in additional net costs. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Section 3728 of the Labor Code, relating to workers' compensation, and making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 26, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State June 26, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3728 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

3728. The director may draw from the State Treasury out of the appropriation made to the Uninsured Employers Fund for the purposes of Sections 3716 and 3716.1, without at the time presenting vouchers and itemized statements, a sum not to exceed in the aggregate the level provided for pursuant to Section 16400 of the Government Code, to be used as a cash revolving fund. The revolving fund shall be deposited in such banks and under such conditions as the Department of General Services determines. The Controller shall draw his warrants in favor of the Director of Industrial Relations for the amounts so withdrawn and the Treasurer shall pay such warrants.

Expenditures made from the revolving fund in payment of claims for compensation and for administrative and adjusting services rendered herein are exempted from the operation of Section 925.6 of the Government Code. Reimbursement of the revolving fund for these expenditures shall be made upon presentation to the Controller of an abstract or statement of the expenditures. The abstract or statement shall be in such form as the Controller requires.

SEC. 2. For the purpose of providing benefit payments to injured workers, an amount not to exceed eight million eighty-four thousand dollars ($8,084,000) is hereby appropriated as follows:

(a) There is hereby appropriated from the Subsequent Injuries Moneys Account of the General Fund the amount of one million one hundred sixteen thousand dollars ($1,116,000) for augmentation of Item 8450-001-016 of the Budget Act of 1991 for payment of the additional compensation of subsequent injuries provided for by Sections 4750 to 4755, inclusive, of the Labor Code.

(b) There is hereby transferred a sufficient sum to provide a loan from the General Fund to the Subsequent Injuries Moneys Account to maintain the continuous payment of claims for subsequent injuries claimants. The loan shall be provided by Executive order of the Department of Finance and shall not exceed the amount appropriated in subdivision (a). The loan shall be repaid when sufficient funds are available in the Subsequent Injuries Moneys Account of the General Fund, but no later than September 1, 1992.

(c) There is hereby appropriated from the Employee's Account of the Uninsured Employers Fund the amount of six million nine hundred sixty-eight thousand dollars ($6,968,000) for augmentation of Item 8350-001-571 of the Budget Act of 1991 for payment of claims pursuant to Sections 3715 to 3727, inclusive, of the Labor Code.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

The funds appropriated in the 1991–92 Budget Act for the Uninsured Employers Fund and Subsequent Injuries Fund are exhausted. Recipients of workers' compensation indemnity through these funds have been without compensation since April 1992, causing a severe hardship on these claimants. It is therefore necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 101

An act to add Title 1.61 (commencing with Section 1785.41) to Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code, relating to credit reporting.

[Approved by Governor June 26, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State June 29, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Title 1.61 (commencing with Section 1785.41) is added to Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code, to read:

TITLE 1.61. COMMERCIAL CREDIT REPORTS

1785.41. Consumer credit reporting is subject to the regulations of the Consumer Credit Reporting Agencies Act. Commercial credit reports, which differ significantly, are not subject to that act. The circumstances, business practices, and reports themselves differ sufficiently to make it impractical to include commercial credit reports under the Consumer Credit Reporting Agencies Act.

1785.42. (a) "Commercial credit report" means any report provided to a commercial enterprise for a legitimate business purpose, relating to the financial status or payment habits of a commercial enterprise which is the subject of the report. It does not include a report subject to Title 1.6 (commencing with Section 1785.1), Title 1.6A (commencing with Section 1786), or a report prepared for commercial insurance underwriting, claims, or auditing purposes.

(b) "Commercial credit reporting agency" means any person who, for monetary fees, dues, or on a cooperative nonprofit basis, provides commercial credit reports to third parties.

(c) "Subject" means the commercial enterprise about which a commercial credit report has been compiled.
1785.43. (a) Commercial credit reporting agencies may protect the identity of sources of information to be used in commercial credit reports.

(b) Upon the request of a representative of the subject of a report, the commercial credit reporting agency shall provide one printed copy of the subject's commercial credit report in a format routinely made available to third parties, at a cost no greater than the cost usually charged to third parties.

(c) In the event that the subject of a commercial credit report believes the report contains an inaccurate statement of fact, a representative of the subject of the report may, within 30 days of receipt of the report pursuant to subdivision (b), file with the commercial credit reporting agency a written summary statement of not more than 50 words identifying the particular statement of fact that is disputed, and indicating the nature of the disagreement with the statement in the report. In no event shall temporary disability indemnity and maintenance allowance be payable concurrently. If the employer disputes the treating physician's determination of medical eligibility, the employee shall continue to receive that portion of the maintenance allowance payable under paragraph (1) pending final determination of the dispute. If the employee disputes the treating physician's determination of medical eligibility and prevails, the employee shall be entitled to that portion of the maintenance allowance payable under paragraph (1) retroactive to the date of the employee's request for vocational rehabilitation services.

(e) No provision of this section nor of any rule, regulation, or vocational rehabilitation plan developed or promulgated under this section nor any benefit provided pursuant to this section shall apply to an injured employee whose injury occurred prior to January 1, 1975. Nothing in this section shall affect any plan, benefit, or program authorized by this section as added by Chapter 1513 of the Statutes of 1965 or as amended by Chapter 83 of the Statutes of 1972.

(d) If the team is developing, reviewing, or revising the individualized education program of an individual with exceptional needs who has been assessed for the purpose of that individualized education program, the district, special education local plan area, or county office, shall ensure that a person is present at the meeting who has conducted an assessment of the pupil or who is knowledgeable about the assessment procedures used to assess the pupil and is familiar with the results of the assessment. The person shall be qualified to interpret the results if the results or recommendations, based on the assessment, are significant to the development of the pupil's individualized education program and subsequent placement.

(e) For pupils with suspected learning disabilities, at least one member of the individualized education program team, other than the pupil's regular teacher, shall be a person who has observed the pupil's educational performance in an appropriate setting. (h) It is the intent of the Legislature that the individualized education program team meetings be nonadversarial and convened solely for the purpose of making educational decisions for the good of the individual with exceptional needs. However, if the public education agency uses an attorney during any part of the individualized education program meeting, that use shall be governed by the provisions of Section 56507.

SECTION 1. Section 1597.41 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1597.41. The purpose of the pilot project is to test the feasibility of permitting two additional schoolage children to be cared for in a family day care home.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 1596.78, upon authorization from the State Director of Social Services pursuant to subdivision (a), family day care homes in the Counties of Placer and Ventura shall be subject to the following limits on capacity:

(1) A large family day care home may provide family day care to 7 to 12 children, inclusive, or up to 14 children, inclusive, if two of the children are six years of age or older. Children under the age of 10 years who reside in the home, as defined in regulations, shall be counted for purposes of these limits.

(2) A small family day care home may provide family day care to six or fewer children, or eight or fewer children if two of the children are six years of age or older. Children under the age of 10 years who reside in the home, as defined in regulations, shall be counted for purposes of these limits.

(c) Any family day care provider who opts to care for children under the higher limits described in subdivision (b) shall notify the department of his or her intention prior to accepting the two additional children for care. Upon request of a local planning agency, local zoning agency, or similar local agency, the department shall inform the agency about whether or not a specified provider is participating in the pilot project.

(d) By March 1, 1993, the department shall submit an evaluation of the pilot project to the Assembly Human Services Committee and the Senate Health and Human Services Committee of the Legislature. In preparing the evaluation, the department shall consult with cities or other local agencies in the pilot counties, family day care provider associations, and other associations representing the interests of parents and children. The evaluation shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following:

(1) The number of family day care homes that participate in the pilot project, by county and by size of home.

(2) The number of additional children cared for as a result of the pilot project, by county and by size of home.

(4) Comments from providers, local agencies, and parents about the effectiveness, feasibility, and other aspects of the pilot project. The report shall include an assessment of the impact of the pilot project on local zoning practices and policies.

(5) Recommendations as to whether or not the pilot project should be expanded to other areas of the state, and the reasons for those recommendations.

SEC. 2. Section 1597.65 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1597.65. This chapter shall remain in effect only until December 31, 1993, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered before December 31, 1993, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

This act is necessary to prevent the disruption of child care services to children and their parents.
An act to amend Section 2602 of the Streets and Highways Code, relating to transportation, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 30, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State June 30, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2602 of the Streets and Highways Code is amended to read:

2602. The state-local transportation partnership program shall be implemented by the department and the applicants under the following procedures:

(a) Applicants shall submit applications for eligible projects to the department not later than June 30.

(b) The department shall review the applications for consistency with the requirements of this chapter and shall compile a preliminary list of all eligible projects not later than September 30 of the year in which the application was submitted.

(c) (1) If the total state share for eligible projects exceeds the amount specified in the Governor’s proposed budget, the department shall compute the preliminary pro rata share of state funds to be available so that each eligible project would receive the same ratio of state share to local share. Not later than April 1 of the following year, the department shall advise the applicants of the preliminary pro rata share of state funds to be available.

(2) Not later than June 15 of the following year, each applicant shall inform the department whether or not it can proceed with the project with the lower state share and meet the project development completion requirements specified in paragraph (4) of subdivision (b) of Section 2601.

(3) Upon the enactment of the annual Budget Act, the department shall compile a new list of eligible projects consisting of those projects that were included in the original list that the applicant has indicated it can proceed with a lower state share and for which the applicant has indicated it can still meet the delivery requirements pursuant to paragraph (4) of subdivision (b) of Section 2601.

(4) Based on the amount of the appropriation contained in the annual Budget Act, the department shall compute the final pro rata state share so that each project on the new list would receive the same ratio of state share to local share.

(5) Within 30 days of the enactment of the annual Budget Act, the department shall report to the Legislature on the projects being funded through this program and the ratio of state share to local share.
(d) The Legislature intends to appropriate two hundred fifty million dollars ($250,000,000) by June 30, 1990, two hundred fifty million dollars ($250,000,000) by June 30, 1991, and two hundred million dollars ($200,000,000) by June 30 of each year thereafter for this program.

(e) Construction contracts for projects on the eligibility list established pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) shall be let not later than June 30 of the fiscal year for which funds are appropriated pursuant to subdivision (d).

(f) Beginning with projects funded through appropriations made by the Budget Act of 1992, applications shall not be accepted for any project within the boundaries of a project subject to, but for which contracts were not let in accordance with, subdivision (e), for a period of three fiscal years following the fiscal year in which the applicant's notification of intent to proceed under paragraph (2) of subdivision (c) was submitted.

(g) The funds appropriated shall be expended not later than June 30 of the fourth year following the appropriation.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding subdivision (d) of Section 130051.5 of the Public Utilities Code, until January 1, 1993, an alternate member of the Los Angeles County Transportation Commission may concurrently serve on the Board of Directors of the Southern California Rapid Transit District. This section shall apply to any person serving as an alternate member of the commission on June 30, 1992, or thereafter appointed as an alternate member of the commission.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order that cities and counties may expend, during the 1992–93 fiscal year, funds appropriated and allocated to them for necessary transportation projects, and in order to provide for the orderly transition of governance from the Los Angeles County Transportation Commission and the Southern California Rapid Transit District to the Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.
An act to add Section 69910 to the Government Code, relating to courts, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 30, 1992 Filed with Secretary of State June 30, 1992 ]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 69910 is added to the Government Code, to read:

69910. With respect to the superior, municipal, and justice courts in San Bernardino County, to the extent that the county’s Consolidated Memorandum of Understanding for county employees designates certain days, not in excess of 10 days annually, as unpaid furlough days for employees assigned to regular positions in the superior, municipal, and justice courts, including all superior court, municipal court, and county employees assigned to the courts, the courts shall not be in session on those days except as ordered by the presiding judge upon a finding by the presiding judge of a judicial emergency as defined in Chapter 1.1 (commencing with Section 68115). On these furlough days, although the clerk’s office shall not be open to the public, each court shall permit documents to be filed at a drop box, and an appropriate judicial officer shall be available to conduct arraignments and to sign any necessary documents on an emergency basis. These furlough days shall be excluded for purposes of computing the time within which a defendant must be taken before a magistrate following arrest pursuant to Section 825 of the Penal Code.

SEC. 2. Section 1 of this act is necessary since special facts and circumstances applicable to San Bernardino County, and not generally applicable, make the accomplishment of this purpose impossible by any general law. Special legislation is therefore necessary, applicable to San Bernardino County only. The special facts are as follows:

This act is necessary to fully implement an existing memorandum of understanding applicable solely to San Bernardino County.

SEC. 3. Because the act implements an existing memorandum of understanding, the Legislature finds that Section 1 of this act does not violate subdivision (b) of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution.

The severe budgetary problems experienced by the County of San Bernardino have made it necessary for the county to amend its collective bargaining agreement with its employees, imposing 10 unpaid furlough days on employees assigned to regular positions in the superior, municipal, and justice courts, including all superior court, municipal court, and county employees assigned to the courts, commencing with the 1992-93 fiscal year, in order to avoid employee layoffs.

It is also necessary that this act take effect prior to July 1, 1992, so that the same furlough days imposed upon these employees shall be judicial holidays, and so that the courts in San Bernardino County may be closed on the furlough days designated, producing the additional cost savings to be realized from closing the courts entirely on those days.

CHAPTER 111

An act to amend Section 14678 of the Government Code, relating to state employees, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 30, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State June 30, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14678 of the Government Code is amended to read:

14678. The Department of General Services is authorized to acquire, pursuant to the Property Acquisition Law (Part 11, commencing with Section 15850, Division 3, Title 2, Government Code) or by lease or other means, real property and to construct, operate, and maintain motor vehicle parking facilities thereon for state officers and employees, or other persons, provided that no such acquisition shall be commenced pursuant to the Property Acquisition Law unless and until an appropriation of funds therefor has been made by the Legislature. The department may enter into arrangements with other public and state agencies for joint use of motor vehicle parking facilities, provided the benefit to be derived by the state is commensurate with its participation. The department may prescribe the terms and conditions of this parking, including the payment of parking fees in any amounts and under any circumstances as may be determined by the department. Varying rates of parking fees may be established for different localities or for different parking facilities. The department may charge different rates of parking fees based on the number of riders in each vehicle. In determining rates of parking fees the department shall consider the rates charged in the same locality by other public agencies and by private employers for employee parking.

Revenues received by the department from (a) any of the hereinabove motor vehicle parking facilities as may be designated by the director, and (b) motor vehicle parking facilities under the jurisdiction of any other state agency which has entered into an agreement with the department for the payment of revenues therefrom to the department, shall be deposited in the General Fund and are hereby appropriated, without regard to fiscal years, to the Department of General Services for the construction, operation, and maintenance of motor vehicle parking facilities on real property acquired hereunder or on real property under the jurisdiction of any other state agency which has agreed to the payment of revenues as foresaid from its motor vehicle parking facilities to the department, for reimbursement to state agencies for all or part of the costs incurred by these agencies in selling public transit passes at a discount to defray state agency employees' commuting costs, and for other approved transportation subsidy programs. The department shall certify to the Department of Finance the amount of funds available for reimbursement of transportation subsidies. The Department of Finance shall determine the amount that may be withdrawn by state agencies for payment of these subsidies. Requests from state agencies for reimbursement shall include appropriate verification of the state agency's costs. Any unneeded balance in this appropriation shall be transferred by the Controller on order of the Director of General Services to the unappropriated balance of the General Fund.

The Legislature by this section does not intend to authorize the institution of a private parking program unrelated to state purposes in competition with private industry.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 3517.6 of the Government Code, the provisions of any memorandum of understanding that

(b) As used in this section, the feeder elementary school districts may, but are not required to, join with Analy Union High School District to impose these taxes. Special taxes collected in each elementary school district shall be distributed between the Analy Union High School District and that elementary school district based upon the percentage of the number of grades served.
(c) (1) The election shall be ordered by a joint resolution approved by each participating district placing a single measure on the ballot throughout the area served by the districts. The election shall be conducted pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 5320) of Chapter 3 of Part 4 of the Education Code. Passage of the measure for each individual participating district shall require a two-thirds vote by the voters within the boundaries of that district's jurisdiction.

(2) The full text of the measure to be placed in the voter pamphlet shall read substantially as follows:

FULL TEXT OF MEASURE (insert designation)

The Analy Union High School District and each of its feeder elementary school districts are authorized to join together to impose qualified special taxes under a single measure, pursuant to Assembly Bill 3184 of the 1991–92 Regular Session.

Under Measure (insert designation), the Analy Union High School District and those of its feeder elementary districts that so agreed, have joined together to impose qualified special taxes in the amount of (insert amount) per parcel based upon the use or right of use on each assessor's parcel within the boundaries of the Analy Union High School District for a period of (insert number) years beginning July 1, (insert year), and increasing their respective appropriations limit for the maximum time allowed by law by the amount of revenue generated by that special tax. The proceeds from the taxes shall be distributed between the Analy Union High School District, serving grades 9 to 12, inclusive, and, if they have so chosen to join the Analy Union High School District in imposing these taxes, the feeder elementary school districts, serving grades kindergarten to 8 inclusive, based upon the percentage of grades each district serves ((insert amount) per parcel for the high school district and (insert amount) per parcel in those feeder elementary school districts that have chosen to join with the high school district to impose these taxes), to maintain and enhance their educational programs and services to the extent allowed by the revenue generated from the special taxes.

(3) The measure to be placed on the ballot shall read as follows:

Shall the Analy Union High School District and its feeder elementary school districts that have chosen to join with the high school district impose qualified special taxes in the amount not to exceed (insert amount) per parcel ((insert amount) per parcel for the high school district and (insert amount) per parcel in the feeder elementary school districts), to maintain and enhance educational programs and services and correspondingly increase their respective appropriations limits for the maximum time allowed by law?

____ Yes ____No

The Analy Union High School District may assess and collect its share of the qualified special tax as set forth in this measure ((insert amount) per parcel) only if it attains a two-thirds vote of the electorate voting on the measure within the entire boundaries of its jurisdiction. If the Analy Union High School District fails to attain the required two-thirds vote and a feeder elementary school district attains the required two-thirds vote, only 69 percent of the tax, or (insert amount) per parcel, due to the feeder elementary school district, shall be assessed and collected.

Each of the feeder elementary school districts may assess and collect its share of the qualified special tax set forth in this measure ((insert amount) per parcel) only if it joins with the Analy Union High School District to impose the taxes and attains a two-thirds vote of the electorate voting on the measure within the boundaries of its jurisdiction. If a feeder elementary school district chooses not to join the Analy Union High School District to impose the taxes, or fails to attain the required two-thirds vote and the Analy Union High School District attains the required two-thirds vote, only 31 percent of the tax, or (insert amount) per parcel, due to the Analy Union High School District shall be assessed and collected.

The following Analy Union High School District feeder elementary school districts have chosen to join with the high school district to impose qualified special taxes: (insert districts).

(4) The full text of the measure to be placed in the voter pamphlet pursuant to paragraph (2) and the abbreviated measure to be placed on the ballot pursuant to paragraph (3) may be amended upon mutual agreement between the governing boards of the Analy Union High School District and the participating feeder elementary school districts if they decide to provide for exemptions from the qualified special tax.

(d) As used in this section, “qualified special taxes” means special taxes that apply uniformly to all taxpayers or all real property in each of the districts. If an elementary school district has not chosen to join with the Analy Union High School District to impose the taxes, or fails to attain the required two-thirds vote and the Analy Union High School District attains the required two-thirds vote, only the percentage of tax due to the Analy Union High School District shall be assessed and collected. If the Analy Union High School District does not attain the required two-thirds vote, only the percentage of tax due to the feeder elementary school districts that have attained the required two-thirds vote shall be assessed and collected. “Qualified special taxes” may include special taxes that provide for an exemption from those taxpayers 65 years of age or older. However, “qualified special taxes” do not include special taxes imposed on a particular class of property or taxpayers.

SEC. 2. The Legislature finds and declares that due to the unique characteristics of the Analy Union High School District and its feeder elementary school districts a special law is necessary and that a general law cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution.
SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into Fund.

Article 2. Program Provisions

17645.15. The proceeds of bonds issued and sold pursuant to this chapter shall be deposited in the fund.
17645.20. (a) All moneys deposited in the fund shall be available

17645.30. Of the proceeds from the sale of bonds pursuant to this chapter, not more than two hundred seventy million dollars ($270,000,000) may be used for one or more of the following purposes:

(a) Project funding for applicant districts under Chapter 22 (commencing with Section 17700) that are eligible for that funding, but that lack funding priority due to the size of pupil enrollment in the district.

(b) The identification, assessment, or abatement of hazardous asbestos in school facilities, pursuant to either Chapter 22 (commencing with Section 17700) or Section 39619.6.

(c) The acquisition of portable classrooms for use in accordance with Chapter 25 (commencing with Section 17785).

(e) The purchase and installation of air-conditioning equipment and insulation materials, and related costs, pursuant to Section 42250.1 for schools operated on a year-round multitrack schedule in a manner that increases school capacity and reduces or eliminates the school district's need for the construction of additional classroom space.

17645.40. Bonds in the total amount of nine hundred million dollars ($900,000,000), exclusive of refunding bonds, or so much thereof as is necessary, may be issued and sold to provide a fund to be used for carrying out the purposes expressed in this chapter and to be used to reimburse the General Obligation Bond Expense Revolving Fund pursuant to Section 16724.5 of the Government Code. The bonds, when sold, shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation of the State of California, and the full faith and credit of the State of California is hereby pledged for the punctual payment of both principal of, and interest on, the bonds as the principal and interest become due and payable.

17645.44. The State School Building Finance Committee, created by Section 15909 and composed of the Governor, Controller, Treasurer, Director of Finance, and the Director of Education, or their designated representatives, all of whom shall serve thereon without compensation, and a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum, is continued in existence for the purpose of this chapter. The Treasurer shall be designated to chair the committee. Two Members of the Senate appointed by the Senate Committee on Rules, and two Members of the Assembly appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly, shall meet and advise with the committee to the extent that the advisory participation is not incompatible with their respective positions as Members of the Legislature. For the purposes of this chapter, the Members of the Legislature shall constitute an interim investigating committee on the subject of this chapter and as that committee shall have the powers and duties imposed upon those committees by the Joint Rules of the Senate and the Assembly. The Director of Finance shall provide the assistance to the committee as it may require. The Attorney General of the state shall be the legal adviser of the committee.

(b) For purposes of the State General Obligation Bond Law, the State Allocation Board is designated the “board.”

17645.50. Upon request of the board from time to time, supported by a statement of the apportionments made and to be made for the purposes described in Section 17645.20, the committee shall determine whether or not it is necessary or desirable to issue bonds authorized pursuant to this chapter in order to fund the apportionments and, if so, the amount of bonds to be issued and sold. Successive issues of bonds may be authorized and sold to fund those apportionments progressively, and it is not necessary that all of the bonds authorized to be issued be sold at any one time.

17645.55. There shall be collected each year and in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected, in addition to the ordinary revenues of the state, a sum in an amount required to pay the principal of, and interest on, the bonds each year, and it is the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collection of the revenue to do and perform each and every act which is necessary to collect that additional sum.

17645.65. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, or of the State General Obligation Bond Law (Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 16720) of Part 3 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code), if the Treasurer sells bonds that include a bond counsel opinion to the effect that the interest on the bonds is excluded from gross income for federal tax purposes subject to designated conditions, the Treasurer may maintain separate accounts for the bond proceeds invested and for the investment earnings on those proceeds, and may use or direct the use of those proceeds or earnings to pay any rebate, penalty, or other payment required under federal law or take any other action with respect to the investment and use of those bond proceeds that is required or desirable under federal law in order to maintain the tax-exempt status of those bonds and to obtain any other advantage under federal law on behalf of the funds of this state.

17645.80. The bonds may be refunded in accordance with Article 6 (commencing with Section 16780) of Chapter 4 of Part 3 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code, which is a part of the State General Obligation Bond Law. 17645.85. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that, inasmuch as the proceeds from the sale of bonds authorized by this chapter are not "proceeds of taxes" as that term is used in Article XIII B of the California Constitution, the disbursement of these proceeds is not subject to the limitations imposed by that article.

SEC. 2. Section 1 of this act shall become operative upon the approval by the voters, at the November 3, 1992, general election, of the 1992 School Facilities Bond Act, as set forth in Section 1 of this act, which shall be submitted to the voters at the November 3, 1992, general election only if the School Facilities Bond Act of 1992, as set forth in Assembly Bill 880, is approved by the voters at the June 2, 1992, direct primary election.

SEC. 3. Opposite the square, there shall be left spaces in which the voters may place a cross in the manner required by law to indicate whether they vote for or against the act.

Where the voting of the election is done by means of voting machines used pursuant to law in the manner that carries out the intent of this section, the use of the voting machines and the expression of the voters' choice by means thereof are in compliance with the provisions of this section.

In order that the 1992 School Facilities Bond Act may be submitted for voter approval at the November 3, 1992, general election to provide financing for urgently needed school facilities, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.
CHAPTER 118

An act to amend Section 754 of the Evidence Code, relating to courts, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 6, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State July 7, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 754 of the Evidence Code is amended to read:

754. (a) As used in this section, "deaf or hard-of-hearing person" means a person with a hearing loss so great as to prevent his or her understanding language spoken in a normal tone, but does not include a hard-of-hearing person provided with, and able to fully participate in the proceedings through the use of, an assistive listening system or computer-aided transcription equipment provided pursuant to Section 54.8 of the Civil Code.

(b) In any civil or criminal action, including any action involving a traffic or other infraction or any juvenile court proceeding, or any proceeding to determine the mental competency of a person, or any administrative hearing, where a party or witness is a deaf or hard-of-hearing person and the deaf or hard-of-hearing person is present and participating, the proceedings shall be interpreted in a language that the deaf or hard-of-hearing person understands by a qualified interpreter appointed by the court, tribunal, hearing officer, or other appropriate authority, or as agreed upon by the parties.

(c) For purposes of this section, "appointing authority" means a court, department, board, commission, agency, licensing or legislative body, or other body for proceedings requiring a qualified interpreter.

(d) For the purposes of this section, "interpreter" includes, but is not limited to, an oral interpreter, a sign language interpreter, or a deaf-blind interpreter, depending upon the needs of the deaf or hard-of-hearing person.

(e) For purposes of this section, "intermediary interpreter" means a deaf, hard-of-hearing, or hearing person who is able to assist in providing an accurate interpretation between spoken English and sign language or between variants of sign language or between American Sign Language and other foreign languages by acting as an intermediary between the deaf person and the qualified interpreter.

(f) For purposes of this section, "qualified interpreter" means an interpreter who has been certified as competent to interpret court proceedings by a testing organization, agency, or educational institution approved by the Judicial Council as qualified to administer tests to court interpreters for the deaf or hard-of-hearing.
(g) In the event that the appointed interpreter is not familiar with the deaf or hard-of-hearing person's use of particular signs or his or her particular variant of sign language, the court or other appointing authority shall, in consultation with the deaf or hard-of-hearing person or his or her representative, appoint an intermediary interpreter.

(h) Prior to July 1, 1992, the Judicial Council shall conduct a study to establish the guidelines pursuant to which it shall determine which testing organizations, agencies, or educational institutions will be approved to administer tests for certification of court interpreters for the deaf and hard-of-hearing. It is the intent of the Legislature that the study obtain the widest possible input from the public, including, but not limited to, educational institutions, the judiciary, linguists, members of the State Bar, court interpreters, members of professional interpreting organizations, and members of the deaf and hard-of-hearing communities. After obtaining public comment and completing its study, the Judicial Council shall publish these guidelines and shall approve one or more entities to administer testing for court interpreters for the deaf and hard-of-hearing. Initial approval of testing entities by the Judicial Council shall occur prior to July 1, 1993.

Commencing January 1, 1994, court interpreters for the deaf or hard-of-hearing shall meet the qualifications specified in subdivision (f).

(i) Persons appointed to serve as interpreters under this section shall be paid, in addition to actual travel costs, the prevailing rate paid to persons employed by the court to provide other interpreter services unless such service is considered to be a part of the person's regular duties as an employee of the state, county, or other political subdivision of the state. Payment of the interpreter's fee shall be a charge against the county, or other political subdivision of the state, in which such action is pending. Payment of the interpreter's fee in administrative proceedings shall be a charge against the appointing board, agency, commission, or licensing authority.

(j) No statement, written or oral, made by a person who is deaf or hard-of-hearing in reply to a question of a peace officer, or any other person having a prosecutorial function in any criminal or quasi-criminal investigation or proceeding, may be used against that deaf or hard-of-hearing person unless the statement was made knowingly, voluntarily, and intelligently and was accurately interpreted, or the court makes a special finding that the statement was made knowingly, voluntarily, and intelligently.

(k) In obtaining services of an interpreter for the purpose of obtaining a statement subject to subdivision (j), priority shall be given to first obtaining a qualified interpreter.

(l) Nothing in subdivision (j) or (k) shall be deemed to supersede the requirement of subdivision (b) for use of a qualified interpreter for deaf or hard-of-hearing persons participating as parties or witnesses in a trial or hearing.
(m) In any action or proceeding in which a deaf or hard-of-hearing person is a participant, the court or administrative authority shall not commence proceedings until the appointed interpreter is in full view of and spatially situated to assure proper communication with the deaf or hard-of-hearing person or persons involved as participants.

(n) Each superior court shall maintain a current roster of qualified interpreters certified pursuant to subdivision (f).

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to effect the orderly extension of the July 1, 1992, deadlines, as contained in this act, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2812.5 is added to the Vehicle Code to read:

2812.5. Whenever visibility limitations pose a significant safety hazard, as determined by a member of the California Highway Patrol, that member may restrict or prohibit the use of any highway by any vehicle subject to regulation by the Department of the California Highway Patrol pursuant to Section 34500.

CHAPTER 120

An act to amend Sections 46601.5 and 48204 of, and to add Section 54762 to, the Education Code, and to repeal Sections 3, 5, 6, and 7 of Chapter 988 of the Statutes of 1987, relating to education.

[Approved by Governor July 6, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State July 7, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 46601.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

46601.5. (a) The governing boards of any two school districts that have been requested by a pupil's parent or legal guardian to enter into an agreement for interdistrict attendance pursuant to Section 46600 shall, in considering that request, give consideration to the child care needs of the pupil.

(b) The governing board of any unified school district that has entered into an agreement for the interdistrict attendance of a pupil based on that pupil's child care needs shall allow that pupil to continue to attend school through the 12th grade in that district if the parent or guardian so chooses, subject to paragraphs (1) to (6), inclusive, of subdivision (f) of Section 48204.

(c) The governing board of any high school district whose feeder elementary school has entered into an agreement with another school district for the interdistrict attendance of a pupil based on that pupil's child care needs shall allow that pupil to continue to attend school through the 12th grade in the same district if the parent or guardian so chooses, subject to paragraphs (1) to (6), inclusive, of subdivision (f) of Section 48204.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until June 30, 1995, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before June 30, 1995, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. Section 48204 of the Education Code is amended to read:

48204. Notwithstanding Section 48200, a pupil shall be deemed to have complied with the residency requirements for school attendance in a school district, provided he or she is any of the following:

(a) A pupil placed within the boundaries of that school district in a regularly established licensed children's institution, or a licensed foster home, or a family home pursuant to a commitment or placement under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 200) of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

An agency placing a pupil in a home or institution shall provide evidence to the school that the placement or commitment is pursuant to law.

(b) A pupil for whom interdistrict attendance has been approved pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 46600).

(c) A pupil whose residence is located within the boundaries of that school district and whose parent or legal guardian is relieved of responsibility, control, and authority through emancipation.

(d) A pupil whose parent or legal guardian has established the residence of the pupil in a home located within the boundaries of that school district, provided that home is properly licensed as required by law. The person maintaining the home shall provide evidence to the school that a current license is in effect or that a license is not required under the law.

(e) A pupil residing in a state hospital located within the boundaries of that school district.

(f) An elementary school pupil, one or both of whose parents, or whose legal guardian, is employed within the boundaries of that school district.
(1) Nothing in this subdivision requires the school district within which the pupil's parents or guardians are employed to admit the pupil to its schools. Districts may not, however, refuse to admit pupils under this subdivision on the basis, except as expressly provided in this subdivision, of race, ethnicity, sex, parental income, scholastic achievement, or any other arbitrary consideration.

(2) The school district in which the residency of either the pupil's parents or guardians is established, or the school district to which the pupil is to be transferred under this subdivision, may prohibit the transfer of the pupil under this subdivision if the governing board of the district determines that the transfer would negatively impact the district's court-ordered or voluntary desegregation plan.

(3) The school district to which the pupil is to be transferred under this subdivision may prohibit the transfer of the pupil if the district determines that the additional cost of educating the pupil would exceed the amount of additional state aid received as a result of the transfer.

(4) Any district governing board prohibiting a transfer pursuant to paragraph (1), (2), or (3) shall identify, and communicate in writing to the pupil's parent or guardian, the specific reasons for that determination and shall ensure that the determination, and the specific reasons therefor, are accurately recorded in the minutes of the board meeting in which the determination was made.

(5) The average daily attendance for pupils admitted pursuant to this subdivision shall be calculated pursuant to Section 46607.

(6) Unless approved by the sending district, this subdivision does not authorize a net transfer of pupils out of any given district, calculated as the difference between the number of pupils exiting the district and the number of pupils entering the district, in any fiscal year in excess of the following amounts:

(A) For any district with an average daily attendance for that fiscal year of less than 501, 5 percent of the average daily attendance of the district.

(B) For any district with an average daily attendance for that fiscal year of 501 or more, but less than 2,501, 3 percent of the average daily attendance of the district or 25 pupils, whichever is greater.

(C) For any district with an average daily attendance of 2,501 or more, 1 percent of the average daily attendance of the district or 75 pupils, whichever is greater.

(7) Pursuant to this subdivision, districts shall report annually to the Superintendent of Public Instruction all of the following:

(A) The number of requests for interdistrict transfers.

(B) The number of pupils transferred out of the district.

(C) The number of pupils transferred into the district.

The State Department of Education shall summarize the school district reports and report to the Legislature on a triennial basis. The report shall include the data described in Section 48204.1.

(8) Once a pupil is deemed to have complied with the residency requirements for school attendance pursuant to this subdivision and is enrolled in a school in a school district whose boundaries include the location where one parent or both parents of a pupil is employed, or where a pupil's legal guardian is employed, the pupil shall not have to reapply in the next school year to attend a school within that school district.

(9) Once a pupil is deemed to have complied with the residency requirements for school attendance pursuant to this subdivision and is enrolled in a school district whose boundaries include the location where one parent or both parents of the pupil is employed, or where a pupil's legal guardian is employed, that pupil shall be allowed to continue to attend school through the 12th grade in that district if the parent or guardian so chooses subject to paragraphs (1) to (6), inclusive.

(g) This section shall remain in effect only until June 30, 1995, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before June 30, 1995, deletes or extends that date. If that date is not deleted or extended, then, on and after July 1, 1995, pursuant to Section 9611 of the Government Code, Section 48204 of the Education Code, as amended by Section 3 of Chapter 1191 of the Statutes of 1980, shall have the same force and effect as if this temporary provision had not been enacted.

SEC. 3. It is the intent of the Legislature, pursuant to Section 4 of this act, to avert a reduction in supplemental grant funding entitlement under Article 9 (commencing with Section 54760) of Chapter 9 of Part 29 of the Education Code on the part of the Fullerton Joint Union High School District that otherwise could result from adjusting the district's base revenue limit under Section 10 of this act or from statutory adjustments for declining enrollment.

SEC. 4. Section 54762 is added to the Education Code, to read:

54762. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the total revenue limit funding for the Fullerton Joint Union High School District computed pursuant to subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 54761, for the 1993-94 fiscal year and each subsequent fiscal year, shall be an amount equal to the total revenue limit funding of that district computed pursuant to that subparagraph for the 1992-93 fiscal year, as increased or decreased for changes in average daily attendance, for inflation adjustments for the 1993-94 fiscal year and each subsequent fiscal year, and for equalization adjustments for the current fiscal year. The average daily attendance of the Fullerton Joint Union High School District utilized for the computation described in this section shall be the district's second principal apportionment regular average daily attendance for the current fiscal year.

SEC. 5. Section 3 of Chapter 988 of the Statutes of 1987 is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 5 of Chapter 988 of the Statutes of 1987 is repealed.

SEC. 7. Section 6 of Chapter 988 of the Statutes of 1987 is repealed.
SEC. 8. Section 7 of Chapter 988 of the Statutes of 1987 is repealed.

SEC. 9. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Yorba Linda Elementary School District, as it existed on January 1, 1988, is part of the Placentia-Yorba Linda Unified School District for all purposes except as otherwise provided in this act.

(b) No provision of this act shall be deemed to supersede or otherwise modify the reorganization action described in Chapter 988 of the Statutes of 1987 with regard to the division of property rights and obligations between the Placentia-Yorba Linda Unified School District and the Fullerton Joint Union High School District, or otherwise to require or authorize, under any provision of law, the transfer between those districts of any property right or obligation existing prior to July 1, 1993.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, until July 1, 1996, the Fullerton Joint Union High School District shall continue to be the district of residence for each pupil residing within the boundaries of the Yorba Linda Elementary School District, as it existed on January 1, 1988, who, in the immediately preceding school year, was enrolled in any of grades 9 to 12, inclusive, in the Fullerton Joint Union High School District. The Placentia-Yorba Linda Unified School District is the district of residence for all other pupils residing within those boundaries, including, but not limited to, all other pupils who enter any of grades 9 to 12, inclusive, on or after July 1, 1993.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, Sections 5, 6, and 7 of Chapter 988 of the Statutes of 1987 shall apply only with regard to the pupils who attend grades 9 to 12, inclusive, in the Fullerton Joint Union High School District in one or more of the fiscal years 1993–94 to 1995–96, inclusive, under the authority set forth in subdivision (c).

(e) Each of the members of the governing board of the Fullerton Joint Union High School District as of July 1, 1993, who is a resident of the Yorba Linda Elementary School District, as it existed on January 1, 1988, shall continue to serve in that capacity for the remainder of his or her current term of office.

SEC. 10. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the base revenue limit for the Fullerton Joint Union High School District for the 1993–94 fiscal year, in lieu of the base revenue limit that otherwise would be determined for that school district for that fiscal year pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 42238 of the Education Code, shall be an amount equal to the statewide average of the base revenue limits calculated under subdivision (b) of Section 42238 of the Education Code for the 1991–92 fiscal year for high school districts having more than 300 units of average daily attendance, on the basis of the Education Code as it read on January 1, 1992. The base revenue limit determined for the Fullerton Joint Union High School District pursuant to this subdivision shall be adjusted pursuant to Section 42238.1 of the Education Code.

(b) For the 1994–95 fiscal year, the base revenue limit determined pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be deemed to be the "base revenue limit for the prior fiscal year" for the Fullerton Joint Union High School District for purposes of subdivision (b) of Section 42238 of the Education Code.

SEC. 11. (a) Sections 3, 4, 5, 9, and 10 of this act become operative July 1, 1993.

(b) Sections 6, 7, and 8 of this act become operative July 1, 1996.

SEC. 12. Due to unique circumstances concerning the Fullerton Joint Union High School District and the Placentia-Yorba Linda Unified School District, the Legislature finds and declares that a general statute cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution.

SEC. 13. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

"Medical device retailer" includes, but is not limited to, any area, place, or premises described in a permit issued by the board by reference to plans filed with and approved by the board wherein dangerous devices, as defined, are stored, possessed, prepared, manufactured, or repackaged, and from which the dangerous devices are furnished, sold or dispensed at retail.

(b) "Medical device retailer" shall not include any area in a facility licensed by the State Department of Health Services where

(c) “Dangerous devices” as used in this chapter shall include, but is not limited to, all devices to which any of the following apply:

1. Devices bearing the legend, “Caution, federal law prohibits dispensing without prescription,” or words of similar import.
2. Devices enumerated in Section 4211.
3. Hypodermic syringes and needles, or other devices, the sale of which is restricted by law to a registered pharmacist.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, hypodermic needles and syringes shall only be distributed, possessed, or used as authorized by Article 5.5 (commencing with Section 4140) of this chapter.

(d) For purposes of this chapter, “device” does not include contact lenses, nor does it include any prosthetic or orthopedic device that does not require a prescription.

(e) Neither this section nor any other provision of law shall be construed as prohibiting a medical device retailer from furnishing a prescription device to a licensed health care facility for storage in a secured emergency pharmaceutical supplies container maintained within the facility in accordance with facility regulations of the State Department of Health Services set forth in Title 22 of the California Code of Regulations.

SEC. 2. Section 4131 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

4131. (a) Each medical device retailer shall have written policies and procedures related to medical device retailer handling and dispensing of dangerous devices. Those written policies and procedures shall include, but not be limited to:

(b) Consultation shall be available to the patient or primary caregiver concerning proper use of dangerous devices and related supplies furnished by the medical device retailer.

(c) Each retailer shall ensure all personnel of the medical device retailer who engage in the taking of orders for, sale, or fitting of, dangerous devices shall have training and demonstrate initial and continuing competence in the order-taking, fitting, and sale of dangerous devices which the medical device retailer furnishes. The pharmacist-in-charge or exemptee shall be jointly responsible with the owner or owners of the medical device retailer for compliance with the requirement.

(d) Each retailer shall prepare and maintain records of training and demonstrated competence for each individual employed or retained by said retailer. Said records shall be maintained for three years from and after the last date of employment.

(e) Each retailer shall have an ongoing, documented quality assurance program which includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(1) Monitoring personnel performance.
(2) Storage, maintenance, and dispensing of dangerous devices.
(3) The records and documents specified in subdivisions (a) and (e) shall be maintained for three years from the date of making. The records and documents in subdivisions (a), (d), and (e), shall be, at all times during business hours, open to inspection by authorized officers of the law.

CHAPTER 122

An act to amend, repeal, and add Section 27315 of the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor July 6, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State July 7, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 27315 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

27315. (a) The Legislature finds that a mandatory seatbelt law will contribute to reducing highway deaths and injuries by encouraging greater usage of existing manual seatbelts, that automatic crash protection systems which require no action by vehicle occupants offer the best hope of reducing deaths and injuries, and that encouraging the use of manual safety belts is only a partial remedy for addressing this major cause of death and injury. The Legislature declares that the enactment of this section is intended to be compatible with support for federal safety standards requiring automatic crash protection systems and should not be used in any manner to rescind federal requirements for installation of automatic restraints in new cars.

(b) This section shall be known and may be cited as the Private Passenger Motor Vehicle Safety Act.

(c) As used in this section, "private passenger motor vehicle" means any passenger vehicle and any motortruck of less than 6,001 pounds unladen weight, but "private passenger motor vehicle" does not include a motorcycle.

(d) (1) No person shall operate a private passenger motor vehicle on a highway unless that person and all passengers four years of age or over are properly restrained by a safety belt. This paragraph shall not apply to the operator of a taxicab, as defined in Section 27908, when the taxicab is driven on a city street. The safety belt requirement established by this paragraph is the minimum safety standard applicable to employees being transported in a private passenger motor vehicle. This paragraph does not preempt any more stringent or restrictive standards imposed by the Labor Code or any other state or federal regulation regarding the transportation of employees in a private passenger motor vehicle.

(2) The operator of a limousine for hire or the operator of an authorized emergency vehicle, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 165, shall not operate the limousine for hire or authorized emergency vehicle unless the operator and any passengers four years of age or over in the front seat are properly restrained by a safety belt.

(3) The operator of a taxicab shall not operate the taxicab unless any passengers four years of age and over in the front seat are properly restrained by a safety belt.

(e) No person 16 years of age or over shall be a passenger in a private passenger motor vehicle on a highway unless that person is properly restrained by a safety belt.

(f) Every owner of a private passenger motor vehicle, including every owner or operator of a taxicab, as defined in Section 27908, or a limousine for hire, operated on a highway shall maintain safety belts in good working order for the use of occupants of the vehicle. The safety belts shall conform to motor vehicle safety standards established by the United States Department of Transportation. This subdivision does not, however, require installation or maintenance of safety belts where not required by the laws of the United States applicable to the vehicle at the time of its initial sale.

(g) This section does not apply to a passenger or operator with a physically disabling condition or medical condition which would prevent appropriate restraint in a safety belt, if the condition is duly certified by a licensed physician and surgeon or by a licensed chiropractor who shall state the nature of the condition, as well as the reason the restraint is inappropriate. This section also does not apply to a peace officer, as defined in Section 830 of the Penal Code, when in an authorized emergency vehicle as defined in paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 165, or to any passenger in any seat behind the front seat of an authorized emergency vehicle as defined in paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 165 operated by the peace officer, unless required by the agency employing the peace officer.

(h) Notwithstanding subdivision (a) of Section 42001, any violation of subdivision (d), (e), or (f) is an infraction punishable by a fine, including all penalty assessments and court costs imposed on the convicted person, of not more than twenty dollars ($20) for a first offense, and a fine, including all penalty assessments and court costs imposed on the convicted person, of not more than fifty dollars ($50) for each subsequent offense. In lieu of the fine and any penalty assessment or court costs, the court, pursuant to Section 42005, may order that a person convicted of a first offense attend a school for traffic violators or a driving school in which the proper use of safety belts is demonstrated.

(i) For any violation of subdivision (d), (e), or (f), in addition to the fines provided for pursuant to subdivision (h) and the penalty assessments provided for pursuant to Section 1464 of the Penal Code, an additional penalty assessment of two dollars ($2) shall be levied for any first offense, and an additional penalty assessment of five dollars ($5) shall be levied for any subsequent offense.

All moneys collected pursuant to this subdivision shall be utilized in accordance with Section 1464 of the Penal Code.

(j) In any civil action, a violation of subdivision (d), (e), or (f) or information of a violation of subdivision (h) shall not establish negligence as a matter of law or negligence per se for comparative fault purposes, but negligence may be proven as a fact without regard to the violation.

(k) If the United States Secretary of Transportation fails to adopt safety standards for manual safety belt systems by September 1, 1989, no private passenger motor vehicle manufactured after that date for sale or sold in this state shall be registered unless it contains a manual safety belt system which meets the performance standards applicable to automatic crash protection devices adopted by the Secretary of Transportation pursuant to Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 208 (49 C.F.R. 571.208) as in effect on January 1, 1985.

(l) Each private passenger motor vehicle offered for original sale in this state which has been manufactured on or after September 1, 1989, shall comply with the automatic restraint requirements of Section S4.1.2.1 of Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 208 (49 C.F.R. 571.208), as published in Volume 49 of the Federal Register, No. 138, page 29009. Any automobile manufacturer who sells or delivers a private passenger motor vehicle subject to the requirements of this subdivision, and fails to comply with this subdivision, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500) for each sale or delivery of a noncomplying private passenger motor vehicle.

(m) Compliance with subdivision (k) or (l) by a manufacturer shall be made by self-certification in the same manner as self-certification is accomplished under federal law.

(n) This section does not apply to a person actually engaged in delivery of newspapers to customers along the person's route if the person is properly restrained by a safety belt prior to commencing and subsequent to completing delivery on the route.

(o) This section does not apply to a person actually engaged in collection and delivery activities as a rural delivery carrier for the United States Postal Service if the person is properly restrained by a safety belt prior to stopping at the first box and subsequent to stopping at the last box on the route.

(p) Subdivisions (d), (e), (f), (g), and (h) shall become inoperative immediately upon the date that the United States Secretary of Transportation, or his or her delegate, determines to rescind the portion of the Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 208 (49 C.F.R. 571.208) which requires the installation of automatic restraints in new private passenger motor vehicles, except that those subdivisions shall not become inoperative if the secretary’s decision to rescind that Standard No. 208 is not based, in any respect, on the enactment or continued operation of those subdivisions.

(q) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1996, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1996, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. Section 27315 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

27315. (a) The Legislature finds that a mandatory seatbelt law will contribute to reducing highway deaths and injuries by encouraging greater usage of existing manual seatbelts, that automatic crash protection systems which require no action by vehicle occupants offer the best hope of reducing deaths and injuries, and that encouraging the use of manual safety belts is only a partial remedy for addressing this major cause of death and injury. The Legislature declares that the enactment of this section is intended to be compatible with support for federal safety standards requiring automatic crash protection systems and should not be used in any manner to rescind federal requirements for installation of automatic restraints in new cars.

(b) This section shall be known and may be cited as the Private Passenger Motor Vehicle Safety Act.

(c) As used in this section, "private passenger motor vehicle" means any passenger vehicle and any motortruck of less than 6,001 pounds unladen weight, but "private passenger motor vehicle" does not include a motorcycle.

(d) (1) No person shall operate a private passenger motor vehicle on a highway unless that person and all passengers four years of age or over are properly restrained by a safety belt. This paragraph does not apply to the operator of a taxicab, as defined in Section 27908, when the taxicab is driven on a city street. The safety belt requirement established by this paragraph is the minimum safety standard applicable to employees being transported in a private passenger motor vehicle. This paragraph does not preempt any more stringent or restrictive standards imposed by the Labor Code or any other state or federal regulation regarding the transportation of employees in a private passenger motor vehicle.

(2) The operator of a limousine for hire or the operator of an authorized emergency vehicle, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 165, shall not operate the limousine for hire or authorized emergency vehicle unless the operator and any passengers four years of age or over in the front seat are properly restrained by a safety belt.
(3) The operator of a taxicab shall not operate the taxicab unless any passengers four years of age and over in the front seat are properly restrained by a safety belt.

(e) No person 16 years of age or over shall be a passenger in a private passenger motor vehicle on a highway unless that person is properly restrained by a safety belt.

(f) Every owner of a private passenger motor vehicle, including every owner or operator of a taxicab, as defined in Section 27908, or a limousine for hire, operated on a highway shall maintain safety belts in good working order for the use of occupants of the vehicle. The safety belts shall conform to motor vehicle safety standards established by the United States Department of Transportation. This subdivision does not, however, require installation or maintenance of safety belts where not required by the laws of the United States applicable to the vehicle at the time of its initial sale.

(g) This section does not apply to a passenger or operator with a physically disabling condition or medical condition which would prevent appropriate restraint in a safety belt, if the condition is duly certified by a licensed physician and surgeon or by a licensed chiropractor who shall state the nature of the condition, as well as the reason the restraint is inappropriate. This section also does not apply to a peace officer, as defined in Section 830 of the Penal Code, when in an authorized emergency vehicle as defined in paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 165, or to any passenger in any seat behind the front seat of an authorized emergency vehicle as defined in paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 165 operated by the peace officer, unless required by the agency employing the peace officer.

(h) Notwithstanding subdivision (a) of Section 42001, any violation of subdivision (d), (e), or (f) is an infraction punishable by a fine, including all penalty assessments and court costs imposed on the convicted person, of not more than twenty dollars ($20) for a first offense, and a fine, including all penalty assessments and court costs imposed on the convicted person, of not more than fifty dollars ($50) for each subsequent offense. In lieu of the fine and any penalty assessment or court costs, the court, pursuant to Section 42005, may order that a person convicted of a first offense attend a school for traffic violators or a driving school in which the proper use of safety belts is demonstrated.

(i) For any violation of subdivision (d), (e), or (f), in addition to the fines provided for pursuant to subdivision (h) and the penalty assessments provided for pursuant to Section 1464 of the Penal Code, an additional penalty assessment of two dollars ($2) shall be levied for any first offense, and an additional penalty assessment of five dollars ($5) shall be levied for any subsequent offense.

All moneys collected pursuant to this subdivision shall be utilized in accordance with Section 1464 of the Penal Code.

(j) In any civil action, a violation of subdivision (d), (e), or (f) or information of a violation of subdivision (h) shall not establish negligence as a matter of law or negligence per se for comparative fault purposes, but negligence may be proven as a fact without regard to the violation.

(k) Notwithstanding Section 40300 or any other provision of law, a peace officer shall not stop or seize a person for a violation of subdivision (d), (e), or (f), nor arrest or issue a notice to appear or notice to correct for a violation of those subdivisions if the officer has no other cause to stop or seize the person other than a violation of subdivision (d), (e), or (f).

(l) If the United States Secretary of Transportation fails to adopt safety standards for manual safety belt systems by September 1, 1989, no private passenger motor vehicle manufactured after that date for sale or sold in this state shall be registered unless it contains a manual safety belt system which meets the performance standards applicable to automatic crash protection devices adopted by the Secretary of Transportation pursuant to Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 208 (49 C.F.R. 571.208) as in effect on January 1, 1985.

(m) Each private passenger motor vehicle offered for original sale in this state which has been manufactured on or after September 1, 1989, shall comply with the automatic restraint requirements of Section 541.2.1 of Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 208 (49 C.F.R. 571.208), as published in Volume 49 of the Federal Register, No. 138, page 29009. Any automobile manufacturer who sells or delivers a private passenger motor vehicle subject to the requirements of this subdivision, and fails to comply with this subdivision, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500) for each sale or delivery of a noncomplying private passenger motor vehicle.

(n) Compliance with subdivision (l) or (m) by a manufacturer shall be made by self-certification in the same manner as self-certification is accomplished under federal law.

(o) This section does not apply to a person actually engaged in delivery of newspapers to customers along the person's route if the person is properly restrained by a safety belt prior to commencing and subsequent to completing delivery on the route.

(p) This section does not apply to a person actually engaged in collection and delivery activities as a rural delivery carrier for the United States Postal Service if the person is properly restrained by a safety belt prior to stopping at the first box and subsequent to stopping at the last box on the route.

(q) Subdivisions (d), (e), (f), (g), and (h) shall become inoperative immediately upon the date that the United States Secretary of Transportation, or his or her delegate, determines to rescind the portion of the Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 208 (49 C.F.R. 571.208) which requires the installation of automatic restraints in new private passenger motor vehicles, except that those subdivisions shall not become inoperative if the secretary's decision to rescind that Standard No. 208 is not based, in any respect, on the enactment or continued operation of those subdivisions.
(r) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1996.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14132.49 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14132.49. (a) Upon federal approval of the state plan amendments made pursuant to Section 14021.7 for federal financial assistance, targeted case management, pursuant to subdivision (g) of Section 1396n of Title 42 of the United States Code, is covered as a benefit, subject to the availability of funding through the budget process, and subject to utilization controls, for pregnant and parenting adolescents and their children.

(c) The department may redirect General Fund moneys for local assistance for existing adolescent family life programs to the extent necessary to provide state matching funds for implementation of subdivision (a). The amount which may be redirected shall not exceed the amount appropriated for local assistance for the Adolescent Family Life Program.

(d) It is the intent of the Legislature that the additional federal matching funds made available by implementation of subdivision (a) be used to expand the Adolescent Family Life Program and not supplant General Fund or other public moneys or federal funds provided for pursuant to Titles V and XIX of the federal Social Security Act (Sec. 701 and following, and Sec. 1396 and following, respectively, of Title 42 of the United States Code).

(e) Determinations to continue, expand, or terminate the program shall be based on all of the following:

(2) A determination of the amount of federal funds received for this service.

(3) An assessment of the cost-effectiveness of the services to the General Fund.

However, provisions of the governing documents relative to a particular construction or marketing phase of the development may not be deleted under the authorization of this subdivision until that construction or marketing phase has been completed.

(b) The provisions which may be deleted by action of the board shall be limited to those which provide for access by the developer over or across the common area for the purposes of (a) completion of construction of the development, and (b) the erection, construction, or maintenance of structures or other facilities designed to facilitate the completion of construction or marketing of separate interests.

682. (a) To continue any hearing relating to proceedings pursuant to Section 601 or 602, regardless of the custody status of the

Whenever any continuance is granted, the facts which require the continuance shall be entered into the minutes.

(e) When any hearing is continued pursuant to this section, the hearing shall commence on the date to which it was continued or within seven days thereafter whenever the court is satisfied that good cause exists and the moving party will be prepared to proceed within that time.

(b) Persons who sell or distribute vehicles of a type subject to registration for a manufacturer to vehicle dealers licensed under this code, or who are employed by manufacturers or distributors to promote the sale of vehicles dealt in by those manufacturers or distributors. However, any of those persons who also sell vehicles at retail are vehicle dealers and are subject to this code.

(c) Persons regularly employed as salespersons by vehicle dealers licensed under this code while acting within the scope of that employment.

(d) Persons engaged exclusively in the bona fide business of exporting vehicles or of soliciting orders for the sale and delivery of vehicles outside the territorial limits of the United States, if no federal excise tax is legally payable or refundable on any of the transactions. Persons not engaged exclusively in the bona fide business of exporting vehicles, but who are engaged in the business of soliciting orders for the sale and delivery of vehicles, outside the territorial limits of the United States are exempt from licensure as dealers only if their sales of vehicles produce less than 10 percent of their total gross revenue from all business transacted.

(e) Persons not engaged in the purchase or sale of vehicles as a business, who dispose of any vehicle acquired and used in good faith, for their own personal use, or for use in their business, and not for the purpose of avoiding the provisions of this code.

(h) Persons who are engaged exclusively in the business of purchasing, selling, servicing, or exchanging racing vehicles, parts for racing vehicles, and trailers designed and intended by the manufacturer to be used exclusively for carrying racing vehicles. (i) Any person who is a lessor.

(j) Any person who is a renter.

(k) Any salvage pool.

(l) Any yacht broker who is subject to the Yacht and Ship Brokers Act (Article 2 (commencing with Section 700) of Chapter 5 of

(b) The department may inspect the records of a nonprofit institution or organization that sells vehicles in order to ascertain whether it meets the conditions specified in subdivision (o) of Section 286.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution for those costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. However, notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.
An act to amend Sections 1265 and 1382 of the Penal Code, relating to criminal procedure, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 6, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State July 7, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1265 of the Penal Code is amended to read: 1265. (a) After the certificate of the judgment has been remitted to the court below, the appellate court has no further jurisdiction of the appeal or of the proceedings thereon, and all orders necessary to carry the judgment into effect shall be made by the court to which the certificate is remitted. However, if a judgment has been affirmed on appeal no motion shall be made or proceeding in the nature of a petition for a writ of error coram nobis shall be brought to procure the vacation of that judgment, except in the court which affirmed the judgment on appeal. When a judgment is affirmed by a court of appeal and a hearing is not granted by the Supreme Court, the application for the writ shall be made to the court of appeal.

(b) Where it is necessary to obtain personal jurisdiction of the defendant in order to carry the judgment into effect, upon a satisfactory showing that other means such as contact by mail, phone, or notification by means of the defendant's counsel have failed to secure the defendant's appearance, the court to which the certificate has been remitted may issue a bench warrant.

SEC. 2. Section 1382 of the Penal Code is amended to read: 1382. (a) The court, unless good cause to the contrary is shown, shall order the action to be dismissed in the following cases:

1) When a person has been held to answer for a public offense and an information is not filed against that person within 15 days thereafter.

2) When a defendant is not brought to trial in a superior court within 60 days after the finding of the indictment or filing of the information or, in case the cause is to be tried again following a mistrial, an order granting a new trial from which an appeal is not taken, or an appeal from the superior court, within 60 days after the mistrial has been declared, after entry of the order granting the new trial, or after the filing of the remittitur in the trial court, or after the issuance of a writ or order which in effect grants a new trial, within 60 days after notice of the writ or order is filed in the trial court and served upon the prosecuting attorney, or within 90 days after notice of the writ or order is filed in the trial court and served upon the prosecuting attorney in any case where the district attorney chooses to resubmit the case for a preliminary examination after an appeal or the issuance of a writ reversing a judgment of conviction upon a plea of guilty prior to a preliminary hearing in a municipal or justice court. However, an action shall not be dismissed under this paragraph if either of the following circumstances exist:

(A) The defendant enters a general waiver of the 60-day trial requirement. A general waiver of the 60-day trial requirement entitles the superior court to set or continue a trial date without the sanction of dismissal should the case fail to proceed on the date set for trial. If the defendant, after proper notice to all parties, later withdraws his or her waiver in the superior court, the defendant shall be brought to trial within 60 days of the date of that withdrawal. If a general time waiver is not expressly entered, the provisions of subparagraph (B) shall apply.

(B) The defendant requests or consents to the setting of a trial date beyond the 60-day period. Whenever a case is set for trial beyond the 60-day period by request or consent, expressed or implied, of the defendant without a general waiver, the defendant shall be brought to trial on the date set for trial or within 10 days thereafter.

Whenever a case is set for trial after a defendant enters either a general waiver as to the 60-day trial requirement or requests or consents, expressed or implied, to the setting of a trial date beyond the 60-day period pursuant to this paragraph, the court may not grant a motion of the defendant to vacate the date set for trial and to set an earlier trial date unless all parties are properly noticed and the court finds good cause for granting that motion.

(3) Regardless of when the complaint is filed, when a defendant in a misdemeanor case in an inferior court is not brought to trial within 30 days after he or she is arraigned or enters his or her plea, whichever occurs later, if the defendant is in custody at the time of arraignment or plea, or in all other cases, within 45 days after the defendant’s arraignment or entry of the plea, whichever occurs later, or in case the cause is to be tried again following a mistrial, an order granting a new trial from which an appeal is not taken, or an appeal from the inferior court, within 30 days after the mistrial has been declared, after entry of the order granting the new trial, or after the remittitur is filed in the trial court or, if the new trial is to be held in the superior court, within 30 days after the judgment on appeal becomes final. However, an action shall not be dismissed under this subdivision if either of the following circumstances exist:

(A) It is set for trial on a date beyond the prescribed period at the request of the defendant or with the defendant’s consent, express or implied, and the defendant is brought to trial on the date so set for trial or within 10 days thereafter.

(B) It is not tried on the date set for trial because of the defendant’s neglect or failure to appear, in which case the defendant shall be deemed to have been arraigned within the meaning of this subdivision on the date of his or her subsequent arraignment on a bench warrant or his or her submission to the court.

(b) Whenever a defendant has been ordered to appear in superior court on a case set for trial or set for a hearing prior to trial, if the defendant fails to appear on that date and a bench warrant is issued, the defendant shall be brought to trial within 60 days after the defendant next appears in the superior court unless a trial date had previously been set which is beyond that 60-day period.

(c) If the defendant is not represented by counsel, the defendant shall not be deemed under this section to have consented to the date for the defendant's trial unless the court has explained to the defendant his or her rights under this section and the effect of his or her consent.

830.39. (a) Any regularly employed law enforcement officer of the Oregon State Police, the Nevada Department of Motor Vehicles and Public Safety, or the Arizona Department of Public Safety is a peace officer in this state if all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The officer is providing, or attempting to provide, law enforcement services within this state on the state or county highways and areas immediately adjacent thereto, within a distance of up to 50 statute miles of the contiguous border of this state and the state employing the officer.

(2) The officer is providing, or attempting to provide, law enforcement services pursuant to either of the following:

(A) In response to a request for services initiated by a member of the California Highway Patrol.

(B) In response to a reasonable belief that emergency law enforcement services are necessary for the preservation of life, and a request for services by a member of the Department of the California Highway Patrol is impractical to obtain under the circumstances. In those situations, the officer shall obtain authorization as soon as practical.

(3) The officer is providing, or attempting to provide, law enforcement services for the purpose of assisting a member of the California Highway Patrol to provide emergency service in response to misdemeanor or felony criminal activity, pursuant to the authority of a peace officer as provided in subdivision (a) of Section 830.2, or, in the event of highway-related traffic accidents, emergency incidents or other similar public safety problems, whether or not a member of the California Highway Patrol is present at the scene of the event. Nothing in this section shall be construed to confer upon the officer the authority to enforce traffic or motor vehicle infractions.

(4) An agreement pursuant to Section 2403.5 of the Vehicle Code is in effect between the Department of the California Highway Patrol and the agency of the adjoining state employing the officer, the officer acts in accordance with that agreement, and the agreement specifies that the officer and employing agency of the adjoining state shall be subject to the same civil immunities and liabilities as a peace officer and his or her employing agency in this

(5) The officer receives no separate compensation from this state for providing law enforcement services within this state.

(6) The adjoining state employing the officer confers similar rights and authority upon a member of the California Highway Patrol who renders assistance within that state.

(b) Whenever, pursuant to Nevada law, a Nevada correctional officer is working or supervising Nevada inmates who are performing conservation-related projects or fire suppression duties within California, the correctional officer may maintain custody of the inmates in California, and retake any inmate who should escape in California, to the same extent as if the correctional officer were a peace officer in this state and the inmate had been committed to his or her custody in proceedings under California law.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any person who is acting as a peace officer in this state in the manner described in this section shall be deemed to have met the requirements of Section 1031 of the Government Code and the selection and training standards of the Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training if the officer has completed the basic training required for peace officers in his or her state.

(d) In no case shall a peace officer of an adjoining state be authorized to provide services within a California jurisdiction during any period in which the regular law enforcement agency of the jurisdiction is involved in a labor dispute.

CHAPTER 132

An act to amend Sections 31651 and 31725.6 of the Government Code, relating to the County Employees Retirement Law of 1937.

[Approved by Governor July 6, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State July 7, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 31651 of the Government Code is amended to read:

31651. If the returning member files an election pursuant to Section 31649, the auditor or other officer charged with the duty of drawing salary or wage warrants shall deduct current contributions only from salary or wage warrants delivered 30 or more days after the filing of the election. Member contributions shall be calculated upon the basis of the age of the member upon his or her first entry into the retirement system.

SEC. 2. Section 31725.6 of the Government Code is amended to read:

31725.6. (a) When the board finds, based on medical advice, that a member in county service is incapacitated for the performance of the member's duties, the board shall determine, based upon that medical advice, whether the member is capable of performing other duties. If the board determines that a member, although incapacitated for the performance of the member's duties, is capable of performing other duties, the board shall inform the appropriate agency in county service of its findings and request that the agency immediately initiate a suitable rehabilitation program for the member pursuant to Section 139.5 of the Labor Code, whereby the member could become qualified for assignment to a position in county service consistent with the rehabilitation program.

(b) When the appropriate agency in county service receives such a request from the board, the agency shall immediately refer the member to a qualified rehabilitation representative for vocational evaluation. During the course of the evaluation, the rehabilitation representative shall consult with the appropriate agency in county service to determine what position, if any, in county service would be compatible with the member's aptitudes, interests, and abilities and whether rehabilitation services will enable the member to become qualified to perform the duties of the position.

(c) Upon completion of the vocational evaluation of the member, the rehabilitation representative shall develop a suitable rehabilitation plan and submit the plan for concurrence by the member and the appropriate agency in county service and, thereafter, the agency shall forward the plan to the Division of Industrial Accidents for approval pursuant to Section 139.5 of the Labor Code.

(d) Upon receipt of approval of the rehabilitation plan, the appropriate agency in county service shall notify the board that the agency is either proceeding to implement an approved rehabilitation plan that will qualify the member for a position in county service specified in the plan or is unable to provide a position in county service compatible with the approved rehabilitation plan.

(e) Upon commencement of service by the member in the position specified in the approved rehabilitation plan, the member shall not be paid the disability retirement allowance to which the member would otherwise be entitled during the entire period that the member remains in county service. However, if the compensation rate of the position specified in the approved rehabilitation plan is less than the compensation rate of the position for which the member was incapacitated, the board shall, in lieu of disability retirement allowance, pay to the member a supplemental disability allowance in an amount equal to the difference between the compensation rate of the position for which the member was incapacitated, applicable on the date of the commencement of service by the member in the position specified in the approved rehabilitation plan, and the compensation rate of the position specified in the plan, applicable on the same date. The disability allowance shall be adjusted annually to equal the difference between the current compensation rate of the position for which the member was incapacitated and the current compensation of the position specified in the approved rehabilitation plan. The supplemental disability allowance payments shall commence upon suspension of the disability retirement allowance and the amount of the payments shall not be greater than the disability retirement allowance to which the member would otherwise be entitled. Supplemental disability allowance payments made pursuant to this section shall be considered as a charge against the county advance reserve for current service, and all of these payments received by a member shall be considered as a part of the member’s compensation within the meaning of Section 31460.

(f) From the time that the member is eligible to receive a disability retirement allowance until the appropriate agency is able to provide the position in county service specified in the approved rehabilitation plan, and the member has commenced service in that position, the disability retirement allowance to which the member is entitled under this article shall be paid. Upon commencement of service by the member in the position specified in the approved rehabilitation plan, the period during which the member was receiving disability retirement payments shall not be considered as breaking the continuity of the member’s service, and the rate of the member’s contributions shall continue to be based on the same age at entrance into the retirement system as the member’s rates were based on prior to the date of the member’s disability. The member’s accumulated contributions shall not be reduced as a result of the member receiving the disability retirement payments, but shall be increased by the amount of interest that would have accrued had the member not been retired.

(g) Notwithstanding Section 31560, a member whose principal duties, while serving in the position for which the member was incapacitated, consisted of activities defined in Section 31469.3 shall, upon commencement of service by the member in the position specified in the approved rehabilitation plan, continue to be considered as satisfying the requirements of Section 31560, notwithstanding the actual duties performed during the entire period that the member remains in county service.

(h) If, within one year from the date that the member has been eligible for a disability retirement allowance, the appropriate agency in county service has offered to the member, in writing, the position specified in the rehabilitation plan which had previously been concurred, in writing, by the member and approved by the Division of Industrial Accidents pursuant to Section 139.5 of the Labor Code, the member shall, within 30 days of receipt of the notice, report for duty at the location specified in the notice. If the member refuses to report for duty within the time specified, the appropriate agency in county service may apply to the board to have the member’s allowance discontinued. The board shall be authorized to discontinue the member’s disability retirement allowance if based upon substantial evidence of the refusal of the member to report to work without reasonable cause. However, the board shall not be authorized to impair any other of the rights or retirement benefits to which the member would otherwise be entitled.

(i) This section shall apply only to members who are eligible to retire for service-connected disability.

In the event that the court at the time of pronouncing the second or other judgment upon that person had no knowledge of a prior existing judgment or judgments, or having knowledge, fails to determine how the terms of imprisonment shall run in relation to each other, then, upon that failure to determine, or upon that prior judgment or judgments being brought to the attention of the court at any time prior to the expiration of 60 days from and after the actual commencement of imprisonment upon the second or other subsequent judgments, the court shall, in the absence of the defendant and within 60 days of the notice, determine how the term of imprisonment upon the second or other subsequent judgment shall run with reference to the prior incompletely term or terms of imprisonment. Upon the failure of the court to determine how the terms of imprisonment on the second or subsequent judgment shall run, the term of imprisonment on the second or subsequent judgment shall run concurrently.

The Department of Corrections shall advise the court pronouncing the second or other subsequent judgment of the existence of all prior judgments against the defendant, the terms of imprisonment upon which have not been completely served.

SEC. 2. This act shall not become operative if Senate Bill 25 of the 1991–92 Regular Session is enacted and becomes effective on or before January 1, 1993, and amends or repeals Section 669 of the Penal Code.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State July 8, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2080.1 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

2080.1. (a) If the owner is unknown or has not claimed the property, the person saving or finding the property shall, if the property is of the value of one hundred dollars ($100) or more, within a reasonable time turn the property over to the police department of the city or city and county, if found therein, or to the sheriff’s department of the county if found outside of city limits, and shall make an affidavit, stating when and where he or she found or saved the property, particularly describing it. If the property was saved, the affidavit shall state:

(1) From what and how it was saved.

(2) Whether the owner of the property is known to the affiant.

(3) That the affiant has not secreted, withheld, or disposed of any part of the property.

(b) The police department or the sheriff’s department shall notify the owner, if his or her identity is reasonably ascertainable, that it possesses the property and where it may be claimed. The police department or sheriff’s department may require payment by the owner of a reasonable charge to defray costs of storage and care of the property.

2080.3. (a) If the reported value of the property is two hundred fifty dollars ($250) or more and no owner appears and proves his or her ownership of the property within 90 days, the police department or sheriff’s department shall cause notice of the property to be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation. If, after seven days following the first publication of the notice, no owner appears and proves his or her ownership of the property and the person who found or saved the property pays the cost of the publication, the title shall vest in the person who found or saved the property unless the property was found in the course of employment by an employee of any public agency, in which case the property shall be sold at public auction. Title to the property shall not vest in the person who found or saved the property or in the successful bidder at the public auction unless the cost of publication is first paid to the city, county, or city and county whose police or sheriff's department caused the notice to be published.

(b) If the reported value of the property is less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) and no owner appears and proves his or her ownership of the property within 90 days, the title shall vest in the person who found or saved the property, unless the property was found in the course of employment by an employee of any public agency, in which case the property shall be sold at public auction.

An act to add Sections 26670 and 72116 to the Government Code, relating to counties.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State July 8, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 26670 is added to the Government Code, to read:

26670. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Board of Supervisors of Shasta County may find, after holding a public hearing on the issue, that cost savings or efficiencies can be realized by consolidation of court-related services provided by the marshal and sheriff within that county. If this finding is made, an election shall be conducted among all of the judges of the superior and municipal courts of the county to determine the agency, either the marshal or the sheriff, under which court-related services shall be consolidated. The outcome shall be determined by a simple majority of votes cast by secret ballot, provided, that the total number of votes cast exceeds 50 percent of the number of superior and municipal court judges in the county, by at least one vote. The executive officer of the courts shall administer the election and tabulate the results. The presiding judges of the superior and municipal courts shall inform the board of supervisors of the results of the election within 15 days of the election. The board of supervisors shall immediately commence and, within a reasonable time not to exceed 90 days, implement the determination made by a majority of the judges of the superior and municipal courts in the election. If an election is not conducted within 90 days of notification of the board of supervisors' finding, or if the results of the election are evenly divided, the board of supervisors shall determine under which agency, either the marshal or the sheriff, court-related services shall be consolidated, and shall proceed to implement consolidation as if on the basis of a majority vote of the judges of the superior and municipal courts.

SEC. 2. Section 72116 is added to the Government Code, to read:

72116. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the board of supervisors of Shasta County may find, after holding a public hearing on the issue, that cost savings or efficiencies can be realized by consolidation of court-related services provided by the marshal and sheriff within that county. If this finding is made, an election shall be conducted among all of the judges of the superior and municipal courts of the county to determine the agency, either the marshal or the sheriff, under which court-related services shall be consolidated. The outcome shall be determined by a simple majority of votes cast by secret ballot, provided, that the total number of votes cast exceeds 50 percent of the number of superior and municipal court judges in the county, by at least one vote. The executive officer of the courts shall administer the election and tabulate the results. The presiding judges of the superior and municipal courts shall inform the board of supervisors of the results of the election within 15 days of the election. The board of supervisors shall immediately commence and, within a reasonable time not to exceed 90 days, implement the determination made by a majority of the judges of the superior and municipal courts in the election. If an election is not conducted within 90 days of notification of the board of supervisors' finding, or if the results of the election are evenly divided, the board of supervisors shall determine under which agency, either the marshal or the sheriff, court-related services shall be consolidated, and shall proceed to implement consolidation as if on the basis of a majority vote of the judges of the superior and municipal courts.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (f), all personnel of the marshal's office or personnel of the sheriff's office affected by a consolidation of court-related services under this section or Section 26670 shall become employees of that consolidated office at their existing or equivalent classifications, salaries, and benefits, and except as may be necessary for the operation of the agency under which court-related services are consolidated, shall not be involuntarily transferred out of the consolidated court-related services office for a period of four years following the consolidation.

