she has submitted to any reasonable examinations as the director may require for the purpose of determining his or her disability.

(d) Except as provided in Section 2708.1, he or she has filed a certificate as required by Section 2708 or 2709.

SEC. 10. Section 2627.3 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

2627.3. Except as provided in Sections 708 and 708.5, if an individual is unemployed and disabled for more than 14 days during the disability benefit period, the waiting period required by subdivision (b) of Section 2627 shall be waived.

SEC. 11. Section 2627.5 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

2627.5. (a) Except as provided in Sections 708 and 708.5, if an individual, pursuant to orders of his or her physician, is confined in a hospital for at least one day, any unexpired full days of the waiting period required by subdivision (b) of Section 2627 shall be waived. This subdivision shall apply to an individual's confinement in a nursing home as defined by subparagraph (B) of paragraph (4) of subdivision (b), but only if immediately prior to that confinement he or she was confined in a hospital (other than a nursing home) for not less than 15 consecutive days pursuant to the orders of his or her physician or confined to the nursing home by order of a physician, where the nursing home is used where an individual's disability requires immediate hospitalization and a bed is unavailable in a hospital (other than a nursing home). The department may use any means it deems reasonable to obtain or verify the information required by this paragraph.

(b) As used in this section:

(1) "Confined" means a registered bed patient.

(2) "Day" means any 24-hour period of time during which the claimant is in a hospital, or any 24-hour period or any part thereof for which a hospital charges a patient a full day's rate.

(3) "Full day's rate" means the regular and customary daily charge for board and room by the hospital.

(4) "Hospital" means:

(A) Within the State of California, any institution which is any of the following:

(i) Licensed by the State Department of Health Services as a general acute care hospital, chemical dependency recovery hospital or specialized hospital.

(ii) Operated as a hospital but exempt from licensing by the State Department of Health Services under subdivision (a) of Section 1270 of the Health and Safety Code.

(iii) Operated as a mental hospital licensed by the State Department of Health Services which is primarily intended for, staffed and equipped to provide for the reception, care, diagnosis and treatment of acute mental and nervous diseases.

(B) Within the states of the United States, any institution operated as a "nursing home" which is any of the following:

(i) An extended care facility as defined in subsection (j) of Section 1395x of Title 42 of the United States Code.

(ii) Conducted by and for the adherents of any well-recognized church or religious denomination for the purpose of providing facilities for the care or treatment of the sick who depend upon prayer or spiritual means for healing in the practice of the religion of the church or denomination.

(C) Outside the State of California, any institution in other states or foreign countries, or in the territories or possessions of any country which is any of the following:

(i) Licensed as a hospital pursuant to the statutes or laws of that state or foreign country, or a territory or possession of a country.

(ii) Operated pursuant to law with organized facilities for diagnosis and surgery, and 24-hour nursing service for the care and treatment of sick and injured persons, if the state or foreign country, or the territory or possession of the country does not have statutes or laws concerning the requirements for licensing hospitals.

(D) Any institution which is operated as a hospital by the United States government or a duly authorized agency thereof.

(5) "Orders of his or her physician" means court order or physician's or health officer's certificate or order of a physician as defined in Section 3209.3 of the Labor Code or order of a practitioner duly authorized by any bona fide church, sect, denomination or organization whose principles or teachings call for dependence for healing entirely upon prayer or spiritual means or order of a duly authorized medical officer of any facility of the United States government or order of any member of any one of the professions enumerated in Section 3209.3 of the Labor Code duly licensed by and practicing within the scope of the license in any state outside this state or in any foreign country, or in a territory or possession of any country.

(c) The amendments made to this section by the act adding this subdivision shall apply to periods of disability commencing on or after January 1, 1992.

SEC. 12. Section 2627.7 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, as amended by Section 3.5 of Chapter 1134 of the Statutes of 1991, is amended to read:

2627.7. (a) Except as provided in Sections 708 and 708.5, if an individual, pursuant to orders of his or her physician, receives treatment in a hospital surgical unit or a surgical clinic which requires a stay of less than 24 hours, or receives treatment in an institution that operates under the auspices of a postsurgical recovery care pilot designation pursuant to Section 1250.9 of the Health and Safety Code, any unexpired full days of the waiting period required by subdivision (b) of Section 2627 shall be waived, provided the individual is disabled for a period of eight days or more during the disability benefit period as a result of the treatment. The department may use any means it deems reasonable to obtain or verify the information required by this section.

(b) As used in this section:

(1) "Hospital" means:

(A) Within the State of California, any institution which is licensed as a general hospital by the State Department of Health Services under Section 1253 of the Health and Safety Code or licensed by the State Department of Health Services as a general acute care hospital, as defined in Section 1250 of the Health and Safety Code.

(B) Outside the State of California, any institution in another state or foreign country, or in a territory or possession of any country, which is either:

(i) Licensed as a hospital pursuant to the statutes or laws of that state, foreign country, or territory or possession of any country.

(ii) Operated pursuant to law with organized facilities for the care and treatment of sick and injured persons, if that state, foreign country, or territory or possession of any country does not have statutes or laws concerning requirements for licensing hospitals.

(C) Any institution operated as a hospital by the United States government or a duly authorized agency thereof.

(2) "Surgical clinic" means a clinic which provides treatment for patients who remain less than 24 hours, is not a part of and does not operate under the license of a hospital, and is any of the following:

(A) Licensed by the State Department of Health Services under paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 1204 of the Health and Safety Code, or under Section 1205 of the Health and Safety Code.

(B) Exempt from licensing under subdivision (b), (c), (d), (f), or (i) of Section 1206 of the Health and Safety Code.

(C) Certified to participate in the federal Medicare program as an "ambulatory surgical center" as defined in Section 416.2 of Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

For purposes of this section, a surgical clinic does not include the offices of private physicians as defined in Section 3209.3 of the Labor Code in individual or group practice.

(3) "Surgical unit" means a unit located in or operating under the license of a hospital and providing treatment for patients who remain less than 24 hours.

(4) "Orders of his or her physician" means a court order or physician's or health officer's certificate or order of a physician as defined in Section 3209.3 of the Labor Code or order of a duly authorized medical officer of any facility of the United States government or order of any member of any one of the professions enumerated in Section 3209.3 of the Labor Code duly licensed by and practicing within the scope of that license in any state outside this state or in any foreign country, or in a territory or possession of any country.

(c) The amendments made to this section by the act adding this subdivision shall apply to periods of disability commencing on or after January 1, 1992.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1995, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 13. Section 2627.7 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, as added by Section 3.7 of Chapter 1134 of the Statutes of 1991, is amended to read:

2627.7. (a) Except as provided in Sections 708 and 708.5, if an individual, pursuant to orders of his or her physician, receives treatment in a hospital surgical unit or a surgical clinic which requires a stay of less than 24 hours, any unexpired full days of the waiting period required by subdivision (b) of Section 2627 shall be waived, provided the individual is disabled for a period of eight days or more during the disability benefit period as a result of the treatment. The department may use any means it deems reasonable to obtain or verify the information required by this section.

(b) As used in this section:

(1) "Hospital" means:

(A) Within the State of California, any institution which is licensed as a general hospital by the State Department of Health Services under Section 1253 of the Health and Safety Code or licensed by the State Department of Health Services as a general acute care hospital, as defined in Section 1250 of the Health and Safety Code.

(B) Outside the State of California, any institution in another state or foreign country, or in a territory or possession of any country, which is either:

(i) Licensed as a hospital pursuant to the statutes or laws of that state, foreign country, or territory or possession of any country.

(ii) Operated pursuant to law with organized facilities for the care and treatment of sick and injured persons, if that state, foreign country, or territory or possession of any country does not have statutes or laws concerning requirements for licensing hospitals.

(C) Any institution operated as a hospital by the United States government or a duly authorized agency thereof.

(2) "Surgical clinic" means a clinic which provides treatment for patients who remain less than 24 hours, is not a part of and does not operate under the license of a hospital, and is any of the following:

(A) Licensed by the State Department of Health Services under paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 1204 of the Health and Safety Code, or under Section 1205 of the Health and Safety Code.

(B) Exempt from licensing under subdivision (b), (c), (d), (f), or (i) of Section 1206 of the Health and Safety Code.

(C) Certified to participate in the federal Medicare program as an "ambulatory surgical center" as defined in Section 416.2 of Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

For purposes of this section, a surgical clinic does not include the offices of private physicians as defined in Section 3209.3 of the Labor Code in individual or group practice.

(3) "Surgical unit" means a unit located in or operating under the license of a hospital and providing treatment for patients who remain less than 24 hours.

(4) "Orders of his or her physician" means a court order or physician's or health officer's certificate or order of a physician as defined in Section 3209.3 of the Labor Code or order of a duly authorized medical officer of any facility of the United States government or order of any member of any one of the professions enumerated in Section 3209.3 of the Labor Code duly licensed by and practicing within the scope of that license in any state outside this state or in any foreign country, or in a territory or possession of any country.

(c) This section shall apply to periods of disability commencing on or after January 1, 1995.

(d) This section shall become operative January 1, 1995.

SEC. 14. Section 2653 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

2653. Except as provided in Sections 708 and 708.5, the maximum amount of benefits payable to an individual during any one disability benefit period shall be 52 times his or her weekly benefit amount, but in no case shall the total amount of the benefits payable be more than the total wages paid to the individual during his or her disability base period. If the benefit is not a multiple of one dollar ($1) it shall be computed to the next higher multiple of one dollar ($1).

This section shall apply to periods of disability commencing on or after January 1, 1984.

SEC. 15. Section 13021 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

13021. (a) Every employer required to withhold any tax under Section 13020 shall for each calendar quarter, whether or not wages or payments are paid in the quarter, file a withholding return in a form prescribed by the department, and pay over the taxes so required to be withheld. Except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (c) of this section, the employer shall file a withholding return and remit the total amount of income taxes withheld during the calendar quarter on or before the last day of the month following the close of the calendar quarter.

(b) Every employer electing to file a single annual return under subdivision (d) of Section 1110 shall report and pay any taxes withheld under Section 13020 on an annual basis within the time specified in subdivision (d) of Section 1110.

(c) Whenever an employer is required, for federal income tax purposes, to remit the total amount of withheld federal income tax in accordance with Section 6302 of the Internal Revenue Code and regulations thereunder, and the accumulated amount of state income tax withheld is more than seventy-five dollars ($75), the employer shall remit the total amount of income tax withheld for state income tax purposes within the number of banking days as specified for withheld federal income taxes by Section 6302 of the Internal Revenue Code, and regulations thereunder.

(d) (1) Notwithstanding subdivisions (a) and (b), for calendar years beginning prior to January 1, 1995, if in the 12-month period ending June 30 of the prior year the cumulative average payment made pursuant to this division or Section 1110, for eighth-monthly periods, as defined under Section 6302 of the Internal Revenue Code and regulations thereunder, was fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or more, the employer shall remit the total amount of income tax withheld within three banking days following the close of each eighth-monthly period. For purposes of this subdivision, payment shall be made by electronic funds transfer in accordance with Section 13021.5, for one calendar year beginning on January 1. Payment is deemed complete on the date the electronic funds transfer is initiated, if settlement to the state's demand account occurs on or before the banking day following the date the transfer is initiated. If settlement to the state's demand account does not occur on or before the banking day following the date the transfer is initiated, payment is deemed complete on the date settlement occurs. The department shall, on or before October 31 of the prior year, notify all employers required to make payment by electronic funds transfer of these requirements.

(2) Notwithstanding subdivisions (a) and (b), for calendar years beginning on or after January 1, 1995, if in the 12-month period ending June 30 of the prior year, the cumulative average payment made pursuant to this division or Section 1110 for eighth-monthly periods, as defined under Section 6302 of the Internal Revenue Code and regulations thereunder, was twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) or more, the employer shall remit the total amount of income tax withheld within three banking days following the close of each eighth-monthly period. For purposes of this subdivision, payment shall be made by electronic funds transfer in accordance with Section 13021.5, for one calendar year beginning on January 1. Payment is deemed complete on the date the electronic funds transfer is initiated, if settlement to the state's demand account occurs on or before the banking day following the date the transfer is initiated. If settlement to the state's demand account does not occur on or before the banking day following the date the transfer is initiated, payment is deemed complete on the date settlement occurs. The department shall, on or before October 31 of the prior year, notify all employers required by this paragraph to make payments by electronic funds transfer of these requirements.

(e) Any employer not required to make payment pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section may elect to make payment by electronic funds transfer in accordance with Section 13021.5 under the following conditions:

(1) The election shall be made in a form, and shall contain information, as prescribed by the director, and shall be subject to approval by the department.

(2) If approved, the election shall be effective on the first day of the calendar quarter following approval of the election.

(3) The election shall be operative for one year from the effective date.

(4) Funds remitted by electronic funds transfer shall be deemed complete on the date the electronic funds transfer is initiated, if settlement to the state's demand account occurs on or before the banking day following the date the transfer is initiated. If settlement does not occur on or before the banking day following the date the transfer is initiated, payment is deemed complete on the date settlement occurs.

(f) Notwithstanding Section 1112, no interest or penalties shall be assessed against any employer who remits at least 95 percent of the amount required by subdivision (b) or (c), provided that the failure to remit the full amount is not willful and any remaining amount due is paid with the next payment. The director may allow any employer to submit the amounts due from multiple locations upon a showing that those submissions are necessary to comply with the provisions of subdivision (b) or (c).

(g) The department may, if it believes that action is necessary, require any employer to make the return required by this section and pay to it the tax deducted and withheld at any time, or from time to time but no less frequently than provided for in subdivision (a).

(h) Any employer required to withhold any tax and who is not required to make payment under subdivision (b) shall remit the total amount of income tax withheld during each month of each calendar quarter, on or before the 15th day of the subsequent month if the income tax withheld for any of the three months or, cumulatively for two or more months, is three hundred fifty dollars ($350) or more.

(i) For purposes of subdivisions (a), (b), and (g), payment is deemed complete when it is placed in a properly addressed envelope, bearing the correct postage, and it is deposited in the United States mail. For purposes of subdivision (c), payment is deemed complete on the date the electronic funds transfer is initiated, if settlement to the state's demand account occurs on or before the banking day following the date the transfer is initiated. If settlement to the state's demand account does not occur on or before the banking day following the date the transfer is initiated, payment is deemed complete on the date settlement occurs.

SEC. 16. The Employment Development Department shall, not later than the last day of the first legislative session after which the cumulative balance of contributions for elective coverage minus disbursements equals or exceeds 20 percent of annual disbursements, submit to the Legislature an actuarial analysis evaluating the fiscal impact and advisability of increasing the benefit amount of disability insurance benefits payable to claimants covered under Sections 708 and 708.5 of the Unemployment Insurance Code to a total of 52 times the weekly benefit amount or 100 percent of a claimant's base period wages, whichever is less.

SEC. 17. The Employment Development Department shall, not later than July 1, 1994, complete a study and submit a report to the Legislature on the feasibility of allowing claimants covered under Sections 708 and 708.5 of the Unemployment Insurance Code to elect coverage in excess of the maximum weekly benefit amount provided for in Section 2655 of the Unemployment Insurance Code at rates sufficient to cover the costs of that excess coverage.

CHAPTER 748

An act to amend Section 4904 of the Labor Code, and to amend Sections 984, 2626, 2627, 2629, 2655, and 2708 of, and to repeal Sections 2627.3, 2627.5, and 2627.7, of the Unemployment Insurance Code, relating to disability insurance, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4904 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

4904. If notice is given in writing to the insurer, or to the employer if uninsured, setting forth the nature and extent of any claim that is allowable as a lien, the claim is a lien against any amount thereafter payable as compensation, subject to the determination of the amount and approval of the lien by the appeals board. When the Employment Development Department has served an insurer or employer with a lien claim, the insurer or employer shall notify the Employment Development Department, in writing, as soon as possible, but in no event later than 15 working days after commencing disability indemnity payments. When a lien has been served on an insurer or an employer by the Employment Development Department, the insurer or employer shall notify the Employment Development Department, in writing, within 10 working days of filing an application for adjudication, a stipulated award, or a compromise and release with the appeals board. In determining the amount of lien to be allowed for unemployment compensation disability benefits under subdivision (f) of Section 4903, the appeals board shall allow the lien in the amount of benefits which it finds were paid for the same day or days of disability for which an award of compensation for any permanent disability indemnity resulting solely from the same injury or illness or temporary disability indemnity, or both, is made and for which the employer has not reimbursed the Employment Development Department pursuant to Section 2629.1 of the Unemployment Insurance Code. In determining the amount of lien to be allowed for unemployment compensation benefits and extended duration benefits under subdivision (g) of Section 4903, the appeals board shall allow the lien in the amount of benefits which it finds were paid for the same day or days for which an award of compensation for temporary total disability is made. In the case of agreements for the compromise and release of a disputed claim for compensation, the applicant and defendant may propose to the appeals board, as part of the compromise and release agreement, an amount out of the settlement to be paid to any lien claimant claiming under subdivision (f) or (g) of Section 4903. If the lien claimant objects to the amount proposed for payment of its lien under a compromise and release settlement or stipulation, the appeals board shall determine the extent of the lien claimant's entitlement to reimbursement on its lien and make and file findings on all facts involved in the controversy over this issue in accordance with Section 5313. The appeals board may approve a compromise and release agreement or stipulation which proposes the disallowance of a lien, in whole or in part, only where there is proof of service upon the lien claimant by the defendant, not less than 15 days prior to the appeals board action, of all medical and rehabilitation documents and a copy of the proposed compromise and release agreement or stipulation. The determination of the appeals board, subject to petition for reconsideration and to the right of judicial review, as to the amount of lien allowed under subdivision (f) or (g) of Section 4903, whether in connection with an award of compensation or the approval of a compromise and release agreement, shall be binding on the lien claimant, the applicant, and the defendant, insofar as the right to benefits paid under the Unemployment Insurance Code for which the lien was claimed. The appeals board may order the amount of any lien claim, as determined and allowed by it, to be paid directly to the person entitled, either in a lump sum or in installments.

Where unemployment compensation disability benefits have been paid pursuant to the Unemployment Insurance Code while reconsideration of an order, decision, or award is pending, or has been granted, the appeals board shall determine and allow a final amount on the lien as of the date the board is ready to issue its decision denying a petition for reconsideration or affirming, rescinding, altering or amending the original findings, order, decision, or award.

The appeals board shall not be prohibited from approving a compromise and release agreement on all other issues and deferring to subsequent proceedings the determination of a lien claimant's entitlement to reimbursement if the defendant in any of these proceedings agrees to pay the amount subsequently determined to be due under the lien claim.

SEC. 2. Section 984 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

984. (a) (1) Each worker shall pay worker contributions at the rate determined by the director pursuant to this section with respect to wages, as defined by Sections 926, 927, and 985. On or before October 31 of each calendar year, the director shall prepare a statement, which shall be a public record, declaring the rate of worker contributions for the calendar year and shall notify promptly all employers of employees covered for disability insurance of the rate.

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (3), the rate of worker contributions for calendar year 1987 and for each subsequent calendar year shall be 1.45 times the amount disbursed from the Disability Fund during the 12-month period ending September 30 and immediately preceding the calendar year for which the rate is to be effective, less the amount in the Disability Fund on that September 30, with the resulting figure divided by total wages paid pursuant to Sections 926, 927, and 985 during the same 12-month period, and then rounded to the nearest one-tenth of 1 percent.

(3) The rate of worker contributions shall not exceed 1.3 percent or be less than 0.1 percent. The rate of worker contributions shall not decrease from the rate in the previous year by more than two-tenths of 1 percent.

(b) Worker contributions required under Sections 708 and 708.5 shall be at a rate determined by the director to reimburse the Disability Fund for unemployment compensation disability benefits paid and estimated to be paid to all employers and self-employed individuals covered by those sections. On or before November 30th of each calendar year, the director shall prepare a statement, which shall be a public record, declaring the rate of contributions for the succeeding calendar year for all employers and self-employed individuals covered under Sections 708 and 708.5 and shall notify promptly the employers and self-employed individuals of the rate. The rate shall be determined by dividing the estimated benefits and administrative costs paid in the prior year by the product of the annual remuneration deemed to have been received under Sections 708 and 708.5 and the estimated number of persons who were covered at any time in the prior year. The resulting rate shall be rounded to the next higher one-hundredth percentage point. The rate may also be reduced or increased by a factor estimated to maintain as nearly as practicable a cumulative zero balance in the funds contributed pursuant to Sections 708 and 708.5. Estimates made pursuant to this subdivision may be made on the basis of statistical sampling, or another method determined by the director.

(c) The director's action in determining a rate under this section shall not constitute an authorized regulation.

(d) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), the director may, at his or her discretion, increase or decrease, by not to exceed 0.1 percent, the rate of worker contributions determined pursuant to subdivision (a), up to a maximum worker contribution rate of 1.3 percent, if he or she determines the adjustment is necessary to reimburse the Disability Fund for disability benefits paid or estimated to be paid to individuals covered by this section or to prevent the accumulation of funds in excess of those needed to maintain an adequate fund balance.

SEC. 3. Section 2626 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

2626. (a) An individual shall be deemed disabled on any day in which, because of his or her physical or mental condition, he or she is unable to perform his or her regular or customary work.

(b) For purposes of this section, "disability" or "disabled" includes:

(1) Illness or injury, whether physical or mental, including any illness or injury resulting from pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical condition.

(2) Inability to work because of a written order from a state or local health officer to an individual infected with, or suspected of being infected with, a communicable disease.

(3) Acute alcoholism being medically treated or, to the extent specified in Section 2626.1, resident status in an alcoholic recovery home.

(4) Acute drug-induced illness being medically treated or, to the extent specified in Section 2626.2, resident status in a drug-free residential facility.

(c) For purposes of this section, if an individual participates in a vocational rehabilitation plan under Article 2.6 (commencing with Section 4635) of Chapter 2 of Part 2 of Division 4 of the Labor Code, regular or customary work shall, upon completion of the plan, mean only that employment for which the individual has been retrained under the vocational rehabilitation plan.

SEC. 4. Section 2627 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

2627. A disabled individual is eligible to receive disability benefits equal to one-seventh of his or her weekly benefit amount for each full day during which he or she is unemployed due to a disability only if the director finds that:

(a) He or she has made a claim for disability benefits as required by authorized regulations.

(b) He or she has been unemployed and disabled for a waiting period of seven consecutive days during each disability benefit period with respect to which waiting period no disability benefits are payable.

(c) Except as provided in Sections 2626.1, 2626.2, and 2709, he or she has submitted to such reasonable examinations as the director may require for the purpose of determining his or her disability.

(d) Except as provided in Section 2708.1, he or she has filed a certificate as required by Section 2708 or 2709.

SEC. 5. Section 2627.3 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 2627.5 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is repealed.

SEC. 7. Section 2627.7 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, as amended by Section 3.5 of Chapter 1134 of the Statutes of 1991, is repealed.

SEC. 8. Section 2629 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

2629. (a) Except as provided in this section, an individual is not eligible for disability benefits under this part for any day of unemployment and disability for which he or she has received, or is entitled to receive, "other benefits" in the form of cash payments.

(b) "Other benefits," as used in this section and Section 2629.1, means any of the following:

(1) Temporary disability indemnity under a workers' compensation law of this state or of any other state or of the federal government including, for purposes of this code and Sections 4903 and 4904 of the Labor Code, a maintenance allowance paid pursuant to Section 139.5 of the Labor Code.

(2) Temporary disability benefits under any employer's liability law of this state or of any other state or of the federal government.

(3) Permanent disability benefits for the same injury or illness under the workers' compensation law of this state, any other state, or the federal government.

(c) Except for a maintenance allowance paid pursuant to Section 139.5 of the Labor Code, if these "other benefits" are less than the amount an individual would otherwise receive as disability benefits under this part, he or she shall be entitled to receive, for that day, if otherwise eligible, disability benefits under this part reduced by the amount of these "other benefits."

(d) An individual shall be entitled to receive, for any day, if otherwise eligible, disability benefits under this part reduced by the amount of the maintenance allowance and permanent disability indemnity if both of the following conditions are met:

(1) The individual elects to receive the maximum permanent disability indemnity pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) of Section 139.5 of the Labor Code.

(2) The sum of the maintenance allowance and permanent disability indemnity is less than the amount an individual would otherwise receive as disability benefits under this part.

SEC. 9. Section 2655 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

2655. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (c), an individual's "weekly benefit amount" shall be the amount appearing in column B in the table set forth in this subdivision on the line of which in column A of the table there appears the wage bracket containing the amount of wages paid to the individual for employment by employers during the quarter of his or her disability base period in which wages were the highest.

A Amount of wages in highest quarter	B Weekly benefit amount

(b) For periods of disability commencing on or after January 1, 1990, and prior to January 1, 1991, if the amount of wages paid an individual for employment by employers during the quarter of his or her disability base period in which these wages were highest exceeds one thousand seven hundred forty-nine dollars and twenty cents ($1,749.20), the weekly benefit amount shall be 55 percent of these wages divided by 13, but not exceeding two hundred sixty-six dollars ($266) or the maximum workers' compensation temporary disability indemnity weekly benefit amount, whichever is less. If the benefit payable under this subdivision is not a multiple of one dollar ($1), it shall be computed to the next higher multiple of one dollar ($1).

(c) For periods of disability commencing on or after January 1, 1991, if the amount of wages paid an individual for employment by employers during the quarter of his or her disability base period in which these wages were highest exceeds one thousand seven hundred forty-nine dollars and twenty cents ($1,749.20), the weekly benefit amount shall be 55 percent of these wages divided by 13, but not exceeding three hundred thirty-six dollars ($336). If the benefit payable under this subdivision is not a multiple of one dollar ($1), it shall be computed to the next higher multiple of one dollar ($1).

SEC. 10. Section 2708 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

2708. (a) In accordance with the director's authorized regulations, and except as provided in Sections 2708.1 and 2709, a claimant shall establish medical eligibility for each uninterrupted period of disability by filing a first claim for disability benefits supported by the certificate of a treating physician or practitioner. For subsequent periods of uninterrupted disability after the period covered by the initial certificate or any preceding continued claim, a claimant shall file a continued claim for those benefits supported by the certificate of a treating physician or practitioner. The certificate shall contain a diagnosis or diagnostic code prescribed in the International Classification of Diseases, or, where no diagnosis has yet been obtained, a detailed statement of symptoms.

The certificate shall also contain a statement of medical facts including secondary diagnoses when applicable, within the physician's or practitioner's knowledge, indicating his or her conclusion as to the claimant's disability, and a statement of his or her opinion as to the expected duration of the disability.

(b) The first and any continuing claim of an individual who obtains care and treatment outside this state, shall be supported by a certificate of a treating physician or practitioner duly licensed or certified by the state or foreign country in which the claimant is receiving the care and treatment. If a physician or practitioner licensed by and practicing in a foreign country is under investigation by the department for filing false claims and the department does not have legal remedies to conduct a criminal investigation or prosecution in that country, the department may suspend the processing of all further certifications until the physician or practitioner fully cooperates, and continues to cooperate with the investigation. A physician or practitioner licensed by and practicing in a foreign country who has been convicted of filing false claims with the department may not file a certificate in support of a claim for disability benefits for a period of five years.

(c) For purposes of this part, the term "physician" has the same meaning as it does in Section 3209.3 of the Labor Code. For purposes of this part, "practitioner" means a person duly licensed or certified in California acting within the scope of his or her license or certification who is a dentist, podiatrist, or as to normal pregnancy or childbirth, a nurse midwife or nurse practitioner.

(d) For a claimant who is hospitalized in or under the authority of a county hospital in this state, a certificate of initial and continuing medical disability, if any, shall satisfy the requirements of this section if the disability is shown by the claimant's hospital chart, and the certificate is signed by the hospital's registrar. For a claimant hospitalized in or under the care of a medical facility of the United States government, a certificate of initial and continuing medical disability, if any, shall satisfy the requirements of this section if the disability is shown by the claimant's hospital chart, and the certificate is signed by a medical officer of the facility duly authorized to do so.

(e) Nothing in this section shall be construed to preclude the department from requesting additional medical evidence to supplement the first or any continued claim if the additional evidence can be procured without additional cost to the claimant. The department may require that the additional evidence include identification of diagnoses, symptoms, or a statement as to the facts of the claimant's disability by the physician or practitioner treating the claimant, by the registrar, authorized medical officer, or other duly authorized official of the hospital or health facility treating the claimant, or by an examining physician or other representative of the department.

An act to amend Sections 5020.4 and 5024.6 of, and to add Chapter 1.1.5 (commencing with Section 5079) to Division 5 of, the Public Resources Code, relating to parks and recreation, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5020.4 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

5020.4. (a) The commission shall do all of the following:

(1) Receive and evaluate applications for, and make recommendations with respect to entries on, the National Register of Historic Places to the officer.

(2) Conduct a statewide inventory and maintain comprehensive records of historical resources pursuant to federal and state law, including, but not limited to, historical landmarks and points of historical interest.

(3) Establish criteria for the recording and preservation of historical resources, and for deletions from historical registers warranted by destruction or damage of a historical resource or other change in conditions.

(4) Develop and adopt criteria for the rehabilitation of historic structures.

(5) Establish policies and guidelines in compliance with state and federal requirements for a comprehensive statewide historical resources plan which includes, but is not limited to, architecture, history, archaeology, and folklife.

(6) Develop and update annually, based upon public hearings and active public participation, the statewide historical resources plan.

(7) Make recommendations to the department, based upon the statewide historical resources plan, including the listing of historical resource projects on a priority basis.

(8) Oversee the administration of the California Register, receive and evaluate nominations to, and cause qualified resources to be listed in, the California Register, and adopt, as necessary, timely revisions of the California Register criteria and procedures as may be advisable.

(9) Recommend to the department the criteria and standards for acceptance of historical buildings, structures, sites, or places for registration as historical landmarks or points of historical interest.

(10) Receive and evaluate applications for registration of structures, sites, or places as historical landmarks or points of historical interest. The commission shall select and designate historical landmarks and points of historical interest that it determines meet the criteria in subdivision (a) of Section 5031. The commission shall maintain a register which identifies historical landmarks and points of historical interest by number and description.

(11) Make recommendations to the office with respect to a standard design and detail for the marker or plaque which may be erected or raised at registered historical landmarks or historical resources, and with respect to the use of the marker or plaque. The commission shall consult with cities and counties in developing design and placement standards. These standards shall not prevent a city or county from implementing its own standards if they meet the minimum criteria established by the commission.

(12) Recommend to the department the type of directional sign to be erected in connection with the registration of a point of historical interest. The commission shall consult with cities and counties in developing design and placement standards. These standards shall not prevent a city or county from implementing its own standards if they meet the minimum criteria established by the commission.

(13) Submit an annual report in January to the director and the Legislature giving an account of its activities, identifying unattained goals of historical resources plans and programs, and recommending needed legislation for the support of those programs. The director shall advise the commission of new and continuing plans, policy, and programs concerning statewide historical resources and shall receive and consider the views of the commission.

(14) Consult with, and consider the recommendation of, public agencies, civic groups, and citizens interested in historic preservation.

(15) Develop criteria and procedures based upon public hearings and active public participation for the selection of projects to be funded through the National Historic Preservation Fund, the California Heritage Fund, and other federal and state programs that have as their primary purpose the preservation and enhancement of historical resources.

(16) Prepare, or cause to be prepared, and recommend to the director, a budget with respect to those duties and responsibilities of the commission contained in this section.

(b) The commission may adopt guidelines for the review of applications for excavation and salvage permits submitted pursuant to Section 6313 and make recommendations thereon to the State Lands Commission.

SEC. 2. Section 5024.6 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

5024.6. There is in the department the State Office of Historic Preservation, which is under the direction of the officer. The office shall do all of the following:

(a) Serve as the staff of the commission in carrying out its responsibilities, and as the staff of the officer in carrying out the responsibilities of that position.

(b) Recommend properties of historical significance for nomination by the commission for the National Register of Historic Places, for registration as historical landmarks and points of historical interest, and for listing in the California Register.

(c) Administer state and federal incentive programs for the preservation of historical resources, including the California Register.

(d) Provide information on federal and state benefits for preservation projects and enhancement of historical resources.

(e) Administer grant and loan programs to survey historical resources and assist the development and enhancement of these resources.

(f) Assist other state agencies by providing information and education on the economic and social benefits of utilizing historical resources.

(g) Provide public education and information on the preservation and enhancement of historical resources.

(h) Provide information and technical assistance to local, state, and national organizations to promote preservation and enhancement of historical resources by developing model ordinances, financial mechanisms, educational programs, conferences, workshops, and other materials.

(i) Cooperate with cultural and ethnic commissions, such as the Native American Heritage Commission, or other organizations or representatives when projects involve these groups' concerns.

(j) Review and comment on the impact on historical resources of publicly funded projects and programs undertaken by other governmental agencies.

(k) Review applications for excavation and salvage permits for salvage in state waters.

(l) Assist the State Lands Commission in administering Section 6313.

(m) Administer the California Register in accordance with procedures adopted by the commission.

(n) Administer and maintain the State Historic Resources Inventory in accordance with procedures developed by the office and adopted by the commission.

(o) Administer the California Heritage Fund created pursuant to Section 5079.10.

SEC. 3. Chapter 1.1.5 (commencing with Section 5079) is added to Division 5 of the Public Resources Code, to read:

CHAPTER 1.1.5. CALIFORNIA HERITAGE FUND

Article 1. General Provisions

5079. The Legislature hereby finds and declares all of the following:

(a) The preservation of California's historical resources is a responsibility of all citizens, and deserving of continued support through private contributions and efforts and through the use of public funds.

(b) Peoples of many cultures, backgrounds, and abilities have contributed to the economic and social diversity of the state.

(c) Increasing pressures for development, increasing public use, and deterioration through age and exposure continue to place California's historical resources at risk.

(d) Preservation of historical resources stimulates the economy, promotes energy conservation, contributes to the tourism industry, and enhances the quality of life in California.

(e) The stewardship of historical resources will further educational goals, deepen cultural and historical awareness, and advance the public's understanding of the existing human environment and institutions.

(f) Therefore, it is the policy of the state to encourage the stewardship and preservation of California's historical resources.

5079.01. As used in this chapter, the following terms have the following meanings:

(a) "California Register" means the California Register of Historic Resources.

(b) "Commission" means the State Historical Resources Commission.

(c) "Fund" means the California Heritage Fund created pursuant to Section 5079.10.

(d) "Historical landmark" and "historical resource" have the same meaning as set forth in subdivision (i) and subdivision (j), respectively, of Section 5020.1.

(e) "Historical resource preservation project" is a product, facility, or project designed to preserve an historical resource that is listed, or formally determined eligible for listing, in the National Register of Historic Places or the California Register, or designated as a historical landmark or point of historical interest.

(f) "National Register of Historic Places" means the official federal list of districts, sites, buildings, structures, and objects significant in American history, architecture, archeology, engineering, and culture as authorized by the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 (16 U.S.C. Sec. 470 et seq.).

(g) "Nonprofit organization" means any private, nonprofit organization, existing under Section 501(c)(3) of the United States Internal Revenue Code, that has, among its principal charitable purposes, the preservation of historic resources for cultural, scientific, historic, educational, recreational, agricultural, or scenic opportunities.

(h) "Office" means the State Office of Historic Preservation.

(i) "Point of historical interest" has the same meaning as set forth in subdivision (o) of Section 5020.1.

(j) "Preservation" means identification, evaluation, recordation, documentation, curation, acquisition, protection, management, rehabilitation, restoration, stabilization, maintenance, and reconstruction, or any combination of those activities.

(k) "Public agency" means a federal agency, state agency, city, county, district, association of governments, joint powers agency, or tribal organization.

(l) "Stewardship" means the development and implementation of programs for the proper care, interpretation, and repose of items of historic and cultural value.

Article 2. California Heritage Fund

5079.10. The California Heritage Fund is hereby created in the State Treasury and shall be administered by the office. Money in the fund shall be available, upon appropriation by the Legislature, to implement laws providing for historical resource preservation, including, but not limited to, Section 5028 and Executive Order W-26-92, under criteria developed by the office and adopted by the commission. The actual costs incurred by the office in connection with administering and implementing the services and functions authorized in this chapter shall be paid from the fund.

5079.12. In addition to any public funds appropriated expressly for the purposes of this chapter, the office may apply for and accept grants, and accept gifts, donations, subventions, rents, royalties, and other financial support, or real or personal property, from private sources. All money received from private sources shall be deposited in a separate account established pursuant to Section 5079.11 and, notwithstanding Section 5079.10, are hereby continuously appropriated to the office for expenditure for historical resources preservation projects pursuant to this chapter after notification to, and project approval by, the Department of Finance.

5079.13. The office shall deposit the proceeds from any lease, rental, sale, exchange, or transfer of real property, or any interest therein or option thereon, made pursuant to Section 5079.23, in the fund, together with any other reimbursements, repayments, and income received by the office, unless otherwise provided by law.

5079.15. The office may apply for and receive emergency financial support for projects and areas identified under federal and state emergency and disaster guidelines. These funds shall be available for expenditure for the purposes of this chapter and Article 2 (commencing with Section 5020) of Chapter 1 under criteria developed by the office and adopted by the commission.

Article 3. Functions of the State Office of Historic Preservation

5079.20. (a) Pursuant to the Property Acquisition Law (Part 11 (commencing with Section 15850) of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code), the State Public Works Board may acquire, on behalf of the office, fee title, or any lesser interest, in any real property whose preservation is required to meet the policies and objectives of the California Register, including any interest required to provide public access to cultural or historical resources.

(b) The office may accept gifts or dedications of real property in order to meet the purposes of this chapter.

(c) The office may enter into an option to purchase real property in order to meet the purposes of this chapter.

5079.21. The office may acquire and hold historical resources, artifacts, or objects, or any interest therein, that are required to provide public access to cultural or historical resources. These items may be acquired by purchase, option to purchase, gift, exchange, dedication, or any combination thereof.

5079.22. The office may, in order to carry out historic preservation projects for purposes of Article 2 (commencing with Section 5020) of Chapter 1 and Article 2 (commencing with Section 5079.10) of this chapter, initiate, negotiate, and participate in agreements for the preservation and management of historical resources under its control with public agencies, nonprofit organizations, private entities, or individuals, and enter into any other agreements authorized by state law.

5079.23. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Director of General Services, when so requested by the office, may lease, rent, sell, exchange, or otherwise transfer any real property, or interest therein or option to purchase, acquired under this chapter, provided that the Director of General Services determines that the action is in the best interests of the state. The Department of General Services shall be reimbursed for any services rendered pursuant to this section.

5079.24. The commission shall adopt, and the office shall implement, appropriate procedures to ensure that real property transactions undertaken pursuant to this chapter are carried out in the public interest and with proper notice to the public.

5079.25. Money in the fund shall be available, upon appropriation by the Legislature, for loans and grants to public agencies and nonprofit organizations to carry out the purposes of this chapter. No loan or grant shall be made except pursuant to an agreement with the office, and subject to terms and conditions approved by the commission, that ensure that the loan or grant carries out the purposes of this chapter.

5079.26. (a) The office shall encourage and support historical resource preservation through education activities, including publications and training, that further the policies set forth in Section 5079.

(b) The office may enter into contracts with public agencies, nonprofit organizations, or private entities for this purpose and may make grants to public agencies and nonprofit organizations to carry out these activities.

5079.27. The office may select and contract with other state agencies and with private entities and individuals to provide services necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter and Section 5020.4.

5079.28. Criteria for the selection of projects shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following:

(a) The project is representative of the concerns and needs of a broad range of constituencies or an underrepresented constituency.

(b) The proposal considers aspects of the broad political, social, and economic issues of the present and their implications for the future preservation of historical resources.

(c) The project effectively links historical resources preservation issues and concerns with other public policy areas.

(d) The project strengthens and fosters the role of local communities in historical resources preservation issues.

(e) The project supports and enhances the capacity of public policy planning processes to accommodate historical resources preservation issues and concerns.

(f) The project enhances the historic preservation program of certified local governments, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 5020.1, and is consistent with the support of the office of certified local government programs.

Article 4. Acquisition of Historical Properties or Objects

5079.35. (a) The office may acquire any interest in real property pursuant to Section 5079.20, or personal property pursuant to Section 5079.21, with historical, including archaeological, significance, or necessary for the preservation or management of any such property, in order to prevent the loss of historic integrity or imminent destruction or to otherwise secure the preservation of the historical resource.

(b) The office may undertake conservation or preservation activities for historical resources acquired under this chapter.

(c) The office shall encourage, to the greatest extent feasible, the acquisition of historical resources by other qualified purchasers, and the acquisition of the property shall only occur with the office acting as the buyer of last resort.

(d) The office shall take all feasible action to return or transfer title to the historical resources to a nonprofit organization, public agency, private entity, or individual, for all properties acquired for historical resources preservation under this chapter.

(e) Prior to taking any action towards the acquisition of any historical property, the office shall consult as needed with the appropriate city or county in order to better assess the historical significance of the historical property.

Article 5. Historical Resources Preservation Projects

5079.40. The office shall award grants on a competitive basis to public agencies and nonprofit organizations for the preservation of historical resources. A grant made pursuant to this article may not exceed the lesser of one million dollars ($1,000,000) or 50 percent of the cost of the project. A grant may be awarded on a noncompetitive basis for emergency purposes only.

5079.41. The office shall adopt guidelines, subject to the approval of the commission, for determination of the amount of matching funds required, if any, for a grant.

5079.42. A public agency may enter into an agreement with a nonprofit organization for the purpose of carrying out a historical resource preservation project funded by a grant made pursuant to this article.

5079.43. After completion of the historical resource preservation project, the grant recipient shall return to the office the amount of the grant that exceeds the eligible project costs.

Article 6. Historical Resource Management Projects

5079.50. The office shall award grants to public agencies and nonprofit organizations to improve the management of California's historical resources which, because of natural events or human activities, have suffered impairment or loss of historic integrity. Grants made pursuant this section shall not be available to acquire public facilities, except to the extent the acquisition is incidental to the historical resource management project.

5079.51. After the approval of a proposed historical resource management project, the office may expend funds to prepare a plan for the protection and enhancement of the historical resource.

5079.52. The office shall consult as needed with the appropriate city or county in order to assess the historical significance of historical resources in connection with an historical resource management project proposed pursuant to this article by a nonprofit organization.

Article 7. Preservation of Significant Archaeological Resource Areas and Associated Artifacts 5079.60. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that California's archaeological resources are endangered by urban development and population growth and by natural forces. The Legislature further finds and declares that these resources need to be preserved in order to illuminate and increase public knowledge concerning the historic and prehistoric past of California.

5079.61. The office may award grants to public agencies and nonprofit organizations for historical resource preservation projects that include the acquisition of significant archaeological resource areas and artifacts associated with those sites.

5079.62. (a) The amount of the grant shall not exceed the cost of the project.

5079.63. The office may loan funds to a nonprofit organization for the temporary acquisition of an archaeological resource that will be subsequently acquired by a public agency.

5079.64. Not more than 25 percent of any grant made pursuant to the article may be expended for archaeological survey and reports, special salvage excavation, and artifact preservation activities in conformance with accepted curation standards. No funds shall be expended for the survey or excavation of any site that the owner intends to resell for commercial gain.

5079.65. The office shall consult as needed with the appropriate city or county in order to assess the historical significance of historical resources in connection with an historical resource preservation project proposed pursuant to this article by a nonprofit organization.

CHAPTER 750

An act to add Section 104.16 to the Streets and Highways Code, relating to highways, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 104.16 is added to the Streets and Highways Code, to read:

104.16. (a) Any airspace under a freeway, or real property acquired for highway purposes, in the City and County of San Francisco, which is not excess property, may be leased by the department to the city and county or another political subdivision or a state agency for purposes of an emergency shelter or feeding program.

(b) The lease shall be for one dollar ($1) per month. The lease amount may be paid in advance of the term covered in order to reduce the administrative costs associated with the payment of the monthly rental fee. The lease shall require the payment of an administrative fee not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500) per year, unless the department determines that a higher administrative fee is necessary, for the department's cost of administering the lease.

(c) The Legislature finds and declares that the lease of real property pursuant to this section serves a public purpose.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to clarify that this act may take effect at the earliest opportunity in order to protect the public health and welfare, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 751

An act to amend Sections 2872 and 2891.1 of the Public Utilities Code, relating to telephones.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2872 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

2872. (a) The connection of automatic dialing-announcing devices to a telephone line is subject to this article and to the jurisdiction, control, and regulation of the commission.

(b) No person shall operate an automatic dialing-announcing device except in accordance with this article. The use of such a device by any person, either individually or acting as an officer, agent, or employee of a person or corporation operating automatic dialing-announcing devices, is subject to this article.

(c) No person shall operate an automatic dialing-announcing device in this state to place a call which is received by a telephone in this state during the hours between 9 p.m. and 9 a.m. California time.

(d) This article does not prohibit the use of an automatic dialing-announcing device by any person exclusively on behalf of any of the following:

(1) A school for purposes of contacting parents or guardians of pupils regarding attendance.

(2) An exempt organization under the Bank and Corporation Tax Law (Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code) for purposes of contacting its members.

(3) A privately owned or publicly owned cable television system for purposes of contacting customers or subscribers regarding the previously arranged installation of facilities on the premises of the customer or subscriber.

(4) A privately owned or publicly owned public utility for purposes of contacting customers or subscribers regarding the previously arranged installation of facilities on the premises of the customer or subscriber or for purposes of contacting employees for emergency actions or repairs required for public safety or to restore services.

(5) A petroleum refinery, chemical processing plant, or nuclear powerplant for purposes of advising residents, public service agencies, and the news media in its vicinity of an actual or potential life-threatening emergency.

(e) This article does not prohibit law enforcement agencies, fire protection agencies, public health agencies, public environmental health agencies, city or county emergency services planning agencies, or any private for-profit agency operating under contract with, and at the direction of, one or more of these agencies, from placing calls through automatic dialing-announcing devices, if those devices are used for any of the following purposes:

(1) Providing public service information relating to public safety.

(2) Providing information concerning police or fire emergencies.

(3) Providing warnings of impending or threatened emergencies.

These calls shall not be subject to Section 2874.

(f) This article does not apply to any automatic dialing-announcing device which is not used to randomly or sequentially dial telephone numbers but which is used solely to transmit a message to an established business associate, customer, or other person having an established relationship with the person using the automatic dialing-answering device to transmit the message, or to any call generated at the request of the recipient.

(g) The commission may determine any question of fact arising under this section.

SEC. 2. Section 2891.1 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

2891.1. (a) Notwithstanding Section 2891, a telephone corporation selling or licensing lists of residential subscribers shall not include the telephone number of any subscriber assigned an unlisted or unpublished access number.

(b) A subscriber may waive all or part of the protection provided by this section through written notice to the telephone corporation.

(c) This section does not apply to the provision of telephone numbers to the following parties for the purposes indicated:

(1) To a collection agency, to the extent disclosures made by the agency are supervised by the commission, exclusively for the collection of unpaid debts.

(2) (A) To any law enforcement agency, fire protection agency, public health agency, public environmental health agency, city or county emergency services planning agency, or private for-profit agency operating under contract with, and at the direction of, one or more of these agencies, for the exclusive purpose of responding to a 911 call or communicating an imminent threat to life or property.

(B) Any information or records provided to a private for-profit agency pursuant to this subdivision shall be held in confidence by that agency and by any individual employed by or associated with that agency. This information or these records shall not be open to examination for any purpose not directly connected with the administration of the services specified in subdivision (e) of Section 2872 or paragraph (2).

(3) To a lawful process issued under state or federal law.

(4) To a telephone corporation providing service between service areas for the provision to the subscriber of telephone service between service areas, or to third parties for the limited purpose of providing billing services.

(5) To the commission pursuant to its jurisdiction and control over telephone and telegraph corporations.

(d) Every deliberate violation of this section is grounds for a civil suit by the aggrieved subscriber against the organization or corporation and its employees responsible for the violation.

(f) No telephone corporation, nor any official or employee thereof, shall be subject to criminal or civil liability for the release of customer information as authorized by this section.

CHAPTER 752

An act to add Part 2 (commencing with Section 1720) to Division 6 of the Harbors and Navigation Code, relating to ports.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares that the purpose of this act is to promote the timely and economical construction of port facilities. In order to facilitate port expansion, it is desirable that state resource and regulatory agencies, in approving port expansion projects, favorably consider not just wetlands restoration and enhancement, but deep water mitigation and other in-water alternatives that provide appropriate and adequate mitigation.

SEC. 2. Part 2 (commencing with Section 1720) is added to Division 6 of the Harbors and Navigation Code, to read:

PART 2. HARBORS AND PORTS MITIGATION PROJECTS

1720. Any public agency with authority to approve or deny port projects that result in the filling of subtidal habitats within the ocean ports of California or habitats in the water of inland ports of California shall approve, as mitigation for those fill projects, any subtidal or in-water mitigation project proposed by the port authority that the public agency determines provides appropriate and adequate mitigation for the adverse impacts on the affected subtidal or in-water habitat in a manner consistent with other law that is then existing.

An act to amend Section 30620 of the Public Resources Code, relating to coastal resources.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 30620 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

30620. (a) By January 30, 1977, the commission shall, consistent with this chapter, prepare interim procedures for the submission, review, and appeal of coastal development permit applications and of claims of exemption. These procedures shall include, but are not limited to, the following:

(1) Application and appeal forms.

(2) Reasonable provisions for notification to the commission and other interested persons of any action taken by a local government pursuant to this chapter, in sufficient detail to ensure that a preliminary review of that action for conformity with this chapter can be made.

(3) Interpretive guidelines designed to assist local governments, the commission, and persons subject to this chapter in determining how the policies of this division shall be applied in the coastal zone prior to the certification of local coastal programs. However, the guidelines shall not supersede, enlarge, or diminish the powers or authority of the commission or any other public agency.

(b) Not later than May 1, 1977, the commission shall, after public hearing, adopt permanent procedures that include the components specified in subdivision (a) and shall transmit a copy of those procedures to each local government within the coastal zone and make them readily available to the public. The commission may thereafter, from time to time, and, except in cases of emergency, after public hearing, modify or adopt additional procedures or guidelines that the commission determines to be necessary to better carry out this division.

(c) The commission may require a reasonable filing fee and the reimbursement of expenses for the processing by the commission of any application for a coastal development permit under this division and, except for local coastal program submittals, for any other filing, including, but not limited to, a request for revocation, categorical exclusion, or boundary adjustment, submitted for review by the commission.

(d) With respect to any appeal of an action taken by a local government pursuant to Section 30602 or 30603, the executive director shall, within five working days of receipt of an appeal from any person other than members of the commission or any public agency, determine whether the appeal is patently frivolous. If the executive director determines that an appeal is patently frivolous, the appeal shall not be filed until a filing fee in the amount of three hundred dollars ($300) has been deposited with the commission. If the commission subsequently finds that the appeal raises a substantial issue, the filing fee shall be refunded.

CHAPTER 754

An act to amend Section 2941 of, and to amend, and add Section 2934a of, the Civil Code, relating to real property, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2934a of the Civil Code is amended to read:

2934a. (a) (1) The trustee under a trust deed upon real property or an estate for years therein given to secure an obligation to pay money and conferring no other duties upon the trustee than those which are incidental to the exercise of the power of sale therein conferred, may be substituted by the recording in the county in which the property is located of a substitution executed and acknowledged by all of the beneficiaries under the trust deed, or their successors in interest, and the substitution shall be effective notwithstanding any contrary provision in any trust deed executed on or after January 1, 1968.

(3) As an alternative, a substitution may be accomplished, with respect to multiple deeds of trust which are recorded in the same county in which the substitution is being recorded and which all have the same trustee and beneficiary or beneficiaries, by recording a single document without the necessity of (A) setting forth the names of all trustors and (B) the recording information and dates of recording for all the deeds of trust for which a substitution of trustee

is being made. However, no notice of default shall be valid unless a substitution complying with paragraph (2) has first been recorded.

(b) If the substitution is effected after a notice of default has been recorded but prior to the giving of the notice of sale, the beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cause a copy of the substitution to be mailed, prior to the recording thereof, in the manner provided in Section 2924b, to all persons to whom a copy of the notice of default would be required to be mailed by the provisions of Section 2924b, and shall also give a copy of the substitution to the trustee then of record. In those cases, the substitution shall contain an acknowledgment signed and acknowledged by the trustee then of record of a receipt of a copy, or an affidavit of personal service of a copy, or of publication of notice of it in accordance with Section 6061 of the Government Code (showing also that a copy of the substitution had been mailed to the trustee at the trustee's last known address), and an affidavit shall be attached to the substitution that notice has been given to those persons and in the manner required by this subdivision.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of this section or any provision in any deed of trust, unless a new notice of sale containing the name, street address, and telephone number of the substituted trustee is given pursuant to Section 2924f, any sale conducted by the substituted trustee shall be void.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and shall have no force or effect on or after that date, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 1.5. Section 2934a of the Civil Code is amended to read:

2934a. (a) (1) The trustee under a trust deed upon real property or an estate for years therein given to secure an obligation to pay money and conferring no other duties upon the trustee than those which are incidental to the exercise of the power of sale therein conferred, may be substituted by the recording in the county in which the property is located of a substitution executed and acknowledged by all of the beneficiaries under the trust deed, or their successors in interest, and the substitution shall be effective notwithstanding any contrary provision in any trust deed executed on or after January 1, 1968.

(b) If the substitution is effected after a notice of default has been recorded but prior to the recording of the notice of sale, the beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cause a copy of the substitution to be mailed, prior to the recording thereof, in the manner provided in Section 2924b, to the trustee then of record and to all persons to whom a copy of the notice of default would be required to be mailed by the provisions of Section 2924b. An affidavit shall be attached to the substitution that notice has been given to those persons and in the manner required by this subdivision.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of this section or any provision in any deed of trust, unless a new notice of sale containing the name, street address, and telephone number of the substituted trustee is given pursuant to Section 2924f, any sale conducted by the substituted trustee shall be void.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and shall have no force or effect after that date, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. Section 2934a is added to the Civil Code, to read:

2934a. (a) (1) The trustee under a trust deed upon real property or an estate for years therein given to secure an obligation to pay money and conferring no other duties upon the trustee than those which are incidental to the exercise of the power of sale therein conferred, may be substituted by the recording in the county in which the property is located of a substitution executed and acknowledged by all of the beneficiaries under the trust deed, or their successors in interest, and the substitution shall be effective notwithstanding any contrary provision in any trust deed executed on or after January 1, 1968.

(2) The substitution shall contain the date of recordation of the trust deed, the name of the trustor, the book and page or instrument number where the trust deed is recorded, and the name of the new trustee. From the time the substitution is filed for record, the new trustee shall succeed to all the powers, duties, authority, and title granted and delegated to the trustee named in the deed of trust. A substitution may be accomplished, with respect to multiple deeds of trust which are recorded in the same county in which the substitution is being recorded and which all have the same trustee and beneficiary or beneficiaries, by recording a single document, complying with the requirements of this section, substituting trustees for all those deeds of trust.

(3) As an alternative, a substitution may be accomplished, with respect to multiple deeds of trust which are recorded in the same county in which the substitution is being recorded and which all have the same trustee and beneficiary or beneficiaries, by recording a single document without the necessity of (A) setting forth the names of all trustors and (B) the recording of the dates for all the deeds of trust for which a substitution of trustee is being made. However, no notice of default shall be valid unless a substitution complying with paragraph (2) has first been recorded.

(b) If the substitution is effected after a notice of default has been recorded but prior to the giving of the notice of sale, the beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cause a copy of the substitution to be mailed, prior to the recording thereof, in the manner provided in Section 2924b, to all persons to whom a copy of the notice of default would be required to be mailed by the provisions of Section 2924b, and shall also give a copy of the substitution to the trustee then of record. In those cases, the substitution shall contain an acknowledgment signed and acknowledged by the trustee then of record of a receipt of a copy, or an affidavit of personal service of a copy, or of publication of notice of it in accordance with Section 6061 of the Government Code (showing also that a copy of the substitution had been mailed to the trustee at the trustee's last known address), and an affidavit shall be attached to the substitution that notice has been given to those persons and in the manner required by this subdivision.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of this section or any provision in any deed of trust, unless a new notice of sale containing the name, street address, and telephone number of the substituted trustee is given pursuant to Section 2924f, any sale conducted by the substituted trustee shall be void.

(d) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 2.5. Section 2934a is added to the Civil Code, to read:

2934a. (a) (1) The trustee under a trust deed upon real property or an estate for years therein given to secure an obligation to pay money and conferring no other duties upon the trustee than those which are incidental to the exercise of the power of sale therein conferred, may be substituted by the recording in the county in which the property is located of a substitution executed and acknowledged by all of the beneficiaries under the trust deed, or their successors in interest, and the substitution shall be effective notwithstanding any contrary provision in any trust deed executed on or after January 1, 1968.

(2) The substitution shall contain the date of recordation of the trust deed, the name of the trustor, the book and page or instrument number where the trust deed is recorded, and the name of the new trustee. From the time the substitution is filed for record, the new trustee shall succeed to all the powers, duties, authority, and title granted and delegated to the trustee named in the deed of trust. A substitution may be accomplished, with respect to multiple deeds of trust which are recorded in the same county in which the substitution is being recorded and which all have the same trustee and beneficiary or beneficiaries, by recording a single document, complying with the requirements of this section, substituting trustees for all those deeds of trust.

(3) As an alternative, a substitution may be accomplished with respect to multiple deeds of trust which are recorded in the same county in which the substitution is being recorded and which all have the same trustee and beneficiary or beneficiaries, by recording a single document without the necessity of (A) setting forth the names of all trustors and (B) the recording of the dates for all the deeds of trust for which a substitution of trustee is being made. However, no notice of default shall be valid unless a substitution complying with paragraph (2) has first been recorded.

(b) If the substitution is effected after a notice of default has been recorded but prior to the recording of the notice of sale, the beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cause a copy of the substitution to be mailed, prior to the recording thereof, in the manner provided in Section 2924b, to the trustee then of record and to all persons to whom a copy of the notice of default would be required to be mailed by the provisions of Section 2924b. An affidavit shall be attached to the substitution that notice has been given to those persons and in the manner required by this subdivision.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of this section or any provision in any deed of trust, unless a new notice of sale containing the name, street address, and telephone number of the substituted trustee is given pursuant to Section 2924f, any sale conducted by the substituted trustee shall be void.

(d) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 3. Section 2941 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

2941. (a) Within 30 days after any mortgage has been satisfied, the mortgagee or the assignee of the mortgagee shall execute a certificate of the discharge thereof, as provided in Section 2939, and shall record or cause to be recorded, except as provided in subdivision (c), in the office of the county recorder in which the mortgage is recorded. The mortgagee shall then deliver, upon the written request of the mortgagor or the mortgagor's heirs, successors, or assignees, as the case may be, the original note and mortgage to the person making the request.

(b) (1) When the obligation secured by any deed of trust has been satisfied, the beneficiary or the assignee of the beneficiary shall execute and deliver to the trustee the original note, deed of trust, request for a full reconveyance, and such other documents as may be necessary to reconvey, or cause to be reconveyed, the deed of trust.

(A) The trustee shall execute the full reconveyance and shall record or cause it to be recorded, except as provided in subdivision (c), in the office of the county recorder in which the deed of trust is recorded within 21 calendar days after receipt by the trustee of the original note, deed of trust, request for a full reconveyance, the fee that may be charged pursuant to subdivision (e), recorder's fees, and such other documents as may be necessary to reconvey, or cause to be reconveyed, the deed of trust.

(B) The trustee shall deliver a copy of the reconveyance to the beneficiary, its successor in interest, or its servicing agent, if known.

(C) Following execution and recordation of the full reconveyance, upon receipt of a written request by the trustor or the trustor's heirs, successors, or assignees, the trustee shall then deliver the original note and deed of trust to the person making that request.

(2) If the trustee has failed to execute and record, or cause to be recorded, the full reconveyance within 60 calendar days of satisfaction of the obligation, the beneficiary, upon receipt of a written request by the trustor or trustor's heirs, successor in interest, agent, or assignee, shall execute and acknowledge a document pursuant to Section 2934a substituting itself or another as trustee and issue a full reconveyance.

(3) If a full reconveyance has not been executed and recorded pursuant to either paragraph (1) or paragraph (2) within 75 calendar days of satisfaction of the obligation, then a title insurance company may prepare and record a release of the obligation. However, at least 10 days prior to the issuance and recording of a full release pursuant to this paragraph, the title insurance company shall mail by first-class mail with postage prepaid, the intention to release the obligation to the trustee, trustor, and beneficiary of record, or their successor in interest of record, at the last known address.

(A) The release shall set forth:

(i) The name of the beneficiary.

(ii) The name of the trustor.

(iii) The recording reference to the deed of trust.

(iv) A recital that the obligation secured by the deed of trust has been paid in full.

(v) The date and amount of payment.

(B) The release issued pursuant to this subdivision shall be entitled to recordation and, when recorded, shall be deemed to be the equivalent of a reconveyance of a deed of trust.

(4) Where an obligation secured by a deed of trust was paid in full prior to July 1, 1989, and no reconveyance has been issued and recorded by October 1, 1989, then a release of obligation as provided for in paragraph (3) may be issued.

(5) Paragraphs (2) and (3) do not excuse the beneficiary or the trustee from compliance with paragraph (1). Paragraph (3) does not excuse the beneficiary from compliance with paragraph (2).

(6) In addition to any other remedy provided by law, a title insurance company preparing or recording the release of the obligation shall be liable to any party for damages, including attorneys' fees, which any person may sustain by reason of the issuance and recording of the release, pursuant to paragraphs (3) and (4).

(c) The mortgagee or trustee shall not record or cause the certificate of discharge or full reconveyance to be recorded when any of the following circumstances exists:

(1) The mortgagee or trustee has received written instructions to the contrary from the mortgagor or trustor, or the owner of the land, as the case may be, or from the owner of the obligation secured by the deed of trust or his or her agent, or escrow.

(2) The certificate of discharge or full reconveyance is to be delivered to the mortgagor or trustor, or the owner of the land, as the case may be, through an escrow to which the mortgagor, trustor, or owner is a party.

(3) When the personal delivery is not for the purpose of causing recordation and when the certificate of discharge or full reconveyance is to be personally delivered with receipt acknowledged by the mortgagor or trustor or owner of the land, as the case may be, or their agent if authorized by mortgagor or trustor or owner of the land.

(d) The violation of any provision of this section shall make the violator liable to the person affected by the violation for all damages which that person may sustain by reason of the violation, and shall require that the violator forfeit to that person the sum of three hundred dollars ($300).

(e) (1) The trustee, beneficiary, or mortgagee may charge a reasonable fee to the trustor or mortgagor, or the owner of the land, as the case may be, for all services involved in the preparation, execution, and recordation of the full reconveyance, including, but not limited to, document preparation and forwarding services rendered to effect the full reconveyance, and, in addition, may collect official fees. This fee may be made payable no earlier than the opening of a bona fide escrow or no more than 60 days prior to the full satisfaction of the obligation secured by the deed of trust or mortgage.

(2) If the fee charged pursuant to this subdivision does not exceed sixty-five dollars ($65), the fee is conclusively presumed to be reasonable. This paragraph shall only be operative until January 1, 1998.

SEC. 3.5. Sections 1.5 and 2.5 of this bill incorporate changes to Section 2934a of the Civil Code proposed by both this bill and AB 1219. They shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1994, (2) each bill affects Section 2934a of the Civil Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 1219, in which case Section 2934a of the Civil Code, as amended by Section 1 of this bill, shall remain operative only until the effective date of AB 1219, at which time Sections 1.5 and 2.5 of this bill shall become operative as specified therein, and Section 1 shall cease to be operative and Section 2 shall not become operative.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to make necessary, technical changes reflecting current practices in the procedures for the substitution of trustees under a deed of trust upon real property or an estate for years therein, and to extend the conclusive presumption respecting fees for a reconveyance in connection with the satisfaction of a mortgage or the obligation secured by a deed of trust, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 755

An act to amend Section 1950.5 of the Civil Code, and to amend Section 1174 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to property.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1950.5 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1950.5. (a) The provisions of this section shall apply to security for a rental agreement for residential property, that is, property used as the dwelling of the tenant.

(b) As used in this section, "security" means any payment, fee, deposit or charge, including, but not limited to, an advance payment of rent, used or to be used for any purpose, including, but not limited to, any of the following:

(1) The compensation of a landlord for a tenant's default in the payment of rent.

(2) The repair of damages to the premises, exclusive of ordinary wear and tear, caused by the tenant or by a guest or licensee of the tenant.

(3) The cleaning of the premises upon termination of the tenancy.

(4) To remedy future defaults by the tenant in any obligation under the rental agreement to restore, replace or return personal property or appurtenances, exclusive of ordinary wear and tear, if the security deposit is authorized to be applied thereto by the rental agreement.

(c) A landlord may not demand or receive security, however denominated, in an amount or value in excess of an amount equal to two months' rent, in the case of unfurnished residential property, and an amount equal to three months' rent in the case of furnished residential property, in addition to any rent for the first month paid on or before initial occupancy.

This subdivision does not prohibit an advance payment of not less than six months' rent where the term of the lease is six months or longer.

This subdivision does not preclude a landlord and a tenant from entering into a mutual agreement for the landlord, at the request of the tenant and for a specified fee or charge, to make structural, decorative, furnishing, or other similar alterations, if the alterations are other than cleaning or repairing for which the landlord may charge the previous tenant as provided by subdivision (e).

(d) Any security shall be held by the landlord for the tenant who is party to the lease or agreement. The claim of a tenant to the security shall be prior to the claim of any creditor of the landlord.

(e) The landlord may claim of the security only those amounts as are reasonably necessary for the purposes specified in subdivision (b). The landlord may not assert a claim against the tenant or the security for damages to the premises or any defective conditions that preexisted the tenancy, for ordinary wear and tear or the effects thereof, whether the wear and tear preexisted the tenancy or occurred during the tenancy, or for the cumulative effects of ordinary wear and tear occurring during any one or more tenancies.

(f) Within three weeks after the tenant has vacated the premises, the landlord shall furnish the tenant, by personal delivery or by first-class mail, postage prepaid, a copy of an itemized statement indicating the basis for, and the amount of, any security received and the disposition of the security and shall return any remaining portion of the security to the tenant.

(g) Upon termination of the landlord's interest in the dwelling unit in question, whether by sale, assignment, death, appointment of receiver or otherwise, the landlord or the landlord's agent shall, within a reasonable time, do one of the following acts, either of which shall relieve the landlord of further liability with respect to the security held:

(1) Transfer the portion of the security remaining after any lawful deductions made under subdivision (e) to the landlord's successor in interest. The landlord shall thereafter notify the tenant by personal delivery or by first-class mail, postage prepaid, of the transfer, of any claims made against the security, of the amount of the security deposited, and of the names of the successors in interest, their address, and their telephone number. If the notice to the tenant is made by personal delivery, the tenant shall acknowledge receipt of the notice and sign his or her name on the landlord's copy of the notice.

(2) Return the portion of the security remaining after any lawful deductions made under subdivision (e) to the tenant, together with an accounting as provided in subdivision (f).

(h) Prior to the voluntary transfer of a landlord's interest in a dwelling unit the landlord shall deliver to the landlord's successor in interest a written statement indicating the following:

(1) The security remaining after any lawful deductions are made.

(2) An itemization of any lawful deductions from any security received.

(3) His or her election under paragraph (1) or (2) of subdivision (g).

Nothing in this subdivision shall affect the validity of title to the real property transferred in violation of the provisions of this subdivision.

(i) In the event of noncompliance with subdivision (g), the landlord's successors in interest shall be jointly and severally liable with the landlord for repayment of the security, or that portion thereof to which the tenant is entitled, when and as provided in subdivisions (e) and (f). A successor in interest of a landlord may not require the tenant to post any security to replace that amount not transferred to the tenant or successors in interest as provided in subdivision (g), unless and until the successor in interest first makes restitution of the initial security as provided in paragraph (2) of subdivision (g) or provides the tenant with an accounting as provided in subdivision (f).

Nothing in this subdivision shall preclude a successor in interest from recovering from the tenant compensatory damages that are in excess of the security received from the landlord previously paid by the tenant to the landlord.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this subdivision, if upon inquiry and reasonable investigation, a landlord's successor in interest has a good faith belief that the lawfully remaining security deposit is transferred to him or her or returned to the tenant pursuant to subdivision (g), he or she shall not be liable for damages as provided in subdivision (k), or any security not transferred pursuant to subdivision (g).

(j) Upon receipt of any portion of the security under paragraph (1) of subdivision (g), the landlord's successors in interest shall have all of the rights and obligations of a landlord holding the security with respect to the security.

(k) The bad faith claim or retention by a landlord or the landlord's successors in interest of the security or any portion thereof, in violation of this section or the bad faith demand of replacement security in violation of subdivision (i), may subject the landlord or the landlord's successors in interest to statutory damages of up to six hundred dollars ($600), in addition to actual damages. The court may award damages for bad faith whenever the facts warrant such an award, regardless of whether the injured party has specifically requested relief. In any action under this section, the landlord or the landlord's successors in interest shall have the burden of proof as to the reasonableness of the amounts claimed or the authority pursuant to this section to demand additional security deposits.

(m) Any action under this section may be maintained in small claims court if the damages claimed, whether actual or statutory or both, are within the jurisdictional amount allowed by Section 116.2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(n) Proof of the existence of and the amount of a security deposit may be established by any credible evidence, including, but not limited to, a canceled check, a receipt, a lease indicating the requirement of a deposit as well as the amount, prior consistent statements or actions of the landlord or tenant, or a statement under penalty of perjury which satisfies the credibility requirements set forth in Section 780 of the Evidence Code.

(o) The amendments to this section made during the 1985 portion of the 1985–86 Regular Session of the Legislature which are set forth in subdivision (e) are declaratory of existing law.

SEC. 2. Section 1174 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1174. (a) If upon the trial, the verdict of the jury, or, if the case be tried without a jury, the findings of the court be in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant, judgment shall be entered for the possession of the premises; and if the proceedings be for an unlawful detainer after neglect, or failure to perform the conditions or covenants of the lease or agreement under which the property is held, or after default in the payment of rent, the judgment shall also declare the forfeiture of that lease or agreement if the notice required by Section 1161 states the election of the landlord to declare the forfeiture thereof, but if that notice does not so state that election, the lease or agreement shall not be forfeited.

Except as provided in Section 1166a, in any action for unlawful detainer brought by a petroleum distributor against a gasoline dealer, possession shall not be restored to the petroleum distributor unless the court in the unlawful detainer action determines that the petroleum distributor had good cause under Section 20999.1 of the Business and Professions Code to terminate, cancel, or refuse to renew the franchise of the gasoline dealer.

In any action for unlawful detainer brought by a petroleum distributor against the gasoline dealer, the court may, at the time of request of either party, require the tenant to make rental payments into the court, for the lessor, at the contract rate, pending the resolution of the action.

(b) The jury or the court, if the proceedings be tried without a jury, shall also assess the damages occasioned to the plaintiff by any forcible entry, or by any forcible or unlawful detainer, alleged in the complaint and proved on the trial, and find the amount of any rent due, if the alleged unlawful detainer be after default in the payment of rent. If the defendant is found guilty of forcible entry, or forcible or unlawful detainer, and malice is shown, the plaintiff may be awarded statutory damages of up to six hundred dollars ($600), in addition to actual damages, including rent found due. The trier of fact shall determine whether actual damages, statutory damages, or both, shall be awarded, and judgment shall be entered accordingly.

(c) When the proceeding is for an unlawful detainer after default in the payment of rent, and the lease or agreement under which the rent is payable has not by its terms expired, and the notice required by Section 1161 has not stated the election of the landlord to declare the forfeiture thereof, the court may, and, if the lease or agreement is in writing, is for a term of more than one year, and does not contain a forfeiture clause, shall order that a writ shall not be issued to enforce the judgment until the expiration of five days after the entry of the judgment, within which time the tenant, or any subtenant, or any mortgagee of the term, or any other party interested in its continuance, may pay into the court, for the landlord, the amount found due as rent, with interest thereon, and the amount of the damages found by the jury or the court for the unlawful detainer, and the costs of the proceedings, and thereupon the judgment shall be satisfied and the tenant be restored to the tenant's estate. If payment as provided in this subdivision is not made within five days, the judgment may be enforced for its full amount and for the possession of the premises. In all other cases the judgment may be enforced immediately.

(d) Subject to subdivision (c), the judgment for possession of the premises may be enforced as provided in Division 3 (commencing with Section 712.010) of Title 9 of Part 2.

(e) Personal property remaining on the premises which the landlord reasonably believes to have been lost shall be disposed of pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 2080) of Chapter 4 of Title 6 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code. The landlord is not liable to the owner of any property which is disposed of in this manner. If the appropriate police or sheriff's department refuses to accept that property, it shall be deemed not to have been lost for the purposes of this subdivision.

(f) The landlord shall give notice pursuant to Section 1983 of the Civil Code to any person (other than the tenant) reasonably believed by the landlord to be the owner of personal property remaining on the premises unless the procedure for surrender of property under Section 1965 of the Civil Code has been initiated or completed.

(g) The landlord shall store the personal property in a place of safekeeping until it is either released pursuant to subdivision (h) or disposed of pursuant to subdivision (i).

(h) The landlord shall release the personal property pursuant to Section 1965 of the Civil Code or shall release it to the tenant or, at the landlord's option, to a person reasonably believed by the landlord to be its owner if the tenant or other person pays the costs of storage as provided in Section 1990 of the Civil Code and claims the property not later than the date specified in the writ of possession before which the tenant must make his or her claim or the date specified in the notice before which a person other than the tenant must make his or her claim.

(i) Personal property not released pursuant to subdivision (h) shall be disposed of pursuant to Section 1988 of the Civil Code.

(j) Where the landlord releases personal property to the tenant pursuant to subdivision (h), the landlord is not liable with respect to that property to any person.

(k) Where the landlord releases personal property pursuant to subdivision (h) to a person (other than the tenant) reasonably believed by the landlord to be its owner, the landlord is not liable with respect to that property to:

(2) Any other person, unless that person proves that, prior to releasing the property, the landlord believed or reasonably should have believed that the person had an interest in the property and also that the landlord knew or should have known upon reasonable investigation the address of that person.

(l) Where personal property is disposed of pursuant to Section 1988 of the Civil Code, the landlord is not liable with respect to that property to:

(2) Any other person, unless that person proves that, prior to disposing of the property pursuant to Section 1988 of the Civil Code, the landlord believed or reasonably should have believed that the person had an interest in the property and also that the landlord knew or should have known upon reasonable investigation the address of that person.

(m) For the purposes of subdivisions (e), (f), (h), (k), and (l), the terms "owner," "premises," and "reasonable belief" have the same meaning as provided in Section 1980 of the Civil Code.

CHAPTER 756

An act to repeal Section 25225 of, and to repeal Chapter 7.3 (commencing with Section 25630) of Division 15 of, the Public Resources Code, relating to energy resources.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25225 of the Public Resources Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Chapter 7.3 (commencing with Section 25630) of Division 15 of the Public Resources Code is repealed.

CHAPTER 757

An act to amend Section 2144 of, and to add Section 3051.6 to, the Civil Code, and to amend Sections 34510 and 40001 of, and to add Section 35559 to, the Vehicle Code, relating to transportation.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2144 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

2144. A carrier has a lien for (a) freightage and for services rendered at request of shipper or consignee in and about the transportation of the property, (b) care and preservation of the property, (c) money advanced at request of shipper or consignee to discharge a prior lien, and (d), subject to the limitations specified in Section 3051.6, any fines, penalties, costs, expenses, and interest arising from the provision of false or erroneous certifications of gross cargo weight as required by Section 508 of Title 49 of the United States Code. The carrier's rights to this lien are regulated by the title on liens.

SEC. 2. Section 3051.6 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

3051.6. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), a carrier has a lien on freight in its possession for the total amount owed to the carrier by the owner or beneficial owner of the cargo being shipped for the aggregate amount of any fines, penalties, costs, expenses, or interest incurred by the carrier resulting from the inclusion of false or erroneous information as to gross cargo weight in a written or electronic certification provided by the owner, beneficial owner, or person responsible for making the certification pursuant to Section 508 of Title 49 of the United States Code.

(b) This section does not apply to any of the following freight:

(1) Perishable goods.

(2) Freight shipped by a means involving other than intermodal transportation, as that term is defined by Section 508 of Title 49 of the United States Code.

(3) Freight shipped by loaded containers or trailers having a gross projected cargo weight, including packing material and pallets, of less than 10,000 pounds.

(c) Any sale to foreclose a lien specified in this section shall be conducted in accordance with Section 3052, except that (1) the lien sale shall not take place for at least 35 days from the date that possession of the property is delivered to the carrier, but the notice period specified in Section 3052 may run concurrently with this 35-day period and (2), in addition to the notices required by Section 3052, at least 10 days prior to the sale of the property the lienholder shall notify the shipper and consignee of the property of the date, time, and place of the intended sale. This notice shall contain the names of the shipper and consignee and shall generally describe the property to be sold.

SEC. 3. Section 34510 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

34510. (a) Persons operating vehicles, or combinations of vehicles, in the transportation of hazardous material and subject to this division, shall carry in the vehicle while en route any shipping papers required to accompany the vehicle in accordance with regulations adopted pursuant to Section 2402. The bill of lading or other shipping paper shall be displayed upon demand of any member of the California Highway Patrol or any police officer of a city who is on duty for the exclusive or main purpose of enforcing the provisions of this code.

(b) Persons operating vehicles, or combinations of vehicles, in intermodal transportation of a container or trailer having an actual gross cargo weight of more than 10,000 pounds, shall carry, in the vehicle while en route, a certification of actual gross cargo weight and a reasonable description of the contents of the container or trailer issued in accordance with Section 508 of Title 49 of the United States Code. The certification shall be displayed upon demand and open to inspection by any member of the California Highway Patrol or any police officer of a city who is on duty for the exclusive or main purpose of enforcing the provisions of this code. It is a rebuttable presumption that the certification carried in the vehicle is a true and accurate copy of the original certification tendered for intermodal transportation pursuant to Section 508 of Title 49 of the United States Code.

(c) Upon the request of any person engaged in the loading of a container or trailer, having an actual gross cargo weight of more than 10,000 pounds, with agricultural products at a field or packing shed for transport in intermodal transportation, the vehicle operator shall provide the person with the tare weight of the tractor, container, or trailer to be loaded.

SEC. 4. Section 35559 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

35559. Whenever a person, charged with a violation of this chapter, shows to the satisfaction of the court that the person conducted his or her activities pursuant to a gross cargo weight verification issued in accordance with Section 508 of Title 49 of the United States Code and that the verification specifies a stated gross cargo weight which could be lawfully transported by the equipment on which the cargo was loaded, the court shall, on request of the person so charged, take appropriate steps to make the party which issued the verification a codefendant. In the event the court finds that the party which issued the verification misrepresented the gross cargo weight and that party is held solely responsible and found guilty, the court may dismiss the charges against the person who received the gross cargo weight verification.

SEC. 5. Section 40001 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

40001. (a) It is unlawful for the owner, or any other person, employing or otherwise directing the driver of any vehicle to cause the operation of the vehicle upon a highway in any manner contrary to law.

(b) It is unlawful for an owner to request, cause, or permit the operation of any vehicle:

(1) Which is not registered or for which any fee has not been paid under this code.

(2) Which is not equipped as required in this code.

(3) Which does not comply with the size, weight, or load provisions of this code.

(4) Which does not comply with the regulations promulgated pursuant to this code, or with applicable city or county ordinances adopted pursuant to this code.

(5) Which is not in compliance with the provisions of Part 5 (commencing with Section 43000) of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code and the rules and regulations of the State Air Resources Board.

(c) Whenever a violation is chargeable to the owner or lessee of a vehicle pursuant to subdivision (a) or (b), the driver shall not be arrested or cited for the violation unless the vehicle is registered in a state or country other than California, or unless the violation is for an offense that is clearly within the responsibility of the driver. The Department of the California Highway Patrol shall report to the Legislature on or before January 1, 1988, concerning the effects of this subdivision.

(d) Whenever the owner, or lessee, or any other person is prosecuted for a violation pursuant to this section, the court may, on the request of the defendant, take appropriate steps to make the driver of the vehicle, or any other person who directs the loading, maintenance or operation of the vehicle, or any other person who gives false or erroneous information in a written certification of actual gross weight, a codefendant. However, the court may make the driver a codefendant only if the driver is the owner or lessee of the vehicle, or the driver is an employee or a contractor of the defendant who requested the court to make the driver a codefendant. If the codefendant is held solely responsible and found guilty, the court may dismiss the charge against the defendant.

(e) In any prosecution under this section, it is a rebuttable presumption that any person who gives false or erroneous information in a written certification of actual gross cargo weight has directed, requested, caused, or permitted the operation of a vehicle in a manner contrary to law in violation of subdivision (a) or (b), or both.

SEC. 6. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 758

An act to amend Section 4992.3 of, and to repeal Section 4996.21 of, the Business and Professions Code, to amend, repeal, and add Sections 8801, 8802, 8804, 8808, and 8814 of, to repeal and add Sections 8502, 8539, 8621, 8622, 8801.3, 8801.5, 8801.7, 8814.5, and 8815 of, and to repeal Section 8620 of, the Family Code, relating to adoption.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4992.3 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

4992.3. The board may refuse to issue a registration or a license, or may suspend or revoke the license or registration of any registrant or licensee if the applicant, licensee, or registrant has been guilty of unprofessional conduct. Unprofessional conduct includes, but is not limited to:

(a) The conviction of a crime substantially related to the qualifications, functions, or duties of a licensee or registrant under this chapter. The record of conviction shall be conclusive evidence only of the fact that the conviction occurred. The board may inquire into the circumstances surrounding the commission of the crime in order to fix the degree of discipline or to determine if the conviction is substantially related to the qualifications, functions, or duties of a licensee or registrant under this chapter. A plea or verdict of guilty or a conviction following a plea of nolo contendere made to a charge substantially related to the qualifications, functions, or duties of a licensee or registrant under this chapter is a conviction within the meaning of this section. The board may order any license or registration suspended or revoked, or may decline to issue a license or registration when the time for appeal has elapsed, or the judgment of conviction has been affirmed on appeal, or, when an order granting probation is made suspending the imposition of sentence, irrespective of a subsequent order under Section 1203.4 of the Penal Code allowing the person to withdraw a plea of guilty and enter a plea of not guilty, or setting aside the verdict of guilty, or dismissing the accusation, information, or indictment.

(b) Securing a license or registration by fraud, deceit, or misrepresentation on any application for licensure or registration submitted to the board, whether engaged in by an applicant for a license or registration, or by a licensee in support of any application for licensure or registration.

(c) Administering to himself or herself any controlled substance or using of any of the dangerous drugs specified in Section 4211, or of any alcoholic beverage to the extent, or in a manner, as to be dangerous or injurious to the person applying for a registration or license or holding a registration or license under this chapter, or to any other person, or to the public, or, to the extent that the use impairs the ability of the person applying for or holding a registration or license to conduct with safety to the public the practice authorized by the registration or license, or the conviction of more than one misdemeanor or any felony involving the use, consumption, or self-administration of any of the substances referred to in this subdivision, or any combination thereof. The board shall deny an application for a registration or license or revoke the license or registration of any person who uses or offers to use drugs in the course of performing clinical social work. This provision does not apply to any person also licensed as a physician and surgeon under Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 2000) or the Osteopathic Act who lawfully prescribes drugs to a patient under his or her care.

(d) Gross negligence or incompetence in the performance of clinical social work.

(e) Violating, attempting to violate, or conspiring to violate this chapter or any regulation adopted by the board.

(f) Misrepresentation as to the type or status of a license or registration held by the person, or otherwise misrepresenting or permitting misrepresentation of his or her education, professional qualifications, or professional affiliations to any person or entity. For purposes of this subdivision, this misrepresentation includes, but is not limited to, misrepresentation of the person's qualifications as an adoption service provider pursuant to Section 8502 of the Family Code.

(g) Impersonation of another by any licensee, registrant, or applicant for a license or registration, or, in the case of a licensee, allowing any other person to use his or her license or registration.

(h) Aiding or abetting any unlicensed or unregistered person to engage in conduct for which a license or registration is required under this chapter.

(i) Intentionally or recklessly causing physical or emotional harm to any client.

(j) The commission of any dishonest, corrupt, or fraudulent act substantially related to the qualifications, functions, or duties of a licensee or registrant.

(k) Engaging in sexual relations with a client, soliciting sexual relations with a client, or committing an act of sexual abuse, or sexual misconduct with a client, or committing an act punishable as a sexually related crime, if that act or solicitation is substantially related to the qualifications, functions, or duties of a clinical social worker.

(l) Performing, or holding one's self out as being able to perform, or offering to perform or permitting, any registered associate clinical social worker or intern under supervision to perform any professional services beyond the scope of the license authorized by this chapter.

(m) Failure to maintain confidentiality, except as otherwise required or permitted by law, of all information that has been received from a client in confidence during the course of treatment and all information about the client which is obtained from tests or other means.

(n) Prior to the commencement of treatment, failing to disclose to the client or prospective client the fee to be charged for the professional services, or the basis upon which that fee will be computed.

(o) Paying, accepting, or soliciting any consideration, compensation, or remuneration, whether monetary or otherwise, for the referral of professional clients. All consideration, compensation, or remuneration shall be in relation to professional counseling services actually provided by the licensee. Nothing in this subdivision shall prevent collaboration among two or more licensees in a case or cases. However, no fee shall be charged for that collaboration, except when disclosure of the fee has been made in compliance with subdivision (n).

(p) Advertising in a manner which is false, misleading, or deceptive.

(q) Reproduction or description in public, or in any publication subject to general public distribution, of any psychological test or other assessment device, the value of which depends in whole or in part on the naivete of the subject, in ways that might invalidate the test or device.

(r) Any conduct in the supervision of any registered associate clinical social worker or intern by any licensee that violates this chapter or any rules or regulations adopted by the board.

SEC. 2. Section 4996.21 of the Business and Professions Code, as amended by Section 1 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is repealed.

SEC. 2.5. Section 8502 of the Family Code, as added by Section 183 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 8502 is added to the Family Code, to read:

8502. "Adoption service provider" means any of the following:

(a) A licensed private adoption agency.

(b) An individual who has presented satisfactory evidence to the department that he or she is a licensed clinical social worker who also has a minimum of five years' experience providing professional social work services while employed by a licensed California adoption agency or the department.

(c) In a state other than California, an adoption agency licensed or otherwise approved under the laws of that state, or an individual who is licensed or otherwise certified as a clinical social worker under the laws of that state.

(d) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1995.

SEC. 3.5. Section 8539 of the Family Code, as added by Section 184 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 8539 is added to the Family Code, to read:

8539. "Place for adoption" means, in the case of an independent adoption, the selection of a prospective adoptive parent or parents for a child by the birth parent or parents and the completion of an adoptive placement agreement on a form prescribed by the department by the birth parent or parents placing the child with prospective adoptive parents.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1995.

SEC. 5. Section 8620 of the Family Code, as added by Section 186 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is repealed.

SEC. 5.5. Section 8621 of the Family Code, as added by Section 187 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 8621 is added to the Family Code, to read:

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1995.

SEC. 6.1. Section 8622 of the Family Code, as added by Section 188 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is repealed.

SEC. 6.2. Section 8622 is added to the Family Code, to read:

8622. A licensed private adoption agency whose services are limited to a particular target population shall inform all birth parents and prospective adoptive parents of its service limitations before commencing any services, signing any documents or agreements, or accepting any fees.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1995.

SEC. 6.3. Section 8801 of the Family Code, as amended by Section 191 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

8801. (a) The selection of a prospective adoptive parent or parents shall be personally made by the child's birth parent or parents and may not be delegated to an agent. The act of selection by the birth parent or parents shall be based upon his, her, or their personal knowledge of the prospective adoptive parent or parents.

(b) "Personal knowledge" as used in this section includes, but is not limited to, substantially correct knowledge of all of the following regarding the prospective adoptive parents: their full legal names, ages, religion, race or ethnicity, employment, whether other children or adults reside in their home, any health conditions curtailing their normal daily activities or reducing their normal life expectancies, and their general area of residence or, upon request, their address.

(c) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1995, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted on or before January 1, 1995, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 6.4. Section 8801 is added to the Family Code, to read:

8801. (a) The selection of a prospective adoptive parent or parents shall be personally made by the child's birth parent or parents and may not be delegated to an agent. The act of selection by the birth parent or parents shall be based upon his, her, or their personal knowledge of the prospective adoptive parent or parents.

(b) "Personal knowledge" as used in this section includes, but is not limited to, substantially correct knowledge of all of the following regarding the prospective adoptive parents: their full legal names, ages, religion, race or ethnicity, length of current marriage and number of previous marriages, employment, whether other children or adults reside in their home, whether there are other children who do not reside in their home and the child support obligation for these children and any failure to meet these obligations, any health conditions curtailing their normal daily activities or reducing their normal life expectancies, any convictions for crimes other than minor traffic violations, any removals of children from their care due to child abuse or neglect, and their general area of residence or, upon request, their address.

(c) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1995.

SEC. 6.5. Section 8801.3 of the Family Code, as added by Section 192 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is repealed.

SEC. 7. Section 8801.3 is added to the Family Code, to read:

8801.3. A child shall not be considered to have been placed for adoption unless each of the following is true:

(a) Each birth parent placing the child for adoption has been advised of his or her rights, and if desired, has been counseled pursuant to Section 8801.5.

(b) The adoption service provider, each prospective adoptive parent, and each birth parent placing the child have signed an adoption placement agreement on a form prescribed by the department. The signing of the agreement shall satisfy all of the following requirements:

(1) Each birth parent shall have been advised of his or her rights at least 10 days before signing the agreement.

(2) The agreement may not be signed by either the birth parents or the prospective adoptive parents until the time of discharge of the birth mother from the hospital. However, if the birth mother remains hospitalized for a period longer than the hospitalization of the child, the agreement may be signed by all parties at the time of or after the child's discharge from the hospital but prior to the birth mother's discharge from the hospital if her competency to sign is verified by her attending physician and surgeon before she signs the agreement.

(3) The birth parents and prospective adoptive parents shall sign the agreement in the presence of an adoption service provider.

(4) The adoption service provider who witnesses the signatures shall keep the original of the adoption placement agreement and immediately forward it and supporting documentation as required by the department to the department or delegated county adoption agency.

(5) The child is not deemed to be placed for adoption with the prospective adoptive parents until the adoption placement agreement has been signed and witnessed.

(6) If the birth parent is not physically present in this state, the adoption placement agreement shall be signed before the adoption service provider who advised the birth parent of his or her rights or a notary or other person authorized to perform notarial acts in the state where the birth parent is present.

(c) The adoption placement agreement form shall include all of the following:

(1) A statement that the birth parent received the advisement of rights and the date upon which it was received.

(2) A statement that the birth parent understands that the placement is for the purpose of adoption and that if the birth parent takes no further action, on the 121st day after signing the adoption placement agreement, the agreement shall become a permanent and irrevocable consent to the adoption.

(3) A statement that the birth parent signs the agreement having personal knowledge of certain facts regarding the prospective adoptive parents as provided in Section 8801.

(4) A statement that the adoptive parents have been informed of the basic health and social history of the birth parents.

(5) A consent to the adoption that may be revoked as provided by Section 8814.5.

(d) The adoption placement agreement shall also meet the requirements of the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children in Section 7901.

(e) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1995.

SEC. 7.5. Section 8801.5 of the Family Code, as added by Section 193 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is repealed.

SEC. 8. Section 8801.5 is added to the Family Code, to read:

8801.5. (a) Each birth parent placing a child for adoption shall be advised of his or her rights by an adoption service provider, or in the case of a birth parent who is neither a resident of, nor physically present in, this state, by a representative of an agency licensed or authorized to accept consents to adoption in the state in which the birth parent resides or is physically present for a purpose unrelated to an adoption.

(b) The birth parent shall be advised of his or her rights in a face-to-face meeting in which the birth parent may ask questions and have questions answered, as soon as possible and in no case later than 10 days before the signing of the adoption placement agreement as provided by Section 8801.3.

(c) The department shall prescribe the format and process for advising birth parents of their rights, the content of which shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(1) The alternatives to adoption.

(2) The alternative types of adoption, including a description of the full procedures and timeframes involved in each type.

(3) The full rights and responsibilities of the birth parent with respect to adoption, including the need to keep the department informed of his or her current address in case of a medical emergency requiring contact and of providing a full health history.

(4) The right to separate legal counsel paid for by the prospective adoptive parents upon the request of the birth parent, as provided for by Section 8800.

(5) The right to a minimum of three separate counseling sessions, each to be held on different days, to be paid for by the prospective adoptive parents upon the request of the birth parents, as provided for by subdivision (d).

(d) Each person advised pursuant to this section shall be offered at least three separate counseling sessions, to be held on different days. Each counseling session shall be not less than 50 minutes in duration. The counseling may be provided by an adoption service provider or by a licensed psychotherapist, as defined by Section 1010 of the Evidence Code, as elected by the person.

(e) The counselor owes a duty of care to the birth parent being counseled, similar to the duty of care established by a psychotherapist-patient relationship, regardless of who pays the fees of the counselor. No counselor shall have a contractual relationship with the adoptive parents, an attorney for the adoptive parents, or any other individual or an organization performing any type of services for the adoptive parents and for which the adoptive parents are paying a fee, except as relates to payment of the birth parents' fee.

(f) The advisement and counseling fees shall be paid by the prospective adoptive parents at the request of the birth parent.

(g) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1995.

SEC. 8.5. Section 8801.7 of the Family Code, as added by Section 194 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is repealed.

SEC. 9. Section 8801.7 is added to the Family Code, to read:

8801.7. (a) An adoption service provider shall also witness the signature of the adoption placement agreement and offer to interview the birth parent after the placement of the child with prospective adoptive parents. The interview shall occur within 10 working days after the placement of the child for adoption and shall include a consideration of any concerns or problems the birth parent has with the placement, a readvisement of the rights of the birth parent, and the taking of the health and social history of the birth parent, if not taken previously.

(b) The adoption service provider shall immediately notify the department or delegated county adoption agency if the birth parent is not interviewed as provided in subdivision (a) or if there are any concerns regarding the placement. If the birth parent wishes to revoke the consent, the adoption service provider shall assist the birth parent in obtaining the return of the child.

(c) The adoption service provider owes a very high duty of care to the birth parent being advised, regardless of who pays the provider's fees. The duty of care specifically does not include a duty to investigate information provided by the birth parents, prospective adoptive parents, or their attorneys or agents. No adoption service provider shall have a contractual relationship with prospective adoptive parents, an attorney or representative for prospective adoptive parents, or any individual or organization providing services of any type to prospective adoptive parents for which the adoptive parents are paying a fee, except as relates to the payment of the fees for the advising and counseling of the birth parents.

(d) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1995.

SEC. 9.1. Section 8802 of the Family Code, as amended by Section 195 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

8802. (a) A person desiring to adopt a child may, for that purpose, file a petition in the county in which the petitioner resides. The court clerk shall immediately notify the department at Sacramento in writing of the pendency of the proceeding and of any subsequent action taken.

(b) The petition shall contain an allegation that the petitioners will file promptly with the department or delegated county adoption agency information required by the department in the investigation of the proposed adoption. The omission of the allegation from a petition does not affect the jurisdiction of the court to proceed or the validity of an adoption order or other order based on the petition.

(c) The caption of the adoption petition shall contain the names of the petitioners, but not the child's name. The petition shall state the child's sex and date of birth and the name the child had before adoption.

(d) If the child is the subject of a guardianship petition, the adoption petition shall so state and shall include the caption and docket number or have attached a copy of the letters of the guardianship or temporary guardianship. The petitioners shall notify the court of any petition for guardianship or temporary guardianship filed after the adoption petition. The guardianship proceeding shall be consolidated with the adoption proceeding.

(e) The order of adoption shall contain the child's adopted name, but not the name the child had before adoption.

(f) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1995, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted on or before January 1, 1995, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 9.2. Section 8802 is added to the Family Code, to read:

8802. (a) A grandparent, aunt, uncle, sibling, legal guardian who has been the child's legal guardian for more than three years, person named in the will of a deceased parent as an intended adoptive parent where the child has no other parent, or person with whom a child has been placed for adoption, who desires to adopt a child may, for that purpose, file a petition in the county in which the petitioner resides. If the child has been placed for adoption, a copy of the adoptive placement agreement shall be attached to the petition. The court clerk shall immediately notify the department at Sacramento in writing of the pendency of the proceeding and of any subsequent action taken.

(b) The petition shall contain an allegation that the petitioners will file promptly with the department or delegated county adoption agency information required by the department in the investigation of the proposed adoption. The omission of the allegation from a petition does not affect the jurisdiction of the court to proceed or the validity of an adoption order or other order based on the petition.

(c) The caption of the adoption petition shall contain the names of the petitioners, but not the child's name. The petition shall state the child's sex and date of birth and the name the child had before adoption.

(d) If the child is the subject of a guardianship petition, the adoption petition shall so state and shall include the caption and docket number or have attached a copy of the letters of the guardianship or temporary guardianship. The petitioners shall notify the court of any petition for guardianship or temporary guardianship filed after the adoption petition. The guardianship proceeding shall be consolidated with the adoption proceeding.

(e) The order of adoption shall contain the child's adopted name, but not the name the child had before adoption.

(f) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1995.

SEC. 9.5. Section 8804 of the Family Code, as amended by Section 196 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

8804. (a) If the petitioners move to withdraw the adoption petition or to dismiss the proceeding, the court clerk shall immediately notify the department at Sacramento of the action. The department or delegated county adoption agency shall file a full report with the court recommending a suitable plan for the child in every case where the petitioners move to withdraw the adoption petition or where the department or agency recommends that the adoption petition be denied and shall appear before the court for the purpose of representing the child.

(b) Notwithstanding the petitioners' withdrawal or dismissal, the court may retain jurisdiction over the child for the purpose of making any order for the child's custody that the court deems to be in the child's best interest.

(c) If a birth parent has refused to give the required consent, or the reason or cause for the withdrawal of the petition, or dismissal of the proceeding, is the withdrawal of the consent of the birth parent or parents, at the hearing the court shall order the child restored to the care and custody of the birth parent or parents.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1995, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted on or before January 1, 1995, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 10. Section 8804 is added to the Family Code, to read:

8804. (a) Whenever the petitioners move to withdraw the petition for the adoption or to dismiss the proceeding, the clerk of the court in which the proceeding is pending shall immediately notify the department at Sacramento of the action. The department or the delegated county adoption agency shall file a full report with the court recommending a suitable plan for the child in every case where the petitioners move to withdraw the petition for the adoption or where the department or delegated county adoption agency recommends that the petition for adoption be denied and shall appear before the court for the purpose of representing the child.

(b) Notwithstanding the withdrawal or dismissal of the petition, the court may retain jurisdiction over the child for the purposes of making any order for the child's custody that the court deems to be in the child's best interest.

(c) If a birth parent who did not place a child for adoption as specified in Section 8801.3 has refused to give the required consent, or a birth parent revokes consent as specified in Section 8814.5, the court shall order the child restored to the care and custody of the birth parent or parents.

(d) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1995.

SEC. 10.5. Section 8808 of the Family Code, as amended by Section 197 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

8808. The department or a delegated county adoption agency shall interview the petitioners and all persons whose consent is required and whose addresses are known as soon as possible and, in the case of residents of this state, within 45 working days, excluding legal holidays, after the filing of the adoption petition. In order to facilitate these interviews, at the same time the petition is filed with the court, the petitioners shall file with the district office of the department or with the delegated county adoption agency responsible for the investigation of the adoption, a copy of the petition together with the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all parties to be interviewed, if known.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1995, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted on or before January 1, 1995, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 11. Section 8808 is added to the Family Code, to read:

8808. The department or delegated county adoption agency shall interview the petitioners and all persons from whom consent is required and whose addresses are known as soon as possible and, in the case of residents of this state, within 45 working days, excluding legal holidays, after the filing of the adoption petition. The interview with the placing parent or parents shall include, but not be limited to, discussion of any concerns or problems that the parent has with the placement and, if the placing parent was not interviewed as provided in Section 8801.7, the content required in that interview. At the interview, the agency shall give the parent an opportunity to sign either a statement revoking the consent, or a waiver of the right to revoke consent, as provided in Section 8814.5. In order to facilitate these interviews, at the same time the petition is filed with the court, the petitioners shall file with the district office of the department or with the delegated county adoption agency responsible for the investigation of the adoption, a copy of the petition together with the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all parties to be interviewed, if known.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1995.

SEC. 11.5. Section 8814 of the Family Code, as amended by Section 198 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

8814. (a) The consent of the birth parent or parents to the adoption by the petitioners shall be signed in the presence of an agent of the department or of a delegated county adoption agency on a form prescribed by the department and shall be filed with the clerk of the superior court in the county of the petitioner's residence.

(b) The consent described in subdivision (a), when reciting that the person giving it is entitled to the sole custody of the child and when acknowledged before that agent, is prima facie evidence of the right of the person making it to the sole custody of the child and that person's sole right to consent.

(c) If the birth parent of a child to be adopted is outside this state at the time of signing the consent, the consent may be signed before a notary or other person authorized to perform notarial acts, and in that case the consent of the department or of the delegated county adoption agency is also necessary.

(d) A birth parent who is a minor has the right to sign a consent for the adoption of the birth parent's child and the consent is not subject to revocation by reason of minority.

(e) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1995, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted on or before January 1, 1995, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 12. Section 8814 is added to the Family Code, to read:

8814. (a) The consent of the birth parent or parents who did not place the child for adoption as described in Section 8801.3 to the adoption shall be signed in the presence of an agent of the department or of a delegated county adoption agency on a form prescribed by the department. The consent shall be filed with the clerk of the appropriate superior court.

(b) The consent described in subdivision (a), when reciting that the person giving it is entitled to the sole custody of the child and when acknowledged before that agent, is prima facie evidence of the right of the person making it to the sole custody of the child and that person's sole right to consent.

(c) If the birth parent of a child to be adopted resides outside this state or is outside this state for an extended period of time unrelated to the adoption at the time of signing the consent, the consent may be signed before a notary or other person authorized to perform notarial acts, and in that case the consent of the department or of the delegated county adoption agency is also necessary.

(d) A birth parent who is a minor has the right to sign a consent for the adoption of the birth parent's child and the consent is not subject to revocation by reason of minority.

(e) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1995.

SEC. 12.5. Section 8814.5 of the Family Code, as added by Section 199 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is repealed.

SEC. 13. Section 8814.5 is added to the Family Code, to read:

8814.5. (a) After a consent to the adoption is signed by the birth parent or parents pursuant to Section 8801.3 or 8814, the birth parent or parents signing the consent shall have 120 days to take one of the following actions:

(2) Sign a waiver of the right to revoke consent on a form prescribed by the department in the presence of a representative of the department or delegated county adoption agency or, if the parent is not physically present in California, then before a notary or other person authorized to perform notarial acts in the state in which the birth parent resides or is present for a purpose unrelated to an adoption. The waiver of the right to revoke consent may not be signed until an interview has been completed by the department or delegated county adoption agency. Within 10 working days of a request made after the department or delegated county adoption agency has received a copy of the petition for the adoption and the names and addresses of the persons to be interviewed, the department or delegated county adoption agency shall interview, at the department or agency office, any birth parent requesting to be interviewed.

(3) Allow the consent to become a permanent consent on the 121st day after signing.

(b) The consent may not be revoked after a waiver of the right to revoke consent has been signed or after 120 days beginning on the date the consent was signed, whichever occurs first.

(c) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1995.

SEC. 14. Section 8815 of the Family Code, as added by Section 201 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is repealed.

SEC. 15. Section 8815 is added to the Family Code, to read:

8815. (a) Consent of a birth parent to the adoption of the child by the prospective adoptive parent or parents may not be withdrawn except with court approval. Request for that approval may be made by motion, or a birth parent seeking to withdraw consent may file with the clerk of the court where the adoption petition is pending, a petition for approval of withdrawal of consent, without the necessity of paying a fee for filing the petition. The motion or petition shall be in writing and shall set forth the reasons for withdrawal of consent, but otherwise may be in any form.

(b) The court clerk shall set the matter for hearing and shall give notice thereof to the department, to the prospective adoptive parent or parents, and to the birth parent or parents by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address of each as shown in the proceeding, at least 10 days before the time set for hearing.

(c) The department or delegated county adoption agency shall, before the hearing of the motion or petition for withdrawal, file a full report with the court and shall appear at the hearing to represent the interests of the child.

(d) At the hearing, the parties may appear in person or with counsel. The hearing shall be held in chambers, but the court reporter shall report the proceedings and, on court order, the fee therefor shall be paid from the county treasury. If the court finds that withdrawal of the consent to adoption is reasonable in view of all the circumstances and that withdrawal of the consent is in the child's best interest, the court shall approve the withdrawal of the consent. Otherwise, the court shall withhold its approval. Consideration of the child's best interest shall include, but is not limited to, an assessment of the child's age, the extent of bonding with the prospective adoptive parent or parents, the extent of bonding or the potential to bond with the birth parent or parents, and the ability of the birth parent or parents to provide adequate and proper care and guidance to the child. If the court approves the withdrawal of consent, the adoption proceeding shall be dismissed.

(e) A court order granting or withholding approval of a withdrawal of consent to an adoption may be appealed in the same manner as an order of the juvenile court declaring a person to be a ward of the juvenile court.

(f) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1995, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted on or before January 1, 1995, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 16. Section 8815 is added to the Family Code, to read:

8815. (a) Once the revocable consent to adoption has become permanent as provided in Section 8814.5, the consent to the adoption by the prospective adoptive parents may not be withdrawn.

(b) Before the time when the revocable consent becomes permanent as provided in Section 8814.5, the birth parent or parents may request return of the child. In such a case the child shall immediately be returned to the birth parent or parents so requesting.

(c) If the person or persons with whom the child has been placed have concerns that the birth parent or parents requesting return of the child are unfit or present a danger of harm to the child, that person's or those persons' only option is to report their concerns to the investigating adoption agency and the appropriate child welfare agency. These concerns shall not be a basis for failure to immediately return the child.

(d) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1995.

SEC. 17. (a) Section 1 of this act shall not become operative until January 1, 1995.

(b) The provisions of this act that are operative on January 1, 1995, shall apply to all petitions for independent adoption filed on or after January 1, 1995. Petitions filed prior to, and pending on, that date shall be governed by the law in effect on December 31, 1994.

CHAPTER 759

An act to add Section 8610.3 to, and to repeal and add Section 8610.5 of, the Government Code, and to repeal and add Chapter 6.99 (commencing with Section 25572) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to nuclear radiation.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8610.3 is added to the Government Code, to read:

8610.3. The Legislature hereby finds and declares as follows:

(a) The Office of Emergency Services, in consultation with the State Department of Health Services and affected counties, investigated the consequences of a serious nuclear powerplant accident for each of the nuclear powerplants in California with a generating capacity of 50 megawatts or more.

(b) This study culminated in the establishment of emergency planning zones for direct exposure and ingestion radiation pathways.

(c) All state and local government nuclear powerplant emergency response plans have been revised to reflect the information provided in the study.

SEC. 2. Section 8610.5 of the Government Code is repealed:

SEC. 3. Section 8610.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

8610.5. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature that state and local costs which are not reimbursed by federal funds shall be borne by utilities operating nuclear powerplants with a generating capacity of 50 megawatts or more. The Public Utilities Commission shall develop and transmit to the Office of Emergency Services an equitable method of assessing the utilities operating the powerplants for their reasonable pro rata share of state agency costs. Each local government involved shall submit a statement of its costs, as required, to the Office of Emergency Services. Upon each utility's notification by the Office of Emergency Services, from time to time, of the amount of its share of the actual or anticipated state and local agency costs, the utility shall pay this amount to the Controller for deposit in the Nuclear Planning Assessment Special Account, which is hereby created in the General Fund for allocation by the Controller, upon appropriation by the Legislature, to carry out activities pursuant to this section and Chapter 6.99 (commencing with Section 25572) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code. The Controller shall pay from this account the state and local costs relative to carrying out this section and Chapter 6.99 (commencing with Section 25572) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code, upon certification thereof by the Office of Emergency Services.

(b) (1) The total annual reimbursement of state costs from the utilities operating the nuclear powerplants within the state for activities pursuant to this section and Chapter 6.99 (commencing with Section 25572) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code, shall not exceed the lesser of the actual costs or the maximum funding levels, previously established by Section 1 of Chapter 1607 of the Statutes of 1988 as of December 31, 1993, subject to subdivisions (d), (e), (f), and (g), to be shared equally among the utilities.

(2) Of the initial amount of five hundred eighty-five thousand dollars ($585,000) for state costs, as determined in paragraph (1), for the period from January 1, 1994, to June 30, 1994, inclusive, the sum of three hundred fifty thousand five hundred dollars ($350,500) shall be in support of the Office of Emergency Services for activities pursuant to this section and Chapter 6.99 (commencing with Section 25572) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code, and the sum of two hundred thirty-four thousand five hundred dollars ($234,500) shall be in support of the State Department of Health Services for activities pursuant to this section and Chapter 6.99 (commencing with Section 25572) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code.

(3) Of the initial annual amount of one million two hundred seventeen thousand dollars ($1,217,000) for state costs, as determined in paragraph (1), for the 1994–95 fiscal year, the sum of seven hundred twenty-nine thousand dollars ($729,000) shall be in support of the Office of Emergency Services for activities pursuant to this section and Chapter 6.99 (commencing with Section 25572) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code, and the sum of four hundred eighty-eight thousand dollars ($488,000) shall be in support of the State Department of Health Services for activities pursuant to this section and Chapter 6.99 (commencing with Section 25572) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code.

(c) (1) The total reimbursement for the period from January 1, 1994, to June 30, 1994, inclusive of local costs from the utilities shall not exceed the lesser of the actual costs or the maximum funding levels, on a site basis, previously established on a per reactor basis by Section 1 of Chapter 1607 of the Statutes of 1988 as of December 31, 1993, in support of activities pursuant to this section and Chapter 6.99 (commencing with Section 25572) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code. The maximum initial annual amount available for reimbursement of local costs, subject to subdivisions (d), (e), (f), and (g) of this section shall be three hundred twelve thousand dollars ($312,000) for the Diablo Canyon site and four hundred sixty-eight thousand dollars ($468,000) for the San Onofre site.

(2) The total annual fiscal year reimbursement commencing July 1, 1994, of local costs from the utilities shall not exceed the lesser of the actual costs or the maximum funding levels, on a site basis, previously established on a per reactor basis by Section 1 of Chapter 1607 of the Statutes of 1988, in support of activities pursuant to this section and Chapter 6.99 (commencing with Section 25572) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code. The maximum initial annual amount available for reimbursement of local costs, subject to subdivisions (d), (e), (f), and (g) of this section, shall be seven hundred thousand dollars ($700,000) for the Diablo Canyon site and nine hundred seventy-four thousand dollars ($974,000) for the San Onofre site.

(3) The amounts paid by the utilities under this section shall be allowed for ratemaking purposes by the Public Utilities Commission.

(d) The amounts available for reimbursement of state and local costs as specified in this section shall be adjusted each fiscal year by the percentage increase in the California Consumer Price Index of the previous calendar year.

(e) Through the date specified in subdivision (g), the amounts available for reimbursement of state and local costs as specified in this section shall be cumulative biennially. Any unexpended funds from the 1994–95 fiscal year shall be carried over to the 1995–96 fiscal year, and any unexpended funds from the 1996–97 fiscal year shall be carried over to the 1997–98 fiscal year.

(f) For the Diablo Canyon site, beginning July 1, 1996, the maximum annual amount for reimbursement of local costs determined pursuant to subdivision (d) shall be increased by an additional seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000).

(g) This section shall become inoperative on July 1, 1999, and, as of January 1, 2000, is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which becomes effective on or before July 1, 1999, deletes or extends the dates on which it becomes inoperative and is repealed.

(h) Upon inoperation of this section, any amounts remaining in the special account shall be refunded pro rata to the utilities contributing thereto.

SEC. 4. The Task Force on California Nuclear Emergency Response was established by Senate Resolution 48 of 1986, to "formulate a report on the State of California's present medical and emergency response capacity in the event a major nuclear facility accident, including recommendations as to how the state might improve this capacity and limit damage from, or minimize exposure to, radiation in the event of such an accident."

In 1987, the task force reviewed emergency response plans for the state's nuclear power facilities, heard testimony at public hearings held near each of the state's three nuclear power facilities, and reviewed data emerging from the Chernobyl nuclear accident.

SEC. 5. Chapter 6.99 (commencing with Section 25572) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Chapter 6.99 (commencing with Section 25572) is added to Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

CHAPTER 6.99. THE RADIATION PROTECTION ACT OF 1993

Article 1. General Provisions

25572. (a) As used in this chapter:

(1) "Office" means the Office of Emergency Services.

(2) "Department" means the State Department of Health Services.

(3) "Emergency planning zone" means a zone identified in state and local government emergency plans where immediate decisions for effective public protective action may be necessary.

(4) "Ingestion pathway zone" means the 50-mile radius around each of the state's nuclear powerplants in which protective actions may be required to protect the food chain in the event of an emergency.

(5) "Site" means the location of a nuclear powerplant and its surrounding emergency planning zone.

(6) "Plume emergency phase" means the period beginning at the onset of an emergency at a nuclear powerplant when immediate decisions for public protective actions are needed.

(7) "Ingestion pathway phase" means the period beginning after any release of radioactive material from a nuclear powerplant accident when the plume emergency phase has ceased, and reliable environmental measurements are available for making decisions on additional protective actions to protect the food chain. The main concern is to prevent exposure from ingestion of contaminated water or food, such as milk, fresh vegetables, or aquatic foodstuffs.

(8) "Recovery and reentry phase" means the period when actions designed to reduce radiation levels in the environment to acceptable levels for unrestricted use are commenced, and ending when all recovery actions have been completed.

(9) "Local government" means a city or county that provides emergency response for a nuclear powerplant emergency.

(10) "Local jurisdiction" means an entity that provides emergency response for a nuclear powerplant emergency in accordance with the plans of a local government.

(11) "Interjurisdictional Planning Committee" means the planning committee, comprised of representatives of the Counties of Orange and San Diego, the Cities of Dana Point, San Clemente, San Juan Capistrano, the Camp Pendleton Marine Corps Base, the State Department of Parks and Recreation, and the Southern California Edison Company, established as a mechanism for coordinating integrated preparedness and response in the event of an emergency at the San Onofre Nuclear Generating Station.

25573. The Legislature hereby finds and declares as follows:

(a) Existing law requires the development of a nuclear powerplant emergency response program by state and local jurisdictions based on federal and state criteria.

(b) The office, in consultation with the department and the counties, has investigated the consequences of a serious nuclear powerplant accident and has established emergency planning zones for direct plume exposure and ingestion radiation pathways. These zones imply mutually supportive emergency planning and preparedness arrangements by all levels of government.

(c) An integrated emergency planning program is necessary for the benefit of the citizens within the planning zones.

(d) It is the intent of the Legislature that the office should be responsible for the coordination and integration of all emergency planning programs and response plans. The department has the lead technical role in the ingestion pathway and recovery and reentry phases. The office will coordinate the department's support to local government. The state provides support to local government during the plume emergency phase and has the lead role in the ingestion pathway and recovery and reentry phases.

(e) It is the intent of the Legislature that local government shall be responsible for developing and maintaining an organization capable of implementing protective actions which safeguard public health and safety. Local government has the lead role in the plume emergency phase, and supports the state in the ingestion pathway and recovery and reentry phases.

(f) It is further the intent of the Legislature that nothing in this chapter shall limit the activities of any government carrying out its general responsibilities pertaining to the public health and safety aspects of emergency response.

Article 2. Responsibilities of the Office of Emergency Services

25574. (a) The office shall be responsible for the coordination and integration of all emergency planning programs and response plans. The office shall also coordinate resources and activities to implement protective measures for safeguarding public health and safety.

(b) The office shall perform the following duties and functions:

(1) Coordinate the activities of all state agencies relating to preparation and implementation of the State Nuclear Powerplant Emergency Response Plan. The office shall be the focal point for coordinating nuclear powerplant emergency preparedness activities with local jurisdictions, other state agencies, federal agencies and other organizations.

(2) Exercise explicit, ultimate authority for allocating funds from the Nuclear Planning Assessment Special Account to local jurisdictions.

(3) Participate in exercises of the state's nuclear emergency response plan at least biennially to ensure that state personnel are adequately trained to respond in the event of an actual emergency. The exercises shall include the department and other relevant state agencies, and the office shall activate the State Operations Center of the office for each exercise.

(4) Perform an independent accident assessment, at the time of an emergency, in conjunction with the department. The office shall also review protective action recommendations given to local jurisdiction representatives in the dose assessment center.

(5) Coordinate planning guidance to state agencies and local jurisdictions.

(6) Develop and maintain the State Nuclear Powerplant Emergency Response Plan and procedures necessary to carry out those responsibilities and review and approve state agency plans in draft prior to publication.

(7) Exercise discretionary authority regarding the formation of interagency agreements with state agencies having local emergency responsibilities. The purpose of the interagency agreement is to ensure state agencies have updated emergency plans and trained emergency response personnel to respond during the plume emergency phase.

(8) Annually prepare and submit a report to any joint committee and Senate and Assembly policy committee with jurisdiction over emergency and disaster services which includes all of the following:

(A) A description of the purpose of all nuclear emergency response exercises in the state involving local and state authorities.

(B) A description of state and local government roles in each exercise.

(C) An accounting of revenues from each utility and a description of expenditures of special account funds by each jurisdiction and the state.

(D) A description of all nuclear emergency response training and education efforts undertaken by the state and local agencies, and identification of any additional training and educational needs.

(E) Recommendations consistent with this chapter.

(9) Conduct a study similar to that described in Section 8610.3 of the Government Code, for any nuclear powerplant with a generating capacity of 50 megawatts or more that is proposed for certification in this state.

Article 3. The State Department of Health Services

25575. (a) The department shall have the lead technical role in the ingestion pathway and recovery and reentry phases of a nuclear powerplant emergency. The department shall ensure that its ingestion pathway and recovery and reentry plan is prepared, and shall provide guidelines for local government ingestion pathway and recovery and reentry plans.

(b) The department shall maintain plans for communicating public health information during the ingestion pathway and recovery and reentry emergency phases. The department shall also maintain a radiation emergency screening team, and shall maintain designation of medical facilities to care for any casualties.

(c) The department shall perform the following duties and functions:

(1) Act as the responsible entity for ensuring that ingestion pathway and recovery and reentry plans are maintained and ready to be implemented, including necessary training and exercises, in coordination with affected counties and the office.

(2) Establish protective action guidelines for ingestion pathway and recovery and reentry operations with due regard for compatibility with the recommendations of the Environmental Protection Agency.

(3) Establish criteria for, coordinate development and maintenance by counties of, and annually review an information catalogue of food, water, and animal resources for the 50-mile ingestion pathway zone around the San Onofre and Diablo Canyon nuclear generating stations.

(4) Establish measurement standards and procedures to assess radioactivity in exposure pathways, including, but not limited to, food, water, and animals, which are compatible with the Environmental Protection Agency's standards and procedures.

(5) Support local government nuclear emergency planning, training, exercises, and response in coordination with the office.

(6) Maintain plans for coordinating the dissemination of public health information during the recovery and reentry phase of a nuclear powerplant emergency.

(7) Maintain a Radiation Emergency Screening Team, also known as the Radiological Advisory Team and develop guidelines for the team. The team shall not be authorized to make decisions within the jurisdiction of emergency planning and response organizations. The guidelines for the team shall meet, but not be limited to, the following requirements:

(A) The team shall include individuals with expertise in medicine, radiation biology, radiation casualty management, emergency preparedness and disaster response, public health, and government and responsibilities.

(B) The team shall be available to advise the department on its nuclear powerplant emergency planning.

(C) The team shall be available for immediate response, 24 hours a day, during the emergency phase of a nuclear powerplant accident. Upon the request of the department, the team shall provide advice and counsel regarding initial patient management and casualty evacuation, and shall provide radiation exposure medical advice to field and hospital medical care providers. Activation of the department's emergency "call-down" list will provide the method of notification.

(D) Individuals shall be designated to serve as backup for members of the team who are unable to immediately respond to a radiation emergency.

(8) Maintain guidelines for the designation for one or more medical facilities which would be capable of managing and caring for casualties caused by a nuclear radiation accident.

(A) The facilities shall have the capability to provide the following:

(i) Provide radiologic and microbiologic isolation, as prescribed by the department, for 10 to 25 casualties.

(ii) Perform radioactivity measurements.

(iii) To quickly mobilize and augment the treatment staff to care for a sudden influx of casualties.

(B) In maintaining the team guidelines, the department shall consider input from other relevant groups or organizations, such as the California Conference of Local Health Officers, the California Medical Association, the California Association of Hospitals, and the University of California medical facilities.

(C) The department shall consider geographic location and critical and supportive care available when developing guidelines.

(D) The department shall designate facilities in accordance with the guidelines developed pursuant to subparagraph (A) of paragraph (8) of subdivision (c), and shall maintain a list of designated facilities.

25576. It is the intent of the Legislature to provide necessary funding for medical facilities designated by the department to enable each facility to be effective in receiving casualties from a nuclear radiation accident.

Article 4. Local Jurisdictions

25577. The Legislature finds and declares that Article 10 (commencing with Section 8610) of Chapter 8 of Title 2 of Division 1 of the Government Code authorizes local governments to create disaster councils for emergency planning and response. The local governmental entities control their own emergency response organizations and resources. Local jurisdictions implement protective measures associated with the plume phase of nuclear radiation accidents.

25578. Local governments shall perform the following duties and functions:

(a) Local governments and nuclear facility operators shall develop and maintain radiological emergency response and preparedness plans to safeguard safety around a nuclear powerplant.

(b) Responsibilities of local jurisdictions within an emergency planning zone include, but are not limited to, the following:

(1) Preemergency preparedness includes developing, maintaining, and enhancing radiological emergency response plans and procedures; maintaining emergency management organizations and operations and field response organizations; in conjunction with utilities, providing public information and education; maintaining essential communications systems; other preemergency preparedness measures, as required in accordance with plans and procedures.

(2) Plume phase emergency includes overall management of offsite plume phase emergency actions; providing available resources for emergency response; a notifying of emergency workers and the public; providing emergency public information; making protective action decisions and taking protective action response, providing public health support in conjunction with the utility and state, providing radiologic exposure control; procuring additional resources and taking other actions needed for emergency response.

(3) Ingestion pathway and recovery phase includes providing support to the pathway and recovery and reentry actions; providing local input into ingestion pathway and recovery decisions, continuing emergency public information in conjunction with state and federal organizations; providing support for security of evacuated areas.

(4) The Interjurisdictional Planning Committee shall identify a discussion leader to facilitate protective action decisions during a nuclear powerplant emergency at the San Onofre Nuclear Generation Station.

(5) A jurisdiction within an emergency planning zone may request services from a jurisdiction outside the emergency planning zone that are necessary to support an evacuated emergency planning zone population. Services requested by a jurisdiction within the emergency planning zone may include, but are not limited to, public information, congregate care, traffic management, radiological monitoring or decontamination of evacuees, and interjurisdictional coordination.

Article 5. Responsibilities of Entities Providing Utilities

25579. Entities providing utilities shall perform the following duties and functions:

(a) Any public or private utility that operates a nuclear generating facility shall have a response organization which can be integrated with federal, state, and local jurisdiction emergency response resources during a radiological accident.

(b) Nuclear utilities shall have the primary responsibility for planning and implementing emergency measures within their facility boundaries and for accident assessment, including evaluation of any potential risk to the public health and safety, and preparation of appropriate protective action recommendations for the consideration of the responsible offsite decisionmakers.

(c) The utilities shall also provide information to the appropriate state and local agencies in support of their independent assessment of offsite radiological conditions relevant to protective action decisions.

(d) Utilities are bound by federal regulation to share responsibility for nuclear powerplant emergency response planning, training, drills and exercises, and public education information with appropriate state and local jurisdictions.

Article 6. Responsibilities of Other Agencies

25580. (a) The Department of Transportation shall include within its criteria for funding, repair, and construction projects, the need for adequate emergency evacuation routes.

(b) State and local law enforcement agencies shall ensure that traffic flow plans for areas outside the emergency planning zones adequately reflect the possible evacuation of residents outside the emergency planning zones.

(c) State and local law enforcement agencies shall ensure that traffic flow plans take into consideration that some evacuation routes may be impassible under certain weather conditions and should have plans for designating alternative routes.

(d) State law enforcement agencies shall ensure that officers who may be needed to respond during a nuclear powerplant emergency receive the necessary training, including refresher courses at least once per year.

SEC. 7. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Section 1349.2 of, and to add and repeal Section 1349.3 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to health care service plans.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1349.2 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1349.2. (a) A health care service plan operated by any city, county, city and county, public entity, or political subdivision that satisfies all of the following criteria is exempt from Section 1349:

(1) Provides services only to its employees, their dependents, and retirees, but not to the general public.

(2) Provides funding for the program.

(3) Provides that providers are not at risk in contracting arrangements, that is, that the reimbursement system is on a fee-for-service basis.

(b) The Senate Office of Research shall conduct a study of the factors that should be considered by the Legislature in determining whether to create an exemption, and the scope of the exemption, under this chapter for public entities and political subdivisions operating a health care service plan for their employees, retired employees, and their dependents which satisfies all of the conditions set forth in subdivision (a). The study shall include, but not be limited to, evaluation of all of the following:

(1) An estimate of the number of public entity and political subdivision plans that would be affected by an exemption.

(2) The fiscal impact of licensure on public entities and political subdivisions and upon the regulatory authority, including any increase in public entity or regulatory authority employees needed to comply with licensure.

(3) The impact, if any, on services offered by the plan due to costs associated with regulation, including any unintended results of creating barriers to health care.

(4) Any potential concomitant increase in taxes in order for public entities and political subdivisions to provide health care services.

(5) If the plans are not licensed and monitored, any risks of financial insolvency, inadequate benefit packages, inadequate education of enrollees of plans concerning available benefits and services, appeal rights, or of economic stability of the plan; and any adverse impact on the ability of enrollees of plans to obtain quality health care, including barriers to accessibility and claims payment practices.

(6) The impact on the private sector, including physicians, allied health providers, and hospitals.

(7) The impact on health care service plans from any increase in enrollee assessments to fund the regulatory authority's efforts in licensing public entities and political subdivisions.

(8) The impact and effect of competition on private sector plans from licensed public entities and political subdivisions.

(9) Any constitutional barriers precluding the operation of a health care service plan by a joint exercise of powers agreement pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 6500) of Chapter 5 of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code.

In conducting the study, the Senate Office of Research shall seek assistance and input from all interested parties. The study shall be completed and submitted to the Legislature no later than December 31, 1991.

(c) It is the intent of the Legislature that the Senate Office of Research study shall provide relevant factual and legal information that may assist the Legislature in determining whether, and to what extent, a permanent exemption for public entity and political subdivision employee plans would be in the public interest and not detrimental to the protection of subscribers, enrollees, or persons regulated under this chapter, and the extent to which regulation of those plans is not essential to the purposes of this chapter.

It is therefore the intent of the Legislature that the temporary exemption in subdivision (a) is to alleviate the necessity for the Department of Corporations to commence enforcement actions against those plans solely because they are unlicensed during this period.

(d) During the time period of temporary exemption, any public entity or political subdivision operating a health care service plan pursuant to subdivision (a) shall not engage in any actions that are contrary to Sections 1378 and 1379 and shall not reduce or change current benefits except in accordance with collective bargaining agreements.

(e) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1996, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1996, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. Section 1349.3 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1349.3. (a) A health care service plan operated by a joint labor management trust governed by a board of trustees shall be exempt from Section 1349 if all of the following apply:

(1) At least one-half of the trustees are management level personnel appointed by their participating city, county, city and county, public entity, or political subdivision.

(2) All of the remaining trustees are public entity or political subdivision employees and employees of the participating, recognized employee organizations, who are selected by the employees of the participating public entity or entities and political subdivision through their participating, recognized employee organizations.

(3) The plan was one of the following:

(A) In existence and doing business on or before January 1, 1993.

(B) In its organizational stages prior to January 1, 1993, and came into existence and commenced doing business between January 1, 1993, and January 1, 1994.

(4) The plan provides services only to the following:

(A) The employees and their dependents, and retirees and their dependents, of the public entity or entities and political subdivisions that participate in the joint labor management trust pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement.

(B) Employees, retirees, and their dependents of a participating, recognized employee organization and joint labor management trust who were members of the joint labor management trust plan prior to June 30, 1993.

(C) Not to the general public.

(5) Funding for the plan shall be the responsibility of the public entity or entities and political subdivisions that participate in the joint labor management trust pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement.

(6) The plan provides that providers are not at risk in contracting arrangements, that is, that the reimbursement system is on a fee-for-service basis.

(b) The Assembly Office of Research shall conduct a study of the factors that should be considered by the Legislature in determining whether to create an exemption, and the scope of the exemption, under this chapter for joint labor management trusts that operate a health care service plan satisfying all the conditions set forth in subdivision (a). In conducting the study, the Assembly Office of Research shall seek assistance and input from all interested parties. The study shall be completed and submitted to the Legislature no later than January 1, 1995. The study shall include, but not be limited to, evaluation of all of the following:

(1) An estimate of the number of joint labor management trust plans and public entities and political subdivisions that would be affected by an exemption.

(2) The characteristics of joint labor management trusts, including how and why they were created, their financial condition, and the methods by which they are funded, operated, and administered.

(3) The relationship between the public entities and political subdivisions and their joint labor management trusts, including the amount and manner of control or supervision the public entity or entities and political subdivisions have on the joint labor management trusts.

(4) The enrollment requirements for each joint labor management trust health care service plan, whether enrollment is limited to public entity and political subdivision employees and their dependents, or whether union employees, trust employees, or other persons may also enroll in the health plan.

(5) The health benefits provided by each joint labor management trust health care service plan, including copayments, deductibles, and any other forms of enrollee cost sharing.

(6) The annual premiums paid by employees to each joint labor management trust for enrollment in its health care service plan.

(7) The health claims paid annually by each joint labor management trust for health services provided to its health care service plan enrollees.

(8) The financial condition of each joint labor management trust health care service plan, as stated in the trust's annual audited financial statement, and information concerning what recourse providers and enrollees may have in the event that the health care service plan fails to make any payment or timely payment of health care services.

(9) The costs and other related impacts that each joint labor management trust would incur if required to do one or both of the following:

(A) Secure a certificate issued by the Commissioner of Insurance pursuant to Section 700 of the Insurance Code.

(B) Secure a license from the Commissioner of Corporations pursuant to Section 1349 of the Health and Safety Code.

(10) The enrollee services provided by each joint labor management trust health care service plan, including education of enrollees, appeal rights, and coordination of benefits.

(c) It is the intent of the Legislature that the Assembly Office of Research study shall provide relevant factual and legal information that may assist the Legislature in determining whether, and to what extent, a permanent exemption for public entity and political subdivision employee plans provided by joint labor management trusts would be in the public interest and not detrimental to the protection of subscribers, enrollees, or persons regulated under this chapter, and the extent to which regulation of those plans is not essential to the purposes of this chapter.

It is therefore the intent of the Legislature that the temporary exemption in subdivision (a) is to alleviate the necessity for the Department of Corporations to commence enforcement actions against those plans solely because they are unlicensed during this period.

(d) During the time period of temporary exemption, any joint labor management trust operating a health care service plan pursuant to subdivision (a) shall not engage in any actions that are contrary to Sections 1378 and 1379 and shall not reduce or change current benefits except in accordance with collective bargaining agreements.

(e) The temporary exemption for health care service plans operated by joint labor management trusts authorized by subdivision (a) is conditioned on both of the following:

(1) A declaration filed by the joint labor management trust with the Assembly Office of Research by February 1, 1994, that it operates a health care service plan as defined by subdivision (a), and declaring that the trust is qualified for the exemption from Section 1349. For the purposes of this subdivision, a declaration shall conform to Section 2015.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(2) Cooperation with the Assembly Office of Research in performing the study required by this section, including prompt and complete replies by the joint labor management trust to oral and written requests for information that is relevant to the study, and written requests for access to records that are relevant to the study.

The Assembly Office of Research shall notify the Commissioner of Insurance and the Commissioner of Corporations of any noncompliance with this subdivision that comes to its attention.

(f) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1996, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1996, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 761

An act to amend Section 1538.5 of the Penal Code, relating to search warrants.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. It is the intent of the Legislature, in amending Section 1538.5 of the Penal Code, that this act shall not be construed or used by a party as a means to forum shop.

SEC. 2. Section 1538.5 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1538.5. (a) A defendant may move for the return of property or to suppress as evidence any tangible or intangible thing obtained as a result of a search or seizure on either of the following grounds:

(1) The search or seizure without a warrant was unreasonable.

(2) The search or seizure with a warrant was unreasonable because (i) the warrant is insufficient on its face; (ii) the property or evidence obtained is not that described in the warrant; (iii) there was not probable cause for the issuance of the warrant; (iv) the method of execution of the warrant violated federal or state constitutional standards; (v) there was any other violation of federal or state constitutional standards.

(b) When consistent with the procedures set forth in this section and subject to the provisions of Section 170 through 170.6 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the motion should first be heard by the magistrate who issued the search warrant if there is a warrant.

(c) Whenever a search or seizure motion is made in the municipal, justice, or superior court as provided in this section, the judge or magistrate shall receive evidence on any issue of fact necessary to determine the motion.

(d) If a search or seizure motion is granted pursuant to the proceedings authorized by this section, the property or evidence shall not be admissible against the movant at any trial or other hearing unless further proceedings authorized by this section, Section 871.5, 1238, or 1466 are utilized by the people.

(e) If a search or seizure motion is granted at a trial, the property shall be returned upon order of the court unless it is otherwise subject to lawful detention. If the motion is granted at a special hearing, the property shall be returned upon order of the court only if, after the conclusion of any further proceedings authorized by this section, Section 1238 or 1466, the property is not subject to lawful detention or if the time for initiating the proceedings has expired, whichever occurs last. If the motion is granted at a preliminary hearing, the property shall be returned upon order of court after 10 days unless the property is otherwise subject to lawful detention or unless, within that time, further proceedings authorized by this section, Section 871.5 or 1238 are utilized; if they are utilized, the property shall be returned only if, after the conclusion of the proceedings, the property is no longer subject to lawful detention.

(f) If the property or evidence relates to a felony offense initiated by a complaint, the motion shall be made in the superior court only upon filing of an information, except that the defendant may make the motion at the preliminary hearing in the municipal or justice court, but the motion in the municipal or justice court shall be restricted to evidence sought to be introduced by the people at the preliminary hearing.

(g) If the property or evidence relates to a misdemeanor complaint, the motion shall be made in the municipal or justice court before trial and heard prior to trial at a special hearing relating to the validity of the search or seizure. If the property or evidence relates to a misdemeanor filed together with a felony, the procedure provided for a felony in this section and Sections 1238 and 1539 shall be applicable.

(h) If, prior to the trial of a felony or misdemeanor, opportunity for this motion did not exist or the defendant was not aware of the grounds for the motion, the defendant shall have the right to make this motion during the course of trial in the municipal, justice, or superior court.

(i) If the property or evidence obtained relates to a felony offense initiated by complaint and the defendant was held to answer at the preliminary hearing, or if the property or evidence relates to a felony offense initiated by indictment, the defendant shall have the right to renew or make the motion in the superior court at a special hearing relating to the validity of the search or seizure which shall be heard prior to trial and at least 10 days after notice to the people, unless the people are willing to waive a portion of this time. If the offense was initiated by indictment or if the offense was initiated by complaint and no motion was made at the preliminary hearing, the defendant shall have the right to fully litigate the validity of a search or seizure on the basis of the evidence presented at a special hearing. If the motion was made at the preliminary hearing, unless otherwise agreed to by all parties, evidence presented at the special hearing shall be limited to the transcript of the preliminary hearing and to evidence that could not reasonably have been presented at the preliminary hearing, except that the people may recall witnesses who testified at the preliminary hearing. If the people object to the presentation of evidence at the special hearing on the grounds that the evidence could reasonably have been presented at the preliminary hearing, the defendant shall be entitled to an in camera hearing to determine that issue. The superior court shall base its ruling on all evidence presented at the special hearing and on the transcript of the preliminary hearing, and the findings of the magistrate shall be binding on the superior court as to evidence or property not affected by evidence presented at the special hearing. After the special hearing is held in the superior court, any review thereafter desired by the defendant prior to trial shall be by means of an extraordinary writ of mandate or prohibition filed within 30 days after the denial of his or her motion at the special hearing.

(j) If the property or evidence relates to a felony offense initiated by complaint and the defendant's motion for the return of the property or suppression of the evidence at the preliminary hearing is granted, and if the defendant is not held to answer at the preliminary hearing, the people may file a new complaint or seek an indictment after the preliminary hearing, and the ruling at the prior hearing shall not be binding in any subsequent proceeding, except as limited by subdivision (p). In the alternative, the people may move to reinstate the complaint, or those parts of the complaint for which the defendant was not held to answer, pursuant to Section 871.5. If the property or evidence relates to a felony offense initiated by complaint and the defendant's motion for the return or suppression of the property or evidence at the preliminary hearing is granted, and if the defendant is held to answer at the preliminary hearing, the ruling at the preliminary hearing shall be binding upon the people unless, upon notice to the defendant and the court in which the preliminary hearing was held and upon the filing of an information, the people, within 15 days after the preliminary hearing, request in the superior court a special hearing, in which case the validity of the search or seizure shall be relitigated de novo on the basis of the evidence presented at the special hearing, and the defendant shall be entitled, as a matter of right, to a continuance of the special hearing for a period of time up to 30 days. The people may not request relitigation of the motion at a special hearing if the defendant's motion has been granted twice. If defendant's motion is granted at a special hearing in the superior court, the people, if they have additional evidence relating to the motion and not presented at the special hearing, shall have the right to show good cause at the trial why the evidence was not presented at the special hearing and why the prior ruling at the special hearing should not be binding, or the people may seek appellate review as provided in subdivision (o), unless the court, prior to the time the review is sought, has dismissed the case pursuant to Section 1385. If the case has been dismissed pursuant to Section 1385, or if the people dismiss the case on their own motion after the special hearing, the people may file a new complaint or seek an indictment after the special hearing, and the ruling at the special hearing shall not be binding in any subsequent proceeding, except as limited by subdivision (p). If the property or evidence seized relates solely to a misdemeanor complaint, and the defendant made a motion for the return of property or the suppression of evidence in the municipal court or justice court prior to trial, both the people and defendant shall have the right to appeal any decision of that court relating to that motion to the superior court of the county in which the inferior court is located, in accordance with the California Rules of Court provisions governing appeals from municipal and justice courts in criminal cases. If the people prosecute review by appeal or writ to decision, or any review thereof, in a felony or misdemeanor case, it shall be binding upon them.

(k) If the defendant's motion to return property or suppress evidence is granted and the case is dismissed pursuant to Section 1385, or the people appeal in a misdemeanor case pursuant to subdivision (j), the defendant shall be released pursuant to Section 1318 if he or she is in custody and not returned to custody unless the proceedings are resumed in the trial court and he or she is lawfully ordered by the court to be returned to custody.

If the defendant's motion to return property or suppress evidence is granted and the people file a petition for writ of mandate or prohibition pursuant to subdivision (o) or a notice of intention to file such a petition, the defendant shall be released pursuant to Section 1318, unless (1) he or she is charged with a capital offense in a case where the proof is evident and the presumption great, or (2) he or she is charged with a noncapital offense defined in Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 187) of Title 8 of Part 1, and the court orders that the defendant be discharged from actual custody upon bail.

(l) If the defendant's motion to return property or suppress evidence is granted, the trial of a criminal case shall be stayed to a specified date pending the termination in the appellate courts of this state of the proceedings provided for in this section, Section 871.5, 1238, or 1466 and, except upon stipulation of the parties, pending the time for the initiation of these proceedings. Upon the termination of these proceedings, the defendant shall be brought to trial as provided by Section 1382, and, subject to the provisions of Section 1382, whenever the people have sought and been denied appellate review pursuant to subdivision (o), the defendant shall be entitled to have the action dismissed if he or she is not brought to trial within 30 days of the date of the order that is the last denial of the petition. Nothing contained in this subdivision shall prohibit a court, at the same time as it rules upon the search and seizure motion, from dismissing a case pursuant to Section 1385 when the dismissal is upon the court's own motion and is based upon an order at the special hearing granting the defendant's motion to return property or suppress evidence. In a misdemeanor case, the defendant shall be entitled to a continuance of up to 30 days if he or she intends to file a motion to return property or suppress evidence and needs this time to prepare for the special hearing on the motion. In case of an appeal by the defendant in a misdemeanor case from the denial of the motion, he or she shall be entitled to bail as a matter of right, and, in the discretion of the trial or appellate court, may be released on his or her own recognizance pursuant to Section 1318.

(m) The proceedings provided for in this section, and Sections 871.5, 995, 1238, and 1466 shall constitute the sole and exclusive remedies prior to conviction to test the unreasonableness of a search or seizure where the person making the motion for the return of property or the suppression of evidence is a defendant in a criminal case and the property or thing has been offered or will be offered as evidence against him or her. A defendant may seek further review of the validity of a search or seizure on appeal from a conviction in a criminal case notwithstanding the fact that the judgment of conviction is predicated upon a plea of guilty. Review on appeal may be obtained by the defendant provided that at some stage of the proceedings prior to conviction he or she has moved for the return of property or the suppression of the evidence.

(n) Nothing contained in this section shall prohibit a person from making a motion, otherwise permitted by law, to return property, brought on the ground that the property obtained is protected by the free speech and press provisions of the Federal and State Constitutions. Nothing in this section shall be construed as altering (i) the law of standing to raise the issue of an unreasonable search or seizure; (ii) the law relating to the status of the person conducting the search or seizure; (iii) the law relating to the burden of proof regarding the search or seizure; (iv) the law relating to the reasonableness of a search or seizure regardless of any warrant that may have been utilized; or (v) the procedure and law relating to a motion made pursuant to Section 871.5 or 995, or the procedures that may be initiated after the granting or denial of such a motion.

(o) Within 30 days after a defendant's motion is granted at a special hearing in the superior court, the people may file a petition for writ of mandate or prohibition, seeking appellate review of the ruling regarding the search or seizure motion. If the trial of a criminal case is set for a date that is less than 30 days from the granting of a defendant's motion at a special hearing in the superior court, the people, if they have not filed such a petition and wish to preserve their right to file a petition, shall file in the superior court on or before the trial date or within 10 days after the special hearing, whichever occurs last, a notice of intention to file a petition and shall serve a copy of the notice upon the defendant.

(p) If a defendant's motion to return property or suppress evidence in a felony matter has been granted twice, the people may not file a new complaint or seek an indictment in order to relitigate the motion or relitigate the matter de novo at a special hearing in the superior court as otherwise provided by subdivision (j), unless the people discover additional evidence relating to the motion that was not reasonably discoverable at the time of the second suppression hearing. Relitigation of the motion shall be heard by the same judge who granted the motion at the first hearing if the judge is available.

CHAPTER 762

An act to amend Sections 25110, 25540, and 25541 of the Corporations Code, relating to corporations.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25110 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

25110. It is unlawful for any person to offer or sell in this state any security in an issuer transaction (other than in a transaction subject to Section 25120), whether or not by or through underwriters, unless such sale has been qualified under Section 25111, 25112 or 25113 (and no order under Section 25140 or subdivision (a) of Section 25143 is in effect with respect to such qualification) or unless such security or transaction is exempted under Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 25100) of this part. The offer or sale of such a security in a manner that varies or differs from, exceeds the scope of, or fails to conform with either a material term or material condition of qualification of the offering as set forth in the permit or qualification order, or a material representation as to the manner of offering which is set forth in the application for qualification, shall be an unqualified offer or sale.

SEC. 2. Section 25540 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

25540. (a) Except as provided for in subdivision (b), any person who willfully violates any provision of this law, or who willfully violates any rule or order under this law, shall upon conviction be fined not more than one million dollars ($1,000,000), or imprisoned in the state prison, or in a county jail for not more than one year, or be punished by both such fine and imprisonment; but no person may be imprisoned for the violation of any rule or order if he or she proves that he or she had no knowledge of the rule or order.

(b) Any person who willfully violates Section 25400, 25401, or 25402 shall upon conviction be fined not more than ten million dollars ($10,000,000), or imprisoned in the state prison for two, three, or five years, or be punished by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 2.5. Section 25540 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

violates any rule or order under this law, shall upon conviction be fined not more than one million dollars ($1,000,000), or imprisoned in the state prison, or in a county jail for not more than one year, or be punished by both such fine and imprisonment; but no person may be imprisoned for the violation of any rule or order if he or she proves that he or she had no knowledge of the rule or order.

(b) Any person who willfully violates Section 25400, 25401, 25402, or 25403 shall upon conviction be fined not more than ten million dollars ($10,000,000), or imprisoned in the state prison for two, three, or five years, or be punished by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 3. Section 25541 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

25541. Any person who willfully employs, directly or indirectly, any device, scheme, or artifice to defraud in connection with the offer, purchase, or sale of any security or willfully engages, directly or indirectly, in any act, practice, or course of business which operates or would operate as a fraud or deceit upon any person in connection with the offer, purchase, or sale of any security shall upon conviction be fined not more than ten million dollars ($10,000,000), or imprisoned in the state prison for two, three, or five years, or be punished by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 5. It is the intent of the Legislature that the amendments contained in Section 1 of this act are declarative of the existing law of this state.

SEC. 6. Section 2.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 25540 of the Corporations Code proposed by both this bill and AB 1160. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1994, (2) each bill amends Section 25540 of the Corporations Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 1160, in which case Section 25540 of the Corporations Code, as amended by AB 1160, shall remain operative only until the operative date of this bill, at which time Section 2.5 of this bill shall become operative, and Section 2 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 763

An act to add Section 4050.2 to the Business and Professions Code, relating to pharmacies.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4050.2 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

4050.2. The board shall adopt regulations that apply the same requirements or standards for oral consultation to an out-of-state pharmacy that operates pursuant to Section 4050.1 and ships, mails, or delivers any controlled substances or dangerous drugs or devices to residents of this state, as are applied to an in-state pharmacy that operates pursuant to Section 4035 when the pharmacy ships, mails, or delivers any controlled substances or dangerous drugs or devices to residents of this state. The board shall not adopt any regulations that require face-to-face consultation for a prescription that is shipped, mailed, or delivered to the patient. The regulations adopted pursuant to this section shall not result in any unnecessary delay in patients receiving their medication.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to add Section 65036.6 to the Government Code, relating to local agencies.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 65036.6 is added to the Government Code, to read:

65036.6. The Legislature requests the Governor to direct one or more state agencies to examine, by January 1, 1996, the extent to which local agencies establish procedures to comply with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 66000) and Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 66016) of Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code.

CHAPTER 765

An act to add Section 732 to the Business and Professions Code, relating to healing arts.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 732 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

732. (a) A physician and surgeon and a dentist shall refund any amount that a patient has paid for services rendered that has subsequently been paid to the physician and surgeon or dentist by a third-party payor and that constitutes a duplicate payment. The refund shall be made as follows:

(1) If the patient requests a refund, within 30 days following the request from that patient for a refund if the duplicate payment has been received, or within 30 days of receipt of the duplicate payment if the duplicate payment has not been received.

(2) If the patient does not request a refund, within 90 days of the date the physician and surgeon or dentist knows, or should have known, of the receipt of the duplicate payment, the physician and surgeon or dentist shall notify the patient of the duplicate payment, and the duplicate payment shall be refunded within 30 days unless the patient requests that a credit balance be retained.

(b) Violation of this section shall constitute unprofessional conduct. Disciplinary proceedings shall be conducted in accordance with the Medical Practice Act (Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 2000)) or the Dental Practice Act (Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 1600)), as applicable.

CHAPTER 766

An act to amend Sections 17209, 17221, 17224, 17243, 17274, 17275, and 17277 of the Government Code, relating to state warrants.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17209 of the Government Code is amended to read:

17209. Whenever the Controller deems that it will increase the salability or the price of registered warrants to obtain, prior to or after sale, a legal opinion as to the validity of the warrants from attorneys other than the Attorney General, the Controller may obtain a legal opinion.

SEC. 2. Section 17221 of the Government Code is amended to read:

17221. Whenever the Controller draws a warrant upon the Treasurer payable out of the General Fund in an amount in excess of the balance remaining in the unapplied money in the General Fund after first deducting from the unapplied money the amount, as estimated by the Controller, that is required by law to be earmarked, reserved, or set apart from the unapplied money for the payment of obligations of the state having priority over the obligation to which the warrant is applicable, the Controller shall upon the same day present it to the Treasurer, or seek the Treasurer's delegation to endorse the warrant as required by this section. The Treasurer shall endorse, or delegate to the Controller to endorse, upon its back the date of presentation or endorsement by the Controller; that it is not paid for want of funds; and that it bears interest at the rate fixed pursuant to law from the date of the registration to the date of maturity, or the date upon which the Treasurer advertises that it is payable upon presentation if it bears no date of maturity. Warrants so endorsed are registered warrants. The Controller shall supply the Treasurer with a daily list of the numbers of the warrants so registered.

SEC. 3. Section 17224 of the Government Code is amended to read:

17224. If the Controller presents a warrant to the Treasurer for registration, after registration, the Treasurer shall return the warrant to the Controller for distribution.

SEC. 4. Section 17243 of the Government Code is amended to read:

17243. The Controller may fix a maturity date for reimbursement warrants, and indorse upon each warrant, the date upon which it will be paid and redeemed.

SEC. 5. Section 17274 of the Government Code is amended to read:

17274. The notice of redemption shall read substantially as follows:

"NOTICE TO HOLDERS OF STATE OF CALIFORNIA WARRANTS

State Controller's warrants number _____ to number _____, inclusive, drawn against the General Fund in the state treasury will be payable on _____ upon presentation to the State (redemption date)

Treasurer.

(Name of State Treasurer)
State Treasurer."

SEC. 6. Section 17275 of the Government Code is amended to read:

17275. Any interest paid on any registered warrant shall accrue to the person holding the warrant on the date of redemption. A registered warrant ceases to bear interest on the first of the following dates:

(a) The maturity date indorsed on its face, if any, if on that date unapplied money or the proceeds of refunding warrants are available for its payment.

(b) The date of redemption, so long as the date is at least three days following the first day of published notice pursuant to Section 17273.

(c) The date specified in subdivision (b) of Section 17280.1.

SEC. 7. Section 17277 of the Government Code is amended to read:

17277. If it appears to the Controller that, on the maturity date on the face of any registered reimbursement warrant, there will be insufficient unapplied money in the General Fund available for its payment he or she may issue a refunding warrant, with the written approval of the Treasurer.

CHAPTER 767

An act to add Section 44261.2 to the Education Code, relating to teacher credentialing.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 44261.2 is added to the Education Code, to read:

44261.2. (a) The Legislature finds and declares the following:

(1) The role of parents and guardians in the education of pupils and the development of children and youth is critically important.

(2) Active partnerships among parents, guardians, and professional educators are essential features of effective education.

(3) Recent and anticipated changes in the conditions of childhood and adolescence, including, but not limited to, the changing family structure and ethnic and cultural diversity, make it more critical than before that partnerships among parents, guardians, and professional educators be effective.

It is the intent of the Legislature that prospective teachers and certificated educators acquire needed perspectives to serve as active partners with parents and guardians in the education of pupils.

(b) The commission shall adopt standards and requirements pursuant to paragraphs (3) and (4) of subdivision (b) of Section 44259, Section 44265, Sections 44266 to 44270.1, inclusive, and Section 44372 that emphasize the preparation of prospective teachers and other certificated educators to serve as active partners with parents and guardians in the education of pupils. The standards shall address, through appropriate instruction and field experiences, the roles of parents and guardians in the educational process, strategies for involving and working with parents and guardians, and the changing conditions of childhood and adolescence, including, but not limited to, the changing family structure and ethnic and cultural diversity.

(c) An institution meets the standards set forth in subdivision (b) with the incorporation of appropriate content within existing professional preparation courses.

(d) The implementation of subdivision (b) as it applies to paragraphs (3) and (4) of Section 44259 shall occur in conjunction with the review of requirements for earning and renewing multiple and single subject teaching credentials, as required by subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 44259.2.

(e) The standards and requirements developed pursuant to subdivision (b) and the conditions described in subdivision (d) of this section shall not apply to any person holding a valid credential on December 31, 1993.

(f) The commission shall not, by regulation, revoke or restrict in any way a credential that was valid prior to the effective date of this section unless the commission issues the holder of the credential a valid substitute credential. The authorization of the substitute credential shall not be more restrictive than that of the former credential. The definition of the term "authorization," in subdivision (d) of Section 44203 of Article 1 of Chapter 2 of Part 25 of the Education Code, applies to this subdivision.

CHAPTER 768

An act to amend Sections 664.6, 1141.18, 1282, and 1286.2 of, and to add Section 1141.19.5 to, the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to arbitration.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 664.6 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

664.6. If parties to pending litigation stipulate, in a writing signed by the parties outside the presence of the court or orally on the record before the court, for settlement of the case, or part thereof, the court, upon motion, may enter judgment pursuant to the terms of the settlement. If requested by the parties, the court may retain jurisdiction over the parties to enforce the settlement until performance in full of the terms of the settlement.

SEC. 2. Section 1141.18 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1141.18. (a) Arbitrators shall be retired judges or members of the State Bar, and shall sit individually. A judge may also serve as an arbitrator without compensation. People who are not attorneys may serve as arbitrators upon the stipulation of all parties.

(b) The Judicial Council rules shall provide for the compensation, if any, of arbitrators, except that no compensation shall be paid prior to the filing of the award by the arbitrator, or prior to the settlement of the case by the parties. Compensation for arbitrators shall, unless waived in whole or in part, be one hundred fifty dollars ($150) per case, or one hundred fifty dollars ($150) per day, whichever is greater, except that the board of supervisors of a county or a city and county may set a higher level of compensation for that county or city and county.

(c) The board of governors of the State Bar shall provide by rule for the method of selection of arbitrators after consulting with administrative committees established pursuant to Rule 1603 of the Judicial Arbitration Rules for Civil Cases and with county bar associations in counties where there are no administrative committees. These rules shall provide for specialized panels and shall become operative upon approval of the Judicial Council.

(d) Any party may request the disqualification of the arbitrator selected for his or her case on the grounds and by the procedures specified in Section 170.1 or 170.6. A request for disqualification of an arbitrator on grounds specified in Section 170.6 shall be made within five days of the naming of the arbitrator. An arbitrator shall disqualify himself or herself, upon demand of any party to the arbitration made before the conclusion of the arbitration proceedings on any of the grounds specified in Section 170.1.

SEC. 3. Section 1141.19.5 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

1141.19.5. In any arbitration proceeding under this chapter, no party may require the production of evidence specified in subdivision (a) of Section 3295 of the Civil Code at the arbitration, unless the court enters an order permitting pretrial discovery of that evidence pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 3295 of the Civil Code.

SEC. 4. Section 1282 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1282. Unless the arbitration agreement otherwise provides, or unless the parties to the arbitration otherwise provide by an agreement which is not contrary to the arbitration agreement as made or as modified by all of the parties thereto:

(a) The arbitration shall be by a single neutral arbitrator.

(b) If there is more than one arbitrator, the powers and duties of the arbitrators, other than the powers and duties of a neutral arbitrator, may be exercised by a majority of them if reasonable notice of all proceedings has been given to all arbitrators.

(c) If there is more than one neutral arbitrator:

(1) The powers and duties of a neutral arbitrator may be exercised by a majority of the neutral arbitrators.

(2) By unanimous agreement of the neutral arbitrators, such powers and duties may be delegated to one of their number but the power to make or correct the award may not be so delegated.

(d) If there is no neutral arbitrator, the powers and duties of a neutral arbitrator may be exercised by a majority of the arbitrators.

(e) An arbitrator shall disqualify himself or herself, upon demand of any party to the arbitration agreement made before the conclusion of the arbitration proceedings, on any of the grounds specified in Section 170.1 for disqualification of a judge. However, this subdivision does not apply to arbitration proceedings conducted under a collective agreement between employers and employees or between their respective representatives.

SEC. 5. Section 1286.2 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1286.2. Subject to Section 1286.4, the court shall vacate the award if the court determines any of the following:

(a) The award was procured by corruption, fraud or other undue means.

(b) There was corruption in any of the arbitrators.

(c) The rights of the party were substantially prejudiced by misconduct of a neutral arbitrator.

(d) The arbitrators exceeded their powers and the award cannot be corrected without affecting the merits of the decision upon the controversy submitted.

(e) The rights of the party were substantially prejudiced by the refusal of the arbitrators to postpone the hearing upon sufficient cause being shown therefor or by the refusal of the arbitrators to hear evidence material to the controversy or by other conduct of the arbitrators contrary to the provisions of this title.

(f) An arbitrator making the award was subject to disqualification upon grounds specified in subdivision (e) of Section 1282, but failed upon receipt of timely demand to disqualify himself or herself as required by those provisions. However, this subdivision does not apply to arbitration proceedings conducted under a collective agreement between employers and employees or between their respective representatives.

CHAPTER 769

An act to amend Sections 82018, 82035, 84200.5, 84202.3, and 89503 of the Government Code, relating to the Political Reform Act of 1974.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 82018 of the Government Code is amended to read:

82018. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (b), (c), and (d), "cumulative amount" means the amount of contributions received or expenditures made in the calendar year.

(b) For a filer required to file a campaign statement or independent expenditure report in one year in connection with an election to be held in another year, the period over which the cumulative amount is calculated shall end on the closing date of the first semiannual statement filed after the election.

(c) For a filer required to file a campaign statement in connection with the qualification of a measure which extends into two calendar years, the period over which the cumulative amount is calculated shall end on December 31 of the second calendar year.

(d) For a person filing a campaign statement with a period modified by the provisions of this section, the next period over which the cumulative amount is calculated shall begin on the day after the closing date of the statement.

SEC. 2. Section 82035 of the Government Code is amended to read:

82035. "Jurisdiction" means the state with respect to a state agency and, with respect to a local government agency, the region, county, city, district or other geographical area in which it has jurisdiction. Real property shall be deemed to be "within the jurisdiction" with respect to a local government agency if the property or any part of it is located within or not more than two miles outside the boundaries of the jurisdiction or within two miles of any land owned or used by the local government agency.

SEC. 3. Section 84200.5 of the Government Code is amended to read:

84200.5. In addition to the campaign statements required by Section 84200, elected officers, candidates, and committees shall file preelection statements as follows:

(a) During an even-numbered year, all candidates for elective state office being voted upon on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June or November, their controlled committees, and committees primarily formed to support or oppose an elected state officer or a state candidate being voted upon on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June or November and all elected state officers who, during the reporting periods covered by Section 84200.7, contribute to any committee required to report receipts, expenditures, or contributions pursuant to this title, or make an independent expenditure, shall file the preelection statements specified in Section 84200.7. However, a candidate who is not being voted upon in the November election, his or her controlled committee, and any committee primarily formed to support or oppose that candidate is not required to file statements in connection with the November election pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 84200.7, unless, during the reporting periods covered by Section 84200.7, the candidate, his or her controlled committee, or any committee primarily formed to support or oppose that candidate contributes to any committee required to report receipts, expenditures, or contributions pursuant to this title or makes independent expenditures.

(b) During an even-numbered year, all candidates not specified in subdivision (a) who are being voted upon on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June or November, their controlled committees, and committees primarily formed to support or oppose those candidates or a measure being voted upon on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June or November of an even-numbered year shall file the preelection statements specified in subdivision (a) of Section 84200.7 in the case of a June election, or subdivision (b) of Section 84200.7 in the case of a November election.

(c) All candidates being voted upon on a date other than the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June or November of an even-numbered year, their controlled committees, and committees primarily formed to support or oppose a candidate or a measure being voted upon on a date other than the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June or November of an even-numbered year shall file the preelection statements specified in Section 84200.8.

(d) During an even-numbered year, state and county general purpose committees formed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 82013 shall file the statements specified in Section 84200.7 if they make contributions or independent expenditures totaling five hundred dollars ($500) or more during the period covered by the preelection statement. State and county general purpose committees formed pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) of Section 82013 are not required to file the statements specified in Section 84200.7.

(e) City general purpose committees shall file statements as follows:

(1) City general purpose committees in a city which has an election on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June or November of an even-numbered year shall file the statements specified in subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 84200.7 for the six-month period in which the city election is held, if they make contributions or independent expenditures totaling five hundred dollars ($500) or more during the period covered by the preelection statement.

(2) City general purpose committees in a city which has an election on a date other than the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June or November of an even-numbered year shall file the preelection statements specified in Section 84200.8 if they make contributions or independent expenditures totaling five hundred dollars ($500) or more during the period covered by the preelection statement.

SEC. 4. Section 84202.3 of the Government Code is amended to read:

84202.3. (a) In addition to the campaign statements required by Section 84200, committees pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 82013 that are primarily formed to support or oppose the qualification, passage, or defeat of a measure and proponents of a state ballot measure who control a committee formed or existing primarily to support the qualification, passage, or defeat of a state ballot measure, shall file campaign statements on the following dates:

(1) No later than April 30 for the period January 1 through March 31.

(2) No later than October 31 for the period July 1 through September 30.

(b) This section shall not apply to a committee during any semiannual period in which the committee is required to file preelection statements pursuant to subdivision (a), (b), or (c) of Section 84200.5.

(c) This section shall not apply to a committee following the election at which the measure is voted upon unless the committee makes contributions or expenditures to support or oppose the qualification or passage of another ballot measure.