(c) Permanent employees of the marshal's office or sheriff's office on the effective date of consolidation under this section or Section 26670 shall be deemed qualified, and no other qualifications shall be required for employment or retention. Probationary employees of the marshal's office or the sheriff's office on the effective date of a consolidation under this section or Section 26670 shall retain their probationary status and rights, and shall not be deemed to have transferred so as to require serving a new probationary period.

(d) All county service or service by employees of the marshal's office or the sheriff's office on the effective date of a consolidation under this section or Section 26670 shall be counted toward seniority in that court-related services office, and all time spent in the same, equivalent, or higher classification shall be counted toward classification seniority.

(e) No employee of the marshal's office or the sheriff's office on the effective date of a consolidation under this section or Section 26670 shall lose peace officer status, or be demoted or otherwise adversely affected by a consolidation of court-related services.

(f) In the event that court-related services are consolidated under the marshal's office, all sheriff's bailiffs affected by the consolidation shall be given the option of becoming employees of the marshal's office or of remaining with the sheriff's office. If a staffing shortage is created by the exercise of this option by these bailiffs, the marshal may accept qualified applicants from the sheriff's office under the provisions of subdivisions (b), (c), (d), and (e).

SEC. 3. Due to unique facts and circumstances applicable to Shasta County, the Legislature finds and declares that a general statute cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution. Special legislation is, therefore, necessarily applicable to only Shasta County.

CHAPTER 141

An act to amend Section 35012 of the Education Code, relating to school district governing boards.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State July 8, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 35012 of the Education Code is amended to read:

35012. (a) Except as otherwise provided, the governing board of a school district shall consist of five members elected at large by the qualified voters of the district. The terms of the members shall, except as otherwise provided, be for four years and staggered so that as nearly as practicable one-half of the members shall be elected in each odd-numbered year.

(b) A unified school district formed pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 4200) of Part 3 may have a governing board of seven members in the event the proposal for unification has specified a governing board of seven members. The members of the board shall be elected at large or by trustee areas as designated in the proposal for unification and shall serve four-year terms of office.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), and except as provided in this subdivision and Section 5018, the governing board of an elementary school district other than a union or joint union elementary school district shall consist of three members selected at large from the territory comprising the district. Whenever, in any such elementary school district the average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year is 300 or more, the procedures prescribed by Section 5018 shall be undertaken.

(d) There may be submitted to the governing board of a school district maintaining one or more high schools a pupil petition requesting the governing board to appoint one or more nonvoting pupil members to the board pursuant to this section.

There may also be submitted to the governing board of a school district maintaining one or more high schools a pupil petition requesting the governing board to allow preferential voting for the pupil member or members of the board. This request may be made in the original petition for pupil representation on the board or in a separate petition after a pupil member or members have been appointed to the board.

Whether for pupil representation or for preferential voting for the pupil member or members, the petition shall contain the signatures of either (a) not less than 500 pupils regularly enrolled in high schools of the district, or (b) not less than 10 percent of the number of pupils regularly enrolled in high schools of the district, whichever is less.

Upon receipt of a petition for pupil representation, the governing board shall, commencing July 1, 1976, and each year thereafter, order the inclusion within the membership of the governing board, in addition to the number of members otherwise prescribed, at least one nonvoting pupil member. The board may order the inclusion of more than one nonvoting pupil member.

Upon receipt of a petition for preferential voting for the pupil member or members, the governing board shall allow preferential voting for the pupil member or members of the governing board.

Preferential voting, as used in the section, means a formal expression of opinion that is recorded in the minutes and cast prior to the official vote of the governing board. A preferential vote will not serve in determining the final numerical outcome of a vote. No preferential vote will be solicited on matters subject to closed session discussion.

The governing board may adopt a resolution authorizing the nonvoting or preferential voting pupil member or members to make motions that may be acted upon by the governing board, except on matters dealing with employer-employee relations pursuant to Chapter 10.7 (commencing with Section 3540) of Division 4 of Title 1 of the Government Code.

Each pupil member shall have the right to attend each and all meetings of the governing board, except executive sessions.

Any pupil selected to serve as a nonvoting or preferential voting member of the governing board shall be enrolled in a high school of the district, may be less than 18 years of age, and shall be chosen by the pupils enrolled in the high school or high schools of the district in accordance with procedures prescribed by the governing board. The term of a pupil member shall be one year commencing on July 1 of each year.

A nonvoting or preferential voting pupil member shall be entitled to the mileage allowance to the same extent as regular members, but is not entitled to the compensation prescribed by Section 35120.

A nonvoting or preferential voting pupil member shall be seated with the members of the governing board and shall be recognized as a full member of the board at the meetings, including receiving all materials presented to the board members and participating in the questioning of witnesses and the discussion of issues.

The nonvoting or preferential voting pupil member shall not be included in determining the vote required to carry any measure before the board.

The nonvoting or preferential voting pupil member shall not be liable for any acts of the governing board.
CHAPTER 142

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State July 8, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds that small claims judgments are sometimes inadequate to redress certain types of disputes, such as neighborhood disputes involving barking dogs or other disturbances. Specifically, the Legislature finds that when a small claims court believes that a conditional judgment is appropriate, the court should be empowered to order the performance or cessation of acts by a party, consistent with the equitable powers of the court, and to condition an award of damages on noncompliance with the court's order.

SEC. 2. Section 116.220 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

116.220. (a) The small claims court shall have jurisdiction in the following actions:

(1) Except as provided in subdivision (c), for recovery of money, if the amount of the demand does not exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000).

(2) Except as provided in subdivision (c), to enforce payment of delinquent unsecured personal property taxes in an amount not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000), if the legality of the tax is not contested by the defendant.

(3) To issue the writ of possession authorized by Sections 1861.5 and 1861.10 of the Civil Code if the amount of the demand does not exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000).

(b) In any action seeking relief authorized by subdivision (a), the court may grant equitable relief in the form of rescission, restitution, reformation, and specific performance, in lieu of, or in addition to, money damages. The court may issue a conditional judgment. The court shall retain jurisdiction until full payment and performance of any judgment or order.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), the small claims court shall have jurisdiction over a defendant guarantor who is required to respond based upon the default, actions, or omissions of another, only if the demand does not exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500).

(d) In any case in which the lack of jurisdiction is due solely to an excess in the amount of the demand, the excess may be waived, but any waiver shall not become operative until judgment.

SEC. 3. Section 116.610 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

116.610. (a) The small claims court shall give judgment for damages, or equitable relief, or both damages and equitable relief, within the jurisdictional limits stated in Sections 116.220 and 116.231, and may make such orders as to time of payment or otherwise as the court deems just and equitable for the resolution of the dispute.
(b) The court may, at its discretion or on request of any party, continue the matter to a later date in order to permit and encourage the parties to attempt resolution by informal or alternative means.
(c) The judgment shall include a determination whether the judgment resulted from a motor vehicle accident on a California highway caused by the defendant’s operation of a motor vehicle, or by the operation by some other individual, of a motor vehicle registered in the defendant’s name.
(d) If the defendant has filed a claim against the plaintiff, or if the judgment is against two or more defendants, the judgment, and the statement of decision if one is rendered, shall specify the basis for and the character and amount of the liability of each of the parties, including, in the case of multiple judgment debtors, whether the liability of each is joint or several.
(e) In an action against several defendants, the court may, in its discretion, render judgment against one or more of them, leaving the action to proceed against the others, whenever a several judgment is proper.
(f) The prevailing party is entitled to the costs of the action, including the costs of serving the order for the appearance of the defendant.
(g) When the court renders judgment, the clerk shall promptly deliver or mail notice of entry of the judgment to the parties, and shall execute a certificate of personal delivery or mailing and place it in the file.
(h) The notice of entry of judgment shall be on a form approved or adopted by the Judicial Council.

CHAPTER 143

An act to amend Section 104.17 of the Streets and Highways Code, relating to state property.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State July 8, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 104.17 of the Streets and Highways Code is amended to read:

104.17. (a) The department may provide information regarding, and may lease, airspace under the interchange of Route 4 and Route 5 in San Joaquin County and on the northeast corner of Route 101 and De La Vina Street in the County of Santa Barbara, to a city, county, or other political subdivision or another state agency for emergency shelter or feeding program purposes. Property may be leased pursuant to this section only if there is no buyer. The lease shall be for one dollar ($1) per month. The lease amount may be paid in advance of the term covered in order to reduce the administrative costs associated with the payment of the monthly rental fee.

Any lease executed pursuant to this section shall also provide for the cost of administering the lease.

The administrative fee shall not exceed five hundred dollars ($500) per year unless the department determines that a higher administrative fee is necessary.

(b) The Legislature finds and declares that the lease of real property pursuant to this section serves a public purpose.

(c) Any lease executed pursuant to subdivision (a) for airspace under the interchange of Route 4 and Route 5 in San Joaquin County shall provide for the rescission of existing leases of this airspace between the department and the City of Stockton and for the refunding of any rent paid pursuant to those leases for periods commencing on or after January 1, 1988. Upon the request of the City of Stockton, the department may renew the lease executed pursuant to subdivision (a) for the airspace described in this subdivision for the period requested by the city, but not to exceed 10 years, and may, subsequent to that renewal, agree to not more than two additional renewals of not more than 10 years each.

CHAPTER 144

An act to amend Sections 19567, 19605.7, 19605.71, 19612.1, 19612.2, and 19617.5 of, to repeal and add Section 19617.7 of, and to repeal Section 19617.6 of, the Business and Professions Code, relating to horseracing, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State July 9, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19567 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19567. (a) Since the purpose of this chapter is to encourage agriculture and the breeding of horses in this state, a sum equal to 10 percent of the first money of every purse won by a California-bred horse at a horserace meeting shall be paid by the licensee conducting the meeting to the breeder of the horse. This section applies to any California-bred standardbred horse that is foaled on or after November 1, 1977, for all races, except the California standardbred sires stakes races.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), a sum equal to 10 percent of the first and second place money of every purse won by a California-bred Appaloosa or Arabian horse for first or second place at a horserace meeting shall be paid by the licensee conducting the meeting to the breeder of the horse.

(c) This section does not apply to thoroughbred horses or thoroughbred racing.

(d) Moneys from quarter horse racing derived pursuant to this section shall be deposited with the official registering agency pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 19617.7 and shall thereafter be distributed in accordance with subdivisions (c), (d), and (e) of Section 19617.7.

SEC. 2. Section 19605.7 of the Business and Professions Code, as amended by Section 4.5 of Chapter 484 of the Statutes of 1991, is amended to read:

(a) For thoroughbred meetings, 2.5 percent of the amount handled by the satellite wagering facility on conventional wagers and 4 percent on exotic wagers shall be distributed to the racing association for payment to the state as a license fee, 2 percent retained by the satellite wagering facility as a commission, 2.5 percent or the amount of actual operating expenses, as determined by the board, whichever is less, distributed to an organization described in Section 19608.2, and four-tenths of 1 percent deposited with the official registering agency pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 19617.2 and shall thereafter be distributed in accordance with subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 19617.2, and one-tenth of 1 percent distributed to the Equine Research Laboratory, School of Veterinary Medicine, University of California at Davis. It is the intent of the Legislature that the one-tenth of 1 percent of funds distributed to the Equine Research Laboratory shall supplement, and not supplant, other funding sources.

(b) For harness, quarter horse, Appaloosa, Arabian, or mixed breed meetings, 1 percent of the amount handled by the satellite wagering facility on conventional wagers and 1 percent on exotic wagers shall be distributed to the racing association for payment to the state as a license fee, for fair meetings, 1.5 percent of the amount handled by the satellite wagering facility on conventional wagers and 3 percent on exotic wagers shall be distributed to the racing association for payment to the state as a license fee, 2 percent retained by the satellite wagering facility as a commission, and 6 percent of the amount handled by the satellite wagering facility or the amount of actual operating expenses, as determined by the board, whichever is less, distributed to an organization described in Section 19608.2. In addition, in the case of quarter horses, four-tenths of 1 percent shall be deposited with the official registering agency pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 19617.7 and shall thereafter be distributed in accordance with subdivisions (c), (d), and (e) of Section 19617.7; in the case of Appaloosas, four-tenths of 1 percent shall be distributed as breeders' awards to breeders of Appaloosas; in the case of Arabians, four-tenths of 1 percent shall be distributed as breeders' awards to breeders of Arabians; in the case of standardbreds, four-tenths of 1 percent shall be distributed for the California Standardbred Sires Stakes Program pursuant to Section 19619; in the case of thoroughbreds, four-tenths of 1 percent shall be deposited with the official registering agency pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 19617.2 and shall thereafter be distributed in accordance with subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 19617.2; and one-tenth of 1 percent shall be distributed to the Equine Research Laboratory, School of Veterinary Medicine, University of California at Davis. It is the intent of the Legislature that the one-tenth of 1 percent of funds distributed to the Equine Research Laboratory shall supplement, and not supplant, other funding sources.

(c) In addition to the distributions specified in subdivision (a) or (b), for thoroughbred and fair meetings only, six-tenths of 1 percent of the total amount handled by each satellite wagering facility shall be allocated to the facility for promotion of that meeting's program. For harness, quarter horse, and mixed breed meetings, 1 percent of the total amount handled by each satellite wagering facility shall be distributed to an organization described in Section 19608.2 for promotion of the program at satellite wagering facilities.

(d) In addition to the distributions specified in subdivisions (a), (b), and (c), for thoroughbred meetings, four-tenths of 1 percent of the total amount handled at each satellite wagering facility shall be allocated to the association providing the racing program to reimburse it for any costs of offsite stabling and vanning which are required pursuant to Section 19535. The amount of the reimbursement payable to an association for offsite stabling shall not exceed the actual cost to the association of maintaining stalls at its racetrack plus the actual costs incurred by the association to provide vanning and transportation of racehorses from offsite stabling facilities to its racetrack.

(e) In addition to the distributions specified in subdivisions (a), (b), and (c), for fair meetings, four-tenths of 1 percent of the total amount handled at each satellite wagering facility shall be allocated to the organization representing racing fairs to reimburse fairs for the actual cost of providing offsite stabling required by the board pursuant to Section 19535. If fairs contract with associations to provide offsite stabling during fair meetings, the cost incurred by fairs shall not exceed the actual cost to the association of maintaining the stalls or the amount of reimbursement funds made available pursuant to this subdivision, whichever is less. In the event of a disagreement between an association and the organization representing racing fairs or the organization representing the majority of horsemen participating at the meeting with respect to the actual cost of maintaining stalls, the board, at the request of the association or the organization representing racing fairs or the organization representing the majority of horsemen participating at the meeting, shall determine within 60 days the amount of actual costs incurred. For purposes of this subdivision, "actual cost" does not include fixed overhead or administrative expenses which would be incurred by the association in the absence of an agreement to provide offsite stabling during fair meetings.

(f) Any of the promotional funds distributed pursuant to subdivision (c) that are not expended in the year in which they are collected may be expended in the following year. If promotion funds expended in any year exceed the amount collected for that year, the funds expended in the following year shall be reduced by the excess amount.

percent distributed to the Equine Research Laboratory, School of Veterinary Medicine, University of California at Davis. It is the intent of the Legislature that the one-tenth of 1 percent of funds distributed to the Equine Research Laboratory shall supplement, and not supplant, other funding sources.

(b) For harness, quarter horse, Appaloosa, Arabian, or mixed breed meetings, 1 percent of the amount handled by the satellite wagering facility on conventional wagers and 1 percent on exotic wagers shall be distributed to the racing association for payment to the state as a license fee, for fair meetings, 1.5 percent of the amount handled by the satellite wagering facility on conventional wagers and 3 percent on exotic wagers shall be distributed to the racing association for payment to the state as a license fee, 2 percent retained by the satellite wagering facility as a commission, and 6 percent of the amount handled by the satellite wagering facility or the amount of actual operating expenses, as determined by the board, whichever is less, distributed to an organization described in Section 19608.2. It is the intent of the Legislature that the one-tenth of 1 percent of funds distributed to the Equine Research Laboratory shall supplement, and not supplant, other funding sources.

(c) In addition, for thoroughbred meetings and harness, quarter horse, Appaloosa, mixed breed, or fair meetings, 1 percent shall be distributed to an organization described in Section 19608.2 for promotion of the program at satellite wagering facilities. Any of the promotion funds that are not distributed in the year in which they are collected may be distributed in the following year. If promotion funds distributed in any year exceed the amount collected for that year, the funds distributed in the following year shall be reduced by the excess amount. Additionally, thirty-three hundredths of 1 percent of the total amount handled by the satellite wagering facility shall be paid to the city or county in which the satellite wagering facility is located pursuant to Section 19610.3 or 19610.4.

   (C) In the case of stallion awards, the annual amount earned by California-conceived or California-bred foals of an eligible quarter horse sire for finishing first or second in qualifying races.

   (E) For purposes of this paragraph, the maximum purse considered earned in any qualifying race within this state is two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) for a win, and eighty thousand dollars ($80,000) for a second place finish.

The deposits shall be made at the following intervals:

(c) After deducting a sum equal to 10 percent of the total deposits made pursuant to subdivision (b) and the total deposits made pursuant to other provisions of this chapter, including Sections 19612.1 and 19612.2, to compensate the official registering agency for its administrative costs, the official registering agency shall distribute annually the balance of the deposits in the following manner:
(1) Sixty percent to the breeder fund from which breeder premiums are to be paid.
(2) Twenty-five percent to the owner fund from which owners’ awards are to be paid.

(4) The breeder premium, and owners’ and stallion awards shall be paid not later than March 31 of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year for which the awards or premiums were earned.

(e) The amount remaining for distribution under this section, if any, after the payments are made under subdivision (d) shall be used for the payment of quarter horse breeder premiums and owners’ and stallion awards on a prorated percentage based on the win and second place shares of the purse, exclusive of all purse money not derived from the parimutuel pools, to the breeders, owners, and owners of sires of quarter horses who have been officially placed first or second in one or more qualifying races.

SECTION 1. Section 33761 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

33761. An agency may issue revenue bonds for the purpose of financing residential construction authorized by this chapter and for the purpose of funding or refunding previously issued revenue bonds. An agency may also issue revenue bonds for the purpose of refunding bonds previously issued by another political subdivision of the state for the purpose of financing residential construction authorized by this chapter for projects within the jurisdiction of the agency. For the purposes of this section, "political subdivision" means a city, a housing authority, or a nonprofit corporation acting on behalf of a city or a housing authority, all of which operate within the jurisdiction of the agency. Any savings that accrue to the agency from refunding bonds previously issued by another political subdivision shall be limited to the expenditures authorized in subdivision (e) of Section 33334.2.

SEC. 2. Section 33782 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

33782. Any agency may provide for the issuance of the revenue bonds of the agency for the purpose of refunding any revenue bonds of the agency then outstanding, or for the purpose of refunding any revenue bonds of another political subdivision of the state then outstanding pursuant to Section 33761, including the payment of any redemption premiums thereof and any interest accrued or to accrue to the earliest or subsequent date of redemption, purchase, or maturity of the bonds, and, if both (a) deemed advisable by the agency, and (b) projects financed with the bonds fall within the jurisdiction of the agency, for the additional purpose of paying all or any part of the cost of additional residential construction.

The proceeds of revenue bonds issued pursuant to this section may, in the discretion of the agency, be applied to the purchase or retirement at maturity or redemption of outstanding revenue bonds, either at their earliest or any subsequent redemption date or upon the purchase or retirement at the maturity thereof and, pending that application, the portion of the proceeds allocated for that purpose may be placed in escrow, to be applied to the purchase or retirement at maturity or redemption on that date, as may be determined by the agency. Pending use for purchase, retirement at maturity, or redemption of outstanding revenue bonds, any proceeds held in such an escrow may be invested and reinvested as provided in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the refunding bonds. Any interest or other increment earned or realized on any such investment may also be applied to the payment of the outstanding revenue bonds to be refunded. After the terms of the escrow have been fully satisfied and carried out, any balance of the proceeds and any interest or increment earned or realized from the investment thereof may be returned to the agency to be used by it for any lawful purpose under this chapter. That portion of the proceeds of any revenue bonds issued pursuant to this section which is designated for the purpose of paying all or any part of the cost of additional residential construction may be invested and reinvested in obligations of, or guaranteed by, the United States of America or in certificates of deposit or time deposits secured by obligation of, or guaranteed by, the United States of America, maturing not later than the time or times when the proceeds will be needed for the purpose of paying all or any part of the cost.

All revenue bonds issued pursuant to this section shall be subject to this chapter in the same manner and to the same extent as other bonds issued pursuant to this chapter.

(a) Except as provided in Section 828, a petition filed in any juvenile court proceeding, reports of the probation officer, and all other documents filed in any such case or made available to the probation officer in making his or her report, or to the judge, referee or other hearing officer, and thereafter retained by the probation officer, judge, referee, or other hearing officer, may be inspected only by court personnel, the district attorney, or a city attorney or city prosecutor authorized to prosecute criminal or juvenile cases under state law the minor who is the subject of the proceeding, his or her parents or guardian, the attorneys for the parties, and any other person who may be designated by court order of the judge of the juvenile court upon filing a petition therefor. Child protective agencies, as defined in Section 11165.9 of the Penal Code, also shall be entitled to inspect these documents upon the filing of a declaration under penalty of perjury stating that access to these documents is necessary and relevant in connection with and in the course of a criminal investigation or a proceeding brought to declare a person a dependent child or ward of the juvenile court.

Any records or reports relating to a matter within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court prepared by or released by the court, a probation department, or the county department of social services, any portion of those records or reports, and information relating to the contents of those records or reports, shall not be disseminated by the receiving agencies to any persons or agencies, other than those persons or agencies authorized to receive documents pursuant to this section. Further, any of those records or reports, any portion of those records or reports, and information relating to the contents of those records or reports, shall not be made attachments to any other documents without the prior approval of the presiding judge of the juvenile court, unless they are used in connection with and in the course of a criminal investigation or a proceeding brought to declare a person a dependent child or ward of the juvenile court.

(b) (1) While the Legislature reaffirms its belief that juvenile court records, in general, should be confidential, it is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this subdivision to provide for a limited exception to juvenile court record confidentiality in cases involving serious acts of violence. Further, it is the intent of the Legislature that even in these selected cases dissemination of juvenile court records be as limited as possible, consistent with the need to work with a pupil in an appropriate fashion, and the need to protect potentially vulnerable school staff and other pupils over whom school staff exercise direct supervision and responsibility.

(2) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), written notice that a minor enrolled in a public school in kindergarten or grades 1 to 12, inclusive, has been found by a court of competent jurisdiction to have used, sold, or possessed narcotics or a controlled substance or to have committed any crime listed in paragraphs (1) to (15), inclusive, or (17) to (19), inclusive, of subdivision (b) of Section 707 shall be provided by the court, within seven days, to the superintendent of the school district of attendance, which information shall be expeditiously transmitted to any teacher, counselor, or administrator with direct supervisory or disciplinary responsibility over the minor who the superintendent or his or her designee, after consultation with the principal at the school of attendance, believes needs this information to work with the pupil in an appropriate fashion, to avoid being needlessly vulnerable or to protect other persons from needless vulnerability. Any information received by a teacher, counselor, or administrator under this subdivision shall be received in confidence for the limited purpose for which it was provided and shall not be further disseminated by the teacher, counselor, or administrator. An intentional violation of the confidentiality provisions of this section is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500).

(3) If a minor is removed from public school as a result of the court's finding described in subdivision (b) the superintendent shall maintain the information in a confidential file and shall defer transmittal of the information received from the court until the minor is returned to public school. If the minor is returned to a school district other than the one from which the minor came, the parole or probation officer having jurisdiction over the minor shall so notify the superintendent of the last district of attendance who shall transmit the notice received from the court to the superintendent of the new district of attendance.

(c) Each probation report filed with the court concerning a minor whose record is subject to dissemination pursuant to subdivision (b) shall include on the face sheet the school at which the minor is currently enrolled. The county superintendent shall provide the court with a listing of all of the schools within each school district, within the county, along with the name and mailing address of each district superintendent.

(d) Each notice sent by the court pursuant to subdivision (b) shall be stamped with the instruction: "Destroy This Record 12 Months After The Minor Returns To Public School. Unlawful Dissemination of This Information Is A Misdemeanor." No information transmitted by the superintendent pursuant to subdivision (b) shall be transmitted by the superintendent or by any teacher, counselor, or administrator to any other person more than 12 months after receipt of the original notice from the court or more than 12 months after the minor returns to public school, whichever occurs last. Any information received from the court shall be destroyed by school authorities 12 months after its receipt from the court or 12 months after the minor returns to public school, whichever occurs last. At any time after the date by which a record required to be destroyed by this section should have been destroyed, the minor or his or her parent or guardian shall have the right to make a written request to the principal of the school that the minor's school records be reviewed to ensure that the record has been destroyed. Upon completion of any requested review and no later than 30 days after the request for the review was received, the principal or his or her designee shall respond in writing to the written request and either shall confirm that the record has been destroyed or, if the record has not been destroyed, shall explain why destruction has not yet occurred and shall specify the date by which the record will be destroyed.
(e) Except as provided in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b), no liability shall attach to any person who transmits or fails to transmit any notice or information required under subdivision (b).

CHAPTER 150

An act to amend Section 6155 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to attorneys.

[Approved by Governor July 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State July 9, 1992]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6155 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6155. (a) An individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other entity shall not operate for the direct or indirect purpose, in whole or in part, of referring potential clients to attorneys, as no attorney shall accept a referral of such potential clients, unless all of the following requirements are met:

(1) The service is registered with the State Bar of California and
(a) on July 1, 1988, is operated in conformity with minimum standards for a lawyer referral service established by the State Bar, or (b) upon approval by the Supreme Court of minimum standards for a lawyer referral service, is operated in conformity with those standards.

(2) The combined charges to the potential client by the referral service and the attorney to whom the potential client is referred do not exceed the total cost that the client would normally pay if no referral service were involved.

(b) A referral service shall not be owned or operated, in whole or in part, directly or indirectly, by those lawyers to whom, individually or collectively, more than 20 percent of referrals are made. For purposes of this subdivision, a referral service that is owned or operated by a bar association, as defined in the minimum standards, shall be deemed to be owned or operated by its governing committee so long as the governing committee is constituted and functions in the manner prescribed by the minimum standards.

(c) Neither of the following is a lawyer referral service:

(1) A plan of legal insurance as defined in Section 119.6 of the Insurance Code.

(2) A group or prepaid legal plan, whether operated by a union, trust, mutual benefit or aid association, public or private corporation, or other entity or person, which meets both of the following conditions:

(3) A program having as its purpose the referral of clients to attorneys for representation on a pro bono basis.

(A) It recommends, furnishes, or pays for legal services to its members or beneficiaries.

(B) It provides telephone advice or personal consultation.

(d) The following are in the public interest and do not constitute an unlawful restraint of trade or commerce:

(1) An agreement between a referral service and a participating attorney to eliminate or restrict the attorney’s fee for an initial office consultation for each potential client or to provide free or reduced fee services.

(2) Requirements by a referral service that attorneys meet reasonable participation requirements, including experience, education, and training requirements.

(3) Provisions of the minimum standards as approved by the Supreme Court.

(e) A violation or threatened violation of this section may be enjoined by any person.

(f) With the approval of the Supreme Court, the State Bar shall formulate and enforce rules and regulations for carrying out this section, including rules and regulations which do the following:

(1) Establish minimum standards for lawyer referral services. The minimum standards shall include provisions ensuring that panel membership shall be open to all attorneys practicing in the geographical area served who are qualified by virtue of suitable experience, and limiting attorney registration and membership fees to reasonable sums which do not discourage widespread attorney membership.

(2) Require that an entity seeking to qualify as a lawyer referral service register with the State Bar and obtain from the State Bar a certificate of compliance with the minimum standards for lawyer referral services. A lawyer referral service that, on July 1, 1988, has been authorized by the State Bar shall have a reasonable period, not to exceed six months, after approval of the minimum standards by the Supreme Court to obtain a certificate of compliance.

(3) Require that the certificate may be obtained, maintained, suspended, or revoked pursuant to procedures set forth in the rules and regulations.

(4) Require the lawyer referral service to pay an application and renewal fee for the certificate in such reasonable amounts as may be determined by the State Bar. The State Bar shall adopt rules authorizing the waiver or reduction of the fees upon a demonstration of financial necessity.

(5) Require each lawyer who is a member of a certified lawyer referral service to possess a policy of errors and omissions insurance in an amount not less than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) for each occurrence and three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) aggregate, per year. By rule, the State Bar may provide for alternative proof of financial responsibility to meet this requirement.

(g) The State Bar of California shall submit the proposed rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this section to the Supreme Court for approval no later than July 1, 1988.

(h) This section shall not be construed to prohibit attorneys from jointly advertising their services.

(i) This section shall become inoperative on July 1, 1995, and, as of January 1, 1996, is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which becomes effective on or before January 1, 1996, deletes or extends the dates on which it would become inoperative and would be repealed.

CHAPTER 151

An act to amend Section 9356 of the Public Resources Code, relating to resource conservation.

[Approved by Governor July 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State July 9, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

9356. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), directors shall be elected at large.
(b) A district may, by ordinance, provide for election of directors by division. In order to reduce election costs, the divisions shall be established along the boundaries of existing voting precincts. Prior to adopting an ordinance pursuant to this subdivision, the text of the proposed ordinance, including proposed division boundaries, shall be published pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code, together with notice of the hearing at which the ordinance will be considered. At the time stated in the notice for the hearing, the board of directors shall consider the proposal and shall hear any and all objections thereto. If, after the hearing, the board determines it to be in the best interests of the district, it shall adopt the ordinance as proposed or as amended at the hearing. Directors in office at the time of adoption of the ordinance shall remain in office until the next general district election, at which a director shall be elected to each division established by the ordinance. The directors elected at that election shall meet and classify themselves by lot into two classes as nearly equal in number as possible. The term of office of those in the class having the least number shall expire on noon on the last Friday in November of the next even-numbered year after the year in which the meeting is held. The term of office of those in the other class shall expire at noon on the last Friday in November of the second even-numbered year after the year in which the meeting is held.

(c) If it is proposed to change the number of directors of a district divided into divisions, or if it is proposed to change the number of divisions in a district, that change shall be conditional upon adoption by the board of directors of a new or revised ordinance under subdivision (b) and the provisions and procedures of subdivision (b) shall be applicable thereto.

(d) Notwithstanding subdivisions (b) and (c), in any district in which directors are appointed pursuant to Section 9314, the board of supervisors of the principal county shall make the appointments by division, as called for in the ordinance adopted pursuant to subdivision (b), in lieu of the election specified in subdivision (b), and those appointments shall become effective, and the terms of existing directors shall expire, on the same date as if the directors were elected.
CHAPTER 152

An act to amend Section 48916 of the Education Code, relating to pupils.

The governing board may recommend a plan of rehabilitation for the pupil, which may include, but not be limited to, periodic review as well as assessment at the time of application for readmission. The plan may also include recommendations for counseling, employment, community service, or other rehabilitative programs.

The governing board of each school district shall adopt rules and regulations establishing a procedure for the filing and processing of requests for readmission. Upon completion of the readmission process, the governing board shall not be required to readmit the pupil. A description of the procedure shall be made available to the pupil and the pupil’s parent or guardian at the time the expulsion order is entered.

An act to amend Sections 5152.4, 5153, and 5153.5 of the Elections Code, relating to elections.

[Approved by Governor July 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State July 9, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5152.4 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

5152.4. After the publication or posting, or both, of the notice of intention and statement, the petition may be circulated among the voters of the district for signatures by any registered voter of the district. Each section of the petition shall bear a copy of the notice of intention and statement.

SEC. 2. Section 5153 of the Elections Code is amended to read:
5153. (a) Except as provided in Section 5153.5, within 30 days from the date of filing of the petition, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, the clerk of the district shall examine the petition, and from the records of registration ascertain whether or not the petition is signed by the requisite number of voters. A certificate showing the results of this examination shall be attached to the petition.

(b) In determining the number of valid signatures, the clerk of the district may use the duplicate file of affidavits maintained, or may check the signatures against facsimiles of voters' signatures, provided that the method of preparing and displaying the facsimiles complies with law.

(c) The clerk of the district shall notify the proponents of the petition as to the sufficiency or insufficiency of the petition.

(d) If the petition is found insufficient, no further action shall be taken. However, the failure to secure sufficient signatures, shall not preclude the filing of a new petition on the same subject, at a later date.

(e) If the petition is found sufficient, the clerk of the district shall certify the results of the examination to the governing board of the district at the next regular meeting of the board.

SEC. 3. Section 5153.5 of the Elections Code is amended to read:
5153.5. (a) Within 30 days from the date of filing of the petition, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, if, from the examination of petitions pursuant to Section 5153, more than 500 signatures have been signed on the petition, the clerk of the district may use a random sampling technique for verification of signatures. The random sample of signatures to be verified shall be drawn in such a manner that every signature filed with the clerk of the district shall be given an equal opportunity to be included in the sample. A random sampling shall include an examination of at least 500 or 3 percent of the signatures, whichever is greater.

(b) If the statistical sampling shows that the number of valid signatures is within 95 to 110 percent of the number of signatures of qualified voters needed to declare the petition sufficient, the clerk of the district shall examine and verify each signature filed.

(c) In determining from the records of registration, what number of valid signatures are signed on the petition, the clerk of the district may use the duplicate file of affidavits maintained, or may check the signatures against facsimiles of voters' signatures, provided that the method of preparing and displaying the facsimiles complies with law.

(d) The clerk of the district shall attach to the petition, a certificate showing the result of this examination, and shall notify the proponents of either the sufficiency or insufficiency of the petition.

(e) If the petition is found insufficient, no action shall be taken on the petition. However, the failure to secure sufficient signatures shall not preclude the filing later of an entirely new petition to the same effect.
(f) If the petition is found to be sufficient, the clerk of the district shall certify the results of the examination to the governing board of the district at the next regular meeting of the board.

(d) Acts as a real estate broker pursuant to Section 10131.1 by acquiring for resale to the public, and not as an investment, eight or more promissory notes, or sells to or exchanges with the public eight or more promissory notes.

This section does not apply to a real estate broker who has filed a written notice with the department pursuant to subdivision (f) of Section 10232 if that prior written notice is still effective.

An act to amend Section 2 of the Orange County Flood Control Act (Chapter 723 of the Statutes of 1927), relating to the Orange County Flood Control District.

[Approved by Governor July 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State July 9, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2 of the Orange County Flood Control Act (Chapter 723 of the Statutes of 1927) is amended to read:
Sec. 2. (a) The purposes of this act are to provide for the control of the flood and storm waters of the district, and the flood and storm waters of streams that have their source outside of the district, but which flow into the district, and to conserve those waters for beneficial and useful purposes by spreading, storing, retaining, and causing them to percolate into the soil within the district, or outside the district, or to save or conserve in any manner all or any of those waters and protect from damage from those flood or storm waters, the harbors, waterways, public highways, and property in the district.

(b) The Orange County Flood Control District is hereby declared to be a body corporate and politic and has all of the following powers:

(1) To have perpetual succession.

(2) To sue and be sued in the name of the district in all actions and proceedings in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction.

(3) To adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure.

(4) To take by grant, purchase, gift, devise, or lease, and to hold, use, enjoy, and to sell, lease, exchange, or dispose of real or personal property of every kind, within or outside the district, necessary to the full exercise of its powers.

(5) To acquire, or contract to acquire, lands, rights-of-way, easements, privileges and property of every kind, and to construct, maintain, and operate any and all works or improvements within or outside the district necessary or proper to carry out any of the objects or purposes of this act, and to complete, extend, add to, repair, or otherwise improve any works or improvements acquired by it as authorized in this act.

(6) To exercise the right of eminent domain, either within or outside the district, to take any property necessary to carry out any of the objects or purposes of this act.

(7) To incur indebtedness, and to issue bonds in the manner provided in this act.

(8) To cause taxes or assessments to be levied and collected for the purpose of paying any obligation of the district in the manner provided in this act.

(9) To make contracts, and to employ labor, and to do all acts necessary for the full exercise of the powers of the district, or any of the officers thereof, by this act.

(10) To grant or otherwise convey to counties, cities and counties, cities, or towns, easements for street and highway purposes, over, along, in, through, across, or under any real property owned by the district.

(11) To remove, carry away, and dispose of any rubbish, trash, debris, or other inconvenient matter that may be dislodged, transported, conveyed, or carried by means of, through, in, or along the works and structures operated or maintained hereunder and deposited upon the property of the district or elsewhere.

(12) To sell or dispose of any property (or any interest therein) or, subject to paragraph (13), lease or rent any property (or any interest therein) whenever, in the judgment of the board of supervisors, the property, or any interest therein or part thereof, is not required for the purposes of the district, or property may be leased, or included in community leases embracing adjoining lands, for any purpose, including leases for mining or extracting oil, gas, hydrocarbon substances, or other minerals, without interfering with the use of the property for the purposes of the district. If it appears that wells drilled upon private lands are draining or may drain oil, gas, or other hydrocarbon substances from lands owned by the district and operations for the production of oil, gas, or other hydrocarbons on land owned by the district might interfere with the use of that land for the purposes of the district, the district may enter into agreements with the owners or operators of the wells for the payment of compensation to the district for drainage in lieu of drilling offset wells upon the land owned by the district, and to pay any compensation received into the general fund of the district and use the compensation for the purposes of this act. However, nothing in this section authorizes the board of supervisors, or other governing body of the district, or any officer thereof, to sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of any water, water right, reservoir space, or storage capacity, or any interest or space therein, except as provided by Section 17.
The district may also grant to the United States of America, or any agency thereof authorized to accept and pay for land which lies within any channel, dam, or reservoir site, improved or constructed, in whole or in part, with federal funds, upon the payment to the district of the actual cost thereof as determined by the board of supervisors of the district. The district, by and through its board of supervisors, may warrant and guarantee the title of all lands so transferred to the United States under this section.

(13) Pursuant to paragraph (12), to lease or rent any property if the board adopts a resolution that meets both of the following requirements, as applicable:

(A) Includes all of the following findings, based on substantial evidence set forth in the minutes of the meeting:

(i) The property was not acquired through eminent domain.

(ii) In the case of a lease, the property is no longer needed for district purposes, including, but not limited to, flood protection and water conservation. In the case of a rental, the rental use will not conflict with the uses and purposes of the district.

(iii) The lease or rental is consistent with the city or county general plan, specific plan, and other plans or policies adopted for the area within which the property is located, including any plans and regulations adopted pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 8400) of Part 2 of Division 5 of the Water Code.

(iv) The lease or rental is consistent with the city or county zoning ordinances, regulations, and policies adopted for the area within which the property is located.

(v) The lease or rental is consistent with the city or county building regulations and policies adopted for the area within which the property is located.

(B) In the case of a rental, specifies the rental period and the date on which the property will be needed for the uses and purposes of the district.

(14) To monitor, test, or inspect drainage, flood, storm, or other waters within the district for the purpose of recording, determining, and reporting the quality of the waters to appropriate regional water quality control boards.

(15) To assist the County of Orange and any city within the county in emergency operations to control or mitigate the effect of tides, waves, and ocean currents on the Orange County shoreline.

(16) To carry on technical and other investigations, examinations, or tests of all kinds, make measurements, collect data, and make analyses, studies, and inspections pertaining to water supply, control of floods, use of water, water quality, nuisance, pollution, waste, and contamination of water, both within and outside the district.

(17) To regulate, prohibit, or control the discharge of pollutants, waste, or any other material into the district's facilities by requiring dischargers to obtain a permit from the district prior to any discharge and by prohibiting the discharge of pollutants or other material which does or may cause a nuisance into the district's facilities without first obtaining a permit from the district, but, if a federal permit has been issued for the discharge, a permit may be issued by the district at no fee to the discharger; except as provided in this act, to require a fee to be collected prior to the issuance of a discharge permit, if the amount of the fee does not exceed the cost of issuing the permit; to require all permit holders to indemnify the district from any and all damages, penalties, or other expenses imposed on or required of the district by state or federal agencies due to any discharge by the permit holders into the district facilities.

(18) To establish compliance with any federal, state, or local law, order, regulation, or rule relating to water pollution or the discharge of pollutants, waste, or any other material into the district's facilities. For this purpose, any authorized representative of the district, upon presentation of his or her credentials or, if necessary under the circumstances, after obtaining an inspection warrant pursuant to Title 13 (commencing with Section 1822.50) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure, has the right of entry to any premises on which a water pollution, waste, or contamination source is located for the purpose of inspecting the source, including securing samples of discharges therefrom, or any records required to be maintained in connection therewith by federal, state, or local law, order, regulation, or rule.
An act to amend Sections 6180.1, 6180.5, 6180.6, 6180.7, and 6190.34 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to attorneys.

[Approved by Governor July 8, 1992. Filed with Secretary of State July 9, 1992.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6180.1 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6180.1. The notice shall contain any information that may be required by any order of disbarment, suspension, or of acceptance of the attorneys' resignation, by any rule of the Supreme Court, Judicial Council, or the State Bar, and by any order of a court of the state having jurisdiction pursuant to this article or Article 12 (commencing with Section 6190) of this chapter. It shall be mailed to all persons who are then clients, to opposing counsel, to courts and agencies in which the attorney then had pending matters with an identification of the matter, to any errors and omissions insurer, to the Office of the Chief Trial Counsel of the State Bar and to any other person or entity having reason to be informed of the death, change of status or discontinuance or interruption of law practice. In the event of the death or incompetency of the attorney, the notice shall be given by the personal representative or guardian or conservator of the attorney or, if none, by the person having custody or control of the files and records of the attorney. In other cases, the notice shall be given by the attorney or a person authorized by the attorney or by the person having custody and control of the files and records.

SEC. 2. Section 6180.5 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6180.5. If the court finds that one or more of the events stated in Section 6180 has occurred, and that supervision of the courts is warranted because the affected attorney has left an unfinished client matter for which no other active member of the State Bar has with consent of the client agreed to assume responsibility, or that the interest of one or more of the clients of the attorney or one or more other interested persons or entities will be prejudiced if the proceeding herein provided is not maintained, it may make an order assuming jurisdiction over the attorney's practice pursuant to this article. If the person to whom the order to show cause is directed does not appear the court may make its order upon the verified application or such proof as it may require. Thereupon the court shall appoint one or more active members of the State Bar to act under its direction to mail a notice of cessation of law practice pursuant to Section 6180.1 and may order such appointed attorneys to do one or more of the following:

(a) Examine the files and records of the law practice, and obtain information as to any pending matters which may require attention.

(b) Notify persons and entities who appear to be clients of the attorney of the occurrence of the event or events stated in Section 6180 and inform them that it may be to their best interest to obtain other legal counsel.

(c) Apply for an extension of time pending employment of such other counsel by the client.

(d) With the consent of the client, file notices, motions and pleadings on behalf of the client where jurisdictional time limits are involved and other legal counsel has not yet been obtained.

(e) Give notice to the depositor and appropriate persons and entities who may be affected, other than clients, of the occurrence of such event or events.

(f) Arrange for the surrender or delivery of clients' papers or property.

(g) Arrange for the appointment of a receiver, where applicable, to take possession and control of any and all bank accounts relating to the affected attorney's practice of law, including the general or office account and the clients' trust account.

(h) Do such other acts as the court may direct to carry out the purposes of this article.

The court shall have jurisdiction over the files and records and law practice of the affected attorney for the limited purposes of this section, and may make all orders necessary or appropriate to exercise this jurisdiction. The court shall provide a copy of any order issued pursuant to this article to the Office of the Chief Trial Counsel of the State Bar.

SEC. 3. Section 6180.6 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6180.6. Nothing in this article shall authorize the court or an attorney appointed by it pursuant to this article to approve or disapprove of the employment of legal counsel, fix terms of legal employment, fix the compensation which may have been earned by the affected attorney, or supervise or in any way to undertake to conduct the law practice except to the limited extent provided by subdivisions (c) and (d) of Section 6180.5.

SEC. 4. Section 6180.7 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

of existing resources, so that the school may serve as a model for other schools, or other factors indicating pupil need. No more than 10 percent of the schools that participate in the program established by this chapter may be schools that qualify under this paragraph. However, pupils who attend schools that qualify under this paragraph shall be given priority for services if they are either (A) from families that receive Aid to Families with Dependent Children program benefits or pupils who are limited English proficiency, as defined in Section 52163, or both, or (B) eligible to receive free or reduced-price meals under Section 49552.

The superintendent shall award grants to a local educational agency or consortium to pay the costs of planning and operating, on behalf of one or more qualifying schools within the local educational agency or consortium, programs that provide support services to pupils and their families at the schoolsite, or at a site adjacent to the school, as follows:

(a) Grants shall be awarded by the superintendent based upon the recommendations of the council and pursuant to this section.

(b) Two types of grants may be awarded to applicant local educational agencies or consortia, depending upon the level of readiness of that applicant to implement a program pursuant to this chapter. The superintendent shall issue Requests for Proposals for awarding the grants, which shall specify maximum dollar amounts for which each type of grant may be awarded. The Requests for Proposals shall also specify other criteria, as required by this article. The superintendent shall award those grants as follows:

(1) Planning grants may be awarded to local educational agencies or consortia that have demonstrated a need to implement a program, but that are not ready to begin the operation of the program, or that are in need of additional planning to expand existing support services programs. Planning grants shall be no more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) and shall be awarded for a period not to exceed two years. Upon completion of the planning phase, the local educational agency or consortium shall be eligible to apply for and may receive an operational grant.

(2) Operational grants may be awarded to local educational agencies or consortia that have demonstrated readiness to begin operation of a program or to expand existing support services programs. Operational grants shall supplement, not supplant, existing services and funds.

Direct services do not include salaries for staff who are developing or implementing the program.

(c) All grants awarded under this article shall be matched by the participating local educational agency or consortium with one dollar ($1) for each four dollars ($4) awarded. The match shall be contributed in cash or as services or resources of comparable value. It is the intent of the Legislature that participants seek and utilize private funds or resources for this purpose. The superintendent may waive the match requirement upon verifying that the local educational agency or consortium made a substantial effort to secure a match but was unable to secure the required match.

(d) The superintendent shall award grants pursuant to this article to local educational agencies or consortia in northern, central, and southern California, in urban, suburban, and rural areas. To the extent possible, the grants shall be awarded for programs representative of the ethnic and linguistic diversity of schoolage pupils and their families. Further, to the extent possible, 50 percent of the grants shall be awarded to schools serving elementary school children and 50 percent to schools serving junior and senior high school pupils.

(e) Until January 1, 1995, no more than 300 local educational agencies or consortia shall be selected to participate in the Healthy Start Support Services for Children Grant Program.

(f) A local educational agency or consortium is eligible for a grant under this article, on behalf of one or more schools operated by the agency or consortium, if it demonstrates in its plan that it:

(j) No more than 5 percent of any amount appropriated in any fiscal year to carry out the purposes of this chapter may be used by the superintendent for program administration, evaluation, and technical assistance. Technical assistance includes, but is not limited to, assistance in preparing both planning and operational grants, in establishing interagency collaboration, in providing information dissemination and referrals, including information about appropriate program models, in conducting site visits, and in convening workshops to assist in the implementation of a program developed pursuant to this chapter.

(1) Of this amount, up to 75 percent may be used for the purpose of outreach and local assistance to local educational agencies. The remainder shall be used for state-level program administration.

(2) The superintendent shall ensure that adequate resources are available to conduct an evaluation pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 8805.

(c) Subject to the limitations provided in this section, the new law applies on the operative date to all matters governed by the new law, regardless of whether an event occurred or circumstance existed before, on, or after the operative date, including, but not limited to, commencement of a proceeding, making of an order, or taking of an action.

(d) If a document or paper is filed before the operative date, the contents, execution, and notice thereof are governed by the old law and not by the new law; but subsequent proceedings taken after the operative date concerning the document or paper, including an objection or response, a hearing, an order, or other matter relating thereto is governed by the new law and not by the old law.

(e) If an order is made before the operative date, or an action on an order is taken before the operative date, the validity of the order or action is governed by the old law and not by the new law. Nothing in this subdivision precludes proceedings after the operative date to modify an order made, or alter a course of action commenced, before the operative date to the extent proceedings for modification of an order or alteration of a course of action of that type are otherwise provided in the new law.

(f) No person is liable for an action taken before the operative date that was proper at the time the action was taken, even though the action would be improper if taken on or after the operative date, and the person has no duty, as a result of the enactment of the new law, to take any step to alter the course of action or its consequences.

(g) If the new law does not apply to a matter that occurred before the operative date, the old law continues to govern the matter notwithstanding its repeal or amendment by the new law.

(h) If a party shows, and the court determines, that application of a particular provision of the new law or of the old law in the manner required by this section or by the new law would substantially interfere with the effective conduct of the proceedings or the rights of the parties or other interested persons in connection with an event that occurred or circumstance that existed before the operative date, the court may, notwithstanding this section or the new law, apply either the new law or the old law to the extent reasonably necessary to mitigate the substantial interference.

5. Division, part, chapter, article, and section headings do not in any manner affect the scope, meaning, or intent of this code.

13. If a provision or clause of this code or its application to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of the code which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this code are severable.

DIVISION 2. GENERAL PROVISIONS

PART 1. JURISDICTION

200. The superior court has jurisdiction in proceedings under this code.

PART 2. GENERAL PROCEDURAL PROVISIONS

210. Except to the extent that any other statute or rules adopted by the Judicial Council provide applicable rules, the rules of practice and procedure applicable to civil actions generally apply to, and constitute the rules of practice and procedure in, proceedings under this code.

211. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Judicial Council may provide by rule for the practice and procedure in proceedings under this code.

212. A petition, response, application, opposition, or other pleading filed with the court under this code shall be verified.

213. (a) In a hearing on an order to show cause, or on a modification thereof, or in a hearing on a motion, other than for contempt, the responding party may seek affirmative relief alternative to that requested by the moving party, on the same issues raised by the moving party, by filing a responsive declaration within the time set by statute or rules of court.

(b) This section applies in any of the following proceedings:
(1) A proceeding for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal separation of the parties.
(2) A proceeding relating to a domestic violence prevention order.
(3) Any other proceeding in which there is at issue the visitation, custody, or support of a minor child.

214. Except as otherwise provided in this code or by court rule, the court may, when it considers it necessary in the interests of justice and the persons involved, direct the trial of any issue of fact joined in a proceeding under this code to be private, and may exclude all persons except the officers of the court, the parties, their witnesses, and counsel.

215. After entry of a judgment of dissolution of marriage, nullity of marriage, or legal separation of the parties, or after a permanent order in any other proceeding in which there was at issue the visitation, custody, or support of a minor child, no modification of the judgment or order, and no subsequent order in the proceedings, is valid unless any prior notice otherwise required to be given to a party to the proceeding is served, in the same manner as the notice is otherwise permitted by law to be served, upon the party. For the purposes of this section, service upon the attorney of record is not sufficient.

PART 3. TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER IN SUMMONS

231. This part applies to a temporary restraining order in a summons issued under any of the following provisions:
(a) Section 2030 (proceeding for dissolution, nullity, or legal separation).
(b) Section 7700 (proceeding under Uniform Parentage Act).

232. The summons shall state on its face that the order is enforceable in any place in this state by any law enforcement agency that has received mailed notice of the order or has otherwise received a copy of the order and any officer who has been shown a copy of the order.

233. (a) Upon filing the petition and issuance of the summons and upon personal service of the petition and summons on the respondent or upon waiver and acceptance of service by the respondent, the temporary restraining order under this part shall be in effect against the parties until the final judgment is entered or the petition is dismissed, or until further order of the court.

(b) The temporary restraining order is enforceable in any place in this state, but is not enforceable by a law enforcement agency of a political subdivision unless that law enforcement agency has received mailed notice of the order or has otherwise received a copy of the order or the officer enforcing the order has been shown a copy of the order.

(c) A willful and knowing violation of the order included in the summons by removing a child from the state without the written consent of the other party or an order of the court is punishable as provided in Section 278.5 of the Penal Code. A willful and knowing violation of any of the other orders included in the summons is punishable as provided in Section 273.6 of the Penal Code.

234. The automatic granting of the ex parte temporary restraining order under this part is not a court determination or competent evidence in any proceeding of any prior history of the conduct so proscribed occurring between the parties.

235. Nothing in this part precludes either party from applying to the court for modification or revocation of the temporary restraining order provided for in this part or for further temporary orders or an expanded temporary ex parte order.

PART 4. TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDERS AND SUPPORT ORDERS ISSUED WITHOUT NOTICE

240. Except as otherwise provided by law, this part applies to an order under any of the following provisions:

(a) Article 2 (commencing with Section 2035) of Chapter 4 of Part 1 of Division 6 (ex parte protective orders in proceedings for dissolution, nullity, or legal separation).

(b) Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 3600) of Part 1 of Division 9 (spousal and child support during pendency of proceeding).

(c) Part 3 (commencing with Section 5530) of Division 10 (Domestic Violence Prevention Act).

(d) Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 7700) of Part 3 of Division 12 (Uniform Parentage Act).

241. Except as provided in Section 5530, no order described in Section 240 shall be granted without notice to the respondent unless it appears from facts shown by the affidavit in support of the application for the order, or in the application for the order, that great or irreparable injury would result to the applicant before the matter can be heard on notice.

242. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), if an order described in Section 240 is granted without notice, the matter shall be made returnable on an order requiring cause to be shown why a permanent order should not be granted, on the earliest day that the business of the court will permit, but not later than 15 days or, if good cause appears to the court, 20 days from the date of the order.

(b) The matter shall be made returnable not later than 20 days or, if good cause appears to the court, 25 days from the date of the order, in an order under:

(1) Article 2 (commencing with Section 2035) of Chapter 4 of Part 1 of Division 6.

(2) Division 10 (commencing with Section 5500).
(3) Article 2 (commencing with Section 7710) of Chapter 6 of Part 3 of Division 12.

(c) The court may on motion of the applicant or on its own motion shorten the time for service on the respondent of the order to show cause in an order under:

(1) Division 10 (commencing with Section 5500).
(2) Article 2 (commencing with Section 7710) of Chapter 6 of Part 3 of Division 12.

243. (a) When the matter first comes up for hearing, the applicant must be ready to proceed and must have served on the respondent, at least two days before the hearing, a copy of the application and of any affidavits to be used in the application and a copy of the points and authorities in support of the application. If the applicant fails to comply with this subdivision, the court shall dissolve the order.

(b) The respondent is entitled, as of course, to one continuance for a reasonable period, to respond to the application for the order. The respondent may, in response to the order to show cause, present affidavits relating to the granting of the order, and if the affidavits are served on the applicant at least two days before the hearing, the applicant is not entitled to a continuance on account of the affidavits.

244. (a) On the day upon which the order is made returnable, the hearing shall take precedence over all other matters on the calendar of the day, except older matters of the same character, and matters to which special precedence may be given by law.

(b) When the cause is at issue it shall be set for trial at the earliest possible date and shall take precedence over all other cases, except older matters of the same character, and matters to which special precedence may be given by law.

245. (a) The court may, upon the filing of an affidavit by the applicant that the respondent could not be served within the time required by statute, reissue an order previously issued and dissolved by the court for failure to serve the respondent.

(b) The reissued order shall state on its face the date of expiration of the order.

(c) No fee shall be charged for the reissuance of the order unless the order had been dissolved three times previously.

PART 5. PROVISIONS FOR ATTORNEY'S FEES AND COSTS

270. (a) During the pendency of a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal separation of the parties, the court may, upon (1) determining an ability to pay and (2) consideration of the respective incomes and needs of the parties in order to ensure that each party has access to legal representation to preserve all of the party's rights, order any party, except a governmental entity, to pay the amount reasonably necessary for the cost of maintaining or defending the proceeding and for attorney's fees. From time to time and before entry of judgment, the court may augment or modify the original award for costs and attorney's fees as may be reasonably necessary for the prosecution or defense of the proceeding or any proceeding related thereto, including after any appeal has been concluded.

(b) Attorney's fees and costs within this section may be awarded for legal services rendered or costs incurred before or after the commencement of the proceeding.

(c) For services rendered or costs incurred after entry of judgment, the court may award the costs and attorney's fees reasonably necessary to maintain or defend any subsequent proceeding, and may augment or modify an award so made, including after an appeal has been concluded.

(d) Any order requiring a party who is not the husband or wife of another party to the proceedings to pay attorney's fees or costs shall be limited to an amount reasonably necessary to maintain or defend the action on the issues relating to that party.

271. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), during the pendency of a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal separation of the parties, an application for a temporary order making, augmenting, or modifying an award of attorney's fees or costs or both shall be made by motion on notice or by an order to show cause.

(b) An order described in subdivision (a) may be made without notice by an oral motion in open court at any of the following times:

(1) At the time of the hearing of the cause on the merits.

(2) At any time before entry of judgment against a party whose default has been entered pursuant to Section 585 or 586 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

272. (a) The court may make an award of attorney's fees and costs under Section 270 or 271 where the making of the award, and the amount of the award, are just and reasonable under the relative circumstances of the respective parties.

(b) In determining what is just and reasonable under the relative circumstances, the court shall take into consideration the need for the award to enable each party, to the extent practical, to have sufficient financial resources to present the party's case adequately, taking into consideration, to the extent relevant, the circumstances of the respective parties described in Section 4320. The fact that the party requesting an award of attorney's fees and costs has resources from which the party could pay the party's own attorney's fees and costs is not itself a bar to an order that the other party pay part or all of the fees and costs requested. Financial resources are only one factor for the court to consider in determining how to apportion the overall cost of the litigation equitably between the parties under their relative circumstances.

(c) The court may order payment of an award from any type of property, whether community or separate, principal or income.

273. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, absent good cause to the contrary, the court, upon (1) determining an ability to pay and (2) consideration of the respective incomes and needs of the parties in order to ensure that each party has access to legal representation to preserve all of the party's rights, shall award reasonable attorney's fees to:

(a) A custodial parent or other person to whom payments should be made in any action to enforce any of the following:

1. An existing order for child support.

2. A penalty incurred pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 4720) of Part 5 of Division 9.

(b) A supported spouse in an action to enforce an existing order for spousal support.

274. (a) Notwithstanding Sections 270 to 273, inclusive, the court may base an award of attorney's fees and costs on the extent to which the conduct of each party or attorney furthers or frustrates the policy of the law to promote settlement of litigation and, where possible, to reduce the cost of litigation by encouraging cooperation between the parties and attorneys. An award of attorney's fees and costs pursuant to this section is in the nature of a sanction. In making an award pursuant to this section, the court shall take into consideration all evidence concerning the parties' incomes, assets, and abilities. The court shall not impose a sanction pursuant to this section that imposes an unreasonable financial burden upon the party against whom the sanction is imposed. In order to obtain an award under this section, the party requesting an award of attorney's fees and costs is not required to demonstrate any financial need for the award.

(b) An award of fees and costs as a sanction pursuant to this section shall be imposed only after notice to the party against whom the sanction is proposed to be imposed and opportunity for that party to be heard.

(c) An award of fees and costs as a sanction pursuant to this section shall be payable only from the property or income of the party against whom the sanction is imposed, except that the award may be against the sanctioned party's share of the community property.

275. (a) When the court orders one of the parties to pay costs and attorney's fees for the benefit of the other party, those costs and fees may, in the discretion of the court, be made payable in whole or in part to the attorney entitled thereto.

(b) Subject to subdivision (c), the order providing for payment of the costs and attorney's fees may be enforced directly by the attorney in the attorney's own name or by the party in whose behalf the order was made.

(c) If the attorney has ceased to be the attorney for the party in whose behalf the order was made, the attorney may enforce the order only if it appears of record that the attorney has given to the former client or successor counsel 10 days' written notice of the application for enforcement of the order. During the 10-day period, the client may file in the proceeding a motion directed to the former attorney for partial or total reallocation of fees and costs to cover the services and cost of successor counsel. Upon the filing of the motion, the enforcement of the order by the former attorney shall be stayed until the court has resolved the motion.

PART 6. ENFORCEMENT OF JUDGMENTS AND ORDERS

290. A judgment or order made or entered pursuant to this code may be enforced by the court by execution, the appointment of a receiver, or contempt, or by such other order as the court in its discretion determines from time to time to be necessary.

291. The lack of diligence for more than the period specified in Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 5100) of Part 5 of Division 9 in seeking enforcement of a judgment or order made, entered, or enforceable pursuant to this code that requires the payment of money shall be considered by the court in determining whether to permit enforcement of the judgment or order under Section 290.

PART 7. TRIBAL MARRIAGES AND DIVORCES

295. (a) For the purpose of application of the laws of succession set forth in the Probate Code to a decedent, and for the purpose of determining the validity of a marriage under the laws of this state, an alliance entered into before 1958, which, by custom of the Indian tribe, band, or group of which the parties to the alliance, or either of them, are members, is commonly recognized in the tribe, band, or group as marriage, is deemed a valid marriage under the laws of this state.

(b) In the case of these marriages and for the purposes described in subdivision (a), a separation, which, by custom of the Indian tribe, band, or group of which the separating parties, or either of them, are members, is commonly recognized in the tribe, band, or group as a dissolution of marriage, is deemed a valid divorce under the laws of this state.

DIVISION 3. MARRIAGE

PART 1. VALIDITY OF MARRIAGE

300. Marriage is a personal relation arising out of a civil contract between a man and a woman, to which the consent of the parties capable of making that contract is necessary. Consent alone does not constitute marriage. Consent must be followed by the issuance of a license and solemnization as authorized by this division, except as provided by Part 4 (commencing with Section 500).

301. An unmarried male of the age of 18 years or older, and an unmarried female of the age of 18 years or older, and not otherwise disqualified, are capable of consenting to and consummating marriage.

302. An unmarried male or female under the age of 18 years is capable of consenting to and consummating marriage if each of the following documents is filed with the county clerk issuing the marriage license:

(a) The written consent of the parents of each underage person, or of one of the parents or the guardian of each underage person.

(b) A court order granting permission to the underage person to marry, obtained on the showing the court requires.

303. If it appears to the satisfaction of the court by application of a minor that the minor requires a written consent to marry and that the minor has no parent or has no parent capable of consenting, the court may make an order consenting to the issuance of a marriage license and granting permission to the minor to marry. The order shall be filed with the county clerk at the time the license is issued.

304. As part of the court order granting permission to marry under Section 302 or 303, the court shall require the parties to the prospective marriage of a minor to participate in premarital counseling concerning social, economic, and personal responsibilities incident to marriage, if the court considers the counseling to be necessary. The parties shall not be required, without their consent, to confer with counselors provided by religious organizations of any denomination. In determining whether to order the parties to participate in the premarital counseling, the court shall consider, among other factors, the ability of the parties to pay for the counseling. The court may impose a reasonable fee to cover the cost of any premarital counseling provided by the county. The fees shall be used exclusively to cover the cost of the counseling services authorized by this section.

305. Consent to and solemnization of marriage may be proved under the same general rules of evidence as facts are proved in other cases.

306. Except as provided in Section 307, marriage must be licensed, solemnized, and authenticated, and the certificate of registry of marriage must be filed as provided in this part; but noncompliance with this part by a nonparty to the marriage does not invalidate the marriage.

307. This division, so far as it relates to the solemnizing of marriage, is not applicable to members of a particular religious society or denomination not having clergy for the purpose of solemnizing marriage or entering the marriage relation, if all of the following requirements are met:

(a) The parties to the marriage make, sign, and endorse on or attach to the license a statement, in the form prescribed by the State Department of Health Services, showing all of the following:

(1) The fact, time, and place of entering into the marriage.

(2) The signatures and places of residence of two witnesses to the ceremony.

(3) The religious society or denomination of the parties to the marriage, and that the marriage was entered into in accordance with the rules and customs of that religious society or denomination. The statement of the parties to the marriage that the marriage was entered into in accordance with the rules and customs of the religious society or denomination is conclusively presumed to be true.

(b) The License and Certificate of Declaration of Marriage, endorsed pursuant to subdivision (a), is filed with the local registrar of marriages of the county in which the license was issued within four days after the ceremony.

308. A marriage contracted outside this state that would be valid by the laws of the jurisdiction in which the marriage was contracted is valid in this state.

309. If either party to a marriage denies the marriage, or refuses to join in a declaration of the marriage, the other party may proceed, by action, to have the validity of the marriage determined and declared.

310. Marriage is dissolved only by one of the following:
(a) The death of one of the parties.
(b) A judgment of dissolution of marriage.
(c) A judgment of nullity of marriage.

PART 2. MARRIAGE LICENSE AND CERTIFICATE OF REGISTRY

350. Before entering a marriage, or declaring a marriage pursuant to Section 425, the parties shall first obtain a marriage license from a county clerk.

351. The marriage license shall show all of the following:
(a) The identity of the parties to the marriage.
(b) The parties’ real and full names, and places of residence.
(c) The parties’ ages.

352. No marriage license shall be granted if either of the applicants lacks the capacity to enter into a valid marriage or is, at the time of making the application for the license, under the influence of an intoxicating liquor or narcotic drug.

353. If an applicant for a marriage license is under the age of 18 years, the license may be granted only if both parties are capable of consenting to and consummating marriage as provided for in Section 302, and the consent or court order required by Section 303 are filed with the county clerk.

354. (a) Each applicant for a marriage license may be required to present authentic identification as to name.
(b) For the purpose of ascertaining the facts mentioned or required in this part, if the clerk deems it necessary, the clerk may examine the applicants for a marriage license on oath at the time of the application. The clerk shall reduce the examination to writing and the applicants shall sign it.
(c) If necessary, the clerk may request additional documentary proof as to the accuracy of the facts stated.
(d) Applicants for a marriage license shall not be required to state, for any purpose, their race or color.
355. (a) The forms for the application for a marriage license and the marriage license shall be prescribed by the State Department of Health Services, and shall be adapted to set forth the facts required in this part.

(b) The form for the application for a marriage license shall include an affidavit on the back, which the applicants shall sign, affirming that they have received the brochure provided for in Section 358.

(c) The affidavit required by subdivision (b) shall state:

AFFIDAVIT

I acknowledge that I have received the brochure titled

______________________________
Signature of Bride

______________________________
Signature of Groom

______________________________
Date

Date

356. A marriage license issued pursuant to this part expires 90 days after its issuance. The calendar date of expiration shall be clearly noted on the face of the license.

357. (a) The county clerk shall number each marriage license issued and shall transmit at periodic intervals to the county recorder a list of the licenses issued.

(b) Not later than 60 days after the date of issuance, the county recorder shall notify licenseholders whose certificate of registry has not been filed of that fact and that the marriage license will automatically expire on the date shown on its face.

(c) The county recorder shall notify the licenseholders of the obligation of the person solemnizing their marriage to return the certificate of registry and endorsed license to the recorder's office within four days after the ceremony.

358. (a) The State Department of Health Services shall prepare and publish a brochure which shall contain the following:

1. Information concerning the possibilities of genetic defects and diseases and contain a listing of centers available for the testing and treatment of genetic defects and diseases.

2. Information concerning acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS) and the availability of testing for antibodies to the probable causative agent of AIDS.

(b) The State Department of Health Services shall make the brochures available to county clerks who shall distribute a copy of the brochure to each applicant for a marriage license, including applicants for a confidential marriage license and notary publics receiving a confidential marriage license pursuant to Section 503.

(c) Each notary public authorizing a confidential marriage under Section 503 shall distribute a copy of the brochure to the applicants for a confidential marriage license.
(d) To the extent possible, the State Department of Health Services shall seek to combine in a single brochure all statutorily required information for marriage license applicants.

359. (a) Applicants for a marriage license shall obtain from the county clerk issuing the license, a certificate of registry of marriage.

(b) The contents of the certificate of registry are as provided in Division 9 (commencing with Section 10000) of the Health and Safety Code.

(c) The certificate of registry shall be filled out by the applicants, in the presence of the county clerk issuing the marriage license, and shall be presented to the person solemnizing the marriage.

(d) The person solemnizing the marriage shall complete the certificate of registry and shall cause to be entered on the certificate of registry the signature and address of one witness to the marriage ceremony.

The microphotograph shall be made in a manner and on paper that complies with the minimum standards of quality approved by the National Bureau of Standards. Every reproduction shall be deemed and considered an original. A certified copy of any reproduction shall be deemed and considered a certified copy of the original.

(c) The county clerk may conduct a search for a confidential marriage certificate for the purpose of confirming the existence of a marriage, but the date of the marriage and any other information contained in the certificate shall not be disclosed except upon order of the court.

(d) The county clerk shall, not less than quarterly, transmit copies of all confidential marriage certificates to the State Registrar of Vital Statistics. The registrar may destroy the copies so transmitted after they have been indexed. The registrar may respond to an inquiry as to the existence of a marriage performed pursuant to this chapter, but shall not disclose the date of the marriage.

CHAPTER 2. APPROVAL OF NOTARIES TO AUTHORIZE CONFIDENTIAL MARRIAGES

530. (a) No notary public shall authorize a confidential marriage pursuant to this part unless the notary public is approved by the county clerk to authorize confidential marriages pursuant to this chapter.

(b) A violation of subdivision (a) is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) or six months in jail.

531. (a) An application for approval to authorize confidential marriages pursuant to this part shall be submitted to the county clerk in the county in which the notary public who is applying for the approval resides.

The course of instruction shall not exceed two hours in duration.

533. An approval to authorize confidential marriages pursuant to this chapter is valid for one year. The approval may be renewed for additional one-year periods upon payment of the renewal fee provided for in Section 536.

534. (a) The county clerk shall maintain a list of the notaries public who are approved to authorize confidential marriages. The list shall be available for inspection by the public.

(b) It is the responsibility of a notary public approved to authorize confidential marriages pursuant to this chapter to keep current the information required in paragraphs (1), (3), (4), and (5) of subdivision (b) of Section 531. This information shall be used by the county clerk to update the list required to be maintained by this section.

535. (a) If, after an approval to authorize confidential marriages is granted pursuant to this chapter, it is discovered that the notary public has engaged in any of the actions specified in Section 8214.1 of the Government Code, the approval shall be revoked, and any fees paid by the notary public may be retained by the county clerk.

(b) If a notary public who is approved to authorize confidential marriages pursuant to this chapter is alleged to have violated a provision of this division, the county clerk shall conduct a hearing to determine if the approval of the notary public should be suspended or revoked. The notary public may present such evidence as is necessary in the notary public's defense. If the county clerk determines that the notary public has violated a provision of this division, the county clerk may place the notary public on probation or suspend or revoke the notary public's registration, and any fees paid by the notary public may be retained by the county clerk. The county clerk shall report the findings of the hearing to the Secretary of State for whatever action the Secretary of State deems appropriate.

536. (a) The fee for an application for approval to authorize confidential marriages pursuant to this chapter is one hundred seventy-five dollars ($175).

(b) The fee for a renewal of an approval is one hundred seventy-five dollars ($175).

(c) Fees received pursuant to this chapter shall be deposited in a trust fund established by the county clerk. The money in the trust fund shall be used exclusively for the administration of the program described in this chapter.

PART 5. PREMARITAL EXAMINATION

580. Before a person authorized to issue marriage licenses issues a license, each applicant for the license shall file with the person a certificate from a licensed physician and surgeon that satisfies the requirements of this part.

581. The certificate shall contain a statement that the applicant has been given the examination, including a standard serological test, as may be necessary for the discovery of syphilis, made not more than 30 days before the date of issuance of the license, and that, in the opinion of the physician and surgeon, the person either is not infected with syphilis, or if so infected, is not in a stage of that disease which is or may become communicable to the marital partner.

582. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), the certificate shall contain a statement whether the female applicant has laboratory evidence of immunological response to rubella (German measles).

(b) The certificate shall not contain evidence of response to rubella where the female applicant (1) is over 50 years of age, or (2) has had a surgical sterilization, or (3) presents laboratory evidence of a prior test declaring her immunity to rubella.

583. (a) The certificate shall indicate that an HIV test, as defined in Section 26 of the Health and Safety Code, including any appropriate confirmatory tests for positive reactors, was offered. It is the intention of the Legislature that the results of the tests shall be transmitted to the marriage license applicant, and that followup counseling by a knowledgeable and experienced person shall be made available.

(b) Disclosure of the results of any test performed in accordance with subdivision (a) shall not be made except as provided in Chapter 1.11 (commencing with Section 199.20) of Part 1 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code.

584. A person who by law is validly able to obtain a marriage license in this state is validly able to give consent to any examinations and tests required by this part.

585. In submitting the blood specimen to the laboratory the physician and surgeon shall designate that this is a premarital test.

586. The certificate shall be accompanied by a statement from the person in charge of the laboratory making the test, or from some other person authorized to make the report, setting forth all of the following:

(a) The name of the test.

(b) The date the test was made.
(c) The name and address of the physician and surgeon to whom the test was sent.

(d) The name and address of the person whose blood was tested.

587. (a) Certificate forms provided by other states having comparable laws will be accepted for persons who have been examined and who have received serological tests for syphilis outside this state if the examinations and tests were performed not more than 30 days before the issuance of the marriage license.

(b) Certificate forms provided by other states not having comparable laws will be accepted for persons who have been examined by a physician and surgeon licensed in that state and who have received serological tests for syphilis performed by the official state public health laboratory in that state if the certificate states that the examination and tests were performed not more than 30 days before issuance of the marriage license.

588. Certificates provided by the armed forces of the United States will be accepted for military personnel if the certificate is signed by a medical officer commissioned in the armed forces and the certificate states the examinations and serological tests for syphilis were performed not more than 30 days before the issuance of the marriage license.

589. (a) For the purpose of this part, a standard serological test is a test for syphilis approved by the State Department of Health Services made by an approved laboratory.

(b) An approved laboratory is any of the following:

(1) The laboratory of the State Department of Health Services.

(2) A laboratory approved by the State Department of Health Services.

(3) Any other laboratory the director of which is licensed by the State Department of Health Services according to law.

(c) In case of question concerning accuracy of tests prescribed in this part, the State Department of Health Services shall accept specimens for checking purposes from any place in the state.

590. The laboratory shall submit such laboratory reports or records to the State Department of Health Services as are required by regulation. The health officer may destroy copies of reports that have been retained pursuant to this section for a period of two years.

591. (a) The judge of the superior court in the county in which the marriage license is to be issued, on joint application by both parties to the marriage, may waive the requirements as to medical examinations, laboratory tests, and certificates, and may order the licensing authority to issue the license applied for, if (1) all other requirements of the marriage laws have been complied with and (2)
the judge is satisfied by affidavit or other proof that an emergency or other sufficient cause for making the order exists and that the public health and welfare will not be injuriously affected by making the order.

(b) If the examinations and tests have been made and a certificate has been refused because one or both of the applicants have been found to be infected with syphilis, the judge of the superior court in the county in which the marriage license is to be issued nevertheless may, on application of both parties to the marriage, order the licensing authority to issue the license if (1) all other requirements of the marriage laws have been complied with and (2) the judge is satisfied by affidavit or other proof that an emergency or other sufficient cause for making the order exists and that the public health and welfare will not be injuriously affected by making the order.

(c) The court order shall be filed by the licensing authority in lieu of the certificate form.

(d) The court clerk shall transmit to the State Department of Health Services a transcript of the record and the order for such followup by the department as is required by law or deemed necessary by the department for the protection of the public health.

(e) The court when it is deemed necessary may, to the extent authorized by law or rules of court, order all proceedings instituted under this part to be confidential and private. There shall be no fee for these court proceedings.

592. The certificate forms and the court orders under this part shall be filed in the office of the county clerk. They shall be preserved for one year from the date of filing after which date they may be destroyed.

593. (a) An applicant for a marriage license, physician and surgeon, or representative of a laboratory, who misrepresents his or her identity or a fact called for by the certificate form prescribed by this part is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(b) A licensing officer who issues a marriage license without having received the certificate form or an order from the court, or who has reason to believe that a fact on the certificate form has been misrepresented but nevertheless issues a marriage license, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(c) A person who otherwise fails to comply with this part is guilty of a misdemeanor.

594. (a) Certificates, laboratory statements or reports, applications, and court orders, referred to in this part, and the information therein contained, is confidential and shall not be divulged to or be open to inspection by any person other than state or local health officers or their authorized representatives.

(b) A person who opens to inspection the certificates, laboratory statements or reports, applications, or court orders referred to in this part, or divulges any information therein contained, without authority, to a person not by law entitled to the same is guilty of a misdemeanor.

DIVISION 4. RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS DURING MARRIAGE

PART 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS
CHAPTER 1. DEFINITIONS

700. For the purposes of this division, a leasehold interest in real property is real property, not personal property.

CHAPTER 2. RELATION OF HUSBAND AND WIFE

720. Husband and wife contract toward each other obligations of mutual respect, fidelity, and support.

721. (a) Subject to subdivision (b), either husband or wife may enter into any transaction with the other, or with any other person, respecting property, which either might if unmarried.

(b) Except as provided in Sections 143, 144, 146, and 16040 of the Probate Code, in transactions between themselves, a husband and wife are subject to the general rules governing fiduciary relationships which control the actions of persons occupying confidential relations with each other. This confidential relationship imposes a duty of the highest good faith and fair dealing on each spouse, and neither shall take any unfair advantage of the other. This confidential relationship is a fiduciary relationship subject to the same rights and duties of nonmarital business partners, as provided in Sections 15019, 15020, 15021, and 15022 of the Corporations Code, including the following:

(1) Providing each spouse access at all times to any books kept regarding a transaction for the purposes of inspection and copying.

(2) Rendering upon request, true and full information of all things affecting any transaction which concerns the community property. Nothing in this section is intended to impose a duty for either spouse to keep detailed books and records of community property transactions.

(3) Accounting to the spouse, and holding as a trustee, any benefit or profit derived from any transaction by one spouse without the consent of the other spouse which concerns the community property.

CHAPTER 3. PROPERTY RIGHTS DURING MARRIAGE

750. A husband and wife may hold property as joint tenants or tenants in common, or as community property.

751. The respective interests of the husband and wife in community property during continuance of the marriage relation are present, existing, and equal interests.

752. Except as otherwise provided by statute, neither husband nor wife has any interest in the separate property of the other.

753. Notwithstanding Section 752, except as provided in Article 2 (commencing with Section 2035) of Chapter 4 of Part 1 of Division 6, neither spouse may be excluded from the other's dwelling.

754. If notice of the pendency of a proceeding for dissolution of the marriage, for nullity of the marriage, or for legal separation of the parties is recorded in any county in which the husband or wife resides on real property that is the separate property of the other, the real property shall not for a period of three months thereafter be transferred, encumbered, or otherwise disposed of voluntarily or involuntarily without the joinder of both spouses, unless the court otherwise orders.

755. (a) The terms "participant," "beneficiary," "employee benefit plan," "employer," "fiduciary," and "administrator," as used in subdivision (b), have the same meaning as provided in Section 3 of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406), as amended.

(b) Notwithstanding Sections 751 and 1100, if payment or refund is made to a participant or the participant's beneficiary or estate pursuant to a written employee benefit plan governed by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406), as amended, the payment or refund fully discharges the employer and the administrator, fiduciary, or insurance company making the payment or refund from all adverse claims thereto unless, before the payment or refund is made, the administrator of the plan has received at its principal place of business within this state, written notice by or on behalf of some other person that the other person claims to be entitled to the payment or refund or some part thereof. Nothing in this subdivision affects a claim or right to the payment or refund or part thereof as between persons other than the employer and the fiduciary or insurance company making the payment or refund.

(c) Notwithstanding Sections 751 and 1100, if payment or refund is made to an employee, former employee, or the beneficiary or estate of the employee or former employee pursuant to a written retirement, death, or other employee benefit plan or savings plan, other than a plan governed by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406), as amended, the payment or refund fully discharges the employer and the trustee or insurance company making the payment or refund from all adverse claims thereto unless, before the payment or refund is made, the employer or former employer has received at its principal place of business within this state, written notice by or on behalf of some other person that the other person claims to be entitled to the payment or refund or some part thereof. Nothing in this subdivision affects a claim or right to the payment or refund or part thereof as between persons other than the employer and the trustee or insurance company making the payment or refund.

PART 2. CHARACTERIZATION OF MARITAL PROPERTY

CHAPTER 1. COMMUNITY PROPERTY

760. Except as otherwise provided by statute, all property, real or personal, wherever situated, acquired by a married person during the marriage while domiciled in this state is community property.

761. (a) Unless the trust instrument or the instrument of transfer expressly provides otherwise, community property that is transferred in trust remains community property during the marriage, regardless of the identity of the trustee, if the trust, originally or as amended before or after the transfer, provides that the trust is revocable as to that property during the marriage and the power, if any, to modify the trust as to the rights and interests in that property during the marriage may be exercised only with the joinder or consent of both spouses.

(b) Unless the trust instrument expressly provides otherwise, a power to revoke as to community property may be exercised by either spouse acting alone. Community property, including any income or appreciation, that is distributed or withdrawn from a trust by revocation, power of withdrawal, or otherwise, remains community property unless there is a valid transmutation of the property at the time of distribution or withdrawal.

(c) The trustee may convey and otherwise manage and control the trust property in accordance with the provisions of the trust without the joinder or consent of the husband or wife unless the trust expressly requires the joinder or consent of one or both spouses.

(d) This section applies to a transfer made before, on, or after July 1, 1987.

(e) Nothing in this section affects the community character of property that is transferred before, on, or after July 1, 1987, in any manner or to a trust other than described in this section.

CHAPTER 2. SEPARATE PROPERTY

770. (a) Separate property of a married person includes all of the following:

1. All property owned by the person before marriage.
2. All property acquired by the person after marriage by gift, bequest, devise, or descent.
3. The rents, issues, and profits of the property described in this section.

(b) A married person may, without the consent of the person's spouse, convey the person's separate property.

771. The earnings and accumulations of a spouse and the minor children living with, or in the custody of, the spouse, while living separate and apart from the other spouse, are the separate property of the spouse.

772. After entry of a judgment of legal separation of the parties, the earnings or accumulations of each party are the separate property of the party acquiring the earnings or accumulations.
CHAPTER 3. DAMAGES FOR INJURIES TO MARRIED PERSON

780. Except as provided in Section 781 and subject to the rules of allocation set forth in Section 2603, money and other property received or to be received by a married person in satisfaction of a judgment for damages for personal injuries, or pursuant to an agreement for the settlement or compromise of a claim for such damages, is community property if the cause of action for the damages arose during the marriage.

781. (a) Money or other property received or to be received by a married person in satisfaction of a judgment for damages for personal injuries, or pursuant to an agreement for the settlement or compromise of a claim for those damages, is the separate property of the injured person if the cause of action for the damages arose as follows:

(1) After the entry of a judgment of dissolution of a marriage or legal separation of the parties.

(2) While either spouse, if he or she is the injured person, is living separate from the other spouse.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), if the spouse of the injured person has paid expenses by reason of the personal injuries from separate property or from the community property, the spouse is entitled to reimbursement of the separate property or the community property for those expenses from the separate property received by the injured person under subdivision (a).

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), if one spouse has a cause of action against the other spouse which arose during the marriage of the parties, money or property paid or to be paid by or on behalf of a party to the party's spouse of that marriage in satisfaction of a judgment for damages for personal injuries to that spouse, or pursuant to an agreement for the settlement or compromise of a claim for the damages, is the separate property of the injured spouse.

782. (a) Where an injury to a married person is caused in whole or in part by the negligent or wrongful act or omission of the person's spouse, the community property may not be used to discharge the liability of the tortfeasor spouse to the injured spouse or the liability to make contribution to a joint tortfeasor until the separate property of the tortfeasor spouse, not exempt from enforcement of a money judgment, is exhausted.

(b) This section does not prevent the use of community property to discharge a liability referred to in subdivision (a) if the injured spouse gives written consent thereto after the occurrence of the injury.

(c) This section does not affect the right to indemnity provided by an insurance or other contract to discharge the tortfeasor spouse's liability, whether or not the consideration given for the contract consisted of community property.

783. If a married person is injured by the negligent or wrongful act or omission of a person other than the married person's spouse, the fact that the negligent or wrongful act or omission of the spouse of the injured person was a concurring cause of the injury is not a defense in an action brought by the injured person to recover damages for the injury except in cases where the concurring negligent or wrongful act or omission would be a defense if the marriage did not exist.

CHAPTER 4. PRESUMPTIONS CONCERNING NATURE OF PROPERTY

802. The presumption that property acquired during marriage is community property does not apply to any property to which legal or equitable title is held by a person at the time of the person’s death if the marriage during which the property was acquired was terminated by dissolution of marriage more than four years before the death.

803. Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, whenever any real or personal property, or any interest therein or encumbrance thereon, was acquired before January 1, 1975, by a married woman by an instrument in writing, the following presumptions apply, and are conclusive in favor of any person dealing in good faith and for a valuable consideration with the married woman or her legal representatives or successors in interest, regardless of any change in her marital status after acquisition of the property:

(a) If acquired by the married woman, the presumption is that the property is the married woman’s separate property.

(b) If acquired by the married woman and any other person, the presumption is that the married woman takes the part acquired by her as tenant in common, unless a different intention is expressed in the instrument.

(c) If acquired by husband and wife by an instrument in which they are described as husband and wife, the presumption is that the property is the community property of the husband and wife, unless a different intention is expressed in the instrument.

CHAPTER 5. TRANSMUTATION OF PROPERTY

850. Subject to Sections 851 to 853, inclusive, married persons may by agreement or transfer, with or without consideration, do any of the following:

(a) Transmute community property to separate property of either spouse.

(b) Transmute separate property of either spouse to community property.

(c) Transmute separate property of one spouse to separate property of the other spouse.

851. A transmutation is subject to the laws governing fraudulent transfers.
852. (a) A transmutation of real or personal property is not valid unless made in writing by an express declaration that is made, joined in, consented to, or accepted by the spouse whose interest in the property is adversely affected.
   (b) A transmutation of real property is not effective as to third parties without notice thereof unless recorded.
   (c) This section does not apply to a gift between the spouses of clothing, wearing apparel, jewelry, or other tangible articles of a personal nature that is used solely or principally by the spouse to whom the gift is made and that is not substantial in value taking into account the circumstances of the marriage.
   (d) Nothing in this section affects the law governing characterization of property in which separate property and community property are commingled or otherwise combined.
   (e) This section does not apply to or affect a transmutation of property made before January 1, 1985, and the law that would otherwise be applicable to that transmutation shall continue to apply.

853. A statement in a will of the character of property is not admissible as evidence of a transmutation of the property in a proceeding commenced before the death of the person who made the will.

PART 3. LIABILITY OF MARITAL PROPERTY

CHAPTER 1. DEFINITIONS

900. Unless the provision or context otherwise requires, the definitions in this chapter govern the construction of this part.
   901. "Community estate" includes both the community property and the quasi-community property.
   902. "Debt" means an obligation incurred by a married person before or during marriage, whether based on contract, tort, or otherwise.
   903. A debt is "incurred" at the following time:
      (a) In the case of a contract, at the time the contract is made.
      (b) In the case of a tort, at the time the tort occurs.
      (c) In other cases, at the time the obligation arises.

CHAPTER 2. GENERAL RULES OF LIABILITY

910. (a) Except as otherwise expressly provided by statute, the community estate is liable for a debt incurred by either spouse before or during marriage, regardless of which spouse has the management and control of the property and regardless of whether one or both spouses are parties to the debt or to a judgment for the debt.
   (b) "During marriage" for purposes of this section does not include the period during which the spouses are living separate and apart before a judgment of dissolution of marriage or legal separation of the parties.
911. (a) The earnings of a married person during marriage are not liable for a debt incurred by the person's spouse before marriage. After the earnings of the married person are paid, they remain not liable so long as they are held in a deposit account in which the person's spouse has no right of withdrawal and are uncommingled with other property in the community estate, except property insignificant in amount.

(b) As used in this section:
(1) "Deposit account" has the meaning prescribed in Section 9105 of the Commercial Code.
(2) "Earnings" means compensation for personal services performed, whether as an employee or otherwise.

912. For the purposes of this part, quasi-community property is liable to the same extent, and shall be treated the same in all other respects, as community property.

913. (a) The separate property of a married person is liable for a debt incurred by the person before or during marriage.

(b) Except as otherwise provided by statute:
(1) The separate property of a married person is not liable for a debt incurred by the person's spouse before or during marriage.
(2) The joinder or consent of a married person to an encumbrance of community estate property to secure payment of a debt incurred by the person's spouse does not subject the person's separate property to liability for the debt unless the person also incurred the debt.

914. (a) Notwithstanding Section 913, a married person is personally liable for the following debts incurred by the person's spouse during marriage:

(1) A debt incurred for necessaries of life of the person's spouse while the spouses are living together.
(2) Except as provided in Section 4302, a debt incurred for common necessaries of life of the person's spouse while the spouses are living separately.

(b) The separate property of a married person may be applied to the satisfaction of a debt for which the person is personally liable pursuant to this section. If separate property is so applied at a time when nonexempt community estate property or separate property of the person's spouse is available but is not applied to the satisfaction of the debt, the married person is entitled to reimbursement to the extent such property was available.

915. (a) For the purpose of this part, a child or spousal support obligation of a married person that does not arise out of the marriage shall be treated as a debt incurred before marriage, regardless of whether a court order for support is made or modified before or during marriage and regardless of whether any installment payment on the obligation accrues before or during marriage.

(b) If property in the community estate is applied to the satisfaction of a child or spousal support obligation of a married person that does not arise out of the marriage, at a time when nonexempt separate income of the person is available but is not applied to the satisfaction of the obligation, the community estate is entitled to reimbursement from the person in the amount of the separate income, not exceeding the community estate property so applied.

(c) Nothing in this section limits the matters a court may take into consideration in determining or modifying the amount of a support order, including, but not limited to, the earnings of the spouses of the parties.

916. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, after division of community and quasi-community property pursuant to Division 7 (commencing with Section 2500):

(1) The separate property owned by a married person at the time of the division and the property received by the person in the division is liable for a debt incurred by the person before or during marriage and the person is personally liable for the debt, whether or not the debt was assigned for payment by the person’s spouse in the division.

(2) The separate property owned by a married person at the time of the division and the property received by the person in the division is not liable for a debt incurred by the person’s spouse before or during marriage, and the person is not personally liable for the debt, unless the debt was assigned for payment by the person in the division of the property. Nothing in this paragraph affects the liability of property for the satisfaction of a lien on the property.

(3) The separate property owned by a married person at the time of the division and the property received by the person in the division is liable for a debt incurred by the person’s spouse before or during marriage, and the person is personally liable for the debt, if the debt was assigned for payment by the person in the division of the property. If a money judgment for the debt is entered after the division, the property is not subject to enforcement of the judgment and the judgment may not be enforced against the married person, unless the person is made a party to the judgment for the purpose of this paragraph.

(b) If property of a married person is applied to the satisfaction of a money judgment pursuant to subdivision (a) for a debt incurred by the person that is assigned for payment by the person’s spouse, the person has a right of reimbursement from the person’s spouse to the extent of the property applied, with interest at the legal rate, and may recover reasonable attorney’s fees incurred in enforcing the right of reimbursement.

CHAPTER 3. REIMBURSEMENT

920. A right of reimbursement provided by this part is subject to the following provisions:

(a) The right arises regardless of which spouse applies the property to the satisfaction of the debt, regardless of whether the property is applied to the satisfaction of the debt voluntarily or involuntarily, and regardless of whether the debt to which the property is applied is satisfied in whole or in part. The right is subject to an express written waiver of the right by the spouse in whose favor the right arises.

(b) The measure of reimbursement is the value of the property or interest in property at the time the right arises.

(c) The right shall be exercised not later than the earlier of the following times:

1. Within three years after the spouse in whose favor the right arises has actual knowledge of the application of the property to the satisfaction of the debt.

2. In proceedings for division of community and quasi-community property pursuant to Division 7 (commencing with Section 2500) or in proceedings upon the death of a spouse.

CHAPTER 4. TRANSITIONAL PROVISIONS

930. Except as otherwise provided by statute, this part governs the liability of separate and community estate property and the personal liability of a married person for a debt enforced on or after January 1, 1985, regardless of whether the debt was incurred before, on, or after that date.

931. The provisions of this part that govern reimbursement apply to all debts, regardless of whether satisfied before, on, or after January 1, 1985.

CHAPTER 5. LIABILITY FOR DEATH OR INJURY

1000. (a) A married person is not liable for any injury or damage caused by the other spouse except in cases where the married person would be liable therefor if the marriage did not exist.

(b) The liability of a married person for death or injury to person or property shall be satisfied as follows:

1. If the liability of the married person is based upon an act or omission which occurred while the married person was performing an activity for the benefit of the community, the liability shall first be satisfied from the community estate property and second from the separate property of the married person.

2. If the liability of the married person is not based upon an act or omission which occurred while the married person was performing an activity for the benefit of the community, the liability shall first be satisfied from the separate property of the married person and second from the community estate property.

(c) This section does not apply to the extent the liability is satisfied out of proceeds of insurance for the liability, whether the proceeds are community estate property or separate property. Notwithstanding Section 920, no right of reimbursement under this section shall be exercised more than seven years after the spouse in whose favor the right arises has actual knowledge of the application of the property to the satisfaction of the debt.

PART 4. MANAGEMENT AND CONTROL OF MARITAL PROPERTY

1100. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (b), (c), and (d) and Sections 761 and 1103, either spouse has the management and control of the community personal property, whether acquired prior to or on or after January 1, 1975, with like absolute power of disposition, other than testamentary, as the spouse has of the separate estate of the spouse.

(b) A spouse may not make a gift of community personal property, or dispose of community personal property for less than fair and reasonable value, without the written consent of the other spouse. This subdivision does not apply to gifts mutually given by both spouses to third parties and to gifts given by one spouse to the other spouse.

(c) A spouse may not sell, convey, or encumber community personal property used as the family dwelling, or the furniture, furnishings, or fittings of the home, or the clothing or wearing apparel of the other spouse or minor children which is community personal property, without the written consent of the other spouse.

(d) Except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (c), and in Section 1102, a spouse who is operating or managing a business or an interest in a business that is all or substantially all community personal property has the primary management and control of the business or interest. Primary management and control means that the managing spouse may act alone in all transactions but shall give prior written notice to the other spouse of any sale, lease, exchange, encumbrance, or other disposition of all or substantially all of the personal property used in the operation of the business (including personal property used for agricultural purposes), whether or not title to that property is held in the name of only one spouse. Written notice is not, however, required when prohibited by the law otherwise applicable to the transaction.

Remedies for the failure by a managing spouse to give prior written notice as required by this subdivision are only as specified in Section 1101. A failure to give prior written notice shall not adversely affect the validity of a transaction nor of any interest transferred.

(e) Each spouse shall act with respect to the other spouse in the management and control of the community property in accordance with the general rules governing fiduciary relationships which control the actions of persons having relationships of personal confidence as specified in Section 721, until such time as the property has been divided by the parties or by a court. This duty includes the obligation to make full disclosure to the other spouse of all material facts and information regarding the existence, characterization, and valuation of all assets in which the community has or may have an interest and debts for which the community is or may be liable, and to provide equal access to all information, records, and books that pertain to the value and character of those assets and debts, upon request.

1101. (a) A spouse has a claim against the other spouse for a breach of the fiduciary duty imposed by Section 1100 or 1102 that results in impairment to the claimant spouse’s present undivided one-half interest in the community estate, including, but not limited to, a single transaction or a pattern or series of transactions, which transaction or transactions have caused or will cause a detrimental impact to the claimant spouse’s undivided one-half interest in the community estate.

(b) A court may order an accounting of the property and obligations of the parties to a marriage and may determine the rights of ownership in, the beneficial enjoyment of, or access to, community property, and the classification of all property of the parties to a marriage.

(c) A court may order that the name of a spouse shall be added to community property held in the name of the other spouse alone or that the title of community property held in some other title form shall be reformed to reflect its community character, except with respect to any of the following:

1. A partnership interest held by the other spouse as a general partner.

2. An interest in a professional corporation or professional association.

3. An asset of an unincorporated business if the other spouse is the only spouse involved in operating and managing the business.

4. Any other property, if the revision would adversely affect the rights of a third person.

(d) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), any action under subdivision (a) shall be commenced within three years of the date a petitioning spouse had actual knowledge that the transaction or event for which the remedy is being sought occurred.

(2) An action may be commenced under this section upon the death of a spouse or in conjunction with an action for legal separation, dissolution of marriage, or nullity without regard to the time limitations set forth in paragraph (1).

(3) The defense of laches may be raised in any action brought under this section.

(4) Except as to actions authorized by paragraph (2), remedies under subdivision (a) apply only to transactions or events occurring on or after July 1, 1987.

(e) In any transaction affecting community property in which the consent of both spouses is required, the court may, upon the motion of a spouse, dispense with the requirement of the other spouse’s consent if both of the following requirements are met:

1. The proposed transaction is in the best interest of the community.
(2) Consent has been arbitrarily refused or cannot be obtained due to the physical incapacity, mental incapacity, or prolonged absence of the nonconsenting spouse.

(f) Any action may be brought under this section without filing an action for dissolution of marriage, legal separation, or nullity, or may be brought in conjunction with the action or upon the death of a spouse.

(g) Remedies for breach of the fiduciary duty by one spouse as set out in Section 721 shall include, but not be limited to, an award to the other spouse of 50 percent, or an amount equal to 50 percent, of any asset undisclosed or transferred in breach of the fiduciary duty plus attorney's fees and court costs. However, in no event shall interest be assessed on the managing spouse.

(h) Remedies for the breach of the fiduciary duty by one spouse when the breach falls within the ambit of Section 3294 of the Civil Code shall include, but not be limited to, an award to the other spouse of 100 percent, or an amount equal to 100 percent, of any asset undisclosed or transferred in breach of the fiduciary duty.

1102. (a) Except as provided in Sections 761 and 1103, either spouse has the management and control of the community real property, whether acquired prior to or on or after January 1, 1975, but both spouses, either personally or by a duly authorized agent, must join in executing any instrument by which that community real property or any interest therein is leased for a longer period than one year, or is sold, conveyed, or encumbered.

(b) Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to a lease, mortgage, conveyance, or transfer of real property or of any interest in real property between husband and wife.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (b):

(1) The sole lease, contract, mortgage, or deed of the husband, holding the record title to community real property, to a lessee, purchaser, or encumbrancer, in good faith without knowledge of the marriage relation, shall be presumed to be valid if executed prior to January 1, 1975.

(2) The sole lease, contract, mortgage, or deed of either spouse, holding the record title to community real property to a lessee, purchaser, or encumbrancer, in good faith without knowledge of the marriage relation, shall be presumed to be valid if executed on or after January 1, 1975.

(d) No action to avoid any instrument mentioned in this section, affecting any property standing of record in the name of either spouse alone, executed by the spouse alone, shall be commenced after the expiration of one year from the filing for record of that instrument in the recorder's office in the county in which the land is situated.

1103. (a) Where one or both of the spouses either has a conservator of the estate or lacks legal capacity to manage and control community property, the procedure for management and control (which includes disposition) of the community property is that prescribed in Part 6 (commencing with Section 3000) of Division 4 of the Probate Code.

(b) Where one or both spouses either has a conservator of the estate or lacks legal capacity to give consent to a gift of community personal property or a disposition of community personal property without a valuable consideration as required by Section 1100 or to a sale, conveyance, or encumbrance of community personal property for which a consent is required by Section 1100, the procedure for that gift, disposition, sale, conveyance, or encumbrance is that prescribed in Part 6 (commencing with Section 3000) of Division 4 of the Probate Code.

(c) Where one or both spouses either has a conservator of the estate or lacks legal capacity to join in executing a lease, sale, conveyance, or encumbrance of community real property or any interest therein as required by Section 1102, the procedure for that lease, sale, conveyance, or encumbrance is that prescribed in Part 6 (commencing with Section 3000) of Division 4 of the Probate Code.

PART 5. MARITAL AGREEMENTS

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

1500. The property rights of husband and wife prescribed by statute may be altered by a premarital agreement or other marital property agreement.

1501. A minor may make a valid premarital agreement or other marital property agreement if the minor is emancipated or is otherwise capable of contracting marriage.

1502. (a) A premarital agreement or other marital property agreement that is executed and acknowledged or proved in the manner that a grant of real property is required to be executed and acknowledged or proved may be recorded in the office of the recorder of each county in which real property affected by the agreement is situated.

(b) Recording or nonrecording of a premarital agreement or other marital property agreement has the same effect as recording or nonrecording of a grant of real property.

1503. Nothing in this chapter affects the validity or effect of premarital agreements made before January 1, 1986, and the validity and effect of those agreements shall continue to be determined by the law applicable to the agreements before January 1, 1986.

CHAPTER 2. UNIFORM PREMARITAL AGREEMENT ACT

1600. This chapter may be cited as the Uniform Premarital Agreement Act.

1601. This chapter is effective on and after January 1, 1986, and applies to any premarital agreement executed on or after that date.

Article 2. Premarital Agreements

1610. As used in this chapter:
(a) "Premarital agreement" means an agreement between prospective spouses made in contemplation of marriage and to be effective upon marriage.
(b) "Property" means an interest, present or future, legal or equitable, vested or contingent, in real or personal property, including income and earnings.

1611. A premarital agreement shall be in writing and signed by both parties. It is enforceable without consideration.

1612. (a) Parties to a premarital agreement may contract with respect to all of the following:
(1) The rights and obligations of each of the parties in any of the property of either or both of them whenever and wherever acquired or located.
(2) The right to buy, sell, use, transfer, exchange, abandon, lease, consume, expend, assign, create a security interest in, mortgage, encumber, dispose of, or otherwise manage and control property.
(3) The disposition of property upon separation, marital dissolution, death, or the occurrence or nonoccurrence of any other event.
(4) The making of a will, trust, or other arrangement to carry out the provisions of the agreement.
(5) The ownership rights in and disposition of the death benefit from a life insurance policy.
(6) The choice of law governing the construction of the agreement.
(7) Any other matter, including their personal rights and obligations, not in violation of public policy or a statute imposing a criminal penalty.
(b) The right of a child to support may not be adversely affected by a premarital agreement.

1613. A premarital agreement becomes effective upon marriage.

1614. After marriage, a premarital agreement may be amended or revoked only by a written agreement signed by the parties. The amended agreement or the revocation is enforceable without consideration.

1615. (a) A premarital agreement is not enforceable if the party against whom enforcement is sought proves either of the following:
(1) That party did not execute the agreement voluntarily.
(2) The agreement was unconscionable when it was executed and, before execution of the agreement, all of the following applied to that party:
   (A) That party was not provided a fair and reasonable disclosure of the property or financial obligations of the other party.
   (B) That party did not voluntarily and expressly waive, in writing, any right to disclosure of the property or financial obligations of the other party beyond the disclosure provided.

(C) That party did not have, or reasonably could not have had, an adequate knowledge of the property or financial obligations of the other party.

(b) An issue of unconscionability of a premarital agreement shall be decided by the court as a matter of law.

1616. If a marriage is determined to be void, an agreement that would otherwise have been a premarital agreement is enforceable only to the extent necessary to avoid an inequitable result.

1617. Any statute of limitations applicable to an action asserting a claim for relief under a premarital agreement is tolled during the marriage of the parties to the agreement. However, equitable defenses limiting the time for enforcement, including laches and estoppel, are available to either party.

CHAPTER 3. AGREEMENTS BETWEEN HUSBAND AND WIFE

1620. Except as otherwise provided by law, a husband and wife cannot, by a contract with each other, alter their legal relations, except as to property.

DIVISION 5. CONCILIATION PROCEEDINGS

PART 1. FAMILY CONCILIATION COURT LAW

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

1800. This part may be cited as the Family Conciliation Court Law.

1801. The purposes of this part are to protect the rights of children and to promote the public welfare by preserving, promoting, and protecting family life and the institution of matrimony, and to provide means for the reconciliation of spouses and the amicable settlement of domestic and family controversies.

1802. (a) This part applies only in counties in which the superior court determines that the social conditions in the county and the number of domestic relations cases in the courts render the procedures provided in this part necessary to the full and proper consideration of those cases and the effectuation of the purposes of this part.

(b) The determination under subdivision (a) shall be made annually in the month of January by:

(1) The judge of the superior court in counties having only one superior court judge.

(2) A majority of the judges of the superior court in counties having more than one superior court judge.
CHAPTER 2. FAMILY CONCILIATION COURTS

1810. Each superior court shall exercise the jurisdiction conferred by this part. While sitting in the exercise of this jurisdiction, the court shall be known and referred to as the "family conciliation court."

In counties having more than one judge of the superior court, the presiding judge of the superior court shall annually, in the month of January, designate at least one judge to hear all cases under this part. The judge or judges so designated shall hold as many sessions of the family conciliation court in each week as are necessary for the prompt disposition of the business before the court.

1812. (a) The judge of the family conciliation court may transfer any case before the family conciliation court pursuant to this part to the department of the presiding judge of the superior court for assignment for trial or other proceedings by another judge of the court, whenever in the opinion of the judge of the family conciliation court the transfer is necessary to expedite the business of the family conciliation court or to ensure the prompt consideration of the case.

(b) When a case is transferred pursuant to subdivision (a), the judge to whom it is transferred shall act as the judge of the family conciliation court in the matter.

1813. (a) The presiding judge of the superior court may appoint a judge of the superior court other than the judge of the family conciliation court to act as judge of the family conciliation court during any period when the judge of the family conciliation court is on vacation, absent, or for any reason unable to perform the duties as judge of the family conciliation court.

(c) The superior court, or contracting superior courts, may also appoint, with the consent of the board of supervisors, associate counselors of conciliation and other office assistants as may be necessary to assist the family conciliation court in disposing of its business. The associate counselors shall carry out their duties under the supervision of the supervising counselor of conciliation and have the powers of the supervising counselor of conciliation. Office assistants shall work under the supervision and direction of the supervising counselor of conciliation.

(d) The classification and salaries of persons appointed under this section shall be determined by:

(1) The board of supervisors of the county in which a noncontracting family conciliation court operates.

(b) In cases pursuant to this part, exercise all the powers and perform all the duties granted or imposed by the laws of this state relating to probation or to probation officers.

1818. (a) All superior court hearings or conferences in proceedings under this part shall be held in private and the court shall exclude all persons except the officers of the court, the parties, their counsel, and witnesses. Conferences may be held with each party and the party's counsel separately and in the discretion of the judge, commissioner, or counselor conducting the conference or hearing, counsel for one party may be excluded when the adverse party is present. All communications, verbal or written, from parties to the judge, commissioner, or counselor in a proceeding under this part shall be deemed to be official information within the meaning of Section 1040 of the Evidence Code.

(b) The files of the family conciliation court shall be closed. The petition, supporting affidavit, conciliation agreement, and any court order made in the matter may be opened to inspection by a party or the party's counsel upon the written authority of the judge of the family conciliation court.

1819. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), upon order of the judge of the family conciliation court, the supervising counselor of conciliation may destroy any record, paper, or document filed or kept in the office of the supervising counselor of conciliation which is more than two years old.

(b) Records described in subdivision (a) of child custody or visitation mediation may be destroyed when the minor or minors involved are 18 years of age.

(c) In the judge's discretion, the judge of the family conciliation court may order the microfilming of any record, paper, or document described in subdivision (a) or (b).

1820. (a) A county may contract with any other county or counties to provide joint family conciliation court services.

(b) An agreement between two or more counties for the operation of a joint family conciliation court service may provide that the treasurer of one participating county shall be the custodian of moneys made available for the purposes of the joint services, and that the treasurer may make payments from the moneys upon audit of the appropriate auditing officer or body of the county of that treasurer.

(c) An agreement between two or more counties for the operation of a joint family conciliation court service may also provide:

1. For the joint provision or operation of services and facilities or for the provision or operation of services and facilities by one participating county under contract for the other participating counties.

2. For appointments of members of the staff of the family conciliation court including the supervising counselor.

3. That, for specified purposes, the members of the staff of the family conciliation court including the supervising counselor, but excluding the judges of the family conciliation court and other court personnel, shall be considered to be employees of one participating county.

4. For other matters that are necessary or proper to effectuate the purposes of the Family Conciliation Court Law.

(d) The provisions of this part relating to family conciliation court services provided by a single county shall be equally applicable to counties which contract, pursuant to this section, to provide joint family conciliation court services.

CHAPTER 3. PROCEEDINGS FOR CONCILIATION

1830. (a) When a controversy exists between spouses, or when a controversy relating to child custody or visitation exists between parents regardless of their marital status, and the controversy may, unless a reconciliation is achieved, result in dissolution of the marriage, nullity of the marriage, or legal separation of the parties, or in the disruption of the household, and there is a minor child of the spouses or parents or of either of them whose welfare might be affected thereby, the family conciliation court has jurisdiction as provided in this part over the controversy and over the parties to the controversy and over all persons having any relation to the controversy.

(b) The family conciliation court also has jurisdiction over the controversy, whether or not there is a minor child of the parties or either of them, where the controversy involves domestic violence.

1831. Before the filing of a proceeding for determination of custody or visitation rights, for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of a voidable marriage, or for legal separation of the parties, either spouse or parent, or both, may file in the family conciliation court a petition invoking the jurisdiction of the court for the purpose of preserving the marriage by effecting a reconciliation between the parties, or for amicable settlement of the controversy between the spouses or parents, so as to avoid further litigation over the issue involved.

1832. The petition shall be captioned substantially as follows:

In the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of _______

Upon the petition of Petition for Conciliation

(Under the Family Conciliation
Court Law)

To the Family Conciliation Court:

1833. The petition shall:

(a) Alleged that a controversy exists between the spouses or parents and request the aid of the court to effect a reconciliation or an amicable settlement of the controversy.

(b) State the name and age of each minor child whose welfare may be affected by the controversy.

(c) State the name and address of the petitioner or the names and addresses of the petitioners.

(d) If the petition is presented by one spouse or parent only, the name of the other spouse or parent as a respondent, and state the address of that spouse or parent.

(e) Name as a respondent any other person who has any relation to the controversy, and state the address of the person if known to the petitioner.

(f) If the petition arises out of an instance of domestic violence, so state generally and without specific allegations as to the incident.
(g) State any other information the court by rule requires.

1834. (a) The clerk of the court shall provide, at the expense of the county, blank forms for petitions for filing pursuant to this part.
(b) The probation officers of the county and the attachés and employees of the family conciliation court shall assist a person in the preparation and presentation of a petition under this part if the person requests assistance.
(c) All public officers in each county shall refer to the family conciliation court all petitions and complaints made to them in respect to controversies within the jurisdiction of the family conciliation court.
(d) The jurisdiction of the family conciliation court in respect to controversies arising out of an instance of domestic violence is not exclusive but is coextensive with any other remedies either civil or criminal in nature that may be available.

1835. No fee shall be charged by any officer for filing the petition.

1836. (a) The court shall fix a reasonable time and place for hearing on the petition. The court shall cause notice to be given to the respondents of the filing of the petition and of the time and place of the hearing that the court deems necessary.
(b) The court may, when it deems it necessary, issue a citation to a respondent requiring the respondent to appear at the time and place stated in the citation. The court may require the attendance of witnesses as in other civil cases.

1837. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), for the purpose of conducting hearings pursuant to this part, the family conciliation court may be convened at any time and place within the county, and the hearing may be had in chambers or otherwise.
(b) The time and place for hearing shall not be different from the time and place provided by law for the trial of civil actions if any party, before the hearing, objects to any different time or place.

1838. (a) The hearing shall be conducted informally as a conference or a series of conferences to effect a reconciliation of the spouses or an amicable adjustment or settlement of the issues in controversy.
(b) To facilitate and promote the purposes of this part, the court may, with the consent of both parties to the proceeding, recommend or invoke the aid of medical or other specialists or scientific experts, or of the pastor or director of any religious denomination to which the parties may belong. Aid under this subdivision shall not be at the expense of the court or of the county unless the board of supervisors of the county specifically provides and authorizes the aid.

1839. (a) At or after the hearing, the court may make orders in respect to the conduct of the spouses or parents and the subject matter of the controversy that the court deems necessary to preserve the marriage or to implement the reconciliation of the spouses. No such order shall be effective for more than 30 days from the hearing of the petition unless the parties mutually consent to a continuation of the time the order remains effective.

(b) A reconciliation agreement between the parties may be reduced to writing and, with the consent of the parties, a court order may be made requiring the parties to comply fully with the agreement.

(c) During the pendency of a proceeding under this part, the superior court may order the husband or wife, or father or mother, as the case may be, to pay an amount necessary for the support and maintenance of the wife or husband and for the support, maintenance, and education of the minor children, as the case may be. In determining the amount, the superior court may take into consideration the recommendations of a financial referee if one is available to the court. An order made pursuant to this subdivision shall not prejudice the rights of the parties or children with respect to any subsequent order which may be made. An order made pursuant to this subdivision may be modified or terminated at any time except as to an amount that accrued before the date of filing of the notice of motion or order to show cause to modify or revoke.

1840. (a) During a period beginning upon the filing of the petition for conciliation and continuing until 30 days after the hearing of the petition for conciliation, neither spouse shall file a petition for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of a voidable marriage, or for legal separation of the parties.

(b) After the expiration of the period under subdivision (a), if the controversy between the spouses, or the parents, has not been terminated, either spouse may institute a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of a voidable marriage, or for legal separation of the parties, or a proceeding to determine custody or visitation of the minor child or children.

(c) The pendency of a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal separation of the parties, or a proceeding to determine custody or visitation of the minor child or children, does not operate as a bar to the instituting of proceedings for conciliation under this part.

1841. If a petition for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal separation of the parties is filed, the case may be transferred at any time during the pendency of the proceeding to the family conciliation court for proceedings for reconciliation of the spouses or amicable settlement of issues in controversy in accordance with this part if both of the following appear to the court:

(a) There is a minor child of the spouses, or of either of them, whose welfare may be adversely affected by the dissolution of the marriage or the disruption of the household or a controversy involving child custody.

(b) There is some reasonable possibility of a reconciliation being effected.

1842. (a) If an application is made to the family conciliation court for conciliation proceedings in respect to a controversy between spouses, or a contested proceeding for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of a voidable marriage, or for legal separation of the parties, but there is no minor child whose welfare may be affected by the results of the controversy, and it appears to the court that reconciliation of the spouses or amicable adjustment of the controversy can probably be achieved, and that the work of the court in cases involving children will not be seriously impeded by acceptance of the case, the court may accept and dispose of the case in the same manner as similar cases involving the welfare of children are disposed of.

(b) If the court accepts the case under subdivision (a), the court has the same jurisdiction over the controversy and the parties to the controversy and those having a relation to the controversy that it has under this part in similar cases involving the welfare of children.

PART 2. STATEWIDE COORDINATION OF FAMILY MEDIATION AND CONCILIATION SERVICES

1850. The Judicial Council shall do all of the following:

(a) Assist counties in implementing mediation and conciliation proceedings under this code.

(b) Establish and implement a uniform statistical reporting system relating to proceedings brought for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal separation of the parties, including, but not limited to, a custody disposition survey.

(c) Administer a program of grants to public and private agencies submitting proposals for research, study, and demonstration projects in the area of family law, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

1. The development of conciliation and mediation and other newer dispute resolution techniques, particularly as they relate to child custody and to avoidance of litigation.

2. The establishment of criteria to ensure that a child support order is adequate.

3. The development of methods to ensure that a child support order is paid.

4. The study of the feasibility and desirability of guidelines to assist judges in making custody decisions.

(d) Administer a program for the training of court personnel involved in family law proceedings, which shall be available to the court personnel and which shall be totally funded from funds specified in Section 1852. The training shall include, but not be limited to, the order of preference for custody of minor children set forth in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 3040) of Part 2 of Division 8 and the meaning of the custody arrangements described in Section 3020 and in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 3040) and Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 3080) of Part 2 of Division 8.

1851. The Judicial Council shall establish an advisory committee of persons representing a broad spectrum of interest in and knowledge about family law. The committee shall recommend criteria for determining grant recipients pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 1850, which shall include proposal evaluation guidelines and procedures for submission of the results to the Legislature, the Governor, and family law courts. In accordance with established criteria, the committee shall receive grant proposals and shall recommend the priority of submitted proposals.

1852. Funds collected by the state pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 10605 of the Health and Safety Code, subdivision (a) of Section 26832 of the Government Code, and grants, gifts, or devises made to the state from private sources to be used for the purposes of this part shall be deposited into the General Fund and shall only be used for the purposes of this part. No funds other than those so deposited shall be used for those purposes. That money shall be appropriated to the Judicial Council for the support of the programs authorized by this part as provided by the Legislature in the annual Budget Act. The Judicial Council may utilize funds to provide staffing as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this part. In order to defray the costs of collection of these funds, the local registrar, county clerk, or county recorder may retain a percentage of the funds collected, not to exceed 10 percent of the fee payable to the state pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 10605 of the Health and Safety Code.

DIVISION 6. NULLITY, DISSOLUTION, AND LEGAL SEPARATION

PART 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

CHAPTER 1. APPLICATION OF PART

2000. This part applies to a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal separation of the parties.

CHAPTER 2. JURISDICTION

2010. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal separation of the parties, the court has jurisdiction to inquire into and render any judgment and make such orders as are appropriate concerning the following:
   (a) The status of the marriage.
   (b) The custody and support of minor children of the marriage and children for whom support is authorized under Part 2 (commencing with Section 3900) of Division 9.
   (c) The support of either party.
   (d) The settlement of the property rights of the parties.
   (e) The award of attorney's fees and costs.

2011. When service of summons on a spouse is made pursuant to Section 415.50 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the court, without the aid of attachment or the appointment of a receiver, shall have and may exercise the same jurisdiction over:

(a) The community real property of the spouse so served situated in this state as it has or may exercise over the community real property of a spouse who is personally served with process within this state.

(b) The quasi-community real property of the spouse so served situated in this state as it has or may exercise over the quasi-community real property of a spouse who is personally served with process within this state.

2012. (a) During the time a motion pursuant to Section 418.10 of the Code of Civil Procedure is pending, the respondent may appear in opposition to an order made during the pendency of the proceeding and the appearance shall not be deemed a general appearance by the respondent.

(b) As used in this section, a motion pursuant to Section 418.10 of the Code of Civil Procedure is pending from the time notice of motion is served and filed until the time within which to petition for a writ of mandate has expired or, if a petition is made, until the time final judgment in the mandate proceeding is entered.

CHAPTER 3. PROCEDURAL PROVISIONS

2020. A responsive pleading, if any, shall be filed and served on the petitioner within 30 days of the date of the service on the respondent of a copy of the petition and summons.

2021. (a) Subject to subdivision (b), the court may order that a person who claims an interest in the proceeding be joined as a party to the proceeding in accordance with rules adopted by the Judicial Council pursuant to Section 211.

(b) An employee pension benefit plan may be joined as a party only in accordance with Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 2060).

2022. (a) Evidence collected by eavesdropping in violation of Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 630) of Title 15 of Part 1 of the Penal Code is inadmissible.

(b) If it appears that a violation described in subdivision (a) exists, the court may refer the matter to the proper authority for investigation and prosecution.

2023. (a) On a determination that payment of an obligation of a party would benefit either party or a minor child, the court may order one of the parties to pay the obligation, or a portion thereof, directly to the creditor.

(b) The creditor has no right to enforce the order made under this section, nor are the creditor’s rights affected by the determination made under this section.

2024. Every judgment for dissolution of marriage or for nullity of marriage shall contain the following notice:
Notice. Please review your will, insurance policies, retirement benefit plans, and other matters that you may want to change in view of the dissolution or annulment of your marriage. Ending your marriage may automatically change a disposition made by your will to your former spouse.

2025. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, if the court has ordered an issue or issues bifurcated for separate trial or hearing in advance of the disposition of the entire case, a court of appeal may order an issue or issues transferred to it for hearing and decision when the court that heard the issue or issues certifies that the appeal is appropriate. Certification by the court shall be in accordance with rules promulgated by the Judicial Council.

2026. The reconciliation of the parties, whether conditional or unconditional, is an ameliorating factor to be considered by the court in considering a contempt of an existing court order.

CHAPTER 4. RESTRaining AND PROTECTIVE ORDERS

Article 1. Orders in Summons

2030. In addition to the contents required by Section 412.20 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the summons shall contain a temporary restraining order:

(a) Restraining both parties from removing the minor child or children of the parties, if any, from the state without the prior written consent of the other party or an order of the court.

(b) Restraining both parties from transferring, encumbering, hypothecating, concealing, or in any way disposing of any property, real or personal, whether community, quasi-community, or separate, without the written consent of the other party or an order of the court, except in the usual course of business or for the necessities of life and requiring each party to notify the other party of any proposed extraordinary expenditures at least five business days before incurring those expenditures and to account to the court for all extraordinary expenditures made after service of the summons on that party. However, nothing in the restraining order shall preclude the parties from using community property to pay reasonable attorney's fees in order to retain legal counsel in the proceeding.

(c) Restraining both parties from cashing, borrowing against, canceling, transferring, disposing of, or changing the beneficiaries of any insurance or other coverage including life, health, automobile, and disability held for the benefit of the parties and their minor child or children.

2031. Nothing in Section 2030 adversely affects the rights, title, and interest of a purchaser for value, encumbrancer for value, or lessee for value who is without actual knowledge of the restraining order.
Article 2. Orders During Pendency of Proceeding

2035. During the pendency of the proceeding, on application of either party, the court may, in the manner provided by Part 4 (commencing with Section 240) of Division 2, issue ex parte orders doing any one or more of the following:

(a) Restraining a person from transferring, encumbering, hypothecating, concealing, or in any way disposing of any property, real or personal, whether community, quasi-community, or separate, except in the usual course of business or for the necessities of life, and if the order is directed against a party, requiring that party to notify the other party of any proposed extraordinary expenditures and to account to the court for all extraordinary expenditures.

(b) Enjoining a party from contacting, molesting, attacking, striking, threatening, sexually assaulting, battering, telephoning, or disturbing the peace of the other party, and, in the discretion of the court, upon a showing of good cause, other named family and household members.

(c) Excluding one party from the family dwelling or from the dwelling of the other for the period of time and upon the conditions the court determines, regardless of which party holds legal or equitable title or is the lessee of the dwelling, upon a showing of both of the following:

1. The party to be excluded has assaulted or threatens to assault the other party or any other person under the care, custody, or control of the other party, or any minor child of the parties or of the other party.

2. Physical or emotional harm would otherwise result to the other party or any person under the care, custody, or control of the other party, or to any minor child of the parties or of the other party.

(d) Enjoining a party from specified behavior that the court determines is necessary to effectuate orders under subdivision (b) or (c).

(e) Determining the temporary custody of any minor children of the marriage, and the right of a party to visit the minor children upon the conditions the court determines.

(f) Determining the temporary use, possession, and control of real or personal property of the parties and the payment of any liens or encumbrances coming due during the pendency of the order.

2036. A mutual restraining order specified in subdivision (b) of Section 2035 may only be issued if both parties personally appear and each party presents evidence of abuse or domestic violence specified in that subdivision.

2036.5. After notice and a hearing, the court may issue an order specified in subdivision (c) of Section 2035 excluding one party from the family dwelling or from the dwelling of the other party on a showing only that physical or emotional harm would otherwise result to the other party or any person under the care, custody, or control of the other party, or to a minor child of the parties or of the other 2037. An order issued pursuant to this article shall include on its face a statement of the date of expiration of the order and, to the extent the order protects against domestic violence, all of the following statements in substantially the following form:

(a) "This order shall be enforced by all law enforcement officers."

(b) "This order is effective when made. The law enforcement agency shall enforce it immediately upon receipt. It is enforceable anywhere in California by any law enforcement agency that has received the order or is shown a copy of the order. If proof of service on the restrained person has not been received, the law enforcement agency shall advise the restrained person of the terms of the order and then shall enforce it."

(c) "NOTICE TO PETITIONER/RESPONDENT: If you do not appear at the court hearing specified herein, the court may grant the requested orders for a period of up to 3 years without further notice to you."

2038. The court shall order the party who obtained the order, or the attorney for that party, to deliver, or the clerk to mail, a copy of any order, or extension, modification, or termination thereof, granted pursuant to this article, by the close of the business day on which the order, extension, modification, or termination was granted, and any subsequent proof of service thereof, to each local law enforcement agency designated by the party or the attorney for the party, having jurisdiction over the residence of the party and other locations where the court determines that acts of domestic violence against the party are likely to occur.

2039. Each appropriate law enforcement agency shall make available through an existing system for verification, information as to the existence, terms, and current status of any order issued pursuant to this article to any law enforcement officer responding to the scene of reported domestic violence.

2040. (a) Notwithstanding Section 2038 and subject to subdivision (b), an order issued pursuant to this article is enforceable in any place in this state.

(b) An order issued pursuant to this article is not enforceable by a law enforcement agency of a political subdivision unless that law enforcement agency has received a copy of the order pursuant to Section 2038 or has otherwise received a copy of the order or the officer enforcing the order has been shown a copy of the order.

2041. (a) A restraining order against domestic violence issued pursuant to subdivision (b), (c), or (d) of Section 2035 may, upon the request of the moving party, be served upon the responding party by a law enforcement officer who is present at the scene of reported domestic violence involving the parties to the action.

(b) The moving party shall provide the officer with an endorsed copy of the order and a proof of service which the officer shall complete and transmit to the issuing court.

2042. A willful and knowing violation of any order granted pursuant to subdivision (b), (c), or (d) of Section 2035 is a misdemeanor punishable under Section 273.6 of the Penal Code.

2043. The Judicial Council shall promulgate forms and instructions for applications for orders and orders granted pursuant to this chapter.

Article 3. Judgment

2045. (a) A judgment entered in the proceeding may include any orders issued pursuant to subdivision (b), (c), or (d) of Section 2035.

(b) If an order is included in the judgment pursuant to subdivision (a), the judgment shall state on its face both of the following:

1. Which provisions of the judgment are the orders.
2. The date of expiration of the orders, which shall be not more than three years from the date the judgment is issued unless extended by the court after notice and hearing.

(c) The judgments, or orders, or extensions thereof, shall be transmitted to law enforcement agencies in the manner provided by Section 2038.

(d) A willful and knowing violation of an order included in the judgment pursuant to subdivision (a) is a misdemeanor punishable under Section 273.6 of the Penal Code.

CHAPTER 5. NOTICE TO INSURANCE CARRIERS

2050. Upon filing of the petition, or at any time during the proceeding, a party may transmit to, or the court may order transmittal to, a health, life, or disability insurance carrier or plan the following notice in substantially the following form:

"YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED, PURSUANT TO A PENDING PROCEEDING, IN RE MARRIAGE OF ________, CASE NUMBER ________, FILED IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF ________, THAT OWNERSHIP OF, OR BENEFITS PAYABLE UNDER, A POLICY OF HEALTH, LIFE, OR DISABILITY INSURANCE WHICH YOU HAVE ISSUED TO ONE OF THE PARTIES TO THIS PROCEEDING, POLICY NO. ________, IS AT ISSUE OR MAY BE AT ISSUE IN THE PROCEEDING.

YOU ARE HEREBY INSTRUCTED TO MAINTAIN THE NAMED BENEFICIARIES OR COVERED DEPENDENTS UNDER THE POLICY, UNLESS THE TERMS OF THE POLICY OR OTHER PROVISIONS OF LAW REQUIRE OTHERWISE, OR UNTIL RECEIPT OF A COURT ORDER, JUDGMENT, OR STIPULATION BETWEEN THE PARTIES PROVIDING OTHER INSTRUCTIONS.

YOU ARE FURTHER INSTRUCTED TO SEND NOTICE TO THE NAMED BENEFICIARIES, COVERED DEPENDENTS, OR OTHER SPECIFIED PERSONS UPON CANCELLATION, LAPSE, OR CHANGE OF THE COVERAGE, OR CHANGE OF DESIGNATED BENEFICIARIES UNDER THE POLICY.”

2051. Upon the entry of an order or judgment in the proceeding requiring a party to maintain existing health, life, or disability insurance coverage for a spouse or children or after an order or judgment in the proceeding requiring a party to purchase life or disability insurance and name the spouse or children as beneficiaries and upon receipt of the name, title, and address of the insurer, or the name of the plan’s trustee, administrator, or agent for service of process, a party may transmit to, or the court may order transmittal to, the insurer or plan a copy of the order or judgment endorsed by the court, together with the following notice in substantially the following form:

“Pursuant to a proceeding, in re marriage of ______, case number ______, in the superior court of the state of California, county of ______, your insured, ________, has been ordered to maintain the existing (health) (life) (disability) insurance coverage, policy no. ______, in force for the named beneficiaries or covered dependents as specified in the attached order or judgment.

The attached order or judgment requires you to maintain the named beneficiaries under the policy as irrevocable beneficiaries or covered dependents of the policy and you must administer the coverage accordingly, until the date specified, if any, in the order or judgment, or until the receipt of a court order, judgment, or stipulation providing other instructions.

You are further instructed to send notice to the named beneficiaries, covered dependents, or other specified persons upon any cancellation, lapse, or change of coverage, or change of designated beneficiaries under this policy.”

2052. Notice pursuant to this chapter may be sent by first-class mail, postage prepaid, to the last known address of the covered dependents, named beneficiaries, or other specified persons who have requested receipt of notification.

2053. The insured or policyholder who is a party to the proceeding shall furnish to the other party the name, title, and address of the insurer or the insurer’s agent for service of process.

Chapter 6. Employee Pension Benefit Plan as Party

Article 1. Joinder of Plan

2060. (a) Upon written application by a party, the clerk shall enter an order joining as a party to the proceeding any employee pension benefit plan in which either party to the proceeding claims an interest that is or may be subject to disposition by the court.

(b) An order or judgment in the proceeding is not enforceable against an employee pension benefit plan unless the plan has been joined as a party to the proceeding.

2061. Upon entry of the order under Section 2060, the party requesting joinder shall file an appropriate pleading setting forth the party’s claim against the plan and the nature of the relief sought.

2062. (a) The party requesting joinder shall serve all of the following upon the employee pension benefit plan:

1. A copy of the pleading of the party requesting joinder.
2. A copy of the joinder request.
3. A copy of the summons.
4. A blank copy of a notice of appearance in form and content approved by the Judicial Council.

(b) Service shall be made in the same manner as service of papers generally. Service of the summons upon a trustee or administrator of the plan in its capacity as trustee or administrator, or upon an agent designated by the plan for service of process in its capacity as agent, constitutes service upon the plan.

(c) To facilitate service, the employee spouse shall furnish to the nonemployee spouse within 30 days after written request the name, title, and address of the plan’s trustee, administrator, or agent for service of process. If necessary, the employee shall obtain the information from the plan.

2063. (a) The employee pension benefit plan shall file and serve a copy of a notice of appearance upon the party requesting joinder within 30 days of the date of the service upon the plan of a copy of the joinder request and summons.

(b) The employee pension benefit plan may, but need not, file an appropriate responsive pleading with its notice of appearance. If the plan does not file a responsive pleading, all statements of fact and requests for relief contained in any pleading served on the plan are deemed to be controverted by the plan’s notice of appearance.

2064. Notwithstanding any contrary provision of law, the employee pension benefit plan is not required to pay any fee to the clerk of the court as a condition to filing the notice of appearance or any subsequent paper in the proceeding.

2065. If the employee pension benefit plan has been served and no notice of appearance, notice of motion to quash service of summons pursuant to Section 418.10 of the Code of Civil Procedure, or notice of the filing of a petition for writ of mandate as provided in that section, has been filed with the clerk of the court within the time specified in the summons or such further time as may be allowed, the clerk, upon written application of the party requesting joinder, shall enter the default of the employee pension benefit plan in accordance with Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 585) of Title 8 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.
Article 2. Proceedings After Joinder

2070. (a) This article governs a proceeding in which an employee pension benefit plan has been joined as a party.
   (b) To the extent not in conflict with this article and except as otherwise provided by rules adopted by the Judicial Council pursuant to Section 211, all provisions of law applicable to civil actions generally apply, regardless of nomenclature, to the portion of the proceeding as to which an employee pension benefit plan has been joined as a party if those provisions would otherwise apply to the proceeding without reference to this article.

2071. Either party or their representatives may notify the employee pension benefit plan of any proposed property settlement as it concerns the plan before any hearing at which the proposed property settlement will be a matter before the court. If so notified, the plan may stipulate to the proposed settlement or advise the representative that it will contest the proposed settlement.

2073. (a) Subject to subdivisions (b) and (c), the provisions of an order entered at or as a result of a hearing not attended by the employee pension benefit plan (whether or not the plan received notice of the hearing) which affect the plan or which affect any interest either the petitioner or respondent may have or claim under the plan, do not become effective until 30 days after the order has been served upon the plan.
   (b) The plan may waive all or any portion of the 30-day period under subdivision (a).
   (c) If within the 30-day period, the plan files in the proceeding a motion to set aside or modify those provisions of the order affecting it, those provisions do not become effective until the court has resolved the motion.

2074. (a) At any hearing on a motion to set aside or modify an order pursuant to Section 2073, any party may present further evidence on any issue relating to the rights of the parties under the employee pension benefit plan or the extent of the parties’ community or quasi-community property interest in the plan.
   (b) Any statement of decision issued by the court with respect to the order which is the subject of the motion shall take account of the evidence referred to in subdivision (a).
   (c) If the provisions of the order affecting the employee pension benefit plan are modified or set aside, the court, on motion by either party, may set aside or modify other provisions of the order related to or affected by the provisions affecting the plan.
CHAPTER 7. RESTORATION OF WIFE'S FORMER NAME

2080. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or for nullity of marriage, but not in a proceeding for legal separation of the parties, the court, upon the request of the wife, shall restore the birth name or former name of the wife, regardless of whether or not a request for restoration of the name was included in the petition.

2081. The restoration of a former name or birth name requested under Section 2080 shall not be denied (a) on the basis that the wife has custody of a minor child who bears a different name or (b) for any other reason other than fraud.

2082. Nothing in this code shall be construed to abrogate the common law right of any person to change one's name.

CHAPTER 8. UNIFORM DIVORCE RECOGNITION ACT

2090. This chapter may be cited as the Uniform Divorce Recognition Act.

2092. Proof that a person hereafter obtaining a divorce from the bonds of matrimony in another jurisdiction was (a) domiciled in this state within 12 months before the commencement of the proceeding therefor, and resumed residence in this state within 18 months after the date of the person's departure therefrom, or (b) at all times after the person's departure from this state and until the person's return maintained a place of residence within this state, shall be prima facie evidence that the person was domiciled in this state when the divorce proceeding was commenced.

2093. The application of this chapter is limited by the requirement of the Constitution of the United States that full faith and credit shall be given in each state to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings of every other state.

PART 2. JUDICIAL DETERMINATION OF VOID OR VOIDABLE MARRIAGE

CHAPTER 1. VOID MARRIAGE

2200. Marriages between parents and children, ancestors and descendants of every degree, and between brothers and sisters of the half as well as the whole blood, and between uncles and nieces or aunts and nephews, are incestuous, and void from the beginning, whether the relationship is legitimate or illegitimate.

2201. (a) A subsequent marriage contracted by a person during the life of a former husband or wife of the person, with a person other than the former husband or wife, is illegal and void from the beginning, unless:

(1) The former marriage has been dissolved or adjudged a nullity before the date of the subsequent marriage.

(2) The former husband or wife (i) is absent, and not known to the person to be living for the period of five successive years immediately preceding the subsequent marriage, or (ii) is generally reputed or believed by the person to be dead at the time the subsequent marriage was contracted.

(b) In either of the cases described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a), the subsequent marriage is valid until its nullity is adjudged pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 2210.

CHAPTER 2. VOIDABLE MARRIAGE

2210. A marriage is voidable and may be adjudged a nullity if any of the following conditions existed at the time of the marriage:

(a) The party who commences the proceeding or on whose behalf the proceeding is commenced was without the capability of consenting to the marriage as provided in Section 301 or 302, unless, after attaining the age of consent, the party for any time freely cohabited with the other as husband and wife.

(b) The husband or wife of either party was living and the marriage with that husband or wife was then in force and that husband or wife (1) was absent and not known to the party commencing the proceeding to be living for a period of five successive years immediately preceding the subsequent marriage for which the judgment of nullity is sought or (2) was generally reputed or believed by the party commencing the proceeding to be dead at the time the subsequent marriage was contracted.

(c) Either party was of unsound mind, unless the party of unsound mind, after coming to reason, freely cohabited with the other as husband and wife.

(d) The consent of either party was obtained by fraud, unless the party whose consent was obtained by fraud afterwards, with full knowledge of the facts constituting the fraud, freely cohabited with the other as husband or wife.

(e) The consent of either party was obtained by force, unless the party whose consent was obtained by force afterwards freely cohabited with the other as husband or wife.

(f) Either party was, at the time of marriage, physically incapable of entering into the marriage state, and that incapacity continues, and appears to be incurable.

2211. A proceeding to obtain a judgment of nullity of marriage, for causes set forth in Section 2210, must be commenced within the periods and by the parties, as follows:

(a) For causes mentioned in subdivision (a) of Section 2210, by any of the following:

(1) The party to the marriage who was married under the age of legal consent, within four years after arriving at the age of consent.
(2) A parent, guardian, conservator, or other person having charge of the underaged male or female, at any time before the married minor has arrived at the age of legal consent.

(b) For causes mentioned in subdivision (b) of Section 2210, by either of the following:

(1) Either party during the life of the other.
(2) The former husband or wife.

(c) For causes mentioned in subdivision (c) of Section 2210, by the party injured, or by a relative or conservator of the party of unsound mind, at any time before the death of either party.

(d) For causes mentioned in subdivision (d) of Section 2210, by the party whose consent was obtained by fraud, within four years after the discovery of the facts constituting the fraud.

(e) For causes mentioned in subdivision (e) of Section 2210, by the party whose consent was obtained by force, within four years after the marriage.

(f) For causes mentioned in subdivision (f) of Section 2210, by the injured party, within four years after the marriage.

2212. (a) The effect of a judgment of nullity of marriage is to restore the parties to the status of unmarried persons.

(b) A judgment of nullity of marriage is conclusive only as to the parties to the proceeding and those claiming under them.

CHAPTER 3. PROCEDURAL PROVISIONS

2250. (a) A proceeding based on void or voidable marriage is commenced by filing a petition entitled “In re the marriage of ______ and ______” which shall state that it is a petition for a judgment of nullity of the marriage.

(b) A copy of the petition together with a copy of a summons in form and content approved by the Judicial Council shall be served upon the other party to the marriage in the same manner as service of papers in civil actions generally.

2251. (a) If a determination is made that a marriage is void or voidable and the court finds that either party or both parties believed in good faith that the marriage was valid, the court shall:

(1) Declare the party or parties to have the status of a putative spouse.

(2) If the division of property is in issue, divide, in accordance with Division 7 (commencing with Section 2500), that property acquired during the union which would have been community property or quasi-community property if the union had not been void or voidable. This property is known as “quasi-marital property”.

(b) If the court expressly reserves jurisdiction, it may make the property division at a time after the judgment.

2252. The property divided pursuant to Section 2251 is liable for debts of the parties to the same extent as if the property had been community property or quasi-community property.

2253. In a proceeding under this part, custody of the children shall be determined according to Division 8 (commencing with Section 3000).

2254. The court may, during the pendency of a proceeding for nullity of marriage or upon judgment of nullity of marriage, order a party to pay for the support of the other party in the same manner as if the marriage had not been void or voidable if the party for whose benefit the order is made is found to be a putative spouse.

2255. The court may grant attorney’s fees and costs in accordance with Part 5 (commencing with Section 270) of Division 2 in proceedings to have the marriage adjudged void and in those proceedings based upon voidable marriage in which the party applying for attorney’s fees and costs is found to be innocent of fraud or wrongdoing in inducing or entering into the marriage, and free from knowledge of the then existence of any prior marriage or other impediment to the contracting of the marriage for which a judgment of nullity is sought.

PART 3. DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE AND LEGAL SEPARATION

CHAPTER 1. EFFECT OF DISSOLUTION

2300. The effect of a judgment of dissolution of marriage when it becomes final is to restore the parties to the state of unmarried persons.

CHAPTER 2. GROUNDS FOR DISSOLUTION OR LEGAL SEPARATION

2310. Dissolution of the marriage or legal separation of the parties may be based on either of the following grounds, which shall be pleaded generally:
   (a) Irreconcilable differences, which have caused the irremediable breakdown of the marriage.
   (b) Incurable insanity.

2311. Irreconcilable differences are those grounds which are determined by the court to be substantial reasons for not continuing the marriage and which make it appear that the marriage should be dissolved.

2312. A marriage may be dissolved on the grounds of incurable insanity only upon proof, including competent medical or psychiatric testimony, that the insane spouse was at the time the petition was filed, and remains, incurably insane.

2313. No dissolution of marriage granted on the ground of incurable insanity relieves a spouse from any obligation imposed by law as a result of the marriage for the support of the spouse who is incurably insane, and the court may make such order for support, or require a bond therefor, as the circumstances require.
CHAPTER 3. RESIDENCE REQUIREMENTS

2320. A judgment of dissolution of marriage may not be entered unless one of the parties to the marriage has been a resident of this state for six months and of the county in which the proceeding is filed for three months next preceding the filing of the petition.

2321. (a) In a proceeding for legal separation of the parties in which neither party, at the time the proceeding was commenced, has complied with the residence requirements of Section 2320, either party may, upon complying with the residence requirements, amend the party’s petition or responsive pleading in the proceeding to request that a judgment of dissolution of the marriage be entered. The date of the filing of the amended petition or pleading shall be deemed to be the date of commencement of the proceeding for the dissolution of the marriage for the purposes only of the residence requirements of Section 2320.

(b) If the other party has appeared in the proceeding, notice of the amendment shall be given to the other party in the manner provided by rules adopted by the Judicial Council. If no appearance has been made by the other party in the proceeding, notice of the amendment may be given to the other party by mail to the last known address of the other party, or by personal service, if the intent of the party to so amend upon satisfaction of the residence requirements of Section 2320 is set forth in the initial petition or pleading in the manner provided by rules adopted by the Judicial Council.

2322. For the purpose of a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, the husband and wife each may have a separate domicile or residence depending upon proof of the fact and not upon legal presumptions.

CHAPTER 4. GENERAL PROCEDURAL PROVISIONS

2330. (a) A proceeding for dissolution of marriage or for legal separation of the parties is commenced by filing a petition entitled “In re the marriage of ______ and ______” which shall state whether it is a petition for dissolution of the marriage or for legal separation of the parties.

(b) In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or for legal separation of the parties, the petition shall set forth among other matters, as nearly as can be ascertained, the following facts:

1. The state or country in which the parties were married.
2. The date of marriage.
3. The date of separation.
4. The number of years from marriage to separation.
5. The number of children of the marriage, if any, and if none a statement of that fact.
6. The age and birth date of each minor child of the marriage.
7. The social security numbers of the husband and wife, if available, and if not available, a statement to that effect.

2330.5. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, if no demand for money, property, costs, or attorney’s fees is contained in the petition and the judgment of dissolution of marriage is entered by default, the filing of income and expense declarations and property declarations in connection therewith shall not be required.

2331. A copy of the petition, together with a copy of a summons, in form and content approved by the Judicial Council shall be served upon the other party to the marriage in the same manner as service of papers in civil actions generally.

2332. (a) If the petition for dissolution of the marriage is based on the ground of incurable insanity and the insane spouse has a guardian or conservator, other than the spouse filing the petition, the petition and summons shall be served upon the insane spouse and the guardian or conservator. The guardian or conservator shall defend and protect the interests of the insane spouse.

(b) If the insane spouse has no guardian or conservator, or if the spouse filing the petition is the guardian or conservator of the insane spouse, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem, who may be the district attorney or the county counsel, if any, to defend and protect the interests of the insane spouse. If a district attorney or county counsel is appointed guardian ad litem pursuant to this subdivision, the successor in the office of district attorney or county counsel, as the case may be, succeeds as guardian ad litem, without further action by the court or parties.

(c) “Guardian or conservator” as used in this section means:

(1) With respect to the issue of the dissolution of the marriage relationship, the guardian or conservator of the person.

(2) With respect to support and property division issues, the guardian or conservator of the estate.

2333. Subject to Section 2334, if from the evidence at the hearing the court finds that there are irreconcilable differences which have caused the irremediable breakdown of the marriage, the court shall order the dissolution of the marriage or a legal separation of the parties.

2334. (a) If it appears that there is a reasonable possibility of reconciliation, the court shall continue the proceeding for the dissolution of the marriage or for a legal separation of the parties for a period not to exceed 30 days.

(b) During the period of the continuance, the court may make orders for the support and maintenance of the parties, the custody, and support of the minor children of the marriage, attorney’s fees, and for the preservation of the property of the parties.

(c) At any time after the termination of the period of the continuance, either party may move for the dissolution of the marriage or a legal separation of the parties, and the court may enter a judgment of dissolution of the marriage or legal separation of the parties.

2335. In a pleading or proceeding for dissolution of marriage or legal separation of the parties, including depositions and discovery proceedings, evidence of specific acts of misconduct is improper and inadmissible, except in any of the following cases:

(a) Where child custody is in issue and the evidence is relevant to that issue.

(b) Where a domestic violence prevention order is sought or has been obtained and the evidence is relevant in connection with the order.

2336. (a) No judgment of dissolution or of legal separation of the parties may be granted upon the default of one of the parties or upon a statement or finding of fact made by a referee; but the court shall, in addition to the statement or finding of the referee, require proof of the grounds alleged, and the proof, if not taken before the court, shall be by affidavit.

(b) If the proof is by affidavit, the personal appearance of the affiant is required only when it appears to the court that any of the following circumstances exist:

(1) Reconciliation of the parties is reasonably possible.

(2) A proposed child custody order is not in the best interest of the child.

(3) A proposed child support order is less than a noncustodial parent is capable of paying.

(4) A personal appearance of a party or interested person would be in the best interests of justice.

(c) An affidavit submitted pursuant to this section shall contain a stipulation by the affiant that the affiant understands that proof will be by affidavit and that the affiant will not appear before the court unless so ordered by the court.

2337. (a) In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, the court, upon noticed motion, may sever and grant an early and separate trial on the issue of the dissolution of the status of the marriage apart from other issues.

(b) The court may impose upon a party any of the following conditions on granting a severance of the issue of the dissolution of the status of the marriage, and in case of that party's death, an order of any of the following conditions continues to be binding upon that party's estate:

(1) The party shall indemnify and hold the other party harmless from any taxes, reassessments, interest, and penalties payable by the other party if the dissolution of the marriage before the division of the parties' community estate results in a taxable event to either of the parties by reason of the ultimate division of their community estate, which taxes would not have been payable if the parties were still married at the time the division was made.

(2) Until judgment has been entered on all remaining issues and has become final, the party shall maintain all existing health and medical insurance coverage for the other party and the minor children as named dependents, so long as the party is legally able to do so. At the time the party is no longer legally eligible to maintain the other party as a named dependent under the existing health and medical policies, the party or the party’s estate shall, at the party’s sole expense, purchase and maintain health and medical insurance coverage that is comparable to the existing health and medical insurance coverage. If comparable insurance coverage is not obtained, the party or the party’s estate is responsible for the health and medical expenses incurred by the other party which would have been covered by the insurance coverage, and shall indemnify and hold the other party harmless from any adverse consequences resulting from the lack of insurance.

(3) Until judgment has been entered on all remaining issues and has become final, the party shall indemnify and hold the other party harmless from any adverse consequences resulting to the other party if the bifurcation results in a termination of the other party’s right to a probate homestead in the residence in which the other party resides at the time the severance is granted.

(4) Until judgment has been entered on all remaining issues and has become final, the party shall indemnify and hold the other party harmless from any adverse consequences resulting to the other party if the bifurcation results in the loss of the rights of the other party to a probate family allowance as the surviving spouse of the party.

(5) Until judgment has been entered on all remaining issues and has become final, the party shall indemnify and hold the other party harmless from any adverse consequences resulting to the other party if the bifurcation results in the loss of the other party’s rights to pension benefits, elections, or survivors’ benefits under the party’s pension or retirement plan to the extent that the other party would have been entitled to those benefits or elections as the surviving spouse of the party.

(6) The party shall cause the party’s retirement or pension plan to be joined as a party to the proceeding for dissolution, and if the party has a private pension plan covered by ERISA, then the party shall cause a qualified domestic relations order, as defined in Section 1056 of Title 29 of the United States Code, to be served upon the party’s pension plan.

(7) The party shall indemnify and hold the other party harmless from any adverse consequences if the bifurcation results in the loss of rights to social security benefits or elections to the extent the other party would have been entitled to those benefits or elections as the surviving spouse of the party.

(8) Any other condition the court determines is just and equitable.