SEC. 5. Section 89503 of the Government Code is amended to read:

89503. (a) No member of a state board or commission, and no designated employee of a state agency, shall accept an honorarium from any source, if the member or employee would be required to report the receipt of income or gifts from that source on his or her statement of economic interests. This section shall not apply to any part-time member of the governing board of any public institution of higher education, unless the member is also an elected official.

(b) Subdivisions (b), (c), (d), and (e) of Section 89502 shall apply to this section.

(c) Every state agency shall amend its conflict of interest code in accordance with this section no later than December 31, 1991.

SEC. 6. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 7. The Legislature finds and declares that the provisions of this act further the purposes of the Political Reform Act of 1974 within the meaning of subdivision (a) of Section 81012 of the Government Code.

CHAPTER 770

An act to add Section 502.8 to the Penal Code, and to add Section 2892.3 to the Public Utilities Code, relating to cellular telephones.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 502.8 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

502.8. (a) Any person who uses a telecommunications device intending to avoid the payment of any lawful charge for service to the device is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(b) Any person found guilty of violating subdivision (a), who has previously been convicted of the same offense, shall be guilty of a felony, punishable by imprisonment in state prison, a fine of up to fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), or both.

(c) Any person who possesses a telecommunications device with intent to sell or offer to sell to another, intending to avoid the payment of any lawful charge for service to the device is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by one year in a county jail or imprisonment in state prison or a fine of up to ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or both.

(d) Any person who possesses 10 or more telecommunications devices with intent to sell or offer to sell to another, intending to avoid payment of any lawful charge for service to the device, is guilty of a felony, punishable by imprisonment in state prison, a fine of up to fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), or both.

(e) Any person who manufactures 10 or more telecommunications devices and intends to sell them to others intending to avoid the payment of any lawful charge for service to the device is guilty of a felony punishable by imprisonment in state prison or a fine of up to fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), or both.

(f) For purposes of this section a telecommunications device is any type of instrument, device, machine, or equipment that is designed for or capable of transmitting or receiving wireless communications within the radio spectrum allocated to cellular radio telephony.

SEC. 2. Section 2892.3 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

2892.3. (a) The commission shall require cellular telephone service providers to report to the commission, within a year after enactment of this section, and thereafter as specified by the commission, on activities associated with customer fraud.

(b) Each report shall include a description of the types of fraud occurring, the amount of revenues that have been uncollectible because of fraud, and the actions undertaken by the service provider to combat fraud.

(c) The commission shall require cellular telephone service providers to provide their subscribers with a notice, to be reviewed by the commission, warning subscribers about problems associated with fraud, and informing them about ways to protect against fraud.

SEC. 3. (a) The Legislature finds and declares both of the following:

(1) Monitoring of the cellular telephone industry and the effect of cellular fraud provides valuable information for the commission to determine appropriate regulatory policy and protect the public interest.

(2) Cellular companies contend that some of the information the commission may request in order to monitor the fraud issue would be proprietary and confidential.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature that the Public Utilities Commission should give proper consideration to the claims of confidentiality.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 771

An act to amend Section 20017.79 of the Government Code, relating to the Public Employees' Retirement System, and making an appropriation therefor.

(b) In addition, "state safety member" shall also include officers and employees of the Department of Corrections, the Department of the Youth Authority, or the Prison Industry Authority in any classification of vocational instructor, industrial supervisor, industrial superintendent, assistant industrial superintendent, or production manager II (prison industries) that is established on or after January 1, 1984, if the Department of Personnel Administration and the State Personnel Board approve the inclusion of the classification.

(d) Any of these officers or employees in employment on the operative date of an amendment to this section and who becomes a state safety member as a result of that amendment, may elect by a writing filed with the board prior to 90 days after notification by the board, to be restored to his or her previous status as a state industrial member. Upon the filing of the election the member shall cease to be a state safety member, and his or her rights and obligations shall be restored prospectively and retroactively to the operative date of that amendment.

CHAPTER 772

An act to amend Section 12157 of the Fish and Game Code, and to add Section 21856 to the Food and Agricultural Code, relating to forfeitures, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12157 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

12157. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), the judge before whom any person is tried for a violation of any provision of this code, or regulation adopted pursuant thereto, may, in his or her discretion, upon the conviction of the person tried, order the forfeiture of any device or apparatus that is designed to be, or is capable of being, used to take birds, mammals, fish, reptiles, or amphibia and which was used in committing the offense charged.

(b) The judge shall, if the offense is punishable under Section 12008 of this code or subdivision (c) of Section 597 of the Penal Code, order the forfeiture of any device or apparatus that is used in committing the offense, including, but not limited to, any vehicle which is used or intended for use in delivering, importing, or exporting any unlawfully taken, imported, or purchased species.

(c) The judge may, for conviction of a violation of Section 2000 relating to deer, elk, antelope, feral pigs, European wild boars, black bears, and brown or cinnamon bears, order forfeiture of any device or apparatus that is used in committing the offense, including, but not limited to, any vehicle used or intended for use in committing any of those offenses.

In considering an order of forfeiture under this subdivision, the court shall take into consideration the nature, circumstances, extent, and gravity of the prohibited act committed, the degree of culpability of the violator, the property proposed for forfeiture, and other criminal or civil penalties imposed on the violator under other provisions of law for that offense. The court shall impose lesser forfeiture penalties under this subdivision for those acts that have little significant effect upon natural resources or the property of another and greater forfeiture penalties for those acts that may cause serious injury to natural resources or the property of another, as determined by the court.

It is the intent of the Legislature that forfeiture not be ordered pursuant to this subdivision for minor or inadvertent violations of Section 2000, as determined by the court.

(d) Any device or apparatus ordered forfeited shall be sold, used, or destroyed by the department.

(e) The proceeds from all sales under this section, after payment of any valid liens on the forfeited property, shall be paid into the Fish and Game Preservation Fund. A lien in which the lienholder is a conspirator is not a valid lien for purposes of this subdivision.

(f) The provisions in this section authorizing or requiring a judge to order the forfeiture of a device or apparatus are also applicable to the judge, referee, or traffic hearing officer in a juvenile court action brought under Section 258 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(g) For purposes of this section, a plea of nolo contendere or no contest, or forfeiture of bail, constitutes a conviction.

(h) Neither the disposition of the criminal action other than by conviction nor the discretionary refusal of the judge to order forfeiture upon conviction impairs the right of the department to commence proceedings to order the forfeiture of fish nets or traps pursuant to Section 8630.

SEC. 2. Section 21856 is added to the Food and Agricultural Code, to read:

21856. (a) The judge before whom any person is tried for the wrongful taking, possessing, killing, or slaughter of cattle without the consent of the owner or the person lawfully in possession of those cattle may, upon the conviction of the person tried, order the forfeiture of any device or apparatus that is designed to be, or is capable of being, used to commit the offense charged, and which was used in committing the offense charged. "Device or apparatus" includes, but is not limited to, any vehicle that is used or intended for use in taking, possessing, harboring, or transporting the cattle.

(b) Any device or apparatus ordered forfeited shall be sold, used, or destroyed by the department.

(c) The provisions in this section authorizing a judge to order the forfeiture of a device or apparatus are also applicable to the judge, referee, or traffic hearing officer in a juvenile court action brought under Section 258 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(d) For purposes of this section, a plea of nolo contendere or no contest, or forfeiture of bail, constitutes a conviction.

(e) Neither the disposition of the criminal action other than by conviction nor the discretionary refusal of the judge to order forfeiture upon conviction impairs the right of the department to commence proceedings to order the forfeiture of property pursuant to any other provision of law.

CHAPTER 773

An act to add Section 13208 to the Water Code, relating to regional water quality control boards.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13208 is added to the Water Code, to read:

13208. (a) No regional board executive officer may make, participate in making, or use his or her official position to influence, any decision of the regional board, or made on behalf of the regional board, affecting any person or entity subject to waste discharge requirements under this division if the regional board executive officer has received, during the previous two years, 10 percent or more of his or her income from that person or entity.

(b) "Income," for purposes of this section, has the same meaning as in Section 82030 of the Government Code.

CHAPTER 774

An act to repeal Sections 62000.6 and 62000.12 of the Education Code, relating to education.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 62000.6 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 62000.12 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 775

An act to amend Section 13401 of the Water Code, relating to water, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13401 of the Water Code is amended to read:

13401. (a) The State Water Quality Control Fund is continued in existence. The following moneys in the fund are appropriated, without regard to fiscal years, for expenditure by the state board in making loans to public agencies in accordance with this chapter:

(1) The balance of the original moneys deposited in the fund.

(2) Any money repaid to the fund.

(3) Any remaining balance of the money in the fund deposited therein after the specific appropriations for loans to the South Tahoe Public Utility District, the North Tahoe Public Utility District, the Tahoe City Public Utility District, the Truckee Sanitary District, and to any other governmental entity in the areas served by such districts have been made.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), upon the order of the state board, the money in the State Water Quality Control Fund shall be transferred to the State Water Pollution Control Revolving Fund.

CHAPTER 776

An act to add Sections 66015.1 and 66015.5 to, and to add and repeal Section 66015.7 of, the Education Code, relating to postsecondary education.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 66015.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

66015.1. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) The 1986 Report on Lower Division Education at the University of California stated that "lower division (education) is something of a neglected child..." and suggested steps for improving the quality of teaching and academic support services.

(b) In 1991, the "Universitywide Task Force on Faculty Rewards Report" resulted in the adoption of policies to provide a greater emphasis on teaching. Policy revisions included broadening the range of evidence used in evaluation of teaching, peer review of teaching, and promotion policies that recognize great distinction in teaching as well as scholarship.

(c) In 1992, the University of California issued a number of "Presidential Initiatives to Protect and Improve Undergraduate Education."

(d) The Legislature, in the Supplemental Report of the 1992 Budget Act, declared its intent that University of California faculty alter the distribution of their workload by:

(1) Increasing the number of courses and sections offered that are required for normal progress toward a baccalaureate degree.

(2) Increasing the number of freshman and sophomore seminars.

(3) Increasing opportunities for undergraduate research.

(4) Reducing the size of classes when desirable.

These measures were expected to result in an increase in the average teaching load of one additional course every one to three years.

(e) The report entitled "Initiatives to Improve Undergraduate Education," prepared by the University of California in response to the 1992 Budget Act, is a commendable effort.

SEC. 2. Section 66015.5 is added to the Education Code, to read:

66015.5. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature that quality classroom instruction be continually improved and that courses required for normal progress to a baccalaureate degree be provided in sufficient numbers.

(b) It is the further intent of the Legislature that where necessary the average teaching responsibilities of tenured and tenure track faculty be sufficiently increased to meet the goals described in this section.

SEC. 3. Section 66015.7 is added to the Education Code, to read:

66015.7. (a) The Legislative Analyst shall review and analyze the March 1993 University of California report entitled "Initiatives to Improve Undergraduate Education" in the analysis of the 1994–95 Budget Bill and, notwithstanding Section 7550.5 of the Government Code, the Legislative Analyst shall annually thereafter report to the Legislature in its annual analysis of the Budget Bill on tenured and tenure track faculty teaching responsibilities. That annual report shall include, but not be limited to, a description of teaching loads and student credit hours per full-time equivalent tenured and tenure track faculty member, undergraduate versus graduate course loads, and changes in the number of courses or course sections for normal progress to a baccalaureate degree.

(b) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

CHAPTER 777

An act to amend Section 5193 of the Public Utilities Code, relating to carriers.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5193 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

5193. By the specific procedures approved by the commission in its Decision 92-05-028, any household goods carrier may charge or collect a greater rate than the maximum rate established by the commission under this chapter.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 778

An act to repeal and add Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 5085) of Title 7 of Part 3 of the Penal Code, relating to the Robert Presley Institute of Corrections Research and Training.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 5085) of Title 7 of Part 3 of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 5085) is added to Title 7 of Part 3 of the Penal Code, to read:

CHAPTER 3.5. THE ROBERT PRESLEY CENTER OF CRIME AND JUSTICE STUDIES

5085. The Robert Presley Institute of Corrections Research and Training, which provides and aggregates research on youth and adult corrections education and training, is hereby renamed the Robert Presley Center of Crime and Justice Studies and shall be transferred to the University of California. It is the intent of the Legislature that the center be maintained on the Riverside campus of the University of California.

5086. It is the intent of the Legislature that the university seek funding from federal, state, and private sources for research projects carried out by the center under the university's direction. The center shall have the following research goals:

(a) To better protect the public from crime by determining the causes of, and means of preventing, violence, crime, and criminal deviance.

(b) To identify the methods and practices necessary for the most beneficial operation of law enforcement and local and state youth and adult correctional institutions.

(c) To reduce violence and recidivism rates in prisons, jails, and youth facilities.

5087. The chancellor of the Riverside campus may appoint an advisory committee to assist in establishing research priorities. The university shall consult with the Department of Corrections, the Department of the Youth Authority, local law enforcement, probation, parole, and correctional agencies, and persons of experience or education in other higher education institutions in the field of corrections or related fields on the activities of the center. These projects shall be related to the center's goals as specified in Section 5086 and may also include, but not be limited to, applied and theoretical research in the following areas:

(a) Methods of ensuring secure, cost-effective, safe, and gang-free incarceration in California's correctional institutions, including approaches to ameliorate overcrowding in those institutions.

(b) New approaches to reduce inmate and ward recidivism and consequent victimization of California citizens.

(c) Correctional facility management, planning, design, and construction.

(d) New approaches to rehabilitate inmates and wards during and after incarceration and to integrate offenders into society after incarceration.

(e) New approaches to inmate and ward diagnosis, classification, and treatment.

(f) At-risk youth and street gang activity.

(g) Law enforcement.

5088. The university shall negotiate and approve terms, services, and costs of contracts and research projects for purposes of this chapter.

SEC. 3. For purposes of Section 2 of this act, the following shall apply:

(a) The University of California shall be successor in interest to the Robert Presley Institute of Corrections Research and Training for all items acquired by the institute at the time of the transfer, including, but not limited to: (1) office furniture, (2) office equipment, (3) research materials, and (4) vehicles. In addition, all funding remaining from the 1993–94 Budget Act appropriation for the support of the institute also shall be transferred to the University of California for purposes of this act.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature that continued funding for the Robert Presley Center of Crime and Justice Studies be provided to the University of California through the annual Budget Act.

(c) Any obligation or liability incurred by the Robert Presley Institute of Corrections Research and Training and identified by the Department of Finance prior to the effective date of this act shall not constitute a liability of the University of California.

SEC. 4. No provision of Section 2 or 3 of this act shall apply to the University of California except to the extent that the Regents of the University of California, by appropriate resolution, make that provision applicable.

CHAPTER 779

An act to amend Section 89753 of, and to add Sections 89702.1, 89750.5, 89760, 89761, and 89912 to, the Education Code, and to amend Section 13340 of the Government Code, relating to the California State University and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 89702.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

89702.1. Any revenue from fees for health services and health facilities maintenance collected by the trustees in the 1993–94 and 1994–95 fiscal years may be deposited in the State University Facilities Revenue Fund, and is hereby appropriated during the 1993–94 and 1994–95 fiscal years to the trustees for operation of student health centers.

The Legislature declares that the authority granted to the trustees by this section is provided without prejudice to the authority of the trustees to impose a mandatory fee for health services and health facilities maintenance.

SEC. 2. Section 89750.5 is added to the Education Code, to read:

89750.5. (a) Notwithstanding Sections 948 and 965.2 of the Government Code or any other provision of law, the trustees may settle, adjust, or compromise any pending action, or final judgment, without the need for a recommendation, certification, or approval from any other state officer or entity. The Controller shall draw a warrant for the payment of any settlement, adjustment, or compromise, or final judgment against the trustees if the trustees certify that a sufficient appropriation for the payment of the settlement, adjustment, or compromise, or final judgment exists.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (c) of Section 905.2 of the Government Code or any other provision of law, the trustees may pay any claim for money or damages on express contract, or for an injury for which the trustees or their officers or employees are liable without approval of the State Board of Control if the trustees determine that payment of the claim is in the best interests of the California State University and that funds are available to pay the claim. The authority of the trustees conferred by this subdivision does not alter any other requirements governing claims in the Tort Claims Act (Division 3.6 (commencing with Section 810) of Title 1 of the Government Code), except to grant the trustees authority to pay these claims.

(c) Notwithstanding Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 13940) of Part 4 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, the trustees may discharge from accountability the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000), or less, owing to the California State University if the trustees determine that the money is uncollectible or the amount does not justify the cost of collection. A discharge of accountability by the trustees does not release any person from the payment of any money due the California State University.

SEC. 3. Section 89753 of the Education Code is amended to read:

89753. All appropriations for the support of the California State University and the trustees shall be subject to Section 13320 of the Government Code and applicable Budget Act restrictions, with the following exceptions:

(a) The trustees may, with regard to funds appropriated for the support of the California State University, approve any transfer of funds between general fund appropriations, unless restricted by the Budget Act or any other act, and within and between any category designated in any schedule set forth for the appropriation. In addition, the trustees may authorize the augmentation of the amount available for a category designated in any schedule set forth for the appropriation by transfer from any of the other designated categories, including additional reimbursements and amounts receivable within the same schedule, and shall furnish the Joint Legislative Budget Committee and appropriate legislative fiscal committees a report of the authorizations given during the preceding quarter.

(b) The trustees may approve travel, both within and outside the state, and the payment of allowances and expenses related to travel, moving, and the relocation of employees in accordance with the allowances established by the trustees.

(c) The trustees may, within funds appropriated for the support of the California State University, establish new positions and make changes in existing positions and the position payroll roster. Any significant changes, as determined by the trustees, shall be reported to the Department of Finance, the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, and appropriate legislative fiscal committees on an annual basis. Significant changes include, but are not limited to, the following:

(1) Permanent conversion of teaching faculty classifications to nonfaculty classifications.

(2) Permanent conversion or reclassification into, out of, or between management classes.

(3) Permanent reclassification of positions into, out of, or between executive classes.

SEC. 4. Section 89760 is added to the Education Code, to read:

89760. (a) The trustees may transfer money from one special fund to another special fund or to the general fund in order to meet the commitments of the California State University if the transferred moneys are returned to the special fund of origin in time to fulfill the purposes of the special fund. Interest shall be paid on all money transferred to another special fund or to the general fund at a rate determined by the trustees to be the current earning rate of the fund from which the money was transferred.

(b) "Special fund," as used in this section, means enterprise and trust funds of the California State University and does not include any fund subject to the State University Revenue Bond Act of 1947 (Article 2 (commencing with Section 90010) of Chapter 8 of Part 55).

SEC. 5. Section 89761 is added to the Education Code, to read:

89761. (a) The California State University shall adhere to uniform accounting standards in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) for institutions of higher education.

(b) In the 1993–94 fiscal year, the California State University on five campuses representing the diversity of the system in both size of student body and campus budget shall have an independent audit of all funds performed and an independent audit report prepared.

(c) The independent audit report prepared pursuant to this section and audits performed pursuant to Section 89045 shall be submitted to the Joint Legislative Audit Committee, the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, the Department of Finance, the appropriate legislative fiscal and policy committees, the trustees, and each campus of the California State University. In addition, a copy of the audit reports shall be available for public inspection in the library of each campus of the university. The California State University shall report to the Legislature and the Governor, following the completion of the independent audit pursuant to this section, on the results of the audit and on the need to fund future audits through the Budget Act on an annual basis systemwide.

(d) The costs associated with the annual independent audit and audits performed pursuant to Section 89045 shall be funded from existing resources.

SEC. 6. Section 89912 is added to the Education Code, to read:

89912. All bonds, notes, borrowings, or other evidences of indebtedness of an auxiliary organization and interest thereon or income therefrom are exempt from all taxation in the state other than estate and generation skipping transfer taxes.

SEC. 7. Section 13340 of the Government Code is amended to read:

13340. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), on and after July 1, 1993, no moneys in any fund which, by any statute other than a Budget Act, is continuously appropriated without regard to fiscal years, may be encumbered unless the Legislature, by statute, specifies that the moneys in the fund are appropriated for encumbrance.

(b) Subdivision (a) does not apply to any of the following:

(1) The scheduled disbursement of any local sales and use tax proceeds to an entity of local government pursuant to Part 1.5 (commencing with Section 7200) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(2) The scheduled disbursement of any transactions and use tax proceeds to an entity of local government pursuant to Part 1.6 (commencing with Section 7251) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(3) The scheduled disbursement of any funds by a state or local agency or department which issues bonds and administers related programs for which funds are continuously appropriated as of June 30, 1993.

(4) Moneys of the California State University that are in proprietary or fiduciary funds and that are continuously appropriated without regard to fiscal years.

CHAPTER 780

An act to amend Sections 13960, 13960.5, 13961, 13961.1, 13961.2, 13962, 13963, 13963.1, 13964, 13965, and 13965.2 of, to add Section 13965.3 to, and to repeal Section 13965.1 of, the Government Code, relating to victims of crime, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13960 of the Government Code is amended to read:

13960. As used in this article:

(a) (1) "Victim" means a resident of the State of California, a member of the military stationed in California, or a family member living with a member of the military stationed in California who sustains injury or death as a direct result of a crime.

(2) "Derivative victim" means a resident of California who is one of the following:

(A) At the time of the crime was the parent, sibling, spouse, or child a victim.

(B) At the time of the crime was living in the household of the victim or who had previously lived in the household of the victim for a period of not less than two year in a relationship substantially similar to a relationship listed in subparagraph (A).

(C) Is another family member of the victim, including the victim's fiance, and witnessed the crime.

(b) "Injury" includes physical or emotional injury, or both. However, this article does not apply to emotional injury unless that injury is incurred by a victim who also sustains physical injury or threat of physical injury. For purposes of this article, a victim of a crime committed in violation of Section 261, 270, 270a, 270c, 271, 272, 273a, 273b, 273d, 285, 286, 288, 288.1, 288a, or 289 of the Penal Code, who sustains emotional injury is presumed to have sustained physical injury.

(c) "Crime" means a crime or public offense that would constitute a misdemeanor or a felony if committed in California by a competent adult which results in injury to a resident of this state, including a crime or public offense, wherever it may take place, when the resident is temporarily absent from the state. No act involving the operation of a motor vehicle, aircraft, or water vehicle which results in injury or death constitutes a crime for the purposes of this article, except that a crime shall include any of the following:

(1) Injury or death intentionally inflicted through the use of a motor vehicle, aircraft, or water vehicle.

(2) Injury or death caused by a driver in violation of Section 20001 of the Vehicle Code.

(3) Injury or death caused by a person who is under the influence of any alcoholic beverage or drug.

(4) Injury or death caused by a driver of a motor vehicle in the immediate act of fleeing the scene of a crime in which he or she knowingly and willingly participated.

For the purpose of the limitations imposed by this article, a crime shall mean one act or series of related acts arising from the same course of conduct with the same perpetrator or perpetrators.

(d) "Pecuniary loss" means the following expenses for which the victim or derivative victim has not been and will not be reimbursed from any other source:

(1) The amount of medical or medical-related expense incurred by the victim, including in-patient psychological or psychiatric expenses, and including, but not limited to, eyeglasses, hearing aids, dentures, or any prosthetic device taken, lost, or destroyed during the commission of the crime, or the use of which became necessary as a direct result of the crime.

(2) The amount of out-patient mental health counseling related expenses which became necessary as a direct result of the crime. These counseling services may be provided by a person licensed as a clinical social worker or a person licensed as a marriage, family, and child counselor practicing within the scope of licensure, or within the scope of his or her respective practice acts.

(4) Pecuniary loss also includes nonmedical remedial care and treatment rendered in accordance with a religious method of healing recognized by state law.

(5) The amount of group or family psychiatric, psychological, or mental health counseling expenses provided for the successful treatment or recovery of the victim to family members of the victim, whether or not the relationships existed at the time of the crime.

(e) "Board" means the State Board of Control.

(f) "Victim centers" means those centers as specified in Section 13835.2 of the Penal Code.

(g) "Peer counselor" means a provider of mental health counseling services who has completed a specialized course in rape crisis counseling skills development, participates in continuing education in rape crisis counseling skills development, and provides rape crisis counseling in consultation with a mental health practitioner licensed within the State of California.

SEC. 2. Section 13960.5 of the Government Code is amended to read:

13960.5. (a) Notwithstanding Section 13960, "victim" shall also include nonresidents of this state who suffer injury or death as a direct result of crimes occurring within this state.

(b) This section shall be operative only during those time periods during which the board determines that federal funds are available to the state for the compensation of victims of crime.

SEC. 3. Section 13961 of the Government Code is amended to read:

13961. (a) A victim or derivative victim may file an application for assistance with the board.

(b) The board shall supply and make available an application form for this purpose. The form shall be in one part, in laymen's terms, and shall be accompanied by information including, but not limited to, the following:

(1) The eligibility of applicants, the types of claims covered, and the maximum amount payable for these claims.

(2) Information explaining the procedure to be used to evaluate an applicant's claims.

(3) Other information pertinent to the applicant as deemed necessary by the board.

(4) Information about the existence and location of local victim centers.

(c) The period prescribed for the filing of an application for assistance shall be one year after the date of the crime or one year after the victim attains the age of 18 years, whichever is later. The board may for good cause grant an extension of this time period not to exceed three years after the date of the crime or three years after the victim attains the age of 18 years.

(d) The application for assistance shall be verified under penalty of perjury by the victim or derivative victim. If the victim or derivative victim is a minor or is incompetent, the application shall be verified under penalty of perjury on information and belief by the parent with legal custody or legal guardian of the victim or derivative victim for whom the application is made.

The application shall contain the following:

(1) A description of the date, nature, and circumstances of the crime or public offense.

(2) A complete financial statement including but not limited to the cost of medical care or burial expense and the loss of wages or support the victim or derivative victim has incurred or will incur and the extent to which the victim has been or will be indemnified for these expenses from any source.

(3) When appropriate, a statement indicating the extent of any disability resulting from the injury incurred.

(4) An authorization permitting the board or a local victim center, or both, to verify the contents of the application.

(5) Any other information as the board may require.

SEC. 4. Section 13961.1 of the Government Code is amended to read:

13961.1. (a) An emergency award shall be available for a victim or derivative victim if either of the following occur as a result of the crime:

(1) The victim or derivative victim incurs loss of income or support.

(2) The victim requires emergency medical treatment.

(b) Emergency award application forms shall be provided by the board upon request of the applicant. The board shall make available the application forms through all means at its disposal.

(c) The board may grant an emergency award based solely on the application of the victim or derivative victim. Disbursements of funds for emergency awards shall be made within 30 business days of application. The board may refuse to grant an emergency award where it has reason to believe that the applicant will not qualify for an award for assistance under this article. The board may delegate authority to designated staff persons, who will use guidelines established by the board, to grant emergency awards. By mutual agreement between the staff of the board and the applicant or the applicant's representative, the staff of the board or the applicant's representative may take additional 10-day periods to verify the emergency award claim and make payment.

(d) An applicant for an emergency award is not entitled to a hearing before the board to contest a denial of an emergency award.

However, the applicant may submit an application for a regular award and is entitled to a hearing pursuant to Section 13963 if that application is recommended for denial.

(e) The application for an emergency award shall notify the applicant that he or she must complete the regular application within one year of the date of the crime or certify that he or she does not anticipate claiming reimbursements in addition to those claimed in the application for an emergency award.

(f) If the applicant certifies that no expenses will be claimed beyond those claimed in the emergency award, the board shall subsequently verify the emergency award application upon receipt of the crime report and any other information as the board may require.

(g) If upon final disposition of the regular application or verification of the emergency award, it is found that the applicant is not eligible for assistance from the board, the applicant shall reimburse the board for the emergency award pursuant to an agreed upon repayment schedule. If upon a final disposition of the application, the board grants assistance to the applicant, the amount of the emergency award shall be deducted from the final award of compensation granted ; and, if the amount of the grant is less than the amount of the emergency award, the excess amount shall be repaid according to an agreed upon repayment schedule. Final disposition for the purposes of this section shall mean the final decision of the board with respect to the victim's application for assistance, before any appellate action is instituted. If an application for an emergency award is denied, the board shall notify the applicant in writing of the reasons for the denial.

(h) The amount of the emergency award shall be dependent upon the immediate needs of the victim, as evidenced by the victim's loss of income or support and losses incurred as a direct result of the crime before filing or reasonably anticipated during the first 90 days after the initial filing of an application. In no event shall the amount of the emergency award exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000).

(i) The emergency award application shall require only the following:

(1) The name, address, and telephone number of the victim or derivative victim on whose behalf the application is made.

(2) A brief description of the nature and circumstances of the crime, including the date and location.

(3) The date the crime was reported to a law enforcement agency and the name and address of the agency.

(4) The name, address, and telephone number of the employer or self-employing entity, the loss of income or support to date and estimate of future loss.

(5) The nature of the injury and the name, address, and telephone number of medical providers and the cost of medical care incurred to date.

(6) A statement that in the event the applicant is later found ineligible for assistance under this article or the final award is less than the emergency award, the applicant will be required to repay the excess amount.

(7) The applicant's signature and a statement that the information is supplied under penalty of perjury, violation of which is punishable by six months in the county jail.

SEC. 5. Section 13961.2 of the Government Code is amended to read:

13961.2. A sum not to exceed 15 percent of the amount appropriated annually to pay claims pursuant to this article may be withdrawn from the Restitution Fund, to be used as a revolving fund by the board for the payment of emergency awards made pursuant to Section 13961.1.

SEC. 6. Section 13962 of the Government Code is amended to read:

13962. (a) The staff of the board shall review all applications for assistance in order to ensure that they are complete. If an application is not complete, it shall be returned to the applicant with a brief statement of the additional information required. The applicant, within 30 days of receipt thereof, may either supply the additional information or appeal the action to the board which shall review the application to determine whether or not it is complete.

(b) The board shall approve or deny applications accepted in accordance with subdivision (a) within an average of 90 calendar days. Each individual claim shall be approved or denied within 180 calendar days. These specified time periods shall operate from the date the claim is accepted by the board or local contract agency, to the date of approval or denial of the claim. Any verification of the claim which is deemed necessary shall be performed during these specified time periods. The verification process shall include sending supplemental forms to all hospitals, physicians, law enforcement officials, and other interested parties involved, verifying the treatment of the victim or derivative victim, circumstances of the crime, amounts paid or received by or for the victim or derivative victim, and other pertinent information as may be deemed necessary by the board. Verification forms shall be provided by the board and shall be returned to the board within 10 business days. All of this information shall be provided at no cost to the applicant, the board, or local victim centers. Verification forms shall require sufficient information to clearly identify the victim or derivative victim. The board shall include on the verification forms a statement certifying that a signed authorization by the applicant is retained in the applicant's file and that this certification constitutes actual authorization for the release of information, notwithstanding any other provision of law. Each request from the board to a physician for a copy or summary of medical records shall include a copy of the signed authorization for the release of information. The board shall include on the verification forms reference to this section with respect to the prompt return of the verification forms. The board, thereupon, shall consider the application at a hearing at a time and place of its choosing. The board shall notify all interested persons not less than five days prior to the date of the hearing.

(c) The victim and the applicant, if other than the victim, shall cooperate with the staff of the board or the local victim center in the verification of the information contained in the application. Failure to cooperate shall be reported to the board, which, in its discretion, may reject the application on this ground alone.

(d) Hearings shall be held in various locations with the frequency necessary to provide for the speedy adjudication of the applications. If the applicant's presence is required at the hearing, the board shall consider convenience to the applicant in scheduling the locations. If necessary, the board shall delegate the hearing of applications to hearing examiners.

(e) The board may contract with local victim centers to provide verification of claims processed by the centers pursuant to conditions stated in subdivision (b).

SEC. 7. Section 13963 of the Government Code is amended to read:

13963. (a) The board shall grant an applicant for benefits a hearing to contest a staff recommendation to deny an application for benefits or to deny an application to submit a late claim.

(b) At the hearing, the board shall:

(1) Instruct its staff, prior to the start of the proceedings, to brief those claimants present on the rules, regulations, and any other procedures and guidelines used by the board at these hearings.

(2) Review the application for assistance and the report prepared thereon and any other evidence obtained as a result of the verification.

(3) Receive any other evidence as the board finds necessary or desirable properly to evaluate the application.

(c) If the applicant or the applicant's representative chooses not to appear at the hearing, the board may act solely upon the application for assistance, the staff's report, and any other evidence as appears in the record.

(d) The hearing shall be informal and need not be conducted according to the technical rules relating to evidence and witnesses. The board may rely on any relevant evidence if it is the sort of evidence on which responsible persons are accustomed to rely in the conduct of serious affairs, regardless of the existence of any common law or statutory rule that might make improper the admission of the evidence over objection in a civil action.

SEC. 8. Section 13963.1 of the Government Code is amended to read:

13963.1. Notwithstanding Section 11123, the board may exclude from the hearing all persons other than board members and members of its staff, the applicant for benefits, a minor applicant's parents or guardians, the applicant's representative, any witnesses, and other persons of the applicant's choice to provide assistance to the applicant during the hearing, if the application that the board is considering is the result of either a crime against a minor or a crime of sexual assault or a crime of domestic violence.

The board may not exclude persons from a hearing to which this section applies if the applicant or applicant's representative requests that the hearing be open to the public.

SEC. 9. Section 13964 of the Government Code is amended to read:

13964. (a) After having heard the evidence relevant to the application for assistance, the board shall approve the application if a preponderance of the evidence shows that as a direct result of the crime the victim or derivative victim incurred an injury which resulted in a pecuniary loss.

(b) An application for assistance may be denied, in whole or in part, if the board finds that denial is appropriate because of the nature of the victim's or other applicant's involvement in the events leading to the crime or the involvement of the persons whose injury or death give rise to the application.

(c) No victim or other applicant shall be eligible for assistance under this article under any of the following circumstances:

(1) The board finds that the victim knowingly and willingly participated in the commission of the crime.

(2) The board finds that the victim failed to cooperate reasonably with a law enforcement agency in the apprehension and conviction of a criminal committing the crime.

(d) No application shall be denied solely because no criminal complaint has been filed, unless the complaint has not been filed for one of the reasons stated in subdivision (b) or (c). Moreover, no application shall be denied because a criminal complaint is filed, but later dismissed, if the dismissal is not for the reasons stated in subdivision (b) or (c).

(e) Once an application has been accepted by the board pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 13962, as the application pertains to medical or medical-related expenses, the claim shall continue to be processed and either awarded or denied pursuant to this article in the event of the death of the applicant.

SEC. 10. Section 13965 of the Government Code is amended to read:

13965. (a) If the application for assistance is approved, the board shall determine what type of state assistance will best aid the victim. The board may take any or all of the following actions:

(1) Reimburse the following persons for the expense of their out-patient mental health counseling when that mental health counseling is necessary as a direct result of the crime:

(A) A victim in an amount not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000).

(B) A surviving parent, sibling, child, spouse, or fiance of a victim of a crime which directly resulted in the death of the victim in an amount not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000).

(C) A derivative victim who is the custodial parent or primary caretaker of a minor victim of sexual or physical abuse whose claim is not denied or reduced pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) of Section 13964 in a total amount not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for not more than two derivative victims described in this subparagraph.

(D) A derivative victim in an amount not to exceed three thousand dollars ($3,000).

The board may authorize a direct cash payment to a provider of psychological or psychiatric treatment or mental health counseling services, including peer counseling services provided by a rape crisis center as defined by Section 13837 of the Penal Code or to the victim, equal to the pecuniary loss attributable to medical or medical-related expenses, including counseling, directly resulting from the injury. Reimbursement on the initial claim for any psychological, psychiatric, or mental health counseling services, including peer counseling services provided by a rape crisis center, shall, if the victim's application has been approved, be paid by the board within 90 days of the date of receipt of the claim for payment, with subsequent payments to be made to the provider within one month of the receipt of a claim for payment. However, the board may not authorize without good cause a direct cash payment to a licensed health care provider or rape crisis center over the objection of the victim.

When a public agency, including a court or district attorney or a police, county child protective services, or other state or local governmental agency, refers a victim of crime to a private nonprofit agency for treatment for that victim, the private nonprofit agency shall be reimbursed for those services at the level of the normal and customary fee charged by the private nonprofit agency to clients with adequate means of payment for its services, except that this reimbursement shall not exceed the maximum reimbursement rates set by the board and may be made only to the extent that the victim otherwise qualifies for services under the victims of crime program and that other reimbursement or direct subsidies are not available to serve the victim.

Payments authorized pursuant to this paragraph for peer counseling services provided by a rape counseling center shall not exceed fifteen dollars ($15) for each hour of services provided. Those services shall be limited to individual, in-person counseling on a face-to-face basis for a period not to exceed 10 weeks plus one series of facilitated support group counseling sessions.

(2) Authorize a cash payment to the victim equal to the pecuniary loss resulting from loss of wages directly resulting from the injury. Loss of wages shall not be paid by the board for more than two years following the crime. However, loss of wages may be extended for one additional year if the victim is either enrolled in a program of retraining or other rehabilitation approved by the board or has established to the satisfaction of the board that because of his or her disability arising from the crime he or she is unable to participate in any retraining or rehabilitation. If the board determines, after review of an application for assistance, including the evaluation of a qualified provider, that pecuniary loss for which payment may be made under this paragraph is expected to continue more than six months after the date of approval of the victim's application for assistance, disbursement shall commence and continue on a monthly basis for the period of time pecuniary loss is expected to continue.

(3) Authorize a cash payment to a derivative victim described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 13960 who was legally dependent on the victim at the time of the crime for the loss of support incurred by that person as a direct result of the crime.

(A) Loss of support shall not be paid by the board for income lost by an adult for a period of more than two years and shall not extend more than three years following the death of the victim.

(B) Loss of support shall not be paid by the board on behalf of a minor for a period beyond the child's attaining the age of 18 years.

(C) The total amount payable to all derivative victims pursuant to this section as the result of one crime shall not exceed forty-six thousand dollars ($46,000).

(4) Authorize cash payments to or on behalf of the victim for job retraining or similar employment-oriented rehabilitative services.

(5) Obtain an independent examination and report from any provider of psychological or psychiatric treatment or mental health counseling services, if it believes there is a reasonable basis for requesting an additional evaluation. In cases where the crime involves sexual assault, the provider shall have expertise in the needs of sexual assault victims. When a reevaluation is obtained, payments shall not be discontinued prior to completion of the reevaluation.

(6) When a victim dies as a direct result of a crime, the board may reimburse any individual who voluntarily, and without anticipation of personal gain or of receiving reimbursement from this program, pays or assumes the obligation to pay, the medical or burial expenses incurred as a direct result of the crime for the medical or burial expenses incurred in an amount not to exceed the rates or limitations established by the board.

(7) The total award to or on behalf of the victim shall not exceed twenty-three thousand dollars ($23,000), and may be increased only in accordance with this section.

(8) In the event that the victim requests that the board give priority to reimbursement of loss of wages, the board shall not pay medical expenses or mental health counseling expenses except upon the request of the victim or after determining that payment of these expenses will not decrease the funds available to the victim for payment of loss of wages.

(b) Assistance granted pursuant to this article shall not disqualify an otherwise eligible victim from participation in any other public assistance program.

(c) Cash payments made pursuant to this article may be on a one-time or periodic basis. If periodic, the board may increase, reduce, or terminate the amount of assistance according to the victim's need, subject to the maximum limits provided in this section.

(d) The board shall pay attorney's fees representing the reasonable value of legal services rendered to the applicant, in an amount equal to 10 percent of the amount of the award, or five hundred dollars ($500), whichever is less for each primary victim and each derivative victim. An attorney receiving fees from another source may waive the right to receive fees under this section. Payments under this section shall be in addition to any amount authorized or ordered under subdivision (d) of Section 13969.1.

(e) No attorney shall charge, demand, receive, or collect any amount for services rendered in connection with any proceedings under this article except as awarded under this article.

(f) The maximum cash payments authorized in subdivision (a) shall be increased to forty-six thousand dollars ($46,000) if federal funds for those increases are available, and may be further increased pursuant to subdivision (i).

(g) Notwithstanding subdivisions (a) and (f), a victim injured between January 1, 1985, and December 31, 1985, shall be entitled to receive a maximum cash payment of forty-six thousand dollars ($46,000) if federal funds for these increases are available, but only for costs in excess of limitations provided for in subdivision (a) which are attributable to medical or medical-related expenses, except for psychological or psychiatric treatment, or mental health counseling services.

(i) Reimbursement for any medical or medical-related services shall, if the victim's application has been approved, be paid by the board within an average of 90 days from receipt of the claim for payment. Payments to a medical or mental health provider under this subdivision or paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) shall not be discontinued prior to completion of any reevaluation. Whether or not a reevaluation is obtained, if the board determines that payments to a provider shall be discontinued, the board shall notify the provider of their discontinuance within 30 days of its determination.

(j) The board may establish maximum rates and service limitations for reimbursement of medical and medical-related expenses, including counseling expenses, incurred by a victim for which restitution is requested pursuant to this section. For mental health and counseling services provided to victims of crime, rates shall not exceed the statewide average. The adoption, amendment, and repeal of these maximum rates shall not be subject to the Administrative Procedure Act under Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1. An informational copy of the maximum rates shall be filed with the Secretary of State upon adoption by the board. A provider who accepts payment from the program for a service shall accept the program's rates as payment in full and shall not accept any payment on account of the service from any other source if the total of payments accepted would exceed the maximum rate set by the board for that service.

To assure service limitations which are uniform and appropriate to the levels of treatment required by the victim, the board may review all claims for these services as necessary to ensure their medical necessity. The board may further require additional documentation, information, or medical review of cases of continuing treatment which are projected to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) to determine the need to continue treatment in excess of that amount. The board may accept or reject claims for the amount in excess of five thousand dollars ($5,000) by applying the same standards applicable to processing the initial claim or may approve a continuing treatment regimen for a specific interval or subject to periodic review as appropriate. All information requested of the treating therapist shall be provided at no cost to the applicant, the board, or to local victim centers, pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 13962. Requests for additional information shall be made in a timely manner so as not to interfere with necessary treatment.

(k) The authority provided by this section shall not be construed to in any way diminish, enhance, or otherwise affect any authority which the board may have under current law except as explicitly provided in this section.

(l) The board, in its discretion, may make payments directly to providers prior to verification.

(m) Notwithstanding paragraph (1) of subdivision (a), the board may reimburse a victim for mental health counseling in excess of that authorized by that paragraph if the claim is based on dire or exceptional circumstances that require more extensive treatment, as approved by the board.

(n) Notwithstanding paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) if, as of January 1, 1994, a person receiving reimbursement for mental health counseling expenses pursuant to this article has received reimbursements in excess of one-half of the amount specified in that subdivision, the board may award, in addition to amounts already awarded, an amount equal to not more than one-half of the applicable maximum amount specified in that paragraph or any additional amounts as the board determines is necessary.

(o) The limitations on the amounts which the board may reimburse for loss of support and loss of wages pursuant to paragraphs (2) and (3) of subdivision (a) shall not apply to victims or derivative victims whose claims for loss of wages and loss of support had been approved prior to January 1, 1994.

SEC. 11. Section 13965.1 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 12. Section 13965.2 of the Government Code is amended to read:

13965.2. Whenever an application for assistance has been approved, and the board determines that an independent evaluation pursuant to paragraph (4) of subdivision (a) of Section 13965 is appropriate, the victim or derivative victim shall be notified of the name of the provider who is to perform the evaluation within 30 days of that determination.

SEC. 13. Section 13965.3 is added to the Government Code, to read:

13965.3. (a) Notwithstanding Section 13962, the board shall develop not later than April 1, 1994, a simplified and expedited procedure for paying claims of a qualified provider of mental health services to children and their families who qualify as victims of crime in need of services.

(b) A simplified and expedited procedure for paying claims specified in subdivision (a) shall include all of the following:

(2) An agreement by the board to pay claims on a regular and timely basis to a qualified provider for services to victims who are minors and their families, without requiring further documentation beyond that required to initially qualify the claim.

(3) Additional methods of simplifying the claims process as agreed upon between the board and the qualified provider.

(c) Simplified and expedited procedures for mental health services to victims of crime who are minors may be instituted when both of the following conditions are met:

(2) Services to the victim or his or her family members, or both, are being provided by a qualified provider.

(d) After April 1, 1994, a nonprofit agency may apply to the board for a determination that the nonprofit agency is a qualified provider for purposes of this section. The board shall approve or reject an application from a qualified provider for participation in an agreement pursuant to this section within 90 days of receipt of a complete application as required by the board.

(e) An agreement made pursuant to this subdivision shall not be deemed to be a contract subject to the requirements of Part 2 (commencing with Section 10100) of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code.

(f) For purposes of this section, "qualified provider" means a nonprofit agency with extensive experience in providing mental health services to victims of crime who are minors and their families and that has utilized reimbursement from the victim's Restitution

Fund at a significant level on a regular and constant basis. Upon request of a nonprofit agency, the board shall determine if the nonprofit agency is a qualified provider for purposes of this section.

SEC. 14. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 15. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to maintain the solvency of the Restitution Fund, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately as an urgency statute.

CHAPTER 781

An act to add Section 2053.3 to the Penal Code, relating to corrections.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2053.3 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

2053.3. (a) The Director of Corrections shall implement a two-year correctional education program that increases inmate assignments through adoption of a pilot project cell study program. The program shall be implemented at three institutions, one for female inmates and two for male inmates, with the sites to be chosen by the Department of Corrections and the employee bargaining unit. Inmates shall be assigned to a classroom for three hours per day or 15 hours per week, not to exceed 20 inmates per classroom. Classroom-assigned inmates shall then be assigned to their cells for a study period of three hours per day or 15 hours per week. Inmates shall be housed contiguously to ensure appropriate educational supervision and educational assistance by an instructor and inmate teaching assistants. Cell study instruction shall be limited to 80 inmates housed contiguously where feasible to accomplish the objectives of the cell study program. The department shall adjust cell assignments to accomplish the program's intent. In implementing this program, the department shall adhere to the State Building Standards Law (Part 2.5 (commencing with Section 18901) of Division 13 of the Health and Safety Code).

(b) An inmate participating in a cell study program pursuant to this section shall demonstrate appropriate educational progress, as certified by the instructor, as a condition of any reduction in the time served pursuant to Section 2933. Appropriate educational progress shall be demonstrated based upon preprogram and postprogram testing that reflects improved literacy of the inmate.

(c) (1) The pilot project cell study program shall commence on January 1, 1994, and end on December 31, 1995.

(2) Representatives from the Department of Corrections and the employee bargaining unit shall evaluate the cell study program and submit a report to the Legislature by July 30, 1996. If there is not a consensus, then a minority opinion shall also be included with the final report.

(d) The Department of Corrections may initiate a system of negative timekeeping with regard to the participation of inmates in inmate work, training, and education assignments.

CHAPTER 782

An act to amend Section 21647 of the Business and Professions Code, and to amend Sections 21201 and 21201.2 of, and to add Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 21300) to Division 8 of, the Financial Code, relating to pawnbrokers.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 21647 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

21647. (a) Whenever any peace officer has probable cause to believe that property, except coins, monetized bullion, or "commercial grade ingots" as defined in subdivision (d) of Section 21627, in the possession of a pawnbroker, secondhand dealer, or coin dealer is stolen, the peace officer may place a hold on the property for a period not to exceed 90 days. When a peace officer places a hold on the property, the peace officer shall give the pawnbroker, secondhand dealer, or coin dealer a written notice at the time the hold is placed, describing the item or items to be held. During that period the pawnbroker, secondhand dealer, or coin dealer shall not release or dispose of the property, except pursuant to a court order or upon receipt of a written authorization signed by any peace officer who is a member of the law enforcement agency of which the peace officer placing the hold on the property is a member. A pawnbroker, secondhand property dealer, or coin dealer shall not be subject to civil liability for compliance with this section.

(b) Whenever property that is in the possession of a pawnbroker, secondhand dealer, or coin dealer is required by a peace officer in a criminal investigation, the pawnbroker, secondhand dealer, or coin dealer, upon reasonable notice, shall produce the property at reasonable times and places or may deliver the property to any peace officer upon the request of any peace officer who is a member of the law enforcement agency of which the peace officer placing the hold on the property is a member.

(c) Whenever property that is in the possession of a pawnbroker, secondhand dealer, or coin dealer is subject to a hold and the property is no longer required for the purpose of criminal investigation, the law enforcement agency that placed the hold on the property shall undertake the following:

(1) With respect to the property being held, if the law enforcement agency has no knowledge of the property on hold being reported as stolen, the property shall be released.

(2) If a law enforcement agency has knowledge that property has been reported stolen, the law enforcement agency shall give written notification to the person who reported the stolen property of the name and address of the pawnbroker, secondhand dealer, or coin dealer holding the property, authorize the release of the property to that person, and advise the person that the law neither requires nor prohibits payment of a fee or any other condition in return for the surrender of the property. A copy of the notice with the address of the claimant deleted shall be mailed to the pawnbroker, secondhand dealer, or coin dealer who is in possession of the property. The person who reported the stolen property shall present a police hold release to the pawnbroker, secondhand dealer, or coin dealer prior to the person receiving the item. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the alleged owner does not choose to participate in the prosecution of an identified alleged thief, the alleged owner shall pay the pawnbroker, secondhand dealer, or coin dealer the "out of pocket" expenses paid in the acquisition of the allegedly stolen property in return for the surrender of the property. If no action is taken to recover the property by the person who reported the property stolen within 60 days after the date that the notice was mailed, or if the property was not placed on hold, 60 days after a law enforcement officer advised the pawnbroker, secondhand dealer, or coin dealer that the property may be stolen property, the pawnbroker, secondhand dealer, or coin dealer in possession of the property may treat the property as regularly acquired in the due course of business.

(3) If a pledgor seeks to redeem property that is subject to a hold, the pawnbroker, secondhand dealer, or coin dealer shall advise the pledgor of the name and badge number of the peace officer who placed the hold on the property and the name of the law enforcement agency of which the officer is a member. If the property is not required to be held pursuant to a criminal prosecution, the hold shall be released.

(d) Whenever information regarding allegedly lost or stolen property is entered into the Department of Justice automated property system or automated firearms system, and the property is thereafter identified and found to be in the possession of a pawnbroker, secondhand dealer, or coin dealer, and the property is thereafter placed on a hold pursuant to this section and the hold, including any additional hold, is allowed to lapse, or 60 days elapse following the delivery of the notice required to be given by this section to the person who reported the property to be lost or stolen without a claim being made by that person, whichever is later, the pawnbroker, secondhand dealer, or coin dealer may mail under a Certificate of Mailing issued by the United States Post Office, addressed to the law enforcement agency that placed the property on hold, a written request to delete the property listing from the Department of Justice automated property system or automated firearms system, as is applicable. Within 30 days after the request has been mailed, the law enforcement agency shall either cause the property listing to be deleted as requested or place a hold on the property. If no law enforcement agency takes any further action with respect to the property within 45 days after the mailing of the request, the pawnbroker, secondhand dealer, or coin dealer may presume that the property listing has been deleted as requested and may thereafter deal with the property accordingly, and shall not be subject to liability arising from the failure of the removal of the property listing from the Department of Justice automated property system or automated firearms system.

SEC. 2. Section 21201 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

21201. Every loan made by a pawnbroker for which goods are received in pledge as security shall be evidenced by a written contract, a copy of which shall be furnished to the borrower. The loan contract shall provide a four-month loan period, shall set forth the loan period and the date on which the loan is due and payable, and shall clearly inform the borrower of his or her right to redeem the pledge during the loan period.

Every loan contract shall contain the following notice, in at least 8-point bold face type and circumscribed by a box, immediately above the space for the borrower's signature:

"You may redeem the property you have pledged at any time until the close of business on _____ [fill in date four months from date loan begins]. To redeem, you must pay the amount of the loan and the applicable charges which have accrued through the date on which you redeem."

Every pawnbroker shall retain in his or her possession every article pledged to him or her for a period of four months. During such period the borrower may redeem the articles upon payment of the amount of the loan and the applicable charges.

If any pledged article is not redeemed during the four-month loan period as provided herein, and the borrower and pawnbroker do not mutually agree in writing to extend the loan period, the pawnbroker shall notify the borrower within 30 days after expiration of the loan period. If the pawnbroker fails to notify the borrower within 30 days after the expiration of the loan period, the pawnbroker shall not charge interest from the day after the expiration of the 30-day period. The pawnbroker shall notify the borrower either by registered mail, or by certified mail, or by regular mail for which a certificate of mailing is issued by the United States Postal Service addressed to his or her last known address of the termination of the loan period, and extending the right of redemption for a period of 10 days from date of mailing of such notice.

However, the posted schedule of charges required pursuant to Section 21200.5 shall contain a notice informing the borrower that if he or she desires, the pawnbroker shall send the notice of termination of the loan period by registered or certified mail with return receipt requested, upon prepayment of the mailing costs. If any pledged article is not redeemed within the 10-day period, the pawnbroker shall become vested with all right, title, and interest of the pledgor, or his or her assigns, to the pledged article, to hold and dispose of as his or her own property. Any other provision of law relating to the foreclosure and sale of pledges shall not be applicable to any pledge the title to which is transferred in accordance with this section. The pawnbroker shall not sell any article of pledged property until he or she has become vested with the title to that property pursuant to this section. The sale of pledged property is a misdemeanor pursuant to Section 21209.

SEC. 3. Section 21201.2 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

21201.2. If the pledgor fails to redeem any pawned item during the loan period, thereby obliging the pawnbroker to mail the notice required under Section 21201, the pawnbroker may charge a fee of up to two dollars ($2) for services and costs pertaining to the preparation of the notice, in addition to any other allowed charges.

SEC. 4. Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 21300) is added to Division 8 of the Financial Code, to read:

CHAPTER 3. LICENSURE

21300. (a) The chief of police, the sheriff, or, where appropriate, the police commission, shall accept an application for and grant a license permitting the licensee to engage in the business of pawnbroker, as defined in Section 21000, at the address indicated on the application, to an applicant who has complied with the requirements of Sections 21303, 21304, and 21305 and has not been convicted of an attempt to receive stolen property or any other offense involving stolen property. Prior to the granting of a license, the licensing authority shall submit the application to the Department of Justice. If the Department of Justice does not comment on the application within 30 days thereafter, the licensing authority shall grant the applicant a license. All forms for application and licensure, and license renewal, shall be prescribed and provided by the Department of Justice. A fee not to exceed the actual processing costs to the Department of Justice and the chief of police, the sheriff, or where appropriate, the police commission may be charged to the applicant for processing the initial license application.

(b) For the purposes of this section, "convicted" means a plea or verdict of guilty or a conviction following a plea of nolo contendere.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivisions (a) and (b), no person shall be denied a pawnbroker's license solely on the grounds that he or she violated any provision contained in Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 21000) or Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 21200) of this division or Article 4 (commencing with Section 21625) or Article 5 (commencing with Section 21650) of Chapter 9 of Division 8 of the Business and Professions Code unless the violation demonstrates a pattern of conduct.

21301. (a) A license granted pursuant to Section 21300 shall be renewable the second year from the date of issue, and every other year thereafter, upon the filing of a renewal application and compliance with the requirements of Section 21303. The Department of Justice and the chief of police, the sheriff, or where appropriate, the police commission may charge a fee for the license renewal not to exceed the actual processing costs. The licensing authority shall collect the fee and transmit the fee and a copy of the renewed license to the Department of Justice.

(b) The license shall be subject to forfeiture by the licensing authority, and the licensee's activities as a pawnbroker shall be subject to being enjoined pursuant to Section 21302, for breach of any of the following conditions:

(1) The business shall be carried on only at the address designated on the license.

(2) The license or a copy thereof, certified by the licensing authority, shall be displayed on the premises in plain view of the public.

(3) The licensee shall not engage in any act which the licensee knows to be in violation of this article.

(4) The licensee shall not be convicted of an attempt to receive stolen property or other offense involving stolen property. For the purposes of this paragraph, "convicted" means a plea or verdict of guilty or a conviction following a plea or nolo contendere. Any action which the chief of police, the sheriff, or, where appropriate, the police commission, is permitted to take following such a conviction may be taken when the time for appeal has elapsed, or the judgment of conviction has been affirmed on appeal, or when an order granting probation is made suspending the imposition of sentence, irrespective of a subsequent order under Section 1203.4 of the Penal Code.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivisions (a) and (b), no person shall have his or her renewal application for a pawnbroker's license denied, nor shall his or her pawnbroker's license be forfeited solely on the grounds that he or she violated any provision contained in Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 21000) or Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 21200) of this division or Article 4 (commencing with Section 21625) or Article 5 (commencing with Section 21650) of Chapter 9 of Division 8 of the Business and Professions Code unless the violation demonstrates a pattern of conduct.

21302. The district attorney or the Attorney General, in the name of the people of the State of California, may bring an action to enjoin the violation or the threatened violation of any regulation made pertaining to the provisions contained in Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 21000) or Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 21200) of this division or Article 4 (commencing with Section 21625) or Article 5 (commencing with Section 21650) of Chapter 9 of Division 8 of the Business and Professions Code. Any proceeding brought hereunder shall be governed in all respects by the provisions of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 525) of Title 7 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

21303. (a) As a condition precedent to the issuance or renewal of a pawnbroker's license the applicant shall file a pawnbroker's two-year nonrevokable surety bond with the issuing authority, in the sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000). The pawnbroker's bond required by this article shall be executed by an admitted surety in favor of the State of California and shall be filed by the applicant with the licensing authority.

(b) The bond shall be for the benefit of pledgors of pledged property when the property is not available for redemption, due to the criminal negligence, criminal malfeasance, or other criminal conduct of the pawnbroker, and the pledgor has complied with the conditions precedent to redemption under the terms of the loan contract. The pledgor has the burden of establishing by clear and convincing evidence that all conditions precedent to redemption under the terms of the loan contract have been performed.

21304. (a) As a condition precedent to the issuing of a pawnbroker's license, the applicant shall file with the issuing authority a financial statement confirming that the applicant has at least one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) in the form of liquid assets readily available for use in the business for which the application is made, not including real property. In the absence of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) in net assets, an applicant may post a nonrevocable surety bond in the amount of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000). The financial statement shall be made by the applicant under penalty of perjury and signed by a California Certified Public Accountant verifying that he or she has reviewed the financial statement.

(b) This section is not applicable to any person holding a secondhand dealers license pursuant to Section 21641 or 21642 of the Business and Professions Code and who is actively engaged as a pawnbroker on the effective date of this section.

21305. A license issued pursuant to this chapter shall not be transferred or assigned.

21306. A pawnbroker licensed under Section 21300 is exempt from the licensing requirements under Sections 21641 and 21642 of the Business and Professions Code and may engage in any transaction involving tangible personal property for which a secondhand dealers license is required under Sections 21641 and 21642 of the Business and Professions Code. Pawnbrokers operating under this license exemption are required to conform to all other requirements of secondhand dealers for which a license is required under Sections 21641 and 21642 of the Business and Professions Code.

SEC. 5. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 783

An act to amend Section 17014 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17014 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17014. (a) "Resident" includes:

(1) Every individual who is in this state for other than a temporary or transitory purpose.

(2) Every individual domiciled in this state who is outside the state for a temporary or transitory purpose.

(b) Any individual (and spouse) who is domiciled in this state shall be considered outside this state for a temporary or transitory purpose while that individual:

(1) Holds an elective office of the government of the United States, or

(2) Is employed on the staff of an elective officer in the legislative branch of the government of the United States as described in paragraph (1), or

(3) Holds an appointive office in the executive branch of the government of the United States (other than the armed forces of the United States or career appointees in the United States Foreign Service) if the appointment to that office was by the President of the United States and subject to confirmation by the Senate of the United States and whose tenure of office is at the pleasure of the President of the United States.

(c) Any individual who is a resident of this state continues to be a resident even though temporarily absent from the state.

(d) For any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1994, any individual domiciled in this state who is absent from the state for an uninterrupted period of at least 18 consecutive months under an employment-related contract shall be considered outside this state for other than a temporary or transitory purpose.

(1) For purposes of this subdivision, returns to this state, totaling in the aggregate not more than 45 days during a taxable year, shall be disregarded.

(2) This subdivision shall not apply to any individual who has income from stocks, bonds, notes, or other intangible personal property in excess of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) in any taxable year in which the employment-related contract is in effect.

(3) Any spouse who is absent from the state for an uninterrupted period of at least 18 consecutive months to accompany a spouse who, under this subdivision, is considered outside this state for other than a temporary or transitory purpose shall, for purposes of this subdivision, also be considered outside this state for other than a temporary or transitory purpose.

(4) This subdivision shall not apply to any individual if the principal purpose of the individual's absence from this state is to avoid any tax imposed by this part.

SEC. 2. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 784

An act to amend Sections 751, 752, 763, 772, 773, and 782 of, and to repeal and add Sections 753 and 754 of, the Public Resources Code, relating to forestry.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 751 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

751. The purpose of this article is to declare the existence of a public interest in the management and treatment of the forest resources and timberlands of this state and to provide for the regulation of persons who practice the profession of forestry and whose activities have an impact upon the ecology of forested landscapes and the quality of the forest environment, and through that regulation to enhance the control of air and water pollution, the preservation of scenic beauty, the protection of watersheds by flood and soil erosion control, the production and increased yield of natural resources, including timber, forage, wildlife, and water, and outdoor recreation, to meet the needs of the people.

SEC. 2. Section 752 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

752. (a) "Professional forester," as used in this article, means a person who, by reason of his or her knowledge of the natural sciences, mathematics, and the principles of forestry, acquired by forestry education and experience, performs services, including, but not limited to, consultation, investigation, evaluation, planning, or responsible supervision of forestry activities when those professional services require the application of forestry principles and techniques.

(b) A professional forester is licensed to perform forestry services only in those areas of expertise in which the person is fully competent as a result of training or experience. In order for a professional forester to fulfill all of his or her responsibilities with regard to a particular activity on a site, if the expertise that is prudently required exceeds the expertise possessed by the professional forester in that regard, the professional forester may need to utilize the services of other qualified experts, including, but not limited to, archaeologists, botanists, civil engineers, ecologists, fisheries biologists, geologists, hydrologists, land surveyors, landscape architects, range scientists, soil scientists, or wildlife biologists. Nothing in this article shall preclude those other environmental professionals from the application of their knowledge in their field of expertise outside the practice of forestry, as defined in Section 753.

SEC. 3. Section 753 of the Public Resources Code is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 753 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

753. "Forestry," as used in this article, refers to the science and practice of managing forested landscapes and the treatment of the forest cover in general, and includes, among other things, the application of scientific knowledge and forestry principles in the fields of fuels management and forest protection, timber growing and utilization, forest inventories, forest economics, forest valuation and finance, and the evaluation and mitigation of impacts from forestry activities on watershed and scenic values, to achieve the purposes of this article. The practice of forestry applies only to those activities undertaken on forested landscapes. The professions specified in Section 772 are not practicing forestry when mitigating or recommending mitigation of impacts from previous forestry activities on related watershed or ecological values within their area of professional expertise or when recommending those mitigations for proposed timber operations. However, public and private foresters are required to be licensed pursuant to this article when making evaluations and determinations of the appropriate overall combination of mitigations of impacts from forestry activities necessary to protect all forest resources.

SEC. 5. Section 754 of the Public Resources Code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 754 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

754. "Forested landscapes" means those tree dominated landscapes and their associated vegetation types on which there is growing a significant stand of tree species, or which are naturally capable of growing a significant stand of native trees in perpetuity, and is not otherwise devoted to nonforestry commercial, urban, or farming uses.

SEC. 7. Section 763 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

763. (a) The board shall establish an examining committee of at least seven members composed of the following, who shall be appointed by the board and serve at its pleasure:

(1) Two public members with one selected from the membership of the board.

(2) At least four professional foresters in good standing representing a broad cross section of employment and expertise.

(3) At least one certified specialist registered pursuant to Section 772 in good standing. If a certified specialist is not available to serve on the committee, this position shall be replaced by an additional professional forester in good standing.

(b) The examining committee shall do all of the following:

(1) Examine all applicants for registration as professional foresters and for specialty certificates.

(2) Recommend to the board applicants for the license of professional forester and applicants for specialty certificates who fulfill the requirements of this article.

(3) Review complaints, which review may include independent investigations or expert witness evaluations, and make disciplinary recommendations to the board.

(4) Establish ad hoc committees as needed with representatives of certified specialists.

(5) Recommend to the board whether an independent certification program qualifies for recognition under Section 754.

(6) Recommend adoption of the rules and regulations or changes in rules and regulations which may be needed to effect this article.

SEC. 8. Section 772 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

772. Instead of being registered as a professional forester, an applicant may request to be registered as a certified specialist in one or more fields of forestry. Nothing in this article shall authorize the board to certify or otherwise license wildlife biologists, fisheries biologists, botanists, ecological restorationists, stream restorationists, hydrologists, or geologists. Registration in a specialty area does not prohibit a professional forester from providing services within that professional forester's area of expertise. Any public agency or professional society may submit for board recognition its independent certification program as full qualification without examination for the board's certificate of specialization. That certification as a specialist shall be granted provided the board determines the program fully protects the public interest in that area of practice encompassed by the program. Those certificants are subject to board registration and discipline with review by that specialty.

SEC. 9. Section 773 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

773. Licenses and specialty certificates issued pursuant to this article shall be valid for two years and shall expire on July 1 of each alternating year.

SEC. 10. Section 782 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

782. The board shall establish by regulation the amount of fees within the following ranges, and based on a determination by the board of the amount of revenues reasonably necessary to carry out this article:

(a) The application fee for registration or for each certificate of specialization shall be not less than fifty dollars ($50) and not more than two hundred dollars ($200).

(b) The registration fee and certificate of specialization fees and renewal fees shall be not less than twenty-five dollars ($25) and not more than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) per year. Every licensed person shall, on or before July 1 of the year of expiration, pay the renewal fee.

(c) The fee for the issuance of a duplicate display registration document or certificate of specialization shall be not less than five dollars ($5) and not more than twenty-five dollars ($25).

(d) The penalty fee for failure to apply for a renewal shall be not less than ten dollars ($10) and not more than twenty-five dollars ($25) for each month of delinquency. In return for the payment of the renewal fee and any applicable late fees, a renewal registration card shall be issued.

(e) A registrant or certificant may, upon written notice to the board, be granted a withdrawal period without penalty not to exceed five years. A reinstatement application shall be accompanied with a fee of not less than fifteen dollars ($15) and not more than fifty dollars ($50), for registration or each certificate of specialization.

CHAPTER 785

An act to amend Sections 1000.5, 1000.91, 1001.9, 1001.33, 1001.55, 1001.75, 13203, and 13300 of the Penal Code, relating to diversion.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1000.5 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1000.5. (a) Any record filed with the Department of Justice shall indicate the disposition in those cases diverted pursuant to this chapter. Upon successful completion of a diversion program, the arrest upon which the diversion was based shall be deemed to have never occurred. The divertee may indicate in response to any question concerning his or her prior criminal record that he or she was not arrested or diverted for the offense, except as specified in subdivision (b). A record pertaining to an arrest resulting in successful completion of a diversion program shall not, without the divertee's consent, be used in any way that could result in the denial of any employment, benefit, license, or certificate.

(b) The divertee shall be advised that, regardless of his or her successful completion of diversion, the arrest upon which the diversion was based may be disclosed by the Department of Justice in response to any peace officer application request made within five years of the arrest, and that notwithstanding subdivision (a), this section does not relieve him or her of the obligation to disclose the arrest in response to any direct question contained in any questionnaire or application for a position as a peace officer, as defined in Section 830, made within five years of the arrest.

SEC. 2. Section 1000.91 of the Penal Code, as amended by Chapter 221 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

1000.91. (a) Any records filed with the Department of Justice shall indicate the disposition in those cases diverted pursuant to this chapter. Upon successful completion of a diversion program, the arrest upon which the diversion was based shall be deemed to have never occurred. The defendant may indicate in response to any question concerning his or her prior criminal record that he or she was not arrested or diverted for the offense, except as specified in subdivision (b). A record pertaining to an arrest resulting in successful completion of a diversion program shall not, without the divertee's consent, be used in any way which could result in the denial of any employment, benefit, license, or certificate.

(b) The divertee shall be advised that, regardless of his or her successful completion of diversion, the arrest upon which the diversion was based may be disclosed by the Department of Justice in response to any peace officer application request made within five years of the arrest, and that notwithstanding subdivision (a), this section does not relieve him or her of the obligation to disclose the arrest in response to any direct question contained in any questionnaire or application for a position as a peace officer, as defined in Section 830, within five years of the arrest.

SEC. 3. Section 1001.9 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1001.9. (a) Any record filed with the Department of Justice shall indicate the disposition in those cases diverted pursuant to this chapter. Upon successful completion of a diversion program, the arrest upon which the diversion was based shall be deemed to have never occurred. The divertee may indicate in response to any question concerning his or her prior criminal record that he or she was not arrested or diverted for the offense, except as specified in subdivision (b). A record pertaining to an arrest resulting in successful completion of a diversion program shall not, without the divertee's consent, be used in any way that could result in the denial of any employment, benefit, license, or certificate.

(b) The divertee shall be advised that, regardless of his or her successful completion of diversion, the arrest upon which the diversion was based may be disclosed by the Department of Justice in response to any peace officer application request made within five years of the arrest, and that notwithstanding subdivision (a), this section does not relieve him or her of the obligation to disclose the arrest in response to any direct question contained in any questionnaire or application for a position as a peace officer, as defined in Section 830, made within five years of the arrest.

SEC. 4. Section 1001.33 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1001.33. (a) Any record filed with the Department of Justice shall indicate the disposition in those cases diverted pursuant to this chapter. Upon successful completion of a diversion program, the arrest upon which the diversion was based shall be deemed to have never occurred. The divertee may indicate in response to any question concerning his or her prior criminal record that he or she was not arrested or diverted for the offense, except as specified in subdivision (b). A record pertaining to an arrest resulting in successful completion of a diversion program shall not, without the divertee's consent, be used in any way that could result in the denial of any employment, benefit, license, or certificate.

(b) The divertee shall be advised that, regardless of his or her successful completion of diversion, the arrest upon which the diversion was based may be disclosed by the Department of Justice in response to any peace officer application request made within five years of the arrest, and that notwithstanding subdivision (a), this section does not relieve him or her of the obligation to disclose the arrest in response to any direct question contained in any questionnaire or application for a position as a peace officer, as defined in Section 830, made within five years of the arrest.

SEC. 5. Section 1001.55 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1001.55. (a) Any record filed with the Department of Justice shall indicate the disposition in those cases diverted pursuant to this chapter. Upon successful completion of a diversion program, the arrest upon which the diversion was based shall be deemed to have never occurred. The divertee may indicate in response to any question concerning his or her prior criminal record that he or she was not arrested or diverted for the offense, except as specified in subdivision (b). A record pertaining to an arrest resulting in successful completion of a diversion program shall not, without the divertee's consent, be used in any way that could result in the denial of any employment, benefit, license, or certificate.

(b) The divertee shall be advised that, regardless of his or her successful completion of diversion, the arrest upon which the diversion was based may be disclosed by the Department of Justice in response to any peace officer application request made within five years of the arrest, and that notwithstanding subdivision (a), this section does not relieve him or her of the obligation to disclose the arrest in response to any direct question contained in any questionnaire or application for a position as a peace officer, as defined in Section 830, made within five years of the arrest.

SEC. 6. Section 1001.75 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1001.75. (a) Any record filed with the Department of Justice shall indicate the disposition in those cases diverted pursuant to this chapter. Upon successful completion of a diversion program, the arrest upon which the diversion was based shall be deemed to have never occurred. The divertee may indicate in response to any question concerning his or her prior criminal record that he or she was not arrested or diverted for that offense, except as specified in subdivision (b). A record pertaining to an arrest resulting in successful completion of a diversion program shall not, without the divertee's consent, be used in any way that would result in the denial of any employment, benefit, license, or certificate.

(b) The divertee shall be advised that, regardless of his or her successful completion of diversion, the arrest upon which the diversion was based may be disclosed by the Department of Justice in response to any peace officer application request made within five years of the arrest, and that notwithstanding subdivision (a), this section does not relieve him or her of the obligation to disclose the arrest in response to any direct question contained in any questionnaire or application for a position as a peace officer, as defined in Section 830, made within five years of the arrest.

SEC. 7. Section 13203 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

13203. (a) Any criminal justice agency may release, within five years of the arrest, information concerning an arrest or detention of a peace officer or applicant for a position as a peace officer, as defined in Section 830, which did not result in conviction, or information concerning a referral to, and participation in, any postarrest diversion program to a government agency employer of that peace officer or applicant for a position as a peace officer, as defined in Section 830.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), a criminal justice agency shall not release information under the following circumstances:

(1) Information concerning an arrest for which diversion has been ordered without attempting to determine whether diversion has been successfully completed.

(2) Information concerning an arrest or detention followed by a dismissal or release without attempting to determine whether the individual was exonerated.

(3) Information concerning an arrest without a disposition without attempting to determine whether diversion has been successfully completed or the individual was exonerated.

SEC. 8. Section 13300 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

13300. (a) As used in this section:

(1) "Local summary criminal history information" means the master record of information compiled by any local criminal justice agency pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 13100) of Title 3 of Part 4 pertaining to the identification and criminal history of any person, such as name, date of birth, physical description, dates of arrests, arresting agencies and booking numbers, charges, dispositions, and similar data about the person.

(2) "Local summary criminal history information" does not refer to records and data compiled by criminal justice agencies other than that local agency, nor does it refer to records of complaints to or investigations conducted by, or records of intelligence information or security procedures of, the local agency.

(3) "Local agency" means a local criminal justice agency.

(b) A local agency shall furnish local summary criminal history information to any of the following, when needed in the course of their duties, provided that when information is furnished to assist an agency, officer, or official of state or local government, a public utility, or any entity, in fulfilling employment, certification, or licensing duties, Chapter 1321 of the Statutes of 1974 and Section 432.7 of the Labor Code shall apply:

(1) The courts of the state.

(2) Peace officers of the state, as defined in Section 830.1, subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 830.2, subdivisions (a), (b), and (j) of Section 830.3, subdivisions (a), (b), and (c) of Section 830.5, and subdivision (e) of Section 830.2.

(3) District attorneys of the state.

(4) Prosecuting city attorneys of any city within the state.

(5) Probation officers of the state.

(6) Parole officers of the state.

(7) A public defender or attorney of record when representing a person in proceedings upon a petition for a certificate of rehabilitation and pardon pursuant to Section 4852.08.

(8) A public defender or attorney of record when representing a person in a criminal case and when authorized access by statutory or decisional law.

(9) Any agency, officer, or official of the state when the local summary criminal history information is required to implement a statute, regulation, or ordinance that expressly refers to specific criminal conduct applicable to the subject person of the local summary criminal history information, and contains requirements or exclusions, or both, expressly based upon the specified criminal conduct.

(10) Any city, county, city and county, or district, or any officer or official thereof, when access is needed in order to assist the agency, officer, or official in fulfilling employment, certification, or licensing duties, and when the access is specifically authorized by the city council, board of supervisors, or governing board of the city, county, or district when the local summary criminal history information is required to implement a statute, regulation, or ordinance that expressly refers to specific criminal conduct applicable to the subject person of the local summary criminal history information, and contains requirements or exclusions, or both, expressly based upon the specified criminal conduct.

(11) The subject of the local summary criminal history information.

(12) Any person or entity when access is expressly authorized by statute when the local summary criminal history information is required to implement a statute, regulation, or ordinance that expressly refers to specific criminal conduct applicable to the subject person of the local summary criminal history information, and contains requirements or exclusions, or both, expressly based upon the specified criminal conduct.

(13) Any managing or supervising correctional officer of a county jail or other county correctional facility.

(c) The local agency may furnish local summary criminal history information, upon a showing of a compelling need, to any of the following, provided that when information is furnished to assist an agency, officer, or official of state or local government, a public utility, or any entity, in fulfilling employment, certification, or licensing duties, Chapter 1321 of the Statutes of 1974 and Section 432.7 of the Labor Code shall apply:

(1) Any public utility, as defined in Section 216 of the Public Utilities Code, which operates a nuclear energy facility when access is needed to assist in employing persons to work at the facility, provided that, if the local agency supplies the information, it shall furnish a copy of this information to the person to whom the information relates.

(2) To a peace officer of the state other than those included in subdivision (b).

(3) To a peace officer of another country.

(4) To public officers, other than peace officers, of the United States, other states, or possessions or territories of the United States, provided that access to records similar to local summary criminal history information is expressly authorized by a statute of the United States, other states, or possessions or territories of the United States when this information is needed for the performance of their official duties.

(5) To any person when disclosure is requested by a probation, parole, or peace officer with the consent of the subject of the local summary criminal history information and for purposes of furthering the rehabilitation of the subject.

(6) The courts of the United States, other states, or territories or possessions of the United States.

(7) Peace officers of the United States, other states, or territories or possessions of the United States.

(8) To any individual who is the subject of the record requested when needed in conjunction with an application to enter the United States or any foreign nation.

(9) Any public utility, as defined in Section 216 of the Public Utilities Code, when access is needed to assist in employing persons who will be seeking entrance to private residences in the course of their employment. The information provided shall be limited to the record of convictions and any arrest for which the person is released on bail or on his or her own recognizance pending trial.

If the local agency supplies the information pursuant to this paragraph, it shall furnish a copy of the information to the person to whom the information relates.

Any information obtained from the local summary criminal history is confidential and the receiving public utility shall not disclose its contents, other than for the purpose for which it was acquired. The local summary criminal history information in the possession of the public utility and all copies made from it shall be destroyed 30 days after employment is denied or granted, including any appeal periods, except for those cases where an employee or applicant is out on bail or on his or her own recognizance pending trial, in which case the state summary criminal history information and all copies shall be destroyed 30 days after the case is resolved, including any appeal periods.

A violation of any of the provisions of this paragraph is a misdemeanor, and shall give the employee or applicant who is injured by the violation a cause of action against the public utility to recover damages proximately caused by the violation.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as imposing any duty upon public utilities to request local summary criminal history information on any current or prospective employee.

Seeking entrance to private residences in the course of employment shall be deemed a "compelling need" as required to be shown in this subdivision.

(10) Any city, county, city and county, or district, or any officer or official thereof, if a written request is made to a local law enforcement agency and the information is needed to assist in the screening of a prospective concessionaire, and any affiliate or associate thereof, as these terms are defined in subdivision (k) of Section 432.7 of the Labor Code, for the purposes of consenting to, or approving of, the prospective concessionaire's application for, or acquisition of, any beneficial interest in a concession, lease, or other property interest.

Any local government's request for local summary criminal history information for purposes of screening a prospective concessionaire and their affiliates or associates before approving or denying an application for, or acquisition of, any beneficial interest in a concession, lease, or other property interest is deemed a "compelling need" as required by this subdivision. However, only local summary criminal history information pertaining to criminal convictions may be obtained pursuant to this paragraph.

Any information obtained from the local summary criminal history is confidential and the receiving local government shall not disclose its contents, other than for the purpose for which it was acquired. The local summary criminal history information in the possession of the local government and all copies made from it shall be destroyed not more than 30 days after the local government's final decision to grant or deny consent to, or approval of, the prospective concessionaire's application for, or acquisition of, a beneficial interest in a concession, lease, or other property interest. Nothing in this section shall be construed as imposing any duty upon a local government, or any officer or official thereof, to request local summary criminal history information on any current or prospective concessionaire or their affiliates or associates.

(d) Whenever an authorized request for local summary criminal history information pertains to a person whose fingerprints are on file with the local agency and the local agency has no criminal history of that person, and the information is to be used for employment, licensing, or certification purposes, the fingerprint card accompanying the request for information, if any, may be stamped "no criminal record" and returned to the person or entity making the request.

(e) A local agency taking fingerprints of a person who is an applicant for licensing, employment, or certification may charge a fee not to exceed ten dollars ($10) to cover the cost of taking the fingerprints and processing the required documents.

(f) Whenever local summary criminal history information furnished pursuant to this section is to be used for employment, licensing, or certification purposes, the local agency shall charge the person or entity making the request a fee which it determines to be sufficient to reimburse the local agency for the cost of furnishing the information, provided that no fee shall be charged to any public law enforcement agency for local summary criminal history information furnished to assist it in employing, licensing, or certifying a person who is applying for employment with the agency as a peace officer or criminal investigator. Any state agency required to pay a fee to the local agency for information received under this section may charge the applicant a fee sufficient to reimburse the agency for the expense.

(g) Whenever there is a conflict, the processing of criminal fingerprints shall take priority over the processing of applicant fingerprints.

(h) It is not a violation of this article to disseminate statistical or research information obtained from a record, provided that the identity of the subject of the record is not disclosed.

(i) It is not a violation of this article to include information obtained from a record in (1) a transcript or record of a judicial or administrative proceeding or (2) any other public record when the inclusion of the information in the public record is authorized by a court, statute, or decisional law.

(j) Notwithstanding any other law, the Department of Justice or any state or local law enforcement agency may require the submission of fingerprints for the purpose of conducting summary criminal history information record checks which are authorized by law.

(k) Any local criminal justice agency may release, within five years of the arrest, information concerning an arrest or detention of a peace officer or applicant for a position as a peace officer, as defined in Section 830, which did not result in conviction, or information concerning a referral to, and participation in, any postarrest diversion program to a government agency employer of that peace officer or applicant for a position as a peace officer, as defined in Section 830.

(l) Notwithstanding subdivision (k), a local criminal justice agency shall not release information under the following circumstances:

(1) Information concerning an arrest for which diversion has been ordered without attempting to determine whether diversion has been successfully completed.

(2) Information concerning an arrest or detention followed by a dismissal or release without attempting to determine whether the individual was exonerated.

(3) Information concerning an arrest without a disposition without attempting to determine whether diversion has been successfully completed or the individual was exonerated.

CHAPTER 786

An act to amend Section 6217 of the Public Resources Code, relating to public resources.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6217 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

6217. With the exception of revenues derived from state school lands and from sources described in Sections 6217.6, 6301.5, 6301.6, 6855, and 8551 to 8558, inclusive, and Section 6406 (insofar as the proceeds are from property that has been distributed or escheated to the state in connection with unclaimed estates of deceased persons), the commission shall deposit in the State Treasury all revenues, moneys, and remittances received by it under this division, and under Chapter 138 of the Statutes of 1964, First Extraordinary Session, and these sums shall be applied to the following obligations in the following order:

(a) To the General Fund, the revenue necessary to provide in any fiscal year for the following:

(1) Payment of refunds, authorized by the commission and approved by the State Board of Control, out of appropriations made for that purpose by the Legislature.

(2) Payment of expenditures of the commission as provided in the annual Budget Act approved by the Legislature.

(3) Payments to cities and counties of the amounts specified in Section 6817 for the purposes specified in that section, and the revenues so deposited are appropriated for that purpose.

(4) Payments to cities and counties of the amounts agreed to pursuant to Section 6875.

(b) To the California Water Fund each fiscal year the amount of twenty-five million dollars ($25,000,000).

(c) To the Central Valley Water Project Construction Fund each fiscal year the amount of five million dollars ($5,000,000).

(d) (1) To the General Fund, the amount of five hundred twenty-five thousand dollars ($525,000) for each of the 1994–95, 1995–96, 1996–97, 1997–98, and 1998–99 fiscal years for distribution for public and private higher education for use as up to two-thirds of the local matching share for projects under the National Sea Grant College and Program Act of 1966 (P.L. 89-688) approved, upon the recommendation of the advisory panel appointed pursuant to this section, by the Secretary of the Resources Agency or his or her designee. The Secretary of the Resources Agency shall submit a report to the Legislature on or before January 1, 1993, which evaluates this program and makes recommendations on whether changes should be made to the program or whether it should be continued. The Legislature shall consider recommendations from the Secretary of the Resources Agency and other interested parties on the benefits to the people of the State of California derived from this program and shall determine whether or not to continue similar appropriations for subsequent fiscal years.

(2) There shall be an advisory panel to the Secretary of the Resources Agency consisting of 17 members, which shall do all of the following:

(A) Identify state needs that might be met through Sea Grant research projects, including, but not limited to, such fields as living marine resources, aquaculture, ocean engineering, marine minerals, public recreation, coastal physical processes and coastal and ocean resources planning and management, and marine data acquisition and dissemination, establish priorities for those needs, and transmit those needs and priorities to the Legislature not later than January 1 of each year and include them in all announcements of proposals for grants in the following fiscal year.

(B) Review all applications for funding under this section and make recommendations based upon the priorities it establishes.

(C) Periodically review progress on Sea Grant research projects subsequent to their approval and funding under this section.

(D) Make recommendations to the Secretary of the Resources Agency with respect to the implementation of this section.

(3) The Secretary of the Resources Agency shall appoint the following members of the advisory panel, who shall serve at the pleasure of the secretary:

(A) A representative of the Department of Boating and Waterways.

(B) A representative of the Department of Conservation.

(C) A representative of the Department of Fish and Game.

(D) The Executive Director of the California Coastal Commission or his or her designee.

(E) A representative of the fish industry.

(F) A representative of the aquaculture industry.

(G) A representative of the ocean engineering industry.

(H) A representative of the University of California.

(I) A representative of the California State University.

(J) A representative of a private California institution of higher education which is participating in the National Sea Grant Program.

(K) A representative of the State Lands Commission.

(L) A representative of the Office of Environmental Health Hazard Assessment.

(M) A representative of the State Water Resources Control Board.

(N) A representative of the Office of Oil Spill Prevention and Response in the Department of Fish and Game, designated by the administrator for oil spill response.

(4) The Senate Committee on Rules shall appoint one Member of the Senate to the panel, who shall serve at the pleasure of the Senate Committee on Rules.

(5) The Speaker of the Assembly shall appoint one Member of the Assembly to the panel, who shall serve at the pleasure of the Speaker. This member shall not be of the same political party as the member appointed by the Senate Committee on Rules.

(6) The Secretary of the Resources Agency, or the secretary's designee, shall serve as chairperson of the panel. Panel members shall serve without compensation.

(7) The Sea Grant research projects selected for state support under this subdivision shall have a clearly defined benefit to the people of the State of California. These projects, to be conducted by universities, colleges, or other institutions participating in the California Sea Grant College Program, shall be applicable to marine and coastal resources management, policy, science, and engineering issues that face the State of California now or in the reasonably foreseeable future. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the funding provided by this subdivision is needed to stimulate the development and utilization of ocean and coastal resources by working constructively with private sector firms and individuals. The Legislature further recognizes the high productivity of the California Sea Grant College Program, the only statewide program systematically devoted to supporting fundamental research, education, and extension activities on the diversity of problems related to marine resource protection and development. Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to preclude the application for funding of any project that would be eligible for funding under the terms of the National Sea Grant College and Program Act of 1966.

(e) To the Capital Outlay Fund for Public Higher Education for the 1984–85 fiscal year the amount of one hundred two million one hundred sixty-eight thousand dollars ($102,168,000), and for each fiscal year thereafter, the amount necessary to provide for an unencumbered balance available for appropriation on July 1 of each fiscal year of one hundred twenty-five million dollars ($125,000,000).

(f) To the Energy and Resources Fund each fiscal year, commencing with the 1985–86 fiscal year, the amount of sixty-five million dollars ($65,000,000).

(g) To the Special Account for Capital Outlay, the balance of all revenues in excess of the amount distributed under subdivisions (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f).

The commission may, with the approval of the State Board of Control, authorize the refund of moneys received or collected by it illegally or by mistake, inadvertence, or error. Claims authorized by the commission and approved by the State Board of Control shall be filed with the Controller, and the Controller shall draw his or her warrant against the General Fund in payment of the refund from any appropriation made for that purpose.

(c) All references in any law to former Section 6816, which was repealed by Chapter 981 of the Statutes of 1968, shall be deemed to refer to this section.

CHAPTER 787

An act to amend Sections 1208 and 6031.4 of, and to add Section 6031.6 to, the Penal Code, relating to crime.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1208 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1208. (a) The provisions of this section, insofar as they relate to employment, shall be operative in any county in which the board of supervisors by ordinance finds, on the basis of employment conditions, the state of the county jail facilities, and other pertinent circumstances, that the operation of this section, insofar as it relates to employment, in that county is feasible. The provisions of this section, insofar as they relate to job training, shall be operative in any county in which the board of supervisors by ordinance finds, on the basis of job training conditions, the state of the county jail facilities, and other pertinent circumstances, that the operation of this section, insofar as it relates to job training, in that county is feasible. The provisions of this section, insofar as they relate to education, shall be operative in any county in which the board of supervisors by ordinance finds, on the basis of education conditions, the state of the county jail facilities, and other pertinent circumstances, that the operation of this section, insofar as it relates to education, in that county is feasible. In any ordinance the board shall prescribe whether the sheriff, the probation officer, the director of the county department of corrections, or the superintendent of a county industrial farm or industrial road camp in the county shall perform the functions of the work furlough administrator. The board may, in that ordinance, provide for the performance of any or all functions of the work furlough administrator by any one or more of those persons, acting separately or jointly as to any of the functions; and may, by a subsequent ordinance, revise the provisions within the authorization of this section. The board of supervisors may also terminate the operation of this section, either with respect to employment, job training, or education in the county if it finds by ordinance that because of changed circumstances, the operation of this section, either with respect to employment, job training, or education in that county is no longer feasible.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the board of supervisors may by ordinance designate a facility for confinement of prisoners classified for the work furlough program and designate the work furlough administrator as the custodian of the facility. The work furlough administrator may operate the work furlough facility or, with the approval of the board of supervisors, administer the work furlough facility pursuant to written contracts with appropriate public or private agencies or private entities. No agency or private entity may operate a work furlough program or facility without a written contract with the work furlough administrator, and no agency or private entity entering into a written contract may itself employ any person who is in the work furlough program. The sheriff or director of the county department of corrections, as the case may be, is authorized to transfer custody of prisoners to the work furlough administrator to be confined in a facility for the period during which they are in the work furlough program.

All privately operated local work furlough facilities and programs shall be under the jurisdiction of, and subject to the terms of a written contract entered into with, the work furlough administrator. Each contract shall include, but not be limited to, a provision whereby the private agency or entity agrees to operate in compliance with all appropriate state and local building, zoning, health, safety, and fire statutes, ordinances, and regulations and the minimum jail standards for Type IV facilities as established by regulations adopted by the Board of Corrections, and a provision whereby the private agency or entity agrees to operate in compliance with Section 1208.2, which provides that no eligible person shall be denied consideration for, or be removed from, participation in a work furlough program because of an inability to pay all or a portion of the program fees. The private agency or entity shall select and train its personnel in accordance with selection and training requirements adopted by the Board of Corrections as set forth in Subchapter 1 (commencing with Section 100) of Chapter 1 of Division 1 of Title 15 of the California Code of Regulations. Failure to comply with the appropriate health, safety, and fire laws or minimum jail standards adopted by the board may be cause for termination of the contract. Upon discovery of a failure to comply with these requirements, the work furlough administrator shall notify the privately operated program director that the contract may be canceled if the specified deficiencies are not corrected within 60 days.

All private work furlough facilities and programs shall be inspected biennially by the Board of Corrections unless the work furlough administrator requests an earlier inspection pursuant to Section 6031.1. Each private agency or entity shall pay a fee to the Board of Corrections commensurate with the cost of those inspections and a fee commensurate with the cost of the initial review of the facility.

(b) When a person is convicted of a misdemeanor and sentenced to the county jail, or is imprisoned in the county jail for nonpayment of a fine, for contempt, or as a condition of probation for any criminal offense, the work furlough administrator may, if he or she concludes that the person is a fit subject to continue in his or her regular employment, direct that the person be permitted to continue in that employment, if that is compatible with the requirements of subdivision (c), or may authorize the person to secure employment for himself or herself, unless the court at the time of sentencing or committing has ordered that the person not be granted work furloughs. The work furlough administrator may, if he or she concludes that the person is a fit subject to continue in his or her job training program, direct that the person be permitted to continue in that job training program, if that is compatible with the requirements of subdivision (c), or may authorize the person to secure local job training for himself or herself, unless the court at the time of sentencing has ordered that person not be granted work furloughs. The work furlough administrator may, if he or she concludes that the person is a fit subject to continue in his or her regular educational program, direct that the person be permitted to continue in that educational program, if that is compatible with the requirements of subdivision (c), or may authorize the person to secure education for himself or herself, unless the court at the time of sentencing has ordered that person not be granted work furloughs.

(c) If the work furlough administrator so directs that the prisoner be permitted to continue in his or her regular employment, job training, or educational program, the administrator shall arrange for a continuation of that employment or for that job training or education, so far as possible without interruption. If the prisoner does not have regular employment or a regular job training or educational program, and the administrator has authorized the prisoner to secure employment, job training, or education for himself or herself, the prisoner may do so, and the administrator may assist the prisoner in doing so. Any employment, job training, or education so secured shall be suitable for the prisoner. The employment, and the job training or educational program if it includes earnings by the prisoner, shall be at a wage at least as high as the prevailing wage for similar work in the area where the work is performed and in accordance with the prevailing working conditions in that area. In no event may any employment, job training, or educational program involving earnings by the prisoner be permitted where there is a labor dispute in the establishment in which the prisoner is, or is to be, employed, trained, or educated.

(d) Whenever the prisoner is not employed or being trained or educated and between the hours or periods of employment, training, or education, the prisoner shall be confined in the facility designated by the board of supervisors for work furlough confinement unless the work furlough administrator directs otherwise. If the prisoner is injured during a period of employment, job training, or education, the work furlough administrator shall have the authority to release him or her from the facility for continued medical treatment by private physicians or at medical facilities at the expense of the employer, workers' compensation insurer, or the prisoner. The release shall not be construed as assumption of liability by the county or work furlough administrator for medical treatment obtained.

The work furlough administrator may release any prisoner classified for the work furlough program for a period not to exceed 72 hours for medical, dental, or psychiatric care, or for family emergencies or pressing business which would result in severe hardship if the release were not granted, or to attend those activities as the administrator deems may effectively promote the prisoner's successful return to the community, including, but not limited to, an attempt to secure housing, employment, entry into educational programs, or participation in community programs.

(e) The earnings of the prisoner may be collected by the work furlough administrator, and it shall be the duty of the prisoner's employer to transmit the wages to the administrator at the latter's request. Earnings levied upon pursuant to writ of execution or in other lawful manner shall not be transmitted to the administrator. If the administrator has requested transmittal of earnings prior to levy, that request shall have priority. In a case in which the functions of the administrator are performed by a sheriff, and the sheriff receives a writ of execution for the earnings of a prisoner subject to this section but has not yet requested transmittal of the prisoner's earnings pursuant to this section, the sheriff shall first levy on the earnings pursuant to the writ. When an employer or educator transmits earnings to the administrator pursuant to this subdivision, the sheriff shall have no liability to the prisoner for those earnings. From the earnings the administrator shall pay the prisoner's board and personal expenses, both inside and outside the jail, and shall deduct so much of the costs of administration of this section as is allocable to the prisoner or if the prisoner is unable to pay that sum, a lesser sum as is reasonable, and, in an amount determined by the administrator, shall pay the support of the prisoner's dependents, if any. If sufficient funds are available after making the foregoing payments, the administrator may, with the consent of the prisoner, pay, in whole or in part, the preexisting debts of the prisoner. Any balance shall be retained until the prisoner's discharge. Upon discharge the balance shall be paid to the prisoner.

(f) The prisoner shall be eligible for time credits pursuant to Sections 4018 and 4019.

(g) In the event the prisoner violates the conditions laid down for his or her conduct, custody, job training, education, or employment, the work furlough administrator may order the balance of the prisoner's sentence to be spent in actual confinement.

(h) Willful failure of the prisoner to return to the place of confinement not later than the expiration of any period during which he or she is authorized to be away from the place of confinement pursuant to this section is punishable as provided in Section 4532.

(i) The court may recommend or refer a person to the work furlough administrator for consideration for placement in the work furlough program or a particular work furlough facility. The recommendation or referral of the court shall be given great weight in the determination of acceptance or denial for placement in the work furlough program or a particular work furlough facility.

(j) As used in this section, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Education" includes vocational and educational training and counseling, and psychological, drug abuse, alcoholic, and other rehabilitative counseling.

(2) "Educator" includes a person or institution providing that training or counseling.

(3) "Employment" includes care of children, including the daytime care of children of the prisoner.

(4) "Job training" may include, but shall not be limited to, job training assistance as provided through the Job Training Partnership Act (Public Law 97-300; 29 U.S.C.A. Sec. 1501 et seq.).

(k) This section shall be known and may be cited as the "Cobey Work Furlough Law."

SEC. 2. Section 6031.4 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

6031.4. (a) For the purpose of this title, "local detention facility" means any city, county, city and county, or regional facility used for the confinement for more than 24 hours of adults, or of both adults and minors, but does not include that portion of a facility for the confinement of both adults and minors which is devoted only to the confinement of minors.

(b) In addition to those provided for in subdivision (a), for the purposes of this title, "local detention facility" also includes any city, county, city and county, or regional facility, constructed on or after January 1, 1978, used for the confinement, regardless of the length of confinement, of adults or of both adults and minors, but does not include that portion of a facility for the confinement of both adults and minors which is devoted only to the confinement of minors.

(c) "Local detention facility" also includes any adult detention facility, exclusive of any facility operated by the California Department of Corrections or any facility holding inmates pursuant to Section 2910.5, Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 3410) of Title 2 of, Chapter 9.2 (commencing with Section 6220) of Title 7 of, Chapter 9.5 (commencing with Section 6250) of Title 7 of, or Chapter 9.6 (commencing with Section 6260) of Title 7 of, Part 3, that holds local prisoners under contract on behalf of cities, counties, or cities and counties. Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed as affecting or authorizing the establishment of private detention facilities.

(d) For purposes of this title, a local detention facility does not include those rooms that are used for holding persons for interviews, interrogations, or investigations, and are either separate from a jail or located in the administrative area of a law enforcement facility.

SEC. 3. Section 6031.6 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

6031.6. (a) Any privately operated local detention facility responsible for the custody and control of any local prisoner shall, as required by subdivision (a) of Section 1208, operate pursuant to a contract with the city, county, or city and county, as appropriate.

(b) (1) Each contract shall include, but not be limited to, a provision whereby the private agency or entity agrees to operate in compliance with all appropriate state and local building, zoning, health, safety, and fire statutes, ordinances, and regulations, and with the minimum jail standards established by regulations adopted by the Board of Corrections, as set forth in Subchapter 4 (commencing with Section 1000) of Chapter 1 of Division 1 of Title 15 of the California Code of Regulations.

(2) The private agency or entity shall select and train its personnel in accordance with selection and training requirements adopted by the Board of Corrections as set forth in Subchapter 1 (commencing with Section 100) of Chapter 1 of Division 1 of Title 15 of the California Code of Regulations.

(3) The failure of a privately operated local detention facility to comply with the appropriate health, safety, and fire laws, or with the minimum jail standards adopted by the Board of Corrections, may constitute grounds for the termination of the contract.

(c) Upon the discovery of a failure of a privately operated local detention facility to comply with the requirements of subdivision (b), the local governmental entity shall notify the director of the facility that sanctions shall be applied or the contract shall be canceled if the specified deficiencies are not corrected within 60 days.

SEC. 4. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Section 11001.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and to amend Sections 5720, 5724, 14021, and 14115.8 of, to add Section 5667 to, and to repeal Section 5601.5 of, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to public social services, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) The Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990 (Public Law 101-508) provides for the inclusion of community mental health centers as a provider of services for purposes of furnishing partial hospitalization services, and authorizes Medicare Part B coverage for partial hospitalization services furnished by community mental health services, effective on or after October 1991.

(b) (1) County-operated mental health programs and their eligible contract providers in California meet the criteria set forth in the federal Public Health Services Act, contained in Chapter 6A (commencing with Section 201) of Title 42 of the United States Code, for certification as community mental health centers.

(2) For the purposes of paragraph (1), county mental health programs with performance contracts with the State Department of Mental Health are designated as community mental health centers.

(3) For purposes of paragraph (2), "community mental health centers" means entities that provide the services specified in Section 1916(c)(4) of the federal Public Health Services Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 300x-4(c)(4)).

SEC. 2. It is the intent of the Legislature that county mental health programs apply to be certified as community mental health center providers to better serve Medicare beneficiaries with mental illness.

SEC. 3. Section 11001.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

11001.5. (a) Notwithstanding Section 11001, and except as provided in subdivision (b), 24.33 percent of the moneys collected by the department under this part shall be reported monthly to the Controller, and at the same time, deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the Local Revenue Fund, as established pursuant to Section 17600 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. All other moneys collected by the department under this part shall continue to be deposited to the credit of the Motor Vehicle License Fee Account in the Transportation Tax Fund and allocated to each city, county, and city and county as otherwise provided by law.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 11001, net funds collected as a result of procedures developed for greater compliance with vehicle license fee laws in order to increase the amount of vehicle license fee collections shall be reported monthly to the Controller, and at the same time, deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the Vehicle License Fee Collection Account of the Local Revenue Fund as established pursuant to Section 17600 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. All revenues in excess of fourteen million dollars

($14,000,000) in any fiscal year shall be allocated to cities and counties as specified in subdivisions (c) and (d) of Section 11005.

(c) Notwithstanding Section 11001, 25.72 percent of the moneys collected by the department on or after August 1, 1991, and before August 1, 1992, under this part shall be reported monthly to the Controller, and at the same time, deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the Local Revenue Fund, as established pursuant to Section 17600 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. All other moneys collected by the department under this part shall continue to be deposited to the credit of the Motor Vehicle License Fee Account in the Transportation Tax Fund and allocated to each city, county, and city and county as otherwise provided by law.

(d) This section shall cease to be operative on the first day of the month following the month in which the Department of Motor Vehicles is notified by the Department of Finance of a final judicial determination by the California Supreme Court or any California court of appeal of either of the following:

(1) The allocation of funds from the Vehicle License Fee Account or the Vehicle License Fee Growth Account of the Local Revenue Fund established during the 1991–92 Regular Session is in violation of Section 15 of Article XI of the California Constitution.

(2) The state is obligated to reimburse counties for costs of providing medical services to medically indigent adults pursuant to Chapters 328 and 1594 of the Statutes of 1982.

SEC. 4. Section 5601.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 5667 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

5667. (a) A community mental health center shall be considered to be a licensed facility for all purposes, including all provisions of the Health and Safety Code and the Insurance Code.

(b) For purposes of this section, "community mental health center" means any entity that is one of the following:

(1) A city or county mental health program.

(2) A facility funded under the federal Community Mental Health Centers Act, contained in Subchapter 3 (commencing with Section 2681) of Chapter 33 of Title 42 of the United States Code.

(3) A nonprofit agency that has been certified to provide services under this part that provides both of the following:

(A) A comprehensive program of mental health services in an outpatient setting designed to improve the function of persons with diagnosed mental health problems pursuant to procedures governing all aspects of the program formulated with the aid of multidisciplinary staff, including physicians and surgeons, all of whom serve on quality assurance and utilization review committees.

(B) Diagnostic and therapeutic services for individuals with diagnosed mental health problems, together with related counseling.

SEC. 6. Section 5720 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

5720. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the director, in the 1993–94 fiscal year and fiscal years thereafter, subject to the approval of the Director of Health Services, shall establish the amount of reimbursement for services provided by county mental health programs to Medi-Cal eligible individuals.

(b) Notwithstanding this section, in the event that a health facility has entered into a negotiated rate agreement pursuant to Article 2.6 (commencing with Section 14081) of Chapter 7 of Part 4 of Division 9, the facility's rates shall be governed by that agreement.

SEC. 7. Section 5724 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

5724. (a) The department and the State Department of Health Services shall jointly develop a new ratesetting methodology for use in the Short-Doyle Medi-Cal system that maximizes federal funding and utilizes, as much as practicable, federal medicare reimbursement principles. The departments shall work with the counties and the federal Health Care Financing Administration in the development of the methodology required by this section.

(b) Rates developed through the methodology required by this section shall apply only to reimbursement for direct client services.

(c) Administrative costs shall be claimed separately and shall be limited to 15 percent of the total cost of direct client services.

(d) The cost of performing utilization reviews shall be claimed separately and shall not be included in administrative cost.

(e) The ratesetting methodology established pursuant to this section shall contain incentives relating to economy and efficiency in service delivery.

(f) The rates established for direct client services pursuant to this section shall be based on increments of time for all noninpatient services.

(g) The ratesetting methodology shall not be implemented until it has received any necessary federal approvals.

SEC. 8. Section 14021 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14021. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, health care shall include the following mental health services:

(a) Mental health services provided by a county or a city.

(b) Mental health services provided in a Short-Doyle community mental health service or in a community mental health center organized under the Federal Community Mental Health Centers Act of 1963. No amount shall be paid for that portion of the total costs of care and services in a federally funded community mental health center which may be compensated by the United States government under the Community Mental Health Centers Act of 1963. No amount shall be paid to a Short-Doyle community mental health service or a federally funded community mental health center unless the Short-Doyle community mental health service or the federally funded community mental health center participates in a county or city mental health performance contract pursuant to Section 5650.

(c) Outpatient drug abuse services under the jurisdiction of the State Department of Alcohol and Drug Programs provided by a county provider certified under this chapter or a private provider certified under this chapter which has an approved contract with the county to provide covered drug abuse services.

(d) Inpatient hospital services in an institution for mental diseases to persons of all ages, provided that the institution for mental diseases is certified as a psychiatric hospital under Title XVIII of the federal Social Security Act and regulations issued thereunder.

Notwithstanding Section 14157, no money in the State Health Care Deposit Fund shall be expended for the purposes of this section unless the Legislature specifically appropriates money for the purposes of this section.

The amendment of this subdivision enacted at the 1972 Regular Session of the Legislature does not constitute a change in, but is declaratory of, the preexisting law.

(e) (1) Other diagnostic, screening, preventive, or remedial rehabilitative services for the maximum restoration of an individual to the best possible functional level.

(2) Paragraph (1) includes any medical or remedial services provided in a facility, home, or other setting, that are recommended by a physician or other licensed practitioner of the healing arts within the scope of his or her practice under state law.

SEC. 9. Section 14115.8 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14115.8. (a) Notwithstanding subdivision (a) of Section 14115, or any other provision of law, Short-Doyle Medi-Cal claims for mental health services provided to Medi-Cal beneficiaries shall be submitted not more than two months after the month in which the service is rendered.

(b) This section shall not apply to claims for services rendered during the 1993–94 fiscal year, including any claim for services provided in the 1993–94 fiscal year that is filed on or after July 1, 1993.

SEC. 10. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to apply this act to the 1993–94 fiscal year with the optimum administrative efficiency, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 789

An act to amend Sections 2932 and 12804.9 of the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2932 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

2932. The commissioner may, through contracts with other public agencies or with private entities, do all of the following:

(a) Provide financial or other support to projects aimed at enhancing motorcycle operation or safety, including, but not limited to, rider training programs. The rider training programs shall comply with criteria which the commissioner, in consultation with other state agencies and national motorcycle safety organizations, may adopt to provide validated rider safety training programs in the state.

(b) Sponsor and coordinate efforts aimed at increasing motorists' awareness of motorcyclists.

(c) Sponsor research into effective communication techniques to reach all highway users on matters of motorcyclist safety.

(d) Establish an advisory committee of persons from other state and local agencies with an interest in motorcycle safety; persons from the motorcycle industry; motorcycle safety organizations; motorcycle enthusiast organizations; and others with an interest in motorcycle safety, to assist in the establishment of a comprehensive program of motorcycle safety.

(e) Adopt standards for course content, contact hours, curriculum, instructor training and testing, and instructional quality control, and setting forth a maximum amount for course fees for the novice rider training course specified in subdivision (g) of Section 12804.9.

SEC. 2. Section 12804.9 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Section 26 of Chapter 272 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

12804.9. (a) (1) The examination shall include all of the following:

(A) A test of the applicant's knowledge and understanding of the provisions of this code governing the operation of vehicles upon the highways.

(B) A test of the applicant's ability to read and understand simple English used in highway traffic and directional signs.

(C) A test of the applicant's understanding of traffic signs and signals, including the bikeway signs, markers, and traffic control devices established by the Department of Transportation.

(D) An actual demonstration of the applicant's ability to exercise ordinary and reasonable control in operating a motor vehicle by driving it under the supervision of an examining officer. The applicant shall submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles he or she desires a license to drive, except that the department may waive the driving test part of the examination of any applicant who holds a valid license issued by another state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. The examining officer may request to see evidence of financial responsibility for the vehicle prior to supervising the demonstration of the applicant's ability to operate the vehicle. The examining officer may refuse to examine an applicant who is unable to provide proof of financial responsibility for the vehicle, unless proof of financial responsibility is not required by this code.

(E) A test of the hearing and eyesight of the applicant, and of other matters that may be necessary to determine the applicant's mental and physical fitness to operate a motor vehicle upon the highways, and whether any ground exists for refusal of a license under this code.

(2) The examination for a class A or class B license under subdivision (b) shall also include a report of a medical examination of the applicant given not more than two years prior to the date of the application by a physician licensed to practice medicine or by a licensed physician's assistant or nurse practitioner under the supervision of a physician and surgeon licensed to practice medicine. The report shall be on a form approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration. In establishing the requirements, consideration may be given to the standards presently required of motor carrier drivers by the Federal Highway Administration.

(3) Any physical defect of the applicant, which, in the opinion of the department, is compensated for to ensure safe driving ability, shall not prevent the issuance of a license to the applicant.

(b) Beginning on January 1, 1989, in accordance with the following classifications, any applicant for a driver's license shall be required to submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles the applicant desires a license to drive:

(1) Class A includes the following:

(A) Any combination of vehicles, if any vehicle being towed has a gross vehicle weight rating of more than 10,000 pounds.

(B) Any vehicle towing more than one vehicle.

(C) Any trailer bus.

(D) The operation of all vehicles under class B and class C.

(2) Class B includes the following:

(A) Any single vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating of more than 26,000 pounds.

(B) Any single vehicle with three or more axles, except any three-axle vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds.

(C) Any bus except a trailer bus.

(D) Any farm labor vehicle.

(E) Any single vehicle with three or more axles or a gross vehicle weight rating of more than 26,000 pounds towing another vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating of 10,000 pounds or less.

(F) The operation of all vehicles covered under class C.

(3) Class C includes the following:

(A) Any two-axle vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating of 26,000 pounds or less, including when the vehicle is towing a trailer or semitrailer with a gross vehicle weight rating of 10,000 pounds or less.

(B) Notwithstanding subparagraph (A), any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing a trailer coach not exceeding 9,000 pounds gross.

(C) Any housecar.

(D) Any three-axle vehicle weighing 6,000 pounds or less gross.

(E) Any housecar or vehicle towing another vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating of 10,000 pounds or less, including when a tow dolly is used. No vehicle shall tow another vehicle in violation of Section 21715.

(F) (i) Any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing either a trailer coach or a fifth-wheel travel trailer not exceeding 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight rating, when the towing of the trailer is not for compensation.

(ii) Any two-axle vehicle weighing 4,000 pounds or more unladen when towing a fifth-wheel travel trailer exceeding 10,000 pounds, but not exceeding 15,000 pounds, gross vehicle weight rating, when the towing of the trailer is not for compensation, and if the person has passed a specialized written examination provided by the department relating to the knowledge of this code and other safety aspects governing the towing of recreational vehicles upon the highway. The authority to operate combinations of vehicles under this subparagraph shall be granted by endorsement on a class C license upon completion of that written examination.

(G) Class C does not include any two-wheel motorcycle or any two-wheel motor-driven cycle.

(4) Class M1. Any two-wheel motorcycle. Authority to operate vehicles included in a class M1 license may be granted by endorsement on a class A, B, or C license upon completion of an appropriate examination.

(5) Class M2. Any two-wheel motor-driven cycle, including, but not limited to, a motorized bicycle or moped, or any bicycle with an attached motor. Authority to operate vehicles included in class M2 may be granted by endorsement on a class A, B, or C license upon completion of an appropriate examination. Persons holding a class M1 license or endorsement may operate vehicles included in class M2 without further examination.

(c) No driver's license or driver certificate shall be valid for operating any commercial motor vehicle, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, any other motor vehicle defined in paragraph

(1) or (2) of subdivision (b), or any other vehicle requiring a driver to hold any driver certificate or any driver's license endorsement under Section 15275, unless a medical certificate approved by the department, the Federal Highway Administration, or the Federal Aviation Administration, which has been issued within two years of the date of the operation of that vehicle, is within the licensee's immediate possession, and a copy of the medical examination report from which the certificate was issued is on file with the department. Otherwise the license shall be valid only for operating class C vehicles which are not commercial vehicles, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, and for operating class M1 or M2 vehicles, if so endorsed, which are not commercial vehicles, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210.

(d) A license or driver certificate issued prior to the enactment of Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 15200) shall be valid to operate the class or type of vehicles specified under the law in existence prior to that enactment until the license or certificate expires or is otherwise suspended, revoked, or canceled.

(e) The department may accept a certificate of driving skill that is issued by an employer, authorized by the department to issue a certificate under Section 15250, of the applicant, in lieu of a driving test, on class A or B applications, if the applicant has first qualified for a class C license and has met the other examination requirements for the license for which he or she is applying. The certificate may be submitted as evidence of the applicant's skill in the operation of the types of equipment covered by the license for which he or she is applying.

(f) The department may accept a certificate of competence in lieu of a driving test on class M1 or M2 applications, when the certificate is issued by a law enforcement agency for its officers who operate class M1 or M2 vehicles in their duties, if the applicant has met the other examination requirements for the license for which he or she is applying.

(g) The department may accept a certificate of satisfactory completion of a novice motorcyclist training program approved by the commissioner pursuant to Section 2932 in lieu of a driving test on class M1 or M2 applications, if the applicant has met the other examination requirements for the license for which he or she is applying. The department shall review and approve the written and driving test used by a program to determine whether the program may issue a certificate of completion.

(h) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), any person holding a valid California driver's license of any class may operate a short-term rental motorized bicycle without taking any special examination for the operation of a motorized bicycle, and without having a class M2 endorsement on that license. As used in this paragraph, "short-term" means 48 hours or less.

(i) No person under the age of 21 years shall be issued a class M1 or M2 license or endorsement unless he or she provides evidence satisfactory to the department of completion of a motorcycle safety training program that is operated pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 2930) of Chapter 5 of Division 2.

(j) Drivers of vanpool vehicles, may operate with class C licenses, but shall possess evidence of a medical examination required for a class B license when operating vanpool vehicles. In order to be eligible to drive the vanpool vehicle, the driver shall keep in the vanpool vehicle a statement, signed under penalty of perjury, that he or she has not been convicted of reckless driving, drunk driving, or a hit and run offense in the last five years.

(k) During the implementation of this section, from January 1, 1989, through December 31, 1992, provisions of this code pertaining to persons holding class 1, 2, 3, or 4 licenses pursuant to Section 12804, shall apply to persons holding class A, B, C, M1, or M2 licenses pursuant to this section, to the extent that class A, B, C, M1, or M2 vehicles under this section fall within the definition of class 1, 2, 3, or 4 vehicles under Section 12804.

(l) A class M license issued between January 1, 1989, and December 31, 1992, shall permit the holder to operate any motorcycle, motor-driven cycle, or motorized bicycle until the expiration of the license.

(m) The amendments made to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) by Chapter 1270 of the Statutes of 1989 shall become operative only after federal regulations are adopted which permit physician's assistants and nurse practitioners to complete the physicals described in that paragraph.

CHAPTER 790

An act to add Section 12470.1 to the Government Code, relating to the Controller.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12470.1 is added to the Government Code, to read:

12470.1. The Trustees of the California State University, in conjunction with the Controller, shall do both of the following:

(a) Conduct an analysis of the various means of developing an electronic interface between the Human Resources Information Systems of the campuses of the California State University and the Controller's personnel and payroll system. Notwithstanding Section 7550.5, the trustees shall report the results of that study and make recommendations for future action to the Legislature by January 1, 1995.

(b) Implement a pilot project on three campuses to reduce the time required for California State University vendors to receive payment by authorizing the university to make payments directly to vendors from its revolving fund. Notwithstanding Sections 16400 and 16402, the three campuses involved in the pilot project may draw from funds appropriated to the California State University, for use as a revolving fund, amounts necessary to make payments directly to vendors, and those payments shall be considered an authorized use. Under the pilot project, the university shall maintain records on the three campuses for three years and make those records available to the Controller for postaudit review, as needed. The pilot project shall be operative for a period of two years, commencing April 1, 1994. Notwithstanding Section 7550.5, the trustees shall report the results of the pilot project and make recommendations for future action to the Legislature by January 1, 1997.

The California State University shall reimburse the Controller's office for any net cost resulting from the pilot project. It is the intent of the Legislature that an expansion of the pilot project beyond three university campuses be accomplished by a constitutional amendment to modify the duties of the Controller.

CHAPTER 791

An act to amend Section 36500 of the Public Resources Code, relating to ocean resources.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 36500 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

36500. The task force shall prepare a report regarding existing ocean resources management activities and impacts, including a plan to increase coordination and consolidation of these activities. The report and plan shall be submitted to the Governor and the Legislature by July 1, 1994. The report and plan shall include, to the degree information is available, at least all of the following:

(a) Inventory of state and federal laws, rules and regulations, authorities, and programs which pertain to the resources and uses of state and federal waters.

(b) Analysis of state laws, rules and regulations, authorities, and programs which pertain to the resources and uses of state and federal waters, and which conflict with one another or with federal laws, rules and regulations, authorities, and programs.

(c) Identification of existing and potential resources and uses of, and issues pertaining to, the ocean, and of potential new industries and jobs related to development of ocean resources and uses.

(d) Identification of potential impacts to federal and state waters and to coastal areas above the mean high tide line from activities in federal and state waters, and an evaluation of state agency ability to manage those impacts.

(e) Identification of all existing state and federal programs relating to federal and state waters pollution research and monitoring, including general research on the marine ecosystem.

(f) Evaluation of the feasibility of developing computerized mapping of existing conditions, uses, and resources in federal and state waters.

(g) A long-term plan for conservation and protection of ocean resources and uses.

(h) A long-term plan for the management of California's interests in federal waters, including recommendations to develop or improve state agency programs relating to the management of EEZ resources and uses, and the identification of issues which may affect local government local coastal programs.

(i) A plan for the continuation and improvement of the role of the state as a leader in education, research, and training in marine sciences and the management of marine resources, including recommendations for state-supported marine research in state and federal waters.

(j) A plan for cooperation by the state with other states, the federal government, other nations, and national and international organizations in marine science activities when that cooperation is in the interest of the State of California.

(k) A plan for options for ensuring appropriate public infrastructure investment to support present and future ocean industries.

(l) Prioritization of resource and use conflicts in federal and state waters.

(m) Identification of alternative dispute management and resolution processes for resource conflicts in and between federal and state jurisdictions, and a proposed framework for managing future conflicts.

(n) A plan for joint federal and state management activities and revenue sharing in state and federal waters.

(o) Recommendations for proposed implementing legislation, if any.

CHAPTER 792

An act to amend Sections 4560 and 4563 of the Government Code, and to add Section 99161 to the Public Utilities Code, relating to child care.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4560 of the Government Code is amended to read:

4560. The Legislature finds and declares that there is a substantial need to provide adequate child care facilities for state employees.

When the state constructs, acquires, or receives as a gift any office building which can accommodate 700 or more state employees, or when additions, alterations, or repairs are made to existing state-owned office buildings which can accommodate 700 or more state employees, and the additions, alterations, or repairs both change and affect the use of 25 percent of the net square feet area of the building and include the addition to, alteration of, or repair of the first floor, adequate space shall be designated within the building to meet the child care needs of those employees, if a review of those employees slated to occupy the new or renovated building shows sufficient need for child care services for 30 or more children. The review shall be conducted by the Department of General Services and the Child Development Programs Advisory Committee established pursuant to Section 8286 of the Education Code. The Director of General Services may secure space in any adequate facility for the same purposes only in the event that all other physical requirements controlling the development of the child care facilities within the office building cannot be utilized, provided that funds for the off-site facilities are made available.

It is the intent of the Legislature that existing state office buildings, at the discretion of the Director of General Services, may be retrofitted to accommodate a child care facility. State funds required for the retrofitting shall be subject to regular budgetary procedures and approvals.

Space designed within a state-owned office building for the child care facility shall comply with the prevailing local and state safety building codes for child care facilities.

The indoor area shall not exceed 2,100 square feet, nor be less than that required to accommodate 30 children, excluding space for restrooms, kitchen facilities, storage areas, and teacher offices. Outdoor play area space shall correspond with the indoor play area as set forth in Title 22 of the California Administrative Code.

Utilization of the space shall be subject to terms and conditions as set forth by the Director of General Services. The terms shall include payment of rent, proof of financial responsibility, and maintenance of space. The space shall be made available to the employees who wish to establish child care facilities at a rate to be established by the Director of General Services based upon the actual cost to the state, the average cost of state-owned space in the area, or the statewide average cost of state-owned space, whichever is less.

The employee-occupants shall be notified in writing by the department or departments occupying the building, of the availability of space to be used for a child care facility no earlier than 180 days prior to the projected date of occupancy of a new building or space provided as the result of additions, alterations, or repairs to an existing state-owned building, and the additions, alterations, or repairs that both change and affect the use of 25 percent of the net square feet area of the building and include the addition to, alteration of, or repair of the first floor. If, within 30 days after full occupancy of a new office building or 30 days after the completion of additions, alterations, or repairs to an existing state-owned office building, the employee-occupants so desiring have not filed an application with the Secretary of State as a nonprofit corporation for the purpose of organizing a child care center, deposited two months' rent in a commercial or savings account, and entered into a contract with the Department of General Services, the space may be used for any other purpose, as long as no permanent alteration of the space occurs. Other purposes may include, but are not limited to, conference rooms, storage areas, or offices. The space for child care shall be held for the employee-occupants' nonprofit corporation only as long as they pay the monthly rent and meet the terms set forth in the contract. Payment of rent shall commence 30 days after full occupancy of a new office building or 30 days after completion of additions, alterations, or repairs, as specified in this section.

If at a later date, the employee-occupants so desiring (a) file an application with the Secretary of State as a nonprofit corporation for the purpose of organizing a child care facility, (b) deposit two month's rent in a commercial or savings account, and (c) notify the Director of General Services of those actions, then the space shall be reconverted for child care purposes within 180 days of the notice.

Children of whom at least one parent or guardian is a state employee shall be given priority admission, over other children, to the child care facility.

When a child care center has been operative for five years, the Director of General Services shall assess the child care needs of the state employees using the center and the office space needs of the building within which the center is located. If the assessment demonstrates a greater need for office space than for child care, the Director of General Services may close the child care center. Ninety days' written notice shall be given to the director or head teacher of the center of the closure.

This section shall not be construed to apply to those buildings which provide care or 24-hour residential care for patients, inmates, or wards of the state, such as state hospitals and correctional facilities.

SEC. 2. Section 4563 of the Government Code is amended to read:

4563. (a) Sections 4560, 4561, and 4562 are not applicable to any state-owned transportation facility.

(b) Space at a state-owned transportation facility may be leased by competitive bid, taking into consideration affordability and quality of care, to a child care operator who has obtained licensure as required by Section 1596.80 of the Health and Safety Code. First priority for child care services provided by the center shall be given to children of state employees who work at the transportation facility and second priority shall be given to children of users of the transportation facility.

(c) No state funds shall be provided to any child care operator pursuant to this section unless all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The child care facility is open to children without regard to any child's religious beliefs or any other factor related to religion.

(2) No religious instruction is included in the child care program.

(3) The space in which the child care program is operated is not utilized in any manner to foster religion during the time it is used for child care.

(d) The Legislature finds and declares that the use of public property or facilities for the purpose of furnishing child care services for the benefit of persons using public transit is in the public interest and serves a public purpose.

SEC. 3. Section 99161 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

99161. (a) Space at a publicly owned transportation facility may be leased by competitive bid, taking into consideration affordability and quality of care, to a child care operator who has obtained licensure as required by Section 1596.80 of the Health and Safety Code. Priority for child care services provided by the center shall be given to the children of public agency employees who work at the transportation facility and children of users of the transportation facility.

(b) No state funds shall be provided to any child care operator pursuant to this section unless all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The child care facility is open to children without regard to any child's religious beliefs or any other factor related to religion.

(2) No religious instruction is included in the child care program.

(3) The space in which the child care program is operated is not utilized in any manner to foster religion during the time it is used for child care.

(c) The Legislature finds and declares that the use of publicly owned transportation facilities for the purpose of furnishing child care services for the benefit of persons using public transit is in the public interest and serves a public purpose.

CHAPTER 793

An act to amend Section 708.110 of, and to repeal Section 1167.6 of, the Code of Civil Procedure, and to amend Section 602 of the Penal Code, relating to service of process.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 708.110 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

708.110. (a) The judgment creditor may apply to the proper court for an order requiring the judgment debtor to appear before the court, or before a referee appointed by the court, at a time and place specified in the order, to furnish information to aid in enforcement of the money judgment.

(b) If the judgment creditor has not caused the judgment debtor to be examined under this section during the preceding 120 days, the court shall make the order upon ex parte application of the judgment creditor.

(c) If the judgment creditor has caused the judgment debtor to be examined under this section during the preceding 120 days, the court shall make the order if the judgment creditor by affidavit or otherwise shows good cause for the order. The application shall be made on noticed motion if the court so directs or a court rule so requires. Otherwise, it may be made ex parte.

(d) The judgment creditor shall personally serve a copy of the order on the judgment debtor not less than 10 days before the date set for the examination. Service shall be made in the manner specified in Section 415.10. Service of the order creates a lien on the personal property of the judgment debtor for a period of one year from the date of the order unless extended or sooner terminated by the court.

(e) The order shall contain the following statement in 14-point boldface type if printed or in capital letters if typed: "NOTICE TO JUDGMENT DEBTOR. If you fail to appear at the time and place specified in this order, you may be subject to arrest and punishment for contempt of court and the court may make an order requiring you to pay the reasonable attorney's fees incurred by the judgment creditor in this proceeding."

SEC. 2. Section 1167.6 of the Code of Civil Procedure is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 602 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

602. Except as provided in Section 602.8, every person who willfully commits a trespass by any of the following acts is guilty of a misdemeanor:

(a) Cutting down, destroying, or injuring any kind of wood or timber standing or growing upon the lands of another.

(b) Carrying away any kind of wood or timber lying on those lands.

(c) Maliciously injuring or severing from the freehold of another anything attached to it, or its produce.

(d) Digging, taking, or carrying away from any lot situated within the limits of any incorporated city, without the license of the owner or legal occupant, any earth, soil, or stone.

(e) Digging, taking, or carrying away from land in any city or town laid down on the map or plan of the city, or otherwise recognized or established as a street, alley, avenue, or park, without the license of the proper authorities, any earth, soil, or stone.

(f) Maliciously tearing down, damaging, mutilating, or destroying any sign, signboard, or notice placed upon, or affixed to, any property belonging to the state, or to any city, county, city and county, town or village, or upon any property of any person, by the state or by an automobile association, which sign, signboard or notice is intended to indicate or designate a road, or a highway, or is intended to direct travelers from one point to another, or relates to fires, fire control, or any other matter involving the protection of the property, or putting up, affixing, fastening, printing, or painting upon any property belonging to the state, or to any city, county, town, or village, or dedicated to the public, or upon any property of any person, without license from the owner, any notice, advertisement, or designation of, or any name for any commodity, whether for sale or otherwise, or any picture, sign, or device intended to call attention to it.

(g) Entering upon any lands owned by any other person whereon oysters or other shellfish are planted or growing; or injuring, gathering, or carrying away any oysters or other shellfish planted, growing, or on any such lands, whether covered by water or not, without the license of the owner or legal occupant; or destroying or removing, or causing to be removed or destroyed, any stakes, marks, fences, or signs intended to designate the boundaries and limits of any such lands.

(h) Willfully opening, tearing down, or otherwise destroying any fence on the enclosed land of another, or opening any gate, bar, or fence of another and willfully leaving it open without the written permission of the owner, or maliciously tearing down, mutilating, or destroying any sign, signboard, or other notice forbidding shooting on private property.

(i) Building fires upon any lands owned by another where signs forbidding trespass are displayed at intervals not greater than one mile along the exterior boundaries and at all roads and trails entering the lands, without first having obtained written permission from the owner of the lands or the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession.

(j) Entering any lands, whether unenclosed or enclosed by fence, for the purpose of injuring any property or property rights or with the intention of interfering with, obstructing, or injuring any lawful business or occupation carried on by the owner of the land, the owner's agent or by the person in lawful possession.

(k) Entering any lands under cultivation or enclosed by fence, belonging to, or occupied by, another, or entering upon uncultivated or unenclosed lands where signs forbidding trespass are displayed at intervals not less than three to the mile along all exterior boundaries and at all roads and trails entering the lands without the written permission of the owner of the land, the owner's agent or of the person in lawful possession, and

(2) Tearing down, mutilating, or destroying any sign, signboard, or notice forbidding trespass or hunting on the lands, or

(3) Removing, injuring, unlocking, or tampering with any lock on any gate on or leading into the lands, or

(4) Discharging any firearm.

(l) Entering and occupying real property or structures of any kind without the consent of the owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession.

(m) Driving any vehicle, as defined in Section 670 of the Vehicle Code, upon real property belonging to, or lawfully occupied by, another and known not to be open to the general public, without the consent of the owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession. This subdivision shall not apply to any person described in Section 22350 of the Business and Professions Code who is making a lawful service of process.

(n) Refusing or failing to leave land, real property, or structures belonging to or lawfully occupied by another and not open to the general public, upon being requested to leave by (1) a peace officer at the request of the owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession, and upon being informed by the peace officer that he or she is acting at the request of the owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession, or (2) the owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession. The owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession shall make a separate request to the peace officer on each occasion when the peace officer's assistance in dealing with a trespass is requested. However, a single request for a peace officer's assistance may be made to cover a limited period of time not to exceed 30 days and identified by specific dates, during which there is a fire hazard or the owner, owner's agent or person in lawful possession is absent from the premises or property. In addition, a single request for a peace officer's assistance may be made for a period not to exceed six months when the premises or property is closed to the public and posted as being closed. However, this subdivision shall not be applicable to persons engaged in lawful labor union activities which are permitted to be carried out on the property by the California Agricultural Labor Relations Act, Part 3.5 (commencing with Section 1140) of Division 2 of the Labor Code, or by the National Labor Relations Act. For purposes of this section, land, real property, or structures owned or operated by any housing authority for tenants as defined under Section 34213.5 of the Health and Safety Code constitutes property not open to the general public; however, this subdivision shall not apply to persons on the premises who are engaging in activities protected by the California or United States Constitution, or to persons who are on the premises at the request of a resident or management and who are not loitering or otherwise suspected of violating or actually violating any law or ordinance.

(o) Entering upon any lands declared closed to entry as provided in Section 4256 of the Public Resources Code, if the closed areas shall have been posted with notices declaring the closure, at intervals not greater than one mile along the exterior boundaries or along roads and trails passing through the lands.

(p) Refusing or failing to leave a public building of a public agency during those hours of the day or night when the building is regularly closed to the public upon being requested to do so by a regularly employed guard, watchman, or custodian of the public agency owning or maintaining the building or property, if the surrounding circumstances are such as to indicate to a reasonable person that the person has no apparent lawful business to pursue.

(q) Knowingly skiing in an area or on a ski trail which is closed to the public and which has signs posted indicating the closure.

(r) Refusing or failing to leave a hotel or motel, where he or she has obtained accommodations and has refused to pay for those accommodations, upon request of the proprietor or manager, and the occupancy is exempt, pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1940 of the Civil Code, from Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1940) of Title 5 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code.

(s) Entering upon private property, including contiguous land, real property, or structures thereon belonging to the same owner, whether or not generally open to the public, after having been informed by a peace officer at the request of the owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession, and upon being informed by the peace officer that he or she is acting at the request of the owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession, that the property is not open to the particular person; or refusing or failing to leave the property upon being asked to leave the property in the manner provided in this subdivision.

This subdivision shall apply only to a person who has been convicted of a violent felony, as specified in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, committed upon the particular private property. A single notification or request to the person as set forth above shall be valid and enforceable under this subdivision unless and until rescinded by the owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession of the property.

(t) (1) Knowingly entering, by an unauthorized person, upon any airport operations area if the area has been posted with notices restricting access to authorized personnel only and the postings occur not greater than every 150 feet along the exterior boundary.

(2) Any person convicted of a violation of paragraph (1) shall be punished as follows:

(A) By a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100).

(B) By imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), or both, if the person refuses to leave the airport operations area after being requested to leave by a peace officer.

(C) By imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), or both, for a second or subsequent offense.

(3) As used in this subdivision, the following definitions shall control:

(A) "Airport operations area" means that part of the airport used by aircraft for landing, taking off, surface maneuvering, loading and unloading, refueling, parking, or maintenance, where aircraft support vehicles and facilities exist, and which is not for public use or public vehicular traffic.

(B) "Authorized personnel" means any person who has a valid airport identification card issued by the airport operator or has a valid airline identification card recognized by the airport operator, or any person not in possession of an airport or airline identification card who is being escorted for legitimate purposes by a person with an airport or airline identification card.

(C) "Airport" means any facility whose function is to support commercial aviation.

SEC. 3.5. Section 602 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

602. Except as provided in Section 602.8, every person who willfully commits a trespass by any of the following acts is guilty of a misdemeanor:

(a) Cutting down, destroying, or injuring any kind of wood or timber standing or growing upon the lands of another.

(b) Carrying away any kind of wood or timber lying on those lands.

(c) Maliciously injuring or severing from the freehold of another anything attached to it, or its produce.

(d) Digging, taking, or carrying away from any lot situated within the limits of any incorporated city, without the license of the owner or legal occupant, any earth, soil, or stone.

(e) Digging, taking, or carrying away from land in any city or town laid down on the map or plan of the city, or otherwise recognized or established as a street, alley, avenue, or park, without the license of the proper authorities, any earth, soil, or stone.

to indicate or designate a road, or a highway, or is intended to direct travelers from one point to another, or relates to fires, fire control, or any other matter involving the protection of the property, or putting up, affixing, fastening, printing, or painting upon any property belonging to the state, or to any city, county, town, or village, or dedicated to the public, or upon any property of any person, without license from the owner, any notice, advertisement, or designation of, or any name for any commodity, whether for sale or otherwise, or any picture, sign, or device intended to call attention to it.

(g) Entering upon any lands owned by any other person whereon oysters or other shellfish are planted or growing; or injuring, gathering, or carrying away any oysters or other shellfish planted, growing, or on any such lands, whether covered by water or not, without the license of the owner or legal occupant; or destroying or removing, or causing to be removed or destroyed, any stakes, marks, fences, or signs intended to designate the boundaries and limits of any such lands.

(h) Willfully opening, tearing down, or otherwise destroying any fence on the enclosed land of another, or opening any gate, bar, or fence of another and willfully leaving it open without the written permission of the owner, or maliciously tearing down, mutilating, or destroying any sign, signboard, or other notice forbidding shooting on private property.

(i) Building fires upon any lands owned by another where signs forbidding trespass are displayed at intervals not greater than one mile along the exterior boundaries and at all roads and trails entering the lands, without first having obtained written permission from the owner of the lands or the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession.

(j) Entering any lands, whether unenclosed or enclosed by fence, for the purpose of injuring any property or property rights or with the intention of interfering with, obstructing, or injuring any lawful business or occupation carried on by the owner of the land, the owner's agent or by the person in lawful possession.

(k) Entering any lands under cultivation or enclosed by fence, belonging to, or occupied by, another, or entering upon uncultivated or unenclosed lands where signs forbidding trespass are displayed at intervals not less than three to the mile along all exterior boundaries and at all roads and trails entering the lands without the written permission of the owner of the land, the owner's agent or of the person in lawful possession, and

(2) Tearing down, mutilating, or destroying any sign, signboard, or notice forbidding trespass or hunting on the lands, or

(3) Removing, injuring, unlocking, or tampering with any lock on any gate on or leading into the lands, or

(4) Discharging any firearm.

(l) Entering and occupying real property or structures of any kind without the consent of the owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession.

(m) Driving any vehicle, as defined in Section 670 of the Vehicle Code, upon real property belonging to, or lawfully occupied by, another and known not to be open to the general public, without the consent of the owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession. This subdivision shall not apply to any person described in Section 22350 of the Business and Professions Code who is making a lawful service of process.

(n) Refusing or failing to leave land, real property, or structures belonging to or lawfully occupied by another and not open to the general public, upon being requested to leave by (1) a peace officer at the request of the owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession, and upon being informed by the peace officer that he or she is acting at the request of the owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession, or (2) the owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession. The owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession shall make a separate request to the peace officer on each occasion when the peace officer's assistance in dealing with a trespass is requested. However, a single request for a peace officer's assistance may be made to cover a limited period of time not to exceed 30 days and identified by specific dates, during which there is a fire hazard or the owner, owner's agent or person in lawful possession is absent from the premises or property. In addition, a single request for a peace officer's assistance may be made for a period not to exceed six months when the premises or property is closed to the public and posted as being closed. However, this subdivision shall not be applicable to persons engaged in lawful labor union activities which are permitted to be carried out on the property by the California Agricultural Labor Relations Act, Part 3.5 (commencing with Section 1140) of Division 2 of the Labor Code, or by the National Labor Relations Act. For purposes of this section, land, real property, or structures owned or operated by any housing authority for tenants as defined under Section 34213.5 of the Health and Safety Code constitutes property not open to the general public; however, this subdivision shall not apply to persons on the premises who are engaging in activities protected by the California or United States Constitution, or to persons who are on the premises at the request of a resident or management and who are not loitering or otherwise suspected of violating or actually violating any law or ordinance.

(o) Entering upon any lands declared closed to entry as provided in Section 4256 of the Public Resources Code, if the closed areas shall have been posted with notices declaring the closure, at intervals not greater than one mile along the exterior boundaries or along roads and trails passing through the lands.

(p) Refusing or failing to leave a public building of a public agency during those hours of the day or night when the building is regularly closed to the public upon being requested to do so by a regularly employed guard, watchman, or custodian of the public agency owning or maintaining the building or property, if the surrounding circumstances are such as to indicate to a reasonable person that the person has no apparent lawful business to pursue.

(q) Knowingly skiing in an area or on a ski trail which is closed to the public and which has signs posted indicating the closure.

(r) Refusing or failing to leave a hotel or motel, where he or she has obtained accommodations and has refused to pay for those accommodations, upon request of the proprietor or manager, and the occupancy is exempt, pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1940 of the Civil Code, from Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1940) of Title 5 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code.

(s) Entering upon private property, including contiguous land, real property, or structures thereon belonging to the same owner, whether or not generally open to the public, after having been informed by a peace officer at the request of the owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession, and upon being informed by the peace officer that he or she is acting at the request of the owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession, that the property is not open to the particular person; or refusing or failing to leave the property upon being asked to leave the property in the manner provided in this subdivision.

This subdivision shall apply only to a person who has been convicted of a violent felony, as specified in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, committed upon the particular private property. A single notification or request to the person as set forth above shall be valid and enforceable under this subdivision unless and until rescinded by the owner, the owner's agent, or the person in lawful possession of the property.

(t) (1) Knowingly entering, by an unauthorized person, upon any airport operations area if the area has been posted with notices restricting access to authorized personnel only and the postings occur not greater than every 150 feet along the exterior boundary.

(2) Any person convicted of a violation of paragraph (1) shall be punished as follows:

(A) By a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100).

(B) By imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), or both, if the person refuses to leave the airport operations area after being requested to leave by a peace officer.

(C) By imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), or both, for a second or subsequent offense.

(3) As used in this subdivision the following definitions shall control:

(A) "Airport operations area" means that part of the airport used by aircraft for landing, taking off, surface maneuvering, loading and unloading, refueling, parking, or maintenance, where aircraft support vehicles and facilities exist, and which is not for public use or public vehicular traffic.

(B) "Authorized personnel" means any person who has a valid airport identification card issued by the airport operator or has a valid airline identification card recognized by the airport operator, or any person not in possession of an airport or airline identification card who is being escorted for legitimate purposes by a person with an airport or airline identification card.

(C) "Airport" means any facility whose function is to support commercial aviation.

(u) Refusing or failing to leave a battered women's shelter at any time after being requested to leave by a managing authority of the shelter.

(1) A person who is convicted of violating this subdivision shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail for not more than one year.

(2) The court may order a defendant who is convicted of violating this subdivision to make restitution to a battered woman in an amount equal to the relocation expenses of the battered woman and her children if those expenses are incurred as a result of trespass by the defendant at a battered women's shelter.

SEC. 4. In repealing Section 1167.6 of the Code of Civil Procedure, it is the intent of the Legislature that the Legislature should enact new provisions designed to provide notice regarding a potential stay of eviction procedures for the spouses and dependent children of members of the California National Guard or United States Military Reserve who are called to active duty in the event of a future military conflict.

SEC. 5. Section 3.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 602 of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill and AB 284. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1994, (2) each bill amends Section 602 of the Penal Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 284, in which case Section 3 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 794

An act to amend Sections 2333, 7250, and 8488 of the Probate Code, relating to guardianship and conservatorship.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2333 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2333. (a) In case of a breach of a condition of the bond, an action may be brought against the sureties on the bond for the use and benefit of the ward or conservatee or of any person interested in the estate.

(b) No action may be maintained against the sureties on the bond unless commenced within four years from the discharge or removal of the guardian or conservator or within four years from the date the order surcharging the guardian or conservator becomes final, whichever is later.

(c) In any case, and notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (b) of Section 2103, no action may be maintained against the sureties on the bond unless the action commences within six years from the date the judgment under Section 2103 or the later of the orders under subdivision (b) of this section becomes final.

SEC. 2. Section 7250 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

7250. (a) When a judgment or order made pursuant to the provisions of this code concerning the administration of the decedent's estate becomes final, it releases the personal representative and the sureties from all claims of the heirs or devisees and of any persons affected thereby based upon any act or omission directly authorized, approved, or confirmed in the judgment or order. For the purposes of this section, "order" includes an order settling an account of the personal representative, whether an interim or final account.

(b) Nothing in this section affects any order, judgment, or decree made, or any action taken, before July 1, 1988. The validity of any action taken before July 1, 1988, is determined by the applicable law in effect before July 1, 1988, and not by this section.

(c) This section shall not apply where the judgment or order is obtained by fraud or conspiracy or by misrepresentation contained in the petition or account or in the judgment as to any material fact. For purposes of this subdivision, misrepresentation includes, but shall not be limited to, the omission of a material fact.

SEC. 3. Section 8488 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

8488. (a) In case of a breach of a condition of the bond, an action may be brought against the sureties on the bond for the use and benefit of the decedent's estate or of any person interested in the estate.

(b) No action may be maintained against the sureties on the bond of the personal representative unless commenced not later than four years after the discharge of the personal representative.

(c) In any case, and notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (c) of Section 7250, no action may be maintained against the sureties on the bond unless commenced within six years from the date the judgment under Section 2103 or the later of the orders under subdivision (b) of this section becomes final.

CHAPTER 795

An act to repeal Section 62000.11 of the Education Code, relating to gifted and talented pupils.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 62000.11 of the Education Code, as added by Chapter 494 of the Statutes of 1989, is repealed.

CHAPTER 796

An act to add Section 65957.5 to the Government Code, and to amend Section 671.5 of the Streets and Highways Code, relating to transportation.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 65957.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

65957.5. (a) Whenever the director of a Department of Transportation highway district recommends to a public agency considering an application to subdivide real property or to issue a construction permit that the agency impose certain conditions on its approval of the application, the applicant may appeal the district director's recommendation.

(b) The Department of Transportation shall adopt regulations prescribing procedures for effecting an appeal pursuant to subdivision (a). The appeal shall be made in writing to the Director of Transportation. The director's decision on the appeal shall be rendered within 60 calendar days after receipt of the appeal, and the director's written determination shall be transmitted to the appellant and to the agency to whom the appealed recommendation was made. The adopted regulations shall require the appellant to pay to the department a fee of not more than 50 percent of the estimated administrative cost to the department of conducting the appeal.

(c) The appeal process, including the director's written determination, shall be completed at least 60 days prior to completion of the period of public review for a draft environmental impact report or a negative declaration prescribed by Section 21091 of the Public Resources Code.

SEC. 2. Section 671.5 of the Streets and Highways Code is amended to read:

671.5. (a) The department shall either approve or deny an application from an applicant for an encroachment permit within 60 days of receiving a completed application, as determined by the department. An application for an encroachment permit is complete when all other statutory requirements, including the California Environmental Quality Act (Division 13 (commencing with Section 21000) of the Public Resources Code), have been complied with. The department's failure to notify the applicant within that 60-day period that the permit is denied shall be deemed to constitute approval of the permit. Thereafter, upon notifying the department, the applicant may act in accordance with its permit application, as if the permit had been approved.

(b) If the department denies an application for an encroachment permit, it shall, at the time of notifying the applicant of the denial, furnish to the applicant a detailed explanation of the reason for the denial.

(c) The department shall adopt regulations prescribing procedures for an applicant to appeal to the director for a final determination of the department's denial of an application. The appeal shall be made in writing to the director. There shall be a final written determination by the director within 60 calendar days after receipt of the applicant's written appeal. The adopted regulations shall require the appellant to pay to the department a fee of not more than 50 percent of the estimated administrative cost to the department of conducting the appeal.

(d) Nothing in this section precludes an applicant and the department from mutually agreeing to an extension of any time limit provided by this section.

CHAPTER 797

An act to amend Section 7031 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to contractors.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7031 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

licensed contractor at all times during the performance of that act or contract, regardless of the merits of the cause of action brought by the person, except that this prohibition shall not apply to contractors who are each individually licensed under this chapter but who fail to comply with Section 7029.

(b) A security interest taken to secure any payment for the performance of any act or contract for which a license is required by this chapter is unenforceable if the person performing the act or contract was not a duly licensed contractor at all times during the performance of the act or contract.

(c) If licensure or proper licensure is controverted, then proof of licensure pursuant to this section shall be made by production of a verified certificate of licensure from the Contractors' State License Board which establishes that the individual or entity bringing the action was duly licensed in the proper classification of contractors at all times during the performance of any act or contract covered by the action. Nothing herein shall require any person or entity controverting licensure or proper licensure to produce a verified certificate. When licensure or proper licensure is controverted, the burden of proof to establish licensure or proper licensure shall be on the licensee.

(d) The judicial doctrine of substantial compliance shall not apply to this section, except that a court may determine that there has been substantial compliance with licensure requirements, for purposes of this section, if it is shown at an evidentiary hearing that the person was a duly licensed contractor during any portion of the 90 days immediately preceding the performance of the act or contract for which compensation is sought, that the person's category of licensure would have authorized the performance of that act or contract, and that noncompliance with the licensure requirement was the result of (1) inadvertent clerical error, or (2) other error or delay not caused by the negligence of the person. Subdivision (b) of Section 143 does not apply to contractors subject to this subdivision.

(e) The exceptions to the prohibition against the application of the judicial doctrine of substantial compliance found in subdivision (d) shall have no retroactive effect. These exceptions to that prohibition shall only apply to an action or arbitration proceeding, at law or in equity, that is commenced on or after January 1, 1992.

CHAPTER 798

An act to amend Sections 30319, 30322, 30324, 30327, and 30824 of the Public Resources Code, relating to coastal resources.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 30319 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

30319. Any person who applies to the commission for approval of a development permit shall provide the commission with the names and addresses of all persons who, for compensation, will be communicating with the commission or commission staff on the applicant's behalf or on behalf of the applicant's business partners. That disclosure shall be provided to the commission prior to any such communication. Failure to comply with that disclosure requirement is a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, the person shall be punished by a fine of five thousand dollars ($5,000) or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, and, in addition, shall be subject to immediate denial of the permit.

SEC. 2. Section 30322 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

30322. (a) For purposes of this article, except as provided in subdivision (b), an "ex parte communication" is any oral or written communication between a member of the commission and an interested person, about a matter within the commission's jurisdiction, which does not occur in a public hearing, workshop, or other official proceeding, or on the official record of the proceeding on the matter.

(b) The following communications are not ex parte communications:

(1) Any communication between a staff member acting in his or her official capacity and any commission member or interested person.

(2) Any communication limited entirely to procedural issues, including, but not limited to, the hearing schedule, location, format, or filing date.

(3) Any communication which takes place on the record during an official proceeding of a state, regional, or local agency that involves a member of the commission who also serves as an official of that agency.

(4) Any communication between a member of the commission, with regard to any action of another state agency or of a regional or local agency of which the member is an official, and any other official or employee of that agency, including any person who is acting as an attorney for the agency.

(5) Any communication between a nonvoting commission member and a staff member of a state agency where both the commission member and the staff member are acting in an official capacity.

(6) Any communication to a nonvoting commission member relating to an action pending before the commission, where the nonvoting commission member does not participate in that action, either through written or verbal communication, on or off the record, with other members of the commission.

SEC. 3. Section 30324 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

30324. (a) No commission member, nor any interested person, shall conduct an ex parte communication unless the commission member fully discloses and makes public the ex parte communication by providing a full report of the communication to the executive director within seven days after the communication or, if the communication occurs within seven days of the next commission hearing, to the commission on the record of the proceeding at that hearing.

(b) (1) The commission shall adopt standard disclosure forms for reporting ex parte communications which shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following information:

(A) The date, time, and location of the communication.

(B) The identity of the person or persons initiating and the person or persons receiving the communication.

(C) A complete description of the content of the communication, including the complete text of any written material that was a part of the communication.

(2) The executive director shall place in the public record any report of an ex parte communication.

(c) Communications shall cease to be ex parte communications when fully disclosed and placed in the commission's official record.

SEC. 4. Section 30327 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

30327. (a) No commission member or alternate shall make, participate in making, or any other way attempt to use his or her official position to influence a commission decision about which the member or alternate has knowingly had an ex parte communication that has not been reported pursuant to Section 30324.

(b) In addition to any other applicable penalty, including a civil fine imposed pursuant to Section 30824, a commission member who knowingly violates this section shall be subject to a civil fine, not to exceed seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500). Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, the court may award attorneys' fees and costs to the prevailing party.

SEC. 5. Section 30824 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

30824. In addition to any other applicable penalty, any commission member who knowingly violates Section 30324 is subject to a civil fine, not to exceed seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500). Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, the court may award attorneys' fees and costs to the prevailing party.

CHAPTER 799

An act to add and repeal Article 5.7 (commencing with Section 1559.110) of Chapter 3 of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, to amend Sections 11400, 11402, 18358, 18358.05, 18358.10, 18358.15, and 18358.30 of, to add Section 18358.45 to, to repeal and add Section 18358.50 of, and to add and repeal Article 6 (commencing with Section 11460.1) of Chapter 2 of, and Article 4 (commencing with Section 16522) to Chapter 5 of Division 9 of, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to community care facilities.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 5.7 (commencing with Section 1559.110) is added to Chapter 3 of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

Article 5.7. Out-of-Home Placement Pilot Program

1559.110. The State Department of Social Services shall license community care facilities participating in transitional housing placement programs in three counties, as designated in Section 16522 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. Transitional housing placement programs shall provide supervised apartment living services to persons at least 17 years old, and not more than 18 years old unless the requirements of Section 11403 of the Welfare and Institutions Code are met, who are in out-of-home placement under the supervision of the county department of social services or the county probation department, and who are participating in an independent living program. Transitional housing placement program services shall include any of the following:

(a) Programs in which one or more participants in the program live in an apartment with an adult employee of the licensee.

(b) Programs in which a participant lives independently in an apartment rented or leased by the licensee located in a building in which one or more adult employees of the licensee reside and provide supervision.

(c) Programs in which a participant lives independently in an apartment rented or leased by a licensee under the supervision of the licensee if the State Department of Social Services provides approval.

1559.115. No applicant shall be issued a license pursuant to this article unless the county welfare department, in the county where the license will be issued, has approved the transitional housing placement program as required by Section 16522.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and has certified the program as described in Section 16522.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

1559.120. The department shall license community care facilities participating in transitional housing placement programs in three counties commencing the 1994–95 fiscal year. In subsequent years, the department may, in addition, license community care licensed facilities participating in transitional housing placement programs, in additional counties, upon the request of the county board of supervisors, if the department determines that the three counties initially authorized pursuant to this section have had successful outcomes.

1559.125. The department shall develop regulations to implement this transitional housing placement program. The State Department of Social Services shall adopt emergency regulations pursuant to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code to implement this article. The adoption of regulations pursuant to this section in order to implement this article shall be deemed to be an emergency and necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety. The regulations shall become effective immediately upon filing with the Secretary of State. The regulations shall not remain in effect more than 120 days unless the adopting agency complies with all of the provisions of Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of the Government Code, as required by subdivision (e) of Section 11346.1 of the Government Code. The department shall study the need to create a permanent community care facility licensing category to accommodate transitional housing placement facility types.

1559.130. This article shall remain in effect only until January 1, 2000, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, that is enacted before January 1, 2000, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. Section 11400 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

11400. For the purposes of this article, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "Aid to Families with Dependent Children-Foster Care (AFDC-FC)" means the aid provided in behalf of needy children in foster care under the terms of this division.

(b) "Case plan" means a written document which at a minimum specifies the type of home in which the child shall be placed, the appropriateness of the home for meeting the child's needs, the agency's plan for ensuring that the child, family, and foster parents receive services, and the appropriateness of the services provided to the child, in order to meet the child's needs while in foster care, and to reunify the child with his or her family, or, when reunification is not possible, to facilitate an alternate permanent plan.

(c) "Certified family home" means a family residence certified by a licensed foster family agency and issued a certificate of approval by that agency as meeting licensing standards, and used only by that foster family agency for placements.

(d) "Family home" means the family residency of a licensee in which 24-hour care and supervision are provided for children.

(e) "Small family home" means any residential facility, in the licensee's family residence, which provides 24-hour care for six or fewer foster children who have mental disorders or developmental or physical disabilities and who require special care and supervision as a result of their disabilities.

(f) "Foster care" means the 24-hour out-of-home care provided to children whose own families are unable or unwilling to care for them, and who are in need of temporary or long-term substitute parenting.

(g) "Foster family agency" means any individual or organization engaged in the recruiting, certifying, and training of, and providing professional support to, foster parents, or in finding homes or other places for placement of children for temporary or permanent care who require that level of care as an alternative to a group home. Private foster family agencies shall be organized and operated on a nonprofit basis.

(h) "Group home" means a nondetention privately operated residential home, organized and operated on a nonprofit basis only, of any capacity, that provides services in a group setting to children in need of care and supervision, as required by paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 1502 of the Health and Safety Code.

(i) "Periodic review" means review of a child's status by the juvenile court or by an administrative review panel, which shall include a determination of the continuing need for placement in foster care, evaluation of the goals for the placement and the progress toward meeting these goals, and development of a target date for the child's return home or establishment of alternative permanent placement.

(j) "Permanency planning hearing" means a hearing conducted by the juvenile court in which the child's future status, including whether the child shall be returned home or another permanent plan shall be developed, is determined.

(k) "Placement and care" refers to the responsibility for the welfare of a child vested in an agency or organization by virtue of the agency or organization having (1) been delegated care, custody, and control of a child by the juvenile court, (2) taken responsibility, pursuant to a relinquishment or termination of parental rights on a child, (3) taken the responsibility of supervising a child detained by the juvenile court pursuant to Section 319 or 636, or (4) signed a voluntary placement agreement for the child's placement; or to the responsibility designated to an individual by virtue of his or her being appointed the child's legal guardian.

(l) "Preplacement preventive services" means services which are designed to help children remain with their families by preventing or eliminating the need for removal.

(m) "Relative" means a person who can be a "caretaker relative" of a dependent child under Section 406 of the Social Security Act.

(n) "Voluntary placement" means an out-of-home placement of a minor by (1) county welfare department after the parents or guardians have requested the assistance of the county welfare department and have signed a voluntary placement agreement; or (2) the county welfare department licensed public or private adoption agency, or the department acting as an adoption agency, after the parents have requested the assistance of either the county welfare department, the licensed public or private adoption agency, or the department acting as an adoption agency for the purpose of adoption planning, and have signed a voluntary placement agreement.

(o) "Voluntary placement agreement" means a written agreement between either the county welfare department, a licensed public or private adoption agency, or the department acting as an adoption agency, and the parents or guardians of a minor which specifies, at a minimum, the following:

(1) The legal status of the child.

(2) The rights and obligations of the parents or guardians, the child, and the agency in which the child is placed.

(p) "Original placement date" means the most recent date on which the court detained a child and ordered an agency to be responsible for supervising the child or the date on which an agency assumed responsibility for a child due to termination of parental rights, relinquishment, or voluntary placement.

(q) "Transitional housing placement facility" means a community care facility licensed by the State Department of Social Services pursuant to Section 1559.110 of the Health and Safety Code to provide transitional housing opportunities to persons as least 17 years old, and not more than 18 years old unless they satisfy the requirements of Section 11403, who are in out-of-home placement under the supervision of the county department of social services or the county probation department, and who are participating in an independent living program.

SEC. 3. Section 11402 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

11402. In order to be eligible for AFDC-FC, a child must be placed in one of the following:

(a) The home of a relative, provided the home has been documented by the social worker or probation officer as being suited to the needs of the child and the child is otherwise eligible for federal financial participation in the AFDC-FC payment.

(b) The licensed family home of a nonrelative.

(c) A licensed group home, as defined in subdivision (h) of Section 11400, provided that the placement worker has documented that the placement is necessary to meet the treatment needs of the child and that the facility offers those treatment services.

(d) The home of a nonrelated legal guardian or the home of a former nonrelated legal guardian when the guardianship of a child who is otherwise eligible for AFDC-FC has been dismissed due to the child's attaining age 18.

(e) A home which has been certified by a social worker or probation officer as meeting licensing standards, provided that a family home license has been applied for and has not been denied.

(f) An exclusive-use home.

(g) A licensed transitional housing placement facility as described in Health and Safety Code Section 1559.110 and as defined in Section 11400.

SEC. 4. Article 6 (commencing with Section 11460.1) is added to Chapter 2 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

Article 6. Transitional Housing

11460.1. (a) The department shall develop a ratesetting system for licensed community care facilities participating in transitional housing placement programs, as defined by Section 16522, and as described by Section 1559.110 of the Health and Safety Code. The rates shall not exceed the aggregate placement costs for these children if they had not participated in the transitional housing placement program.

(b) The department shall adopt and maintain regulations that establish a method for determining the rates for facilities specified in subdivision (a).

(c) This article shall remain in effect only until January 1, 2000, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute that is enacted before January 1, 2000, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 5. Article 4 (commencing with Section 16522) is added to Chapter 5 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

Article 4. Transitional Housing Placement Program

16522. The State Department of Social Services shall develop programs in three counties, upon the request of the county board of supervisors, to licensed private, nonprofit, or county operated facilities to provide transitional housing placement program services to persons at least 17 years old, and not more than 18 years old unless they satisfy the requirements of Section 11403, who are in out-of-home placement under the supervision of the County Department of Social Services or the County Probation Department, and who are participating in an independent living program. Transitional housing placement program services shall include any of the following:

(a) Programs in which one or more participants in the program live in an apartment with an adult employee of the licensee.

(b) Programs in which a participant lives independently in an apartment rented or leased by the licensee located in a building in which one or more adult employees of the licensee reside and provide supervision.

(c) Programs in which a participant lives independently in an apartment rented or leased by a licensee under the supervision of the licensee if the State Department of Social Services provides approval.

16522.1. In order to be licensed pursuant to Section 1559.110 of the Health and Safety Code, an applicant shall obtain certification from the county welfare department that the facility program provides all of the following:

(a) Strict admission criteria for participants in the program, including, but not limited to, consideration of the applicant's age, previous placement history, delinquency history, history of drug or alcohol abuse, level of education, mental health history, medical problems, and work experience. The department shall review the admission criteria to ensure that the criteria are sufficient to protect participants and that they do not discriminate on the basis of race, gender, sexual orientation, or disability.

(b) Strict employment criteria that include a consideration of the employee's age, drug or alcohol history, and experience in working with persons in this age group.

(c) A training program designed to educate employees who work directly with participants about the characteristics of persons in this age group placed in long-term care settings, and designed to ensure that these employees are able to adequately supervise and counsel participants and to provide them with training in independent living skills.

(d) A detailed plan for monitoring the placement of persons under the licensee's care.

(e) A contract between the participating person and the licensee that specifically sets out the requirements for each party, and in which the licensee and the participant agree to the requirements of this article.

(f) An allowance to be provided to each participant in the program. In the case of a participant living independently, this allowance shall be sufficient for the participant to purchase food and other necessities.

(g) A system for payment for utilities, telephone, and rent.

(h) Policies regarding all of the following:

(1) Education requirements.

(2) Work expectations.

(3) Savings requirements.

(4) Personal safety.

(5) Visitors including, but not limited to, visitation by the placement auditor pursuant to subdivision (d).

(6) Emergencies.

(7) Medical problems.

(8) Disciplinary measures.
(9) Child care.
(10) Pregnancy.
(11) Curfew.
(12) Apartment cleanliness.
(13) Use of utilities and telephone.
(14) Budgeting.
(15) Care of furnishings.
(16) Decorating of apartments.
(17) Cars.
(18) Lending or borrowing money.
(19) Unauthorized purchases.
(20) Dating.
(21) Grounds for termination that may include, but shall not be limited to, illegal activities or harboring runaways.

(i) Apartment furnishings, and a policy on disposition of the furnishings when the participant completes the program.

(j) Evaluation of the participant's progress in the program and reporting to the independent living program and to the department regarding that progress.

(k) A linkage to the federal Job Training and Partnership Act (29 U.S.C. Sec. 1501 et seq.) program administered in the local area to provide employment training to eligible participants.

16522.2. Persons may participate in the supervised transitional housing placement programs only with the permission of both the independent living program of the county in which the program is located and the county department of social services or the county probation department that has custody of the person.

16522.3. (a) The cost for all participants in each of the county's programs shall be no greater than the aggregate cost of care and supervision for those children had they not participated in the county's supervised apartment living program as described in this article.

(b) The department shall develop, implement, and maintain a ratesetting system schedule pursuant to Section 11460.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

16522.4. The department shall approve supervised transitional housing placement programs in up to three counties commencing the 1994–95 fiscal year. In subsequent years, the department may approve supervised transitional housing placement programs in additional counties, upon the request of the county board of supervisors, if the department determines that the three counties initially authorized pursuant to this section have had successful outcomes.

16522.5. Prior to approval of supervised transitional housing placement programs in a county, the department shall approve a plan submitted by the county's independent living program that includes assurances that the independent living program shall participate actively in the screening of candidates for this program and shall assist the licensed agency in the supervision of clients participating in the program.

16522.6. The department shall make information available to the Legislature upon request regarding services rendered pursuant to this article.

SEC. 6. Section 18358 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

18358. The definitions contained in this section shall govern the construction of this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise:

(a) "Department" means the State Department of Social Services.

(b) "Eligible children" means all of the following:

(1) Children who are emotionally disturbed, as evidenced by a history which may include, but is not limited to, all of the specific behavior management problems:

(A) Lying.

(B) Stealing.

(C) Verbal or physical aggression.

(D) Unacceptable sexual behavior.

(E) Attempts at self-mutilation or suicide.

(F) Defiant and oppositional behavior.

(2) Children who, as a result of their emotional disturbance have been either:

(A) Placed in a group home with a rate classification level of 12 or higher pursuant to Section 11462.

(B) Assessed by the child's county interagency review team as at imminent risk of psychiatric hospitalization or placement in a group home with a rate classification level of 12 or higher pursuant to Section 11462.

(3) Children who have successfully completed the group home program, except for children on probation or otherwise in the custody of the Juvenile Court for any violent felony as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 of the Penal Code.

(4) Children who have been adjudicated a dependent of the court pursuant to Section 300 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

SEC. 7. Section 18358.05 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

18358.05. (a) The department shall implement intensive treatment foster care programs for eligible children.

(b) (1) The department shall implement the programs in the Counties of Alameda and Yolo, pursuant to the concurrence of the board of supervisors of each participating county and subject to the availability of a foster family agency within the county which can provide the services required by this chapter.

(2) The program shall be limited to one foster family agency in each county. Each participating foster family agency may accept under this program up to 25 children per year, no more than 20 of whom are placed from a group home with a rate classification level of 12 or above pursuant to Section 11462. Up to five children per year may be accepted under this program who are at imminent risk of psychiatric hospitalization or placement in a group home with a rate classification level of 12 or higher pursuant to Section 11462 based on an assessment by a county interagency review team. No children accepted under this program may come from placement in a state psychiatric hospital. Each participating foster family agency may accept placements, with approval of the host county, from counties other than its host county up to the maximum of 25 children per year.

(c) As a condition of participating in this program, each foster family agency shall meet all of the following criteria:

(1) It has a program component with a rate classification level of 12 or higher pursuant to Section 11462.

(2) It has either of the following:

(A) Access to a nonpublic school program which provides mental health treatment.

(B) A contract with the county for the provision of mental health treatment for children.

(3) It provides, or arranges for the provision of, all additional services required under this chapter.

SEC. 8. Section 18358.10 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

18358.10. Each foster family agency participating in this program shall provide all of the following personnel and administrative and support services:

(a) (1) Special attention to the selection and training of foster parents.

(2) All participating foster parents shall be provided with at least 60 hours of training in the care of emotionally disturbed children and 12 hours of ongoing in-service training per year. Training shall include, but not be limited to, working with abused and neglected children, progressive crisis intervention, and cardiopulmonary resuscitation. All training shall be completed prior to the child's placement in the home. In two-parent homes, placement may be made after one parent has completed 60 hours of training, provided that the second parent has completed 40 hours of training and completes an additional 20 hours of training within the first six months of placement.

(3) Foster parents shall be provided with all necessary support services.

(b) Caseloads for participating group home social work case managers that do not exceed eight children.

(c) Therapists for the provision of therapy to the child, the biological parents of the child, and the foster parents of the child.

(d) The specific assignment to each certified family home of a trained child/youth counselor with experience in residential treatment.

(1) The child/youth counselor shall have one of the following:

(A) A bachelor's degree in a social science related field and at least six months of experience in working with emotionally disturbed children in institutional settings.

(B) An associate degree in a social science related field and have at least one year's experience in working with emotionally disturbed children in institutional settings.

(2) Each participating foster family agency shall provide each child/youth counselor with 60 hours of training to include, but not be limited to, working with abused and neglected children, progressive crisis intervention, cardiopulmonary resuscitation, and developing treatment plans for emotionally disturbed children. All training shall be completed prior to placing a child in a certified family home for which the child/youth counselor is assigned responsibility.

(3) Each child/youth counselor shall do all of the following:

(A) Provide up to 31 hours per child per week of service to the child and the foster family. This service shall include, but not be limited to, structuring a safe environment for the child, collateral contacts, and any administrative or training functions necessary to implement the child's needs and services plan. The child's needs and services plan shall ensure that services meet the child's needs and are appropriate to and consistent with the minimum level of service specified in Section 18358.30. The child's individual needs and services plan shall be reviewed and approved by the certified foster parents.

(B) Arrange for coordination services with local education agencies and the service provider's nonpublic school, where applicable.

(e) A 24-hour on call administrator who is available to respond to emergency situations.

SEC. 9. Section 18358.15 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

18358.15. (a) Each foster family agency participating in the program shall provide or arrange for all the following services for children placed in foster care:

(1) Individualized needs and services plans that ensure continuity and stability in the placement of emotionally disturbed children in certified family homes that meet the needs of children making the transition from institutional placement to noninstitutional placement. The needs and services plan for each child in placement shall describe the specific needs of the child and the appropriate level of services provided to the child pursuant to Section 18358.30.

(2) Education and mental health services for children.

(3) Therapeutic after-school programs for children.

(4) In-home and support services necessary to implement the case plan.

(5) Other necessary services for children in placement, including medical and dental services.

(b) No more than one emotionally disturbed child shall be placed in a certified family home unless the participating foster family agency provides the county welfare department with a written assessment of the risk and compatibility of placing two emotionally disturbed children together. However, there shall be no more than a total of five children living in a certified family home with two adults, and there shall be no more than a total of three children living in a certified family home with one adult, except in cases where children living in the home other than those placed pursuant to this chapter are 15 years of age or older.

(c) Any use of physical contact to manage the behavior of a child which is reported to the foster family agency pursuant to Section 18538.25 shall in turn be reported by the foster family agency to the Community Care Licensing Division of the department as a special incident pursuant to Section 80061 of Title 22 of the California Code of Regulations.

SEC. 10. Section 18358.30 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

18358.30. (a) Rates for foster family agency programs participating under this chapter shall be exempt from the current AFDC-FC foster family agency rate setting system.

(b) Rates for foster family agency programs participating under this chapter shall be set according to the appropriate pilot classification model based on the level of services provided to the eligible child and the certified foster family. In all of the pilot classification models, the foster family agency programs shall:

(1) Provide social work services with average case loads not to exceed eight children per worker, except that social worker average case loads for children in Pilot Classification Models E and F shall not exceed 12 children per worker.

(2) Pay an amount of one thousand two hundred dollars ($1,200) per child per month to the certified foster parent or parents.

(3) Perform activities necessary for the administration of the programs, including, but not limited to, training, recruitment, certification, and monitoring of the certified foster parents.

(4) Provide a minimum average of service per week, represented by paid employee hours incurred by the participating foster family agency, by the in-home support counselor to the eligible child and the certified foster parents depending on the needs of the child and according to the following schedule:

Pilot Classification Model	In-Home Child/Youth Counselor Hours Per Week
A	31 hours
B	25 hours
C	18 hours
D	12 hours
E	6 hours
F	0 hours

(c) The department or placing county, or both, may review the level of services provided by the foster family agency program. If the level of services actually provided are less than those for the pilot classification model upon which the rate for the child was based, the rate shall be adjusted to reflect the pilot classification model actually provided, and an overpayment may be established and recovered by the department.

(d) (1) The standard rate schedule of pilot classification models for the 1993–94 fiscal year shall be:

Pilot Classification Model	Fiscal Year 1993–94 Standard Rate
A	$3,733
B	$3,423
C	$3,112
D	$2,802
F	$2,099

(2) For the 1991–92 and 1992–93 fiscal years, the standardized rate for each pilot classification model shall be adjusted by an amount equal to the California Necessities Index computed pursuant to the methodology described in Section 11453, subject to the availability of funds.

(3) Beginning with the 1993–94 fiscal year, the standardized schedule of rates shall be adjusted annually by an amount equal to the California Necessities Index computed pursuant to Section 11453, subject to the availability of funds.

(e) Rates for foster family agency programs participating under this chapter shall not exceed Pilot Classification Model A at any time during an eligible child's placement. An eligible child may be initially placed in a participating intensive foster care program at any one of the five pilot classification levels A to E, inclusive, and thereafter placed at any level, either higher or lower, not to exceed a total of six months at any level other than Pilot Classification Model E, unless it is determined to be in the best interests of the child by the child's county interagency review team and the child's certified foster parents. The child's interagency county interagency placement review team may, through a formal review of the child's placement, extend the placement of an eligible child in a pilot classification model higher than Pilot Classification Model E for additional periods of up to six months each.

(f) It is the intent of the Legislature that the pilot classification model and the rate paid to participating foster family agency programs shall decrease as the child's need for services from the foster family agency decreases. The foster family agency shall notify the placing county and the department of the reduced services and the pilot classification model, and the rate shall be reduced accordingly.

(g) It is the intent of the Legislature to prohibit any duplication of public funding. Therefore, social worker services, payments to certified foster parents, administrative activities, and the services of in-home support counselors that are funded by another public source shall not be counted in determining whether the foster family agency program has met its obligations to provide the items listed in paragraphs (1), (2), (3), and (4) of subdivision (b).

SEC. 11. Section 18358.45 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

18358.45. New placements under this chapter shall not be accepted after June 30, 1996.

SEC. 12. Section 18358.50 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is repealed.

SEC. 13. Section 18358.50 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

18358.50. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature to avoid any unnecessary disruption of services to the children placed pursuant to this chapter.

(b) (1) If the date for the repeal of this chapter is not extended beyond January 1, 1999, any child in placement pursuant to that chapter as of January 1, 1999, shall continue to receive on his or her behalf the payment level specified in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 18358.30, if the certified foster parents become licensed.

(2) If the certified foster parents do not become licensed, the child shall continue to receive the intensive foster care services provided for in this chapter. These services shall be provided by the participating foster family agency until the child is no longer in placement with the foster parents previously participating under this chapter or the child is no longer eligible for the Aid to Families with Dependent Children-Foster Care program. These services shall be provided at the rate set for Pilot Classification Levels A to E, inclusive, as of June 30, 1996, with the pilot classification model and the rate paid to participating foster family agencies decreased to that for Pilot Classification Model F for all children still in placement on January 1, 1999.

(c) Except as provided in subdivision (b), this chapter shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1999, and as of that date, this chapter is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1999, deletes or extends that date.

CHAPTER 800

An act to amend Section 99268.18 of, and to add and repeal Section 99268.10 of, the Public Utilities Code, relating to transportation.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 99268.10 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

99268.10. (a) Notwithstanding subdivision (a) of Section 99247, the additional operating costs required to provide comparable complementary paratransit service, as required by Section 37.121 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations, pursuant to the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (42 U.S.C. Sec. 12101 et seq.), as identified in the operator's paratransit plan pursuant to paragraph (d) (6) of Section 37.139 of the Code of Federal Regulations, shall be excluded from operating costs.

(b) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1997, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1997, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. Section 99268.18 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

99268.18. The exclusions contained in Sections 99268.10, 99268.16, and 99268.17 shall not be applicable for purposes of determining an operator's compliance with Section 99268.

CHAPTER 801

An act to amend Section 5.2 of the Yuba County Water Agency Act (Chapter 788 of the Statutes of 1959), relating to the Yuba County Water Agency.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5.2 of the Yuba County Water Agency Act (Chapter 788 of the Statutes of 1959) is amended to read:

Sec. 5.2. (a) The agency may enter into long-term contracts for the sale of water, for use outside the boundaries of the agency by other than a member unit, if the board of directors determines that the transferred water is surplus to the amount of water available to meet the contractual requirements of member units.

(b) (1) Before the board may enter into a contract pursuant to subdivision (a), it shall hold a public hearing to receive oral and written comments on the transfer proposal.

(2) The board shall provide notice of the hearing by publication in a newspaper of general circulation once a week for two consecutive weeks prior to the hearing, with the last publication being at least seven days before the hearing.

(c) A long-term contract for the sale of water pursuant to this section shall not be implemented until the state board, pursuant to Section 386 of the Water Code, finds that the water transfer may be made without injuring any legal user of the water, without unreasonably affecting fish, wildlife, or other instream beneficial use, and without unreasonably affecting the overall economy of the area from which the water is to be transferred.

CHAPTER 802

An act to amend Sections 19890 and 19891 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to automatic garage door openers.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19890 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

19890. (a) On or after January 1, 1991, no person, corporation, or entity shall manufacture for sale in this state, purchase, sell or offer for sale at retail or wholesale, or install in this state, a residential automatic garage door opener that does not have an automatic reverse safety device that complies with the applicable standards set forth in the Underwriters Laboratories Inc., Standard for Safety-ANSI/UL 325-30.1 and 325-30.2, Third Edition, as revised May 4, 1988.

(b) In addition to the requirements of subdivision (a), on or after January 1, 1993, no person, corporation, or entity shall manufacture for sale in this state, purchase, sell or offer for sale at retail or wholesale, or install in this state, any residential automatic garage door opener unless, in order to operate, it requires the inclusion of a tactile garage door edge sensor, an optical sensor, or a similar device that when activated is designed to cause a closing door to open and prevent an open door from closing. This device shall be designed to operate in a manner so that the interruption or misalignment of the device or an opening or short in the wires between the device and the power head would cause a closing door to open and prevent an open door from closing. Notwithstanding any other provision of this subdivision, a garage door opener that is manufactured prior to January 1, 1993, and that is in the possession of a retailer or wholesaler on January 1, 1993, may be purchased, sold, offered for sale, and installed on or before July 1, 1993, provided the garage door opener is in compliance with subdivision (a).

(c) On or after January 1, 1991, any manufacturer selling or offering for sale residential automatic garage door openers in this state shall comply with federal labeling requirements for automatic residential garage door openers contained in Section 203 of Public Law 101-608.

(d) On and after January 1, 1991, any manufacturer, distributor, wholesaler, or retailer, selling or offering for sale residential automatic garage door openers in this state shall include with each automatic garage door opener a set of installation, operation, maintenance, and testing instructions. On or after January 1, 1991, any person installing, servicing, or repairing a residential automatic garage door opener shall comply with those instructions.

(e) On and after January 1, 1993, any person hired to service or repair any residential automatic garage door opener shall, upon completion of the service or repair, if any, determine whether it reverses upon contact with a rigid two-inch high obstacle placed on the surface beneath the garage door. If the residential automatic garage door opener does not pass the test, the person shall complete and conspicuously affix to the residential automatic garage door opener, a red certificate as follows:

WARNING!

This garage door opener, when tested on this date, did not reverse upon contact with a two-inch high rigid obstacle placed on the surface beneath the garage door, and may not be in compliance with the safety standards relating to automatic reversing devices as set forth in Chapter 12.5 (commencing with Section 19890) of Part 3 of Division 13 of the Health and Safety Code.

(f) This chapter shall apply to all automatic garage door openers manufactured and sold for use in any residence. This chapter shall also apply to automatic garage door openers manufactured for commercial purposes, but sold for, or installed, in a residence because the commercial opener was necessary to meet the specific application requirements of that installation. Residential applications of garage door openers manufactured for commercial purposes shall comply with this chapter, and be installed according to the manufacturer's instructions, except that the applicable standard shall be the Underwriters Laboratories Inc., Standard for Safety-ANSI/UL 325-29 in lieu of the Underwriters Laboratories Inc., Standard for Safety-ANSI/UL 325-30.1 and 325-30.2.

(g) For the purposes of this chapter:

(1) "Residential" shall define a device or structure that is part of, affixed to, or associated with, a residence.

(2) "Residence" means a building that contains from one to four single-family dwelling units.

(3) "Garage" means an enclosed and covered shelter for one or more automobiles, that may be attached to, or detached from but associated with, a residence. "Garage" does not include an unenclosed automobile parking area nor an unenclosed, covered carport.

(4) "Garage door" means a structure that serves as an overhead, vertical-moving barrier to the opening that serves as the automobile entrance to the garage. "Garage door" does not include structures that operate in a sliding or horizontal motion.

(h) On or after January 1, 1992, no replacement residential garage door shall be installed in a manner that connects the replacement door to an existing residential automatic garage door opener that does not meet the test standard set forth in subdivision (e), regardless of the date of manufacture of the residential automatic garage door opener.

SEC. 2. Section 19891 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

19891. (a) In addition to any other remedies permitted by law, any violations of subdivision (a), (b), or (c) of Section 19890 shall be subject to a civil penalty of one thousand dollars ($1,000) per opener installed, manufactured, sold, or offered for sale which is not in compliance with Section 19890.

(b) In addition to any other remedies permitted by law, any violations of subdivision (d) or (h) of Section 19890 shall be subject to a civil penalty of five hundred dollars ($500) per opener installed and operational, that is not in compliance with Section 19890.

(c) In addition to any other remedies permitted by law, a seller who violates the notice requirements of Section 1102.6 of the Civil Code, relating to automatic garage door openers, shall be subject to a civil penalty of five hundred dollars ($500).

(d) Court proceedings may be initiated by the building department of the local agency with jurisdiction over enforcement of building standards, by affected consumers, or by the district attorney. Civil penalties assessed shall be payable to the local agency initiating the proceedings to enforce this chapter to offset the costs to the agency related to court proceedings. If an affected consumer initiates the proceeding, the civil penalties shall be payable to the consumer.

CHAPTER 803

An act to amend Sections 17511.1, 17511.4, 17511.5, and 17511.12 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to telephonic sellers.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17511.1 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

17511.1. As used in this article, "telephonic seller" or "seller" means a person who, on his or her own behalf or through salespersons or through the use of an automatic dialing-announcing device, as defined in Section 2871 of the Public Utilities Code, causes a telephone solicitation or attempted telephone solicitation to occur which meets the criteria specified in subdivision (a), (b), (c), or (d) and who is not exempted by subdivision (e), as follows:

(a) A telephone solicitation or attempted telephone solicitation wherein the telephonic seller initiates telephonic contact with a prospective purchaser and represents or implies one or more of the following:

(1) That a prospective purchaser who buys one or more items will also receive additional or other items, whether or not of the same type as purchased, without further cost. For purposes of this subdivision, "further cost" does not include actual postage or common carrier delivery charges, if any.

(2) That a prospective purchaser will receive a prize or gift, if the person also encourages the prospective purchaser to do either of the following:

(A) Purchase or rent any goods or services.

(B) Pay any money, including, but not limited to, a delivery or handling charge.

(3) That a prospective purchaser is able to obtain any item or service at a price which the seller states or implies is below the regular price of the item or service offered. This paragraph shall not apply to retailers who, within the previous 12 months, have sold a majority of their goods or services through in-person sales at retail stores.

(4) That a prospective purchaser who buys office equipment or supplies will, because of some unusual event or imminent price increase, be able to buy these items at prices which are below those that are usually charged or will be charged for the items.

(5) That the seller is a person other than the person he or she is.

(6) That the items for sale are manufactured or supplied by a person other than the actual manufacturer or supplier.

(7) That the seller is offering to sell the prospective purchaser any gold, silver, or other metals, including coins, diamonds, rubies, sapphires, or other stones, coal or other minerals, or any interest in oil, gas, or mineral fields, wells, or exploration sites, or any other investment opportunity of any type whatsoever.

(8) That the seller is offering to make a loan, or to arrange or assist in arranging a loan or to assist in providing information which may lead to the obtaining of a loan, unless no payment of any kind is made until the loan proceeds are disbursed to the borrower.

(9) That a prospective purchaser will receive a credit card, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 1747.02 of the Civil Code, if the purchaser pays an up front or preapplication fee for the credit card to the telephonic seller.

(b) A solicitation or attempted solicitation which is made by telephone in response to inquiries generated by unrequested notifications sent by the seller to persons who have not previously purchased goods or services from the seller or who have not previously requested credit from the seller, to a prospective purchaser wherein the seller represents or implies to the recipient of the notification that any of the following applies to the recipient:

(1) That the recipient has in any manner been specially selected to receive the notification or the offer contained in the notification.

(2) That the recipient will receive a prize or gift if the recipient calls the seller.

(3) That if the recipient buys one or more items from the seller, the recipient will also receive additional or other items, whether or not of the same type as purchased, without further cost or at a cost which the seller states or implies is less than the regular price of such items.

However, this subdivision does not apply to the solicitation of sales by a catalog seller who periodically issues and delivers catalogs to potential purchasers by mail or by other means. This exception only applies if the catalog includes a written description or illustration and the sales price of each item of merchandise offered for sale, includes at least 24 full pages of written material or illustrations, is distributed in more than one state, and has an annual circulation of not less than 250,000 customers.

(c) A solicitation or attempted solicitation which is made by telephone in response to inquiries generated by advertisements on behalf of the telephonic seller wherein it is represented or implied that the seller is offering to sell to the prospective purchaser any gold, silver, or other metals, including coins, diamonds, rubies, sapphires, or other stones, coal or other minerals, or any interest in oil, gas, or mineral fields, wells, or exploration sites, or any other investment opportunity of any type whatsoever.

(d) A solicitation or attempted solicitation which is made by telephone in response to inquiries generated by advertisements on behalf of the telephonic seller wherein it is represented or implied that the seller is offering to make a loan or to arrange or assist in arranging a loan or to assist in providing information which may lead to the obtaining of a loan, unless no payment of any kind is made until the loan proceeds are disbursed to the borrower.

(e) For purposes of this article, "telephonic seller" or "seller" does not include any of the following:

(1) A person offering or selling a security qualified under Section 25110, 25120, or 25130 of the Corporations Code or exempt from qualification under Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 25100) of Part 2 of Division 1 of Title 4 of the Corporations Code. The fact that a notice claiming an exemption under the Corporate Securities Law of 1968 is filed with the Department of Corporations does not create an exemption under this paragraph.

(2) A person licensed pursuant to Part 1 (commencing with Section 10000) of Division 4, when the solicited transaction is governed by that law.

(3) A person licensed pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 7000) of Division 3, when the solicited transaction is governed by that law.

(4) A person licensed or certificated pursuant to Part 2 (commencing with Section 680) of Division 1 of the Insurance Code, including a person licensed pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1621) thereof, when the solicited transaction is governed by that law.

(5) A person offering or selling a franchise registered pursuant to Section 31110 of the Corporations Code or exempt from registration under Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 31100) of Part 2 of Division 5 of Title 4 of the Corporations Code. The fact that a notice claiming an exemption under the Franchise Investment Law is filed with the Department of Corporations does not create an exemption under this paragraph.

(6) A person soliciting the sale of a seller assisted marketing plan, as defined in Title 2.7 (commencing with Section 1812.200) of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code, who has filed with the Attorney General the documents required by Section 1812.203 of the Civil Code.

(7) A person primarily soliciting the sale of a newspaper of general circulation, as defined in Article 1 (commencing with Section 6000) of Chapter 1 of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code, a magazine, or membership in a book or record club whose program operates in conformity with the requirements of Section 1584.5 of the Civil Code.

(8) A person soliciting business from prospective purchasers who have previously purchased from the business enterprise for which the person is calling.

(9) A person soliciting without the intent to complete and who does not complete the sales presentation during the telephone solicitation but completes the sales presentation at a later face-to-face meeting between the solicitor and the prospective purchaser. However, if a seller, directly following a telephone solicitation, causes an individual whose primary purpose it is to go to the prospective purchaser to collect the payment or deliver any item purchased, this exemption does not apply.

(10) Any supervised financial institution or parent, subsidiary, or subsidiary of parent thereof. As used in this paragraph, "supervised financial institution" means any commercial bank, trust company, savings and loan association, credit union, industrial loan company, personal property broker, consumer finance lender, commercial finance lender, or insurer, provided that the institution is subject to supervision by an official or agency of this state or of the United States.

(11) A person soliciting the sale of a preneed funeral arrangement regulated by Article 9 (commencing with Section 7735) of Chapter 12 of Division 3.

(12) A person licensed pursuant to Chapter 19 (commencing with Section 9600) of Division 3 when acting pursuant to that licensure.

(13) A person soliciting the sale of services provided by a cable television system licensed or franchised pursuant to Section 53066 of the Government Code or any other authority.

(14) A person or an affiliate of a person whose business is regulated by the Public Utilities Commission.

(15) A person soliciting the sale of a commodity pursuant to Part 2 (commencing with Section 58601) of Division 21 of the Food and Agricultural Code, if the solicitation neither intends to, nor actually results in, a sale which costs the purchaser in excess of one hundred dollars ($100).

(16) An issuer or subsidiary of an issuer that has a security listed on a national securities exchange or designated as a national market system security on an interdealer quotation system by the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., if the exchange or interdealer quotation system has been certified by rule or order of the Commissioner of Corporations under subdivision (o) of Section 25100 of the Corporations Code. A subsidiary of an issuer that qualifies for exemption under this paragraph is not itself exempt unless not less than 60 percent of the voting power of its shares is owned by the qualifying issuer or issuers.

(17) A person soliciting exclusively the sale of telephone answering services to be provided by that person or that person's employer.

(18) A person soliciting a transaction regulated by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission if the person is registered or temporarily licensed for this activity with the Commodity Futures Trading Commission under the Commodity Exchange Act, (7 U.S.C. Sec. 1 et seq.) and the registration or license has not expired or been suspended or revoked.

(19) A person who sells coins or bullion at a price which is not more than 25 percent more than the price at which the seller is concurrently buying the same coins or bullion, if: (A) the seller has had a retail location in California from which he or she has been selling coins or bullion to the public in person for at least three years; (B) the telephonic solicitations are not the person's primary business and sales made telephonically make up less than 20 percent of the person's total retail sales; and (C) the person claiming an exemption pursuant to this subdivision complies with Section 17511.3, as applicable, and subdivision (p) of Section 17511.4.

(20) A person licensed pursuant to Chapter 14 (commencing with Section 1800) of Division 1 of the Financial Code to receive money for transmittal to foreign countries if the license has not expired or been suspended or revoked.

(f) In any civil proceeding alleging a violation of this article, the burden of proving an exemption or an exception from a definition is upon the person claiming it, and in any criminal proceeding alleging a violation of this article, the burden of producing evidence to support a defense based upon an exemption or an exception from a definition is upon the person claiming it.

(g) Compliance with this article does not satisfy nor substitute for any requirements for license, registration, or regulation mandated by other laws.

SEC. 2. Section 17511.4 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

17511.4. Each filing pursuant to Section 17511.3 shall contain the following information:

(b) The seller's business form and place of organization and, if the seller is a corporation, a copy of its articles of incorporation and bylaws and amendments thereto, or, if a partnership, a copy of the partnership agreement, or if operating under a fictitious business name, the location where the fictitious name has been registered. All the same information shall be included for any parent or affiliated organization disclosed pursuant to subdivision (a).

(c) The complete street address or addresses of all locations, designating the principal location from which the telephonic seller will be conducting business. If the principal business location of the seller is not in this state, then the seller shall also designate which of its locations within this state is its main location in the state.

(d) A listing of all telephone numbers to be used by the seller and the address where each telephone using each of these telephone numbers is located.

(e) The name of, and the office held by, the seller's officers, directors, trustees, general and limited partners, sole proprietor, and owners, as the case may be, and the names of those persons who have management responsibilities in connection with the seller's business activities.

(f) The complete address of the principal residence, the date of birth, and the driver's license number and state of issuance of each of the persons whose names are disclosed pursuant to subdivision (e).

(g) The name and principal residence address of each person the telephonic seller leaves in charge at each location from which the seller does business in this state, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 17511.3, and the business location which each of these persons is or will be in charge of.

(h) A statement, meeting the requirements of this subdivision, as to both the seller, whether a corporation, partnership, firm, association, joint venture, or any other type of business entity (and whether identified pursuant to subdivision (e) or (g) or not), and as to any person identified pursuant to subdivision (e) or (g) who:

(1) Has been convicted of a felony or misdemeanor involving an alleged violation of this article, or fraud, theft, embezzlement, fraudulent conversion, or misappropriation of property. For purposes of this paragraph, a plea of nolo contendere is a conviction.

(2) Has had entered against him or her a final judgment or order in a civil or administrative action, including a stipulated judgment or order, if the complaint or petition in the civil or administrative action alleged acts constituting a violation of this article, fraud, theft, embezzlement, fraudulent conversion, or misappropriation of property, the use of untrue or misleading representations in an attempt to sell or dispose of real or personal property, or the use of unfair, unlawful, or deceptive business practices.

(3) Is subject to any currently effective injunction or restrictive court order relating to business activity as the result of an action brought by a federal, state, or local public agency or unit thereof, including, but not limited to, an action affecting any vocational license.

(4) Has at any time during the previous seven tax years filed in bankruptcy, been adjudged a bankrupt, been reorganized due to insolvency, or been a principal, director, officer, trustee, general or limited partner, or had management responsibilities of any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, or business entity, that has so filed or was so adjudicated or reorganized, during or within one year after the period that the person held that position.

For purposes of paragraphs (1), (2), and (3), the statement required by this subdivision shall identify the seller or person, the court or administrative agency rendering the conviction, judgment, or order, the docket number of the matter, the date of the conviction, judgment, or order, and the name of the governmental agency, if any, that brought the action resulting in the conviction, judgment, or order. For purposes of paragraph (4), the statement required by this subdivision shall include the name and location of the seller or person filing in bankruptcy, adjudged a bankrupt, or reorganized due to insolvency, and shall include the date thereof, the court which exercised jurisdiction, and the docket number of the matter.

(i) A list of the names, principal residence addresses, the date of birth, and the driver's license number and state of issuance thereof, of salespersons who solicit on behalf of the telephonic seller and the names the salespersons use while so soliciting. No salesperson shall use the same name as used by any other salesperson soliciting for the telephonic seller and no telephonic seller shall permit a salesperson to use the same name as used by any other salesperson soliciting for the telephonic seller.

(j) A description of the items the seller is offering for sale and a copy of all sales scripts the telephonic seller requires salespersons to use when soliciting prospective purchasers, or if no sales script is required to be used, a statement to that effect.

(k) A copy of all sales information and literature (including, but not limited to, scripts, outlines, instructions, and information regarding how to conduct telephonic sales, sample introductions, sample closings, product information, and contest or premium-award information) provided by the telephonic seller to salespersons or of which the seller informs salespersons, and a copy of all written materials the seller sends to any prospective or actual purchaser.

(l) If the telephonic seller represents or implies, or directs salespersons to represent or imply, to purchasers that the purchaser will receive certain specific items (including a certificate of any type which the purchaser must redeem to obtain the item described in the certificate) or one or more items from among designated items, whether the items are denominated as gifts, premiums, bonuses, prizes, or otherwise, the filing shall include the following:

(1) A list of the items offered.

(2) The value or worth of each item described to prospective purchasers and the basis for the valuation.

(3) The price paid by the telephonic seller to its supplier for each of these items and the name, address, and telephone number of each item's supplier.

(4) If the purchaser is to receive fewer than all of the items described by the seller, the filing shall include the following:

(A) The manner in which the telephonic seller decides which item or items a particular prospective purchaser is to receive.

(B) The odds a single prospective purchaser has of receiving each described item.

(C) The name and address of each recipient who has, during the preceding 12 months (or if the seller has not been in business that long, during the period the telephonic seller has been in business) received the item having the greatest value and the item with the smallest odds of being received.

(5) All rules, regulations, terms, and conditions a prospective purchaser must meet in order to receive the item.

(m) If the telephonic seller is offering to sell any metal, stone, or mineral, the filing shall include the following:

(1) The name, address, and telephone number of each of the seller's suppliers and a description of each metal, stone, or mineral provided by the supplier.

(2) If possession of any metal, stone, or mineral is to be retained by the seller or will not be transferred to the purchaser until the purchaser has paid in full, the filing shall include the following:

(A) The address of each location where the metal, stone, or mineral will be kept.

(B) If not kept on premises owned by the seller or at an address or addresses set forth in compliance with subdivision (c), the name of the owner of the business at which the metal, stone, or mineral will be kept.

(C) A copy of any contract or other document which evidences the seller's right to store the metal, stone, or mineral at the address or addresses designated pursuant to subparagraph (A).

(3) If the seller is not selling the metal, stone, or mineral from its own inventory, but instead purchases the metal, stone, or mineral to fill orders taken from purchasers, the filing shall include copies of all contracts or other documents evidencing the seller's ability to call upon suppliers to fill the seller's orders.

(4) If the seller represents to purchasers that the seller has insurance or a surety bond of any type relating to a purchaser's purchase of any metal, stone, or mineral from the seller, the filing shall include a complete copy of all these insurance policies and bonds.

(5) If the seller makes any representation as to the earning or profit potential of purchases of any metal, stone, or mineral, the filing shall include data to substantiate the claims made. If the representation relates to previous sales made by the seller or a related entity, substantiating data shall be based on the experiences of at least 50 percent of the persons who have purchased the particular metal, stone, or mineral from the seller or related entity during the preceding six months (or if the seller or related entity has not been in business that long, during the period the seller or related entity has been in business) and shall include the raw data upon which the representation is based, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

(A) The length of time the seller or related entity has been selling the particular metal, stone, or mineral being offered.

(B) The number of purchasers thereof from the seller or related entity known to the seller or related entity to have made at least the same earnings or profit as those represented.

(C) The percentage that the number disclosed pursuant to subparagraph (B) represents of the total number of purchasers from the seller or related entity of the particular metal, stone, or mineral.

(n) If the telephonic seller is offering to sell an interest in oil, gas, or mineral fields, wells, or exploration sites, the filing shall include disclosure of the following:

(1) The seller's ownership interest, if any, in each field, well, or site being offered for sale.

(2) The total number of interests to be sold in each field, well, or site being offered for sale.

(3) If, in selling an interest in any particular field, well, or site, reference is made to an investigation of these fields, wells, or sites by the seller or anyone else, the filing shall include the following:

(A) The name, business address, telephone number, and professional credentials of the person or persons who made the investigation.

(B) A copy of the report and other documents relating to the investigation prepared by the person or persons.

(4) If the seller makes any representation as to the earning or profit potential of purchases of any interest in these fields, wells, or sites, the filing shall include data to substantiate the claims made. If the representation relates to previous sales made by the seller or a related entity, the substantiating data shall be based on the experiences of at least 50 percent of the purchasers of the particular interests from the seller or the related entity during the preceding six months (or if the seller has not been in business that long, during the period the seller or related entity has been in business) and shall include the raw data upon which the representation is based, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

(A) The length of time the seller or related entity has been selling the particular interests in the fields, wells, or sites being offered.

(B) The number of purchasers of the particular interests from the seller or related entity known to the seller to have made, at least the same earnings as those represented.

(C) The percentage the number disclosed pursuant to subparagraph (B) represents of the total number of purchasers of the particular interests from the seller or related entity.

(o) The name and address of the telephonic seller's agent in this state, other than the Attorney General, authorized to receive service of process in this state.

(p) If a person, based on paragraph (19) of subdivision (c) of Section 17511.1, claims an exemption from having to file the information required by subdivisions (a) to (o), inclusive, the person shall file, on a form provided by the Attorney General, the following information:

(1) The name or names of the person claiming the exemption, including the name under which the person is doing or intends to do business.

(2) The person's business form, and place of organization, whether corporate or otherwise; or, if operating under a fictitious business name, the location where the fictitious name has been registered.

(3) The complete street address of the person's retail locations, and telephone numbers located therein and a statement as to how long the person has been selling at retail from each location.

(4) A copy of the person's currently valid business license.

(5) A statement reflecting the dollar amount of the person's total retail sales during the 12 months preceding the filing.

(6) A statement reflecting the dollar amount of the person's sales made telephonically during the 12 months preceding the filing.

The filing shall be verified by a declaration signed under penalty of perjury by each principal of the person claiming the exemption. The declaration shall specify the date and location of signing.

If a person filing pursuant to subdivision (p) makes any representation to a prospective purchaser as to the historical movements or changes in the price or value of any coin or bullion, the person shall maintain in its records sufficient data to substantiate each representation. This data shall be retained in the person's records for a period of at least three years after the last date on which a representation is made and shall be made available for inspection upon request by any governmental agency at each of its business locations.

(q) If the telephonic seller represents or implies, or directs salespersons to represent or imply, that the telephonic seller can, or may be able to, make a loan or arrange or assist in arranging a loan or to assist in providing information which may lead to the obtaining of a loan, the filing shall include the following:

(1) The names and addresses of all persons who, in the previous 24 months, lent money to those who responded to the seller's solicitations or lent money to the telephonic seller for the seller to lend to those who responded to the seller's representations that it could make a loan or arrange or assist in arranging a loan or could assist in providing information which could lead to the obtaining of a loan.

(2) The names and addresses of all persons who, in the previous 24 months, lent money to those who responded to the solicitations of the seller's predecessor or the seller's officers, owners, or those persons having present management responsibilities or to companies with which they were associated, that they could make a loan or arrange or assist in arranging a loan or could assist in providing information which could lead to the obtaining of a loan or lent money to the seller's predecessor or the seller's officers, owners, or those persons having present management responsibilities or to companies with which they were associated for them to lend to those who responded to these representations.

(3) The names and addresses of all persons who have informed the telephonic seller that they may be able to lend money, within the next 12 months from the date of this registration, to persons solicited by the seller or to the telephonic seller for the seller to lend to those who respond to the seller's representations that it can make a loan or arrange or assist in arranging a loan or can assist in providing information which can lead to the obtaining of a loan.

(4) Copies of all contracts between the seller and lenders or prospective lenders who may lend money: (A) to the seller to lend to individuals who, in connection with the seller's business activities, respond to the seller's representations that it can make a loan or arrange or assist in arranging a loan or can assist in providing information which can lead to the obtaining of a loan; or (B) directly to persons to whom the seller may represent that it can arrange or assist in providing information which can lead to the obtaining of a loan.

SEC. 3. Section 17511.5 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

17511.5. In addition to complying with the requirements of Section 17500.3, as applicable, each telephonic seller, shall, at the time the solicitation is made and prior to consummation of any sales transaction, provide all of the following information to each prospective purchaser:

(a) If the telephonic seller represents or implies that a prospective purchaser will receive, without charge therefor, certain specific items or one item from among designated items, whether the items are denominated as gifts, premiums, bonuses, prizes, or otherwise, the seller shall provide the following:

(1) The information required to be filed by subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (4) of, and paragraph (5) of, subdivision (l) of Section 17511.4. In addition, each time the telephonic seller makes reference to an item or items, the telephonic seller shall state that no purchase is necessary, and that the purchase of goods will have no greater chance of receiving the more valuable item or items than the person who does not purchase. The seller shall state, in a manner enabling a consumer to copy the information, the method, including the telephonic seller's address, for obtaining without purchase the item or items or for a chance to obtain the item or items. The provisions of Section 17537.2 of the Business and Professions Code shall apply to all offers.

(2) The complete street address of the location from which the salesperson is calling the prospective purchaser and, if different, the complete street address of the telephonic seller's principal location.

(3) The total number of individuals who have actually received from the telephonic seller, during the preceding 12 months (or if the seller has not been in business that long, during the period the telephonic seller has been in business), the item having the greatest value and the item with the smallest odds of being received.

(b) If the telephonic seller is offering to sell any metal, stone, or mineral, the seller shall provide the following information:

(1) The complete street address of the location from which the salesperson is calling the prospective purchaser and, if different, the complete street address of the telephonic seller's principal location.

(2) When required to be filed pursuant to Section 17511.4, the information specified in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (2) of, and paragraph (5) of, subdivision (m) of Section 17511.4.

(c) If the telephonic seller is offering to sell an interest in oil, gas, or mineral fields, wells, or exploration sites the seller shall provide the following information:

(1) The complete street address of the location from which the salesperson is calling the prospective purchaser and, if different, the complete street address of the telephonic seller's principal location.

(2) The information required to be filed by paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of, and subparagraph (A) of paragraph (3) of, subdivision (n) of Section 17511.4.

(d) If the telephonic seller represents that office equipment or supplies being offered are offered at prices which are below those usually charged for these items, the seller shall provide the following information:

(1) The complete street address of the location from which the salesperson is calling the prospective purchaser and, if different, the complete street address of the telephonic seller's principal location.

(2) The name of the manufacturer of each of the items the telephonic seller has represented for sale and in which the prospective purchaser expresses interest.

SEC. 4. Section 17511.12 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

17511.12. (a) Every telephonic seller shall maintain a bond issued by a surety company admitted to do business in this state. The bond shall be in the amount of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) in favor of the State of California for the benefit of any person suffering pecuniary loss in a transaction commenced during the period of bond coverage with a telephonic seller who violated this chapter. The bond shall include coverage for the payment of the portion of any judgment, including a judgment entered pursuant to Section 17203 or 17535, that provides for restitution to any person suffering pecuniary loss, notwithstanding whether the surety is joined or served in the action or proceeding. A copy of the bond shall be filed with the Consumer Law Section of the Department of Justice. This bond shall not be required of any cable television operator franchised or licensed pursuant to Section 53066 of the Government Code.

(b) (1) At least 10 days prior to the inception of any promotion offering a premium with an actual market value or advertised value of five hundred dollars ($500) or more, the telephonic seller shall notify the Attorney General in writing of the details of the promotion, describing the premium, and its current market value, the value at which it is advertised or held out to the customer, and the date the premium shall be awarded. All premiums offered shall be awarded. The telephonic seller shall maintain an additional bond for the total current market value or advertised value, whichever is greater, of the premiums held out or advertised to be available to a purchaser or recipient. A copy of the bond shall be filed with the Consumer Law Section of the Department of Justice. The bond shall be for the benefit of any person entitled to the premium who did not receive it within 30 days of the date disclosed to the Attorney General as the date on which the premium would be awarded. The amount paid to a person under a bond required by this subdivision shall not exceed the greater of the current market value or advertised or represented value of the premium offered to that person. The bond shall include coverage for the payment of any judgment, including a judgment entered pursuant to Section 17203 or 17535, that provides for payment of the value of premiums that were not timely awarded, notwithstanding whether the surety is joined or served in the action or proceeding. The bond shall also provide for payment upon motion by the Attorney General pursuant to subdivision (d) in the event the seller fails to provide the Attorney General with proof of the award of premiums as required in paragraph (2).

(2) Within 45 days after the date disclosed to the Attorney General for the award of premiums, the seller shall provide to the Attorney General proof that all premiums were awarded. The proof shall include the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of the recipients of the premiums and the date or dates on which the premiums were awarded. The bond shall be maintained until the seller files proof with the Attorney General as required by this subdivision or until payment of the amount of the bond is ordered pursuant to subdivision (d).

(c) (1) In addition to any other means for the enforcement of the surety's liability on a bond required by this section, the surety's liability on the bond may be enforced by motion, as provided in this subdivision, after a judgment has been obtained against the seller.

(2) The Attorney General, district attorney, city attorney, or any other person who obtained a judgment for restitution against the seller, as described in subdivision (a), may file a motion in the court which entered the judgment to enforce liability on the bond without first attempting to enforce the judgment against any party liable under the judgment.

(3) The notice of motion, the motion, and a copy for the judgment shall be served on the surety as provided in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1010) of Title 14 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The notice shall set forth the amount of the claim and a brief statement indicating that the claim is covered by the bond. Service shall also be made on the Consumer Law Section of the Department of Justice.

(4) The court shall grant the motion unless (A) the surety establishes that the claim is not covered by the bond or (B) the court sustains an objection made by the Attorney General that the grant of the motion might impair the rights of actual or potential claimants or is not in the public interest.

(d) (1) In addition to any other means for the enforcement of the surety's liability on a bond required by subdivision (b), the surety's liability on the bond may be enforced by motion as provided in this subdivision.

(2) The Attorney General, district attorney, city attorney, or any person who claims the premium, may file a motion in a court of competent jurisdiction in the county or judicial district from which the seller made an offer of a premium, in which the seller maintains any office or place of business, or in which an offeree of the premium resides. The motion shall set forth the nature of the seller's offer, the greater of the current market value or advertised or represented value of the premium, the date by which the premium should have been awarded, and the fact that the premium was not awarded as represented.

(3) The notice of motion and motion shall be served on the surety as provided in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1010) of Title 14 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(4) The court shall grant the motion unless the surety establishes that the claim is untrue or is not covered by the bond.

(5) The Attorney General may file a motion in a court of competent jurisdiction in the county or judicial district from which the seller made an offer of a premium, in which an offeree of a premium resides for the payment of the entire bond if the seller fails to file proof with the Attorney General of the award of all premiums as required by paragraph (2) of subdivision (b). The notice of motion and motion shall be served a provided in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1010) of Title 14 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The motion shall be granted if the Attorney General establishes that the seller failed to file proof of making the timely award of all premiums. The recovery on the bond shall be distributed pro rata to the promised recipients of the premiums to the extent their identity is actually known to the Attorney General at the time payment is made by the surety. The balance of the recovery shall be paid to any judicially established consumer protection trust fund designated by the Attorney General or as directed by the court under the cy pres doctrine.

(e) No stay of a motion filed pursuant to this section shall be granted pending the determination of conflicting claims among beneficiaries. An order enforcing liability on a bond may be enforced in the same manner as a money judgment pursuant to Title 9 (commencing with Section 680.010) of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Nothing herein affects the rights of the surety against the principal.

(f) The surety shall not be liable on the bond for payment of a judgment against a seller for any violation of this chapter unless the action or proceeding is filed within two years after the cancellation or termination of the bond, the termination of the seller's registration, or the seller's cessation of business, whichever is later.

(g) The surety shall not be liable on a motion made pursuant to subdivision (d) unless the motion is filed within two years of the date on which the seller represented the premium was to have been awarded.

(h) For the purpose of this section, "judgment" includes a final order in a proceeding for the termination of telephone service pursuant to Public Utilities Commission Tariff Rule 31.

(i) Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 995.010) of Title 14 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall apply to the enforcement of a bond given pursuant to this section except to the extent of any inconsistency with this section in which event this section shall apply.

CHAPTER 804

An act to amend Sections 207, 208, 209, 210, 1054.6, 1054.8, and 4332 of, and to add Sections 211 and 4334 to, the Fish and Game Code, relating to fish and game, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 207 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

207. (a) In addition to, or in conjunction with, other regular or special meetings, the commission shall hold meetings in the first 10 days of the months of February, March, and April in even-numbered years for the purpose of considering and adopting revisions to regulations relating to mammals. The commission shall alternate the location of the February meeting between Sacramento and Los Angeles or Long Beach. The commission shall alternate the location of the March meeting between San Diego and Redding or Red Bluff. The commission shall alternate the location of the April meeting between Sacramento and Los Angeles or Long Beach.

(b) At the February meeting, the commission shall receive recommendations for regulations from its own members and staff, the department, other public agencies, and the public.

(c) At the March meeting, the commission shall devote time for open public discussion of proposed regulations presented at the February meeting. The department shall participate in this discussion by reviewing and presenting its findings regarding each regulation proposed by the public and by responding to objections raised pertaining to its proposed regulations. After considering the public discussion, the commission shall announce, prior to adjournment of the March meeting, the regulations it intends to add, amend, or repeal relating to mammals.

(d) At, or within 20 days after, the April meeting, the commission may choose to hear additional public discussion regarding the regulations it intends to adopt. At, or within 20 days after, the meeting, the commission shall add, amend, or repeal regulations relating to any recommendations received at the February meeting regarding mammals that it deems necessary to preserve, properly utilize, and maintain each species or subspecies.

(e) Within 45 days after adoption, the department shall publish and distribute regulations adopted pursuant to this section.

SEC. 2. Section 208 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

208. (a) In addition to, or in conjunction with, other regular or special meetings, the commission shall hold meetings in June and August in even-numbered years for the purpose of considering and adopting revisions to regulations relating to resident game birds.

(b) At the June meeting, the commission shall receive recommendations for regulations from its own members and staff, the department, other public agencies, and the public.

(c) At, or within 20 days after, the August meeting, the commission shall devote time for open public discussion of proposed regulations presented at the June meeting. The department shall participate in this discussion by reviewing and presenting its findings regarding each regulation proposed by the public and by responding to objections raised pertaining to its proposed regulations. After considering the public discussion, the commission, at, or within 20 days after, the August meeting, shall add, amend, or repeal regulations relating to any recommendation received at the June meeting regarding resident game birds that it deems necessary to preserve, properly utilize, and maintain each species or subspecies.

(d) Within 45 days after adoption, the department shall publish and distribute regulations adopted pursuant to this section.

SEC. 3. Section 209 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

209. (a) The commission shall determine and give notice of the date and location of the first meeting required to be held during a year by Sections 206, 207, and 208 at least 60 days prior to that first meeting. The commission shall give notice of any change in the date or location of that first meeting at least 30 days prior to the meeting date.

(b) The commission shall cause to be published the notice required in subdivision (a) in each newspaper of general circulation, as defined in Section 6000 of the Government Code, with an average daily circulation of 50,000 or more.

(c) The commission shall set the dates of its meetings in order to provide maximum time for public review of proposed regulations consistent with the proper management of the species or subspecies affected. All meetings required by Sections 206, 207, and 208 shall be open to the public and, to the extent feasible, held in state facilities.

SEC. 4. Section 210 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

210. (a) The commission shall provide copies of the regulations added, amended, or repealed pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 206, subdivision (e) of Section 207, and subdivision (d) of Section 208 to each county clerk, each district attorney, and each judge of a municipal court or justice court in the state.

(b) The commission and the department may do anything that is deemed necessary and proper to publicize and distribute regulations so that persons likely to be affected will be informed of them. The failure of the commission to provide any notice of its regulations, other than by filing them in accordance with Section 215, shall not impair the validity of the regulations.

(c) The department or the license agent may give a copy of the current applicable published regulations to each person issued a license at the time the license is issued.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the commission and the department may contract with private entities to print regulations and other regulatory and public information. Printing contracts authorized by this subdivision and for which no state funds are expended are not subject to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section (10290) of Part 2 of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code, except for Article 2 (commencing with Section 10295) of Chapter 2.

SEC. 5. Section 211 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

211. (a) Material printed pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 210 that contains advertisements shall meet all specifications prescribed by the department. The printed material shall not contain advertisements for tobacco products, alcohol, firearms and devices prohibited pursuant to Sections 12020, 12220, and 12280 of the Penal Code, or firearms not authorized by the commission as a legal method of sport-hunting, political statements, solicitations for membership in organizations, or any other statement, solicitation, or product advertisement that is in conflict with the purposes for which the material is produced, as determined by the commission. The printing contract shall include criteria to ensure that the public information provided in the publication is easy to reference, read, and understand.

(b) Neither the department nor the commission shall contract with private entities to print the materials described in subdivision (d) of Section 210 if the letting of those contracts will result in the elimination of civil service positions.

SEC. 5.5. Section 1054.6 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

1054.6. If more than one hunting license tag authorized pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 331, subdivision (d) of Section 332, Section 4334, or subdivision (d) of Section 4902 is sold at auction or by other methods by a nonprofit organization, or by a chapter of a nonprofit organization, the selection of one of the sellers of the tags authorized by any of those provisions by the department shall be determined by drawing from the qualified applicants as determined by the department pursuant to policies and procedures established pursuant to Section 1054.8. The drawing shall be held in a public place as determined by the department.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1996, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1996, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 6. Section 1054.8 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

1054.8. (a) The department shall establish, and keep current, written policies and procedures relating to the application process and the award of hunting license tags for fundraising purposes, as authorized pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 331, subdivision (d) of Section 332, Section 4334, or subdivision (d) of Section 4902.

(b) The policies and procedures shall include, but need not be limited to, all of the following:

(1) The application process and criteria.

(2) A standard application format.

(3) An appeal process.

(4) A requirement that all applications shall remain sealed until on or after a filing date specified by the department.

(c) The department shall make the policies and procedures available to interested parties 30 days prior to their implementation and shall receive and consider any related recommendations.

(d) The department shall not require a minimum tag sale price, except as otherwise provided in this code.

(e) It is the intent of the Legislature that the department develop policies and procedures that seek to maximize both the revenues received by the department and participation by qualified nonprofit organizations making application to sell the tags as sellers of the tags.

SEC. 7. Section 4332 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

4332. (a) Any resident of this state, 12 years of age or over, who possesses a valid hunting license, may procure one license tag for the taking of one deer by one person during the current license year, upon payment of the base fee of ten dollars ($10) for the license year beginning July 1, 1986, and the base fee as adjusted under Section 713 for subsequent license years.

(b) Any nonresident of this state, 12 years of age or over, who possesses a valid hunting license, may procure one license tag for the taking of one deer by one person during the current license year, upon payment of the base fee of one hundred dollars ($100) for the license year beginning July 1, 1986, and the base fee as adjusted under Section 713 for subsequent license years.

(c) If provided in regulations adopted by the commission under Section 200, any resident of this state, 12 years of age or over, who possesses a deer tag may procure one additional deer tag for the taking of one additional deer during the current license season, upon payment of the base fee of twelve dollars and fifty cents ($12.50) for the license years beginning July 1, 1986, and the base fee as adjusted under Section 713 for subsequent license years.

(d) If provided in regulations adopted by the commission under Section 200, any nonresident of this state, 12 years of age or over, who possesses a deer tag may procure one additional deer tag for the taking of one additional deer during the current license season, upon payment of the base fee of one hundred dollars ($100) for the license year beginning July 1, 1986, and the base fee as adjusted under Section 713 for subsequent license years.

(e) The revenue received pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the Fish and Game Preservation Fund, and, notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code, 54 percent of the amount deposited in that fund pursuant to this section each year is hereby continuously appropriated to the department for expenditure for the purpose of implementing the deer herd management plans prepared pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 450) of Division 1.

The amount appropriated for implementation of deer herd management plans by this subdivision is intended to be in addition to, and not a replacement for, the funds budgeted in that year or the previous year to the department from the Fish and Game Preservation Fund for deer management.

SEC. 8. Section 4334 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

4334. The commission shall annually direct the department to authorize, pursuant to Sections 1054.6 and 1054.8, the sale of not more than 10 deer license tags solely for the purpose of raising funds for programs and projects to benefit deer. These tags may be sold to residents or nonresidents of the State of California at auction or by any other method and are not subject to the fees prescribed by Section 4332. Notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code, all funds derived from the sale of these tags is hereby continuously appropriated to the department to be used for the Deer Herd Management Plan Implementation Program. These funds shall augment, not supplant, any other funds appropriated to the department for the preservation, restoration, utilization, and management of deer. All revenues derived from the sale of these tags shall be remitted to the department by the seller.

CHAPTER 805

An act to add Chapter 17.5 (commencing with Section 77401) to Division 22 of the Food and Agricultural Code, relating to agriculture, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 17.5 (commencing with Section 77401) is added to Division 22 of the Food and Agricultural Code, to read:

CHAPTER 17.5. CALIFORNIA STRAWBERRY COMMISSION

Article 1. Declaration and General Provisions

77401. The production and marketing of strawberries constitutes an important industry of this state that provides substantial and necessary revenues for the state and employment for its citizens.

77402. The establishment of the commission is necessary for the efficient creation and management of a research program to develop improved varieties of strawberries, an integrated approach to control pests and diseases common to strawberries, and more efficient cultural practices. The commission is also necessary for the efficient development and management of a national and international advertising and promotion program which, combined with the research program, will enhance the competitiveness of the California strawberry industry within the national and international marketplace.

77403. The maintenance of the strawberry industry of California is necessary to assure the public of a continuous supply of this vital product and the maintenance of needed levels of income for those engaged in the strawberry industry of this state.

77404. The production and marketing of strawberries produced in this state is hereby declared to be affected with the public interest. This chapter is enacted in the exercise of the police power of this state for the purpose of protecting the health, peace, safety, and general welfare of the people of this state.

77405. A commission form of administration created by this chapter is designed to deal with the broad fields of advertising, promotion, marketing research, and production research.

77406. No action taken by the commission, or by any individual in accordance with this chapter or with rules and regulations adopted under the chapter, shall be deemed a violation of the so-called Cartwright Act (Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 16700) of Part 2 of Division 7 of the Business and Professions Code), the Unfair Practices Act (Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 17000) of that Part 2), or any rule of statutory or common law against monopolies or combinations in restraint of trade.

77407. It is hereby declared as a matter of legislative determination that members of the commission are intended to represent and further the interest of the particular industry concerned and that this representation and furtherance is intended to serve the public interest. Accordingly, the Legislature finds that with respect to persons who are elected or appointed to the commission, the particular industry concerned is tantamount to, and constitutes the public generally within the meaning of Section 87103 of the Government Code.

Article 2. Definitions

77410. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in this article govern the construction of this chapter.

77411. "Strawberries" mean all strawberries produced for commercial purposes and prepared for market within the state. For the purpose of shipper and processor assessments only, "strawberries" includes all strawberries marketed within the state regardless of where the strawberries are produced.

77412. "Books and records" means books, records, contracts, documents, memoranda, papers, correspondence, or other written data pertaining to matters relating to the activities subject to this chapter.

77413. "Commission" means the California Strawberry Commission.

77414. "Crate" means a shipping container holding more than six pint baskets, or the equivalent volume thereof, and no more than 12 pint baskets, or the equivalent volume thereof, used in preparing for market or marketing strawberries for fresh consumption. A shipping container holding six pint baskets, or the equivalent volume thereof, shall be considered to be a half-crate. Assessments on a half-crate shall be one-half of the rate for a crate of strawberries. A shipping container holding more than 12 pint baskets, or the equivalent volume thereof, shall be assessed at a rate determined by the commission.

77415. "Director" means the Director of Food and Agriculture.

77416. "Districts" consist of the following:

(a) District 1 consists of San Diego, Imperial, and Riverside Counties.

(b) District 2 consists of Los Angeles, Orange, and San Bernardino Counties.

(c) District 3 consists of Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo Counties.

(d) District 4 consists of Ventura County.

(e) District 5 consists of Madera, Fresno, Kings, Tulare, Kern, Inyo, Merced, Stanislaus, San Joaquin, and Sacramento Counties and all other counties within the State of California not included in Districts 1 to 4, inclusive, and Districts 6 to 8, inclusive.

(f) District 6 consists of Monterey County.

(g) District 7 consists of Santa Cruz and San Mateo Counties and the City and County of San Francisco.

(h) District 8 consists of Alameda, Santa Clara, and San Benito Counties.

The boundaries of any district may be changed by a two-thirds vote of the commission, which is concurred in by the director, to ensure proper representation. The boundaries need not coincide with county lines.

77417. "Ex officio member" are nonvoting members of the commission.

77417.5. "Market" or "marketing" means to sell or otherwise distribute strawberries into commercial channels or trade resulting in the sale of strawberries.

77418. "Marketing research" means any research relating to the sale of strawberries.

77419. "Marketing season" or "fiscal year" are synonymous terms and mean the period beginning February 1 of any year and extending through the last day of January of the following year.

77420. "Process" and "processing" are synonymous terms and mean the operations of receiving, cleaning, grading, canning, freezing, preserving, or otherwise preparing strawberries for marketing in any form other than for fresh consumption.

77421. "Processor" means any person who performs any of the functions of processing strawberries. When a processor is a corporation, all of the directors and officers of the corporation in their capacity as individuals shall be included, and any liability for failure to collect or make payment of assessments for which a corporate processor may be subject pursuant to this chapter shall include identical liability upon each individual director or officer of the corporation. It does not, however, include a retailer, except a retailer who purchases or acquires from, or processes on behalf of, any producer, strawberries that were not previously subject to assessment by the commission.

77422. "Producer" and "grower" are synonymous terms and mean any person who produces or causes to be produced strawberries for market and who shall, upon request of the commission, provide proof of commodity sale.

77423. "Production research" means any research relating to the production, harvest, and post harvest handling of strawberries.

77424. "Ship" and "shipping" are synonymous terms and mean the operations of receiving, grading, cleaning, transporting, distributing, or otherwise preparing for market or marketing strawberries for fresh consumption.

77425. "Shipper" means any person who performs any of the functions of shipping strawberries. When the shipper is a corporation, all of the directors and officers of the corporation in their capacity as individuals shall be included, and any liability for failure to collect or make payment of assessments for which a corporate shipper may be subject pursuant to this chapter shall include identical liability upon each individual director or officer of the corporation. It does not, however, include a retailer, except a retailer who purchases or acquires from, or ships on behalf of, any producer, strawberries that were not previously subject to assessment by the commission.

Article 3. The California Strawberry Commission

77430. (a) There is in the state government the California Strawberry Commission. Except as provided in subdivision (d), the commission shall be composed of 13 producers, five shippers, five processors, and one public member.

(b) Producers within the respective districts shall elect one member from District 1, two members from District 2, two members from District 3, two members from District 4, one member from District 5, two members from District 6, two members from District 7, and one member from District 8. Shippers and processors shall be elected by and from shippers and processors, respectively, on a statewide basis without reference to districts. The public member shall be appointed to the commission by the director from nominees recommended by the commission.

(c) The director and other appropriate persons as determined by the commission shall be ex officio members of the commission.

(d) The commission may modify the number of producers in each district, and shippers and processors who serve on the commission, and may elect producers, shippers, and processors to serve as at large members of the commission. The total number of producer, shipper, and processor members shall not exceed 28.

Actions of the commission in violation of the written notice shall be without legal force or effect. The director, to the extent feasible, shall issue the written notice prior to the commission entering into any contractual relationship affecting the existing or proposed activities or functions that are the subject of the written notice. Upon service of the written notice, the director shall notify the commission in writing of the specific acts that he or she determines are not in the public interest or are in violation of this chapter, and his or her reasons for requiring a cessation or correction of specific existing or proposed activities or functions, and may make recommendations that will make those activities or functions acceptable to the director.

77432. The commission or the director may bring an action for judicial relief from the director's written notice, or from noncompliance by the commission with the written notice, in a court of competent jurisdiction, which may issue a temporary restraining order, permanent injunction, or other applicable relief.

77433. The commission shall reimburse the director for all expenditures incurred by the director in carrying out his or her duties and responsibilities under this chapter. However, a court may, if it finds that the director acted arbitrarily or capriciously in restricting the activities or functions of the commission, relieve the commission of the responsibility for payment of the director's legal costs with regard to that action.

77437. A shipper member or his or her alternate on the commission shall be an individual, partner, or employee of a shipper who has a financial interest in shipping, or causing to be shipped, strawberries for market. The shipper member or his or her alternate shall be so qualified during the entire term of office.

processed, strawberries for market. The processor member or his or her alternate shall be so qualified during the entire term of office.

77439. The public member or his or her alternate on the commission shall have all the powers, rights, and privileges of any other member on the commission. The public member and his or her alternate shall not have any financial interest in the strawberry industry.

77440. The term of office of all members of the commission and alternates, except any ex officio member, shall be two years from the date of their election and until their successors are elected.

77441. The commission shall be and is hereby declared and created a corporate body. It may sue and be sued, enter into contracts, adopt a corporate seal, and has all of the powers of a corporation. Copies of its proceedings, records, and acts, when authenticated, shall be admissible in evidence in all courts of the state, and shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of all statements therein.

77443. The director or his or her representatives shall be notified and may attend each meeting of the commission and any committee meeting of the commission. However, the director is not entitled to attend an executive session of the commission called for the purpose of discussing potential or actual litigation against the department.

77444. No member of the commission or of any committee established by the commission, which may include nonmembers of the commission, shall receive a salary. Except ex officio government members, the members may receive an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) per day, as established by the commission, for each day spent in actual attendance at, or in traveling to and from, meetings of the commission or committees of the commission, or on special assignment for the commission, as approved by the commission, together with the necessary traveling expenses and meal allowances, as approved by the commission.

77445. If the director is required to concur in a decision of the commission, he or she shall indicate his or her response to the commission within 15 working days from notification of the decision. The response may be a request that additional information be provided.

77446. All moneys received by any person from assessments levied under the authority of this chapter or otherwise received by the commission shall be deposited in banks designated by the commission and shall be disbursed by order of the commission through an agent or agents designated for that purpose. Any authorized agent or agents shall be bonded by a fidelity bond, executed by a surety company authorized to transact business in the state, in favor of the commission, in the amount of not less that twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000).

77447. The state shall not be liable for the acts of the commission or its contracts. Payments of all claims arising by reason of the administration of this chapter or acts of the commission shall be limited to the funds collected by the commission. No member of the commission, alternate member, or any employee or agent thereof, shall be personally liable on the contracts of the commission and no member, alternate member, or employee of the commission shall be responsible individually in any way to any producer, processor, shipper or any other person for error in judgment, mistakes, or other acts, either of commission or omission, as principal, agent, or employee, except for his or her own individual acts of dishonesty or crime. No member or alternate member shall be held responsible individually for any act or omission of any member or alternate member of the commission. The liability of the members and alternate members shall be several and not joint, and no member or alternate member shall be liable for the default of any other member or alternate member.

Article 4. Powers and Duties of the Commission

77451. The powers and duties of the commission shall include, but are not limited to, all of the following:

(a) Adopt and from time to time alter, rescind, modify, and amend bylaws, rules, regulations, and orders for carrying out this chapter, including rules for appeals from any bylaw, rule, regulation, or order of the commission. These actions shall not be subject to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(b) Administer and enforce this chapter and do and perform all acts and exercise all powers incidental to, or in connection with, or determined reasonably necessary for, proper or advisable effectuation of the purposes of this chapter.

(c) Appoint its own officers, including a chairperson, one or more vice chairpersons, and any other officers as it determines necessary. The officers shall have the powers and duties delegated to them by the commission.

(d) Employ a person to serve at the pleasure of the commission as president and chief executive officer of the commission, and other personnel, including legal counsel, necessary to carry out this chapter. The commission may retain a management firm or the staff from any board, commission, or committee of the state to perform the functions prescribed by this subdivision under control of the commission. If the person engages in any conduct that the director determines is not in the public interest or in violation of this chapter, the director shall notify the commission of the conduct and request that corrective, and if appropriate, disciplinary action, be taken by the commission. If the commission fails or refuses to correct the situation or to take disciplinary action satisfactory to the director, the director may suspend or discharge the person.

(e) Fix the compensation for all employees of the commission.

(f) Appoint committees composed of both members and nonmembers of the commission to advise the commission in carrying out this chapter.

(g) Establish offices and incur expenses, invest funds, enter into contracts and agreements, and create liabilities and borrow funds in advance of receipt of assessments as determined necessary by the commission for the proper administration and enforcement of this chapter and the performance of its duties.

(h) Keep accurate books, records, and accounts of all of its dealings, which books, records, and accounts shall be subject to an annual audit by an auditing firm selected by the commission with the concurrence of the director. The audit shall be made a part of an annual report to all producers, processors, and shippers of strawberries, and copies of the audit shall be submitted to the Legislature and the department. In addition, the director may, as he or she determines necessary, conduct or cause to be conducted, a fiscal and compliance audit of the commission.

(i) Promote the sale of strawberries by advertising and any other promotional means, including cost-sharing advertising, for the purpose of maintaining and expanding present markets and creating new and larger intrastate, interstate, and foreign markets for strawberries, and to educate and instruct the public with respect to the uses, healthful properties, and nutritional value of strawberries.

(j) Educate and instruct the wholesale and retail trade with respect to proper methods of handling and selling strawberries, make market surveys and analyses, and present facts to, and negotiate with, state, federal, and foreign agencies on matters that affect the marketing of strawberries.

(k) Make, in the name of the commission, contracts to render service in formulating and conducting plans and programs, and any other contracts or agreements the commission determines necessary for the promotion of the sale of strawberries.

(l) Conduct, and contract with others to conduct, scientific research, including the study, analysis, dissemination, and accumulation of information obtained from research or elsewhere, respecting cultural and production practices, and marketing and distribution of strawberries. In connection with the research, the commission shall have the power to accept contributions of, or to match, private, state, or federal funds that may be available for these purposes, and to employ or make contributions of funds to other persons or state or federal agencies conducting the research.

(m) Collect information and publish and distribute, without charge, to producers, processors, and shippers a bulletin or other communication for dissemination of information, including, but not limited to, crop statistics relating to the strawberry industry.

(n) Establish an assessment rate to defray operating costs of the commission.

(o) Establish an annual budget according to accepted accounting practices. The budget shall be concurred in by the director prior to disbursement of funds, except for disbursements made pursuant to subdivision (e).

(p) Submit to the director for his or her concurrence, an annual statement of contemplated activities authorized under this chapter, including advertising, promotion, marketing research, and production research.

(q) Investigate and prosecute civil violations of this chapter and file complaints with appropriate law enforcement agencies or officers for suspected criminal violations of this chapter.

Article 5. Implementation and Voting Procedures

77461. Within 90 days after the effective date of this chapter, the director shall establish a list of producers, processors, and shippers eligible to vote on the implementation of this chapter. In establishing the list, the director shall require that processors and shippers of strawberries in California submit the names, mailing addresses, and the volume of strawberries received during the preceding marketing season from each producer of strawberries in California. The request for the information shall be in writing. The information shall be filed within 30 days following receipt of the written request for information.

Any producer, processor, or shipper of strawberries, whose name does not appear upon the director's list may have his or her name placed on the list by filing with the director a signed statement, identifying himself or herself as a producer, processor, or shipper. Failure to be on the list does not exempt the producer, processor, or shipper from paying assessments under this chapter.

77462. This chapter, except as necessary to conduct an implementation referendum vote, shall not become operative until the director finds in a referendum conducted by the director that at least 40 percent of the total number of producers, processors, and shippers from the list established by the director pursuant to this article participate, and that either of the following occurs:

(a) Sixty-five percent or more of the producers, processors, and shippers who voted in the referendum voted in favor of this chapter, and the producers, processors, and shippers so voting each marketed a majority of the total quantity of strawberries in the preceding season by all producers, processors, and shippers who voted in the referendum.

(b) A majority of each of the producers, processors, and shippers who voted in the referendum voted in favor of this chapter, and the producers, processors, and shippers so voting marketed 65 percent or more of the total quantity of strawberries in the preceding season by all producers, processors, or shippers who voted in the referendum.

77463. The director shall establish a period in which to conduct the referendum which shall not be less than 10 days or more than 60 days in duration and may prescribe additional procedures necessary to conduct the referendum. If the initial period established is less than 60 days, the director may extend the period. However, the total referendum period may not exceed 60 days.

77464. Nonreceipt of a ballot shall not invalidate a referendum.

77464.5. In finding whether the commission is approved pursuant to this article, the vote of any nonprofit agricultural cooperative marketing association that is authorized by its members to so vote, shall be considered as being the approval or rejection by the individual members of, or the individual stockholders in, the nonprofit agricultural cooperative marketing association.

77465. If the director finds that a favorable vote has been given as provided in Section 77462, he or she shall so certify and give notice of the vote to all producers, processors, and shippers whose names and addresses are on file with the director.

77466. If the director finds that a favorable vote has not been given as provided in this article, he or she shall so certify and declare this chapter inoperative. The director may conduct another implementation referendum vote one or more years after the previous vote has been taken.

77468. Prior to the referendum vote conducted by the director pursuant to this article, the proponents of the commission shall deposit with the director an amount of funds determined necessary by the director to defray the expenses of preparing the necessary lists and information and conducting the vote. Any funds not used for this purpose shall be returned to the proponents of the commission who deposited the funds with the director. Upon establishment of the commission, the commission may reimburse the proponents of the commission for any funds deposited with the director and for any legal expenses and costs incurred in establishing the commission.

Article 6. Assessments and Records

77481. The commission shall, not later than February 1 of each year, establish the assessment for the marketing season that begins February 1 and continues through January 31 of the following year. The assessment shall not exceed the following amounts:

(a) Two and one-half cents ($0.025) per crate, or the equivalent, for strawberries delivered to shippers by producers.

(b) Two and one-half cents ($0.025) per crate, or the equivalent, for strawberries received by shippers from producers.

(c) Two and one-half cents ($0.025) per 14 pounds for strawberries delivered to processors for processing by producers.

(d) Two and one-half cents ($0.025) per 14 pounds for strawberries received by processors for processing from producers.

An assessment greater than the amounts in this section may not be charged unless it is approved in accordance with the voting requirements of Section 77462.

77481.5. An assessment established by the commission shall require a favorable vote of not less than eight producer members, three processor members, and three shipper members of the commission.

77482. This chapter does not apply to strawberries produced only for a producer's home use or to strawberries that are used only for ornamental purposes.

77486. Every shipper or processor shall be personally liable for the payment of the collected assessments from producers, and failure to collect the assessment from any producer shall not exempt the processor or shipper from liability.

77487. Any assessment that is levied as provided in this chapter is a personal debt of every producer, processor, or shipper so assessed. Failure of a shipper or processor to make payment of the collected producer assessment to the commission shall not relieve the producer of this obligation.

77488. (a) Any producer, shipper, or processor who fails to file a return or pay any assessment within the time required by the commission shall pay to the commission a penalty of 10 percent of the amount of the assessment determined to be past due and, in addition, interest on the unpaid balance at the rate of 1.5 percent per month.

(b) In addition to any other penalty imposed, the commission may require any person who fails to pay any assessment or related charge pursuant to this article to furnish and maintain a surety bond in a form and amount and for a period of time specified by the commission as assurance that all payments to the commission will be made when due.

Article 7. Actions and Penalties

77491. It is a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) or by both fine and imprisonment, for any person to do any of the following:

(a) Willfully to render or furnish a false report, statement, or record required by the commission, or in any way to affect the shipment and marketing of strawberries in order to avoid payment of assessments on the product's highest value.

(b) Fail to render or furnish a report, statement, or record required by the commission.

(c) When engaged in the shipping or processing of strawberries or in the wholesale or retail trade of strawberries, to fail or refuse to furnish to the commission or its duly authorized agents, upon request, information concerning the name and address of the persons from whom he or she has received strawberries and the quantity so received.

(d) Secrete, destroy, or alter records required to be kept by this chapter.

77493. The commission may commence civil actions and utilize all remedies provided in law or equity for the collection of assessments and civil penalties, and for obtaining injunctive relief or specific performance, relating to this chapter and the rules and regulations adopted under this chapter. A court shall issue to the commission any requested writ of attachment or injunctive relief upon a prima facie showing by verified complaint that a named defendant has violated this chapter or any other rule or regulation of the commission, including, but not limited to, the nonpayment of assessments. No bond shall be required to be posted by the commission as a condition for the issuance of any writ of attachment or injunctive relief. A writ of attachment shall be issued pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 485.010) of Title 6.5 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, except that the showing specified in Section 485.010 is not required. Injunctive relief shall be issued pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 525) of Title 7 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, except that the showing of irreparable harm or of inadequate remedy at law specified by Section 526 or 527 is not required. Upon entry of any final judgment on behalf of the commission against any defendant, the court shall enjoin the defendant from conducting any type of business regarding strawberries until there is full compliance with, and satisfaction of, the judgment. Upon a favorable judgment for the commission, the court may order that the commission be reimbursed for reasonable attorney's fees and other actual related costs. Venue for these actions is at the domicile or place of business of the defendant or in the county of the principal office of the commission. The commission may be sued only in the county of its principal office.

77494. Any action by the commission for any penalty or other remedy that is prescribed under this chapter shall be commenced within two years from the date of discovery of the alleged violation. Any action against the commission by any person shall be commenced within two years from the date of the alleged violation.

77495. The commission is not required to allege or prove that an adequate remedy at law does not exist in any action brought under this chapter.

77496. This chapter shall be liberally construed. If any section, clause, or part of this chapter is for any reason held unconstitutional or invalid as applied to any person or as applied under certain circumstances, that decision shall not affect the remaining portions of this chapter or the application of this chapter to any other persons or under any other circumstance.

77497. The termination of this chapter shall not affect or waive any right, duty, obligation, or liability that has arisen or that may thereafter arise in connection with this chapter, release or extinguish any violation of this chapter, or affect or impair any right or remedies of the commission with respect to any violation.

Article 8. Continuation or Suspension and Termination

77501. Every five years, commencing with the 1999–2000 marketing season, the director shall hold a hearing to determine whether the operation of this chapter should be continued. If the director finds after the hearing that a substantial question exists among the producers, processors, and shippers assessed under this chapter regarding whether the operation of this chapter should be continued, the director shall submit the chapter to a reapproval referendum. If a reapproval referendum is required, the operation of this chapter shall be continued in effect if the director finds that a majority of the eligible producers, processors, and shippers voting in the referendum, voted in favor of continuing this chapter. In finding whether the commission is continued pursuant to this article, the vote of any nonprofit agricultural cooperative marketing association that is authorized by its members to so vote, shall be considered as being the approval or rejection by the individual members of, or the individual stockholders in, the nonprofit agricultural cooperative marketing association.

If the director finds after conducting a hearing that no substantial question exists or that a favorable vote has been given, the director shall so certify and this chapter shall remain operative. If the director finds that a favorable vote has not been given, he or she shall so certify and declare the operation of this chapter and the commission suspended upon the expiration of the marketing season ending January 31, 2000. Thereupon, the operations of the commission shall be concluded and funds distributed in the manner provided in Section 77504. No bond or security shall be required for any such referendum.

77502. Following a hearing, and favorable referendum if required, conducted prior to January 31, 2000, the process specified in Section 77501 shall be conducted by the commission every fifth year thereafter between February 1 and June 30, unless a referendum is conducted as the result of a petition pursuant to Section 77503. In that case, the hearing, and referendum if required, shall be conducted every fifth year following the industry petitioned referendum.

(b) The director shall, upon receipt of a recommendation, or may, after a public hearing to review a petition filed with him or her requesting such suspension, signed by 15 percent of the producers, processors, or shippers by number who produced, processed, or shipped not less than 15 percent of the volume in the immediately preceding season, cause a referendum to be conducted among the listed producers, processors, and shippers to determine if the operations of the commission shall be suspended. However, the director shall not hold a referendum as a result of the petition unless the petitioner shows by the weight of evidence that this chapter has not effectuated its declared purposes.

(c) The director shall establish a referendum period, which shall not be less than ten or more than 60 days in duration. The director may prescribe additional procedures necessary to conduct the referendum. At the close of the established referendum period, the director shall tabulate the ballots filed during the period. If at least 40 percent of the total number of producers, processors, and shippers from the list established by the director, participate in the referendum, the director shall suspend the operation of this chapter, if the director finds either one of the following:

(1) Sixty-five percent or more of the producers, processors, and shippers who voted in the referendum voted in favor of suspension, and the producers, processors, and shippers so voting marketed a majority of the total quantity of strawberries marketed in the preceding marketing season by all of the producers, processors, and shippers who voted in the referendum.

(2) That a majority of the producers, processors, and shippers who voted in the referendum voted in favor of suspension, and that the producers, processors, and shippers so voting marketed 65 percent or more of the total quantity of strawberries marketed in the preceding season by all of the producers, processors, and shippers who voted in the referendum.

77504. After the effective date of suspension of this chapter and of the commission, the operations of the commission shall be concluded and all moneys held by the commission, and moneys collected by assessment and not required to defray the expenses of concluding and terminating operations of the commission, shall be returned upon a pro rata basis to all persons from whom assessments were collected in the immediately preceding current marketing season. However, if the commission finds that the amounts returnable are so small as to make impractical the computation and remitting of the pro rata refund to those persons, any moneys remaining and any moneys remaining after payment of all expenses of winding up and terminating operations shall be withdrawn from the approved depository and paid into an appropriate state or federal program or used to fund activities related to the subject matter of this chapter.

77505. Upon suspension of the operation of this chapter and of the commission, the commission shall mail a copy of the notice of suspension to all producers, processors, and shippers affected by the suspension whose names and addresses are on file.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order that the strawberry industry in this state obtain the benefits of this legislation at the earliest possible time, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 806

An act to add Article 3 (commencing with Section 5030) to Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 4 of the Food and Agricultural Code, relating to agriculture.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 3 (commencing with Section 5030) is added to Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 4 of the Food and Agricultural Code, to read:

Article 3. Proof of Ownership

5030. Upon probable cause to believe a person buying, selling, or transporting a shipment of plant material intended to be marketed for commercial purposes is in violation of this division, proof of ownership of the plant material shall be made available for inspection upon request of the director, the commissioner, or any peace officer. If the director or the commissioner has probable cause to believe that a person is in unlawful possession of any shipment of plant material, he or she may request a peace officer to stop the vehicle for inspection. The record of proof of ownership shall contain the following information:

(a) The name, address, telephone number, and signature of the seller or the seller's authorized representative.

(b) The name, address, and telephone number of the buyer, or consignee if the commodity has not been sold.

(c) The common or generic name and quantity of the commodity.

(d) The name of the country, state, or territory where the commodity was grown.

5031. It is unlawful for any person to knowingly falsify, misrepresent, or cause to be falsified or misrepresented, any information in a record intended to show proof of ownership.

5032. The director or commissioner may compile information and make any necessary investigations relative to suspected violations of this division. The director or commissioner may call and conduct a hearing in furtherance of the investigation.

5033. The person in custody of any records containing information required pursuant to Section 5030 shall exhibit those records upon a demand therefor by the director or commissioner, as their designees, or by a peace officer. The records may include, but are not limited to, certificates of inspection or treatment, bills of sale or consignment, truck invoices, or bills of lading.

5034. At the time of the hearing, the director or commissioner may take any of the following actions:

(a) Administer oaths and take testimony.

(b) Issue subpoenas that compel the attendance of any witness before the director or commissioner, together with the production of all relevant documents.

(c) Compel disclosure by witnesses of all facts that are known to them relative to the matter under investigation.

5035. Any party that disobeys any order or subpoena of the director is subject to Section 11188 of the Government Code.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 807

An act to amend Section 1872.83 of, and to add Section 11736.1 to the Insurance Code, and to amend Section 4612 of the Labor Code, and to amend Section 75 of Chapter 121 of the Statutes of 1993, relating to workers' compensation, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1872.83 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

1872.83. (a) The commissioner shall ensure that the Bureau of Fraudulent Claims aggressively pursues all reported incidents of probable workers' compensation fraud, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 1871.4 and Section 549 of the Penal Code, and forwards to the appropriate disciplinary body the names, along with all supporting evidence, of any individuals licensed under the Business and Professions Code who are suspected of actively engaging in fraudulent activity. The Bureau of Fraudulent Claims shall forward to the Insurance Commissioner or the Director of Industrial Relations, as appropriate, the name, along with all supporting evidence, of any insurer, as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 1877.1, suspected of actively engaging in the fraudulent denial of claims.

(b) To fund increased investigation and prosecution of workers' compensation fraud, there shall be an annual assessment as follows:

(1) The aggregate amount of the assessment shall be determined by the Fraud Assessment Commission, which is hereby established. The commission shall be composed of five members consisting of two representatives of self-insured employers, one representative of insured employers, one representative of workers' compensation insurers, and the President of the State Compensation Insurance Fund, or his or her designee.

The Governor shall appoint members representing self-insured employers, insured employers, and insurers. The term of office of members of the commission shall be four years, and a member shall hold office until the appointment of a successor. However, the initial terms of three of the members appointed by the Governor shall expire, respectively, on December 31, 1992, December 31, 1993, and December 31, 1994. The President of the State Compensation Insurance Fund shall be an ex officio, voting member of the commission. Members of the commission shall receive one hundred dollars ($100) for each day of actual attendance at commission meetings and other official commission business, and shall also receive their actual and necessary raveling expenses incurred in the performance of commission duties. Payment of per diem and travel expenses shall be made from the Workers' Compensation Fraud Account in the Insurance Fund, established in paragraph (4), upon appropriation by the Legislature.

(2) In determining the aggregate amount of the assessment, the Fraud Assessment Commission shall consider the advice and recommendations of the Bureau of Fraudulent Claims and the commissioner.

(3) The aggregate amount of the assessment shall be collected by the Director of Industrial Relations pursuant to Section 62.6 of the Labor Code. The Fraud Assessment Commission shall annually advise the Director of Industrial Relations, not later than March 15, of the aggregate amount to be assessed for the next fiscal year.

(4) The amount collected, together with the fines collected for violations of the unlawful acts specified in Section 1871.4 and Section 549 of the Penal Code, shall be deposited in the Workers' Compensation Fraud Account in the Insurance Fund, which is hereby created, and may be used, upon appropriation by the Legislature, only for enhanced workers' compensation fraud investigation and prosecution as provided in this section.

(c) For each fiscal year, the total amount of revenues derived from the assessment pursuant to subdivision (b) shall, together with amounts collected pursuant to fines imposed for unlawful acts described in Section 1871.4 and Section 549 of the Penal Code, not be less than three million dollars ($3,000,000). Any funds appropriated by the Legislature pursuant to subdivision (b) that are not expended in the fiscal year for which they have been appropriated shall be applied to satisfy for the immediately following fiscal year the minimum total amount required by this subdivision.

(d) After incidental expenses, 50 percent of the funds to be used for the purposes of this section shall be provided to the Bureau of Fraudulent Claims of the Department of Insurance for enhanced investigative efforts and 50 percent of the funds shall be distributed to district attorneys, pursuant to a determination by the commissioner with the advice and consent of the bureau and the Fraud Assessment Commission, as to the most effective distribution of moneys for purposes of the investigation and prosecution of workers' compensation insurance fraud cases. Each district attorney seeking a portion of the funds shall submit to the commissioner an application setting forth in detail their proposed use of any funds provided. Any district attorney receiving funds pursuant to this subdivision shall submit an annual report to the commissioner with respect to the success of their efforts. Upon receipt, the commissioner shall provide copies to the bureau and the Fraud Assessment Commission of any application, annual report, or other documents with respect to the allocation of money pursuant to this subdivision. These documents shall be public records.

SEC. 1.5. Section 11736.1 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

11736.1. Notwithstanding Section 11736, and solely in connection with the 24-hour care pilot project contemplated by Section 4612 of the Labor Code, the commissioner, on application from an insurer that is approved by the Administrative Director of the Division of Workers' Compensation to participate in the 24-hour care pilot project, may allow the insurer under conditions and to the extent the commissioner deems appropriate to issue, renew, or continue in force a policy of workers' compensation insurance solely in connection with the 24-hour care pilot project at premium rates that are less than the rates approved or issued by the commissioner under this article. The authority of an insurer to offer a rate pursuant to this section shall expire on receipt of notice from the commissioner or on termination of the insurer's participation in the 24-hour care pilot project.

SEC. 2. Section 4612 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

4612. (a) A pilot project is hereby authorized, for a duration of up to 36 months, under regulations to be developed and implemented by the administrative director. The purpose of the pilot project is to authorize an employer participating in the pilot project to contract with a licensed health care service plan to be the exclusive provider of medical, surgical, and hospital treatment for occupational and nonoccupational injuries and illnesses incurred by its employees. The health care service plan shall provide all occupational-related medical treatment coverage required by this division without any payment by the employee of deductibles, copayments, or any share of the premium. Employers participating in the pilot project shall make available health plan coverage for their employees' dependents for the treatment of nonindustrial injuries and illnesses. Nothing herein shall require an employer to pay for that dependent coverage. An employer participating in the pilot project shall offer its employees a choice between the exclusive provider of care option and a traditional health benefits plan which allows employees to obtain workers' compensation treatment from a traditional workers' compensation provider. In the case of a pilot project established by a multiemployer, collectively bargained employee welfare benefit plan, or by a recognized exclusive bargaining agent for state employees that sponsors an employee welfare benefit plan for the benefit of employees, this choice may be exercised by an exclusive or certified bargaining agent that represents employees of the employer.

(b) That pilot project may be implemented in four counties as designated by the administrative director and may include more than one health care service plan. One county shall be in northern California, one in central California, and two in southern California. Multiemployer, collectively bargained employee welfare benefit plans that operate in one or more of the designated counties, or recognized bargaining agents for state employees that sponsor a welfare benefit plan, may implement a pilot project in all counties in which participants are employed and covered for nonoccupational injuries and illnesses.

(c) Notwithstanding the terms of Section 4600, 4601, or any other provision of this article, an employee employed by an employer participating in the pilot project who has elected to enroll in the pilot project shall not have the option of predesignating a personal physician, other than a physician provided by the licensed health care service plan designated by the participating employer, as his or her treating physician, nor shall an employee have the option of changing to a physician not provided by the health care service plan pursuant to Section 4601. However, this section shall not be construed to limit the requirement under Section 4600 that an employer provide treatment reasonably required to cure or relieve the effects of an injury, nor shall this section be construed to prohibit an employee from changing to another provider of health care services during any annual open enrollment period.

(d) The administrative director shall, at the completion of the second year of the pilot project, or sooner if feasible, prepare a preliminary report, and within one year after completion of the pilot project, prepare a final report to the Legislature and the Governor describing the pilot project. The report shall include a review of the following:

(1) Employer costs.

(2) Vocational rehabilitation implications of 24-hour care pilot projects.

(3) Numbers and percentages of employees in pilot worksites that enroll in the plan.

(4) Incentives used by employers to encourage enrollment in the plan.

(5) Extent to which dependents of pilot project employees enroll in health plans.

(6) Determination of employee satisfaction with the pilot program.

(7) Extent to which employees enrolling in the pilot plan continue to stay within it during the length of the pilot program.

(8) Differentials in costs of treatment between different types of pilot programs for occupational and nonoccupational injuries and illnesses.

(9) Differentials in costs of treatment and of indemnity benefits among workplaces comparable in size, type of industry, and location, between pilot programs and non-24-hour care for occupational and nonoccupational injuries and illnesses.

(10) Differentials in costs of claims administration between pilot programs.

(11) Percentage of occupational injury claims litigated and the type of dispute giving rise to litigation.

(12) How continuing obligations for medical treatment under workers' compensation will be secured after completion of the pilot project.

(13) Whether the pilot project was or could be utilized by small employers.

The pilot project shall be deemed a success if the administrative director can verify that the information contained in the report required by paragraphs (1) to (13), inclusive, compares favorably with that of employers and employees not included in the pilot project. In order to prepare the report, the administrative director shall prescribe information to be collected by each approved pilot program for submission to the division in a timely manner.

(e) The administrative director shall prepare an itemization of the costs to the division associated with preparation of the report described in subdivision (d). The cost of the report shall be borne by the employers participating in the pilot project, and, if available, by other external sources outside of the General Fund. Contribution by the employers shall be apportioned on a per capita basis based upon the number of employees enrolled under the pilot project.

(f) For purposes of this section, "health care service plan" includes health care service plans and disability insurers that offer a managed care product within a pilot project county, workers' compensation insurers as defined in Section 3211 of the Labor Code that offer a managed care product within a pilot project county, multiemployer collectively bargained employee welfare benefit plans that offer a managed care product within a pilot project county, and welfare benefit plans sponsored by recognized exclusive bargaining agents for state employees. Pilot projects covering state employees shall be approved by the state employer and approved pursuant to Part 5 (commencing with Section 22751) of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(g) The employer's contract with the health care service plan shall include a surcharge or other provision to cover the cost of the medical care of an injured employee which is required by this division after the employee leaves the contracting employer's employment.

(h) Enrollment or subscription in the pilot project may not be canceled or not renewed except in the following:

(2) Fraud or deception in the use of the services or facilities of the plan or knowingly permitting that fraud or deception by another.

(3) Any other good cause as is agreed upon in the contract between the plan and a group or the subscriber.

(i) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, no employer that is required to bargain with an exclusive or certified bargaining agent which represents employees of the employer in accordance with state or federal employer-employee relations law for represented employees, shall contract with a managed care organization for purposes of this section unless authorized to do so by mutual agreement between the bargaining agent and the employer.

SEC. 3. Section 75 of Chapter 121 of the Statutes of 1993 is amended to read:

Sec. 75. Nothing in Section 4600.3, 4600.5, or 4614 of the Labor Code, or in the Workers' Compensation Health Care Provider Organization Act of 1993, shall be deemed to supersede or limit the operation of pilot projects approved by the administrative director pursuant to Section 4612 of the Labor Code. No provision or requirement of Section 4600.3, 4600.5, or 4614 of the Labor Code, or in the Workers' Compensation Health Care Provider Organization Act of 1993, shall be deemed applicable to those pilot projects, or impose any requirements on them for any purpose.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order for employers to obtain 24-hour health care coverage through the pilot project as quickly as possible, and to ensure that certain additional employers can participate immediately in the pilot project, it is necessary for this act to take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 808

An act to amend Section 10105 of, and to add Section 10108.5 to, the Public Contract Code, relating to state contracts.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10105 of the Public Contract Code is amended to read:

10105. (a) As used in this part, "project" includes the erection, construction, alteration, repair or improvement of any state structure, building, road, or other state improvement of any kind which will exceed a total cost calculated pursuant to subdivision (b).

(b) The total cost limit for calendar year 1993 shall be one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), and at two year intervals thereafter, the total cost limit shall be adjusted upward or downward by the Director of Finance to reflect the percentage change in the annual California Construction Index as used by the Department of General Services. The amount shall be rounded off to the nearest one thousand dollar ($1,000) figure.

SEC. 2. Section 10108.5 is added to the Public Contract Code, to read:

10108.5. Where the nature of the work by departments within the Resources Agency in the opinion of the Department of General Services is such that its services in connection therewith are not required, it may authorize the carrying out of the project directly by the department within the Resources Agency concerned therewith if the estimated cost does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000). This limit shall be adjusted pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 10105.

If the estimated total cost of any construction project or work carried out under this section exceeds fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), the Department of Forestry and Fire Protection shall solicit bids in writing and shall award the work to the lowest responsible bidder or reject all bids; provided, however, that the Director of General Services may authorize the Department of Forestry and Fire Protection to carry out work in excess of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) under the provisions of this section by day labor if he or she deems that the award of a contract, the acceptance of bids, or the acceptance of further bids is not in the best interests of the state; however, in no event shall the amount of work performed by day labor under this section exceed the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000). This limit shall be adjusted pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 10105.

An act to amend Sections 44253.3, 44253.6, 44282, 44285, and 44311 of, to amend the headings of Article 5 (commencing with Section 44280) of, and Article 6 (commencing with Section 44310) of, Chapter 2 of Part 25 of, to add Sections 44230, 44257, 44257.2, and 44257.4 to, and to repeal Sections 44283, 44287, 44315, 44316, and 44317 of, the Education Code, relating to teacher credentialing.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares that, to ensure excellence in public school teaching, teaching credentials should be awarded on the basis of challenging, attainable standards of preparation and competence. At the same time, the structure of teaching credentials should be clear and streamlined, and the number of credentials should be reduced without compromising the competence of teachers in essential subjects of the school curriculum. Therefore, it is the intent of the Legislature to eliminate unnecessary credentials while requiring the Commission on Teacher Credentialing to maintain high standards for the depth and breadth of each teacher's subject matter preparation and competence.

SEC. 2. Section 44230 is added to the Education Code, to read:

44230. (a) The Commission on Teacher Credentialing shall maintain for public record, and may disclose, only the following information relating to the credentials, certificates, permits, or other documents that it issues: the document number, title, term of validity, subjects, authorizations, effective dates, renewal requirements, and restrictions. The commission may also disclose the last known business address of any applicant or credential holder.

(b) In order to expedite the application process for the benefit of applicants for credentials, certificates, permits, or other documents issued by the commission, the commission may receive from, or transmit to, the agency that submitted the application, either electronically or by printed copy, the information set forth in that application. For purposes of this subdivision, "agency" means a school district, county office of education, or institution of higher education having a commission-approved program of professional preparation.

SEC. 3. Section 44253.3 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44253.3. (a) The commission shall issue a certificate that authorizes the holder to provide all of the following services to limited-English-proficient pupils:

(1) Instruction for English language development in preschool, kindergarten, grades 1 to 12, inclusive, and classes organized primarily for adults, except when the requirement specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 44253.3 is satisfied by the possession of a children's center instructional permit pursuant to Sections 8363 and 44252.7, a children's center supervision permit pursuant to Section 8363, or a designated subjects teaching credential in adult education pursuant to Section 44260.2. If the requirement specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 44253.3 is satisfied by the possession of a children's center instructional permit, or a children's center supervision permit, then instruction for English language development shall be limited to the programs authorized by that permit. If the requirement specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 44253.3 is satisfied by the possession of a designated subjects teaching credential in adult education, then instruction for English language development shall be limited to classes organized primarily for adults.

(2) Specially designed content instruction delivered in English in the subjects and at the levels authorized by the teacher's prerequisite credential or permit used to satisfy the requirement specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 44253.3.

(b) The minimum requirements for the certificate shall include all of the following:

(1) Possession of a valid California teaching credential, services credential, children's center instructional permit, or children's center supervision permit which credential or permit authorizes the holder to provide instruction to pupils in preschool, kindergarten, any of grades 1 to 12, inclusive, or classes primarily organized for adults, except for the following:

(A) Emergency credentials or permits.

(B) Exchange credentials as specified in Section 44333.

(C) District intern certificates as specified in Section 44325.

(D) Sojourn certificated employee credentials as specified in Section 44856.

(E) Teacher education internship credentials as specified in Article 3 (commencing with Section 44450) of Chapter 3.

(2) Passage of one or more examinations that the commission determines are necessary for demonstrating the knowledge and skills required for effective delivery of the services authorized by the certificate.

(3) Completion of at least six semester units, or nine quarter units, of coursework in a second language at a regionally accredited institution of postsecondary education. The commission shall establish minimum standards for scholarship in the required coursework. The commission shall also establish alternative ways in which the requirement can be satisfied by language-learning experience that creates an awareness of the challenges of second-language acquisition and development.

(c) The commission shall establish alternative requirements for a teacher to earn the certificate, which shall be awarded as a supplementary authorization pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 44225.

(d) The certificate shall remain valid as long as the prerequisite credential or permit specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 44253.3 remains valid.

SEC. 4. Section 44253.6 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44253.6. (a) Until the commission begins the administration of Section 44253.5, as added by Chapter 1050 of the Statutes of 1992, the commission shall continue to administer Sections 44253.5 and 44253.6 and Article 3.5 (commencing with Section 44475) of Chapter 3, as those sections and that article existed on December 31, 1992.

(b) A teacher who earned a passing score on a part of the examination for the bilingual cross-cultural certificate that was administered by the commission pursuant to Sections 44253.5 and 44253.6 as those sections existed on December 31, 1992, shall not be required by the commission, as a requirement for earning the certificate described in Section 44253.3 or 44253.4, to take a duplicate examination within nine years of the date when the teacher earned the passing score.

(c) A teacher who has passed both sections of the examination for the language development specialist certificate of competence that was administered by the commission pursuant to Article 3.5 (commencing with Section 44475) of Chapter 3 as that article existed on December 31, 1992, shall have five years from the date of his or her earliest passing score to complete the other requirements and apply for the language development specialist certificate of competence.

(d) After the commission begins to administer the examinations required by Section 44253.5, the commission shall continue to administer, until June 30, 1995, the examination for the language development specialist certificate administered pursuant to Article 3.5 (commencing with Section 44475) of Chapter 3 as that article existed on December 31, 1992, solely to those individuals who, on or after June 30, 1992, were enrolled in language development specialist programs approved by the commission pursuant to that article.

(e) Certificates of bilingual cross-cultural competence issued by the commission pursuant to Sections 44253.5 and 44253.6 as those sections existed on December 31, 1992, and certificates of competence as language development specialist issued by the commission pursuant to Article 3.5 (commencing with Section 44475) of Chapter 3 as it existed on December 31, 1992, shall remain valid as long as the holder's prerequisite teaching credential for those certificates as specified in Sections 44253.5 and 44253.6 and Article 3.5 (commencing with Section 44475) of Chapter 3 remain valid.

SEC. 5. Section 44257 is added to the Education Code, to read:

44257. (a) The commission shall issue single subject teaching credentials only in the following subjects:

(1) Agriculture.

(2) Art.

(3) Business.
(4) English.
(5) Foreign Language.
(6) Health Science.
(7) Home Economics.
(8) Industrial and Technology Education.
(9) Mathematics.
(10) Music.
(11) Physical Education.
(12) Science.
(13) Social Science.

(b) The commission shall issue the single subject credential in foreign language with an authorization to teach Chinese, French, German, Russian, Spanish, or any other language that the commission determines is appropriate.

(c) Subjects that are commonly taught in departmentalized classes in California public schools shall be subsumed under the credential categories in subdivision (a) of this section.

(d) The commission shall issue single subject teaching credentials in the categories that were identified in Section 44282 as of December 31, 1993, to applicants who were in the process of preparing to earn those credentials prior to the effective date of the commission's implementation of subdivision (a).

SEC. 6. Section 44257.2 is added to the Education Code, to read:

44257.2. (a) In order to ensure excellence in teaching in specific subjects, the commission may issue a multiple or single subject teaching credential with a specified concentration in a particular subject based upon the depth of an applicant's preparation in an important subject of the school curriculum. The commission shall establish and maintain standards for concentrations in particular subjects, as necessary.

(b) The commission shall determine the authorizations of teaching credentials with concentrations. The commission shall ensure that with the exception of the single subject credential specified in subdivision (c) of this section, the authorization of a credential with a specified concentration shall not be more restrictive than the authorization of the same credential without the specified concentration.

(c) The commission shall issue the single subject teaching credential in science with a specified concentration in a particular subject. The commission shall establish and maintain standards for concentrations in science that shall consist of biological sciences, chemistry, geosciences, and physics. The holder of the single subject teaching credential in science shall be qualified and authorized to teach courses in general science, introductory science, integrated science, and coordinated science in kindergarten and grades 1 to 12, inclusive.

SEC. 7. Section 44257.4 is added to the Education Code, to read:

44257.4. The commission shall periodically review and assess the adequacy and relevance of the subjects of teaching credentials set forth in Section 44257, and shall report its findings and recommendations to the Legislature.

SEC. 8. The heading of Article 5 (commencing with Section 44280) of Chapter 2 of Part 25 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Article 5. Subject Matter Examinations and Assessments

SEC. 9. Section 44282 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44282. (a) The commission shall adopt examinations and assessments to verify the subject matter knowledge and competence of candidates for the single subject teaching credentials described in Section 44257 and the concentrations described in Section 44257.2.

(b) A general subject matter examination authorizing teaching multiple subjects shall include an examination of the candidate's knowledge of the following areas: language studies, literature, mathematics, science, social studies, history, the arts, physical education, and human development.

SEC. 10. Section 44283 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 11. Section 44285 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44285. The language development requirement as set forth in Section 44259 may be satisfied by the completion of a commission-approved program of study, or passage of an appropriate examination or assessment that has been adopted for this purpose by the commission.

SEC. 12. Section 44287 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 13. The heading of Article 6 (commencing with Section 44310) of Chapter 2 of Part 25 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Article 6. Subject Matter Preparation

SEC. 14. Section 44311 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44311. The commission shall evaluate any subject matter program offered by an accredited institution in satisfaction of paragraph (5) of subdivision (b) of Section 44259. The evaluation shall be based on standards of program quality and effectiveness, which shall be consistent with the assessments and examinations of subject matter knowledge and competence adopted by the commission pursuant to subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 44282.

SEC. 15. Section 44315 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 16. Section 44316 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 17. Section 44317 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 18. Pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) of Section 44225 of the Education Code, a credential that was issued prior to enactment of this act shall remain in force as long as it continues to be valid under the laws and regulations that were in effect when the credential was issued. Pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 44259 of the Education Code, teachers who were authorized to perform teaching services on December 31, 1993, may continue to perform those services without complying with any requirements or earning any credentials that may be established by this act.

CHAPTER 810

An act to add Section 709.5 to the Insurance Code, relating to insurance.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 709.5 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

709.5. (a) Any insurer that is organized under the laws of any other state and is admitted to do business in this state for the purpose of writing insurance may become a domestic insurer by designating its principal place of business at a place in this state. The domestic insurer shall be entitled to like certificates and licenses to transact business in this state and shall be subject to the authority and jurisdiction of this state.

(b) Any domestic insurer may, upon the prior approval of the commissioner, transfer its domicile to any other state in which it is admitted to transact the business of insurance, and upon the transfer shall cease to be a domestic insurer, and shall be admitted to this state if qualified as a foreign insurer. The commissioner shall approve any proposed transfer unless he or she determines that the transfer is not in the interest of the policyholders of this state. An insurer seeking to transfer its domicile shall provide the commissioner with information and documentation reasonably necessary to make this determination. The commissioner shall either approve or disapprove the transfer within 90 calendar days after the date of the request. The commissioner and his or her authorized representative shall be prohibited from seeking a waiver to extend the 90 calendar day period, nor shall the insurer be permitted to waive that period.

(c) The certificate of authority, agent and broker appointments and licenses, rates, and other items that the commissioner allows in his or her discretion, that are in existence at the time any insurer licensed to transact the business of insurance in this state transfers its corporate domicile to this or any other state by merger, consolidation, or any other lawful method shall continue in full force and effect upon that transfer if the insurer remains duly qualified to transact the business of insurance in this state. All outstanding policies of any transferring insurer shall remain in full force and effect and need not be endorsed as to the new name of the company or its new location unless so ordered by the commissioner. Every transferring insurer shall file new policy forms with the commissioner on or before the effective date of the transfer, but may use existing policy forms with appropriate endorsements if allowed by, and under such conditions as approved by, the commissioner. However, every transferring insurer shall notify the commissioner of the details of the proposed transfer, and shall file promptly all resulting amendments to corporate documents filed or required to be filed with the commissioner.

(d) An insurer seeking qualification under this section shall pay to the commissioner a filing fee of four thousand two hundred fifty dollars ($4,250).

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of the law, this section shall provide the exclusive means for an admitted insurer to change its domicile to, or transfer its domicile from, this state.

CHAPTER 811

An act to amend Section 13440 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to gasoline, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13440 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

13440. (a) The department shall adopt specifications for gasoline or automotive spark-ignition engine fuels. In adopting specifications, the department shall adopt by reference the latest standards of the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) standard specification for gasoline or automotive spark-ignition engine fuel, except that no specification shall be less stringent than required by any California state law.

(b) Any blend of gasoline and ethanol that complies with Section 2258 of Title 13 of the California Code of Regulations, as it reads on the effective date of the act amending this section during the 1993–94 Regular Session, or as amended, may exceed the Reid vapor pressure limits of ASTM D-4814 for the area and season in which the blend is sold at retail by not more than 6.9 kilopascals (1.0 pounds per square inch), except the total Reid vapor pressure shall not exceed 103 kilopascals (15 pounds per square inch).

(c) Any gasoline blend containing methanol shall also contain an alcohol cosolvent (butanol (Cr) or higher molecular weight alcohol) in an amount equal to or greater than the volume percentage of methanol except those blends previously granted a waiver by the Environmental Protection Agency.

(d) The antiknock index as defined in Section 13403 for the automotive spark-ignition engine fuel shall not be less than 87.

SEC. 1.5. Section 13440 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

13440. (a) The department shall establish specifications for gasoline or automotive spark-ignition engine fuels. The department shall adopt by reference the latest standards established by a recognized consensus organization or standards writing organization such as the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) or the Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE), for automotive spark-ignition engine fuel, except that no specification shall be less stringent than required by any California state law.

(b) Any blend of gasoline and ethanol that complies with Section 2258 of Title 13 of the California Code of Regulations, as it reads on the effective date of the act amending this section during the 1993–94 Regular Session, or as amended, may exceed the Reid vapor pressure limits of ASTM D-4814 for the area and season in which the blend is sold at retail by not more than 6.9 kilopascals (1.0 pounds per square inch), except the total Reid vapor pressure shall not exceed 103 kilopascals (15 pounds per square inch).

(c) Any gasoline blend containing methanol shall also contain an alcohol cosolvent (butanol (C_4) or higher molecular weight alcohol) in an amount equal to or greater than the volume percentage of methanol except those blends previously granted a waiver by the Environmental Protection Agency.

(d) The antiknock index as defined in Section 13403 for gasoline shall not be less than 87.

(e) Gasoline shall meet the latest specifications set forth in ASTM D-4814, except that no specification shall be less stringent than required by any California state law.

SEC. 2. Section 1.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 13440 of the Business and Professions Code proposed by both this bill and AB 2154. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1994, but this bill becomes operative first, (2) each bill amends Section 13440 of the Business and Professions Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 2154, in which case Section 13440 of the Business and Professions Code, as amended by Section 1 of this bill, shall remain operative only until the operative date of AB 2154, at which time Section 1.5 of this bill shall become operative.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to provide adequate supplies of oxygenated fuels for the 1993 fall and winter season, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 812

An act to add Sections 21060.1, 21061.2, and 21095 to the Public Resources Code, relating to environmental quality, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares all of the following:

(a) Agriculture is the state's leading industry and is important to the state's economy.

(b) The continued productivity of agricultural lands in California is important in maintaining a healthy agricultural economy.

(c) The conversion of agricultural lands to nonagricultural uses threatens the long-term health of the state's agricultural industry.

(d) The California Environmental Quality Act plays an important role in the preservation of agricultural lands.

(e) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this act to encourage wise and efficient land use decisions based on the best available information by promoting the adoption and use of land evaluation and site assessment criteria by state and local agencies based on the system developed by the United States Soil Conservation Service to implement the Farmland Protection Policy Act (7 U.S.C. Sec. 4201, et seq.).

(f) The land evaluation and site assessment model system has proven to be an effective aid to planning in over 200 state and local jurisdictions nationwide, by avoiding duplicative and unnecessary environmental review, while enabling decisionmakers to focus their analyses on significant agricultural land impacts, and providing integrity and consistency to the land use decision process.

SEC. 2. Section 21060.1 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

21060.1. (a) "Agricultural land" means prime farmland, farmland of statewide importance, or unique farmland, as defined by the United States Department of Agriculture land inventory and monitoring criteria, as modified for California.

(b) In those areas of the state where lands have not been surveyed for the classifications specified in subdivision (a), "agricultural land" means land that meets the requirements of "prime agricultural land" as defined in paragraph (1), (2), (3), or (4) of subdivision (c) of Section 51201 of the Government Code.

SEC. 3. Section 21061.2 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

21061.2. "Land evaluation and site assessment" means a decisionmaking methodology for assessing the potential environmental impact of state and local projects on agricultural land.

SEC. 4. Section 21095 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

21095. (a) The Resources Agency, in consultation with the Office of Planning and Research, shall develop an amendment to Appendix G of the state guidelines, for adoption pursuant to Section 21083, to provide lead agencies an optional methodology to ensure that significant effects on the environment of agricultural land conversions are quantitatively and consistently considered in the environmental review process.

(b) The Department of Conservation, in consultation with the United States Department of Agriculture pursuant to Section 658.6 of Title 7 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and in consultation with the Resources Agency and the Office of Planning and Research, shall develop a state model land evaluation and site assessment system, contingent upon the availability of funding from non-General Fund sources. The department shall seek funding for that purpose from non-General Fund sources, including, but not limited to, the United States Department of Agriculture.

(c) In lieu of developing an amendment to Appendix G of the state guidelines pursuant to subdivision (a), the Resources Agency may adopt the state model land evaluation and site assessment system developed pursuant to subdivision (b) as that amendment to Appendix G.

SEC. 5. The sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) is hereby appropriated from the California Environmental License Plate Fund to the Department of Conservation for a grant to the Yolo County Farm Bureau for purposes of a farmlands and open-space mapping program.

An act to amend Sections 25034.8, 25040.5, 25059, 25061, 25062, 25064, 25079.3, 25081, 25094, 25096, and 25097 of, and to add Sections 252021.7, 25049.1, 25060.1, 25060.4, and 25181.5 to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to medical waste.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25021.7 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

25021.7. "Fund" means the Medical Waste Management Fund created pursuant to Section 25036.5.

SEC. 2. Section 25034.8 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25034.8. (a) A local agency electing to implement a medical waste management program is the enforcement agency for the jurisdiction in which it is located and so designated by the department.

(b) In any local jurisdiction where the local agency does not elect to implement a medical waste management program, the department is the enforcement agency.

(c) Nothing in this chapter shall prevent a district attorney, city attorney, or city prosecutor from bringing any enforcement action for violation of this chapter.

SEC. 3. Section 25040.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25040.5. (a) Any common storage facility for the collection of medical waste produced by small quantity generators operating independently, but sharing common storage facilities, shall have a permit issued by the enforcement agency.

(b) A permit for any common storage facility specified in subdivision (a) may be obtained by any one of the following:

(1) A provider of health care as defined in subdivision (d) of Section 56.05 of the Civil Code.

(2) The registered hazardous waste transporter.

(3) The property owner.

(4) The property management firm responsible for providing tenant services to the medical waste generators.

SEC. 4. Section 25049.1 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

25049.1. On and after January 1, 1994, when the department is the enforcement agency, except for those small quantity generators required to be registered pursuant to Section 25040, the department shall impose and collect an annual medical waste generator fee in the amount of twenty-five dollars ($25) on small quantity generators of medical waste.

SEC. 5. Section 25059 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25059. The registration and annual permit fee for large quantity generators shall be set in following amounts:

(a) (1) A general acute care hospital, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 1250, which has one or more beds, but not more than 99 beds, shall pay six hundred dollars ($600), a facility with 100 or more beds, but not more than 199 beds, shall pay eight hundred sixty dollars ($860), a facility with 200 or more beds, but not more than 250 beds shall pay one thousand one hundred dollars ($1,100), and a facility with 251 or more beds shall pay one thousand four hundred dollars ($1,400).

(2) In addition to the fees specified in paragraph (1), a general acute care hospital which is providing onsite treatment of medical waste shall pay an annual medical waste treatment facility inspection and permit fee of three hundred dollars ($300), if the facility has one or more beds but not more than 99 beds, five hundred dollars ($500), if the facility has 100 or more beds but not more than 250 beds, and one thousand dollars ($1,000), if the facility has 251 or more beds.

(b) A specialty clinic, providing surgical, dialysis, or rehabilitation services, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 1204, shall pay three hundred fifty dollars ($350).

(c) A skilled nursing facility, as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 1250, which has one or more beds, but not more than 99 beds shall pay two hundred seventy-five dollars ($275), a facility with 100 or more beds, but not more than 199 beds shall pay three hundred fifty dollars ($350), and a facility with 200 or more beds shall pay four hundred dollars ($400).

(d) An acute psychiatric hospital, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 1250, shall pay two hundred dollars ($200).

(e) An intermediate care facility, as defined in subdivision (d) of Section 1250, shall pay three hundred dollars ($300).

(f) A primary care clinic, as defined in Section 1200.1, shall pay three hundred fifty dollars ($350).

(g) A licensed clinical laboratory, as defined in paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) of Section 1206 of the Business and Professions Code, shall pay two hundred dollars ($200).

(h) A health care service plan facility, as defined in subdivision (f) of Section 1345, shall pay three hundred fifty dollars ($350).

(i) A veterinary clinic or veterinary hospital shall pay two hundred dollars ($200).

(j) A large quantity generator medical office shall pay two hundred dollars ($200).

(k) In addition to the fees specified in subdivisions (b) to (j), inclusive, a large quantity generator of medical waste which is providing onsite treatment of medical waste shall pay an annual medical waste treatment facility inspection and permit fee of three hundred dollars ($300).

SEC. 6. Section 25060.1 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

25060.1. Any person who is authorized to collect solid waste, as defined in Section 40191 of the Public Resources Code, who unknowingly transports medical waste to a solid waste facility, as defined in Section 40194 of the Public Resources Code, incidental to the collection of solid waste is exempt from this article with regard to that waste.

SEC. 7. Section 25060.4 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

25060.4. (a) On or before September 1, 1993, and each year thereafter on or before July 1, a registered hazardous waste transporter which transports medical waste shall so notify the department, and provide the following information:

(1) Business name, address, and telephone number.

(2) Name of owner, operator, and contact person.

(3) Hazardous waste transporter registration number.

(4) Vehicle manufacturer name, vehicle model year, vehicle identification number, and the license plate number of each vehicle transporting medical waste.

(b) For transporters which begin transporting medical waste after September 1, 1993, notification to the department, and provision of the information required by subdivision (a) shall be provided to the department prior to transporting medical waste.

(c) On or before September 1, 1993, each registered hazardous waste transporter, and each provider of medical waste mail back systems, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 25094, shall provide to the department a list of all medical waste generators serviced by that person during the previous 12 months. That list shall include the business name, business address, mailing address, telephone number, and other information as required by the department to collect annual fees pursuant to Section 25049.1. When the transportation of registered hazardous waste by a medical waste transporter or the provision of a medical waste mail back system begins after September 1, 1993, the initial list shall be provided to the department within 10 days of the close of the earliest calendar quarter ending September 30, December 31, March 31, or June 30, or as otherwise required by the department.

(d) Subsequent to providing the initial list pursuant to subdivision (c), registered hazardous waste transporters and providers of medical waste mail back systems shall submit to the department any changes made to the most recent list every three months, within 10 days of the close of the calendar quarters ending September 30, December 31, March 31, and June 30, or as otherwise required by the department.

SEC. 8. Section 25061 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25061. (a) Medical waste generators may apply to the enforcement agency for a limited-quantity hauling exemption, if the generator meets all of the following requirements:

(1) The generator generates less than 20 pounds of medical waste per week, transports less than 20 pounds of medical waste at any one time, and has an information document on file in the generator's office pursuant to Section 25045.1.

(2) The generator transports the waste himself or herself, or directs a member of his or her staff to transport the waste, to a permitted medical waste treatment facility, a transfer station, or to another facility for the purpose of consolidation before treatment and disposal.

(3) The generator maintains a tracking document, as specified in Section 25063.

(b) The limited-quantity hauling exemption authorized by this section is valid for a period of one year.

(c) An application for an initial or a renewal of a limited-quantity hauling exemption shall be accompanied by a fee of twenty-five dollars ($25). The application shall identify each person who will transport waste for the transporter. If the generator identifies more than four persons who will be transporting medical waste, the generator shall pay an additional fee of five dollars ($5) for each person, up to a maximum additional fee of twenty-five dollars ($25).

SEC. 9. Section 25062 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25062. (a) Except as otherwise exempted pursuant to Section 25061, all medical waste transported to an offsite medical waste treatment facility shall be transported in accordance with this article by a registered hazardous waste transporter issued a registration certificate pursuant to Article 6 (commencing with Section 25060) of this chapter and Article 6.5 (commencing with Section 25167.1) of Chapter 6.5. A hazardous waste transporter transporting medical waste shall have a copy of the transporter's valid hazardous waste transporter registration certificate in the transporter's possession while transporting medical waste. The transporter shall show the certificate, upon demand, to any enforcement agency personnel or authorized employee of the Department of the California Highway Patrol.

(b) Except for small quantity generators transporting medical waste pursuant to Section 25061, medical waste shall be transported to a permitted offsite medical waste treatment facility or a permitted transfer station in leak-resistant and fully enclosed rigid secondary containers which are then loaded into an enclosed cargo body.

(c) A person shall not transport medical waste in the same vehicle with other waste unless the medical waste is separately contained in rigid containers or kept separate by barriers from other waste, or unless all of the waste is to be handled as medical waste in accordance with this chapter.

(d) Medical waste shall only be transported to a permitted medical waste treatment facility, or to a transfer station or another registered generator for the purpose of consolidation before treatment and disposal, pursuant to this chapter.

(e) Facilities for the transfer of medical waste shall be annually inspected and issued permits in accordance with the regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(f) Any persons manually loading or unloading containers of medical waste shall be provided by their employer at the beginning of each shift with, and shall be required to wear, clean and protective gloves and coveralls, changeable lab coats, or other protective clothing. The department may require, by regulation, other protective devices appropriate to the type of medical waste being handled.

SEC. 10. Section 25064 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25064. (a) The department shall charge an application fee for a permit for a transfer station equal to one hundred dollars ($100) for each hour which the department spends on processing the application, but not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or as provided in the regulations adopted by the department.

(b) In addition to the fee specified in subdivision (a), the annual permit fee for a transfer station issued a permit pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 25062 is two thousand dollars ($2,000), or as provided in the regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter.

SEC. 11. Section 25079.3 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25079.3. (a) The department shall charge an annual permit fee for an offsite medical waste treatment facility equal to either two-tenths of a cent ($0.002) for each pound of medical waste treated or ten thousand dollars ($10,000), whichever is greater.

(b) The department shall charge an initial application fee for each type of treatment technology at an offsite medical waste treatment facility equal to one hundred dollars ($100) for each hour the department spends processing the application, but not more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), or as provided in the regulations adopted by the department.

SEC. 12. Section 25081 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25081. To containerize biohazard bags, a person shall do all of the following:

(a) The bags shall be tied to prevent leakage or expulsion of contents during all future storage, handling, or transport.

(b) Biohazardous waste shall be bagged in accordance with subdivision (b) of Section 25080 and placed for storage, handling, or transport in a rigid container which may be disposable, reusable, or recyclable. Containers shall be leak resistant, have tight-fitting covers, and be kept clean and in good repair. Containers may be recycled with the approval of the enforcement agency. Containers may be of any color and shall be labeled with the words "Biohazardous Waste," or with the international biohazard symbol and the word "BIOHAZARD," on the lid and on the sides so as to be visible from any lateral direction. Containers meeting the requirements specified in Section 66840 of Title 22 of the California Code of Regulations, as it read on December 31, 1990, may also be used until the replacement of the containers is necessary or existing stock has been depleted.

(c) Biohazardous waste shall not be removed from the biohazard bag until treatment as prescribed in Article 9 (commencing with Section 25090) is completed, except to eliminate a safety hazard. Biohazardous waste shall not be disposed of before being treated as prescribed in that Article 9.

(d) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (5), a person generating 20 or more pounds of medical waste per month shall not contain or store biohazardous or sharps waste above 0° Centigrade (32° Fahrenheit) at any onsite location for more than seven days unless the enforcement agency approves the containment or storage in writing. Except as provided in paragraph (5), a person generating less than 20 pounds of biohazardous waste per month shall not contain or store biohazardous waste above 0 degrees Centigrade (32 degrees Fahrenheit) at any onsite location for more than 30 days.

(2) A person may store biohazardous or sharps waste at or below 0° Centigrade (32° Fahrenheit) at an onsite location for not more than 90 days without obtaining the written approval of the enforcement agency.

(3) A person may store biohazardous or sharps waste at a permitted transfer station at or below 0° Centigrade (32° Fahrenheit) for not more than 30 days without obtaining the approval of the enforcement agency.

(4) A person shall not store biohazardous or sharps waste above 0° Centigrade (32° Fahrenheit) for more than seven days before treatment at any location or facility which is offsite from the generator.

(5) Notwithstanding paragraphs (1) to (4), inclusive, if the facility is unable to control the odor from its stored waste and the odor poses a public nuisance, the enforcement agency may require more frequent removal.

SEC. 13. Section 25094 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25094. (a) The department shall charge an application fee for evaluation of an alternative treatment technology pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 25090 of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) and shall charge an additional fee equal to one hundred dollars ($100) per hour for each hour which the department spends on processing the application, but not more than a total of five thousand dollars ($5,000), or as provided in the regulations adopted by the department.

(b) The department shall charge an application fee of one thousand dollars, ($1,000) for evaluation and approval of the use of a medical waste mail back system, which sends medical waste generated in this state to an out-of-state facility for treatment and disposal pursuant to subdivision (f) of Section 25063.

SEC. 14. Section 25096 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25096. An enforcement agency, district attorney, city attorney, or city prosecutor may bring an action to enjoin the violation, or threatened violation, of this chapter or the regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter, in the superior court in the county in which the violation occurred or is about to occur. Any proceeding under this section shall be in accordance with Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 525) of Title 7 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, except that the enforcement agency, district attorney, city attorney, or city prosecutor is not required to allege facts necessary to show or tending to show the lack of an adequate remedy at law or irreparable damage or loss.

With respect to any action brought pursuant to this section alleging actual violation of this chapter or the regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter, the court shall, if it finds the allegations to be true, issue its order enjoining the continuance of the violation.

SEC. 15. Section 25097 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25097. (a) No person shall, transport, store, treat, dispose, or cause the treatment or disposal of medical waste in a manner not authorized by his or her permit or registration, this chapter, or the regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(b) Any person who stores, treats, disposes, or causes the treatment or disposal of medical waste in violation of this chapter or the regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter is guilty of a public offense as follows:

(1) For a small quantity generator, a first offense is an infraction and is punishable by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000).

(2) For a person other than a small quantity generator, a first offense is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than two thousand dollars ($2,000), or by up to one year in county jail, or by both the fine and imprisonment.

(c) A person who is convicted of a second or subsequent violation of subdivision (a) within three years of the prior conviction shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year or by imprisonment in state prison for one, two, or three years or by a fine of not less than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or more than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), or by both the fine and imprisonment. This section shall not apply unless any prior conviction is charged in the accusatory pleading and admitted by the defendant or found to be true by the trier of fact. If the defendant is a corporation which operates medical facilities in more than one geographic location, this subdivision shall apply only if the offense involves an adjacent facility involved in the prior conviction.

(d) Any person who knowingly treats or disposes, or causes the treatment or disposal of, medical waste in violation of this chapter shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year or by imprisonment in the state prison for one, two, or three years, or by a fine of not less than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or more than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), or by both the fine and imprisonment.

(e) This section does not apply to a person transporting medical waste who is required to be a registered hazardous waste transporter. Those persons are subject to penalties for violations pursuant to Article 8 (commencing with Section 25180) of Chapter 6.5.

SEC. 16. Section 25181.5 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

25181.5. A registered waste transporter transporting medical waste who is not subject to Section 25097 shall be subject to penalties for violations pursuant to this article.

SEC. 17. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 814

An act to add Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 1795.90) to Title 1.7 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code, and to amend Section 1808.23 of the Vehicle Code, relating to motor vehicle warranty adjustment programs.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 1795.90) is added to Title 1.7 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code, to read:

CHAPTER 1.5. MOTOR VEHICLE WARRANTY ADJUSTMENT PROGRAMS

1795.90. For purposes of this chapter:

(a) "Consumer" means the purchaser, other than for purposes of resale, of a motor vehicle, a lessee of a motor vehicle, any person to whom the motor vehicle is transferred during the duration of an express warranty applicable to that motor vehicle, and any person entitled by the terms of the warranty to enforce the obligations of the warranty.

(b) "Manufacturer" means any person, firm, or corporation, whether resident or nonresident, that manufactures or assembles motor vehicles for sale or distribution in this state. In the case of motor vehicles not manufactured in the United States, the term "manufacturer" shall also include any person, firm, or corporation that is engaged in the business of importing motor vehicles.

(c) "Dealer" means any person, firm, or corporation selling or agreeing to sell in this state one or more new motor vehicles under a retail agreement with a manufacturer, manufacturer branch, distributor, distributor branch, or agent of any of them.

(d) "Adjustment program" means any program or policy that expands or extends the consumer's warranty beyond its stated limit or under which a manufacturer offers to pay for all or any part of the cost of repairing, or to reimburse consumers for all or any part of the cost of repairing, any condition that may substantially affect vehicle durability, reliability, or performance, other than service provided under a safety or emission-related recall campaign. "Adjustment program" does not include ad hoc adjustments made by a manufacturer on a case-by-case basis.

(e) "Motor vehicle" means a motor vehicle, excluding motorcycles, motor homes, and off-road vehicles, which is registered in this state.

(f) "Lessee" means any person who leases a motor vehicle pursuant to a written lease which provides that the lessee is responsible for repairs to the motor vehicle.

(g) "Service bulletin" means any notice issued by a manufacturer and filed with the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration relating to vehicle durability, reliability, or performance.

1795.91. Dealers shall have the following duties:

(a) A dealer shall provide notice to prospective purchasers and lessees that provides information on how to get copies of service bulletins. Nothing in this notice shall be construed as an admission by the dealer or manufacturer of the existence or nonexistence of a vehicle defect.

The notice shall be deemed sufficient if posted in the showroom or other area conspicuous to motor vehicle purchasers and written in the following form:

FEDERAL LAW REQUIRES MANUFACTURERS TO FURNISH THE NATIONAL HIGHWAY TRAFFIC SAFETY ADMINISTRATION (N.H.T.S.A.) WITH BULLETINS DESCRIBING ANY DEFECTS IN THEIR VEHICLES.

YOU MAY OBTAIN COPIES OF THESE BULLETINS, FOR A FEE, FROM EITHER OF THE FOLLOWING:

THE MANUFACTURER (ASK YOUR DEALER FOR THE TOLL-FREE NUMBER)

N.H.T.S.A.—TECHNICAL REFERENCE DIVISION
400 SEVENTH STREET, S.W.
ROOM 5110
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20590
202-366-2768

IN ADDITION, CERTAIN CONSUMER PUBLICATIONS PUBLISH THESE BULLETINS AND SOME COMPANIES WILL SEND THEM TO YOU, FOR A FEE.

(b) A dealer shall disclose to a consumer seeking repairs for a particular condition at its repair shop, the principal terms and conditions of the manufacturer's adjustment program covering the condition if the dealer has received a service bulletin concerning the adjustment program.

1795.92. Manufacturers shall have the following duties:

(a) A manufacturer shall, within 90 days of the adoption of an adjustment program, subject to priority for safety or emission-related recalls, notify by first-class mail all owners or lessees of motor vehicles eligible under the program of the condition giving rise to and the principal terms and conditions of the program.

(b) Copies of all notices mailed in accordance with subdivision (a) shall be sent to the New Motor Vehicle Board within the Department of Motor Vehicles and made available for public inquiries.

(c) A manufacturer shall, within 30 days of the adoption of any new adjustment program, notify its dealers, in writing, of all the terms and conditions thereof.

(d) A manufacturer who establishes an adjustment program shall implement procedures to assure reimbursement of each consumer eligible under an adjustment program who incurs expenses for repair of a condition subject to the program prior to acquiring knowledge of the program. The reimbursement shall be consistent with the terms and conditions of the particular program. The manufacturer shall notify the consumer within 21 business days of receiving a claim for reimbursement whether the claim will be allowed or denied. If the claim is denied, the specific reasons for the denial shall be stated in writing.

(e) Any consumer who, prior to acquiring knowledge of an adjustment program, incurs expenses for repair of a condition subject to the adjustment program may file a claim for reimbursement under subdivision (d). The claim shall be made in writing to the manufacturer within two years of the date of the consumer's payment for repair of the condition.

1795.93. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to exclude, modify, or otherwise limit any other remedy provided by law to a consumer or lessee.

SEC. 2. Section 1808.23 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

1808.23. (a) Section 1808.21 does not apply to a vehicle manufacturer licensed to do business in this state if the manufacturer, or its agent, under penalty of perjury, requests and uses the information only for the purpose of safety, warranty, including a warranty issued in compliance with Section 1795.92 of the Civil Code, emission, or product recall if the manufacturer offers to make and makes any changes at no cost to the vehicle owner.

(b) Section 1808.21 does not apply to a dealer licensed to do business in this state if the dealer, or its agent, under penalty of perjury, requests and uses the information only for the purpose of completing registration transactions and documents.

(c) Section 1808.21 does not apply to a person who, under penalty of perjury, requests and uses the information as permitted under subdivision (h) of Section 1798.24 of the Civil Code, if the request specifies that no persons will be contacted by mail or otherwise at the address included with the information released. The information released by the department under this subdivision shall not be in a form that identifies any person.

(d) Residential addresses released under this section shall not be used for direct marketing or solicitation for the purchase of any consumer product or service.

CHAPTER 815

An act to amend Sections 32100.1 and 32125 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to local hospital districts.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 32100.1 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

32100.1. A petition for election of directors by zones may be signed and filed with the board of directors by registered voters residing within a local hospital district, equal in number to at least 15 percent of the number of votes cast in that district for the office of Governor at the last preceding election at which a Governor was elected. Upon receipt of this petition the board of directors shall, by resolution, divide the local hospital district into zones and number the zones consecutively.

Alternatively, and without a petition, the board of directors may adopt a resolution to divide the district into zones and number the zones consecutively.

In establishing these zones the board of directors shall provide for representation in accordance with demographic, including population, and geographic factors of the entire area of the local hospital district. The board of directors shall fix the time and place for a hearing on the proposed establishment of zones. At this hearing any elector of the district may present his or her views and plans in relation to the proposed zoning, but the board of directors shall not be bound thereby and their decision, in the resolution adopted, shall be final.

The zones shall be effective for the next district election after the resolution of the board for which there is time to implement the zones and elections within the zones, unless a petition requesting an election on the resolution containing the signatures of not less than 5 percent of the qualified registered voters of the district is filed with the county clerk within 60 days after passage of the resolution. The form of the petition and the requirements and procedures applicable thereto shall be governed by Article 2 (commencing with Section 3750) of Chapter 2 of Division 5 of the Elections Code, except that all computations referred to in those sections shall be construed to refer to comparable computations of the district, and references to "ordinance" shall be construed to refer to "resolution." For purposes of this section, the electors of the district shall be the electors of the territory entitled to vote at elections for members of the board. If a valid and timely petition is filed with the county clerk, then the board shall prepare a measure to be printed on the ballots used at the next general hospital district election, or at a special election to be held for that purpose. The measure shall be printed on the ballots substantially as follows:

"Shall members of the board of directors be elected by zones, as described in the resolution of the board of directors dated _____?", with the words "Yes" and "No" so printed in connection therewith that the voters may express their choice.

The county clerk of the county shall accept arguments for and against the measure to be mailed to each registered voter in the district, in accordance with the procedure in Article 3 (commencing with Section 3780) of Chapter 2 of Division 5 of the Elections Code.

The returns of the election shall be canvassed and declared as at other general hospital district elections, and if it appears that a majority of the votes cast in the election are in favor of the measure the board of directors shall by resolution declare the zones established and shall describe the boundaries of the zones. At the expiration of the terms of office of the members of the board of directors then in office, and thereafter, these members of the board of directors shall be elected by zones. One member of the board of directors shall be elected by the electors of each of the zones. No person shall be eligible to hold the office of member of the board of directors unless he or she shall have resided in the zone from where he or she is elected for 30 days next preceding the date of the election.

The formation of a local hospital district may provide for the election of members of the board of directors by zones as above provided for by substantially including in the petition for formation the provisions hereinabove required to be included in the measure, and the members of the board of directors shall be elected from the zones as described in the petition, except that the first board of directors shall be appointed, upon the formation of the district, by the board of supervisors of the county in which the land or a greater part of the land in the district is situated. One member of the board shall be appointed from each zone.

The terms of the members of the first board of directors appointed under this section shall be determined by lot. Three members shall hold office for four years, and two members shall hold office for two years. Thereafter, the term of office for all members shall be four years.

Any vacancy upon the board shall be filled by appointment by the remaining members of the board, from the zone left unrepresented on the board of directors. Any person appointed to fill the vacancy shall hold office for the unexpired term.

SEC. 4. Section 32125 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

32125. (a) The board of directors shall be responsible for the operation of all hospitals owned or leased by the district, according to the best interests of the public health and shall make and enforce all rules, regulations and bylaws necessary for the administration, government, protection and maintenance of hospitals under their management and all property belonging thereto and may prescribe the terms upon which patients may be admitted thereto. Minimum standards of operation as prescribed in this article shall be established and enforced by the board of directors.

(b) A district shall not contract to care for indigent county patients at below the cost for care. In setting the rates the board shall, insofar as possible, establish rates as will permit the hospital to be operated upon a self-supporting basis. The board may establish different rates for residents of the district than for persons who do not reside within the district.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, unless prohibited from doing so by action of the board of directors, the hospital administrator may establish a task force to assist the hospital administrator in operating the district's facilities. The hospital administrator shall, if required to do so by action of the board, select task force members from individuals nominated by the board. Once established, the task force may be dissolved by action of the hospital administrator or the board. Any action by the board under this subdivision shall require four votes from a board on which there are five members or five votes from a board on which there are seven members.

SEC. 5. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the local agency or school district has the authority to levy service charges, fees, or assessments sufficient to pay for the program or level of service mandated by this act. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 816

An act to repeal and add Division 12.2 (commencing with Section 15000) of the Public Resources Code, relating to batteries.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Division 12.2 (commencing with Section 15000) of the Public Resources Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Division 12.2 (commencing with Section 15000) is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

DIVISION 12.2. DRY CELL BATTERIES

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL

15000. This division shall be known, and may be cited, as the Dry Cell Battery Management Act.

15001. The Legislature hereby finds and declares as follows:

(a) On the basis of available scientific and medical evidence, exposure to toxic materials, including mercury, cadmium, and lead, is of significant concern to human health and safety and to the environment.

(b) The presence of toxic metals in certain dry cell batteries is of special concern, in light of the substantial quantity of used dry cell and rechargeable batteries that are discarded annually, and the potential health and environmental consequences associated with that disposal.

(c) It is in the public interest to reduce or eliminate the quantity and toxicity of metals in dry cell batteries, to recycle or properly dispose of rechargeable batteries which contain toxic metals, and to educate the public concerning the collection, recycling, and proper disposal of those batteries.

(d) Manufacturers and dealers of rechargeable batteries should be encouraged to promote the recycling and proper disposal of used rechargeable batteries through retail displays and collection programs.

(e) The use of uniform labeling requirements for rechargeable batteries, rechargeable consumer products, and product packaging will assist in battery collection and recycling, and thus benefit human health and safety and the environment.

CHAPTER 2. DEFINITIONS

15002. The definitions in this chapter govern the construction of this division.

15003. "Battery pack" means any combination of dry cell batteries containing one or more rechargeable batteries that is usually assembled for a particular application and commonly has wire leads, terminals, and dielectric housing.

15004. "Board" means the California Integrated Waste Management Board.

15005. "Dry cell battery" means any type of enclosed device or sealed container consisting of one or more voltaic or galvanic cells, electrically connected to produce electric energy, composed of lead, lithium, manganese, mercury, mercuric oxide, silver oxide, cadmium, zinc, copper, or other metals, or any combination thereof, of any shape, including, but not limited to, button, coin, cylindrical, or rectangular, and of a liquid starved or gel electrolyte, that is designed for commercial industrial, medical, institutional, or household use, including any alkaline, manganese, lithium, mercuric oxide, silver oxide, zinc-air, or zinc-carbon battery, or any rechargeable battery.

15006. "Easily removable," with respect to a rechargeable battery or battery pack, means that the rechargeable battery or battery pack is either detachable or readily removable from a consumer product by a consumer with the use of common household tools at the end of the life of the product, the rechargeable battery or battery pack.

15007. "Manufacturer" means any person who manufactures dry cell batteries, rechargeable batteries or battery packs, or rechargeable consumer products.

15010. (a) "Rechargeable battery" means any dry cell battery containing an electrode composed of cadmium or lead, or any combination thereof, of any shape that is designed for reuse, and is capable of being recharged after repeated uses.

(b) "Rechargeable battery" does not include either of the following:

(1) Any dry cell battery that is used as the principal power source for transportation, including, but not limited to, automobiles, motorcycles, or boats.

(2) Any battery that is used only as a backup power source for memory or program instruction storage, timekeeping, or any similar purpose that requires uninterrupted electrical power in order to function if the primary energy supply fails or fluctuates momentarily.

15011. "Rechargeable consumer product" means any product, including any laptop computer or cordless electric tool or appliance, which, when sold at retail, contains, or is sold with, a rechargeable battery as its primary power supply, and that is commonly used for personal or household purposes. A rechargeable consumer product does not include remanufactured products.

15012. "Remanufactured product" means a rechargeable consumer product manufactured prior to July 1, 1994, which has been returned to the manufacturer for refurbishment and either returned to the consumer or resold.

CHAPTER 3. REMOVAL AND LABELING REQUIREMENTS

15013. (a) On and after January 1, 1995, no person shall sell or offer for sale in this state any rechargeable consumer product unless the product meets all of the following requirements:

(1) The rechargeable battery is easily removable from the rechargeable consumer product or is contained in a battery pack that is easily removable from, the product.

(2) The rechargeable consumer product and the rechargeable battery are labeled in accordance with subdivision (b).

(3) The rechargeable battery, battery pack, or rechargeable consumer product, if the product has a nonremovable rechargeable battery, has a brand name affixed to it.

(4) The instruction manual for the rechargeable consumer product includes information regarding the proper recycling or disposal of the used rechargeable battery.

(b) On and after July 1, 1994, each rechargeable battery, consumer product package containing a rechargeable battery or battery pack, and the package for each such item, which is sold or offered for sale in this state, shall meet all of the following requirements:

(1) Be labeled in a conspicuous manner that is visible to consumers.

(2) Include the chemical name or the standard abbreviation for the chemical composition of the battery or battery pack.

(3) Contain the following statement:

(A) On each easily removable battery or easily removable battery pack: "NICKEL-CADMIUM BATTERY. MUST BE RECYCLED OR DISPOSED OF PROPERLY." OR "SEALED LEAD BATTERY. MUST BE RECYCLED OR DISPOSED OF PROPERLY."

(B) On each rechargeable consumer product, granted an exemption pursuant to Section 15014, without an easily removable battery or battery pack: "CONTAINS NICKEL-CADMIUM BATTERY. BATTERY MUST BE RECYCLED OR DISPOSED OF PROPERLY." OR "CONTAINS SEALED LEAD BATTERY. BATTERY MUST BE RECYCLED OR DISPOSED OF PROPERLY."

(C) On the packaging of each rechargeable consumer product, rechargeable battery, or battery pack, unless the specified label is clearly visible through the packaging: "CONTAINS NICKEL-CADMIUM BATTERY. BATTERY MUST BE RECYCLED OR DISPOSED OF PROPERLY." OR "CONTAINS SEALED LEAD BATTERY. BATTERY MUST BE RECYCLED OR DISPOSED OF PROPERLY."

(4) The label and messages specified in paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) shall use contrasting colors to differentiate the label message and background to enhance readability.

(5) No political subdivision of this state may enact or enforce any environmental labeling requirement for a rechargeable battery or battery pack, or a rechargeable consumer product, that is not identical to the labeling requirements contained in this subdivision or any regulations adopted by the board pursuant to this subdivision.

(c) The board may adopt regulations that require substantially similar labeling requirements for rechargeable batteries with chemistries that are different from those covered by subdivision (a) and the battery packs and products containing those batteries. Any regulations shall be adopted, amended, or repealed in accordance with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(d) Any violation of this section is a misdemeanor.

15014. (a) Any manufacturer of, or any manufacturer trade organization with respect to, any rechargeable battery or rechargeable consumer product may submit an application to the board for an exemption from the requirements of paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 51013 in accordance with the procedures prescribed in subdivision (b). Within 60 days of receipt of an application for an exemption, the board shall either approve or deny the request. The exemption shall be issued for a period that is determined to be appropriate by the board, but shall not exceed two years.

(b) The application for an exemption shall include both of the following:

(1) A statement of the specified basis for the exemption.

(2) The name, business address, and telephone number of the applicant.

(c) The board shall grant the exemption if the board finds that the manufacturer has been unable to commence manufacture of the rechargeable consumer product in compliance with this chapter and with an equivalent level of product performance without causing either of the following:

(1) Danger to human health and safety or to the environment.

(2) Violation of requirements for approvals from governmental agencies or the Underwriters Laboratories or a similar widely recognized private standard-setting organization.

(d) The board may, by regulation, establish an application fee in an amount sufficient to offset the cost of processing requests for exemptions.

15016. Any action solely to increase the recycling of rechargeable batteries or battery packs by any person or entity that affects the types or quantities being recycled, or the cost and structure of any return program, pursuant to this chapter is not a violation of the Cartwright Act (Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 16700) of Part 2 of Division 7 of the Business and Professions Code) or the Unfair Practices Act (Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 17000) of Part 2 of Division 7 of the Business and Professions Code).

15018. For purposes of carrying out the collection, storage, transportation, and recycling of used rechargeable batteries or consumer products containing used rechargeable batteries, persons involved in returning used rechargeable batteries or consumer products containing used rechargeable batteries to a facility for recycling or proper disposal shall be subject to Section 25201 or 25216.1 of the Health and Safety Code or any successor section.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 817

An act to add Sections 15008 and 15009 to, and to add Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 15020) to Division 12.2 of, the Public Resources Code, relating to batteries.

[Approved by Governor October 3, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 15008 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

15008. "Mercuric oxide button cell battery" means a battery which contains mercuric oxide electrodes, resembles buttons in size and shape, and is used in consumer products such as hearing aids.

SEC. 2. Section 15009 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

15009. "Mercuric oxide battery" means a battery containing mercuric oxide electrodes, except that mercuric oxide button cells are excluded from this definition.

SEC. 3. Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 15020) is added to Division 12.2 of the Public Resources Code, to read:

CHAPTER 4. MERCURY IN BATTERIES

15020. No person shall sell any dry cell battery manufactured on and after January 1, 1994, for household use in which the mercury content, by weight, exceeds the following limits:

(a) In an alkaline battery, 0.025 percent.

(b) In a carbon-zinc battery, 0.0 percent intentionally introduced mercury, as distinguished from mercury which may be incidentally present in other materials.

15021. On and after January 1, 1994, no person shall manufacture or sell any mercuric oxide button cell battery of any type or for any use.

15022. No person shall sell any alkaline manganese battery manufactured on or after January 1, 1996, if the battery contains any intentionally introduced mercury, as distinguished from mercury which may be incidentally present in other materials. However, the mercury content in alkaline manganese button cell batteries shall not exceed 25 milligrams of mercury per button cell.

15023. No person shall sell any zinc-carbon battery manufactured on or after January 1, 1994, if the battery contains any intentionally introduced mercury, as distinguished from mercury which may be incidentally present in other materials.

15024. Any violation of this chapter is a misdemeanor.

SEC. 4. Sections 1 to 3, inclusive, of this act shall not become operative unless Assembly Bill 1769 is enacted and takes effect on or before January 1, 1994, and Assembly Bill 1769 repeals and adds Division 12.2 (commencing with Section 15000) of the Public Resources Code.

SEC. 5. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 818

An act to add Section 53069.75 to the Government Code, relating to immigration, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 4, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 53069.75 is added to the Government Code, to read:

53069.75. In order to comply with state law requirements mandated by Section 3753 of Title 42 of the United States Code, which bases eligibility of federal grants under the Omnibus Control and Safe Streets Act, no local law shall prohibit a peace officer or custodial officer from identifying and reporting to the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service any person, pursuant to federal law or regulation, to whom both of the following apply:

(a) The person was arrested and booked, based upon the arresting officer's probable cause to believe that the person arrested had committed a felony.

(b) After the arrest and booking in subdivision (a), the officer reasonably suspects that the person arrested has violated the civil provisions of the federal immigration laws.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to guarantee continued federal support for local law enforcement activities, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 819

An act to add Sections 9601.5 and 9601.7 to the Unemployment Insurance Code, relating to employment.

[Approved by Governor October 4, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9601.5 is added to the Unemployment Insurance Code, to read:

9601.5. Each state or local government agency or community action agency, or any private organization contracting with a state or local government agency, that provides employment services, including, but not limited to, job training, retraining, or placement, shall verify an individual's legal status or authorization to work prior to providing services to that individual in accordance with procedures established under federal law. For purposes of this section, proof of legal status or authorization to work includes, but is not limited to, a social security card, immigration visa, birth certificate, passport, or other valid document providing evidence of legal residence or authorization to work in the United States. This section shall not apply to employment services offered by school districts under secondary school and adult education programs.

SEC. 2. Section 9601.7 is added to the Unemployment Insurance Code, to read:

9601.7. (a) Each state or local government agency or community action agency, or any private organization contracting with a state or local government agency, that enters into an agreement with the department to provide employment services including, but not limited to, job training, retraining, or placement, shall post in a prominent location in the workplace, a notice stating that only citizens or those persons legally authorized to work in the United States will be permitted to use the agency's or organization's employment services that are funded by the federal or state government

(b) The notice shall read:

NOTICE: Attention All Job Seekers

The Immigration and Reform Control Act of 1986 (IRCA) requires that all employers verify the identity and employment authorization of all individuals hired after November 6, 1986. An employer is required to examine documents provided by the job seeker establishing identity and authorization for employment in the United States. In addition, it is a violation of both state and federal law to discriminate against job seekers on the basis of ancestry, race, or national origin. This agency provides employment services funded by the federal or state government that are available only to individuals who are United States citizens or who are legally authorized to work in the United States.

SEC. 3. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, that invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

CHAPTER 820

An act to amend Section 12800.5 of, and to add Sections 12801.5 and 14610.7 to, the Vehicle Code, relating to residency.

[Approved by Governor October 4, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12800.5 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

12800.5. (a) A license issued after January 1, 1981, shall bear a fullface engraved picture or photograph of the licensee.

(b) A license issued on or after July 1, 1995, including a temporary license issued pursuant to Section 12506, shall bear the following notice: "This license is issued solely as a license to drive a motor vehicle in this state; it does not establish eligibility for employment, voter registration, or public benefits."

(c) The department may demand proof of age prior to the issuance of a license.

SEC. 2. Section 12801.5 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

12801.5. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the department shall require every applicant for an original driver's license or identification card to submit satisfactory proof that the applicant's presence in the United States is authorized under federal law.

(b) The department shall not issue an original driver's license or identification card to any person who does not submit satisfactory proof that the applicant's presence in the United States is authorized under federal law.

(c) The department shall adopt regulations to carry out the purposes of this section, including procedures for, but not limited to, (1) verifying that the applicant's presence in the United States is authorized under federal law, (2) issuance of temporary licenses pending verification of status, and (3) appeals hearings from denials of licenses or temporary licenses.

(d) The department shall, not later than March 1, 1994, submit a report to the Legislature on the feasibility and costs of entering into an agreement with the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service to electronically verify the alien registration number of those applicants who are residents who have been issued such a number, and to manually verify the status of those applicants who have not been issued such a number.

(e) On January 10, 1995, and on January 10 of each subsequent year thereafter, the department shall submit a supplemental budget report to the Governor and the Legislature detailing the costs of verifying the citizenship or legal residency of applicants for driver's licenses and identification cards, in order for the state to request reimbursement from the federal government.

(f) Notwithstanding Section 40300 or any other provision of law, a peace officer shall not detain or arrest a person solely on the belief that the person is an unlicensed driver, unless the officer has reasonable cause to believe the person driving is under the age of 16 years.

(g) The inability to obtain a driver's license pursuant to this section does not abrogate or diminish in any respect the legal requirement of every driver in this state to obey the motor vehicle laws of this state, including laws with respect to licensing, motor vehicle registration, and financial responsibility.

(h) This section shall become operative March 1, 1994.

SEC. 3. Section 14610.7 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

14610.7. It is a misdemeanor for any person to knowingly assist in obtaining a driver's license or identification card for any person whose presence in the United States is not authorized under federal law.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Section 653f of the Penal Code, relating to Medi-Cal.

[Approved by Governor October 4, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 653f of the Penal Code is amended to read:

653f. (a) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to offer or accept or join in the offer or acceptance of a bribe, or to commit or join in the commission of robbery, burglary, grand theft, receiving stolen property, extortion, perjury, subornation of perjury, forgery, kidnapping, arson or assault with a deadly weapon or instrument or by means of force likely to produce great bodily injury, or, by the use of force or a threat of force, to prevent or dissuade any person who is or may become a witness from attending upon, or testifying at, any trial, proceeding, or inquiry authorized by law, shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail for not more than one year or in the state prison, or by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or the amount which could have been assessed for commission of the offense itself, whichever is greater, or by both the fine and imprisonment.

(c) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to commit rape by force or violence, sodomy by force or violence, oral copulation by force or violence, or any violation of Section 264.1, 288, or 289, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for two, three, or four years.

(d) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to commit an offense specified in Section 11352, 11379, 11379.5, 11379.6, or 11391 of the Health and Safety Code shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months. Every person, who, having been convicted of soliciting another to commit an offense specified in this subdivision, is subsequently convicted of the proscribed solicitation, shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year, or in the state prison.

This subdivision does not apply where the term of imprisonment imposed under other provisions of law would result in a longer term of imprisonment.

(e) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to commit an offense specified in Section 14014 of the Welfare and Institutions Code shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail for not exceeding six months. Every person who, having been convicted of soliciting another to commit an offense specified in this subdivision, is subsequently convicted of the proscribed solicitation, shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year, or in the state prison.

(f) An offense charged in violation of subdivision (a), (b), or (c) shall be proven by the testimony of two witnesses, or of one witness and corroborating circumstances. An offense charged in violation of subdivision (d) or (e) shall be proven by the testimony of one witness and corroborating circumstances.

SEC. 1.5. Section 653f of the Penal Code is amended to read:

653f. (a) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to offer, accept, or join in the offer or acceptance of a bribe, or to commit or join in the commission of carjacking, robbery, burglary, grand theft, receiving stolen property, extortion, perjury, subornation of perjury, forgery, kidnapping, arson or assault with a deadly weapon or instrument or by means of force likely to produce great bodily injury, or, by the use of force or a threat of force, to prevent or dissuade any person who is or may become a witness from attending upon, or testifying at, any trial, proceeding, or inquiry authorized by law, shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail for not more than one year or in the state prison, or by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or the amount which could have been assessed for commission of the offense itself, whichever is greater, or by both the fine and imprisonment.

(b) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to commit or join in the commission of murder shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for three, six, or nine years.

(c) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to commit rape by force or violence, sodomy by force or violence, oral copulation by force or violence, or any violation of Section 264.1, 288, or 289, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for two, three, or four years.

(d) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to commit an offense specified in Section 11352, 11379, 11379.5, 11379.6, or 11391 of the Health and Safety Code shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months. Every person, who, having been convicted of soliciting another to commit an offense specified in this subdivision, is subsequently convicted of the proscribed solicitation, shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year, or in the state prison.

This subdivision does not apply where the term of imprisonment imposed under other provisions of law would result in a longer term of imprisonment.

(e) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to commit an offense specified in Section 14014 of the Welfare and Institutions Code shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail for not exceeding six months. Every person who, having been convicted of soliciting another to commit an offense specified in this subdivision, is subsequently convicted of the proscribed solicitation, shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year, or in the state prison.

(f) An offense charged in violation of subdivision (a), (b), or (c) shall be proven by the testimony of two witnesses, or of one witness and corroborating circumstances. An offense charged in violation of subdivision (d) or (e) shall be proven by the testimony of one witness and corroborating circumstances.

SEC. 1.7. Section 653f of the Penal Code is amended to read:

653f. (a) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to offer, accept, or join in the offer or acceptance of a bribe, or to commit or join in the commission of robbery, premises invasion, burglary, grand theft, receiving stolen property, extortion, perjury, subornation of perjury, forgery, kidnapping, arson or assault with a deadly weapon or instrument or by means of force likely to produce great bodily injury, or, by the use of force or a threat of force, to prevent or dissuade any person who is or may become a witness from attending upon, or testifying at, any trial, proceeding, or inquiry authorized by law, shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail for not more than one year or in the state prison, or by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or the amount that could have been assessed for commission of the offense itself, whichever is greater, or by both the fine and imprisonment.

(b) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to commit or join in the commission of murder shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for three, six, or nine years.

(c) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to commit rape by force or violence, sodomy by force or violence, oral copulation by force or violence, or any violation of Section 264.1, 288, or 289, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for two, three, or four years.

(d) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to commit an offense specified in Section 11352, 11379, 11379.5, 11379.6, or 11391 of the Health and Safety Code shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months. Every person, who, having been convicted of soliciting another to commit an offense specified in this subdivision, is subsequently convicted of the proscribed solicitation, shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year, or in the state prison.

This subdivision does not apply where the term of imprisonment imposed under other provisions of law would result in a longer term of imprisonment.

(e) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to commit an offense specified in Section

14014 of the Welfare and Institutions Code shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail for not exceeding six months. Every person who, having been convicted of soliciting another to commit an offense specified in this subdivision, is subsequently convicted of the proscribed solicitation, shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year, or in the state prison.

(f) An offense charged in violation of subdivision (a), (b), or (c) shall be proven by the testimony of two witnesses, or of one witness and corroborating circumstances. An offense charged in violation of subdivision (d) or (e) shall be proven by the testimony of one witness and corroborating circumstances.

SEC. 1.9. Section 653f of the Penal Code is amended to read:

653f. (a) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to offer, accept, or join in the offer or acceptance of a bribe, or to commit or join in the commission of carjacking, robbery, premises invasion, burglary, grand theft, receiving stolen property, extortion, perjury, subornation of perjury, forgery, kidnapping, arson or assault with a deadly weapon or instrument or by means of force likely to produce great bodily injury, or, by the use of force or a threat of force, to prevent or dissuade any person who is or may become a witness from attending upon, or testifying at, any trial, proceeding, or inquiry authorized by law, shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail for not more than one year or in the state prison, or by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or the amount that could have been assessed for commission of the offense itself, whichever is greater, or by both the fine and imprisonment.

(b) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to commit or join in the commission of murder shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for three, six, or nine years.

(c) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to commit rape by force or violence, sodomy by force or violence, oral copulation by force or violence, or any violation of Section 264.1, 288, or 289, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for two, three, or four years.

(d) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to commit an offense specified in Section 11352, 11379, 11379.5, 11379.6, or 11391 of the Health and Safety Code shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months. Every person, who, having been convicted of soliciting another to commit an offense specified in this subdivision, is subsequently convicted of the proscribed solicitation, shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year, or in the state prison.

This subdivision does not apply where the term of imprisonment imposed under other provisions of law would result in a longer term of imprisonment.

(e) Every person who, with the intent that the crime be committed, solicits another to commit an offense specified in Section 14014 of the Welfare and Institutions Code shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail for not exceeding six months. Every person who, having been convicted of soliciting another to commit an offense specified in this subdivision, is subsequently convicted of the proscribed solicitation, shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year, or in the state prison.

(f) An offense charged in violation of subdivision (a), (b), or (c) shall be proven by the testimony of two witnesses, or of one witness and corroborating circumstances. An offense charged in violation of subdivision (d) or (e) shall be proven by the testimony of one witness and corroborating circumstances.

SEC. 2. (a) Section 1.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 653f of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill, and AB 6 and SB 60. It shall only become operative if (1) all three bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1994, (2) each bill amends Section 653f of the Penal Code, (3) AB 1957 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section, and (4) this bill is enacted after AB 6 and SB 60, in which case Section 653f of the Penal Code, as amended by AB 6 or SB 60, whichever is chaptered last, shall remain operative only until the operative date of this bill, at which time Section 1.5 of this bill shall become operative and Sections 1, 1.7, and 1.9 of this bill shall not become operative.

(b) Section 1.7 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 653f of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill and AB 1957. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1994, (2) each bill amends Section 653f of the Penal Code, (3) AB 6 and SB 60 are not enacted or as enacted do not amend that section, and (4) this bill is enacted after AB 1957, at which time Section 1.7 of this bill shall become operative and Sections 1, 1.5, and 1.9 of this bill shall not become operative.

(c) Section 1.9 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 653f of the Penal Code proposed by this bill, AB 1957, and AB 6 and SB 60. It shall only become operative if (1) all four bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1994, (2) each bill amends Section 653f of the Penal Code, and (3) this bill is enacted last, in which case Section 653f of the Penal Code, as amended by AB 6 or SB 60, whichever is chaptered last, shall remain operative only until the operative date of this bill, at which time Section 1.9 of this bill shall become operative and Sections 1, 1.5, and 1.7 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 822

An act to add Section 309.6 to the Public Utilities Code, relating to public utilities.

[Approved by Governor October 4, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 309.6 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

309.6. (a) The commission shall adopt procedures on the disqualification of administrative law judges due to bias or prejudice similar to those of other state agencies and superior courts.

(b) The commission shall develop the procedures with the opportunity for public review and comment, and submit a report to the Legislature on or before February 28, 1994, on the adopted procedures.

CHAPTER 823

An act to amend Section 146a of the Penal Code, relating to crime.

[Approved by Governor October 4, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 146a of the Penal Code is amended to read:

146a. (a) Any person who falsely represents himself or herself to be a deputy or clerk in any state department and who, in that assumed character, does any of the following is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, by a fine not exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500), or both the fine and imprisonment:

(1) Arrests, detains, or threatens to arrest or detain any person.

(2) Otherwise intimidates any person.

(3) Searches any person, building, or other property of any person.

(4) Obtains money, property, or other thing of value.

(b) Any person who falsely represents himself or herself to be a public officer, investigator, or inspector in any state department and who, in that assumed character, does any of the following shall be punished by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year, by a fine not exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500), or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by imprisonment in the state prison:

(1) Arrests, detains, or threatens to arrest or detain any person.

(2) Otherwise intimidates any person.

(3) Searches any person, building, or other property of any person.

(4) Obtains money, property, or other thing of value.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 824

An act to add Section 11177.2 to the Penal Code, relating to parole, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 4, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11177.2 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

11177.2. (a) No parolee may be released on parole to reside in any other receiving state if the parolee is subject to an unsatisfied order of restitution to a victim within the sending state.

(b) A parolee may be granted an exception to the prohibition in subdivision (a) if the parolee posts a bond for the amount of the restitution order.

(c) A parolee may petition the court for a hearing to determine whether, in the interests of justice, the prohibition in subdivision (a) should be waived.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to safeguard the victims of crime in this state and to assure these victims receive timely restitution, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 825

An act relating to state employees.

[Approved by Governor October 4, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The provisions of the State Bargaining Unit 14 memorandum of understanding prepared pursuant to Section 3517.5 of the Government Code and entered into by the state employer and the California State Employees' Association that require the expenditure of funds are hereby approved for the purposes of Section 3517.6 of the Government Code.