(c) A judgment granting a dissolution of the status of the marriage shall expressly reserve jurisdiction for later determination of all other pending issues.

2338. (a) In a proceeding for dissolution of the marriage or legal separation of the parties, the court shall file its decision and any statement of decision as in other cases.

(b) If the court determines that no dissolution should be granted, a judgment to that effect only shall be entered.

(c) If the court determines that a dissolution should be granted, a judgment of dissolution of marriage shall be entered. After the entry of the judgment and before it becomes final, neither party has the right to dismiss the proceeding without the consent of the other.

2339. (a) Subject to subdivision (b) and to Sections 2340 to 2344, inclusive, no judgment of dissolution is final for the purpose of terminating the marriage relationship of the parties until six months have expired from the date of service of a copy of summons and petition or the date of appearance of the respondent, whichever occurs first.

(b) The court may extend the six-month period described in subdivision (a) for good cause shown.

2340. A judgment of dissolution of marriage shall specify the date on which the judgment becomes finally effective for the purpose of terminating the marriage relationship of the parties.

2341. (a) Notwithstanding Section 2340, if an appeal is taken from the judgment or a motion for a new trial is made, the dissolution of marriage does not become final until the motion or appeal has been finally disposed of, nor then, if the motion has been granted or judgment reversed.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the filing of an appeal or of a motion for a new trial does not stay the effect of a judgment insofar as it relates to the dissolution of the marriage status and restoring the parties to the status of unmarried persons, unless the appealing or moving party specifies in the notice of appeal or motion for new trial an objection to the termination of the marriage status. No party may make such an objection to the termination of the marriage status unless such an objection was also made at the time of trial.

2342. Where a joint petition under Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 2400) is thereafter revoked and either party commences a proceeding pursuant to Section 2330 within 90 days from the date of the filing of the revocation, the date the judgment becomes a final judgment under Section 2339 shall be calculated by deducting the period of time which has elapsed from the date of filing the joint petition to the date of filing the revocation.

2343. The court may, upon notice and for good cause shown, or on stipulation of the parties, retain jurisdiction over the date of termination of the marital status, or may order that the marital status be terminated at a future specified date. On the date of termination of the marital status, the parties are restored to the status of unmarried persons.

2344. (a) The death of either party after entry of the judgment does not prevent the judgment from becoming a final judgment under Sections 2339 to 2343, inclusive.

(b) Subdivision (a) does not validate a marriage by either party before the judgment becomes final, nor does it constitute a defense in a criminal prosecution against either party.
2345. The court may not render a judgment of the legal separation of the parties without the consent of both parties unless one party has not made a general appearance and the petition is one for legal separation.

2346. (a) If the court determines that a judgment of dissolution of the marriage should be granted, but by mistake, negligence, or inadvertence, the judgment has not been signed, filed, and entered, the court may cause the judgment to be signed, dated, filed, and entered in the proceeding as of the date when the judgment could have been signed, dated, filed, and entered originally, if it appears to the satisfaction of the court that no appeal is to be taken in the proceeding or motion made for a new trial, to annul or set aside the judgment, or for relief under Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 469) of Title 6 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(b) The court may act under subdivision (a) on its own motion or upon the motion of either party to the proceeding. In contested cases, the motion of a party shall be with notice to the other party.

(c) The court may cause the judgment to be entered nunc pro tunc as provided in this section, even though the judgment may have been previously entered, where through mistake, negligence, or inadvertence the judgment was not entered as soon as it could have been entered under the law if applied for.

(d) The court shall not cause a judgment to be entered nunc pro tunc as provided in this section as of a date before trial in the matter, before the date of an uncontested judgment hearing in the matter, or before the date of submission to the court of an application for judgment on affidavit pursuant to Section 2336. Upon the entry of the judgment, the parties have the same rights with regard to the dissolution of marriage becoming final on the date that it would have become final had the judgment been entered upon the date when it could have been originally entered.

2347. A judgment of legal separation of the parties does not bar a subsequent judgment of dissolution of the marriage granted pursuant to a petition for dissolution filed by either party.

Chapter 5. Summary Dissolution

2400. (a) A marriage may be dissolved by the summary dissolution procedure specified in this chapter when all of the following conditions exist at the time the proceeding is commenced:

(1) Either party has met the jurisdictional requirements of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 2320) with regard to dissolution of marriage.

(2) Irreconcilable differences have caused the irremediable breakdown of the marriage and the marriage should be dissolved.

(3) There are no children of the relationship of the parties born before or during the marriage or adopted by the parties during the marriage, and the wife, to her knowledge, is not pregnant.

(4) The marriage is not more than five years in duration at the time the petition is filed.

(5) Neither party has any interest in real property wherever situated, with the exception of the lease of a residence occupied by either party which satisfies the following requirements:

(A) The lease does not include an option to purchase.

(B) The lease terminates within one year from the date of the filing of the petition.

(6) There are no unpaid obligations in excess of four thousand dollars ($4,000) incurred by either or both of the parties after the date of their marriage, excluding the amount of any unpaid obligation with respect to an automobile.

(7) The total fair market value of community property assets, excluding all encumbrances and automobiles, including any deferred compensation or retirement plan, is less than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), and neither party has separate property assets, excluding all encumbrances and automobiles, in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000).

(8) The parties have executed an agreement setting forth the division of assets and the assumption of liabilities of the community, and have executed any documents, title certificates, bills of sale, or other evidence of transfer necessary to effectuate the agreement.

(9) The parties waive any rights to spousal support.

(10) The parties, upon entry of the judgment of dissolution of marriage pursuant to Section 2403, irrevocably waive their respective rights to appeal and their rights to move for a new trial.

(11) The parties have read and understand the summary dissolution brochure provided for in Section 2406.

(12) The parties desire that the court dissolve the marriage.

(b) On January 1 of each odd-numbered year, the amounts in paragraph (6) of subdivision (a) shall be adjusted to reflect any change in the value of the dollar. On January 1, 1993, and on January 1 of each odd-numbered year thereafter, the amounts in paragraph (7) of subdivision (a) shall be adjusted to reflect any change in the value of the dollar. The adjustments shall be made by multiplying the base amounts by the percentage change in the California Consumer Price Index as compiled by the Department of Industrial Relations, with the result rounded to the nearest thousand dollars. The Judicial Council shall compute and publish the amounts.

2401. (a) A proceeding for summary dissolution of the marriage shall be commenced by filing a joint petition in the form prescribed by the Judicial Council.

(b) The petition shall be signed under oath by both the husband and the wife, and shall include all of the following:

(1) A statement that as of the date of the filing of the joint petition all of the conditions set forth in Section 2400 have been met.

(2) The mailing address of both the husband and the wife.

(3) A statement whether or not the wife elects to have her maiden or former name restored, and, if so, the name to be restored.

2402. (a) At any time before the filing of application for judgment pursuant to Section 2403, either party to the marriage may revoke the joint petition and thereby terminate the summary dissolution proceeding filed pursuant to this chapter.

(b) The revocation shall be effected by filing with the clerk of the court where the proceeding was commenced a notice of revocation in such form and content as shall be prescribed by the Judicial Council.

(c) The revoking party shall send a copy of the notice of revocation to the other party by first-class mail, postage prepaid, at the other party's last known address.

2403. When six months have expired from the date of the filing of the joint petition for summary dissolution, the court may, upon application of either party, enter the judgment dissolving the marriage. The judgment restores to the parties the status of single persons, and either party may marry after the entry of the judgment. The clerk shall send a notice of entry of judgment to each of the parties at the party's last known address.

2404. Entry of the judgment pursuant to Section 2403 constitutes:

(a) A final adjudication of the rights and obligations of the parties with respect to the status of the marriage and property rights.

(b) A waiver of their respective rights to spousal support, rights to appeal, and rights to move for a new trial.

2405. (a) Entry of the judgment pursuant to Section 2403 does not prejudice nor bar the rights of either of the parties to institute an action to set aside the judgment for fraud, duress, accident, mistake, or other grounds recognized at law or in equity or to make a motion pursuant to Section 473 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(b) The court shall set aside a judgment entered pursuant to Section 2403 regarding all matters except the status of the marriage, upon proof that the parties did not meet the requirements of Section 2400 at the time the petition was filed.

2406. (a) Each superior court shall make available a brochure, the contents and form of which shall be prescribed by the Judicial Council, describing the requirements, nature, and effect of proceedings under this chapter. The brochure shall be printed and distributed by the Judicial Council in both English and Spanish.

(b) The brochure shall state, in nontechnical language, all the following:

(1) It is in the best interests of the parties to consult an attorney regarding the dissolution of their marriage. The services of an attorney may be obtained through lawyer referral services, group or prepaid legal services, or legal aid organizations.

(2) The parties should not rely exclusively on this brochure which is not intended as a guide for self-representation in proceedings under this chapter.

(3) A concise summary of the provisions and procedures of this chapter and Sections 2320 and 2322 and Sections 2339 to 2344, inclusive.

(4) The nature of services of the conciliation court, where available.

(5) Neither party to the marriage can in the future obtain spousal support from the other.

(6) A statement in boldface type to the effect that upon entry of the judgment, the rights and obligations of the parties to the marriage with respect to the marriage, including property and spousal support rights, will be permanently adjudicated without right of appeal, except that neither party will be barred from instituting an action to set aside the judgment for fraud, duress, accident, mistake, or other grounds at law or in equity, or to make a motion pursuant to Section 473 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(7) The parties to the marriage retain the status of married persons and cannot remarry until the judgment dissolving the marriage is entered.

(8) Other matters as the Judicial Council considers appropriate.

DIVISION 7. DIVISION OF PROPERTY

PART 1. DEFINITIONS

2500. Unless the provision or context otherwise requires, the definitions in this part govern the construction of this division.

2501. “Community estate” includes both the community and quasi-community assets and liabilities of the parties.

2502. “Separate property” does not include quasi-community property.

PART 2. GENERAL PROVISIONS

2550. Except upon the written agreement of the parties, or on oral stipulation of the parties in open court, or as otherwise provided in this division, in a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or for legal separation of the parties, the court shall, either in its judgment of dissolution of the marriage, in its judgment of legal separation of the parties, or at a later time if it expressly reserves jurisdiction to make such a property division, divide the community estate of the parties equally.

2551. For the purposes of division and in confirming or assigning the liabilities of the parties for which the community estate is liable, the court shall characterize liabilities as separate or community and confirm or assign them to the parties in accordance with Part 6 (commencing with Section 2620).

2552. (a) For the purpose of division of the community estate upon dissolution of marriage or legal separation of the parties, except as provided in subdivision (b), the court shall value the assets and liabilities as near as practicable to the time of trial.

(b) Upon 30 days’ notice by the moving party to the other party, the court for good cause shown may value all or any portion of the assets and liabilities at a date after separation and before trial to accomplish an equal division of the community estate of the parties in an equitable manner.

2553. The court may make any orders the court considers necessary to carry out the purposes of this division.

2554. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this division, in any case in which the parties do not agree in writing to a voluntary division of the community estate of the parties, the issue of the character, the value, and the division of the community estate may be submitted by the court to arbitration for resolution pursuant to Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 1141.10) of Title 3 of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure, if the total value of the community and quasi-community property in controversy in the opinion of the court does not exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000). The decision of the court regarding the value of the community and quasi-community property for purposes of this section is not appealable.

(b) The court may submit the matter to arbitration at any time it believes the parties are unable to agree upon a division of the property.

2555. The disposition of the community estate, as provided in this division, is subject to revision on appeal in all particulars, including those which are stated to be in the discretion of the court.

2556. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal separation of the parties, the court has continuing jurisdiction to award community estate assets or community estate liabilities to the parties that has not been previously adjudicated by a judgment in the proceeding. A party may file a postjudgment motion or order to show cause in the proceeding in order to obtain adjudication of any community estate asset or liability omitted or not adjudicated by the judgment. In these cases, the court shall equally divide the omitted or unadjudicated community estate asset or liability, unless the court finds upon good cause shown that the interests of justice require an unequal division of the asset or liability.

PART 3. PRESUMPTION CONCERNING PROPERTY HELD IN JOINT FORM

2580. (a) For the purpose of division of property upon dissolution of marriage or legal separation of the parties:

(1) Property acquired by the parties during marriage on or after January 1, 1984, and before January 1, 1987, in joint tenancy form is presumed to be community property.

(2) Property acquired by the parties during marriage on or after January 1, 1987, in joint form, including property held in tenancy in common, joint tenancy, tenancy by the entirety, or as community property is presumed to be community property.

(b) The presumptions under subdivision (a) are presumptions affecting the burden of proof and may be rebutted by either of the following:

(1) A clear statement in the deed or other documentary evidence of title by which the property is acquired that the property is separate property and not community property.

(2) Proof that the parties have made a written agreement that the property is separate property.

(c) Nothing in this section affects the character of property acquired by married persons that is not described in subdivision (a).

PART 4. SPECIAL RULES FOR DIVISION OF COMMUNITY ESTATE

2600. Notwithstanding Sections 2550 to 2552, inclusive, the court may divide the community estate as provided in this part.

2601. Where economic circumstances warrant, the court may award an asset of the community estate to one party on such conditions as the court deems proper to effect a substantially equal division of the community estate.

2602. As an additional award or offset against existing property, the court may award, from a party's share, the amount the court determines to have been deliberately misappropriated by the party to the exclusion of the interest of the other party in the community estate.

2603. (a) "Community estate personal injury damages" as used in this section means all money or other property received or to be received by a person in satisfaction of a judgment for damages for the person's personal injuries or pursuant to an agreement for the settlement or compromise of a claim for the damages, if the cause of action for the damages arose during the marriage but is not separate property as described in Section 781, unless the money or other property has been commingled with other assets of the community estate.

(b) Community estate personal injury damages shall be assigned to the party who suffered the injuries unless the court, after taking into account the economic condition and needs of each party, the time that has elapsed since the recovery of the damages or the accrual of the cause of action, and all other facts of the case, determines that the interests of justice require another disposition. In such a case, the community estate personal injury damages shall be assigned to the respective parties in such proportions as the court determines to be just, except that at least one-half of the damages shall be assigned to the party who suffered the injuries.

2604. If the net value of the community estate is less than five thousand dollars ($5,000) and one party cannot be located through the exercise of reasonable diligence, the court may award all the community estate to the other party on conditions the court deems proper in its judgment of dissolution of marriage or legal separation of the parties.
PART 5. RETIREMENT PLAN BENEFITS

2610. The court shall make whatever orders are necessary or appropriate to ensure that each party receives the party’s full community property share in any retirement plan, whether public or private, including all survivor and death benefits, including, but not limited to, any of the following:

(a) Order the division of any retirement benefits payable upon or after the death of either party in a manner consistent with this division.

(b) Order a party to elect a survivor benefit annuity or other similar election for the benefit of the other party, as specified by the court, in any case in which a retirement plan provides for such an election.

(c) Order the division of accumulated community property contributions and service credit as provided in Article 1.2 (commencing with Section 21215) of Chapter 9 of Part 3 of Division 5 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(d) Order the division of community property rights in accounts with the State Teachers’ Retirement System pursuant to Chapter 7.5 (commencing with Section 22650) of Part 13 of the Education Code.

PART 6. DEBTS AND LIABILITIES

2620. The debts for which the community estate is liable which are unpaid at the time of trial, or for which the community estate becomes liable after trial, shall be confirmed or divided as provided in this part.

2621. Debts incurred by either spouse before the date of marriage shall be confirmed without offset to the spouse who incurred the debt.

2622. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), debts incurred by either spouse after the date of marriage but before the date of separation shall be divided as set forth in Sections 2550 to 2552, inclusive, and Sections 2601 to 2604, inclusive.

(b) To the extent that community debts exceed total community and quasi-community assets, the excess of debt shall be assigned as the court deems just and equitable, taking into account factors such as the parties’ relative ability to pay.

2623. Debts incurred by either spouse after the date of separation but before entry of a judgment of dissolution of marriage or legal separation of the parties shall be confirmed as follows:

(a) Debts incurred by either spouse for the common necessaries of life of either spouse or the necessaries of life of the minor children of the marriage, in the absence of a court order or written agreement for support or for the payment of these debts, shall be confirmed to either spouse according to the parties’ respective needs and abilities to pay at the time the debt was incurred.

(b) Debts incurred by either spouse for nonnecessaries of that spouse or minor children of the marriage shall be confirmed without offset to the spouse who incurred the debt.

2624. Debts incurred by either spouse after entry of a judgment of dissolution of marriage but before termination of the parties' marital status or after entry of a judgment of legal separation of the parties shall be confirmed without offset to the spouse who incurred the debt.

2625. Notwithstanding Sections 2620 to 2624, inclusive, all separate debts, including those debts incurred by a spouse during marriage and before the date of separation that were not incurred for the benefit of the community, shall be confirmed without offset to the spouse who incurred the debt.

2626. The court has jurisdiction to order reimbursement in cases it deems appropriate for debts paid after separation but before trial.

2627. Notwithstanding Sections 2550 to 2552, inclusive, and Sections 2620 to 2624, inclusive, educational loans shall be assigned pursuant to Section 2641 and liabilities subject to paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 1000 shall be assigned to the spouse whose act or omission provided the basis for the liability, without offset.

2628. The judgment of dissolution of marriage, or the judgment of legal separation of the parties, shall contain the following notice: "A debt or obligation may be assigned to one party as part of the division of property and debts, but if that party does not pay the debt or obligation, the creditor may be able to collect from the other party."

PART 7. REIMBURSEMENTS

2640. (a) "Contributions to the acquisition of the property," as used in this section, include downpayments, payments for improvements, and payments that reduce the principal of a loan used to finance the purchase or improvement of the property but do not include payments of interest on the loan or payments made for maintenance, insurance, or taxation of the property.

(b) In the division of community estate property acquired on or after January 1, 1984, by the parties during marriage unless a party has made a written waiver of the right to reimbursement or signed a writing that has the effect of a waiver, the party shall be reimbursed for the party's contributions to the acquisition of the property to the extent the party traces the contributions to a separate property source. The amount reimbursed shall be without interest or adjustment for change in monetary values and shall not exceed the net value of the property at the time of the division.

2641. (a) "Community contributions to education or training" as used in this section means payments made with community or quasi-community property for education or training or for the repayment of a loan incurred for education or training, whether the payments were made while the parties were resident in this state or resident outside this state.
(b) Subject to the limitations provided in this section, upon dissolution of marriage or legal separation of the parties:

(1) The community shall be reimbursed for community contributions to education or training of a party that substantially enhances the earning capacity of the party. The amount reimbursed shall be with interest at the legal rate, accruing from the end of the calendar year in which the contributions were made.

(2) A loan incurred during marriage for the education or training of a party shall not be included among the liabilities of the community for the purpose of division pursuant to this division but shall be assigned for payment by the party.

(c) The reimbursement and assignment required by this section shall be reduced or modified to the extent circumstances render such a disposition unjust, including, but not limited to, any of the following:

(1) The community has substantially benefited from the education, training, or loan incurred for the education or training of the party. There is a rebuttable presumption, affecting the burden of proof, that the community has not substantially benefited from community contributions to the education or training made less than 10 years before the commencement of the proceeding, and that the community has substantially benefited from community contributions to the education or training made more than 10 years before the commencement of the proceeding.

(2) The education or training received by the party is offset by the education or training received by the other party for which community contributions have been made.

(3) The education or training enables the party receiving the education or training to engage in gainful employment that substantially reduces the need of the party for support that would otherwise be required.

(d) Reimbursement for community contributions and assignment of loans pursuant to this section is the exclusive remedy of the community or a party for the education or training and any resulting enhancement of the earning capacity of a party. However, nothing in this subdivision limits consideration of the effect of the education, training, or enhancement, or the amount reimbursed pursuant to this section, on the circumstances of the parties for the purpose of an order for support pursuant to Section 4320.

(e) This section is subject to an express written agreement of the parties to the contrary.

PART 8. JOINTLY HELD SEPARATE PROPERTY

2650. In a proceeding for division of the community estate, the court has jurisdiction, at the request of either party, to divide the separate property interests of the parties in real and personal property, wherever situated and whenever acquired, held by the parties as joint tenants or tenants in common. The property shall be divided together with, and in accordance with the same procedure for and limitations on, division of community estate.

PART 9. REAL PROPERTY LOCATED IN ANOTHER STATE

2660. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), if the property subject to division includes real property situated in another state, the court shall, if possible, divide the community property and quasi-community property as provided for in this division in such a manner that it is not necessary to change the nature of the interests held in the real property situated in the other state.

(b) If it is not possible to divide the property in the manner provided for in subdivision (a), the court may do any of the following in order to effect a division of the property as provided for in this division:

1. Require the parties to execute conveyances or take other actions with respect to the real property situated in the other state as are necessary.

2. Award to the party who would have been benefited by the conveyances or other actions the money value of the interest in the property that the party would have received if the conveyances had been executed or other actions taken.

DIVISION 8. CUSTODY OF CHILDREN

PART 1. DEFINITIONS AND GENERAL PROVISIONS

CHAPTER 1. DEFINITIONS

3000. Unless the provision or context otherwise requires, the definitions in this chapter govern the construction of this division.

3002. "Joint custody" means joint physical custody and joint legal custody.

3003. "Joint legal custody" means that both parents shall share the right and the responsibility to make the decisions relating to the health, education, and welfare of a child.

3004. "Joint physical custody" means that each of the parents shall have significant periods of physical custody. Joint physical custody shall be shared by the parents in such a way so as to assure a child of frequent and continuing contact with both parents.

3006. "Sole legal custody" means that one parent shall have the right and the responsibility to make the decisions relating to the health, education, and welfare of a child.

3007. "Sole physical custody" means that a child shall reside with and be under the supervision of one parent, subject to the power of the court to order visitation.
3010. (a) The mother of an unemancipated minor child is entitled to the custody, services, and earnings of the child.
   (b) The father of the unemancipated minor child, if presumed to be the father under Section 7611, is equally entitled to the custody, services, and earnings of the child.
   (c) If either the father or mother is dead or unable or refuses to take the custody or has abandoned his or her family, the other is entitled to the custody, services, and earnings of the unemancipated minor child.

3011. A parent entitled to the custody of a child has a right to change the residence of the child, subject to the power of the court to restrain a removal that would prejudice the rights or welfare of the child.

3012. The parent, as such, has no control over the property of the child.

3013. The employer of a minor shall pay the earnings of the minor to the minor until the parent or guardian entitled to the earnings gives the employer notice that the parent or guardian claims the earnings.

3014. The parent, whether solvent or insolvent, may relinquish to the child the right of controlling the child and receiving the child's earnings. Abandonment by the parent is presumptive evidence of that relinquishment.

3015. The authority of a parent ceases upon any of the following:
   (a) The appointment, by a court, of a guardian of the person of the child.
   (b) The marriage of the child.
   (c) The child attaining the age of majority.

3016. Where a child, after attaining the age of majority, continues to serve and to be supported by the parent, neither party is entitled to compensation, in the absence of an agreement for the compensation.

3017. An order awarding custody to a parent who is receiving, or in the opinion of the court is likely to receive, assistance pursuant to the Family Economic Security Act of 1982 (Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 11200) of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code) for the maintenance of the child shall include an order pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 4000) of Part 2 of Division 9, directing the noncustodial parent to pay any amount necessary for the support of the child, to the extent of the noncustodial parent's ability to pay.

3018. The abuse of parental authority is the subject of judicial cognizance in a civil action brought by the child, or by the child's relative within the third degree, or by the supervisors of the county where the child resides; and when the abuse is established, the child may be freed from the dominion of the parent, and the duty of support and education enforced.
PART 2. RIGHT TO CUSTODY OF MINOR CHILD

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

3020. The Legislature finds and declares that it is the public policy of this state to assure minor children frequent and continuing contact with both parents after the parents have separated or dissolved their marriage, and to encourage parents to share the rights and responsibilities of child rearing in order to effect this policy, except where the contact would not be in the best interest of the child, as set forth in Section 3022.

3021. In any proceeding where there is at issue the custody of a minor child, the court may, during the pendency of the proceeding or at any time thereafter, make such order for the custody of the child during minority as may seem necessary or proper.

3022. In making a determination of the best interest of the child in a proceeding under this division, the court shall, among any other factors it finds relevant, consider all of the following:

(a) The health, safety, and welfare of the child.
(b) Any history of abuse by one parent against the child or against the other parent. As a prerequisite to the consideration of allegations of abuse, the court may require substantial independent corroboration including, but not limited to, written reports by law enforcement agencies, child protective services or other social welfare agencies, courts, medical facilities, or other public agencies or private nonprofit organizations providing services to victims of sexual assault or domestic violence. As used in this subdivision, "abuse against the child" means child abuse as defined in Section 11165.5 of the Penal Code and "abuse against the other parent" means abuse as defined in Section 55 of this code.
(c) The nature and amount of contact with both parents.

3023. (a) In any case in which a contested issue of custody of a minor child is the sole contested issue, the case shall be given preference over other civil cases, except matters to which special precedence may be given by law, for assigning a trial date and shall be given an early hearing.
(b) In any case in which there is more than one contested issue and one of the issues is the custody of a minor child, the court, as to the issue of custody, shall order a separate trial. The separate trial shall be given preference over other civil cases, except matters to which special precedence may be given by law, for assigning a trial date.

3024. In making an order for custody, if the court does not consider it inappropriate, the court may specify that a parent shall notify the other parent if the parent plans to change the residence of the child for more than 30 days, unless there is prior written agreement to the removal. The notice shall be given before the contemplated move, by mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, to the last known address of the parent to be notified. A copy of the notice shall also be sent to that parent's counsel of record. To the extent feasible, the notice shall be provided within a minimum of 45 days before the proposed change of residence so as to allow time for mediation of a new agreement concerning custody. This section does not affect orders made before January 1, 1989.

3025. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, access to records and information pertaining to a minor child, including, but not limited to, medical, dental, and school records, shall not be denied to a parent because that parent is not the child's custodial parent.

3026. Family reunification services shall not be ordered as a part of a child custody or visitation rights proceeding brought under this code. Nothing in this section affects the applicability of Section 16507 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

3027. (a) If a court determines that an accusation of child abuse or neglect made during a child custody proceeding under this code is false and the person making the accusation knew it to be false at the time the accusation was made, the court may impose reasonable money sanctions, not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) and reasonable attorney's fees incurred in recovering the sanctions, against the person making the accusation. For the purposes of this section, "person" includes a witness, a party, or a party's attorney.

(b) Upon motion by any person requesting sanctions under this section, the court shall issue its order to show cause why the requested sanctions should not be imposed. The order to show cause shall be served upon the person against whom the sanctions are sought and a hearing thereon shall be scheduled by the court to be conducted at least 15 days after the order is served.

(c) The remedy provided by this section is in addition to any other remedy provided by law.

3028. (a) The court may order financial compensation for periods when a parent fails to assume the caretaker responsibility or when a parent has been thwarted by the other parent when attempting to exercise visitation or custody rights contemplated by a custody or visitation order entered under this code, including, but not limited to, an order for joint physical custody, or by a written or oral agreement between the parents.

(b) The compensation shall be limited to (1) the reasonable expenses incurred for or on behalf of a child, resulting from the other parent's failure to assume caretaker responsibility or (2) the reasonable expenses incurred by a parent for or on behalf of a child, resulting from the other parent's thwarting of the parent's efforts to exercise visitation or custody rights. The expenses may include the value of caretaker services but are not limited to the cost of services provided by a third party during the relevant period.

(c) The compensation may be requested by noticed motion or an order to show cause, which shall allege, under penalty of perjury, (1) a minimum of one hundred dollars ($100) of expenses incurred or (2) at least three occurrences of failure to exercise visitation or custody rights or (3) at least three occurrences of the thwarting of efforts to exercise visitation or custody rights within the six months before filing of the motion or order.

(d) Attorney’s fees shall be awarded to the prevailing party upon a showing of the nonprevailing party’s ability to pay.

CHAPTER 2. MATTERS TO BE CONSIDERED IN AWARDING CUSTODY

3040. (a) Custody should be awarded in the following order of preference according to the best interest of the child pursuant to Section 3022:

(1) To both parents jointly pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 3080) or to either parent. In making an order for custody to either parent, the court shall consider, among other factors, which parent is more likely to allow the child frequent and continuing contact with the noncustodial parent, subject to Section 3022, and shall not prefer a parent as custodian because of that parent’s sex. The court, in its discretion, may require the parents to submit to the court a plan for the implementation of the custody order.

(2) If to neither parent, to the person or persons in whose home the child has been living in a wholesome and stable environment.

(3) To any other person or persons deemed by the court to be suitable and able to provide adequate and proper care and guidance for the child.

(b) This section establishes neither a preference nor a presumption for or against joint legal custody, joint physical custody, or sole custody, but allows the court and the family the widest discretion to choose a parenting plan which is in the best interest of the child.

3041. Before making an order awarding custody to a person or persons other than a parent, without the consent of the parents, the court shall make a finding that an award of custody to a parent would be detrimental to the child and the award to a nonparent is required to serve the best interest of the child. Allegations that parental custody would be detrimental to the child, other than a statement of that ultimate fact, shall not appear in the pleadings. The court may, in its discretion, exclude the public from the hearing on this issue.

3042. If a child is of sufficient age and capacity to reason so as to form an intelligent preference as to custody, the court shall consider and give due weight to the wishes of the child in making an award of custody or modification thereof.

3043. In determining the person or persons to whom custody should be awarded under paragraph (2) or (3) of subdivision (a) of Section 3040, the court shall consider and give due weight to the nomination of a guardian of the person of the child by a parent under Article 1 (commencing with Section 1500) of Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 4 of the Probate Code.
3044. No parent shall be awarded custody of, or unsupervised visitation with, a child if the parent has been convicted under Section 273a, 273d, or 647.6 of the Penal Code unless the court finds that there is no significant risk to the child.

CHAPTER 3. TEMPORARY CUSTODY ORDER DURING PENDENCY OF PROCEEDING

3060. In any proceeding for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal separation of the parties, where there are minor children of the marriage, and in any action for exclusive custody under Section 3120, a petition for a temporary custody order containing the statement required by Section 3409 may be included with the initial filing of the petition or action or may be filed at any time thereafter.

3061. If the parties have agreed to or reached an understanding on the custody or temporary custody of their children, a copy of the agreement or an affidavit as to their understanding shall be attached to the petition or action. As promptly as possible after this filing, the court shall, except in exceptional circumstances, enter an order awarding temporary custody in accordance with the agreement or understanding or in accordance with any stipulation of the parties.

3062. (a) In the absence of an agreement, understanding, or stipulation, the court may, if jurisdiction is appropriate, enter an ex parte temporary custody order, set a hearing date within 20 days, and issue an order to show cause on the responding party. If the responding party does not appear or respond within the time set, the temporary custody order may be extended as necessary, pending the termination of the proceedings.

(b) If, despite good faith efforts, service of the ex parte order and order to show cause has not been effected in a timely fashion and there is reason to believe, based on an affidavit, or other manner of proof made under penalty of perjury, by the petitioner, that the responding party has possession of the minor child and seeks to avoid the jurisdiction of the court or is concealing the whereabouts of the child, then the hearing date may be reset and the ex parte order extended up to an additional 90 days. After service has been effected, either party may request ex parte that the hearing date be advanced or the ex parte order be dissolved or modified.

3063. In conjunction with any ex parte order seeking or modifying an order of custody, the court shall enter an order restraining the person receiving custody from removing the child from the state pending notice and a hearing on the order seeking or modifying custody.

3064. The court shall refrain from making an order granting or modifying a custody order on an ex parte basis unless there has been a showing of immediate harm to the child or immediate risk that the child will be removed from the State of California. “Immediate harm to the child” includes having a parent who has committed acts of domestic violence, where the court determines that the acts of domestic violence are of recent origin or are a part of a demonstrated and continuing pattern of acts of domestic violence.

CHAPTER 4. JOIN T CUSTODY

3080. There is a presumption, affecting the burden of proof, that joint custody is in the best interest of a minor child, subject to Section 3022, where the parents have agreed to an award of joint custody or so agree in open court at a hearing for the purpose of determining the custody of a minor child of the marriage.

3081. Upon the application of either parent, joint custody may be awarded in the discretion of the court in other cases, subject to Section 3022. For the purpose of assisting the court in making a determination whether an award of joint custody is appropriate under this section, the court may direct that an investigation be conducted pursuant to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 3110).

3082. When a request for joint custody is granted or denied, the court, upon the request of any party, shall state in its decision the reasons for granting or denying the request. A statement that joint physical custody is, or is not, in the best interest of the child is not sufficient to satisfy the requirements of this section.

3083. In making an order of joint legal custody, the court shall specify the circumstances under which the consent of both parents is required to be obtained in order to exercise legal control of the child and the consequences of the failure to obtain mutual consent. In all other circumstances, either parent acting alone may exercise legal control of the child. An order of joint legal custody shall not be construed to permit an action that is inconsistent with the physical custody order unless the action is expressly authorized by the court.

3084. In making an order of joint physical custody, the court shall specify the rights of each parent to physical control of the child in sufficient detail to enable a parent deprived of that control to implement laws for relief of child snatching and kidnapping.

3085. In making an order for custody with respect to both parents, the court may award joint legal custody without awarding joint physical custody.

3086. In making an order of joint physical custody or joint legal custody, the court may specify one parent as the primary caretaker of the child and one home as the primary home of the child, for the purposes of determining eligibility for public assistance.

3087. An order for joint custody may be modified or terminated upon the petition of one or both parents or on the court’s own motion if it is shown that the best interest of the child requires modification or termination of the order. If either parent opposes the modification or termination order, the court shall state in its decision the reasons for modification or termination of the joint custody order.

3088. An order for the custody of a minor child of a marriage entered by a court in this state or any other state may, subject to the jurisdictional requirements set forth in Sections 3403 and 3414, be modified at any time to an order of joint custody in accordance with this chapter.

3089. In counties having a conciliation court, the court or the parties may, at any time, pursuant to local rules of court, consult with the conciliation court for the purpose of assisting the parties to formulate a plan for implementation of the custody order or to resolve a controversy which has arisen in the implementation of a plan for custody.

CHAPTER 5. VISITATION RIGHTS

3100. (a) Subject to Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 3155), in making an order pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 3080), the court shall order reasonable visitation rights to a parent unless it is shown that the visitation would be detrimental to the best interest of the child. In the discretion of the court, reasonable visitation rights may be granted to any other person having an interest in the welfare of the child.

(b) In making an award authorizing visitation pursuant to this section, if a domestic violence prevention order has been directed to a parent, the court shall consider whether the best interest of the child requires that any visitation granted to that parent shall be limited to situations in which a third person, specified by the court, is present. The court shall include in its deliberations a consideration of the nature of the acts from which the parent was enjoined and the period of time that has elapsed since that order. A parent may submit the name of a person to the court that the parent deems suitable to be present during visitation.

3101. (a) In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal separation of the parties, the court has jurisdiction to award reasonable visitation rights to any of the following persons if visitation by the person is determined to be in the best interest of the minor child:

(1) A person who is a party to the marriage that is the subject of the proceeding with respect to a minor child of the other party to the marriage.

(2) A person who is a grandparent of a minor child of a party to the marriage.

(b) There is a rebuttable presumption affecting the burden of proof that the visitation of a grandparent is not in the best interest of a minor child if the parties to the marriage agree that the grandparent should not be awarded visitation rights.

(c) Visitation rights granted to a stepparent or grandparent pursuant to this section shall not conflict with any visitation or custodial right of a natural or adoptive parent who is not a party to the proceeding.

(d) In making an award of visitation pursuant to this section, if a domestic violence prevention order has been directed to a stepparent or grandparent during the pendency of the proceeding, the court shall consider whether the best interest of the child requires that any visitation by that stepparent or grandparent should be denied.

3102. (a) If either the father or mother of an unemancipated minor child is deceased, the children, parents, and the grandparents of the deceased father or mother may be granted reasonable visitation rights to the minor child during the child's minority upon a finding that the visitation rights would be in the best interest of the minor child.

(b) In granting visitation rights to a person other than the parents of the deceased father or mother, the court shall consider the amount of personal contact between the person and the minor child before the application for the order granting the person visitation rights.

(c) This section does not apply if the child has been adopted by a person other than a stepparent or grandparent. Any visitation rights granted pursuant to this section before the adoption of the child automatically terminate upon the adoption of the child by a person other than a stepparent or grandparent.

CHAPTER 6. CUSTODY INVESTIGATION AND REPORT

3110. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal separation of the parties, when so directed by the court, the probation officer, domestic relations investigator, or court appointed evaluator shall conduct a custody investigation and file a written confidential report on it. The report may be considered by the court and shall be made available only to the parties or their attorneys at least 10 days before any hearing regarding the custody of a child. The report may be received in evidence upon stipulation of all interested parties.

3111. Where there has been a history of domestic violence between the parties, or where a domestic violence prevention order is in effect, at the request of the party alleging domestic violence in a written declaration under penalty of perjury or at the request of a party who is protected by the order, the parties shall meet with the probation officer, domestic relations investigator, or court appointed evaluator separately at separate times.

3112. When the probation officer, domestic relations investigator, or court appointed evaluator is directed by the court to conduct a custody investigation or to undertake visitation work, including necessary evaluation, supervision, and reporting, the court shall make inquiry into the financial condition of the parent, guardian, or other person charged with the support and maintenance of the minor, and if the court finds the parent, guardian, or other person able, in whole or in part, to pay the expense of the investigation, report, and recommendation, the court may make an order requiring that parent, guardian, or other person to repay to the county that part, or all, of the expense of investigation, report, and recommendation as, in the opinion of the court, is proper. The repayment shall be made to the county officer designated by the board of supervisors, who shall keep suitable accounts of these expenses and repayments and shall deposit these collections in the county treasury.

3113. Nothing in this chapter prohibits the probation officer, domestic relations investigator, or court appointed evaluator from recommending to the court that counsel be appointed pursuant to Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 3150) to represent the minor child. In making that recommendation, the probation officer, domestic relations investigator, or court appointed evaluator shall inform the court of the reasons why it would be in the best interest of the minor child to have counsel appointed.

CHAPTER 7. ACTION FOR EXCLUSIVE CUSTODY

3120. Without filing a petition for dissolution of marriage or legal separation of the parties, the husband or wife may bring an action for the exclusive custody of the children of the marriage. The court may, during the pendency of the action, or at the final hearing thereof, or afterwards, make such order regarding the support, care, custody, education, and control of the children of the marriage as may be just and in accordance with the natural rights of the parents and the best interest of the children. The order may be modified or terminated at any time thereafter as the natural rights of the parties and the best interest of the children may require.

CHAPTER 8. LOCATION OF MISSING PARTY OR CHILD

3130. If a petition to determine custody of a child has been filed in a court of competent jurisdiction, or if a temporary order pending determination of custody has been entered in accordance with Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 3060), and the whereabouts of a party in possession of the child are not known, or there is reason to believe that the party may not appear in the proceedings although ordered to appear personally with the child pursuant to Section 3411, the district attorney shall take all actions necessary to locate the party and the child and to procure compliance with the order to appear with the child for purposes of adjudication of custody. The petition to determine custody may be filed by the district attorney.

3131. If a custody or visitation order has been entered by a court of competent jurisdiction and the child is taken or detained by another person in violation of the order, the district attorney shall take all actions necessary to locate and return the child and the person who violated the order and to assist in the enforcement of the custody or visitation order or other order of the court by use of an appropriate civil or criminal proceeding.

3132. In performing the functions described in Sections 3130 and 3131, the district attorney shall act on behalf of the court and shall not represent any party to the custody proceedings.

3133. If the district attorney represents to the court, by a written declaration under penalty of perjury, that a temporary custody order is needed to recover a child who is being detained or concealed in violation of a court order or a parent's right to custody, the court may issue an order, placing temporary sole physical custody in the parent or person recommended by the district attorney to facilitate the return of the child to the jurisdiction of the court, pending further hearings. If the court determines that it is not in the best interest of the child to place temporary sole physical custody in the parent or person recommended by the district attorney, the court shall appoint a person to take charge of the child and return the child to the jurisdiction of the court.

3134. (a) When the district attorney incurs expenses pursuant to this chapter, including expenses incurred in a sister state, payment of the expenses may be advanced by the county subject to reimbursement by the state, and shall be audited by the Controller and paid by the State Treasury according to law.

(b) The court in which the custody proceeding is pending or which has continuing jurisdiction shall, if appropriate, allocate liability for the reimbursement of actual expenses incurred by the district attorney to either or both parties to the proceedings, and that allocation shall constitute a judgment for the state for the funds advanced pursuant to this section. The county shall take reasonable action to enforce that liability and shall transmit all recovered funds to the state.

CHAPTER 9. CHECK TO DETERMINE WHETHER CHILD IS MISSING PERSON

3140. (a) Subject to subdivisions (b) and (c), before granting or modifying a custody order in a case in which one or both parents of the child have not appeared either personally or by counsel, the court shall require the parent, petitioner, or other party appearing in the case to submit a certified copy of the child's birth certificate to the court. The court or its designee shall forward the certified copy of the birth certificate to the local police or sheriff's department which shall check with the National Crime Information Center Missing Person System to ascertain whether the child has been reported missing or is the victim of an abduction and shall report the results of the check to the court.

(b) If the custody matter before the court also involves a petition for the dissolution of marriage or the adjudication of paternity rights or duties, this section applies only to a case in which there is no proof of personal service of the petition on the absent parent.

(c) For good cause shown, the court may waive the requirements of this section.
CHAPTER 10. APPOINTMENT OF COUNSEL TO REPRESENT CHILD

3150. (a) In an initial or subsequent proceeding for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal separation of the parties where there is in issue the custody of or visitation with a minor child, the court may, if it determines it would be in the best interest of the minor child, appoint private counsel to represent the interests of the minor child.

(b) Counsel, upon entering an appearance on behalf of a minor pursuant to this chapter, shall continue to represent that minor unless relieved by the court upon the substitution of other counsel by the court or for cause.

3151. (a) The child's counsel appointed under this chapter is charged with the representation of the child's interests. The counsel's duties, unless under the circumstances it is inappropriate to exercise the duty, include interviewing the child, reviewing the court files and all accessible relevant records available to both parties, and making any further investigations as the counsel considers necessary to ascertain facts relevant to the custody or visitation hearings. Counsel may introduce and examine counsel's own witnesses, present arguments to the court concerning the child's welfare, and participate further in the proceeding to the degree necessary to represent the child adequately.

(b) Counsel shall have the following rights when ordered by the court:

(1) Reasonable access to the child with adequate notice.
(2) Notice of any proceeding, including a request for examinations, affecting the child.
(3) Access to medical and school records for the child.
(4) The right to veto any physical or psychological examination or evaluation, for purposes of the proceeding, which has not been ordered by the court.
(5) The right to assert on behalf of the child any privilege for discovery purposes.
(6) The right to seek independent psychological or physical examination or evaluation of the child for purposes of the pending proceeding, upon application to the court.

3152. (a) The child's counsel may, upon noticed motion to all parties and the local child protective services agency, request the court to authorize release of relevant reports or files, concerning the child represented by the counsel, of the relevant local child protective services agency.

(b) The court shall review the reports or files in camera in order to determine whether they are relevant to the pending action and whether and to what extent they should be released to the child's counsel.

(c) Neither the review by the court nor the release to counsel shall constitute a waiver of the confidentiality of the reports and files. Counsel shall not disclose the contents or existence of the reports or files to anyone unless otherwise permitted by law.

3153. (a) If the court appoints counsel under this chapter to represent the child, counsel shall receive a reasonable sum for compensation and expenses, the amount of which shall be determined by the court. Except as provided in subdivision (b), this amount shall be paid by the parties in the proportions the court deems just.

(b) Upon its own motion or that of a party, the court shall determine whether both parties together are financially unable to pay all or a portion of the cost of counsel appointed pursuant to this chapter, and the portion of the cost of that counsel which the court finds the parties are unable to pay shall be paid by the county. The Judicial Council shall adopt guidelines to assist in determining financial eligibility for county payment of counsel appointed by the court pursuant to this chapter.

CHAPTER 11. MEDIATION OF VISITATION OR CUSTODY ISSUES

3155. Each superior court shall make available a mediator. The mediator may be a member of the professional staff of a family conciliation court, probation department, or mental health services agency, or may be any other person or agency designated by the court. In order to provide mediation services, the court is not required to institute a family conciliation court. The mediator shall meet the minimum qualifications required of a counselor of conciliation as provided in Section 1815.

3156. Mediation proceedings under this chapter shall be held in private and shall be confidential. All communications, verbal or written, from the parties to the mediator made in a proceeding pursuant to this chapter are deemed to be official information within the meaning of Section 1040 of the Evidence Code.

3157. In mediation proceedings under this chapter, the mediator has the duty to assess the needs and interests of the child involved in the controversy and is entitled to interview the child when the mediator considers the interview appropriate or necessary.

3158. The mediator has authority to exclude counsel from participation in the mediation proceedings under this chapter where, in the discretion of the mediator, exclusion of counsel is deemed by the mediator to be appropriate or necessary.

3159. (a) The mediator may, consistent with local court rules, submit a recommendation to the court as to the custody or visitation of the child.

(b) The mediator may, in cases where the parties have not reached agreement as a result of the mediation proceedings, recommend to the court that an investigation be conducted, or that other action be taken, to assist the parties to effect a resolution of the controversy before any hearing on the issues. If the mediation is pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 3170), the investigation shall be conducted pursuant to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 3110).

(c) The mediator may, in appropriate cases, recommend that restraining orders be issued, pending determination of the controversy, to protect the well-being of the child involved in the controversy.

3160. (a) An agreement reached by the parties as a result of mediation shall be reported to counsel for the parties by the mediator on the day set for mediation or as soon thereafter as practical, but before its being reported to the court.

(b) No agreement shall be confirmed or otherwise incorporated in an order of the court unless each party, in person or by counsel of record, has affirmed and assented to the agreement in open court or by written stipulation. The agreement also may be so confirmed or incorporated if a party fails to appear at a noticed hearing on the issue involved in the agreement.

3161. (a) Mediation of cases involving custody and visitation concerning children shall be governed by uniform standards of practice adopted by the Judicial Council.

(b) The standards of practice shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following:

1. Provision for the best interest of the child and the safeguarding of the rights of the child to frequent and continuing contact with both parents.

2. Facilitation of the transition of the family by detailing factors to be considered in decisions concerning the child’s future.

3. The conducting of negotiations in such a way as to equalize power relationships between the parties.

(c) In adopting the standards of practice, the Judicial Council shall consider standards developed by recognized associations of mediators and attorneys and other relevant standards governing mediation of proceedings for the dissolution of marriage.

(d) The Judicial Council shall offer training with respect to the standards to mediators.

3162. Courts shall develop local rules to respond to requests for a change of mediators or to general problems relating to mediation.

Article 2. Mediation of Contested Custody or Visitation

3170. In a proceeding where the custody of, or visitation with, a minor child is at issue (including, but not limited to, a proceeding where a temporary custody order is sought) and it appears on the face of the petition or other application for an order or modification of an order for the custody or visitation of the child that either or both these issues are contested, the matter shall be set for mediation of the contested issues before or concurrent with the setting of the matter for hearing.

3171. Upon the adoption of a resolution by the board of supervisors authorizing the procedure, a petition also may be filed pursuant to this chapter for the mediation of a dispute relating to an existing order for custody or visitation. The mediation of a dispute concerning an existing order shall be set not later than 60 days after the filing of the petition.

3172. The purpose of the mediation proceeding is to reduce acrimony which may exist between the parties and to develop an agreement assuring the child such close and continuing contact with both parents as is in the best interest of the child. The mediator shall use best efforts to effect a settlement of the custody or visitation dispute that is in the best interest of the child, consistent with the considerations required by Section 3022.

3173. Mediation shall not be denied to the parties on the basis that paternity is an issue in a proceeding before the court.

3174. Nothing in this chapter prohibits the mediator from recommending to the court that counsel be appointed pursuant to Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 3150) to represent the minor child. In making that recommendation, the mediator shall inform the court of the reasons why it would be in the best interest of the minor child to have counsel appointed.

3175. (a) An agreement reached by the parties as a result of mediation shall be limited to the resolution of issues relating to parenting plans, custody, or visitation, or a combination thereof.

(b) The custody or visitation agreement may be modified at any time at the discretion of the court, subject to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 3020), Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 3040), Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 3080), and Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 3100).

3176. The mediator has the authority to meet with the parties separately when a request for separate mediation is made by one of the parties in any proceeding where there has been a history of domestic violence between the parties.

3177. (a) In a proceeding in which mediation is required pursuant to this chapter, where there has been a history of domestic violence between the parties or where a domestic violence prevention order is in effect, at the request of the party alleging domestic violence or protected by the order, the parties shall meet with the mediator appointed pursuant to this chapter separately at separate times.

(b) Any intake form that an agency charged with providing family court services may require the parties to complete before the commencement of mediation shall include a provision which indicates that at the request of a party alleging domestic violence in a written declaration under penalty of perjury or at the request of a party who is protected by the order, the parties shall meet with the mediator appointed pursuant to this chapter separately at separate times.
Article 3. Mediation of Stepparent or Grandparent Visitation

3180. (a) If a stepparent or grandparent has petitioned or otherwise applied for an order of reasonable visitation rights pursuant to Section 3101 or 3102, the court shall set the matter of visitation rights for mediation. The purpose of the mediation is to effect a settlement of the issue of visitation rights of all parties that is in the best interest of the child.

(b) A natural or adoptive parent who is not a party to the proceeding is not required to participate in the mediation proceeding, but failure to participate is a waiver of that parent’s right to object to any settlement reached by the other parties during mediation or to require a hearing on the matter.

3181. (a) An agreement reached by the parties as a result of mediation shall be limited to the resolution of issues relating to visitation.

(b) The agreement may be modified at any time at the discretion of the court, subject to Sections 3101 and 3102.

3182. If the issue of visitation rights of all parties is not settled by agreement of all parties who participate in mediation, the mediator shall so inform the court in writing and the court shall set the matter of visitation rights for hearing. Each natural or adoptive parent and the stepparent or grandparent seeking visitation rights shall be given an opportunity to appear and be heard on that issue.

3183. Notice of mediation and of any hearing to be held pursuant to this article shall be given to the stepparent or grandparent seeking visitation rights, to each of the parents of the child, and to each counsel of record of each of the parents in any proceeding for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal separation of the parties. The notice shall be given by certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, to the last known address of each of the parents and the parent’s counsel.

CHAPTER 12. COUNSELING OF PARENTS AND CHILD

3190. (a) In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal separation of the parties, where custody of, or visitation with, a minor child is at issue, the court may require the parents of the child who are involved in the custody or visitation dispute, and the minor child, to participate in outpatient counseling with a licensed mental health professional, or through other community programs and services that provide appropriate counseling, including, but not limited to, mental health or substance abuse services, for not more than six months if the court finds both of the following:

(1) The dispute between the parents or between a parent and the child poses a substantial danger to the best interest of the child.
(2) The counseling is in the best interest of the child.

(b) The court shall fix the cost and shall order the entire cost of the services to be borne by the parties in the proportions the court deems reasonable.

(c) The court, in its finding, shall set forth reasons why it has found both of the following:

(1) The dispute poses a substantial danger to the best interest of the child and the counseling is in the best interest of the child.

(2) The financial burden created by the court order for counseling does not otherwise jeopardize a party's other financial obligations.

(d) The court shall not order the parties to return to court upon the completion of counseling. Either party may file a new order to show cause or motion after counseling has been completed, and the court may again order counseling consistent with this chapter.

3191. The counseling pursuant to this chapter shall be specifically designed to facilitate communication between the parties regarding their minor child's best interest, to reduce conflict regarding visitation or custody, and to improve the quality of parenting skills of each parent.

3192. In a proceeding in which counseling is ordered pursuant to this chapter, where there has been a history of domestic violence between the parties or where a domestic violence prevention order is in effect, at the request of a party alleging domestic violence in a written declaration under penalty of perjury or at the request of a party who is protected by the order, the parties shall meet with the mental health professional, or attend other community programs or services, separately at separate times.

PART 3. UNIFORM CHILD CUSTODY JURISDICTION ACT

3400. This part may be cited as the Uniform Child Custody Jurisdiction Act.

3401. (a) The general purposes of this part are to:

(1) Avoid jurisdiction competition and conflict with courts of other states in matters of child custody which have in the past resulted in the shifting of children from state to state with harmful effects on their well-being.

(2) Promote cooperation with the courts of other states to the end that a custody decree is rendered in that state which can best decide the case in the interest of the child.

(3) Assure that litigation concerning the custody of a child take place ordinarily in the state with which the child and the child's family have the closest connection and where significant evidence concerning the child's care, protection, training, and personal relationships is most readily available, and that courts of this state decline the exercise of jurisdiction when the child and the child's family have a closer connection with another state.

(4) Discourage continuing controversies over child custody in the interest of greater stability of home environment and of secure family relationships for the child.
(5) Deter abductions and other unilateral removals of children undertaken to obtain custody awards.
(6) Avoid relitigation of custody decisions of other states in this state insofar as feasible.
(7) Facilitate the enforcement of custody decrees of other states.
(8) Promote and expand the exchange of information and other forms of mutual assistance between the courts of this state and those of other states concerned with the same child.
(b) This part shall be construed to promote the general purposes stated in this section.

3402. As used in this part:
(a) "Contestant" means a person, including a parent, who claims a right to custody or visitation rights with respect to a child.
(b) "Custody determination" means a court decision and court orders and instructions providing for the custody of a child, including visitation rights; it does not include a decision relating to child support or any other monetary obligation of any person.
(c) "Custody proceeding" includes proceedings in which a custody determination is one of several issues, such as a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or for legal separation of the parties, and includes child neglect and dependency proceedings.
(d) "Decree" or "custody decree" means a custody determination contained in a judicial decree or order made in a custody proceeding, and includes an initial decree and a modification decree.
(e) "Home state" means the state in which the child immediately preceding the time involved lived with the child’s parents, a parent, or a person acting as parent, for at least six consecutive months, and in the case of a child less than six months old the state in which the child lived from birth with any of the persons mentioned. Periods of temporary absence of any of the named persons are counted as part of the six-month or other period.
(f) "Initial decree" means the first custody decree concerning a particular child.
(g) "Modification decree" means a custody decree which modifies or replaces a prior decree, whether made by the court which rendered the prior decree or by another court.
(h) "Physical custody" means actual possession and control of a child.
(i) "Person acting as parent" means a person, other than a parent, who has physical custody of a child and who has either been awarded custody by the court or claims a right to custody.
(j) "State" means any state, territory, or possession of the United States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia.

3403. (a) A court of this state which is competent to decide child custody matters has jurisdiction to make a child custody determination by initial or modification decree if the conditions as set forth in any of the following paragraphs are met:
(1) This state (A) is the home state of the child at the time of commencement of the proceeding, or (B) had been the child’s home state within six months before commencement of the proceeding and the child is absent from this state because of removal or retention by a person claiming custody of the child or for other reasons, and a parent or person acting as parent continues to live in this state.

(2) It is in the best interest of the child that a court of this state assume jurisdiction because (A) the child and the child’s parents, or the child and at least one contestant, have a significant connection with this state, and (B) there is available in this state substantial evidence concerning the child’s present or future care, protection, training, and personal relationships.

(3) The child is physically present in this state and (A) the child has been abandoned or (B) it is necessary in an emergency to protect the child because the child has been subjected to or threatened with mistreatment or abuse or is otherwise neglected or dependent.

(4) (A) It appears that no other state would have jurisdiction under prerequisites substantially in accordance with paragraphs (1), (2), and (3), or another state has declined to exercise jurisdiction on the ground that this state is the more appropriate forum to determine the custody of the child, and (B) it is in the best interest of the child that this court assume jurisdiction.

(b) Except under paragraphs (3) and (4) of subdivision (a), physical presence in this state of the child, or of the child and one of the contestants, is not alone sufficient to confer jurisdiction on a court of this state to make a child custody determination.

(c) Physical presence of the child, while desirable, is not a prerequisite for jurisdiction to determine the custody of the child.

3404. Before making a decree under this part, reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard shall be given to the contestants, any parent whose parental rights have not been previously terminated, and any person who has physical custody of the child. If any of these persons is outside this state, notice and opportunity to be heard shall be given pursuant to Section 3405.

3405. (a) Notice required for the exercise of jurisdiction over a person outside this state shall be given in a manner reasonably calculated to give actual notice, and may be made in any of the following ways:

(1) By personal delivery outside this state in the manner prescribed for service of process within this state.

(2) In the manner prescribed by the law of the place in which the service is made for service of process in that place in an action in any of its courts of general jurisdiction.

(3) By any form of mail addressed to the person to be served and requesting a receipt.

(4) As directed by the court (including publication, if other means of notification are ineffective).

(b) Notice under this section shall be served, mailed, delivered, or last published at least 10 days before any hearing in this state.
(c) Proof of service outside this state may be made by affidavit of the individual who made the service, or in the manner prescribed by the law of this state, the order pursuant to which the service is made, or the law of the place in which the service is made. If service is made by mail, proof may be a receipt signed by the addressee or other evidence of delivery to the addressee.

(d) Notice is not required if a person submits to the jurisdiction of the court.

3406. (a) A court of this state shall not exercise its jurisdiction under this part if at the time of filing the petition a proceeding concerning the custody of the child was pending in a court of another state exercising jurisdiction substantially in conformity with this part, unless the proceeding is stayed by the court of the other state because this state is a more appropriate forum or for other reasons.

(b) Before hearing the petition in a custody proceeding, the court shall examine the pleadings and other information supplied by the parties under Section 3410 and shall consult the child custody registry established under Section 3417 concerning the pendency of proceedings with respect to the child in other states. If the court has reason to believe that proceedings may be pending in another state, it shall direct an inquiry to the state court administrator or other appropriate official of the other state.

(c) If the court is informed during the course of the proceeding that a proceeding concerning the custody of the child was pending in another state before the court assumed jurisdiction, it shall stay the proceeding and communicate with the court in which the other proceeding is pending to the end that the issue may be litigated in the more appropriate forum and that information be exchanged in accordance with Sections 3420 to 3423, inclusive. If a court of this state has made a custody decree before being informed of a pending proceeding in a court of another state, it shall immediately inform that court of the fact. If the court is informed that a proceeding was commenced in another state after it assumed jurisdiction, it shall likewise inform the other court to the end that the issues may be litigated in the more appropriate forum.

3407. (a) A court which has jurisdiction under this part to make an initial or modification decree may decline to exercise its jurisdiction any time before making a decree if it finds that it is an inconvenient forum to make a custody determination under the circumstances of the case and that a court of another state is a more appropriate forum.

(b) A finding of inconvenient forum may be made upon the court’s own motion or upon motion of a party or a guardian ad litem or other representative of the child.

(c) In determining if it is an inconvenient forum, the court shall consider if it is in the interest of the child that another state assume jurisdiction. For this purpose it may take into account the following factors, among others:

(1) If another state is or recently was the child’s home state.
(2) If another state has a closer connection with the child and the child’s family or with the child and one or more of the contestants.

(3) If substantial evidence concerning the child’s present or future care, protection, training, and personal relationships is more readily available in another state.

(4) If the parties have agreed on another forum which is no less appropriate.

(5) If the exercise of jurisdiction by a court of this state would contravene any of the purposes stated in Section 3401.

(d) Before determining whether to decline or retain jurisdiction, the court may communicate with a court of another state and exchange information pertinent to the assumption of jurisdiction by either court with a view to ensuring that jurisdiction will be exercised by the more appropriate court and that a forum will be available to the parties.

(e) If the court finds that it is an inconvenient forum and that a court of another state is a more appropriate forum, it may dismiss the proceedings, or it may stay the proceedings upon condition that a custody proceeding be promptly commenced in another named state or upon any other conditions which may be just and proper, including the condition that a moving party stipulate consent and submission to the jurisdiction of the other forum.

(f) The court may decline to exercise its jurisdiction under this part if a custody determination is incidental to an action for divorce or another proceeding while retaining jurisdiction over the divorce or other proceeding.

(g) If it appears to the court that it is clearly an inappropriate forum, the court may require the party who commenced the proceedings to pay, in addition to the costs of the proceedings in this state, necessary travel and other expenses, including attorney’s fees, incurred by other parties or their witnesses. Payment is to be made to the clerk of the court for remittance to the proper party.

(h) Upon dismissal or stay of proceedings under this section, the court shall inform the court found to be the more appropriate forum of this fact, or if the court which would have jurisdiction in the other state is not certainly known, shall transmit the information to the court administrator or other appropriate official for forwarding to the appropriate court.

(i) Any communication received from another state informing this state of a finding of inconvenient forum because a court of this state is the more appropriate forum shall be filed in the custody registry of the appropriate court. Upon assuming jurisdiction, the court of this state shall inform the original court of this fact.

3408. (a) If the petitioner for an initial decree has wrongfully taken the child from another state or has engaged in similar reprehensible conduct, the court may decline to exercise jurisdiction for purposes of adjudication of custody if this is just and proper under the circumstances.

(b) Unless required in the interest of the child, the court shall not exercise its jurisdiction to modify a custody decree of another state if the petitioner, without consent of the person entitled to custody, has improperly removed the child from the physical custody of the person entitled to custody or has improperly retained the child after a visit or other temporary relinquishment of physical custody. If the petitioner has violated any other provision of a custody decree of another state, the court may decline to exercise its jurisdiction if this is just and proper under the circumstances.

(c) Where the court declines to exercise jurisdiction upon petition for an initial custody decree pursuant to subdivision (a), the court shall notify the parent or other appropriate person and the prosecuting attorney of the appropriate jurisdiction in the other state. If a request to that effect is received from the other state, the court shall order the petitioner to appear with the child in a custody proceeding instituted in the other state in accordance with Section 3421. If no request is made within a reasonable time after the notification, the court may entertain a petition to determine custody by the petitioner if it has jurisdiction pursuant to Section 3403.

(d) Where the court refuses to assume jurisdiction to modify the custody decree of another state pursuant to subdivision (b) or pursuant to Section 3414, the court shall notify the person who has legal custody under the decree of the other state and the prosecuting attorney of the appropriate jurisdiction in the other state and may order the petitioner to return the child to the person who has legal custody. If it appears that the order will be ineffective and the legal custodian is ready to receive the child within a period of a few days, the court may place the child in a foster care home for that period, pending return of the child to the legal custodian. At the same time, the court shall advise the petitioner that any petition for modification of custody must be directed to (1) the appropriate court of the other state which has continuing jurisdiction or (2) if that court declines jurisdiction, to a court in a state which has jurisdiction pursuant to Section 3403.

(e) In appropriate cases, a court dismissing a petition under this section may charge the petitioner with necessary travel and other expenses, including attorney's fees and the cost of returning the child to another state.

3409. (a) Every party in a custody proceeding in the party's first pleading or in an affidavit attached to that pleading shall give information under oath as to the child's present address, the places where the child has lived within the last five years, and the names and present addresses of the persons with whom the child has lived during that period. In this pleading or affidavit, every party shall further declare under oath as to each of the following whether the party:

(1) Has participated, as a party, witness, or in any other capacity, in any other litigation concerning the custody of the same child in this or any other state.

(2) Has information of any custody proceeding concerning the child pending in a court of this or any other state.

(3) Knows of any person not a party to the proceedings who has physical custody of the child or claims to have custody or visitation rights with respect to the child.

(b) If the declaration as to any of the above items is in the affirmative the declarant shall give additional information under oath as required by the court. The court may examine the parties under oath as to details of the information furnished and as to other matters pertinent to the court’s jurisdiction and the disposition of the case.

(c) Each party has a continuing duty to inform the court of any custody proceeding concerning the child in this or any other state of which the party obtained information during this proceeding.

3410. If the court learns from information furnished by the parties pursuant to Section 3409 or from other sources that a person not a party to the custody proceeding has physical custody of the child or claims to have custody or visitation rights with respect to the child, it shall order that person to be joined as a party and to be duly notified of the pendency of the proceeding and of the person’s joinder as a party. If the person joined as a party is outside this state, the person shall be served with process or otherwise notified in accordance with Section 3405.

(b) If a party to the proceeding whose presence is desired by the court is outside this state with or without the child the court may order that the notice given under Section 3405 include a statement directing that party to appear personally with or without the child and declaring that failure to appear may result in a decision adverse to that party.

(c) If a party to the proceeding who is outside this state is directed to appear under subdivision (b) or desires to appear personally before the court with or without the child, the court may require another party to pay to the clerk of the court travel and other necessary expenses of the party so appearing and of the child if this is just and proper under the circumstances.

3412. A custody decree rendered by a court of this state which had jurisdiction under Section 3403 binds all parties who have been served in this state or notified in accordance with Section 3405 or who have submitted to the jurisdiction of the court, and who have been given an opportunity to be heard. As to these parties, the custody decree is conclusive as to all issues of law and fact decided and as to the custody determination made unless and until that determination is modified pursuant to law, including this part.

3413. The courts of this state shall recognize and enforce an initial or modification decree of a court of another state which had assumed jurisdiction under statutory provisions substantially in accordance with this part or which was made under factual circumstances meeting the jurisdictional standards of this part, so long as this decree has not been modified in accordance with jurisdictional standards substantially similar to those of this part.

3414. (a) If a court of another state has made a custody decree, a court of this state shall not modify that decree unless (1) it appears to the court of this state that the court which rendered the decree does not now have jurisdiction under jurisdictional prerequisites substantially in accordance with this part or has declined to assume jurisdiction to modify the decree and (2) the court of this state has jurisdiction.

(b) If a court of this state is authorized under subdivision (a) and Section 3408 to modify a custody decree of another state, the court shall give due consideration to the transcript of the record and other documents of all previous proceedings submitted to it in accordance with Section 3423.

3415. Section 3140 is applicable to proceedings pursuant to this part.

3416. (a) A certified copy of a custody decree of another state may be filed in the office of the clerk of any superior court of this state. The clerk shall treat the decree in the same manner as a custody decree of the superior court of this state. A custody decree so filed has the same effect and shall be enforced in like manner as a custody decree rendered by a court of this state.

(b) A person violating a custody decree of another state which makes it necessary to enforce the decree in this state may be required to pay necessary travel and other expenses, including attorney’s fees, incurred by the party entitled to the custody or that party’s witnesses.

3417. The clerk of each superior court shall maintain a registry in which the clerk shall enter all of the following:

(a) Certified copies of custody decrees of other states received for filing.

(b) Communications as to the pendency of custody proceedings in other states.

(c) Communications concerning a finding of inconvenient forum by a court of another state.

(d) Other communications or documents concerning custody proceedings in another state which may affect the jurisdiction of a court of this state or the disposition to be made by it in a custody proceeding.

(e) Any custody agreement for which an order is requested regarding a child who is not the subject of another order. The parties shall submit the affidavit required by Section 3409, on the form developed by the Judicial Council for use with Section 3409.
3418. The clerk of a superior court of this state, at the request of the court of another state or at the request of any person who is affected by or has a legitimate interest in a custody decree, shall certify and forward a copy of the decree to that court or person.

3419. In addition to other procedural devices available to a party, any party to the proceeding or a guardian ad litem or other representative of the child may adduce testimony of witnesses, including parties and the child, by deposition or otherwise, in another state. The court on its own motion may direct that the testimony of a person be taken in another state and may prescribe the manner in which and the terms upon which the testimony shall be taken.

3420. (a) A court of this state may request the appropriate court of another state to hold a hearing to adduce evidence, to order a party to produce or give evidence under other procedures of that state, or to have social studies made with respect to the custody of a child involved in proceedings pending in the court of this state; and to forward to the court of this state certified copies of the transcript of the record of the hearing, the evidence otherwise adduced, or any social studies prepared in compliance with the request. The cost of the services may be assessed against the parties or, if necessary, ordered paid by the state.

(b) A court of this state may request the appropriate court of another state to order a party to custody proceedings pending in the court of this state to appear in the proceedings, and if that party has physical custody of the child, to appear with the child. The request may state that travel and other necessary expenses of the party and of the child whose appearance is desired will be assessed against another party or will otherwise be paid.

3421. (a) Upon request of the court of another state, the courts of this state which are competent to hear custody matters may order a person in this state to appear at a hearing to adduce evidence or to produce or give evidence under other procedures available in this state. A certified copy of the transcript of the record of the hearing or the evidence otherwise adduced shall be forwarded by the clerk of the court to the requesting court.

(b) A person within this state may voluntarily give his or her testimony or statement in this state for use in a custody proceeding outside this state.

(c) Upon request of the court of another state, a competent court of this state may order a person in this state to appear alone or with the child in a custody proceeding in another state. The court may condition compliance with the request upon assurance by the other state that travel and other necessary expenses will be advanced or reimbursed. If the person who has physical custody of the child cannot be served or fails to obey the order, or it appears the order will be ineffective, the court may issue a warrant of arrest against the person to secure the person's appearance with the child in the other state.
3422. In any custody proceeding in this state, the court shall preserve the pleadings, orders and decrees, any record that has been made of its hearings, social studies, and other pertinent documents until the child reaches 18 years of age. Upon appropriate request of the court of another state, the court shall forward to the other court certified copies of any or all of such documents.

3423. If a custody decree has been rendered in another state concerning a child involved in a custody proceeding pending in a court of this state, the court of this state upon taking jurisdiction of the case shall request of the court of the other state a certified copy of the transcript of any court record and other documents mentioned in Section 3422.

3424. The general policies of this part extend to the international area. The provisions of this part relating to the recognition and enforcement of custody decrees of other states apply to custody decrees and decrees involving legal institutions similar in nature to custody rendered by appropriate authorities of other nations if reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard were given to all affected persons.

3425. Upon the request of a party to a custody proceeding which raises a question of existence or exercise of jurisdiction under this part, the case shall be given calendar priority and handled expeditiously.

DIVISION 9. SUPPORT

PART 1. DEFINITIONS AND GENERAL PROVISIONS

CHAPTER 1. DEFINITIONS

3500. Unless the provision or context otherwise requires, the definitions in this chapter govern the construction of this division. 3515. "Separate property" does not include quasi-community property.

CHAPTER 2. GENERAL PROVISIONS

3550. (a) As used in this section:
(1) "Obligee" means a person to whom a duty of support is owed.
(2) "Obligor" means a person who owes a duty of support.
(b) An obligor present or resident in this state has the duty of support as defined in Sections 3900, 3901, 3910, 4300, and 4400, regardless of the presence or residence of the obligee.

3551. Laws attaching a privilege against the disclosure of communications between husband and wife are inapplicable under this division. Husband and wife are competent witnesses to testify to any relevant matter, including marriage and parentage.

3552. (a) In a proceeding involving child, family, or spousal support, no party to the proceeding may refuse to submit copies of the party's state and federal income tax returns to the court, whether individual or joint.

(b) The tax returns may be examined by the other party and are discoverable by the other party. A party also may be examined by the other party as to the contents of a tax return submitted pursuant to this section.

(c) If the court finds that it is relevant to the case to retain the tax return, the tax return shall be sealed and maintained as a confidential record of the court. If the court finds that the tax return is not relevant to disposition of the case, all copies of the tax return shall be returned to the party who submitted it.

3554. An appeal may be taken from an order or judgment under this division as in other civil actions.

3555. Where support is ordered to be paid through the county officer designated by the court on behalf of a minor child or other party not receiving public assistance pursuant to the Family Economic Security Act of 1982 (Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 11200) of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code), the designated county officer shall forward the support received to the designated payee within the time standards prescribed by federal law and the State Department of Social Services.

3556. The existence or enforcement of a duty of support owed by a noncustodial parent for the support of a minor child is not affected by a failure or refusal by the custodial parent to implement any rights as to custody or visitation granted by a court to the noncustodial parent.

CHAPTER 3. SUPPORT AGREEMENTS

3580. Subject to this chapter and to Section 3651, a husband and wife may agree, in writing, to an immediate separation, and may provide in the agreement for the support of either of them and of their children during the separation or upon the dissolution of their marriage. The mutual consent of the parties is sufficient consideration for the agreement.

Article 2. Child Support

3585. The provisions of an agreement between the parents for child support shall be deemed to be separate and severable from all other provisions of the agreement relating to property and support of the wife or husband. An order for child support based on the agreement shall be law-imposed and shall be made under the power of the court to order child support.

3586. If an agreement between the parents combines child support and spousal support without designating the amount to be paid for child support and the amount to be paid for spousal support, the court is not required to make a separate order for child support.

3587. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the court has the authority to approve a stipulated agreement by the parents to pay for the support of an adult child or for the continuation of child support after a child attains the age of 18 years and to make a support order to effectuate the agreement.

Article 3. Spousal Support

3590. The provisions of an agreement for support of either party shall be deemed to be separate and severable from the provisions of the agreement relating to property. An order for support of either party based on the agreement shall be law-imposed and shall be made under the power of the court to order spousal support.

3591. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (c), the provisions of an agreement for the support of either party are subject to subsequent modification or termination by court order.

(b) An agreement may not be modified or terminated as to an amount that accrued before the date of the filing of the notice of motion or order to show cause to modify or terminate.

(c) An agreement for spousal support may not be modified or revoked to the extent that a written agreement, or, if there is no written agreement, an oral agreement entered into in open court between the parties, specifically provides that the spousal support is not subject to modification or termination.

3592. If an obligation under an agreement for settlement of property to a spouse or for support of a spouse is discharged in bankruptcy, the court may make all proper orders for the support of the spouse, as the court determines are just, having regard for the circumstances of the parties and the amount of the obligations under the agreement that are discharged.

3593. Sections 3590 and 3591 are effective only with respect to a property settlement agreement entered into on or after January 1, 1970, and do not affect an agreement entered into before January 1, 1970, as to which Chapter 1308 of the Statutes of 1967 shall apply.

CHAPTER 4. SPOUSAL AND CHILD SUPPORT DURING PENDENCY OF PROCEEDING

3600. During the pendency of any proceeding for dissolution of marriage or for legal separation of the parties or under Division 8 (commencing with Section 3000) (custody of children) or in any proceeding where there is at issue the support of a minor child or a child for whom support is authorized under Section 3901 or 3910, the court may order (1) the husband or wife to pay any amount that is necessary for the support of the wife or husband, or (2) either or both parents to pay any amount necessary for the support of the child, as the case may be.
3601. (a) An order for child support entered pursuant to this chapter continues in effect until the order (1) is terminated by the court or (2) terminates by operation of law pursuant to Sections 3900, 3901, 4007, 4013, and 4101.

(b) Subject to Section 3602, subdivision (a) applies notwithstanding any other provision of law and notwithstanding that the proceeding has not been brought to trial within the time limits specified in Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 583.110) of Title 8 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

3602. Unless the order specifies otherwise, an order made pursuant to this chapter is not enforceable during any period in which the parties have reconciled and are living together.

3603. An order made pursuant to this chapter may be modified or terminated at any time except as to an amount that accrued before the date of the filing of the notice of motion or order to show cause to modify or terminate.

3604. An order made pursuant to this chapter does not prejudice the rights of the parties or the child with respect to any subsequent order which may be made.

CHAPTER 5. EXPEDITED CHILD SUPPORT ORDER

3620. An order under this chapter shall be known as an expedited support order.

3621. In an action for child support that has been filed and served, the court may, without a hearing, make an order requiring a parent or parents to pay for the support of their minor child or children during the pendency of that action, pursuant to this chapter, the amount required by Section 4053 or, if the income of the obligated parent or parents is unknown to the applicant, then the minimum amount of support as provided in Section 11452 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

3622. An expedited support order shall be made by the court upon the filing with the court of all of the following:

(a) An application for an expedited child support order, setting forth the minimum amount the obligated parent or parents are required to pay pursuant to Section 4053 of this code or pursuant to Section 11452 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(b) An income and expense declaration for both parents completed by the applicant.

(c) A worksheet setting forth the basis of the amount of support requested.

(d) A proposed expedited child support order.

3623. (a) An application for the expedited support order confers jurisdiction on the court to hear only the issue of support of the minor child or children.

(b) Nothing in this chapter prevents either party from bringing before the court at the hearing other separately noticed issues otherwise relevant and proper to the action in which the application for the expedited support order has been filed.

3624. (a) Subject to Section 3625, an expedited support order becomes effective 30 days after service on the obligated parent of all of the following:

(1) The application for an expedited child support order.
(2) The proposed expedited child support order, which shall include a notice of consequences of failure to file a response.
(3) The completed income and expense declaration for both parents.
(4) A worksheet setting forth the basis of the amount of support requested.
(5) Three blank copies of the income and expense declaration form.
(6) Three blank copies of the response to an application for expedited child support order and notice of hearing form.

(b) Service on the obligated parent of the application and other required documents as set forth in subdivision (a) shall be by personal service or by any method available under Sections 415.10 to 415.40, inclusive, of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(c) Unless there is a response to the application for an expedited support order as provided in Section 3625, the expedited support order shall be effective on the obligated parent without further action by the court.

3625. (a) A response to the application for the proposed expedited support order and the obligated parent's income and expense declaration may be filed with the court at any time before the effective date of the expedited support order and, on filing, shall be served upon the applicant by any method by which a response to a notice of motion may be served.

(b) The response to the application for an expedited support order shall state the objections of the obligated parent to the proposed expedited support order.

(c) The simultaneous filing of the response to the application for an expedited support order and the obligated parent's income and expense declaration shall stay the effective date of the expedited support order.

(d) No fee shall be charged for, or in connection with, the filing of the response.

3626. The obligated parent shall cause the court clerk to, and the court clerk shall, set a hearing on the application for the expedited support order not less than 20 nor more than 30 days after the filing of the response to the application for the expedited support order and income and expense declaration.

3627. The obligated parent shall give notice of the hearing to the other parties or their counsel by first-class mail not less than 15 days before the hearing.

3628. If notice of the hearing is not given as provided in Section 3627, the expedited support order becomes effective as provided in Section 3624, subject to the relief available to the responding party.
as provided by Section 473 of the Code of Civil Procedure or any other available relief whether in law or in equity.

3629. (a) At the hearing on the application for the expedited support order, all parties who are parents of the child or children who are the subject of the action shall produce copies of their most recently filed federal and state income tax returns.

(b) A tax return so submitted may be reviewed by the other parties, and a party also may be examined by the other parties as to the contents of the return.

(c) Except as provided in subdivision (d), a party who fails to submit documents to the court as required by this chapter shall not be granted the relief that the party has requested.

(d) The court may grant the requested relief if the party submits a declaration under penalty of perjury that (1) no such document exists, or (2) in the case of a tax return, it cannot be produced, but a copy has been requested from the Internal Revenue Service or Franchise Tax Board.

3630. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), the amount of the expedited support order shall be the minimum amount the obligated parent is required to pay as set forth in the application.

(b) If a hearing is held on the application, the court shall order an amount of support in accordance with Article 2 (commencing with Section 4050) of Chapter 2 of Part 2.

3631. When there is a hearing, the resulting order shall be called an order after hearing.

3632. An order after hearing shall become effective not more than 30 days after the filing of the response to the application for the expedited support order and may be given retroactive effect to the date of the filing of the application.

3633. An order entered under this chapter may be modified or terminated at any time on the same basis as any other order for child support.

3634. The Judicial Council shall prepare all forms necessary to give effect to this chapter.

CHAPTER 6. MODIFICATION OR TERMINATION OF SUPPORT

3650. "Support order" as used in this chapter means a child, family, or spousal support order.

3651. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (c) and subject to Article 3 (commencing with Section 3680) and Sections 3552, 3587, and 4004, a support order may be modified or terminated at any time as the court determines to be necessary.

(b) A support order may not be modified or terminated as to an amount that accrued before the date of the filing of the notice of motion or order to show cause to modify or terminate.

(c) An order for spousal support may not be modified or terminated to the extent that a written agreement, or, if there is no written agreement, an oral agreement entered into in open court between the parties, specifically provides that the spousal support is not subject to modification or termination.

(d) This section applies whether or not the support order is based upon an agreement between the parties.

(e) This section is effective only with respect to a property settlement agreement entered into on or after January 1, 1970, and does not affect an agreement entered into before January 1, 1970, as to which Chapter 1308 of the Statutes of 1967 shall apply.

3652. An order modifying or terminating a child support order may include an award of attorney’s fees and court costs to the prevailing party.

3653. An order modifying or terminating a support order may be made retroactive to the date of the filing of the notice of motion or order to show cause to modify or terminate, or to any subsequent date, except as provided by federal law (42 U.S.C. Sec. 666(a) (9)).

3654. At the request of either party, an order modifying or terminating a spousal support order shall include a statement of decision.

Article 2. Discovery Before Commencing Modification or Termination Proceeding

3660. The purpose of this article is to permit inexpensive discovery of facts before the commencement of a proceeding for modification or termination of an order for child, family, or spousal support.

3662. Methods of discovery other than that described in this article may only be used if a motion for modification or termination of the support order is pending.

3663. In the absence of a pending motion for modification or termination of a support order, a request for discovery pursuant to this article may be undertaken not more frequently than once every 12 months.

3664. (a) At any time following a judgment of dissolution of marriage or legal separation of the parties that provides for payment of support, either the party ordered to pay support or the party to whom support was ordered to be paid or that party’s assignee, without leave of court, may serve a request for the production of a completed current income and expense declaration in the form adopted by the Judicial Council.

(b) Service of a request for production of an income and expense declaration pursuant to this section shall be by certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, to the last known address of the party to be served, or by personal service.

3665. (a) A copy of the prior year’s federal and state personal income tax returns shall be attached to the income and expense declaration of each party.
(b) A party shall not disclose the contents or provide copies of the other party's tax returns to anyone except the court, the party's attorney, the party's accountant, or other financial consultant assisting with matters relating to the proceeding, or any other person permitted by the court.

(c) The tax returns shall be controlled by the court as provided in Section 3552.

3666. This article may be enforced in the manner specified in Sections 1991, 1991.1, 1991.2, 1992, and 1993 of the Code of Civil Procedure and in the Civil Discovery Act of 1986 (Article 3 (commencing with Section 2016) of Chapter 3 of Title 3 of Part 4 of the Code of Civil Procedure), and any other statutes applicable to the enforcement of procedures for discovery.

3667. Upon the subsequent filing of a motion for modification or termination of the support order by the requesting party, if the court finds that the income and expense declaration submitted by the responding party pursuant to this article was incomplete, inaccurate, or missing the prior year's federal and state personal income tax returns, or that the declaration was not submitted in good faith, the court may order sanctions against the responding party in the form of payment of all costs of the motion, including the filing fee and the costs of the depositions and subpoenas necessary to be utilized in order to obtain complete and accurate information.

3668. The Judicial Council shall adopt forms which shall be used in the procedure provided by this article.

Article 3. Simplified Procedure for Modification of Support Order

3680. The purpose of this article is to provide an additional, simplified method for the modification of child, family, and spousal support orders.

3681. In order to facilitate service of process under this article, each party to an order for support shall provide the other party with the party's current mailing address and any later change of address.

3682. Except where the modification is based on a significant decrease in the income of the moving party, only one modification of a support order pursuant to this article may be granted within any 12-month period.

3683. (a) A notice of motion to modify a support order may be filed under this article at any time after one year after the entry of the support order to be modified, but this one-year limitation is not applicable if the request for modification is based on a significant decrease in the income of the moving party.

(b) The motion to modify the support order shall include both of the following:

(1) A proposed order for modification of the support order.

(2) A declaration under penalty of perjury that the facts on which the motion is based are true and correct.
(c) The moving party shall cause the notice of motion and the proposed order to be served on the other party to the support order.

3684. (a) The responding party may, within 30 days after the date of service of the notice of motion pursuant to Section 3683, file an objection and request for hearing. If the responding party files an objection and request for hearing, the responding party is responsible for requesting a hearing date and giving notice of the hearing to the moving party. The responding party shall file the original proof of service of the notice of the objection and request for hearing at the same time as the filing of the objection and the request for hearing.

(b) If it appears in the response to a request for modification of a child support order pursuant to this article that an issue other than support is contested with respect to the child, the other issue shall be set for mediation under Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 3155) of Part 2 of Division 8. A separate hearing shall be scheduled for the other issue. The pendency of the mediation proceeding shall not delay a hearing on the request for modification of the support order under this article.

3685. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section and in Section 3693, no attorney at law or person other than the moving or responding party shall take any part in the filing or prosecution or defense of a proceeding pursuant to this article, unless the attorney is appearing as a party to the proceeding.

(b) Nothing in this article prohibits an attorney from rendering advice to a party to the proceeding, either before or after the commencement of the proceeding.

3686. In making a modification based on a request to increase the amount of child support payments pursuant to this article, the court shall take into consideration the age increase factor developed by the Judicial Council pursuant to paragraph (8) of subdivision (a) of Section 4005.

3687. (a) The court may grant a modification of child support, not to exceed an amount equal to 10 percent of the current child support award for each year after the date on which the current child support award was granted, without requiring a showing of changed circumstances by the moving party, to the extent justified by the economic evidence presented by way of the income statements (and expense statements, if the court deems them necessary and relevant) of the parties.

(b) The court may grant an increase of spousal support, not to exceed an amount equal to the increase in the California all Consumer Price Index provided by the federal government for each year after the date on which the current spousal support award was granted, without requiring a showing of changed circumstances by the moving party, to the extent justified by the economic evidence presented by way of income statements (and expense statements, if the court deems them relevant) of the parties.

(c) If the responding party fails to file a response, the court shall order a modification of the support order without requiring the submission of economic evidence by the moving party.

3698. (a) In a case in which the request for modification is based on a significant decrease in the income of the moving party, the moving party shall present evidence of the moving party’s decline in economic circumstances. The amount of the modification shall be based on the economic evidence presented by way of income statements (and expense statements, if the court deems them necessary and relevant) of the parties.

(b) If the responding party defaults in a case where the request for the modification is based on a significant decrease in the income of the moving party, the court shall order a modification based on the evidence.

(c) If the court considering the request for modification orders support according to guidelines in use within its jurisdiction, the amount of the modification shall be based on the guidelines. If no guidelines are in use, the amount of the modification shall be based on the factors used in determining the existing support award.

3699. (a) In addition to the income statement (and the expense statement, if required by the court), in a contested proceeding, both the moving party and the responding party shall make available to the court at the time of the hearing copies of their federal and state income tax returns for the preceding year. A tax return so submitted may be reviewed by the other party and the party also may be examined by the other party as to the contents of the return.

(b) No relief shall be granted pursuant to this article to a party who fails to submit such documents as may be required by the court or a declaration under penalty of perjury that no such documents exist, or that, in the case of a tax return, it cannot be produced but a copy has been requested from the Internal Revenue Service or the Franchise Tax Board.

(c) The tax returns shall be controlled by the court as provided in Section 3552.

3690. Notice pursuant to this article shall be by certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, to the last known address of the party to be served, or by personal service. Proof of service shall be filed with the court.

3691. (a) The party filing a notice of motion to modify child or family support with the clerk pursuant to this article shall also mail a duplicate copy of the notice to the district attorney within five working days after filing.

(b) If the district attorney has previously attempted to enforce the spousal support obligation upon which the motion is based, the party filing a notice of motion to modify spousal support with the clerk pursuant to this article shall also mail a duplicate copy of the notice to the district attorney within five working days of filing.

3692. Nothing in this article shall be construed to infringe on the duty of the state to comply with any federal rules and regulations pertaining to the establishment, enforcement, and collection of (a) child support payments in cases in which the child is receiving public assistance or (b) spousal support payments.

3693. (a) A party to a proceeding under this article may elect to be represented by counsel in the proceeding. The party’s notice of election to proceed with the benefit of counsel shall be accompanied by the party’s declaration under penalty of perjury stating facts evidencing the intent to proceed with the benefit of counsel in the proceeding.

(b) Upon notice by a party pursuant to subdivision (a) that the party elects to be represented by counsel in the proceeding, the court shall proceed on the motion as in a proceeding under Article 1 (commencing with Section 3650) for modification of a support order.

3694. The Judicial Council shall adopt forms or notices for the use of the procedure provided in this article. The forms or notices shall include a notice advising of the right of a party to proceed with or without benefit of counsel. The forms or notices shall incorporate, where appropriate, advice as to the availability of the additional, simplified method for the modification of support provided in this article.

CHAPTER 7. HEALTH INSURANCE

Article 1. Health Insurance Coverage for Supported Child

3750. "Health insurance coverage" as used in this article includes all of the following:

(a) Vision care and dental care coverage whether the vision care or dental care coverage is part of existing health insurance coverage or is issued as a separate policy or plan.

(b) Provision for the delivery of health care services by a fee for service, health maintenance organization, preferred provider organization, or any other type of health care delivery system under which medical services could be provided to a dependent child of an absent parent.

3751. (a) The court shall require that health insurance coverage for a supported child shall be maintained by either or both parents if that insurance is available at no cost or at reasonable cost to the parent. The court shall generally consider health insurance coverage to be reasonable in cost if it is employment-related group health insurance or other group health insurance, regardless of the service delivery mechanism. If the court determines that the cost of health insurance coverage is not reasonable, the court shall state its reasons on the record.

(b) If the court determines that health insurance coverage is not available at no or reasonable cost, the court’s order for support shall contain a provision that specifies that health insurance coverage shall be obtained if it becomes available at no or reasonable cost. Upon health insurance coverage at no or reasonable cost becoming available to a parent, the parent shall apply for that coverage.

3752. (a) If the district attorney has been designated as the assigned payee for child support, the court shall order the parent to notify the district attorney upon applying for and obtaining health insurance coverage for the child within a reasonable period of time.

(b) The district attorney shall obtain a completed medical form from the parent in accordance with Section 11490 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and shall forward the completed form to the State Department of Health Services.

(c) In those cases where the district attorney is providing medical support enforcement services, the district attorney shall provide the parent or person having custody of the child with information pertaining to the health insurance policy that has been secured for the child.

3753. This article is applicable in all cases, irrespective of whether the child support award made is based on the mandatory minimum award schedule or a higher amount based on a state or county schedule.

Article 2. Health Insurance Coverage Assignment

3760. As used in this article, unless the provision or context otherwise requires:

(a) "Employer" includes the United States government and any public entity as defined in Section 811.2 of the Government Code.

(b) "Health insurance," "health insurance plan," "health insurance coverage," "health care services," or "health insurance coverage assignment" includes vision care and dental care coverage whether the vision care or dental care coverage is part of existing health insurance coverage or is issued as a separate policy or plan.

(c) "Health insurance coverage assignment" or "assignment order" means an order made under Section 3761.

3761. (a) Upon application by a party or district attorney in any proceeding where the court has ordered either or both parents to maintain health insurance coverage under Article 1 (commencing with Section 3750), the court shall order the employer of the obligor parent or other person providing health insurance to the obligor to enroll the supported child in the health insurance plan available to the obligor through the employer or other person and to deduct the appropriate premium or costs, if any, from the earnings of the obligor unless the court makes a finding of good cause for not making the order.

(b) The application shall state that the party or district attorney seeking the assignment has given the obligor a written notice of the intent to seek a health insurance coverage assignment in the event of a default in instituting coverage required by court order on behalf of the parties' child and that the notice was transmitted by first-class mail, postage prepaid, or personally served at least 15 days before the date of the filing of the application. The written notice of the intent to seek an assignment required by this subdivision may be given at the time of filing a petition or complaint for support or at any time later, but shall be given at least 15 days before the date of filing the application under this section. The obligor may at any time waive the written notice required by this subdivision.

3762. Good cause for not making a health insurance coverage assignment shall be limited to either of the following:

(a) The court finds that one of the conditions listed in subdivision (a) of Section 3765 or in Section 3770 exists.

(b) The court finds that the health insurance coverage assignment would cause extraordinary hardship to the obligor. The court shall specify the nature of the extraordinary hardship and, whenever possible, a date by which the obligor shall obtain health insurance coverage or be subject to a health insurance coverage assignment.

3763. (a) The health insurance coverage assignment may be ordered at the time of trial or entry of a judgment ordering health insurance coverage. The order operates as an assignment and is binding on any existing or future employer of the obligor parent, or other person providing health insurance to the obligor, upon whom a copy of the order has been served.

(b) The order of assignment may be modified at any time by the court.

3764. (a) A health insurance coverage assignment does not become effective until 10 days after service by the applicant of the assignment order on the employer or other person providing health insurance to the obligor.

(b) Within 10 days after service of the order, the employer or other person providing health insurance to the obligor shall deliver a copy of the order to the obligor, together with a written statement of the obligor's rights under the law to move to quash the order.

3765. (a) The obligor may move to quash a health insurance coverage assignment order as provided in this section if the obligor declares under penalty of perjury that there is error on any of the following grounds:

(1) No order to maintain health insurance has been issued under Article 1 (commencing with Section 3750).

(2) The amount to be withheld for premiums is greater than that permissible under Article 1 (commencing with Section 3750) or greater than the amount otherwise ordered by the court.

(3) The amount of the increased premium is unreasonable.

(4) The alleged obligor is not the obligor from whom health insurance coverage is due.

(5) The child is or will be otherwise provided health care coverage.

(6) The employer's choice of coverage is inappropriate.

(b) The motion and notice of motion to quash the assignment order, including the declaration required by subdivision (a), shall be filed with the court issuing the assignment order within 10 days after delivery of a copy of the order to the obligor pursuant to subdivision
(b) of Section 3764. The court clerk shall set the motion for hearing not less than 15 days, nor more than 20 days, after receipt of the notice of motion. The clerk shall, within five days after receipt of the notice of motion, deliver a copy of the notice of motion to (1) the district attorney personally or by first-class mail, and (2) the applicant and the employer or other person providing health insurance, at the appropriate addresses contained in the application, by first-class mail.

(c) Upon a finding of error described in subdivision (a), the court shall quash the assignment.

3766. (a) The employer, or other person providing health insurance, shall take steps to commence coverage, consistent with the order for the health insurance coverage assignment, 10 days after service of the assignment order upon the obligor under Section 3764 if the employer or other person has not received a notice of motion seeking to quash the order. If the employer or other person providing health insurance receives a notice of motion to quash, the employer or other person shall commence coverage consistent with the assignment order on receipt of the order resolving the motion to quash in favor of the applicant. The employer, or the person providing health insurance, shall commence coverage at the earliest possible time and, if applicable, consistent with the group plan enrollment rules.

(b) If the obligor has made a selection of health coverage inconsistent with the court order, the selection shall not be superseded unless the child to be enrolled in the plan will not be provided benefits or coverage where the child resides.

(c) If the obligor has not enrolled in an available health plan, there is a choice of coverage, and the court has not ordered coverage by a specific plan, the employer or other person providing health insurance shall enroll the child in the plan that will reasonably provide benefits or coverage where the child resides. If that coverage is not available, the employer or other person providing health insurance shall, within 20 days, return the assignment to the attorney or person initiating the assignment.

(d) If an assignment order is served on an employer or other person providing health insurance and no coverage is available for the supported child, the employer or other person shall, within 20 days, return the assignment to the attorney or person initiating the assignment.

3767. The employer or other person providing health insurance shall do all of the following:

(a) Notify the applicant for the assignment order of the commencement date of the coverage of the child.

(b) Provide evidence of coverage to both parents or the person having custody of the child and to the district attorney when requested by the district attorney.

(c) Upon request by the parents or person having custody of the child, provide all forms and other documentation necessary for the purpose of submitting claims to the insurance carrier which the employer or other person providing health insurance usually provides to insureds.

3769. (a) An employer or other person providing health insurance who willfully fails to comply with a valid health insurance coverage assignment entered and served on the employer or other person pursuant to this article is liable to the applicant for the amount incurred in health care services that would otherwise have been covered under the insurance policy but for the conduct of the employer or other person that was contrary to the assignment order.
(b) Willful failure of an employer or other person providing health insurance to comply with a health insurance coverage assignment is punishable as contempt of court under Section 1218 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

3769. No employer shall use a health insurance coverage assignment as grounds for refusing to hire a person or for discharging or taking disciplinary action against an employee. An employer who violates this section may be assessed a civil penalty of a maximum of five hundred dollars ($500).

3770. Upon notice of motion by the obligor, the court shall terminate a health insurance coverage assignment if any of the following conditions exists:
(a) A new order has been issued under Article 1 (commencing with Section 3750) that is inconsistent with the existing assignment.
(b) The employer or other person providing health insurance has discontinued that coverage to the obligor.
(c) The court determines that there is good cause, consistent with Section 3762, to terminate the assignment.
(d) The death or emancipation of the child for whom the health insurance has been obtained.

3771. Upon request of the district attorney, the employer shall provide the following information to the district attorney within 30 days:
(a) The social security number of the absent parent.
(b) The home address of the absent parent.
(c) Whether the absent parent has a health insurance policy and, if so, the policy names and numbers, and the names of the persons covered.
(d) Whether the health insurance policy provides coverage for dependent children of the absent parent who do not reside in the absent parent’s home.
(e) If there is a subsequent lapse in health insurance coverage, the employer shall notify the district attorney, giving the date the coverage ended, the reason for the lapse in coverage and, if the lapse is temporary, the date upon which coverage is expected to resume.

3772. The Judicial Council shall adopt forms for the health insurance coverage assignment required or authorized by this article, including, but not limited to, the application, the order, the statement of the obligor’s rights, and an employer’s return form which shall include the information required by Section 3771. The parties and child shall be sufficiently identified on the forms by the inclusion of birth dates, social security numbers, and any other information the Judicial Council determines is necessary.

Article 3. Assignment of Reimbursement Rights Under Health Plan

3780. A health plan for the purposes of this article includes, but is not limited to, a disability insurance plan, a nonprofit hospital service plan, a self-insured employee welfare benefit plan, and a health care service plan.

3781. (a) Subject to subdivision (b), in any proceeding where there is an order requiring either party to provide coverage under a health plan to a dependent, the court shall order the party covered by a health plan to assign to the other party the rights the covered party has to reimbursement.

(b) The rights assigned pursuant to this section do not include any rights the covered party has to reimbursement for payments actually made by the covered party. The rights assigned are only for reimbursement for payments made by the noncovered party seeking the reimbursement, and reimbursement shall be only for covered health care services received in the manner required by the plan or policy and provided to a dependent.

3782. (a) The order made pursuant to this article shall also require the party covered by a health plan to provide the appropriate information and forms to enable the party incurring the health care services costs for a dependent to seek reimbursement.

(b) The court shall notify the health plan of the order made pursuant to this article and shall instruct the health plan to assist the party seeking reimbursement by providing information and forms necessary to receive reimbursement.

Chapter 8. Deferred Sale of Home Order

3800. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Custodial parent" means a party awarded physical custody of a child.

(b) "Deferred sale of home order" means an order that temporarily delays the sale and awards the temporary exclusive use and possession of the family home to a custodial parent of a minor child or child for whom support is authorized under Sections 3900 and 3901 or under Section 3910, whether or not the custodial parent has sole or joint custody, in order to minimize the adverse impact of dissolution of marriage or legal separation of the parties on the welfare of the child.

(c) "Resident parent" means a party who has requested or who has already been awarded a deferred sale of home order.

3801. (a) If one of the parties has requested a deferred sale of home order pursuant to this chapter, the court shall first determine whether it is economically feasible to maintain the payments of any note secured by a deed of trust, property taxes, insurance for the home during the period the sale of the home is deferred, and the condition of the home comparable to that at the time of trial.

(b) In making this determination, the court shall consider all of the following:

(1) The resident parent's income.
(2) The availability of spousal support, child support, or both spousal and child support.
(3) Any other sources of funds available to make those payments.
(c) It is the intent of the Legislature, by requiring the determination under this section, to do all of the following:

(1) Avoid the likelihood of possible defaults on the payments of notes and resulting foreclosures.
(2) Avoid inadequate insurance coverage.
(3) Prevent deterioration of the condition of the family home.
(4) Prevent any other circumstance which would jeopardize both parents' equity in the home.

3802. (a) If the court determines pursuant to Section 3801 that it is economically feasible to consider ordering a deferred sale of the family home, the court may grant a deferred sale of home order to a custodial parent if the court determines that the order is necessary in order to minimize the adverse impact of dissolution of marriage or legal separation of the parties on the child.

(b) In exercising its discretion to grant or deny a deferred sale of home order, the court shall consider all of the following:

(1) The length of time the child has resided in the home.
(2) The child's placement or grade in school.
(3) The accessibility and convenience of the home to the child's school and other services or facilities used by and available to the child, including child care.

(4) Whether the home has been adapted or modified to accommodate any physical disabilities of a child or a resident parent in a manner that a change in residence may adversely affect the ability of the resident parent to meet the needs of the child.

(5) The emotional detriment to the child associated with a change in residence.

(6) The extent to which the location of the home permits the resident parent to continue employment.

(7) The financial ability of each parent to obtain suitable housing.

(8) The tax consequences to the parents.

(9) The economic detriment to the nonresident parent in the event of a deferred sale of home order.

(10) Any other factors the court deems just and equitable.

3803. A deferred sale of home order shall state the duration of the order and may include the legal description and assessor's parcel number of the real property which is subject to the order.

3804. A deferred sale of home order may be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the real property is located.

3805. A deferred sale of home order may be considered to constitute additional child support pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 4055.

3806. The court may make an order specifying the parties' respective responsibilities for the payment of the costs of routine maintenance and capital improvements.

3807. Except as otherwise agreed to by the parties in writing, a deferred sale of home order may be modified or terminated at any time at the discretion of the court.

3808. Except as otherwise agreed to by the parties in writing, if the party awarded the deferred sale of home order remarries, or if there is otherwise a change in circumstances affecting the determinations made pursuant to Section 3801 or 3802 or affecting the economic status of the parties or the children on which the award is based, a rebuttable presumption, affecting the burden of proof, is created that further deferral of the sale is no longer an equitable method of minimizing the adverse impact of the dissolution of marriage or legal separation of the parties on the children.

3809. In making an order pursuant to this chapter, the court shall reserve jurisdiction to determine any issues that arise with respect to the deferred sale of home order including, but not limited to, the maintenance of the home and the tax consequences to each party.

3810. This chapter is applicable regardless of whether the deferred sale of home order is made before or after January 1, 1989.

PART 2. CHILD SUPPORT

CHAPTER 1. DUTY OF PARENT TO SUPPORT CHILD

Article 1. Support of Minor Child

3900. Subject to this division, the father and mother of a minor child have an equal responsibility to support their child in the manner suitable to the child's circumstances.

3901. (a) The duty of support imposed by Section 3900 continues as to an unmarried child who has attained the age of 18 years, is a full-time high school student, and resides with a parent, until the time the child completes the 12th grade or attains the age of 19 years, whichever occurs first.

(b) Nothing in this section limits a parent's ability to agree to provide additional support or the court's power to inquire whether an agreement to provide additional support has been made.

3902. The court may direct that an allowance be made to the parent of a minor child out of the child's property for the child's past or future support, on conditions that are proper, if the direction is for the child's benefit.
Article 2. Support of Adult Child

3910. (a) The father and mother have an equal responsibility to maintain, to the extent of their ability, a child of whatever age who is incapacitated from earning a living and without sufficient means. (b) Nothing in this section limits the duty of support under Sections 3900 and 3901.

Article 3. Support of Grandchild

3930. A parent of a minor child does not have the duty to support a child of the minor child.

Article 4. Liability to Others Who Provide Support for Child

3950. If a parent neglects to provide articles necessary for the parent’s child who is under the charge of the parent, according to the circumstances of the parent, a third person may in good faith supply the necessaries and recover their reasonable value from the parent.

3951. (a) A parent is not bound to compensate the other parent, or a relative, for the voluntary support of the parent’s child, without an agreement for compensation. (b) A parent is not bound to compensate a stranger for the support of a child who has abandoned the parent without just cause. (c) Nothing in this section relieves a parent of the obligation to support a child during any period in which the state, county, or other governmental entity provides support for the child.

3952. If a parent chargeable with the support of a child dies leaving the child chargeable to the county or leaving the child confined in a state institution to be cared for in whole or in part at the expense of the state, and the parent leaves an estate sufficient for the child’s support, the supervisors of the county or the director of the state department having jurisdiction over the institution may claim provision for the child’s support from the parent’s estate, and for this purpose has the same remedies as a creditor against the estate of the parent and may obtain reimbursement from the successor of the deceased parent to the extent provided in Division 8 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Probate Code.

CHAPTER 2. COURT-ORDERED CHILD SUPPORT

4000. If a parent has the duty to provide for the support of the parent’s child and willfully fails to so provide, the other parent, or the child by a guardian ad litem, may bring an action against the parent to enforce the duty.

4001. In any proceeding where there is at issue the support of a minor child or a child for whom support is authorized under Section 3901 or 3910, the court may order either or both parents to pay an amount necessary for the support of the child.

4002. (a) The county may proceed on behalf of a child to enforce the child's right of support against a parent.

(b) If the county furnishes support to a child, the county has the same right as the child to secure reimbursement and obtain continuing support. The right of the county to reimbursement is subject to any limitation otherwise imposed by the law of this state.

(c) The court may order the parent to pay the county reasonable attorney's fees and court costs in a proceeding brought by the county pursuant to this section.

4003. In any case in which the support of a minor child is at issue, the court may, upon a showing of good cause, order a separate trial on that issue. The separate trial shall be given preference over other civil cases, except matters to which special precedence may be given by law, for assigning a trial date. If the court has also ordered a separate trial on the issue of custody pursuant to Section 3023, the two issues shall be tried together.

4004. In a proceeding where there is at issue the support of a minor child, the court shall require the parties to reveal whether a party is currently receiving, or intends to apply for, public assistance under the Family Economic Security Act of 1982 (Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 11200) of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code) for the maintenance of the child.

4005. (a) In determining the amount due for child support, the court shall consider the following circumstances of the parents:

(1) The earnings or earning capacity of each parent.

(2) The needs of each parent.

(3) The obligations and assets, including the separate property, of each parent.

(4) The ability of each parent to engage in gainful employment without unduly interfering with the interests of dependent children in the custody of the parent.

(5) The time required for a parent to acquire appropriate education, training, and employment.

(6) The age and health of the parents.

(7) The standard of living of the parents.

(8) The preservation of the adequacy of the child support award over the length of time during which the parents will be obligated to support a minor child, by utilizing an age increase factor in the standard used for the determination of child support. The Judicial Council shall develop a formula for the determination of that factor for the use of the courts.

(9) Any other factors the court determines are just and equitable.

(b) At the request of either party, the court shall make appropriate findings with respect to the circumstances on which the order for support of the child is based.

4006. In a proceeding for child support under this code or under Article 7 (commencing with Section 11475) of Chapter 2 of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the court shall consider the health insurance coverage, if any, of the parties to the proceeding.

4007. (a) If a court orders a person to make specified payments for support of a child during the child's minority, or until the child is married or otherwise emancipated, or until the death of, or the occurrence of a specified event as to, a child for whom support is authorized under Section 3901 or 3910, the obligation of the person ordered to pay support terminates on the happening of the contingency. The court may, in the original order for support, order the custodial parent or other person to whom payments are to be made to notify the person ordered to make the payments, or the person's attorney of record, of the happening of the contingency.

(b) If the custodial parent or other person having physical custody of the child, to whom payments are to be made, fails to notify the person ordered to make the payments, or the attorney of record of the person ordered to make the payments, of the happening of the contingency and continues to accept support payments, the person shall refund all moneys received that accrued after the happening of the contingency, except that the overpayments shall first be applied to any support payments that are then in default.

4008. The community property, the quasi-community property, and the separate property may be subjected to the support of the children in the proportions the court determines are just.

4009. An order for child support may be made retroactive to the date of filing the notice of motion or order to show cause, or to any subsequent date, except as provided by federal law (42 U.S.C. Sec. 666(a) (9)).

4010. In a proceeding in which the court orders a payment for the support of a minor child, the court shall, at the time of providing written notice of the order, provide the parties with a document describing the procedures by which the order may be modified.

4011. Payment of child support ordered by the court shall be made by the person owing the support payment before payment of any debts owed to creditors.

4012. Upon a showing of good cause, the court may order a parent required to make a payment of child support to give reasonable security for the payment.

4013. If obligations for support of a child are discharged in bankruptcy, the court may make all proper orders for the support of the child that the court determines are just.

Article 2. Child Support Guidelines

4050. It is the intention of the Legislature to ensure that the State of California remains in compliance with federal regulations for child support guidelines. The Legislature therefore adopts the statewide guidelines set forth in this article, to take effect on July 1, 1992.

4051. (a) A parent's first and principal obligation is to support the parent's minor child according to the parent's circumstances and station in life.

(b) In this regard, the Legislature recognizes that a parent's circumstances and station in life are dependent upon a variety of factors, including the following:

(1) The parent's earned and unearned income, earning capacity, and assets.

(2) The income of the parent's subsequent spouse or nonmarital partner, to the extent that the obligated parent's basic living expenses are met by the spouse or other person, thus increasing the parent's disposable income.

4052. It is the intention of the Legislature that the courts shall adhere to the guidelines adopted pursuant to this article and depart from them only in exceptional circumstances.

4053. (a) The statewide uniform guideline for determining child support awards is as follows: CS = K (NCN).

(b) The components of the formula are as follows:

CS = child support amount.

K = adjustment factor for different levels of income.

NCN = noncustodial parent's net monthly disposable income.

TN = total net monthly disposable income of parties.

(c) To compute net disposable income, see Sections 4059 and 4060.

(d) K changes as combined net monthly disposable income changes as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Total Net Disposable Income Per Month</th>
<th>K</th>
</tr> </thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>$0–1,667</td>
<td>K = 0.26</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>$1,668–4,999</td>
<td>K = 0.20 + 100/TN</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>$5,000–10,000</td>
<td>K = 0.16 + 300/TN</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Over $10,000</td>
<td>K = 0.12 + 700/TN</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

(e) For more than one child, multiply CS by:

- 2 children 1.5
- 3 children 2
- 4 children 2.25
- 5 children 2.5
- 6 children 2.625
- 7 children 2.75
- 8 children 2.813
- 9 children 2.844
- 10 children 2.86

4054. Subject to Section 4055, there is a rebuttable presumption affecting the burden of proof that 100 percent of the amount of child support established by the formula set forth in Section 4053 is the correct amount of child support to be awarded.

4055. The presumption of Section 4054 may be rebutted by facts showing that application of the guideline would be unjust or inappropriate in a particular case because one or more of the following factors is found to be applicable by a preponderance of the evidence and the revised amount is in the best interest of the child or children:

(a) The parties have stipulated to a different amount of child support under Section 4063.

(b) The rental value of the family residence in which the children for whose support the award is made are allowed to reside exceeds the mortgage payments, homeowner’s insurance, and property taxes. The amount of any adjustment pursuant to this subdivision shall not be greater than the excess amount and shall be made pursuant to former Section 4728.5 of the Civil Code, before its repeal by Chapter 1493 of the Statutes of 1990, and applicable published appellate court decisions.

(c) A parent’s subsequent spouse or nonmarital partner has income which helps meet that parent’s basic living expenses, thus increasing the parent’s disposable income.

(d) The child or children subject to the order are not receiving assistance under the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program and the custodial parent has a higher income than the noncustodial parent. In such a case, the court may order the custodial parent to pay support to the noncustodial parent or the court may reduce the amount of support paid by the noncustodial parent.

(e) The child or children subject to the order are not receiving assistance under the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program and the noncustodial parent has parenting time that results in substantial expenses to the noncustodial parent and substantial savings to the custodial parent. In such a case, the court may reduce the amount of support paid by the noncustodial parent.

(f) The parent being ordered to pay child support has an extraordinarily high income and the amount determined under the formula would exceed the needs of the child or children.

(g) Application of the guideline would be unjust or inappropriate due to special circumstances in the particular case. The court shall state on the record the facts constituting the special circumstances.

4056. The court shall state on the record the net monthly disposable income of each parent.

4057. If the court determines that the presumption provided for in Section 4054 is rebutted by factors stated in Section 4055, the court shall state its determination, and any factual basis therefore, in writing or on the record, including, but not limited to, the amount of support that would have been received under the guidelines and including a justification of why the order varies from the guidelines. The court shall make any other findings required by federal law.

4058. (a) The annual gross income of each parent means income from whatever source derived, except as specified in paragraph (3), and includes, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(1) Income such as commissions, salaries, royalties, wages, bonuses, rents, dividends, pensions, interest, trust income, annuities, workers’ compensation benefits, unemployment insurance benefits, disability insurance benefits, and spousal support actually received from a person not a party to the order.

(2) Income from the proprietorship of a business, such as gross receipts from the business reduced by expenditures required for the operation of the business.

(3) In the discretion of the court, employee benefits or self-employment benefits, taking into consideration the benefit to the employee, any corresponding reduction in living expenses, and other relevant facts.

(b) The court may, in its discretion, consider the earning capacity of a parent in lieu of that parent’s income, consistent with the best interest of the child.

(c) Annual gross income shall not include any income derived from child support payments actually received and income derived from any public assistance program, eligibility for which is based on a determination of need.

4059. The annual net disposable income of each parent is computed by deducting from the parent’s annual gross income the actual amounts attributable to the following items or other items permitted by this article:

(a) The state and federal income taxes attributed to the parent. Federal and state income tax deductions shall bear an accurate relationship to the tax status of the parties (that is, single, married, married filing separately, or head of household) and number of dependents. State and federal income taxes shall be those actually payable (not necessarily current withholding) after considering appropriate filing status, all available exclusions, deductions, and credits, and the actual tax effects of any deductible support in the present case.

(b) Deductions attributed to the employee’s contribution or the self-employed worker’s contribution pursuant to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA), or an amount not to exceed that allowed under FICA for persons not subject to FICA, if the deducted amount is used to secure retirement or disability benefits for the parent.

(c) Deductions for mandatory union dues and retirement benefits, if they are required as a condition of employment.

(d) Deductions for health insurance premiums for the parent and for any children the parent has an obligation to support and state disability insurance premiums.

(e) Any child or spousal support actually being paid by the parent pursuant to a court order, to or for the benefit of any person who is not a subject of the award to be established by the court. In the absence of a court order, any child support actually being paid, not to exceed the amount established by these guidelines, for a natural or adopted child or children of the parent not residing in that parent's home, who is not the subject of the award to be established by the court, and of whom the parent has a duty of support.

(f) Job related expenses, if allowed by the court after consideration of whether the expenses are necessary, the benefit to the employee, and any other relevant facts.

(g) A hardship, as defined by former Section 4725 of the Civil Code, before its repeal by Chapter 1493 of the Statutes of 1990, and applicable published appellate court decisions, exists. If a hardship exists, the amount of the hardship shall not be deducted from the amount of child support but shall be deducted from the income of the party to whom it applies. In applying any hardship under subdivision (b) of former Section 4725 of the Civil Code, the court shall use the formula provided for in that section and not any local formula in order to provide equity between competing child support orders.

4060. The annual net disposable income shall be divided by 12 to reflect the monthly net disposable income. The court may modify the monthly net disposable income figure thus obtained to reflect the actual or prospective earnings of the parties at the time the determination of support is made.

4061. The court may adjust the child support award as appropriate to accommodate seasonal or fluctuating income of either parent.

4062. Unless contrary to federal law, if the amount of support calculated by this article is less than the minimum amount mandated by the Agnos Child Support Standards Act of 1984, the amount mandated by that act shall be used. "The Agnos Child Support Standards Act of 1984" as used in this section means the provisions of that act in effect immediately before the changes made by Chapter 1493 of the Statutes of 1990.

4063. (a) Unless applicable federal law prohibits, this article does not impair the right of parties to enter stipulated agreements, except that the court shall not approve a stipulated agreement for a child support award unless all of the following conditions are met:

1. The parties acknowledge that they are fully informed of their rights pursuant to this division and that the award is being agreed to without coercion or duress.

2. The parties declare that (A) the agreement is in the best interest of the children involved and (B) their children's needs will be adequately met by the stipulated amount.

3. The right to support has not been assigned to the county pursuant to Section 11477 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and no public assistance application is pending.

(b) If the parties to a stipulated agreement stipulate to a child support award below the amount established by this article, no change of circumstances need be demonstrated to obtain a modification of the child support award to the applicable guideline level or above.
4064. (a) The amounts in this section, if ordered to be paid, are considered support.

(b) For the purposes of this section, the net income of the parent paying child support shall be reduced by the amount of any child support paid by that parent under this article. The net income of the parent receiving child support shall not be increased by any amount of child support received under this article.

(c) The following expenses shall be added to the amount of child support calculated under Section 4053:

1. Child care costs, after any applicable tax credits, related to employment shared in accordance with the net income of the parties.

2. Absent good cause to the contrary, health care and health insurance costs for the children not deducted from gross income under Section 4058 or 4059 and health care costs for the children shared in accordance with the net income of the parties.

(d) The following expenses may be added to the amount of child support calculated under Section 4053:

1. In the court's discretion and subject to the paying parent's ability to pay, costs related to the special educational or other needs of a child.

2. Child care costs related to reasonably necessary education or training for employment skills shared in accordance with the net income of the parties.

3. Travel expenses for visitation shared in accordance with the net income of the parties, unless this creates an unreasonable hardship on one parent. The court shall find on the record or make a written finding of any unreasonable hardship.

(e) Except where there is an assignment of rights pursuant to Section 11477 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, any payment ordered pursuant to this section may be ordered paid directly to a provider of services.

4065. Orders and stipulations otherwise in compliance with the guideline established by this article may designate as "family support" an unallocated total sum for support of the spouse and any children without specifically labeling all or any portion as "child support" so long as the amount is adjusted to reflect the effect of additional deductibility. The amount of the order shall be adjusted to maximize the tax benefits for both parents.

4066. (a) The Judicial Council shall study and submit a report to the Legislature on December 31, 1992, which shall include a proposal for legislation, regarding a system of permanent child support guidelines to comply with federal law. This report shall address the respective continuing roles of the Judicial Council and the Legislature in maintaining, amending, or otherwise managing the statewide child support guidelines. In recommending levels of child support pursuant to this subdivision, the Judicial Council shall be guided by the legislative intent that children share in their parents' standard of living.
(b) In developing guidelines, the Judicial Council shall consult with a broad cross-section of groups involved in child support issues, including, but not limited to, the following:

(1) Custodial and noncustodial parents.
(2) Representatives of established women’s rights and fathers’ rights groups.
(3) Representatives of established organizations which advocate for the economic well-being of children.
(4) Members of the judiciary, district attorney’s offices, the Attorney General’s office, and the State Department of Social Services.
(5) Certified family law specialists.
(6) Academicians specializing in family law.
(7) Persons representing low-income parents.
(8) Persons representing recipients of assistance under the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program seeking child support services.

(c) The advisory committee referred to in subdivision (b) shall be balanced by gender and geographic representation, to the extent possible.

(d) In developing the recommendations for the permanent guidelines the Judicial Council shall seek public comment on the guidelines.

(e) The Judicial Council shall conduct a review of the existing guidelines to determine what revisions, if any, are necessary to ensure that application of the existing guidelines results in appropriate child support award amounts. This determination shall be based on economic data on the cost of raising children and analysis of case data, gathered through sampling or other methods, on the application of, and deviations from, the guidelines. The analysis of the data shall be used to recommend revisions that ensure that deviations from the guidelines are limited. The Judicial Council shall report the results of this review to the Legislature and the State Department of Social Services on or before December 31, 1992. Thereafter, the Judicial Council shall conduct and report on the results of the required review at least every four years.

4067. Sections 4050, 4051, 4052, and 4066 shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date are repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends that date.

4068. It is the intent of the Legislature that the uniform guidelines provided by this article shall be reviewed by the Legislature at least every four years and revised as appropriate to ensure that their application results in the determination of appropriate child support award amounts. The review shall include consideration of changes necessitated by applicable federal laws and regulations. It is the intent of the Legislature that it shall establish the procedure for the initial review of the guidelines no later than October 1, 1994.
Article 3. Recovery for Cost of Support Provided Before Filing Proceeding

4100. This article applies only to a child born on or after January 1, 1989.

4101. (a) A support order may, in appropriate circumstances, based on all relevant facts, require one parent to pay to the other parent a reasonable amount for the cost of the support of the child for the shortest of the following periods before the filing of the proceeding:

(1) Three years.
(2) The date of mailing of the birth certificate or of the written notification by the custodial parent under Section 4104.
(3) The date of separation of the parents until the date of the filing of the proceeding.

(b) In determining whether to make a support order under this section, the court shall consider the diligence on the part of the custodial parent in bringing the proceeding for support.

4102. In determining the amount to be paid by a parent for support of the child and the period during which the duty of support is owed, a court enforcing the obligation of support shall consider all relevant facts, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

(a) Any agreements made between the parents before the date of the filing of the action.
(b) Any previous payments made for the support of the child by the parent from whom support is sought.
(c) Any bad faith on the part of either parent.
(d) Any undue delay in seeking to establish an order for child support, the reasons for the undue delay, and whether either parent has been prejudiced as a result of the delay.
(e) Any other factors deemed relevant by the court.

4103. The court shall review the incomes and expenses of the parents each year, or other relevant period of time, for which support is being requested under this article and may apply its guidelines and the child support laws in effect for each period.

4104. In circumstances where paternity has not been established or the parents were married but separated before the child’s date of birth, the court shall not order child support under this article, under any circumstances, unless one of the following requirements is satisfied:

(a) The father has received a copy of the birth certificate as provided in Section 10061 of the Health and Safety Code.
(b) The custodial parent has provided to the father by first-class mail, with return receipt requested, written notification of the father’s paternity and the father’s obligation to support the child.

4105. Any support ordered under this article shall not be in an amount that reduces a parent’s ability to provide appropriate support for any other child the parent has the duty to support if the support is actually being paid.
Article 4. Payment to Court Designated County Officer; Enforcement by District Attorney

4200. In any proceeding where a court makes or has made an order requiring the payment of child support to a parent receiving welfare moneys for the maintenance of minor children, the court shall do both of the following:

(a) Direct that the payments of support shall be made to the county officer designated by the court for that purpose.

(b) Direct the district attorney to appear on behalf of the welfare recipient in any proceeding to enforce the order.

4201. (a) In any proceeding where a court makes or has made an order requiring the payment of child support to the person having custody of a minor child, the court may do either or both of the following:

(1) Direct that the payments shall be made to the county officer designated by the court for that purpose.

(2) Direct the district attorney to appear on behalf of the minor children in any proceeding to enforce the order.

(b) The court shall include in its order made pursuant to this section any service charge imposed under the authority of Section 279 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

4202. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in a proceeding where the custodial parent resides in one county and the parent ordered to pay support resides in another county, the court may direct payment to be made to the county officer designated by the court for those purposes in the county of residence of the custodial parent, and may direct the district attorney of either county to enforce the order.

(b) Civil enforcement by the district attorney of the county of residence of the custodial parent, where the order is in the county of the noncustodial parent or any other county, may be brought in accordance with Section 4848. If the court directs the district attorney of the county of residence of the noncustodial parent to enforce the order, the expenses of the district attorney with respect to the enforcement is a charge upon the county of residence of the noncustodial parent.

4203. (a) Except as provided in Section 4202, expenses of the county officer designated by the court, and expenses of the district attorney incurred in the enforcement of an order of the type described in Section 4200 or 4201, are a charge upon the county where the proceedings are pending.

(b) Fees for service of process in the enforcement of an order of the type described in Section 4200 or 4201 are a charge upon the county where the process is served.
PART 3. SPOUSAL SUPPORT

CHAPTER 1. DUTY TO SUPPORT SPOUSE

4300. Subject to this division, a person shall support the person's spouse.

4301. Subject to Section 914, a person shall support the person's spouse while they are living together out of the separate property of the person when there is no community property or quasi-community property.

4302. A person is not liable for support of the person's spouse when the person is living separate from the spouse by agreement unless support is stipulated in the agreement.

4303. (a) The obligee spouse, or the county on behalf of the obligee spouse, may bring an action against the obligor spouse to enforce the duty of support.

(b) If the county furnishes support to a spouse, the county has the same right as the spouse to whom the support was furnished to secure reimbursement and obtain continuing support. The right of the county to reimbursement is subject to any limitation otherwise imposed by the law of this state.

(c) The court may order the obligor to pay the county reasonable attorney's fees and court costs in a proceeding brought by the county under this section.

CHAPTER 2. FACTORS TO BE CONSIDERED IN ORDERING SUPPORT

4320. In ordering spousal support under this part, the court shall consider all of the following circumstances:

(a) The extent to which the earning capacity of each party is sufficient to maintain the standard of living established during the marriage, taking into account all of the following:

1. The marketable skills of the supported party; the job market for those skills; the time and expenses required for the supported party to acquire the appropriate education or training to develop those skills; and the possible need for retraining or education to acquire other, more marketable skills or employment.

2. The extent to which the supported party's present or future earning capacity is impaired by periods of unemployment that were incurred during the marriage to permit the supported party to devote time to domestic duties.

(b) The extent to which the supported party contributed to the attainment of an education, training, a career position, or a license by the supporting party.

(c) The ability to pay of the supporting party, taking into account the supporting party's earning capacity, earned and unearned income, assets, and standard of living.

(d) The needs of each party based on the standard of living established during the marriage.

(e) The obligations and assets, including the separate property, of each party.

(f) The duration of the marriage.

(g) The ability of the supported party to engage in gainful employment without unduly interfering with the interests of dependent children in the custody of the party.

(h) The age and health of the parties.

(i) The immediate and specific tax consequences to each party.

(j) Any other factors the court determines are just and equitable.

4321. In a judgment of dissolution of marriage or legal separation of the parties, the court may deny support to a party out of the separate property of the other party in any of the following circumstances:

(a) The party has either a separate estate, or is earning the party’s own livelihood, or there is community property or quasi-community property sufficient to give the party proper support.

(b) The custody of the children has been awarded to the other party, who is supporting them.

4322. In an original or modification proceeding, where there are no children, and a party has or acquires a separate estate, including income from employment, sufficient for the party’s proper support, no support shall be ordered or continued against the other party.

4323. (a) Except as otherwise agreed to by the parties in writing, there is a rebuttable presumption, affecting the burden of proof, of decreased need for spousal support if the supported party is cohabiting with a person of the opposite sex. Upon a determination that circumstances have changed, the court may modify or terminate the spousal support as provided for in Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 3650) of Part 1.

(b) Holding oneself out to be the husband or wife of the person with whom one is cohabiting is not necessary to constitute cohabitation as the term is used in this section.

(c) Nothing in this section precludes later modification or termination of spousal support on proof of change of circumstances.

CHAPTER 3. SPOUSAL SUPPORT UPON DISSOLUTION OR LEGAL SEPARATION

4330. In a judgment of dissolution of marriage or legal separation of the parties, the court may order a party to pay for the support of the other party an amount, for a period of time, that the court determines is just and reasonable, based on the standard of living established during the marriage, taking into consideration the circumstances as provided in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 4320).

4331. (a) In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or for legal separation of the parties, the court may order a party to submit to an examination by a vocational training counselor. The examination shall include an assessment of the party’s ability to obtain employment based upon the party’s age, health, education, marketable skills, employment history, and the current availability of employment opportunities. The focus of the examination shall be on an assessment of the party’s ability to obtain employment that would allow the party to maintain herself or himself at the marital standard of living.

(b) The order may be made only on motion, for good cause, and on notice to the party to be examined and to all parties. The order shall specify the time, place, manner, conditions, scope of the examination, and the person or persons by whom it is to be made.

(c) A party who does not comply with an order under this section is subject to the same consequences provided for failure to comply with an examination ordered pursuant to Section 2032 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(d) “Vocational training counselor” for the purpose of this section means an individual with sufficient knowledge, skill, experience, training, or education in interviewing, administering, and interpreting tests for analysis of marketable skills, formulating career goals, planning courses of training and study, and assessing the job market, to qualify as an expert in vocational training under Section 720 of the Evidence Code.

(e) A vocational training counselor shall have at least the following qualifications:

(1) A master’s degree in the behavioral sciences.

(2) Be qualified to administer and interpret inventories for assessing career potential.

(3) Demonstrated ability in interviewing clients and assessing marketable skills with understanding of age constraints, physical and mental health, previous education and experience, and time and geographic mobility constraints.

(4) Knowledge of current employment conditions, job market, and wages in the indicated geographic area.

(5) Knowledge of education and training programs in the area with costs and time plans for these programs.

(f) The court may order the supporting spouse to pay, in addition to spousal support, the necessary expenses and costs of the counseling, retraining, or education.

4332. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or for legal separation of the parties, the court shall make specific factual findings with respect to the standard of living during the marriage, and, at the request of either party, the court shall make appropriate factual determinations with respect to other circumstances.

4333. An order for spousal support in a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or for legal separation of the parties may be made retroactive to the date of filing the notice of motion or order to show cause, or to any subsequent date.

4334. (a) If a court orders spousal support for a contingent period of time, the obligation of the supporting party terminates on the happening of the contingency. The court may, in the order, order the supported party to notify the supporting party, or the supporting party’s attorney of record, of the happening of the contingency.

(b) If the supported party fails to notify the supporting party, or the attorney of record of the supporting party, of the happening of the contingency and continues to accept spousal support payments, the supported party shall refund payments received that accrued after the happening of the contingency, except that the overpayments shall first be applied to spousal support payments that are then in default.

4335. An order for spousal support terminates at the end of the period provided in the order and shall not be extended unless the court retains jurisdiction in the order or under Section 4336.

4336. (a) Except on written agreement of the parties to the contrary or a court order terminating spousal support, the court retains jurisdiction indefinitely in a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or for legal separation of the parties where the marriage is of long duration.

(b) For the purpose of retaining jurisdiction, there is a presumption affecting the burden of producing evidence that a marriage of 10 years or more, from the date of marriage to the date of separation, is a marriage of long duration. However, the court may consider periods of separation during the marriage in determining whether the marriage is in fact of long duration. Nothing in this subdivision precludes a court from determining that a marriage of less than 10 years is a marriage of long duration.

(c) Nothing in this section limits the court’s discretion to terminate spousal support in later proceedings on a showing of changed circumstances.

(d) This section applies to the following:

(1) A proceeding filed on or after January 1, 1988.
(2) A proceeding pending on January 1, 1988, in which the court has not entered a permanent spousal support order or in which the court order is subject to modification.

4337. Except as otherwise agreed by the parties in writing, the obligation of a party under an order for the support of the other party terminates upon the death of either party or the remarriage of the other party.

4338. In the enforcement of an order for spousal support, the court shall resort to the property described below in the order indicated:

(a) The earnings, income, or accumulations of either spouse, while living separate and apart from the other spouse, which would have been community property if the spouse had not been living separate and apart from the other spouse.

(b) The community property.

(c) The quasi-community property.

(d) The other separate property of the party required to make the support payments.
4339. The court may order the supporting party to give reasonable security for payment of spousal support.

CHAPTER 4. PAYMENT TO COURT-DESIGNATED OFFICER; ENFORCEMENT BY DISTRICT ATTORNEY

4350. In any proceeding where a court makes or has made an order requiring the payment of spousal support, the court may direct that payment shall be made to the county officer designated by the court for that purpose. The court may include in its order made pursuant to this section any service charge imposed under the authority of Section 279 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

4351. (a) In any proceeding where the court has entered an order pursuant to Section 4350, the court may also refer the matter of enforcement of the spousal support order to the district attorney. The district attorney may bring such enforcement proceedings as the district attorney in the district attorney's discretion determines to be appropriate.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), in any case in which the district attorney is required to appear on behalf of a welfare recipient in a proceeding to enforce an order requiring payment of child support, the district attorney shall also enforce any order requiring payment to the welfare recipient of spousal support that is in arrears.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the district attorney from bringing an action or initiating process to enforce or punish the failure to obey an order for spousal support under any provision of law which empowers the district attorney to bring such an action or initiate such a process, whether or not there has been a referral by the court pursuant to this chapter.

4352. (a) Insofar as expenses of the county officer designated by the court and expenses of the district attorney incurred in the enforcement of an order referred by the court under this chapter exceed any service charge imposed under Section 279 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the expenses are a charge upon the county where the proceedings are pending.

(b) Fees for service of process in the enforcement of an order referred by the court under this chapter are a charge upon the county where the process is served.

CHAPTER 5. PROVISION FOR SUPPORT AFTER DEATH OF SUPPORTING PARTY

4360. (a) For the purpose of Section 4320, where it is just and reasonable in view of the circumstances of the parties, the court, in determining the needs of a supported spouse, may include an amount sufficient to purchase an annuity for the supported spouse or to maintain insurance for the benefit of the supported spouse on the life of the spouse required to make the payment of support, or may require the spouse required to make the payment of support to establish a trust to provide for the support of the supported spouse, so that the supported spouse will not be left without means of support in the event that the spousal support is terminated by the death of the party required to make the payment of support.

(b) Except as otherwise agreed to by the parties in writing, an order made under this section may be modified or terminated at the discretion of the court at any time before the death of the party required to make the payment of support.

PART 4. SUPPORT OF PARENTS

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

4400. Except as otherwise provided by law, an adult child shall, to the extent of his or her ability, support a parent who is in need and unable to maintain himself or herself by work.

4401. The promise of an adult child to pay for necessaries previously furnished to a parent described in Section 4400 is binding.

4402. The duty of support under this part is cumulative and not in substitution for any other duty.

4403. (a) Subject to subdivision (b):

(1) A parent, or the county on behalf of the parent, may bring an action against the child to enforce the duty of support under this part.

(2) If the county furnishes support to a parent, the county has the same right as the parent to whom the support was furnished to secure reimbursement and obtain continuing support.

(b) The right of the county to proceed on behalf of the parent or to obtain reimbursement is subject to any limitation otherwise imposed by the law of this state.

(c) The court may order the child to pay the county reasonable attorney's fees and court costs in a proceeding by the county under this section.

4404. In determining the amount to be ordered for support, the court shall consider the following circumstances of each party:

(a) Earning capacity and needs.

(b) Obligations and assets.

(c) Age and health.

(d) Standard of living.

(e) Other factors the court deems just and equitable.

4405. The court retains jurisdiction to modify or terminate an order for support where justice requires.

CHAPTER 2. RELIEF FROM DUTY TO SUPPORT PARENT WHO ABANDONED CHILD

4410. An adult child may file a petition in the county where a parent of the child resides requesting that the court make an order freeing the petitioner from the obligation otherwise imposed by law to support the parent. If the parent does not reside in this state, the petition shall be filed in the county where the adult child resides.
4411. The court shall make the order requested pursuant to Section 4410 only if the petition alleges and the court finds all of the following:
   (a) The child was abandoned by the parent when the child was a minor.
   (b) The abandonment continued for a period of two or more years before the time the child attained the age of 18 years.
   (c) During the period of abandonment the parent was physically and mentally able to provide support for the child.
4412. On the filing of a petition under this chapter, the clerk shall set the matter for hearing by the court and shall issue a citation, stating the time and place of the hearing, directed to the parent and to the parent’s conservator, if any, or, if the parent is deceased, the personal representative of the parent’s estate. At least five days before the date of the hearing, the citation and a copy of the petition shall be personally served on each person to whom it is directed, in the same manner as provided by law for the service of summons.
4413. If the parent is a resident of this state, the court does not have jurisdiction to make an order under this chapter until 30 days after the county counsel, or the district attorney in a county not having a county counsel, of the county in which the parent resides has been served with notice of the pendency of the proceeding.
4414. (a) If, upon hearing, the court determines that the requirements of Section 4411 are satisfied, the court shall make an order that the petitioner is relieved from the obligation otherwise imposed by law to support the parent.
   (b) An order under this section also releases the petitioner with respect to any state law under which a child is required to do any of the following:
      (1) Pay for the support, care, maintenance, and the like of a parent.
      (2) Reimburse the state or a local public agency for furnishing the support, care, maintenance, or the like of a parent.

PART 5. ENFORCEMENT OF SUPPORT ORDERS

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

4500. An order for child, family, or spousal support that is made, entered, or enforceable in this state is enforceable under this code, whether or not the order was made or entered pursuant to this code.
4501. A family support order is enforceable in the same manner and to the same extent as a child support order.
4502. A party may renew a judgment for child, family, or spousal support as provided in Article 2 (commencing with Section 683.110) of Chapter 3 of Title 9 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.
4503. If a parent has been ordered to make payments for the support of a minor child, an action to recover an arrearage in those payments may be maintained at any time within the period otherwise specified for the enforcement of such a judgment, notwithstanding the fact that the child has attained the age of 18 years.

4504. If the court has ordered a noncustodial parent to pay for the support of a child, payments for the support of the child made by the federal government pursuant to the Social Security Act or Railroad Retirement Act because of the retirement or disability of the noncustodial parent and transmitted to the custodial parent each month shall be credited toward the amount ordered by the court to be paid for that month by the noncustodial parent for support of the child unless the payments made by the federal government were taken into consideration by the court in determining the amount of support to be paid by the noncustodial parent.

4505. A court may require a parent who alleges that the parent's default in a child or family support order is due to the parent's unemployment to submit to the appropriate child support enforcement agency or any other entity designated by the court, including, but not limited to, the court itself, each two weeks, or at a frequency deemed appropriate by the court, a list of at least five different places the parent has applied for employment.

4506. (a) An abstract of a judgment ordering a party to pay spousal, child, or family support to the other party shall be certified by the clerk of the court where the judgment was entered and shall contain all of the following:

1. The title of the court where the judgment is entered and the cause and number of the proceeding.
2. The date of entry of the judgment and of any renewal of the judgment.
3. Where the judgment and any renewals are entered in the records of the court.
4. The name and last known address of the party ordered to pay support.
5. The name and address of the party to whom support payments are ordered to be paid.
6. The social security number, birth date, and driver's license number of the party to whom support payments are to be paid. If any of those numbers are not known to the party to whom support payments are to be paid, that fact shall be indicated on the abstract of the court judgment.
7. Whether a stay of enforcement has been ordered by the court and, if so, the date the stay ends.
8. The date of issuance of the abstract.
9. Any other information deemed reasonable and appropriate by the Judicial Council.

(b) The Judicial Council may develop a form for an abstract of a judgment ordering a party to pay child, family, or spousal support to another party which contains the information required by subsection (a).

(c) As used in this section, "judgment" includes an order for child, family, or spousal support.

CHAPTER 2. DEPOSIT OF MONEY TO SECURE FUTURE CHILD SUPPORT PAYMENTS

4550. "Child support obligee" as used in this chapter means either the parent, guardian, or other person to whom child support has been ordered to be paid or the district attorney designated by the court to receive the payment. The district attorney is the "child support obligee" for the purposes of this chapter for all cases in which an application for services has been filed under Part D of Title IV of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 651 et seq.).

4551. Except as provided in this section, this chapter:

(a) Does not apply to a temporary child support order.

(b) Applies to an application for modification of child support filed on or after January 1, 1992, but this chapter does not constitute the basis for the modification.

(c) Applies to an application for modification of child support in a case where the child support obligee has previously waived the establishment of a child support trust account pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 4560 and now seeks the establishment of the child support trust account.

(d) Applies to an order or judgment entered by the court on or after January 1, 1993, ordering a child support obligor to pay a then existing child support arrearage that the child support obligor has unlawfully failed to pay as of the date of that order or judgment, including the arrearages which were incurred before January 1, 1992.

4552. The Judicial Council shall promulgate such rules of court and publish such related judicial forms as the Judicial Council determines are necessary and appropriate to implement this chapter. In taking these steps, the Judicial Council shall ensure the uniform statewide application of this chapter and compliance with Part D of Title IV of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 651 et seq.) and any regulations promulgated thereunder.

4553. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to permit any action or omission by the state or any of its political subdivisions that would place the state in noncompliance with any requirement of federal law, including, but not limited to, the state reimbursement requirements of Part D of Title IV of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 651 et seq.) and any regulations promulgated thereunder.

4554. This chapter applies notwithstanding any other law.
Article 2. Order for Deposit of Money

4560. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b) or in Article 3 (commencing with Section 4565), every order or judgment to pay child support may also require the payment by the child support obligor of up to one year's child support or such lesser amount as is equal to the child support amount due to be paid by the child support obligor between the time of the date of the order and the date when the support obligation will be terminated by operation of law. This amount shall be known as the “child support security deposit.”

(b) Unless expressly waived by the child support obligee, the court may order the establishment of a child support trust account pursuant to this chapter in every proceeding in which a child support obligation is imposed by order of the court. Among other reasons, the court may decline to establish a child support trust account upon its finding that an adequately funded child support trust account already exists pursuant to this chapter for the benefit of the child or children involved in the proceeding or that the child support obligor has provided adequate alternative security which is equivalent to the child support security deposit otherwise required by this chapter.

4561. If a child support security deposit is ordered, the court shall order that the moneys be deposited by the child support obligor in an interest-bearing account with a state or federally chartered commercial bank, a trust company authorized to transact trust business in this state, or a savings and loan association, or in shares of a federally insured credit union doing business in this state and having a trust department, subject to withdrawal only upon authorization of the court. The moneys so deposited shall be used exclusively to guarantee the monthly payment of child support.

4562. The court shall also order that evidence of the deposit shall be provided by the child support obligor in the form specified by the court, which shall be served upon the child support obligee and filed with the court within a reasonable time specified by the court, not to exceed 30 days.

4563. An account established pursuant to this chapter shall be dissolved and any remaining funds in the account shall be returned to the support obligor, with any interest earned thereon, upon the full payment and cessation of the child support obligation as provided by court order or operation of law.

Article 3. Application to Reduce or Eliminate Deposit

4565. (a) Before entry of a child support order pursuant to Section 4560, the court shall give the child support obligor reasonable notice and opportunity to file an application to reduce or eliminate the child support security deposit on either of the following grounds:

(1) The obligor has provided adequate alternative equivalent security to assure timely payment of the amount required by Section 4560.
(2) The obligor is unable, without undue financial hardship, to pay the support deposit required by Section 4560.

(b) The application shall be supported by all reasonable and necessary financial and other information required by the court to establish the existence of either ground for relief.

4566. Upon the filing of an application under Section 4565 with the court and the service of the application upon the child support obligee and any other party to the proceedings, the court shall provide notice and opportunity for any party opposing the application to file responsive financial and other information setting forth the factual and legal bases for the party's opposition.

4567. The court shall then provide an opportunity for hearing, and shall thereafter enter its order exercising its discretion under all the facts and circumstances as disclosed in the admissible evidence before it so as to maximize the payment and deposit of the amount required by Section 4560, or an equivalent adequate security for the payment thereof, without imposition of undue financial hardship on the support obligor. If the court finds that the deposit of the amount required by Section 4560 would impose an undue financial hardship upon the child support obligor, the court shall reduce this amount to an amount that the child support obligor can pay as the child support security deposit without undue financial hardship.

Article 4. Use of Deposit to Make Delinquent Support Payment

4570. (a) Upon the application of the child support obligee stating that the support payment is 10 or more days late, the court shall immediately order disbursement of funds from the account established pursuant to this chapter solely for the purpose of providing the amount of child support then in arrears.

(b) Funds so disbursed shall be used exclusively for the support, maintenance, and education of the child or children subject to the child support order.

(c) The court shall also order the account to be replenished by the child support obligor in the same amounts as are expended from the account to pay the amount of child support which the child support obligor has failed to pay the child support obligee in a timely manner.

4571. The court shall cause a copy of the application, as well as its order to disburse and replenish funds, to be served upon the child support obligor, who shall be subject to contempt of court for failure to comply with the order.

4572. The court shall cause a copy of its order to disburse and replenish funds to be served upon the depository institution where the child support security deposit is maintained, and upon the district attorney with jurisdiction over the case.

4573. If support is ordered to be paid through the district attorney on behalf of a minor child not receiving public assistance pursuant to the Family Economic Security Act of 1982 (Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 11200) of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code), the district attorney shall forward the support received pursuant to this chapter to the custodial parent or other person having care or control of the minor child or children involved.

CHAPTER 3. DEPOSIT OF ASSETS TO SECURE FUTURE CHILD SUPPORT PAYMENTS

4600. The purpose of this chapter is to provide an extraordinary remedy for cases of bad faith failure to pay child support obligations.

4601. "Deposit holder" as used in this chapter means the district attorney, county officer, or trustee designated by the court to receive assets deposited pursuant to this chapter to secure future support payments.

4602. If requested by an obligor-parent, the deposit holder shall prepare a statement setting forth disbursements and receipts made under this chapter.

4603. The deposit holder who is responsible for any money or property and for any disbursements under this chapter is not liable for any action undertaken in good faith and in conformance with this chapter.

4604. (a) If the deposit holder incurs fees or costs under this chapter which are not compensated by the deduction under subdivision (c) of Section 4630 (including, but not limited to, fees or costs incurred in a sale of assets pursuant to this chapter and in the preparation of a statement pursuant to Section 4602), the court shall, after a hearing, order the obligor-parent to pay the reasonable fees and costs incurred by the deposit holder. The hearing shall be held not less than 20 days after the deposit holder serves notice of motion or order to show cause upon the obligor-parent.

(b) Fees and costs ordered to be paid under this section shall be in addition to any deposit made under this chapter but shall not exceed whichever of the following is less:

(1) Five percent of one year's child support obligation.

(2) The total amount ordered deposited under Section 4614.

Article 2. Order for Deposit of Assets

4610. (a) Subject to Sections 4613, 4614, and 4615, in any proceeding where the court has ordered either or both parents to pay any amount for the support of a minor child, upon an order to show cause or notice of motion, application, and declaration signed under penalty of perjury by the person or county officer to whom support has been ordered to have been paid stating that the parent or parents so ordered is in arrears in payment in a sum equal to the amount of 60 days of payments, the court shall issue to the parent or parents ordered to pay support, following notice and opportunity for a hearing, an order requiring that the parent or parents deposit assets to secure future support payments with the deposit holder designated by the court.

(b) In a proceeding under this article, upon request of any party, the court may also issue an ex parte restraining order as specified in Section 4620.

4611. In a proceeding under this chapter, an obligor-parent shall rebut both of the following presumptions:
(a) The nonpayment of child support was willful, without good faith.
(b) The obligor had the ability to pay the support.

4612. An obligor-parent alleged to be in arrears may use any of the following grounds as a defense to the motion filed pursuant to this article or as a basis for filing a motion to stop a sale or use of assets under Section 4631:
(a) Child support payments are not in arrears.
(b) Laches.
(c) There has been a change in the custody of the children.
(d) There is a pending motion for reduction in support due to a reduction in income.
(e) Illness or disability.
(f) Unemployment.
(g) Serious adverse impact on the immediate family of the obligor-parent residing with the obligor-parent that outweighs the impact of denial of the motion or stopping the sale on obligee.
(h) Serious impairment of the ability of the obligor-parent to generate income.
(i) Other emergency conditions.

4613. The court shall not issue an order pursuant to this article unless the court determines that one or more of the following conditions exist:
(a) The obligor-parent is not receiving salary or wages subject to an assignment pursuant to Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 5200) and there is reason to believe that the obligor-parent has earned income from some source of employment.
(b) An assignment of a portion of salary or wages pursuant to Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 5200) would not be sufficient to meet the amount of the support obligation, for reasons other than a change of circumstances which would qualify for a reduction in the amount of child support ordered.
(c) The job history of the obligor-parent shows that an assignment of a portion of salary or wages pursuant to Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 5200), would be difficult to enforce or would not be a practical means for securing the payment of the support obligation, due to circumstances including, but not limited to, multiple concurrent or consecutive employers.

4614. The designation of assets subject to an order pursuant to this article shall be based upon concern for maximizing the liquidity and ready conversion into cash of the deposited asset. In all instances, the assets shall include a sum of money up to or equal in value to one year of support payments or six thousand dollars ($6,000) whichever is less, or any other assets, personal or real, designated by the court which equal in value up to one year of payments for support of the minor child, or six thousand dollars ($6,000), whichever is less, subject to Section 703.070 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

4615. In lieu of depositing cash or other assets as provided in Section 4614, the obligor-parent may, if approved by the court, provide a performance bond secured by real property or other assets of the obligor-parent and equal in value to one year of payments.

4616. Upon deposit of an asset which is not readily convertible into money, the court may, after a hearing, order the sale of that asset and the deposit of the proceeds with the deposit holder. Not less than 20 days written notice of the hearing shall be served on the obligor-parent.

4617. (a) If the asset ordered to be deposited is real property, the order shall be certified as an abstract of judgment in accordance with Section 674 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(b) A deposit of real property is made effective by recordation of the certified abstract with the county recorder.

(c) The deposited real property and the rights, benefits, and liabilities attached to that property shall continue in the possession of the legal owner.

(d) For purposes of Section 701.545 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the date of the issuance of the order to deposit assets shall be construed as the date notice of levy on an interest in real property was served on the judgment debtor.

Article 3. Ex Parte Restraining Orders

4620. (a) During the pendency of a proceeding under this chapter, upon the application of either party in the manner provided by Part 4 (commencing with Section 240) of Division 2, the court may, without a hearing, issue ex parte orders restraining any person from transferring, encumbering, hypothecating, concealing, or in any way disposing of any property, real or personal, whether community, quasi-community, or separate, except in the usual course of business or for the necessities of life, and if the order is directed against a party, requiring the party to notify the other party of any proposed extraordinary expenditures and to account to the court for all such extraordinary expenditures.

(b) The matter shall be made returnable not later than 20 days, or if good cause appears to the court, 25 days from the date of the order at which time the ex parte order shall expire.