SEC. 2. Any provision in a memorandum of understanding approved by Section 1 that is scheduled to take effect on or after July 1, 1993, and that requires the expenditure of funds, shall not take effect unless funds for these provisions are specifically appropriated by the Legislature. In the event that funds for these provisions are not specifically appropriated by the Legislature, the state employer, and the affected employee organization shall meet and confer to renegotiate over the affected provisions.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding Section 3517.6 of the Government Code, the provisions of any memorandum of understanding that require the expenditure of funds shall become effective even if the provisions of the memorandum of understanding are approved by the Legislature in legislation other than the annual Budget Act.

SEC. 4. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, the Department of Finance may adjust departmental appropriations to reflect the salary, personal leave, and benefit changes made pursuant to this act or pursuant to a memorandum of understanding entered into by the state employer and a recognized employee organization pursuant to Section 3517.5 of the Government Code that has been approved and ratified by the Legislature.

CHAPTER 826

An act to amend Sections 17932, 18431, 18431.2, 18684.7, 19401.5, 19405, 25403, 25403.5, and 25962 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation.

[Approved by Governor October 4, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17932 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17932. (a) Every partnership shall, within three months and 15 days after the close of the partnership taxable year, make a return for that taxable year, stating specifically the items of gross income and the deductions allowed by this part. The return shall include the names, addresses, and taxpayer identification numbers of the persons, whether residents or nonresidents, who would be entitled to share in the net income if distributed and the amount of the distributive share of each person. Except as otherwise provided in Section 18432.2, the return shall contain or be verified by a written declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury, signed by one of the partners.

(b) Each partnership required to file a return under subdivision (a) for any partnership taxable year shall (on or before the day on which the return for that taxable year was required to be filed) furnish to each person who is a partner or who holds an interest in that partnership as a nominee for another person at any time during that taxable year a copy of that information required to be shown on that return as may be required by regulations.

(c) Any person who holds an interest in a partnership as a nominee for another person shall do both of the following:

(1) Furnish to the partnership, in the manner prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, the name and address of that other person, and any other information for that taxable year as the Franchise Tax Board may by form and regulation prescribe.

(2) Furnish in the manner prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board that other person the information provided by that partnership under subdivision (b).

(d) The provisions of Section 6031(d) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the separate statement of items of unrelated business taxable income, shall apply.

SEC. 2. Section 18431 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18431. Except as otherwise provided by the Franchise Tax Board and in Section 18431.2, any return, declaration, statement, or other document required to be made under any provision of this part or regulations shall contain, or be verified by, a written declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury. Those returns, and all other returns, declarations, statements, or other documents or copies thereof required by this part, shall be in any form as the Franchise Tax Board may from time to time prescribe, including, but not limited to, on paper, on magnetic media pursuant to Section 19272, or by electronic technology or electronic imaging technology pursuant to Section 18431.2, and shall be filed with the Franchise Tax Board. The Franchise Tax Board shall prepare blank forms for the returns, declarations, statements, or other documents and shall distribute them throughout the state and furnish them upon application. Failure to receive or secure the form does not relieve any taxpayer from making any return, declaration, statement or other document required.

SEC. 3. Section 18431.2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18431.2. (a) Any return, declaration, statement, or other document required to be made under this part that is filed using electronic technology shall be in a form as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe and is not complete, and therefore not filed, unless an electronic filing declaration is signed by the taxpayer, in accordance with Section 18431 in the case of individuals, subdivision (a) of Section 18405 in the case of estates and trusts, or subdivision (a) of Section 17932 in the case of a partnership. The Franchise Tax Board may prescribe forms and instructions for requiring the electronic filing declaration to be retained by the preparer or the taxpayer and may require the declaration to be furnished to the Franchise Tax Board upon request.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any return, declaration, statement, or other document otherwise required to be signed that is filed in a traditional medium and captured using electronic imaging technology shall be deemed to be a signed, valid original document upon reproduction to paper form by the Franchise Tax Board.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any return, declaration, statement, or other document otherwise required to be signed that is filed by the taxpayer using electronic technology in a form as required by the Franchise Tax Board shall be deemed to be a signed, valid original document, including upon reproduction to paper form by the Franchise Tax Board.

(d) "Electronic imaging technology" means a system of microphotography, optical disk, or reproduction by other technique which does not permit additions, deletions, or changes to the original document. The system may include, but is not limited to, any magnetic media or other machine readable form.

(e) "Traditional medium" means any return, declaration, statement, or other document required to be made pursuant to this article other than those made using electronic technology or electronic imaging technology.

(f) "Electronic technology" includes, but is not limited to, computer modem, magnetic media, optical disk, facsimile machine, or telephone.

SEC. 4. Section 18684.7 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18684.7. A penalty shall be imposed under this section for any of the following:

(a) In accordance with Section 6695(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, for failure to furnish a copy of the return to the taxpayer, as required by Section 18935.

(b) In accordance with Section 6695(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, for failure to furnish an identifying number, as required by Section 18934.

(c) In accordance with Section 6695(d) of the Internal Revenue Code, for failure to retain a copy or list, as required by Section 18935, or for failure to retain an electronic filing declaration, as required by Section 18431.2.

SEC. 5. Section 19401.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

19401.5. (a) Any person who signs his or her spouse's name on any income tax return, or any schedules or attachments thereto, or who files electronically pursuant to Section 18431.2, without the consent of the spouse as provided in subdivision (b), is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction be fined an amount not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) or be imprisoned for a term not to exceed one year, or both, at the discretion of the court, together with costs of investigation and prosecution.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), any person who signs his or her spouse's name shall not be guilty of a misdemeanor when one spouse is physically unable by reason of disease or injury to sign a joint return, the other spouse may with the oral consent of the one who is incapacitated, sign the incapacitated spouse's name in the proper place on the return followed by the words "By _____, Husband (or Wife)," and by the signature of the signing spouse in his or her own right, provided that a dated statement signed by the spouse who is signing the return is attached to and made a part of the return stating each of the following:

(1) The name of the return being filed.

(2) The taxable year.

(3) The reason for the inability of the spouse who is incapacitated to sign the return.

(4) That the spouse who is incapacitated consented to the signing of the return and that the taxpayer and his or her agent, if any, are responsible for the return as made and incur liability for the penalties provided for erroneous, false, or fraudulent returns.

(c) The penalties provided by this section are cumulative and shall not be construed as restricting any other penalty provided by law based upon the same facts, including any penalty under Section 470 of the Penal Code. However, an act or omission which is made punishable in different ways by this section and different provisions of the Penal Code shall not be punished under more than one provision.

SEC. 6. Section 19405 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

19405. (a) Any person who does any of the following shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction, shall be fined not more than twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) or imprisoned not more than three years, or both, together with the costs of prosecution:

(2) Willfully aids or assists in, or procures, counsels, or advises the preparation or presentation under, or in connection with any matter arising under, the Personal Income Tax Law, of a return, affidavit, claim, or other document, that is fraudulent or is false as to any material matter, whether or not that falsity or fraud is with the knowledge or consent of the person authorized or required to present that return, affidavit, claim, or document.

(3) Simulates or falsely or fraudulently executes or signs any bond, permit, entry, or other document required by the provisions of the Personal Income Tax Law, or by any regulation pursuant to that law, or procures the same to be falsely or fraudulently executed or advises, aids in, or connives at that execution.

(4) Removes, deposits, or conceals, or is concerned in removing, depositing, or concealing, any goods or commodities for or in respect whereof any tax is or shall be imposed, or any property upon which levy is authorized by Chapter 19 (commencing with Section 18801) of this part, or Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 706.010) of Division 2 of, and Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 688.010) of Division 1 of, Title 9 of the Code of Civil Procedure, with intent to evade or defeat the assessment or collection of any tax imposed by this part.

(5) In connection with any settlement under Section 19133, or offer of that settlement, or in connection with any closing agreement under Section 19132 or offer to enter into that agreement, willfully does any of the following:

(A) Conceals from any officer or employee of this state any property belonging to the estate of a taxpayer or other person liable in respect of the tax.

(B) Receives, withholds, destroys, mutilates, or falsifies any book, document, or record, or makes any false statement, relating to the estate or financial condition of the taxpayer or other person liable in respect of the tax.

(b) The fact that an individual's name is signed to a return, statement, or other document filed, including a return, statement, or other document filed using electronic technology pursuant to Section 18431.2, shall be prima facie evidence for all purposes that the return, statement, or other document was actually signed by him or her.

(c) For purposes of this section, "person" means the taxpayer, any member of the taxpayer's family, or any agent, fiduciary, or representative of, or any other individual acting on behalf of, the taxpayer.

SEC. 7. Section 25403 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

25403. Except as otherwise provided in Section 25403.5, every return required by this part to be filed with the Franchise Tax Board shall be signed by a principal officer of the taxpayer and contain or be verified by a written declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury.

In cases where receivers, trustees in a case under Title 11 of the United States Code, or assignees are operating the property or business of a bank or corporation such receivers, trustees, or assignees shall make returns for such bank or corporation in the same manner and form as such a bank or corporation is required to make a return.

SEC. 8. Section 25403.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

25403.5. (a) Any return, declaration, statement, or other document required to be made under this part that is filed using electronic technology shall be in a form as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe and is not complete, and therefore not filed, unless an electronic filing declaration is signed by the taxpayer, in accordance with Section 25403. The Franchise Tax Board may prescribe forms and instructions for requiring the electronic filing declaration to be retained by the preparer or the taxpayer and may require the declaration to be furnished to the Franchise Tax Board upon request.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any return, declaration, statement, or other document otherwise required to be signed that is filed in a traditional medium and captured using electronic imaging technology shall be deemed to be a signed, valid original document upon reproduction to paper form by the Franchise Tax Board.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any return, declaration, statement, or other document otherwise required to be signed that is filed by the taxpayer using electronic technology in a form as required by the Franchise Tax Board shall be deemed to be a signed, valid original document, including upon reproduction to paper form by the Franchise Tax Board.

(d) "Electronic imaging technology" means a system of microphotography, optical disk, or reproduction by other technique which does not permit additions, deletions, or changes to the original document. The system may include, but is not limited to, any magnetic media or other machine readable form.

(e) "Traditional medium" means any return, declaration, statement, or other document required to be made pursuant to this article other than those made using electronic technology or electronic imaging technology.

(f) "Electronic technology" includes, but is not limited to, computer modem, magnetic media, optical disk, facsimile machine, or telephone.

SEC. 9. Section 25962 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

25962. (a) Any person who does any of the following shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction, shall be fined not more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or imprisoned not more than three years, or both, together with the costs of prosecution:

(1) Willfully makes and subscribes any return, statement, or other document, that contains or is verified by a written declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury, and that he or she does not believe to be true and correct as to every material matter.

(2) Willfully aids or assists in, or procures, counsels, or advises the preparation or presentation under, or in connection with any matter arising under, the Bank and Corporation Tax Law, of a return, affidavit, claim, or other document, that is fraudulent or is false as to any material matter, whether or not that falsity or fraud is with the knowledge or consent of the person authorized or required to present that return, affidavit, claim, or document.

(3) Simulates or falsely or fraudulently executes or signs any bond, permit, entry, or other document required by the provisions of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law, or by any regulation pursuant to that law, or procures the same to be falsely or fraudulently executed, or advises, aids in, or connives at that execution.

(4) Removes, deposits, or conceals, or is concerned in removing, depositing, or concealing, any goods or commodities for or in respect whereof any tax is or shall be imposed, or any property upon which levy is authorized by Chapter 23 (commencing with Section 26131) of this part, with intent to evade or defeat the assessment or collection of any tax imposed by this part.

(5) In connection with any settlement under Section 25782, or offer of that settlement, or in connection with any closing agreement under Section 25781 or offer to enter into that agreement, willfully does any of the following:

(A) Conceals from any officer or employee of this state any property belonging to the estate of a taxpayer or other person liable in respect of the tax.

(B) Receives, withholds, destroys, mutilates, or falsifies any book, document, or record, or makes any false statement, relating to the estate or financial condition of the taxpayer or other person liable in respect of the tax.

(b) The fact that an individual's name is signed to a return, statement, or other document filed, including a return, statement, or other document filed using electronic technology pursuant to Section 25403.5, shall be prima facie evidence for all purposes that the return, statement, or other document was actually signed by him or her.

(c) For purposes of this section, "person" means the taxpayer, any corporation, agent, fiduciary, or representative of, or any other entity acting on behalf of, the taxpayer, or any other corporation or entity owned or controlled by the taxpayer, directly or indirectly, or that owns or controls the taxpayer, directly or indirectly.

CHAPTER 827

An act to amend Section 12945.2 of the Government Code, relating to fair employment, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 4, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12945.2 of the Government Code is amended to read:

12945.2. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), it shall be an unlawful employment practice for any employer, as defined in paragraph (2) of subdivision (c), to refuse to grant a request by any employee with more than 12 months of service with the employer, and who has at least 1,250 hours of service with the employer during the previous 12-month period, to take up to a total of 12 workweeks in any 12-month period for family care and medical leave. Family care and medical leave requested pursuant to this subdivision shall not be deemed to have been granted unless the employer provides the employee, upon granting the leave request, a guarantee of employment in the same or a comparable position upon the termination of the leave. The commission shall adopt a regulation specifying the elements of a reasonable request.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), it shall not be an unlawful employment practice for an employer to refuse to grant a request for family care and medical leave by an employee if the employer employs less than 50 employees within 75 miles of the worksite where that employee is employed.

(c) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Child" means a biological, adopted, or foster child, a stepchild, a legal ward, or a child of a person standing in loco parentis who is either of the following:

(A) Under 18 years of age.

(B) An adult dependent child.

(2) "Employer" means either of the following:

(A) Any person who directly employs 50 or more persons to perform services for a wage or salary.

(B) The state, and any political or civil subdivision of the state and cities.

(3) "Family care and medical leave" means any of the following:

(A) Leave for reason of the birth of a child of the employee, the placement of a child with an employee in connection with the adoption or foster care of the child by the employee, or the serious health condition of a child of the employee.

(B) Leave to care for a parent or a spouse who has a serious health condition.

(C) Leave because of an employee's own serious health condition that makes the employee unable to perform the functions of the position of that employee, except for leave taken for disability on account of pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical conditions.

(4) "Employment in the same or a comparable position" means employment in a position that has the same or similar duties and pay which can be performed at the same or similar geographic location as the position held prior to the leave.

(5) "Health care provider" means any of the following:

(A) An individual holding either a physician's and surgeon's certificate issued pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 2080) of Chapter 5 of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code, an osteopathic physician's and surgeon's certificate issued pursuant to Article 4.5 (commencing with Section 2099.5) of Chapter 5 of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code, or an individual duly licensed as a physician, surgeon, or osteopathic physician or surgeon in another state or jurisdiction, who directly treats or supervises the treatment of the serious health condition.

(B) Any other person determined by the United States Secretary of Labor to be capable of providing health care services under the federal Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993.

(6) "Parent" means a biological, foster, or adoptive parent, a stepparent, a legal guardian, or other person who stood in loco parentis to the employee when the employee was a child.

(7) "Serious health condition" means an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves either of the following:

(A) Inpatient care in a hospital, hospice, or residential health care facility.

(B) Continuing treatment or continuing supervision by a health care provider.

(d) An employer shall not be required to pay an employee for any leave taken pursuant to subdivision (a), except as required by subdivision (e).

(e) An employee taking a leave permitted by subdivision (a) may elect, or an employer may require the employee, to substitute for leave allowed under subdivision (a), any of the employee's accrued vacation leave or other accrued time off during this period or any other paid or unpaid time off negotiated with the employer. If an employee takes a leave because of the employee's own serious health condition, the employee may also elect, or the employer may also require the employee, to substitute accrued sick leave during the period of the leave. However, an employee shall not use sick leave during a period of leave in connection with the birth, adoption, or foster care of a child, or to care for a child, parent, or spouse with a serious health condition, unless mutually agreed to by the employer and the employee.

(f) (1) During any period that an eligible employee takes leave pursuant to subdivision (a) or takes leave that qualifies as leave taken under the federal Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (FMLA), the employer shall maintain and pay for coverage under a "group health plan," as defined in Section 5000(b)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, for the duration of the leave, not to exceed 12 workweeks in a 12-month period, commencing on the date leave taken under the FMLA commences, at the level and under the conditions coverage would have been provided if the employee had continued in employment continuously for the duration of the leave. Nothing in the preceding sentence shall preclude an employer from maintaining and paying for coverage under a "group health plan" beyond 12 workweeks. An employer may recover the premium that the employer paid as required by this subdivision for maintaining coverage for the employee under the group health plan if both of the following conditions occur:

(A) The employee fails to return from leave after the period of leave to which the employee is entitled has expired.

(B) The employee's failure to return from leave is for a reason other than the continuation, recurrence, or onset of a serious health condition that entitles the employee to leave under subdivision (a) or other circumstances beyond the control of the employee.

(2) Any employee taking leave pursuant to subdivision (a) shall continue to be entitled to participate in employee health plans for any period during which coverage is not provided by the employer under paragraph (1), employee benefit plans, including life, short-term or long-term disability or accident insurance, pension and retirement plans, and supplemental unemployment benefit plans to the same extent and under the same conditions as apply to an unpaid leave taken for any purpose other than those described in subdivision (a). In the absence of these conditions an employee shall continue to be entitled to participate in these plans, and in the case of health and welfare employee benefit plans, including life, short-term or long-term disability or accident insurance, or other similar plans, the employer may, at his or her discretion, require the employee to pay premiums, at the group rate, during the period of leave not covered by any accrued vacation leave, or other accrued time off, or any other paid or unpaid time off negotiated with the employer, as a condition of continued coverage during the leave period. However, the nonpayment of premiums by an employee shall not constitute a break in service, for purposes of longevity, seniority under any collective bargaining agreement, or any employee benefit plan.

For purposes of pension and retirement plans, an employer shall not be required to make plan payments for an employee during the leave period, and the leave period shall not be required to be counted for purposes of time accrued under the plan. However, an employee covered by a pension plan may continue to make contributions in accordance with the terms of the plan during the period of the leave.

(g) During a family care and medical leave period, the employee shall retain employee status with the employer, and the leave shall not constitute a break in service, for purposes of longevity, seniority under any collective bargaining agreement, or any employee benefit plan. An employee returning from leave shall return with no less seniority than the employee had when the leave commenced, for purposes of layoff, recall, promotion, job assignment, and seniority-related benefits such as vacation.

(h) If the employee's need for a leave pursuant to this section is foreseeable, the employee shall provide the employer with reasonable advance notice of the need for the leave.

(i) If the employee's need for leave pursuant to this section is foreseeable due to a planned medical treatment or supervision, the employee shall make a reasonable effort to schedule the treatment or supervision to avoid disruption to the operations of the employer, subject to the approval of the health care provider of the individual requiring the treatment or supervision.

(j) (1) An employer may require that an employee's request for leave to care for a child, a spouse, or a parent who has a serious health condition be supported by a certification issued by the health care provider of the individual requiring care. That certification shall be sufficient if it includes all of the following:

(A) The date on which the serious health condition commenced.

(B) The probable duration of the condition.

(C) An estimate of the amount of time that the health care provider believes the employee needs to care for the individual requiring the care.

(D) A statement that the serious health condition warrants the participation of a family member to provide care during a period of the treatment or supervision of the individual requiring care.

(2) Upon expiration of the time estimated by the health care provider in subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1), the employer may require the employee to obtain recertification in accordance with the procedure provided in paragraph (1), if additional leave is required.

(k) (1) An employer may require that an employee's request for leave because of the employee's own serious health condition be supported by a certification issued by his or her health care provider. That certification shall be sufficient if it includes all of the following:

(A) The date on which the serious health condition commenced.

(B) The probable duration of the condition.

(C) A statement that, due to the serious health condition, the employee is unable to perform the function of his or her position.

(2) The employer may require that the employee obtain subsequent recertification regarding the employee's serious health condition on a reasonable basis, in accordance with the procedure provided in paragraph (1), if additional leave is required.

(3) (A) In any case in which the employer has reason to doubt the validity of the certification provided pursuant to this section, the employer may require, at the employer's expense, that the employee obtain the opinion of a second health care provider, designated or approved by the employer, concerning any information certified under paragraph (1).

(B) The health care provider designated or approved under subparagraph (A) shall not be employed on a regular basis by the employer.

(C) In any case in which the second opinion described in subparagraph (A) differs from the opinion in the original certification, the employer may require, at the employer's expense, that the employee obtain the opinion of a third health care provider, designated or approved jointly by the employer and the employee, concerning the information certified under paragraph (1).

(D) The opinion of the third health care provider concerning the information certified under paragraph (1) shall be considered to be final and shall be binding on the employer and the employee.

(4) As a condition of an employee's return from leave taken because of the employee's own serious health condition, the employer may have a uniformly applied practice or policy that requires the employee to obtain certification from his or her health care provider that the employee is able to resume work. Nothing in this paragraph shall supersede a valid collective bargaining agreement that governs the return to work of that employee.

(l) It shall be an unlawful employment practice for an employer to refuse to hire, or to discharge, fine, suspend, expel, or discriminate against, any individual because of any of the following:

(1) An individual's exercise of the right to family care and medical leave provided by subdivision (a).

(2) An individual's giving information or testimony as to his or her own family care and medical leave, or another person's family care and medical leave, in any inquiry or proceeding related to rights guaranteed under this section.

(m) This section shall not be construed to require any changes in existing collective bargaining agreements during the life of the contract, or until January 1, 1993, whichever occurs first.

(n) The amendments made to this section by the act adding this subdivision shall not be construed to require any changes in existing collective bargaining agreements during the life of the contract, or until February 5, 1994, whichever occurs first.

(o) The provisions of this section shall be construed as separate and distinct from those of Section 12945.

(p) Leave provided for pursuant to this section may be taken in one or more periods. The 12-month period during which 12 workweeks of leave may be taken under this section shall run concurrently with the 12-month period under the FMLA, and shall commence the date leave taken under the FMLA commences.

(q) In any case in which both parents entitled to leave under subdivision (a) are employed by the same employer, the employer shall not be required to grant leave in connection with the birth, adoption, or foster care of a child that would allow the parents family care and medical leave totaling more than the amount specified in subdivision (a).

(r) (1) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), an employer may refuse to reinstate an employee returning from leave to the same or a comparable position if all of the following apply:

(A) The employee is a salaried employee who is among the highest paid 10 percent of the employer's employees who are employed within 75 miles of the worksite at which that employee is employed.

(B) The refusal is necessary to prevent substantial and grievous economic injury to the operations of the employer.

(C) The employer notifies the employee of the intent to refuse reinstatement at the time the employer determines the refusal is necessary under subparagraph (B).

(2) In any case in which the leave has already commenced, the employer shall give the employee a reasonable opportunity to return to work following the notice prescribed by subparagraph (C).

(s) Leave taken by an employee pursuant to this section shall run concurrently with leave taken pursuant to the federal Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (FMLA), except for any leave taken under the FMLA for disability on account of pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical conditions. The aggregate amount of leave taken under this section or the FMLA, or both, except for leave taken for disability on account of pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical conditions, shall not exceed 12 workweeks in a 12-month period. An employee is entitled to take, in addition to the leave provided for under this section and the FMLA, the leave provided for in Section 12945, if the employee is otherwise qualified for that leave.

SEC. 2. In adopting regulations required by Section 12945.2 of the Government Code with respect to the appropriate minimum duration of family care and medical leave, the Fair Employment and Housing Commission may establish different minimum duration requirements for different types of leave. However, the commission shall permit any employee electing to take leave pursuant to Section 12945.2 of the Government Code to take that leave in increments of at least one day for recurring medical treatment certified by a health care provider.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to conform California law to existing federal law regarding family care and medical leave, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 828

An act to amend, repeal, and add Sections 22, 23, 2500, 2501, 2551, 2552, 2601, 6005, 6008, 6010, 6013, 6110, 6113, 6120, 6123, 6139, 6210.5, 6211, 6214, 6220, 6222, 6223, 6261, 6264, 6305, 6311, 6316, 6328.3, 6329, 6342, 6360, and 6363 of the Elections Code, relating to elections.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 5, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares that in order to improve public confidence in government at the local, state, and federal levels, every effort must be made to arrest the significant decline in voter participation that has occurred in the past decade, and that holding both the presidential primary and the direct primary elections the same day will help to maximize voter participation in the electoral process and increase public confidence in these various levels of government.

By moving the California presidential primary election date to the fourth Tuesday in March pursuant to this act, it is the intent of the Legislature to encourage the Congress and the major political parties to devise and implement a regional presidential primary system for the western states.

SEC. 2. Section 22 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

22. "Presidential primary" is the primary election that is held on the fourth Tuesday in March in any year which is evenly divisible by the number four, and at which delegations to national party conventions are to be chosen.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2.5. Section 22 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

22. "Presidential primary" is the primary election that is consolidated with the direct primary held in any year which is evenly divisible by the number 4, and at which delegations to national party conventions are to be chosen.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 3. Section 23 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

23. "Direct primary" is the primary election held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June in each even-numbered year, and on the fourth Tuesday in March in any year which is evenly divisible by the number four, to nominate candidates to be voted for at the ensuing general election or to elect members of a party central committee.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 3.5. Section 23 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

23. "Presidential primary" is the primary election that is consolidated with the direct primary held in any year which is evenly divisible by the number 4, and at which delegations to national party conventions are to be chosen.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 4. Section 2500 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

2500. The regular election dates in each year are as follows:

(a) The second Tuesday of April of each even-numbered year.

(b) The first Tuesday after the first Monday in March of each odd-numbered year.

(c) The fourth Tuesday in March in any year which is evenly divisible by the number four.

(d) The first Tuesday after the first Monday in June of each year.

(e) The first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of each year.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 4.5. Section 2500 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

2500. Three regular election dates shall be established in each year as follows:

(1) The second Tuesday of April of each even-numbered year.

(2) The first Tuesday after the first Monday in March of each odd-numbered year.

(3) The first Tuesday after the first Monday in June of each year.

(4) The first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of each year.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 5. Section 2501 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

2501. Elections held in June and November of each even-numbered year, and in March of any year evenly divisible by the number four, shall be statewide elections and these dates shall be considered statewide election dates.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 5.5. Section 2501 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

2501. Elections held in June and November of each even-numbered year shall be statewide elections and these dates shall be considered statewide election dates.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 6. Section 2551 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

2551. (a) The statewide direct primary shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June in each even-numbered year.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), in any year which is evenly divisible by the number four, the statewide direct primary shall be held on the fourth Tuesday in March and shall be consolidated with the presidential primary held in that year.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 6.5. Section 2551 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

2551. The statewide direct primary shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June in each even-numbered year.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 7. Section 2552 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

2552. The presidential primary shall be held on the fourth Tuesday in March any year evenly divisible by the number four.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 7.3. Section 2552 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

2552. The presidential primary shall be consolidated with the statewide direct primary held in any year evenly divisable by the whole number four.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 7.5. Section 2601 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

2601. (a) Except as provided in Sections 35443, 36503.5, and 36504 of the Government Code, a general municipal election shall be held on the second Tuesday in April of even-numbered years, or on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in March of odd-numbered years.

(b) A city council may enact an ordinance to move the date of its general municipal election from the second Tuesday in April of even-numbered years to the first Tuesday after the first Monday in March of odd-numbered years.

(c) As the result of the adoption of an ordinance pursuant to this section, no term of office shall be increased or decreased by more than 12 months. As used in this subdivision, "12 months" means the period between the day upon which the term of office otherwise would have commenced and the first Tuesday after the first Monday in March of the odd-numbered year in which the election is held, inclusive.

(d) If an election is held pursuant to subdivision (a) and the election is consolidated with another election, Part 2.5 (commencing with Section 23300) of Division 14, except Section 23302, shall govern the consolidation, and, if the county clerk is requested to conduct the municipal election, Section 22003 shall be applicable to that election.

(e) Within 30 days after the ordinance becomes operative pursuant to subdivision (a), the city clerk shall cause a notice to be mailed to all registered voters informing the voters of the change in the election date. The notice shall also inform the voters that as a result in the change in election date, elected city officeholders' terms in office will be changed.

(f) If a city adopts an ordinance pursuant to subdivision (a), the municipal election following the adoption of the ordinance and each municipal election thereafter shall be conducted on the date specified by the city council, in accordance with subdivision (a), unless the ordinance in question is later repealed by the city council.

(g) If the date of a general municipal election is changed pursuant to this section, at least one election shall be held before the ordinance may be subsequently repealed or amended.

SEC. 8. Section 6005 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

6005. The chairperson of the state central committee shall notify the Secretary of State on or before the 120th day preceding the presidential primary as to the number of delegates to represent the state in the next national convention of his or her party.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 8.5. Section 6005 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

6005. The chairman of the state central committee shall notify the Secretary of State on or before the first day of February immediately preceding the presidential primary as to the number of delegates to represent the state in the next national convention of his party.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 9. Section 6008 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

6008. The Secretary of State shall, on or before the 110th day preceding the presidential primary, certify to the county clerk of each county the number of delegates to be elected by the Republican Party.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 9.5. Section 6008 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

6008. The Secretary of State shall, on or before the 10th day of February of the year of the presidential primary, certify to the county clerk of each county the number of delegates to be elected by the Republican Party.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 10. Section 6010 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

6010. The Secretary of State shall place the name of a candidate upon the Republican presidential primary ballot when the Secretary of State has determined that the candidate is generally recognized throughout the United States or California as a candidate for the nomination of the Republican Party for President of the United States.

On or before the 120th day preceding a presidential primary election the Secretary of State shall publicly announce and distribute to the news media for publication a list of the candidates he or she intends to place on the ballot at the following presidential primary election. Following this announcement he or she may add candidates to his or her selection, but he or she may not delete any candidate whose name appears on the announced list.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 10.5. Section 6010 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

6010. The Secretary of State shall place the name of a candidate upon the Republican presidential primary ballot when the Secretary of State shall have determined that such a candidate is generally recognized throughout the United States or California as a candidate for the nomination of the Republican Party for President of the United States.

On or before February 1 immediately preceding a presidential primary election the Secretary of State shall publicly announce and distribute to the news media for publication a list of the candidates he intends to place on the ballot at the following presidential primary election. Following this announcement he may add candidates to his selection, but he may not delete any candidate whose name appears on the announced list.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 11. Section 6013 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

6013. Any unselected candidate desiring to have his or her name placed on the presidential primary ballot shall have nomination papers circulated in his or her behalf. In order to qualify his or her name for placement on the presidential primary ballot, the candidate's nomination papers shall be signed by voters registered as affiliated with the Republican Party equal in number to not less than 1 percent of the number of persons registered as members of the Republican Party, as reflected in the report of registration issued by the Secretary of State on the 135th day preceding the presidential primary election.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 11.5. Section 6013 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

6013. Any unselected candidate desiring to have his name placed on the presidential primary ballot shall have nomination papers circulated in his behalf. In order to qualify his name for placement on the presidential primary ballot, the candidate's nomination papers shall be signed by voters registered as affiliated with the Republican Party equal in number to not less than 1 percent of the number of persons registered as members of the Republican Party, as reflected in the report of registration issued by the Secretary of State in January of the year of the presidential primary election.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 12. Section 6110 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

6110. The Secretary of State shall place the name of a candidate upon the American Independent Party presidential preference ballot when the Secretary of State has determined that the candidate is generally advocated for or recognized in the news media throughout the United States or California as actively seeking the nomination of the American Independent Party for President of the United States.

On or before the 120th day preceding a presidential primary election the Secretary of State shall publicly announce and distribute to the news media for publication a list of the candidates he or she intends to place on the ballot at the following presidential primary election. Following this announcement he or she may add candidates to his or her selection, but he or she may not delete any candidate whose name appears on the announced list.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 12.5. Section 6110 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

6110. The Secretary of State shall place the name of a candidate upon the American Independent Party presidential preference ballot when the Secretary of State shall have determined that such a candidate is generally advocated for or recognized in the news media throughout the United States or California as actively seeking the nomination of the American Independent Party for President of the United States.

On or before February 1 immediately preceding a presidential primary election the Secretary of State shall publicly announce and distribute to the news media for publication a list of the candidates he intends to place on the ballot at the following presidential primary election. Following this announcement he may add candidates to his selection, but he may not delete any candidate whose name appears on the announced list.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 13. Section 6113 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

6113. Any unselected candidate desiring to have his or her name placed on the presidential preference primary ballot without filing a group of candidates for delegates, shall have nomination papers circulated in his or her behalf. In order to qualify his or her name for placement on the presidential preference primary ballot, the candidate's nomination papers shall be signed by voters registered as affiliated with the American Independent Party equal in number to not less than 1 percent of the number of persons registered as members of the American Independent Party as reflected in the report of registration issued by the Secretary of State on the 135th day preceding the presidential primary election.

County Clerk

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 25. Section 6305 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

6305. (a) The chairperson of the Democratic State Central Committee shall notify the Secretary of State on or before the 120th day preceding the presidential primary as to the number of delegates and alternates to represent the state in the next national convention of the Democratic Party.

(b) The chairperson shall notify each statewide-elected officeholder, each Member of the Legislature, each United States Senator from California, and each Member of the House of Representatives from California who is affiliated with the Democratic Party as to the officeholder's right to serve as a pledged elected official delegate to the Democratic National Convention.

(c) The chairperson shall also notify the Secretary of State at the time prescribed in subdivision (a) as to the number of delegates which may be selected from each congressional district in connection with the presidential primary. The number of delegates which may be selected from each congressional district shall be based on a formula which apportions 75 percent of the state's base delegation allocated by the Democratic National Committee, among the congressional districts in a manner which gives equal weight to the vote for the Democratic candidates in the most recent presidential and gubernatorial elections.

The number of delegates allocated to each congressional district shall be rounded off to the nearest whole integer. The remaining delegates and alternates shall be selected pursuant to Article 10 (commencing with Section 6365).

(d) Delegates and alternate delegates apportioned to each congressional district shall be selected based on the proportion of the vote a presidential candidate or uncommitted delegation receives within the congressional district pursuant to Section 6365.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 25.5. Section 6305 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

6305. (a) The chairperson of the Democratic State Central Committee shall notify the Secretary of State on or before the first of February immediately preceding the presidential primary as to the number of delegates and alternates to represent the state in the next national convention of the Democratic Party.

(b) The chairperson shall notify each statewide-elected officeholder, each Member of the Legislature, each United States Senator from California, and each Member of the House of Representatives from California who is affiliated with the Democratic Party as to the officeholder's right to serve as a pledged elected official delegate to the Democratic National Convention.

(c) The chairperson shall also notify the Secretary of State at the time prescribed in subdivision (a) as to the number of delegates which may be selected from each congressional district in connection with the presidential primary. The number of delegates which may be selected from each congressional district shall be based on a formula which apportions 75 percent of the state's base delegation allocated by the Democratic National Committee, among the congressional districts in a manner which gives equal weight to the vote for the Democratic candidates in the most recent presidential and gubernatorial elections.

The number of delegates allocated to each congressional district shall be rounded off to the nearest whole integer. The remaining delegates and alternates shall be selected pursuant to Article 10 (commencing with Section 6365).

(d) Delegates and alternate delegates apportioned to each congressional district shall be selected based on the proportion of the vote a presidential candidate or uncommitted delegation receives within the congressional district pursuant to Section 6365.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 26. Section 6311 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

6311. The Secretary of State shall place the name of a candidate upon the presidential primary ballot when he or she has determined that the candidate is generally advocated for or recognized throughout the United States or California as actively seeking the nomination of the Democratic Party for President of the United States. The Secretary of State shall include as criteria for selecting candidates the fact of qualifying for funding under the Federal Elections Campaign Act as amended in 1974.

Between the 150th day and the 120th day preceding a presidential primary election, the Secretary of State shall publicly announce and distribute to the news media for publication a list of the selected candidates that he or she intends to place on the ballot at the following presidential primary election. Following this announcement the Secretary of State may add candidates to the selection, but he or she may not delete any presidential candidate whose name appears on the announced list except as provided in Section 6313.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 26.5. Section 6311 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

6311. The Secretary of State shall place the name of a candidate upon the presidential primary ballot when he or she has determined that such a candidate is generally advocated for or recognized throughout the United States or California as actively seeking the nomination of the Democratic Party for President of the United States. The Secretary of State shall include as criteria for selecting candidates the fact of qualifying for funding under the Federal Elections Campaign Act as amended in 1974.

After January 1, but on or before February 1, immediately preceding a presidential primary election, the Secretary of State shall publicly announce and distribute to the news media for publication a list of the selected candidates that he or she intends to place on the ballot at the following presidential primary election. Following this announcement the Secretary of State may add candidates to the selection, but he or she may not delete any presidential candidate whose name appears on the announced list except as provided in Section 6313.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 27. Section 6316 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

6316. Any unselected candidate or uncommitted delegation desiring to be placed on the presidential primary ballot shall have nomination papers circulated on behalf of the candidacy. In order to qualify for placement on the presidential primary ballot, the candidate's or uncommitted delegation's nomination papers shall be signed by voters registered as affiliated with the Democratic Party equal in number to not less than 1 percent or 500, whichever is fewer, in each congressional district of the number of persons registered as members of the Democratic Party in the report of registration issued by the Secretary of State on the 135th day preceding the presidential primary election.

The unselected candidates or uncommitted delegations shall meet the statewide signature requirements from each congressional district in order to be eligible for placement on the ballot in any one congressional district.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 27.5. Section 6316 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

6316. Any unselected candidate or uncommitted delegation desiring to be placed on the presidential primary ballot shall have nomination papers circulated on behalf of the candidacy. In order to qualify for placement on the presidential primary ballot, the candidate's or uncommitted delegation's nomination papers shall be signed by voters registered as affiliated with the Democratic Party equal in number to not less than 1 percent or 500, whichever is fewer, in each congressional district of the number of persons registered as members of the Democratic Party in the report of registration issued by the Secretary of State in January of the presidential primary year.

The unselected candidates or uncommitted delegations shall meet the statewide signature requirements from each congressional district in order to be eligible for placement on the ballot in any one congressional district.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 28. Section 6328.3 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

6328.3. On or before the 50th day preceding the presidential primary, the Democratic State Central Committee shall transmit to the steering committee of each presidential candidate and uncommitted delegation a list of all persons who have filed a declaration of candidate for delegate pledged to that presidential candidate or uncommitted delegation.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 28.5. Section 6328.3 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

6328.3. On or before the third Tuesday in April, the Democratic State Central Committee shall transmit to the steering committee of each presidential candidate and uncommitted delegation a list of all persons who have filed a declaration of candidate for delegate pledged to that presidential candidate or uncommitted delegation.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 29. Section 6329 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

6329. On or before the 40th day preceding the presidential primary election, at 3 p.m., the caucus chairperson in each congressional district shall convene a caucus for the purpose of electing potential delegates and alternate delegates. The steering committee of each candidate or uncommitted delegation shall have sole authority to establish rules and procedures, including the naming of caucus chairpersons, by which the caucuses of that candidate or uncommitted delegation shall be conducted. The rules and procedures shall be uniform statewide, and in compliance with the Democratic State Central Committee's delegate selection and affirmative action plan. Each caucus shall elect a slate of delegate nominees in each congressional district pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 6305), ranked in the manner specified by this section. The slate shall be transmitted to the steering committee of each candidate and uncommitted delegation.

Each participant at each caucus shall reside in and be a registered Democrat of the congressional district of the caucus he or she attends and each shall sign a statement of support for that presidential candidate or uncommitted delegation. Within five days after the convening of the caucus, the steering committee of each candidate or uncommitted delegation shall rank the delegate candidates from the slate of delegate candidates provided by each caucus. The delegate candidate receiving the greatest number of votes shall be ranked as the first delegate candidate. The delegate candidate of the opposite sex as the first ranked delegate candidate receiving the greatest number of votes shall be ranked as the second delegate candidate. The remaining delegate candidates to be ranked shall continue to be alternated between sexes in the order of vote totals. Immediately, thereafter, the chairperson of a steering committee shall file with the Secretary of State a statement containing the names of delegate candidates in ranked order from each congressional district. In all cases, the slate for each congressional district shall be equal to the number of delegates and alternate delegates allotted to each congressional district pursuant to Section 6306.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 29.5. Section 6329 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

6329. On the first Sunday in May of the presidential primary year, at 3 p.m., the caucus chairperson in each congressional district shall convene a caucus for the purpose of electing potential delegates and alternate delegates. The steering committee of each candidate or uncommitted delegation shall have sole authority to establish rules and procedures, including the naming of caucus chairpersons, by which the caucuses of that candidate or uncommitted delegation shall be conducted. Such rules and procedures shall be uniform statewide, and in compliance with the Democratic State Central Committee's delegate selection and affirmative action plan. Each caucus shall elect a slate of delegate nominees in each congressional district pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 6305), ranked in the manner specified by this section. Such slate shall be transmitted to the steering committee of each candidate and uncommitted delegation.

Each participant at each caucus shall reside in and be a registered Democrat of the congressional district of the caucus he or she attends and each shall sign a statement of support for that presidential candidate or uncommitted delegation. Within five days after the convening of the caucus, the steering committee of each candidate or uncommitted delegation shall rank the delegate candidates from the slate of delegate candidates provided by each caucus. The delegate candidate receiving the greatest number of votes shall be ranked as the first delegate candidate. The delegate candidate of the opposite sex as the first ranked delegate candidate receiving the greatest number of votes shall be ranked as the second delegate candidate. The remaining delegate candidates to be ranked shall continue to be alternated between sexes in the order of vote totals. Immediately, thereafter, the chairperson of a steering committee shall file with the Secretary of State a statement containing the names of delegate candidates in ranked order from each congressional district. In all cases, the slate for each congressional district shall be equal to the number of delegates and alternate delegates allotted to each congressional district pursuant to Section 6306.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 30. Section 6342 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

6342. Circulators may obtain signatures to the nomination paper for which they were appointed, at any time not before 120 days nor after 75 days prior to the presidential primary election.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 30.5. Section 6342 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

6342. Circulators may obtain signatures to the nomination paper for which they were appointed, at any time not before February 1 nor after 75 days prior to the presidential primary election.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1998.

SEC. 31. Section 6360 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

6360. At least 59 days before a presidential primary election, the Secretary of State shall transmit to each county clerk a certified list containing the name of each candidate who is entitled to be voted for on the ballot at the presidential primary and the name of each chairperson of a steering committee of an uncommitted delegation who is to be voted for on the same ballot.

If no uncommitted delegation has qualified pursuant to Article 4

(commencing with Section 6315), the Secretary of State shall inform the county clerks to provide for an uncommitted delegate space on the ballot.

The certified list shall be in substantially the following form:

CHAPTER 829

An act to amend Section 4686 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to developmental disabilities.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4686 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

4686. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an in-home respite worker may perform gastrostomy care and feeding of clients of regional centers, after successful completion of training as provided in this section.

(b) In order to be eligible to receive training for purposes of this section, an in-home respite worker shall submit to the trainer proof of successful completion of a first aid course and successful completion of a cardiopulmonary resuscitation course within the preceding year.

(c) The training in gastrostomy care and feeding required under this section shall be provided by physicians or registered nurses through a gastroenterology or surgical center in an acute care hospital, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 1250 of the Health and Safety Code, which meets California Children Services' Program standards for centers for children with congenital gastrointestinal disorders, or comparable standards for adults, or by a physician or registered nurse who has been certified to provide training by the center.

(d) The gastroenterology or surgical center providing the training shall develop a training protocol which shall be submitted for approval to the State Department of Developmental Services. The department shall approve those protocols which specifically address all of the following:

(1) Care of the gastrostomy site.

(2) Performance of gastrostomy tube feeding.

(3) Identification of, and appropriate response to, problems and complications associated with gastrostomy care and feeding.

(4) Continuing education requirements.

(e) Training by the gastroenterology or surgical center, or the certified physician or registered nurse, shall be done in accordance with the approved training protocol. Training of in-home respite workers shall be specific to the individual needs of the developmentally disabled regional center client receiving the gastrostomy feeding and shall be in accordance with orders from the client's treating physician or surgeon.

(f) The primary care physician shall give assurances to the regional center that the patient's condition is stable prior to the regional center's purchasing in-home gastrostomy care for the client through an appropriately trained respite worker.

(g) Prior to the purchase of in-home gastrostomy care through a trained respite worker, the regional center shall do all of the following:

(1) Ensure that a nursing assessment of the client, performed by a registered nurse, is conducted to determine whether an in-home respite worker, licensed vocational nurse, or registered nurse may perform the services.

(2) Ensure that a nursing assessment of the home has been conducted to determine whether gastrostomy care and feeding can appropriately be provided in that setting.

(h) The agency providing in-home respite services shall do all of the following:

(1) Ensure adequate training of the in-home respite worker.

(2) Ensure that telephone backup and emergency consultation by a registered nurse or physician is available.

(3) Develop a plan for care of the gastrostomy site and for gastrostomy tube feeding to be carried out by the respite worker.

(4) Ensure that the in-home respite worker and the gastrostomy services provided by the respite worker are adequately supervised by a registered nurse.

(i) For purposes of this section, "in-home respite worker" means an individual employed by an agency which is vendored by a regional center to provide in-home respite services. These agencies include, but are not limited to, in-home respite services agencies, home health agencies, or other agencies providing these services.

CHAPTER 830

An act to amend Section 51.2 of the Civil Code, and to amend Section 12995 of, and to add Section 12955.9 to, the Government Code, relating to discrimination, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 51.2 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

51.2. (a) Section 51 shall be construed to prohibit a business establishment from discriminating in the sale or rental of housing based upon age. Where accommodations are designed to meet the physical and social needs of senior citizens, a business establishment may establish and preserve that housing for senior citizens, pursuant to Section 51.3, except housing as to which Section 51.3 is preempted by the prohibition in the federal Fair Housing Amendments Act of 1988 (P.L. 100-430) and implementing regulations against discrimination on the basis of familial status. Where accommodations constructed before February 8, 1982, meet the criteria for senior citizen housing specified in Section 51.4, a business establishment may establish and preserve that housing for senior citizens until January 1, 2000, in accordance with Section 51.4.

(b) This section is intended to clarify the holdings in Marina Point, Ltd. v. Wolfson (1982), 30 Cal. 3d 72, and O'Connor v. Village Green Owners Association (1983), 33 Cal. 3d 790.

SEC. 2. Section 12955.9 is added to the Government Code, to read:

12955.9. (a) The provisions of this part respecting discrimination on the basis of familial status do not apply to housing for older persons, as defined in subdivision (b).

(b) "Housing for older persons," for purposes of subdivision (a), means any of the following:

(1) Housing provided under any state or federal program that the United State Secretary of Housing and Urban Development determines is specifically designed and operated to assist elderly persons, as defined in the state or federal program.

(2) Housing that meets the standards for senior housing specified in Section 51.2 and Section 51.3 or 51.4 of the Civil Code, except housing as to which those provisions are preempted by the prohibition against familial status discrimination in the federal Fair Housing Amendments Act of 1988 (P.L. 100-430) and implementing regulations.

(3) Mobilehomes in mobilehome parks that meet the standards for "housing for older persons," as defined in the federal Fair Housing Amendments Act of 1988 (P.L. 100-430) and implementing regulations.

(c) In any action or proceeding involving the application of provisions of this part respecting discrimination on the basis of familial status, a person asserting the application of subdivision (a) to housing shall have the burden of proof to show that the housing is housing for older persons within the meaning of subdivision (b).

SEC. 3. Section 12995 of the Government Code is amended to read:

12995. Nothing contained in this part relating to discrimination in housing shall be construed to:

(a) Affect the title or other interest of a person who purchases, leases, or takes an encumbrance on a housing accommodation in good faith and without knowledge that the owner or lessor of the property has violated any provision of this part.

(b) Prohibit any postsecondary educational institution, whether private or public, from providing housing accommodations reserved for either male or female students so long as no individual person is denied equal access to housing accommodations, or from providing separate housing accommodations reserved primarily for married students or for students with minor dependents who reside with them.

(c) Prohibit selection based upon factors other than race, color, religion, sex, marital status, national origin, ancestry, familial status, disability, or other basis prohibited by the Unruh Civil Rights Act.

(d) Promote housing accommodations on a preferential or quota basis.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to clarify statutory provisions on housing discrimination without delay, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 831

An act to amend Section 50281 of the Government Code, and to amend Sections 439.1, 439.2, and 439.3 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 50281 of the Government Code is amended to read:

50281. Any contract entered into under this article shall contain the following provisions:

(a) The term of the contract shall be for a minimum period of 10 years.

(b) Where applicable, the contract shall provide the following:

(1) For the preservation of the qualified historical property and, when necessary, to restore and rehabilitate the property to conform to the rules and regulations of the Office of Historic Preservation of the Department of Parks and Recreation, the United States

Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation, and the State Historical Building Code.

(2) For the periodic examinations of the interior and exterior of the premises by the assessor, the Department of Parks and Recreation, and the State Board of Equalization as may be necessary to determine the owner's compliance with the contract.

(3) For it to be binding upon, and inure to the benefit of, all successors in interest of the owner. A successor in interest shall have the same rights and obligations under the contract as the original owner who entered into the contract.

(c) The owner or agent of an owner shall provide written notice of the contract to the Office of Historic Preservation within six months of entering into the contract.

SEC. 2. Section 439.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

439.1. For purposes of this article "restricted historical property" means qualified historical property, as defined in Section 50280.1 of the Government Code, that is subject to a historical property contract executed pursuant to Article 12 (commencing with Section 50280) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 1 of Title 5 of the Government Code. For purposes of this section, "qualified historical property" includes qualified historical improvements and any land on which the qualified historical improvements are situated, as specified in the historical property contract. If the historical property contract does not specify the land that is to be included, "qualified historical property" includes only that area of reasonable size that is used as a site for the historical improvements.

SEC. 3. Section 439.2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

439.2. When valuing enforceably restricted historical property, the county assessor shall not consider sales data on similar property, whether or not enforceably restricted, and shall value that restricted historical property by the capitalization of income method in the following manner:

(a) The annual income to be capitalized shall be determined as follows:

(1) Where sufficient rental information is available, the income shall be the fair rent that can be imputed to the restricted historical property being valued based upon rent actually received for the property by the owner and upon typical rentals received in the area for similar property in similar use where the owner pays the property tax. When the restricted historical property being valued is actually encumbered by a lease, any cash rent or its equivalent considered in determining the fair rent of the property shall be the amount for which the property would be expected to rent were the rental payment to be renegotiated in the light of current conditions, including applicable provisions under which the property is enforceably restricted.

(2) Where sufficient rental information is not available, the income shall be that which the restricted historical property being valued reasonably can be expected to yield under prudent management and subject to applicable provisions under which the property is enforceably restricted.

(3) If the parties to an instrument that enforceably restricts the property stipulate therein an amount that constitutes the minimum annual income to be capitalized, then the income to be capitalized shall not be less than the amount so stipulated.

For purposes of this section, income shall be determined in accordance with rules and regulations issued by the board and with this section and shall be the difference between revenue and expenditures. Revenue shall be the amount of money or money's worth, including any cash rent or its equivalent, that the property can be expected to yield to an owner-operator annually on the average from any use of the property permitted under the terms by which the property is enforceably restricted.

Expenditures shall be any outlay or average annual allocation of money or money's worth that can be fairly charged against the revenue expected to be received during the period used in computing the revenue. Those expenditures to be charged against revenue shall be only those which are ordinary and necessary in the production and maintenance of the revenue for that period. Expenditures shall not include depletion charges, debt retirement, interest on funds invested in the property, property taxes, corporation income taxes, or corporation franchise taxes based on income.

(b) The capitalization rate to be used in valuing owner-occupied single family dwellings pursuant to this article shall not be derived from sales data and shall be the sum of the following components:

(1) An interest component to be determined by the board and announced no later than September 1 of the year preceding the assessment year and that was the yield rate equal to the effective rate on conventional mortgages as determined by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, rounded to the nearest ¼ percent.

(2) A historical property risk component of 4 percent.

(3) A component for property taxes that shall be a percentage equal to the estimated total tax rate applicable to the property for the assessment year times the assessment ratio.

(4) A component for amortization of the improvements that shall be a percentage equivalent to the reciprocal of the remaining life.

(c) The capitalization rate to be used in valuing all other restricted historical property pursuant to this article shall not be derived from sales data and shall be the sum of the following components:

(1) An interest component to be determined by the board and announced no later than September 1 of the year preceding the assessment year and that was the yield rate equal to the effective rate on conventional mortgages as determined by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, rounded to the nearest ¼ percent.

(2) A historical property risk component of 2 percent.

(3) A component for property taxes that shall be a percentage equal to the estimated total tax rate applicable to the property for the assessment year times the assessment ratio.

(4) A component for amortization of the improvements that shall be a percentage equivalent to the reciprocal of the remaining life.

(d) Unless a party to an instrument that creates an enforceable restriction expressly prohibits the valuation, the valuation resulting from the capitalization of income method described in this section shall not exceed the lesser of either the valuation that would have resulted by calculation under Section 110, or the valuation that would have resulted by calculation under Section 110.1, as though the property was not subject to an enforceable restriction in the base year.

(e) The value of the restricted historical property shall be the quotient of the income determined as provided in subdivision (a) divided by the capitalization rate determined as provided in subdivision (b) or (c).

(f) The ratio prescribed in Section 401 shall be applied to the value of the property determined in subdivision (d) to obtain its assessed value.

SEC. 4. Section 439.3 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

439.3. Notwithstanding any provision of Section 439.2 to the contrary, if either the county or city or the owner of restricted historical property subject to contract has served notice of nonrenewal as provided in Section 50282 of the Government Code, the county assessor shall value that restricted historical property as provided in this section.

(a) Following the hearing conducted pursuant to Section 50285 of the Government Code, subdivision (b) shall apply until the termination of the period for which the restricted historical property is enforceably restricted.

(b) The board or assessor in each year until the termination of the period for which the property is enforceably restricted shall do all of the following:

(1) Determine the full cash value of the property pursuant to Section 110.1. If the property is not subject to Section 110.1 when the restriction expires, the value shall be determined pursuant to Section 110 as if the property were free of contractual restriction. If the property will be subject to a use for which this chapter provides a special restricted assessment, the value of the property shall be determined as if it were subject to the new restriction.

(2) Determine the value of the property by the capitalization of income method as provided in Section 439.2 and without regard to the fact that a notice of nonrenewal or cancellation has occurred.

(3) Subtract the value determined in paragraph (2) of this subdivision by capitalization of income from the full cash value determined in paragraph (1).

(4) Using the rate announced by the board pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 439.2, discount the amount obtained in paragraph (3) for the number of years remaining until the termination of the period for which the property is enforceably restricted.

(5) Determine the value of the property by adding the value determined by the capitalization of income method as provided in paragraph (2) and the value obtained in paragraph (4).

(6) Apply the ratios prescribed in Section 401 to the value of the property determined in paragraph (5) to obtain its assessed value.

SEC. 5. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 6. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 832

An act to amend Section 3103 of, and to add Section 3104 to, the Family Code, relating to family law.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3103 of the Family Code, as added by Section 116.78 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

3103. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in a proceeding described in Section 3021, the court may grant reasonable visitation to a grandparent of a minor child of a party to the proceeding if the court determines that visitation by the grandparent is in the best interest of the child.

(b) If a protective order as defined in Section 6218 has been directed to the grandparent during the pendency of the proceeding, the court shall consider whether the best interest of the child requires that visitation by the grandparent be denied.

(c) The petitioner shall give notice of the petition to each of the parents of the child, any stepparent, and any person who has physical custody of the child, by certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, to the person's last known address, or to the attorneys of record of the parties to the proceeding.

(d) There is a rebuttable presumption affecting the burden of proof that the visitation of a grandparent is not in the best interest of a minor child if the child's parents agree that the grandparent should not be granted visitation rights.

(e) Visitation rights may not be ordered under this section if that would conflict with a right of custody or visitation of a birth parent who is not a party to the proceeding.

(f) Visitation ordered pursuant to this section shall not create a basis for or against a change of residence of the child, but shall be one of the factors for the court to consider in ordering a change of residence.

(g) When a court orders grandparental visitation pursuant to this section, the court in its discretion may, based upon the relevant circumstances of the case:

(1) Allocate the percentage of grandparental visitation between the parents for purposes of the calculation of child support pursuant to the statewide uniform guideline (Article 2 (commencing with Section 4050) of Chapter 2 of Part 2 of Division 9).

(2) Notwithstanding Sections 3930 and 3951, order a parent or grandparent to pay to the other, an amount for the support of the child or grandchild. For purposes of this paragraph, "support" means costs related to visitation such as any of the following:

(A) Transportation.

(B) Provision of basic expenses for the child or grandchild, such as medical expenses, day care costs, and other necessities.

(h) As used in this section, "birth parent" means "birth parent" as defined in Section 8512.

SEC. 2. Section 3104 is added to the Family Code, to read:

3104. (a) On petition to the court by a grandparent of a minor child, the court may grant reasonable visitation rights to the grandparent if the court does both of the following:

(2) Balances the interest of the child in having visitation with the grandparent against the right of the parents to exercise their parental authority.

(b) A petition for visitation under this section may not be filed while the natural or adoptive parents are married, unless one or more of the following circumstances exist:

(1) The parents are currently living separately and apart on a permanent or indefinite basis.

(2) One of the parents has been absent for more than one month without the other spouse knowing the whereabouts of the absent spouse.

(3) One of the parents joins in the petition with the grandparents.

(4) The child is not residing with either parent.

At any time that a change of circumstances occurs such that none of these circumstances exist, the parent or parents may move the court to terminate grandparental visitation and the court shall grant the termination.

(c) The petitioner shall give notice of the petition to each of the parents of the child, any stepparent, and any person who has physical custody of the child, by personal service pursuant to Section 415.10 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(d) If a protective order as defined in Section 6218 has been directed to the grandparent during the pendency of the proceeding, the court shall consider whether the best interest of the child requires that any visitation by that grandparent should be denied.

(e) There is a rebuttable presumption that the visitation of a grandparent is not in the best interest of a minor child if the natural or adoptive parents agree that the grandparent should not be granted visitation rights.

(f) There is a rebuttable presumption affecting the burden of proof that the visitation of a grandparent is not in the best interest of a minor child if the parent who has been awarded sole legal and physical custody of the child in another proceeding or with whom the child resides if there is currently no operative custody order objects to visitation by the grandparent.

(g) Visitation rights may not be ordered under this section if that would conflict with a right of custody or visitation of a birth parent who is not a party to the proceeding.

(h) Visitation ordered pursuant to this section shall not create a basis for or against a change of residence of the child, but shall be one of the factors for the court to consider in ordering a change of residence.

(i) When a court orders grandparental visitation pursuant to this section, the court in its discretion may, based upon the relevant circumstances of the case:

(1) Allocate the percentage of grandparental visitation between the parents for purposes of the calculation of child support pursuant to the statewide uniform guideline (Article 2 (commencing with Section 4050) of Chapter 2 of Part 2 of Division 9).

(2) Notwithstanding Sections 3930 and 3951, order a parent or grandparent to pay to the other, an amount for the support of the child or grandchild. For purposes of this paragraph, "support" means costs related to visitation such as any of the following:

(A) Transportation.

(B) Provision of basic expenses for the child or grandchild, such as medical expenses, day care costs, and other necessities.

(j) As used in this section, "birth parent" means "birth parent" as defined in Section 8512.

CHAPTER 833

An act to add Article 4.1 (commencing with Section 17759) to Chapter 22 of Part 10 of the Education Code, relating to school facilities.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 4.1 (commencing with Section 17759) is added to Chapter 22 of Part 10 of the Education Code, to read:

Article 4.1. Alternative Use of Apportionments

17759. The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

(a) In many areas of the state, overcrowding in the schools has created a need for new school facilities in neighborhoods where little or no vacant land exists. School districts are compelled, therefore, to acquire property that already has been developed with structures, then demolish these structures and construct classroom space.

(b) With an estimated statewide need for school facilities within the next five years that exceeds fourteen billion dollars ($14,000,000,000), neither state nor local funds reasonably can be anticipated to meet this need.

(c) In many of the areas having overcrowded schools, a significant supply exists of vacant space in structures meeting current building codes.

(d) Use of this vacant space by schools can be a cost-effective means of providing classroom space for the students of California.

(e) This chapter and Section 4-306 of Part 1 of Title 24 of the California Code of Regulations authorize the reconstruction of existing commercial buildings for school facility purposes.

(f) No existing commercial building shall be considered for reconstruction for school facility classroom purposes unless it was designed and constructed according to the standards established in the 1976 Uniform Building Code or subsequent editions of that code.

17759.1. In a manner that is consistent with this chapter and the California Code of Regulations, a school district that is eligible for an apportionment for project funding for new construction under this chapter may use that apportionment for the acquisition and conversion of an existing commercial building to school facility purposes.

17759.2. The State Allocation Board in conjunction with the office of the State Architect shall advise all school districts in the state of the existence of the procedure for reconstructing existing commercial buildings for school facility purposes and shall upon request assist in the interpretation and successful implementation of the pertinent regulations in the California Code of Regulations.

CHAPTER 834

An act to add Sections 76361 and 82322 to the Education Code, and to add Section 545.1 to the Vehicle Code, relating to schoolbuses, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 76361 is added to the Education Code, to read:

76361. (a) Notwithstanding subdivisions (d), (e), (f), (g), and (h) of Section 76360, the governing board of the Butte Community College District may require students in attendance and employees at a campus of the district to pay a fee for purposes of partially or fully recovering transportation costs incurred by the district or of reducing fares for services provided by common carriers or municipally owned transit systems to these students and employees, as provided in subdivision (b).

(b) Fees authorized by subdivision (a) for transportation services may be required to be paid only by students and employees using the services, or, in the alternative, by either of the following groups of people:

(1) Upon the favorable vote of a majority of the students and a majority of the employees of a campus of the district, who voted at an election on the question of whether or not the governing board should require all students and employees at the campus to pay a fee for transportation services for a period of time to be determined by the governing board of the district, the fees may be required to be paid by all students and all employees of the campus of the community college district.

(2) Upon the favorable vote of a majority of the students at a campus of the district, who voted at an election on the question of whether or not the governing board should require all students to pay a fee for transportation services for a period of time to be determined by the governing board of the district, the fees may be required to be paid by all students at the campus of the community college district. However, the employees shall not be entitled to use the services.

(3) When an election is held pursuant to either paragraph (1) or (2), the governing board shall, at the time of the election, provide every voter with notice that, if approved, the fee shall continue in effect until terminated by the governing board.

(c) If fees are required to be paid by all students and employees or all students as provided in paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (b) for a period of time to be determined by the governing board of the district, those fees may be continued for additional periods by the governing board maintaining the campus.

(d) If a fee is required to be paid by students for transportation services, the governing board may adopt rules and regulations governing the exemption of low-income students from required fees, and may adopt rules and regulations that provide for the exemption of other persons from the fee.

(e) The total fees to be fixed periodically by the governing board pursuant to this section shall not exceed the amount necessary to reimburse the district for transportation costs incurred by the district in providing the transportation service. The sum of the fee authorized pursuant to this section for transportation services and the fee authorized pursuant to Section 76360 for transportation services and parking services shall not exceed sixty dollars ($60) per semester or thirty dollars ($30) per intersession, or the proportionate equivalent for part-time enrollment.

(f) This section applies only to the Butte Community College District.

SEC. 2. Section 82322 is added to the Education Code, to read:

82322. (a) Notwithstanding Section 82321, a motor vehicle is not a schoolbus if it is operated for the purpose of transporting any pupil to or from a community college or to or from activities at that college, irrespective of the age of the pupil or the grade level of the pupil, if the pupil is a current enrollee in classes of the college providing the transportation.

(b) A driver of a motor vehicle that meets the criteria established by subdivision (a) shall escort pupils as required by paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 22112 of the Vehicle Code.

(c) This section applies only to the Butte Community College District.

SEC. 3. Section 545.1 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

545.1. (a) Notwithstanding Section 545, a motor vehicle is not a schoolbus if it is operated for the purpose of transporting any pupil to or from a community college or to or from activities at that college, irrespective of the age of the pupil or the grade level of the pupil, if the pupil is a current enrollee in classes of the college providing the transportation.

(b) A driver of a motor vehicle that meets the criteria established by subdivision (a) shall escort pupils as required by paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 22112 of the Vehicle Code.

(c) This section applies only to the Butte Community College District.

SEC. 4. Due to the unique circumstances concerning the transportation of students by the Butte Community College District, the Legislature finds and declares that a general statute cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to avoid any delay or disruption with respect to the education programs that require transportation of students by the Butte Community College District, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 835

An act to add Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1797.90) to Title 1.7 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code, relating to warranties.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1797.90) is added to Title 1.7 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code, to read:

CHAPTER 5. HOME ROOF WARRANTIES

1797.90. This chapter shall apply to all contracts and warranties for roofing materials used on a residential structure, including, but not limited to, a manufactured home or mobilehome, and to all contracts and warranties for the installation, repair, or replacement of all or any portion of the roof of a residential structure, including, but not limited to, a manufactured home or mobilehome.

1797.91. Any contract for roofing materials, or for the installation, repair, or replacement of all or any portion of the roof of a residential structure, including, but not limited to, a manufactured home or mobilehome, shall be in writing if the contract includes any warranty of the materials or workmanship that extends for any period of time beyond completion of the work.

1797.92. For any contract subject to this chapter that is entered into on or after January 1, 1994, the warranty obligations shall inure to the benefit of, and shall be directly enforceable by, all subsequent purchasers and transferees of the residential structure, without limitation, unless the contract contains a clear and conspicuous provision limiting transferability of the warranty.

1797.93. If any warranty subject to this chapter, uses the term "lifetime," "life," or a similar representation to describe the duration of the warranty, then the warranty shall disclose with such clarity and prominence as will be noticed and understood by prospective purchasers, the life to which the representation refers.

1797.94. Any warranty subject to this chapter, shall inure to the benefit of, and shall be directly enforceable by, all subsequent purchasers and transferees of the residential structure, without limitation, unless the warranty contains a provision limiting transferability of the warranty. A provision limiting transferability shall be set forth at the top of the first page of the warranty in 14-point boldface type, and shall be enclosed in a rectangular box in at least 4-point type.

(b) Any disclosure required by Section 1797.93 shall also be set forth at the top of the first page of the warranty in 14-point boldface type, and shall be enclosed in a rectangular box in at least 4-point type. This disclosure may be included in a disclosure required under subdivision (a).

1797.95. A warrantor who provides roof warranties in multiple states may standardize the warranty to meet warranty requirements of other states. However, those standardized warranties shall meet requirements which are no less than those imposed by this chapter.

1797.96. Where a warranty subject to this chapter is provided for the benefit of the purchaser of a newly constructed residential structure, the seller shall provide the warranty disclosures required by this chapter to the purchaser prior to the close of escrow. No transfer shall be invalidated for failure to comply with this section.

CHAPTER 836

An act to amend Section 3423 of the Civil Code, and to amend Section 526 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to remedies.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3423 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

3423. An injunction may not be granted:

(a) To stay a judicial proceeding pending at the commencement of the action in which the injunction is demanded, unless this restraint is necessary to prevent a multiplicity of proceedings.

(b) To stay proceedings in a court of the United States.

(c) To stay proceedings in another state upon a judgment of a court of that state.

(d) To prevent the execution of a public statute, by officers of the law, for the public benefit.

(e) To prevent the breach of a contract the performance of which would not be specifically enforced, other than a contract in writing for the rendition of personal services from one to another where the promised service is of a special, unique, unusual, extraordinary, or intellectual character, which gives it peculiar value, the loss of which cannot be reasonably or adequately compensated in damages in an action at law, and where the compensation for the personal services is as follows:

(1) As to contracts entered into on or before December 31, 1993, the minimum compensation provided in the contract for the personal services shall be at the rate of six thousand dollars ($6,000) per annum.

(2) As to contracts entered into on or after January 1, 1994, the criteria of subparagraph (A) or (B), as follows, are satisfied:

(A) The compensation is as follows:

(i) The minimum compensation provided in the contract shall be at the rate of nine thousand dollars ($9,000) per annum for the first year of the contract, twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) per annum for the second year of the contract, and fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) per annum for the third to seventh years, inclusive, of the contract.

(ii) In addition, after the third year of the contract, there shall actually have been paid for the services through and including the contract year during which the injunctive relief is sought, over and above the minimum contractual compensation specified in clause (i), the amount of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) per annum during the fourth and fifth years of the contract, and thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) per annum during the sixth and seventh years of the contract. As a condition to petitioning for an injunction, amounts payable under this clause may be paid at any time prior to seeking injunctive relief.

(B) The aggregate compensation actually received for the services provided under a contract that does not meet the criteria of subparagraph (A), is at least 10 times the applicable aggregate minimum amount specified in clauses (i) and (ii) of subparagraph (A) through and including the contract year during which the injunctive relief is sought. As a condition to petitioning for an injunction, amounts payable under this subparagraph may be paid at any time prior to seeking injunctive relief.

(3) Compensation paid in any contract year in excess of the minimums specified in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (2) shall apply to reduce the compensation otherwise required to be paid under those provisions in any subsequent contract years.

However, an injunction may be granted to prevent the breach of a contract entered into between any nonprofit cooperative corporation or association and a member or stockholder thereof in respect to any provision regarding the sale or delivery to the corporation or association of the products produced or acquired by the member or stockholder.

(f) To prevent the exercise of a public or private office, in a lawful manner, by the person in possession.

(g) To prevent a legislative act by a municipal corporation.

SEC. 2. Section 526 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

526. (a) An injunction may be granted in the following cases:

(1) When it appears by the complaint that the plaintiff is entitled to the relief demanded, and the relief, or any part thereof, consists in restraining the commission or continuance of the act complained of, either for a limited period or perpetually.

(2) When it appears by the complaint or affidavits that the commission or continuance of some act during the litigation would produce waste, or great or irreparable injury, to a party to the action.

(3) When it appears, during the litigation, that a party to the action is doing, or threatens, or is about to do, or is procuring or suffering to be done, some act in violation of the rights of another party to the action respecting the subject of the action, and tending to render the judgment ineffectual.

(4) When pecuniary compensation would not afford adequate relief.

(5) Where it would be extremely difficult to ascertain the amount of compensation which would afford adequate relief.

(6) Where the restraint is necessary to prevent a multiplicity of judicial proceedings.

(7) Where the obligation arises from a trust.

(b) An injunction cannot be granted in the following cases:

(1) To stay a judicial proceeding pending at the commencement of the action in which the injunction is demanded, unless the restraint is necessary to prevent a multiplicity of proceedings.

(2) To stay proceedings in a court of the United States.

(3) To stay proceedings in another state upon a judgment of a court of that state.

(4) To prevent the execution of a public statute by officers of the law for the public benefit.

(5) To prevent the breach of a contract the performance of which would not be specifically enforced, other than a contract in writing for the rendition of personal services from one to another where the promised service is of a special, unique, unusual, extraordinary, or intellectual character, which gives it peculiar value, the loss of which cannot be reasonably or adequately compensated in damages in an action at law, and where the compensation for the personal services is as follows:

(A) As to contracts entered into on or before December 31, 1993, the minimum compensation provided in the contract for the personal services shall be at the rate of six thousand dollars ($6,000) per annum.

(B) As to contracts entered into on or after January 1, 1994, the criteria of clause (i) or (ii), as follows, are satisfied:

(i) The compensation is as follows:

(I) The minimum compensation provided in the contract shall be at the rate of nine thousand dollars ($9,000) per annum for the first year of the contract, twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) per annum for the second year of the contract, and fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) per annum for the third to seventh years, inclusive, of the contract.

(II) In addition, after the third year of the contract, there shall actually have been paid for the services through and including the contract year during which the injunctive relief is sought, over and above the minimum contractual compensation specified in subclause (I), the amount of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) per annum during the fourth and fifth years of the contract, and thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) per annum during the sixth and seventh years of the contract. As a condition to petitioning for an injunction, amounts payable under this clause may be paid at any time prior to seeking injunctive relief.

(ii) The aggregate compensation actually received for the services provided under a contract that does not meet the criteria of subparagraph (A), is at least 10 times the applicable aggregate minimum amount specified in subclauses (I) and (II) of clause (i) through and including the contract year during which the injunctive relief is sought. As a condition to petitioning for an injunction, amounts payable under this subparagraph may be paid at any time prior to seeking injunctive relief.

(C) Compensation paid in any contract year in excess of the minimums specified in clauses (i) and (ii) of subparagraph (B) shall apply to reduce the compensation otherwise required to be paid under those provisions in any subsequent contract years. However, an injunction may be granted to prevent the breach of a contract entered into between any nonprofit cooperative corporation or association and a member or stockholder thereof, in respect to any provision regarding the sale or delivery to the corporation or association of the products produced or acquired by the member or stockholder.

(6) To prevent the exercise of a public or private office, in a lawful manner, by the person in possession.

(7) To prevent a legislative act by a municipal corporation.

CHAPTER 837

An act to add Section 1033.1 to the Penal Code, relating to trials, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1033.1 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

1033.1. In any criminal action or proceeding in which the place of trial has been changed for any of the reasons set forth in Section 1033, the court, upon its own motion or upon the motion of any party, may return the action or proceeding to the original place of trial if both of the following conditions apply:

(a) The action or proceeding is pending before the court after reversal of the original judgment by the appellate court.

(b) The court finds that the conditions which originally required the order to change venue, as set forth in Section 1033, no longer apply. Prior to making such a finding, the court shall conduct a hearing, upon notice to all parties. At the hearing, the burden shall be on the prosecution to establish that the conditions which originally required the order to change venue no longer apply, unless the defendant and his or her attorney consent to the return of the action or proceeding to the original place of trial.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the Legislature finds and declares that there are savings as well as costs in this act which, in the aggregate, do not result in additional net costs. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order that counties may benefit immediately from the fiscal savings provided by this bill, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 838

An act to amend Section 18512 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxpayer contributions.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 18512 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18512. (a) All money transferred to the California Fund for Senior Citizens pursuant to Section 18511, upon appropriation by the Legislature, shall be allocated as follows:

(1) To the Franchise Tax Board and the Controller for reimbursement of all costs incurred by the Franchise Tax Board and the Controller in connection with their duties under this article.

(2) The balance to the California Commission on Aging for allocation as follows:

(A) To the California Senior Legislature, in the 1988–89 fiscal year, and each succeeding fiscal year thereafter, the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000), or the balance of the fund if less than that amount remains in the fund, for the conduct of sessions of the California Senior Legislature.

(B) The balance, if any, but not to exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000), to the California Senior Legislature for its ongoing activities on behalf of older persons.

Thirty-three thousand dollars ($33,000) of the balance allocated under this subparagraph, or the entire balance allocated under this subparagraph if the balance is less than thirty-three thousand dollars ($33,000), shall be specifically allocated annually for the conduct of elections of members of the California Senior Legislature. That amount may be carried over from fiscal years in which there are no elections and accumulated, in an amount not to exceed sixty-six thousand dollars ($66,000), for use in election years, and any portion of that amount not used in an election year shall be reallocated pursuant to subparagraph (C).

(C) The balance, if any, to the commission for senior citizen direct service programs through contracts with the Department of Aging and Long-Term Care.

(b) All moneys allocated pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) may be carried over from the year in which they were received and encumbered in any following year.

(c) The amount allocated pursuant to subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) may be adjusted annually, as determined by the Department of Finance, to reflect changes in salary adjustments, price increases, and travel reimbursement adjustments included for all state agencies in the annual Budget Act.

(d) The funds allocated to the commission for the purposes of funding the activities of the California Senior Legislature shall be spent pursuant to an agreement that is approved by both the commission and the Joint Rules Committee of the California Senior Legislature no later than March 1, 1994, and whose terms are consistent with the by-laws of the California Senior Legislature, established through a majority vote of the California Senior Legislature.

CHAPTER 839

An act relating to economic development policy.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. It is the intent of the Legislature that the California Office of Trade Policy and Research work with other appropriate state agencies to develop a foreign market development strategy, to target industries for foreign market development assistance that have high levels of economic activity and which show the greatest potential for success and highest level of job creation, and to develop an agency strategy for identifying and creating emerging markets for California products. The secretary shall include initial policy and implementation of this strategy as part of the secretary's first annual report to the Governor and the Legislature.

SEC. 2. It is also the intent of the Legislature that the California Export Finance Office seek matching federal funds for the purpose of defense conversion through the Defense Deversification, Conversion and Economic Adjustment Program of the federal Department of Commerce and Defense. The California Export Finance Office shall make a quarterly report to the Export Finance Board on the selection of projects to receive financing assistance on the basis of defense conversion criteria. These export-related projects shall be either classified defense conversion projects or technology applications, or qualified unemployed defense industry experienced personnel involved in one-year startups of new businesses, or companies that employ displaced defense related personnel. Approval of financing assistance for defense conversion shall require unanimous approval of the three-person credit committee.

CHAPTER 840

An act to add Section 494 to the Business and Professions Code, relating to business and professions.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 494 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

494. (a) A board or an administrative law judge sitting alone, as provided in subdivision (h), may, upon petition, issue an interim order suspending any licentiate or imposing license restrictions, including, but not limited to, mandatory biological fluid testing, supervision, or remedial training. The petition shall include affidavits that demonstrate to the satisfaction of the board both of the following:

(1) The licentiate has engaged in acts or omissions constituting a violation of a provision of this code or has been convicted of a crime substantially related to licensed activity.

(2) Permitting the licentiate to continue to engage in the licensed activity, or permitting the licentiate to continue in the licensed activity without restrictions, would endanger the public health, safety, or welfare.

(b) No interim order provided for in this section shall be issued without notice to the licentiate unless it appears from the petition and supporting documents that serious injury would result to the public before the matter could be heard on notice.

(c) Except as provided in subdivision (b), the licentiate shall be given at least 15 days' notice of the hearing on the petition for an interim order. The notice shall include documents submitted to the board in support of the petition. If the order was initially issued without notice as provided in subdivision (b), the licentiate shall be entitled to a hearing on the petition within 20 days of the issuance of the interim order without notice. The licentiate shall be given notice of the hearing within two days after issuance of the initial interim order, and shall receive all documents in support of the petition. The failure of the board to provide a hearing within 20 days following the issuance of the interim order without notice, unless the licentiate waives his or her right to the hearing, shall result in the dissolution of the interim order by operation of law.

(d) At the hearing on the petition for an interim order, the licentiate may:

(1) Be represented by counsel.

(2) Have a record made of the proceedings, copies of which shall be available to the licentiate upon payment of costs computed in accordance with the provisions for transcript costs for judicial review contained in Section 11523 of the Government Code.

(3) Present affidavits and other documentary evidence.

(4) Present oral argument.

(e) The board, or an administrative law judge sitting alone as provided in subdivision (h), shall issue a decision on the petition for interim order within five business days following submission of the matter. The standard of proof required to obtain an interim order pursuant to this section shall be a preponderance of the evidence standard. If the interim order was previously issued without notice, the board shall determine whether the order shall remain in effect, be dissolved, or modified.

(f) The board shall file an accusation within 15 days of the issuance of an interim order. In the case of an interim order issued without notice, the time shall run from the date of the order issued after the noticed hearing. If the licentiate files a Notice of Defense, the hearing shall be held within 30 days of the agency's receipt of the Notice of Defense. A decision shall be rendered on the accusation no later than 30 days after submission of the matter. Failure to comply with any of the requirements in this subdivision shall dissolve the interim order by operation of law.

(g) Interim orders shall be subject to judicial review pursuant to Section 1094.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure and shall be heard only in the superior court in and for the Counties of Sacramento, San Francisco, Los Angeles, or San Diego. The review of an interim order shall be limited to a determination of whether the board abused its discretion in the issuance of the interim order. Abuse of discretion is established if the respondent board has not proceeded in the manner required by law, or if the court determines that the interim order is not supported by substantial evidence in light of the whole record.

(h) The board may, in its sole discretion, delegate the hearing on any petition for an interim order to an administrative law judge in the Office of Administrative Hearings. If the board hears the noticed petition itself, an administrative law judge shall preside at the hearing, rule on the admission and exclusion of evidence, and advise the board on matters of law. The board shall exercise all other powers relating to the conduct of the hearing but may delegate any or all of them to the administrative law judge. When the petition has been delegated to an administrative law judge, he or she shall sit alone and exercise all of the powers of the board relating to the conduct of the hearing. A decision issued by an administrative law judge sitting alone shall be final when it is filed with the board. If the administrative law judge issues an interim order without notice, he or she shall preside at the noticed hearing, unless unavailable, in which case another administrative law judge may hear the matter. The decision of the administrative law judge sitting alone on the petition for an interim order is final, subject only to judicial review in accordance with subdivision (g).

(i) Failure to comply with an interim order issued pursuant to subdivision (a) or (b) shall constitute a separate cause for disciplinary action against any licentiate, and may be heard at, and as a part of, the noticed hearing provided for in subdivision (f). Allegations of noncompliance with the interim order may be filed at any time prior to the rendering of a decision on the accusation. Violation of the interim order is established upon proof that the licentiate was on notice of the interim order and its terms, and that the order was in effect at the time of the violation. The finding of a violation of an interim order made at the hearing on the accusation shall be reviewed as a part of any review of a final decision of the agency.

If the interim order issued by the agency provides for anything less than a complete suspension of the licentiate from his or her business or profession, and the licentiate violates the interim order prior to the hearing on the accusation provided for in subdivision (f), the agency may, upon notice to the licentiate and proof of violation, modify or expand the interim order.

(j) A plea or verdict of guilty or a conviction after a plea of nolo contendere is deemed to be a conviction within the meaning of this section. A certified record of the conviction shall be conclusive evidence of the fact that the conviction occurred. A board may take action under this section notwithstanding the fact that an appeal of the conviction may be taken.

(k) The interim orders provided for by this section shall be in addition to, and not a limitation on, the authority to seek injunctive relief provided in any other provision of law.

(l) In the case of a board, a petition for an interim order may be filed by the executive officer. In the case of a bureau or program, a petition may be filed by the chief or program administrator, as the case may be.

(m) "Board," as used in this section, shall include an allied health agency within the jurisdiction of the Medical Board of California. Board shall also include the Osteopathic Medical Board of California and the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners. The provisions of this section shall not be applicable to the Medical Board of California, the Board of Podiatric Medicine, or the State Athletic Commission.

CHAPTER 841

An act to add Article 4.5 (commencing with Section 53506) to Chapter 3 of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5 of the Government Code, relating to bonds.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 4.5 (commencing with Section 53506) is added to Chapter 3 of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5 of the Government Code, to read:

Article 4.5. General Obligation Bonds

53506. (a) This article is full authority for the issuance of bonds or refunding bonds by any city, county, city and county, school district, community college district, or special district, secured by the levy of ad valorem taxes, authorized in accordance with the Constitution and, in the case of a chartered city, county, or city and county, with the charter thereof, or in the case of a special district, with the district's principal act.

(b) This article is intended to provide a complete additional and alternative method for doing the things authorized by this article. The powers conferred by this article are supplemental and additional to the powers conferred by any other laws, and the limitations imposed by this article do not affect the powers conferred by any other law.

53506.5. This article shall be liberally construed to promote its objectives. If inconsistent with any other law, this article shall be controlling.

53507. As used in this article, the following terms shall have the meanings assigned to them in this section.

(a) "Bonds" means bonds, notes, warrants, or other evidence of indebtedness payable, both principal and interest, from the proceeds of ad valorem taxes that may be levied without limitation as to rate or amount upon property subject to taxation by the legislative body.

(b) "Issuer" means a city, county, city and county, school district, community college district, or special district, secured by the levy of ad valorem taxes, authorized to issue bonds pursuant to this article.

(c) "Legislative body" means the governing body of the issuer.

53507.5. (a) The legislative body may, by resolution, provide for the issuance of bonds pursuant to this article.

(b) The resolution shall state that the bonds are being issued pursuant to this article.

53508. The resolution authorizing any bonds or any issue of bonds may provide for any of the following:

(a) The form of the bonds to be issued as serial bonds, or sinking fund bonds, with serial or term maturities, or any combination thereof.

(b) The number of series in which the bonds are to be issued.

(c) The form of the bonds as coupon, registered, or book entry.

(d) The interest on the bonds, either fixed or variable, and the interest rate or rates, payable at the times and in the manner specified therein, and whether all or part of any series of the bonds shall be issued as zero coupon or capital appreciation bonds; provided, however, that under no conditions may the annual interest rate, whether fixed or variable, exceed the maximum rate permitted by Section 53531 or 53532.

(e) The time, medium, and place or places of payment.

(f) The time or times of maturity of the bonds, not exceeding 40 years from their respective dates.

(g) The date or dates to be borne by the bonds of each series.

(h) The denomination of the bonds.

(i) The registration and conversion privileges of the bonds.

(j) The manner in which the bonds are to be executed.

(k) The terms of redemption, with or without premium.

(l) Other terms and conditions of the bonds and of their execution, issuance, and sale deemed necessary and appropriate by the legislative body.

53508.3. (a) No bond shall be subject to mandatory tender for purchase or redemption prior to its fixed maturity date unless it contains a recital to that effect.

(b) Any bond protected by its terms or by the terms of this section from mandatory tender for purchase or redemption prior to its fixed maturity date or for a specified period of time after issuance, may specify terms upon which the issuer may sell or transfer its right to require the bond to be tendered for purchase or redemption prior to its fixed maturity date.

53508.5. (a) Annual payments of the principal and interest on an issue of bonds shall be structured to amortize the bonds in a manner whereby the maximum annual debt service payment on the bonds does not exceed the minimum annual debt service payment on the bonds by more than 10 percent. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subdivision, a deviation in annual debt service in excess of 10 percent is allowable if the excess deviation is the result of an accelerated repayment of principal on the bonds.

(b) The restrictions set forth in subdivision (a) shall not apply if, as a result of the issuance of the particular bond issue, the overall outstanding general obligation bond debt of the issuer will be amortized in a more level manner.

53508.7. (a) The bonds shall be sold at a public sale and at a price at, above, or below par, as the legislative body determines.

(b) Any bonds sold at a discount below the par value of the bonds shall be sold in compliance with the provisions of Section 53532.

53509. (a) Any bond issued under the authority of this article may be refunded pursuant to this or any other applicable law. Any bond may be refunded pursuant to this article regardless of whether the bond or the legislation under which its issuance was authorized explicitly provides that the bond may be refunded.

(b) Refunding bonds shall not be issued if the total net interest cost to maturity on the refunding bonds plus the principal amount of the refunding bonds exceeds the total net interest cost to maturity on the bonds to be refunded plus the principal amount of the bonds to be refunded. Subject to that limitation, the principal amount of the refunding bonds may be more than, less than, or the same as the principal amount of the bonds to be refunded.

53509.3. Nothing in this article shall limit the authority of the legislative body to enter into any contract in connection with the issuance of the bonds which it is permitted by Section 5922 to enter into.

CHAPTER 842

An act to amend Sections 14538 and 14571 of the Public Resources Code, relating to beverage containers.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14538 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

14538. (a) The department shall certify the operators of recycling centers pursuant to this section. The director shall adopt, by regulation, a procedure for the certification of recycling centers, including standards and requirements for certification. These regulations shall require that all information be submitted to the department under penalty of perjury. A recycling center shall meet all of the standards and requirements contained in the regulations for certification. The regulations shall require, but shall not be limited to requiring, that both of the following conditions be met for certification:

(1) The operator of the recycling center demonstrates, to the satisfaction of the department, that the operator will operate in accordance with this division.

(2) The operator of the recycling center shall notify the department promptly of any material change in the nature of his or her operations which conflicts with information submitted in the operator's application for certification.

(b) A certified recycling center shall comply with all of the following requirements for operation:

(1) The operator of the recycling center shall not pay a refund value for, or receive a refund value from any processor for, any food or drink packaging material or any beverage container or other product which does not have a refund value established pursuant to Section 14560.

(2) The operator of a recycling center shall take those actions which satisfy the department to prevent the payment of a refund value for any food or drink packaging material or any beverage container or other product which does not have a refund value established pursuant to Section 14560.

(3) Unless exempted pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 14572, a certified recycling center shall accept, and pay at least the refund value for, all empty beverage containers, regardless of type.

(4) A certified recycling center shall not pay any refund values, processing fees, or administrative fees to a noncertified recycler.

(5) A certified recycling center shall not pay any refund values, processing fees, or administrative fees on empty beverage containers or other containers which the certified recycling center knew, or should have known, were coming into the state from out of the state.

(6) A certified recycling center shall not claim refund values, processing fees, or administrative fees on empty beverage containers which the certified recycling center knew, or should have known, were received from noncertified recyclers or on beverage containers which the certified recycling center knew, or should have known, come from out of the state.

(7) A certified recycling center shall prepare and maintain the following documents involving empty beverage containers, as specified by the department by regulation:

(A) Shipping reports which are required to be prepared by the recycling center, or which are required to be obtained from other recycling centers.

(B) Consumer transaction receipts.

(C) Consumer transaction logs.

(D) Rejected container receipts on materials subject to this division.

(E) Receipts for transactions with beverage manufacturers on materials subject to this division.

(F) Receipts for transactions with beverage distributors on materials subject to this division.

(G) Documents authorizing the recycling center to cancel empty beverage containers.

(H) Weight tickets.

(8) In addition to the requirements of paragraph (7), a certified recycling center shall cooperate with the department and make available its records of scrap transactions when the review of these records is necessary for an audit or investigation by the department.

(c) The department may recover, in restitution pursuant to paragraph (5) of subdivision (c) of Section 14591.2, payments made from the fund to the certified recycling center pursuant to Section 14573.5 which are based on the documents specified in paragraph (7) and which are not prepared or maintained in compliance with the department's regulations and which do not allow the department to verify claims for program payments.

(d) The department may certify a recycling center which will operate less than 30 hours a week, as specified in subdivision (b) of Section 14571.

SEC. 2. Section 14571 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

14571. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, there shall be at least one certified recycling center or location within every convenience zone which accepts and pays the refund value, if any, at one location for all types of empty beverage containers and is open for business during at least 30 hours per week with a minimum of five hours of operation occurring during periods other than from Monday to Friday, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

(b) (1) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), the department may require a certified recycling center to operate 15 of its 30 hours of operation other than during 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

(2) Notwithstanding subdivision (a) and paragraph (1), the department may certify a recycling center which will operate less than 30 hours per week, if all of the following conditions are met:

(A) The recycling center is in a rural region and is not in a convenience zone. For purposes of this subparagraph, "rural region" means a nonurban area identified by the department on an annual basis using Farmers Home Loan Administration criteria. Those criteria include, but are not limited to, places, open country, cities, towns, or census designated places with populations that are less than 10,000 persons. The department may designate an area with a population of between 10,000 and 50,000 persons as a rural region, unless the area is identified as part of, or associated with, an urban area, as determined by the department on an individual basis.

(B) The recycling center to be certified is open to conduct a business other than recycling.

(C) The recycling center agrees to post a sign indicating the location of the nearest recycling center which is open at least 30 hours per week and which will accept all material types.

(D) The needs of the community and the goals of this division will be best served by certification of the operation as a recycling center.

(c) Before establishing operating hours for a certified recycling center pursuant to subdivision (b), the department shall make a determination that this action is necessary to further the goals of this division and shall also conduct a public hearing which will consider consumer convenience as well as the economic impact on the certified recycling center, public health and safety, local zoning requirements, neighborhood opinion, and any other relevant factors.

(d) For purposes of this section, if the recycling center is staffed and is not a reverse vending machine, a center is "open for business" if all of the following requirements are met:

(1) An employee of the certified recycling center or location is present during the hours of operation and available to the public to accept containers and to pay the refund values.

(2) In addition to the sign specified in subdivision (h), a sign having a minimum size of two feet by two feet is posted at the certified recycling center or location indicating that the center or location is open. Where allowed by local zoning requirements or where zoning restrictions apply, the sign shall be of the maximum allowable size.

(3) The prices paid, by weight or per container, are posted at the location.

(e) Except as provided in subdivision (f), for the purpose of this section, if the recycling center consists of reverse vending machines or other unmanned automated equipment, the center is "open for business" if the equipment is properly functioning, accepting all types of empty beverage containers at the recycling location, and paying posted refund values no less than the minimums required by this division.

(f) If a recycling center consists of reverse vending machines or other automated equipment, the recycling center is "open for business" if the equipment is properly functioning, and accepting all types of empty beverage containers at one physical recycling location within the recycling location.

(g) Whenever a recycling center which is a reverse vending machine is not "open for business" during the 30 hours of operation required and posted pursuant to this section and Section 14570, the dealer which is hosting the reverse vending machine at its place of business shall redeem all empty beverage container types at all open cash registers or one designated location in the store, as specified on the sign required pursuant to subdivision (h).

(h) In addition to the sign specified in paragraph (2) of subdivision (d), each reverse vending machine shall be posted with a clear and conspicuous sign on or near the reverse vending machine which states that beverage containers may be redeemed by the host dealer if the machine is nonoperational at any time during the required 30 hours of operation, pursuant to subdivision (g). The department shall determine the size and location of the sign and the message required to be printed on the sign.

CHAPTER 843

An act to add Section 1947.15 to the Civil Code, relating to rent control.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1947.15 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

1947.15. (a) The Legislature declares the purpose of this section is to:

(1) Ensure that owners of residential rental units that are subject to a system of controls on the price at which the units may be offered for rent or lease, or controls on the adjustment of the rent level, are not precluded or discouraged from obtaining a fair return on their properties as guaranteed by the United States Constitution and California Constitution because the professional expenses reasonably required in the course of the administrative proceedings, in order to obtain the rent increases necessary to provide a fair return, are not treated as a legitimate business expense.

(2) Encourage agencies which administer a system of controls on the price at which residential rental units may be offered for rent or lease, or controls the adjustment of the rent level, to enact streamlined administrative procedures governing rent adjustment petitions which minimize, to the extent possible, the cost and expense of these administrative proceedings.

(3) Ensure that the cost of professional services reasonably incurred and required by owners of residential rental units subject to a system of controls in the price at which the units may be offered for rent or lease, or controls on the adjustments of the rent level in the course of defending rights related to the rent control system, be treated as a legitimate business expense.

(b) Any city, county, or city and county, including a charter city, which administers an ordinance, charter provision, rule, or regulation that controls or establishes a system of controls on the price at which all or any portion of the residential rental units located within the city, county, or city and county, may be offered for rent or lease, or controls the adjustment of the rent level, and which does not include a system of vacancy decontrol, as defined in subdivision (i), shall permit reasonable expenses, fees, and other costs for professional services, including, but not limited to, legal, accounting, appraisal, bookkeeping, consulting, property management, or architectural services, reasonably incurred in the course of successfully pursuing rights under or in relationship to, that ordinance, charter provision, rule, or regulation, or the right to a fair return on an owner's property as protected by the United States Constitution or California Constitution, to be included in any calculation of net operating income and operating expenses used to determine a fair return to the owner of the property. All expenses, fees, and other costs reasonably incurred by an owner of property in relation to administrative proceedings for purposes specified in this subdivision shall be included in the calculation specified in this subdivision.

(c) Reasonable fees that are incurred by the owner in successfully obtaining a judicial reversal of an adverse administrative decision regarding a petition for upward adjustment of rents shall be assessed against the respondent public agency which issued the adverse administrative decision, and shall not be included in the calculations specified in subdivisions (b) and (d).

(d) (1) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), the city, county, or city and county, on the basis of substantial evidence in the record that the expenses reasonably incurred in the underlying proceeding will not reoccur annually, may amortize the expenses for a period not to exceed five years, except that in extraordinary circumstances, the amortization period may be extended to a period of eight years. The extended amortization period shall not apply to vacant units and shall end if the unit becomes vacant during the period that the expense is being amortized. An amortization schedule shall include a reasonable sale of interest.

(2) Any determination of the reasonableness of the expenses claimed, of an appropriate amortization period, or of the award of an upward adjustment of rents to compensate the owner for expenses and costs incurred shall be made as part of, or immediately following, the decision in the underlying administrative proceeding.

(e) Any and all of the following factors shall be considered in the determination of the reasonableness of the expenses, fees, or other costs authorized by this section:

(1) The rate charged for those professional services in the relevant geographic area.

(2) The complexity of the matter.

(3) The degree of administrative burden or judicial burden, or both, imposed upon the property owner.

(4) The amount of adjustment sought or the significance of the rights defended and the results obtained.

(5) The relationship of the result obtained to the expenses, fees, and other costs incurred (that is, whether professional assistance was reasonably related to the result achieved).

(g) For purposes of this section, the rights of a property owner shall be deemed to be successfully pursued or defended if the owner obtains an upward adjustment in rents, successfully defends his or her rights in an administrative proceeding brought by the tenant or the local rent board, or prevails in a proceeding, brought pursuant to Section 1947.7, concerning certification of maximum lawful rents.

(h) (1) If it is determined that a landlord petition assisted by attorneys or consultants is wholly without merit, the tenant shall be awarded a reduction in rent to compensate for the reasonable costs of attorneys or consultants retained by the tenant to defend the petition brought by the landlord. The reasonableness of the costs of the tenant's defense of the action brought by the landlord shall be determined pursuant to the same provisions established by this section for determining the reasonableness of the landlord's costs for the professional services. The determination of the reasonableness of the expenses claimed, an appropriate amortization period, and the award of a reduction in rents to compensate the tenant for costs incurred shall be made immediately following the decision in the underlying administrative proceeding.

(2) If it is determined that a landlord's appeal of an adverse administrative decision is frivolous or solely intended to cause unnecessary delay, the public agency which defended the action shall be awarded its reasonably incurred expenses, including attorney's fees, in defending the action. As used in this paragraph, "frivolous" means either (A) totally and completely without merit; or (B) for the sole purpose of harassing an opposing party.

(i) For purposes of this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Vacancy decontrol" means a system of controls on the price at which residential rental units may be offered for rent or lease which permits the rent to be increased to its market level, without restriction, each time a vacancy occurs. "Vacancy decontrol" includes systems which reimpose controls on the price at which residential rental units may be offered for rent or lease upon rerental of the unit.

(2) "Vacancy decontrol" includes circumstances where the tenant vacates the unit of his or her own volition, or where the local jurisdiction permits the rent to be raised to market rate after an eviction for cause, as specified in the ordinance, charter provision, rule, or regulation.

(j) This section shall not be construed to affect in any way the ability of a local agency to set its own fair return standards or to limit other actions under its local rent control program other than those expressly set forth in this section.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code for costs mandated by the state pursuant to this act. It is recognized, however, that a local agency or school district may pursue any remedies to obtain reimbursement available to it under Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) and any other provisions of law. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 844

An act to amend Section 336 of the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 336 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

336. "General public paratransit vehicle" means any motor vehicle designed for carrying no more than 24 persons and the driver, that provides local transportation to the general public, including transportation of pupils at or below the 12th-grade level to or from a public or private school or school activity, under the exclusive jurisdiction of a publicly owned and operated transit system through one of the following modes: dial-a-ride, subscription service, or route-deviated bus service. Vehicles used in the exclusive transportation of disabled persons as defined in Section 99206.5 of the Public Utilities Code, or of persons 55 years of age or older, including any persons necessary to provide assistance to these passengers, are not general public paratransit vehicles.

However, transportation of attendants, companions, or both traveling together with those individuals with disabilities who are determined to be eligible for complementary paratransit services in accordance with Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (Public Law 101-336) and federal regulations adopted pursuant thereto, shall not be sufficient to qualify a vehicle as a general public paratransit vehicle.

A vehicle that provides local transportation for the general public through one of the following modes: dial-a-ride, subscription service, or route-deviated bus service, but does not provide transportation of pupils at or below the 12th-grade level to or from a public or private school or school activity, is a transit bus, as defined by Section 642, and is not a general public paratransit vehicle.

CHAPTER 845

An act to add Section 13364 to the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13364 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

13364. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this code, a person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle shall be suspended upon notification by a bank or financial institution that a check has been dishonored when that check was presented to the department for either of the following reasons:

(1) In payment of a fine that resulted from an outstanding violation pursuant to Section 40508 or a suspension pursuant to Section 13365.

(2) In payment of a fee or penalty owed by the person, if the fee or penalty is required by this code for the issuance, reissuance, or return of the person's driver's license after suspension, revocation, or restriction of the driving privilege.

(b) The suspension shall remain in effect until payment of all fines, fees, and penalties is made to the department or to the court, as appropriate, and the person's driving record does not contain any notification of a court order issued pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 42003 or of a violation of subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 40508.

(c) No suspension imposed pursuant to this section shall become effective until 30 days after the mailing of a written notice of the intent to suspend.

(d) The written notice of a suspension imposed pursuant to this section shall be delivered by certified mail.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any license that has been suspended pursuant to this section shall immediately be reinstated, and the fees and penalties waived, upon the submission of proof acceptable to the department that the check has been erroneously dishonored by the bank or financial institution.

CHAPTER 846

An act to amend Section 93011 of, and to add Section 93005 to, the Government Code, relating to transportation.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 93005 is added to the Government Code, to read:

93005. The authority is a local agency for purposes of the Natural Disaster Assistance Act (Chapter 7.5 (commencing with Section 8680) of Division 1 of Title 2).

SEC. 2. Section 93011 of the Government Code is amended to read:

93011. The authority shall be governed by a board of directors, composed as follows:

(a) Two persons appointed by each of the boards of supervisors of the Counties of Humboldt and Mendocino. If the County of Marin or the County of Sonoma elects to join the authority, the board of supervisors of the county so joining shall appoint two persons to the board of directors.

(b) A city representative, selected by the cities served by the rail line.

(c) The District Director of Transportation for State Transportation District 1, who shall serve as a nonvoting, ex officio director of the authority.

(d) A board member of the Golden Gate Bridge, Highway and Transportation District, who shall serve as a nonvoting, ex officio director of the authority.

All directors, except the ex officio directors, shall serve for terms of two years and until their successors have qualified.

CHAPTER 847

An act relating to state property.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares that due to changes in economic conditions that were unforeseen at the time of the conveyances, the conditions imposed on the use of property acquired by the Yosemite Community College District from the state in 1970 and 1977 have created a detriment, rather than a benefit, to the overall purposes of the state. It is therefore the intent of the Legislature to recognize that changed conditions in the Yosemite Community College District create changing public needs.

SEC. 2. The Legislature declares that certain real property transferred to the Yosemite Community College District and the County of Stanislaus, in accordance with Chapter 291 of the Statutes of 1970 and Chapter 1031 of the Statutes of 1977, continues to be used for a public purpose. That purpose includes, but is not limited to, support for activities that generate revenues for the education programs offered to residents of the district and that have a connection to the educational programs offered by the district.

The Yosemite Community College District may continue to use the property so long as the revenues derived from the use of the land confer a benefit on the students and residents of the area. Any proposed new use of the land shall be subject to review by the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges and to assurances by the district that the revenues derived from the proposed use continue to benefit the students and residents of the area.

The Yosemite Community College District shall include in any land use agreement that results from this act a statement that holds the State of California harmless for any actions connected with the use of the land in question.

SEC. 3. The proposed use of the property conveyed to the Yosemite Community College District in accordance with Chapter 291 of the Statutes of 1970 and Chapter 1031 of the Statutes of 1977 shall be subject to local zoning requirements and not subject to sale.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because this act is in accordance with the request of a local agency or school district which desired legislative authority to carry out the program specified in this act. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 848

An act to add Sections 12648.5, 12648.6, 14649, and 14650 to the Food and Agricultural Code, relating to economic poisons.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12648.5 is added to the Food and Agricultural Code, to read:

12648.5. (a) It is unlawful for the owner of a plant, crop, or commodity to knowingly treat or apply to that plant, crop, or commodity, or cause that plant, crop, or commodity to be treated or applied, with an economic poison that was stolen or otherwise acquired by illegal means.

(b) The owner of a crop, who is found by a court to have violated this section, in addition to any other penalties imposed by a court, shall be subject to a fine of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) plus an amount equal to one-half the value of the crop on which the illegally obtained economic poison was applied.

(c) For purposes of this section, "one-half the value of the crop" means one-half the market value of the crop that was actually treated with the illegally obtained economic poison as determined by the actual sale of the crop or, if the crop is not actually sold, as determined by the director based on an average of the typical market value for such a crop sold in the normal channels of trade in the year in which the crop was produced and in the preceding two years.

(d) Moneys received as a result of fines and penalties imposed pursuant to this section shall be divided and distributed as follows:

(1) Fifty percent to the county in which the case was brought to court or in which a court approved settlement of the matter was negotiated.

(2) Twenty-five percent to the office of the county agricultural commissioner.

(3) Twenty-five percent to the department.

SEC. 2. Section 12648.6 is added to the Food and Agricultural Code, to read:

12648.6. Any person who is licensed pursuant to this code and who is found by a court to have knowingly sold, applied, or provided economic poisons that were stolen or otherwise obtained illegally, in addition to any other penalty that may be imposed, shall have his or her license or licenses suspended for a minimum of 18 months.

SEC. 3. Section 14649 is added to Article 10 (commencing with Section 14651) of Chapter 5 of Division 7 of the Food and Agricultural Code, to read:

14649. (a) It is unlawful for the owner of a plant, crop, or commodity to knowingly treat or apply to that plant, crop, or commodity, or cause that plant, crop, or commodity to be treated or applied, with a fertilizer that was stolen or otherwise acquired by illegal means.

(b) The owner of a crop, who is found by a court to have violated this section, in addition to any other penalties imposed by a court, shall be subject to a fine of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) plus an amount equal to one-half the value of the crop on which the illegally obtained fertilizer was applied.

(c) For purposes of this section, "one-half the value of the crop" means one-half the market value of the crop that was actually treated with the illegally obtained fertilizer as determined by the actual sale of the crop or, if the crop is not actually sold, as determined by the director based on an average of the typical market value for such a crop sold in the normal channels of trade in the year in which the crop was produced and in the preceding two years.

(d) Moneys received as a result of fines and penalties imposed pursuant to this section shall be divided and distributed as follows:

(1) Fifty percent to the county in which the case was brought to court or in which a court approved settlement of the matter was negotiated.

(2) Twenty-five percent to the office of the county agricultural commissioner.

(3) Twenty-five percent to the department.

SEC. 4. Section 14650 is added to Article 10 (commencing with Section 14651) of Chapter 5 of Division 7 of the Food and Agricultural Code, to read:

14650. (a) Any person who is licensed pursuant to this code and who is found by a court to have knowingly sold, applied, or provided fertilizers that were stolen or otherwise obtained illegally, in addition to any other penalty that may be imposed, shall have his or her license or licenses suspended for a minimum of 18 months.

(b) This section does not apply to a licensee whose employee or agent is found by a court to have knowingly sold, applied, or provided fertilizers that were stolen or otherwise obtained illegally, unless the licensee had actual knowledge of that conduct.

SEC. 5. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 849

An act to amend Sections 1010, 1064, 4006, 5001, 5003.1, and 5004 of, and to add Section 5003.3 to, the Public Utilities Code, relating to carriers, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares that:

(a) The Public Utilities Commission has, at the direction of the Legislature, acquired substantial additional duties in connection with the processing of operating authorities issued to motor carriers during the previous several years.

(b) The Legislature has prescribed fees associated with the processing of applications for motor carrier operating authority in statute, and those fees have not been revised for more than 20 years.

(c) The current level of fees set by statute is inadequate to cover the cost of processing motor carrier applications and requires subsidy of these functions through fees paid by licensed carriers.

(d) The Public Utilities Commission has substantially reduced its rate oversight activities during the previous several years.

(e) User fees paid into the Transportation Rate Fund based on the gross revenue of motor carriers of property should be equitably apportioned among those carriers on the basis of the regulatory programs those fees support.

SEC. 2. Section 1010 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

1010. (a) No express corporation or freight forwarder shall after August 1, 1933, commence operating between points in this state or extend its operations to or from any point or points in this state not theretofore served by it, unless and until it first secures from the commission, upon formal application therefor, a certificate that public convenience and necessity require such operation. The commission may, with or without hearing, issue such certificate, or refuse to issue it, or issue it for the partial exercise only of the privilege sought, and may attach to its order granting the certificate the terms and conditions as, in its judgment, the public convenience and necessity require. The commission may at any time, for good cause shown and upon notice to the holder of the certificate, revoke, alter, or amend the certificate.

(b) Each application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity made under the provisions of this section shall be accompanied by a fee of one thousand dollars ($1,000).

(c) A fee of one hundred fifty dollars ($150) shall be paid to the commission for filing each application to sell, mortgage, lease, assign, transfer, or otherwise encumber any certificate subject to the provisions of this section.

SEC. 3. Section 1064 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

1064. Each application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity made under the provisions of this article shall be accompanied by a fee of one thousand dollars ($1,000).

The commission may, with or without hearing, issue the certificate as prayed for, or refuse to issue it, or issue it for the partial exercise only of the privilege sought, and may attach to the exercise of the rights granted by the certificate such terms and conditions as, in its judgment, the public convenience and necessity require.

SEC. 4. Section 4006 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

4006. (a) A fee of thirty dollars ($30) shall be paid to the commission for the filing of the initial registration, of private carriers of property, and an annual renewal fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) shall also be paid by private carriers of property. A fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) shall be paid to the commission for the filing of the initial registration of private carriers of passengers, and an annual renewal fee of twenty dollars ($20) shall also be paid by private carriers of passengers. The fees required to be paid by carriers of property pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the Transportation Rate Fund. However, five dollars ($5) from the registration fees or renewal fees from each registration or renewal paid by private carriers of property pursuant to this section, shall be allocated on a quarterly basis to the Commercial Motor Carrier Safety Enforcement Fund. The fees required to be paid by carriers of passengers pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the Public Utilities Commission Transportation Reimbursement Account in the General Fund.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), the commission may increase the amount of the initial registration fee to not more than forty dollars ($40) in the case of private carriers of property, and thirty-five dollars ($35) in the case of private carriers of passengers, and the amount of the annual renewal fee to not more than thirty-five dollars ($35) in the case of private carriers of property, and thirty dollars ($30) in the case of private carriers of passengers if the commission finds and determines that to do so is necessary to defray the costs of implementing Section 4022. If the commission increases either fee pursuant to this subdivision, it shall prepare and transmit to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, the Assembly Committee on Utilities and Commerce, and the Senate Committee on Energy and Public Utilities a report of the amount of the increase instituted together with an audited statement of the receipts and disbursements related to the administration of private carrier registrations.

(c) Five dollars ($5) from the registration fee or renewal fees from each registration or renewal paid by private carriers of property pursuant to this section shall be allocated on a quarterly basis to the Commercial Motor Carrier Safety Enforcement Fund.

SEC. 5. Section 5001 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

5001. This chapter is enacted for the following purposes:

(a) Creating a special fund to administer and enforce the commission's jurisdiction to regulate the rates of transportation agencies carrying property for compensation.

(b) Creating a fund to be administered by the Department of the California Highway Patrol for use by the department and other enforcement agencies to administer and enforce the acts which regulate the safe and lawful operating practices of highway carriers throughout the state.

SEC. 6. Section 5003.1 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

5003.1. Every railroad corporation, express corporation and freight forwarder, as these terms are defined in Part 1 (commencing with Section 201) of Division 1, and every motor transportation broker, as defined in Section 4803, and every person or corporation owning or operating motor vehicles in the transportation of property for hire upon the public highways under the jurisdiction of the commission shall, between the first and 15th days of January, April, July, and October of each year, file with the commission a statement showing the gross operating revenue derived by that person or corporation from the transportation of property for the preceding three calendar months, and shall, at the time of filing the report, pay to the commission a fee of fifteen ($15) for each quarter. Five dollars ($5) from each fifteen dollars ($15) quarterly base fee shall be allocated on a quarterly basis to the Commercial Motor Carrier Safety Enforcement Fund. Every express corporation, freight forwarder, motor transportation broker, and every person or corporation owning or operating motor vehicles in the transportation of property for hire upon the public highways under the jurisdiction of the commission shall, at the time of filing the report, pay to the commission a fee equal to one-third of 1 percent of the amount of the gross operating revenue, except as follows:

(a) For any particular fiscal year, the commission, with the approval of the Department of Finance, may fix the fee at less than one-third of 1 percent of that amount.

(b) The commission may increase the fee pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 5003.2.

SEC. 7. Section 5003.3 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

5003.3. Five hundred dollars ($500) from the filing fees for each new permit or certificate applied for pursuant to Section 1010, 1064, or subdivision (a) of Section 5004 shall be allocated annually from the Transportation Rate Fund to the Commercial Motor Carrier Safety Enforcement Fund, and, upon appropriation by the Legislature, shall be used by the Department of the California Highway Patrol in conjunction with local jurisdictions to provide for safety and security of highway carriers and their cargoes. Up to 1 percent of the funds allocated to the Commercial Motor Carrier Safety Enforcement Fund shall be set aside for use by the Department of the California Highway Patrol for administration of the fund.

SEC. 8. Section 5004 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

5004. The following fees shall be paid to the commission with any application filed pursuant to the Highway Carriers' Act (Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 3501)):

(a) One thousand dollars ($1,000) for filing each application for a permit, except applications for a seasonal permit, as provided in subdivision (d).

(b) One hundred fifty dollars ($150) for filing each application to sell, mortgage, lease, assign, transfer, or otherwise encumber any permit, except that, for the transfer of each permit subsequent to the death of a permittee, and after court approval of the distribution of the estate or when it is not necessary to probate the will or distribute the estate through court, the fee is twenty-five dollars ($25).

(c) One hundred fifty dollars ($150) for filing each application to acquire or control a highway permit carrier pursuant to Section 3551.

(d) Twenty-five dollars ($25) for filing each application for issuance or renewal of a permit to operate as an agricultural carrier or livestock carrier on a seasonal basis, as authorized by Section 3584.2 or for issuance or renewal of a temporary dump truck carrier permit, as authorized by Section 3616.

CHAPTER 850

An act to amend Sections 1001.15, 1001.16, and 1211 of, and to repeal Section 1001.17 of, the Penal Code, relating to diversion fees.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1001.15 of the Penal Code, as amended by Chapter 221 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

1001.15. (a) In addition to the fees authorized or required by other provisions of law, a judge may require the payment of an administrative fee, as part of an enrollment fee in a diversion program, by a defendant accused of a felony to cover the actual cost of any criminalistics laboratory analysis, the actual cost of processing a request or application for diversion, and the actual cost of supervising the divertee pursuant to Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 1000), not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500). The fee shall be payable at the time of enrollment in the diversion program. The court shall take into consideration the defendant's ability to pay, and no defendant shall be denied diversion because of his or her inability to pay. One-third of the fee collected shall be deposited in the criminalistics laboratories fund in the county treasury, and two-thirds of the fee collected shall be used to cover the administrative cost of processing the request or application and the actual cost of supervising the divertee. The portion deposited in the criminalistics laboratories fund shall be expended as provided in Section 11372.5 of the Health and Safety Code.

(b) As used in this section, "criminalistics laboratory" means a laboratory operated by, or under contract with a city, county, or other public agency, including a criminalistics laboratory of the Department of Justice, which has not less than one regularly employed forensic scientist engaged in the analysis of solid dose material and body fluids for controlled substances, and which is registered as an analytical laboratory with the Drug Enforcement Administration of the United States Department of Justice for the processing of all scheduled controlled substances.

(c) In addition to the fees authorized or required by other provisions of law, a judge may require the payment of an administrative fee, as part of an enrollment fee in a diversion program, by a defendant accused of an act charged as, or reduced to, a misdemeanor to cover the actual cost of processing a request or application for diversion pursuant to Chapter 2.6 (commencing with Section 1000.6), the actual costs of reporting to the court on a defendant's eligibility and suitability for diversion, the actual cost of supervising the divertee, and for the actual costs of performing any duties required pursuant to Section 1000.9, not to exceed three hundred dollars ($300). The fee shall be payable at the time of enrollment in the diversion program. The fee shall be determined on a sliding scale according to the defendant's ability to pay, and no defendant shall be denied diversion because of his or her inability to pay.

SEC. 2. Section 1001.16 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1001.16. (a) In addition to the fees authorized or required by other provisions of law, a judge may require the payment of an administrative fee, as part of an enrollment fee in a diversion program, by a defendant accused of a misdemeanor to cover the actual cost of any criminalistics laboratory analysis in a case involving a violation of the California Uniform Controlled Substances Act under Division 10 (commencing with Section 11000) of the Health and Safety Code, the actual cost of processing a request or application for diversion, and the actual cost of supervising the divertee, not to exceed three hundred dollars ($300). The fee shall be payable at the time of enrollment in the diversion program. The court shall take into consideration the defendant's ability to pay, and no defendant shall be denied diversion because of his or her inability to pay.

One-third of the fee collected shall be deposited in the criminalistics laboratories fund in the county treasury, and two-thirds of the fee collected shall be used to cover the administrative cost of processing the request or application and supervising the divertee. The portion deposited in the criminalistics laboratories fund shall be expended as provided in Section 11372.5 of the Health and Safety Code.

(b) As used in this section, "criminalistics laboratory" means a laboratory operated by, or under contract with, a city, county, or other public agency, including a criminalistics laboratory of the Department of Justice, which has not less than one regularly employed forensic scientist engaged in the analysis of solid dose material and body fluids for controlled substances and which is registered as an analytical laboratory with the Drug Enforcement Administration of the United States Department of Justice for the processing of all scheduled controlled substances.

(c) This section shall apply to all misdemeanor pretrial diversion programs established pursuant to this title.

SEC. 3. Section 1001.17 of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 1211 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1211. (a) In order to ensure the quality of drug diversion programs provided pursuant to this chapter and Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 1000) of Title 6, and to expand the availability of these programs, the county drug program administrator in each county, in consultation with representatives of the court and the county probation department, shall establish minimum requirements, criteria, and fees for the successful completion of drug diversion programs which shall be approved by the county board of supervisors no later than January 1, 1995. These minimum requirements shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following:

(1) An initial assessment of each divertee, which may include all of the following:

(A) Social, economic, and family background.

(B) Education.

(C) Vocational achievements.

(D) Criminal history.

(E) Medical history.

(F) Drug history and previous treatment.

(2) A minimum of 20 hours of either effective education or counseling or any combination of both for each divertee.

(3) An exit conference which shall reflect the divertee's progress during his or her participation in the program.

(4) Fee exemptions for persons who cannot afford to pay.

(b) The county drug program administrator shall implement a certification procedure for drug diversion programs.

(c) The county drug program administrator shall recommend for approval by the county board of supervisors programs pursuant to this chapter. No program, regardless of how it is funded, may be approved unless it meets the standards established by the administrator, which shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following:

(1) Guidelines and criteria for education and treatment services, including standards of services which may include lectures, classes, group discussions, and individual counseling. However, any class or group discussion other than lectures, shall not exceed 15 persons at any one meeting.

(2) Established and approved supervision, either on a regular or irregular basis, of the person for the purpose of evaluating the person's progress.

(3) A schedule of fees to be charged for services rendered to each person under a county drug program plan in accordance with the following provisions:

(A) Fees shall be used only for the purposes set forth in this chapter.

(B) Fees for the treatment or rehabilitation of each participant receiving services under a certified drug diversion program shall not exceed the actual cost thereof, as determined by the county drug program administrator according to standard accounting practices.

(C) Actual costs shall include both of the following:

(i) All costs incurred by the providers of diversion programs.

(ii) All expenses incurred by the county for administration, certification, or management of the drug diversion program in compliance with this chapter.

(d) The county shall require, as a condition of certification, that the drug diversion program pay to the county drug program administrator all expenses incurred by the county for administration, certification, or management of the drug diversion program in compliance with this chapter. No fee shall be required by any county other than that county where the program is located.

CHAPTER 851

An act to amend Section 7260 of, and to add Section 7262.5 to, the Government Code, relating to housing.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7260 of the Government Code is amended to read:

7260. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Public entity" includes the state, the Regents of the University of California, a county, city, city and county, district, public authority, public agency, and any other political subdivision or public corporation in the state or any entity acting on behalf of these agencies when acquiring real property, or any interest therein, in any city or county for public use and any person who has the authority to acquire property by eminent domain under state law.

(b) "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, or association.

(c) (1) "Displaced person" means both of the following:

(A) Any person who moves from real property, or who moves his or her personal property from real property, either:

(i) As a direct result of a written notice of intent to acquire or the acquisition of the real property, in whole or in part, for a program or project undertaken by a public entity or by any person having an agreement with or acting on behalf of a public entity.

(ii) As a direct result of the rehabilitation, demolition, or other displacing activity as the public entity may prescribe under a program or project undertaken by a public entity, of real property on which the person is a residential tenant or conducts a business or farm operation, in any case in which the public entity determines that the displacement is permanent. For purposes of this subparagraph, "residential tenant" includes any occupant of a residential hotel unit, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 50669 of the Health and Safety Code, and any occupant of employee housing, as defined in Section 17008 of the Health and Safety Code, but shall not include any person who has been determined to be in unlawful occupancy of the displacement dwelling.

(B) Solely for the purposes of Sections 7261 and 7262, any person who moves from real property, or moves his or her personal property from real property, either:

(i) As a direct result of a written notice of intent to acquire or the acquisition of other real property, in whole or in part, on which the person conducts a business or farm operation, for a program or project undertaken by a public entity.

(ii) As a direct result of the rehabilitation, demolition, or other displacing activity as the public entity may prescribe under a program or project undertaken by a public entity, of other real property on which the person conducts a business or farm operation, in any case in which the public entity determines that the displacement is permanent.

(2) The definition contained in this subdivision shall be construed so that persons displaced as a result of public action receive relocation benefits in cases where they are displaced as a result of an owner participation agreement or an acquisition carried out by a private person for or in connection with a public use where the public entity is otherwise empowered to acquire the property to carry out the public use. Except persons or families of low and moderate income, as defined in Section 50093 of the Health and Safety Code, who are occupants of housing which was made available to them on a permanent basis by a public agency and who are required to move from the housing, a "displaced person" shall not include any of the following:

(A) Any person who has been determined to be in unlawful occupancy of the displacement dwellings.

(B) Any person whose right of possession at the time of moving arose after the date of the public entity's acquisition of the real property.

(C) Any person who has occupied the real property for the purpose of obtaining assistance under this chapter.

(D) In any case in which the public entity acquires property for a program or project (other than a person who was an occupant of the property at the time it was acquired), any person who occupies the property for a period subject to termination when the property is needed for the program or project.

(3) (A) Notwithstanding Section 7265.3 or any other provision of law, a person who is temporarily displaced for not more than 180 days, and who is offered occupancy of a comparable replacement unit located within the same apartment complex that contains the unit from which he or she has been displaced, shall not be deemed a "displaced person" for the purposes of this chapter. This paragraph shall be applicable only if all of the following conditions are complied with:

(i) All other financial benefits and services otherwise required under this chapter are provided to the tenants temporarily displaced from their units.

(ii) The resident is offered the right to return to his or her original unit, with rent for the first 12 months subsequent to that return being the lower of the following: up to 5 percent higher than the rent at the time of displacement; or up to 25 percent of household income.

(iii) The temporary unit is not unreasonably impacted by the effects of the construction, taking into consideration the ages and physical conditions of the members of the displaced household, and the estimated period of displacement is reasonable.

(iv) The property is a qualified affordable housing preservation project.

(B) For the purposes of this paragraph:

(i) "Apartment complex" means four or more residential rental units subject to common ownership and financing that are also located on the same or contiguous parcels.

(ii) "Qualified affordable housing preservation project" is any complex of four or more units whose owners enter into a recorded regulatory agreement, having a term for the useful life of the project, with any entity for the provision of project rehabilitation financing. For this purpose, the regulatory agreement shall require of the owner and all successors and assigns of the owner, as long as the regulatory agreement is in effect, that at least 49 percent of the tenants in the project shall have, at the time of the recordation of the regulatory agreement required by this section, incomes not in excess of 60 percent of the area median income, adjusted by household size, as determined by the appropriate agency of the State of California. In addition, a project shall be defined as a qualified affordable housing preservation project only if the beneficiary of the regulatory agreement elects this designation by so indicating on the regulatory agreement.

(d) "Business" means any lawful activity, except a farm operation, conducted for any of the following:

(1) Primarily for the purchase, sale, lease, or rental of personal and real property, and for the manufacture, processing, or marketing of products, commodities, or any other personal property.

(2) Primarily for the sale of services to the public.

(3) Primarily by a nonprofit organization.

(4) Solely for the purpose of Section 7262 for assisting in the purchase, sale, resale, manufacture, processing, or marketing of products, commodities, personal property, or services by the erection and maintenance of an outdoor advertising display, whether or not the display is located on the premises on which any of the above activities are conducted.

(e) "Farm operation" means any activity conducted solely or primarily for the production of one or more agricultural products or commodities, including timber, for sale or home use, and customarily producing these products or commodities in sufficient quantity to be capable of contributing materially to the operator's support.

(f) "Affected property" means any real property which actually declines in fair market value because of acquisition by a public entity for public use of other real property and a change in the use of the real property acquired by the public entity.

(g) "Public use" means a use for which real property may be acquired by eminent domain.

(h) "Mortgage" means classes of liens that are commonly given to secure advances on, or the unpaid purchase price of, real property, together with the credit instruments, if any, secured thereby.

(i) "Comparable replacement dwelling" means any dwelling that is all of the following:

(1) Decent, safe, and sanitary.

(2) Adequate in size to accommodate the occupants.

(3) In the case of a displaced person who is a renter, within the financial means of the displaced person. A comparable replacement dwelling is within the financial means of a displaced person if the monthly rental cost of the dwelling minus any replacement housing payment available to the person does not exceed 25 percent of the person's average monthly income.

(4) Comparable with respect to the number of rooms, habitable space, and type and quality of construction. Comparability under this paragraph shall not require strict adherence to a detailed, feature-by-feature comparison. While a comparable replacement dwelling need not possess every feature of the displacement dwelling, the principal features shall be present.

(5) In an area not subject to unreasonable adverse environmental conditions.

(6) In a location generally not less desirable than the location of the displaced persons dwelling with respect to public utilities, facilities, services, and the displaced person's place of employment.

(j) "Displacing agency" means any public entity or person carrying out a program or project which causes a person to be a displaced person for a public project.

(k) "Appraisal" means a written statement independently and impartially prepared by a qualified appraiser setting forth an opinion of defined value of an adequately described property as of a specific date, supported by the presentation and analysis of relevant market information.

(l) "Small business" means a business as defined in Part 24 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

(m) "Lead agency" means the Department of Housing and Community Development.

SEC. 2. Section 7262.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

7262.5. (a) Notwithstanding Section 7265.3 or any other provision of law, tenants residing in any multifamily rental project of four or more units who are displaced from the project for a period of 180 days or less as part of a rehabilitation of that project, that is funded in whole or in part by a public entity, shall not be deemed permanently displaced if all of the following criteria are satisfied:

(1) All other financial benefits and services otherwise required under this chapter are provided to the tenants temporarily displaced from their units, including relocation to a comparable replacement unit.

(2) The resident is offered the right to return to his or her original unit, with rent for the first 12 months subsequent to that return being the lower of the following: up to 5 percent higher than the rent at the time of displacement; or up to 25 percent of household income.

(3) The estimated time of displacement is reasonable, and the project is a qualified affordable housing preservation project.

(b) For the purposes of this section, "qualified affordable housing preservation project" shall have the meaning set forth in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 7260.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no provision of this act shall be introduced as evidence, either directly, by referring to the name or contents of the amendments to Section 7260 of the Government Code made by this act, or indirectly, through testimony of any expert or lay witness, or otherwise referred to, in any action pending as of the effective date of this act.

CHAPTER 852

An act to amend Sections 1819, 4451, 4751, 5900, 5901, and 9255 of the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1819 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

1819. All records of the department containing information as to the actual mileage of motor vehicles submitted as required by Sections 5900 and 5901 shall be open to inspection by the public during the office hours of the department.

SEC. 2. Section 4451 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

4451. The certificate of ownership shall contain all of the following:

(a) Not less than the information required upon the face of the registration card.

(b) Provision for notice to the department of a transfer of the title or interest of the owner or legal owner.

(c) Provision for application for transfer of registration by the transferee.

(d) Provision for an odometer disclosure statement pursuant to Section 408 of the federal Motor Vehicle Information and Cost Savings Act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 1901 et seq.).

SEC. 3. Section 4751 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

4751. The department may refuse registration or the renewal or transfer of registration of a vehicle in any of the following events:

(a) If the department is not satisfied that the applicant is entitled thereto under this code.

(b) If the applicant has failed to furnish the department with information required in the application or reasonable additional information required by the department.

(c) If the department determines that the applicant has made or permitted unlawful use of any registration certificate, certificate of ownership, or license plates.

(d) If the vehicle is mechanically unfit or unsafe to be operated or moved on the highways.

(e) If the department determines that a manufacturer or dealer has failed during the current or previous year to comply with the provisions of this code relating to the giving of notice to the department of the transfer of a vehicle during the current or previous year.

(f) If the department determines that a lien exists, pursuant to Section 9800, against one or more other vehicles in which the applicant has an ownership interest.

(g) If the applicant has failed to furnish the department with an odometer disclosure statement pursuant to Section 408 of the federal Motor Vehicle Information and Cost Savings Act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 1901 et seq.).

SEC. 4. Section 5900 of the Vehicle Code, as added by Section 3 of Chapter 745 of the Statutes of 1992, is amended to read:

5900. (a) Whenever the owner of a vehicle registered under this code sells or transfers his or her title or interest in, and delivers the possession of, the vehicle to another, the owner shall, within five calendar days, notify the department of the sale or transfer giving the date thereof, the name and address of the owner and of the transferee, and the description of the vehicle which is required in the appropriate form provided for that purpose by the department.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (c), pursuant to Section 408 of the federal Motor Vehicle Information and Cost Savings Act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 1901 et seq.), the owner shall also notify the department of the actual mileage of the vehicle as indicated by the vehicle's odometer at the time of sale or transfer. However, if the vehicle owner has knowledge that the mileage displayed on the odometer is incorrect, the owner shall indicate on the appropriate form the true mileage, if known, of the vehicle at the time of sale or transfer.

Providing false or inaccurate mileage is not a violation of this subdivision unless it is done with the intent to defraud.

(c) If the registered owner is not in possession of the vehicle that is sold or transferred, the person in physical possession of that vehicle shall give the notice required by subdivisions (a) and (b). If the registered owner sells or transfers the vehicle through a dealer conducting a wholesale motor vehicle auction, the owner shall furnish the information required by subdivisions (a) and (b) to that dealer.

(d) The department shall prescribe and issue a secure power of attorney form to be used for purposes of the odometer mileage disclosure requirements of this section and Section 1988 (d) (l) (C) of Title 15 of the United States Code.

SEC. 5. Section 5901 of the Vehicle Code, as added by Section 5 of Chapter 745 of the Statutes of 1992, is amended to read:

5901. (a) Every dealer or lessor-retailer, upon transferring by sale, lease, or otherwise any vehicle, whether new or used, of a type subject to registration under this code, shall, not later than the end of the fifth calendar day thereafter not counting the day of sale, give written notice of the transfer to the department at its headquarters upon an appropriate form provided by it.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision or in subdivision (c), the dealer or lessor-retailer shall enter on the form and pursuant to the federal Motor Vehicle Information and Cost Savings Act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 1901 et seq.), on the ownership certificate, the actual mileage of the vehicle as indicated by the vehicle's odometer at the time of the transfer. However, if the vehicle dealer or lessor-retailer has knowledge that the mileage displayed on the odometer is incorrect, the licensee shall indicate on the form the true mileage, if known, of the vehicle at the time of the transfer. A vehicle dealer or lessor-retailer need not give the notice when selling or transferring a new unregistered vehicle to a dealer or lessor-retailer.

(c) When the dealer or lessor-retailer is not in possession of the vehicle that is sold or transferred, the person in physical possession of the vehicle shall give the information required by subdivision (b).

(d) A sale is deemed completed and consummated when the purchaser of the vehicle has paid the purchase price, or, in lieu thereof, has signed a purchase contract or security agreement, and has taken physical possession or delivery of the vehicle.

(e) (1) A transfer which takes place through a dealer conducting a wholesale motor vehicle auction shall be reported to the department by that dealer on a single form approved by the department. The completed form shall contain, at a minimum, all of the following:

(A) The name and address of the seller.

(B) The seller's dealer number, if applicable.

(C) The date of delivery to the dealer conducting the auction.

(D) The actual mileage of the vehicle as indicated by the vehicle's odometer at the time of delivery to the dealer conducting the auction.

(E) The name, address, and occupational license number of the dealer conducting the wholesale motor vehicle auction.

(F) The name, address, and occupational license number of the buyer.

(G) The signature of the dealer conducting the wholesale auto auction.

(2) Submission of the completed form specified in paragraph (1) to the department fully satisfies the requirements of subdivision (a) with respect to the seller at auction.

(3) The single document transfer form required by this subdivision does not relieve a dealer of any obligation or responsibility that is required by any other provision of law.

SEC. 6. Section 9255 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

9255. Upon application for the transfer of the title or any interest of an owner or legal owner in or to a vehicle registered under this code, or for which a certificate of ownership has been issued without registration under Section 4452, other than upon a transfer to a chattel mortgagee and other than upon a transfer to a transferee not required under this code to obtain the issuance to the owner of a new certificate of ownership and registration card, there shall be paid the following fees:

(a)	For a transfer by the owner of an automobile or motorcycle	$10
(b)	For a transfer by the owner of a trailer, trailer coach, or commercial vehicle	$ 9
(c)	For a transfer by the legal owner	$ 9
(d)	When an application is presented showing a transfer by both the owner and legal owner of an automobile or motorcycle	$10
(e)	When an application is presented showing a transfer by both the owner and legal owner of a trailer, trailer coach, or commercial vehicle	$ 9

SEC. 7. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminated a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 8. The sum of one million three hundred ninety-two thousand four hundred thirty-seven dollars ($1,392,437) is hereby appropriated from the Motor Vehicle Account in the State Transportation Fund to the Department of Motor Vehicles for purposes of implementing Sections 2 to 5 inclusive, of this act.

CHAPTER 853

An act to amend Sections 2192.1 and 4703 of, and to add Section 2192.2 to, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2192.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

2192.1. Every tax declared in this chapter to be a lien on real property, and every public improvement assessment declared by law to be a lien on real property, have priority over all other liens on the property, regardless of the time of their creation. Any tax or assessment described in the preceding sentence shall be given priority over matters including, but not limited to, any recognizance, deed, judgment, debt, obligation, or responsibility with respect to which the subject real property may become charged or liable.

SEC. 2. Section 2192.2 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

2192.2. Upon the sale, other than a tax sale under this division or a sale pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 2920) of Chapter 2 of Title 14 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code, conducted under judicial process or otherwise by any sheriff, constable, trustee, receiver, or other ministerial officer, of any real property upon which ad valorem property taxes or assessments are due and unpaid at the time of sale, the proceeds from that sale shall, after the payment of necessary and incidental sale expenses, be first applied to the amount of those ad valorem property taxes and assessments and be transmitted by the conducting officer to the officer responsible for the collection of those taxes and assessments.

SEC. 3. Section 4703 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

4703. In each county that elects to adopt the procedure authorized by this chapter there is hereby created a tax losses reserve fund.

(a) The tax losses reserve fund shall be used exclusively, as hereinafter provided, to cover losses that may occur in the amount of tax liens as a result of special sales of tax-defaulted property. Whenever in any year the amount of the tax losses reserve fund has reached an amount equivalent to 3 percent of the total of all taxes and assessments levied on the secured roll for that year, the amounts hereinafter authorized to be credited to that fund shall, for the remainder of that year, be credited to the county general fund.

(b) The auditor and treasurer shall keep apportioned tax resources accounts in such a manner that the balance of amounts apportioned to funds on an accrual basis shall be known by both officers. In addition, the auditor shall keep secured taxes receivable accounts in such a manner as to establish accountability for the amounts receivable on the secured tax rolls. Secured tax rolls, as used in this chapter, include delinquent rolls prescribed by Section 2627.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to preserve the ability of California counties during a period of severe fiscal strain to collect the full amount of property taxes that are due and payable, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 854

An act to amend Sections 803, 821, 829, and 1029 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, relating to unemployment compensation.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 803 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, as amended by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

803. (a) As used in this section "entity" means any employing unit that is authorized by any provision of Article 4 (commencing with Section 701) or by Section 801 or 802 to elect a method of financing coverage permitted by this section.

(b) In lieu of the contributions required of employers, an entity may elect any one of the following:

(1) To pay into the Unemployment Fund the cost of benefits, including extended duration benefits and federal-state extended benefits, paid based on base period wages with respect to employment for the entity and charged to its account in the manner provided by Section 1026, pursuant to authorized regulations that shall prescribe the rate or amount, time, manner, and method of payment or advance payment or providing a good and sufficient bond to guarantee payment of contributions.

(2) Two or more entities may, pursuant to authorized regulations, file an application with the director for the establishment of a joint account for the purpose of determining the rate of contributions they shall pay into the Unemployment Fund to reimburse the fund for benefits paid with respect to employment for those entities. The members of the joint account may share the cost of benefits, including extended duration benefits and federal-state extended benefits, paid based on the base period wages with respect to employment for those members and charged to the joint account in the manner provided by Section 1026. The director shall prescribe authorized regulations for the establishment, maintenance, and dissolution of joint accounts, and for the rate or amount, time, manner, and method of payment or advance payment or providing a good and sufficient bond to guarantee payment of contributions by the members of joint accounts, on the cost of benefits charged in the manner provided by Section 1026.

(c) Sections 1030, 1031, 1032, and 1032.5, and any provision of this division for the noncharging of benefits to the account of an employer, shall not apply to an election under subdivision (b). The cost of benefits charged to an entity under this section shall include, but not be limited to, benefits or payments improperly paid in excess of a weekly benefit amount, or in excess of a maximum benefit amount, or otherwise in excess of the amount that should have been paid, due to any computational or other error of any type by the Employment Development Department or the Department of Benefit Payments, whether or not the error could be anticipated.

(d) In making the payments prescribed by subdivision (b), there shall be paid or credited to the Unemployment Fund, either in advance or by way of reimbursement, as may be determined by the director, any sums he or she estimates the Unemployment Fund will be entitled to receive from each entity for each calendar quarter, reduced or increased by any sum by which he or she finds that his or her estimates for any prior calendar quarter were greater or less than the amounts which should have been paid to the fund. The estimates may be made upon the basis of statistical sampling, or any other method as may be determined by the director.

Upon making that determination, the director shall give notice of the determination, pursuant to Section 1206, to the entity. The director may cancel any contributions or portion thereof that he or she finds has been erroneously determined.

The director shall charge to any special fund, that is responsible for the salary of any employee of an entity, the amount determined by the director for which the fund is liable pursuant to this section. The contributions due from the entity shall be paid from the liable special fund, the General Fund, or other liable fund to the Unemployment Fund by the Controller or other officer or person responsible for disbursements on behalf of the entity within 30 days of the date of mailing of the director's notice of determination to the entity. The director for good cause may extend for not to exceed 60 days the time for paying without penalty the amount determined and required to be paid. Contributions are due upon the date of mailing of the notice of determination and are delinquent if not paid on or before the 30th day following the date of mailing of the notice.

(e) Any entity that fails to pay the contributions required within the time required shall be liable for interest on the contributions at the adjusted annual rate and by the method established pursuant to Section 19521 of the Revenue and Taxation Code from and after the date of delinquency until paid, and any entity that without good cause fails to pay any contributions required within the time required shall pay a penalty of 10 percent of the amount of the contributions. If the entity fails to pay the contributions required on or before the delinquency date, the director may assess the entity for the amount required by the notice of determination. This subdivision shall not apply to employers electing financing under Section 821, for amounts due after December 31, 1992.

(f) Article 8 (commencing with Section 1126) of Chapter 4 of Part 1 with respect to the assessment of contributions, and Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 1701) of Part 1 with respect to the collection of contributions, shall apply to the assessments provided by this section. Sections 1177 to 1184, inclusive, relating to refunds and overpayments, shall apply to amounts paid to the Unemployment Fund pursuant to this section. Sections 1222, 1223, 1224, 1241, and 1242 shall apply to matters arising under this section.

(g) The director may terminate the election of any entity for financing under this section if the entity is delinquent in the payment of advances or reimbursements required by the director under this section. After any termination the entity may again make an election pursuant to this section but only if it is not delinquent in the payment of contributions and not delinquent in the payment of advances or reimbursements required by the director under this section.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, no entity shall be liable for that portion of any extended duration benefits or federal-state extended benefits that is reimbursed or reimbursable by the federal government to the State of California.

(i) After the termination of any election under this section, the entity shall remain liable for its proportionate share of the cost of benefits paid and charged to its account in the manner provided by Section 1026, which are based on wages paid for services during the period of the election. That liability may be charged against any remaining balance of a prior reserve account used by the entity pursuant to Section 712 or 713. Any portion of the remaining balance shall be included in the reserve account of the entity following any termination of an election under this section which occurs prior to the expiration of a period of three consecutive years commencing with the effective date of the election. For purposes of Section 982, the period of an election under Section 803 shall, to the extent permitted by federal law, be included as a period during which a reserve account has been subject to benefit charges.

SEC. 2. Section 821 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

821. (a) Each school employer may, in lieu of the contributions required of employers, elect to pay into the Unemployment Fund the cost of benefits, including extended duration benefits and federal-state extended benefits, paid based on base period wages with respect to employment for an employing unit and charged to its account in the manner provided by Section 1026, pursuant to authorized regulations that shall prescribe the rate or amount, time, manner, and method of payment or advance payment or providing a good and sufficient bond to guarantee payment of contributions. The provisions of this article shall apply to school employers who have elected financing under this section.

(b) Sections 1030, 1031, 1032, and 1032.5, and any provision of this division for the noncharging of benefits to the account of an employer, shall not apply to an employing unit under subdivision (a). The cost of benefits charged to a school employer under this section shall include, but not be limited to, benefits or payments improperly paid in excess of a weekly benefit amount, or in excess of a maximum benefit amount, or otherwise in excess of the amount that should have been paid, due to any computational or other error of any type by the Employment Development Department or the Department of Benefit Payments, whether or not the error could be anticipated.

(c) In making the payments prescribed by subdivision (a), there shall be paid or credited to the Unemployment Fund, either in advance or by way of reimbursement, as may be determined by the director, any sums he or she estimates the Unemployment Fund will be entitled to receive from each employing unit for each calendar quarter, reduced or increased by any sum by which he or she finds that his or her estimates for any prior calendar quarter were greater or less than the amounts that should have been paid to the fund. These estimates may be made upon the basis of a statistical sampling, or other method as may be determined by the director.

Upon making the determination, the director shall mail notice of the determination, pursuant to Section 1206, to the employing unit.

The director may cancel any contributions or portion thereof that he or she finds have been erroneously determined. The contributions due from the employing units shall be paid, transferred, or credited from the School Employees Fund established in the State Treasury by Section 822 to the Unemployment Fund by the State Treasurer, State Controller, or other officer or person responsible for disbursements on behalf of the employing unit within 30 days of the date of mailing of the director's notice of determination to the employing unit.

Each employing unit shall send a copy of any and all notices, billings, or correspondence not normally routed to the administrator and the Superintendent of Public Instruction, regarding unemployment insurance for the school employees, to the administrator, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the county superintendent of schools, or agent thereof, with timely documentation of charges or determination. Article 8 (commencing with Section 1126) of Chapter 4 with respect to the assessment of contributions, and Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 1701) with respect to the collection of contributions, shall apply to the assessments provided by this article. Sections 1177 to 1184, inclusive, relating to refunds and overpayments, shall apply to amounts paid to the Unemployment Fund pursuant to this section. Sections 1222, 1223, 1224, 1241, and 1242 shall apply to matters arising under this section.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, no employing unit shall be liable for that portion of any extended duration benefits or federal-state extended benefits that is reimbursed or reimbursable by the federal government to the state.

(e) To the extent permitted by federal law, including Section 121(e) of Public Law 94-566, any school employer that elects a method of financing under this article shall not be liable to reimburse the cost of benefits paid to any individual whose base period wages include wages for services performed prior to January 1, 1978, if the benefits are reimbursable by the federal government under Section

121 of Public Law 94-566 and to the extent that the individual would not have been eligible for the benefits had this state not provided for benefits payable based on services performed prior to January 1, 1978.

(f) The administrator and the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall adopt rules and regulations for the administration of their respective functions under this article in accordance with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. Regulations of the administrator shall be subject to Article 1 (commencing with Section 301) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 1. Rules and regulations of the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall not be subject to the provisions of Article 1 (commencing with Section 301) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 1.

(g) Any election for financing coverage under this section shall take effect with respect to services performed from and after the first day of the calendar quarter in which the election is filed with the director, and shall continue in effect for not less than two full calendar years. Thereafter, the election under this section may be terminated as of January 1 of any calendar year only if the school employer, on or before the 31st day of January of that year, has filed with the director a written application for termination. The director may for good cause waive the requirement that a written application for termination shall be filed on or before the 31st day of January. School employers shall be prohibited from making a subsequent reelection under this section for 10 years from the date of termination of an election under this section. An election for financing coverage under this section is deemed to have been filed by every school employer effective as of January 1, 1976, is deemed to have been in effect for two calendar years prior to January 1, 1978, and may be terminated as of January 1, 1978, or as of January 1, 1980, or any later January 1 pursuant to this section. Upon the termination of any election under this section, the school employer shall be and remain liable for all benefits paid based upon wages paid by the school employer during the period of an election under this section.

SEC. 3. Section 829 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

829. The total amount of the local experience charge computed for each school employer pursuant to Section 828 shall be the amount that the school employer, county superintendent of schools, or empowered entity shall, on behalf of the employers under that jurisdiction, reimburse the School Employees Fund in the State Treasury. However, this amount shall not exceed 1.7 percent of the actual annual wages paid by a school employer in the immediately preceding calendar year as indicated in the four quarterly reports to the department.

SEC. 4. Section 1029 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

1029. (a) Whenever an employer ceases to pay wages in employment, the reserve account of the employer, unless it has been transferred under Article 5 (commencing with Section 1051), shall be canceled on the records of the department after a period of three consecutive years has elapsed following the latest calendar quarter in which the employer paid wages in employment.

(b) Whenever a period of three consecutive years has elapsed, commencing with the effective date of an election by any entity to finance benefits pursuant to Section 803, any portion of the reserve account of the entity that has not been subject to use pursuant to Section 712 or 713, unless that portion has been reacquired by the entity by termination of the election under Section 803 prior to the expiration of the three-year period, shall be canceled on the records of the department. Section 982 shall apply to that entity.

(c) Upon the termination of an election by a school employer to finance benefits pursuant to Article 6 (commencing with Section 821) of Chapter 3, any favorable balance in the account of the school employer under the election shall be canceled on the records of the department.

CHAPTER 855

An act to amend Section 75.21 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 75.21 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

75.21. (a) Exemptions shall be applied to the amount of the supplemental assessment, provided that the property is not receiving any other exemption on either the current roll or the roll being prepared except as provided for in subdivision (b), that the assessee is eligible for the exemption, and that in those instances in which the provisions of this division require the filing of claims for exemption, the assessee makes a claim for the exemption.

(b) If the property received an exemption on the current roll or the roll being prepared and the assessee on the supplemental roll is eligible for an exemption and in those instances in which the provisions of this division require the filing of claims for exemption, the assessee makes a claim for an exemption of a greater amount, then the difference in the amount between the two exemptions shall be applied to the supplemental assessment.

(c) In those instances in which the provisions of this division require the filing of claims for exemption, except as provided in subdivision (d), any person claiming to be eligible for an exemption to be applied against the amount of the supplemental assessment shall file a claim or an amendment to a current claim, in that form as prescribed by the board, on or before the 30th day following the date of notice of the supplemental assessment, in order to receive 100 percent exemption.

(1) With respect to property as to which the college, cemetery, church, religious, exhibition, veterans' organization, free public libraries, free museums, public schools, community colleges, state colleges, state universities, or welfare exemption was available but for which a timely application for exemption was not filed, the following amounts shall be canceled or refunded:

(A) Ninety percent of any tax or penalty or interest thereon, or any amount of tax or penalty or interest thereon exceeding two hundred fifty dollars ($250) in total amount, whichever is greater, for each supplemental assessment, provided that an appropriate application for exemption is filed on or before the date on which the first installment of taxes on the supplemental tax bill becomes delinquent, as provided by Section 75.52.

(B) Eighty-five percent of any tax or penalty or interest thereon, or any amount of tax or penalty or interest thereon exceeding two hundred fifty dollars ($250) in total amount, whichever is greater, for each supplemental assessment, if an appropriate application for exemption is thereafter filed.

(2) With respect to property as to which the welfare exemption or veterans' organization exemption was available, all provisions of Section 254.5, other than the specified dates for the filing of affidavits and other acts, are applicable to this section.

(3) With respect to property as to which the veterans', homeowners', or disabled veterans' exemption was available but for which a timely application for exemption was not filed, that portion of tax attributable to 80 percent of the amount of exemption available shall be canceled or refunded, provided that an appropriate application for exemption is filed on or before the date on which the first installment of taxes on the supplemental tax bill becomes delinquent, as provided by Section 75.52.

(4) With respect to property as to which any other exemption was available, but for which a timely application for exemption was not filed, the following amounts shall be canceled or refunded:

(A) Ninety percent of any tax or penalty or interest thereon, provided that an appropriate application for exemption is filed on or before the date on which the first installment of taxes on the supplemental tax bill becomes delinquent, as provided by Section 75.52.

(B) Eighty-five percent of any tax or penalty or interest thereon, or any amount of tax or penalty or interest thereon exceeding two hundred fifty dollars ($250) in total amount, whichever is greater, for each supplemental assessment, if an appropriate application for exemption is thereafter filed.

Other provisions of this division pertaining to the late filing of claims for exemption do not apply to assessments made pursuant to this chapter.

(d) For purposes of this section, any claim for the homeowners' exemption previously filed by the owner of a dwelling, granted and in effect, constitutes the claim or claims for the homeowners' exemption required in this section. In the event that no claim for the homeowners' exemption is in effect, a claim for the homeowners' exemption for a single supplemental assessment for a change in ownership or new construction occurring on or after June 1, up to and including February 29, shall apply to that assessment; a claim for the homeowners' exemption for the two supplemental assessments for a change in ownership or new construction occurring on or after March 1, up to and including May 31, one for the current fiscal year and one for the following fiscal year, shall apply to those assessments. In either case, if granted, the claim shall remain in effect until title to the property changes, the owner does not occupy the home as his or her principal place of residence on the lien date, or the property is otherwise ineligible pursuant to Section 218.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 856

An act to amend Section 18951 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to minors.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 18951 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

18951. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Child" means an individual under the age of 18.

(b) "Child services" means services for or on behalf of children which shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(1) Protective services.

(2) Caretaker services.
(3) Day care services which include dropoff care.
(4) Homemaker services or family aides.
(5) Counseling services.

(c) "Adult services" means services for or on behalf of a parent of a child which shall include, but not be limited to, the following:
(1) Access to voluntary placement, long or short term.
(2) Counseling services before and after a crisis.
(3) Homemaker services or family aides.

(d) "Multidisciplinary personnel" means any team of three or more persons who are trained in the prevention, identification and treatment of child abuse and neglect cases and who are qualified to provide a broad range of services related to child abuse. The team may include but not be limited to:
(1) Psychiatrists, psychologists or other trained counseling personnel.
(2) Police officers or other law enforcement agents.
(3) Medical personnel with sufficient training to provide health services.
(4) Social workers with experience or training in child abuse prevention.
(5) Any public or private school teacher, administrative officer, supervisor of child welfare and attendance, or certificated pupil personnel employee.

(e) "Child abuse" as used in this chapter means a situation in which a child suffers from any one or more of the following:
(1) Serious physical injury inflicted upon the child by other than accidental means.
(2) Harm by reason of intentional neglect or malnutrition or sexual abuse.
(3) Going without necessary and basic physical care.
(4) Willful mental injury, negligent treatment, or maltreatment of a child under the age of 18 by a person who is responsible for the child's welfare under circumstances which indicate that the child's health or welfare is harmed or threatened thereby, as determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Director of Social Services.
(5) Any condition which results in the violation of the rights or physical, mental, or moral welfare of a child or jeopardizes the child's present or future health, opportunity for normal development or capacity for independence.

(f) "Parent" means any person who exercises care, custody and control of the child as established by law.

CHAPTER 857

An act to amend Section 16429.1 of the Government Code, relating to bond proceeds of local agencies.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 16429.1 of the Government Code is amended to read:

16429.1. There is in the State Treasury the Local Agency Investment Fund, which fund is hereby created. Notwithstanding Section 13340, all money in the fund is hereby appropriated without regard to fiscal years to carry out the purpose of this section. The Controller shall maintain a separate account for each governmental unit having deposits in this fund.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, a local government official, with consent of the governing body of that agency, having money in its treasury not required for immediate needs, may remit the money to the Treasurer for deposit in the Local Agency Investment Fund for the purpose of investment.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, an officer of any nonprofit corporation whose membership is confined to public agencies or public officials, or an officer of a qualified quasi-governmental agency, with the consent of the governing body of that agency, having money in its treasury not required for immediate needs, may remit the money to the Treasurer for deposit in the Local Agency Investment Fund for the purpose of investment.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law or of this section, a local agency may, with approval of its governing body, deposit in the Local Agency Investment Fund proceeds of the issuance of bonds, notes, certificates of participation, or other evidences of indebtedness of the local agency pending expenditure of the proceeds for the authorized purpose of their issuance. In connection with these deposits of proceeds, the Local Agency Investment Fund is authorized to receive and disburse moneys, and to provide information, directly with or to an authorized officer of a trustee or fiscal agent engaged by the local agency, the Local Agency Investment Fund is authorized to hold investments in the name and for the account of that trustee or fiscal agent, and the Controller shall maintain a separate account for each deposit of proceeds.

The local governmental unit, the nonprofit corporation, or the quasi-governmental agency has the exclusive determination of the length of time its money will be on deposit with the Treasurer.

The trustee or fiscal agent of the local governmental unit has the exclusive determination of the length of time proceeds from the issuance of bonds will be on deposit with the Treasurer.

The Local Investment Advisory Board shall determine those quasi-governmental agencies which qualify to participate in the Local Agency Investment Fund.

The Treasurer may refuse to accept deposits into the fund if, in the judgment of the Treasurer, the deposit would adversely affect the state's portfolio.

The Treasurer may invest the money of the fund in securities prescribed in Section 16430. The Treasurer may elect to have the money of the fund invested through the Surplus Money Investment Fund as provided in Article 4 (commencing with Section 16470) of Chapter 3 of Part 2 of Division 4 of Title 2.

Money in the fund shall be invested to achieve the objective of the fund which is to realize the maximum return consistent with safe and prudent treasury management.

All instruments of title of all investments of the fund shall remain in the Treasurer's vault or be held in safekeeping under control of the Treasurer in any federal reserve bank, or any branch thereof, or the Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco, with any trust company, or the trust department of any state or national bank.

Immediately at the conclusion of each calendar quarter, all interest earned and other increment derived from investments shall be distributed by the Controller to the contributing governmental units or trustees or fiscal agents, nonprofit corporations, and quasi-governmental agencies in amounts directly proportionate to the respective amounts deposited in the Local Agency Investment Fund and the length of time the amounts remained therein. An amount equal to the reasonable costs incurred in carrying out the provisions of this section, not to exceed a maximum of one-half of 1 percent of the earnings of this fund, shall be deducted from the earnings prior to distribution. The amount of this deduction shall be credited as reimbursements to the state agencies having incurred costs in carrying out the provisions of this section.

The Treasurer shall prepare for distribution a monthly report of investments made during the preceding month.

CHAPTER 858

An act to amend Section 798.6 of the Civil Code, and to add Section 65852.11 to the Government Code, relating to land use.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 798.6 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

798.6. "Park" is a manufactured housing community as defined in Section 18801 of the Health and Safety Code, or a mobilehome park.

SEC. 2. Section 65852.11 is added to the Government Code, to read:

65852.11. (a) No city or county, including a charter city, county, or city and county, which has adopted or enacted a local rent control ordinance for mobilehome park spaces, shall adopt or enforce any ordinance, rule, or regulation that prohibits or limits the duration of rental agreements or leases for any space contained within any manufactured housing community, as defined in Section 18801 of the Health and Safety Code, or within any mobilehome park, as defined in Section 18214 of the Health and Safety Code, that is new construction, if the enactment operates to circumvent the provisions of Section 798.7 of the Civil Code.

(b) As used in this section, "new construction" means:

(1) For mobilehome parks, any newly constructed space, pursuant to Section 798.7 of the Civil Code.

(2) For manufactured housing communities, any space initially held out for rent after January 1, 1993.

(c) A mobilehome park that is considered "new construction" pursuant to this section, and that complies with Section 18801 of the Health and Safety Code, may be converted to a manufactured housing community without losing its "new construction" designation.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Sections 44203, 44250, and 44253 of, and to add Sections 44265.7, 44265.8, and 44265.9 to, the Education Code, relating to teacher credentialing, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 44203 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44203. In this chapter the following terms shall be defined as specified in this section:

(a) "Professional teacher certification requirements" means a policy of requiring each beginning teacher to complete a program of planned support and systematic assessment, as determined by the commission, as a condition for earning a professional teaching credential.

(b) "Beginning teacher support" means a combination of assistance, guidance, encouragement, and diagnostic assessment that helps the holders of preliminary teaching credentials to fulfill their professional responsibilities effectively during the first year or two years of classroom teaching, and that satisfies standards of support adopted by the commission.

(c) "Beginning teacher assessment" means a process that has been adopted or approved by the commission for measuring the performances of the holders of preliminary teaching credentials in order to help them improve, and to determine whether their performances satisfy the commission's standards of performance for earning the professional teaching credential.

(d) "Authorization" means the designation that appears on a credential, certificate, or permit that identifies the subjects and circumstances in which the holder of the credential, certificate, or permit may teach, or the services which the holder may render in the public schools of this state.

(e) "Basic teaching credential" means either of the following:

(1) A credential that authorizes the holder to teach the subjects named on the credential, and for which possession of a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited institution and completion of a professional preparation program that includes student teaching are minimum requirements.

(2) A clear designated subjects teaching credential that authorizes the holder to teach the subjects named on the credential on a full-time basis if the holder also possesses a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited institution and has passed the state basic skills proficiency test.

A basic teaching credential meets the prerequisite teaching credential requirement for any other teaching, specialist, or service credential the commission is authorized to issue.

SEC. 2. Section 44250 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44250. The commission shall issue only the following two types of credentials, with authorizations as hereinafter defined:

(a) A teaching credential.

(b) A services credential.

The commission may issue an internship teaching or services credential.

SEC. 3. Section 44253 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44253. The commission may issue a preliminary multiple or single subject teaching credential, for a period not to exceed two years, to any applicant qualifying under Section 44227 pending completion of the requirements in subdivision (a), (b), or (c), or to any applicant for a designated subjects teaching credential pending completion of the requirement in subdivision (c).

(a) A commission-approved subject matter preparation program or examination to verify subject matter competence.

(b) A course or examination on the teaching of reading.

(c) A course or examination on the provisions and principles of the United States Constitution.

SEC. 4. The Legislature finds and declares that:

(a) Deafness is a unique condition that affects the most basic of human needs, the ability to communicate with other human beings. Many deaf and hearing-impaired children use the unique communication mode of sign language as they are unable to effectively use and receive oral speech.

(b) Deaf and hearing-impaired individuals who have experienced the early onset of deafness are part of the potential pool of adults capable of understanding the needs of and effectively teaching deaf and hearing-impaired pupils.

(c) The Commission on Teacher Credentialing has reported on the shortage of special education teachers in California in general and, in particular, on the shortage of teachers qualified to teach deaf and hearing-impaired pupils. The commission also has reported on the decreasing number of individuals enrolled in preparation programs and recommended for specialist and services credentials to teach deaf and hearing-impaired pupils.

(d) In consideration of these findings and declarations, it is the intent of the Legislature that deaf and hearing-impaired individuals be encouraged to enter commission-approved teacher preparation programs. Additionally, qualified fully trained and experienced teachers and counselors of the deaf and hearing impaired who are themselves deaf or hearing impaired should not be prevented from seeking, accepting, or qualifying for teaching and school counseling positions in California due to the nature of their physical impairment.

SEC. 5. Section 44265.7 is added to the Education Code, to read:

44265.7. (a) The Commission on Teacher Credentialing shall issue a two-year nonrenewable preliminary specialist instruction credential, solely for the purpose of instructing deaf or hearing-impaired pupils, to any prelingually deaf candidate upon medical or other appropriate professional verifications.

(b) The minimum requirements for the preliminary specialist instruction credential solely for the purpose of instructing deaf or hearing-impaired pupils are all of the following:

(1) A baccalaureate or higher degree, except a degree in professional education, from a regionally accredited institution of higher education.

(2) Completion of an approved program of professional preparation.

(3) Demonstration of a knowledge of various methods of teaching reading.

(4) Study of alternative methods of developing English language skills, including reading, and the study of integrated methods of teaching language arts.

(5) Completion of a subject matter program that has been approved by the commission on the basis of standards of program quality and effectiveness pursuant to Article 6 (commencing with Section 44310) or passage of a subject matter examination pursuant to Article 5 (commencing with Section 44280).

(6) Demonstration of a knowledge of the principles and provisions of the Constitution of the United States pursuant to Section 44335.

(c) The applicant is exempted from the requirements in Section 44252 and subdivision (b) of Section 44830.

(d) "Prelingually deaf" is defined, for purposes of this section, as having suffered a hearing loss prior to three years of age that prevents the processing of linguistic information through hearing, with or without amplification.

(e) The preliminary specialist instruction credential issued under this section authorizes the holder to teach deaf and hearing-impaired pupils who are enrolled in state special schools or in special classes for pupils with hearing impairments.

SEC. 6. Section 44265.8 is added to the Education Code, to read:

44265.8. (a) The Commission on Teacher Credentialing shall issue a two-year services credential with a specialization in pupil personnel services, solely for the purpose of counseling deaf and hearing-impaired pupils, to any prelingually deaf candidate upon medical or other appropriate professional verifications, provided the candidate has met the minimum requirements specified in Section 44266.