(c) The court, at the hearing, shall determine for which property the obligor-parent shall be required to report extraordinary expenditures and shall specify what is deemed an extraordinary expenditure for purposes of this subdivision.

(d) An order issued pursuant to this section after the hearing shall state on its face the date of expiration of the order, which shall expire in one year or upon deposit of assets or money pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 4610), whichever first occurs.

Article 4. Use or Sale of Assets to Make Support Payments

4630. (a) Upon an obligor-parent's failure, within the time specified by the court, to make reasonable efforts to cure the default in child support payments or to comply with a court-approved payment plan, if payments continue in the arrears, the deposit holder shall, not less than 25 days after providing the obligor-parent or parents with a written notice served personally or with return receipt requested, unless a motion or order to show cause has been filed to stop the use or sale, use the money or sell or otherwise process the deposited assets for an amount sufficient to pay the arrearage and the amount ordered by the court for the support of the minor child currently due.

(b) Assets deposited pursuant to an order issued under Article 2 (commencing with Section 4610) shall be construed as being assets subject to levy pursuant to Article 6 (commencing with Section 701.510) of Chapter 3 of Division 2 of Title 9 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The sale of assets shall be conducted in accordance with Article 6 (commencing with Section 701.510) and Article 7 (commencing with Section 701.810) of Chapter 3 of Division 2 of Title 9 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(c) The deposit holder may deduct from the deposited money the sum of one dollar ($1) for each payment made pursuant to this section.

4631. (a) An obligor-parent may file a motion to stop the use of the money or the sale of the asset under this article within 15 days after service of notice on the obligor-parent pursuant to Section 4630.

(b) The clerk of the court shall set the motion for hearing not less than 20 days after service of the notice of motion and the motion on the person or county officer to whom support has been ordered to have been paid.

4632. An obligor-parent alleged to be in arrears under this article may use any ground set forth in Section 4612 as a basis for filing a motion under Section 4631 to stop a sale or use of assets under this article.

Article 5. Return of Assets of Obligor

4640. The deposit holder shall return all assets subject to court order under Article 2 (commencing with Section 4610) to the obligor-parent when both of the following occur:

(a) One year has elapsed since the court issued the order described under Article 2 (commencing with Section 4610).

(b) The obligor-parent has made all support payments on time during that one-year period.
4641. If the deposited asset is real property and the requirements of Section 4640 have been satisfied, the deposit holder shall do all of the following:
(a) Prepare a release in accordance with Section 697.370 of the Code of Civil Procedure.
(b) Request the clerk of the court where the order to deposit assets was made to certify the release.
(c) Record the certified release in the office of the county recorder where the certified abstract was recorded under Section 4617.

CHAPTER 4. CHILD SUPPORT DELINQUENCY REPORTING

4700. This chapter may be cited as the Child Support Delinquency Reporting Law.
4701. (a) The State Department of Social Services shall administer a statewide automated system for the reporting of court-ordered child support obligations to credit reporting agencies.
(b) The department shall design and develop standards for the system in conjunction with representatives of the California Family Support Council and the credit reporting industry.
(c) The standards for the system shall be consistent with credit reporting industry standards and reporting format and with the department's statewide central automated system for support enforcement.
(d) The standards shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following:
(1) Court-ordered child support obligations and delinquent payments, including amounts owed and by whom. The California district attorneys, on a monthly basis, shall update this information, and then submit it to the department which, in turn, shall consolidate and transmit it to the credit reporting agencies.
(2) Before the initial reporting of a court-ordered child support obligation or a delinquent payment, the district attorney shall attempt to notify the obligor parent of the proposed action and give 30 days to contest in writing the accuracy of the information, or to pay the arrearage, if any, in compliance with the due process requirements of the laws of this state.
(e) The department and the district attorneys are responsible for the accuracy of information provided pursuant to this section, and the information shall be based upon the data available at the time the information is provided. Each of these organizations and the credit reporting agencies shall follow reasonable procedures to ensure maximum possible accuracy of the information provided. Neither the department, nor the district attorneys are liable for any consequences of the failure of a parent to contest the accuracy of the information within the time allowed under paragraph (2) of subdivision (d).
CHAPTER 5. CIVIL PENALTY FOR CHILD SUPPORT DELINQUENCY

4720. “Support” for the purposes of this chapter means support as defined in Section 150.
4721. This chapter applies only to installments of child support that are due on or after January 1, 1992.
4722. (a) Any person with a court order for child support, the payments on which are more than 30 days in arrears, may file and then serve a notice of delinquency, as described in this chapter.
   (b) Except as provided in Section 4726, and subject to Section 4727, any amount of child support specified in a notice of delinquency that remains unpaid for more than 30 days after the notice of delinquency has been filed and served shall incur a penalty of 6 percent of the delinquent payment for each month that it remains unpaid, up to a maximum of 72 percent of the unpaid balance due.
4723. (a) The notice of delinquency shall be signed under penalty of perjury by the support obligee.
   (b) The notice of delinquency shall state all of the following:
      (1) The amount that the child support obligor is in arrears.
      (2) The installments of support due, the amounts, if any, that have been paid, and the balance due.
      (3) That any unpaid installment of child support will incur a penalty of 6 percent of the unpaid support per month until paid, to a maximum of 72 percent of the original amount of the unpaid support, unless the support arrearage is paid within 30 days of the date of service of the notice of delinquency.
   (c) In the absence of a protective order prohibiting the support obligor from knowing the whereabouts of the child or children for whom support is payable, or otherwise excusing the requirements of this subdivision, the notice of delinquency shall also include a current address and telephone number of all of the children for whom support is due and, if different from that of the support obligee, the address at which court papers may be served upon the support obligee.
4724. The notice of delinquency may be served personally or by certified mail or in any manner provided for service of summons.
4725. If the child support owed, or any arrearages, interest, or penalty, remains unpaid more than 30 days after serving the notice of delinquency, the support obligee may file a motion to obtain a judgment for the amount owed, which shall be enforceable in any manner provided by law for the enforcement of judgments.
4726. No penalties may be imposed pursuant to this chapter if, in the discretion of the court, all of the following conditions are met:
      (a) Within a timely fashion after service of the notice of delinquency, the support obligor files and serves a motion to determine arrearages and to show cause why the penalties provided in this chapter should not be imposed.
(b) At the hearing on the motion filed by the support obligor, the court finds that the support obligor has proved any of the following:

1. The child support payments were not 30 days in arrears as of the date of service of the notice of delinquency and are not in arrears as of the date of the hearing.

2. The support obligor suffered serious illness, disability, or unemployment which substantially impaired the ability of the support obligor to comply fully with the support order and the support obligor has made every possible effort to comply with the support order.

3. The support obligor is a public employee and for reasons relating to fiscal difficulties of the employing entity the obligor has not received a paycheck for 30 or more days.

4. It would not be in the interests of justice to impose a penalty.

4727. Any penalty due under this chapter shall not be greater than 6 percent per month of the original amount of support arrearages or support installment, nor may the penalties on any arrearage amount or support installment exceed 72 percent of the original amount due, regardless of whether or not the installments have been listed on more than one notice of delinquency.

4728. Penalties due pursuant to this chapter may be enforced by the issuance of a writ of execution in the same manner as a writ of execution may be issued for unpaid installments of child support, as described in Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 5100), except that payment of penalties under this chapter may not take priority over payment of arrearages or current support.

4729. The district attorney shall enforce child support obligations utilizing the penalties provided for by this chapter to the extent permitted by federal law.

4730. At any hearing to set or modify the amount payable for the support of a minor child, the court shall not consider any penalties imposed under this chapter in determining the amount of current support to be paid.

4731. A subsequent notice of delinquency may be served and filed at any time. The subsequent notice shall indicate those child support arrearages and ongoing installments that have been listed on a previous notice.

4732. The Judicial Council shall adopt forms or notices for the use of the procedures provided by this chapter.

CHAPTER 6. UNIFORM RECIPROCAL ENFORCEMENT OF SUPPORT ACT

4800. This chapter may be cited as the Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement of Support Act.

4801. The purposes of this chapter are to improve and extend by reciprocal legislation the enforcement of duties of support and to make uniform the law with respect thereto.

4802. As used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise:
(a) "Court" means the superior court of this state and, when the context requires, means the court of any other state as defined in a substantially similar reciprocal law.
(b) "Duty of support" means a duty of support whether imposed or imposable by law or by order, decree, or judgment of any court whether interlocutory or final or whether incidental to a proceeding separation of the parties, or to an action for divorce, separation, separate maintenance, or otherwise and includes the duty to pay arrearages of support past due and unpaid.

(c) "Governor" includes any person performing the functions of Governor or the executive authority of any state covered by this chapter.
(d) "Initiating state" means a state in which a proceeding pursuant to this or a substantially similar reciprocal law is commenced. "Initiating court" means the court in which a proceeding is commenced.
(e) "Law" includes both common and statutory law.
(f) "Obligee" means a person including a state or political subdivision to whom a duty of support is owed or a person including a state or political subdivision that has commenced a proceeding for enforcement of an alleged duty of support. It is immaterial if the person to whom a duty of support is owed is a recipient of public assistance.
(g) "Obligor" means a person owing a duty of support or against whom a proceeding for the enforcement of a duty of support is commenced.
(h) "Prosecuting attorney" means the public official in the appropriate place who has the duty to enforce criminal laws relating to the failure to provide for the support of any person.
(i) "Responding state" means a state in which a responsive proceeding pursuant to the proceeding in the initiating state is commenced. "Responding court" means the court in which the responsive proceeding is commenced.
(j) "State" includes a state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and any foreign jurisdiction in which this or a substantially similar law or procedure is in effect or which has established enforcement procedures with or without court participation under a treaty, the application of which is extended to this state.
(k) "Support order" means a judgment, decree, or order of support in favor of an obligee whether temporary or final, or subject to modification, revocation, or remission, regardless of the kind of action or proceeding in which it is entered.

Orders.

(m) "Registering court" means a court of this state in which a support order of a rendering state is registered.

(o) "Rendering court" means a court which has issued a support order for which registration is sought.
(p) "Foreign support order" includes a foreign order for the assignment of wages for the satisfaction of a support order.

4803. (a) The remedies provided in this chapter are in addition to and not in substitution for any other remedies.
(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a) or any other provision of law, no party to an action under this chapter, nor assignee of a party of an action under this chapter, is entitled to attorney's fees from the opposing party for prosecuting or defending the action, except where the court finds that the opposing party has not prosecuted or defended the action in good faith.

4804. Duties of support arising under the law of this state, when applicable under Section 4820, bind the obligor, present in this state, regardless of the presence or residence of the obligee.

4805. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, privately retained counsel may represent an obligee in any proceeding under this chapter.

Article 2. Criminal Enforcement

4810. (a) The Governor of this state may do either of the following:
(1) Demand of the Governor of another state the surrender of a person found in that state who is charged criminally in this state with failing to provide for the support of any person.
(2) Surrender on demand by the Governor of another state a person found in this state who is charged criminally in another state with failing to provide for the support of any person.
(b) Provisions for extradition of criminals not inconsistent with this chapter apply to the demand even if the person whose surrender is demanded was not in the demanding state at the time of the commission of the crime and has not fled therefrom.
(c) The demand, the oath, and any proceedings for extradition pursuant to this section need not state or show that the person whose surrender is demanded has fled from justice or at the time of the commission of the crime was in the demanding state.

4811. (a) Before making the demand on the Governor of another state for the surrender of a person charged criminally in this state with failing to provide for the support of any person, the Governor of this state may require any prosecuting attorney of this state to satisfy the Governor that at least 60 days prior thereto the obligee brought an action for support under this chapter, or that the bringing of an action would be of no avail.

(b) If, under a substantially similar law, the Governor of another state makes a demand upon the Governor of this state for the surrender of a person charged criminally in that state with failure to provide for the support of a person, the Governor may require any prosecuting attorney to investigate the demand and to report to the Governor whether an action for support has been brought or would be effective. If it appears to the Governor that an action for support would be effective but has not been brought, the Governor may delay honoring the demand for a reasonable time to permit the bringing of an action for support.

(c) If an action for support has been brought, and the person demanded has prevailed in that action, the Governor may decline to honor the demand. If the obligee prevailed therein and the person demanded is subject to a support order, the Governor may decline to honor the demand if the person demanded is complying with the support order.

Article 3. Civil Enforcement

4820. Duties of support applicable under this chapter are those imposed under the laws of any state where the obligor was present for the period during which support is sought. The obligor is presumed to have been present in the responding state during the period for which support is sought until otherwise shown.

4821. If a state or a political subdivision furnishes support to an individual obligee, it has the same right to initiate an action under this chapter as the individual obligee for the purpose of securing reimbursement for support furnished and of obtaining continuing support.

4822. All duties of support, including the duty to pay arrearages, are enforceable by an action under this chapter, including a proceeding for civil contempt. The defense that the parties are immune to suit because of their relationship as husband and wife or parent and child is not available to the obligor.

4824. (a) The complaint or claim shall be verified and shall state the name and, so far as known to the obligee, the address and circumstances of the obligor and the persons for whom support is sought, and all other pertinent information. Verification shall be in accordance with the requirements of the initiating state. The obligee may include in or attach to the complaint any information which may help in locating or identifying the obligor, including a photograph of the obligor, a description of any distinguishing marks on the obligor’s person, other names and aliases by which the obligor has been or is known, the name of the obligor’s employer, the obligor’s fingerprints, and the obligor’s social security number.

(b) The complaint may be filed in the appropriate court of any state in which the obligee resides. The court shall not decline or refuse to accept and forward the complaint on the ground that it should be filed with some other court of this or any other state where there is pending a proceeding for dissolution of the marriage or for legal separation of the parties, or another action for divorce, separation, annulment, dissolution, habeas corpus, adoption, or custody, between the same parties, or where another court has already issued a support order in some other proceeding and has retained jurisdiction for its enforcement.

(c) When the obligee removes the obligee's residence from the county in which the proceeding was initiated to another county in the state, the court may transfer the proceeding to the new county of residence. The clerk of the court in which the proceeding was initiated shall forward certified copies of all documents necessary for continued prosecution of the proceeding to the county where the proceeding was transferred. The clerk of the court to which the proceeding has been transferred shall inform the court of the responding state that the case has been transferred, and that payment should be made through the appropriate agency of the transeree county. Transfer procedures under this section may be initiated by the obligee or by the court, prosecuting official, or clerk of either county or of the responding state.

4825. If this state is acting as an initiating state, the prosecuting attorney, upon the request of the court or the obligee, shall initiate proceedings under this chapter. If the prosecuting attorney neglects or refuses to initiate proceedings, the Attorney General may order the prosecuting attorney to comply with the request of the court or may undertake the initiation of proceedings.

4826. A complaint on behalf of a minor obligee may be executed and filed by a person having legal custody of the minor without appointment as guardian ad litem.

4827. If the initiating court or agency finds that the complaint or claim sets forth facts from which it may be determined that the obligor owes a duty of support and that a court of the responding state may obtain jurisdiction of the obligor or the obligor's property, the court or agency shall so certify and cause three copies of the complaint or claim and its certificate and one copy of this chapter or of the declaration of reciprocity made pursuant to Section 4844 to be sent to the responding state. Certification shall be in accordance with the requirements of the initiating state. If the name and address of the responding court is unknown and the responding state has an information agency comparable to that established in the initiating state, it shall cause the copies to be sent to the state information agency or other proper official of the responding state, with a request that the agency or official forward them to the proper court and that the court of the responding state acknowledge their receipt to the initiating court.

4828. An initiating court shall not require payment of either a filing fee or other costs from the obligee but may request the responding court to collect fees and costs from the obligor. A responding court shall not require payment of a filing fee or other costs from the obligee but it may direct that all fees and costs requested by the initiating court and incurred in this state when acting as a responding state, including fees for filing of pleadings, service of process, seizure of property, stenographic or duplication service, or other service supplied to the obligor, be paid in whole or in part by the obligor or by the county. These costs or fees do not have priority over amounts due to the obligee.

4829. (a) If the court of this state believes that the obligor may flee, it may do either of the following:

(1) As an initiating court, request in its certificate that the responding court obtain the body of the obligor by appropriate process.

(2) As a responding court, obtain the body of the obligor by appropriate process.

(b) Thereupon it may release the obligor upon the obligor's own recognizance or upon the giving of a bond in an amount set by the court to assure the obligor's appearance at the hearing.

4830. (a) The Attorney General is hereby designated as the state information agency under this chapter.

(b) The state information agency shall:

(1) Compile a list of the courts and their addresses in this state having jurisdiction under this chapter and transmit the same to the state information agency of every other state which has adopted this or a substantially similar law. Upon the adjournment of each session of the Legislature, the Attorney General shall distribute copies of any amendments to this chapter and a statement of their effective dates to all other state information agencies.

(2) Maintain a register of such lists of courts received from other states and transmit copies thereof promptly to every court in this state having jurisdiction under this chapter.

(3) Forward to the court in this state which has jurisdiction over the obligor or the obligor's property petitions, certificates, and copies of the act it receives from courts or information agencies of other states.

(c) If the state information agency does not know the location of the obligor or the obligor's property in the state and no state location service is available, it shall use all means at its disposal to obtain this information, including the examination of official records in the state and other sources such as telephone directories, real property records, vital statistics records, police records, requests for the name and address from employers who are able or willing to cooperate, records of motor vehicle license offices, requests made to the tax offices both state and federal where such offices are able to cooperate, and requests made to the Social Security Administration as permitted by the Social Security Act as amended.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, copies of all documents used to initiate enforcement of any interstate child support obligation shall be sent directly to the state information agency.
4831. (a) After the responding court receives copies of the complaint, certificate, and act from the initiating court, the clerk of the court shall docket the case and notify the prosecuting attorney of that action. Claims received by this state from an initiating agency shall be forwarded to the district attorney for preparation and filing of appropriate pleadings.

(b) The prosecuting attorney shall prosecute the case diligently. The prosecuting attorney shall take all action necessary to enable the court to obtain jurisdiction over the obligor or the obligor's property in accordance with law. The prosecuting attorney shall, upon being notified that the cause has been docketed, either (1) request the court to issue a citation requiring the defendant to appear personally at a specified time and place to show cause why an order should not be issued on the basis of the complaint on file and cause a copy of the complaint and of the citation to be served upon the obligor at least 10 days before the hearing or (2) request the issuance of a summons and cause a copy of the complaint and summons to be served upon the obligor.

(c) If the prosecuting attorney neglects or refuses to prosecute the case pursuant to this chapter, the Attorney General may order the prosecuting attorney to prosecute the case or may undertake the prosecution.

4832. (a) The prosecuting attorney on its own initiative shall use all means at its disposal to locate the obligor or the obligor's property, and if because of inaccuracies in the petition or otherwise the court cannot obtain jurisdiction, the prosecuting attorney shall inform the court of what the prosecuting attorney has done and request the court to continue the case pending receipt of more accurate information or an amended complaint from the initiating court.

(b) If the obligor or the obligor's property is not found in the county, and the prosecuting attorney discovers that the obligor or the obligor's property may be found in another county of this state or in another state, the prosecuting attorney shall so inform the court. Thereupon the clerk of the court shall forward the documents received from the court in the initiating state to a court in the other county or to a court in the other state or to the information agency or other proper official of the other state with a request that the documents be forwarded to the proper court. All powers and duties provided by this chapter apply to the recipient of the documents so forwarded. If the clerk of a court of this state forwards documents to another court, the clerk shall forthwith notify the initiating court.

(c) If the prosecuting attorney has no information as to the location of the obligor or the obligor's property, the prosecuting attorney shall so inform the initiating court.

4833. If the responding court finds a duty of support, it may order the obligor to furnish support or reimbursement therefor and subject the property of the obligor to the order. Support orders made pursuant to this chapter shall require that payments be made to the county clerk, probation officer, or other officer of the court or county officer designated by the court for that purpose. The court and prosecuting attorney of any county in which the obligor is present or has property have the same powers and duties to enforce the order as have those of the county in which it was first issued. If enforcement is impossible or cannot be completed in the county in which the order was issued, the prosecuting attorney shall send a certified copy of the order to the prosecuting attorney of any county in which it appears that proceedings to enforce the order would be effective. The prosecuting attorney to whom the certified copy of the order is forwarded shall proceed with enforcement and report the results of the proceedings to the court first issuing the order.

4834. If the obligee is not present at the hearing and the obligor denies owing the duty of support alleged in the complaint or offers evidence which constitutes a defense, the court, upon request of either party, shall continue the case for further hearing and the submission of evidence by both parties either by deposition or personal appearance. The court may designate the judge of the initiating court as a person before whom a deposition may be taken.

4835. The responding court shall cause a copy of all support orders to be sent to the initiating court or agency and to the obligor.

4836. In addition to the foregoing powers, a responding court may subject the obligor to any terms and conditions proper to ensure compliance with its orders and in particular may do any one or more of the following:

(a) Require the obligor to furnish a cash deposit or bond of a character and amount to ensure payment of any amount due.

(b) Require the obligor to report personally and to make payments at specified intervals to the county clerk, probation officer, or other officer of the court or county officer designated by the court for such purpose.

(c) Punish under the power of contempt the obligor who violates any order of the court.

4837. A responding court has the following duties which may be carried out through the county clerk, probation officer, or other officer of the court or county officer designated by the court for that purpose:

(a) To transmit to the initiating court any payment made by the obligor pursuant to an order of the court or otherwise.

(b) To furnish to the initiating court upon request a certified statement of all payments made by the obligor.

4838. An initiating court shall receive and disburse forthwith all payments made by the obligor or sent by the responding court. This duty may be carried out through the county clerk, probation officer, or other officer of the court or county officer designated by the court for that purpose.

4839. Laws attaching a privilege against the disclosure of communications between husband and wife are inapplicable to proceedings under this chapter. Husband and wife are competent witnesses to testify to any relevant matter, including marriage and parentage.

4840. A support order made by a court of this state pursuant to this chapter does not nullify and is not nullified by a support order made by a court of this state pursuant to any other law or by a support order made by a court of any other state pursuant to a substantially similar provision of law, regardless of priority of issuance, unless otherwise specifically provided by the court. Amounts paid for a particular period pursuant to a support order made by the court of another state shall be credited against the amounts accruing or accrued for the same period under a support order made by the court of this state.

4841. Participation in a proceeding under this chapter does not confer jurisdiction upon any court over any of the parties thereto in any other proceeding.

4842. A responding court shall not stay the proceeding or refuse a hearing under this chapter because of a pending or prior action or proceeding for divorce, separation, annulment, dissolution, habeas corpus, adoption, or custody in this or any other state. The court shall hold a hearing and may issue a support order pendente lite. In aid thereof, it may require the obligor to give a bond for the prompt prosecution of the pending proceeding. If the other action or proceeding is concluded before the hearing in the instant proceeding and the judgment therein provides for the support demanded in the complaint being heard, the court must conform its support order to the amount allowed in the other action or proceeding. Thereafter, the court shall not stay enforcement of its support order because of the retention of jurisdiction for enforcement purposes by the court in the other action or proceeding.

4843. This chapter applies if both the obligee and the obligor are in this state but in different counties. If the court of the county in which the petition is filed finds that the petition sets forth facts from which it may be determined that the obligor owes a duty of support and finds that a court of another county in this state may obtain jurisdiction over the obligor or the obligor's property, the clerk of the court shall send the petition and a certification of the findings to the court of the county in which the obligor or the obligor's property is found. The clerk of the court of the county receiving these documents shall notify the prosecuting attorney of their receipt. The prosecuting attorney and the court in the county to which the copies are forwarded then shall have duties corresponding to those imposed upon them when acting for this state as a responding state.

4844. When the Attorney General is satisfied that reciprocal provisions will be made by a foreign jurisdiction for the enforcement therein of support orders made within this state, the Attorney General may declare the foreign jurisdiction to be a reciprocating state for the purpose of this chapter. Any such declaration may be revoked by the Attorney General. Any such declaration by the Attorney General may be reviewed by the court in an action brought pursuant to this chapter.

4845. (a) In a hearing for the civil enforcement of this chapter, the court is governed by the rules of evidence applicable in a civil court action in the superior court. If the action is based on a support order issued by, another court, a certified copy of the order shall be received as evidence of the duty of support, subject only to any defenses or modification available to a defendant in a proceeding to enforce a foreign support judgment.

(b) The determination or enforcement of a duty of support owed to one obligee is unaffected by any interference by another obligee with rights of custody or visitation granted by a court.

4846. If the obligor asserts as a defense that he is not the father of the child for whom support is sought and it appears to the court that the defense is not frivolous, and if both of the parties are present at the hearing or the proof required in the case indicates that the presence of either or both of the parties is not necessary, the court may adjudicate the paternity issue. Otherwise, the court may adjourn the hearing until the paternity issue has been adjudicated.

4847. (a) If the Attorney General is of the opinion that a support order is erroneous and presents a question of law warranting an appeal in the public interest, the Attorney General may:

(1) If the support order was issued by a court of this state, perfect an appeal to the proper appellate court.

(2) If the support order was issued in another state, cause the appeal to be taken in the other state.

(b) In either case, expenses of appeal may be paid on order of the Attorney General from funds appropriated for the Office of the Attorney General.

4848. (a) If the duty of support is based on a foreign support order, the obligee has the additional remedies provided in Sections 4849 to 4853, inclusive.

(b) A support order made in this state may also be registered pursuant to Sections 4849 to 4853, inclusive, in any county in which either the obligor or the child who is the subject of the order resides.

4849. The obligee may register a foreign support order or a foreign order for the assignment of wages for support in a court of this state in the manner, with the effect, and for the purposes provided in this article.

4850. The clerk of the court shall maintain a registry of foreign support orders in which the clerk shall file foreign support orders.

4851. If this state is acting either as a rendering or a registering state, the prosecuting attorney shall represent the public interest in enforcing support obligations in proceedings under this chapter. If the prosecuting attorney neglects or refuses to represent the public interest in enforcing support obligations, the Attorney General may order the prosecuting attorney to represent the public interest or may undertake the representation.

4852. (a) An obligee seeking to register a foreign support order in a court of this state shall transmit to the clerk of the court all of the following:

(1) Three certified copies of the order with all modifications thereof.

(2) One copy of the reciprocal enforcement of support act of the state in which the order was made.

(3) A statement verified and signed by the obligee, showing the post office address of the obligee, the last known place of residence and post office address of the obligor, the amount of support remaining unpaid, a description and the location of any property of the obligor available upon execution, and a list of the states in which the order is registered.

(b) Upon receipt of the documents described in subdivision (a), the clerk of the court, without payment of a filing fee or other cost to the obligee, shall file them in the registry of foreign support orders. The filing constitutes registration under this article.

(c) Promptly upon registration, the clerk of the court shall send, by any form of mail requiring a return receipt from the addressee only, to the obligor at the address given a notice of the registration with a copy of the registered support order and the post office address of the obligee. Proof shall be made to the satisfaction of the court that the obligor personally received the notice of registration by mail or other method of service. A return receipt signed by the obligor shall be satisfactory evidence of personal receipt. The court clerk shall also docket the case and notify the prosecuting attorney of that action. The prosecuting attorney shall proceed diligently to enforce the order.

4853. (a) Except as specified in this section, upon registration, the registered foreign support order shall be treated in the same manner as a support order issued by a court of this state. It has the same effect and is subject to the same procedures, defenses, and proceedings for reopening, vacating, or staying as a support order of this state and may be enforced and satisfied in like manner. Except as specified in this section, upon registration, a foreign order for the assignment of wages for support shall be treated for all purposes in the same manner as an earnings assignment order for support entered pursuant to Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 5200).

(b) The obligor has 20 days after the mailing or other service of notice of the registration of a foreign order of support or assignment of wages in which to petition the court to vacate the registration or for other relief. In an action under this section, there shall be no joinder of actions, coordination of actions, or cross-complaints, and the claims or defenses shall be limited strictly to the identity of the obligor, the validity of the underlying foreign support order or foreign order for the assignment of wages, or the accuracy of the obligee's statement of the amount of support remaining unpaid unless the amount has been previously established by a judgment or order. If the obligor does not so petition the court, the registered foreign support order or foreign order for the assignment of wages and all other documents filed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 4852 are confirmed.

(c) At the hearing to enforce the registered order, the obligor may present only matters that would be available to the obligor as defenses in an action to enforce a support judgment. If the obligor shows and the court finds that an appeal from the order is pending or that a stay of execution has been granted, the court shall stay enforcement of the order until the appeal is concluded, the time for appeal has expired, or the order is vacated, upon satisfactory proof that the obligor has furnished security for payment of the support ordered as required by the rendering state. If the obligor shows and the court finds any ground upon which enforcement of a support order of this state may be stayed, the court shall stay enforcement of the order for an appropriate period if the obligor furnishes the same security for payment of the support ordered that is required for a support order of this state.

(d) Registration of an out-of-state order for the sole purpose of interstate wage withholding does not confer jurisdiction on the court for any purpose other than income withholding.

4854. If a support order issued by a court of this state is registered in the court of a county other than that of the rendering court, the obligee shall serve a copy of any subsequent modification of the order on the rendering court, by mail.

CHAPTER 7. ENFORCEMENT BY WRIT OF EXECUTION

5100. Notwithstanding Section 290, a child or family support order may be enforced by a writ of execution without prior court approval until five years after the child reaches the age of majority and, thereafter, for amounts that are not more than 10 years overdue on the date of the application for the writ.

5101. Notwithstanding Section 290, a spousal support order may be enforced by a writ of execution without prior court approval for amounts that are not more than 10 years overdue on the date of the application for the writ.

5102. If a support order provides for the payment of support in installments, the period specified pursuant to this chapter runs as to each installment from the date the installment became due.

5103. (a) Notwithstanding Section 2060, an order for the payment of child, family, or spousal support may be enforced against an employee pension benefit plan regardless of whether the plan has been joined as a party to the proceeding in which the support order was obtained.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 697.710 of the Code of Civil Procedure, an execution lien created by a levy on the judgment debtor's right to payment of benefits from an employee pension benefit plan to enforce an order for the payment of child, family, or spousal support continues until the date the plan has withheld and paid over to the levying officer, as provided in Section 701.010 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the full amount specified in the notice of levy, unless the plan is directed to stop withholding and paying over before that time by court order or by the levying officer.

(c) A writ of execution pursuant to which a levy is made on the judgment debtor's right to payment of benefits from an employee pension benefit plan under an order for the payment of child, family, or spousal support shall be returned not later than one year after the date the execution lien expires under subdivision (b).

5104. (a) The application for a writ of execution shall be accompanied by an affidavit stating the total amount due and unpaid that is authorized to be enforced pursuant to Sections 5100 to 5103, inclusive, on the date of the application.

(b) If interest on the overdue installments is sought, the affidavit shall state the total amount of the interest and the amount of each due and unpaid installment and the date it became due.

(c) The affidavit shall be filed in the action and a copy shall be attached to the writ of execution delivered to the levying officer. The levying officer shall serve the copy of the affidavit on the judgment debtor when the writ of execution is first served on the judgment debtor pursuant to a levy under the writ.

CHAPTER 8. EARNINGS ASSIGNMENT ORDER

Article 1. Definitions

5200. Unless the provision or context otherwise requires, the definitions in this article govern the construction of this chapter.

5202. "Assignment order" has the same meaning as "earnings assignment order for support."

5204. "Due date of support payments" is the date specifically stated in the order of support or, if no date is stated in the support order, the last day of the month in which the support payment is to be paid.

5206. "Earnings," to the extent that these earnings are subject to an earnings assignment order for support under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 703.010) of Division 2 of Title 9 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, includes:

(a) Wages, salary, bonus, money, and benefits described in Sections 704.110, 704.113, and 704.115 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(b) Payments due for services of independent contractors, dividends, rents, royalties, residuals, patent rights, or mineral or other natural resource rights.

(c) Payments or credits due or becoming due as a result of written or oral contracts for services or sales whether denominated as wages, salary, commission, bonus, or otherwise.

(d) Any other payments or credits due or becoming due as a result of an enforceable obligation.

5208. "Earnings assignment order for support" means an order that assigns to an obligee a portion of the earnings of a support obligor due or to become due in the future.
5210. "Employer" includes all of the following:
   (a) A person for whom an individual performs services as an employee, as defined in Section 706.011 of the Code of Civil Procedure.
   (b) The United States government and any public entity as defined in Section 811.2 of the Government Code.
   (c) Any person or entity paying earnings as defined under Section 5206.

5212. "IV-D Case" means any case being established, modified, or enforced by the district attorney pursuant to Section 654 of Title 42 of the United States Code (Section 454 of the Social Security Act).

5214. "Obligee" or "assigned obligee" means either the person to whom support has been ordered to be paid, the district attorney, or other person designated by the court to receive the payment. The district attorney is the obligee for all IV-D Cases as defined under Section 5212 or in which an application for services has been filed under Part D (commencing with Section 651) and Part E (commencing with Section 670) of Subchapter IV of Chapter 7 of Title 42 of the United States Code (Title IV-D or IV-E of the Social Security Act).

5216. "Obligor" means a person owing a duty of support.

5220. "Timely payment" means receipt of support payments by the obligee or assigned obligee within five days of the due date.

Article 2. General Provisions

5230. (a) When the court orders a party to pay an amount for support or orders a modification of the amount of support to be paid, the court shall include in its order an earnings assignment order for support that orders the employer of the obligor to pay to the obligee that portion of the obligor’s earnings due or to become due in the future as will be sufficient to pay an amount to cover both of the following:
   (1) The amount ordered by the court for support.
   (2) An amount which shall be ordered by the court to be paid toward the liquidation of any arrearage or past due support amount.

   (b) Upon the filing and service of a notice of motion or order to show cause with the supporting application, an obligee may request the court to issue an earnings assignment order for support to enforce a support order made or modified before July 1, 1990, including any arrearages or past due support amount, or to modify the support order.

5231. Unless stayed pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 5260), an assignment order is effective and binding upon any existing or future employer of the obligor upon whom a copy of the order is served in compliance with Sections 5232 and 5233.

5232. Service on an employer of an assignment order may be made by first-class mail in the manner prescribed in Section 1013 of the Code of Civil Procedure.
5233. Unless the order states a later date, beginning as soon as possible after service of the order on the employer but not later than 10 days after service of the order on the employer, the employer shall commence withholding pursuant to the assignment order from all earnings payable to the employee.

5234. Within 10 days of service of an assignment order on an employer, the employer shall deliver both of the following to the obligor:
   (a) A copy of the assignment order.
   (b) A written statement of the obligor's rights under the law to move to quash the assignment order.

5235. The employer shall continue to withhold and forward support as required by the assignment order until served with notice terminating the assignment order. The employer shall send the amounts withheld to the obligee within 10 days of the date the obligor is paid. The employer may deduct from the earnings of the employee the sum of one dollar ($1) for each payment made pursuant to the order.

5236. The state agency or the local agency, designated to enforce support obligations as required by federal law, shall allow employers to simplify the process of assignment order withholding by forwarding, as ordered by the court, the amounts of support withheld under more than one order in a consolidated check, accompanied by an itemized accounting providing names, social security number or other identifying number, and the amount attributable to each obligor.

5237. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), the obligee shall notify the employer of the obligor, by first-class mail, postage prepaid, of any change of address within a reasonable period of time after the change.

   (b) Where payments have been ordered to be made to a county officer designated by the court, the obligee who is the parent, guardian, or other person entitled to receive payment through the designated county officer shall notify the designated county officer by first-class mail, postage prepaid, of any address change within a reasonable period of time after the change.

   (c) If the employer or designated county officer is unable to deliver payments under the assignment order for a period of six months due to the failure of the obligee to notify the employer or designated county officer of a change of address, the employer or designated county officer shall not make any further payments under the assignment order and shall return all undeliverable payments to the obligor.

5238. Where an assignment order or assignment orders include both current support and payments towards the liquidation of arrearages, priority shall be given first to the current child support obligation, then the current spousal support obligation, and thereafter to the liquidation of child and then spousal support arrearages.
5239. Arrearages of support payments shall be computed on the basis of the payments owed and unpaid on the date that the obligor has been given notice of the assignment order as required by Section 5234.

5240. Upon the filing and service of a motion and a notice of motion by the obligor, the court shall terminate the service of an assignment order if past due support has been paid in full, including any interest due, and if any of the following conditions exist:
  (a) With regard to orders for spousal support, the death or remarriage of the spouse to whom support is owed.
  (b) With regard to orders for child support, the death or emancipation of the child for whom support is owed.
  (c) The court determines that there is good cause, as defined in Section 5260, to terminate the assignment order. This subdivision does not apply if there has been more than one application for an assignment order.
  (d) The termination of the stay of an assignment order under Section 5261 was improper, but only if that termination was based upon the obligor's failure to make timely support payments as described in subdivision (b) of Section 5261.

5241. (a) An employer who willfully fails to withhold and forward support pursuant to a currently valid assignment order entered and served upon the employer pursuant to this chapter is liable to the obligee for the amount of support not withheld, forwarded, or otherwise paid to the obligee.
  (b) In addition to any other penalty or liability provided by law, willful failure by an employer to comply with an assignment order is punishable as a contempt pursuant to Section 1209 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

5242. Service of the assignment order creates a lien on the earnings of the employee and the property of the employer to the same extent as the service of an earnings withholding order as provided in Section 706.029 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

5243. An assignment order has priority as against any attachment, execution, or other assignment as specified in Section 706.031 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

5244. A reference to the district attorney in this chapter applies only when the district attorney is otherwise ordered or required to act pursuant to law. Nothing in this chapter shall be deemed to mandate additional enforcement or collection duties upon the district attorney beyond those otherwise imposed by law.

5245. Nothing in this chapter limits the authority of the district attorney to utilize any other civil and criminal remedies to enforce support obligations, regardless of whether or not the minor child or the obligee who is the parent, guardian, or other person entitled to receive payment is the recipient of welfare moneys.
Article 3. Support Orders Issued or Modified Before July 1, 1990

5250. For a support order first issued or modified before July 1, 1990, this article provides a procedure for obtaining an earnings assignment order for support when the court in ordering support or modification of support did not issue an assignment order.

5251. The obligee seeking issuance of an assignment order to enforce a support order described in Section 5250 may use the procedure set forth in this article by filing an application under Section 5252, or by notice of motion or order to show cause, or pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 5230.

5252. (a) An assignment order under this article may be issued only upon an application signed under penalty of perjury by the obligee that the obligor is in default in support payments in a sum equal to the amount of support payable for one month, for any other occurrence specified by the court in the support order, or earlier by court order if requested by the district attorney or the obligor.

(b) If the order for support does not contain a provision for an earnings assignment order for support, the application shall state that the obligee has given the obligor a written notice of the obligee's intent to seek an assignment order if there is a default in support payments and that the notice was transmitted by first-class mail, postage prepaid, or personally served at least 15 days before the date of the filing of the application. The written notice of the intent to seek an assignment order may be given at any time, including at the time of filing a petition or complaint in which support is requested or at any time subsequent thereto. The obligor may at any time waive the written notice required by this subdivision.

(c) In addition to any other penalty provided by law, the filing of the application with knowledge of the falsity of the declaration or notice is punishable as a contempt pursuant to Section 1209 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

5253. Upon receipt of the application, the court shall issue, without notice to the obligor, an assignment order requiring the employer of the obligor to pay to the obligee that portion of the earnings of the obligor due or to become due in the future as will be sufficient to pay an amount to cover both of the following:

(a) The amount ordered by the court for support.

(b) An amount which shall be ordered by the court to be paid toward the liquidation of any arrearage or past due support amount.

Article 4. Stay of Service of Assignment Order

5260. (a) The court may order that service of the assignment order be stayed only if the court makes a finding of good cause to stay service of the order.

(b) Good cause to stay service of the assignment order is limited to any of the following:

(1) The obligor has a history of uninterrupted, full, and timely payment, other than through an assignment order or other mandatory process, of previously ordered support during the preceding 12 months. If the obligor has not been subject to an order of support for 12 months before the issuance of the assignment order, the obligor may qualify for good cause under this paragraph if the obligor posts with the clerk of the court a cash bond or cash in an amount equal to three months' support. The court may not find good cause to stay service of the assignment order under this paragraph if the obligor owes an arrearage for prior support.

(2) The obligor proves and the court finds, by clear and convincing evidence, that service of the assignment order would cause extraordinary hardship upon the obligor. Whenever possible, the court shall specify a date that the stay ordered under this paragraph will automatically terminate.

(3) The parties sign a written agreement which provides for an alternative arrangement to ensure payment of the support obligation as ordered other than through the immediate service of an assignment order. The written agreement may include an agreement relating to the staying of the service of an assignment order. In a case where support is ordered to be paid through a county officer designated for that purpose, an agreement between the parties which includes the staying of the service of an assignment order shall include the agreement of the district attorney. The signing of an agreement pursuant to this paragraph does not preclude the party from seeking an assignment order in accordance with the procedures set forth in Section 5261 upon violation of the agreement.

(4) The employer or district attorney has been unable to deliver payments under the assignment order for a period of six months due to the failure of the obligee to notify the employer or district attorney of a change of address.

5261. (a) If service of the assignment order has been ordered stayed, the stay shall terminate pursuant to subdivision (b) upon the obligor's failure to make timely support payments or earlier by court order if requested by the district attorney or by the obligor. The stay shall terminate earlier by court order if requested by any other obligee who can establish that good cause, as defined in Section 5260, no longer exists.

(b) To terminate a stay of the service of the assignment order, the obligee shall file a declaration signed under penalty of perjury by the obligee that the obligor is in arrears in payment of any portion of the support. At the time of filing the declaration, the stay shall terminate by operation of law without notice to the obligor.

(c) In addition to any other penalty provided by law, the filing of a declaration under subdivision (b) with knowledge of the falsity of its contents is punishable as a contempt pursuant to Section 1209 of the Code of Civil Procedure.
Article 5. Motion to Quash Assignment Order

5270. (a) An obligor may move to quash an assignment order on any of the following grounds:

(1) The assignment order does not correctly state the amount of current or overdue support ordered by the courts.

(2) The alleged obligor is not the obligor from whom support is due.

(3) The amount to be withheld exceeds that allowable under federal law in subsection (b) of Section 1673 of Title 15 of the United States Code.

(b) If an assignment order is sought under Article 3 (commencing with Section 5250), the party ordered to pay support may also move to quash the service of the order based upon Section 5260.

(c) The obligor shall state under oath the ground on which the motion to quash is made.

(d) If an assignment order which has been issued and served on a prior employer is served on the obligor’s new employer, the obligor does not have the right to move to quash the assignment order on any grounds which the obligor previously raised when the assignment order was served on the prior employer or on any grounds which the obligor could have raised when the assignment order was served on the prior employer but failed to raise.

5271. (a) The motion and notice of motion to quash the assignment order shall be filed with the court issuing the order within 10 days after delivery of the copy of the assignment order to the obligor by the employer.

(b) The clerk of the court shall set the motion to quash for hearing within not less than 15 days, nor more than 20 days, after receipt of the notice of motion.

(c) The obligor shall serve personally or by first-class mail, postage prepaid, a copy of the motion and notice of motion on the obligee named in the assignment order no less than 10 days before the date of the hearing.

5272. A finding of error in the amount of the current support or arrearage or that the amount exceeds federal or state limits is not grounds to vacate the assignment order. The court shall modify the order to reflect the correct or allowable amount of support or arrearages. The fact that the obligor may have subsequently paid the arrearages does not relieve the court of its duty to enter the assignment order.

Article 6. Information Concerning Address and Employment of Obligor

5280. If the obligee making the application under this chapter also states that the whereabouts of the obligor or the identity of the obligor's employer is unknown to the party to whom support has been ordered to be paid, the district attorney shall do both of the following:

(a) Contact the California parent locator service maintained by the Department of Justice in the manner prescribed in Section 11478.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(b) Upon receiving the requested information, notify the court of the last known address of the obligor and the name and address of the obligor's last known employer.

5281. An assignment order required or authorized by this chapter shall include a requirement that the obligor notify the obligee of any change of employment and of the name and address of the obligor's new employer within 10 days of obtaining new employment.

5282. After the obligor has left employment with the employer, the employer, at the time the next payment is due on the assignment order, shall notify the obligee designated in the assignment order by first-class mail, postage prepaid, to the last known address of the obligee that the obligor has left employment.

5283. (a) Upon receipt of a written request from a district attorney enforcing the obligation of parents to support their children pursuant to Section 11475.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, every employer shall cooperate with and provide relevant employment and income information, that the employer has in its possession, to the district attorney for the purpose of establishing, modifying, or enforcing the support obligation. No employer shall incur any liability for providing this information to the district attorney.

(b) Relevant employment and income information shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following:

1. Whether a named person has or has not been employed by an employer.
2. The full name of the employee or the first and middle initial and last name of the employee.
3. The employee's last known residence address.
4. The employee's date of birth.
5. The employee's social security number.
6. The dates of employment.
7. All earnings paid to the employee and reported as W-2 compensation in the prior tax year and the employee's current basic rate of pay.
8. Whether dependent health insurance coverage is available to the employee through employment.

(c) The district attorney shall notify the employer of the district attorney case file number in making a request pursuant to this section. The written request shall include at least three of the following elements regarding the person who is the subject of the inquiry:

1. First and last name and middle initial, if known.
2. Social security number.
3. Driver's license number.
4. Birth date.
(5) Last known address.
(6) Spouse’s name.

(d) An employer that fails to provide relevant employment information to the district attorney within 30 days of receiving a request pursuant to subdivision (a) may be assessed a civil penalty of a maximum of five hundred dollars ($500), plus attorneys’ fees and costs. Proceedings to impose the civil penalty shall be commenced by the filing and service of an order to show cause.

Article 7. Prohibited Practices

5290. No employer shall use an assignment order authorized by this chapter as grounds for refusing to hire a person or for discharging or taking disciplinary action against an employee. An employer who engages in the conduct prohibited by this section may be assessed a civil penalty of a maximum of five hundred dollars ($500).

Article 8. Judicial Council Forms

5295. The Judicial Council shall prescribe forms necessary to carry out the requirements of this chapter, including the following:
(a) The written statement of the obligor’s rights.
(b) The earnings assignment order for support.
(c) The instruction guide for obligees and obligors.
(d) The application forms required under Sections 5230, 5252, and 5261.
(e) The notice form required under Section 5252.
(f) Revised judgment and assignment order forms as necessary.

DIVISION 10. PREVENTION OF DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

PART 1. DEFINITIONS

5500. The definitions in this part govern the construction of this division.

5501. The definitions in Part 2 (commencing with Section 50) of Division 1, including, but not limited to, the definitions of “abuse,” “domestic violence,” and “domestic violence prevention order,” govern the construction of this division.

5505. “Protective order” means an order issued by the court to the restrained party not to contact, molest, attack, strike, threaten, sexually assault, batter, telephone, or disturb the peace of the persons described in Section 70.

PART 2. GENERAL PROVISIONS

5510. This division may be cited as the Domestic Violence Prevention Law.
5511. The purposes of this division are to prevent the recurrence of acts of violence and sexual abuse against a spouse, former spouse, cohabitant, former cohabitant, any other adult person related by consanguinity or affinity within the second degree, or a person with whom the respondent has had a child or has had a dating or engagement relationship, and to provide for a separation of the persons involved in the domestic violence for a period sufficient to enable these persons to seek a resolution of the causes of the violence.

5512. (a) There is no filing fee for a petition or response relating to a protective order, restraining order, or a permanent injunction restraining violence or threats of violence in a proceeding brought pursuant to this division.

(b) Fees otherwise payable by a petitioner to a law enforcement agency for serving an order obtained under this division may be waived in any case in which the petitioner has requested a fee waiver on the initiating petition and has filed a declaration that demonstrates, to the satisfaction of the court, the financial need of the petitioner for the fee waiver.

(c) The declaration required by subdivision (b) shall be on one of the following forms:

(1) The form formulated and adopted by the Judicial Council for litigants proceeding in forma pauperis pursuant to Section 68511.3 of the Government Code, but the petitioner shall not be subject to any other requirements of litigants proceeding in forma pauperis.

(2) Any other form that the Judicial Council may adopt for this purpose pursuant to Section 5520.

(d) In conjunction with a hearing pursuant to this division, the court may issue an order for the waiver of fees otherwise payable by the petitioner to a law enforcement agency for serving an order obtained under this division.

5513. In making an award of temporary custody of a child pursuant to this division, if a domestic violence prevention order has been directed to a parent of the child, the court shall consider whether the best interest of the child requires that the visitation granted to that parent with respect to the child shall be limited to situations in which a third person, specified by the court, is present. A parent may submit to the court the name of a person that the parent considers suitable to be present during visitation. The determination of the best interest of the child pursuant to this section shall include the considerations specified in Section 3022. The court shall also consider its deliberations the nature of the acts from which the parent was enjoined and the period of time that has elapsed since that order.

5514. A mutual restraining order enjoining the parties from contacting, molesting, attacking, striking, threatening, sexually assaulting, battering, telephoning, or disturbing the peace of the other party, and, in the discretion of the court upon a showing of good cause, other named persons described in subdivision (a) of Section 70, may not be issued unless both parties personally appear.
and each party presents evidence of abuse or domestic violence.

5515. An order issued pursuant to this division shall state on its face the date of expiration of the order and a notice in substantially the following form: “NOTICE: These orders shall be enforced by all law enforcement officers in the State of California.”

5516. The court, in issuing a restraining order issued pursuant to this division and predicated on subdivision (b), (c), or (d) of Section 2035 where both parties are present in court, shall inform both the petitioner and the respondent of the terms of the order, including notice that the respondent is prohibited from purchasing or receiving or attempting to purchase or receive a firearm and including notice of the penalty for violation.

5517. The petition, the temporary order, and the order after the hearing are valid and enforceable without explicitly stating the address of the applicant or the applicant’s place of residence, school, employment, the place where the applicant’s child is provided child care services, or the child’s school.

5518. The remedies provided in this division are in addition to any other remedies, either civil or criminal, which may be available to the petitioner.

5519. (a) It is the function of a support person to provide moral and emotional support for a person who alleges he or she is a victim of domestic violence in the proceedings specified in this section.

(b) The support person shall assist the person who alleges he or she is a victim of domestic violence in feeling more confident that he or she will not be injured or threatened by the other party during the proceedings where the person who alleges he or she is a victim of domestic violence and the other party must be present in close proximity. The support person is not present as a legal adviser and shall not give legal advice.

(c) A support person may accompany either party to any proceeding to obtain a domestic violence prevention order. Where the party is not represented by an attorney, the support person may sit with the party at the table that is generally reserved for the party and the party’s attorney.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, if a court has issued a domestic violence prevention order, a support person may accompany a party protected by the domestic violence prevention order during a mediation session held pursuant to an action or proceeding under this code. The agency charged with providing family court services shall advise the party protected by the order of the right to have a support person during mediation. A mediator may exclude a support person from a mediation session if the support person participates in the mediation session, acts as an advocate, or the presence of a particular support person is disruptive or disrupts the process of mediation. The presence of the support person does not waive the confidentiality of the mediation, and the support person is bound by the confidentiality of the mediation.

(e) A support person may accompany a party in a proceeding subject to this section in court where there are allegations or threats of domestic violence and, where the party is not represented by an attorney, may sit with the party at the table that is generally reserved for the party and the party's attorney.

(f) Nothing in this section precludes a court from exercising its discretion to remove a person from the courtroom who it believes is prompting, swaying, or influencing the party protected by the order.

5520. The Judicial Council shall prescribe the form of the orders and any other documents required by this division and shall promulgate instructions for applications for orders under this division.

PART 3. TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDERS

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

5530. A temporary restraining order may be granted pursuant to this division with or without notice to restrain any person upon an affidavit which, to the satisfaction of the court, shows reasonable proof of a past act or acts of abuse for the purpose of preventing a recurrence of domestic violence and ensuring a period of separation of the persons involved. The order may be granted in the manner provided in Part 4 (commencing with Section 240) of Division 2.

5531. (a) A temporary restraining order may be granted pursuant to this division to any person described in Section 70.

(b) The right to petition for relief shall not be denied because the petitioner has vacated the household to avoid abuse, and in the case of a marital relationship, notwithstanding that a petition for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal separation of the parties has not been filed.

CHAPTER 2. ORDERS ISSUABLE EX PARTE

5550. (a) Subject to subdivision (b), upon application, the court may, in the manner provided in Part 4 (commencing with Section 240) of Division 2, issue ex parte any of the orders set forth in Section 2035.

(b) In the case of a nonmarital relationship between the petitioner and the respondent, the court may issue ex parte any of the orders set forth in subdivisions (b), (c), and (d) of Section 2035, and where there is a minor child of the petitioner and the respondent an order determining the temporary custody of the child.

5551. A temporary restraining order shall set forth on its face a notice in substantially the following form:

"NOTICE TO RESTRAINED PARTY: If you do not appear at the court hearing specified herein, the court may grant the requested orders for a period of up to 3 years without further notice to you."

5552. The court may issue an ex parte order pursuant to Section 5550 excluding one party from a residence or dwelling only when the affidavit in support of an application for the order affirmatively shows facts sufficient for the court to ascertain that the petitioner has a right under color of law to possession of the premises or that the order is one authorized under subdivision (c) of Section 2035.

PART 4. EMERGENCY PROTECTIVE ORDERS

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

5600. Except to the extent otherwise provided, this chapter applies to emergency protective orders issued under this part.

5601. The presiding judge of the superior court in each county shall designate not less than one judge, commissioner, or referee to be reasonably available to issue orally, by telephone or otherwise, emergency protective orders at all times whether or not the superior court is in session.

5602. The officer requesting the emergency protective order under Section 5650 or 5700 shall reduce it to writing and shall sign the order.

5603. An emergency protective order expires not later than the close of judicial business on the second day of judicial business following the day of its issue.

5604. The officer who requested the emergency protective order under Section 5650 or 5700, while on duty, shall carry copies of the order.

5605. (a) The officer who requested the emergency protective order under Section 5650 or 5700 shall do both of the following:

(1) Serve the order upon the restrained party if the restrained party can reasonably be located.

(2) File a copy of the order with the court as soon as practicable after issuance.

(b) If the emergency protective order is issued under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 5650), the officer who requested the order shall give a copy of the order to the protected party.

(c) If the emergency protective order is issued under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 5700), the officer who requested the order shall give a copy of the order to a parent or legal guardian of the endangered child who is not a restrained party, if the parent or legal guardian can be reasonably located, or to a person having temporary custody of the endangered child.

5606. (a) A police or sheriff's officer shall use every reasonable means to enforce an emergency protective order issued pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 5650) or Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 5700).

(b) A peace officer of the Department of Parks and Recreation, as defined in subdivision (g) of Section 830.2 of the Penal Code, shall use every reasonable means to enforce an emergency protective order issued pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 5650).

(c) An officer acting in good faith to enforce an emergency protective order under this section is not civilly or criminally liable.

CHAPTER 2. EMERGENCY PROTECTIVE ORDER WHERE DANGER OF DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

5650. (a) A judge, commissioner, or referee designated pursuant to Section 5601 may issue an ex parte emergency protective order under this chapter when a police or sheriff’s officer or a peace officer of the Department of Parks and Recreation, as defined in subdivision (g) of Section 830.2 of the Penal Code, asserts reasonable grounds to believe that a person is in immediate and present danger of domestic violence, based upon the person's allegation of a recent incident of abuse or threat of abuse by the person against whom the order is sought.

(b) The order issued under this chapter may consist of any of the orders set forth in subdivisions (b), (c), and (d) of Section 2035, as well as an order determining the temporary care and control of any minor children of the endangered person and the person against whom the order is sought.

(c) An order under this chapter shall be issued without prejudice to any party.

5651. An order may be issued under this chapter only upon a finding by the judge, commissioner, or referee that reasonable grounds have been asserted to believe that an immediate and present danger of domestic violence exists and that an emergency protective order is necessary to prevent the occurrence or recurrence of domestic violence. The availability of an order under this chapter is not affected by the fact that the endangered person has vacated the household to avoid abuse.

5652. An order issued under this chapter shall include all of the following:

(a) A statement of the grounds asserted for the order.
(b) The date and time the order expires.
(c) The address of the superior court for the district or county in which the endangered person resides.
(d) The following statement, which shall be printed in English and Spanish: "To the Protected Party: This order will last only until the date and time noted above. If you wish to seek continuing protection, you will have to apply for an order from the court, at the address noted above. You may seek the advice of an attorney as to any matter connected with your application for any future court orders. The attorney should be consulted promptly so that the attorney may assist you in making your application. To the Restrained Party: This order will last until the date noted above. The protected party may, however, obtain a more permanent restraining order from the court. You may seek the advice of an attorney as to any matter connected with the application. The attorney should be consulted promptly so that the attorney may assist you in responding to the application."
CHAPTER 3. EMERGENCY PROTECTIVE ORDER WHERE CHILD IN DANGER OF ABUSE

5700. (a) A judge, commissioner, or referee designated pursuant to Section 5601 may issue an ex parte emergency protective order under this chapter when a police or sheriff's officer asserts reasonable grounds to believe that a child is in immediate and present danger of abuse by a family or household member, based upon an allegation of a recent incident of abuse or threat of abuse by that family or household member.

(b) The order issued under this chapter may consist of any of the orders authorized in Section 213.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and may include provisions placing the temporary care and control of the endangered child and any other minor children in the family or household with the parent or legal guardian of the endangered child who is not a restrained party.

(c) An order under this chapter shall be issued without prejudice to any party.

5701. An order may be issued under this chapter only upon a finding by the judge, commissioner, or referee that reasonable grounds have been asserted to believe that a child is in immediate and present danger of abuse and that an emergency protective order is necessary to prevent the occurrence or recurrence of abuse. The availability of an order under this chapter is not affected by the endangered child's leaving the household to avoid abuse.

5702. An order issued under this chapter shall include all of the following:

(a) A statement of the grounds asserted for the order.

(b) The date and time the order expires.

(c) The address of the superior court for the district or county in which the endangered child resides.

(d) The following statement, which shall be printed in English and Spanish: "This order will last only until the date and time noted above. A more permanent restraining order under Section 213.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code may be applied for from the court, at the address noted above. The advice of an attorney may be sought in connection with the application for a more permanent restraining order."

5703. The parent or legal guardian of the endangered child who is not a restrained party, or a person having temporary custody of the endangered child, may apply for a more permanent restraining order under Section 213.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code from the court.

PART 5. ORDERS ISSUABLE AFTER NOTICE AND HEARING

5750. (a) Subject to subdivision (b), the court may issue, after notice and a hearing, any of the orders set forth in Section 2035.
(b) In the case of a nonmarital relationship between the petitioner and the respondent, the court may issue, after notice and a hearing, any of the orders set forth in subdivisions (b), (c), (d), and (f) of Section 2035 and where there is a minor child of the petitioner and the respondent an order determining the temporary custody of the child.

5751. After notice and a hearing, the court may order the exclusion of one party from the common dwelling of both parties or from the dwelling of the other party on a finding only that physical or emotional harm would otherwise result to the other party or a person under the care, custody, or control of the other party or to a minor child of the parties or of the other party.

5752. (a) Where there exists a presumption that the respondent is the natural father of a minor child, pursuant to Section 7611, and the child is in the custody of the petitioner, the court, after notice and a hearing, may order a party to pay an amount necessary for the support and maintenance of the child if the order would otherwise be authorized in an action brought pursuant to Part 3 (commencing with Section 7600) of Division 12.

(b) An order made pursuant to this section shall be without prejudice in an action brought pursuant to Part 3 (commencing with Section 7600) of Division 12.

5753. The court may issue, after notice and a hearing, any of the following orders:

(a) An order that restitution be paid to the family or household member for loss of earnings and out-of-pocket expenses, including, but not limited to, expenses for medical care and temporary housing, incurred as a direct result of the abuse inflicted by the respondent or any actual physical injuries sustained therefrom.

(b) An order that restitution be paid by petitioner for out-of-pocket expenses incurred by a party as a result of any order issued ex parte which is found by the court to have been issued upon facts shown at a noticed hearing to be insufficient to support the order.

(c) An order requiring that the respondent shall pay any public or private agency for the reasonable cost of providing services to a family or household member required as a direct result of the abuse inflicted by the respondent or any actual injuries sustained therefrom.

5754. (a) Subject to subdivision (d), the court may issue, after notice and a hearing, an order requiring any party to participate in counseling with a licensed mental health professional, or through other community programs and services that provide appropriate counseling, including, but not limited to, mental health or substance abuse services, where it is shown that the parties intend to continue to reside in the same household or have continued to reside in the same household after previous instances of domestic violence. The court may also order a restrained party to participate in batterer's treatment counseling.
(b) Where there has been a history of domestic violence between the parties and a protective order is in effect, at the request of the party protected by the order, the parties shall participate in counseling separately and at separate times.

(c) The court shall fix the costs and shall order the entire cost of the services to be borne by the parties in such proportions as the court deems reasonable.

(d) Before issuing the court order requiring counseling, the court shall find that the financial burden created by the court order for counseling does not otherwise jeopardize a party's other financial obligations.

5755. The court may issue, after notice and a hearing, an order for the payment of attorney's fees and costs of the prevailing party.

5756. A restraining order granted after notice and a hearing pursuant to this division, in the discretion of the court, shall have a duration of not more than three years, unless otherwise terminated or extended by further order of the court either on written stipulation filed with the court or on the motion of any party.

PART 6. REGISTRATION AND ENFORCEMENT OF ORDERS

5800. The court shall order the petitioner or the attorney for the petitioner to deliver, or the county clerk to mail, a copy of any order, or extension, modification, or termination thereof, granted pursuant to this division, by the close of the business day on which the order, extension, modification, or termination was granted, and any subsequent proof of service thereof, to each local law enforcement agency designated by the petitioner or the attorney for the petitioner having jurisdiction over the residence of the petitioner and other locations where the court determines that acts of domestic violence against the petitioner are likely to occur.

5801. Each appropriate law enforcement agency shall make available to any law enforcement officer responding to the scene of reported domestic violence, through an existing system for verification, information as to the existence, terms, and current status of an order issued pursuant to this division.

5802. (a) A restraining order against domestic violence issued pursuant to this division may, upon request of the petitioner, be served upon the respondent by any law enforcement officer who is present at the scene of reported domestic violence involving the parties to the action.

(b) The moving party shall provide the officer with an endorsed copy of the order and a proof of service which the officer shall complete and transmit to the issuing court.

(c) It shall be a rebuttable presumption that the proof of service was signed on the date of service.

5803. (a) If a person named in a restraining order issued pursuant to this division has not been served personally with the order but has received actual notice of the existence and substance of the order through personal appearance in court to hear the terms of the order from the court, no additional proof of service is required for enforcement of that order.

(b) The judicial forms for temporary restraining orders and restraining orders issued after a hearing shall contain a statement in substantially the following form: "NO ADDITIONAL PROOF OF SERVICE IS REQUIRED IF THE FACE OF THIS FORM INDICATES THAT BOTH PARTIES ARE PERSONALLY PRESENT AT THE HEARING WHERE THE ORDER WAS ISSUED."

5804. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), upon receipt of a copy of a restraining order issued pursuant to this division and predicated on subdivision (b), (c), or (d) of Section 2035, together with the subsequent proof of service thereof, the local law enforcement agency having jurisdiction over the residence of the petitioner shall immediately notify the Department of Justice regarding the name, race, date of birth, and other personal descriptive information as required by a form prescribed by the Department of Justice, the date of issuance of the order, and the duration of the order or its expiration date.

(b) Proof of service of the restraining order is not required for the purposes of this section if the order indicates on its face that both parties were personally present at the hearing where the order was issued and that, for the purpose of Section 5803, no proof of service is required.

(c) The failure of the petitioner to provide the Department of Justice with the personal descriptive information regarding the person restrained does not invalidate the restraining order.

(d) If a court issues a modification, extension, or termination of the order described in subdivision (a), the court shall notify the law enforcement agency having jurisdiction over the residence of the petitioner. The law enforcement agency shall then immediately notify the Department of Justice.

(e) There shall be no civil liability on the part of, and no cause of action shall arise against, an employee of a local law enforcement agency or the Department of Justice, acting within the scope of employment, if a person described in subdivision (g) of Section 12021 of the Penal Code unlawfully purchases or receives or attempts to purchase or receive a firearm and a person is injured by that firearm or a person who is otherwise entitled to receive a firearm is denied a firearm and either wrongful action is due to a failure of a court to provide the notification provided for in this section.

DIVISION 11. MINORS

PART 1. AGE OF MAJORITY

6500. A minor is an individual who is under 18 years of age. The period of minority is calculated from the first minute of the day on which the individual is born to the same minute of the corresponding day completing the period of minority.

6501. An adult is an individual who is 18 years of age or older.

6502. (a) The use of or reference to the words “age of majority,” “age of minority,” “adult,” “minor,” or words of similar intent in any instrument, order, transfer, or governmental communication made in this state:

(1) Before March 4, 1972, makes reference to individuals 21 years of age and older, or younger than 21 years of age.

(2) On or after March 4, 1972, makes reference to individuals 18 years of age and older, or younger than 18 years of age.

(b) Nothing in subdivision (a) or in Chapter 1748 of the Statutes of 1971 prevents amendment of any court order, will, trust, contract, transfer, or instrument to refer to the 18-year-old age of majority if the court order, will, trust, contract, transfer, or instrument satisfies all of the following conditions:

(1) It was in existence on March 4, 1972.

(2) It is subject to amendment by law, and amendment is allowable or not prohibited by its terms.

(3) It is otherwise subject to the laws of this state.

PART 2. RIGHTS AND LIABILITIES; CIVIL ACTIONS AND PROCEEDINGS

6600. A minor is civilly liable for a wrong done by the minor, but is not liable in exemplary damages unless at the time of the act the minor was capable of knowing that the act was wrongful.

6601. A minor may enforce the minor’s rights by civil action or other legal proceedings in the same manner as an adult, except that a guardian must conduct the action or proceedings.

6602. A contract for attorney’s fees for services in litigation, made by or on behalf of a minor, is void unless the contract is approved, on petition by an interested person, by the court in which the litigation is pending or by the court having jurisdiction of the guardianship estate of the minor. If the contract is not approved and a judgment is recovered by or on behalf of the minor, the attorney’s fees chargeable against the minor shall be fixed by the court rendering the judgment.

PART 3. CONTRACTS

CHAPTER 1. CAPACITY TO CONTRACT

6700. Except as provided in Section 6701, a minor may make a contract in the same manner as an adult, subject to the power of disaffirmance under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 6710), and subject to Part 1 (commencing with Section 300) of Division 3 (validity of marriage).

6701. A minor cannot do any of the following:
   (a) Give a delegation of power.
   (b) Make a contract relating to real property or any interest therein.

       immediate possession or control of the minor.

CHAPTER 2. DISAFFIRMANCE OF CONTRACTS

6710. Except as otherwise provided by statute, a contract of a minor may be disaffirmed by the minor before majority or within a reasonable time afterwards or, in case of the minor’s death within that period, by the minor’s heirs or personal representative.

6711. A minor cannot disaffirm an obligation, otherwise valid, entered into by the minor under the express authority or direction of a statute.

6712. A contract, otherwise valid, entered into during minority, may not be disaffirmed on that ground either during the actual minority of the person entering into the contract, or at any time thereafter, if all of the following requirements are satisfied:

   (a) The contract is to pay the reasonable value of things necessary for the support of the minor or the minor’s family.
   (b) These things have been actually furnished to the minor or to the minor’s family.
   (c) The contract is entered into by the minor when not under the care of a parent or guardian able to provide for the minor or the minor’s family.

6713. If, before the contract of a minor is disaffirmed, goods the minor has sold are transferred to another purchaser who bought them in good faith for value and without notice of the transferor’s defect of title, the minor cannot recover the goods from an innocent purchaser.
CHAPTER 3. CONTRACTS IN ART, ENTERTAINMENT, AND PROFESSIONAL SPORTS

6750. This chapter applies to the following contracts:

(c) A contract pursuant to which a person is employed or agrees to render services as a participant or player in a professional sport, including, but not limited to, services as a professional boxer, professional wrestler, or professional jockey.

6751. (a) A contract, otherwise valid, of a type described in Section 6750, entered into during minority, cannot be disaffirmed on that ground either during the minority of the person entering into the contract, or at any time thereafter, if the contract has been approved by the superior court in the county in which the minor resides or is employed or, if the minor neither resides in nor is employed in this state, by the superior court of the county in which any party to the contract has its principal office in this state for the transaction of business.

(b) Approval of the court may be given on petition of either party to the contract, after such reasonable notice to the other party to the contract as is fixed by the court, with opportunity to such other party to appear and be heard.

(c) Approval of the court given under this section extends to the whole of the contract and all of its terms and provisions, including, but not limited to, any optional or conditional provisions contained in the contract for extension, prolongation, or termination of the term of the contract.

(4) Attorney's fees for services rendered in connection with the contract and other business of the minor.

6753. The court has continuing jurisdiction over a trust or other savings plan established pursuant to Section 6752 and may at any time, on good cause shown, order that the trust or other savings plan be amended or terminated, notwithstanding the provisions of the declaration of trust or other savings plan. The order may be made only after such reasonable notice to the beneficiary and to the parent or parents or guardian, if any, as is fixed by the court, with opportunity of all such parties to appear and be heard.

PART 6. EMANCIPATION OF MINORS LAW

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

7000. This part may be cited as the Emancipation of Minors Law.
7001. It is the purpose of this part to provide a clear statement defining emancipation and its consequences and to permit an emancipated minor to obtain a court declaration of the minor's status. This part is not intended to affect the status of minors who may become emancipated under the decisional case law that was in effect before the enactment of Chapter 1059 of the Statutes of 1978.
7002. A person under the age of 18 years is an emancipated minor if any of the following conditions is satisfied:
(a) The person has entered into a valid marriage, whether or not the marriage has been dissolved.
(b) The person is on active duty with the armed forces of the United States.
(c) The person has received a declaration of emancipation pursuant to Section 7122.

CHAPTER 2. EFFECT OF EMANCIPATION

7050. An emancipated minor shall be considered as being an adult for the following purposes:
(a) The minor's right to support by the minor's parents.
(b) The right of the minor's parents to the minor's earnings and to control the minor.
(c) The application of Sections 300 and 601 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.
(d) Ending all vicarious or imputed liability of the minor's parents or guardian for the minor's torts. Nothing in this section affects any liability of a parent, guardian, spouse, or employer imposed by the Vehicle Code, or any vicarious liability that arises from an agency relationship.

(2) Enter into a binding contract or give a delegation of power.

(15) Establish the minor's own residence.

(16) Apply for a work permit pursuant to Section 49110 of the Education Code without the request of the minor's parents.

(17) Enroll in a school or college.

7051. An insurance contract entered into by an emancipated minor has the same effect as if it were entered into by an adult and, with respect to that contract, the minor has the same rights, duties, and liabilities as an adult.

7052. With respect to shares of stock in a domestic or foreign corporation held by an emancipated minor, a membership in a nonprofit corporation held by an emancipated minor, or other property held by an emancipated minor, the minor may do all of the following:

(a) Vote in person, and give proxies to exercise any voting rights, with respect to the shares, membership, or property.
(b) Waive notice of any meeting or give consent to the holding of any meeting.
(c) Authorize, ratify, approve, or confirm any action that could be taken by shareholders, members, or property owners.

CHAPTER 3. COURT DECLARATION OF EMANCIPATION

7110. It is the intent of the Legislature that proceedings under this part be as simple and inexpensive as possible. To that end, the Judicial Council is requested to prepare and distribute to the clerks of the superior courts appropriate forms for the proceedings that are suitable for use by minors acting as their own counsel.

7111. The issuance of a declaration of emancipation does not entitle the minor to any benefits under Division 9 (commencing with Section 10000) of the Welfare and Institutions Code which would not otherwise accrue to an emancipated minor.

Article 2. Procedure for Declaration

7120. (a) A minor may petition the superior court of the county in which the minor resides or is temporarily domiciled for a declaration of emancipation.
(b) The petition shall set forth with specificity all of the following facts:
(1) The minor is at least 14 years of age.
(2) The minor willingly lives separate and apart from the minor’s parents or guardian with the consent or acquiescence of the minor’s parents or guardian.
(3) The minor is managing his or her own financial affairs.
(4) The source of the minor’s income is not derived from any activity declared to be a crime by the laws of this state or the laws of the United States.

7121. Before the petition is heard, such notice as the court determines is reasonable shall be given to the minor’s parents, guardian, or other person entitled to the custody of the minor, or proof shall be made to the court that their addresses are unknown or that for other reasons the notice cannot be given. The clerk of the court shall also notify the district attorney of the county where the matter is to be heard of the proceeding. If the minor is a ward or dependent child of the court, notice shall be given to the probation department.

7122. (a) The court shall sustain the petition if it finds that the minor is a person described by Section 7120 and that emancipation would not be contrary to the minor’s best interest.
(b) If the petition is sustained, the court shall forthwith issue a declaration of emancipation, which shall be filed by the county clerk.
(c) A declaration is conclusive evidence that the minor is emancipated.

7123.  (a) If the petition is denied, the minor has a right to file a petition for a writ of mandate.

(b) If the petition is sustained, the parents or guardian have a right to file a petition for a writ of mandate if they have appeared in the proceeding and opposed the granting of the petition.

Article 3. Voiding or Rescinding Declaration

7130.  (a) A declaration of emancipation obtained by fraud or by the withholding of material information is voidable.

(b) A declaration of emancipation of a minor who is indigent and has no means of support is subject to rescission.

7131. A petition to void a declaration of emancipation on the ground that the declaration was obtained by fraud or by the withholding of material information may be filed by any person or by any public or private agency. The petition shall be filed in the court that made the declaration.

7132. A petition to rescind a declaration of emancipation on the ground that the minor is indigent and has no means of support may be filed by the minor declared emancipated or by the minor's conservator. The petition shall be filed in the county in which the minor or the conservator resides.

7133.  (a) Before the petition is heard, such notice as the court determines is reasonable shall be given to the minor's parents or guardian, or proof shall be made to the court that their addresses are unknown or that for other reasons the notice cannot be given.

(b) No liability accrues to a parent or guardian not given actual notice, as a result of voiding or rescinding the declaration of emancipation, until that parent or guardian is given actual notice.

7134. If the petition is sustained, the court shall forthwith issue an order voiding or rescinding the declaration of emancipation, which shall be filed by the county clerk.

7135. Voiding or rescission of the declaration of emancipation does not alter any contractual obligation or right or any property right or interest that arose during the period that the declaration was in effect.

Article 4. Identification Cards and Information

7140. On application of a minor declared emancipated under this chapter, the Department of Motor Vehicles shall enter identifying information in its law enforcement computer network, and the fact of emancipation shall be stated on the department's identification card issued to the emancipated minor.

7141. A person who, in good faith, has examined a minor's identification card and relies on a minor's representation that the minor is emancipated, has the same rights and obligations as if the minor were in fact emancipated at the time of the representation.
7142. No public entity or employee is liable for any loss or injury resulting directly or indirectly from false or inaccurate information contained in the Department of Motor Vehicles records system or identification cards as provided in this part.

7143. If a declaration of emancipation is voided or rescinded, notice shall be sent immediately to the Department of Motor Vehicles which shall remove the information relating to emancipation in its law enforcement computer network. Any identification card issued stating emancipation shall be invalidated.

DIVISION 12. PARENT AND CHILD RELATIONSHIP

PART 1. CHILD OF WIFE COHABITING WITH HER HUSBAND

7500. Except as provided in Section 7501, the child of a wife cohabiting with her husband, who is not impotent or sterile, is conclusively presumed to be a child of the marriage.

7501. (a) Notwithstanding Section 7500, if the court finds that the conclusions of all the experts, as disclosed by the evidence based on blood tests performed pursuant to Part 2 (commencing with Section 7550), are that the husband is not the father of the child, the question of paternity of the husband shall be resolved accordingly.

(b) The notice of motion for blood tests under this section may be filed not later than two years from the child's date of birth by the husband, or for the purposes of establishing paternity by the presumed father or the child through or by the child's guardian ad litem. As used in this subdivision, "presumed father" has the meaning given in Sections 7611 and 7612.

(c) The notice of motion for blood tests under this section may be filed by the mother of the child not later than two years from the child's date of birth if the child's biological father has filed an affidavit with the court acknowledging paternity of the child.

(d) The notice of motion for blood tests pursuant to this section shall be supported by a declaration under oath submitted by the moving party stating the factual basis for placing the issue of paternity before the court.

(e) Subdivision (a) does not apply in any of the following cases:

1. A case which reached final judgment of paternity on or before September 30, 1980.

2. A case coming within Section 7613.

3. A case in which the wife, with the consent of the husband, conceived by means of a surgical procedure.

PART 2. BLOOD TESTS TO DETERMINE PATERNITY

7550. This part may be cited as the Uniform Act on Blood Tests to Determine Paternity.

7551. In a civil action or proceeding in which paternity is a relevant fact, the court may upon its own initiative or upon suggestion made by or on behalf of any person whose blood is involved, and shall upon motion of any party to the action or proceeding made at a time so as not to delay the proceedings unduly, order the mother, child, and alleged father to submit to blood tests. If a party refuses to submit to the tests, the court may resolve the question of paternity against that party or enforce its order if the rights of others and the interests of justice so require. A party's refusal to submit to the tests is admissible in evidence in any proceeding to determine paternity.

7552. The tests shall be made by experts qualified as examiners of blood types who shall be appointed by the court. The experts shall be called by the court as witnesses to testify to their findings and are subject to cross-examination by the parties. Any party or person at whose suggestion the tests have been ordered may demand that other experts, qualified as examiners of blood types, perform independent tests under order of the court, the results of which may be offered in evidence. The number and qualifications of these experts shall be determined by the court.

7553. The compensation of each expert witness appointed by the court shall be fixed at a reasonable amount. It shall be paid as the court shall order. The court may order that it be paid by the parties in the proportions and at the times the court prescribes, or that the proportion of any party be paid by the county, and that, after payment by the parties or the county or both, all or part or none of it be taxed as costs in the action or proceeding.

7554. (a) If the court finds that the conclusions of all the experts, as disclosed by the evidence based upon the tests, are that the alleged father is not the father of the child, the question of paternity shall be resolved accordingly.

(b) If the experts disagree in their findings or conclusions, or if the tests show the probability of the alleged father's paternity, the question, subject to Section 352 of the Evidence Code, shall be submitted upon all the evidence, including evidence based upon the tests.

7555. (a) There is a rebuttable presumption, affecting the burden of proof, of paternity, if the court finds that the paternity index, as calculated by the experts qualified as examiners of genetic markers, is 100 or greater. This presumption may only be rebutted by a preponderance of the evidence.

(b) As used in this section:

(1) “Genetic markers” mean separate identifiable genes or complexes of genes generally isolated as a result of blood typing, at least seven of which are normally tested in a paternity determination.

(2) “Paternity index” means the commonly accepted indicator used for denoting the existence of paternity. It represents the mathematically computed probability that the putative father is the true father of the child, as opposed to any other man of similar ethnic background. The paternity index, computed using results of various paternity tests following accepted statistical principles for the computation of probability, shall be in accordance with the method of expression accepted at the International Conference on Parentage Testing at Airlie House, Virginia, May 1982, sponsored by the American Association of Blood Banks.

7556. This part applies to criminal actions subject to the following limitations and provisions:

(a) An order for the tests shall be made only upon application of a party or on the court's initiative.

(b) The compensation of the experts shall be paid by the county under order of court.

(c) The court may direct a verdict of acquittal upon the conclusions of all the experts under Section 7554; otherwise, the case shall be submitted for determination upon all the evidence.

7557. Nothing in this part prevents a party to an action or proceeding from producing other expert evidence on the matter covered by this part; but, where other expert witnesses are called by a party to the action or proceeding, their fees shall be paid by the party calling them and only ordinary witness fees shall be taxed as costs in the action or proceeding.

PART 3. UNIFORM PARENTAGE ACT

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

7600. This part may be cited as the Uniform Parentage Act.

7601. "Parent and child relationship" as used in this part means the legal relationship existing between a child and the child's natural or adoptive parents incident to which the law confers or imposes rights, privileges, duties, and obligations. The term includes the mother and child relationship and the father and child relationship.

7602. The parent and child relationship extends equally to every child and to every parent, regardless of the marital status of the parents.

7603. Section 3140 is applicable to proceedings pursuant to this part.

7604. (a) A court may order pendente lite relief consisting of an award of custody or the grant of reasonable visitation rights pursuant to Part 2 (commencing with Section 3020) of Division 8, if the court finds both of the following:

(1) Based on the tests authorized by Section 7501, a parent and child relationship exists pursuant to Section 7500.

(2) The award of custody or the granting of visitation rights would be in the best interest of the child.

(b) In making an award authorizing visitation pursuant to this section, if a domestic violence prevention order has been directed to a parent, the court shall consider whether the best interest of the child requires that any visitation granted to that parent shall be limited to situations in which a third person, specified by the court, is present. The court shall include in its deliberations a consideration of the nature of the acts from which the parent was enjoined and the period of time that has elapsed since that order. A parent may submit the name of a person to the court that the parent deems suitable to be present during visitation.

CHAPTER 2. ESTABLISHING PARENT AND CHILD RELATIONSHIP

7610. The parent and child relationship may be established as follows:
(a) Between a child and the natural mother, it may be established by proof of her having given birth to the child, or under this part.
(b) Between a child and the natural father, it may be established under this part.
(c) Between a child and an adoptive parent, it may be established by proof of adoption.

7611. A man is presumed to be the natural father of a child if he meets the conditions as set forth in Part 1 (commencing with Section 7500) or in any of the following subdivisions:
(a) He and the child’s natural mother are or have been married to each other and the child is born during the marriage, or within 300 days after the marriage is terminated by death, annulment, declaration of invalidity, or divorce, or after a judgment of separation is entered by a court.
(b) Before the child’s birth, he and the child’s natural mother have attempted to marry each other by a marriage solemnized in apparent compliance with law, although the attempted marriage is or could be declared invalid, and:
(1) If the attempted marriage could be declared invalid only by a court, the child is born during the attempted marriage, or within 300 days after its termination by death, annulment, declaration of invalidity, or divorce; or
(2) If the attempted marriage is invalid without a court order, the child is born within 300 days after the termination of cohabitation.
(c) After the child’s birth, he and the child’s natural mother have married, or attempted to marry, each other by a marriage solemnized in apparent compliance with law, although the attempted marriage is or could be declared invalid, and:
(1) With his consent, he is named as the child’s father on the child’s birth certificate; or
(2) He is obligated to support the child under a written voluntary promise or by court order.
(d) He receives the child into his home and openly holds out the child as his natural child.
(e) If the child was born and resides in a nation with which the United States engages in an Orderly Departure Program or successor program, he acknowledges that he is the child’s father in a declaration under penalty of perjury, as specified in Section 2015.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure. This subdivision shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1997, and on that date shall become inoperative.

7612. (a) Except as provided in Part 1 (commencing with Section 7500), a presumption under Section 7611 is a rebuttable presumption affecting the burden of proof and may be rebutted in an appropriate action only by clear and convincing evidence.

(b) If two or more presumptions arise under Section 7611 which conflict with each other, the presumption which on the facts is founded on the weightier considerations of policy and logic controls.

(c) The presumption under Section 7611 is rebutted by a judgment establishing paternity of the child by another man.

7613. (a) If, under the supervision of a licensed physician and surgeon and with the consent of her husband, a wife is inseminated artificially with semen donated by a man not her husband, the husband is treated in law as if he were the natural father of a child thereby conceived. The husband’s consent must be in writing and signed by him and his wife. The physician and surgeon shall certify their signatures and the date of the insemination, and retain the husband’s consent as part of the medical record, where it shall be kept confidential and in a sealed file. However, the physician and surgeon’s failure to do so does not affect the father and child relationship. All papers and records pertaining to the insemination, whether part of the permanent record of a court or of a file held by the supervising physician and surgeon or elsewhere, are subject to inspection only upon an order of the court for good cause shown.

(b) The donor of semen provided to a licensed physician and surgeon for use in artificial insemination of a woman other than the donor’s wife is treated in law as if he were not the natural father of a child thereby conceived.

7614. (a) A promise in writing to furnish support for a child, growing out of a presumed or alleged father and child relationship, does not require consideration and, subject to Section 7632, is enforceable according to its terms.

(b) In the best interest of the child or the mother, the court may, and upon the promisor’s request shall, order the promise to be kept in confidence and designate a person or agency to receive and disburse on behalf of the child all amounts paid in performance of the promise.

CHAPTER 3. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

7620. (a) A person who has sexual intercourse in this state thereby submits to the jurisdiction of the courts of this state as to an action brought under this part with respect to a child who may have been conceived by that act of intercourse.

(b) An action under this part may be brought in the county in which the child resides or is found or, if the father is deceased, in which proceedings for probate of his estate have been or could be commenced.
CHAPTER 4. DETERMINATION OF PARENT AND CHILD RELATIONSHIP

Article 1. Determination of Father and Child Relationship

7630. (a) A child, the child’s natural mother, or a man presumed to be the child’s father under subdivision (a), (b), or (c) of Section 7611, may bring an action as follows:

(1) At any time for the purpose of declaring the existence of the father and child relationship presumed under subdivision (a), (b), or (c) of Section 7611.

(2) For the purpose of declaring the nonexistence of the father and child relationship presumed under subdivision (a), (b), or (c) of Section 7611 only if the action is brought within a reasonable time after obtaining knowledge of relevant facts. After the presumption has been rebutted, paternity of the child by another man may be determined in the same action, if he has been made a party.

(b) Any interested party may bring an action at any time for the purpose of determining the existence or nonexistence of the father and child relationship presumed under subdivision (d) of Section 7611.

(c) An action to determine the existence of the father and child relationship with respect to a child who has no presumed father under Section 7611 or whose presumed father is deceased may be brought by the child or personal representative of the child, the State Department of Social Services, the mother or the personal representative or a parent of the mother if the mother has died or is a minor, a man alleged or alleging himself to be the father, or the personal representative or a parent of the alleged father if the alleged father has died or is a minor. An action under this subdivision shall be consolidated with a proceeding pursuant to Section 7662 if a proceeding has been filed under Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 7660). The parental rights of the alleged natural father shall be determined as set forth in Section 7664.

7631. Except as to cases coming within Part 1 (commencing with Section 7500), a man not a presumed father may bring an action for the purpose of declaring that he is the natural father of a child having a presumed father under Section 7611, if the mother relinquishes for, consents to, or proposes to relinquish for or consent to, the adoption of the child. An action under this section shall be brought within 30 days after (1) the man is served as prescribed in Section 7666 with a notice that he is or could be the father of the child or (2) the birth of the child, whichever is later. The commencement of the action suspends a pending proceeding in connection with the adoption of the child until a judgment in the action is final.

7632. Regardless of its terms, an agreement between an alleged or presumed father and the mother or child does not bar an action under this chapter.

7633. An action under this chapter may be brought before the birth of the child.

7634. The district attorney may, in the district attorney's discretion, bring an action under this chapter in any case in which the district attorney believes it to be appropriate.

7635. (a) The child may, if under the age of 12 years, and shall, if 12 years of age or older, be made a party to the action. If the child is a minor and a party to the action, the child shall be represented by a guardian ad litem appointed by the court.

(b) The natural mother, each man presumed to be the father under Section 7611, and each man alleged to be the natural father, may be made parties and shall be given notice of the action in the manner prescribed in Section 7666 and an opportunity to be heard.

(c) The court may align the parties.

7636. The judgment or order of the court determining the existence or nonexistence of the parent and child relationship is determinative for all purposes except for actions brought pursuant to Section 270 of the Penal Code.

7637. (a) The judgment or order may contain any other provision directed against the appropriate party to the proceeding, concerning the duty of support, the custody and guardianship of the child, visitation privileges with the child, the furnishing of bond or other security for the payment of the judgment, or any other matter in the best interest of the child. The judgment or order may direct the father to pay the reasonable expenses of the mother's pregnancy and confinement.

(b) The judgment or order may include an order, made in accordance with, and subject to the requirements and limitations of, Article 3 (commencing with Section 4100) of Chapter 2 of Part 2 of Division 9, that requires one parent to pay to the other parent a reasonable amount for the cost of the support of the child for a period before the filing of the proceeding.

(c) In determining the amount to be paid by a parent for support of the child and the period during which the duty of support is owed, a court enforcing the obligation of support shall consider all relevant facts, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

1. Any agreements made between the parents before the date of the filing of the action.

2. Any previous payments made for the support of the child by the parent from whom support is sought.

3. Any bad faith on the part of either parent.

4. Any undue delay in seeking to establish an order for child support, the reasons for the undue delay, and whether either parent has been prejudiced as a result of the delay.

5. Any other factors deemed relevant by the court.

7638. The procedure in an action under this part to change the name of a minor or adult child for whom a parent and child relationship is established pursuant to Section 7636, upon application in accordance with Title 8 (commencing with Section 1275) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall conform to those provisions, except that the application for the change of name may be included with the petition filed under this part and except as provided in Sections 1277 and 1278 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

7640. The court may order reasonable fees of counsel, experts, and the child's guardian ad litem, and other costs of the action and pretrial proceedings, including blood tests, to be paid by the parties in proportions and at times determined by the court.

7641. (a) If existence of the father and child relationship is declared, or paternity or a duty of support has been acknowledged or adjudicated under this part or under prior law, the obligation of the father may be enforced in the same or other proceedings by any of the following:
   (1) The mother.
   (2) The child.
   (3) The public authority that has furnished or may furnish the reasonable expenses of pregnancy, confinement, education, support, or funeral.
   (4) Any other person, including a private agency, to the extent the person has furnished or is furnishing these expenses.
   (b) The court may order support payments to be made to any of the following:
      (1) The mother.
      (2) The clerk of the court.
      (3) A person, corporation, or agency designated to administer the payments for the benefit of the child under the supervision of the court.
   (c) Willful failure to obey the judgment or order of the court is a civil contempt of the court. All remedies for the enforcement of judgments, including imprisonment for contempt, apply.

7642. The court has continuing jurisdiction to modify a judgment or order made under this part. A judgment or order relating to an adoption may only be modified in the same manner and under the same conditions as an order of adoption may be modified under Section 9100 or 9102.

7643. (a) Notwithstanding any other law concerning public hearings and records, a hearing or trial held under this part may be held in closed court without admittance of any person other than those necessary to the action or proceeding. Except as provided in subdivision (b), all papers and records, other than the final judgment, pertaining to the action or proceeding, whether part of the permanent record of the court or of a file in a public agency or elsewhere, are subject to inspection only in exceptional cases upon an order of the court for good cause shown.
   (b) Papers and records pertaining to the action or proceeding that are part of the permanent record of the court are subject to inspection by the parties to the action and their attorneys.

Article 2. Determination of Mother and Child Relationship

7650. Any interested person may bring an action to determine the existence or nonexistence of a mother and child relationship. Insofar as practicable, the provisions of this part applicable to the father and child relationship apply.

Chapter 5. Termination of Parental Rights in Adoption Proceedings

7660. If a mother relinquishes for or consents to, or proposes to relinquish for or consent to, the adoption of a child who has (1) a presumed father under Section 7611 or (2) a father as to whom the child is a legitimate child under the law of this state or under the law of another jurisdiction, the father shall be given notice of the adoption proceeding and have the rights provided under Part 2 (commencing with Section 8600) of Division 13, unless the father's relationship to the child has been previously terminated or determined by a court not to exist or the father has voluntarily relinquished for or consented to the adoption of the child.

7661. If a father relinquishes for or consents to, or proposes to relinquish for or consent to, the adoption of a child, the mother shall be given notice of the adoption proceeding and have the rights provided under Part 2 (commencing with Section 8600) of Division 13, unless the mother's relationship to the child has been previously terminated by a court or the mother has voluntarily relinquished for or consented to the adoption of the child.

7662. If a mother relinquishes for or consents to, or proposes to relinquish for or consent to, the adoption of a child who does not have (1) a presumed father under Section 7611 or (2) a father as to whom the child is a legitimate child under the law of this state or under the law of another jurisdiction, or if a child otherwise becomes the subject of an adoption proceeding and the alleged father, if any, has not, in writing, denied paternity, waived his right to notice, or voluntarily relinquished for or consented to the adoption, the agency or person to whom the child has been or is to be relinquished, or the mother or the person having custody of the child, shall file a petition to terminate the parental rights of the father, unless either of the following occurs:

(a) The father's relationship to the child has been previously terminated or determined not to exist by a court.

(b) The father has been served as prescribed in Section 7666 with a written notice alleging that he is or could be the natural father of the child to be adopted or placed for adoption and has failed to bring an action for the purpose of declaring the existence of the father and child relationship pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 7630 within 30 days of service of the notice or the birth of the child, whichever is later.

7663. (a) In an effort to identify the natural father, the court shall cause inquiry to be made of the mother and any other appropriate person by any of the following:

1. The State Department of Social Services.
2. A licensed county adoption agency.
3. The licensed adoption agency to which the child is to be relinquished.
4. In the case of a stepparent adoption, at the option of the board of supervisors, a licensed county adoption agency, the county department designated by the board of supervisors to administer the public social services program, or the county probation department.

(b) The inquiry shall include all of the following:

1. Whether the mother was married at the time of conception of the child or at any time thereafter.
2. Whether the mother was cohabiting with a man at the time of conception or birth of the child.
3. Whether the mother has received support payments or promises of support with respect to the child or in connection with her pregnancy.
4. Whether any man has formally or informally acknowledged or declared his possible paternity of the child.

(c) The department or the licensed adoption agency shall report the findings to the court.

7664. (a) If, after the inquiry, the natural father is identified to the satisfaction of the court, or if more than one man is identified as a possible father, each shall be given notice of the proceeding in accordance with Section 7666, unless he has been served with a written notice alleging that he is or could be the natural father of the child to be adopted or placed or relinquished for adoption and has failed to bring an action pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 7630 to declare the existence of the father and child relationship within 30 days after service of the notice or the birth of the child, whichever is later. If any of them fails to appear or, if appearing, fails to claim parental rights, his parental rights with reference to the child shall be terminated.

(b) If the natural father or a man representing himself to be the natural father claims parental rights, the court shall determine if he is the father. The court shall then determine if it is in the best interest of the child that the father retain his parental rights, or that an adoption of the child be allowed to proceed. The court, in making that determination, may consider all relevant evidence, including the efforts made by the father to obtain custody, the age and prior placement of the child, and the effects of a change of placement on the child. If the court finds that it is in the best interest of the child that the father should be allowed to retain his parental rights, it shall order that his consent is necessary for an adoption. If the court finds that the man claiming parental rights is not the father, or that if he is the father it is in the child's best interest that an adoption be allowed to proceed, it shall order that that person's consent is not required for an adoption. This finding terminates all parental rights and responsibilities with respect to the child. Section 3041 does not apply to a proceeding under this chapter.

(c) Nothing in this part changes the rights of a presumed father under Section 7611.

7665. If, after the inquiry, the court is unable to identify the natural father or any possible natural father and no person has appeared claiming to be the natural father and claiming custodial rights, the court shall enter an order terminating the unknown natural father's parental rights with reference to the child.

7666. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), notice of the proceeding shall be given to every person identified as the natural father or a possible natural father in accordance with the Code of Civil Procedure for the service of process in a civil action in this state, except that publication or posting of the notice of the proceeding is not required. Proof of giving the notice shall be filed with the court before the petition is heard.

(b) If a person identified as the natural father or possible natural father cannot be located or his whereabouts is unknown or cannot be ascertained, the court may issue an order dispensing with notice to that person.

7667. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an action to terminate the parental rights of a father of a child as specified in this part shall be set for hearing not more than 45 days after filing of the petition therefor and completion of service thereon or the entry of an order dispensing with notice of the proceedings. The petition shall either specify the date of the hearing or state that a hearing will be held on a date as determined pursuant to this section, which shall be separately noticed.

(b) The matter so set shall have precedence over all other civil matters on the date set for trial, except an action to terminate parental rights pursuant to Part 4 (commencing with Section 7800).

7668. (a) The court may continue the proceedings for not more than 30 days as necessary to appoint counsel and to enable counsel to prepare for the case adequately or for other good cause.

(b) In order to obtain an order for a continuance of the hearing, written notice shall be filed within two court days of the date set for the hearing, together with affidavits or declarations detailing specific facts showing that a continuance is necessary, unless the court for good cause entertains an oral motion for continuance.

(c) Continuances shall be granted only upon a showing of good cause. Neither a stipulation between counsel nor the convenience of the parties is in and of itself a good cause.

(d) A continuance shall be granted only for that period of time shown to be necessary by the evidence considered at the hearing on the motion. If a continuance is granted, the facts proven which require the continuance shall be entered upon the minutes of the court.

7669. An order requiring or dispensing with a father's consent for the adoption of a child may be appealed from in the same manner as an order of the juvenile court declaring a person to be a ward of the juvenile court.

7670. There shall be no filing fee charged for a petition filed pursuant to Section 7662.

CHAPTER 6. PROTECTIVE AND TEMPORARY CUSTODY ORDERS

Article 1. Orders in Summons

7700. In addition to the contents required by Section 412.20 of the Code of Civil Procedure, in a proceeding under this part, the summons shall contain a temporary restraining order restraining all parties from removing from the state any minor child or children for whom the proceeding seeks to establish a parent and child relationship, without the prior written consent of the other party or an order of the court.

Article 2. Ex Parte Orders

7710. During the pendency of a proceeding under this part, upon application, the court may, in the manner provided by Part 4 (commencing with Section 240) of Division 2, issue ex parte orders doing any one or more of the following:

(a) Enjoining a party from contacting, molesting, attacking, striking, threatening, sexually assaulting, battering, telephoning, or disturbing the peace of the other party or the minor child.

(b) Excluding one party from the dwelling of the party who has care, custody, and control of the child upon a showing of both of the following:

(1) The party to be excluded has assaulted or threatens to assault the other party or the minor child.

(2) Physical or emotional harm would otherwise result to the party or the minor child.

(c) Enjoining a party from specified behavior which the court determines is necessary to effectuate orders under subdivision (a) or (b).

(d) Determining the temporary custody of a minor child who is the subject of a proceeding under this part and the right of a party to visit the minor child upon the conditions the court determines.

7711. A mutual restraining order specified in subdivision (a) of Section 7710 may not be issued unless both parties personally appear and each party presents evidence of abuse or domestic violence specified in subdivision (a) of Section 7710.
Article 3. Orders Issuable After Notice and Hearing

7720. (a) The court may issue, after notice and a hearing, any of the orders set forth in Section 7710.
    (b) Upon notice and a hearing, the court may also issue any of the following orders:
    (1) An order that restitution be paid to the plaintiff for loss of earnings and out-of-pocket expenses, including, but not limited to, expenses for medical care and temporary housing incurred as a direct result of the abuse or any actual physical injuries sustained therefrom.
    (2) An order that restitution be paid by the plaintiff for out-of-pocket expenses incurred by a party as a result of any order issued ex parte which is found by the court to have been issued upon facts shown at a noticed hearing to be insufficient to support the order.
    (3) An order requiring the defendant to pay any public or private agency for the reasonable cost of providing services to the plaintiff required as a direct result of the abuse inflicted by the opposing party or any injuries sustained therefrom.
    (c) An order for restitution under subdivision (b) shall not include damages for pain and suffering.

7721. After notice and a hearing, the court may order the exclusion of one party from the common dwelling of both parties or from the dwelling of the party who has care, custody, and control of the minor child upon a showing only that physical or emotional harm would otherwise result to the party or the minor child.

7722. A restraining order granted after notice and a hearing pursuant to this article shall remain in effect, in the discretion of the court, not to exceed three years, except as provided in Section 7750, unless otherwise terminated by the court, extended by mutual consent of the parties, or extended by further order of the court on the motion of a party.

Article 4. Required Statements in Order

7730. An order issued pursuant to this chapter shall state on its face the date of expiration of the order.

7731. The temporary restraining order shall state on its face a notice in substantially the following form: “NOTICE TO DEFENDANT: If you do not appear at the court hearing specified herein, the court may grant the requested orders for a period of up to three years without further notice to you.”

Article 5. Registration and Enforcement of Orders

7740. The court shall order the party who obtained the order or the attorney for the party to deliver or the clerk to mail a copy of any order, or extension, modification, or termination thereof, granted pursuant to this chapter, by the close of the business day on which the order, extension, modification, or termination was granted, and any subsequent proof of service thereof, to each local law enforcement agency designated by the party or the attorney for the party, having jurisdiction over the residence of the party who has care, custody, and control of the minor child and such other locations where the court determines that acts of domestic violence against the party and the minor child are likely to occur.

7741. Each appropriate law enforcement agency shall make available to any law enforcement officer responding to the scene of reported domestic violence, through an existing system for verification, information as to the existence, terms, and current status of an order issued pursuant to this chapter.

7742. (a) A restraining order against domestic violence issued pursuant to subdivision (a), (b), or (c) of Section 7710 may, upon the request of the plaintiff, be served upon the defendant by a law enforcement officer who is present at the scene of reported domestic violence involving the parties to the action.

(b) The plaintiff shall provide the officer with an endorsed copy of the order and a proof of service which the officer shall complete and transmit to the issuing court.

7743. A willful and knowing violation of an order granted pursuant to this chapter is a crime punishable under Section 273.6 of the Penal Code.

Article 6. Protective Orders Included in Judgment

7750. (a) A judgment entered under this part may include any orders issued pursuant to subdivision (a), (b), or (c) of Section 7710.

(b) If an order is included in the judgment pursuant to subdivision (a), the judgment shall state on its face both of the following:

(1) Which provisions of the judgment are the orders.

(2) The date of expiration of the orders, which shall be not more than three years from the date the judgment is issued unless extended by the court after notice and hearing.

(c) The judgments, or orders, or extensions thereof shall be transmitted to law enforcement agencies in the manner provided by Section 7740.

(d) A willful and knowing violation of an order included in the judgment pursuant to subdivision (a) is a crime punishable under Section 273.6 of the Penal Code.

PART 4. FREEDOM FROM PARENTAL CUSTODY AND CONTROL

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

7800. The purpose of this part is to serve the welfare and best interest of a child by providing the stability and security of an adoptive home when those conditions are otherwise missing from the child's life.

7801. This part shall be liberally construed to serve and protect the interests and welfare of the child.

7802. A proceeding may be brought under this part for the purpose of having a minor child declared free from the custody and control of either or both parents.

7803. A declaration of freedom from parental custody and control pursuant to this part terminates all parental rights and responsibilities with regard to the child.

7804. In a proceeding under this part, the court may appoint a suitable party to act in behalf of the child and may order such further notice of the proceedings to be given as the court deems proper.

7805. (a) A petition filed in a proceeding under this part, or a report of the probation officer or county department designated by the board of supervisors to administer the public social services program filed in a proceeding under this part, may be inspected only by the following persons:

(1) Court personnel.

(2) The child who is the subject of the proceeding.

(3) The parents or guardian of the child.

(4) The attorneys for the parties.

(5) Any other person designated by the judge.

(b) In a proceeding before the court of appeal or Supreme Court to review a judgment or order entered in a proceeding under this part, the court record and briefs filed by the parties may be inspected only by the following persons:

(1) Court personnel.

(2) A party to the proceeding.

(3) The attorneys for the parties.

(4) Any other person designated by the presiding judge of the court before which the matter is pending.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, if it is believed that the welfare of the child will be promoted thereby, the court and the probation officer may furnish information, pertaining to a petition under this part, to any of the following:

(1) The State Department of Social Services.

(2) A county welfare department.

(3) A public welfare agency.

(4) A private welfare agency licensed by the State Department of Social Services.

7806. There shall be no filing fee charged for a proceeding brought under this part.

7807. Sections 3020, 3021, 3040 to 3043, inclusive, and 3409 do not apply in a proceeding under this part.

7808. This part does not apply to a minor adjudged a dependent child of the juvenile court pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 360 of the Welfare and Institutions Code on and after January 1, 1989, during the period in which the minor is a dependent child of the court. For those minors, the exclusive means for the termination of parental rights are provided in the following statutes:
(a) Section 366.26 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.
(b) Sections 8604 to 8606, inclusive, and 8700 of this code.
(c) Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 7660) of Part 3 of this code.

CHAPTER 2. CIRCUMSTANCES WHERE PROCEEDING MAY BE BROUGHT

7820. A proceeding may be brought under this part for the purpose of having a child under the age of 18 years declared free from the custody and control of either or both parents if the child comes within any of the descriptions set out in this chapter.
7821. A finding pursuant to this chapter shall be supported by clear and convincing evidence.
7822. (a) A proceeding under this part may be brought where the child has been left without provision for the child's identification by the child's parent or parents or by others or has been left by both parents or the sole parent in the care and custody of another for a period of six months or by one parent in the care and custody of the other parent for a period of one year without any provision for the child's support, or without communication from the parent or parents, with the intent on the part of the parent or parents to abandon the child.
(b) The failure to provide identification, failure to provide support, or failure to communicate is presumptive evidence of the intent to abandon. If the parent or parents have made only token efforts to support or communicate with the child, the court may declare the child abandoned by the parent or parents.
(c) If the child has been left without provision for the child's identification and the whereabouts of the parents are unknown, a petition may be filed after the 120th day following the discovery of the child and citation by publication may be commenced. The petition may not be heard until after the 180th day following the discovery of the child.
(d) If the parent has placed the child for adoption and has not refused to give the required consent to adoption, evidence of the adoptive placement shall not in itself preclude the court from finding an intent on the part of that parent to abandon the child. If the parent has placed the child for adoption and has refused to give the required consent to adoption but has not taken reasonable action to obtain custody of the child, evidence of the adoptive placement shall not in itself preclude the court from finding an intent on the part of that parent to abandon the child.
7823. (a) A proceeding under this part may be brought where all of the following requirements are satisfied:
(1) The child has been neglected or cruelly treated by either or both parents.
(2) The child has been a dependent child of the juvenile court under any subdivision of Section 300 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and the parent or parents have been deprived of the child’s custody for one year before the filing of a petition pursuant to this part.

(b) Physical custody by the parent or parents for insubstantial periods of time does not interrupt the running of the one-year period.

7824. (a) "Disability" as used in this section means any physical or mental incapacity which renders the parent or parents unable to care for and control the child adequately.

(b) A proceeding under this part may be brought where all of the following requirements are satisfied:

(1) The child is one whose parent or parents (A) suffer a disability because of the habitual use of alcohol, or any of the controlled substances specified in Schedules I to V, inclusive, of Division 10 (commencing with Section 11000) of the Health and Safety Code, except when these controlled substances are used as part of a medically prescribed plan, or (B) are morally depraved.

(2) The child has been a dependent child of the juvenile court, and the parent or parents have been deprived of the child’s custody continuously for one year immediately before the filing of a petition pursuant to this part.

(c) Physical custody by the parent or parents for insubstantial periods of time does not interrupt the running of the one-year period.

7825. A proceeding under this part may be brought where both of the following requirements are satisfied:

(a) The child is one whose parent or parents are convicted of a felony.

(b) The facts of the crime of which the parent or parents were convicted are of such a nature so as to prove the unfitness of the parent or parents to have the future custody and control of the child.

7826. A proceeding under this part may be brought where both of the following requirements are satisfied:

(a) The child is one whose parent or parents have been declared by a court of competent jurisdiction, wherever situated, to be developmentally disabled or mentally ill.

(b) In the state or country in which the parent or parents reside or are hospitalized, the Director of Mental Health or the Director of Developmental Services, or their equivalent, if any, and the superintendent of the hospital, if any, of which the parent or parents are inmates or patients, certify that the parent or parents so declared to be developmentally disabled or mentally ill will not be capable of supporting or controlling the child in a proper manner.

7827. (a) "Mentally disabled" as used in this section means that a parent or parents suffer a mental incapacity or disorder which renders the parent or parents unable to care for and control the child adequately.
(b) A proceeding under this part may be brought where the child is one whose parent or parents are mentally disabled and are likely to remain so in the foreseeable future.

(c) Except as provided in subdivision (d), the evidence of any two experts, each of whom shall be either a physician and surgeon, certified either by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology or under Section 6750 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or a licensed psychologist who has a doctoral degree in psychology and at least five years of postgraduate experience in the diagnosis and treatment of emotional and mental disorders, is required to support a finding under this section.

(d) If the parent or parents reside in another state or in a foreign country, the evidence required by this section may be supplied by the affidavits of two experts, each of whom shall be either of the following:

1. A physician and surgeon who is a resident of that state or foreign country, and who has been certified by a medical organization or society of that state or foreign country to practice psychiatric or neurological medicine.

2. A licensed psychologist who has a doctoral degree in psychology and at least five years of postgraduate experience in the diagnosis and treatment of emotional and mental disorders and who is licensed in that state or authorized to practice in that country.

(e) If the rights of a parent are sought to be terminated pursuant to this section, and the parent has no attorney, the court shall appoint an attorney for the parent pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 7860) of Chapter 3, whether or not a request for the appointment is made by the parent.

7828. (a) A proceeding under this part may be brought where all of the following requirements are satisfied:

1. The child is one who has been in out-of-home placement under the supervision of the juvenile court, the county welfare department, or other public or private licensed child-placing agency for a one-year period.

2. The court finds that return of the child to the child's parent or parents would be detrimental to the child and that the parent or parents have failed during the one-year period, and are likely to fail in the future, to maintain an adequate parental relationship with the child, which includes providing both a home and care and control for the child.

(b) If the child has been adjudged a dependent child of the juvenile court and placed in out-of-home placement pursuant to Section 361 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the one-year period is calculated from the date of the dispositional hearing at which the child was placed in out-of-home placement pursuant to that section.

(c) If the child is in placement under the supervision of a county welfare department or other public or private licensed child-placing agency, pursuant to a voluntary placement, as described in Section 16507.4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the one-year period is calculated from the date the child entered out-of-home placement.
(d) Trial placement of the child in the physical custody of the parent or visitation of the child with the parent during the one-year period, when the trial placement or visitation does not result in permanent placement of the child with the parent, does not interrupt the running of the one-year period.
(e) The court shall make a determination that reasonable services have been provided or offered to the parents which were designed to aid the parents to overcome the problems which led to the deprivation or continued loss of custody and that despite the availability of these services, return of the child to the parents would be detrimental to the child. The probation officer or social worker currently assigned to the case of the child shall appear at the termination proceedings. If the child has been adjudged to be a dependent child of the court pursuant to Section 300 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the court shall review and consider the contents of the juvenile court file in determining if the services offered were reasonable under the circumstances.

7829. A proceeding under this part may be brought where both of the following requirements are satisfied:
(a) The child has been found to be a dependent child of the juvenile court.
(b) The juvenile court has determined, pursuant to paragraph (3), (4), or (5) of subdivision (b) of Section 361.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, that reunification services shall not be provided to the child’s parent or guardian.

CHAPTER 3. PROCEDURE

Article 1. Authorized Petitioners

7840. (a) A petition may be filed under this part for an order or judgment declaring a child free from the custody and control of either or both parents by any of the following:
(1) The State Department of Social Services, a county welfare department, a licensed private or public adoption agency, a county adoption department, or a county probation department which is planning adoptive placement of the child with a licensed adoption agency.
(2) The State Department of Social Services acting as an adoption agency in counties which are not served by a county adoption agency.
(b) The fact that a child is in a foster care home subject to the requirements of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1500) of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code does not prevent the filing of a petition under subdivision (a).
(c) The county counsel or, if there is no county counsel, the district attorney of the county specified in Section 7845 shall, in a proper case, institute the proceeding upon the request of any of the state or county agencies mentioned in subdivision (a). The proceeding shall be instituted pursuant to this part within 30 days of the request.

(d) If, at the time of the filing of a petition by a department or agency specified in subdivision (a), the child is in the custody of the petitioner, the petitioner may continue to have custody of the child pending the hearing on the petition unless the court, in its discretion, makes such other order regarding custody pending the hearing as it finds will best serve and protect the interest and welfare of the child.

7841. Any interested person may file a petition under this part for an order or judgment declaring a child free from the custody and control of either or both parents.

Article 2. Venue

7845. The petition shall be filed in either of the following:
(a) The county in which a minor described in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 7820) resides or is found.
(b) The county in which any of the acts which are set forth in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 7820) are alleged to have occurred.

Article 3. Investigation and Report

7850. Upon the filing of a petition under Section 7841, the clerk of the court shall, in accordance with the direction of the court, immediately notify the juvenile probation officer, or the county department designated by the board of supervisors to administer the public social services program, who shall immediately investigate the circumstances of the child and the circumstances which are alleged to bring the child within any of the provisions of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 7820).

7851. (a) The juvenile probation officer or the county department shall render to the court a written report of the investigation with a recommendation to the court of the proper disposition to be made in the proceeding in the best interest of the child.
(b) The report shall include all of the following:
(1) A statement that the person making the report explained to the child the nature of the proceeding to end parental custody and control.
(2) A statement of the child’s feelings and thoughts concerning the pending proceeding.
(3) A statement of the child’s attitude towards the child’s parent or parents and particularly whether or not the child would prefer living with his or her parent or parents.
(4) A statement that the child was informed of the child’s right to attend the hearing on the petition and the child’s feelings concerning attending the hearing.
(c) If the age, or the physical, emotional, or other condition of the child precludes the child's meaningful response to the explanations, inquiries, and information required by subdivision (b), a description of the condition shall satisfy the requirement of that subdivision.

(d) The court shall receive the report in evidence and shall read and consider its contents in rendering the court's judgment.

Article 4. Appointment of Counsel

7860. At the beginning of the proceeding on a petition filed pursuant to this part, counsel shall be appointed as provided in this article. The public defender or private counsel may be appointed as counsel pursuant to this article. The same counsel shall not be appointed to represent both the child and the child's parent.

7861. The court shall consider whether the interests of the child require the appointment of counsel. If the court finds that the interests of the child require representation by counsel, the court shall appoint counsel to represent the child, whether or not the child is able to afford counsel. The child shall not be present in court unless the child so requests or the court so orders.

7862. If a parent appears without counsel and is unable to afford counsel, the court shall appoint counsel for the parent, unless that representation is knowingly and intelligently waived.

7863. Private counsel appointed under this article shall receive a reasonable sum for compensation and expenses, the amount of which shall be determined by the court. The amount so determined shall be paid by the real parties in interest, other than the child, in proportions the court deems just. However, if the court finds that any of the real parties in interest are unable to afford counsel, the amount shall be paid out of the general fund of the county.

7864. The court may continue the proceeding for not to exceed 30 days as necessary to appoint counsel and to enable counsel to become acquainted with the case.

Article 5. Time for Hearing; Continuance

7870. (a) It is the public policy of this state that judicial proceedings to declare a child free from parental custody and control shall be fully determined as expeditiously as possible.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a proceeding to declare a child free from parental custody and control pursuant to this part shall be set for trial not more than 45 days after filing notification therefor and completion of service thereon in the manner prescribed by law for service of civil process. The matter so set has precedence over all other civil matters on the date set for trial.

(c) The court may continue the proceeding as provided in Section 7864 or Section 7871.

7871. (a) A continuance may be granted only upon a showing of good cause. Neither a stipulation between counsel nor the convenience of the parties is in and of itself a good cause.

(b) Unless the court for good cause entertains an oral motion for continuance, written notice of a motion for a continuance of the hearing shall be filed within two court days of the date set for the hearing, together with affidavits or declarations detailing specific facts showing that a continuance is necessary.

(c) A continuance shall be granted only for that period of time shown to be necessary by the evidence considered at the hearing on the motion. Whenever a continuance is granted, the facts proven which require the continuance shall be entered upon the minutes of the court.

Article 6. Notice of Proceeding and Attendance at Hearing

7880. (a) Upon the filing of the petition, a citation shall issue requiring any person having the custody or control of the child, or the person with whom the child is, to appear at a time and place stated in the citation.

(b) The citation shall also require the person to appear with the child except that, if the child is under the age of 10 years, appearance with the child is required only upon order of the court after necessity has been shown.

(c) Service of the citation shall be made in the manner prescribed by law for service of civil process at least 10 days before the time stated in the citation for the appearance.

7881. (a) Notice of the proceeding shall be given by service of a citation on the father or mother of the child, if the place of residence of the father or mother is known to the petitioner. If the place of residence of the father or mother is not known to the petitioner, then the citation shall be served on the grandparents and adult brothers, sisters, uncles, aunts, and first cousins of the child, if there are any and if their residences and relationships to the child are known to the petitioner.

(b) The citation shall advise the person or persons that they may appear at the time and place stated in the citation. The citation shall also advise the person or persons of the rights and procedures set forth in Article 4 (commencing with Section 7860). If the petition is filed for the purpose of freeing the child for placement for adoption, the citation shall so state.

(c) The citation shall be served in the manner provided by law for the service of a summons in a civil action, other than by publication.
If one parent has relinquished the child for the purpose of adoption, or has signed a consent for adoption as provided in Sections 8700, 8814, or 9003, notice as provided in this section need not be given to the parent who has signed the relinquishment or consent.

(d) Service of the citations required by this section shall be made at least 10 days before the time stated in the citation for the appearance.
7882. (a) If the father or mother of the child or a person alleged to be or claiming to be the father or mother cannot, with reasonable diligence, be served as provided for in Section 7881, or if his or her place of residence is not known to the petitioner, the petitioner or the petitioner's agent or attorney shall make and file an affidavit, which shall state the name of the father or mother or alleged father or mother and his or her place of residence, if known to the petitioner, and the name of the father or mother or alleged father or mother whose place of residence is unknown to the petitioner.

(b) Upon the filing of the affidavit, the court shall make an order that (1) the service shall be made by the publication of a citation requiring the father or mother or alleged father or mother to appear at the time and place stated in the citation and (2) the citation shall be published pursuant to Section 6064 of the Government Code in a newspaper to be named and designated in the order as most likely to give notice to the father or mother or alleged father or mother to be served.

(c) In case of publication where the residence of a parent or alleged parent is known, the court shall also direct a copy of the citation to be forthwith served upon that parent or alleged parent by mail by deposit in the post office properly addressed and with the postage thereon fully prepaid, directed to that parent or alleged parent at the place of residence. When publication is ordered, service of a copy of the citation in the manner provided for in Section 7881 is equivalent to publication and deposit in the post office.

(d) If one or both of the parents of the child are unknown or if the names of one or both of the child’s parents are uncertain, that fact shall be set forth in the affidavit and the court shall order the citation to be directed to either or both of the child’s parents, naming and otherwise describing the child, and to all persons claiming to be a parent of the child.

(e) Service is complete at the expiration of the time prescribed by the order for publication or when service is made as provided for in Section 7881, whichever event first occurs.

7883. If a person personally served with a citation within this state as provided in Section 7880 fails without reasonable cause to appear and abide by the order of the court, or to bring the child before the court if so required in the citation, the failure constitutes a contempt of court.

7884. (a) Unless requested by the child concerning whom the petition has been filed and any parent or guardian present, the public shall not be admitted to a proceeding under this part.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), the judge may admit those persons the judge determines have a direct and legitimate interest in the particular case or in the work of the court.
Article 7. Hearing and Subsequent Proceedings

7890. In a proceeding under this part, the court shall consider the wishes of the child, bearing in mind the age of the child, and shall act in the best interest of the child.

7891. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, if the child subject of the petition is 10 years of age or older, the child shall be heard by the court in chambers on at least the following matters:
   (1) The feelings and thoughts of the child concerning the custody proceeding about to take place.
   (2) The feelings and thoughts of the child about the child's parent or parents.
   (3) The child's preference as to custody, according to Section 3020 and Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 3040) of Part 2 of Division 8.
   (b) The court shall inform the child of the child's right to attend the hearing. However, counsel for the child may waive the in chambers hearing by the court.
   (c) This section does not apply if the child is confined because of illness or other incapacity to an institution or residence and is therefore unable to attend.

7892. (a) The testimony of the child may be taken in chambers and outside the presence of the child's parent or parents if the child's parent or parents are represented by counsel, the counsel is present, and any of the following circumstances exist:
   (1) The court determines that testimony in chambers is necessary to ensure truthful testimony.
   (2) The child is likely to be intimidated by a formal courtroom setting.
   (3) The child is afraid to testify in front of the child's parent or parents.
   (b) The testimony of a child also may be taken in chambers and outside the presence of the guardian or guardians of a child under the circumstances specified in subdivision (a).
   (c) A finding pursuant to this section shall be supported by clear and convincing evidence.
   (d) After testimony in chambers, the parent or parents of the child may elect to have the court reporter read back the testimony or have the testimony summarized by counsel for the parent or parents.

7893. (a) If the court, by order or judgment, declares a child free from the custody and control of both parents under this part, or one parent if the other no longer has custody and control, the court shall at the same time take one of the following actions:
   (1) Appoint a guardian for the child.
   (2) At the request of the State Department of Social Services or a licensed adoption agency, or where the court finds it is in the child's best interest, refer the child to a licensed adoption agency for adoptive placement by the agency.
(b) When the court refers the child to a licensed adoption agency for adoptive placement by the agency:
   (1) The agency is responsible for the care of the child and is entitled to the exclusive custody and control of the child at all times until a petition for adoption has been granted.
   (2) After the referral, no petition for guardianship may be filed without the consent of the agency.
   (3) No petition for adoption may be heard until the appellate rights of the natural parents have been exhausted.

7894. (a) An order and judgment of the court declaring a child free from the custody and control of a parent or parents under this part is conclusive and binding upon the child, upon the parent or parents, and upon all other persons who have been served with citations by publication or otherwise as provided in this part.
   (b) After making the order and judgment, the court has no power to set aside, change, or modify it.
   (c) Nothing in this section limits the right to appeal from the order and judgment.

7895. (a) Upon appeal from a judgment freeing a child who is a dependent child of the juvenile court from parental custody and control, the appellate court shall appoint counsel for the appellant as provided by this section.
   (b) Upon motion by the appellant and a finding that the appellant is unable to afford counsel, the appellate court shall appoint counsel for the indigent appellant, and appellant's counsel shall be provided a free copy of the reporter's and clerk's transcript. All of those costs are a charge against the state.
   (c) The reporter's and clerk's transcripts shall be prepared and transmitted immediately after filing of the notice of appeal, at state expense and without advance payment of fees. If the appellant is able to afford counsel, the state may seek reimbursement from the appellant for the cost of the transcripts under subdivision (c) of Section 68511.3 of the Government Code as though the appellant had been granted permission to proceed in forma pauperis.

PART 5. INTERSTATE COMPACT ON PLACEMENT OF CHILDREN

7900. The Interstate Compact on Placement of Children as set forth in Section 7901 is hereby adopted and entered into with all other jurisdictions joining therein.

7901. The provisions of the interstate compact referred to in Section 7900 are as follows:

INTERSTATE COMPACT ON THE PLACEMENT OF CHILDREN

Article 1. Purpose and Policy
It is the purpose and policy of the party states to cooperate with each other in the interstate placement of children to the end that:

(a) Each child requiring placement shall receive the maximum opportunity to be placed in a suitable environment and with persons or institutions having appropriate qualifications and facilities to provide a necessary and desirable degree and type of care.

(b) The appropriate authorities in a state where a child is to be placed may have full opportunity to ascertain the circumstances of the proposed placement, thereby promoting full compliance with applicable requirements for the protection of the child.

(c) The proper authorities of the state from which the placement is made may obtain the most complete information on the basis on which to evaluate a projected placement before it is made.

(d) Appropriate jurisdictional arrangements for the care of children will be promoted.

Article 2. Definitions

As used in this compact:

(a) "Child" means a person who, by reason of minority, is legally subject to parental, guardianship, or similar control.

(b) "Sending agency" means a party state, or officer or employee thereof; subdivision of a party state, or officer or employee thereof; a court of a party state; a person, corporation, association, charitable agency, or other entity which sends, brings, or causes to be sent or brought any child to another party state.

(c) "Receiving state" means the state to which a child is sent, brought, or caused to be sent or brought, whether by public authorities or private persons or agencies, and whether for placement with state or local public authorities or for placement with private agencies or persons.

(d) "Placement" means the arrangement for the care of a child in a family free or boarding home or in a child-caring agency or institution but does not include any institution caring for the mentally ill, mentally defective or epileptic or any institution primarily educational in character, and any hospital or other medical facility.

Article 3. Conditions for Placement

(a) No sending agency shall send, bring, or cause to be sent or brought into any other party state any child for placement in foster care or as a preliminary to a possible adoption unless the sending agency shall comply with each and every requirement set forth in this article and with the applicable laws of the receiving state governing the placement of children therein.

(b) Before sending, bringing, or causing any child to be sent or brought into a receiving state for placement in foster care or as a preliminary to a possible adoption, the sending agency shall furnish the appropriate public authorities in the receiving state written notice of the intention to send, bring, or place the child in the receiving state. The notice shall contain:

(1) The name, date, and place of birth of the child.
(2) The identity and address or addresses of the parents or legal guardian.
(3) The name and address of the person, agency, or institution to or with which the sending agency proposes to send, bring, or place the child.
(4) A full statement of the reasons for the proposed action and evidence of the authority pursuant to which the placement is proposed to be made.

(c) Any public officer or agency in a receiving state which is in receipt of a notice pursuant to paragraph (b) of this article may request of the sending agency, or any other appropriate officer or agency of or in the sending agency's state, and shall be entitled to receive therefrom, supporting or additional information as it may deem necessary under the circumstances to carry out the purpose and policy of this compact.

(d) The child shall not be sent, brought, or caused to be sent or brought into the receiving state until the appropriate public authorities in the receiving state shall notify the sending agency, in writing, to the effect that the proposed placement does not appear to be contrary to the interests of the child.

Article 4. Penalty for Illegal Placement

The sending, bringing, or causing to be sent or brought into any receiving state of a child in violation of the terms of this compact shall constitute a violation of the laws respecting the placement of children of both the state in which the sending agency is located or from which it sends or brings the child and of the receiving state. A violation may be punished or subjected to penalty in either jurisdiction in accordance with its laws. In addition to liability for any punishment or penalty, any violation shall constitute full and sufficient grounds for the suspension or revocation of any license, permit, or other legal authorization held by the sending agency which empowers or allows it to place, or care for children.

Article 5. Retention of Jurisdiction

(a) The sending agency shall retain jurisdiction over the child sufficient to determine all matters in relation to the custody, supervision, care, treatment, and disposition of the child which it would have had if the child had remained in the sending agency's state, until the child is adopted, reaches majority, becomes self-supporting, or is discharged with the concurrence of the appropriate authority in the receiving state. That jurisdiction shall also include the power to effect or cause the return of the child or its transfer to another location and custody pursuant to law. The sending agency shall continue to have financial responsibility for support and maintenance of the child during the period of the placement. Nothing contained herein shall defeat a claim of jurisdiction by a receiving state sufficient to deal with an act of delinquency or crime committed therein.

(b) When the sending agency is a public agency, it may enter into an agreement with an authorized public or private agency in the receiving state providing for the performance of one or more services in respect of that case by the latter as agent for the sending agency.

(c) Nothing in this compact shall be construed to prevent a private charitable agency authorized to place children in the receiving state from performing services or acting as agent in that state for a private charitable agency of the sending state; nor to prevent the agency in the receiving state from discharging financial responsibility for the support and maintenance of a child who has been placed on behalf of the sending agency without relieving the responsibility set forth in paragraph (a) of this article.

Article 6. Institutional Care of Delinquent Children

A child adjudicated delinquent may be placed in an institution in another party jurisdiction pursuant to this compact but no such placement shall be made unless the child is given a court hearing on notice to the parent or guardian with opportunity to be heard, before being sent to the other party jurisdiction for institutional care and the court finds that both of the following exist:

(a) Equivalent facilities for the child are not available in the sending agency's jurisdiction.

(b) Institutional care in the other jurisdiction is in the best interest of the child and will not produce undue hardship.

Article 7. Compact Administrator

The executive head of each jurisdiction party to this compact shall designate an officer who shall be general coordinator of activities under this compact in his or her jurisdiction and who, acting jointly with like officers of other party jurisdictions, shall have power to promulgate rules and regulations to carry out more effectively the terms and provisions of this compact.

Article 8. Limitations

This compact shall not apply to:

(a) The sending or bringing of a child into a receiving state by his or her parent, stepparent, grandparent, adult brother or sister, adult uncle or aunt, or his or her guardian and leaving the child with any such relative or nonagency guardian in the receiving state.
(b) Any placement, sending or bringing of a child into a receiving state pursuant to any other interstate compact to which both the state from which the child is sent or brought and the receiving state are party, or to any other agreement between said states which has the force of law.

Article 9. Enactment and Withdrawal

This compact shall be open to joinder by any state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and, with the consent of Congress, the government of Canada or any province thereof. It shall become effective with respect to any of these jurisdictions when that jurisdiction has enacted the same into law. Withdrawal from this compact shall be by the enactment of a statute repealing the same, but shall not take effect until two years after the effective date of the statute and until written notice of the withdrawal has been given by the withdrawing state to the Governor of each other party jurisdiction. Withdrawal of a party state shall not affect the rights, duties, and obligations under this compact of any sending agency therein with respect to a placement made before the effective date of withdrawal.

Article 10. Construction and Severability

The provisions of this compact shall be liberally construed to effectuate the purposes thereof. The provisions of this compact shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence, or provision of this compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any party state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person, or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person, or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this compact shall be held contrary to the constitution of any state party thereto, the compact shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters.

7902. Financial responsibility for a child placed pursuant to the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children shall be determined in accordance with Article 5 of the compact in the first instance. However, in the event of partial or complete default of performance thereunder, the provisions of other state laws also may be invoked.

7903. The phrase "appropriate public authorities" as used in Article 3 of the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children means, with reference to this state, the State Department of Social Services, and that department shall receive and act with reference to notices required by Article 3 of the compact.

7904. The phrase "appropriate authority in receiving state" as used in paragraph (a) of Article 5 of the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children, with reference to this state, means the State Department of Social Services.

7905. The officers and agencies of this state and its subdivisions having authority to place children are hereby empowered to enter into agreements with appropriate officers or agencies of or in other party states pursuant to paragraph (b) of Article 5 of the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children. Any such agreement which contains a financial commitment or imposes a financial obligation on this state or subdivision or agency thereof is not binding unless it has the approval in writing of the Controller in the case of the state and of the chief local fiscal officer in the case of a subdivision of the state.

7906. Any requirements for visitation, inspection, or supervision of children, homes, institutions, or other agencies in another party state which may apply under the law of this state shall be deemed to be met if performed pursuant to an agreement entered into by appropriate officers or agencies of this state or a subdivision thereof as contemplated by paragraph (b) of Article 5 of the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children.

7907. No provision of law restricting out-of-state placement of children for adoption shall apply to placements made pursuant to the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children.

7908. A court having jurisdiction to place delinquent children may place a delinquent child in an institution in another state pursuant to Article 6 of the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children and shall retain jurisdiction as provided in Article 5 of the compact.

7909. "Executive head" as used in Article 7 of the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children means the Governor. The Governor shall appoint a compact administrator in accordance with the terms of Article 7 of the compact.

7910. Approval of an interstate placement of a child for adoption shall not be granted by the compact administrator if the placement is in violation of either Section 8801 of this code or Section 273 of the Penal Code.

PART 6. PRIORITIES FOR FOSTER CARE PLACEMENT

7950. (a) With full consideration for the proximity of the natural parents to the placement so as to facilitate visitation and family reunification, when a child is being considered for placement in foster care, the following order of placement preference regarding racial or ethnic background shall be used, except where application of these priorities would not be in the best interest of the child:

(1) Placement shall, if possible, be made in the home of a relative. Diligent efforts shall be made to locate an appropriate relative. Before any child may be placed in long-term foster care, each relative whose name has been submitted to the agency as a possible caretaker, either by himself or herself or by other persons, shall be evaluated as an appropriate placement resource.

(2) If a relative is not available after 30 days from the time the child comes under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, or if placement with available relatives is not in the child’s best interest, placement shall be made with a foster parent with the same racial or ethnic identification as the child. If the child has a mixed racial or ethnic background, placement shall be made with a family of the racial or ethnic group with which the child has the more significant contacts.

(3) If placement cannot be made under the rules set forth in paragraphs (1) and (2), placement shall be made with a family of a different racial background or ethnic identification where there is evidence of sensitivity to the child’s race, ethnicity, and culture. The child’s religious background shall also be considered in determining an appropriate placement.

(b) Nothing in this section precludes either of the following:

(1) A search for an appropriate relative being conducted simultaneously with a search for a foster family.

(2) The child remaining at the same placement site while the search for an appropriate relative or foster family is being conducted.

7951. A determination of good cause not to follow the rules set forth in Section 7950 may be based on one or more of the following considerations:

(a) Request of the parent or parents.

(b) The extraordinary physical or emotional needs of the child.

(c) The unavailability of suitable parents for placement after a diligent search has been completed for families meeting the preference criteria.

7952. (a) Every public or private agency is encouraged to maintain records for the placement of each child to show that a diligent search has been conducted for families meeting the criteria of this part, and in accordance with preference of placement criteria established by the State Department of Social Services.

(b) Records of agencies maintained pursuant to this section may be reviewed upon request by the state department.

7953. This part does not apply in determining the foster care setting in which the child may be placed for a period not intended to exceed 30 days.

7954. A minor 10 years of age or older being considered for placement in a foster home has the right to make a brief statement to the court making a decision on placement. The court may disregard any preferences expressed by the minor. The minor’s right to make a statement is not limited to the initial placement, but continues for any proceedings concerning continued placement or a decision to return to parental custody.

8545. "Special-needs child" means a child whose adoption without financial assistance would be unlikely because of adverse parental background, ethnic background, race, color, language, membership in a sibling group that should remain intact, mental, physical, medical, or emotional handicaps, or age of three years or more.

8548. "Stepparent adoption" means an adoption of a child by a stepparent where one birth parent retains custody and control of the child.

PART 2. ADOPTION OF UNMARRIED MINORS

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

8600. An unmarried minor may be adopted by an adult as provided in this part.

8601. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (b), a prospective adoptive parent or parents shall be at least 10 years older than the child.

(b) If the court is satisfied that the adoption of a child by a stepparent, or by a sister, brother, aunt, uncle, or first cousin and, if that person is married, by that person and that person's spouse, is in the best interest of the parties and is in the public interest, it may approve the adoption without regard to the ages of the child and the prospective adoptive parent or parents.

8602. The consent of a child, if over the age of 12 years, is necessary to the child's adoption.

8603. A married person, not lawfully separated from the person's spouse, may not adopt a child without the consent of the spouse, provided that the spouse is capable of giving that consent.

8604. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), a child having a presumed father under Section 7611 may not be adopted without the consent of the child's birth parents, if living.
(b) If one birth parent has been awarded custody by judicial order, or has custody by agreement of both parents, and the other birth parent for a period of one year willfully fails to communicate with and to pay for the care, support, and education of the child when able to do so, then the birth parent having sole custody may consent to the adoption, but only after the birth parent not having custody has been served with a copy of a citation in the manner provided by law for the service of a summons in a civil action that requires the birth parent not having custody to appear at the time and place set for the appearance in court under Section 8718, 8823, 8913, or 9007.

(c) Failure of a birth parent to pay for the care, support, and education of the child for the period of one year or failure of a birth parent to communicate with the child for the period of one year is prima facie evidence that the failure was willful and without lawful excuse.

8605. A child not having a presumed father under Section 7611 may not be adopted without the consent of the child’s mother, if living.

8606. Notwithstanding Sections 8604 and 8605, the consent of a birth parent is not necessary in the following cases:

(a) Where the birth parent has been judicially deprived of the custody and control of the child (1) by a court order declaring the child to be free from the custody and control of either or both birth parents pursuant to Part 4 (commencing with Section 7800) of Division 12 of this code, or Section 366.25 or 366.26 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or (2) by a similar order of a court of another jurisdiction, pursuant to a law of that jurisdiction authorizing the order.

(b) Where the birth parent has, in a judicial proceeding in another jurisdiction, voluntarily surrendered the right to the custody and control of the child pursuant to a law of that jurisdiction providing for the surrender.

(c) Where the birth parent has deserted the child without provision for identification of the child.

(d) Where the birth parent has relinquished the child for adoption as provided in Section 8700.

(e) Where the birth parent has relinquished the child for adoption to a licensed or authorized child-placing agency in another jurisdiction pursuant to the law of that jurisdiction.

8607. All forms adopted by the department authorizing the release of an infant from a health facility to the custody of persons other than the person entitled to custody of the child pursuant to Section 3010 and authorizing these other persons to obtain medical care for the infant shall contain a statement in boldface type delineating the various types of adoptions available, the birth parents’ rights with regard thereto, including, but not limited to, rights with regard to revocation of consent to adoption, and a statement regarding the authority of the court under Part 4.
(commencing with Section 7800) of Division 12 to declare the child abandoned by the birth parent or parents.

8608. (a) The department shall adopt regulations specifying the form and content of the reports required by Sections 8706, 8817, and 8909. In addition to any other material that may be required by the department, the form shall include inquiries designed to elicit information on any illness, disease, or defect of a genetic or hereditary nature.

(b) All licensed adoption agencies shall cooperate with and assist the department in devising a plan that will effectuate the effective and discreet transmission to adoptees or prospective adoptive parents of pertinent medical information reported to the department or the licensed adoption agency, upon the request of the person reporting the medical information.

8609. (a) Any person or organization that, without holding a valid and unrevoked license to place children for adoption issued by the department, advertises in any periodical or newspaper, by radio, or other public medium, that he, she, or it will place children for adoption, or accept, supply, provide, or obtain children for adoption, or that causes any advertisement to be published in or by any public medium soliciting, requesting, or asking for any child or children for adoption is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(b) Any person, other than a birth parent, or any organization, association, or corporation that, without holding a valid and unrevoked license to place children for adoption issued by the department, places any child for adoption is guilty of a misdemeanor.

8610. (a) The petitioners in a proceeding for adoption of a child shall file with the court a full accounting report of all disbursements of anything of value made or agreed to be made by them or on their behalf in connection with the birth of the child, the placement of the child with the petitioners, any medical or hospital care received by the child's birth mother or by the child in connection with the child's birth, any other expenses of either birth parent, or the adoption. The accounting report shall be made under penalty of perjury and shall be submitted to the court on or before the date set for the hearing on the adoption petition, unless the court grants an extension of time.

(b) The accounting report shall be itemized in detail and shall show the services relating to the adoption or to the placement of the child for adoption that were received by the petitioners, by either birth parent, by the child, or by any other person for whom payment was made by or on behalf of the petitioners. The report shall also include the dates of each payment, the names and addresses of each attorney, physician and surgeon, hospital, licensed adoption agency, or other person or organization who received any funds of the petitioners in connection with the adoption or the placement of the child with them, or participated in any way in the handling of those funds, either directly or indirectly.

(c) This section does not apply to an adoption by a stepparent where one birth parent or adoptive parent retains custody and control of the child.

8611. All court hearings in an adoption proceeding shall be held in private, and the court shall exclude all persons except the officers of the court, the parties, their witnesses, counsel, and representatives of the agencies present to perform their official duties under the law governing adoptions.

8612. (a) The court shall examine all persons appearing before it pursuant to this part. The examination of each person shall be conducted separately but within the physical presence of every other person unless the court, in its discretion, orders otherwise.

(b) The prospective adoptive parent or parents shall execute and acknowledge an agreement in writing that the child will be treated in all respects as their lawful child.

(c) If satisfied that the interest of the child will be promoted by the adoption, the court may make and enter an order of adoption of the child by the prospective adoptive parent or parents.

8613. (a) If the prospective adoptive parent is commissioned or enlisted in the military service, or auxiliary thereof, of the United States, or of any of its allies, or in the American Red Cross, so that it is impossible or impracticable, because of the prospective adoptive parent’s absence from this state, or otherwise, to make an appearance in person, and the circumstances are established by satisfactory evidence, the appearance may be made for the prospective adoptive parent by counsel, commissioned and empowered in writing for that purpose. The power of attorney may be incorporated in the adoption petition.

(b) Where the prospective adoptive parent is permitted to appear by counsel, the agreement may be executed and acknowledged by the counsel, or may be executed by the absent party before a notary public, or any other person authorized to take acknowledgments including the persons authorized by Sections 1183 and 1183.5 of the Civil Code.

(c) Where the prospective adoptive parent is permitted to appear by counsel, or otherwise, the court may, in its discretion, cause an examination of the prospective adoptive parent, other interested person, or witness to be made upon deposition, as it deems necessary. The deposition shall be taken upon commission, as prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, and the expense thereof shall be borne by the petitioner.

(d) The petition, relinquishment or consent, agreement, order, report to the court from any investigating agency, and any power of attorney and deposition shall be filed in the office of the county clerk.

(e) The provisions of this section permitting an appearance through counsel are equally applicable to the spouse of a prospective adoptive parent who resides with the prospective adoptive parent outside this state.

(f) Where, pursuant to this section, neither prospective adoptive parent need appear before the court, the child proposed to be adopted need not appear. If the law otherwise requires that the child execute any document during the course of the hearing, the child may do so through counsel.

(g) Where none of the parties appears, the court may not make an order of adoption until after a report has been filed with the court pursuant to Section 8715, 8807, 8914, or 9001.

8614. Upon the request of the adoptive parents or the adopted child, a county clerk may issue a certificate of adoption that states the date and place of adoption, the birthday of the child, the names of the adoptive parents, and the name the child has taken. Unless the child has been adopted by a stepparent, the certificate shall not state the name of the birth parents of the child.

8615. (a) Notwithstanding any other law, an action may be brought in the county in which the petitioner resides for the purpose of obtaining for a child adopted by the petitioner a new birth certificate specifying that a deceased spouse of the petitioner who was in the home at the time of the initial placement of the child is a parent of the child.

(b) In an adoption proceeding, the petitioner may request that the new birth certificate specify that a deceased spouse of the petitioner who was in the home at the time of the initial placement of the child is a parent of the child.

(c) The inclusion of the name of a deceased person in a birth certificate issued pursuant to a court order under this section does not affect any matter of testate or intestate succession, and is not competent evidence on the issue of the relationship between the adopted child and the deceased person in any action or proceeding.

8616. After adoption, the adopted child and the adoptive parents shall sustain towards each other the legal relationship of parent and child and have all the rights and are subject to all the duties of that relationship.

8618. A child adopted pursuant to this part may take the family name of the adoptive parent.

8619. The department shall adopt rules and regulations it determines are reasonably necessary to ensure that the birth parent or parents of Indian ancestry, seeking to relinquish a child for adoption, provide sufficient information to the department or to the licensed adoption agency so that a certificate of degree of Indian blood can be obtained from the Bureau of Indian Affairs. The department shall immediately request a certificate of degree of Indian blood from the Bureau of Indian Affairs upon obtaining the information. A copy of all documents pertaining to the degree of Indian blood and tribal enrollment, including a copy of the certificate of degree of Indian blood, shall become a permanent record in the adoption files and shall be housed in a central location and made available to authorized personnel from the Bureau of Indian Affairs when required to determine the adopted person's eligibility to receive services or benefits because of the adopted person's status as an Indian. This information shall be made available to the adopted person upon reaching the age of majority.

CHAPTER 2. AGENCY ADOPTIONS

8700. (a) Either birth parent may relinquish a child to the department or a licensed adoption agency for adoption by a written statement signed before two subscribing witnesses and acknowledged before an authorized official of the department or licensed adoption agency. The relinquishment, when reciting that the person making it is entitled to the sole custody of the child and acknowledged before the officer, is prima facie evidence of the right of the person making it to the sole custody of the child and the person's sole right to relinquish.

(b) A birth parent who is a minor has the right to relinquish the birth parent's child for adoption to a licensed adoption agency, and the relinquishment is not subject to revocation by reason of the minority.

(c) If a birth parent resides outside this state and the child is being cared for and is placed for adoption by a licensed adoption agency, the birth parent may relinquish the child to the agency by a written statement signed by the birth parent before a notary on a form prescribed by the agency, and previously signed by an authorized official of the agency, which signifies the willingness of the agency to accept the relinquishment.

(d) The relinquishment authorized by this section has no effect until a certified copy is filed with the department. Upon filing with the department, the relinquishment is final and may be rescinded only by the mutual consent of the adoption agency and the birth parent or parents relinquishing the child.

(e) The filing of the relinquishment with the department terminates all parental rights and responsibilities with regard to the child.

8701. At or before the time a relinquishment is signed, the department or licensed adoption agency shall advise the birth parent signing the relinquishment, verbally and in writing, that the birth parent may, at any time in the future, request from the department or agency all known information about the status of the child's adoption, except for personal, identifying information about the adoptive family. The birth parent shall be advised that this information includes, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(a) Whether the child has been placed for adoption.

(b) The approximate date that an adoption was completed.

(c) If the adoption was not completed or was vacated, for any reason, whether adoptive placement of the child is again being considered.

8702. (a) The department shall adopt a statement to be presented to the birth parents at the time a relinquishment is signed and to prospective adoptive parents at the time of the home study. The statement shall, in a clear and concise manner and in words calculated to ensure the confidence of the birth parents in the integrity of the adoption process, communicate to the birth parents of a child who is the subject of an adoption petition all of the following facts:

1. It is in the child’s best interest that the birth parent keep the department or licensed adoption agency to whom the child was relinquished for adoption informed of any health problems that the parent develops that could affect the child.

2. It is extremely important that the birth parent keep an address current with the department or licensed adoption agency to whom the child was relinquished for adoption in order to permit a response to inquiries concerning medical or social history.

3. Section 9203 of the Family Code authorizes a person who has been adopted and who attains the age of 21 years to request the department or the licensed adoption agency to disclose the name and address of the adoptee’s birth parents. Consequently, it is of the utmost importance that the birth parent indicate whether to allow this disclosure by checking the appropriate box provided on the form.

4. The birth parent may change the decision whether to permit disclosure of the birth parent’s name and address, at any time, by sending a notarized letter to that effect, by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the department or to the licensed adoption agency that joined in the adoption petition.

5. The relinquishment will be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the adoption takes place. The file is not open to inspection by any persons other than the parties to the adoption proceeding, their attorneys, and the department, except upon order of a judge of the superior court.

(b) The department shall adopt a form to be signed by the birth parents at the time the relinquishment is signed, which shall provide as follows:

“Section 9203 of the Family Code authorizes a person who has been adopted and who attains the age of 21 years to make a request to the State Department of Social Services, or the licensed adoption agency that joined in the adoption petition, for the name and address of the adoptee’s birth parents. Indicate by checking one of the boxes below whether or not you wish your name and address to be disclosed:

□ YES
□ NO □ UNCERTAIN AT THIS TIME; WILL NOTIFY AGENCY AT LATER DATE.”

8703. When the parental rights of a birth parent are terminated pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 7660) of Part 3 of Division 12 or Part 4 (commencing with Section 7800) of Division 12, or pursuant to Section 366.25 or 366.26 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the department or licensed adoption agency responsible for the adoptive placement of the child shall send a written notice to the birth parent, if the birth parent’s address is known, that contains the following statement:

“You are encouraged to keep the department or this agency informed of your current address in order to permit a response to any inquiry concerning medical or social history made by or on behalf of the child who was the subject of the court action terminating parental rights.”

8704. (a) The department or licensed adoption agency to which a child has been freed for adoption by either relinquishment or termination of parental rights is responsible for the care of the child, and is entitled to the exclusive custody and control of the child until an order of adoption is granted. Any placement for temporary care, or for adoption, made by the department or a licensed adoption agency may be terminated in its discretion at any time before the granting of an order of adoption. In the event of termination of any placement for temporary care or for adoption, the child shall be returned promptly to the physical custody of the department or licensed adoption agency.

(b) No petition may be filed to adopt a child relinquished to the department or a licensed adoption agency or a child declared free from the custody and control of either or both birth parents and referred to the department or a licensed adoption agency for adoptive placement, except by the prospective adoptive parents with whom the child has been placed for adoption by the department or licensed adoption agency. After the adoption petition has been filed, the department or licensed adoption agency may remove the child from the prospective adoptive parents only with the approval of the court, upon motion by the department or licensed adoption agency after notice to the prospective adoptive parents, supported by an affidavit or affidavits stating the grounds on which removal is sought. If the department or licensed adoption agency refuses to consent to the adoption of a child by the person or persons with whom the department or licensed adoption agency placed the child for adoption, the court may nevertheless order the adoption if it finds that the refusal to consent is not in the child’s best interest.

(c) Notwithstanding any other law, if the child has been in foster care for a period of more than four months, the child has substantial emotional ties to the foster parent or parents, the child’s removal from the foster parent or parents would be seriously detrimental to the child’s well-being, and the foster parent or parents make a written request to be considered to adopt the child, the foster parent or parents shall be considered with respect to the child along with all other prospective adoptive parents. The department or licensed adoption agency shall take into consideration any relevant factors that it deems necessary in determining which adoptive placement is in the child’s best interest.

(d) The decision of the department or licensed adoption agency for the adoptive placement of the child shall be presumed to be in the child’s best interest. This presumption may be rebutted in an action, brought by the foster parent or parents, by a preponderance of the evidence that foster care has been provided by the requesting foster parent or parents for more than four months, that the child has substantial emotional ties to the foster parent or parents, and that the adoptive placement of the child with someone other than the foster parent or parents would be seriously detrimental to the child’s well-being.