(b) The applicant is exempted from the requirements in Section 44252 and subdivision (b) of Section 44830.

(c) "Prelingually deaf" is defined, for purposes of this section, as having suffered a hearing loss prior to three years of age that prevents the processing of linguistic information through hearing, with or without amplification.

(d) The services credential issued under this section authorizes the holder to serve at all grade levels as a school counselor of deaf and hearing-impaired pupils who are enrolled in state special schools or in special classes for pupils with hearing impairments.

SEC. 7. Section 44265.9 is added to the Education Code, to read:

44265.9. (a) By January 1, 1994, the Commission on Teacher Credentialing shall develop criteria to verify the proficiency of holders of credentials issued pursuant to Sections 44265.7 and 44265.8 in performing the essential functions of their positions.

(b) The school district, county office of education, or state special school that employs a holder of a credential issued pursuant to Section 44265.7 or 44265.8 shall appoint a three-person panel that shall verify the proficiency of holders of credentials issued pursuant to Sections 44265.7 and 44265.8 using the criteria the Commission on Teacher Credentialing develops for this purpose. The panel shall report its findings to the employing school district, county office of education, or state special school which may adopt those findings.

(c) The panel appointed pursuant to subdivision (b) shall consist of the following:

(1) A school administrator selected by school administrators of the employing school district, county office of education, or state special school.

(2) A parent of a deaf or hearing-impaired child selected by a school-related parent group.

(3) A teacher who holds a credential authorizing service to deaf or hearing-impaired pupils selected by teachers at the employing school.

(d) Employing school districts, county offices of education, and state special schools shall ensure that the panel completes the verification of proficiency within two years of the issuance of the credentials issued pursuant to Sections 44265.7 and 44265.8.

(e) Upon verification of proficiency as documented by the employing school district, county office of education, or state special school, the Commission on Teacher Credentialing shall issue a specialist credential, solely for the purpose of instructing deaf and hearing-impaired pupils enrolled in state special schools, or in special classes, or a services credential with a specialization in pupil personnel services, solely for the purpose of counseling deaf and hearing-impaired pupils enrolled in state special schools or in special classes.

SEC. 8. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

Due to the acute shortage of special education teachers in California and of teachers qualified to teach deaf or hearing-impaired pupils and the decreasing number of individuals enrolled in preparation programs and recommended for specialist and services credentials to teach deaf and hearing-impaired pupils, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 860

An act to amend Section 22129 of, and to add and repeal Section 23013 of, the Education Code, relating to the State Teachers' Retirement System, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

I am deleting the $300,000 appropriation from the Teacher's Retirement Fund contained in Senate Bill No. 698.

While it is appropriate to give school districts and community colleges the opportunity to preserve the retirement benefits of their teachers in these difficult fiscal times, the $300,000 appropriation is not justifiable.

The bill provides for participating school districts and community colleges to pay the administrative costs of the program and at the same time appropriates $300,000 from the Teachers' Retirement Fund for this same purpose.

With this deletion, I approve Senate Bill No. 698.

PETE WILSON, Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 22129 of the Education Code is amended to read:

22129. "Final compensation" with respect to a member whose salary has been reduced because of a reduction in school funds means the highest average annual compensation earnable by the member during any three years during his or her membership in the system if the member elects to be subject to this section. For the purposes of this section, a year shall be considered to be a period of 12 consecutive months.

SEC. 2. Section 23013 is added to the Education Code, to read:

23013. (a) In order for an employer to manage its budget during a time of fiscal emergency and, during that time, to preserve benefits for employees who are employed in positions subject to membership in this system and whose salaries, as defined in Section 22114, have been reduced because of the fiscal emergency, the employer may report to the system the earnable and earned salaries that would have been reported to the board had the fiscal emergency not occurred, provided that the employer complies with the specific reporting requirements in this section or as otherwise required by the board.

(b) This section shall not apply to any school district, community college district, or county office of education until the appropriate governing body adopts a resolution, in a form provided by the board, to elect to be covered by this section. The resolution shall be filed with, and approved by, the board prior to the submission of the reports required by this section. The resolution shall specify the percentage reduction in earnable salaries, identify the bargaining unit, or the group or class of unrepresented employees, or both, to be covered by this section, as defined, and specify the period of time during which the resolution is to be in effect.

(c) An employer may resolve to be covered by this section for all employees of a bargaining unit who are employed in positions subject to membership in this system and have had their salaries uniformly reduced because of a fiscal emergency. If the employer adopts a resolution to be covered by this section for all employees in a bargaining unit, the employer may also adopt a resolution to be covered by this section for any group or class of nonrepresented employees who are employed in positions subject to membership in this system and have had their salaries uniformly reduced because of a fiscal emergency. A separate resolution shall be adopted for each bargaining unit and group or class of nonrepresented employees whose earnable and earned salaries will be reported under this section.

(d) The employer shall transmit to the retirement fund the administrative costs incurred by the system in implementing this section, as determined by the Teachers' Retirement Board.

(e) If the board determines that any conditions or requirements of a submitted resolution have not been fulfilled, the resolution shall immediately become inoperative. In that case, a new resolution may be adopted and submitted pursuant to this section.

(f) The earnable salaries prior to the salary reduction and the earned salaries based on the earnable salaries prior to the salary reduction shall be uniformly reported for all employees covered by a resolution.

(g) Member and employer contributions shall be reported and remitted to the system based on salaries reported as earned under this section and not on actual earned salaries after reduction.

(h) Employer reports shall be submitted in a manner prescribed by the system to reflect identification of each individual whose earned salaries are reported under this section.

(i) An employer that elects to be covered by this section shall maintain and provide to the system, as requested, copies of payroll records, contracts, and other related documentation regarding both the reduced and reported earnable and earned salaries on all individuals who are reported under this section. The system may perform periodic audits of each employer that elects to be covered by this section.

(j) The reported earnable and earned salaries of an employee who has taken a demotion in lieu of layoff, or has transferred to a part-time position, or has been subject to any other personnel action for which a reduction in salary occurs for reasons other than the fiscal emergency shall be based on the salary of the new position, not on the higher salary of the previous position.

(k) As used in this section, "group or class of nonrepresented employees" means a number of employees considered together because they share job similarities, work location, or other logical work-elated grouping. Under no circumstances shall one employee be considered a group or class.

(l) It is the intent of the Legislature that this section shall not be used for the purpose of inflating the compensation of any employee who is employed in a position subject to membership in this system, nor to artificially provide a salary increase that is not actually paid, nor to engage in any other form of pension abuse.

(m) This section is repealed as of July 1, 1996, unless a later enacted statute, which becomes effective on or before July 1, 1996, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 3. There is hereby appropriated from the Teachers' Retirement Fund to the Teachers' Retirement Board for expenditure to carry out the purposes of this act, the sum of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000).

CHAPTER 861

An act to add Section 22145.5 to, and to amend Sections 22228, 22400, and 24600 of, the Education Code, relating to public retirement systems, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor October 5, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

I am deleting the $100,000 appropriation from the Teachers' Retirement Fund contained in Assembly Bill No. 447.

This bill would create a new service program for inactive members of the State Teachers' Retirement Fund (STRS) and would relieve STRS from issuing annual statements of account to both active and inactive members for which STRS does not have an address.

I understand that STRS has sufficient administrative flexibility to fund the costs related to this bill from within its existing resources.

With this deletion, I approve Assembly Bill No. 447.

PETE WILSON, Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 22145.5 is added to the Education Code, to read:

22145.5. "Reinstatement" means returning to membership from service or disability retirement, whether or not service is subsequently performed.

SEC. 2. Section 22228 of the Education Code is amended to read:

22228. (a) The board shall issue to each member, after the close of the school year, a statement of his or her individual account, provided the employer or member has informed the system of the member's current mailing address.

(b) The board shall periodically make a good faith effort to locate inactive members to provide these members with information concerning any benefit for which they may be eligible.

For purposes of this section, "inactive member" means a member who, by the report period ending June 30 of a school year, has performed no service during that school year.

SEC. 3. Section 22400 of the Education Code is amended to read:

22400. (a) Each member and beneficiary shall furnish to the board such information affecting his or her status as a member or beneficiary of the system, as the board requires.

(b) A member who has not had any service reported during the prior school year shall provide the system with his or her current mailing address and beneficiary information.

SEC. 4. Section 24600 of the Education Code is amended to read:

24600. (a) The service retirement allowance or disability allowance begins to accrue on the effective date of the retirement or disability.

(b) On the death of a retirant or a person receiving a disability allowance, or when a disability allowance is terminated, or when a retirant is reinstated to membership, the allowance ceases on the day on which the death, allowance termination, or reinstatement occurs.

(c) Family benefits begin to accrue on the day following the day the death of the member occurs and cease on the day of the event which terminates eligibility.

(d) Survivor benefit allowances payable pursuant to Chapter 19.5 (commencing with Section 23850) on account of surviving spouses begin to accrue on the anniversary of the member's 60th birthday or on the day following the day of the member's death, if elected by the surviving spouse, and cease on the day of the surviving spouse's death.

(e) Option benefits begin to accrue on the day following the day the retirant died and cease on the day the death of the beneficiary occurs.

(f) Family allowances payable on account of a full-time student begin to accrue on the day following the day the death of the member occurs. Disability allowances payable on account of a full-time student begin to accrue on the effective date of the disability allowance. The allowances payable on account of a full-time student shall terminate on the first day of the month following the end of the school quarter or semester which was in progress in the month of attainment of age 22. However, any adjustments to a family or disability allowance on account of a full-time student's periods of nonattendance shall be made as follows: the allowance shall cease on the first day of the month in which the nonattendance was initiated and again accrues on the beginning of a subsequent month in which reattendance occurs.

(g) Disability retirement allowances payable pursuant to Chapter 22.5 (commencing with Section 24150) on account of dependent children begin to accrue on the effective date of the retirement allowance and shall terminate on the earlier of termination of the child's eligibility or termination of the disability retirant's eligibility for reasons other than death.

(h) The survivor benefits payable pursuant to Chapter 19.5 (commencing with Section 23850) on account of dependent children begin to accrue on the day following the member's date of death and shall terminate upon termination of the child's eligibility.

(i) Supplemental payments issued pursuant to Sections 24701, 24702, and 24703 to retirants, disabilitants, and beneficiaries shall begin to accrue pursuant to Sections 24701, 24702, and 24703 and shall cease to accrue as of the termination dates specified in subdivisions (a) to (h), inclusive, of this section.

(j) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part or other law, distributions from the system shall be made in accordance with Section 401 (a) (9) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, including the incidental death benefit requirements of Section 401 (a) (9) (G) and the regulations thereunder; and, the required beginning date of benefit payments that represent the entire interest of the member in the system shall be as follows:

(1) In the case of a refund of contributions, as described in Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 23100) of this part, not later than April 1 of the calendar year following the later of (A) the calendar year in which the member attains the age of 70½ years or (B) the calendar year in which the member terminates employment within the meaning of subdivision (k).

(2) In the case of a retirement allowance , as defined in Section 22150, beginning not later than April 1 of the calendar year following the later of (A) the calendar year in which the member attains the age of 70½ years or (B) the calendar year in which the member terminates employment within the meaning of subdivision (k), to continue over the life of the member or the lives of the member and the member's option beneficiary, or over the life expectancy of the member or the life expectancy of the member and the member's option beneficiary.

(k) For purposes of subdivision (j), the phrase "terminates employment" means the later of the termination of employment in a position requiring or permitting membership in this system or the termination of employment in a position requiring or permitting membership in another public retirement system in this state the compensation from which may be included in final compensation under Section 22127.

SEC. 5. There is hereby appropriated the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) from the Teachers' Retirement Fund to the Teachers' Retirement Board for the 1993–94 fiscal year for expenditure for the purposes of costs associated with this act.

CHAPTER 862

An act to amend Sections 6140 and 6140.4 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to the State Bar of California.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6140 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6140. (a) The board shall fix the annual membership fee for 1994 and 1995 as follows:

(1) For active members who have been admitted to the practice of law in this state for three years or longer preceding the first day of February of the year for which the fee is payable, at the sum of two hundred ninety-one dollars ($291).

(2) For active members who have been admitted to the practice of law in this state for less than three years but more than one year preceding the first day of February of the year for which the fee is payable, at the sum of two hundred twenty-three dollars ($223).

(3) For active members who have been admitted to the practice of law in this state during, or for less than one year preceding the first day of February of, the year for which the fee is payable, at a sum not exceeding one hundred ninety-two dollars ($192).

(b) The annual membership fee for active members is payable on or before the first day of February of each year. If the board finds it appropriate and feasible, it may provide by rule for payment of fees on an installment basis with interest, by credit card, or other means, and may charge members choosing any alternative method of payment an additional fee to defray costs incurred by that election.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1996, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered before January 1, 1996, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. Section 6140.4 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6140.4. (a) For 1994 and 1995, the board shall increase the annual membership fee fixed by it pursuant to Section 6140 by an additional fee of one hundred ten dollars ($110) to be used exclusively for discipline augmentation.

(b) This augmentation shall be in addition to existing levels of expenditure for discipline as established during 1987 for 1988.

(c) This section shall remain in effect until January 1, 1996, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered before January 1, 1996, deletes or extends that date.

CHAPTER 863

An act to add Section 6034 to the Business and Professions Code, and to add Section 383 to the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to class actions.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6034 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6034. (a) The State Bar shall establish the California Legal Corps, which shall provide funding and support for preventive law projects, alternative dispute resolution efforts, legal support for victims of disasters, and other activities designed to help improve access to justice for all Californians. The California Legal Corps shall include law school students, active and retired attorneys, and recent law school graduates, participating as volunteers or for a stipend. Members of the California Legal Corps shall conduct preventive law and pro per clinics, community legal education activities, school legal education programs, promote the use of alternative dispute resolution, and otherwise promote access to the legal system.

(b) No funds received by the California Legal Corps pursuant to Section 383 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall be allocated for any of the following:

(1) To pay for any personal service or communication specifically intended or designed to influence (A) the passage or defeat of any state or local ballot initiative, (B) the election or defeat of any candidate for elective political office, (C) any decision of an elected federal, state, or local official, or (D) the passage or defeat of any particular federal, state, or local legislation, except when legal assistance is provided by a California Legal Corps member, fellow, or volunteer on behalf of a recipient of California Legal Corps services on a particular application, claim, or case relating to his or her legal rights or responsibilities.

(2) To institute or promote a class action.

(c) The California Legal Corps shall be administered by the California Legal Corps Commission. The commission shall be composed of 11 members, of whom seven members shall be named by the Board of Governors, two members shall be named by the Governor, one member named by the Senate Rules Committee, and one member named by the Speaker of the Assembly.

(d) The California Legal Corps Commission shall oversee the allocation of funds received pursuant to Section 383 of the Code of Civil Procedure, subject to oversight by the Board of Governors. When utilizing these funds pursuant to this section, appropriate dispute resolution methods that do not involve litigation shall be attempted prior to the initiation of litigation. The commission shall, pursuant to this section and dependent upon the amount of funds received, establish appropriate priorities for the allocation of funds and projects to be funded; provided, however, that programs providing legal assistance and representation for children shall be a high priority of the California Legal Corps.

(e) The Board of Governors shall adopt the regulations and procedures necessary to implement this section and to ensure that the funds allocated to the State Bar pursuant to Section 383 of the Code of Civil Procedure are utilized for the purposes specified in this section. However, no regulations adopted by the Board of Governors that pertain to the California Legal Corps shall be effective until approved by the California Supreme Court.

(f) No member of the California Legal Corps shall engage in the unauthorized practice of law.

(g) The State Bar of California shall report annually prior to April 1 to the Governor and to the judiciary committees of the Legislature on the amount of funds received and expended pursuant to Section 383 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the programs supported by those funds, the amount of funding allocated to each program, and other pertinent information.

(h) Expenditure of any funds granted to the California Legal Corps pursuant to Section 383 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall be periodically audited by the Judicial Council.

SEC. 2. Section 383 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

383. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this section to ensure that the unpaid residuals in class action litigation are distributed, to the extent possible, either in a manner designed to further the purposes of the underlying causes of action, or designed to promote justice for all Californians. The Legislature finds that the use of funds collected by the State Bar pursuant to this section for these purposes is in the public interest, is a proper use of the funds, and is consistent with essential public and governmental purposes.

(b) Prior to the entry of any judgment in a class action established pursuant to Section 382, the court shall determine the total amount that will be payable to all class members, if all class members are paid the amount to which they are entitled pursuant to the judgment. The court shall also set a date when the parties shall report to the court the total amount that was actually paid to the class members. After the report is received, the court shall amend the judgment to direct the defendant to pay the sum of the unpaid residue, plus interest on that sum at the legal rate of interest from the date of entry of the initial judgment, in any manner the court determines is consistent with the objectives and purposes of the underlying cause of action, including to child advocacy programs and to the California Legal Corps, as established pursuant to Section 6034 of the Business and Professions Code. The court shall ensure that notice is given to the State Bar of California of any such order.

(c) Nothing in this section shall create an obligation or pledge of the credit of the State Bar of California. The State Bar, its officers and employees are not liable for damage or injury arising out of any act or omission in the implementation or administration of this section.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 864

An act to, and to add Section 15363.10 to, the Government Code, relating to trade and commerce.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(1) California and its citizens are experiencing the worst economic crises since the Great Depression of the 1930s and face an uncertain economic future that threatens the well-being and prosperity of our great state. More than 800,000 California jobs have been lost since May 1990. Businesses that once viewed California as their only place of business now expand or relocate outside our state in order to control business costs and reduce government interference, and California must more systematically plan for and address our economic development.

(2) Any California recovery has to operate in the context of a rapidly-changing world in which change has become the only constant.

(3) In order to become competitive and prosperous once again, California must effectively address the challenges to realize the promise of a multicultural democracy in a global economy in an age of technology.

(4) California has a multiplicity of economic development programs spread across a variety of cabinet level agencies, departments, offices, and commissions. Business leaders interviewed by the Assembly Democratic Economic Prosperity Team (ADEPT) in over 80 meetings report that these programs often act in an uncoordinated manner and these leaders repeatedly lamented the lack of any plan or strategy which could serve to guide our state's economic development efforts. ADEPT is actively committed to improving this situation.

(5) The Council on California Competitiveness also found that California has no long-term economic plan or expressed state vision regarding economic development. The council, appointed by Governor Wilson, also focused on the impediments to competitiveness in the California business climate. ADEPT and the Council on California Competitiveness both wish to fundamentally improve this situation.

(6) These same business leaders testified that other states are far more organized in retaining and attracting businesses, bringing forth both economic assistance and promotional efforts in a highly organized attack on California's economy.

(7) The Legislature applauds the newly established Trade and Commerce Agency as a crucial first step in California's path to economic recovery.

(8) In addition, based on the lack of coordination among state agencies with regard to the delivery of economic development and business service, the rapidly changing nature of California's industries, and the clearly perceived need of California's business community to collaborate with the state government in economic development, business leaders and all Californians deserve to have a coordinated state economic development strategy plan to apply the state's limited economic development resources to create jobs, retain existing businesses, and for the benefit of all Californians.

(9) In developing this coordinated strategy, state government should include a variety of Californians representing business, labor, and the state's diverse demographic groups.

(10) In developing this economic development strategic plan, ADEPT and the Council on California Competitiveness both recognize the need for a new model of economic governance—collaboration. ADEPT indicated that neither the laissez-faire model nor the command and control model work given California's economic complexities and realities. Only collaboration, the way of trust and partnership, offers California any hope for our future. All Californians must together commit ourselves to becoming collaborative partners for our future economic development.

(b) This act shall be known as the California Economic Development and Strategic Planning Act of 1993.

SEC. 2. Section 15363.10 is added to the Government Code, to read:

15363.10. (a) The secretary shall lead the preparation of a California Economic Development Strategic Plan on or before June 30, 1995. In fulfilling this duty, the secretary shall do the following:

(1) Review the recommendations made by the California

Economic Strategy Panel in their biennial economic development strategic plan document. This document shall make recommendations regarding a California economic development strategic plan for the state, covering a two-year time period and containing a statement of economic goals for the state, a prioritized list identifying significant issues learned from economic development strategic plan panel meetings, proposals for legislation, regulations, and administrative reforms necessary to improve the business climate and economy of the state, and evaluation of the effectiveness of the state's economic development programs, a list of key industries in which the state shall focus its economic development efforts, and strategies to foster job growth and economic development covering all state agencies, offices, boards, and commissions that have economic development responsibilities.

(2) Convene a biennial economic strategy panel to provide recommendations regarding a California economic development strategic plan. This panel shall conduct meetings in Sacramento, all cities of the state with populations over 500,000, and in major cities of other regions of California as designated by the secretary. The secretary shall invite businesses, labor unions, organizations representing the interests of diverse ethnic and gender groups, local government leaders, academic economists and business professors, chambers of commerce and other business organizations, government agencies, and key industries to contribute to the preparation of the recommended economic strategy. These meetings shall address at least the following matters of concern:

(A) Strengths and weaknesses of the California economy and our prospects for our future economic prosperity.

(B) Emerging and declining industries in California and elsewhere.

(C) Effectiveness of California's economic development programs in creating and retaining jobs and attracting industries.

(D) Adequacy of state and local physical and economic infrastructure.

(E) Government impediments to economic development.

(b) The panel shall be composed of the following 15 members:

(1) The Secretary of the Trade and Commerce Agency, who shall serve as chair of the panel.

(2) Eight persons appointed by the Governor.

(3) The Speaker of the Assembly or his or her designee.

(4) The President pro Tempore of the Senate or his or her designee.

(5) The Minority Leader of the Assembly or his or her designee.

(6) The Minority Leader of the Senate or his or her designee.

(7) One person appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly.

(8) One person appointed by the Senate Committee on Rules.

(c) The panel shall be representative of state government, business, labor, finance, and academic institutions, and shall be broadly reflective of the state's population as to gender, ethnicity, and geographic residence within California.

At least one-half of all the persons on the panel shall be from the private sector and at least two appointments shall be from private businesses with less than 50 employees. At least two appointments shall be from rural areas of the state. Appointments to the panel shall expire at the end of the two-year planning horizon of the economic development strategy.

(d) The secretary shall deliver copies of the economic strategy panel's recommended California economic development strategic plan to every constitutional officer, legislator, member of the Governor's cabinet, members of the economic development strategic plan panel, and every state agency, office, board, and commission having economic development responsibilities.

(e) In each succeeding two-year cycle, the secretary shall undertake this process anew, so as to update the economic strategy on or before June 30 of each succeeding second year.

(f) The secretary shall submit, notwithstanding Section 7550.5, an interim report to the Governor and the Legislature and the California public on or before September 1, 1994, that shall include a statement of what will be addressed in the final recommendation of the panel.

CHAPTER 865

An act to add Section 171 to the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 171 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

171. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no interest or penalties shall be imposed or collected with respect to any delinquent installments of property taxes levied for the 1992–93 fiscal year on qualified residential real property.

(b) The county treasurer or tax collector shall not take any collection action, and shall cease any collection action that has commenced, with respect to any delinquent property taxes for the 1992–93 fiscal year that were levied on qualified real property, until on or after January 1, 1994. The treasurer or tax collector may impose any applicable interest and penalties on any delinquent property taxes levied on qualified real property for the 1992–93 fiscal year beginning on or after January 1, 1994, if those taxes or any portion thereof remain delinquent on or after that date.

(c) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Qualified residential real property" means any residential real property that meets all of the following conditions:

(A) No amount of property taxes levied on that property was delinquent at the close of the 1991–92 fiscal year.

(B) The owner of the property suffered economic hardship as a result of the civil unrest that occurred in Los Angeles in April and May, 1992.

(C) The property is eligible for a homeowner's exemption.

(2) An owner shall be deemed to have suffered "economic hardship" if if both of the following occur:

(A) The owner signs a declaration under penalty of perjury under the laws of this state that he or she suffered economic hardship as a result of the civil unrest that occurred in Los Angeles in April and May, 1992.

(B) A business owned by the taxpayer, the taxpayer's primary place of work, or the taxpayer's residence that qualifies for the homeowner's exemption is located in the area designated as the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone pursuant to Government Code Section 7102.

(d) A claim for relief under this section shall be filed by an owner on a form and in the manner as the treasurer or tax collector shall prescribe.

(e) The treasurer or tax collector shall permit any individual entitled to relief under this section who has paid any interest or penalties in connection with delinquent taxes levied for the 1992–93 fiscal year on qualified residential real property prior to filing a claim for relief to also file a claim for refund of the interest and penalties paid on a form and in the manner as the treasurer or tax collector shall prescribe.

SEC. 2. The Legislature finds and declares that this act fulfills a statewide public purpose because this act is consistent with and supplements disaster relief by providing necessary property tax relief to affected taxpayers to allow them to recover from economic damage or repair damage to and restore their homes.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to provide essential and timely property tax relief to those who suffered substantial economic losses as a result of the civil unrest that occurred in Los Angeles in April and May, 1992, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 866

An act to add Section 14076 to the Corporations Code, and to amend Section 7102 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to economic development, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14076 is added to the Corporations Code, to read:

14076. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature that the corporations make maximal use of their statutory authority to guarantee loans and surety bonds, including the authority to secure loans with a minimum loan loss reserve of only 25 percent, so that the financing needs of small business may be met as fully as possible within the limits of corporations' loan loss reserves. The agency shall report annually to the Legislature on the financial status of the corporations and their portfolio of loans and surety bonds guaranteed.

(b) Any corporation that serves an area declared by the Governor or the President to be a disaster area on or after January 1, 1992, or the area affected by the state of emergency declared in Los Angeles on April 29, 1992, shall increase the portfolio of loan guarantees where the dollar amount of the loan is less than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), so that at least 15 percent of the dollar value of loans guaranteed by the corporation is for those loans. The corporation shall comply with this requirement within one year of the date the disaster is declared, or January 1, 1995, whichever is later. Upon application of a corporation, the board may waive or modify the rule for the corporation if the corporation demonstrates that it made a good faith effort to comply and failed to locate lending institutions in the region that the corporation serves that are willing to make guaranteed loans in that amount.

SEC. 2. Section 7102 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

7102. The money in the fund shall, upon order of the Controller, be drawn therefrom for refunds under this part, and pursuant to Section 1793.25 of the Civil Code, or be transferred in the following manner:

(a) (1) All revenues, less refunds, derived under this part at the 4¾-percent rate, including the imposition of sales and use taxes with respect to the sale, storage, use, or other consumption of motor vehicle fuel which would not have been received if the sales and use tax rate had been 5 percent and if motor vehicle fuel, as defined for purposes of the Motor Vehicle Fuel License Tax Law (Part 2 (commencing with Section 7301)), had been exempt from sales and use taxes, shall be estimated by the State Board of Equalization, with the concurrence of the Department of Finance, and shall be transferred quarterly to the Transportation Planning and Development Account, a trust fund in the State Transportation Fund.

(2) All revenues, less refunds, derived under this part at the 4¾-percent rate, resulting from increasing after December 31, 1989, the rate of tax imposed pursuant to the Motor Vehicle Fuel License Tax Law on motor vehicle fuel, as defined for purposes of that law, shall be transferred quarterly to the Transportation Planning and Development Account, a trust fund in the State Transportation Fund.

(3) All revenues, less refunds, derived under this part at the 4¾-percent rate from the imposition of sales and use taxes on fuel, as defined for purposes of the Use Fuel Tax Law (Part 3 (commencing with Section 8601)), shall be estimated by the State Board of Equalization, with the concurrence of the Department of Finance, and shall be transferred quarterly to the Transportation Planning and Development Account, a trust fund in the State Transportation Fund.

(4) All revenues, less refunds, derived under this part from a rate of more than 4¾ percent pursuant to Sections 6051.1 and 6201.1 for the period December 1, 1989, to June 5, 1990, inclusive, shall be transferred to the Disaster Relief Fund created by Section 16419 of the Government Code.

(5) All revenues, less refunds, derived under this part from a rate of more than 4¾ percent pursuant to Sections 6051.1 and 6201.1 for the period June 6, 1990, to December 31, 1990, inclusive, which is attributable to the imposition of sales and use taxes with respect to the sale, storage, use, or other consumption of tangible personal property other than fuel, as defined for purposes of the Use Fuel Tax Law (Part 3 (commencing with Section 8601)), shall be transferred to the Disaster Relief Fund created by Section 16419 of the Government Code.

(6) All revenues, less refunds, derived under this part from a rate of more than 4¾ percent pursuant to Sections 6051.1 and 6201.1 for the period June 6, 1990, to December 31, 1990, inclusive, which is attributable to the imposition of sales and use taxes with respect to the sale, storage, use, or other consumption of fuel, as defined for purposes of the Use Fuel Tax Law (Part 3 (commencing with Section 8601)), shall be transferred to the Disaster Relief Fund created by Section 16419 of the Government Code.

(7) All revenues, less refunds, derived under this part from the taxes imposed pursuant to Sections 6051.2 and 6201.2 shall be transferred to the Sales Tax Account of the Local Revenue Fund for allocation to cities and counties as prescribed by statute.

(8) All revenues, less refunds, derived under this part from the taxes imposed pursuant to Sections 6051.6 and 6201.6 shall be transferred to the Interim Public Safety Account in the Local Public Safety Fund created in Section 30051 of the Government Code for allocation to counties as prescribed by statute.

(9) All revenues, less refunds, derived from the taxes imposed pursuant to Section 35 of Article XIII of the California Constitution shall be transferred to the Public Safety Account in the Local Public Safety Fund created in Section 30051 of the Government Code for allocation to counties as prescribed by statute.

(10) An amount equal to all revenues, less refunds, derived under this part at a 4¾-percent rate for the period between January 1, 1994, and July 1, 1994, from the increase in sales and use tax revenue attributable to the increase in the rate of the federal motor vehicle fuel tax between January 1, 1993, and the rate in effect on January 1, 1994, shall be estimated by the State Board of Equalization, with the concurrence of the Department of Finance, and an amount equal to that amount, but not exceeding seven million five hundred thousand dollars ($7,500,000) shall be transferred from the Retail Sales Tax Fund to the Small Business Expansion Fund created by Article 5 (commencing with Section 14030) of Chapter 1 of Part 5 of Division 3 of Title 1 of the Corporations Code.

(b) The balance shall be transferred to the General Fund.

(c) The estimates required by subdivision (a) shall be based on taxable transactions occurring during a calendar year, and the transfers required by subdivision (a) shall be made during the fiscal year that commences during that same calendar year. Transfers required by paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of subdivision (a) shall be made quarterly.

(d) The Legislature may amend this section, by statute passed in each house of the Legislature by rollcall vote entered in the journal, two-thirds of the membership concurring, if the statute is consistent with, and furthers the purposes of this section.

CHAPTER 867

An act to amend Section 15396.1 of the Government Code, relating to economic development.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 15396.1 of the Government Code is amended to read:

15396.1. Loan guarantees and insured export transactions made by the California Export Finance Office shall be secured by no less than a 25 percent reserve in the Export Finance Fund. The board may elect to require a higher reserve. The board shall adopt regulations on the terms and limits for loan guarantees, but in no case shall a loan guarantee exceed any of the following:

(a) Seventy percent of the required financing. However, the board may elect to guarantee up to 90 percent of the required financing provided there is evidence of lender credit exposure and adequate analysis of foreign commercial and political risk.

(b) Seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000).

(c) The lesser of five years or the useful life of the product.

CHAPTER 868

An act to amend Sections 7093.5 and 19442 of, and to add and repeal Section 5108 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares the following:

(a) Tax incentive proposals, when specifically targeted and carefully drawn up, may be a significant force in spurring economic development in California. The Legislature has found in its meetings with California businesses from across the state that tax incentives may assist in retaining business expansion and job growth in California.

(b) Any effective economic development proposal must be meaningful to the target company; that is, it must be targeted and of sufficient magnitude to make a difference in the decisionmaking process of a company to locate or relocate its operations.

(c) The personal property tax, particularly for high-tech manufacturing facilities, is one of the largest fixed costs that must be faced by companies. Moreover, it is highest exactly at the point where factories are their least profitable—at the outset when most factories are operating at a loss. Several states address this problem by "phasing in" personal property taxes on new manufacturing facilities. The Legislature believes such a system would be beneficial to California's economic development.

SEC. 2. Section 5108 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

5108. (a) For the 1994–95 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, the governing body of a local agency shall have the authority, by a majority vote of that governing body, to rebate some or all of the property tax revenue that the local agency would receive from economic revitalization manufacturing property for a period of five fiscal years from the date the property was placed in service.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Economic revitalization manufacturing property" means tangible personal property that meets all of the following requirements:

(A) The property is directly involved in the manufacturing process in this state, and not in a preliminary or subsequent activity, or one incidental to manufacturing.

(B) Use of the property will lead to the creation of at least 10 new full-time manufacturing jobs or positions at salary levels of at least ten dollars ($10) per hour (twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) per year), and those jobs or positions will continue in existence for a continuous five-year period.

(C) A majority of the governing body of the local agency makes a finding, in its sole discretion, that the property is used in conjunction with the establishment or expansion of a manufacturing project or facility within the local agency's jurisdiction, and that the property meets the requirements of subparagraphs (A) and (B). In this connection, a majority of the governing body is hereby authorized, but not required, to make the finding specified herein, and thereby authorize the rebate provided pursuant to this section.

(2) "Manufacturing process" means the activity of converting or conditioning property by changing the form, composition, quality, or character of the property for ultimate sale at retail or use in the manufacturing of a product to be ultimately sold at retail.

(3) "Ten or more new employees" means an increase by 10 or more of the total number of employees, as defined in Section 621 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, employed by the taxpayer in this state. The increase in the total number of employees employed in this state shall be determined by subtracting the total number of employees the taxpayer employed in the previous fiscal year from the total number of employees the taxpayer employed in the current fiscal year. The total number of employees employed in this state shall equal the sum of both of the following:

(A) The total number of hours worked by employees in this state for the taxpayer who are paid an hourly wage divided by the applicable hours per work year.

(B) The total number of months worked by salaried employees in this state for the taxpayer divided by the applicable months per work year.

(4) "Applicable work year" means with respect to a worker paid an hourly wage, 2,000 paid hours and, with respect to a salaried employee, a total of 12 paid months. The applicable work year, in the case of a manufacturing project or facility that becomes operational during the year, shall be the amounts in the foregoing sentence multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of months of the year that the project or facility was operational and the denominator of which is 12.

An employee shall be deemed to be employed at a manufacturing project or facility if he or she utilizes the project or facility as his or her principal place of business.

(5) "Local agency" means a city, county, city and county, or special district, excluding any school district.

(c) If at any time within five years after granting a rebate pursuant to this section, the governing body finds that the recipient taxpayer has not complied with the conditions of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b), the governing body may recapture from that taxpayer all or any portion of the amount rebated.

(d) This section shall apply only to property that is placed in service on or after January 1, 1994.

(e) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 2000, and on that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 2000, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 3. Section 7093.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 155 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

7093.5. (a) (1) In addition to the authority provided by Section 7093 and subject to paragraph (2), the executive director or chief counsel, if authorized by the executive director, of the board may recommend to the State Board of Equalization, itself, a settlement of any civil tax matter disputes.

(2) No recommendation of settlement shall be submitted to the board unless and until that recommendation has been submitted by the executive director or chief counsel to the Attorney General. Within 30 days of receiving that recommendation, the Attorney General shall review the recommendation and advise in writing the executive director or chief counsel of the board of his or her conclusions as to whether the recommendation is reasonable from an overall perspective. The executive director or chief counsel shall, with each recommendation of settlement submitted to the board, also submit the Attorney General's written conclusions obtained pursuant to this paragraph.

(3) The members of the board shall not participate in the settlement of these tax matters, except as provided in subdivision (c).

(b) Whenever a reduction of tax in excess of five hundred dollars

($500) is approved pursuant to this section, there shall be placed on file in the office of the executive director of the board a public record with respect to that settlement. The public record shall include all of the following information:

(1) The name or names of the taxpayers who are parties to the settlement.

(2) The total amount involved.

(3) The amount payable or refundable pursuant to the settlement.

(4) A summary of the reasons why the settlement is in the best interests of the State of California.

(5) The Attorney General's conclusion as to whether the recommendation of settlement was reasonable from an overall perspective.

The public record shall not include any information that relates to any trade secret, patent, process, style of work, apparatus, business secret, or organizational structure that, if disclosed, would adversely affect the taxpayer or the national defense.

(c) (1) Any recommendation for settlement shall be approved or disapproved by the board, itself, within 45 days of the submission of that recommendation to the board. Any recommendation for settlement that is not either approved or disapproved by the board within 45 days of the submission of that recommendation shall be deemed approved. Upon approval of a recommendation for settlement, the matter shall be referred back to the executive director or chief counsel in accordance with the decision of the board.

(2) Disapproval of a recommendation for settlement shall be made only by a majority vote of the board. Where the board disapproves a recommendation for settlement, the matter shall be remanded to board staff for further negotiation, and may be resubmitted to the board, in the same manner and subject to the same requirements as the initial submission, at the discretion of the executive director or chief counsel.

(d) All settlements entered into pursuant to this section shall be final and nonappealable, except upon a showing of fraud or misrepresentation with respect to a material fact.

(e) Any proceedings undertaken by the board itself pursuant to a settlement as described in this section shall be conducted in a closed session or sessions. Except as provided in subdivision (b), any settlement entered into pursuant to this section shall constitute confidential tax information for purposes of Section 7056.

(f) This section shall apply only to civil tax matter disputes existing on January 1, 1994, with respect to which recommendations for settlement, pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a), are first submitted to the Attorney General no later than June 30, 1994, and are first submitted to the board no later than September 15, 1994.

With respect to civil tax matter disputes that did not exist on September 1, 1993, but that existed on January 1, 1994, this section shall apply only to determinations issued during that interval and to payments made pursuant to those determinations.

(g) The Legislature finds that it is essential for fiscal purposes that the settlement program authorized by this section be expeditiously implemented. Accordingly, Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code shall not apply to any determination, rule, notice, or guideline established or issued by the board in implementing and administering the settlement program authorized by this section.

SEC. 4. Section 19442 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 75 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

19442. (a) (1) Subject to paragraph (2), the executive officer or chief counsel, if authorized by the executive officer, of the Franchise Tax Board may recommend to the Franchise Tax Board, itself, a settlement of any civil tax matter disputes.

(2) No recommendation of settlement shall be submitted to the Franchise Tax Board unless and until that recommendation has been submitted by the executive officer or chief counsel to the Attorney General. Within 30 days of receiving that recommendation, the Attorney General shall review the recommendation and advise in writing the executive officer or chief counsel of the Franchise Tax Board of his or her conclusions as to whether the recommendation is reasonable from an overall perspective. The executive officer or chief counsel shall, with each recommendation of settlement submitted to the Franchise Tax Board, also submit the Attorney General's written conclusions obtained pursuant to this paragraph.

(3) The members of the Franchise Tax Board shall not participate in the settlement of these tax matters, except as provided in subdivision (c).

(b) Whenever a reduction of tax in excess of five hundred dollars ($500) is approved pursuant to this section, there shall be placed on file in the office of the executive officer of the Franchise Tax Board a public record with respect to that settlement. The public record shall include all of the following information:

(1) The name or names of the taxpayers who are parties to the settlement.

(2) The total amount involved.

(3) The amount payable or refundable pursuant to the settlement.

(4) A summary of the reasons why the settlement is in the best interests of the State of California.

(5) The Attorney General's conclusion as to whether the recommendation of settlement was reasonable from an overall perspective.

The public record shall not include any information that relates to any trade secret, patent, process, style of work, apparatus, business secret, or organizational structure, that if disclosed, would adversely affect the taxpayer or the national defense.

(c) (1) Any recommendation for settlement shall be approved or disapproved by the Franchise Tax Board, itself, within 45 days of the submission of that recommendation to the board. Any recommendation for settlement that is not either approved or disapproved by the board within 45 days of the submission of that recommendation shall be deemed approved. Upon approval of a recommendation for settlement, the matter shall be referred back to the executive officer or chief counsel in accordance with the decision of the Franchise Tax Board.

(2) Disapproval of a recommendation for settlement shall be made only by a majority vote of the Franchise Tax Board. Where the Franchise Tax Board disapproves a recommendation for settlement, the matter shall be remanded to board staff for further negotiation, and may be resubmitted to the Franchise Tax Board, in the same manner and subject to the same requirements as the initial submission, at the discretion of the executive officer or chief counsel.

(d) All settlements entered into pursuant to this section shall be final and nonappealable, except upon a showing of fraud or misrepresentation with respect to a material fact.

(e) Any proceedings undertaken by the Franchise Tax Board itself pursuant to a settlement as described in this section shall be conducted in a closed session or sessions. Except as provided in subdivision (b), any settlement entered into pursuant to this section shall constitute confidential tax information for purposes of Article 2 (commencing with Section 19542) of Chapter 7.

(f) This section shall apply only to civil tax matter disputes existing on January 1, 1994, with respect to which recommendations for settlement, pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a), are first submitted to the Attorney General no later than June 30, 1994, and are first submitted to the Franchise Tax Board no later than September 15, 1994.

With respect to civil tax matter disputes that did not exist on September 1, 1993, but that existed on January 1, 1994, this section shall apply only to determinations issued during that interval and to payments made pursuant to those determinations.

(g) The Legislature finds that it is essential for fiscal purposes that the settlement program authorized by this section be expeditiously implemented. Accordingly, Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code shall not apply to any determination, rule, notice, or guideline established or issued by the Franchise Tax Board in implementing and administering the settlement program authorized by this section.

CHAPTER 869

An act to amend Sections 15330, 15373.1, 15373.2, 15373.7, and 15373.8 of, and to add Section 15373.71 to, the Government Code, relating to rural economic development.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 15330 of the Government Code is amended to read:

15330. The Trade and Commerce Agency shall be the principal state agency responsible for:

(a) Coordinating federal-state-local relationships in economic development, the continual evaluation of the impact of policies and programs affecting economic development, and encouraging the full utilization of programs available for assisting the residents of the state and local public entities in satisfying the economic development needs of the state.

(b) Applying for and allocating federal funds available under the Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965, as amended, and such other federal funds as may be available which will promote and assist economic development in the state.

(c) Assisting state agencies, offices, and departments to implement the state economic policy pursuant to Part 12 (commencing with Section 15900) of Division 3 of Title 2 and serving as an advisory agency to the Governor in the preparation of the Economic Report of the Governor as required by Section 15901.

(d) Responding to inquiries and providing statistics and other information on the economy, visitor attractions, international trade, products and processes, and services provided by the department.

(e) The agency in carrying out its responsibilities shall make maximum use of base data and studies currently being prepared and distributed by other state agencies. It shall avoid duplication of these efforts where possible.

(f) Assisting employees of a business or place of work in the formation of an employee-owned corporation, as defined by Section 91502.1, at that business or place of work, at the request of the employees and when that business or place of work is closing or is in danger of closing, by providing technical assistance, information, or access to sources of financing. The responsibilities created by this subdivision shall be permissive in the absence of nonstate funds unless state funds are specifically authorized by the Legislature for the purposes of this subdivision.

(g) Marketing California as a cost-effective and advantageous place for businesses to locate or expand. This subdivision shall not be construed to require any local government to participate, except in a voluntary manner, in this program.

(h) In order to defray costs to the General Fund of providing publications, as defined in Section 14902, when warranted in the opinion of the secretary, the agency may charge fees to cover estimated printing and mailing costs for publications, except for publications distributed pursuant to Sections 14900, 14901, 14903, 14904, 14905.1, and 14907.

(i) The agency may enter into agreements pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 6500) of Division 7 of Title 1.

The agency may adopt and enforce rules and regulations in order to implement the above responsibilities.

SEC. 2. Section 15373.1 of the Government Code is amended to read:

15373.1. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in this section govern the construction of this chapter.

(a) "County" means either of the following:

(1) A county with both 200,000 or less in population according to the most recent federal decennial census and an average annual unemployment rate equal to or greater than the state's annual average unemployment rate as determined by the Employment Development Department.

(2) A county with both 600,000 or less in population according to the most recent federal decennial census and an average annual unemployment rate of 130 percent or greater than the state's annual average unemployment rate as determined by the Employment Development Department.

(b) "Agency" means the Trade and Commerce Agency.

(c) "Fund" means the Rural Economic Development Fund.

(d) "Local agency" means any of the following:

(1) A county as defined in subdivision (a).

(2) Any city within a county as defined in subdivision (a).

(3) A county that is not defined in subdivision (a) or a city which is outside of an urbanized area as designated in the most recent federal decennial census and which is within that county.

(e) "Panel" means the Rural Economic Development Infrastructure Panel.

(f) "City" means either of the following:

(1) Any city within a county defined in subdivision (a).

(2) Any city with a population less than 100,000, located in a county in which the ratio of resource-based wage- and salary-employment exceeds 125 percent of the statewide average.

(g) "Retained job" means a job associated with a firm which, but for the infrastructure funded through provisions of this chapter, would reduce or cease operation in its current location.

SEC. 3. Section 15373.2 of the Government Code is amended to read:

15373.2. (a) In order to carry out this chapter, there is hereby created in the State Treasury the Rural Economic Development Fund.

(b) The fund shall receive state funds appropriated to it, repayment of loans and interest on those loans pursuant to this chapter, interest which accrues to the moneys in the fund pursuant to subdivision (c), fees or charges pursuant to subdivision (d), and penalties prescribed by the panel.

(c) (1) The Treasurer shall invest moneys contained in the fund not needed to meet current obligations in the same manner as other public funds are invested. The moneys resulting from this investment shall be used to support the three rural small business assistance and development centers previously established through the department and the Employment Development Department. The department shall grant these interest moneys to the centers upon request to provide for the continued operation of the centers.

(2) If sufficient interest moneys are not available at a time when the centers require additional funds, the department shall lend the centers necessary funds from the Rural Economic Development Fund, if the expected interest earnings from the fund will repay the loans. Funds received under this subdivision shall not be considered when the department reviews and approves applications pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 15397.3). Each center shall receive a maximum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) each fiscal year.

(3) Interest earnings in excess of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) per fiscal year shall be available for expenditure by the department pursuant to this chapter. The expenditures of these interest earnings in excess of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) shall include the costs associated with the provision of ongoing legal counsel to the Infrastructure Review Panel, created pursuant to Article 5 (commencing with Section 15373.6) and reimbursement of expenses incurred by designated panel members while in the conduct of official panel business. The interest earnings in excess of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) may also be used by the department for administrative support and local assistance costs of activities consistent with the purposes of this chapter.

(4) In addition to centers specified in paragraph (1), centers which are located in a county subject to this chapter may also be funded from interest earnings in an amount not to exceed two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) annually for all additional centers, if there are sufficient funds available after support is provided for the three existing rural centers, and after the funding of other priorities established by this chapter.

(5) If sufficient interest earnings are available after support is provided to centers specified in paragraphs (1) and (4), and to other priorities established by this chapter, an amount not to exceed seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) annually may be used for support of the California Main Street Program (Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 15399)). Services rendered as a result of this increased support shall be targeted for Main Street

Demonstration and Self-Initiated Cities in counties subject to this chapter.

(d) In order to defray costs to the agency for administration of Article 5 (commencing with Section 15373.6), the agency may impose reasonable charges on all applications, and approved loans. The agency may use these fees or other charges for those costs necessary to protect the state's position as a lender-creditor. These costs include, but are not limited to, foreclosure expenses, auction fees, title searches, appraisals, real estate brokerage fees, removal and storage for repossessed equipment and inventory, and additional expenditures to purchase a senior lien in foreclosure or bankruptcy proceedings.

(e) Notwithstanding Section 13340, all moneys in the fund are continuously appropriated to, and shall remain available for expenditure by, the agency for the purposes of this chapter only until July 1, 1994, and on that date any remaining funds shall revert to the Special Account for Capital Outlay.

(f) Unless deemed appropriate by the local agency, no money in the fund shall be used in lieu of any existing state infrastructure financing program, including, but not limited to, the State Transportation Improvement Program or the Clean Water Bond Program.

SEC. 4. Section 15373.7 of the Government Code is amended to read:

15373.7. (a) The program shall be guided by the Rural Economic Development Infrastructure Panel, which is hereby created. The panel shall consist of the Secretary of the Trade and Commerce Agency, who shall serve as chairperson, the Secretary of the Business, Transportation and Housing Agency, and the Director of the Office of Local Government Affairs in the Governor's Office of Planning and Research. In addition, the panel shall consist of two public members with expertise in the economic development of rural areas. One public member shall be appointed by the Senate Rules Committee and the other shall be appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly.

(b) The panel shall do all of the following:

(1) Establish guidelines and rules to carry out the purposes of this article. This shall include establishing criteria for projects in addition to those specified in this article.

(2) Request assistance and information from any department, division, board, commission, or other agency of the state as the panel may need to carry out the purposes of this article.

(3) Prepare and promulgate regulations to carry out the purposes of this article.

(4) Adopt bylaws for the regulation of its affairs and conduct of its business.

SEC. 5. Section 15373.71 is added to the Government Code to read:

15373.71. (a) The agency may issue its bonds through the panel, from time to time, in the principal amount that the agency determines is necessary to provide sufficient funds for the purposes specified in this article and for establishment of reserves to secure the bonds and other expenditures of the agency incident to, and necessary or convenient to, issuance of the bonds.

(b) The aggregate principal amount of bonds that may be outstanding at any time pursuant to this section shall not exceed the aggregate principal amount of obligations outstanding pursuant to this article exclusive of bonds issued to refund previously issued bonds of the agency.

(c) Every issue of bonds shall be revenue obligations of the agency payable only out of moneys in the fund, or held pursuant to a trust agreement, subject only to any agreements with the holders of particular bonds pledging any particular assets, revenues, or moneys.

(d) Any bonds issued under this article may be secured by a trust agreement, indenture, or resolution by and between the agency and a trustee, which shall be a bank or trust company chartered under the laws of this state or of the United States.

(e) The bonds shall be authorized by resolution or resolutions of the panel, shall be in the form, shall bear date or dates, and shall mature at the time or times as the resolution or resolutions may provide, except that no bond shall mature more than 50 years from the date of its issue. The bonds shall bear interest at the rate or rates, be in the denominations, be in the form, be executed in the manner, be payable in the medium of payment at the place or places within or without the state, be subject to the terms of redemption and contain the terms and conditions as the resolution or resolutions may provide. The bonds of the agency shall be sold at public or private sale by the Treasurer at, above, or below the par value, on the terms and conditions and for the consideration as the agency shall determine by resolution prior to the sale.

(f) Whenever the agency deems that it will increase the salability or the price of the bonds to obtain, prior to or after sale, a legal opinion, other than that of the Attorney General, as to the validity of the bonds, or as to the exclusion of interest on the bonds from gross income for federal income tax purposes, the agency may obtain a legal opinion, including authorizing the Treasurer to obtain a legal opinion. Payment for the legal services may be made out of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds.

(g) The agency may employ financial consultants, advisers, and accountants as may be necessary in its judgment in connection with the issuance and sale of any bonds of the agency. Payment for these services may be made out of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds.

(h) Notwithstanding Section 13340, if the bond is payable from a fund, amounts necessary to pay debt service for any bonds or notes issued pursuant to this part are hereby appropriated without regard to fiscal years from the fund.

(i) Section 10295 and Sections 10335 to 10382, inclusive, of the Public Contract Code shall not apply to agreements entered into by the agency or the Treasurer in connection with the sale of bonds or notes authorized under this part.

(j) The bonds issued under this article shall be special obligations of the agency secured solely by the revenues received from the loans made pursuant to this article. No bond issued or sold pursuant to this article shall be or become a lien, charge, or liability against the State of California or against its property or funds except to the extent of the pledges expressly made by this article. Every bond issued pursuant to this article shall contain a recital on the face thereof stating that neither the payment of the principal nor any part thereof, nor any interest thereon, constitutes a debt, liability, or general obligation of the State of California other than as provided in this article. The agency has no power at any time or in any manner to pledge the credit or taxing power of the state or any of its local agencies, other than as provided in this article.

(k) Bonds issued pursuant to this article are a legal investment for any state special or trust fund notwithstanding any provision of law limiting the investments that may be made by the special or trust fund. The bonds of the agency shall be legal investments in which all public officers and public bodies of the state, its political subdivisions, all municipalities and municipal subdivisions, all insurance companies and associations and other persons carrying on an insurance business, all banks, savings and loan associations, savings banks and savings associations, investment companies, all administrators, guardians, executors, trustees and other fiduciaries, and all other persons authorized to invest in bonds or in other obligations of the state, may properly and legally invest funds, including capital, in their control or belonging to them. The bonds may be used as security for public deposits. The bonds are also securities that may properly and legally be deposited with and received by all public officers and bodies of the state or any agency or political subdivision of the state and all municipalities and public corporations for any purpose for which the deposit of bonds or other obligations of the state is authorized by law, including deposits to secured public funds.

(l) Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, this article provides a complete, separate, additional, and alternative method for the doing of the things authorized by this article, and is supplemental and additional to powers conferred by other laws.

SEC. 6. Section 15373.8 of the Government Code is amended to read:

15373.8. (a) The panel shall meet regularly to conduct its business and to review and approve projects pursuant to this article for funding from the Rural Economic Development Fund. The panel shall make a decision on any application within 90 days after a local agency submits the application to the agency. This financing shall be in the form of loans.

Loans shall be limited to a maximum of two million dollars ($2,000,000) per project. The terms of any approved loan shall be specified in a loan agreement between the local agency and the panel. Repayment of loans shall begin within nine months of the date of the loan and shall be made semiannually. The local agency shall pay interest at a rate specified in the loan agreement. Any loan approved for a local agency shall not be considered debt within the meaning of Section 18 of Article XVI of the California Constitution.

(b) Loans may be made to a local agency for projects which meet the criteria specified in Section 15373.9, for the purpose of assisting in financing public improvements, including, but not limited to, sewer and water facilities, streets, storm drains, bridges, and related costs, including, but not limited to, engineering design and financing costs, including, but not limited to, underwriter, bond counsel, issuance costs, funded reserve, interest, and credit enhancements. Funds may be used for the development of new facilities, or the rehabilitation, alteration, expansion, or improvement of existing facilities.

(c) Preliminary design work, including a cost estimate for the project, shall be completed before a loan is awarded. Costs for preliminary design work, project cost estimates, planning, preliminary engineering, and other costs necessary for preparation of the application may be reimbursed from a loan, subject to approval by the panel.

(d) First priority projects financed under this article shall meet all of the following requirements:

(1) Be associated with either an expansion, retention, relocation, or new location of an identified private sector firm. This firm shall be a manufacturing, service, research and development, production, assembly, warehousing, or industrial distribution facility. Commercial business activity, as well as tourist and recreation facilities, which are found by the panel to significantly increase permanent private sector employment and substantially improve the economic prosperity of an area may also qualify the project.

(2) Directly lead to the creation or retention of permanent private sector jobs within the applicant's jurisdictional boundaries. Projects shall also create or retain at least one full-time job for every fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) in loan funds received except in the case of research and development facilities in which the economic job creation standard shall be set by the panel.

(e) First priority loans may also be made, pursuant to this article and under criteria established by the agency, to local agencies in high unemployment areas to develop infrastructure for industrial parks or other sites for businesses where there is no specific business already committed to the project, when the agency determines that there is little likelihood of business expansion into the community prior to the development of the parks or sites, and that the loan has a high probability of leading to the creation or retention of permanent private sector jobs within the applicant's jurisdictional boundaries. The loan cannot exceed five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000).

(f) Loans may not finance projects which would either affect the relocation of any substantial operations of the company from one area of the state to another, or result in the abandonment of any substantial operations of the company within other areas of the state, unless completion of the project or operation of the facility is reasonably necessary to prevent the relocation of any substantial operations of the company from an area within the state to an area outside the state.

(g) The agency may pool and sell the loans and evidences of indebtedness related thereto.

(h) In the event that insufficient first priority loans are available to complete a bond in a timely manner, the agency shall be authorized to finance projects which do not comply with subdivisions (d) and (e). In the event the loans are financed, priority shall be given to projects likely to result in job creation within two years of completing the project.

CHAPTER 870

An act to amend Sections 11340 and 11342 of, and to add Section 11343.2 to, the Government Code, relating to administrative regulations.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11340 of the Government Code is amended to read:

11340. The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

(a) There has been an unprecedented growth in the number of administrative regulations in recent years.

(b) The language of many regulations is frequently unclear and unnecessarily complex, even when the complicated and technical nature of the subject matter is taken into account. The language is often confusing to the persons who must comply with the regulations.

(c) Substantial time and public funds have been spent in adopting regulations, the necessity for which has not been established.

(d) The imposition of prescriptive standards upon private persons and entities through regulations where the establishment of performance standards could reasonably be expected to produce the same result has placed an unnecessary burden on California citizens and discouraged innovation, research, and development of improved means of achieving desirable social goals.

(e) There exists no central office in state government with the power and duty to review regulations to ensure that they are written in a comprehensible manner, are authorized by statute, and are consistent with other law.

(f) Correcting the problems that have been caused by the unprecedented growth of regulations in California requires the direct involvement of the Legislature as well as that of the executive branch of state government.

(g) The complexity and lack of clarity in many regulations put small businesses, which do not have the resources to hire experts to assist them, at a distinct disadvantage.

SEC. 2. Section 11342 of the Government Code is amended to read:

11342. In this chapter, unless otherwise specifically indicated, the following definitions apply:

(a) "State agency" and "agency" does not include an agency in the judicial or legislative departments of the state government.

(b) "Regulation" means every rule, regulation, order, or standard of general application or the amendment, supplement, or revision of any rule, regulation, order, or standard adopted by any state agency to implement, interpret, or make specific the law enforced or administered by it, or to govern its procedure, except one that relates only to the internal management of the state agency. "Regulation" does not mean or include legal rulings of counsel issued by the Franchise Tax Board or State Board of Equalization, or any form prescribed by a state agency or any instructions relating to the use of the form, but this provision is not a limitation upon any requirement that a regulation be adopted pursuant to this part when one is needed to implement the law under which the form is issued.

(c) "Order of repeal" means any resolution, order or other official act of a state agency that expressly repeals a regulation in whole or in part.

(d) "Office" means the Office of Administrative Law.

(e) "Small business" means:

(1) A business activity, unless excluded in paragraph (2), that is all of the following:

(A) Independently owned and operated.

(B) Not dominant in its field of operation.

(C) Not exceeding the following annual gross receipts in the categories of:

(i) Agriculture, one million dollars ($1,000,000).

(ii) General construction, nine million five hundred thousand dollars ($9,500,000).

(iii) Special trade construction, five million dollars ($5,000,000).

(iv) Retail trade, two million dollars ($2,000,000).

(v) Wholesale trade, nine million five hundred thousand dollars ($9,500,000).

(vi) Services, two million dollars ($2,000,000).

(vii) Transportation and warehousing, one million five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000).

(D) A manufacturing enterprise not exceeding 250 employees.

(E) A health care facility not exceeding 150 beds or one million five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000) in annual gross receipts.

(F) Generating and transmitting electric power not exceeding 4.5 million kilowatt hours annually.

(2) The following professional and business activities shall not be considered a small business for purposes of this act:

(A) Financial institutions including banks, trusts, savings and loan associations, thrift institutions, consumer and industrial finance companies, credit unions, mortgage and investment bankers, and stock and bond brokers.

(B) Insurance companies, both stock and mutual.

(C) Mineral, oil, and gas brokers; subdividers and developers.

(D) Landscape architects, architects, and building designers.

(E) Entities organized as nonprofit institutions.

(F) Entertainment activities and productions including motion pictures, stage performances, television and radio stations, and production companies.

(G) All utilities, water companies, and power transmission companies, except electrical power generating transmission companies providing less than 4.5 million kilowatt hours annually.

(H) All petroleum and natural gas producers, refiners and pipelines.

(f) "Plain English" means language that can be interpreted by a person who has no more than an eighth grade level of proficiency in English.

SEC. 3. Section 11343.2 is added to the Government Code, to read:

11343.2. Beginning January 1, 1994, when proposing to adopt or amend a regulation that affects small business, a state agency shall do all of the following:

(a) Adopt a plain English policy statement overview regarding each proposed regulation that would explain all of the following:

(1) The broad objectives of the proposed regulation.

(2) The specific objectives of the proposed regulation, if appropriate.

(b) Draft the regulations in plain English, and if it is not feasible to do so due to the technical nature of the regulation, make available to the public a noncontrolling plain English summary of the regulation.

CHAPTER 871

An act to amend Sections 14010, 14021, 14022, 14024, 14025, 14026, 14028, 14030, 14037, 14037.5, 14040, 14041, 14045, 14047, 14048, 14050, 14052, 14056, 14062, 14064, 14070, 14071, 14074, 14075, 14097, 14098, and 14099 of, and to repeal Sections 14042, 14092, 14093, 14100, and 14101 of, the Corporations Code, relating to economic development.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14010 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14010. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in this section govern the construction of this part.

(a) "Corporation" or "the corporation" means any nonprofit California small business development corporation created pursuant to this part.

(b) "Financial institution" means banking organizations including national banks and trust companies authorized to conduct business in California and state-chartered commercial banks, trust companies, and savings and loan associations.

(c) "Financial company" means banking organizations including national banks and trust companies, savings and loan associations, state insurance companies, mutual insurance companies, and other banking, lending, retirement, and insurance organizations.

(d) "Expansion Fund" means the Small Business Expansion Fund.

(e) "Corporate fund" means the Small Business Development Corporation Loan Guarantee Fund.

(f) "Loan Account" means the Small Business Development Loan Guarantee Account.

(g) Unless otherwise defined by the board by regulation, "small business loan" means a loan to a business defined as an eligible small business as set forth in Section 121.3-10 of Part 121 of Chapter 1 of Title 13 of the Code of Federal Regulations, including those businesses organized for agricultural purposes that create or retain employment as a result of the loan. From time to time, the executive director, in consultation with the board, shall provide guidelines as to the preferred ratio of jobs created or retained to total funds borrowed for guidance to the corporations.

(h) "Employment incentive loan" means a loan to a qualified business, as defined in subdivision (h) of Section 7082 of the Government Code, or to a business located within an enterprise zone, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 7072 of the Government Code.

(i) "Loan committee" means a committee appointed by the board of directors of a corporation to determine the course of action on a loan application pursuant to Section 14060.

(j) "Board of directors" means the board of directors of the corporation.

(k) "OSB" and "office" means the Office of Small Business.

(l) "Board" means the Small Business Development Board.

(m) "Agency" means the Trade and Commerce Agency.

(n) "Executive director" means the Executive Director of the Office of Small Business.

(o) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Trade and Commerce.

SEC. 2. Section 14021 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14021. The board consists of the following membership:

(a) The Superintendent of Banks or his or her designee.

(b) The Secretary of Trade and Commerce or his or her designee.

(c) The Director of Food and Agriculture or his or her designee.

(d) The Director of the Employment Development Department or his or her designee.

(e) The President of the State Assistance Fund for Energy, California Business and Industrial Development Corporation (SAFE BIDCO) shall serve as an ex officio nonvoting member.

(f) The Director of the California Export Finance Office, California State World Trade Commission shall serve as an ex officio nonvoting member.

(g) The Chief of the Office of Small and Minority Business, Department of General Services shall serve as an ex officio nonvoting member.

(h) The California Small Business Advocate shall serve as an ex officio nonvoting member.

(i) The Chairperson of the Coalition of California Small Business Development Centers shall serve as an ex officio nonvoting member.

(j) Thirteen members appointed by the Governor, including:

(1) Two persons residing in economically disadvantaged areas who are actively engaged in providing leadership and assistance for persons residing in these areas; one each from an urban and rural area.

(2) Two persons to be recommended by the financial institutions participating in the program as of January 1 of each year.

(3) Two persons actively engaged in a commercial, agricultural, or industrial business and who are members of a small, agricultural, minority, or women's business association.

(4) One person who is an officer of an urban labor organization.

(5) One person experienced in financial matters or actively engaged in the banking, savings and loan, or insurance business.

(k) Two Members of the Legislature or their designees, one of whom shall be appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly, and one by the Senate Rules Committee, shall advise with the board insofar as it does not conflict with the duties of the legislators. For purposes of this part, the two Members of the Legislature shall constitute a joint interim legislative committee on the subject of this part and shall have all the powers and duties imposed upon these committees by the Joint Rules of the Senate and the Assembly.

(l) Four persons actively involved in the business or agricultural community, two of whom shall be appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly, and two by the Senate Rules Committee, each of whom may be removed at the pleasure of the appointing authority.

(m) One person from each small business development corporation, who shall be selected by the board of directors or members of each corporation in accordance with its bylaws, each of whom shall serve as a nonvoting member of the board.

(n) The Chairperson of the Development Board shall be designated by the Governor from the members he or she appoints.

SEC. 3. Section 14022 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14022. The board shall do each of the following:

(a) Advise the executive director on matters regarding this part.

(b) Adopt regulations for the purposes of this part, as proposed by the executive director, including regulations for the supervision and suspension of the corporations created herein.

(c) Select a vice chairperson of the board and adopt bylaws as are required to govern the conduct and operation of the board.

(d) Approve new corporations recommended by the executive director, based on an examination of each of the following:

(1) Review of the articles of incorporation and bylaws of the corporation to determine whether they contain the provisions required by this chapter and conform with the regulations adopted pursuant to this part.

(2) Determination as to whether the legislative intent expressed in Section 14002 shall be served by the proposed corporation.

(3) Determination as to whether the responsibility, character, and general fitness of the individuals who will manage the corporation are such as to command the confidence of the state and to warrant the belief that the business of the proposed corporation will be honestly and efficiently conducted in accordance with the intent and purpose of this chapter and that they include representatives of the financial and business community, as well as the economically disadvantaged.

(e) Review and approve the yearly contracts between the corporations and OSB.

(f) Recommend to the executive director the appointment of advisory groups necessary to carry out the powers and duties of the agency.

(g) Hold public hearings in order to carry out the objectives of the agency in regards to its responsibilities as legislative advocate and ombudsman for the state's small business community.

(h) Solicit nominees and recommend to the Governor candidates for the position of executive director.

(i) Advise the Governor, the executive director, and the Small Business Advocate, regarding issues and programs affecting California's small business community, including, but not limited to, business innovation and expansion, export financing, state procurement, management and technical assistance, venture capital, and financial assistance.

SEC. 4. Section 14024 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14024. The agency shall adopt regulations concerning the implementation of direct lending as emergency regulations in accordance with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, except for regulations concerning the implementation of Section 14070, which the board shall adopt as emergency regulations. The adoption of these regulations is an emergency and necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, or general welfare within the meaning of subdivision (b) of Section 11346.1 of the Government Code. Notwithstanding subdivision (e) of Section 11346.1 of the Government Code, the regulations shall not remain in effect for more than 180 days unless the agency complies with all provisions of Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, as required by subdivision (e) of Section 11346.1 of the Government Code. This section applies to any direct loan program administered by the office.

SEC. 5. Section 14025 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14025. The executive director, as provided for in Section 15335.07 of the Government Code, shall do all of the following:

(a) Administer this part.

(b) In accordance with program resources, stimulate the formation of corporations and the use of branch offices for the purposes of making this program accessible to all areas of the state.

(c) Expeditiously approve or disapprove the articles of incorporation and any subsequent amendments to the articles of incorporation of a corporation.

(d) Require each corporation to submit an annual written plan of operation in the form and containing the information as the board may require by regulation or otherwise.

(e) Review reports from the State Banking Department and inform corporations as to what corrective action is required.

(f) Examine, or cause to be examined, at any reasonable time, all books, records, and documents of every kind, and the physical properties of a corporation. The inspection shall include the right to make copies, extracts, and search records.

SEC. 6. Section 14026 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14026. The executive director, following notification to the secretary, may do all of the following:

(a) Upon approval by the board, contract for services entered into pursuant to this chapter.

(b) Hold public hearings.

(c) Act as liaison between corporations formed under this part, other state and federal agencies, lenders, and the Legislature.

(d) Process and tabulate on a monthly basis all corporate reports.

(e) Attend monthly board meetings.

(f) Attend and participate at corporation meetings. The executive director, or his or her designee, shall be an ex officio, nonvoting representative on the board of directors and loan committees of each corporation.

(g) Assist corporations in applying for federal grant applications, and in obtaining program support from the business community.

SEC. 7. Section 14028 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14028. (a) Upon a finding by the executive director that irreparable harm may occur if guarantee authority is not temporarily withdrawn from a corporation, the executive director may temporarily withdraw guarantee authority from a corporation. As used in this section, "guarantee authority" means the authority to make or guarantee any loan which encumbers funds in a corporate fund. The executive director shall call an emergency board meeting within 10 working days following the effective date of the temporary withdrawal, at which the board shall make one of the determinations specified in subdivision (c). The corporation's yearly contract shall remain in effect during the period of temporary withdrawal, and the corporation shall continue to receive reimbursement of necessary operating expenses.

(b) Failure of a corporation to substantially comply with the following may result in the suspension of a corporation:

(1) Regulations implementing the Small Business Development Corporation Law.

(2) The plan of operation specified in subdivision (d) of Section 14025.

(3) Fiscal and portfolio requirements, as contained in the fiscal and portfolio audits specified in Section 14027.

(4) Milestones and scope of work as contained in the annual contract between the corporation and the agency.

(c) The executive director, upon a finding that a corporation has failed to comply with the requirements specified in subdivision (b), may recommend to the board the suspension of a corporation. The determinations which may be made by the board are to do the following:

(1) Disapprove the requested suspension.

(2) Disapprove the requested suspension subject to the corporation's adoption of a specified remedial action plan.

(3) Temporarily withdraw, or continue to withdraw, guarantee authority until a specified time. This determination by the board requires a finding that the corporation has failed to comply with the Small Business Development Corporation Law.

(4) Suspend the corporation, effective immediately.

(5) Suspend the corporation, with suspension stayed until the corporation provides a remedial action plan to the board, and the board decides whether to repeal or implement the stayed suspension. The determinations contained in paragraphs (4) and (5) require a finding that irreparable harm will occur unless the corporation is suspended. Except as described in Section 14029, a decision by the board to suspend a corporation is final and without administrative appeal.

(d) In considering a determination regarding the recommended suspension and possible remedial action plans, the board shall consider, along with other criteria as specified in subdivision (b), the extent to which the corporation has generally complied with the intent of this chapter, including the legislative intent expressed in Section 14002.

(e) If the board votes to suspend a corporation, the executive director shall transfer all funds, whether encumbered or not, in the corporate account of the suspended corporation into either the expansion fund or temporarily transfer the funds to another corporation.

(f) Following suspension, the corporation may continue its existence as a nonprofit corporation pursuant to the Nonprofit Public Benefit Corporation Law, Part 2 (commencing with Section 5110) of Division 2, but shall no longer be registered with the Secretary of State as a small business development corporation. A corporation shall not enjoy any of the benefits of a small business development corporation following suspension.

(g) The funds in the corporate fund of a corporation under temporary withdrawal shall be transferred to the expansion fund. Upon termination of the temporary withdrawal, unless the termination is caused by suspension, the funds of the corporation that were transferred to the expansion fund from the corporate fund shall be returned to the corporation's corporate fund, notwithstanding Section 14037. While the funds of a corporation's corporate fund reside in the expansion fund, use of the principal on the funds shall be governed by the implementing regulations specifying use of funds in the expansion fund. Interest on the funds moved from a corporation's corporate fund upon temporary withdrawal shall be limited to payment of the corporation's administrative expenses, as contained in the contract between the corporation and the agency.

SEC. 8. Section 14030 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14030. There is hereby created in the State Treasury the Small Business Expansion Fund. All or a portion of the funds in the expansion fund may be paid out, with the approval of the Department of Finance, to lending institutions or financial companies. This fund shall be used to pay for defaulted loan guarantees issued pursuant to Section 14045, and administrative costs of corporations. The amount of guarantee liability outstanding at any one time shall not exceed four times the amount of funds on deposit in the expansion fund, including each of the loan accounts and corporate funds within the expansion fund.

SEC. 9. Section 14037 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14037. (a) All money deposited in the loan account is hereby appropriated, without regard to fiscal years for the purposes of this chapter. The state shall not be liable or obligated in any way beyond the state money which is allocated and deposited in the loan account from state money which is appropriated for these purposes.

(b) Funds appropriated to the expansion fund after January 1, 1993, shall remain in the expansion fund and shall not be transferred to any loan accounts or corporate funds. The board shall establish regulations determining the ratio of expansion fund to corporate fund moneys in any guarantee. The percentage of funds guaranteed by the expansion fund shall increase as leveraging increases, and for those corporations maintaining an acceptable default rate.

SEC. 10. Section 14037.5 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14037.5. The Director of Finance, with the approval of the Governor, may transfer moneys in the Special Fund for Economic Uncertainties to the Small Business Expansion Fund for use by the Office of Small Business in the agency, in an amount necessary to make loan guarantees pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 14000) of Part 5 of Division 3 of Title 1 of the Corporations Code.

SEC. 11. Section 14040 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14040. Each corporate fund is a legally separate fund, and the assets of one fund shall not be used to satisfy loan guarantees or other obligations of another corporation. No corporation shall use corporate funds to secure a corporate indebtedness. Corporate funds are state funds and, with exception of guarantees established pursuant to this chapter, shall not be subject to liens or encumbrances of the corporation or its creditors.

SEC. 12. Section 14041 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14041. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (c) and (d) of Section 14070, the funds within the expansion fund, including the corporate funds and loan accounts, shall be used solely to make and guarantee loans , approved by the corporation, that meet the California Small Business Development Corporation Law loan criteria. The state shall not be liable or obligated in any way as a result of the allocation of state money to a corporate fund beyond the state money which is allocated and deposited in the fund pursuant to this chapter, and which is not otherwise withdrawn by the state pursuant to this chapter.

(b) A summary of all loans to which a state guarantee is attached shall be submitted to the executive director upon completion of the loan agreement.

SEC. 13. Section 14042 of the Corporations Code is repealed.

SEC. 14. Section 14045 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14045. Upon approval by the board to become a corporation, the entity shall adopt or amend its articles of incorporation to comply with the following:

(a) The name of the corporation shall include the words "small business development corporation," except for those corporations formed pursuant to this part prior to 1985, which may also be called "rural or urban development corporations."

(b) The purposes for which the corporation is formed, which shall be those specified in Section 14002. This requirement shall not be deemed to preclude a statement of powers.

(c) A geographical description of the corporation's service area.

(d) The name and addresses of seven or more persons who are to act in the capacity of directors until the selection of their successors.

(e) That the corporation is organized pursuant to the California Small Business Development Corporation Law.

SEC. 15. Section 14047 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14047. The corporation's existence as a small business development corporation begins upon the filing of the articles with the Secretary of State and continues perpetually, unless otherwise expressly provided for by law.

SEC. 16. Section 14048 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14048. Any request for proposal for selection of a corporation shall require the winning bidder to adopt or amend its bylaws to include provisions governing the election and qualification of directors; the establishment and functions of loan committees of the corporation; and the method of selecting the representative of the corporation on the board.

The bylaws shall provide for removal of officers only by a two-thirds vote of the directors of the corporation.

SEC. 17. Section 14050 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14050. The board may authorize the establishment of a new corporation using a request for proposal process.

SEC. 18. Section 14052 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14052. For six months following the establishment of a corporation, commencing upon filing of the articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State, a corporation shall be on probation. While on probation, a corporation can be suspended if suspension is recommended by the executive director and approved by the board. This suspension is nonappealable and not subject to the procedures for suspension applicable to a corporation not on probation.

SEC. 19. Section 14056 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14056. Any request for proposal for selection of a corporation shall require the winning bidder to adopt or amend its bylaws to state that:

(a) No person shall serve on a board of directors who is not a resident of or person conducting business in the service area described in the articles of incorporation.

(b) Each board of directors shall include representatives from all of the following:

(1) The financial community.

(2) The business community.

(3) The economically disadvantaged.

SEC. 20. Section 14062 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14062. Reasonable costs incurred by a corporation in the creation and maintenance of a central staff shall be paid to the corporation from state funds including a portion of the interest earned on the expansion fund and the corporation's corporate account, if the corporation has a corporate account, otherwise, on the expansion fund.

SEC. 21. Section 14064 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14064. The use of state funds paid out to the corporate fund and the return on those funds from investment pursuant to Section 14038 is conditional pursuant to Sections 14028 and 14039. Each corporation shall enter into a written signed agreement with the state at the beginning of each fiscal year. The agreement shall govern the activities in which the corporations engage, the investment of state funds and its return, and the budgeted administrative expenses the corporations may incur. In the event the state and corporation do not reach an agreement, or the state finds the corporation has violated the terms of an active agreement, the state may take action under Sections 14028 and 14039 or other action as appropriate. In the event the state and corporation do not reach agreement or the state finds the corporation has violated the terms of an active agreement, the corporation shall have no authority to withdraw or encumber the corporate fund or the return of those funds by the issuance of guarantees, by incurring expenses against the fund and its return in any manner whatsoever, and the state may take action under Sections 14028 and 14039 or other action as appropriate. Any such guarantee or other encumbrance made by the corporation in violation of this section shall be null and void, and neither the state nor the corporate fund will be liable therefor.

SEC. 22. Section 14070 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14070. (a) The corporate guarantee shall be backed by funds on deposit in the corporation's corporate fund and the expansion fund established pursuant to Section 14040.

(b) Loan guarantees shall be secured by a reserve of at least 25 percent to be determined by the executive director with the approval of the board. The guarantee percentage rate shall be set by the executive director upon approval of the board.

(c) The expansion fund and corporate accounts shall be used exclusively to guarantee obligations and pay the administrative costs of the corporations, except that a corporation located in a rural area may utilize the funds for direct lending to farmers as long as at least 90 percent of the corporate fund farm loans, calculated by dollar amount, and all expansion fund farm loans are guaranteed by the United States Farmers Home Administration. The amount of funds available for direct farm lending shall be determined by the executive director. In its capacity as a direct lender, the corporation may sell in the secondary market the guaranteed portion of each loan so as to raise additional funds for direct lending. The agency, in consultation with the board, shall issue regulations governing these direct loans, including the maximum amount of these loans.

(d) In furtherance of the purposes of this part, up to one-half of the corporate funds may be used to guarantee loans utilized to establish a Business and Industrial Development Corporation (BIDCO) under Division 15 (commencing with Section 33000) of the Financial Code.

(e) To execute the direct loan programs established in this chapter, the Office of Small Business may loan trust funds to a corporation located in a rural area for the express purpose of lending those funds to an identified borrower. The loan by the Office of Small Business to the corporation shall be on terms similar to the loan between the corporation and the borrower. The amount of the loan may be in excess of the amount of a loan to any individual farm borrower, but actual disbursements pursuant to the Office of Small Business loan agreement shall be required to be supported by a loan agreement between the farm borrower and the corporation in an amount at least equal to the requested disbursement. The loan between the Office of Small Business and the corporation shall be evidenced by a credit agreement. In the event that any loan between the corporation and borrower is not guaranteed by a governmental agency, the portion of the credit agreement attributable to that loan shall be secured by assignment of any note, executed in favor of the corporation by the borrower, to the Office of Small Business. The terms and conditions of the credit agreement shall be similar to the loan agreement between the corporation and the borrower which shall be collateralized by the note between the corporation and the borrower. In the absence of fraud on the part of the corporation, the liability of the corporation to repay the loan to the Office of Small Business is limited to the repayment received by the corporation from the borrower except in a case where the Farmers Home Administration requires exposure by the corporation in rule or regulation. The corporation may use trust funds for loan repayment to the Office of Small Business if the corporation has exhausted a loan loss reserve created for this purpose. Interest and principal received by the Office of Small Business from the Corporation shall be deposited into the same account from which the funds were originally borrowed.

SEC. 23. Section 14071 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14071. In furtherance of the purposes set forth in Section 14002, a corporation may do any one or more of the following activities, but only to the extent that the activities are authorized pursuant to the contract between the agency and corporation: guarantee, endorse, or act as surety on the bonds, notes, contracts, or other obligations of, or assist financially, any person, firm, corporation, or association, and may establish and regulate the terms and conditions with respect to any such loans or financial assistance and the charges for interest and service connected therewith, except that the corporation shall not make or guarantee any loan unless and until it determines:

(a) There is no probability that the loan or other financial assistance would be granted by a financial company under reasonable terms or conditions, and the borrower has demonstrated a reasonable prospect of repayment of the loan.

(b) The loan proceeds shall be used exclusively in this state.

(c) The loan qualifies as a small business loan or an employment incentive loan.

(d) That the borrower has a minimum equity interest in the business as determined by the board.

(e) As a result of the loan, the jobs generated or retained demonstrate reasonable conformance to the regulations specifying employment criteria.

SEC. 24. Section 14074 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14074. The agency shall enter into an agreement with the California Energy Extension Service of the Office of Planning and Research to assist small business owners in reducing their energy costs through low interest loans and by providing assistance and information.

SEC. 25. Section 14075 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14075. (a) A corporation may, in an area designated as a disaster area by the Governor, provide loan guarantees from funds allocated in Section 14037.5 to small businesses, small farms, nurseries, and agriculture-related enterprises which have suffered actual physical damage or significant economic injury as a result of the disaster.

(b) The agency may adopt regulations to implement the loan guarantee program authorized by this section. The agency may adopt these regulations as emergency regulations in accordance with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of the Government Code, and for purposes of that chapter, including Section 11349.6, the adoption of the regulations shall be considered by the Office of Administrative Law to be necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and general welfare. Notwithstanding subdivision (e) of Section 11346.1 of the Government Code, the regulations shall be repealed within 180 days after their effective date unless the agency complies with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of the Government Code, as provided in subdivision (e) of Section 11346.1 of the Government Code.

(c) Allocations pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be deemed to be for extraordinary emergency or disaster response operations costs incurred by the Office of Small Business.

SEC. 26. Section 14092 of the Corporations Code is repealed.

SEC. 27. Section 14093 of the Corporations Code is repealed.

SEC. 28. Section 14097 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14097. (a) The money in the Hazardous Waste Reduction Loan Account shall be expended by the agency to make loans to generators for equipment, projects, or facilities to be used for the reduction of hazardous waste generated.

(b) The agency may enter into a contract with a corporation to provide services pursuant to this article and may expend the funds in the Hazardous Waste Reduction Loan Account resulting from interest accruing from interest payments on loans made pursuant to this article or from the interest earned by the Hazardous Waste Reduction Loan Account to compensate a corporation for these services.

(c) The agency may expend an amount of not more than one hundred thirty thousand dollars ($130,000) in any fiscal year for administrative expenses in carrying out this article, from the funds in the Hazardous Waste Reduction Loan Account derived from interest accruing from interest payments by the borrower or interest earned in the account.

(d) The agency may also transfer an amount not to exceed two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) from the Hazardous Waste Reduction Loan Account to a subaccount from which the department may pay for collection costs in connection with defaulted loans, including costs reasonably incurred to prevent a default.

SEC. 29. Section 14098 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14098. The State Department of Toxic Substances shall, before a loan commitment is issued, approve the project to be funded.

SEC. 30. Section 14099 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14099. The State Department of Toxic Substances and the Department of Commerce shall publicize and promote the availability of loan assistance pursuant to this article.

SEC. 31. Section 14100 of the Corporations Code is repealed.

SEC. 32. Section 14101 of the Corporations Code is repealed.

CHAPTER 872

An act to add Section 227 to, and to add Article 2.5 (commencing with Section 230) to Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 1 of, the Food and Agricultural Code, relating to agriculture.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 227 is added to the Food and Agricultural Code, to read:

227. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in order to avoid unnecessary charges and to provide for efficient program implementation, the fees and assessments required by law to be paid to the director or the Department of Food and Agriculture Fund to support the agricultural programs specified in subdivision (b) of Section 230, except those specified in Article 5 (commencing with Section 6001) of Chapter 9 of Part 1 of Division 4 and Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 44971) of Division 17, may be deposited in the Department of Food and Agriculture Fund, or with an entity that is (1) a bank or other depository approved by the Department of Finance, (2) a marketing order board or commission created pursuant to this code, or (3) another state agency, designated by the agricultural program's advisory body, if any. The director may designate that entity if an advisory body has not been created by statute for an agricultural program. All unencumbered funds in the Department of Food and Agriculture Fund and the Agriculture Trust Fund, including income therefrom, that have been collected pursuant to the agricultural program may also be deposited with the designated entity.

(b) The funds deposited with the designated entity shall be expended exclusively for the purpose of implementing and continuing the agricultural program for which they were collected.

(c) Prior to the deposit of any funds with an entity designated pursuant to subdivision (a), the entity shall enter into an agreement with the department that shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following requirements:

(1) The entity shall serve as custodian for the safekeeping of the funds.

(2) Funds deposited with the entity shall be encumbered for the exclusive purpose of implementing and continuing the agricultural program for which they were collected.

(3) Funds deposited with the entity shall be subject to an audit at least once every two years by an auditor selected by the director. A copy of the audit shall be provided to the director within 30 days of completion of the audit.

(4) The department shall be reimbursed for all expenses it incurs that are reasonably related to implementing and continuing the agricultural program for which the funds were collected in accordance with the agreement. When practicable, as determined by the department, the designated entity shall deposit advance payments for these expenses with the department.

(5) The entity shall maintain a reserve in an amount sufficient to pay for costs arising from unanticipated occurrences associated with the administration of the program.

(d) In transferring funds from the department to any entity pursuant to subdivision (a), the director shall not be personally liable in any way for errors in judgment, mistakes, or other acts, either by commission or omission, except for his or her own individual acts of dishonesty or crime.

SEC. 2. Article 2.5 (commencing with Section 230) is added to Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 1 of the Food and Agricultural Code, to read:

Article 2.5. Agriculture Trust Fund

230. As used in this article:

(a) "Advisory body" means the advisory body for each individual agriculture program.

(b) "Agriculture programs" means the programs specified in Section 221, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 5301) of Division 4, Sections 6037, 6038, and 9641.5, Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 29001) of Division 13, Division 15 (commencing with Section 32501), Article 6.5 (commencing with Section 42801) of Chapter 2 of Division 17, and Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 46000) of Division 17.

(c) "Trust fund" means the Agriculture Trust Fund created pursuant to Section 232.

231. The Legislature finds and declares that the maintenance of agriculture funded programs described in subdivision (b) of Section 230 is necessary to ensure the consuming public of a continuous and safe supply of food and fiber and is affected with a public interest. This article is enacted in the exercise of the police power of this state for the purpose of protecting the health and welfare of the people of this state.

232. The Agriculture Trust Fund is hereby created. The trust fund is not a fund of the State Treasury. Transfers to the trust fund may be deposited in the State Treasury, or in a bank or other depository approved by the Department of Finance. Funds that are so transferred are exempt from Sections 11270 and 11272 of the Government Code and shall be deposited and disbursed only to pay for attorney's fees and other costs incurred in litigation involving the trust fund, expenses generated by the auditing requirement imposed by Section 240, and for the costs set forth in Section 242.

233. (a) The trust fund consists of moneys transferred by the director from the Department of Food and Agriculture Fund, including all income therefrom. The amount of funds, excluding interest earned thereon, contained in the trust fund shall be determined by the director, and shall be the same percentage for all agricultural programs, but shall not exceed 10 percent of the annual operating budgets of each agricultural program. Funds in excess of 10 percent of the annual operating budgets of each agricultural program that are in the trust fund, or such other lesser percentage as the director may determine, may be returned to the Department of Food and Agriculture Fund.

(b) The director shall establish separate accounts in the trust fund for the money transferred to the fund from each of the agricultural program accounts in the Department of Food and Agriculture Fund. The trust accounts shall be used by the Department of Food and Agriculture Fund for expenditure when necessary for the exclusive purpose of implementing and continuing any of the agriculture programs with money contained in the trust fund.

234. The trust fund is created for the exclusive purpose of implementing and continuing the agricultural programs for which the funds were collected.

235. Each agricultural program specified in subdivision (b) of Section 230 with contained in the Department of Food and Agriculture Fund shall participate in the trust fund unless an entity is designated pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 227 or Section 6005 or 45021.

236. The beneficiaries of the trust are the agricultural programs with money contained in the trust fund.

237. The trust fund shall continue in existence for as long as any of the agricultural programs specified in subdivision (b) of Section 230 continues to exist. Upon termination of any of those agricultural programs, all of that program's remaining funds, exclusive of all financial obligations of that program, shall be returned on a pro rata basis to all persons from whom assessments or fees were collected for purposes of that program in the immediately preceding marketing season. However, if the director finds that the amounts returnable are so small as to make impractical the computation and remitting of a pro rata refund to those persons, any funds remaining after payment of all expenses shall be paid to any existing state or federally authorized agricultural program relating to the same industry. If no such program exists, any remaining money shall be paid to the Department of Food and Agriculture Fund. If the account of a terminating agricultural program is insufficient to meet all financial obligations, the director may borrow a pro rata share from all other accounts in the trust fund to pay those obligations. The director shall collect a supplemental assessment from all persons from whom assessments or fees were collected for the purposes of the program being terminated in the immediately preceding marketing seasons to reimburse the trust fund. Upon the termination of all the agricultural programs specified in subdivision (b) of Section 230, the trustee shall transfer the remaining funds to the Department of Food and Agriculture Fund.

238. It is hereby declared, as a matter of legislative determination, that the advisory body for each of the identified agricultural programs is intended to represent and further the interest of a particular agricultural industry concerned, and that this representation and furtherance is intended to serve the public interest. Accordingly, the Legislature finds that, with respect to persons who are appointed to any advisory body, the particular agricultural industry concerned is tantamount to, and constitutes, the public generally within the meaning of Section 87103 of the Government Code.

239. The chairperson of each advisory body shall advise the director on the administration of the trust fund, including, but not limited to, the amount of the fund to be applied to program closures, unanticipated occurrences, and replenishment.

240. All trust fund activities shall be subject to an audit at least once every two years by an auditing firm selected by the director in accordance with Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 10290) of Part 2 of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code. A copy of the audit shall be delivered to the director within 30 days after completion.

241. Any money that is deposited pursuant to Section 232, which the director determines is available for investment, may be invested or reinvested in any of the securities described in Article 1 (commencing with Section 16430) of Chapter 3 of Part 2 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

242. The moneys in the trust fund shall be disbursed only to pay for costs arising from unanticipated occurrences associated with administering self-funded programs. These costs shall include, but are not limited to: attorney costs related to litigation; workers' compensation costs; unemployment costs; phaseout costs of existing programs; and temporary funding for programs that are implementing a fee increase. Any program using the moneys from the trust fund shall repay the trust fund based on a schedule approved by the director.

In addition to the costs specified above, the director may impose a charge in the amount necessary to cover the department's costs in administering this article.

243. This article shall be liberally construed. If any provision of this article or the application, thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the article that can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this article are severable.

CHAPTER 873

An act to amend Sections 17024.5, 17052.11, 17062, 17063, 17081, 17088, 17131, 17260, 17265, 17321, 17501, 17504, 17551, 17681, 17731, 17851, 18031, 18036, 18151, 18934, 23051.5, 23400, 23456, 23603, 23800, 24422, 24451, 24601, 24831, 24870, 24871, 24872, 24916, and 24990 of, to add Sections 17139, 17256, 17870, 18165, 24326, 24356.5, 24990.6, and 26081.5 to, to repeal and add Sections 17087.5 and 17201 of, and to repeal Sections 17682, 17683, 17740, 17940, 24832, and 24833 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17024.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17024.5. (a) (1) Unless otherwise specifically provided, the terms "Internal Revenue Code," "Internal Revenue Code of 1954," or "Internal Revenue Code of 1986," for purposes of this part, mean Title 26 of the United States Code, including all amendments thereto as enacted on the specified date for the applicable taxable year as follows:

Taxable Year	Specified Date of Internal Revenue Code Sections
(A) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1983, and on or before December 31, 1983	January 15, 1983
(B) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1984, and on or before December 31, 1984	January 1, 1984
(C) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1985, and on or before December 31, 1985	January 1, 1985
(D) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1986, and on or before December 31, 1986	January 1, 1986
(E) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1987, and on or before December 31, 1988	January 1, 1987
(F) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1989, and on or before December 31, 1989	January 1, 1989
(G) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1990, and on or before December 31, 1990	January 1, 1990

(H) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and on or before December 31, 1991	January 1, 1991
(I) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1992, and on or before December 31, 1992	January 1, 1992
(J) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1993	January 1, 1993

(2) Unless otherwise specifically provided, for federal laws enacted on or after January 1, 1987, and on or before the specified date for the taxable year, uncodified provisions that relate to provisions of the Internal Revenue Code that are incorporated for purposes of this part shall be applicable to the same taxable years as the incorporated provisions.

(3) Subtitle G (Tax Technical Corrections) and Part I of Subtitle H (Repeal of Expired or Obsolete Provisions) of the Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1990 (Public Law 101-508) modified numerous provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and provisions of prior federal acts, some of which are incorporated by reference into this part. Unless otherwise provided, the provisions described in the preceding sentence, to the extent that they modify provisions that are incorporated into this part, are declaratory of existing law and shall be applied in the same manner and for the same periods as specified in the Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1990.

(b) Unless otherwise specifically provided, when applying any section of the Internal Revenue Code for purposes of this part, any provision that refers to any of the following shall not be applicable for purposes of this part:

(1) Except as provided in Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 23800) of Part 11 of Division 2, an electing small business corporation, as defined in Section 1361(b) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) Domestic international sales corporations (DISC), as defined in Section 992(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) A personal holding company, as defined in Section 542 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(4) A foreign personal holding company, as defined in Section 552 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(5) A foreign investment company, as defined in Section 1246(b) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(6) A foreign trust, as defined in Section 679 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(7) Foreign income taxes and foreign income tax credits.

(8) Section 911 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to United States citizens living abroad.

(9) A foreign corporation, except that Section 367 of the Internal Revenue Code shall be applicable.

(10) Federal tax credits and carryovers of federal tax credits, except as provided in Section 162(l)(3) of the Internal Revenue

Code, relating to coordination with medical deduction, etc., and Section 213(f) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to coordination with health insurance credit under Section 32 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(11) Nonresident aliens.

(12) Deduction for personal exemptions, as provided in Section 151 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(13) The tax on generation-skipping transfers imposed by Section 2601 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(14) The tax, relating to estates, imposed by Section 2001 or 2101 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(c) (1) The provisions contained in Sections 41 to 44, inclusive, and 172 of the Tax Reform Act of 1984 (Public Law 98-369), relating to treatment of debt instruments, shall not be applicable for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1987.

(2) The provisions contained in Public Law 99-121, relating to the treatment of debt instruments, shall not be applicable for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1987.

(3) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1987, the provisions referred to by paragraphs (1) and (2) shall be applicable for purposes of this part in the same manner and with respect to the same obligations as the federal provisions, except as otherwise provided in this part.

(d) When applying the Internal Revenue Code for purposes of this part, regulations issued by "the secretary," in effect as of the specified effective date of the Internal Revenue Code sections referred to in subdivision (a), shall be applicable to the extent that they do not conflict with this part or with regulations issued by the Franchise Tax Board.

(e) Whenever this part allows a taxpayer to make an election, the following rules shall apply:

(1) A proper election filed with the Internal Revenue Service in accordance with the Internal Revenue Code or regulations issued by "the secretary" shall be deemed to be a proper election for purposes of this part, unless otherwise provided in this part or in regulations issued by the Franchise Tax Board.

(2) A copy of that election shall be furnished to the Franchise Tax Board upon request.

(3) To obtain treatment other than that elected for federal purposes, a separate election shall be filed at the time and in the manner required by the Franchise Tax Board.

(f) Whenever this part allows or requires a taxpayer to file an application or seek consent, the rules set forth in subdivision (e) shall be applicable with respect to that application or consent.

(g) When applying the Internal Revenue Code for purposes of determining the statute of limitations under this part, any reference to a period of three years shall be modified to read four years for purposes of this part.

(h) When applying, for purposes of this part, any section of the Internal Revenue Code or any applicable regulation thereunder, all of the following shall apply:

(1) References to "adjusted gross income" shall mean the amount computed in accordance with Section 17072, except as provided in paragraph (2).

(2) References to "adjusted gross income" for purposes of computing limitations based upon adjusted gross income, shall mean the amount required to be shown as adjusted gross income on the federal tax return for the same taxable year.

(3) Any reference to "subtitle" or "chapter" shall mean this part.

(4) The provisions of Section 7806 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to construction of title, shall apply.

(5) Any provision of the Internal Revenue Code that becomes operative on or after the specified date for that taxable year shall become operative on the same date for purposes of this part.

(6) Any provision of the Internal Revenue Code that becomes inoperative on or after the specified date for that taxable year shall become inoperative on the same date for purposes of this part.

(7) Due account shall be made for differences in federal and state terminology, effective dates, substitution of "Franchise Tax Board" for "secretary" when appropriate, and other obvious differences.

(i) Any reference to a specific provision of the Internal Revenue Code shall include modifications of that provision, if any, in this part.

SEC. 2. Section 17052.11 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17052.11. (a) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and before January 1, 1995, there shall be allowed as a credit against the amount of "net tax" (as defined in Section 17039) an amount equal to 55 percent of the total costs (including installation charges but excluding interest charges), of a device designed and installed to convert a motor vehicle, that is intended to be used on public roads and highways and is registered in this state, to a low-emission motor vehicle. The credit allowed by this subdivision shall be claimed in the taxable year the device is installed and shall not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) per automobile, motorcycle, or two person passenger vehicle, or three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) for a vehicle whose weight is in excess of 5,750 pounds.

(b) (1) The credit provided by subdivision (a) shall also be allowed for an amount equal to 55 percent of the differential cost of a new motor vehicle that is equipped from the factory to operate as a low-emission motor vehicle and is certified by the state board to be a low-emission motor vehicle and which is registered in this state.

(2) For purposes of this section, "differential cost" means the difference in retail cost between a low-emission vehicle and a comparable vehicle that is not low emission. This amount shall be determined by the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission (hereafter referred to as the California Energy Commission), based on information supplied by the taxpayer and subject to the guidelines adopted under subdivision (h).

(3) The "differential cost" defined in paragraph (2) shall be reduced by an amount equal to any amount allowable, for purposes of computing federal income tax, as a credit under Section 30 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to credit for qualified electric vehicles, for the same vehicle.

(c) For purposes of this section, "device" means any apparatus not otherwise required by federal or California law that is designed and installed to convert a new or used motor vehicle to a low-emission motor vehicle as certified by the state board.

(d) For purposes of this section, "low-emission motor vehicle" means a vehicle as defined under Section 39037.05 of the Health and Safety Code.

(e) For purposes of this section, "state board" refers to the Air Resources Board.

(f) The taxpayer or partnership shall qualify for the credit after application to and certification by the California Energy Commission that all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The device or vehicle qualifies for the credit under this section.

(2) Credit allocation is available.

(g) The taxpayer or partnership shall do all of the following:

(1) (A) Apply to the California Energy Commission for credit allocation and certification.

(B) The application for credit allocation shall include all information that is required by the California Energy Commission, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

(i) A plan to purchase a device, as defined in subdivision (c), or a vehicle.

(ii) The cost estimates of the device or vehicle.

(2) Notify the California Energy Commission in a form and manner specified by the California Energy Commission that the device or vehicle has actually been purchased.

(3) Retain a copy of the certification issued by the California Energy Commission.

(4) Make the certification available to the Franchise Tax Board upon demand.

(5) The partnership shall disclose in its tax return each year all of the following:

(A) The name of each partner who received a credit allocation.

(B) The partner's social security number or identification number.

(C) The amount of credit allocated to each partner.

(h) The California Energy Commission shall do all of the following:

(1) Establish criteria for allocation of the credit amounts in the case where more than seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) of credits are requested annually.

(2) Provide guidelines and criteria for application for credit allocation. These guidelines shall be exempt from Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. However, these guidelines shall be adopted by the California Energy Commission at a noticed meeting and after one or more public workshops.

(3) Accept applications and issue certificates including the credit amount to which the taxpayer or partnership is entitled.

(4) Provide an annual listing to the Franchise Tax Board (preferably on magnetic tape or other machine-readable form, and in a form and manner agreed upon by the Franchise Tax Board and the California Energy Commission) of the qualified taxpayers or partnerships who were issued the certification and the allowable amount of the credit allocated to each taxpayer or partnership.

(i) The taxpayers' social security numbers or identification numbers obtained through the tax credit application and certification process shall be used exclusively for state tax administrative purposes.

(j) In the case where the credit allowed by this section exceeds the "net tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "net tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted.

(k) The aggregate amount of tax credits granted pursuant to this section and Section 23603 shall not exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) per year. The California Energy Commission shall not authorize any credit if the credit would cause the total amount of credit authorized in any year under the Personal Income Tax Law and the Bank and Corporation Tax Law to exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000).

(l) The amendments made by the act adding this subdivision shall be operative for each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1993.

(m) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1995, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 2.5. Section 17052.11 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17052.11. (a) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and before January 1, 1996, there shall be allowed as a credit against the amount of "net tax" (as defined in Section 17039) an amount equal to 55 percent of the qualified costs paid or incurred by the taxpayer for low-emission vehicles or low-emission conversion devices. The credit allowed by this section shall be claimed in the taxable year the device is installed or, in the case of a new low-emission motor vehicle, the taxable year the low-emission vehicle is placed in service, and shall not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) per automobile, motorcycle, or two person passenger vehicle, or three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) for a vehicle whose weight is in excess of 5,750 pounds.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Device" means any apparatus not otherwise required by federal or California law that is designed and installed to convert a new or used motor vehicle to a low-emission motor vehicle as certified by the state board.

(2) "Differential cost" means the difference in retail cost between a low-emission vehicle and a comparable vehicle that is not a low-emission vehicle. This amount shall be determined by the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission (hereafter referred to as the California Energy Commission), based on information supplied by the taxpayer and subject to the guidelines adopted under subdivision (e).

(3) "Low-emission motor vehicle" means a vehicle as defined under Section 39037.05 of the Health and Safety Code.

(4) "Qualified costs" means each of the following:

(A) The total cost (including installation charges but excluding interest charges) of a device designed and installed to convert a qualified motor vehicle to a low-emission motor vehicle.

(B) The differential cost of a new qualified motor vehicle that is equipped from the factory to operate as a low-emission motor vehicle and is certified by the state board to be a low-emission motor vehicle.

(C) Fifteen percent of the purchase price of a nonrecreational motor vehicle that is a low-emission motor vehicle intended to be used on private roads, private school campuses, or commercial or industrial worksites in this state.

(5) "Qualified motor vehicle" means a motor vehicle, as defined by Section 415 of the Vehicle Code, that is either of the following:

(A) A motor vehicle that is intended to be used on public roads and highways and is registered in this state.

(B) A nonrecreational motor vehicle that is intended to be used on private roads, private school campuses, or commercial or industrial worksites in this state.

(6) "State board" refers to the Air Resources Board.

(c) The taxpayer or partnership shall qualify for the credit after application to and certification by the California Energy Commission that all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The device or vehicle qualifies for the credit under this section.

(2) Credit allocation is available.

(d) The taxpayer or partnership shall do all of the following:

(1) (A) Apply to the California Energy Commission for credit allocation and certification.

(B) The application for credit allocation shall include all information that is required by the California Energy Commission, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

(i) A plan to purchase a device, as defined in subdivision (b), or a vehicle.

(ii) The cost estimates of the device or vehicle.

(2) Notify the California Energy Commission in a form and manner specified by the California Energy Commission that the device or vehicle has actually been purchased.

(3) Retain a copy of the certification issued by the California Energy Commission.

(4) Make the certification available to the Franchise Tax Board upon demand.

(5) The partnership shall disclose in its tax return each year all of the following:

(A) The name of each partner who received a credit allocation.

(B) The partner's social security number or identification number.

(C) The amount of credit allocation distributed to each partner.

(e) The California Energy Commission shall do all of the following:

(1) Establish criteria for allocation of the credit amounts in the case where more than seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) of credits are requested annually.

(2) Provide guidelines and criteria for application for credit allocation. These guidelines shall be exempt from Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. However, these guidelines shall be adopted by the California Energy Commission at a noticed meeting and after one or more public workshops.

(3) Accept applications and issue certificates including the credit amount to which the taxpayer or partnership is entitled.

(4) Provide an annual listing to the Franchise Tax Board (preferably on magnetic tape or other machine-readable form, and in a form and manner agreed upon by the Franchise Tax Board and the California Energy Commission) of the qualified taxpayers or partnerships who were issued the certification and the allowable amount of the credit allocated to each taxpayer or partnership.

(f) The taxpayers' social security numbers or identification numbers obtained through the tax credit application and certification process shall be used exclusively for state tax administrative purposes.

(g) The "qualified costs" shall be reduced by an amount equal to any amount allowable, for purposes of computing federal income tax, as a credit under Section 30 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to credit for qualified electric vehicles, for the same vehicle.

(h) In the case where the credit allowed by this section exceeds the "net tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "net tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted.

(i) The aggregate amount of tax credits granted pursuant to this section and Section 23603 shall not exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) per year. The California Energy Commission shall not authorize any credit if the credit would cause the total amount of credit authorized in any year under the Personal Income Tax Law and the Bank and Corporation Tax Law to exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000).

(j) (1) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1991.

(2) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1996, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 17062 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17062. (a) Part VI of Subchapter A of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to alternative minimum tax, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) (1) (A) Section 55(b)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the tentative minimum tax, is modified to provide that the tentative minimum tax for the taxable year shall be equal to the following percent of so much of the alternative minimum taxable income for the taxable year as exceeds the exemption amount, before reduction for any credits against the tax:

(i) For any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and before January 1, 1996, 8.5 percent.

(ii) For any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1996, 7 percent.

(B) In the case of a nonresident or part-year resident, the tentative minimum tax shall be computed as if the nonresident or part-year resident were a resident for the entire year multiplied by the ratio of California adjusted gross income (as modified for purposes of this chapter) to total adjusted gross income from all sources (as modified for purposes of this chapter). For purposes of computing the tax under subparagraph (A) and gross income from all sources, the net operating loss deduction provided in Section 56(d) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be computed as if the taxpayer were a resident for all prior years.

(C) For purposes of this section, the term "California adjusted gross income" includes each of the following:

(i) For any period during which the taxpayer was a resident of this state (as defined by Section 17014), all items of adjusted gross income (as modified for purposes of this chapter), regardless of source.

(ii) For any period during which the taxpayer was not a resident of this state, only those items of adjusted gross income (as modified for purposes of this chapter) which were derived from sources within this state, determined in accordance with Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 17951).

(2) Section 55(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to regular tax, is modified to provide that the regular tax shall be the amount of tax imposed by Section 17041 or 17048, before reduction for any credits against the tax, less any amount imposed under paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) and paragraph (1) of subdivision (e) of Section 17560.

(c) Section 56(b)(1)(E) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to standard deduction and deduction for personal exemptions not allowed, is modified, for purposes of this part, to deny the standard deduction allowed by Section 17073.5.

(d) The provisions of Section 57(a)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to tax-exempt interest, shall not apply.

(e) The last two sentences of Section 57(a)(6)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to tangible personal property, shall not apply.

(f) The provisions of Section 59(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the alternative minimum tax foreign tax credit, shall not apply.

SEC. 4. Section 17063 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17063. (a) Section 53 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to credit for prior year minimum tax liability, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) For purposes of this part, the credit allowed under subdivision (a) shall be allowed as a credit against the net tax (as defined by Section 17039).

(c) For purposes of this chapter, the amount determined under Section 53(c)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be the regular tax as defined by paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 17062, reduced by the sum of the credits allowable under this part, other than:

(1) The credits described in paragraph (7) of subdivision (a) of Section 17039, relating to credits that contain refundable provisions but do not contain carryover provisions.

(2) That portion of any credit that reduces the tax below the tentative minimum tax as provided in paragraph (1) of subdivision (c) of Section 17039.

(3) That portion of any credit that reduces the tax imposed under Section 17062.

SEC. 5. Section 17081 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17081. Part II of Subchapter B of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to items that are specifically included in gross income, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 6. Section 17087.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 7. Section 17087.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code to read:

17087.5. Subchapter S of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to tax treatment of "S corporations" and their shareholders, shall apply, except as otherwise provided under this part or Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001).

SEC. 8. Section 17088 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17088. (a) Subchapter M of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to regulated investment companies, real estate investment trusts, and real estate mortgage investment conduits, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) Section 17145, relating to exempt interest dividends, shall apply in lieu of Section 852(b)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(c) Section 852(b)(3)(D) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to treatment by shareholders of undistributed capital gains, shall not apply.

SEC. 9. Section 17131 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17131. Part III of Subchapter B of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to items that are specifically excluded from gross income, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 10. Section 17139 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17139. Section 136 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to energy conservation subsidies provided by public utilities, shall apply to amounts received on or after January 1, 1993, and before January 1, 1995, without regard to taxable year.

SEC. 11. Section 17201 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 12. Section 17201 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17201. (a) Part VI of Subchapter B of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to itemized deductions for individuals and corporations, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) Part VII of Subchapter B of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to additional itemized deductions for individuals, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(c) Part IX of Subchapter B of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to items not deductible, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 13. Section 17256 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17256. Section 179A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to deduction for clean-fuel vehicles and certain refueling property, shall apply to property placed in service after June 30, 1993, without regard to taxable year, and is modified as follows:

(a) Section 179A(e)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to property used outside the United States, is modified to also refer to Sections 17252.5, 17265, or 17266.

(b) Section 179A(g) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to termination, is modified to substitute "December 31, 1994" for "December 31, 2004."

SEC. 14. Section 17260 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17260. (a) No deduction, other than depreciation, shall be allowed for expenditures for tertiary injectants as provided by Section 193 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(b) Section 263(a) of the Internal Revenue Code shall not apply to expenditures for which a deduction is allowed under Section 17252.5, 17265, or 17266.

SEC. 15. Section 17265 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17265. (a) A taxpayer may elect to treat 40 percent of the cost of any Section 17265 property as an expense which is not chargeable to capital account. Any cost so treated shall be allowed as a deduction for the taxable year in which the Section 17265 property is placed in service.

(b) In the case of a husband and wife filing separate returns for a taxable year, the applicable amount under subdivision (a) shall be equal to 50 percent of the percentage specified in subdivision (a).

(c) (1) An election under this section for any taxable year shall:

(A) Specify the items of Section 17265 property to which the election applies and the percentage of the cost of each of those items which is to be taken into account under subdivision (a).

(B) Be made on the taxpayer's return of the tax imposed by this part for the taxable year.

(2) This election shall be made in the time, form, and manner which the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe.

(3) Any election made under this section, and any specification contained in that election, may not be revoked except with the consent of the Franchise Tax Board.

(d) (1) For purposes of this section, "Section 17265 property" means property acquired by the taxpayer which is used exclusively within a program area (as defined in Section 7082 of the Government Code) and consists of machinery and machinery parts used for fabricating, processing, assembling, and manufacturing and machinery and machinery parts used for the production of renewable energy resources or air or water pollution control mechanisms.

"Section 17265 property" also means property used as an integral part of a qualified business within a program area (as defined in Section 7082 of the Government Code).

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), "purchase" means any acquisition of property, but only if:

(A) The property is not acquired from a person whose relationship to the person acquiring it would result in the disallowance of losses under Section 267 or Section 707(b) of the Internal Revenue Code (but, in applying Sections 267(b) and 267(c) for purposes of this section, Section 267(c)(4) shall be treated as providing that the family of an individual shall include only the individual's spouse, ancestors, and lineal descendants).

(B) The basis of the property in the hands of the person acquiring it is not determined in whole or in part by reference to the adjusted basis of that property in the hands of the person from whom it is acquired.

(3) For purposes of this section, the cost of property does not include so much of the basis of the property as is determined by reference to the basis of other property held at any time by the person acquiring the property.

(4) This section shall not apply to estates and trusts.

(5) This section shall not apply to any property for which the taxpayer may not make an election for the taxable year under Section 179 of the Internal Revenue Code because of the application of the provisions of Section 179(d) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(6) In the case of a partnership, the percentage limitation specified in subdivision (a) shall apply with respect to the partnership and with respect to each partner.

(e) For purposes of this section, "taxpayer" means a taxpayer who conducts a qualified business within a program area, as defined in Section 7082 of the Government Code.

(f) Any taxpayer who elects to be subject to this section shall not be entitled to claim for the same property, the deduction under Section 179 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to an election to expense certain depreciable business assets. However, the taxpayer may claim depreciation by any method permitted by Section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code, commencing with the taxable year following the taxable year in which the Section 17265 property is placed in service.

(g) The aggregate cost which may be taken into account under subdivision (a) for any taxable year shall not exceed the following applicable amount for the taxable year of the designation of a program area and taxable years thereafter:

	The applicable amount is:
Taxable year of designation	$100,000
1st taxable year thereafter	100,000
2nd taxable year thereafter	75,000
3rd taxable year thereafter	75,000
Each taxable year thereafter	50,000

(h) Any amounts deducted under subdivision (a) with respect to property which ceases to be qualified property at any time before the close of the second taxable year after the property is placed in service shall be included in income for that year.

SEC. 16. Section 17321 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17321. Subchapter C of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to corporate distributions and adjustments, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 17. Section 17501 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17501. Subchapter D of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to deferred compensation, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 18. Section 17504 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17504. (a) The provisions of Section 402 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to taxability of beneficiaries of employees' trusts, shall be modified as follows:

(1) The amendments and transitional rules made by Public Law 99-514 shall be applicable to this part for the same transactions and the same years as they are applicable for federal purposes, except as otherwise provided.

(2) The basis of any person in an employees' trust shall include the amount of any contributions made prior to January 1, 1987, which were not allowed as a deduction under former Sections 17503 and 17513 (including predecessor Section 17524 repealed by Chapter 488 of the Statutes of 1983) relating to special limitations for self-employed individuals.

(b) (1) There is hereby imposed a tax on lump-sum distributions computed in accordance with the provisions of Section 402(d) of the Internal Revenue Code using the rates and brackets prescribed in subdivision (a) of Section 17041 (without regard to Section 17045) in lieu of the rates and brackets in Section 1(c) of the Internal Revenue Code. The recipient of the lump-sum distribution shall be liable for the tax imposed by this paragraph.

(2) For purposes of this part, the provisions of Section 1122(h) of Public Law 99-514, as modified by Section 1011A(b) of Public Law 100-647, shall apply, except as modified by each of the following:

(A) The provisions of Section 1122(h) (3) (B) of Public Law 99-514 shall be modified to refer to Section 17041 rather than Section 1 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

(B) The provisions of Section 1122(h) (3) (B) (ii) of Public Law 99-514 shall be modified to provide a tax rate of 5.5 percent rather than a tax rate of 20 percent.

(C) The provisions of Section 1122(h) (5) of Public Law 99-514 shall be modified to refer to Section 17041 rather than Section 1 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

(3) For purposes of this section, a taxpayer shall elect the same special lump-sum distribution averaging method for purposes of this part as that elected for federal purposes under Section 402(d) (4) (B) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(4) The provisions of Section 1124(a) of Public Law 99-514, as amended by Section 1011A(d) of Public Law 100-647, shall apply.

(5) The provisions of Section 1124(c) of Public Law 99-514, as added by Section 1011A(d) of Public Law 100-647, shall apply.

SEC. 19. Section 17551 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17551. (a) Subchapter E of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to accounting periods and methods of accounting, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1987, Section 444 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to election of taxable years other than required taxable years, shall be applicable, except that Section 444(c) (1), relating to effect of election, shall not apply.

SEC. 20. Section 17681 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17681. Subchapter I of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to natural resources, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 21. Section 17682 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 22. Section 17683 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 23. Section 17731 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17731. Subchapter J of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to estates, trusts, beneficiaries, and decedents, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 24. Section 17740 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 25. Section 17851 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17851. Subchapter K of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to partners and partnerships, shall apply, except as otherwise provided in this part and Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 23081) of Part 11.

SEC. 25.5. Section 17870 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17870. Section 737 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to recognition of precontribution gain in case of certain distributions to contributing partner, shall not apply.

SEC. 26. Section 17940 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 27. Section 18031 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18031. Subchapter O of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to gain or loss on disposition of property, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 28. Section 18036 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18036. (a) In addition to the adjustments to basis provided by Section 1016(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, a proper adjustment shall also be made for amounts allowed as deductions as deferred expenses under subdivision (b) of former Section 17689 or former Section 17689.5 (relating to certain exploration expenditures) and resulting in a reduction of the taxpayer's taxes under this part, but not less than the amounts allowable under those sections for the taxable year and prior years. A proper adjustment shall also be made for amounts deducted under Section 17252.5, 17265, or 17266.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 164(a) and 1016(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, no adjustment to basis shall be made for any of the following:

(1) Abandonment fees paid in respect of property on which the open-space easement is terminated under Section 51061 or 51093 of the Government Code.

(2) Tax recoupment fees paid under Section 51142 of the Government Code.

(3) Sales or use tax which is paid or incurred by the taxpayer in connection with the acquisition of property for which a tax credit is claimed pursuant to Section 17052.13.

(c) The provisions of Section 1016(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to increase in basis of property on which additional estate tax is imposed, shall be applicable.

(d) The amendments made to Section 1016 of the Internal Revenue Code by Section 1913(a) of Public Law 102-486, relating to deduction for clean-fuel vehicles and certain refueling property, shall apply to property placed in service after June 30, 1993, without respect to taxable year.

SEC. 29. Section 18151 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18151. Subchapter P of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to capital gains and losses, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 30. Section 18165 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

18165. Section 1245(a)(2)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to certain deductions treated as amortization, is modified to also refer to Sections 17252.5, 17265, and 17266.

SEC. 31. Section 18934 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18934. (a) Section 6109 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to identifying numbers, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) Identifying numbers shall be required on state tax returns, statements, or other documents in the form and manner as the Franchise Tax Board may require.

(c) Section 6109(e) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to furnishing numbers for certain dependents, shall not apply.

(d) Section 6109(h) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to identifying information required with respect to certain seller-provided financing, shall not apply.

SEC. 32. Section 23051.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23051.5. (a) (1) Unless otherwise specifically provided, the terms "Internal Revenue Code," "Internal Revenue Code of 1954," or "Internal Revenue Code of 1986," for purposes of this part, mean Title 26 of the United States Code, including all amendments thereto, as enacted on the specified date for the applicable taxable year as defined in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 17024.5, except that for purposes of this part, "income year" shall be substituted for "taxable year" throughout that section.

(2) Unless otherwise specifically provided, for federal laws enacted on or after January 1, 1987, and on or before the specified date for the income year, uncodified provisions that relate to provisions of the Internal Revenue Code that are incorporated for purposes of this part, shall be applicable to the same income years as the incorporated provisions.

(3) Subtitle G (Tax Technical Corrections) and Part I of Subtitle H (Repeal of Expired or Obsolete Provisions) of the Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1990 (Public Law 101-508) modified numerous provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and provisions of prior federal acts, some of which are incorporated by reference into this part. Unless otherwise provided, the provisions described in the preceding sentence, to the extent that they modify provisions that are incorporated into this part, are declaratory of existing law and shall be applied in the same manner and for the same periods as specified in the Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1990.

(b) Unless otherwise specifically provided, when applying any section of the Internal Revenue Code for purposes of this part, any provision which refers to any of the following shall not be applicable for purposes of this part:

(1) Domestic International Sales Corporations (DISC), as defined in Section 992(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) Foreign Sales Corporations (FSC), as defined in Section 922(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) A personal holding company, as defined in Section 542 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(4) A foreign personal holding company, as defined in Section 552 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(5) A foreign investment company, as defined in Section 1246(b) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(6) A foreign trust as defined in Section 679 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(7) Foreign income taxes and foreign income tax credits.

(8) Federal tax credits and carryovers of federal tax credits.

(c) (1) The provisions contained in Sections 41 to 44, inclusive, and 172 of the Tax Reform Act of 1984 (Public Law 98-369), relating to treatment of debt instruments, shall not be applicable for income years beginning before January 1, 1987.

(2) The provisions contained in Public Law 99-121, relating to the treatment of debt instruments, shall not be applicable for income years beginning before January 1, 1987.

(3) For income years beginning on and after January 1, 1987, the provisions referred to by paragraphs (1) and (2) shall be applicable for purposes of this part in the same manner and with respect to the same obligations as the federal provisions, except as otherwise provided in this part.

(d) When applying the Internal Revenue Code for purposes of this part, regulations issued by "the secretary," in effect as of the specified effective date of the Internal Revenue Code sections referred to in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 17024.5, shall be applicable to the extent that they do not conflict with this part or with regulations issued by the Franchise Tax Board.

(e) Whenever this part allows a taxpayer to make an election, the following rules shall apply:

(1) A proper election filed with the Internal Revenue Service in accordance with the Internal Revenue Code or regulations issued by "the secretary" shall be deemed to be a proper election for purposes of this part, unless otherwise expressly provided in this part or in regulations issued by the Franchise Tax Board.

(2) A copy of that election shall be furnished to the Franchise Tax Board upon request.

(3) To obtain treatment other than that elected for federal purposes, a separate election shall be filed with the Franchise Tax Board at the time and in the manner which may be required by the Franchise Tax Board.

(f) Whenever this part allows or requires a taxpayer to file an application or seek consent, the rules set forth in subdivision (e) shall apply to that application or consent.

(g) When applying the Internal Revenue Code for purposes of determining the statute of limitations under this part, any reference to a period of three years shall be modified to read four years for purposes of this part.

(h) When applying, for purposes of this part, any section of the Internal Revenue Code or any applicable regulation thereunder, all of the following shall apply:

(1) For purposes of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101), Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 23400), and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 23501), the term "taxable income" shall mean "net income."

(2) For purposes of Article 2 (commencing with Section 23731) of Chapter 4, the term "taxable income" shall mean "unrelated business taxable income," as defined by Section 23732.

(3) Any reference to "subtitle" or "chapter" shall mean this part.

(4) The provisions of Section 7806 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to construction of title, shall apply.

(5) Any provision of the Internal Revenue Code that becomes operative on or after the specified date for that income year shall become operative on the same date for purposes of this part.

(6) Any provision of the Internal Revenue Code that becomes inoperative on or after the specified date for that income year shall become inoperative on the same date for purposes of this part.

(7) Due account shall be made for differences in federal and state terminology, effective dates, substitution of "income year" for "taxable year" when appropriate, substitution of "Franchise Tax Board" for "secretary" when appropriate, and other obvious differences.

(8) Any provision of the Internal Revenue Code that refers to a "corporation" shall, when applicable for purposes of this part, include a "bank," as defined by Section 23039.

(i) Any reference to a specific provision of the Internal Revenue Code shall include modifications of that provision, if any, in this part.

SEC. 33. Section 23400 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23400. (a) Part VI of Subchapter A of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to alternative minimum tax, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) A corporation electing under Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 23800) to be treated as an "S corporation" shall not be subject to the tax imposed by this chapter.

SEC. 34. Section 23456 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23456. For purposes of this part, Section 56 of the Internal Revenue Code is modified as follows:

(a) (1) Section 56(a)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to mining exploration and development costs, shall apply only to expenses incurred during income years beginning on or after January 1, 1988.

(2) Section 56(a)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to pollution control facilities, shall apply only to amounts allowable as a deduction under Section 24372.3.

(b) Section 56(c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to Merchant Marine Capital Construction Funds, shall not be applicable.

(c) For purposes of applying Section 56(d) of the Internal Revenue Code, all references to "December 31, 1986," are modified to read "December 31, 1987," and all references to "January 1, 1987," are modified to read "January 1, 1988."

(d) Section 56(g)(4)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified to provide the following:

(1) In the case of any property placed in service on or after January 1, 1981, and prior to January 1, 1987, and not described in clause (i), (ii), or (iii) of Section 56(g)(4)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code, the amount allowable as depreciation or amortization with respect to that property shall be the same amount that would have been allowable for the income year had the taxpayer depreciated the property under the straight line method for each income year of the useful life for which the taxpayer has held the property.

(2) In the case of any property placed in service on or after January 1, 1987, and prior to January 1, 1990, and not described in clause (i), (ii), or (iii) of Section 56(g)(4)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code, the amount allowable as depreciation or amortization with respect to that property shall be determined by each of the following:

(A) Taking into account the adjusted basis of that property (as determined for purposes of computing alternative minimum taxable income) as of the close of the last income year beginning before January 1, 1990.

(B) Using the straightline method over the remainder of the recovery period applicable to that property under the alternative system of Section 168(g) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) The amendments made to paragraph (2) by the act adding this paragraph shall apply to income years beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

(e) (1) Section 56(g)(4)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to disallowance of items not deductible in computing earnings and profits, shall be modified as follows:

(A) A deduction shall be allowed for amounts allowable as a deduction for purposes of the regular tax under Sections 24402, 24410, 24411, and 25106.

(B) Section 56(g)(4)(C)(ii) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to special rule for 100 percent dividends, shall not be applicable.

(C) Section 56(g)(4)(C)(iii) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to special rule for dividends from Section 936 companies, shall not be applicable.

(D) Section 56(g)(4)(C)(iv) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to special rule for certain dividends received by certain cooperatives, shall not be applicable.

(2) Section 56(g)(4)(D)(ii) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified to specify that Sections 24364 and 24407 shall not apply to expenditures paid or incurred in income years beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

(3) With respect to corporations which are not subject to the tax imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101), the amount of interest income included in the adjusted current earnings shall not exceed the amount of interest income included for purposes of the regular tax.

(4) Appropriate adjustments shall be made to limit deductions from adjusted current earnings for interest expense in accordance with the provisions of Sections 24344 and 24425.

SEC. 34.5. Section 23456 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23456. For purposes of this part, Section 56 of the Internal Revenue Code is modified as follows:

(a) (1) Section 56(a)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to mining exploration and development costs, shall apply only to expenses incurred during income years beginning on or after January 1, 1988.

(2) Section 56(a)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to pollution control facilities, shall apply only to amounts allowable as a deduction under Section 24372.3.

(b) Section 56(c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to Merchant Marine Capital Construction Funds, shall not be applicable.

(c) For purposes of applying Section 56(d) of the Internal Revenue Code, all references to "December 31, 1986," are modified to read "December 31, 1987," and all references to "January 1, 1987," are modified to read "January 1, 1988."

(d) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1988, and before January 1, 1990, Section 56(f)(2)(E) of the Internal Revenue Code, as it read during that period, is modified to refer to both of the following:

(1) Cooperatives under Section 24404 in lieu of the deduction allowed under Section 1382(b) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) Credit unions under Section 24405 as though the deduction allowed under Section 1382(b) of the Internal Revenue Code applied to credit unions.

(e) Section 56(g)(4)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified to provide the following:

(1) In the case of any property placed in service on or after January 1, 1981, and prior to January 1, 1987, and not described in clause (i), (ii), or (iii) of Section 56(g)(4)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code, the amount allowable as depreciation or amortization with respect to that property shall be the same amount that would have been allowable for the income year had the taxpayer depreciated the property under the straightline method for each income year of the useful life (determined without regard to Section 24354.2) for which the taxpayer has held the property.

(2) In the case of any property placed in service on or after January 1, 1987, and prior to January 1, 1990, and not described in clause (i), (ii), or (iii) of Section 56(g)(4)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code, the amount allowable as depreciation or amortization with respect to that property shall be determined by each of the following:

(A) Taking into account the adjusted basis of that property (as determined for purposes of computing alternative minimum taxable income) as of the close of the last income year beginning before January 1, 1990.

(B) Using the straightline method over the remainder of the recovery period applicable to that property under the alternative system of Section 168(g) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) The amendments made to paragraph (2) by the act adding this paragraph shall apply to income years beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

(f) (1) Section 56(g)(4)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to disallowance of items not deductible in computing earnings and profits, shall be modified as follows:

(A) (i) A deduction shall be allowed for amounts allowable as a deduction for purposes of the regular tax under Sections 24402, 24410, 24411, and 25106.

(ii) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1990, a deduction shall be allowed for amounts allowable as a deduction to a credit union for purposes of the regular tax under Section 24405.

(B) Section 56(g)(4)(C)(ii) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to special rule for 100 percent dividends, shall not be applicable.

(C) Section 56(g)(4)(C)(iii) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to special rule for dividends from Section 936 companies, shall not be applicable.

(D) Section 56(g)(4)(C)(iv) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to special rule for certain dividends received by certain cooperatives, shall not be applicable.

(2) Section 56(g)(4)(D)(ii) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified to specify that Sections 24364 and 24407 shall not apply to expenditures paid or incurred in income years beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

(3) With respect to corporations which are not subject to the tax imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101), the amount of interest income included in the adjusted current earnings shall not exceed the amount of interest income included for purposes of the regular tax.

(4) Appropriate adjustments shall be made to limit deductions from adjusted current earnings for interest expense in accordance with the provisions of Sections 24344 and 24425.

SEC. 35. Section 23603 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23603. (a) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and before January 1, 1995, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "tax" (as defined by Section 23036) an amount equal to 55 percent of the total cost (including installation charges but excluding interest charges), of a device designed and installed to convert a motor vehicle, that is intended to be used on public roads and highways and is registered in this state, to a low-emission motor vehicle. The credit allowed by this subdivision shall be claimed in the income year the device is installed and shall not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) per automobile, motorcycle, or two person passenger vehicle, or three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) for a vehicle whose weight is in excess of 5,750 pounds.

(b) (1) The credit provided by subdivision (a) shall also be allowed for an amount equal to 55 percent of the differential cost of a new motor vehicle that is equipped from the factory to operate as a low-emission motor vehicle and is certified by the state board to be a low-emission motor vehicle and which is registered in this state.

(2) For purposes of this section, "differential cost" means the difference in retail cost between a low-emission vehicle and a comparable vehicle that is not low emission. This amount shall be determined by the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission (hereafter referred to as the California Energy Commission), based on information supplied by the taxpayer and subject to the guidelines adopted under subdivision (h).

(3) The "differential cost" defined in paragraph (2) shall be reduced by an amount equal to any amount allowable, for purposes of computing federal income tax, as a credit under Section 30 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to credit for qualified electric vehicles, for the same vehicle.

(c) For purposes of this section, "device" means any apparatus not otherwise required by federal or California law that is designed and installed to convert a new or used motor vehicle to a low-emission motor vehicle as certified by the state board.

(d) For purposes of this section, "low-emission motor vehicle" means a vehicle as defined under Section 39037.05 of the Health and Safety Code.

(e) For purposes of this section, "state board" refers to the Air Resources Board.

(f) The taxpayer shall qualify for the credit after application to and certification by the California Energy Commission that all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The device or vehicle qualifies for the credit under this section.

(2) Credit allocation is available.

(g) The taxpayer shall do all of the following:

(1) (A) Apply to the California Energy Commission for credit allocation and certification.

(B) The application for credit allocation shall include all information that is required by the California Energy Commission, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

(i) A plan to purchase a device, as defined in subdivision (c), or a vehicle.

(ii) The cost estimates of the device or vehicle.

(2) Notify the California Energy Commission in a form and manner specified by the California Energy Commission that the device or vehicle has actually been purchased.

(3) Retain a copy of the certification issued by the California Energy Commission.

(4) Make the certification available to the Franchise Tax Board upon demand.

(5) An S corporation shall disclose in its tax return each year all of the following:

(A) The name of each shareholder who received a credit allocation.

(B) The shareholder's social security number or identification number.

(C) The amount of credit allocated to each shareholder.

(h) The California Energy Commission shall do all of the following:

(1) Establish criteria for allocation of the credit amounts in the case where more than seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) of credit are requested annually.

(2) Provide guidelines and criteria for application for credit allocation. These guidelines shall be exempt from Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. However, these guidelines shall be adopted by the California Energy Commission at a noticed meeting and after one or more public workshops.

(3) Accept applications and issue certificates including the credit amount to which the taxpayer is entitled.

(4) Provide an annual listing to the Franchise Tax Board (preferably on magnetic tape or other machine-readable form, and in a form and manner agreed upon by the Franchise Tax Board and the California Energy Commission) of the qualified taxpayers who were issued the certification and the allowable amount of the credit allocated to each taxpayer.

(i) The taxpayers' identification numbers obtained through the tax credit application and certification process shall be used exclusively for state tax administrative purposes.

(j) In the case where the credit allowed by this section exceeds the "tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted.

(k) The aggregate amount of tax credits granted pursuant to this section and Section 17052.11 shall not exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) per year. The California Energy Commission shall not authorize any credit if the credit would cause the total amount of credit authorized in any year under the Personal Income Tax Law and the Bank and Corporation Tax Law to exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000).

(l) The amendments made to this section by the act adding this subdivision shall be operative for income years beginning on or after January 1, 1993.

(m) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1995, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 35.5. Section 23603 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23603. (a) For income years beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and before January 1, 1996, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "tax" (as defined by Section 23036) an amount equal to 55 percent of the qualified cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer for low-emission vehicles or low-emission conversion devices. The credit allowed by this section shall be claimed in the income year the device is installed or, in the case of a new low-emission motor vehicle, the income year the low-emission vehicle is placed in service, and shall not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) per automobile, motorcycle, or two person passenger vehicle, or three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) for a vehicle whose weight is in excess of 5,750 pounds.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Device" means any apparatus not otherwise required by federal or California law that is designed and installed to convert a new or used motor vehicle to a low-emission motor vehicle as certified by the state board.

(2) "Differential cost" means the difference in retail cost between a low-emission vehicle and a comparable vehicle that is not a low-emission vehicle. This amount shall be determined by the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission

(hereafter referred to as the California Energy Commission), based on information supplied by the taxpayer and subject to the guidelines adopted under subdivision (e).

(3) "Low-emission motor vehicle" means a vehicle as defined under Section 39037.05 of the Health and Safety Code.

(4) "Qualified costs" means each of the following:

(A) The total cost (including installation charges but excluding interest charges) of a device designed and installed to convert a qualified motor vehicle to a low-emission motor vehicle.

(B) The differential cost of a new qualified motor vehicle that is equipped from the factory to operate as a low-emission motor vehicle and is certified by the state board to be a low-emission motor vehicle.

(C) Fifteen percent of the purchase price of a nonrecreational motor vehicle that is a low-emission motor vehicle intended to be used on private roads, private school campuses, or commercial or industrial worksites in this state.

(5) "Qualified motor vehicle" means a motor vehicle, as defined by Section 415 of the Vehicle Code, that is either of the following:

(A) A motor vehicle that is intended to be used on public roads and highways and is registered in this state.

(B) A nonrecreational motor vehicle that is intended to be used on private roads, private school campuses, or commercial or industrial worksites in this state.

(6) "State board" refers to the Air Resources Board.

(c) The taxpayer shall qualify for the credit after application to and certification by the California Energy Commission that all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The device or vehicle qualifies for the credit under this section.

(2) Credit allocation is available.

(d) The taxpayer shall do all of the following:

(1) (A) Apply to the California Energy Commission for credit allocation and certification.

(B) The application for credit allocation shall include all information that is required by the California Energy Commission, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

(i) A plan to purchase a device, as defined in subdivision (b), or a vehicle.

(ii) The cost estimates of the device or vehicle.

(2) Notify the California Energy Commission in a form and manner specified by the California Energy Commission that the device or vehicle has actually been purchased.

(3) Retain a copy of the certification issued by the California Energy Commission.

(4) Make the certification available to the Franchise Tax Board upon demand.

(5) The partnership or S corporation shall disclose in its tax return each year all of the following:

(A) The name of each partner or shareholder who received a credit allocation.

(B) The partner's or shareholder's social security number or identification number.

(C) The amount of credit allocation distributed to each partner or shareholder.

(e) The California Energy Commission shall do all of the following:

(1) Establish criteria for allocation of the credit amounts in the case where more than seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) of credit are requested annually.

(2) Provide guidelines and criteria for application for credit allocation. These guidelines shall be exempt from Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. However, these guidelines shall be adopted by the California Energy Commission at a noticed meeting and after one or more public workshops.

(3) Accept applications and issue certificates including the credit amount to which the taxpayer is entitled.

(4) Provide an annual listing to the Franchise Tax Board (preferably on magnetic tape or other machine-readable form, and in a form and manner agreed upon by the Franchise Tax Board and the California Energy Commission) of the qualified taxpayers who were issued the certification and the allowable amount of the credit allocated to each taxpayer.

(f) The taxpayers' identification numbers obtained through the tax credit application and certification process shall be used exclusively for state tax administrative purposes.

(g) The "qualified costs" shall be reduced by an amount equal to any amount allowable, for purposes of computing federal income tax, as a credit under Section 30 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to credit for qualified electric vehicles, for the same vehicle.

(h) In the case where the credit allowed by this section exceeds the "tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted.

(i) The aggregate amount of tax credits granted pursuant to this section and Section 17052.11 shall not exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) per year. The California Energy Commission shall not authorize any credit if the credit would cause the total amount of credit authorized in any year under the Personal Income Tax Law and the Bank and Corporation Tax Law to exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000).

(j) (1) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1991.

(2) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1996, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 36. Section 23800 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23800. (a) For any income year beginning on or after January 1, 1987, Subchapter S of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue

Code, relating to the tax treatment of "S corporations" and their shareholders, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) For income years beginning in 1987 and 1988, reasonable extensions of time may be granted, as appropriate for implementation of this chapter, in the form and the manner as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe.

SEC. 37. Section 24326 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

24326. (a) Section 136 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to energy conservation subsidies provided by public utilities, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

24356.5. (a) Section 179A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to deduction for clean-fuel vehicles and certain refueling property, shall apply to property placed in service after June 30, 1993, without regard to income year, except as otherwise provided.

(b) Section 179A(e)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to property used outside the United States, is modified to also refer to Sections 24356.2, 24356.3, or 24356.4.

(c) Section 179A(g) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to termination, is modified to substitute "December 31, 1994" for "December 31, 2004."

SEC. 39. Section 24422 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24422. No deduction shall be allowed for both of the following:

(a) Any amount paid out for new buildings or for permanent improvements or betterments made to increase the value of any property or estate. This subdivision shall not apply to:

(1) Expenditures for the development of mines or deposits deductible under Section 616 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) Soil and water conservation expenditures deductible under Section 24369.

(3) Expenditures for farmers for fertilizer, etc., deductible under Section 24377.

(4) Research and experimental expenditures deductible under Section 24365.

(5) Expenditures for which a deduction is allowed under Section 24356.2.

(6) Expenditures for which a deduction is allowed under Section 24356.3.

(7) Expenditures for which a deduction is allowed under Section 24356.4.

(8) Expenditures for which a deduction is allowed under Section 24356.5.

(9) Expenditures for removal of architectural and transportation barriers to the handicapped and elderly that the taxpayer elects to deduct under Section 24383.

(b) Any amount expended in restoring property or in making good the exhaustion thereof for which an allowance is or has been made.

24872. (a) (1) Section 857(b)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to imposition of tax on real estate investment trusts, shall not apply.

(2) Every real estate investment trust shall be subject to the taxes imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101) and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 23501), except that its "net income" shall be equal to its "real estate investment trust income," as defined in subdivision (b).

(b) "Real estate investment trust income" means real estate investment company taxable income, as defined in Section 857(b)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, modified as follows:

(1) In lieu of the provisions of Section 857(b)(2)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to special deductions for corporations, no deduction shall be allowed under Section 24402.

(2) Section 857(b)(2)(D) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to an exclusion for an amount equal to the net income from foreclosure property, shall not apply.

(3) Section 857(b)(2)(E) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to a deduction for an amount equal to the tax imposed in the case of failure to meet certain requirements for the taxable year, shall not apply.

(4) Section 857(b)(2)(F) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to an exclusion for an amount equal to any net income derived from prohibited transactions, shall not apply.

(c) Section 857(b)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to an alternative tax in case of capital gains, shall not apply.

(d) Section 857(b)(4)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the imposition of tax on income from foreclosure property, shall not apply.

(e) Section 857(b)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the imposition of tax in case of failure to meet certain requirements, shall not apply.

(f) Section 857(b)(6)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the imposition of tax on income from prohibited transactions, shall not apply.

SEC. 46. Section 24916 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24916. Proper adjustment with regard to the property shall in all cases be made as follows:

(a) For expenditures, receipts, losses, or other items properly chargeable to capital account. However, no adjustment shall be made for any of the following:

(1) Sales or use tax paid or incurred in connection with the acquisition of property for which a tax credit is claimed pursuant to Section 23612.

(2) Taxes or other carrying charges described in Section 24426, or for expenditures described in Sections 24364 and 24369 for which deductions have been taken in determining net income for the income year or any prior income year.

(b) For exhaustion, wear and tear, obsolescence, amortization, and depletion:

(1) In the case of banks or corporations subject to the tax imposed by Chapter 2, to the extent sustained prior to January 1, 1928, and to the extent allowed (but not less than the amount allowable) under this part, except that no deduction shall be made for amounts in excess of the amount which would have been allowable had depreciation not been computed on the basis of January 1, 1928, value and amounts in excess of the adjustments required by Section 113(b)(1)(B) of the Federal Revenue Act of 1938 for depletion prior to January 1, 1932.

(2) In the case of a taxpayer subject to the tax imposed by Chapter 3, to the extent sustained prior to January 1, 1937, and for periods thereafter to the extent allowed (but not less than the amount allowable) under the provisions of this part.

(3) If a taxpayer has not claimed an amortization deduction for an emergency facility, the adjustment under paragraph (1) shall be made only to the extent ordinarily provided under Sections 24349, and 24372.

(c) In the case of stock (to the extent not provided for in the foregoing subdivisions) for the amount of distributions previously made which, under the law applicable to the year in which the distribution was made, either were tax free or were applicable in reduction of basis (not including distributions made by a corporation, which was classified as a personal service corporation under the provisions of the Federal Revenue Act of 1918 or 1921, out of its earnings or profits which were taxable in accordance with the provisions of Section 218 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1918 or 1921).

(d) (1) In the case of banks or corporations subject to the tax imposed by Chapter 2, in the case of any bond, as defined in Section 24363, to the extent of the deductions allowable pursuant to Section 24360 with respect thereto.

(2) In the case of taxpayers subject to the tax imposed by Chapter 3, in the case of any bond, as defined in Section 24363, the interest on which is wholly exempt from the tax imposed by this part, to the extent of the amortizable bond premium disallowable as a deduction pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 24360, and in the case of any other bond, as defined in Section 24363, to the extent of the deductions allowable pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 24360 (or the amount applied to reduce interest payments under paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 24363.5) with respect thereto.

(3) In the case of property pledged to the Commodity Credit Corporation, to the extent of the amount received as a loan from the Commodity Credit Corporation and treated by the taxpayer as income for the year in which received pursuant to Section 24273, and to the extent of any deficiency on that loan with respect to which the taxpayer has been relieved from liability.

(e) For amounts allowed as deductions as deferred expenses under Section 616(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to certain expenditures in the development of mines, and resulting in a reduction of the taxpayer's tax, but not less than the amounts allowable under that section for the income year and prior years.

(f) For amounts allowable as deductions as deferred expenses under Section 617(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to certain exploration expenditures, and resulting in a reduction of the taxpayer's tax, but not less than the amounts allowable under that section for the income year and prior years.

(g) For amounts allowed as deductions as deferred expenses under subdivision (a) of Section 24366, relating to research and experimental expenditures, and resulting in a reduction of the bank or corporations' taxes under this part, but not less than the amounts allowable under that section for the income year and prior years.

(h) For amounts allowed as deductions for payments made on account of transfers of franchises, trademarks, or trade names under Section 24378.

(i) For amounts allowed as deductions under Sections 24356.2, 24356.3, and 24356.4.

(j) (1) To the extent provided in Section 179A(e)(6)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to basis reduction for clean-fuel vehicles and certain refueling property.

(2) This subdivision shall apply to property placed in service after June 30, 1993, without regard to income year.

SEC. 47. Section 24990 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24990. Subchapter P of Chapter 1 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to capital gains and losses, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 48. Section 24990.6 is added to the Revenue and Taxation

Code, to read:

24990.6. Section 1245(a)(2)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to certain deductions treated as amortization, is modified to also refer to Sections 24356.2, 24356.3, and 24356.4.

SEC. 49. Section 26081.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

26081.5. If any overpayment of tax is claimed as a credit against estimated tax for the succeeding income year, that amount shall be considered as payment of the tax for the succeeding income year (whether or not claimed as a credit in the return of estimated tax for that succeeding income year), and no claim for credit or refund of that overpayment shall be allowed for the income year in which the overpayment arises.

SEC. 50. Sections 2.5 and 35.5 of this bill incorporate amendments to Sections 17052.11 and 23603 of the Revenue and Taxation Code proposed by both this bill and SB 146. Sections 2.5 and 35.5 shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1994, (2) each bill amends Sections 17052.11 and 23603 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 146, in which case Sections 17052.11 and 23603 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by SB 146, shall remain operative only until the operative date of this bill, at which time Sections 2.5 and 35.5 of this bill shall become operative, and Sections 2 and 35 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 51. Section 34.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 23456 of the Revenue and Taxation Code proposed by both this bill and AB 63. Section 34.5 shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1994, (2) each bill amends Section 23456 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 63, in which case Section 23456 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by AB 63, shall remain operative only until the operative date of this bill, at which time Section 34.5 of this bill shall become operative, and Section 34 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 52. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 874

An act to amend, repeal, and add Section 23081 of, to add Sections 17955 and 23040.1 to, and to repeal and add Section 17870 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17870 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Assembly Bill 35 of the 1993–94 Regular Session, is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 17870 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17870. (a) Section 737 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to recognition of precontribution gain in the case of certain distributions to the contributing partner, shall apply to distributions in taxable years commencing on or after January 1, 1993.

(b) Section 1937(b)(1) of the Comprehensive National Energy Policy Act of 1992 (Public Law 102-486), relating to technical amendments to Section 704(c)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code, shall apply to distributions in taxable years commencing on or after January 1, 1993.

(c) Section 1937(b)(2) of the Comprehensive National Energy Policy Act of 1992 (Public Law 102-486), relating to technical amendments to Section 731(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, shall apply to distributions in taxable years ending on or after January 1, 1993.

SEC. 3. Section 17955 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17955. (a) Notwithstanding Sections 17951, 17952, and 17953, gross income of a nonresident (as defined in Section 17015) from sources within this state shall not include dividends, interest, or gains and losses from qualifying investment securities if any of the following apply:

(1) In the case of an individual, with respect to the qualifying investment securities, the taxpayer's only contact with this state is through a broker, dealer, or investment adviser located in this state.

(2) In the case of a partner's distributive share of income from qualifying investment securities, the partnership qualifies as an investment partnership, whether or not the partnership has a usual place of business located in this state.

(3) In the case of a beneficiary of a qualifying estate or trust, the taxpayer's only contact with this state is through an investment account managed by a corporate fiduciary located in this state.

(4) In the case of a unit holder in a regulated investment company (as defined in Section 851 of the Internal Revenue Code), to the extent of the dividends distributed by the regulated investment company, whether or not the regulated investment company has a principal place of business in this state.

(b) This section shall not apply to income derived from investment activity that is interrelated with any trade or business activity of the nonresident or an entity in which the nonresident owns an interest in this state, whose primary activities are separate and distinct from the acts of acquiring, managing, or disposing of qualified investment securities, or if those securities were acquired with working capital of a trade or business activity conducted in this state in which the nonresident owns an interest.

(c) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Investment partnership" means a partnership that meets both of the following requirements:

(A) No less than 90 percent of the partnership's cost of its total assets consist of qualifying investment securities, deposits at banks or other financial institutions, and office space and equipment reasonably necessary to carry on its activities as an investment partnership.

(B) No less than 90 percent of its gross income consists of interest, dividends, and gains from the sale or exchange of qualifying investment securities.

(2) "Qualifying estate or trust" means an estate or trust that meets both of the following requirements:

(A) No less than 90 percent of the estate's or trust's cost of its total assets consist of qualifying investment securities, deposits at banks or other financial institutions, and office space and equipment reasonably necessary to carry on its investment activities.

(B) No less than 90 percent of its gross income consists of interest, dividends, and gains from the sale or exchange of qualifying investment securities.

(3) (A) "Qualifying investment securities" include all of the following:

(i) Common stock, including preferred or debt securities convertible into common stock, and preferred stock.

(ii) Bonds, debentures, and other debt securities.

(iii) Foreign and domestic currency deposits or equivalents and securities convertible into foreign securities.

(iv) Mortgage- or asset-backed securities secured by federal, state, or local governmental agencies.

(v) Repurchase agreements and loan participations.

(vi) Foreign currency exchange contracts and forward and futures contracts on foreign currencies.

(vii) Stock and bond index securities and futures contracts, and other similar financial securities and futures contracts on those securities.

(viii) Options for the purchase or sale of any of the securities, currencies, contracts, or financial instruments described in clauses (i) to (vii), inclusive.

(ix) Regulated futures contracts.

(B) "Qualifying investment securities" does not include an interest in a partnership unless that partnership is itself an investment partnership.

SEC. 4. Section 23040.1 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

23040.1. (a) Notwithstanding Sections 23040 and 25101, income derived from or attributable to sources within this state shall not include the distributive share of interest, dividends, and gains from the sale or exchange of qualifying investment securities derived by a bank or corporation that is a partner in a partnership that qualifies as an investment partnership under Section 17955, whether or not the partnership has a usual place of business in this state, if the income from the partnership is the bank's or corporation's only income derived from or attributable to sources within this state.

(b) Subdivision (a) shall not apply to a bank or corporation that participates in the management of the investment activities of the investment partnership or that is engaged in a unitary business with another bank, corporation, or partnership that participates in the management of the investment activities of the partnership or has income derived from or attributable to sources within this state other than income described in subdivision (a).

(c) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Investment partnership" means a partnership that meets both of the following requirements:

(A) No less than 90 percent of the partnership's cost of its total assets consist of qualifying investment securities, deposits at banks or other financial institutions, and office space and equipment reasonably necessary to carry on its activities as an investment partnership.

(B) No less than 90 percent of its gross income consists of interest, dividends, and gains from the sale or exchange of qualifying investment securities.

(2) (A) "Qualifying investment securities" include all of the following:

(i) Common stock, including preferred or debt securities convertible into common stock, and preferred stock.

(ii) Bonds, debentures, and other debt securities.

(iii) Foreign and domestic currency deposits or equivalents and securities convertible into foreign securities.

(iv) Mortgage- or asset-backed securities secured by federal, state, or local governmental agencies.

(v) Repurchase agreements and loan participations.

(vi) Foreign currency exchange contracts and forward and futures contracts on foreign currencies.

(vii) Stock and bond index securities and futures contracts, and other similar financial securities and futures contracts on those securities.

(viii) Options for the purchase or sale of any of the securities, currencies, contracts, or financial instruments described in clauses (i) to (vii), inclusive.

(ix) Regulated futures contracts.

(B) "Qualifying investment securities" does not include an interest in a partnership unless that partnership is itself an investment partnership.

SEC. 5. Section 23081 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23081. (a) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1988, every limited partnership doing business in this state (as defined by Section 23101) and required to file a return under Section 17932 shall pay annually to this state a tax for the privilege of doing business in this state in an amount equal to the applicable amount specified in Section 23153 for the current taxable year.

(b) In addition to any limited partnership that is doing business in this state and therefore is subject to the tax imposed by subdivision (a), for each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1993, every limited partnership that has executed, acknowledged, and filed a certificate of limited partnership with the Secretary of State pursuant to Section 15621 of the Corporations Code shall pay annually the tax prescribed in subdivision (a). The tax shall be paid for each taxable year, or part thereof, until a certificate of dissolution or certificate of cancellation is filed on behalf of the limited partnership with the office of the Secretary of State pursuant to Section 15623 of the Corporations Code.

(c) The tax imposed under this section shall be due and payable on the date the return is required to be filed under Section 18432.

(d) For purposes of this section, "limited partnership" means any partnership formed by two or more persons under the laws of this state or any other jurisdiction and having one or more general partners and one or more limited partners.

(e) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 23081 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

23081. (a) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1988, every limited partnership doing business in this state (as defined by Section 23101) and required to file a return under Section 18633 shall pay annually to this state a tax for the privilege of doing business in this state in an amount equal to the applicable amount specified in Section 23153 for the current taxable year.

(b) In addition to any limited partnership that is doing business in this state and therefore is subject to the tax imposed by subdivision (a), for each taxable year beginning or after January 1, 1993, every limited partnership that has executed, acknowledged, and filed a certificate of limited partnership with the Secretary of State pursuant to Section 15621 of the Corporations Code shall pay annually the tax prescribed in subdivision (a). The tax shall be paid for each taxable year, or part thereof, until a certificate of dissolution or certificate of cancellation is filed on behalf of the limited partnership with the office of the Secretary of State pursuant to Section 15623 of the Corporations Code.

(c) The tax imposed under this section shall be due and payable on the date the return is required to be filed under Section 18633.

(d) For purposes of this section, "limited partnership" means any partnership formed by two or more persons under the laws of this state or any other jurisdiction and having one or more general partners and one or more limited partners.

(e) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1994.

SEC. 7. The repeal of Section 17870 of the Revenue and Taxation Code made by Section 1 of this act shall only become operative if Assembly Bill 35 of the 1993–94 Regular Session is enacted, becomes effective on or before January 1, 1994, and adds Section 17870 to the Revenue and Taxation Code, in which case Section 17870 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Section 2 of this act, shall not become operative.

SEC. 8. It is the intent of the Legislature that no inference be drawn in connection with any matter considered under Sections 17951 to 17954, inclusive, or Section 23040 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, for any taxable or income year beginning before January 1, 1993, with respect to the addition of Sections 17955 and 23040.1 to the Revenue and Taxation Code by this act.

SEC. 9. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 875

An act to amend Sections 8651.8, 17052.11, and 23603 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8651.8 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

8651.8. (a) Notwithstanding Section 8651, the excise tax imposed upon ethanol or methanol containing not more than 15 percent gasoline or diesel fuels shall be one-half the rate prescribed by Section 8651 for each gallon of fuel used.

(b) All references in this code to Section 8651 shall be deemed, with respect to the rate imposed upon ethanol or methanol, to also refer to this section.

SEC. 2. Section 17052.11 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17052.11. (a) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and before January 1, 1996, there shall be allowed as a credit against the amount of "net tax" (as defined in Section 17039) an amount equal to 55 percent of the qualified costs paid or incurred by the taxpayer for low-emission vehicles or low-emission conversion devices. The credit allowed by this section shall be claimed in the taxable year the device is installed or, in the case of a new low-emission motor vehicle, the taxable year the low-emission vehicle is placed in service, and shall not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) per automobile, motorcycle, or two person passenger vehicle, or three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) for a vehicle whose weight is in excess of 5,750 pounds.

(b) In the case of a husband or wife who files a separate return, the credit may be taken by either or equally divided between them. In the case of a partnership, the tax credit may be divided between the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement in accordance with Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 17851), which includes Section 704 of the Internal Revenue Code concerning substantial economic effect, relating to a partner's distributive share.

(c) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Device" means any apparatus not otherwise required by federal or California law that is designed and installed to convert a new or used motor vehicle to a low-emission motor vehicle as certified by the state board.

(2) "Differential cost" means the difference in retail cost between a low-emission vehicle and a comparable vehicle that is not a low-emission vehicle. This amount shall be determined by the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission (hereafter referred to as the California Energy Commission), based on information supplied by the taxpayer and subject to the guidelines adopted under subdivision (f).

(3) "Low-emission motor vehicle" means a vehicle as defined under Section 39037.05 of the Health and Safety Code.

(4) "Qualified costs" means each of the following:

(A) The total cost (including installation charges but excluding interest charges) of a device designed and installed to convert a qualified motor vehicle to a low-emission motor vehicle.

(B) The differential cost of a new qualified motor vehicle that is equipped from the factory to operate as a low-emission motor vehicle and is certified by the state board to be a low-emission motor vehicle.

(C) Fifteen percent of the purchase price of a nonrecreational motor vehicle that is a low-emission motor vehicle intended to be used on private roads, private school campuses, or commercial or industrial worksites in this state.

(5) "Qualified motor vehicle" means a motor vehicle, as defined by Section 415 of the Vehicle Code, that is either of the following:

(A) A motor vehicle that is intended to be used on public roads and highways and is registered in this state.

(B) A nonrecreational motor vehicle that is intended to be used on private roads, private school campuses, or commercial or industrial worksites in this state.

(6) "State board" refers to the Air Resources Board.

(d) The taxpayer or partnership shall qualify for the credit after application to and certification by the California Energy Commission that all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The device or vehicle qualifies for the credit under this section.

(2) Credit allocation is available.

(e) The taxpayer or partnership shall do all of the following:

(1) (A) Apply to the California Energy Commission for credit allocation and certification.

(B) The application for credit allocation shall include all information that is required by the California Energy Commission, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

(i) A plan to purchase a device, as defined in subdivision (c), or a vehicle.

(ii) The cost estimates of the device or vehicle.

(2) Notify the California Energy Commission in a form and manner specified by the California Energy Commission that the device or vehicle has actually been purchased.

(3) Retain a copy of the certification issued by the California Energy Commission.

(4) Make the certification available to the Franchise Tax Board upon demand.

(5) The partnership shall disclose in its tax return each year all of the following:

(A) The name of each partner who received a credit allocation.

(B) The partner's social security number or identification number.

(C) The amount of credit allocation distributed to each partner.

(f) The California Energy Commission shall do all of the following:

(1) Establish criteria for allocation of the credit amounts in the case where more than seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) of credits are requested annually.

(2) Provide guidelines and criteria for application for credit allocation. These guidelines shall be exempt from Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. However, these guidelines shall be adopted by the California Energy Commission at a noticed meeting and after one or more public workshops.

(3) Accept applications and issue certificates including the credit amount to which the taxpayer or partnership is entitled.

(4) Provide an annual listing to the Franchise Tax Board (preferably on magnetic tape or other machine-readable form, and in a form and manner agreed upon by the Franchise Tax Board and the California Energy Commission) of the qualified taxpayers or partnerships who were issued the certification and the allowable amount of the credit allocated to each taxpayer or partnership.

(g) The taxpayers' social security numbers or identification numbers obtained through the tax credit application and certification process shall be used exclusively for state tax administrative purposes.

(h) If a federal tax credit is enacted for costs incurred by a taxpayer for devices described in this section, then to the extent that credit is allowed or allowable, the state credit provided in subdivision (a) shall be reduced by the amount of the federal credit.

(i) That portion of the credit under this section which exceeds the "net tax" for the taxable year may not be carried over and applied to the "net tax" in succeeding taxable years.

(j) The aggregate amount of tax credits granted pursuant to this section and Section 23603 shall not exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) per year. The California Energy Commission shall not authorize any credit if the credit would cause the total amount of credit authorized in any year under the Personal Income Tax Law and the Bank and Corporation Tax Law to exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000).

(k) (1) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1991.

(2) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1996, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 2.5. Section 17052.11 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17052.11. (a) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and before January 1, 1996, there shall be allowed as a credit against the amount of "net tax" (as defined in Section 17039) an amount equal to 55 percent of the qualified costs paid or incurred by the taxpayer for low-emission vehicles or low-emission conversion devices. The credit allowed by this section shall be claimed in the taxable year the device is installed or, in the case of a new low-emission motor vehicle, the taxable year the low-emission vehicle is placed in service, and shall not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) per automobile, motorcycle, or two person passenger vehicle, or three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) for a vehicle whose weight is in excess of 5,750 pounds.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Device" means any apparatus not otherwise required by federal or California law that is designed and installed to convert a new or used motor vehicle to a low-emission motor vehicle as certified by the state board.

(2) "Differential cost" means the difference in retail cost between a low-emission vehicle and a comparable vehicle that is not a low-emission vehicle. This amount shall be determined by the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission (hereafter referred to as the California Energy Commission), based on information supplied by the taxpayer and subject to the guidelines adopted under subdivision (e).

(3) "Low-emission motor vehicle" means a vehicle as defined under Section 39037.05 of the Health and Safety Code.

(4) "Qualified costs" means each of the following:

(A) The total cost (including installation charges but excluding interest charges) of a device designed and installed to convert a qualified motor vehicle to a low-emission motor vehicle.

(B) The differential cost of a new qualified motor vehicle that is equipped from the factory to operate as a low-emission motor vehicle and is certified by the state board to be a low-emission motor vehicle.

(C) Fifteen percent of the purchase price of a nonrecreational motor vehicle that is a low-emission motor vehicle intended to be used on private roads, private school campuses, or commercial or industrial worksites in this state.

(5) "Qualified motor vehicle" means a motor vehicle, as defined by Section 415 of the Vehicle Code, that is either of the following:

(A) A motor vehicle that is intended to be used on public roads and highways and is registered in this state.

(B) A nonrecreational motor vehicle that is intended to be used on private roads, private school campuses, or commercial or industrial worksites in this state.

(6) "State board" refers to the Air Resources Board.

(c) The taxpayer or partnership shall qualify for the credit after application to and certification by the California Energy Commission that all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The device or vehicle qualifies for the credit under this section.

(2) Credit allocation is available.

(d) The taxpayer or partnership shall do all of the following:

(1) (A) Apply to the California Energy Commission for credit allocation and certification.

(B) The application for credit allocation shall include all information that is required by the California Energy Commission, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

(i) A plan to purchase a device, as defined in subdivision (b), or a vehicle.

(ii) The cost estimates of the device or vehicle.

(2) Notify the California Energy Commission in a form and manner specified by the California Energy Commission that the device or vehicle has actually been purchased.

(3) Retain a copy of the certification issued by the California Energy Commission.

(4) Make the certification available to the Franchise Tax Board upon demand.

(5) The partnership shall disclose in its tax return each year all of the following:

(A) The name of each partner who received a credit allocation.

(B) The partner's social security number or identification number.

(C) The amount of credit allocation distributed to each partner.

(e) The California Energy Commission shall do all of the following:

(1) Establish criteria for allocation of the credit amounts in the case where more than seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) of credits are requested annually.

(2) Provide guidelines and criteria for application for credit allocation. These guidelines shall be exempt from Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. However, these guidelines shall be adopted by the California Energy Commission at a noticed meeting and after one or more public workshops.