(e) Subdivisions (c) and (d) do not apply to a child who has been adjudged to be a dependent of the juvenile court pursuant to Section 300 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

§ 8705. (a) Where a child is in the custody of a public agency or licensed adoption agency, if it is established that the persons whose consent to the adoption is required by law are deceased, an action may be brought by the department or a licensed adoption agency requesting the court to make an order establishing that the requesting agency has the right to custody and control of the child and the authority to place the child for adoption. The department or agency bringing the action shall give notice in the form prescribed by the court to all known relatives of the child up to and including the third degree of lineal or collateral consanguinity.

(b) This section does not apply where a guardian of the person of the child has been appointed pursuant to nomination by a will.

§ 8706. (a) An agency may not place a child for adoption unless a written report on the child’s medical background and, if available, the medical background of the child’s biological parents so far as ascertainable, has been submitted to the prospective adoptive parents and they have acknowledged in writing the receipt of the report.

(b) The report on the child’s background shall contain all known diagnostic information, including current medical reports on the child, psychological evaluations, and scholastic information, as well as all known information regarding the child’s developmental history and family life.

§ 8707. (a) The department shall establish a statewide photo-listing service to serve all licensed adoption agencies in the state as a means of recruiting adoptive families. The department shall adopt regulations governing the operations of the photo-listing service and shall establish procedures for monitoring compliance with this section.

(b) The photo-listing service shall maintain a book that, except as provided in this section, contains a photograph and description of each child who has been legally freed for adoption and whose case plan goal is adoption. Registration of children with the photo-listing service and notification by the licensed adoption agency of changes in a child’s photo-listing status shall be reflected in the book within 30 working days of receipt of the registration or notification.

(c) The photo-listing service shall be provided to all licensed adoption agencies, adoption support groups, and state, regional, and national photo-listings and exchanges requesting copies of the photo-listing service.

(d) All children legally freed for adoption whose case plan goal is adoption shall be photo-listed, unless deferred as provided in subdivision (e) or (f). Licensed adoption agencies shall send a recent photograph and description of each legally freed child to the photo-listing service within 15 working days of the time a child is legally freed for adoption. When adoption has become the case plan goal for a particular child, the licensed adoption agency may photo-list that child before the child becomes legally freed for adoption.

(e) A child shall be deferred from the photo-listing service when the child’s foster parents or other identified individuals who have applied to adopt the child are meeting the licensed adoption agency’s requests for required documentation and are cooperating in the completion of a home study being conducted by the agency.

(f) A child who is 12 years old or older may be deferred from the photo-listing service if the child does not consent to being adopted.

(g) Within 15 working days following a one-year period in which a child is listed in the book, the licensed adoption agency shall submit a revised description and photograph of the child.

(h) Licensed adoption agencies shall notify the photo-listing service, by telephone, of any adoptive placements or of significant changes in a child’s photo-listing status within two working days of the change.

(i) The department shall establish procedures for semiannual review of the photo-listing status of all legally freed children whose case plan goal is adoption, including those who are registered with the photo-listing service and those whose registration has been deferred.

8708. Where a child is being considered for adoption, the following order of placement preferences regarding racial background and ethnic identification shall be used, subject to this section and Section 8709, in determining the placement of the child:

(a) In the home of a relative.

(b) If a relative is not available, or if placement with available relatives is not in the child’s best interest, with an adoptive family with the same racial background or ethnic identification as the child. If the child has a mixed racial or ethnic background, placement shall be made with a family of the racial or ethnic group with which the child has the more significant contacts.

(c) If placement cannot be made under the rules set forth in this section within 90 days from the time the child is relinquished for adoption or has been declared free from parental custody or control, the child is free for adoption with a family of a different racial background or ethnic identification where there is evidence of sensitivity to the child’s race, ethnicity, and culture. The child’s religious background shall also be considered in determining an appropriate placement. Unless it can be documented that a diligent search meeting the requirements of Section 8710 for a family meeting the placement criteria has been made, a child may not be placed for adoption with a family of a different racial background or ethnic identification pursuant to this subdivision.

8709. A determination of good cause not to follow the rules provided in Section 8708 may be based on one or more of the following considerations:

(a) Request of the birth parent or parents.
(b) Extraordinary physical or emotional needs of the child.
(c) The child is legally free for adoption for a period exceeding 90 days, during which a diligent search was conducted, and no family meeting the placement preference criteria is available for placement. Documentation is necessary in order to make a finding of good cause under this subdivision.
(d) Application of the rules provided in Section 8708 would not be in the child’s best interest.

8710. (a) The department shall adopt rules governing the diligent search required by subdivision (c) of Section 8708.
(b) Every public and private adoption agency shall maintain records for the placement of each child to show that a diligent search has been conducted for families meeting the criteria of Section 8708 and in accordance with the diligent search rules adopted by the department. In conducting a diligent search, each agency shall use all appropriate resources, as necessary, in a directed effort to recruit a family meeting the placement preference criteria through (1) the use of all appropriate intra-agency and interagency, state, regional, and national exchanges and listing books, (2) child-specific recruitment in electronic and printed media coverage, and (3) the use of agency contacts with parent groups to advocate for specific waiting children.
(c) Records of agencies maintained pursuant to this section may be reviewed upon request by the department.

8711. Sections 8708 to 8710, inclusive, apply only in determining the placement of a child who has been relinquished for adoption or has been declared free from the custody and control of the birth parents.

8712. (a) The department or licensed adoption agency shall require each person filing an application for adoption to be fingerprinted and shall secure from an appropriate law enforcement agency any criminal record of that person to determine whether the person has ever been convicted of a crime other than a minor traffic violation. The department or licensed adoption agency may also secure the person’s full criminal record, if any.
(b) The criminal record, if any, shall be taken into consideration when evaluating the prospective adoptive parent, and an assessment of the effects of any criminal history on the ability of the prospective adoptive parent to provide adequate and proper care and guidance to the child shall be included in the report to the court.

(c) Any fee charged by a law enforcement agency for fingerprinting or for checking or obtaining the criminal record of the applicant shall be paid by the applicant. The department or licensed adoption agency may defer, waive, or reduce the fee when its payment would cause economic hardship to prospective adoptive parents detrimental to the welfare of the adopted child, when the child has been in the foster care of the prospective adoptive parents for at least one year, or if necessary for the placement of a special-needs child.

8713. (a) In no event may a child who has been freed for adoption be removed from the county in which the child was placed, by any person who has not petitioned to adopt the child, without first obtaining the written consent of the department or licensed adoption agency responsible for the child.

(b) During the pendency of an adoption proceeding:

(1) The child proposed to be adopted may not be concealed within the county in which the adoption proceeding is pending.

(2) The child may not be removed from the county in which the adoption proceeding is pending unless the petitioners or other interested persons first obtain permission for the removal from the court, after giving advance written notice of intent to obtain the court’s permission to the department or licensed adoption agency responsible for the child. Upon proof of giving notice, permission may be granted by the court if, within a period of 15 days after the date of giving notice, no objections are filed with the court by the department or licensed adoption agency responsible for the child. If the department or licensed adoption agency files objections within the 15-day period, upon the request of the petitioners the court shall immediately set the matter for hearing and give to the objector, the petitioners, and the party or parties requesting permission for the removal reasonable notice of the hearing by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address of each as shown in the records of the adoption proceeding. Upon a finding that the objections are without good cause, the court may grant the requested permission for removal of the child, subject to any limitations that appear to be in the child’s best interest.

(c) This section does not apply in any of the following situations:

(1) Where the child is absent for a period of not more than 30 days from the county in which the adoption proceeding is pending, unless a notice of recommendation of denial of petition has been personally served on the petitioners or the court has issued an order prohibiting the child’s removal from the county pending consideration of any of the following:

(A) The suitability of the petitioners.
(B) The care provided the child.
(C) The availability of the legally required agency consents to the adoption.
(2) Where the child has been returned to and remains in the custody and control of the child's birth parent or parents.

(3) Where written consent for the removal of the child is obtained from the department or licensed adoption agency responsible for the child.

(d) A violation of this section is a violation of Section 280 of the Penal Code.

(e) Neither this section nor Section 280 of the Penal Code may be construed to render lawful any act that is unlawful under any other applicable law.

8714. (a) A person desiring to adopt a child may for that purpose file a petition in the county in which the petitioner resides. The court clerk shall immediately notify the department at Sacramento in writing of the pendency of the proceeding and of any subsequent action taken.

(b) The caption of the adoption petition shall contain the names of the petitioners, but not the child's name. The petition shall state the child's sex and date of birth. The name the child had before adoption shall appear in the joinder signed by the licensed adoption agency.

(c) If the child is the subject of a guardianship petition, the adoption petition shall so state and shall include the caption and docket number or have attached a copy of the letters of the guardianship or temporary guardianship. The petitioners shall notify the court of any petition for guardianship or temporary guardianship filed after the adoption petition. The guardianship proceeding shall be consolidated with the adoption proceeding.

(d) The order of adoption shall contain the child's adopted name, but not the name the child had before adoption.

8715. The department or licensed adoption agency, whichever is a party to or joins in the petition, shall submit a full report of the facts of the case to the court. The department may also submit a report in those cases in which a licensed adoption agency is a party or joins in the adoption petition.

8716. Where a petition is filed for the adoption of a child who has been placed for adoption by a licensed county adoption agency or the department, the agency or department may, at the time of filing a favorable report with the court, require the petitioners to pay to the agency, as agent of the state, or to the department, a fee of five hundred dollars ($500). The agency or department may defer, waive, or reduce the fee if its payment would cause economic hardship to the prospective adoptive parents detrimental to the welfare of the adopted child, if the child has been in the foster care of the prospective adoptive parents for at least one year, or if necessary for the placement of a special-needs child.

8717. When any report or findings are submitted to the court by the department or licensed adoption agency, a copy of the report or findings, whether favorable or unfavorable, shall be given to the petitioner's attorney in the proceeding, if the petitioner has an attorney of record, or to the petitioner.

8718. The prospective adoptive parents and the child proposed to be adopted shall appear before the court pursuant to Sections 8612 and 8613.

8719. If the petitioners move to withdraw the adoption petition or to dismiss the proceeding, the court clerk shall immediately notify the department at Sacramento of the action.

8720. (a) If the department or licensed adoption agency finds that the home of the petitioners is not suitable for the child or that the required agency consents are not available and the department or agency recommends that the petition be denied, or if the petitioners desire to withdraw the petition and the department or agency recommends that the petition be denied, the clerk upon receipt of the report of the department or agency shall immediately refer it to the court for review.

(b) Upon receipt of the report, the court shall set a date for a hearing of the petition and shall give reasonable notice of the hearing to the department or licensed adoption agency, the petitioners, and, if necessary, the birth parents, by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address of each as shown in the proceeding.

(c) The department or licensed adoption agency shall appear to represent the child.

CHAPTER 3. INDEPENDENT ADOPTIONS

8800. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that lawyering may be deficient when conflict of interest deprives the client of undivided loyalty and effort. The Legislature further finds and declares that the relation between attorney and client is a fiduciary relation of the very highest character, and binds the attorney to the most conscientious fidelity.

(b) The Legislature finds that Rule 2-111(A)(2) of the State Bar Rules of Professional Conduct provides that an attorney shall not withdraw from employment until the attorney has taken reasonable steps to avoid foreseeable prejudice to the rights of the client, including giving due notice to the client, allowing time for employment of other counsel, delivering to the client all papers and property to which the client is entitled, and complying with applicable laws and rules.

(c) The Legislature declares that in an independent adoption proceeding, whether or not written consent is obtained, multiple representation by an attorney should be avoided whenever a birth parent displays the slightest reason for the attorney to believe any controversy might arise. The Legislature finds and declares that it is the duty of the attorney when a conflict of interest occurs to withdraw promptly from any case, advise the parties to retain independent counsel, refrain from taking positions in opposition to any of these former clients, and thereafter maintain an impartial, fair, and open attitude toward the new attorneys.
(d) Notwithstanding any other law, it is unethical for an attorney to undertake the representation of both the prospective adoptive parents and the birth parents of a child in any negotiations or proceedings in connection with an adoption unless a written consent is obtained from both parties. The written consent shall include all of the following:

(1) A notice to the birth parents, in the form specified in this section, of their right to have an independent attorney advise and represent them in the adoption proceeding and that the prospective adoptive parents may be required to pay the reasonable attorney's fees up to a maximum of five hundred dollars ($500) for that representation, unless a higher fee is agreed to by the parties.

(2) A notice to the birth parents that they may waive their right to an independent attorney and may be represented by the attorney representing the prospective adoptive parents.

(3) A waiver by the birth parents of representation by an independent attorney.

(4) An agreement that the attorney representing the prospective adoptive parents shall represent the birth parents.

(e) Upon the petition or motion of any party, or upon motion of the court, the court may appoint an attorney to represent a child's birth parent or parents in negotiations or proceedings in connection with the child's adoption.

(f) The birth parent or parents may have an attorney, other than the attorney representing the interests of the prospective adoptive parents, to advise them fully of the adoption procedures and of their legal rights. The birth parent or parents also may retain an attorney to represent them in negotiations or proceedings in connection with the child's adoption. The court may award attorney's fees and costs for just cause and based upon the ability of the parties to pay those fees and costs.

(g) In the initial communication between the attorney retained by or representing the prospective adoptive parents and the birth parents, or as soon thereafter as reasonable, but before any written consent for dual representation, the attorney shall advise the birth parents of their rights regarding an independent attorney and that it is possible to waive the independent attorney.

(h) Any written consent to dual representation shall be filed with the court before the filing of the birth parent's consent to adoption.

8801. (a) The selection of a prospective adoptive parent or parents shall be personally made by the child's birth parent or parents and may not be delegated to an agent. The act of selection by the birth parent or parents shall be based upon his, her, or their personal knowledge of the prospective adoptive parent or parents.

(b) "Personal knowledge" as used in this section includes, but is not limited to, substantially correct knowledge of all of the following regarding the prospective adoptive parents: their full legal names, ages, religion, race or ethnicity, employment, whether other children or adults reside in their home, any health conditions curtailing their normal daily activities or reducing their normal life expectancies, and their general area of residence or, upon request, their address.

8802. (a) A person desiring to adopt a child may for that purpose file a petition in the county in which the petitioner resides. The court clerk shall immediately notify the department at Sacramento in writing of the pendency of the proceeding and of any subsequent action taken.

(b) The petition shall contain an allegation that the petitioners will file promptly with the department or delegated county adoption agency information required by the department in the investigation of the proposed adoption. The omission of the allegation from a petition does not affect the jurisdiction of the court to proceed.

(c) The caption of the adoption petition shall contain the names of the petitioners, but not the child's name. The petition shall state the child's sex and date of birth and the name the child had before adoption.

(d) If the child is the subject of a guardianship petition, the adoption petition shall so state and shall include the caption and docket number or have attached a copy of the letters of the guardianship or temporary guardianship. The petitioners shall notify the court of any petition for guardianship or temporary guardianship filed after the adoption petition. The guardianship proceeding shall be consolidated with the adoption proceeding.

(e) The order of adoption shall contain the child's adopted name, but not the name the child had before adoption.

8803. (a) During the pendency of an adoption proceeding:

1. The child proposed to be adopted may not be concealed within the county in which the adoption proceeding is pending.

2. The child may not be removed from the county in which the adoption proceeding is pending unless the petitioners or other interested persons first obtain permission for the removal from the court, after giving advance written notice of intent to obtain the court’s permission to the department or delegated county adoption agency responsible for the investigation of the proposed adoption. Upon proof of giving notice, permission may be granted by the court if, within a period of 15 days after the date of giving notice, no objections are filed with the court by the department or delegated county adoption agency. If the department or delegated county adoption agency files objections within the 15-day period, upon the request of the petitioners the court shall immediately set the matter for hearing and give to the objector, the petitioners, and the party or parties requesting permission for the removal reasonable notice of the hearing by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address of each as shown in the records of the adoption proceeding. Upon a finding that the objections are without good cause, the court may grant the requested permission for removal of the child, subject to any limitations that appear to be in the child's best interest.

(b) This section does not apply in any of the following situations:
(1) Where the child is absent for a period of not more than 30 days from the county in which the adoption proceeding is pending, unless a notice of recommendation of denial of petition has been personally served on the petitioners or the court has issued an order prohibiting the child's removal from the county pending consideration of any of the following:
   (A) The suitability of the petitioners.
   (B) The care provided the child.
   (C) The availability of the legally required consents to the adoption.

(2) Where the child has been returned to and remains in the custody and control of the child's birth parent or parents.
   (c) A violation of this section is a violation of Section 280 of the Penal Code.
   (d) Neither this section nor Section 280 of the Penal Code may be construed to render lawful any act that is unlawful under any other applicable law.

8804. (a) If the petitioners move to withdraw the adoption petition or to dismiss the proceeding, the court clerk shall immediately notify the department at Sacramento of the action. The department or delegated county adoption agency shall file a full report with the court recommending a suitable plan for the child in every case where the petitioners move to withdraw the adoption petition or where the department or agency recommends that the adoption petition be denied and shall appear before the court for the purpose of representing the child.

(b) Notwithstanding the petitioners' withdrawal or dismissal, the court may retain jurisdiction over the child for the purpose of making any order for the child's custody that the court deems to be in the child's best interest.

(c) If a birth parent has refused to give the required consent, or the reason or cause for the withdrawal of the petition, or dismissal of the proceeding, is the withdrawal of the consent of the birth parent or parents, at the hearing the court shall order the child restored to the care and custody of the birth parent or parents.

8805. At the hearing, if the court sustains the recommendation of the department or delegated county adoption agency that the child be removed from the home of the petitioners because the department or agency recommends denial or if the petitioners move to withdraw the petition or if the court dismisses the petition and does not return the child to the birth parents, the court shall commit the child to the care of the department or delegated county adoption agency, whichever made the recommendation, for the department or agency to arrange adoptive placement or to make a suitable plan. In those counties not served by a delegated county adoption agency, the county welfare department shall act as the agent of the department and shall provide care for the child in accordance with rules and regulations established by the department.

8806. The department or delegated county adoption agency shall accept the consent of the birth parents to the adoption of the child by the petitioners and, before filing its report with the court, shall ascertain whether the child is a proper subject for adoption and whether the proposed home is suitable for the child.

8807. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (c), within 180 days after the filing of the petition, the department or delegated county adoption agency shall investigate the proposed independent adoption and submit to the court a full report of the facts disclosed by its inquiry with a recommendation regarding the granting of the petition.

(b) In a case where the investigation establishes that there is a serious question concerning the suitability of the petitioners or the care provided the child or the availability of the consent to adoption, the report shall be filed immediately.

(c) In its discretion, the court may allow additional time for the filing of the report, after at least five days' notice to the petitioner or petitioners and an opportunity for the petitioner or petitioners to be heard with respect to the request for additional time.

8808. The department or a delegated county adoption agency shall interview the petitioners and all persons whose consent is required and whose addresses are known as soon as possible and, in the case of residents of California, within 45 working days, excluding legal holidays, after the filing of the adoption petition. In order to facilitate these interviews, at the same time the petition is filed, the petitioners shall file with the district office of the department or with the delegated county adoption agency responsible for the investigation of the adoption, a copy of the petition together with the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all parties to be interviewed, if known.

8809. (a) With respect to petitions for which a fee is charged, deferred, reduced, or waived under Section 8810, if the department or delegated county adoption agency fails without good cause to conduct the interviews of the petitioners and all persons whose consent is required as specified in Section 8808 and, within the period of time specified in Section 8808, the petitioners, upon giving 10 days' written notice to the department or delegated county adoption agency responsible for the investigation of the adoption, may request the court in which the adoption petition has been filed, or the superior court in the county in which a birth parent resides, to permit the signing of the consent in the presence of the court by any person whose consent is required. The consent and a statement of understanding shall be obtained on forms prescribed by the department. In all cases in which the consent of the birth parent or parents is taken pursuant to this subdivision, the consent form and the statement of understanding shall be read and signed by the birth parent or parents in the presence of the court. Consent provided pursuant to this subdivision is in lieu of the otherwise applicable provisions of subdivisions (a) and (c) of Section 8814, but has the same effect.
(b) "Good cause" for failure to conduct an interview for purposes of this section includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(1) An inability to contact or locate any of the persons who are required to be interviewed pursuant to Section 8808.

(2) Failure of the petitioner to provide the district office of the department or the delegated county adoption agency with a copy of the filed petition and the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all persons to be interviewed, within 10 working days of the date the petition is filed with the court.

(c) The fee authorized by subdivision (a) of Section 8810 shall be waived if the consent of any party from whom consent is required is taken in the presence of the court pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section.

(d) This section remains in effect only until January 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1993, deletes or extends that date.

8810. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, if a petition is filed under this chapter for the adoption of a child, the petitioner shall pay a fee of five hundred dollars ($500) to the department or delegated county adoption agency before the filing of a favorable report in the court by the department or agency. The department or agency may defer, waive, or reduce the fee when in its judgment the payment would cause economic hardship to the prospective adoptive parents and would be detrimental to the welfare of the adopted child.

(b) Revenues produced by fees collected by the department pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be used, when appropriated by the Legislature, to fund only the state program for independent adoptions. Revenues produced by fees collected by the delegated county adoption agency pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be used by the county to fund the county program for independent adoptions. Revenues produced by fees collected by the department or counties pursuant to subdivision (a) may not be used to supplant current funding for the adoption program.

(c) The department shall determine the impact of the fee required under this section on the independent adoption of children, including staffing, the time required to complete investigations and court reports, and the number of fee waivers or reduction requests made and granted or denied. The department shall report its findings to the Legislature on or before January 1, 1992.

(d) This section applies only to independent adoption petitions filed on or after September 1, 1989.

(e) This section remains in effect only until January 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1993, deletes or extends that date.

8811. (a) The department or delegated county adoption agency shall require each person filing an adoption petition to be fingerprinted and shall secure from an appropriate law enforcement agency any criminal record of that person to determine whether the person has ever been convicted of a crime other than a minor traffic violation. The department or delegated county adoption agency may also secure the person’s full criminal record, if any.

(b) The criminal record, if any, shall be taken into consideration when evaluating the prospective adoptive parent, and an assessment of the effects of any criminal history on the ability of the prospective adoptive parent to provide adequate and proper care and guidance to the child shall be included in the report to the court.

(c) Any fee charged by a law enforcement agency for fingerprinting or for checking or obtaining the criminal record of the petitioner shall be paid by the petitioner. The department or delegated county adoption agency may defer, waive, or reduce the fee when its payment would cause economic hardship to the prospective adoptive parents detrimental to the welfare of the adopted child, when the child has been in the foster care of the prospective adoptive parents for at least one year, or if necessary for the placement of a special-needs child.

8813. At or before the time a consent to adoption is signed, the department or delegated county adoption agency shall advise the birth parent signing the consent, verbally and in writing, that the birth parent may, at any time in the future, request from the department or agency, all known information about the status of the child’s adoption, except for personal, identifying information about the adoptive family. The birth parent shall be advised that this information includes, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(a) Whether the child has been placed for adoption.

(b) The approximate date that an adoption was completed.

(c) If the adoption was not completed or was vacated, for any reason, whether adoptive placement of the child is again being considered.

8814. (a) The consent of the birth parent or parents to the adoption by the petitioners shall be signed in the presence of an agent of the department or of a delegated county adoption agency on a form prescribed by the department and shall be filed with the clerk of the superior court in the county of the petitioner’s residence.

(b) The consent described in subdivision (a), when reciting that the person giving it is entitled to the sole custody of the child and when acknowledged before that agent, is prima facie evidence of the right of the person making it to the sole custody of the child and that person’s sole right to consent.

(c) If the birth parent of a child to be adopted is outside this state at the time of signing the consent, the consent may be signed before a notary or other person authorized to perform notarial acts, and in that case the consent of the department or of the delegated county adoption agency is also necessary.

(d) A birth parent who is a minor has the right to sign a consent for the adoption of the birth parent’s child and the consent is not subject to revocation by reason of minority.

8815. (a) Consent of a birth parent to the adoption of the child by the prospective adoptive parent or parents may not be withdrawn except with court approval. Request for that approval may be made by motion, or a birth parent seeking to withdraw consent may file with the clerk of the court where the adoption petition is pending, a petition for approval of withdrawal of consent, without the necessity of paying a fee for filing the petition. The motion or petition shall be in writing and shall set forth the reasons for withdrawal of consent, but otherwise may be in any form.

(b) The court clerk shall set the matter for hearing and shall give notice thereof to the department, to the prospective adoptive parent or parents, and to the birth parent or parents by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address of each as shown in the proceeding, at least 10 days before the time set for hearing.

(c) The department or delegated county adoption agency shall, before the hearing of the motion or petition for withdrawal, file a full report with the court and shall appear at the hearing to represent the interests of the child.

(d) At the hearing, the parties may appear in person or with counsel. The hearing shall be held in chambers, but the court reporter shall report the proceedings and, on court order, the fee therefor shall be paid from the county treasury. If the court finds that withdrawal of the consent to adoption is reasonable in view of all the circumstances and that withdrawal of the consent is in the child’s best interest, the court shall approve the withdrawal of the consent. Otherwise the court shall withhold its approval. Consideration of the child’s best interest shall include, but is not limited to, an assessment of the child’s age, the extent of bonding with the prospective adoptive parent or parents, the extent of bonding or the potential to bond with the birth parent or parents, and the ability of the birth parent or parents to provide adequate and proper care and guidance to the child. If the court approves the withdrawal of consent, the adoption proceeding shall be dismissed.

(e) A court order granting or withholding approval of a withdrawal of consent to an adoption may be appealed in the same manner as an order of the juvenile court declaring a person to be a ward of the juvenile court.

8816. In an independent adoption where the consent of the birth parent or parents is not necessary, the department or delegated county adoption agency shall, before the hearing of the petition, file its consent to the adoption with the clerk of the court in which the petition is filed. The consent may not be given unless the child’s welfare will be promoted by the adoption.

8817. (a) A written report on the child’s medical background, and if available, the medical background of the child’s biological parents, so far as ascertainable, shall be made by the department or delegated county adoption agency as part of the study required by Section 8806.

(b) The report on the child’s background shall contain all known diagnostic information, including current medical reports on the child, psychological evaluations, and scholastic information, as well as all known information regarding the child's developmental history and family life.

(c) The report shall be submitted to the prospective adoptive parents who shall acknowledge its receipt in writing.

8818. (a) The department shall adopt a statement to be presented to the birth parents at the time the consent to adoption is signed and to prospective adoptive parents at the time of the home study. The statement shall, in a clear and concise manner and in words calculated to ensure the confidence of the birth parents in the integrity of the adoption process, communicate to the birth parent of a child who is the subject of an adoption petition all of the following facts:

(1) It is in the child's best interest that the birth parents keep the department informed of any health problems that the parent develops that could affect the child.

(2) It is extremely important that the birth parent keep an address current with the department in order to permit a response to inquiries concerning medical or social history.

(3) Section 9203 of the Family Code authorizes a person who has been adopted and who attains the age of 21 years to request the department to disclose the name and address of the adoptee's birth parents. Consequently, it is of the utmost importance that the birth parent indicate whether to allow this disclosure by checking the appropriate box provided on the form.

(4) The birth parent may change the decision whether to permit disclosure of the birth parent's name and address, at any time, by sending a notarized letter to that effect, by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the department.

(5) The consent will be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the adoption takes place. The file is not open to inspection by any persons other than the parties to the adoption proceeding, their attorneys, and the department, except upon order of a judge of the superior court.

(b) The department shall adopt a form to be signed by the birth parents at the time the consent to adoption is signed, which shall provide as follows:

"Section 9203 of the Family Code authorizes a person who has been adopted and who attains the age of 21 years to make a request to the State Department of Social Services, or the licensed adoption agency that joined in the adoption petition, for the name and address of the adoptee's birth parents. Indicate by checking one of the boxes below whether or not you wish your name and address to be disclosed:

☐ YES
☐ NO ☐ UNCERTAIN AT THIS TIME; WILL NOTIFY AGENCY AT LATER DATE."
8819. When the parental rights of a birth parent are terminated pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 7660) of Part 3 of Division 12 or Part 4 (commencing with Section 7800) of Division 12, the department or delegated county adoption agency shall send a written notice to the birth parent, if the birth parent's address is known, that contains the following statement:

"You are encouraged to keep the department or this agency informed of your current address in order to permit a response to any inquiry concerning medical or social history made by or on behalf of the child who was the subject of the court action terminating parental rights."

8820. (a) The birth parent or parents or the petitioner may appeal in either of the following cases:

(1) If for a period of 180 days from the date of filing the adoption petition or upon the expiration of any extension of the period granted by the court, the department or delegated county adoption agency fails or refuses to accept the consent of the birth parent or parents to the adoption.

(2) In a case where the consent of the department or delegated county adoption agency is required by this chapter, if the department or agency fails or refuses to file or give its consent to the adoption.

(b) The appeal shall be filed in the court in which the adoption petition is filed. The court clerk shall immediately notify the department or delegated county adoption agency of the appeal and the department or agency shall, within 10 days, file a report of its findings and the reasons for its failure or refusal to consent to the adoption or to accept the consent of the birth parent or parents.

(c) After the filing of the report by the department or delegated county adoption agency, the court may, if it deems that the welfare of the child will be promoted by that adoption, allow the signing of the consent by the birth parent or parents in open court or, if the appeal is from the refusal of the department or delegated county adoption agency to consent thereto, grant the petition without the consent.

8821. When any report or findings are submitted to the court by the department or a delegated county adoption agency, a copy of the report or findings, whether favorable or unfavorable, shall be given to the petitioner's attorney in the proceeding, if the petitioner has an attorney of record, or to the petitioner.

8822. (a) If the findings of the department or delegated county adoption agency are that the home of the petitioners is not suitable for the child or that the required consents are not available and the department or agency recommends that the petition be denied, or if the petitioners desire to withdraw the petition and the department or agency recommends that the petition be denied, the clerk upon receipt of the report of the department or agency shall immediately refer it to the court for review.

(b) Upon receipt of the report, the court shall set a date for a hearing of the petition and shall give reasonable notice of the hearing to the department or delegated county adoption agency, the petitioners, and the birth parents by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address of each as shown in the proceeding.

(c) The department or delegated county adoption agency shall appear to represent the child.

8823. The prospective adoptive parents and the child proposed to be adopted shall appear before the court pursuant to Sections 8612 and 8613.

CHAPTER 4. INTERCOUNTRY ADOPTIONS

8900. Intercountry adoption services described in this chapter shall be exclusively provided by private adoption agencies licensed by the department specifically to provide these services.

8901. The department shall adopt regulations to administer the intercountry adoption program.

8902. For intercountry adoptions that will be finalized in this state, the licensed adoption agency shall provide all of the following services:

(a) Assessment of the suitability of the applicant's home.
(b) Placement of the foreign-born child in an approved home.
(c) Postplacement supervision.
(d) Submission to the court of a report on the intercountry adoptive placement with a recommendation regarding the granting of the petition.
(e) Services to applicants seeking to adopt related children living in foreign countries. The Legislature recognizes that these children have an impelling need for adoptive placement with their relatives.

8903. (a) For each intercountry adoption finalized in this state, the licensed adoption agency shall assume all responsibilities for the child including care, custody, and control as if the child had been relinquished for adoption in this state from the time the child left the child's native country.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), if the child's native country requires and has given full guardianship to the prospective adoptive parents, the prospective adoptive parents shall assume all responsibilities for the child including care, custody, control, and financial support.

(c) If the licensed adoption agency or prospective adoptive parents fail to meet the responsibilities under subdivision (a) or (b) and the child becomes a dependent of the court pursuant to Section 300 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the state shall assume responsibility for the cost of care for the child. When the child becomes a dependent of the court and if, for any reason, is ineligible for AFDC under Section 14005.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and loses Medi-Cal eligibility, the child shall be deemed eligible for Medi-Cal under Section 14005.4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and the State Director of Health Services has authority to provide payment for the medical services to the child that are necessary to meet the child’s needs.

8904. For an intercountry adoption that will be finalized in a foreign country, the licensed adoption agency shall provide both of the following services:

   (a) Assessment of the suitability of the applicant’s home.
   (b) Certification to the Immigration and Naturalization Service that this state’s intercountry adoption requirements have been met.

8905. Licensed adoption agencies may work only with domestic and foreign adoption agencies with whom they have written agreements that specify the responsibilities of each. The agreements may not violate any statute or regulation of the United States or of this state.

8906. Nothing in this chapter may be construed to prohibit the licensed adoption agency from entering into an agreement with the prospective adoptive parents to share or transfer financial responsibility for the child.

8907. The costs incurred by a licensed adoption agency pursuant to programs established by this chapter shall be funded by fees charged by the agency for services required by this chapter. The agency’s fee schedule is required to be approved by the department initially and whenever it is altered.

8908. (a) A licensed adoption agency shall require each person filing an application for adoption to be fingerprinted and shall secure from an appropriate law enforcement agency any criminal record of that person to determine whether the person has ever been convicted of a crime other than a minor traffic violation. The licensed adoption agency may also secure the person’s full criminal record, if any.
   (b) The criminal record, if any, shall be taken into consideration when evaluating the prospective adoptive parent, and an assessment of the effects of any criminal history on the ability of the prospective adoptive parent to provide adequate and proper care and guidance to the child shall be included in the report to the court.
   (c) Any fee charged by a law enforcement agency for fingerprinting or for checking or obtaining the criminal record of the applicant shall be paid by the applicant. The licensed adoption agency may defer, waive, or reduce the fee when its payment would cause economic hardship to the prospective adoptive parents detrimental to the welfare of the adopted child.

8909. (a) An agency may not place a child for adoption unless a written report on the child’s medical background and, if available, the medical background of the child’s biological parents, so far as ascertainable, has been submitted to the prospective adoptive parents and they have acknowledged in writing the receipt of the report.
   (b) The report on the child’s background shall contain all known diagnostic information, including current medical reports on the child, psychological evaluations, and scholastic information, as well as all known information regarding the child’s developmental history and family life.

8910. (a) In no event may a child who has been placed for adoption be removed from the county in which the child was placed, by any person who has not petitioned to adopt the child, without first obtaining the written consent of the licensed adoption agency responsible for the child.

(b) During the pendency of an adoption proceeding:

(1) The child proposed to be adopted may not be concealed within the county in which the adoption proceeding is pending.

(2) The child may not be removed from the county in which the adoption proceeding is pending unless the petitioners or other interested persons first obtain permission for the removal from the court, after giving advance written notice of intent to obtain the court’s permission to the licensed adoption agency responsible for the child. Upon proof of giving notice, permission may be granted by the court if, within a period of 15 days after the date of giving notice, no objections are filed with the court by the licensed adoption agency responsible for the child. If the licensed adoption agency files objections within the 15-day period, upon the request of the petitioners the court shall immediately set the matter for hearing and give to the objector, the petitioners, and the party or parties requesting permission for the removal reasonable notice of the hearing by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address of each as shown in the records of the adoption proceeding. Upon a finding that the objections are without good cause, the court may grant the requested permission for removal of the child, subject to any limitations that appear to be in the child’s best interest.

(c) This section does not apply in any of the following situations:

(1) Where the child is absent for a period of not more than 30 days from the county in which the adoption proceeding is pending, unless a notice of recommendation of denial of petition has been personally served on the petitioners or the court has issued an order prohibiting the removal of the child from the county pending consideration of any of the following:

(A) The suitability of the petitioners.

(B) The care provided the child.

(C) The availability of the legally required agency consents to the adoption.

(2) Where the child has been returned to and remains in the custody and control of the child’s birth parent or parents.

(3) Where written consent for the removal of the child is obtained from the licensed adoption agency responsible for the child.

(d) A violation of this section is a violation of Section 280 of the Penal Code.

(e) Neither this section nor Section 280 of the Penal Code may be construed to render lawful any act that is unlawful under any other applicable law.

8911. As a condition of placement, the prospective adoptive parents shall file a petition to adopt the child under Section 8912 within 30 days of placement.

8912. (a) A person desiring to adopt a child may for that purpose file a petition in the county in which the petitioner resides. The court clerk shall immediately notify the department at Sacramento in writing of the pendency of the proceeding and of any subsequent action taken.

(b) The caption of the adoption petition shall contain the names of the petitioners, but not the child's name. The petition shall state the child's sex and date of birth. The name the child had before adoption shall appear in the joinder signed by the licensed adoption agency.

(c) If the child is the subject of a guardianship petition, the adoption petition shall so state and shall include the caption and docket number or have attached a copy of the letters of the guardianship or temporary guardianship. The petitioners shall notify the court of any petition for guardianship or temporary guardianship filed after the adoption petition. The guardianship proceeding shall be consolidated with the adoption proceeding.

(d) The order of adoption shall contain the child's adopted name, but not the name the child had before adoption.

8913. The prospective adoptive parents and the child proposed to be adopted shall appear before the court pursuant to Sections 8612 and 8613.

8914. If the licensed adoption agency is a party to or joins in the adoption petition, it shall submit a full report of the facts of the case to the court. The department may also submit a report.

8915. When any report or findings are submitted to the court by a licensed adoption agency, a copy of the report or findings, whether favorable or unfavorable, shall be given to the petitioner's attorney in the proceeding, if the petitioner has an attorney of record, or to the petitioner.

8916. (a) If the petitioners move to withdraw the adoption petition or to dismiss the proceeding, the court clerk shall immediately notify the department at Sacramento of the action. The licensed adoption agency shall file a full report with the court recommending a suitable plan for the child in every case where the petitioners desire to withdraw the adoption petition or where the licensed adoption agency recommends that the adoption petition be denied and shall appear before the court for the purpose of representing the child.

(b) Notwithstanding the petitioners' withdrawal or dismissal, the court may retain jurisdiction over the child for the purpose of making any order for the child's custody that the court deems to be in the child's best interest.

8917. (a) If the licensed adoption agency finds that the home of the petitioners is not suitable for the child or that the required agency consents are not available and the agency recommends that the petition be denied, or if the petitioners desire to withdraw the petition and the agency recommends that the petition be denied, the clerk upon receipt of the report of the licensed adoption agency shall immediately refer it to the court for review.

(b) Upon receipt of the report, the court shall set a date for a hearing of the petition and shall give reasonable notice of the hearing to the licensed adoption agency and the petitioners by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address of each as shown in the proceeding.

(c) The licensed adoption agency shall appear to represent the child.

8918. At the hearing, if the court sustains the recommendation that the child be removed from the home of the petitioners because the licensed adoption agency has recommended denial or the petitioners desire to withdraw the petition or the court dismisses the petition and does not return the child to the child’s parents, the court shall commit the child to the care of the licensed adoption agency for the agency to arrange adoptive placement or to make a suitable plan.

CHAPTER 5. STEPPARENT ADOPTIONS

9000. (a) A stepparent desiring to adopt a child of the stepparent’s spouse may for that purpose file a petition in the county in which the petitioner resides.

(b) The caption of the adoption petition shall contain the names of the petitioners, but not the child’s name. The petition shall state the child’s sex and date of birth and the name the child had before adoption.

(c) If the child is the subject of a guardianship petition, the adoption petition shall so state and shall include the caption and docket number or have attached a copy of the letters of the guardianship or temporary guardianship. The petitioners shall notify the court of any petition for guardianship or temporary guardianship filed after the adoption petition. The guardianship proceeding shall be consolidated with the adoption proceeding.

(d) The order of adoption shall contain the child’s adopted name, but not the name the child had before adoption.

9001. (a) The probation officer or, at option of the board of supervisors, the county welfare department in the county in which the adoption proceeding is pending shall make an investigation of each case of stepparent adoption. The court may not make an order of adoption until after the probation officer or welfare department has filed its report and recommendation and they have been considered by the court.

(b) Unless ordered by the court, no home study may be required of the petitioner’s home in a stepparent adoption. The agency conducting the investigation or any interested person may request the court to order a home study or the court may order a home study on its own motion.

(c) “Home study” as used in this section means a physical investigation of the premises where the child is residing.

9002. In a stepparent adoption, the stepparent is liable for all reasonable costs incurred in connection with the stepparent adoption, including, but not limited to, costs incurred for the investigation required by Section 9001, up to a maximum of two hundred dollars ($200). The probation officer or county welfare department may defer, waive, or reduce the fee if its payment would cause economic hardship to the prospective adoptive parent detrimental to the welfare of the adopted child.

9003. (a) In a stepparent adoption, the consent of either or both birth parents shall be signed in the presence of a county clerk, probation officer, or county welfare department staff member of any county of this state. The county clerk, probation officer, or county welfare department staff member before whom the consent is signed shall immediately file the consent with the clerk of the court where the adoption petition is filed. The clerk shall immediately notify the probation officer or, at the option of the board of supervisors, the county welfare department of that county.

(b) If the birth parent of a child to be adopted is outside this state at the time of signing the consent, the consent may be signed before a notary or other person authorized to perform notarial acts.

(c) The consent, when reciting that the person giving it is entitled to sole custody of the child and when acknowledged before the county clerk, probation officer, or county welfare department staff member, is prima facie evidence of the right of the person signing the consent to the sole custody of the child and that person’s sole right to consent.

(d) A birth parent who is a minor has the right to sign a consent for the adoption of the birth parent’s child and the consent is not subject to revocation by reason of the minority.

9004. In a stepparent adoption, the form prescribed by the department for the consent of the birth parent shall contain substantially the following notice:

"Notice to the parent who gives the child for adoption: If you and your child lived together at any time as parent and child, the adoption of your child by a stepparent does not affect the child’s right to inherit your property or the property of other blood relatives."

9005. (a) Consent of the birth parent to the adoption of the child by the stepparent may not be withdrawn except with court approval. Request for that approval may be made by motion, or a birth parent seeking to withdraw consent may file with the clerk of the court where the adoption petition is pending, a petition for approval of withdrawal of consent, without the necessity of paying a fee for filing the petition. The petition or motion shall be in writing, and shall set forth the reasons for withdrawal of consent, but otherwise may be in any form.

(b) The court clerk shall set the matter for hearing and shall give notice thereof to the probation officer or county welfare department, to the prospective adoptive parent, and to the birth parent or parents.
by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address of each as shown in the proceeding, at least 10 days before the time set for hearing.

(c) The probation officer or county welfare department shall, before the hearing of the motion or petition for withdrawal, file a full report with the court and shall appear at the hearing to represent the interests of the child.

(d) At the hearing, the parties may appear in person or with counsel. The hearing shall be held in chambers, but the court reporter shall report the proceedings and, on court order, the fee therefor shall be paid from the county treasury. If the court finds that withdrawal of the consent to adoption is reasonable in view of all the circumstances and that withdrawal of the consent is in the child’s best interest, the court shall approve the withdrawal of the consent.
Otherwise the court shall withhold its approval. Consideration of the child’s best interest shall include, but is not limited to, an assessment of the child’s age, the extent of bonding with the prospective adoptive parent, the extent of bonding or the potential to bond with the birth parent, and the ability of the birth parent to provide adequate and proper care and guidance to the child. If the court approves the withdrawal of consent, the adoption proceeding shall be dismissed.

(e) A court order granting or withholding approval of a withdrawal of consent to an adoption may be appealed in the same manner as an order of the juvenile court declaring a person to be a ward of the juvenile court.

9006. (a) If the petitioner moves to withdraw the adoption petition or to dismiss the proceeding, the court clerk shall immediately notify the probation officer or county welfare department of the action.

(b) If a birth parent has refused to give the required consent, the adoPTION petition shall be dismissed.

9007. The prospective adoptive parent and the child proposed to be adopted shall appear before the court pursuant to Sections 8612 and 8613.

CHAPTER 6. VACATION OF ADOPTION

9100. (a) If a child adopted pursuant to the law of this state shows evidence of a developmental disability or mental illness as a result of conditions existing before the adoption to an extent that the child cannot be relinquished to an adoption agency on the grounds that the child is considered unadoptable, and of which conditions the adoptive parents or parent had no knowledge or notice before the entry of the order of adoption, a petition setting forth those facts may be filed by the adoptive parents or parent with the court that granted the adoption petition. If these facts are proved to the satisfaction of the court, it may make an order setting aside the order of adoption.

(b) The petition shall be filed within five years after the entry of the order of adoption.

(c) The court clerk shall immediately notify the department at Sacramento of the petition. Within 60 days after the notice, the department shall file a full report with the court and shall appear before the court for the purpose of representing the adopted child.

9101. (a) If an order of adoption is set aside as provided in Section 9100, the court making the order shall direct the district attorney, the county counsel, or the county welfare department to take appropriate action under the Welfare and Institutions Code. The court may also make any order relative to the care, custody, or confinement of the child pending the proceeding the court sees fit.

(b) The county in which the proceeding for adoption was had is liable for the child’s support until the child is able to support himself or herself.

9102. (a) An action or proceeding of any kind to vacate, set aside, or otherwise nullify an order of adoption on the ground of any defect or irregularity of procedure in the adoption proceeding shall be commenced within three years after entry of the order.

(b) An action or proceeding of any kind to vacate, set aside, or otherwise nullify an order of adoption on any ground other than a defect or irregularity of procedure shall be commenced within five years after entry of the order.

CHAPTER 7. DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION

9200. (a) The petition, relinquishment or consent, agreement, order, report to the court from any investigating agency, and any power of attorney and deposition filed in the office of the county clerk pursuant to this part is not open to inspection by any person other than the parties to the proceeding and their attorneys and the department, except upon the written authority of the judge of the superior court. A judge of the superior court may not authorize anyone to inspect the petition, relinquishment or consent, agreement, order, report to the court from any investigating agency, or power of attorney or deposition or any portion of any of these documents, except in exceptional circumstances and for good cause approaching the necessitous. The petitioner may be required to pay the expenses for preparing the copies of the documents to be inspected.

(b) Upon written request of any party to the proceeding and upon the order of any judge of the superior court, the county clerk shall not provide any documents referred to in this section for inspection or copying to any other person, unless the name of the child’s birth parents or any information tending to identify the child’s birth parents is deleted from the documents or copies thereof.

(c) Upon the request of the adoptive parents or the child, a county clerk may issue a certificate of adoption that states the date and place of adoption, the child’s birth date, the names of the adoptive parents, and the name the child has taken. Unless the child has been adopted by a stepparent, the certificate shall not state the name of the child’s birth parents.

9201. Notwithstanding any other law, the department and any licensed adoption agency may furnish information relating to an adoption petition to the juvenile court, county welfare department, public welfare agency, or private welfare agency licensed by the department, if it is believed the child’s welfare will be promoted thereby.

9202. (a) Notwithstanding any other law, the department or licensed adoption agency that made a medical report required by Section 8706, 8817, or 8909 shall provide a copy of the medical report, in the manner the department prescribes by regulation, to any of the following persons upon the person’s request:

(1) A person who has been adopted pursuant to this part and who has attained the age of 18 years or who presents a certified copy of the person’s marriage certificate.

(2) The adoptive parent of a person under the age of 18 years who has been adopted pursuant to this part.

(b) A person who is denied access to a medical report pursuant to regulations adopted pursuant to this section may petition the court for review of the reasonableness of the department’s or licensed adoption agency’s decision.

(c) The names and addresses of any persons contained in the report shall be removed unless the person requesting the report has previously received the information pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 9203.

9203. (a) The department or a licensed adoption agency shall do the following:

(1) Upon request of a person who has been adopted pursuant to this part and who has attained the age of 21 years, disclose the identity of the person’s birth parent or parents and their most current address shown in the records of the department or licensed adoption agency, if the birth parent or parents have indicated consent to the disclosure in writing; and upon request of the birth parent of a person who has been adopted pursuant to this part and who has attained the age of 21 years, disclose the adopted name of the adoptee and the adoptee’s most current address shown in the records of the department or licensed adoption agency, if the adult adoptee has indicated in writing, pursuant to the registration program developed by the department, that the adult adoptee wishes the adult adoptee’s name and address to be disclosed.

(2) Disclose the identity of a birth parent and the birth parent’s most current address shown in the records of the department or licensed adoption agency upon the request of the adoptive parent of a person under the age of 21 years who has been adopted pursuant to this part, upon the finding by the department or licensed adoption agency that a medical necessity or other extraordinary circumstances justify the disclosure.

(b) The department shall prescribe the form of the request required by this section. The form shall provide for an affidavit to be executed by the requester that to the best of the requester's knowledge the requester is an adoptee, the adoptee's birth parent, or the adoptee's adoptive parent. The department may adopt regulations requiring any additional means of identification from a requester that it deems necessary. The request shall advise an adoptee that if the adoptee consents, the adoptee's adoptive parents will be notified of the filing of the request before the release of the name and address of the adoptee's birth parent.

(c) Subdivision (a) is not applicable if a birth parent or an adoptee has indicated that he or she does not wish his or her name or address to be disclosed.

(d) The department shall either respond to a request for information pursuant to this section or forward the request to a licensed adoption agency pursuant to subdivision (e) within 20 working days of its receipt of the request.

(e) The department may forward requests for information pursuant to this section to any licensed adoption agency that was a party to the adoption.

(f) Notwithstanding any other law, the department shall announce the availability of the present method of arranging contact among an adult adoptee, the adult adoptee's birth parents, and adoptive parents authorized by Section 9204 utilizing a means of communication appropriate to inform the public effectively.

(g) The department or licensed adoption agency may charge a reasonable fee in an amount the department establishes by regulation to cover the costs of processing requests for information made pursuant to subdivision (a). The revenue resulting from the fees so charged shall be utilized by the department or licensed adoption agency to increase existing staff as needed to process these requests. Fees received by the department shall be deposited in the Adoption Information Fund. This revenue shall be in addition to any other funds appropriated in support of the state adoption program.

(h) The department or licensed adoption agency shall waive the fees authorized by this section for any person who is receiving public assistance pursuant to Part 3 (commencing with Section 11000) of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(i) This section applies only to adoptions in which the relinquishment for or consent to adoption was signed on or after January 1, 1984.

9204. (a) Notwithstanding any other law, if an adult adoptee and the adult adoptee's birth parents have each filed a written consent with the department or licensed adoption agency, the department or licensed adoption agency may arrange for contact between those persons. Neither the department nor a licensed adoption agency may solicit, directly or indirectly, the execution of a written consent.

(b) The written consent authorized by this section shall be in a form prescribed by the department.

9205. (a) Notwithstanding any other law, the department or adoption agency that joined in the adoption petition shall release the names and addresses of biological siblings to one another if both of the siblings have attained the age of 21 years and have filed the following with the department or agency:

1. A current address.

2. A written request for contact with any biological sibling whose existence is known to the person making the request.

3. A written waiver of the person's rights with respect to the disclosure of the person's name and address to the sibling, if the person is an adoptee.

(b) Upon inquiry and proof that a person is the biological sibling of an adoptee who has filed a waiver pursuant to this section, the department or agency may advise the sibling that a waiver has been filed by the adoptee. The department or agency may charge a reasonable fee, not to exceed fifty dollars ($50), for providing the service required by this section.

(c) An adoptee may revoke a waiver filed pursuant to this section by giving written notice of revocation to the department or agency.

(d) The department shall adopt a form for the request authorized by this section. The form shall provide for an affidavit to be executed by a person seeking to employ the procedure provided by this section that, to the best of the person's knowledge, the person is an adoptee or biological sibling of an adoptee. The form also shall contain a notice of an adoptee's rights pursuant to subdivision (c) and a statement that information will be disclosed only if there is a currently valid waiver on file with the department or agency. The department may adopt regulations requiring any additional means of identification from a person making a request pursuant to this section as it deems necessary, and for obtaining the consent of the birth parents of the adoptee and the sibling in order to make the disclosure authorized by this section in any case in which the sibling remained in the custody and control of the birth parents until the age of 18 years.

(e) The department or agency may not solicit the execution of a waiver authorized by this section. However, the department shall announce the availability of the procedure authorized by this section, utilizing a means of communication appropriate to inform the public effectively.

9206. (a) Notwithstanding any other law, the department or licensed adoption agency shall release any letters, photographs, or other items of personal property in its possession to an adoptee, birth parent, or adoptive parent, upon written request. The material may be requested by any of the following persons:

1. The adoptee, if the adoptee has attained the age of 18 years.

2. The adoptive parent or parents, on behalf of an adoptee under the age of 18 years, as long as instructions to the contrary have not been made by the depositor.

3. The birth parent or parents.

(b) Notwithstanding any other law, all identifying names and addresses shall be deleted from the letters, photographs, or items of personal property before delivery to the requester.

(c) Letters, photographs, and other items of personal property deposited on or after January 1, 1985, shall be accompanied by a release form or similar document signed by the person depositing the material, specifying to whom the material may be released. At its discretion, the department or licensed adoption agency may refuse for deposit items of personal property that, because of value or bulk, would pose storage problems.

(d) Notwithstanding subdivisions (a) and (b), only the following photographs deposited before January 1, 1985, shall be released:

1. Photographs of the adoptee that have been requested by the adoptee.
2. Photographs that have been deposited by the adoptee, the adoptive parent or parents, or the birth parent or parents, and for which there is a letter or other document on file indicating that person's consent to the release of the photographs.

(e) The department and licensed adoption agencies may charge a fee to cover the actual costs of any services required by this section in excess of normal postadoptive services provided by the department or agency. The department shall develop a fee schedule that shall be implemented by the department and licensed adoption agencies in assessing charges to the person who deposits the material or the person to whom the material is released. The fee may be waived by the department or licensed adoption agencies in cases in which it is established that a financial hardship exists.

(f) "Photograph" as used in this section means a photograph of the person depositing the photograph or the person making the request for the release.

However, the court may grant a continuance for good cause shown.

2001. (a) In a contested proceeding for temporary child support under this part, both the moving party and the responding party shall provide all of the following documents to the court at the time of the hearing:

(b) Notwithstanding Section 1211 or any other law, if an order of contempt is made affecting an attorney, his or her agent, investigator, or any person acting under the attorney's direction, in the preparation and conduct of any action or proceeding, the execution of any sentence shall be stayed pending the filing within three judicial days of a petition for extraordinary relief testing the lawfulness of the court's order, the violation of which is the basis of the contempt except for the conduct as may be proscribed by subdivision (b) of Section 6068 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to an attorney's duty to maintain respect due to the courts and judicial officers.

(c) Notwithstanding Section 1211 or any other law, if an order of contempt is made affecting a public safety employee acting within the scope of employment for reason of the employee's failure to comply with a duly issued subpoena or subpoena duces tecum, the execution of any sentence shall be stayed pending the filing within three judicial days of a petition for extraordinary relief testing the lawfulness of the court's order, a violation of which is the basis for the contempt.

As used in this subdivision, "public safety employee" includes any peace officer, firefighter, paramedic, or any other employee of a public law enforcement agency whose duty is either to maintain official records or to analyze or present evidence for investigative or prosecutorial purposes.

(d) Notwithstanding Section 1211 or any other law, if an order of contempt is made affecting the victim of a sexual assault, where the contempt consists of refusing to testify concerning that sexual assault, the execution of any sentence shall be stayed pending the filing within three judicial days of a petition for extraordinary relief testing the lawfulness of the court’s order, a violation of which is the basis for the contempt.

As used in this subdivision, "sexual assault" means any act made punishable by Section 261, 262, 264.1, 285, 286, 288, 288a, or 289 of the Penal Code.

As used in this subdivision, the term "domestic violence" means abuse perpetrated against any of the following:

(1) A spouse, former spouse, cohabitant, former cohabitant, any other adult person related by consanguinity or affinity within the second degree, or a person with whom the respondent has had a dating or engagement relationship.

(b) Take proof and make and report findings thereon as to any matter of fact upon which information is required by the court. Any party to any contested proceeding may except to the report and the subsequent order of the court made thereon within five days after written notice of the court’s action. A copy of the exceptions shall be filed and served upon opposing party or counsel within the five days. The party may argue any exceptions before the court on giving notice of motion for that purpose within 10 days from entry thereof. After a hearing before the court on the exceptions, the court may sustain, or set aside, or modify its order.

(c) Take and approve any bonds and undertakings in actions or proceedings, and determine objections to the bonds and undertakings.
(d) Administer oaths and affirmations, and take affidavits and depositions in any action or proceeding in any of the courts of this state, or in any matter or proceeding whatever, and take acknowledgments and proof of deeds, mortgages, and other instruments requiring proof or acknowledgment for any purpose under the laws of this or any other state or country.

(f) Hear and report findings and conclusions to the court for approval, rejection, or change, all preliminary matters including motions or petitions for the custody and support of children, the allowance of temporary spousal support, costs and attorneys' fees, and issues of fact in contempt proceedings in proceedings for support, dissolution of marriage, nullity of marriage, or legal separation.

(g) Hear, report on, and determine all uncontested actions and proceedings subject to the requirements of subdivision (e).

(h) Charge and collect the same fees for the performance of official acts as are allowed by law to notaries public in this state for like services. The fees so collected shall be paid to the treasurer of the county, for deposit in the general fund of the county.

SEC. 15. Section 263 of the Code of Civil Procedure is repealed.
SEC. 16. Section 340.4 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

340.4. An action by or on behalf of a minor for personal injuries sustained before or in the course of his or her birth must be commenced within six years after the date of birth, and the time the minor is under any disability mentioned in Section 352 shall not be excluded in computing the time limited for the commencement of the action.

SEC. 17. Section 395 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

395. (a) Except as otherwise provided by law and subject to the power of the court to transfer actions or proceedings as provided in this title, the county in which the defendants or some of them reside at the commencement of the action is the proper county for the trial of the action. If the action is for injury to person or personal property or for death from wrongful act or negligence, either the county where the injury occurs or the injury causing death occurs or the county in which the defendants, or some of them reside at the commencement of the action, shall be a proper county for the trial of the action. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, the county in which the petitioner has been a resident for three months next preceding the commencement of the proceeding is the proper county for the trial of the proceeding. In a proceeding to enforce an obligation of support under Section 3900 of the Family Code, the county in which the child resides is the proper county for the trial of the action. In a proceeding to establish and enforce a foreign judgment or court order for the support of a minor child, the county in which the child resides is the proper county for the trial of the action. Subject to subdivision (b), when a defendant has contracted to perform an obligation in a particular county, either the county where the obligation is to be performed or in which the contract in fact was entered into or the county in which the defendant or any such defendant resides at the commencement of the action shall be a proper county for the trial of an action founded on such obligation, and the county in which the obligation is incurred shall be deemed to be the county in which it is to be performed unless there is a special contract in writing to the contrary. If none of the defendants reside in the state or if residing in the state and the county in which they reside is unknown to the plaintiff, the action may be tried in any county which the plaintiff may designate in his or her complaint, and, if the defendant is about to depart from the state, the action may be tried in any county where either of the parties reside or service is made. If any person is improperly joined as a defendant or has been made a defendant solely for the purpose of having the action tried in the county or judicial district where he or she resides, his or her residence shall not be considered in determining the proper place for the trial of the action.

(b) Subject to the power of the court to transfer actions or proceedings as provided in this title, in an action arising from an offer or provision of goods, services, loans or extensions of credit intended primarily for personal, family or household use, other than an obligation described in Section 1812.10 or Section 2984.4 of the Civil Code, or an action arising from a transaction consummated as a proximate result of an unsolicited telephone call made by a seller engaged in the business of consummating transactions of that kind, the county in which the buyer or lessee in fact signed the contract, the county in which the buyer or lessee resided at the time the contract was entered into, or the county in which the buyer or lessee resides at the commencement of the action is the proper county for the trial thereof.

(c) If within the county there is a municipal or justice court having jurisdiction of the subject matter established, in the cases mentioned in subdivision (a), in the judicial district in which the defendant or any defendant resides, in which the injury to person or personal property or the injury causing death occurs, or, in which the obligation was contracted to be performed or, in cases mentioned in subdivision (b), in the judicial district which the buyer or lessee resides, in which the buyer or lessee in fact signed the contract, in which the buyer or lessee resided at the time the contract was entered into, or in which the buyer or lessee resides at the commencement of the action, then such court is the proper court for the trial of such action. Otherwise, any municipal or justice court in such county having jurisdiction of the subject matter is a proper court for the trial thereof.

(d) Any provision of an obligation described in subdivision (b) or (c) waiving those subdivisions is void and unenforceable.

SEC. 18. Section 396b of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

396b. (a) Except as otherwise provided in Section 396a, if an action or proceeding is commenced in a court having jurisdiction of the subject matter thereof, other than the court designated as the proper court for the trial thereof, under this title, the action may, notwithstanding, be tried in the court where commenced, unless the defendant, at the time he or she answers, demurs, or moves to strike, or, at his or her option, without answering, demurring, or moving to strike and within the time otherwise allowed to respond to the complaint, files with the clerk, a notice of motion for an order transferring the action or proceeding to the proper court, together with proof of service, upon the adverse party, of a copy of those papers. Upon the hearing of the motion the court shall, if it appears that the action or proceeding was not commenced in the proper court, order the action or proceeding transferred to the proper court.

(b) In its discretion, the court may order the payment to the prevailing party of reasonable expenses and attorney's fees incurred in making or resisting the motion to transfer whether or not that party is otherwise entitled to recover his or her costs of action. In determining whether that order for expenses and fees shall be made, the court shall take into consideration (1) whether an offer to stipulate to change of venue was reasonably made and rejected, and (2) whether the motion or selection of venue was made in good faith given the facts and law the party making the motion or selecting the venue knew or should have known. As between the party and his or her attorney, those expenses and fees shall be the personal liability of the attorney not chargeable to the party. Sanctions shall not be imposed pursuant to this subdivision except on notice contained in a party's papers, or on the court's own noticed motion, and after opportunity to be heard.

(c) The court in a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or legal separation, may, prior to the determination of the motion to transfer, consider and determine motions for allowance of temporary spousal support, support of children, counsel fees and costs, and make all necessary and proper orders in connection therewith.

(d) In any case, if an answer is filed, the court may consider opposition to the motion to transfer, if any, and may retain the action in the county where commenced if it appears that the convenience of the witnesses or the ends of justice will thereby be promoted.

(e) If the motion to transfer is denied, the court shall allow the defendant time to move to strike, demur, or otherwise plead if the defendant has not previously filed a response.

SEC. 19. Section 397 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

397. The court may, on motion, change the place of trial in the following cases:

(a) When the court designated in the complaint is not the proper court.

(b) When there is reason to believe that an impartial trial cannot be had therein.

(c) When the convenience of witnesses and the ends of justice would be promoted by the change.

(d) When from any cause there is no judge of the court qualified to act.

(e) When a proceeding for dissolution of marriage has been filed in the county in which the petitioner has been a resident for three months next preceding the commencement of the proceeding, and the respondent at the time of the commencement of the proceeding is a resident of another county in this state, to the county of the respondent’s residence when the ends of justice would be promoted by the change. If a motion to change the place of trial is made pursuant to this paragraph, the court may, prior to the determination of such motion, consider and determine motions for allowance of temporary spousal support, support of children, temporary restraining orders, attorneys’ fees, and costs, and make all necessary and proper orders in connection therewith.

SEC. 20. Section 412.21 of the Code of Civil Procedure is repealed.

SEC. 21. Section 429.10 of the Code of Civil Procedure is repealed.

SEC. 22. Section 429.40 of the Code of Civil Procedure is repealed.

SEC. 23. Section 527 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

527. (a) An injunction may be granted at any time before judgment upon a verified complaint, or upon affidavits if the complaint in the one case, or the affidavits in the other, show satisfactorily that sufficient grounds exist therefor. A copy of the complaint or of the affidavits, upon which the injunction was granted, must, if not previously served, be served therewith.

A temporary restraining order or a preliminary injunction, or both, may be granted in a class action, in which one or more of the parties sues or defends for the benefit of numerous parties upon the same grounds as in other actions, whether or not the class has been certified.

No preliminary injunction shall be granted without notice to the opposite party; nor shall any temporary restraining order be granted.
without notice to the opposite party, unless (1) it shall appear from facts shown by affidavit or by the verified complaint that great or irreparable injury would result to the applicant before the matter can be heard on notice and (2) the applicant or the applicant's attorney certifies to the court under oath (A) that within a reasonable time prior to the application he or she informed the opposing party or his or her attorney at what time and where the application would be made; (B) that he or she in good faith attempted to inform the opposing party and his or her attorney but was unable to so inform the opposing party or his or her attorney, specifying the efforts made to contact them; or (C) that for reasons specified he or she should not be required to so inform the opposing party or his or her attorney. In case a temporary restraining order shall be granted without notice, in the contingency above specified, the matter shall be made returnable on an order requiring cause to be shown why the injunction should not be granted, on the earliest day that the business of the court will admit of, but not later than 15 days or, if good cause appears to the court, 20 days from the date of the order. When the matter first comes up for hearing the party who obtained the temporary restraining order must be ready to proceed and must have served upon the opposite party at least two days prior to the hearing, a copy of the complaint and of all affidavits to be used in the application and a copy of the points and authorities in support of the application; if the party is not ready, or if he or she fails to serve a copy of his or her complaint, affidavits and points and authorities, as herein required, the court shall dissolve the temporary restraining order. The defendant, however, shall be entitled, as of course, to one continuance for a reasonable period, if he or she desires it, to enable him or her to meet the application for the preliminary injunction. The defendant may, in response to such order to show cause, present affidavits relating to the granting of the preliminary injunction, and if such affidavits are served on the applicant at least two days prior to the hearing, the applicant shall not be entitled to any continuance on account thereof. On the day upon which the order is made returnable, the hearing shall take precedence of all other matters on the calendar of the day, except older matters of the same character, and matters to which special precedence may be given by law. When the cause is at issue it shall be set for trial at the earliest possible date and shall take precedence of all other cases, except older matters of the same character, and matters to which special precedence may be given by law.

(b) This section does not apply to an order described in Section 240 of the Family Code.

SEC. 24. Section 527.6 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

527.6. (a) A person who has suffered harassment as defined in subdivision (b) may seek a temporary restraining order, and an injunction prohibiting harassment as provided in this section.

(b) For the purposes of this section, "harassment" is a knowing and willful course of conduct directed at a specific person which seriously alarms, annoys, or harasses the person, and which serves no legitimate purpose. The course of conduct must be such as would cause a reasonable person to suffer substantial emotional distress, and must actually cause substantial emotional distress to the plaintiff. “Course of conduct” is a pattern of conduct composed of a series of acts over a period of time, however short, evidencing a continuity of purpose. Constitutionally protected activity is not included within the meaning of “course of conduct.”

(c) Upon filing a petition for an injunction under this section, the plaintiff may obtain a temporary restraining order in accordance with subdivision (a) of Section 527. A temporary restraining order may be granted with or without notice upon an affidavit which, to the satisfaction of the court, shows reasonable proof of harassment of the plaintiff by the defendant, and that great or irreparable harm would result to the plaintiff. A temporary restraining order granted under this section shall remain in effect, at the court’s discretion, for a period not to exceed 15 days, unless otherwise modified or terminated by the court.

(d) Within 15 days of the filing of the petition, a hearing shall be held on the petition for the injunction. The defendant may file a response which explains, excuses, justifies, or denies the alleged harassment or may file a cross-complaint under this section. At the hearing, the judge shall receive such testimony as is relevant, and may make an independent inquiry. If the judge finds by clear and convincing evidence that unlawful harassment exists, an injunction shall issue prohibiting the harassment. An injunction issued pursuant to this section shall have a duration of not more than three years. At any time within the three months before the expiration of the injunction, the plaintiff may apply for a renewal of the injunction by filing a new petition for an injunction under this section.

(e) Nothing in this section shall preclude either party from representation by private counsel or from appearing on his or her own behalf.

(f) In a proceeding under this section where there are allegations or threats of domestic violence, a support person may accompany a party in court and, where the party is not represented by an attorney, may sit with the party at the table that is generally reserved for the party and his or her attorney. The support person is present to provide moral and emotional support for a person who alleges he or she is a victim of domestic violence. The support person is not present as a legal adviser and shall not give legal advice. The support person shall assist the person who alleges he or she is a victim of domestic violence in feeling more confident that he or she will not be injured or threatened by the other party during the proceedings where the person who alleges he or she is a victim of domestic violence and the other party must be present in close proximity. Nothing in this subdivision precludes the court from exercising its discretion to remove the support person from the courtroom if the court believes the support person is prompting, swaying, or influencing the party assisted by the support person.

(g) Upon filing of a petition for an injunction under this section, the defendant shall be personally served with a copy of the petition, temporary restraining order, if any, and notice of hearing of the petition.

(h) The court shall order the plaintiff or the attorney for the plaintiff to deliver a copy of each temporary restraining order or injunction, or modification or termination thereof, granted under this section, by the close of the business day on which the order was granted, to the law enforcement agencies within the court's discretion as are requested by the plaintiff. Each appropriate law enforcement agency shall make available information as to the existence and current status of these orders to law enforcement officers responding to the scene of reported harassment.

(i) The prevailing party in any action brought under this section may be awarded court costs and attorney's fees, if any.

(j) Any willful disobedience of any temporary restraining order or injunction granted under this section is punishable pursuant to Section 273.6 of the Penal Code.

(k) This section does not apply to any action or proceeding covered by Title 1.6C (commencing with Section 1788) of the Civil Code or by Part 4 (commencing with Section 240) of Division 2 of the Family Code. Nothing in this section shall preclude a plaintiff's right to utilize other existing civil remedies.

(l) The Judicial Council shall promulgate forms and instructions therefor, rules for service of process, scheduling of hearings, and any other matters required by this section. The petition and response forms shall be simple and concise.

SEC. 25. Section 529 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

529. (a) On granting an injunction, the court or judge must require an undertaking on the part of the applicant to the effect that the applicant will pay to the party enjoined such damages, not exceeding an amount to be specified, as the party may sustain by reason of the injunction, if the court finally decides that the applicant was not entitled to the injunction. Within five days after the service of the injunction, the person enjoined may object to the undertaking. If the court determines that the applicant's undertaking is insufficient and a sufficient undertaking is not filed within the time required by statute, the order granting the injunction must be dissolved.

(b) This section does not apply to any of the following persons:
   (1) Either spouse against the other in a proceeding for legal separation or dissolution of marriage.
   (2) The applicant for an order described in Section 240 of the Family Code.
   (3) A public entity or officer described in Section 995.220.

SEC. 26. Section 583.161 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

583.161. No petition filed pursuant to Section 2330 of the Family Code shall be dismissed pursuant to this chapter if an order for child support has been issued in connection with the proceeding and the order has not been (1) terminated by the court or (2) terminated by operation of law pursuant to Sections 3900, 3901, 4007, 4013, and 4101 of the Family Code.

SEC. 27. Section 664.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

664.5. (a) In any contested action or special proceeding in a superior court, the party submitting an order or judgment for entry shall prepare and mail a copy of the notice of entry of judgment to all parties who have appeared in the action or proceeding and shall file with the court the original notice of entry of judgment together with the proof of service by mail. This subdivision does not apply in a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal separation.

(b) Promptly upon entry of judgment in a contested action or special proceeding in a municipal or justice court, the clerk of the court shall mail notice of entry of judgment to all parties who have appeared in the action or special proceeding and shall execute a certificate of such mailing and place it in the court’s file in the cause.

(c) For purposes of this section, "judgment" includes any judgment, decree, or signed order from which an appeal lies.

(d) Upon order of the court in any action or special proceeding, the clerk shall mail notice of entry of any judgment or ruling, whether or not appealable.

SEC. 28. Section 674 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

674. (a) Except as otherwise provided in Section 4506 of the Family Code, an abstract of a judgment or decree requiring the payment of money shall be certified by the clerk of the court where the judgment or decree was entered and shall contain all of the following:

(1) The title of the court where the judgment or decree is entered and cause and number of the action.

(2) The date of entry of the judgment or decree and of any renewals of the judgment or decree and where entered in the records of the court.

(3) The name and last known address of the judgment debtor and the address at which the summons was either personally served or mailed to the judgment debtor or the judgment debtor’s attorney of record.

(4) The name and address of the judgment creditor.

(5) The amount of the judgment or decree as entered or as last renewed.

(6) The social security number and driver’s license number of the judgment debtor if they are known to the judgment creditor; and, if either or both of those numbers are not known to the judgment creditor, that fact shall be indicated on the abstract of judgment.

(7) Whether a stay of enforcement has been ordered by the court and, if so, the date the stay ends.

(8) The date of issuance of the abstract.

(b) An abstract of judgment, recorded after January 1, 1979, that does not list the social security number and driver’s license number of the judgment debtor, or either of them, as required by subdivision (a) or by Section 4506 of the Family Code, may be amended by the recording of a document entitled “Amendment to Abstract of Judgment.” The Amendment to Abstract of Judgment shall contain all of the information required by this section or by Section 4506 of the Family Code, shall list both the social security number and driver’s license number if both of those numbers were known at the date of recordation of the original abstract of judgment, or one of them, if only one was known, and shall set forth the date of recording and the book and page location in the records of the county recorder of the original abstract of judgment.

A recorded Amendment to Abstract of Judgment shall have priority as of the date of recordation of the original abstract of judgment, except as to any purchaser, encumbrancer, or lessee who obtained their interest after the recordation of the original abstract of judgment but prior to the recordation of the Amendment to Abstract of Judgment without actual notice of the original abstract of judgment. The purchaser, encumbrancer, or lessee without actual notice may assert as a defense against enforcement of the abstract of judgment the failure to comply with this section or Section 4506 of the Family Code regarding the contents of the original abstract of judgment notwithstanding the subsequent recordation of an Amendment to Abstract of Judgment. With respect to an abstract of judgment recorded between January 1, 1979, and July 10, 1985, the defense against enforcement for failure to comply with this section or Section 4506 of the Family Code may not be asserted by the holder of another abstract of judgment or involuntary lien, recorded without actual notice of the prior abstract, unless refusal to allow the defense would result in prejudice and substantial injury as used in Section 475. The recordation of an Amendment to Abstract of Judgment does not extend or otherwise alter the computation of time as provided in Section 697.310.

SEC. 29. Section 680.145 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

680.145. “Child support” includes family support.

SEC. 30. Section 683.130 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

683.130. (a) In the case of a lump-sum money judgment or a judgment for possession or sale of property, the application for renewal of the judgment may be filed at any time before the expiration of the 10-year period of enforceability provided by Section 683.020 or, if the judgment is a renewed judgment, at any time before the expiration of the 10-year period of enforceability of the renewed judgment provided by Section 683.120.

(b) Except as otherwise specified in subdivisions (c), (d), and (e), in the case of a money judgment payable in installments, the application for renewal of the judgment may be filed:

(1) If the judgment has not previously been renewed, at any time as to past due amounts that at the time of filing are not barred by the expiration of the 10-year period of enforceability provided by Sections 683.020 and 683.030.