(3) Accept applications and issue certificates including the credit amount to which the taxpayer or partnership is entitled.

(4) Provide an annual listing to the Franchise Tax Board (preferably on magnetic tape or other machine-readable form, and in a form and manner agreed upon by the Franchise Tax Board and the California Energy Commission) of the qualified taxpayers or partnerships who were issued the certification and the allowable amount of the credit allocated to each taxpayer or partnership.

(f) The taxpayers' social security numbers or identification numbers obtained through the tax credit application and certification process shall be used exclusively for state tax administrative purposes.

(g) The "qualified costs" shall be reduced by an amount equal to any amount allowable, for purposes of computing federal income tax, as a credit under Section 30 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to credit for qualified electric vehicles, for the same vehicle.

(h) In the case where the credit allowed by this section exceeds the "net tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "net tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted.

(i) The aggregate amount of tax credits granted pursuant to this section and Section 23603 shall not exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) per year. The California Energy Commission shall not authorize any credit if the credit would cause the total amount of credit authorized in any year under the Personal Income Tax Law and the Bank and Corporation Tax Law to exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000).

(j) (1) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1991.

(2) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1996, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 23603 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23603. (a) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and before January 1, 1996, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "tax" (as defined by Section 23036) an amount equal to 55 percent of the qualified costs paid or incurred by the taxpayer for low-emission vehicles or low-emission conversion devices. The credit allowed by this section shall be claimed in the income year the device is installed or, in the case of a new low-emission motor vehicle, the income year the low-emission vehicle is placed in service, and shall not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) per automobile, motorcycle, or two person passenger vehicle, or three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) for a vehicle whose weight is in excess of 5,750 pounds.

(b) If two or more taxpayers share in the expenses eligible for the credit provided by this section, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive the tax credit in proportion to its respective share of the expenses paid or incurred. In the case of a partnership, the tax credit may be divided between the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement in accordance with Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 17851), which includes Section 704 of the Internal Revenue Code concerning substantial economic effect, relating to partner's distributive share.

(c) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Device" means any apparatus not otherwise required by federal or California law that is designed and installed to convert a new or used motor vehicle to a low-emission motor vehicle as certified by the state board.

(2) "Differential cost" means the difference in retail cost between a low-emission vehicle and a comparable vehicle that is not a low-emission vehicle. This amount shall be determined by the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission (hereafter referred to as the California Energy Commission), based on information supplied by the taxpayer and subject to the guidelines adopted under subdivision (f).

(3) "Low-emission motor vehicle" means a vehicle as defined under Section 39037.05 of the Health and Safety Code.

(4) "Qualified costs" means each of the following:

(A) The total cost (including installation charges but excluding interest charges) of a device designed and installed to convert a qualified motor vehicle to a low-emission motor vehicle.

(B) The differential cost of a new qualified motor vehicle that is equipped from the factory to operate as a low-emission motor vehicle and is certified by the state board to be a low-emission motor vehicle.

(C) Fifteen percent of the purchase price of a nonrecreational motor vehicle that is a low-emission motor vehicle intended to be used on private roads, private school campuses, or commercial or industrial worksites in this state.

(5) "Qualified motor vehicle" means a motor vehicle, as defined by Section 415 of the Vehicle Code, that is either of the following:

(A) A motor vehicle that is intended to be used on public roads and highways and is registered in this state.

(B) A nonrecreational motor vehicle that is intended to be used on private roads, private school campuses, or commercial or industrial worksites in this state.

(6) "State board" refers to the Air Resources Board.

(d) The taxpayer shall qualify for the credit after application to and certification by the California Energy Commission that all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The device or vehicle qualifies for the credit under this section.

(2) Credit allocation is available.

(e) The taxpayer shall do all of the following:

(1) (A) Apply to the California Energy Commission for credit allocation and certification.

(B) The application for credit allocation shall include all information that is required by the California Energy Commission, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

(i) A plan to purchase a device, as defined in subdivision (c), or a vehicle.

(ii) The cost estimates of the device or vehicle.

(2) Notify the California Energy Commission in a form and manner specified by the California Energy Commission that the device or vehicle has actually been purchased.

(3) Retain a copy of the certification issued by the California Energy Commission.

(4) Make the certification available to the Franchise Tax Board upon demand.

(5) The partnership or S corporation shall disclose in its tax return each year all of the following:

(A) The name of each partner or shareholder who received a credit allocation.

(B) The partner's or shareholder's social security number or identification number.

(C) The amount of credit allocation distributed to each partner or shareholder.

(f) The California Energy Commission shall do all of the following:

(1) Establish criteria for allocation of the credit amounts in the case where more than seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) of credit are requested annually.

(2) Provide guidelines and criteria for application for credit allocation. These guidelines shall be exempt from Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. However, these guidelines shall be adopted by the California Energy Commission at a noticed meeting and after one or more public workshops.

(3) Accept applications and issue certificates including the credit amount to which the taxpayer is entitled.

(4) Provide an annual listing to the Franchise Tax Board (preferably on magnetic tape or other machine-readable form, and in a form and manner agreed upon by the Franchise Tax Board and the California Energy Commission) of the qualified taxpayers who were issued the certification and the allowable amount of the credit allocated to each taxpayer.

(g) The taxpayers' identification numbers obtained through the tax credit application and certification process shall be used exclusively for state tax administrative purposes.

(h) If a federal income tax credit is enacted for costs incurred by a taxpayer for the purchase and installation of a device described in this section, then to the extent that credit is allowed or allowable, the state credit provided in subdivision (a) shall be reduced by the amount of the federal credit.

(i) In the case where the credit allowed by this section exceeds the "tax," the excess may not be carried over for application to subsequent years.

(j) The aggregate amount of tax credits granted pursuant to this section and Section 17052.11 shall not exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) per year. The California Energy Commission shall not authorize any credit if the credit would cause the total amount of credit authorized in any year under the Personal Income Tax Law and the Bank and Corporation Tax Law to exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000).

(k) (1) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1991.

(2) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1996, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 3.5. Section 23603 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23603. (a) For income years beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and before January 1, 1996, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "tax" (as defined by Section 23036) an amount equal to 55 percent of the qualified cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer for low-emission vehicles or low-emission conversion devices. The credit allowed by this section shall be claimed in the income year the device is installed or, in the case of a new low-emission motor vehicle, the income year the low-emission vehicle is placed in service, and shall not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) per automobile, motorcycle, or two person passenger vehicle, or three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) for a vehicle whose weight is in excess of 5,750 pounds.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Device" means any apparatus not otherwise required by federal or California law that is designed and installed to convert a new or used motor vehicle to a low-emission motor vehicle as certified by the state board.

(2) "Differential cost" means the difference in retail cost between a low-emission vehicle and a comparable vehicle that is not a low-emission vehicle. This amount shall be determined by the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission (hereafter referred to as the California Energy Commission), based on information supplied by the taxpayer and subject to the guidelines adopted under subdivision (e).

(3) "Low-emission motor vehicle" means a vehicle as defined under Section 39037.05 of the Health and Safety Code.

(4) "Qualified costs" means each of the following:

(A) The total cost (including installation charges but excluding interest charges) of a device designed and installed to convert a qualified motor vehicle to a low-emission motor vehicle.

(B) The differential cost of a new qualified motor vehicle that is equipped from the factory to operate as a low-emission motor vehicle and is certified by the state board to be a low-emission motor vehicle.

(C) Fifteen percent of the purchase price of a nonrecreational motor vehicle that is a low-emission motor vehicle intended to be used on private roads, private school campuses, or commercial or industrial worksites in this state.

(5) "Qualified motor vehicle" means a motor vehicle, as defined by Section 415 of the Vehicle Code, that is either of the following:

(A) A motor vehicle that is intended to be used on public roads and highways and is registered in this state.

(B) A nonrecreational motor vehicle that is intended to be used on private roads, private school campuses, or commercial or industrial worksites in this state.

(6) "State board" refers to the Air Resources Board.

(c) The taxpayer shall qualify for the credit after application to and certification by the California Energy Commission that all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The device or vehicle qualifies for the credit under this section.

(2) Credit allocation is available.

(d) The taxpayer shall do all of the following:

(1) (A) Apply to the California Energy Commission for credit allocation and certification.

(B) The application for credit allocation shall include all information that is required by the California Energy Commission, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

(i) A plan to purchase a device, as defined in subdivision (b), or a vehicle.

(ii) The cost estimates of the device or vehicle.

(2) Notify the California Energy Commission in a form and manner specified by the California Energy Commission that the device or vehicle has actually been purchased.

(3) Retain a copy of the certification issued by the California Energy Commission.

(4) Make the certification available to the Franchise Tax Board upon demand.

(5) The partnership or S corporation shall disclose in its tax return each year all of the following:

(A) The name of each partner or shareholder who received a credit allocation.

(B) The partner's or shareholder's social security number or identification number.

(C) The amount of credit allocation distributed to each partner or shareholder.

(e) The California Energy Commission shall do all of the following:

(1) Establish criteria for allocation of the credit amounts in the case where more than seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) of credit are requested annually.

(2) Provide guidelines and criteria for application for credit allocation. These guidelines shall be exempt from Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. However, these guidelines shall be adopted by the California Energy Commission at a noticed meeting and after one or more public workshops.

(3) Accept applications and issue certificates including the credit amount to which the taxpayer is entitled.

(4) Provide an annual listing to the Franchise Tax Board (preferably on magnetic tape or other machine-readable form, and in a form and manner agreed upon by the Franchise Tax Board and the California Energy Commission) of the qualified taxpayers who were issued the certification and the allowable amount of the credit allocated to each taxpayer.

(f) The taxpayers' identification numbers obtained through the tax credit application and certification process shall be used exclusively for state tax administrative purposes.

(g) The "qualified costs" shall be reduced by an amount equal to any amount allowable, for purposes of computing federal income tax, as a credit under Section 30 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to credit for qualified electric vehicles, for the same vehicle.

(h) In the case where the credit allowed by this section exceeds the "tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted.

(i) The aggregate amount of tax credits granted pursuant to this section and Section 17052.11 shall not exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) per year. The California Energy Commission shall not authorize any credit if the credit would cause the total amount of credit authorized in any year under the Personal Income Tax Law and the Bank and Corporation Tax Law to exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000).

(j) (1) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1991.

(2) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1996, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 4. (a) The Legislative Analyst shall conduct a study of the effectiveness of the low-emission vehicle tax credit that is provided in Sections 17052.11 and 23603 of the Revenue and Taxation Code. The study shall include, but not be limited to, the effect the provision of that credit has on all of the following:

(1) Consumer and business vehicle purchase decisions.

(2) The vehicle industry's decision to produce low-emission vehicles, with particular emphasis on any California based producer of those vehicles.

(3) The reduction of vehicle emission levels in California.

(b) The Legislative Analyst shall report his or her findings to the Legislature on or before March 31, 1995.

SEC. 5. Sections 2.5 and 3.5 of this bill incorporate amendments to Sections 17052.11 and 23603 of the Revenue and Taxation Code proposed by both this bill and AB 35. Sections 2.5 and 3.5 shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective as a tax levy, (2) each bill amends Sections 17052.11 and 23603 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 35, in which case Sections 2 and 3 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 6. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 876

An act to amend and repeal Sections 4384.5, 4390.3, 4390.10, 4390.14, 4700, and 4726 of, and to repeal Section 4706 of, the Civil Code, to amend Sections 683.130, 695.210, 695.220, and 697.320 of, to amend and repeal Sections 1697, 1698, and 1699 of, and to add Section 695.221 to, the Code of Civil Procedure, to amend Sections 2580, 3190, 3751, 4848, 4849, 4853, 5100, 5101, 5230, 5235, 5240, 5241, 5243, 5260, and 6343 of, to amend and renumber Section 6326 of, to add Section 4014 to, to add and repeal Sections 20024 and 20039 of, and to repeal Sections 5754 and 7712 of, the Family Code, to amend Sections 6159 and 68085 of the Government Code, to amend Section 4903 of the Labor Code, to amend Section 977 of the Penal Code, to amend Sections 408 and 3752.5 of, and to repeal Section 19001 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, and to amend Sections 903, 903.5, and 11476 of, and to amend and repeal Sections 11478 and 11478.5 of, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to civil law, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4384.5 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4384.5. (a) Notwithstanding subdivision (b) or any other provision of law, a judgment for child support, spousal support, or family support, or a judgment for reimbursement arising under Section 11350 of the Welfare and Institutions Code or for arrearages, and including all lawful interest and penalties computed thereon, is exempt from any requirement that judgments be renewed and is enforceable until paid in full.

(b) Any judgment for child support, spousal support, or family support, or a judgment for reimbursement arising under Section 11350 of the Welfare and Institutions Code or for arrearages, and including all lawful interest computed thereon, may optionally be renewed by filing an application for renewal of the judgment in the manner specified in Article 2 (commencing with Section 683.110) of Chapter 3 of Division 1 of Title 9 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(c) This section shall remain effective only until the date the Family Code, as added by Chapter 162 of the Statutes of 1992, becomes operative and on that date is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 4390.3 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4390.3. (a) On and after July 1, 1990, whenever the court orders either party to pay any amount of support or orders a modification of the amount of support to be paid, the court shall also order the obligor to assign to an obligee that portion of his or her earnings due or to be due in the future as will be sufficient to pay the amount ordered by the court for support and shall include an amount to be paid toward the liquidation of any arrearage. The court shall include a wage assignment order in any order or judgment establishing or modifying support. Upon the filing and service of a notice of motion or order to show cause with the supporting application, an obligee or custodial parent receiving services under Title IV-D of the federal Social Security Act may request the court to issue a wage assignment to enforce an existing support order or to modify an existing wage assignment order.

(b) All orders for wage assignment entered pursuant to this section shall be effective upon compliance with the procedures set forth in Section 4390.8, unless stayed pursuant to subdivision (c).

(c) The court may order that service of the wage assignment be stayed only if the court makes a finding of good cause or if an alternative arrangement exists for payment in accordance with paragraph (2). Notwithstanding any other provision of law, service of wage assignments issued for foreign orders for support, and service of foreign orders for the assignment of wages registered pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1670) of Title 10a of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure, shall not be stayed pursuant to this subdivision. For purposes of this subdivision, good cause or an alternative arrangement for staying a wage assignment are as follows:

(1) Good cause for staying a wage assignment exists only when all of the following conditions exist:

(A) The court provides a written explanation of why the stay of the wage assignment would be in the best interests of the child.

(B) The obligor has a history of uninterrupted, full, and timely payment, other than through a wage assignment or other mandatory process of previously ordered support, during the previous 12 months.

(C) The obligor does not owe an arrearage for prior support.

(D) The obligor proves, and the court finds, by clear and convincing evidence that service of the wage assignment would cause extraordinary hardship upon the obligor. Whenever possible, the court shall specify a date that any stay ordered under this section will automatically terminate.

(2) An alternative arrangement for staying a wage assignment order shall require a written agreement between the parties that provides for payment of the support obligation as ordered other than through the immediate service of a wage assignment. Any agreement between the parties which includes the staying of a service of a wage assignment shall include the concurrence of the district attorney in any case in which support is ordered to be paid through a county officer designated for that purpose. The execution of an agreement pursuant to this paragraph shall not preclude a party from thereafter seeking a wage assignment in accordance with the procedures specified in Section 4390.4 upon violation of the agreement.

This section shall remain effective only until the date the Family Code, as added by Chapter 162 of the Statutes of 1992, becomes operative, and on that date is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 4390.10 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4390.10. (a) The employer shall continue to withhold and forward support as ordered by the court until served with notice terminating the wage assignment order.

(b) The employer shall send the amounts withheld to the obligee within 10 days of the date the obligor is paid and shall report to the obligee the date on which the amount was withheld from the obligor's wages.

(c) The employer may deduct from the earnings of the employee the sum of one dollar ($1) for each payment made pursuant to the order.

(d) An employer who willfully fails to withhold and forward support pursuant to a currently valid order entered and served upon the employer pursuant to this chapter is liable to the obligee for the amount of support not withheld, forwarded, or otherwise paid to the obligee. In addition to any other penalty or liability provided by law, willful failure by an employer to comply with such an order is punishable as a contempt pursuant to Section 1218 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(e) Service of the wage assignment creates a lien on the earnings of the employee and the property of the employer to the same extent as the service of an earnings withholding order as provided in Section 706.029 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(f) This section shall remain effective only until the Family Code, as added by Chapter 162 of the Statutes of 1992, becomes operative and on that date is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 4390.14 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4390.14. Upon the filing and service of a motion and a notice of motion by the obligor, the court shall terminate the service of an order of assignment if past due support has been paid in full, including any interest due, and if one of the following conditions exists:

(a) With regards to orders for spousal support, the death or remarriage of the spouse to whom support is owed.

(b) With regards to orders for child support, the death or emancipation of the child for whom support is owed.

(c) The court determines that there is good cause, as defined in Section 4390.3, to terminate the assignment. This subdivision does not apply if there has been more than one application for a wage assignment.

(d) The obligor meets the conditions of an alternative arrangement specified in paragraph (2) of subdivision (c) of Section 4390.3, and the wage assignment has not been previously terminated and subsequently reinitiated.

(e) There is no longer a current order for support.

(f) The termination of the stay of a wage assignment under Section 4390.4 was improper, but only if that termination was based upon the obligor's failure to make timely support payments as described in subdivision (b) of Section 4390.4.

(g) The employer or agency designated to provide services under Title IV-D of the Social Security Act is unable to deliver payment for a period of six months due to the failure of the obligee to notify that employer or agency of a change in the obligee's address.

(h) This section shall remain effective only until the date the Family Code, as added by Chapter 162 of the Statutes of 1992, becomes operative and on that date is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 4700 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4700. (a) In any proceeding where there is at issue the support of a minor child or a child for whom support is authorized under Section 206, the court may order either or both parents to pay any amount necessary for the support, maintenance, and education of the child. At the request of either party, the court shall make appropriate findings with respect to the circumstances on which the order for the support of a minor child is based. Upon a showing of good cause, the court may order the parent or parents required to make the payment of support to give reasonable security therefor. All payments of support shall be made by the person owing the support payment prior to the payment of any debts owing to creditors. Any order for child support may be modified or revoked as the court may deem necessary, except as to any amount that may have accrued prior to the date of the filing of the notice of motion or order to show cause to modify or revoke. Any order for child support issued or modified pursuant to this chapter shall include a provision requiring the obligor and child support obligee to notify the other parent or, if the order requires payment through an agency designated under Title IV-D of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 651 et seq.), the agency named in the order, of the name and address of the obligor's current employer. The Judicial Council shall modify the support order form to inform the obligor of this obligation. Any order for child support, as well as any order of modification or revocation of such an order, may be made retroactive to the date of the filing of the notice of motion or order to show cause therefor, or to any subsequent date, except as may otherwise be prescribed by federal law (42 U.S.C. Sec. 666(a)(9)).

(b) The court may order financial compensation for periods when a parent fails to assume the caretaker responsibility, or when a parent has been thwarted by the other parent when attempting to exercise visitation or custody rights, contemplated by a custody or visitation order entered pursuant to this part, including, but not limited to, an order for joint physical custody or by a written or oral agreement between the parents. The compensation shall be limited to (1) the reasonable expenses incurred for, or on behalf of, a child, resulting from the other parent's failure to assume his or her caretaker responsibility or (2) reasonable expenses incurred by a parent for or on behalf of a child resulting from the other parent's thwarting his or her efforts to exercise visitation or custody rights. These expenses may include the value of caretaker services, but are not limited to the cost of services provided by a third party during the relevant period.

The compensation may be requested by noticed motion or an order to show cause and shall allege, under penalty of perjury, a minimum of one hundred dollars ($100) of expenses so incurred or, at least three occurrences of failure to exercise visitation or custody rights or at least three occurrences of the thwarting of efforts to exercise visitation or custody rights within the six months prior to filing of the motion or order.

Attorney's fees shall be awarded to the prevailing party, upon a showing of the nonprevailing party's ability to pay.

(c) When a court orders a person to make specified payments for support of a child during the child's minority, or until the child is married or otherwise emancipated, or until the death of, or the occurrence of a specified event as to, a child for whom support is authorized under Section 206, the liability of the person ordered to pay support terminates upon the happening of the contingency. If the custodial parent or other person having physical custody of the child, to whom payments are to be made, fails to notify the person ordered to make those payments, or the attorney of record of the person ordered to pay support, of the happening of the contingency, and continues to accept support payments, the person shall refund any and all moneys received which accrued after the happening of the contingency, except that the overpayments shall first be applied to any and all support payments which are then in default. The court may, in the original order for support, order the custodial parent or other person to whom payments are to be made to notify the person ordered to make the payments, or his or her attorney of record, of the happening of the contingency.

(d) In the event obligations for support of a child are discharged in bankruptcy, the court may make all proper orders for the support, maintenance and education of the child, as the court may deem just.

(e) This section shall become operative January 1, 1993.

(f) This section shall remain effective only until the date the Family Code, as added by Chapter 162 of the Statutes of 1992, becomes operative and on that date is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 4706 of the Civil Code is repealed.

SEC. 7. Section 4726 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4726. (a) (1) The court shall require that health insurance coverage for the supported children shall be maintained by either or both parents if that insurance is available at no cost or at reasonable cost to the parent or parents. In cases in which the court determines that health insurance coverage is not available at no or reasonable cost, the court's order for support shall contain a provision which specifies that health insurance coverage shall be obtained if it becomes available at no or reasonable cost. Upon health insurance coverage at no or reasonable cost becoming available to the parent or parents, the parent or parents shall apply for that coverage.

(2) The court shall generally consider health insurance coverage to be reasonable in cost if it is employment-related group health insurance or other group health insurance, regardless of the service delivery mechanism. If the court determines that the cost of health insurance coverage is not reasonable, the court shall state its reasons on the record.

(3) As used in this section "health insurance coverage" includes vision care and dental care coverage whether the vision care or dental care coverage is part of existing health insurance coverage or is issued as a separate policy or plan. "Health insurance coverage" also includes provision for the delivery of health care services by a fee for service, health maintenance organization, preferred provider organization, or any other type of health care delivery system under which medical services could be provided to the dependent child or children of an absent parent.

(b) Where the district attorney has been designated as the assigned payee for child support, the court shall order the parent or parents to notify the district attorney upon applying for and obtaining health insurance coverage for the child within a reasonable period of time.

The district attorney shall obtain a completed medical form from the parent or parents in accordance with Section 11490 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and shall forward the completed form to the State Department of Health Services.

(c) In those cases where the district attorney is providing medical support enforcement services, the district attorney shall provide the parent or person having custody of the child or children with information pertaining to the health insurance policy which has been secured for that child or children.

(d) This section is applicable in all cases, irrespective of whether the support award made is based on the mandatory minimum schedule or a higher amount based on a state or county schedule.

(e) A child support order issued or modified pursuant to this chapter shall include a provision requiring the child support obligor to keep the obligee informed of whether the obligor has health insurance made available through the obligor's employer or has other group health insurance and, if so, the health insurance policy information. The support obligee under a child support order shall inform the support obligor of whether the obligee has health insurance made available through the employer or other group health insurance and, if so, the health insurance policy information. The Judicial Council shall modify the health insurance assignment form to notify child support obligors of the requirements of this subdivision and of subdivision (b).

This section shall remain effective only until the date the Family Code, as added by Chapter 162 of the Statutes of 1992, becomes operative and on that date is repealed.

SEC. 8. Section 683.130 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

683.130. (a) In the case of a lump-sum money judgment or a judgment for possession or sale of property, the application for renewal of the judgment may be filed at any time before the expiration of the 10-year period of enforceability provided by Section 683.020 or, if the judgment is a renewed judgment, at any time before the expiration of the 10-year period of enforceability of the renewed judgment provided by Section 683.120.

(b) Except as otherwise specified in subdivision (c), in the case of a money judgment payable in installments, the application for renewal of the judgment may be filed:

(1) If the judgment has not previously been renewed, at any time as to past due amounts that at the time of filing are not barred by the expiration of the 10-year period of enforceability provided by Sections 683.020 and 683.030.

(2) If the judgment has previously been renewed, within the time specified by subdivision (a) as to the amount of the judgment as previously renewed and, as to any past due amounts that became due and payable after the previous renewal, at any time before the expiration of the 10-year period of enforceability provided by Sections 683.020 and 683.030.

(c) (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a judgment for child support, spousal support, or family support, or a judgment for reimbursement that includes, but is not limited to, reimbursement arising under Section 11350 of the Welfare and Institutions Code or other arrearages, and including all lawful interest and penalties computed thereon, is exempt from any requirement that judgments be renewed. A judgment for child, spousal, or family support, or a judgment for reimbursement or other arrearages, and including all lawful interest and penalties computed thereon, is enforceable until paid in full.

(2) In the case of a money judgment whether payable in installments or not, for the payment of child support, spousal support, or family support, or for reimbursement or arrearages, and including all lawful interest computed thereon, an application for renewal of the judgment may be filed:

(A) If the judgment has not previously been renewed as to past due amounts, at any time.

(B) If the judgment has previously been renewed, the amount of the judgment as previously renewed and any past due amount that became due and payable after the previous renewal may be renewed at any time after five years has elapsed from the time the judgment was previously renewed.

SEC. 9. Section 695.210 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

695.210. The amount required to satisfy a money judgment is the total amount of the judgment as entered or renewed with the following additions and subtractions:

(a) The addition of costs added to the judgment pursuant to Section 685.090.

(b) The addition of interest added to the judgment as it accrues pursuant to Sections 685.010 to 685.030, inclusive.

(c) The subtraction of the amount of any partial satisfactions of the judgment.

(d) The subtraction of the amount of any portion of the judgment that is no longer enforceable.

SEC. 10. Section 695.220 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

695.220. Money received in satisfaction of a money judgment, except a money judgment for support, shall be credited as follows:

(a) The money shall first be credited against the amounts described in subdivision (b) of Section 685.050 that are collected by the levying officer.

(b) Any remaining money shall next be credited against any fees due the court pursuant to Section 6103.5 of the Government Code, which are to be remitted to the court by the levying officer.

(c) Any remaining money shall next be credited against the accrued interest that remains unsatisfied.

(d) Any remaining money shall be credited against the principal amount of the judgment remaining unsatisfied. If the judgment is payable in installments, the remaining money shall be credited against the matured installments in the order in which they matured.

SEC. 11. Section 695.221 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

695.221. Satisfaction of a money judgment for support shall be credited as follows:

(a) The money shall first be credited against the current month's support.

(b) Any remaining money is next to be credited against the accrued interest that remains unsatisfied.

(c) Any remaining money shall be credited against the principal amount of the judgment remaining unsatisfied. If the judgment is payable in installments, the remaining money shall be credited against the matured installments in the order in which they matured.

(d) Notwithstanding subdivisions (b) and (c), a collection received as a result of a tax refund offset shall first be credited against the interest and then the principal amount of past due support that has been assigned to the state pursuant to Section 11350 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and federal regulations prior to the interest and then principal amount of any other past-due support remaining unsatisfied.

(e) Notwithstanding subdivisions (b) and (c), a collection received as a result of a lien on a workers' compensation award shall be credited as provided in subdivision (e) of Section 4903 of the Labor Code.

SEC. 12. Section 697.320 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

697.320. (a) A judgment lien on real property is created under this section by recording an abstract or a certified copy of any of the following money judgments with the county recorder:

(1) A judgment for child, family, or spousal support payable in installments.

(2) A judgment entered pursuant to Section 667.7 (judgment against health care provider requiring periodic payments).

(b) Unless the money judgment is satisfied or the judgment lien is released, a judgment lien created under paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) continues during the period the judgment remains enforceable. Unless the money judgment is satisfied or the judgment lien is released, a judgment lien created under paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) continues for a period of 10 years from the date of its creation. The duration of a judgment lien created under paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) may be extended any number of times by recording during the time the judgment lien is in existence a certified copy of the judgment in the manner provided in this section for the initial recording; this rerecording has the effect of extending the duration of the judgment lien created under paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) until 10 years from the date of the rerecording.

SEC. 13. Section 1697 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1697. (a) If the duty of support is based on a foreign support order, the obligee has the additional remedies provided in Sections 1698 to 1699, inclusive.

(b) A support order made in this state may also be registered pursuant to Sections 1698 to 1699, inclusive, in any county in which either the obligor, the obligee, or the child who is the subject of the order resides, or in any county in which the obligor has income, assets, or property.

(c) This section shall remain effective only until the date the Family Code, as added by Chapter 162 of the Statutes of 1992, becomes operative and on that date is repealed.

SEC. 14. Section 1698 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1698. The obligee may register a foreign support order or a foreign order for the assignment of wages for support in a court of this state in the manner, with the effect, and for the purposes provided in this chapter. These orders may be registered in any county in which the obligor, the obligee, or the child who is the subject of the order resides, or in any county in which the obligor has income, assets, or property.

This section shall remain effective only until the date the Family Code, as added by Chapter 162 of the Statutes of 1992, becomes operative and on that date is repealed.

SEC. 15. Section 1699 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1699. (a) Except as specified in this section, upon registration the registered foreign support order shall be treated in the same manner as a support order issued by a court of this state. It has the same effect and is subject to the same procedures, defenses, and proceedings for reopening, vacating, or staying as a support order of this state and may be enforced and satisfied in like manner.

(b) The obligor has 20 days after the mailing or other service of notice of the registration of a foreign order of support in which to file a noticed motion requesting the court to vacate the registration or for other relief. In an action under this section there shall be no joinder of actions, coordination of actions, or cross- complaints and the claims or defenses shall be limited strictly to the identity of the obligor, the validity of the underlying foreign support order, or the accuracy of the obligee's statement of the amount of support remaining unpaid unless the amount has been previously established by a judgment or order. The obligor shall serve a copy of the motion, personally or by first-class mail, on the office of the district attorney, private attorney representing the obligee, or obligee representing himself or herself who filed the request for registration of the order, not less than 15 days prior to the date on which the motion is to be heard. If service is by mail, Section 1013 applies. If the obligor does not file the motion within 20 days, the registered foreign support order and all other documents filed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 1698.3 are confirmed.

(c) At the hearing on the motion to vacate registration of the order, the obligor may present only matters that would be available to the obligor as defenses in an action to enforce a support judgment. If the obligor shows and the court finds that an appeal from the order is pending or that a stay of execution has been granted the court shall stay enforcement of the order until the appeal is concluded, the time for appeal has expired, or the order is vacated, upon satisfactory proof that the obligor has furnished security for payment of the support ordered as required by the rendering state. If the obligor shows and the court finds any ground upon which enforcement of a support order of this state may be stayed the court shall stay enforcement of the order for an appropriate period if the obligor furnishes the same security for payment of the support ordered that is required for a support order of this state.

(d) Registration of an out-of-state order for the sole purpose of interstate wage withholding shall not confer jurisdiction on the court for any purpose other than income withholding.

(e) After registration, a foreign order for the assignment of wages or other earnings for support shall be treated for all purposes in the same manner as an order for assignment of earnings entered pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 4390) of Title 1.5 of Part 5 of Division 4 of the Civil Code or, on and after January 1, 1994, Article 3 (commencing with Section 4820) of Chapter 6 of Part 5 of Division 9 of the Family Code. The registered foreign order for assignment of wages shall be served upon the obligor's employer and the obligor shall be sent, by first-class mail, a copy of the foreign assignment order at the same time that the employer is served with the notice. The obligor may move to quash the assignment in accordance with Section 4390.9 of the Civil Code or, on and after January 1, 1994, Section 5270 of the Family Code.

(f) This section shall remain in effect only until the date the Family Code, as added by Chapter 162 of the Statutes of 1992, becomes operative and on that date is repealed.

SEC. 15.2. Section 2580 of the Family Code, as added by Section 111.6 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

2580. The Legislature hereby finds and declares as follows:

(a) It is the public policy of this state to provide uniformly and consistently for the standard of proof in establishing the character of property acquired by spouses during marriage in joint title form, and for the allocation of community and separate interests in that property between the spouses.

(b) The methods provided by case and statutory law have not resulted in consistency in the treatment of spouses' interests in property they hold in joint title, but rather, have created confusion as to which law applies to property at a particular point in time, depending on the form of title, and, as a result, spouses cannot have reliable expectations as to the characterization of their property and the allocation of the interests therein, and attorneys cannot reliably advise their clients regarding applicable law.

(c) Therefore, a compelling state interest exists to provide for uniform treatment of property. Thus, former Sections 4800.1 and 4800.2 of the Civil Code, as operative on January 1, 1987, and as continued in Sections 2581 and 2640 of this code, apply to all property held in joint title regardless of the date of acquisition of the property or the date of any agreement affecting the character of the property, and those sections apply in all proceedings commenced on or after January 1, 1984. However, those sections do not apply to property settlement agreements executed before January 1, 1987, or proceedings in which judgments were rendered before January 1, 1987, regardless of whether those judgments have become final.

SEC. 15.4. Section 3190 of the Family Code, as amended by Section 1 of Chapter 301 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

3190. (a) The court may require parents involved in a custody or visitation dispute, and the minor child, to participate in outpatient counseling with a licensed mental health professional, or through other community programs and services that provide appropriate counseling, including, but not limited to, mental health or substance abuse services, for not more than one year, provided that the program selected has counseling available for the designated period of time, if the court finds both of the following:

(1) The dispute between the parents or between a parent and the child poses a substantial danger to the best interest of the child.

(2) The counseling is in the best interest of the child.

(b) Where there has been a history of abuse by either parent against the child or by one parent against the other parent, and a protective order is in effect, the court may order the parties to participate in counseling separately and at separate times. Each party shall bear the cost of his or her own counseling separately, unless good cause is shown for a different apportionment. The costs associated with a minor child participating in counseling shall be apportioned in accordance with Section 4062.

(c) The court, in its finding, shall set forth reasons why it has found both of the following:

(1) The dispute poses a substantial danger to the best interest of the child and the counseling is in the best interest of the child.

(2) The financial burden created by the court order for counseling does not otherwise jeopardize a party's other financial obligations.

(d) The court shall not order the parties to return to court upon the completion of counseling. Either party may file a new order to show cause or motion after counseling has been completed, and the court may again order counseling consistent with this chapter.

SEC. 16. Section 3751 of the Family Code is amended to read:

3751. (a) (1) Support orders issued or modified pursuant to this chapter shall include a provision requiring the child support obligor to keep the agency designated under Title IV-D of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 651 et seq.) informed of whether the obligor has health insurance coverage at reasonable cost and, if so, the health insurance policy information.

(2) The court shall require that health insurance coverage for a supported child shall be maintained by either or both parents if that insurance is available at no cost or at reasonable cost to the parent. The court shall generally consider health insurance coverage to be reasonable in cost if it is employment-related group health insurance or other group health insurance, regardless of the service delivery mechanism. If the court determines that the cost of health insurance coverage is not reasonable, the court shall state its reasons on the record.

(b) If the court determines that health insurance coverage is not available at no or reasonable cost, the court's order for support shall contain a provision that specifies that health insurance coverage shall be obtained if it becomes available at no or reasonable cost. Upon health insurance coverage at no or reasonable cost becoming available to a parent, the parent shall apply for that coverage.

SEC. 17. Section 3752.5 is added to the Family Code, to read:

3752.5. A child support order issued or modified pursuant to this division shall include a provision requiring the child support obligor to keep the obligee informed of whether the obligor has health insurance made available through the obligor's employer or has other group health insurance and, if so, the health insurance policy information. The support obligee under a child support order shall inform the support obligor of whether the obligee has health insurance made available through the employer or other group health insurance and, if so, the health insurance policy information. The Judicial Council shall modify the form of the order for health insurance coverage (family law) to notify child support obligors of the requirements of this section and of Section 3752.

SEC. 18. Section 4014 is added to the Family Code, to read:

4014. Any order for child support issued or modified pursuant to this chapter shall include a provision requiring the obligor and child support obligee to notify the other parent or, if the order requires payment through an agency designated under Title IV-D of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 651 et seq.), the agency named in the order, of the name and address of his or her current employer. The Judicial Council shall modify the forms for an order requiring or changing child support to inform the obligor of this obligation.

SEC. 19. Section 4848 of the Family Code is amended to read:

4848. (a) If the duty of support is based on a foreign support order, the obligee has the additional remedies provided in Sections 4849 to 4853, inclusive.

(b) A support order made in this state may also be registered pursuant to Sections 4849 to 4853, inclusive, in any county in which the obligor, the obligee, or the child who is the subject of the order resides, or in any county in which the obligor has income, assets, or property.

SEC. 20. Section 4849 of the Family Code, as amended by Section 151 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

4849. The obligee may register a foreign support order in a court of this state in the manner, with the effect, and for the purposes provided in this article. These orders may be registered in any county in which the obligor, the obligee, or the child who is the subject of the order resides, or in any county in which the obligor has income, assets, or property.

SEC. 20.5. Section 4853 of the Family Code, as amended by Section 152 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

4853. (a) Except as specified in this section, upon registration, the registered foreign support order shall be treated in the same manner as a support order issued by a court of this state. It has the same effect and is subject to the same procedures, defenses, and proceedings for reopening, vacating, or staying as a support order of this state and may be enforced and satisfied in like manner.

(b) The obligor has 20 days after the mailing or other service of notice of the registration of a foreign order of support in which to file a noticed motion requesting the court to vacate the registration or for other relief. In an action under this section, there shall be no joinder of actions, coordination of actions, or cross-complaints, and the claims or defenses shall be limited strictly to the identity of the obligor, the validity of the underlying foreign support order, or the accuracy of the obligee's statement of the amount of support remaining unpaid unless the amount has been previously established by a judgment or order. The obligor shall serve a copy of the motion, personally or by first-class mail, on the office of the district attorney, private attorney representing the obligee, or obligee representing himself or herself who filed the request for registration of the order, not less than 15 days prior to the date on which the motion is to be heard. If service is by mail, Section 1013 of the Code of Civil Procedure applies. If the obligor does not file the motion within 20 days, the registered foreign support order and all other documents filed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 4852 are confirmed.

(c) At the hearing on the motion to vacate the registration of the order, the obligor may present only matters that would be available to the obligor as defenses in an action to enforce a support judgment. If the obligor shows and the court finds that an appeal from the order is pending or that a stay of execution has been granted, the court shall stay enforcement of the order until the appeal is concluded, the time for appeal has expired, or the order is vacated, upon satisfactory proof that the obligor has furnished security for payment of the support ordered as required by the rendering state. If the obligor shows and the court finds any ground upon which enforcement of a support order of this state may be stayed, the court shall stay enforcement of the order for an appropriate period if the obligor furnishes the same security for payment of the support ordered that is required for a support order of this state.

(d) Registration of an out-of-state order for the sole purpose of interstate wage withholding does not confer jurisdiction on the court for any purpose other than income withholding.

(e) After registration, a foreign order for the assignment of wages or other earnings for support shall be treated for all purposes in the same manner as an order for assignment of earnings entered pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 4390) of Title 1.5 of Part 5 of Division 4 of the Civil Code or, on and after January 1, 1994, this article. The registered foreign order for assignment of wages shall be served upon the obligor's employer and the obligor shall be sent, by first-class mail, a copy of the foreign assignment order at the same time that the employer is served with the notice. The obligor may move to quash the assignment in accordance with Section 4390.9 of the Civil Code or, on and after January 1, 1994, Section 5270.

SEC. 21. Section 5100 of the Family Code is amended to read:

5100. Notwithstanding Section 290, a child or family support order may be enforced by a writ of execution without prior court approval as long as the support order remains enforceable.

SEC. 22. Section 5101 of the Family Code is amended to read:

5101. Notwithstanding Section 290, a spousal support order may be enforced by a writ of execution without prior court approval as long as the support order remains enforceable.

SEC. 22.5. Section 5230 of the Family Code is amended to read:

5230. (a) When the court orders a party to pay an amount for support or orders a modification of the amount of support to be paid, the court shall include in its order an earnings assignment order for support that orders the employer of the obligor to pay to the obligee that portion of the obligor's earnings due or to become due in the future as will be sufficient to pay an amount to cover both of the following:

(1) The amount ordered by the court for support.

(2) An amount which shall be ordered by the court to be paid toward the liquidation of any arrearage.

(b) Upon the filing and service of a notice of motion or order to show cause with the supporting application, an obligee or custodial parent receiving services under Title IV-D of the Social Security Act may request the court to issue an earnings assignment order for support to enforce a support order made or modified before July 1, 1990, including any arrearages, or to modify the support order.

SEC. 23. Section 5235 of the Family Code is amended to read:

5235. (a) The employer shall continue to withhold and forward support as required by the assignment order until served with notice terminating the assignment order.

(b) The employer shall send the amounts withheld to the obligee within 10 days of the date the obligor is paid and shall report to the obligee the date on which the amount was withheld from the obligor's wages.

(c) The employer may deduct from the earnings of the employee the sum of one dollar ($1) for each payment made pursuant to the order.

SEC. 24. Section 5240 of the Family Code is amended to read:

5240. Upon the filing and service of a motion and a notice of motion by the obligor, the court shall terminate the service of an assignment order if past due support has been paid in full, including any interest due, and if any of the following conditions exist:

(a) With regard to orders for spousal support, the death or remarriage of the spouse to whom support is owed.

(b) With regard to orders for child support, the death or emancipation of the child for whom support is owed.

(c) The court determines that there is good cause, as defined in Section 5260, to terminate the assignment order. This subdivision does not apply if there has been more than one application for an assignment order.

(d) The obligor meets the conditions of an alternative arrangement specified in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 5260, and a wage assignment has not been previously terminated and subsequently initiated.

(e) There is no longer a current order for support.

(f) The termination of the stay of an assignment order under Section 5261 was improper, but only if that termination was based upon the obligor's failure to make timely support payments as described in subdivision (b) of Section 5261.

(g) The employer or agency designated to provide services under Title IV-D of the Social Security Act is unable to deliver payment for a period of six months due to the failure of the obligee to notify that employer or agency of a change in the obligee's address.

SEC. 25. Section 5241 of the Family Code is amended to read:

5241. (a) An employer who willfully fails to withhold and forward support pursuant to a currently valid assignment order entered and served upon the employer pursuant to this chapter is liable to the obligee for the amount of support not withheld, forwarded, or otherwise paid to the obligee.

(b) In addition to any other penalty or liability provided by law, willful failure by an employer to comply with an assignment order is punishable as a contempt pursuant to Section 1218 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

SEC. 26. Section 5243 of the Family Code is amended to read:

5243. An assignment order for support has priority as against any attachment, execution, or other assignment as specified in Section 706.031 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

SEC. 27. Section 5260 of the Family Code is amended to read:

5260. (a) The court may order that service of the assignment order be stayed only if the court makes a finding of good cause or if an alternative arrangement exists for payment in accordance with paragraph (2) of subdivision (b). Notwithstanding any other provision of law, service of wage assignments issued for foreign orders for support, and service of foreign orders for the assignment of wages registered pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 4820) of Chapter 6 shall not be stayed pursuant to this subdivision.

(b) For purposes of this section, good cause or an alternative arrangement for staying an assignment order is as follows:

(1) Good cause for staying a wage assignment exists only when all of the following conditions exist:

(A) The court provides a written explanation of why the stay of the wage assignment would be in the best interests of the child.

(B) The obligor has a history of uninterrupted, full, and timely payment, other than through a wage assignment or other mandatory process of previously ordered support, during the previous 12 months.

(C) The obligor does not owe an arrearage for prior support.

(D) The obligor proves, and the court finds, by clear and convincing evidence that service of the wage assignment would cause extraordinary hardship upon the obligor. Whenever possible, the court shall specify a date that any stay ordered under this section will automatically terminate.

(2) An alternative arrangement for staying a wage assignment order shall require a written agreement between the parties that provides for payment of the support obligation as ordered other than through the immediate service of a wage assignment. Any agreement between the parties which includes the staying of a service of a wage assignment shall include the concurrence of the district attorney in any case in which support is ordered to be paid through a county officer designated for that purpose. The execution of an agreement pursuant to this paragraph shall not preclude a party from thereafter seeking a wage assignment in accordance with the procedures specified in Section 4390.4 upon violation of the agreement.

SEC. 27.1. Section 5754 of the Family Code, as amended by Section 2 of Chapter 301 of the Statutes of 1993, is repealed.

SEC. 27.2. Section 6326 of the Family Code, as added by Section 154 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended and renumbered to read:

6327. Part 4 (commencing with Section 240) of Division 2 applies to the issuance of an ex parte order under this article.

SEC. 27.3. Section 6343 of the Family Code, as added by Section 154 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

6343. (a) After notice and a hearing, the court may issue an order requiring any party to participate in counseling with a licensed mental health professional, or through other community programs and services that provide appropriate counseling, including, but not limited to, mental health or substance abuse services, where it is shown that the parties intend to continue to reside in the same household or have continued to reside in the same household after previous instances of domestic violence. The court may also order a restrained party to participate in batterer's treatment counseling.

(b) Where there has been a history of domestic violence between the parties or where a protective order, as defined in Section 6218, is in effect, at the request of the party alleging domestic violence in a written declaration under penalty of perjury or who is protected by the order, the parties shall participate in counseling separately and at separate times. The court may also order a restrained party to participate in batterer's treatment counseling for up to one year, provided that the program selected has counseling available for the designated period of time.

(c) Each party shall bear the cost of his or her own counseling separately, unless good cause appears for a different apportionment.

SEC. 27.4. Section 7712 of the Family Code, as added by Section 3 of Chapter 301 of the Statutes of 1993, is repealed.

SEC. 27.5. Section 20024 is added to the Family Code, to read:

20024. (a) The costs of the Family Law Evaluator, any staff necessary to assist the Family Law Evaluator, and the cost of the booklet describing the program, if any, shall be borne by an increase and an equalization of filing fees in San Mateo County to one hundred fifty dollars ($150) for all petitions for marital dissolution, annulment, and legal separation, and all first papers on behalf of respondents in proceedings for martial dissolution, annulment, and legal separation. Alternatively, the costs associated with this pilot program may be paid from other funding sources.

(b) A donation of computers, printers, software, and other equipment shall be solicited from existing hardware and software providers.

(c) This section shall be repealed on July 1, 1994, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before July 1, 1994, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 27.6. Section 20039 is added to the Family Code, to read:

20039. (a) The costs of the pilot project shall be borne by an equalization of filing fees in Santa Clara County for all petitions for marital dissolution, annulment, and legal separation, and all first papers on behalf of respondents in proceedings for marital dissolution, annulment, and legal separation and by equalization of filing fees for motions and responsive pleadings.

(b) A donation of computers, printers, software, and other equipment shall be solicited from existing hardware and software providers.

(c) The court shall administer funds for the various components of the pilot program.

(d) This section shall be repealed on July 1, 1994, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before July 1, 1994, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 27.7. Section 6159 of the Government Code, as amended by Section 212 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

6159. (a) As used in this section:

(1) "Credit card" means any card, plate, coupon book, or other credit device existing for the purpose of being used from time to time upon presentation to obtain money, property, labor, or services on credit.

(2) "Card issuer" means any person who issues a credit card and purchases credit card drafts or the agent of such person for such purposes with respect to such card.

(3) "Cardholder" means any person to whom a credit card is issued or any person who has agreed with the card issuer to pay obligations arising from the issuance of a credit card to another person.

(4) "Draft purchaser" means any person who purchases credit card drafts.

(b) Subject to the provisions of subdivision (c), a court, city, county, city and county, or other public agency may authorize the acceptance of a credit card for any of the following:

(1) The payment for the deposit of bail or for any fine for any offense not declared to be a felony.

(2) The payment of a filing fee or other court fee.

(3) The payment of any towage or storage costs for a vehicle which has been removed from a highway, or from public or private property, as a result of parking violations.

(4) The payment of child, family, or spousal support, including reimbursement of public assistance, related fees, costs, or penalties, with the authorization of the cardholder.

(5) The payment for services rendered by any city, county, or city and county.

(c) A court desiring to authorize the use of a credit card pursuant to subdivision (b) shall obtain the approval of its county board of supervisors. A city desiring to authorize the use of a credit card pursuant to subdivision (b) shall obtain the approval of its city council. Any other public agency desiring to authorize the use of a credit card pursuant to subdivision (b) shall obtain the approval of the governing body which has fiscal responsibility for the agency. After approval is obtained, a contract may be executed with one or more credit card issuers or draft purchasers. The contract shall provide for:

(1) The respective rights and duties of the court, city, county, city and county, or other public agency and card issuer or draft purchaser regarding the presentment, acceptability and payment of credit card drafts.

(2) The establishment of a reasonable means by which to facilitate payment settlements.

(3) The payment to the card issuer or draft purchaser of a reasonable fee or discount.

(4) Such other matters appropriately included in contracts with respect to the purchase of credit card drafts as may be agreed upon by the parties to the contract.

(d) The honoring of a credit card pursuant to subdivision (b) constitutes payment of the amount owing to the court, city, county, city and county, or other public agency as of the date the credit card is honored provided the credit card draft is paid following its due presentment to a card issuer or draft purchaser.

(e) If any credit card draft is not paid following due presentment to a card issuer or draft purchaser or is charged back to the court, city, county, city and county, or other public agency for any reason, any record of payment made by the court, city, or other public agency honoring the credit card shall be void. Any receipt issued in acknowledgment of payment shall also be void. The obligation of the cardholder shall continue as an outstanding obligation as though no payment had been attempted.

(f) Notwithstanding Title 1.3 (commencing with Section 1747) of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code, a court, city, county, city and county, or any other public agency may impose a fee for the use of a credit card, not to exceed the costs incurred by the agency in providing for payment of the credit card. These costs may include, but shall not be limited to, the payment of fees or discounts as specified in paragraph (3) of subdivision (c). Any fee imposed pursuant to this subdivision for the use of a credit card shall be approved by the governing body responsible for the fiscal decisions of the public agency.

(g) Fees or discounts provided for under paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) shall be deducted or accounted for prior to any statutory or other distribution of funds received from the card issuer or draft purchaser to the extent not recovered from the cardholder pursuant to subdivision (f).

SEC. 27.8. Section 68085 of the Government Code, as amended by Section 214.7 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

68085. (a) There is hereby established the Trial Court Trust Fund, the proceeds of which may only be expended, upon appropriation by the Legislature, for the purpose of funding trial court operations, as defined in Section 77003.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the fees listed in subdivision (c) shall all be deposited upon collection in a special account in the county treasury, and transmitted therefrom monthly to the Controller for deposit in the Trial Court Trust Fund.

(c) Except as specified in subdivision (d), this section applies to all fees collected pursuant to Sections 26820.4, 26826, 26827, 68086, 72055, and 72056.

(d) This section does not apply to that portion of a filing fee collected pursuant to Section 26820.4, 26826, 26827, 72055, or 72056 which is allocated for dispute resolution pursuant to Section 470.3 of the Business and Professions Code, the county law library pursuant to Section 6320 of the Business and Professions Code, the Judges' Retirement Fund pursuant to Section 26822.3, automated recordkeeping or conversion to micrographics pursuant to Sections 26863 and 68090.7, and courthouse financing pursuant to Section 76238.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no agency shall take action to change the amounts allocated to any of the above funds.

SEC. 28. Section 4903 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

4903. The appeals board may determine, and allow as liens against any sum to be paid as compensation, any amount determined as hereinafter set forth in subdivisions (a) through (i). If more than one such lien be allowed, the appeals board may determine the priorities, if any, between the liens allowed. The liens which may be allowed hereunder are as follows:

(a) A reasonable attorney's fee for legal services pertaining to any claim for compensation either before the appeals board or before any of the appellate courts, and the reasonable disbursements in connection therewith. No fee for legal services shall be awarded to any representative who is not an attorney, except with respect to those claims for compensation for which an application, pursuant to Section 5501, has been filed with the appeals board on or before December 31, 1991, or for which a disclosure form, pursuant to Section 4906, has been sent to the employer, or insurer or third-party administrator, if either is known, on or before December 31, 1991.

(b) The reasonable expense incurred by or on behalf of the injured employee, as provided by Article 2 (commencing with Section 4600) and, to the extent the employee is entitled to reimbursement under Section 4621, medical-legal expenses as provided by Article 2.5 (commencing with Section 4620) of Chapter 2 of Part 2.

(c) The reasonable value of the living expenses of an injured employee or of his or her dependents, subsequent to the injury.

(d) The reasonable burial expenses of the deceased employee, not to exceed the amount provided for by Section 4701.

(e) The reasonable living expenses of the spouse or minor children of the injured employee, or both, subsequent to the date of the injury, where the employee has deserted or is neglecting his or her family. These expenses shall be allowed in such proportion as the appeals board deems proper, under application of the spouse, guardian of the minor children, or the assignee, pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 11477 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, of the spouse, a former spouse, or minor children. A collection received as a result of a lien against a workers' compensation award imposed pursuant to this subdivision for payment of child support ordered by a court shall first be credited against the current month's support, shall next be credited against the interest on past due child support for periods commencing on or after the date of the injury upon which the award is based, shall next be credited against the principal amount of past due child support that accrued for periods commencing on or after the date of the injury upon which the award is based, shall next be credited against interest on past due child support for periods prior to the date of the injury upon which the award is based, and shall then be credited against the principal amount of child support that accrued for periods commencing prior to the date of the injury upon which the award is based.

(f) The amount of unemployment compensation disability benefits which have been paid under or pursuant to the Unemployment Insurance Code in those cases where, pending a determination under this division there was uncertainty whether such benefits were payable under the Unemployment Insurance Code or payable hereunder; provided, however, that any lien under this subdivision shall be allowed and paid as provided in Section 4904.

(g) The amount of unemployment compensation benefits and extended duration benefits paid to the injured employee for the same day or days for which he or she receives, or is entitled to receive, temporary total disability indemnity payments under this division; provided, however, that any lien under this subdivision shall be allowed and paid as provided in Section 4904.

(h) The amount of indemnification granted pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 13959) of Chapter 5 of Part 4 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(i) The amount of compensation, including expenses of medical treatment, and recoverable costs which have been paid by the Asbestos Workers' Account pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 4401) of Part 1.

SEC. 28.5. Section 977 of the Penal Code, as amended by Section 1 of Chapter 220 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

977. (a) (1) In all cases in which the accused is charged with a misdemeanor only, he or she may appear by counsel only, except as provided in paragraph (2). If the accused agrees, the initial court appearance, arraignment, and plea may be by video, as provided by subdivision (c).

(2) When the accused is charged with a misdemeanor offense involving domestic violence, as defined in Section 6211 of the Family Code , or a misdemeanor violation of Section 273.6, upon a satisfactory showing of necessity, the court may order through counsel that the accused be personally present in court for the purpose of the service of an order under Section 136.2, unless the court determines that the defendant will make another court appearance within a reasonable period of time and the defendant could be served with a restraining order at that time.

(b) (1) In all cases in which a felony is charged, the accused shall be present at the arraignment, at the time of plea, during the preliminary hearing, during those portions of the trial when evidence is taken before the trier of fact, and at the time of the imposition of sentence. The accused shall be personally present at all other proceedings unless he or she shall, with leave of court, execute in open court, a written waiver of his or her right to be personally present, as provided by paragraph (2). If the accused agrees, the initial court appearance, arraignment, and plea may be by video, as provided by subdivision (c).

(2) The accused may execute a written waiver of his or her right to be personally present, approved by his or her counsel, and the waiver shall be filed with the court. However, the court may specifically direct the defendant to be personally present at any particular proceeding or portion thereof. The waiver shall be substantially in the following form:

"WAIVER OF DEFENDANT'S PERSONAL PRESENCE"

"The undersigned defendant, having been advised of his or her right to be present at all stages of the proceedings, including, but not limited to, presentation of and arguments on questions of fact and law, and to be confronted by and cross-examine all witnesses, hereby waives the right to be present at the hearing of any motion or other proceeding in this cause. The undersigned defendant hereby requests the court to proceed during every absence of the defendant that the court may permit pursuant to this waiver, and hereby agrees that his or her interest is represented at all times by the presence of his or her attorney the same as if the defendant were personally present in court, and further agrees that notice to his or her attorney that his or her presence in court on a particular day at a particular time is required is notice to the defendant of the requirement of his or her appearance at that time and place."

(c) The court may permit the initial court appearance and arraignment in municipal or superior court of defendants held in any state, county, or local facility within the county on felony or misdemeanor charges, except for those defendants who were indicted by a grand jury, to be conducted by two-way electronic audiovideo communication between the defendant and the courtroom in lieu of the physical presence of the defendant in the courtroom. If the defendant is represented by counsel, the attorney shall be present with the defendant at the initial court appearance and arraignment, and may enter a plea during the arraignment. However, if the defendant is represented by counsel at an initial hearing in superior court, and if the defendant does not plead guilty or nolo contendere to any charge, the attorney shall be present with the defendant or if the attorney is not present with the defendant, the attorney shall be present in court during the hearing. The defendant shall have the right to make his or her plea while physically present in the courtroom if he or she so requests. If the defendant decides not to exercise the right to be physically present in the courtroom, he or she shall execute a written waiver of that right. A judge may order a defendant's personal appearance in court for the initial court appearance and arraignment. In a misdemeanor case, a judge may, pursuant to this subdivision, accept a plea of guilty or no contest from a defendant who is not physically in the courtroom. In a felony case, a judge may, pursuant to this subdivision, accept a plea of guilty or no contest from a defendant who is not physically in the courtroom if the parties stipulate thereto.

(d) Notwithstanding subdivision (c), if the defendant is represented by counsel, the attorney shall be present with the defendant in any county exceeding 4,000,000 persons in population.

SEC. 29. Section 408 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

408. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subdivisions (b), (c), and (d), any information and records in the assessor's office which are not required by law to be kept or prepared by the assessor, and homeowners' exemption claims, are not public documents and shall not be open to public inspection. Property receiving the homeowners' exemption shall be clearly identified on the assessment roll. The assessor shall maintain records which shall be open to public inspection to identify those claimants who have been granted the homeowners' exemption.

(b) The assessor may provide any appraisal data in his or her possession to the assessor of any county and shall provide any market data in his or her possession to an assessee of property or his or her designated representative upon request. The assessor shall permit an assessee of property or his or her designated representative to inspect at the assessor's office any information and records, whether or not required to be kept or prepared by the assessor, relating to the appraisal and the assessment of his or her property. Except as provided in Section 408.1, an assessee or his or her designated representative, however, shall not be provided or permitted to inspect information and records, other than market data, which also relate to the property or business affairs of another person, unless that disclosure is ordered by a competent court in a proceeding initiated by a taxpayer seeking to challenge the legality of his or her assessment.

(c) The assessor shall disclose information, furnish abstracts, or permit access to all records in his or her office to law enforcement agencies, the county grand jury, the board of supervisors or their duly authorized agents, employees or representatives when conducting an investigation of the assessor's office pursuant to Section 25303 of the Government Code, the Controller, employees of the Controller for property tax postponement purposes, probate referees, employees of the Franchise Tax Board for tax administration purposes only, staff appraisers of the Department of Savings and Loan, the Department of Transportation, the Department of General Services, the State Board of Equalization, the State Department of Social Services, and other duly authorized legislative or administrative bodies of the state pursuant to their authorization to examine the records. Whenever the assessor discloses information, furnishes abstracts, or permits access to records in his or her office to staff appraisers of the Department of Savings and Loan, the Department of Transportation, or the Department of General Services pursuant to this section, the department shall reimburse the assessor for any costs incurred as a result thereof.

(d) Upon the request of the tax collector, the assessor shall disclose and provide to the tax collector information used in the preparation of that portion of the unsecured roll for which the taxes thereon are delinquent. The tax collector shall certify to the assessor that he or she needs the information requested for the enforcement of the assessor's tax lien in collecting those delinquent taxes. Information requested by the tax collector may include social security numbers, and the assessor shall recover from the tax collector his or her actual and reasonable costs for providing the information. The tax collector shall add the costs described in the preceding sentence to the assessee's delinquent tax lien and collect those costs subject to subdivision (e) of Section 2922.

(e) For purposes of this section, "market data" means any information in the assessor's possession, whether or not required to be prepared or kept by him or her, relating to the sale of any property comparable to the property of the assessee, if the assessor bases his or her assessment of the assessee's property, in whole or in part, on that comparable sale or sales. The assessor shall provide the names of the seller and buyer of each property on which the comparison is based, the location of that property, the date of the sale, and the consideration paid for the property, whether paid in money or otherwise, but for purposes of providing market data, the assessor shall not display any document relating to the business affairs or property of another.

SEC. 30. Section 408 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

408. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subdivisions (b), (c), (d), and (e) any information and records in the assessor's office which are not required by law to be kept or prepared by the assessor, and homeowners' exemption claims, are not public documents and shall not be open to public inspection. Property receiving the homeowners' exemption shall be clearly identified on the assessment roll. The assessor shall maintain records which shall be open to public inspection to identify those claimants who have been granted the homeowners' exemption.

(b) The assessor may provide any appraisal data in his or her possession to the assessor of any county.

The assessor shall disclose information, furnish abstracts, or permit access to all records in his or her office to law enforcement agencies, the county grand jury, the board of supervisors or their duly authorized agents, employees or representatives when conducting an investigation of the assessor's office pursuant to Section 25303 of the Government Code, the Controller, employees of the Controller for property tax postponement purposes, probate referees, employees of the Franchise Tax Board for tax administration purposes only, staff appraisers of the Department of Savings and Loan, the Department of Transportation, the Department of General Services, the State Board of Equalization, the State Department of Social Services, and other duly authorized legislative or administrative bodies of the state pursuant to their authorization to examine the records. Whenever the assessor discloses information, furnishes abstracts, or permits access to records in his or her office to staff appraisers of the Department of Savings and Loan, the Department of Transportation, or the Department of General Services pursuant to this section, the department shall reimburse the assessor for any costs incurred as a result thereof.

(c) Upon the request of the tax collector, the assessor shall disclose and provide to the tax collector information used in the preparation of that portion of the unsecured roll for which the taxes thereon are delinquent. The tax collector shall certify to the assessor that he or she needs the information requested for the enforcement of the assessor's tax lien in collecting those delinquent taxes. Information requested by the tax collector may include social security numbers, and the assessor shall recover from the tax collector his or her actual and reasonable costs for providing the information. The tax collector shall add the costs described in the preceding sentence to the assessee's delinquent tax lien and collect those costs subject to subdivision (e) of Section 2922.

(d) The assessor shall, upon the request of an assessee or his or her designated representative, permit the assessee or representative to inspect or copy any market data in the assessor's possession. For purposes of this subdivision, "market data" means any information in the assessor's possession, whether or not required to be prepared or kept by him or her, relating to the sale of any property comparable to the property of the assessee, if the assessor bases his or her assessment of the assessee's property, in whole or in part, on that comparable sale or sales. The assessor shall provide the names of the seller and buyer of each property on which the comparison is based, the location of that property, the date of the sale, and the consideration paid for the property, whether paid in money or otherwise. However, for purposes of providing market data, the assessor shall not display any document relating to the business affairs or property of another.

(e) With respect to information, documents, and records, other than market data as defined in subdivision (d), the assessor shall, upon request of an assessee of property, or his or her designated representative, permit the assessee or representative to inspect or copy all information, documents, and records, including auditors' narrations and workpapers, whether or not required to be kept or prepared by the assessor, relating to the appraisal and the assessment of the assessee's property, and any penalties and interest thereon. However, except as provided in Section 408.1, an assessee, or his or her designated representative, shall not be permitted to inspect or copy information and records that also relate to the property or business affairs of another, unless that disclosure is ordered by a competent court in a proceeding initiated by a taxpayer seeking to challenge the legality of the assessment of his or her property.

(f) (1) Permission for the inspection or copying requested pursuant to subdivision (d) or (e) shall be granted as soon as reasonably possible to the assessee or his or her designated representative.

(2) If the assessee, or his or her designated representative, requests the assessor to make copies of any of the requested records, the assessee shall reimburse the assessor for the reasonable costs incurred in reproducing and providing the copies.

SEC. 30.5. Section 19001 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Section 225 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is repealed.

SEC. 31. Section 903 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

903. (a) A parent of a minor, the estate of a parent, and the estate of the minor, shall be liable for the reasonable costs of support of the minor while the minor is placed, or detained in, or committed to, any institution or other place pursuant to Section 625 or pursuant to an order of the juvenile court. However, a county shall not levy charges for the costs of support of a minor detained pursuant to Section 625 unless, at the detention hearing, the juvenile court determines that detention of the minor should be continued, the petition for the offense for which the minor is detained is subsequently sustained, or the minor agrees to a program of supervision pursuant to Section 654. The liability of these persons and estates shall be a joint and several liability.

(b) The county shall limit the charges it seeks to impose to the reasonable costs of support of the minor and shall exclude any costs of incarceration, treatment, or supervision for the protection of society and the minor and the rehabilitation of the minor. In the event that court-ordered child support paid to the county pursuant to subdivision (a) exceeds the amount of the costs authorized by this subdivision and subdivision (a), the county shall either hold the excess in trust for the minor's future needs pursuant to Section 302.52 of Title 45 of the Code of Federal Regulations or, with the approval of the minor's caseworker or the probation officer, pay the excess directly to the minor.

(c) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this subdivision to protect the fiscal integrity of the county, to protect persons against whom the county seeks to impose liability from excessive charges, to ensure reasonable uniformity throughout the state in the level of liability being imposed, and to ensure that liability is imposed only on persons with the ability to pay. In evaluating a family's financial ability to pay under this section, the county shall take into consideration the family income, the necessary obligations of the family, and the number of persons dependent upon this income. Except as provided in paragraphs (1), (2), (3), and (4), "costs of support" as used in this section means only actual costs incurred by the county for food and food preparation, clothing, personal supplies, and medical expenses, not to exceed a combined maximum cost of fifteen dollars ($15) per day, except that:

(1) The maximum cost of fifteen dollars ($15) per day shall be adjusted every third year beginning January 1, 1988, to reflect the percentage change in the calendar year annual average of the California Consumer Price Index, All Urban Consumers, published by the Department of Industrial Relations, for the three-year period.

(2) No cost for medical expenses shall be imposed by the county until the county has first exhausted any eligibility the minor may have under private insurance coverage, standard or medically indigent Medi-Cal coverage, and the Robert W. Crown California Children's Services Act (Article 2 (commencing with Section 248) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code).

(3) In calculating the cost of medical expenses, the county shall not charge in excess of 100 percent of the AFDC fee for service average Medi-Cal payment for that county for that fiscal year as calculated by the State Department of Health Services; however, if a minor has extraordinary medical or dental costs that are not met under any of the coverages listed in paragraph (2), the county may impose these additional costs.

(4) For those placements of a minor subject to this section in which an AFDC–FC grant is made, the district attorney shall seek an order pursuant to Section 11350 and the statewide child support guidelines in effect in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 4720) of Title 5 of Part 5 of Division 4 of the Civil Code or Article 2

(commencing with Section 4050) of Chapter 2 of Part 2 of Division 9 of the Family Code. For purposes of determining the correct amount of support of a minor subject to this section, the rebuttable presumption set forth in subdivision (d) of Section 4721 of the Civil Code or Section 4057 of the Family Code shall be applicable.

SEC. 32. Section 903.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

903.5. In addition to the requirements of Section 903.4, and notwithstanding any other provision of law, the parent or other person legally liable for the support of a minor, who voluntarily places the minor in 24-hour out-of-home care, shall be liable for the cost of the minor's care, support, and maintenance when the minor receives Aid to Families with Dependent Children-Foster Care (AFDC-FC), Supplemental Security Income-State Supplementary Program (SSI-SSP), or county-only funds. As used in this section "parent" includes any person specified in Section 903. Whenever the county welfare department or the placing agency determines that a court order would be advisable and effective, the department or the agency shall notify the district attorney, or the financial evaluation officer designated pursuant to Section 903.45, who shall proceed pursuant to Section 903.4.

SEC. 33. Section 11476 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

11476. It shall be the duty of the county department to refer all cases where a parent is absent from the home, or where the parents are unmarried and parentage has not been determined by a court of competent jurisdiction, to the district attorney immediately at the time the application for public assistance, including Medi-Cal benefits, or certificate of eligibility, is signed by the applicant or recipient. If an applicant is found to be ineligible, the applicant shall be notified in writing that the referral of the case to the district attorney may be terminated at the applicant's request. The county department shall cooperate with the district attorney and shall make available to him or her all pertinent information as provided in Section 11478.

Upon referral from the county department, the district attorney shall investigate the question of nonsupport or paternity and shall take all steps necessary to obtain child support for the needy child, enforce spousal support as part of the state plan under Section 11475.2, and determine paternity in the case of a child born out of wedlock. Upon the advice of the county department that a child is being considered for adoption, the district attorney shall delay the investigation and other actions with respect to the case until advised that the adoption is no longer under consideration. The granting of public assistance or Medi-Cal benefits to an applicant shall not be delayed or contingent upon investigation by the district attorney.

In cases where Medi-Cal benefits are the only assistance provided, the district attorney shall provide child and spousal support services unless the recipient of the services notifies the district attorney that only services related to securing Medi-Cal benefits are requested.

Where a court order has been obtained, any contractual agreement for support between the district attorney or the county department and the noncustodial parent shall be deemed null and void to the extent that it is not consistent with the court order.

Whenever a family which has been receiving public assistance, including Medi-Cal, ceases to receive assistance, including Medi-Cal, the district attorney shall, to the extent required by federal regulations, continue to enforce support payments from the noncustodial parent until such time as the individual on whose behalf the enforcement efforts are made sends written notice to the district attorney requesting that enforcement services be discontinued.

The district attorney shall, where appropriate, utilize reciprocal arrangements adopted with other states in securing support from an absent parent. In individual cases where utilization of reciprocal arrangements has proven ineffective, the district attorney may forward to the Attorney General a request to utilize federal courts in order to obtain or enforce orders for child or spousal support. If reasonable efforts to collect amounts assigned pursuant to Section 11477 have failed, the district attorney may request that the case be forwarded to the Treasury Department for collection in accordance with federal regulations. The Attorney General, where appropriate, shall forward these requests to the Secretary of Health and Human Services, or a designated representative.

SEC. 34. Section 11478 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

11478. (a) All state, county, and local agencies shall cooperate with the district attorney (1) in carrying out Sections 4604 and 4605 of the Civil Code concerning the location, seizure, and recovery of abducted, concealed, or detained minor children, (2) in the enforcement of any child support obligation to the extent required under the state plan under Section 11475.2 of this code, Section 1650 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and Section 270 of the Penal Code, and (3) the enforcement of spousal support orders to the extent required by law, and location of parents or putative parents. This subdivision applies irrespective of whether the children are or are not receiving aid to families with dependent children.

(b) On request, all state, county, and local agencies shall supply the district attorney of any county in this state and the California Parent Locator Service with all the information on hand concerning the location, income, or property of any parents, putative parents, spouses, or former spouses, notwithstanding any other provisions of law making the information confidential, and with all information on hand concerning the location and prosecution of any person who has, by means of false statement or representation, or by impersonation or other fraudulent device, obtained aid for a child under this chapter.

(c) The State Department of Social Services' Statewide Automated Child Support System shall be entitled to the same cooperation and information provided to the California Parent Locator Service, to the extent allowed by law. The Statewide Automated Child Support System shall be allowed access to criminal offender record information only to the extent that access is allowed by law.

(d) This section shall be repealed on January 1, 1994, unless another statute which is effective on or before that date deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 34.5. Section 11478 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, as amended by Section 230 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

11478. (a) All state, county, and local agencies shall cooperate with the district attorney (1) in carrying out Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 3130) of Part 2 of Division 8 of the Family Code concerning the location, seizure, and recovery of abducted, concealed, or detained minor children, (2) in the enforcement of any child support obligation or to the extent required under the state plan under Section 11475.2 of this code, Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 4800) of Part 5 of Division 9 of the Family Code, and Section 270 of the Penal Code, and (3) the enforcement of spousal support orders and in the location of parents or putative parents. This subdivision applies irrespective of whether the children are or are not receiving aid to families with dependent children.

(b) On request, all state, county, and local agencies shall supply the district attorney of any county in this state or the California Parent Locator Service with all information on hand relative to the location, income, or property of any parents, putative parents, spouses, or former spouses, notwithstanding any other provision of law making the information confidential, and with all information on hand relative to the location and prosecution of any person who has, by means of false statement or representation or by impersonation or other fraudulent device, obtained aid for a child under this chapter.

(c) The State Department of Social Services' Statewide Automated Child Support System shall be entitled to the same cooperation and information provided to the California Parent Locator Service, to the extent allowed by law. The Statewide Automated Child Support System shall be allowed access to criminal offender record information only to the extent that access is allowed by law.

(d) This section shall be operative January 1, 1994.

SEC. 35. Section 11478.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

11478.5. (a) There is in the Department of Justice the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry which shall collect and disseminate all of the following, with respect to any parent, putative parent, spouse, or former spouse:

(1) The full and true name of the parent together with any known aliases.

(2) Date and place of birth.
(3) Physical description.
(4) Social security number.
(5) Employment history and earnings.
(6) Military status and Veterans Administration or military service serial number.
(7) Last known address, telephone number, and date thereof.
(8) Driver's license number, driving record, and vehicle registration information.
(9) Criminal, licensing, and applicant records and information.
(10) (A) Any additional location, asset, and income information, including income tax return information obtained pursuant to Section 19285.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and the address, telephone number, and social security information obtained from a public utility that may be of assistance in locating the parent, putative parent, abducting, concealing, or detaining parent, spouse, or former spouse, in establishing a parent and child relationship, in enforcing the child support liability of the absent parent, or enforcing the spousal support liability of the spouse or former spouse to the extent required by the state plan pursuant to Section 11475.2.
(B) For purposes of this subdivision "income tax return information" means all of the following regarding the taxpayer:
(i) Assets.
(ii) Credits.
(iii) Deductions.
(iv) Exemptions.
(v) Identity.
(vi) Liabilities.
(vii) Nature, source, and amount of income.
(viii) Net worth.
(ix) Payments.
(x) Receipts.
(xi) Address.
(xii) Social security number.
(b) To effectuate the purposes of this section, the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry shall utilize the federal Parent Locator Service to the extent necessary, and may request and shall receive from all departments, boards, bureaus, or other agencies of the state, or any of its political subdivisions, and those entities shall provide, that assistance and data which will enable the Department of Justice and other public agencies to carry out their powers and duties to locate parents, spouses, and former spouses, and to identify their assets, to establish parent-child relationships, and to enforce liability for child or spousal support, and for any other obligations incurred on behalf of children, and shall also provide that information to any district attorney in fulfilling the duties prescribed in Section 270 of the Penal Code, and in Sections 4604 and 4605 of the Civil Code, relating to abducted, concealed, or detained children. The State Department of Social Services' Statewide Automated

Child Support System shall be entitled to the same cooperation and information as the California Parent Locator Service, to the extent allowed by law. The Statewide Automated Child Support System shall be allowed access to criminal record information only to the extent that access is allowed by state and federal law.

(c) (1) To effectuate the purposes of this section, and notwithstanding any other provision of California law, regulation, or tariff, and to the extent permitted by federal law, the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry and the Statewide Automated Child Support System may request and shall receive from public utilities, as defined in Section 216 of the Public Utilities Code, customer service information, including the full name, address, telephone number, date of birth, and social security number of customers of the public utility, to the extent that this information is stored within the computer data base of the public utility.

(2) In order to protect the privacy of utility customers, a request to a public utility for customer service information pursuant to this section shall meet the following requirements:

(A) Be submitted to the public utility in writing, on a transmittal document prepared by the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry or the Statewide Automated Child Support System and approved by all of the public utilities.

(B) Have the signature of a representative authorized by the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry or the Statewide Automated Child Support System.

(C) Contain at least three of the following data elements regarding the person sought:

(i) First and last name, and middle initial, if known.

(ii) Social security number.

(iii) Driver's license number.

(iv) Birth date.

(v) Last known address.

(vi) Spouse's name.

(D) The California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry and the Statewide Automated Child Support System shall ensure that each public utility has at all times a current list of the names of persons authorized to request customer service information.

(E) The California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry and the Statewide Automated Child Support System shall ensure that customer service information supplied by a public utility is applicable to the person who is being sought before releasing the information pursuant to subdivision (d).

(3) The public utility may charge a fee to the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry or the Statewide Automated Child Support System for each search performed pursuant to this subdivision to cover the actual costs to the public utility for providing this information.

(4) No public utility, or official or employee thereof, shall be subject to criminal or civil liability for the release of customer service information as authorized by this subdivision.

(d) Notwithstanding Section 14202 of the Penal Code, any records established pursuant to this section shall be disseminated only to the Department of Justice, the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry, the parent locator services and central registries of other states as defined by federal statutes and regulations, a district attorney of any county in this state, the federal Parent Locator Service, and official child support enforcement agencies. The State Department of Social Services' Statewide Automated Child Support Enforcement System shall be allowed access to criminal offender record information only to the extent that access is allowed by law.

(e) (1) At no time shall any information received by the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry or by the Statewide Automated Child Support System be disclosed to any person, agency, or other entity, other than those persons, agencies, and entities specified pursuant to Section 11478, this section, or any other provision of law.

(2) This subdivision shall not otherwise affect discovery between parties in any action to establish, modify, or enforce child, family, or spousal support, that relates to custody or visitation.

(f) (1) The Department of Justice, in consultation with the State Department of Social Services, shall promulgate rules and regulations to facilitate maximum and efficient use of the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry.

(2) The Department of Justice, in consultation with the State Department of Social Services and the Public Utilities Commission, shall develop procedures for obtaining the information described in subdivision (c) from public utilities, and for compensating the public utilities for providing that information.

(g) The State Department of Social Services and the Department of Justice shall implement the provisions of this section regarding public utilities, as defined by Section 216 of the Public Utilities Code, only where there is a reasonable likelihood that the cost of obtaining customer service information from public utilities pursuant to this section would be less than the additional collections obtained through use of that information.

(h) The California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry may charge a fee not to exceed eighteen dollars ($18) for any service it provides pursuant to this section that is not performed or funded pursuant to Part D (commencing with Section 651) of Subchapter IV of Chapter 7 of Title 42 of the United States Code.

(i) This section shall be construed in a manner consistent with the other provisions of this article.

(j) This section shall be repealed on January 1, 1994, unless another statute which is effective on or before that date deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 35.5. Section 11478.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, as amended by Section 232 of Chapter 219 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

11478.5. (a) There is in the Department of Justice the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry which shall collect and disseminate all of the following, with respect to any parent, putative parent, spouse, or former spouse:

(1) The full and true name of the parent together with any known aliases.

(2) Date and place of birth.

(3) Physical description.

(4) Social security number.

(5) Employment history and earnings.

(6) Military status and Veterans Administration or military service serial number.

(7) Last known address, telephone number, and date thereof.

(8) Driver's license number, driving record, and vehicle registration information.

(9) Criminal, licensing, and applicant records and information.

(10) (A) Any additional location, asset, and income information, including income tax return information obtained pursuant to Section 19285.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and the address, telephone number, and social security information obtained from a public utility that may be of assistance in locating the parent, putative parent, abducting, concealing, or detaining parent, spouse, or former spouse, in establishing a parent and child relationship, in enforcing the child support liability of the absent parent, or enforcing the spousal support liability of the spouse or former spouse to the extent required by the state plan pursuant to Section 11475.2.

(B) For purposes of this subdivision "income tax return information" means all of the following regarding the taxpayer:

(i) Assets.

(ii) Credits.

(iii) Deductions.

(iv) Exemptions.

(v) Identity.

(vi) Liabilities.

(vii) Nature, source, and amount of income.

(viii) Net worth.

(ix) Payments.

(x) Receipts.

(xi) Address.

(xii) Social security number.

(b) To effectuate the purposes of this section, the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry shall utilize the federal Parent Locator Service to the extent necessary, and may request and shall receive from all departments, boards, bureaus, or other agencies of the state, or any of its political subdivisions, and those entities shall provide, that assistance and data which will enable the Department of Justice and other public agencies to carry out their powers and duties to locate parents, spouses, and former spouses, and to identify their assets, to establish parent-child relationships, and to enforce liability for child or spousal support, and for any other obligations incurred on behalf of children, and shall also provide that information to any district attorney in fulfilling the duties prescribed in Section 270 of the Penal Code, and in Sections 4604 and 4605 of the Civil Code, relating to abducted, concealed, or detained children. The State Department of Social Services' Statewide Automated Child Support System shall be entitled to the same cooperation and information as the California Parent Locator Service, to the extent allowed by law. The Statewide Automated Child Support System shall be allowed access to criminal record information only to the extent that access is allowed by state and federal law.

(c) (1) To effectuate the purposes of this section, and notwithstanding any other provision of California law, regulation, or tariff, and to the extent permitted by federal law, the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry and the Statewide Automated Child Support System may request and shall receive from public utilities, as defined in Section 216 of the Public Utilities Code, customer service information, including the full name, address, telephone number, date of birth, and social security number of customers of the public utility, to the extent that this information is stored within the computer data base of the public utility.

(2) In order to protect the privacy of utility customers, a request to a public utility for customer service information pursuant to this section shall meet the following requirements:

(A) Be submitted to the public utility in writing, on a transmittal document prepared by the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry or the Statewide Automated Child Support System and approved by all of the public utilities.

(B) Have the signature of a representative authorized by the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry or the Statewide Automated Child Support System.

(C) Contain at least three of the following data elements regarding the person sought:

(i) First and last name, and middle initial, if known.

(ii) Social security number.

(iii) Driver's license number.

(iv) Birth date.

(v) Last known address.

(vi) Spouse's name.

(D) The California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry and the Statewide Automated Child Support System shall ensure that each public utility has at all times a current list of the names of persons authorized to request customer service information.

(E) The California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry shall ensure that customer service information supplied by a public utility is applicable to the person who is being sought before releasing the information pursuant to subdivision (d).

(3) The public utility may charge a fee to the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry or the Statewide Automated

Child Support System for each search performed pursuant to this subdivision to cover the actual costs to the public utility for providing this information.

(4) No public utility, or official or employee thereof, shall be subject to criminal or civil liability for the release of customer service information as authorized by this subdivision.

(d) Notwithstanding Section 14202 of the Penal Code, any records established pursuant to this section shall be disseminated only to the Department of Justice, the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry, the parent locator services and central registries of other states as defined by federal statutes and regulations, a district attorney of any county in this state, the federal Parent Locator Service, and official child support enforcement agencies. The State Department of Social Services' Statewide Automated Child Support Enforcement System shall be allowed access to criminal offender record information only to the extent that access is allowed by law.

(e) (1) At no time shall any information received by the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry or by the Statewide Automated Child Support System be disclosed to any person, agency, or other entity, other than those persons, agencies, and entities specified pursuant to Section 11478, this section, or any other provision of law.

(2) This subdivision shall not otherwise affect discovery between parties in any action to establish, modify, or enforce child, family, or spousal support, that relates to custody or visitation.

(f) (1) The Department of Justice, in consultation with the State Department of Social Services, shall promulgate rules and regulations to facilitate maximum and efficient use of the California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry.

(2) The Department of Justice, in consultation with the State Department of Social Services and the Public Utilities Commission, shall develop procedures for obtaining the information described in subdivision (c) from public utilities, and for compensating the public utilities for providing that information.

(g) The State Department of Social Services and the Department of Justice shall implement the provisions of this section regarding public utilities, as defined by Section 216 of the Public Utilities Code, only where there is a reasonable likelihood that the cost of obtaining customer service information from public utilities pursuant to this section would be less than the additional collections obtained through use of that information.

(h) The California Parent Locator Service and Central Registry may charge a fee not to exceed eighteen dollars ($18) for any service it provides pursuant to this section that is not performed or funded pursuant to Part D (commencing with Section 651) of Subchapter IV of Chapter 7 of Title 42 of the United States Code.

(i) This section shall be construed in a manner consistent with the other provisions of this article.

(j) This section shall be operative January 1, 1994.

SEC. 36. Sections 27.7, 27.8, 28.5, and 30.5 of this bill shall be operative January 1, 1994.

SEC. 37. The amendments and additions to the Family Code made by this act shall not become operative until January 1, 1994.

SEC. 38. Section 30 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 408 of the Revenue and Taxation Code proposed by both this bill and SB 143. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1994, but this bill becomes operative first, (2) each bill amends Section 408 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 143, in which case Section 26 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Section 30 of this bill, shall remain operative only until the operative date of SB 143, at which time Section 30 of this bill shall become operative.

SEC. 39. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 40. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to comply with federal regulations which became effective in 1992 without further delay, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately. Additionally, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately in order to permit optional renewal of judgments for support, reimbursement, and other arrearages at the earliest possible time. Further, in order to make necessary changes in matter related to family law and the courts, it is necessary that this bill take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 877

An act to amend Sections 17008.5, 17020.7, 17020.8, 17020.11, 17020.12, 17020.13, 17021.5, 17034, 17041, 17042, 17054, 17054.7, 17078, 17250, 17274, 17671, 18180, 18622, 19029, 19043, 19057, 19059, 19167, 19254, 19311, 19702, 23002, 23038.5, 23045.6, 23046, 23047, 23049, 23058, 23732, 23734, 23735, 24271, 24276, 24307, 24343, 24344, 24347.5, 24349.1, 24365, 24369, 24372.3, 24379, 24382, 24414, 24422.3, 24427, 24436.5, 24437, 24440, 24442.5, 24443, 24449, 24652, 24654, 24661, 24667, 24673.2, 24681, 24682, 24688, 24689, 24692, 24693, 24701, 24708, 24721, 24726, 24872, 24905, 24918, 24941, 24950, 24951, 24954, 24966.1, 24966.2, 24981, 24988, and 24989, of, to amend and repeal Sections 18461, 18583, 18586, 18586.3, 18591.1, 18689.5, 25662, 25662.1, 25663, 25674, and 25937 of, to amend, repeal, and add Section 23101.5 of, to add Sections 18682.10, 19136.5, and 19393 to, and to repeal Section 24371 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, and to amend Sections 2629.1, 13017, 13043, and 13050 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, relating to taxation, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17008.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17008.5. Section 7704 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to certain publicly traded partnerships treated as corporations, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 2. Section 17020.7 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17020.7. Section 7701(a)(46) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to determination of whether there is a collective bargaining agreement, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 3. Section 17020.8 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17020.8. Section 7701(e) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to treatment of certain contracts for providing services, etc., shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 4. Section 17020.11 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17020.11. Section 7701(h) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to motor vehicle operating leases, shall apply.

SEC. 5. Section 17020.12 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17020.12. Section 7701(a)(20) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to definition of "employee," shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 6. Section 17020.13 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17020.13. Section 7701(k) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to treatment of certain amounts paid to charity, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 7. Section 17021.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17021.5. Section 7703 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to determination of marital status, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 7.1. Section 17034 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

17034. Unless otherwise specifically provided therein, the provisions of any act:

(a) That affect the imposition or computation of taxes, additions to tax, penalties, or the allowance of credits against the tax, shall be applied to taxable years beginning on or after January 1 of the year in which the act takes effect.

(b) That otherwise affect the provisions of this part shall be applied on and after the date the act takes effect.

SEC. 8. Section 17041 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17041. (a) (1) There shall be imposed for each taxable year upon the entire taxable income of every resident of this state, except the head of a household as defined in Section 17042, taxes in the following amounts and at the following rates upon the amount of taxable income:

If the taxable income is:	The tax is:
Not over $3,650	1% of the taxable income
Over $3,650 but not over $8,650	$36.50 plus 2% of the excess over $3,650
Over $8,650 but not over $13,650	$136.50 plus 4% of the excess over $8,650
Over $13,650 but not over $18,950	$336.50 plus 6% of the excess over $13,650
Over $18,950 but not over $23,950	$654.50 plus 8% of the excess over $18,950
Over $23,950	$1,054.50 plus 9.3% of the excess over $23,950

(2) (A) For any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and before January 1, 1996, the income tax brackets and rates set forth in paragraph (1) shall be modified by each of the following:

(i) For that portion of taxable income that is over one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) but not over two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000), the tax rate is 10 percent of the excess over one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000).

(ii) For that portion of taxable income that is over two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000), the tax rate is 11 percent of the excess over two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000).

(B) The income tax brackets specified in this paragraph shall be recomputed, as otherwise provided in subdivision (h), only for taxable years beginning on and after January 1, 1992.

(b) There shall be imposed for each taxable year upon the entire taxable income of every nonresident or part-year resident which is derived from sources in this state, except the head of a household as defined in Section 17042, a tax which shall be equal to the tax computed under subdivision (a) as if the nonresident or part-year resident were a resident multiplied by the ratio of California adjusted gross income to total adjusted gross income from all sources. For purposes of computing the tax under subdivision (a) and gross income from all sources, the net operating loss deduction provided in Section 172 of the Internal Revenue Code, as modified by Section 17276, shall be computed as if the taxpayer was a resident for all prior years.

(c) (1) There shall be imposed for each taxable year upon the entire taxable income of every resident of this state, when the resident is the head of a household, as defined in Section 17042, taxes in the following amounts and at the following rates upon the amount of taxable income:

If the taxable income is:	The tax is:
Not over $7,300	1% of the taxable income
Over $7,300 but not over $17,300	$73 plus 2% of the excess over $7,300
Over $17,300 but not over $22,300	$273 plus 4% of the excess over $17,300
Over $22,300 but not over $27,600	$473 plus 6% of the excess over $22,300
Over $27,600 but not over $32,600	$791 plus 8% of the excess over $27,600
Over $32,600	$1,191 plus 9.3% of the excess over $32,600

(2) (A) For any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and before January 1, 1996, the income tax brackets and rates set forth in paragraph (1) shall be modified by each of the following:

(i) For that portion of taxable income that is over one hundred thirty-six thousand one hundred fifteen dollars ($136,115) but not over two hundred seventy-two thousand two hundred thirty dollars

($272,230), the tax rate is 10 percent of the excess over one hundred thirty-six thousand one hundred fifteen dollars ($136,115).

(ii) For that portion of taxable income that is over two hundred seventy-two thousand two hundred thirty dollars ($272,230), the tax rate is 11 percent of the excess over two hundred seventy-two thousand two hundred thirty dollars ($272,230).

(B) The income tax brackets specified in this paragraph shall be recomputed, as otherwise provided in subdivision (h), only for taxable years beginning on and after January 1, 1992.

(d) There shall be imposed for each taxable year upon the entire taxable income of every nonresident or part-year resident which is derived from sources within this state when the nonresident or part-year resident is the head of a household, as defined in Section 17042, a tax which shall be equal to the tax computed under subdivision (c) as if the nonresident or part-year resident were a resident multiplied by the ratio of California adjusted gross income to total adjusted gross income from all sources. For purposes of computing the tax under subdivision (c) and gross income from all sources, the net operating loss deduction provided in Section 172 of the Internal Revenue Code, as modified by Section 17276, shall be computed as if the taxpayer was a resident for all prior years.

(e) There shall be imposed for each taxable year upon the taxable income of every estate, trust, or common trust fund taxes equal to the amount computed under subdivision (a) for an individual having the same amount of taxable income.

(f) The tax imposed by this part is not a surtax.

(g) (1) Section 1 (g) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to certain unearned income of minor children taxed as if the parent's income, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(2) Section 1(g) (7) (B) (ii) (II) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to income included on parent's return, is modified, for purposes of this part, by substituting "five dollars ($5)" for "seventy-five dollars ($75)" and "1 percent" for "15 percent."

(h) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1988, the Franchise Tax Board shall recompute the income tax brackets prescribed in subdivisions (a) and (c). That computation shall be made as follows:

(1) The California Department of Industrial Relations shall transmit annually to the Franchise Tax Board the percentage change in the California Consumer Price Index for all items from June of the prior calendar year to June of the current calendar year, no later than August 1 of the current calendar year.

(2) The Franchise Tax Board shall do both of the following:

(A) Compute an inflation adjustment factor by adding 100 percent to the percentage change figure that is furnished pursuant to paragraph (1) and dividing the result by 100.

(B) Multiply the preceding taxable year income tax brackets by the inflation adjustment factor determined in subparagraph (A) and round off the resulting products to the nearest one dollar ($1).

(i) (1) For purposes of this section, the term "California adjusted gross income" includes each of the following:

(A) For any part of the taxable year during which the taxpayer was a resident of this state (as defined by Section 17014), all items of adjusted gross income, regardless of source.

(B) For any part of the taxable year during which the taxpayer was not a resident of this state, only those items of adjusted gross income which were derived from sources within this state, determined in accordance with Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 17951).

(2) For purposes of computing "California adjusted gross income" under paragraph (1), the amount of any net operating loss sustained in any taxable year during any part of which the taxpayer was not a resident of this state shall be limited to the sum of the following:

(A) The amount of the loss attributable to the part of the taxable year in which the taxpayer was a resident.

(B) The amount of the loss which, during the part of the taxable year the taxpayer is not a resident, is attributable to California source income and deductions allowable in arriving at adjusted gross income.

SEC. 9. Section 17042 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17042. Section 2(b) and (c) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to definitions of head of household and certain married individuals living apart, respectively, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 11. Section 17054 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17054. In the case of individuals, the following credits for personal exemption may be deducted from the tax imposed under Section 17041 or 17048, less any increases imposed under paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) or paragraph (1) of subdivision (e), or both, of Section 17560.

(a) In the case of a single individual, a head of household, or a married individual making a separate return, a credit of fifty-one dollars ($51) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1987, and before January 1, 1988, and fifty-two dollars ($52) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1988.

(b) In the case of a surviving spouse (as defined in Section 17046), or a husband and wife making a joint return, a credit of one hundred two dollars ($102) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1987, and before January 1, 1988, and one hundred four dollars ($104) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1988. If one spouse was a resident for the entire taxable year and the other spouse was a nonresident for all or any portion of the taxable year, the personal exemption shall be divided equally.

(c) In addition to any other credit provided in this section, in the case of an individual who is 65 years of age or over by the end of the taxable year a credit of fifty-one dollars ($51) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1987, and before January 1, 1988, and fifty-two dollars ($52) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1988.

(d) A credit of fifty-one dollars ($51) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1987, and before January 1, 1988, and fifty-two dollars ($52) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1988, for each dependent (as defined in Section 17056) for whom an exemption is allowable under Section 151 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to additional exemption for dependents).

(e) A credit for personal exemption of fifty-one dollars ($51) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1987, and before January 1, 1988, and fifty-two dollars ($52) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1988, for the taxpayer if he or she is blind at the end of his or her taxable year.

(f) A credit for personal exemption of fifty-one dollars ($51) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1987, and before January 1, 1988, and fifty-two dollars ($52) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1988, for the spouse of the taxpayer if a separate return is made by the taxpayer, and if the spouse is blind and, for the calendar year in which the taxable year of the taxpayer begins, has no gross income and is not the dependent of another taxpayer.

(g) For the purposes of this section, an individual is blind only if either: his or her central visual acuity does not exceed 20/200 in the better eye with correcting lenses, or his or her visual acuity is greater than 20/200 but is accompanied by a limitation in the fields of vision such that the widest diameter of the visual field subtends an angle no greater than 20 degrees.

(h) In the case of an individual with respect to whom a credit under this section is allowable to another taxpayer for a taxable year beginning in the calendar year in which the individual's taxable year begins, the credit amount applicable to that individual for that individual's taxable year shall be zero.

(i) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1989, the Franchise Tax Board shall compute the credits prescribed in this section. That computation shall be made as follows:

(1) The California Department of Industrial Relations shall transmit annually to the Franchise Tax Board the percentage change in the California Consumer Price Index as modified for rental equivalent homeownership for all items from June of the prior calendar year to June of the current calendar year, no later than August 1 of the current calendar year.

(2) The Franchise Tax Board shall add 100 percent to the percentage change figure which is furnished to them pursuant to paragraph (1), and divide the result by 100.

(3) The Franchise Tax Board shall multiply the immediately preceding taxable year credits by the inflation adjustment factor determined in paragraph (2), and round off the resulting products to the nearest one dollar ($1).

(4) In computing the credits pursuant to this subdivision, the credit provided in subdivision (b) shall be twice the credit provided in subdivision (a).

(j) The amendments made to this section by the act adding this subdivision shall be applied only in the computation of taxes for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

SEC. 12. Section 17054.7 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17054.7. (a) There shall be allowed as a credit against the "net tax" (as defined in Section 17039) for a "qualified senior head of household" (as defined in subdivision (c)) an amount equal to 2 percent of the taxable income.

(b) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1991, the Franchise Tax Board shall recompute the adjusted gross income specified in paragraph (3) of subdivision (c). Those computations shall be made as follows:

(1) The California Department of Industrial Relations shall transmit annually to the Franchise Tax Board the percentage change in the California Consumer Price Index as modified for rental equivalent home ownership for all items from June of the prior calendar year to June of the current calendar year, no later than August 1 of the current calendar year.

(2) The Franchise Tax Board shall add 100 percent to the percentage change figure which is furnished pursuant to paragraph (1) and divide the result by 100.

(3) The Franchise Tax Board shall multiply the amount for the immediately preceding taxable year for the adjusted gross income limitation specified in paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) by the inflation adjustment factor determined in paragraph (2), and round off the resulting product to the nearest one dollar ($1).

(c) "Qualified senior head of household" means an individual who meets all of the following:

(1) Attained the age of 65 before the close of the taxable year.

(2) Qualified as the head of household in accordance with Section 17042 for either of the two taxable years immediately preceding the taxable year by providing a household for a qualifying individual who died during either of the two taxable years immediately preceding the taxable year.

(3) Whose adjusted gross income for the taxable year does not exceed thirty-seven thousand five hundred dollars ($37,500).

SEC. 13. Section 17078 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17078. (a) Section 988 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to treatment of certain foreign currency transactions, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) Section 988(a)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to source, shall not apply.

SEC. 14. Section 17250 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17250. (a) (1) Section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the accelerated cost recovery system, shall apply to assets placed in service on or after January 1, 1987, in taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1987.

(2) In the case of assets placed in service on or after January 1, 1987, in taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1987, a taxpayer may elect to have Sections 168 and 179 of the Internal Revenue Code apply by doing all of the following:

(A) Making an election on the return for the first taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1987.

(B) Establishing a depreciation adjustment account for each asset (or group of assets) in an amount equal to the difference between the depreciation allowed on the federal return for each asset (or group of assets) and the depreciation allowed under this part.

(C) The depreciation adjustment account (or accounts) established under subparagraph (B) shall be amortized over 60 months beginning with the first taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1987.

(3) In the case of assets placed in service prior to January 1, 1987, in taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1987, Section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code shall apply only to residential rental property as provided by former Section 17250.5 (as amended by Chapter 1461 of the Statutes of 1985).

(b) For purposes of subdivision (a), any reference to "tax imposed by this chapter" in Section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code means "net tax," as defined in Section 17039.

(c) For purposes of paragraph (1) of subdivision (a), Section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code shall be modified as follows:

(1) Section 168(e)(3) shall be modified to provide that any grapevine, replaced in a vineyard in California in any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1992, as a direct result of a phylloxera infestation in that vineyard, shall be "five-year property," rather than "10-year property."

(2) Section 168(g)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be modified to provide that any grapevine, replaced in a vineyard in California in any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1992, as a direct result of a phylloxera infestation in that vineyard, shall have a class life of 10 years.

(d) Every taxpayer claiming a depreciation deduction with respect to grapevines as described in subdivision (c) shall obtain a written certification from an independent state-certified integrated pest management advisor, or a state agricultural commissioner or advisor, that specifies that the replanting was necessary to restore a vineyard infested with phylloxera. The taxpayer shall retain the certification for future audit purposes.

(e) (1) Section 169 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to amortization of pollution control facilities, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(2) The deduction allowed by this section shall be available only with respect to facilities located in this state.

(3) The "state certifying authority," as defined in Section 169(d)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, means the State Air Resources Board, in the case of air pollution, and the State Water Resources Control Board, in the case of water pollution.

(f) For property used in a trade or business, or held for production of income, there shall be allowed as a depreciation deduction a reasonable allowance for the cost of a solar energy system and allowable conservation measures over a 60-month period for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1987.

(g) Section 7622(c)[e of Public Law 101-239, relating to the effective date of changes in treatment of transfers of franchises, trademarks, and trade names, shall apply.

(h) Section 7645(b) of Public Law 101-239, relating to the effective date of disallowance of depreciation for certain term interests, shall apply.

SEC. 15. Section 17274 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17274. (a) Notwithstanding any other provisions in this part to the contrary, in the case of a taxpayer who derives rental income from substandard housing located in this state, no deduction shall be allowed for interest, taxes, depreciation, or amortization paid or incurred in the taxable year with respect to the substandard housing, except as provided in subdivision (e).

(b) "Substandard housing" means housing for which both of the following apply:

(1) The housing has been determined by a state or local government regulatory agency to violate state law or local codes dealing with health, safety, or building.

(2) Either of the following occur:

(A) After written notice of violation by the regulatory agency, specifying the applicability of this section, the housing has not been brought to a condition of compliance within six months after the date of the notice or the time prescribed in the notice, whichever period is later.

(B) Good faith efforts for compliance have not been commenced, as determined by the regulatory agency.

"Substandard housing" shall also mean employee housing that has not, within 30 days of the date of the written notice of violation or the date for compliance prescribed in the written notice of violation, been brought into compliance with the conditions stated in the written notice of violation of the Employee Housing Act (Part 1 (commencing with Section 17000) of Division 13 of the Health and Safety Code) issued by the enforcement agency that specifies the application of this section. The regulatory agency may, for good cause shown, extend the compliance date prescribed in a violation notice.

(c) (1) When the period specified in subdivision (b) has expired without compliance, the regulatory agency shall mail to the taxpayer a notice of noncompliance. The notice of noncompliance shall be in a form and shall include information prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, shall be mailed by certified mail to the taxpayer at the taxpayer's last known address, and shall advise the taxpayer (A) of an intent to notify the Franchise Tax Board of the noncompliance within 10 days unless an appeal is filed, (B) where an appeal may be filed, and (C) of a general description of the tax consequences of the filing with the Franchise Tax Board. Appeals shall be made to the same body and in the same manner as appeals from other actions of the regulatory agency. If no appeal is made within 10 days or after disposition of the appeal if the regulatory agency is sustained, the regulatory agency shall notify, in writing, the Franchise Tax Board of the noncompliance.

(2) The notice of noncompliance shall contain the legal description or the lot and block numbers of the real property, the assessor's parcel number, and the name of the owner of record as shown on the latest equalized assessment roll. In addition, the regulatory agency shall, at the same time as notification of the notice of noncompliance is sent to the Franchise Tax Board, record a copy of the notice of noncompliance in the office of the recorder for the county in which the substandard housing is located that includes a statement of tax consequences that may be determined by the Franchise Tax Board. However, the failure to record a notice with the county recorder shall not relieve the liability of any taxpayer nor shall it create any liability on the part of the regulatory agency.

(3) The regulatory agency may charge the taxpayer a fee in an amount not to exceed the regulatory agency's costs incurred in recording any notice of noncompliance or issuing any release of that notice. The notice of compliance shall be recorded and shall serve to expunge the notice of noncompliance. The notice of compliance shall contain the same recording information required for the notice of noncompliance. No deduction by the taxpayer, or any other taxpayer who obtains title to the property subsequent to the recordation of the notice of noncompliance, shall be allowed for the items provided in subdivision (a) from the date of the notice of noncompliance until the date the regulatory agency determines that the substandard housing has been brought to a condition of compliance. The regulatory agency shall mail to the Franchise Tax Board and the taxpayer a notice of compliance, which notice shall be in the form and include the information prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. In the event the period of noncompliance does not cover an entire taxable year, the deductions shall be denied at the rate of $\frac{1}{12}$ for each full month during the period of noncompliance.

(4) If the property is owned by more than one owner or if recorded title is in the name of a fictitious owner, the notice requirements provided in subdivision (b) and this subdivision shall be satisfied for each owner if the notices are mailed to one owner or to the fictitious name owner at the address appearing on the latest available property tax bill. However, notices made pursuant to this subdivision shall not relieve the regulatory agency from furnishing taxpayer identification information required to implement this section to the Franchise Tax Board.

(d) For the purposes of this section, a notice of noncompliance shall not be mailed by the regulatory agency to the Franchise Tax Board if any of the following occur:

(1) The rental housing was rendered substandard solely by reason of earthquake, flood, or other natural disaster except where the condition remains for more than three years after the disaster.

(2) The owner of the rental housing has secured financing to bring the housing into compliance with those laws or codes which have been violated, causing the housing to be classified as substandard, and has commenced repairs or other work necessary to bring the housing into compliance.

(3) The owner of rental housing which is not within the meaning of housing accommodation as defined by subdivision (d) of Section 35805 of the Health and Safety Code has done both of the following:

(A) Attempted to secure financing to bring the housing into compliance with those laws or codes which have been violated, causing the housing to be classified as substandard.

(B) Been denied that financing solely because the housing is located in a neighborhood or geographical area in which financial institutions do not provide financing for rehabilitation of any of that type of housing.

(e) This section does not apply to deductions from income derived from property rendered substandard solely by reason of a change in applicable state or local housing standards unless the violations cause substantial danger to the occupants of the property, as determined by the regulatory agency which has served notice of violation pursuant to subdivision (b).

(f) The owner of rental housing found to be in noncompliance shall, upon total or partial divestiture of interest in the property, immediately notify the regulatory agency of the name and address of the person or persons to whom the property has been sold or otherwise transferred and the date of the sale or transference.

(g) By July 1 of each year, the regulatory agency shall report to the appropriate legislative body of its jurisdiction all of the following information, for the preceding calendar year, regarding its activities to secure code enforcement, which shall be public information:

(1) The number of written notices of violation issued for substandard dwellings under subdivision (b).

(2) The number of violations complied with within the period prescribed in subdivision (b).

(3) The number of notices of noncompliance issued pursuant to subdivision (c).

(4) The number of appeals from those notices pursuant to subdivision (c).

(5) The number of successful appeals by owners.

(6) The number of notices of noncompliance mailed to the Franchise Tax Board pursuant to subdivision (c).

(7) The number of cases in which a notice of noncompliance was not sent pursuant to subdivision (d).

(8) The number of extensions for compliance granted pursuant to subdivision (b) and the mean average length of the extensions.

(9) The mean average length of time from the issuance of a notice of violation to the mailing of a notice of noncompliance to the Franchise Tax Board where the notice is actually sent to the Franchise Tax Board.

(10) The number of cases where compliance is achieved after a notice of noncompliance has been mailed to the Franchise Tax Board.

(11) The number of instances of disallowance of tax deductions by the Franchise Tax Board resulting from referrals made by the regulatory agency. This information may be filed in a supplemental report in succeeding years as it becomes available.

SEC. 16. Section 17671 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17671. (a) Section 584 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to common trust funds, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) (1) Section 1008(e)(5) of Public Law 100-647, relating to taxable year of common trust fund, shall apply.

(2) Section 806(e)(2) of Public Law 99-514, relating to the effective date for change in accounting period, as modified by Section 1008(e)(5) of Public Law 100-647, shall apply.

(3) If a return was filed for the short taxable year prior to January 1, 1990, which included the full amount of income in excess of expenses for that period, the taxpayer shall be permitted, prior to January 1, 1990, to file an amended return to spread that income ratably over the first four taxable years beginning after December 31, 1987.

SEC. 17. Section 18180 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18180. (a) Section 7872 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the treatment of loans with below market interest rates, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) Section 307 of the Support for East European Democracy (SEED) Act of 1989 (Public Law 101-179) shall not apply for purposes of this part.

SEC. 20. Section 18583 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18583. (a) If the Franchise Tax Board determines that the self-assessed tax disclosed by the taxpayer on an original or amended return, including an amended return reporting federal adjustments pursuant to Section 18451, is less than the tax disclosed by its examination, it shall mail notice or notices to the taxpayer of the deficiency proposed to be assessed.

(b) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 21. Section 18586 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18586. (a) Except in the case of a false or fraudulent return and except as otherwise expressly provided in this part, every notice of a proposed deficiency assessment shall be mailed to the taxpayer within four years after the return was filed. No deficiency shall be assessed or collected with respect to the year for which the return was filed unless the notice is mailed within the four-year period or the period otherwise fixed.

(b) The running of the period of limitations provided in subdivision (a) on mailing a notice of proposed deficiency assessment shall, in a case under Title 11 of the United States Code, be suspended for any period during which the Franchise Tax Board is prohibited by reason of that case from mailing the notice of proposed deficiency assessment and 60 days thereafter.

(c) Where, within the 60-day period ending on the day on which the time prescribed in this section for the assessment of any tax imposed by this part for any taxable year would otherwise expire, the Franchise Tax Board receives a written document signed by the taxpayer showing that the taxpayer owes an additional amount of that tax for that taxable year, the period for the assessment of an additional amount in excess of the amount shown on either an original or amended return shall not expire before the day 60 days after the day on which the Franchise Tax Board receives that document.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 22. Section 18586.3 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18586.3. (a) If a taxpayer is required by subdivision (a) of Section 18451 to report a change or correction by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or other officer of the United States or other competent authority and does report the change or correction within six months after the final federal determination, a notice of proposed deficiency assessment resulting from those adjustments may be mailed to the taxpayer within two years from the date when the notice is filed with the Franchise Tax Board by the taxpayer, or within the periods provided in Sections 18586, 18586.1, and 18587, whichever period expires later.

(b) If a taxpayer is required by subdivision (b) of Section 18451 to file an amended return and does file the return within six months of filing an amended return with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, a notice of proposed deficiency assessment in excess of the self-assessed tax on the amended return, and resulting from the adjustments may be mailed to the taxpayer within two years from the date when the amended return is filed with the Franchise Tax Board by the taxpayer, or within the periods provided in Sections 18586, 18586.1, and 18587, whichever period expires later.

(c) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 23. Section 18591.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18591.1. (a) For purposes of this part, the term "deficiency" means the amount by which the tax imposed by this part exceeds the excess of—

(1) The sum of—

(A) The amount shown as the tax by the taxpayer upon his or her original or amended return, if an original or amended return was made by the taxpayer and an amount was shown as the tax by the taxpayer thereon, plus

(B) The amounts previously assessed (or collected without assessment) as a deficiency, over—

(2) The amount of rebates, as defined in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b), made.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) The tax imposed by this part and the tax shown on the original or amended return shall both be determined without regard to payments on account of estimated tax, and without regard to the credit under Section 18551.1.

(2) The term "rebate" means so much of an abatement, credit, refund, or other repayment, as was made on the ground that the tax imposed by this part was less than the excess of the amount specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) over the rebates previously made.

(3) The term "deficiency" shall include the amount by which a credit subject to carryover is reduced by any action of the Franchise Tax Board.

(c) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 23.1. Section 18622 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

18622. (a) If the amount of gross income or deductions for any year of any taxpayer as returned to the United States Treasury Department is changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or other officer of the United States or other competent authority, or where a renegotiation of a contract or subcontract with the United States results in a change in gross income or deductions, that taxpayer shall report the change or correction, or the results of the renegotiation, within six months after the final federal determination of the change or correction or renegotiation, or as required by the Franchise Tax Board, and shall concede the accuracy of the determination or state wherein it is erroneous. The changes or corrections need not be reported unless they increase the amount of tax payable under this part.

(b) Any taxpayer filing an amended return with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue shall also file within six months thereafter an amended return with the Franchise Tax Board which shall contain any information as it shall require. However, an amended return need not be filed unless the change therein would increase the amount of tax payable under this part.

(c) Notification of a change or correction by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or other officer of the United States or other competent authority, or renegotiation of a contract or subcontract with the United States that results in a change in gross income or deductions or the filing of an amended return shall be reported in the form and manner as prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

SEC. 23.2. Section 18682.10 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

18682.10. (a) No addition to tax shall be made under Section 18682 for any installment of tax due on or after January 1, 1993, to the extent that the underpayment is attributable solely to changes made to the laws of other states applicable to the determination of credits that make Section 18001 inapplicable, by its terms, to a resident of this state.

(b) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 24. Section 18689.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18689.5. (a) The provisions of Section 6657 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to bad checks, shall apply.

(b) Section 6657 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to bad checks, is modified to apply to payments made by credit card remittance in addition to payments made by check or money order.

(c) For payments received prior to January 1, 1993, this section shall be applied only to payments pertaining to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

(d) For payments received on or after January 1, 1993, this section shall be applied to all payments without regard to taxable year.

(e) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 25. Section 19029 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

19029. (a) All payments required under this part regardless of the income year to which the payments apply shall be remitted to the Franchise Tax Board by electronic funds transfer pursuant to Division 11 (commencing with Section 11101) of the Commercial Code, once any of the following conditions is met with respect to any taxpayer:

(1) The estimated tax payment made pursuant to Section 19025 or the payment made pursuant to Section 18604 with regard to an extension of time to file exceeds fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) in any income year beginning on or after January 1, 1991, or twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) in any income year beginning on or after January 1, 1995.

(2) The total tax liability exceeds two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) in any income year beginning on or after January 1, 1991, or eighty thousand dollars ($80,000) in any income year beginning on or after January 1, 1995. For purposes of this section, total tax liability shall be the total tax liability as shown on the original return, after any adjustment pursuant to Section 19051.

(3) A taxpayer submits a request to the Franchise Tax Board and is granted permission to make electronic funds transfers.

(4) A taxpayer required to remit payments to the Franchise Tax Board by electronic funds transfer may elect to discontinue making payments where the threshold requirements set forth in paragraphs (1) and (2) were not met for the preceding income year. The election shall be made in a form and manner prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(b) Any taxpayer required to remit payment by electronic funds transfer pursuant to this section who makes payment by other means shall pay a penalty of 10 percent of the amount paid, unless it is shown that the failure to make payment as required was for reasonable cause and was not the result of willful neglect.

(c) Any taxpayer required to remit payments by electronic funds transfer pursuant to this section may request a waiver of those requirements from the Franchise Tax Board. The Franchise Tax Board may grant a waiver only if it determines that the particular amounts paid in excess of the threshold amounts established in this section were not representative of the taxpayer's tax liability. If a taxpayer is granted a waiver, subsequent remittances by electronic funds transfer shall be required only on those terms set forth in the waiver.

(d) The Franchise Tax Board shall accept remittances by electronic funds transfer pursuant to this section no later than January 1, 1993. Electronic funds transfer procedures, in addition to those described in subdivision (e), shall be as prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. Payment is deemed complete on the date the electronic funds transfer is initiated, if settlement to the state's demand account occurs on or before the banking day following the date the transfer is initiated. If settlement to the state's demand account does not occur on or before the banking day following the date the transfer is initiated, payment is deemed to occur on the date settlement occurs.

(e) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Electronic funds transfer" means any transfer of funds, other than a transaction originated by check, draft, or similar paper instrument, that is initiated through an electronic terminal, telephonic instrument, or computer or magnetic tape, so as to order, instruct, or authorize a financial institution to debit or credit an account. Electronic funds transfer shall be accomplished by an automated clearinghouse debit, an automated clearinghouse credit, a Federal Reserve Wire Transfer (Fedwire), or an international funds transfer.

(2) "Automated clearinghouse" means any federal reserve bank, or an organization established by agreement with the National Automated Clearing House Association, that operates as a clearinghouse for transmitting or receiving entries between banks or bank accounts and that authorizes an electronic transfer of funds between those banks or bank accounts.

(3) "Automated clearinghouse debit" means a transaction in which any department of the state, through its designated depository bank, originates an automated clearinghouse transaction debiting the taxpayer's bank account and crediting the state's bank account for the amount of tax. Banking costs incurred for the automated clearinghouse debit transaction by the taxpayer shall be paid by the state.

(4) "Automated clearinghouse credit" means an automated clearinghouse transaction in which the taxpayer, through its own bank, originates an entry crediting the state's bank account and debiting its own bank account. Banking costs incurred by the state for the automated clearinghouse credit transaction may be charged to the taxpayer.

(5) "Fedwire" means any transaction originated by the taxpayer and utilizing the national electronic payment system to transfer funds through federal reserve banks, pursuant to which the taxpayer debits its own bank account and credits the state's bank account. Electronic funds transfers may be made by Fedwire only if prior approval is obtained from the Franchise Tax Board and the taxpayer is unable, for reasonable cause, to make payments pursuant to paragraph (3) or (4). Banking costs charged to the taxpayer and to the state may be charged to the taxpayer.

(6) "International funds transfer" means any transaction originated by the taxpayer and utilizing the international electronic payment system to transfer funds, pursuant to which the taxpayer debits its own bank account, and credits the funds to a United States bank that credits the state's bank account. Banking costs charged to the taxpayer and to the state may be charged to the taxpayer.

(7) In determining whether a payment or total tax liability exceeds the amounts established in subdivision (a), all taxpayers whose income derived from, or attributable to, sources within this state is required to be determined by a combined report shall be aggregated and the total aggregate amount shall be considered to be the payment or total tax liability of a single taxpayer.

SEC. 26. Section 19033 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

19033. If the Franchise Tax Board determines that the tax disclosed by the taxpayer on an original or amended return, including an amended return reporting federal adjustments pursuant to Section 18622, is less than the tax disclosed by its examination, it shall mail notice or notices to the taxpayer of the deficiency proposed to be assessed.

SEC. 26.1. Section 19043 of Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

19043. (a) For purposes of this part, "deficiency" means the amount by which the tax imposed by Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001) or Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001) exceeds the excess of—

(1) The sum of—

(A) The amount shown as the tax by the taxpayer on an original or amended return, if an original or amended return was filed, plus

(B) The amounts previously assessed (or collected without assessment) as a deficiency, over—

(2) The amount of rebates, as defined in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b), made.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) The tax imposed by Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001) and Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001) and the tax shown on an original or amended return shall both be determined without regard to payments on account of estimated tax, and without regard to the credit under Section 19002.

(2) "Rebate" means so much of an abatement, credit, refund, or other repayment, as was made on the ground that the tax imposed by Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001) or Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001) was less than the excess of the amount specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) over the rebates previously made.

(3) "Deficiency" includes the amount by which a credit subject to carryover is reduced by any action of the Franchise Tax Board.

SEC. 27. Section 19057 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

19057. (a) Except in the case of a false or fraudulent return and except as otherwise expressly provided in this part, every notice of a proposed deficiency assessment shall be mailed to the taxpayer within four years after the return was filed. No deficiency shall be assessed or collected with respect to the year for which the return was filed unless the notice is mailed within the four-year period or the period otherwise provided.

(b) The running of the period of limitations provided in subdivision (a) on mailing a notice of proposed deficiency assessment shall, in a case under Title 11 of the United States Code, be suspended for any period during which the Franchise Tax Board is prohibited by reason of that case from mailing the notice of proposed deficiency assessment and 60 days thereafter.

(c) Where, within the 60-day period ending on the day on which the time prescribed in this section for the assessment of any tax imposed under Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001) or Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001) for any taxable year would otherwise expire, the Franchise Tax Board receives a written document, other than an amended return or a report required by Section 18622, signed by the taxpayer showing that the taxpayer owes an additional amount of that tax for that taxable year, the period for the assessment of an additional amount in excess of the amount shown on either an original or amended return shall not expire before the day 60 days after the day on which the Franchise Tax Board receives that document.

(d) If a taxpayer determines in good faith that it is an exempt organization and files a return as such under Section 23772, and if the taxpayer is thereafter held to be a taxable organization for the taxable year for which the return is filed, that return shall be deemed the return of the organization for the purposes of this section.

SEC. 28. Section 19059 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

19059. (a) If a taxpayer is required by subdivision (a) of Section 18622 to report a change or correction by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or other officer of the United States or other competent authority and does report the change or correction within six months after the final federal determination, a notice of proposed deficiency assessment resulting from those adjustments may be mailed to the taxpayer within two years from the date when the notice is filed with the Franchise Tax Board by the taxpayer, or within the periods provided in Sections 19057, 19058, and 19065, whichever period expires later.

(b) If a taxpayer is required by subdivision (b) of Section 18622 to file an amended return and does file the return within six months of filing an amended return with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, a notice of proposed deficiency assessment in excess of the self-assessed tax on the amended return in excess of the self-assessed tax on the amended return, and resulting from the adjustments may be mailed to the taxpayer within two years from the date when the amended return is filed with the Franchise Tax Board by the taxpayer, or within the periods provided in Sections 19057, 19058, and 19065, whichever period expires later.

SEC. 28.1. Section 19136.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

19136.5. No addition to tax shall be made under Section 19136 for any installment of tax due on or after January 1, 1993, to the extent that the underpayment is attributable solely to changes made to the laws of other states applicable to the determination of credits that make Section 18001 inapplicable, by its terms, to a resident of this state.

SEC. 28.2. Section 19167 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

19167. A penalty shall be imposed under this section for any of the following:

(a) In accordance with Section 6695(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, for failure to furnish a copy of the return to the taxpayer, as required by Section 18625.

(b) In accordance with Section 6695(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, for failure to furnish an identifying number, as required by Section 18624.

(c) In accordance with Section 6695(d) of the Internal Revenue Code, for failure to retain a copy or list, as required by Section 18625.

SEC. 28.3. Section 19254 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

19254. (a) (1) If any person, other than an organization exempt from taxation under Section 23701, fails to pay any amount of tax, penalty, addition to tax, interest, or other liability imposed and delinquent under Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001), Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001), or this part, a collection cost recovery fee shall be imposed if the Franchise Tax Board has mailed notice to that person for payment that advises that continued failure to pay the amount due may result in collection action, including the imposition of a collection cost recovery fee. The collection cost recovery fee shall be in the amount of:

(A) In the case of an individual, partnership, or fiduciary, eighty-eight dollars ($88) or an amount as adjusted under subdivision (b).

(B) In the case of a bank or corporation, one hundred sixty-six dollars ($166) or an amount as adjusted under subdivision (b).

(2) If any person, other than an organization exempt from taxation under Section 23701, fails or refuses to make and file a tax return required by Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001), Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001), or this part, within 25 days after formal legal demand to file the tax return is mailed to that person by the Franchise Tax Board, the Franchise Tax Board shall impose a filing enforcement cost recovery fee in the amount of:

(A) In the case of an individual, partnership, or fiduciary, fifty-one dollars ($51) or an amount as adjusted under subdivision (b).

(B) In the case of a bank or corporation, one hundred nineteen dollars ($119) or an amount as adjusted under subdivision (b).

(b) For fees imposed under this section during the fiscal year 1993–94 and fiscal years thereafter, the amount of those fees shall be set to reflect actual costs and shall be specified in the annual Budget Act.

(c) Interest shall not accrue with respect to the cost recovery fees provided by this section.

(d) The amounts provided by this section are obligations imposed by this part and may be collected in any manner provided under this part for the collection of a tax.

(e) Subdivision (a) is operative with respect to the notices for payment or formal legal demands to file, either of which is mailed on or after September 15, 1992.

(f) The Franchise Tax Board shall determine the total amount of the cost recovery fees collected or accrued through June 30, 1993, and shall notify the Controller of that amount. The Controller shall transfer that amount to the Franchise Tax Board, and that amount is hereby appropriated to the board for the 1992–93 fiscal year for reimbursement of its collection and filing enforcement efforts.

SEC. 29. Section 19311 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 93 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

19311. (a) If a change or correction is made or allowed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or other officer of the United States or other competent authority, a claim for credit or refund resulting from the adjustment may be filed by the taxpayer within two years from the date of the final federal determination, or within the period provided in Section 19306, 19307, or 19308, whichever period expires later.

(b) This section shall apply to any federal determination that becomes final on or after January 1, 1993.

SEC. 30. Section 19393 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

19393. For the purposes of the tax imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101) of Part 11, if any deduction, credit or exclusion provided for in Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001) or Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001) is finally adjudged discriminatory against a national banking association contrary to Section 548 of Title 12 of the United States Code, or is for any reason finally adjudged invalid, or discriminatory under the California Constitution, or the laws or the Constitution of the United States, the tax of the favored taxpayer shall be recomputed by the Franchise Tax Board for the taxable year in question, as of the time of allowance of the deduction, credit, or exclusion, by disallowing the deduction, credit, or exclusion, and any difference between the amount of the tax as recomputed and the amount of the tax as originally computed shall be subject to the provisions hereof relating to original computations.

SEC. 30.1. Section 19702 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

19702. The prosecutor may, with the consent of the Franchise Tax Board, compromise any penalty for which he or she may bring action under this chapter. The penalties provided by this chapter are additional to all other penalties provided in Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001), Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001), or this part.

SEC. 31. Section 23002 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23002. Except where otherwise expressly provided, all of the provisions of this part are applicable to the taxes imposed respectively under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101), Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 23400), or Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 23501), or to the predecessor acts of this part, the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act or the Corporation Income Tax Act, respectively.

SEC. 32. Section 23038.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23038.5. Section 7704 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to certain publicly traded partnerships treated as corporations, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 33. Section 23045.6 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23045.6. Section 7701(a)(20) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the definition of "employee," shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 34. Section 23046 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23046. Section 7701(a)(46) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to determination of whether there is a collective bargaining agreement, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 35. Section 23047 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23047. Section 7701(e) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to treatment of certain contracts for providing services, etc., shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 36. Section 23049 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23049. Section 7701(h) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to motor vehicle operating leases, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 37. Section 23058 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

23058. Unless otherwise specifically provided therein, the provisions of any act:

(a) That affect the imposition or computation of taxes, additions to tax penalties, or the allowance of credits against the tax, shall be applied to income years beginning on or after January 1 of the year in which the act takes effect.

(b) That otherwise affect the provisions of this part shall be applied on and after the date the act takes effect.

SEC. 37.2. Section 23101.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23101.5. (a) The Franchise Tax Board may determine that a corporation is not doing business in this state for purposes of this chapter or deriving income from sources within this state for purposes of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 23501) if its only activities within this state consist of either or both of the following:

(1) The purchase of personal property or services solely for its own use or use by its affiliate outside this state if:

(A) The corporation does not have more than 100 employees in this state, whose duties are limited to solicitation, negotiation, liaison, monitoring, auditing, and inspecting the personal property or services acquired, or providing technical advice with respect to its requirements, and

(B) The corporation does not have more than 200 employees in this state, whose duties are limited to solicitation, negotiation, liaison, monitoring, auditing, and inspecting the personal property or services acquired, or providing technical advice with respect to its requirements, and the personal property or services purchased by the corporation or its affiliate are used for the construction or modification of a physical plant or facility located outside the state, and

(C) The combined number of employees in this state pursuant to subparagraphs (A) and (B) does not exceed 200.

(2) The presence of employees in this state only for the purpose of attending a public or private school, college or university.

(b) A corporation may petition the Franchise Tax Board for a determination in accord with procedures established by the Franchise Tax Board. The filing of that petition shall be deemed a waiver of the confidentiality provisions of Section 26451 with respect to the facts alleged in the petition and any additional evidence produced with respect to those facts.

(c) If the determination is made, it shall remain in force for five years as long as the corporation continues to meet the above criteria. However, with respect to corporations meeting the above criteria on or before January 1, 1978, the determination shall remain in force indefinitely as long as the corporation continues to meet the above criteria.

(d) The corporation shall annually confirm with the Franchise Tax Board within two months and 15 days after the close of its fiscal year, in the manner as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe, that the facts relevant to the granting of the determination then in effect remain unchanged or shall state and explain any changes that have occurred since the preceeding report was filed.

(e) Where a corporation applying for or relying on the determination is engaged in a unitary business, the limitation of 100 or 200 employees, as applicable, that is specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) shall apply to the aggregation of all corporations within the unitary group.

(f) Each taxpayer that sells property or services to a corporation with more than 100 employees in this state, with respect to which the determination has been made, shall file annually with the Franchise Tax Board in the manner as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe, a report identifying the number of its employees within this state directly attributable to the construction or modification of a physical plant or facility located outside the state.

(g) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 37.5. Section 23101.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

23101.5. (a) The Franchise Tax Board may determine that a corporation is not doing business in this state for purposes of this chapter or deriving income from sources within this state for purposes of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 23501) if its only activities within this state are either or both of the following:

(1) The purchase of personal property or services solely for its own use or use by its affiliate outside this state if:

(A) The corporation does not have more than 100 employees in this state, whose duties are limited to solicitation, negotiation, liaison, monitoring, auditing, and inspecting the personal property or services acquired, or providing technical advice with respect to its requirements, and

(B) The corporation does not have more than 200 employees in this state, whose duties are limited to solicitation, negotiation, liaison, monitoring, auditing, and inspecting the personal property or services acquired, or providing technical advice with respect to its requirements, and the personal property or services purchased by the corporation or its affiliate are used for the construction or modification of a physical plant or facility located outside the state, and

(C) The combined number of employees in this state pursuant to subparagraphs (A) and (B) does not exceed 200.

(2) The presence of employees in this state only for the purpose of attending a public or private school, college, or university.

(b) A corporation may petition the Franchise Tax Board for a determination in accord with procedures established by the Franchise Tax Board. The filing of that petition shall be deemed a waiver of the confidentiality provisions of Section 19542 with respect to the facts alleged in the petition and any additional evidence produced with respect to those facts.

(c) If the determination is made, it shall remain in force for five years as long as the corporation continues to meet the above criteria. However, with respect to corporations meeting the above criteria on or before January 1, 1978, the determination shall remain in force indefinitely so long as the corporation continues to meet the above criteria.

(d) The corporation shall annually confirm with the Franchise Tax Board within two months and 15 days after the close of its fiscal year, in the manner as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe, that the facts relevant to the granting of the determination then in effect remain unchanged or shall state and explain any changes that have occurred since the preceding report was filed.

(e) Where a corporation applying for or relying on the determination is engaged in a unitary business, the limitation of 100 or 200 employees, as applicable, that is specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) shall apply to the aggregation of all corporations within the unitary group.

(f) Each taxpayer that sells property or services to a corporation with more than 100 employees in this state, with respect to which the determination has been made, shall file annually with the Franchise Tax Board, in the manner as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe, a report identifying the number of its employees within this state directly attributable to the construction or modification of a physical plant or facility located outside the state.

(g) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1994.

SEC. 38. Section 23732 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23732. Section 512 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to unrelated business taxable income, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(a) Section 512(a)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to special rules for foreign organizations, shall not be applicable.

(b) Section 512(a)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to special rules applicable to certain organizations, shall be modified as follows:

(1) The reference to Section 501(c)(7) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to clubs organized for pleasure, recreation, and other nonprofitable purposes, shall be modified to refer to Section 23701g.

(2) The reference to Section 501(c)(9) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to voluntary employees' beneficiary associations, shall be modified to refer to Section 23701i.

(3) The reference to Section 501(c)(17) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to trusts providing for payment of supplemental unemployment compensation benefits, shall be modified to refer to Section 23701n.

(4) The reference to Section 501(c)(20) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to qualified group legal services plans, shall be modified to refer to Section 23701q.

(c) Section 512(b)(10) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to charitable contributions, shall be modified to provide that such deductions shall not exceed 5 percent of the unrelated business taxable income, rather than 10 percent.

SEC. 39. Section 23734 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23734. (a) Section 513 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to unrelated trade or business, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) Section 513(g) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to certain pole rentals, shall not apply.

SEC. 40. Section 23735 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23735. (a) Section 514 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to unrelated debt-financed income, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) Section 10214 of Public Law 100-203, relating to the treatment of certain partnership allocations, shall apply to income years beginning on or after January 1, 1990, for property acquired by the partnership after October 13, 1987, and partnership interests acquired after October 13, 1987.

SEC. 41. Section 24271 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24271. (a) Section 61 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to gross income defined, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) A distributive share of partnership gross income shall be determined in accordance with Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001).

(c) Income from an interest in an estate or trust shall be determined in accordance with Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001).

SEC. 42. Section 24276 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24276. Section 90 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to illegal federal irrigation subsidies, shall apply to water delivered to the taxpayer on or after January 1, 1988, in income years beginning on or after January 1, 1989, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 43. Section 24307 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24307. (a) Section 108 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to income from discharge of indebtedness, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) Section 108(b) (2) (B) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to general business credit, is modified by substituting "this part" in lieu of "Section 38 (relating to general business credit)."

(c) Section 108(b) (2) (E) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to foreign tax credit carryovers, shall not apply. In the case where more than one credit is allowable under this part, the credit shall be reduced on a pro rata basis.

(d) Section 108(b) (3) (B) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to credit carryover reduction, is modified by substituting "11.1 cents" in lieu of "33 ⅓ cents."

(e) Section 108(g) (3) (B) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to adjusted tax attributes, is modified by substituting "$9" in lieu of "$3."

SEC. 44. Section 24343 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24343. (a) Section 162 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to trade as business expenses, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) For purposes of applying Section 162 of the Internal Revenue Code, any reference to Section 170 of the Internal Revenue Code shall be modified to refer to Sections 24357 to 24359.1, inclusive, of this part.

SEC. 45. Section 24344 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24344. (a) Section 163 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to interest, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) If income of the taxpayer which is derived from or attributable to sources within this state is determined pursuant to Section 25101 or 25110, the interest deductible shall be an amount equal to interest income subject to apportionment by formula, plus the amount, if any, by which the balance of interest expense exceeds interest and dividend income (except dividends deductible under the provisions of Section 24402 and dividends subject to the deductions provided for in Section 24411 to the extent of those deductions) not subject to apportionment by formula. Interest expense not included in the preceding sentence shall be directly offset against interest and dividend income (except dividends deductible under the provisions of Section 24402 and dividends subject to the deductions provided for in Section 24411 to the extent of those deductions) not subject to apportionment by formula.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), interest expense allowable under Section 163 of the Internal Revenue Code that is incurred for purposes of foreign investments may be offset against dividends deductible under Section 24411.

(d) The provisions of Section 7210(b) of Public Law 101-239, relating to the effective date for limitation on deduction for certain interest paid to a related person, shall apply.

(e) Section 163(j)(6)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to treatment of an affiliated group, is modified to apply to all members of a combined report filed under Section 25102.

SEC. 46. Section 24347.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24347.5. (a) In lieu of Section 24347, Section 165(i) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to disaster losses, shall apply to each of the following:

(1) Forest fire or any other related casualty occurring in 1985 in California.

(2) Storm, flooding, or any other related casualty occurring in 1986 in California.

(3) Any loss sustained during 1987 as a result of a forest fire or any other related casualty.

(4) Earthquake, aftershock, or any other related casualty occurring in October 1987 in California.

(5) Earthquake, aftershock, or any related casualty occurring in October 1989 in California.

(6) Any loss sustained during 1990 as a result of fire or any other related casualty in California.

(7) Earthquake, aftershock, or any other related casualty occurring in April 1992 in the County of Humboldt.

(8) Riots, arson, or any other related casualty occurring in April or May 1992 in California.

(b) To the extent that losses under subdivision (a) exceed the net income of the year of loss or, if the election under Section 165(i) of the Internal Revenue Code is made, the net income of the year preceding the loss, then that "excess loss," at the election of the taxpayer, may be carried forward to each of the five income years following the income year the loss is claimed. However, if there is any "excess loss" remaining after the five-year period, then 50 percent of that "excess loss" may be carried forward to each of the next 10 income years.

(c) The entire amount of any "excess loss" as defined in subdivision (b) shall be carried to the earliest of the income years to which, by reason of subdivision (b), the loss may be carried. The portion of the loss which shall be carried to each of the other income years shall be the excess, if any, of the amount of "excess loss" over the sum of the net income for each of the prior income years to which that "excess loss" may be carried.

(d) This section and Section 165(i) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be applicable to any of the following losses sustained in any county or city in this state which was proclaimed by the Governor to be in a state of disaster:

(1) Any loss sustained during February 1986 as a result of storm, flooding, or any other related casualty.

(2) Any loss sustained during 1987 as a result of forest fire or any other related casualty.

(3) Any loss sustained during October 1987 as the result of earthquake, aftershock, or any other related casualty.

(4) Any loss resulting from the earthquake which occurred in October 1989, aftershock, or any other related casualty.

(5) Any loss sustained during 1990 as the result of fire in the County of Santa Barbara.

(6) Any loss sustained during April 1992 as a result of earthquake, aftershock, or any other related casualty in the County of Humboldt.

(7) Any loss sustained during April or May 1992 as a result of riots, arson, or any other related casualty.

(e) Any corporation subject to the provisions of Section 25101 or 25101.15 that has disaster losses pursuant to this section, shall determine the "excess loss" to be carried to other income years under the principles specified in Section 25108 relating to net operating losses.

(f) Losses described in this section may not be taken into account in computing a net operating loss deduction under Section 24416 or 24416.1.

SEC. 47. Section 24349.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24349.1. (a) Section 280F of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to limitations on depreciation for luxury automobiles and certain property used for personal purposes, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (c), Section 280F of the Internal Revenue Code shall be modified as follows:

(1) The terms "deduction" or "recovery deduction," relating to amounts allowable as a deduction under Section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code, mean the amount allowable as a deduction for depreciation under this part.

(2) The term "recovery period," relating to property under Section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code, means the class life asset depreciation range allowable under this part.

(3) The provisions of Section 280F of the Internal Revenue Code which relate to the investment tax credit shall not be applicable for purposes of this part.

(c) Paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (b) shall not apply to Section 24356.2 property.

SEC. 48. Section 24365 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24365. (a) Section 174 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to research and experimental expenditures, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) Section 174(b) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified to refer to subdivision (a) of Section 24916 in lieu of Section 1016(a) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(c) Section 174(c) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified to refer to Sections 24349 to 24356, inclusive, in lieu of Section 167 of the Internal Revenue Code.

SEC. 49. Section 24369 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24369. Section 175 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to soil and water conservation expenditures, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 50. Section 24371 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 51. Section 24372.3 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24372.3. (a) Section 169 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to amortization of pollution control facilities, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) The deduction allowed by this section shall be available only with respect to facilities located in this state.

(c) The "state certifying authority," as defined in Section 169(d)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, means the State Air Resources Board, in the case of air pollution, and the State Water Resources Control Board, in the case of water pollution.

SEC. 52. Section 24379 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24379. Section 83 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to property transferred in connection with performance of services, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 53. Section 24382 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24382. (a) Section 216 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to deduction of taxes, interest, and business depreciation by cooperative housing corporation tenant-stockholder, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) Section 6282(b) of Public Law 100-647, relating to the effective date for distributions by cooperative housing corporations, shall apply.

SEC. 54. Section 24414 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24414. (a) Section 195 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to startup expenditures, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) Sections 163(a), 164, 165, and 174 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to interest, taxes, losses, and research and experimental expenditures, shall be modified to refer to Sections 24344, 24345, 24347, and 24365, respectively.

SEC. 55. Section 24422.3 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24422.3. Section 263A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to capitalization and inclusion in inventory costs of certain expenses, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 56. Section 24427 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24427. Section 267 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to losses, expenses, and interest with respect to transactions between related taxpayers, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 57. Section 24436.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24436.5. (a) In the case of a taxpayer who derives rental income from substandard housing located in this state, no deductions for interest, depreciation, taxes, or amortization under Section 24343, 24344, 24345, 24349, or 24354.2 shall be allowed which relate to that substandard housing.

(b) Substandard housing means housing for which both of the following apply:

(1) The housing has been determined by a state or local government regulatory agency to violate state law or local codes dealing with health, safety, or building.

(2) Either of the following occur:

(A) After written notice of violation by the regulatory agency, specifying the applicability of this section, the housing has not been repaired or brought to a condition of compliance within six months after the date of the notice or the time prescribed in the notice, whichever period is longest.

(B) Good faith efforts for compliance have not been commenced, as determined by the regulatory agency.

"Substandard housing" shall also mean employee housing that has not, within 30 days of the date of the written notice of violation or the date for compliance prescribed in the written notice of violation, been brought into compliance with the conditions stated in the written notice of violation of the Employee Housing Act (Part 1 (commencing with Section 17000) of Division 13 of the Health and Safety Code) issued by the enforcement agency that specifies the application of this section. The regulatory agency may, for good cause shown, extend the compliance date prescribed in a violation notice.

(c) (1) When the period specified in subdivision (b) has expired without compliance, the government regulatory agency shall mail to the taxpayer a notice of noncompliance. The notice of noncompliance shall be in a form and shall include information prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, shall be mailed by certified mail to the taxpayer at his or her last known address, and shall advise the taxpayer (A) of an intent to notify the Franchise Tax Board of the noncompliance within 10 days unless an appeal is filed, (B) where an appeal may be filed, and (C) a general description of the tax consequences of that filing with the Franchise Tax Board. Appeals shall be made to the same body and in the same manner as appeals from other actions of the regulatory agency. If no appeal is made within 10 days or after disposition of the appeal if the regulatory agency is sustained, the regulatory agency shall notify, in writing, the Franchise Tax Board of the noncompliance.

(2) The notice of noncompliance shall contain the legal description or the lot and block numbers of the real property, the assessor's parcel number, and the name of the owner of record as shown on the latest equalized assessment roll. In addition, the regulatory agency shall, at the same time as notification of the notice of noncompliance is sent to the Franchise Tax Board, record a copy of the notice of noncompliance in the office of the recorder for the county in which the substandard housing is located that includes a statement of tax consequences that may be determined by the Franchise Tax Board. However, the failure to record a notice with the county recorder shall not relieve the liability of any taxpayer nor shall it create any liability on the part of the regulatory agency.

(3) The regulatory agency may charge the taxpayer a fee in an amount not to exceed the regulatory agency's costs incurred in recording any notice of noncompliance or issuing any release of that notice. The notice of compliance shall be recorded and shall serve to expunge the notice of noncompliance. The notice of compliance shall contain the same recording information required for the notice of noncompliance. No deduction by the taxpayer, or any other taxpayer who obtains title to the property subsequent to the recordation of the notice of noncompliance, shall be allowed for the items provided in subdivision (a) from the date of the notice of noncompliance until the date the regulatory agency determines that the substandard housing has been brought to a condition of compliance. The regulatory agency shall mail to the Franchise Tax Board and the taxpayer a notice of compliance, which notice shall be in the form and include the information prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. In the event the period of noncompliance does not cover an entire income year, the deductions shall be denied at the rate of $\frac{1}{12}$ for each full month during the period of noncompliance.

(4) If the property is owned by more than one owner or the recorded title is in the name of a fictitious owner, the notice requirements provided in subdivision (b) and this subdivision shall be satisfied for each owner if the notices are mailed to one owner or to the fictitious name owner at the address appearing on the latest available property tax bill. However, notices made pursuant to this subdivision shall not relieve the regulatory agency from furnishing taxpayer identification information required to implement this section to the Franchise Tax Board.

(d) For the purposes of this section, a notice of noncompliance shall not be mailed by the regulatory agency to the Franchise Tax Board if any of the following occur:

(1) The rental housing was rendered substandard solely by reason of earthquake, flood or other natural disaster except where the condition remains for more than three years after the disaster.

(2) The owner of the rental housing has secured financing to bring the housing into compliance with those laws or codes which have been violated, causing the housing to be classified as substandard, and has commenced repairs or other work necessary to bring the housing into compliance.

(3) The owner of rental housing which is not within the meaning of housing accommodation, as defined in subdivision (d) of Section 35805 of the Health and Safety Code, has done both of the following:

(A) Attempted to secure financing to bring the housing into compliance with those laws or codes which have been violated, causing the housing to be classified as substandard.

(B) Been denied that financing solely because the housing is located in a neighborhood or geographical area in which financial institutions do not provide financing for rehabilitation of any of that type of housing.

(e) The provisions of this section do not apply to deductions from income derived from property rendered substandard solely by reason of a change in applicable state or local housing standards unless those violations cause substantial danger to the occupants of the property, as determined by the regulatory agency which has served notice of violation pursuant to subdivision (b).

(f) The owner of rental housing found to be in noncompliance shall, upon total or partial divestiture of interest in the property, immediately notify the regulatory agency of the name and address of the person or persons to whom the property has been sold or otherwise transferred and the date of the sale or transference.

(g) By July 1 of each year, the regulatory agency shall report to the appropriate legislative body of its jurisdiction all of the following information, for the preceding calendar year, regarding its activities to secure code enforcement, which shall be public information:

(1) The number of written notices of violation issued for substandard dwellings under subdivision (b).

(2) The number of violations complied with within the period prescribed in subdivision (b).

(3) The number of notices of noncompliance issued pursuant to subdivision (c).

(4) The number of appeals from those notices pursuant to subdivision (c).

(5) The number of successful appeals by owners.

(6) The number of notices of noncompliance mailed to the Franchise Tax Board pursuant to subdivision (c).

(7) The number of cases in which a notice of noncompliance was not sent pursuant to the provisions of subdivision (d).

(8) The number of extensions for compliance granted pursuant to subdivision (b) and the mean average length of the extensions.

(9) The mean average length of time from the issuance of a notice of violation to the mailing of a notice of noncompliance to the Franchise Tax Board where the notice is actually sent to the Franchise Tax Board.

(10) The number of cases where compliance is achieved after a notice of noncompliance has been mailed to the Franchise Tax Board.

(11) The number of instances of disallowance of tax deductions by the Franchise Tax Board resulting from referrals made by the regulatory agency. This information may be filed in a supplemental report in succeeding years as it becomes available.

SEC. 58. Section 24437 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24449. (a) Section 291 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to special rules relating to corporate preference items, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) The reference in Section 291(a)(3) to "a deduction under this chapter" shall be modified to mean the deduction under Section 24348 of this part.

(2) The reference in Section 291(b)(1) to "Section 263(c)" shall be modified to mean the deduction under Section 24423 of this part.

SEC. 63. Section 24652 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24652. Section 447 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to method of accounting for corporations engaged in farming, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 64. Section 24654 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24654. (a) Section 448 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to limitation on use of cash method of accounting, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) For purposes of applying Section 448 of the Internal Revenue Code, Sections 801(d)(2), 801(d)(3), and 801(d)(5) of the Tax Reform Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-514), as modified by Section 1008(a) of Public Law 100-647, shall apply to each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1987.

SEC. 65. Section 24661 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24661. (a) Section 451 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the general rule for taxable year of inclusion, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) The amendments to Section 451 of the Internal Revenue Code made by Section 6030 of Public Law 100-647 shall be applied in the same manner as specified by Section 6030(b) of that act.

(c) The amendments to Section 451 of the Internal Revenue Code made by Section 6033 of Public Law 100-647 shall be applied in the same manner as specified by Section 6033(b) of that act.

SEC. 66. Section 24667 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24667. (a) (1) Sections 453, 453A, and 453B of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to installment method, special rules for nondealers, and gain or loss on disposition of installment obligations, respectively, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(2) Sections 811(c)(2), 811(c)(4), 811(c)(6), and 811(c)(7) of Public Law 99-514, as modified by Section 1008(f) of Public Law 100-647, shall apply to each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1988.

(3) Section 812 of Public Law 99-514, relating to the disallowance of use of the installment method for certain obligations, as modified by Section 1008(g) of Public Law 100-647, shall apply to each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1988.

(b) For purposes of subdivision (a), any references in the Internal Revenue Code to sections that have not been incorporated into this part by reference shall be deemed to refer to the corresponding section, if any, of this part.

(c) In the case of any taxpayer who made sales under a revolving credit plan and was on the installment method under former Section 24667 or 24668 for the taxpayer's last income year beginning before January 1, 1988, the provisions of this section shall be treated as a change in method of accounting for the first income year beginning after December 31, 1987, and all of the following shall apply:

(1) That change shall be treated as initiated by taxpayer.

(2) That change shall be treated as having been made with the consent of the Franchise Tax Board.

(3) The period for taking into account adjustments under Article 6 (commencing with Section 24721) by reason of that change shall not exceed four years.

(d) The repeal of Section 453C of the Internal Revenue Code by Section 10202(a) of Public Law 100-203, relating to repeal of the proportionate disallowance of the installment method, shall apply to dispositions on or after January 1, 1990, in income years beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

(e) (1) In the case of any installment obligations to which Section 453(l) (2) (B) of the Internal Revenue Code applies, in lieu of the provisions of Section 453(l) (3) (A) of the Internal Revenue Code, the "tax" (as defined by subdivision (a) of Section 23036) for any income year for which payment is received on that obligation shall be increased by the amount of interest determined in the manner provided under Section 453(l) (3) (B) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) Sections 10202 and 10204 of Public Law 100-203, are modified to provide for each of the following:

(A) Section 10202 shall apply to dispositions in income years beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

(B) Section 10204 shall apply to costs incurred in income years beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

(C) Any adjustments required by Section 481 of the Internal Revenue Code shall be included in gross income as follows:

(i) Fifty percent in the first income year beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

(ii) Fifty percent in the second income year beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

(f) (1) The amendments to Section 453A of the Internal Revenue Code made by Section 2004 of Public Law 100-647, relating to special rules for nondealers, shall apply to each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

(2) In the case of any installment obligation to which Section 453A of the Internal Revenue Code applies and which is outstanding as of the close of the income year, in lieu of the provisions of Section 453A(c) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code, the "tax" (as defined by subdivision (a) of Section 23036) for the income year shall be increased by the amount of interest determined in the manner provided under Section 453A(c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) The provisions of Section 453A(c)(3)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the maximum rate used in calculating the deferred tax liability, are modified to refer to the maximum rate of tax imposed under Section 23151, 23186, or 23802, whichever applies, in lieu of the maximum rate of tax imposed under Section 1 or 11 of the Internal Revenue Code.

SEC. 67. Section 24673.2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24673.2. (a) Section 460 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to special rules for long-term contracts, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) (1) Section 804(d) of Public Law 99-514, relating to the effective date of modifications in the method of accounting for long-term contracts, shall apply to income years beginning on or after January 1, 1987.

(2) In the case of a contract entered into after February 28, 1986, during an income year beginning before January 1, 1987, an adjustment to income shall be made upon completion of the contract, if necessary, to correct any underreporting or overreporting of income, for purposes of this part, resulting from differences between state and federal law for the income year in which the contract began.

(c) (1) The amendments to Section 460 of the Internal Revenue Code made by Section 10203 of Public Law 100–203, relating to a reduction in the percentage of items taken into account under the completed contract method, shall apply to each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

(2) In the case of a contract entered into after October 13, 1987, during an income year beginning before January 1, 1990, an adjustment to income shall be made upon completion of the contract, if necessary, to correct any underreporting or overreporting of income, for purposes of this part, resulting from differences between state and federal law for each income year beginning prior to January 1, 1990.

(d) (1) The amendments to Section 460 of the Internal Revenue Code made by Section 5041 of Public Law 100–647, relating to a reduction in the percentage of items taken into account under the completed contract method, shall apply to each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

(2) In the case of a contract entered into after June 20, 1988, during an income year beginning before January 1, 1990, an adjustment to income shall be made upon completion of the contract, if necessary, to correct any underreporting or overreporting of income, for purposes of this part, resulting from differences between state and federal law for each income year beginning prior to January 1, 1990.

(e) (1) The amendments to Section 460 of the Internal Revenue

Code made by Section 7621 of Public Law 101-239, relating to the repeal of the completed contract method of accounting for long-term contracts, shall apply to each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

(2) In the case of a contract entered into after July 10, 1989, during an income year beginning on or before January 1, 1990, an adjustment to income shall be made upon completion of the contract, if necessary, to correct any underreporting or overreporting of income, for purposes of this part, resulting from differences between state and federal law for each income year beginning prior to January 1, 1990.

(f) For purposes of applying paragraphs (2) to (5), inclusive, of Section 460(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the look-back method, any adjustment to income computed under paragraph (2) of subdivision (b), (c), (d), or (e) shall be deemed to have been reported in the income year from which the adjustment arose, rather than the income year in which the contract was completed.

SEC. 68. Section 24681 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24681. Section 461 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the general rule for taxable year of deduction, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 69. Section 24682 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24682. Section 464 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to limitations on deductions for certain farming expenses, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 70. Section 24688 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24688. Section 467 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to certain payments for the use of property or services, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 71. Section 24689 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24689. Section 468 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to special rules for mining and solid waste reclamation and closing costs, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 72. Section 24692 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24692. (a) Section 469 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to passive activity losses and credits limited, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) For purposes of this part, Section 469(d)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to passive activity credits, is modified to refer to the following credits:

(1) The credit for research expenses allowed by Section 23609.

(2) The credit for clinical testing expenses allowed by Section 23609.5.

(3) The credit for low-income housing allowed by Section 23610.5.

(4) The credit for certain wages paid (targeted jobs) allowed by Section 23621.

(c) For purposes of applying Section 469(i) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) offset for rental real estate activities, the dollar limitation for the credit allowed under Section 23610.5 (relating to low-income housing) shall be equal to seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) in lieu of the amount specified in Section 469(i)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(d) Section 502 of the Tax Reform Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-514) shall apply.

(e) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1987, Section 10212 of Public Law 100-203, relating to treatment of publicly traded partnerships under Section 469 of the Internal Revenue Code, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(f) The amendments to Section 469(k) of the Internal Revenue Code made by Section 2004 of Public Law 100-647, relating to separate application of section in case of publicly traded partnerships, shall apply to each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1990, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 78. Section 24872 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24872. Sections 856 to 860, inclusive, of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to real estate investment trusts, shall be applicable for purposes of this part, except that:

(a) In applying Section 857 (a) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code, a real estate investment trust subject to this part shall be subject to this section if it satisfies the distribution requirements for real estate investment trusts for federal purposes.

(b) (1) Section 857 (b) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to imposition of tax on real estate investment trusts, shall not apply.

(2) Every real estate investment trust shall be subject to the taxes imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101) and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 23501), except that its "net income" shall be equal to its "real estate investment trust income," as defined in subdivision (b).

(c) "Real estate investment trust income" means real estate investment trust taxable income, as defined in Section 857 (b) (2) of the Internal Revenue Code, modified as follows:

(1) In lieu of the provisions of Section 857 (b) (2) (A) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to special deductions for corporations, no deduction shall be allowed under Section 24402.

(2) Section 857 (b) (2) (D) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to an exclusion for an amount equal to the net income from foreclosure property, shall not apply.

(3) Section 857 (b) (2) (E) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to a deduction for an amount equal to the tax imposed in the case of failure to meet certain requirements for the taxable year, shall not apply.

(4) Section 857 (b) (2) (F) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to an exclusion for an amount equal to any net income derived from prohibited transactions, shall not apply.

(d) Section 857 (b) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to an alternative tax in case of capital gains, shall not apply.

(e) Section 857 (b) (4) (A) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the imposition of tax on income from foreclosure property, shall not apply.

(f) Section 857 (b) (5) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the imposition of tax in case of failure to meet certain requirements, shall not apply.

(g) Section 857 (b) (6) (A) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the imposition of tax on income from prohibited transactions, shall not apply.

(h) Section 857(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to restrictions applicable to dividends received from real estate investment trusts is modified to refer to Sections 24106, 24110, 24402, and 24406 in lieu of Section 243 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(i) The amendments to this section by the act adding this subdivision are clarifications of legislative intent and shall apply to taxable and income years beginning on or after January 1, 1987.

SEC. 79. Section 24905 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

(b) (1) This section shall not apply to income years beginning on or after January 1, 1995.

(2) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1995, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 85. Section 24966.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24966.1. Section 1059A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to limitation on taxpayer's basis or inventory cost in property imported from related persons, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 86. Section 24966.2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24966.2. Section 1060 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to special allocation rules for certain asset acquisitions, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 87. Section 24981 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24981. Section 1081 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to nonrecognition of gain or loss on exchanges or distributions in obedience to orders of the federal Securities and Exchange Commission, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 88. Section 24988 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24988. For purposes of Section 24981, Section 1082 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to basis for determining gain or loss, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 89. Section 24989 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24989. Section 1056 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to basis limitation for player contracts transferred in connection with the sale of a franchise, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

SEC. 90. Section 25662 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

25662. (a) If the Franchise Tax Board determines that the self-assessed tax disclosed by the taxpayer on an original or amended return, including an amended return reporting federal adjustments pursuant to Section 25432, is less than the tax disclosed by its examination it shall mail notice or notices to the taxpayer of the additional tax proposed to be assessed. Each notice shall set forth the reasons for the proposed additional assessment and the details of the computation thereof.

(b) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 91. Section 25662.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

25662.1. (a) For purposes of this part, the term "deficiency" means the amount by which the tax imposed by this part exceeds the excess of—

(1) The sum of—

(A) The amount shown as the tax by the taxpayer upon its original or amended return, if an original or amended return was made by the taxpayer and an amount was shown as the tax by the taxpayer thereon, plus

(B) The amounts previously assessed (or collected without assessment) as a deficiency, over—

(2) The amount of rebates, as defined in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b), made.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) The tax imposed by this part and the tax shown on the original or amended return shall both be determined without regard to payments on account of estimated tax.

(2) "Rebate" means so much of an abatement, credit, refund, or other repayment, as was made on the ground that the tax imposed by this part was less than the excess of the amount specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) over the rebates previously made.

(3) The term "deficiency" shall include the amount by which a credit subject to carryover is reduced by any action of the Franchise Tax Board.

(c) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repeal.

SEC. 92. Section 25663 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

25663. (a) Except in the case of a false or fraudulent return, and except as otherwise expressly provided in this part, every notice of additional tax proposed to be assessed shall be mailed to the taxpayer within four years after the return was filed. No deficiency shall be assessed or collected with respect to the year for which such return was filed unless the notice is mailed within the four-year period or as otherwise provided.

(b) For the purposes of this section and Sections 25663a and 25663c a return filed before the last day prescribed by law for the filing thereof (determined without regard to any extension of time for filing the return) shall be considered as filed on such last day. For purposes of Section 26073, payment of any portion of the tax made before the last day prescribed for the payment of the tax shall be considered made on such last day.

(c) If a taxpayer determines in good faith that it is an exempt organization and files a return as such under Section 23772, and if such taxpayer is thereafter held to be a taxable organization for the taxable year for which the return is filed, such return shall be deemed the return of the organization for the purposes of this section.

(d) The running of the period of limitations provided in subdivision (a) on mailing a notice of additional tax proposed to be assessed shall, in a case under Title 11 of the United States Code, be suspended for any period during which the Franchise Tax Board is prohibited by reason of such case from mailing a notice of additional tax proposed to be assessed and 60 days thereafter.

(e) Where, within the 60-day period ending on the day on which the time prescribed in this section for the assessment of any tax imposed by this part for any year would otherwise expire, the Franchise Tax Board receives a written document signed by the taxpayer showing that the taxpayer owes an additional amount in excess of the amount shown on either an original or an amended return of that tax for that year, the period for the assessment of an additional amount shall not expire before the day 60 days after the day on which the Franchise Tax Board receives that document.

(f) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 93. Section 25674 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

25674. (a) If a taxpayer is required by subdivision (a) of Section 25432 to report a change or correction by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or other officer of the United States or other competent authority and does report the change or correction within six months after the final federal determination, a notice of proposed deficiency assessment resulting from those adjustments may be mailed to the taxpayer within two years from the date the notice is filed with the Franchise Tax Board by the taxpayer, or within the periods provided in Sections 25663, 25663a, and 25663c, whichever period expires later.

(b) If a taxpayer is required by subdivision (b) of Section 25432 to file an amended return and does file the return within six months of filing an amended return with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, a notice of proposed deficiency assessment in excess of the self-assessed tax on the amended return, and resulting from the adjustments may be mailed to the taxpayer within two years from the date when the amended return is filed with the Franchise Tax Board by the taxpayer, or within the periods provided in Sections 25663, 25663a, and 25663c, whichever period expires later.

(c) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 94. Section 25937 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

25937. (a) The provisions of Section 6657 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to bad checks, shall apply.

(b) Section 6657 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to bad checks, is modified to apply to payments made by credit card remittance or electronic funds transfer (as provided by Section 25555.5) in addition to payments made by check or money order.

(c) For payments received prior to January 1, 1993, this section shall be applied only to payments pertaining to income years beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

(d) For payments received on or after January 1, 1993, this section shall be applied to all payments without regard to income year.

(e) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 95. Section 2629.1 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

2629.1. (a) Nothing in Section 2629 shall be construed to authorize the delay of payment of unemployment compensation disability benefits except where the claimant is currently in receipt of other benefits or where the department has received notice that the claimant's employer or insurer has agreed to commence the payment of other benefits.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 2701.5, payments shall commence within 14 days after notice to the employer or insurer under this section unless the employer or insurer has either paid or has agreed to commence the payment of other benefits.

(c) Upon the filing of a claim for unemployment compensation disability benefits, the department shall make an initial determination as to the claimant's entitlement to other benefits for purposes of Section 2629.

(1) The department shall notify the claimant and the claimant's employer if it determines that the claimant is entitled to other benefits.

(2) The notice to the claimant shall inform the claimant that disability benefits will be paid pending receipt of other benefits if the employer fails to agree to pay these other benefits within 14 days of notification of industrial injury and shall advise the claimant of the provisions of Section 2629.

(3) The department shall also include with the claimant's notice a pamphlet to be provided by the Department of Industrial Relations which meets the criteria specified in subdivision (b) of Section 139.6 of the Labor Code.

(4) The notice to the employer shall constitute a claim for compensation and knowledge of an injury for purposes of Section 5402 of the Labor Code, and shall inform the employer of its potential liability for interest and penalties under this section.

(d) If the employer or the insurance carrier disputes liability for the payment of other benefits, or the extent thereof, the department's right to reimbursement shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the Workers' Compensation Appeals Board in accordance with Part 4 (commencing with Section 5300) of Division 4 of the Labor Code.

(e) An employer or insurance carrier who subsequently assumes liability or is determined to be liable for reimbursement to the department for unemployment compensation disability benefits which the department has paid in lieu of other benefits shall be assessed for this liability by the department. In addition, the employer shall pay the department interest on the disability benefits at the annual rate provided in Section 19521 of the Revenue and Taxation Code. The employer shall also pay a penalty of 10 percent of the amount reimbursed to the department if the Workers' Compensation Appeals Board finds that the failure of the employer to pay other benefits upon notice by the department under this section was unreasonable and a penalty has not been awarded for the delay under Section 5814 of the Labor Code. All funds received by the department pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the Disability Fund.

(f) The employer shall reimburse the department in accordance with subdivision (e) within 60 days of either voluntarily accepting liability for other benefits or after a final award, order, or decision of the Workers' Compensation Appeals Board.

SEC. 96. Section 13017 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

13017. Unless otherwise specifically provided, the provisions of any law effecting changes in withholding under this division shall begin in the manner set forth by Section 18665 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

SEC. 97. Section 13043 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

13043. (a) The amount to be deducted and withheld under this division shall be prescribed pursuant to Section 18663 of the Revenue and Taxation Code when a payment of wages is made to an employee by an employer in any of the following cases:

(1) With respect to a payroll period or other period, any part of which is included in a payroll period or other period with respect to which wages are also paid to the employee by the employer.

(2) Without regard to any payroll period or other period, but on or prior to the expiration of a payroll period or other period with respect to which wages are also paid to the employee by the employer.

(3) With respect to a period beginning in one and ending in another calendar year.

(4) Through an agent, fiduciary, or other person who also has the control, receipt, custody, or disposal of, or pays, the wages payable by another employer to the employee.

(b) For purposes of this section, an employee's remuneration may consist of wages paid for a payroll period and supplemental wages. Supplemental wages include, but are not limited to, bonus payments, overtime payments, commissions, sales awards, back pay including retroactive wage increases, and reimbursements for nondeductible moving expenses that are paid for the same or different period, or without regard to a particular period.

(c) When any supplemental wages are paid subsequent to the payment of regular wages, the employer may determine the personal income tax to be withheld from supplemental wages paid by (1) using a flat percentage rate pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 18663 of the Revenue and Taxation Code without allowance for exemptions and credits and without reference to any regular payment of wages, or (2) adding the supplemental wages to the regular wages paid the employee and computing the personal income tax to be withheld on the whole amount (the computed tax minus the tax withheld from the regular wages shall be withheld from the supplemental wages). Where supplemental wages are paid at the same time as regular wages, the personal income tax to be withheld shall be computed on the total of the supplemental and regular wages and shall be determined as if the total of the supplemental wages and the regular wages constituted a single wage payment for the regular payroll period.

SEC. 98. Section 13050 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

13050. (a) Every employer or person required to deduct and withhold from an employee a tax under Section 986, 3260, or 13020, or who would have been required to deduct and withhold a tax under Section 13020 (determined without regard to Section 13025) if the employee had claimed no more than one withholding exemption, shall furnish to each employee in respect of the remuneration paid by the person to the employee during the calendar year, on or before January 31 of the succeeding year, or, if his or her employment is terminated before the close of the calendar year, on the day on which the last payment of remuneration is made, a written statement showing all of the following:

(1) The name of the person.

(2) The name of the employee, and his or her social security or identifying number if wages have been paid.

(3) The total amount of wages, except that in the case of tips received by an employee in the course of his or her employment, the amounts required shall include only those tips included in statements furnished to the employer pursuant to Section 13055.

(4) The total amount deducted and withheld as tax under Section 13020.

(5) The total amount of worker contributions paid by the employee pursuant to Section 986.

(6) The total amount of worker contributions paid by the employee pursuant to Section 3260.

(7) The total amount of elective deferrals (within the meaning of Section 402(g)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code) and compensation deferred pursuant to Section 457 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(b) The statement required to be furnished pursuant to this section in respect of any remuneration shall be furnished at other times, shall contain other information, and shall be in a form, as the department may by authorized regulations prescribe.

(c) A duplicate of any statement made pursuant to this section and in accordance with authorized regulations prescribed by the department shall, when required by the regulations, be filed with the department.

(d) If, during any calendar year, any person makes a payment of third-party sick pay to an employee, that person shall, on or before January 15 of the succeeding year, furnish a written statement to the employer in respect of whom the payment was made showing all of the following:

(1) The name and, if there is withholding under this division, the social security number of that employee.

(2) The total amount of the third-party sick pay paid to that employee during the calendar year.

(3) The total amount, if any, deducted and withheld from that sick pay under this division. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the term "third-party sick pay" means any sick pay, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 13028.6, which does not constitute wages for purposes of this division, determined without regard to subdivision (a) of Section 13028.6.

(A) The reporting requirements of subdivision (a) with respect to any payments shall, with respect to those payments, be in lieu of the requirements of subdivision (a) and of Section 18637 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(B) For purposes of Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 2101) of Part 1 of Division 1, the statements required to be furnished by this subdivision shall be treated as statements required under this section to be furnished to employees.

(C) Every employer who receives a statement under this subdivision with respect to sick pay paid to any employee during any calendar year shall, on or before January 31 of the succeeding year, furnish a written statement to that employee showing all of the following:

(i) The information shown on the statement furnished under this subdivision.

(ii) If any portion of the sick pay is excludable from gross income pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 17131) of Chapter 3 of Part 10 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, the portion which is not so excludable and the portion which is so excludable. To the extent practicable, the information required under the preceding sentence shall be furnished on or with the statement, if any, required under subdivision (a).

(e) The Franchise Tax Board shall be allowed access to the information filed with the department pursuant to this section.

SEC. 99. Sections 37.2 and 37.5 of this act shall become operative only if Senate Bill 26 of the 1993–94 Regular Session is chaptered during 1993 and amends Section 23101.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

SEC. 100. The Legislature finds and declares that the repeal, by Section 50 of this act, of Section 24371 and the addition, by Section 30 of this act, of Section 19393 to Part 10.2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code (commencing with Section 18401) as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, constitutes a clarification and recodification of existing law.

SEC. 101. The Legislature finds and declares that the amendments to Sections 17078 and 24905 of the Revenue and Taxation Code made by Sections 13 and 79 of this act are declaratory of existing law.

SEC. 102. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

However, Sections 7.1, 23.1, 25, 26, 26.1, 27, 28, 28.1, 28.2, 28.3, 29, 30.1, 37, 95, 96, 97, and 98 of this act shall become operative on January 1, 1994.

CHAPTER 878

An act to amend Sections 10878, 17145, 19059, 19141.5, 19271, 19272, 23058, 24343, 24344, 24414, 24440, 24871, and 24872 of, to amend and repeal Section 18645 of, to add Sections 19531 and 19566 to, and to add and repeal Sections 19279, 19292, and 26456 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, and to amend Section 11478.51 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to the Franchise Tax Board, making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares the following:

(a) (1) The changes made by this act to Chapter 1223 of the Statutes of 1992 clarify that the authority for the Franchise Tax Board to collect the referred child support delinquencies as though they were personal income tax delinquencies is not an exclusive authority. This authority was not intended to limit the collection authority or information sources available for child support enforcement but rather to provide a cumulative authority.

(2) As provided by law, the Franchise Tax Board is also authorized to use any enforcement remedies, information, or services available to the district attorney.

(3) Chapter 1223 of the Statutes of 1992 was enacted to determine and develop the most effective and efficient child support collection program.

(b) The changes made by this act to Chapter 60 of the Statutes of 1993 clarify that the authority transferred to the Franchise Tax Board to collect delinquent Department of Motor Vehicle amounts is cumulative. Specifically, in collecting the described Department of Motor Vehicle amounts, the Franchise Tax Board has the authority to use all the enforcement remedies, information, and services transferred to it either in conjunction with or independent of the enforcement remedies, information, or services that are available to the Franchise Tax Board to collect delinquent personal income taxes.

SEC. 2. Section 10878 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 60 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

10878. (a) Notwithstanding Sections 10877 and 10951, on and after July 1, 1993, the responsibility and authority for the collection of delinquent fees, taxes, and penalties described in subdivision (a) of Section 9800 of the Vehicle Code shall be transferred from the department to the Franchise Tax Board, and any reference in this part to the department in connection with the duty to collect these amounts shall be deemed a reference to the Franchise Tax Board.

(b) The amounts collected under subdivision (a) may be collected in any manner authorized under the law as though they were a tax imposed under Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001) that is final, including, but not limited to, issuance of an order and levy under Article 4 (commencing with Section 706.070) of Chapter 5 of Division 2 of Title 9 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure in the manner provided for earnings withholding order for taxes. Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001), 10.2 (commencing with Section 18401), or 10.7 (commencing with Section 21001), or any other applicable law shall apply for this purpose in the same manner and with the same force and effect as if the language of Part 10, 10.2, or 10.7, or the other applicable law is incorporated in full into this authority to collect these amounts, except to the extent that the provision is either inconsistent with the collection of these amounts or is not relevant to the collection of these amounts.

(c) Even though the amounts authorized by this section are collected as though they are taxes, amounts so received by the Franchise Tax Board shall be deposited into an appropriate fund or account upon agreement between the Franchise Tax Board and the department. The amounts shall be distributed by the department from the appropriate fund or account in accordance with the laws providing for the deposits and distributions as though the moneys were received by the department.

(d) For any collection action under this section, the Franchise Tax Board may utilize the contract authorization, procedures, and mechanisms available either with respect to the collection of taxes, interest, additions to tax, and penalties pursuant to Section 18837 or 19376, or with respect to the collection of the delinquencies by the department immediately prior to the time this section takes effect.

(e) The Legislature finds that it is essential for fiscal purposes that the program authorized by this section be expeditiously implemented. Accordingly, Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code shall not apply to any standard, criteria, procedure, determination, rule, notice, or guideline established or issued by the Franchise Tax Board in implementing and administering the program required by this section.

(f) Any standard, criteria, procedure, determination, rule, notice, or guideline, that is not subject to the provisions of Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code pursuant to subdivision (e), shall be approved by the Franchise Tax Board, itself.

(g) The Franchise Tax Board may enter into any agreements or contracts necessary to implement and administer the provisions of this section. The Franchise Tax Board in administering this section may delegate collection activities to the department. Any contracts may provide for payment of the contract on the basis of a percentage of the amount of revenue realized as a result of the contractor's services under that contract. However, the Franchise Tax Board, in administering this part, may not enter into contracts with private collection agencies as authorized under Section 19377.

SEC. 3. Section 17145 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17145. (a) A management company, or series thereof, is qualified to pay exempt-interest dividends to its shareholders if, at the close of each quarter of its taxable year, at least 50 percent of the value of its total assets consists of obligations which, when held by an individual, the interest therefrom is exempt from taxation by this state.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Exempt-interest dividend" means any dividend or part thereof paid by a management company or series thereof in an amount not exceeding the interest received by it during its taxable year on obligations which, when held by an individual, the interest therefrom is exempt from taxation by this state, and designated by it as an exempt-interest dividend in a written notice mailed to its shareholders not later than 60 days after the close of its taxable year. If the aggregate amount so designated with respect to a taxable year of the company (including exempt-interest dividends paid after the close of the taxable year as described in Section 855 of the Internal Revenue Code) is greater than the excess of:

(i) The amount of interest received by it during its taxable year on obligations, interest on which, if held by an individual, is exempt from taxation by this state, over

(ii) The amounts that, if it were treated as an individual, would be disallowed as deductions under Section 17280 of this part or Section 171(a)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, the portion of that distribution which shall constitute an exempt-interest dividend shall be only that proportion of the amount so designated as the amount of that excess for that taxable year bears to the amount so designated.

(2) "Management company" means a regulated investment company as defined by Section 851 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) "Series" means a segregated portfolio of assets, the beneficial interest in which is owned by the holders of a class or series of stock of the management company that is preferred over all other classes or series with respect to that portfolio of assets.

(4) "Value" means, with respect to securities (other than those of majority-owned subsidiaries) for which market quotations are readily available, the market value of those securities; and with respect to other securities and assets, fair market value as determined in good faith by the board of directors or trustees, except that in the case of securities of majority-owned subsidiaries which are investment companies, as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, that fair value shall not exceed market value or asset value, whichever is higher.

(c) An exempt-interest dividend shall be treated by recipients thereof as an item of interest excludable from income.

SEC. 4. Section 18645 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

18645. (a) The Franchise Tax Board may require a copy of the federal information return to be filed with the Franchise Tax Board if a federal information return was required under any of the following:

(1) Section 6039C of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to returns with respect to foreign persons holding direct investments in United States real property interests, if that person holds a direct investment in a California real property interest as defined in Section 18662.

(2) Section 6050H of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to mortgage interest received in trade or business from individuals.

(3) Section 6050J of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to foreclosures and abandonments of security.

(4) Section 6050K of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to exchanges of certain partnership interests.

(5) Section 6050L of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to certain dispositions of donated property.

(6) Section 6050N of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to returns regarding payments of royalties.

(b) Every person required to make a return under subdivision (a) shall also furnish a statement to each person whose name is required to be set forth in the return, as required to do so by the Internal Revenue Code.

(c) A transferor of a partnership interest shall be required to notify the partnership of that exchange in accordance with Section 6050K(c) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(d) The Franchise Tax Board shall require a copy of the federal information return to be filed with the Franchise Tax Board if a federal information return was required under Section 6050I of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to cash received in trade or business.

(e) (1) The Attorney General shall, upon court order following a showing ex parte to a magistrate of an articulable suspicion that an individual or entity has committed a felony offense to which a federal information return is related, be provided a copy of a federal information return filed with the Franchise Tax Board under subdivision (d). The Attorney General may make a return or information therefrom available to a district attorney subject to regulations promulgated by the Attorney General. The regulations shall require the district attorney seeking the return or information to specify in writing the specific reasons for believing that a felony offense has been committed to which the return or information is related.

(2) Any information or return obtained by the Attorney General or a district attorney pursuant to this section shall be confidential and used only for investigative or prosecutorial purposes.

SEC. 5. Section 18645 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 19059 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

19059. (a) If a taxpayer is required by subdivision (a) of Section 18622 to report a change or correction by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or other officer of the United States or other competent authority and does report the change or correction within six months after the final federal determination, a notice of proposed deficiency assessment resulting from those adjustments may be mailed to the taxpayer within two years from the date when the notice is filed with the Franchise Tax Board by the taxpayer, or within the periods provided in Section 19057, 19058, or 19065, whichever period expires later.

(b) If a taxpayer is required by subdivision (b) of Section 18622 to file an amended return and does file the return within six months of filing an amended return with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, a notice of proposed deficiency assessment in excess of the self-assessed tax on the amended return, and resulting from the adjustments may be mailed to the taxpayer within two years from the date when the amended return is filed with the Franchise Tax Board by the taxpayer, or within the periods provided in Section 19057, 19058, or 19065, whichever period expires later.

SEC. 7. Section 19141.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

19141.5. (a) (1) Section 6038A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to information with respect to certain foreign-owned corporations, shall apply.

(2) A penalty shall be imposed under this part for failure to furnish information or maintain records and that penalty shall be determined in accordance with Section 6038A of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) Section 11314 of Public Law 101-508, relating to application of amendments made by Section 7403 of the Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1989 to taxable years beginning on or before July 10, 1989, shall apply.

(4) Section 6038A(e) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to enforcement of requests for certain records, is modified as follows:

(A) Each reference to Section 7602, 7603, or 7604 of the Internal Revenue Code shall instead refer to Section 19504.

(B) Each reference to "summons" shall instead refer to "subpoena duces tecum."

(C) Section 6038A(e)(4)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code shall refer to "superior courts of the State of California for the Counties of Los Angeles, Sacramento, and San Diego, and for the City and County of San Francisco," instead of "United States district court for the district in which the person (to whom the summons is issued) resides or is found."

(b) In the case of a bank or corporation, each of the following shall apply:

(1) Section 6038B of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to notice of certain transfers to foreign persons, shall apply.

(2) A penalty shall be imposed under this part for failure to furnish information or maintain records and that penalty shall be determined in accordance with Section 6038B of the Internal Revenue Code.

(c) (1) Section 6038C of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to information with respect to foreign corporations engaged in United States business, shall apply.

(2) A penalty shall be imposed under this part for failure to furnish information or maintain records and that penalty shall be determined in accordance with Section 6038C of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) Section 6038C(d) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to enforcement of requests for certain records, is modified as follows:

(A) Each reference to Section 7602, 7603, or 7604 of the Internal Revenue Code shall instead refer to Section 19504.

(B) Each reference to "summons" shall instead refer to "subpoena duces tecum."

(d) For purposes of this part, the information required to be filed with the Franchise Tax Board pursuant to this section shall be a copy of the information filed with the Internal Revenue Service.

SEC. 8. Section 19271 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

19271. (a) When a child support delinquency is reported to the State Department of Social Services pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 4700) of Part 5 of Division 9 of the Family Code, the county district attorney reporting that delinquency may, pursuant to the guidelines prescribed by the State Department of Social Services and the Franchise Tax Board for purposes of implementing this article, refer the delinquency, which may include or be limited to interest, fees, or penalties, to the Franchise Tax Board for collection. For the period from January 1, 1993, to December 31, 1995, inclusive, for purposes of the manageable implementation and evaluation of the program authorized by this article, requests for referral shall only be made from district attorneys representing six counties, selected upon application, which may include two rural counties, two suburban counties, and two urban counties. These counties shall be selected by the State Department of Social Services and the Franchise Tax Board in consultation with county representatives.

(b) (1) When a delinquency is referred to the Franchise Tax Board pursuant to subdivision (a), the amount of the child support delinquency shall be collected from obligated parents by the Franchise Tax Board in any manner authorized under the law for collection of a delinquent personal income tax liability, including, but not limited to, issuance of an order and levy under Article 4 (commencing with Section 706.070) of Chapter 5 of Division 2 of Title 9 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure in the manner provided for earnings withholding orders for taxes. Any law providing for the collection of a delinquent personal income tax liability shall apply to delinquencies referred under this article in the same manner and with the same force and effect and to the full extent as if the language of such laws had been incorporated in full into this article, except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this article or is not relevant to this article.

(2) Any compensation, fee, commission, expense, or any other fee for service incurred by the Franchise Tax Board in the collection of a child support delinquency authorized under this article shall not be an obligation of, or collected from, the obligated parent. A referred child support delinquency shall be final and due and payable to the State of California upon written notice to the obligated parent by the Franchise Tax Board.

(3) For purposes of administering this article:

(A) This chapter and Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 19501) shall apply, except as otherwise provided by this article.

(B) Any services, information, or enforcement remedies available to a district attorney or the Title IV-D agency in collecting support delinquencies or locating absent or noncustodial parents shall be available to the Franchise Tax Board for purposes of collecting child support delinquencies under this article, including, but not limited to, any information that may be disclosed by the Franchise Tax Board to the California Parent Locator Service under Section 19285.1.

(C) A request by the Franchise Tax Board for information from a financial institution shall be treated in the same manner and to the same extent as a request for information from a district attorney referring to a support order pursuant to Section 11475.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code for purposes of Chapter 20 (commencing with Section 7460) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code (relating to governmental access to financial records), notwithstanding any other provision of law which is inconsistent or contrary to this paragraph.

(D) "Earnings" may include the items described in Section 5206 of the Family Code.

(E) The amount to be withheld in an order and levy to collect child support delinquencies under Article 4 (commencing with Section 706.070) of Chapter 5 of Division 2 of Title 9 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure is the amount required to be withheld pursuant to an earnings withholding order for support under Section 706.052 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(c) Interest on the delinquency shall be computed pursuant to Section 685.010 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(d) In the event the collection action would cause undue financial hardship to the obligated parent, would threaten the health or welfare of the obligated parent or his or her family, or would cause undue irreparable loss to the obligated parent, the obligated parent may notify the Franchise Tax Board, which shall upon being notified refer the obligated parent to the referring county district attorney, unless the Franchise Tax Board is directed otherwise by the county district attorney for purposes of more effectively administering this article.

(e) (1) In no event shall a collection under this article be construed to be a payment of income taxes imposed under this part.

(2) In the event an obligated parent overpays a liability imposed under this part, the overpayment shall not be credited against any delinquency collected pursuant to this article. In the event an overpayment of a liability imposed under this part is offset and distributed to a referring county district attorney pursuant to Sections 12419.3 and 12419.5 of the Government Code or Section 708.740 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and thereby reduces the amount of the referred delinquency, the referring county district attorney shall immediately notify the Franchise Tax Board of that reduction, unless otherwise directed for purposes of more effectively administering this article.

(f) Except as otherwise provided in this article, any child support delinquency referred to the Franchise Tax Board pursuant to this article shall be treated as a child support delinquency for all other purposes, and any collection action by the county district attorney or the Franchise Tax Board with respect to any delinquency referred pursuant to this article shall have the same priority against attachment, execution, assignment, or other collection action as is provided by any other provision of state law.

(g) For purposes of this article, "child support" means support of a child, spouse, or family as provided in Section 150 of the Family Code.

(h) Nothing in this article shall be construed to modify the tax intercept provisions of Article 8 (commencing with Section 708.710) of Chapter 6 of Division 2 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(i) The child support collection activities authorized by this article shall not interfere with the primary mission of the Franchise Tax Board to fairly and efficiently administer the Revenue and Taxation Code for which it is responsible.

(j) Information disclosed to the Franchise Tax Board shall be considered information disclosed by the Franchise Tax Board under the authority of Section 19285.1 and may be disseminated by the Franchise Tax Board accordingly for the purposes specified in Sections 11478 and 11478.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code (in accordance with, and to the extent permitted by, Section 11478.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and any other state or federal law).

SEC. 9. Section 19272 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

19272. (a) Any child support delinquency collected by the Franchise Tax Board, including those amounts that result in overpayment of a child support delinquency, shall be deposited in the State Treasury, after clearance of the remittance, to the credit of the Special Deposit Fund and distributed as specified by interagency agreement executed by the Franchise Tax Board and the State Department of Social Services, with the concurrence of the Controller. Notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code, all moneys deposited in the Special Deposit Fund pursuant to this article are hereby continuously appropriated, without regard to fiscal years, for purposes of making distributions.

(b) When a child support delinquency, or any portion thereof, has been collected by the Franchise Tax Board pursuant to this article, the district attorney shall be notified that the delinquency or some portion thereof has been collected and shall be provided any other necessary relevant information requested.

(c) The referring county district attorney shall receive credit for no less than 50 percent of the amount of collections made pursuant to the referral, and shall receive no less than 50 percent of the applicable child support enforcement incentives pursuant to Section 15200.85 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. Pursuant to guidelines prescribed by the State Department of Social Services and the Franchise Tax Board, the referring county district attorney's percentage of the incentive credit may exceed 50 percent, depending upon the type of case referred to the Franchise Tax Board for collection, provided that state operations costs are recovered from incentive payments or other federal reimbursement. The remainder of the child support enforcement incentives, if any, shall be received by the Franchise Tax Board for reimbursement of the board's collection costs.

SEC. 10. Section 19279 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

19279. (a) In the event the debtor has more than one debt being collected by the Franchise Tax Board and the amount collected by the Franchise Tax Board is insufficient to satisfy the total amount owing, the amount collected shall be applied by the Franchise Tax Board in the following priority:

(1) Payment of any taxes, additions to tax, penalties, interest, fees, or other amounts due and payable under Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001) or Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001).

(2) Payment of any debts referred for collection under Article 7 (commencing with Section 19001) of Chapter 19 of Part 10.

(3) Payment of delinquencies collected under Section 10878.

(b) This section shall remain in effect until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 11. Section 19292 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

19292. (a) Any information provided to or obtained by the Franchise Tax Board for purposes of administering this part may be used by Franchise Tax Board for purposes of administering Section 10878.

(b) This section shall remain in effect until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 12. Section 19531 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

19531. In the event the debtor has more than one debt being collected by the Franchise Tax Board and the amount collected by the Franchise Tax Board is insufficient to satisfy the total amount owing, the amount collected shall be applied in the following priority:

(a) Payment of any taxes, additions to tax, penalties, interest, fees, or other amounts due and payable under Part 10 or 11 or this part.

(b) Payment of any debts referred for collection under Article 5 (commencing with Section 19271) of Chapter 5.

(c) Payment of delinquencies collected under Section 10878.

SEC. 13. Section 19566 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

19566. Any information provided to or secured by the Franchise Tax Board for purposes of administering Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001) or Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001) may be used by Franchise Tax Board for purposes of administering Section 10878.

SEC. 14. Section 23058 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23058. Unless otherwise specifically provided therein, the provisions of any act:

(a) That affect the imposition or computation of tax, penalties, or the allowance of credits against the tax, shall be applied to income years beginning on or after January 1 of the year in which the act takes effect.

(b) That otherwise affect the provisions of this part shall be applied on and after the date the act takes effect.

SEC. 15. Section 24343 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24343. (a) Section 162 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to trade or business expenses, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) For purposes of applying Section 162 of the Internal Revenue Code, any references to Section 170 of the Internal Revenue Code shall be modified to refer to Sections 24357 to 24359.1, inclusive, of this part.

SEC. 16. Section 24344 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24344. (a) Section 163 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to interest, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) If income of the taxpayer which is derived from or attributable to sources within this state is determined pursuant to Section 25101 or 25110, the interest deductible shall be an amount equal to interest income subject to apportionment by formula, plus the amount, if any, by which the balance of interest expense exceeds interest and dividend income (except dividends deductible under Section 24402 and dividends subject to the deductions provided for in Section 24411 to the extent of those deductions) not subject to apportionment by formula. Interest expense not included in the preceding sentence shall be directly offset against interest and dividend income (except dividends deductible under Section 24402 and dividends subject to the deductions provided for in Section 24411 to the extent of those deductions) not subject to apportionment by formula.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), interest expense allowable under Section 163 of the Internal Revenue Code that is incurred for purposes of foreign investments may be offset against dividends deductible under Section 24411.

(d) Section 7210(b) of Public Law 101-239, relating to the effective date for limitation on deduction for certain interest paid to a related person, shall apply.

(e) Section 163(j)(6)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to treatment of an affiliated group, is modified to apply to all members of a combined report filed under Section 25101.

SEC. 17. Section 24414 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24414. (a) Section 195 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to startup expenditures, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) References to Sections 163(a), 164, 165, and 174 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to interest, taxes, losses, and research and experimental expenditures, are modified to refer to Sections 24344, 24345, 24347, and 24365, respectively.

SEC. 18. Section 24440 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24440. (a) Section 280C(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to credit for qualified clinical testing expenses for certain drugs, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) (1) Section 280C(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to credit for increasing research activities, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(2) Section 280C(c)(3)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified to refer to Section 23151, 23186, or 23802 in lieu of Section 11(b)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code.

SEC. 19. Section 24871 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24871. (a) (1) Section 852(b)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to imposition of tax on regulated investment companies, shall not apply.

(2) Every regulated investment company shall be subject to the taxes imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101) and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 23501), except that its "net income" shall be equal to its "investment company income," as defined in subdivision (b).

(b) "Investment company income" means investment company taxable income, as defined in Section 852(b)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, modified as follows:

(1) Section 852(b)(2)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to an exclusion for net capital gain, shall not apply.

(2) Section 852(b)(2)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to net operating losses, is modified to deny the deduction allowed under Sections 24416 and 24416.1, in lieu of denying the deduction allowed by Section 172 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) In lieu of the provision of Section 852(b)(2)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to special deductions for corporations, no deduction shall be allowed under Section 24402.

(4) The deduction for dividends paid, under Section 852(b)(2)(D) of the Internal Revenue Code, is modified to allow capital gain dividends and exempt interest dividends (to the extent that interest is included in gross income under this part) to be included in the computation of the deduction.

(c) Section 852(b)(3)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to capital gains, shall not apply.

(d) Section 852(b)(5)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to treatment of exempt interest dividends by shareholders, shall not apply.

(e) Section 854 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to limitations applicable to dividends received from regulated investment companies, is modified to refer to Section 24402, in lieu of Section 243 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(f) The amendments made to this section by the act adding this subdivision shall be operative for income years beginning on or after January 1, 1993.

SEC. 20. Section 24872 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24872. (a) A real estate investment trust shall be deemed to have satisfied the distribution requirements of Section 857(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code for purposes of this part if it satisfies the distribution requirements of Section 857(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code for federal purposes.

(b) (1) Section 857(b)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to imposition of tax on real estate investment trusts, shall not apply.

(2) Every real estate investment trust shall be subject to the taxes imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101) and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 23501), except that its "net income" shall be equal to its "real estate investment trust income," as defined in subdivision (c).

(c) "Real estate investment trust income" means real estate investment company taxable income, as defined in Section 857(b)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, modified as follows:

(1) In lieu of Section 857(b)(2)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to special deductions for corporations, no deduction shall be allowed under Section 24402.

(2) Section 857(b)(2)(D) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to an exclusion for an amount equal to the net income from foreclosure property, shall not apply.

(3) Section 857(b)(2)(E) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to a deduction for an amount equal to the tax imposed in the case of failure to meet certain requirements for the taxable year, shall not apply.

(4) Section 857(b)(2)(F) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to an exclusion for an amount equal to any net income derived from prohibited transactions, shall not apply.

(d) Section 857(b)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to an alternative tax in case of capital gains, shall not apply.

(e) Section 857(b)(4)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the imposition of tax on income from foreclosure property, shall not apply.

(f) Section 857(b)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the imposition of tax in case of failure to meet certain requirements, shall not apply.

(g) Section 857(b)(6)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the imposition of tax on income from prohibited transactions, shall not apply.

(h) Section 857(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to restrictions applicable to dividends received from real estate investment trusts, is modified to refer to Sections 24402, 24406, 24410, and 25106, in lieu of Section 243 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(i) The amendments to this section by the act adding this subdivision are clarifications of legislative intent and shall apply to taxable and income years beginning on or after January 1, 1987.

SEC. 21. Section 26456 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

26456. (a) Any information provided to or obtained by the Franchise Tax Board for purposes of administering this part may be used by the Franchise Tax Board for the purposes of administering Section 10878.

(b) This section shall remain in effect until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 22. Section 11478.51 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

11478.51. (a) The Employment Development Department shall, when requested by the State Department of Social Services, the Franchise Tax Board for purposes of administering Article 5 (commencing with Section 19271) of Chapter 5 of Part 10.2 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, or the Parent Locator Service, compare information collected pursuant to Section 1088.5 of the Unemployment Insurance Code to information provided by the State Department of Social Services or the Franchise Tax Board. When the information collected pursuant to that section concerns any individual about whom information has been provided to the Employment Development Department by the State Department of Social Services, the Franchise Tax Board, or the Parent Locator Service, the Employment Development Department shall transmit the information on that individual to the requesting department for purposes of locating delinquent payors of child support payments, or any other person having an obligation to provide support.

(b) This section shall become operative April 1, 1993, or when regulations are adopted pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 1088.5

of the Unemployment Insurance Code, whichever is sooner.

SEC. 23. California law with respect to the exclusion from gross income of employer-provided educational assistance conforms to Section 127 of the Internal Revenue Code in Section 17131 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as modified by Section 17151 of the Revenue and Taxation Code. The Legislature finds and declares that in order to ease compliance burdens on taxpayers, and to avoid unnecessary administrative costs, the Franchise Tax Board shall administer the California provisions in substantially the same manner as the Secretary of the Treasury and the Internal Revenue Service administer Section 127 of the Internal Revenue Code to reflect the amendments made by Section 13101 of the federal Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1993. Consistent with this purpose and policy, the Legislature further declares its intent that affected taxpayers shall make an adjustment for the exclusion from gross income of employer-provided educational assistance for California purposes in the same taxable year as the adjustment is made for federal purposes.

SEC. 24. California law with respect to the health insurance deduction for self-employed individuals conforms to Section 162(l) of the Internal Revenue Code in Section 17201 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as modified by Section 17273 of the Revenue and Taxation Code. The Legislature finds and declares that in order to ease compliance burdens on taxpayers and to avoid unnecessary administrative costs, the Franchise Tax Board shall administer the California provisions in substantially the same manner as the Secretary of the Treasury and the Internal Revenue Service administer Section 162(l) of the Internal Revenue Code to reflect the amendments made by Section 13174 of the federal Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1993. Consistent with this purpose and policy, the Legislature further declares its intent that affected taxpayers shall make an adjustment for the health insurance deduction for self-employed individuals for California purposes in the same taxable year as the adjustment is made for federal purposes.

CHAPTER 879

An act to amend, repeal, and amend Sections 17039 and 23036 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17039 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17039. (a) Notwithstanding any provision in this part to the contrary, for the purposes of computing tax credits, the term "net tax" means the tax imposed under either Section 17041 or 17048 plus the tax imposed under Section 17504 (relating to lump-sum distributions) less the credits allowed by Section 17054 (relating to personal exemption credits) and any amount imposed under paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) and paragraph (1) of subdivision (e) of Section 17560. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, the "net tax" shall not be less than the tax imposed under Section 17504 (relating to the separate tax on lump-sum distributions), if any. Credits shall be allowed against "net tax" in the following order:

(1) Credits which do not contain carryover or refundable provisions, except those described in paragraphs (4), (5), and (6), and the credit allowed by Section 17053.14 (relating to the credit for political contributions).

(2) Credits which contain carryover provisions but do not contain refundable provisions.

(3) Credits which contain both carryover and refundable provisions.

(4) The minimum tax credit allowed by Section 17063 (relating to the alternative minimum tax).

(5) Credits for taxes paid to other states allowed by Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 18001).

(6) The low-income tax credit allowed by Section 17069.

(7) Credits which contain refundable provisions but do not contain carryover provisions.

The order within each paragraph shall be determined by the Franchise Tax Board.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 17053.5 (relating to the renter's credit), 17061 (relating to refunds pursuant to the Unemployment Insurance Code), and 18551.1 (relating to tax withholding), the credits provided in those sections shall be allowed in the order provided in paragraph (7) of subdivision (a).

(c) (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, no tax credit shall reduce the tax imposed under Section 17041 or 17048 plus the tax imposed under Section 17504 (relating to the separate tax on lump-sum distributions) below the tentative minimum tax, as defined by Section 17062, except the following credits, but only after allowance of the credit allowed by Section 17063—

(A) The credit allowed by former Section 17052.4 (relating to solar energy).

(B) The credit allowed by former Section 17052.5 (relating to solar energy).

(C) The credit allowed by Section 17052.5 (relating to solar energy).

(D) The credit allowed by Section 17052.12 (relating to research expenses).

(E) The credit allowed by Section 17053.5 (relating to the renter's credit).

(F) The credit allowed by Section 17057 (relating to clinical testing expenses).

(G) The credit allowed by Section 17058 (relating to low-income housing).

(H) The credit allowed by Section 17061 (relating to refunds pursuant to the Unemployment Insurance Code).

(I) Credits for taxes paid to other states allowed by Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 18001).

(J) The credit allowed by Section 18551.1 (relating to tax withholding).

(K) The credit allowed by Section 17052.13 (relating to sales and use tax credit).

(L) The credit allowed by Section 17053.8 (relating to enterprise zone hiring credit).

(M) The credit allowed by Section 17053.11 (relating to program area hiring credit).

(N) The credit allowed by Section 17052.15 (relating to Los Angeles Revitalization Zone sales tax credit).

(O) The credit allowed by Section 17053.10 (relating to Los Angeles Revitalization Zone hiring credit).

(2) Any credit which is partially or totally denied under paragraph (1) shall be allowed to be carried over and applied to the net tax in succeeding taxable years, if the provisions relating to that credit include a provision to allow a carryover when that credit exceeds the net tax.

(d) Unless otherwise provided, any remaining carryover of a credit allowed by a section which has been repealed or made inoperative shall continue to be allowed to be carried over and applied against the "net tax" until the credit has been exhausted.

(e) (1) Unless otherwise provided, if two or more taxpayers (other than husband and wife) share in costs that would be eligible for a tax credit allowed under this part, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive the tax credit in proportion to his or her respective share of the costs paid or incurred.

(2) In the case of a partnership, the credit may be divided among the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement in accordance with Section 704 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to partner's distributive share.

(3) In the case of a husband and wife who file separate returns, the credit may be taken by either or equally divided between them.

(f) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 17039 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

17039. (a) Notwithstanding any provision in this part to the contrary, for the purposes of computing tax credits, the term "net tax" means the tax imposed under either Section 17041 or 17048 plus the tax imposed under Section 17504 (relating to lump-sum distributions) less the credits allowed by Section 17054 (relating to personal exemption credits) and any amount imposed under paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) and paragraph (1) of subdivision (e) of Section 17560. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, the "net tax" shall not be less than the tax imposed under Section 17504 (relating to the separate tax on lump-sum distributions), if any. Credits shall be allowed against "net tax" in the following order:

(1) Credits that do not contain carryover or refundable provisions, except those described in paragraphs (4) and (5).

(2) Credits that contain carryover provisions but do not contain refundable provisions.

(3) Credits that contain both carryover and refundable provisions.

(4) The minimum tax credit allowed by Section 17063 (relating to the alternative minimum tax).

(5) Credits for taxes paid to other states allowed by Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 18001).

(6) Credits that contain refundable provisions but do not contain carryover provisions.

The order within each paragraph shall be determined by the Franchise Tax Board.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 17053.5 (relating to the renter's credit), 17061 (relating to refunds pursuant to the Unemployment Insurance Code), and 19002 (relating to tax withholding), the credits provided in those sections shall be allowed in the order provided in paragraph (6) of subdivision (a).

(c) (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, no tax credit shall reduce the tax imposed under Section 17041 or 17048 plus the tax imposed under Section 17504 (relating to the separate tax on lump-sum distributions) below the tentative minimum tax, as defined by Section 17062, except the following credits, but only after allowance of the credit allowed by Section 17063—

(A) The credit allowed by former Section 17052.4 (relating to solar energy).

(B) The credit allowed by former Section 17052.5 (relating to solar energy).

(C) The credit allowed by Section 17052.5 (relating to solar energy).

(D) The credit allowed by Section 17052.12 (relating to research expenses).

(E) The credit allowed by Section 17052.13 (relating to sales and use tax credit).

(F) The credit allowed by Section 17052.15 (relating to Los Angeles Revitalization Zone sales tax credit).

(G) The credit allowed by Section 17053.5 (relating to the renter's credit).

(H) The credit allowed by Section 17053.8 (relating to enterprise zone hiring credit).

(I) The credit allowed by Section 17053.10 (relating to Los Angeles Revitalization Zone hiring credit).

(J) The credit allowed by Section 17053.11 (relating to program area hiring credit).

(K) The credit allowed by Section 17057 (relating to clinical testing expenses).

(L) The credit allowed by Section 17058 (relating to low-income housing).

(M) The credit allowed by Section 17061 (relating to refunds pursuant to the Unemployment Insurance Code).

(N) Credits for taxes paid to other states allowed by Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 18001).

(O) The credit allowed by Section 19002 (relating to tax withholding).

(2) Any credit which is partially or totally denied under paragraph (1) shall be allowed to be carried over and applied to the net tax in succeeding taxable years, if the provisions relating to that credit include a provision to allow a carryover when that credit exceeds the net tax.

(d) Unless otherwise provided, any remaining carryover of a credit allowed by a section which has been repealed or made inoperative shall continue to be allowed to be carried over and applied against the "net tax" until the credit has been exhausted.

(e) (1) Unless otherwise provided, if two or more taxpayers (other than husband and wife) share in costs that would be eligible for a tax credit allowed under this part, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive the tax credit in proportion to his or her respective share of the costs paid or incurred.

(2) In the case of a partnership, the credit may be divided among the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement in accordance with Section 704 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to partner's distributive share.

(3) In the case of a husband and wife who file separate returns, the credit may be taken by either or equally divided between them.

SEC. 3. Section 23036 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23036. (a) (1) The term "tax" includes any of the following:

(A) The tax imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101).

(B) The tax imposed under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 23501).

(C) The tax on unrelated business taxable income, imposed under Section 23731.

(D) The tax on S corporations imposed under Section 23802.

(2) The term "tax" does not include any amount imposed under paragraph (1) of subdivision (e) of Section 24667 or paragraph (2) of subdivision (f) of Section 24667.

(b) For purposes of Chapter 20 (commencing with Section 25661), Chapter 21 (commencing with Section 25901), Chapter 23 (commencing with Section 26131), and Chapter 24 (commencing with Section 26422), and for purposes of Sections 25401, 25551, and 25555, "tax" shall also include all of the following:

(1) The tax on limited partnerships, imposed under Section 23081.

(2) The alternative minimum tax imposed under Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 23400).

(3) The tax on built-in gains of S corporations, imposed under Section 23809.

(4) The tax on excess passive investment income of S corporations, imposed under Section 23811.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, credits shall be allowed against the "tax" in the following order:

(1) Credits which do not contain carryover provisions.

(2) Credits which, when the credit exceeds the "tax," allow the excess to be carried over to offset the "tax" in succeeding taxable years. The order of credits within this paragraph shall be determined by the Franchise Tax Board.

(3) The minimum tax credit allowed by Section 23453.

(4) Credits for taxes withheld under Section 26131.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, each of the following shall be applicable:

(1) No credit shall reduce the "tax" below the tentative minimum tax (as defined by paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 23455), except the following credits, but only after allowance of the credit allowed by Section 23453—

(A) The credit allowed by former Section 23601 (relating to solar energy).

(B) The credit allowed by former Section 23601.4 (relating to solar energy).

(C) The credit allowed by Section 23601.5 (relating to solar energy).

(D) The credit allowed by Section 23609 (relating to research expenditures).

(E) The credit allowed by Section 23609.5 (relating to clinical testing expenses).

(F) The credit allowed by Section 23610.5 (relating to low-income housing).

(G) Credits for taxes withheld under Section 26131.

(H) The credit allowed by Section 23612 (relating to sales and use tax credit).

(I) The credit allowed by Section 23622 (relating to enterprise zone hiring credit).

(J) The credit allowed by Section 23623 (relating to program area hiring credit).

(K) The credit allowed by Section 23612.6 (relating to Los Angeles Revitalization Zone sales tax credit).

(L) The credit allowed by Section 23625 (relating to Los Angeles Revitalization Zone hiring credit).

(2) No credit against the tax shall reduce the minimum franchise tax imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101).

(e) Any credit which is partially or totally denied under subdivision (d) shall be allowed to be carried over to reduce the "tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, if the provisions relating to that credit include a provision to allow a carryover of the unused portion of that credit.

(f) Unless otherwise provided, any remaining carryover from a credit which has been repealed or made inoperative shall continue to be allowed to be carried over and applied against the "tax" until the credit has been exhausted.

(g) Unless otherwise provided, if two or more taxpayers share in costs that would be eligible for a tax credit allowed under this part, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive the tax credit in proportion to each taxpayer's respective share of the costs paid or incurred.

(h) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 23036 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

23036. (a) (1) The term "tax" includes any of the following:

(A) The tax imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101).

(B) The tax imposed under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 23501).

(C) The tax on unrelated business taxable income, imposed under Section 23731.

(D) The tax on S corporations imposed under Section 23802.

(2) The term "tax" does not include any amount imposed under paragraph (1) of subdivision (e) of Section 24667 or paragraph (2) of subdivision (f) of Section 24667.

(b) For purposes of Article 5 (commencing with Section 18661) of Chapter 2, Article 3 (commencing with Section 19031) of Chapter 4, Article 6 (commencing with Section 19101) of Chapter 4, and Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 19501) of Part 10.2, and for purposes of Sections 18601, 19001, and 19005, the term "tax" shall also include all of the following:

(1) The tax on limited partnerships, imposed under Section 23081.

(2) The alternative minimum tax imposed under Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 23400).

(3) The tax on built-in gains of S corporations, imposed under Section 23809.

(4) The tax on excess passive investment income of S corporations, imposed under Section 23811.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, credits shall be allowed against the "tax" in the following order:

(1) Credits which do not contain carryover provisions.

(2) Credits which, when the credit exceeds the "tax," allow the excess to be carried over to offset the "tax" in succeeding taxable years. The order of credits within this paragraph shall be determined by the Franchise Tax Board.

(3) The minimum tax credit allowed by Section 23453.

(4) Credits for taxes withheld under Section 18662.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, each of the following shall be applicable:

(1) No credit shall reduce the "tax" below the tentative minimum tax (as defined by paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 23455), except the following credits, but only after allowance of the credit allowed by Section 23453—

(A) The credit allowed by former Section 23601 (relating to solar energy).

(B) The credit allowed by former Section 23601.4 (relating to solar energy).

(C) The credit allowed by Section 23601.5 (relating to solar energy).

(D) The credit allowed by Section 23609 (relating to research expenditures).

(E) The credit allowed by Section 23609.5 (relating to clinical testing expenses).

(F) The credit allowed by Section 23610.5 (relating to low-income housing).

(G) The credit allowed by Section 23612 (relating to sales and use tax credit).

(H) The credit allowed by Section 23612.6 (relating to Los Angeles Revitalization Zone sales tax credit).

(I) The credit allowed by Section 23622 (relating to enterprise zone hiring credit).

(J) The credit allowed by Section 23623 (relating to program area hiring credit).

(K) The credit allowed by Section 23625 (relating to Los Angeles Revitalization Zone hiring credit).

(L) Credits for taxes withheld under Section 18662.

(2) No credit against the tax shall reduce the minimum franchise tax imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101).

(e) Any credit which is partially or totally denied under subdivision (d) shall be allowed to be carried over to reduce the "tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, if the provisions relating to that credit include a provision to allow a carryover of the unused portion of that credit.

(f) Unless otherwise provided, any remaining carryover from a credit which has been repealed or made inoperative shall continue to be allowed to be carried over and applied against the "tax" until the credit has been exhausted.

(g) Unless otherwise provided, if two or more taxpayers share in costs that would be eligible for a tax credit allowed under this part, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive the tax credit in proportion to its respective share of the costs paid or incurred.

SEC. 5. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 880

An act to amend Sections 17276 and 24416 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17276 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17276. Except as provided in Sections 17276.1 and 17276.2, the deduction provided by Section 172 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to a net operating loss deduction, shall be modified as follows:

(a) (1) Net operating losses attributable to taxable years beginning before January 1, 1987, shall not be allowed.

(2) A net operating loss shall not be carried forward to any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1987.

(b) (1) Except as provided in paragraphs (2) and (3), the provisions of Section 172(b)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the amount of carryovers, shall be modified so that 50 percent of the entire amount of the net operating loss for any taxable year shall not be eligible for carryover to any subsequent taxable year.

(2) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1994, 100 percent of a net operating loss of a new business incurred during the first three years of operation may be carried forward as provided in paragraph (2) of subdivision (d).

(3) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1994, 100 percent of a net operating loss of an eligible taxpayer may be carried forward to the taxable years specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (d).

(c) Net operating loss carrybacks shall not be allowed.

(d) (1) Except as provided in paragraphs (2) and (3), for each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1987, Section 172(b)(1)(A)(ii) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to years to which net operating losses may be carried, is modified to substitute "five taxable years" in lieu of "15 taxable years."

(2) In the case of a "new business," the "five taxable years" in paragraph (1) shall be modified to read as follows:

(A) "Eight taxable years" for a net operating loss attributable to the first taxable year of that new business.

(B) "Seven taxable years" for a net operating loss attributable to the second taxable year of that new business.

(C) "Six taxable years" for a net operating loss attributable to the third taxable year of that new business.

(3) For any carryover of a net operating loss for which a deduction is denied by Section 17276.3, the carryover period specified in this subdivision shall be extended as follows:

(A) By one year for a net operating loss attributable to taxable years beginning in 1991.

(B) By two years for a net operating loss attributable to taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1991.

(4) The net operating loss attributable to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1987, and before January 1, 1994, shall be a net operating loss carryover to each of the 10 taxable years following the year of the loss if it is incurred by a taxpayer that was under the jurisdiction of the court in a Title 11 or similar case at any time prior to January 1, 1994. The loss carryover provided in the preceding sentence shall not apply to any loss incurred in a taxable year after the taxable year during which the taxpayer is no longer under the jurisdiction of the court in a Title 11 or similar case.

(e) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Eligible taxpayer" means a taxpayer that has total receipts of less than one million dollars ($1,000,000) during the taxable year.

(2) "New business" means any trade or business that is organized or formed and first commences business activity in this state on or after January 1, 1994. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, the term "new business" does not include any trade or business that was used in any predecessor trade or business conducted by the taxpayer or any other taxpayer related to the taxpayer (within the meaning of Sections 267 and 318 of the Internal Revenue Code).

(3) "Total receipts" means gross income, as defined in Section 17071, plus the cost of goods sold that are paid or incurred in connection with a trade or business of the taxpayer.

(f) The amendments to this section by the act adding this subdivision shall apply only in the computation of taxes for each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1993.

(g) Notwithstanding any provisions of this section, a deduction shall be allowed to a "qualified taxpayer" as provided in Sections 17276.1 and 17276.2.

SEC. 2. Section 24416 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24416. Except as provided in Sections 24416.1 and 24416.2, a net operating loss deduction shall be allowed in computing net income under Section 24341 and shall be determined in accordance with Section 172 of the Internal Revenue Code, except as otherwise provided.

(a) (1) Net operating losses attributable to income years beginning before January 1, 1987, shall not be allowed, except for losses allowed by this section (as amended by Chapter 159 of the Statutes of 1985) and former Section 24417 (as amended by Chapter 158 of the Statutes of 1986).

(2) A net operating loss shall not be carried forward to any income year beginning before January 1, 1987.

(b) (1) Except as provided in paragraphs (2) and (3), the provisions of Section 172(b)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the amount of carryovers, shall be modified so that 50 percent of the entire amount of the net operating loss for any income year shall not be eligible for carryover to any subsequent income year.

(2) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1994, 100 percent of a net operating loss of a new business incurred during the first three years of operation may be carried forward as provided in paragraph (2) of subdivision (e).

(3) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1994, 100 percent of a net operating loss of an eligible taxpayer may be carried forward to the income years specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (e).

(c) For any income year in which the taxpayer has in effect a water's edge election under Section 25110, the deduction of a net operating loss carryover shall be denied to the extent that the net operating loss carryover was determined by taking into account the income and factors of an affiliated bank or corporation in a combined report whose income and apportionment factors would not have been taken into account if a water's edge election under Section 25110 had been in effect for the income year in which the loss was incurred.

(d) Net operating loss carrybacks shall not be allowed.

(e) (1) Except as provided in paragraphs (2), (3), and (4), for each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1987, Section 172(b)(1)(A)(ii) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to years to which net operating losses may be carried, is modified to substitute "five income years" in lieu of "15 taxable years."

(2) In the case of a "new business," the "five income years" referred to in paragraph (1) shall be modified to read as follows:

(A) "Eight income years" for a net operating loss attributable to the first income year of that new business.

(B) "Seven income years" for a net operating loss attributable to the second income year of that new business.

(C) "Six income years" for a net operating loss attributable to the third income year of that new business.

(3) For any carryover of a net operating loss for which a deduction is denied by Section 24416.3, the carryover period specified in this subdivision shall be extended as follows:

(A) By one year for a net operating loss attributable to income years beginning in 1991.

(B) By two years for a net operating loss attributable to income years beginning prior to January 1, 1991.

(4) The net operating loss attributable to income years beginning on or after January 1, 1987, and before January 1, 1994, shall be a net operating loss carryover to each of the 10 income years following the year of the loss if it is incurred by a bank or corporation that was either of the following:

(A) Under the jurisdiction of the court in a Title 11 or similar case at any time prior to January 1, 1994. The loss carryover provided in the preceding sentence shall not apply to any loss incurred in an income year after the income year during which the bank or corporation is no longer under the jurisdiction of the court in a Title 11 or similar case.

(B) In receipt of assets acquired in a transaction that qualifies as a tax-free reorganization under Section 368(a) (1) (G) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(f) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Eligible taxpayer" means a taxpayer that has total receipts of less than one million dollars ($1,000,000) during the income year.

(2) "New business" means any trade or business that is organized or formed and first commences business activity in this state on or after January 1, 1994. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, the term "new business" does not include any trade or business that was used in any predecessor trade or business conducted by the taxpayer or any other taxpayer related to the taxpayer (within the meaning of Sections 267 and 318 of the Internal Revenue Code).

(3) "Title 11 or similar case" shall have the meaning as defined in Section 368(a) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(4) "Total receipts" means gross income, as defined in Section 24271, plus the cost of goods sold that are paid or incurred in connection with a trade or business of the taxpayer.

(g) The amendments to this section by the act adding this subdivision shall apply only in the computation of taxes for each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1993.

(h) For purposes of corporations whose net income is determined under Chapter 17 (commencing with Section 25101), Section 25108 shall apply to each of the following:

(1) The amount of net operating loss incurred in any income year which may be carried forward to another income year.

(2) The amount of any loss carryforward which may be deducted in any income year.

(i) The provisions of Section 172(b) (1) (K) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to bad debt losses of commercial banks, shall not be applicable.

SEC. 3. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 881

An act to amend Sections 17039, 17052.12, 17062, 17063, 17251, 17276, 17736, 17750, 18634, 23036, 23609, 23802, 24443, 25110, 25111, and 25112 of, to add Sections 18152.5, 19141.6, and 25111.1 to, to amend and repeal Section 25115 of, and to add and repeal Sections 6377, 6380, 17053.49, 18683.5, 19133.5, and 23649 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 6, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6377 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

6377. (a) There are exempted from the taxes imposed by this part the gross receipts from the sale of, or the storage, use, or other consumption in this state of, all of the following:

(1) Tangible personal property purchased for use by a qualified person to be used primarily in any stage of the manufacturing, processing, refining, fabricating, or recycling of property, beginning at the point any raw materials are received by the qualified person and introduced into the process and ending at the point at which the manufacturing, processing, refining, fabricating, or recycling has altered property to its completed form, including packaging, if required.

(2) Tangible personal property purchased for use by a qualified person to be used primarily in research and development.

(3) Tangible personal property purchased for use by a qualified person to be used primarily to maintain, repair, measure, or test any property described in paragraph (1) or (2).

(4) Tangible personal property purchased for use by a contractor purchasing that property either as an agent of a qualified person or for the contractor's own account and subsequent resale to a qualified person for use in the performance of a construction contract for the qualified person who will use the tangible personal property as an integral part of the manufacturing, processing, refining, fabricating, or recycling process, or as a research or storage facility for use in connection with the manufacturing process.

This exemption shall not apply to any tangible personal property that is used primarily in administration, general management, or marketing.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Fabricating" means to make, build, create, produce, or assemble components or property to work in a new or different manner.

(2) "Manufacturing" means the activity of converting or conditioning property by changing the form, composition, quality, or character of the property for ultimate sale at retail or use in the manufacturing of a product to be ultimately sold at retail. Manufacturing includes any improvements to tangible personal property that result in a greater service life or greater functionality than that of the original property.

(3) "Primarily" means tangible personal property used 50 percent or more of the time in an activity described in subdivision (a).

(4) "Processing" means the physical application of the materials and labor necessary to modify or change the characteristics of property.

(5) "Qualified person" means any person that is both of the following:

(A) A new trade or business that is organized or formed and first commences business activity in this state on or after January 1, 1994. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, the term "qualified person" does not include any trade or business after it has been in existence for three years or any trade or business that was used in any predecessor trade or business conducted by the taxpayer or any other taxpayer related to the taxpayer (within the meaning of Sections 267 and 318 of the Internal Revenue Code).

(B) That is engaged in those lines of business described in Codes 2000 to 3999, inclusive, of the Standard Industrial Classification Manual published by the United States Office of Management and Budget, 1987 edition.

(6) "Refining" means the process of converting a natural resource to an intermediate or finished product.

(7) "Research and development" means those activities that are described in Section 174 of the Internal Revenue Code or in any regulations thereunder.

(8) "Tangible personal property" does not include any of the following:

(A) Consumables with a normal useful life of less than one year, except as provided in subparagraph (E) of paragraph (9).

(B) Furniture, inventory, equipment used in the extraction process, or equipment used to store finished products that have completed the manufacturing process.

(C) Any property for which a credit is claimed under either Section 17053.49 or 23649.

(9) "Tangible personal property" includes, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(A) Machinery and equipment, including component parts and contrivances such as belts, shafts, moving parts, and operating structures.

(B) All equipment or devices used or required to operate, control, regulate, or maintain the machinery, including, without limitation, computers, data processing equipment, and computer software, together with all repair and replacement parts with a useful life of one or more years therefor, whether purchased separately or in conjunction with a complete machine and regardless of whether the machine or component parts are assembled by the taxpayer or another party.

(C) Property used in pollution control that meets or exceed standards established by the State Air Resources Board of the Water Resources Control Board.

(D) Special purpose buildings and foundations used as an integral part of the manufacturing, processing, refining, or fabricating process, or that constitute a research or storage facility used during the manufacturing process. Buildings used solely for warehousing purposes after completion of the manufacturing process are not included.

(E) Fuels used or consumed in the manufacturing process.

(F) Property used in recycling.

(c) No exemption shall be allowed under this section unless the purchaser furnishes the retailer with an exemption certificate, completed in accordance with any instructions or regulations as the board may prescribe, and the retailer subsequently furnishes the board with a copy of the exemption certificate. The exemption certificate shall contain the sales price of the machinery or equipment that is exempt pursuant to subdivision (a).

(d) Notwithstanding any provision of the Bradley-Burns Uniform Local Sales and Use Tax Law (Part 1.5 (commencing with Section 7200)) or the Transactions and Use Tax Law (Part 1.6 (commencing with Section 7251)), the exemption established by this section shall not apply with respect to any tax levied by a county, city, or district pursuant to, or in accordance with, either of those laws.

(e) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), the exemption provided by this section shall not apply to any sale or use of property which, within one year from the date of purchase, is (1) removed from California, or (2) converted from an exempt use under subdivision (a) to some other use not qualifying for the exemption.

(f) If a purchaser certifies in writing to the seller that the property purchased without payment of the tax will be used in a manner entitling the seller to regard the gross receipts from the sale as exempt from the sales tax, and within one year from the date of purchase, the purchaser (1) removes that property outside California, (2) converts that property for use in a manner not qualifying for the exemption, or (3) uses that property in a manner not qualifying for the exemption, the purchaser shall be liable for payment of sales tax, with applicable interest, as if the purchaser were a retailer making a retail sale of the property at the time the property is so removed, converted, or used, and the sales price of the property to the purchaser shall be deemed the gross receipts from that retail sale.

(g) (1) This section shall remain in effect until the date specified in paragraph (2), on which date this section shall cease to be operative, and as of that date is repealed.

(2) (A) This section shall cease to be operative on January 1, 2001, or on January 1 of the earliest year thereafter, if the total employment in this state, as determined by the Employment Development Department on the preceding January 1, does not exceed by 100,000 jobs the total employment in this state on January 1, 1994.

(B) For purposes of this paragraph, "total employment" means the total employment in the manufacturing sector, excluding employment in the aerospace sector.

SEC. 2. Section 6380 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

6380. (a) There are exempted from the taxes imposed by this part the gross receipts from the sale of, and the storage, use, or other consumption in this state of, qualified property for use in space flight.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Qualified property" means any of the following:

(A) Tangible personal property that has space flight capability, including, but not limited to, an orbital space facility, space propulsion system, space vehicle, satellite, or space station of any kind, and any component thereof.

(B) Tangible personal property to be placed or used aboard any facility, system, vehicle, satellite, or station described in subparagraph (A), regardless of whether that property is to be ultimately returned to this state for subsequent use, storage, or other consumption.

(C) Fuel of a quality that is not adaptable for use in ordinary motor vehicles, but is produced, sold, and used exclusively for space flight.

(2) "Space flight" means any flight designed for suborbital, orbital, or interplanetary travel by a space vehicle, satellite, space facility, or space station of any kind, and originating at Vandenberg Air Force Base.

(c) The exemption established by this section shall not be denied by reason of a failure, postponement, or cancellation of a launch of a space vehicle, satellite, space facility, or space station of any kind, or the destruction of any launch vehicle or any component thereof, but the exemption shall not apply to any material that is not intended to be launched into space.

(d) This section shall remain in effect until January 1, 2004, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, that is enacted before January 1, 2004, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 3. Section 17039 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 31 of the Statute of 1993, is amended to read:

17039. (a) Notwithstanding any provision in this part to the contrary, for the purposes of computing tax credits, the term "net tax" means the tax imposed under either Section 17041 or 17048 plus the tax imposed under Section 17504 (relating to lump-sum distributions) less the credits allowed by Section 17054 (relating to personal exemption credits) and any amount imposed under paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) and paragraph (1) of subdivision

(e) of Section 17560. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, the "net tax" shall not be less than the tax imposed under Section 17504 (relating to the separate tax on lump-sum distributions), if any. Credits shall be allowed against "net tax" in the following order:

(1) Credits that do not contain carryover or refundable provisions, except those described in paragraphs (4) and (5).

(2) Credits that contain carryover provisions but do not contain refundable provisions.

(3) Credits that contain both carryover and refundable provisions.

(4) The minimum tax credit allowed by Section 17063 (relating to the alternative minimum tax).

(5) Credits for taxes paid to other states allowed by Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 18001).

(6) Credits that contain refundable provisions but do not contain carryover provisions.

The order within each paragraph shall be determined by the Franchise Tax Board.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 17053.5 (relating to the renter's credit), 17061 (relating to refunds pursuant to the Unemployment Insurance Code), and 19002 (relating to tax withholding), the credits provided in those sections shall be allowed in the order provided in paragraph (6) of subdivision (a).

(c) (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, no tax credit shall reduce the tax imposed under Section 17041 or 17048 plus the tax imposed under Section 17504 (relating to the separate tax on lump-sum distributions) below the tentative minimum tax, as defined by Section 17062, except the following credits, but only after allowance of the credit allowed by Section 17063—

(A) The credit allowed by former Section 17052.4 (relating to solar energy).

(B) The credit allowed by former Section 17052.5 (relating to solar energy).

(C) The credit allowed by Section 17052.5 (relating to solar energy).

(D) The credit allowed by Section 17052.12 (relating to research expenses).

(E) The credit allowed by Section 17053.5 (relating to the renter's credit).

(F) The credit allowed by Section 17053.49 (relating to qualified property).

(G) The credit allowed by Section 17057 (relating to clinical testing expenses).

(H) The credit allowed by Section 17058 (relating to low-income housing).

(I) The credit allowed by Section 17061 (relating to refunds pursuant to the Unemployment Insurance Code).

(J) Credits for taxes paid to other states allowed by Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 18001).

(K) The credit allowed by Section 19002 (relating to tax withholding).

(2) Any credit which is partially or totally denied under paragraph (1) shall be allowed to be carried over and applied to the net tax in succeeding taxable years, if the provisions relating to that credit include a provision to allow a carryover when that credit exceeds the net tax.

(d) Unless otherwise provided, any remaining carryover of a credit allowed by a section which has been repealed or made inoperative shall continue to be allowed to be carried over and applied against the "net tax" until the credit has been exhausted.

(e) (1) Unless otherwise provided, if two or more taxpayers (other than husband and wife) share in costs that would be eligible for a tax credit allowed under this part, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive the tax credit in proportion to his or her respective share of the costs paid or incurred.

(2) In the case of a partnership, the credit may be divided among the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement in accordance with Section 704 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to partner's distributive share.

(3) In the case of a husband and wife who file separate returns, the credit may be taken by either or equally divided between them.

SEC. 3.5. Section 17039 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17039. (a) Notwithstanding any provision in this part to the contrary, for the purposes of computing tax credits, the term "net tax" means the tax imposed under either Section 17041 or 17048 plus the tax imposed under Section 17504 (relating to lump-sum distributions) less the credits allowed by Section 17054 (relating to personal exemption credits) and any amount imposed under paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) and paragraph (1) of subdivision (e) of Section 17560. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, the "net tax" shall not be less than the tax imposed under Section 17504 (relating to the separate tax on lump-sum distributions), if any. Credits shall be allowed against "net tax" in the following order:

(1) Credits that do not contain carryover or refundable provisions, except those described in paragraphs (4) and (5).

(2) Credits that contain carryover provisions but do not contain refundable provisions.

(3) Credits that contain both carryover and refundable provisions.

(4) The minimum tax credit allowed by Section 17063 (relating to the alternative minimum tax).

(5) Credits for taxes paid to other states allowed by Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 18001).

(6) Credits that contain refundable provisions but do not contain carryover provisions.

The order within each paragraph shall be determined by the Franchise Tax Board.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 17053.5 (relating to the renter's credit), 17061 (relating to refunds pursuant to the Unemployment Insurance Code), and 19002 (relating to tax withholding), the credits provided in those sections shall be allowed in the order provided in paragraph (6) of subdivision (a).

(c) (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, no tax credit shall reduce the tax imposed under Section 17041 or 17048 plus the tax imposed under Section 17504 (relating to the separate tax on lump-sum distributions) below the tentative minimum tax, as defined by Section 17062, except the following credits, but only after allowance of the credit allowed by Section 17063—

(A) The credit allowed by former Section 17052.4 (relating to solar energy).

(B) The credit allowed by former Section 17052.5 (relating to solar energy).

(C) The credit allowed by Section 17052.5 (relating to solar energy).

(D) The credit allowed by Section 17052.12 (relating to research expenses).

(E) The credit allowed by Section 17052.13 (relating to sales and use tax credit).

(F) The credit allowed by Section 17052.15 (relating to Los Angeles Revitalization Zone sales tax credit).

(G) The credit allowed by Section 17053.5 (relating to the renter's credit).

(H) The credit allowed by Section 17053.8 (relating to enterprise zone hiring credit).

(I) The credit allowed by Section 17053.10 (relating to Los Angeles Revitalization Zone hiring credit).

(J) The credit allowed by Section 17053.11 (relating to program area hiring credit).

(K) The credit allowed by Section 17053.49 (relating to qualified property).

(L) The credit allowed by Section 17057 (relating to clinical testing expenses).

(M) The credit allowed by Section 17058 (relating to low-income housing).

(N) The credit allowed by Section 17061 (relating to refunds pursuant to the Unemployment Insurance Code).

(O) Credits for taxes paid to other states allowed by Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 18001).

(P) The credit allowed by Section 19002 (relating to tax withholding).

(2) Any credit which is partially or totally denied under paragraph (1) shall be allowed to be carried over and applied to the net tax in succeeding taxable years, if the provisions relating to that credit include a provision to allow a carryover when that credit exceeds the net tax.

(d) Unless otherwise provided, any remaining carryover of a credit allowed by a section which has been repealed or made inoperative shall continue to be allowed to be carried over and applied against the "net tax" until the credit has been exhausted.

(e) (1) Unless otherwise provided, if two or more taxpayers (other than husband and wife) share in costs that would be eligible for a tax credit allowed under this part, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive the tax credit in proportion to his or her respective share of the costs paid or incurred.

(2) In the case of a partnership, the credit may be divided among the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement in accordance with Section 704 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to partner's distributive share.

(3) In the case of a husband and wife who file separate returns, the credit may be taken by either or equally divided between them.

SEC. 4. Section 17052.12 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17052.12. For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1987, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039) for the taxable year an amount determined in accordance with Section 41 of the Internal Revenue Code, except as follows:

(a) (1) The reference to "20 percent" in Section 41(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified to read "8 percent."

(2) Section 41(a)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to basic research payments, shall not apply.

(b) "Qualified research" shall include only research conducted in California.

(c) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the "net tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "net tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted.

(d) Section 41(c)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to gross receipts, is modified to take into account only those gross receipts from the sale of property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of the taxpayer's trade or business that is delivered or shipped to a purchaser within this state, regardless of F.O.B. point or other conditions of sale.

(e) Section 41(h) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to termination, shall not apply.

(f) Except as provided in subdivision (g), the amendments to this section by the act adding this subdivision shall apply only to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1993.

(g) The amendments made by Section 13112 of the Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1993 (P.L. 103-66) to Section 41 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the credit for increased research activities, shall apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1994.

SEC. 5. Section 17053.49 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17053.49. (a) (1) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1994, and before this section ceases to be operative as specified in paragraph (2) of subdivision (f), there shall be allowed to a qualified person as a credit against the "net tax," as defined in Section 17039, an amount equal to 6 percent of the amount paid or incurred on or after January 1, 1994, for qualified property that is placed in service in this state.

(2) For the 1994 taxable year only, the credit shall not be claimed on the 1994 return, but shall be allowed, instead, in the 1995 taxable year on the 1995 return. The amount so claimed shall be in addition to the amount allowed for the 1995 taxable year.

(3) For any amount paid or incurred on or after January 1, 1994, for qualified property by fiscal year taxpayers, any amount paid or incurred before the beginning of the qualified taxpayer's 1994 fiscal year shall be deemed to be paid or incurred in the taxpayer's 1994 fiscal year.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Fabricating" means to make, build, create, produce, or assemble components or property to work in a new or different manner.

(2) "Manufacturing" means the activity of converting or conditioning property by changing the form, composition, quality, or character of the property for ultimate sale at retail or use in the manufacturing of a product to be ultimately sold at retail. Manufacturing includes any improvements to tangible personal property that result in a greater service life or greater functionality than that of the original property.

(3) "Primarily" means tangible personal property used 50 percent or more of the time in an activity described in subdivision (a).

(4) "Processing" means the physical application of the materials and labor necessary to modify or change the characteristics of property.

(5) "Qualified person" means any person engaged in those lines of business described in Codes 2000 to 3999, inclusive, of the Standard Industrial Classification Manual published by the United States Office of Management and Budget, 1987 edition.

(6) (A) "Qualified property" means all of the following:

(i) Tangible personal property purchased for use by a qualified person to be used primarily in any stage of the manufacturing, processing, refining, fabricating, or recycling of property, beginning at the point any raw materials are received by the qualified person and introduced into the process and ending at the point at which the manufacturing, processing, refining, fabricating, or recycling has altered property to its completed form, including packaging, if required.

(ii) Tangible personal property purchased for use by a qualified person to be used primarily in research and development.

(iii) Tangible personal property purchased for use by a qualified person to be used primarily to maintain, repair, measure, or test any property described in paragraph (1) or (2).

(iv) Tangible personal property purchased for use by a contractor purchasing that property either as an agent of a qualified person or for the contractor's own account and subsequent resale to a qualified person for use in the performance of a construction contract for the qualified person who will use the tangible personal property as an integral part of the manufacturing, processing, refining, fabricating, or recycling process, or as a research or storage facility for use in connection with the manufacturing process.

(B) "Qualified property" does not include any property that is leased by a qualified person to another person.

(7) "Refining" means the process of converting a natural resource to an intermediate or finished product.

(8) "Research and development" means those activities that are described in Section 174 of the Internal Revenue Code or in any regulations thereunder.

(9) "Small business" means a taxpayer that meets any of the following requirements during the taxable year for which the credit is allowed:

(A) Has gross receipts of less than fifty million dollars ($50,000,000).

(B) Has net assets of less than fifty million dollars ($50,000,000).

(C) Has a total credit of less than one million dollars ($1,000,000).

(10) "Tangible personal property" does not include consumables with a normal useful life of less than one year, except as provided in subparagraph (E) of paragraph (11), and does not include furniture, inventory, equipment used in the extraction process, or equipment used to store finished products that have completed the manufacturing process.

(11) "Tangible personal property" includes, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(A) Machinery and equipment, including component parts and contrivances such as belts, shafts, moving parts, and operating structures.

(B) All equipment or devices used or required to operate, control, regulate, or maintain the machinery, including, without limitation, computers, data processing equipment, and computer software, together with all repair and replacement parts with a useful life of one or more years therefor, whether purchased separately or in conjunction with a complete machine and regardless of whether the machine or component parts are assembled by the taxpayer or another party.

(C) Property used in pollution control that meets or exceed standards established by the State Air Resources Board of the Water Resources Control Board.

(D) Special purpose buildings and foundations used as an integral part of the manufacturing, processing, refining, or fabricating process, or that constitute a research or storage facility used during the manufacturing process. Buildings used solely for warehousing purposes after completion of the manufacturing process are not included.

(E) Fuels used or consumed in the manufacturing process.

(F) Property used in recycling.

(c) (1) No credit, no further credit in any subsequent year, and no credit carryover shall be allowed with respect to the qualified property to any qualified person beginning in the year in which that qualified property for which a credit was allowed under this section is disposed of or removed from this state within one year of the date of purchase.

(2) No credit shall be allowed for any qualified property for which an exemption from sales and use taxes is allowed and claimed pursuant to Section 6377 within one year of the date of purchase.

(d) Notwithstanding the definition of qualified property in subdivision (b), the credit provided by this section can be claimed only with respect to property defined in Section 1245(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, for qualified persons performing manufacturing activities described in Codes 357 and 367 of the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual published by the United States Office of Management and Budget, 1987 edition, and those activities related to biotech described in SIC Code 8731, property for which the credit provided by this section can be claimed shall also include special purpose buildings and foundations, as further described in subparagraph (D) of paragraph (11) of subdivision (b).

(e) In the case where the credit allowed by this section exceeds the "net tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "net tax" in the following year, and succeeding years as follows:

(1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), for the seven succeeding years if necessary, until the credit is exhausted.

(2) In the case of a small business, for the nine succeeding years, if necessary, until the credit is exhausted.

(f) (1) This section shall remain in effect until the date specified in paragraph (2), on which date this section shall cease to be operative, and as of that date is repealed. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as provided in subdivision (e), until the credit is exhausted.

(2) (A) This section shall cease to be operative on January 1, 2001, or on January 1 of the earliest year thereafter, if the total employment in this state, as determined by the Employment Development Department on the preceding January 1, does not exceed by 100,000 jobs the total employment in this state on January 1, 1994. The department shall report to the Legislature annually with respect to the determination required by the preceding sentence.

(B) For purposes of this paragraph, "total employment" means the total employment in the manufacturing sector, excluding employment in the aerospace sector.

SEC. 6. Section 17062 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17062. (a) In addition to the other taxes imposed by this part, there is hereby imposed for each taxable year, a tax equal to the excess, if any, of—

(1) The tentative minimum tax for the taxable year, over

(2) The regular tax for the taxable year.

(b) For purposes of this chapter, each of the following shall apply:

(1) The tentative minimum tax shall be computed in accordance with Sections 55 to 59, inclusive, of the Internal Revenue Code, except as otherwise provided in this part.

(2) The regular tax shall be the amount of tax imposed by Section 17041 or 17048, before reduction for any credits against the tax, less any amount imposed under paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) and paragraph (1) of subdivision (e) of Section 17560.

(3) (A) The provisions of Section 55(b)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be modified to provide that the tentative minimum tax for the taxable year shall be equal to the following percent of so much of the alternative minimum taxable income for the taxable year as exceeds the exemption amount, before reduction for any credits against the tax:

(i) For any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and before January 1, 1996, 8.5 percent.

(ii) For any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1996, 7 percent.

(B) In the case of a nonresident or part-year resident, the tentative minimum tax shall be computed as if the nonresident or part-year resident were a resident for the entire year multiplied by the ratio of California adjusted gross income (as modified for purposes of this chapter) to total adjusted gross income from all sources (as modified for purposes of this chapter). For purposes of computing the tax under subparagraph (A) and gross income from all sources, the net operating loss deduction provided in Section 56(d) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be computed as if the taxpayer were a resident for all prior years.

(C) For purposes of this section, the term "California adjusted gross income" includes each of the following:

(i) For any period during which the taxpayer was a resident of this state (as defined by Section 17014), all items of adjusted gross income (as modified for purposes of this chapter), regardless of source.

(ii) For any period during which the taxpayer was not a resident of this state, only those items of adjusted gross income (as modified for purposes of this chapter) which were derived from sources within this state, determined in accordance with Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 17951).

(c) (1) Section 56(b)(1)(E) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to standard deduction and deduction for personal exemptions not allowed, is modified, for purposes of this part, to deny the standard deduction allowed by Section 17073.5.

(2) The provisions of Section 56(h) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to adjustment based on energy preferences, shall not apply.

(d) The provisions of Section 57(a)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to tax-exempt interest shall not apply.

(e) The last two sentences of Section 57(a)(6)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to tangible personal property, shall not apply.

(f) Section 57(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to items of tax preference, is modified to include as an item of tax preference an amount equal to one-half of the amount excluded from gross income for the taxable year under Section 18152.5.

(g) The provisions of Section 59(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the alternative minimum tax foreign tax credit, shall not apply.

SEC. 7. Section 17063 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17063. (a) There shall be allowed as a credit against the net tax (as defined by Section 17039) for any taxable year an amount equal to the minimum tax credit for that taxable year.

(b) For purposes of subdivision (a), the minimum tax credit shall be determined in accordance with Section 53 of the Internal Revenue Code, except as otherwise provided in this part.

(c) For purposes of this chapter, the amount determined under Section 53(c)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be the regular tax as defined by paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 17062, reduced by the sum of the credits allowable under this part, other than:

(1) The credits described in paragraph (7) of subdivision (a) of Section 17039.

(2) That portion of any credit which reduces the tax below the tentative minimum tax as provided in paragraph (1) of subdivision (c) of Section 17039.

(d) Section 53(d)(1)(B)(ii)(II) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to credit not allowed for exclusion preferences, is modified to include subdivision (f) of Section 17062, as a specified item.

SEC. 8. Section 17271 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17271. (a) The amendments made to Section 274 of the Internal Revenue Code by Section 1001 of Public Law 100-647, relating to disallowance of certain entertainment, etc., expenses, shall apply to each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1987.

(b) The amendments made to Section 274 of the Internal Revenue Code by Section 6003 of Public Law 100-647, relating to only 80 percent of meal and entertainment expenses allowed as a deduction, shall apply to each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1988, except that clauses (i) and (ii) of Section 274(n)(2)(F) of the Internal Revenue Code shall apply only to each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1989.

(c) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1994, Section 274(n) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to deduction of meal and entertainment expenses, shall be applied by substituting

"50 percent" for the percentage specified in that section.

SEC. 9. Section 17276 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17276. Except as provided in Sections 17276.1 and 17276.2, the deduction provided by Section 172 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to a net operating loss deduction, shall be modified as follows:

(a) (1) Net operating losses attributable to taxable years beginning before January 1, 1987, and beginning on or after January 1, 1997, shall not be allowed.

(2) A net operating loss shall not be carried forward to any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1987.

(b) The provisions of Section 172(b) (2) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the amount of carryovers, shall be modified so that 50 percent of the entire amount of the net operating loss for any taxable year shall not be eligible for carryover to any subsequent taxable year.

(c) Net operating loss carrybacks shall not be allowed.

(d) In computing the modifications under Section 172(d) (2) of the Internal Revenue, relating to capital gains and losses of taxpayers other than corporations, the exclusion provided by Section 18152.5 shall not be allowed.

(e) Notwithstanding any provisions of this section, a deduction shall be allowed to a "qualified taxpayer" as provided in Sections 17276.1 and 17276.2.

SEC. 9.5. Section 17276 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17276. Except as provided in Sections 17276.1 and 17276.2, the deduction provided by Section 172 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to a net operating loss deduction, shall be modified as follows:

(a) (1) Net operating losses attributable to taxable years beginning before January 1, 1987, and beginning on or after January 1, 1997, shall not be allowed.

(2) A net operating loss shall not be carried forward to any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1987.

(b) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (2) and (3), the provisions of Section 172(b) (2) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the amount of carryovers, shall be modified so that 50 percent of the entire amount of the net operating loss for any taxable year shall not be eligible for carryover to any subsequent taxable year.

(2) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1994, 100 percent of a net operating loss of a new business incurred during the first three years of operation may be carried forward as provided in paragraph (2) of subdivision (d).

(3) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1994, 100 percent of a net operating loss of an eligible taxpayer may be carried forward to the taxable years specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (d).

(c) Net operating loss carrybacks shall not be allowed.

(d) (1) Except as provided in paragraphs (2) and (3), for each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1987, Section 172(b)(1)(A)(ii) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to years to which net operating losses may be carried, is modified to substitute "five taxable years" in lieu of "15 taxable years."

(2) In the case of a "new business," the "five taxable years" in paragraph (1) shall be modified to read as follows:

(A) "Eight taxable years" for a net operating loss attributable to the first taxable year of that new business.

(B) "Seven taxable years" for a net operating loss attributable to the second taxable year of that new business.

(C) "Six taxable years" for a net operating loss attributable to the third taxable year of that new business.

(3) For any carryover of a net operating loss for which a deduction is denied by Section 17276.3, the carryover period specified in this subdivision shall be extended as follows:

(A) By one year for a net operating loss attributable to taxable years beginning in 1991.

(B) By two years for a net operating loss attributable to taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1991.

(4) The net operating loss attributable to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1987, and before January 1, 1994, shall be a net operating loss carryover to each of the 10 taxable years following the year of the loss if it is incurred by a taxpayer that is under the jurisdiction of the court in a Title 11 or similar case at any time during the income year. The loss carryover provided in the preceding sentence shall not apply to any loss incurred after the date the taxpayer is no longer under the jurisdiction of the court in a Title 11 or similar case.

(e) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Eligible taxpayer" means a taxpayer that has total receipts of less than one million dollars ($1,000,000) during the taxable year.

(2) "New business" means any trade or business that is organized or formed and first commences business activity in this state on or after January 1, 1994. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, the term "new business" does not include any trade or business that was used in any predecessor trade or business conducted by the taxpayer or any other taxpayer related to the taxpayer (within the meaning of Sections 267 and 318 of the Internal Revenue Code).

(3) "Total receipts" means gross income, as defined in Section 17071, plus the cost of goods sold that are paid or incurred in connection with a trade or business of the taxpayer.

(f) In computing the modifications under Section 172(d)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to capital gains and losses of taxpayers other than corporations, the exclusion provided by Section 18152.5 shall not be allowed.

(g) The amendments to this section by the act adding this subdivision shall apply only in the computation of taxes for each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1993.

(h) Notwithstanding any provisions of this section, a deduction shall be allowed to a "qualified taxpayer" as provided in Sections 17276.1 and 17276.2.

SEC. 10. Section 17736 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17736. (a) Section 642(c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified for purposes of this part by substituting "December 31, 1970" for "October 9, 1969" throughout that paragraph.

(b) In lieu of Section 642(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to adjustments, to the extent that the amount otherwise allowable as a deduction under Section 642(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to deduction for amounts paid or permanently set aside for a charitable purpose, consists of gain described in Section 18152.5, proper adjustment shall be made for any exclusion allowable to the estate or trust under Section 18152.5. In the case of a trust, the deduction allowed by Section 642(c) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be subject to Section 681 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to limitation on charitable deduction.

SEC. 11. Section 17750 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17750. (a) Section 643(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to distributable net income, is modified to provide that the exclusion under Section 18152.5 shall not be taken into account.

(b) In the case of any distribution after June 1, 1984, and before January 1, 1985, the time for making an election under Section 643(d)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, as added by Public Law 98-369, shall not expire before January 1, 1986, and the requirement that the election be made on the return of the estate or trust shall not apply.

SEC. 12. Section 18152.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

18152.5. (a) For purposes of this part, gross income shall not include 50 percent of any gain from the sale or exchange of qualified small business stock held for more than five years.

(b) (1) If the taxpayer has eligible gain for the taxable year from one or more dispositions of stock issued by any corporation, the aggregate amount of the gain from dispositions of stock issued by the corporation which may be taken into account under subdivision (a) for the taxable year shall not exceed the greater of either of the following:

(A) Ten million dollars ($10,000,000) reduced by the aggregate amount of eligible gain taken into account by the taxpayer under subdivision (a) for prior taxable years and attributable to dispositions of stock issued by the corporation.

(B) Ten times the aggregate adjusted bases of qualified small business stock issued by the corporation and disposed of by the taxpayer during the taxable year. For purposes of subparagraph (B), the adjusted basis of any stock shall be determined without regard to any addition to basis after the date on which the stock was originally issued.

(2) For purposes of this subdivision, the term "eligible gain" means any gain from the sale or exchange of qualified small business stock held for more than five years.

(3) (A) In the case of a married individual filing a separate return, subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) shall be applied by substituting five million dollars ($5,000,000) for ten million dollars ($10,000,000).

(B) In the case of a married taxpayer filing a joint return, the amount of gain taken into account under subdivision (a) shall be allocated equally between the spouses for purposes of applying this subdivision to subsequent taxable years.

(C) For purposes of this subdivision, marital status shall be determined under Section 7703 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(c) For purposes of this section:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the term "qualified small business stock" means any stock in a C corporation which is originally issued on or after August 10, 1993, and before January 1, 1999, if both of the following apply:

(A) As of the date of issuance, the corporation is a qualified small business.

(B) Except as provided in subdivisions (f) and (h), the stock is acquired by the taxpayer at its original issue (directly or through an underwriter) in either of the following manners:

(i) In exchange for money or other property (not including stock).

(ii) As compensation for services provided to the corporation (other than services performed as an underwriter of the stock).

(2) (A) Stock in a corporation shall not be treated as qualified small business stock unless, during substantially all of the taxpayer's holding period for the stock, the corporation meets the active business requirements of subdivision (e) and the corporation is a C corporation.

(B) (i) Notwithstanding any provision of subdivision (e), a corporation shall be treated as meeting the active business requirements of subdivision (e) for any period during which the corporation qualifies as a specialized small business investment company.

(ii) For purposes of clause (i), the term "specialized small business investment company" means any eligible corporation (as defined in paragraph (4) of subdivision (e)) that is licensed to operate under Section 301(d) of the Small Business Investment Act of 1958 (as in effect on May 13, 1993).

(3) (A) Stock acquired by the taxpayer shall not be treated as qualified small business stock if, at any time during the four-year period beginning on the date two years before the issuance of the stock, the corporation issuing the stock purchased (directly or indirectly) any of its stock from the taxpayer or from a related person (within the meaning of Section 267(b) or 707(b)) to the taxpayer.

(B) Stock issued by a corporation shall not be treated as qualified business stock if, during the two-year period beginning on the date one year before the issuance of the stock, the corporation made one or more purchases of its stock with an aggregate value (as of the time of the respective purchases) exceeding 5 percent of the aggregate value of all of its stock as of the beginning of the two-year period.

(C) If any transaction is treated under Section 304(a) of the Internal Revenue Code as a distribution in redemption of the stock of any corporation, for purposes of subparagraphs (A) and (B), the corporation shall be treated as purchasing an amount of its stock equal to the amount treated as a distribution in redemption of the stock of the corporation under Section 304(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(d) For purposes of this section:

(1) The term "qualified small business" means any domestic corporation which is a C corporation if all of the following apply:

(A) The aggregate gross assets of the corporation (or any predecessor thereof) at all times on or after July 1, 1993, and before the issuance did not exceed fifty million dollars ($50,000,000).

(B) The aggregate gross assets of the corporation immediately after the issuance (determined by taking into account amounts received in the issuance) do not exceed fifty million dollars ($50,000,000).

(C) At least 80 percent of the corporation's payroll, as measured by total dollar value, is attributable to employment located within California.

(D) The corporation agrees to submit those reports to the Franchise Tax Board and to shareholders as the Franchise Tax Board may require to carry out the purposes of this section.

(2) (A) For purposes of paragraph (1), the term "aggregate gross assets" means the amount of cash and the aggregate adjusted bases of other property held by the corporation.

(B) For purposes of subparagraph (A), the adjusted basis of any property contributed to the corporation (or other property with a basis determined in whole or in part by reference to the adjusted basis of property so contributed) shall be determined as if the basis of the property contributed to the corporation immediately after the contribution was equal to its fair market value as of the time of the contribution.

(3) (A) All corporations which are members of the same parent-subsidiary controlled group shall be treated as one corporation for purposes of this subdivision.

(B) For purposes of subparagraph (A), the term "parent-subsidiary controlled group" means any controlled group of corporations as defined in Section 1563(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code, except that both of the following shall apply:

(i) "More than 50 percent" shall be substituted for "at least 80 percent" each place it appears in Section 1563(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(ii) Section 1563(a)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code shall not apply.

(e) (1) For purposes of paragraph (2) of subdivision (c), the requirements of this subdivision are met by a corporation for any period if during that period both of the following apply:

(A) At least 80 percent (by value) of the assets of the corporation are used by the corporation in the active conduct of one or more qualified trades or businesses in California.

(B) The corporation is an eligible corporation.

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), if, in connection with any future qualified trade or business, a corporation is engaged in:

(A) Startup activities described in Section 195(c)(1)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code,

(B) Activities resulting in the payment or incurring of expenditures which may be treated as research and experimental expenditures under Section 174 of the Internal Revenue Code, or

(C) Activities with respect to in-house research expenses described in Section 41(b)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code, then assets used in those activities shall be treated as used in the active conduct of a qualified trade or business. Any determination under this paragraph shall be made without regard to whether a corporation has any gross income from those activities at the time of the determination.

(3) For purposes of this subdivision, the term "qualified trade or business" means any trade or business other than any of the following:

(A) Any trade or business involving the performance of services in the fields of health, law, engineering, architecture, accounting, actuarial science, performing arts, consulting, athletics, financial services, brokerage services, or any trade or business where the principal asset of the trade or business is the reputation or skill of one or more of its employees.

(B) Any banking, insurance, financing, leasing, investing, or similar business.

(C) Any farming business (including the business of raising or harvesting trees).

(D) Any business involving the production or extraction of products of a character with respect to which a deduction is allowable under Section 613 or 613A of the Internal Revenue Code.

(E) Any business of operating a hotel, motel, restaurant, or similar business.

(4) For purposes of this subdivision, the term "eligible corporation" means any domestic corporation, except that the term shall not include any of the following:

(A) A DISC or former DISC.

(B) A corporation with respect to which an election under Section 936 of the Internal Revenue Code is in effect or which has a direct or indirect subsidiary with respect to which the election is in effect.

(C) A regulated investment company, real estate investment trust (REIT), or real estate mortgage investment conduit (REMIC).

(D) A cooperative.

(5) (A) For purposes of this subdivision, stock and debt in any subsidiary corporation shall be disregarded and the parent corporation shall be deemed to own its ratable share of the subsidiary's assets, and to conduct its ratable share of the subsidiary's activities.

(B) A corporation shall be treated as failing to meet the requirements of paragraph (1) for any period during which more than 10 percent of the value of its assets (in excess of liabilities) consists of stock or securities in other corporations which are not subsidiaries of the corporation (other than assets described in paragraph (6)).

(C) For purposes of this paragraph, a corporation shall be considered a subsidiary if the parent owns more than 50 percent of the combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote, or more than 50 percent in value of all outstanding stock, of the corporation.

(6) For purposes of subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1), any assets shall be treated as used in the active conduct of a qualified trade or business:

(A) Assets that are held as a part of the reasonably required working capital needs of a qualified trade or business of the corporation.

(B) Assets that are held for investment and are reasonably expected to be used within two years to finance research and experimentation in a qualified trade or business or increases in working capital needs of a qualified trade or business. For periods after the corporation has been in existence for at least two years, in no event may more than 50 percent of the assets of the corporation qualify as used in the active conduct of a qualified trade or business by reason of this paragraph.

(7) A corporation shall not be treated as meeting the requirements of paragraph (1) for any period during which more than 10 percent of the total value of its assets consists of real property that is not used in the active conduct of a qualified trade or business. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the ownership of, dealing in, or renting of, real property shall not be treated as the active conduct of a qualified trade or business.

(8) For purposes of paragraph (1), rights to computer software that produces active business computer software royalties (within the meaning of Section 543(d)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code) shall be treated as an asset used in the active conduct of a trade or business.

(9) A corporation shall not be treated as meeting the requirements of paragraph (1) for any period during which more than 20 percent of the corporation's total payroll expense is attributable to employment located outside of California.

(f) If any stock in a corporation is acquired solely through the conversion of other stock in the corporation that is qualified small business stock in the hands of the taxpayer, both of the following shall apply:

(1) The stock so acquired shall be treated as qualified small business stock in the hands of the taxpayer.

(2) The stock so acquired shall be treated as having been held during the period during which the converted stock was held.

(g) (1) If any amount included in gross income by reason of holding an interest in a pass-through entity meets the requirements of paragraph (2), then both of the following shall apply:

(A) The amount shall be treated as gain described in subdivision (a).

(B) For purposes of applying subdivision (b), the amount shall be treated as gain from a disposition of stock in the corporation issuing the stock disposed of by the pass-through entity and the taxpayer's proportionate share of the adjusted basis of the pass-through entity in the stock shall be taken into account.

(2) An amount meets the requirements of this paragraph if both of the following apply:

(A) The amount is attributable to gain on the sale or exchange by the pass-through entity of stock that is qualified small business stock in the hands of the entity (determined by treating the entity as an individual) and that was held by that entity for more than five years.

(B) The amount is includable in the gross income of the taxpayer by reason of the holding of an interest in the entity that was held by the taxpayer on the date on which the pass-through entity acquired the stock and at all times thereafter before the disposition of the stock by the pass-through entity.

(3) Paragraph (1) shall not apply to any amount to the extent the amount exceeds the amount to which paragraph (1) would have applied if the amount was determined by reference to the interest the taxpayer held in the pass-through entity on the date the qualified small business stock was acquired.

(4) For purposes of this subdivision, the term "pass-through entity" means any of the following:

(A) Any partnership.

(B) Any S corporation.

(C) Any regulated investment company.

(D) Any common trust fund.

(h) For purposes of this section:

(1) In the case of a transfer described in paragraph (2), the transferee shall be treated as meeting both of the following:

(A) Having acquired the stock in the same manner as the transferor.

(B) Having held the stock during any continuous period immediately preceding the transfer during which it was held (or treated as held under this subdivision) by the transferor.

(2) A transfer is described in this subdivision if the transfer is any of the following:

(A) By gift.

(B) At death.

(C) From a partnership to a partner of stock with respect to which requirements similar to the requirements of subdivision (g) are met at the time of the transfer (without regard to the five-year holding period requirement).

(3) Rules similar to the rules of Section 1244(d)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code shall apply for purposes of this section.

(4) (A) In the case of a transaction described in Section 351 of the Internal Revenue Code or a reorganization described in Section 368 of the Internal Revenue Code, if qualified small business stock is exchanged for other stock that would not qualify as qualified small business stock but for this subparagraph, the other stock shall be treated as qualified small business stock acquired on the date on which the exchanged stock was acquired.

(B) This section shall apply to gain from the sale or exchange of stock treated as qualified small business stock by reason of subparagraph (A) only to the extent of the gain that would have been recognized at the time of the transfer described in subparagraph (A) if Section 351 or 368 of the Internal Revenue Code had not applied at that time. The preceding sentence shall not apply if the stock that is treated as qualified small business stock by reason of subparagraph (A) is issued by a corporation that (as of the time of the transfer described in subparagraph (A)) is a qualified small business.

(C) For purposes of this paragraph, stock treated as qualified small business stock under subparagraph (A) shall be so treated for subsequent transactions or reorganizations, except that the limitation of subparagraph (B) shall be applied as of the time of the first transfer to which the limitation applied (determined after the application of the second sentence of subparagraph (B)).

(D) In the case of a transaction described in Section 351 of the Internal Revenue Code, this paragraph shall apply only if immediately after the transaction the corporation issuing the stock owns directly or indirectly stock representing control (within the meaning of Section 368(c) of the Internal Revenue Code) of the corporation whose stock was exchanged.

(i) For purposes of this section:

(1) In the case where the taxpayer transfers property (other than money or stock) to a corporation in exchange for stock in the corporation, both of the following shall apply:

(A) The stock shall be treated as having been acquired by the taxpayer on the date of the exchange.

(B) The basis of the stock in the hands of the taxpayer shall in no event be less than the fair market value of the property exchanged.

(2) If the adjusted basis of any qualified small business stock is adjusted by reason of any contribution to capital after the date on which the stock was originally issued, in determining the amount of the adjustment by reason of the contribution, the basis of the contributed property shall in no event be treated as less than its fair market value on the date of the contribution.

(j) (1) If the taxpayer has an offsetting short position with respect to any qualified small business stock, subdivision (a) shall not apply to any gain from the sale or exchange of the stock unless both of the following apply:

(A) The stock was held by the taxpayer for more than five years as of the first day on which there was such a short position.

(B) The taxpayer elects to recognize gain as if the stock was sold on that first day for its fair market value.

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), the taxpayer shall be treated as having an offsetting short position with respect to any qualified small business stock if any of the following apply:

(A) The taxpayer has made a short sale of substantially identical property.

(B) The taxpayer has acquired an option to sell substantially identical property at a fixed price.

(C) To the extent provided in regulations, the taxpayer has entered into any other transaction that substantially reduces the risk of loss from holding the qualified small business stock. For purposes of the preceding sentence, any reference to the taxpayer shall be treated as including a reference to any person who is related (within the meaning of Section 267(b) or 707(b) of the Internal Revenue Code) to the taxpayer.

(k) The Franchise Tax Board may prescribe those regulations as may be appropriate to carry out the purposes of this section, including regulations to prevent the avoidance of the purposes of this section through splitups, shell corporations, partnerships, or otherwise.

SEC. 13. Section 18634 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

18634. (a) Any taxpayer determining its income subject to tax pursuant to Section 25101 or making the election under Section 25110 shall file with the Franchise Tax Board within six months after the due date (including extensions) of the bank's or corporation's California return required under this part an information return if it and its related banks' or corporation's total assets exceed two hundred million dollars ($200,000,000), or such higher levels as may be subsequently established by regulation.

(b) The information return shall be filed once every three years, unless there is a substantial change in the taxpayer's business activities, in which case it shall be filed for the year in which the change occurs.

(c) For purposes of this section, banks and corporations are related if more than 50 percent of the voting stock of one is directly or indirectly owned or controlled by the other or if more than 50 percent of the voting stock of both is directly or indirectly owned or controlled by the same interest.

(d) The information return shall identify the corporate parent and those affiliates of which more than 20 percent of the voting stock is directly or indirectly owned or controlled by the parent. The information return shall identify the percentage of ownership and the type of corporation (foreign organized, United States organized, Foreign Sales Corporation, or other relevant descriptions).

(e) If the taxpayer willfully fails to substantially comply with this section, the taxpayer shall be subject to the penalty described in subdivision (d) of Section 19141.6.

(f) This section shall not apply to any bank or corporation with regard to any year if that bank's or corporation's payroll, property, and sales within the United States are each less than five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000).

SEC. 14. Section 18683.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

18683.5. (a) In the case of a failure to make a report required under Section 18152.5 that contains the information required by that section on the date prescribed therefor (determined with regard to any extension of time for filing), there shall be paid (on notice and demand by the Franchise Tax Board and in the same manner as tax) by the person failing to make the report, an amount equal to fifty dollars ($50) for each report with respect to which there was such a failure. In the case of any failure due to negligence or intentional disregard, the preceding sentence shall be applied by substituting one hundred dollars ($100) for fifty dollars ($50). In the case of a report covering periods in two or more years, the penalty determined under preceding provisions of this section shall be multiplied by the number of those years.

(b) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 15. Section 19133.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

19133.5. (a) In the case of a failure to make a report required under Section 18152.5 that contains the information required by that section on the date prescribed therefor (determined with regard to any extension of time for filing), there shall be paid (on notice and demand by the Franchise Tax Board and in the same manner as tax) by the person failing to make the report, an amount equal to fifty dollars ($50) for each report with respect to which there was such a failure. In the case of any failure due to negligence or intentional disregard, the preceding sentence shall be applied by substituting one hundred dollars ($100) for fifty dollars ($50). In the case of a report covering periods in two or more years, the penalty determined under preceding provisions of this section shall be multiplied by the number of those years.

(b) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1994.

SEC. 16. Section 19141.6 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

19141.6. (a) Each taxpayer determining its income subject to tax pursuant to Section 25101 or electing to file pursuant to Section 25110 shall, for income years beginning on or after January 1, 1994, maintain (in the location, in the manner, and to the extent prescribed in regulations which shall be promulgated by the Franchise Tax Board on or before December 31, 1995) and make available upon request all of the following:

(1) Any records as may be appropriate to determine the correct treatment of the components that are a part of one or more unitary businesses for purposes of determining the income derived from or attributable to this state pursuant to Section 25101 or 25110.

(2) Any records as may be appropriate to determine the correct treatment of amounts that are attributable to the classification of an item as business or nonbusiness income for purposes of Article 2 (commencing with Section 25120) of Chapter 17 of Part 11.

(3) Any records as may be appropriate to determine the correct treatment of the apportionment factors for purposes of Article 2 (commencing with Section 25120) of Chapter 17 of Part 11.

(4) Documents and information, including any questionnaires completed and submitted to the Internal Revenue Service that are necessary to audit issues involving attribution of income to the United States or foreign jurisdictions under Section 882 and Subpart F of Part III of Subchapter N, or similar sections, of the Internal Revenue Code.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) Information for any year shall be retained for that period of time in which the taxpayers' income or franchise tax liability to this state may be subject to adjustment, including all periods in which additional income or franchise taxes may be assessed, not to exceed eight years from the due date or extended due date of the return, or during which a protest is pending before the Franchise Tax Board, or an appeal is pending before the State Board of Equalization or a lawsuit is pending in the courts of this state or the United States with respect to California franchise or income tax.

(2) "Related party" means banks and corporations that are related because one owns or controls directly of indirectly more than 50 percent of the stock of the other or because more than 50 percent of the voting stock of each is owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by the same interests.

(3) "Records" includes any books, papers, or other data.

(c) (1) If a bank or corporation subject to this section fails to maintain or fails to cause another to maintain records as required by subdivision (a), or willfully fails to comply substantially with Section 18634 requiring the filing of an information return, that bank or corporation shall pay a penalty of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for each income year with respect to which the failure occurs.

(2) If any failure described in paragraph (1) continues for more than 90 days after the day on which the Franchise Tax Board mails notice of the failure to the bank or corporation, that bank or corporation shall pay a penalty (in addition to the amount required under paragraph (1)) of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for each 30-day period (or fraction thereof) during which the failure continues after the expiration of the 90-day period. The additional penalty imposed by this subdivision shall not exceed a maximum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) if the failure to maintain or the failure to cause another to maintain is not willful. This maximum shall apply with respect to income years beginning on or after January 1, 1994, and before the earlier of the first day of the month following the month in which regulations are adopted pursuant to this section or December 31, 1995.

(3) For purposes of this section, the time prescribed by regulations to maintain records (and the beginning of the 90-day period after notice by the Franchise Tax Board) shall be treated as not earlier than the last day on which (as shown to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board) reasonable cause existed for failure to maintain the records.

(d) (1) The Franchise Tax Board may apply the rules of paragraph (2) whether or not the board begins a proceeding to enforce a subpoena, or subpoena duces tecum, if subparagraph (A), (B), and (C) apply:

(A) For purposes of determining the correct treatment under Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001) of the items described in subdivision (a), the Franchise Tax Board issues a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum to a bank or corporation to produce (either directly or as agent for the related party) any records or testimony.

(B) The subpoena or subpoena duces tecum is not quashed in a proceeding begun under paragraph (3) and is not determined to be invalid in a proceeding begun under Section 19504 to enforce the subpoena.

(C) The bank or corporation does not substantially comply in a timely manner with the subpoena or subpoena duces tecum and the Franchise Tax Board has sent by certified or registered mail a notice to that bank or corporation that it has not substantially complied.

(D) If the bank or corporation fails to maintain or fails to cause another to maintain records as required by subdivision (a), and by reason of that failure, the subpoena, or subpoena duces tecum, is quashed in a proceeding described in subparagraph (B) or the bank or corporation is not able to provide the records requested in the subpoena or subpoena duces tecum, the Franchise Tax Board may apply the rules of paragraph (2) to any of the items described in subdivision (a) to which the records relate.

(2) (A) All of the following shall be determined by the Franchise Tax Board in the Franchise Tax Board's sole discretion from the Franchise Tax Board's own knowledge or from the information as the Franchise Tax Board may obtain through testimony or otherwise:

(i) The components that are a part of one or more unitary businesses for purposes of determining the income derived from or attributable to this state pursuant to Section 25101 or 25110.

(ii) Amounts that are attributable to the classification of an item as business or nonbusiness income for purposes of Article 2 (commencing with Section 25120) of Chapter 17 of Part 11.

(iii) The apportionment factors for purposes of Article 2 (commencing with Section 25120) of Chapter 17 of Part 11.

(iv) The correct amount of income under Section 882 of Subpart F of the Internal Revenue Code, or similar sections of the Internal Revenue Code.

(B) This paragraph shall apply to determine the correct treatment of the items described in subdivision (a) unless the bank or corporation is authorized by its related parties (in the manner and at the time as the Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe) to act as the related parties' limited agent solely for purposes of applying Section 19504 with respect to any request by the Franchise Tax Board to examine records or produce testimony related to any item described in subdivision (a) or with respect to any subpoena or subpoena duces tecum for the records or testimony. The appearance of persons or the production of records by reason of the bank or corporation being an agent shall not subject those persons or records to legal process for any purpose other than determining the correct treatment under Part 11 of the items described in subdivision (a).

(3) (A) Notwithstanding any other law or rule of law, any reporting bank or corporation to which the Franchise Tax Board issues a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum referred to in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) shall have the right to begin a proceeding to quash the subpoena not later than the 90th day after the subpoena was issued. In that proceeding, the Franchise Tax Board may seek to compel compliance with the subpoena.

(B) Notwithstanding any other law or rule of law, any reporting bank or corporation that has been notified by the Franchise Tax Board that it has determined that the bank or corporation has not substantially complied with a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum referred to in paragraph (1) shall have the right to begin a proceeding to review the determination not later than the 90th day after the day on which the notice referred to in subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1) was mailed. If the proceeding is not begun on or before the 90th day, the determination by the Franchise Tax Board shall be binding and shall not be reviewed by any court.

(C) The superior courts of the State of California for the Counties of Los Angeles, Sacramento, and San Diego, and for the City and County of San Francisco shall have jurisdiction to hear any proceeding brought under subparagraphs (A) and (B). Any order or other determination in the proceeding shall be treated as a final order that may be appealed.

(D) If any bank or corporation takes any action as provided in subparagraphs (A) and (B), the running of any period of limitations under Sections 19057 to 19064, inclusive (relating to the assessment and collection of tax), or under Section 19704 (relating to criminal prosecutions) with respect to that bank or corporation shall be suspended for the period during which the proceedings, and appeals therein, are pending. In no event shall any period expire before the 90th day after the day on which there is a final determination in the proceeding.

SEC. 17. Section 23036 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

23036. (a) (1) The term "tax" includes any of the following:

(A) The tax imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101).

(B) The tax imposed under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 23501).

(C) The tax on unrelated business taxable income, imposed under Section 23731.

(D) The tax on S corporations imposed under Section 23802.

(2) The term "tax" does not include any amount imposed under paragraph (1) of subdivision (e) of Section 24667 or paragraph (2) of subdivision (f) of Section 24667.

(b) For purposes of Article 5 (commencing with Section 18661) of Chapter 2, Article 3 (commencing with Section 19031) of Chapter 4, Article 6 (commencing with Section 19101) of Chapter 4, and Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 19501) of Part 10.2, and for purposes of Sections 18601, 19001, and 19005, the term "tax" shall also include all of the following:

(1) The tax on limited partnerships, imposed under Section 23081.

(2) The alternative minimum tax imposed under Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 23400).

(3) The tax on built-in gains of S corporations, imposed under Section 23809.

(4) The tax on excess passive investment income of S corporations, imposed under Section 23811.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, credits shall be allowed against the "tax" in the following order:

(1) Credits which do not contain carryover provisions.

(2) Credits which, when the credit exceeds the "tax," allow the excess to be carried over to offset the "tax" in succeeding taxable years. The order of credits within this paragraph shall be determined by the Franchise Tax Board.

(3) The minimum tax credit allowed by Section 23453.

(4) Credits for taxes withheld under Section 18662.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, each of the following shall be applicable:

(1) No credit shall reduce the "tax" below the tentative minimum tax (as defined by paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 23455), except the following credits, but only after allowance of the credit allowed by Section 23453—

(A) The credit allowed by former Section 23601 (relating to solar energy).

(B) The credit allowed by former Section 23601.4 (relating to solar energy).

(C) The credit allowed by Section 23601.5 (relating to solar energy).

(D) The credit allowed by Section 23609 (relating to research expenditures).

(E) The credit allowed by Section 23609.5 (relating to clinical testing expenses).

(F) The credit allowed by Section 23610.5 (relating to low-income housing).

(G) The credit allowed by Section 23649 (relating to qualified property).

(H) Credits for taxes withheld under Section 18662.

(2) No credit against the tax shall reduce the minimum franchise tax imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101).

(e) Any credit which is partially or totally denied under subdivision (d) shall be allowed to be carried over to reduce the "tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, if the provisions relating to that credit include a provision to allow a carryover of the unused portion of that credit.

(f) Unless otherwise provided, any remaining carryover from a credit which has been repealed or made inoperative shall continue to be allowed to be carried over and applied against the "tax" until the credit has been exhausted.

(g) Unless otherwise provided, if two or more taxpayers share in costs that would be eligible for a tax credit allowed under this part, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive the tax credit in proportion to its respective share of the costs paid or incurred.

SEC. 17.5. Section 23036 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

23036. (a) (1) The term "tax" includes any of the following:

(A) The tax imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101).

(B) The tax imposed under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 23501).

(C) The tax on unrelated business taxable income, imposed under Section 23731.

(D) The tax on S corporations imposed under Section 23802.

(2) The term "tax" does not include any amount imposed under paragraph (1) of subdivision (e) of Section 24667 or paragraph (2) of subdivision (f) of Section 24667.

(b) For purposes of Article 5 (commencing with Section 18661) of Chapter 2, Article 3 (commencing with Section 19031) of Chapter 4, Article 6 (commencing with Section 19101) of Chapter 4, and Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 19501) of Part 10.2, and for purposes of Sections 18601, 19001, and 19005, the term "tax" shall also include all of the following:

(1) The tax on limited partnerships, imposed under Section 23081.

(2) The alternative minimum tax imposed under Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 23400).

(3) The tax on built-in gains of S corporations, imposed under Section 23809.

(4) The tax on excess passive investment income of S corporations, imposed under Section 23811.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, credits shall be allowed against the "tax" in the following order:

(1) Credits which do not contain carryover provisions.

(2) Credits which, when the credit exceeds the "tax," allow the excess to be carried over to offset the "tax" in succeeding taxable years. The order of credits within this paragraph shall be determined by the Franchise Tax Board.

(3) The minimum tax credit allowed by Section 23453.

(4) Credits for taxes withheld under Section 18662.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, each of the following shall be applicable:

(1) No credit shall reduce the "tax" below the tentative minimum tax (as defined by paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 23455), except the following credits, but only after allowance of the credit allowed by Section 23453—

(A) The credit allowed by former Section 23601 (relating to solar energy).

(B) The credit allowed by former Section 23601.4 (relating to solar energy).

(C) The credit allowed by Section 23601.5 (relating to solar energy).

(D) The credit allowed by Section 23609 (relating to research expenditures).

(E) The credit allowed by Section 23609.5 (relating to clinical testing expenses).

(F) The credit allowed by Section 23610.5 (relating to low-income housing).

(G) The credit allowed by Section 23612 (relating to sales and use tax credit).

(H) The credit allowed by Section 23612.6 (relating to Los Angeles Revitalization Zone sales tax credit).

(I) The credit allowed by Section 23622 (relating to enterprise zone hiring credit).

(J) The credit allowed by Section 23623 (relating to program area hiring credit).

(K) The credit allowed by Section 23625 (relating to Los Angeles Revitalization Zone hiring credit).

(L) The credit allowed by Section 23649 (relating to qualified property).

(M) Credits for taxes withheld under Section 18662.

(2) No credit against the tax shall reduce the minimum franchise tax imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101).

(e) Any credit which is partially or totally denied under subdivision (d) shall be allowed to be carried over to reduce the "tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, if the provisions relating to that credit include a provision to allow a carryover of the unused portion of that credit.

(f) Unless otherwise provided, any remaining carryover from a credit which has been repealed or made inoperative shall continue to be allowed to be carried over and applied against the "tax" until the credit has been exhausted.

(g) Unless otherwise provided, if two or more taxpayers share in costs that would be eligible for a tax credit allowed under this part, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive the tax credit in proportion to its respective share of the costs paid or incurred.

SEC. 18. Section 23609 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23609. For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1987, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "tax" (as defined by Section 23036) an amount determined in accordance with Section 41 of the Internal Revenue Code, except as follows:

(a) (1) The reference to "20 percent" in Section 41(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified to read "8 percent."

(2) The reference to "20 percent" in Section 41(a)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code is modified to read "12 percent."

(b) "Qualified research" and "basic research" shall include only research conducted in California.

(c) The provisions of Section 41(e)(7)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code, shall be modified so that "basic research," for purposes of this section, includes any basic or applied research including scientific inquiry or original investigation for the advancement of scientific or engineering knowledge or the improved effectiveness of commercial products, except that the term does not include any of the following:

(1) Basic research conducted outside California.

(2) Basic research in the social sciences, arts, or humanities.

(3) Basic research for the purpose of improving a commercial product if the improvements relate to style, taste, cosmetic, or seasonal design factors.

(4) Any expenditure paid or incurred for the purpose of ascertaining the existence, location, extent, or quality of any deposit of ore or other mineral (including oil and gas).

(d) In the case where the credit allowed by this section exceeds the "tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted.

(e) Section 41(c)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to gross receipts, is modified to take into account only those gross receipts from the sale of property held primarily for sales to customers in the ordinary course of the taxpayer's trade or business that is delivered or shipped to a purchaser within this state, regardless of F.O.B. point or other conditions of sale.

(f) Except as provided in subdivision (g), the amendments to this section made by the act adding this subdivision shall apply only to income years beginning on or after January 1, 1993.

(g) The amendments made by Section 13112 of the Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1993 (P.L. 103-66) to Section 41 of the Internal Revenue Code (related to the credit for increased research activities) shall apply to income years beginning on or after January 1, 1994.

SEC. 19. Section 23649 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

23649. (a) (1) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1994, and before this section ceases to be operative as specified in paragraph (2) of subdivision (f), there shall be allowed to a qualified person as a credit against the "tax,"as defined in Section 23036, an amount equal to 6 percent of the amount paid or incurred on or after January 1, 1994, for qualified property that is placed in service in this state.

(2) For the 1994 income year only, the credit shall not be claimed on the 1994 return, but shall be allowed, instead, in the 1995 income year on the 1995 return. The amount so claimed shall be in addition to the amount allowed for the 1995 income year.

(3) For any amount paid or incurred on or after January 1, 1994, for qualified property by fiscal year taxpayers, any amount paid or incurred before the beginning of the qualified taxpayer's 1994 fiscal year shall be deemed to be paid or incurred in that 1994 fiscal year.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Fabricating" means to make, build, create, produce, or assemble components or property to work in a new or different manner.

(2) "Manufacturing" means the activity of converting or conditioning property by changing the form, composition, quality, or character of the property for ultimate sale at retail or use in the manufacturing of a product to be ultimately sold at retail. Manufacturing includes any improvements to tangible personal property that result in a greater service life or greater functionality than that of the original property.

(3) "Primarily" means tangible personal property used 50 percent or more of the time in an activity described in subdivision (a).

(4) "Processing" means the physical application of the materials and labor necessary to modify or change the characteristics of property.

(5) "Qualified person" means any person engaged in those lines of business described in Codes 2000 to 3999, inclusive, of the Standard Industrial Classification Manual published by the United States Office of Management and Budget, 1987 edition.

(6) (A) "Qualified property" means all of the following:

(i) Tangible personal property purchased for use by a qualified person to be used primarily in any stage of the manufacturing, processing, refining, fabricating, or recycling of property, beginning at the point any raw materials are received by the qualified person and introduced into the process and ending at the point at which the manufacturing, processing, refining, fabricating, or recycling has altered property to its completed form, including packaging, if required.

(ii) Tangible personal property purchased for use by a qualified person to be used primarily in research and development.

(iii) Tangible personal property purchased for use by a qualified person to be used primarily to maintain, repair, measure, or test any property described in paragraph (1) or (2).

(iv) Tangible personal property purchased for use by a contractor purchasing that property either as an agent of a qualified person or for the contractor's own account and subsequent resale to a qualified person for use in the performance of a construction contract for the qualified person who will use the tangible personal property as an integral part of the manufacturing, processing, refining, fabricating, or recycling process, or as a research or storage facility for use in connection with the manufacturing process.

(B) "Qualified property" does not include any property that is leased by a qualified person to another person.

(7) "Refining" means the process of converting a natural resource to an intermediate or finished product.

(8) "Research and development" means those activities that are described in Section 174 of the Internal Revenue Code or in any regulations thereunder.

(9) "Small business" means a taxpayer that meets any of the following requirements during the income year for which the credit is allowed:

(A) Has gross receipts of less than fifty million dollars ($50,000,000).

(B) Has net assets of less than fifty million dollars ($50,000,000).

(C) Has a total credit of less than one million dollars ($1,000,000).

(10) "Tangible personal property" does not include consumables with a normal useful life of less than one year, except as provided in subparagraph (E) of paragraph (11), and does not include furniture, inventory, equipment used in the extraction process, or equipment used to store finished products that have completed the manufacturing process.

(11) "Tangible personal property" includes, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(A) Machinery and equipment, including component parts and contrivances such as belts, shafts, moving parts, and operating structures.

(B) All equipment or devices used or required to operate, control, regulate, or maintain the machinery, including, without limitation, computers, data processing equipment, and computer software, together with all repair and replacement parts with a useful life of one or more years therefor, whether purchased separately or in conjunction with a complete machine and regardless of whether the machine or component parts are assembled by the taxpayer or another party.

(C) Property used in pollution control that meets or exceed standards established by the State Air Resources Board of the Water Resources Control Board.

(D) Special purpose buildings and foundations used as an integral part of the manufacturing, processing, refining, or fabricating process, or that constitute a research or storage facility used during the manufacturing process. Buildings used solely for warehousing purposes after completion of the manufacturing process are not included.

(E) Fuels used or consumed in the manufacturing process.

(F) Property used in recycling.

(c) (1) No credit, no further credit in any subsequent year, and no credit carryover shall be allowed with respect to the qualified property to any qualified person beginning in the year in which that qualified property for which a credit was allowed under this section is disposed of or removed from this state within one year of the date of purchase.

(2) No credit shall be allowed for any qualified property for which an exemption from sales and use taxes is allowed and claimed pursuant to Section 6377.

(d) Notwithstanding the definition of qualified property in subdivision (b), the credit provided by this section can be claimed only with respect to property defined in Section 1245(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, for qualified persons performing manufacturing activities described in Codes 357 and 367 of the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual published by the United States Office of Management and Budget, 1987 edition, and those activities related to biotech described in SIC Code 8731, property for which the credit provided by this section can be claimed shall also include special purpose buildings and foundations, as further described in subparagraph (D) of paragraph (11) of subdivision (b).

(e) In the case where the credit allowed by this section exceeds the "tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "tax" in the following year, and succeeding years as follows:

(1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), for the seven succeeding years if necessary, until the credit is exhausted.

(2) In the case of a small business, for the nine succeeding years, if necessary, until the credit is exhausted.

(f) (1) This section shall remain in effect until the date specified in paragraph (2) on which date this section shall cease to be operative, and as of that date is repealed. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as provided in subdivision (e), until the credit is exhausted.

(2) (A) This section shall cease to be operative on January 1, 2001, or on January 1 of the earliest year thereafter, if the total employment in this state, as determined by the Employment Development Department on the preceding January 1, does not exceed by 100,000 jobs the total employment in this state on January 1, 1994. The department shall report to the Legislature annually with respect to the determination required by the preceding sentence.

(B) For purposes of this paragraph, "total employment" means the total employment in the manufacturing sector, excluding employment in the aerospace sector.

SEC. 20. Section 23802 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

23802. (a) Section 1363(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the taxability of an S corporation, shall not be applicable.

(b) Corporations qualifying under this chapter shall continue to be subject to the taxes imposed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 23101) and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 23501), except as follows:

(1) The tax imposed under Section 23151 or 23501 shall be imposed at a rate of 1½ percent rather than the rate specified in those sections.

(2) In the case of an "S corporation" which is also a financial corporation, the rate of tax specified in paragraph (1) shall be increased by the excess of the rate imposed under Section 23183 over the rate imposed under Section 23151 and Section 23184 shall be applicable.

(c) An "S corporation" shall be subject to the minimum franchise tax imposed under Section 23153.

(d) (1) For purposes of subdivision (b), an "S corporation" shall be allowed a deduction under Section 24416 or 24416.1 (relating to net operating loss deductions), but only with respect to losses incurred during periods in which the corporation had in effect a valid election to be treated as an "S corporation" for purposes of this part.

(2) Section 1371(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to denial of carryovers between "C years" and "S years," shall apply for purposes of the tax imposed under subdivision (b), except as provided in paragraph (1).

(3) The provisions of this subdivision shall not affect the amount of any item of income or loss computed in accordance with the provisions of Section 1366 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to pass-thru items to shareholders.

(4) For purposes of subdivision (b) of Section 17276, relating to limitations on loss carryovers, losses passed through to shareholders of an "S corporation," to the extent otherwise allowable without application of that subdivision, shall be fully included in the net operating loss of that shareholder and then that subdivision shall be applied to the entire net operating loss.

(e) For purposes of computing the taxes specified in subdivision (b), an "S corporation" shall be allowed a deduction from income for built-in gains and passive investment income for which a tax has been imposed under this part in accordance with the provisions of Section 1374 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to tax imposed on certain built-in gains, or Section 1375 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to tax imposed on passive investment income.

(f) For purposes of computing taxes imposed under this part, as provided in subdivision (b)—

(1) An "S corporation" shall compute its deductions for amortization and depreciation in accordance with the provisions of Part 10 (commencing with Section 17001) of Division 2.

(2) The provisions of Section 465 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to limitation of deductions to the amount at risk, shall be applied in the same manner as in the case of an individual.

(3) (A) The provisions of Section 469 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to limitations on passive activity losses and credits, shall be applied in the same manner as in the case of an individual. For purposes of the tax imposed under Section 23151 or 23501, as modified by this section, material participation shall be determined in accordance with Section 469(h) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to certain closely held "C corporations" and personal service corporations.

(B) For purposes of this paragraph, the "adjusted gross income" of the "S corporation" shall be equal to its "net income," as determined under Section 24341 with the modifications required by this subdivision, except that no deduction shall be allowed for contributions allowed by Section 24357.

(4) The exclusion provided under Section 18152.5 shall not be allowed to an "S corporation."

(g) The provisions of Section 1363(d) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to recapture of LIFO benefits, shall be modified for purposes of this part to refer to Section 19102 in lieu of Section 6601 of the Internal Revenue Code.

SEC. 21. Section 24443 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24443. (a) Section 274 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the disallowance of certain entertainment, gift, travel, etc., expenses, shall apply, except as otherwise provided.

(b) For each income year beginning in 1987 or 1988, Section 274(n) of the Internal Revenue Code shall not apply to any expense if the expense is for food or beverage provided under either of the following conditions:

(1) It is required by federal law to be provided to crew members of a vessel at sea.

(2) It is provided on an oil or gas platform or drilling rig located offshore in Alaska.

(c) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1989, the amendments made to Section 274 of the Internal Revenue Code by Section 6003 of Public Law 100-647, relating to only 80 percent of meal and entertainment expenses allowed as a deduction, shall apply.

(d) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1994, Section 274(n) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to deduction of meal and entertainment expenses, shall be applied by substituting "50 percent" for the percentage specified in that section.

SEC. 22. Section 25110 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

25110. (a) Notwithstanding Section 25101, a qualified taxpayer, as defined in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) which is subject to the tax imposed under this part, may elect, subject to the provisions of Section 25111, to account for and determine its income derived from or attributable to sources within this state pursuant to a water's-edge election in accordance with the provisions of this part, as modified by this article. A taxpayer which makes that water's-edge election shall take into account the income and apportionment factors of the following affiliated entities only:

(1) Affiliated banks or corporations which are eligible to be included in a federal consolidated return as described in Sections 1501 to 1505, inclusive, of the Internal Revenue Code, other than corporations making an election under Section 936 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) Domestic international sales corporations, as described in Sections 991 to 994, inclusive, of the Internal Revenue Code and foreign sales corporations as described in Sections 921 to 927, inclusive, of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) Any corporation, regardless of the place where it is incorporated if the average of its property, payroll, and sales factors within the United States is 20 percent or more.

(4) Banks and corporations which are incorporated in the United States, excluding corporations making an election pursuant to Sections 931 to 936, inclusive, of the Internal Revenue Code, of which more than 50 percent of their stock is controlled directly or indirectly by the same interests, which are not included in paragraph (1).

(5) A bank or corporation which is not described in paragraphs (1) to (4), inclusive, or paragraph (6), but only to the extent of its income derived from or attributable to sources within the United States and its factors assignable to a location within the United States in accordance with paragraph (3) of subdivision (b). Income of such a bank or corporation derived from or attributable to sources within the United States as determined by federal income tax laws shall be limited to and determined from the books of account maintained by the bank or corporation with respect to its activities conducted within the United States.

(6) Export trade corporations, as described in Sections 970 to 972, inclusive, of the Internal Revenue Code.

(7) Any affiliated bank or corporation which is a "controlled foreign corporation," as defined in Section 957 of the Internal Revenue Code, if all or part of the income of that affiliate is defined in Section 952 of Subpart F of the Internal Revenue Code ("Subpart F income"). The income and apportionment factors of any affiliate to be included under this paragraph shall be determined by multiplying the income and apportionment factors of that affiliate without application of this paragraph by a fraction (not to exceed one), the numerator of which is the "Subpart F income" of that bank or corporation for that income year and the denominator of which is the "earnings and profits" of that bank or corporation for that income year, as defined in Section 964 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(8) (A) The income and factors of the above-enumerated banks and corporations shall be taken into account only if the income and factors would have been taken into account under Section 25101 if this section had not been enacted.

(B) The income and factors of a bank or corporation which is not described in paragraphs (1) to (4), inclusive, and (6) and which is an electing taxpayer under this subdivision shall be taken into account in determining its income only to the extent set forth in paragraph (5).

(b) For purposes of this article and Section 24411:

(1) An "affiliated bank or corporation" means a bank or corporation which is related to a bank or corporation, required to file under this part, because of any of the following:

(A) It owns directly or indirectly more than 50 percent of the voting stock of the bank or corporation required to file under this part.

(B) More than 50 percent of its voting stock is owned directly or indirectly by a bank or corporation required to file under this part.

(C) More than 50 percent of voting stock of both it and the bank or corporation required to file under this part is owned or controlled directly or indirectly by any bank or person (as defined in Section 7701(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code).

(2) A "qualified taxpayer" means a bank or corporation which does both of the following:

(A) Files with the state tax return on which the water's-edge election is made a consent to the taking of depositions at the time and place most reasonably convenient to all parties from key domestic corporate individuals and to the acceptance of subpoenas duces tecum requiring reasonable production of documents to the Franchise Tax Board as provided in Section 19504 or by the State Board of Equalization as provided in Title 18, California Code of Regulations, Section 5005, or by the courts of this state as provided in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1985) of Title 3 of Part 4 of, and Section 2025 of, the Code of Civil Procedure. The consent relates to issues of jurisdiction and service and does not waive any defenses a taxpayer may otherwise have. The consent shall remain in effect so long as the water's-edge election is in effect and shall be limited to providing that information necessary to review or to adjust income or deductions in a manner authorized under Sections 482, 861, Subpart F of Part III of Subchapter N, or similar provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, together with the regulations adopted pursuant to those provisions, and for the conduct of an investigation with respect to any unitary business in which the taxpayer may be involved.

(B) Agrees that for purposes of this article, dividends received by any bank or corporation whose income and apportionment factors are taken into account pursuant to subdivision (a) from either of the following are functionally related dividends and shall be presumed to be business income:

(i) A bank or corporation of which more than 50 percent of the voting stock is owned, directly or indirectly, by members of the unitary group and which is engaged in the same general line of business.

(ii) Any bank or corporation which is either a significant source of supply for the unitary business or a significant purchaser of the output of the unitary business, or which sells a significant part of its output or obtains a significant part of its raw materials or input from the unitary business. "Significant," as used in this subparagraph, means an amount of 15 percent or more of either input or output.

All other dividends shall be classified as business or nonbusiness income without regard to this subparagraph.

(3) The definitions and locations of property, payroll, and sales shall be determined under the laws and regulations which set forth the apportionment formulas used by the individual states to assign net income subject to taxes on or measured by net income in that state. If a state does not impose a tax on or measured by net income or does not have laws or regulations with respect to the assignment of property, payroll, and sales, the laws and regulations provided in Article 2 (commencing with Section 25120) shall apply.

Sales shall be considered to be made to a state only if the bank or corporation making the sale may otherwise be subject to a tax on or measured by net income under the Constitution or laws of the United States, and shall not include sales made to a bank or corporation whose income and apportionment factors are taken into account pursuant to subdivision (a) in determining the amount of income of the taxpayer derived from or attributable to sources within this state.

(4) "The United States" means the 50 states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

(c) All references in this part to income determined pursuant to Section 25101 shall also mean income determined pursuant to this section.

SEC. 23. Section 25111 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

25111. (a) The making of a water's-edge election as provided for in Section 25110 shall be made by contract with the Franchise Tax Board in the original return for a year and shall be effective only if every taxpayer which is a member of the water's-edge group and which is subject to tax under this part makes the election. A single taxpayer which is engaged in more than one business activity subject to allocation and apportionment as provided in Article 2 (commencing with Section 25120) of Chapter 17 may make a separate election for each business. The form and manner of making the water's-edge election shall be prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. Each contract making a water's-edge election shall be for an initial term of 84 months, except as provided in subdivisions (b).

Each contract shall provide that on the anniversary date of the contract or any other annual date specified by the contract a year shall be added automatically to the initial term unless notice of nonrenewal is given as provided in subdivision (d). An affiliated bank or corporation which is a member of the water's-edge group and subsequently becomes subject to tax under this part or is a nonelecting taxpayer which is subsequently proved to be a member of the water's-edge group pursuant to Franchise Tax Board audit determination, as evidenced by a notice of deficiency proposed to be assessed or a notice of tax change, shall be deemed to have elected.

No water's-edge election shall be made for an income year beginning prior to January 1, 1988.

(b) A water's-edge election may be terminated by a taxpayer prior to the end of the 84-month period if either of the following occurs:

(1) The taxpayer is acquired directly or indirectly by a nonelecting entity which alone or together with those affiliates included in its combined report is larger than the taxpayer as measured by equity capital.

(2) With the permission of the Franchise Tax Board.

(c) In granting a change of election, the Franchise Tax Board shall impose any conditions which are necessary to prevent the avoidance of tax or clearly reflect income for the period the election was, or was purported to be, in effect. These conditions may include a requirement that income, including dividends paid from income earned while a water's-edge election was in effect, which would have been included in determining the income of the taxpayer from sources within and without this state pursuant to Section 25101 but for the water's-edge election shall be included in income in the year in which the election is changed.

(d) If the taxpayer desires in any year not to renew the election, the taxpayer shall serve written notice of nonrenewal upon the board at least 90 days in advance of the annual renewal date. Unless that written notice is provided to the board, the election shall be considered renewed as provided in subdivision (a).

(e) If the taxpayer serves notice of intent in any year not to renew the existing water's-edge election, that existing election shall remain in effect for the balance of the period remaining since the original election or the last renewal of the election, as the case may be.

SEC. 24. Section 25111.1 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

25111.1. For any income year beginning on or after January 1, 1994, consideration for water's-edge contracts in existence as of that date is no longer provided for by law. Those contracts are rescinded for any periods remaining on the contracts commencing on the first day of the taxpayer's income year that begins on or after January 1, 1994. Any fiscal year taxpayer whose contract is in effect as of December 31, 1993, shall continue to be bound by that contract until the close of its income year after January 1, 1994, and before December 31, 1994.

SEC. 25. Section 25112 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

25112. (a) If a taxpayer electing to file under Section 25110 fails to supply any information described in subdivision (b), the taxpayer shall pay a penalty of one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each income year with respect to which the failure occurs.

(b) A taxpayer electing pursuant to Section 25110 shall do all of the following:

(1) Retain and make available upon request the documents and information, including any questionnaires completed and submitted to the Internal Revenue Service or qualified states, which are necessary to audit issues involving attribution of income to the United States or foreign jurisdictions under Sections 482, 861, 863, 902, and 904, and Subpart F of Part III of Subchapter N, or similar sections of the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) Identify, upon request, principal officers or employees who have substantial knowledge of, and access to, documents and records which discuss pricing policies, profit centers, cost centers, and the methods of allocating income and expense among these centers. The information shall include the employees' titles and addresses.

(3) Retain and make available upon request all documents and correspondence ordinarily available to a bank or corporation included in the water's-edge election which are submitted to, or obtained from, the Internal Revenue Service, foreign countries or their territories or possessions, and competent authority pertaining to ruling requests, rulings, settlement resolutions, and competing claims involving jurisdictional assignment and sourcing of income that affect the assignment of income to the United States. The documents shall include all ruling requests and rulings on reorganizations involving foreign incorporation of branches, all ruling requests and rulings on changing a bank or corporation's jurisdictional incorporation, and all documents which are ordinarily available to a bank or corporation included in the water's-edge election which pertain to the determination of foreign tax liability, including examination reports issued by foreign taxing administrations. If the documents have been translated, the translations shall be furnished.

(4) Upon request, prepare and make available for each bank or corporation included in the information return referred to in Section 18634 in which the taxpayer is included, a list of each state of the United States, including the District of Columbia, territories or possessions, and each foreign country in which it has payroll, property, or sales. The sales shall be determined by destination whether or not the taxpayer is taxable in the destination jurisdiction.

(5) Retain and make available, upon request, information filed with the Internal Revenue Service to comply with Sections 6038, 6038A, 6038B, 6038C, and 6041 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(6) Upon request, prepare and make available for each bank or corporation organized or created under the laws of the United States or a political subdivision thereof, of which 50 percent or more of its voting stock is directly or indirectly owned or controlled, the information which would be included in the forms described in paragraph (5) if those forms were required for United States corporations.

(7) Retain and make available, upon request, all state tax returns filed by each bank or corporation included under subdivision (a) in each state, including the District of Columbia.

(8) Comply with reasonable requests for information necessary to determine or verify its net income, apportionment factors, or the geographic source of that income pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code.

(9) For purposes of this subdivision, information for any year shall be retained for that period of time in which the taxpayer's income or franchise tax liability to this state may be subject to adjustment, including all periods in which additional income or franchise taxes may be assessed or during which an appeal is pending before the State Board of Equalization or a lawsuit is pending in the courts of this state or the United States with respect to California franchise or income tax.

(c) If the failure continues for more than 90 days after the date on which the Franchise Tax Board mails notice of that failure to the taxpayer, the taxpayer shall pay a penalty (in addition to the amount required under subdivision (a)) of one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each 30-day period (or fraction thereof) during which the failure continues after the expiration of the 90-day period. The increase in any penalty under this subdivision shall not exceed twenty-four thousand dollars ($24,000).

(d) If the taxpayer fails to comply substantially with any formal document request arising out of the examination of the tax treatment of any item (hereinafter in this section referred to as the "examined item") before the 90th day after the date of the mailing of the request, any court having jurisdiction of a civil proceeding in which the tax treatment of the examined item is an issue may, upon motion by the Franchise Tax Board, prohibit the introduction by the taxpayer of documentation covered by that request.

(e) For purposes of this section, the time in which information is to be furnished (and the beginning of the 90-day period after notice by the Franchise Tax Board) shall be treated as beginning not earlier than the last day on which reasonable cause existed for failure to furnish the information.

(f) This section shall not apply with respect to any requested documentation if the taxpayer establishes that the failure to provide the documentation, as requested by the Franchise Tax Board, is due to reasonable cause. For purposes of subdivision (d), the fact that a foreign jurisdiction would impose a civil or criminal penalty on the taxpayer (or any other person) for disclosing the requested documentation is not reasonable cause unless, after in-camera review of the documentation, the court finds otherwise.

(g) For purposes of this section, the term "formal document request" means any request (made after the normal request procedures have failed to produce the requested documentation) for the production of documentation which is mailed by registered or certified mail to the taxpayer at its last known address and which sets forth all of the following:

(1) The time and place for the production of the documentation.

(2) A statement of the reason the documentation previously produced (if any) is not sufficient.

(3) A description of the documentation being sought.

(4) The consequences to the taxpayer of the failure to produce the documentation described in this section.

(h) Notwithstanding any other law or rule of law, any taxpayer to whom a formal document request is mailed may begin a proceeding to quash that request not later than the 90th day after the date the request was mailed. In any such proceeding, the Franchise Tax Board may seek to compel compliance with the request.

(i) The superior courts of the State of California for the Counties of Los Angeles, Sacramento, and San Diego, and for the City and County of San Francisco shall have jurisdiction to hear any proceeding brought under subdivision (h). An order denying the petition shall be deemed a final order which may be appealed.

The running of the 90-day period referred to in subdivision (c) shall be suspended during any period during which a proceeding brought under subdivision (h) is pending.

(j) For purposes of this section, "documentation" means any documentation which may be relevant or material to the tax treatment of the examined item.

(k) The Franchise Tax Board, and any court having jurisdiction over a proceeding under subdivision (g), may extend the 90-day period referred to in subdivision (b).

(l) If any bank or corporation takes any action as provided in subdivision (h), the running of any period of limitations under Sections 19057 to 19067, inclusive (relating to the assessment and collection of tax), or under Section 19704 (relating to criminal prosecutions) with respect to that bank or corporation shall be suspended for the period during which the proceedings under subdivision (h) and appeals thereto are pending.

SEC. 26. Section 25115 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

25115. (a) For income years beginning before January 1, 1994, each contract described in Section 25111 shall provide that a taxpayer making a water's-edge election pursuant to this article shall pay an annual amount to the Franchise Tax Board for deposit in the California Unitary Fund created pursuant to Section 16429.30 of the Government Code. One-third of the amount shall be deposited in the Local Project Account for Non-Transient Spending in the California Unitary Fund, and two-thirds of the amount shall be deposited in the Future Infrastructure State Targeted Account in the California Unitary Fund.

(b) The amount shall be equal to thirty-thousandths of 1 percent of the sum of the taxpayer's property and payroll assigned to this state for an income year of 12 full months ending during the calendar year 1986 and its sales assigned to this state for the current income year. A single corporation which is engaged in more than one business for which it is making separate elections shall determine the amount as provided in this section for each business for which it is electing to determine its income pursuant to Section 25110.

(c) The sum of the property, payroll, and sales, as calculated pursuant to subdivision (b) shall be reduced by the cumulative amount expended since January 1, 1987, for investment in new plants or facilities in this state, as defined in subdivision (d), and shall further be reduced by the amount expended for new employees in this state as defined in subdivision (f).

(d) A new plant or facility is property described in Section 70, constructed by or for the taxpayer, or new tangible personal property, the original use of which commences with the taxpayer in this state, provided that it is not a replacement, in whole or in part, for an existing plant or facility in this state. For purposes of this subdivision, "new tangible personal property" means the current year's acquisition of personal property classified as "machinery and equipment for industry, profession, or trade," "tools, molds, dies, jigs," and "computers and related equipment," as reported to either the county assessor pursuant to Section 441 or the State Board of Equalization pursuant to Section 826. A plant or facility shall be deemed a replacement if the taxpayer, or an affiliated bank or corporation, as defined in paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 25110, closes, takes out of service, sells, or leases to an unrelated party, in either the three immediately preceding or the three immediately succeeding years from the time the new plant or facility is operational, a plant or facility with a cost basis equal to 25 percent or more of the cost basis of the new plant or facility.

(e) The number of new employees in this state for any income year shall be determined by comparing the total number of work years in this state for the income year to the greater of (1) the average of the total number of work years in this state for the income years ending in 1985, 1986, and 1987, or (2) the total number of work years in this state for the income year ending in 1987. A "work year" means, in the case of workers who are paid an hourly wage, 2,000 paid hours, and in the case of salaried employees, a total of 12 paid months.

(f) The amount expended for new employees shall be equal to the product of the number of new employees determined pursuant to subdivision (e) and the average wages paid for each work year in this state for the income year.

(g) Each contract shall provide that the amount described in this section shall not be subject to any statutory changes, for the period the contract is in effect, without the consent of the taxpayer. Any statutory change shall be applicable for any renewal year beginning five years after that statutory change.

(h) Amounts determined pursuant to this section shall be collected and refunded in the same manner as the taxes imposed by this part and shall be subject to interest and penalties as provided in this part.

(i) In no event shall the amount determined pursuant to this section be less than ten-thousandths of 1 percent of the sum of the taxpayer's property, payroll, and sales in this state for the current year.

(j) For purposes of this section, the bank's or corporation's property, payroll, and sales in this state shall be determined pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 25120) of Chapter 17, and regulations adopted pursuant thereto, except that both of the following shall apply:

(1) Property shall include only property defined in Sections 25129 to 25131, inclusive.

(2) Sales shall not include gross receipts from the sale of real property and improvements thereto and the sale of the stock of a subsidiary unless that activity occurs as a regular part of the taxpayer's business.

(k) The annual amount otherwise determined pursuant to this section and payable under a contract described in Section 25111 shall not be imposed for an income year in which a taxpayer incurs no tax liability under Sections 25101 and 25110.

(l) If a taxpayer is reorganized into two or more separate entities, the 1986 property and payroll factors for the new entities shall be determined by the ratio of current property and payroll factors, excluding intangible property, for each new entity subject to tax in California to the total for all entities subject to tax in California for the year in which those entities are created. This ratio shall be applied to 1986 property and payroll and each entity shall be allocated a portion of the 1986 payments and payroll based on this ratio.

(m) Notwithstanding Section 24345, the amount imposed by this section shall be allowed as a deduction in computing the taxes imposed by this part.

(n) This section shall remain in effect until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 27. The amendments made to Sections 17052.12 and 23609 of the Revenue and Taxation Code in Sections 4 and 18 of this act shall apply to taxable and income years beginning on or after January 1, 1993.

SEC. 28. It is the intent of the Legislature that in construing Section 12 of this act, any regulations which may be promulgated by the Secretary of the Treasury under Section 1202(k) of the Internal Revenue Code, as added by Section 13113 of the Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1993 (P.L. 103-66), shall be applicable to the extent those treasury regulations do not conflict with any regulations that may be promulgated by the Franchise Tax Board under the regulatory authority granted under this act.

SEC. 29. The Legislative Analyst's office, in conjunction with the Franchise Tax Board, shall conduct a study of the effectiveness of the tax incentives provided by Section 12 of this act, and shall report the results of the study to the Legislature on or before December 31, 1996. The study shall address, but is not limited to, an evaluation of all of the following:

(a) The effect of Section 12 of this act on investor decisions, the amount of additional investment that occurred, and the number of additional jobs created in California as a result.

(b) An approximate distribution by industry of the qualifying small business stock investment made.

(c) The estimated state and local fiscal effect of the act.

SEC. 30. The Legislature finds and declares that, with respect to Section 2 of this act, a special law is necessary and that a general law cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution because of the unique location, facilities, and resources of Vandenberg Air Force Base, all of which establish that Vandenberg Air Force Base is uniquely suited for commercial space activities.

SEC. 31. Sections 3.5 and 17.5 of this bill incorporate amendments to Sections 17039 and 23036, respectively, of the Revenue and Taxation Code proposed by this bill and AB 57. Those sections shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1994, (2) each bill amends Section 17039 and 23036 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 57, in which case Sections 17039 and 23036 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by AB 57, shall remain operative only until the operative date of this bill, at which time Sections 3.5 and 17.5 of this bill shall become operative, and Sections 3 and 17 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 32. Section 9.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 17276 of the Revenue and Taxation Code proposed by both this bill and AB 34. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1994, (2) each bill amends Section 17276 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 34, in which case Section 17276 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by AB 34, shall remain operative only until the operative date of this bill, at which time Section 9.5 of this bill shall become operative, and Section 9 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 33. Notwithstanding Section 2230 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, no appropriation is made by this act and the state shall not reimburse any local agency for sales and use tax revenues lost by that agency under this act.

SEC. 34. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. However, except as provided in Section 27, the provisions of this act shall become operative on January 1, 1994, and shall be applied in the computation of taxes for income years beginning on or after January 1, 1994.

CHAPTER 882

An act to amend Sections 29550, 29550.1, and 29550.2 of the Government Code, relating to booking fees.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 8, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 29550 of the Government Code is amended to read:

29550. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a county may impose a fee upon a city, special district, school district, community college district, college, or university for reimbursement of county expenses incurred with respect to the booking or other processing of persons arrested by an employee of that city, special district, school district, community college district, college, or university, where the arrested persons are brought to the county jail for booking or detention. The fee imposed by a county pursuant to this section shall not exceed the actual administrative costs, including applicable overhead costs as permitted by federal Circular A-87 standards, as defined in subdivision (d), incurred in booking or otherwise processing arrested persons. A county may submit an invoice to a city, special district, school district, community college district, college, or university for these expenses incurred by the county on and after July 1, 1990. Counties shall fully disclose the costs allocated as federal Circular A-87 overhead.

(b) (1) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), a city, special district, school district, community college district, college, or university shall not be charged fees for arrests on any bench warrant for failure to appear in court, nor on any arrest warrant issued in connection with a crime not committed within the entity's jurisdiction.

(2) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), a city, special district, school district, community college district, college, or university shall not be charged fees for a person who is ordered by a court to be remanded to the county jail except that a county may charge a fee to recover those direct costs for those functions required to book a person pursuant to subdivision (g) of Section 853.6 of the Penal Code.

(3) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), a city, special district, school district, community college district, college, or university shall not be charged fees for arrests made pursuant to arrest warrants originating outside of its jurisdiction.

(4) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), no fees shall be charged to a city, special district, school district, community college, college, or university on parole violation arrests or probation-ordered returns to custody, unless a new charge has been filed for a crime committed in the jurisdiction of the arresting city, district, college, or university.

(5) An agency making a mutual aid request shall pay fees that result from arrests made in response to the mutual aid request except that in the event the Governor declares a state of emergency, no agency shall be charged fees for any arrest made during any riot, disturbance, or event that is subject to the declaration.

(6) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), no fees shall be charged to a city, special district, school district, community college, college, or university for the arrest of a prisoner who has escaped from a county, state, or federal detention or corrections facility.

(7) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), no fees shall be charged to a city, special district, school district, community college, college, or university for arrestees held in temporary detention at a court facility for purposes of arraignment when the arrestee has been previously booked at an entity detention facility.

(8) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), no fees shall be charged to a city, special district, school district, community college, college, or university as the result of an arrest made by its officer assigned to a formal multiagency task force in which the county is a participant. For the purposes of this section, "formal task force" means a task force that has been established by written agreement of the participating agencies.

(9) In those counties where the cities and the county participate in a consolidated booking program and where prior to arraignment an arrestee is transferred from a city detention facility to a county detention facility, the city shall not be charged for those tasks listed in subdivision (d) that are a part of the consolidated booking program which were completed by the city prior to delivering the arrestee to the county detention facility. However, the county may charge the actual administrative costs for those additional tasks listed in subdivision (d) that are performed in order to receive the arrestee into the county detention facility.

(c) Any county whose officer or agent arrests a person is entitled to recover from the arrested person a criminal justice administration fee for administrative costs it incurs in conjunction with the arrest if the person is convicted of any criminal offense related to the arrest. The fee which the county is entitled to recover pursuant to this subdivision shall not exceed the actual administrative costs, including applicable overhead costs incurred in booking or otherwise processing arrested persons. A judgment of conviction may contain an order for payment of the amount of the criminal justice administration fee by the convicted person, and execution may be issued on the order in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action, but the order shall not be enforceable by contempt. The court shall, as a condition of probation, order the convicted person, based on his or her ability to pay, to reimburse the county for the criminal justice administration fee including applicable overhead costs.

(d) As used in this section, "actual administrative costs" include only those costs for functions that are performed in order to receive an arrestee into a county detention facility. Operating expenses of the county jail facility including capitol costs and those costs involved in the housing, feeding, and care of inmates shall not be included in calculating "actual administrative costs." "Actual administrative costs" may include any one or more of the following as related to receiving an arrestee into the county detention facility:

(1) The searching, wristbanding, bathing, clothing, fingerprinting, photographing, and medical and mental screening of an arrestee.

(2) Document preparation, retrieval, updating, filing, and court scheduling related to receiving an arrestee into the detention facility.

(3) Warrant service, processing, and detainer.

(4) Inventory of an arrestee's money and creation of cash accounts.

(5) Inventory and storage of an arrestee's property.

(6) Inventory, laundry, and storage of an arrestee's clothing.

(7) The classification of an arrestee.

(8) The direct costs of automated services utilized in paragraphs (1) to (7), inclusive.

(9) Unit management and supervision of the detention function as related to paragraphs (1) to (8), inclusive.

(e) An administrative screening fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) shall be collected from each person arrested and released on his or her own recognizance upon conviction of any criminal offense related to the arrest other than an infraction. A citation processing fee in the amount of ten dollars ($10) shall be collected from each person cited and released by any peace officer in the field or at a jail facility upon conviction of any criminal offense, other than an infraction, related to the criminal offense cited in the notice to appear. However, the court may determine a lesser fee than otherwise provided in this subdivision upon a showing that the defendant is unable to pay the full amount. All fees collected pursuant to this subdivision shall be transmitted by the county auditor monthly to the Controller for deposit in the General Fund. This subdivision applies only to convictions occurring on or after the effective date of the act adding this subdivision and prior to June 30, 1996.

SEC. 2. Section 29550.1 of the Government Code is amended to read:

29550.1. Any city, special district, school district, community college district, college, university, or other local arresting agency whose officer or agent arrests a person is entitled to recover any criminal justice administration fee imposed by a county from the arrested person if the person is convicted of any criminal offense related to the arrest. A judgment of conviction shall contain an order for payment of the amount of the criminal justice administration fee by the convicted person, and execution may be issued on the order in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action, but the order shall not be enforceable by contempt. The court shall, as a condition of probation, order the convicted person to reimburse the city, special district, school district, community college district, college, university, or other local arresting agency for the criminal justice administration fee.

SEC. 3. Section 29550.2 of the Government Code is amended to read:

29550.2. (a) Any person booked into a county jail pursuant to any arrest by any governmental entity not specified in Section 29550 or 29550.1 is subject to a criminal justice administration fee for administration costs incurred in conjunction with the arresting and booking if the person is convicted of any criminal offense relating to the arrest and booking. The fee which the county is entitled to recover pursuant to this subdivision shall not exceed the actual administrative costs, as defined in subdivision (c), including applicable overhead costs as permitted by federal Circular A 87 standards, incurred in booking or otherwise processing arrested persons. If the person has the ability to pay, a judgment of conviction shall contain an order for payment of the amount of the criminal justice administration fee by the convicted person, and execution may be issued on the order in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action, but the order shall not be enforceable by contempt. The court shall, as a condition of probation, order the convicted person to reimburse the county for the criminal justice administration fee.

(b) All fees collected by a county as provided in this section and Section 29550, may be deposited into a special fund in that county which shall be used exclusively for the operation, maintenance, and construction of county jail facilities.

(c) As used in this section, "actual administrative costs" include only those costs for functions that are performed in order to receive an arrestee into a county detention facility. Operating expenses of the county jail facility including capital costs and those costs involved in the housing, feeding, and care of inmates shall not be included in calculating "actual administrative costs." "Actual administrative costs" may include any one or more of the following as related to receiving an arrestee into the county detention facility:

(1) The searching, wristbanding, bathing, clothing, fingerprinting, photographing, and medical and mental screening of an arrestee.

(2) Document preparation, retrieval, updating, filing, and court scheduling related to receiving an arrestee into the detention facility.

(3) Warrant service, processing, and detainer.

(4) Inventory of an arrestee's money and creation of cash accounts.

(5) Inventory and storage of an arrestee's property.

(6) Inventory, laundry, and storage of an arrestee's clothing.

(7) The classification of an arrestee.

(8) The direct costs of automated services utilized in paragraphs (1) to (7), inclusive.

(9) Unit management and supervision of the detention function as related to paragraphs (1) to (8), inclusive.

(d) It is the Legislature's intent in providing the definition of "actual administrative costs" for purposes of this section that this definition be used in determining the fees for the governmental entities referenced in subdivision (a) only. In interpreting the phrases "actual administrative costs," "criminal justice administration fee," "booking," or "otherwise processing" in Section 29550 or 29550.1, it is the further intent of the Legislature that the courts shall not look to this section for guidance on what the Legislature may have intended when it enacted those sections.

SEC. 4. It is the intent of the Legislature that the courts shall not look to Sections 29550 and 29550.1 of the Government Code for guidance in determining the criteria and basis for costs for those booking fees in effect prior to January 1, 1994.

However, the Legislature also intends that all fees in effect on or enacted after January 1, 1994, shall conform to the provisions of Sections 29550 and 29550.1 of the Government Code.

CHAPTER 883

An act to add Section 42283.1 to the Education Code, relating to school finance, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 8, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares that both the Alum Rock Union Elementary School District and the Patterson Joint Unified School District are considered to be large school districts that serve pupils from a wide and varied geographic area. Within these districts, Mt. Hamilton Elementary School and Harney Elementary School each have an enrollment of less than 300 pupils. Pupils presently attending Mt. Hamilton Elementary School and Harney Elementary School would have to travel long distances over hazardous terrain in order to attend other schools within the Alum Rock Union Elementary School District and the Patterson Joint Unified School District.

SEC. 2. Section 42283.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

42283.1. (a) Notwithstanding any provision of this article or any other provision of law, Mt. Hamilton Elementary School and Harney Elementary School each shall be deemed a necessary small school, as defined in Section 42283. In lieu of the amount calculated for necessary small schools, and in addition to the amount per unit of average daily attendance received by the districts, as calculated pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 42238), the Alum Rock Union Elementary School District shall receive in each fiscal year, commencing with the 1993–94 fiscal year, a twenty thousand dollar ($20,000) apportionment for Mt. Hamilton Elementary School and the Patterson Joint Unified School District shall receive a twenty thousand dollar ($20,000) apportionment for Harney Elementary School.

(b) If either Mt. Hamilton Elementary School or Harney Elementary School exceeds 20 units of average daily attendance in any fiscal year, then that school shall no longer be entitled to receive the apportionments set forth in subdivision (a).

SEC. 3. Due to the unique circumstances relating to both the Alum Rock Union Elementary School District and the Patterson Joint Unified School District as set forth in Section 1 of this act, the Legislature finds and declares that a general statute cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to make the apportionments available to the Alum Rock Union Elementary School District and the Patterson Joint Unified School District prior to the 1993–94 school year, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 884

An act to add and repeal Section 42285.2 to the Education Code, relating to school finance.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 8, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares that the Coachella Valley Unified School District is a large school district that serves pupils from a wide and varied geographic area. Within that district, West Shores High School and Sea View Elementary School each have a pupil population of less than 300. Pupils who presently attend those schools would have to travel long distances over hazardous terrain to attend other schools within the Coachella Valley Unified School District.

SEC. 2. Section 42285.2 is added to the Education Code, to read:

42285.2. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Coachella Valley Unified School District is eligible to receive apportionments for the Sea View Elementary School and for the West Shores High School pursuant to the schedule for necessary small high schools set forth in Section 42284.

(b) If the amount of average daily attendance of either school exceeds 300, then that school shall no longer be entitled to receive apportionments as set forth in this section.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of the law, the Department of Transportation shall notify the Legislature and the Secretary of State upon completion of California Department of Transportation Project Number 11-RIV-86, P.M. R22.0, 179800. After notification to the Legislature and the Secretary of State has occurred, this section shall remain in effect only until the July 1 after the then current fiscal year has elapsed, and as of that date this section is repealed.

SEC. 3. The Legislature finds and declares that due to the unique circumstances in Section 1 of this act regarding the Coachella Valley Unified School District, a general statute cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 885

An act to amend Section 41851 of the Education Code, relating to schools.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 8, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 41851 of the Education Code is amended to read:

41851. (a) For the 1992–93 fiscal year, from Section A of the State School Fund, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall apportion to each school district or county superintendent of schools, as appropriate, an amount computed pursuant to this section. School districts and county superintendents of schools that provide transportation services by means of a joint powers agreement, a cooperative pupil transportation program, or a consortium shall receive transportation allowances pursuant to this section.

(b) For the 1992–93 fiscal year, each school district or county office of education shall receive a home-to-school transportation apportionment equal to the transportation allowance received in the prior fiscal year reduced by the amount of the special education transportation allowance identified pursuant to Section 41851.5.

(c) For the 1993–94 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, each school district or county office of education shall receive the same home-to-school transportation allowance received in the prior fiscal year, but in no event shall that home-to-school transportation allowance exceed the prior year's approved home-to-school transportation costs, increased by the amount provided in the Budget Act.

(d) For the 1993–94 and 1994–95 fiscal years, each county unified school district for which the county board of education serves as the governing board that meets all of the following criteria shall receive an additional apportionment of three hundred fifty thousand dollars ($350,000):

(1) Over 50 percent of the pupils enrolled in the school district require home-to-school transportation services.

(2) Total enrollment of the school district is less than 3,500.

(3) Total miles driven each fiscal year for home-to-school transportation exceeds 500,000.

(e) Each county unified school district that receives an additional apportionment pursuant to subdivision (d) shall report, by September 1, 1995, on the amount of revenues received and the funds expended for the home-to-school transportation program in the 1992–93, 1993–94, and 1994–95 fiscal years. The report shall be submitted to the fiscal committees and education policy committees of the Legislature and to the Legislative Analyst.

CHAPTER 886

An act to add Sections 42238.2 and 42238.3 to the Education Code, relating to education funding.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 8, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 42238.2 is added to the Education Code, to read:

42238.2. (a) Notwithstanding Section 42238.5, a school district that experiences a decline in the number of units of average daily attendance in excess of 10 percent of its total average daily attendance as a result of the closure of a facility operated by a branch of the United States Armed Forces in that school district's boundaries shall be entitled to an adjustment to its units of average daily attendance pursuant to this section. The year preceding a decline shall be the base year.

(b) In the second year after the base year, the district average daily attendance pursuant to Section 42238.5 shall be increased by 75 percent of the difference between the base year units of average daily attendance and the units of average daily attendance in the first year of decline. In the third year after the base year, the district average daily attendance pursuant to Section 42238.5 shall be increased by 50 percent of the difference between the base year units of average daily attendance and the units of average daily attendance in the first year of decline. The amount of money represented by these increases shall be considered a loan to the school district.

(c) (1) The Superintendent of Public Instruction, in consultation with a school district subject to this section, shall determine a schedule for repayment of the total amount loaned pursuant to this section which may not exceed 10 years. Payments shall include interest charged at a rate based on the most current investment rate of the Pooled Money Investment Account in the General Fund as of the date of the disbursement of funds to the school district.

(2) Upon written notification by the Superintendent of Public Instruction that the school district has not made one or more of the payments required by the schedule established pursuant to paragraph (1), the Controller shall withhold from Section A of the State School Fund the defaulted payment which shall not exceed the amount of any apportionment entitlement of the district to moneys in Section A of the State School Fund. In that regard, the Controller shall withhold the amount of any payment made under this subdivision, including reimbursement of the Controller's administrative costs as determined under a schedule approved by the California Debt Advisory Commission, from subsequent apportionments to the school district from Section A of the State School Fund.

(3) Any apportionments made by the Controller pursuant to paragraph (2) shall be deemed to be an allocation to the school district for purposes of subdivision (b) of Section 8 of Article XVI of the California Constitution, and for purposes of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 41200) of Part 24.

(d) In no event shall the adjustment provided by this section cause the apportionment to a school district to exceed the amount that would otherwise be calculated for apportionment to the district pursuant to Sections 42238 and 42238.1.

(e) This section does not apply to a school district that experiences a decline in enrollment as a result of a school district reorganization pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 35500) of Part 21 or any other law.

SEC. 2. Section 42238.3 is added to the Education Code, to read:

42238.3. (a) Any district utilizing the adjustment pursuant to Section 42238.2 may, when subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 42238.2 are no longer applicable, adjust its revenue limit computed pursuant to Section 42238 to the statewide average revenue limit per unit of average daily attendance for its size and type of district, effective the year following the last year in which subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 42238.2 were effective, in proportion to the percentage of the loan that the school district has repaid pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 42238.2.

(b) This section does not apply to a school district that experiences a decline in enrollment as a result of a school district reorganization pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 35500) of Part 21 or any other law.

SEC. 3. When the provisions of Chapter 1261 of the Statutes of 1992 are no longer operative, relative to the adjustment of the base revenue limit for the Adelanto Elementary School District, the Adelanto Elementary School District may adjust its revenue limit computed pursuant to Section 42238 to the statewide average revenue limit per unit of average daily attendance for its size and type of district.

CHAPTER 887

An act to amend Sections 6011 and 6012 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 8, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6011 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

6011. (a) "Sales price" means the total amount for which tangible personal property is sold or leased or rented, as the case may be, valued in money, whether paid in money or otherwise, without any deduction on account of any of the following:

(1) The cost of the property sold.

(2) The cost of materials used, labor or service cost, interest charged, losses, or any other expenses.

(3) The cost of transportation of the property, except as excluded by other provisions of this section.

(b) The total amount for which the property is sold or leased or rented includes all of the following:

(1) Any services that are a part of the sale.

(2) Any amount for which credit is given to the purchaser by the seller.

(3) The amount of any tax imposed by the United States upon producers and importers of gasoline and the amount of any tax imposed pursuant to Part 2 (commencing with Section 7301) of this division.

(c) "Sales price" does not include any of the following:

(1) Cash discounts allowed and taken on sales.

(2) The amount charged for property returned by customers when that entire amount is refunded either in cash or credit, but this exclusion shall not apply in any instance when the customer, in order to obtain the refund, is required to purchase other property at a price greater than the amount charged for the property that is returned. For the purpose of this section, refund or credit of the entire amount shall be deemed to be given when the purchase price less rehandling and restocking costs are refunded or credited to the customer. The amount withheld for rehandling and restocking costs may be a percentage of the sales price determined by the average cost of rehandling and restocking returned merchandise during the previous accounting cycle.

(3) The amount charged for labor or services rendered in installing or applying the property sold.

(4) (A) The amount of any tax (not including, however, any manufacturers' or importers' excise tax, except as provided in subparagraph (B)) imposed by the United States upon or with respect to retail sales whether imposed upon the retailer or the consumer.

(B) The amount of manufacturers' or importers' excise tax imposed pursuant to Section 4091 of the Internal Revenue Code for which the purchaser certifies that he or she is entitled to either a direct refund or credit against his or her income tax for the federal excise tax paid.

(5) The amount of any tax imposed by any city, county, city and county, or rapid transit district within the State of California upon or with respect to retail sales of tangible personal property, measured by a stated percentage of sales price or gross receipts, whether imposed upon the retailer or the consumer.

(6) The amount of any tax imposed by any city, county, city and county, or rapid transit district within the State of California with respect to the storage, use or other consumption in that city, county, city and county, or rapid transit district of tangible personal property measured by a stated percentage of sales price or purchase price, whether the tax is imposed upon the retailer or the consumer.

(7) Separately stated charges for transportation from the retailer's place of business or other point from which shipment is made directly to the purchaser, but the exclusion shall not exceed a reasonable charge for transportation by facilities of the retailer or the cost to the retailer of transportation by other than facilities of the retailer. However, if the transportation is by facilities of the retailer, or the property is sold for a delivered price, this exclusion shall be applicable solely with respect to transportation which occurs after the purchase of the property is made.

(8) Charges for transporting landfill from an excavation site to a site specified by the purchaser, either if the charge is separately stated and does not exceed a reasonable charge or if the entire consideration consists of payment for transportation.

(9) The amount of any motor vehicle, mobilehome, or commercial coach fee or tax imposed by and paid the State of California that has been added to or is measured by a stated percentage of the sales or purchase price of a motor vehicle, mobilehome, or commercial coach.

(10) (A) The amount charged for intangible personal property transferred with tangible personal property in any technology transfer agreement, if the technology transfer agreement separately states a reasonable price for the tangible personal property.

(B) If the technology transfer agreement does not separately state a price for the tangible personal property, and the tangible personal property or like tangible personal property has been previously sold or leased, or offered for sale or lease, to third parties at a separate price, the price at which the tangible personal property was sold, leased, or offered to third parties shall be used to establish the retail fair market value of the tangible personal property subject to tax. The remaining amount charged under the technology transfer agreement is for the intangible personal property transferred.

(C) If the technology transfer agreement does not separately state a price for the tangible personal property, and the tangible personal property or like tangible personal property has not been previously sold or leased, or offered for sale or lease, to third parties at a separate price, the retail fair market value shall be equal to 200 percent of the cost of materials and labor used to produce the tangible personal property subject to tax. The remaining amount charged under the technology transfer agreement is for the intangible personal property transferred.

(D) For purposes of this paragraph, "technology transfer agreement" means any agreement under which a person who holds a patent or copyright interest assigns or licenses to another person the right to make and sell a product or to use a process that is subject to the patent or copyright interest.

SEC. 2. Section 6012 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

6012. (a) "Gross receipts" mean the total amount of the sale or lease or rental price, as the case may be, of the retail sales of retailers, valued in money, whether received in money or otherwise, without any deduction on account of any of the following:

(1) The cost of the property sold. However, in accordance with any rules and regulations as the board may prescribe, a deduction may be taken if the retailer has purchased property for some other purpose than resale, has reimbursed his or her vendor for tax which the vendor is required to pay to the state or has paid the use tax with respect to the property, and has resold the property prior to making any use of the property other than retention, demonstration, or display while holding it for sale in the regular course of business. If that deduction is taken by the retailer, no refund or credit will be allowed to his or her vendor with respect to the sale of the property.

(2) The cost of the materials used, labor or service cost, interest paid, losses, or any other expense.

(3) The cost of transportation of the property, except as excluded by other provisions of this section.

(4) The amount of any tax imposed by the United States upon producers and importers of gasoline and the amount of any tax imposed pursuant to Part 2 (commencing with Section 7301) of this division.

(b) The total amount of the sale or lease or rental price includes all of the following:

(1) Any services that are a part of the sale.

(2) All receipts, cash, credits and property of any kind.

(3) Any amount for which credit is allowed by the seller to the purchaser.

(c) "Gross receipts" do not include any of the following:

(1) Cash discounts allowed and taken on sales.

(2) Sale price of property returned by customers when that entire amount is refunded either in cash or credit, but this exclusion shall not apply in any instance when the customer, in order to obtain the refund, is required to purchase other property at a price greater than the amount charged for the property that is returned. For the purpose of this section, refund or credit of the entire amount shall be deemed to be given when the purchase price less rehandling and restocking costs are refunded or credited to the customer. The amount withheld for rehandling and restocking costs may be a percentage of the sales price determined by the average cost of rehandling and restocking returned merchandise during the previous accounting cycle.

(3) The price received for labor or services used in installing or applying the property sold.

(4) (A) The amount of any tax (not including, however, any manufacturers' or importers' excise tax, except as provided in subparagraph (B)) imposed by the United States upon or with respect to retail sales whether imposed upon the retailer or the consumer.

(B) The amount of manufacturers' or importers' excise tax imposed pursuant to Section 4091 of the Internal Revenue Code for which the purchaser certifies that he or she is entitled to either a direct refund or credit against his or her income tax for the federal excise tax paid.

(5) The amount of any tax imposed by any city, county, city and county, or rapid transit district within the State of California upon or with respect to retail sales of tangible personal property measured by a stated percentage of sales price or gross receipts whether imposed upon the retailer or the consumer.

(6) The amount of any tax imposed by any city, county, city and county, or rapid transit district within the State of California with respect to the storage, use or other consumption in that city, county, city and county, or rapid transit district of tangible personal property measured by a stated percentage of sales price or purchase price, whether the tax is imposed upon the retailer or the consumer.

(7) Separately stated charges for transportation from the retailer's place of business or other point from which shipment is made directly to the purchaser, but the exclusion shall not exceed a reasonable charge for transportation by facilities of the retailer or the cost to the retailer of transportation by other than facilities of the retailer. However, if the transportation is by facilities of the retailer, or the property is sold for a delivered price, this exclusion shall be applicable solely with respect to transportation which occurs after the sale of the property is made to the purchaser.

(8) Charges for transporting landfill from an excavation site to a site specified by the purchaser, either if the charge is separately stated and does not exceed a reasonable charge or if the entire consideration consists of payment for transportation.

(9) The amount of any motor vehicle, mobilehome, or commercial coach fee or tax imposed by and paid to the State of California that has been added to or is measured by a stated percentage of the sales or purchase price of a motor vehicle, mobilehome, or commercial coach.

(10) (A) The amount charged for intangible personal property transferred with tangible personal property in any technology transfer agreement, if the technology transfer agreement separately states a reasonable price for the tangible personal property.

(B) If the technology transfer agreement does not separately state a price for the tangible personal property, and the tangible personal property or like tangible personal property has been previously sold or leased, or offered for sale or lease, to third parties at a separate price, the price at which the tangible personal property was sold, leased, or offered to third parties shall be used to establish the retail fair market value of the tangible personal property subject to tax. The remaining amount charged under the technology transfer agreement is for the intangible personal property transferred.

(C) If the technology transfer agreement does not separately state a price for the tangible personal property, and the tangible personal property or like tangible personal property has not been previously sold or leased, or offered for sale or lease, to third parties at a separate price, the retail fair market value shall be equal to 200 percent of the cost of materials and labor used to produce the tangible personal property subject to tax. The remaining amount charged under the technology transfer agreement is for the intangible personal property transferred.

(D) For purposes of this paragraph, "technology transfer agreement" means any agreement under which a person who holds a patent or copyright interest assigns or licenses to another person the right to make and sell a product or to use a process that is subject to the patent or copyright interest.

For purposes of the sales tax, if the retailers establish to the satisfaction of the board that the sales tax has been added to the total amount of the sale price and has not been absorbed by them, the total amount of the sale price shall be deemed to be the amount received exclusive of the tax imposed. Section 1656.1 of the Civil Code shall apply in determining whether or not the retailers have absorbed the sales tax.

SEC. 3. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this act to clarify the application of the Sales and Use Tax Law (Part 1 (commencing with Section 6001) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code) to technology transfer agreements, as defined. It is also the intent of the Legislature that the amendments made by this act not create any inference regarding the application of the Sales and Use Tax Law to other transactions involving the transfer of both intangible rights and property and tangible personal property.

SEC. 4. Notwithstanding Section 2230 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, no appropriation is made by this act and the state shall not reimburse any local agency for any sales and use tax revenues lost by it under this act.

SEC. 5. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. However, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the first day of the first calendar quarter commencing more than 90 days after the effective date of this act.

CHAPTER 888

An act to amend Section 50078.12 of, and to repeal Section 50078.11 of, the Government Code, relating to fire suppression services.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 8, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 50078.11 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 50078.12 of the Government Code is amended to read:

50078.12. If the legislative body of a local agency finds that the protest is made by holders of property interests proposed to be assessed and who will be obligated to pay the proposed assessment for fire suppression service representing more than 10 percent but less than 50 percent of the total amount of expected revenue from the assessment, and protests are not withdrawn so as to reduce the same to less than 10 percent, the proposed assessment so protested shall either be submitted to approval by a majority of the voters of the county, city, district, zone, or area of benefit voting on the proposition or abandoned.

If the value of the protests equals 50 percent or more of the total amount of expected revenue from the assessment, and protests are not withdrawn so as to reduce the same to less than 50 percent, the proposed assessment so protested shall be abandoned.

CHAPTER 889

An act to add Section 798.25.5 to the Civil Code, relating to mobilehome parks.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 8, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 798.25.5 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

798.25.5. Any rule or regulation of a mobilehome park that (a) is unilaterally adopted by the management, (b) is implemented without the consent of the homeowners, and (c) by its terms purports to deny homeowners their right to a trial by jury or which would mandate binding arbitration of any dispute between the management and homeowners shall be void and unenforceable.

CHAPTER 890

An act to amend Sections 10207 and 10235 of, and to add Section 10232.5 to, the Government Code, relating to the Legislative Counsel.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 8, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10207 of the Government Code is amended to read:

10207. (a) The Legislative Counsel shall maintain the attorney-client relationship with each Member of the Legislature with respect to communications between the member and the Legislative Counsel except as otherwise provided by the rules of the Legislature. All materials arising out of this relationship, including but not limited to proposed bills and amendments, analyses, opinions and memoranda prepared by the Legislative Counsel, are not public records, except as otherwise provided by the rules of the Legislature or when released by the member for whom the material was prepared. When he or she determines that the public interest so requires, the Legislative Counsel may release any material arising out of the attorney-client relationship with a former Member of the Legislature who is not available to execute a release.

(b) (1) The Legislative Counsel shall maintain the attorney-client relationship with the Governor with respect to communications between the Governor and the Legislative Counsel. All materials arising out of this relationship, including, but not limited to, legal services concerning any bill in the Governor's hands for rejection, approval, or other action, legal services concerning any legal opinion provided to the Governor, and legal services concerning any matter as the circumstances permit and the Governor requests, prepared by the Legislative Counsel, are not public records, except when released by the Governor. When he or she determines that the public interest so requires, the Legislative Counsel may release any material arising out of the attorney-client relationship with a former Governor who is not available to execute a release.

(2) Whenever the Legislature Counsel issues an opinion to the Governor analyzing the constitutionality, operation, or effect of a bill or other legislative measure that is then pending before the Legislature, or of any amendment made or proposed to be made to that bill or measure, the Legislative Counsel shall deliver two copies of the opinion to the first-named author of the bill or measure as promptly as feasible after delivery of the original opinion, and shall also deliver a copy to any other author of the bill or measure who requests a copy.

SEC. 2. Section 10232.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

10232.5. Upon request, the Legislative Counsel may provide legal services to the State Auditor.

SEC. 3. Section 10235 of the Government Code is amended to read:

10235. (a) The Legislative Counsel shall give such consideration to and service concerning any bill in the Governor's hands for rejection, approval, or other action, as the circumstances will permit and the Governor requests.

(b) Upon request, the Legislative Counsel may provide to the Governor an opinion, orally or in writing, upon any question of law.

(c) The Legislative Counsel may provide additional legal services to the Governor concerning any matter as the circumstances permit and the Governor requests.

CHAPTER 891

An act to amend Sections 7056 and 19551 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and to amend Section 1095 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, relating to taxation.

[Approved by Governor October 6, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 8, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7056 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

7056. (a) (1) Excepting the information set forth on permits issued under Article 2 (commencing with Section 6066) of Chapter 2, the information set forth on certificates of registration issued pursuant to Section 6226, and the terms of any settlement made pursuant to Section 7093, it is unlawful for the board, any person having an administrative duty under this part or any person who obtains access to information contained in, or derived from, sales or transactions and use tax records of the board pursuant to subdivision (b), to make known in any manner whatever the business affairs, operations, or any other information pertaining to any retailer or any other person required to report to the board or pay a tax pursuant to this part, or the amount or source of income, profits, losses, expenditures, or any particular thereof, set forth or disclosed in any return, or to permit any return or copy thereof or any book containing any abstract or particulars thereof to be seen or examined by any person.

(2) It is also unlawful for any person, other than an officer or employee of a county, city and county, city, or district, who obtains access to information contained in, or derived from, sales or transactions and use tax records of the board pursuant to subdivision (b), to retain that information after that person's contract with the county, city and county, city, or district has expired.

(3) Notwithstanding paragraphs (1) and (2), the Governor may, by general or special order, authorize examination by other state officers, by tax officers of another state, by the federal government, if a reciprocal arrangement exists, by the tax officials of Mexico, if a reciprocal agreement exists, or by any other person of the records maintained by the board under this part. The information so obtained pursuant to the order of the Governor shall not be made public except to the extent and in the manner that the order may authorize that it be made public.

(b) When requested by resolution of the legislative body of any county, city and county, city, or district, the board shall permit any duly authorized officer or employee of the county, city and county, city, or district, or other person designated by that resolution, to examine all of the sales or transactions and use tax records of the board pertaining to sales or transactions and use taxes collected for the county, city and county, city, or district by the board pursuant to contract entered into between the board and the county, city and county, city, or district under the Bradley-Burns Uniform Local Sales and Use Tax Law (Part 1.5 (commencing with Section 7200)) or the Transactions and Use Tax Law (Part 1.6 (commencing with Section 7251)).

(1) The resolution shall certify that any person designated by the resolution, other than an officer or employee, meets all of the following conditions:

(A) Has an existing contract with the county, city and county, city, or district to examine those sales and use tax records.

(B) Is required by that contract to disclose information contained in, or derived from, those sales or transactions and use tax records only to an officer or employee of the county, city and county, city, or district who is authorized by the resolution to examine the information.

(C) Is prohibited by that contract from performing consulting services for a retailer during the term of that contract.

(D) Is prohibited by that contract from retaining the information contained in, or derived from, those sales or transactions and use tax records, after that contract has expired.

(2) Information obtained by examination of board records as permitted in this subdivision shall be used only for purposes related to the collection of local sales or transactions and use taxes by the board pursuant to the contract, or for purposes related to other governmental functions of the county, city and county, city, or district set forth in the resolution.

(c) If the board believes that any information obtained pursuant to subdivision (b) has been disclosed to any person not authorized or designated by the resolution of the legislative body of the county, city and county, city, or district, or has been used for purposes not permitted by subdivision (b), then notwithstanding subdivision (b), the board may impose conditions on access to its sales and use tax records which the board considers reasonable, in order to protect the confidentiality of those records.

(d) Predecessors, successors, receivers, trustees, executors, administrators, assignees, and guarantors, if directly interested, may be given information as to the items included in the measure and amounts of any unpaid tax or amounts of tax required to be collected, interest, and penalties.

(e) For purposes of this section, "reciprocal agreement" means a formal agreement to exchange information between national taxing officials of Mexico and taxing authorities of the State Board of Equalization, the Franchise Tax Board, and the Employment Development Department. Furthermore, the reciprocal agreement shall be limited to the exchange of information which is essential for tax administration purposes only. Taxing authorities of the State of California shall be granted tax information only on California residents. Taxing authorities of Mexico shall be granted tax information only on Mexican nationals.

SEC. 2. Section 19551 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

19551. (a) The Franchise Tax Board may permit the Commissioner of Internal Revenue of the United States, other tax officials of this state, the Multistate Tax Commission, the proper officer of any state imposing an income tax or a tax measured by income or the authorized representative of that officer, or the tax officials of Mexico, if a reciprocal agreement exists, to inspect the income tax returns of any taxpayer or partnership, or may furnish to the commission, or the officer or the authorized representative thereof an abstract of the return or supply thereto information concerning any item of income contained in any return or disclosed by the report of any investigation of the income or return. The information shall be furnished to the Multistate Tax Commission, the federal or state officer or his or her representative, or the officials of Mexico for tax purposes only. Except when furnished pursuant to a written agreement, information furnished pursuant to this section shall be furnished only if the request is in the form of an affidavit under penalty of perjury stating that the purpose for the request relates to an investigation of the tax specified in the request and that the information will be used in the ordinary performance of the applicant's official duties.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), tax officials of political subdivisions of this state shall request information from the Franchise Tax Board by affidavit only. At the time a tax official makes the request, he or she shall provide the affected person with a copy of the affidavit and, upon request, make the information obtained available to that person.

(c) For purposes of this section, "reciprocal agreement" means a formal agreement to exchange information between national taxing officials of Mexico and taxing authorities of the State Board of Equalization, the Franchise Tax Board, and the Employment Development Department. Furthermore, the reciprocal agreement shall be limited to the exchange of information which is essential for tax administration purposes only. Taxing authorities of the State of California shall be granted tax information only on California residents. Taxing authorities of Mexico shall be granted tax information only on Mexican nationals.

SEC. 3. Section 1095 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, as amended by Chapter 295 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

1095. The director shall permit the use of any information in his or her possession to the extent necessary for any of the following purposes:

(a) To properly present a claim for benefits.

(b) To acquaint a worker or his or her authorized agent with his or her existing or prospective right to benefits.

(c) To furnish an employer or his or her authorized agent with information to enable him or her to fully discharge his or her obligations or safeguard his or her rights under this division or Division 3 (commencing with Section 9000). This subdivision, as it relates to Division 3 (commencing with Section 9000), applies only to subdivision (j) of this section.

(d) To enable an employer to receive a reduction in contribution rate.

(e) To enable the Director of Social Services or his or her representatives or the State Director of Health Services or his or her representatives, subject to federal law, to verify or determine the eligibility or entitlement of an applicant for, or a recipient of, public social services provided pursuant to the Welfare and Institutions Code, and directly connected with, and limited to, the administration of public social services.

(f) To enable county administrators of general relief or assistance, or their representatives, to determine entitlement to locally provided general relief or assistance, where the determination is directly connected with, and limited to, the administration of general relief or assistance.

(g) To enable county district attorneys, or their representatives, to seek criminal, civil, or administrative remedies in connection with the unlawful application for, or receipt of, relief provided under Division 9 (commencing with Section 10000) of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(h) To enable the director or his or her representative to carry out his or her responsibilities under this code.

(i) To enable county departments of collection or their representatives to determine entitlement to medical assistance services rendered pursuant to Part 5 (commencing with Section 17000) of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and, when appropriate, to enable collection for the county's expenditures for these medical assistance services.

(j) To furnish an employer, or his or her authorized agent, with information including, but not limited to, the applicant's or recipient's name, social security number, address, employable skills, and job placement in order to enable him or her to fully discharge his or her obligations or safeguard his or her rights under the elements of a joint union, management, and Employment Development Department agreement as are deemed necessary to assist displaced workers to obtain new employment under the provisions of Chapter 2.9 (commencing with Section 9970) of Part 1 of Division 3 and related provisions of Division 3 (commencing with Section 9000). The information shall be limited to any information gathered under these divisions by the department and authorized for release by the labor organization which shall act as an agent for the affected workers under terms of the agreement and shall participate in defining the information release provisions.

(k) To provide any law enforcement agency with the name, address, telephone number, birth date, social security number, physical description, and names and addresses of present and past employers, of any victim, suspect, missing person, potential witness, or person for whom a felony arrest warrant has been issued, when a request for this information is made by any investigator or peace officer as defined by Sections 830.1 and 830.2 of the Penal Code and designated by the head of the law enforcement agency and who requests this information in the course of and as a part of an investigation into the commission of a crime where there is a reasonable suspicion that the crime is a felony and that the information would lead to relevant evidence. The information provided pursuant to this subdivision shall be provided to the extent permitted by federal law and regulations, and to the extent the information is available and accessible within the constraints and configurations of existing department records. Any person who receives any information under this subdivision shall make a written report of the information to the law enforcement agency that employs him or her, for filing under the normal procedures of that agency. Any officer or employee of the department who discloses information in violation of this subdivision is guilty of a misdemeanor. Any person who obtains information in violation of this subdivision is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(1) This subdivision shall not be construed to authorize the release of a general list identifying individuals applying for or receiving benefits to any law enforcement agency.

(2) The department shall maintain records pursuant to this subdivision only for periods required under regulations or statutes enacted for the administration of its programs.

(3) This subdivision shall not be construed as limiting the information provided to law enforcement agencies to that pertaining only to applicants for, or recipients of, benefits.

(4) The department shall notify all applicants for benefits that release of confidential information from their records will not be protected should there be a felony arrest warrant issued against the applicant or in the event of an investigation by a law enforcement agency into the commission of a felony.

(l) Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize or permit the use of information obtained in the administration of this code by any private collection agency.

(m) To provide the State Teachers' Retirement System, pursuant to Section 23910.3 of the Education Code, with information relating to the earnings of any person who is receiving a disability allowance from the State Teachers' Retirement System. The earnings information shall be released to the Teachers' Retirement Board only upon written request from the board specifying that the person is receiving a disability allowance from the system. The request may be made by the chief executive officer of the system or by an employee of the system so authorized and identified by name and title by the chief executive officer in writing.

(n) To provide the Public Employees' Retirement System, pursuant to Section 20143 of the Government Code, with information relating to the earnings of any person who is receiving a disability retirement allowance from the Public Employees' Retirement System. The earnings information shall be released to the Board of Administration of the system only upon written request from the board specifying that the person is receiving a disability retirement allowance from the system. The request may be made by the executive officer of the system or by an employee of the system so authorized and identified by name and title by the executive officer in writing.

(o) To provide the University of California Retirement System with information in its possession relating to the earnings of any person who has applied for or is receiving disability income from the system. The earnings information shall be disclosed only upon written request from the system specifying that the person has applied for or is receiving disability income from the system. The request may be made by the chief administrative officer of the system or by an employee so authorized and identified by name and title by the chief administrative officer in writing. The system shall notify applicants for and recipients of disability income that earnings information from the department's records will be released upon the system's request. The information obtained pursuant to this subdivision shall be used or disclosed by the system only to determine or to verify entitlement to, or continuing eligibility for, disability income. The system shall reimburse the department for all reasonable administrative expenses incurred pursuant to this subdivision.

(p) To enable the Division of Labor Standards Enforcement in the Department of Industrial Relations to seek criminal, civil, or administrative remedies in connection with the failure to pay, or the unlawful payment of, wages pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 200) of Part 1 of Division 2 of, and Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 1720) of Part 7 of Division 2 of, the Labor Code. The Division of Labor Standards Enforcement shall reimburse the department for all reasonable administrative expenses incurred pursuant to this subdivision.

(q) To enable the federal Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Child Support Enforcement, Federal Parent Locator Service, to administer its child support enforcement programs under Title IV of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 651 et seq.).

(r) To provide county probation departments with wage and claim information in its possession that will assist those departments in the location of victims of crime who, by state mandate or court order, are entitled to restitution that has been, or can be recovered, and to assist in the collection of money owed to the county or the state by any person who has been directed by state mandate or court order to pay restitution, fines, penalties, assessments, or fees as a result of a violation of law. Information provided about victims of crime shall be limited to data necessary to assist in locating them. The county shall reimburse the department for all reasonable administrative expenses incurred pursuant to this subdivision. Except as provided by Section 1463.007 of the Penal Code, any officer or employee of the department who discloses information in violation of this subdivision is guilty of a misdemeanor. Except as provided by Section 1463.007 of the Penal Code, any person who obtains information in violation of this subdivision is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(s) To provide the Student Aid Commission with information concerning any individuals who are delinquent or in default on guaranteed student loans or who owe repayment of funds received through other financial assistance programs administered by the commission. The information obtained pursuant to this subdivision shall be utilized by the commission exclusively to enable the collection of defaulted loans and other funds owed, pursuant to the authority granted in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 69500) of Part 42 of the Education Code and Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 30000) of Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations. The information released by the director for the purposes of this subdivision shall not include any employment, wage, or other information concerning any person who is receiving unemployment insurance benefits. The information shall be released to the commission only upon written request from the director of the commission or by an employee so authorized and identified by name and title by the director. The commission shall reimburse the department for all reasonable administrative expenses incurred pursuant to this subdivision.

(t) To provide an authorized governmental agency with any or all relevant information that relates to any specific workers' compensation insurance fraud investigation. The information shall be provided to the extent permitted by federal law and regulations. For the purposes of this subdivision, "authorized governmental agency" means the district attorney of any county, the office of the Attorney General, the Department of Industrial Relations, and the Department of Insurance. An authorized governmental agency may disclose this information to the State Bar, the Medical Board of California, or any other licensing board or department whose licensee is the subject of a workers' compensation insurance fraud investigation. This subdivision shall not prevent any authorized governmental agency from reporting to any board or department the suspected misconduct of any licensee of that body. The Department of Insurance or Department of Industrial Relations shall reimburse the department for all reasonable administrative expenses incurred relative to a request that it submits pursuant to this subdivision. Relevant information may include, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(1) Copies of unemployment and disability insurance application and claim forms and copies of any supporting medical records, documentation, and records pertaining thereto.

(2) Copies of returns filed by an employer pursuant to Section 1088 and copies of supporting documentation.

(3) Copies of benefit payment checks issued to claimants.

(4) Copies of any documentation that specifically identifies the claimant by social security number, residence address, or telephone number.

(u) To provide employment tax information to the tax officials of Mexico, if a reciprocal agreement exists. For purposes of this subdivision, "reciprocal agreement" means a formal agreement to exchange information between national taxing officials of Mexico and taxing authorities of the State Board of Equalization, the Franchise Tax Board, and the Employment Development

Department. Furthermore, the reciprocal agreement shall be limited to the exchange of information which is essential for tax administration purposes only. Taxing authorities of the State of California shall be granted tax information only on California residents. Taxing authorities of Mexico shall be granted tax information only on Mexican nationals.

SEC. 4. Section 1095 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, as amended by Chapter 295 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

1095. The director shall permit the use of any information in his or her possession to the extent necessary for any of the following purposes:

(a) To properly present a claim for benefits.

(b) To acquaint a worker or his or her authorized agent with his or her existing or prospective right to benefits.

(c) To furnish an employer or his or her authorized agent with information to enable him or her to fully discharge his or her obligations or safeguard his or her rights under this division or Division 3 (commencing with Section 9000). This subdivision, as it relates to Division 3 (commencing with Section 9000), applies only to subdivision (j) of this section.

(d) To enable an employer to receive a reduction in contribution rate.

(e) To enable the Director of Social Services or his or her representatives or the Director of Health Services or his or her representatives, subject to federal law, to verify or determine the eligibility or entitlement of an applicant for, or a recipient of, public social services provided pursuant to the Welfare and Institutions Code, and directly connected with, and limited to, the administration of public social services.

(f) To enable county administrators of general relief or assistance, or their representatives, to determine entitlement to locally provided general relief or assistance, where the determination is directly connected with, and limited to, the administration of general relief or assistance.

(g) To enable county district attorneys, or their representatives, to seek criminal, civil, or administrative remedies in connection with the unlawful application for, or receipt of, relief provided under Division 9 (commencing with Section 10000) of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(h) To enable the director or his or her representative to carry out his or her responsibilities under this code.

(i) To enable county departments of collection or their representatives to determine entitlement to medical assistance services rendered pursuant to Part 5 (commencing with Section 17000) of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and, when appropriate, to enable collection for the county's expenditures for these medical assistance services.

(j) To furnish an employer, or his or her authorized agent, with information including, but not limited to, the applicant's or recipient's name, social security number, address, employable skills, and job placement in order to enable him or her to fully discharge his or her obligations or safeguard his or her rights under the elements of a joint union, management, and Employment Development Department agreement as are deemed necessary to assist displaced workers to obtain new employment under the provisions of Chapter 2.9 (commencing with Section 9970) of Part 1 of Division 3 and related provisions of Division 3 (commencing with Section 9000). The information shall be limited to any information gathered under these divisions by the department and authorized for release by the labor organization which shall act as an agent for the affected workers under terms of the agreement and shall participate in defining the information release provisions.

(k) To provide any law enforcement agency with the name, address, telephone number, birth date, social security number, physical description, and names and addresses of present and past employers, of any victim, suspect, missing person, potential witness, or person for whom a felony arrest warrant has been issued, when a request for this information is made by any investigator or peace officer as defined by Sections 830.1 and 830.2 of the Penal Code and designated by the head of the law enforcement agency and who requests this information in the course of and as a part of an investigation into the commission of a crime where there is a reasonable suspicion that the crime is a felony and that the information would lead to relevant evidence. The information provided pursuant to this subdivision shall be provided to the extent permitted by federal law and regulations, and to the extent the information is available and accessible within the constraints and configurations of existing department records. Any person who receives any information under this subdivision shall make a written report of the information to the law enforcement agency that employs him or her, for filing under the normal procedures of that agency. Any officer or employee of the department who discloses information in violation of this subdivision is guilty of a misdemeanor. Any person who obtains information in violation of this subdivision is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(1) This subdivision shall not be construed to authorize the release of a general list identifying individuals applying for or receiving benefits to any law enforcement agency.

(2) The department shall maintain records pursuant to this subdivision only for periods required under regulations or statutes enacted for the administration of its programs.

(3) This subdivision shall not be construed as limiting the information provided to law enforcement agencies to that pertaining only to applicants for, or recipients of, benefits.

(4) The department shall notify all applicants for benefits that release of confidential information from their records will not be protected should there be a felony arrest warrant issued against the applicant or in the event of an investigation by a law enforcement agency into the commission of a felony.

(l) Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize or permit the use of information obtained in the administration of this code by any private collection agency.

(m) To provide the State Teachers' Retirement System, pursuant to Section 22242 of the Education Code, with information relating to the earnings of any person who is receiving a disability allowance, or disability retirement allowance from the State Teachers' Retirement System. The earnings information shall be released to the Teachers' Retirement Board only upon written request from the board specifying that the person is receiving a disability allowance or disability retirement allowance from the system. The request may be made by the chief executive officer of the system or by an employee of the system so authorized and identified by name and title by the chief executive officer in writing.

(n) To provide the Public Employees' Retirement System, pursuant to Section 20143 of the Government Code, with information relating to the earnings of any person who is receiving a disability retirement allowance from the Public Employees' Retirement System. The earnings information shall be released to the Board of Administration of the system only upon written request from the board specifying that the person is receiving a disability retirement allowance from the system. The request may be made by the executive officer of the system or by an employee of the system so authorized and identified by name and title by the executive officer in writing.

(o) To provide the University of California Retirement System with information in its possession relating to the earnings of any person who has applied for or is receiving disability income from the system. The earnings information shall be disclosed only upon written request from the system specifying that the person has applied for or is receiving disability income from the system. The request may be made by the chief administrative officer of the system or by an employee so authorized and identified by name and title by the chief administrative officer in writing. The system shall notify applicants for and recipients of disability income that earnings information from the department's records will be released upon the system's request. The information obtained pursuant to this subdivision shall be used or disclosed by the system only to determine or to verify entitlement to, or continuing eligibility for, disability income. The system shall reimburse the department for all reasonable administrative expenses incurred pursuant to this subdivision.

(p) To enable the Division of Labor Standards Enforcement in the Department of Industrial Relations to seek criminal, civil, or administrative remedies in connection with the failure to pay, or the unlawful payment of, wages pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 200) of Part 1 of Division 2 of, and Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 1720) of Part 7 of Division 2 of, the Labor

Code. The Division of Labor Standards Enforcement shall reimburse the department for all reasonable administrative expenses incurred pursuant to this subdivision.

(q) To enable the federal Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Child Support Enforcement, Federal Parent Locator Service, to administer its child support enforcement programs under Title IV of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 651 et seq.).

(r) To provide county probation departments with wage and claim information in its possession that will assist those departments in the location of victims of crime who, by state mandate or court order, are entitled to restitution that has been, or can be recovered, and to assist in the collection of money owed to the county or the state by any person who has been directed by state mandate or court order to pay restitution, fines, penalties, assessments, or fees as a result of a violation of law. Information provided about victims of crime shall be limited to data necessary to assist in locating them. The county shall reimburse the department for all reasonable administrative expenses incurred pursuant to this subdivision. Except as provided by Section 1463.007 of the Penal Code, any officer or employee of the department who discloses information in violation of this subdivision is guilty of a misdemeanor. Except as provided by Section 1463.007 of the Penal Code, any person who obtains information in violation of this subdivision is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(s) To provide the Student Aid Commission with information concerning any individuals who are delinquent or in default on guaranteed student loans or who owe repayment of funds received through other financial assistance programs administered by the commission. The information obtained pursuant to this subdivision shall be utilized by the commission exclusively to enable the collection of defaulted loans and other funds owed, pursuant to the authority granted in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 69500) of Part 42 of the Education Code and Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 30000) of Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations. The information released by the director for the purposes of this subdivision shall not include any employment, wage, or other information concerning any person who is receiving unemployment insurance benefits. The information shall be released to the commission only upon written request from the director of the commission or by an employee so authorized and identified by name and title by the director. The commission shall reimburse the department for all reasonable administrative expenses incurred pursuant to this subdivision.

(t) To provide an authorized governmental agency with any or all relevant information that relates to any specific workers' compensation insurance fraud investigation. The information shall be provided to the extent permitted by federal law and regulations. For the purposes of this subdivision, "authorized governmental agency" means the district attorney of any county, the office of the Attorney General, the Department of Industrial Relations, and the Department of Insurance. An authorized governmental agency may disclose this information to the State Bar, the Medical Board of California, or any other licensing board or department whose licensee is the subject of a workers' compensation insurance fraud investigation. This subdivision shall not prevent any authorized governmental agency from reporting to any board or department the suspected misconduct of any licensee of that body. The Department of Insurance or Department of Industrial Relations shall reimburse the department for all reasonable administrative expenses incurred relative to a request that it submits pursuant to this subdivision. Relevant information may include, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(1) Copies of unemployment and disability insurance application and claim forms and copies of any supporting medical records, documentation, and records pertaining thereto.

(2) Copies of returns filed by an employer pursuant to Section 1088 and copies of supporting documentation.

(3) Copies of benefit payment checks issued to claimants.

(4) Copies of any documentation that specifically identifies the claimant by social security number, residence address, or telephone number.

(u) To provide employment tax information to the tax officials of Mexico, if a reciprocal agreement exists.

For purposes of this subdivision, "reciprocal agreement" means a formal agreement to exchange information between national taxing officials of Mexico and taxing authorities of the State Board of Equalization, the Franchise Tax Board, and the Employment Development Department. Furthermore, the reciprocal agreement shall be limited to the exchange of information which is essential for tax administration purposes only. Taxing authorities of the State of California shall be granted tax information only on California residents. Taxing authorities of Mexico shall be granted tax information only on Mexican nationals.

SEC. 5. Section 4 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 1095 of the Unemployment Insurance Code proposed by both this bill and SB 857. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1994, (2) each bill amends Section 1095 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 857, in which case Section 3 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 892

An act to amend Sections 358.1, 361.3, 361.5, 366.21, 366.22, 366.25, and 366.26 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to minors.

[Approved by Governor October 7, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 8, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 358.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

358.1. Each social study or evaluation made by a probation officer or child advocate appointed by the court, required to be received in evidence pursuant to Section 358 shall include, but not be limited to, a factual discussion of each of the following subjects:

(a) Whether the county welfare department or probation officer has considered child protective services, as defined in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 16500) of Part 4 of Division 9, as a possible solution to the problems at hand, and has offered these services to qualified parents if appropriate under the circumstances.

(b) What plan, if any, for return of the child is recommended to the court by the county welfare department or probation officer.

(c) Whether the best interests of the minor will be served by granting reasonable visitation rights with the minor to his or her grandparents, in order to maintain and strengthen the minor's family relationships.

(d) Whether the subject child appears to be a person who is eligible to be considered for further court action to free the child from parental custody and control.

(e) The appropriateness of any relative placement pursuant to Section 361.3; however, this consideration shall not be cause for continuance of the dispositional hearing.

SEC. 2. Section 361.3 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

361.3. (a) In any case in which a child is removed from the physical custody of his or her parents pursuant to Section 361, preferential consideration shall be given to a request by a relative of the child for placement of the child with the relative. In determining whether placement with a relative is appropriate, the county social worker and court shall consider, but shall not be limited to, consideration of the following factors:

(1) The best interests of the child, including special physical, psychological, or emotional needs.

(2) The wishes of the parent.

(3) The provisions of Part 6 (commencing with Section 7950) of Division 12 of the Family Code regarding relative placement.

(4) Placement of siblings and half-siblings in the same home, if such a placement is found to be in the best interest of each of the children.

(5) The good moral character of the relative.

(6) The ability of the relative to do the following:

(A) Provide a secure and stable environment for the child.

(B) Exercise proper and effective care and control of the child.

(C) Provide a home and the necessities of life for the child.

(D) Protect the child from his or her parents.

(E) Facilitate court-ordered reunification efforts with the parents.

(F) Facilitate visitation with the child's other relatives.

In this regard, the Legislature declares that a physical disability, such as blindness or deafness, is no bar to the raising of children, and a county social worker's determination as to the ability of a disabled relative to exercise care and control should center upon whether the relative's disability prevents him or her from exercising care and control. The county social worker shall ask the parents if there are any relatives that should be considered for placement. This inquiry shall not be construed, however, to guarantee that the minor will be placed with any person so identified. The county social worker shall further investigate the existence of other relatives for possible placement and document these efforts in the social study prepared pursuant to Section 358.1. However, this investigation shall not be construed as good cause for continuance of the dispositional hearing conducted pursuant to Section 358.

(b) In any case in which more than one appropriate relative requests preferential consideration pursuant to this section, each relative shall be considered under the factors enumerated in subdivision (a).

(c) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Preferential consideration" means that the relative seeking placement shall be the first placement to be considered and investigated.

(2) "Relative" means an adult who is a grandparent, aunt, uncle, or sibling.

(d) Subsequent to the hearing conducted pursuant to Section 358, whenever a new placement of the minor must be made, consideration for placement shall again be given as described in this section to relatives who have not been found to be unsuitable and who will fulfill the minor's reunification or permanent plan requirements. In addition to the factors described in subdivision (a), the county social worker shall consider whether the relative has established and maintained a relationship with the minor.

SEC. 2.5. Section 361.3 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

361.3. (a) In any case in which a child is removed from the physical custody of his or her parents pursuant to Section 361, preferential consideration shall be given to a request by a relative of the child for placement of the child with the relative. In determining whether placement with a relative is appropriate, the county social worker and court shall consider, but shall not be limited to, consideration of the following factors:

(1) The best interests of the child, including special physical, psychological, or emotional needs.

(2) The wishes of the parent.

(3) The provisions of Part 6 (commencing with Section 7950) of Division 12 of the Family Code regarding relative placement.

(4) Placement of siblings and half-siblings in the same home, if such a placement is found to be in the best interest of each of the children.

(5) The good moral character of the relative.

(6) The ability of the relative to do the following:

(A) Provide a secure and stable environment for the child.

(B) Exercise proper and effective care and control of the child.

(C) Provide a home and the necessities of life for the child.

(D) Protect the child from his or her parents.

(E) Facilitate court-ordered reunification efforts with the parents.

(F) Facilitate visitation with the child's other relatives.

In this regard, the Legislature declares that a physical disability, such as blindness or deafness, is no bar to the raising of children, and a county social worker's determination as to the ability of a disabled relative to exercise care and control should center upon whether the relative's disability prevents him or her from exercising care and control. The county social worker shall ask the parents if there are any relatives that should be considered for placement. This inquiry shall not be construed, however, to guarantee that the minor will be placed with any person so identified. The county social worker shall further investigate the existence of other relatives for possible placement and document these efforts in the social study prepared pursuant to Section 358.1. However, this investigation shall not be construed as good cause for continuance of the dispositional hearing conducted pursuant to Section 358.

(b) In any case in which more than one appropriate relative requests preferential consideration pursuant to this section, each relative shall be considered under the factors enumerated in subdivision (a).

(c) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Preferential consideration" means that the relative seeking placement shall be the first placement to be considered and investigated.

(2) "Relative" means an adult who is a grandparent, aunt, uncle, or sibling.

(d) Subsequent to the hearing conducted pursuant to Section 358, whenever a new placement of the minor must be made, consideration for placement shall again be given as described in this section to relatives who have not been found to be unsuitable and who will fulfill the minor's reunification or permanent plan requirements. In addition to the factors described in subdivision (a), the county social worker shall consider whether the relative has established and maintained a relationship with the minor.

(e) If the court does not place the child with a relative who has been considered for placement pursuant to this section, the court shall state for the record the reasons placement with that relative was denied.

SEC. 3. Section 361.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

361.5. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), whenever a minor is removed from a parent's or guardian's custody, the juvenile court shall order the probation officer to provide child welfare services to the minor and the minor's parents or guardians for the purpose of facilitating reunification of the family within a maximum time period not to exceed 12 months. The court also shall make findings pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 366. When counseling or other treatment services are ordered, the parent or guardian shall be ordered to participate in those services, unless the parent's or guardian's participation is deemed by the court to be inappropriate or potentially detrimental to the child. Services may be extended up to an additional six months if it can be shown that the objectives of the service plan can be achieved within the extended time period. Physical custody of the minor by the parents or guardians during the 18-month period shall not serve to interrupt the running of the period. If at the end of the 18-month period, a child cannot be safely returned to the care and custody of a parent or guardian without court supervision, but the child clearly desires contact with the parent or guardian, the court shall take the child's desire into account in devising a permanency plan.

Except in cases where, pursuant to subdivision (b), the court does not order reunification services, the court shall inform the parent or parents of Section 366.25 or 366.26 and shall specify that the parent's or parents' parental rights may be terminated.

(b) Reunification services need not be provided to a parent or guardian described in this subdivision when the court finds, by clear and convincing evidence, any of the following:

(1) That the whereabouts of the parent or guardian is unknown. A finding pursuant to this paragraph shall be supported by an affidavit or by proof that a reasonably diligent search has failed to locate the parent or guardian. The posting or publication of notices is not required in that search.

(2) That the parent or guardian is suffering from a mental disability that is described in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 7820) of Part 4 of Division 12 of the Family Code and that renders him or her incapable of utilizing those services.

(3) That the minor had been previously adjudicated a dependent pursuant to any subdivision of Section 300 as a result of physical or sexual abuse, that following that adjudication the minor had been removed from the custody of his or her parent or guardian pursuant to Section 361, that the minor has been returned to the custody of the parent or parents or guardian or guardians from whom the minor had been taken originally, and that the minor is being removed pursuant to Section 361, due to additional physical or sexual abuse. However, this section is not applicable if the jurisdiction of the juvenile court has been dismissed prior to the additional abuse.

(4) That the parent or guardian of the minor has been convicted of causing the death of another child through abuse or neglect.

(5) That the minor was brought within the jurisdiction of the court under subdivision (e) of Section 300 because of the conduct of that parent or guardian.

(6) That the minor has been adjudicated a dependent pursuant to any subdivision of Section 300 as a result of severe sexual abuse or the infliction of severe physical harm by a parent or guardian, as defined in this subdivision, and the court makes a factual finding that it would not benefit the child to pursue reunification services with the offending parent or guardian.

A finding of severe sexual abuse, for the purposes of this subdivision, may be based on, but is not limited to, sexual intercourse or stimulation involving genital-genital, oral-genital, anal-genital, or oral-anal contact, whether between the parent or guardian and the child, or between the child and another person or animal with the actual or implied consent of, and for the financial gain or other advantage of, the parent or guardian; or the penetration or manipulation of the child's genital organs or rectum by any animate or inanimate object, for the sexual gratification of the parent or guardian, or for the sexual gratification of another person with the actual or implied consent of, and for the financial gain or other advantage of, the parent or guardian.

A finding of the infliction of severe physical harm, for the purposes of this subdivision, may be based on, but is not limited to, deliberate and serious injury inflicted to or on a child's body by an act or omission of the parent or guardian, or of another individual or animal with the consent of the parent or guardian; deliberate and torturous confinement of the child in a closed space; or any other torturous act or omission which would be reasonably understood to cause serious emotional damage.

(c) In deciding whether to order reunification in any case in which this section applies, the court shall hold a dispositional hearing. The probation officer shall prepare a report which discusses whether reunification services shall be provided. When it is alleged, pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (b), that the parent is incapable of utilizing services due to mental disability, the court shall order reunification services unless competent evidence from mental health professionals establishes that, even with the provision of services, the parent is unlikely to be capable of adequately caring for the child within 12 months.

When paragraph (3), (4), or (5), inclusive, of subdivision (b) is applicable, the court shall not order reunification unless it finds that, based on competent testimony, those services are likely to prevent reabuse or continued neglect of the child or that failure to try reunification will be detrimental to the child because the child is closely and positively attached to that parent. The probation officer shall investigate the circumstances leading to the removal of the minor and advise the court whether there are circumstances which indicate that reunification is likely to be successful or unsuccessful and whether failure to order reunification is likely to be detrimental to the child.

The failure of the parent to respond to previous services, the fact that the child was abused while the parent was under the influence of drugs or alcohol, a past history of violent behavior, or testimony by a competent professional that the parent's behavior is unlikely to be changed by services are among the factors indicating that reunification services are unlikely to be successful. The fact that a parent or guardian is no longer living with an individual who severely abused the minor may be considered in deciding that reunification services are likely to be successful, provided that the court shall consider any pattern of behavior on the part of the parent that has exposed the child to repeated abuse.

(d) If reunification services are not ordered pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) and the whereabouts of a parent become known within six months of the out-of-home placement of the minor, the court shall order the probation officer to provide family reunification services in accordance with this subdivision. However, the time limits specified in subdivision (a) and Section 366.25 are not tolled by the parent's absence.

(e) (1) If the parent or guardian is incarcerated or institutionalized, the court shall order reasonable services unless the court determines, by clear and convincing evidence, those services would be detrimental to the minor. In determining detriment, the court shall consider the age of the child, the degree of parent-child bonding, the length of the sentence, the nature of the treatment, the nature of crime or illness, the degree of detriment to the child if services are not offered and, for minors 10 years of age or older, the minor's attitude toward the implementation of family reunification services, and any other appropriate factors. Reunification services are subject to the 18-month limitation imposed in subdivision (a). Services may include, but shall not be limited to, all of the following:

(A) Maintaining contact between parent and child through collect phone calls.

(B) Transportation services, where appropriate.

(C) Visitation services, where appropriate.

(D) Reasonable services to extended family members or foster parents providing care for the child if the services are not detrimental to the child.

An incarcerated parent may be required to attend counseling, parenting classes, or vocational training programs as part of the service plan if these programs are available.

(2) The presiding judge of the juvenile court of each county may convene representatives of the county welfare department, the sheriff's department, and other appropriate entities for the purpose of developing and entering into protocols for ensuring the notification, transportation, and presence of an incarcerated or institutionalized parent at all court hearings involving proceedings affecting the minor pursuant to Section 2625 of the Penal Code.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, if the incarcerated parent is a woman seeking to participate in the community treatment program operated by the Department of Corrections pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 3410) of Title 2 of Part 3 of the Penal Code, the court shall determine whether the parent's participation in a program is in the child's best interest and whether it is suitable to meet the needs of the parent and child.

(f) If a court, pursuant to paragraph (2), (3), (4), (5), or (6) of subdivision (b) or paragraph (1) of subdivision (e), does not order reunification services, it shall conduct a hearing pursuant to Section 366.25 or 366.26 within 120 days of the dispositional hearing. However, the court shall not schedule a hearing so long as the other parent is being provided reunification services pursuant to subdivision (a). The court may continue to permit the parent to visit the minor unless it finds that visitation would be detrimental to the minor.

(g) Whenever a court orders that a hearing shall be held pursuant to Section 366.25 or 366.26 it shall direct the agency supervising the child and the licensed county adoption agency, or the State Department of Social Services when it is acting as an adoption agency in counties which are not served by a county adoption agency, to prepare an assessment which shall include:

(1) Current search efforts for an absent parent or parents.

(2) A review of the amount of and nature of any contact between the minor and his or her parents since the time of placement.

(3) An evaluation of the minor's medical, developmental, scholastic, mental, and emotional status.

(4) A preliminary assessment of the eligibility and commitment of any identified prospective adoptive parent or guardian, particularly the caretaker, to include a social history including screening for criminal records and prior referrals for child abuse or neglect, the capability to meet the minor's needs, and the understanding of the legal and financial rights and responsibilities of adoption and guardianship.

(5) The relationship of the minor to any identified prospective adoptive parent or guardian, the duration and character of the relationship, the motivation for seeking adoption or guardianship, and a statement from the minor concerning placement and the adoption or guardianship, unless the minor's age or physical, emotional, or other condition precludes his or her meaningful response, and if so, a description of the condition.

(6) An analysis of the likelihood that the minor will be adopted if parental rights are terminated.

(h) In determining whether reunification services will benefit the child pursuant to paragraph (6) of subdivision (b), the court shall consider any information it deems relevant, including the following factors:

(1) The specific act or omission comprising the severe sexual abuse or the severe physical harm inflicted on the child.

(2) The circumstances under which the abuse or harm was inflicted on the child.

(3) The severity of the emotional trauma suffered by the child.

(4) Any history of abuse of other children by the offending parent or guardian.

(5) The likelihood that the child may be safely returned to the care of the offending parent or guardian within 18 months with no continuing supervision.

(6) Whether or not the child desires to be reunified with the offending parent or guardian.

(i) The court shall read into the record the basis for a finding of severe sexual abuse or the infliction of severe physical harm under paragraph (6) of subdivision (b), and shall also specify the factual findings used to determine that the provision of reunification services to the offending parent or guardian would not benefit the child.

SEC. 4. Section 366.21 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

366.21. (a) Every hearing conducted by the juvenile court reviewing the status of a dependent child shall be placed on the appearance calendar. The court shall advise all persons present at the hearing of the date of the future hearing, of their right to be present and represented by counsel.

(b) Except as provided in Section 366.23 and subdivision (a) of Section 366.3, notice of the hearing shall be mailed by the probation officer to the same persons as in the original proceeding, to the minor's parent or guardian, to the foster parents, community care facility, or foster family agency having physical custody of the minor in the case of a minor removed from the physical custody of his or her parent or guardian, and to the counsel of record if the counsel of record was not present at the time that the hearing was set by the court, by first-class mail addressed to the last known address of the person to be notified, or shall be personally served on those persons, not earlier than 30 days nor later than 15 days preceding the date to which the hearing was continued. Service of a copy of the notice personally or by certified mail return receipt requested, or any other form of actual notice is equivalent to service by first-class mail.

The notice shall contain a statement regarding the nature of the hearing to be held and any change in the custody or status of the minor being recommended by the supervising agency. The notice to the foster parent shall indicate that the foster parent may attend all hearings or may submit any information he or she deems relevant to the court in writing.

(c) At least 10 calendar days prior to the hearing the probation officer shall file a supplemental report with the court regarding the services provided or offered to the parents to enable them to assume custody, the progress made, and, where relevant, the prognosis for return of the minor to the physical custody of his or her parent or guardian, and make his or her recommendation for disposition. If the recommendation is not to return the minor to a parent, the report shall specify why the return of the minor would be detrimental to the minor. The probation officer shall provide the parent or parents with a copy of the report, including his or her recommendation for disposition, at least 10 calendar days prior to the hearing. In the case of a minor removed from the physical custody of his or her parent or guardian, the probation officer shall provide a summary of his or her recommendation for disposition to the counsel for the minor, any court appointed child advocate, foster parents, community care facility, or foster family agency having the physical custody of the minor at least 10 calendar days before the hearing.

(d) Prior to any hearing involving a minor in the physical custody of a community care facility or foster family agency that may result in the return of the minor to the physical custody of his or her parent or guardian, or in adoption or the creation of a legal guardianship, the facility or agency shall file with the court a report containing its recommendation for disposition. Prior to such a hearing involving a minor in the physical custody of a foster parent, the foster parent may file with the court a report containing its recommendation for disposition. The court shall consider the report and recommendation filed pursuant to this subdivision prior to determining any disposition.

(e) At the review hearing held six months after the initial dispositional hearing, the court shall order the return of the minor to the physical custody of his or her parents or guardians unless, by a preponderance of the evidence, it finds that the return of the child would create a substantial risk of detriment to the physical or emotional well-being of the minor. The probation department shall have the burden of establishing that detriment. The failure of the parent or guardian to participate regularly in any court-ordered treatment programs shall constitute prima facie evidence that return would be detrimental. In making its determination, the court shall review the probation officer's report, shall review and consider the report and recommendations of any child advocate appointed pursuant to Section 356.5, and shall consider the efforts or progress, or both, demonstrated by the parent or guardian and the extent to which he or she cooperated and availed himself or herself of services provided; shall make appropriate findings pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 366; and where relevant, shall order any additional services reasonably believed to facilitate the return of the minor to the custody of his or her parent or guardian. The court shall also inform the parent or guardian that if the minor cannot be returned home by the next review hearing, a proceeding pursuant to Section 366.26 may be instituted. This section does not apply in a case where, pursuant to Section 361.5, the court has ordered that reunification services shall not be provided.

If the minor was removed initially under subdivision (g) of Section 300 and the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that the whereabouts of the parent are still unknown, or the parent has failed to contact and visit the child, the court may schedule a hearing pursuant to Section 366.26 within 120 days. If the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that the parent has been convicted of a felony indicating parental unfitness, the court may schedule a hearing pursuant to Section 366.26 within 120 days.

If the minor had been placed under court supervision with a previously noncustodial parent pursuant to Section 361.2, the court shall determine whether supervision is still necessary. The court may terminate supervision and transfer permanent custody to that parent, as provided for by paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 361.2.

In all other cases, the court shall direct that any reunification services previously ordered shall continue to be offered to the parent or guardian, provided that the court may modify the terms and conditions of those services. If the child is not returned to his or her parent or guardian, the court shall determine whether reasonable services have been provided or offered to the parent or guardian which were designed to aid the parent or guardian in overcoming the problems which led to the initial removal and the continued custody of the minor. The court shall order that those services be initiated or continued.

(f) At the review hearing held 12 months after the initial dispositional hearing, the court shall order the return of the minor to the physical custody of his or her parent or guardian unless, by a preponderance of the evidence, it finds that return of the child would create a substantial risk of detriment to the physical or emotional well-being of the minor. The probation department shall have the burden of establishing that detriment. The court shall also determine whether reasonable services have been provided or offered to the parent or parents which were designed to aid the parent or guardian to overcome the problems which led to the initial removal and continued custody of the minor. The failure of the parent or guardian to participate regularly in any court-ordered treatment programs shall constitute prima facie evidence that the return would be detrimental. In making its determination, the court shall review the probation officer's report and shall consider the efforts or progress, or both, demonstrated by the parent or guardian and the extent to which he or she cooperated and availed himself or herself of services provided. If the minor is not returned to a parent or guardian, the court shall specify the factual basis for its conclusion that the return would be detrimental. The court also shall make a finding pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 366.

(g) If a minor is not returned to the custody of a parent or guardian at the hearing held pursuant to subdivision (f), the court shall do one of the following:

(1) Continue the case for up to six months for another review hearing, provided that the hearing shall occur within 18 months of the date the child was originally taken from the physical custody of his or her parent or guardian. The court shall continue the case only if it finds that there is a substantial probability that the minor will be returned to the physical custody of his or her parent or guardian within six months or that reasonable services have not been provided to the parent or guardian. The court shall inform the parent or guardian that if the minor cannot be returned home by the next review hearing, a permanent plan shall be developed at that hearing. The court shall not order that a hearing pursuant to Section 366.26 be held unless there is clear and convincing evidence that reasonable services have been provided or offered to the parent or guardian.

(2) Order that the minor remain in long-term foster care, if the court finds by clear and convincing evidence, based upon the evidence already presented to it, that the minor is not adoptable and has no one willing to accept legal guardianship.

(3) Order that a hearing be held within 120 days, pursuant to Section 366.26, if there is clear and convincing evidence that reasonable services have been provided or offered to the parents.

(h) In any case in which the court orders that a hearing pursuant to Section 366.26 shall be held, it shall also order the termination of reunification services to the parent. The court shall continue to permit the parent to visit the minor pending the hearing unless it finds that visitation would be detrimental to the minor.

(i) Whenever a court orders that a hearing pursuant to Section 366.26 shall be held, it shall direct the agency supervising the child and the licensed county adoption agency, or the State Department of Social Services when it is acting as an adoption agency in counties which are not served by a county adoption agency, to prepare an assessment which shall include:

(1) Current search efforts for an absent parent or parents.

(2) A review of the amount of and nature of any contact between the minor and his or her parents since the time of placement.

(3) An evaluation of the minor's medical, developmental, scholastic, mental, and emotional status.

(4) A preliminary assessment of the eligibility and commitment of any identified prospective adoptive parent or guardian, particularly the caretaker, to include a social history including screening for criminal records and prior referrals for child abuse or neglect, the capability to meet the minor's needs, and the understanding of the legal and financial rights and responsibilities of adoption and guardianship.

(5) The relationship of the minor to any identified prospective adoptive parent or guardian, the duration and character of the relationship, the motivation for seeking adoption or guardianship, and a statement from the minor concerning placement and the adoption or guardianship, unless the minor's age or physical, emotional, or other condition precludes his or her meaningful response, and if so, a description of the condition.

An analysis of the likelihood that the minor will be adopted if parental rights are terminated.

(j) This section shall apply to minors made dependents of the court pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 360 on or after January 1, 1989.

SEC. 5. Section 366.22 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

366.22. (a) When a case has been continued pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (g) of Section 366.21, the court, at the 18-month hearing, shall order the return of the minor to the physical custody of his or her parent or guardian unless, by a preponderance of the evidence, it finds that return of the child would create a substantial risk of detriment to the physical or emotional well-being of the minor. The probation department shall have the burden of establishing the detriment. The failure of the parent or guardian to participate regularly in any court-ordered treatment programs shall constitute prima facie evidence that return would be detrimental. In making its determination, the court shall review the probation officer's report and shall review and consider the report and recommendations of any child advocate appointed pursuant to Section 356.6 and shall consider the efforts or progress, or both, demonstrated by the parent or guardian and the extent to which he or she cooperated and availed himself or herself of services provided. If the minor is not returned to a parent or guardian, the court shall specify the factual basis for its conclusion that return would be detrimental.

If the minor is not returned to a parent or guardian at the 18-month hearing, the court shall develop a permanent plan. The court shall order that a hearing be held pursuant to Section 366.26 in order to determine whether adoption, guardianship, or long-term foster care is the most appropriate plan for the minor. However, if the court finds by clear and convincing evidence, based on the evidence already presented to it that the minor is not adoptable and has no one willing to accept legal guardianship, the court may order that the minor remain in long-term foster care. The hearing shall be held no later than 120 days from the date of the 18-month hearing. The court shall also order termination of reunification services to the parent. The court shall continue to permit the parent to visit the minor unless it finds that visitation would be detrimental to the minor. The court shall determine whether reasonable services have been offered or provided to the parent or guardian.

(b) Whenever a court orders that a hearing pursuant to Section 366.26 shall be held, it shall direct the agency supervising the child and the licensed county adoption agency, or the State Department of Social Services when it is acting as an adoption agency in counties which are not served by a county adoption agency, to prepare an assessment which shall include:

(1) Current search efforts for an absent parent or parents.

(2) A review of the amount of and nature of any contact between the minor and his or her parents or other members of his or her extended family since the time of placement. Although the extended family of each minor shall be reviewed on a case-by-case basis, "extended family" for the purposes of this paragraph shall include, but not be limited to, the minor's siblings, grandparents, aunts, and uncles.

(3) An evaluation of the minor's medical, developmental, scholastic, mental, and emotional status.

(4) A preliminary assessment of the eligibility and commitment of any identified prospective adoptive parent or guardian, particularly the caretaker, to include a social history including screening for criminal records and prior referrals for child abuse or neglect, the capability to meet the minor's needs, and the understanding of the legal and financial rights and responsibilities of adoption and guardianship.

(5) The relationship of the minor to any identified prospective adoptive parent or guardian, the duration and character of the relationship, the motivation for seeking adoption or guardianship, and a statement from the minor concerning placement and the adoption or guardianship, unless the minor's age or physical, emotional, or other condition precludes his or her meaningful response, and if so, a description of the condition.

(6) An analysis of the likelihood that the minor will be adopted if parental rights are terminated.

SEC. 6. Section 366.25 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

366.25. (a) In order to provide stable, permanent homes for children, a court shall, if the minor cannot be returned home pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 366.2, conduct a hearing to make a determination regarding the future status of the minor no later than 12 months after the original dispositional hearing in which the child was removed from the custody of his or her parent, parents, or guardians, and in no case later than 18 months from the time of the minor's original placement pursuant to Section 319 or 16507.4 and periodically, but no less frequently than once each 18 months, thereafter during the continuation of foster care. The hearing may be combined with the six months' review as provided for in Section 366. In the case of a minor who comes within subdivision (b) of Section 361.5 and for whom the court has found that reunification services should not be provided, a hearing shall be held pursuant to Section 361.5.

(b) Notice of the proceeding to conduct the review shall be mailed by the probation officer to the same persons as in an original proceeding, to the minor's present custodian, and to the counsel of record, by certified mail addressed to the last known address of the person to be notified, or shall be personally served on those persons not earlier than 30 days, nor later than 15 days prior to the date the review is to be conducted.

(c) Except in cases where permanency planning is conducted pursuant to Section 361.5, the court shall first determine at the hearing whether the minor should be returned to his or her parent or guardian, pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 366.2. If the minor is not returned to the custody of his or her parent or guardian the court shall determine whether there is a substantial probability that the minor will be returned to the physical custody of his or her parent or guardian within six months. If the court so determines it shall set another review hearing for not more than six months, which shall be a hearing pursuant to this section.

(d) If the court determines that the minor cannot be returned to the physical custody of his or her parent or guardian and that there is not a substantial probability that the minor will be returned within six months, the court shall develop a permanent plan for the minor. In order to enable the minor to obtain a permanent home the court shall make the following determinations and orders:

(1) If the court finds that it is likely that the minor can or will be adopted, the court shall authorize the appropriate county or state agency to proceed to free the minor from the custody and control of his or her parents or guardians pursuant to Part 4 (commencing with Section 7800) of Division 12 of the Family Code unless the court finds that any of the following conditions exist:

(A) The parents or guardians have maintained regular visitation and contact with the minor and the minor would benefit from continuing this relationship.

(B) A minor 12 years of age or older objects to termination of parental rights.

(C) The minor's foster parents, including relative caretakers, are unable to adopt the minor because of exceptional circumstances which do not include an unwillingness to accept legal responsibility for the minor, but are willing and capable of providing the minor with a stable and permanent environment and the removal of the minor from the physical custody of his or her foster parents would be seriously detrimental to the emotional well-being of the minor.

(2) If the court finds that it is not likely that the minor can or will be adopted or that one of the conditions in subparagraph (A), (B), or (C) of paragraph (1) applies, the court shall order the appropriate county department to initiate or facilitate the placement of the minor in a home environment that can be reasonably expected to be stable and permanent. This may be accomplished by initiating legal guardianship proceedings or long-term foster care. Legal guardianship shall be considered before long-term foster care, if it is in the best interests of the child and if a suitable guardian can be found. When the minor is in a foster home and the foster parents, including relative caretakers, are willing and capable of providing a stable and permanent environment, the minor shall not be removed from the home if the removal would be seriously detrimental to the emotional well-being of the minor because the minor has substantial psychological ties to the foster parents. The court shall also make orders for visitation with the parents or guardians unless the court finds by a preponderance of evidence that the visitation would be detrimental to the physical or emotional well-being of the minor.

(3) (A) If the court finds that it is not likely that the minor can or will be adopted, that there is no suitable adult available to become the legal guardian of the minor, and that there are no suitable foster parents except certified homes available to provide the minor with a stable and permanent environment, the court may order the care, custody, and control of the minor transferred from the county welfare department or probation department to a licensed foster family agency. The court shall consider the written recommendation of the county welfare director or chief probation officer regarding the suitability of such a transfer. The transfer shall be subject to further court orders.

(B) The licensed foster family agency shall only use a suitable licensed or other family home which has been certified by the agency as meeting licensing standards. When the care, custody, and control has been transferred to a foster family agency, it shall be responsible for supporting the minor and for providing appropriate services to the minor, including those services ordered by the court. Responsibility for support of the minor shall not in and of itself create liability on the part of the foster family agency to third persons injured by the minor. Those minors whose care, custody, and control are transferred to a foster family agency shall not be eligible for foster care maintenance payments or child welfare services, except for emergency response services pursuant to Section 16504.

(C) Subsequent reviews for these minors shall be conducted every six months by the court. The licensed foster family agency shall be required to submit reports for each minor in its care, custody, and control to the court concerning the continuing appropriateness and extent of compliance with the minor's permanent plan, the extent of compliance with the case plan, and the type and adequacy of services provided to the minor.

(e) The proceeding for the appointment of a guardian for a minor who is a dependent child of the juvenile court shall be in the juvenile court. The court shall receive into evidence a report and recommendation concerning the proposed guardianship. The report shall include, but not be limited to, a discussion of all of the following:

(1) A social history of the proposed guardian, including screening for criminal records and prior referrals for child abuse or neglect.

(2) A social history of the minor, including an assessment of any identified developmental, emotional, psychological, or educational needs, and the capability of the proposed guardian to meet those needs.

(3) The relationship of the minor to the proposed guardian, the duration and character of the relationship, the motivation for seeking guardianship rather than adoption, the proposed guardian's long-term commitment to provide a stable and permanent home for the minor, and a statement from the minor concerning the proposed guardianship.

(4) The plan, if any, for the natural parents for continued involvement with the minor.

(5) The proposed guardian's understanding of the legal and financial rights and responsibilities of guardianship.

The report shall be read and considered by the court prior to ruling on the petition for guardianship, and this shall be reflected in the minutes of the court. The person preparing the report may be called and examined by any party to the proceeding.

(f) Physical custody of a minor by his or her parents or guardians for insubstantial periods during the 12-month period prior to a permanency planning hearing shall not serve to interrupt the running of those periods.

(g) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the application of any person who, as a foster parent, including relative caretakers, has cared for a dependent child for whom the court has approved a permanent plan for adoption, or who has been freed for adoption, shall be given preference with respect to that child over all other applications for adoptive placement if the agency making the placement determines that the child has substantial emotional ties to the foster parent and removal from the foster parent would be seriously detrimental to the child's well-being.

As used in this subdivision, "preference" means that the application shall be processed and, if satisfactory, the family study shall be completed before the processing of the application of any other person for the adoptive placement of the child.

(h) Subsequent hearings need not be held if (1) the child has been freed for adoption and placed in the adoptive home identified in the previous hearing and is awaiting finalization of the adoption or (2) the child is the ward of a guardian.

(i) This section applies to minors adjudged dependent children of the juvenile court pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 360 prior to January 1, 1989.

(j) An order by the court that authorizes the filing of a petition to terminate parental rights pursuant to Part 4 (commencing with Section 7800) of Division 12 of the Family Code or that authorizes the initiation of guardianship proceedings is not an appealable order but may be the subject of review by extraordinary writ.

SEC. 7. Section 366.26 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

366.26. (a) This section applies to minors who are adjudged dependent children of the juvenile court pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 360 on or after January 1, 1989. The procedures specified herein are the exclusive procedures for conducting these hearings; Part 2 (commencing with Section 3020) of Division 8 of the Family Code is not applicable to these proceedings. For minors who are adjudged dependent children of the juvenile court pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 360 on or after January 1, 1989, this section and Sections 8604, 8605, 8606, and 8700 of the Family Code and Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 7660) of Part 3 of Division 12 of the Family Code specify the exclusive procedures for permanently terminating parental rights with regard to, or establishing legal guardianship of, the minor while the minor is a dependent child of the juvenile court.

(b) At the hearing, which shall be held in juvenile court for all minors who are dependents of the juvenile court, the court, in order to provide stable, permanent homes for these minors, shall review the report as specified in Section 361.5, 366.21, or 366.22, shall indicate that the court has read and considered it, shall receive other evidence that the parties present, and then shall do one of the following:

(1) Permanently sever the rights of the parent or parents and order that the child be placed for adoption.

(2) Without permanently terminating parental rights, identify adoption as the permanent placement goal and order that efforts be made to locate an appropriate adoptive family for the minor for a period not to exceed 90 days.

(3) Without permanently terminating parental rights, appoint a legal guardian for the minor and issue letters of guardianship.

(4) Order that the minor be placed in long-term foster care, subject to the regular review of the juvenile court.

In choosing among the above alternatives the court shall proceed pursuant to subdivision (c).

(c) At the hearing the court shall proceed pursuant to one of the following procedures:

(1) The court shall terminate parental rights only if it determines by clear and convincing evidence that it is likely that the minor will be adopted. If the court so determines, the findings pursuant to subdivision (b) or paragraph 1 of subdivision (e) of Section 361.5 that reunification services shall not be offered, or the findings pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 366.21 that the whereabouts of a parent have been unknown for six months or that the parent has failed to visit or contact the child for six months or that the parent has been convicted of a felony indicating parental unfitness, or pursuant to Section 366.21 or 366.22 that a minor cannot or should not be returned to his or her parent or guardian, shall then constitute a sufficient basis for termination of parental rights unless the court finds that termination would be detrimental to the minor due to one of the following circumstances:

(A) The parents or guardians have maintained regular visitation and contact with the minor and the minor would benefit from continuing the relationship.

(B) A minor 12 years of age or older objects to termination of parental rights.

(C) The child is placed in a residential treatment facility, adoption is unlikely or undesirable, and continuation of parental rights will not prevent finding the child a permanent family placement if the parents cannot resume custody when residential care is no longer needed.

(D) The minor is living with a relative or foster parent who is unable or unwilling to adopt the minor because of exceptional circumstances, which do not include an unwillingness to accept legal responsibility for the minor, but who is willing and capable of providing the minor with a stable and permanent environment and the removal of the minor from the physical custody of his or her relative or foster parent would be detrimental to the emotional well-being of the minor.

(2) The court shall not terminate parental rights if at each and every hearing at which the court was required to consider reasonable efforts or services, the court has found that reasonable efforts were not made or that reasonable services were not offered or provided.

(3) If the court finds that termination of parental rights would not be detrimental to the minor pursuant to paragraph (1) and that the minor has a probability for adoption but is difficult to place for adoption and there is no identified or available prospective adoptive parent, the court may identify adoption as the permanent placement goal and without terminating parental rights, order that efforts be made to locate an appropriate adoptive family for the minor for a period not to exceed 90 days. During this 90-day period, the public agency responsible for seeking adoptive parents, for each child shall, to the extent possible, contact other private and public adoption agencies regarding the availability of the child for adoption. During the 90-day period, the public agency shall conduct the search for adoptive parents pursuant to Section 8708 of the Family Code. At the expiration of this period, another hearing shall be held and the court shall proceed pursuant to paragraph (1), (3), or (4) of subdivision (b). For purposes of this section, a minor may only be found to be difficult to place for adoption if there is no identified or available prospective adoptive parent for the minor because of the minor's membership in a sibling group, or the presence of a diagnosed medical, physical, or mental handicap, or the minor is the age of seven years or more.

(4) If the court finds that adoption of the minor or termination of parental rights is not in the interests of the minor, or that one of the conditions in subparagraph (A), (B), (C), or (D) of paragraph (1) or in paragraph (2) applies, the court shall either order that the present caretakers or other appropriate persons shall become legal guardians of the minor or order that the minor remain in long-term foster care. Legal guardianship shall be considered before long-term foster care, if it is in the best interests of the child and if a suitable guardian can be found. When the minor is living with a relative or a foster parent who is willing and capable of providing a stable and permanent environment, but not willing to become a legal guardian, the minor shall not be removed from the home if the court finds the removal would be seriously detrimental to the emotional well-being of the minor because the minor has substantial psychological ties to the relative caretaker or foster parents. The court shall also make an order for visitation with the parents or guardians unless the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the visitation would be detrimental to the physical or emotional well-being of the minor.

(5) If the court finds that the child should not be placed for adoption, that legal guardianship shall not be established, and that there are no suitable foster parents except exclusive-use homes available to provide the minor with a stable and permanent environment, the court may order the care, custody, and control of the minor transferred from the county welfare department or probation department to a licensed foster family agency. The court shall consider the written recommendation of the county welfare director or chief probation officer regarding the suitability of such a transfer. The transfer shall be subject to further court orders.

The licensed foster family agency shall place the minor in a suitable licensed or exclusive-use home which has been certified by the agency as meeting licensing standards. The licensed foster family agency shall be responsible for supporting the minor and for providing appropriate services to the minor, including those services ordered by the court. Responsibility for the support of the minor shall not, in and of itself, create liability on the part of the foster family agency to third persons injured by the minor. Those minors whose care, custody, and control are transferred to a foster family agency shall not be eligible for foster care maintenance payments or child welfare services, except for emergency response services pursuant to Section 16504.

(d) The proceeding for the appointment of a guardian for a minor who is a dependent of the juvenile court shall be in the juvenile court. If the court finds pursuant to this section that legal guardianship is the appropriate permanency plan, it shall appoint the legal guardian and issue letters of guardianship. The assessment prepared pursuant to subdivision (g) of Section 361.5, subdivision (i) of Section 366.21, and subdivision (b) of Section 366.22 shall be read and considered by the court prior to the appointment, and this shall be reflected in the minutes of the court. The person preparing the assessment may be called and examined by any party to the proceeding.

(e) At the beginning of any proceeding pursuant to this section, if the minor or the parents are not being represented by previously retained or appointed counsel, the court shall proceed as follows:

(1) The court shall consider whether the interests of the minor require the appointment of counsel. If the court finds that the interests of the minor do require this protection, the court shall appoint counsel to represent the minor. If the court finds that the interests of the minor require the representation of counsel, counsel shall be appointed whether or not the minor is able to afford counsel. The minor shall not be present in court unless the minor so requests or the court so orders.

(2) If a parent appears without counsel and is unable to afford counsel, the court shall appoint counsel for the parent, unless this representation is knowingly and intelligently waived. The same counsel shall not be appointed to represent both the minor and his or her parent. The public defender or private counsel may be appointed as counsel for the parent.

(3) Private counsel appointed under this section shall receive a reasonable sum for compensation and expenses, the amount of which shall be determined by the court. The amount shall be paid by the real parties in interest, other than the minor, in any proportions the court deems just. However, if the court finds that any of the real parties in interest are unable to afford counsel, the amount shall be paid out of the general fund of the county.

(f) The court may continue the proceeding for not to exceed 30 days as necessary to appoint counsel, and to enable counsel to become acquainted with the case.

(g) At all termination proceedings, the court shall consider the wishes of the child and shall act in the best interests of the child.

The testimony of the minor may be taken in chambers and outside the presence of the minor's parent or parents if the minor's parent or parents are represented by counsel, the counsel is present, and any of the following circumstances exist:

(1) The court determines that testimony in chambers is necessary to ensure truthful testimony.

(2) The minor is likely to be intimidated by a formal courtroom setting.

(3) The minor is afraid to testify in front of his or her parent or parents.

After testimony in chambers, the parent or parents of the minor may elect to have the court reporter read back the testimony or have the testimony summarized by counsel for the parent or parents.

The testimony of a minor also may be taken in chambers and outside the presence of the guardian or guardians of a minor under the circumstances specified in this subdivision.

(h) Any order of the court permanently terminating parental rights under this section shall be conclusive and binding upon the minor person, upon the parent or parents and upon all other persons who have been served with citation by publication or otherwise as provided in this chapter. After making such an order, the court shall have no power to set aside, change, or modify it, but nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the right to appeal the order.

(i) If the court, by order or judgment declares the minor free from the custody and control of both parents, or one parent if the other does not have custody and control, the court shall at the same time order the minor referred to the State Department of Social Services or a licensed adoption agency for adoptive placement by the agency. However, no petition for adoption may be granted until the appellate rights of the natural parents have been exhausted. The State Department of Social Services or licensed adoption agency shall be responsible for the custody and supervision of the minor and shall be entitled to the exclusive care and control of the minor at all times until a petition for adoption is granted. With the consent of the agency, the court may appoint a guardian of the minor, who shall serve until the minor is adopted.

(j) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the application of any person who, as a relative caretaker or foster parent, has cared for a dependent child for whom the court has approved a permanent plan for adoption, or who has been freed for adoption, shall be given preference with respect to that child over all other applications for adoptive placement if the agency making the placement determines that the child has substantial emotional ties to the relative caretaker or foster parent and removal from the relative caretaker or foster parent would be seriously detrimental to the child's emotional well-being.

As used in this subdivision, "preference" means that the application shall be processed and, if satisfactory, the family study shall be completed before the processing of the application of any other person for the adoptive placement of the child.

(k) An order by the court directing that a hearing pursuant to this section be held is not an appealable order, but may be the subject of review by extraordinary writ.

SEC. 8. Section 2.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 361.3 of the Welfare and Institutions Code proposed by both this bill and SB 270. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1994, (2) each bill amends Section 361.3 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 270, in which case Section 2 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 9. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the Legislature finds and declares that there are savings as well as costs in this act which, in the aggregate, do not result in additional net costs. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 893

An act to repeal and add Part 13 (commencing with Section 22000) of the Education Code, relating to the State Teachers' Retirement System.

[Approved by Governor October 7, 1993. Filed with Secretary of State October 8, 1993.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Part 13 (commencing with Section 22000) of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Part 13 (commencing with Section 22000) is added to the Education Code, to read:

PART 13. STATE TEACHERS' RETIREMENT SYSTEM

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

22000. This part shall be known and may be cited as the State Teachers' Retirement Law and may be known and cited as the E. Richard Barnes Act.

22001. In order to provide a financially sound plan for the retirement, with adequate retirement allowances, of teachers in the public schools of this state, teachers in schools supported by this state, and other persons employed in connection with the schools, the State Teachers' Retirement System is established. The system is a unit of the State and Consumer Services Agency.

22002. The Legislature recognizes that the assets of the State Teachers' Retirement System are insufficient to meet the obligations of that system already accrued or to accrue in the future in respect to service credited to members of that system prior to July 1, 1972. Therefore, the Legislature declares the following policies in respect to the financing of the State Teachers' Retirement System:

(a) Members shall be required to contribute a percentage of salaries earned.

(b) The employing agencies shall contribute a percentage of total salaries on which member contributions are based.

(c) The state shall contribute a sum certain for a given number of years for the purpose of payment of benefits.

22003. The revision of the State Teachers' Retirement Law, enacted at the 1971 and 1972 Regular Sessions of the Legislature, shall not be construed to affect benefits of persons retired prior to July 1, 1972, or their beneficiaries, except as specifically provided.

22004. If the provisions of this part are in conflict with the provisions of a memorandum of understanding reached pursuant to Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 3560) of Division 4 of Title 1 of the Government Code, the memorandum of understanding shall be controlling without further legislative action, except that if the provisions of a memorandum of understanding require the expenditure of funds, the provisions shall not become effective unless approved by the Legislature in the annual Budget Act.

22005. The right of a person to a pension, retirement allowance, return of contributions, any optional benefit, or any other right accrued or accruing to any person under this part is exempt from taxation, including any inheritance tax, whether state, county, municipal, or district.

22006. The right of a person to an annuity, a retirement salary, or a retirement allowance, to the return of contributions, the annuity, retirement salary, or retirement allowance itself, any optional benefit, any other right or benefit accrued or accruing to any person under this part, and the moneys in the fund created under this part are not subject to execution or any other process whatsoever, except to the extent permitted by Section 704.110 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and are unassignable except as specifically provided in this part.

22007. The obligations of any member of this system, or the member's beneficiaries, to this system continue throughout membership, and thereafter until all of the obligations of this system to or in respect to the member or the member's beneficiaries have been discharged.

22008. For the purposes of payments into or out of the retirement fund for adjustments of errors or omissions, the period of limitation of actions shall be applied, except as provided in Sections 23302 and 24613, as follows:

(a) No action may be commenced by or against the board or the system three years after all obligations to or on behalf of the member, former member, disabilitant, retirant, or beneficiary have been discharged.

(b) In cases where the system makes an error resulting in incorrect payment to a member, disabilitant, retirant, beneficiary, child, or dependent parent, the system's right to commence recovery shall expire three years from the date of payment.

(c) In cases where payment is erroneous due to lack of information or inaccurate information regarding the eligibility of a member, disabilitant, retirant, beneficiary, child, or dependent parent to receive benefits under this part, the period of limitation shall commence with the discovery of the erroneous payment.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, where any erroneous payment has been made on the basis of fraud or intentional misrepresentation by a member, disabilitant, retirant, beneficiary, or other party in relation to or on behalf of a member, disabilitant, retirant, or beneficiary, the three-year period of limitation shall not be deemed to commence or to have commenced until the discovery of the error or omissions.

(e) The collection of overpayments under subdivisions (b), (c), and (d) shall be made pursuant to Section 24617.

22009. If any provision of this part or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, that invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this part that can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this part are severable.

CHAPTER 2. DEFINITIONS

22100. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in this chapter govern the construction of this part.

22101. "Accumulated annuity deposit contributions" means the sum of all the annuity deposits standing to the credit of the member's account, together with credited interest.

22102. "Accumulated retirement contributions" means the sum of all member contributions and all member contributions paid by the employer pursuant to Sections 22903 and 22904 with credited interest and does not include accumulated annuity deposit contributions and accumulated tax-sheltered annuity contributions.

22103. "Accumulated tax-sheltered annuity contributions" means the tax-sheltered contributions made by a member and standing to the credit of the member's account, together with credited interest.

22104. "Actuarial equivalent" means an allowance of equal value when computed upon the basis of such tables and interest rates that are adopted by the board.

22105. "Annuity" means payments for life derived from the "accumulated annuity deposit contributions" of a member.

22106. "Annuity deposit contributions" means additional contributions made by a member above those required for credited service for the purpose of providing additional retirement income.

22107. "Beneficiary" means any person or entity receiving or entitled to receive allowances and payments pursuant to this part because of the death of member, disabilitant, or retirant.

22108. "Benefits" means any monthly payment due a retirant, disabilitant, or other beneficiary, and includes lump-sum payments due on account of death.

22109. "Board" means the Teachers' Retirement Board.

22110. "California service" means service performed in California for which credit may be given.

22111. (a) "Child" or "children" under the disability allowance and family allowance programs means any of the following:

(1) The unmarried offspring of a member under 18 years of age, not adopted by a person other than the spouse, and dependent upon the member on the effective date of disability allowance or death. Offspring shall include a child who is born within the 10-month period commencing on the effective date of the earlier of disability allowance or death.

(2) The unmarried child, under 18 years of age, adopted by the member, and dependent upon the member on the effective date of disability allowance or death.

(3) The unmarried stepchild of the member, under 18 years of age, and dependent upon the member on the effective date of disability allowance or death.

(4) The dependent unmarried child described in paragraph (1), (2), or (3) who is under 22 years of age and who is registered as a full-time student, as defined in Section 22138, on the effective date of disability allowance or death. A dependent unmarried child who is a full-time student in the month of attaining age 22 years, shall be deemed not to have attained that age until the first day of the month following the end of the school quarter or semester that was in progress in the month of attainment of age 22 years.

(b) For those members receiving a disability allowance and who subsequently die, the maximum number of children for family benefits shall be those who were eligible on the effective date of disability allowance.

22112. "Child" or "children," under the disability retirement and survivor benefits programs, means any of the following:

(a) The offspring of a member up to the attainment of 21 years of age, not adopted by a person other than the spouse, and dependent upon the member on the effective date of disability retirement or death. Offspring includes a child who is born within the 10-month period commencing on the effective date of disability retirement or death.

(b) The child, up to the attainment of 21 years of age, adopted by the member, and dependent upon the member on the effective date of disability retirement or death.

(c) The stepchild of the member, up to the attainment of 21 years of age, and dependent upon the member on the effective date of disability retirement or death.

22113. "Comparable level position" means any job in which the member can earn 66⅔ percent or more of indexed final compensation.

22114. (a) "Compensation" and "salary" mean any of the following:

(1) Remuneration in cash payable by the employer to the member.

(2) Any member contributions paid by the employer pursuant to Sections 22903 and 22904.

(3) Any amount deducted from the member's salary for payment to one other than the member for the purpose of purchasing an annuity contract for the member under an annuity plan that meets the requirements of Section 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (26 U.S.C. Sec. 403(b)).

(4) Any amount deducted from a member's wages for participation in a deferred compensation plan established pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 19993) of Part 2.6 of Division 5 of Title 2 of, or pursuant to Article 1.1 (commencing with Section 53212) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5 of, the Government Code.

(5) Any amount deducted from the member's salary for payment for participation in a voluntary tax-deferred retirement plan that meets the requirements of Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (26 U.S.C.A. Sec. 401(k)).

(6) Any other payments the board may determine to be "compensation" and "salary."

(b) "Compensation" and "salary" do not mean, and shall not include, any of the following:

(1) Job-related expenses.

(2) Money paid to the employee for overtime service on and after July 1, 1956.

(3) Compensatory damages and money paid to the member in excess of regular salary as a compromise settlement of a dispute arising from termination of a member's employment contract.

(4) Lump-sum payments for accumulated sick leave or accumulated vacation leave.

(5) Money paid for summer school employment.

(6) Money paid as a bonus. For purposes of this part, a "bonus" is a payment made only to a selected employee or employees and not to the entire class of employees on a systematic basis.

(7) Tax-sheltered annuity contributions that do not result in a reduction of the earned contract salary paid to the employee.

(8) Fringe benefits paid for by the employer in lieu of salary.

(9) Money not available for payment of salaries and that is applied by an employer for the purchase of annuity contracts or for other insurance programs, including those that meet the requirements of Section 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

(10) Money not available for payment of salaries and that is applied by an employer for the purchase of a tax-deferred retirement plan which meets the requirements of Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

(11) Money paid as a stipend to mentor teachers pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 44494.

(12) Any other payments the board may determine not to be "compensation" and "salary."

(c) Any moneys paid under paragraphs (1) to (12), inclusive, of subdivision (b), shall not be included as a part of the member's compensation subject to contributions reported to the system.

(d) The system may establish procedures to ensure that information reported by employers is in compliance with this section.

(e) The Legislature finds and declares that any person who willfully reports compensation in a manner inconsistent with the definitions set forth in this section may be subject to prosecution for fraud, theft, or embezzlement under the Penal Code.

on a full-time basis.

(b) For part-time service, "compensation earnable" means the compensation that would be earnable if the employment were on a full-time basis and the member worked full-time.

(c) For purposes of this part, "full-time" means service that is not less than the minimum schoolday for each day the schools of the district are maintained during the school year. If persons employed in positions requiring certification qualifications are required to serve a longer period of time in each schoolday than the minimums required, the longer period is recognized provided all those employees in similar grades or levels are similarly required to serve the longer periods of time, and provided that the duties required of those persons during the extended time is directly related to and restricted to their normal assignment.

22116. (a) "Compensation earnable," for the purposes of determining final compensation for part-time employees, means the earned salary divided by the service credit.

(b) The compensation earnable shall be limited to the highest salary on the school district salary schedule for a teacher or principal, whichever is applicable, when the service credit for any year is less than one-half of one year's service credit.

(c) The compensation earnable may be determined by the board when the service credit for any year is less than one-fifth of one year's service credit.

22117. "Contribution rate for additional service credit" means the contribution rate adopted by the board to purchase service credit. This rate shall be based upon the most recent valuation of the system and increased to include any subsequently required contribution rates designated for funding subsequent allowance increases.

22118. "County" includes "city and county."

22119. "County superintendent" means the county superintendent of schools.

22120. "Credited service" means service for which the required contributions have been paid and shall be used in determining a member's eligibility for any allowance provided by this part.

22121. "Custodian" as used in Section 22359, is any bank or trust company that serves as custodian for safekeeping, delivery, securities valuation, investment performance reporting, and other services in connection with investment of the Teachers' Retirement Fund.

22122. (a) "Dependent child" means that more than one-half of the child's support was being provided by the member at the time of the member's disability or death.

(b) The system may require that income tax records and similar substantiating data be submitted by the member or the member's representative. Failure, neglect, or refusal by the member or the member's representative to provide requested tax records or data may constitute grounds for a determination by the system that the child was not dependent at the time of the member's disability or death.

22123. "Dependent parent" means a natural parent of a member, or a parent who adopted the member prior to the earlier of the occurrence of the member's marriage or his or her attaining age 18 years, and who was receiving one-half of his or her support from the member at the time of the member's death.

22124. "Disabilitant" means a member of the system to whom a disability allowance is payable.

22125. "Disability" or "disabled" means any medically determinable physical or mental impairment that is permanent or that can be expected to last continuously for at least 12 months, measured from the onset of the disability, but no earlier than the day following the last day of on-the-job performance that prevents a member from performing the member's usual duties for the member's employer, the member's usual duties for the member's employer with reasonable modifications, or the duties of a comparable level position for which the member is qualified or can become qualified within a reasonable period of time by education, training, or experience. Any impairment from a willful self-inflicted injury shall not constitute a disability.

22126. "Disability allowance" means monthly amounts payable to a disabilitant.

22127. "Early retirement" and "early retirement age" means age 55 years and is the plan age upon attainment of which the member becomes eligible for a service retirement allowance with reduction because of age and without special qualifications.

22128. "Educational institution" is any accredited public or private institution whose primary purpose is to provide classroom teaching and includes a high school, trade or vocational school or college, community college, or other college or university.

22129. "Effective date" means the date stated in the application upon and continuously after which, should death occur, the member is considered a retirant or disabilitant.

22130. "Employer" or "employing agency" means the state or any agency or political subdivision thereof by whom a member is paid.

22131. "Employment" means employment in a position requiring membership in the system.

22132. "Family allowance" means amounts payable to eligible survivors provided pursuant to Chapter 22 (commencing with Section 23800) after June 30, 1972.

22133. (a) "Final compensation" means the highest average annual compensation earnable by a member during any period of three consecutive years during his or her membership in the system or time during which he or she was not a member but for which the member has received credit under the system, except time that was so credited for service performed outside this state prior to July 1, 1944. The last three consecutive years of employment shall be used by the system in determining final compensation unless designated to the contrary in writing by the member.

(b) For the purposes of this section, periods of service separated by breaks in service may be aggregated to constitute a period of three consecutive years, if the periods of service are consecutive except for the breaks.

(c) The determination of final compensation of a member who is also a member of the Public Employees' Retirement System, the Legislators' Retirement System, the University of California Retirement System, or the San Francisco City and County Employees' Retirement System shall take into consideration the compensation earnable while a member of the other system, provided that all of the following exist:

(1) The member was in state service or in the employment of a local school district or of a county superintendent of schools.

(2) Service under the other system was not performed concurrently with service under this system.

(3) Retirement under this system is concurrent with the member's retirement under the other system.

(d) The compensation earnable for the first position in which California service is credited shall be used when additional compensation earnable is required to accumulate three consecutive years for the purpose of determining final compensation under Section 23804.

(e) The board may specify a different final compensation with respect to allowances based on part-time service performed prior to July 1, 1956, for which credit was given under this system under board rules in effect prior to that date.

(f) The board may specify a different final compensation with respect to disability allowances, disability retirement allowances, family allowances, and the children's increment of the survivor benefit allowances payable on and after January 1, 1978. The earnable salaries for periods of part-time service shall be adjusted by the ratio that part-time service has to full-time service.

(g) The amendment of former Section 22127 made by Chapter 782 of the Statutes of 1982 does not constitute a change in, but is declaratory of, the existing law.

22134. "Indexed final compensation" means final compensation upon which a disability allowance or disability retirement allowance was based, adjusted annually from the school year in which an allowance begins to accrue by the rate of change in the average compensation earnable as determined by the board.

22135. (a) Notwithstanding subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 22133, "final compensation" means the highest annual compensation earnable by a member who is a classroom teacher who retires, becomes disabled, or dies, after June 30, 1990, during any period of 12 consecutive months during his or her membership in the system. The last 12 consecutive months of employment shall be used by the system in determining final compensation unless designated to the contrary in writing by the member.

(b) Section 22133, except subdivision (a) of that section, shall apply to classroom teachers who retire after June 30, 1990, and any statutory reference to Section 22133 or "final compensation" with respect to a classroom teacher who retires, becomes disabled, or dies, after June 30, 1990, shall be deemed to be a reference to this section.

(c) As used in this section, "classroom teacher" means any of the following:

(1) All teachers and substitute teachers in positions requiring certification qualifications who spend, during the last 10 years of their employment with the same employer which immediately precedes their retirement, 60 percent or more of their contract time each year providing direct instruction. For the purpose of determining continuity of employment within the meaning of this subdivision, an authorized leave of absence for sabbatical or illness, or other bargained or employer approved leaves shall not constitute a break in employment.

(2) Other certificated personnel who spend, during the last 10 years of their employment with the same employer which immediately precedes their retirement, 60 percent or more of their contract time each year providing direct services to pupils, including, but not limited to, librarians, counselors, nurses, speech therapists, resource specialists, audiologists, audiometrists, hygienists, optometrists, psychologists, driver safety instructors, and personnel on special assignment to perform school attendance and adjustment services.

(d) As used in this section, "classroom teacher" does not include any of the following:

(1) Certificated employees whose job descriptions require an administrative credential.

(2) Certificated employees whose job descriptions include responsibility for supervision of certificated staff.

(3) Certificated employees who serve as advisers, coordinators, consultants, or developers or planners of curricula, instructional materials, or programs, who spend, during the last 10 years of their employment with the same employer which immediately precedes their retirement, less than 60 percent of their contract time in direct instruction.

(4) Certificated employees whose job descriptions require provision of direct instruction or services, but who are functioning in nonteaching assignments.

(5) Classified employees.

(e) This section shall apply only to teachers employed by an employer that has, pursuant to Chapter 10.7 (commencing with Section 3540) of Division 4 of Title 1 of the Government Code, entered into a written agreement with an exclusive representative, that makes this section applicable to all of its classroom teachers, as defined in subdivision (c).

(f) The written agreement shall include a mechanism to pay for all increases in benefits and allowances provided for by this section through employer contributions or employee contributions or both, which shall be collected and retained by the employer in a trust fund to be used solely and exclusively to pay the system for all increases in benefits and allowance provided by this section and related administrative costs, a mechanism for disposition of the employee's contributions if employment is terminated before retirement, and for the establishment of a trust fund board. The trust fund board shall administer the trust fund and shall be composed of an equal number of members representing classroom teachers chosen by the bargaining agent and the employer. If the employer agrees to pay the total cost of the benefit improvement, the establishment of a trust fund and a trust fund board shall be optional to the employer. The employer, within 30 days of receiving an invoice from the system, shall reimburse the system the amount determined by the Teachers' Retirement Board to be equal to the actuarial equivalent of the difference between the allowance the member or beneficiary receives pursuant to this section and the allowance the member or beneficiary would have received if the member's final compensation had been computed under Section 22133 and the proportionate share of the cost to the system, as determined by the Teachers' Retirement Board, of administering this section. The payment shall include the cost of all increases in benefits and allowances provided for by this section for all years of service credited to the member as of the benefit effective date. Interest shall be charged at the regular interest rate for any payment not received within 30 days of the receipt of the invoice. Payments not received within 30 days after receipt of the invoice may be collected pursuant to Section 23007.

(g) Upon the execution of the agreement, the employer shall notify all certificated employees of the agreement and any certificated employee of the employer, who is in the Public Employees' Retirement System pursuant to Section 22509, that he or she may, within 90 days following the date of notification, elect to terminate his or her membership in the Public Employees' Retirement System and become a member of this system. However, only service credited under this system subsequent to the date of that election shall be subject to this section.

(h) An employer that agrees to become subject to this section, shall, on a form and within the timeframes prescribed by the system, certify the eligibility of an employee, upon retirement or eligibility for a disability or family allowance, pursuant to the criteria set forth in this section.

(i) For a nonmember spouse, final compensation shall be determined pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (c) of Section 22664. The employer, within 30 days of receiving an invoice from the system, shall reimburse the system pursuant to subdivision (f). Interest shall be charged at the regular interest rate for payment not received within the prescribed timeframe. Payments not received within 30 days of invoicing may be collected pursuant to Section 23007.

22136. "Final compensation" with respect to a member whose salary has been reduced by 5 or more percent after age 58 years because of a reduction in school funds means the highest average annual compensation earnable by the member during any three years during his or her membership in the system if the member elects to be subject to this section.

22137. With respect to a state employee member who dies or retires on or after July 1, 1991, and who was a managerial or supervisory employee, as defined by subdivisions (e) and (g) of Section 3513 of the Government Code, whose monthly salary range was administratively reduced by 5 percent because of the salary range reductions administratively imposed upon managers and supervisors during the 1991–92 fiscal year, "final compensation" means the highest annual compensation the state employee member would have earned had his or her salary range not been reduced by the 5-percent reduction. This section shall only apply if the period during which the state member's salary was reduced would have otherwise been included in determining his or her final compensation for retirement purposes. The costs, if any, that may result from the use of the higher final compensation shall be paid for by the employer at the time of retirement in a manner prescribed by the system.

22138. "Full-time student" means a child in full-time attendance at an educational institution. The final determination whether a person qualifies as a full-time student shall be made by the board in light of standards and practices of the institution involved.

22139. "Improvement factor" means an increase of 2 percent in benefits for each year commencing on September 1, following the first anniversary of the effective retirement date, or the date on which monthly benefits commenced to accrue to any beneficiary other than a retirant or such other periods as specifically stated in this part. The factor shall not be compounded nor shall it be applicable to annuities payable from the accumulated annuity deposit contributions or the accumulated tax-sheltered annuity contributions. The Legislature reserves the right to adjust the amount of the improvement factor up or down as economic conditions dictate. No adjustments of the improvement factor shall reduce the monthly retirement allowance or benefit below that which would be payable to the recipient under this part had this section not been enacted.

22140. Notwithstanding Section 22139, "improvement factor" means an increase of 2 percent in benefits provided under Sections 24408 and 24409 for each year commencing on September 1, 1981. The factor shall not be compounded nor shall it be applicable to annuities payable from the accumulated annuity deposit contributions or the accumulated tax-sheltered annuity contributions. The Legislature reserves the right to adjust the amount of the improvement factor up or down as the economic conditions dictate. No adjustments of the improvement factor shall reduce the monthly retirement allowance or benefit below that which would be payable to the recipient under this part had this section not been enacted.

22141. "Credited interest" is interest that is credited to members' accounts at a rate set annually by the board.

22142. "Regular interest" is interest that is compounded annually based upon the annual equivalent of the average rate yielded on commitments during the prior year for maturities of more than one year in length of fixed-income senior securities. For purposes of this section, "senior securities" means all investments except common stock and preferred stock investments and real estate ownership.

22143. "Investment manager" and "investment adviser" mean any person, firm, or custodian referred to in Section 22359, either appointed by or under contract with the board to engage in investment transactions or to manage or advise in the management of the assets of the Teachers' Retirement Fund.

22144. "Investment transactions" means investment services of an asset management or investment advisory nature and may include advisory services, research material, trading assistance, trading expenses, discretionary management of funds of the system upon approval by the Teachers' Retirement Board, acquisition of equipment to be used as part of the investment function, services that provide a recommended course of action or personal expertise, investment-related legal expenses, investment-related contracting expenses, or custodian services referred to in Section 22359.

22145. "Local system" means any retirement system, exclusive of this system, in which public school teachers are members, operated by a city, county, or other political subdivision of the state.

22146. "Member" means any person included in the membership of the system.

22147. (a) "Month" means 20 days or four weeks of five days each, including legal holidays, with respect to the computation and crediting of service.

(b) "Month," for all other purposes, means a period commencing on any day of a calendar month and extending through the day preceding the corresponding day of the succeeding calendar month, if there is any such corresponding day, and if not, through the last day of the succeeding calendar month.

22148. "Normal retirement" and "normal retirement age" means age 60 years and is the plan age upon attainment of which the member becomes eligible for a service retirement allowance without reduction because of age and without special qualifications.

22149. "Option beneficiary" means a person designated to receive an actuarially reduced retirement allowance upon a retirant's or a member's death.

22150. "Other public systems" means the (a) old age, survivors, disability, and health insurance program, other than the lump-sum death payment, provided by the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C.A. Sec. 300 and following); (b) the federal civil service retirement program;

(c) federal military disability; (d) railroad retirement; (e) a workers' compensation program; (f) federal railroad retirement; or (g) any other public retirement system, including any disability programs financed from public funds.

22151. "Overtime" means the aggregate service performed as a member of the system in excess of the hours of work considered normal for employees on a full-time basis.

22152. "Parent" means a natural parent of a member or a parent who adopted the member prior to his or her attainment of 18 years of age or to the member's marriage, whichever occurs earlier.

22153. "Part-time basis with respect to service" means a basis of service that is for less time than is required of persons serving on a full-time-day basis even though the employee may be subject to call at any time.

22154. "Pay period" means a pay period of not less than four weeks or more than one calendar month.

22155. "Payroll" includes registers, warrants, and any other documents upon which all persons receiving salary payments are listed.

22156. "Projected final compensation" means the final compensation used in computing the disability or family allowance increased by 2 percent, compounded annually to the earlier of normal retirement age or the date the disability allowance is terminated.

22157. "Projected service" means the credited service plus the service which would have been earned had the member or disabilitant continued to earn credited service to the earlier of normal retirement age or the date the disability allowance is terminated at the same rate as the highest of any one of the three school years immediately preceding death or the date disability allowance began to accrue.

22158. "Proof of death" means filing with the system a certified copy of the public record of death.

22159. "Public school" means any day or evening elementary school, and any day and evening secondary schools, community colleges, technical schools, kindergarten schools, and prekindergarten schools established by the Legislature, or by municipal or district authority.

22161. "Retirant" means a former member who has been retired for service or disability and is receiving a retirement allowance.

22162. "Retirement" means withdrawal from membership with a retirement allowance.

22163. "Retirement allowance" means the monthly amounts payable to a retirant or the option beneficiary.

22164. "Retirement fund" means the Teachers' Retirement Fund.

22165. "Return on investments" means income received or receivable from the system's investments.

22166. "School year" means the fiscal year or the academic year.

22167. "Service" means service performed for compensation in a position requiring membership in the system, except as otherwise specifically provided in this part.

22168. "Spouse" means a person who was married to the member at least 12 months prior to the death of the member unless a child is born to the union within the 12-month period or the surviving spouse is carrying the member's unborn child.

22169. "Survivor allowance" means the allowance provided for in Section 23804 as it read under the law in effect on June 30, 1972.

22170. "Survivor benefit allowance" means the monthly allowance that a surviving spouse may elect to receive pursuant to Chapter 23 (commencing with Section 23850).

22171. "System" means the State Teachers' Retirement System.

22172. "Final vesting" means the right of a member or a beneficiary to receive a monthly retirement allowance, disability allowance, or a family benefit when the member has completed the minimum number of years of credited service, has attained the minimum specified age, has formally terminated his or her active service, has made application for retirement, or has been formally retired in accordance with Section 22162, after which the kind and amount of the retirement allowance is fixed and cannot thereafter be changed except as provided in this part.

22173. "Plan vesting" means the rights of the member upon completion of the minimum number of required years of credited service provided in the retirement plan to entitle the member or his or her beneficiary to a monthly retirement allowance, disability allowance, survivor, family or death benefit at a future date, prior to the completion of which the member upon resignation from service is entitled only to a refund of his or her accumulated contributions as provided in this part.

22174. "Provisional vesting" means the right of the member upon the completion of the minimum number of years of credited service and attainment of the minimum specified age after which the member may retire at any time and be entitled to receive a monthly retirement allowance.

CHAPTER 3. RETIREMENT BOARD

22200. (a) The system is managed by the Teachers' Retirement Board. The members of the board are as follows:

(1) The Superintendent of Public Instruction.

(2) The Controller.

(3) The Treasurer.

(4) The Director of Finance.

(5) One member who, at the time of appointment, is a member of the governing board of a school district or a community college district.

(6) Three members of the State Teachers' Retirement System, as follows:

(A) Two members who, at time of appointment, are classroom teachers in kindergarten or grades 1 through 12.

(B) One member, who, at time of appointment, is a community college instructor with expertise in the areas of business or economics or both business and economics and who shall be appointed by the Governor for a term of four years from a list submitted by the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges.

(7) A retirant of the system.

(8) One officer of a life insurance company appointed by the Governor for a term of four years, subject to confirmation by the Senate.

(9) One officer of a bank or a savings and loan institution who has had at least five years of broad professional investment experience handling various asset classes such as stocks, bonds, and mortgage investments and who shall be appointed by the Governor for a term of four years, subject to confirmation by the Senate.

(10) One member representing the public, appointed by the Governor for a term of four years, subject to confirmation by the Senate.

(11) The members of the board provided by paragraphs (1) and (5) and subparagraph (A) of paragraph (6) shall be appointed by the Governor for four-year terms from a list submitted by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

(b) The members of the board shall annually elect a chairperson and vice chairperson.

22201. (a) The board shall set policy and make rules and it has the sole power and authority to hear and determine all facts pertaining to application for benefits under the system or any matters pertaining to the administration of the system.

(b) The board shall meet at least once every calendar quarter.

22202. The board has exclusive control of the administration of the funds. No transfers or disbursements of any amount from the funds shall be made except upon the authorization of the board for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this part.

22203. The board has exclusive control of the investment of the Teachers' Retirement Fund. Except as otherwise restricted by the California Constitution and by law, the board may in its discretion invest the assets of the fund through the purchase, holding, or sale thereof of any investment, financial instrument, or financial transaction when the investment, financial instrument, or financial transaction is prudent in the informed opinion of the board.

22204. Each member of the board may administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses and others transacting the business of the system.

22205. The board has the authority to negotiate, and enter into agreements with other states of the United States on the subject of the transfer of members' contributions and regular interest between the retirement systems of California and other states.

22207. The board shall perform any other acts necessary for the administration of the system in carrying into effect the provisions of this part.

22208. The board may appoint a committee of two or more of its members to perform any act within the power of the board itself to perform. The board may also delegate authority to the chief executive officer to perform any such act. Except where the board, in delegating that authority, provides that the committee or the chief executive officer may act finally, all acts of the committee or the chief executive officer shall be reported to the board at its next regular meeting and shall be subject to review, ratification, or reversal by the board.

22209. The office of chief executive officer shall be filled by appointment by the board and the appointee shall serve at the pleasure of the board.

22210. (a) Reversal by the board of any act of the committee or the chief executive officer shall be effective on the date fixed by the board.

(b) Payment of benefits prior to the board's action of reversal may not be affected by such an action, except for the recovery of the amounts paid, from the beneficiary receiving the amounts, as the board may direct.

22211. The board shall establish an ombudsman position to serve directly under the chief executive officer.

22212. The board shall appoint such employees as are necessary to administer the system.

22213. The board shall regulate the duties of employing agencies and other public authorities, imposed upon them by this part, and shall require reports from the employing agencies and authorities as it deems advisable in connection with the performance of its duties.

22214. The board may take any action it deems necessary to ensure the continued right of retirants, disabilitants, or beneficiaries of members or retirants, to receive monthly payments.

22215. The board shall determine the service performed by members to be credited toward qualification for retirement, and shall fix retirement allowances and modify the allowances.

22216. (a) The board shall determine annually the rate of credited interest to be credited to members' accumulated retirement contributions for service performed after June 30, 1935, and the accumulated annuity deposit contributions excluding all accumulated contributions while being paid as allowances under Sections 23804, 24006, and 24007.

(b) The board shall credit interest to all other accumulated reserves at the actuarially assumed interest rate.

22217. (a) The board shall employ a certified public accountant or public accountant, who is not in public employment, to audit the financial statements of the system. The costs of the audit shall be paid from the income of the retirement fund. The audit shall be made annually commencing with the fiscal year ending June 30, 1974. The board shall file a copy of the audit report with the Governor, the Secretary of the Senate, and the Chief Clerk of the Assembly.

(b) These audits shall not be duplicated by the Department of Finance or the Auditor General. The system shall be exempt from a pro rata general administrative charge for auditing.

22218. The board shall establish and maintain an adequate system of records and accounts following recognized accounting principles and controls.

22219. (a) The board may in its discretion hold a hearing for the purpose of determining any question presented to it involving any right, benefit, or obligation of a person under this part.

(b) When a hearing is held, the proceedings shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, relating to administrative adjudication, and the board shall have all of the powers granted in that chapter. However, the provisions of Section 11508 of the Government Code relating to the location of the hearing shall not apply, and the hearing shall be held at the time and place determined by the board.

22220. The board shall subpoena witnesses and compel their attendance to testify before it.

22221. The board shall adopt, upon the recommendation of the actuary of the system, any mortality and other tables and interest rates necessary to do any of the following:

(a) Permit valuation of the assets and liabilities of the system.

(b) Make any determination or calculation necessary to carry out this part.

22222. The board may adjust the amounts of the death benefits based on changes in the All Urban California Consumer Price Index, provided that the most recent actuarial valuation report indicates that the adjustment would not increase the normal cost.

22223. The members of the board who are not members of the system and who are appointed by the Governor pursuant to Section 22200 shall receive one hundred dollars ($100) for every day of actual attendance at meetings of the board or any meeting of any committee of the board of which the person is a member, and that is conducted for the purpose of carrying out the powers and duties of the board, together with their necessary traveling expenses incurred in connection with performance of their official duties.

22224. Members of the system, who are either appointed to the board by the Governor pursuant to Section 22200, or who are appointed by the board to serve on a committee or panel of the system, shall be granted, by that member's employer, sufficient time away from regular duties, without loss of income or other benefits to which the member is entitled by reason of employment, to attend meetings of the board, or any meetings of any committee or subcommittee of the board of which the member is a member, or to serve as a member of a panel of the system, and to attend to the duties imposed on the member.

22225. (a) The compensation of the members of the system who are appointed to the board, or by the board to a committee or subcommittee, or to a panel of the system, shall not be reduced by the employing agency by which the members are regularly employed for any absence from service occasioned by attendance upon the business of the board, pursuant to Section 22224.

(b) Each employing agency that employs a member appointed pursuant to Section 22224 and that employs a person to replace the member during attendance at meetings of the board, or meetings of committees or subcommittees of the board, or when serving as a panel member of the system, thereof, or when carrying out other duties approved by the board, shall be reimbursed from the retirement fund for the cost incurred by employing a replacement.

CHAPTER 4. FIDUCIARY DUTIES

22250. The board and its officers and employees shall discharge their duties with respect to the system solely in the interest of the members, retirants, and beneficiaries as follows:

(a) For the exclusive purpose of the following:

(1) Providing benefits to members, retirants, and their beneficiaries.

(2) Defraying reasonable expenses of administering the plan.

(b) With the care, skill, prudence, and diligence under the circumstances then prevailing that a prudent person acting in a like capacity and familiar with those matters would use in the conduct of an enterprise of a like character and with like aims.

(c) By diversifying the investments of the system so as to minimize the risk of large losses, unless under the circumstances it is clearly prudent not to do so.

(d) In accordance with the documents and instruments governing the system insofar as those documents and instruments are consistent with this part.

22251. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), the assets of the system shall never inure to the benefit of a school district or other employing agency and shall be held for the exclusive purposes of providing benefits to members, retirants, and beneficiaries and defraying reasonable expenses of administering the system.

(b) In the case of a contribution that is made by a school district or other employing agency by a mistake of fact, subdivision (a) shall not prohibit the return of that contribution within one year after the system knows, or should know in the ordinary course of business, that the contribution was made by a mistake of fact.

22252. Except as otherwise provided by law, the board and the officers and employees shall not cause the system to engage in a transaction if they know or should know that the transaction constitutes a direct or indirect:

(a) Sale or exchange, or leasing, of any property from the system to a member, retirant, or beneficiary for less than adequate consideration, or from a member, retirant, or beneficiary to the system for more than adequate consideration.

(b) Lending of money or other extension of credit from the system to a member, retirant, or beneficiary without the receipt of adequate security and a reasonable rate of interest, or from a member, retirant, or beneficiary with the provision of excessive security or an unreasonably high rate of interest.

(c) Furnishing of goods, services, or facilities from the system to a member, retirant, or beneficiary for less than adequate consideration, or from a member, retirant, or beneficiary to the system for more than adequate consideration.

(d) Transfer to, or use by or for the benefit of, a member, retirant, or beneficiary of any assets of the system for less than adequate consideration.

(e) Acquisition, on behalf of the system, of any school district or other employing agency security, real property, or loan.

22253. The board and its officers and employees shall not do any of the following:

(a) Deal with the assets of the system in their own interest or for their own account.

(b) In their individual or in any other capacity, act in any transaction involving the system on behalf of a party, or represent a party, whose interests are adverse to the interests of the system or the interests of its members, retirants, and beneficiaries.

(c) Receive any consideration for their personal account from any party dealing with the system in connection with a transaction involving the assets of the system.

22254. (a) Any member of the board or its officers who breaches any of the responsibilities, obligations, or duties imposed upon them by Section 22251, 22252, or 22253 shall be personally liable to make good to the retirement fund any losses to it resulting from each breach, and to restore any profits that have been made through use of assets of the fund and shall be subject to any other equitable or remedial relief the court may deem appropriate, including removal of the board member or officer.

(b) No board member or officer shall be liable with respect to a breach of fiduciary duty under this part if the breach was committed before the board member or officer became one, or ceased to be one.

22255. (a) No board member or officer shall be personally liable for the breach of a fiduciary duty except as set forth in Section 22254 or 22256. This subdivision shall apply only to causes of actions arising on or after January 1, 1990.

(b) Nothing in this section shall be interpreted to lessen the scope of liability of members of the board or employees of the system for gross negligence or fraud in the investment of the retirement fund assets, nor to lessen the scope of liability of the system for breach of fiduciary duty pertaining to the administration of retirement benefits, including the granting, denial, or withdrawal of benefits.

22256. A board member or officer shall be liable for a breach of fiduciary responsibility of another board member or officer with respect to the system in the following circumstances:

(a) If the board member or officer knowingly participates in, or knowingly undertakes to conceal an act or omission of the other board member or officer knowing that the act or omission is a breach.

(b) If the board member's or officer's failure to comply with his or her responsibilities as set forth in Section 22251, 22252, or 22253 has enabled another board member or officer to commit a breach.

(c) If the board member or officer has knowledge of a breach unless the board member or officer makes reasonable efforts under the circumstances to remedy the breach.

22257. (a) Notwithstanding Section 22203, the board may contract with or appoint one or more investment managers to manage the assets of the retirement fund. If the board has acted with care, skill, prudence, and diligence in meeting the requirements of Sections 22252 and 22253 in selecting and monitoring the investment managers, then, notwithstanding Sections 22250, 22252, 22253, 22254, and 22256, no board member shall be liable for the acts or omissions of the investment managers or be under any obligation to invest or otherwise manage any assets of the retirement fund that are subject to the management of the investment managers.

(b) Incorporation of the fiduciary duty set forth in Section 22250 into the terms of a contract between the system and an investment manager shall be admissible as evidence that the board has acted with care, skill, prudence, and diligence in the selection of the investment manager.

22258. Notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code, there is hereby continuously appropriated, without regard to fiscal years, from the retirement fund to the board, the amount necessary to pay for any insurance obtained pursuant to Section 7511 of the Government Code. These payments shall be made upon warrants drawn by the Controller upon demands made by the board.

22259. (a) All members of the board and its officers and employees shall execute a fidelity bond, in an amount determined by the board to be prudent, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the duties of the member or employee.

(b) All members of the board and its officers and all staff of the investment division who are authorized to invest funds shall be covered with fiduciary liability insurance in an amount determined by the board to be prudent.

CHAPTER 5. ADMINISTRATION

22300. The chief executive officer is the chief administrative officer of the system. The chief executive officer may administer oaths.

22301. The chief executive officer has the authority and responsibility for the administration of the system pursuant to the policies and rules adopted by the board. He or she may delegate to his or her subordinates any act or duty unless the board by motion or resolution recorded in its minutes has required him or her to act personally.

22302. (a) The duties of the ombudsman position established pursuant to Section 22211 shall include reviewing and making recommendations regarding complaints by school employees, members, retirants, employee organizations, Members of the Legislature, or members of the public regarding actions of the staff of the system.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature that the salary of the position of ombudsman be offset, as much as possible, through savings realized in reduction in interest payments on delinquent benefits to members, and through a more efficient and improved public relations program.

22303. Due to an increase in the demand for retirement counseling services, the system, notwithstanding any other provision of law, may contract with a county superintendent or other employing agency to provide retirement counseling, employing retired public employees on a part-time basis for that purpose, unless and until the study required by subdivision (b) of Section 7 of Chapter 1532 of the Statutes of 1985 recommends against the employment of retired public employees for these purposes. This authorization is subject to the availability of funds appropriated for that purpose in the annual Budget Act.

22304. The costs of administration of the system shall be paid from the retirement fund and those costs may not exceed the amount made available by law during any fiscal period.

22305. Any rules and regulations adopted by the board for the purpose of the administration, and not inconsistent with this part, have the force and effect of law.

22306. (a) Data filed by any member or beneficiary with the board is confidential. No official or employee who has access to the individual records shall divulge any information concerning the records to any person other than the member to whom the information relates or his or her authorized representative, the governing board of the school district or agency by which he or she is employed, or any state department or agency. They shall be used by the board for the sole purpose of carrying this part into effect.

(b) The information is not open to inspection by anyone except the board and its officers and employees, and any person authorized by the Legislature to make inspections.

22307. (a) The board may authorize the transfer and disbursement of funds from the retirement fund for the purpose of carrying into effect this part upon the signature of either or both of its chairperson and vice chairperson or the chief executive officer or any employee of the system designated by the chief executive officer.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code, the board may disburse funds for the payment of benefits to retirants, disabilitants, and beneficiaries, for the payment of refunds and for investment transactions and these funds shall not be required to be appropriated through the annual Budget Act. Funds for the payment of administrative expenses are not continuously appropriated, and shall be appropriated by the annual Budget Act.

22308. (a) Subject to subdivision (d), the board may, in its discretion and upon any terms it deems just, correct the errors or omissions of any member, retirant, or any beneficiary of any member or retirant, provided that all of the following facts exist:

(1) The error or omission was the result of mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect, as each of those terms is used in Section 473 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(2) The correction will not provide the party seeking correction with a status, right, or obligation not otherwise available under this part.

(b) Failure by a member, retirant, or beneficiary to make the inquiry that would be made by a reasonable person in like or similar circumstances does not constitute an "error or omission" correctable under this section.

(c) Subject to subdivision (d), the board may correct all actions taken as a result of errors or omissions of the employer or this system.

(d) The duty and power of the board to correct errors and omissions, as provided in this section, shall terminate upon the expiration of obligations of this system to the party seeking correction of the error or omission, as those obligations are defined by Section 22008.

(e) Corrections of errors or omissions pursuant to this section shall be such that the status, rights, and obligations of all parties described in subdivisions (a), (b), and (c) are adjusted to be the same that they would have been if the act that would have been taken, but for the error or omission, was taken at the proper time. However, notwithstanding any of the other provisions of this section, corrections made pursuant to this section shall adjust the status, rights, and obligations of all parties described in subdivisions (a), (b), and (c) as of the time that the correction actually takes place if the board finds any of the following:

(1) That the correction cannot be performed in a retroactive manner.

(2) That even if the correction can be performed in a retroactive manner, the status, rights, and obligations of all of the parties described in subdivisions (a), (b), and (c) cannot be adjusted to be the same as they would have been if the error or omission had not occurred.

22309. The board shall issue to each member, after the close of the school year, a statement of his or her individual account.

22310. (a) Whenever a refund cannot be made under Section 23103, or a benefit cannot be paid because the member cannot be found, all accumulated contributions credited to the member's account shall be transferred to the retirement fund.

(b) If a member whose entire accumulated contributions were transferred to the retirement fund returns to a position requiring membership is located, or applies for a benefit or a refund of contributions, the system shall return all his or her contributions to the member's account with interest that would have been credited to the account had the accumulated contributions not been transferred.

22311. (a) The board shall keep in convenient form any data necessary for the actuarial valuation of the system.

(b) In periods not to exceed six-year intervals, the board shall make an actuarial investigation into the mortality, service, and other experience of members and beneficiaries and shall make an actuarial valuation of the assets and liabilities of the system. The actuary shall perform the actuarial valuation using actuarial assumptions adopted by the board and that are, in the aggregate, reasonably related to the past experience of the system and the best estimate by the actuary of the future experience of the system. The report of the actuary of the results of the actuarial valuation shall identify and include the components of normal cost and adequate information to determine the effects of changes in actuarial assumptions. Copies of the report on the actuarial valuation shall be transmitted to the Governor and to the Legislature. Upon the basis of any or all of the actuarial investigation and valuation, the board shall adopt for the system any rates of return on investments, rates of contribution to the retirement fund, mortality, service, and other tables it deems necessary.

22312. (a) The periodic actuarial valuation report required by Section 22311 shall contain, to the fullest extent possible, an analysis of the cost and unfunded accrued liability that results from the enactment of Chapter 23 (commencing with Section 23850) and Chapter 26 (commencing with Section 24100).

(b) This section shall apply only to the valuations scheduled for the June 30, 1993, data and the June 30, 1995, data.

(c) This section shall remain operative only until January 1, 1997, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1997, deletes or extends that date.

22313. (a) No adjustment shall be included in new rates of annuity contribution adopted by the board on the basis of an investigation, valuation, and determination or because of amendment to the Teachers' Retirement Law, for time prior to the effective date of the adoption or amendment, as the case may be.

(b) No action of the board, other than correction of errors in calculating the annuity at the time of retirement, shall change the annuity payable to a retirant retired prior to the date the action is taken.

22314. The system shall inform a member, upon retirement, that future tax liabilities may occur as the result of the pending retirement allowance.

22315. (a) The Legislature hereby finds and declares that it is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this section and Section 22316 that members of the system not be adversely impacted, to the extent deemed reasonable, by the application of Section 415 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (26 U.S.C.A. Sec. 415).

(b) The system shall work closely with teacher organizations to develop a supplemental plan that, to the extent deemed reasonable and without violating the intent and purposes of Section 415 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, maintains the future retirement benefits of the members and the fiscal integrity of the retirement fund. The supplemental plan should not result in any additional liability to the employer.

(c) The system shall also monitor the benefits of its members and notify affected individuals of their options, if deemed appropriate by the system.

22316. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, the benefits payable to any person who becomes a member on or after January 1, 1990, shall be subject to the limitations set forth in Section 415 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 without regard to Section 415(b)(2)(F) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the benefits payable to any person who became a member prior to January 1, 1990, shall not be less than the accrued benefit of the member under this system, determined without regard to any amendment to the system made after October 14, 1987, and as provided in Section 415(b)(10) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

(c) The board shall provide to each employer a notice of the content and effect of subdivision (a) for distribution to each person who, for the first time, becomes a member on or after January 1, 1990.

22317. (a) With respect to members with membership effective dates of December 31, 1989, and earlier, benefit enhancements due to a plan amendment enacted after October 14, 1987, are subject to the limitations imposed by Section 415 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (26 U.S.C.A. Sec. 415).

(b) With respect to members with membership effective dates of January 1, 1990, and later, retirement benefits, including enhancements due to a plan amendment, are subject to the limitations imposed by Section 415 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

22318. (a) The initial payment to a disabilitant or a disability retirant shall be paid within 45 days following the date the disability is approved, the effective date of the disability retirement or disability allowance, or receipt of all necessary information, whichever occurs last. Monthly payments shall continue thereafter. Initial payments may be based on a good faith estimated amount pending receipt by the system of all necessary employment, dependent, and other public benefit information.

(b) The disabilitant or disability retirant shall be placed on the final roll and issued a retroactive payment, if one is due, within 45 days of receipt by the system of all necessary information.

22319. (a) The initial payment to a retirant shall be issued within 45 days of either the effective date of retirement or receipt by the system of a completed application for retirement, whichever is later. The initial payment to an option beneficiary shall be issued within 45 days following receipt by the system of a completed application for death benefits and a certified death certificate. Monthly payments shall continue thereafter. Payments may be based on a good faith estimated amount pending receipt by the system of all necessary employment information.

(b) The retirant or option beneficiary shall be placed on the final roll and issued a retroactive payment, if one is due, within 45 days of receipt by the system of all necessary information.

22320. The death benefits provided pursuant to Chapter 22 (commencing with Section 23800), Chapter 23 (commencing with Section 23850), and Chapter 24 (commencing with Section 23880) shall be paid to the beneficiary or estate within 45 days of receipt by the system of all necessary information.

22321. The system shall pay the retirant, option beneficiary, disabilitant, beneficiary, or estate interest for delays in excess of the allowable days specified in Sections 22318 to 22320, inclusive. The interest rate for late payments shall be the regular interest rate. Interest payments shall be deemed to be interest earned in the calendar year in which paid. All interest payments under this section shall be paid in addition to any credited interest that is paid.

22322. The system shall make a report to the board of all late payments at each regularly scheduled meeting.

22323. The system shall report monthly to the board concerning outstanding death benefits that have not been paid within six months of the notification of the death of the member.

22324. (a) The board shall file annually with the Governor and with the Senate and Assembly a report on all phases of its work that could affect the need for public contributions for costs of administration of the system, including the subjects of benefits, programs, practices, procedures, and any comments on trends and developments in the field of retirement.

(b) The report shall be filed with the Governor at least 30 days prior to the first day of each year and shall be filed with the Senate and Assembly within the first five days of each year.

22325. (a) The annual report of the board required under Section 22324 shall include a description of all securities held and a comprehensive report of transactions involving the investment of the retirement fund similar to that required of a life insurance company licensed to do business in California.

(b) In the matter of stock exchange commission fees and other fees paid to persons not employed by the state for services in connection with investments under this chapter, the names of those persons to whom those fees are paid and the amounts paid shall be clearly identified in the report.

(c) The board shall also submit by November 1 of each year to the Assembly and the Senate a report of the unaudited data compiled for the preparation of the report required by this section.

22326. The board shall include in the annual report required by Section 22324, a brief summary of the costs or savings resulting from the enactment of Chapter 1314 of the Statutes of 1982.

22327. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Employment Development Department shall disclose to the board information in its possession relating to the earnings of any person who is receiving a disability allowance or disability retirement allowance from the system. The earnings information shall be released to the board only upon written request from the board specifying that the person is receiving benefits for a disability allowance or disability retirement allowance from the system. The request may be made by the chief executive officer of the system or by an employee of the system so authorized and identified by name and title by the chief executive officer in writing. The board shall notify recipients of disability allowances and disability retirement allowances that earnings information from the Employment Development Department's records will be released upon request by the board. The board shall not release any earnings information received from the Employment Development Department to any person, agency, or other entity. The system shall reimburse the Employment Development Department for all reasonable administrative expenses incurred pursuant to this section.

22328. (a) Upon termination of a retirement or disability allowance that began to accrue on or after July 1, 1972, the person's individual account shall be credited with the amount of his or her accumulated retirement contributions as they were on the effective date of retirement or disability allowance, less the sum of all payments made under paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 24202, and under Sections 24006 and 24007. The reduction shall not be greater than the total of the accumulated retirement contributions.

(b) Upon the termination of a retirement allowance, the person's accumulated annuity deposit contribution accounts shall be credited with the amounts of the contributions as they were on the date the annuity became payable because of the retirement less the sum of all payments made under paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 24202.

22329. In order to provide equitable telephone assistance to all members, beneficiaries, and retirants, regardless of their location in California, the system shall install a toll-free, "800" prefix, line.

22330. (a) The board shall provide the Legislature with an analysis of the asset and liability implications of each bill that would affect the investment strategy of the system, the funding of the system, or the benefit structure of the system. The analysis shall include an explanation of the methodology employed and the assumptions used in its preparation. Neither fiscal committee of the Legislature shall hear any such bill until the analysis has been provided to the committee.

(b) There is hereby continuously appropriated, without regard to fiscal years, from the retirement fund, an amount sufficient to pay all costs arising from subdivision (a), but not to exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) in any one fiscal year.

22331. The system may offer a tax-sheltered annuity plan to all employees of any state agency who are members of the system or any employee of a local public agency or political subdivision of this state that employs persons in positions requiring or allowing membership in the system. This plan may be operated either directly by the system or by one or more qualified third-party carriers that shall, under agreement with the system, provide custodial, investment, recordkeeping, or administrative services, or any combination thereof. The type and number of investment vehicles offered by the carriers shall be determined by the board. The features of plan design and operation shall be in accordance with that allowed by the applicable provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and the Revenue and Taxation Code. Section 770.3 of the Insurance Code shall not be applicable to the plan.

22332. (a) There is hereby established in the State Treasury a special trust fund known as the Teacher Tax-Sheltered Annuity Fund. There shall be deposited in that fund tax-sheltered annuity contributions together with interest earnings on the fund. All moneys in the fund are continuously appropriated to the board for disbursement for the purposes of the tax-sheltered annuity plan under this part.

(b) Return on investments of the fund shall be collected by the Treasurer and together with other moneys received for the Teacher Tax-Sheltered Annuity Fund shall be immediately deposited to the credit of that fund and reported immediately to the system. Money in whatever form received directly by the system dedicated to the Teacher Tax-Sheltered Annuity Fund shall be deposited immediately in the State Treasury to the credit of that fund.

(c) The board may provide by board rule for optional forms of payment from the Teacher Tax-Sheltered Annuity Fund.

(d) Disbursement of money from the Teacher Tax-Sheltered Annuity Fund of whatever nature shall be made upon claims duly audited in the manner prescribed for the disbursement of other public funds.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, if the board elects to operate the plan through one or more third-party carriers, the tax-sheltered annuity contributions to the plan may be made directly from the employer to the carriers. All funds contributed shall be held by the carriers under custody and any return on investment shall be credited to plan participant accounts by the carrier. Under third-party carrier operation, the forms of payment and disbursement procedure shall be determined by the board.

22333. (a) Any tax sheltered annuity plan advertised, promoted, offered, or operated by the system, either directly or through one or more third-party carriers, shall provide for recovery of all costs and expenses of its own operation including, but not limited to, advertising, promotion, legal, accounting, recordkeeping, and investment costs and expenses, and the plan shall not be subsidized, in any respect whatsoever, by the retirement fund.

(b) The system shall not utilize its member mailing list for the purpose of transmitting information dedicated solely to advertising or marketing this program.

22334. (a) The board shall develop an alternative retirement plan to be known as Plan II. For the purposes of this section, Plan I refers to the retirement plan set out in this part.

(b) The benefits to be included in Plan II shall provide a member, when coupled with Social Security, with an adequate retirement benefit.

(c) Plan II shall be actuarially sound and funded within the rates presently being contributed by the school employer and the employee.

(d) The Legislature reserves the right to modify the benefits contained in Plan II at any future date if the cost of the plan increases as a result of changes in actuarial assumptions.

(e) The board shall submit a recommendation to the Legislature by March 1, 1989.

CHAPTER 6. INVESTMENTS

22350. The Legislature finds and declares that changing economic conditions and increasing complexity in the investment market make it necessary and desirable that the system obtain the best possible investment expertise.

22351. It is the intent of the Legislature that the board secure investment advisors with the composite expertise necessary for the investment of the retirement fund portfolio.

22352. (a) Upon a finding by the board that necessary investment expertise is not available within existing civil service classifications, and with the approval of the State Personnel Board, the board may contract with qualified investment managers having demonstrated expertise in the management of large and diverse investment portfolios to render service in connection with the investment program of the board.

(b) The board shall report to the Governor, the Legislature, the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, and the Joint Public Pension Fund Investments Committee on the nature, duration, and the cost of investment contract services used. The report shall first be submitted in April 1987, and annually in April of every year thereafter.

22353. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the board shall by contract retain not less than two separate individual investment advisers.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code, there is hereby continuously appropriated without regard to fiscal years, from the retirement fund, an amount sufficient to pay all costs arising from this section.

(c) No costs arising from this section shall be paid from the General Fund.

22354. (a) The board shall, pursuant to the state civil service statutes, either contract with, or establish and fill full-time positions for, investment managers who are experienced and knowledgeable in corporate management issues to monitor each corporation any of whose shares are owned by the system and to advise the board on the voting of the shares owned by the system and on the responses of the system to merger proposals and tender offers and all other matters pertaining to corporate governance.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code, there is hereby continuously appropriated, without regard to fiscal years, from the fund, an amount sufficient to pay all costs arising from this section.

22355. In no event shall the board employ through interagency agreement any investment personnel who would also serve during the term of the agreement as investment staff to the Board of Administration of the Public Employees' Retirement System.

22356. The board may apply to reduce the book value of securities purchased, all or part of the excess of the proceeds of the sale or redemption prior to maturity of securities over the book value of the securities sold or redeemed provided the purchase of securities is made with those proceeds and provided that the terms of both securities from the date of sale, redemption, or purchase, as the case may be, to the respective dates of maturity, do not differ by more than five years. All applications of excess of sales or redemption proceeds, even with greater difference in terms, made by the board before October 1, 1949, are hereby validated and confirmed.

22357. The board shall submit an annual report to the Legislature, which shall include all of the following:

(a) A copy of the annual audit performed pursuant to Section 22217.

(b) A review by a consultant, a summary of any changes in actuarial assumptions from the previous year, a review of the system's asset mix strategy, a market review of the economic and financial environment in which investments were made, and a summary of the system's general investment strategy.

(c) A description of the investments of the system, including the concentration of stocks and bonds, at cost and market value, including dividends and coupons, and a summary of major changes that occurred since the previous year.

(d) The following information regarding the rate of return of the system by asset type:

(1) Time-weighted return on a five-year, three-year, two-year, and one-year basis.

(2) Dollar-weighted return on a five-year, three-year, two-year, and one-year basis.

(3) Book valuation return on a five-year, three-year, two-year, and one-year basis.

(4) Portfolio return comparisons that compare investment returns with an alternative theoretical portfolio of comparable funds, universes, and indexes.

(5) Returns as credited to employer accounts.

(6) Returns as reported in annual reports.

(7) Returns as reported by the Controller.

(e) A transaction summary which shall adequately review the system's custodial relationship and daily cash management, purchases, sales, turnover, private placements, soft dollar purchases, and transaction costs such as commissions, dealer spreads, and accommodations.

(f) A report on the use of outside investment advisers and managers and any participation in corporate annual meetings and shareholder voting.

(g) A statement of actuarial gains and loses, including the components of the employer contribution rate, and the sensitivity of the statement information to changes in the economic or noneconomic actuarial assumptions.

(h) A discussion of the system portfolio of the system containing the following information:

(1) Concentration, current holdings at cost and market value, risk characteristics (R-squared, Beta, standard error), fundamentals (P/E, dividend yield, measures of growth, size, earnings quality, debt/equity) of equities.

(2) Concentration, current holdings at cost and market value, maturity, duration, quality, coupon, and current yield of fixed income instruments.

(3) Current holdings at cost and market value of real estate equities.

(4) Current holdings at cost and market value of mortgages.

(5) Securities lending activity.

(6) Options and forward commitments.

(7) Cash and cash equivalents.

(i) A performance review of asset allocation, of equities due to market timing, sector selection, stock selection, and trading, of fixed income instruments due to interest rate anticipation skills, credit analysis, sector trading and swapping, and of value added over indexing (alpha).

(j) A review of the system's custodial relationship and daily cash management and a summary of the system's investment transactions, including purchases, sales, turnover, private placements, soft dollar purchases, and transaction costs such as commissions, dealer spreads, and accommodations.

(k) A review of the role of any outside managers and advisers, stockholder voting, and changes in investment staff or reorganization.

22358. The board shall submit a review of the system's assets to the Legislature on a quarterly basis, which shall do all of the following:

(a) Discuss the system's portfolio and contain the following information:

(1) Concentration, current holdings at cost and market value, of equities.

(2) Concentration, current holdings at cost and market value, of fixed income instruments.

(3) Current holdings at cost and market value of real estate equities.

(4) Current holdings at cost and market value of mortgages.

(5) Options and forward commitments.

(6) Cash and cash equivalents.

(b) Disclose the following information on the rate of return of the fund by type of asset:

(1) Time-weighted return on a five-year, three-year, two-year, and one-year basis.

(2) Dollar-weighted return on a five-year, three-year, two-year, and one-year basis.

(3) Summary of performance of an alternative theoretical portfolio containing all investments and performance of comparable universes and other indexes.

22359. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the board may retain a bank or trust company to serve as custodian for safekeeping, delivery, securities valuation, investment performance reporting, and other services in connection with investment of the retirement fund.

22360. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the board may, pursuant to Section 22203 and in conformance with its fiduciary duty as set forth in Section 22250, enter into correspondent agreements with private institutions in this state to utilize the retirement fund to assist system members currently employed in positions requiring or permitting membership in the system, inactive members, disabilitants, and retirants, through financing, to obtain homes in this state.

(b) The terms and conditions of the correspondent agreements shall address all of the following:

(1) That home loans be made available to eligible currently employed members, inactive members, disabilitants, and retirants for the purchase of single-family dwellings, two-family dwellings, three-family dwellings, four-family dwellings, single-family cooperative apartments, and single-family condominiums.

(2) That the private lending institution shall originate and service these home loans.

(3) That the recipients of the loans occupy the homes as their permanent residences pursuant to rules and regulations adopted by the board or as these terms are defined in the correspondent agreements.

(4) That home loans shall be available only for the purchase of homes in this state.

(5) That the amount and length of the loans shall include terms and conditions that set a loan to value ratio of: (A) for the first loan, except for three-family dwellings and four-family dwellings, a maximum of 95 percent of the first loan; (B) for the first loan on three-family dwellings and four-family dwellings, a maximum of 90 percent of the first loan; and (C) for each additional loan, a maximum of 80 percent of each additional loan. The portion of any loan exceeding 80 percent of value shall be insured by an admitted mortgage guaranty insurer conforming to Chapter 2A (commencing with Section 12640.01) of Part 6 of Division 2 of the Insurance Code in an amount so that the unguaranteed portion of the loan does not exceed 75 percent of the market value of the property together with improvements thereon.

(6) That there may be prepayment penalties assessed on loans, the terms and conditions of which shall be set forth in the correspondent agreement.

(7) That the criteria and terms for loans shall provide the greatest benefit to eligible members, inactive members, disabilitants, and retirants consistent with the financial integrity of the program and the sound investment of the retirement fund.

(8) That loans shall not be made at a rate lower than the market rate.

(9) Any other terms and conditions as the parties to the correspondent agreement may deem appropriate.

(c) This section shall be known and may be cited as the Dave Elder State Teachers' Retirement System Member Home Loan Program Act.

22361. (a) The board may, subject to and consistent with its fiduciary duty, establish a program utilizing the retirement fund to assist currently employed members and retirants who are victims of a natural disaster to obtain loans from the retirement fund for the sole purpose of repairing or rebuilding their homes that have been damaged by a natural disaster. In order to qualify for such a loan, the home of the member or retirant shall have been damaged by a natural disaster and the home shall have been in an area that has been declared a disaster area in a proclamation of the Governor of a state of emergency affecting the area in which the member or retirant resides.

(b) The board may loan any amount of money, up to and including 100 percent of the current appraised value of a home of a member or retirant. However, 5 percent of the loan may, at the discretion of the board, be secured by the contributions of the member who requests the loan.

(c) The board may, under such conditions as it may deem prudent, require that a member or retirant pledge other assets as collateral for a loan.

(d) The board shall establish terms for the termination of loans made pursuant to this section upon the separation of members from service, to ensure, in the case of any default, that the system shall not suffer any loss and to provide, as a condition of retirement, for alternative security. The board may impose any other terms and conditions the board may determine appropriate.

(e) The Legislature hereby reserves full power and authority to change, revise, limit, expand, or repeal the loan program authorized by this section.

22362. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the board shall give first priority to investing not less than 25 percent of all funds that become available in a fiscal year for new investments, in any of the following:

(1) Obligations secured by a lien or charge solely on residential realty, including rental housing, located in the state and on the security of which, commercial banks are permitted to make loans pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 1220) of Chapter 10 of Division 1 of the Financial Code.

(2) Securities representing a beneficial interest in a pool of obligations secured by a lien or charge solely on residential realty located in the state.

(3) Certificates of deposit issued by savings and loan associations, if the savings and loan associations agree to make loans, or to fund tax-exempt notes or bonds issued by housing authorities, cities, or counties, on residential realty located in the state, including rental housing, in an amount equal to the amount of the deposit.

(b) Funds subject to investment pursuant to this section include all moneys received as employer and member contributions, investment income, and the proceeds from all net gains and losses from securities, reduced by the amount of benefit payments and withdrawals occurring during the fiscal year. In computing the amount of investment pursuant to this section, a dollar-for-dollar credit shall be given for residential realty investments described in this section that are contractually agreed to be made by a financial institution from which the board, in consideration thereof, purchases other such investments. In computing the amount of investment pursuant to this section, the board may elect to include the dollar amount of commitments to purchase mortgages from public revenue bond programs in the year the commitment is given. However, that election may not exceed one-fifth of the total guideline amount.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the acquisition of any instrument or security at less than the market rate.

(d) If the board determines during any fiscal year that compliance with this section will result in lower overall earnings for the fund than obtainable from alternative investment opportunities that would provide equal or superior security, including guarantee of yield, the board may substitute those higher yielding investments, to the extent actually available for acquisition, for the investments otherwise specified by this section. Additionally, if, and to the extent that, adherence to the diversification guideline specified in this section would conflict with its fiduciary obligations in violation of Section 9 of Article I of the California Constitution or Section 10 of Article I of the United States Constitution, or would conflict with the standard for prudent investment of the fund as set forth in Section 17 of Article XVI of the California Constitution, the board may substitute alternative investments. In that case, the board shall estimate the amount of funds available in substitute alternative investments and the amount of funds invested pursuant to subdivision (a) and shall submit its resolution of findings and determinations, together with a description of the type, quantity, and yield of the investments substituted, to the Governor and to the Joint Legislative Audit Committee within 20 days following the conclusion of the fiscal year. Within 30 days thereafter, the Joint Legislative Audit Committee shall transmit the Auditor General's report to the Speaker of the Assembly and to the Senate Committee on Rules for transmittal to affected policy committees.

(e) The board, upon determining the final amount of funds available for investment in substitute alternative investments and the estimated amount of funds invested pursuant to subdivision (a), shall submit that information to the Governor and the Joint Legislative Audit Committee. Thereafter, the Joint Legislative Audit Committee shall transmit the report of the Auditor General to the Speaker of the Assembly and the Senate Committee on Rules for transmittal to the affected policy committees.

CHAPTER 7. SYSTEM HEADQUARTERS

22375. Notwithstanding Section 20205.9 or Part 11 (commencing with Section 15850) of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, the board may select, purchase, or acquire in the name of the system, the fee or any lesser interest in real property, improved or unimproved, and may remodel and equip, or construct an office building in the County of Sacramento for the purposes of establishing a permanent headquarters facility for the system.

22376. All buildings acquired or improvements constructed by the board under the provisions of this chapter may contain space in excess of immediate requirements. The board may contract with the Department of General Services to handle the rentals of any excess space over and above that required by the board and to furnish general supervision and maintenance of buildings and improvements constructed under the provisions of this chapter.

22377. The board may contract with the Department of General Services or any other state agency for assistance in the acquisition of real property and any construction thereon of buildings or improvements authorized by this chapter.

22378. In the event that condemnation of the property selected is necessary, the board may elect to deposit with the treasurer funds it deems necessary, and that are appropriated, for purchase of the selected property subject to the Property Acquisition Law (Part 11 (commencing with Section 15850) of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code).

22379. Work on all projects shall be done under contract awarded to the lowest responsible bidder pursuant to bidding procedures set forth in the State Contract Act (Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 10100) of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code).

22380. (a) The board shall establish a building account for the transfer of money appropriated for that purpose from the retirement fund for the construction or remodeling of buildings and improvements thereon, maintenance, repair, and improvement thereof. For accounting purposes, the board shall pay rental to the building account in an amount sufficient to repay all costs of acquisition, construction, and maintenance of space used by the board plus interest to the retirement fund.

(b) The board may contract with the Department of General Services for the purchase of insurance against loss of, or damage to, the property or the loss of use or occupancy of the building, liability insurance, and other insurance that is customarily carried on state office buildings. Premiums for this insurance shall be paid from the building account.

(c) The land, building, equipment, and improvements thereon, shall constitute an investment, in lieu of facilities operations cost, in the retirement fund and shall be carried on the books thereof as such in accordance with generally accepted accounting practices.

CHAPTER 8. ESTABLISHMENT AND CONTROL OF FUNDS

22400. (a) There is in the State Treasury a special trust fund to be known as the Teachers' Retirement Fund. There shall be deposited in that fund the assets of the system and its predecessors, consisting of employee contributions, employer contributions, state contributions, appropriations made to it by the Legislature, income on investments, other interest income, income from fees and penalties, donations, legacies, bequests made to it and accepted by the board, and any other amounts provided by this part. General Fund transfers pursuant to Section 22954 shall be placed in a segregated account known as the Supplemental Benefit Maintenance Account within the retirement fund, which is continuously appropriated without regard to fiscal years, notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code, for expenditure for the purposes of Section 24415 and subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 24414.

(b) Disbursement of money from the retirement fund of whatever nature shall be made upon claims duly audited in the manner prescribed for the disbursement of other public funds except that notwithstanding the foregoing disbursements may be made to return funds deposited in the fund in error.

22401. Return on investments shall be collected by the Treasurer, and together with any other moneys received for the retirement fund shall be immediately deposited to the credit of that fund and reported immediately to the system. Money in whatever form received directly by the system shall be deposited immediately in the State Treasury to the credit of that fund.

22402. Earned interest not credited to accounts and other income shall be used to provide the benefits under this part.

CHAPTER 9. MEMBER AND EMPLOYER DUTIES

22450. Each member and beneficiary shall furnish to the board any information affecting his or her status as a member or beneficiary of the system the board requires.

22451. (a) Each member shall file a statement with the board, at the option of, and upon the form furnished by, the board, giving the following information:

(1) His or her date of birth.

(2) All service previously performed by him or her in a position requiring membership in the system or its predecessors.

(b) Each person becoming a member on or after January 1, 1983, shall include in the health résumé required by the teacher preparation and licensing agency all information that shall verify any and all handicaps and disabling conditions at the time of application. Upon request by the system this information shall be made available when a person applies for a disability allowance.

22452. (a) All members who enter the system on or after January 1, 1975, shall submit to the system proof of their date of birth after they attain five or more years of credited service. This proof shall meet the standards of the administrative procedure to establish record of birth, except for military records, as prescribed by the State Department of Health Services.

(b) Members of the system prior to January 1, 1975, shall not be required to furnish proof of date of birth if the birth dates in their retirement records have been consistent during the period of membership unless at time of retirement they elect an optional form of retirement when proof of date of birth of both member and beneficiary is required.

(c) Persons required to furnish proof of date of birth because of a discrepancy in date in the retirement record shall not be paid any allowance from the system until that proof has been received and accepted by the system.

22453. (a) Except as provided in Section 22454, the signature of the spouse of a member or retirant shall be required on any application for, or cancellation of, an unmodified allowance, the election or cancellation of an option, request for a refund of the member's accumulated retirement contributions or accumulated annuity deposit contributions, or other requests related to the selection of benefits by a member or retirant in which a spousal interest may be present, unless the member or retirant declares, in writing, under penalty of perjury, that one of the following conditions exists:

(1) The member or retirant does not know, and has taken all reasonable steps to determine, the whereabouts of the spouse.

(2) The spouse is incapable of executing the acknowledgement because of an incapacitating mental or physical condition.

(3) The member or retirant and spouse have executed a marriage settlement agreement pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1600) of Part 5 of Division 4 of the Family Code that makes the community property law inapplicable to the marriage.

(4) The member or retirant is not married.

(5) The current spouse has no identifiable community property interest in the benefit.

(b) This section is not applicable to an application for a disability allowance.

(c) The sole purpose of this section is to provide for spousal protection in the selection of specified benefits made by a member or retirant.

22454. If a spouse refuses to sign an application, as set forth in Section 22453, the member or retirant may bring an action in court to enforce the spousal signature requirement or to waive the spousal signature requirement. Either party may bring an action pursuant to Section 11101 of the Family Code to determine the rights of the party.

22455. The county superintendent and other employing agencies shall furnish any further information concerning any member or beneficiary the board may require.

22456. At any time upon the request of the system, the employing agency shall furnish a statement of the amount of contributions deducted from salary payments of any member, the services performed and the salary earned by him or her since the end of the period covered by the last report of the superintendent or employer. The system may use the information shown in the statement in determining contributions to be paid by or to the member or to a beneficiary, or use it in determining the member's status upon retirement, even though the member's and employer's contributions will not be received by the board until after the payment or determination.

22457. (a) Each county superintendent shall give immediate notice in writing to the board of the employment, death, resignation, or discharge of any person employed in a position requiring membership in the system, by the county or by a school district in the county.

(b) Every other employing agency shall give similar notice with respect to each person employed by it in a position requiring membership in the system.

22458. Each employing agency shall provide the system with copies of documents respecting the compensation to be paid to employees in that school year. The documents shall be submitted annually as determined by the board and may include, but shall not be limited to, employment contracts, salary schedules, and local board minutes.

22459. (a) The county superintendent or other employing agency shall withhold the salary of any member who fails to file information required by the board in the administration of the system, or to pay amounts due from the members to the system.

(b) The salary shall be withheld by the county superintendent or employing agency upon his or her own knowledge, if any, of the failure or upon notice from the board of the failure of the teacher to file or pay.

(c) The salary shall be withheld and not released until notice is given by the board to the county superintendent or employing agency, or until the county superintendent or agency knows otherwise, that the information has been filed or the payment has been made.

22460. Employing school districts and other employing agencies shall notify all members who terminate employment with less than five years' credited California service that the only benefit for which they are eligible at any time is the refund of accumulated contributions, the rate of interest that will be earned, and actions that may be taken by the board if the contributions are not withdrawn. Employing school districts and other employing agents shall transmit the information to the member as part of the usual separation documents.

22461. (a) Upon retaining the services of a retirant as an employee under Section 24116, 24214, or 24215, the school district, community college district, county superintendent of schools, California State University, or other employing agency shall do both of the following:

(1) Advise the retirant of the earnings limitation set forth in Sections 24116, 24214, and 24215.

(2) Maintain accurate records of the retirant's earnings and report those earnings monthly to the system and the retirant regardless of the method of payment or the fund from which the payments were made.

(b) This section shall not be construed to make any school district, community college district, county superintendent of schools, the California State University, or other employing agency liable for any amount paid to the retirant in excess of the earnings limitation under any circumstance, including the failure to inform the retirant that continuation of service would exceed the limitations.

CHAPTER 10. MEMBERSHIP

22500. All persons who were members of the California State Teachers' Retirement System on June 30, 1944, are members of the system.

22501. All teachers employed in the public schools of this state are members of the system unless excluded from membership under Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 22600).

22502. Certificated librarians in elementary, secondary schools, or community colleges, or persons who serve partly as librarians and partly as teachers, are members of the system.

22503. All other employees in the public schools of this state who hold valid and unrevoked credentials issued by the State Board of Education, the Commission on Teacher Credentialing, the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, or who are employed in community college districts pursuant to minimum standards adopted by the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, and who are employed for at least 50 percent of each school month in work authorized by their credentials, or pursuant to minimum standards, are members of the system.

22505. Persons employed in the public schools or in county superintendents' offices of this state to perform duties usually performed by counselors, coordinators, and research directors, are members of the system.

22506. Superintendents, their deputies, and certificated employees under the direction of county superintendents are members of the system.

22507. Persons who are members on account of previous school employment as provided by this chapter and who are employed by an independent data-processing center formed pursuant to former Article 2 (commencing with Section 10550) of Chapter 6 of Part 7 of Division 1 of Title 1, as it read on December 31, 1990, are members of the system.

22508. Any person who is a member who subsequently is employed by the same or a different school district or community college district or by a county superintendent, to perform duties that require membership in a different public retirement system in this state, shall continue to be a member, unless he or she elects, in writing and files in the office of this system, within 90 days after the entry, not to continue as a member in his or her new position. This section shall also apply to changes in employment effected on or after January 1, 1976, if an election is made on or before April 1, 1977.

22509. Any person who is a member of the Public Employees' Retirement System and employed by a school district or by a county superintendent, and who subsequently is employed in a position requiring membership in this system is excluded from membership in this system if he or she elects, by a writing filed in the office of the Board of Administration of the Public Employees' Retirement System, within 90 days after the entry, to continue as a member of the Public Employees' Retirement System in his or her new position. This section shall also apply to changes in employment effected on or after January 1, 1976, if an election is made on or before April 1, 1977.

22510. Members who on January 1, 1976, are in state service positions according to former Section 13948 as it read on December 31, 1975, or who are employees of the Trustees of the California State University, may elect in writing prior to July 1, 1976, not to continue as members of this system and to transfer membership to the Public Employees' Retirement System. Failure to execute and file the election, which shall be received in the office of this system by the close of business on June 30, 1976, shall be deemed a decision to remain as a member of this system.

22511. Members eligible to elect under Section 22510 and who elect to retain membership in this system shall be eligible only for those benefits available for all other members of this system, and not eligible for the benefits of the Berryhill Total Compensation Act, as amended, except for the reduced hospitalization insurance premiums. These members shall not be considered eligible for any additional benefits that may accrue to other state employees.

22512. If a member elects membership in the Public Employees' Retirement System under Section 22510, this election shall not be counted as a break in service if employment is continuous.

22513. Members who elect membership in the Public Employees' Retirement System and have achieved plan vesting according to Section 22173 shall retain the vested rights to survivor and disability benefits under this system until they qualify for the similar benefits in the Public Employees' Retirement System.

22514. Persons who have not achieved plan vesting shall qualify for eligibility for benefits under this system when total service under both systems equals the minimum required under Sections 23800 and 23804. These persons shall retain vested rights to survivor and disability benefits until they qualify for the similar benefits in the Public Employees' Retirement System.

22515. Persons excluded from membership in Sections 22602 and 22604 may elect membership in the system at any time while employed in a substitute or part-time position that does not qualify for membership in this system. The election is irrevocable, shall be in writing, and shall be filed in the office of this system prior to submission of contributions.

22516. (a) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed or applied to exclude from membership in this system any member who accepts a position requiring membership in this system in which he or she has the right to elect membership in this or another retirement system and who elects membership in the other retirement system, or who enters a position that does not require membership in this system, but in which time served is included in this part.

(b) Time served after becoming a member of the other system shall not be credited to the member under this system, nor shall contributions or benefits under this system be based upon that time or the salary received by the member during that time, except as provided in the definition of "final compensation" contained in Section 22133.

CHAPTER 11. EXCLUSIONS FROM MEMBERSHIP

22600. Persons employed in a position requiring membership in this system, but who are members of a local system or a county retirement system are excluded from membership in the system. A person so excluded shall retain the right to receive a retirement allowance for nonlocal service that is creditable in the system unless he or she withdraws his or her contributions for that allowance.

22601. Persons serving as exchange teachers or sojourn teachers from outside of this state are excluded from membership in the system.

22602. (a) Persons employed on a substitute basis, who are not already members when they become employed and who perform less than 100 complete days of service during the school year are excluded from membership in the system.

(b) Persons employed on a substitute basis who have performed 100 or more complete days of substitute service in one school district or county superintendent's office in that school year shall become members on the first day of the following pay period during which the additional service was performed.

22603. Persons not already members who are employed as instructors of adult education classes that have a duration of less than one school semester, or less than one school quarter of 12 weeks, if the district operates its adult education program on that basis, are excluded from membership in the system.

22604. (a) Persons employed on a part-time basis who are not already members when they become employed, and who perform less than 60 hours of service per pay period or less than 10 days of service in a pay period on a daily basis, are excluded from membership in the system.

(b) Persons employed on a part-time basis who have performed 60 or more hours of service in a pay period, or 10 days or more of service in a pay period on a daily basis in one school district or county superintendent's office shall become members on the first day of the following pay period during which the additional service was performed.

22605. Persons not already members who are employed as part-time teachers and who are concurrently employed in full-time positions as members of another retirement system, or a system administered and supported by the United States government, supported wholly or in part by public funds are excluded from membership in the system.

22606. (a) Persons not already members who are employed for less than full time in positions requiring health and development credentials, a standard credential in designated services for health, or a designated services credential with a specialization in health, are excluded from membership in the system.

(b) The provisions of this section shall not apply to nurses employed in schools for at least 50 percent of a pay period.

22607. A person employed as a student teacher pursuant to Section 44926 is excluded from membership in the system and the Public Employees' Retirement System.

22608. Persons in the following categories are excluded from membership in the system:

(a) A student teacher under Section 44320.

(b) A participant in the New Careers Program under Section 44523.

(c) An instructional aide under Section 45343.

(d) A teacher aide under Section 45360.

CHAPTER 12. COMMUNITY PROPERTY

22650. This chapter establishes the power of a court in a dissolution of marriage or legal separation action with respect to community property rights in accounts with the system and establishes and defines the rights of nonmember spouses in the system.

22651. For purposes of this chapter and Section 23300, "nonmember spouse" means the spouse or former spouse who is being or has been awarded a community property interest in the service credit and accumulated retirement contributions of the member or the benefits of a retirant. A nonmember spouse who is awarded a separate account of service credit and accumulated retirement contributions is not a member of the system. A nonmember spouse who receives a retirement allowance or is awarded an interest in a retirement allowance of a retirant is not a retirant of the system.

22652. (a) Upon the legal separation or dissolution of marriage of a member, the court shall include in the judgment or a court order the date on which the parties separated.

(b) The court may order in the judgment or court order that the accumulated retirement contributions and service credit attributable to periods of service during the marriage be divided into two separate and distinct accounts in the name of the member and the nonmember spouse, respectively. Any service credit or accumulated retirement contributions that are not explicitly awarded by the judgment or court order shall be deemed the exclusive property of the member.

(c) The determination of the court of community property rights pursuant to this section shall be consistent with this chapter and shall address the rights of the nonmember spouse, including, but not limited to, the following:

(1) The right to a retirement allowance.

(2) The right to a refund of accumulated retirement contributions.

(3) The right to redeposit accumulated retirement contributions which are eligible for redeposit by the member under Sections 23200 to 23203, inclusive, and the shares of the member and the nonmember spouse of the eligible redeposit amount.

(4) The right to purchase additional service credit which is eligible for purchase by the member under Sections 22800 to 22810, inclusive, and the shares of the member and the nonmember spouse of the service credit eligible for purchase.

22653. The nonmember spouse who is awarded a separate account pursuant to Section 22652 is not a member of the system. The nonmember spouse is entitled only to rights and benefits explicitly established by this chapter.

22654. The nonmember spouse is entitled to no benefits or rights from the separate account except as otherwise provided in this chapter. However, this section shall not be construed to limit any right arising from the account of a nonmember with the system which exists because the nonmember spouse is employed in a position requiring membership in the system.

22655. Upon the legal separation or dissolution of marriage of a retirant, the court may include in the judgment or court order a determination of the community property rights of the parties in the retirement allowance of the retirant consistent with this section. Upon election under subdivision (d) of Section 2610 of the Family Code, the court order awarding the nonmember spouse a community property share in the benefits of a retirant shall be consistent with this section.

(a) If the court does not award the entire retirement allowance to the retirant and the retirant is receiving a retirement allowance under any section other than Section 24300, the court shall require only that the system pay the nonmember spouse, by separate warrant, his or her community property share of the retirement allowance of the retirant.

(b) If the court does not award the entire retirement allowance to the retirant and the retirant is receiving an allowance which has been actuarially modified pursuant to Section 24300, the court shall order only one of the following:

(1) The retirant shall maintain the retirement allowance without change.

(2) The retirant shall cancel the retirement allowance pursuant to Section 24305 and select a new joint and survivor option or a new beneficiary or both, and the system shall pay the nonmember spouse, by separate warrant, his or her community property share of the retirement allowance of the retirant, the option beneficiary, or both.

(3) The retirant shall cancel the retirement allowance pursuant to Section 24305 and select an unmodified retirement benefit and the system shall pay the nonmember spouse, by separate warrant, his or her community property share of the retirement allowance of the retirant.

(c) If the option beneficiary, other than the nonmember spouse, dies before the retirant, the court shall order the retirant to select a new option beneficiary pursuant to Section 24306 and shall order the system to pay the nonmember spouse, by separate warrant, his or her share of the community property interest in the retirement allowance of the retirant or the new option beneficiary, or both.

(d) The right of the nonmember spouse to receive his or her community property share under this section shall terminate upon the death of the nonmember spouse. However, the nonmember spouse may designate a beneficiary to receive his or her community property share of accumulated retirement contributions in the event that accumulated retirement contributions become payable.

22656. No judgment or court order issued pursuant to this chapter is binding on the system until the system has been joined as a party to the action and has been served with a certified copy of the judgment or court order.

22657. (a) The following provisions shall apply to a nonmember spouse as if he or she were a member or service retirant: Sections 22107, 22306, 22906, 23802, subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 24600, 24601, 24602, 24603, 24605, 24606, 24607, 24608, 24611, 24612, 24613, 24616, and 24617.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), this section shall not be construed to establish any right for the nonmember spouse that is not explicitly established in Sections 22650 to 22655, inclusive, and Sections 22658 to 22665, inclusive.

22658. (a) All separate accounts of a nonmember spouse shall be administered separately. Accumulated contributions, service credit, and final compensation attributable to a separate account of a nonmember spouse shall not be combined in any way and for any purpose with the accumulated contributions, service credit, and final compensation of any other separate account of the nonmember spouse.

(b) In addition, accumulated contributions, service credit, and final compensation in the separate account of a nonmember spouse shall not be combined in any way and for any purpose with the accumulated contributions, service credit, and final compensation of an account that exists because the nonmember spouse is employed or has been employed in a position requiring membership in the system.

22659. Upon being awarded a separate account or an interest in the allowance of a retirant, a nonmember spouse shall provide the system with proof of his or her date of birth, social security number, and any other information requested by the system, in the form and manner requested by the system.
